WASHINGTON (UPI) — All the anti-freeze isn't in automobile radiators this winter, according to the FBI.

Underage youths have devised an ingenious system of concealing booze in their cars. The FBI law enforcement bulletin said today that juveniles have substituted a liquor bottle for the cleaning fluid used to supply windshield washers.

The hose from the washer bottle is detached from the windshield wipers and placed behind the dashboard of the car. Thus when the driver turns the windshield washer on he gets a shot instead.

Meat and Potato Prices to Jump

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Meat and potatoes, that staple of the American diet, are going to cost the nation's housewives more in the months ahead.

The increased cost of food may be a major factor this year in lifting the consumer price index — a principal barometer of inflation — by slightly more than 2 per cent above its 1965 level.

But federal officials are warning against any "scare buying" by consumers and stockpiling of inventory by businessmen. They contend that this will only add to inflationary pressures.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts substantial price stability in 1966, even though he admits there is great uncertainty over the cost of the war in Viet Nam and public attitudes toward living costs.

The Labor Department announced Monday that the consumer price index leveled off at 111.0 per cent of average 1957-59 prices to halt a four-month rise.

Fast-climbing food prices alone accounted for half of the 1.9 per cent increase in the index last year. The outlook this year is for more of the same.

Americans are well-off enough to boost the demand for medical services, household repairs, domestic help and laundry-dry cleaning services, however. Because of this demand the price to the consumer is rising.

GOP Demands Sweeping Probe of Draft System

'Gross Inefficiency' Cited in Supplying Manpower for Viet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of House Republicans, citing what they termed "mounting evidence of gross inefficiency," today called for a congressional investigation of the Selective Service System.

"The search to provide manpower to fight the war in Viet Nam should be equitable and efficient. We are concerned that it is neither," the 30 GOP representatives said.

The Republicans cited several points they said warranted an investigation. Among them: —The administration of the draft is inefficient. The papers of thousands of men are bottled up in "the bureaucratic pipeline."

—Nearly 445,000 physically and mentally qualified men will be available through June 30. Why then, they ask, is it necessary to re-examine previously disqualified men, a step draft director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey recently announced.

—There does not appear to be a clear order of priority in which the administration is considering calling the various manpower groups for service.

—Tests designed to aid local draft boards in deciding whether a college student should receive a deferment are by the admission of Hershey easier for science students than those taking liberal arts courses.

Lawmakers Told US Must 'Act' To Catch Soviets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Space agency chief James E. Webb told congressmen Monday the Russians will open a wide space "gap" if the lawmakers do not decide on the extent of the U. S. space program within the next year.

The administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) told the Senate Space Committee the Russians probably will attempt "some pretty spectacular things."

"Unless we soon decide to follow through with a strong program in the years after we have achieved a manned lunar landing, we cannot avoid a gap in our flight schedule while they forge ahead as the unchallenged contestants in the field," Webb said.

He said the United States could still reach its goal of putting two astronauts on the moon by 1969 but that Congress and the President must decide by next year what will be done after that in the way of exploration of Mars or long-term manned earth orbits.

The committee is considering Johnson's $5 billion request for the space program in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Air Cavalrymen Use 'Copters to Wipe Out Reds

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air cavalrymen swarmed down ropes and aluminum ladders from helicopters through bomb holes blasted in a tangled jungle today in an assault aimed at trapping and killing a North Vietnamese battalion.

Hundreds of U.S. Marines, who used the same tactics Monday to gain the strategic advantage of assaulting from high ground of a mountaintop swept down from the hills today toward a peninsula in the South China Sea, driving 400 trapped Communist troops before them. A U.S. official said they had killed 115 of the enemy in bloody fighting.

South Vietnamese troops moving in a blocking action to support the Marine assault near the ancient imperial capital of Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, reported killing 145 Viet Cong in their phase of the operation.

The 1st Cavalry troops hit a Viet Cong area further south near Bong Son, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon in a new operation called Black Horse, the latest phase of the continuing multi-brigade operation White Wing.

One battalion of cavalrymen landed on the top of Cay Giap Mountain and two other battalions pressed into the mountains from the south and east in a massive squeeze play. A South Vietnamese force moved down from the north, forcing the North Vietnamese against the South China Sea.

The Communist battalion, believed to be the 9th Battalion of the 18th North Vietnamese Regiment, was reported holed up in the horseshoe-shaped mountain chain which encircles a coastal valley and overlooks the sea.

U.S. Air Force Skyraider fighter bombers kicked off the assault by dumping 750-pound bombs with delayed fuses in the area. The bombs blasted huge holes in the dense jungle, large enough for helicopters to hover over and disgorge their troops on long ladders and ropes.

STRIKE UP THE BAND — A young Vietnamese boy tries his hand at conducting during a concert for villagers near Da Nang by the U.S. Third Marine Division band. Music is one means being tried in a campaign to win allegiance of Viet Cong-infiltrated local population near the vital base.

IN MALCOLM X SLAYING

Shocks State Court Sudden Confession

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tallmadge Haver confessed from the witness stand Monday that he pumped "about four shots" into black national Malcolm X. He insisted his two co-defendants had "nothing" to do with the killing.

The admission shocked the state Supreme Court where for seven weeks a jury of nine men and three women have been hearing evidence against the 24-year-old Haver, also known as Thomas Hagen, Norman 3X Butler, 27, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30.

"I just want to testify that Butler and Johnson had nothing to do with it," Haver said. "I was there. I know what happened and I know the people who were there."

Malcolm was gunned down as he prepared to address 400 of his followers in Manhattan's Audubon Ballroom on Feb. 21, 1965. The prosecution contends there was a "prearranged" plot to kill Malcolm, who had broken with the Black Muslims to form his own group.

From the hour-long cross examination of Haver following his confession, it appeared the prosecution would continue its efforts to convict all three defendants, despite Haver's insistence that Butler and Johnson were innocent.

This is according to the 30-day stay granted by a three-judge federal panel at Houston on its earlier decision that the poll tax as a requirement to voting in Texas was unconstitutional.

At the same time the court ruled the voter registration act passed by the recent special session of the Texas Legislature was constitutional.

That means that the registration period from March 3-18 as set up in the bill will go on as scheduled.

It also means that persons voting in the numerous bond elections and local option elections over the state this month will have to have a poll tax receipt.

Riot Squads Move In As Unions Fight

MIAMI (UPI) — A jurisdictional squabble between two unions erupted into bloody fighting between nearly 200 workers at a downtown construction site Monday. Six men were hospitalized.

Police riot squads broke up the battle and officers jailed 14 men on charges of disorderly conduct. The unions refused to file formal charges against each other.

Two of the injured workers were reported in serious condition, one with a stab wound in the shoulder.

The fighting involved the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Union of Operating Engineers. It centered around an old argument over which union should do non-electrical work on an electrical construction project.

The job in dispute required laying of cable during construction of a new expressway. Police said the men fought with hammers, clubs, lead pipes, wrenches, knives and even the chisel cutting tip of an air hammer. Many squared off with fists.

Mental Patients Charged In 'Chinese Executions'

OXFORD, N.C. (UPI) — In much the same fashion as in classic Chinese executions.

Authorities held two mental patients today in a bloody crime spree climaxed with the unexplained "Chinese execution" killing of two men kidnapped without apparent cause.

The bodies of Fred V. Fonville Jr., 28, a Raleigh real estate broker, and A. J. Dunk Roberts, 60, a rural store operator, were found in a wooded area late Monday night after a massive search of nearly 48 hours.

Authorities said they apparently were the second and third shooting victims of Joseph Eugene Spence, 26, and Glenwood O'Neal Williams, 28, who earlier were charged with slaying a taxicab driver during 11-hours of a "Lost Weekend" following their escape from a mental hospital.

The bodies of Fonville and Roberts were found side by side, face down and with their arms bound behind them with their belts. Each had been shot once in the back of the head—

CALENDAR GIRL — It's not spring yet but it sure seemed that way yesterday. The Pampa News' calendar girl for March, Miss Trudie Phelps, 20, of Pampa thought the sun was too good to pass up. The water told a different story, so she decided to wait a couple of months after all.

CARRIES RUSSIAN BANNER

Soviets Land Space Vehicle on Venus

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Russians have landed an automatic space ship on the planet Venus, the Soviet Tass news agency announced today.

The station was "Venus 3" which the Russians launched last Nov. 16.

The Soviet news agency Tass said it "reached the surface" of Venus at 9:56 a.m. Moscow time (1:56 a.m. EST) today and delivered to its surface a pennant with the coat of arms of the union of the U.S.S.R.

Tass said the "automatic station Venus 3" had taken three and one half months to make the journey from earth to the planet.

Venus is the planet which comes closest to the Earth. When the orbital positions coincide, it is within 25 million miles of Earth. But the Soviet space station would have covered a much greater distance to reach the planet.

There was nothing in the Tass announcement to indicate that Venus 3 had done anything more than crash on to the surface of Venus.

This was the technique used with the first Russian and American rockets which hit the moon.

It was the first time any vehicle from the Earth was reported to have hit any body in space other than the moon. On Feb. 3 the Russians carried their moon probes a big step further by making a "soft" landing with Luna 9. The space station televised pictures of the moon's surface back to earth.

Tass added: "The precise rendezvous of the probe with the planet was achieved as a result of a mid-course correction of the flight trajectory on Dec. 26, 1965. Throughout the flight regular radio communication was maintained with the probe and information was received. During the approach of the probe to the planet, the communication period at the final stage did not take place."

New Employment Directory Received by Lovett Library

Information on 45,000 summer job openings in 1966 has just been received by Lovett Memorial Library in a book titled, "Summer Employment Directory" of the United States. This annual book of summer jobs lists the names and addresses of employers, specific jobs they have available, salary and name of the person to whom application should be made. High school seniors, college students and teachers are invited to make application. The outlook for summer employment in 1966 is bright, with a 3.5 per cent increase over last year. The greatest increase is found among summer resorts, summer camps and summer theatres. Many opportunities are found at national parks, ranches, business and industry, government and restaurants. Of particular interest to employers are willing workers who will stay the entire season. There are openings for the unskilled and inexperienced, but mentioned more often this year as desired qualifications are experience, musical talent, knowledge of languages and at least of college sophomore standing. Students and teachers can earn from a small salary, for high school seniors, to $1,500 for older students and teachers. Early application for summer jobs is strongly suggested.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Movie buffs can name countless showmen, creative or flamboyant or both, who turn out—or contribute to—the films presented to the public. Federico Fellini. Otto Preminger. Joe Levine. Billy Wilder. The list is endless—and the past was no exception. David O. Selznick. Irving Thalberg. Louis B. Mayer. D. W. Griffith. And so on and so on. Even second-raters make a mark. Today's question: How many television showmen, creative or flamboyant—or anything—can you name? This thought came to mind during a pondering of the total lack of show business know-how exhibited in some of this television season's specials with big star names. One suddenly realized that nowhere near the top of the network television's entertainment structures is there a single, solitary figure to whom one can look up even slightly as a dynamic, creative showman. And one wonders how an industry like video can spend millions elsewhere yet overlook an attempt to hire great showmen so their specials will offer something. This was, you may recall, the season that the specials were supposed to compensate for the junk that is seen every week. How can one explain, for instance, the near total waste of a star like Carol Channing in her recent hour—which was marked by an almost complete lack of understanding of her appeal? Likewise, how can one explain the Gene Kelly hour, which may have moderately satisfied fans like me, but certainly was far short of its potential—which also included the presence of Gower Champion and Tommy Steele? How can one explain the essentially saccharine emphasis throughout the Julie Andrews special, which conceivably could win the year-end television awards because of the star's great popularity, but which was a very minor contribution to any season? It is a depressing situation for the viewer who watches his favorite entertainers manhandled by the dull, faceless committee oriented "showmen" of television. The only performers who survive the lack of personal concern toward them by the industry are those who insist on virtual absolute control of what they do—the Fred Astaires, the Frank Sinatra's, the Barbara Streisands. The others may pretend—or try—to take control, but they do not fight hard enough. And television seeks out no great showmen to help them. It is so easy to remedy. All it takes is money, which is all television has. Francois Villon, French lyric poet, was known as the "vagabond poet."

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Since 1963, the Syrian economy has stagnated under far-reaching and often harsh nationalization measures imposed on business and industry by the ruling Baath party, a Pan-Arab Socialist party peculiar to the Middle East.

Within that same period, the Baath party itself has undergone a dozen shifts, gyrating from "positive neutrality" to both right and left of the political spectrum.

The military coup which seized control of the Syrian government a week ago was another one of those, this time to the left.

It ousted strongman President Lt. Gen. Amin el-Hafez and Premier Salah el-Bitar, a moderate founder of the Baathist party.

Re-Installed Zayen
It re-installed Premier Yussef Zayen and named Dr. Nureddin Attasi, a one-time member of the Syrian Baathist directorate, as chief of state.

While both sides proclaim themselves Baathist, the gulf between them is huge.

This particular round of musical chairs began last December when General Hafez, the strongman, eliminated leftist Premier Zayen and his military supporters and installed Bitar.

Bitar had been one of those who in 1958 had helped to bring about the union with Egypt and the birth of the United Arab Republic to save Syria from falling under Communist control.

When the Hafez-Bitar combination took over in late December, 1965, it confidently was expected that a new period of moderation would set in.

Moderation Expected
Expected was a new tone of moderation toward small business and an improvement in relations with President Gamal Abdul Nasser of Egypt.

A chief dissenter in the December crisis and reportedly the driving force behind the present coup was Maj. Gen. Salah Jadid, a former chief of staff and a revolutionary along the pattern of the Red Chinese.

And an indication of what now may be expected may be seen in published and broadcast statements attributed to the new regime.

Among these have been charges that Bitar secretly sympathized with "American imperialist aggression" in Viet Nam and that he secretly had been planning the decentralization of Syrian industry.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) —Arthur Wiesenberger & Co. says a policy of continuing with investments in groups and stocks with above-average near and intermediate term prospects but maintaining some reserves to take advantage of wide fluctuations that will doubtless continue seems reasonable and sensible.

Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes says the urge to hedge against erosion of the dollar could give impetus to a rebound in stocks carrying the Dow-Jones industrial average above the 1,000 mark before liquidation threatens to reverse the long-term uptrend.

FAY FETED
WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Navy and the Air Force presented special citations Monday to Elton C. Fay, veteran military correspondent who has retired after 42 years with the Associated Press.

Fay, 65, was given the Navy Public Service citation by Secretary Paul H. Nitze and the Air Force Exceptional Service Award by Secretary Harold Brown. Previously, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara awarded a Defense Department citation to Fay.

Crall Products To Show Exhibits At Petroleum Fair

Crall Products, Inc., of Pampa, will be among over 500 companies from all over the world who will exhibit at the International Petroleum Exposition May 12-21 in Tulsa, Okla.

Exhibits at the IPE will feature equipment, processes, techniques and services from every phase of the oil industry.

The IPE, one of the largest single industry trade shows, will be housed in an all new 10 1/2 acre building which will allow the hundreds of exhibits to be displayed under one roof. The building's unusual design features a cable suspended roof with no columns or posts to obstruct the view of the displays.

An estimated 30,000 petroleum industry personnel will visit the IPE. Housing reservations are pouring in from every oil producing state of the Union and 32 countries. Personal invitations have been extended to official governmental representatives and industry personnel of 72 countries - and attendance from these countries is expected to reach a total of 2,000 delegates.

TERRORIST BOMBING ADEN (UPI)—Terrorists threw a hand grenade at a patrolling British army jeep in an Aden suburb Monday night, wounding two British soldiers. The soldiers fired back and wounded an Arab. It was the first terrorist incident since mid-January.

COFFINS BLOCK ROAD SAN PIETRO VERNOTICO, Italy (UPI)—Forty empty coffins blocked traffic for two hours on a road near here Monday. The coffins fell of a truck during a seven-vehicle traffic pileup caused by fog. The carpenters who made the coffins were injured in the pileup, police said.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

Things are beginning to shape up for the Pampa Harvesters baseball team for their March 12 opening with Dumas.

However, something that isn't shaping up is the field at Optimist Club park where the Harvesters will play their home games, or hope to.

The diamond is all torn up and bad weather has made it impossible to repair thus far.

Shattack has canceled both meetings with Pampa so a new fee is being looked for for the March 17 home opener. Athletic Director Weldon Trice is trying three Oklahoma teams, Elk City, Sayre and Mangum.

Coach Bobby Stephens is singing the praises of his pitching staff after an intra-squad game last Saturday. Roy Harper, who is sporting a broken nose, Bud Hammons and Dickie Henley went three innings each with not a walk issued.

Saturday Bobby had Lawrence Jones on first, Jimmie Moore on second, Gary Molberg on short, Alvin Achord and Larry Turcotte on third, Ronnie Sanders in left, Larry Stephens in center and Steve Summers in right. Corky Dodd has the catching spot nailed down.

Jones is a junior, Moore a senior, Molberg a junior, Achord and Turcotte both sophomores, Sanders a junior, Stephens a junior and Summers a sophomore, and Dodd a senior.

Need Hittings

Bob was also impressed with his defense but is still concerned about the hitting of his Harvesters.

"Achorh hits well and Summers and Molberg but we still need a lot of practice."

If Achorh continues his hitting he could be one of two sophomores to make the starting nine when the season opens. He has all of the qualifications, speed, good hands and he can hit.

Three of the youngsters, if they follow in dad's footsteps may be bustin' the fences before they finish their high school careers.

Molberg, Summers and Mike Fortin, who thus far is playing behind Moore at second, all have fathers who played in the big leagues and all could swat the ball.

You can bet they get extra tutoring at home.

Back to the pitching corps. Stephens can back Harper, Hammons and Henley with Carlos, Jim Lang and Fran McGahan.

Stephens isn't predicting any conference championship for his young ones, picking them about fourth or fifth, but still he isn't discounting the fact if they learn fast and the pitching and defense holds up they may be right in the running.

If any of the fight and hustle of their coach rubs off on 'em they'll be battling for the top spot.

Kentucky Gains Top Spot First Time in 14 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unbeaten Kentucky closed in on its first national championship in 14 years and Cincinnati, a former titlist, crashed the top 10 today in the weekly United Press International major college basketball ratings.

The Wildcats, who clinched the Southeastern Conference crown and ran their winning streak to 23 last Saturday by trouncing Tennessee 78-64, opened up a sizable lead over runnerup Duke with just one week remaining in the ratings.

The UPI board of coaches national champion, an honor Kentucky last held in 1952, will be announced next week.

Baron Adolph Rupp's Wildcats received 30 first-place votes from the 35-man board and 345 points while Duke, upset by Wake Forest 99-96 for its third defeat of the season, slipped in popularity. The Blue Devils drew 267 points, 33 fewer than week ago.

Texas Western, the only undefeated major college team aside from Kentucky, was awarded two first-place nominations and held third with 240 points. Loyola of Chicago and Kansas, which walloped Nebraska 110-73 in an important Big Eight Conference game, remained fourth and fifth, respectively.

St. Joseph's provided one of the two changes in the top 10 by vaulting over Vanderbilt into sixth place. Vandy slipped one notch to seventh.

Cincinnati, which captured the Missouri Valley Conference title and an automatic NCAA tournament bid by topping Drake 56-49, displaced Nebraska in 10th place. The Bearcats, national champs three years ago, have won 20 of their first 25 games.

State Nixes Clay Bout

By ED SAINSBURY
UPI Sports Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — It wouldn't be fair to say that nobody wants the Cassius Clay-Ernest Terrell fight for the undisputed world heavyweight championships.

Somebody does, erstwhile promoter Ben Bentley said today, but he said it was pretty obvious that the state of Illinois didn't.

Illinois Atty. Gen. William G. Clark, the man who has been entrusted with the say-so for the time being on whether the fight will be allowed in Chicago, was expected to announce his ruling at 2 p.m. CST today.

If Clark says "no," promoters in Bangor, Maine, Miami, Fla., and Clay's home town, Louisville, Ky., were reported to want to stage the match.

"I've been contacted by at least three places," Bentley said, but he declined to name them.

The three-man Illinois Athletic Commission yielded all of its powers to determine whether the fight should be held as scheduled, March 29 in the International Amphitheatre, to Clark.

Thus he became the sole arbiter, and Bentley believed that the answer would be "no," when it comes.

"If they say yes this week," he said, "they'll just come up with some other technically next week."

Illinois, though it hasn't really said that the fight can't be held here, probably will become the second state to reject the bout. New York earlier prevented the fight from being held there by refusing a license to Terrell on grounds of undesirable associations.

The Illinois commission voted Feb. 8 to license the promotional firm and the fighters, but Clark proclaimed Friday that National Sports Promotions Inc., the license holder, couldn't "legally" present the bout under Illinois law.

Says License Illegal
His opinion said the license was illegal because the corporation had only two members, Irving Schoenwald and Bentley, and the state law requires that corporations tag boxing bouts must have 50 members.

Schoenwald took the only out from this opinion Monday, withdrawing the corporation's application and submitting an other application to promote

PLANS TO BEAR DOWN ON OLIVER

Koufax Hurls Challenge At Hard Hitting Oliver

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Sandy Koufax doesn't fool around.

When he has a message, he doesn't relay it through someone else. He delivers it personally.

Thus, it came to pass no so long ago that he walked right up to Gene Oliver of the Braves and bluntly told him: "Look out."

That's not what you'd call a warm, get-well message coming from any pitcher, but when it comes from a pitcher like Koufax, it could ruin a guy's entire day.

Not Gene Oliver's, though. He laughs about the whole thing and probably can afford to because his lifetime batting average against Koufax is ".19" in the neighborhood of 415 or 425, which rates as a rather ritzy neighborhood in anybody's league.

"I saw Sandy in Atlanta a few weeks ago," said Oliver, still smiling.

"He told me he was going to bear down extra hard against me this year. He said he was going to work on a new pitch. He was going to throw me a fork ball. I hope he does. That'll take away from his other stuff."

Doesn't Know Why
Oliver, a .270 hitter last year, hasn't the vaguest notion why he does so well against Koufax other than he has pretty good luck against most lefthanders, with the exception of Pittsburgh's Bob Veale.

"If you ask me," he says, "Koufax is the best pitcher I've ever seen in my life and the reason I've done well against him the past few years boils down to one thing: I hit his mistakes. I know darn well this isn't the way he really wants to pitch me."

"Koufax has no set pattern for pitching to me. He tries to mix 'em up and keep the ball

The Lip Same Hustling Head Of Olden Days

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — The clock turned back 11 years and it was like old times today with Leo Durocher managing the Chicago Cubs and showing all the hustle of old.

Back as a major league pilot for the first time since 1955, the tempestuous Durocher took up where he left off as manager of the old New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers.

"This isn't an eighth place club," Durocher snapped. "There's no reason a team with all this talent should be in the second division. And I didn't come here to lose."

Durocher, as brisk and quick at 59 as he was at 48, wasted little time getting the Cubs down to work at their new training site, Blair Field in this beach metropolis.

"We're not out here to go through the motions of playing," Durocher continued. "I'm asking for a lot of hustle and that's not too much to expect of major league players."

Durocher at a closed clubhouse meeting preceding Monday's first drill, laid down the "ground rules" for his type of baseball. He said afterwards he expected his players to bear down just as hard in the spring as they will during the regular season.

Florida Grets Signing With 'Yankees Go Home!'

By United Press International

Cries of "damn Yankees" and "Yankee go home" heard echoing across the state of Florida are not directed at northern tourists but at a specific band of Yankees from New York.

The outbursts of anger were triggered by the signing of outfielder Bob Biletnikoff, the University of Miami's top baseball player and football star, by the American League New York Yankees.

Biletnikoff, whose brother Fred was an exceptional pass catcher at Florida State and last year played for the Oakland Raiders of the AFT, is only in his junior year at Miami and was eligible to play two more seasons of baseball and one of football.

"It's a raid of the worst kind," screamed Miami baseball coach Ron Fraser, whose season opens this Friday.

Biletnikoff, a lefthander all the way, was drafted by the Yanks last January and received an estimated $50,000 to leave college. He was selected by the Kansas City Athletics in the first free agent draft last summer but turned thumbs down on the A's offer.

Several batterymen checked in at the infirmary. Detroit

RUN FOR COVER — Sniper fire from nearby forces soldiers to leave the beaten path and run for cover. It's part of the jungle training course.

Gordon, Ga. Soldiers learn during a week long field problem to be on the alert against enemy ambush day and night—a lesson learned daily in Vietnam.

Allen Boards Navy Carrier Swires Is Can

Airman Apprentice Carl T. Allen, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Allen of 1206 E. Francis, Pampa, has reported for duty aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Shangri-La, currently being overhauled in the Naval Shipyard, Philadelphia.

Sharing travels with some 2,800 shipmates, he can expect to cruise in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Mediterranean waters, visiting major ports in the United States and several foreign countries.

Pampa Man Gets Destroyer Post

Electrician's Mate Fireman Harold G. Fuller, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fuller of 1727 Evergreen Ave., Pampa, is participating in Operation "Springboard" in the Caribbean as a crewmember of the destroyer USS Newman K. Perry.

The annual Atlantic Fleet exercise is conducted to provide fleet ships and units with training in the latest techniques in anti-submarine warfare one of the Navy's highest priority programs.

Swires Completes Training

Pvt. Stanley G. Swires, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie M. Swires, Canadian, Tex., completed advanced artillery training at the Army Artillery and Missile School, Fort Sill, Okla., Feb. 24.

Sires was trained as a cannonier in field artillery units. His training included maintenance and firing of artillery guns, howitzers and heavy machine guns. Instruction was also given in ammunition handling and communications.

The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army in September 1965 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

He was graduated from Canadian High School in 1964 and attended West Texas State University in Canyon.

If the first part of your car registration number is 1613, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00 happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 4-cyl. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge. Contact Buick, Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Poik and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231, and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.
