

Biggest Grocery Price Hike Causes Sharpest Rise In Living Costs

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest jump in grocery prices in 14 years last month triggered the sharpest rise in overall living costs since before President Nixon imposed economic controls, the government reported today.

The Consumer Price Index, measuring typical family living costs, rose five-tenths of one per cent in February, the largest increase in nine months, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

Grocery prices, which include a number of items that are not subject to federal price controls, soared 1.9 per cent for the greatest one-month increase since March of 1959, the report said.

The report followed the resignation of three AFL-CIO members of Nixon's Pay Board, who charged the government was rigidly holding down wages while letting prices continue to climb.

The bureau also reported that average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose 35 cents a week to $130.27, but that purchasing power declined 24 cents because of the rise in consumer prices. The February boost pushed the price index up to 123.8 per cent of its 1967 average. This means it cost $12.38 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases five years ago.

The February increase was the greatest since a six-tenths of one per cent rise last June, two months before Nixon imposed a 90-day wage-price freeze which was then followed by Phase 2 controls.

The bureau said that, so far in the four months of Phase 2, living costs have risen at an annual rate of 4.9 per cent, greater than the 4.1 per cent rate in the six months before Nixon's August economic freeze.

Prices had been held to an annual rate of 1.7 per cent during the rigid three-month freeze that preceded the looser Phase 2 controls.

Prices hikes in February included two-tenths of one per cent for housing, four-tenths each for clothing and medical care and one-tenth of one per cent for recreation.

Transportation costs declined six-tenths of one per cent, the report said.

A steep rise in meat prices, it said, accounted for about 70 per cent of the big rise in food prices.

Fresh fruits and vegetables also rose considerably. Dairy products rose instead of declining as usual in February, and cereal and bakery products went up for the first time in four months, the report said.

Raw agricultural products, such as fruits and vegetables and eggs, are exempt from federal price controls.

Other increases included local transit fares, property taxes and natural gas rates, although the increases were smaller, it said.

Residential telephone and electrical service rates continued to rise sharply.

Five In Custody After Houston Bank Robbery

HOUSTON (AP) — Five men were in custody today following a bank robbery shootout which left a bank vice president dead and a police officer and another man wounded.

One of the men in custody was wounded by a police officer after the man allegedly abandoned a stolen police car about a mile from the bank.

The Wednesday shootout occurred when two bandits, both of them armed, came into the South Park National Bank and quickly cleaned out four or five cash drawers of $18,974 and then ran from the bank.

James S. Garbs, a vice president and chief executive officer of the bank, grabbed a shotgun from a closet and chased the bandits outside to a parking lot. He was shot twice and fell dead in the driveway next to the bank.

Patrolman T.G. Morris was shot in the chest by one of the bandits and hospital officials said the officer's badge saved his life by deflecting the bullet upward. The bullet emerged from the patrolman's left armpit.

One man was arrested after being shot three times, including leg wounds that were believed to have been caused by a blast from Garbs' shotgun. The man was identified as Joseph Payne, 27.

Morris and officer David C. Wells were alone in their patrol cars near the bank. They arrived at the bank within seconds of each other.

Wells said he and Morris saw three armed men in a street near the bank and the men fired on the officers. The two patrolmen chased two of the men and one of the men fired a .45-caliber pistol. One of the bullets struck Morris.

Police said the man who shot Morris circled the area back to the bank and fled in Wells' patrol car. He fled on foot after the car blew a tire. He was then chased by Patrolman C.E. Love who was said to have wounded the man twice after a pistol shot had been fired at the officer.

Officers arrested two men at a house shortly after the robbery and arrested two more at another house several hours later.

No charges in connection with the bank robbery were filed at once.

Police said about $18,200 of the stolen money was recovered from various yards where it was dropped by the bandits.

They said a shotgun believed to have been used in the robbery also was found in a yard.

King Hussein To Meet Nixon On Mideast

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein said today he will go to the United States within the next few days to discuss with President Nixon his proposals for the Middle East. Informants said he would leave Monday.

The Jordanian king denied there had been any direct contact with Israel on his proposal to reorganize his kingdom by creating a semiautonomous state of Palestine under his rule on the Israeli-occupied west bank of the Jordan River.

The king told a news conference: "there have been no such contacts."

He also said his proposal to create a United Arab Kingdom made up of the two territories on each side of the Jordan River could only be accomplished when Israel accepted the 1967 U.N. Security Council resolution as the basis for a peace settlement.

The resolution calls for Israeli withdrawal from occupied territory, including Jerusalem, in exchange for secure and recognized boundaries.

Commenting on reports that he and other members of his government have met with the Israelis, Hussein said: "These rumors and suggestions have emerged since the June 1967 war and have continued to the present. I think the situation on this subject has reached such a point that it is immaterial whether I deny them or admit them for the simple reason that the rumors will continue."

U. S. Agencies Decline To Back Family Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture and Justice Departments declined today to support a bill designed to preserve the family farm by barring vertically integrated corporations and conglomerate firms from farm production.

"We believe that enactment of this bill would not achieve the stated objectives of enhancing the competitive position of family farms," J. Phil Campbell, undersecretary of agriculture, told a House Judiciary subcommittee.

"Rather, by breaking up a system of vertical coordination that has evolved for certain commodities, many family farmers would be denied production opportunities that now exist under contract arrangements with processing and marketing firms," he said.

He said the measure would adversely affect at least half of the commercial broiler production and a third of egg and turkey production. The bill also would virtually eliminate existing arrangements between producers and processors of sugar beets and sugar cane, Campbell said.

Vertical integration occurs when one firm is engaged in farm production and one or more related activities, such as feed manufacturing or food processing.

Hawaii Ratifies Move

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ending four decades of reluctance and indecision, Congress has approved a proposed constitutional amendment designed to provide equal rights for women.

The 84-8 Senate vote Wednesday that completed congressional action on the proposal brought shouts of joy and a spirited champagne party by supporters.

But Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., who lost 10 attempts to modify the amendment, said: "You are crucifying women on a cross of equality...Forgive them, Father, they know not what they do."

To take effect, the amendment must be ratified by legislatures of 38 states within seven years. It would become effective two years after ratification.

Hawaii became the first state to ratify the new amendment as the state Senate and House gave it unanimous approval within an hour after the Congress finished action.

"It finally happened," said Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y.

"I don't believe this amendment will have the effect of creating identical human beings. I do believe it will create identical legal rights," said Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., floor manager of the amendment.

Ervin, who doggedly led a small band of senators against the amendment in four days of debate, argued that laws discriminating against women should be changed at the state level, not by constitutional amendment.

Proponents of the amendment said that would be too slow.

Ervin sought to have the amendment modified to preserve laws requiring fathers to support their children, to keep women out of the draft, and out of combat, but he lost.

The military issue carried much of the debate, with Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, floating images of women in combat boots, toting M16s "and being made prisoners in the jungles."

However, Bayh predicted that only a small number of women would ever be assigned to combat units. He also predicted the measure would have little effect on support payments because "most fathers have the primary responsibility of supporting their children, not because they are fathers, not because they are men, but because they are the primary source of income for their families."

Area Students Invited To PHS Model Congress

Students from 26 area high schools have been invited to attend a Model Congress at Pampa High School on Saturday, April 22, according to Pampa attorney John W. Warner, who will serve as general chairman.

The project is a joint venture between the Pampa Jaycees and the Social Studies Department of Pampa High School. Each school may send five seniors to sit as Senators and 20 other students of any classification to serve in the House of Representatives.

"We believe this project will help students better understand the process Congress goes through to make laws," Warner said. "Since the lowering of the voting age, high school students have a much greater interest in our law-making processes."

The morning session will be devoted mainly to joint committee meetings to decide wording on bills relating to school busing, pollution, sky jacking, equal rights for women, gun laws, abortion, abolishing capital punishment and other bill of particular interest to students. Many bills the students will consider are currently pending before Congress.

In the afternoon the students will divide into two groups to debate the bills in the same fashion as the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives. U. S. Senator John Tower has been invited to serve as President of the Senate, and U. S. Congressman Bob Price has been asked to serve as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Howard Graham, Pampa High social studies teacher, is coordinating the project at the high school. Kathy Gallman, Ann Dingus and Carolyn Horn will head a committee of students to help with the project.

Jaycees serving on the steering committee include: John Goes, State Representative Phil Cates, Milton Saltzman, Dan Stanley, Benny Kirksey, Calvin Lacy, Jack Potter, Mike Holmgren, Joe Sutton, Phillip Kimbley and Edd Rowntree. Mrs. Treicia Saltzman is serving as interim chairman for the Pampa Jaycee-Extes.

County Court Assesses Fines, Jail Terms For 17 Persons

In two days of arraignments in Gray County Court, 17 persons entered pleas of guilty or nolo contendere and Judge Don Cain assessed fines and in some cases, sentences.

William M. Knoll pleaded guilty to making alcoholic beverages available to minors, was fined $100, and sentenced to a six-months probationary period.

Two cases involved drivers license violations. Jerry B. Oliver Jr. was up for his third offense of driving without a license. Judge Cain assessed him $25, and a ten-day jail sentence probated for six months.

Charles W. Hambersson was assessed the same for driving while his license was suspended.

Fourteen drew fines and some sentences for driving while under the influence of intoxicants: Sue Ellis, $1, and costs; Jack Elton Lathrop and Robert Morris, $50-3 days in jail; Thomas W. Brookshire, $100-10 days in jail probated six months; Jimmy Garcia, Robert Wayne Caskey, Leroy Blaylock, Jack G.R. Montgomery, Robert Young, Charles L. Hollaway and Jack Lee Green Jr., $100, and costs; Gary Don Powell and George Colyear Derby, $150-10 days in jail probated six months.

In all cases court costs were added to the fine assessment. Judge Cain faced a load of 30 cases in the three scheduled days of arraignments.

U. S. Commission's Recommendation On 'Pot' Receives Mixed Reaction

The recommendation by a national commission to abolish criminal penalties for private use of marijuana has drawn mixed reaction among both the nation's youth and law enforcement officials.

Some officials gave qualified support to the idea, but others branded recommendations by the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse as impractical and even dangerous.

Harry J. Anslinger, U.S. commissioner of Narcotics from 1930 to 1962, said the commission's recommendations could have "very serious national repercussions" and he called the findings "terrifying."

But Walter Richter, director of the Texas Program on Drug Abuse, said the group's report was "a very sane and humane and reasonable approach" that would free law enforcers to deal with the problem of hard drugs.

"I would be the last one to recommend anyone get involved with pot, but I think this helps put it in perspective," he said.

The 13-member commission, at the end of a year's study, urged Wednesday that the government end prosecution of marijuana users but continue jail terms and fines for growing or selling pot.

President Nixon, who appointed nine members of the commission, received the report without comment.

San Francisco Undersheriff Reuben Greenberg said he "agrees completely" with that recommendation. "We think the use of marijuana should be restricted, but not made illegal, the same way alcohol is."

But the proposal not to prosecute marijuana users and not to legalize it either was, in the opinion of Alabama Public Safety Director W.L. Allen, like "trying to follow the line of being just a little pregnant." He said he opposed the report.

Anslinger, who spearheaded passage of the federal Marijuana Tax Act in 1937, said liberalization of the law would cause the number of heroin users in the country to "mushroom."

"If these recommendations go through, allowing smoking in secret without any penalty, then I think in a couple of years we'll have about a million lunatics filling up the mental hospitals and a couple of hundred thousand more deaths on the highways—just plain slaughter on the highways," he said.

Opinions also were divided on college campuses and among others of the nation's youth.

Robin Arron, 18, of Sulfur, Okla., said she was opposed to all drugs and said of the report, "I think it's terrible... To put it bluntly, we're going to have a lot of freak kids running around if they do this."

But Mike Taylor, managing editor of the student newspaper at the University of Missouri, Kansas City, disagreed.

"I definitely think they're on the right track. I don't think they're going to have any progress on drug abuse laws until marijuana is at least legalized," he said. "From what I've read and seen, the only thing wrong with it (marijuana) is that it's illegal."

Jeremy Bluhm, on the editorial staff of the Harvard Crimson, the student newspaper, said it was his personal view that "it is absolutely necessary to remove criminal penalties for private use" of marijuana.

FIGHT FOR POST LOOMS

'Dirty 30' Backs Rep. Hale For Interim House Speaker

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi has denied in strong terms that powerful Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah is behind his campaign for interim House speaker.

Hale commented on accusations by two supporters of Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine that the Hale movement is an effort to preserve Healy's power.

Healy is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and has angered many representatives through his use of budget items for leverage for or against various bills.

"I am emphatically denying that Mr. Healy is behind my campaign for interim speaker," Hale told a reporter.

Reps. Frank Calhoun of Abilene and Fred Agnich of Dallas issued statements Wednesday opposing the Hale campaign.

Hale is favored by liberal speaker candidate Rep. Price Daniel Jr. and a number of conservative House members to preside over the House during this year's two-or-more-special legislative sessions. Price, also a 1973 speaker candidate, wants to win the post this year. Such a victory presumably would help him win re-election to the House and then election as speaker.

Calhoun, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, said Healy, Daniel and Hale had formed "an unholy alliance" to preserve Healy's grip on state appropriations.

He called Hale a "lackey for the Mutscher-Healy regime that has served the present leadership in past strong-arm activities."

promoter Frank Sharp, said Tuesday he will step aside.

Agnich, Republican national committeeman and a member of the anti-Mutscher "Dirty 30" House coalition, said Healy "has been running the Texas House through his role as the appropriations chairman for too long."

Agnich claimed Healy has been calling state college administrators, "trying to force them to put pressure on House members in their area. I can understand why Bill Healy is trying to strong-arm our state. He is a very desperate man. If effective reforms are carried out by a new speaker, it must include the elimination of Healy and his power-abuse system."

Hale said he believed Price's forces were trying to link him to Healy "because many members don't like Mr. Healy, and they feel if they can tie Mr. Healy and me together they will get votes."

HHH, Muskie, Wallace Enter Indiana Primary

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer
Advisors to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey say they will enter Humphrey's name in the Indiana May 2 primary today, upping the number of Democratic contenders in that contest to three.

—Donald T. Kerns, legislative representative of the United Steelworkers and a Humphrey supporter, said Wednesday in Indianapolis Humphrey's name would be entered in the contest "unless he calls us and tells us not to enter his name."

The deadline for filing for the contest is noon today. A statement released by Humphrey campaign headquarters in Washington, confirmed the Minnesota senator's entry into the Indiana race.

The statement said Humphrey aides filed with state officials before the noon deadline and would announce his entry at a news conference in Indianapolis. The senator was reported campaigning in Nebraska.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and the victor of Tuesday's Illinois primary, Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, filed Wednesday for the Indiana race.

McGOVERN: Spokesmen for Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota said speaking commitments will prevent McGovern from accepting a debating challenge from New York Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Lindsay spokesmen had said earlier McGovern agreed to debate Friday at the University of Wisconsin before Tuesday's primary in that state. McGovern said he was willing to negotiate another date, but could not make it to the school at Madison for a student-sponsored forum.

MCCARTHY: Eugene McCarthy, former Minnesota senator, said he would issue a major statement Monday in Madison on his plans for the Wisconsin primary.

WALLACE: The Alabama governor, at a news conference in Indianapolis, he has "an excellent chance of winning" the Indiana race.

YORTY: Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, another Democratic contender, said in Los Angeles he is still a serious candidate despite the fact he will not be campaigning in any state other than California. He said the duties of the mayor's office prevented him from further campaigning.

C-C To Hold Membership Luncheon

Committee reports on several Chamber of Commerce projects will highlight the chamber's March membership luncheon at 12 noon Monday in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room.

Roy Sparkman, chamber president, announced today that the April membership luncheon will be held in the new banquet room of the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium on Monday, April 24.

Dedication of the auditorium will be on Sunday, April 23, and the chamber banquet the following day will mark the first event to be held there.

Reservations for the Monday luncheon will be taken at the chamber office until 10 a.m. Monday.

Patrolman Employment Terminated

Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner announced today that Patrolman Glenn C. Wallace's employment by the city had been terminated as of March 15.

He noted that Wallace had not satisfactorily completed his six-months probationary period with the department.

Wallace began his tour of duty Dec. 16, 1971.

IN SAN MARCOS Boycotting Students Facing Possibility Of Legal Action

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Boycotting high school and junior high pupils faced the possibility of legal action today for walking out of school over a list of grievances and demands.

Claiming nearly 400 pupils had joined the protest, the boycotters voted Wednesday to ignore a school board ultimatum to return to class today.

With the Mexican-American protest cry of "Viva La Raza," the boycotters' vote came after the school board decided in a special session to take both criminal misdemeanor action and civil action against those involved in the protest.

The boycotters have issued a list of grievances calling for such action as abolishing the dress code and establishing a grievance committee composed of pupils representing Mexican-American, black and anglo ethnic groups.

The school board voted 4 to 1 Wednesday to file suit seeking to enjoin any person from encouraging the pupils' boycott, if the protestors refused to return to school today.

The board also voted to file a suit seeking monetary redress from supporters of the boycott for state money lost by the district as a result of the lower attendance figures.

AN OLD SANTE FE CALLOUS MACHINE—it was carried on the inventory as a "hand car." Workmen who had to pump the handles to propel it down the track (or worse; up the track) called it some unprintable things. Maintenance and repair crews loaded their tools, pumped the car to the work site then wielded hammers and shovels—and pumped it home. Oh, yes. It had to be lifted from the track at the work site so trains could go by. It is highly prized as an antique—but not by those who had to run one.

IRS Says Billie Estes Owes $21 Million In Old Tax Liens

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has moved to keep alive more than $21 million in old tax liens against Billie Sol Estes, the onetime West Texas fertilizer king.

Estes, now a hog rancher near Abilene, owes the taxes on earnings the IRS says he made from mortgages on non-existent fertilizer tanks in the 1960s.

Estes is on parole from a federal prison after serving part of a 15-year sentence for fraud.

The liens were refiled at the Taylor County Courthouse last week and the move was necessary to keep the claims alive, the IRS said.

In addition to the $21 million the IRS says Estes owes, there is another lien for $332,535 against trustees for his children.

The IRS, for example, states that Estes still owes $1,430,642.44 income tax for 1962.

Other records show that on Jan. 13, 1969 the IRS refiled tax liens for $9,133,473.43 back income taxes for the years 1959 and 1960, and $10,530,842.46 "additional income tax" for the period ended 1961.

Estes is listed solely as the taxpayer and his Abilene address is used on the $9 million assessment, originally filed in November 1963.

The $10 million assessment names "Billie Sol and Patsy D. Estes" and lists their address as "Box 1062, Pecos, Tex." It was originally filed Aug. 15, 1963, the records show.

The three liens against Estes total $21,094,956.33. A $332,535 lien names as taxpayers "John L. Estes Jr., Patsy D. Estes and Diehlman Word Estes Sr., trustees for children of Billie Sol and Patsy D. Estes, as set out in trust agreements dated Feb. 19, 1963, of assets of Billie Sol and Patsy D. Estes."

Dr. W.C. Newberry, San Marcos humorist and educator, will be the speaker at the affair to be held in the Rita Blanca Lake Coliseum.

Pampan Suffering Broken Hip Said In Fair Condition

A Pampa man listed in satisfactory condition today at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo after suffering a broken hip in an industrial accident yesterday.

James Allen, 41, of 1006 Darby, received a broken left hip about 4 p.m. yesterday when he fell from an industrial weed control truck, according to Ab Conway, manager of Con Chem Co.

He was taken by ambulance to Hansford County Hospital in Spearman from the scene of the accident. The event occurred at the Northern Natural Gas plant about 16 miles southeast of Spearman.

Allen was later transferred by ambulance to Northwest Texas Hospital.

According to Conway, the accident occurred when Allen, an applicator trainee with Con Chem Co., was attempting to fill the truck with water from a fire hydrant hose without having a snubber line secured to the truck.

When the switch was turned on, the hose stiffened from the pressure and toppled Allen from the truck. He landed on his left hip.

Who Is To Blame For Gas Shortage?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is trying to figure out who's got gas and who hasn't and the problem is causing a serious case of bureaucratic brouhaha.

The gas involved is natural. In recent years it's been emerging from the ground at a steadily decreasing rate, resulting in shortages that have triggered rationing in wide areas of the country.

New gas is lying around under the ground waiting for producers to come for it, but the producers aren't looking much. They claim that erratic Federal Power Commission regulation of rates they can charge for gas doesn't provide enough profit margin to finance exploration.

'Secret Witness' Aimed At Solving Major Crimes

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Local news media representatives have formed a "Secret Witness" program offering rewards to citizens whose tips help law enforcement agencies solve major crimes.

Under the program, the San Antonio Police Department and the county sheriff's office will seek information from the public on an anonymous basis when they face crimes they are unable to solve.

The project is patterned after a similar program launched by the Detroit News.

Anonymous callers will be assigned identification numbers to be used if a reward is made. Their identities will not be revealed.

When a crime is deemed solved, the payoff will be made in whatever manner the informant desires.

The 18 news media representatives who established the program Wednesday plan to solicit money to set up a fund for paying the informants.

TEXAS POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Governor Attacks Dist. Atty. For Calling Him Conspirator

Gov. Preston Smith says the voice of the jury that convicted House Speaker Gus Mutscher on bribery charges in Abilene last week sounded loud and clear in the Capitol.

At a news conference in Dallas, Smith said Wednesday that Mutscher's conviction was in reality "an indictment of most of all of those serving in Austin."

The governor noted that those seeking re-election still have time to tell the voters how they feel on various issues.

Mutscher, aide Rush McGinty and Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth were convicted of conspiracy to accept a bribe. They drew five-year probated sentences.

The governor lashed out at Dist. Atty. Bob Smith of Travis County, the prosecutor in the Mutscher trial, saying that it was "amazing" that the district attorney had called him a "coconspirator" in the case.

His private polls show him the front runner in his bid for re-election with 40 per cent of the vote, followed by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, the governor said.

In third place, Smith said, is Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe and Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi is fourth "but coming up fast."

Mrs. Farenthold is drawing support away from Barnes and Briscoe, he said.

There was heavy activity in the lieutenant governor's race.

Sen. Ralph Hall said in Denton one of his Democratic primary opponents, Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville, caused the defeat of Hall's code of ethics bill in the 1971 legislature.

Hall said Connally crippled the bill by adding an amendment which would have extended financial disclosure requirements to all elected officials down to local levels, including school board members.

Bill Jones, also a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, took a hard swing at another of his rivals, Bill Hobby, whom he accused of taking a "two-faced stand" on marijuana.

Jones asserted that Hobby first said there should be no penalty for private use and possession of marijuana and later said that the first offense should be reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor.

Some people wish that current lawmakers could express themselves as tersely as our constitution writers.

There is little expectation that the coming special session will be short-lived.

No matter the reason given by Gov. Preston Smith for the "extraordinary occasion," the first several days at least apparently will be spent in a bitter fight over a new Speaker of the House.

While state representatives are fussing over a new leader, some senators may be concocting trouble for some of Smith's appointees who have not been confirmed by the Senate—including Secretary of State Bob Bullock, State Insurance Board Chairman Larry Teaver, and Raymond Williams, head of the Vending Machine Commission. All these were appointed between sessions but cannot continue serving unless the Senate in the next session approves them—by a two-thirds vote.

It's That Time Of Year Again For Husband

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer
It is that time of year again for husbands.

The first shock strikes when he walks onto the front lawn some morning after his newspaper and discovers the first sprig of grass peeping up through the yellow winter turf.

He waits a week, hoping the grass will go away or a great drought will come—only on his own lawn—and he will thus not face the spring chores.

At the end of the week, the weeds have popped up all over the place and more grass has come up and he knows his seasonal labor must start.

So he lays out a lot of dough at the garden store for fertilizer, weed killer and bug assassins.

You have the paradox of a man not wanting grass, yet nurturing it. It is probable that this in truth is caused by a conflict with the wife who insists that the lawn look something better than the vacant lot down the street.

We know one individual who decided he just wasn't going to do all that lawn work and didn't. His lawn grew so rank in weeds that the neighbors called the cops.

The husband fertilizes, mows, replaces turf the insects have eaten, edges the walks, and runs up his water bill.

So what happens? The only really decent grass he grows is in the flower beds.

If grass could read, he could put up signs in the flower beds saying, "This is a lawn," and placards on the lawn saying, "This is a flower bed," and he would have a picture-postcard lawn and grass-free strips where his wife could putter with flowers.

A current fad in Dallas and possibly elsewhere is the greatest thing that ever happened to long-suffering, muscle-weary husbands.

Householders often have sworn about their lawns: "I'm going to concrete the whole thing and paint it green."

Now they are doing it. Someone built a circular driveway through his front lawn and turned the bits and pieces of left-over ground into flower plots.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The shotgun once used by naturalist John J. Audubon to bag most of the birds he catalogued for more than 20 years has been stolen from the Academy of Natural Sciences.

How Much Do You Know About Jupiter?

WASHINGTON—Though many mysteries concerning Jupiter remain to be solved, hundreds of years of astronomical observations and analysis have provided a stock of information. Galileo made the first telescopic observations and discovered Jupiter's four larger moons in 1610.

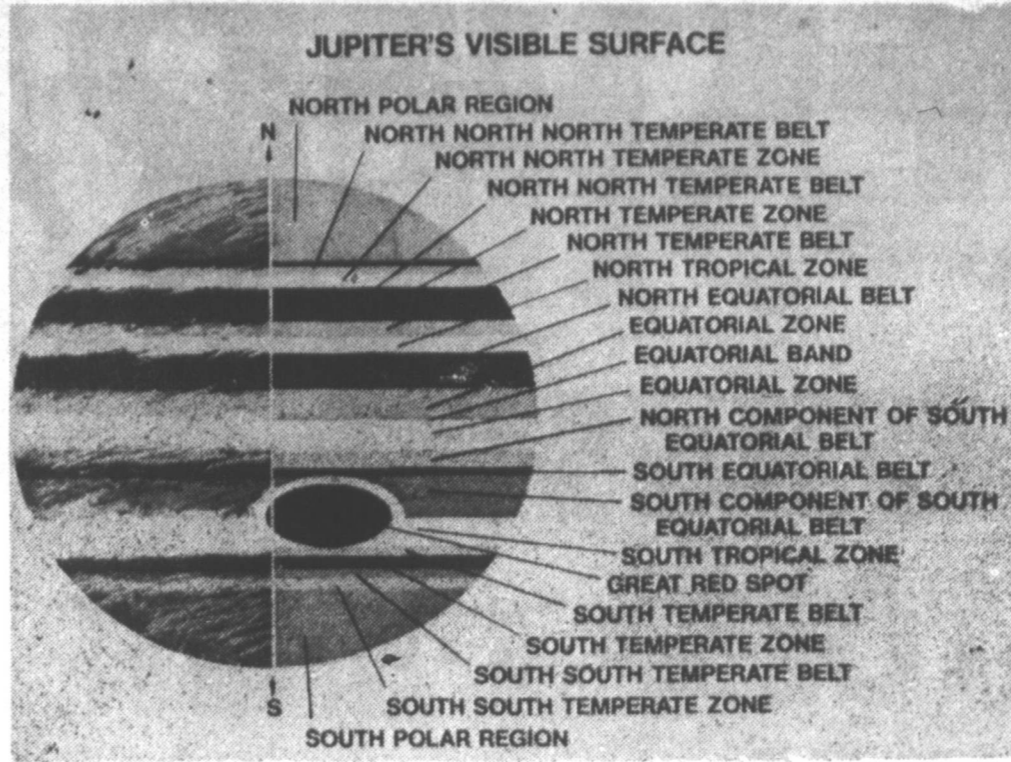

Seen from Earth, Jupiter is the second brightest planet, and fourth brightest object, in the sky. (Venus is brighter). It is 773 million kilometers (480 million miles) from the Sun, and circles the Sun once in just under 12 years. The planet has 12 moons, the four outer ones in backward orbit from the direction most moons go. Two of the moons, Ganymede and Callisto, are about the size of the planet Mercury. Two others, Io and Europa, are similar in size to the Earth's moon.

Jupiter's Rotation
Jupiter completes a rotation once every 10 hours, the shortest day of any of the nine planets. Because of Jupiter's size, this means that a point at the equator on its visible surface (cloud tops) races along at 35,400 km-hr (22,000 mph), compared to a speed of 1600 km-hr (1000 mph) for a similar point on Earth.

This tremendous rotational speed (and fluid character of the planet) makes Jupiter bulge at its equator. Jupiter's polar diameter of about 124,000 kilometers (77,000 miles) is 19,000 kilometers (11,800 miles) smaller than its equatorial diameter of about 143,000 kilometers (88,900 miles).

Visible Surface
Jupiter's visible surface (cloud top area) is 62 billion square kilometers (23.9 billion square miles). The planet's gravity at cloud top is 2.36 times that of Earth.

The mass of the planet is 318 times the mass of Earth. Its volume is 1,000 times Earth's. Because of the resulting low density (one-fourth of the Earth's or 1.3 times the density of water), most scientists are sure that the planet is made up of a mixture of elements similar to that in the Sun or the primordial gas cloud which formed the Sun and planets. This means there are very large proportions (at least three-quarters) of the light gases hydrogen and helium.

Scientists have identified hydrogen, deuterium (the heavy isotope of hydrogen), methane (carbon and hydrogen), and ammonia (nitrogen and hydrogen) by spectroscopic studies of Jupiter's clouds.

CLOUDS, CURRENTS AND VISUAL APPEARANCE
Seen through a telescope, the lighted hemisphere of Jupiter (the only one seen from the Earth) is almost certainly a view of the tops of gigantic regions of lowering multi-colored clouds.

Over all, due to its rotation, the planet is striped or banded, parallel with its equator, with large dusky, gray regions at both poles. Usually between the two polar regions are five permanent, bright salmon-colored stripes, known as Zones, and four darker, slate-gray stripes, known as Belts—the South Equatorial Belt, for example. The planet as a whole changes hue periodically, possibly as a result of the Sun's 11-year activity cycles.

Great Red Spot
The Great Red Spot in the southern hemisphere is frequently bright red, and since 1665 has disappeared completely several times. It seems to brighten and darken at 30-year intervals.

Scientists agree that the cold tops in the Zones are probably largely ammonia vapor and crystals, and the gray polar regions may be condensed methane. The bright cloud Zones have a complete range of colors from yellow and delicate gold to red and bronze. Clouds in the Belts range from gray to blue-gray.

Smaller Features
In addition to the Belts and Zones, many smaller features—streaks, wisps, arches, loops, patches, lumps, and spots—can be seen. Most are hundreds of thousands of kilometers in size.

Circulation of these cloud features has been identified in a number of observations. The Great Equatorial Current (The Equatorial Zone), 20 degrees wide, sweeps around the planet 410 km-hr (255 mph) faster than the cloud regions on either side of it, and is like similar atmospheric jet streams on Earth. The South Tropical circulating current is a well-known feature, as is a cloud current which sweeps completely around the Great Red Spot.

Other Features
Many other features of the circulation of the atmosphere have been observed. Under Jovian gravity, atmospheric pressure at the cloud tops is calculated to be up to ten times one atmosphere on Earth.

The transparent atmosphere above the clouds can be observed spectroscopically and in polarized light. It is believed to be at least 60 kilometers (35 miles) thick.

Earth receives more radio noise from Jupiter than from any source except the Sun.

The average temperature at the tops of Jupiter's clouds appears to be about -145 degrees C (-229 degrees F). Recent stellar occultation studies indicate that much of the diffuse outer atmosphere is close to room temperature, and that the top layer is at about 20 degrees C (68 degrees F). Only about 1-2% as much heat from the Sun arrives at Jupiter as arrives at Earth. Recent infrared measurements made from high altitude aircraft suggest that the giant planet radiates about 2.5 to three times more energy than it absorbs from the sun. The question is, what is the source of this energy?

A "GRAND" PART-TIME JOB!—Sgt. Ed Fenner of the 72D Infantry Brigade (Mech), Texas Army National Guard, takes hold of the $1,122 he will make during the next 12 months as a member of the Texas Army National Guard. Pay hikes and special schools are just a couple of the incentives National Guard units throughout Texas are offering to prior and non-prior service applicants. Locally, the Texas Army National Guard is represented by Co. B (-) 2d Bn 142d Inf (Mech) Phone 669-9541 in Pampa.

Texas Army National Guard Has 'Grand Part-Time Jobs'

The Texas Army National Guard has the grandest part-time jobs available and they're willing to pay one to two "grand" (one to two thousand dollars) to prove it. Locally, the Texas Army National Guard is represented by Co B (-) 2d Bn 142d Inf (Mech) Phone 669-9541 in Pampa and is accepting prior service and non-prior service applicants to fill existing vacancies with special schools available for training in any of 300 different career choices.

Mainly About Skellytown

By FANNIE COLEMAN
Mrs. M.L. Mills (Clara) has been released from the North Plains Hospital, Berger, after spending several days. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Houghton and sons; Mrs. Houghton's mother, Mrs. Beulah Flippo and son, Guy W. Flippo and Mrs. Orval Wall were in Walters, Okla., last week where they attended the funeral of an uncle, Mr. W.C. Flippo. Steve and Julie Smith, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Pampa, spent Friday and Saturday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Coleman. Mrs. Tempest Adams had as a weekend guest in her home, her son-in-law, Tom Lyon of Dallas. Mrs. Alice Bradshaw and son, David, Miami, Fla., flew to Amarillo, Wednesday where they were met by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas at the airport. Additional guests this week in the Douglas home were another daughter, Mrs. Jack Thompson and son James Randall of Pampa. Johnnie Myneer has been dismissed from the High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo and is at his home, much improved. His daughter, Mrs. Frankie Kreis, visited him Monday. Mrs. Kate Enoch had as Sunday guests in her home, Mrs. Bob Daves and sons David, and Doyle of Claude, Tex. Mrs. Mary Martin of Albuquerque, N.M., spent the weekend with her father, Mr. W.S. Berry, who is a patient at Highland General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Graham have returned home this week after spending the winter months in Yuma, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. John Kenney had as supper guests Monday evening in their home, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nunn, Dumas, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Coleman had as visitors last week Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lewis, Grants Pass, Ore.; Mrs. Lelah Dushin, Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shieldmyer, Marion, Ind.; They were enroute to Colorado. Mrs. Donna Barbour and children have as guests in their home this week, Mrs. Fata Loveday and daughter, Billie, of Oklahoma City, Okla. John Cornwell and wife, Elizabeth, Amarillo, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cornwell and son Terry. The John Cornwell's are moving to Hefeford where he has employment. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Curtis, Carlsbad, N.M., spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.O. Kratner and family. L.L. Vaughn has returned home after a vacation in Houston with relatives.

Mechanics, data processing, photography, clerk typing and finance are just a few of the more popular career choices available.

Following minimum training requirements, the non prior service man can fulfill his entire military obligation through a program of one weekend drill a month plus a 15 day summer training involving the career specialty selected.

The prior service man can join the Texas Army National Guard at his previously discharged rank and begin drawing pay on the new higher pay scale. (See table attached)

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

Jerry fulfilled all 10 points on that Rating Scale for "Emotional Morons." Slight, frail boys can win athletic fame in swimming, track, wrestling, etc., instead of trying to make girl friends exclaim "Oh" and "Ah" by zooming a car excessively. Girls, date mature boys!

CASE T-535: Jerry M., aged 17, killed 4 people. "Dr. Crane," a highway policeman informed me, "Dr. Crane was speeding in a new car."

"He must have been exceeding 90 miles per hour when he failed to make a sharp turn. "So he rolled over and his automobile was twisted clear around a large maple tree. "Meanwhile, Jerry was killed and so were the 3 other teen-agers in the same car. "For another couple had been double-dating with Jerry and Jerry's girl friend.

"Jerry had been guilty of fast driving before, so this wasn't his first offense. "Dr. Crane, can you please psychoanalyze the young speedsters and warn their sweethearts about the hazards of riding with such juveniles?"

"Dr. Crane, can you please psychoanalyze the young speedsters and warn their sweethearts about the hazards of riding with such juveniles?"

SPEED MANIA
Despite our splendid driver training programs in high school, we find that nearly 30,000 youths were killed in auto accidents last year. About one-third of all traffic fatalities were among the age group from 15 to 24 years! Why?

ITALIAN PASTRY—Italian gourmet Edo Pela enjoys pastry Cenci alla Galliano, a modern version of a traditional deep-fried Italian pastry, modified to shorten work time, but not to scrimp on taste.

Italian Gourmet Modifies Recipe

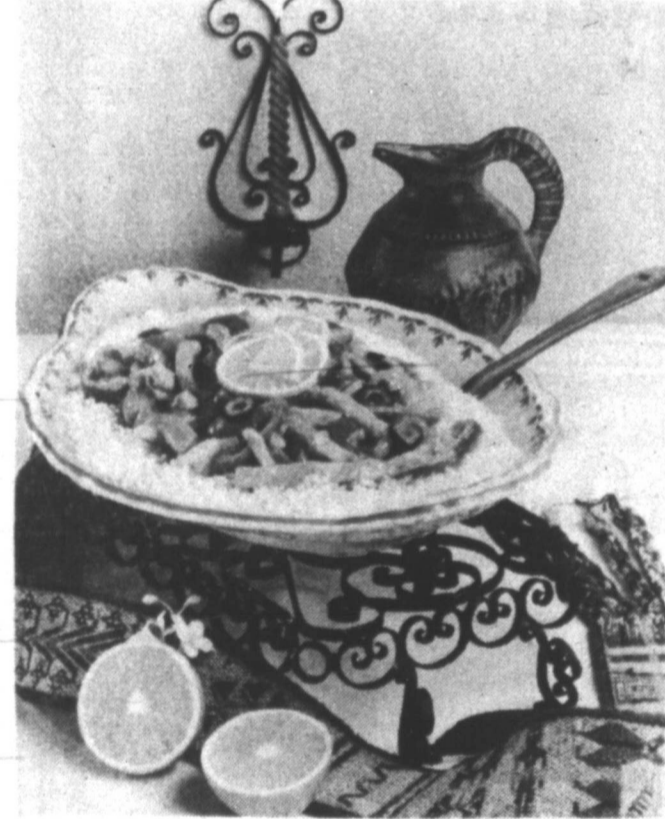

By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

European men occasionally like to dabble in the kitchen, too. And like most men who cook when the mood hits them, Edo Pela, a young Italian Gourmet, has his specialties. Pela is continuing the tradition as head of a firm originating with Major Guiseppe Galliano, a late 19th Century military hero. Pela and one other person know the formula of Liqueur Galliano, a sweet tasting liqueur with more than 20 ingredients. As a gourmet he enjoys modifying classic cookery to shorten work time but not scrimp on the taste. Here is his modified version of a traditional deep-fried Italian pastry. "Cenci" explaining that "Cenci" originated in his native Tuscany.

CENCI ALLA GALLIANO
 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 4 eggs
 2 tablespoons of Liqueur Galliano
 1 cup confectioners' sugar

1/2 teaspoon of salt
 4 cups vegetable oil

In a bowl place two cups of flour, two whole eggs, and the yolks of the other two eggs. Also, the Galliano, a tablespoon of confectioners' sugar, and the salt. Mix the ingredients thoroughly and form a ball with the dough. Sprinkle the remaining flour over a sheet of waxed paper and knead the dough until the flour has been absorbed, and the dough is smooth and shiny (about 10 minutes). Refrigerate for one hour. Heat the oil to 375 degrees in a heavy sauce pan or deep fryer. On a floured board roll out one-third of the dough at a time until paper thin. Cut into 1/2-inch by 6-inch strips. Tie the strips into loose knots and deep fry a few at a time, turning once until golden brown (about two minutes), removing to a paper towel to drain. Sprinkle generously with confectioners' sugar. Serve with fresh fruit and coffee. Makes 90 Cenci or about 8 dozen.

FROM SPAIN—Spanish pork is colorful and has a pungent sweet-sour taste. Orange juice is used as a base.

Spanish Pungent Pork Sauteed With Oranges

By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

Regional cooking is quite definite in a country such as Spain. For example, the Spaniards say that their climate is like their cooking: "In the north we stew, in the center we roast and in the south we fry." In all regions, though, Spanish cooks like vivid coloring via their garnishes and especially use citrus fruit as decoration and to heighten their flavorful dishes. The taste for citrus fruit came to the country with the Moors. Since many homes do not have ovens or have very rudimentary ones, sauteeing and frying are favorite ways to prepare meats. A Spanish Pork is sauteed and has a pungent sweet-sour taste with orange juice as a base. Serve with hot cooked rice.

SPANISH PORK
 2 Tbsp. olive oil
 2 pounds boned pork shoulder, cut in strips
 1 Tsp. salt
 2 medium onions, sliced

1 1/2 cups orange juice
 1 chicken bouillon cube
 1 Tbsp. vinegar
 1 Tbsp. soy sauce
 1 Tbsp. brown sugar
 1 large green pepper, cut in strips
 1/2 cup sliced pitted ripe olives
 2 Tbsp. cornstarch
 1/4 cup cold water
 Hot cooked rice

Heat oil in a large skillet. Add pork; sprinkle with salt. Cook over high heat, stirring occasionally, until meat is lightly browned. Add onions, orange juice, bouillon cube, vinegar, soy sauce and brown sugar. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 20 minutes. Add green pepper and ripe olives. Cover and simmer 10 minutes longer. Blend together cornstarch and water. Add to hot mixture, stirring rapidly. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened. Serve with hot cooked rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SAVARIN—Walnut honey Savarin keeps well and is good plain or toasted. Serve as a special treat for breakfast, brunch or as a snack.

Walnut Honey Cake Bread

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Savarin is a magic name in the world of good eating. A Walnut Honey Savarin meets the high standard of flavor identified with the late chef and chronicler of cuisine. This delicious cakebread is pointed with lemon peel and an ambrosial mixture of honey, apricot nectar and brandy. Crunchy walnuts heighten this specialty to eat for breakfast, brunch or as a snack. Save time by using a hot roll mix.

Drop walnuts into rapidly boiling water and boil 3 minutes. Drain well. Spread in shallow pan; toast at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Chop coarsely. Dissolve yeast packet from hot roll mix in warm water. Heat milk to scalding in small saucepan. Melt butter in milk. Cool to lukewarm. Beat eggs with sugar. Add yeast mixture, milk and lemon peel. Gradually blend in flour, beating well. Stir in walnuts. Spoon into well-greased 6-cup ring mold. Let rise in warm place about 1 hour, until almost doubled in bulk. Bake at 350 degrees about 40 minutes, until baked through, and nicely browned. Let stand 5 minutes, then turn out onto deep plate. Combine honey, nectar and brandy and warm slightly. Prick Savarin (cake) with a long-tined fork or skewer. Slowly spoon the honey mixture over Savarin, adding more as first is absorbed. Makes about 8 servings.

WALNUT HONEY
SAVARIN

- 3/4 cup California walnuts
- 1 (13 1/4-ounce) package hot roll mix
- 3/4 cup warm water
- 3/4 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 eggs
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/2 cup apricot nectar
- 1/4 cup brandy or equivalent brandy flavoring

Braised Celery Wedges

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Celery is a blessed event, so to speak, for those who are counting their calories. Eaten raw, braised with bouillon or in cooked mixtures, celery itself has only about 80 calories per pound. A "stalk" of celery is the whole plant with only the roots missing and a "rib" is one single piece. Braised celery is good with any meat or fish dish.

1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash ground white pepper
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Cut celery stalks cross-wise about 6-inches from bottom. (Use leaves in preparing soups, stuffings, etc., or as a garnish.) Cut each stalk lengthwise into 4 wedges. In a large skillet arrange celery wedges. Drain mushrooms, reserving liquid. Scatter mushrooms and onion rings over celery wedges. Dissolve bouillon cube in water. Add to skillet along with salt and white pepper. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 15 minutes or until celery is crisp tender. Remove celery to serving dish; keep warm. Mix cornstarch with reserved mushroom liquid. Stir into broth in skillet. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring. Spoon over celery wedges and serve. Makes 8 portions. 38 calories per portion.

Family Supper

- Phyll's Spaghetti with Creamy Chicken Sauce
- Salad Bowl Bread Sticks
- Oranges in Red Wine
- Phyll's Spaghetti With Creamy Chicken Sauce
- A change from the usual tomato topping for pasta.
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium onion, finely diced
- 1/4 pound mushrooms, finely diced
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- 2 cups finely diced cooked chicken
- 1 can (10 1/4 ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup, undiluted
- 3/4 cup heavy cream
- 2 tablespoons finely diced pimiento
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- 3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 pound thin spaghetti, cooked and drained
- In a medium saucepan melt the butter; add onion; mushrooms and garlic and cook gently, stirring often, until onion is tender—about 5 to 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients except spaghetti; mix well and heat thoroughly but do not boil. Serve sauce over spaghetti. Pass a pepper mill so eaters can top with freshly ground pepper. Makes 6 servings.

Furr's Cafeterias Files Statement With SEC

DALLAS—Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering the proposed sale of 250,000 shares of common stock, with Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc. as managing underwriters.

Of the shares to be offered, 152,000 are being sold by the company, and 138,000 shares are being sold by certain stockholders.

The proceeds to the company from the 152,000 shares will be used for the construction, furnishing and equipping of six cafeterias in Oklahoma, four in Texas, one in Arizona and one in New Mexico. The balance of the proceeds will be added to the company's working capital.

Furr's, headquartered in Lubbock, Texas, operates 38 cafeterias and four pie shops in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and Arkansas and has five additional cafeterias under construction in Oklahoma and Texas. The company anticipates that these five cafeterias will be in operation by the end of 1972.

Agricultural Scientist To Speak On Population And Food Problems At Tech

LUBBOCK—Dr. Harold Frank Robinson, agricultural scientist, educator and administrator who has become internationally known for his work in quantitative plant genetics, will speak on "Population and World Food Problems" at 7:15 p.m. today in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

His address, sponsored by the Texas Tech University Speakers Series, will be open to the public without charge. Dr. Robinson early became interested in the development of the high yield production potential of crop plants, such as wheat, rice, and sorghum, as a means of helping to improve the staple diets of many of the world's underfed nations.

In 1940, as a seed specialist for the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association, he organized the first official variety testing program in the state, and later, as a member of the Department of Experimental Statistics at the University of North Carolina, he was co-leader, with Dr. R. E. Comstock, of an extensive program in quantitative genetics that brought him world recognition.

He is currently provost of the University of Purdue, an appointment he accepted in September 1971. Prior to that he was vice chancellor for the University System of Georgia.

Two Pampa Youths Named To NTSU Dean's Honor Roll

Curtis E. Brewer and Dale A. Sprinkle of Pampa were among 1,050 named to the honor roll at North Texas State University at Denton by Dr. Gus Ferre, vice-president for academic affairs.

Brewer and Sprinkle made the 3.5 honor roll. Brewer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin

E. Brewer, 1232 Farley. Sprinkle is the son of Mrs. Helen E. Sprinkle, 1333 Christine.

TV And Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—There is obvious interest in putting Ken Berry into a variety show of his own—and it's about time. The first move in that direction was "Wow" on NBC Monday night, primarily an hour showcase for the performer's dancing and singing talents, which are impressive.

The program was patently a pilot show. Several of the television stars who turned up for a few seconds at the beginning congratulated Berry on his "first show." Ken came off better than the show itself which was produced by Allan Byie and Chris Bearde, who turn out "The Sonny and Cher Show" on CBS.

The program leaned heavily on spoofing old movies. This year, it seems, everybody spoofs old movies. The show was at its best in the dance numbers. A close second was a chase scene that looked like an updated Keystone Kop comedy.

Berry was dandy as a dancer and uncorked a surprisingly good baritone. One number in which he wandered around the stage singing "The Green, Green Grass of Home" and regretting his misspent life, was arch and stagey. Another number had everything from World War I to Vietnam fought in a symbolic bed by a married couple who were singing about happiness. It was earnest and obviously a sermon of sorts but didn't make any more sense than this description of it.

Berry, without dancing a step or singing a note, has had a good television career. For a couple of seasons he played a cavalry captain who kept tripping over his sword in "F Troop," an otherwise forgettable comedy Western, followed by several successful seasons in "Mayberry, R. F. D." when he took over from Andy Griffith.

"Wow" was ingenious in its use of special effects and cartoon inserts. It fell down in the comedy department.

It was preceded on NBC by a 60-minute special program made for young children, "Miss Pickerell." Adapted from some children's books, it was an imaginative piece and oddly tantalizing to the adult viewer.

Essentially, the hour was a device for a vicarious adventure that took the child viewer every place from the rocky surface of Mars to the bottom of New York harbor.

A program so completely child-oriented in prime time is unusual.

She 'signs up' for privacy

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: That letter in your column about the woman who had a sign in her living room saying, "Thanks for Not Smoking," might have surprised some folks, but not me. I believe in putting up signs.

In fact, I have a big poster with red letters on my front door which says:

- "For all who wish to pass thru this door:
1. No smoking inside. It makes me sick.
 2. If you bring your kids, either take care of them yourself or leave them outside.
 3. I am not a bank, so don't ask to borrow any money.
 4. I am not a grocer, so don't ask to borrow any groceries.
 5. I am not in the hotel business, so don't ask me to put you up over night.
 6. Don't bring me your problems. I've got my own.

(Signed) THE ESTABLISHMENT

Abby, I am 28 and have a husband and four kids and they come first. Since I have had this poster on my front door, lots of folks have said I was nuts, but I don't care. This is the first time in my life I have had any privacy. Sign me "That nutty lady with the sign on her door" . . . or SHIRLEY IN HOT SPRINGS, ARK.

DEAR SHIRLEY: I'll wager that your poster nets you more privacy than a 200-pound dog. [And you don't have to feed the poster!]

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I invited another couple over for Sunday dinner. [Chicken and homemade noodles.] We told them we'd eat between 1 p. m. and 2 p. m., but to come early. They said they would.

At 1:15 p. m. they telephoned to say they had started to watch the ball game on TV, and they'd come when it was over. We knew this would take several hours, so we helped ourselves to the chicken and noodles and went to the corner tavern and drank beer.

Three hours later our friends came into the tavern looking for us. They said, "How about dinner?"

What would you have done? THE TWO OF US

DEAR TWO: I'd have told them that "dinner" was between 1 p. m. and 2 p. m., but if they wanted some leftover chicken and soggy noodles, they were welcome to it.

DEAR ABBY: This is in reply to "Stalemate," the intelligent young couple who wanted help in deciding who would raise their three young children if they were both to die together.

As a professional who deals with this situation every day I have seen the heartbreak and confusion suffered because people have not been realistic about this possible eventuality.

By all means, keep all the children together. And provide as much financial aid as you can for the family you select in order to enable them to take on the added burden of raising your children.

Have a nonfamily member or the trust department of a bank act as an administrator. The small cost is a bargain in preventing family conflict.

Most of all, keep abreast of the times. The family you choose 10 years ago may not be the best for your children today. I know. We have three adventurous mountain-bred teen-agers who would find the overprotectiveness of my favorite sister entirely too confining.

I realize that the chances of both parents dying together are very slim. But it happens every day. EXPERIENCED

Texas, Flag Etiquette Are Varietas Program Topics

Mrs. J.E. Gibson and Mrs. F. A. Cary presented the program for the meeting Tuesday of Varietas Study Club in the home of Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls. Mrs. L. B. Penick, president, presided.

Mrs. S. C. Evans reported on the Texas Clubwoman, discussing articles concerning the homestead law, the state marriage law, and the growing use of cottonseed in various useful products.

The program topic was "Texas," with the sub-title, "Some states were carved, others born; Texas grew from hide to horn." Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls, program chairman, introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Gibson's subject was "The Gilded Age of Texas—1890-1920." She traced the history of the state during those years and stated that, although prices were low at the turn of the century, Texas had bumper crops and generally large bank accounts.

"1900 marked the beginning of new appliances for the home, business, and hospitals," she said. "X-rays came into use, electric toasters were put on the market, and soon cars appeared. The first native-born governor of the state was Governor Hogg, who was elected in 1891 and was a liberal."

Mrs. Gibson discussed the regime of each governor from 1891 until 1920, telling of the achievements of the state during those years. She stressed that, in spite of boll weevils, floods, drouths, scandals, and other drawbacks, the state made continued progress during each administration.

She reviewed the book, "Gay as a Grig," by Ellen Bowie Holland, which sketched the fashions, furniture, clothing, cosmetics, and customs as they came into use in Texas. Members added to the talk with personal experiences of the era.

Mrs. Cary's topic was "Flag Etiquette." After leading the group in the flag salute, she presented the national rules regarding the use, display, care, and other courtesies due the American flag.

"June 14, 1972, will be the 133rd anniversary of our flag, and we should all give it special attention and honor on that," she pointed out.

She handed out a printed quiz on flag etiquette which she asked the members to fill out, after which she gave the correct answers. The test covered all the main points of the history, description, care, use and other matters concerning the flag.

Following the program, members answered roll call by giving short talks on their personal contributions to the antique display, which represented early-day Texas and other states.

Present were three guests, Miss Virginia Thomas of San Angelo, Mrs. R. H. Ray of Amarillo, and Mrs. Katie Jordan of Pampa. Members present were Miss Anna Pierce, and Mmes. W. E. Abernathy, W. A. Bohot, W. H. Burden, F. A. Cary, H. Price Dosier, Clyde Ellis, N. B. Ellis, S. C. Evans, J. E. Gibson, Lee Harrah, R. W. Lane, Otis Nace, L. B. Penick, Aubrey Sprawls, and Ralph Thomas.

Skellytown Tops Present Awards

SKELLYTOWN (SPL.)—Texas Tops No. 255 of Skellytown met in the library. Members were weighed in by the recorder, Mrs. Odel Hassler. Mrs. Sadie Lane leader, presided. The club pledge was said in unison by the members, and the Fellowship song was led by Mrs. Margaret Simmons.

Mrs. Carol Ziegelgruber was crowned queen for the week for a loss of 4 1/2 lbs. She also received the fruit basket. The club reported a loss of 18 1/2 lbs. for the week with a gain of 4 1/2 lbs.

Mrs. Pauline White was crowned queen for the month of February with a loss of 8 lbs.

New officers were nominated and elected. They were leader, Mrs. Fannie Coleman; co-leader, Mrs. Vastalee Hicks; secretary, Mrs. Pat Young; treasurer, Mrs. Cecile Grange; weight recorder, Mrs. Juanita McCarthy; and reporter, Mrs. Gladys Simmons.

Mrs. Frances Stamps' No. 1 team is ahead in the six-weeks contest now in progress. It will end next week. Members receiving gifts from their secret pals were Mmes. Vastalee Hicks, Juanita McCarthy, Pauline White and Juanita Porter.

Members attending were Mmes. Margaret Simmons, Jo Skaggs, Frances Stamps, Gloria Frank and son George, Juanita Porter, Juanita McCarthy, Gladys Simmons, Sadie Lane, Fannie Coleman, Odell Hassler, Vastalee Hicks, Cecile Grange, Carol Ziegelgruber, Pauline White, Opal Gray and Pat Young.

Bible Study Held By Ladies Class

SKELLYTOWN (Special)—The Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ met for Bible study. Mrs. Ruby Smith gave the opening prayer.

The lesson, "A Continuation of an Ideal Christian," was taught by Mrs. James Douglas.

The dismissal prayer was given by Mrs. Roy McKissick. Attending were Mmes. Earl Lane, Ruby Smith, Roy McKissick, Bill Wood, Juanita McCarthy, Bennie Woodward, and James Douglas.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

FRIDAY, MARCH 24

Your Birthday Today: The first day of a year of many fresh beginnings. The main object is to realize that new things have to be done several times, rehearsed, before they begin to take. What seems to be luck enters most of your serious efforts, but your attitude has a great deal to do with how it is turned. Today's natives are bold-spirited, should avoid idle places and selfish ways.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Your sense of the esthetic goes along with an impulse for adventure. Concentrate on simplicity and preparing for the weekend.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Get a clear idea of what you can pledge, then stick to it while settling obligations. Later hours are better spent attending home and family life.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Go forward into a fresh arrangement, try something new. Friends are helpful, within limits. Check to see that their promises are kept; keep your own.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Look over your situation, re-plan budgets, make minor adjustments, last minute touches. You pass this way seldom, so do yourself justice.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Ask your questions now, get some tentative answers. Personal goals and welfare take priority in your day's effort.

Bring in good friends for a full team.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Press your plans vigorously, make discreet promises which they help, but avoid boasting of resources, announcing your intentions.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: You have much going for you in your career. Pursue social and family connections and group activities vigorously.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Express yourself positively, cue your own people in so they can help strengthen your moves. Seek attention, financial backing, public support.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Ask for advancement, changes of status. Romance and fresh skills can both be pursued with considerable enjoyment today.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Make the most of a passing easy time in group and community cooperation. Get your full share out of it. Invest in tools, equipment.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Your tendency to gravitate toward management positions finds yet another way of expression. Learn to consider others more sympathetically.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Use your persuasive ability for all it is likely to reach in terms of advance for yourself, better representation of your creative ideas.

Upsilon Chapter Presented Preview Of Dance Recital

Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank and Trust company.

Mrs. June Wilson, president, led the business meeting, during which members voted for the "Woman of the Year" and "Girl of the Year."

Mrs. Cile Taylor, social chairman, reported on the fondue party, featuring cubed meat and shrimp.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Jo Ann Simpson, featured the dance students of Madeline Graves and was presented at Mrs. Graves' dancing school.

The opening tap dance was performed by Misses Dana Kent, Kris Richardson, Marquette Wampler, Kelly Sausbury, Tammy Chambless and Sheila Kastor. A modern dance number was performed by Misses Kim Simpson, Anne Kadango, Linda Howard, Brenda Smith and Julie Jackson. A ballet sequence was presented by Misses Wampler, Richardson, Kent and Chambless. All the numbers were previews of the 1972 production to be presented June 3.

Mrs. Frances O'Neal gave the second part of the program on drama. She traced drama from its early beginning to what is now modern-day drama.

Following the business session, a baby shower was given for Mrs. Pat Winkleblack. Hostesses were Mrs. Linda Moore and Mrs. Kay Hood. The centerpiece was a large stork, and refreshments of mints, nuts and blueberry pie were served.

Members and guests attending were Meses. I keep reading more and more about The Average Housewife and Her Problems and I decided we really need an accurate definition of The Housewife.

Obviously, there is no point in getting to Her Problems until we are sure exactly who she is.

I ran into difficulties immediately.

The more people I asked, the more conflicting information I gathered.

I talked with a group of college girls and they seemed to have the impression that the Average Housewife is a person who smells faintly of anionia and lemon extract and plays with children after she empties the trash.

I talked with a woman at a cocktail party (she was wearing a sweatshirt with a clenched fist stenciled on it) and she said decisively, "The Average Housewife doesn't know a lug wrench from a typewriter."

A man I asked said, "I can only tell you about my wife. She's loyal and dependable and a good friend. Or is that my Chesapeake Retriever I'm talking about?"

Another man said, "The Average Housewife? Oh, you mean the gal who's always shuffling around the house in her nightgown and fuzzy house slippers?"

The next man, "The Average Housewife? Well, I know some door-to-door salesmen have tried to give them a bad name but I have a milk route and the girls I meet are pretty cute."

High Court Rules On Birth Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Single people have a right to freely obtain contraceptives if married people are permitted to by the state, the Supreme Court ruled today in upsetting a conviction of birth control crusader Bill Baird.

"If the right of privacy means anything, it is the right of the individual, married or single, to be free from unwarranted governmental intrusion into matters so fundamentally affecting a person as the decision whether to bear or beget a child," said Justice William J. Brennan Jr.

Brennan, the court's only Roman Catholic, delivered the 6 to 1 opinion that Baird could not be punished by Massachusetts for lecturing at Boston University on birth control and handing a package of vaginal foam to an unmarried woman.

The court was less firm in barring the states from banning contraceptives to single people while permitting them for adults. This holding was on a vote 4 to 3.

Massachusetts, like 24 other states, restricts single people's access to birth control devices. The state permits married people to obtain contraceptives to prevent pregnancy but allows single people to obtain them only to guard against disease.

Brennan said: "Whatever the rights of the individual to access to contraceptives may be, the rights must be the same for the unmarried and the married alike."

D.C. McCarthys Attend Reunion

SKELLYTOWN (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. D.C. McCarthy were in Sayre, Okla., recently to attend the 84th birthday celebration of Mrs. McCarthy's father, Owen Terry.

A covered dish luncheon highlighted the event. The serving table was centered with a large white sheet-cake decorated with red and yellow rosebuds, and centered with a rocking chair outlined in brown.

Mr. Terry is the father of seven children, and six attended, with their families. Attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Terry, Claude Berry, Buck Bailey, Mrs. Curtis Hill, all of Sayre; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Berry, Foy Terry and family, Mrs. Helen Wallace, all of Clinton, Okla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stermer of Arapahoe.

Mann PTA Has Election

Horace Mann Parent-Teachers Association elected officers at its recent "Fathers' Night" meeting.

Chosen were Mrs. Archie Maness, president; Mrs. Earl Whitson, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Collingsworth, secretary; Mrs. E. J. Lee, treasurer; Mrs. Floyd Baxter, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Dale Brown and Mrs. Kenneth Young, city council representatives.

Floyd Baxter, the president's husband, presided. Walter Davis read the minutes, and Mrs. Roger Hedrick gave the treasurer's report. The door prize drawing, under the direction of Kenneth Mumford, was awarded to Harold Dean.

The program was presented by the school band, under the direction of Darrell Garrison.

They played "Jazz Waltz," "Surprise Symphony," and "County Fair."

The choir, directed by Mrs. Hester Branham, presented a musical program, entitled "Sentimental Journey," depicting the seven eras of music that "color the lives of every adult."

Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. May 11, in the school auditorium, when the new officers will be installed.

Putting Stymies Murphy's Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "This is getting pretty damned exasperating," red-haired Bob Murphy said.

"Maybe this week. Why not? It's about time. Or past time. I'm overdue."

"I've been in position to win six times already this year and I just can't bring it off. It's enough to drive you around the bend," the chunky, 29-year-old Murphy said today before starting out in his first round in the $125,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament.

He's one of the favorites—along with Jack Nicklaus, South African Gary Player and defending title-holder Frank Beard—for the $25,000 first prize in this 72-hole game on the 7,000 yard, par 72 Lakewood Country Club course.

And if his putter holds up, Murphy very well could be THE favorite.

"It's all putting," said Murphy, a stocky, cigar-chomping guy now in his fifth year on the tour.

Murphy hasn't won this year, but has probably the most solid record on the tour. In 10 starts he's finished ninth or better seven times, six times sixth or better.

He lost a playoff for the Hawaiian Open title when he bogeyed the first extra hole, missing a two-foot putt. But he ranks third on the money list this year with $57,421.

Murphy, who didn't take up golf until the age of 19 after going to the University of Florida on a baseball scholarship, has three tour victories to his credit, the last in 1970.

Other major contenders include Masters champion Charles Coody, Billy Casper, Tony Jacklin of England and Australian Bruce Crampton.

Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino are taking time off.

Hopeful Astros Singing New Tunes In Spring

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros are singing their favorite spring-time ballad again—"This Is Our Year"—but what they've added to the lyrics for 1972 could make up for some sour notes of the past. They can sing first the praises of General Manager Spec Richardson, who masterminded a series of off-season trades that appear to have bolstered the Astros

NBA Roundup

By Associated Press
The National Basketball Association's two leading scorers represent opposite ends of the spectrum.

The leader, Kareem Abdul Jabbar of the Milwaukee Bucks with a 34.9 points per game average, is listed as 7-foot-2 but believed by many to be taller. He has always been an acknowledged superstar, a dominant force, who gives the impression he can score virtually at will.

Then there is the No. 2 man, Nate Archibald of Cincinnati. Like that other No. 2, Archibald has to try harder. For one thing, although he's listed as 6 feet tall, Archibald is believed by many to actually be shorter than that figure.

Little Nate poured in 46 points Wednesday night to 135-130 victory over the Detroit Pistons. It was the 12th time in his last 13 games that the New York native, who played his college ball at Texas-El Paso, has hit for 30 points or more.

More than capable, as his 27.6 scoring and 9.1 assist averages will attest.

Harvie Girls To Compete At Amarillo

Mrs. Lynn Wolfe's girl volleyball squad will travel to Amarillo high tonight. Play will begin with the B squad at 6:30 p.m. and A competition will start at 8 p.m.

Tonight they will be battling to keep their precious first place rating. They managed to remain in first place Tuesday night by defeating the Caprock Longhorns.

Up to that point Caprock had the same rating and was the only team to hand the volleyballers a defeat.

The Harvesters finished them off in a two-game match with identical scores of 16-14. The B squad of Pampa remained undefeated in overall district play as they downed the Caprock B squad two out of three games.

Pampa ended the first confrontation at 15-5 for the Shockers only to turn and lose the second game 15-5. In the third game the B squad fought for a 15-13 victory.

Tonight the Harvester and Shocker volleyballers will find competition getting tougher as the second round of district play continues.

"Today was satisfactory—that's about all you could say," said Broyles, who is beginning his 15th spring at Arkansas.

The Razorbacks concentrated mostly on agility drills and sprints.

Quarterback Joe Ferguson said he was worried about being a little slow.

"I felt clumsy, especially with the shoulder pads," he said. "And the grass is really slow and dusty. I'm ready for the AstroTurf."

However, Ferguson said he felt good about the first day's progress.

Ferguson, who suffered an injured shoulder in the SMU game last year, put it to the test on the first day.

He said he hit a blocking dummy and "the shoulder didn't bother me. Everything is all right now."

Defensive tackle Archie Bennett and fullback Jim Fryer were the only Razorbacks to miss the workout. Bennett, who was shot in the stomach about two weeks ago, was at the practice field but will not participate in spring drills. Fryer is trying to get his knee in shape.

"It's really hard to tell anything on the first day," Broyles said. "We are trying to work everybody and some are still unsure of their assignments. It's hard to evaluate, but it's about what you'd expect."

Arkansas plays a scrimmage Saturday.

TONRONTO (AP) — A trophy commemorating the memory of Stafford Smythe, former owner of The Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League who died last October, will be presented to the player voted most outstanding, or most valuable, in the Memorial Cup Canadian junior hockey finals.

The Stafford Smythe Memorial Trophy was offered by the Smythe family to perpetuate the memory of the former president of the Toronto hockey club and Maple Leaf Gardens.

The Astros also have catchers Larry Howard and Jack Hlatt.

In other NBA games, Cleveland upset Los Angeles 124-120, Golden State beat Baltimore 121-101, Atlanta edged Houston 107-106, the New York Knicks pounded Buffalo 123-99 and Boston beat Philadelphia 113-106.

Rick Roberson, a former Laker, scored a career-high 29 points, including 12 in the final quarter, to spark Cleveland. Jerry West and Gail Goodrich had 31 points apiece for Los Angeles and John Johnson added 28 for the Cavaliers.

The Lakers, now 67-13 on the season, failed in their bid to tie the league record for most victories in a season, 68 recorded by the Philadelphia 76ers in 1966-67. Los Angeles still has two regular-season games remaining, however.

Golden State clinched second place in the Pacific Division and a berth in the NBA playoffs by beating Baltimore. The Warriors have a three-game lead over the Seattle SuperSonics with two games remaining.

Cazzie Russell had 33 points and Nate Thurmond 27 for Golden State. Mike Riordan's 15 points topped Baltimore.

Herm Gilliam tallied 14 points in the fourth quarter to spark the Hawks to their fourth consecutive victory. Stu Lantz led Houston with 29 points and Lou Hudson had 27 for St. Louis.

New York outscored Buffalo 40-20 in the first period and was never seriously threatened. Bill Bradley led all scorers with 33 points for the Knicks.

Boston outscored Philadelphia 14-5 in a four-minute stretch of the fourth quarter and went on to defeat the 76ers. John Havlicek topped the Celtics with 21 points, although Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia paced all scorers with 26.

Broyles Greets Prospects

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles greeted about 120 candidates for the Razorback football team Wednesday, the first day of spring practice, and said, "We've got a lot to do."

"Today was satisfactory—that's about all you could say," said Broyles, who is beginning his 15th spring at Arkansas.

The Razorbacks concentrated mostly on agility drills and sprints.

Quarterback Joe Ferguson said he was worried about being a little slow.

"I felt clumsy, especially with the shoulder pads," he said. "And the grass is really slow and dusty. I'm ready for the AstroTurf."

However, Ferguson said he felt good about the first day's progress.

Ferguson, who suffered an injured shoulder in the SMU game last year, put it to the test on the first day.

He said he hit a blocking dummy and "the shoulder didn't bother me. Everything is all right now."

Defensive tackle Archie Bennett and fullback Jim Fryer were the only Razorbacks to miss the workout. Bennett, who was shot in the stomach about two weeks ago, was at the practice field but will not participate in spring drills. Fryer is trying to get his knee in shape.

"It's really hard to tell anything on the first day," Broyles said. "We are trying to work everybody and some are still unsure of their assignments. It's hard to evaluate, but it's about what you'd expect."

Arkansas plays a scrimmage Saturday.

TONRONTO (AP) — A trophy commemorating the memory of Stafford Smythe, former owner of The Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League who died last October, will be presented to the player voted most outstanding, or most valuable, in the Memorial Cup Canadian junior hockey finals.

The Stafford Smythe Memorial Trophy was offered by the Smythe family to perpetuate the memory of the former president of the Toronto hockey club and Maple Leaf Gardens.

The Astros also have catchers Larry Howard and Jack Hlatt.

THAN NFL EXECUTIVES

Gordon Has Different View

HONOLULU (AP) — The National Football League will tackle the problem of rule change proposals today—and one of the people sitting on the edge of his chair is a guy who just recently was spinning on the rim of the moon as the pilot of the Apollo 12 command module.

Despite the fact that he's back on earth now as executive vice president of the New Orleans Saints, Dick Gordon feels he has a different perspective than many of the National Football League executives who are concerned with the possibility that defense has gained the edge over offense.

"I can reflect on some of these rule proposals differently than others in the game—some of them are so close it's like the guy who can't see the forest for the trees," Gordon explained.

As a fan he finds a certain intrigue in the rules. He's studied many of the proposed changes. He's not so sure that the offense needs help.

"People say the defense is so dominant, and maybe defenses have become better," Gordon said. "But maybe the best way to combat that is by offensive innovation. The only fact we have to work with is that there have been less points scored. I question the conclusions drawn from that. Maybe there are other reasons."

It should be noted, however, that Commissioner Pete Rozelle said at the meetings began that he considered the dropoff in scoring one of the "trouble spots" facing the sport and preferred to "stop a trend before it becomes dangerous."

There seems to be significant sentiment for change of some kind to redress the shift that has taken place during the last three years with 100 fewer touchdowns scored last season than in 1969.

In the weeks prior to the meetings, a number of proposals have been advanced. But the competition committee has declined to even let anyone peak at what its recommendations will be. However, it would appear that several proposals might be given strong consideration. They include:

—Permitting offensive motion behind the line of scrimmage in any direction, including forward. That would, for example, enable a running back coming out for a pass to break across the line of scrimmage just at the snap, giving him a step or two advantage he does not now have.

—Giving offensive players more room to escape today's cat-quick defenders by some method that would serve the purpose of widening the field. One proposal suggests moving the hash marks to the middle of the field or closer to the middle than they are now.

—Making it mandatory for defensive linemen to maintain their position once they have assumed their three-point stance. That would enable offenses, which now often try to counter defensive movement, to initiate the movement and put the defense in a position of having to respond.

The Baltimore Orioles finally got their bats booming against the Pittsburgh Pirates—about five months too late.

The Orioles, held in check by Pirate hurlers Steve Blass, Bruce Kison and Nelson Briles in the 1971 World Series, erupted for 10 runs and 14 hits and whipped the Pirates 10-5 Wednesday in exhibition baseball.

In other games, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 5-3, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 8-7, the New York Mets defeated the New York Yankees 3-0, Detroit shut out the New York Mets B team 7-0, Montreal beat Atlanta 7-4 and Boston outscored Houston 11-7.

Also, the Chicago White Sox defeated Minnesota 7-5, Cleveland edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3, Milwaukee stopped San Francisco 7-3, Kansas City nipped Texas 4-3 and Oakland blanked California 6-0.

Nelson Briles, who hurled a two-hit shutout against the Orioles in the fifth game of the World Series, was the chief victim of the Baltimore outburst. He pitched five innings and was tagged for nine of the Baltimore runs.

Big Boog Powell, who managed only three hits—and no extra base hits—in the Series, slugged two home runs for the Orioles, and Don Buford added another. For Pittsburgh, Willie Stargell, the major league home run leader last season, slugged his first of the spring in the second inning off Mike Cuellar.

Frank Robinson, traded away by Cincinnati six years ago, drove in two runs with a homer and a double as the Dodgers defeated the Reds. Home runs by Don Money and Deron Johnson helped Philadelphia overcome a 7-2 deficit and defeat the Cards.

Jim McAndrew and Tug McGraw combined to shut the Yankees out on five hits, while Mickey Lolich gave up only one hit in five innings as the Tigers blanked the Mets B team.

Montreal rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Atlanta 7-4. Rookie Dwight Evans cracked four hits and Boston collected 15 hits off Astro pitchers in their free-scoring affair. Jorge Orta and Walt Williams drove in three runs apiece to lead the White Sox past Minnesota.

Del Unser's two-out, ninth-inning triple lifted Cleveland past the Cubs, while Milwaukee rallied for five runs in the seventh inning—three of them coming on Darrell Porter's homer—to beat the Giants.

Lou Piniella drove in the winning run for Kansas City with a two-out, seventh-inning double, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter team with John "Blue

Texas Longhorns Near New Record

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Longhorns are within one victory of tying a school baseball record established in 1946.

The horns went after their 16th consecutive victory today in a non-conference game against Minnesota. Texas defeated the Gophers 3-2 and 14-4 in a doubleheader Wednesday.

The defending Southwest Conference champion Horns boast a 22-1 record for the year.

IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL Paterno Would Take Pro Raid In Stride

By RALPH NOVAK

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Let's say that sometime in the near future Penn State University has this 250-pound sophomore linebacker who runs the 50-yard dash in 4.4 seconds, is three times as aggressive as Dick Butkus and has not missed a tackle in nine years.

And let's say that the Philadelphia Eagles pay said linebacker $500,000 to quit school and turn pro.

Would Penn State coach Joe Paterno (1) take the matter to the Supreme Court; (2) accuse the sophomore of disloyalty to his school and possible Communist leanings; (3) threaten to hold his breath until the player returned; (4) shrug his shoulders in acceptance of grim reality and wish the player good luck?

If you choose any of the first three answers, it shows you know something about big time college football coaches. But it also shows you do not know Joe Paterno.

"I'd be unhappy to lose a good player, of course, but what can you do?" Paterno says. "Somebody offers a kid more money than he's ever seen before and he knows that if he doesn't take it, he might go out to practice tomorrow, break his leg and lose his chance forever. And he sees coaches jumping from school to school to get more money. How could I tell him to stay in school? There's enough hypocrisy around already."

Since pro football has not yet contracted the college raiding bug that has afflicted pro basketball, Paterno hasn't had to deal with that hypothetical situation. He has, however, thought about it, he said here recently during a break in his speaking tour for the American Football Coaches Assn.-Tea Council physical fitness program.

"There are a lot of reasons why we haven't had the raiding problem in football yet," he says. "One is that in basketball the individual player stands out more and you can pick up one player and make your whole team. Another is that because pro basketball hasn't had a merger, each league has to worry about the other signing the best players. And then the pro football teams don't want to tamper with the nice farm system they have in the colleges, either."

Then he all but yawns and adds, "In any event, raiding only involves a few kids out of the thousands and thousands who participate in college sports, I don't see what everyone is getting excited about."

Unusual talk for a football coach. Typical for Paterno.

"Winning is not everything," Vince Lombardi said. "It is the only thing."

"You can't tell kids that a football loss is a tragedy," Joe Paterno says. "If we win, great. If we lose, it's not the end of the world. There will be another game next Saturday and the Saturday after that."

What kind of coach would say things like that?

Well, for one thing, Paterno is the kind of coach who has the best record of any major college coach in the country. Since he became head coach at Penn State in 1966, his teams have won 53 games, lost 11, tied one.

He is also the kind of coach who protests about recruiting practices, protests about the NCAA, protests about red-shirting, protests about tyrannical win-at-all-costs coaches until sometimes it seems he doth protest too much.

But he is also, rarest of all, the kind of coach who keeps himself and his job in perspective.

"I shouldn't really talk about what's happening in

And: "There's a lot of talk about how a kid should be loyal to his school. Well, a school gets a lot out of a kid, too. You have a good athlete who handles himself well off the field, he attracts a lot of favorable publicity. Your school can have the best body will ever know it. An All-American football player is something else."

"I know everybody says this but I mean it: We want student-athletes at Penn State, not just athletes. There are more things to life than football." (Paterno never even tried to recruit Joe Namath even though Namath's high school coach was one of Paterno's best friends. Namath's grades were too poor, Paterno said.)

These attitudes have not made Paterno popular with many of his fellow coaches or the athletic establishment in general but his players speak highly of him and, not incidentally, they win a lot of games for him. And pro teams have shown an interest in him, maverick attitude or no.

"I wouldn't want to close off my possibilities by saying I would definitely never want to coach in the pros," he says. "But right now I'm very happy doing just what I'm doing. I'm not sure I would ever want to be in a situation where winning was my only goal."

Europe Facing Traffic Jam Problem

LONDON (AP) — Remember Alice? She told the Red Queen in the Lewis Carroll Fable that in England people run fast to get from one place to another. It's not that way in Looking Glass Land, the Red Queen replied. "Here, you see, it takes all the running you can do to keep in the same place." The Red Queen's words sum up the problem facing traffic chiefs in Europe. No matter how many new roads they build, no matter how many new or expanded rail and bus systems, no matter the curbs on cars, the traffic glue seems sticky as ever. Experts agree on one thing. Despite the spending of billions of pounds, francs, marks, lire, zloties, drachmae, kroner, pesetas and all the rest of the currencies, billions more are needed just to keep the congestion from getting worse. Of course, traffic chaos is nothing new in Europe. Ancient Rome had to ban chariots in the daytime. Today, Rome still suffers bumper-to-bumper frustrations. Many important highways in Europe are narrow relics from bygone times, but building wider streets doesn't end the jams. The wider the street, the more cars seem to crowd in. Building new highways and widening old ones can threaten ancient monuments and treasured buildings. When the traffic chiefs announce plans to raze some link with earlier times, they can stir up passions and even violence among conservationists out to thwart them. And when tunnelers get busy on new subways, they can meet other snags. For in some cities, as in Rome and Prague, they run into archaeological treasure below the surface, and work halts until the discoveries are chronicled and removed for posterity.

One city remarkably free from traffic problems is Berlin, if you forget the wall dividing East from West. Long-gone Kaisers decreed that the German capital's highways should be of imperial breadth. Today, there aren't enough cars to clog the streets, for Berlin's population has shrunk from five million before World War II to around three million. The motorist in Europe is much the same as elsewhere. He tends to insist on using his car. And he gets the blame for the jams. The planners contend that traffic would move much more freely if motorists would switch to public transport. If they did switch, the planners argue, it might not be necessary to knock down fascinating old buildings to let new highways cleave their way through the cities. One idea that could spread is to build highways atop existing rail tracks, as in Brussels. There the Luxembourg-Namur-Brussels road is to have its final section built over the existing railroad, so as to bring its terminal into the heart of the capital. While cities such as Rome, Vienna, Paris and Madrid keep the "concrete spaghetti" of flyovers and underpasses to a minimum, Brussels, London and Stockholm sometimes even have double-deck highways—one above the other—to cope with the flow. Just how much Europe is spending on road development isn't easy to compute, but here is a clue to the vast expenditures: Britain alone is spending $1,122,000,000 this year. One of the costly projects in Europe is a big tunnel under the River Elbe which by 1974 will provide for 65,000 more cars a day at Hamburg. There's huge expenditure, too, on surface and underground—subway—rail services. Jane's World Railways, au-

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The last hurdle in the way of honoring Charlie Chaplin with a star on Hollywood Boulevard's "Walk of Fame" has been removed. The City Council voted 11 to 3 Monday to approve a star for the baggy-trousered, derby-hatted film comedian, who left the United States 20 years ago upset by public criticism of his leftwing politics. Chaplin's star will be installed April 10 in a ceremony sponsored by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce.

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — A judge has ruled that Juan Corona is not entitled to bail pending his trial on charges of murdering 25 men. The attorney for the 38-year-old farm labor contractor sought bail for him after the California Supreme Court ruled that the death penalty violated the state constitution. He argued that the state law prohibiting bail for persons charged with capital crimes was no longer applicable. Superior Court Judge Richard E. Patton denied the bail Monday.

TRACT II: All of the Southwest Quarter (SW-4) and South Half (S-2) of the Northwest Quarter (NW-4) of Section One Hundred Seventeen (117) and all of the East Half (E-2) of Section One Hundred Forty Four (144), BS&F Survey, Gray County, Texas, containing 560 acres of land, more or less.

SAVE AND EXCEPT FROM BOTH TRACTS all oil, gas and other minerals, with usual rights of ingress and egress.

Bids may be submitted on either or both of the above tracts, but bids must be made separately by tracts. No combined bid on both tracts will be considered.

Sale is subject to existing right of way easements and limited use of "set-aside" government program acreage. Full information on outstanding easements, farm program allotments and "set-aside" acreage can be obtained from E. L. Henderson, Combs-Worley Bldg., Telephone 669-2943.

All bids must be accompanied by cashier's check in the amount of ten per cent of the bid, payable to E. L. Henderson, Receiver in Cause No. 17,761 District Court, Gray County, Texas, C-O First National Bank, Pampa, Texas 79065 where bids will be opened at the above specified time.

E. L. Henderson, Receiver in Cause No. 17,761 District Court, Gray County, Texas, C-O First National Bank, Pampa, Texas 79065 where bids will be opened at the above specified time.

Possession to purchaser on closing of sale subject to tenant's right for removal of his property, and harvesting of growing crops, and maintaining "set-aside" acreage.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.
