Space-Age Mapping Simplifies Pampa Survey

By BOB COPTNER
Daily News Reporter
Like to have a map of your property so detailed it shows the height and number of steps on your front porch?
Sound good? But what about the expense of surveying? A space-age survey crew will cost you more than $100 per day.
The Texas Highways Department can now get such detailed maps without the cost of survey crews toiling months with their chains and sighting equipment. A plane simply flies over the property and takes pictures of the ground below. With the help of some space-age machines, these pictures are quickly transferred into maps.

These maps give not only elevations, contours or what ever you need." State Highway Department resident engineer G. K. Reading of Pampa said Saturday.

This new process of aerial mapping — called photogrammetry — will be used in Pampa Tuesday to map parts of Alcock St. (SH 122.) Reading said the plane's camera equipment will accomplish in a few minutes what it would take months for a regular survey team to recourse between these X marks and photographs the land below.

The process, which is so accurate the trees and even the number of steps on a house near the roadway are recorded, takes only a few hours to produce highly detailed maps after the film is processed at Austin. Reading said the photogrammetry process is especially use-

OIL FACILITIES MARKED

Joint Chiefs Urge Expansion of War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff are urging expansion of the air war against Communist North Viet Nam, with oil facilities in the Hanoi-Haiphong area marked for top priority, it was learned Saturday.
It is anticipated that President Johnson will in time approve the broader air campaign. The list of targets against a widening target list of Hanoi makes no move toward the peace table.
Part of the campaign has in fact been in progress since resumption of bombing on Jan. 31 after the 37-day Christmas Eve pause. Raids over North Viet Nam are running at three times the pre-pause level. But targets still are the same—

The joint chiefs, the nation's military high command, believe the rather slow escalation of the air war is not having the effect the more stunning, concentrated blows would have.
They attach greatest importance to air strikes against oil storage depots in the Haiphong port area and Quang Yen refineries north of Haiphong.

Communist Party Is Banned From Country

SINGAPORE (UPI) — The armed forces and thousands of students staged a victory march in Jakarta Saturday after army chief of staff Lt. Gen. Soeharto, a tough anti-Communist, took over full political power from Indonesian President Sukarno.
The stocky 45-year-old general immediately outlawed the Communist party PKI and ordered its dissolution along with leftist affiliated organizations.
The capital was under virtual martial law with a strong show of force by the armed forces. All reports reaching here showed that the shift in power was accepted calmly with parades by the armed forces and anti-Communist students.
The whereabouts of Sukarno and his pro-Peking Foreign Minister Subandrio were not known. They were last reported seen leaving Merdeka Freedom Palace aboard a helicopter Friday night. There was one report Sukarno was under arrest at his weekend palace at Bogor, 30 miles outside Jakarta.

U.S. Ambassador Marshall Green told UPI by telephone that all Americans in the city were safe but refused to comment on any other aspects of Sukarno's downfall.
Sukarno's surrender of power followed reports that top generals gave him an ultimatum a week ago to fire Subandrio or else.
The sudden shift in power came in an order signed by Gen. Soeharto "for the president" after an all night meeting in the palace by key military and cabinet ministers.
Sukarno was allowed to retain his title as president but was stripped of all power.
The move came after two weeks of rioting by anti-Communist students protesting the sacking by Sukarno of former Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution and the installing of pro-leftists in his new cabinet formed last Feb. 21. It was Nasution who rallied the armed forces to beat down a Communist coup last Oct. 1.
Soeharto moved quickly to spell out his position. He declared that the armed forces would not allow the country "to be diverted to the extreme left." Radio Jakarta reported.

Apparently attempting to steer Indonesia toward a middle-of-the-road policy, Soeharto also stated that a move to the right equally would not be tolerated.
He warned in his first order of the day that anybody who tried to alter the course of the Indonesian revolution would be crushed by the armed forces.
Several Arrests Reported
The anti-government voice of Free Indonesia claimed Soeharto had dissolved the cabinet and carried out the arrest of several ministers, including Subandrio.
In the wake of the aborted Oct. 1 coup, Soeharto ordered his subordinates to stand aside while anti-Communist vigilantes put to death at least 87,000 Communists in November and December.
Unofficial army and some diplomatic sources said as many as 200,000 Communists were slaughtered in a furious reaction to the attempted Red coup.

"We cannot know how many planes will be lost, how many shells will be fired, how many losses we may suffer," he told newsmen after he conferred with members of the Executive Committee of the National Governors Conference in his White House office.
The meeting was the first of several Johnson held during the day with state governors, 41 of whom accepted the Chief Executive's invitation to come here for a briefing on national and international affairs and to discuss some of their own (See LBJ, Page 3)

Agent Nabs Four in Bogus Bill Passing

Secret Service agents have arrested four persons in Oklahoma for passing counterfeit $20 bills.
One of the arrests made Friday was that of Mrs. Zelma Sparks 23 of Chickasha, Okla. who was sought by Panhandle area officers Mrs. Sparks may have been the woman who passed a bogus $20 bill in Pampa last week.
Three of the four arrested were teenagers in Oklahoma City. Illegal possession of $500,000 in counterfeit $20 bills was acknowledged Friday by two Oklahoma City teenagers who appeared in Federal Court.

The Sparks woman was arrested for passing a had twenty in Bushland Tex., March 1.
Ronald Eugene O'Neal, 18 and Willard Dean Schilberg, 18 of Oklahoma City pleaded guilty to possession of illegal bills.
They had been charged with Donald Eugene Brooks 19, of Oklahoma City, who was convicted of the charge last week.
Sentencing of the three teenagers was deferred pending reports from the probation office.
The three teenagers said they found the bogus money near the South Canadian River, passed some of the bills and dimmed others at a bridge over the South Canadian and just off S. H. 74 near Norman, Okla.
Bond for the Sparks woman was set at $5,000.

Fate of Liberals Rests on Making Sex Charge Stick

OTTAWA (UPI) — Leaders of the ruling Liberal party conferred tensely behind the scenes Saturday on means of making a charge of a sex and security scandal stick against the former Conservative government.
Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson gambled his government's future Friday by ordering a win-or-lose judicial investigation of the relationship of a blonde East German beauty, alleged to be a Communist spy, with two Conservatives who held cabinet level posts in the government of former Premier John Diefenbaker.
Failure to prove the nation-rocking charge made Thursday by Pearson's justice minister, Lucien Cardin, could mean the fall of minority Liberal rule, which operates with the aid of votes from small opposition parties.
Diefenbaker returns Sunday from a vacation trip to lead his party's fight to disprove Cardin's allegations.
The crisis centered around Olga Gerda Munsinger, 36, one-time wife of an American GI. She emigrated in 1955 from Germany to Canada, where she lived in Montreal and returned to Germany in 1961.
Cardin said he believed Mrs. Munsinger was dead, but a Canadian journalist located her Friday working in Munich as a waitress. She admitted friendship with two Canadian cabinet ministers but denied she ever was involved in espionage.
"If I were a spy, would I be working for a living?" she asked.
Mrs. Munsinger offered to return to Canada to clear her name. She disappeared from her apartment in Munich's student district Saturday by a back door reportedly in the protection of police.

Former Harvard Teacher to Appeal 30-Year Sentence

LAREDO (UPI) — The attorney for former Harvard professor Timothy Leary, sentenced to 30 years in prison on a marijuana charge, said today he would appeal on grounds of religious freedom.
Dr. Leary was convicted Friday in federal district court along with his daughter Susan, 18, and both were ordered to undergo psychiatric tests before final sentencing. The father and daughter were given 10 days to wind up their affairs.
Leary, 45, was ordered to pay a $30,000 fine. Susan was ordered to a federal reformatory for an indeterminate period.
Attorney John Fitzgibbon said an appeal would be made after psychiatric tests and the final sentencing by the court.
"Freedom of religion will be the angle as well as freedom to experiment," Fitzgibbon said.
Leary, a psychologist, works with drugs associated with certain religious sects.

Mutt Prefers Pound to Home

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — It's a dog's life when a mutt prefers the city pound to home.
Authorities said Clancey, a mongrel, has been picked up and taken to the dog pound twice in the past month for not having a license and not wearing a muzzle.
The dog pound called Clancey's owner Friday to report that Clancey had turned himself in for no apparent reason. He had jumped on the dog catcher's truck when it stopped for a traffic light.

Twelve Arrested In Raid on Supper Club

State Liquor Control Board officers raided the Supper Club, south of Pampa, at 12:55 a.m. Sunday and arrested twelve persons.
The twelve were charged in Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford's court with consuming alcoholic beverages after the prescribed hour. Two of the persons arrested were charged with being intoxicated in addition to the consuming after hours charge.
Fined in Justice of the Peace court for consuming after the prescribed hour were: Walter

100,000 Sign Up In Voter Drive

AUSTIN (UPI) — Almost 100,000 persons have registered to vote during the first week of free voter registration. Friday, Gen. Waggoner Carr said Friday.
Gray County has had approximately 200 persons register. He said the total includes reports from less than half of Texas' 254 counties. The total did include the major population areas of the state.
Harris County with the biggest population led others with a total of 28,252 new registrations. Dallas and Tarrant counties each reported over 12,000 and Bexar County reported 16,141.
Voter registration was reopened this year after a federal court in Austin ruled the state's poll tax registration system unconstitutional. A special session of the legislature wrote a new law that threw open registration again for 15 days—through March 17.

DRAMATIC RESCUE TALE UNFOLDS

Viet Pilots Dare Death to Save Buddies

EDITORS NOTE: They figured some of them would die. But the Marine helicopter pilots and crewmen went away because the valiant defenders of the A Shau Special Forces camp faced certain death if they were not evacuated. Here is their story.
By ROBERT IBRAHIM

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (UPI) — "Come on, baby, lift. Lift."
The helicopter was dangerous.

ly overloaded. There were 25 persons in it. It was designed to carry nine. Rifle bullets, machinegun slugs and mortar shells tore into the craft.
The chopper bounced into the air and settled back. It bounced again, and again, and again. Then slowly, reluctantly, the pilot got the tail up and the craft strained into the air about five feet and moved forward. The skids ripped into a barrier of barbed wire, pulling 30 feet of it loose.
"There must have been every intelligence officials estimated that one out of every four would be shot down.
But if the men still alive in the camp were to be saved, they had to be evacuated. Intelligence showed there were about two North Vietnamese regiments in the area, about 5,000 men.
"It was pretty obvious they had a trap set for us, and unless we were able to reinforce in great numbers, we would only sacrifice more men (See BUDDIES, Page 3)

Salvation Army Asks Help To Make Up $5,000 Deficit

Pampa's Salvation Army post, suffering from a budget cut because the 1966 Community Fund did not reach its goal, is making an appeal to Pampans for cash contributions to repay a $5,000 deficit.
Captain R. J. Tritton, commander of the local Army unit, said Saturday the Army has less than $5 in its current bank account.
The Salvation Army's budget goal in the recent Community Fund drive was set at $17,500. When the fund failed, the Army was cut to an allocation for the year of $12,177.
"This amount is given to the Army at the rate of approximately $1,000 a month.
"We were hard hit in the first months of the year," Captain Tritton said, "because of the heavy snow and cold weather for three weeks in January. Our needs have been much greater (See DEFICIT, Page 3)

Following the technical sessions, all registrants will be guests of the Natural Gas Processors Suppliers Association. The meeting will close with an evening banquet, Don Louvier, Rockwell Mfg. Co., Tulsa, will head the suppliers' function, and P. K. Smith, Kerr-McGee Corp., Oklahoma City, will be the toastmaster for the banquet.

Of critical interest to gas liquids producers and marketers will be a "standing room only" session on supply and demand, both foreign and domestic, with projections into 1970. Dr. C. T. Wells, Houston, will preside over this forum which will include discussions on: natural gas supply and demand by David Knapp, Mobil Oil Co., Houston; petrochemical feedstocks by Dr. Norman Lewis, The Pace Company, Houston; foreign supplies and markets by W. R. Lund, Gulf Oil, Pittsburgh; and future LP-Gas supply-demand trends by D. N. McClanahan, Houston consultant.

Supplementing the supply-demand forum will be a second session covering Canadian gas liquids supply-demand and operations. This session, staged by the Canadian Natural Gas Processing Association, will include talks by Dan T. McDonald, Goilad Oil & Gas Co., Calgary, on Canadian supplies and markets, and by E. M. Berlie, Texas Gulf Sulfur, Calgary, on the growth and future of Canadian gas processing.

New design and operational technology will be covered in two forums headed by R. L. Cook, Signal Oil & Gas Co., Los Angeles, and by Harold Galloway, Humble Oil, Houston. Speakers on research and design data will include: Dr. D. B. Robinson, the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada; Dr. G. W. Swift, The University of Kansas, Lawrence; Dr. R. N. Maddox, Oklahoma State University, Stillwater; Stanley Wells, Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville; and Richard Porter, J. F. Pritchard & Co., Houston, New Plant Technology will be the subject of papers by Howard Holder, El Paso Natural Gas Co., El Paso; J. P. Herrin, Coastal States Gas Producing Co., Houston; and by the Cooper-Bessemer Corp., and Stearns-Roger Corp.

Reports will also be heard on NGA research work at Rice University, The University of Michigan and Oklahoma State University.

Phillips President Says Nation Facing Natural Gas Scarcity

CHICAGO — Natural gas consumers face scarcity of supply and soon because in about two years the nation will be using more natural gas than is being discovered. Stanley Learned, president of Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Okla., told members of the Chicago Executives' Club. Learned stated that Federal regulation of prices paid to natural gas producers by Long-distance pipeline companies had resulted in a sharp decline in exploration for new gas reserves. "Consumers will be caught in the predicament of paying more money and getting less gas," he said.

Learned pointed out that from 1955, when the effects of the Supreme Court decision giving the Federal Power Commission certain authority over natural gas producers set in, through 1964, total exploratory wells drilled declined 28 per cent. "Tentative figures show that new gas reserves discovered in 1965 declined 10 per cent from 1964 and were only 60 per cent of what they were in 1955," Learned added.

"When the day arrives that pipelines and the city gas systems do not have sufficient gas to deliver full capacity, it is inevitable that the cost per unit of delivering gas will go up," Learned stated. "Higher costs mean higher prices. These higher prices will be paid by the consumer."

Deficit

(Continued From Page 1) Money allotted by the Community Fund is used for immediate assistance to needy families, the Army captain stated. It has been this phase of the program that has been hardest hit. Captain Tritton said there would be no door-to-door solicitation for Salvation Army funds. "We just need an additional $5,000 to carry on our work this year," he said, "and we are appealing to Pampans to help with financial assistance. "If we don't raise the money some way, it simply will mean that, much as we dislike to do it, the necessity will be there to reduce the help we are giving. "In other words, if the money isn't available, we may have to cut down on food orders. To a family that needs $10 worth of groceries, we may be able to give only $5 or $6 worth." The Salvation Army captain said a real crisis exists as far as the local post being able to carry out its full yearly program. Contributions should be mailed to the Salvation Army, P. O. Box 1458, Pampa, Texas. Persons wishing to help, Captain Tritton stated, may also call the Salvation Army at MO 9-9921 and someone will be sent to pick up donations.

Rogers to Take Part in Hearings On Transportation

Congressman Walter Rogers said Saturday "far-reaching proposals affecting every aspect of the U. S. transportation system and every American citizen will come before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce beginning Tuesday."

Congressman Rogers, who is ranking majority member of the 33-member Committee, said hearings beginning Tuesday will take up "one of the most important of the recent transportation proposals advanced by the President of his Transportation Message to Congress." In addition the Committee will review a number of alternate proposals advanced by Members of the House of Representatives.

In his message, President Johnson proposed that existing transportation agencies in the Federal Government be combined within a cabinet-rank Department of Transportation. "The first proposal to be reviewed by the Committee will have to do with highway transportation and could well affect the entire auto industry and associated industries," Congressman Rogers said.

"Policies and programs that will emerge from these deliberations will affect the course of U. S. transportation development for years to come," Congressman Rogers said. "When it is recognized that one of every six workers in this country is in some way allied with highway transportation — only one of the several transport systems — it can be seen how very important these proposals are to our country's future." Meanwhile, Congressman Rogers will meet with members and staff consultants of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee concerning hearings beginning March 22 into proposed laws affecting community antenna television (CATV) systems.

Thursday and Friday, Congressman Rogers will convene his Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation to give further consideration to legislation promoting water resources research and also legislation to develop power facilities at Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River. The Subcommittee of which Congressman Rogers is chairman is expected to make recommendations soon to the full House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

'Full House' Views Lions' Club Minstrel

A "practically full" house at the Pampa Junior High School auditorium applauded the Lions Club Minstrel Show Friday and Saturday nights. Proceeds from the two-night Minstrel Show go toward the Pampa Lions Club's support of the Texas Camp for Crippled Children and the Rehabilitation Center for the Blind at Kerrville plus the organization's other project, support of the Hi-Plains Eye Bank in Amarillo. Before appearing before Pampa audiences Friday and Saturday evenings, the Lions took the Minstrel Show on the road to Miami, appearing there with the Miami Lions in a joint Minstrel Show.

For 39 years since its founding in Pampa, members of the Lions Club have served by providing dental, medical, surgical and hospital care for the needy and furnished glasses, clothing and food and brought joy and happiness to many underprivileged children. The Lions have sponsored Boy Scout Troop 16 since 1929 and built the Scout House in Lions Club Park. Total number of call notes of the ostrich is said to exceed that of most songbirds.

Pampa Red Cross Asked to Raise $1,388 for Viet

Gray County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been asked to raise a $1,388 emergency quota to finance the organization's increased responsibility to U. S. armed forces in Viet Nam and for domestic disaster requirements.

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, Gray County chapter chairman, said Saturday she had just received an appeal from headquarters of the Midwestern Area of Red Cross at St. Louis outlining the serious drain currently placed on Red Cross financial resources.

Gray County's quota of $1,388 will be a share of the national quota of $9,000,000 as a minimum to meet the needs of the two requirements, Mrs. Shotwell said.

The local chapter chairman stated the emergency appeal from national headquarters has no connection with the local appeal the Gray County Chapter is making to fill the gap caused by a reduction of funds received from the Pampa Community Chest.

Red Cross disaster funds are low. National headquarters points out that in the period from March 1, 1964, when the Alaskan earthquake occurred, through Feb. 28 this year, the Red Cross spent $40,000,000 for disaster relief in a host of major disasters. Hurricane Betsy alone required nearly $18,000,000.

July 1 has been set as the date for local red Cross chapters to meet the required quota set up for the special emergency campaign.

Philip Schenkenberg, manager of Midwestern Area Red Cross chapters, said in his letter to The Gray County chapter chairman:

"The need for these funds is immediate and we urge that each chapter take such steps as are necessary to secure a minimum their fair share of these requirements and transmit them to the national organization as promptly as possible."

"Chapters have always responded gallantly to emergency situations facing the Red Cross and I have every confidence that they will meet their fair share of the requirements needed to continue the essential service to our armed forces in Viet Nam and to victims of disaster here at home."

Expansion

(Continued From Page 1) which is vital to keeping the enemy's line of communications running to the south, in the military view and it thus should be the priority target.

Studies indicate that the kind of bombing envisioned would kill very few, if any, civilians. The joint chiefs, in contrast with their position on stepped up bombing, attach low importance to mining the harbor at Haiphong or to blockading the North Vietnamese coast.

They believe that light bombing in the Hanoi area could achieve the same effects without the risks.

Cut Shipping It is reasoned, for example, that bombing in the Hanoi area would scare off free world ships that now call at Haiphong and would not concern the Soviet Union which is supplying Hanoi with weapons.

Mining, however, as well as a blockade conceivably could bring on a confrontation with Russia. She might feel compelled to put into Haiphong anyway out of concern for preserving her influence with a Communist country in an area Red China seeks to dominate.

The military assessment, it was further learned, is that a number of other industrial type targets may have to be bombed. But they apparently now have fairly low priority. These would include the Thai Nguyen Iron and Steel Works north of Hanoi and the few other plants North Viet Nam has.

Native chiefs of the Pacific islands, to guard against famine, set family size by decree.

Common Errors Delay Refunds On Income Tax

Common errors in filing Federal tax returns complicate the processing of taxpayers' refunds, according to officers of the Pampa Internal Revenue office. Simple errors on returns delay refunds and cause taxpayers trouble.

IRS suggests this simple checklist:

1. Check arithmetic.
2. Attach all Forms W-2.
3. Sign the return. (Both husband and wife should sign a joint return.)
4. Print or type name and address, and write figures plainly.
5. Use correct tax table.
6. Total deductions if itemized on page 2.
7. List Social Security number correctly. (Both husband's and wife's number should be reported on joint return.)

Taxpayers can save valuable time and money by carefully checking 1967 tax returns before they are mailed, say the tax officials.

Buddies

(Continued From Page 1) to the meat grinder," an intelligence officer said. "This is why we decided not to reinforce the camp and to evacuate the survivors."

The choppers picked from 17 to 19 persons each. First Lt. William J. Gregory, 27, of Williston Park, N.Y. was piloting one of the two helicopters that were shot down.

"We had 21 people in the belly and we were about five feet in the air heading downriver when I heard an explosion and saw an orange flame," he said. Gregory touched down and dashed from the plane in one motion. So did the others. Ressler's smaller helicopter was nearby.

"As I ran toward the helicopter, the crew chief put his arm out. It looked about 10 feet long. He threw me into the helicopter. There was a total of 25 people in the belly. We bounced time and again but finally got off and drove down the river, cutting grass as we went. I prayed and thanked God."

As soon as the helicopter was airborne, crew members started giving first aid to wounded passengers.

First Aid Given "The American adviser, this special forces guy, his foot was all purple and bent," Ressler said. "But he refused first aid until the Montagnards had been taken care of. They ran out of medical supplies and they called up to the cockpit for the first aid kit secured to the bulkhead."

The fourth crew member of the downed aircraft did not make it to the chopper. "He grabbed a machinegun and the last we saw of him he was running for one of the camp's bunkers," Lance Cpl. Stephen C. Reynolds said. "We thought he chose the wrong bunker, one of them that had been captured."

But the next day, other Marine helicopters went back into the area and found the gunner and the entire crew of the downed helicopter piloted by Lt. Col. Charles House of Burlington, Iowa. They had all managed to get out and join up with 54 of the camp's defenders and hide until the following day when they were rescued.

Lynda Bird and Beau Spend Chaperoned Weekend at Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson and her current beau, movie star George Hamilton, were spending another chaperoned weekend together — this time at the LBJ Ranch.

Hamilton flew in from Europe to Texas Friday night to join the President's daughter at the Johnson's hill-country spread before going on to Hollywood.

The White House said that weekend with Lynda and the actor at the ranchhouse near Johnson City were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deate, who chaperoned the couple on their first big weekend together during a Thanksgiving holiday at Acapulco, Mexico.

Lynda Bird will be 22 years old next Saturday, and Hamilton is expected to join her again for a celebration. There are some who say that Lynda is smitten with Hamilton. Others say that he is just a "good friend" and they are having "lots of fun."

Traffic Commission Launches Hazard Elimination Project

Pampa's City Traffic Commission, a 15-member group organized in 1957 under provisions of a traffic ordinance, is renewing its campaign to coordinate traffic activities, solve traffic problems and eliminate traffic hazards.

Joe Pafford and John McCausland, two members of the commission, have been named to promote the current activity concerned with elimination of traffic hazards in Pampa.

They have authorized the printing of a Traffic Hazard blank which accompanies this story and will appear in The Pampa News for the next several days.

Pampans are asked to fill in the blank if they know of traffic hazards and if they have a suggested solution to send that along, too.

The Traffic Commission is only a recommending body. Its duties consist of studying traffic problems and making recommendations to the Pampa City Commission.

Members of the Traffic Commission serve without pay following appointment by city commissioners. Each member pays his own expenses.

Jack Miller, Texas Railroad Commission supervisor in Pampa, has been chairman of the group for the past three years and has served on the commission since 1958.

ment of traffic regulations.

In the absence of a Citizens Safety Council, the commission also has assumed responsibility for coordinating and promoting traffic safety education.

Among recommendations and accomplishments of the Traffic Commission are:

Installation of blinker light at Perryton Pkwy and 23rd Ave.

Four-way stop signs at Starkweather and Browning Sts.

Urging Pampa citizens to use care and judgment in planting

Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The collapse of a project to train pigeons for jobs as pill inspectors can only be viewed as a major social tragedy.

Due to automation and other technological advances, unemployment among pigeons has in recent years reached scandalous proportions.

Even homing pigeons, who are generally industrious and seldom drink on the job, have trouble finding work. Most people in need of messengers call Western Union instead.

Nor can pigeons return to traditional bird trades, such as eating bugs and otherwise keeping the forces of nature in balance. They have lived in cities too long for that.

As a result, they have become misfits and a burden on society. They hang around in public parks all day, intimidating status and passers-by.

It is apparent that the only way pigeons can be restored to a useful role in our modern, complex civilization is to teach them new skills.

A psychologist who trained two pigeons to serve as inspectors on a capsule assembly line in the plant of a large drug company undoubtedly was on the right track.

According to an article in the Journal of the American Psychological Association, the pigeons were taught by means of light beams to recognize defective capsules and to peck on a window when they appeared.

Although they achieved 39 per cent accuracy, the firm decided against employing pigeons as inspectors, apparently in fear that it might damage the corporate image.

The experiment did prove a point, however. It showed that pigeons can make their own way in the world is given a halfway decent chance.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I filed my return as soon as I got my W-2 in January. When should I get my refund?
A—A refund return filed early generally takes about six weeks to process. A missing signature, Social Security number or other error or omission will delay the processing. That is why Internal Revenue urges taxpayers to give their returns a final check for completion and accuracy before sending them in.

Q—How do I handle the money my son earned last year? If it is under $600 do I have to include it with my income since he is my dependent?
A—No, you don't. Regardless of age, though, if your son earned $600 or more during the year, he must file a return of his own. If any tax was withheld from his pay, your son must file a return to get a refund even if his earnings were under $600.

Q—I just sold some property I inherited from my father. What do I use as the cost of the property — what my father paid for it or the value when I inherited it?
A—Generally you would use the value at the time of your father's death.

Q—My bank keeps asking for my Social Security number. What right have they to do that?
A—The law requires banks and other institutions to obtain the tax account number, usually the Social Security number, from individuals they pay dividends and interest to.

Q—Where can I get a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax"?"
A—Get in touch with your local IRS office or write to either your District Director or the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402. This booklet explains the individual income tax filing requirements in greater detail than the 1040 instructions. It costs 50 cents.

Q—How long has April 15 been the filing deadline for federal income tax returns?
A—It was changed by Congress in 1954. The deadline had been March 15.

Giraffes sleep only a few hours each night, usually with heads held erect.

 Maj Stafford Myers, of Newport, Wash., crash-landed his plane on an airstrip in South Viet Nam this week and almost literally jumped from the frying pan into the fire.
 The airstrip was located outside the A Shau Special Forces camp about to be overrun by Communist North Viet Nam regulars.
 Myers leaped from the flaming cockpit of his plane and sprinted toward the relative safety of a nearby ditch.
 It appeared as if his future participation in the war, if not his very life, was at stake.
 But Myers' comrade-in-arms, Maj. Bernard Fisher, of Kuna, Idaho, had seen the forced landing and immediately undertook a one-man rescue mission.
 With utter disregard for his own safety, Fisher set his prop-driven fighter plane down on the air strip which by now had become a raging battleground.
 While fellow pilots overhead supplied machine gun cover Myers ran for Fisher's plane with the Communists at his heels.
 He managed to scramble aboard while Communist 50 caliber machine gun bullets whined around him. Fisher taxied his plane down the runway, gave it full throttle and soon was airborne and headed for safety.
 "This is the most daring rescue I have heard of since World War II," a veteran Air Force officer said afterward. "I can't think of anything we did in Korea to match it."

 "It was the bravest thing I have ever seen a pilot do," said another pilot who had witnessed the episode from the air. "I think the Communists were so amazed they just stopped what they were doing and watched it."
 Saigon: American warplanes smashed targets in the vicinity of Hanoi in continuing heavy raids against Communist North Viet Nam. Bitter ground fighting was marked by success in some areas but at A Shau near the Laotian border Communist troops overran and captured a Special Forces camp.
 Washington: An exchange of notes between French President de Gaulle and President Johnson indicated that the French leader would continue his piecemeal withdrawal from NATO. President Johnson sent a letter to Chancellor Erhard of West Germany trying to gain German support in the row with France.
 Dublin: Police blamed members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army for the bombing of Nelson monument in the heart of Dublin. The top third of the column was shattered in the explosion.
 Washington: Secretary of Defense McNamara told the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy that within several years Communist China would be able to launch a nuclear attack against all of Southeast Asia.
 Washington: A House-Senate committee agreed on a compromise version of the administration's tax program which gave the President almost everything he asked for to pay for the Viet Nam war and fight inflation.
 Amsterdam: Crown Princess Beatrix of Holland married German commoner Claus von Amsberg amid demonstrations by several thousand persons who apparently resented the groom's background as a member of the Hitler Youth movement.

 Tuesday will be the day set aside by the Red Cross Board for the membership drive. If you have not called the Red Cross Office and volunteered to take your block won't you do so Monday? The need to carry on our Red Cross work in Pampa is great as well as the needs for the National Organization. This is the month for disasters and our disaster fund is almost depleted. Won't you help our Red Cross to go over in our world today? Call your Red Cross Office, Mohawk 4-7121 and volunteer to work your block.
 Our Gray County Chapter has been asked to make 100 ditty bags for the servicemen serving in Viet Nam. The chapters are asked to make these bags and then they are filled with comfort articles such as combs, tooth brushes, tooth paste, soap and bath rags and are given to the boys as they arrive in Viet Nam. Since there is no place to buy these articles the men are very grateful to the Red Cross for furnishing them. A little tag is placed inside each bag stating "Given by the American Red Cross, not to be sold". The American Legion Auxiliary volunteered to make 50 bags and Mrs. T. C. Webster will make 10. Mrs. H. C. Wilkie will make 10. Mrs. C. C. Powell will make 10 so we only need a few more to be made.
 Tuesday morning Miss Lillian McKinnon, regional director of Nurses Services from St. Louis, Missouri, will be in Amarillo to talk with the Red Cross Nurses in Chapters. Mrs. Forrest Hills and Mrs. R. O. Linville will be the delegates and will represent Gray County.

 The Combined Service Territory Quarterly Meeting will be March 21th from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Ranch House Restaurant and Motel in Perryton. Archie Williams, administrator of the Regional Red Cross Blood Center in Wichita, Kansas, will discuss the Red Cross Blood Program and also participating on the program will be Mary Caruthers, Regional director for Red Cross Youth who will discuss Youth Participation in Red Cross Programs. Persons in our chapter who are interested in attending this meeting should call the Red Cross Office and make reservations.
 Over 40,000 Americans have given blood for Vietnam through the Red Cross to show their support of the US Government and its part of the armed forces in Vietnam. 30,000 units of the blood came from students in colleges. 145 colleges have participated and another 126 schools are scheduling for blood drives or expect to participate in blood drives this spring.
 The ARC Youth have worked to fill gift boxes or friendship boxes for the Viet Nam children through our schools. 102,000 boxes have been shipped from the U S and Pampa packed 220 boxes this year for Viet Nam. These boxes contained combs, colors, a gift, pencils, sketch pads and games.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) will represent two of three men who traveled to North Viet Nam last December in defiance of a State Department ban against such travel.
 They are Staughton Lynd, an assistant professor of history at Yale University, and Thomas Hayden, a founder of the Society for a Democratic Society.
 The State Department revoked their passports and the passport of the third man, Herbert Aptheker, executive director of the Institute for Marxist Studies.
 The ACLU said Thursday it has asked for an administration hearing by the State Department on the passport revocation—a necessary step before the issue can be taken to the courts. Aptheker will be represented by his own attorney at the hearing.

Red China Expert Will Appear Here
 A former U. S. Air Force Intelligence Officer, Major Edgar G. Bundy, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 23, at the Baptist Temple in Pampa.
 Major Bundy is considered an expert on Foreign Affairs by leading members of both Houses of Congress.
 Bundy predicted under oath before members of both Houses of Congress that South Korea would be attacked by the North

Morse Asks End Of China Policy
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called on the Johnson administration Thursday to end its policy of containing Communist China through military power.
 Morse, a vocal critic of U.S. foreign policy, said the policy of military containment "is an insurance policy for war."
 He said the United States must recognize China as the predominant political power in Asia and reestablish relations with the country on the basis of her actions and their relevance for the national interests of the United States.
 "Once we have made a realistic appraisal we should make every effort to open the door to greater political contacts with the mainland Chinese."
 Morse made his remarks at the International Toy and Trade Fair which awarded him the New York international fair prize.
 Korean Communist forces which had been trained and equipped by the Communists. The prediction was made one year and two days before it occurred. He also warned of the impending fall of China and blamed the State Department, Dean Acheson and the Truman Administration for what he termed "appeasement of the Soviet Union and failure to recognize the Communist threat" in the Far East.
 In January 1965 Bundy retired as a Major in the Air Force Reserve after 23 years service. As a result of the publicity received from his presentation to the Congress, Bundy has answered invitations to speak before leading clubs, conventions, town halls forums, universities and patriotic societies.
 He is a research analyst, lecturer, author and General Chairman of the Church League of America. In 1958 he published a 354-page documented book entitled "Collectivism In The Churches" exposing the alarming extent to which Communist propaganda has penetrated religious groups and institutions.
 He was awarded the American Legion's Americanism citation for distinguished service by the Department of Illinois and was selected as Young Man of the Year by the Wheaton, Ill., Junior Chamber of Commerce. He has been a member of the American Legion, American Veterans of World War II, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Air Force Association, the 14th and 8' and Co-ordinator of the DuPage County Coalition of Patriots.
 Edward Harrison, Secretary of the Rochester, N. Y., Ad Club, upon hearing Bundy, said, "Bundy gave one of the most able presentations ever heard before the Rochester Ad Club and members were left with a hearing his disclosure of Russian feeling of stark terror after hearing his disclosure of Russian intrigue. Some stayed around for an hour after the speech was over."

Lawman Sees National Menace In New Anti-Police Sentiment

By CLIFF SESSIONS
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A leading figure in law enforcement fears that police may soon be engulfed by a mounting wave of unpopularity.

"We're being psychologically and physically cudgeled to the point where we may soon be ineffectual," says Quinn Tam.

"When this happens, all America is on the brink of a 20th century age of darkness."

Tam, 55, a former assistant FBI chief, is executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), an organization of nearly 6,000 members which conducts research, training and police improvement programs.

Tam believes that disrespect for the law and its officers is being raised to an alarming level by constant disparagement of police by militant civil rights forces, abetted by some segments of the sociological, judicial, political and journalism fields.

To reverse the trend, he urges stepped-up community relations efforts by police and understanding and support from the public and its representatives in city halls, state capitols and Washington.

"I am not at all embarrassed to say that the police of this country need help," he declared.

Tam said a survey by the IACP indicates police "are suffering verbal abuse, provocation, defiance and interference with lawful arrests and other police functions more than they ever have before."

Growing Disrespect
The trouble, he says, stems from "a number of deliberate, or thoughtless, actions which are creating a growing disrespect for police, for the law, and for the rights and property of law-abiding citizens." The actions include what he calls "pseudo-civil rights demonstrations," street violence, false cries of police brutality, and a preoccupation with the rights of law violators.

"We are tired of sociologists, psychiatrists, militant civil rights leaders and others intoning that, because people are deprived and resentful of authority, they should be understood when they kill, destroy millions of dollars in property, commit arson, loot and pillage," Tam said.

"We are tired of the cry that because one segment of our population has been deprived for 100 years the balance of society must accept 100 years of anarchy. We are tired of the notion that certain causes are sacrosanct and that their rights transcend the law."

Police are often discouraged, he says, when a public official—in "feathering his own political nest"—supports or joins civil disobedience and pressure tactics, and when a news medium gives inflammatory or excessive coverage to civil disobedience.

Police brutality, Tam said, "is such a rare occurrence from a percentage standpoint these days that it does not warrant the oral and written assaults which have been launched against the police profession as a whole."

But Tam also believes that law enforcement must share the blame for its troubles.

"For too many years," he said "law enforcement set itself apart from the community and took little interest in community relations. Contacts between the police and the public occurred only under adverse conditions. We are working to establish a close working relationship rather than withdrawing into our individual shells when there are no problems."

Liberal judicial trends have a "demoralizing effect" on law enforcement, Tam said. "It's disconcerting to know that you have arrested a violent criminal and meet him coming down the street."

But disrespect for police is the most pressing problem, he said, warning that it will grow as long as policemen are the whipping boys of our society.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Ste'ison Inc. says he sees no reason that the decline need end in a conventional high-volume selling climax and would not hesitate to buy growth issues and special situations at current levels.

Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says that while the bulk of the selling may have already been seen, there is no cause for over-optimism as yet and he would continue to maintain ample reserves for possibly better buying opportunities in the weeks ahead.

Unknown Leads in Doral Open

MIAMI (UPI) — Jay Dolan put on the greatest drive of his young career Saturday and fired a three-under par 69 to take a one-stroke lead after the third round of the $100,000 Doral Open golf tournament.

Dolan, a 26-year-old former Rollins (Fla.) College player from Leicester, Mass., snatched the lead away from first half leader Kermit Zarley. He turned the front nine holes of the watery "blue monster" course in 34 and came home with a 35 and a 207 total. Zarley, who took the opening record-tying 65, carded a one under-par 71 Saturday to finish one of the wildest third-round scrambles in the Doral's history with a 208 total.

The tall, bespectacled Zarley's 208 was matched by Phil Rodgers, who turned the 7,023-yard lake-and-bunker-laced blue monster in 70.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., golf's 130 pound "thin man," fired a three-under par 69 to charge all alone into third place with a 209. Dickinson, who started the day three strokes off the pace and finished there also, carded a 34 going out and a 35 coming into the Doral's plush clubhouse.

Dumas Stops Pampa Twice in Doubleheader

Harvesters Shocked Twice by 8-4, 19-3

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

DUMAS (Spl.) — Dumas displayed some hot bats and Pampa displayed some costly mental errors Saturday to pave the way for a doubleheader sweep by the Demons, 8-4, 19-3.

The twin losses, Pampa's first of the season, sent coach Bobby Stephens back home with a 1-2 season reading.

Dumas put things on ice in the second game with a 10 run fourth inning that saw 13 batters march to plate with five of them connecting for hits.

Roy Harper had given up nine runs on six hits up to the fourth and was shelved out in the inning when he gave up four more runs.

Don Whitney came in for Harper and was tagged for four runs and three hits before Stone was able to get the final out.

Pampa started the second game like a house on fire, scoring three times in the first inning when Achord was safe on an error, Larry Stephens singled him to third and Corky Dodd, Dodd scored on an error.

Dumas took the lead in third with six runs coming across on five hits, the big blow a three-run double by Bud McVicker with the bases loaded.

Pampa threatened in the third when Achord singled and took third on a single by Stephens. But Molberg popped out, Dodd was whiffed and Jimmy Moore took three strikes.

Pampa threatened again in the fourth when Summers led off with a walk and took second when Jones followed with a single.

But Bud Harkrider, the winning pitcher, bore down to whiff Price and Harper and Achord popped to second.

In the first game Dumas scored once in each of the first two innings for a 2-0 lead before the Harvesters came back for four in the third, knocking out starter Jim Sober.

Bud Hammons went the distance for Pampa in the opener, giving up the eight runs on 10 hits. Hammons struck out nine and walked but two.

Galloway opened the Dumas scoring in the first with a triple and scored when Boyd followed with a single.

The Demons scored again in the second when McIntuff tripled when right fielder Sanders lost the ball in the sun.

McIntuff scored when Sober bunted safely, the ball taking a bad hop when Hammons tried to field it.

Pampa's scoring came when Sanders led off with a walk, took second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Moore.

Hammons walked moving Moore to second and Stephens doubled both runners home. Molberg scored Stephens with a single and that was all the Pampa scoring in the game.

Dumas came back for a 6-4 lead in their half of the third when Stephens singled and scored when McIntuff doubled on a lost in the sun fly ball by Harper. Bonner walked and scored on a triple by Galloway his second of the game.

Stephens paced Pampa hitting for the day with three hits in six at bats and Galloway led the Demons with five hits in six at bats, three of them triples.

Southern Methodist's run-and-shoot Mustangs, paced by playmaker guard Denny Holman, upset Cincinnati 89 to 84 Saturday night to salvage third place in the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball tournament.

Holman was sensational from the field, hitting 12 of 13 attempts on shots over the Cincinnati defense. He made a free throw for a total of 25 points, high for the game.

Holman gave SMU a nine point halftime lead, 10-1, with a running, one-hand midcourt shot at the buzzer.

The Bearcats, 78-76 losers to Texas Western Friday night, never could get untracked although they overtook SMU once by one point.

Center Carroll Hosuer poured in 21 points for SMU and Ron Rolfe led the Bearcats with 19 points.

The Mustangs, champions of the Southwest Conference, lost 76-60 Friday night to Kansas. But SMU came out with renewed determination against the Missouri Valley Conference champions, who seemed slow and sluggish.

The Wildcats, beaten only once in 27 games, will be in the final round for the sixth time, and on each previous occasion Kentucky, under Adolph Rupp has won the national title a record four times.

Sophomores Shine In NCAA Track Championship

DETROIT (UPI) — Gerry Lindgren and Martin McGrady, two 19-year-old sophomores, led a barrage on the record books in the second annual NCAA track and field championships Saturday as Kansas won the team championships with 14 points.

Lindgren of Washington State chopped a full 15 seconds off the two-mile record by winning in 8:41.3, while McGrady, of Central State (Ohio) turned in a record 1:09.4 to win the 600-yard run. In all seven meet records were set in the two-day track event.

Lindgren took the lead after the first lap, but John Lawson of Kansas stayed two strides behind until the final lap when the Olympic distance star put on a blistering finish.

Lawson's second place, combined with another second place and two third places, gave the Jayhawks the team title.

McGrady's expected duel with Tom Farrell of St. John's never materialized as the Central State indoor record holder took a big lead on the final lap to break the 1:10 mark of Louisiana State's Leland Albright set in 1965.

Farrell was edged for second place by Steve Carson of Iowa State.

Con Nightingale of Kansas State swept to a 4:03.4 victory in the mile as a surprising sophomore, Sam Bair of Kent State, finished second in 4:05.1. Notre Dame's Ed Dean faded on the last lap and placed third.

Otis Burrell, Nevada's one man entry, cleared seven feet even to beat Frank Costello, Maryland's ICA champion who finished second with 6'11. Burrell's mark topped Costello's 6'10 record of last year.

Southern California's Bill Fosdick smashed the pole vault record with 16 foot, 4 inch leap that broke the 15-8 1/4 mark set by Bob Yard of Washington State last year.

Charlie Green of Nebraska defended his 60-yard dash title by breaking his own 6.1 mark with a 6.0 clocking. Three-time ICA champion Sam Perry of Fordham ran a poor fifth in a semi-final heat and was eliminated from the finals.

Another record fell Friday night when Rainer Stenius of Los Angeles State took the long jump with 25-7 to break the 23-1 mark set last year by Mike Cole of Maryland.

Jerry Cerulla of Utah State pulled an upset in the 60-yard high hurdles by beating a premier field of competitors. Cerulla tied the meet record in nipping Dave Hemery of Boston University, the ICA champion, who also tied the mark in 7.2 seconds. Gene Washington of Michigan State, who set the standard last year, was fourth in this race.

Other winners Saturday were Morgan State in the mile relay with a 3:16.5 mark, and Herb Germann of Seton Hall with a 2:12.9 for the 1,000 yard run.

Ryun Starts His Track Training Early

IT'S OFF — Kansas' Jim Ryun, America's fastest miler, starts before a race. The hat is part of the traveling form of the Amateur Athletic Union.

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — It is 5:30 a.m. and the first cracks of Kansas dawn are still an hour or more away when Jim Ryun rolls back the covers to begin his day.

It is a day that begins the same way it ends—with hard work, with tension and with pressures other college students never know.

Jim Ryun, 18 a freshman at the University of Kansas, is America's greatest miler.

Better than his predecessors at Kansas, Glen Cunningham and Wes Santee; better, too, than Dyrrol Burleson and Jim Grelle and Tom O'Hara.

Right now there are only a few in the world with better times, like Jurgen May of East Germany, Kipchoge Keino of Kenya and Michel Jazy of France.

But everyone knows it is a matter of months before this powerful 6-1, 155-pound youngster from Wichita, Kan., passes them.

"There's no question," says John Whetton, the English miler, "that he's the best in the world at this distance right now."

Jim Ryun is uncomfortable when he hears statements like that because underneath the glamor and the headlines there is a quiet, constrained person who would greatly enjoy the life of the average college freshman. If only he could lead it.

His life at Kansas is quite regimented, but is no comparison to his life away from the campus when he is competing. Outsiders would think the foreigner had transferred Fort Knox to his hotel room.

He takes no calls, especially from newspapermen, spending as much time as possible studying and resting.

"We have to do it," says John Mitchell, Ka'as' assistant track coach who accompanied Ryun to a recent race in New York. "If we didn't, he'd never get any rest and he'd never get any time to study."

After a race, or if you've been lucky enough to grab a few minutes of his time during his warmups, you find such a soft-spoken kid that it's puzzling where he finds all his competitiveness.

On the track, he is a great competitor with a finishing kick that has quickly transformed many a dull race.

"Jim is on the speed side of the mile," says his coach Bob Timmons, who also coached Ryun at Wichita East High School. "As young as he is with this base speed, his true potential may be in the 800."

"But Jim has made the statement that he prefers the long side of the mile, meaning the two-mile. So I think there will be some experimenting done. I think it would be a mistake to just limit him, at this age, to one event."

Ryun began his assault on the 4-minute mile in high school. He was at 4:20 in April, but by June he had run a 4:07.8.

"As a junior high student," he recalls, "I had no idea that I would be a miler. I entered high school with the idea of being a 440 man and maybe to letter in my senior year."

A year later, in June 1964, he had cracked the 4-minute barrier with a 3:59.0 at Compton, Calif.

Then came his surprising third place finish in the final Olympic Trials which carried him to Tokyo just inches ahead of Jim Grelle.

A cold in Tokyo left him in a weakened condition, so the 1964 Olympics became just a bad memory. The coming year, however, would compensate for the disappointment.

With Timmons at the University of Kansas as an assistant coach, J. D. Edmiston became Ryun's coach at Wichita East.

"The only real change," Jim said, "was that we worked a lot more on speed than anything else. Tails helped my finish a lot more."

In May 1965, he had run a 3:58.3 and followed this with a 3:58.1 at Modesto. Then came a third place 3:56.8 in Compton before he set the American record with his 3:55.3 by defeating the Olympic champion Peter Snell and Grelle in the AAU mile.

Reunited with Timmons now at Kansas, Ryun works out twice a day, at 6 a.m. and again at 2:30 p.m.

"In the morning," Timmons said, "there is about a 45-minute workout. The afternoon averages two hours. We do speed work as well as distance work. But even on the days when we're running in the hills, there is time for speed work."

In addition there is time allotted for calisthenics and weight training.

But the problems remain finding enough time for schoolwork, trying to be as tactful as possible with the press and public and trying to enjoy college life.

"I have thought about what happened to Snell," Ryun says, "but pressure is just something you have to accept in sports. That is what I am trying to do."

"With Snell it apparently got very bad, to the point where it made him lose interest in his running."

Now Jim Ryun faces the same situation. And he is only 18.

Cardenas Hits For Cincinnati

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

Cardenas' Leo Cardenas is making an early bid to shake shadows cast by his shortstop.

The 27-year-old Cardenas has emerged superbly for the past few seasons and hit .287 last year, yet he lacks the fanfare of teammates like Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Dick Groat of the Philadelphia Phillies and Zoilo Salas of the Minnesota Twins.

and righthander Thad Tillotson the Braves will use front line pitchers Denny Lemaster, Hank Fischer and Ken Johnson.

The Dodgers' General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi also announced that he had made a final offer to Maury Wills but that the fleet shortstop had turned it down.

"We offered $75,000 which represents a raise of $25,000 from last season," Bavasi said. "Wills refused the offer and it looks as though we will have to play without Wills this season."

Clay-Chuvalo Bout March 29

TORONTO (UPI) — Cassius Clay is now slated to meet George Chuvalo in Maple Leaf Gardens on March 29—but just what they'll be fighting for has not yet been determined.

The bout has been listed as an "out" proposition—meaning that no odds are being quoted.

The World Boxing Association and Ontario Athletic Commissioner Merv McKenzie have gone on record as saying that Clay and Chuvalo won't be slugging it out for the title.

And the promoters and closed circuit television bigwigs have raised serious doubts whether they will even be battling for money.

The financial problems faced by the bout were expected to be partially remedied by the announcement that Chuvalo, a local fighter, had been picked to replace Ernie Terrell in the fight.

But the large numbers of local fans who are supposed to turn out to watch their local idol may turn out to be a myth.

According to local newspapers, Chuvalo and his cigar-smoking manager Irv Ungerman drew down the wrath of the Toronto citizens by bitterly complaining of unfair judges, partisan referees and belligerent fans after dropping a decision here last year to Terrell.

If the fans hold their grudge, the live gate might be just as disappointing as the revenue from the closed circuit television promises to be.

Ever since Clay made some rather caustic remarks about being reclassified I.A., the estimates of the television box office have continued to decline. Mike Malitz, executive in-charge of telegrams to anyone showing a flicker of interest in setting up a closed circuit site. The telegrams give them the chance to either open a site or drop out if they already have one.

Bill vaulted his way to the top of the vaulting world with his first two clutch home runs, which enabled the Reds to win their first two Grapefruit League contests.

Cardenas connected for a two-run blast Thursday as the Reds whipped Kansas City, 5-3, Friday he belted a two-run homer to pace his team to a 4-2 triumph over Philadelphia.

Robin Roberts, Larry Dierker and Danny Coombs combined to pitch the Houston Astros to a victory over the Chicago White Sox. The 39-year-old Roberts allowed just one hit in the first three innings.

The Pittsburgh Pirates ridded three Red Sox errors and some timely hitting into a 2-1 victory in their first exhibition game of the season.

The Pirates received some fine pitching from veteran Vernon Law and rookie lefthander Woody Fryman. Law allowed only two hits in his three-inning workout while Fryman pitched illness ball over the same distance.

In other camps: The world champion Dodgers named rookie pitcher Bill Singer to start against the Atlanta Braves in today's exhibition opener for both clubs. Singer will be followed by lefty Nick Willhite.

LAURELS FOR RUPP
NEW YORK (UPI) — Adolph Rupp of Kentucky was selected as Coach of the Year Friday by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers' Association.

Rupp last won the award in 1950.

GRAEBNER DROPPED

CAIRO (UPI) — Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, was knocked out of the Egyptian Lawn Tennis championships' semifinals Friday when Australia's Ken Fletcher beat him in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3.

KEEPING AN EYE PEELED — One of the rules of hitting is to follow the ball's flight all the way to the plate, which Denis Menke does here as he takes his cuts in the batting cage. Menke also has his eye on the regular job as Atlanta Braves' shortstop.

Its Chilling Night for TW

Texas Western, the third-ranked team in the nation, had the fight of its life before clipping ninth-ranked Cincinnati 78-76 in a chilling overtime tussle Friday night.

Kansas nearly succumbed to fast-breaking Southern Methodist, but pulled out a 76-70 victory in the nightcap.

Willie Cager poured in six points in the five-minute overtime after regulation play had ended 69-69 to pull Texas Western through. Cager was almost the goat because he missed a free throw in the final seconds.

Nevil Shed of the Miners was ejected from the game in the rough-and-tumble battle for punching Cincy star Don Rolfe.

Shed said Rolfe kept pushing him and "I told the ref about it and he wouldn't do nothing—so I hit him" (Rolfe).

Jumping David Lattin led the Miners with 25 points and swept the boards clean.

In the second game Kansas relied on towering 6-11 Walt Wesley to offset the game and hustling Mustangs. SMU hit its first five shots, but Wesley caught fire in the second half and finished the game with 23 points. Carroll Hooser paced the Mustangs with 22.

Rambling while catching up.
You can always tell the golfers and fishermen, they hibernate during the winter but let the first rays of sunshine warm things up and the lakes, creeks and golf courses have visitors again.

Poor Jerry

Pampa CC pro, Hart Warren, was busy this past week with the course crowded most every day.
We apologize again to Jerry Roberts of Groom, the do-everything athlete who has made the first team All-State football squad and last week was named to the second team All-State cage squad.

We had him signing a letter of intent with Southern Methodist when it turned out to be Texas Christian.
He'll play both sports his freshman year.

The Optimist Club has been working hard at the ball park and it looks good. When the grass comes up the park would do credit to a minor league team.

Among others you can thank Newt Secrest for the work being done, there are still a lot of improvements going to be made and the Harvesters will probably open at home around the first of April.

Pampa has been picked to finish sixth in the 3-4A baseball chase. If they continue to improve from their Friday showing against Borger they stand a good chance of winning the league title.

Four of the six Harvesters errors were throwing errors and this will be corrected with experience. The Bulldogs had 10 errors, mostly because of a very rough infield.

All Gone

The Harvester pitching was good with a sophomore Dickey Henley a little nervous in his first start. He was also throwing with a sore elbow. Junior Jim Lang looked exceptionally good and could become the third starter behind Bud Hammons and Roy Harper.

Tickets are now on sale at $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students to the Pampa Harvester basketball banquet slated March 29.

Of the original 24 players picked by Houston in the 1961 draft only four are still with the club. Five are retired, 13 are with other clubs, either in the major or minors, one is deceased, Jim Umbricht, and Norm Larker is playing in Japan.

The Pampa Rifle and Pistol club is sponsoring their 13th annual invitational junior rifle tournament March 26, beginning at 9 a.m. at the indoor range of the club

Nine Texans Agree to Play In Colonial

FORT WORTH — Headed by PGA Champion Dave Marr, nine Texans accepted invitations to play in the $110,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament, May 16-22.

Besides Marr, three other defending champions are included in the group. They are Don Massengale, former TCU swinger who won his first tour title at the Big Crosby Shindig this winter; Dudley Wyszong Jr., recent victor in the Phoenix Open and Homero Blancas, the defending Mexican Open champion. Massengale is from Jacksboro, Wyszong lives in McKinney and Marr and Blancas are from Houston.

Other Texans accepting bids to the 21st annual tournament are Jacky Cupit of Longview, Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Charles Coody of Stamford, Bill Martindale of Jacksonville and Billy Maxwell of Abilene and Dallas.

It'll be like coming home to Coody and Maxwell. Coody now resides in Fort Worth and Maxwell's twin brother Bobby, is an assistant pro at Colonial Country Club where the tournament is held.

These Texans have helped maintain the winning Lone Star tradition on the PGA tour. Al but Martindale and Blancas have won U. S. tour titles but even without victory they didn't fare badly last year. Martindale was the PGA's 17th leading money winner with a collection of $44,583. Blancas was "Rookie of the Year".

Marr's most prestigious title, of course, is the PGA plum he grabbed last summer. Cupit has a Western Open title to his credit. Coody is a former Dallas Open titlist. Weaver won the 1965 Jacksonville Open and Maxwell has eight championship trophies on his shelf.

The addition of the new players brings to 15 the number thus far signed and sealed for the field as it now stands:

Homero Blancas, Gay Brewer, Billy Casper, Charles Coody, defending champion Bruce Crampton, Jacky Cupit, Babe Hiskey, Dave Marr, Billy Martindale, Don Massengale, Billy Maxwell, Doug Sanders, Ken Venturi, Bert Weaver and Dudley Wyszong.

1,000 Rattlers Caught in Annual Sweetwater Hunt

SWEETWATER (UPI)— Hunters from 10 states roamed the sandstone hills around Sweetwater Saturday, pumping gasoline fumes into the dens of rattlesnakes and catching them with hooks on the ends of poles when they came out angry and buzzing.

The occasion was the eighth annual Sweetwater Roundup. At last report, more than 900 snakes were in three pits in the Nolan County Coliseum. They ranged in length from 12 1/2 to 63 1/2 inches.

The roundup started Friday and will end at sundown Sunday. About 200 hunters were in the field Saturday and at least 300 were expected Sunday. The hunter who catches the most pounds of snakes will get $50. The hunter who catches the longest snake will win $20.

So far, the winner of the longest snake prize was W. H. Elliott of Sweetwater with the 63 1/2 inch. C. M. Carlisle of Roscoe, Tex., who captured the 12 1/2 inch snake, also caught the most — 108 pounds.

Besides Texas, hunters — men and women — were from Iowa, Ohio, Mississippi, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Florida.

Officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the roundup, said many of the hunters were out for the first time. When they registered, they got pamphlets on snake — hunting and a lecture about how to avoid being bitten.

Move to Atlanta To Effect Braves?

By SANDY PADWE
ATLANTA — (NEA) — In public, baseball players display their professionalism like a badge.

Ask, and the majority will tell you that if the money is right, they'll play on an iceberg in Greenland with seals for fans, and still hit .300.

Privately, though, it's a lot different and the players involved in the Milwaukee-Atlanta switch are prime examples.

The majority feels badly about leaving Milwaukee under the present circumstances but also realizes there are intangibles involved that may make the switch very profitable next October.

"Psychologically," says catcher Joe Torre, "the whole move has to make a difference on the field."

The difference involves the fans, and ballplayers, like actors, need them.

Johnny Callison of the Philadelphia Phillies explains it perfectly.

"The fans make a difference," he said, "when you go to Milwaukee and see a crowd of 3,000 in a park where you used to see 30,000 it has to affect the player."

"For me, it's like playing in another exhibition game. And every time I pick up the paper the morning after playing in a game like that I look for my name and see 'Callison, zero for five.'"

The question, then, is how will the franchise switch affect the Braves players. In the past, franchise switches generally have helped the new teams:

TEAM	FIN
Boston (NL) 1952	7
St. Louis (AL) 1953	8
Phila (AL) 1954	8
N. York (NL) 1957	6
Brooklyn (NL) 1957	5
Washington 1960	3
TO	FIN
1 Milwaukee 1953	2
Baltimore 1954	7
Kans's City 1955	6
S. Francisco 1958	3
Los Angeles 1958	7
Minnesota 1961	7

"Don't kid yourself," says Johnny Logan, the shortstop on the 1952 Boston team that moved to Milwaukee. "When we left Boston and went to Milwaukee, those people were so great that it seemed as though we wanted to play extra hard for them."

"Actually," ballplayers are show people. The more fans, the more they put out.

"I think this could make a difference in Atlanta this year no matter how the Milwaukee players feel about leaving town.

"Remember that first the guys are professional. They play because it's their livelihood and their pride will make the play that much more if the people in Atlanta get behind them the way Milwaukee got behind us. I really feel this could be enough incentive for the Braves to win the pennant this year."

Del Crandall, now with the Cleveland Indians but another member of the first Milwaukee team, shares Logan's feeling. "I don't think there is a doubt the switch will affect the ballplayer's performance on the field. A full stadium has a tremendous impact."

"We put out 100 per cent, but there are things that can make the 100 per cent better. When crowd has great enthusiasm — your 100 per cent is even better."

For a few years, it was exactly that way in Milwaukee.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

An intensive study of the water resources — current and future — of Texas has been going on during the past two years. The High Plains — Ogallala Reservoir — Area of Texas as which also includes the Texas Panhandle covers some 42 counties with an area of 35,000 square miles. The area is approximately 300 miles long and 120 miles wide. This is a larger area than that of a number of our sister states. Average rainfall varies from 12 to 20 inches annually. Much of the precipitation — rain, snow, sleet and fog is not general and large percentages of the total amount often occur in short periods. The studies made of the moisture periods show that approximately 70 per cent of the moisture falls during the growing season.

The 2020 Water Plan Study revealed that the High Plains area of Texas is unique in many physical and economic characteristics. We are commonly thought of as an area whose economy is predominately agricultural. Yet, the 1960 census of the 42 county area listing us with a population of 893,963, reveals that there are 648,514 urban area residents in the region as compared with only 245,349 persons living in rural sections. In nineteen of the forty-two counties, mineral production exceeds agriculture as the largest booster for the economy, and the total value of the mineral production is almost 500 million dollars greater than the value of the farm products produced. Six of the 42 county area are listed among the top ten farm income counties of the entire state. All this points to a diversified economy that is also well-balanced. To pin-point this balance we need only to show that the revenues of the principal utility companies serving the region during the past ten years have more than doubled — and yet, the relationship of revenues from domestic, commercial and industrial service remain virtually unchanged.

In looking over the future of agriculture, the water hydrologists and economists who participated in the 2020 Water Study reached one definite conclusion — agriculture in our area will continue to play a major role in the agricultural economy of the state and nation.

The life insurance companies and the Federal Land Bank have shown their faith in our area. These companies have approximately $300,000,000 invested in long term agricultural land loans in the 42 county area comprising the High Plains. These loans have been made under the basic premise that irrigation is supplemental rather than primary. The studies have revealed that a substantial farm income can be shown from those farms operated without irrigation.

The studies also show that our area does not fit the normal, or river basins, approach to water studies. Our stream basins are ill-defined and have been of a lesser hydrological importance than our underground water supply. We now know that this underground water supply is being exhausted. The source or practically all of the water used on the 4,867,000 acres now being irrigated, is the Ogallala formation. The other developed sources are used for municipal and industrial water.

The Canadian River Basin yields more water than the other streams of the area, and the Sanford Dam on the Canadian, indicates that this stream will play a vital role in meeting the future municipal and industrial water requirements of the region. On the agricultural side of our coin is the prediction by a number of agricultural economists that the United States will be a food-short nation by 1985. Assuming that these predictions are accurate — then our High Plains area with its superb soil, good climate plus the oil and gas industry — fertilizers make our area one of the most productive in the nation, and unexcelled in the state, seems destined for a continuing major role in agricultural production. Increasing efforts are being made to conserve from evaporation, the water which accumulates in the many playa lakes, either through direct application to the land or recharge into the underground formations. It is estimated that High Plains playa lakes collect approximately 3 million acre-feet of water in a year of normal rainfall.

By FOSTER WHALEY
The Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show and Sale is over. The new facilities were great. Space would not permit naming the many, many individuals that donated so very much of their time and money making the show the success it was. Thanks to all.

Last Fall we assisted Fred Vanderburg with a cattle worming demonstration that had been planned by our Beef Cattle subcommittee. Fifty-eight head of 300 pound, stocker steer calves were given a new worming compound called Thibenzole. A like number was also weighed that had not been given the compound. These cattle originated in the Fort Worth Area. They have been run on wheat all Fall and Winter after being wormed. They are to be delivered shortly and will be weighed again to determine the value of worming, if any. Results will be published and made available.

There are several result demonstrations in progress at Moody Farms. One demonstration will check the value of conditioning cattle on wheat before placing into feed lot.

H. H. Keahey, president of the Canadian Production Credit Association, has two pens of eastern heifers that were run on wheat for a 60 to 90 day period. They will be compared to similar cattle that went directly into the feed lot. These demonstrations and others should prove to be highly valuable to farmers and ranchers making management decisions.

Wheat pasture cattle have done exceptionally well in both daily gains and profit wise. Many classes of cattle have put on over 20 pounds of gain. Price advances have been as high as five to six cents per pound.

We have a call occasionally on how to control gophers. We have a new leaflet on gophers — L-92 "Thumbs Down on Pocket Gophers." Call our office if you need a free leaflet.

The Pan Tech Tested Bull sale program is scheduled for March 24th. We have several local producers that have bulls in this feeding performance program.

Texas Farmer's Income Advances

AUSTIN (UPI) — Income received by Texas farmers during 1965 showed substantial increases with a total income of $2,751,000,000 from sales and government subsidies, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

The total income figure was up 11 per cent over 1964, due to healthy increases in receipts from cash sales of cattle and calves, cotton lint and sorghum grains. Total farm income included $1,161,000,000 from livestock and livestock products, up 12 per cent; $1,391,000,000 from all crops, up 9 per cent; and $199 million from government subsidy payments, up 14 per cent from the previous year. Average net income per farm in 1965 was $4,792, up 27 per cent from the average of $3,924 in 1964 and up 8 per cent from the $4,862 per farm in 1963, the USDA said.

WHEN YOUR NEIGHBOR IS IN TROUBLE

HE COMES TO

Family Relief

Families in desperate circumstances have always turned to the Salvation Army. The Army's objective is to meet the immediate need and then assist them to become self-supporting. When finances fail, this is the first program to suffer as food is costly.

Clothing

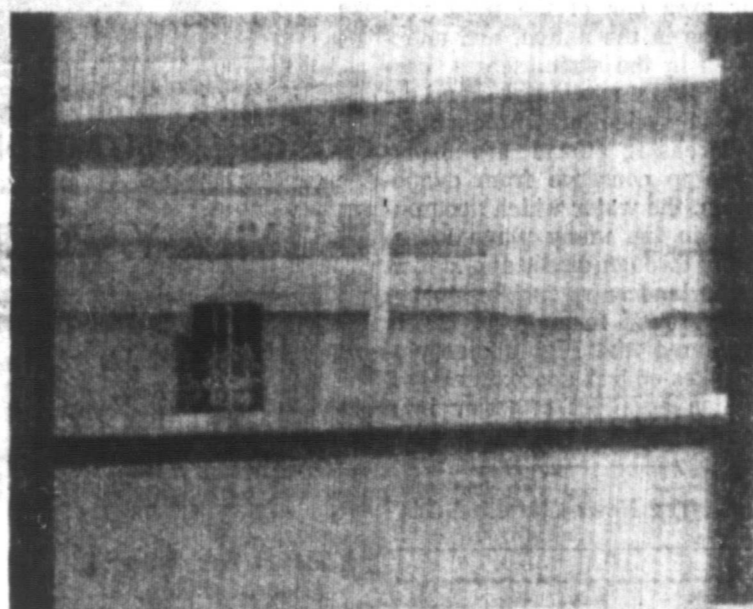

New shoes and new clothes are unknown luxuries to really poor families. Last year the Salvation Army provided over 21,000 garments of clothing and 950 pair of shoes to the needy of Pampa.

Youth Work

Boys and girls choose from 11 different recreational and educational activities that meet weekly under trained supervision, in addition to summer camping programs and seasonal activities.

For 39 Years Pampans have made it Financially Possible for THE SALVATION ARMY to meet his needs. Whatever the need - skilled dedicated workers are there who help with a MINIMUM of Red Tape and a MAXIMUM of Personal Concern. Although every economy is practiced, and overhead is held to a bare minimum, MONEY IS STILL A NECESSITY.

THE CUPBOARD IS BARE

In Budgeting for 1966, the Pampa Salvation Army requested $17,228.00 from the United Fund to help meet the LOCAL needs. Only $12,177.00 will be received.

Counseling

Meeting tangible needs often opens the doors for counseling by workers who are spiritually motivated and trained in social work techniques. The girl in trouble, frustrated families, the alcoholic, the delinquent child, the aged and those without hope, all find their way to the Salvation Army.

Furniture

Whether it is a result of a major disaster or family emergency, many people call on The Salvation Army for the necessities of home life. Last year hundreds of items of furniture were distributed to needy families by The Pampa Salvation Army.

Character Building

Every effort is made to strengthen the ideals and morals of the young people who come in contact with the Salvation Army. The Army's objective is to strengthen character and motivate them toward good citizenship.

Lovett Memorial Library Brings Reading Pleasure

Pampa Daily News

SUNDAY, MARCH 13, 1966

THE FIRST library in Pampa was begun back in the early 1900s by a group of literary-minded women who named their group "The Ladies' Library Club." A library was established on the second floor of the Old First National Bank with approximately 700 books filling its shelves.

OUT OF THIS humble beginning grew Pampa's modern library of today, Lovett Memorial Library, built in January, 1955, from funds willed for that purpose by the late Mrs. Fannie Lovett. There are now 27,500 books on the library's shelves, 2,350 of which were purchased in the last year.

THERE ARE 16,000 persons in the area with library cards and some 15,000 active readers. The library checks out approximately 100,000 books per year with children under 12 years of age being the most avid readers.

ADULTS are second in the pleasure reading category, while area high school and college students are the ones who use the library's facilities most for reference.

MRS. WILLIAM SPIDELL, librarian, has made plans to organize the materials of the library, re-do the card catalog, re-letter the books now on the shelves, and make use of the library more convenient in general. She also plans to fill the shelves more completely and obtain program material for local organizations.

LIBRARIAN — Mrs. William Spidell, upper left, guides the many phases of work done at the library. Her main duties are keeping patrons supplied with the latest reading materials and seeing that books are placed in a manner convenient for readers to find.

CHECKING OUT BOOKS — Mrs. Claude Williams is checking out some books to George Adams of 2001 Williston, upper right. This phase of the work at the library keeps one employe busy at the check-out desk most of the time. Mr. and Mrs. Adams both are frequent visitors to the library.

SENIOR CITIZENS CENTER — Some 80 elderly persons attend Senior Citizens' Center each Thursday afternoon in the library auditorium. The Center is sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Pampa and local Gray Ladies provide transportation for those wishing to attend. In the lower left photo Mrs. Mack Harmon, Gray Lady, left, is accompanying Mrs. Nettie Cornelison and Jay Evans, senior citizens, to the meeting.

STORY HOUR — Mrs. Gordon Crinklaw, center right, assistant librarian, conducts a story hour each Thursday and Friday morning at 9 o'clock for children five years of age. Mrs. Crinklaw entertains as many as 75 children on these days with stories read from books at the library.

MAKING REPAIRS — Most of the library's users are considerate and try to take care of the books checked out. However, repairing torn or damaged books consumes part of each working day for employes. Mrs. Orville Heiskell is shown at lower left making needed repairs.

SHELVING — Mrs. Bob Burrows, lower center, is shown placing returned books on the shelves at the library. The increased use of the library has made it necessary to hire a high school girl to help with the task on a part-time basis.

CATALOGING — New books arriving at the library have to be cataloged for reference needs and books already on the shelves often need to be recataloged. Mrs. Cecil Collum, lower right, is shown attending to that task.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

SOME MONTHS ago Extra Sensory Perception, better known as ESP, was mentioned in this column and a number of persons interested in the subject contacted the woman's editor concerning a discussion group. Since a number of persons interested in ESP were available, but none of them had obtained much material on the subject, a meeting of the group was postponed until someone with ESP information could be found. Then came a telephone call from a lady who just recently moved to Pampa, a student of ESP for several years, who has done a great deal of research on the subject. She is willing to meet with a discussion group and share her ESP experiences. A meeting has been set up for the evening of March 24. Anyone interested in attending to discuss ESP experiences and to learn more about it, should call this columnist prior to that date for the meeting time and place. Received an anonymous note recently concerning features on Pampa artists appearing in another paper. Will the person sending the note contact us again? We have no way of knowing the artist they want publicized. Have checked with some of our local connections concerning Pampa artists and have three features slated to appear in the Women's Section of the News. Hope they are what our nameless note-writer wants.

WELL, WE GOOFED. In last Sunday's edition of the News, a story appearing in this section had Mrs. Terry (Carole) Clay feted at a farewell party. Don't know how things got so mixed up, but we want to extend a welcome to the charming and attractive Mrs. Clay, who, along with her husband, moved to Pampa a month ago from Oklahoma City. Mr. Clay is an engineer with Pan American Petroleum Corp. Also want to welcome their new son, Keith, born a week after they became residents of our town. The party, which was in reality a welcome event for Mrs. Clay, was given in the home of Mrs. Art (Janice) Freeman. Those attending the coffee to become acquainted with the newcomer included Mrs. Derrell (Sandy) Little, Mrs. Jim (Sandy) Allen, Mrs. Joe (Kathryn) McArthur, Mrs. Pat (Karen) Carrell, Mrs. J. E. (Jeri) Moore, Mrs. Travis (Joanne) Johnston, Mrs. Herman (Gladys) Jarrard, Mrs. Danny (Joey) Brister, Mrs. Glen (Vera) Darling, Mrs. Gale (Norma) McCord, Mrs. Bob (Shirley) Lockett, Mrs. Dwayne (Sue) Kuntz, Mrs. Robert (Joy) Waddell, Mrs. Robert (LaVon) Harmon and Mrs. Kurt (Mary) Nauck. A special dinner party was given recently in Starlight Room of Coronado Inn honoring members of the Research and Development Department of Cabot for their fine safety record. Special honorees at the event were George Friauf, well-known engineer for Cabot, and his lovely wife, Lucille. Mr. Friauf is retiring from the company. D. W. Bond was master of ceremonies and arrangements for the dinner were made by Bert Arney, assisted by Dave Redus. N. Dudley Steele, head of the Research and Development Department, was the speaker and read several wires from out-of-town Cabot personnel extending best wishes to the Friaufs. Other than members of the department and their wives, special guests were Virginia and E. L. Green Jr., Hugh Burdette and Barbara and R. E. Dobbin. A group of friends have returned from a much enjoyed holiday in Las Vegas, Nev. They are Jim and Anna Mae Triplehorn, Ralph and Teresa McKinney, Clinton and Donna Jo Evans and Ralph and Evelyn Sidwell.

DR. EMILIO CABALLERO, head of West Texas State University Art Department, will be the guest speaker at Twentieth Century Allegro Club's Guest Day Tea. The event is set for the Pampa Country Club at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Dr. Caballero, well-known in Pampa, has taught in numerous workshops in our area. He has been commissioned to do many large copper enamels, mosaic tile murals and paintings for public buildings and private homes. Dr. Caballero has given one-man shows in Lubbock, Midland, Muleshoe, Pampa, Canyon, Plainview, Amarillo, Clovis, N.M. and La Fayette, La. Allegro members and guests will enjoy this artist who was invited to show with 46 American artists in Grand Central Galleries of New York in a preview of the Grumbacher Hyplar technique in 1964. The show will travel throughout the United States. Dr. Caballero's work was selected to represent American artists in the show "ART:USA" in 1961 in Madison Square Garden and he was appointed a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts of Great Britain in 1964. Mrs. Ruth Paxton of Findlay, Ohio, sister-in-law and recent house guest of Mrs. Frank (Augusta) Yealy, was entertained at a number of parties while a Pampa visitor. Mrs. Yealy honored her guest at a bridge luncheon. Those enjoying the event included Mrs. I. B. (Catherine) Hughey, Mrs. Joe (Mary) Weaver, Mrs. Henry (Sally) Butler, Mrs. Chester (Marguerite) Thompson, Mrs. Louise Sewell, Mrs. Maude Schulkey, Mrs. Tom (Julette) Parker, Mrs. H. T. (Dorothy) Hampton, Mrs. Joe (Clovia) Lutes, Mrs. George (Thelma) Taylor, Mrs. C. F. (Mary Helen) Boston, Mrs. Earl (Faye) Eaton, Mrs. W. L. (Frances) Groves, Mrs. R. E. (Ruth) Wright, Mrs. John (Eddalee) Hoggard, Mrs. Luther (Eunice) Pierson, Mrs. Bob (Alma) McCoy and Mrs. C. O. (Nell) Drew. Other parties honoring the Ohio visitor were luncheons given by Mrs. Pierson in her home; Mrs. Thompson in Coronado Inn Pampa Club; Mrs. Ann Heskew in her home; Mrs. Drew in Berger Hotel; Mrs. J. (Virginia) Dewey and Mrs. Eaton in the Dewey home; Mrs. Boston in her home; and Mrs. Schulkey, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Lutes and Mrs. Hampton in Jackson's Cafeteria. Dessert-bridges feting Mrs. Paxton were given by Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Drew in the Butler home; Mrs. Sewell in her home; Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Groves in the Weaver home, and Mrs. Haggard in her home. Friends of Alan Pitts, who underwent surgery for the removal of a brain tumor last Feb. 11, will be happy to hear that he is recovering well from the surgery. The tumor was discovered on his 14th birthday, Feb. 7. Alan, the son of Dolis and Kathryn Pitts, is still a patient in Amarillo North-west Texas Hospital and is a bit homesick after his five-week stay there. Know he would like to receive cards and letters from his friends and classmates at Robert E. Lee Junior High School. Alan is in Room 560 at the hospital.

DR. BILL AND AUDREY Campbell have returned from a campers' tour of Mexico where they visited many of the coastal cities and enjoyed swimming and fishing at nearly every stop. The couple was fascinated when viewing tropical mountains that seemed to run down into the ocean, with banana and coconut trees growing on them. An unusual sight the Campbell's saw was the corn growing and cultivated on the steep mountain sides. Loyal and Leone Davies are going to be missed when they leave Pampa to make their home in Wichita, Kan., where Mr. Davies has been transferred by Cities Service Company. The Davies have been residents here for the past 18 years. The couple was honored at an open house reception last Sunday afternoon in the home of Leon and Lauree Patterson. The two Patterson children, Kathleen and David, were charming co-hosts. Members of the house party included Mrs. Dale (Kathryn) Pitts, Mrs. A. N. (Nancy) King, Mrs. Davis (Jane) Plunkett and Mrs. Hubert (Dorothy) Lam. Other Cities Service personnel attending the event to bid farewell to the Davies were the Arthur Griggs, A. G. Miss Linda Price of Arlington presided at the punch service while Mrs. Jim Brashears attended the guest register. Other house party members included Mrs. Carl Sexton and Mrs. F. W. Hendrix. Miss Riina Lagus, AFS Student, Tells Of Sweden at TC Forum Club Meeting

Miss Riina Lagus, American Field Service student, presented the program to the Twentieth Century Forum Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. Joe Franklin, 1809 N. Russell.

Mrs. Homer Johnson, vice president, conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president. Members were urged to attend the musical revue "Funny Girl" on March 17. All proceeds from the revue go to the Wadley Leukemia Research Center in Dallas.

Mrs. Donald S. Hauck introduced the speaker. Miss Lagus was accompanied by her Pampa mother, Mrs. Will Graham.

Miss Lagus' delightful talk was on her native Sweden. She said, "My home is Uppsala, Sweden, a city of 80,000 population north of Stockholm. Uppsala is a very historic city, having been the capital of Sweden at one time. The Swedish University, founded in 1477, is located in Uppsala. The climate is comfortable and the temperature rarely exceeds 85 degrees even in the summer.

"Sweden's 1,000 mile length makes it a country of contrasts. Extreme cold glacier conditions are in the north and plains in the southern portion. The center region is covered with forests and lakes.

"Sweden has a parliamentary government. The King of Sweden has no actual power and is more or less tradition. The Socialistic Party has been in power since 1938. The party does not support Marxist socialism as 90 per cent of industry is private enterprise.

"Iron ore and forests are Sweden's two main industries. Because the iron ore contains 60 to 70 per cent iron, it is very valuable. The water resources supply the electricity but oil must be imported.

"One-family houses in Sweden are becoming more popular. However, the majority of people live in apartment houses.

"School is compulsory through the ninth grade. The government provides the school, books and noon meal free. After the ninth grade the pupils are divided according to ability. The top 25 per cent are taken into high school and the remaining students go to trade or business schools. Sweden has five universities for her 7 1/2 million people, and these universities are open to all high school graduates. Tuition is free in high school and college.

"English is a required subject beginning in the fourth grade. The student may choose German or French in the seventh grade with the remaining language introduced in the ninth grade.

"Social life in Sweden is similar to the United States. Although young people in Sweden (See STUDENT, Page 18)

Scholarship Fund Tea This Afternoon Will Conclude Business Women's Week

The Mary O. Lilystrom Scholarship Fund Tea in the home of Mrs. Earl Eaton, from 2:30 o'clock this afternoon to 5 will conclude Business Women's Week. This special week has been observed nationally by B&PW Clubs.

The Mary O. Lilystrom Foreign Scholarship Fund was designed to promote better understanding between nations, to further world peace, and to create an appreciation for the democratic philosophy of government.

The fund, first known as the Foreign Scholarship Fund, originated with Mrs. Ruth M. Shawk, San Antonio Club, and state chairman of international relations, for 1940 and 1950. Mrs. Shawk presented a recommendation to the state board in January, 1950, that the State Federation sponsor a scholarship for a foreign woman student attending a Texas college. San Antonio Club endorsed the project and pledged $25 to start the fund. The Board recommended a re-draft of the proposal to be presented at the State Convention in June, 1950. The recommendation failed to carry, but it was placed on the agenda for consideration at the next State Convention. It was approved by the Federation in June, 1951, in convention at El Paso as the Foreign Scholarship Fund. Addie V. Payne, education and vocations chairman, and Opal Clifton, international relations chairman encouraged participation in the fund. District 1 in conference in October, 1951, adopted the following recommendation: "That the name of the Foreign Scholarship Fund be changed to Mary Lilystrom Fund in honor of our beloved past president who came here from a foreign country (Sweden), made a place for herself in this country, as well as economic contributions to its welfare, and a moral and spiritual contribution to the progress of women in business and the professions, particularly to the progress of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Texas."

The recommendation was presented to the state board at its mid year meeting in Fort Worth in January, 1952, and was adopted by State Convention in June, 1952, in Fort Worth, along with a plan of administration worked out by Opal Clifton and Addie V. Payne as requested by the board.

Contributions to the fund are voluntary on the part of each club and—or member. Applicants are obtained through graduate divisions and officials of Texas colleges and universities, who recommend students in accordance with criteria set up; that the award will be made to a graduate woman student already studying in Texas and who plans to return to work in her native land, and who is studying in one of the fields contributing directly to community or social betterment. The first recipient in 1952 was Maria B. DeMagalhaes of Bahia, Brazil, a primary teacher in Brazil, who worked toward a masters degree at the University of Texas, studying languages and education.

In 1954 Alodia Escudero, a graduate nurse from the Philippines, attended the University of Texas, enrolled at Medical School at Galveston; in 1954 and 1955, Soon Yung Hyun of Seoul, Korea, a teacher, attended TSCW, Denton, and planned to return to Korea to teach nutrition and home arts; in 1956 Adaoka Mat Sue of Tokyo, Japan, religious education, Baylor University, planned to return to her country to enter religious work with young people; in 1958, Khadija Bano Anwar of Karachi, Pakistan, daughter of a diplomat in the American Embassy, attended Texas Woman's University, studied Child Development and Home Economics and plans to return to Pakistan to teach. This scholarship is furthering the bonds of friendship and good will among the women of other nations.

Soloists included Becky Mayo, portraying "Mary Poppins," and Paul Newton, Jim Forman, Duffy Cummings, Danny Whately and Jackie Wesh. Mr. Ture, introduced by Roger Hedrick, spoke on the "Baja Islands," demonstrating the topic with colored films. Mr. True, who visited the uninhabited islands, said they are located along the lower coastal area of California and northern Mexico and is a four and one-half hour flight from Amarillo. The speaker said that he chose to visit the Baja Islands in order to view a primitive place that has been undisturbed. "It is God's country as it was made," he concluded.

'Spiritual Vision and Nature's Purpose' Program Heard by El Progreso Club

Mrs. Tom Perkins was hostess to El Progreso Club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Verl Hagaman presided and led the Club Collect. The minutes were read by Mrs. Mack Hiatt and roll call was answered by 16 members.

Mrs. Lonnie Richardson was selected as club delegate to attend the Top of Texas District Convention to be in Hereford March 24 and 25.

A tribute was given by Mrs. D. V. Burton in honor of Mrs. W. R. Ewing, recently deceased honorary member of El Progreso. Mrs. Ewing had been a member for over 30 years and added much charm and talent toward the growth of the club.

The program, "Spiritual Vision and Purpose of Nature," was presented by Mrs. Glenn Radcliff in a most interesting manner. She said, "The Bible urges us to the protection and wise use of our forests, ranges, and woodlands. Yet, today, most of the destruction of these in our country are caused by our own carelessness and willfulness. As the Bible foretells, destruction of our natural resources will bring us punishment in the form of loss and misery. With proper management and protection our forests can produce continuous crops of timber, safeguard the watersheds and provide recreation and wildlife."

Mrs. Radcliff used Biblical passages, hymns and poems to illustrate the beauty of God's nature. "Children often see beauty that escapes adults as they still dream with their eyes open. Seeing is more than believing, it is living," the speaker concluded.

A series of slides were used showing God's creations in every day places and Biblical passages were read to inspire each group.

Dear Abby... See a Lawyer, Then Talk to Your Wife

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for seven years and am still very much in love with my wife. About six months ago, she became close friends with another married woman who has two small children. (We have none.) This friendship developed into an every-day thing, and then several nights a week. Finally the two of them started taking week-end trips out of town to visit relatives. Due to my constant objections, my wife left me. The other woman is still living with her husband who baby-sits for her while she and my wife go off somewhere together. What course do you advise me to follow in trying to get my wife back home?

PUZZLED DEAR PUZZLED: Your problem is not getting your wife back home. It's getting her to stay there. First, see a lawyer. Then talk to your wife and find out where you stand. Apparently she prefers the companionship of her friend, in which case even if you could persuade her to come home, it would be like bunking with your brother.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day and have yet to see a problem like mine. I get up at 5 a.m., fix my husband a good breakfast with homemade biscuits and sausages and eggs. I do the washing and ironing and clean up the house spic and span. I look after a vegetable garden, feed the live stock, bring in the firewood. And when my husband comes in from work, I bathe him and shave him. But he chases other women. What for?

EAST OF OMAHA DEAR EAST: It's not to fix him breakfast, do his washing, ironing or housecleaning. And it isn't to look after the vegetable garden, feed the live stock or bring in the firewood. And it's not to bathe him and shave him, either. What's left?

DEAR ABBY: I have noticed that you frequently advise your readers to see a marriage counselor. A married friend of mine once went to a marriage counselor she found through an ad in the paper, and you wouldn't believe some of the suggestions he made to her. He told her to get herself a "boy friend"—and the younger, the better. He also encouraged her to join a nudist colony.

He said he was a member, and he even showed her one of the "camp" magazines. She paid him for a year's "counseling" in advance, and after five weeks she went to his office for an appointment and found that he had moved and left no forwarding address.

I am not saying all marriage counselors are like this one, but how is a person supposed to know the honest ones from the crooks? They all call themselves "Doctor" and their walls are covered with diplomas which look "real" to the average person.

MRS. H. W. S. DEAR MRS. H. W. S.: Yours is an excellent question. If you are uncertain about the qualifications of those who advertise themselves as "marriage counselors," ask your family doctor, clergyman or better business bureau to recommend one. If there is a university in (or near) your town, write to the head of the psychology department for a recommendation.

If the above sources are unavailable to you, write to: The American Association of Marriage Counselors, 27 Woodcliff Dr., Madison, N. Y., and ask them to refer you to someone in your area.

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading all the "pros" and "cons" relative to snoring, and I believe this takes care of the situation once and for all. It is something you had in your column. "A husband's snoring is the sweetest music this side of heaven. Ask any widow."

Sincerely,
NO MUSIC IN MENLO

The Hospitality Board also includes 150 Dallas members, and is headed by Mrs. Thomas N. Overton, chairman, Mrs. Reginald Brack, co-chairman, and Mrs. Lee Stair, co-chairman.

The Dallas season is the only southwestern appearance of the Metropolitan Opera, and is annually sponsored by the Dallas Grand Opera Association, Arthur L. Dramer Jr., president.

One of this year's five operas has never before been performed in Dallas, and the other four are new productions of the Metropolitan never before brought to the Southwest. All will be presented in the State Fair Music Hall, May 12-15.

Opening the season, May 12, at 8 p.m. will be the new Jean-Louis Barrault directed "Faust." This was premiered at the Metropolitan Opera House on Sept. 27 of this year with Nicolai Gedda, Cesare Siepi, Marcia Baldwin, Gladys Kriesse and Russell Christopher, all of whom repeat their roles for the Dallas audience. Singing the role of Marguerite, taken in New York by Gaviella Tucci, will be Jean Fenn, and Robert Merrill's New York role will be sung by Nicolae Herlea. The full ballet as choreographed by Fleming Flindt will be included.

Tchaikovsky's melodic "Queen of Spades," never before seen in Dallas, is Friday evening's opera. This was premiered on Sept. 28, 1965, with Regina Elias Sept. 28, 1965, with Regina Resnik, Teresa Stratas, Rosalind Elias and William Walker repeating their New York successes, joined by Arturo Sergi and Walter Cassel.

The Metropolitan's 1964 production of "Lucia di Lamermoor" makes its first Southwestern appearance on Saturday afternoon, May 14. Starring will be Roberta Peters, Sandor Konya, Mario Sereni, Justino Diaz, Carlotta Ordassy, Charles Anthony and Robert Nagy.

The popular Verdi opera, "Il Trovatore," will be presented Saturday evening, with Gaviella Tucci, Bruno Prevedi, Biserka Cvjetkovic, Robert Merrill, Carlotta Ordassy, Louis Sgarro and Charles Anthony in the stellar roles.

Closing the season will be the Met's current production of "Don Giovanni," to be seen for the first time in Dallas, with Cesare Siepi, Teresa Stich-Bandall, Lucine Amara, Jan Peerce, Fernando Cornea, Jeanette Scovotti, Theodor Uppman and John Macurdy.

Social events during the opera season will include the traditional Opera Ball on Friday evening at the Adolphus Hotel following "Queen of Spades," and a "Face of Dallas" tour with a gourmet luncheon at the Commonwealth Club included.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the Central Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. Vernon Cline, officiating.

The altar was decorated with an archway entwined with greenery and flanked on either side with candelabra and tall baskets of white gladioli.

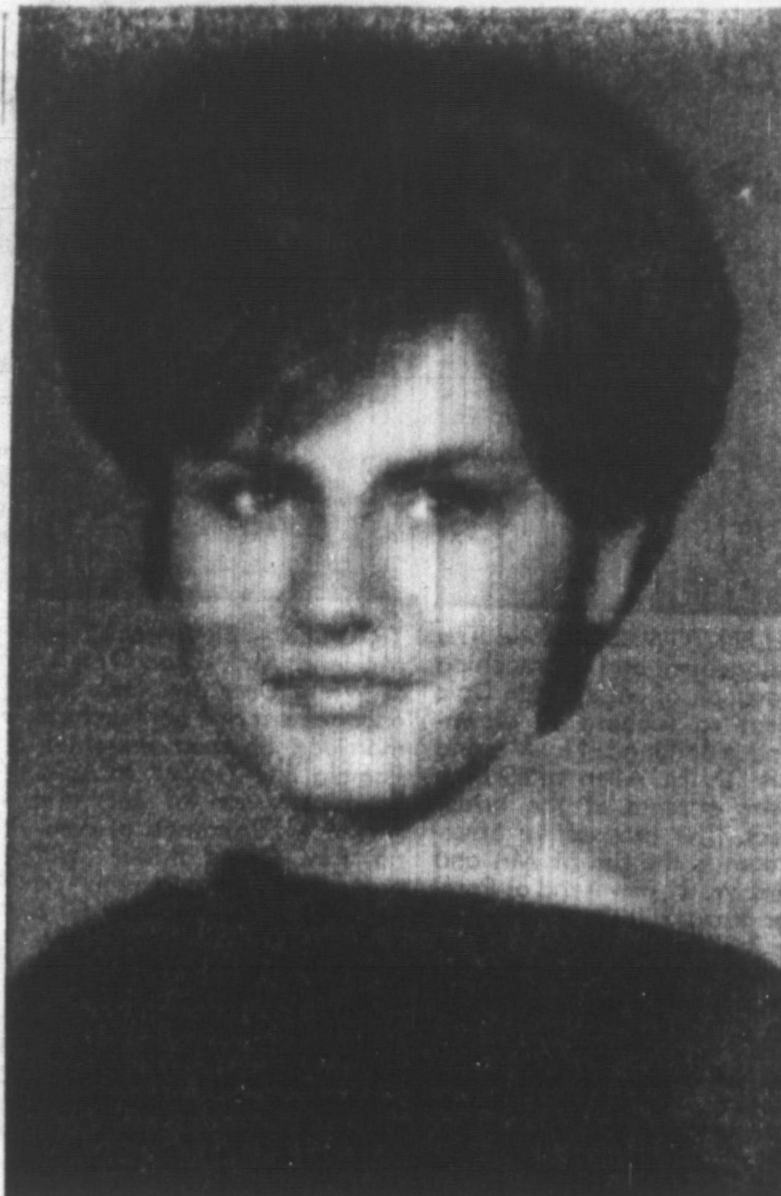

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Lewis Bennett, chose a Spanish type wedding gown of white bridal satin and Spanish lace, fashioned with a three-tiered train-length Spanish lace mantilla. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations with satin streamers.

Miss Diana Wilson, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a peach satin belle dress with matching accessories and carried a sheath of white gladioli and peach satin streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Claudia Murray and Miss Jane Bennett, cousins of the bride, and Miss Carol Jean Chaffin, sister of the bridegroom. School and You

By SUSAN LIGHT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: How familiar the letter in your column on the "Problem Child" sounds to me. I went through the same thing. My child had been kicked out of school three times until he was placed in a special Special Class. There he worked out but the class was eliminated. After this he was put out of three more classes until he finally worked out again.

If the mother will contact me, I may be able to help her, with the experience I have had. There are people all over the country working with this special problem, and it is more of a problem than slowness. The first referral should have been a complete neurological examination with the electroencephalogram, X-rays, and history—and then the psychological.

I just read this a few days ago and decided to write anyway despite the fact that the column was a rather old one.

—MOTHER WHO KNOWS

ANSWER: Thank you so much for sharing your experience with us. I am forwarding your name and address to the mother you mention.

Unfortunately, the problem of the "problem child" will probably always be with us, like death and taxes. It is heartening to know, however, that it is beginning to receive some of the attention it deserves. The referral order you cite follows the thinking of many school psychologists and psychiatrists — rule out the physical before tackling the psychological.

Sometimes when I think of the millions of dollars the federal government is sinking into the improvement of teachers, teaching programs, educational materials, and the like, I feel sick. So much for so little gain — as long as problem children remain.

Members Present 'Hobbies' Program At Meeting of Varietas Study Club

Varietas Study Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. L. Campbell. Mrs. J. E. Kirchman, president, led the reading of the Club Collect. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, secretary. After a short business session conducted by Mrs. Kirchman the meeting was turned over to the vice president, Mrs. H. Price Dozier, who introduced the speakers for the day.

Mrs. Otis Nace read a paper on "Importance of Hobbies Today," written by Mrs. John Kelly who was unable to attend. "This is a big wide wonderful subject and one physicians and psychiatrists recommend for all ages," Mrs. Nace began. "Today with the 40 hour work week, long vacations, early retirement and an average ten years for the senior citizen hobbies should be a part of everybody's week. Hobbies should not be postponed until age and retirement are just around the corner as they are as important to the young for a rounded personality, for the relief of tensions created by an active life. A good hobby must be worth doing, it must help one to relax and put problems and perplexities in the background. It should give real satisfaction, increase knowledge and should cost no more than one can comfortably afford. Often a hobby produces revenue but it then becomes a vocation, not a hobby. Since I am a Garden Club member, I find gardening to be a rewarding hobby. Get out and dig dandelions and weeds for a hour or so in the evening and I guarantee you will go to sleep at night without a pill."

Mrs. H. H. Butler speaking on the subject "If You Make It, Paint It — Collect It, Display It" said "anyone who is busy with their hands creating something that develops into a pretty and useful article has no time to brood and get emotional. It has been a satisfaction to me to take an old discarded bed post, cut it the height I wanted a candle holder tube, cut a base from a piece of wood and get a lid from an old spray can just the right size to hold the candle. These were glued together, painted the desired color and finished with a dull varnish."

The finished product was most attractive. Mrs. Butler also showed a jewelry box that she had had made but had finished herself in the same manner used on the candle holder. She tore a picture of an old fashioned scene from a magazine, glued it to the top of the box, antiqued over it and rubbed it off. Mrs. Butler has an interesting hobby of collecting antique pressed glass goblets.

Yardsick Points Are Explained to Upsilon Chapter

Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank and Trust Monday evening.

Mrs. Robert Shelton, president, presided over the business meeting. The roll was called by Mrs. Don Carpenter and members answered with the Greek Alphabet. A called meeting will be held Monday in the home of Mrs. Richard Cooke, 2235 Mary Ellen.

Mrs. Clois Lyon, vice president, presented the program. Upsilon is working for points on the yardsick to be a Three-Star Chapter for 1965 and 1966. Mrs. Lyon explained and demonstrated just how these points are earned.

Mrs. James Schaffer made several announcements concerning the "Red Stocking Revue," which will be May 6 and 7. Tickets will go on sale by the first of April.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ralph Tyler and Mrs. Richard Cooke. A St. Patrick Day theme was used. The centerpiece was a large Irish green hat with white candles on each side. Irish potatoes were used for candle-holders and placed on green Shamrocks. Green and white napkins and green nut cups in crown shapes were used. Green candles in Irish potato candle-holders on Shamrocks adorned each table.

Members present were Mmes. Robert Shelton, Clois Lyon, James Schaffer, Don Carpenter, Jack Stafford, Lloyd Willson, Charles Potter, Leo Field,

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS

By Joe Tooley and Tom Beard

It seems like a good idea to periodically warn parents about the hundred or more poisonous or caustic substances in the average home which are of danger to children.

Parents should realize that a tot who isn't quick to eat properly at the table, may eat or drink a n y thing imaginable when he is inside "exploring."

If there are tots under five in the house, keep the medicine chest bare of harmful drugs and keep a wary eye out for such bedroom substances as hair dyes and bleaches, nail polish and remover, perfumes and astringents.

If it happens you also have an eye out for the ideal place to have your prescriptions filled, look no further. All prescriptions are filled fast and efficiently at RICHARD DRUG... 111 North Cuyler Street... Phone: MO 5-5747... Cosmetics... Cavarell Watches... Pangburns Candy.

Leather Footwear Bares Up

SPRING SHOE SCENE — The strapped look will be an important part of the spring shoe scene for both day and evening. Strapped silver leather sandal (left) for evening glamor or has new rounded, flattened toe. This is a Herbert Levine design. I. Miller combines the strapped look, new thick high heel and sling boot (center) in beige and white. Finances sets black patent leather cut-out T-strap with sling silhouette (right) on a mid-high heel.

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This will be a strap-happy, round-toed spring as far as shoes go. Straps of every stripe decorate this season's leather footwear.

The newest are the diagonal straps that run from the vamp around the heel. But there are wide and skinny T-straps, straps crossing or below the instep and straps in a sling across the back. Even the old ankle strap is back.

Leather is "baring" up in other ways, too. Soft, pared-down and cut-away, the latest footwear fashions are delightfully daring.

For several seasons now we have been building up to this most feminine feeling in shoes and now, with leathers at their lightest and loveliest, shoe designers have provided a stunning collection of foot frippery.

Textures are provocatively used. Smooth, grained, sueded, brushed, patent, embossed and printed leathers all show at their best. And since leather breathes and flexes with the foot, the new footwear offers comfort to match its beauty.

In spite of all the news strap shoes are making for spring and summer, don't feel you will be left out in the fashion cold if you can't wear sandals or slings.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a Sunday when most everyone is in a pretty poor mood and when you would be wise to live the Golden Rule as completely as possible. This you can remove some of the sting of the adverse conditions that could otherwise be in effect. Avoid making that sharp albeit truthful remark. Be kind.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You have positive promises to keep, so don't run off on some tangent and disappoint those who are depending upon you. First be sure to attend church you like. Then carry through in a most enlightening way.

TAUROS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — A day when you and others can possibly be under pressure and want to vent its most unjustly, so be on your guard. Think before you speak. If others expect too much of you, do your best and keep silent.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Partners may be somewhat obnoxious today—charm them with a smile, feed 'em, and all is fine. Avoid arguments. Others may truly try to good you into one. Be poised, calm.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — There is much work for you to do today, so why try to get out of it? Get "in" and "out" of the way and pitch right in. Then take care of your health and improve your appearance.

LEO (July 22 to Sept. 22) — Don't let others talk you into going for such an expensive good time that you will regret it later and be sadly disappointed as well. Show encouragement to those who deserve it. Be happy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) — Trying to force others dwelling under your foot to do things as you would like them could cause a battle that is best avoided. Listen to their ideas, also. Be calm in eliminating misunderstandings.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — If you are not careful in your dealings with others, you can easily lose your fine position with them. Keep busy studying, doing research, etc. Take it rather easy tonight and restore energies.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Forget any idea you may have in mind that anything can be bought if you have the price for it—certain things are priceless. Be more practical—use funds wisely. Stay within your budget and think of tomorrow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Don't try to rush in like a bull in a china shop today, since others are in a pretty hectic or irritable mood, too, and chaos could result. Show concern for others. Do not bother others with your problems.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Although you may be feeling that a great amount of pressure is being put upon you, if you remain calm it is a fine opportunity to do your best work. Assist those in need. Don't always leave it to the other fellow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Steer clear of the social and hunt friends right now, or you get in trouble. Keep busy at work. Avoid certain personal commitments that require more time for you to think about them before acting.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Taking inordinate chances or trying to change things around to fit your own pattern could lead to great loss today or tonight. Be careful not to drive like a character of mad. Plan to do something constructive about your credit.

'Heritage of Federation of Women's Club's Told to Twentieth Century Club

Twentieth Century Club met in the home of Mrs. V. J. Jamieson. The president, Mrs. Jack Stroup presided over a short business meeting. The program leader for the day was Mrs. Tom Rose. The topic was "Heritage of the Federation of Women's Clubs."

Mrs. Bill Roots introduced the subject by asking the difference between a thermometer and a thermostat. This helped to show how the heritage of the women in federated clubs is one actually of thermostats, because they have changed environments all over the nation. "Since its founding in April 1890 women have influenced the making of child labor laws, asked congress to investigate industrial, social, moral, educational, and physical conditions of women laborers, worked for legal status of married women, equal pay and uniform marriage and divorce laws. In 1904 they came to the conclusion that there should be a department of education. The Federation saw the Pure Food and Drug act established in 1907. In 1930 the General Federation convinced Congress to change the status of women in the census report from 'non-productive' to 'housewife.'" Mrs. Roots said.

Mrs. Robert Lyle told of the influence Federated Women's Clubs have had in Texas saying in 1899 Texas clubwomen voted to support a state industrial school for girls at Denton. In 1920 they pledged their support for a State Library Commission, supported legislation for school improvements, compulsory education, and pledged a scholarship of $3,500 to the University of Texas. 1904 saw the clubwomen with a campaign to put the Texas Flag in every school, saw the purchase of the Alamo. In 1918 canteens were established in the U. S. and also over seas. Many more achievements could be listed. Some of the present day ones we are all aware of.

The third part of the program was the emphasis on the local club. Here was where the thermostat actually worked.

Six women were honored that were proud to say they had been a part of this great heritage for 25 years or more. Mrs. Raymond Harrah and Mrs. I. D. Hughey were charter members of this club. Others honored were Mrs. Frank Culberson, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. Joe Gordon and Mrs. Jake Garmon. Mrs. Roots presented each of the ladies with a rose and a diploma saying they certainly came under the classification of thermostats because they were changers, reformers, leaders, and transformers.

Mrs. A. W. Brown and Mrs. Jake Garmon were welcomed as guests. Members attending included Mmes. Bill Roots, Jack Foster, Frank Culberson, Joe Gordon, Dick Stowers, David Tucker, Tom Rose, Wayne Pittner, W. R. Campbell, David McGahey, H. R. Thomson, V. J. Jamieson, Jack Stroup, Robert Lyle, Fred Neslage, Raymond Harrah and Harry Vandervoort.

Sun-Kissed Hair For At Home and Abroad

European fashion collections feature two prevailing themes this season - an accent on youth and an equal absorption with the natural look of the outdoors. Whatever trend American and European women follow in fabrics, feathers, furs and fantasy, they will have one thing in common: Natural "kissed-by-the-sun" (rather than baked by the sun) hair color is "in" around the world.

Max Factor likes this look for blonde or brown hair and suggests a hair color range from platinum strands to gold, known as tortoise-shelling. To maintain the look and build its highlights, as well as keep your hair beautiful, condition it with color highlight shampoo.

The luxurious, quick-foaming formula cleanses and adds a shiny glow, immediately revitalizes faded color and lends just the correct amount of highlights to make your hair look alive, sparkling and natural again. Color highlight shampoo will import the most flattering subtleties to sustain your "kissed-by-the-sun" hair color.

Pampa Garden Club Views Slides of Fort Worth's 11th Annual Flowercade

Pampa Garden Club met recently with Mrs. Milo Carlson with Mrs. W. E. Hinton serving as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Carlton, presided. Twenty seven members were present.

Announcement was made of the flower show school to be held in Amarillo April 26, 27 and 28.

Mrs. Melvin Stephens program leader of the day, showed slides made at the eleventh Annual Flowercade in Fort Worth. The theme for the show was "Flower Fair", and each class was named after happenings at the county fair. The first picture showed a mass of flowers in different colors circling a fountain.

An organ was played in the background and somehow attached to the fountain to make the water move with the music.

Several of the classes were carousel, dancing girls, showing the far eastern influence, the glass blowers, using mostly ice form lines, wheel of fortune, lemonade, candied apples, using apples, canna leaves, red carnations, and red barberry leaves; soda pop, using a bottle, reversed plate, iris stem, lemons and honey suckle leaves; cotton candy, a pink arrangement, piping hot coffee, an old coffee mill as a container with ivy leaves, scotch broom and geraniums in a Hogarth curve.

"Mid 'em Cowboy was the best of the show and used iridescent paint sprayed on palm leaves with accessories of a cowboy on a bucking horse. All of the arrangements were beautifully staged with appropriate back drops and direct and indirect lighting. The horticulture division had 494 entries with each person allowed only one specimen in each class.

Mrs. Stephens closed the meeting with meditative thoughts about God's gifts and asked members to remember the gift of growing things, the sight to see beauty, the sense of touch and smell to better enjoy the world. She said each time we see a moving scene we should think of God's arrangements in nature's workshop.

Teens Prefer Bedroom Haven

By AILEEN SNOODY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The term "bedroom" to the average teen-ager means a fusty setting with a hand-me-down bed, dresser and study desk.

If memory serves those born before 1950 correctly, these bedroom furnishings are set in a rigid pattern of bed in center of floor, dresser at foot of bed or against left wall and desk on right wall.

When you think about it, who can blame young persons today for wanting to wipe out such an inflexible, staid decor?

To replace this, the teenager dreams of a haven, more on the order of a studio where he or she can spend half the time at home feeling relaxed and comfortable.

Perhaps parents should listen to this rumbling uncovered by department store and teen magazine researchers. It might cost them a little money but in return the oldsters would get more space to themselves.

Teens wanting a special haven say they would leave the family living room to their parents if they had a more comfortable room of their own.

The mom and dad who see the advantages of such a shift in the youth's bedroom may not be nicked for as much money as it seems at first thought. For example, drastic changes for such a dream haven may involve some do-it-yourself carpentry, a new paint or wallpapering job and rearrangement of furniture.

If space permits, help plan separate areas in the room for study, dressing, sleeping and entertaining. It is possible the current bedstead can be remodeled to do double duty as a bed by night, couch by day. Your teen-ager will appreciate this since he prefers furniture to double in brass.

DECORATED FOR TEENS — Staid bedroom turns into a haven for young teen-ager and his friends. Race cars and records are typical interests. Both give a clue to converting a bedroom into a young man's haven. Mobility of furniture on casters, storage space and practicality of washable hobby print wall paper answer most needs. Young man here sits on dual-purpose piece. It was designed by Lane Co. for hobbies and houses 100 records, flip side of chest seat is a checkerboard.

Storage space is essential to the individuality of the new haven. Consider making an inexpensive window seat, for example, or buying a desk that converts easily to a dressing table. Sofa beds, bunk beds, trundle beds or day beds are high on the shopping list as an added extra to allow a spot for the sleep-over friend.

Young men, especially, express more interest in their surroundings than ever before. They like them furnished around hobby interests. A young man who loves to tinker with cars (and most do) can accent a sports car model collection with a wallpaper in the same theme. Use a plastic-coated type that is washable. Many of these are prepested, so money is saved by hanging the wallpaper yourself.

Any mother who has tried to straighten her son's closet knows that special storage is a necessity. More storage space is one feature the youths consider vital to maintaining their private world.

One corner of a young man's room definitely will be for phonograph equipment and records or stereo tapes. A new game cube seat with lift-off top provides space for at least 100 records. This fits a young man's room easily with its seat a checkerboard on one side and a cushion on the other. It is on casters for mobility, another feature to keep in mind when redecorating the teen den-bedroom. To hide his sweaters, shirts, keepsakes and papers, a young man will appreciate a cedar-lined chest done in a masculine walnut finish. Also on casters, it provides seating and storage — again that double-in-brass function.

Completing the setting are wall units for books, trophies and that model sports car collection. For fabrics, select those that are washable and will show wrinkle or soil the least. Young men today may be more design-conscious but they still are not that "cleanprone."

BAN FIRE HAZARDS

Check your home for such fire hazards as: oily cleaning rags and paint rags, rubbish in the attic or basement and fireplaces, chimneys, flues and in need of repair.

COLOR-FAST CARPETS

Because of the excellence of dyes, American-made carpets do not fade easily. Give them the normal protection from direct sunlight which you would give any colored fabric, and you'll find that they hold their color well.

'Texas Tourism, New Faces and Places' Discussed for Civic Culture Members

Civic Culture Club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Emmett Osborne.

Mrs. George Neef, president, conducted the business meeting at which Mrs. Frank Grantham was named as delegate to the District Convention in Hereford on March 24 and 25.

Mrs. Grantham introduced the program on "Texas Heritage", and Mrs. R. E. Dauer gave a talk on "Texas Tourism, New Faces and Places".

"The very name 'Texas' conjures up images of great open spaces. Visitors to the state are overwhelmed by a country that extends from high mountains to sandy beaches, from deserts to peaceful pine forests, from miles of desolation to metropolises bursting with skyscrapers," Mrs. Dauer said.

"Texas contains 267,339 square miles or 74 per cent of the nation's total area. It is large enough to accommodate 15 of the 50 states within its borders and still have more than 1,000 square miles left over. In straight line distance, Texas extends 801 miles from North to South and 773 miles from East to West.

"Included in Texas' 25 million acres of woodland are four National forests with 775,265 acres and four state forests with 6,306 acres. The most important forest area of the state, producing nearly all the commercial timber, is the east Texas pine hardwood belt, known locally as the "Piney Woods". It extends over all or parts of 43 counties. Texas lumber production was 851 million board feet in 1958, valued at $93,500,000.

"Texas has one national park, Big Bend in southwest Texas, an area encompassing 700,221 acres. It has one national seashore, 80 miles of Padre Island in the Gulf of Mexico, and two National historic sites — Fort Davis in the Davis Mountain and San Jose Mission in San Antonio.

There are 59 state parks scattered throughout Texas. For the first time, admission will be charged at most areas in the park system. This income will be used to expand state and national recreation facilities.

"One way to become acquainted with Texas is to join them at play. A favorite spot is the Six Flags over Texas amusement park between Dallas and Fort Worth. Facing the gates are the handsome, colorful six flags that symbolize Texas history — the Spanish, French, Mexican Republic of Texas, and Confederate flags and the Stars and Stripes.

"Austin itself seems like an oasis of quiet in the bright glare of the open land, with wide streets shaded by huge trees and lovely homes. The capitol building, largest in the country, is impressive, and the Governor's mansion nearby is a handsome home in which visitors are welcome.

"Not far away is the aquarena in San Marcos, which features the only submarine theater in the world.

"On Route 290, between Johnson City and Stonewall, a loop in the highway passes the entrance of the L.B.J. Ranch.

"San Antonio is a bustling city filled with scenic beauty. The mecca for all visitors, of course, is the Alamo, where, as every schoolboy knows, Davy Crockett, Jim Bowie and over 180 others lost their lives withstanding a 13-day siege by the Mexican Army. The Alamo was originally a mission. It is filled with historical relics, paintings and plaques. Guides make history come alive as they tell the dramatic story of the siege.

"On the outskirts of San Antonio is the San Jose Mission, now designated a National Historic Site," the speaker concluded.

Members present were Mmes. A. D. Hills, H. W. Waters, K. A. Sorenson, W. J. Morris, R. E. Dauer, Emmett Osborne, George Neef, Chester Williams, Emmett Gee, Carl Axelsson, W. C. Scott, A. C. Houchin, Frank Grantham and Floyd Pennington.

Exquisite Hands Are Of Prime Importance

Many of today's smart women fully realize that exquisite hands are of prime importance to the total feminine appearance. However, some are still under the impression that they must avoid ordinary work and rough chores to keep them lovely.

According to beauty authority, Max Factor, if your hands are given the proper care and protection, you may work or play without loss of beauty. The first and most important rule is to keep the skin soft and pliable. This may be done by the daily use of hand creme, which not only softens the skin, but protects it as well.

If applied before retiring, the special moisturizers and ingredients work the whole night through to create smooth-looking hands every woman desires. Whenever possible, gloves should be worn. They are not only fashionable, but also protect the skin from sun, wind, cold, and general exposure.

ABWA Enjoys Viewing Slides of Spain and Portugal

The American Business Women's Association held its monthly dinner meeting in Jackson's Cafeteria Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. with Mrs. Earl Sutton, president, presiding.

The guest speaker, Miss Claudia Everly, Latin Teacher at Pampa High School, showed slides taken on her trip to Spain and Portugal this past summer. She gave a glowing account of her travels with her lady companion, Miss Everly's old Latin teacher. Their guide was a young priest from Spain who had previously visited in the United States. Miss Everly was especially interested in the Moorish, Roman, and Gothic influence in the structure of the Cathedrals, Bridges, Towers and Palaces that dated as far back as the tenth century. They visited the birthplace of Queen Isabella, and also the palace where she commissioned Christopher Columbus for his trip to the west in which he proved that the world was round. Miss Everly stated "Spain is the country where the old and new meet", and this she proved by showing a cart loaded with hay and drawn by oxen pulling upon a modern highway.

The "Hand of Friendship Tea" designed to acquaint more women with the function of ABWA will be held March 20 at 2 p.m. in the Hospitality Room at Citizens' Bank. All members were urged by the tea chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Summers, to turn in the list of prospective guests, and plans were made for the event. Mrs. J. J. Rance was guest of Mrs. James Quarry.

Members attending were Mmes. Earl Sutton, Alta Mae McElrath, Eunice Maddox, Ed Wylie, Hazel McCoy, Vernon Graham, Eugene Franklin, John Killian, James Quarry, Danny Malone, Kenneth Butler, Homer McNeil, Jack McNeil, C. A. Herd, Billy Wright, Charles Holloway, Lloyd Summers and Miss Maxine Nabors.

"Lucy" by Hester Chapman; historical novel (and the good ones get more scarce every year) that is set against the glamour of the Restoration Theatre and the Court of Charles II.

"Something to Hide" by Nicholas Monsarrat; crime and retribution, ironies and surprises, violence and evil—all arising out of one simple humanitarian act.

"That Summer" by Allen Drury; the author of "Advise and Consent" locates his new novel in an exclusive California vacation colony, where Major Bill Steele becomes involved in that vicious little society's country club mores and tragic social pressures.

"Sir Michael and Sir George" by J. G. Priestley; an "Atlantic Monthly" book that combines the author's unique talent for observation, satire, wit and wisdom in a comedy about the last days of two government councils.

"Too Far to Walk" by John Hersey; the author probes deeply, but with rich humor, into the aimlessness, boredom, and rebellion of a group of undergraduates in a New England College.

"Snake Water" by Alan Williams; a fast-moving exciting novel of high adventure in a grim little port called Guadajal in South America.

"Fodoris Modern Guide to Hawaii 1966" packed with facts on holidaying in America's newest state.

"My Dancing White Horses" by Alois Podhajsky; the magnificent showmanship of the Lippizaner white stallions has thrilled audiences the world over. Now the author reveals the story of his life's work as both an inter-national dressage rider and the man to whom the oldest riding school in the world owes its survival.

"FBI Man; A Personal History" by Louis Cochran; succeeds ably in presenting that panoramic view of life, the people and the places he encountered in his years as an FBI man.

"Vocabulary from Argonaut to Astronaut" by Frieze and Collins.

ELIZABETH PEABODY
...coming as 'Funny Girl'

A delightful evening of musical entertainment, as well as an opportunity to aid the research program now being carried on by the Wadley Leukemia Research Institute in Dallas, is in store for Pampa residents at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the Starline Room of the Coronado Inn. Mrs. Elizabeth Peabody of Dallas will present "Funny Girl", the off-stage life story of Fanny Brice. The story deals with Miss Brice's romance with Nick Arnstein. "Funny Girl" was first presented at the Winter Garden Theater in New York City in March of 1964, starring Barbra Streisand and Sydney Chaplin.

Mrs. Peabody is a member of Zeta Phi Eta (National Speech Honorary), Delta Delta Delta, Rotary Ann, Zonta International, past president of the Fashion Group, president of the Women of Sigma Chi, chairman of the Women's Speakers Bureau of the United Fund, director of musicals for the Rotunda Theatre of the First Methodist Church, of the PTA Board of Highland Park Junior High School, a Sunday School teacher, fashion lecturer, member of the Dallas Summer Musicals Guild, the Dallas Civic Ballet Auxiliary, active in her church and many religious groups plus being active in innumerable charities to which she regularly donates her talents.

She is the wife of Dallas businessman, Franklin J. Peabody, and mother of a son, David, and a daughter, Beth.

Mrs. Peabody will be accompanied on the organ by Mrs. George Soderstrom, organist at First Methodist Church in Dallas and a member of the American Guild of Organists. She attended Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., and was a member of the Chicago Women's Symphony Orchestra.

All proceeds from ticket sales will go to leukemia research. Tickets are available from Mrs. James Leverich, M 04-6549, and at Richard Drug and Hi-Land Pharmacy.

Elizabeth Peabody is the originator of the very popular musical interpretative review. She devised the entertaining and enlightening method of presenting capsule versions of famous Broadway shows and is complimented that this kind of entertainment has been adopted by others.

She now appears in 48 cities in the Great Southwest; entertaining for small and intimate groups as well as for audiences of both men and women which often include as many as 1,000. These groups run the gamut from Jr. High School and college student bodies, women's clubs, men's service organizations to international conventions. Her current repertoire includes some twenty-eight musicals.

Her second love is fashion, and she is very active in the field. She is fashion director of the State Fair of Texas where she produces, coordinates and comments 32 shows during the run of the Fair. She is also coordinator for the Dallas Morning News teen-age self-improvement course which for the past two years has had over 1,800 girls enrolled.

Born in Dallas, Mrs. Peabody is one of the active daughters still headquartered in "Big D" and enjoying her city. She attended Hockaday School and Southern Methodist University, where she was an honor grad-

INDAY MORNING GRIST From the Editorial Mill

NE OF THE most unusual news ever received by The Pampa News editorial department came in the mail this week in a 94-year-old reader in ryeon. She is not renewing subscription because, she feels, "I may not be here too long." With that, we have to disagree. Who is it that she will not outlive any of us? It was such a letter that we are reproducing here: "Dear Editor: I won't renew my subscription to The News, I am 94 years old and may not be here too much longer. But, sure will miss it like one of the visits of old friends. I won't be able to keep up with doings of the President and national, state and county officials without it, so 'bon voyage' and 'au revoir' and Happy Birthdays on the Golden Shore all the paper family." It is signed, "Most Sincerely, Fannie Osborne." Thank you, Miss Osborne, and we accept our complimentary subscription to The News. I hope you continue to be a reader for many more years.

TOMMY ROSE, Pampa High sophomore and son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose, 2228 Beech, took off with a signal honor a Division 6 Key Club meeting in Amarillo. Tommy won over three Amarillo candidates for the post of lieutenant in the division which ludes Pampa, Wheeler, Herd and the four Amarillo high school Key Club organizations. Tommy was the only sophomore in running, with the other candidates all junior classmen. A local Key Club delegation only landed the lieutenant membership for Tommy, but Tommy was selected as the site of the Fall Key Club Training conference. Tommy takes off at the end of the 1965-66 school year in May.

EVERYONE KNOWS by now at Pampa's $2,300,000 bond issue for all those street and highway improvements in the city and City Hall already is tentatively spending the money. However, that dirt street in front of your house will not be paved next week and there is no plan to break ground within a few days on that new $750,000 water filtration plant. In fact, City Hall says the water plant is the last thing on the schedule and may not come for two or three years. A lot of water has to go over the financial dam before any of the improvements can get under way. The bonds have to be sold, the engineering work has to be done, the plans have to be drawn, the contracts have to be let, rights of way have to be acquired, city ordinances have to be passed, assessments have to be made along with a jillion other arrangements. So don't expect too much too quickly. It'll probably be late summer or early in the spring of 1967 before work on streets and highways gets started for real. The city council has lots and lots of legislating to do before things can happen. Just a reminder in case you were worrying about your street being torn up day after tomorrow.

THE GUEST PEN: How Freedom Begins

By MILDRED PROGAR
The constructively self-centered person understands freedom as the natural state of man. Inclusive of all human beings. Understanding of this quality of inclusiveness enables him to live as a free individual in harmony with others regardless of their level of understanding.

For he knows that freedom is not something exclusive — belonging to a particular age, race, color or creed — it is basically inherent in the nature of the individual. The first freedom man possesses is what is referred to as "freedom of choice." Within this universe of natural law and order man exists as decreed by nature and no one is excluded.

The choice of recognizing or not recognizing this human nature as it exists is the ultimate freedom of choice that man can exercise. Any individual can live his life in freedom if he chooses to do so. Through recognition and use of his natural imperative for constructive self-interest. The center of his universe is, by nature, himself. He is, as Ralph Waldo Emerson has expressed it, the microcosm within the macrocosm. No person is excluded from this basic truth.

The aim of evolution of the individual — from the primitive tribal relationship to the full maturity of individualism — is toward conscious self-enclosedness. The awakening is to realize on one's total relation-

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS

Kwame Nkrumah, the deposed pro-Soviet dictator of Ghana, is another in a long series of fallen State Department idols who have been dropping by the wayside since President Johnson has taken over control of foreign policy from the policy planners. Just two years ago, Nkrumah, Ben Bella, Cheddi Jagan, Goulart, Sukarno and a handful of other pro-Communist dictators held sway over their hapless subjects principally because they were propped up by our State Department.

In a series of coups wherein the State Department did not, for a change, intervene on behalf of the left-leaning incumbents, all of these except Sukarno, whose rule has been shaken to its foundations and may yet go down, have been deposed. Moreover, the UN Command under the Soviet-leaning R. Dayal has evacuated the Congo and impulsive military czars are taking over one African country after another. This, in a way, represents a tremendous geopolitical victory for the free world and is another reflection of the intrinsic weakness of Communism, if it is left unaided and unsupported by the free world.

All one has to do is read over news dispatches of a few years ago that dealt with Nkrumah. I recall, vividly, the words of praise and the 21-gun salute with which he was greeted when he paid a visit to the United States. The State Department speeches extolling Nkrumah should be reread by every thinking American, not out of a sense of recrimination, but rather to give an appraisal of what we have been subjected to over the last few decades and how right those who raised their voices against the resultant deterioration have been.

Unfortunately, many people who were right a few years back have carried a critical and indiscriminate approach toward the present administration and are now giving the impression that they are against what is happening in Ghana and elsewhere. As a result, those who were responsible for the Nkrumah and the Sukarno are being, impressionistically at least, camouflaged by the change of policy and are taking cover in the inevitable recognition of the bankruptcy that is enveloping the fallen idols.

I have before me a dispatch reporting how the new Ghana government has unveiled a secret "jungle freedom fighter's school" run by the Chinese Reds in Ghana under the ministry of Nkrumah where they were training insurgents for service in Rhodesia and South Africa. In retrospect, one wonders how the State Department could, without something being very wrong, apotheosize Nkrumah while he was tolerating this subversion.

Yet when Senator Dodd brought out that Ghana was a pro-Soviet base in Africa, some of the most influential mouliders of public opinion hectoring him with venom and abuse. It is unfortunate that there is not a clear authority in Washington or somewhere on the national scene that acts as the voice of history, the most influential of the muses.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Sunday, March 13, the 72nd day of 1966 with 293 to follow. The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus. The evening star is Jupiter. British physicist and discoverer of oxygen, Joseph Priestley, was born on this day in 1733.

He will not impose his will upon others and will develop methods to avoid the effects of ignorance, coercion and control over his life. As he uses his own natural endowments to express his nature he embodies the freedom of Individual Life. He recognizes the natural desire of all men to live in freedom and lets others alone to discover that conscious self-centeredness is the constructive freedom of nature that includes all men. He knows that nature is for him and ultimately none can prey against him. He is, in harmony with the natural law that effects all men whether they recognize it or not.

Plans for Raising Personal, Corporation Taxes Discussed by President with Democratic Congress Leaders

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Another federal tax increase is definitely on the way.

This one will raise personal and corporation rates by restoring most of the 1964 cuts.

The timing of these new tax boosts is still open. However, it is certain not to be before April 15, the deadline for filing individual income tax returns.

President Johnson disclosed these plans at an unannounced conference with Democratic congressional leaders. He told them he had "reluctantly decided additional taxes would be necessary to meet the mounting costs of the Viet Nam war, and to offset the intensifying inflation threat."

The President also made a plea for stand-by authority to raise or lower personal income taxes.

In discussing this with the congressional leaders, he stressed that if the Viet Nam conflict continues, "it may be necessary to go to Congress for other tax increases in the next two or three years." He pointed out this might be avoided if he was given stand-by power to raise or lower individual rates as conditions warrant.

Congress has strongly opposed such proposals in the past.

Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy favored such authority, but got nowhere. The House Ways & Means Committee, where all revenue legislation must originate, flatly refused to consider it.

Representative Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman, is convinced the committee is still firmly against giving the President such far-reaching power. But at the urging of Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., Mills has agreed to one significant concession.

He has consented to permit a subcommittee, headed by Representative Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., to hold hearings on this issue later this month.

What happens after that is a toss-up. The subcommittee could make recommendations for or against to the full Ways & Means Committee. In turn, it could approve, reject them, or do nothing.

INSIDE DETAILS — As outlined by the President to the congressional leaders, the contemplated new tax increases call for the following:
— Individual income rates to be raised to 16 to 30 per cent. Under the 1964 tax cut, these levies were reduced to 14 to 70 per cent.
— Corporation tax rates to be hiked to 52 per cent from the present 48. This would be done by increasing the surtax from 26 to 30 per cent — that is, back to the rate in effect before January 1964.
These tax raises would extend over a two-year period. The exact proportion of this spread is still to be fixed.
Treasury experts told the congressional leaders that these tax hikes will produce an estimated $6.5 billion additional revenue — $6 billion from individual taxpayers; $2.5 billion from corporations.

The 1964 tax bill slashed federal revenue by $11.1 billion — $8.8 billion in personal taxes; $2.3 billion corporate.

The President said he is still undecided about a Treasury proposal to eliminate the 7-1/2 per cent tax credit allowed corporations buying new machines and equipment. The Treasury wants to cut that in half this year, and abolish it entirely next year.

The airlines are vigorously protesting repealing this depreciation allowance.

They argue that many of their costly jet planes have been bought on five-year payment terms based on this tax credit provision. They are warning its repeal would confront them with serious financial problems.

Treasury Secretary Fowler told the congressional leaders he is opposed to an "excess profits" tax. He stated studies have disclosed this tax was difficult to administer in World War II and the Korean conflict. He advised against attempting to revive it.

Fowler also reported that federal revenues last year totaled $114.4 billion — a $2.2 billion increase over 1964.

Most of the revenue came from individual and corporation taxes — $79.9 billion; approximately 69 per cent.

Representative Edward Gurney, R-Fla., says the Treasury estimates that the net profit, or "seigniorage," on the new silver coins will be "anywhere from $1.5 billion to $2.55 billion during 1966 and 1967. . . . But the President did not bother to mention this windfall for the administration in the budget."

CONSUMER LOBBY — A number of farmer, labor and other organizations are planning a three-day "consumer assembly" in Washington in April for the avowed purpose of lobbying for legislation in behalf of consumers.

Their principal immediate interests are the "truth in lending" and "truth in packaging" bills sponsored by Senators Paul Douglas, D-Ill., and Philip Hart, D-Mich. Both are encountering vigorous congressional opposition, and the consumer advocates will undertake to overcome it.

Working closely with this movement is Mrs. Esther Peterson, White House adviser on consumer affairs.

Organizations taking part in arranging the three-day "consumer assembly" are:
AFL-CIO, General Federation of Women's Clubs, National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, National Farmers Union, National Grange, National Consumers League, Group Health Association of America, Foundation for Cooperative Housing, American Association of Retired Persons, Electric Consumer Information Committee, Council on Consumer Information, Friends Committee on National Legislation.

Old legends never seem to die. The other day, one of Spain's top bullfighters said bulls never see anything red or for that matter any other color. The motion of the bullfighter's cape catches the bull's eye but the brilliant color is only to delight the spectators. All of this has been known to scientists for years and it's pointed out in the booklet published by the Better Vision Institute. Apes and monkeys see colors as much as we do, as well as some fish. Scientists believe that some birds have a good color vision. But you'll never be bothered by mosquitoes if you sit under a yellow light because they cannot see that shade. Bees are color blind to red, but can see ultra violet, which is invisible to humans.

Today's smile: Famed artist, James McNeill Whistler, was always in heck to tradesmen. Once, when a demanding creditor burst into his studio to collect a bill, Whistler was without funds but he offered the man a glass of champagne. The creditor spluttered: "You say you can't pay me, yet you can afford to drink champagne?" Whistler replied: "I can assure you it isn't paid for."

One of our favorite haunts in Washington, D. C., is the Library of Congress and we have spent many profitable hours there through the years. At last count the repository contained upwards of 13 million books, tracts, pamphlets, etc. It is the only library in the world that we have visited where you can thoroughly research anything. Name the subject, no matter how obscure, and the efficient staff will dig up reams about it in a very few minutes.

Most folks think Barnum invented the name "Tom Thumb" for the midget he exhibited for so many years, but the name actually originated in a nursery tale, popular in England in the 16th century. The Clearing House

Editor:
Now we can start figuring, the majority voice is one that rules.

A tax raise has just been voted to take care of the bonds. So we can ignore that and start thinking about problems not yet solved.

Last year we took in $475,000 in the water department. All this was used to pay bonds, operating costs, police and firemen salaries. In 1961, or by this time next spring, we will need forty-two per cent more money or $203,000, to pay on the Canadian Dam.

This amount does not pay for the increased water cost that will come from the dam; it only pays for belonging. So, forty-two per cent has been placed in the budget making necessary, and the Water study committee advised AGAINST the raising of water rates. It is true that a higher water rate does not necessarily get MORE money. It often gets LESS money.

So it seems it may be back to the old tax till, soon. You can't dodge the tax charge. You can cut down on water use. Within two years common arithmetic will say that we must have $0 to 100 per cent more money from somewhere.

Many New Uses Predicted For Cool Surgery Treatment

The use of freezing temperatures in surgery was adapted several years ago by Dr. Irving Cooper of New York for the treatment of shaking palsy. Since then cryosurgery, as it is called, has found many uses. Dr. Cooper developed a hollow needle through which liquid nitrogen could be circulated at a temperature of minus 321 degrees Fahrenheit. Only the tip of the needle was exposed, but a very small area of the brain could be destroyed by the freezing action without damaging the adjacent tissues.

This technique has been extended to the removal of rectal polyps and other benign tumors, cataracts and even cancers. Another valuable use of the needle is the partial or complete destruction of an overactive pituitary.

This tiny gland, lying deep in the head near the brain, has always been hard for surgeons to reach. The problem is greatly simplified with the use of the freezing needle.

One important advantage of cryosurgery is that it can be used to remove the tonsils of persons who are congenital bleeders or who are victims of leukemia. The technique is practically bloodless and requires only about 10 minutes. Three weeks after the operation, the tonsils shrink almost to the vanishing point.

Bleeding from the uterus has been controlled by using a large freezing tube. Enlarged prostates have also been successfully treated by cryosurgery with far less discomfort than with methods formerly used and with less danger of infection. As the technique improves it is certain that many other uses for it will be found.

Q—My doctor prescribed digitalis because I have a weak heart. I recently read that prolonged use of this drug will affect the vision or even cause hallucinations. Is this true?

A—Digitalis, like any other drug that must be taken for a long time, must be given in a maintenance dosage — the amount that you require to meet your individual needs. Your doctor must make sure that, while you are taking this life-saving drug, you are getting sufficient potassium in your diet.

The earliest sign of digitalis poisoning is nausea. If digitalis poisoning is allowed to progress there may be diarrhea and a tendency for everything to look yellow. Hallucinations are not common. Most doctors advise skipping the drug one day a week after the maintenance level has been determined. This usually prevents poisoning. are just getting started at that age.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

Guerrilla Congress in Havana Almost entirely ignored by the U. S. press, an extraordinary meeting of communists and their revolutionary allies was held this January in Havana, hosted by Fidel Castro. It was called a Tri-Continental Conference and its purpose was to launch revolutionary guerrilla warfare in no less than 82 countries around the world. Specifically mentioned as priority targets were eight critical nations in Asia, seven in Africa and five in Latin America.

Paul Bethel, editor of Latin America Report, sponsored by the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, has called this conference "the largest gathering of guerrillas in one spot in the world's history."

A permanent organization for promoting and directing these world-wide revolutions was established in one spot in Havana by the Tri-Continental Conference. It is intended to serve as a permanent headquarters for guerrilla warfare throughout the world and as a continuing source of arms and money to revolutionaries.

Rarely has there been clearer proof of the enormous value of Castro's Cuba to communist revolutionaries everywhere, and of its enormous danger to us and to our allies.

The self-styled experts who spend so much time looking for "rifts" in the communist world could find little to support their theories in the statements and actions of the Tri-Continental Conference in Havana. Instead, the complete solidarity of all anti-American revolutionaries and terrorists was stressed repeatedly. All agreed that one of the prime goals of their agitation should be to force American withdrawal from Viet Nam.

The Tri-Continental Conference in Havana revealed the true meaning of communist "coexistence." We should not forget it.

GOVERNMENT AID MEANS CONTROL

Montrose (Calif.) Ledger

A truism, often refuted by such people as those who espouse Federal Aid to Education, is that where there is Federal "Aid," there is also Federal control. Definite proof came when the Board of Supervisors for Los Angeles County, California, voted on membership in "SCAG" also known as Southern California Association of Governments.

The show of power came without fanfare or apology, when Victor Fischer, assistant administrator of the Housing and Home Financing Agency laid down an ultimatum: Either join SCAG or some other regional organization of government, or no requests for federal assistance will be honored.

Have you ever heard of Mr. Fischer before? Probably not. For that matter, have you ever heard of the bureau he represents? Possibly not. But Mr. Fischer demonstrated to the people of Los Angeles County that he holds more power than the elected supervisors. Faced with the ultimatum of "knuckle under or be run over," the supervisors (three out of five of them) knuckled under. And what was the bludgeon? Federal money.

What is Federal Money? Federal money is American tax money, already collected from Americans or to be collected from Americans of coming generations. Taken from taxpayers in a variety of manners, "Federal Money" often is returned to taxpayers at the expense of certain freedoms. In this case, "Federal Money" is the ball that lured supervisors into another form of regional government.

Gov. John Connally to Kick off 20th Annual Irish Celebration in Shamrock

By FRANKIE STANLEY
SHAMROCK (Sp) — Gov. John Connally will launch the 20th annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration on Wednesday evening, March 16, when he addresses the Pre-St. Patrick's Day Banquet, which is the kick-off event for Shamrock's big extravaganza.

Gov. Jack M. Campbell of New Mexico also will be among dignitaries who will attend the celebration.

Long before Mother Nature paints the eastern sky with the colors of dawn, good Irishmen will be rolling out the green carpet for the thousands of visitors expected in the Irish Capital of Texas for the one-day of merry-making.

Dark-haired beauties and fair colleens, in brilliant green and white costumes, will vie for the title of "Miss Irish Rose" as they bedeck the fabulous floats in an hour-long parade of the friendly little town.

The breeze will snatch up the melody of music of the Shamrock Irish Band as they lead out with the strains of "My Wild Irish Rose" . . . and wait it across the city while "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and leprechauns are paraded from behind four-foot cloaks to give the "luck to the Irish" to more Irishmen that the Lord Mayor of Dublin could shake a shillelagh at.

"Cool Fizzies" of 1953, A. C. Brown, is one of the highest men in town as he escorts ladies from clean-shaven citizens who fail to dig up two nails to pay for a shaving permit. Got caught without one on his person, male citizens land in the "Court of No Justice."

Fresh Shamrocks from the banks of the River Shannon are flown in via Trans World Airlines and delivered in time to use as souvenirs for the annual Pre-St. Patrick's Banquet for visitors.

This year, Roy Snyder, general chairman of the celebration, has a broader grin than that of an Irish Paddy on the Paddy Road to Dublin. John Miller is assistant and they are doing a bang-up good job and look forward to a record-breaking crowd come March 17.

The Shamrock Texan is putting out an annual souvenir edition of the weekly newspaper with photographs and caricatures of local citizens wearing green top hats, chin whiskers and a smile as saucy as a colleen's wink.

Miss Ann Brannon, popular Shamrock High School senior, is serving as "Miss Shamrock" and will be hostess to visiting colleens, 22 of whom will be in the contest for the title of "Miss Irish Rose". The "loveliest lass" will be selected by judges at the colleen's luncheon and crowned by some visiting dignitary for the highest honor of the day.

Mrs. Bedford Harrison is chairman of the colleens. Michael Barry, Shamrock's Irish Band director will be in charge of the Band Festival which will be held in connection with the celebration.

Shamrock has no more O'Flanagans and O'Tooles than O'Smiths and O'Joneses, but come St. Patrick's Day everybody turns Irish.

The unique celebration is a shining example of what teamwork in a little town of some 3,000 souls can accomplish. It is no easy job nor the proverbial luck of the Irish, but a whale of a lot of hard work, which gives the citizenship a feeling of pride as they look back across the years.

Everything is ready for the greenest day in the year . . . Shamrock is expecting a crown of 40,000 strong.

The celebration will close with the sound of music. The regular St. Patrick's Dance is scheduled at the Armory. The day of fun will go into the wee small hours of morning . . . The green carpet is unrolling . . . the latch string looms as big and an Irishman's generosity . . . shure, and it's you we'll be expectin'.

Pet Dog Just A Little too Loyal

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — Kim, a German shepherd, loves his master and is fiercely loyal. Sometimes he is too fierce.

Alan Twigg, Kim's master, took Kim for a stroll Thursday night and fell into a 10-foot deep hole, injuring his head.

Kim took up his vigil at the top of the hole and kept would-be rescuers at bay. Police sent a special dog handler to the scene. The policeman was bitten three times.

He changed tactics then and sweet talked him for 15 minutes.

Kim relented and allowed his master to be taken to a hospital.

Resident Charged With Intoxication

Jack Alfred Douglas, 1015 E. Gordon, was charged with driving while intoxicated by Pampa police after his arrest Thursday.

Police said Douglas was observed near the Hobart and Wilks intersection, followed and arrested.

Officers said Douglas had an open bottle of liquor in his possession at the time of his arrest.

CHANCELLOR NAMED

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — King Akenzua II of Benin, midwestern Nigeria, Thursday took over as new chancellor of Nigeria's Ahmadu Bello University. He succeeds the late northern Premier Sir Ahmadu Bello, after whom the university was named.

CLAIMS DENIED

ROME (UPI) — Italy's constitutional court Thursday ruled that former Italian prisoners of war have no claim to arrears for work they did in U.S. prison camps in World War II. A number of former POWs had raised the issue in a Venice court claiming they had been paid less than was due to them for their work and that the Italian government had no right to waive their claims.
