US Ready To Begin Air Attacks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration continues to build its case for resumption of U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam, which congressional and diplomatic circles are convinced will come within a few days.

These circles saw virtually no alternative to an end to the 35-day-old pause in the attacks, barring a miraculous change in the Communist attitude toward President Johnson's peace offers.

Officials said today the Communists were still taking advantage of the pause to repair shattered communications in the North and send reinforcements and supplies southward.

They added that this was a situation that could not be tolerated because of the mounting danger to U.S. forces.

The administration was receiving support from overseas in its view there was no purpose in extending the pause further.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart said Wednesday night in New York he thought the United States had amply demonstrated its sincere desire to make peace on "honorable" terms.

Rusk made the administration's view clear Wednesday as to the feasibility of holding off the attacks any longer. He said the administration "started at 'A' and we're almost to 'Z'" in our peace efforts, but had received no encouragement from the Communists.

The secretary gave no indication of when the raids might resume, however. He told newsmen after testifying on Capitol Hill that Johnson had the question under advisement and he was not going to predict what his decision will be.

Tax Alternates Set by Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A national lottery, budget cuts and increased income taxes were proposed today as substitutes for President Johnson's strategy to raise Viet Nam war money through higher automobile and telephone excise taxes.

All three alternatives were made by congressmen in testimony prepared for the House Ways and Means Committee, which resumed public hearings. All three were given virtually no chance of acceptance.

Johnson has proposed raising $1.2 billion by restoring cuts that went into effect Jan. 1 in automobile and telephone excise taxes.

In addition he would speed up corporate tax pay schedules and boost paycheck withholding tax payments to add another $3.6 billion to the treasury in the coming fiscal year.

A knowledgeable committee source expected that the tax bill, in essentially the same form as Johnson submitted it, will be approved by the panel within 10 days.

STORM KILLS FOUR

Middle Atlantic Crippled Under Massive Snow

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The biggest snow storm in years crippled the Middle Atlantic states today under more than a foot of snow. Roads were impassable, schools closed and gale winds whipped the snow into deep drifts along the coast.

At least four deaths were blamed on the storm, which veered uneasily up the East Coast today toward New England.

In North Carolina, officials said the storm was the worst in 33 years. Richmond, Va., lay under a 13-inch snow blanket for the first time since 1940.

Bred along the Atlantic Coast Wednesday, the storm afflicted parts of 14 states. An armada of 2,000 snow plows attacked drifted highways in Virginia during the night. Schools, government offices and businesses remained closed today in sections of the Carolinas, Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and the District of Columbia.

Snow was reported as far south as Savannah, Ga., and as far north as Southern New England.

Richmond was one of the cities hardest hit.

City buses in Richmond in many instances ran eight hours late, and flights into and from Richmond's Byrd Field were halted Wednesday evening.

The storm knocked out four substations of the South Carolina Electric and Gas Co. at Columbia, disrupting service, and hundreds of telephone lines across South Carolina were snapped by ice.

Public schools and businesses closed in the May 7 primary.

"Progressive leadership is needed if Gray County is to meet the challenge of the future," Walberg, 421 Charles, said Wednesday in a formal announcement of his candidacy for county commissioner, Precinct 2.

Walberg said that it is necessary to plan for the needs of the future.

"There are things to be done, both in day-to-day matters and in long-range projects," Walberg said.

The 40-year-old stockman who is a third generation Gray Countyman, emphasized that progress in rural areas of the county will mean progress for the urban areas. "The interests (See RACE, Page 3)

Two More Enter Race for County Commission Post

The race for Gray County commissioner from Precinct 2 became a four-way contest Wednesday with the filing of Pampa mechanic Noah B. Goodin, 112 S. Starkweather, and Donald Wolberg, also of Pampa, for the post.

Also seeking the job are incumbent Clyde Organ, former commissioner, and Bill Jarvis and All will compete for the Demo-

Overall contributions of postal workers amounted to 95 per cent, Boyd said, with a total of approximately $500.

Chamber Endorses City Bond Proposals

Pampa Chamber of Commerce directors today gave unanimous endorsement for approval of the five issues in the city's upcoming $2,900,000 bond election on March 8.

The action was taken following the appearance of Mayor Jim Nation and City Manager Jim White at this forenoon's regular monthly meeting of the board in the chamber conference room in the Hughes Bldg.

City Manager White outlined the issues involved and stressed that only the minimum long-term needs will be included in the election. The issues include the widening and paving of Highway 152, Highway 60 and South Cuyler streets, the paving of more than 200 blocks of streets within the city and the construction of a water filtration plant.

Harry Vanderpool and Floyd Watson reported that tickets were about two-thirds sold to the Doc Severinsen Band Festival concert to be held in Harvey Field House on Feb. 5.

Duggan Smith spoke on behalf of the chamber convention committee and stated that his group would be in charge of the program at the February membership luncheon of the chamber. He urged everyone to assist in creating an image for Pampa as a fine convention city.

Education committee chairman W. A. Morgan told of plans for the Career Clinic to be held at the high school on Feb. 16 and Texas Education Week, March 7-11.

Bill Power announced that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will conduct its 12th annual Industrial Development Conference in Wichita Falls on Tuesday Feb. 1, and urged those who could, to attend.

In other business, directors voted to re-establish their opposition to the repeal of 14-b, the right to work law, and also voted to enter a float in the annual St. Patrick's Day parade at Shamrock in March.

BAKER TRIAL — WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., charged Wednesday that the scheduling of the trial of former Senate aide Robert G. (Bobby) Baker is part of a scheme to prevent "exposure to public view" before the November elections.

Baker, who is charged with nine counts of tax evasion, fraud, grand larceny and conspiracy is scheduled to go on trial Oct. 17. He has pleaded innocent on all counts.

COURAGE OF CONVICTION

RICHMOND, Calif. (UPI)—When the gunman told Kenneth McKamey of Payless Cleaners to hand over the contents of the cash register by the count of five, the clerk replied, "go ahead and shoot."

The would-be bandit, apparently stunned, declared, "you're lucky," and fled. McKamey told police he was sure the gun was not loaded.

State Counters Motion To Free Candace Mossler

MIAMI (UPI)—The state attacked as "scandalous, frivolous and a sham" today charges that prosecutors and police threatened witnesses to get testimony against millionaire Candace Mossler and her alleged lover.

State Governor Race Shapes Up

AUSTIN (UPI)—The 1966 gubernatorial campaign is underway. Gov. John Connally termed his only proclaimed rival's television debut "a very interesting tag team match."

He spoke of the television appearance of Stanley C. Woods of Houston and his running mate, State Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline which Connally said produced "a lot of sound and no substance."

The governor said he missed the show but spent a fair portion of his news conference Wednesday answering charges made by Woods and Hollowell. Hollowell is running for lieutenant governor as a teammate of Woods in the May 7 Democratic primary.

He denied any conflict of interest in personal land dealings.

"Land is one of the very few things we (the state) don't regulate. It's my business," Connally said.

Woods referred to "reports" Connally had about 30,000 acres of land. Connally said he had bought about 14,000 acres of land since becoming governor. Most of it is located on a large South Texas ranch.

Viet Nam Buildup Creates Serious Inflation Problems

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson served notice on business and labor today that he might have to request higher taxes to curb inflation unless they keep the lid on prices and wages.

He told Congress in his annual economic message that keeping the economy from overheating in the face of the Viet Nam buildup and the business boom is the "most serious economic challenge" facing the nation.

Johnson predicted that unemployment will fall below 4 per cent this year, the lowest since 1953, while the value of the nation's output of goods and services will soar to a record $722 billion.

The unprecedented five-year economic boom has brought Americans prosperity "far beyond the dreams of any people, anywhere, any time," the President said. But he cautioned that the ominous threat of a spreading conflict in Viet Nam makes economic restraint vital.

"Abundance For All" He sounded the same general note at a ceremony Wednesday when he signed two copies of the economic report, saying America has come closer than any nation in history "to man's ancient goal of abundance for all," and that only wise and responsible action can achieve this "in our lifetime."

It was the specter of inflation that prompted the President to abandon the administration's "sliding scale" method of setting guideposts for wage and price increases, a move that brought stiff criticism from organized labor, which played a big part of the 1964 election victory.

In his message the President urged Congress for the third time in recent weeks to approve his plan for curbing private spending by speeding up individual payroll withholding and corporation tax collec-

State Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas said "everyone on the committee seems to feel that some new taxes will be needed. He indicated the boost in the sales tax would probably be recommended. Atwell said his committee called for studies on several other possibilities.

As one alternative, he said a study would be made on eliminating present exemptions on food, drugs, alcoholic beverages, industrial and agricultural-fuel-and-farm machinery.

"It is my opinion the legislature is not ready to eliminate food, drugs, or farm machinery exemptions," he said. "If we need new taxes it will probably be an increase in the rate, rather than knocking out at least those exemptions."

An addition of one cent on the dollar in sales tax would bring in an estimated additional $115 million per year in revenues, Atwell said.

More Snow Due Pampa Tomorrow

Here we go again! The Weather Bureau this morning looked into the weekend and came out with -SNOW. Not to mention cold temperatures and lots of clouds.

According to the forecast, there will be considerable melting this afternoon as the mercury climbs into the 40s; then the boom will be lowered as the temperature drops to five degrees.

The weatherman gives Pampa a 30 per cent probability of snow tonight rising, and ups the odds to 60 per cent for Friday. Saturday will be more of the same.

Pampa was somewhat warmer last night and this morning than most parts of the Panhandle. The thermometer only dropped to 24 degrees for the overnight low here. It reached 16 degrees in Amarillo and Dalhart.

Galveston reported the highest 6 a.m. reading of 39 degrees, with the freezing as far south as San Antonio with a 22 and east to Texarkana with a 25.

Patches of ground fog were reported along the Rio Grande, where Laredo had 36 degrees and Brownsville 34. Moderate damage was feared to tender vegetables in the Valley. Central and east sections of the (See SNOW, Page 3)

THE GLOBAL VIEW

Arms Race Quickens in Middle East

By LEON DENNEN Foreign News Analyst Newspaper Enterprise Assn. UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (NEA) — Two American scientists are reported to be working secretly for President Nasser on an Egyptian program to develop medium-range rockets ahead of Israel.

The Israelis, who see Nasser as their mortal enemy, have therefore decided to speed up the purchase of surface-to-surface missiles from France.

Add to this Saudi Arabia's purchase of supersonic jet fighters from Britain and little Jordan's acquisition of some 100 Patton tanks in the United States and you get a fair picture of the arms race in the Middle East.

There is strong evidence that the conflict between the Arab countries and Israel is warming up again. Yet diplomats are apparently so immersed in their private problems that they give little thought to the new crisis which is brewing on a much greater scale.

If Viet Nam, Kashmir and Cyprus are precedents, the U. N. Security Council probably will not begin passing peace resolutions on the Middle East until after the shooting has started.

It was therefore refreshing for this writer to get the views of Dr. Simon Shereshevsky, Jeru-salem's noted peace advocate, who is convinced that there can be a peaceful solution of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Dr. Shereshevsky is head of the Ihud Association which was founded 25 years ago in Palestine by two distinguished Americans, Judah L. Magnes and Henriette Szold, to promote friendship between Jews and Arabs. The philosopher Martin Buber was Ihud's leader until his recent death.

In Dr. Shereshevsky's view, the main causes for growing war tension in the Middle East are the Arab refugee problem and the escalating arms race.

"I therefore propose," he said, "the creation, with the aid of the United Nations, of a combined refugee commission with close and equal participation of Arab and Israeli experts."

Every Arab refugee, whether wishing to return to Israel or to be settled elsewhere, should present his claim to such a commission and declare his wishes.

"The main aim of the proposal is the co-operation of Arabs and Israelis in the constructive task of settlement of hundreds of thousands of refugees by repatriation or resettlement," Dr. Shereshevsky said.

The vexing Arab refugee problem, he believes, has been "distorted and falsified." Once it is out of the way, Israelis (See ARMS, Page 3)

FPC Blood Drive Collects 70 Pints

The first day of the Frank Phillips College blood collection drive was disappointing, according to Thomas Brook, sponsor of the drive.
Only 70 donors showed up Wednesday for the "bleed-in," being held to show support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam and support of the American troops now there.
It is hoped that 300 or more will donate blood during the drive which ends this afternoon. Students or local residents may donate blood which will be taken to the Red Cross Center at Wichita, Kan.

Salvation Army Issues Appeal For Furniture

The Salvation Army today issued an appeal for used furniture to be distributed to needy families in Pampa.
Capt. Robert Tritton, SA commander, said the severe winter weather of the past week or ten days has depleted the Army's supply of used furniture.
Tritton cited one case in particular. He said a woman, now a hospital patient recovering from surgery, was notified yesterday that living room and bedroom furniture in her 4-room home would be repossessed for non-payment.

Borger Hit By Rash of Coin Machine Thefts

The rash of coin machine burglaries which have hit Pampa in the past month may have spread to Borger, police reported today.
A Borger message to Pampa officers said that more than $150 had been taken from coin machines in that city in a 24-hour period.
There is some difference in the method used in Borger from that used in the Pampa area. In Borger, the locks of the machines were picked "very professionally," the report said. In Pampa, the thieves have pried the coin boxes from the machines with tire tools or screwdrivers.

Price To Decide On Congress Race

Pampa Republican Bob Price said today he would announce at an Amarillo press conference on Feb. 5 whether he will again be a candidate for Congress from the 18th Congressional District.
Price opposed incumbent congressman Walter Rogers, a Democrat, in 1964 and he had approximately 45 per cent of the district vote.
The Feb. 5 press conference is scheduled for 10 a.m. at the Congress Hotel in Amarillo. Deadline for candidate filing is Monday, Feb. 7.

Rotarians View Gemini Film

"4 Days with Gemini 4", was the title of a film presented by Bob Price before the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday noon in the Coronado Inn.
The film showed the preparations taken for the four day space flight and also pictured man's first walk in outer space.
Club members were reminded that the March of Dimes "Bucket Brigade" has been rescheduled for Saturday.

Arlington Engineer To Speak in Borger

Bill Shriver, I.C.F. Corporation, Arlington, will be the speaker at the January meeting of the Panhandle Section, National Association of Chemical Engineers.
Shriver's topic will be "Internal Pipe Line Coatings Installed with Lines In-Place." The meeting will be held at Sutphens barbecue, Borger, with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7.

Jaycees Launch Poll Tax Drive

A last minute drive to qualify local voters for this year's important elections has been announced by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.
As of Thursday morning, with but five days left before the Jan. 31 deadline, 4,732 of the estimated 12,000 eligible county voters had either paid their poll tax or claimed exemption.
The Jaycee campaign will be conducted Saturday, Sunday and Monday from two locations, according to Larry Wingert, chairman of the program.
Booths will be set up in the old Montgomery-Ward Bldg. on N. Cuyler and at the former Miss Clean cleaners building in the 1200 block of N. Hobart. Poll tax may be paid or exemption slips filled out at either location.
The booths will operate from 1 to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and 1 p.m. to midnight Monday.
Also on Monday, the Jaycees will conduct a mobile campaign to enable invalids, aged or others unable to leave their homes to qualify for voting. Wingert said that the phone number for the mobile campaign will be announced later.
Elections this year will be for several important county and district offices, U. S. representative and senator, state legislature, and the bond issue election in Pampa.

Money, Arms, Men Riding 'Viet Nam Shuttle' to Capitol

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The men who make the decisions on men, money, and munitions are riding the "Viet Nam Shuttle" to Capitol Hill these days.
You can tell by counting the noses of the sleek black limousines, the hallmark of top level officials, which find their way to the U-shaped driveway before the Rayburn House office building.
Wednesday there were seven. In part, this reflects the dominance of Viet Nam in the thinking, and plans of the congressmen whose job it is to consider the proposals of such men as:
Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Air Force Secretary Harold Brown, Air Force Chief of Staff, Gen. John P. McConnell, Aid Administrator David Bell, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.
The Wednesday gathering was unique but only in numbers. During the past two weeks cabinet officers have been driving to the Hill regularly from their downtown offices.
Most of their missions concern briefs for members on latest developments or testifying in behalf of legislation connected with U.S. effort in Southeast Asia.
Two officials — McNamara and Rusk—have appeared most often, so often in fact that some observers wonder where they find time to conduct the war or the diplomatic offensive that parallels the fighting.

Missing Plane Report False

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The U.S. Coast Guard said Thursday that a report of a missing plane with 40 persons aboard of the Yucatan Coast of Mexico apparently was erroneous.
A mysterious distress message had been received Wednesday night by a Mexican naval station at Progreso, Mex., setting off a flurry of activity. The message identified the plane as a DC3 carrying 40 persons and having a registration No. WAOK-36.
"Those numbers are unauthorized for any country," the New Orleans Coast Guard reported.
The Coast Guard said its initial report was received from Brownwood, Tex., where a citizen told the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) he heard the distress signal on a citizen's band radio.

Police Probe Store Burglary

Burglars took $3 in pennies, two claw hammers, a tack hammer, a stapler and an electric hand drill some time Tuesday night or Wednesday morning from Rod MacDonald Plumbing and Heating, 613 S. Cuyler, according to police reports.
Entry to the building was gained by prying a lock from a rear door, police said. The pennies were taken from an open cash register and the tools from a work bench.

Crusade Charges Record Companies Red Infiltrated

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—In a speech entitled "Communism, Hypnotism and the Beatles," an official of Billy James Hargis' Christian Crusade has charged that record companies have been infiltrated by known Communists.
Rev. David Noebel, youth director for the Christian Crusade, made the statement at the Crusade's Anti-Communist Leadership School Wednesday. He said American young people are being drawn toward Communism through "folk music—especially rock and folk music."
About 200 students have registered for the five-day school that is scheduled to close Friday. Among the speakers is former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker of Dallas.

Suspects Held In Lieu of Bond

Three young burglary suspects from Jackson, Mich., remained in Gray County jail today after they were unable to meet $5,000 bond each set by Justice of the Peace G. L. Lunsford.
The three, Danny Atkinson, 18, Syd V. Talmadge, 22, and Sheldon Lee Myers, 18, are charged with the burglary of the O. T. Rose service station in McLean this past weekend.
The youths, who were arrested in Amarillo Monday and returned here to face the charges, are represented by court-appointed attorney Sherman Lenning.

Resident Pleads Guilty to DWLS

Kenneth Ray Beezley, 1132 Terrace, pleaded guilty this morning in County Court on a charge of driving while license is suspended. He was fined $25 and costs.
Also in County Court this morning, Ronald L. Young, 508 1/2 N. Frost, was arraigned on a charge of swindling with a worthless check. Bond was set at $500.

The snow tonight was expected to change to rain southward over West Texas Friday.
Frost during the night caused some Valley grass growers to take measures to protect their trees, but it didn't stay cold long enough to cause much damage to the bumper crop of oranges and grapefruit.
Temperatures before dawn ranged between the teens in the Panhandle and the upper 30s in the lower Rio Grande Valley.
The U.S. Weather Bureau said clouds would build up in most parts of the state through tonight and most of Texas would get a bit warmer.
The early morning lows in the Panhandle were some 10 degrees warmer than on Wednesday morning.
But far to the south, in the normally mild lower Rio Grande Valley, the mercury fell into the high 20s and farmers got out wind-machines and smudge pots to try to protect crops.
Temperatures dropped to 31 at McAllen and 35 even at Brownsville at the lower end of the Valley.
Temperatures ranged between 33 at Wichita Falls and 60 at Presidio, Wednesday.

and Arabs may be enabled to sit down at one table and talk of peace, concessions and their future as friendly neighbors.
Dr. Shereshevsky also urges the establishment of international armaments control through the United Nations, in cooperation with other countries, in order to lift the curtain of secrecy that shrouds the arms race in the Middle East.
He noted that the reason behind the race are fear and suspicion. "In modern warfare, much depends on the surprise attack, the secret war preparations and the first blow."
Should the Arab states and Israel agree to international control of their arms—conventional and non-conventional—war tension in the Middle East would lessen and a first step toward co-operation between both sides will become possible.
Dr. Shereshevsky may be today a lone voice crying in the wilderness but, like another voice that once cried in the Judean desert, it is one of reason and sanity.

slain a kitchen counter top where a handprint identified as Powers' was found after the murder.
Gerstein called the charges "unmitigated lies, completely without foundation in truth or in fact. They are a last minute desperate attempt on the part of the defendants to avoid a trial."

ANDERSON TO RETURN LISBON (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador to Portugal Adm. George W. Anderson (USN, Ret.) will complete his assignment shortly and is likely to be replaced by W. Tapley Bennett, who now is U.S. envoy to the Dominican Republic, reliable sources said today.

Anderson has been in Lisbon since October, 1963, a few months after he was involved in a controversy with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara over the then-proposed TFX supersonic jet fighter plane.

In 1922, the roof of Washington's Knickerbocker Theatre collapsed under the weight of heavy snow and killed 95 persons.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Not only is the old motion picture "The Wizard of Oz" the top program in the latest national television ratings, but its characters will be utilized as animated "hosts" for a new video series of movies aimed at family viewing.

The annual rerun of the original 1939 motion picture, which stars Judy Garland, Bert Lahr, Ray Bolger, Jack Haley and Frank Morgan, and which got the No. 1 rating, appeared on CBS-TV. The new series, however, planned for the fall, is scheduled to be seen on ABC-TV, and is entitled "Off to See the Wizard," which is phrasing taken from a key song in the old film.

The forthcoming series, which will be a weekly one-hour affair in an early evening prime-time period, will present both new productions and "family feature films, many of them acknowledged literary and screen classics," according to ABC-TV.

A network statement says these will include "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," "The Plymouth Adventure" and "The Glass Slipper," not all of which may be considered "acknowledged screen classics" unless one is willing to accept the ABC-TV entertainment department as being composed of acknowledged film critics. The network statement nonchalantly adds, "Laurel and Hardy and Tarzan material will also be presented."

Bargain Basement
Does all of this sound somehow like one of those early morning television kiddie shows that is a conglomeration of animated hosting and cartoons, with old movies and some new films thrown in? And considering the fact that the original "Wizard of Oz" is committed to CBS-TV, and that the chief owner of "Tarzan" film rights is pretty well committed to NBC-TV, do you get the feeling that ABC-TV is shopping around a second-hand store, satisfying itself with leftovers?

You may ask how ABC-TV intends to show its full-length movies in a one-hour program. The answer is that it will break them up and present them on successive weeks. It seems a pity to keep picking at such high-powered promotion, but NBC-TV's Walt Disney has been doing this for years, showing his old movies spread out over two or three weeks.

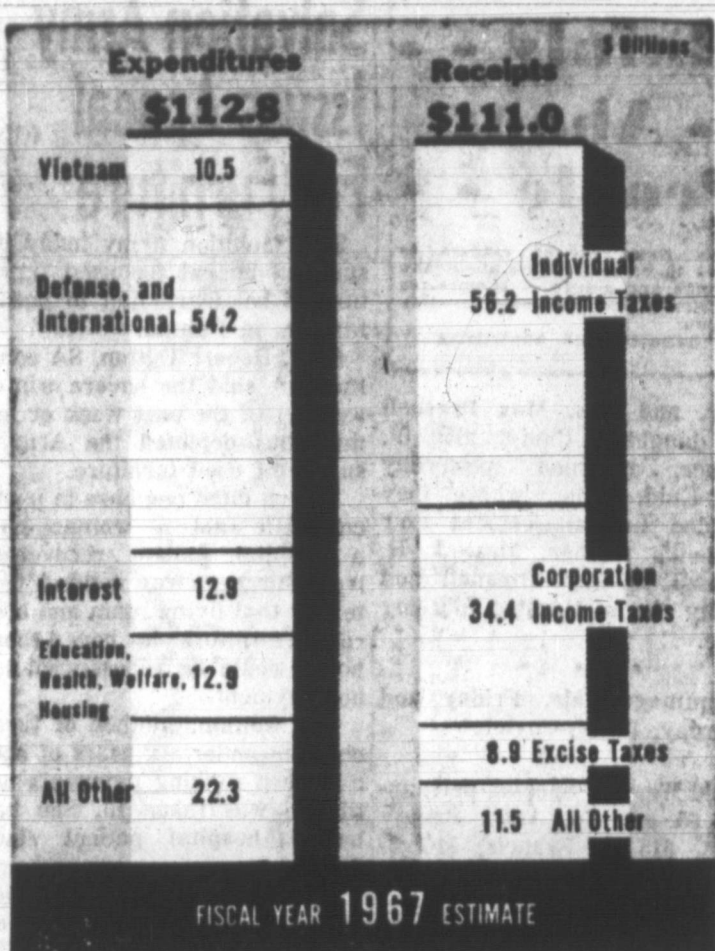

And one gets the feeling that ABC-TV is likewise trying to satisfy itself with a Disney-type extract as well.

This feeling is intensified when one reads in the network statement that the shorter films, "as well as all new productions, will be complete in a single program." Well, of course Disney also has "new productions" along with his split-up movie reruns, and of course most of the new productions are an hour long too. It may be possible to describe "Off to See the Wizard" as an added movie night for television, which in a sense it is, but in another sense, it is no more an added movie night than the Disney series, and merely heightens the increasing shopworn nature of network television.

Concerning the "hosts," ABC-TV says: "The stories will appear within the framework of new animated settings, in color, featuring such beloved characters from 'The Wizard of Oz' story as Dorothy, the Tin Woodman, the Cowardly Lion and the Wizard, himself."

Divorce Examined
The Channel Swim: The legal, moral and monetary aspects of the American way of divorce are the subject of a one hour "CBS Reports" presentation Feb. 15, with Walter Cronkite as narrator-correspondent. . . . The program, which focuses on New York state, where adultery is the only allowable ground for divorce, is produced by Burton Benjamin and Isaac Kleinerman, who turn out CBS-TV's "Twentieth Century" series.

NBC-TV's Tuesday night movie series offers a fine Western Feb. 22, "Ride the High Country," a 1962 production starring Randolph Scott and Joel McCrea as former lawmen who team up to guard a gold shipment from a mountain mining camp. . . . The Tijuana Press perform on CBS-TV's Red Skelton hour Feb. 8. . . . ABC-TV's "Wide World of Sports" airs the National Figure Skating Championships Feb. 5, from Berkeley, Calif.

BUDGET BREAKDOWN—Deficit of $1.8 billion forecast in the estimated federal budget for fiscal 1967 is the lowest in recent years, but could swell if costs of Viet-Nam war outpace extra funds now budgeted.

HYPOS RECALLED
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Wednesday ordered the recall of half a million disposable hypodermic needles because some of them were contaminated.

FDA Commissioner James L. Goddard, said the agency has confirmed earlier reports by

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Labor Relations Board's ruling that a company must bargain with a union over a penny-a-cup increase in coffee prices may well become a milestone.

Two members of the board suggested that the case, which arose in the cafeteria of the Westinghouse plant near Baltimore, Md., could open a whole new field for negotiation. In a dissenting opinion, they said the result of bringing such issues to the bargaining table "is liable to be acute indigestion."

It started them to wondering whether the next step might "require bargaining over color of restroom walls, pool table equipment, and the like."

Logical Conclusions
Perhaps that line of conjecture is a bit far-fetched, but it does bring up some interesting possibilities. Just for the fun of it let us plunge ahead a few years and look in on the White House where the President's labor adviser is making a report.

"Mr. President, negotiations in the egg candling industry have become critical. You may have to intervene to prevent a strike."

"What seems to be the main problem?"
"The union has demanded a 15-cent wage increase, a 7-cent contribution to the pension fund, an improved medical insurance plan and a turquoise restroom."

"I see. And what has the company offered?"
"It has offered a 15-cent wage increase, a 7-cent contribution to the pension fund, an improved medical insurance plan and a tangerine restroom."

"Is there no chance of agreement?"
"Apparently not. In last year's contract, the company agreed to put a new tangerine cover on the pool table. It argues that painting the restroom walls turquoise would ruin the color scheme of the entire plant."

Color Conflict
"What does the union have to

Dirksen Over Nixon
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen has outrun Richard M. Nixon by a two to one margin in a race for GOP Man of the Year.

Congressional Republicans Wednesday voted in the Illinois Republican over the party's 1960 presidential candidate as the man who did the most for the Republican party in 1965.

say about that."
"It insists that turquoise and tangerine complement each other."

"As long as the contract stays within the guidelines of my wage-price-color formula, I would hesitate to intervene. It would be better if the government sent someone to assist in the negotiations."

"Fine. You want me to send one of the federal mediators?"
"No. Send one of the interior decorators."

Dear Abby... It's Enough to Wither Any Passion Flower

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only three weeks and already I have a problem. I work in a warehouse and we aren't allowed to smoke on the job, so I chew tobacco. Doing heavy work, I sweat a lot. When I come home from work and go to hug and kiss my bride, she pushes me away and says, "Go brush your teeth and take a shower; you smell terrible!" How is that for a welcome home?

I say if she really loved me she wouldn't care how I smelled. She says if I really loved her I wouldn't come near her smelling like that. A big fight follows, and even after I clean up I wouldn't go near her if she got on her knees and begged me to.

So it's been five days and I haven't gone near her. Am I wrong, or is she?

BIG JOE
DEAR JOE: You're wrong. She loves you, but tobacco breath and perspiration are enough to wither any passion flower. So in the future, when you come home from work, head straight for the shower. Scrub up and wash out your mouth. (And a little men's deodorant and cologne wouldn't hurt, either.) Then take her in your arms and see what kind of welcome you get.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 18 years to a wonderful woman. I have no children at home. I own my own business, and give my wife $100 weekly for her own personal use while I pay all the bills. Here is the problem: Although we live in a 15-room house with nine bedrooms, my wife allows her mother, who is in excellent health, to be in a "rest home." I have asked my wife many times to bring her mother here to live with us. Her only excuse is that she will "upset the smooth running of our home." This is a laugh. There is nothing to do here, and my wife has help. If it were my mother, I would insist that she live with us. But because it is my wife's mother I feel my wife should make the offer. She reads your column. Perhaps you can awaken her to her responsibility.

BEWILDERED
DEAR BEWILDERED: Consider the mother. She will probably be much happier at the rest home than living with a daughter who doesn't want her.

DEAR ABBY: For years I had a wart on my finger. It didn't bother me much except when I'd catch it on something. Then it would bleed. But it never really hurt me or anything like that. Well, I was at a neighbor's one afternoon and her mother was visiting her. She noticed the wart on my finger and told me if I wanted to get rid of it I should tie three knots in a piece of string and bury it in my yard. And when the string rotted, my wart would go away. Abby, I did what she told me to do, and within three weeks my wart was gone. How can you explain this? Nobody believes me.

SYLVIA
DEAR SYLVIA: There is no scientific explanation for some of the "cures" that seem to work. The removal of warts is a medical problem. There's no harm in burying a piece of string in the yard, providing one doesn't bury the string instead of seeing a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the woman who complained that her 25-year-old brother is "able bodied, intelligent and unemployed. She said he lives at home, sleeps 'til

Femininity Smashes the Red Barrier

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK (NEA) — The headline has proven stronger than the party line in eastern Europe. Faced with a new generation more conscious of fashion than ideology, the Communist regimes behind the Iron Curtain have all but abandoned their long campaign to equate chic with chicanery.

A Radio Free Europe survey shows the young people are doing their best to see that state fashion houses turn out fashions that will compete with Western styles.

It's natural to wonder how the "other half" lives and, in the case of the Iron Curtain countries, it's easy to visualize girls in blue coveralls or mannish suits, sans make-up or perfume, happily greeting the leaders of their youth groups with the Bulgarian equivalent of the Girl Guide salute.

But that kind of stuff and nonsense is old hat now. In fact, RFE reports that East European women have waited so long to get feminine, dainty shoes that they are not attracted by the round toes and low, flat heels shoe designers are pushing here for this season. Slim heels, pointed toes, twotoned trim, cut-outs, slings and T-straps are favorites with everyone.

There has even been a growth in the importance of fashion style-setters, women's editors and designers.

East European designers who can visit the West return with their sketchbooks filled with ideas. Others avidly follow Western films and fashion magazines which are passed from hand to hand. (If they got hold of last April's Harper's Bazaar,

The letter was signed "Aus-Gespielt," which means "all played out" in German. Our 22-year-old son recently returned from Viet Nam and landed a job in one week. He has no car, buys his own clothes and pays board and room. Would you please send him the address of "Aus-Gespielt's" mother? He'd like to move in.

Western styles often lose much of their chic after they appear in mass-produced designs in Communist stores because of poor workmanship, fabrics and cutting.

Prague, Warsaw and Budapest are the leading fashion centers of eastern Europe. Budapest is particularly fashion-famous and has even produced two "fashion dictators." And that's practically on a par with what everyone thought Paris did after the fall '65 designer showings.

Mme. Klara Rothschild of Budapest is one of the few couturiers who has managed to survive through war, Stalinization and de-Stalinization. She has attracted customers from London, Paris, New York and Rio de Janeiro and the regime praises her for the image of a modern Hungary that her styles create.

Just as influential is Budapest's equivalent of the editor of Vogue — Mme. Vera Nador. Madame Nador is not only editor-in-chief of the leading Hungarian fashion magazine, but is also art director of the State Clothing Industry's Model Designing Institute. But I can't see Diana Vreeland working for an organization with a name like that. How could one "think pink"?

The Institute, along with the Central Design Laboratory run by the Tailors' Cooperatives, set the styles which will be stressed by state textile and footwear enterprises.

Fortunately, East European women need not rely exclusively on state stores for their clothing. Mass production of clothes is relatively new in these countries and handtailoring is still a huge industry. It is to these tailors that women often go with designs based on something seen in a dog-eared sketches from Robotnechesko Delo (Sofia)

Western magazine. Hungary has something like 13,000 private dressmakers. And these seamstresses report they are incomes considerably higher than the Hungarian cabinet minister.

Perhaps the greatest barrier to being well-dressed in eastern Europe is lack of money. In Romana a cheap ready-to-wear dress for his wife could easily cost a Romanian worker half his monthly pay. Still, just to show how far the Iron Curtain countries have removed their fashions from their former staid practicality, here's an item from the August 8,

Canadian Lodge Installs Officers

The installing team consisted of Mrs. Mamie Jordan, deputy president; Mrs. Vivian Alford, deputy marshal; Mrs. Clara Blue, deputy warden; Mrs. Jean Mee, deputy secretary; Mrs. Martha Newton, deputy treasurer; Mrs. Esther Bentley, deputy inside guardian; and Mrs. Pauline Rivers, deputy chaplain.

Officers installed were Mrs. June Wilson, noble grand; Mrs. Beatrice Moon, vice grand; Mrs. Azzie Evans, recording secretary; Mrs. Rachel Kelly, financial secretary; Mrs. Carrie Moreland, treasurer; Mrs. Lillie Reeves, conductor; Mrs. Agnes Adams, musician; Mrs. Pauline Rivers, right support to noble grand; Mrs. Laura Lee Dickinson, left support to noble grand; Mrs. Jean Mee, right support to vice grand; Mrs. Zona Clark, left support to vice grand; Mrs. Ora Wilson, inside guardian; Mrs. Esther Bentley, outside guardian; Mrs. Louise Wilson, right altar support; and Mrs. Ellie Tulgetsk, left altar support.

Mrs. Iva Lee Morgan, retiring noble grand, was presented the past noble grand jewel and a hand-painted plate made by Mrs. Mabel Teas, appropriately inscribed for work well done.

Mrs. Morgan presented each pair of officers with a hand-made pair of pea fowls in various colors.

Mrs. Moore Hosts Wheeler Club Meet

WHEELER (Spl) — Members of the Progressive Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. J. V. Moore Jr., to hear an address entitled "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living" presented by Attorney John Warner, a member of a Pampa law firm and a Dale Carnegie representative.

Mrs. Jess Moore introduced the speaker. During his address, Attorney Warner stressed the importance for women to learn to cope with everyday problems with freedom from worry. He presented formulas for solving most problems with interesting and vivid personal experiences and illustrations in closing his address he stated: "Remember there is no substitute for good old fashioned prayer."

1965, issue of the Polish newspaper, Zycie Gospodarcze:

"The Rychlinski Enterprise of the Lodz knitting industry has marketed a bathing suit which carries a label stating that the suit must not be put in unboiled water and preferably should be dry-cleaned." Do they boil the water before they fill their pools?

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR FRIDAY, JAN. 28

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until mid-afternoon you have considerable resourcefulness and are able to gain the good will of others by operating in harmony with them both the afternoon and evening. You are unable to properly work out the ideas which you are interested in, so take it easy and avoid the pit-falls of egotism, loving things.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Day hours are free for doing almost anything you desire, but later be sure to gain the good will of others by operating in harmony with them both the afternoon and evening. You are unable to properly work out the ideas which you are interested in, so take it easy and avoid the pit-falls of egotism, loving things.

TALIESN (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Go through what is bothering you in mind that will increase both cheer and bank account and by 3 p.m. it should be completed. Have no fear. Dispel any limitations you may have. Take it easy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — An early start on all that trouble before you is imperative if you are to plow through it satisfactorily. Don't forget to get your clothing in good shape. Get ideas, working be inspired and go ahead with ideas. Relaxation is best in p.m.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Completing whatever was recently begun with partners is possible today, but don't get too forceful later or you suffer the brunt of antagonism. Do public duties cleverly, too. Take it easy tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — A very early start on your work is necessary so that you then have time to do something very nice for your good friends. Work harmoniously with coworkers. Restore energy tonight through rest.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — If you think carefully in a.m. you can get situations at home bettered very quickly. Don't continue to argue later with anyone. Anything that is adverse to your best interests can now be gotten rid of.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Any routine work can be done with far greater efficiency now and then you can relax at favorite hobbies. Clinging to an old response is also important. Plan the future quietly tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Some person in business or big banker can be very helpful to you in a.m., but later be sure not to invest unwisely. Maintain present security. Study well how to have greater benefits — your ideas are good.

Try French Fried Mushrooms

FRENCH FRIED MUSHROOMS are a new taste delight.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
We dined recently with a distinguished Chicago home economist, Lois Ross. She had just perfected a recipe for French fried mushrooms, and after eating them, we shared her enthusiasm. Yes, she served them with broiled steak. Also with whipped potatoes and a mixed lettuce and tomato salad with French dressing made with oil and lemon juice.

Dessert was her new chocolate oatmeal cake (you'll like it) and fresh fruit cup. We hope everyone in Chicago eats as well as we did dining with Lois Ross.

FRENCH FRIED MUSHROOMS
(Makes 6 servings)
1 lb. fresh mushrooms
¼ cup milk
¼ cup pancake mix
Dip mushrooms into milk, then pancake mix. Fry in hot deep fat (375 degrees) until golden brown, about 2 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.
Variation: Substitute 2 medium-sized onions for mushrooms. Cut in ¼ inch slices and separate in rings. Dip into milk, then pancake mix. Fry as above.

CHOCOLATE OATMEAL CAKE
(Makes one 9-inch cake)
1¼ cups boiling water
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
¼ cup butter or margarine, soft
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 oz. (2 sq.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

For cake, pour boiling water over oats. Stir; cover and let stand 20 minutes. Beat butter until creamy. Gradually add sugars, beating until fluffy. Blend in vanilla, eggs and melted chocolate. Add oats mixture; mix well. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cinnamon. Add to creamed mixture, mix-

Texas Students To Get Fried Chicken For Shool Lunch

Protein-rich fried chicken should spotlight menus often at Texas schools operating under the National School Lunch Program.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has allotted a total of 1,770,000 pounds of chicken to participating Texas schools. This allotment is a part of the 37,320,000 pounds of fresh-frozen, cut-up young chickens bought by USDA from September through December of 1965.

Deliveries are to be completed by the end of January, so chicken probably will appear on some February menus, according to John J. Slaughter, director of the southwest area food distribution office of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, Dallas. This office directs the school lunch program at the federal level in Texas and six other southwestern states.

The school lunch program is administered in Texas by the State Education Agency. The Texas Department of Public Welfare handles the distribution of USDA-donated foods to individual schools.

Food Buying Guide
The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for U.P.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Weekend shoppers will find a good variety of winter fresh vegetables and meats. Many fruits and vegetables are just coming into the markets from Southern harvests. Meats are in good supply and fish are plentiful.

In many areas beef is a good buy. Roasts, steaks, and ribs lead the list. Bacon and turkeys are the other meat plentiful. Cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, and celery are spotlighted on the vegetable plentiful list, with lettuce, onions, and potatoes following. Sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and hothouse rhubarb also are listed as good buys for this weekend.

Fruits in good supply include apples, avocados, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, tangerines, and melons in some areas. Canned red salmon, canned tuna, and fish sticks and portions are in good supply for housewives shopping for fish.

An excellent substitute for maple syrup on waffles and pancakes is to serve light cream that has been mixed with honey.

Simple Sandwiches

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capital

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN — A substantial tax increase will be needed next year to provide for fast-growing state colleges and universities. Frank Erwin, chairman of the Committee for the Governing Board of Texas Colleges and Universities, estimates that higher education expenditures will go up $100,000,000 for the coming biennium — above the present $432,000,000 budget. That's a hike of nearly 25 per cent. Some authorities feel that increased expenditures for education will run closer to $170,000,000. Erwin predicted that college-enrollment increases will double by the early 1970's and admitted that the task of providing facilities for all appears virtually hopeless.

Texans, he said, must be enthusiastic in support of new taxes for education as they were in backing increased appropriations last year. Other sources said the higher education budget for next year may reach $650,000,000. In that event a $218,000,000 may have to come from direct taxation. Should an increase as large as now foreseen become necessary, pressure almost certainly would be renewed to hike the $30 a semester tuition fee required at state institutions. In the past, however, legislators have been quicker to raise taxes than tuition. After hearing the sobering story of the financial plight of the colleges, the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System settled down to its first meeting of the year. Board authorized a local election on establishment of a new junior college district to serve the Port Arthur - Nederland - Port Neches area, but postponed until July a decision on a similar institution for Scurry County. Board members learned that Texas new $85,000,000 state-supported loan program for college students will be fully operative by next fall. OIL ALLOWABLE EDGED UP — Texas' oil allowable has been edged up for the second month in a row — to 32.7 per cent of capacity for February. The percentage factor applied by Railroad Commission adds up to a production ceiling of 3,100,000 barrels a day next month. January allowable of 32.6 per cent permitted slightly less. But it was the most promising start Texas oilmen have enjoyed in eight years. Commissioners, after setting the allowable, went into conference with an Air Force general to learn what effect the accelerated fighting in Vietnam would have on petroleum demands. Best guess at the moment: not too much. RECREATION GRANT SET — Texas has established eligibility for a $3,500,000 grant from the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund for acquisition and development of state and local outdoor recreation areas. Will Odom, chairman of Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, said Texas' statewide outdoor recreation plan was approved by the Department of Interior's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. Funds will be allocated to the state for sharing among agencies on a city and county level. Included are water improvement districts and river authorities. Texas' plan may include initial emphasis on development of existing park and recreation areas, particularly those located on lakes and streams. Parks and Wildlife Department is preparing a manual of instructions for political subdivisions to guide them in making applications to share in the program. PROJECTS APPROVED — Governor Connally has okayed three "Head Start" programs for needy pre-school children in Travis, San Patricio and Collin Counties. He also cleared a $102,078 federal grant for Community Action Program development in Dallas' war on poverty. Travis County Head Start funds of $199,247 (matched by $23,761 in local support) will help train 616 children in Austin, Del Valle and Manor. A San Patricio County project planned by a Sinton group will be financed by $22,371 in federal money plus $2,542 in local support and will provide a program for 50 children of Odem Independent School District. McKinney Independent School District in Collin County will receive a $43,132 federal grant (and put up $5,385 locally) to operate a program for 100 youngsters. DRAFT QUOTAS TOLD — State draft boards are scheduled to induct 1,372 single and married men without children during February. Quota actually is less than January's 1,475 and Dec. 1,523 and represents Texas' share of national call for 29,400 men. Inductees will be 19-25 years old. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, emphasized that no married men with children or expected children, will be selected to fill the Feb. call. But he warns that information on unborn children certified to by a doctor should be promptly transmitted to draft boards. ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Community Mental Health Centers and state financial aid for them are constitutional. So held Attorney General Carr in an opinion requested by Dr. S. H. Frazier, commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. In a separate opinion, Carr said the new Code of Criminal Procedure provides for sale, after 30 days, of abandoned or unclaimed personal property seized under search warrants. Earlier Carr informed Agriculture Commissioner John C. White that labels on economic pesticides must carry either the name and address of the registrant of the product, the manufacturer, or of the person for whom manufactured.

MUSEUM PLAN REVEALED
 — A $10,000,000 permanent Texas Institute of Living Culture is proposed by Governor Connally as the state's exhibit for the 1968 HemisFair in San Antonio. Connally will ask the legislature to appropriate an additional $5,500,000 for the project. He described the exhibit as a kind of super-museum, capable of future growth. It would depict the state's history and culture from the days of the cave man to manned space flights. COLORFUL PLATES — Purchasers of Texas personalized or prestige license plates will get more for their $10 additional fee this year. Plates will have a reflectorized silver background with up to six green letters or figures. 1965 TRAFFIC FATALITIES UP — An unexpected rash of traffic fatalities in December broke a year-long downturn in fatal accidents and pushed the 1965 traffic toll to a new high. Previous record came in 1964 when 3,006 deaths were recorded. But during 1965, total deaths reached 3,018. The December death toll is the highest on record as 345 persons died. WATER POLLUTION IS STUDIED — Texas Water Pollution Control Board has taken two major actions in the area of water pollution. A comprehensive study and review is to be made of all waste disposal permits in the Beaumont - Port Arthur-Orange area leading to an area-wide revision of permits to reduce pollution. Commission also authorized a four-year program for a comprehensive study of the Galveston Bay System, including Trinity Bay, to gather enough information to formulate a pollution reduction plan. Program would cost $700,000 a year. Federal, local and industry contributions will be sought. SHORT SNORTS — Governor Connally announced the approval of a supplemental Community Action Program Development grant of $102,078 to the Dallas County Community Action Committee. Texas 65 Health Insurance will be discontinued after July 1, when Medicare benefits become available to those 65 yrs. old and above. Unemployment insurance payments during December dropped 22 per cent from December, 1964. Emergency loans by the Department of Agriculture were authorized for farmers in Brazos, Grimes and Madison Counties. University of Texas Regents let a contract for a $9,600,000 medical school in San Antonio. Retired Army Col. Walton Threadgill (who helped design the eternal flame over President Kennedy's grave) has a rejoined Texas Highway Department as a research engineer.

If Candy Could Pick Jury Trial Would Already Be On

MIAMI (UPI) — If Candy Mossler could pick her own jury her murder trial with Melvin Lane Powers for the murder of her husband might be further along than it is. "I like the jury we had several times," said the champagne blonde widow Tuesday at the end of a seventh tedious day of interrogation of jurors by attorneys. Agreement on a jury of 12 plus two to four alternates could take the remainder of the week. Today, Circuit Judge George E. Chulz called a recess for the afternoon because of the funeral of fellow Judge Pat Cannon, who died Sunday. Mrs. Mossler, 45, and her ruggedly handsome 29-year-old nephew are on trial for first degree murder for the death on June 30, 1964, of her financier husband, Jacques Mossler, 69. He was beaten and stabbed to death. For five days last week and the first two days this week Candy and Mel have had little to do but sit in the courtroom — at opposite ends of the line of defense attorneys — and listen to the drone of questions to jurors and occasional flareups between state and defense attorneys over legal points. When she was asked about the long process of choosing a jury, Mrs. Mossler took the opportunity to voice her complaint about capital punishment to a newsman: "They let the ones go right away who have good and fair hearts, like mine and yours." She was talking about the 36 jurors rejected by the court up to that point because they opposed the death penalty.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — This week's literary news includes a report that an Iron Curtain fiction writer has created a nice guy spy to serve as the Communist answer to James Bond. The author, Andrei Gulyaski, says his hero, Avakoum Zahov, will be a friendly chap, kind to his mother and that sort of thing, as opposed to the dash, mayhem-minded British agent. The two will meet in Gulyaski's book and the plot calls for Zahov to outwit Bond, thereby proving that nice guys don't necessarily finish last. At least in Communist novels. I trust that what I am about to say won't get me in trouble with the House Committee on Un-American Activities, but I predict the book will be a wild success. Enjoy Bond's Defeat There must be millions of persons who are as saturated with 007 and his ilk as I am and who would gladly pay the price of a hard cover edition to see him get his comeuppance. I regret that the agent who finally tumbles Bond from his perch is going to be a Communist. But I think I know a way to fix that. As soon as Gulyaski's book is published, some American author could bring out a novel about a CIA agent named Asas Goodheart, who is an even nicer spy than Zahov. In this book, Goodheart and Zahov battle it out for the title of world's sweetest spook. I don't have to tell you that U.S. virtue emerges triumphant. CIA technicians equip Goodheart with a specially built attache case containing two secret compartments for emergency use. Persuasive Weapons One is filled with chicken soup, which he ladles out to homely spinsters suffering from the vapors. The other contains warm milk for any stray cats he might run across. Goodheart's code number is 33.3, the digit after the decimal point signifying that he is in an elite class of CIA agents who are licensed to help old ladies cross the street. Sex, of course, would be taboo. Goodheart is faithful to his wife who, in turn, is frigid. Violence also would be omitted. After Goodheart and Azhov have showered each other with kindness, the Communist agent realizes that he is outclassed, wholesomeness-wise. At the end, Zahov defects to the West, bringing all of his Brownie points with him.

ASK DEATH PENALTY
LONDON (UPI) — A group of 16 Conservative members of Parliament filed a motion Wednesday calling on the government to bring back capital punishment for the murder of police or prison officers. They urged the law's reintroduction "in view of the increase in crimes of violence and murder since the abolition of the death penalty and the urgent need for recruits for the police and prison services." Figureheads that adorned sailing ships in the 19th century envolved from the ancient art of decorating bows to lure friendly spirits aboard, says the National Geographic.

National Window

United Press International President Johnson's budget figures for the next fiscal year are likely to be revised upward in some areas and downward in others before the new bookkeeping period actually begins on July 1. The budget figures presented this week, to Congress really were not much more than a pious hope, a wonderful exercise in wishful thinking. Johnson's 1967 fiscal year budget is a budget of consensus, a budget of all things to all men, a budget in which the greatest political practitioner of our time undertook to satisfy everybody from left to right in the political spectrum. So it is that in a time of mounting war costs the President was able to find $3.3 billion more money to throw into the Great Society welfare state pot for the fiscal 1967 than he put up for fiscal 1966. He didn't really find the money. He probably must borrow some or all of it. That $3.3 billion is intended to buy off the loud and numerous left wing of the Great Society political army. Pour On Coal The left wing consists of the labor, racial and religious minorities, notably the labor elements, who have been demanding in recent weeks that the President pour on the coal for the welfare state. Even Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey dared a fortnight ago to give the President some advice on how he had better shape his budget, or else. Humphrey is the big man on the left wing campus, a founder of the exclusive, rather egg-headed fraternity known as ADA. That is sort for Americans for Democratic Action. Humphrey may have dared to speak out as he did for continued big time welfare state spending because he knows he may need ADA and its associated lefty organizations in 1972 to be nominated for President. Johnson's budget projected spending of $112.8 billion in fiscal 1967. About $10.5 billion of this would be charged against the special costs of the war in Southeast Asia. Wars do not softly submit to advance planning for expenditures 12 or 18 months hence. That $10.5 billion figure is no more than an educated guess and not a very well educated guess at that. A good bet would be that war costs in fiscal 1967 will much exceed LBJ's current estimates. It even is possible that LBJ and his war office aides are aware at this moment that costs in fiscal 1967 will be half again as much or even double the budget figure put forward this week. Dampen Angry Fires It would not be politically expedient to admit the imminence of such a great war expenditure. To do so would set fire to protests against LBJ's continuing Great Society welfareism in the face of mounting war costs. If there is to be much more spending for war than LBJ now is willing to admit, that fact will become known some months hence and with much less political than if it were thrown at Congress and country right now. War costs in fiscal 1967 are now estimated to be about $4.7 billion more than in the current fiscal year. The fiscal 1967 deficit is projected at about $1.8 billion. A good bet would be that it will be twice or thrice that modest figure. For solid budget facts on fiscal 1967, untouched by political delusions, you will have to await final returns in August, 1967, after the final calculation has been made and the revenue and spending figures are totaled up on a non-political adding machine.

It's the fall of 1967 and Texas A&M has been changed to 'Matson A&M.'

Czar of Campus

Randy Matson has just become the Czar of the Aggie campus and is seriously considering taking over the presidency of the school after a successful basketball, track and baseball season and looking forward to playing quarterback for the Aggie football team.

At 6'7 and 305 pounds, Matson has cut his time in the 100-yard dash from 15 flat to 9 seconds flat (in a football suit) but still refuses to run the dash in track, sticking to the shot (which he tossed 106 feet last spring) and the discuss (which he set a new world record in at the same time).

In basketball last season, after a slow start on account of sore feet, Matson finished with a 35 point average and a 52 per game rebound average and led the Aggies to the NCAA basketball championship.

Now, the Aggies were picked dead last in a pre-season football poll of Southwest conference football writers, but, with the announcement of Matson that he will play, they immediately demanded a recall.

The Aggies football stock goes up 1000 points. Coach Gene Stallings issues a statement saying that Matson has already made the starting lineup (practice hasn't begun yet) and will play quarterback, fullback, and tackle, at the same time for the Aggies.

He Declines

Remember Superman can do anything. After a slow start Matson finally picks up steam and the Aggies, who win the SWC and tumble LSU in the Cotton Bowl are acclaimed the No. 1 team in the nation. The Pampa giant leads the SWC and nation in scoring and immediately is offered $5 million to sign with the Houston Oilers.

K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Oilers, promises the Astro dome will be renamed 'Matson dome.'

But Randy doesn't sign, saying he must compete in the Olympics (he doesn't like the Russians) and sets another world record with a heave in the shot of 150 feet.

There is talk now of running him for president of the U.S., but he declines, pointing out he still has a year of college left.

Things Not The Same for Cards Ray Sadecki

By SANDY PADWE
ST. LOUIS — (NEA) — The wind seems colder to Ray Sadecki this winter, the ice more treacherous, the snow more of an inconvenience.

Even the banquets, though not as frequent now, seem longer than usual. As for the whole off-season, it seems longer, too. Very long.

A year ago, everything was the opposite. The St. Louis Cardinals were the world champions and Ray Sadecki had been a 20-game winner.

It was a winter of content. Then came the 1965 season. The Cardinals finished seventh and Ray Sadecki won six games. He lost 15 and his earned run average was an inflationary 5.29.

Within a year, the adjectives in front of his name had changed.

"Promising" Ray Sadecki had become "disappointing" Ray Sadecki.

"Explain it?" the Cardinal lefthander said. "How can I? There are no excuses for lousy pitching. I just had trouble putting things together."

"It was a terribly frustrating experience. You come off a 20-game season and you feel that you're still pitching the same way, but this year they're beating you when you throw your best. So you begin to wonder a little. You start looking over your shoulder.

"And then, when you keep losing, they sit you on the bench or put you in the bullpen. I'm not complaining, though. They were justified in doing that to me.

"But once they take you out of rotation, it's tough. Now is the time you need work, but you don't get it. So your rhythm goes bad, your timing is gone. It's like a whirlpool and you can't get out."

"It seemed last year there was a lot more pressure. I guess it comes with being the World Series winner. Every game—and I mean that literally—seemed to be crucial from opening day on.

"I've never been particularly good early in the season anyway. I don't think I've won a game in April in three years. Last year was no different.

"I lost a couple of close ones early and, in baseball, that's the trouble. You get behind and you're in bad shape.

"This year I'm hoping for a better start. I've been working out three times a week, throwing with some of the other guys on the club.

"The purpose is to be stronger at the beginning of the season. I have to build my strength slowly because it takes me every bit of the training season to get my arm in shape."

A quick start would be a big help to Sadecki this season because more than anything he must regain the confidence that made his a 20-game winner.

This is why the off-season seems so long.

At 26, in baseball, it's rather difficult to think about failure when the peak years are just ahead.

JOEY DOESN'T HAVE CHANCE

Archer Out $87.50 for Ad, No Title Bout

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — That was a nice try by Joey Archer but all it will net him is a bill for $87.50.

Archer, the world's second-ranked middleweight, is a likable, ambitious young fellow who can box your ears off but would have trouble knocking out your sister-in-law.

He'd like to become the next middleweight champ, but there's one hitch: Dick Tiger, the present title-holder, lost a 10-round decision to him in October of 1964 and hasn't given Archer so much as the time of day since.

Madison Avenue Method Taking the bull by the horns, or rather the tiger by the tail, Archer decided to do something about it on Wednesday. He ran the following ad on page two of the New York Times:

"Dear Dick Tiger, 'Here's why I think I deserve a shot at your middleweight crown:

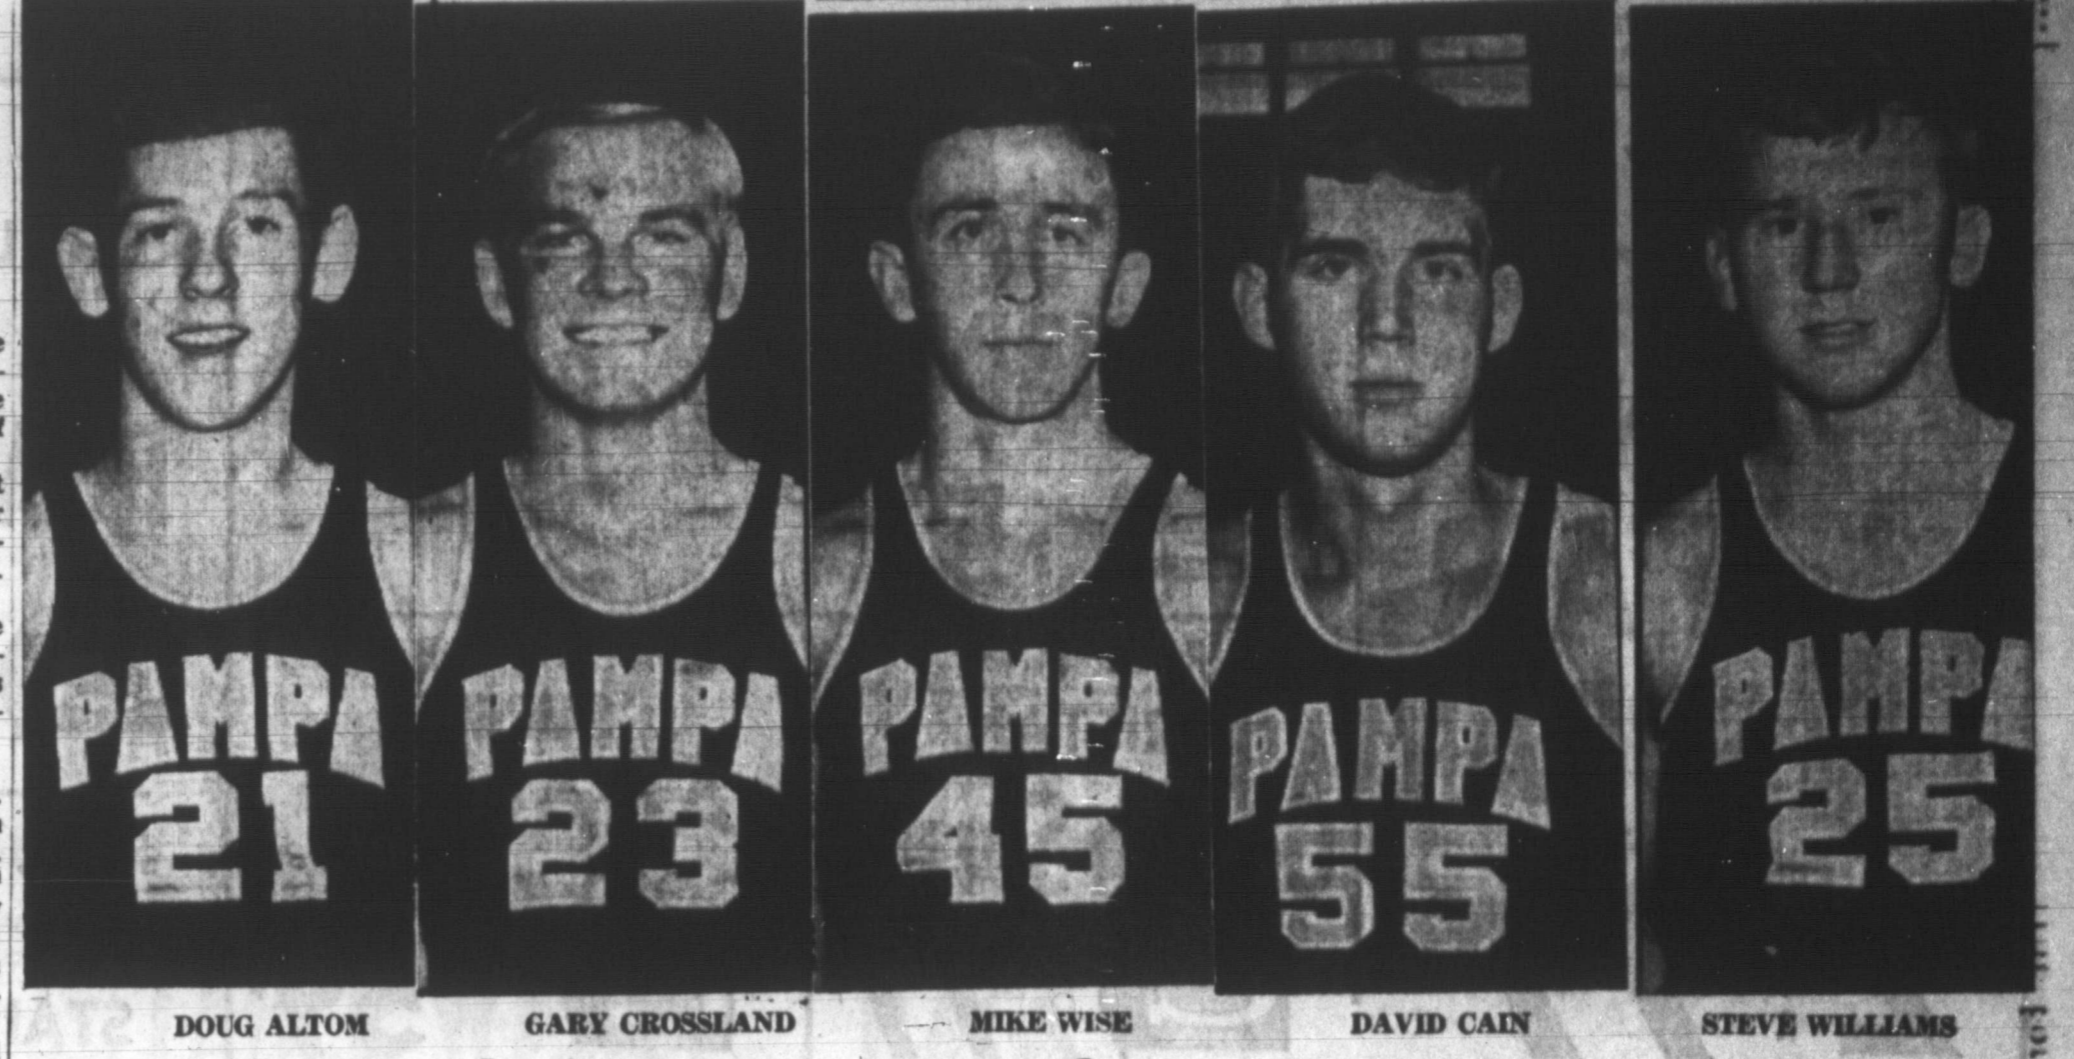

"The last time we fought I beat you.

"Respectfully, 'Joey Archer.' Archer could have placed the ad in the Times for $62.50, provided he was willing to have it appear on any page the newspaper designated. But he didn't want to stint on this one.

He insisted the ad be placed on page two, and it was.

The total cost: $87.50. Unfortunately for Archer, the ad was somewhat wasted on Tiger, who didn't even see it and knew nothing about it until it was called to his attention while he was training at the new Garden Gym during midday.

"He says he beat me," said Tiger of Archer. "But the people who were at that fight knew I won. The decision was highly unpopular one. He was on the floor on one knee but the referee didn't count it as a knockdown. Archer knew it was a knockdown, however.

Caprock Next for Harvesters

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

Pampa, winners of five straight basketball games, will try to continue their unbeaten ways in second half district play Friday night when they host Caprock.

The Longhorns will be looking for their first win ever over Pampa, who owns a 5-0 record against the youngest school in 3-A.

In the first meeting of the two schools in December of 1963 Pampa triumphed, 86-41 and the following February set the school's all-time scoring record with a 111-47 victory.

In December of 1964 the Harvesters rode to an 83-62 win and in February of 1965 won it, 97-31.

With two straight losses the Harvesters will be looking for the upset.

For the season Pampa is 10-1 at home, the lone loss going to Monterey and 8-3 on the road, falling to Denton, Lubbock and Amarillo.

At home the Harvesters have scored 608 points for a 55.2 average and have given up 403 for a 44.3 mark.

On the road the Pampa seven has scored 717 points and a 65.1 offensive mark while giving up 534 and a 48.5 defensive average.

For the season Pampa, 18-4 and 4-0 in league play, has average 60.2 points per contest and have a 46.3 defensive total.

Caprock is led by James "Duck"worth and Bill "Speckman" will, 13.2 and 10.7 averages respectively. They totaled eight points each against Pampa in the first meeting while Kenneth McWilliams led the Harvesters with 11 and David Cain and Gary Crossland hit nine and eight respectively.

Cain's 19 point output against Palo Duro Tuesday night gave the 6-5 senior a 13.9 season scoring average and raised his conference average to 11.6.

Mike Wise, with 21 points against the Dons has a 11.2 season average and 9.4 conference reading while Steve Williams is 8.2 and 8.9, season and conference.

Caprock is 0-3 in second half competition and 7-14 for the season. The Horns lost to Tascosa, 69-52 Tuesday night.

THE DEATH KNELL RANG Football Gets Obituary

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS (UPI) — The obituary hardly rated front page news in most sports sections.

Little Corpus Christi University, enrollment 655, decides to drop intercollegiate football, the announcement said.

The death knell rang, but not many heard it.

The affliction seizing the Tarpons, it seems, was a combination of finances and accreditation. The result was poison hemlock for king football.

Dr. Joe C. Clapp, president of the school, said trustees had studied the problem for two years and decided that the only way the Baptist school with no state funds could strengthen its drive for accreditation was to dump football.

Coach Gerald Williams, currently looking for a job, said he had 33 boys on half-scholarships and they managed a 3-6 record last season.

"I thought we were getting pretty good attendance at the games (averaging from 1,500 to 2,500)," Williams said. "But the administration just doesn't want football, so that's that."

Clapp said it was the second try at making a go of football at Corpus Christi.

"In the early days we had 48.3 per cent of them."

"He tends to pass off the ball," Gibson said.

Glover, the only son of a Dallas city bus driver, says he would "rather rebound than shoot the ball."

"It gives you a better feeling of satisfaction when you get in there and out-tough somebody for the ball," he said.

Gibson noted that "Bob is real quiet until he gets on the basketball floor."

"He is a terrific competitor," Gibson explained. "He doesn't like to lose. It bothers him just as much to have somebody whip him in practice as it does in a game."

"His fierce competitive nature inspires the other players," Gibson added.

Glover's father, R. L. Glover of Dallas, was a Hardin-Simmons star center in 1935.

"Dad never said anything about my playing basketball," said the Tech center. "He let me make up my own mind, although I think he'd rather I would play basketball."

Harlems Edge Pampa, 68-62

The Pampa All-Stars extended the Harlem Stars to the limit Wednesday night before losing 68-62 in overtime.

Pampa Shocker coach Gary Griffen showed he is still a youngster at heart by scoring 28 points and former Harvester Danny Hill totaled 13.

The Harlems led 27-19 at halftime before Pampa got untracked and tied the score 56-56 at the end of regulation play.

Briscoe, undefeated in 3 straight games, will try to make Allison its 26th victim Friday night at Briscoe.

Whits Deer enters tournament play tonight at Sanford-Fritch in B boys and girls play and the White Deer varsity tackles Clarendon Friday at Clarendon in a conference outing.

McLean journeys to Wellington for a league contest while Canadian plays host to Memphis in conference action.

In other Friday area games, Groom hosts Hedley and Wheeler plays host to Miami in a pair of games.

Glover Giving Raiders Shot at SWC Championship

By THOMAS HOUGH
LUBBOCK (UPI) — There's an "unselfish" streak in Bob Glover, Texas Tech's sophomore center, that—coupled with a "fierce competitive nature"—is giving the Red Raiders a solid shot at the Southwest Conference championship.

"Bob is an unselfish basketball player," says coach Gene Gibson. "He doesn't care who scores as long as Texas Tech wins."

The 6-7, 20-year-old former Dallas Jefferson High School star, is a good bet for Sophomore of the Year. He scored 27 points and grabbed 17 rebounds last Saturday in Tech's 100-83 victory over SMU in Lubbock.

Has Good Average In 12 games, Glover averaged 14 points and 13 rebounds. In conference play he averaged 20.3 points and 18 rebounds per game.

Gibson says Glover's unselfish attitude has been one reason his star sophomore has taken only 147 shot attempts, mostly jump shots. He made

The Panma Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panma News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

U.S. 'Pravdas' Coming?

Pravdas, as most of our readers are aware is the name of one of the two major newspapers in Soviet Russia. The word, in Russian, means truth. In Pravda and in Ivestia, the other Soviet organ, the government prints the governmental version of truth in amounts deemed appropriate for the Russian people to read. No dissenting voice is permitted. Truth, in Soviet Russia, is what the government says it is.

Both Pravda and Ivestia are government owned and operated. It is the same in Red China and Castro Cuba. It was the same in Hitler Germany. Dictatorships dare not permit an independent press.

In recent years our own government, particularly at the federal level, has been edging in the same direction. With its managed news conferences, where even embarrassing questions are ruled out, and its "news," when it is printed in his local newspaper, never knows if he is reading the truth or some governmental fabrication.

"Reporting of news of other than governmental activities has on the other hand, remained relatively free. On balance, one can still rely, for the most part, on news coverage of events outside the governmental sector. Essentially, we still have a free press. But lately, alarming signs are beginning to crop up. Not that the government actually has bought or taken over any newspapers; at least, not yet. But there are signs that the federal government is beginning to move in that direction, initially, via the subsidy route.

"In view of the way, now even admitted by school people at the local and state levels, that the federal government is taking over control of the federally subsidized 'public' school system, any indication that the government is moving into the newspaper field via the subsidy route is disquieting news indeed. That which the government subsidizes, the government will control. The United States Supreme Court, itself, has laid down that ultimatum in no uncertain terms. The first indication, to our knowledge that the government was in the business of subsidizing newspapers was reported by the Chronicle-Herald of Hoopston, Ill. According to the Chronicle-Herald, the federal government has used $188,000 of the taxpayers' money to set up a subsidized newspaper in Willow Run, Mich. which, in the subsidized newspapers' own words, was to provide "honest and true reporting of the government feels of interest."

"That was bad enough. But now, according to a UPI news story filed in Washington, D.C., the federal government is at least considering the use of another $150,000 in tax funds to launch a newspaper which will be owned and operated by a quasi-governmental agency—a community action group. We quote from the UPI report: "The press is threatened by a request of a $150,000 federal grant to launch a weekly newspaper here, Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, (R-Ill.) says. "He issued a statement which denounced a proposal now under consideration by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) for the demonstration grant to a Washington community action group to start the paper. The eight-page, 5-cent tabloid would serve residents of a poverty area. "Throughout the history of the United States, the government has clearly recognized the importance of keeping hands off the nation's press," Rumsfeld said. "Approval of the request would put the government directly into the business of propagandizing, in competition with privately owned newspapers, he said. "This would amount to a violation of the constitutional guarantee of a free press and would also set the precedent for the government to subsidize the news media, he said. "The next step could be for the government to tell the newspaper what it can and cannot say in print." Apparently Rumsfeld is not keeping up with what is going on in federal circles. The "precedent" was set, it would seem, by the Willow Run grant last September.

In view of these two cases of record, we are wondering just how many more there may be? Just how far has the federal government already gone in a process which could ultimately result in official Pravdas and Ivestias in the United States? "He whose bread I eat, his song I sing!"

Baseball, anyone?

But Can It Tap Its Foot?

There was an item recently about a computer that reproduced the sound of a trumpet so closely that musicians couldn't tell it from the real thing.

Engineers have already gone this one better — or five better, to be exact. Using an ILLIAC II computer at the University of Illinois, they have broken down the tones of a bassoon, clarinet, saxophone, violin and trumpet and transformed them into numerical voltage equivalents, represented by mathematical equations.

When the equations are fed into the computer, the results, says one engineer, is tones that "not only sound like but in essence ARE the original tones."

Most exciting, they say, is the prospect of creating entirely new musical sounds by means of mathematical equations, performed by nontemperamental computers that don't even need to practice.

Baseball, anyone?

Life in Cuba Now Is Bit Unrealistic

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Washington (NEA) —

There's an Alice in Wonderland quality about life in Cuba these days.

In one country town where a good many citizens have applied to leave for the United States, someone, unknown, has put up a crudely lettered sign reading: "THE LAST ONE, PLEASE TURN OFF THE LIGHTS."

From another town, a man writes: "A lady friend of mine . . . wanted to know if, at the time of leaving the island, she could pay her rent with a check drawn against her bank account. She was told she should do so, but that before leaving the island she would have to refund the bank."

Other Cubans write of other experiences that sound like something written by Gilbert and Sullivan:

"In order to obtain the necessary permit for leaving Cuba, citizens must pay a visit to the Ministry of the Interior, where they have to fill several forms. After filling these, do you know where they are supposed to drop them? Inside an empty toilet paper cardboard box!"

"A friend of mine who is leaving soon, besides having all of his possessions confiscated, was forced to have his car painted before turning it over to the government."

"Five years ago, when the state confiscated all property, if you made the pertinent request, they would allow you to pay 10 per cent of your gross monthly income as rent. For example, if you were paying 50 pesos a month rent, but your gross income had dropped to 100 pesos monthly, they would authorize you to pay just 10 per cent, or 10 pesos a month for rent."

"These people who received this benefit five years ago, if they want to leave the island today, would have to refund the government the 40 pesos a month difference they have not been paying during these years."

But the unreality isn't limited to the exodus. One Cuban writes:

"This is to inform you that about 11 months ago I became a 'saint' (member of a secret voodoo organization). Many people are practicing this in Cuba now."

"Another of the big problems in Cuba today is moving," a man writes. "Even divorced or separated couples have to continue living under the same roof until they can find separate quarters."

"The case of some neighbors of ours is typical. This couple, with a child, decided to separate, but as there was no place to move, they had to continue living together. In the meanwhile, the woman met another man with whom she has had two children. Now, all of them live in the same house."

"The police have had to intervene in their quarrels several times. It seems the woman has been selling her ex-husband's ration quota in the black market and the man is going hungry. The Communist regime will not issue separate ration cards to each one while they are living under the same roof."

Probe of Alleged Abuse of Passports Being Launched by Sen. Fulbright's Committee

PAUL SCOTT

Pull Up A Chair

Frank Markey

WASHINGTON — Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the prestigious Foreign Relations Committee, is launching an investigation that could be embarrassing to the State Department.

The probe, aimed at a considerable extent at Secretary Rusk, will dig into the department's reputed wholesale issuance of diplomatic passports to persons other than department personnel.

Senator Fulbright, who has long aspired to Rusk's job, is studying information volunteered by State Department insiders indicating that these "golden key" travel credentials are being given to government and business officials going abroad on other than diplomatic missions.

In numerous instances, Fulbright has been told, diplomatic passports have been issued to friends of "high State Department and other administration officials."

Detailed instances have been submitted to Fulbright of diplomatic passports, which guarantee immunity from foreign prosecution and other special privileges, being given at the specific instructions of Rusk and Undersecretary William Crockett.

As undersecretary for administration, Crockett has jurisdiction over the Office of Security and Consular Affairs, which handles passports.

Preliminary inquiries by the Foreign Relations Committee staff disclosed that Passport Office Director Frances Knight is being bypassed in the issuance of these diplomatic passports.

The controversial career official reportedly is directed to issue these "untouchable" travel documents by phone or letter from the offices of Rusk or Crockett. She is given no choice in passing judgment on them.

AN OLD FEUD — Public airing of this alleged abuse of diplomatic passports could play havoc with a backstage plan of Secretaries Rusk and Crockett to "reorganize" Mrs. Knight out of her job.

This move, which calls for revamping of the sensitive Office of Security and Consular Affairs, is pending on Rusk's desk. So far, nothing has been done on it because of warnings from congressional leaders against any attempt to ex Mrs. Knight and security officer Otto Opteka, who has waged a long fight to prevent being ousted.

In addition to the passport probe, Senator Fulbright is interviewing a number of State Department and AID officials whose jobs would be eliminated in other sweeping reorganizations planned by Rusk and Crockett around March 1.

With President Johnson urging Congress, in his State of the Union message, to support "a new and daring direction to our foreign aid program," Fulbright sees a long-awaited chance to further some of his controversial ideas on foreign policy and to shake up the State Department.

Other Foreign Relations Committee members are urging other inquiries. These range from surveying the activities and policies of the Central Intelligence Agency to the multi-billion dollar foreign aid expenditures and the administration of Public Law 480, under which hundreds of millions of dollars in surplus commodities are dished out annually to foreign countries.

NEW EVIDENCE—The existence of "an uneasy alliance" between former President Juan Bosch and Dominican Communists has been documented by the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security.

That's the private report Senator Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., vice-chairman, has sent the White House. He is telling President Johnson the documents were presented at closed hearings held last month. Much of the data came from Alfonso L. Tarabochia, an Internal Security staff member with extensive Dominican contacts, and Juan Isidro Tapia Adames, defector from the rebel cause.

In his report to the President, Dodd states: "The Subcommittee's latest hearings present important new evidence that Juan Bosch, ousted President of the Dominican Republic, and his lieutenants maintained indirect contact with Communists before and after the recent uprising. Mr. Bosch apparently thought he could use the aid of the Dominican Communists and other leftist agents, while secretly distrusting them."

"But the hard fact emerges that, despite mutual suspicions, the Bosch people and the Red activists did maintain liaison for the purpose of cooperation."

This subcommittee's findings back the warning CIA Director William Raborn gave the President during the first days of the Dominican rebellion. He reported that Bosch, then in Puerto Rico, was daily consulting with Communists on the strife-torn Caribbean island.

FOREIGN FLASHES — President Sukarno's third wife, a Japanese from the Indonesian name of Ratus Sari Dewi, is a Communist spy who reports to Moscow to intelligence authorities. Reportedly, she was Sukarno's main contact with Indonesian and Japanese Communists before the military cracked down on Indonesian Reds following their abortive coup. . . Communist Chinese agents are believed to have murdered two officers of the Portuguese political police last month. The body of Mario de Jesus Silva Mateus, 32, was found in a forest 20 miles from Lisbon. The body of Jose Da Silva Varela, 46, was found in another forest near Amadora. Both were undercover agents of the political police. . . Nationalist Chinese intelligence claims that anti-Peking revolts are spreading throughout Tibet. From last October until January five revolts are said to have occurred. The Nationalists say these uprisings constitute a threat to Peking's control of Tibet.

The Nation's Press

ARROGANT WHITE HOUSE MOUTHPIECE

(Chicago Tribune)

Bill D. Moyers, the Presidential press secretary, has unloaded some heavy prejudices against the press. He started out by saying that news conferences are intended to serve the "convenience of the President, not the convenience of the press."

That is just another way of saying that Mr. Moyers feels that he and his boss, who are simply the people's hired men, are under no obligation to take the people into their confidence except within limits they choose to set.

Mr. Moyers asserted that the Washington press "tends to write its opinion of a matter, and then to seek out facts for it." From the reports we get from our Washington bureau, we think this complaint is invalid. If reporters sometimes find it difficult to appraise a matter with accuracy and clarity, it is because the White House refuses to state the facts.

The press secretary went on to say that many articles show "very poor judgment" and are "very poorly informed." Mr. Moyers must be aware that since 1962 the Democratic administration has openly pursued a policy of "managing" the news. Independent reporters who refuse to adopt the official administration line therefore invite the secretary's reproach.

Moyers further stated that President Johnson preferred to expose himself through radio and television, rather than to face reporters in "the circus of a news conference." He said that the President preferred to state his own case rather than to have reporters, "subject to all the frailties of human nature," interpret what they believe to be his intentions or his policy.

If this suggests that Mr. Johnson has no mortal frailties of his own, we hardly think that Mr. Moyers has offered a true representation. What the press secretary apparently wants is to put the news through his personal filter. We don't think the press will be buying that.

CAPITOL EYE:

Democratic Infighting Aids Tower

WASHINGTON — Republican Sen. John Tower of Texas, seeking re-election, could find himself happily involved this fall in a major replay of the freakish 1961 race which edged him into the Senate.

In that special election to fill the seat vacated by Lyndon Johnson's elevation to the vice presidency, Tower won by only 10,260 votes.

Democratic liberals—unhappy with their party's nominee, the appointed Sen. William Blakely, a stout conservative—urged their followers in labor and other groups either to stay at home or vote for Tower. The defections were decisive.

Knowledgeable liberal Democrats in Texas say much the same thing could easily happen in November. Characteristically militant, this sizable faction is said to be wholly disenchanted with the Democrats' likely 1966 U. S. Senate nominee, State Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Tower does not concede the proposition, but the Democratic liberals put Carr down as more conservative than he.

At this distance in time, it is not at all clear how the liberals will proceed against Carr. But the minimum expectation is that labor leaders simply may not press to get out their vote.

There is not much they can really do meantime to chip away at the party's "conservative establishment" led by Gov. John Connally, who will have no primary opposition and only a token GOP opponent next autumn.

Some liberals discount reports that they might be able to embarrass the governor with a serious assault on his leadership in the precinct and later conventions this May and thereafter. It is said the liberals lack both the leadership and the money for effective attack by this route.

They have also lost some of their steam since President Johnson, whose relations with his home-state party groups have always been tricky and special, pushed through massive Great Society programs.

"He's given them everything they've ever wanted domestically," says one of the liberals.

Depressed concern, they will condemn liberals for their most liberal habit of giving up to the state the liberty of the individual at home. They will expose and condemn the liberality of the Yalta-minded liberals infesting the State Department, the Commerce Department, and other high places in government who have been and are still going up or assisting in the surrender of the liberty of many nations and hundreds of millions of people into the tyranny of alleged people parties ruled by ruthless and murderous dictators who say that they are also liberals.

It is nearly impossible to believe that this goes on, for we cannot understand the strangely warped minds, which make it possible. We have fought two world wars to preserve this liberty which they so liberally give away. We have forgotten the last war was started to protect the integrity of Poland — how ghastly that seems now.

platform in Washington from which to seize Texas headlines on big issues like Viet Nam.

He could be further advantaged if, as early signs indicate, the November vote is light. Faltering registration and poll tax payments suggest unusual apathy as voters contemplate a political year enlivened only by the Tower-Carr race.

Tower, of course, is reported to be chasing hard after conservative Democrats. Consequently he plays down his Republican label, leaving it off his billboards and his campaign literature.

Interestingly, he does not want Barry Goldwater battling for him in Texas this year, though this fact is buried in a general proscription against "all speak for him once in 1965, and campaigned actively in Tower's 1961 race."

Though Tower does not say it, Goldwater is a reminder of disaster at the polls in 1964, and of right-wing support too extreme for Tower. The senator is still a proud conservative, but in 1966 a conservative with moderate tendencies.

Country Editor speaking: "Washington experts say the economic picture for 1966 is so good that only those who like to worry are unhappy."

"CONSTRUCTIVE, 1966," 9TH INSTALLMENT

"Constructives" will stand for resistance to pressure group coercion, for the protection of minorities, a limitation of the tenure in office for the president and all other honest, workable measures which history reveals, or fine reasoning can anticipate, are proper and necessary for the nation's and its people's welfare.

These "constructive" policy samples are not platitudes but are offered as steadfast principles to be more specifically and fully described and defined in the enactment and enforcement of laws to accomplish their purposes.

"Constructives" will be mostly "for" but, of course, could not refrain from chiding and opposing liberals for their liberty with the money of others who work, produce, earn and save. This liberal fault is so serious that it alone can destroy all liberty.

Of deepest concern, they will condemn liberals for their most liberal habit of giving up to the state the liberty of the individual at home. They will expose and condemn the liberality of the Yalta-minded liberals infesting the State Department, the Commerce Department, and other high places in government who have been and are still going up or assisting in the surrender of the liberty of many nations and hundreds of millions of people into the tyranny of alleged people parties ruled by ruthless and murderous dictators who say that they are also liberals.

He could be further advantaged if, as early signs indicate, the November vote is light. Faltering registration and poll tax payments suggest unusual apathy as voters contemplate a political year enlivened only by the Tower-Carr race.

Tower, of course, is reported to be chasing hard after conservative Democrats. Consequently he plays down his Republican label, leaving it off his billboards and his campaign literature.

Interestingly, he does not want Barry Goldwater battling for him in Texas this year, though this fact is buried in a general proscription against "all speak for him once in 1965, and campaigned actively in Tower's 1961 race."

Though Tower does not say it, Goldwater is a reminder of disaster at the polls in 1964, and of right-wing support too extreme for Tower. The senator is still a proud conservative, but in 1966 a conservative with moderate tendencies.

Country Editor speaking: "Washington experts say the economic picture for 1966 is so good that only those who like to worry are unhappy."

Guns Come First, Then the Butter

Being overlooked by some in the so-called "guns versus butter" controversy is this fact: We must have guns — meaning a military establishment with out equal in this dangerous world — and Congress is going to see to it that we do have guns and all the guns needed. This is not an "either-or" proposition. We must protect this Nation, and defense comes first. "Butter" — meaning luxury programs aimed, according to their advocates, at improving the "quality" of American life — may not be spread around as generously as in the past. Again, defense comes first, and if something goes it is sure to be the butter.

It is the same as with a family's budget. Food, clothing, shelter, and health care are essentials. These are the items equivalent to the national budget's defense items. A family's budget is governed by the demands of these essentials, and becomes most flexible when the family determines how much is to be spent for such non-essentials as entertainment.

From the very beginning, we Americans have put our defense first. Pioneers moving away from the seaboard cleared land and built a fort for their protection as the first step. Before a man provided himself with other articles he saw to it that he possessed a good gun. These early necessities of the frontier have become American traditions; they are ingrained in the spirit of all Americans.

On Lexington Common, a triangular village green in Massachusetts, a tiny group of embattled minutemen under Captain John Parker faced an advance guard of four hundred British regulars in the pale dawn of April 19, 1775. This hallowed ground is often called "The Birthplace of American Liberty" for it was here that Captain Parker gave his immortal command: "Stand your ground. Don't fire unless fired upon, but if they mean to have a war let it begin here."

Rich Shouldn't Be Penalized By Poverty Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Sargent Shriver is taking off one hat, as Peace Corps director, to devote full time to the war on poverty. He tells how he views that campaign in the following exclusive interview.)

By WILLIAM J. EATON — United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sargent Shriver believes the nation can wage war against poverty without revolutionary changes that would penalize the rich or undermine City Hall.

"This organization was not established to promote social change," the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity said.

"I don't subscribe to the view that you can't get people out of poverty without changing the social structure. That's a ludicrous, archaic idea. . . . This is not France in 1789 when the poor went to the barricades."

Shriver also reaffirmed his controversial policy that the nation and its problems are too diverse to lay down any rigid rule concerning participation by the poor in local antipoverty campaigns.

The OEO, he told UPI in an interview, will continue to decide the appropriate ratio on a case-by-case basis in approving funds for new community action programs.

Shriver denied he was trying to downgrade the role of the poor to reduce opposition to antipoverty projects from mayors of big cities. Some mayors feel such participation will give leaders of antipoverty projects a rallying point for rival political factions.

"That is 100 per cent false," he said. "There has been no commitment made to anyone about participation of the poor. . . . America is very diverse. Situations vary greatly from city to city. On an Indian reservation you may have 100 per cent participation, but that does not mean it has to be the same in New York or Chicago."

RUSSIAN COMSAT? WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special White House adviser has given Congress a glowing report on the U.S. communications satellite system but warned that Russia may soon set up its own, perhaps for propaganda use. Lt. Gen. James D. O'Connell (Ret.), Wednesday told the Senate Space Committee that "evaluations of the impact of the Russian experiments 'are continuing'."

Texas National Guard Overflows

AUSTIN (UPI) — Draft-age Texans have rushed with such speed to join the National Guard's six-month program that in most areas of the state no more volunteers are being accepted, state Adj. Gen. Thomas Bishop said Tuesday.

"As a result of a terrific number of enlistments over the past weekend, practically all units of the Army guard have reached their authorized strength ceiling of non-prior service personnel," Bishop said. He said about 350 men joined over the past weekend alone. Almost 100 joined the guard at Camp Mabry in Austin.

Bishop admitted the sudden swelling of enlistments was due to the "increased interest in the selective service in filling vacancies in the active Army" due to the Viet Nam war.

There are still a few openings around the state, Bishop said. Three openings at Camp Mabry, plus "10 or 12 in Midland, 10 to 12 in Galveston and a few in San Antonio."

He said former servicemen can still join the guard without trouble.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW — United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The big news in television today is 1939 movie and a 1949 play.

The movie is the children's classic, "The Wizard Of Oz," and, of all things, its annual rerun on CBS-TV ranked as the No. 1 show in popularity in the latest national ratings.

The play is the adult classic, "Death of a Salesman," and CBS-TV announced Tuesday that it will be presented on the network April 3 in a special two-hour television production starring Lee J. Cobb and Mildred Dunnock in their original Broadway roles as Willy Loman and his wife.

As I have always said, television is bursting with creativity and originality, and is a fiercely independent and individual medium.

"The Wizard of Oz" finished ahead of such stalwart ratings-getters as "Bonanza," "Red Skelton," Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith and Ed Sullivan.

Sundry Surprises Other alleged revelations, according to the ratings:

The heavily-planned premier of NBC-TV's Sammy Davis Jr. show garnered a whopping statistical figure and placed ninth among all programs, but that probably is chiefly attributable to the fact that Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor were guests.

For those who enjoy small pleasures, CBS-TV's "Secret Agent" import from Britain, twice a mid-season replacement with little publicity buildup, finished ahead of two of the three weekly episodes of ABC-TV's heavily-promoted "Peyton Place," and only one notch below the third.

The Thursday of "Peyton Place" finished 53rd, the Monday segment tied for 55th and the Tuesday outing came in 70th.

CBS-TV's "Trials Of O'Brien," the show about a flamboyant New York lawyer, which was vastly overpraised for its cloying and pretentious big town "reality," and now is cancelled, finished dead last among 103 shows, behind documentaries, behind everything.

"Hogan's Heroes," the foul new CBS-TV show which sets its comedy in a Nazi prison camp, and which started very high up in the ratings, now has dropped off to 22nd place, still with a healthy statistical number, but one that seems to be dropping gradually.

The "Death of a Salesman" production will be presented in color, which seems a questionable decision in view of the subject matter and tone of the play. Even the movie was done in black-and-white, although color resources were available. Arthur Miller, who wrote "Death of a Salesman," will prepare the television presentation, according to the network. The video version will be produced at CBS-TV's Hollywood studios.

Maso nIn Color The Channel Swim: The first color episode in the nine years of CBS-TV's "Perry Mason" airs Feb. 27, described as a "modern-day parallel to Charles Dickens' 'Oliver Twist,'" concerning young car-strippers operating under the guidance of a Fagin-like character.

The broadcast will show numerous Los Angeles landmarks, including the Sunset Strip, the Angels' Flight cable cars and the Civic Center. It has been said that although "Perry Mason" is supposed to be riding out its final season, the network wouldn't mind having it back.

It hasn't done too badly against top-rated "Bonanza."

Rusk, appearing Wednesday before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said we must make sure the countries of the Western Hemisphere are warned of the danger.
