Overwhelming Confidence Vote Given to Hoffa

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — There was some chance the re-election vote would not come up today. If not, the convention will act on it Friday. Also scheduled today was a speech by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-La.

In a session Wednesday the Teamsters voted unanimously to raise Hoffa's pay from $75,000 a year to $100,000 plus expenses, and granted raises to other officers. Included was a $25,000 raise for secretary-treasurer John English and $500-a-month hikes for the union vice presidents.

Only one dissenting vote was cast on a proposal to pay the whopping $1,006,500 in legal fees run up by Hoffa and other Teamster officials fighting federal prosecutions, and the delegates agreed to underwrite all future legal costs incurred by union officials in new court battles.

To help pay for it, monthly dues for the nation's 1.7 million Teamsters were increased from $5 to $6, and the amount paid per member to the international union by the locals was increased from $1 to $1.50 per month.

King Takes Rights Demonstrations To Chicago Slums

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King brings the civil rights technique of mass demonstrations from South to North Sunday with a giant "freedom rally" to dramatize his organizing campaign in Chicago's Negro slums.

The rally will be held against a power conflict within the movement between adherents of King's methods of nonviolence and the militants demanding "black power."

A Chicago minister who heads the 5 million-member National Baptist Convention, the nation's largest Negro organization, denounced both sides Wednesday. The Rev. Joseph H. Jackson said nonviolence has raised racial tension to the point of actual violence, during the last 12 years, and "black power" is "segregation in reverse." The Negro clergyman said he would not participate in King's rally.

King told a group of Chicago union leaders Wednesday "black power" is "immoral." He outlined his stand while appealing for support of his "freedom rally," a demonstration he hopes will attract 100,000 persons. The rally is the most ambitious project so far in King's year-long attempt to put his methods to work in the slums of Chicago.

After his talk the 37 union leaders shouted a unanimous endorsement of rally and many followed up with pledges of money.

"It is necessary for Negroes to have power," King said. "We've got to have political power. I don't use the phrase 'black power' because it gives the wrong impression... we do not want to substitute one tyranny for another."

Chance Slim For Showers In Pampa Area

Possible thundershowers are forecast for Pampa, with light showers falling in other parts of the state, but continued warm weather is expected through Saturday.

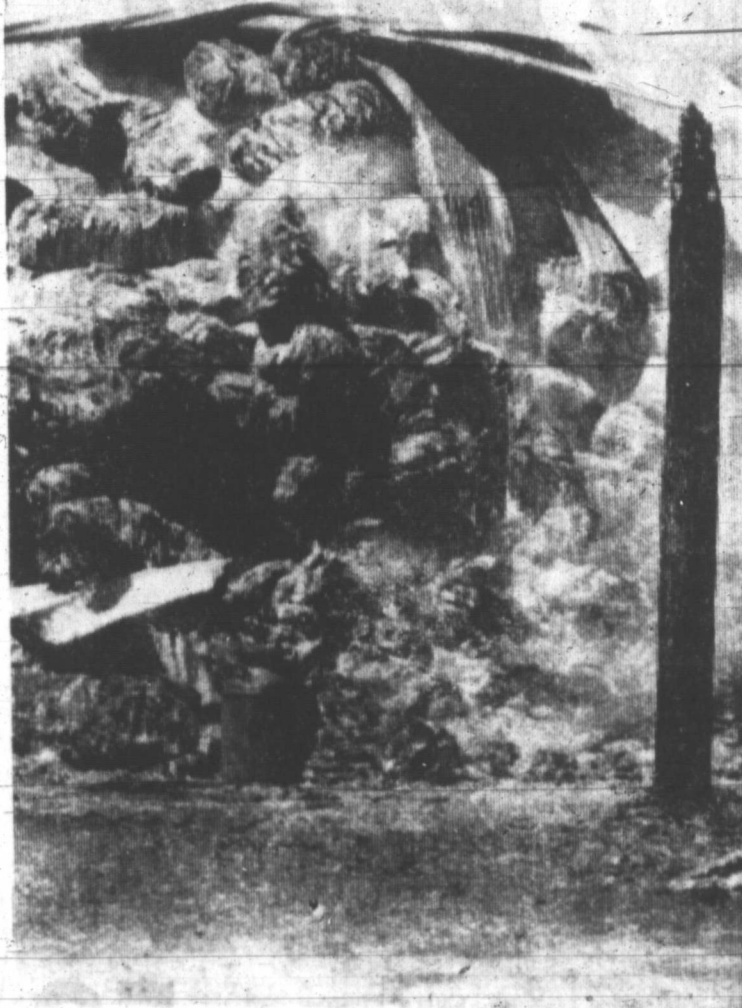

Clear to partly cloudy skies are forecast, with a high in the upper-90's and a low near 70. Winds are to be southerly, 12 to 18 miles per hour. Outlook for Saturday calls for partly cloudy skies and continued warm temperatures.

Pampa's high yesterday was 96, with this morning's low being 71.

Across the remainder of the state, light showers fell across much of South Texas today with prospects for rain spreading to the Southwest portions of the state.

UP IN SMOKE—Just 20 minutes after A. L. Miller and his ranch hands had finished stacking hay in a barn on the Emmitt Lefors ranch, 13 miles north of the city, an unexplainable fire broke out that claimed the entire 7,000 bales of freshly-cut feed. Miller, who is foreman of the Lefors Ranch, stated that the blaze started at the top of the stack, near the roof, and spread throughout the entire building. When firemen arrived most of the hay had been destroyed. Miller had no explanation as to the cause of the fire.

ELECTION CONTEST

Case Expected To Be Set Early in August

Arguments in the Gray County June 4 primary election contest are expected to be heard during the first week in August before the 7th District Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo.

The case grew out of the runoff race for Democratic nomination as county judge between incumbent Bill Craig and A. J. Carubbi Jr. in which Craig was declared winner by 8 votes, 1,785 to 1,777.

Carubbi filed a petition in 31st District Court here, contesting the election on the grounds 71 Republicans who had voted in the May 8 GOP primary election also voted in the June 4 Democratic primary. This, the plaintiff charged, was a violation of Texas election laws. The petition asked that the 71 votes be thrown out and asked a recount of the remaining ballots.

When heard in District Court here on June 15, Judge Lewis M. Goodrich ruled against Carubbi, assessed the plaintiff with court costs and dismissed the case.

Carubbi's counsel, Atty. Frank Baughman of Amarillo, chairman of the Potter County Democratic Committee, immediately filed notice of appeal.

Carubbi said today the plaintiff's briefs in the appeals case will be filed in the Amarillo court next Monday or Tuesday.

Craig's attorneys, Harold Comer and John Studer of Pampa, will have 20 days in which to file an answer. The final date for Craig's answer would be Aug. 1.

The appeals court then is expected to set the hearing during (See LAWSUIT, Page 3)

Federal Court Backs Banning Of Nude Movies

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The city of Grand Prairie, Tex., had permission from the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals today to prohibit the showing of "nudie" movies at a drive-in theater along a busy highway.

The appeals court ruled Wednesday the city could enforce an ordinance barring commercial movie houses from showing films "in which the bare buttocks or the bare female breasts of the human body are shown or in which striptease, burlesque or nudist-type scenes constitute the main or primary material."

The court said the showing of the films created a traffic problem on the highway running alongside the theater and contributed to automobile accidents.

The theater in question was the "Twin East," one of two drive-ins owned by Chemline, Inc. The other theater, the (See MOVIES, Page 3)

Unhappily Married? The CIA Wants You

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Happily married men need read no further. The super snoops of the Central Intelligence Agency have no intriguing foreign assignments for you.

But if a two-year hiatus away from home and family suits your fancy, read on. You may qualify. All you have to do is find the right classified advertisement.

Ernest A. Ostro, a reporter for the Washington Evening Star, reported Wednesday that in the course of his search for a job some time ago, he answered an innocent-looking ad in a trade magazine.

The ad called for a newsman with experience in community and international affairs, fluent in foreign languages, and prepared to accept a challenging assignment abroad. Liberal pay, benefits and moving expenses were offered too. "Lightweights," the ad said, need not apply.

Ostro sent off a resume to the company listed under a New York post office box, and some weeks later received a letter from Ann Arbor, Mich. It was signed by a man who said he was a representative of the CIA.

For the purposes of his story, Ostro identified the company as the America Development Corp., and the CIA official as Ralph P. Penrod. Neither were the actual names used in the event.

As Ostro tells it, the letter asked him to come to Ann Arbor and a "modern type building set back from the main road... for an interview."

It also urged him to keep all this business confidential and not reveal the CIA's sponsorship of the ad. Ostro said he never got to Ann Arbor, but did talk on the telephone with Penrod.

"We're very interested in you," Ostro was told. "How do you get along with your wife?" "Fine," the newsman replied. "That's too bad," said Penrod. "We're really looking for someone who wants to leave his family for two years, maybe more. Like somebody who's getting a divorce. That would be ideal."

Ostro said he was a little stunned and asked if abandoning one's family was really a prerequisite for this job with the CIA. He said his wife was English and asked if it wouldn't be all right to leave her with her family in England and visit from time to time.

Penrod didn't think that would do at all, and then did a verbal double-take. "Wait a (See CIA, Page 3)

Deposits Vary In Pampa Banks

By RON CROSS

Deposits were up at one Pampa bank and down at another after a call of bank conditions as of June 30 by the state and federal comptroller.

Bank deposits at the First National were up slightly over the previous call on April 5 but were down slightly at the Citizens Bank and Trust Company.

Figures for June 30, 1966 at First National showed $19,868,576.37 on deposit compared with $19,616,122.02 for April 5, 1966 and $19,285,541.44 for June 30, 1965.

Citizen's Bank had $13,485,375.88 on deposit June 30, 1966 compared to $14,080,348.62 on April 5 and $13,557,015.60 on June 30, 1965.

Across the state Texas banks showed a spotty pattern of new highs and lower levels. Bank deposits in Amarillo, San Antonio and Austin were lower than the previous call on April 5. But deposits in Dallas, Harris, and Tarrant counties were up.

Vacations were blamed for the drop in deposits in Amarillo. Floyd Watson, president of First National said that even though deposits were up at the First National Bank, "deposits can fluctuate as much as half-million dollars a day."

The banking situation, a leading Fort Worth banker said, is altering because bank loans are leveling off in support of the Federal Reserve, "the only agency to cope with the inflation problem."

Bank deposits in Dallas hit a new mid-year record of $3,931,938,264.65, a 4 per cent gain over a year ago but down sharply from previous bank calls that had showed deposits up as much as 10 per cent.

Harris Up

Harris County's 86 banks had $46,815,420 more than they did last April and up more than $266 million from a year ago. Deposits totaled $3,644,539,774 this year.

Bandit Forgets To Sign Note For $1,500 Loan

DES MOINES (UPI)—Money is going to be harder to get at the "yes" bank in the future.

"We're a full service bank with the yes address... but this is ridiculous."

It seemed that a man in a straw hat not only forgot to sign a note, but obtained the $1,500 by pointing a gun at a teller and saying, "This is a stick-up."

The bank felt this was an abuse of their open door policy.

"You have no need to use a gun to get a loan from us at the yes bank," the ad said. "As much as we're flattered by your choice of banks... we must insist that you not get the idea that we will condone this type of borrowing again."

Planes Hit Haiphong Outskirts

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Navy bombers returned to North Viet Nam's biggest oil depot just two miles outside the port of Haiphong today and smashed what was left of it.

One A4 Skyhawk was shot down by ground fire but the pilot was rescued, spokesmen said.

Two other planes, one a two-man bomber, were downed by ground fire Wednesday in other action and all three men were missing, officials disclosed.

The raids on the oil installation along the south bank of the Cua Cam River was a return engagement for the facility first smashed in the attacks June 29 that also hit the outskirts of nearby Hanoi.

Smoke boiled four miles into the air over the docks area and pilots reported a gigantic fireball set off by a secondary explosion.

The United States stepped up its air strikes—310 in three record-setting days—as the military pressed home President Johnson's vow to punish North Viet Nam until it is ready to talk peace.

SALES TAX MAY JUMP

Chances of Escaping Tax Increase Are Nil

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Bad news for almost everyone today—chances of escaping a higher tax are rather nil. While the federal government seemingly can't make up its mind if the income tax rates will go up, Texas will probably have to increase the sales tax to break even.

This was the gist of an interim legislative subcommittee's report Wednesday.

The subcommittee did not make any recommendations or predict how much it would cost to run Texas.

The group said an increase from the present 2 per cent to 3 per cent in the sales tax would bring in about $144.8 million more a year.

The state could also do away with the present exemption of food sold for off premises consumption.

But the subcommittee suggested the legislature convening next year look into the feasibility of upping the sales tax and ending the food exemption together. A similar hike in motor vehicle sales tax rates was also proposed.

The sales tax stands out as far and away the most productive source of additional tax revenue within the confines of the existing state tax structure," the report said.

The subcommittee also recommended the study of whether sales taxes could be applied to prescription drugs which would bring the state $5 million.

Other items suggested to be more heavily taxed and the predicted revenue they would bring included: cigarettes and tobacco products $9 million, alcoholic beverages $11 million, telephone and telegraph service $9.7 million, farm machinery $3.6 million and gas and electric utilities $4 million.

Warsaw Nations Indict US For Viet Air Strikes

BUCHAREST (UPI)—The Communist Warsaw Pact nations, apparently unable to mend rifts within the troubled military alliance, were unanimous today in their condemnation of American air strikes on the Hanoi-Haiphong areas in North Viet Nam.

The leaders of the seven-nation alliance ended three days of military and political talks Wednesday by signing a communique that said they had drafted a statement about the Vietnamese war "in the light of the new criminal action by the American armed forces."

This was undoubtedly a reference to attacks on oil supplies and transportation facilities around Hanoi and Haiphong by U.S. Air Force and Navy war planes in the past few days.

The communique was expected to be released within the next 24 hours along with another, signed Tuesday, urging agreement on measures to strengthen peace and security on the European continent.

However, the question of strengthening the Warsaw Pact—the prime topic at the Communist summit conference—apparently remained unsolved. The communiques of Viet Nam and Europe were believed being issued as substitutes for a declaration of support for the military alliance as it now stands.

Prior to the Communism meeting, Russia, whose domination of the Warsaw Pact Romania opposes, had requested that the alliance be strengthened and consolidated in the face of "U.S. aggression" and the dangers from a "revanchist" (revenge-seeking) West Germany.

But the Romanians unilaterally cut the period of compulsory military service that their men must undergo and maintain the lowest military budget in the East European alliance. They also object to having direct military channels of command between the defense establishments of the member states.

Deadly Chemical Dropped in City By Spray Plane

ARGYLE, Minn. (UPI)—Half the population of this village fled today after a pilot mistakenly sprayed the town with a chemical deadly to humans.

Dr. Ervin Pumala, acting county medical officer, said the pilot laid down a blanket of parathion, which can be fatal if it is breathed, eaten or absorbed through the skin, late Wednesday night and early today.

Half the population of 800, most of them children, fled. Supplies of an antidote, called atropine, were rushed to the area. By mid morning Pumala said he had given the antidote to two children who "might have been troubled."

Some officials remaining in the town said they had sores on their mouths, apparently from small doses of the chemical.

Officials said the chemical was sprayed over the town for two hours late Wednesday night and early today. It was intended to kill mosquitoes but police said the wrong chemical, normally used to kill bugs or worms, was used instead.

About 400 of the town's 825 persons fled their homes.

Army to Draft 31,300 Men In September Call

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army will draft 31,300 men in September and will boost its combined calls for July and August by 6,000 men, the Defense Department announced today.

The Pentagon said the July levy had to be increased by 2,000 and the August one by 4,000 because Army enlistments for those months are going to fall short of earlier estimates.

The Army now will take in 28,500 men in July and 36,600 in August.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Hippodrome," a new comedy-variety-circus series taped in England by a partnership of American and British firms, bowed in Tuesday night on CBS-TV, and it was one of our less exciting international alliances.

The one hour program, beautiful to look at in color, replaces the Red Skelton show for the summer, and it is the comedian's firm that is partnered with a British company in the production.

The general format is that a different American entertainer hosts each week to U.S. and British guest stars and top acts of European circuses. The premiere host was comedian Jack Carter.

If one were to sum up the debut, it might be described as something old, not much new, a good deal borrowed, and a considerable amount blue. The blueness came in the form of Carter's often-funny but borderline risqué gags that seemed frequently out of tune with the obvious family-appeal attempt of the show.

Likewise, the hour was reminiscent of so many things that one has seen regularly on television — the Ed Sullivan show; Don Ameche's circus series, "International Showtime"; and just about any run-of-the-mill variety program.

There is one thing, however, that the series did have and that is a truly imaginative and elegant setting that makes it seem more pleasant than it really is to tune in. The set is a sort of center ring or stage surrounded by multi-level, para-style boxes for the audience, at least they look like boxes, with the whole thing illuminated spectacularly by countless plain but decoratively arranged bulbs.

The setting does have its occasional problems, however, for the performers who may have trouble working in the round. For example songstress Jane Morgan did her numbers without playing to the people all around her, which means many in the British audience had her performing away from them, which violates a cardinal show business rule. Carter smartly worked around to all those on hand.

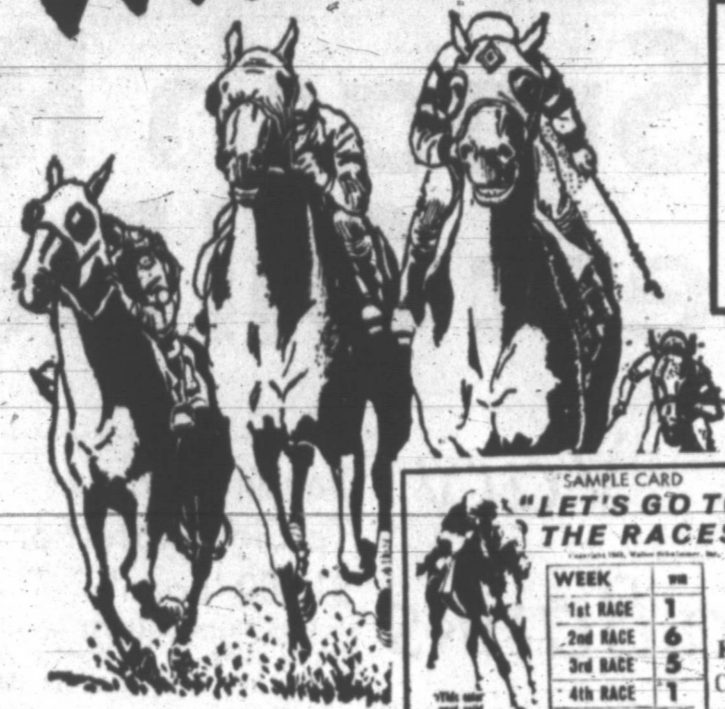

Perhaps one of the reasons the show didn't seem very exciting is that there were a good number of so-called "dangerous" circus acts — the serialist, the lion tamer; the sword-balancer, the high-perch pair, and so forth. Yet really, the advance taping of so-called dangerous circus acts takes all the element of fear or thrills out of them because we know the network is hardly likely to present a segment that involves a fatal or otherwise serious mishap. No one in his right mind, of course, wants to see a danger is undeniably gone.

In short, "Hippodrome" is the kind of show one can watch while listening to a baseball game on the side, without much fear of missing anything.

City's Annual Chemical War Waged Nightly

Chemical warfare is being waged nightly in Pampa. The battle front is along city streets and alleys, the enemy is comprised of flies and mosquitoes and the offensive is being pushed by the city's department of public works.

Public Works Director R. B. Cooke said today a fogging machine is covering all city areas in continuous rounds from 4 p.m. to midnight five nights a week.

So far, Cooke stated, the city is winning the battle. He added that while the mosquito advance on the city has not been as bad this year as last, flies have moved in with reinforcements.

The city-wide fogging program, Cooke added, is effective. This is attested, he said, by fewer complaints from residents.

Cooke emphasized that residents should remain away from the area of the fogging machine's path as much as possible.

"This is especially true of children," Cooke said. "Parents should warn them to stay away from the fog area which cuts visibility almost to zero in its immediate zone."

$38,085 Damage Suit Filed In District Court

Charles Blankenship and wife, Alice, of Bakersfield, Calif., filed a $38,085 damage suit in District Court Clerk Helen Sprinkle's office Wednesday afternoon against Hazel Jones Radcliff, 1201 S. Christy.

In the suit, Blankenship said on July 13, 1964 he and his wife were traveling on U.S. Highway 66 in Western Oklahoma and attempted to pass a car driven by Mrs. Radcliff.

Blankenship alleges as he started to pass Mrs. Radcliff's vehicle the woman turned in front of his car, causing the Blankenship vehicle to go off the road and hit a tree.

Blankenship alleges both he and his wife suffered painful injuries that have disabled them.

Perryton Youth Killed in Wreck

PERRYTON, Tex. (UPI) — Jimmy Lee Pickett, 26 of Perryton was killed today in a traffic accident in the Oklahoma Panhandle.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol said Pickett's car ran off U.S. 83 as it approached a small curve, knocked down five guard posts and overturned six times while traveling 543 feet out of control. The driver, traveling alone, was thrown out.

The accident occurred in Beaver County, Okla., about six miles north of Perryton.

Captured Troops Paraded Through Hanoi Streets

TOKYO (UPI) — Dozens of captured American airmen were herded through the streets of Hanoi under armed guard Wednesday night while angry mobs shouted "death to the American air pirates," the Communist North Vietnamese News Agency (VNA) reported today.

The VNA dispatch, monitored in Tokyo, said the captives ranged in rank from lieutenants to commanders and were from the U.S. 7th Fleet carriers or bases in South Viet Nam and Thailand. It did not say exactly how many there were or give any identifications.

The agency said tens of thousands of residents poured into the streets of the North Vietnamese capital to watch the airmen being taken by armed guards to a place where they will be interrogated.

It said "in the face of the wrathful shouted protests of the population, all of them marched docilely with heads bent, their faces pale and sweating with fear."

"At many places, angry people stepped forward, shaking their fists and shouting 'down with the U.S. aggressors' and other slogans, the agency said.

The dispatch said the crowds, however, showed considerable discipline.

"Otherwise, the sheer thought of these crimes might have prompted them to tear Johnson's skywarriors to pieces," the agency said.

Jets

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London disclosed he would go to Moscow as well as Washington this month for talks.

Undersecretary of State George Ball in Washington said Wednesday there were signs of some "war-weariness" in North Viet Nam and Vice President Hubert Humphrey said in Los Angeles there were "flickering" bits of evidence Hanoi might be interested in a solution to the conflict.

Handled Big Supplies

The bombs on the oil depot which had handled 95 per cent of all North Viet Nam's petroleum imports underscored the diplomatic pressure.

The Skyhawks from the aircraft carrier Hancock struck in broad daylight at 1 p.m. (p.m. CST).

All bombs were on target, spokesman reported.

They said after today's raid that only three ships were in the outer harbor of the port but none was at the piers.

The 80 Air Force and 33 Navy missions Wednesday continued the upsurge in strikes against military and supply targets in North Viet Nam. It topped the previous record of 106 flown Tuesday and the record of 91 missions flown the day before on the Fourth of July.

The raiders struck in the Communist nation's southern panhandle where Communist men and supplies roll toward battle in the South and in the section north of Hanoi which is rich with railroads, staging areas and oil depots.

The closest target to Hanoi was 26 miles to the north. Pilots cut railroad lines, struck three oil depots and a missile site.

BERRY'S WORLD

Lawsuit

The District Court of Civil Appeals will be the final tribunal in the case. If it should uphold Carubbi's contention, the case would be remanded to 31st District Court, here for rehearing.

If the Amarillo court should rule against Carubbi and uphold Judge Goodrich's decision, that would end the contest and Judge Craig would be declared winner of the election and be the Democratic nominee for county judge at the Nov. 8 general election.

The Texas Election Code provides that the Court of Civil Appeals has final jurisdiction in election contests.

The State Democratic Executive Committee has taken an interest in the case and is expected to be represented in court when the appeal is heard.

Will Davis, state Democratic chairman, has stated the committee is interested because of what he called a threat to closed party primaries in Texas if the decision of Judge Goodrich is allowed to stand.

Shows

Three Panhandle counties were under a severe thunderstorm watch for five hours Wednesday night but no turbulence developed.

The alert, for Ochiltree, Lipscomb and Hansford Counties, along the Oklahoma line, called for large hail and damaging winds.

Heavy rains fell along the Lower Gulf Coast again Wednesday. Victoria got .70 of an inch.

It was another hot day with Presidio recording 104 degrees and Wichita Falls 103. It was 101 at Childress and 98 at Lubbock.

Movies

The city passed the disputed ordinances after failing in a court attempt to charge the owners with violation of the Texas penal code.

The appeals court said the city was "well within its legitimate police powers in enacting reasonable ordinances to protect children in its public streets and highways from viewing 'bare buttocks' or 'bare female breasts'."

The three-judge court also turned down Chemline's appeal that a $25 license fee required by statutes violated the theater owners' constitutional rights to freedom of expression.

"That's right, English," Ostro said.

Penrod then related how this would make a security clearance very hard to come by and demurred at Ostro's protest that "the British are on our side."

"I guess so," Penrod said, "but you never know. In any case, we don't like our agents to have foreign wives."

"Or any wives at all," Ostro said.

"I guess you might look at it that way," said Penrod, telling Ostro he was sorry that things hadn't worked out for this assignment.

"We'll keep you in mind," Penrod said, in a version of what in non-spy circles is known as "don't call us. We'll call you."

Buy Birds for Insects, Advises Garden Club

By LARRY HOLLIS
Daily News Reporter

Would you like to get rid of mosquitoes and other bothersome flying insects?

If so, raise purple martins, advised Mrs. Ira Carlton, immediate past president of the Pampa Garden Club.

Each martin eats 2,000 flying insects a day. A large enough number living in Pampa during the summer would greatly decrease the number of mosquitoes, gnats and so on, Mrs. Carlton said.

Martins are migratory birds who spend the winter in Brazil, but if they are satisfied with their surroundings, they will return from summer to summer. Apartments could be built to house the birds, she added.

This is just one of the projects members of the Pampa Garden Club would like to accomplish. The purpose of the club is "to encourage improvement in the home and grounds and to promote civic pride in the appearance of Pampa."

To achieve this, members have planted flowers and shrubs around the town, and made other landscape improvements, stated the club's current finance chairman.

Some of the recent projects include plantings of irises at City Hall, Lee Junior High and the Chamber of Commerce office, and roses at the fire station. These have all been in connection with "Operation Sparkle," a city-wide beautification project.

"Most projects are conducted mostly in the summertime in the parks," Mrs. Carlton stated. "The club usually has to gain permission from the city for projects and use of city water, though the club buys most of the materials for planting."

"We are talking with the city," said Mrs. Carlton, "on starting in the next year or two, a nature trail along Red Deer Creek."

Funds for the projects are obtained mainly from club dues, plant and flower sales, and rummage sales.

"There are so many things we could do," Mrs. Carlton said, "if we had the money, or the city, to help us."

In addition to helping the city, club members are also interested in helping other organizations. Flowering shrubs are available for various organizations that would like to ornament their grounds, Mrs. Carlton said.

"All members of the garden clubs give plants from their gardens and grounds."

"I think that the greatest thing the club would like to see," stated Mrs. Carlton, "would be an effective way of combating littering."

"If we could get people," she continued, "to clean up vacant lots, get rid of litter, clean alleys, remove old junky cars, and so on, that would be something."

Pampa Garden Club is interested in improving the appearance of the city, beginning with the home. They would also like to see the rest of the nation become more beautiful, along with garden clubs across the nation.

"Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is getting more done than the garden clubs," Mrs. Carlton said. "It's been a slow process, but we're getting a lot of help from her."

The club, composed of 42 active members, is affiliated with National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc.; Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.; District I, T. G. C., Inc.; and the Pampa Council of Garden Clubs.

The Council also consists of the Mr. and Mrs. Garden Club, African-Violet Society and Pampa Rose Society. Mrs. Carlton is serving as second vice-president of the Council. Along with her husband, she is a member of the Mr. and Mrs. Club.

Current officers of the Pampa Garden Club are Mrs. W. R. Campbell, president; Melvin Stephens, first vice-president; SAVINGS BOND RECOGNITION—The Pampa division of the Celanese Chemical Co. received special recognition from the U.S. Treasury Department for the plant's savings bond program. E. L. Green Jr., left, of Pampa and district chairman for the bond program, presented the award to H. V. Wilks, plant manager. Employee participation in the payroll savings plan has now reached 73 per cent as a result of the drive.

Irate De Gaulle Cracks Down on Police System

By JOHN D. PARRY
United Press International

PARIS—The "Ben Barka Affair," one of France's major scandals of the past decade, has given President Charles de Gaulle the chance to do something he's been trying to do for years—reform the French police system.

The kidnapping of Moroccan nationalist Mehdi Ben Barka by persons vaguely identified as French secret agents revealed to the public gaze for the first time the interlocking — and sometimes overlapping — network of police, secret service and spy organizations which proliferate in this country.

It also revealed to the Frenchman in the street, and to President de Gaulle in particular, how these organizations not only duplicate each other but in many cases actually work against each other.

The President, according to close associates, was furious when he heard how the various secret police organizations were competing against each other. He demanded a chart showing exactly how each organization works, and who is responsible for it — and then decided to revamp the whole system.

Premier Georges Pompidou has been put in charge of the revamping with the express assignment from de Gaulle to bring all security organizations under one centralized command.

The reorganization goes all the way down to the lowly cop on the beat — popularly known to tourists as a "gendarme." Actually, that description is a misnomer because the man who directs traffic on the streets of Paris or other big cities is not a gendarme at all but an "agent de police."

A gendarme is a member of a para-military force controlled by the Ministry of the Armed Forces and policing rural areas — with occasional ceremonial functions in major cities.

Then there are the riot police, steel-helmeted and blue uniformed and much feared by the student demonstrators. But in the France of 1966 riots are comparatively rare, and the riot police — known in French as Compagnies Republiques de Securite (Republican Security Companies or CRS) spend most of their time stamping passports at France's borders.

They come under the Ministry of the Interior and theoretically have no connection with either the regular city police or the gendarmerie.

Also under the direction of the Ministry of the Interior are

Shook Tire Company Holds Grand Opening

Shook Tire Company, 220 N. Somerville, is having its official grand opening today, which will last until July 16.

B. F. Dorman, currently of Amarillo, is serving as manager. Four employees will operate the store.

The store is open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. during the week, with Fisk, Zenith and Michelin tires sold from the store.

During the grand opening celebrations, free cokes will be given, along with free balloons for the children, said Dorman.

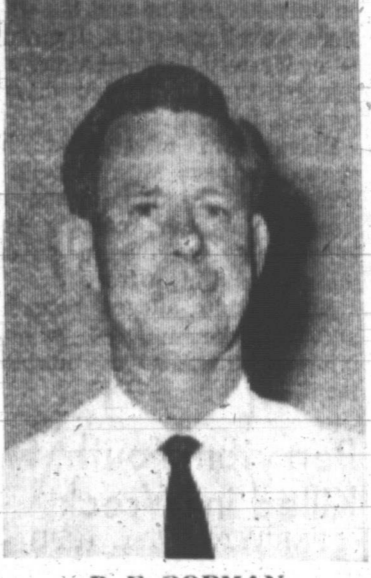

On July 16, a drawing will be held for a complete set of Fisk Super Saffi-flight tires.

The Shook name has been associated with tires in Texas since 1914. That year the Shook Rubber Company was established at Waco. Operating on a wholesale only basis, the company expanded with branches in Dallas, Amarillo, Houston and San Antonio to become one of the nation's largest independent tire wholesalers.

The present Shook Tire Company was founded in 1931 at Lubbock. In 1934 a gradual expansion program was started with the opening of a new store in San Angelo.

Now stores are located in Amarillo, Lubbock, San Angelo, Plainview, Lamesa, Sweetwater, Abilene, Odessa and Brownwood, with a new store opening in Pampa.

In 1953, the Air Force Academy was dedicated at Lowry Air Base in Colorado.

Space Agency Says Rocket Was Purposely Ruined

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The U.S. space agency has reported more than 24 hours late that the Saturn rocket it orbited as the world's heaviest satellite Tuesday was deliberately blown up in space less than seven hours after launch.

The 92-foot rocket-satellite disintegrated into about 175 pieces on its fourth pass over Corpus Christi, Tex. Tuesday and most of its remains are still in orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said in a statement late Wednesday that the powerful second stage was allowed to burst in a structural test to see how much hydrogen pressure its full tanks could stand.

There was no mention of such a test earlier. In fact, more than an hour before the rocket burst, a NASA spokesman giving a running commentary on the flight reported from the control center in Houston that the tests were completed and that the craft would remain in orbit for several days.

Before bursting, the 290,000-pound thrust second stage proved it had licked the stability problems previously associated with liquid hydrogen in weightless space, and that it could restart in orbit.

The mission cleared the rocket for use as both a second stage for the Saturn 1 earth-orbital launcher and the Saturn 5 Apollo moon rocket.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

There are still many personnel changes which will take place in nation's schools prior to Sept. 1. Many boards of education and school administrators will be seeking and interviewing candidates during the summer months.

What effect does this problem of last minute personnel changes have upon students? This sometimes results in immediate upset and insecurity for children. Children often look forward to having a particular teacher. Schools often have programs of orientation which are directly related to specific teachers. When such a teacher is replaced, the student might react by getting very upset as a result of his lack of knowledge concerning the replacement.

Under normal conditions the child will adjust in a very short period of time. Parents should not join the child in his upset feeling.

The schools can help avoid such difficult situations by careful planning of methods to introduce the replacement to the students. Some form of orientation would be extremely helpful in relieving the fears which children may develop.

The problem of personnel changes during the summer months will continue to occur. The solution lies in two areas. There is the overall effort to attract qualified individuals to the field of education which will reduce the shortage.

Parents can play a key role as individuals who support and respect the sincere job which the nation's schools are attempting to do. In addition, parents can make some very positive contributions through organizations in which they are members and through support of legislative

"Ever had a Newspaper Route?"

When a young man applies for a job he really wants—a job with "a future"—he is very apt to be asked, "Have you ever had a newspaper route?" His answer to that question may well decide whether or not he'll get the job.

Why? Because more and more employers are realizing that former newspaperboys already have a solid business background.

They've bought newspapers at wholesale—sold them at retail—and operated a business of their own. They've already learned that the only way to conduct a successful business is to give service... to keep present customers satisfied... and to get new customers.

Many of today's executives were yesterday's newspaperboys. They know that a newspaper route is the one part-time job open to a Young American that teaches initiative, the value of money and the importance of getting along with people.

Yes sir... there's no doubt about it. For jobs with "a future", employers prefer former newspaperboys.

If you have a son that you think might be interested in a newspaper route, why not write or phone us.

'Instant City' Rises In Arizona Desert

By GEORGE SKELTON
United Press International
LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz. (UPI)—This being an age of instants—everything from coffee and tea to divorce—it's not too surprising to find an "instant city" sprouting under the desert sun along the blue-green waters of the meandering Colorado River.

The place is called Lake Havasu City, named after an adjacent 45-mile long reservoir backed up by Parker Dam—the same dam that during the '30s nearly caused a shootout over water rights between Arizona National Guardsmen and California workmen.

The lake gives the city instant recreation and the vast Mojave and Sonora deserts offer it probably the nation's largest instant backyard.

"We've got everything Palms Springs has plus a lake," says C. V. Wood Jr., the planner who also designed Disneyland. "It's the only place in the country where a man can live in the desert and on a fresh water lake too."

It wasn't too long ago that if a man expressed an interest in living out here on the dunes he would have been suspected of staying in the sun too long or consuming peyote—a drug derived from cactus and occasionally chewed by local Indians. Seems things have changed.

WOOD SAYS there'll be 6,000 here by 1965. Already there are 2,000. That's a considerable increase over the dozen or so six years ago—not counting all the mule deer, desert bighorn sheep, coyotes, jack rabbits and wild burros.

Why would anyone want to live on the desert? "I don't know," says Wood, "a million people in Arizona want to. Maybe people who come here feel they're part of the Old West."

Naturally, Wood has a lot of things going for him besides guesses and maybes. The fact is his employer, McCulloch Corp., large chain-saw manufacturer now headquartered in Los Angeles, plans a major plant expansion here. Three plants already are on hand. Several more are slated to follow.

Robert P. McCulloch "discovered" Havasu in 1952 while searching for a fresh body of water to test out the firm's outboard motors.

NOW, THE CITY has two hotels, a trailer park, an elaborate public campground, stores, golf course and a $1 million marina.

Large lots cost $4,000 up. For that the buyer gets water, power and paved streets—plus a good shot at the bass and trout that populate the lake and river, waterfowl shooting in the fall, mineral collecting in the Chemhuevi Mountains and year-around boating up the scenic, steep-cliffed Colorado.

Wood expects this to be the third largest city in Arizona by 1965.

Meanwhile, McCulloch keeps flying in an average of 400 potential lot buyers each week. They arrive from as far as St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago.

"You ought to see these people when they get off the plane from Chicago in January," Wood says. "They can't believe it."

How about summer? "It takes about 10 minutes to get used to the desert heat, then it doesn't matter any more. It kind of grows on you."

WHERE THE (WINTER) ACTION IS—Something left over from an out-of-season travel poster? No, it's what's happening now down under in Australia where the winter sports season is in full swing. Riding high in the chair lift are two University of Michigan students, Fred Parr and George Knox, who took advantage of the seasonal turnaround south of the equator to visit Thredbo Village resort in the Snowy Mountains near the Australian capital of Canberra.

Bills Would Make Federal Crime To Desecrate Flag

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A speaker at a meeting on the Purdue University campus at Lafayette, Ind., ripped the American flag in two, spat on it, then stomped on it.

In a Greenwich Village theater, an actor in the play "LBJ" burned an American flag.

At a Cordele, Ga., civil rights demonstration, the national and state flags were torn down and desecrated.

These and similar incidents across the country this year have produced a spate of bills in Congress to make desecration of the flag a federal crime. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., introduced a Senate measure April 13 with the comment that "it is rather singular that there is no federal statute to deal with such an offense."

TEMPTRESS—Actress Marianna Hill strikes a pose in a white bikini during the filming of "Paradise—Hawaiian Style," in which she plays a Polynesian temptress with Elvis Presley as her target.

Serve Turkey the Modern Way

NEW AND DIFFERENT -- "The modern way is so different," the two old sages must be saying. This new frozen turkey roast can be cooked in just 2 hours and 15 minutes.

It is the modern way to have old-fashioned turkey and gravy flavor in the modern-family size and in the modern-family time of just 2 hours and 15 minutes. You can now make old-fashioned turkey giblet gravy in a modern three minutes with the grains of gravy packet included with each roast.

Things aren't like they used to be and isn't it nice? Now "Thanksgiving every Thursday" is a matter of spending ten to fifteen minutes actual preparation time and letting the oven and the roast do the rest.

Dress up the platter with golden cling peaches dotted with butter and slipped into the oven at the last minute. Just before serving, add a dollop of tart cranberry jelly.

Food Buying Guide
EDITOR'S NOTE: This guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this coming weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wholesale prices on produce and meat are going up and down as is the weather. Chuck roasts and a d steak cuts are in good supply at reasonable prices in most areas. And in the pork section, ham, chops and roasts are plentiful. Broilers-fryers and turkeys are the mainstays, and in some areas, eggs are the best protein buy for the weekend.

Cabbage leads the summer vegetable list. Cucumbers, lettuce, onions and peppers are next. Green peppers are really green and fresh, and potatoes are here to stay — late spring and early summer potatoes are freshly harvested.

The vegetable list continues with radishes, squash, and tomatoes to round out the weekly menus.

Avocados, bananas, cantaloupes, all varieties of grapes, peaches, watermelons and cherries are the plentiful in the fruit department.

The plentiful for July are plums, peaches, watermelons and seasonal vegetables.

New Way for Oldie
Try an old favorite made by a new method—liver and onions prepared with soup mix instead of fresh onions. Dust 1 pound of calves liver, sliced with 1/4 cup of flour. Shake off excess flour and brown liver quickly on both sides in skillet in 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine. Remove liver from skillet. Add 1 1/2 cups of water and (1 1/2-ounce) can of onion soup mix. Bring to boil; cover and simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Return liver to skillet long enough to reheat. Garnish with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

HAVE a BALL
of ice cream or sherbet with Dr Pepper

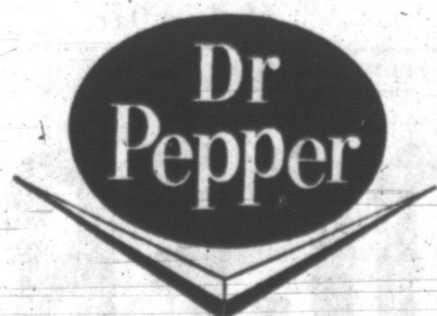

Hang tradition!

Sure—vanilla ice cream and Dr Pepper makes the best float possible, and always has.

But why be a conformist when so many exciting new taste treats are possible? Pour distinctively different Dr Pepper or Diet Dr Pepper over your favorite sherbet flavor—or a rainbow of several flavors.

Let that happy blend of delicious fruit flavors pamper... sparkle... enliven... bring out the best of other flavors of ice cream. Or be really daring—invent your own masterpiece of ice creams and sherbets with the soft drink that is not a cola, not a root beer, delightful Dr Pepper.

Be inventive—live it up—have a ball!

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESLEM
UPI Food Editor

GROTON, Conn. (UPI)—Food, not fuel, limits the time that nuclear submarines stay submerged.

Nuclear power gives these subsurmersibles almost unlimited endurance, says the U.S. Navy, but no one has yet developed a submarine with unlimited food storage space.

Food is an important morale factor on patrols. I was told during a visit to the USS James K. Polk, the Polk, the navy's newest commissioned Polaris-firing submarine, was in port here during sea trials prior to her commissioning.

Meals aboard both nuclear and diesel-powered subs are so good that they've earned the navy submarine force a reputation for the best food in the services.

On a fleet ballistic missile (FBM) ship such as the Polk, daily food service includes soup-downs when watches change three times daily, unlimited between-meal snacks, as well as the usual breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Soup-down is a navy tradition that dates from the days when sailors drank hot soup before standing watch in cold decks. Today's version is a meal in itself. Yet I saw surprisingly few stout submariners.

One deterrent to over-eating is a navy directive. It allows for discharge from the service if a man is more than 10 per cent overweight, said an officer and a non-com whose duties include meal-planning and cooking.

I talked with Lt. Jerome Kasriel, of Tampa, Fla., a supply officer, and Chief Commissaryman Ramon D. Baney, of Muncie, Ind.

Climbing up and down all those steep hatchways between decks obviously helps burn extra calories. But some submariners carry exercise machines.

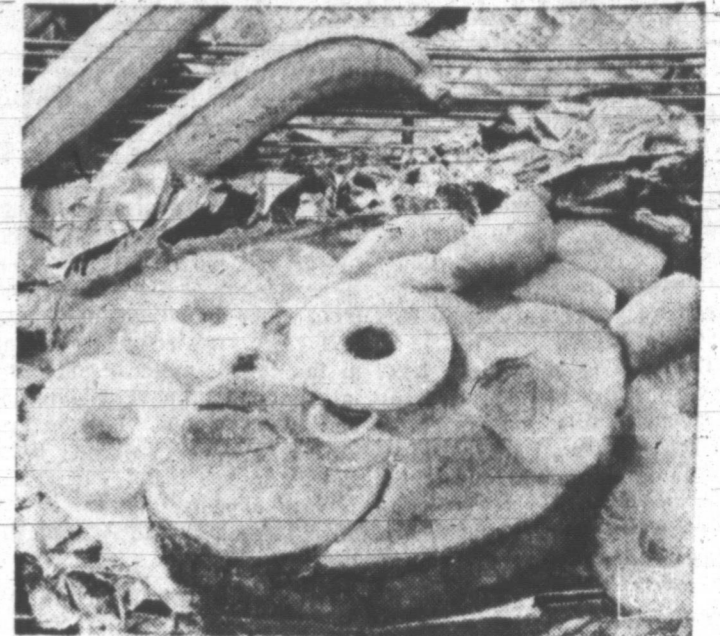

Most submariners cycle themselves down to two regular meals daily when they're on patrol by sleeping through or passing it a third.

Grill Ham Tropical Style

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When the man of your house gets that charcoal look in his eyes, hint (but of course never suggest) that he just might like to try something a bit exotic. Then lay this recipe on the table and quickly walk out of the room.

PINEAPPLE AND HAM is a natural weight.

The result — you and he and your guests will thoroughly enjoy these Polynesian pineapple n' ham packages grilled over hot coals.

POLYNESIAN PINEAPPLE 'N' HAM PACKAGES
(Serves 6)

1 center cut ham slice (1 1/2 inches thick)

1 (1-pound 4 1/2 ounce) can pineapple slices

1-3 cup rum or 1/4 cup orange juice and 1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 tablespoon dry mustard

1 teaspoon powdered ginger

2 tablespoons brown sugar

2 (1-pound) cans yams

1 tablespoon butter

Trim fat from ham. Brown ham lightly on both sides on grill over hot coals. Blend 1/2 cup syrup drained from pineapple with rum, mustard, ginger, brown sugar and butter.

Heat in small pan on grill. Place ham slice in center of large piece of heavy foil. Foil should be large enough to enclose ham, pineapple and yams with a little free space for steam to gather. Fold up edges and pour in warm rum syrup. Seal package with drug-store fold. Grill about 8 inches above coals, turning every 15 minutes, for 45 minutes. Open packet, arrange drained pineapple slices and yams around and over ham. Spoon sauce over all to moisten. Close foil loosely and continue grilling 10 minutes longer; open packet and grill another 5 minutes until heated through.

TOKYO — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, defending recent bombing raids in the Hanoi-Haiphong area:

"We are not interested in bombing civilian populations and we have not bombed Hanoi and Haiphong."

LOS ANGELES — Vice President Hubert Humphrey, rejecting the doctrine of "black power" in a speech before the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People:

"We must reject calls for racism, whether they come from a throat that is white or one that is black. It is all the same."

John Jr. Making Rapid Recovery From Minor Burn

HONOLULU (UPI) — John Kennedy Jr. is making a rapid recovery from the burns he suffered last week in a camping accident, and his doctor today described his condition as "excellent."

The five-year-old son of the late President suffered painful but minor burns on his arm and backside when he fell into a bed of hot coals while vacationing on the big island of Hawaii. He was flown to Honolulu and underwent "routine minor surgery" for removal of blisters resulting from the burns.

Dr. Eldon Dykes told UPI John-John is "doing very well. He is fine and making an excellent recovery."

Dr. Dykes has been treating John at his vacation home on the Henry J. Kaiser estate outside Honolulu.

John's two cousins — Sydney and Christopher Lawford — left for their mainland home Wednesday, but John and his sister Caroline will not suffer for a lack of playmates. Eight or ten neighborhood children have joined the late President's two children at the spacious grounds of the Kaiser estate where the Kennedys are expected to remain for another ten days or two weeks.

Bing Crosby's Son Ordered To Pay $600 Alimony

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The expectant wife of Bing Crosby's son, Phillip, was granted a default divorce Wednesday in a closed session in Superior Court.

Mrs. Mary Joyce Crosby, 26, testified that Crosby, 32, was away from home often and used profane language in her presence.

Her attorney said he requested a private hearing because Mrs. Crosby was expecting her second child momentarily and was "highly nervous."

Judge Roger A. Pfaff said Crosby had agreed to pay $600 monthly alimony and child support.

The couple was married in Las Vegas, Nev., Aug. 21, 1964, and separated Nov. 30, 1964. Crosby previously was married to Las Vegas showgirl Sandra Drummond. They had two children before their 1963 divorce.

F. Byrd Jr., telling why the seriousness of the illness of his father, former U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd Sr., was withheld until the sick man went into a coma:

"The family could not release the nature of his illness until assured by his doctors that he would never know the hopelessness of the situation."

HONOLULU — Dr. Eldon Dykes, describing the progress of John F. Kennedy Jr., who suffered minor but painful burns last week:

"He is fine and making an excellent recovery."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newton Co. Inc. points out that while not much buying power was evident in recent sessions, there also has been a significant lack of selling pressure. He says if some upside volume could be generated, the market would be materially improved. The analyst also feels that the rails do not seem in too much danger of penetrating May lows and this could eventually provide a base for a seasonal rally.

Washburn & Co., Inc. says that while analysts are talking about the tight money situation, the high interest rates and Viet Nam, they are ignoring positive influences such as record earnings and dividends, favorable price earning ratios and the fact that the already steep decline in the market makes allowances for many uncertainties.

Hornblower & Weeks Hemphill, Noyes believes that if the utility component of the Dow Jones average could reverse its extended decline, a change for the better would be strongly suggested. But if this indicator continues to drift lower, then a test of the 850-865 level in the industrial average may be imminent, the analyst says.

DOG DUTY — Newport, Ark., has come up with sure-fire protection against the postman's bane, hostile dogs. It's another dog, named Postman, Postman, who makes his bed in the rear of the post office and never misses his daily rounds, stands guard as carrier James McCoy takes mail from a deposit box.

Investigator Allegedly Paid $4,000 to Rig Ratings on TV Show

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — An author-investigator who tried to rig the ratings on television shows was allegedly paid $4,000 by the husband of Carol Channing, whose television special was one of the shows involved, it was revealed Wednesday.

Rex Sparger, of Oklahoma City, a former congressional investigator, has admitted trying to influence the ratings on the Feb. 18, 1966, television production, "A Night with Carol Channing," and four other network shows.

He said he wanted to write a book, "How to Rig Ratings for a Profit."

According to federal court records, a teller at the Oklahoma City Liberty National Bank, Ayleen Chilton, testified that on Jan. 11 she cashed a $4,000 check signed by Miss Channing's husband, Charles F. Lowe, and paid the money to Sparger.

Lowe's firm managed Miss Channing's show.

Sparger said Lowe paid him for "legitimate research" on commercial effectiveness and not for anything else.

In Los Angeles, Lowe's

attorney Robert L. Richardson, said "at no time did Mr. Lowe have any intent of engaging in manipulation of the rating system."

"He hired Mr. Sparger for a job of research—a job like Mr. Sparger had performed for many other clients in the television industry."

Sparger, who is the defendant in a $1.5 million lawsuit by the A. C. Nielsen Co., said he obtained a list of about 60 Nielsen sample homes from a trash bin near the firm's Chicago office and other sources. He said he attempted to influence the ratings of the five shows by mailing questionnaires to the sample homes and offering them fees to answer questions concerning the commercials.

In 1953, Lavrenti Beria, the Russian chief of the internal security forces, was purged from the Communist party hierarchy.

The shamrock symbolizes loyalty and is also a Christian symbol for the Trinity.

The color green symbolizes hope of eternal life in liturgical use.

He said he was trying to prove that the ratings system was unfair.

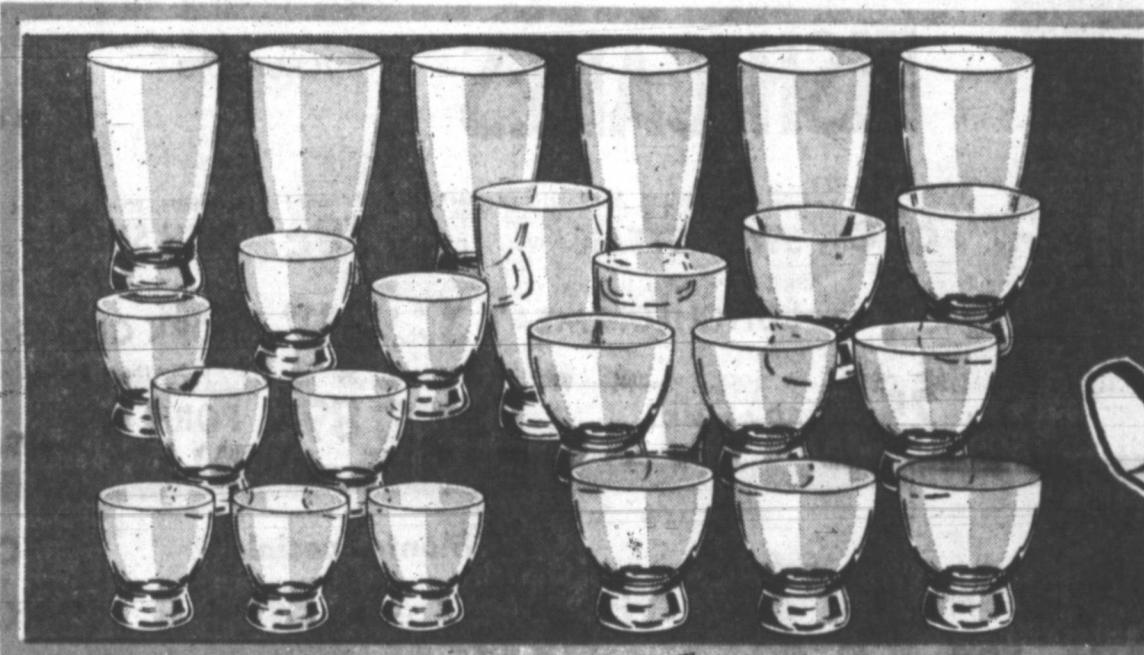

Sparger said he went to Chicago last week to try to settle the suit but Nielsen officials demanded the right to censor his book and also tried to "shak-down" Lowe for $100,000.

The shamrock symbolizes loyalty and is also a Christian symbol for the Trinity.

The color green symbolizes hope of eternal life in liturgical use.

Dear Abby... 'Out of Shape' But Not Out of Place

DEAR ABBY: An old flame of my husband is now married. (Thank heavens.) She is pregnant and is big as a barrel. Well, she sings in the choir, and last Sunday was there, right in the front row, looking a sight, and my mother-in-law said she was the prettiest girl in the choir. My husband agreed with her!

Abby, I nearly flipped. Do you think it was proper for a woman that out-of-shape to sing in a choir that doesn't provide choir robes? I have been in quite a few churches and have never seen anything like that.

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: If she had been just any "out-of-shape" choir member would it have offended you? I doubt it. Be honest. Your mother-in-law's needling, and your husband's agreement with her, were the real irritants. Since when is a woman big with child out of place in a church — in the choir or anywhere else?

DEAR ABBY: I recently borrowed a beautiful, antique, crystal cut glass punch bowl from a bachelor friend. It had been given to him by his family. Well, you guessed it. When I washed it, I used too hot water, and the bowl split right down the middle — in half! I took it to a china repair shop and they assured me of a first-class job for $14.

They did say that although it would lose much of its value if the owner ever wanted to sell it. What should I do, Abby? I must tell the man, of course, and I would gladly replace the bowl no matter what the cost.

Should I go ahead and have the bowl repaired? Or should I just try to find a replacement? Please help me, I am desperate.

BORROWED TROUBLE DEAR TROUBLE: First find a replacement as nearly like the original. Present it to the gentleman with your apologies and an explanation. Return the broken bowl and let him decide whether he wants to have it repaired.

DEAR ABBY: I would give 10 years of my life to be a professional wrestler, but I don't know how to go about it. I am 42 years old, weigh 145 pounds, and know I would be good at wrestling if I had some training. I can lift 200 pounds off the floor and shoulder it with no trouble at all.

I work in a furniture factory nine hours a day, then go home and work around the house until 11 p.m., and I'm still not fit. My children are grown, and I could go anywhere in the country for training. I am also a lady. Can you help me?

WANTS TO WRESTLE DEAR WANTS: Ask the sports editor of your local newspaper how to contact a promoter. Or inquire at the local gym where wrestlers work out. This shouldn't be a hard game to muscle in on. Good luck.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PEGGY: Don't let him retire if you can talk him out of it. You'll have twice as much husband on half as much income.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

The good little button earring has gone wacky. Its now thumb length and square and covers about half the ear.

Help Children Enjoy Traveling

By AILEEN SNOODY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Many youngsters who relish the idea of rocketing to the moon may be extremely poor earth travelers.

The reason rests with their experiences when on the road with the family. It doesn't take a $25-an-hour psychoanalyst to explain this phenomenon.

A baby absorbs the attitudes around him and an infant who travels with parents who are relatively calm and well-organized is soon a seasoned traveler. Trips that become family battling grounds cause more than one upset stomach.

Parents are not Pollyannas when they team up to overcome unpleasant situations when traveling with children.

Before a trip begins, set ground rules on allowances for the youngsters. A good lecture on behavior in restaurants is also an aid to group control when traveling.

Age is a factor and a four-month-old baby proves a gurgling loss in the orders department. Of the approximately 4 million babies born each year in the United States almost all take some trips with parents before they are 3 years old. The mother who packs a separate kit for baby, takes along baby food or formula and tells the motel or hotel there will be a baby to cater to is doing herself a favor, too.

Babies are irritated by new routine. The squalling of tots in railroad, airline or bus terminals lets everyone know when they are upset by this. Try, as much as possible, to maintain his routine. A tote bag used as baby's traveling case saves scrambling for necessities.

And don't forget baby's cuddly toys. On a long car ride, divert a youngster with a hand puppet, one that is washable.

But baby isn't the only passenger needing a break from mile upon mile of uneventful thrushays.

On a planned motor trip, excursions to small communities are fun. But there had better be something on the side of the road for youngsters older than four to see or do. It is the unusual child who is content to wander through innumerable antique shops with his parents.

Take along a few games for day or overnight stops. Mary Hill, game editor for a publishing company (Whitman), suggests a checker set, magic slate, a favorite doll or stuffed toy, soldiers and cars.

When traveling with children, the father who insists on driving through 10 or more hours will find he has a rebellious tribe on his hands upon arrival. A pleasant stop for lunch and a morning and afternoon break relieve travel boredom.

Weddings Mean Thank-You Notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — A bride can make a beautiful beginning by sending proper thank-you notes.

To make the bride's job easier, Mrs. Jeannette Lee, design director of Hallmark Cards, has a number of suggestions on bridal thank-you-notes.

First, write your notes as soon as gifts arrive. Those arriving too late to answer before the wedding should be acknowledged promptly on return from the wedding trip.

There is no objection to printed notes, especially when you add your own hand-written message. Small, conventional note-size paper is preferred. White, cream or delicately hued paper is in good taste.

The only excuse for a type-written note: that you've broken your arm, or suffered some other disability that forces you to shun the pen.

Pamper Skin During Summer

REFRESH AND PROTECT — Refresh skin now and protect complexion with bath-oils and moisturizers during summer months. When only shower is available, rub bath oil into skin first.

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Retouch a photograph and almost any woman looks pleasingly attractive.

Unfortunately, few women run through their minute-to-minute lives looking photographically perfect. Summer, especially, brings a letdown that takes several weeks to recoup in the fall. This is why it is essential to take special care during urgent pursuit of the fleeting days of summer.

Most women cope with minor disasters quickly. The chigger or mosquito bites, peeling noses, scratches and bruises are here today, gone tomorrow. This is why it is critically important, dermatologists stress, for a woman to protect her skin more and more from overexposure to wind and sun.

Continual use and reapplication of tanning lotions and creams or special screening agents for those who cannot face the sun without tanning-in-to lobsters still hold as good health rules to follow.

There is more to maintaining a complexion through the years, though.

After-care is the secret. This especially is crucial to a woman's complexion when she is past 25 and even the younger woman will find her skin shows

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In a pagoda-like setting in Kyoto, Japan's former imperial capital, the United States and Japan have just concluded their fifth annual cabinet-level conference.

These conferences are noteworthy because it is only with Japan that the United States holds such meetings on a regular basis. They are important less for concrete results than for the understanding they promote between two former enemies linked now in common cause.

And this year when Secretary of State Dean Rusk addressed his counter-part, Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina, and other members of the Japanese cabinet as leaders of "emerging world power" the phrase had special significance.

Rusk Loses Bid To Win Japan's Viet Indorsement

TOKYO (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk wound up a two-day conference with Japanese government ministers today but failed in attempts to win endorsement for U.S. Viet Nam policy. Although the Southeast Asian conflict was a chief topic of discussion, the conference communique made no mention of the war and Japanese Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina told newsmen there were "differences in views" between the two countries on the American course in the war.

Sources said Prime Minister Eisaku Sato would urge that the United States carefully consider whether to continue its bombing of North Viet Nam during a conference later today. The sources said Sato basically supports the U.S. policy in Viet Nam but believes that an escalation in bombing raids would hinder a peaceful settlement of the dispute.

In the short years since the end of occupation, Japan already had become a world leader economically. The Japanese shipbuilding industry ranks first in the world, her synthetic fiber industry second and her steel output third after the United States and the Soviet Union.

Well up also in world ranks are her electric power production and the manufacture of petroleum products. But as the Japanese surged to the forefront economically, it irked national pride that their voice did not carry equal weight in world affairs.

The Japanese were well aware of the reservoir of distrust left among their Asian neighbors as result of Japanese aggression before and during World War II.

And while her foreign policies were oriented firmly toward the West there was and continues to be doubt whether Japan's real future may not lie in the East, specifically in her relations with Communist China.

Despite Japanese cautions and frustrations, it long has been apparent that her growing economic strength finally must influence affairs other than monetary and how she used this strength would affect both the United States and Red China.

In Kyoto, the Japanese informed Rusk that they would continue to press their economic relations with Red China which today amount to $450 million in two-way trade annually and are expected soon to mount to $500 million.

Aside from the economic benefits, the Japanese contend increased trade relations will help to penetrate Red China's self-imposed isolation. The Japanese earlier had demonstrated their growing philosophy which separates politics and economics.

Rebels Topple Dumas Demons, 9-4

VOLLEY AND SERVE — Manuel Santana, right, and Roy Emerson do battle in the Wimbledon championships, that ended Saturday. Emerson was beaten in his bid for a first time championship.

Demons Again Sunday

BY RON CROSS
NEWS SPORTS EDITOR
A little seasoning can make a big difference and Dumas found that out the hard way Wednesday night at Optimist Club Park.

Pampa's Rebels beat the Demons for the first time in five tries, going back to high school baseball, 9-4, to take over second place in the American Legion's North division.

The Rebels stand 63 in league play and 9-4 for the season. Dumas fell to third place with a 4-3 record. The Rebels reeled off their eighth straight win at home.

Dumas has beaten Pampa four straight, all during high school ball, coming from behind in three of the games in the last innings.

But the Rebels would have none of it last night, although it looked at one time like Dumas might pull off another victory.

Pampa led 5-0 going into the seventh inning and Dickie Henley was coasting along with a four-hitter.

But Robins reached first on Achord's error, Kimbley struck out, Boyd singled, Stephenson grounded out and Billy McVicker sent a Henley curve ball over the left field wall for a three-run homer.

After Galloway followed with a single Roy Harper replaced Henley and before he could pitch to one man Galloway was picked off first to end the inning.

Harper didn't give up a hit the rest of the way but was touched for an unearned run in the ninth on three straight Pampa errors.

The Rebels scored four times in the last of the seventh to put the game on ice.

Foster led off with a double, Hyatt popped out, Molberg singled to drive in Foster and Stephens, Sanders and Jones followed with singles with Sanders getting one run in and Jones the other two.

Pampa scored twice in each of the first two innings.

In the first Achord singled, Foster sacrificed him to second, Hyatt singled with Achord going to third, Molberg struck out and Larry Stephens singled home both runners.

In the second Jones led off with a walk, Price laid down a perfect bunt and beat it out, Henley struck out and Achord advanced both runners with a deep fly to center, Foster singled to drive in both runs.

Another run scored in the fourth when Jones led off with a double and was wild pitched to third, then scored on another wild pitch.

The Rebels close out the season Sunday at Dumas at 3 p.m.

THREE FOR THE MONEY—Favorites in the British Open Golf championship in Muirfield, Scotland, these three men will be the center of a lot of attention. Australian ace Peter Thompson, left is the defending champion. He also won the championship in 1954, '55, '56 and '58. America's Jack Nicklaus, center, has won every major tournament at least once except the British Open and is out to break the jinx. Tony Lema, right, is the last American to have won the championship, having turned the trick in 1964.

ASTROS WALLOPED AGAIN

Osteen for Drysdale

By United Press International
Claude Osteen has replaced Don Drysdale on the mound and at bat.

Osteen has graduated from the Dodgers "other" pitcher to Los Angeles "other" pitcher which is about as much as you can expect when Sandy Koufax is a teammate.

While Drysdale suffers through the worst start of his career, Osteen, a notorious fast finisher, is looking like the Dodgers second 20-game winner—and maybe more.

The 26-year-old southpaw chalked up his 11th triumph against six setbacks Wednesday night when he stymied the Cincinnati Reds 1-0 on four hits, and a la Drysdale, drove in the game's only run with an eighth-inning single.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco shaded St. Louis 3-2, Pittsburgh whipped Houston 10-5, Atlanta dumped Houston 8-1, and New York beat Philadelphia 7-5.

Osteen personally broke up a scoreless pitching duel with Milt Pappas by stroking a single to right field, after failing to bunt twice, to score John Kennedy, who had opened the eighth with a double. It was Osteen's second hit of the night and boosted his batting average to a respectable .261.

Osteen, who first pitched in the major leagues for the Reds in 1957, lowered his earned run average to a classy 2.20, about half of Drysdale's 4.30, and boosted his won-lost record to 11-6 while his tall right-handed colleague is almost a complete reversal of those figures at 5-11.

Leaders Play In Softball Tonight
With two teams taking the night off only two games are on tap in the Pampa softball league tonight.

Mobile Oilers and Bell Pontiac battle in the first game at 7:30 p.m. in Lions Club Park. The Pampa Jets and Mayfair tangle in the 9 p.m. game.

Mobile (3-1) will try to end Bell's four game win streak and put the car boys in a first place tie with the Oilers and Walsh Insurance (3-1).

The Jets are 0-4 and Mayfair stands 1-3.

Babe Ruth Stars To Play Friday; Queen Crowning

By A Staff Writer
Sports attention will be focused Friday night on Optimist Club Park when the National and American Leagues play their annual All-Star contest at 8 p.m.

Before the baseballers start taking their swats at the ball some young Pampa lady will be crowned Optimist Club queen in ceremonies beginning at 7 p.m. at the park.

Jessie Smart will serve as manager of the American league with George Railsback and Farrell Yearwood as his coaches.

J. C. Hopkins and Marvin Holman will serve as managers of the National All-Stars.

Lions Club and Ideal in the American and Pannon in the National placed the most players in their respective leagues on the all-star roster.

Ologo Gomez, Mike Stephens, Clifford Gage, Brad Snell and Craig Snell will represent Lions Club and Mike Comas, Denny Johnson, Jay Johnson, Don Harris and Jim Hollis were selected from Ideal.

Other American League players and their teams include, from Goke Cola, Steve Haywood, Dan Carlton and Claude Combs, Randy Gerberth and Bob Jeffers will represent Pampa Hardware and Larry Yearwood will serve as bat boy.

On the National All-Star team is represented by Eddie Hopkins, Tom Hawkins, Don Craig, Lee Waters, Sherwin Cox and Chris Gambin.

First National placed four players, Philmore Merrill, Joe Daniels, Phil Long and Ross Holman. Cree Drilling will be represented by Fran McGahn and J. R. Parks.

Larry Katara, Vernon Johnson and Chuck Albass represent BB Oil.

The American League plays Plainview at 8 p.m. Monday at Plainview in the first round of the regional tournament.

July 16-17 meet with the United States here by winning the 100-meter title on the opening day of the Soviet Swimming Championships.

Miss Prozumenschikova was clocked in one minute, 17.2 seconds for the distance in the 50 meter pool at the Lushniki stadium pool.

Nicklaus Shooting for British

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus, playing "relaxed golf," resumed his drive today for the British Open championship that would complete a personal grand slam for the Columbus, Ohio, par-buster.

Nicklaus, with only this tournament missing from his pro conquests, fired a one-under-par 70 Wednesday to share the first round lead with Britain's Jimmy Hitchcock.

Burly Jack was in better form than his four previous Open appearances as he powered his way to the lead on a 20-foot putt.

A remarkable recovery on the 18th hole after he hooked his second shot over the bleacher fence enabled Nicklaus to set up a 20-foot putt, which he sank.

The United States array of golfers of Louisville, Ky.; Homero Blancas, former University of Houston golfer; Rives McBee of Midland, Tex., who shot a 64 in the U. S. Open; Bruce Crampton of Australia, Don January of Dallas, Dutch Harrison of St. Louis and Ernie Vossler of Oklahoma City.

Cherry, the pro-half of the crooner duo, will go to Midland, Tex. after Saturday's round to marry Las Vegas showgirl Joy Blaine. The wedding will be at the home of oil millionaire Bobby French, an old friend of Cherry's.

top money talent signaled the possibility of a strong Yankee finish.

Tony Lema, the 1964 champion, and Doug Sanders were a stroke back of the leaders at 71. Arnold Palmer, a two-time winner, ran into putting difficulties. He was two-over-par at 73 along with Julius Boros, Dick Sikes and PGA champion Dave Marr. Phil Rodgers had a 74 and Fred Haas Jr., coming off a victory in the International Seniors championship, fired a 75.

Among the other former Open champions, Kel Nagle of Australia and Gary Player of South Africa shot 72s and a defending champ Peter Thomson of Australia had a 73.

The winds destroyed accuracy after the comparative calm of the practice rounds, causing scores to tail off. Many in the field of 130 were affected by the elements and their hopes of making the cutoff at the end of the second round grew slim.

Nicklaus, favored to win the Open on this tough 6,887 yard, par-71 layout, received the cheers of an estimated 10,000 galleryites for his skillful play.

Action Starts Today in Odessa Pro-Am

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI)—A total of 107 teams, including the singing combo of Dean Martin and Don Cherry tee off today in the 18th annual Odessa Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

Thirty-seven teams qualified Thursday and it took a score of 70 or better to qualify.

The low qualifiers Thursday with an eight-under-par 64 were Ronnie Ray and Mike Goodard, both of Roswell, N. M.

At 65 were Elwyn Stobaugh and Roy Waterhouse, both of San Angelo, Tex.

The pros include Bobby Nichols of Louisville, Ky.; Homero Blancas, former University of Houston golfer; Rives McBee of Midland, Tex., who shot a 64 in the U. S. Open; Bruce Crampton of Australia, Don January of Dallas, Dutch Harrison of St. Louis and Ernie Vossler of Oklahoma City.

Cherry, the pro-half of the crooner duo, will go to Midland, Tex. after Saturday's round to marry Las Vegas showgirl Joy Blaine. The wedding will be at the home of oil millionaire Bobby French, an old friend of Cherry's.

Powell's 11 RBI Spark Orioles to Split With A's

by United Press International
The hottest hitter in baseball will spend the All-Star break relaxing his muscles on the shores of the Atlantic rather than flexing them on the banks of the Mississippi.

Boog Powell, Baltimore's mammoth 6.4, 240-pound first baseman, turned in his finest performance at the plate Wednesday night by driving home 11 runs during a twin bill with a grand slam home run, a two-run homer, a three-run double, a one-run double and a sacrifice fly.

Powell batted in four runs in the opener of the doubleheader to support Steve Barber's five hit 11.0 victory over Kansas City but his seven RBIs in the nightcap couldn't stop the A's from winning 9-8 in 11 innings.

Busting out of an early-season slump, Powell has driven across 53 runs in his last 45 games, collected 13 homers during that span and raised his batting average 121 points to .301, sixth best in the league. His 66 RBIs rank him second to American League leader and teammate Brooks Robinson.

On Short Vacation
For all his fence-busting, however, Powell was not chosen for the All-Star Game on July 12 at St. Louis and will vacation instead at Ocean City, Md.

Elsewhere in the junior circuit, California nipped Detroit 1-0 in 10 innings, Minnesota shaded Cleveland 4-3, Boston topped New York twice 5-3 and 5-4, and Washington swept a pair from

Pampa, Area Athletes Off For Lubbock

Pampa athletes were off for Lubbock at 5:30 a.m. today for the Lubbock Jaycees sports spectacular.

Athletes will participate in tennis, golf and track events and Pampa will be represented by 20 young men and women and White Deer by one.

Richard Ellis and Darrell Smith are Pampa's representatives in the golf tournament. Ellis won the open division and Smith the novice division of the local Jaycee tourney at Pampa Country Club.

Eleven tennis winners will try to take honors in the tournament at Lubbock. Bob and Mark Shackelford, Mark Wells, Trent Burns, John Guidry, Kathy Davis, Brenda Schaffer, Mike Sublett, Don Winsten and Ricky Roach are entered in the tennis meet along with Whyte Deer's Frank Kelley.

Making up Pampa's track squad are Allan Ray Nolte, Paul Anderson, Larry Elledge, Dan Regd., Allen Lee Lindsey, Phil Long, Jack Newsom and Ken Ferguson.

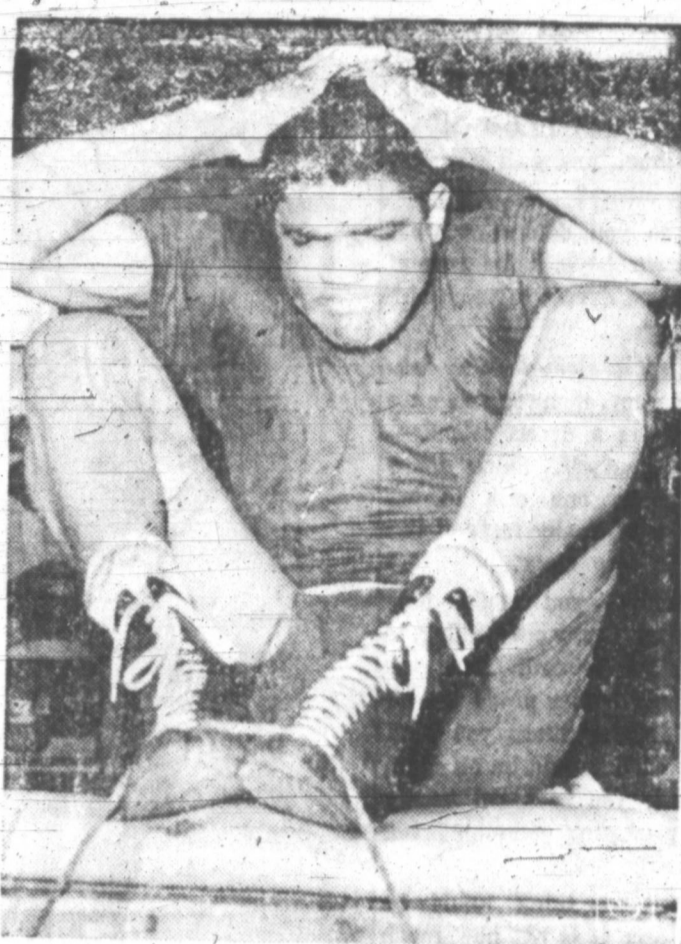

Pampa Jaycees A. J. Carubbi, A. C. Higgins and Jake Webb accompanied the youngsters to Lubbock. Two Jaycee-ettes, Mrs. Larry Wingert and Mrs. Morris Wilson also made the trip.

The Lubbock Jaycee Chapter is preparing clinics for the boys who are entered in the state tourney. One of the highlights of the clinic sessions will be the track discussions, headed by Oliver Jackson, former track and field coach of Abilene Christian College.

Jackson's record at the Abilene College are phenomenal where his individuals and relay teams broke or tied 15 world records, 17 American records and 15 NCAA records. Among his better known athletes are Olympians Bobby Morrow and Earl Young and star sprinter Bill Woodhouse.

Further plans are in the works to secure big name athletes for the tennis and golf clinics.

Track and field entries in the meet will be divided into three divisions for boys and girls: Prep Div. (ages 13-14), Intermediate Div. (ages 15-16) and Senior Div. (ages 17-18). Contestants will be limited to five events, including a relay.

CONTEMPLATION — Ernie Terrell, hoping that the Army leaves Cassius Clay alone until their title fight is over, continues to work out in Pleasantville, N.J.

Pitchers Named For Star Game

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Southpaw Sandy Koufax and righthander Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry, a talented threesome who have a combined record of 40-8 so far this season, were among the eight pitchers chosen Wednesday by Manager Walter Walston for the National League All-Star squad.

The Los Angeles Dodger manager also named Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies, Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, Claude Raymond of the Houston Astros and southpaw Billy McCool of the Cincinnati Reds and Bob Veale of the Pittsburgh Pirates to the team which will host the American League All-Stars next Tuesday in St. Louis.

Koufax, the Dodger's ace picked up his 15th victory Tuesday night and has been beaten only three times. He was the winner in last year's All-Star contest which saw the National League Yorge ahead in the series for the first time 18-17. This will be Koufax' sixth All-Star game.

Marichal, who won his first 10 games this season, has posted a 13-4 record for the San Francisco Giants and will be appearing in his fifth mid-season classic. The Giant righthander started last year's game and was the winning pitcher in both the 1962 and 1964 contests. He has allowed American League batters only three hits in eight innings of All-Star work and boasts an earned run average for the classic of 1.13.

Perry, who will be making his first All-Star appearance, is the big reason the Giants are leading the National League at this point. He has won 12 of 13 decisions including his last seven in a row.

Bunning, who played in five All-Star games as an American Leaguer, will be making his second appearance in a National League uniform. The Phils' righthander hurled two innings in the 1964 game, allowing two hits and striking out four. He is 1-1 in All Star competition and has a 9-4 record so far this season.

TEBBETTS KNEW WHAT IT WAS

Heart Attack Slows Him

CLEVELAND (NEA) — When the massive pain gripped George (Birdie) Tebbetts across his chest, he knew right away what it was.

"I'm afraid," he said, "this is the big daddy."

Birdie, manager of the Cleveland Indians, suffered his heart attack a little more than two years ago, and outwardly he's a changed man. The ballooned puffiness, some of which accrued when he was a baseball executive (vice president of the Milwaukee Braves for two years), has been replaced by a well-wrinkled neck.

But the essential temperament remains.

"I get just as mad as I ever did," reflected Birdie, "and get over it just as quick."

Has the heart attack changed his life in any way?

"I stay within the rules. I don't run. I walk. I don't climb. I don't lift, push or pull. But I don't get as much exercise as I should because I don't get the chance as a manager.

"Otherwise, I'm only doing what every normal person should do and doesn't do. If I had done what I should have done before, I wouldn't have had the heart attack."

Birdie pondered the subject a moment.

"I know of only one umpire who's had a heart attack, and one player. That fellow (Al) Barlick over in the National League and that catcher with the Cardinals (Hal Smith)."

Both of them, like Tebbetts, returned to active baseball, though Smith's playing days were over and he's now a coach with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"General managers," continued Tebbetts, "apparently don't get heart attacks."

"Someone," said a writer, "should tell that to Ralph Houk. He shortened his life expectancy when he became a manager again."

Tebbetts smiled ironically.

The subject had come up because the Cleveland Indians, Nine light heavyweight champions have tried for the heavyweight title but none has ever won it.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Secrecy Grows

The number of Congressional committee meetings held behind closed doors rose slightly during the first quarter of 1966.

Congressional committees held 1,131 meetings between the opening of the second session of the 89th Congress on Jan. 10 and March 31.

A tabulation of open and closed meetings for this period revealed that 399, or 35 per cent, of the sessions were closed.

The 35 per cent figure for the first quarter of 1966 matches the figure for the first quarter of 1965 and also equals the annual average for committee executive sessions.

The lowest percentage of closed hearings was 30 per cent in 1959, the highest was 41 per cent in 1954.

In 1961, 35 per cent of the meetings were closed; in 1962 the figure was 34 per cent. In 1963, the figure rose sharply to 38 per cent, dropping in 1964 to 32 per cent and rising again in 1965 to 34 per cent.

The study was based on a day-to-day tally of committee meetings during each legislative session as reported in the Daily Digest section of the Congressional Record. These reports are required by the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946. In practice, however, they are sometimes neglected so that an accurate count of all the open and closed meetings for each committee is nearly impossible to obtain.

Open committee sessions, to which the public is admitted, generally are hearings on proposed legislation.

Executive sessions, from which the public is barred, usually are hearings at which witnesses testify on national security matters, such as the war in Viet Nam, and work periods in which the committee "marks up" legislation or conducts administrative business.

During the first quarter of 1966, House committees held 39 per cent of their meetings in closed sessions, as compared with 28 per cent in the Senate.

House committees held 700 meetings during the period covered. Of the 700, 430 were open to the public and 270 were closed.

The Senate held 404 meetings during the same period, of which 290 were open and 114 were closed.

Joint House-Senate committees held 47 meetings, with 32 open and 15 closed, for a closed meeting score of 32 per cent.

Of the 25 committees of the House and the Senate which met most frequently (more than 15 times) during the first quarter of 1966, five held at least half of their meetings in closed sessions.

The leader was the House Armed Services Committee which held 74 per cent of its 58 meetings in executive session. Its Senate counterpart ranked second in the tabulations with 68 per cent of its 38 meetings closed.

The committees ranking third and fourth in closed meetings were the House Ways and Means Committee, with 65 per cent of its 23 meetings closed, and the House Foreign Affairs Committee, with 54 per cent of its 56 meetings closed.

Five committees reported holding no executive meetings. They were the House Un-American Activities Committee, the House Select Small Business Committee, the Senate Public Works Committee and the Senate Special Committee on Aging.

Closed meetings (we refer to them as "secret" meetings), whether local or federal, are the government operator's way of saying they know best, and that it's none of your business.

Most of the excuses for such secrecy, even many of those meetings supposedly held in the interests of "national security," are flimsy attempts of the politicians to take matters into their own hands.

Each individual determines what is of value to him—by his own standards. What it costs you to produce your service is of no importance to him. He will evaluate your service in terms of all the available alternatives. Which is the most profitable to him?

Now look at your own life. Do you represent the most attractive alternative to your customers, your employer? If so, you are in a secure position. But if you are trying to justify your high costs, you can expect your customers to find a more profitable alternative soon enough.

This is the way of the world in which you live. So make sure you are always the most profitable alternative to anyone you want to do business with.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE
How much are your services worth to others?

How do you determine what you are worth? Is it the amount of time you devote to your job? The energy?

Let's get a clear look by taking a journey. Suppose you were stranded on a desert island—all by yourself. Since there would be no one else to exchange with, many facts of life would be very clear.

Obviously, you could only have what you were willing to produce for yourself. And you would only bother producing for yourself those things you really wanted. It would be no satisfaction to you to spend twenty hours producing something you don't really want.

In fact, one thing would be very clear: It is not how much time and effort you put into producing something that gives it the value. Instead, it is the value of something to you that determines how much time and effort you'd be willing to devote to it.

This becomes more important as another person joins you on the island. Each of you begins by producing solely for himself. But then you realize that the unique talents of each of you make exchange between you profitable to both.

As you exchange, you find that he is not willing to give up the things he has produced—unless he values what it is you have produced.

Again, he is not interested in the time and effort you have expended. He is more interested in the value to him—as measured by his own subjective desires.

The same principle applies here in an economy of millions of individuals—each specializing in a particular job. No one cares how much time or effort you have put into producing your product or service; each potential buyer of your service is only interested in the value to him.

And how is that value measured? He has limited resources at his disposal. He can trade those for the things that he wants the most. But he can only trade what he has, no more. Therefore, he must choose between all the alternatives available to him—since he can't have them all.

And how does he choose? By the amount of happiness he anticipates receiving from each of the objects. This is all that matters to him. Your "costs" are not important. He may be quite willing to give a lot more for something that took only two hours to make than he would for something that took ten hours.

Each individual determines what is of value to him—by his own standards. What it costs you to produce your service is of no importance to him. He will evaluate your service in terms of all the available alternatives. Which is the most profitable to him?

Now look at your own life. Do you represent the most attractive alternative to your customers, your employer? If so, you are in a secure position. But if you are trying to justify your high costs, you can expect your customers to find a more profitable alternative soon enough.

Charles Hamilton, noted New York authority on autographs, tells us that signatures of all "famous" people are not valuable. He says the highest prices are paid for letters and documents of U. S. Presidents, signers of the Declaration of Independence, noted statesmen, generals, authors, composers and scientists. Any important correspondence about the Revolution or Civil Wars are especially sought by collectors. But he adds that letters and signed photographs of stage, screen, radio and TV stars, opera singers, sports heroes, and minor political figures and present day authors have little value. He advises anyone owning an autograph of a noted figure in any field of endeavor to have it appraised by a specialist before disposing of it. Good advice.

Today's smile: A college student kept pestering his father for a new car. One day the parent visited him and noticed most of the cars in the campus parking lot were older models. "But, father," the youth argued, "they belong to the faculty."

Prince Philip's recent tour of the U. S. was not wholly a good will trip to benefit the Variety Club's favorite charities. While in Manhattan he found time to visit some of the larger New York stores to plug British-made men's clothing and in some other cities he promoted English automobiles and aircraft. A German firm has developed a helicopter that will fly at 270 miles per hour and when operated as an aerial crane can lift anything weighing not more than 25 tons. What next?

Thoughts while shaving: If you fancy really expensive toys, drop around to the F. A. O. Schwartz toy emporium in New York's Fifth Avenue where they are selling genuine Le Mans race cars for $28,000 each. According to a New York authority on the subject, a full hand-written letter (not typed) by President John F. Kennedy is worth more than a comparable letter of George Washington. It's been a standing joke for years that most patrons have to hunt for the pharmacy department in the modern drug store; but one Los Angeles establishment has gone all out in diversification of inventory. They're selling automobiles and motorcycles along with the usual magazines, tobacco, electrical appliances, beach balls and other sundries. And, as if that is not enough, the management has also included a discotheque to keep the customers happy. It didn't take long for some one to think up a good promotional sideline as a result of all the talk about automobile safety. One of the big cola firms made a tie-in with a nationwide auto parts manufacturer offering a free bottle of their cola drink to any motorist who drops in to have the muffler "safety" checked. Never knew until now that Andrew Jackson's wife named the state of Tennessee.

THE LAST CAPITALIST

There are books that have important ideological messages. And there are books that provide practical insight to help one succeed. And there are novels that tell warm and interesting stories.

And there is "The Last Capitalist"—which is all three of these things in one book.

Written by Robert F. Mirvish, author of seven previous novels, this book has all the ingredients of a hit novel—tender loving care, easy identification with the principal characters, suspense. But it has much more, too. For the author demonstrates a perceptive view of human action and human relations.

The book is published by William Sloane Associates, 425 Park Avenue South, New York 16, N. Y.; $4.95.

"The Last Capitalist" is a 12-year-old boy named Dimitri, orphaned in the Soviet Union during the second World War. Left entirely on his own, life suddenly becomes an open-and-shut matter to him—despite all the protestations of government propaganda and economic fallacies. It is very clear: he must eat to survive. To eat, he must have food. To have food, he must trade something to someone who has food. And to trade with that someone, he must offer him something he wants. "If you were going to do business wherever you were... you had to find out what the people wanted and supply it."

He began by scavenging among dead bodies on the battlefields for medals; food packets and anything else of tradeable value. Soon, he has organized a band of eight boys, provided adequate food and shelter for them in the hills, and established a good business on the docks of Murmansk.

In everything he does, he is totally unconcerned with all the hypotheses of the ages—he cares only for reality. If there is a Soviet deputy who would arrest him, then that Soviet deputy must want something. And when Dimitri finds out what it is, he supplies it—and thereafter the deputy leaves the pre-teen capitalist band unmolested.

His realistic outlook shows up in ideological debates with his friend, the American seaman marooned in Murmansk; and in his argument with the Russian woman appointed to bring the children back to school. The arguments fall on deaf ears with Dimitri because they are not realistic arguments.

It is easy to say that no twelve-year-old could have the wisdom and intelligence displayed by author Mirvish's hero Dimitri. And yet, faced by the absolute, unyielding requirements of survival—and unhindered by faulty schooling—it is not the least bit fantastic to produce a Dimitri.

For a thoroughly stimulating and rewarding reading experience, few books will surpass "The Last Capitalist."

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

THREATENING WITH DEMONSTRATIONS

A new and deeply disturbing form of political blackmail is abroad in the land. It might be called threatening with demonstrations. Pressure groups, especially those claiming to represent minorities, will demand the passage of some laws and the repeal of others, or the expansion of certain government handout programs and changes in their administration. If their demands are not met, they will threaten a major riot.

They are not so crude as to state this quite as bluntly as a gangster would; if you do not pass the law we want, we will start a riot. Instead they say, in effect: If you do not pass the law we want, a riot will start, and it will be justified because of your stubbornness and "heartlessness."

Common sense has been made ever since the frightful Watts riots in Los Angeles. Far from condemning this orgy of looting and destruction, many have excused and justified it because some of the earlier demands of political agitators were not granted. Now they go further and predict new riots in Watts if their latest, scaled-up demands are not heeded.

Those who enjoy looting and destroying are not slow to get the message. Every statement of this kind makes rioting much more likely. In a free country, under the democratic process, there is no place whatever for threatening with riots. If a new law is needed, it should be justified on its merits. If a majority is opposed to it, the attempt of any minority to take the law into their own hands should be regarded as an invitation to anarchy.

It is easy to say that no

Seems he was intrigued with the Indian name for the river that runs through the State and when Jackson helped draft the State Constitution in 1796, he suggested that the State be named for the river. The Indian name means "crooked spoon."

The Rochester (N.Y.) DEMOCRAT & CHRONICLE reported in a story: "In the high north the Big Dipper stands out as the chief monitor of the sky. Diapers are monitors anywhere, as any young mother can tell you."

Country Editor speaking: "If a pretty girl is like a melody, there can't be very many pretty girls these days."

Jimmy's Father—Why are you pinning George to the ground like that?

Jimmy—He hit me in the eye.

Jimmy's Father—How many times have I told you to count up to 100 before you lose your temper?

Jimmy—I am counting up to 100, but I'm making sure he'll be here when I get through counting.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

10 Minutes of Exposure Provides Needed Vitamin D. Q—What are the symptoms of Vitamin D poisoning? Could cod liver oil cause hardening of the arteries?

A—Excessive amounts of vitamin D cause a loss of appetite, apathy, nausea, weakness, headache and a great thirst. The preferred treatment is disodium or dipotassium phosphate. Autopsy on some of those who have died of this disease showed severe hardening of the arteries and it is reasonable to believe that a cause and effect relationship existed in these cases. The daily requirement of this vitamin is 400 units but you can get this with 10 minutes of your skin to direct sunlight daily.

Q—Is vitamin A good for the eyes? What vitamins benefit arthritis?

A—Vitamin A is necessary for good vision, especially at night. There is no vitamin or any other dietary component that will specifically help your arthritis.

Q—I read recently that vitamin B-6 does wonder for various ailments—is this so? Has the need for calcium pantothenate in human nutrition been firmly established?

A—Vitamin B-6 (pyridoxine) is found in meat and whole grain cereals. It is important for the health of your teeth, gums, blood vessels, red blood cells and nervous system. It works wonders for anyone who, through a faulty diet, has developed a deficiency of this vitamin.

The need for pantothenic acid or its calcium salt (also a part of the vitamin B complex) in making the adrenal hormones, in producing antibodies and in the health of the nervous system has been firmly established.

Q—What is nicotinic acid good for? Is it a vitamin? Is it safe to take it for a long time?

A—Nicotin or nicotinic acid is a part of the vitamin B complex. It is needed in the transformation of food into energy and in the prevention of pellagra. It has also been used in large doses to reduce the blood cholesterol level. It can be taken safely for an indefinite period.

Q—What was the Keeley cure for alcoholics? Was it effective?

A—The alcoholic voluntarily entered one of the Keeley institutes (founded in 1879) where he was free to come and go at will. The stay was usually two or four weeks. Although moderate cigar and pipe smoking were allowed, cigarettes were forbidden.

Coffee drinking was limited. Various drugs were used; exercise was encouraged and counseling was given.

Although many alcoholics underwent a remarkable rehabilitation at the institutes, there were relapses. The institutes did, however, wage a successful battle to promote the idea, now widely accepted, that alcoholism is a disease. The last of these institutes closed its doors in June of this year.

At this point the President came to what seemed his principal thesis. He appealed strongly to his listeners to do what they could to help persuade Congress to approve his 30-odd must bills. His own relations with Congress, he said, have gone downhill in the past year.

He indicated he thought those relations had been excellent until he began pushing the lawmakers too hard at the last stages of the history-making 1965 session which produced a mountain of Great Society measures. Specifically, he suggested his pressure for home rule for the District of Columbia was the "downward turning point."

Since then, he contended, it has been harder and harder for him to get results every time he asks Congress for action. Some lawmakers who should be with him no longer are.

That was about it, except that the President promised some more major Negro appointments in the federal establishment, including a real surprise or two.

Somewhere in the course of the evening, Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach, presumably on Johnson's orders, called King in Mississippi. It was understood the purpose was to cue him in on things—and thank him for serving on the council.

Later, the well-briefed council members assembled on their own to go over the draft of their final conference report to the President, which they will shortly submit. It should be in his hands before July 15.

Still to be decided, by the President himself, is what new dramatic White House move ought to accompany his acceptance of that report. No one associated with conference endeavors wants it to be simply filed and forgotten. The explosive Negro mood in the country is believed to require much more than that.

HELLO, PAMPA, WE'RE GLAD TO BE HERE!

CONVENIENTLY LOCATED FOR YOU AT 220 N. SOMERVILLE

35 YEARS
Of Complete Tire Service
at 11 stores in 10 Cities!

The Shook name has been associated with tires in Texas since 1914. The present company was established at Lubbock in 1931. A gradual expansion began in 1934 by opening a store in San Angelo, 1935 at Sweetwater, and in 1939 at Abilene. The Amarillo store was opened in 1950, Brownwood in 1955, Odessa, 1958, Plainview, 1962, Lamesa, 1963 and a second Lubbock store in 1964. Now, we open our eleventh store in Pampa to serve this great area. Our cost-of-operation, per dollar of sales, is the lowest in the industry. This means that Texas' best tire buys come to those who LOOK TO SHOOK!
