

Choosing Sides in Simmering Sino-Soviet Fight

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK (NEA)—Exactly 10 years ago Russia and China first made public their long-simmering quarrel about the "correct" interpretation of Marxist-Leninist dogma. Since then the ideological conflict of the two Red giants has grown in intensity.

But this crucial fact, unfortunately, has been overshadowed, if not completely overlooked, in the current debate on United States policy on China inaugurated, among others, by Sen. J. William Fulbright.
Yet Mao Ts-ung's shadow looms ominously over the 23rd congress of the Soviet Communist party, the first important Red congress to be held in Moscow since the ouster of Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The session begins Tuesday.

The new Kremlin leaders understand, as some critics of President Johnson's policies apparently do not, that the future of world communism depends on their ability to convince Red chieftains from other countries that Mao must be isolated, or even destroyed.

Khrushchev, who launched the attack on Red China in 1956, at the party's 20th congress, plays no role in Moscow's current convulse. As is usual with deposed Communist leaders, he became an "un-person" and disappeared from the Soviet scene.
But he left his successors—party boss Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Aleksei Kosygin—a major political headache which will plague them for many years.

...there are 110 official Communist parties operating in various parts of the world. Of these, 69 parties are against Red China's doctrine of revolutionary brinkmanship.
The Soviet leaders always face the danger that even some of their own interest might switch to the support of Red China or adopt a neutral stand.

The Red Chinese and their allies number 37 official Communist parties. The rest remain neutral or totally indifferent to whether Moscow or Peking gain the upper hand in the Red world.
This enumeration alone demonstrates the gravity of the split in the world Communist movement as a result of the Sino-Soviet conflict.

But the situation is even more complicated. In addition to the 110 official Communist parties there now exist splinter groups or "parallel parties" which favor Red China and denounce the Russians as "lackeys of America" (See FIGHT, Page 3)

DEBATE HOLDS EUROPE FUTURE

France, US In Bitter Argument

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and France are debating far more than the fate of NATO.

The trans-Atlantic argument between President Johnson and President Charles de Gaulle—with neither mentioning the other by name—really concerns the future of all Europe. At issue is the balance of power from "the Atlantic to the Urals."

American officials contend that De Gaulle, in his desire to restore the glory that once was France, is seeking to play a century-style power politics. He is charged with trying to fragment NATO in order to be in a position to play off Russia against the United States.

This, say U.S. authorities, is a path which is almost certain to lead to disaster for France, as well as her friends.

The French president, for his part, asserts that the rigid military integration of NATO is "outmoded" because Russia has undergone vast changes since Stalin and is no longer the threat she was when NATO was formed.

America's desire to retain the present collective military security setup is viewed by De Gaulle as a cover for Washington's determination to retain "domination" of Western Europe and to dictate terms on which the Allies may deal with Moscow.

De Gaulle also claims that NATO members can never really be sure the United States will unleash its nuclear might against Russia if only Western Europe comes under Soviet attack. That is his stated

Expert Claims Defeat In Viet Might Lead To Red Confrontation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—An authority on China said today that the Viet Nam war could lead to "a direct military or political confrontation" between Communist China and the United States.

Prof. Lucian W. Pye of Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) believes the confrontation might become military if the United States is defeated or is forced to withdraw from Viet Nam.

"If the United States loses the next time China pushes her, the U.S. would go right for the jugular vein—mainland China," said the quiet-speaking scholar who also is a government adviser on China.

Pye's theory is this: If the United States sustains a battlefield defeat or is forced out of Viet Nam, the American people might force a confrontation with China because "they would be very bad losers."
A United States victory in Viet Nam, eye contends, would cause China to lose face in Asia and therefore would not be as threatening.
"If the confrontation comes and China loses, it will be the same kind of letdown as happened with Russia after Cuba (the 1962 missile crisis) when Russia's power was weakened in the eyes of the world," said the 47-year-old political scientist who was born in China of American missionary parents.

Deteriorating Sino-Soviet relations would make any American-Chinese confrontation more direct, he said in an interview with United Press International.

In a less bleak appraisal of the future course of U.S.-Chinese relations, Pye expressed the view that China will undergo "great and very hopeful" political changes following the death of Mao Tse-tung, chairman of the Chinese Communist party and therefore the most powerful man in China.

Initially after the death of the 72-year-old Mao, who has been reported ill for some time, Pye expects China would be governed by even stricter leaders. But in the long run he believes younger intellectuals would take charge and chart a more flexible course.
China's own relations with Russia were further splintered by China's refusal to attend the world Communist party congress opening in Moscow Tuesday.

Pye said China's move now raises the question whether the Russians would honor their treaty with China to protect her in event of attack. He said the action reflected China's determination lately to be isolated from powers she doesn't like.

Pye said the snub indicated that any confrontation between the United States and China now would be much more direct in that Russia wouldn't be "stirking in the background."

Pye was born in Foshan, China, and educated as a boy in Peking and later at Carleton College in Minnesota and at Yale. He has authored two books and co-authored four others dealing with Asian development.

White Couple To Give Up Adopted Negro Baby Son

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI)—A white minister and his wife said they plan Monday to surrender their 2-year-old adopted Negro son because they have been "harassed and humiliated" and threatened by anonymous telephone callers.

"We found out what Fullerton's like, it's Watts in reverse," said the Rev. Albert Cohen when he announced the decision Wednesday.

Cohen, 38, and his wife, Ann, 33, said they plan to return David to the Los Angeles County adoption agency, from which they adopted him a year ago. The couple was to have signed the final adoption papers later this month.

"We have to give up," said Cohen, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy. "We thought we could stand up and be counted, but we just don't have the personal strength."

The couple who have four children of their own, said the telephone callers frequently would ask, "have you checked all the kids recently?"
Last Sunday night, Cohen said, a man telephoned and warned, "get rid of that nigger or you might find one of your children gone."

Cohen, the chaplain at California State College at Fullerton, said he and his family had been under police protection since someone painted "Watts" on the front door of their home two weeks ago.

"It was all right at first," said Mrs. Cohen. "We thought it would work out even though all our friends, black and white, told us it wouldn't."
"I can feel and see the resentment," she said. "I'm afraid to take David into a store with me. Giving up David at one time would have been the worst thing that could happen. Now what's happening is worse."

Cohen said he was told by the adoption agency that the youngster would be offered again for adoption.

Following his graduation from Annapolis, Cohen served as a Navy line officer until 1954. He then studied for his divinity degree at Oberlin Seminary.

Before coming to California State College at Fullerton last July, he had served as pastor of Congregational churches in England and in the nearby cities of Whittier and South Pasadena.

Singing Quintet Pleads Guilty To Dope Charge

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Two members of the Sir Douglas Quintet and a traveling companion must serve 2½ years probation. They pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana Wednesday.

Douglas Sahn and Frank Morin and Charles Pritchard, their companion, pleaded guilty before U.S. Dist. Judge Reynaldo Garza.

Judge Garza said at the end of the 2½ years of probation, he would order a certificate of "no conviction" so they would not have a criminal record.
Sahn and Morin were arrested last Dec. 29 as they stepped off a plane at Corpus Christi International Airport. Pritchard was arrested as he drove into town with the rest of the singing group.

Forecast Calls For Rainy, Cool

An early spring cold front pushed freezing weather deep into Texas today, but most of the biting winds which had added to the discomfort had subsided.

Winds remained a little gusty along the immediate Gulf Coast at daybreak, but the remainder of the state reported calm weather and chilly temperatures.

The Pampa area warmed today with the mercury climbing into the upper 50's under partly cloudy skies. Forecasters said Friday may bring rain to the area with Saturday being partly cloudy and cooler. Tonight's low is expected to drop to the middle 30-degree range with Friday's high expected to hit the mid-60-degree range.

The mercury dipped to 21 degrees at Dalhart and 23 at Amarillo and freezing readings (See FORECAST, Page 3)

26 Dead in Wake Of Great North Blizzard

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—A major blizzard which left at least 26 persons dead across the Great Plains raged through the night in upper Michigan and prepared to push northward today into Canada.

The storm nudged record-breaking warm air ahead of it into the Northeast and triggered cold wave warnings southward across the Midwest into Louisiana and Mississippi. The temperature dropped below freezing in Chicago and snow blizzards filled the air.

Police in central upper Michigan said the storm was more intense than any of the winter. Schools were closed today in three counties surrounding Marquette, Mich., and scores of autos were reported abandoned on the road.

Conditions were also bad on the Keweenaw Peninsula poking into Lake Superior, where the storm brought heavy snow and high winds. Drifts were five feet deep in the streets of Ishpeming, Mich.

More than 14 inches of snow was on the ground today in Minneapolis, the city's third heaviest snowfall in history. Twelve inches spread across western Wisconsin and 10 inches were reported in parts of Iowa and Nebraska. Staff winds blew the snow into street-blocking drifts.

Some homes in Omaha, Neb., were still without power today. Factories and businesses shut down when the storm hit Minneapolis Wednesday and the University of Minnesota closed completely for the first time in memory. Snow drifts were 10 feet deep at Le Mars, Iowa.

The storm, following roughly the same path taken by the great blizzard earlier this month, resulted in at least 26 deaths. Among the 11 storm victims in Nebraska was rodeo performer Gerald (Specs) Aufdengarten, whose body was found in the snow near his bogged-down truck.
A car containing the bodies of four men trapped by the storm was discovered east of Howells, Neb., late Wednesday. The men had been returning to West Point, Neb., from a meeting at Grand Island and apparently died of exposure.

In addition to Fraser and Thompson, the board of directors will consist of Bob Curry, Bill Atkinson, Kay Fancher, David Tucker and Harry Vanderpool.
Riina Lagus, who attends Pampa High School as a foreign exchange student from Uppsala, Sweden, presented the program. She outlined the climatic and geographical conditions of her native land as well as the religious, political, educational and social aspects of the country. Dr. and Mrs. Will Graham are her American parents' during her stay in Pampa.

Top AF Adviser Continues Probe Of Saucer Report

DENVER, Mich. (UPI)—The top Air Force adviser on unidentified flying objects pulled on his hip boots Wednesday and waded into a swamp where a glowing object reportedly landed earlier this week.

But Dr. H. Allen Hynek refused to speculate on what he was looking for or on the meaning of what he had found thus far.

The Northwestern University astrophysicist, who has spent two days in the Southern Michigan area searching for clues to what might have caused a rash of UFO sightings, said "I'm still gathering facts."

He said, however, "these reports are more consistent than most of the other sightings I've investigated." Hynek has been involved in the Air Force "Project Blue Book" since 1948 and has investigated hundreds of UFO reports.

The swamp he investigated Wednesday was near the home of Frank Mannor who, along with his son and several police officers, saw what was described as a pulsating craft and four sister ships hover in the marsh last Sunday night. Mannor said he got a close look at the craft and it appeared to be a solid object before it zipped away.

Scattered sightings had been reported throughout the area in recent days and 7 coeds at Hillsdale College reportedly saw a similar UFO in a marshland near their dormitory Monday night.

THANKS TO HEART SURGERY

Man Told He Has One Year Now Has Whole New Future

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Little more than a month ago doctors told Eugene Harvey Beavers, 59, of Clinto, Ark., his life expectancy was about a year.

Today Beavers is back home planning fishing trips and looking forward to his full share of days, thanks to delicate heart surgery at Arkansas Baptist Medical Center. A spokesman at the medical center said Beavers underwent the first successful valve implant done by a private hospital in Arkansas.

A team of specialists replaced a non-functioning calcified valve with an artificial valve made of stainless steel, a soft silicon and plastic material during an operation March 15. The hospital said between 5,000 and 6,000 similar operations have been performed since development of artificial valves five years ago, but the spokesman said no private hospital in Arkansas had attempted it before. There have been a few such operations at the University of Arkansas Medical Center, a public facility.

Beavers, who operates his own trash collection service in Clinton, was suffering from calcific aortic stenosis, a hardening, narrowing and blockage of the main valve coming out of the heart. Doctors believed it was a result of rheumatic fever in his youth.

Bank Robber Added to Top Ten List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert Clayton Buick, an elusive California bank robber and self-avowed former bull-fighter, was added today to the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

Buick, 33, is accused of holding up 18 banks in the Los Angeles and San Diego areas between July 1961, and February of this year. The FBI said the armed robberies have netted him $89,000.

Described as extremely dangerous by the FBI, Buick is a native of Pennsylvania. Since 1961, he has spent much of his time in Mexico and claims to have fought in bull rings in that country and Puerto Rico.

Buick is known as a "playboy" who dotes on attention and likes an audience for his bullfighting tales. He also is said to like expensive wines and liquors, good night clubs and high-class restaurants.

The FBI reports that Buick is a neat, conservative dresser who likes jewelry. He is believed to be wearing a diamond ring, a gold identification bracelet, and a gold religious medal around his neck.

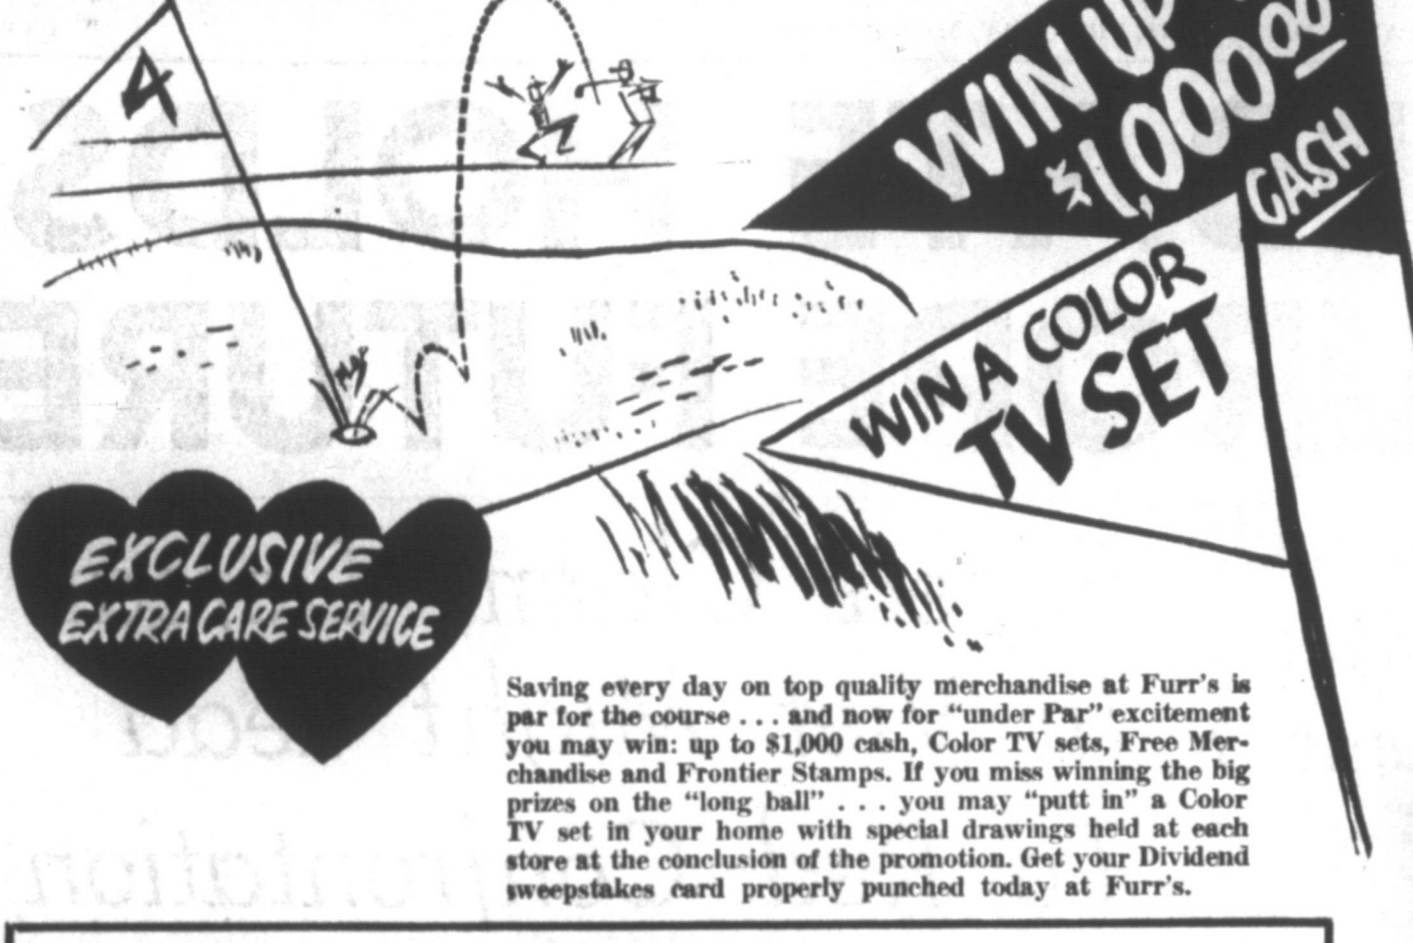

The new addition to the most-wanted list is about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs about 135 pounds. He has a mole below the corner of his right eye and scars between his right thumb and first finger and on the back of his right hand.

Buick is fond of both Italian and Mexican food and is fairly fluent in Spanish. He has worked as a laborer, salesman, and seaman-steward.

SUPPORTS PROGRAM
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission is supporting a federal weather modification program and is against "fragmented tinkering" with rainmaking by local groups.
Commission member James T. Hamey told a Senate interior subcommittee Wednesday he endorsed a bill to spend $35 million on research on how to squeeze more rain from the atmosphere. He said that unorganized tampering with the weather would "doubtlessly create a heavy imbalance of social and legal problems in relation of the overall gain of knowledge."

Luboff Serenades From Blues to Brahms

By HUGH SANDERS
Patrons of the Community Concert Series were exposed literally from Brahms to blues by the Norman Luboff Choir last night in the Pampa Junior High Auditorium. The season's finale was enthusiastically received by an overflow crowd.

Although the popularity of this dynamic conductor - arranger and his group is based primarily on his many splendid recordings, the repertoire of the group included a surprising amount of "period" selections. The medieval church modes were employed by the French composer Passereau in "Il Est Bel Et Bon," performed artistically by the Luboff Choir.

Red China Expert Blasts Sex Club In California

Speaking to an audience at the Pampa Baptist Temple Wednesday evening, Major Edgar C. Bundy warned of extremists in various movements within the United States.

Bundy, a former Air Force intelligence officer, is a recognized expert on Asian affairs and is executive secretary of the Church League of America. During his six years in Air Force Intelligence he rose from a private to a major and received the Bronze Star Medal from Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault and Nationalist China's highest aviation decoration presented by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

A native of Wheaton, Ill., Bundy is the author of a book, just released, "How Communists Use Religion."

Bundy told his audience of the drastic views of the sexual freedom group at the University of Southern California at Berkeley. "I can't repeat some of their slogans in a mixed audience," he said telling how the sexual freedom group is tied in with Communists along with the Vietnams (those who urge we get out of Viet Nam).

Communist activity is appearing in our churches, Bundy said. He said the National Council of Churches wear clerical gowns and yet consort with "the same bunch of kooks" who want us to get out of Viet Nam. Bundy called some of the clergy hypocrites for supporting demonstrations around the country that represent anti-Christ forces.

Bundy called the Union Theological Seminary the "Union Theological Cemetery" because of the new death of God philosophy. He said one of the greatest movements now in progress is the Separatist movement. This movement is composed of clergy separating themselves from the God is Dead philosophy.

Bundy told of returning recently from Africa and Rhodesia. He said action by the Church League of America prevented liberals from the United States from entering the African nations to stir up trouble.

St. Augustine, the apostle to the English nation, was the first archbishop of Canterbury.

Renaissance monophony was presented by Palestrina's "Sicut Cervus," and the boldness of the Baroque was heard in Sweelinck's "Hodie Christus Natus Est" and De Lasso's "Echo Song."

The extended work, "Gloria," written by the stalwart of the Baroque era, Vivaldi was expertly performed employing artistic, sensitive soloists.

Brahms, representative of the romantic era, seemed more nearly interpreted stylistically as did the contemporary composer Randall Thompson, Jean Berger, and Aaron Copland. The flexibility of the group was outstanding in the program number "Valse" by Ernest Toch.

Norman Luboff's Choir seemed more at home in part two of the program, singing representative folk songs of Spain and Russia; spirituals, "Dry Bones" and "Deep River," and the ever popular tunes "Embraceable You" and "The Happy Wanderer," and "Laura." These popular songs were enhanced by accompaniment from piano, guitar, accordion and rhythm section.

Community concert goes applauded for more and more of Norman Luboff's singing. In this way, Pampans showed appreciation to Luboff as a choral director of precision and elegance, and an arranger of originality and solid musicianship.

Organization Of Fine Arts Group Slated Tonight

Possibility of forming a Fine Arts Association will be discussed at a meeting scheduled for 7 o'clock this evening in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens' Bank.

The meeting will be attended by representatives of Pampa's civic, service and social organizations.

Advantages of such a group and advice on organizational procedures will be outlined by Atty. Edward D. Hudson Jr., president of the Fort Worth Fine Arts Association.

A letter sent out this week to presidents of local organizations stated:

"The first fifty years of civic growth in Pampa are something of which we can be proud. Now we've moved into a second half century, and our growth continues, thanks to the contributions of our many fine people.

But there is in Pampa an undervalued resource, a vast potential for further development. We speak of our creative-artistic talents. We have musicians, actors, artists, and fine craftsmen equal to those of any city in the state. These people can and will contribute to the culture of our community and the enjoyment of our citizens. They want to do so. What they need is interested people to support them and encourage them.

"We are representing a number of Pampa citizens proposing just such a group. We need your help and the help of your organization in making possible in Pampa an assembly of people to represent both the creative and the supportive segments of our cultural community, to assist generally in the presentation and the enjoyment of the graphic and performing arts. What we propose is an organization or group that will support such activities and facilitate their future development."

The letter was signed by Dr. Carl M. Lang, Homer D. Johnson, Icie Harrah, Donald S. Hauck, Warren L. Hasse and Marcella Hudson.

Dr. Lang will be the moderator of tonight's meeting and several Pampans are scheduled to give brief talks on various phases of the proposed project.

Such pro-Chinese "parallel parties" operate in the United States, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Ceylon, Colombia, Lebanon, India, Nepal, Nigeria, Uruguay, Peru, Spain, Switzerland and Zanzibar.

Peking also tried to organize a secret "parallel party" in Cuba, which led to Fidel Castro's bitter attack on Mao Tse-tung's "perfidy."

"Not even American attacks on North Viet Nam have succeeded in overcoming the division inside the socialist family," Castro complained recently. "And who can doubt that this division encourages the imperialists?"

Similar concern at the present situation in the world Communist movement had been voiced by Russian leaders. They have repeatedly called for world Communist unity. They want at least "unity of action" in Viet Nam.

Future (Continued From Page 1) reason for building his independent nuclear force and declining to participate any longer in collective defense arrangements.

He feels that European affairs must be settled by Europeans.

Washington fears that De Gaulle's attitude is propelling him inevitably toward concluding a new Franco-Soviet alliance to replace the one Moscow repudiated in 1955.

Forecast (Continued From Page 1) were reported as far south as Lufkin, Temple, San Antonio and Alpine. Brownsville's 56-degree low was the warmest.

Skies were partly cloudy to cloudy over the southwest and south central portions of the state, but clear weather prevailed elsewhere.

Police Investigate Two Theft Reports

Pampa police today investigated two thefts.

A Floyd Strickland, 1121 N. Starkweather, told police Wednesday someone took a deep fryer and a Toaster Fryolator valued at $125 from his grocery store. The store is not in business at present. Strickland said he had a man cleaning up in the store. The store is not in business, the merchant said. A thief forced open the office at Dr. T. J. Worrell Animal Hospital Wednesday night and removed fifty cents from a desk drawer before leaving with a metal box containing valuable papers. Dr. Worrell said the metal box contained his car registration papers.

The council is made up of 250 WTSU ex-students in the 35 northern counties of the Texas Panhandle and South Plains.

Announcement of Mrs. Curry's appointment was made by Vaughn A. Vandergriff, Advisory Council executive director. The council will hold a day-long meeting in the WTSU Student Union Bldg. in Canyon Saturday, April 2.

POPCORN ANIMALS delight the youngsters.

Popcorn Animals Warm Cold Days

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Want to put a smile in blisters.

March weather? Then make popcorn animals for the youngsters.

HONEY-SPICED POPCORN ANIMALS

- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 pkg. pops-in-a-pan popcorn

Food Buying Guide

The following — guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this weekend was prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Shopping should be fun this weekend. The vegetable bins are brimfull and the meat counters are well-stocked. All sorts of menu ideas should come to mind as one views the full counters.

The shopper should have a wide range of meat, fruit, and vegetable selections for the weekend meals.

Prices are jumping up and down sharply in various areas. Meat prices, especially on pork are declining in the Southwest and west, but continuing steady, or upward in the East. In the Southeast, bacon prices are lower than last week.

Pork chops and butt cuts are lower than last week.

Broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, onions, peppers, potatoes, spinach, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes are in good supply and popularly priced.

Strawberries are a new vegetable plentiful list. The list continues with apples, grapefruit, and oranges.

Nationally, fish sticks and portions, canned red salmon, and scallops are in good supply.

- 1 cup dry toasted peanuts
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- Licorice sticks
- Red hot candy
- Raisins
- Aluminum foil.

Grease 16, 2 1/2-inch muffin tins. Set aside. In a medium-size saucepan, combine sugar, water, salt and honey. Cook, uncovered, to hardball stage, 255 degrees. Meanwhile, pop corn according to package directions. Grease a large pot and mix together popped corn, peanuts, cinnamon and nutmeg. When sugar mixture reaches hardball stage, add lemon juice and rind. Remove from heat. Pour over popcorn mixture and mix well. Grease hands and divide popcorn mixture between the greased 16 individual muffin tins, pressing down in pans. Before mixture hardens, remove popcorn from muffin tins. Stick together two popcorn balls, (being sure the flat bottoms are together).

TO MAKE THE ANIMALS: Candy decorations will stick to corn if syrup has not completely hardened.

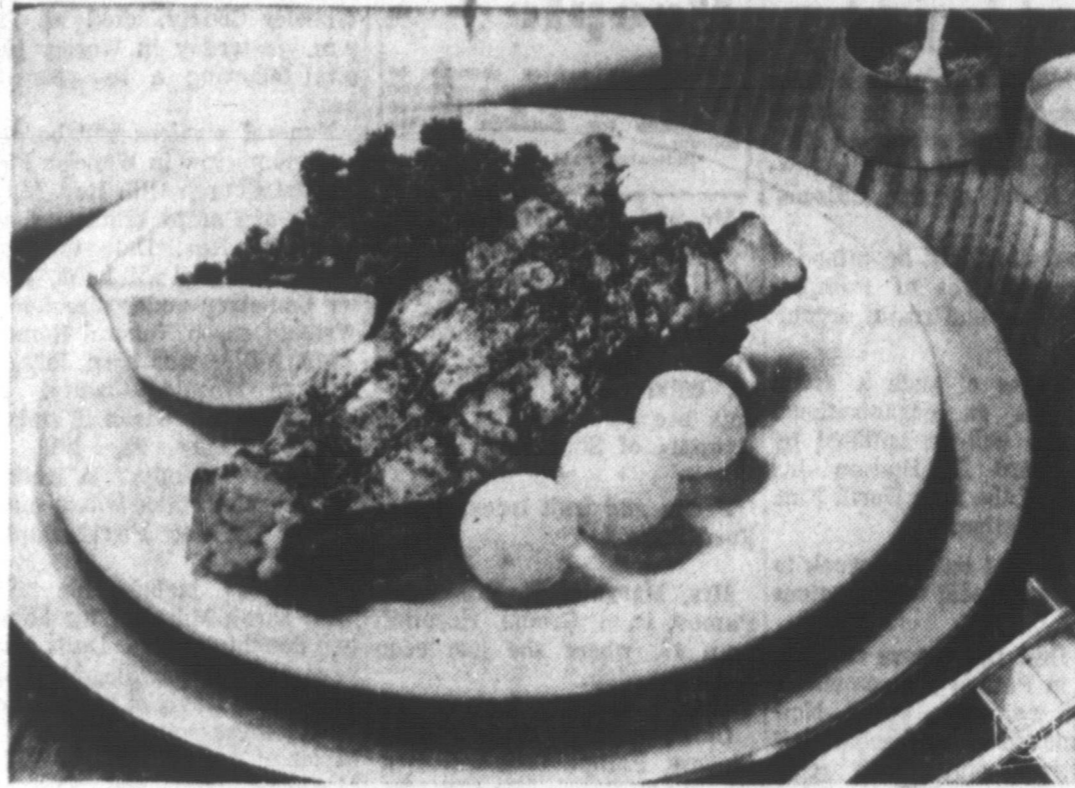

FLOPPY-EARED DOG: Use heavy aluminum foil and cut out 2-inch pieces; then, cut so pieces are oval-shaped on either end. Pinch one of the ends together. Attach the pinched end to the popcorn ball. Place one on each side — floppy ears. Make eyes, nose of red hot and tongue of licorice.

PUSSY CAT: Cut thin strips of licorice for whiskers. Make raisin eyes and red hot nose. Cut small licorice triangles for ears and long licorice piece for tail.

RABBIT: Use red hot candies for eyes and nose. Use thin strips of licorice for whiskers. Cut 2-inch pieces of licorice for ears.

A Ground Floor Delight

"GROUND FLOOR" TURBOT is a gourmet experience.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Recently we dined de luxe in New York's "Ground Floor," the newest and most striking spot in this city of fine restaurants.

Chef Fred Platzer helped us translate his own recipes into somewhat simpler versions for use in family meals.

GRILLED DOVER SOLE WITH HERB BUTTER (Serves 4)

Broil 4 cleaned and lightly salted Dover sole under moderate heat for 10 minutes. Place 2 tablespoons of herb butter (recipe below) on each sole. Return to broiler and let butter melt. Serve with lemon slice.

"GROUND FLOOR" TURBOT WITH TARRAGON BUTTER (Turbot Grill a l'Estrango) (Serves 4)

Broil 4 pieces of turbot under moderate heat for 10 to 12 minutes or until center bones can easily be removed. (Use 1-inch-thick steak of turbot.) Before serving, pour tarragon butter over broiled fish. Serve with lemon wedges.

TARRAGON BUTTER

- 1/4 pound butter
- 1/2 teaspoon parsley
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Kraut and Franks Are a Hearty Treat

PLANK KRAUT AND FRANKS go together.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The Tartars originally brought kraut to Germany from China, where workers on the Great Wall enjoyed cabbage fermented in wine. The Germans named it sauerkraut and teamed it with the frankfurter, first made by a pork butcher in 1559.

Our kraut today is more evenly shredded and milder in taste.

KRAUT AND FRANKFURTER PLANKED DINNER (Serves 6)

- 3 1/2 cups drained sauerkraut
- 3 medium tomatoes, halved
- 1 can (8-oz.) whole white onions, drained
- 3 cups seasoned, mashed potatoes
- 12 frankfurters, scored
- 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Arrange kraut, tomato halves, onions, frankfurters and potatoes on plank. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Brush tomatoes, onions, frankfurters and potatoes with part of butter mixture. Pour remaining butter mixture over kraut. Broil 5-6 inches from source of heat 7 to 8 minutes, turning frankfurters and onions once during broiling period. Garnish with parsley, if desired.

Higher Food Value Costs More Money

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q—Why do our nation's food bill keep getting higher and higher? This puzzles me. What's your answer?

A—The first and most obvious answer to your question is that we have more people to feed every year. Then, too, the economy is prosperous. We have more money to spend and are therefore buying higher value foods—more meat and cheese, but fewer cereals. And there's another relatively new factor. We're eating out more. The increase in spending in restaurants, hotels and other away-from-home eating places has practically soared off the graphs. Back in 1940 we spent only $4 billion. By 1965 the figure had increased five-fold to $20 billion. "Our studies show that when we eat out we're paying more for service than we are for food," according to a Department of Agriculture spokesman.

Q—What do you food writers mean by "simple Yankee fare"? You always make it sound historical and virtuous.

A—Here's an example of what we mean. Recently we had an early 18th century lunch at the farmhouse in Old Sturbridge in Sturbridge, Mass. It was historically correct "simple Yankee fare." We ate homemade fresh vegetable soup, "Bubble and Squeak" (cabbage and beef), brick oven baked wheat bread with freshly churned butter, cider and baked quinces. Whether virtuous or not, you must decide for yourself.

Corn-Stuffed Green Peppers Give Those Special Dinners Extra Fillip

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Give Sunday or party dinners an extra fillip. These corn-stuffed green peppers will do it. The green peppers stuffed with Mexican corn is another fillip the family will enjoy Sunday or any day.

Cut each green pepper in half crosswise; remove seeds and membrane. Place each half on double thickness of aluminum foil large enough to wrap around it. Fill each half with 1-6 of the corn. Season with salt and pepper. Dot with margarine. Pour 1 to 2 tablespoons corn syrup over each. Wrap, sealing foil with double foil. Grill or broil 4 to 5 inches from source of heat until tender, about 45 minutes.

CORN-STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS (Serves 6)

- 3 medium green peppers
- 1 (10-oz.) package frozen corn, partially thawed
- Salt
- Pepper
- Margarine
- Dark corn syrup.

Mexican corn-stuffed peppers: Follow recipe for cornstuffed peppers, adding 1/4-cup chopped green pepper and 2 tablespoons chopped pimento to corn before filling pepper halves.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capital

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Both Democratic and Republican state party leaders have emphasized that victory in the U. S. Senate race is their top objective of 1966.

"We are ahead and we plan to stay ahead," Sen. John G. Tower told the GOP state executive committee.

"I am told the Senate election in Texas is the No. 1 race in the nation this year," said Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, one of the top Democratic senatorial nominees, at a meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Democrats selected Austin for their September 20 state convention, at which control of their party for the next two years will be decided.

Republicans, who have no serious convention controversy in sight, will meet in San Antonio.

Both party executive committees will return to Austin on May 17 to canvass first primary elections, and Democrats will certify run-off candidates, if any.

Democrats rejected a proposal by gubernatorial candidate Stanley C. Woods of Houston to hold a May 7 referendum on whether Texans prefer "annual" or "permanent" registration.

SDEC Chairman Will D. Davis held that a group petitioning for a referendum on a constitutional amendment to legalize pari-mutual horse and dog race wagering did not have its papers in order by deadline.

A Democratic committee resolution was designed to bring delegate strength in district caucuses at the 1966 state convention in line with new senatorial reapportionment. Another would discourage manipulation of county convention voting strength of new and recently-altered precincts.

Republicans named John Goltsbee of Jacksonville and Roy I. Jindra of Alice to the GOP committee to fill vacancies.

Democrats picked Mrs. Gilbert Theriot of San Angelo to succeed Mrs. S. St. George Tucker, also of San Angelo, on SDEC.

OIL INDUSTRY ON UP-SWING — Texas Railroad Commission concerned as to how industry would operate in a national emergency, postponed setting statewide oil allowable until it can evaluate "the escalating market demand and underproduction."

State reached 33.2 per cent of potential factor this month highest since May, 1959, and the sixth straight increase.

Major oil company spokesmen painted a bright picture for the industry at the proration hearing, predicting demand for petroleum products will go up three to 3.5 per cent this year.

Those who complained a year ago about surplus oil and gas stocks emphasized need to build up reserves.

MINING BATTLE — A Houston-based firm claims Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler is wrong in rejecting its sulphur mining claims in West Texas area (Pecos County) and has asked State Supreme Court to enjoin further action under a scheduled sale of state leases on May 3.

Duval Corporation says a 1919 law gives it the right to stake claim on land to which the state has sold surface rights on payment of 50 cents an acre annual rental plus one-sixteenth royalty if minerals are produced.

Sadler claims the 1931 sealed-bid law nullified the 1919 act and that to allow leasing under the 1919 act might deprive the state permanent school fund of millions of dollars.

Sadler said he carefully considered all aspects of law and rights of three million school children before refusing to file mining claims of the Duval Corporation.

APPOINTMENTS—Gov. John Connally named Randall C. Jackson, Abilene attorney with ranching and banking interests in Callahan County, to State Securities Board. Jackson succeeds Everett Fulgham, former Houstonite who moved to Arkansas.

Connally appointed Clifton W. Cassidy Jr. of Dallas, feed mill and savings and loan association official, to Texas Public Safety Commission. He succeeds W. E. Dyche Jr. of Houston.

Joseph A. Potts of San Antonio will succeed Don Marshall as director for San Antonio River Authority.

Dr. R. C. Jordan, Austin, has been appointed director of medical care administration services (medicare) in the state; Dr. MORE MORE MORE Albert C. Randall has been named director of the state's consolidated tuberculosis control services; and Dr. Robert B. Skinner has been appointed director of tuberculosis hospitals at Sanatorium, Harlingen, San Antonio and Tyler.

CATTLE QUARANTINE — A cattle scabies outbreak resulted in quarantining of interstate shipments of cattle from six Northwest Texas counties.

Counties under U. S. quarantine effective March 8 are Floyd, Briscoe, Castro, Hale, Lamb and Swisher.

Epidemiology work and trace-backs on cattle involved are under direction of Texas Animal Health Commission and U. S. Department of Agriculture animal health division. A U. S. inspector has been assigned to each county.

AG RULES — An attorney appointed to represent indigent defendants in criminal trials is entitled to full compensation, whether or not he appears in court for a full day or part of a day, and he is entitled to compensation for each court appearance he makes for his client, Attorney General Carr held.

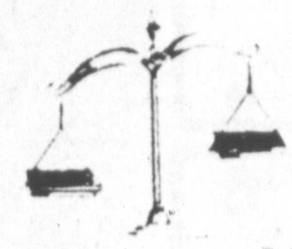

However, if the attorney represents more than one defendant on the same day, he is entitled to compensation only once on that day.

In other opinions, Carr concluded that: —A county judge or clerk can not collect, impose or record costs assessed by a corporation court in criminal cases and a court can't tax any costs against a defendant in a criminal case.

—Witness fees must be filed with the Comptroller's Office within 12 months after they become due and payable and, if they aren't filed, the fees are barred. Also, the Legislature has the authority to appropriate funds for the fees.

—County attorney of Matagorda County does not have duty to act as "prosecuting attorney" under uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "New approaches are the forte of Zero Motel," said the press release heralding Tuesday night's CBS-TV special which featured the Broadway performer and Lucille Ball in an hour presided over by Carol Burnett.

New approaches, however, are not the forte of television. The publicity writer therefore turned out to be more perceptive than the makers of the hour, "Carol Plus Two," in regard to Motel, and the result was that the potentially great program came across as merely a moderately entertaining endeavor.

As anyone who can read knows, Motel is considered very simple to be one of the finest entertainers in the world, at drama or comedy or music or whatever new tack he may be taking at the moment. His spectacular string of successes include the stage productions "Rhinceros," "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

Television admires all his. It admires New York. But it thinks Hollywood, almost totally. The only New York performer of note I can think of who has recently escaped this corporate mental block is Barbra Streisand, for the reason that she has the splendid nerve to simply refuse to listen to any three-button type who tells her how to do what she knows how to do.

As you can probably tell by now, Tuesday night's CBS-TV special quite obviously ignored the approaches that are the forte of Motel. Except for his solo song, "If I Were a Rich Man," from "Fiddler on the Roof," he was little more than a glorified straight man for Miss Burnett in several sketches.

As a result, CBS-TV thereby maintained its recent spectacular record of almost never understanding the special, subtle qualities of some of the remarkable Broadway talents it has presented:

Carol Channing's hour seemed embarrassingly aimed at convincing the provinces that she really was just as acceptable as "The Beverly Hillbillies" once you got to know her. Tommy Steel, the bright young British star of "Half a Sixpence," could have been just another up-and-coming hooper the way he was presented on the Gene Kelly hour. And Tuesday night it was Motel's turn, with much of the audience probably wondering what it was he was so touted for anyway.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the fall of 1961, Finnish President Urho Kekkonen returned to Helsinki from a visit to the United States and wryly demanded: "Is the republic still standing?"

It was a reflection of one of two bitter facts of life which the Finns have had to learn since 1939. One is the absolute necessity for getting along with her huge neighbor, the Soviet Union, and the other is that whatever may happen the Finns must depend upon themselves.

Together they form the keystone of Finland's foreign policy.

Integally, as well, the proximity of the Soviet Union exercises a profound influence.

For this reason also this week's Finnish elections take on special importance. For the first time since 1958 the Finns see some hope of political stability.

History Of Instability

Largely because of their special relationship with the Soviet Union and the resultant sharp political divisions within their own boundaries, Finnish history since 1958 has been one of a succession of weak coalition governments and dismal failures.

The single unifying factor has been Kekkonen, the president and seemingly the only politician the Russians trust.

Among the approximately 4.5 million Finns, approximately 25 per cent vote Communist.

The other two largest parties have been the Agrarian, recently renamed Center, and the Social Democratic party made up right-wing Socialists. Kekkonen is an Agrarian whose term in office extends to 1968.

The Communist party has not participated in Finnish governments for years. The Russians frowned upon the leadership of the Social Democrats and that left only the Agrarians, usually a minority, to form a government.

Especially distasteful to the Russians was social Democratic leader Vaino Tanner, who became a special hero to Americans when he led the Finns in their hopeless war against the Russians in 1939.

Tanner... as much as any man is credited with keeping the Finns out of the Russian satellite orbit.

In 1961, Kekkonen was forced to break off his American visit because of Russian fears that a Social Democrat-backed candidate might take over the Finnish presidency in elections scheduled for 1962.

Mutually Worried

The Russians feared a change in Finnish foreign policy and on their side the Finns feared Russian demand for bases on Finnish territory.

Kekkonen's diplomacy forestalled a crisis and the Finnish voters bowed to an implicit Soviet demand that Kekkonen be re-elected.

In 1963 Tanner retired from Social Democratic leadership. Taking over as new party chairman came a mild-mannered moderate, a newspaper editor named Rafael Passio and a move to bring the party back from its political exile.

In this week's parliamentary elections, the Social Democrats emerged the big winners. As Socialists, the Social Democrats long since have abandoned Marx but in combination with the Agrarians they could bring

Post Office Ups Rates on Services

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and COD rates will become effective March 26, Pampa Postmaster Lynn Boyd said today.

The postmaster stated the cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The fee increases will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in fiscal year 1965.

Fees for money orders, registry and COD were last changed in 1961; insurance and certified mail in 1957.

Fee changes, announced in the Jan. 11 Federal Register and confirmed in the register on Feb. 25, are put into effect under the existing administrative authority of the Postmaster General, Boyd said.

The increases include:

Money Order Fees: Domestic and international money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance Fees: The minimum fee bracket will be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents. The revised insurance fees will be as follows: $0.01 - $15, 20 cents; $15.01 - $50, 30 cents; $50.01 - $100, 40 cents; $100.01 - $150, 50 cents, and $150.01 - $200, 60 cents.

Registry Fees: The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

C.O.D. Fees: The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail: The fee will be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents.

Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The fee increases will shift a substantial portion of the special service cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

North and South Dakota, divided into two states in 1887, were admitted to the Union on the same day in 1889.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST—United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arise, ye members of the American-Swine Breeders Association and other friends of the pig!

We must act at once to save the House interior subcommittee on National Parks and Recreation from its own folly.

Unless something is done here is a good chance the subcommittee will change the name of the proposed Pig War National Historical Park and call it the San Juan Island National Historical Park.

It seems that some of the subcommittee members are offended by the name in its present form. They feel that the alternate title would give the project more dignity.

I'm aware that congressmen are extraordinarily delicate and have a right to shield themselves from terms they consider inelegant, uncouth or unesthetic.

There are times, however, when they must put the public interest ahead of their own sensibilities.

The Pig War, which involved territorial conflict between the United States and Great Britain, was one of the most magnificent military engagements in all history.

It lasted 12 years, during which time only one shot was fired and the only casualty was a British pig. Now that, friends, is my kind of war.

The pig, a black boar with a fatal fondness for tuberculous vegetables, was done in on June 15, 1859, by one Lyman A. Cutler, an American farmer who found it rooting in his potato patch.

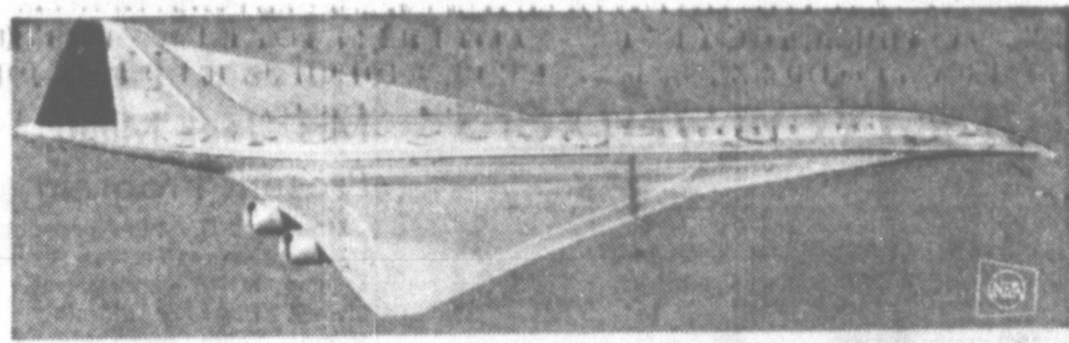

The incident brought to a head an Anglo-American dispute over who owned San Juan Island in Puget Sound. Both sides moved in troops, but neither opened fire. They just sort of glowered at each other for the next 12 years.

Then, through the good offices of Kaiser Wilhelm I of Germany, possession of the island was awarded by arbitration to the United States.

I submit that a war such as that is more than worthy to lend its name to a national park, however undignified it might appear to members of Congress.

The Pig War certainly sounds as glorious as the War of Jenkins' Ear, which the British fought with Spain a century earlier. And it was a great deal more civilized.

To name the park for San Juan Island would only confuse the tourists. They would undoubtedly get it confused with the hill that Teddy Roosevelt charged up during the Spanish-American War.

THE SHAPE TO COME—Here is the air transport of the future, according to the Lockheed-California Co. which has this proposed supersonic plane, the L-2000-7, on the drawing boards. Sheathed in titanium, it is designed to carry up to 226 passengers and cruise at 1,800 m.p.h. at altitudes of 60,000 to 70,000 feet.

Law Enforcement Group Asks Changes in New Criminal Code

AUSTIN (UPI)—A group representing law enforcement agencies throughout Texas today proposed several changes in the new code of criminal procedure to bring it in line with federal rules of evidence.

The Texas Law Enforcement Legislative Council said it will offer to the next session of the legislature specific changes dealing with confessions, serving of arrest warrants and arraignment of prisoners.

Lewis E. Berry of Austin, executive director of the council, said the changes will be sought "because the new code goes considerably further in several areas than the U.S. Supreme Court has ever gone."

The new code, which went into effect last Jan. 1, restricts law enforcement officers in the performance of their duties in several areas, Berry said.

Wholesaler Says Drug Spy In Firm

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A New England wholesaler charged today that major drug firms planted a spy in his office as part of a drive to destroy him because he cut their suggested prices.

Hymen I. Moore, president and treasurer of the H. L. Moore Drug Co., New Britain, Conn., said: "They are destroying my business.

"Some manufacturers and suppliers are out to get me. If it continues they will."

Moore said some companies which sold to him before "have cut me off because I don't abide by the so-called suggested prices."

In testimony before the Senate administrative practices subcommittee, Moore gave a long list of manufacturers and suppliers who refuse to supply him.

He did not name the company responsible for the alleged spying. But he did say that two firms—Smith, Kline & French and G.D. Searle—apparently knew exactly where he was getting his supplies.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK UPI Education Specialist

In classrooms at all grade levels from kindergarten through college current events as reported by newspapers, radio and television are used to supplement available curriculum materials. The many recent changes and discoveries in all fields must be brought into the classroom if learning is to be accurate and meaningful.

Students are constantly exposed to the exciting events of our times. The mass communication media are reaching more people through increasing coverage and efficiency. It would be unrealistic if teachers did not use current events in their programs.

Medical school students must be constantly exposed to the new medicines and diagnostic discoveries. Political changes are taking place all the time. Most textbooks on Africa were written before the existence of some of today's governments. Scientific discoveries are occurring so rapidly that it becomes essential to revise materials almost on a weekly basis.

Many textbooks become obsolete before they reach the classrooms. It would not be unreasonable to guess that the majority of history books in current use do not include the story of President Kennedy's assassination. Most schools do not find it reasonable or financially possible to replace books until they are at least three to five years old. Many books are used for longer periods. This is not a bad practice. It just means that recent events must be studied by other means.

There are many instructional materials designed to provide current information. Special weekly publications are printed specifically for elementary school students. These cover the events of the week which are of particular interest to children on various grade and reading levels. Teachers in elementary schools introduce the use of newspapers, magazines, television and radio. Students should become aware of the informational as well as the entertainment value of these media.

Good citizenship is one of the major aims of the schools. Individuals should develop an interest in the activities and problems facing society. They must be able to analyze the

Who says a '66 Ford rides quieter than Jean Bauchet's $12,000 Facel Vega?

Jean Bauchet!

"Such smoothness, such silence," says Jean Bauchet. "Your Ford is quieter, M'sieu."

Ford's quiet quality is the result of advanced engineering features like a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" road vibrations... the strongest body ever on a Ford. But the quiet ride is just one of many reasons why you're ahead in a Ford all the way.

Only Ford in its class offers a Stereo-Sonic Tape Player option that brings you over an hour of uninterrupted music of your choice, on each self-threading, snap-in tape cartridge. Magic Doorgate for wagons (standard equipment) that opens out like a door and down like a tailgate, depending on whether you are loading kids or cargo. Silent-Flo Ventilation (on 4-door hardtops) that brings in fresh air and gets rid of smoke and stale air with the windows closed. Even Ford's keys are special—they're double-edged so they fit in locks either side up. Visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive a '66 Ford. See how many ways Ford can put you ahead in '66.

Dear Abby... Handwriting On The Wall Spells 'Trouble'

DEAR ABBY: A co-worker has taken up the hobby of analyzing handwriting. I never believed in things like that, so when she asked me for a sample of my handwriting, I just laughed and said, "No thanks, skip me." Well, she got hold of my handwriting from an office memo and went ahead and analyzed it anyway. She told our co-workers that my handwriting revealed "criminal tendencies" and that I was "over-sexed." Abby, I have never been arrested in my life, not even for a traffic violation. And in my 30 years of marriage I have never been unfaithful. How does an innocent person defend himself against such insults.

VIRGIL: DEAR VIRGIL: Accusations of this kind are extremely damaging to one's reputation. Tell her there is a law against making such statements, and if she can't read a handwriting on the wall, she had better analyze that in a hurry and either provide proof for her statements or retract them.

DEAR ABBY: We live in an apartment and the walls are quite thin. The people next door have an 11-year-old son who takes piano lessons. Every time the kid doesn't do something right, his punishment is extra practice time on the piano. This kid has been doing an awful lot of extra time lately, and it's usually on Saturday and Sunday mornings when we would like to sleep. Should we say something to them about this disturbance?

Don't tell me to report it to the landlord. They own the building.

NO MUSIC LOVER: DEAR NO: If the practice session begins unreasonably early in the morning, tell them. It's their privilege to publish their son, but not their neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: The first 6 years of our marriage we had 5 children. My work was never done, and I felt tired and dragged out all the time. Just like a woman, I took it out on my husband. The poor guy used to sit in bars just to get away from my nagging and complaining.

Then I read a letter in your column that was almost identical to my own situation. You said, "Mothers of small children seem to forget that their husbands need love and attention, too. Quit feeling sorry for yourself and concentrate on your husband. No matter how many complaints you have, keep quiet, and find something to write. But it worked for me."

Well, I felt like killing him, so it was worth a try. At first it was a real effort, but it kept getting easier. Pretty soon he got sweeter to me, and it was easy to be nice to him. That was a year ago, and I am just getting around to thanking you for an answer to a letter I didn't write. But it worked for me.

Fun Togs Feature New Mixers

DELIGHTFULLY COMBINED — Solids, stripes and plaids are delightfully combined in this season's vacation togs. Bicolored shift (left) has low waistline and hi-rise neckline. The solid-toned bodice gives way to a diagonally striped slim skirt. Jamaican beach-stroller costume (right) pairs solid bayberry long-line shirt of cotton knit accented in white with gay plaid shorts. These are Russ designs.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Resort and vacation togs are brighter and fresher this year than ever before. And there's news in co-ordinates. You used to mix and match. Now you just mix.

If you like a pink top with pink shorts, go ahead and wear it. But you won't be as "in" as the gal who teams it with plaid, for example.

Bicolor, even tricolor casual shirts balance the solid ton of a swinging A-line skirt.

Stripes and bold plaids shift from slim pencil lines to diagonal wanderings and from color to color like a whirling spectrum.

There are low-slung shifts that melt into diagonal plaid skirts. Madras plaid bare-midriff tops with ruffled detailing offset tailored trumpetbell pants (a new modified sailor leg).

Shell tops, poor-boy shirts and truck-in knits are paired with trumpbells, stovepipes, low-riding gunslings and Jamaica-Jams, newest shorts fad—straight and cut off at the knee.

The colors will be a joy to mix. They're both hot and cool. You will find the deep lush tropical hues of Mo-bay blue, Jamaica berry, gold ingot, jungle jade and the cooling wash of paled neutrals such as wild rice, bone, beige, white, mint green and aqua.

Mix well and enjoy the results. It promises to be a bright, gay season.

Don't Sniff at Cold Woes

By AILEEN SNOODY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — The common cold is a nuisance few individuals escape. However, if sniffles and sneezes are rampant around the house right now, blame it on the Ides of March.

According to research by those with a vested interest in colds, the makers of cold remedies, March is the third largest period for this virus-triggered malady. Most colds happen in October and the second peak period is January and February.

But the lucky soul who feels he has escaped should knock on wood. Colds truly know no season, doctors on the staff of a pharmaceutical house (J. B. Roering and Co.) say, and the spring cold is an old wives' tale.

With 60 per cent of the population having colds two or three times a year, the cold is really nothing to sniff at any time.

A cold is just as big a headache to the boss as to the employee bedded for three days to a week. Industry suffers a loss of 150 million work days annually.

The cold has been called a $5 billion thief because of the total costs through absenteeism, medical bills and production losses.

Statistically, elementary school age children seem to have more colds than any other age group. Women, too, seem more prone to colds than men and it's probably the generosity of a school-age child that accounts for many female colds.

However, those 40 and over have special problems when they have a cold. Some suggestions on how to ease these come from Dr. Kenneth E. Hurley (in charge of research and development for Menley & James Laboratories).

Dr. Hurley points out that older persons suffer from unusual discomfort during a "cold" spell because of aging skin. "Since fever usually accompanies a cold," he says, "the skin becomes flushed and dry. It is aggravated by overheating in the home."

A mature person (there are 40 million members of the 45-65-year-old set) will be more comfortable when suffering a cold if the room temperature is kept comfortably low.

The older person with a cold can follow basic rules of treating a cold at home prescribed by a doctor. In addition, Dr. Hurley explains that "rest is probably one of the most misconstrued words in the English language."

He says, "Mature people should get a great deal of rest. This does not mean staying in bed all day for days during a cold. One should go to bed earlier at night, get up at a reasonable hour in the morning and perhaps take one or two brief naps during the day." The type and amount of rest needed by an older person with a cold should be determined by his personal doctor.

Dr. Hurley also sinks another old wives' tale about colds. "Sweating a cold," he says, "does little to cure a cold. It does give a psychological benefit of feeling one has done something for his cold." This advice puts an 18th century English remedy out to pasture. Cold sufferers then soaked their feet in a mush of heated bran and water.

"Psychologically," Dr. Hurley continues, "an older person may tend toward self-pity when ill." This moodiness and over-sensitivity of the mature adult with the common cold concerns the doctor. He urges the older person not to avoid social contacts or activity.

"A cold sufferer," he admits, "is not a welcome visitor, but this does not exclude visits on the telephone. Keep busy, write letters, read, watch TV."

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is for ladies of leisure. After a bath or shower it is very hard to powder one's back. Buy a 10 cent back scratcher and a large powder puff. Slit a small opening in the seam of the puff just big enough so that the fingers of the scratcher will slip inside the puff. Put a little bunch of artificial flowers or some sequins one side of the puff. This long-handled powder puff makes a nice gift. —GIRL FROM K. C. K.

GIRLS — I do not know why one has to be a lady of leisure to enjoy this handy little gadget. Some of us busy people would like it, too.

POLLY DEAR POLLY — I am a college student who has to help his mother maintain a home and I, too, think the column is the greatest. When painting windows use a little shaving foam with your razor blade to remove the paint from the panes. The foam picks up paint fragments so there is little mess. —JON

DEAR POLLY — When my children came along I began using my ironing caddy for a clothes rack as we were so short of closet space. I have found it better than a closet for small suits and dresses. Since I am still using the ironing caddy for our little girl's dresses I now use the children's swing stand (inside kind) as an ironing caddy. The dresses can be hung on the center bar and blouses and smaller things on the side bars. —MRS. F. B.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

It has been said if Webster were alive today he likely would define hot rodding as a manifestation of the originality inherent in most young Americans; an indication of the ever present desire to improvise and improve; the mirror of inventiveness and ingenuity possessed by so many Americans.

What all this is leading up to is the fact that Sunday the Amarillo drags open at the dragway in the big city on Washington St., seven miles south of Amarillo.

The strip will open at 6 a.m. Sunday with classification and time trials with all entries due to be in by 12 noon. At 2 p.m. sharp the match races and finals will get underway for prizes valued at $2,000. Some 400 entries are expected.

Connie Kalitta, Michigan state champion in AA fuel class will be pitted against the Texas state champion Bobby Langley and his 205 mph dragster, "The Scorpion."

Big 7, Little 7

Another feature race will pitting Eddie Hill of Wichita Falls against Bob Critz, Oklahoma champion from Tulsa. We can remember back in the "old days" the late 50's, when Pampa was well represented at most Panhandle race tracks and the city itself had races every Sunday.

Those were the days when Wesley Lewis had the Studebaker agency here and had two of the finest race cars to come out of the city, "Little 7," and "Big 7."

These two cars always finished one-two in almost every race they entered, big or little and were the scourge of the Panhandle.

Not being much of a car buff we looked over the brochure sent by Earnest Walker, president of Amarillo Dragway.

We found such terms as "Roger Caster driving 'Sump 'H Else' an all new car, a fuel injected Chevy II and Billy Parker's Ford Mustang, new lightweight and fuel injected with the warning to watch out for this one for Parker has been working on his car all winter in secret. We don't know what all this means but we'll be there to find out.

Royals Trip Boston In NBA Playoff Contest

BOSTON (UPI) — "Playoff time" in the National Basketball Association has for years meant the court king Boston Celtics were in their dressing room counting all their money. But times have changed in the NBA and the Celtics are counting bruises instead.

Boston was beaten, 107-103, by the upstart Cincinnati Royals Wednesday night in the home court opener of the NBA's preliminary Eastern Division playoffs. The teams meet again in Cincinnati Saturday night and return to Boston for the third game Sunday.

The Celtics had successfully avoided such preliminary competition for the past nine years by winning all the regular season marbles.

It was bad enough last week when Philadelphia tumbled the eight-time champions out of first place. It was worse when they were beaten by the Royals in the best-of-five playoff opener. But to have the Royals win by stressing Boston's pet defense was the foulest blow of all.

"They were rebounding and we were standing around watching," retiring Coach Red Auerbach said in a voice made hoarse by howling at the game officials. "We came out to play but they came out to win."

In the suddenly jubilant Cincinnati dressing room at Boston Garden, Royal Coach Jack McMahon recovered quickly from the shock of a one-game advantage to announce: "We played a much tougher defense against them than we did all season."

The Royals romped to an 11-point lead in the first 11 minutes, nursed seven of it through the quarter and were on top by five, 53-48, at the half. The Celtics closed to one in patented fourth quarter fashion but not even the sudden fourth quarter scoring heroics of Bill Russell could stave off the Royals.

Loan to Braves Termed Substandard by Examiner

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Drastic revenue drops with little prospect of improvement caused a federal bank examiner to classify a $3 million loan the Braves took in 1962 as "substandard," it was testified Wednesday.

Joseph Finnegan, Appleton, Wis., said he had examined the loan on June 1, 1964 and reported to his superiors in the Treasury Department that it had "more than the normal risk."

Finnegan was called by baseball attorneys fighting Wisconsin's antitrust suit. The suit charges baseball with unlawfully using its monopoly powers by transferring the Braves to Atlanta without providing Milwaukee with another team.

The defense is attempting to show the Braves decided to move because they could no longer make money in Milwaukee. Most of the testimony Wednesday was taken by deposition of Braves President John McHale and Braves Board Chairman William C. Bartholomay in Atlanta and dealt with the financial problems of the club.

McHale, in his deposition, said he turned down the biggest deal in baseball history because he promised Atlanta such stars as Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews.

DUST BAWL — St. Louis catcher Tim McCarver dives (top) to tag out Ron Hunt of the Mets. But Hunt's dust-raising head-first slide into the plate beat the tag and the umpire bawls out his decision for all to hear.

Brock to Think Small

By United Press International
Lou Brock thinks small—he's been told to.

The old St. Louis Gashouse Gang philosophy of the early 1930s has been brought back in style this season by manager Red Schoendienst. The 1964 world championship power of St. Louis has been turned off—speed and youth will characterize the 1966 Cardinals.

The "think small for big results" attitude has been prompted by the erection of a spacious new park in St. Louis. The hit and run, bunt, steal and one-base hit are more suited for the stadium than the home run.

"We are building on youth and speed because speed is more important in our park than power," said Schoendienst, who hopes to move into the stadium at mid-season. His hopes for moving up from a 1965 seventh place finish, however, are more immediate.

Paragon Of Hustlers
Brock, who has the resources to thrive under this system represents what Schoendienst has been trying to get across to his young players. A 5-11, 170-pounder who stretches singles into doubles, Brock set a St. Louis record last season by swiping 63 bases.

Brock put on a show for the rookies Wednesday and impressed the Los Angeles Dodgers even more. The 26-year-old right fielder led an 11-hit St. Louis attack with two singles, a double, three runs scored and a pair of stolen bases as the Cardinals whipped the Dodgers 6-1.

The American League champion Minnesota Twins exhibited mid-season power by nipping Philadelphia 5-4 on a ninth-inning round-tripper by rookie shortstop Rick Renick and a third-inning, three-run homer by Harmon Killebrew.

Another rookie, center fielder Mickey Stanley, boosted his stock by rapping out two hits, stealing two bases and scoring a pair of runs as Detroit edged Atlanta 3-2.

Tribe Nips Giants

Behind 1-0 with two out in the ninth inning, the Cleveland Indians rallied to defeat San Francisco 2-1, while the surprising Kansas City Athletics pounded out four home runs to defeat Baltimore after the Orioles had erased an 8-2 deficit and tied the score 9-9. Bill Bryan, Dick Green, Ken Surez and Ed Charles homered for the A's, who won the game with a pair of unearned runs in the ninth.

The New York Yankees unleashed a home run barrage to beat Boston 8-6 and hand the Red Sox, while seven homers accounted for 18 of the 20 runs scored as Houston outplayed Washington 13-7.

The New York Mets find themselves unaccustomed to first place as they lead the National League with a 9-3 state, including a 7-6 victory Wednesday over Pittsburgh on Jim Hickman's two-run single in the ninth.

The Chicago Cubs snapped California's five-game winning streak with a 4-3 triumph over the Angels.

Clay Regains Self Confidence

TORONTO (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, who has suddenly regained his self-confidence, works out at the Toronto Athletic Club today, while challenger George Chuvalo takes the day off.

Since his arrival here last Friday, Clay has been exhibiting astonishing humility. But on Wednesday, perhaps suffering from an attack of spring fever, Clay announced he was going to attempt to knock out Chuvalo March 29.

Bold words from a man who just a day earlier had insisted he would be content with a 15-round decision and remember, Chuvalo has never even been knocked down.

"Now I didn't say I would knock Chuvalo out," Clay added. "I said I would try to knock him out."

Chuvalo boxed for just three rounds Wednesday in the most abbreviated session of his short training period.

"We have been forcing the training because of the time, but we don't want to leave it all in the gym," said Chuvalo's cigar-smoking manager, Irv Ungerman.

Meanwhile, Main Bout Inc., the closed-circuit television promoters, are also gaining confidence.

Alston Looking for 25 Players to Help Dodgers

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — will be stronger this season because I'll have 25 players I can call on instead of only 21."

Of course, Alston won't even discuss the possibility of pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale not being among those 25. He knows that without them the Dodgers have two chances—little and none.

Koufax and Drysdale are holding out for three-year contracts calling for $500,000 each. Alston isn't about to get involved in their dispute with General Manager Buzzie Bavasi but is going along on the hope "they will both be ready by opening day."

"I know we are going to be an improved club," Alston said. "The only trouble is that the other contenders are going to be improved, too."

Like everyone else, he names the Reds, Giants, Braves, Phillies and Pirates as the contenders along with the Dodgers.

"The Reds lost hitting but they sure as hell picked up some good pitching," Alston said in discussing Cincinnati. I look at the Reds this way: they scored 183 runs more than we did last season. With Frank Robinson gone they will score less, but they still figure to score at least 100 more runs than we will.

and Turcotte each had two runs batted in. Davis gave up singles to Ward, Tate and Kingcannon. Kingcannon was the losing pitcher going the distance and walking two while striking out five. Nine of the 10 runs he gave up were earned. The Shockers were guilty of but one error while Samnorwood committed four.

Leo Will Bring Style to Cubs

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs will run, bunt and use the hit-and-run play more often in 1966, and they'll get their share of home runs, too, but not even the change in style of play and the presence of Leo Durocher will get them out of the National League's second division.

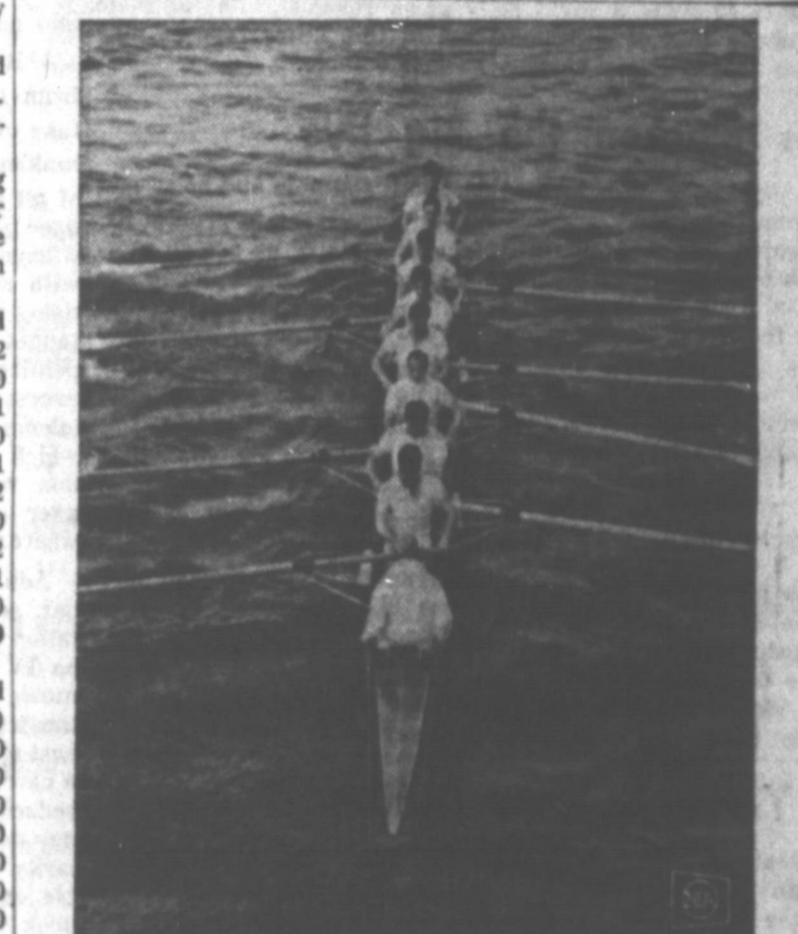

You have to have the horses to win in the evenly-balanced N.L. and Leo simply doesn't have them with the Cubs. He won pennants in the 1940s and 1950s with the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants and his return as skipper of the Cubs after an 11-year absence automatically figures to make Chicago a more interesting team to watch.

In Ernie Banks, Ron Santo

and Billy Williams the Cubs have three standout players. From there the quality drops quite a few notches and that is where Durocher's genius as a manager will be tested to its fullest.

Williams was the start of the team in 1965 when he hit 34 homers and drove in 106 runs. Third baseman Santo wasn't too far behind with 33 homers and 101 RBIs, while Banks, now 35, had 26 homers and 105 runs driven in.

Glenn Beckert, a .239 hitter in 1965, once again will open at second base. He's only a second year man and figures to improve as does shortstop Don Kessinger, who batted .201 in his rookie season last year.
