Johnson Embarks On Mission To Far East

Chinese Charge Russia-U.S. In 'Great Conspiracy'

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China today bitterly denounced President Johnson's bid for closer ties with Eastern Europe as a conspiracy to lure Soviet bloc nations to capitalism and enable the United States to shift its military might from Europe to Asia.

An article in the official People's Daily, the Chinese Communist party publication, accused the Soviet Union of working hand-in-glove with the United States in "a great conspiracy of naked collusion...to carry out their counter-revolutionary global strategy."

The article, broadcast by the New China News Agency and monitored here, said a U.S.-Soviet alliance was "already in existence" but it was "simply inconvenient" at the present time for American and Russian cultural contacts with Russia and its East European allies in a speech Oct. 7. He also said the United States would be willing to reduce its military forces in Western Europe if the Soviets did the same in Eastern Europe.

Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev, however, rebuffed Johnson's appeal Saturday as "a strange and persistent delusion" that relations could be improved while the United States continued its "aggression" and aerial attacks on Communist North Viet Nam.

Brezhnev's speech at a Soviet-Polish friendship rally was the first Kremlin reaction to Johnson's appeal. It came as Communist party leaders from East Europe gathered in Moscow for talks believed aimed at forming a unified condemnation of Peking's anti-Soviet policies and hindrance of Soviet-bloc assistance to Hanoi.

Today's People's Daily article accused the Soviet Union of enabling the United States to "free its hands tied down in Europe and to transfer the emphasis of its strategy to the East and concentrate its forces against China (and) continue its aggression against Viet Nam."

Seven Defense Plants Closed By GE Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Workers at seven General Electric Co. plants went on strike over local issues today despite a contract agreement that averted a nationwide walkout against the producer of Viet Nam necessities.

The International Union of Electrical Workers voted overwhelmingly Sunday to accept an agreement with GE reached Friday by representatives in Washington. Ten other AFL-CIO unions followed the IUE lead but problems arose over supplementary pacts to be worked out at the local level.

A total of 25,490 workers struck plants in Schenectady, Mass. A plant at Ashland, Ohio; Warren, Mich.; Ft. Wayne, Ind.; and Pittsfield, Mass. A plant at Ashland, Mass., has been struck for the past two weeks and walkouts also were threatened at Decatur, Ill., and Louisville.

In addition to IUE workers, the strike involved members of the International Association of Machinists (IAM), and the United Auto Workers (UAW).

The plant in the Detroit suburb of Warren does secret missile work and is the only U.S. producer of synthetic diamonds for cutting tools. Jet engines are produced at Evendale, a Cincinnati suburb.

The Schenectady plant makes turbines for military installations and the Utica and Auburn facilities produce military communications equipment. Members of the IUE-GE conference board, representing each local involved, voted 450 to 116 Sunday to accept the agreement negotiated with GE after the White House persuaded the unions to postpone a scheduled Oct. 2 strike for two weeks.

Historic Journey to Include Six Countries

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson embarked today on a historic mission of personal diplomacy to the Far East seeking to bring peace to troubled Southeast Asia.

In farewell ceremonies at Dulles International Airport, the President again cautioned against expecting "some miracle" to come from his 17-day journey that would end the fighting in Viet Nam.

"I know I can wave no magic wand that would bring about any miracle," the President said at the ceremonies attended by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, cabinet members, diplomats and congressional leaders.

"I leave you to undertake a hopeful mission," Johnson said before boarding the presidential jetliner Air Force One for the non-stop flight to Hawaii, first leg of the 25,000-mile trip that will keep the Chief Executive out of the country until Nov. 2. His plane got away at 7:30 a.m., CST.

Calling this one of the "most critical times in our history," Johnson said: "I go to visit six nations which, working with others, are beginning to shape a new regional life in Asia and the Pacific."

He said his talks at the seven-nation Manila Asian summit would be aimed at seeking "ways of bringing about an honorable peace at the earliest possible moment" in Viet Nam.

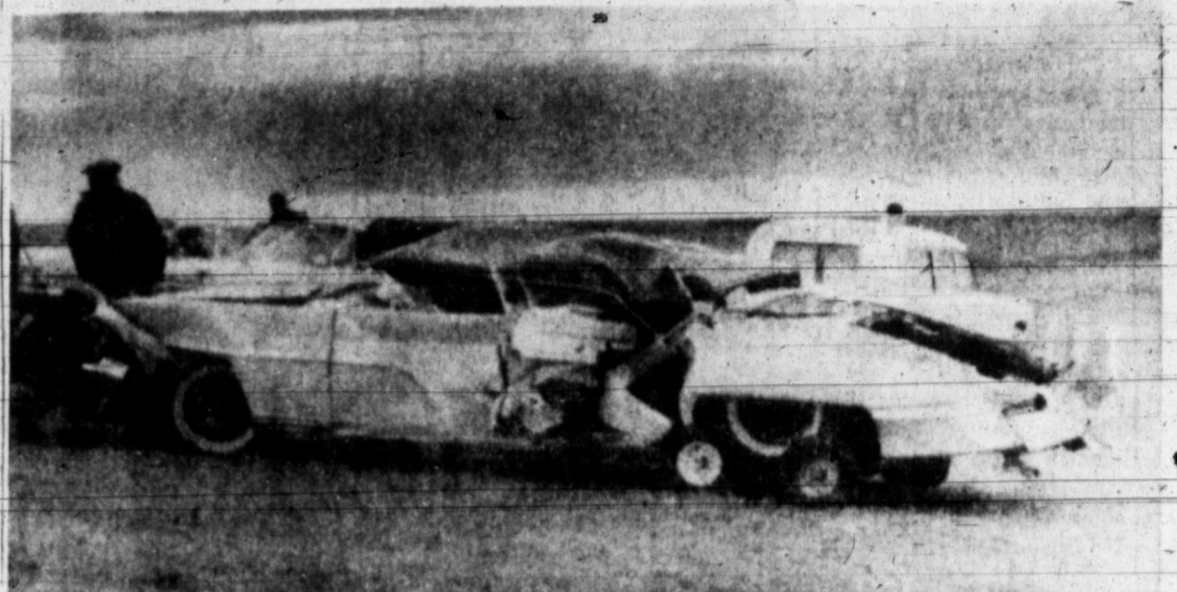

In addition to the conference in the Philippines, the President's trip—most far-reaching ever undertaken by any president—called for stops in Australia, New Zealand, Malaysia, South Korea and Thailand.

"As I undertake this mission on behalf of our country in a critical time, I ask for your prayers," the President said. "I shall do my best to advance the cause of peace and of human progress."

Before boarding the sleek jet with Mrs. Johnson, the President, accompanied by Humphrey and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, reviewed honor guards from the military services as the Marine Corps Band played.

The solemn President wore no topcoat at the 20-minute ceremonies despite crisp fall weather. There was hardly enough wind to blow the smoke away when he was honored with a 21-gun salute.

The ceremonies were in front of the White House.

AFTERMATH — Highway Patrolman Paul Geiser and city policeman Fred Brown investigate the one-car accident, which killed a Pampa man early Sunday morning, 5 1/2 miles east of town.

Australian Threatens Death to Johnson

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Telephoned death threats against President Johnson and the prime ministers of Australia and New Zealand have been received in Sydney and in Wellington, N.Z., it was disclosed today.

Australian and New Zealand police were investigating the reports with an advance guard of U.S. security officials. Most of the threats were from anonymous telephone callers to newspapers who spoke of a Kennedy-style assassination with rifles.

One threat came from a man who called Sydney Daily Mirror news editor William Perry and said, "I am going to blow Johnson's head off Saturday" because the 19-year-old son of the caller had been killed in Viet Nam.

New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake, whose phone number is publicly listed, told a news conference he had received a telephone call from someone "who claimed he overheard a group of men conspiring to kill me." He said he had received an increasingly large number of filthy letters and telephone calls recently.

Newspapers in Adelaide and Sydney said they had received calls from men planning to use a rifle to kill both Johnson and Australian Prime Minister Harold Holt.

In the meantime Sydney was making preparations for its biggest and warmest welcome in history for Johnson.

Pampa Man Dies In Wreck Sunday

Donald Lee Hebb, 29, was killed early Sunday morning 5 1/2 miles east of Pampa, when the late model car he was driving plunged through a pasture fence, hurtled approximately 80 feet in the air and rolled three and a half times before coming to a stop upside down.

The hardtop of the car was telescoped into the frame.

Death resulted in head and chest injuries, according to coroner Nat Lunsford, who pronounced Hebb dead at the scene. He was the only passenger in the car.

Highway Patrolman Paul Geiser, investigating officer, said Hebb was traveling east at a high rate of speed on a dead-end country road that intersects with a north and south country road.

The car swerved for the turn, went out of control, hurtled through a fence and began rolling on a pastureland belonging to H. B. Taylor, northeast of the city.

Geiser said coyote hunters came upon the wreck around 6:30 a.m. and notified local authorities.

The car was owned by Gil Burgund, the victim's employer. Hebb had resided in Pampa for the past year and was the father of two children, Donna, 7 and Don, 5.

Duenkel Funeral Home, the servicing ambulance at the scene, has sent the body to Hebb's former home in Cumberland, Md., where funeral services will be under the direction of the Haffer Funeral Home.

CAMPAIGN ENDS TONIGHT

United Fund Success is Anticipated

TEAM NEARS QUOTA — John McCausland, major, (center) and Jane Kadingo, Girl Scout executive, are pictured above as they pledged their team's quota-busting efforts to A. A. Schuneman, United Fund drive chairman, at the last check-in meeting. As of this morning the team lacked $91 of having its quota, and with continued efforts, they expect to go over the top tonight.

United Fund officials were hopeful at noon today Pampa's 1966 campaign would wind up successfully tonight.

This year's goal is $78,000. The drive was approximately $5,000 short of that figure Saturday night.

All volunteer workers were urged to attend the final check-in meeting set for 7 p.m. today in the Starlight Room of Colorado Inn.

A. A. Schuneman, general chairman of this year's fund drive, asked every worker to attend and be ready to turn in a final report.

"It looks as if we will reach our goal or very near it," Schuneman said today. "However it is essential that everyone keep at it up until the very last minute."

With a good report meeting tonight the campaign could go over the top," Schuneman said.

Schuneman urged any Pampa who has not yet contributed and who wishes to give in this year's drive should send or bring the contribution to United Fund headquarters in City Hall or mail to A. A. Schuneman, First National Bank.

N.M. Squatters Set Up 'Republic' Federal Officials Remain Perplexed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UPI)—Federal officials, not sure what to think of it all, said it was possible they would enter a new "republic" in northern New Mexico Monday, under threat of arrest.

The rest area of a national forest was staked out as the Republic de San Joaquin over the weekend by a group of Spanish-Americans calling themselves the Federal Alliance of Land Grants.

But forest officials, dismayed at the sight of 350 men, women and children proclaiming over 500,000 acres of land as rightfully theirs, said they were not sure what action to take.

"We don't even know what we are going to do," Forest Ranger Don Seamon said Sunday. "They have put up a flagpole with a strange flag. They say it's the flag of their city."

The squatters elected a town council, mayor and sheriff and 50 armed men were promptly deputized and dared authorities to try and move them out. So far no one has tried.

Both state police and mem-

CLOUDY ALL DAY

Members of the Forest Service kept a watch over the group over the weekend as they pitched tents and set up portable cooking facilities.

But a large portion of the squatters returned to their jobs in Albuquerque Sunday and only a handful remained to look over their self-proclaimed grant.

Ricels Tijerina, head of the Alliance, said any officers who came into the camp would be arrested for trespassing. Federal officials, however, said if anyone was arrested they would "un-arrest them."

Seamon said the government's legal solution to the problem might be whether the group has purchased a federal recreation permit to camp there.

"It's possible we will go in Monday and see if they've got a recreation sticker," he said. Tijerina said the forest was on the site of the town of San Joaquin, founded in 1806 by King Carlos IV of Spain. He said it later was abandoned when the Forest Service rejected claims to it based on Spanish land grants.

Traffic Toll Is Up From Last Weekend

By United Press International

A spate of multiple traffic fatality accidents sent the Texas weekend violent death toll soaring far above the totals of the weekend before.

A United Press International survey for the period running from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday showed that at least 33 persons met violent death in the state, up from 19 last weekend.

Most died in traffic. 21. Homicides claimed eight lives, fires three, and one person drowned.

The worst accident, Saturday night, claimed three victims near Galveston. A pickup truck and a station wagon collided

Such a cold blustery day as last Friday found Girl Scout leaders braving the elements to attend the "Caravan" training, and considered it well worth the effort. Other than the basic leadership training, the leader each received suggestion material for outline of meetings, explanation of Scouting levels, games, songs, hints for song and games.

Of course, had anyone happened to see the activities of those present while practicing "Three Blind Mice" or "Bingo" might have a second thought about some of these leaders. But the leaders will go to any length to provide an active and through-provoking program for their troop. Even to chugging along while skipping through these games. All leaders seem to agree that it is worth the time and effort and enjoy meeting other leaders.

Attending the Friday training were Mmes. R. W. Brock, L. W. Watson, W. H. Kepler, W. H. Nichols, R. C. Atchley, Steve Odom, Joann McWhorter, Philip McCarley, M. D. McGill and G. J. Boyd. Conducting the training were Mmes. N. G. Kadingo, J. P. Long, Jack Duke and T. M. Whitley.

The weather proved "ideal" for two troops spending two nights recently at Camp Mel Davis. Campfires were shared by the two troops but otherwise all activities were held separately. This system has proved satisfactory to leaders. It provides extra camping for troops and helps to ease the situation of adult supervision by provid-

Dear Abby....

Grandpa's Romance Is Nothing Serious

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a 71-year-old man who has a wife, six living children (all married), and 21 grandchildren, who seems to be enamored of a 21-year-old student nurse? He was recently hospitalized and that's where he met her.

He writes her letters and even includes some little love poems which he copies out of a book. He gets plenty of attention from his family who all love him very much. What do you think should be done?

CONCERNED WIFE: DEAR WIFE: Don't worry. It is all in grandpa's head. When the 21-year-old nurse starts sending him love poems, you'll have something to be concerned about.

DEAR ABBY: What exactly is an alcoholic? My wife says she is not an alcoholic because she never drinks until after four in the afternoon. She says all alcoholics start drinking in the morning and they drink all day. My wife drinks every day, starting at four o'clock. If we go out she will take a couple of drinks before we go.

If our friends serve only a couple of drinks before dinner, she will ask for "doubles" as she claims it takes more than just a few drinks to "relax" her. Please advise what time of day an alcoholic starts to drink so I will know if my wife is an alcoholic or not.

UNINFORMED: DEAR UNINFORMED: The time of day one begins drinking does not determine whether or not he is an alcoholic. An alcoholic (technically) is one who cannot control his drinking once he starts.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will not think me ungrateful, but my problem is a husband who buys me too expensive gifts. We are on a limited budget, and I am the one who has to cut the corners and balance it when we are short.

I know my husband wants to please me, but every time I open one of his gifts, my heart sinks. I love the guy for what he is, not for what he gives me. How can I get that through his head?

On special occasions, I give him something reasonable like a dollar tie and a cute card, but he doesn't take the hint. Any suggestions?

PRACTICAL: DEAR PRACTICAL: Before the next occasion, head him off and tell him that you appreciate his generosity, but you can't afford it. Set a limit for gifts and announce that if he exceeds the limit, the gift goes back. It may sting for a little while, but that is the only way he'll learn.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN TROUBLE" IN SPARTANBURG, S. C.: Tell your parents at once, and urge the boy to tell his. I promise you that together they will work out the best solution. Your parents are your best friends in time of trouble. Do this today, kids. Every day is important.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ing more trained Girl Scout leaders as required adults.

Troops enjoying the overnights were Troop 1, Mrs. W. J. Felten, leader and Troop 26, Mrs. R. W. Stowers, leader. Mrs. Felten claimed the girls enjoyed the food most of all and the Ouija board provided the entertainment. It seems the board has a wife and nine children and it predicted the outcome to the football game correctly. This is proving to be a popular pastime again. Have heard it mentioned quite a bit lately. Troop 1 members attending the "Swami Session" were Pernie and Teddy Fallon, Merrylyn Miller, Patsy Kelley, Pat Greenwood and Ruth Felter. Jean Neslage and Nan Hudson, Senior Girl Scouts accompanied this troop.

Many first year Junior troops are in the process of forming patrols and electing patrol leaders, assistants, deciding patrol names and choosing troop crests. This is serious business for these troop members. Mrs. R. C. Atchley discussed the problem her troop was having voting. It seems they couldn't decide when, how or for whom they were voting. The girls shouldn't feel discouraged there are many grown people who haven't mastered this art, either.

New Chiltree General Hospital In Final Two Months of Construction

PERRYTON — The finishing touches are rapidly being applied to the new Chiltree General Hospital.

Nearing completion, following 13 months of scheduled contract time, the large plant is approximately two months away from final inspection.

A preliminary inspection of the three patient wings is scheduled for Monday Oct. 17. Preliminary acceptance of this area is being resolved by the board of directors so the patient room furniture can be moved in on Tuesday following the inspection.

The initial shipment of bed-room furniture, totaling almost $50,000 will arrive from the factory on Tuesday.

To date the contractor has been paid estimates totaling over one million dollars. The estimated cost of the hospital is $1,028,610.22.

Biggest cost item of the entire plant is the plumbing-heating-air conditioning package totaling over 328 thousand dollars. The electrical contractor took the next largest bite out of the hospital's construction budget with a goal expenditure of almost $115,000 going into wire, conduit, switches, motor and the like.

During the 13 months of construction only five change orders were executed by the builders costing an additional $819,677. Largest of these change orders included the deleted trim now placed back in the main lobby as a result of the Kengle Lobby Fund Committee's efforts.

The total adjusted contract now stands at $1,084,090.67. This figure does not include over $250,000 to be expended for equipment and furnishings necessary to complete the hospital. Memorial gifts continue to arrive at the hospital district office and this money will be utilized for its specific purpose or additional needed equipment.

The board of directors plan a dedication and open house late in December.

The flame can now be seen clearly from across the Potomac River in Washington.

The historic Army-operated cemetery has never been open to night visits up to now, but it is expected this permission will be granted if lighting is installed.

Through Sept. 7, an estimated 2,612,000 persons had stopped at the gravesite this year. The 1965 total was 4,676,000. Approximately 14,000 visitors have been to the grave since the President's death.

The children buried beside Kennedy are Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who died two days after birth in 1962, and an unnamed daughter who died at birth in 1956.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stood nearby with his diplomats and congressional leaders who had come to see the nationally televised departure of President and Mrs. Johnson.

Humphrey escorted Johnson to the platform where he spoke after a 21-gun salute rang over Dulles International Airport in the quiet countryside of suburban Virginia, and the departing commander-in-chief inspected his honor guard.

Expects No Miracles Johnson, who said Sunday he expected no miracle peace formulas to come from the trip, told the nation he was going to see the "energetic progress made in Asia by Asians."

"I go to learn of their progress and problems," he said, "their hopes and their concerns."

"At Manila, we shall consider the problem of Viet Nam," he said, "where we shall review the state of military operations; but we shall mainly devote our attention to the civil, constructive side of Viet Nam."

He said the Vietnamese were showing "extraordinary courage and endurance" in their fight against Communist aggression.

He said his trip would allow him to confer with its leaders and with the leaders of those other nations that have committed young men to defeat aggression and to help those 15 million people shape their own destiny.

Pianist Lettvin Scores Hit With Concert Audience

By BILL HALEY

Pampa's 1966-67 concert season opened Saturday night at the Junior High School Auditorium with a recital by Cleveland, Ohio, pianist Theodore Lettvin.

The near capacity crowd was a surprise considering local concert-goers' traditionally cautious approach to the lesser celebrated artists. Mr. Lettvin was himself a surprise in that he proved to be a most exciting performer, his playing being mightily enhanced by the splendid Baldwin nine-foot grand which sent its lush tones soaring to every corner of the auditorium. The audience was, during most of the evening, warm and enthusiastic in its response.

At one point, Mr. Lettvin was given a standing ovation.

The program opened with a puzzling and little-known composition — a set of variations on "Rule Britannia" by Beethoven in which the familiar theme, once stated, is virtually abandoned. Following this was a suite of three pieces by a contemporary American, Richard Yardumian.

The remainder of the program consisted of a set of variations by Haydn, Schumann's G minor Sonata and a wondrous showcase of works by Chopin. To say that the Chopin group was magnificent is perhaps an understatement.

First came the F Minor Fantasy followed by a group of four impromptus including the annoyingly familiar Fantasy Impromptu and closing with the monumental F Minor Ballade. The ballade from which is almost exclusively Chopin's is patterned after the poetic ballad. Its purpose is to tell a story, a story that can be at once sad, sinister and deeply moving. The Ballade in F Minor contains these elements as Mr. Lettvin so ably demonstrated.

Saturday night's concert was truly an appropriate opening to what is likely to be Pampa's best concert season.

Fire Trucks Make Two Runs Sunday

Pampa fire stations answered two calls Sunday.

North fire station made a run shortly after 3 p.m. to Furr Foods on North Hobart, where fire caused minor damage to a Dempster Dumpster parked behind the store.

The second call, answered by South Fire Station, was to 508 Crawford, where a kitchen stove ignited wallpaper behind the stove. Damage was light, firemen report.

The local fire departments concluded Fire Prevention Week with no major fires. During the week, the department extinguished four car fires and four other fires of minor nature.

Collisions Mar Sunday Record

Miss Tanya Gay Brown, 812 N. Dwight, was cited for failure to control speed following collision with a parked car belonging to Perry Nichols, 1001 E. Browning, according to a police report.

Police said the accident occurred shortly after 5:30 p.m. Sunday on Rose St., just off of Browning.

Police-estimated damages of $120 to the Brown car and $125 to the Nichols' car.

A car driven by Regina Lynn Barnett, 1032 S. Wells, and one driven by Prentice Sanders of Pampa were in collision at 8 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Francis and Ward, police said. Damages were estimated at $125 to the Barnett car and $150 to the Sanders' auto, according to the police report.

Accused On Trial for Life

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Demetrio Tsafendas, the political malcontent accused of assassinating South African Premier Hendrik Verwoerd in parliament Sept. 6, went on trial for his life today.

Defense attorney Wilfred Cooper announced he would plead that the 48-year-old drier was mentally disordered and a schizophrenic.

State Prosecutor Willem Van den Berg, attorney-general for the Cape Province, said he had no objection to a defense application under the mental disorders act being heard before Tsafendas was asked to plead guilty to the murder charge.

If the court found Tsafendas mentally disordered it could order his committal to a mental institution until the state ordered his release.

Heavy security precautions were in effect because Prosecutor Van den Berg said he wanted to prevent another "Jack Ruby incident."

Tsafendas, a man of mixed blood, who passed here as a white, allegedly attacked Verwoerd because he thought the government leader was not doing enough for poor whites.

Supreme Court Rejects Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today rejected a move aimed at abolishing the electoral college system for electing the president and vice president.

The court acted on a constitutional challenge brought by Delaware, which claimed the winner-take-all system is unfair and discriminatory — especially to small states.

Under the system all a state's electoral votes go to the candidate leading the popular vote.

Refusing to hear the Delaware challenge — supported by 11 other states — the Supreme Court in effect rejected one more of scores of efforts to abolish or revise the system since it was devised by America's founding fathers.

Delaware brought the case directly to the Supreme Court and the refusal to hear the challenge, in effect, leaves to Congress the responsibility of deciding whether the system should be changed.

Presumably the court accepted the argument by New York state in opposing the Delaware challenge.

You don't believe a 6 can act anything like an 8?

With our new Overhead Cam Six you'd better believe it.

Our OHC 6 delivers 165 hp on regular gas. And 215 horses from the premium gas 4-barrel version. Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do, but they're overhead cams, too. In fact, they inspired us. Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and Le Mans. So are a host of new safety features like passenger-guard door locks, General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four-way hazard warning flasher. We've said enough. If a test drive won't sell you, nothing will.

AHS, Monterey Off to Good Start In District Play

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

Monterey, Amarillo and Lubbock came through in fine style Friday and Saturday to take first-week leads in the north and south zones of district 3-4A with victories.

Caprock and Tascosa are the only 3-4A teams that didn't open conference play and the Rebels kept their season record unblemished, at 6-0, with a 35-13 rout over the Longhorns.

Both see conference action this week however with Caprock (4-2) playing host to Borger (2-3-1) and Tascosa journeying to Plainview (1-4-1) to play the lowly Bulldogs.

Only Monterey of the north zone and Lubbock of the south zone will not see league action but play each other Saturday at Lubbock.

In other league games Pampa (3-3) and Amarillo (3-3) of the north zone play at Amarillo while Palo Duro (1-5) and Lubbock Coronado (2-3-1) of the south zone play in Lubbock.

Monterey sent its record to 4-2 for the season and 1-0 in league action by edging Pampa, 7-6, in a game marred by mistakes.

Amarillo surprised Borger, 28-8 while Lubbock downed Palo Duro with ease 29-8 and Coronado and Plainview battled to a 5-3 tie.

The Harvesters, who got the short end of the refereeing stick at Lubbock, know they have to win against the Sandies to stay in the running in the north zone title picture.

The Sandies have improved every game and most folks thought they would have a tougher time with Borger than they did.

THE LOWDOWN on pro football, is tough, hard tackling when it's needed most. Philadelphia's Al Nelson (top) times his perfectly, bringing Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis down just as the pass arrives. New York's Chuck Mercein gets a no-gain body slam from Cleveland's Jim Houston.

PACKERS STING BEARS

Cards, Dallas Still at Top

By United Press International Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor remembered what it means to be a star, but Bob Hayes forgot for a moment.

Hornung and Taylor, whom experts said were slowing down to a walk, ran with their old verve and power Sunday to lead the Green Bay Packers to a 17-0 victory over the Chicago Bears, while the speedy Hays committed a rare blunder that cost the Dallas Cowboys a victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the leading National Football League games.

The failure of Hornung and Taylor to run like their old selves in the last two games had given coach Vince Lombardi the idea of benching his two stars in favor of youngsters Doonny Anderson and Jim Grabowski. But because of the importance of the game, Lombardi went with his two veterans and the psychology paid off as each man turned in an exceptional game.

Not So Well. Things didn't go quite so well for Hayes, who had starred in each of the Cowboys' four previous victories. The talented pass receiver fumbled a fair catch on a punt late in the fourth quarter to set up a 27-yard field goal by the Cardinals' Jim Bakken that produced a 10-10 tie and cost the Cowboys a chance for sole possession of first place in the Eastern Conference.

In other action, Minnesota downed Los Angeles 35-7, Baltimore defeated Detroit 45-14, New York upset Washington 13-10, Philadelphia whipped Pittsburgh 31-14 and San Francisco routed Atlanta 44-7.

Caused Most Grief. It was the running of Taylor and Hornung that caused the Bears' defense the most grief. Taylor caught passes of 12 and 16 yards and ran for 11 more during the Packers' 66-yard touchdown drive in the third quarter with Hornung taking the ball in for the score from the one.

Ray Mitschke intercepted a Ruby Bukich pass later in the third period to set up a 36-yard field goal by Don Chandler and Willie Wood ran back an intercepted pass 20 yards for a TD in the final quarter to complete the Packers' scoring. The victory gave Green Bay sole possession of first place in the western conference.

Hayes' fumble came only a few minutes after Dan Reeves had put the Cowboys ahead 10-7 with a four-yard TD run that was set up with a 45-yard pass from Don Meredith to Pete Gert.

Three Interceptions. An interception by Jerry Stovall, one of three the Cardinals pilfered off Meredith, set up the Cardinals' first score in the second quarter. Following the interception, St. Louis moved the ball 54 yards in 10 plays with Bobby Joe Conrad taking a one-yard pass from Charlie Johnson for the TD.

Fran Tarkenton passed for three touchdowns, scored once and set up a fifth in leading the Vikings to their first victory of the season. Tarkenton, who had not played up to par in any previous game this season, completed 20 of 30 passes for 327 yards while enjoying the second best performance of his six-year career.

Johnny Unitas threw four touchdowns passes and sub quarterback Gary Cuozzo added a fifth as the Colts staged a strong comeback from last week's defeat at Chicago. Despite the Colts' devastating attack, the play of the game was turned in by the Lions' Karl Sweetan who combined on a record-tying 99-yard pass play with Pat Studstill.

Gogolak Boots Two. Earl Morrall's 29-yard touchdown pass to Aaron Thomas in the fourth quarter and a pair of earlier field goals by Pete Gogolak enabled the Giants to win their first game of the season and snap a three-game Washington winning streak. Charley Gogolak kicked a 37-yard field goal for the losers in the first pro meeting between the Hungarian-born soccer style kickers.

Norman Snead fired two touchdown passes and Earl Gros ran for two more as the Eagles handed the Steelers their fourth straight defeat. Rookie Willie Asbury tallied twice for the losers.

John Brodie took advantage of Atlanta's inept pass defense and tossed for three touchdowns while leading the 49ers to their second straight triumph after two losses and a tie. George Mira also threw a touchdown pass for the victors.

White Deer's fullback turned halfback Vernon Marlar got the Bucks winging in their first conference outing this season last Friday and pleased a homecoming crowd no end.

Marlar, who had only three touchdowns in the Bucks' four previous outings this season tallied four times against the Back-of-the-Week award, so given by the Pampa News.

Besides his touchdowns, Marlar led his team in rushing with 147 yards on 13 carries and played an outstanding defensive game.

Marlar, who is being groomed for All-State honors, had runs of 17, 39, 10 and 38 yards as he showed both speed and power.

With the blanking they gave Sunray, White Deer and Gruver, a 19-0 winner of Stratford, are both now 1-0 in the 1-A district.

White Deer's defensive unit still unscored on and the Bucks are now averaging 40.4 points a contest.

While White Deer and Gruver took over the top spots in 1-A, Wheeler and McLean did likewise in 2-A.

The Mustangs rolled to their fifth win in six outings, as did McLean, with a 44-12 victory over Silvertown and McLean downed Calude, 24-12.

Clarendon in 2-A and Canadian in 1-A played each other in a non league affair with Clarendon tumbling the Wildcats, 41-14.

Canadian is now 4-2 after winning their first four in a row. The Wildcats have a tough one Friday when they open conference play by playing host to White Deer. In other 1-A league games Gruver hosts Sunray and

UCLA Romps Past Penn State, 48-11

By United Press International Doug Dickey and his Tennessee Volunteers must be wishing someone would take the football out of football.

The Vols dropped their second game of the season 11-0 to third-ranked Alabama Saturday and, as in the previous loss, a field goal proved to be the margin of victory.

In other games involving the top 10, Michigan State edged Ohio State 11-8, Notre Dame trounced North Carolina 32-0, UCLA clobbered Penn State 49-11, Southern California beat Stanford 21-7, Nebraska downed Kansas State 21-10, Georgia Tech stopped Auburn 17-3, Florida topped North Carolina State 17-10, Purdue nipped Michigan 22-21 and Oklahoma dumped Kansas 35-0.

Fullback Larry Conjar slammed for 37 yards and two touchdowns in 13 carries and halfback Nick Eddy romped 85 yards in seven attempts to lead high-scoring Notre Dame over North Carolina at windswept South Bend.

UCLA downed Penn State while Troy Winslow, fully recovered from a concussion last week, passed for two touchdowns to lead fifth-rated Southern California to its ninth straight victory over Stanford.

Spurrier Hit Trap. Steve Spurrier hit wingback Richard Traupp with a 31-yard scoring aerial, Spurrier's 11th of the season, to give eighth-ranked Florida a come-from-behind victory over North Carolina State and marked the first time the Gators have won their first five games in a season since 1928.

Purdue caught Michigan's Rick Syzer for a safety and linebacker Frank Burke pounced on a blocked Wolverine punt on the one and stepped into the end zone to rally the ninth-ranked Boilermakers over the Wolverines while 10th-rated Oklahoma scored in every period to trim Kansas.

But, it has been moons since an Aggie-Baylor clash has carried as much import as this one, which will be seen on regional television and have an early 1:15 p.m. starting time as a result.

Elsewhere, SMU carries its hopes westward to Lubbock against Texas Tech in another afternoon game, while Texas and Rice try to knock each other out of major contention at Houston under the lights.

Arkansas and Texas Christian take on outsiders, the Hogs at neutral Little Rock at night against Wichita State and the Frogs deep into the Southland against Auburn.

Arkansas beat Texas 12-7 in a lackluster contest marred by 13 miscues and Texas Tech fell 42-33 to Florida State in a hully-gully crowd-pleaser in other action last week.

UCLA stopped Duke 9-6. Also, Maryland defeated West Virginia 28-9, Illinois beat Indiana 24-10, Minnesota blanked Iowa 17-0, Northwestern and Wisconsin fought to a 3-3 tie, Wake Forest downed South Carolina 10-6, Southern Methodist edged Rice 28-24, Houston overran Mississippi State 29-0, Mississippi beat Mississippi State 14-11.

While Baylor and A&M are playing for a share of the league and SMU can keep pace against Tech, the conference strength seems so evenly balanced this season that it is far too early to pinpoint even a remote favorite.

The ultimate champion seems sure to lose at least one, and maybe two games. Under that projection, only Tech is hopelessly out of the running for the title. Arkansas stands a good chance to lose after winning it two years in a row.

The Aggies demonstrated their striking power rather forcibly last week when they rang up a 35-7 victory over TCU, the second time to pile up that many points against league opposition.

SMU overcame a 21-7 deficit with three last period touchdowns to subdue Rice 28-24, the winning score coming with only nine seconds left on the clock and marking the second time in as many weeks the Owls have lost in the final 10 seconds (UCLA 27-24).

Shockers Host Monterey B Team Thursday

Pampa's Shockers host Monterey at 4 p.m. Thursday in the seventh game of the season for the Shockers.

Pampa stands 1-5, and lost to Plainview last week, 32-0 after winning their first the week before.

In junior high action Pampa Junior High ninth (1-3) will try to break a one-game losing streak by playing host to Borger Houston in a league game.

The PJH eighth will shoot for their first win in five outings when they journey to Borger to play Houston and PJH seventh (2-0-2) plays host to Perryton Friday.

Lee ninth (1-3) will try to break their three game losing streak when they host Dumas in a conference game and the Lee eighth (0-4) travels to Dumas.

Lee seventh (1-3) shoots for their second straight victory by playing host to Borger Houston Friday.

All ninth and eighth grade games are at 4 p.m. Thursday. Last Friday Lee seventh won for the first time in four outings by edging Dumas, 8-6.

Garvin McCarral went 12 yards around right end in the first period and Tom Watson scored the conversion for Lee.

Dumas scored in the second quarter but couldn't get the two-point conversion across.

PJH seventh scored once in each of the first three quarters to post their 18-6 victory over Borger Houston.

The PJH seventh is the only undefeated team in Pampa, although they have been tied twice.

Mike Rathun went 50-yards out in the second quarter with Ammons wrapping the scoring up in the third period, this time rambling 70 yards.

Bucks, Wheeler, McLean Take Lead in 1-2A Conferences

White Deer's fullback turned halfback Vernon Marlar got the Bucks winging in their first conference outing this season last Friday and pleased a homecoming crowd no end.

Marlar, who had only three touchdowns in the Bucks' four previous outings this season tallied four times against the Back-of-the-Week award, so given by the Pampa News.

Besides his touchdowns, Marlar led his team in rushing with 147 yards on 13 carries and played an outstanding defensive game.

Marlar, who is being groomed for All-State honors, had runs of 17, 39, 10 and 38 yards as he showed both speed and power.

With the blanking they gave Sunray, White Deer and Gruver, a 19-0 winner of Stratford, are both now 1-0 in the 1-A district.

White Deer's defensive unit still unscored on and the Bucks are now averaging 40.4 points a contest.

While White Deer and Gruver took over the top spots in 1-A, Wheeler and McLean did likewise in 2-A.

The Mustangs rolled to their fifth win in six outings, as did McLean, with a 44-12 victory over Silvertown and McLean downed Calude, 24-12.

Clarendon in 2-A and Canadian in 1-A played each other in a non league affair with Clarendon tumbling the Wildcats, 41-14.

Canadian is now 4-2 after winning their first four in a row. The Wildcats have a tough one Friday when they open conference play by playing host to White Deer. In other 1-A league games Gruver hosts Sunray and

Lovely Life for the Lazy

By PAUL JONES
We know all about tired blood, can ride a nice, comfy power of course, from watching the television commercials. Haul out garbage? Use the dis- But it's getting harder and tired muscles, or tired bones, or tired anything except tired bank accounts. That's because more and more things are being asked to make it easier and easier for us to put out less and less physical effort and more and more money. We can now, for example, sit hour after hour in front of the television set without once getting up or without moving anything but our eyes and, occasionally, a finger. We can watch programs, adjust the picture, control the volume, turn the set on and off, view the silence commercials—all by fingering a little gimmick in our hand. On the highway, we can shift gears with minimal exertion by automatic drive. We can stop effortlessly on a devaluated dime by tip-toe-pressure power brakes. We can raise and lower the car windows, the radio antenna, the trunk lid, the convertible top, and goodness knows what else, by fiddling with little buttons and things here and there. We can heat the house all winter long without ever doing anything but soaking up the heat and paying for it.

Racing Tires Unfit for Highway

With more automobile manufacturers catering to the public's demand for racier-looking cars and with some oil companies touting the racing powers of their gasolines to the skies, it is probably only natural that many young bloods are equipping their mounts with racing tires. This growing use of racing tires on passenger cars for street travel is a practice that should be nipped in the bud, warns one tire expert. There are a number of major differences between a tire designed for the street and one designed for racing, points out Harold E. Mills, manager of racing tire development for Goodyear. Probably the most important is that race tires have no rubber sidewall protection for the carcass cord. This enables them to dissipate heat generated at racing speeds—200 miles an hour and more—but gives them no protection from abrasion or weathering. A passenger car tire has thick sidewall rubber to protect the carcass from curb damage and to withstand the effects of weathering and oxidation. Another difference is in tread design. Most race tires have a compact design to give maximum traction on a dry track. A passenger car tire must have a more open design to perform well on wet roads. Moreover, a race tire is designed for a much wider wheel than a passenger car and for considerably higher inflation pressures. If it is mounted on a passenger car wheel, the result is a small "footprint" and abnormal tread deflection. The tire will wear out quickly. "Take all these factors into consideration," says Mills, "and it is obviously safer and more logical to equip a passenger car with conventional tires designed for high performance on the highway rather than take chances with racing tires."

From California comes a report that there is now available a bumper sticker for people who don't want to take a definite stand on political or social issues, yet want something more on their bumpers than a bumper sticker that reads: "Disregard This Bumper Sticker."

Next fall Cleveland will join with Tokyo and Brussels as the only three cities in the world offering rapid transit rail service from the airport to downtown. Ground has already been broken for the project which will enable passengers to complete the 11-mile trip in about 30 minutes, half the time it presently takes by cab or airport limousine. The fare will be cheaper too. Only 35 cents against the present average of $1.35 charged by the cab operators. That's something that needs to be done in every large city boasting an airport. In most places it frequently takes as long to get to the downtown area as it did to fly there.

Today's smile: Two business partners were on a hunting trip when one remembered: "We forgot to lock the safe." The other passed it off nonchalantly, saying: "What's the difference? We're both here."

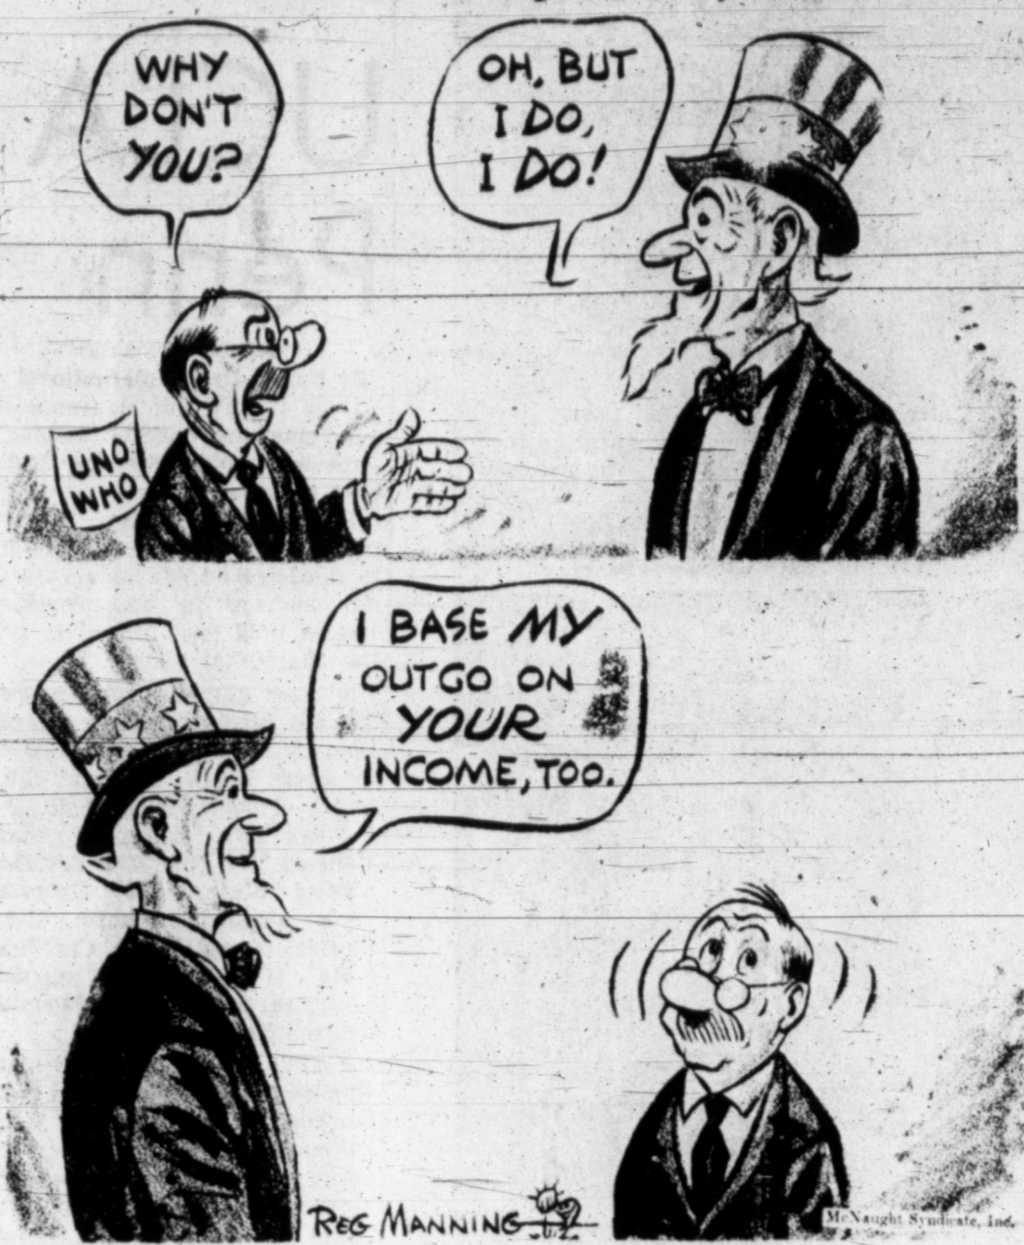

Julius Caesar is credited with inventing the two-lane highway to prevent Roman chariots from running into each other. However, collisions continued and Caesar then invented the one-way street. We don't know if that solved ancient Rome's traffic problems. A coffee shortage would be disastrous in the United States. Latest figures show Americans gulp some 39 million cups of the steaming brew each day. Most of next year's new automobiles will have as standard equipment rear-view mirrors that adjust to cut head-light glare. Just one of the safety measures the auto industry has been forced to include on all cars.

Thoughts while shaving: Wonder if Hubert Humphrey ever wonders if he will be the second Vice-President of the U. S. to become President through election? Martin Van Buren was the only one who made it. All others who gained the top spot did so through the death of the President. Bing Crosby said a mouthful when he observed recently that the song writing business in America has slipped badly. If any of today's Tin Pan Alley songsmiths can turn out the kind of songs Crosby made all-time hits we haven't heard them. Maybe it's no longer big news, but we can't recall reading about a single person swimming the English Channel this past summer. More than 100 have done it since Capt. Matthew Webb of Britain did it in 1875—but the fellow we endorse about most is Fred Baldassare of Florida. In 1962 he became the first person to swim the treacherous 20 miles underwater. The recent death of playwright Anne Nichols recalls that only one other played the record of her smash success "Abie's Irish Rose" for a long run on Broadway. "Life With Father" enjoyed 3,213 performances; while Miss Nichols' work ran for 2,127. Curiously enough every producer rejected her play and she finally raised enough capital to produce it herself, which made her a multi-millionaire. The Augusta (Georgia) CHRONICAL reported in a story: "All three firms said, in effect, they will not consider any extra hikes in wages for nearly 100,000 killed workers in their plants." That certainly makes it a dead issue.

Anti-Crime Tool Passed By Senate, The Immunity Bill, Blocked by Celler, Only from Passage by House

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Senate passed "immunity bill," an urgently-sought major weapon in the thorny fight against the powerful crime syndicates of hoodlums, racketeers and gang murderers, is being deliberately scuttled in the House by one man.

Representative Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., veteran chairman of the Judiciary Committee, is using his virtual dictatorial powers to block consideration of this crucial anti-crime legislation — which the Senate approved overwhelmingly by a voice vote August 26, and which would win similar sweeping House enactment if it could be brought up there.

But on the claim the measure raises questions involving individual rights, Celler has piggybacked it in his committee. And, barring a highly unlikely last-minute change of heart, that's where it is destined to expire.

With Congress rushing pell-mell to wind up next week, there is no practical way the "immunity bill" can be pried out of the Judiciary Committee over Celler's head. Time does not permit recourse to the laborious parliamentary procedure necessary to accomplish that.

As a consequence, this key legal weapon in the extremely difficult struggle against organized crime is dead for this Congress. The only way it can be revived is to start it through the legislative mill again in the new Congress that convenes in January.

Years of strenuous effort and the vigorous support of a host of top federal and state authorities are being frustrated by Celler's obstructive opposition. Foremost among those who have urged enactment of this anti-crime measure are President Johnson in a special message to Congress last March, former Attorneys General Robert Kennedy and Nicholas Katzenbach, Acting Attorney General Ramsey Clark, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Kentucky

Attorney General Robert Matthews, Rhode Island Attorney General J. Joseph Nugent, Ephraim Gomberg, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Crime Commission.

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT — Sponsored by Senators John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Permanent Investigating Committee, and Frank Lausche, D-O., the "immunity bill" is an outgrowth of a series of sensational hearings in which notorious gangsters refused to testify.

Then Attorney General Bobby Kennedy told the probes it was essential to find some legal way to obtain evidence against the criminal underworld. "It is virtually impossible to obtain testimony from any of those who are directly involved," he said. "If an outside individual is brought in, businessman, labor leader, or an ordinary citizen, we have found from experience that he becomes so intimidated he will refuse to testify."

"If we could obtain an immunity provision so that we could give immunity and require testimony, it would be extremely helpful in cutting down on the big-time activities of those engaged in organized crime."

"Organized crime will stop at nothing to escape detection and prosecution. Torture and murder of witnesses, efforts to bribe prosecutors and jurors are familiar racketeering techniques. The pending legislation would expand the authority of the Justice Department to immunize hostile but knowledgeable witnesses against prosecution and thereby enable them to testify without incriminating themselves."

Senator McClellan, in winning speedy and overwhelming Senate approval of his bill, described its purpose as follows: "To provide a statutory method for compelling witnesses to testify or produce documentary evidence concerning violations (of laws), notwithstanding their objection that such testimony or evidence might be self-incriminating, by granting them immunity from prosecution for matters for transactions revealed by testimony or documentary evidence."

ance rates high on the list of mandatory qualifications. That's the word from none other than veteran FBI director J. Edgar Hoover. Testifying before the House Appropriations Subcommittee, headed by representative John Rooney, the top G-man was asked if he still "requires the same high standards of character and competence that have so long characterized the recruitment program of the FBI."

The reply was an emphatic "Yes, sir." "I have insisted that the same high qualifications that we have always had to adhere to strictly," said Hoover. "I will not appoint any man merely because of the color of his skin. We have some employees who are full-blooded Indians. We have white and Negro employees. We have some who are full-blooded Chinese."

"I will not lower the qualifications. I insist appointees be above average in intelligence and reputation, of good character and be above average in personal appearance. I would rather have vacancies than employ those who do not measure up to these qualifications."

Hoover pointed out that the FBI has one of the smallest turnovers in government agencies, and a great deal smaller than in most industries. More than 73 per cent of the FBI's 6,500 special agents have upwards of ten years' service, and 44 per cent of the Bureau's workers have been with it more than 15 years.

Representative Charles Joelsson, D-N.J., expressed surprise at Hoover's stress on personal appearance. "I can understand physical requirements," said Joelsson, "but why is appearance so important?"

"I most certainly would not want to have any beatniks with long sideburns and beards as employees of the Bureau," replied Hoover. "In a broad sense, our special agents are really salesmen. They interview presidents of large banks and corporations, as well as longshoremen and other workers. They have to sell themselves to get the confidence of people to obtain the information we need."

"I am not looking for the 'dollar ad' type. But I am looking for men who are clean-cut, mature and who will measure up to the image which I think the American people feel an FBI man should be." Following are some jarring statistics the world-famed FBI chief gave the committee: "La Cosa Nostra is the largest organization of the criminal underworld in our country. It is very closely organized and strictly disciplined. It has committed almost every crime under the sun from murder, torture and kidnaping."

Great Progress Is Made In Aiding Deformed Child When the association of birth defects during pregnancy was recognized, the drug was withdrawn from the market. That prevented any further defects from this cause but what about the many children already born with deformities due to this or other causes? The Rehabilitation Institute of Montreal has found a way to help many of these children. One 4-year-old girl, who had a tiny hand but no arm growing out of each shoulder, has been fitted with a plastic jacket to which artificial arms and hands are attached. These are powered by an electric motor and their movements are controlled by the child's fingers. This device is lighter and more natural-looking than the hook worn by many persons who have lost a hand or an arm. To accommodate to the child's growth, both the jacket and the length of the arms are adjustable. As a safety precaution the model for a child of 4 to 6 years has a hand grip limited to 2 pounds of pressure. Progress in the design of this and other devices will go a long way to compensate these unfortunate youngsters for their congenital deformities.

er words, more than 1,265 cars were stolen each day during the year. The total loss was in excess of $465 million. One reason for the close and loyal ties between FBI men and other employees and Hoover is his long-standing practice of keeping in personal touch with them. Several times a week agents and other workers are invited to Hoover's office for a chat, and usually commendation for some outstanding work they did. Often they are asked to bring their wives and children. Hoover is one of the few high government officials who take the time and trouble to follow this little-known custom.

WE PREDICT — President Johnson will definitely visit South Viet Nam in his impending Far Eastern tour. For security reasons, this stop-over is being kept very hush-hush, but extensive arrangements are being underway for it. He will go to a major U.S. military base where he will confer with top U.S. and South Viet Nam officials. The chances are strong this visit will be televised. That "war-trial" being organized by Britain's pro-Soviet Lord Bertrand Russell will not take place in France, and probably nowhere else, either. In addition to France's telling the aged leftist he isn't welcome, Belgium, Italy and other countries are cold-shouldering him. Senator Edmund Muskie, D-Me., chairman of the Subcommittee on Inter-governmental Relations, will open a series of hearings November 16 on mutual problems affecting federal, state and local officials.

Definitely certain to get nowhere in the remaining days of Congress is that House passed provision barring a merger of the National Guard and reserve. Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, is strongly against this proposal, and it has no chance of getting out of his committee. Similarly, the Senate Ethics Committee will do nothing more this year on the widely publicized charges against Senator Thomas Dodd, D-Conn. The committee staff is continuing to dig into Dodd's financial affairs, but no hearings are contemplated until Congress resumes in January, and there will be no report on what the committee has done so far. Some committee members are hinting it's possible the committee never make a formal report.

Comptroller of the Currency James Saxon, whose five-year term expires at the end of this year, will not be reappointed. Named by President Kennedy, Saxon has been highly controversial, and President Johnson will replace him. At least three prospects have been sounded out on taking this job.

"I am not looking for the 'dollar ad' type. But I am looking for men who are clean-cut, mature and who will measure up to the image which I think the American people feel an FBI man should be."

Almost 2 1/2 million larcenies occurred during 1964, for a total loss of $207 million. Robbery, primarily a big-city crime because of the frequency with which it occurs in these areas, increased 12 per cent in 1964 over 1963. "There was a 17 per cent increase in 1964 over the previous year in the number of arrests of persons under 18 years of age comprised 21 per cent of all police arrests for criminal acts." "Over 463,000 autos were stolen during 1964, an increase of 16 per cent over 1963. In other

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and proper functions of government which will not insure answers.)

QUESTION: Will the so-called "Civil Rights Law" cause more parents to send their children to non-tax-supported schools because government schools are required to integrate children coming from different races, even if they have to bus them long distances?

ANSWER: It seems logical that they will, even if they have to pay taxes for the government schools because they do not like to have their children go so far across the county or city and because the private schools do not have to integrate if they do not want to, since they do not have government support.

The more the federal government controls what the youth of the land is being taught as to the kind of teachers and the kind of texts they have to use, and since they will not permit the Bible to be studied, or public prayer, in tax-supported schools, it is only natural that parents that have strong religious convictions or convictions of right and wrong will want to send their children to non-tax-supported schools.

Would any parent contend for a minute that he had a right to go to his neighbor and tell him that he had to let him educate his children the way he thought they should be educated, if the parent of the child wanted him educated in a different manner? It is doubtful that any person would contend that he had a right to force another man to have his children educated the way he would like them to be educated. If a man has such an idea, then he certainly believes that the state has a right to do things that no individual has a moral right to do. Then he has a double standard, and you cannot serve two masters.

When they were testing out how popular civil rights laws were in integrating children, the government sent people to places in Texas to test whether the Negroes wanted to send their children to "all white" schools and none of them wanted to do that. The government insists that they be integrated. "Maybe in the long run "Civil Rights" legislation will help people get a better education because they will commence to realize that they have no control over the education of their children when schools are supported by taxes and the policies are set by the politicians in Washington.

Hawkins Named Top Dealer

Joe Hawkins Appliance of Pampa has been selected as the Texas Red Carpet Service Dealer of the quarter by the Maytag Company.

The standards of "Red Carpet Service" are so high and so exacting that very few dealers can qualify, according to Maytag branch manager J. W. Sargent. Out of 800 Maytag dealers in Texas, only 50 have qualified for Red Carpet Service.

In conjunction with the Red Carpet award, George Converse, of the service department, was presented a Maytag watch together with "Excellence" award patches for his uniform.

Motor Supply Opens New Store

Motor Inn Auto Supply, Inc. has announced opening of a new store about Nov. 15, at 2905 S.W. 28th St. Amarillo, according to Crawford Atkinson, president of the wholesale auto parts firm.

The Amarillo store building will contain 5,000 square feet of modern display, shelf, and machine shop space. A paved parking lot for 30 cars is adjacent to the building, located near the Wolfen Village shopping area - two blocks west of Georgia St. in Amarillo.

Manager of the new store will be Eugene Sims - a 22 year employe of Motor Inn. Since 1951, Sims has been manager of the Motor Inn Auto Supply store in Borger. Besides the manager, five employes will staff the Amarillo store initially.

W. H. Ballard will succeed Eugene Sims as manager of the Borger store. Ballard has been with Motor Inn for 8 years - serving in the capacity of assistant Borger store manager most of the time.

"With the addition of the Amarillo store, Motor Inn Auto Supply, Inc. will operate eight wholesale auto parts stores in Borger, Dumas, Groom, McLean, Pampa, Perryton and Sunray. Automobile machine shops are an added service of the stores in Borger, Dumas, McLean, Pampa and Perryton," according to Atkinson.

Investment Group Reports Earnings For Fiscal Year

Southwestern Investment Co. reported consolidated earnings of $1,604,159 for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1966, which is equivalent to $1.18 per share after preferred dividends, according to R. Earl O'Keefe, chairman of the board.

Net earnings for 1966 include a special credit of $70,000, or 7 cents per share, resulting from an adjustment of an over-accrual of prior years expenses of Western National Life Insurance Co., a wholly owned subsidiary.

Net earnings for fiscal 1965 were $1.24 per share. Adjusted earnings, which give effect to the value of the increase of life insurance in force of Western National Life Ins.-Co., were $1.3 per share compared to $1.49 for the previous year. The adjusted book value per share at Aug. 31, 1966 was $15.33 compared to the reported book value of $13.16.

The decrease in net earnings resulted principally from higher interest costs in the finance operations, and a decrease in volume and outstandings of finance receivables, reflecting higher credit standards and some slowing of business activity in the areas served by the company, O'Keefe stated.
