American Jets Fly Record Number Of Raids On VC

Paratroopers Storm Cong Supply Dump

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Jets pounded North Viet Nam with a record 156 raids and American paratroopers uncovered Viet Cong supply and training areas containing classrooms, documents, test papers, and ammunitions, U.S. officials disclosed Saturday.

The Air Force raiders, prevented by bad weather from striking the industrialized areas around Hanoi, concentrated instead on the southern panhandle. They hit 181 targets including 17 oil-depots in the Friday raids.

The 156 missions were 10 more than the previous record set last Wednesday.

U.S. Marines met little resistance Saturday in two sweeps in the northern provinces near the demilitarized-zone between North and South Viet Nam. But they found 33 more bodies at the site of a major close-quarters fight Friday and reported that 319 of the enemy had been killed in the two week-long operations.

The House warned that construction could come to a "grinding halt" by fall without the money transfusion, pushed the bill on to the White House Friday by a 234 to 1 vote.

The bill is a technical move to increase the amount of mortgage loan money available by authorizing the Federal National Mortgage Association to buy an additional $4.76 in mortgages from banks and savings and loan firms. The money thus freed can be reallocated by these institutions for new construction.

Johnson hailed the authorization as part of a legislative package "designed to protect the American home buyer, the American borrower, and the American saver from unwise and unsound competitive practices."

The other part of the package is pending legislation to authorize federally-set ceilings on the interest paid on some types of savings, Johnson said.

Rep. William Widnall, N.J., chief Republican sponsor of Friday's bill, warned House members it was not a cure-all, "but without this legislation, homebuilding would come to a grinding halt this fall."

Police said Fred Teams Paschal, 70, apparently killed himself when seven officers stormed the house behind an armored car and a bullet-proof shield.

Officers charged the four sides of the house and hammered down doors with their gun butts. Paschal was found dead with his shotgun across his chest.

His daughter, Pearl Paschal, 44, died at Grady Hospital about three hours after the shotgun attack. Two of his grandchildren, Russell and Beverly Robertson and officer E. E. Nixon, were wounded. They were reported in good condition.

Mrs. Paschal said her husband attacked them as she, her daughter and the grandchildren prepared to leave in their car to buy school supplies.

"You're not going any damn where," Mrs. Paschal quoted her shotgun-carrying husband as saying.

Paschal poked the weapon into a car window, she said, and shot her daughter in the side. It was not immediately clear if she was shot.

The pressmen were the last to settle in management's 125-day dispute with 10 unions, but the others now are readjusting their agreements as a result of the demise of the daily Herald Tribune.

Titan's Failure Still Puzzling Space Experts

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Project engineers Saturday evaluated the last radio signals from a stricken Titan 3C rocket to find out why its nose cone ripped apart 75 seconds after launch.

The sudden loss of streamlining as the triple-barreled rocket sped upward 16 miles above the Atlantic Friday sent the Titan into a violent nose down flip that ended in a fiery explosion five seconds later.

The super Titan carried eight $1.5 million military communications satellites and their loss stalled Defense Department plans to double its spaceborne network of radio relay stations.

Eight more of the 100-pound switchboard satellites have been built and project officials said earlier they could be launched in two months if necessary.

However, the Air Force said it was too early to determine when the next launch would be and what it will carry.

In another development at the Cape Friday, the Apollo spacecraft expected to carry three astronauts into orbit in December arrived at the spaceport. Its Saturn I booster rocket is scheduled to be mounted on its launch pad Monday.

The unmanned Apollo that raced three quarters of the way around the globe to a Pacific Ocean splashdown Thursday is now en route back to California aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet.

Pilots reported encountering heavy anti-aircraft fire, but there were no immediate reports of downed planes.

Maj. Roy L. Cowan, 36, of Providence, Ky., led a flight of F4C Phantom jets against a storage area 36 miles of Dong Hoi and left stocks of war materials burning.

In South Viet Nam, B52 bombers struck a suspected Viet Cong troop concentration along the central coast and hit a suspected guerilla base camp 60 miles northwest of Saigon in a second raid Saturday.

Press Strike Near An End

NEW YORK (UPI)—A contract agreement reached Friday between the World Journal Tribune Inc., and the Pressman's Union—an accord which could end the longest newspaper strike in New York history—will be submitted Sunday to the membership.

William J. Kennedy, president of the union's Local 2 and head of its negotiating committee, said he would recommend a vote for acceptance. Terms of the settlement will not be disclosed until they are given to the members.

Kennedy predicted the merged paper would be on the streets "by a day or two after Labor Day." But Matt Meyer, president of the World Journal Tribune, declined to make a commitment until he meets with other unions.

The pressmen were the last to settle in management's 125-day dispute with 10 unions, but the others now are readjusting their agreements as a result of the demise of the daily Herald Tribune.

Chinese Teens Cause Uproar

TOKYO (UPI)—The teen-age "Red Guard" movement sweeping China is out of hand and Peking is in a state of near anarchy, reliable Japanese reports said Saturday night.

Nine of the youthful zealots were reported shot and killed by citizens trying to end their rampage.

Japanese correspondents said tens of thousands of Chinese civilians had swarmed into the streets to join the teen-agers in carrying out the "great proletarian cultural revolution"—a form of cultural suicide that was destroying all links with the past.

Foreign diplomats expressed fear for their safety and the Soviet Union protested "acts of hooliganism" that included stoning the Russian Embassy.

Catholic nuns and priests were humiliated in public and foreign visitors were trying to flee the country.

The "Red Guard" organization was first reported in dispatches from China on Aug. 18 when its members appeared at a mass rally in Peking to voice their support of Chinese party chairman Mao Tse-tung's great "cultural revolution"—his term for a purge.

Since then the organization has grown by leaps and bounds. Reports from Red China said the "Red Guards" were active throughout the nation—from Sinkiang Province in the west to Manchuria in the east and Canton in the south.

The "Red Guards" were reported running down the streets, grabbing people, raiding shops, carrying placards demanding "wipe out revisionism," "wipe out capitalism," "sing new revolutionary 'tear down paper tigers,'" and songs.

All forms of "bourgeois Westernism" were being attacked. Youths with Western style haircuts were forcibly seized and their heads shaved. Women with trousers considered too tight had their trousers slit or cut off at the knees.

The "Red Guard" burst into convents and schools, smashed pictures and statues of the Virgin Mary, ripped up or burned Christian Bibles, raised the Red flag over the churches for Moscow.

Russia Raps Chinese Acts

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union officially protested to "acts of hooliganism" at the Soviet Embassy in Peking carried out by teen-age "Red Guard" zealots.

The Red Guards, working with the approval of Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung, have been swarming through the streets of Chinese cities demanding an end to Western and "revisionist" acts.

The note as reported by the Tass news agency referred specifically to an Aug. 22 incident in which "an organized group" prevented a Soviet diplomat from going to the airport to see off a visiting Zambian vice president leaving for Moscow.

Canadian Rail Strike Initiates Fear Of Food, Drug Shortages

OTTAWA (UPI)—Left isolated by a national rail strike, Canada's remote northwest territories feared food and drug shortages Saturday. A worried government considered mobilizing the Coast Guard to run struck ferries for the maritime provinces.

"The entire economy is in jeopardy and the public interest is wholly endangered as long as this strike goes on," a spokesman for Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson warned.

The strike, now in its second day, involved 110,000 employees of seven railways, including the transcontinental Canadian Pacific and Canadian National. The railway workers also provide Canada's telegraph service and the ferryboat links between the maritimes and the mainland.

Parliament was to meet in emergency session Monday to consider back-to-work legislation being hammered out by a special "strike committee" of eight federal cabinet ministers.

Pearson was reported in "constant contact" with the committee from his weekend retreat outside Ottawa. A military airlift was shuttling members of parliament, stranded by the rail strike, to this capital city for Monday's session.

The provincial government of Alberta considered airlifting supplies into remote communities 250 to 400 miles north of Edmonton where some 500 persons have only enough food for five to seven days.

In the maritime provinces, Prince Edward Island was linked to the mainland only by two small privately-owned ferries, and Premier Alex Campbell was forced to consider the politically unpleasant prospect of enlisting the Coast Guard to crew strikebound ferries.

Ethiopia Gives DeGaulle Warm Arrival Welcome

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—French President Charles de Gaulle was welcomed by Emperor Haile Selassie as thousands of Ethiopians cheered.

They traveled into the city, De Gaulle standing upright in an open car and, during stops, walking with dignity straight into the crowds, shaking hands with everyone in reach.

Meanwhile, in Cairo, a crowd of about 900 Somali students attacked the French Embassy with stones, smashed four embassy cars and clashed with police who repelled their attempt to break into the premises. Two policemen were injured, one seriously.

Djibouti, the capital of French Somaliland, which is coveted by the Somali Republic and by Ethiopia, was De Gaulle's first stop on his controversial tour.

The trouble culminated Friday at a city square in which De Gaulle was to address the public. Foreign legionnaires, hurling tear gas and concussion bombs, chased away hundreds of banner-waving, rock-throwing Somalis demanding independence from France or annexation by either Somalia or Ethiopia. De Gaulle was forced to call off the speech.

The president, who is flying around the world in an American plane, switched to a short-range French jet for the flight Saturday to Addis Ababa.

De Gaulle will return to Djibouti Monday to board the American jet for a flight to Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

De Gaulle, dressed in army uniform, had to double over to shake hands with the tiny Selassie. The emperor is five-feet-three, the president six-feet-three.

The crowds along the route from the airport were noticeably thinner than those which greeted Britain's Queen Elizabeth during her visit here last year.

In talks with Selassie, De Gaulle was expected to try to enlist the emperor's support for a French initiative for ending the Viet Nam war.

King Calls Off Rights March

CHICAGO (UPI)—A coalition of "black power" civil rights groups Saturday called off their threat to flout Martin Luther King's march moratorium and parade into tense, fearful Cicero—but only for a week.

Plagued by mobilization problems, the threat of mass arrest and apparent pressure from King's aides, the militants who denounced King's open housing agreement with Chicago civic leaders as a "sellout" said they needed time to gather their forces.

They vowed they would march into the all-white suburb of Cicero next Sunday.

At the instant of postponement, Gov. Otto Kerner was weighing a Cicero request to mobilize the National Guard to block the demonstration on grounds that the marchers had no parade permit.

There was no immediate indication whether Kerner would send in guardsmen to police next Sunday's march, if it is held.

AFTER THE BATTLE, a medic with bandaged arm aids a more seriously wounded U.S. soldier at Phu Loi, 30 miles north of Saigon. In the bitter engagement with Viet Cong forces, U.S. troops were mistakenly strafed and napalmed by American planes.

Pampa Teachers Are On Readiness Alert

Building and room assignments for teachers in the Pampa school system will be made during a general faculty meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Lee Junior High School, according to John Damron, superintendent of schools. At 1:30 p.m. Monday, there will be principal-teacher conferences in the individual schools.

Tower Announces Pampa Stop-Over

U. S. Sen. John Tower announced Saturday night that Pampa will be one of the stops on a three-day, 3,000 mile, 22-city campaign tour of Texas which will start from Wichita Falls, his hometown, Thursday, Sept. 8.

Senator Tower's airplane hopping rallies call for a half-hour stop-over in Pampa at 8:30 a.m. Friday, Sept. 9.

His campaign kickoff for reelection to the U. S. Senate is described as one of the most extensive in Texas political history.

It will open with a "Family and Friend Breakfast" in Wichita Falls, gather steam with a state-wide televised rally in the State Fair Music Hall in Dallas and continue with airplane whistle stops both day and night and into the wee hours of the morning.

"I want to begin this campaign at home in Wichita Falls, but I feel that it is most important, since I am senator for all Texans, for me to open my campaign to all parts of the state," Senator Tower said.

"I am going to make a super-tour right here at the beginning in order to see as many people as possible," he added.

"Since the Senate may be in session until the middle of October, I want to make the best possible use of my time in the state, and still conduct our (See TOWER, Page 3)

Draft Test Date Is Set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Students seeking draft deferments will have another chance to win them in tests planned during November by the Selective Service.

Draft officials said Friday the tests, the fifth and sixth in a series that began in May, will be offered in all 50 states and U.S. territories.

They said that the tests are of an advisory nature only, intended to supplement other information held by local draft boards which determine the eligibility of a student for a deferment.

Eligibility for the November tests is limited to those making application and who have not taken any of the previous Selective Service Deferment exams.

Mortgage Loan Measure Waits Johnson's Okay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is expected to waste no time in signing into law a $4.7 billion measure to ease the money pinch now making it costly and difficult to finance a home.

The House warned that construction could come to a "grinding halt" by fall without the money transfusion, pushed the bill on to the White House Friday by a 234 to 1 vote.

The bill is a technical move to increase the amount of mortgage loan money available by authorizing the Federal National Mortgage Association to buy an additional $4.76 in mortgages from banks and savings and loan firms. The money thus freed can be reallocated by these institutions for new construction.

Johnson hailed the authorization as part of a legislative package "designed to protect the American home buyer, the American borrower, and the American saver from unwise and unsound competitive practices."

The other part of the package is pending legislation to authorize federally-set ceilings on the interest paid on some types of savings, Johnson said.

Rep. William Widnall, N.J., chief Republican sponsor of Friday's bill, warned House members it was not a cure-all, "but without this legislation, homebuilding would come to a grinding halt this fall."

Police Battle Crazy Slayer

ATLANTA (UPI)—A retired used car dealer killed his daughter and wounded two of his grandchildren and a policeman Saturday before he died in a blazing 30-minute gunbattle with police at his barricaded house.

Police said Fred Teams Paschal, 70, apparently killed himself when seven officers stormed the house behind an armored car and a bullet-proof shield.

Officers charged the four sides of the house and hammered down doors with their gun butts. Paschal was found dead with his shotgun across his chest.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS
The Texas Board of Water Development held its public hearing on the Texas 2020 Water Plan in Amarillo on Wednesday of the past week.

There has been much criticism of the preliminary plan as it was first released earlier this year. The hearing in Amarillo produced indications that the plan as now written is a flexible one and subject to change to more adequately meet the needs of West Texas.

There are now four water conservation districts covering the West Texas and Panhandle area. There were interested groups from all four districts at the Amarillo hearing. Two members of the Board of Directors of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District, Phil Hawkins and Stewart Purvines, attended the hearing. Marvin Shurbert, the Vice-Chairman of the Texas Board of Water Development, assured them that the Water Development Board would take under serious consideration any recommendation made by the Board of Directors of the local water conservation district that would implement the meeting of the water needs of the Texas Panhandle area.

The last public hearing on the 2020 Water Plan will be held in Lubbock on September 7. This will be the last opportunity for West Texans to appear before the Water Development Board concerning plans for West Texas.

The 1966 annual convention of the Soil Conservation Society of America was held in Albuquerque, New Mexico on August 15, 16, and 17. One of the speakers for the convention dropped a bomb-shell into his listeners when he declared that water pollution was the greatest tragedy of the 20th Century. He stressed that all levels of government plus industry and agriculture must work to halt pollution even though the program of pollution abatement could cost billions of dollars. R. C. Smith of Arlington Heights, Illinois suggested that the pollution control program may cost more than the current interstate highway program.

William Griener, one of the featured speakers at the convention who is a member of the Iowa Soil Conservation Committee, laid it on the line when he declared that the individual states have a big role to play in pollution control. He emphasized that should state pollution control fail to measure up, then the Federal Government should assume the role.

The Texas Water Pollution Control Board held its regional quality water hearing in Amarillo the past week in conjunction with the Board of Water Development. The hearing sharply pointed up the gravity of the situation in Texas and other states by reminding those attending the hearing that Texas must come up with a plan to control pollution by June of 1967.

There are those who insist that the current widespread and ever-expanding pesticide program poses the greatest threat that animal life in North America has ever faced — in fact, worse than deforestation, worse than drainage, drought or oil pollution.

A speaker for the city of Amarillo at the Texas Board of Water Development hearing in Amarillo stressed water conservation through the use of reclaimed water. The city of Amarillo has had a water reclamation program in operation for over ten years. Texaco's big refinery at Amarillo uses a large amount of reclaimed water each year. Other plants in the area are making plans to conserve water through this type program.

Research is still needed in all phases of water treatment and pollution control. The United States Public Health Service has been for a number of years sponsoring one approach to the problem of securing a higher degree of removal of organic and inorganic compounds from waste waters. The research areas which have shown promise, according to reports released by the Bureau, of having economic and practical feasibility are: absorption by activated carbon and other substances, foam fractionation, gas hydration, ion exchange processes, freezing, solvent extraction and distillation. Some of the research and development work performed for the office of Saline Water of the U.S. Department of the Interior has been directly applicable to the problem of advanced waste treatment, and some of the same research experts are working on the reclamation of waste waters. Much work remains to be done in this field, particularly in relating economics of waste water treatment to stream usage, in order to justify the high cost of tertiary treatment.

Farm Problem Little More Than Indigestion After Good Feast

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA)—With housewives moaning about rising food prices and farmers complaining they aren't getting their share of the increases, 1966 is proving again the two great certainties of American agriculture:

—There is no such animal as a popular secretary of agriculture.

—There is a "farm problem" every election year.

Caught in the middle, the current occupant of the cabinet hot seat has gone on the offensive. Asked in an interview just what was this year's "farm problem," Secretary Orville Freeman told the Newspaper Enterprise Association:

"Little more than a case of indigestion after a pretty good feast. The farmer's really in very good shape today."

Just as his boss, President Johnson, has been known to show visitors a card showing his popularity standing in public polls, Freeman has taken to carrying a document with him. "Take a look at the record," he said proudly, producing the small card. "I've been showing it to every farmer I've met in the last few weeks."

The card was badly dog-eared and stained, presumably by fingers covered with the black loam of Iowa or the brown soil of Missouri. Freeman has visited both states in recent weeks to get across his message to farmers that they've "never had it so good."

Titled simply, "The Record," Freeman's card does list some impressive figures:

"Farm income, $14.1 billion in 1965, up from $11.7 billion in 1960 . . . Per capita income, $1,510, up from $1,108 . . . Government payments, $2.5 billion up from $693 million . . . FHA farm loans, $786 million, up from $309 million."

As he tucked "the record" back in his pocket, Freeman shook his head and said:

"I just can't believe the farmers are going to turn up their noses at figures like these."

Some agriculture officials who did not accompany the secretary to sniff the wind in the countryside are not so convinced that the message has gotten across.

In Washington, the conservative farm organizations are raising their voices in their favorite argument: "Now is the time to get the secretary of agriculture's mitts out of telling farmers what and how much they can raise."

And for the first time since Freeman took office with the Kennedy administration five and a half years ago, the condition of the market for farm products in the United States and abroad gives some support to their argument.

The giant government surpluses which Freeman inherited are gigantic no longer. The carry-over of all wheat on July 1 of this year was 282 million bushels less than in 1965. The United States now has in storage less than a year's reserve.

To meet the shortage threat, the administration told farmers in May that they could increase their wheat acreage by 15 per cent. Another 15 per cent increase is likely next year.

Freeman, however, dismisses the complaints of the farm lobby. To the argument that acreage allotments should be completely discarded, he cites a study by agricultural economists which says in part:

Gray County SCD News

By VAN MILLS
A farm pond and waterway was completed for Bill Waters on his farm southwest of Pampa. The waterway will be established to western wheatgrass. The waterway will be used as an outlet for parallel terraces. Row direction for irrigation was laid out for M. Carey on the Doshia I. Anderson farm south of Kingsmill. Row direction for irrigation was also laid out for W. F. Sheppard on his irrigated farm south of Kingsmill. A seep type pond was staked out for Wilbur Wilson on his stockfarm southwest of MeLean.

The Great Plains Conservation Program in the Western part of Texas is still gaining in popularity. From December of 1957 through May 30, 1966, 8,193 contracts covering 11,030,632 acres were in the program.

Approximately 135 farmers and ranchers in Gray county have entered into the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Texas farmers and ranchers carried out the following amounts of conservation practices in the 1966 fiscal year. Brush control, 1,456,06 acres; Deferred grazing, 7,223,780 acres; Digerion terraces 1,981,664 feet.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
The rain was a multi-million dollar rain to the farmers and ranchers of the High and South Plains of Texas. This is the first general rain for the area in many months. Many plows will soon be running with wheat drills just behind. Homer Taylor, Sr. said he planned to plant just as soon as it got dry enough. I asked him if he did not think it was too early to plant wheat. I was referring to experiment station reports that show yields would be better if planted later in October. I knew what Homer's reply would be. He said, "Blank Blank, I'm Fact is, I tend to agree planting it to graze, not cut." with him on this point. I would not want him to find out about it, though.

Many wheat farmers place too much emphasis on the grain yield and tend to overlook the grazing value. My personal opinion is, "Hit a happy medium." Plant your wheat as soon after Sept. 5-10 as possible if you have enough moisture to get it up. This gives you a reasonably good chance for pasture and grain yield also. When planted in late August your chances are diminished on yield too much. The sharp rise in the price of wheat should be a factor in determining planting date.

Next week Jerry Harland, Assistant County Agent, and I will be at Texas A&M University for the State Extension Conference. Every two years all County Extension Personnel are called to the Headquarters of the Extension conference. Mrs. Melba Gasaway, our Secretary, will be on hand to assist any callers.

Last week Jerry Harland and I completed necessary papers on some 31 head of hereford bull calves that qualified for performance registry. These bulls are owned by Emmett Lefors. Many of these calves will be entered in several of the college bull testing stations in Performance Testing work. Animal breeding scientist have

If anyone offers you absinthe after dinner, think it over before you accept. The characteristic flavoring of this liqueur is derived from various species of wormwood. The best absinthe contains 70 per cent to 80 per cent alcohol. It quickly intoxicates, and its deleterious effects are more serious than those of other forms of alcohol. The wormwood acts powerfully upon the nerve centers, and causes delirium and hallucinations, followed in some cases by mental deterioration.

Hurricane Faith Now Menaces Bahamas With 85 MPH Winds

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Faith pushed into the "hurricane doldrums pocket" Saturday and menaced the southeastern Bahamas with its 85-mile an hour winds.

The hurricane entered the southern door of an "alley" lying just off the eastern edge of the Bahamas Island chain, where many of its predecessors have dawdled in years past before deciding which way to go.

True to form, Hurricane Faith showed signs of slowing down and indecision on a future course.

A midday advisory centered the storm about 850 miles east-southeast of Miami near latitude 2.10 North, longitude 68.0 west. It was moving toward the west-northwest at 12 miles per hour.

"It has slowed down and it looks like it will get slower and slower," said Gilbert Clark, forecaster at the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "It is entering the famous area where hurricanes seem to have trouble making up their mind which way to go."

Nearly a year ago, Hurricane Betsy dawdled, stalled and drifted for almost six days in the same general area delivering a merciless pounding to some of the Bahamas "out island." The hurricane then did a turnaround and finally headed west across southern Florida and into New Orleans to cause the greatest destruction in modern storm history.

Clark said it was too early to determine if Faith will strike Florida.

"There is no threat to the mainland for at least another three days," he said. "The storm may turn a little more toward the northwest but we're not off the hook."

The present danger, as forecasters limited their projections to 12 hours, was to the eastern Bahamas which span 800 miles of ocean in a southeast to northwest chain.

Weathermen predicted the storm's center would pass about 40 to 60 miles north of Grand Turk Island, at the extreme southeastern end of the chain, tonight and about the same distance north of Caicos Island late tonight and early Sunday.

Forecasters predicted "heavy squalls of near hurricane force" would buffet the islands and said heavy seas and surf would begin building up late Saturday from Grand Turk to Cat Island.

"Small craft in these areas should seek safe harbor immediately," an advisory warned.

Medical Report Due on Whitman

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The committee of medical experts studying the brain and background of sniper Charles Whitman is expected to present its final report to Gov. John Connally within the next week, it was disclosed Saturday.

Chairman W. W. Heath of The University of Texas Board of Regents said Dr. R. Lee Clark of M. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston, chairman of the select group, told him the work "is in the concluding stages."

"They are probably drafting the final report now," Heath said, adding the Governor will receive it in the "next week or so."

Connally called on the experts to study Whitman's brain and history in an effort to determine what caused him to climb the 29-story University tower and spray deadly rifle fire onto the campus, taking 14 lives and wounding 32 before police ended his life.

Before Whitman ascended the tower on Aug. 1, he killed his wife and mother in their homes and left notes complaining of headaches. After death, Pathologist Coleman De Chenar discovered a brain tumor at the stem of his brain, which he said had nothing to do with the killing. Other medical experts have disagreed, stating that a "pecaunized" tumor, as described by De Chenar, would be massive in such a location.

Reliable sources said Gov. Connally will call a news conference upon receiving the medical committee's report and reveal its findings.

The regents took no action on the reopening of the tower, which was closed to the general public after Whitman's mass slaying.

Police learned how the children were wounded.

Officer Ether was the first policeman on the scene. He was gunned down as he approached the house where Paschal was barricaded.

Paschal ran from window to window firing the double-barreled weapon at the approaching officers.

Policemen kept shouting: "There he is, he's on your side."

"There he is, in the bedroom."

Paschal's weapon barked repeatedly. Officers moved cautiously around the modest yellow cinder block and frame home.

Police poured countless canisters of tear gas into the home. The gas curled from windows like smoke from a house afire. Still Paschal fought on.

and placed busts of Mao in the schools. The rampaging teenagers hurled orange peels and rocks at priests.

The Soviet news agency Tass said nine members of China's new "revolutionary youth" had been killed by citizens striking back at their Peking rampage. Other reports reaching Tokyo and Hong Kong mentioned bloodshed but there were no details.

Many travelers in China, particularly those from Hong Kong, Macao and other points in Southeast Asia expressed fear and said they were fleeing the country. One tourist reported 500 persons waiting at the Chinese border town of Shum-chung for clearance to reenter Hong Kong. Japanese tourists said they were threatened.

The official New China news agency also reported—with approval of the "Red Guard" movement. It said the campaign is aimed at "the old four—old philosophy, old culture, old customs and old traditions."

But the Peking-based correspondent of the Japanese Mainichi Shimbun, one of Japan's most respected newspapers, reported the "Red Guards" were being joined by tens of thousands of laborers, government employees and housewives, all wearing red armbands.

Mainichi described conditions as a "state of anarchy" with the cultural revolution reaching a plex of religious fervor unmatched by anything in decades in any country. The "Red Guards" according to the official People's Daily in Peking, was to "wash away old culture and create new."

This was in an editorial praising a summer music festival in Harbin, Manchuria. The festival was hailed as exemplary because it "upheld the great red banner of Mao Tse-Tung's thought." It said the festival had swept away the "black line of revisionist literature and art" and destroyed "monsters and demons."

Sabin's Wife Is Found Dead

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Mrs. Sylvia Sabin, 52, wife of the developer of the oral polio vaccine, was found dead Friday at her suburban Clifton home.

Police said a green plastic bag was secured over Mrs. Sabin's head by a rubber band and a note was found nearby.

Dr. Albert Sabin, who observed his 60th birthday Friday, was at his laboratory at General Hospital when the couple's daughter, Debbie, 16, found her mother.

The daughter climbed through a window into the den, when she could not get into the locked house, and found her mother's body on the sofa.

Dr. Sabin said his wife had been under a doctor's care for several years.

The couple, married in Chicago on Sept. 12, 1935, has another daughter, Amy, 14.

Sabin, who came here in 1939, has gained international fame for the development in 1959 of the live virus vaccine that carries his name.

Corpus Now Battles Bugs

DALLAS (UPI)—The battle against the encephalitis-carrying mosquito moved to Corpus Christi Saturday. Two C123 transports turned into "bug bombers" will fly to the Gulf Coast city to help fight the outbreak that statewide has already claimed at least nine lives.

Dallas, for the first time in days, reported no new cases Friday. The city has recorded a seven deaths among 102 cases.

A six plane spray team was credited with the slow down in the spreading of the disease in Dallas. Almost 500,000 acres were sprayed with malathion insecticide over the past week.

The planes will go to Corpus Christi, 392 miles away on the Gulf Coast, where there were 85 suspected cases of the disease.

Pickers Quit Long March

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Almost two months after they started marching to protest their inability to get a raise to $1.25 an hour, marching farm workers were to receive a heroes welcome far from their homes.

Roman Catholic Archbishop Robert Lucey was to celebrate mass for them and they were to be officially greeted by Bexar County officials.

The group of Lower Rio Grande Valley melon pickers are several hundred miles from home. They hope to see Gov. John Connally Labor Day to call a special legislative session to set up a state minimum wage.

The marchers claimed they got 85 cents an hour in the Valley.

The group arrived Friday afternoon at San Antonio's San Juan Capistrano Mission.

Saturday they planned a march into the heart of the city. They were expected to be joined by representatives of most unions and church officials.

Texas Traffic Toll Is 16 Per Cent Up

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas' traffic death toll climbed to 16 per cent above the 1965 comparable figure last week, with 1,970 killed on state roads, the Department of Public Safety said Saturday.

The deaths compare with 1,695 on the same date in 1965.

Fatal accidents also continued to rise, up 14 per cent. There were 1,602 fatal accidents in the state through Friday noon, compared with 1,400 on the same date last year.

Accused Slayer Taken To Court

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—A lovesick gunman accused as the rifle slayer of five friends was whisked from the state jail in secret today for a brief appearance before a Superior Court clerk.

Two deputy sheriff and two city detectives arrived at the jail armed with bench warrants and bundled Arthur Davis, 37, into a cruiser for the five-minute trip to court.

UPI learned that extra security measures were taken because of telephone calls from aroused citizens.

Davis was taken from the jail in manacles and seated in the rear of the cruiser between two of the policemen.

Davis, clad in brown denim, stared at the floor as Court Clerk Louis P. Hurley advised him there was no bail in capital cases in Connecticut. Asked if he had a lawyer, Davis mumbled an affirmative. He was advised of the charges and of his right to remain silent.

Davis, a Negro, was returned to Connecticut late Friday night after waiving extradition in New Jersey where he was seized in the pre-dawn after allegedly killing two women, two men and a child.

Young Writer Views Viet Nam

By JOHN DROLLINGER
United Press International

DALLAS (UPI) — Anyone who claims to understand the Viet Nam war is "either a fool or a liar," Gordon (Bart) McLendon, 19, one of the nation's youngest war correspondents, said Thursday.

McLendon is recovering from acute poly neuropathy, a virus infection of the central nervous system contracted in Viet Nam.

Gordon McLendon Sr. of Dallas, president of the McLendon radio stations, said his son "is beginning to recover feeling and movement in both hands and feet."

Bart said he is ready to leave Presbyterian Hospital.

"My legs are weak and I've lost about 25 pounds—I weigh about 150 now."

Covered Eight Ambushes

McLendon spent 2 1/2 months in Viet Nam reporting for the McLendon stations, 26 other radio stations, 14 television stations, the Chicago Sun-Times and its 75 Sun-Times syndicate facilities. He covered eight ambushes, went on night patrols and flew on air strikes.

He plans to go back to Viet Nam in mid-October.

"There is no way the Viet Cong can beat us militarily," he said. "We're not going to lose this war."

McLendon said the U.S. can win the war by doing one thing, "but unfortunately it is impossible. The only way is with pacification."

"If we could turn the Viet Cong back into loyal South Vietnamese, things would be solve."

Some Anti-Americanism

the "amount of anti-Americanism" in South Viet Nam.

"The Vietnamese people will give their allegiance to whom ever has the money."

"A headline in a Saigon paper read: 'Students Demand an End to Inter-Marriages; No Vietnamese Woman Could be Proud to Marry an American.'"

"The Vietnamese people are very backward and don't support the men we have over there."

He said American soldiers are getting some equipment made in 1953 and the Vietnamese get better equipment than U.S. troops.

Just over 80 per cent of Americans' total pay goes to the rest goes into such as income taxes, savings, Social Security payments, charitable contributions, etc.

Is Water Shortage A Myth? The Experts Blame Facilities

EDIEOR'S NOTE: Who's to blame for the water shortages faced by many eastern cities — man or mother nature? What's the outlook for a break in the DROUGHT? Will things get worse before they get better? The following dispatch gives answers from key federal officials.

By CARLO J. SALZANO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The densely populated and heavily industrialized Northeast, in the grip of a drought for more than five years, has only itself to blame for its water problems.

Residents who have been forbidden to water their lawns or wash their cars, under penalty of fine or imprisonment, may be surprised to learn that there is plenty of water in the region.

That is the conclusion reached by experts of the U.S. Department of Interior.

"There is not and has never been an overall shortage of water for public supply in the region," says an official report compiled by the department's geologic survey.

"Where water shortages have occurred the cause has been a shortage of adequate facilities for the collection, storage, treatment and delivery of water.

"It would appear that the timely execution of carefully laid long-range plans, together with pollution abatement and reasonable measures of water conservation would make the water supplies of the northeast region practically drought-proof for many years to come."

The report goes on to say that the Northeast, with its population and industry growing by leaps and bounds, has not programmed its distribution facilities to meet the increasing demand for water.

"Designed at best to meet a repetition of the less severe 1950 drought and overtaxed by unanticipated increases in population and industry, their capacity to meet the demands placed upon them gradually and progressively declined until the imposition of stringent restrictions on water use became necessary."

The fact that the drought is concentrated in the Northeast should come as no surprise. Although climate and subnormal precipitation are factors, the need for water multiplies as population centers become more dense.

Unlike agricultural drought, which is terminated either by rainfall or by the end of the growing season, manifestations of urban water-supply drought tend to persist and intensify from one year to the next.

So far as the immediate water shortage is concerned, official say, it is too late to worry about facilities now. Planning and construction would take the edge off future droughts but would have no immediate effect on the current problem.

One weather bureau spokesman said what the region needs now is about a foot of extra rain—that is, about one inch more a month than it normally gets. At that rate, it would take the Northeast about a year to climb out of the drought category.

Colorful Fugitive Nears End of Crime Career

By THOMAS TULLY
United Press International

DALLAS (UPI) — The colorful career of BenJack Cage, whose enterprises in land, insurance, electronics and diamonds have led him from Dallas to Rio De Janeiro, may be nearing an end.

Cage, 49, has lived a life of luxury in Brazil as a fugitive.

Cage was convicted of embezzling $100,000 in an insurance deal in October, 1957. The last time he saw the inside of a jail was four days after he was convicted and given the maximum sentence of 10 years.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, to whom Cage had surrendered on the embezzling charge, made a prophetic remark at the time. Wade was asked if he had any recommendations for Cage's bond. "I'll leave the bond to the court, but I want to remind the court that he took off for Brazil once before," he said.

Cage made $6,000 bond to free until his appeal came to trial in January, 1959.

By 1958, reports came from Sao Paulo, Brazil that Cage was in business there. He established a manufacturing business and was devoting 50 per cent of his profits to be returned to the shareholders of ITC Insurance Co., the company involved in Cage's swindle.

Cage never showed up for his trial. He chose to remain in one of the few countries which had no extradition agreement with the United States.

In Business Again

Reports of a "reformed" Cage began to dwindle. In 1962 Cage was reported operating with another fugitive from American justice, Earl Belle of Pittsburgh. He was said to be using the alias "Sullivan."

When Belle returned in December, 1963, to face fraud and conspiracy charges, publicity turned up Cage. He was in the land business. One of his concerns was the Panlanco Land Co., which at various times held options on 2 million acres in Mato Grosso state. Most of the land was jungle.

Two months ago Cage put his wife and 4-year-old son into a taxi and disappeared from his $700 a month ocean front apartment. Two weeks later he sent someone by to settle back rent and pick up his things.

Cage has not been seen nor heard from since. His wife and son turned up in Kerrville, Tex., about a month ago visiting her mother. She said she has not heard from her husband in several weeks.

Two weeks ago Dist. Atty. Wade disclosed a new development to add to Cage's woes. Wade said he sent proof to Brazil that Cage's child was adopted. This would invalidate Cage's claim to Brazilian citizenship.

BenJack Cage is now wanted in Brazil as well as the United States. As a Brazilian citizen he must stand trial there for his crimes in the United States. If he returns to Texas he must stand trial for his other indictments as well as serve his ten years.

Cage's freedom may soon come to an end.

Negro Legislator For Louisiana Is 1968 Possibility

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Sen. Danny Roy Moore of Homer said today it was possible for one or more Negroes to be elected members of the 1968 Louisiana Legislature.

The last time Negroes occupied legislative benches in the state capitol was during radical reconstruction which extended from the end of the Civil War into the 1870s.

Moore said the 1965 Federal Voting Rights Law had much to do with voting strength shifts that gave the balance of power to Negroes in some districts.

Clarence K. Jones Jr., Assistant director of the state registration board, supplied figures that showed Negro bloc voting could elect legislators in West Feliciana, East Carroll and Madison Parishes plus wards 9, 2 and 11 in Orleans Parish.

Jones said federal examiners in the parishes of Plaquemine, East Feliciana, Ouachita, East Carroll and West Feliciana had registered 13,086 persons to vote as of June 30. He indicated at least 90 per cent of these were Negroes.

Bogus Bill Scare Turns Out To Be Rodeo Promotion

HUNTSVILLE — Officials of the Texas Department of Corrections have completed an investigation into what at first appeared to be a massive counterfeiting ring operating in the Walls Unit.

They're producing $7 bills in the print shop of the Department here, and it's all legal. However, the money isn't the kind that can be used as cash. Instead, the bill is being used to promote the 35th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo.

Basically, the 7-Buck bill is a "Return Invitation Note" to the Prison Rodeo of Texas and is being distributed to persons who purchase tickets to the 1966 Prison Rodeo series held here each Sunday in October.

Since the Prison Rodeo's 7-dollar bill is larger in size than Uncle Sam's official paper money, it is doubtful anyone will try to cash it.

On the other hand, the clever slogans appearing on the bill will make it an interesting conversation piece.

Hawaiian Senator Raps Department Of Defense For No Funeral Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the words of the Pentagon, the corporal did not receive proper "funeral support."

A tape recorder played taps. There were no honor guards or riflemen.

Military pallbearers were unavailable. The corporal's widow, with the aid of a cousin and the mortician, had to find someone to help carry the casket.

It happened on the island of Maui, one of Hawaii's less accessible outer islands. Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, who said the incident left him "shocked, incredulous and ashamed," told the story Wednesday. He asked that the names of the principles not be published. The corporal had died of combat wounds suffered in Viet Nam and his body was shipped home to his widow on Maui for burial.

Sought Military Rights

The widow asked the Army Survivors Assistance Officer for full military rites.

But two days before the funeral, she was told that she must supply her own pallbearers, that only the National Guard was available, and that these men would be busy with their civilian jobs.

A cousin and the mortician helped her find pallbearers.

But there was no honor guard. No bugler playing taps.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans are depending more and more on electronics in this space age, so the problem of keeping these devices operating is a vital one.

A defect in a tiny electronic circuit can delay an orbital mission. A worn-out component can force a police radio station to go off the air, thus affecting public safety.

Malfuncting of an electronic process in a hospital can cause a tragedy.

But such happenings are rare, according to an executive of a company which distributes product lines of about 500 manufacturers.

"There are very few such disruptions these days, whether in manufacturing, commerce, broadcasting, or any other user of electronic equipment, thanks to the electronics distribution industry," Max I. Epstein, president of Federated Purchaser, Inc. of Springfield, N.J., told UPI.

"This industry which has come into being largely within the past 30 years now numbers many large and small distributors of electronics parts and components," Epstein said.

"They not only serve the manufacturer who makes electronic products for consumer use, but their inventory of thousands of items also is available for the immediate requirements of industry for maintenance, repair and operation."

Epstein said his company stocks more than 200,000 items for the 500 manufacturers it services.

"With few exceptions, any person or firm can obtain his multiple requirements from an electronics distributor, regardless of the various sources of manufacture that may make them," Epstein said.

Big Inventories Unnecessary

Customers do not have to keep large inventories of electronics parts and components on hand constantly because all they need to do is telephone nearby distributors, Epstein said.

"The public also benefits in many ways from such a setup," Epstein said. "The need for parts stocked by electronics distributors is being expanded not only by the growing use of automatic controls and devices and the steadily rising use of computers and data processing systems, but also by the booming market for color television sets and other electronics appliances used by consumers."

Epstein said the quick availability of components can enable a military establishment to make necessary changes in equipment and thus aid the national defense.

He recalled that in the middle 1930s distributors of electronics components generally were small merchants who sold items to radio repairmen and ham operators.

Today, Epstein said, there are more than 2,000 distributors who handle an annual sales volume of more than $1 billion. He said he expects the volume to double by 1970.

This Week In Business

By LEROY POPE
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The continued slide of the stock market overshadowed all other business news this week. The list declined in three of the first four days of the week, then opened sharply lower Friday morning. The list now has declined in 12 of the last 14 sessions.

There wasn't much in the business news picture to justify the declines.

Retail trade picked up again on back-to-school buying and Standard & Poor's reported several favorable economic indications. Public construction outlays continued to rise and are 5 per cent up on the year so far, for example. The outlook for railroad earnings for the year is for a gratifying 10 per cent increase and all corporate dividends probably will be up 10 per cent on the year, the statistical service said.

But none of this seemed to impress stock traders, who seemed determined to liquidate their holdings and waited to buy back in a lower market.

Interest rates were in the news again with indications that they are rising slowly in response to the action of the big commercial banks the previous week in raising the prime rate to 6 per cent. This week, for example, the rates were raised quite generally on loans to finance dealers' floor inventories of new cars.

The auto industry had another downturn in retail sales for the middle third of August although both Chrysler and Ford reported increases. Automobile production turned the corner this week, though, with scheduled output just under 50,000 cars,

Income Tax Questions, Answers

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Bernard F. Grabowski made a speech this week in which he urged toy manufacturers not to advertise toys of violence and death.

"Who is to say that toys which promote violence and death do not psychologically and adversely affect our Democrat asked.

I can't answer that question but I am prepared to testify that such toys psychologically and adversely affect parents. That, however, is another story. Back to Grabowski.

"Would it not be better to advertise a toy as one of constructive beneficence rather than one of destructive powers?" he reasoned.

Study Results
I rather doubt that his appeal will be heeded, but let us spend a little time musing over what the results might be if it were.

Here we have the Violence & Death Toy Co. The big buying season is approaching and it has a warehouse full of toy pistols, rifles, machineguns, bayonets, swords, hand grenades, bazookas, flame throwers, tear gas pellets, Gatling guns, mortars, howitzers, missile launchers, etc.

The problem is to advertise these toys in such a way as to give them an aura of constructive beneficence.

"Hi there, boys and girls. Know what this is? Looks like an arsenal, doesn't it? But appearances can be deceiving, kiddies. This is our new 'daddy's little helper cookout kit'.

"Yessiree, boys and girls. With a box of these gadgets you can have a realistic backyard barbecue, just like daddy.

"See this thing that looks like a flame thrower? It's a charcoal lighter, kiddies. Shoots a stream of sparks 18 inches. Almost burns the carport down, just like daddy.

"And what have we here? No, not a sword, it's a skewer for shish-ka-bob. You stick hunks of meat on the end and occasionally jab yourself in the hand, just like daddy.

"Our kit includes a box of pellets that explode when you drop them. They may smell like tear gas, but they're really insect repellents."

This commercial doesn't cover all the weapons but any toy company that can't figure out a way to use a bazooka at a cookout deserves to go bankrupt.

Flower Care
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — In hot, dry weather blossoms mature daily on many flowers. Removing the dead blossoms helps to continue bloom and may often prevent disease from starting, reminds Craig S. Oliver, extension ornamental horticulturist at the Pennsylvania State University.

U.S. Welcomes Talk With Reds About Geneva Conference Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States would welcome talks with the Communists on the meaning of the Geneva accords which long have been part of the disputed background of the Viet Nam war, officials here reported Saturday.

The first set of accords was signed in Geneva July 20 and 21, 1954, at a conference of the United States, Britain, Russia, France, Communist China, Cambodia, Laos and rival Vietnamese. (The U.S. did not sign but issued a supporting statement.)

The accords partitioned Viet Nam along the 17th Parallel, imposed limits on the presence of foreign military personnel, called for elections by July, 1956, to reunify North and South Viet Nam (these were never held), and set up an International Control Commission (ICC) to supervise peace.

The 1962 accords which sought without complete success to end the Communist war in Laos, called for removal of all foreign troops and banned use of Laos as a Communist supply route to Viet Nam.

U.S. military advisers left Laos but North Vietnamese troops never did.

In 1964, rioting went on in Philadelphia. In two days, more than 150 persons were injured and 165 were arrested.

Seven members of the Communist Warsaw Pact, meeting in Bucharest, Romania, July 7, called publicly on the United States for "strict observance" of the accords.

The U.S., in the first of its "fourteen points" issued last winter, said the agreements

First Year Could Be Good One for WD Coach

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

WHITE DEER — Sherill Bottoms begins his maiden season as coach of the White Deer Bucks this year and he has inherited a wealth of talent, especially in the backfield. Bottoms returns nine starters including four of the top area scorers in 1965 and the best fullback in the area. In his backfield Bottoms has a problem. He returns Randy Elliott, the area's top point-maker in 1965 with 19 touchdowns and one conversion for 116 points, Vernon Marlar, who switches from fullback to tailback, Gary Smith, who'll play fullback, Otto Wheeler, who will quarterback his team after recovering from a twisted knee and Ronnie Sargent, who didn't start last year and doesn't figure to this season, despite scoring 42 points on seven touchdowns last year. Marlar had 90 points on 15 touchdown runs and Smith had seven TD's for 42 points.

Junior John Paul Guinn, a 148-pounder will spell Wheeler at quarterback. Marlar is a 186-pound senior while Elliott weighs in at 160 and Smith at 176 and Wheeler is a 150-pounder. Bottoms has four full-time starters and one part-timer returning to bolster his line. The part-timer in 1965, Bobby Rapp is getting a late start due to an operation and his starting status is doubtful at this time. Rapp is a 215-pound senior, the biggest of the Bucks.

The Bucks have back both guards from a year ago when they romped over 12 straight foes before losing in the state finals. Gary Stewart, a 176-pound senior and Burl Pipes, a 156-pound senior will man the guard posts while Monte Kreis, a 182-pounder will return to his familiar tackle slot as will Ronnie Anderson, a 146-pound senior at end. Bottoms has lettermen, all with good experience to fill the end, tackle and center spots he has open.

Jerry Grange, a 148-pound junior will probably start at end with Mike Hawpe, a 182-pound junior at tackle and Ken Carter, a 180-pound senior at center. Bottoms has three other lettermen with fair experience he can call on in halfback Steve Thomas, a 145-pound senior, Harry Riggins, a 170-pound tackle and center Danny Mooney, a 145-pound junior. The Bucks had the finest defensive team in their class in 1965, allowing only 32 points to be scored against them.

White Deer tallied 382 points, an average of 38.2 per game and have all the makings for better things in 1966. "We feel that our reserve strength is our biggest weakness," Bottoms says, adding, "We should be able to field a pretty good first 11 but we have to stay healthy." The new Buck coach comes to White Deer from Lewisville where he had been for four years, the last two as head coach. He started slowly, going 2-8 his first season but came back strong in 1965 for a 7-3 record. "I have never been more pleased or impressed with a group of seniors as I am these boys. They love to play and have a lot of pride," Bottoms said. The Bucks drop in class, from 2-A to 1-A and now are in a district with Canadian, Gruver, Stratford and Sunray. White Deer can only be one game better than they were in 1965 and this corner believes they will be. See Related Story P9

Marichal Pitches SF To Top in National

Cards Whack Buc's To Square Series

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juan Marichal, his sore left ankle heavily taped, pitched the San Francisco Giants to first place in the National League Saturday with a 4-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The victory, coupled with St. Louis' 5-1 win over Pittsburgh, booster the Giants a half game ahead of the Pirates. The third place Dodgers, whose winning streak was snapped at five, fell two games behind the Giants. Marichal, in winning his 19th game of the season compared to five losses, was touched for eight hits, five of them in the first three innings. However, Juan settled down to hold the Dodgers in check the rest of the game except for a bases empty homer by Willis Davis in the sixth.

Cards 5, Buc's 1
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Ted Savage, recently called up from the St. Louis Cardinals farm club at Tulsa, got two hits, drove in two runs, scored one and stole a base Saturday in a 5-1 Cardinal victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Savage opened Cardinal scoring in the first with a double. He went to second on a wild pitch by starter Steve Blass and scored on an error by catcher Jesse Gonder.

Sens 3, Tribe 1
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Phil Ortega pitched a three-hitter and Fred Valentine and Frank Howard hit back-to-back doubles to break a scoreless pitching duel Saturday as the Washington Senators downed Cleveland 3-1. Pinch-hitter Vic Davalillo spoiled Ortega's shutout in the eighth inning when he blasted his second homer of the year to deep center field.

Twins 1, Chisox 0
CHICAGO (UPI) — Durable Jim Kaat became the first 20-game winner in the American League this season Saturday, blanking the Chicago White Sox 1-0 on three hits to boost the resurgent Minnesota Twins into third place. The 6-4, 225-pound left-hander retired 16 consecutive batters in one stretch while out-dueling Gary Peters, who has lost eight games in row to the Twins without a victory in his four years in the majors.

Yanks 11, Tigers 1
NEW YORK (UPI) — Rookie outfielder Steve Whitaker, called up from Toledo last Monday, continued his hitting rampage Saturday night with three hits, including an inside-the-park homer, to lead the New York Yankees to an 11-1 rout of the Detroit Tigers. Whitaker, who has now collected six hits against the

Ellis Awarded MWT Scholarship
Pampa High School graduate Richard Ellis, has been awarded the Men's West Texas Golf Association first scholarship, according to Frank Underwood, vice-president of the association. Ellis, who is planning to attend Texas A&M on a half-scholarship in golf was awarded the $500 a year scholarship because of his classroom work and play on the golf course. He was a standout member of the Pampa Harvester golf team for three years and is considered a top contender in the Top O' Texas tournament here this year.

Reds Win Two
HOUSTON (UPI) — First baseman Chuck Harrison of the Houston Astros singled off the left field fence with two outs in the last of the ninth inning Saturday to drive in the winning run as the Astros defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-4. Harrison was four-for-four for the night, including a homerun and two runs batted in. Claude Raymond, who came on in relief of starter Bob Bruce took the win. Lefthander Curt Simmons was the loser for the Cubs in relief in the ninth inning.

Astros 5, Cubs 4
CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds outslugged the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday for a 5-4 Philadelphia victory for a 14-7 and 8-7 sweep of a day-night doubleheader featuring 12 home runs. Cincinnati clubbed Philadelphia pitching for five homers among 17 hits in the opener and 15 hits and two homers in the second game. Deron Johnson's leadoff homer in the ninth inning of the nightcap was the clincher.

JANUARY PLAYS STEADY Arnie Charges to Tie

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Arnold Palmer "charged up" Arnold Palmer came from four strokes behind the leaders with a seven-under-par 69 Saturday to join consistent Jon January, who posted his third consecutive 69, at 207 and a one-stroke lead after the third round of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic. Palmer's round, with seven birdies and no bogeys, was the best of the tournament thus far at the par-72 Whitmarsh Valley Country Club. He opened with birdies on the first and second holes and said they gave him "a charge." He also birdied the par-5 fifth hole and the 10th, 15th, 17th and 18th.

January, who shared the lead going into the third round with fellow Texan Dave Marr and Billy Martindale, scored four birdies and one bogey in a crisp, steady round. The lean Texan said he was so tired — this is his ninth consecutive tournament — that he "can't grunt and growl" at the ball but added "maybe this is relaxing me more." Ahead O' The Pack The two veterans were nine strokes under par for the 54 holes, one stroke up on Canadian George Knudson, who had a 69 for a three-day total of 208. Further back at 210 were Gene Littler and Marr, who slipped to a 72 Saturday after a six-under-par 66 Friday. January said his play here was the most consistent he has been since early in the year at San Diego and that he would "take another 69 Sunday and I don't care what they do, meaning Palmer and the other contenders. Knudson, who started the day one stroke behind the leaders, missed a chance to tie for the lead on the 18th hole when he three-putted for a bogey. Tom Weiskopf, 23-year-old sophomore pro from Bedford, Ohio, and a crowd favorite after an opening day 66 for the early lead, soared to a 41 on the front nine but settled down to a four-under-par 3 coming in to post a 73 and hang five strokes back at 212.

Still In Race Jack Nicklaus, winner here for the past two years, had his second consecutive 70 for a four-under-par total of 212 and warned "don't count me out." Billy Casper, Bruce Crampton and Bob Goalby were at 211. Others, under par were George Archer, Jay Hebert, Chuck Courtney, Bob Charles, Dudley Wysong Jr. and Roberto DeVicenzo at 213. Steve Spray, Paul Bondeson and Billy Martindale were at 214, while Dick Crawford, Charles Coody, Ed Griffiths and Butch Baird were at 215.

Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., withdrew prior to the start of Saturday's play, after just making the cut at 147. Gardner Dickinson Jr., Lost Tree Vaillage, Fla., and Jack McGowan, Largo, Fla., dropped out after playing nine holes Saturday. All three cited illness.

Top prize in the fourth annual tournament over the 6,706-yard course is $21,000. Palmer won the inaugural and Nicklaus took the other two.

NO CONTEST CLEVELAND (UPI) — Stewards at Randall Park race track declared the second race no contest Friday and refunded more than $23,000 to bettors after a horse reared in her stall, disrupting the starting mechanism and creating a false start.

SEPTEMBER 'THE' MONTH

Podres Likes Dodgers in Stretch Run...Who Else?
NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Podres likes the Dodgers, naturally. Who else do you think he's pick: The Pirates? Or the Giants? Not on your life. He still has too much of that Dodger blood running through his veins even though he wears a Detroit blouse now. "They've got the pitching and I think they're gonna win it, when I think the Dodgers pitching will do it. "They've got the speed to go with the pitching and they've been down this same road before. I know the Giants have been, too, but you wouldn't had to be a part of the Dodgers like I was to understand why I think they'll win. "One way or another, they know a way to win. They know what they're there for. They're there to play 162 games and they do it. That's the best way I know to win." Podres came over to the Tigers last May 9 and up to that point he had pitched only one inning for the Dodgers since the start of the season. "I never could figure out why (Wall) Alston didn't pitch me more," he says.

AROUND THE LINE — White Deer had the best defense of any team in the Panhandle in 1965 and return these seven boys who plan to make it even better this season. From left, starting with No. 35, Gary Stewart, Monte Kreis, Gary Smith, Vernon Marlar, Randy Elliott, Ronnie Anderson and Burl Pipes.

Ralston, Clark, Bueno, Richey Hit Semi-Finals in Doubles

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — American Davis Cup stars Dennis Ralston and Clark Graebner advanced Saturday to the semi-finals of the 88th Lawn Tennis Association doubles championships by hammering out a hard-won 13-11, 6-4, victory over two unseeded Mexican players. The top three women's teams also moved into the semi-finals while Graebner fired 14 unreturnable serves. Graebner ended the 62-minute first set by drilling four points past the diminutive visitors after Lara's service had been broken in the 23rd game.

The second set continued until Ralston evened matters at 11 games each when Lara again was broken. Loyo-Mayo and Lara were upset in the first game of the final set and the two teams traded serves to the end. Roche and Newcombe, the 1965 Wimbledon doubles winners, broke Lutz in the eighth game of the first set before winning and captured the second set after breaking Lutz in the third game. Smith, who rooms with Lutz at the University of Southern California, lost his serve for the win.

Unknown Has Lead in LPGA Classic
TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — Gloria Ehret of Danbury, Conn., fired a one over par 72 Saturday to take the lead of the $25,000 Glass City Classic with a total of 142 for the 36 holes. The 18-hole finals of the richest event on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour will be held Sunday at the Highland Meadows gold course. The young swinger, who never won a tournament on the LPGA tour, said she was scared on the first few holes Saturday, and had several birdie putts that failed to drop in. "But she still had a one-stroke lead on the field in her drive for a first title. The runnerup was Sandra Haynie of Ft. Worth, Tex., with an even par 71. Another stroke back at 144 was Mary Lou Daniels of St. Louis, who carded a 72 Saturday.

In ladies' play, top-seeded Maria Bueno and Nancy Richey entered the semi-finals with 11-9, 6-3 victory over 10th-seeded Stephanie DeFina and Tony Fretz; Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals, the No. 2 entry, struggled by ninth-seeded Lynne Abbes and Valerie Ziegenfuss, 7-9, 6-2, 8-6; and third-seeded Virginia Wade and Winnie Shaw, the Eglis Wightman Cup stars, overpowered Esme Emanuel and Maryna Godwin, the seventh-seeded team from South Africa, 6-2, 7-5. In another match, eighth-seeded Francoise Durr of France and Australia's Gail Sherriff breezed by unseeded Mimi Henfreid and Emilie Burrer, 6-2, 6-3.

NEW GIANT FAIRFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — The New York Giants obtained Jim Garcia, a 6-foot-5, 260-pound defensive end, from the Cleveland Browns Wednesday for an undisclosed high draft choice.

Eagles Strike Late To Down Giants 24-23
PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles scored twice with less than a minute and a half remaining in the final quarter to defeat the New York Giants 24-23 Saturday in a National Football League exhibition at Princeton University's Palmer Stadium. Eagle quarterback Norm Snead threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to fullback Israel Lant with 1:13 to go, cutting the Giant lead to 23-17. Twenty-five seconds later, Snead hit flankers Ben Hawkins with a 46-yard touchdown toss after Eagle Ron Medved had recovered Sam Baker's on-side kick. Baker converted for the winning point.

Rambling With Red
RON CROSS

As in 1965, the Coronado merchants, thanks to Dennis Smith, will honor the Pampa High School football team with another rally.

The festivities will get underway Sept. 8 at 8:30 p.m. at the center.

The coaches, Shocker and varsity members, cheerleaders and band will be present and all, save the band will be introduced.

Dr. Joe Donaldson will again be the MC.

Former Harvester Royce Harnsberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harnsberger, received his M.S. degree in physical education from Baylor Friday.

Royce is a 1965 graduate of Wayland Baptist College where he was a four year member of the Wayland Pioneers cage team.

Two new college brochures arrived this week, one from Houston University and the other from West Texas State.

We looked first, of course, at HU ramblings where Ken Hebert would be mentioned.

Hebert is listed as a 5'11, 195-pound junior who plays split end.

In 1965 Hebert led the varsity pass receiving with 24 catches for 359 yards and punted 75 times for a 40.6 average and scored 47 points.

In six years at West Texas, head coach Joe Kerbel has a 37-27-1 record. If all reports are true, his winning percentage will improve greatly this fall.

The feeling is the Buffs will be better this year than in 1965.

The key to their offense is Hank Washington, a Californian, who can pass like a pro and will throw off the pro set this season.

One of the better known names in the tournament, and another open next week.

Celane is holding their annual Pamcel Tournament today and golfers throughout the state are on hand to try and dethrone Max Hickey as champion.

One of the better known names in the tournament, at least to Pampanas, is Buster Carter.

Sept. 2 practice rounds open in the annual Top O' Texas tournament at Pampa Club.

Some of the newest entries include Jim Grant of Baylor University, Don Lacky of Oklahoma State and Rick Massengale of Jacksboro.

The time is nearing for the annual Staff Picks to pick up where they left off at the end of last football season.

You can bet that your old pro is gonna' bear down this year and lead from the gate to the finish line.

Hear that Chico and Bill Power?

An outstanding area lineman, back and coach will be honored weekly, beginning Sept. 12 in the Pampa News.

Also an area roundup each Monday with district standings and the following week's games will be included plus stories everyday on area teams.

Pampa High School, the Shockers and junior high teams will have expanded coverage this season.

Longhorns Lose End to Baseball

AUSTIN (UPI) — Safety Gary Moore, who has held a starting spot with the University of Texas as Longhorns the past two seasons, has decided against returning for a third year, Coach Darrell Royal confirmed Friday.

Royal said Moore told him he plans to sign a professional baseball contract. He said he did not know what team Moore planned to join.

Moore is a 5-foot-11-inch, 185-pounder from Tulsa, Okla., who was being considered for full back or split end for this season.

Vikings, Colts Blitz Opposition

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Put the Minnesota Vikings, Washington Redskins, Baltimore Colts, and Cleveland Browns together and the result is the biggest bargain in football.

At least that is the consensus of 83,418 football fans who witnessed the Vikings 30-27 defeat of the Redskins and the Colts 24-17 victory over Cleveland Friday-night in the annual pro football exhibition doubleheader.

The name of the game, however, was passing as each team resorted to the airplanes rather than using the more academic overland route.

In the opener, Minnesota rushed a mere nine yards against a staggering 354 yards gained via their aerial assault. Washington used the ground slightly more and rushed 38 yards, but took to the air for 303 more.

Held Halftime Lead
Rolling up a 27-17 halftime lead behind the pinpoint passing of Fran Tarkenton, who completed nine of 11 passes in the first half, the Vikings scored on two of their aeriels and took advantage of another to set up a third tally.

Tarkenton connected on a 32-yard toss to Paul Flatley in the opening period. Later he fired a 50-yard toss to him again setting up a one-yard scoring plunge by Phil King.

In the second quarter, the lanky Viking quarterback threw another barrage this time hitting Hal Bedslow. But Washington came from behind to take the lead in the fourth period as the soccer style kicking of Charlie Gogolak hiked the Redskins to a 27-24 margin on his 25-yard field goal.

The Washington lead, however, was shortlived. When Fred Cox, with six seconds remaining in the game, duplicated his earlier 41-yard field goal by kicking a 28-yarder to assure the Viking triumph.

In the nightcap, Cleveland appeared to have it locked up against the Baltimore squad but the tide changed after Frank Ryan's pass to Gary Collins wound up in the arms of Bob Boyd.

Falcons Down 49ers, 24-17

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — Rookie quarterback Randy Johnson moved previously puncheon Atlanta on four long scoring drives Saturday night to give the Falcons a 24-17 National Football League exhibition victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

Johnson, who completed 13 of 21 passes for 285 yards, connected on a 35-yard touchdown throw to flanker Alex Hawkins in the fourth period to ice the game for Atlanta over the 49ers, who are winless in four exhibition starts.

A stubborn Atlanta defense, led by halfback Ron Smith and linebacker Tommy Nobis, stalled the 49ers offense and neither quarterbacks George Mira nor John Brodie could get it going. They spoiled three San Francisco touchdown drives.

Johnson moved the Falcons 77 yards in the first period with halfback Ernie Wheelwright crashing over from the three to score. In the second period the Falcons marched 78 yards, climaxed by Larry Moore's 21-yard field goal. Halfback Charlie Scales, obtained this week from Cleveland, capped an 87-yard march in the third period with a two-yard touchdown plunge. Hawkins touchdown catch came on a 79-yard march.

San Francisco scored early in the first period on a 20-yard run by halfback Dave Kopy and in the final minute of the game on a five-yard pass by Billy Kilmer to Bernie Casey. Tommy Davis booted a 36-yard field goal in the third period.

Johnson, from Texas A&I, was in on every Atlanta offensive play. His best passes included a 60-yarder to Billy Martin and a 43-yarder to Wheelwright.

surprise the White Deer Bucks are the overwhelming favorite to capture the district 1-A title in 1966.

It seems this puts new Buck coach Sherill Bottoms on the hot seat in his maiden season at White Deer, but its being done with good reason.

First, the Bucks drop in class from 2-A to 1-A and second Bottoms has a wealth of talent returning.

He has four of the area's top scorers from 1965 and some of the better linemen in the district.

Too, Bottoms has more depth than anybody in his district.

The Bucks drew four first place votes, and a total of 21 points, based on a 5-4-3-2-1 vote of the coaches.

The only other team to draw a first place vote was Stratford, who is runner-up in the voting with 18 total votes then comes Gruver, 16, Sunray, 11; and Canadian, 10.

The Bucks drew only first place votes, while Stratford had three second place votes and one fifth and Gruver three seconds and a third.

Stratford coach Rex Yerby is not as gleeful about his teams chances as the other coaches.

"We have only five starters back from last year and 13 lettermen that have only fair experience," Yerby said.

The Eagles finished 5-5 a year ago and only lost six starters.

They have back Vic Burkham, a 165-pound senior guard who made all-district in '65 and Dan Hawkins, a 170-pound fullback who is just a junior.

Gruver has but five starters and six lettermen returning and coach Bill Mayfield doesn't feel his squad can top its 8-3 record of last year.

Mayfield is in his first year at Gruver and inherits a team that won the district last year, but with more experienced players.

"Depth is our biggest problem, along with no experience," Mayfield said.

Dwayne Cleveland takes over the helm at Sunray and claims to be in a rebuilding stage and see no chance of improving on Sunray's 1965 record of 5-5.

"We have only three starters and five lettermen back and are really hurting in experience," Cleveland said.

Dwayne Currie may surprise a few folk with nine starters returning to his Canadian Wildcats, including Johnny Walker, the Cats top scorer from last year.

Walker tallied four touchdowns for 24 points a year ago but won't have to carry the bulk of the load this season.

He'll have Kenneth Thrasher, Jarel Norris at halfbacks and Butch Nicholson at fullbacks to give some relief.

White Deer needs to be only one game better than they were in '65 but unless they are hit by a rash of injuries could be that much better.

Pampa Loses Top Q-Back

The quarterback situation for the Pampa Harvesters remained somewhat uncertain today with senior Larry Stephens sent to the hospital with a broken arm.

Earlier in the week Smission Goodlett suffered a concussion and will be out of action about a month.

This leaves the chores of being the field general up to senior Gary Hyatt who twisted a knee in practice Saturday.

Other than these injuries things have been going pretty good for the Harvesters.

A talk with all the coaches revealed they were happy with the way the gridders had been performing and especially happy with a two-hour scrimmage Saturday.

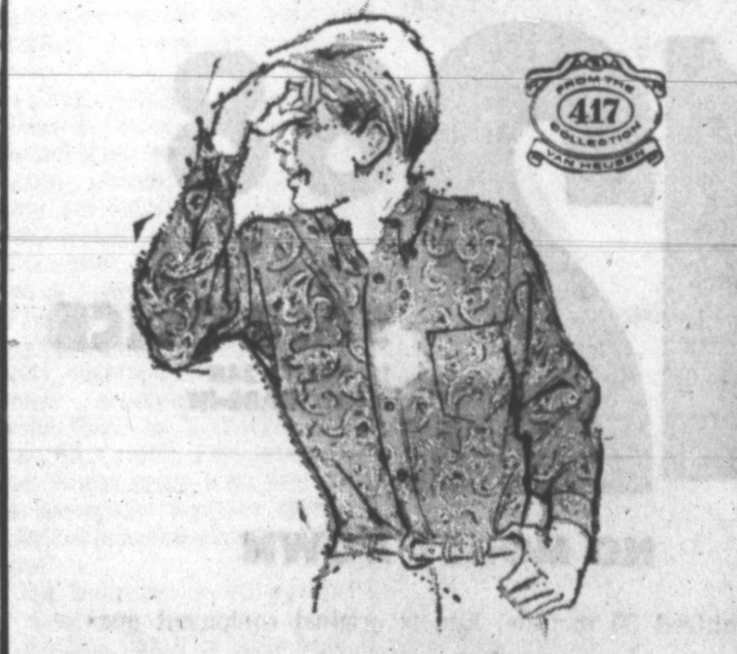

It was during the scrimmage that Stephens, who didn't play last year because of an injury and had a spinal fusion just to be able to play football, was injured.

His mother said the outstanding athlete put out his hand to catch himself as he was falling and landed wrong on his arm, breaking two bones.

Larry underwent surgery Saturday night and was reported in good condition. He is in room 234 in Highland General Hospital.

There's no Doubt About It, Sandy Best in Business

By United Press International
Koufax the colossal is well on his way to one of the greatest records of sustained excellence in baseball history.

The multi-award winning southpaw, who has done everything that can be asked of a pitcher and then some, is spearheading the Dodger drive to a National League pennant repeat and enroute to another earned run average title for himself—a record fifth straight.

Sandy was sensational and nothing less Friday night as he shutout San Francisco 4-0 on four hits for his 21st victory dropping the Giants to second place, a half game behind Pittsburgh and boosting the third place Dodgers to within 1 1/2 games of the lead.

The whitewash also reduced the stylish lefthander's ERA to a shrinking 1.62, far better than runnerup Juan Marichal's 2.16. A pitcher's won-lost record can be deceiving but the ERA crown is baseball's true barometer for effectiveness.

Koufax (21-7) has worn the mantle each of the last four years—a National League standard—and can surpass Lefty Grove of the Philadelphia Athletics (1929-32), the only other four in a row winner, to become the first man ever to dominate the award for half a decade by taking the 1966 title.

Bucs On Top
The Pirates took advantage of Koufax' work to slip back into first place with a 7-4 win over St. Louis Elsewhere, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 2-0, Atlanta stopped New York 6-3, and Houston topped Chicago 7-4 for a doubleheader sweep after taking a 9-8 decision in the completion of a game suspended earlier this season.

There was no trace of any arm ailment in Koufax' performance but the majors' first 21-game winner claimed he was playing it cagey.

"My elbow still hurts when I try throwing curves," he said, "so I depended mostly on my fast ball."

San Francisco starter Bob Bolin who fanned the first five batters he faced, matched Koufax' shutout pitching for seven innings before the Dodgers' batted around in the eighth to score four runs.

A walk, a sacrifice and Ron Fairly's single broke the scoreless tie and after another walk John Roseboro singled across the second run. Lou Johnson's double drove in the third run and after Jim Gilliam was intentionally passed Koufax' sacrifice fly made it 4-0.

A crowd of 42,647, largest of the season at Candlestick Park, saw Sandy strike out seven for a career total of 2,340 pushing him past Early Wynn into eighth place on the all-time list.

Clemente Led Way
Pittsburgh roughed up four St. Louis pitchers for 17 hits, four by Roberto Clemente and three each from Gene Alley and Jim Pagliaroni, including the latter's 11th home run. The Pirates gave winning pitcher Woody Fryman (10-8) a 6-0 lead in the first six innings but Pete Mikkelsen had to come out of the bullpen for the last two outs after Charlie Smith homered in the ninth.

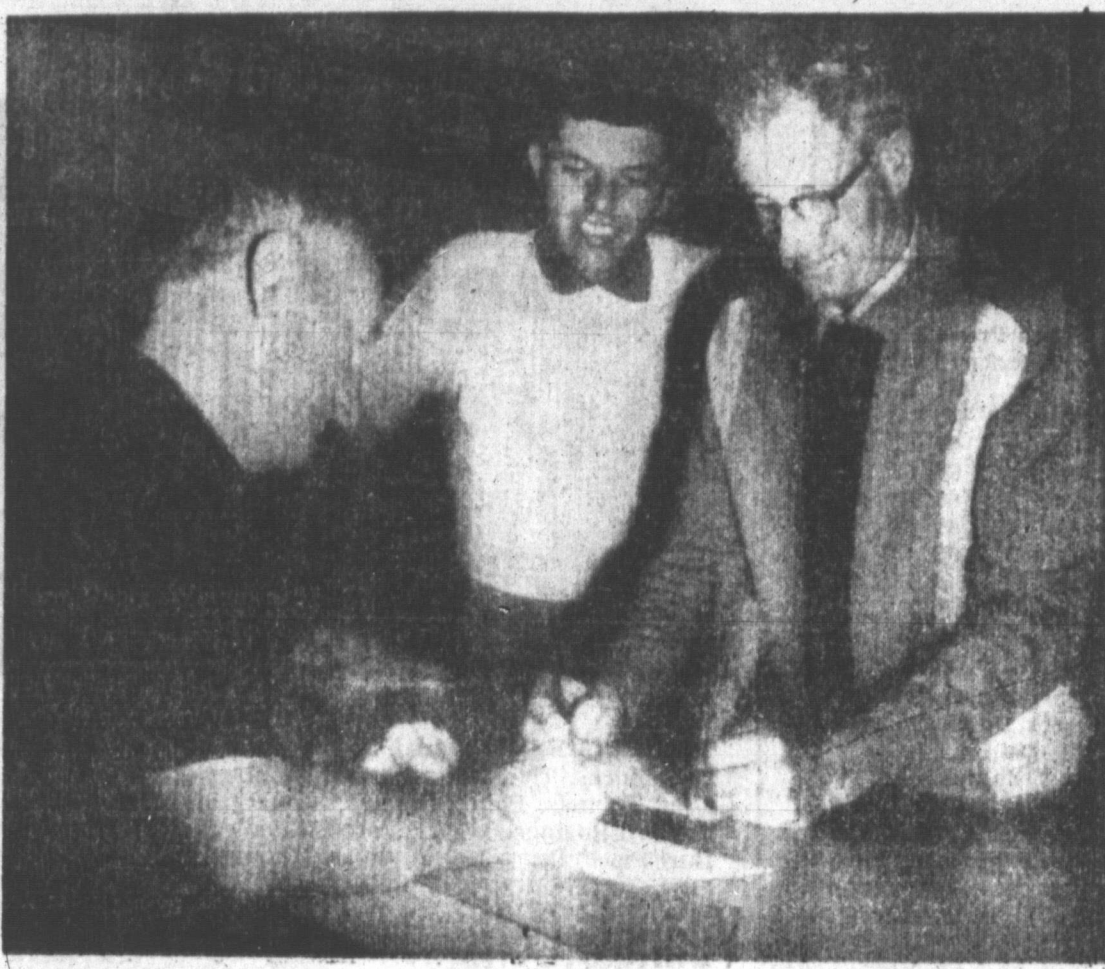

Jim O'Toole and Billy McCool combined to stop the Philadelphia on six hits. Singles by Pete

Rose and Tommy Helms and Vada Pinson's sacrifice fly gave Cincinnati a run in the first inning and Helms' double and Phillie centerfielder Jackie Brandt's error helped make it 2-0 in the sixth.

Torre Hit Two
Catcher Joe Torre hit two home runs and Hank Aaron one, his 35th, as the Braves crushed the Mets. Torre unloaded in the first inning after Denis Menke singled and hit his .30th of the year in the fourth. Aaron's two run homer boosted his league leading RBI total to 98 as Ken Johnson (10-8) went the distance for Atlanta.

Bob Aspromonte tripled home John Bateman in the ninth inning to give Houston the win in a game that had been suspended August 11 in Chicago.

Aspromonte was the second-game hero as well capping a six-run ninth-inning rally with a grand slam home run that gave the Astros a sweep. Bateman led off the ninth with a homer before walks to Ron Brand and Jonny Morgan and singles by Soey Jackson and Dave Nicholson set the stage for Aspromonte's eighth roundtrip.

American Legion Baseball World Series Opens Today

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (UPI)—The American Legion Baseball World Series opens Sunday with eight teams from across the nation shooting for the title in a double-eliminated contest.

Play opens at 2:30 p.m. with Lewiston, Idaho, the region 7 winner, and Northbrook, Ill., winner in region 5, taking to the field in a battle for the title that will run through Saturday and possibly through next Sunday.

Oakland, Calif., region 8 champs, and Tuscaloosa, Ala., winners in region 3, play in the second game of the day at 8 p.m. Monday's action finishes off the first round, with Washington, D. C., region 2 champs, and Nashville, Tenn., winner in region 4, playing at 5:30 p.m., and Manchester, N. H., winner in region 1, and Enid, Okla., playing at 8 p.m.

Enid has the most victories of the eight clubs with a 49-20 mark for the season. Oakland however, has the best percentage with a 30-2 record.

Oakland, Lewiston and Tuscaloosa went through the regionals without a loss, and some observers figure the Lewiston squad as the team to beat.

Two games in the losers bracket will be played Tuesday, and the winners in the opening round will meet Wednesday.

Horse Doping Being Probed

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three Brooklyn gamblers are believed to be the nucleus of an alleged horse-doping conspiracy at three New York State harness racing tracks, it was learned Saturday.

The possible doping of horses came to light when Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Aaron E. Koota announced Friday night a full-scale Grand Jury investigation of practices at Yonkers, Monticello and Roosevelt Raceway.

Koota, whose office issued some 60 subpoenas at the three tracks, said he had the full cooperation of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

A spokesman for Koota's office said it is believed that three Brooklyn bookies had provided the funds for the alleged doping and even arranged to have drivers position their sulkes and horses so that an unwitting driver might win the race.

The spokesman said that many bookies had refused to take bets on harness racing, and often they would refuse to make bets on certain races at the three tracks, indicating that something was "wrong or fixed."

Koota said the alleged doping of horses was discovered when his investigators were looking into a possible gangster takeover of businesses in Brooklyn.

The Brooklyn Grand Jury has planned to start its investigation beginning Wednesday, Aug. 31, and the spokesman said it may take some six months before all the testimony is in and the witnesses heard.

Detectives from the DA's office and state troopers served the subpoenas to drivers, owners, trainers, gamblers and various race track officials at the three tracks Friday night. Of the three tracks involved, Yonkers and Monticello are currently open, and Roosevelt is closed.

According to Koota, the Governor ordered New York state troopers to cooperate with the District Attorney's office in the investigation.

Robert A. Glassner, chairman of the New York Harness Racing Commission, said that his commission would cooperate fully with the District Attorney's office.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Australian and American Davis Cup stars will meet in a series of test matches in six American cities next month, the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association announced.

Mantle's Blast Wins For Yanks

By United Press International
Great dramatic moments have always been a part of Mickey Mantle, but they're relatively new to Boog Powell and maybe just a once in a lifetime thing for Vic Roznovsky.

Nevertheless, all three players shared in one of baseball's biggest thrills Friday night as each cracked a pinch-hit home run in the ninth inning that helped their teams to comeback victories.

Mantle, playing in his first game since Aug. 15, hit a two-run homer off reliever Hank Aguirre with none out in the ninth that gave the New York Yankees a 6-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Back-to-back homers off Lee Stange to tie the score 2-2 in the ninth before the Baltimore Orioles edged the Boston Red Sox 3-2 in the 12th inning.

For Mantle, the pinch blast was "a big thrill" in an illustrious career filled with great thrills. It was his 23rd homer of the year and the 496th of his career. Powell's homer was his 33rd this season while Roznovsky's blast was his first ever in the American League.

In other AL action, Minnesota beat Chicago 7-4, Washington edged Cleveland 1-0 and California nipped Kansas City 5-4.

Mantle, who has been sidelined with a pulled hamstring muscle, was sent up to bat for relief pitcher Hal Reniff after Cleo Boyer had singled home Elston Howard with the Yankees' fourth run of the game.

"I just decided to gamble," said Manager Ralph Houk when questioned about using his injured slugger. "I told Mickey not to run. If he hits it on the ground it's a double play. But if Mantle's blast overshadowed a titanic homer by Detroit starter Earl Wilson which went into the Yankee Stadium upper-left field seats. The homer put the Tigers ahead 5-3 in the eighth but Aguirre couldn't hold the lead. Joe Pepitone and Steve Whitaker also homered for the Yankees while Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash also connected for Detroit.

Roznovsky, a lefty swinger who has been seeing parttime action since rookie catcher Andy Etchebarren has been sidelined, hit for Larry Haney who had started the game behind the plate. Powell, who has been out of action with a fractured hand, was then sent up to hit for reliever Eddie Fisher and tied the score.

Russ Snyder's bases-loaded single won the game for the Orioles in the 12th and handed Dan Osinski his second loss in four decisions. Moe Drabowsky received credit for his fourth victory against no losses. The victory increased the Orioles' lead in AL race to 12 1/2 games over the second place Tigers.

Earl Battey, Jerry Zimmerman and Cesar Tovar each drove in two runs as the Twins defeated the White Sox for the 11th time in 12 meetings this season. Jim Merritt, who has won only three games in 15 decisions, went the distance for the victory as he allowed the White Sox only eight hits. Don Buford drove in two runs for Chicago with his sixth homer of the year. John Buzhardt suffered the defeat, his eighth against five victories.

Big Cat Wants A Million to Fight Cassius

HOUSTON (UPI) — A fight manager who says his man can cut down Cassius Clay with either hand contended today any fight between the two must guarantee his fighter a million dollars.

Hugh Benbow, manager of heavyweight Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, said Williams would not get into the ring with Clay for less than $1 million. He said he has turned down offers up to $300,000.

Clay had said Friday he was thinking about fighting Williams in November in Houston. The Domed Stadium would be the likely site.

Benbow said, Williams will knock Clay out with either hand. We've been watching Clay on television with the likes of (Brian) London and (Henry) Cooper. The public has seen the type of fighter he has fought.

FROM LSD TO THE DRAFT

A Congress for Students

By PAUL DANISH
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (NEA)
—Students from all over the country are here this week because this is where the action is. But the local residents are not worried.
If any collegian starts to get out of hand, the student chairman will pound the gavel for order. And he'll get it.
Rather than beer and bikinis, the chief objects of attention are Viet Nam, academic freedom, tuition, the grading system, the draft and the war on poverty.
If the Beatles showed up, they would have to vie for attention with Sen. Paul Douglas, Viet Nam expert Bernard Fall, Walter Reuther and the presidents of several universities.
The students — more than 1,000 of them from nearly 300 colleges and universities throughout the country — are delegates to the 19th National Student Congress of the UNITED STATES NATIONAL Student Association (NSA). For two weeks they are studying and debating current issues in higher education and national affairs.
The congress, which started August 21 and runs to September 1, is the oldest, largest, and probably most representative student meeting in the country. It is also the most dramatic and exciting.
High point will come during the three days of legislative plenaries, when delegates will discuss and vote on resolutions concerning the American commitment in Viet Nam, the draft, the use of psychedelic drugs and the quality of higher education. If things run true to form, at least one of these will spark an all night debate.

"The debates are taken as seriously as any in Congress," NSA vice president Jim Johnson said. "In some ways they are more exciting, because students are apt to be more candid than politicians."
On the whole, delegates seem to have few illusions about what they can and cannot accomplish, but that does not seem to temper the enthusiasm.
"Whatever we finally decide on Viet Nam probably won't have much direct influence on national policy," one delegate said, "but in the course of the discussion the issue should become much clearer in our own minds. If it does, it's time well-spent. As often as not, a man who won't offer an opinion is a man who hasn't taken the trouble to form one."

Last year NSA adopted a resolution "recognizing the need for an American military presence in Viet Nam at this time," but urging a deescalation of the war and a beginning of negotiations.
This year's stand is apt to be

Harlingen Marine Academy To Start Its Second Year

HARLINGEN — The Marine Military Academy, located at a former air base here, begins its second year of operations on Sept. 7.
In one year, its enrollment has about doubled, and the 1966-67 cadet crop is expected to number 150 and this year's cadets will represent 31 states, including Alaska and Hawaii. In addition, there will be cadets from five other countries — Mexico, Bolivia, Venezuela, Turkey and Laos.
The academy's staff and faculty of about 30 persons includes 14 retired or reserve Marines. Heading the list is the academy's superintendent, Brig. Gen. John Francis Dobbin.
General Dobbin and his wife, Ellen, came to Harlingen from Cherry Point, N. C., where the general commanded the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing. He retired June 30 after 31 years of service, including 1 1/2 years with the Naval Reserve.
At age 54, Gen. Dobbin said he hopes to be able to devote the next 10 years to helping to develop the academy here. He assumed the post of superintendent on Aug. 1.

The Marine Military Academy has facilities for an eventual enrollment of 900 cadets. Such an enrollment, according to Gen. Dobbin, isn't likely to be realized for "perhaps 10 years." With a doubled enrollment this school year, both staff and special facilities had to be expanded.
Extra classrooms were put into shape and a physics laboratory was added. Language lab facilities were increased and the library was enlarged.
The number of former Marines serving on the staff is double that of last year. Academy officials pointed to the percentage of cadet returns this year as evidence that the boys and their parents are well satisfied with the school. Eighty percent of those eligible to return have signified plans to do so, academy officials reported.

more forthright, but whether it will support the Johnson administration or denounce it is a mystery.
Closely linked to Viet Nam is the draft, and here, too, there are ambivalent feelings.
"A lot of kids are worried about their deferments," according to Steve Aarons, a NSA staff worker, "but a lot of them think the whole deferment system is rotten and would prefer a lottery, even though they might get burned in the process."
On campus-related issues, however, NSA can expect to have a lot more effect. A good deal of attention will be devoted to such questions as student stress and the quality of education.
Over the past two years, the organization has received more than a quarter-million dollars from foundations and the government — much of it to study educational conditions at the nation's colleges and universities.
Roland Liebert, NSA's director of Campus Environmental Studies, said that "in the long run, student stress and campus climates might be the most significant issues facing the congress."
Drugs on the campus will also be a bone of contention and, with it, the whole question of student mental health.
"Marijuana has, in a real sense, become the bathtub gin of the current college generation," Liebert said. "Only the penalties for its consumption are far more damaging."
With such an agenda, one might wonder if the congress will attract the nation's radicals. The answer is they'll show up, but they will be a frustrated minority.
"Some of our proposals which were denounced as radical at the time," NSA President Philip Sherburne said, "have been written into law in recent sessions of the NSA congress. Some of the delegates who helped pass them are now in government."
"When we get outside of the mainstream, it's usually because we're a little ahead of it — like when we supported the test ban treaty in 1961," he said.
Skepticism, in fact, seems to be the association's watchword.
"I guess it's true I don't trust anybody over 30," one delegate commented. "But on the other hand, I don't trust anybody under 30, either."

What About Your Medical Credit? How Does It Work?

EDITOR'S NOTE: In belief that credit—spring board to material wealth not heretofore known in the world—has facets which its grantors and users fail to consider, The News here publishes the sixth in a weekly series of articles prepared by Wynn Veale, manager of the Credit Bureau of Pampa.

By WYNN VEALE

Medical credit is the exchange of professional advice and service at present time for payment at a future date. Unlike most credit purchases, medical credit is rarely planned. Ideally, a physician strives to seek the proper balance between the scientific and business aspect of medicine. The practice of medicine must never become a business but there is a business side of medicine. Physicians, Dentists, Hospitals and all the technicians connected with the health professions are actually humanitarians. Most of them bound by the Hippocratic oath to provide treatment to anyone in need of it regardless of their ability to pay for the service... that's the way the medical profession is.

Similarly a hospital does not serve in order to collect money but it must collect money in order to serve. The application of good credit and collection principles to the medical office as well as the hospital is most important.

The hospital has a responsibility to the community to provide an efficient administration and this includes collecting the accounts. Hospitals must operate on a business like basis in order to keep their doors open. Hospital business is big business. It ranks fifth in the national picture. Hospitals have over thirteen billion dollars in assets. They employ over two million non-professional medical employees and provide over six million dollars in wages annually. Every year one out of every eight Americans becomes a patient sometime during the year.

Six per cent of our national expenditures, about the same as for tobacco and liquor, goes to pay the nation's total bill for health services. Of the six per cent, only one and one half per cent goes to the physician. Credit losses in medical practice are comparatively low today. Seven out of ten patients have some kind of health insurance which pays a large portion of fees in ready cash. Each of these seven patients hopes his insurance will fully cover his charges and intends to wait as long as possible to give the insurance carrier every opportunity to pay up, even by mistake.

A west coast hospital in a metropolitan area said its credit loss is about one per cent of total billings. This extremely low figure was because insurance pays about 75 to 80 per cent of all billings. Twenty-one per cent of the twenty-five per cent is four per cent on unsecured billing. This figure has been true for many years but is a little surprising.

Through years of experience in handling medical credit accounts for the health professions, the members of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America find:

- 1. The patient to whom doctors extend credit is the same person who uses retail credit.
2. Doctors are competing for their fair share of the patients credit dollar.
3. Credit is a part of the business side of medicine.
4. Medical debts are as just as retail debts.
5. A doctor can benefit from some of the tools used by retail credit grantors and still maintain his ethical standards.
It is this last item that caused the Associated Credit Bureaus of America several years ago in conjunction with the American Medical Association, the American Dental Association, and the American Hospital Association to organize a medical credits division.
The local Credit Bureau of Pampa is a member of this specialized division. Members of this division must meet rigid standards and prove beyond question that they are able and willing to render a specialized service to members of the health professions. Thus the Medical Credit Division is always working to encourage prompt paying and good credit records.

Price Suggests Solutions For Area Water Problems

DALHART — Congressional candidate Bob Price, in a speech here Friday night, described the problem of "How to get more water for the Panhandle," as the greatest single problem facing the area, particularly the agricultural interests.

Solutions suggested by Price which he said he will attempt to get enacted if elected were outlined by the candidate as follows:

- "A means to reduce our water losses here in the Panhandle through evaporation and runoff.
"Finding the most feasible means of getting surplus water from other areas into our part of Texas where it is so vitally needed.
"Also," Price said, "we must explore methods of storing and using this water when it is made available. This should include further exploration of the possibilities of underground storage of surplus water. We need to trap and store the natural rainfall here and not let it drain into the ocean grave yards."
As to changes in the government's farm programs, Price stated most farmers he has talked with would like to see a gradual withdrawal of the government from this area.
"I do think the direction our agricultural policy must take is toward becoming less subject to the whims of politicians. Congress must not shirk their responsibility by shoving off onto the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to make decisions that affect many people's lives," he stated.
"I think I will be in a position to do something about these things if I am elected. I have requested and have virtual assurance of a seat on the House Agriculture Committee. This is the committee that dominates the field of farm legislation and I think it could well use some of the ideas from our people here in the Panhandle," Price stated.

Price also touched on the subject of the war in Viet Nam where he backed the United States policy in being there but suggested steps be taken to halt the shipping of war materials into North Vietnamese ports.
He also said there is a need to blockade Cuba and provide assistance for exiled Cubans who would like to return and fight for their homeland.
Price added that there are guerillas in partial control of eleven South American countries who were trained in Cuba. "This is much more dangerous to us here in the United States than any other Communist activity," Price said.
On the subject of the rising cost of living Price said the only way to stop or slow down inflation is to get rid of some of the poorly conceived and constructed programs such as the Job Corps and the Poverty Program.
"I predict the Johnson Administration will ask for wage and price controls after the elections this fall if the inflation does not slow down," the candidate stated.
The wealth of this country is being squandered on programs which are only vote-buying tactics by the administration," Price added.

'Masked' Mystery Murder In Brazil Puzzles Police

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Whodunit? And how? Were the two dead men smugglers, or perhaps spies? Why did they wear lead masks? What do the coded messages mean?

Brazilian police are baffled by the "mask murder" case which has all the elements of a spine-tingling bestseller. After a five day investigation police recently gave this account of what they called one of their most intriguing mysteries:

Eight days ago Miguel Jose Viana, 34, and Manuel Pereira Da Cruz, 32, electronics technicians from the interior city of Campo, arrived in Niteroi, a suburb of Rio. They carried $2,200 and had told their families they were going to Rio to buy electrical equipment.

They met some friends in Niteroi, shopped, bought a bottle of mineral water at a cafe and climbed a jungled hill. There they died. Their bodies were found Saturday. A lead mask covered the face of each corpse.

There was no sign of violence in the clearing where the bodies lay 1,000 feet up the hillside. The bodies showed no wounds and medical tests ruled out poisons but failed to determine a cause of death.

Blood was found on a patch of ground nearby, but it was not from either of the two bodies, police said. The $2,200 was missing but each man had $75 in his pockets.

Several letters in a still undeciphered code were found on the bodies. So were three electrical charts. On one this was written:

U.S. Sending Rice to Viet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is contracting for rice in Southern states, chiefly Louisiana, to help keep warehoused stocks of it in Viet Nam at safe levels.

Officials said today U. S. had restored the stocks to a safe level with more than 300,000 tons of the staple base of the Vietnamese diet.

Another 200,000 tons all from the United States, is scheduled to be sent before July 1. Some 50,000 tons of this amount will be bought in the next two weeks in the Southern states.

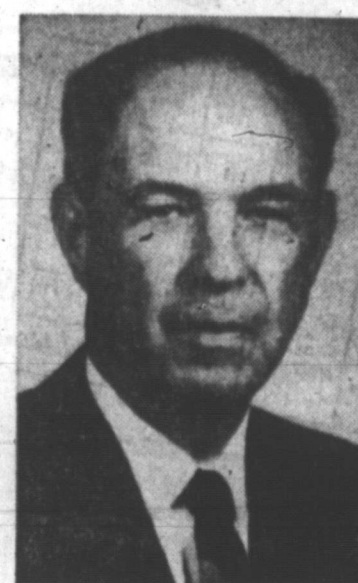

The officials said there is a possibility rice purchased under the program later this year will be taken from California, producer of about 20 per cent of this year's rice crop.

War-time production and transportation difficulties have turned Viet Nam from a heavy exporter of rice to an equally heavy importer. As recently as 1963, Saigon exported 322,000 tons. That city alone uses just over 200,000 tons a year.

The shipments apparently will make only a small dent in U. S. supplies. The 1966 rice crop is forecast at 2,600,000 milled tons, a new record in the United States. Total U.S. consumption is less than half that amount.

Steady Does It

NEW YORK (UPI) — A safety tip from home improvement experts at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division suggests that to keep a ladder steady while working on the exterior of a house, bury two empty coffee cans in the ground and set the ladder into the cans.

There'll Be Some Changes Made When...

School Starts Again

VACATION'S ABOUT OVER... Wednesday morning, the carefree summer will start becoming a faint memory... as school doors open for approximately 6,600 students and 300 teachers in the eight elementary schools: Baker, Carver, Travis, Austin, Mann, Wilson, Houston-Lamar; the two junior high schools Pampa and Robert E. Lee... and Pampa Senior High School... opening for the 1966-67 school year.

THERE'LL BE CHANGES in the lives of Moms, who might find a few more leisure hours sans children, but a stricter routine for family meals. Dad will find the bank account a bit thinner this month after paying for school supplies... school clothes... haircuts... and "incidentals."

THE GREATEST CHANGE, however, will be in the lives of school children, who must now curtail their summer pursuit of fun and frolic and settle down to the serious business at hand... that of acquiring an education.

THERE'LL BE CHANGES in the lives of younger brothers and sisters, who will be left at home to while away the hours until school is out in the afternoon and their big brothers and sisters come home. Johnny and Amber, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Langford, Rt. 1, will be giving their Big Sister, Tonya, a kiss and hug when she leaves every weekday morning for second grade classes at Travis School.

THERE'LL BE CHANGES in the lives of family pets, who must learn that school grounds are "off limits" to them even though their masters and mistresses may be there. Sandra and Brenda, left photo, try to explain to tiny Schatzie that their play hours together will be limited starting Wednesday morning... because they will be attending classes in Travis School. They are the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Stout, 1802 N. Dwight.

ALARM CLOCKS or radios will have an important function in the lives of school children as they change from a carefree summer routine to a stricter winter one. Getting ready to exchange a baseball glove for a school textbook is Little Leaguer Terry Garner, lower left photo, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Garner, 1808 N. Dwight. Terry will be in the fifth grade at Travis this year.

THERE'LL BE CHANGES in the lives of teachers... who will be exchanging a summer of study... working at some other job... for becoming a teacher again. Sister Emiliana, first grade teacher at St. Vincent de Paul, spent most of last week getting her classroom in readiness for the new school year.

WHETHER GETTING the first born ready for first grade classes... or the last-born ready for first year in college, each situation changes the lives of those involved. Kathy Cudney, pictured above, who will be entering her first year in school Wednesday at Travis, shares one of those "precious little girl moments" with her mother, Mrs. DeWey Cudney, 2228 N. Christy, before her world widens to include a teacher and classmates in the first grade at Travis School. A younger brother, Gary, will be missing Kathy, too!

National and International Opportunities Being Offered Interested Girl Scouts

The annual announcement of national and international opportunities for giving and receiving — of oneself, of one's country, and of Girl Scouting, is being made to girl Scouts of the area.

All girls interested in a national or international experience must possess a deep personal belief in the Girl Scout ethical code expressed in the Promise and Laws. They must all agree to continue in Girl Scouting for at least two years after the event and share the experience with others as widely as possible.

Application forms may be secured from the Quivira Girl Scout Council, Box 459, Pampa. It is important that girls wishing to participate in any of these events mail their applications to the Council office before the deadline of Sept. 26.

An All-State Encampment will be held in the beautiful Nantahala National Forest in western North Carolina. After an orientation at base camp, seniors will backpack for parents into the nearby forest for several days. This event is scheduled for August 13-31, 1967, and will require a $75 fee plus transportation expenses.

The purpose of this event is to give Senior Girl Scouts opportunities for leadership and to demonstrate inexpensive camping opportunities. Participants must be 16 years of age by July 1, 1967, and have had no previous national or international opportunity.

A conference for Museum Aides will be held at the Juliette Gordon Low birthplace, Savannah, Ga., in the summer of 1967. The purpose of this event is to enrich the experience of Girl Scouts and other visitors at this program center, which is also a National Historic Landmark and a museum of Girl Scouting, and to offer service opportunities. Girls must be 16 or 17 years of age by July 1, 1967.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will arrange for transportation to and from Savannah and lodging in a selected nearby hotel. The Experiment in International Living, in a European country, is a cooperative project scheduled for July 1 - Sept. 1, 1967. A minimum of $250 will be required for personal expenses. The Juliette Low World Friendship Fund will pay transportation, meals, lodging, special fees, etc. The purpose of the event is to give Senior Girl Scouts from the U.S.A. the opportunity to learn about life in a European country by living with Guide families and by touring parts of the country with their Guide "sisters". Girls must be approved by the Selections Committee of the Experiment in International Living before appointment is final.

Invitations to an unspecified number of International Gatherings Abroad will be issued. These invitations are for Senior Girl Scouts from the U.S.A. to attend Girl Scout Guide events in other countries. The dates are as yet unknown, and most invitations are for summer, but may be for any time of the year. One Senior girl will be selected from each region and the expenses are the same as for the Experiment in International Living. Conversational knowledge of a second language is highly desirable.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Couple

Mrs. David Lee Balch ... nee Miss Sylvia Carol Hopkins

In an afternoon ceremony read at 2:30 o'clock last Sunday afternoon in Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ, Miss Sylvia Carol Hopkins became the bride of David Lee Balch.

The background for the wedding scene was filled with seven, branch candelabra entwined with garlands of salal foliage. A large bouquet of white gladioli in a Grecian pedestal urn formed the focal point and completed the decorations. Honor pews were marked by white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rhodes Hopkins of Salt Lake City, Utah. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lee Balch, southeast of the city.

Dr. Everett Ferguson, professor of Bible and Church History at Abilene Christian College, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

A background of nuptial selections was provided by an a cappella chorus directed by Joe Godfrey. Vocal solos were presented by Mrs. Marcus Hall, soprano, who sang "Come Share My Life," and Miss Norma Jean Balch who sang "My Own True Love."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza combined with chantilly lace. The princess silhouette, designed with a portrait neckline, was outlined in lace and embellished with seed pearls. The long sleeves tapered to petal points. The full skirt was enhanced by a wateau train of chantilly lace and highlighted by a bow at the top. A single pearl attached to lace highlighted the pill box coil from which the bride's shoulder-length, three-tiered veil of imported French bridal illusion fell. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses surrounded by pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Marilyn Hopkins of Rochester, Mich., attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of rose pink bonded-crepe with overlay of pink lace on the bodice and short sleeves. Pink pill box hat and shoes and short white gloves completed her attire. Mrs. John Lauen of San Angelo, cousin of the bridegroom and Mrs. Marcus Hall of Taylor, bridesmaids, were dressed identically to the maid of honor. Each carried a large pink glabella.

Elmer Balch served his son as best man while groomsmen were Gordon and Lloyd Balch, brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were John Lauen of San Angelo and Jimmy Hopkins, brother of the bride. Ronnie Thornton of Lubbock served as ring bearer.

A wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Room of the church. The bride's table, covered with a pink crepe cloth overlaid with white crochet, which was made by the bridegroom's mother before her marriage, was centered with a five-branched ironstone candelabra surrounded at the base by the bridal attendants' bouquets. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped by pink satin bells and adorned by pink roses, was decorated and served by Mrs. James Thompson of Lubbock. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. W. C. Epperson, aunt of the bridegroom. Mrs. Gordon Balch attended the guest register before the ceremony and at the reception. Miss Betty Ann Epperson, cousin of the bridegroom, gave rice bags to each reception guest.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip during which they will visit points of interest enroute to New York where they will make their home. The new Mrs. Balch changed into a two-piece white and blue combination dress of crepe with cutaway jacket and white accessories for traveling. She lifted the rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a 1966 graduate in music education from Abilene Christian College, will teach music in Midland Park, N. J.

Miss Patterson, County HD Agent, Is Honored at Retirement Luncheon

(Daily News Staff Photo)

LUNCHEON HONOREE — Miss Lou Ella Patterson, center, was honored by Gray County Home Demonstration Council at a retirement luncheon Thursday. Miss Patterson, Gray County HD agent the past eight years, is retiring after 27 years service as an HD agent or assistant in Texas. Mrs. J. Lloyd Laramore, left, Gray County HD Council president, is presenting Miss Patterson a gift of appreciation while Mrs. Jack Howard, luncheon chairman, looks on.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Gray County Home Demonstration agent the past eight years, is retiring after a 27-year career as home demonstration agent or assistant. Miss Patterson, a native of Goldwaite, graduated from high school there and received a BS Degree from Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos. Since that time she has done graduate study at Texas A&M, Texas Woman's University and the University of Missouri.

The home demonstration agent's career began as an HD assistant agent for McLennan County at Waco, where she spent about 18 months. From there Miss Patterson moved to Crockett, serving as assistant HD agent of Houston County for three years. The next 11 years were spent in Canyon as assistant agent of Randall County, moving from Canyon to Perryton where she was home demonstration agent of Ochiltree County for four years before coming to Pampa to assume her present position.

Since coming to Gray County Miss Patterson has organized two new home demonstration clubs and has helped build the membership in several other previously organized clubs. Not only has she aided home demonstration clubs such as the Alareed HD Club with its present community improvement program, but Miss Patterson has presented many programs to HD clubs and other interested groups on helpful home procedures including landscaping, lighting, home improvement, sewing and food.

"I am proud that I have been able to enlarge home demonstration work in all the commissioners precincts in Gray County since coming to Pampa," Miss Patterson said. "Now I plan to take advantage of my free time to travel, pursue various hobbies and do other things that women enjoy. I also plan to devote some time to community work and anticipate moving to Canyon to make my home in the near future."

Miss Edith L. Wilson of Amarillo, district home demonstration agent, said "Miss Patterson has done an exceptionally good job in this county and, though the district regrets losing a good agent, it is happy to see Miss Patterson complete enough years of service that she can take advantage of an early retirement."

Gray County Home Demonstration Council honored Miss Patterson at a retirement luncheon Thursday noon in the dining hall of the Gray County Court House Annex.

Mrs. Jack Howard was luncheon committee chairman, assisted by Mmes. A. P. Coombes, Marvin Rowan and N. R. Lowe. Mrs. J. Lloyd Laramore, Council president, presented the honoree with a gift in appreciation of her many years of service. Mrs. Larry Timothy Eller ... nee Miss Donna Marie Conner

Conner-Eller Wedding Vows Pledged

First Christian Church was the scene yesterday evening of the wedding rites uniting Miss Donna Marie Conner and Larry Timothy Eller in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conner of 1011 E. Francis. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eller of 1004 Charles are the parents of the bridegroom.

Guy Caskey, minister of Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ, officiated the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock amid a setting of tiered candelabra and garlands of green foliage. Urns of white chrysanthemums flanked the kneeling bench and decorated the altar. Pews of honor were noted with aisle candelabra and white satin bows.

A program of appropriate nuptial airs was presented by Miss Susan Patrick, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Peggy Patrick as she sang "More," "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal wedding gown fashioned of white brocade. A scooped neckline and long traditional petal point sleeves framed the fitted bodice. The straight skirt was enhanced by a chapel train which was attached at the waistline by a Dior bow and fell into a semi-circular train, billowing out on each side of the gown and sweeping to the front. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl and crystal tiara. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and garlands of English ivy. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Bridal attendants, dressed identically in sleeveless floor-length gowns of aqua peau de soie, accented at the empire waistline with a velvet bow with streamers extending to the floor, were Miss Pat Lambright, maid of honor, and Miss Sherry Warner and Miss Judy McMurtry of Amarillo, bridesmaids. Each carried a nosegay of white feathered carnations.

Serving as best man to the bridegroom was Weldon Martin of Kingsville. Groomsmen were Joe Fischer and Roland Orr of Kingsville while ushers were Steve Gaultney of Norman, Okla., Byron Garner of Lubbock, Carl McLaughlin and Keith Griffith.

Lighting the cathedral tapers was Miss Jolene Davis of Tipton, Okla., attired as the other feminine attendants.

Guests were greeted in Fellowship Hall of the church at the reception held following the pledging of vows. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white net cloth over white caught at each corner with a nosegay of aqua carnations. Centering the table was a massive 17-branch candelabra bearing miniature tapers, surrounded at the base with white chrysanthemums with garlands of smilax cascading from the centerpiece. Miss Trellis Gladman served the three-tiered colonaded wedding cake which was decorated with white wedding bells and roses and topped by a miniature bridal couple standing beneath an archway of white and aqua roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Molly McMurtry presided at the punch bowl while Miss Charlotte Eller and Miss Molly Cornutt attended the guest register.

Prior to departing on a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the new Mrs. Eller donned a two-piece suit of aqua with white accessories. Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home in Lubbock where both will continue their educations at Texas Technological College. Both Mr. and Mrs. Eller are graduates of Pampa High School and have attended Abilene Christian College.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS

School And You

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Nostalgically, I remember the days when our neighborhood mothers gathered at the school bus stop on the first day of school, waiting for the bus to arrive, with its homecoming load. Their first question was invariably, "Who is your teacher?" The answer brought forth grins or groans, perhaps almost too obvious to the children with their big eyes and ears.

Parents who are interested in their children's schooling naturally are concerned about their teachers. Though they may not have analyzed it, they want their youngsters to have a thorough knowledge of subject matter, understand and like children, create an atmosphere of enthusiasm for learning and set a good example themselves in their work and community life.

In summing up the effect a teacher has on a child, a dedicated educator who was retiring after 35 years in the profession said, "Some children learn no matter who their teacher is. Others don't learn no matter who their teacher is. But the great majority are affected for better or for worse by the kind of teacher they have."

If your child draws a good teacher, thank your lucky stars. If not, you may have to grin and bear it with the hope that we'll have better luck next year.

Occasionally, of course, a teacher who is one child's meat is another child's poison. Some teachers work wonders with slow learners; others bring out the best in above-average pupils but do little for the "I-don't-get-it"-set. Then, too, a pupil may not click with a particular teacher — or vice versa — simply because of a personality conflict neither can help.

By and large though, well-adjusted children tend to get along with practically all their teachers. Conversely, the poorly adjusted may take a dim view of every teacher from kindergarten on. Some parents are perennially unhappy with their children's teachers, never recognizing the fact that the fault may lie elsewhere than in the teacher.

If your school system appears to be weighted down with truly incompetent teachers, however, and most other parents feel as you do about them, it may behoove you to form a citizens' committee to look into the matter.

"The battle for education is fought in the classroom, and good teachers are indispensable to winning it."

Please send your school problems to Susan Light in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Astrological Forecast By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR SUNDAY, AUGUST 28.
GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of those Sundays when changes, changes, changes are apt to be in effect and it is wise an essential that you truly live the Golden Rule if you are to avoid some pretty difficult conditions that can bring you nothing but trouble. Services that have been helpful absent and then start nothing new.

AIRER (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Although you would like to be with good pals, you would only find they are so busy with own affairs that nothing would be accomplished. Be more independent. Work to the best of your ability, which is considerable.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — You take any risk where higher-ups are concerned, you find you get into a good deal of trouble. Be more concerned with maintaining your fine reputation. Hang on to what has proven to be very worthwhile.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — This is the day when you feel you must get right into that new outfit at all cost, but this would prove quite worthless and disappointing. Get out to services of your choice. Elevate consciousness.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Handle others very gently today and be sure to keep promises you have made. High intuition tells you to sever some connection that is not worthwhile. Do so in a nice, diplomatic fashion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Your associates are apt to do something very unexpected that will disappoint you, or vice versa, so be on your guard since promises are somewhat unfavorable. "Do unto others etc." Then all works out fine.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sep. 23) — Be careful not to go off on any tangents and dis-appoint higher-ups who are depending on you. Spend spare time in improving appearance and health. Your wardrobe could stand some toning up also.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Do your best to please others around you without expecting favors, or this can be resented. Go out to places of recreation alone that are educational, cultural can prove very interesting. Show kindness to all.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — Analyzing well that particular situation at home will reveal how best to improve it. Stop indulging in ideas that have no substance. Keep your feet on the ground at all times and you fare much better.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) — You are able to get data you require but be careful not to question those who might be resentful. Do your research work quietly. Having carefully, it is highly important or you get into trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) — Be careful you do not spend too much, especially where entertainment is concerned. Show that you are a sensible person. Courtesy turns a deaf ear to those who want to see you on to use money unwisely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — What ever most pleases you to do must be postponed now in the face of some sudden emergency, problem that needs to be handled quickly. Don't get confused. Parties are all right, but wait until evening when all is clear.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Many frustrating situations seem to be influencing you but objective thinking sees you succeed a helping hand to those in distress. This improves character, also.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — he, or she, will be highly talented in what ever is connected with trouble shooting. Such energy is in this nature and it should be used wisely otherwise your progeny could get into activities that are not of the best. Definitely a New Era product here and some connection with the environment in Space, etc. is fine.

FOR MONDAY, AUGUST 29
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The incoming Full Moon can cause considerable difficulty in international affairs as well as in personal lives and it is essential that nations as well as personalities guard against sudden and rash moves that can disturb the equanimity of whatever principles may be involved in any type of venture whatever.

Checklist Good Guide When Buying a Lamp

By AILEEN SNOODY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The woman who invests in expensive carpets and draperies and skimps on her lighting is going to be unhappy with the results without knowing why.

list. You need to know:
—Size and height of table to hold lamp.
—Kind of furniture style, color of wood and upholstery.
—Type of ceiling and color for reflecting light.
—Available light from ceiling fixtures, windows, recessed lighting.
—Color of rugs, floors or carpeting.

Sid Feltman, a vice president of Lightolier and in charge of its Manhattan showroom, is equally rough on the average consumer and the lamp sales persons.

In selecting shades Feltman points out a simple guide as a starter. If you have dark walls, select opaque shades; light walls require luminous shades.

Quite bluntly he says that there probably aren't 50 salesmen in the country who know good lighting and how to sell it. "If they did they could up sales 250 per cent."

Although Feltman believes the consumer is buying a lot more lamp for his money than in previous generations, he still says many will not pay extra for better lighting features. These include diffusers and reflectors. As a result many lamp manufacturers do not engineer these into portable lamps for use in living rooms and bedrooms.

He also urges they stop buying lamps for appearance only rather than for good lighting. Both areas can be combined. Here's how to do this using a Youngsters are more fortunate since the move is to better study lamps based upon recommendations by the Illuminating Engineering Society. Those that comply with the specifications carry a Better Light Better Sight Bureau hang tag.

Interested Groups Alarmed at Increasing Accident, Death Rate of Two-Wheelers

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Groups interested in driving safety view an alarming new toll on the highway—the accident and death rate from motorcycle and scooter mishaps.

Deaths to motorcycle riders reached a record high of 1,118 during 1964, were expected to approach 1,500 in 1965, and go even higher in the immediate years ahead. So said a report, "Exploratory Meeting on Motorcycle Safety Education," given during a recent Washington, D.C., safety conference sponsored by the Division of Accident Prevention, U.S. Public Health Service.

The American Medical Association as the program theme for the new year.

Now, a powerful group of clubwomen long active in all phases of safety is in the act. It's the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with a membership of 850,000 in the United States, 11 million worldwide.

The federation's new president, Mrs. E. D. Peace of Miami, Fla., said the clubs' board would discuss the new safety hazards at its meeting in Washington Sept. 13-15 to find a "uniform" means of acting through driver education and stricter legislation.

"There are now over 1.5 million cycles and scooters in the United States not counting those for rent," she said during a trip to New York. "The National Safety Council reports showed a 30 per cent increase over 1964 and a 41 per cent death increase."

Mrs. Bryant, assisted by Mrs. Marvin Bryant, served refreshments during the social hour to Mrs. Boyd Brown, W. G. Kinzer, Max Louvier, Lester Reynolds, C. B. Rogers, O. G. Smith, Roy Tinsley and Miss Yvonne Reynolds.

"Seventy per cent of the fatalities are from head injuries. A cycle accident throws the body like a missile. There's nothing to stop it."

Topics discussed during the program hour included "The Sand Hills of Monahans," "Amarrillo and Places of Interest" and the musical "Texas" now being presented in Pioneer Amphitheater at Palo Duro Canyon.

"Most of the motorcycles and scooters are owned by the young. It's the 'in' thing to have. The danger seems to be that once they mount a two-wheeled vehicle, they throw caution to the winds and zoom off."

"So many are lacking in knowledge of manipulating the vehicles," she said. "Weaving in and out of traffic, passing on the right."

"Riding in the blind spot of auto drivers, riding at high speed on wet pavements, riding without helmet, the girls with only a scarf on the head, second passengers not safeguarded properly."

The club will meet next at 2 p.m., Sept. 2, in Southwestern Public Service Bldg., 315 N. Ballard.

Dear Abby....

O-Well! Another Egg in the Face

DEAR ABBY: You certainly don't know much about eggs. A woman wrote to say that her husband came home with some eggs he had bought from a farmer, and they tasted horrible. They later found out that the farmer had sold him duck eggs. And you let it pass as though they could have expected duck eggs to taste horrible. Abby, fresh duck eggs are every bit as delicious as chicken eggs. We raise geese and ducks especially for the eggs. The eggs are wonderful, and the only difference is in the size.

MRS. E.: Twenty lashes with a duck feather for this low-born writer who should have known better. Of one thing I am certain, duck egg on the face is every bit as embarrassing as chicken egg.

DEAR ABBY: Let me start out by saying that I love animals. I have had pet dogs, cats, birds, skunks, and even two king snakes. I recently read in the newspaper where someone left nearly $200,000 to a pair of cats! And it was stipulated that in 20 years, or after the cats died, the remaining money should go to a hospital and church. Now if that isn't the most ridiculous thing you have ever heard of, what is?

I can see leaving enough money to feed and care for pets, but for a hospital and a church to have to wait 20 years for a donation because a couple of animals have inherited it, is downright disgusting. There ought to be a law against leaving money to animals. Will you see what you can do about it.

RUTH MILLETT

By RUTH MILLETT, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. A woman with three or four young children and no household help works a 16 to 18-hour day - according to a physician who has been making a study of the "tired housewife." Those are long hours - but they are only part of the story. That same woman, very likely, has a few other things to contend with besides her working hours.

Chances are her husband, working only half that many hours a day, expects what he has been told all husbands have a right to expect when they return home in the evenings - a calm, relaxed wife, looking pert and pretty and ready to listen with sympathy and understanding to what a hard day her husband had.

If, instead, he finds a beat looking wife, tired and distracted, too busy trying to get dinner on the table while settling the children's squabbles and answering their questions to give him her undivided attention, he concludes that his wife isn't a very good manager.

As he plops down in an easy chair before the television set or behind the evening paper the last thing in the world he wants to hear is that his wife has had one of "those days," when the washing machine quit working in the middle of a full load, the kids had more than the usual day's share of mishaps, and so on and on.

That means that the wife who has coped with problems all day long doesn't even get the chance to unload her troubles on her husband at night - the way men so often unload theirs on their wives.

So working a sixteen-hour day is just part of the load the mother of young children carries day after day and week after week.

To get any credit at all for the job she is doing she has to manage somehow not to let those long hours get her down - but to appear to be calm, cool and collected, and as happy as a lark when her husband's work day is over (even though hers still has hours to go) and to be willing to listen to what a hard day HE has had and make all the appropriate responses like, "You poor darling. You DO look tired."

Select Areas of Interest, Gals, Then Prepare for Your Career

(Third in a Series.) By KATHRYN HUNTER, Newspaper Enterprise Assn., NEW YORK (NEA) - If you have decided that paid employment is one of your goals, then you're fortunate if you have time on your side.

If you do not have an immediate economic need and can take a year or two (or five) to take new training or brush up on your skills, it will be time and money well-spent. The most interesting and lucrative jobs demand the most education.

Before you re-enter a college or university, you should send for a transcript of your grades from your last place of matriculation. See a school or university counselor soon and start studying with as light a study load as possible.

If you want to find employment right away, the first step is making a job resume. One employer told me that anyone who presents a resume at an interview automatically places herself in the top 10 per cent of applicants.

The resume is just a statement of one's name, address, health, previous employment, education and any other facts which might be of interest to a prospective employer. There are many books available at the library with good samples for you to follow.

Don't overlook such facts as ability to speak another language and availability of your own car to drive. Then check your personal appearance. Educators may stress the advantages of education, but the people who do the hiring indicate that appearance and manner are equally important.

One employer put it this way: "You don't have to look like you're 21, but you should not be overweight, you should have a smart coiffure and you should be appropriately dressed."

This means that the siren costume and the dangling earrings are just as bad as a house dress. Your best bet is a simple tailored dress or suit with matching accessories.

Then turn detective to discover the place that might need your services. Don't confine your hunting to the classified ads, but look through the yellow pages of the telephone book and try to imagine what you might

No one likes a martyr mother. If your financial situation warrants it, use part of your new income, even if it's a healthy chunk, for household and laundry help. A weary and snarling mother is no pleasure to herself or anyone else.

A freezer is a great help. It's not much more difficult to make ten meat loaves while you're making one and it's heaven to get out a meal "to thaw" in the morning as you head out the door for the office.

If a career outside your home is what you really want, you'll find your own short-cuts and helps in a hurry. If not, you'll probably decide on a single role again in short order.

Whatever your decision, good luck and happy hunting. (END SERIES)

Lana Sue Brown Feted on Birthday

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) - Miss Lana Sue Brown was honored Tuesday evening with a surprise birthday party by her aunt, Mrs. Carl Cade at her home in Skellytown.

After the opening of gifts, refreshments of birthday cake, ice cream and pink lemonade were served to the honoree, her mother Mrs. Clara Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCann and children Jimmy Wayne, Danny Ray and Carla, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Nelms and son Jamie, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cade.

History in its own way goes to women's heads for fall. A look at the hats designed to go with the fall and winter couture collections from Paris shows Napoleon and the astronauts figuring in new hat styles.

A recent survey of employed women over 35 shows that these women believe they just "lucked into" their present job. You, too, can "luck" into one.

In preparing yourself for job hunting, you should prepare your family, too. You might promise your family and yourself that it will be done on a six-month or a year trial basis. The "let's see how it works out for all of us" approach is appealing to most families.

Some families earmark all of mom's income for family trips. For others it means eating out once a week - a real help for mom and fun for the whole family.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. I once knew a man who believed he loved his mother. He didn't. Nobody with the possible exception of saints could have loved her - and even they, I expect, would have had to do an awful lot of praying to manage the task. For she was a woman who could no more resist trying to control you than a drug addict can resist the narcotic which gives him his momentary illusion of power. You couldn't sit in a room with her without her immediately attempting to rearrange your furniture for you.

If you changed the subject when she asked you who had just called you on the phone, her face and neck broke out in red spots of repressed fury.

So, when her son finally collected the gumption to marry, his wife couldn't ask him when he would be home for dinner. If he went out, the question "Are you going for cigarettes?" sent him into violent temper. His privacy had been so mercilessly invaded by his mother that he'd become slightly gaga on the subject of privacy. This poor man saw his prying, controlling mother in anyone who asked him any question about his personal arrangements - and felt compelled to hoard even the most unimportant information.

It is a sad condition which may contain some relevance for the reader who writes: "My husband has a fit if I try to clean his 'office' - a room off our downstairs hall where he does work he brings home from his real office. Now our 18-year-old son has started calling me 'interfering' for cleaning his bedrooms. Yet neither he nor his father will do a thing about cleaning their rooms themselves. All I'm doing when I try to straighten up for them is to make their rooms more pleasant to be in."

But it's unstraightened rooms that they find pleasant. So why not let them have them? Look. It's not an untidy room your husband is demanding. It's his right to privacy. And his insistence on it has, I expect very little to do with you. It has to do with another woman - the one he grew up with to whom he never dared say, "Mind your own business, Mother." That he can say it to you is a cause for hurt but for self-congratulation. He's telling you that he regards you as capable of respecting his privacy. So you're one up on Mother. See it like that - and he'll gradually lose his fear that

Make-Up Hint for Dramatic Eyes

Dramatically beautiful eyes should be the pride of all fashionable women today, says beauty authority, Max Factor. Although several make-up requisites are used to create the new eye looks, knowing how to use mascara correctly is of vast importance.

For the most glamorous results, when applying this product to your own eyelashes or to real hair artificial lashes, follow this simple technique. If you are using cake or creme mascara, zigzag the brush up through and down through the upper lashes to encircle each eyelash hair with color from the roots to the tips. When applying the color to the lower lashes, zigzag the brush down through the lashes only.

Next, take a clean eyelash brush and lightly brush through the lashes until the hairs are separated and velvety looking. If you use the automatic mascara wand or the brush tip mascara wand, simply apply the mascara from the roots to the tips making sure the tops of the lashes are colored as well. To insure a longer and thicker look, apply an extra you're going to steal it from him, too.

coat of color over the tiny hairs at the corners of each eye. Then when the mascara is dry, stroke over the tips of all the lashes again. Need a guide to what hosiery shades best go with 'all clothes'? Lilly Dache suggests: a mid-brown with soft oyster white or dark brown costume; a soft of-black with both black and deep brown; a greyed taupe with deep carnation reds and grays; a pale rose beige with reds and light browns; a warm suntan with camel, oranges and bright greens; a misty taupe with plums and winter pinks, and a spicy brown with rust tones or teal blues.

For years, suit jackets have been buttoned. Then in the material zipper moved in as a closing for sportswear. Now, high fashion has turned the conventional zipper into front closings for suit tops. Several such closings were used by Oscar de la Renta, designer for Jane Derby, Inc., New York.

Look for clothing with much shorter skirts this year. Most of the Paris designers gave in to the short skirt. American buyers are expected to follow that decisive lead.

Protection Beats Cure

Without an occasional hurricane, the world's weather might be even worse.

The fierce tropical storms play a vital part in maintaining the heat balance between the tropics and polar regions, the National Geographic Society says.

The tropics and subtropics receive more heat from the sun than they lose by radiation; other regions lost more heat than they receive. Heat must be carried poleward to prevent gradual cooling of the poles and scorching of the equatorial regions. Hurricanes help keep the balance.

"If hurricane control were successful and none were allowed to go through their full life cycle," says Gordon E. Dunn, director of the National Hurricane Center at Miami, "nature would undoubtedly find some other method of maintaining the heat balance, and who can say that this new method might not be even more disastrous than the hurricane?"

At present, man is a long way from controlling hurricanes. Scientists seek more knowledge of hurricanes by experimentally upsetting the delicately balanced forces that sustain a mature storm.

The basic technique is not new. It consists of seeding clouds near the eye, or center, of the storm with tiny crystals of silver iodide in an attempt to release the latent heat energy of the clouds and thus reduce wind speed near the eye.

A hurricane is essentially an enormous heat engine that unashes fantastic energy. In one day, a medium-sized hurricane liberates as much energy as the simultaneous explosion of perhaps 400 hydrogen bombs. The storm may develop more energy in a minute than all the electric power stations in the United States can produce in a decade.

This great power is created through evaporation of warm water from tropical seas. The heat energy is stored as water vapor that forms into a ring of towering, tumultuous cumulo-nimbus clouds surrounding the storm's calm eye. About 90 per cent of the heat energy is released as the water vapor condenses into rain. The remaining moisture is retained unless it finds something to which it can freeze such as silver iodide.

Silver iodide crystals are similar in structure to icy crystals. Theoretically, seeding the clouds will encourage the water droplets to freeze and fall, thus expelling a great deal of latent heat energy and upsetting the balance of forces in the storm.

In one seeding experiment clouds around the eye were dissipated and wind speeds slightly reduced. Other tests have been inconclusive, however. Maybe it's just as well that the test remain inconclusive.

While it's unpleasant to think, in an area where the fury of hurricanes have been felt, that they are a necessary evil, it's also wise to cogitate on the fact that man has never successfully upset the forces of nature. In cases where he has tried the results have been ludicrous as well as ineffective.

Man's salvation appears to lie not in upsetting the forces of nature but in protecting himself from these forces when they become destructive. Even in such fearsome phenomena as hurricanes and tornadoes, advance warning of their approach, coupled with proper personal safety measures and well-designed construction, have greatly reduced losses of life and property in recent years.

This, it seems, is the proper channel for man's puny efforts. As it is with the forces of nature, so we think it is with human action. If the market place (including science) would just concentrate on developing means of protecting the individual and his property, instead of relying on government to catch and punish the criminal AFTER the crime, it is entirely possible that the commission of crime would become so unprofitable that, eventually, profit motivated individuals would no longer resort to it.

Two Faces of Government
Janus was the two-headed Roman god with the two faces looking in opposite directions. A congressman, Rep. Richard Poff of Virginia, finds a comparison in Janus and the Great Society. His observations are as follows:

"The great society is a Janus, like the ancient Roman deity, the god of gates and doors, one face looks one way and the other looks another. Here is what I mean:
"Last year, one face smiled on income tax and excise tax cuts; this year, the other face frowns and restores excise taxes and contemplates income tax increases.
"Only a short time ago, one face was preaching the need for American business to expand inventories and make greater investments in capital outlays for new equipment (tax credits were authorized as a stimulus); today, the other face is asking American business to curtail inventories and cancel capital expenditures.
"One face is seeking new authority to send more millions of tons of food grains and dehydrated milk to India; the other face is asking Congress to curtail the school lunch and school-milks programs here in the United States.

"One face is calling for a reduction in hand grant college monies for research, the other face is demanding the establishment of an International Education Act authorizing more money for schools in foreign lands.
"One face pleads with governors and mayors to reduce state and local spending; the other face asks Congress to launch brand new spending programs such as rent supplements and The Federal Teachers Corps.
"One face asks housewives to eat hot dogs instead of steak; the other face wants a three-quarter of a million dollar mansion for the vice president."
Poff makes some good points, we think. However, if he will take another look at political government (including the measures he himself has sponsored), he will find that the establishment called political government is not as contradictory as it may at first appear; for, no matter in which direction Janus may happen to be facing, his fingers are always searching for ways into the taxpayers' pocketbooks.

Country Editor speaking:

lived, full of wisdom and non-ferocious." As for doves, all animal behavior studies show that they are not bright, but cruel and insensate and far more blood-thirsty.
Maybe we'd better drop the name-calling entirely. The Viet Nam situation is confused enough.

In 1814, the British captured Washington and burned the Capitol and the White House.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

All you need is a good idea to make money. That's what George Coy of New Haven, Conn., believed back in 1878 when he invested his entire savings of $600 in opening the first telephone exchange in the world. Coy rounded up 50 subscribers, but due to lack of equipment could only connect 21 when he opened for business. However, he quickly expanded his primitive switchboard with teapot handles for fitting and wiring from the frames of ladies bustles, and within a month was giving excellent service. That marked the beginning of what has become today's worldwide telephone communications system. Needless to say, Coy's idea paid off.

Today's smile: A youngster about to enter his freshman year at college asked his older brother: "What was the hardest thing you learned at college?" The older brother replied: "How to open beer bottles with a quarter."

The lowest rank that can be held in the Army is "Private." That derives from Britain, where the common soldier was a private citizen who enlisted or was drafted into service. Since it was assumed he did not adopt soldiering as a career, he was called a "private." Officers generally sought their posts and were originally known as "Public Officers." In time the "public" was dropped and today they are known simply as "officers" if they hold a commission. "Soldier" was also dropped from the term "Private Soldier" and the lowly doughboy became a "private."

Rose growers group garden roses into three classifications to identify their characteristics. They are: Hybrid tea roses, classical, long-stemmed; Floribundas, mostly low-growing with smaller blooms produced in clusters; and Grandifloras, possessing the elegant classic blooms of the tea roses in clusters of medium to large flowers, and they tend to grow taller than the others. . . . Salt reserves in Kansas are said to be about 5 billion tons, enough to last a thousand years. . . . Incidentally, a Kansas firm offers storage space for business records and just about anything else you might want to store in worked-out salt mines there. They are tremendous rooms several hundred feet below the ground, equipped with electric lights, elevators, ventilation, etc. Space is sold the same as in any other storage warehouse. . . . Lager beer gets for "stretchhouse." The barrels of lager are stored for their contents to age. It figures. . . . The highest rate ever paid to a writer was the $30,000 Ernest Hemingway received from SPORTS ILLUSTRATED magazine for a 2,000-word article on bullfighting. That figures out to about $15 a word. . . . The Wall Street JOURNAL reported in a story: "Motorcycles now are used by computers in some cities." But we can't figure out why.

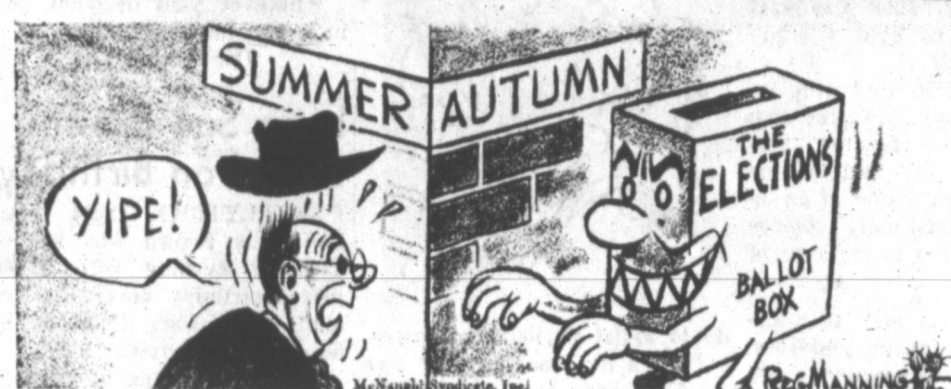

ANSWERS: 1. As far as we can tell the tax payers are financing nearly all the development and testing.
2. We know of no reason for withholding the priority status. Although the article said "It is understood that the White House felt an announcement would make the superjet program appear more important in relation to the Vietnamese war and Great Society social programs than is actually the case."
3. It would appear the federal government is totally involved. Titanium is found widely, but its development and stockpiling is largely under a government program. Speculation is that the federal government has given the high priority largely to put the U.S. into competition with French, British and Russian builders and to avoid further deterioration of the balance of trade and thus loss of gold.
4. The reader can judge for herself whether it is "safe to assume" that government projects enable companies to recoup political contributions. This sort of favoritism has been going on for many years.
5. We would have to guess that the statement that the priority is being used in an "equal but less than" fashion is some more government gobbledegook, which means the same as George Orwell's famous statement in "Animal Farm" that "All animals are equal, but some are more equal than others."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "The enclosed news clipping (relating to top priority being given to the proposed supersonic airliner) brought several questions to mind, which you perhaps can clear up:

"1. It would seem that this supersonic airliner is mainly being developed for commercial use and though it possibly could be converted to military use, just who is paying the cost of development and testing?"

"2. If the U.S. taxpayer has any 'investment' in this plane and if for commercial use, what logical reason could government give for withholding the priority status from the public since April?"

"3. How much involvement is there in the government giving material priority status if these are mainly for commercial use? For instance, is titanium a domestic or imported material and is this and other items obtained from any government stockpile (here or abroad)?"

"4. If government shows favoritism in issuing priorities for private enterprise developments to companies that produce both for U.S. government and private use, isn't it fairly safe to assume that the U.S. taxpayer pays the company, when it works on government projects, in order that the company can recoup its political kickbacks (I mean "contributions") for receiving these favors?"

"5. Please explain what a priority of "equal but less than" means. (They've got to be kidding!) And does such an official description exist?"

Mrs. E. M. K.
ANSWERS: 1. As far as we can tell the tax payers are financing nearly all the development and testing.

2. We know of no reason for withholding the priority status. Although the article said "It is understood that the White House felt an announcement would make the superjet program appear more important in relation to the Vietnamese war and Great Society social programs than is actually the case."

Bobby Kennedy Expected to Replace Johnson at $100-a-Plate Democratic Dinner in Ohio

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Senator Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., is the beneficiary of an unexpected political windfall as a result of the inept fund raising policies of the Democratic National Committee.

Ohio Democratic leaders are seeking Kennedy as the main fund-raising speaker for the coming campaign because of the National Committee's demand for 50 per cent of the proceeds from dinners at which the President is the chief attraction.

Instead of agreeing to this Washington-dictated formula, Ohio party leaders have decided to cancel their invitation to President Johnson to be their main speaker this fall.

The party's big $100-a-plate affair, which is to raise the bulk of the state and congressional campaign money, is scheduled to be held in either Cleveland or Columbus in October.

As a replacement for the President, National Committee Chairman Albert S. Porter has extended an invitation to Senator Kennedy, who is expected to accept because of the political importance of the Ohio speaking engagement.

In his successful bid for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, Ohio was the first of the big "industrial states" to pledge its delegation to the late President Kennedy before the Democratic national convention.

Despite repeated personal contacts with Ohio Democratic leaders, Senator Kennedy had not been able to duplicate his brother's popularity until White House aide Marvin Watson, real boss of the Democratic National Committee, rejected their pleas to change the fund-raising sharing formula.

The state party leaders, led by Porter, asked that the formula be changed so that more than 75 per cent of the proceeds of the dinner would be available to finance state and congressional campaigns in Ohio.

After Watson turned them down, the Ohio Democratic leaders began courting Kennedy. Significantly, they have the backing of Ohio Democrats in Congress. The legislators see Kennedy as their financial savior.

LOOKING THEM OVER—Congressional critics of the expansively-exclusive President's Club aren't the only ones seeking more information about the activities of its members. President Johnson is making his own private survey.

On orders from the White House, officials of the $1,000-a-year Club are taking a private census to learn more about each of the nearly 3,000 members, especially their past and present business, government and military connections.

Miss Gerri Hari, executive director of the President's Club has sent out a request to all members to fill out a detailed questionnaire seeking additional biographical information for the White House.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

"The sins we do two by two. Are paid for one by one." My memory may fail me slightly with regard to the phrasing of the above adage, but the point has hung onto me for years. It is easier to commit a sin than to pay the price for it.

Every act has a consequence. Good acts have good consequences. Sins produce misery ultimately to the sinner. The crucial point is when the price of the first sin comes due. Then the individual will either accept his punishment as the price of clearing the record, or he will attempt to evade the price by committing the second sin.

Since it often seems easier to commit the second sin, they rapidly mount—"two by two."

What is a sin? Men have wrestled with this question for ages. Ultimately, there can be only one answer—a subjective one—rendered from your viewpoint as a happiness-seeking human being. A sin is any mistake that you make, impairing your ability to gain happiness for yourself.

If you make the mistake of putting yourself in the position where you can fall off a ledge, you have sinned. And you will pay for this sin through the pain that will result. You will minimize your punishment if you accept it as the inevitable consequence of your own acts. You will compound the ultimate punishment if you try to excuse your own acts and refuse to face the reality of the situation. This will only heighten the possibility of your repeating the mistake.

If you make the mistake of lying to another individual, you will pay for this sin in the discomfort and pressure it will place upon you. Also, when you are found out, you will be punished in the market place of human relationships; you will lose opportunities you possessed before being classified as a liar.

At that point, you can acknowledge your mistake and accept your punishment. Unfortunately, the temptation is to lie again—hoping to ward off the price of the first lie. Because this is such an inviting possibility, sins often mount up "two by two."

But it is not profitable to commit the second sin. As discomforting as it may be to have to acknowledge one's mistake, it is the fastest way toward neutralizing the price of the mistake and moving toward a happier life.

Have I made unsound decisions regarding my business, my family or my future? Then it will always be less expensive to my reputation and well being to admit those mistakes right now—instead of trying to invent bogus principles to justify them.

Yes, it is terrifying sometimes to face the punishment come due for one's sins. But nature—the reality of the world as it is—will never be denied.

So there is something worse than facing the price of one's sin: And that is to pay the price of that sin plus the price of the cover-up sin that followed it.

When Congress was being urged to build a three-quarters-of-a-million-dollar house for Vice President Hubert Humphrey, proponents assured their colleagues that a flood of gifts would come in—enough, perhaps, so that no taxpayers' money would be needed.

The other day Rep. James Cleveland of New Hampshire checked to see how these promises were being redeemed. He found that in three months total contributions amounted to exactly $4 and a packet of Confederate bills from a donor in San Francisco.

Mr. Cleveland figures that at this rate Humphrey's pad can be built from donations in about 48,000 years.

Q—My doctor says I have morphea. What causes it and is there any cure for it?
A—The cause of this chronic skin disease is not known. In this disease, certain areas of the skin become thick and hard. Prednisone or prednisolone may give some relief. They require a doctor's prescription and careful supervision. Anyone taking these drugs should also be given drugs to prevent peptic ulcer.

Q—Nothing," replied House Majority Leader Carl Albert, D-Okla. "Under present conditions, you would be lucky to get 100 votes in the House for any one of those control measures."
"There aren't the votes in the senate," said Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill. "Before Congress would pass those wartime controls, there would have to be a major confrontation with China."
"You would need a declaration of war before Congress would vote price and wage controls," declared House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, R-Mich.
After hearing these statements, President Johnson turned to speaker John McCormack, D-Pass., asking:
"Do you agree John?"
"I am afraid they are correct," replied McCormack. "There is absolutely no support in the House for any legislative restrictions on the economy." The President then began taking Congress to task for appropriating more money than he had requested for his Great Society programs. After he finished, Representative Ford spoke up:

"We have been trying to cut back every measure you presented to Congress, but the Democratic majority keeps voting through increases. If you have any suggestions on how we can hold the line, we will be glad to cooperate with you."
The President remained silent. Two days after the White House meeting, the Republicans tried to cut the President's highway beautification program in the House. They lost by two votes. They also learned that the President had personally urged at least a dozen Democrats to oppose the GOP-sponsored cutback.

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Warmer Food Readers Greater Taste Appeal
Q—Fifteen minutes before dinner I always put my glass of milk in the freezing compartment because I like my food ice cold. Is this harmful? Why should one not put bananas in the refrigerator?

A—Anyone who has a tendency to attacks of colitis should not take foods or drinks that are ice cold because chilling within the abdomen irritates the intestines. Some persons with a "cast-iron stomach" apparently get away with it—for a while at least. You may enjoy the feel of cold food and drink in your mouth but chilling deadens the taste buds and decreases the flavor of your foods. Chilling also slows chemical reactions and thus may interfere to some degree with the chemical processes of digestion.

When they are kept in a refrigerator bananas develop an unpleasant taste but, unless chilled to too low a temperature, they may be kept in the refrigerator when they are incorporated in a cream pie or a molded fruit salad.

Q—How effective and how safe are the new contraceptive pills?
A—Eight different kinds of pills have now been found to be safe even by a woman with early cancer of the uterine cervix according to the Food and Drug Administration. Some of them have been used continuously for 10 years or more without harm. When such minor side effects as nausea, tenderness of the breasts or a gain in weight occur these usually wear off but, if they prove troublesome, they can be controlled in most women by adjusting the dosage or switching to another drug. There are a few women who cannot adjust to the pills.

There is no evidence that the pills in any way aggravate the menopause. They are in fact more likely to make the change of life easier. Although the pills are safe and effective they must be properly used for the desired effect.

Sober Hal Smith Boozes It Up On TV, But Not At His Home

By VERNON SCOTT
 UPI Hollywood Correspondent
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Inebriation is frowned on in television, but for the past six years Hal Smith has been bombed out of his mind as the town drunk on "The Andy Griffith Show."

Smith is jolly Otis Campbell who staggers in and out of the Mayberry jail to sleep it off. Even has his own key to the cell.

Playing both sousé and jailbird is a mixed blessing for Smith. It provides him with a handsome income but plays hell with his personal reputation.

"Strangers come up to me and ask if I'm sober," he says. "Others are surprised to see me walking the streets, figuring I should be in jail."

Smith himself is a light social drinker, guessing that he downs fewer highballs than the average householder and certainly less than most Hollywood actors. He can't recall the last time he was flat out stoned.

Early American
 The actor and his wife of 18 years, Louise, live in a rustic early American home with three bedrooms, three baths, family room and den. Their swimming pool is the Pacific ocean, which is a scant two blocks away.

They are the parents of Terry, 16, who takes a good deal of teasing about his father's television drinking habits.

"Smith's role as the town toper on the CBS-TV series probably brings him less income than his other activities, primarily dubbing voices for cartoon characters. He has a wide range of dialects and voices, sometimes putting them to use five days a week for the Hanna-Barbera cartoon studio.

In the mornings he usually rises early enough to fix his own breakfast in time to report to Desilu studios by 7:45, clear-eyed and ready to pretend he's drunk.

Depending on the schedule, he returns home between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m., or goes directly from Desilu to the Hanna-Barbera studio in the San Fernando valley for recording sessions, driving the 15 miles in a large and expensive sedan.

Once home Smith finds himself surrounded by knotty cedar paneling and early American wall paper and antique furniture. The kitchen is a change of pace with copper appliances and cabinets painted a Chinese vermilion.

Upstate New Yorker
 Hooked rugs cover most of the floors and Smith is especially proud of reproductions of the famed paintings of Blue Boy and Pinkie done in petit point with yarn. There also is a picture painted by his mother at age 75 depicting the old maple sugar farm in upstate New York where Smith was raised.

There is a gardener to tend the Smith lawn and flower beds, but the actor spends much of his free time in a greenhouse cultivating birds of paradise plants.

On sporadic vacations the Smith family packs off for a plush ranch home on the Klamath river near the Oregon border where Smith raises cattle and alfalfa on 400 acres of rich farmland.

"We're going to start raising thoroughbred horses up there soon," Smith says. "It's a wonderful place to get away from the hustle-bustle of work."

Cambodian Ruler Goes Hollywood

PHNOMPENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Cambodia's roly-poly ruling prince Norodom Sihanouk has turned movie producer to display his country to the world.

And he has volunteered his son, his daughter, and several leading generals as well as much of the Cambodian army to the task.

Sihanouk's movie, called "Apsara" (Heavenly Dancers), will be a full-length romantic feature in color.

Not only will it show how good Cambodia is, but it will demonstrate just what "evil aggressors"—the Americans, South Vietnamese and Thais—surround this country.

The movie is about a General Rithi, played by real-life Lt. Gen. Nhek Tiouloung, who falls in love with star dancer "Kantha Devi," played by Sihanouk's daughter, and abandons his mistress to ask for her hand.

Kantha, who is in love with a young air force pilot, dares not refuse her mother's command to marry the general, but immediately after the wedding ceremony tells him of her troubles.

In the moment the general pauses to think about the situation, tension flares up on the border as South Viet Nam bombs a village on one side of Cambodia and Thailand steps up pressure on the other.

The young air force pilot is wounded when his MIG is shot down by the "aggressors" but he recovers and the general good-heartedly allows Kantha Devi to go to her lover, taking up with his mistress once again.

Sihanouk's film concentrates on presenting the Cambodian countryside in its best light, and on showing off the Russian and Chinese armaments with which he has equipped his military machine in the three years since he began to break off relations with the United States.

HYPNOTIST IN MOVIE
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Nightclub hypnotist Pat Collins will portray herself in a scene from "Divorce American Style."

Undying Legend

It has been 40 years since one of the world's most famous actors has been seen in person, yet his name remains familiar to millions, many of whom may never have seen one of his pictures. Death on Aug. 23, 1926, ended his career but not his fame. It was the beginning of a legend that over four decades has maintained public interest in the young Italian immigrant who became the screen's original Latin lover—Rudolph Valentino.

Valentino in his most famous role, "The Sheik." Leading lady was Agnes Ayres.

Surrounded by adoring women in a film role, Valentino found real life much the same. A world idol, he seemed the answer to every woman's dream of romance.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
 United Press International
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The headlines: Robert Alda, who played George Gershwin in the movie "Rhapsody in Blue," and starred in the original Broadway production of "Guys and Dolls," joins CBS-TV's daily soap opera, "Love of Life," on Tuesday as a regular.

The season premiere of Jackie Gleason's CBS-TV series Sept. 17 offers the first of 10 new full-hour versions of his popular comedy show, "The Honeymooners," with Art Carney, Sheila MacRae, Jane Kean and Howard St. John.

Former American ambassador to Japan Edwin O. Reischauer is a scheduled guest on NBC-TV's "Today" program Monday.

"Today" visitors on Tuesday include noted photographer Alfred Eisenstaedt; musical satirist Anna Russell, and Walter Alston, manager of baseball's world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, who discusses his book, "Alston and the Dodgers."

Screen Gems would like Shirley Booth, who just finished a four-year run as CBS-TV's "Hazel" to do a new comedy series.

Yorty Sunday's Guest
 Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, who clashed with Sens. Robert Kennedy and Abraham Ribicoff at a Washington hearing on urban problems this week, is a guest Sunday on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers."

... he replaced Edward Brooke, Massachusetts attorney general, GOP senatorial nominee and the highest elected Negro government official since Reconstruction days, who will appear on "Issues and Answers" Sept. 4.

NBC-TV paid the very high sum of $112,500 for a drama called "Flesh and Blood" by playwright William Hanley, whose works include "Slow Dance on the Killing Ground."

Jack Lescaulle is scheduled to wind up his long association with the "Today" program next Friday. . . he claims he was fired, but producer Al Morgan says it's just that the series has some changes planned for this fall. . . there are stories that Batman and Robin (Adam West and Burt Ward), the stars of ABC-TV's successful "Batman" series, are no longer on the best of terms.

The programs: The experiences of an American college student living in the Soviet Union are planned as a feature on "Today" Thursday. . . a discussion on advances in dentistry is slated for the same series next Friday. . . the World Cup soccer match that Americans saw via NBC-TV was, in the words on "Variety," the show business newspaper, "the biggest audience puller British TV has ever known."

ABC-TV's new daytime show, "The Newlywed Game," in which newly married couples answer questions about their mates, is an apparent ratings hit. . . CBS-TV is reported thinking about a police series with white and Negro leads.

Those many syndicated teenage rock-'n'-roll dance shows are slipping sharply in popularity and are all but dead. . . says the host of one: Today's market is women in the 18-34 age group—"they're the ones who buy products, according to the sponsors, not the teenagers." . . CBS is said to still be planning on airing a documentary on homosexuality in America. . . a trade item also notes the same network may be using more "essay" style broadcasts such as the recent one in which Eric Sevareid offered his commentary on Viet Nam.
