

KEYS FOR NEW ADDITION — Keys to the County Barn at the Reception Park are accepted from Engineer Ed Myatt by County Judge Bill Craig. The $28,000 addition, including kitchen, dining room and cattle was accepted Friday by the County Court as one of the last acts of the year 1965.

US Intensifies Effort For Viet Nam Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States intensified its peace offensive Saturday, hoping to avoid a bloodier and more dangerous Viet Nam war in 1966 by finding a common ground in a jumble of conflicting peace proposals.

Traffic Deaths Begins Record Surge Upward

By United Press International Traffic deaths climbed Saturday toward a new high for a New Year's weekend as holiday motorists took to the highways for the drive back home.

Fatal traffic crashes, costing about 11 lives per hour, climbed near the 400 mark, pushed upward by a rash of New Year's Eve accidents.

A United Press International tabulation late Saturday night showed 349 persons died since the holiday period started at 6 p.m. The breakdown:

- TRAFIC
- Fires
- Planes
- Miscellaneous
- Total

Ohio led the death parade with 36 fatalities but California's 33 ran a close second. New York recorded 27 deaths, Michigan 24, and North Carolina and Texas had 15 each.

A National Safety Council spokesman noted that the death rate was running about 15 percent higher than at the same time last year.

"The one bright spot in the picture," he said, "is that it's about 70 percent below the horrible Christmas rate."

At the current pace, however, the toll would surpass the worst New Year's holiday on record. This was last year when 474 persons died as the result of traffic accidents.

The safety council estimated between 360 and 440 persons would be killed during the present holiday period which ends at midnight Sunday.

In one of the worst crashes of the weekend, four persons were killed near Bonnet, Miss., when their car plunged down a roadside embankment struck a power pole and burst into flames.

Gray County March of Dimes Drive Launch Set Tomorrow

"Eight Birth Defects, Join the March of Dimes" is the theme of The National Foundation's annual fund raising drive which gets underway in Gray County tomorrow and continues through January 21.

County drive chairman Harold Comer said that birth defects are the nation's second greatest destroyer of life, killing an estimated 500,000 unborn babies and more than 60,000 of our infants, children and adults each year.

He added that more than 250,000 American babies are born each year with serious physical or mental defects.

John Warner has been named to head the Pampa campaign and Mrs. Georgia Mack will help with the battle against birth defects.

Pair Held For Brutal Beating Of Baby Girl

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — An ex-convict and his girlfriend were held Saturday in the death of her 16-month-old daughter whose battered body was found in a trash can in Woodland, Calif.

Joe E. Ballard, 19, of Durango, Colo., and Mrs. Linda Mae Foster, 17, of Bakersfield, Calif., were arrested late Friday as they were hitchhiking near Amarillo.

California detectives left for Amarillo to return the young couple to Woodland to answer charges in the death of little Brenda Foster.

The lot's body was found late Friday near the motel where Ballard and Mrs. Foster had been staying the past two months. The body was wrapped in paper and covered with a floor mat.

Yolo county coroner's deputies said the child's head had been "pretty well battered."

"There was no immediate cause of death, and an autopsy was scheduled."

Ballard and Mrs. Foster were last seen hitchhiking Wednesday on Interstate 80 near Auburn, Calif. Brenda was last seen Monday when her mother told the motel manager the child was ill.

Authorities said Ballard had served a sentence in a Colorado prison. They added he had been working for a geological survey team. The couple arrived at Woodland from Bakersfield. It had been believed they were married.

Detecives said the teen-agers were picked up near Amarillo and then taken to police headquarters for questioning because of Mrs. Foster's age.

During the course of the questioning, Amarillo police telephoned Mrs. Foster's sisters in Bakersfield. Police said that when the sister was told Brenda was not with the pair she became hysterical and told Texas investigators the couple was wanted for questioning in California.

LBJ Denounces Steel Hike As Step to Inflation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, declined to comment on the meeting with Bethlehem officials.

In a statement Friday, however, Ackley may have left Bethlehem with an escape hatch, Ackley said the price increase was not in the public interest and inflationary, based on information available to the government.

This indicated a possible reconsideration of the government viewpoint if Bethlehem could provide new information on reasons for the price increase.

Company officials, apparently anticipating unfavorable public reaction, declared that even with the price hike, the cost of steel items affected was still less than it was five years ago.

Resolutions For A London Visitor

LONDON (UPI) — New Year's resolutions for an American in London:

I will stop telling visitors the weather isn't as bad as its reputation, because it always is when they're here.

I'll stop complaining about the price of cigarettes at 77 cents a pack.

I'll stop telling waiters the British don't know how to carve or cook roast beef.

I'll start putting ice in my highballs again. It's easier than explaining to visiting firemen I like it better without.

I will not again whistle at a slim, long-haired, young blonde until the sex is confirmed (took me two weeks to lose the shiner last time).

I'll try to learn to like British pubs.

I'll stop saying "cheerio" to American callers.

I'll learn to like Brussels sprouts.

I'll give up trying to explain why the United States doesn't get out of Viet Nam.

Nation's Largest City Thrown Into Chaos

NEW YORK (UPI) — For New Yorkers it was a New Year crisis: a subway bus strike that threatened to plunge the nation's largest city into chaos.

All the city owned subway and bus lines and all but one privately operated bus line were idled Saturday by the walk-out of the first mass transportation strike in the city's 300-year history.

Hopes for an early settlement were dim. Michael J. Quill, vice-president of the Transport Workers Union and the man who called the strike, defiantly predicted Saturday that it might last as long as a month.

If it lasts as long as Monday morning's rush-hour period, it will be long enough to create a nightmare situation for the estimated 3 million New Yorkers who depend upon public transportation to take them to and from their jobs.

"This unfortunate disruption imposes untold hardship on New Yorkers, Mayor John V. Lindsay told his constituents in a radio and television talk only a few hours after he was sworn in as the city's chief executive.

"I will continue to stay on the job until this crisis is over," Lindsay also offered to participate in the contract negotiations as he did Friday.

"If my physical presence will assist, we can talk right here," he said. "I'll summon them to City Hall."

Quill, who has used the dispute as an occasion to indulge in the kind of acid comments that have characterized his approach to labor negotiations for the past three decades, was unimpressed by Lindsay's proposal.

"We don't need the mayor to settle this," he said at a mid-day news conference. "He made such a mess of himself yesterday that the people of New York City have a strike."

He said the negotiations were "so lousier up now only time will loosen them up." Then came the disturbing suggestion that the strike might go on for "28 or 29 days."

The TWU demands include a 30 per cent wage increase, a four-day, 32-hour work week with no pay cuts, and six weeks vacation after one year of employment.

The Transit Authority claims these demands, along with those made by the other union involved, the Amalgamated Transit Union (ATU), would cost an additional $40 million.

The TWU has offered a $20 million package which Quill has dismissed as "peanuts."

Commies Expelled In Banqui Seizer

BANGUI, Central African Republic (UPI) — The army seized power after sharp street fighting Saturday and immediately ordered Communist Chinese diplomats and experts expelled from this African country.

Striking in the night, Army Chief of Staff Col. Jean Bedel Bokassa's French-trained paratroopers deposed 35-year-old President David Dacko and put him and most of his cabinet under house arrest.

Several persons were killed or wounded as the paratroopers stormed the presidential palace, government offices, the main post office and radio station.

The field gendarmerie units which guarded the government buildings fled or surrendered to the paratroopers.

Bokassa announced over radio Bangui Saturday morning that at 3:20 a.m. the army took over the government to "right the social injustices" of the Dacko regime.

Bokassa said the Communist Chinese Embassy staff and experts will be expelled within 48 hours from this strategically-located African heartland.

Even before there were paved streets or highways leading into our city," he pointed out. "I know the needs of our county," he declared. He said running for the district judgeship so far.

The filing deadline is Feb. 7 and the primary is scheduled May 7.

Pope Paul Joins With US in Viet Nam Peace Effort

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI joined the United States in the quest for a Viet Nam truce Saturday by calling on the Soviet Union and Communist China to intervene in the cause of peace.

The pontiff cautioned North and South Viet Nam against escalating the war.

The appeal for a "just and lasting peace" in Viet Nam was made in a series of papal New Year messages.

Pope Paul sent a similar message to President Johnson by way of United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, who saw the pontiff at the Vatican earlier this week.

Acting as a presidential peace envoy, Goldberg conferred Friday with French President Charles de Gaulle and then flew Saturday to London for talks with Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

The text of the Pope's message to Johnson was not disclosed immediately.

The Pope told Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny and Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung that their "intervention" to bring the war to the negotiating table would earn them man and his honors.

To North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, he said: "We implore all those responsible not to take any action that could lead to the resumption of violent fighting and bombardments."

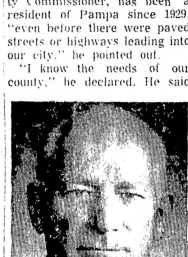

To South Vietnamese President Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, he said of the halt of bombings in the North: "Let us hope nothing will be neglected to spare new suffering and mourning."

G. L. LUNSFORD

Bruce Parker threw his hat into the ring for the district judgeship.

Lunsford and Pampa attorney A. J. Carubbi are the only announced candidates for county judge post, so far, while Parker and Pampa attorney Tom Braly are the only two candidates.

Social Security Numbers Asked By ASCS Office

Farmers who are receiving payments in connection with participation in farm action to let the ASCS County Office programs are being asked to let the ASCS County Office know what their Social Security numbers are.

A form requesting this information - "Request for Identifying Number" - Farmer - together with a postage-prepaid envelope, will be mailed to each known producer who receives program payments, to be filled in and returned to the ASCS county Office as soon as convenient.

The identifying Social Security number will be entered on payment-drafts to producers, and they will also be used by the Department of Agricultural in reporting such payments to the Internal Revenue Service.

Such identifying numbers now appear on all reports of income payments-such as bank interest, dividends, etc.-made by the paying companies or agencies. This is required under the Internal Revenue Code.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

Water was the big news item in 1965 in Texas and will again be a big news item in 1966. During the months ahead we will see the unfolding of the "Water For Texas to 2020" plan.

Some of the recommendations in the plan will shake a lot of people. The plan is a tremendous one and if carried through will go a long way towards solving the "so-called" shortage of water in Texas. There are a large number of untapped sources of water in the state. Plans for tapping these sources will be made.

The Sanford Dam on the Canadian River has certainly opened a lot of eyes. The water already stored in Lake Meredith behind the dam has far exceeded the wildest predictions of engineers who drew the plans.

The once dry High Plains of Texas is no longer dry. The High Plains of Texas has truly become the "bread basket of the world." The Panhandle of Texas has really become the "Golden Spread" - the combination of irrigated agriculture and industry has become something to behold.

Irrigation continues to grow in the Panhandle Water Conservation District No. 3. During the year 1965, permits for 82 wells were granted. The financial investment in these wells is well in excess of one million dollars. To this initial cost, will be the additional investment in underground pipe to move the water to the desired location as a water conservation measure.

The year 1966 will see more use made of the water in our playa lakes. There will also be more use made of the water that runs down our creeks and draws. Dams will be constructed in many locations to impound part of this water that in the past has flowed away from this area. Under the laws of the state the waters in the streams are public waters, belonging to the State of Texas. Anyone may build a dam or reservoir on his own property to impound not more than 200 acre-feet of water, if the water is to be used only for domestic and livestock purposes.

Should one desire to use the water that is impounded for irrigation it then becomes necessary to obtain a permit from the Texas Water Rights Commission.

The public waters of Texas may be appropriated for any of the following purposes: Irrigation, mining, milling, manufacturing, development of power, the construction and operation of water works for cities and towns, for stockraising, public parks, game preserves, recreation and pleasure resorts, power and water supply for industrial purposes and plants and for domestic use. Those unappropriated public waters, consisting of only storm and flood waters, may also be appropriated for the purpose of recharging underground fresh water bearing sands and aquifers in certain areas of the State of Texas.

The year 1966 will probably see the most stringent rules yet imposed, on the prevention of pollution of the fresh waters of Texas and the other states of the nation. An ever increasing number of industries have budgeted large sums of money to study ways and means to solve the pollution problem. During the latter portion of 1965 the American Petroleum Institute set up a fund of one million eight hundred thousand dollars to study water pollution.

County SCD News

By VAN MILLS

Range and pasture planting is a popular conservation practice with Gray county farmers and ranchers. 3357 acres were seeded in 1965.

About 1500 acres of abandoned cropland was seeded to desirable grasses. There are thousands of acres of abandoned fields that have grown up in junk grass that need to be seeded.

There are two methods of seeding these fields. One method is to establish the field to a sorghum cover the first year and seed the grass the second year. $5.60 per acre cost - share assistance is available for establishing a dead litter cover under the Great Plains Conservation Program. This program also cost-shares up to 80 per cent of cost of the grass seed and seeding the grass.

The second method is to one-way the junk grasses or run flat sweeps under the grasses. $2.00 per acre cost-share assistance is available through the GPCP for sweeping or one-waying. 80 per cent of cost of the grass seed and seeding the grass. Eben Warner, Bob Sherrod, O. R. Blankenship, and Truitt Johnson have gotten good stands of grass by sweeping and one-waying. Cost-share assistance is also available for shaping sand dunes and gullies in areas to be seeded back to grass.

Drew Word who has a stock farm north of Alameda is sold on his irrigated bermudagrass. Bermudagrass was sprigged in 1964 and 1965. Drew has about 50 acres of this grass under irrigation and about 10 acres on sub-irrigated land. Drew plans to establish 40 additional acres to irrigated switchgrass and 40 acres to irrigated Indiangrass. The cost of establishing bermudagrass is about 22 dollars per acre. Properly managed - this grass will run from 1 to 3 animal units per acre. It cost about $6.00 per acre to establish switchgrass and about 9 dollars per acre to establish Indiangrass. In many cases land established to grass can be put in the diverted acre program, the first year the grass is being established.

If the grass is properly managed the first year it will provide for winter pasture the first year, and will be ready for use the first year following establishment.

The main advantage of permanent pastures over temporary pastures is that you do not have the hazard of trying to establish them every year, and you have a longer grazing season. With this longer growing season you can do better job of buying and selling. This year bermudagrass stayed green through October whereas sudan pastures stopped growing in September. In most cases temporary pastures fit in well with permanent pastures. In many cases land devoted to permanent pastures is not suitable for annual temporary pastures because of wind and water erosion hazards.

Life Restoration By Freezing Topic At Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Restoration of life by freezing the subject of a "one-day" meeting here today of the freeze-wait-reanimate conference.

The third annual conference featured a dog frozen in much the same manner as delegates believe their own bodies might be preserved. The dog was put to sleep and cooled with dimethylsulfoxide, then frozen with dry ice.

Texas Highway Beautification Project Begins

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Field parties will start Monday on a four of 17,500 miles of Texas highways counting billboards and junkyards with the intention of removing them to beautify highways.

The State Highway Department said it hopes to record the location, size and ownership of all the billboards and junkyards by May 15.

The project is under provisions of the 1965 Highway Beautification Act.

quality him for the county judgeship.

"I have received hundreds of phone calls and personal visits from people all over the county concerning the race and it encouraged me to make up my mind to run for this office," Lunsford said in announcing his candidacy.

"I believe this post (County Judge) requires a person to give his best at all times and I promise I will do just this."

"As County Judge I will give the same courtesy and respect that I have tried to give while serving as Justice of the Peace."

An ordained minister for 30 years Lunsford has served church music director in several churches.

In his announcement statement, Lunsford added, "I never asked for sympathy in any way, but because of my physical handicap, I will be unable to visit every voter."

"Please, take this announcement as a personal contact. Your vote will be greatly appreciated."

Parker has held public offices for 12 years in Gray County. He was elected county attorney in 1944, served for four years and was elected county judge. He held that office four years, then after a two-year interval was elected county judge again for four years.

Parker came to Gray County in 1930, after graduating from the University of Texas Law School and has lived in Pampa since that time.

Parker holds three college degrees, a Bachelor of Arts degree from West Texas State University, Canyon, a Master of Arts degree from the University of Texas Law School.

Parker grew up on a ranch in Lipscomb County and attended a country school. He also attended school in Higgins before entering college.

Parker was admitted to the bar of the state of Texas in 1930. He is a member of the State Bar, Texas Bar and Gray County Bar Association.

Parker lives at 1202 East Browning with his wife, Wilkie, and their two daughters, who attend Pampa Schools.

In a statement announcing his candidacy, Parker said:

"During the time that I served as county judge there were filed in the County Court of Gray County, 3,023 criminal cases, 231 civil cases and 781 probate, lunacy and juvenile cases, making a total of 4,035 cases, approximately three-fourths of these cases came to trial before me.

"My experience in presiding over the County Court in the trial of these cases has qualified me for the trial of cases in the District Court. I contend that there is no substitute for experience.

"Anyone who offers himself as candidate for District Judge should have more qualifications than just the desire to hold public office, he should have the proper educational background and experience plus the desire to work and stay on the job.

While County Judge, I spent eight to nine hours each day working in my office at the Court House. This can be verified by the County Officials who served with me.

"I invite the voters of Gray, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts and Wheeler Counties to check my record as county judge and county attorney of Gray County and to also check my record as attorney in private practice.

"I feel that being elected to the district judge office is a great responsibility and if I am elected I shall try to conduct myself in such a manner as to be worthy of that high office. I shall try to be fair to all persons who come before me regardless of color, religion or social standing."

Now look at the Communist world.

Russia, despite her stock of nuclear weapons, is facing a growing knot of economic and political crises in 1966.

Soviet agricultural policy is a failure. This led the Russians to the humiliation of buying grain from the United States and other Western countries. Moscow's economic failure has also forced the Kremlin rulers to admit their dependence on the West for the task of building up their industries.

The antagonism between the Soviet Union and China is likely to become fiercer in 1966. According to China's latest pronouncements the differences between Moscow and Peking are irreconcilable.

"We shall certainly carry on the debate to a finish and draw a clear line between the (Russian) revisionists and the (Chinese) Marxist-Leninists," Peking's People's Daily warned in a recent editorial.

This is China's latest message to the Communists. Mao T'se-tung unmistakably means to carry it out.

The Sino-Soviet conflict therefore must deepen, the ideological conflict must continue unabated and the international Communist movement must split further.

Because of the Moscow-Peking quarrel and President Johnson's policy in Viet Nam, Communist prestige has declined sharply in many countries of Europe, Africa, Asia and Latin America.

In Indonesia, President Sukarno is now little more than a puppet of the anti-Communist army. Yet at the beginning of 1965, the Indonesian Communist party, which is now fighting for its life, was reaching out for power. It was, next to China's, the strongest Communist organization in Asia.

In Algeria, pro-Communist President Ben Bella was overthrown and since has disappeared. His successor, Colonel Boumedienne, is an Algerian nationalist and neutralist but not a Communist.

As in Indonesia and Algeria a dramatic anti-Communist turn recently occurred in the Sudan. At the beginning of 1965 Communists staged an uprising which gave them a strong beachhead in the Sudanese government. Today their party is outlawed.

The Sudanese Communists are far from crushed, but they are on the defensive as are the Communist parties of Iraq, Syria and the United Arab Republic.

Commissioners Accept Addition To County Barn

Top action of Gray County Commissioners in their final meeting of 1965 was acceptance of a new $28,000 addition to the Gray County Barn at the Recreation Park.

In other actions Friday, the County Court finalized details of 1965 at their last meeting of the year.

The commissioners approved payment of outstanding bills and previously authorized pay raises for county officials.

In addition they: Re-executed fire contracts with County community fire departments

Re-appointed Dr. Joe Gates as County Health Officer

Appointed Lee Heaton as Public Weigher, Precinct 2, and accepted his bond.

Accepted an application for right of way easements by the Campin Pipeline Company for a Pipeline from Roberts County to Celanese Corporation.

The commissioners accepted the bid of Harold Barrett Ford for four new trucks to replace worn county equipment. The bid was $8,999.76. Other bidders were Culberson-Stowers Chevrolet and Futrell Chevrolet.

A rebuilt road grader and a Caterpillar tractor was purchased from West Texas Equipment Company. The prices were $10,000 for the grader and $12,500 for the tractor.

In a final action, the commissioners inspected and accepted the new building at Gray County Barn and Recreation Park.

Gene Barber, consulting engineer, gave the court a semi final report on the construction of the building. He praised the Pam-Tex Co. for their handling of the construction.

beachhead in the Sudanese government. Today their party is outlawed.

The Sudanese Communists are far from crushed, but they are on the defensive as are the Communist parties of Iraq, Syria and the United Arab Republic.

Nine Lost Skiers Rescued from Resort

RUIDOSO, N. M. (UPI)—Three more skiers walked out of the mountains Saturday, climaxing a New Year's adventure that won't soon be forgotten at a Southern New Mexico ski resort.

For the first time, authorities were able to count the noses of nine skiers who were lost and spent one or two nights in snow and below-freezing weather near New Mexico's largest ski area.

And, for the first time in 36 hours, there again was a relaxed mood about Sierra Blanca ski area, 16 miles northwest of Ruidoso, N.M., in Lincoln National Forest.

Of the nine, four skiers spent New Year's Day in the hospital. None of them was believed seriously injured.

Bob Walker, manager of the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce and spokesman for the ski area, said Sierra Blanca never before had skiers lost overnight.

"This was the first time, and when it happened, it happened in bunches," he said.

Began Thursday The episode, which began Thursday, ended Saturday when ski patrolmen brought two skiers off the mountain in a sled towed by a tracked snow vehicle. A few hours earlier, two adults and a junior skier walked up to a ranch house several miles from the ski area after skiing and walking down the wrong side of the mountain.

Ray Yerden, 41, of Las Cruces, N. M.; Air Force Capt. Jack Rosamond, 32, of Lubbock, Tex., and Scarborough Ward, 12, of Ruidoso, turned up at the Ryan Ranch on the West side of Mt. Sierra Blanca early Saturday. The ski area is on the East side.

These three got lost Friday while looking for the six Texans missing Thursday.

Contrary to information provided by the ski area earlier, Randy Jaster, 17, of Austin, Tex., and Tim Noyes, 15, of Corpus Christi, Tex., were not returned to civilization Friday. They waited until Saturday.

Walker said they were too exhausted when found late Friday afternoon to be taken down the mountain. After spending a comparatively "comfortable" second night with 13 rescuers, they were loaded on the sled, taken down the mountain and to a Ruidoso hospital.

READ "THE GREAT DISCOUNT DELUSION."
This book by Walter Henry Nelson is "must" reading for every consumer. It is a researched factual study showing discount dangers.

"WHAT'S WRONG WITH DISCOUNT FIRMS?"
"Plenty," wrote Harriet Van Horn in the New York Telegram. "The discounts are often faked. The merchandise may be factory rejects. For every 'bait' loss leader sold many more are marked up outrageously; some as much as 200%. The Better Business Bureau report a striking increase in complaints." (These are nationally syndicated columnist Harriet Van Horn's words.)

WHY GAMBLE WITH HEALTH NEEDS?
Perhaps you are smart enough to occasionally outwit a discounter. Few are. But, is any possible saving worth the least doubt? Your pharmacy purchases are not "big ticket" prices like washing machines or automobiles.

WE HAVE NO LOSS LEADERS FOR BAIT.
We charge only the fair price we need to enable us to run a good pharmacy. We do not have to charge more for less known products. We never discount service or dependability. If you note any stores which depend only on discount pricing for customers — Think!

A war-weary world headed inexorably toward 1966 this week buoyed by new hope for peace in Viet Nam.

In a major peace offensive President Johnson sent top flight diplomats to various world capitals probing for any willingness on the part of Hanoi to negotiate.

The administration appeared willing to explore any new roads towards a settlement of the conflict without compromising this country's commitments to the freedom and independence of South Viet Nam.

While bombing raids over North Viet Nam remained suspended, talks were held overseas with French President de Gaulle, Yugoslav President Tito, Pope Paul VI and Polish Communist leaders.

Another aide went to Canada for discussions with Premier Pearson and President Johnson talked with the Canadian leader on the telephone.

White House Press Secretary Bill Moyers expressed the American position in simple terms. "Peace," he said, "remains the foremost objective, the most earnest hope, of the United States. Everything this government is doing is designed to bring about conditions in which peace can flourish."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the issues that caused President Johnson and his French chef to part company was the serving of chick peas in the White House.

The chef, Rene Verdon, was reported to feel that chick peas, even when disguised with a French name, were an insult to the palate. Particularly when served cold.

When I first heard that Verdon had cast aspersions on chick peas, my first impulse was to organize a protest demonstration. Like maybe burning a subscription to Gourmet Magazine.

But then I realized that was essentially a negative reaction. I decided that a positive display of support for the President's position would be more effective.

After a great deal of thought, I devised a plan in which everyone who wants to get behind the President on this matter can participate.

As you may know, it is traditional among connoisseurs of fine cuisine to have a New Year's Day repast consisting of hog jowls and black-eyed peas.

At the risk of incurring hostility and privation during 1966, I have requested my wife to break precedent this New Year's Day by substituting chick peas for the traditional legume.

It is my hope that the movement will spread and that all over America families will consume chick peas with their hog jowls.

Some persons probably will try to hedge a bit by serving both chick peas and blackeyed peas. I suppose they can't be blamed for playing it safe, but that strikes me as being a half-way measure.

Let's show the President we're with him all the way.

DRUNK ALIBI
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Thomas F. Budd, an Oakland janitor who has been arrested 36 times for drunkenness, asked the California Supreme Court Wednesday to set aside his latest conviction on the ground that drunkenness is a symptom of alcoholism, which is a disease.

Budd, through his attorneys, said it is unconstitutional to punish someone for the symptom of a disease.

STRIKE FOR HERITAGE
MERTHYR TYDFIL, Wales (UPI) — Five members of the Welsh Language Society began a hunger strike Thursday in an attempt to stir fellow countrymen to a defense of the ancient Welsh language. Welsh has now largely been supplanted by English in everyday conversation in Wales except in remote areas.

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS

By Joe Tooley and Tom Beard

Galen, born in Asia Minor in 131 A.D., was an early and potent name in medicine and his influence was felt until the 17th Century. In fact, it is quite possible that a few of the even today pharmacopoeias are still not totally free of some of the compounds of no worth called vegetable simples, or galenicals, attributable to Galen.

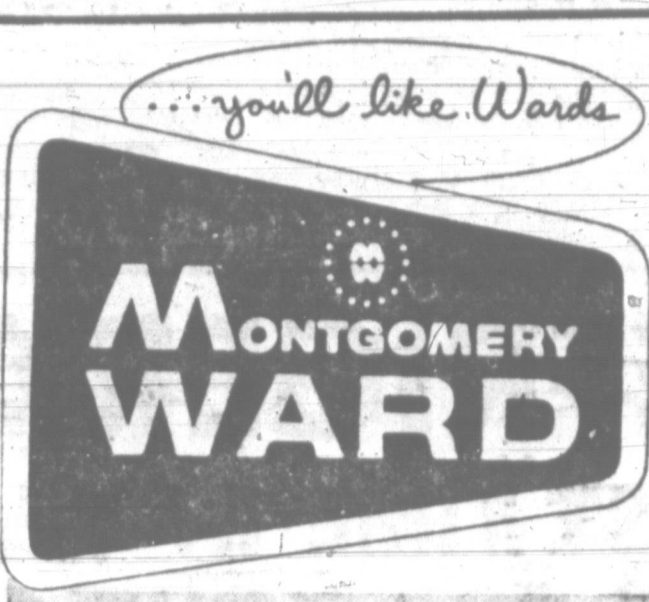

One result of Galen's teaching was the Galenical system of therapeutics which called for use of several thousand drugs. It wasn't uncommon for a single prescription to call for a hundred or more drugs.

We aren't particularly thrilled by single prescription calling for a multiplicity of drugs, but you can be sure that they will receive our meticulous personal attention.

Foreign Commentary

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
Notes from the foreign news
cables:

French Changes: It now is considered certain in Paris that Premier Georges Pompidou will stay in office after President Charles de Gaulle begins his second term Jan. 8.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville also will not be changed. Chances are that Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing will stay too, but there are strong reports that Interior Minister Roger Frey and Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte are slated for other jobs.

Burned Fingers: Britain is quietly encouraging all Viet Nam peace explorations but for the time being Prime Minister Harold Wilson seems unlikely to take any open new initiative in this direction. He has had his fingers burned with highly publicized peace efforts such as the abortive Commonwealth Peace Commission which couldn't even get the time of day from Hanoi. There are few things nevertheless that would win Wilson a bigger cheer from his own Labor Party's left wing than a move, public or otherwise, that would help bring a permanent halt to the bombings of North Viet Nam and an eventual U. S. withdrawal.

Communist Showdown: Reports reaching French experts on Communism say the Soviets are seeking to drum up support among other Communist countries for an early conference aimed at a showdown with the Chinese over Viet Nam. The reports in Paris say the Soviets want to denounce Communist China as the country chiefly responsible for continuation of the Viet Nam war.

Liberal Trends: Western diplomats in Berlin expect a shakeup soon in the East German Culture Ministry because of Communist party criticism of liberal trend in films, television and the arts.

Common Market: Some officials in the European Common Market fear the Italian government crisis threatened by the resignation of Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani may set back seriously prospects for an end to the Common Market quarrel. It is taken for granted by some that the market foreign ministers meeting planned at Luxembourg late in January could not take place with Italy in the middle of what could be a long drawn out political crisis.

Johnson Visit: Despite official disclaimers both in Washington and Paris informed diplomats in Paris still believe a visit to Europe by President Johnson is likely this spring. The French say President Charles de Gaulle would actively welcome a chance for talks on Viet Nam, NATO and other major world issues.

We see only half of the moon's surface because it always turns the same face toward the earth.

Soviets Scorn US Peace Moves in Viet Nam

MOSCOW (UPI) The Soviets scorned the American peace offensive Saturday as "a propaganda diverting maneuver." The Communist party newspaper Pravda reported for the first time to the Russian people that Ambassador At-Large Averell Harriman Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, and Ambassador Arthur Goldberg were making trips to various points of the globe to talk of peace in Viet Nam. But, said Pravda, in a maneuver. Florida Falls Short in Comeback Bid, 20-18

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Missouri weathered the fourth quarter passing heroics of quarterback Steve Spurrier Saturday to whip Florida 20-18 in a Sugar Bowl clash.

The Gators, trailing 20-0 and seemingly out of the game, came to life in the fourth quarter on the passing wizardry of Spurrier.

With the score 20-12, Spurrier took the Gators on an 81-yard drive climaxed by a sensational touchdown catch by end Charley Casey.

The gambling Gators then tried a two-point conversion which would have tied the score but Spurrier's pass went astray.

Florida's final score came with four minutes in the game. The Gators had one other crack to pull the game out, but Missouri's defense held.

Missouri struck for 17 points in the second quarter behind an engulfing defense and the slashing running of halfback Charley Brown and quarterback Gary Lane.

Bill Bates booted his second field goal of the day, a 34-yarder, in the third quarter that proved to be the winning margin. It gave Missouri a commanding 20-0 lead.

However, the complexion of the game quickly changed in the final stanza.

Spurrier, who rewrote the Sugar Bowl passing records, engineered an 86-yard drive to give Florida its first score. An attempted pass for two points failed.

Then the Gators got a big break when they recovered a fumble by Missouri's Earl Denny on the Tiger 10. Spurrier connected with halfback John Feiber on a seven-yard pass attempt for the conversion again failed.

Spurrier completed 27 of 45 passes, good for 352 yards. His efforts broke the old record for most passes attempted and for most passes completed set by Dave O'Brien of TCU in the 1939 Sugar Bowl game.

Missouri fairly dominated action in the first half. Brown, the Tigers' speedy halfback, scored the game's first touchdown on a 10-yard burst.

The relentless Missouri defense then recovered a punt held Florida to a minus two yards rushing in the game, and Harper and two plays later halfback Johnny Roland hit Denny on an 11-yard scoring pass.

Later in the second period, Bates kicked a 37-yard field goal.

Brown, who brought the crowd to its feet with an electrifying 60-yard run, wound up as the game's top rusher. He picked up 122 yards in 22 carries.

Louisiana State Breaks Hogs, 14-7

Arkansas Loses For First Time in 22 Outs

DALLAS (UPI)—Stubby Joe Labruzzo's prancing feet and a rockribbed middle-of-the-line defense anchored on linebacker Bill Bass carried Louisiana State to a 14-7 upset of 22-game winner Arkansas in the 30th annual Cotton Bowl football game Saturday.

The 5-9 170-pound Labruzzo from the tiny Louisiana bayou country hamlet of Cut Off deftly cashed in on tiny openings he continuously found at Arkansas' defensive left tackle and knifed through it for touchdown runs of three and one yards within the final five minutes of the first half.

And, that was the ball game because Bass and his linebacking teammate, Mike Vincent kept an effective halter on Arkansas' running attack when Arkansas wasn't hamstringing itself with its own mistakes.

The Southwest Conference champion Razorbacks, an 8-point favorite, surged 87 yards the second time they got the ball in the first quarter, with Jon Brittenum hitting end Bob Crockett with a 19-yard pass for the touchdowns, but interceptions, lost fumbles and two missed field goals contributed to their later downfalls.

Labruzzo picked the Arkansas defenses apart for just 69 yards in 21 carries, but most of his damage was inflicted at the fag ends of the 80 and 34-yard scoring drives the Southeastern Conference Tigers put together in the second quarter.

He gained 21 of the final 24 yards in five crucial plays on the 80-yard LSU surge and plays and the final 19 yards of the 34-yard march, slicing through the left tackle niche with just 18 seconds left on the halftime clock.

Bass had set up this last drive, which was to end college football's current longest winning streak at 22 games, when Razorback substitute quarterback Ronny South just two plays after South had been rushed in to replace an injured Brittenum.

Brittenum suffered a pinched nerve on a 15-yard pitchout play to fleet Harry Jones and South, who had played but little all season except to kick extra points and a half dozen field goals, was given emergency duty. Brittenum came back for the second half, but never could mount a consistent attack.

The Razorbacks threatened in the third period with another 19-yard Brittenum-to-Crockett pass giving them a first down on the 15 yard line. But, then on successive plays Jim Lindsey was tripped up for a six-yard loss and Brittenum fell trying to tack-up in the pocket and lost seven more vital yards.

That's when South missed his second field goal attempt from the 36 yard line. He had misfired from the 41 yard line in the second quarter.

LSU's Doug Moreau kicked both extra points, but also missed an easy field goal in the late minutes of the game from the nine yard line.

Arkansas, which was the national scoring champion with a 32.4 point scoring average, outgained the Tigers 306 yards to 266 and led in first downs 22 to 15, but was unable to contain LSU's ground attack in the two clutch situations.

Arkansas 7 0 0-7
LSU 0 14 0-14
Scoring: Ark—Crockett 19 pass from Brittenum (South kick); LSU—Labruzzo 3 run (Moreau kick); LSU—Labruzzo 1 run (Moreau kick). Attendance 76,200.

ANDERSON TO PASS Players Arrive For Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Top players from throughout the nation began arriving this weekend, many of them after New Year's Day games, to prepare for next Saturday's Senior Bowl.

Twenty of the All-Stars hopped planes after playing in either the Sugar, Cotton or Orange Bowls. Last week, an equal number played in other post-season games.

Immediately after arrival, players planned to huddle with South coach Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets or Boston Patriots head coach Mike Hojovak.

Practice sessions will be held twice daily this week through Thursday. The 17th annual Senior Bowl, to be nationally televised (NBC), will be played before a sellout crowd in Ladd Stadium.

The Senior Bowl will feature some of the top quarterbacks, including Tulsa's Billy Anderson, the most prolific passer in NCAA history.

Strong Scouting Puck He and quarterback Gary Lane of Missouri, All-Big Eight for the past three years, will give the North a strong scoring punch.

The South will have Alabama quarterback Steve Sloan, player of the year in the Southeastern Conference, Texas A&M's and Randy Johnson.

These four quarterbacks completed 531 out of 952 passes during the regular season this year for a combined total of 6,570 yards.

Anderson, who sparked Tulsa to the Bluebonnet Bowl and played in the North-South game at Miami, has the most impressive record. He set five major college records while leading the nation in passing and total offense. With him here will be his best catcher, end Howard Twilley.

Set Records Anderson's NCAA records were in pass attempts, 509; completions, 296; total offense plays, 580; and total offense yards, 3,343. Lane, the backup quarterback, completed 179 passes in 331 attempts for 2,366 yards and 10 touchdowns.

FIGHT PLANNED SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Don Fulmer has offered to fight Jose Gonzalez to decide which is the No. 1 challenger to welterweight champion Dick Tiger's title. Fulmer said he would meet Gonzalez in his native Puerto Rico to improve his own title shot chances.

Kemp Gets UPI Most Valuable

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack Kemp, the Buffalo Bills' quarterback who was acquired for the $100 waiver price in 1962, was voted the American Football League's player of the year Saturday by United Press International.

Kemp collected nine of the 24 votes cast by a special panel of writers to outdistance runners-up Paul Lowe and Lance Alworth of the San Diego Chargers. Alworth, the Chargers' flanker, and Lowe, San Diego's record setting fullback, each received four votes.

Other vote collectors in the balloting, which took place before the American Football League's championships game last Sunday, were Bobby Bell, Kansas City Chief linebacker (3); Nick Buoniconti, Boston Patriot linebacker (1); Tom Sestak, Buffalo defensive tackle (1); and Pete Gogolak, Buffalo placekicker (1).

Kemp, hampered part of the season by a shoulder injury, finished fourth in the league in passing while leading the Bills to their second consecutive AFL championship. He completed 179 passes in 331 attempts for 2,366 yards and 10 touchdowns.

In the 1965 championship game against the Chargers, which the Bills won 23-0, Kemp hit on eight of 19 passes for 155 yards and one touchdown and was named the game's most valuable player. It was the second time in two years that Kemp had led the Bills against his former teammates in a championship encounter.

UCLA Knocks Off M-State

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—A daring UCLA football team scored a 14-12 victory Saturday in the Rose Bowl over National champion Michigan State.

Led by sophomore quarterback Gary Beban and defensive halfback Bob Stiles, the Bruins stuck swiftly at the start of the second period for two touchdowns and then dug in to score their first Rose Bowl victory after five previous losses.

The Spartans, underfated in regular season play, made a desperation effort to pull out the game in the fourth period by scoring twice within eight minutes. But two gambles on two-point conversions both failed to give UCLA its margin of victory.

The loss was the first for Michigan State in the Rose Bowl on its third visit to the New Year's Day classic. Both previous victories having been over UCLA.

Stiles was voted player of the game. His first pass-interception started off the Bruins for their two touchdowns within three minutes. Both were scored by Beban on one-yard plunges and Kurt Zimmerman kicked both of the extra points.

Fullback Bob Apisa raced 38 yards for the first Spartan score. Quarterback Steve Juday plunged six inches for the second touchdown with 31 seconds remaining to play.

UCLA astounded the capacity throng of 100,067 by its hard hitting defensive work holding the Spartans on downs three times in the second half.

After Dick Kennedy had kicked UCLA in the hole in the first period, Stiles intercepted a Juday pass just before the end of the period and ran it back 42 yards to the Spartans' 43. The Bruins were unable to gain, and punted on third down.

Beban made five on the first play and plunged over from the one with only three seconds gone in the second period. The Bruins, just as they had done against the University of Southern California to win the Pacific Eight championship, made an onside kick that linebacker Dallas Grider recovered on the Spartan 41. Catching fire, the Bruins sent Mel Farr 21 yards through the line and then Beban hit end Kurt Altenberg with a pass on the one. Beban plunged over for the second score.

UCLA defensively outplayed the Spartans in the third period as they blunted every effort of the national champions to get a scoring drive underway.

But Michigan State finally got rolling when with eight minutes left to play Juday hit end Gene Washington with a 42-yard pass. Jim Ray then lateraled to Apisa, who faced 38 yards to score. But on a fake kick, Juday's attempted two-point conversion pass failed as he was hit by Jerry Klein.

UCLA was partly responsible for the final Michigan State score. Punter Larry Cox' kick was partly blocked by Spartan end Charley Smith.

Starting from their own 49, Michigan State on a brilliant series of passes from Ray and Juday to Washington worked the ball down to the UCLA one, but on fourth down Ray sneaked six inches to gain a first down and Juday dove into the end zone.

NEBRASKA GETS SOUR ORANGES

MIAMI (UPI)—Slender Steve Sloan staged the greatest passing display of Orange Bowl history Saturday night to power the lean and hungry Alabama football team to a 39-28 victory over the previously undefeated Nebraska Cornhuskers.

The 185-pound senior from Cleveland, Tenn., passed to end Ray Perkins for two touchdowns and a two-point conversion and his throws set up another touchdown and field goal to erase two Orange Bowl records, one of which had stood for 21 years.

Fullback Steve Bowman also plunged for two touchdowns to balance an attack which simply overpowered beefy Nebraskans, who outweighed Alabama an average of 20 pounds a man.

Nebraska quarterback Bob Churchick, throwing for three touchdowns and a two-point conversion in a losing cause, also went into the bowl record books equalling marks set by Frank Sinkwich of Georgia in 1942 and Jim Stull of Georgia Tech in 1948.

Passes Push Alabama to 39-28 Victory

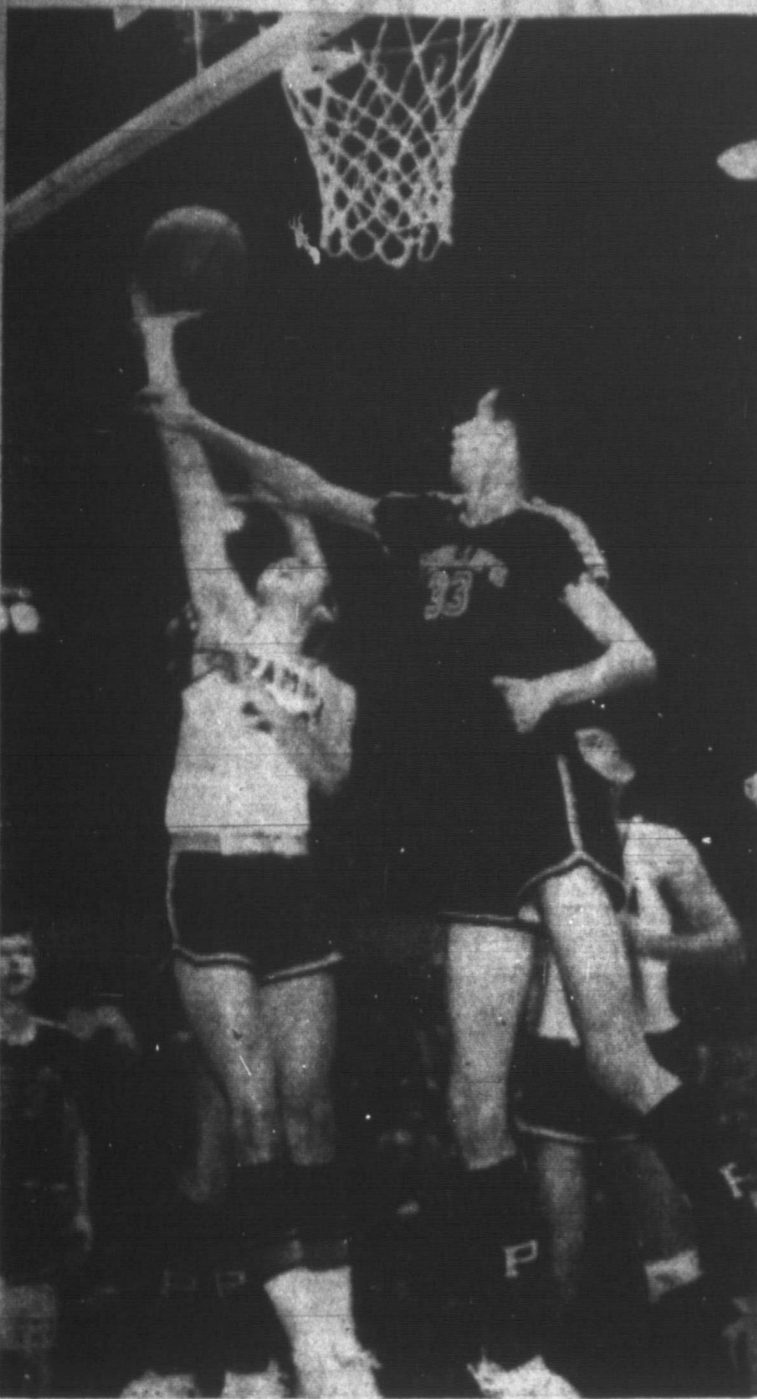

Alabama rolled to a 24-7 half-time lead as Sloan's passing carried for 258 yards. He hit Perkins for 21 yards and a touchdown in the first period to cap a 61-yard march and Alabama went in front to stay.

Nebraska's Larry Wehbits missed a field goal from the 10 and then it was Sloan throwing again.

He hit Dennis Homan for 25 yards and Wayne Cook for 15 as the Crimson Tide rolled to the Nebraska three and fourth down. David Ray dropped back to the nine for a goal attempt but it went Alabama, the Southeastern Conference champ with a 2-1-1 season, was ranked fourth in the nation.

Pampa Takes To T, 48-44

HE MADE IT — Mike Wise pushes in this shot before Phillips Mike Kimmins, 6'7 1/2 center, can get high enough to block it. Pampa won the Top O' Texas championship game for the 10th time in as many years, 48-44. (See other picture, story, page 11.)

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
Pampa made it 10 wins in 10 Top O' Texas Tournaments Friday night, but not until they had been extended to the hill by Phillips, 48-44.

In winning their sixth in a row and running their season record to 1-2, the Harvesters found themselves in trouble in the fourth quarter and only a fine effort by Kenneth McWilliams, David Cain, Mike Wise and good defensive work by Gary Crossland and Steve Williams pulled it out of the fire.

The loss broke a seven game winning streak for the Blackhawks, now 12-3, who used 6'7 1/2 Mike Kimmins as a decoy and almost upset the Harvesters on the outside shooting of Charles Hampton and David Bailey.

Hampton led all scorers with 16 and Bailey chipped in 10 as did Pampa's McWilliams and Wise. Cain led the Pampa parade with 13 points.

In a game that saw the lead change hands 18 times, four in the final eight minutes and saw 10 ties, the Blackhawks led briefly in the final period at 39-37 with 6:53 remaining on along one hander by Hampton.

But McWilliams, who had on three points the first half, narrowed the margin to 39-38 when he hit the front end of a one and one, his other shot going astray.

But the Blackhawks fouled again and this time the 6'3 senior pumped in both charity tosses for a 40-39 Pampa lead with 5:35 showing on the clock.

Phillips tied it briefly, on a free toss by Hampton but Cain who hit six of 13 from the field, hit a layup with 4:30 remaining and a 42-40 Pampa lead, that was never relinquished.

Mike Wise hit two charity tosses to make it 44-40 with 3:59 left and Steve Williams goaled for a 46-40 Pampa lead at the three minute mark and it was all over for Phillips.

After Hampton goaled to cut the margin to 46-42 McWilliams hit a goal to up it to 48-42.

Kimmins chipped in two free throws 1:22 from the end and the Harvesters went into a stall. Cain, Crossland and Williams all missed the front end of one and one situations but the Blackhawks couldn't find the range.

Pampa, who hit but 16 of 48 from the floor for 33 per cent, led 2-0, the 2-1, then 4-1 and 4-3 before Dean Smith gave Phillips its first tie at 4-4.

Then the lead changed back and forth, Phillips going in front 5-4 on a goal by Hampton, then Pampa on Cain's goal, 6-5. Kimmins hit to make it 7-6. Wise tied it 7-7 with a free throw and Crossland goaled for a 9-7 Pampa lead with 1:15 left in the opening period.

The Harvesters upped it to 14-8 as the period ended.

It appeared the Blackhawks were done for in the second period when Pampa fielded their biggest lead of the night at 18-10 on a free shot by Williams, Cain's goal and free shot, sandwiched in between a goal by Larry Reed.

But Bailey hit from outside, then chipped in a free toss, Kimmins goaled, Hampton did the same thing and Bailey hit another free shot to tie it 18-18 with four minutes left in the opening half.

Then the lead saw-sawed again with Pampa leading 24-22 before Reed's basket at the gun tied it 24-24 at halftime.

Pampa led by as much as four in the third period but the Blackhawks tied it 30-30 with four minutes to go before Crossland gave Pampa a 35-34 lead with four seconds left.

But Jim Carroll was fouled as the period ended and sank the charity toss to tie it 35-35.

Stevens Too Much For Frogs, 13-12

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Under-estimated Texas Western College soared back into big-time football Friday on the strong right arm of a sophomore quarterback nobody wanted, downing favored Texas Christian University 13-12 in the 31st annual Sun Bowl.

Quarterback Billy Stevens ripped TCU's vaunted pass defense for 208 yards on 21 completions in 34 attempts, giving the Miners a come-from-behind victory before a near-capacity partisan crowd of 27,450.

The victory capped a comeback from a winless 1964 season as Texas Western won eight 1965 games while losing only three under new coach Bobby Dobbs.

Stevens, voted the game's most valuable back, took control in the second half when the Miner defense stiffened in the face of a 10-0 TCU halftime lead.

Galveston Passer — The Galveston, Tex., reject-overlooked by major colleges because of a high school knee injury — pinpointed receivers Chuck Hughes, Bob Wallace, Mark Yarbrough and Chuck Anderson throughout the game, particularly in the second half.

Fill-in fullback Don Davis, a 213-pounder, provided the necessary punch up the middle to keep the TCU defense honest.

Texas Western scored on a 35-yard pass play from Stevens to Hughes in the third quarter and then on two field goals by Joe Cook — one in the third quarter for 21 yards and the second in the final stanza for 18.

TCU Scores — TCU jumped out front 1-0 late in the second quarter on an 11-yard scoring strike from quarterback Kent Nix to wingback David Smith. Earlier 1 35-yard field goal was kicked by Bruce Alford.

TCU got its final two points when the Miners elected to give the Horned Frogs a safety late in the fourth quarter.

The safety allowed Texas Western a chance to punt out of trouble with no pressure from the hard-charging TCU line.

"They thought we couldn't do it," Dobbs said. "I've never been prouder of a team in my life. They have such big hearts and they don't know when to quit."

Changed Plans — Dobbs said he changed his game plan at the half and had Stevens start throwing to the sidelines after running into a tight TCU pass defense over the middle.

The coach said he thought a long time about calling the safety with 40 seconds.

Sports Briefs

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — Former lightweight champion Ismael Laguna of Panama will fight British champion Maurice Cullen here Jan. 29. The arrangements were made Wednesday in a telephone conversation by promoter Felix Luciani and Cullen's representatives.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League have signed their fifth future draft choice John McGuire, a 6-4, 224-pound end from Syracuse University.

HOUSTON (UPI) — Former heavyweight contender Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, who fell to 158 pounds following hospitalization for a bullet wound in the stomach on Nov. 1964, is back to his fighting weight of 217 pounds and may fight again early next month, his manager said Wednesday.

SAO PAULO (UPI) — Defending champion Gaston Roelants of France is favored in the traditional St. Sylvester race Friday night. The 7,400 meter marathon, which has attracted an international field, is run through the hilly, stony streets of sao Paulo.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rudy Bukich, quarterback for the Chicago Bears of the National Football League, has joined the American Broadcasting Co. as sports director of its local television station, WBKE.

Pro Signing War Getting Too Rich?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Is the bonus signing war getting too rich for the National Football League?

It sure is beginning to look that way after George Halas of the Chicago Bears announced earlier in the week he was giving up on his team's No. 1 pick, tackle George Rice of Louisiana State, and the Los Angeles Rams quit on their top choice, Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California.

Rice can be picked up by any NFL team which wants rights to him, but it is an almost foregone conclusion that he'll sign with the Houston Oilers of the AFL, who last week reported offering him in excess of $300,000.

Garrett, though, didn't give the Rams a chance to think about him a second time after they said on Thursday night they were quitting the race because it had reached beyond their "sense of proportion."

Chiefs Signed Quickly — That left the field clear to the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL and they nailed Garrett between halves of the East-West Shrine game Friday.

Neither Garrett nor Don Klosterman the Chiefs' head scout, who signed him, cared to reveal how much Mike's bonus contract amounted to, but that wasn't hard to figure out if the Rams' report that they quit bidding just below the $300,000 mark is true.

Klosterman said only that Garrett signed a "multi-year" contract and that the Chiefs were tickled to death to get him. They should be, since they didn't pick him until the 20th round of the AFL draft, and then only to be on record.

Snow Falls Over Raiders, 31-21

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Individual honors in the 21st annual Gator Bowl went to a senior who has already received wide acclaim and a sophomore who apparently will someday be just as famous.

The senior was All-America halfback Donny Anderson, who was the star for the losers in Georgia Tech's 31-21 victory over Texas Tech and the sophomore was Georgia Tech tailback Lenny Snow.

Anderson, who signed for a reported half million dollars with the Green Bay Packers after the game, had the sort of day that had already made him one of the top college backs in the nation. He gained 85 yards on 13 carries, caught nine passes for 138 more yards and had a 41.6 punting average.

Snow, a 181-pounder from Daytona Beach, Fla., was a bit of a question mark for the Gator Bowl since he had been injured late in the season and in the final two games of the regular campaign had not been up to his early season form.

Snow Sets Record — But Snow was seldom better as he rolled up 138 yards in a record 35 carries to lead Georgia Tech to its come from behind victory to the delight of most of the record crowd of more than 60,000.

Anderson and Snow were both

Helpful Push by Marin Gives Duke, 95-73 Victory

By United-Press International

Jack Marin is the No. 1 reason that the Duke Blue Devils are the No. 1 basketball team in the nation.

Marin, a six-foot-six senior, hit 24 points Friday night to lead Duke to a 95-73 victory over Notre Dame and strengthen the Blue Devils' position.

The 200-pounder from Pennsylvania has played every game during his stay at Duke and led the Blue Devils in nearly every department, but he was at his peak against Notre Dame.

Sparked by Marin, the Blue Devils overcame a 10-2 deficit to take a 46-35 lead at halftime and coast to victory.

Others Less Fortunate — But fourth-ranked Bradley and 10th-ranked Minnesota didn't fare as well as Duke. Bradley lost its first game of the season as it bowed to Indiana 104-87, and Minnesota lost to Loyola of Chicago 82-69. Indiana, led by Butch Joy-

McAdams, Hullin Pace West Stars by 22-7

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — As a quarterback at the University of Washington, Tod Hullin was the guy who got the job done. He didn't set any worlds on fire, but he was an accomplished player who week after week did what he was asked to do — keep a sputtering offense rolling.

In the 41st annual Shrine classic Friday, the 21-year-old insurance major from Seattle, Wash., showed the favored East team — and maybe a pro scout or two — a sample of his ability.

Overlooked by the pros, and the East coaching staff, Hullin ignited the West to three touchdowns enroute to a 22-7 victory.

He threw TD strikes of 42 yards to Ben Hawkins of Arizona State, four yards to Gary Garrison of San Diego State and 10 yards to Ron Sbranti of Utah State, and it earned him the Coffman Memorial Award as the game's most valuable back.

His scoring also tied the game record shared by Guy Gibbs of Texas Christian and Daryl Lamonica of Notre Dame. The two, who went on to play in the pro ranks, set the mark in the same game — the 1962 classic.

Hullin completed nine of 17 passes in all for 133 yards and when he wasn't passing he did a fine job of handing off to Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California, Walt Garrison of Oklahoma and the other West running backs.

During the halftime intermission, Garrett signed a pro contract with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League for what was believed to be $300,000.

It's been a long time but Pampa has been held to less than 18 points in a basketball game.... The last time in 1937....

The Harvesters were beaten 17-16 by Alanreed (Who) in the finals of the Alanreed tournament on a jump shot at the buzzer by E. C. Fulton, who now resides in Pampa....

Culley Surprised

Remember Coy Palmer? He was part owner of Radio Station KPDM with Warren-Hassee but in 1937 Coy, an old friend of ours was the coach at Alanreed....

The 1960-61 season found Pampa losing to Tascosa, 27-25 and in '58-59 season the Harvesters beat Plainview in a low scoring contest....

The Bulldogs should have learned from that one that you'd just as well play the Harvesters game....

Coach Terry Culley said he was surprised when the Bulldogs came out stalling, figuring they had nothing to lose since they were already 1-3 in conference action....

Some of our gracious fans are blaming Pampa for the low scoring affair.... These are the fans that would be better off in a nut house than at a basketball game....

When UCLA played Duke on the Blue Devils home court this season throughout the game about 9,000 fans screamed in chorus: "UCLA go to Hell," and when a UCLA player stepped to the foul line to attempt a free throw the crowd whistled shrilly and made other noises....

That's even worse than some of the Pampa fans who Tuesday night spent much of their time razzing Plainview for stalling the ball....

Remember one thing.... The thing in coaching circles these days is win, or else....

In Houston the Milby Memorial Methodist Church like many other churches has a bowling team.... The team in second place, is called The Holy Rollers....

It just could be that Bucknell had the hottest passing quarterback in the nation this season.... Bob Marks, actually a defensive specialist tossed the pigskin 32 times, completed 22 with eight, or one of every four for a touchdown....

He flipped two in Bucknell's final game of the season and their first Middle Atlantic Conference championship....

Soccer Too Stay

Add Buffalo Bills coach Lou Saban who said.... "No we don't have a Johnny Unitas in the American Football League but there are 13 National Football League teams who don't either...."

Plans are already being made for Pampa High Soccer team to play a couple of opponents next season, Amarillo and a New Mexico team....

The game is being taught in Junior High circles by Pampa insurance man John McCausland, who also introduced the high school set to the game....

How's this for an easy way to beat the zone Press.... Oscar Robertson, Jerry West, Bill Russell, Jerry Lucas and Wilt Chamberlain....

The pro Detroit Pistons have found a new way to lose.... Wednesday night they stood helplessly by and watched Wilt Chamberlain sink a free throw after time had run out to hand them their ninth straight loss....

Some 400 golfers have already signed-up for the 40th annual $75,000 Los Angeles Open Golf tournament which opens the 1966 links season....

Included are Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Tony Lema, Juan Rodriguez and Gene Littler just to name a few....

JACKSON REBOUNDS — Big Spring center Robert Jackson (45) pulls down a rebound in his team's, 48-37 victory over Dumas for third place in the Top O' Texas basketball tournament Friday.

Big Spring Thumps Demons By 48-37

By A Staff Writer
Big Spring, minus 69 star Paul Thomas, staved off two Dumas rallies Friday night to win third place in the 10th annual Top O' Texas basketball tournament, 48-37.

Thomas, who was sorely missed in the Steers loss to Phillips Thursday night pulled a muscle Wednesday and didn't make the trip to Pampa.

But Big Spring got double scoring effort from 6'3 Robert Jackson and 5'10 Robert Jones to twice build up 10 point leads to see the Demons come charging back and trail by only two with less than two minutes to play in the game.

Ronnie Stephenson, hitting from outside, led the scoring for both teams with 14 points, including six baskets.

Big Spring led 12-8 at the end of the first quarter after jumping to a quick 4-0 lead that soon melted to a 5-4 Dumas lead on the Shooting of Stephenson and Bob McVicker.

But Jackson hit two free throws and Russ Kimble added two baskets for the first period lead.

In the second quarter Jackson hit three straight goals and Simon Terrazas two to give the Steers a 20-8 lead, their biggest of the night.

But James Curtis goaled twice and McVicker chipped in three straight free throws to cut the margin to 24-18 at half-time.

Stephenson goaled four times in the third period and the demons took a short-lived 30-28 lead before the Steers pumped in six straight points two goals by Jones and free throws by Jackson and led after three periods, 34-30.

It was nip and tuck in the final eight minutes with the Steers defense going to work and holding the Demons to but one field goal, by Stephenson. Jones goaled twice, the same as Johnson and the Steers went six for eight from the charity line to wrap it up.

Big Spring is 10-7 for the year and the Demons are 2-10.

Dumas hit 13 of 43 from the floor and the Steers did only slightly better at 17 of 48. But Big Spring hit 14 of 21 from the charity line while the Demons were downing 11 of 14.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Wall Street Chatter

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Newton

D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. says seasonal factors seem to favor a bull market for the near-term. The Dow-Jones industrial average, the analyst notes, is usually higher in the first part of a new year.

He says, however, progress in the advance-decline line has not been as good as gains in the average and that if this trend continues it could have some depressing effect on the market in the early part of 1966.

Goodbody & Co. says that while many traders are placing year-end funds on quality issues on long term positions, profit-taking may also increase in the high-flying issues, thus possibly pushing the Dow-Jones industrial average over the 1000 mark while the general market is on the downtrend.

Bache & Company says it would not surprise them if many of the issues which are presently being sold for profit rebound over the near-term. The company continues to maintain that selectivity in accumulating stocks is the best policy in the months ahead.

"SOME" TANKS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department says the United States is supplying "a certain number" of tanks to Jordan under the U.S. military assistance program. There have been published reports that between 50 and 100 M-48 Patton tanks had been given to the Arab kingdom. Asked Thursday how many were supplied, department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said only "a certain number."

Wedding Vows Pledged in Chapel Setting

Mrs. Jack Hood
... nee Miss Sheila Catherine Chisholm

St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church was decorated in a chapel setting for the Tuesday noon wedding of Miss Sheila Catherine Chisholm and Jack Hood, with only the immediate families of the bridal couple attending.

Red poinsettias and arrangements of red carnations appointed the altar. Pews were marked with red velvet bows and votive candles as were the white satin prier diex.

Miss Chisholm is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Arthur Chisholm of 800 N. Gray and Mr. Hood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hood of 717 Magnolia.

Rev. William V. Brennan, C. M., solemnized the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Jack D. Edwards, organist, presented Rossini's "Processional" and "Recessional."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white wool Chanel suit with satin rose motifs trimming the jacket. A pill box ring coif with satin rose motifs held a brief whimsy veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids tied with white satin streamers atop a white bridal prayer book.

Mrs. William G. Bush of Grand Junction, Colo., bride's sister, attended as matron of honor. Mrs. Bush wore a white wool dress trimmed with red and green embroidered flowers and carried a bouquet of red carnations encircled with holly berry leaves.

Mr. Hood served as his son's best man. Ushers were Duke Hood of Lawton, Okla., brother of the bridegroom, and Kevin Chisholm of Houston, bride's brother.

Joey Bush, nephew of the bride, and Jerry Urbanzyk, bridegroom's nephew, were servers. Mrs. Chisholm chose a suit of forest green crepe featuring a lace overblouse and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hood selected a Copenhagen blue knit suit accented by black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white glameifas.

Members of the bridal party and those in attendance at the wedding were honored at a luncheon following the pledging of vows in the home of Mrs. Ann Heskev.

Following the luncheon the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo. Upon their return they will make their home at 1328 Coffee St.

The bride, a graduate of Benedictine Heights College, Tulsa, Okla., is a teacher of social studies at Pampa High School. Mr. Hood attended Texas Technological University, Lubbock. He is presently associated with Cabot Engineering Company.

A rehearsal dinner honored the wedding party the evening preceding the wedding rites. Mr. and Mrs. Hood, parents of the bridegroom, hosted the affair in Quivira Room of Coronado Inn.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jourdan and family of Hobbs, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Martin Jr. of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bush and family of Grand Junction, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Chisholm of Franklin, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Chisholm of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Duke Hood and family of Lawton, Okla.

Miss Doggett, Michael Stephen Dant Marriage Officiated in Arizona Chapel

The Chapel of St. Barnabas on the Desert at Scottsdale, Ariz., was the scene for the wedding rites uniting Miss Joyce Adele Doggett and Michael Stephen Dant, both of Scottsdale.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Doggett of 915 N. Somerville and Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dant Jr. of Grosse Ile, Mich.

Rev. Gus Tuttle, assistant rector, pronounced the double-ring vows at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. Traditional organ selections were presented throughout the ceremony.

The chapel altar was appointed with sprays of red carnations accented by sprigs of white pine.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white cocktail-length gown fashioned of white peau de soie with lace appliques accenting the fitted bodice. The gown was designed with an A-line skirt and elbow-length sleeves. Miss Doggett's costume was completed by a Dior bow securing a brief veil and a bouquet of candy carnations centered with two natural cymbidium orchids.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was Mrs. John G.

Doggett Jr. of Scottsdale, Ariz., sister-in-law of the bride. She was attired in a red wool street-length dress and carried a bouquet of candy carnations and white pine sprigs.

Serving as his brother's best man was John Thomas Dant of Grosse Ile, Mich.

Traveling to Las Vegas, Nev. on a wedding trip the new Mrs. Dant chose a dark blue wool suit and lifted the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home at 7624 East Osborn Rd., Scottsdale, Ariz.

The bride, a graduate of Texas Technological University, Lubbock, where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority, is now employed by the Scottsdale Public School System. Mr. Dant, a graduate of Albion College, Albion, Mich., where he was a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, is also employed by the Scottsdale Public School System.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Doggett of Pampa; the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dant Jr. of Grosse Ile, Mich.; the bridegroom's brother, John Thomas Dant of Grosse Ile, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lewis and Miss Nancy Lewis of Indianapolis, Ind.

In an impressive candlelight ceremony performed at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, Miss Amy Lucille Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Gordon, 1917 Mary Ellen, became the bride of Harold Wilson Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvie Taylor of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Tipton Home Scene For Bethany SS Class Holiday Party

Mr. and Mrs. James Tipton and Mrs. Claude Wilson entertained members of First Baptist Church Bethany Class at a holiday party recently in the Tipton home at 1610 N. Russell.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Rachel Hutto.

Mrs. Mabel Winter read the story of the Nativity from St. Luke and Mrs. Doshia Anderson led the group in prayer.

Mrs. Rufe Jordan told the amusing story of "Minnie Pearl's Trials in Getting Ready for Christmas."

During the social hour gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

Guests welcomed were Mrs. Lorene Locke, Mrs. Sue Smiley and Mrs. Roberts of Wichita Falls.

Members present were Meses. Gussie Archibald, Clara Vandover, Doshia Anderson, O. A. Davis, O. T. Egerton, Ethel Vanderburg, A. N. Thorne, Jess Reeves, Lida Ramsay, Lela Phelps, Cora Patterson, O. J. Moore, C. L. McKinney, Myrtle McDaniel, Rachel Hutto, D. R. Henry, L. H. Greene, Pearl Gamage, Jay Evans, A. B. Reser, T. B. Clemens, T. V. Lane, Claude Wilson, James Tipton and Miss Edna King.

Dramatize Beauty
Shaders do much to bring a new look to a woman's face. Use of a dark shader over make-up helps create dramatic hollows in the cheeks, narrows a wide face or nose or minimizes a double chin.

Dr. Richard W. Crews of San Angelo officiated at the double-ring rites in First Methodist Church before an altar appointed with white China mums and hedged with lemon leaves. Spiral candles entwined with lemon leaves and bearing cathedral tapers flanked the altar arrangement. Aisles leading to the wedding scene were lined with votive candles and lemon leaves.

Wayne Pitner, organist, presented a program of traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Maurice Jayne of Oklahoma City, Okla., the bridegroom's sister, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Entering the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a formal-length gown fashioned of ivory peau de soie. The fitted bodice of the gown, designed with a sabrina neckline and long petal point sleeves, and the softly fitted skirt were embellished with appliques of re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearl motifs. A wateau train fell to chapel length. The bride's finger-tip veil of imported English illusion fell gracefully from a double-tiered pearl crown. She carried a white Bible topped by a cascading arrangement of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Bridal attendants were Miss Barby Crews of San Angelo, maid of honor; Miss Cheryl Ingoldstad of Bartlesville, Okla., bridesmaid, and Mrs. Tony Edmondson of Lubbock, bridesmatron. Attired identically in formal gowns fashioned of moss green crepe with empire styling and matching bow coifs with jet veils, each carried a trailing bouquet of white gardenias tied with green satin ribbon.

Miss Mary Leah Robinson, bride's cousin and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson of Canadian, served as train-bearer.

Richard Kleckner of Oklahoma City, Okla., attended as best man to the bridegroom while groomsman were Tommy Taylor and Maurice Jayne, both of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Seating the guests were Gordon Robinson of Port Arthur, head usher, and Bill Brady, Ray Brady and David Brady, all of Arlington.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gordon chose a formal-length gown fashioned of pale pink silk satin designed with a scoop neckline and bell sleeves. A long coat of garnet Renoir silk satin, lined to match her dress, completed Mrs. Gordon's ensemble. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bridegroom, selected a formal-length gown of light blue silk satin featuring dark blue over lace with silver trim, designed with a round neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Corsages for both mothers were of cymbidium orchids.

Guests were greeted in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn at the reception immediately following the pledging of vows. Mrs. W. H. Fuller provided background organ music throughout the receiving hours. The bride's table, covered with a floor-length white satin cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white gardenias and trailing smilax in a white ironstone bowl with white tapers. The bridegroom's table, covered with an ecru linen cloth, was centered with a silver bowl bearing an arrangement of red carnations.

Mrs. David Ward of Tulsa, Okla., served the bride's cake and Miss Martha Pattillo presided at the punch service. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Laura Taylor of Oklahoma City, Okla., served the bridegroom's cake and Miss Mary Jane Rose attended the coffee service. Guests were registered by Miss Rose. Other members of the house party included Mrs. L. J. Zachry, Mrs. Carleton Nance, Mrs. Juanita Suttle and Mrs. Tom Rogers.

The new Mrs. Taylor wonned a two-piece suit of pink silk with a white blouse, a white mink hat and brown accessories prior to departing on a wedding trip to points of interest in Oklahoma. She lifted the orchid corsage from the bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home in Oklahoma City.

The bride, a graduate of Pampa High School, attended Oklahoma State University. Mr. Taylor, a graduate of Star Spencer High School of Oklahoma City, attended Murray State Junior College and Oklahoma State University. He is presently employed at Tinker Air Force Base. Both of the newlyweds plan to continue their education at the University of Oklahoma.

Spring's Dresses Look Young

YOUNG FOR SPRING—There's a dress silhouette for everyone this spring and waistlines often turn up in unexpected places. Coat-dress (left) in black and white slubbed silk linen in a windowpane check has high notched collar and asymmetrical closing. Shape is straight as a wand. Navy silk crepe (center) has soft turtle neck, lowered waistline and shirred skirt. These are by Hannah Troy, Marie McCarthy for Larry At-drich designs—a natural look in the navy French jersey jumper (right) with white touches.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Hemlines swing at the knees and waistlines roam everywhere in the New York Couture dress collections for spring '66.

The newest silhouettes are the smock dress and the low-waisted, two-piece dress with short, full, flirty skirt and long sleeves.

Another new note was struck with the introduction of the underwear neckline—deep, almost U-shaped with straps.

There are lots of godels and swinging pleats. Hemlines really move this season.

Everything is soft and pretty. There are ruffled collars and cuffs and floral prints straight out of the '30s.

Navy and white are again color favorites along with camel and beige tones.

But pastels are important on the scene, too. Jade green, pink, pale blue and pastel paisley turn up in most collections. Even plaids are muted in many instances.

The fabric lineup includes silk linen, jersey, crepe and woolsens.

The day time dress look for spring this time around is young, soft and very feminine, but you don't have to be a teen-ager to wear it.

There is a heap of sophisti-

Altrusans Have Musical Program

Altrusa Club of Pampa members enjoyed a musical program recently in Starlight Room of Coronado Inn, led by Mrs. Malcolm McDaniel with Mrs. Fidelia Yoder serving as piano accompanist.

Those present repeated the Club Blessing in unison to open the meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Libby Shotwell, president. Mrs. Thelma Bray led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Miss Jessica Dugan, Altrusa Girl of the Month for December was introduced by Mrs. Louise Sewell.

The club will meet next at 12 noon, Jan. 10 in Coronado Inn.

CONTROL THAT ACNE

Shaggy hair does continue to aggravate teen-age skin problems. Both boys and girls suffer from acne. They need to follow a strict diet and shampoos aid the complexion, especially among those favoring the bangs and long hairbit.

Acne is packed into the new, young fashions.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMSON

AM BEGINNING to descend to earth after a gay holiday whirl. descend is a mild word. it's more like a dull thud when stepping off the bathroom scales. When pondering the situation it occurs some amazing statistics are often recorded during the holiday season. like, for instance, the record sales of merchandise, the number of highway fatalities, Christmas-incurred bills resembling the National Debt but right in the home there is a small object, the bathroom scales, which also records a staggering statistic. the number of pounds gained from Thanksgiving to Christmas and the villainous source of this weighty statistic is the beautiful innocent-looking hors d'oeuvre tray Pampa hostesses always fill to over-brimming and place in easy reach of guests. Now the amount of energy used on trips from one open house to another or merely across the street to chat a moment with a neighbor, is not nearly enough to burn up all the goodies. the fluffy, pink divinity studded with nuts; the chunks of velvety fudge surrounding pecan halves, the nut-stuffed dates, nut and fruit breads and mounds of heavenly fondants topped with an almond, cookies decorated with gooey icings, buttery crackers with cream cheese swirls, all of which this columnist gravitates toward like a moth to a candle, completely powerless against the impelling urge to reach out and take one. and one more of each. Next year it has been resolved to employ the Buddy System and enlist the services of a "Buddy" to accompany her to all parties and stay right by her elbow to place a restraining hand upon said elbow when she reaches too often. PJO'S calorie conscience just isn't enough for her. This we resolve for next year. What's your New Year's resolutions? Would like to have a list of reader's resolutions for next Sunday's column.

IT WASN'T that there was so much wrong with the old year, but Pampan's ushered it out in grand style and in the same manner welcomed the New Year in. Feel sure the new year felt like we were glad to have it even though most of the parties around town were subdued. Know we are not going to be as concerned about how it treats us as how we treat it. Many local residents welcomed the new year by attending special watch night services at Zion Lutheran, First Methodist, Assembly of God, First Baptist, St. Paul Methodist, First Christian and other churches. Pampa Country Clubbers welcomed in the new year by eating blackeyed peas and cornbread at 12:30 a.m. yesterday after enjoying an evening of dancing to music of Whisperin' Bill Covey at the club's Auld Lang Syne party. Guests at Coronado Inn's Pampa Club were served a prime rib buffet and completed the evening in usual fashion by dancing and merrymaking. Special New Year's dances were also held at the local Moose and Elks Lodges. Wonder how Pampan's New Year's expenses compare to those listed in a coast-to-coast sampling of prices at the top night spots of America. At Maxim's De Paris in Chicago, the cost for the evening for two was $100; New York's Latin Quarter charged $35 per person; Los Angeles ran the big town a good, stout second in the price department with a starting fee of $29.50 per person in the top spots. Texans like to think everything is just a little bigger in Texas, but compared to New Yorkers the oil and cattle barons of Dallas got off cheap. Most of the city's quality clubs let folks in for $25 each tops. New Orleans, naturally, featured jazz on New Year's Eve. It cost only $4.50 to book at Pete Fountain's and $4 at Al Hirts, but included only the first two warm-up palate ticklers.

RALH AND EVELYN Sidwell's home was filled with "Dark Eyed Susans" over the holidays as Mrs. Sidwell's daughters, Mrs. Toby (Kathy) Guynn and Mrs. Charles (Diana) Lillard, and two grand-daughters, Christi and Cindy Lillard, 7 and 4, all dark-eyed girls from Fort Worth were here for the holidays. Can't think of a more cozy or appropriate place to spend Christmas than "The Lynnwell," the Sidwell's cottage on Lake Stockton, where the group shared the holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Lillard left for Fort Worth last Sunday while Mrs. Guynn and the Sidwell's granddaughters stayed over until Wednesday before returning home. Welex employees and their families were entertained at a holiday party recently in Moose Lodge Hall. Following a barbecue dinner the some 35 children present were surprised by a visit from Santa before being taken home and put to bed so their parents could enjoy the evening of dancing. Heard that the tables for the event were attractively decorated with yucca plants sprayed with glitter. W. F. Nidiffer, station manager, played the part of St. Nick for the adults and presented each with a gift. The families of the Jim Hendersons, Crawford Benhams, Glynn Condit, J. D. Crawfords, Henry Frazers, L. D. Gommills, L. N. Hills, Jim Harris, R. O. Linville, Bill McCloins, T. R. Mersings, W. F. Nidiffers, Dave Rogsdills, Gene Shipmans, Roy Smiths, Max Turners, C. D. Walls, B. B. Whites, C. W. Denneys of Amarillo and Mrs. Darrell L. Thomas attended the event. Harold and Daphna Boer gave a come-and-go party Christmas Day evening for friends of their daughter and husband, Judy and Bucky Beasley of Houston. Most of the guests attending were members of the 1959 Pampa High School graduating class and from the guest list seems that many of the class members have made homes in Houston. Calling during the evening were Kevin and Jan (Foster) Chisholm, Robert Sidwell, Mary Ann Kelley, George and Jeanine (Harvey) Young, David and Linda (Skewes) Holt, Paul and Marilyn (Fite) Brown, all of Houston; Michael and Marjorie (Word) Oates of Odessa, Dr. Robert and Joan (Lunsford) Kuhne of Dallas, Jay and Barbara (Boer) Honey of Amarillo, and Pampons Eddie and Mary Duenkel, Marcia and Buzzy Hoover and Gene and Shirley Lunsford. Mrs. Boer also enjoyed having two of her nephews, Rev. Richard Lunsford and Bernie Lunsford of Amarillo, present at the party.

PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL graduating class of 1956 took advantage of many of its members being home for the holidays and had a class reunion Thursday evening in Pampa Country Club. Committee members making plans for the event, at which other PHS graduating class members were welcomed, were Mrs. Jack (Sheila) Hood, Mrs. Hunky (Carol) Greene, Mrs. Bobby (LaWanna) Thornton, Mrs. Morris (Nancy) Wilson and Duggan Smith. Out-of-towners enjoying the reunion were Eugene and Carol Anderson of Houston, Jewel and Janice Snider of Wheeler, Wayne and Sarah Davidson of New Orleans, La., Ronald Woods of Columbus, Ohio, Bill and Mickey Culppeper of Floresville, Bill and Cynthia Russell of Grand Junction, Colo., Larry and Dixie Clay of Tyler, Gregg and Jo Mankin of Washington, D.C., Ted and Marilyn Swindle of Hereford, Gary and Ruth Herr of Oklahoma City, Paul and Lillian Boumann and Kenneth Garman and Judy Jones of Perryton, Jerry and Mary Ann Tipton and Mary Young of Enid, Okla., Jack and Sally Smith of Panhandle, Buddy and Shirley Sharp, Lee and Sally Lehmann, Don and Caren Babcock, Gene and Wadene Vineyard and Wayne Smith, all of Amarillo and J. R. and Joan Cross and Woody and Kay Stewart of Lubbock. Pampan's attending the event were Duggan and Ruth Smith, Wesley Reeves, Bobby and LaWanna Thornton, Jimmy and Mary Lou Enloe, Hunky and Carol Greene, Tammy and Evelyn Richardson, Don and Ann Hinton, Jim and Gretchen Osborne, Dale and Shirley Largent, Butch Reynolds, Kenneth Sanders and Billie Flowers, Morris and Nancy Wilson, Harold and Dianne Studebaker, Jim and Kathleen Greene, Danny and Joye Brister, Jack and Delores Edwards, Louie and Betty Hooper, Gary and Johnnie Griffin and Bill and Louene Edwards.

Dear Abby....

You'd Better Believe There's a Difference

DEAR ABBY: Would you please tell me the difference between a maid and a housewife? My husband says there is no difference. Thank you.

WACO HOUSEWIFE
DEAR HOUSEWIFE: If you have a maid, you'd better keep your eye on your husband.

DEAR ABBY: I am a working housewife. I get up every morning at 5 and cook my husband a good breakfast. I don't consider it a chore, Abby. I love to do it. But I am not very talkative in the morning. In all my 41 years of life, I have never liked to talk to anyone right after I get up. It takes me a couple of hours before I feel like talking. This has caused a lot of arguments with my husband. He says if I don't feel like being sociable in the morning I should stay in bed. But I like to get up and cook him a nice breakfast as a wife should. I don't care if anyone talks to me or not in the morning, so why should he be so stubborn on this one point?

A GOOD WIFE
DEAR WIFE: No matter how good the breakfast is, it's apparently not as important to your husband as the "sociability" he's missing. Not all husbands are alike. Some would rather have less gab and more grub. But yours is the one you have to live with; so either make an effort to be more cheerful and communicative in the morning or stay in the sack.

DEAR ABBY: I would like a little advice on how to handle a situation that concerns my daughter and myself. She is 16, and has a rather steady boy friend. Because I am a divorcee and have to work, I cannot be home until 6 in the evening. I have made a rule that she should not have her boy friend come into our apartment until I get home. She says she should be able to invite him in after school, even though I am not there. I might add that her younger sister and brother (ages 8 and 11) are usually home. Also my daughter's word is good. I trust her, the boy is a nice boy, but I don't want her talked about, and we live in an apartment with many nosy gossips.

WORKING MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: If you have made an ironclad "rule" with only your nosy, gossipy neighbors in mind, you are being unfair to your daughter. Tell her she may let her beau come in after school for no more than an hour, occasionally, but not every evening. Give her a chance to use her own judgment and expect the best of her and I'll bet she won't let you down.

DEAR ABBY: My son, a junior in high school, has an English teacher who, in my opinion, has a warped sense of humor. She recently gave her students an assignment of which I think you should be aware. She asked them each to write you an "imaginary problem." She said, the wilder the problem, the better. I don't know what she expects to prove. I certainly can't see any literary value to an assignment of this kind. I suppose by this time you are an expert at detecting counterfeit letters, but I wanted to warn you that about 50 of them will be coming your way soon. This is modern education?

RAT FINK FATHER
FROM BOSTON
DEAR RAT FINK: Perhaps the teacher wants to encourage creative writing. I hate to disappoint her, but no matter how much imagination the students show, the results can hardly match the fantastic, absurd but entirely authentic problems that people send my way every day.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

What To Do For Child's Toothache

What should you do if your child gets a toothache in the middle of the night? Here's some advice to parents from the American Society of Dentistry for Children on what to do and what not to do.

Probably the best thing to do first is to give the child aspirin in the same dosage that has been recommended by your physician for the child's headache or temperature.

Heat is also soothing, says ASDC, and a hot water bottle or warm heating pad may help the child get to sleep. Don't say the society of dentists devoted to furthering children's dental health, put an aspirin inside the child's mouth against the tooth. It won't help any more than putting an aspirin in your shoe will help an ache in your toe — and the child could get an aspirin burn in his mouth.

Don't put whiskey on the tooth. This is another idea that comes under the heading of an "old wives' tale."

Old-fashioned home remedies like oil of cloves usually are impossible for mother to get far enough into the tooth to do any good, say dentists who work with children as patients.

So — if your child wakes with a toothache in the middle of the night, aspirin and soothing heat are your best bets until you can get the child to his dentist in the morning. "And," adds Dr. William E. Allen of Pasadena, Calif., president of the American Society of Dentistry for Children, "if your child has had regular dental examinations beginning when all of his primary teeth have erupted, you are unlikely to face the emergency of a middle-of-the-night toothache."

BOUGHAN - VANDOVER —

A June wedding is planned by Miss Sammy Jo Boughan and William Boyd Vandover, according to an engagement announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Boughan of White Deer, parents of the bride-elect. The prospective bridegroom is the son of C. L. Vandover of 317 N. Dwight and Mrs. Audrey Vandover of Sacramento, Calif. Miss Boughan is a senior in White Deer High School and Mr. Vandover is attending Frank Phillips Junior College.

Crystal and cut-glass will sparkle if it is washed in water to which a little ammonia is added.

By CARROLL RIGTER

FOR SUNDAY, JAN. 2
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Any wish that you are tempted to do should be forgotten now and you would be wise to get right into the flow of practical benefits that can come to you through right thinking and a realization that there is an abundance and to spare all about you, an excess.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Avoid those individuals who are endeavoring to lead you in the wrong direction and keep busy at whatever is truly constructive. Use your intuition. Know who can be of greatest assistance to you.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Any personal desire can be good after with success on this free day. Avoid those who are higher-ups. Make yourself as attractive as you can. Show that you have real character when dealing with others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Plan your time so that you need not neglect to go to church and get all that good work, letters, etc., out of the way quickly. Study how to increase holdings you now have. Read classics that are educational.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Using your intuition shows how to get the right kind of help from close pals. See at this time. Forget those persons who are not really interested in your welfare. Be with understanding souls.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Forget your associates today. You are in a lousy mood and be with big-idea who can be very helpful to you. See that you do not argue with anyone. Otherwise, this could lead to real trouble that is long-lasting.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — You can get wonderful ideas now. You are with fascinating persons who are idealistic. Make new plans that are exciting. Forget all that drudgery and off to whatever leads to advancement.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — It's all right to get into recreational activities. Provided you first keep promises you have made. Be sure to carry-through with duties your mate expects of you. Be thoughtful and pleasant.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — You can step out early to be with those persons who can be helpful in your scheme of things. Your ideas are not quite applicable at some right time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) — Focus your attention on how come to a very harmonious relationship with co-workers in a firm. Then get health and clothing improved. Go for a little joyride tonight with closest tie. Be happy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 19) — You can have an exceptionally fine day and evening and need not spend too much money. Get into activities that are very pleasing and, with cooperation by your side. Don't try to be so independent.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19) — It is better not to argue and simply go ahead and do what you expect of you. Maintain harmony. Plan how to get some fundamental plan working in the future so that you have greater income.

Sniffers, Sprayers and Switchers Are Playing Havoc With Profit in Markets

NEW YORK — Sniffers, sprayers and switchers — three common varieties of the two-legged supermarket pest — are playing havoc with stores' profits, manufacturers' products and packagers' designs, reports Modern Packaging, McGraw-Hill publication.

These pests can be found busily at work behind the long rows of unattended shelves in markets. As they scurry from aisle to aisle, they leave a tell-tale wake of spoiled food, gooey floors and sticky fingerprints behind them.

This sloppy trail has enabled packagers to identify three typical pests, and to describe their modus operandi:

The sprayer — this pest comes in both child and adult form, and is attracted by aerosol cans. The sprayer cannot resist picking up an aerosol can and depositing a layer of paint, soap or hair lacquer over stock and fixtures.

The sniffer — this one is hypnotized by food jars with removable tops. A fully developed sniffer cannot resist screwing off a cap, then sniffing and tasting the contents. When this pest is finished, it leaves partially-closed jars on shelves to decompose.

The switcher — this is a highly-larcenous, economy-minded pest. It will screw the top off a 39-cent half-gallon bottle and put it on a 69-cent gallon bottle, thus saving itself 30 cents and reducing the store's profits.

When these pests swarm around the market shelves, they leave the stores, packagers and manufacturers highly susceptible to law suits. By breaking vacuum seals, the food if undetected will spoil, and the purchaser, and ultimately the store or producer, will suffer, not the pest.

Also, by making test runs with a spray-can and then returning it to the shelf, the pest leaves the packager open to charges of underweight filling.

Packagers have found that stamping out this blight is not an easy job. If they use the obvious remedy of making a jar impossible to open in the store, the jar will be just as impossible to open at home.

But methods have been found to counter-act this plague. For the sprayer, an aerosol can has been developed that has a plastic overcap. The cap can only be removed by inserting a coin between two lugs, stretching, and ultimately breaking, a thin connecting strip.

A simple strip of foil may knock the sniffer out of business. The foil runs from the cap down the side of the container, and it must be broken to open the lid.

Packagers are putting a crimp in the operations of the switcher by making it a rule that different sizes in a product line will have different sized caps. This adds a little to the cost, but it foils the switcher.

It's the heat, not the pressure, that gives good ironing results, say home economists.

Leftover starch solution kept in a sealed jar will keep in-knock the sniffer out of business.

EASY DOES IT
NEW YORK (UPI) — Are Americans getting too lazy? Losing their muscle? Or just plain tired from pushing so many buttons?

The questions are prompted by a report that sales of electric knives will hit $10-million next year, Edward P. Reavey Jr., of Hamilton Beach, who made the report, didn't mention anything about research concerning an electric spoon or fork. Some things, it seems, don't lend themselves to the motorized treatment.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Save It For Uncle

If you were among the lucky people who took home a Christmas bonus check or some other holiday windfall, you probably know just how you're going to spend it. We don't like to be a kill-joy, but we think you should delay your plans and stash it away until April 15. The chances are you're going to need it to settle up with the Internal Revenue Service. There's general agreement that most people are going to be unpleasantly surprised this year when they figure out that they have to pay Uncle even more than they did last year. The reason is, you now have to pay for such things as higher benefits for the old folks at home, liberally voted by the politicians just before last election. So, lay it aside brother, or arrange to see that friendly man at the personal loan department of your bank. Of course increases in social security and medicare are only two of the reasons why more and more of your salary is sliced off for federal, state and local taxes. Today government is our biggest industry, by far, with 12.7 million Americans, one in six, on a government payroll. Obviously they don't work for nothing and in the course of their activities they are spending almost twice the $7.2 billion that was spent by the government a decade ago.

Another Indian Giver

"Indian giver" is a term of derision long favored by youngsters. It has to do with someone who gives you something—and then demands it back. Nowadays, Indian giving can be accurately used to describe the tax system. We have had a modest reduction in federal income taxes. This action was greeted with an immense amount of publicity and was described as a shot in the arm for the economy. And, it is true, just about everyone has had a little more take-home pay to spend. But this happy situation is soon to end — either entirely or in large part — for most people. The reason: In 1966, a worker with an income of $6,600 or more will pay $277 in social security taxes — $103 more than the $174 he paid in 1965. The employer's contribution will go up by an identical amount. And this won't be the end. More increases will go into effect periodically. By 1967, the $6,600 a year worker will pay $373, as will his employer. And self-employed people will then pay $315. Tax reductions are fine. But they don't mean a thing when tax increases take all or most of the money right back.

In the Wrong Places

In the past year or two, news dispatches have reported Soviet experiments with the much-reviled profit system as a means of spurring lagging production in various fields. And it certainly seems that these are sorely needed — if the economic ambitions of the bosses in the Kremlin are to be realized to any substantial degree. For instance, not so long ago we were told of vastly ambitious Soviet plans to increase electric power output. And fears were expressed in our own country that Russia might overtake us in this vital sphere. But now the UPI says, in a news dispatch from London, that "A growing shortage of power is reported to have started hitting European Russia's economy, which still provides the backbone of Soviet industry." And the trouble seems to be that the Soviet bureaucracy and its managers, being unconcerned with profits or public demand, have been building power plants in the wrong places. The dispatch continues: "Soviet planners have made considerable efforts to develop power in Siberia and to attract industry there. But emigration to those parts has been disappointing. Consumer demand is low and there is a shortage of manpower, with big power stations built up in the area partly idle." The fact is that this country is far ahead of the Soviets in power output and that the lead increases. Credit that, like so many other of our economic achievements, to a system which recognizes the need for fair profits and is solidly based on the encouragement of private enterprise.

"When you find your brother nitchy, or I'll take your Viet Cong flag away."

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

THE WAR FROM WITHIN

Beginning October 15, the friends of the Communist Viet Cong launched a major attack inside the United States for the purpose of crippling American resistance to communism in South Viet Nam. This propaganda attack seems likely to continue well into the winter unless the U. S. government takes long overdue measures to expose the communist conspiracy and infiltration which lies behind the protest marches, draft-card burnings, and other forms of agitation now current. Several years ago, when civil disobedience first began to be a fashion among left-wing extremists, the majority of Americans could not bring themselves to believe that the radicals would engage in direct attacks on the United States. Suddenly, the public has awakened to the dangerous reality that the radicals represent. Starting from the Berkeley campus of the University of California — a nest of leftist subversion on the West Coast — several thousand radicals marched on the U. S. Army Military Terminal at Oakland. The significance of this march should be clearly understood. It was as much an attack on the United States as a regular Viet Cong "hard core" unit attack on the U. S. Marine Corps base at Da Nang, South Viet Nam.

In the past, the United States has known crackpot protests. The American people are generally tolerant of oddball elements in their midst, assuming that in a country this big there are bound to be some unstable types who need humoring. But the militant radicals who attempted a "train-in" — the halting of troop trains — are not the usual lunatic fringe. As members of Congress have rightly stated, the marchers came close to treason. It should be borne in mind that the U. S. Constitution defines the crime of treason as adhering to the cause of an enemy of the country. Great numbers of the demonstrators are not simply against a particular U. S. policy in the Far East; they are advocates of the Communist Viet Cong, and say they hope the V.C. will triumph over the American forces facing them in the jungles and rice paddies of Southeast Asia.

U. S. Atty. Gen. Katzenbach has said that communists are involved in the demonstrations, and indicated that prosecutions soon may take place. Certainly, citizens can be glad of Mr. Katzenbach's belated discovery of Red involvement and his even more belated remark concerning prosecution. It is, of course, very good that the FBI has arrested those law-breakers who have burned their draft-cards, which act is a visible demonstration of disloyalty to and contempt of the United States.

But a much more vigorous program of prosecution is in order. The government should move against all those who have urged Americans not to register for the draft. Such urging is a violation of the Selective Service Law. In addition, espionage acts enacted into law in 1917 provide penalties against those who attempt to strike a blow against the United States from within.

What America is witnessing is a form of communist guerrilla war. And the public should realize that a guerrilla war doesn't always take place in faraway places with strange-sounding names. It can take place in decent communities populated by respectable people. This is the case with the anti-Viet Nam protests. A comparative handful of political incendiaries can do damage to a country that is completely disproportionate to their numbers. And make no mistake — blocking troop trains and burning draft-cards are crimes. They constitute aiding an enemy of the United States.

Aside from a badly needed prosecution of law-breakers, there should be a congressional investigation. All the groups that urge taking pressure off the Viet Cong should be scrutinized. None should be exempt. For example, Congress should look into the matter of the National Council of Churches' World Order Study Conference recommendation of Oct. 23 that the U. S. halt bombing of North Viet Nam for an indefinite period. The timing of the recommendation, in the midst of an international campaign to break U. S. resistance, is cause for concern among all good citizens and citizens. The country needs to get at the root of who is behind the drive to injure our defense efforts against communism in Asia.

Here's Hoping Both Can Do It—

ROBERT ALLEN

Backstage Washington

Sen. Long Assuming Kefauver Role in Exposing Patent 'Profiteering' by Drug Manufacturers; Seeks Preventive Law

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Senate Democratic Whip Russell Long, La., is aspiring to a favorite gadget role of the late Senator Estes Kefauver — exposing "monopolistic profiteering" by drug manufacturers. For this purpose Long, Chairman of the Small Business Monopoly Subcommittee, is set to conduct a slam-bang investigation in the coming session of Congress.

In preparation for this probe, a staff of investigators has compiled a large arsenal of "evidence" that will be unveiled in a series of public hearings — which Long hopes will garner as many headlines as Kefauver did.

Particular targets will be drug companies charged with making huge profits by gaining exclusive patents on products developed by government-financed research. Specific cases in Long's files — which will be presented in detail in the course of the public hearings — deal with instances of federally-financed inventions that were not reported to government authorities, collusion involving government employees, charging excessive prices for these products, and reaping high stock market profits.

Long's avowed aim is the enactment of legislation to put an end to these practices and loopholes. "I don't want a company to develop a product as a result of the expenditure of taxpayers' money," says the son of the late turbulent Huey "Kingfish" Long, "and then obtain a patent on the process so it can charge as much as it wants. My investigators have uncovered instances in which drug prices are 1,000 times the cost of production.

"There is a difference between a person paying 14 cents for a pill for diabetes developed by a private company, and paying only one-half cent for a pill developed by research conducted with government money. Over a ten-year period, the difference in cost to a diabetic could be the difference between $1,500 and $48.

"That's the kind of money we are dealing with." Hardest hit, contends Long, are older people who spend an estimated $1 billion a year for drugs and medicines. "They generally have the lowest income," he notes, "yet need three and one-half times more medicinals than other age groups."

—AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN — Unquestionably, behind Long's zealous concern about "monopoly" and "profiteering" in drugs are other motivations. The 47-year-old Louisianan definitely has his eye on the national political arena. In these ambitions, he already has a head start. He holds a number of key places in the Senate hierarchy.

In addition to heading the monopoly subcommittee, Long is slated to become chairman of the powerful Finance Committee, which has jurisdiction over all revenue legislation, is a member of the prestigious Foreign Relations Committee, the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation — is Democratic Whip, the party's No. 2 leader in the chamber.

Few senators wear as many potent hats.

Significant of Long's standing in the Senate is that he was supported by both conservatives and liberals when elected Whip. He can be expected to make the most of his contemplated investigation. Long is as skilled and experienced in gaining public attention as Kefauver was. Also, to assist him Long has on his staff several of the late Tennessee's ace investigators.

They have armed him with a lot of ammunition. "CLASSIC EXAMPLES" — Foremost among the cases due to be aired are those involving patented measles and pneumonia vaccines. Long cites them as "classic examples of the quest by drug companies to profit from public research."

Two companies in particular will be probed. One patented a measles vaccine that it claimed, was based on work done under a government contract but not reported to the government. The other concern attempted to gain exclusive patent rights on a pneumonia vaccine developed under government-financed research. Domestic rights were denied, in a last minute administrative ruling, but the way was left open to obtain highly profitable foreign rights.

Following are highlights of these cases as recorded in Long's files: A medical scientist in an eastern university received two grants from the U. S. Public Health Service to develop a German measles vaccine. Expectation of these funds is not clear, but one of them definitely amounted to $367,602. After three years of this research, a drug company secured a patent on a vaccine developed by the scientist.

Shortly thereafter, the Health Service established that the patented vaccine was predicated on the scientists' research financed by the government — but not reported to the government.

Katherine Parent, special assistant for extramural patents of the National Institutes of Health, flatly made this charge to Herschel Clesner, a Public Health official. In turn, he informed Deputy Surgeon General David Price that "There appears to be no doubt that NIH support funds were utilized for (the company's) benefit. It also probably received other PHS support."

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Planning for Happy New Year? Here's Good Recipe

By SAM CAMPBELL
Business Editor
According to the Book, if you want to be sure of having all you need to eat and wear, follow this rule:
"Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these THINGS will be added unto you."

Frankly, the casual relationship between "seeking" and "things" seems a bit vague at first glance. A more intelligent approach would be: Find out what you want, and then seek that. In other words, seek things, seek food, seek clothing, seek material. Why go around the barn?

The trouble with the intelligent approach is that it is man's intelligence. Man is a creature, not the creator. His experience is limited. What seems real to him may be only an optical illusion, a misleading of the sensory faculties.

So let's back up and see whether the Creator's plan has any merit to it. He said "seek". That means start looking, start exerting energy, mental and physical. Then He said "Seek the kingdom of God." What is that?

Well, any kingdom has a king. In this case we are told the king is not a man, but God himself. When God is king of your life, you will have little toleration for rule by anyone else. In short, you will have found that strength that is greater than yourself and you will have no emotional need to idolize the State or some political hero.

Practical Aspect

But how does the kingdom of God make us any money to buy food and clothing with?

To get the answer to that, examine that phrase "and His righteousness." To say it another way, God has a right way for doing things. He begins with correct principles. He follows correct methods. He obtains accurate results. Right principles rightly applied always lead to right results.

God started out with nothing and created the universe. Is it not perfectly reasonable, therefore, that if you follow His advice you will not come out shirtless and starving?

The man who seeks God's righteousness studies the needs and wants and aspirations of those around him. He SEEKS to understand the other person's point of view. He endeavors to treat that other person exactly as he himself would like to be treated.

And the inevitable consequence of just this seeking is that he becomes the greatest of experts in customer relations. Of course, he makes a living. Every business man wants to hire the chap who knows how to make his customers happy.

Take the hunter who studies God's righteousness. He reads the signs of nature. He studies the habits of the muskrat, the mink. He takes his lesson from the Person who made it all. Of course, he catches more game and continues to do so.

In short, you can spend an awful lot of time, money, and nerve power in a desperate activity to gain the satisfaction of material wants. But the man who takes thought as to the right way to proceed, gains effortlessly whatever substance he requires.

That's a thought that if taken to heart will lead you to a wonderfully happy New Year.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

The Alternative: Win or Lose

The war in Viet Nam could be won and won quickly. We have not bombed the main staging areas in North Vietnam, nor the big supply depots, nor the airfields where enemy planes are kept. We should immediately destroy the industrial potential in the Hanoi-Haiphong area. This is where munitions are made. This is where supplies are received. We should give fair warning to the countries sending ships to these areas to keep their ships out or run the risk of being bombed. After that, we should destroy the oil stores, the munition stores, the wharfs, the buildings housing the headquarters of government and military operations, and in fact the whole war-making capacity of North Vietnam. We could do this in the most humane way possible by telling Ho Chi Min that it would be done, unless he stopped aggression in South Vietnam.

In our opinion it is poor strategy to keep unloading vast quantities of bombs on forests and rice paddies of South Vietnam, while making relatively minor raids of ten to twenty tons of bombs on the more important targets in North Vietnam. Even at that, these light loads of bombs are not dumped on the really important targets in North Vietnam, but on such secondary objectives as bridges, roads and railways. These can all be quickly restored.

It is highly immoral to sacrifice the lives of American boys in a war which we do not intend to win. No community was ever made safe by "containing" its bullies, or inducing them to come to a conference. Domestic tranquility can be obtained only by soundly thrashing them.

The liberals say that such action might escalate the war. It is far more likely to be escalated if we continue the fighting indefinitely without winning it than it would be if we put forth the necessary effort to deliver the knockout blow promptly. This could be done long before China could be in position to take any serious action. If we show determination and strength, the U. S. S. R. would certainly not risk an encounter, especially when the result would be a setback for their mortal enemy, the Chinese Communists, whom they know have designs on the empty space of Siberia.

By refusing to win the war in Korea, we strengthened Chinese prestige, greatly lowered the morale of the free countries in Southeast Asia, and set the stage for the defeat of the French in Indochina and now for our own long continued indecisive war of attrition, the end of which cannot be other than defeat. We must either win this war, or we will lose it.

"CONSTRUCTIVE, 1950," 5TH INSTALLMENT

"Liberal" has been, is now, and ever will be a popular banner around which its many and varied followers wax warm. It is a perennial philosophy, ever blossoming, and when all goes well, its fruiting of progress, benefits and welfare is gratefully acknowledged and thankfully received. There are many to call it blessed.

The wise, honest and truly prudent must view the Liberal in the light of the company he keeps. Liberals, finding it difficult to do so, fail to discipline their rank and file and in attempting to attain their idealistic goals, accept or eagerly enlist the help of political machine bosses, even letting their stooges carry the ball while skillful subversives seeking to destroy America run interference.

"Constructive" is the opposite of destructive. It suggests origination and a state apart from inaction. "Constructive" indicates creative, productive, effective and dependable action. It suggests achievement, dignity, development, economy and integrity and thereby qualifies as a name for a philosophy of fine intent and best endeavor.

There is a quality of discipline in the word "constructive" which will cause those who strive to earn this title to do good and be better — to be more constructive. There could never be a constructive lunatic fringe, and it is difficult to visualize a constructive henchman, henchman or racketeer. "Constructive" development means neither overdone nor underdone. "Constructive" economy calls for proper expenditures, neither too much nor too little. "Constructive" criticism is an expression of honest, helpful and impartial opinion. "Constructive" integrity means unquestioned and complete.

Members of political parties are all mixed up about what their party stands for. The present contest, which will decide the fate of the nation, is not one between political parties, but rather a death struggle between concepts.

Barbara Stanwick Fountain of Youth

By VERNON SCOTT
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Barbara Stanwick stars in television's "The Big Valley," lives in a small house in Beverly Hills and wouldn't have it any other way.

The long-time star of movies and video inhabits a two-bedroom, one-bath Cape Cod-style house in which one bedroom has been converted into an office. There are servants' quarters for a housekeeper who relieves the actress of all cooking and other domestic chores.

"I lived in a much larger home when my Uncle Buck was alive," Miss Stanwick says. "But since his death it didn't make sense for me to be rattling around in a big place."

Miss Stanwick looks a decade younger than her 57 years and overflows with energy.

She frequently does her own stunts for the rough and tumble NBC-TV series, admitting: "I'm a frustrated stunt woman. When I first entered movies a couple of stunt men showed me a few tricks to keep from getting hurt in action scenes. I still use them today."

Another factor Miss Stanwick attributes to her magnificent physical condition and knockout figure is her diet: Loves Steak.

She eats steak three times a day — and not much else.

"When I get up in the morning I have steak and potatoes to give me energy for the 12 hours I'll have to spend at the studio," she explains. "Then at noon I don't like a heavy meal because it makes me sleepy. So I have steak and milk."

"At night I'm really too tired to go out for dinner or to entertain at home, so I have the housekeeper fix me a big dinner — steak, string beans and salad."

"I don't live on steak for weight reasons. I've never had that problem. Steak is the best energy food in the world — and besides that, I love it."

Miss Stanwick doesn't live entirely alone. Her companion is "Tiger," a striped cat who came to her door four years ago and has made herself at home ever since.

And a comfortable home it is. Barbara's color schemes are pink and lilac in her bedroom. The living room — which incorporates a bar and den — is decorated in beige and rust with modern comfortable furniture. She had a swimming pool installed in the yard, but swims only during hot spells.

"The minute a breeze comes up I run for cover," she says. The actress, formerly married to the late Frank Faye and Robert Taylor, has covered the walls of her rooms with paintings, including a Utrillo and a Valmink. But her favorites are by such friends as director Richard Whorf and Paul Clemmens.

Conservative Dresser

Like the character she portrays in the weekly series, Barbara prefers simple, tailored clothes. And she's dead set against capri pants and slacks for women in public.

"Females have no idea how awful they look in tight pants," she says. "I wear slacks to the studio, but I change as soon as I get into my dressing room. I don't like to see them in public."

She leans to suits and dresses in beige, reds and navy blue. In the evening Barbara favors brocaded evening gowns.

"I hate hats," she laughed. "They have to fight to get me into one. But I'm a nut for shoes and have many of them covered in the same material as my dresses. When I'm shopping around Beverly Hills I like to wear sweaters and skirts."

Miss Stanwick is something of a loner in Hollywood. She rarely seen at discotheques, night clubs or even chin dinner parties. When she entertains it is for only two or three couples at dinner.

"Big gatherings are tiresome," she explained. "And if you go to a party in honor of a special guest you never really have time to sit down and talk to him. The hostess is always dragging him off to talk to someone else."

Neither does Miss Stanwick date frequently. Her life is dedicated to her work which she finds the most fascinating pastime of all.

Television in Review

 There is a very wild sort of idea making the rounds — HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — New Year's notes to watch television by.

The Headliners: Craig Stevens, formerly video's "Peter Gun," is seen hunting a tiger in India when ABC-TV's "The American Sportsman" returns Jan. 23 with a new series of specials. . . . Phil Harris will appear on ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" Jan. 15.

Sarah Vaughan sings on NBC-TV's "Today" show next Friday. . . . Eva Gabor has been reported not especially thrilled that many listings of her CBS-TV series, "Green Acres," put down Eddie Albert's name as the star while ignoring her.

There is a very wild sort of idea making the rounds — maybe it started as a joke, and maybe it didn't — that Allan Sherman, taking note of the tests on the networks, is thinking of doing a special entitled "The National Trivia Test."

Television's David Wolper is reported to have bought the rights to Theodore Sorensen's book, "Kennedy," about the late president, and is planning to make a documentary of it. Richard Nixon is interviewed Jan. 30 on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers."

Not long ago, when Steve Allen hoped to run for Congress as a potential Democratic representative from California, he temporarily did not appear.

OIL STRIKE: A helicopter (man inside) moves toward "Sea Gem," one of the drilling platforms in the North Sea which the British look upon as a foreign country.

Article Outlines Oil Industry Prospects in '66

Optimism for the coming year in the domestic petroleum industry is expressed by 23 independent oil producers whose views are presented in the current issue of Independent Petroleum Monthly.

The producers wrote their views and opinions for the year-end "Outlook & Review" section of the magazine, which is the official publication of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Throughout the individual statements, such words as "aggressive," "alert," "imaginative" and "resourceful" stand out as those characteristics most necessary for success in oil exploration and development in 1966.

The consensus of these producers is that 1966 will be a better year for the domestic oil industry. They view the new year as one filled with increased activity in most areas, many opportunities still available, but no place for anyone who does not give it the best of his abilities and capabilities.

Many of the producers, who represent 17 of the 32 producing states, called attention to specific conditions upon which they based their opinions for next year's activities — a new thermal techniques in California, better state regulatory conditions in Montana and Ohio, a new geological mapping program in Kentucky, a new discovery allowable in Kansas and increasing demand for crude oil.

However, there was caution in many of the forecasts. Throughout the views, there was concern expressed as a result of seven years of crude oil price erosion in the face of increasing costs of labor and materials. Several producers called particular attention to federal control of natural gas and its deteriorating effects.

Kenneth L. Smith, Houston, noted that there is a trend toward formation of "exploration groups" in order to compete in the areas where equipment installation and operating expenses are beyond reason for the one-man operation. He commented that such joint efforts "will be their best means of competing with the majors and the best method of continuing past successes."

From the Tri-state area, Richard C. Davost, Evansville, Ind., wrote: "The independent producer who survives the next few years and comes out on top will be the one who realizes that the problems of the industry are also his personal problems."

After calling particular attention to the "ridiculous FPC Permian Basin gas price ruling" and the fact that "imports continue to kill the incentive so important to a vital and growing domestic oil and gas industry," Rogers Aston, Roswell, N. Mex., concluded that there was still opportunity and "given the incentive, I am confident that New Mexico's prospects are excellent."

According to C. John Miller of Allegan, Mich.: "The coming year should see a continued strong play in the east half of the state as more operators attempt to gain a portion of the gas reef development. Northern Michigan will undoubtedly attract a number of testers, also. This area has had very little drilling, but it is generally felt that the area holds great promise. . . . In summary, 1966 should be a year of progress for the Michigan operators."

F. B. Cochran, Corpus Christi, suggested that these are the things necessary for independents to operate successfully in the present:

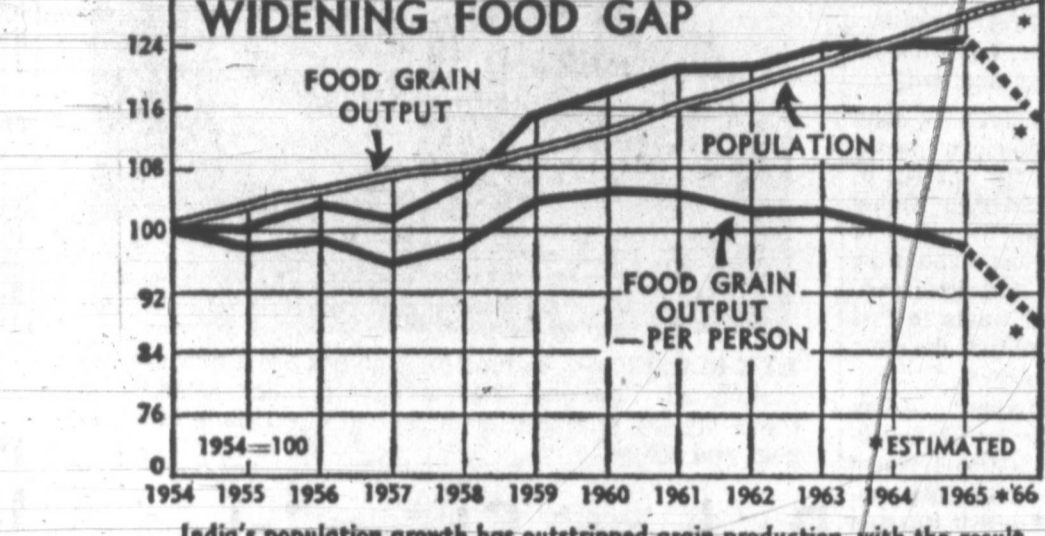

More use of the available technological tools in searching for and evaluating prospects and in developing production; finding ways to obtain closer and more efficient supervision of costs; combining in limited form, with other independents for more expensive and deeper exploration, and realizing that there is an area of cooperation, profitable to both, for independents and major companies.

J. S. Bowman, Denver, noted that the immediate outlook is good, but warned that there are other factors which are working against this. He said that the independent is fortunate in that because of his size he does not have to replace vast reserves every year to keep going and where he can operate economically. However, he said, there are forces at work that provide ever-creeping controls on the activities of independents and "should be resisted by every means possible."

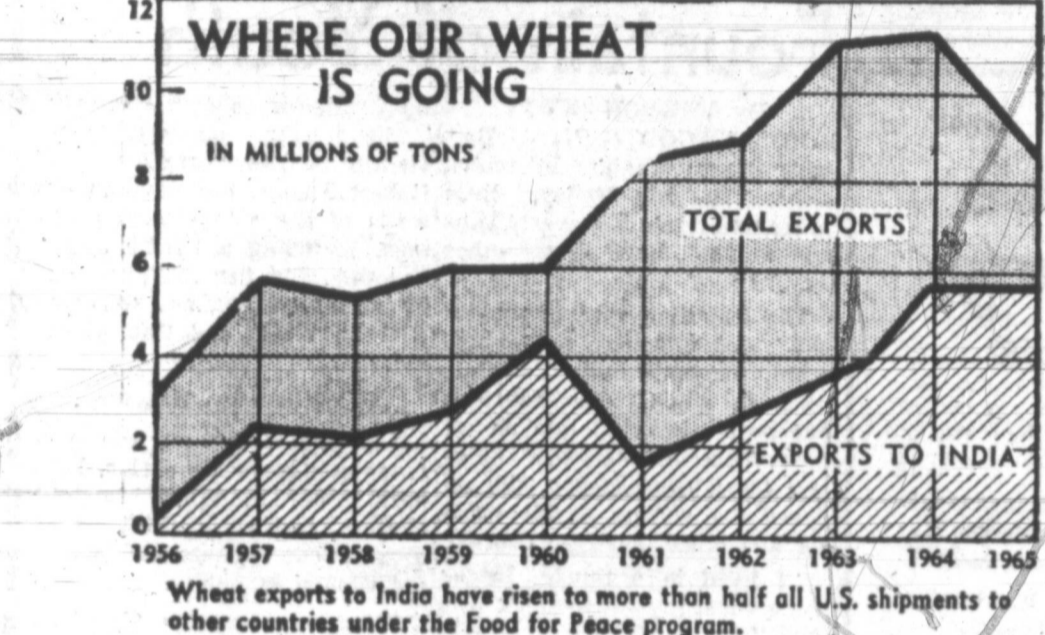

J. W. Straker, Zanesville, Ohio, said that even though the boom is over in Ohio he expects

FIGHTING FAMINE

The free world's most populous nation is facing a food crisis. Poor harvests are expected to leave India short by some 12 million tons of food grains necessary to feed her more than 450 million people. The United States, which has been supplying India with some six million tons a year under current aid programs, is stepping into the breach to avert threatened famine. President Johnson has ordered immediate shipment of 1.5 million tons of wheat, and much more to come. The Agriculture Department says the U.S. should be able to get some 15 million tons of grain to India by next fall and, if necessary to meet the emergency, U.S. wheat output could be doubled within a year. A major problem is in handling shipments. India's port facilities, as at Bombay, right, are inadequate for the increased volume and ways of getting around the bottleneck are being sought, possibly through use of the ports of Pakistan.

India's population growth has outstripped grain production, with the result that a five-year decline in grain available per capita is accelerating.

Wheat exports to India have risen to more than half all U.S. shipments to other countries under the Food for Peace program.

Oil Rigs Are Foreign Nations? Yes, Says British Immigration

By TOM A. CULLEN

 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

GREAT YARMOUTH, England (NEA) — Waves 40 feet high are not all that Texas oilmen have to contend with in drilling for gas under the North Sea.

There is, for example, Her Majesty's Customs and Immigration Service.

"The waves at least are predictable," says Jim Craig of Houston, who is in charge of the Continental Oil Company's drilling in the North Sea. "But the Customs people — God only knows what they will think up next to put a crimp in our operations."

Shell Investment In Offshore Drilling Paying Off

HOUSTON (UPI) — Shell Oil Co., which claims an investment of more than $64 million in offshore drilling operations, will begin getting a larger return on its investment early this year.

The company will receive its first production of natural gas from wells 30 miles south of Galveston in federal waters off the Texas coast.

Shell believes that the Gulf waters, like much of the Texas land mass, are underlain with rich petroleum pools yet untapped.

The company has installed a $60 million complex more than 10.5 miles from the coast, with drilling and production platforms in the Gulf swells that are linked to a pipeline.

With Shell's initial success, and more recent Shell discoveries off Matagorda Island, new hopes have risen that offshore Texas may become a significant oil and gas producing province," Shell Vice President E. G. Christianson said.

Shell claims a total offshore acreage, including leases held off Texas, Louisiana, California and Alaska, at about one million acres. Offshore Texas operations account for about 182,000 acres of that total.

The offshore drilling has been centered in the Buccaneer field, 30 miles south of Galveston. Since 1960, 40 wells have been drilled in the field, with only 11 in holes.

esty's Customs and Immigration persists in treating offshore drilling rigs as though they were foreign countries. This means that the drilling crews must show their passports every time they travel to or from the steel platforms that are stuck out in the middle of the North Sea.

Not only that, but the baggage of returning crews is carefully checked by the customs officials. Crewmen who haven't been ashore for two weeks are held up for as long as an hour while the customs men question them about the number of cigarettes they are carrying, or where they bought the watch they are wearing.

The result is anger, delays and frustrations which have not made for smooth working relations in Great Yarmouth (pop. 51,000), the center of the Tulsah-like oil rush in the North Sea.

"You'd think we were trying to smuggle diamonds or uranium into England, the way the customs people search us," says one angry Texan. "I don't know where they expect us to get the stuff, stuck out there on a drilling rig. It just doesn't make sense."

The customs inspections apply to the turbojet helicopters that shuttle back and forth between rig and shore, as well as to the supply ships. Both choppers and ships must carry complete manifests of their cargoes.

American oilmen, however, have resigned themselves to putting up with these annoyances, so enormous are the stakes in the race to produce gas in commercial quantities in the North Sea.

Two companies — British Petroleum and Continental Oil — have already had gas strikes in the first eight wells drilled, and there is talk here in Yarmouth of discovering "a gas field of Texas proportions."

For mineral rights the North Sea is divided among the countries whose coastlines border it. As soon as they got wind that Britain's half might contain valuable oil and gas, the British government divided the area into lots of about 100 square miles each, and leased these lots to 23 groups of oil companies, most of them American.

The groups will spend $300 million in prospecting in the next six years, and will pay 12½ percent royalty to the British government on any oil or gas found. By spring a dozen drilling rigs, costing from $6 to $9 million a piece, and from $18,000 to $30,000 a day to operate will be probing the North Sea bed.

Meanwhile, those rigs which are now operating, such as British Petroleum's "Sea Gem" 40 miles out, and the Continental Oil's drilling platform 70 miles out, are taking a terrible beating from the weather.

Waves and gale force winds of 60 knots have been lashing the structures, making it impossible for either ships or helicopters to get near them. The result is that supplies have been delayed, crews marooned and costs increased.

The oil boom has certainly affected seaports like Yarmouth. Now this sleepy seaside town is buzzing with activity as the world's oilmen gather.

Oilmen are kind of a closed society," said Texan Jim Craig. "You say hello to one in a Houston hotel one day, and run into the same man at the Persian Gulf the next day."

First U.S. flag with its stripes was raised on Prospect Point in Somerville, Mass., in 1776.

Faro is one of the oldest card games in the world, and during the 19th century was considered the "national American card game." It was supposedly named from the picture of a pharaoh on French playing cards imported into Great Britain. Faro was mentioned in English law as early as 1739. It was commonly played in gaming rooms, especially in western United States, until about 1915.

Oil News

58TH YEAR THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS SUNDAY, JANUARY 2, 1966 22

Phillips Buys Interest in 10 Producing Wells

Phillips Petroleum Company has purchased 100 percent interest in ten producing wells in the Harding Brothers North Multipay Field and the Christian Multipay Field of Stephens County, Texas. The wells are currently producing 585 barrels of oil and 1,000 MCF of gas daily.

The principal reservoir of both fields is the Mississippian reef. Seven of the ten wells produce from this formation. The Harding Brothers Field was discovered in early 1965 and the wells are producing at discovery allowable. The Christian Field has been productive approximately two years.

The Trempealeau formation to continue to get enough attention to maintain the present production rate. He predicted the formation may yield sizeable reserves of gas in the north central part of the state.

Roy H. Guess, Casper, Wyo., commented that "A great deal of the highly infectious, irresistible urge to 'wildcat' for the yet undiscovered wealth in giant fields seems to have disappeared from the ranks of the independent producer today." However, he based his prediction of optimism on a favorable marketing situation and an abundance of unexplored but potentially productive acreage in his area which "will cause a gradual increase in drilling activity in Wyoming and surrounding states."

Melvin L. Mesnard, IPAA economic analyst, Washington, D.C., summed up the outlook for 1966 when he said: "There appears to be little doubt in the minds of most forecasters that 1966 will be a good year for business in general. . . . If these increases in general business activity and petroleum consumption materialize, the outlook for domestic crude oil production is better than it has been in several years."

The 23 forecasters whose views are presented in the current issue of Independent Petroleum Monthly are independent producers who are leaders of the industry in their areas and hold elected positions in IPAA. Most are members of the Association's board of directors, and some are area vice presidents, some are members of the executive committee.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — A girl in the restaurant where I work told me that tax will be withheld on tips starting from the first of the year. If that's right, how will it be done?

A — Changes in the Social Security laws made by Congress this year call for the withholding of income taxes on tips in 1966 and thereafter. Those who receive tips of $20 or more a month should report the amount of their tips to their employer within 10 days after the month in which they were received. Tips have always been taxable but until the law was changed they had not been subject to withholding. Now tips will be on a pay-as-you-go system just like income from wages and salaries. Another change in the law affecting tips is the inclusion of this income in total wages for social security purposes. In other words, your tip income can now count toward determining your social security benefits.

Q — I just made a pledge to my church's capital funds drive. Will I be able to deduct this on my 1965 return?

A — You may only deduct what you actually paid on this pledge in 1965.

Q — My wife has been doing some part-time selling for the holidays. If she files her own return will I still be able to claim her as a dependent?

A — No, you may not. The wife is not considered to be a dependent of the husband, and when one of them files separately the other is not permitted to file a return and claim exemptions for both. Under Community Property Law in Texas you must split the income of both spouses if you file separate returns, since each spouse is entitled to one half of the community income under the law. Ordinarily you would file a joint return.

Q — The company I own stock in has declared a special year-end dividend. Should I report this on my 1965 or 1966 return?

A — Report this income in the year it is received. If you actually receive the dividend in 1965 then it must be reported on your 1965 return.

Q — I turned 65 in November. How should I handle the medical bills I paid last Spring? Are they fully deductible or are they subject to the 3 percent floor?

A — Your age on the last day of your taxable year is the determining factor. Since you reached age 65 in November and if you file on a calendar year basis, any medical expenses you paid last Spring are subject to the provisions for those 65 and over. Therefore, they will be fully deductible.

Q — My return was just audited and the agent and I disagreed. Is there anything I can do?

A — When you receive the notice covering the changes to your return suggested by the examining officer, you may request a district conference. This will give you a further opportunity of presenting your side of the story.

Oil Information Chairman Named

Jack Hanson, Amarillo, area exploration manager, Gulf Oil Corp., has been named Panhandle area chairman of the Oil Information Committee of Texas as a Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., according to James R. Shute, Midland, OIC Western regional chairman.

Hanson succeeds T. C. Brown, assistant manager of advertising and dealer development, The Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp., Amarillo, whose term expired. Shute, an official of Gulf Oil's said Hanson would direct the Texas oil and gas industry's public information and service program in 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle. OIC offers free speaker and film services to Texas communities and furnishes educational aids to schools.

Hanson joined Gulf 22 years ago in Los Angeles. He later transferred to Salt Lake City, Utah, as area landman and in 1956 was named area exploration manager at Salt Lake City. Prior to his transfer to Amarillo two years ago, Hanson served as vice-chairman of the Utah Petroleum Council.

NEW OLD TRADITION
NEW YORK (UPI)—An old tradition had a new look in Times Square as the new year bowed in.
For years, as thousands massed in the square and thousands more watched on television, a gold ball atop the old New York Times Tower dropped down a pole at the stroke of midnight. This year, the ball dropped precisely at midnight, but it was no longer the Times Tower. Sporting a new, modern facade, the building is now known as the Allied Chemical Tower.

Wall Street In Review

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—P.W. Brooks & Co. says reason now dictates the increasing need for caution on the part of investors and portfolio managers who must be on the constant alert to safeguard themselves and profit by price irregularities that might characterize the market over the near term.
Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says the news tape continues to dominate the market but that if no further unfavorable factors appear the list, helped by seasonal factors, could make some further recovery in the next few sessions.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary
Happy and prosperous New Year to all of our readers and friends! 1965 has been a very busy and happy year. We have been able to help 387 servicemen and their families through the year with verifications of emergency leave, financial assistance, counselling, and allotment verification. Our veteran work is increasing and we are glad to have been able to help our veterans who need assistance with their government benefits applications.

The Red Cross phone-rings constantly and we are glad that our community calls us when they have a problem. We continue to teach swimming at the Youth Center and with Lois Dittmeyer, WSI working at the Center, we are assured that our children are receiving the best instruction ever. Yes, with First Aid Classes and Water Safety Classes and Gray Ladies working in the hospitals, with our large Youth program and our JRC program in the schools, we are certainly kept busy. Thanks for all of your kindnesses throughout the year. Let us get busy and make 1966 the best Red Cross year in Pampa! With your help we can do it!

Two of our fine volunteers in past years came into our office this week to say hello and ask about the Red Cross programs. They were Mike Fort, who was the High School Red Cross president during the year of 1962. Mike has the honor of having raised the most money in High School during his term of office. Many things were started that year and are still bearing fruits. Our other friend was Reece Ewing, Water Safety Instructor for Red Cross. Both boys are married and we know that they will always be friends of our great organization.

The following boys and girls received their Red Cross Beginner cards lately at the Youth Center. They are Randell Linville, Larry Lantz, Howard Lewis, Greg Atchley and Brenda Haskins. The following complet. ed their Advanced Beginner work: Brenda Haskins, Larry Lantz and Randall Linville. Completing their Intermediate Skills were Greg Williams, Lynn Richardson, Steve Richardson, Lynn Hoyler, James Haskins, Kay Smith and Kenny Smith. Completing their swimmer tests were Lynn Hoyler, James Haskins, Greg Williams and Kenny Smith.

Political considerations are piling unbearable pressure on President Johnson to make an almost impossible decision and to make it quickly. Right now! The decision is whether the United States shall proceed all out to win the war in Southeast Asia or move all out to get out. That is a tough one. Hard! Much harder, however, would it be for President Johnson to carry this unpopular Asiatic war through the upcoming congressional elections and into the Presidential election in 1968.

War is a deadly business to the combat men. An unpopular war can be equally deadly to the politician and political party held responsible for the fighting. Fair or not, LBJ is the responsible politician. He inherited this war. He has been courageous but unsuccessful in its prosecution.
The United States is not winning and may be losing. Costs in blood and treasure are rising. LBJ's Great Society structure is based on a high cost welfare state. The structure is beginning to wobble for lack of support—financial support.

All of this adds up to a big political trouble. All of this also presses LBJ toward that hard decision: win the war or get out of it. Surrender and a withdrawal would be the quick way to get out. It would not be popular and might be disastrous for future U.S. security.

To go all out to win the war would require LBJ to lay on North Viet Nam the devastating force of American hardware. Big guns, big bombs, big war on the hour, every hour until the Viet Nam Communists had surrendered or had ceased to be.

Veterans of World War II and others with a clear knowledge of that calamity well know that an ineffective aerial bombardment is worse than no bombardment at all.

Germany bombing of the United Kingdom unquestionably stoked the British will to fight to white heat. So it is or is pretty sure to be with LBJ's picky bombing of North Viet Nam. The North Viet Nam man, woman or child who survives a bomb attack is twice the enemy after witnessing the explosion than he or she was before.

The allies did not destroy Germany's will to fight by leaning on any nice discrimination in the matter of who was hit when the bombs dropped. The bombs were dropped on strategic targets which included all cities that failed to proclaim people lived in or around such strategic targets, it was too themselves open. If people lived in or around such strategic targets, it was too bad for them. That is not pretty. But war is not pretty. Nor is it a pretty view LBJ now has of the political situation in which he is damned if he does, damned if he doesn't.

So long as the American bombing of North Viet Nam is bearable to the North Vietnamese Communies, they are sitting pretty even if some of them sit dead from time to time under bomb attack. As of now, time is on their side. They are not under any kind of political pressure. No elections!
The Viet Nam Communies need not win the war. They must assure only that the Americans do not win it. They seem to be doing well at that.

ERA ENDS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Governors Island, a familiar sight to millions who have sailed in and out of New York Harbor, was abandoned Friday as headquarters for the 1st Army.

Officially known as Ft. Jay, the island had been headquarters for the 1st Army from 1933 to 1943 and again from 1946 to the present. The Coast Guard is scheduled to take over the island.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International
TOKYO (UPI)—President Ho Chi Minh of Communist North Viet Nam, in a letter to Pope Paul VI thanking the pontiff for his interest in peace but belittling U. S. peace efforts:

"The U.S. government must completely and unconditionally end its bombings and acts of aggression against the DRV (North Viet Nam), stop its aggression in South Viet Nam and let the Vietnamese people settle their internal affairs themselves."

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—U.S. District Court Judge Herbert W. Christenberry, criticizing Police Chief Claxton Knight of Bogalusa, La., for lack of control over his department:
"I'm going to tell you, Chief, as one man to another, that if law enforcement continues as it has in Bogalusa, the people there will be identifiable by scars and lumps on their heads."
