$2,900,000 Bond Election Set March 8

Issues Will Include Five Proposals For Overall Improvement

By TEX DEWEENE

Pampa voters will go to the polls on Tuesday, March 8, to approve or reject five bond issue proposals totaling $2,900,000.

The bond election was called today by unanimous vote of the city commission in a special session at City Hall.

The motion was made by Commissioner Hugh Bardette and seconded by Dr. Macr-old McDaniell authorizing City Atty. Bob Gordon to draw up legislation necessary to set up the election.

The five proposals to be voted on by the people will include these:

- 1. $2,200,000 for the city's share of widening and paving S. Hwy 152 (Alcock St.) from Faulkner St. to Price Rd.
- 2. $500,000 for the city's share of widening and paving U.S. Hwy 60 (Wilks, Brown and Frederic Sts.) to east city limits.
- 3. $300,000 for the city's share of widening and paving S. Hwy 173 (S. Coyle and S. Barnes Sts.) to city limits.
- 4. $700,000 to build a water treatment plant for Canadian River water.
- 5. $900,000 for the city's share of a long-range street paving and improvement plan.

Voters will have an opportunity to vote on each of the five proposals.

In approving the five bond proposals the commission today accepted the recommendations of three advisory groups and a finance committee which spent several months studying Pampa's major improvement needs.

GOP Backs Viet Nam Stand, Blasts Living Cost Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders today stood firm in support of presidential policy in Viet Nam but charged the administration was silently stealing $4 billion a year from taxpayers.

In a GOP State of the Union declaration Monday the administration was blamed for a 2 per cent rise in the cost of living which was the equivalent of a secret sales tax that silently steals some $3 billion annually.

The declaration, delivered by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House GOP Leader Gerald T. Ford, produced prompt Democratic rebuttals.

Fired Coach Can 'Hunt' for Job

Houston (UPI) — Lou Rymkus at least has the weapon for his hunt for a new job.

The former head coach of the Houston Oilers professional football team was fired again earlier this month as an Oilers assistant coach. His friends gave the unemployed coach a testimonial dinner Sunday. Their gift to Rymkus was a shotgun.

STRENGTH SWELLS TO 190,000

7,000 More Troops Sent To Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. military strength in Viet Nam today soared to more than 190,000 men with the twin landings of thousands of fresh Marines and infantrymen from Hawaii and Okinawa.

U.S. military commander Gen. William C. Westmoreland was on the beach at Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, when the first elements of the 4,000-man 2nd Brigade of the 2nd Infantry Division from Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, moved ashore.

To the north at Chu Lai, 60 miles south of the Da Nang airbase, 3,000 men of the 1st Marine Regiment from Okinawa scrambled off LSTs which met their troop ships. This brought Marine strength in Viet Nam to about 42,000 men.

After welcoming officers of the 2nd Brigade, Westmoreland asked PVT. Richard Hill of Covington, Ky., how he liked the two-week trip from Hawaii. Hill said his only worry had been "that I might not make it to Viet Nam" since soldiers under 18 cannot serve here. Hill turned 18 two days ago.

The Kentucky soldier and his outfit were hustled onto trucks, driven to a nearby airfield and flown to the Bien Hoa base 13 miles north of Saigon.

US to Expand Armed Forces To 3 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, digging in for a long war in Viet Nam, is expanding its armed forces to more than three million men.

At the same time, the administration today asks Congress for approval of American participation in an Asian development bank to support economic expansion in Southeast Asia.

Latest plans for the largest number of men under arms since 1955 were disclosed at the White House Monday by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana announced the planned submission of the development proposal which would require about $200 million from the United States.

The bank would be based in Manila and would lend money for projects ranging from industrial development to roads and harbors. The U.S., France, Britain and West Germany would put up 40 per cent of the funds needed to establish the institution.

Nineteen countries are to be involved in funding the bank. Australia, Nationalis, China, India, Japan and Iran are among those which have already committed funds.

Russia was invited to participate and Soviet delegates attended some discussions on the proposed bank's charter. But on Dec. 7 last year the delegation withdrew, calling the bank a "capitalist enterprise."

Revealing figures whose size surprised even some usually well-informed officials in his own department, McNamara said another 113,000 men will be recruited as part of the $12.7 billion supplemental appropriation.

Most of the manpower increase will be for the Army and Marines.

McLean Rancher Files for Judge

John C. Haynes, McLean rancher, Monday afternoon became the fifth Gray County Democrat to file for the party's nomination for County Judge.

Others already in the race are incumbent Bill Craig, Pampa attorney Harold Comer and A. J. Corubbi Jr., and Justice of the Peace G. L. "Nat" Lunsford.

Deadline for candidates to file for their party's primary is Feb. 7. As yet no Republicans have announced intentions to run in the race for county judge.

Although the race is drawing considerable interest, only one out of five eligible Gray County voters has paid his poll tax or filed for an exemption. Poll tax deadline is Jan. 31.

The primary is scheduled May 7 with a second "run-off" primary scheduled for June 4. From the number of candidates on the Democratic first primary ballot for county judge, it appears likely that a runoff will be necessary.

Haynes is a former mayor of McLean and was last week reappointed to the Gray County Hospital board. He held the McLean mayoralty for three consecutive terms.

In addition to his ranch, Haynes is the owner of a feed lot and mill north of McLean. Haynes has been active in a number of civic organizations.

short while at the First National Bank in Pampa.

Although he has spent most of his life in McLean, Haynes has twice resided in Pampa, from 1918 to 1920 and 1934 to 1944.

Asked his reasons for announcing his candidacy, Haynes said, "I believe that I can do some things as county judge that should be done. I've been considering this for the past three or four years."

$40,000 Masonic Home Dedicated Here

The new Home of Pampa Masonic Lodge 1381 was dedicated in ceremonies yesterday, led by Texas State Grand Master W. H. Fullingim, a former Pampa now of Odessa.

The dedication, which came on the 8th anniversary of the lodge's chartering, began with cornerstone leveling ceremonies at 4 p.m.

More than 300 persons, nearly half of whom were from other area Masonic Lodges, attended the observance which included a dinner at 6 p.m. and dedication of the new lodge hall at 7:30.

The 6,000 square foot building houses the lodge hall, kitchen, dining room, offices, instruction rooms, lobby and restrooms. It is fully air conditioned.

Much of the labor on the concrete block building was performed on a voluntary basis by lodge members. The cost of the building is estimated at $40,000. Lodge officials said that this figure would have been much higher if members had not donated their time.

Now with more than 250 members, Pampa Lodge 1381 was chartered Jan. 17, 1958.

EVALUATING APPLICATIONS — Applications from Pampa families desiring to host a foreign student during the 1966-67 school year are perused by Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Chase, Jr., of the local American Field Service chapter's Home and Student Family Adjustment committee. Under the AFS program, students from other countries are brought to the United States to attend high school for a year. During this year the students reside with a local family. This year's guest student is Riina Lagus of Uppsala, Sweden, who is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Will Graham.

Rogers Against Four Year Congress Terms

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa Monday declared that President Johnson's proposal to lengthen the terms of office for congressmen from two to four years would weaken Congress and concentrate more power in the executive branch.

Rogers, considered one of the more conservative Democrats in the House of Representatives, said proponents of the longer term proposal claim it would give Congress more stability.

"However," Rogers was quoted as saying in a wire service story, "if congressmen were elected every four years with the President, Congress would be weakened by a greater turnover and the power of the President would increase."

Rogers objection seems to be based on the fact that many Congressmen would be elected on the coattails of a President and that the Congress would therefore be under some obligation to the President.

"The executive branch is power-heavy now and the President's bid for expansion of his power is open and obvious," Rogers said.

The long-time congressman from the 18th District, who has already indicated he will run for re-election this Fall, predicted that the four-year term proposal would never pass the Senate. Johnson made the proposal last week in his State of the Union address made before the combined houses of Congress.

"It (this proposal) has been advocated for a long time, mainly for the convenience of Congressmen themselves," Rogers said.

College Students Will Be Drafted To Meet Texas Quota

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state director of the Selective Service System, said Monday night that more college students will probably be drafted to meet Texas quota for the Viet Nam conflict.

Schwartz said local draft boards were watching students not doing well in their work. He said about 105,000 college students are now being deferred.

He also said that there are about 200,000 fathers deferred now.

"I don't think we're about to touch them before we tap other sources," he said.

Snow or Freezing Rain Forecast For Pampa Tonight

The weatherman held out a slim chance for snow or freezing rain in the Pampa area tonight amid temperatures in the low 20s. The overnight low in Pampa was unofficially recorded at 17 degrees but the mercury climbed to the low-40s Tuesday afternoon.

After a bit of the same, somewhat warmer weather, tomorrow, the weather bureau said that a heavy cloud cover is expected Thursday with colder temperatures.

In other parts of North Texas, a massive winter storm brought the first snow and coldest temperatures of the season to thousands of square miles. While Pampa was spared the precipitation, snow, sleet and rain fell over most of the northern half of the state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said driving conditions were locally hazardous from El Paso eastward to Midland, Abilene and Hillsboro.

Two inches of snow covered the ground at Abilene. San Angelo had one inch and Midland, El Paso and Fort Worth-Dallas a trace.

Mothers Dimes March Monday

The annual Mothers' March, in conjunction with the March of Dimes drive against birth defects, has been set for Monday, Monday.

More than 600 volunteers are being recruited for the house to house campaign, according to Mrs. R. A. Mack, longtime Mothers' March chairman.

The drive will be held between 6 and 8 p.m. and residents will be asked to turn on their porch lights. Funds raised will be divided between local patient care and national research projects.

The city will again be divided up in school districts for the march with a captain in charge of each district. Each captain is responsible for organizing and recruiting workers in his or her particular area of the city, Mrs. Mack noted.

Captains and their respective schools are Mrs. Paul Howard, Stephen F. Austin; Mrs. H. L. Engle, Baker; Mrs. L. E. Parronto, Lamar; Mrs. G. L. Kerk-sieck, Woodrow Wilson; Mrs. Gene Snell, Horace Mann; Mrs. E. E. Willis, Travis; Mrs. Norman Shaw, Sam Houston; and Leslie Morgan, Carver.

This year's March of Dimes campaign officially opened Jan. 1 and will continue through Jan. 31. Directing the overall county drive is Harold Comer, while John Warner is in charge of the city campaign.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware.

MASONIC CEREMONY — Henry Will Fullingim, Grand Master of Masons in Texas, presided at corner stone leveling ceremonies Monday at the new home of Pampa Lodge 1381. More than 300 persons attended the ceremonies held on the 8th anniversary of Lodge 1381. The 6,000-square-foot, concrete block building is located on Kentucky, about one half mile west of Highland General Hospital.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In Jakarta, President Sukarno passed out tapiooca cookies, continued to speak as if he were the undisputed ruler of 100 million Indonesians, which he is not, and discussed the nation's economy which could scarcely be worse.

Speaking to newsmen, he offered the job of ministers of economic affairs to anyone who would volunteer.

"But," he said, "if he fails to bring about an improvement in the present situation within three months, I will have him put in jail for five years."

It was the echo of the voice of the old Sukarno, president of Indonesia for life, but in reality it was a Sukarno whose ministers must confer at every step with the army which, since the unsuccessful Communist coup of Sept. 30, is the real ruler of Indonesia.

And even if some financial wizard could turn the plummeting Indonesian economy around within three months, it might not be soon enough.

New Signs
The lurid billboards attacking the United States and the ugly caricatures of Uncle Sam have disappeared from Jakarta streets but others have taken their place.

On one of Jakarta's main thoroughfares, a slogan demands in big black letters: "Hang the ministers."

"Remember the people's suffering," says another. For the first time since Indonesian independence, a sincere attempt is being made to place the economy on a sound basis. But the results so far only have heaped disaster upon disaster.

Student demonstrators who all through October, November and December had directed their anger against the Communists, now were demanding action by the government to halt inflation.

Last month the government devalued the rupiah by 1,000 to 1 in order to bring it closer to reality. Another government order raised all wages by 500 per cent.

Merchants were warned that death could be the penalty for anyone raising prices.

Government Hikes Prices
But in the battle to halt inflation the government itself was one of the greatest offenders. In two months, government-controlled gasoline prices jumped from four rupiahs a liter (about one quart) to 1,000.

Sweeping increases were ordered in other government-controlled enterprises—post and telecommunications, rail and air fares and other public services.

Commodity prices kept pace. The price of rice jumped from 2,800 rupiahs per liter to 5,000 in six days. Beef went from 2,000 rupiahs per pound to 15,000 in three days. The black market also reacted quickly. A man whose pay had jumped to 150,000 rupiahs monthly from 30,000 found that his actual monthly earnings still came to less than $5.

Blame for this sad state of affairs fall on many quarters—corrupt government officials, profiteering merchants, hoarders. But the real blame falls upon Sukarno, so busy with "guided democracy" he failed to look after his people.

Quotes From The News
By United Press International
WASHINGTON—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, assessing the effect of president Johnson's peace efforts to end the war in Southeast Asia: "As yet Hanoi had given no direct indication that it seeks peace. It still suffers from some euphoria of its so-called inevitable victory."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Willis A. Robertson, D-Va., warning that the economic pressures caused by the Viet Nam war may result in inflationary trends:

"As the cost of inflation passes on to the producers of materials, the resulting price increases will be reflected in every segment of our economy."

NEW YORK—James M. Gavin, retired lieutenant general and former ambassador to France, disputing the contention that U.S. must make a firm stand against Communism in Southeast Asia: "I do not for a moment think that if we should withdraw from Viet Nam the next step would be Wsikiiki."

matter of fact
The game of golf, as it is known today, originated in Scotland, though the time and place are obscure in history. However, it was once so popular in the 15th century that the 14th parliament of King James II of Scotland decreed in 1457 that "fute-ball and golfe be utterly cryed downe, and not to be used" because they interfered with the practice of archery, an essential element in the defense of the realm. This legislation provided the first written reference to the playing of golf.

Realtors Hear Mcherry Lane

Boundaries of Pampa school districts and the student population in the districts were explained Monday to the Pampa Board of Realtors by McHenry Lane, curriculum co-ordinator of the Pampa Schools.

Lane pointed out that some changes were made in district boundaries prior to the current school year. These changes were designed to equalize the student loads in the districts.

The realtors were interested in the new boundaries since one of the first questions asked by a potential home-owner is "Where will my children go to school?"

At the meeting, held at noon in the Coronado Inn, Lane sketched a map of the eight elementary districts and explained how the districts were determined based on such factors as available classrooms and student population.

In other business at the meeting a floor election was held to fill a vacancy in the realtors' slate of officers. Lindy Houck was selected second vice president replacing Al Schneider who resigned.

"However," the mayor said, "this is a long-range program and all of the work would not be done immediately. We could invest the money and that would offset the interest charge."

The mayor added that "certainly some of the work proposed in the bond issues would not be done unless Pampa maintains its growth."

The 25 cents estimated tax increase, the mayor stated, is assuming that Pampa would have no growth at all.

meanwhile moved out into the Chu Lai region to beef up Marine forces guarding the Da Nang complex and clearing Viet Cong guerrillas from the countryside.

The landings came as the war tapered off in anticipation of a 3½-day cease fire in observance of the Chinese lunar New Year, Tet, beginning at noon Thursday (11 p.m., EST Wednesday).

For the 25th consecutive day, U.S. planes did not attack targets in Communist North Viet Nam. The truce in the air war against the North began at 6 p.m., Dec. 24 at the start of the 30-hour Christmas cease fire.

Late today, a large force of Viet Cong ambushed two platoons of Vietnamese troops in Vinh Binh Province 60 miles south of Saigon. The Viet Cong opened up with automatic weapons, small arms fire, grenades and mortars, inflicting moderate casualties before withdrawing after about an hour.

The Communists launched three simultaneous attacks before dawn today at targets around Binh Hiep, 50 miles west of Saigon. A squad of government defenders was wiped out at a watchtower four miles south of the town. The Viet Cong also attacked a platoon four miles north of Binh Hiep, inflicting moderate casualties, and were turned back in a third raid against the Thanh Tri resettlement center six miles to the northeast.

U.S. Marines today terminated "Operation Mallard," a six-day sweep 16 miles south of Da Nang. A spokesman said final totals for the operation showed 34 Viet Cong killed, 29 captured and 221 suspects detained.

U.S. Strategic Air Command B52 bombers from Guam were airborne again today, this time striking Viet Cong bunkers and entrenched positions in Tay Ninh Province about six miles from the Cambodian border.

Area Officers Asked To Watch for Planes

Pampa area airports and law agencies were asked Monday to be on the lookout for a light aircraft reported missing on a flight from Denver to San Antonio.

The aircraft was described as a red, black and white Piper Comanche, registration number N8223P. Anyone knowing of its whereabouts is asked to contact the nearest law agency.

Water Treatment Plant

The construction of the water treatment plant is not an immediate project.

The water committee recommended that the $750,000 in bonds be voted for the first phase of the water treatment plant and for water tie-in lines with the Canadian River aqueduct that reaches to the city limits at Kentucky and Price Rd.

The committee also recommended the water plant not be constructed until demands for city water cannot be met by existing water wells. The present system is capable of serving a peak capacity demand of 10 million gallons of water a day. So far the peak in Pampa has reached only 8 million gallons. That was last summer.

The mayor stated it is expected Pampa's peak demand of 10-million gallons a day probably will not be reached for another five years.

The $950,000 street and thoroughfares program recommended several major improvements to be undertaken immediately and that an overall street paving plan be attempted at long-range on the widening and paving of some 165 to 185 blocks throughout the city.

Major projects called for in the streets bond issue would include:

The widening of Duncan from Georgia to Harvester, paving of N. Somerville from Cook to Hobart and construction of a bridge, paving of E. Harvester from Duncan to Powell with construction of a bridge, widening and paving of McCullough from Hobart to Barrett, and the necessary culverts, curb and gutter and right-of-way costs for all projects.

On the project for some 165 to 185 city blocks of assessment paving the property owners' share of the cost would be figured at $5 per front foot and $4 per side foot.

The property owners' share of the paving proposals would be approximately an assessment total of $643,000.

In placing the motion before the commission, Commissioners Burdette and McDaniel said they thought the voters should be allowed to decide what they want to do with the plans for improving the city.

"The advisory committees have recommended it," McDaniel said as he seconded Burdette's motion, "and I think the voters should be allowed to decide whether they want it."

The ordinance to authorize the bond election will get its first reading at next Tuesday's commission meeting. The final reading will be given on Feb. 8. The election will be set 30 days later on March 8.

HUGHES APOLOGY
TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes has publicly apologized for a suggestion by the Ocean County Democratic Committee that Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy run for the U.S. Senate.

Hughes, a Democrat, told a news conference Monday the move by the committee to persuade the widow of President John F. Kennedy to enter politics was "deplorable" — a "discourteous bandying of the name of this wonderful and distinguished lady."

A Touch of the Tyrol for Tots

PRACTICAL CREATIONS - Great for small boys and their mothers, too handsome lederhosen (left) in carefree machine-washable cotton suede-cloth. Suspenders are gaily embroidered. Shirt is crisp cotton. The little Swiss miss look (right) is sweet as candy, but more practical also in the machine-washable cotton suede-cloth. Rick-rock trims white cotton blouse. These are Small Talk creations.

NEW YORK - (NEA) - It takes a special kind of clothes to brave the dangers of slides, jungle gyms, nursery-school play and still retain a crisp look.

Mothers will delight in the new collections of tots for youngsters. They are made to take a beating. They're functional, easy to care for, yet packed with fashion.

There are machine-washable cotton suedes, sturdy corduroys teamed with cotton knit, two-way stretch pants with stitched-down creases. And they all mind their manners on the busiest days.

Cotton suede makes news in Tyrolean-inspired sets - lederhosen for boys, skirts for girls, with colorful embroidered suspenders and crisp white shirts.

There are corduroy tops with knit sleeves and yokes, tops in fly-away sleeves and cat's whisker bow, print corduroy dresses with the new low waistline cut like a weskit.

Nautical styles include the French middy in cotton knit stripes with white tie. And for brother a three-part team of sleeveless corduroy jacket, piped sailor collar shirt and corduroy pants.

There's lots of red, white and blue and rustic tones of brown and green.

This season fashion and practicality have been successfully teamed up for tots.

Jones, interior decorator, who gave a program on "Current Trends in Interior Decorating." Mrs. Jones discussed the different styles of furniture, describing the trend to mix modern, Mediterranean and French Provincial furniture with different colors and room arrangements.

She gave tips on how to use room accessories to enhance and brighten a room to suit a person's individual taste, saying "The trend is toward practical but attractive furniture that is comfortable and with-stands family use."

The speaker also gave tips on how to care for different types of furniture finishes, carpets and drapes.

Those attending the meeting included Mmes. Thomas Auwen, William Chafin, John Ellis, Jimmy Hayes, Douglas Lueddecke, Malcolm McClelland, Coy Don Mitchell, Arnold Wesley, K. M. Vaughn, Davis Plunkett, W. H. Nichols, Kenneth Friemel and Paul Hartin.

Dear Abby... Daughter and Fiance Seem Dignified Enough

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I raised three fine children. Two sons are now happily married, and both had beautiful weddings - to remember. Our youngest, a girl 23, has fallen in love with an assistant professor who doesn't have enough money even to buy her an engagement ring. They have known each other only five months and now they want to get married, but with "no muss, no fuss" (her words). They want just his parents, us and the preacher at the wedding. Should we allow our daughter, a fourth-generation American, to get married without dignity - like a hillbilly?

UNHAPPY PARENTS: Every bride is entitled to the kind of wedding she wants. Just be glad she wants you there. It sounds "dignified" enough to me.

DEAR ABBY: We live in one of the best neighborhoods in town. There is not one house on our block that is worth less than $75,000. Some new neighbors moved in next door to us and I understand they bought the house for the asking price and paid cash.

They seem very nice, but they are strange. The first thing we noticed was that they didn't have a television antenna, so my little boy asked their little boy about it, and he said they didn't have a television set! They have only one automobile (and a two-car garage!) and the children and mother all use the bus. They rarely go anywhere, except to church. The wife doesn't have any fancy clothes or jewelry or furs. The children do not have any toys dealing with war or violence. Could they belong to some offbeat religious cult? What do you make of them?

CURIOS: DEAR CURIOUS: Maybe they've just got cash, conservative standards, high moral principles and pacifistic ideals.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is deeply troubled by his knowledge of an affair that is going on between his brother's wife and his sister's husband. (This is not just "hearsay" - he has all the facts.) Neither his brother nor his sister is aware of it, but it is slowly breaking my husband both physically and mentally. There are young children on both sides. My husband doesn't know what, if anything, he should do about it. He has asked for my help, but I don't know what to tell him. Do you think the innocent brother and sister should be told? It is really their problem. Please suggest

Mrs. Owens Hostess For As-You-Like-It Club in Canadian

CANADIAN (Sp) - Mrs. W. W. Owens was hostess recently to the As-You-Like-It Club in the home of Mrs. F. D. Teas. Those present were Miss Lola Studer and Mmes. Carl Studer, L. S. Hardage, R. B. Ranson, John Jones, J. L. Cleveland, P. D. Moseley, Clara Yokley, F. D. Teas, Pat Murphy and Owens.

Avoid Too Much Sun
Dermatologists urge less exposure to the sun. Those taking winter vacations in the South or Southwest or going skiing should take heed. Select tanning lotions with special sun-screening ingredients. These cut down on excessive tanning or burn and help check the aging threat of sun-dried skin.

NO NAME
DEAR NO: Your husband should talk to the guilty parties privately and ask them to end the affair in the name of decency and out of respect for their respective families. Under no circumstances should the innocent brother and sister be told. If your husband's efforts fail, he will at least know that he tried.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HOW COME?" IN WORTHINGTON: I don't know the answer to that one, either. But take my word for it, neglect and poor examples never helped to build strong character. Their children turned out well in spite of their parents, not because of it.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

For WEDNESDAY, JAN. 19
GENERAL TENDENCIES: All things that can make you realize many of the long-time desires that have been yours. But it is necessary that you do first complete all kinds of conditions that have been left undone in the past, whether by negligence or because you have been busy with other things.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) - It may be very necessary to carry on with work you have begun and do it quickly, since others are preparing you. Improving your credit at the same time is good. Take it pretty easy tonight.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) - Find a good system by which to complete work you have begun but did not know exactly at the time how to finish. A new acquaintance can quickly give you an excellent idea. Follow.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - Fine day for attending to insurance, unpaid taxes, securities. Do something later that will please your loved one in retrospect. Greater happiness can be yours by the simple expedient of cooperation.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) - Use your intuition and finish what you have started and get those unfinished tasks out of the way quickly. Co-workers will gladly cooperate with you if you tell them what you desire to do. Increase production.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) - Don't procrastinate any longer and get those unfinished tasks out of the way quickly. Co-workers will gladly cooperate with you if you tell them what you desire to do. Increase production.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) - Re-paying social obligations, or personal ones is quite easy to do now and also have a very happy time with pals. Show that you have talent. Get into hobbies that are very much to your liking.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) - Many fundamental affairs need to be handled wisely at home today so you had better get busy with them without further procrastination. Kin may be quite demanding, but it is for your own good. Be busy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) - A good day to have conversations with allies that have long been pending. Come to perfect agreement. Don't neglect to make out any reports that are necessary or you get behind the proverbial eight-ball.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) - Your property and holdings require more consideration now so be sure to give it your fullest attention. Important people in business are very receptive to you. Show you have ability.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) - Self-analysis and taking inventory is the best way to figure out accurately what should be done in the future for greater advancement. Get behind the proverbial eight-ball. Go to experts in dress and beauty culture.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) - It would be well if you were not so altruistic now and think more of your own welfare and advancement. Moral support is sufficient for the time being. Besides it is the best way to help others, anyway.

Support Mounts For Mrs. Gandhi As India Premier

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Support mounted today for Mrs. Indira Gandhi as successor to the late Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri, who died last week of heart attack at the Tashkent Peace Conference.

Already, hundreds of persons were visiting the home of the 48-year-old daughter of the late Jawaharlal Nehru to congratulate her in anticipation of her election at Wednesday's ruling Congress party meeting.

Observers here predicted she would get at least 400 of the 551 votes to be cast by party members who poured into the Indian capital for the meeting.

Her only opponent, Morarji Desai, 69, the former minister of finance, continued to insist he would win, and he told reporters that he was being pressured to withdraw so Mrs. Gandhi's election would be unanimous.

Party President Kumaraswami Kamaraj was reported favoring Desai's withdrawal for the sake of party harmony and to avoid any bitterness which might result from a contest.

Desai, commenting on the efforts being made to induce him to withdraw, said, "No pressures could work on me. I will fight to the finish."

The British Empire acquired the island of Malta as a result of the Napoleonic wars.

HOW TORONTO DID IT

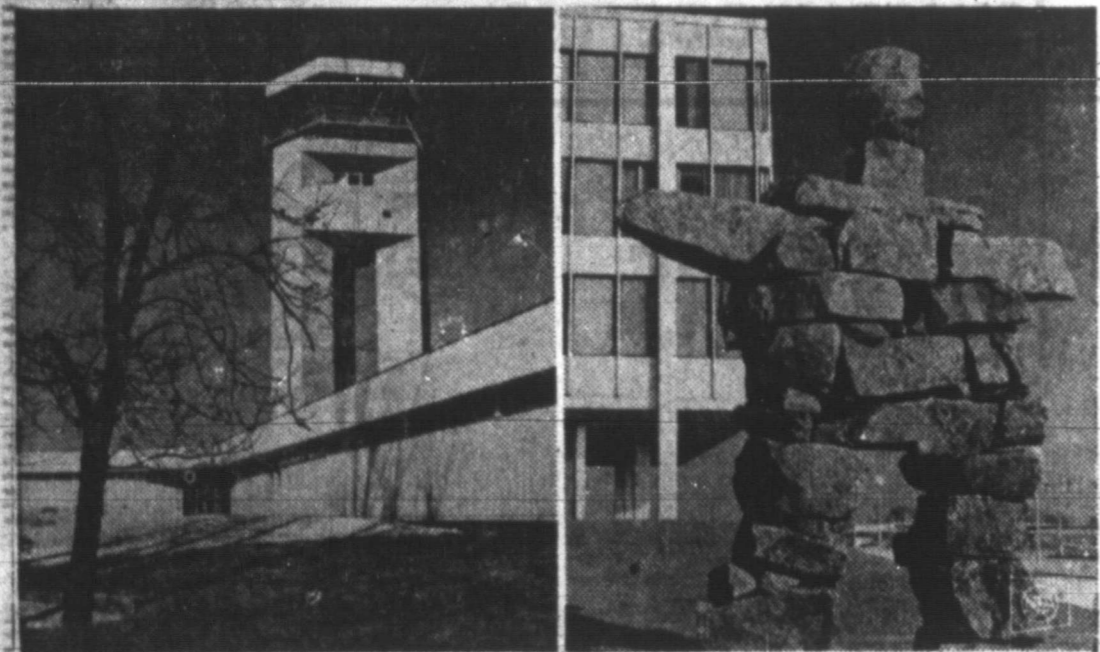

As air transportation expands, each city grapples with the task of enlarging its airport. Toronto's facilities offer an example of an effort to push the debarking and embarking facilities out into the field and at the same time to increase the convenience for the public. Three functions of many older airport buildings have been split apart. Administrative offices are in a separate structure off the port. The control tower is a mile distant from the terminal, which retains only the function of accommodating the people who are using the planes or meeting them.

One floor for departing travelers, another for arrivals.
Seven-floor parking garage.
Underpass from access road.

Six docks can accommodate 30 aircraft.
"Aeroquay" doughnut contains departure lounges, spectator areas, restaurant.

Toronto's air terminal is "in the round." All sides of it can be used because vehicles use a tunnel to approach it. Garage can handle 2,400 cars.

Three-legged control tower rises from a separate Y-shaped area control center, away from the main building.

Eskimo route markers, oldest road signs on this continent, add a decorative and appropriate note.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)
James Bond? Big deal. Give me
Marlin Perkins any day.

In one fell swoop Sunday, Perkins, the noted naturalist who is host of NBC-TV's "Wild Kingdom" series, punctured the myth that all modern heroes have to be equipped with ridiculous biceps, capped teeth and guns to prove their manliness.

All he did on his program Sunday was get lowered into the sea of southern California in an aluminum cage so he could take films of sharks close up. And all he did after that was to plunge into the sea again, in scuba gear, to help get a captured whale aboard his vessel while some sharks headed for the scene.

Maybe you wouldn't be very thrilled by any of this if you had never seen Perkins, and figured he was just some excitement-seeking young fellow, maybe recently out of college, and living it up for no particular purpose.

The wonderful thing about Perkins is that he is practically the opposite of this in every way. He is a serious and respected expert in his field, his pursuits are essentially for the benefit of enlightenment and his life very definitely has a purpose.

Yet his feats as shown Sunday become really breathtaking—and heartwarming for those who admire the old-fashioned concept of the adventurous middle-aged man—when one considers Perkins from the point of view of age and physical impression.

Perkins is no kid, to say the least. His gray hair is quite prominent, and he's been around. As for his physical impression, he looks something like a stereotype of a gentle associate professor of Elizabethan English. You get the feeling he might fall right over if Dan Blocker or Jim Arness blew in his direction. And yet there he was Sunday, plop, right in the sea, with those crazy sharks and whales.

Unlike Captain Ahab, whose journey was underwritten for posterity, Mr. Perkins wasn't doing anything for reasons of personal drama. In this more mundane world, his motivation was, rather than a Moby Dick, an invitation from Marineland of the Pacific, near Los Angeles, to go search for a whale.

An estimated 2,392,000 persons were added to the nation's resident population in the 12 months before Aug. 1, 1965, reports the Census Bureau.

Buffalo skins, which now would probably sell for more than $500, cost $12 to $25 when the bison roamed the prairie.

The art of pottery-making spread slowly in Stone Age Europe, requiring about 400 years for each 100 miles it traveled.

Add Roper

Add former Harvester Kerry Roper to the list of college basketball players. The 6'4 forward is a starter on the North Texas State freshman team, averaging around 20 points a game. Mark Jan. 26 on your calendar... Boid Buie and his Harlem Stars will make another appearance at Harvester Fieldhouse playing a group of Pampa stars. Game time is 8 p.m. and the affair is sponsored by the Pampa Optimist Club.

How can Monterey miss winning the second half of the 3-4A basketball title... The Plainsmen play both Pampa and Amarillo at home, the two teams that gave the second placers their toughest battles in first half action.

The Sandies edged Monterey by two points at Amarillo and Pampa fell by seven at home.

The Harvesters face Plainview, whom they edged by a single tally at the Bulldogs home and must win for a showdown battle with the Plainsmen.

Two different sets of officials couldn't get their whistles out of their mouths Saturday night calling 108 fouls between them in the Junior Varsity-Phillips B and Pampa-Phillips contests.

The JV trotted to the foul stripe 52 times, sank 41 and Phillips B connected on 31 of 43.

In the varsity contest, one of the badly called games we've seen this year, Pampa was whistled down 26 times and the Blackhaws 24.

Game Wonders

Will E. Odom, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife department came forth with the thought the department's 283 law enforcement personnel must be increased because violations are an ever increasing problem.

The Game Wardens themselves need to be taught a bit more diplomacy... We know of several instances during the deer season hunters were fined when they made unavoidable and human errors.

A good friend was fined for killing a buck antelope when he had a doe permit.

A game warden was standing beside him when he made the kill and all-including the game warden thought the fellow had killed a doe until they stood beside the buck who had no horns and no markings which could be distinguished as a buck.

Most hunting laws are written for the good of sportsmen and without these laws wildlife would soon be killed off.

Rightfully, when a poacher is caught or someone who deliberately violates hunting laws, they should be fined. But, honest human accidents do happen and there should be tolerance on the part of the game warden. (Wonder if a game warden who is hunting and accidentally violates a hunting law, knowing there is no one watching, would write himself a citation.)

This is like the local police who are so quick to write traffic tickets to our citizens but, as one of them said, "We take care of our own."

Bears Suit to Hold Allen Gets Second Hearing Today

CHICAGO (UPI) —The Chicago Bears' suit to prevent George Allen from becoming head coach of the Los Angeles Rams will get a second hearing today and the chances are there will be no decision until even later.

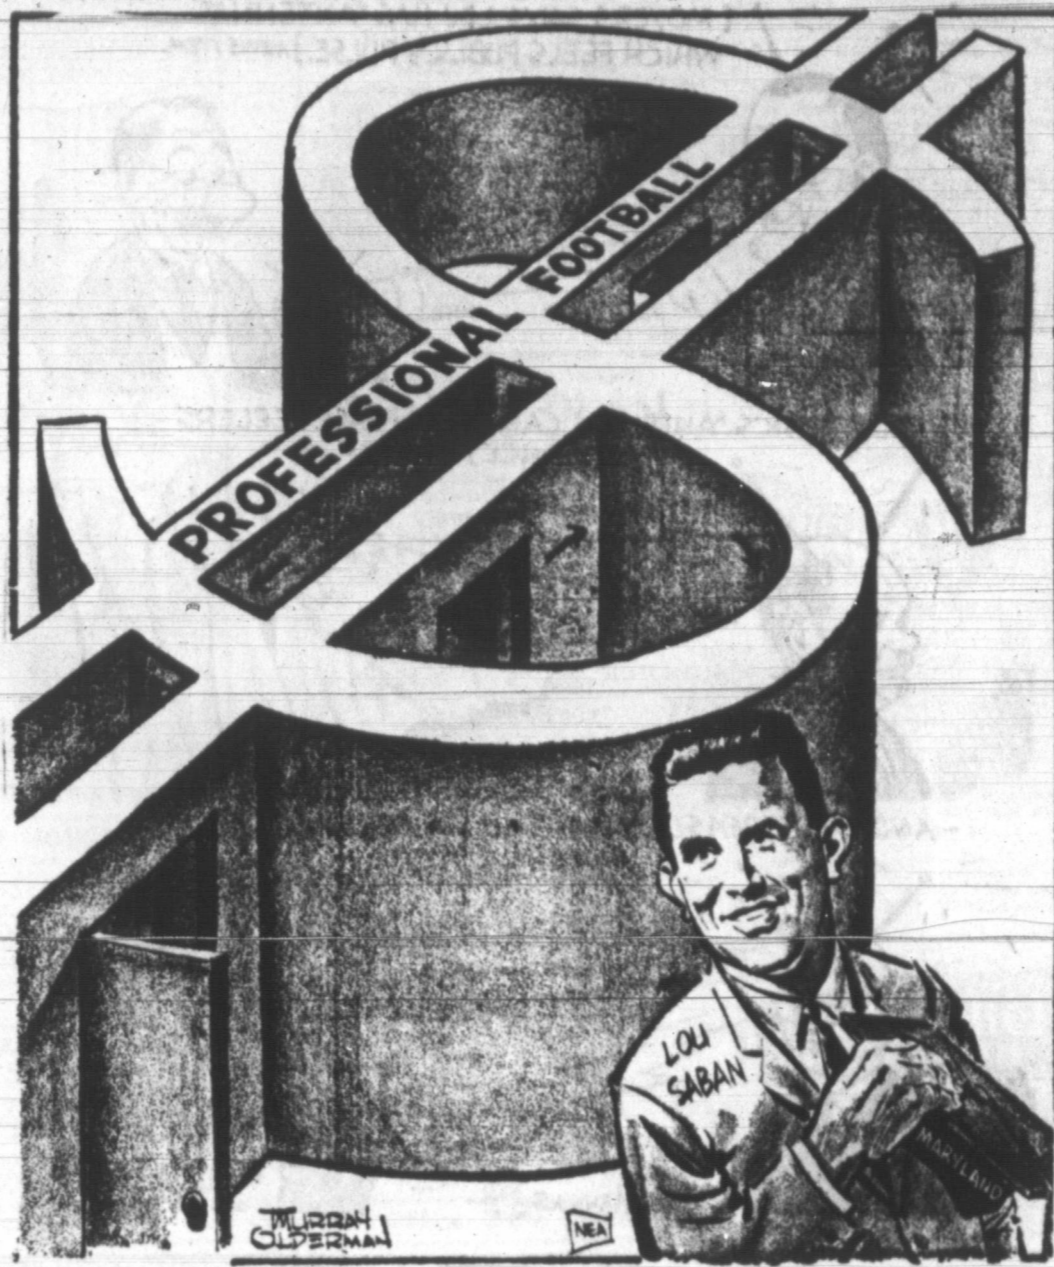

Any delay in a decision by Circuit Judge Cornelius Harrington would hamper Allen's chances to retain the Rams' job, which he accepted in a verbal agreement with club president Dan Reeves. Delay would postpone selection of a coaching staff and could be costly to the club.

The hearing will be on the breach of contract suit filed by the Bears and owner-coach George Halas, that also asked for a temporary injunction to prevent Allen from joining the Rams. His contract with the Bears, with whom he has served as defensive coach and director of player personnel for eight years, has two more years to run. So far, Allen has been the only witness to appear, testifying that he did not believe his coaching talents were "unique," that he had agreed to terms with the Rams but had not signed a contract, and that he received permission from Halas to talk to the Rams.

Bears attorney, Charles Short, is expected to call Halas to testify Tuesday and possibly will present another witness as well. It is uncertain whether he could complete his presentation of evidence since the hearing, originally scheduled for 11 a.m. CST, was postponed until 2 p.m. Once Short completes presentation of evidence, Allen's attorney, Albert E. Jenner, may present his case. Thus it is unlikely that testimony would be completed, let alone a decision by Harrington, who could take the case under advisement.

MINERS KEEP NO. 8 RANKING

'Cats Close In On Duke

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kentucky's aggressive Wildcats narrowed the gap between themselves and the top-ranked Duke Blue Devils Tuesday in the weekly United Press International board of coaches ratings by virtue of a surprisingly easy victory over Vanderbilt.

The Wildcats' 96-83 rout of the Commodores bounced Vanderbilt from third place to fifth in the ratings and supported Kentucky's claim to the No. 1 position. The unbeaten charges of Adolph Rupp, one of only two major college teams with perfect marks, received seven first-place votes and 116 points from the 35-man UPI board.

Duke, which won all three of its games against Atlantic Coast Conference foes last week to raise its record to 14-4, still managed to retain the 28 first-place votes it received last week. However, the Blue Devils' lead over Kentucky was cut from 40 to 22 points.

Eastern Powers Move St. Joseph's and Providence, the two powerhouse of the East, took advantage of lapses by Vanderbilt, Bradley and Brigham Young to push into third and fourth positions, the same places they occupied at the close of the 1964-65 season.

St. Joe's moved up one notch with 220 points while Providence, despite a major scare from Boston College, jumped three places to fourth with only one defeat in 13 games. The friars drew 189 points. Bradley, which suffered a

Cincinnati, which is expected to give Bradley a tough battle for the MVC crown, settled in 14th. The surprise team of the Big Eight, Nebraska, was 18th and North Carolina State rounded out the ratings in 20th position.

Four of the top five teams are not scheduled this week, with examinations taking priority over athletic competition. Duke does not return to action until Jan. 29 in the ACC showdown with North Carolina State. St. Joseph's travels to St.

Missouri Valley Conference loss to Drake at Peoria, slipped one rung to sixth ahead of rising Kansas. The Jayhawkers swept two Big Eight games and advanced from 10th to seventh. The ratings were based on games played through Saturday, Jan. 15.

Texas Western, the only other unbeaten team among the major powers, moved into eighth place as erratic UCLA, the defending NCAA champion, vacated the top 10 after a loss to Stanford. The Bruins dropped to 12th and two newcomers — Loyola (Ill.) and Utah — slipped into the elite group.

The go-go ramblers from Loyola, who ran away with the NCAA title three seasons back, sprang into ninth with a 12-1 record and Utah, the new leader of the Western Athletic Conference, bounded into 10th after squeezing past New Mexico.

Lobos Dropped Brigham Young, bushwacked by both New Mexico and Wyoming on the road, stumbled from sixth to 11th, while New Mexico was lodged in the tie for 15th with San Francisco.

Defending national champion Michigan, which was somewhat of a bust in pre-conference games, vaulted back into the ratings in 13th place by walloping three consecutive Big 10 foes. The Wolverines' two biggest obstacles in conference play, Michigan State and Iowa, were ranked 17th and 19th, respectively.

Cincinnati, which is expected to give Bradley a tough battle for the MVC crown, settled in 14th. The surprise team of the Big Eight, Nebraska, was 18th and North Carolina State rounded out the ratings in 20th position.

Football Hard To Get Away From For Allie Sherman

By MILTON RICHMAN GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UPI) —There is the same feeling of kinship among all football coaches as there is among policemen.

No cop in the world ever is happy to hear that another one was shot. He knows it might just as easily have been him.

That's the way it is with every football coach who picks up the newspaper and reads one of his colleagues was fired. He also knows it could have been him.

As coach of the New York Giants, Allie Sherman doesn't worry too much about being fired. For one thing, he has one of those new contracts that runs for 99 years or thereabouts, and for another his ball club surprised everyone, including Sherman, by finishing in a virtual second place tie.

Personal Twinge Yet whenever Sherman hears about this coach or that coach being sacked, there is that personal twinge.

"You just hope that the man had a true shot," said the 42-year-old Giant mentor. "You're bound to have feelings about it when you see some of these men being fired. They're all personal friends. You know them and you know their capacities. And you also know that any coach, no matter who he is, only is as good as his material."

Right now, Sherman, like most other football coaches, is on his "vacation" but it won't be a long one.

"Only three weeks, if that much," he smiled. "This is one of the few times I can relax a little bit. During the football season I'm in a complete vacuum. I ignore everything else. Personal affairs, bills and what not. You need a little time to unwind and this is it."

For the most part, Sherman spends his "vacation" with his family and about the most exciting thing he does is play a little tennis.

"I'm just fair at it," he said. "I discovered the game two years ago and I found I like it a great deal. Keeps you in shape."

But there really is no way Sherman can ever get too far removed from football. At this particular year-round resort, for example, Sherman and his attractive blonde wife, Joan, came up to do a little ice skating.

Watched The Game Allie tried keeping his mind off football but failed miserably. On Sunday, he found himself turning on the television set to watch the East-West Pro Bowl game at Los Angeles.

And Monday night, he found himself the guest of honor here when the Little League of Yonkers, N.Y., and a group of businessmen from that community presented him with their annual award as the professional coach of the year.

There's no question but that Sherman is far happier now than he was a year ago after his Giants compiled a wretched 2-10-2 record. That was the season some unhappy Giant fans took to singing, "Goodbye Allie."

"I told my wife they were playing our song," Sherman laughed.

He can afford to laugh now because the Giants bounced back with a vastly improved 7-mark the past season.

"Next season we should be even better," he said, looking ahead. "Our kids have a year under their belts now and I'm very happy about our draft choices. Particularly our number one boy—Francis Peay, a tackle from Missouri. He's an offensive tackle and that's where we need help."

Even before the season ended, Sherman began preparing for the coming year. He, his assistants and his scouts discussed player improvement and depreciation.

Then came the draft and signing of those players selected. By mid-February, Atlanta officially will enter the NFL and the Giants will have to decide which players to make available to the Falcons.

That means Sherman will have to roll up his sleeves and go to work again. He doesn't mind; he loves it.

"Before you know it," he said solemnly, "July will be here and we'll be opening camp for practice."

The calendar claims it's still January.

Do you get the feeling the man is rushing the season a little?

Braves Make Plea To Dismiss Antitrust Suit

MILWAUKEE (UPI) —A marked by charges of "abandonment" by attorneys for the state of Wisconsin, and "blackmail" by attorneys for the baseball team. The club seeks to have the suit dismissed on grounds there allegedly is no cause of action and the court has no jurisdiction.

Roller didn't indicate when he would rule on the demurrer. Trial in the suit is scheduled to begin Feb. 1. The club wants to prevent the Braves from playing in Atlanta, unless Milwaukee gets another major league franchise. The matter was outside the court's jurisdiction. Earlier, Braves' attorney Earl A. Jinkinson said the state is seeking an injunction to bring the Braves back to Milwaukee "to be held as hostage until the league is blackmailed into expansion, or until the Braves' owners lose so much money they will be compelled to sell to someone else." Owie Kuhn, counsel for the league, said the Toolson case of 1950s established that baseball was a matter of interstate commerce and hence violated state law while in it.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Frittering Freedom Away

Harry B. Dyer, president of the Southern States Industrial Council of Nashville, Tenn., writes in the SSIC News Bulletin as follows: "Mr. C. Jack Harris, Jr., an obscure employe of the Tennessee Valley Authority in Chattanooga, and the mighty Bethlehem Steel Corporation now have something in common - both have felt the heavy hand of the United States Government. "Among the many conclusions apparent in the two situations is the disconcerting one that our government can now rust an individual around as readily as it can a corporation, and no existing law gives it the right to do either one. The question here is not the propriety of Bethlehem's announced price increase in structural steel, nor the propriety of Mr. Harris' remarks about the Chief Executive of the United States—the question is the right of both to do what they did.

"Mr. Harris, it seems, made some harshly critical remarks (but not threatening ones) about the President of the United States. An informer relayed the substance of these acrid comments to the U. S. Secret Service. According to Mr. Harris, he was subsequently subjected to an hour-long grilling by a Secret Service agent who invaded the privacy of his home for that purpose. "No right thinking person is going to decry adequate protective measures to safeguard our President from bodily harm. We have, however, come to a sorry pass when the investigative powers of our government

Definition of Thrift?

"Thrift, in the eyes of liberal government spenders, seems to be to end the fiscal year with a deficit smaller than predicted at the beginning of the year," says Public Affairs Forum.

Stirrings of An Old Enemy

Dr. Albert Sabin, whose oral vaccine helped to plummet polio from 30,000 cases in 1955 to less than 100 in the first 11 months of 1965, warns that we may not have heard the last of the disease.

"We are building up a pool of unprotected children who will soon be able to re-establish the chain of transmission of the disease," he says.

The chairman of the American Medical Association's Committee on Environment and Public Health concurs.

"Data available to the committee," says Dr. James H. Stener, "shows that there now exist areas in which the level of immunity is so low that the possibility of an epidemic is a very real one."

The reason is easy to diagnose. It is simply that the medical profession and the public alike have become complacent

Baker Indictment

Some skeptics, including the Chicago Tribune, are wondering if it is on the level now that Bobby Baker has been indicted.

Baker, who was a protegee of President Johnson as secretary of the Senate Democratic majority until some unsavory charges were made, as you know, was indicted by a federal grand jury in Washington on nine counts, including tax evasion, conspiracy, felonious conversion and fraud.

Until the grand jury came in with the indictment, it seemed

Incredible Cruise

Mariner IV, the historic spacecraft which snapped close-up pictures of Mars last July 15, is on its way home.

"Home" in this case is about 30 million miles out in space from earth, the closest it will ever approach. This will occur sometime in 1967.

When last contacted a few days ago by NASA's 85-foot antenna at Goldstone, Calif., Mariner was at the most distant point in its eternal sun-disk orbit takes it from earth — some 216 million straight-line miles away. The amazing spacecraft is still operating, but no attempt will be made to receive data from it again until it gets nearer. Even if it never broadcasts another beep, Mariner will keep scientists busy for a long time to come. Before data transmission was suspended on Oct. 1, it had returned 38 million engineering and scientific measurements.

can be so capriciously used. "Repetition of abuse tends to accustom a complacent people to an uncomplaining loss of personal liberty. An air of resignation settles upon us when we see Government police a man's business—even put him out of business; chastise corporations for trying to adjust the selling price of their products; support exorbitant demands of organized labor while restricting management, and storm into a man's house because he has been intemperate in his conversation.

"Probably little will come of Mr. Harris' somewhat rhetorical question as carried in the press: "Is this the sort of intimidation that a private citizen should have to put up with? Must we fear knocks at our door late at night?" "A stirring belief of a bygone era was that 'Every man's home is his castle.' We also recall some vigorous defenses of 'Freedom of Speech.' And even today we still hear the expression 'Free Enterprise.' But when the Federal Government, acting upon the advice of self-styled economic experts can prevent price increases while permitting wage increases; and when security agents can batter at the door of a private citizen with the most tenuous justification—then there is reason to demand more of our legislators in defense of freedom. And, when the sweet innocence of little children as expressed by their touching faith in a Supreme Being is barred from our schools, the hour for action has arrived."

When mainline forces attack, therefore, the guerrillas troops are already positioned to quickly hit, retreat and supply columns. In co-ordination with the mainline attack, guerrillas are charged with blasting or mining bridges leading to the battle zone.

IN SOME BATTLES, the guerrillas are expected to move into the fight first, attacking from all sides. "With guerrilla forces hitting from all directions," says People's Army, "the enemy is confused and does not know from which way the main attack may come."

The mainline forces are to hold back until the guerrillas expose a weak spot, then move in for the kill.

At times, guerrilla units are ordered to add to the confusion by "beating drums and empty cans and by shouting and ringing bells . . . shaking up the whole area and creating confusion for the enemy."

If the Viet Cong lose the battle, guerrilla forces are assigned harassing the enemy. By slowing down the mopping-up operations, they enable mainline forces to escape.

The guerrillas, it is quite obvious, are considered expendable.

Then, on the point of victory, came complacency and the fight against VD was virtually dropped. Today this disease is back in force and ranks as one of the nation's major public health problems.

So far, fortunately, there has been no similar resurgence of polio. Whether or not there will be one is the responsibility not only of doctors and public health officials but those parents who have not taken the trouble to see that their children have received the simple, permanent and inexpensive defense against polio that men like Dr. Sabin devoted their talents and toils to discovering.

that Baker was leading quite a charmed life. One of his financial statements indicated he had built up a fortune of more than two million dollars while receiving a $19,000 a year salary from the taxpayers. When an attempt was made for a full investigation of his affairs, it appeared that most of the onus was placed on his accusers rather than on Lyndon's protegee.

Some of the skeptics will continue to watch carefully to see what happens in the next installments.

WASHINGTON:

Hanoi Paper Says Reds Are Tricky

BY RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Ho Chi Minh's Hanoi newspaper, "People's Army," is running a series on guerrilla tactics.

The writers say that in several important South Viet Nam battles this past year, Ho's mainline forces did not have victory as their objective.

Instead, their job was to pin down "the enemy" (our side) leaving the Viet Cong guerrilla troops "free" to run wild.

While the Vietnamese army was busy repulsing the Red mainline attack, the guerrillas fanned out to destroy local "land reform" and "new life" hamlets and assassinate hamlet leaders.

In other campaigns, says People's Army, when Red mainline troops go into battle, guerrilla units are charged with blocking or ambushing enemy relief and supply columns.

The object, of course, is to isolate the forward enemy force so it can be chewed up for lack of reserves and supplies; except those brought in by air.

OVER SEVERAL YEARS, People's Army says, VC guerrillas have, one by one, secured control of strategic points along major highways and byroads in South Viet Nam.

This has been done according to a schedule. First objectives were "major highways numbered 1, 9, 13, 14."

The VC guerrillas have specialized in putting themselves in positions along these roads from which they can readily block major junctions. Their attack positions are prepared months in advance.

When mainline forces attack, therefore, the guerrilla troops are already positioned to quickly hit, retreat and supply columns.

In co-ordination with the mainline attack, guerrillas are charged with blasting or mining bridges leading to the battle zone.

IN SOME BATTLES, the guerrillas are expected to move into the fight first, attacking from all sides. "With guerrilla forces hitting from all directions," says People's Army, "the enemy is confused and does not know from which way the main attack may come."

The mainline forces are to hold back until the guerrillas expose a weak spot, then move in for the kill.

At times, guerrilla units are ordered to add to the confusion by "beating drums and empty cans and by shouting and ringing bells . . . shaking up the whole area and creating confusion for the enemy."

If the Viet Cong lose the battle, guerrilla forces are assigned harassing the enemy. By slowing down the mopping-up operations, they enable mainline forces to escape.

The guerrillas, it is quite obvious, are considered expendable.

MRS. SOAPY BUBBLES

(Richmond News Leader) Mrs. Soapy Williams upped her social standing in the Liberal community the other day when she deplored the conditions at Dr. Albert Schweitzer's hospital in Gabon.

Criticizing the late good doctor is "in" these days, and Mrs. Williams minced no words. Not only were conditions at the Lambarene hospital "terrible," said the lady, but Schweitzer "really hated the natives and I think more people died there than he ever saved."

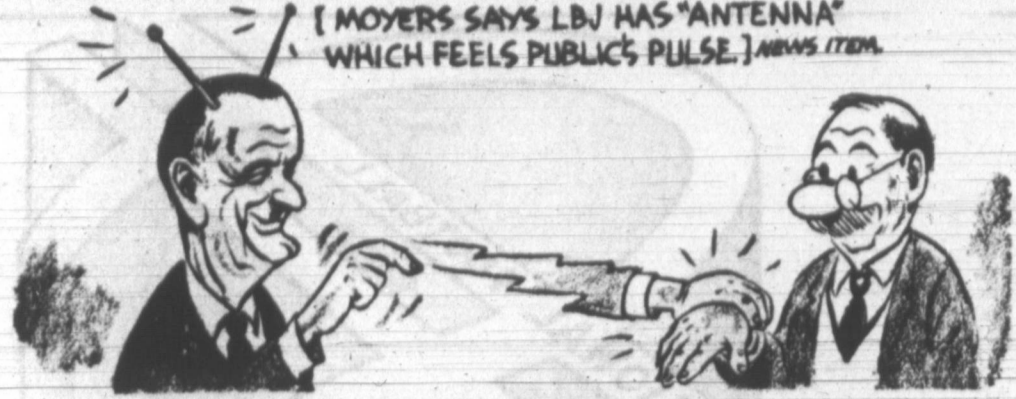

There was a time when Dr. Schweitzer stood as the shining example of enlightened man, our 20th century Prometheus. Opinion moulders constantly worked to chip here, tap there, as they prepared his image for earthly sainthood. But one day about two years ago, Dr. Schweitzer stood up and told the United States that our Katanga policy was wrong, our whole African and anti-colonialism policies were wrong, and our egalitarian views were, of all things, wrong.

We never cared much for the halo that cocoyles pinned on Dr. Schweitzer's head. Nor, we suspect, did he. The man merely did what he could to alleviate pain and disease, and to edify himself; that was enough.

To the Liberals, however, he transgressed unforgivably in his later years by the things he said, and for that he must be punished. Having shuddered appropriately, the fastidious Williams have now gone back to Detroit, where cleanliness comes with two squirts of an aerosol bomb.

Wonderful Wizardry Of Washington

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Preparations for a visit to the U.S. by Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski are proceeding despite the Polish Communist government's refusal to allow the Catholic primate to go to Rome.

His tentative schedule calls for a stay of "four to six weeks" in late August and September to attend celebrations in major U. S. cities commemorating the 1,000 anniversary of Christianity in Poland.

These cities will include New York, Chicago, Boston, Milwaukee and Buffalo. A stopover in the national capital for the 64-year-old Polish Cardinal to visit the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception is under consideration. No decision has been made because of the international complications involved.

U. S. Catholics mapping Cardinal Wyszynski's trip indicate that an 11-week visit was originally planned but was reduced because of opposition of the Gomulka regime to a longer stay.

Although members of the U.S. Millennium Committee are still optimistic about Cardinal Wyszynski's being permitted to come to the U.S., State Department officials are less so. Privately they are of the opinion that the trip is far from certain in view of the travel ban imposed on Wyszynski.

Cabled reports from Ambassador John Gronowski indicate the Rome incident may have been provoked by the Gomulka regime to test the reaction of Polish Catholics to the refusal to grant Wyszynski permission to confer with Pope Paul on the latter's proposed May visit to Poland.

DIPLOMATIC MANEUVERING — While Premier Gomulka has privately been against Wyszynski's coming to the U.S. since being informed of this late last year, the Red leader has hesitated to openly oppose it because of the possibility of a hostile explosion in Poland and adverse effect in the U. S. on trade and aid.

Cardinal Wyszynski is immensely popular throughout Poland, according to members of the congressional delegation that visited there in December to dedicate the U.S.-financed Children's Hospital in Krakow.

Rep. sentative Silvio Conte, R-Mass., a key member of the House Foreign Aid Appropriations Subcommittee, is telling colleagues that when he went to hear Cardinal Wyszynski preach at Krakow, he was unable to get within a block of the church because of the huge overflow crowd.

"There were more than 10,000 persons outside the packed church just hoping for a glimpse of their spiritual leader," said Conte. "They couldn't even hear his voice because local authorities would not permit loudspeakers to be installed in the streets. The Cardinal is by far the most popular person in Poland today."

We don't believe it since we haven't noticed any shortage of dentists and, at the rates they charge today, there should be no difficulty in interesting young people in joining that profession.

Editor: One of the first public statements to come out after the November 9 Northeast blackout, which affected 30 million people, eight states and southern Ontario, was by Rep. Walter Rogers, who said his Commerce Subcommittee on Power would investigate and drag out all the dirty linen.

US News & World Report wrote that nobody panicked, "but a shudder of foreboding raced across the United States." The PAMPA DAILY NEWS quoted Sen. Miller and Rep. Rogers, "A few persons with sabotage as their object could bring a massive power tie-up. More attention should be given to power and water supplies in regard to sabotage."

The cause of the blackout has been laid to a relay switch, located in Ontario, that was triggered into wrong position by some yet unexplained condition. CAREFUL! YOUR SUPPORTERS ARE SHOWING Many insist on impressing their friends or the public with the idea that the country is in danger of being destroyed by anti-Communists voicing their opinions. It is difficult to understand how a high degree of loyalty to the nation can be divisive and destructive. The war in South Vietnam, our part in the Dominican Republic's affairs and our continued tolerance of Castro furnishes a greater need than every before for citizens loyal to the USA. Those who decry extremism could ask themselves the question, "Was the extremism of Sgt. Avin York in World War I divisive to the nation or did his extreme loyalty beyond the call of duty save the lives of scores of his buddies on Flanders Field?"

The question has arisen as to the intensity of support political parties and candidates can afford to accept. THE WORKER contemplates calling the shots for a vast number of Communist movements. This is a part of its duty to the phobia for which it speaks. So long as the American public has a good degree of sense it should be a liability for any candidate to welcome the support of THE WORKER.

Whenever an organization or thought group endorses or works for the success of a candidate, what has happened is that the group or its members have endorsed the candidate. It does not necessarily follow that the candidate is vouching for the tactics nor the principles of these particular supporters. If the supporters seem unnecessarily rough the candidate is not necessarily rude nor rough. He should be given credit for all his supporters who are opposed to the deadly menaces, communism and crime.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT, Most Causes of Anxiety Date Back to Childhood

Whether anxiety is a new epidemic disease or is as old as the proverbial hills, it is the cause of a great deal of suffering.

The causes of anxiety extend, in most cases, back to our childhood. It may spring from an unstable home life, from competition between parents for the dependence and love of the child and from a failure of the parents to let the child become self-reliant and develop toward emotional maturity.

Emotions are just as contagious as measles. In a home where gloom and anxiety abound, these feelings will be transmitted to all members of the family. The children of neurotic parents will almost surely become the neurotic parents of a new generation.

Environmental factors that add to the burden of anxiety include the monotony of the jobs many persons must do (jobs that deprive the worker of pride in individual accomplishment), an increase in leisure time for persons with no constructive outlets for their energies, the complexities of modern technology that often give an individual a feeling of helplessness and insignificance, an overemphasis on financial success as the ultimate criterion of a man's worth and the pressures of a rapidly expanding population with its resultant overcrowding. The cowboy who sings "Don't fence me in" may find himself surrounded by tall buildings sooner than he thinks.

Doctors now recognize an anxiety syndrome that is characterized by palpitation of the heart, rapid irregular breathing, sweating, a lump in the throat, a feeling of heaviness in the chest or stomach, muscular tremors, a feeling of generalized weakness and nervous tension with or without the so-called tension headaches. Chronic anxiety may be the cause of excessive shyness, perfectionism, such compulsive behavior as washing one's hands every 25 or 30 minutes, a wide variety of phobias such as acrophobia (fear of high places) and seeking escape from reality through narcotics or alcohol.

There can be no doubt that these symptoms recurring day after day can make you feel terrible and can, in time, result in organic changes that are sometimes described as "psychosomatic." In tomorrow's column the treatment of anxiety will be discussed.

Guides on Deductible Taxes

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Internal Revenue Service scored a major breakthrough this year in simplifying one aspect of the 1040 Form. The instruction manual mailed out with the tax forms to every person who filed a tax return last year prints the sales tax allowance chart for his state and a list of the gasoline taxes in the states. The sales tax chart for your state is based upon adjusted gross income. That is the figure you will enter on Line 9, Page 2 of Form 1040. Your total income and the number in your family will determine your allowance.

Again this year IRS will permit taxpayers to add to the allowance on their state chart the exact amount of deductible sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile in 1955.

What if you can prove you paid more sales taxes than the chart provides for you? By all means take the full deduction you can support. But the burden of proof is on you if you elect not to use the chart allowance.

Perhaps the major tax deduction available to homeowners is the tax on their real estate. Real estate taxes are deductible in the year paid. If your monthly mortgage payment includes a portion of your real estate taxes in addition to principal and interest payments, the amount of your real estate tax deduction is not necessarily the total of the withheld tax amounts from January through Dec. 1955. This tax payment went into a reserve account at your bank to deduct for taxes on your 1040.

The personal property tax levied by many states on your investments is also fully deductible on your return if you are itemizing deductions. These are among the taxes NOT DEDUCTIBLE: Auto licenses, driver's license, cigarette tax, liquor tax, federal income tax, Social Security, federal estate and gift taxes.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) —During a recent trip to the Far East, Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., attended a committee meeting in the Japanese Diet (parliament).

"Although I understood not a word, the session seemed not unlike a session of a committee of the U.S. House of Representatives," he reported upon his return.

McClory and I must have something in common. Not understanding what was going on would have made me feel right at home, too.

The second session of the 89th Congress is barely a week old and already my comprehension has been strongly challenged.

"Surprise" Party

The office of Rep. John S. Monagan, D Conn., set the pace before the session opened by putting out a news release reporting that his staff had given him a "surprise" birthday party.

What made the affair so novel was the fact that the press release describing it reached the House press gallery three days before the party was held.

It was the first time I had ever run across a post-dated surprise. Apparently the staff wanted to make sure that Monagan wasn't surprised retroactively.

I was still puzzling over that when I came upon a news release from Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., which mystified me further. It said:

"U.S. Rep. Charles E. Bennett, who holds the all-time record in Congress for roll call votes, said Sunday he would introduce legislation designed to prohibit demonstrations which impair United States military operations."

It took me several hours to figure out what Bennett's attendance record has to do with the bill. But finally the connection became clear.

He'll be There

If they ever have a roll call on his bill, Bennett more than likely will be there to vote for it.

It was, however, another Florida Democrat, Rep. Robert F. L. Sikes, who left me completely baffled. He issued a news release with a heading that read: "Time to get those recreation projects started."

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Planning of a school budget is a complicated and extensive activity. It is an important responsibility of board members and the entire staff. It affects all aspects of the school operation as well as the staff and program.

A budget is the translation of the quality and curriculum of a school in terms of money. The superintendent of schools must obtain, discuss and evaluate requests of staff members which he finally compiles into proposed budget for presentation to the board of education. The board members carefully examine the recommendations in order to maintain a balanced program, consider the effect of the total cost and relate it to their educational philosophy.

Citizens Take Part

They must consider the educational aims of the community as well as the ability and willingness to provide funds. Often special citizen's advisory committees are appointed. Public meetings are held to explain the budget and to obtain citizens' reactions. Adjustments are made and usually after many months of review and investigation a final budget is accepted.

This may be the last step of the budget might be presented to the community for a public vote, or it may be presented to another governing group such as city council for approval. This will depend upon the particular laws of the state.

In any case, the school budget is an important responsibility for every member of the community. It determines in many ways the quality of the educational program. The cost of the program should be realistic. Frugal economy is as bad as wasteful spending.

High Court Orders Negroes Admitted To Georgia Park

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled today that a park willed to Macon, Ga., in 1911 for the use of white women and children must be operated for both Negroes and whites so long as it is municipal in character.

The court split 6 to 3 on the decision, with Justice William O. Douglas speaking for the majority.

The Macon park was a bequest of Augustus Octavius Bacon, a one-time Confederate soldier and U.S. senator. The area is known as Baconfield.

Under terms of the will, the city operated the park through a board of managers for many years. It finally was opened to Negroes on the ground that a city cannot, under recent court decisions, enforce segregation.

On petition in 1963 of Charles E. Newton and other board members, the Bibb County Superior Court accepted the city's resignation as trustee and appointed three individuals as successors. The purpose was to reinstate the "white only" terms of the will. The action was affirmed by the Georgia Supreme Court.

Douglas said if some one wanted to will a school or center for the use of one race only and in no way implicated the state in the "supervision, control, or management of that facility," he would assume for the sake of argument that no constitutional difficulty would be encountered.

"This park, however, is in a different posture," he said. "For years it was an integral part of the city of Macon's

Dallas Man Gets Death for Murder

DALLAS (UPI) — William Samples Marshall, 30, a hairdresser whose lawyers said he had nerved his reason with pills and alcohol, was sentenced to death early today by a district court jury for the murder of Wanda Sue Burgess.

Miss Burgess, 15, was raped, beaten, and shot to death last Oct. 6.

A companion of the victim, Judy Ann Fogle, 16, told the jury of eight men and four women in Dist. Judge John Mead's court that Marshall abducted them from a restaurant by Adamson High School by flashing a badge and professing to be a narcotics agent.

She said he took them to Kiest Park, then beat and shot Miss Burgess.

The jury took the case around 11 p.m. Monday night, deliberated a bit more than an hour, and found Marshall guilty. The jurors decided upon the death penalty.

Marshall received the decision without changing expression. The full courtroom, cautioned by Mead to make no outbreak, was quiet. Then Marshall's mother cried.

Marshall's lawyers will appeal.

Miss Fogle was the prosecution's mainstay for its case. She said Marshall tied her to a log the day he abducted her and Miss Burgess. She said he went off with Miss Burgess and she could hear the girl being beaten.

"She started screaming. She screamed, 'Oh, God... that's all,'" Miss Fogle said. "About 30 minutes later I heard what sounded like a car backfiring. I know now that it was a shot."

Marshall forced Miss Fogle to help him dispose of the victim's body, then he drank some liquor and took a pill and fell asleep. The girl drove the auto to a nearby house and called police.

Fate of Common Market Rests On De Gaulle

LUXEMBOURG (UPI) —Members of the European Common Market met today to deal with a near ultimatum from President Charles de Gaulle of France. Observers predicted another victory for de Gaulle.

French delegates appeared confident as the market's Council of Ministers opened the final session of a crucial, two day meeting.

At issue were de Gaulle's demands for permanent veto power over market decisions and to undercut the importance of the six nation's trading bloc's executive commission.

The other members—West Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries—showed few signs of defying the powerful French leader.

NEW YORK (UPI) —Arthur Wiesenberger & Co. says that, although evidence is mounting to suggest the bull market may be approaching its end, the list would seem to have further scope for advance before registering an important peak.

The firm advises a policy of continuing investments in groups and stocks with above average near and intermediate term prospects, but maintaining some reserves to take advantage of the wide fluctuations that will doubtless appear.

Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes says the economic outlook would seem to offer nourishment for the bulls but there are a number of unforeseeable factors which could knock all forecasts and projections into a cocked hat.

Shearson, Hammill & Co. says it believes investors should be taking advantage of every opportunity to upgrade their portfolios. The firm says that where speculative fever does bail an investor out of an issue he should be happy to move into something with more substance.
