SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson says "we are on the way" to winning the war in Viet Nam.

The President's cautiously optimistic views on Viet Nam highlighted a televised news conference Tuesday on the lawn of his ranch home.

"If we could only solve the problem in Viet Nam, and we think we are on the way to doing that, we could have a world that is rather peaceful and generally prosperous," Johnson told reporters.

Johnson planned to discuss the progress of the war and the administration belief that munitions production can be cut back this fall in a conference this afternoon with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. The defense secretary was stopping overnight at the Johnson City ranch en route to a Hawaii conference with Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific.

Supporting the appraisal that "we are on the way," Johnson said Tuesday.

In the stepped-up air strikes on North Viet Nam, U.S. planes have hit about 86 per cent of the known petroleum storage capacity and destroyed 57 per cent of it. He did not say whether this would reduce the rate of enemy infiltration from the North.

Diplomatic reports indicate that the opposing forces "no longer really expect a military victory in South Viet Nam." He did not reveal the source of such reports.

He felt he had solid public support in this country for the raids on Haiphong and Hanoi oil depots, saying he had been informed that "national polls" showed 85 per cent of the American people approving.

"I think we did the right thing at the right time," Johnson said. "I hope we can continue to be as successful in the days ahead... as we were in this particular exercise."

Clark M. Clifford, chairman of the Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, arrived at the ranch late Tuesday afternoon and spent the night conferring with the President on top-secret developments in the intelligence field.

Pampa Water Use Maintains Level

Hot weather of the last few days has had little or no effect on water consumption in Pampa.

Although the mercury has climbed to around the 100-degree mark for three days in a row, Pampans have used only between five and six million gallons of water a day. This is only slightly above summertime average.

Peak consumption in other hot days has had little or no effect on water consumption in Pampa.

After several days with no showers in prospect, widely scattered late afternoon and nighttime thunderstorms are forecast through Thursday, but with hot weather still expected.

High is expected to reach the upper 90's, with a low near 70. Probability of showers is 30 per cent tonight and 20 per cent tomorrow. Westerly winds of 15 to 25 miles an hour are forecast, but shifting and stronger near thunderstorms. Outlook for Friday calls for little change.

Yesterday's high was 99; with a low this morning of 72. The weather bureau recorded 0.3 inch of precipitation for Pampa.

Showers occurred in other parts of the nation as violent storms accompanied by hail, strong winds and at least two dozen tornadoes battered five midwestern states Tuesday and left thousands of persons without power.

Sukarno Asks For Elections

JAKARTA (UPI) — President Sukarno appeared before the Indonesian congress today and reluctantly accepted its decision stripping him of dictatorial powers but challenged them to let the people pass judgment on the actions.

Sukarno appeared before the closing session of the Provisional Peoples Consultative Congress (MPRS) and complained that he was not officially informed of its decisions Tuesday to strip him of his title.

U.S. Bombers Scorch Commies

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. jets pounded North-Viet Nam with the greatest number of bombing raids of the war and Communist gunners fought back with a record one-day total of 25 to 28 anti-aircraft missiles but failed to down a plane, U.S. officials disclosed today.

Using new maneuvers specifically developed to evade the Soviet-built surface-to-air (SAM) missiles, Air Force and Navy pilots successfully defied the most determined air defense of the war in 106 raids Tuesday.

"We've found a way to nullify the SAM system," an Air Force spokesman said in announcing that all aircraft had returned safely.

"It is a secret but it is a combination of technique, tactics and electronics," the spokesman said.

Zigzagging through the missile fusilade, pilots cut the main railroad line bringing supplies from Communist China and struck heavy blows into North Viet Nam's industrial heartland against supply depots and oil dumps. They also destroyed four of the missile sites.

The spokesman called Tuesday's raids a "dramatic demonstration" that the new system against missiles was working.

"The Communists in Viet Nam have fired upwards of 300 SAMs and their score is only 12 to 14 (U.S. planes downed). It is the old story of the fact that an aggressive offensive can always beat a defense.

"This way of ours to beat the SAM is one of the significant breakthroughs of the war."

The spokesman said Tuesday's 106 Air Force and Navy missions — a mission is a flight by one or more planes — surpassed the one-day total of strikes previously launched at the Communist nation.

The previous record, he said, was 91 missions flown the day before, the Fourth of July.

The heaviest single attack came at 3:30 p.m. against a flight of F4Cs 70 miles northwest of Hanoi. The Communists launched 10 SAMs but the pilots evaded them and left to continue their mission of watching for enemy fighter planes.

A flight of F105s, on a reconnaissance mission 75 miles northwest of Hanoi, later sighted five SAMs headed toward them, but they detonated harmlessly at ranges of 700 to 6,000 feet from the fast-moving planes.

Capt. Frank D. Moruzzi, 30, of Agawam, Mass., who spotted 8 to 10 of the "flying telephone poles" said, "It looked as if all the SAMs in North Viet Nam were concentrated along the Red River Valley," where most of the raiders hit.

The valley running 50 to 115 miles northwest of Hanoi is called "SAM Alley" because of its heavy concentration of missiles.

"Every time we came out of the valley they would fire at us," said F4C Phantom pilot Lt. David E. Tukey, 25, of Belgrade, Maine.

The Air Force raiders hit two oil depots only 28 and 33 miles north of the North Vietnamese capital and flew through a hail of missiles and conventional anti-aircraft fire to cut the Red River Valley railroad line in at least two places.

Capt. Merrill R. Lewis Jr., 33, of Garden Grove, Calif., leader of an F105 Thunderchief flight, hit the line twice himself.

"The flak and missiles throughout the target area were heavy and accurate — but not accurate enough," Lewis said.

Company Calls Back 175,000 New Defective Volks

ENGLEWOOD CLIFFS, N.J. (UPI) — About 175,000 Volkswagen sedans and Karmann Ghias have been called back by the manufacturer for repair of defective front axle assemblies.

A spokesman for Volkswagen of America, Inc., said today that owners through the country of 1965 models manufactured between Aug. 1, 1965, and mid-January, 1966 have been notified that local dealers will replace defective ball joints on front axles at company expense.

The spokesman said it has been discovered that moisture in many cases penetrated the permanently lubricated ball joints causing "corrosion and deterioration." The water seeped through because "sealing rings which hold protective rubber boots over the joints in some cases lost their elasticity."

Under the current recall program, joints showing unusual wear are being replaced. All joints are being lubricated and improved sealing rings are being installed, he said. There are four ball joints on each axle.

The spokesman for the largest foreign car importers in the country said that he knew of no cases where the defects had caused any accidents.

Youngster Only Bruised After Fall from Car

HAMMOND, Ind. (UPI) — A 4-year-old boy early today fell from a car traveling 55 miles per hour on the Calumet Expressway and suffered only bruises.

His mother had put the boy, James Azbill of Gary, in the back of the family station wagon when she went to pick up his father at work in Hammond. The boy was asleep. When the parents arrived home they discovered the boy was missing.

Meanwhile, three men, also returning home from work in Hammond, saw a large truck on the expressway swerve to avoid hitting the boy who was crawling across the pavement.

They took the child to a gas station and phoned police.

A spokesman at St. Margaret's Hospital in Hammond said the boy was in good condition.

US Believes Reds Feel They Cannot Gain Viet Victory

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George W. Ball, the acting secretary of state, said today the United States "during the past few days has gained a very clear impression" of a conclusion by North Vietnamese leaders that they cannot gain a military victory in the South.

At the same time, Ball told a news conference, "We see no evidence" that Communist China is likely to intervene directly to assist the hard-pressed Hanoi regime.

Undersecretary Ball, running the State Department while Secretary of State Dean Rusk is on an Asian tour, said that he did not want to "create an overly-optimistic picture." But he said the North Vietnamese are showing increasing signs of weariness.

And he said information has been coming from nations with contacts in Hanoi, "particularly during the last few days," which indicates Hanoi "at long last has come to the conclusion that it is not going to have a military success."

Ball expanded in some detail on a brief declaration Tuesday by President Johnson that diplomatic reports indicated the Communists have concluded they can't win.

Ball said there were a number of elements which undoubtedly drove Hanoi to its conclusion it cannot win on the battlefield.

He emphasized, however, that one of the elements which undoubtedly was delaying a Communist decision to seek peace negotiations was Hanoi's inability to understand that extremely free speech and dissent in the United States did not mean Americans would fail to support U.S. military operations.

Omaha Quiet After 3 Days of Violence

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison early today toured a strife-torn Negro section of Omaha's North Side, quiet after three nights of violence.

Morrison, who interrupted his attendance at the National Governors Conference to return here, said he was reassured by what he saw in a half-hour visit accompanied by National Guardsmen in jeeps and a troop carrier.

The grim-faced governor planned a meeting with Negro leaders and then hoped to fly back to the governors meeting in Los Angeles.

Police reported no incidents through the night and said a heavy snow Tuesday and cooler temperatures helped ease the crisis. No crowds gathered and police said no arrests were made.

National Guardsmen remained on duty at a nearby army base except for the group which accompanied Morrison stayed in their quarters.

Morrison denied there were racial overtones to the violence which first broke out during the holiday weekend.

"This sort of thing could happen in a Methodist Sunday school or anyplace," the governor said after his half-hour tour.

National Guard helicopters roamed the dark skies above the neighborhood Tuesday night and today while city policemen patrolled the streets. There were no reported incidents.

One guard helicopter, however, crashed after taking off from West Omaha shortly after midnight. The two-man crew was not injured.

The scene of the disorders was a residential neighborhood with tree-shaded streets and single-family, well-kept homes. The neighborhood, predominantly Negro, is located on the north side of Omaha, the nation's largest meat-packing center.

More than 100 persons, most of them young Negroes, were arrested during the disorders, which began Saturday night and included fighting, looting and bottle-throwing at police.

March Underway To Protest Wages

LA JOYA, Tex. (UPI) — A total of 102 men, women and children set out today on the third leg of a 61-mile, five-day march which they hope will dramatize the demands of a farm workers' union for a $1.25 minimum hourly wage.

There were about 30 more marchers than Tuesday. Among them was Nasario Levino, 72, of Rio Grande City. Levino, a retired farmer, said he was marching because he wanted to see the younger generation be able "to live decently."

The march, set as their stopping point today the town of Mission, about 12 miles from La Joya. They marched from Sullivan City to La Joya, eight miles, Tuesday. They marched 16 miles on Monday, their first day on the road, starting at Rio Grande City.

Catholic Bishop Humberto Sousa Meueiros will say mass at San Juan Friday afternoon for the marchers. They will end the march at San Juan.

A 36-year-old Church of Christ minister vowed to keep on marching despite measures against him by leaders of a church in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

'Black Power' Concept Irks NAACP Head

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said Tuesday night the "black power" movement among Negroes is clearly "anti-white. It is a reverse Mississippi, a reverse Hitler, a reverse Ku Klux Klan."

Wilkins' sharp denunciation of the concept, officially embraced by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) on Monday was made only a short while after a white man briefly interrupted the NAACP assembly by leaping to the stage and shouting insults to the crowd of about 2,000 persons.

The tall, husky man with close-cropped blond hair indicated he was a member of the American Nazi party. He jumped on the stage, shouting invectives about Negroes, Jews and Communists. Bishop Stephen Gill Spottswood of the African Methodist Episcopal Church was speaking at the time.

"The NAACP is led by Communists," the man shouted. He was pushed off stage by a half-dozen Negroes, who punched him on the head and back as they ejected him through a side door. As he ran toward a waiting car, the man shouted: "Lincoln Rockwell for president." Rockwell is president of the American Nazi Party.

Former Senator Near Death From Malignant Tumor

BERRYVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Former U.S. Sen. Harry P. Byrd Sr., 79, suffering from a malignant brain tumor, has sunk into a deep coma and there is no hope of recovery, his family reported today.

Byrd, a power in Virginia politics for 50 years, resigned his seat in the Senate last November because of failing health. His family disclosed only Tuesday that his condition was undergoing "steady deterioration" and that he was partly paralyzed.

No Weapons, Not Even for Snakes U.S. to Use Saturn Rocket as Launcher

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) — Della Gerbracht, 70, a mining claim developer, was sentenced to five years probation Thursday for shooting a man she believed was "repossessing" her property — but the judge made one condition.

"He asked her to promise not to own, possess or carry any type of firearms during the probation period. The woman replied, 'not even for rattlesnakes?' The judge just shook his head."

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The success of a now-lifeless Saturn rocket hulk whirling around the world today has reinforced U.S. plans to use the upper stage as a double-duty launcher for Apollo earth orbital and lunar shots.

The 200,000-pound thrust hydrogen-fueled vehicle passed a five-hour series of orbital tests Tuesday that proved it can keep its hydrogen fuel stable in orbit and ready to feed its engine for a restart to fire spaceships toward the moon.

The important engineering success marked a significant advance in orbital rocketry, kept the nation's Apollo manned lunar landing program on schedule and strengthened U.S. plans to orbit Apollo astronauts as early as November.

The rocket already serves as the second stage on the Saturn 1-earth orbital boosters and is designed to be the third stage on the giant Saturn 5 moon rockets. The first Saturn 5 launch is set for early next year.

The test achieved its goal: To prove that the upper stage is able to keep its high energy liquid hydrogen fuel tamed in the weightlessness of space, something that has been a major problem in the past.

Dodd's Attempt to Break Romance Triggered Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's belated attempt to break up a pair of office romances apparently ignited the powder train of events that plunged him into a Senate investigation.

The charges of misconduct which brought on the Senate Ethics Committee's inquiry were leveled by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. But they were essentially the work of four young people in love.

It was they, all former employees, who removed from the Connecticut senator's files about 4,000 documents, some of which Pearson and Anderson used in accusing Dodd of acting as an errand boy for a foreign agent and of diverting to his own pocket money intended for use in his reelection campaign.

Linked in the intra-office intrigue are James P. Boyd, a 37-year-old divorced father of four and one time top aide to Dodd, and Mrs. Marjorie Carpenter, 28, a petite blonde divorcee who once worked as a Dodd secretary; and Michael O'Hare, 30, the senator's former office manager, and shapely redhead Terry Golden, 25, another former secretary.

Whispers of office romance were abroad on Capitol Hill even before the ethics committee opened its sensational public hearings last month, and later testimony seemed to confirm them.

Mrs. Carpenter, who told the committee she was divorced in 1963, was asked by Dodd's attorney, "you had a social relationship with Mr. Boyd since 1963, have you not?"

"Yes, sir," she replied.

"And he is important to you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you and Mr. Boyd planning to marry?" the attorney asked. But before Mrs. Carpenter could answer, committee Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., interjected that it was "a rather personal question," and the matter was dropped.

At another point, while being cross-examined about the romance (See DODD, Page 3)

US Navy Jets Slam Red Torpedo Boats

SAIGON (UPI) - Two U.S. Navy jets attacked North Vietnamese torpedo boats in the Tonkin Gulf today and one jet was downed.

A Navy spokesman said the encounter took place in international waters before dawn today about 31 miles east-southeast of the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong.

Two A1 Skyhawks from the carrier Constellation were scrambled after patrol boats spotted two wakes in the water. The planes dropped a flare, received fire from the Communist ships and moved to the attack.

Officials said the Skyhawks fired their rockets and one plunged into the sea. Its pilot was rescued about five hours later by helicopter.

There was no immediate word whether the Communist boats were damaged. In the same waters last Friday, a dozen Navy jets intercepted and sank three North Vietnamese torpedo boats as they moved to attack U.S. 7th Fleet ships operating in the area.

Both torpedo boat incidents occurred after U.S. warplanes bombed key oil dumps on the outskirts of Hanoi and Haiphong, formerly a sanctuary from air attacks.

American warplanes kept up the pounding Monday, flying 91 missions against the Communist nation and hitting an underground petroleum dump 19 miles southeast of Haiphong.

In 1953, the tide of the Civil War turned at Gettysburg as Union forces crushed the charge of Confederate Gen. George Pickett.

In 1846 Commodore J. D. Sloat of the Navy proclaimed the annexation of California by the United States.

LBJ Now Optimistic About Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Johnson administration is sounding a cautious note of optimism about the progress of the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam.

The President and his military and civilian advisers are giving the impression that the war against the Viet Cong guerrillas and their Communist allies from North Viet Nam has taken a definite turn for the better.

U.S. military leaders have begun to say that the United States is winning the war, although they carefully refrain from making any timetable predictions.

The Chief Executive pointed the way Tuesday during an eight-hour news conference at his White House. He declined to assess the military progress.

Soon after, Dodd fired Mrs. Carpenter. He also dismissed Boyd, but later changed his mind and kept him on the payroll until May, 1965. "I was upset about the meeting between Mrs. Boyd and Judge Blumenfeld and I was hoping that it would be straightened out," Dodd said.

A month after Boyd's departure, he and Mrs. Carpenter managed to obtain a key and entered Dodd's office and began removing documents, taking them to her apartment to be copied.

Later, Boyd turned the copies over to Pearson and Anderson. By the fall of 1965 O'Hare and Miss Golden were also in on it. The series of columns that led to the investigation began early in 1966.

In 1953, the tide of the Civil War turned at Gettysburg as Union forces crushed the charge of Confederate Gen. George Pickett.

In 1846 Commodore J. D. Sloat of the Navy proclaimed the annexation of California by the United States.

He said when he read the decisions this morning "my heart went boom. I felt as if I was standing on burning embers."

Sukarno said he would accept the congress' decisions. But he said he wished general elections could be held right away to test the will of the people.

However, the new military regime was unlikely to agree to early elections since Sukarno still is held in high regard as the hero of the revolution against the former Dutch rulers.

Shortly after the congress adjourned, until next year, chairman Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution told a news conference:

A short time later, strongman Lt. Gen. Subarto said in a nationwide broadcast that the purpose of the MPRS had been fulfilled by success "in the battle against corruption and plundering."

Peters Is Named Cabot Executive

Lyle C. Peters, former vice president and worldwide coordinator of new business developments for Continental Oil Co., New York, has been elected an executive vice president and a director of Cabot Corp., Boston, Mass., manufacturer of carbon black and other chemicals. Announcement of the Cabot board's election of a second executive vice president and new director was made in Boston today by the corporation's president, Louis W. Cabot.

Peters served with Continental Oil Co. successively as financial vice president and treasurer (1955-60); vice president of coordination and supply (1959-60); transportation and supply (1961-65); and group vice president, 1965.

A graduate of Yale University and Phillips Academy, Andover, Peters is a member of the University of Chicago Business School Council and is treasurer and trustee of the Foundation for Economic Education, Irvington, N.Y. He is a past president of the Child Guidance Center, Houston; and former board member of the Houston branch of the Federal Reserve Bank. He was a founder and is a past president of the Houston Society of Financial Analysts.

Survey Indicates Most Governors Support Bombing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A survey of state governors indicated today that an overwhelming majority support President Johnson's decision for a step-up in bombing of North Viet Nam.
 With two of the governors absent and others not yet on the scene of the National Governors' Conference, the indicated margin approached eight to one.
 Public statements by some of the governors and a UPI poll of others showed 23 supported the decision to bomb oil depots in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas with only three dissenting or noncommittal. The 23 included 17 Democrats and six Republicans.

After Monday's preliminary sessions, the opening business sessions of the annual meeting were scheduled today. Viet Nam was not on the formal agenda but was sure to figure in the discussions. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey addresses the conference Wednesday as a stand-in for President Johnson.
 Democratic governors were expected to discuss the Viet Nam issue at a caucus this morning. The Republican governors association discussed it late Monday night without reaching agreement on how they would deal with any Viet Nam resolution which may come before the conference.

Bell, Oilers Meet for First Place Thursday

Two teams will have off nights Thursday in the Pampa Softball Association but the big game on the card will pit Bell Pontiac (4-0) against Mobile Oilers 3-1 in a 7:30 p.m. game at Lions Club Park.

Miami and Walsh Insurance will have the night off for the first time this season.

In the late game at Pampa the Pampa Jets and Mayfair will tangle.

Thursday's schedule has Mayfair and Mobile playing at 7:30 p.m. at Lions Club Park and Walsh Insurance and Bell playing the late game. The Jets will journey to Miami for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Tuesday night Walsh Insurance downed Miami and broke the Merchants two game winning streak, 12-5.

Chis Welsh, who sponsors a Pampa team took the loss, his second in four starts and yielded just six hits.

Delbert Daniels won his third game in four starts yielding seven hits.

Walsh was the leading hitter for the losers collecting two singles in three at bats. Roy Don Stephens and Gib Winton paced the winners with two hits each.

Mobile Oilers ran their record to 3-1 with a 2-0 victory over Cock O' Walk. The Oilers and Walsh Ins. are tied for second and the Oilers will have a chance Thursday to gain a tie for first when they tangle with Bell.

Chance Back in Form

By United Press International
Dean Chance, a devotee of horror movies, is ready to change into Mr. Hyde again after the All-Star break.

Chance has grown impatient with his kindly Dr. Jekyll role, which he has played so convincingly from April to the middle of July for the past three seasons. His transformation changes him from a pitching pushover to the terror of the American League.

Junior circuit batters first noticed the transformation in the California pitching ace in 1964, when Chance won the Cy Young Award. Only 5-5 on July 6, Chance collected 15 more victories after the All-Star break.

When Chance won 15 games last season, nine of them were recorded during the second half of the campaign. Only 7-9 this year, Chance is predicting at least 10 more triumphs after the break.

"I'm sure I'll wind up with 17 or 18 wins," Chance said after posting No. 7 Tuesday night by beating the Detroit Tigers 4-3. "It's a shame I didn't win more earlier."

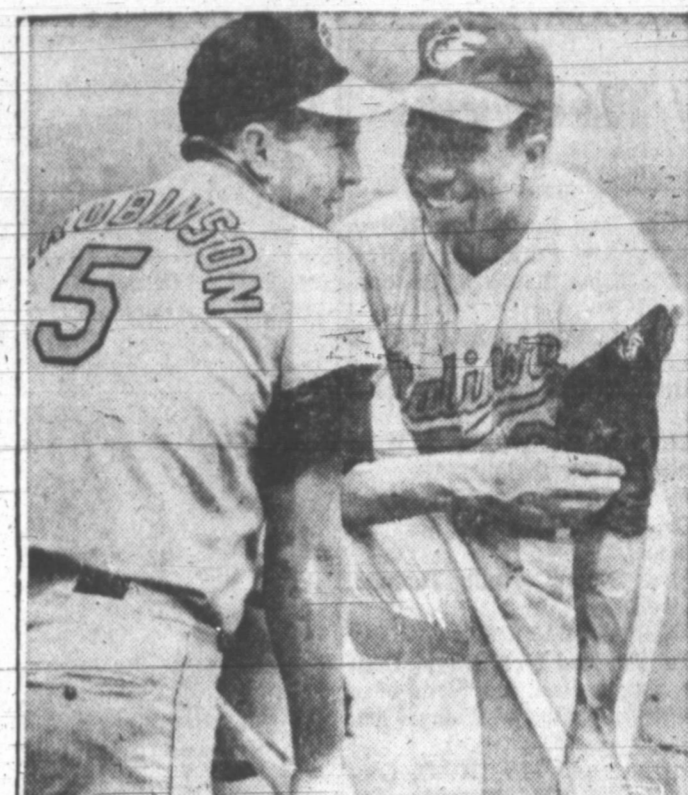

Complains of Headache
Chance, outdueling All-Star pitcher Denny McLain 12-4, hurled one-hit ball through four innings during which he complained of a bad headache, caused by his "sinus or a horror movie I watched this afternoon."

As soon as the headache got better, Chance's hurling got worse. He gave up four hits, including a seventh-inning two-run homer by Jim Northrup, and was lifted in the eighth after walking Dick McAuliffe.

Elsewhere in the circuit, Minnesota shaded Cleveland 4-3, Boston clipped New York 7-1 and the Washington - Chicago game was called by rain.

Chance found batting support Tuesday in what first looked like a stroke of bad luck. Norm Siebern, California's No. 1 first

Athletes Gather In Lubbock for All Sports Day

Athletes from across the State of Texas will gather in Lubbock Thursday through Saturday for the 1966 Lubbock Jaycee sports spectacular.

The sports affair will include competition in golf, tennis, track and field.

Winners in the Pampa Jaycee golf, track and tennis tournaments held the past two months will participate in the spectacular.

The Lubbock Jaycee Chapter is preparing clinics for the boys who are entered in the state tourney. One of the highlights of the clinic sessions will be the track discussions headed by Oliver Jackson, former track and field coach of Abilene Christian College.

Jackson's record at the Abilene College are phenomenal where his individuals and relay teams broke or tied 15 world records, seventeen American records and 15 NCAA records. Among his better known athletes are Olympians Bobby Morrow and Earl Young and star sprinter Bill Woodhouse.

NICKLAUS THE FAVORITE

Sanders Comes in With 71

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (UPI)—Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., the first American player to tee off in the British Open, matched par with a 71 over the rugged Muirfield Course in the first round today.

The 32-year-old Sanders, the fourth leading money winner on the U.S. tour last year and winner of the Bob Hope Desert Classic earlier this season, went out in 36 and came home in 35.

Weather conditions were generally satisfactory with a light breeze blowing over the 6,887-yard course. The skies were overcast and there was a possibility of rain in late evening.

Big Jack Nicklaus, who at 26 has conquered virtually every challenge in professional golf, set out to capture the one elusive plum in his short but stunning career — the British Open.

Nicklaus was again the favorite as a field of 130 of the world's best golfers teed off on demanding Muirfield course, which stretches 6,887 yards with a par 71.

Arnold Palmer, eager to show that his game has not fallen apart despite his big blow-up in the U.S. Open was the second choice. Others in the field included Tony Lema, Doug Sanders, Phil Rodgers, Julius Boros, PGA champion Dave Marr, Gary Player and defending champion, Peter Thomson of Australia.

The big prize here is prestige. First place is worth only $4,804. Palmer has won the British Open twice, but he has never played on Muirfield. Nicklaus, who failed to win in four previous tries, has been here for two weeks practicing. Palmer arrived Saturday.

Nicklaus was one of the few starters who found Muirfield a welcome course. Burly Jack did not think the fairways were too narrow or the rough too tough as expressed by many other golfers.

"This layout is about the closest British course to those we have in the States," Nicklaus said.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nothing hurts more than an All-Star snub.

Bell players kid about it and like to make you believe they would rather have the three days off, anyway, than take part in the All-Star game but that's not always the truth.

One pitcher who didn't make it this year admits he's disappointed. He's Stu Miller of the Baltimore Orioles and around the American League, they'll tell you he's the best relief pitcher in the circuit if not in all baseball.

Miller's credentials are impressive. He has a 6-1 record, 11 saves and a 1.45 earned run average. He also has been

Pitchers Named For All-Star

BOSTON (UPI)—Eight pitchers, five of whom are All-Star game rookies, were named today by American League Manager Sam Mele to his mound staff for the annual All-Star game against the National League at St. Louis next Tuesday.

The eight-man staff, composed equally of right handers and southpaws, was headed by ranking American League winner Denny McLain of Detroit and included Cleveland's Sam McDowell and Gary Bell, Jim Kaat of Minnesota, Mel Stottlemyre of New York, Pete Richard of Washington, Steve Barber of Baltimore and Jim Hunter of Kansas City. Announcement of All-Star Manager Mele's pitching selections was made by the office of American League President Joe Cronin.

"Sudden Sam" McDowell, currently 6-2, Richard, 8-8 with the ninth place Senators, and Stottlemyre, who has a 7-9 record through the first half of this season, are repeaters from last year's American League All-Star squad. McDowell was charged with his league's fourth loss in the last five All-Star games while working in relief and Richard pitched two innings of scoreless relief a year ago but Stottlemyre did not appear in the game.

Just two others among the eight ranking American League pitchers have won previous reelection to the All-Star squad. Bell pitched a total of three innings and had a 6.00 earned run average in the two 1960 games while Kaat was named to the squad in 1962 though he did not see action.

In picking two members of the Indian staff and one each from the front-running Orioles, Tigers, Yankees, Senators, Athletics and his own Twins, Mele choose a staff that ranges in age from Hunter's 20 years to the veteran Bell's 29 but which averages under 25 years to make it one of the youngest the American League had employed in recent seasons.

McLain, with a 12-3 record, is the league's top winner while Barber's 9-2 midway record, in addition to being the best start in his seven-season major league career, is the top percentage pace on Mele's staff.

Bell currently is 8-4 while rookie Hunter is 8-6 and Kaat 10-6.

Elmer Valo was a pinch hitter in 81 games while playing for the New York Yankees and Washington Senators in 1960.

unscored upon in 25 of his 30 appearances this season.

As a National League, Miller was picked to the All-Star team in 1961. They played two games that year and Miller distinguished himself in both. He was credited with the victory in the first one and struck out the side in the last inning of the second one to preserve a tie for the Nationals.

In four seasons with Baltimore, Miller never has been named to the American All-Stars although there was nothing wrong with his performances.

Last year at the All-Star break, for example, he had a 6-3 record, 12 saves and a 1.44 earned run average. Good as it was, that showing didn't rate him a spot last year.

And he didn't get a call this year either from A.L. All-Star manager Sam Mele, who chose Denny McLain of Detroit, Sam McDowell and Gary Bell of Cleveland, Steve Barber of Baltimore, Mel Stottlemyre of New York, Jim Kaat of his own Minnesota club, Pete Richard of Washington and Jim Catfish Hunter of Kansas City as his eight pitchers.

"I would have loved to pick eight more pitchers, but there are only so many you can choose from. What about two other pitchers on the Baltimore club—Jim Palmer and Wally Bunker? They have good records also.

"And what about Jack Sanford with California? He's 9 and 2, he comes from Massachusetts the same as I do, and he's my friend. But I didn't pick him either. I couldn't. I wish I was allowed to pick 50 players but the rule says I can only have 25."

There's still another rule which says all 10 clubs in the league must be represented on the All-Star team when the manager gets around to picking his pitchers and reserves after the players themselves vote for the eight starters.

This rule can be good or bad, depending on how you look at it. If you like to see players from all 10 clubs in the All-Star game, then it's a good rule; but if you insist on seeing the 25 best players, regardless of the team's they're with, then it's a bad rule. Either way they invoke the rule, there always will be some personal disappointments.

LAST YEAR Dave Nicholson was a strikeout leader. But this year, for Grady Hatton's surprising Houston Astros, Nicholson not only has cut down on third strikes but he's among the National League's top hitters as well.

Fryman Hot NL Hurler

By United Press International Even though Sandy Koufax is halfway to 30 wins, Woody Fryman rates as the National League's hottest hurler.

The Dodger wonder was effective when he needed it Tuesday night as he bested Cincinnati's Jim Maloney 1-0 for his 15th victory but lacked for his razor-sharp edge, giving up 10 hits and fanning "only" eight.

Fryman, a relative unknown at the start of the 1966 campaign, registered his third straight shutout for the Pirates when he blanked Chicago 6-0 on three hits. But even more amazing is that over the string of 27 zeros, Fryman has allowed a total of only six hits.

Even a 45 minute rain delay failed to dampen Fryman Tuesday as he ran his scoreless inning streak to 27 and halted Ron Santo's hitting skein at 2 games.

In other National League action, St. Louis defeated San Francisco 3-1, Atlanta topped Houston 9-4 and Philadelphia beat New York 3-1.

The Pirates staked Fryman to a pair of unearned runs in the first inning and added to it in the sixth on Willie Stargel's single. Jose Pagan's RBI double and Donn Clendenon's 12th homer before the rains came in the top of the seventh. The win, Fryman's 15th, tallied after an error by second baseman Jerry Buchek and was unearned.

Rebels Host To Demons

Pampa will close out the 1966 home stand for their American Legion team tonight when they host Dumas at 7:30 p.m. in Optimist Club Park.

Pampa stands 8-4 for the season and 5-3 in league play. The Rebels have yet to lose at home, having taken seven in a row in the comfortable confines of their own park.

The Demons, who advanced to the state playoffs in high school baseball and started out winning in the Legion's North division, are 3-2 in league play. Coach Bobby Stephens will start either Dickie Henley, 3-1 or Roy Harper, 2-2 on the mound.

Cockrell Wins All-Around Title

Lee Cockrell of Amarillo and formerly of Pampa, won the calf roping and was leading all-around money winner at the July 4th weekend RCA rodeo in Greeley, Colo.

Cockrell won $1,141 over the weekend and made the fourth consecutive year he has won both the calf roping and all-around prize money at the show.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP-O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Advice to Uncle Sam

Since the original 13 colonies drew up a working agreement of consolidation, it has been the fashion for political subdivisions to foist off on the federal government whatever land they found to be burdensome, useless, inaccessible or inconvenient.

Always in the name of patriotism and public necessity, communities have implored the Congress to take a few thousand acres north of town for an air base, a fort, an administration building, a national forest, a national seashore or any one of a million projects without which the Union would instantly perish.

So successfully have Americans from every corner labored to have the government take over local real estate that right now nearly one-third of the total area of the United States is owned and administered by an agency of the U.S. government.

The commission says it has found out that 775,000 acres, more or less, of Texas is federally owned. Not a very high percentage of the state's total of 168 million acres.

But take Alaska—which is a sort of Texas without the wheel—there just can't be so much difference in kids. A publisher in England who is putting out new editions of the incomparable child's classic, "Winnie-the-Pooh," is cutting out 90 per cent of the text because he thinks its delightful whimsicality is too sophisticated for kids.

It's not only monkeys who are the kindest people," as the man used to say. Many other domestic and zoo animals are beginning to fall victim to the modern-day diseases that lodge mankind.

Recent studies here and abroad indicate that life increase in earl disease and cancer among humans in the past 20 years corresponds to similar increases in those diseases among animals.

Dr. Herbert L. Ratcliffe of the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens says he has seen a definite increase in lung cancer among birds who spend most of their time out of doors breathing city air. Officials of Tokyo's Ueno Zoo reports Rodale's Health Bulletin, also blame air pollution for the early deaths of an increasing number of animals.

Sensing The News

The Fruits of Idleness To our ancestors, idleness was a positive evil. Adults heard sloth condemned by the clergy. Children were warned that idle hands were in trouble. But much of the modern world believes that idleness is a positive good. People speak blandly of a "leisure society."

These changing attitudes come to mind in connection with the plight of Great Britain, once the great leader of Anglo-Saxon civilization and — in the 19th century — the richest country on earth.

Anthony Lewis, writing in The New York Times, recently cited the appalling gap in Great Britain between that country's objective condition and public attitudes. The British pound is slipping badly, the gold drain is alarming, and British ships have been tied up in a terrible work stoppage that has cost the British nation tremendous sums in badly needed foreign exchange.

Meet Uncle Sam, prominent real estate operator. The Public Land Law Review Commission consists of six members appointed by the President, six by the House, six by the Senate; the chairman is elected by the group. They will be "assisted in their deliberations," to quote the news release, by a 25-member advisory council and a representative of each of the 50 state governors.

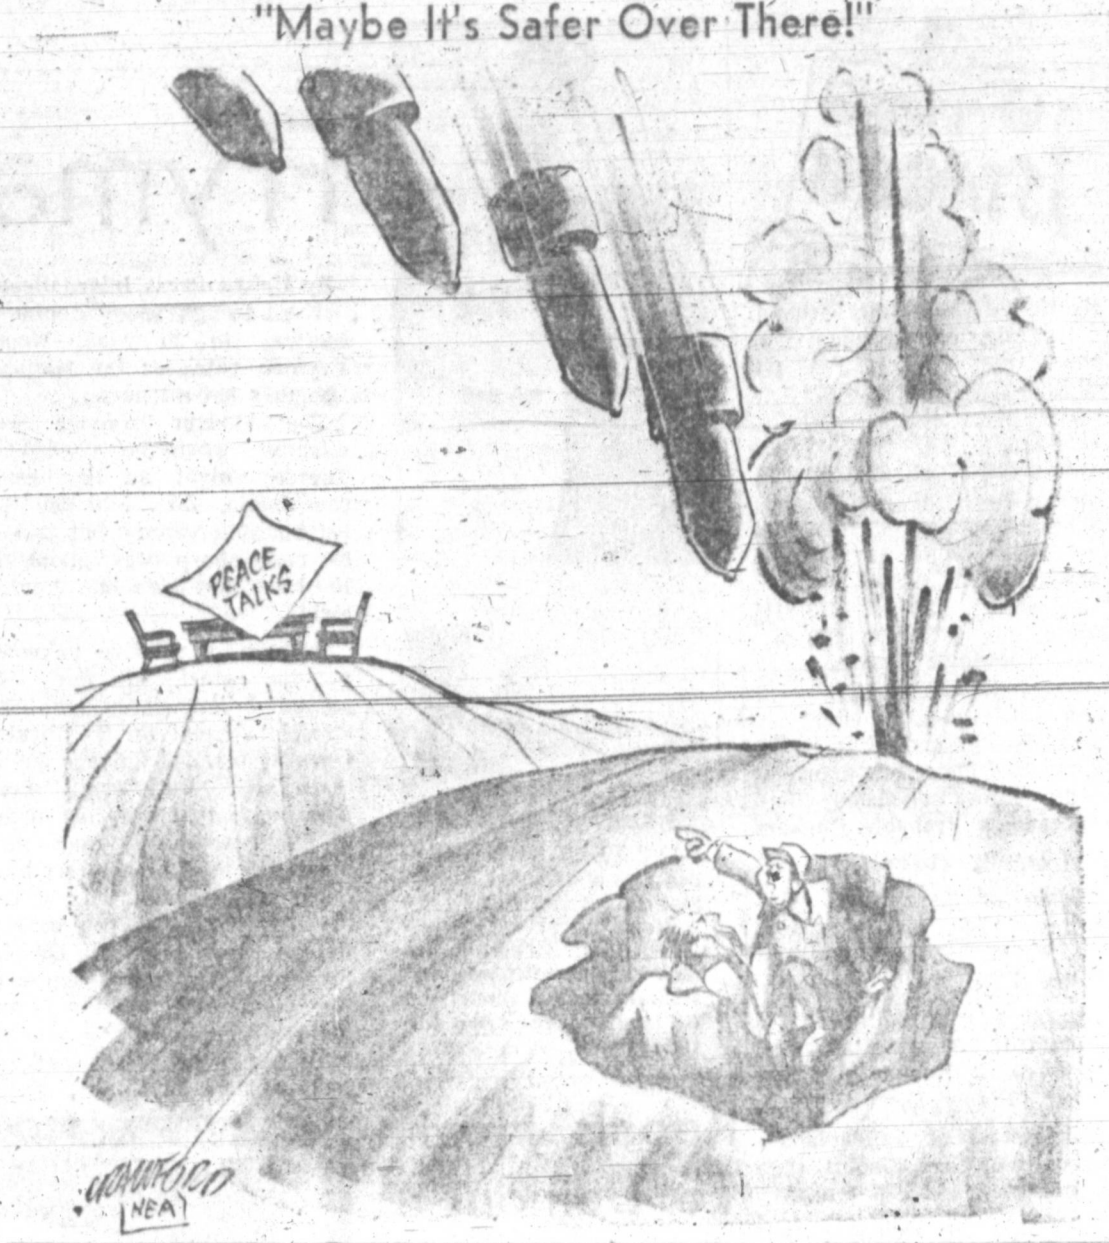

Looks like that army is going to create problems at least as great as the one they're looking into. The commission is not without an insight into the magnitude of the beast it is out to conquer. Says the commission: "The staff has compiled the summary of federal land ownership from the latest available statistics published as of June 30, 1964. The time lapse alone indicates, the possible need to revise the data when either the agencies or the Commission develops later statistics."

Uncle Sam, land-owner is like the guy who never could find out just how rich he was, because every time he counted it all, there was that much more added to it. We haven't been bidden to serve on the commission. But if they send us a summons, we can give our answer in a word. SELL!

A commission of distinguished American scholars, after "deep and thoughtful study, has decided that our children are so mentally advanced that they should start public school at the age of four instead of dawdling around until they are six. This is a rap of English kids and flattery for American kids that you can bet won't go over too big with any of them.

And many an adult who may not be a publisher or an educator, but who was once a kid, is going to evaluate the whole subject with a terse comment: Pooh!

hard to understand why they need freedom. Willie: What does "close quarters" mean, Mom? Mother: It's a definition of my trying to get twenty-five cents from your father. Diplomacy is the art of letting someone else have your way. The gospel of hard work needs

Backstage Washington

U.S. Quietly Urging Britain to Commit Troops In Defense of Thailand As Warning to Peiping

WASHINGTON—The U.S. is exerting discreet but vigorous pressure on Britain for a military commitment for the defense of Thailand. President Johnson will ask Prime Minister Wilson when they confer here this month to station both air and ground units in that increasingly Communist-influenced Southeast Asian country in exchange for such a "military presence," the President will offer new financial support to bolster Britain's sagging sterling position.

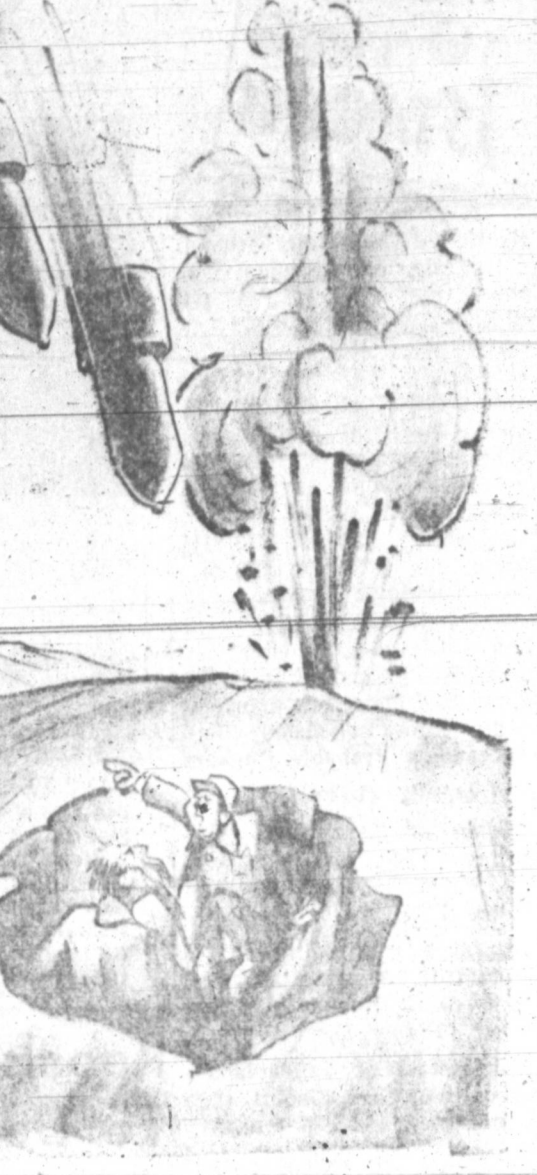

If such a military-economic understanding is worked out, Thailand will then publicly request British protection under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to which all three nations belong. The proposed troop commitment was discussed by Thai officials with Foreign Secretary Stewart on his June visit to Bangkok. But no understanding was reached pending Wilson's discussion with Johnson.

Administration sources have explained to congressional leaders that the underlying purpose of the President's aim in pressing for a British "military presence" in Thailand is to forcefully bring home to Peiping that the defense of Thailand has full SEATO backing.

While the Thai government appears to have effectively countered Communist infiltration in the northeast region, U.S. authorities say British units are needed to convince Peiping that SEATO will firmly oppose aggression against Thailand.

As long as the Viet Nam war continues, the U.S. is opposed to curtailment of British forces in Singapore and Malaysia. With the Indonesian threat seemingly dissolving, President Johnson wants part of the 50,000 troops in that area assigned to Thailand. One proposal is that a contingent of brigade size (3,500 men) be sent there. This plan was heartily approved by Australian Prime

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY The Broadway revival of Irving Berlin's great musical comedy, "Annie Get Your Gun," recalls that few persons, if any, equalled the real Annie Oakley's record as a crack shot.

Minister Harold Holt during his discussions with President Johnson last week. A member of SEATO, Australia has combat units in Viet Nam, and is considering dispatching an air squadron to Thailand. U.S. BUILD-UP — U.S. forces in Thailand now total 20,000 and by mid-1967 will be increased to approximately 30,000. More than half will be Air Force personnel. All U.S. air strikes against Communist forces using the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos originate in Thailand. American planes based in Thailand also account for 60 per cent of North Viet Nam bombing raids.

Red China has left little doubt of its sinister intentions toward Thailand. In recent months, Peiping-trained and supplied guerrilla bands have stepped up their activity in Thailand's impoverished northeast region and heavily forested Kra Isthmus in the south. During the past year, the Red guerrillas have been responsible for more than 100 political assassinations. Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi has publicly stated: "We hope to have a guerrilla war in Thailand before the year is out."

U.S. BRITISH FORCE — The U.S. is studying the possibility of manning Britain's proposed Polaris submarine fleet with British and American crews. By "mix-manning" the crews, U.S. officials believe a strong case should be made with Congress for sharing the cost of the four Polaris submarines the British want to buy from the U.S.

If Prime Minister Wilson shows interest in the plan, President Johnson will put it up to Congress next year. West Germany has proposed a similar sub-sharing plan, but the State Department is opposed until the question of NATO nuclear sharing is solved.

Thoughts while shaving: That story about Sir Isaac Newton discovering the law of gravity when an apple fell from a tree and struck him on the head is strictly the bunk. Newton made up the story on the spur of the moment once when he was being bothered by a bore. It's very much like the wisecrack Whistler made under similar circumstances. When reminded by a pest at a London social gathering that he was born in Lowell, Massachusetts, Whistler replied that he had been born in Moscow, Russia. Everyone present laughed and the wisecrack survived. To this day many Lowellians believe Whistler seriously denied his birthplace. Politicians must have done a lot of writing in the good old days. When Boss Tweed was the boss of New York's City Hall, the stationery bill for two years amounted to more than $2 million. That's not counting the postage. Boating enthusiasts that Prime Minister Wilson is counting on private U.S. capital to provide a substantial proportion of the financing.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT Vitamin A Can Be Harmful Despite Great Tolerance. Q—I give my children 25,000 units of vitamin A daily. Now I'm told that too much of this vitamin can be harmful. In what way is it bad? Am I giving my children too much? A—Since the daily requirement of vitamin A is 2,500 to 5,000 units, the amount you are giving your children is excessive. Fortunately, there is a wide range of tolerance for this vitamin. One child who developed chronic vitamin A poisoning took 50,000 units daily for seven months. Another developed acute poisoning after a single dose of 300,000 units. The poisoning is manifested by loss of appetite, itching, falling out of the hair, hemorrhages under the skin and pains in the bones and joints. The sensible way to give your children vitamin A is in the form of such foods as milk, fortified margarine, eggs and liver.

QUESTION: Are not the following two statements inconsistent and contradictory? 1. 'I believe in a Republican Party polarized around constitutional principles.' 2. 'I do not believe in a Right-to-Work law.' ANSWER: We do not know how to define "a Republican Party polarized around constitutional principles." It seems to us neither party has paid much attention to constitutional principles as they were originally believed to have been written. However, we have been convinced that the Constitution now means only what the politicians, including those on the Supreme Court, decide.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT THOUGHT - STOPPERS The well-turned propaganda word is the greatest thought-stopper in the world. People are conditioned to react to the slogan, not to think about it. If it has a good connotation, they applaud on cue; if a bad one, they frown. All too often, mentally lazy people will turn off their minds the minutes they hear one of these slogans. Two persons in a group conversation can easily test this out. One of them can take a really new idea for a government or constitution that would permit a wider scope of ordered liberty than we have now, or have ever had, and explain it briefly to the group. Later, in the discussion, his partner in the experiment can scornfully declare: "Why, that's a reactionary idea!"

That is the thought-stopper. Immediately, some persons in the group will turn off their minds and reject the idea completely. Their minds will not be changed, even when the speaker proves that, far from being a return to the past, the idea has never been tried at all. In the same way, one person can take an ancient, discredited policy like appeasement or inflation, and explain it; and his partner can chime in with: "Why, that's a progressive idea!"

Again, that is the thought-stopper. The same persons who turned off their minds and rejected the earlier idea when it was called reactionary, will now turn off their minds and accept this one when it is called progressive. Sensible people should be able to rise above this adult version of the child's game of pinning the tail on the donkey. In 1933, an All-Star baseball game was played for the first time. The American League defeated the National League, 4-2 in Chicago. In 1939, Russia orbited two dogs and a rabbit in a space capsule. ## Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United-Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The television networks—somehow didn't find July 4 worthy of much special attention, but NBC-TV did manage to use Independence Day for the debuts of two game shows and a country music series.

The three programs which arrived Monday are all daytime entries, and they feature Joe Pyne as host of the half-hour "Showdown," Jan Murray as emcee of the 30-minute "Chain Letter" and Rusty Draper and Molly Bee in the 25-minute "Swingin' Country."

I guess Mr. Pyne rates first attention because one's initial response is: What in the world is he doing as host of a game show? In case you are not acquainted with Mr. Pyne's reputation, he is one of the most controversial of broadcasting's collection of almost anything-goes talk show emcees.

Anyway, discounting the usual silliness of most of these game shows on television, the debut of "Showdown" had its moments chiefly because of the generally acerbic attitude of the aforementioned Mr. Pyne. His approach was precisely right in that his manner seemed to be saying, in effect, that he knew there was a lot of nonsense, but if somebody wanted to pay him a lot for doing this stuff, it was okay with him.

His program is, essentially, simply a straight question-and-answer affair with competing teams, and the level is just about what one would expect: Two women didn't know what monogamy meant, and another contestant thought that Mickey Rooney wrote "Little Women." I personally found this charming, but I particularly liked Pyne's attitude toward a trio of pint-sized rock-and-roll youngsters he apparently was stuck with for occasional musical selections. At one point he told them to go back to their cage, and it was a pleasure to see an adult on television being disrespectful toward children.

Anyway, "Showdown" went along like that, establishing quickly that Mr. Pyne is actually the entire program because of his brusque, authoritative, slightly amused put-down approach, which seems to be quite a bit milder than his attitude on his talk broadcasts. And a good thing too.

Jan Murray's "Chain Letter" is simply a game in which teams use the last letters of words in the same category to see who can come up with the longest list. Mr. Murray has done this sort of show before, and somehow he manages to continue to display enthusiasm, which is the sign of a professional, even if the program looks like the work of amateurs.

"Swingin' Country" lists Rusty Draper as its star, and maybe he is if you know about that kind of music, which I don't—but to me it is Molly Bee who makes the outing occasionally palatable. She is one sweet-looking female, and an accomplished professional singer and gives country music general appeal, and has the nicest blonde hair.

Jetliner Crashes At New Zealand
AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI)—An Air New Zealand DC8 jetliner crashed and split in two near the airport passenger terminal here while taking off on a training flight Monday with only crew members aboard. Officials said the pilot and the flight engineer were killed and three other crew members injured. Eye witnesses said the plane lifted off the runway about 100 feet and then appeared to stall. One section of plane burst into flames after an explosion and the second part ended up less than 100 yards from the passenger terminal.

The mosquito hums above the heads of Russian scientists in their heated dining room while the winter winds howl outside, Tass said. It is granted immunity from swats because of its uniqueness, the agency said.
