County Primaries To Be Liveliest in Years

With today the last day for filing for the May 7 primaries, it is considered possible that a further number of candidates will throw their hats in the ring before the midnight deadline.

Six area politicians are in the running for county judge. Sherman R. Lenning is the sole Republican in the race. Democrats include incumbent Bill Craig, G. L. "Nat" Lunsford, John Haynes, Harold Comer, and A. J. Carubbi, Jr.

The race for county commissioner from Precinct 2, has developed into a hot contest with battles for both the Republican and Democratic nominations.

Two Republicans, W. C. Epperson and Don Conley, have announced for the post and four Democrats, Bill Jarvis, Don Walberg, Noah B. Goodin and incumbent Clyde Oran.

The District 31 judgeship has drawn three candidates seeking to take over the post to be vacated by the retirement of incumbent Lewis Goodrich. The three are Grainger McIlhenny, Tom Braly and Bruce Parker.

Seeking McIlhenny's seat as state representative are Seibert Worley, Democrat, and Malouf Indian Airliner Reported Missing With 37 Aboard

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — An Indian Airways prop-jet airliner carrying 37 persons was reported missing and feared down in rugged mountains between Srinagar and Jammu in Kashmir today.

The Fokker Friendship plane, with 33 passengers and a crew of four, was on a scheduled flight from Srinagar to New Delhi with a stop at Jammu, about 200 miles south of Srinagar. No Americans were aboard.

Ground control officials at Jammu said they lost contact with the plane when it was about three miles from treacherous Banihal Pass which lies between the two cities in Kashmir. Search planes later reported the pass was blanketed in thick clouds.

The plane belonged to India's nationalized Indian Airways Corporation which runs all domestic flights. The Friendship is built by the Royal Netherlands Aircraft Factories Fokker.

Two Indian air force helicopters sent out to search for the missing plane abandoned their mission and returned to their bases when they were unable to penetrate the pass which was covered with thick clouds.

OLD CONCEPTS RENEWED

US Revamping Ideas of How To Win War

HONOLULU (UPI) — The United States is turning back to some of its oldest concepts of how to win the Viet Nam war while trying to avoid dramatic new military moves.

Three main lines of U.S. strategy began to emerge today from top level U.S.-South Vietnamese talks now under way here:

—The need for stepped up military efforts in South Viet Nam to clear areas of guerrillas and to meet and destroy "main forces" of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers which now can overrun areas at will.

—Once these areas are militarily cleared, moving in with new programs of agriculture, education and public health to build a rural society less vulnerable to Communist terrorism.

—Depends On Communists — Meanwhile, the question of whether to take major new military moves will depend on the military actions of the Communists.

U.S. officials say no dramatic military decisions are to be expected from the current talks.

One reason given was that meetings attended by many dozens of officials and hundreds of newsmen are not the place for such decisions.

Another was the fact that recently the main Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces have mounted fewer large scale attacks than in the past.

Most recent fights of battalion size or larger have been on the initiative of South Vietnamese and U.S. forces.

There was no evidence the Communist lull was political in nature — a response to President Johnson's call for

An Economy Move

SHAW, England (UPI) — Secretary-organizer Bill Chewter of the South Midlands branch of the National Grocers Federation did not know when to leave well enough alone. Chewter, 72, sent a letter to the home office urging that economies be adopted. Back came the reply, saying: "As an economy, you're sacked."

Mothers March For Dimes Slated Tonight

"Turn on your porchlights and open your hearts" will be the plea of more than 600 Pampa mothers this evening when they make their house-to-house canvass in behalf of the March of Dimes.

The annual Mothers' March, which was twice postponed due to inclement weather, will be held between 6 and 8 p.m. according to Mrs. R. A. Mack, chairman of the affair. She urged residents to turn their porchlights on during those hours and to give generously. Proceeds raised will be divided between local patient care and national research projects.

The city will again be divided by school districts for the March with a captain in charge of each district.

Captains and their respective schools are Leslie Morgan, Carver; Mrs. Norman Shaw, Sam Houston; Mrs. E. E. Willis; Travis; Mrs. Gene Snell, Horace Mann; Mrs. G. L. Kerkebeck, Woodrow Wilson; Mrs. L. E. Paronto, Lamar; Mrs. H.

New Military Efforts

In Viet Nam Topic Of High Officials

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Johnson and leaders of South Viet Nam today began an exchange of ideas designed to make the Allied war effort in Southeast Asia more effective.

High-ranking officials of both countries steered away from any suggestion that the Honolulu conference would lead to escalation of the war, but they conceded that a more effective military effort was needed before extensive non-military development programs can be fruitful.

The first business session of the principals was set for 10 a.m. HST 2 p.m. CST today at Camp H. M. Smith, a U.S. Marine installation overlooking Pearl Harbor. Conferences will continue off and on into this evening.

Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the South Viet Nam chief of state, and Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky arrived here last Sunday from Saigon with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. Ambassador to South Viet Nam and a delegation of Vietnamese officials.

Johnson motored to the Honolulu International Airport to welcome his guests and join with Thieu in statements of determination to push the war to a successful conclusion.

In addition to the three principals, the cast of leading participants in the meetings included four American cabinet officers and six ministers from Saigon. The ranking U.S. military representatives included Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commanding officer of U.S. forces in Southeast Asia; Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander in dinner tonight for Thieu, Ky.

Leading up to today's business sessions, Johnson conferred at some length Sunday with Westmoreland, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

This afternoon, the plenary session was scheduled to break into working groups to discuss and plan U.S. and South Vietnamese action in the fields of diplomacy and international politics, rural construction, economics and stabilization, health, education and agriculture.

Johnson will entertain at a dinner tonight for Thieu, Ky. and chief members of both delegations. The conference will be followed by a dinner for the press and other guests. The conference will be held at the Honolulu International Airport.

The weatherman said there was 30 per cent probability of showers this afternoon. The weatherman said there was 30 per cent probability that Pampa and the Top O' Texas area will get showers tonight.

The weather headed into a springlike category this afternoon with high temperature in the mid-60s here.

The overnight low in Pampa was 39 degrees. Tonight's low is expected to be in the upper 30s. After the comparatively warm spell today, the forecast calls for a little cooler tomorrow.

COLD RAIN

The outlook for Wednesday is partly cloudy and mild.

Clouds hung over virtually all of Texas today with prospects of showers in all sections but the extreme southern tip of the state by nightfall.

It was a mild day across Texas for winter time. Presidio registered the nation's high yesterday with 81 degrees.

Castro used terms he usually reserves for the United States to denounce Communist China for reportedly reneging on a big sugar-for-rice trade pact. The text of a lengthy Castro statement on the controversial deal was printed in Havana newspapers Sunday. On Saturday, the government-controlled Cuban press carried a Chinese assertion that Castro was lying about the trade agreement.

Castro charged that Peking "committed a criminal act of economic aggression against Cuba in a year of difficulties caused by climatic conditions, extraordinarily low prices in world markets for our principal export product and in the face of a rigorous imperialist blockade that interferes with trade with a great part of the world."

The polemics first came to the surface last month when Castro charged that Red China arbitrarily cut back Cuba's rice supply and defaulted on a rice-for-sugar barter deal. He announced the rice ration in Cuba had to be cut.

Negro Handyman's Testimony Scores Point for Prosecution

MIAMI (UPI) — The transcript of a phone conversation in which Candace Mossler told her Negro handyman that "you know you didn't wash that sink" was read to the all-male jury today in the murder trial of Candy and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers.

As the trial of the two in the stab-murder of wealthy financier Jacques Mossler went into its fourth week, the state scored a point when Circuit Judge George E. Schulz received the transcript into evidence as a state exhibit.

In it, Candy implored the handyman, Roscoe Brown, several times not to let authorities "put words in your mouth."

Brown had told sheriff's men that he washed a kitchen sink cover the afternoon before the murder.

Mossler was slain in his Key Biscayne apartment here around 1:45 a.m., June 30, 1964. Shortly thereafter, fingerprint experts found a palm print of Powers, 29-year-old son of Mrs. Mossler's oldest sister and the blonde model's alleged lover.

The conversation between Brown and Candy occurred the night of July 9, when, at her request, he phoned her. Candy received the call in Rochester, Minn.

Brown was in a deputy sheriff's home, with a sheriff's stenographer listening on an extension phone and taking down the conversation.

His Heroism Didn't End With the War

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — Malcolm D. Cowart took a German sniper's bullet in the face during World War II.

Since then, he has lived almost constantly with pain, but he holds a steady job — even though he doesn't have to. He could just sit back and live off his disability allowance.

"I know I've had at least 85 operations and I think it's more than 90," he said. "I've lost count. In a couple of years there will be some more."

Cowart is a distribution truck driver at Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock. He is one of 133 Reese civilian employees who are handicapped in one way or another.

An Army private Cowart was thrown into battle east of the Rhine River in Germany during World War II as U. S. troops fought to push back a German breakthrough.

Cowart suffered loss of his right eye and severe damage to his right cheek, jaw and nose.

Plastic surgery began in Luxembourg and Paris, continued at the William Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso, and Cowart was discharged from the Army at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

But his struggle to regain a human image continued at Mayo Brothers Clinic at Rochester, Minn., and several Veterans Administration hospitals. Bone, cartilage and skin came from various parts of his body to go into his face.

"I'm handicapped with only one eye, and I don't look as good as I used to," Cowart said. "But I'm alive and working."

Fort Challenges Commission To Debate on Water

L. P. Fort, former city commissioner, today issued a challenge to the city commission to debate him openly on the merits of Proposition 5 to be submitted to Pampa voters in the $2,900,000 bond issue election March 8.

Proposition 5 will ask voters to cast ballots "for" or "against" the issuance of $750,000 in tax bonds for construction of a $750,000 water treatment plant.

Fort addressed a letter to the members of the City Commission today as follows:

"It is my desire to respectfully invite you to open debate concerning the Bond issue for a filter plant for the Canadian river water. This discussion could be of great value in helping voters decide at the upcoming election.

"In 1st Peter 3:15—we read—'But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear.'

"I will be glad to have the entire Commission engage me in this discussion, or any one they may designate."

Cuba Levels Broadside at Red Chinese

HAVANA (UPI) — A charge of "economic aggression" leveled by Premier Fidel Castro against Communist China today brought Havana-Peking relations to a dangerous diplomatic low.

Castro used terms he usually reserves for the United States to denounce Communist China for reportedly reneging on a big sugar-for-rice trade pact.

The text of a lengthy Castro statement on the controversial deal was printed in Havana newspapers Sunday. On Saturday, the government-controlled Cuban press carried a Chinese assertion that Castro was lying about the trade agreement.

H-Bomb Search Off Coastal Spain Into Third Week

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI) — The search for a missing American H-bomb believed lying in about 1,200-feet of water off the southeast coast of Spain moved into its third week today.

However, there was little chance of recovering the nuclear weapon until the 22-foot, two-man miniature submarine "Alvin" goes to work.

The "Alvin" was being readied in Rota, the U.S. Polaris submarine base on the Atlantic Coast of Spain, and was expected to be shipped to the search area near here early this week.

Dear Abby... Speak Up, 'Seek And Ye Shall Find'

DEAR ABBY: About a month ago I started at a place where there are seven other girls. During their lunch hour all the girls sit around and tell dirty stories and use the name of the Lord in vain. Their language is filthy. I finally took my lunch and went to sit alone in the corner by myself as far away from them as I could get. One of the girls came over to me and asked if I thought I was "too good" to eat with them. I told her, "No, I just prefer to eat alone and read my Bible."

Everybody laughed at me. Now nobody even speaks to me, Abby. I need this job. Must I pretend their language doesn't bother me as I go along with the others? What should I do?

DEAR ONE: First, tell the girls why you want no part of them. Perhaps there will be one girl in the crowd who feels the same as you but has been joining in because she, too, lacked the courage to speak up. If you find that you are entirely alone, I assure you that isn't the last job in the world. "Seek and ye shall find." (Matthew, vii, 8.)

DEAR ABBY: I think you are all wrong about the kind of kiss you get from playing the game "Spin The Bottle." When I was seventeen I was invited to a party, and we spun the bottle. The kiss I got from spinning the bottle started a romance that led to a marriage that lasted for over 52 years. Sincerely,

HERMAN F. IN

DEAR HERMAN: Congratulations (What kind of bottle were you kids using?)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is trying to make me, and other people, think I am insane. He takes things out of my drawers, hides them, and then after I have searched the house for days, he puts them back in their original places and tries to tell me they were there all the time. He sets all the clocks ahead, and then sets them back until I am so confused I don't know what time it is! He calls me vile names and accuses me of terrible things, like going with other men. And all of this in front of the children. They know it's not true because I always have one or more of the four with me. He has everyone thinking I am crazy. I would rather die than go on living like this. I am 47 and he is 52. What can I do? I can't leave him as I have no money and nowhere to go. I am

A LOST SOUL
DEAR LOST: Enlist the help of your doctor in getting through to your husband what he is doing (or what you THINK he is doing) to you. If this doesn't bring relief, the lawyer's office should be your next stop.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. AT MAYO'S: A man's character is clearly revealed by what he does when he has nothing to do. And that goes double for a woman.

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD
Let us first discuss meetings this week. Sunrise neighborhood will meet Feb. 8. Highland neighborhood on Feb. 10 and Sunset neighborhood on Feb. 11. All meetings will be held at the Girl Scout Little House and the time will be 9:30 on the mornings of the dates listed.

Cookie sales training will be conducted by Fannie Oxley on Feb. 15, 1 p.m., Little House, for the leaders of troops intending to sell Girls Scout cookies. Mrs. Jim Terrell also advises leaders of second year Brownies to attend this training. Although Brownies do not take part in the cookie sales, there will be craft ideas and other matters of interest presented.

Have you signed to take the outdoor training program on the care of Camp Mel Davis? This will be from 10 a.m. until noon, Feb. 12, Camp Mel Davis.

Mrs. Jerred Winton, leader of Troop 36, reported that Kelly Williams was nominated as "Best Brownie" of their troop. Each troop will send a representative's letter "What Scouting Means to Me" to the Girl Scout office for the competition for camperships to be awarded. These letters are due in the office by Feb. 15.

The 18 girls of Troop 36 learned to sew on buttons last week. There is a proper way of doing this and one which should be taught. Understand home economics teachers have to show a lot of older girls how to do this. Troop 36 is getting a head start. Mrs. Lee Brookshire and Mrs. John Malloy have been willing helpers of Mrs. Winton. Tommie and Loretta Winton, ages four and five, are also lending a helping hand. Making "sit-upons", gathering tuna and juice cans for day camp projects are keeping this troop busy.

Troop 27, first year Brownies from Austin, will conduct the flag ceremony for their school's P-TA meeting next Thursday, followed by a Valentine party in the home of their leader, Mrs. Jack Hall. She plans to present an appropriate Valentine gift to each girl during the party.

Mrs. Hall started last spring to inquire about Girl Scouts and after much reading, research and planning on her part, Troop 27 was formed. Margaret Thompson, Melinda Laycock, Lisa Reid, Kimberly Craddock, Stacy Douglass, Christy Roots, Julie Hall and Joanne McCausland are fortunate to have such an interested, and interesting, leader.

Resolution Would Stop Foreign Aid For Aiding Hanoi

WASHINGTON, D.C. (SpI)—Congressman Walter Rogers urged Congress to support a resolution he introduced today in the House of Representatives to cut off U.S. foreign aid to countries maintaining diplomatic or trade relations with North Vietnam.

The Rogers resolution states "that it is the sense of Congress that all United States military and economic assistance should be suspended to every country which maintains diplomatic relations with North Vietnam or is itself directly engaged in trade or commerce with North Vietnam or permits ships or aircraft under its registry to engage in trade or commerce with North Vietnam."

filed Sunday and it was expected the GOP would have candidates for attorney general, lieutenant governor and agriculture commissioner before the filing deadline today.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., also was to announce his candidacy for re-election.

The Republicans, trying to recover from their staggering defeat in 1964, already had candidates for governor and state treasurer.

Both announcements Sunday gave a strong indication that the GOP theme in the 1966 election would be centered on the need for a two party system.

Fay appealed for "broad support to advance the two-party system."

Many Democrats and independents have encouraged me to make the race," Fay said. Garza, 36, said he was running "to offer the people of Texas a choice and to draw attention to the needs for a two party system."

Fay opposed Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler in 1962.

Young McDowell was found, apparently dead early Saturday, in the garage of the family home. He had fallen between the family car and a pickup truck. Earlier in the evening he had been involved in an auto accident and it was not known whether the brain damage occurred in the accident or the fall later, Lunsford said.

Funeral services for McDowell, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. McDowell, Lefors, were to be held at 3:30 p.m. today at the Fellowship Baptist Church in Pampa. Rev. Earl Maddux, officiating, assisted by Rev. Ed Spivey of Lefors Baptist Church.

Burial was to be in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Dunkel Funeral Home.

Three indictments of assault with intent to commit murder will be heard against Monroe Helton April 18 in Roberts County. The charges arise from Helton's alleged assault on Rabin Hines, Ruby Hines and Dixie Helton Sept. 15.

House Approval Sought for Cold War Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House approval was sought today for a new GI Bill of Rights providing college aid and other benefits for veterans of the cold war.

Approval was expected, probably without dissent. The only complaint was from Republicans who said the benefits should have been larger, and that GOP efforts to amend the bill have been stalled.

The new bill, patterned after those following World War II and the Korean War, offers school aid of from $3,600 up to $5,400. The two earlier bills brought training for 10 million veterans at a cost of $19 billion. The latest was prompted primarily by the Viet Nam war.

The new bill would also provide home loan guarantees, limited hospital rights, preference in federal jobs, job guarantees and job counseling. Unlike its predecessors, this bill would become permanent law.

Other congressional news: Appointments: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was to consider the appointment of Jack Hood Vaughn as director of the Peace Corps, and Lincoln Gordon as assistant secretary for inter-American affairs.

Military: Navy Secretary Paul Nitze and top military officials were to appear before the House Armed Services Committee in hearings on supplemental appropriations on military construction and buying for fiscal 1966 which ends June 30.

Taxes: Closed hearings on the President's proposals to repeal tax cuts on automobiles and telephone calls, and tighten up collection of personal and corporate taxes were scheduled.

Appropriations: Sub-committee meetings were set for consideration of money for various agencies, among them State, Justice, Labor, Health, Education and Welfare. All of the sessions were closed.

Leo May Be Just The Thing for Cubs

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
PITCHING — Leo Durocher has one of the better pitchers in baseball in Dick Ellsworth and two former stars in Bob Buhl and Larry Jackson. Buhl and Jackson aren't getting younger, which is why Durocher may use Bill Faul's hypnotic powers on the bench as well as on the mound this year. It would be something if Faul could induce Buhl and Jackson into thinking they're 21 again. And wouldn't it be even better if Bill Faul could induce Bill Faul into being better than a 6-4 pitcher? Other possible starters are Bob Hendley, Ernie Broglio and Carl Koonce. Ted Abernathy is the top man in the bullpen with help from Bob Humphreys. Most promising rookies are Bill Hands and Dave Dowling. RATING—C Plus

OUTFIELD—Billy Williams is one of the great natural hitters in the game. Last year he hit .315 with 34 home runs and 108 RBI. George Altman is a possibility for right field with speedy Ty Cline given a good chance for center. Wes Covington, slow foot, but a powerful man at the plate, could send Altman to the bench. RATING—C Plus

CATCHING — The Cubs obtained a kid named Randy Hudley in a deal with the Giants and are hoping he can be the No. 1 man behind the plate. If not, Chris Drug, Vic Roznovsky and old-timer Ed Bailey are still around. RATING—C Plus

BENCH — Joey Amalfitano can still be counted on for a good job in the field as well as a bat. He hit .271 prominently as a pinchhitter last season. Harvey Kuenn is another experienced hand who can play outfield or infield. Bobby Pena, the early season sensation at shortstop last year, should have enough experience now to escape another trip to the minors. RATING—C Plus SUMMARY — The wind blowing off Lake Michigan this winter seems a lot stronger now that Leo Durocher is in town. But the man has the ability to push ballplayers beyond their capacity. With Banks, Santo and Williams, three of the best hitters in baseball, the Cubs certainly have the nucleus for an improved club. Durocher will apply the push that's needed. Prediction—7th.

JUST SEND MAIL

Unitas Delivers Words From Viet

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Fresh back from Viet Nam, Johnny Unitas reports this war is almost exactly like the last one in that all the boys keep saying, "Send mail."

The star quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, home only a few days from a two-week tour of 21 military camps in Viet Nam, said he found the morale and general attitude of our troops to be "tremendous and far better than you'd expect."

Everywhere Unitas went, though, along with such other National Football League figures as Sam Huff, Frank Gifford and Willie Davis, they heard appeals for more mail from home.

"Mail call is still one of the biggest things over there," explained Unitas on the telephone from Lutherville, Md. "Charlton Heston, the movie actor, was over there before us and we were told about this one particular soldier who was introduced to him. The officer who introduced them tried to impress the soldier that he was meeting one of the top movie stars in the world."

"That's fine," said the soldier, "but where's the mail?"

Relays Messages
Since returning from Viet Nam, Unitas has been busy on the phone-relaying messages to the parents and relatives of boys he met on the tour.

Huff, Gifford and Davis all have been doing the same thing. "I just finished making one of those calls here in the Maryland area," said Unitas. "You have no idea what a kick it is for me to speak to the parents of these boys. Mostly, the fellows wanted me to tell their mothers and fathers that they're all right and not to worry. Once in a while the boys would ask me to deliver a personal message, too."

Unitas said it was "very warm" when he was in Viet Nam with the temperature in one of the places he was at reaching 120 degrees. Despite the heat, the troops still showed a lively interest in football.

"He asked a lot of questions," said the Colt quarterback.

Was It Good
"Some of them still hadn't found out who won the Green Bay Cleveland title game and they wanted to know that. They also asked whether Don Chandler's field goal in the Green Bay-Baltimore playoff game really was good. And they wanted to know which teams we expected to be the strongest in the league next year."

Unitas also visited some army hospitals during his Vietnamese tour and he had something in common with the patients he talked to because it wasn't so long ago that he was one himself.

He wound up finished for the season and required surgery on his right knee when a pair of Chicago Bears' linemen hit him during a game on Dec. 5.

"The leg is coming along real well and I have the full use of it again," he said. "I've been taking whirlpool and massage treatments and I'm going to start on a weight-lifting program in a few days."

It was the kind of season Unitas isn't likely to forget. "That also goes for his visit to Viet Nam."

White Stores of Pampa has the team lead, Red Watson and Jessie Smart are doubles leaders, Buddy Epperson is the singles leader, John Snuggs leads in the all events handicap and Smart in all events scratch in the first weekend of bowling in the City Men's bowling tournament.

Team events were bowled at Garden Lanes and doubles and singles at Harvester bowl.

The tournament will windup with Saturday and Sunday bowling next weekend at both lanes.

The team leaders rolled a 2982 series to lead over Celanese Traffic who rolled 2938.

Third is Montgomery Ward and Hoover Oil Co., both at 2889; fifth West Texas Shaver Repair, 2877; seventh and tied for eighth are Windsor Servicing and KPDN, both at 2871; sixth is Windsor Servicing, 2873; ninth, Patton and Patton, 2848; 10th Scrubs, Pampa Lumber and Dairy Queen, 2848.

Watson and Smart held the team lead by 10 pins over J. E. Otey and R. Bowden, who rolled 1303 and Jim Butcher and B. Branam are third at 1282.

Fourth is W. L. Morris and B. Ferrell, 1252; fifth, W. E. Garrison and J. Gray, 1245; sixth, R. Marchman, K. Savage, 1241; seventh, D. Haynes and J. Achor, 1234; eighth, G. McKinney and C. Chisum, 1230; ninth, J. Snuggs and L. Harmon, 1231; 10th, H. Lockhart and R. G. Foster, 1220.

Epperson rolled a 699 series to take a 15 pin count over Roy D. Stephens, who rolled a 684, good for second place.

Third is Beny Martin, 676; fourth, Bob Ferrell, 672; Leo Braswell, 670; Jack Seals, 669; Hoyt LaRue, 661; eighth Elmer Wilson, 653; Jim Clifton, 652 and 10th W. L. Morris, 651.

Third is Morris, 1867; fourth, Savage, 1855; fifth Jim Hopkins, 1852; sixth, Smart, 1851; Tied for sixth and seventh, Otey and R. O. Johnson, both at 1855; ninth, Leo Braswell, 1850 and Don Hinton, 1841.

at Amarillo and anon-conference affair.

Pampa has won 21 of 25 games, one of the losses to Monterey, 38-31 in Harvester Fieldhouse in first half play.

The Plainsmen led at the end of every quarter, despite outscoring in only two of them.

The odd fact about the Monterey win at Pampa is that the Plainsmen did it strictly on field goals, going to the free throw line but twice and failing to make either of them.

But they hit 19 of 31 shots from the field for 61 per cent while Pampa managed only 12 of 32 for 37 per cent.

Both Pampa and Monterey are averaging over 60 points per six conference games.

Pampa has a 64.6 conference average while the Plainsmen are at 63.3. On offense Pampa has given up an average of 53.3 points per game and Monterey 45.3 points a game.

Season-wise the Plainsmen are scoring at a 56.5 per game clip and Pampa at 60.8.

But again defense has been the thing. The Plainsmen have a 43.8 defensive mark while the Harvesters are just over this at 46.9.

Should Pampa get by the Plainsmen only Tasoca would stand between them and the second half district title. A win over both clubs would mean a playoff with Amarillo at a site to be selected.

David Cain, Pampa's scoring leader, paced the Harvesters in the first contest between the two clubs with 10 points, being the only Harvester to score in double figures.

Monterey was led by Steve Hardin and was the only Plainsmen to hit the double figure basket.

In other 3-4A action Tuesday Caprock hosts Palo Duro, Plainview plays at Borger, and Amarillo and Lubbock meet at 8 p. m. in Lubbock Coliseum.

The Pampa-Monterey tilt is scheduled for 7 p. m. in the coliseum.

Longhorns Help Ags in SWC Race

By United Press International
With a surprising assist from arch-rival Texas, the Texas Aggies will carry a comfortable two-game lead into their final first half showdown against Texas Tech at home Tuesday night.

The Aggies, with big Jawn Beasley peppering the basket at a 29-point pace and sturdy Randy Matson helping control the boards, can fatten that margin to an almost impregnable three-game lead by defeating Tech at College Station tomorrow night.

And, Texas proved that Tech can be handled by stopping hot-shot Dub Malaise at seven points and sophomore flash Bob Glover with just three points in staging an 87-74 shocker on Tech's own floor last Saturday night.

The Aggies, meanwhile, already had built their record to 6-0 in an afternoon second half spring that subdued Texas Christian 81-72.

Thus, Coach Shelby Metcalf's Aggies—no better than a third-place pre-season choice—can build themselves a downhill to bogged slide for the rest of the way if they can tame the Red Raiders.

True, they still have to face tough Southern Methodist, Arkansas and Tech on the road. But, with a three-game cushion that would not appear to be such a formidable assignment since the pressures would be practically nil.

The way the rest of their contemporaries are playing knocked out, they could afford to lose those three and still probably waltz into the NCAA championship playoffs next month.

'New' Sanders Beats Arnie in Playoff

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — The "new" Doug Sanders posed a serious threat to the touring golf pros today, and there wasn't a soul happier about the change than Doug himself.

Sanders, nearing 33 and apparently rid of his former playful ways, gave the pros something to think about Sunday as he charged from far back in the pack to tie for first place in the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic and then beat the "big man" of the tour — Arnold Palmer — in a sudden death playoff.

"Fifteen thousand dollars is an awful lot of money," said Sanders, as he pocketed the top prize in the five-day, 90-hole marathon, "and I'm sure it'll buy enough gas to take me to Phoenix."

Phoenix is the next stop on the PGA winter tour and Sanders and Palmer are two of the pros who will be knocking heads once again in the desert tourney later in the week.

The victory in the Hope tourney was Sanders' first of the year and it gave the winner of more than $72,000 last year a 1966 bankroll of $19,850 in four starts.

Sanders opened with a two-under-par 70, and then followed with rounds of 72, 68 and 73 before blistering the Indian Wells Country Club course Sunday with a sparkling six-under 66 which included four birdies and a par on the final five holes.

Duke Returns to Action After Week of Inactivity

By United Press International
After a week of inactivity, the Duke Blue Devils are raring to go to protect their No. 1 ranking, while the fourth-ranked Providence Friars would settle for a nice, long rest.

"I don't think we should lose our No. 1 spot because we haven't played," said Duke captain Steve Vacendak. "The Blue Devils, who last hit the hardwoods Jan. 29, oppose tough West Virginia tonight, North Carolina State Thursday and Virginia Saturday.

The Friars, however, played back-to-back games last week, edging St. Francis (Pa.) 50-48 on Jim Benedict's two free throws Saturday but bowing 78-76 to Duquesne in overtime Sunday. Providence has a chance to recuperate this week by facing only one foe — Fairfield on Thursday.

The Dukes were down by 10 points at halftime and managed to knot the game at 68-68 in regulation play on Phil Washington's 15-foot jumper. In the extra session, Benedict again looked like the hero by sinking a jumper to tie the game at 76-76, but Duquesne's Rich Carlberg and Jim Smith netted the deciding free throws.

The second-ranked Kentucky Wildcats, one of two unbeaten major college quintets in the nation, routed Georgia 74-50 Saturday for their 17th victory. The Wildcats offset a slowdown Georgia attack by shooting a blazing 61.7 percent from the floor.

Pat Riley netted 25 points for the Wildcats, who meet Florida tonight and Auburn Saturday.

Celtics Extend Lead Over Wilt Led 76ers

By United Press International
The Boston Celtics, looking for tried and true combinations, found Bill Russell and K. C. Jones of San Francisco in 1956 and have had similar luck with the Ohio State tandem of John Havlicek and Larry Siegfried.

Russell and Jones, who piloted the Dons to two straight NCAA crowns, have led the Celtics to seven National Basketball Association and nine Eastern Division titles since 1956.

Havlicek and Siegfried played on the Buckeye team which won the NCAA championship in 1960. With Russell and K. C. Jones in the twilight of great careers, the Ohio State duo is depended on more and more by the Celtics.

Boston shaded Philadelphia 100-99 Sunday as Havlicek sank the winning basket and then stole a pass with 12 seconds left to give the Celtics a 2 1/2 game lead over the 76ers. Siegfried and Havlicek each scored 22 points, while Russell and K.C. Jones combined for 22.

St. Louis turned back Western leader Los Angeles 109-105 as Joe Caldwell scored 34 points in the final quarter and finished with 28. Zelmo Beatty and Lennie Wilkens netted 24 apiece for the Hawks.

Oscar Robertson sank two charity tosses with 11 seconds left to give the Cincinnati Royals a 117-116 triumph over the San Francisco Warriors at Phoenix, Ariz. Jack Twyman led the Royals with 31 points, followed by Robertson with 23. Rookie Rick Barry netted 43 points for the Warriors.

Havana Exports Revolution

Back in 1962, the United States got kicked-around a little over the lot by pint-sized Premier Fidel Castro in what has come to be known as the Cuban missile crisis. It was a black page in American history.

It took some plain and fancy doing on the part of a group of dedicated Americans to get the Democratic administration to admit missile bases actually did exist in Cuba and were a growing threat to the United States.

Public pressure against the Cuban missiles mounted, but the administration remained adamant. President Johnson, who was vice president at the time, said Americans who advocated a blockade of Cuba had "more guts than brains."

However, in late October President Kennedy admitted that Castro did have offensive missiles and jet bombers cocked and ready to go boom and ordered a naval blockade of Cuba.

The blockade was cheered by a majority of Americans and Kennedy's conduct of foreign affairs gained support.

Whether the blockade accomplished anything is disputed. In view of what's been going on since then, it looks as if the United States came out loser.

But no matter, the Russians were supposed to withdraw missiles and men from the island and in time the crisis eased. In succeeding months the United States made reconnaissance flights over Cuba to check on another arms buildup, but apparently nothing of an ominous nature was sighted.

The United States made plain its position on one thing at the time: Castro would not be permitted to use Cuba as a base for the export of subversive activities to other nations of the Western Hemisphere.

It would be hard for Miss Dixon or anybody else to look into a crystal ball and fail to see the obvious.

It's been about three years now since the Cuban threat blew over and our government established a co-existence policy with Cuba. In the interim, Castro has been given pretty much of a free hand to mount more missile bases and export revolution in all directions, something everybody seemed to know about but our government.

So now Castro comes out in the open for one and all to see what he's been doing and what he proposes to continue to do on his Communist island fortress. The Cuban dictator hosted a two-week convention of revolutionaries whose principal aim was the destruction of colonialism and imperialism, especially Yankee imperialism.

And how do they intend to uproot these capitalist governments? By exporting subversion, of course. The Havana conference was attended by more than 500 delegates from 82 nations in Asia, Africa and South America.

Among other things, the group declared its firm backing of North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong and asserted, nothing can save the United States from an inevitable defeat.

The revolutionaries also created two permanent organizations to promote armed struggle against capitalist governments. Havana will be headquarters for the groups until a second conference is held in Cairo in 1968.

Jeanne Dixon, Washington's amateur seeress whose uncanny predictions have brought her considerable renown, took another look in her crystal ball the other day and said:

Experience has shown that trained German shepherd dogs make the best sentries in Vietnam and for that reason the armed forces there have issued another call for several thousand additional sentry dogs.

These canines have been very effective in thwarting the Vietcong terrorist raids against U. S. soldiers, aircraft and bases. The traits peculiar to this type of breed are its high intelligence and acceptance of discipline, which make it amenable to the commands of his master.

Other assets favoring this particular dog are its sturdy muscular build and its agility. German shepherds are adaptable to climatic extremes and can be found today guarding American installations in the frigid cold of the Arctic regions and the steaming jungles of Southeast Asia.

When a dog is selected by the Armed Forces he commences training with a master. Upon graduation the dog and his master will remain a team as long as the serviceman remains in uniform.

Training for the dogs and their keepers is usually conducted at the Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas. That's the place to write if you are interested in contributing a dog to this vital program.

Celler, Administration Pushing Bill To Give President New Price-Wage Weapons to Fight Inflation Spiral

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — A distinctly new concept of price and wage controls is evolving under which President Johnson would personally attempt to restrain the war-booming national economy through his favorite formula of "consensus."

Instead of restoring the stringent Korean War type controls, the President would use both new legislation and the prestige of his office to pressure business and labor to hold down their demands.

Under White House direction, Celler, chairman of the influential administration officials and Democratic Congressional leaders are preparing to launch a vigorous campaign to enact a little-noticed bill introduced on the first day of the new session by Representative Emanuel Celler, chairman of the influential House Judiciary Committee, requiring "basic industries" to give notice of price increases.

Similar legislation requiring unions to notify the government of proposed wage demands is being drafted by the White House and Labor Department for introduction this month by legislators "friendly" to the administration.

Such price and wage increase declarations would be followed by a mandatory 60-day waiting period before they could become effective. During this time a government review board would investigate the avowed reasons for proposed increase and its probable effect.

Under provisions of Celler's "inflation slow-down bill," the "basic industries" would include steel, petroleum, aluminum, refining, copperage and automobiles.

The measure also would apply to industries in which the sales of the four largest members constitute 75 per cent of the total of the industry, and to industries in which goods and services are considered "critical or strategic."

MAKING IT WORK — The "teeth" of the bill is the power it would give the President to establish such standards as he deems necessary to determine whether an industry is "basic."

Under the authority a company that stepped outside the price guideposts as laid down by his Council of Economic Advisers might find itself up before the review board.

The Celler bill, which would amend the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, does not empower the review board to cancel price increases. However, the President apparently is counting on the combined 60-day waiting period and the board's investigation and public "findings of fact" to give him the needed tools to accomplish the kind of economic control he wants.

Through the hold-the-wage-line bill, the President hopes to accomplish the same results by creating a wage review board which would be used to "talk down" pay boosts, or keep them

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Treat Your Snow Thrower Carefully — It Can Bite

Labor-saving devices have a great appeal for modern man. For example, instead of shoveling snow, it now is possible to clear your walk or driveway with a power-operated snow thrower.

Like the power lawn mower, however, these machines have a malevolent side. Many fingers that would have given good service for years have been permanently removed by snow throwers.

Such accidents rarely happen when the snow is dry and powdery, but wet, sticky snow can clog the blades and the chute. When this happens any attempt to clear the parts without stopping the motor is likely to end in disaster.

The National Safety Council offers the following rules for operating your snow remover:

—Follow the instructions that come with the machine.
—Before using it in the snow learn how to stop the motor or throw the blades out of gear.
—Keep children and pets away from the machine when it is in operation.

—Never leave it unattended when the motor is running.
—Never fill the fuel tank, remove foreign objects or snow, or make any kind of mechanical adjustments with the engine running.
—Never run the motor indoors.
—Don't operate the machine on ice or sloping ground because this may lead to a fall against the blades.

Question Box

QUESTION: "If we had self-government or a voluntary supported government would we ever initiate force and get into wars?"

ANSWER: Wars start by someone initiating force and government is the great initiator of force when it forces people to pay for something they do not want. Protective tariffs and immigration restrictions that interfere with the free and natural division of labor, and interference with a man planning his own life, are based on initiated force. If individuals or groups do not initiate force, we wouldn't be in all these wars.

That doesn't mean that an individual does not have a right to use defensive force to retain his property, and if it is stolen to get it back and make the thief help pay for the cost of getting it back. That is defensive force, not initiative force. The great trouble is that people do not understand the difference between initiated force (starting a fight) and defensive force (defending one's life and property.)

WASHINGTON: Sometimes they find that when a man becomes party boss of his village, this little power and influence goes to his head.

He begins raising the taxes, but forgets to turn in the extra revenue. Instead, he begins to live high on the hog. He begins to look down on his old comrades. He doesn't drink with them. Instead he takes to overdressing, fancy smoking, collecting gadgets, maybe affectedly carrying a pocket radio wherever he goes. He criticizes his neighbors and lower officials for their crudities.

He refuses to do any more manual labor. He saves the best hamlet jobs for relatives and friends. He makes certain that members of his family aren't drafted for "volunteer" work on community defenses.

He requisitions some of the village guerrilla troops as a personal bodyguard, even when they're needed for urgent operations.

He sets up a clique of petty officials and friends who cover up for each other. In some cases, a guerrilla or local official will conceal even such crimes as the murder of a higher official by one of their number.

Some of these local Communist party secretaries are becoming rich by local farmer standards. Some are building small hoards of gold with the money they siphon off from the tax take.

Here and there in rural hamlets, a man will hear the story that "the old party secretary deserted because of a scandal in finances."

Sometimes these men are unmasked and removed. Sometimes they find out ahead of time that they're going to be confronted. These will desert the party and run to the national government, claiming to have given up the Communist cause and swearing eternal loyalty to Saigon.

Other corrupt hamlet and village officials apparently know how to remain safe and go on and on making more money. In one Viet Cong-controlled district, this adage is going the rounds:

"After a village party secretary has been in his job three years, you had better out him. It's certain he's putting the money he collects into his own pocket."

It's not certain yet how far this party venality has spread. But if the VC permit it to grow, this corruption of local party officials could be their undoing.

A major VC selling point has been their claim that they would remove corrupt landlords and officials.

If the people no longer believe this, the VC will be in trouble.

In the future New York's college pros and subway workers had better work out some compromise on their strikes. As it is, the strikes in big Gotham are getting so thick that, in addition to injuring their employers and the public, strikers are interfering with other strikers.

The transit worker's strike, which worked so well otherwise, at one stage damaged the pedagogical labor movement by preventing a teachers' strike at St. John's university. The transit strike so completely closed up the area that students and administrators couldn't get to school, so the profs had nobody to strike at. And since the professors couldn't get to town either, they did not even have anybody to strike with.

Perhaps next time they hold concurrent walkouts they could arrange to strike on alternate days.

Hunt for Truth

DR. LOUIS MANN, A FRIEND OF MAN
The world suffered a deep loss Tuesday in the passing of Rabbi Dr. Louis L. Mann, of Chicago, author of "In Quest of the Bluebird." Dr. Mann was truly a friend of man and a friend of mine.

Speaking on LIFE LINE he stated, "It is a great pleasure to be associated with Mr. H. L. Hunt in the magnificent task to which he has given himself, safeguarding the rights of minorities so greatly jeopardized."

"The words we use influence the ideas we think far more than the ideas we think influence the words we use. . . . Minorities have been singled out to bear the curse of the ages. . . . All of us are parts of a minority. Doctors are a minority because most people are not doctors. . . . Lawyers, . . . engineers, . . . scrubwomen, . . . truly religious people are in the minority. Atheists, agnostics and skeptics are also in the minorities. Democracy in its last analysis gives people the right to differ — to disagree agreeably. Autocracy of all kinds, causes one to agree disagreeably. In a democracy we try to safeguard the right of individuality and the sacredness of human personality. When human beings, because of lying propaganda with its psychological techniques — of today — are able to squash human beings' ego, they crush that that makes him a real person."

"What we need today above everything else is understanding. . . . put one's self in the other man's place. . . . We forget that our judgments really judge us. . . . Remember the words of a poem: IF I knew you and you knew me, and both of us could clearly see; and with an inner sense divine; and meaning of your heart and mine; I think that we would differ less; and clasp our hands in friendliness; our thoughts would pleasantly agree; if I knew you and you knew me."

Matter of fact

Fishes, lacking eyelids, cannot close their eyes, yet they keep their strength by behavior much the same as sleep in mammals. Some simply remain motionless in the water; others settle on a surface, resting either upright or on their sides; and a few partially wriggle into the mud or sand on the floor of the water. Fishes which swim in schools often disperse at night for this purpose.

Doll Houses and Permits

It never ceases to amaze when some bureaucrat starts using the awesome power of his office to compel the people to conform to regulations.

The Wall Street Journal, whose editors should realize how far down the road to collectivism we have gone, recently editorialized on the fact that a building permit is required to install a doll house in Corona, Calif.

The Journal discovered the requirement. William Whitaker, building inspector, was quoted as saying, "A doll house is an accessory building, and if it costs $20 or more to build, including labor and materials, it needs a permit" under the city's building code.

Adds the Journal: "There's no indication whether the city's regulations will require that each doll house possess adequate plumbing and insulation and that its foundation firmly anchor it to the playground floor."

The doll house decree sounds pretty ridiculous, and perhaps it will never be rigorously enforced; if it is, it surely could mean a great waste of time for city officials and local citizens. Come to think of it, however, such objections don't always stop regulators from playing games."

We might add that bureaucrats grow by increasing personnel to enforce regulations which have been adopted "to protect the people."

All Hope For Repeal Of Work Laws Abandoned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson faces defeat in his first congressional test of the session next week in a double-barreled Senate showdown on nullifying state right-to-work laws.

Proponents have all but abandoned hope for the President's bill to repeal section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law. Opponents confidently predict that administration leaders will fail in each of two scheduled attempts to dislodge the bill from a low-keyed senate filibuster.

If both attempts fail, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield is expected to abandon the fight and clear the decks for other business.

At issue is the President's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley provision which has allowed 19 states to have laws prohibiting union shop contracts. Such contracts require employees to join the union within a stipulated period after being hired.

In 1964, Princess Irene of the Netherlands renounced her right to the throne to marry Spanish Prince Carlos, whom she wed two months later.
