Red China Successfully Fires Nuclear Missile

Fear Sweeps Nations Near Asian Giant

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China's explosion on target of a nuclear weapon carried by a guided missile sent a wave of apprehension through Asia today. In Peking there was dancing in the street, the beating of gongs and praise for Mao Tse-tung.

Though there was apprehension there was no panic. Nations which felt themselves already threatened by China's huge armaments were no worse off for the moment. The announcement did inject a grave new factor into the Sino-Soviet dispute in which there have been Chinese hints of a possible border war.

DeGaulle Pushes French-Russian Frier-dchin Again

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's courtship of Russia advanced another notch today with announcement Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and President Nikolai V. Podgorny would visit him soon.

De Gaulle extended the invitations during his recent visit to Moscow. He was expected to play up his continuing drive to improve Franco-Soviet relations at one of his rare press conferences today. It was thought he might also comment on the Peking's latest atomic test.

About 500 newsmen and 500 invited guests were to meet with De Gaulle in the Elysee Palace this afternoon (10 a.m. EDT).

Government sources said De Gaulle would probably have little to say that is new about Viet Nam or NATO, but Western diplomats were hopeful he might indicate some readiness to lift his 3-year-old veto on British membership in the European Common Market.

It was announced Thursday night that De Gaulle will host Soviet Premier Kosygin in Paris the first half of December and Podgorny and Brezhnev next spring.

Diplomats said De Gaulle and the Soviet chiefs would likely discuss "new joint moves to get (See DEGAULLE, Page 3)

Troops Kill 137 Viet Cong During Seven-Hour Mekong Delta Battle

SAIGON (UPI) — Government troops aided by American airstrikes killed 137 Viet Cong Thursday in a seven-hour Mekong Delta battle that began with the capture of two women guerrilla scouts, a government spokesman reported today.

In the air war planes from the newly arrived aircraft carrier Coral Sea joined with other fleet pilots and the Air Force to carry out 95 missions against barges and oil storage depots in North Viet Nam. One Air Force F105 was shot down and the pilot lost.

B52 strategic bombers hit Communist troop concentrations just below the demilitarized zone (DMZ) in an area where U.S. Marines were patrolling against an expected Red offensive. No major ground action was reported.

In Saigon a Vietnamese guard arrested a Vietnamese woman carrying a white phosphorus grenade in a basket opposite the compound housing U.S. Military Assistance Command. Two Viet Cong threw grenades at a police station in suburban Saigon in another incident. No casualties were reported.

The spokesman said two government infantry companies, about 200 men, began a sweep Thursday 88 miles southwest of Saigon in the opening move of operation Dan Chi 263, a new drive aimed at ending Viet Cong mastery in the delta.

The two companies discovered the two women guerrillas and captured them. Thirty minutes later the two companies encountered two guerrilla battalions of up to 1,200 men and began a battle that saw-sawed for seven hours through the delta.

The outnumbered Vietnamese troops called for help, but the Communists beat back three government columns sent into the fighting 10 miles northwest of the U.S. air base at Soc Trang.

American and South Vietnamese air force planes roared into the rescue and began bombing and strafing the enemy force and searing it with flaming napalm.

South Vietnamese generals sent two battalions of rangers—their crack troops—to the battlefield by helicopter. At 4:30 p.m. the battered Communist battalions broke contact and fled.

South Vietnamese troops swarmed over the Viet Cong positions and counted corpses. They credited the air strikes, 24 in all, with killing about 90 of the 137 victims.

South Vietnamese losses were reported as light.

DOWN TO BRASS TACKS School Board Nailed To Specific Needs

Pampa's proposed junior college came in for a lengthy discussion at a trustees' meeting of Pampa Independent School District yesterday afternoon in the office of the school superintendent, Dr. John D. Damron.

Main consideration was given to the recent ruling of the Coordinating Board of Texas College and University System with regard to Pampa continuing as an active junior college district.

Other consideration centered around providing portable classrooms to alleviate the crowded first grade conditions at Travis Elementary School.

The board asked the school superintendent to assemble more bids and information relative to buying or leasing need-need classrooms.

In regard to the recent ruling of the coordinating board for higher education, trustees discussed plans for presenting its case for a junior college to the board before Dec. 22.

A letter from J. K. Williams, coordinating board commissioner, stated "persons desiring to

UN Asked To Avert Israel-Syria War

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States and Britain asked Security Council help today to avert a possible war between Israel and Syria. The crisis was heightened by reports Arab saboteurs had halted rail service to three cities in Israel.

The American and British delegates put forth a resolution urging Syria to stop Arab bands from using its territory to attack Israel, but they faced a possible veto from the Soviet Union which has been supplying arms and moral support to Syria.

Veteran diplomats said if the resolution was pressed to a vote today in the 15-nation council, Russia would not hesitate to use its 104th veto to kill the measures in view of the resolution's emphasis on acts by Arab terrorism.

Even as U.S. and British negotiators made their appeal to Syria late Thursday, a series of rapid-fire developments heightened war fears in the Middle East.

Rail service out of Tel Aviv, Jerusalem and Haifa was canceled after Arab infiltrators derailed a freight train with an explosion Thursday night near the Jordan border. Only one person was injured, but it was the fourth terrorist act in a week.

Members of an El Fatah Arab terrorist organization have been blamed for the incidents and Israel has accused Syria with sponsoring the raiders who have been waging a campaign of terrorism to win back Israel for the Arab world.

Syrian Information Minister Mohammed Zobi, in a broadcast by Radio Damascus, accused the United States of stationing 8,000 troops off Lebanon in preparation for a joint attack with Israel on Syria. He said the United States was trying to create another Viet Nam in the Middle East.

Sheppard Trial Jury Selection Nears Completion

CLEVELAND (UPI) — One of every five potential jurors examined during the first four days of the new trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has stated flatly that he entertained an opinion so fixed that he could not give a fair trial.

Of the first 35 veniremen seven have declared fixed opinions of guilt or innocence of the 42-year-old osteopathic neurosurgeon who was 30 when convicted here in 1954 of second degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of his pregnant first wife.

But six of those seven turned up Wednesday when 12 were questioned, a rate of one out of every two. If that rate should slacken a bit today and the former pace resume it seemed a good likelihood that a jury could be completed.

The state and defense both have only one remaining peremptory challenge with which they can throw out a temporary juror without any reason. Testimony could begin Monday.

After the tedium of the courtroom, Wednesday night was a happy time for Dr. Sheppard. He went to the airport wearing a slouch hat and smoking his extra long stem pipe to welcome home his German born second wife, Ariane.

She had left for Germany to visit her ailing stepfather Oct. 1, and at Dr. Sam's special request she returned earlier than planned.

"How ya feel, Dr. Sam?" a newspaper photographer asked, while the defendant waited at the gate, lavender orchid tucked under his arm in a white box.

"Much better," he replied. "I've been very lonely without her," said Dr. Sheppard.

When the pretty Ariane came down the plane ramp, the husband put on a kissing performance under television floodlights that the late Cecil B. DeMille could only have pronounced admirable. It had dimension and perspective.

JUDGE PREPARES CHARGE

Jury Expected To Get Vessels Case Before Nightfall

By TEX DEWEESE

The case of Tom R. Vessels, 29, charged with rape of a Pampa housewife last April 28, was expected to go to the jury before nightfall in Judge Lewis M. Goodrich's 31st District Court.

Judge Goodrich recessed the trial at 11:18 a.m. today, after District Attorney Bill Waters for the State and Attorney James R. Bowers for the defense both closed their cases.

Judge Goodrich said he would prepare his charge to the jury and stated court would reconvene at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The State had rested its case at 8:35 p.m. yesterday after one hour of testimony yesterday afternoon and one hour of testimony last night during which seven witnesses were called including the rape victim.

Court was adjourned until 10:30 a.m. today.

The defense opened its case at 10:40 a.m. and called only two witnesses—Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Clyde Medkief, operator of a W. Foster recreation parlor.

The testimony developed from both witnesses concerned an evertime parking ticket that had been placed on the defendant's parked station wagon in the 100-block of W. Foster at 11:09 a.m., the day of the alleged rape attack.

Sheriff Jordan identified the parking ticket as having been found in the glove compartment of Vessels' car. Medkief, under direct questioning by Defense Attorney Bowers, said he had seen Vessels in his place of business, but said he did not remember seeing him there or April 28, the date of the alleged crime. He said Vessels had on some day in the past given him money to put in a parking meter, but said he did not see a parking ticket on the car windshield.

When Medkief said he had never seen the parking ticket, Bowers and Vessels left the courtroom for a conference. They returned in five minutes and Bowers immediately announced that the defense rested.

Judge Goodrich, attorneys for both sides, the court stenographer and Vessels went into the judge's chambers.

At 10:52 a.m. they returned and Judge Goodrich announced a short recess.

All principals returned at 11:18 a.m. and Bowers and Waters both announced they had closed their cases.

Judge Goodrich then recessed the court until 3 this afternoon and said he hoped to have his charge ready to present to the jury at that hour.

At the outset of yesterday afternoon's session, defense counsel filed a written motion for continuance of the trial to allow Vessels to undergo psychiatric examination at a U.S. hospital in Fort Worth.

Defense attorney Bowers contended his client did not have sufficient evidence to put him on trial if an insanity plea were to be invoked.

Judge Goodrich overruled the motion and the defense noted an exception.

The jury was seated at 3:45 p.m., the grand jury indictment charging rape was read and Vessels entered a plea of not guilty.

A pall of silence fell over the spectator-filled courtroom as the State's principal witness—the rape victim—sat down in the witness box shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

When called, she walked into the courtroom with her husband, who knelt by a railing near the jury box while she testified.

She told her story calmly and kept her composure through the entire ordeal of answering intimate, detailed questions put to her by the district attorney.

She related how she was preparing to take a nap about 1:30 on the afternoon of April 28 when she glanced out of the window and saw a man walk across the back yard and go out the back gate. The witness said she thought it was a man from the gas company whom she had called earlier in the day for her mother-in-law. She said she thought he had come to the wrong address. She described the man.

About 2:30 p.m. that day, she said, she was in the kitchen preparing a formula for her baby when the back door bell rang. She testified she went to the door and it was the same man she had seen earlier.

"He said he was from the gas company and had come to check for a gas leak," she said. "I let him in and showed him where the hot water heater was.

"Then I walked out into the back yard to close the gate to keep our dog from getting out."

The witness said she came back into the house and the man told her he could find nothing wrong with the water heater.

"Then," she testified, "he asked me if we had any other gas appliances in the house and I told him there was a stove in the bathroom."

"The witness said she told him this as he grabbed her from behind and said, 'If you scream I'll kill you.'"

"Then I felt a knife stick me in the chest," she testified. He held a knife to me and told me to go into the bedroom. He forced me to undress and made me sit on the bed while he took his clothes off. Then he attacked me. Then he made me sit on the bed while he put his clothes on.

"He asked me if I had any money and forced me to go into another room to get my purse. He took money from it and seemed angered because it wasn't enough."

"The witness said he took her back to the bedroom and attacked her again. Then she felt the knife again, she testified.

"After the second attack," the witness said, "he tied my hands behind my back with a bra and

Johnson Given Gala Greeting at Bangkok

BANGKOK (UPI) — President Johnson got a gala welcome to this most exotic of Asian cities today and drew cheers from Thai crowds when he told them "our passion is peace but we are committed to the proposition that no nation shall dominate another in the Pacific."

King Bhumibol and his beautiful Queen Sirikit greeted the President and Mrs. Johnson when their helicopter landed in the flower and flag beecked royal plaza of the capital from a day's rest at the resort of Hong Saen.

Prime Minister Thanom Kittakachorn also was on hand for the ceremony which followed by only a few hours Red China's announcement that it had launched successfully a guided missile with nuclear warhead.

Five jet fighters swept overhead, a 21-gun salute was sounded and the anthems of both nations were played as Johnson, with the 39-year-old American-born king at his side, reviewed lines of khaki, blue and white clad Thai soldiers, sailors and marines.

Accepting the key to the city, Johnson said:

"I believe that the seven Pacific nations succeeded at Manila, but that is a judgment that will be best made by history. For the Pacific waters also touch Hanoi and Mainland China. One day, I believe they will join our Pacific brotherhood—in peace, and without the suspicions and hostility that make cooperation difficult.

"We look forward to that day. For our passion is peace because we seek no eternal hostility. We seek no dominance. And we are committed to the proposition that no nation shall dominate another in the Pacific."

Police Claim Tire Sales Good With 'Flats' Gimmick

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (UPI) — He had such a booming business in new tire sales that service station operator Edward J. Lear was awarded a free trip to Sun Valley, Idaho.

But police Thursday punctured the dream vacation picture and instead offered the 56-year-old businessman a trip to jail—all expenses paid.

Officers said tire business was up because employees at the man's service stations in Buena Vista and Poncha Springs in central Colorado were deflating their customers' old tires.

Sheriff Harold L. Thornhoff said one attendant would clean windshields while another punctured tires with a "hcnker"—a filed-down screwdriver, similar to an icepick.

The favorite target, the sheriff said, was visitors. "We know that there were numerous tourists, mostly women, taken in," he said.

Officials said apparent victims included the wife of the deputy chief of the Colorado State Patrol (four tires) and Secretary of State Byron (Andy) Anderson (two tires). Anderson said when he came back to claim his car and two new tires, he met a tourist from South Dakota whose car was on the rack. "All four of his (tires) were faulty, according to the attendant, and he was having them replaced," Anderson said.

Thornhoff said the scheme was deflated when two disgruntled former employees came to him and told him things weren't on the "up-and-up." The men, James Hudson and Alden Lewis, said they were paid a small weekly sum and a commission on sales. Hudson said his check once totaled $400 for a week.

The new tires sold at from $17 to $35 each and the attendants got a commission of 35 per cent.

Lear denied the accusations of his ex-employees, but admitted his phenomenal tire sales had won him the prize trip to Sun Valley. He has been too busy to take it, though, officials said.

Dump Explosion Shakes Saigon

SAIGON (UPI) — An ammunition dump at the huge U.S. Bien Hoa military complex outside Saigon exploded tonight, sending a plume of flame and smoke and shock waves rolling over the capital.

Military sources said the ammunition dump was located about seven miles from downtown Saigon at Long Binh, which is on the fringes of the sprawling Bien Hoa area.

The blast shook buildings and cracked windows in the downtown area.

Hundreds of residents rushed into the streets and clustered around the river bank gazing at bright flames and a towering funnel of smoke clearly visible on the night horizon.

There was no immediate word on casualties or whether the explosions were caused by Communist sabotage or an accident.

Dear Abby....

It's Getting Too Close for Comfort

DEAR ABBY: I am a married man who teaches school. I drive my car every day. A young woman teacher asked me to drive her home after school on the first day, and ever since then she has asked for a ride home every day.

It's not out of my way, and I don't mind so much that she has never offered to put in any gas, but I think it looks bad. You know what people start thinking when they see a man and young woman together all the time.

If I am a little late, she waits for me. If I leave early, she hurries to go with me. How can I get rid of her without insulting her? I'm afraid there has been talk already.

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ABBY: I don't agree that because a man gives a young woman a ride every day, people will talk. But if you do, then tell the lady that, silly as it is, people are talking, so the two-partly car pool will have to be dissolved. I can't guarantee that she won't be "insulted," but your only alternative is to become permanently trapped.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter went away to college and before she left I bought her a beautiful wardrobe. She recently wrote me a letter saying she needs some new clothes because she has been dating the same boy for the last two months and he has seen all her dresses. How should I answer her?

MANKATO MOM
DEAR MOM: Tell her to get another boy friend and start over.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a rest home where about 75 per cent of the patients are senile. They tell their families that we don't feed them, or bathe them, and that we steal from them. Abby, some folks actually believe these stories. Don't they realize that these old folks aren't mentally all there at times?

Five minutes after they have cursed us and have even tried to strike us, they are hugging and kissing us, having forgotten all they have said. Please print this so the families of these poor old souls will realize that if we didn't love and understand them we wouldn't be working here.

"UNDERSTANDS"
DEAR UNDERSTANDS: Orphans to you, and to others who continue to work in places where this type of understanding is so desperately needed. I agree, the only way to handle those who are not responsible for their actions, be they senile or mentally ill, is to love them, love them, love them.

DEAR ABBY: That young working wife who didn't have time to call her mother, because her mother kept her on the phone for at least 20 min-

POLLY'S POINTERS
Foot Socks Made From Nylon Hose
By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — When my nylon hose get that tired, washed-out look, but still have wear left in them, I put my hand inside the ankle, extend my fingers and paint a ring with colorless nail polish at the line where I want to cut them off for foot socks. Just before the polish dries I cut the hose just above this line, turn the edge over and it is neatly finished. This keeps them from unraveling. —MRS. R. E. C.

DEAR POLLY — We have an easy way to water our shrubby during dry weather. We collected some five-gallon metal cans and painted them green like the shrubs. On the bottom of each can (near a corner or the rim) we made a small hole. Fill the cans with water; place the holes are near the shrubbery and the water comes out slowly enough to soak into the ground rather than running off as it does when applied too fast. There is no water wasted and the plants love this slow drip of water. —M. E. G.

DEAR POLLY — I have discovered that using two tea towels when drying dishes speeds up the job and leaves the dishes without the touch of the hands. I pick the drained dishes out of the rack with one towel, then wipe with both. —M. E. G.

POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY — I do hope you or one of the wonderful readers can help me with my problem. I have some white glass fiber draperies that have yellowed and discolored. Is it safe to use bleach on glass fiber? —MRS. E. H. DEAR MRS. E. H. — and other owners of glass fiber curtains. —A recent release from a maker of this fabric answers Mrs. E. H.'s question. "Glass fiber curtains and draperies cannot be machine-washed. They should be hand-laundered by washing gently in hot suds, using only a low foam detergent. Rinse thoroughly, at least twice, in warm water. Do this by dunking, not squeezing. Dirt will literally roll off without agitation.

"For those that are unusually soiled, a mild bleach (sodium perborate type) may be used in a 1 per cent solution — by volume. This 1 per cent ratio also applies to ammonia in a wash. Never use alkalis or chlorine bleaches as these agents will weaken the fibers. Whenever possible, roll in a terry cloth towel to absorb the moisture. That is all; draperies are ready to hang." —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When sewing on buttons, I thread the needle with a doubled thread and double it again. This gives four threads to sew with and then it is only necessary to go through the button two or three times. This does a fast and neat job. Junior-sized baby food jars make wonderful jelly glasses. My husband also uses them for storing nails, tacks and so on. They are great for storing desk items such as paper clips, rubber bands, pen points and so many other things. We never throw any away. —MRS. N. E. R.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Mother Nature cooperated with Pampa Garden Club members and produced a beautiful day Saturday for the flower show tour of two homes, the Robert Mack and the Holly Gray homes and the Milo Carlson's garden. One purpose of the placement type flower show is to help educate the public as well as garden club members on use of flower arrangements in the home.

Mrs. Melvin Stephens and Mrs. V. N. Osborn took all the top awards in the show. Mrs. Stephens received the Tricolor Awards given in each home, the Sweepstakes Awards given in each home and the Award of Distinction given in the Holly Gray home. Mrs. V. N. Osborn received the Award of Distinction given in the Robert Mack home, the Sweepstakes Award for the most blue ribbons in the Horticulture Division as well as the Award of Merit for her floribunda rose, Ruby Lips. It is obvious that anyone who receives these horticulture awards has spent many hours caring for the plants in their garden.

The six judges for the show were Mmes. Lowell Bowdler and Ed Lehman of Booker and Mmes. O. G. Hill Sr., John Jacobson, A. L. Manjeot and R. L. Ethrede of Hereford. When judging the show a first, second and third place ribbon is given in each class when merited. Sweepstakes ribbons are given to the person who receives the most blue ribbons in each of the two divisions, Artistic and Horticulture. A Tricolor Award is given for the most outstanding arrangement using fresh plant material. An Award of Distinction is given for the most outstanding arrangement using dried plant material and an Award of Merit is given for the most outstanding entry in the Horticulture Division.

Two persons, who were not members of the garden club, but helped the show tremendously by their entries in the Horticulture Division were Mmes. Da Glaxner and Sam Gilleland. Their contributions were greatly appreciated.

The Dan Glaxner's home at 701 N. Gray is ablaze with colorful chrysanthemums. Joseph's Coat is used very effectively by several Pampans to add color to their landscape. At 1229 Christine Joseph's Coat is used across the front as an edging plant. A corner planting at 1717 Mary Ellen combining Joseph's Coat with the chartreuse colored shrub has been very eye-catching.

Now that winter is almost here when gardens will be in a state of dormancy we look back to the joy of summer in the garden, even with its hard work, and have a feeling of nostalgia. The Reader's Digest Complete Book of the Garden expresses the feeling so perfectly. "Gardens are our private refuges, where we can satisfy our need for beauty, tranquility and achievement. They are worlds of nature we help to create; tending plants, we share with the sun, the rain and the soil the task of transforming an area of earth into leaf and blossom. Emerson called his garden 'an honest place' where every tree and vine told by its appearance what treatment it had received. And Kipling wisely wrote, 'Such gardens are not made by singing, 'O how beautiful and sitting in the shade.'"

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Ray and Mrs. Roy Ritter, hostesses, also to one guest, Mrs. Curtis Schaefer, and members Mmes. C. A. Morrow, Margy Emery Ray Elmore, Fred Burgin, J.W. Ange, B. Shockey, Jimmie Kirby, Cleo Schaefer, L. L. Andrews, E. R. Hess, O. R. Major, John Ray and Roy Ritter.

Females' Fury Sweeps Nation

By United Press International
Thousands of housewives determined to pay less or protest more today ignored their critics and laid siege to supermarkets with picket lines and boycotts from coast to coast.
Much of the female fury at high prices centered on the practice of giving trading stamps. Grocers and stamp dealers defended the practice as actually lowering prices by raising volume.

Connally Requests Food Price Study

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Gov. John B. Connally has asked for a detailed study of food prices in Texas by three of the state's universities.
Connally said he was concerned "with the danger of inflation, and I am particularly disturbed about mounting food prices and their effects" on the family budget.
"While rash judgments and emotionally-based opinions as to blame are inevitable, they contribute little toward determining cause, or a sensible course of action for improvement of the situation," he said.
Connally asked the presidents of the University of Texas, Texas A&M University and Texas Tech to order studies of the situation.

Trial

studied something in my mouth. Then he stabbed me again in the stomach and on the side.
"I begged him not to kill me," she said. He told me we was not going to kill me — that even if they caught him he would only get seven and a half years for rape, and besides that he would be three or four states away.
The witness identified the jacket and shirt she said her attacker was wearing when he came to her home. The jacket and shirt had been taken in a search of Vessels' home by sheriff's officers.
Then came the highlight of her testimony.
District Attorney Waters asked her if she could identify the man who attacked and raped her.
She said she could.
"Will you point him out?" the district attorney asked.
The witness pointed to Vessels sitting behind his attorney at the counsel table.
"It's that man," she said, pointing at the defendant. Vessels showed no emotion. He looked briefly at his accuser and then looked away.
"Is there any doubt in your mind or could you be mistaken?" the district attorney asked.
"There is no doubt. I am not mistaken," the witness replied.
"Are you positive this is the man?" Waters queried further.
"I am positive," she said.
On cross-examination, Attorney Bowers asked her only two or three questions. He asked her to describe the length of the hair on her Chinese Pug dog which an earlier witness had testified was "physically identical" to hair specimens found on the jacket taken from the defendant's home. She replied in the affirmative to a question if her assailant was fully clothed at the time of the second attack.
On re-direct examination by the district attorney, the rape victim said that after the last attack, she was able to scream. She said her attacker then ran into the back yard and she ran out and screamed for help.
"Was there any conversation after the last attack?" Attorney Waters asked.
"I asked him not to tie me tightly so I would soon be able to get loose and take care of my baby."
Defense attorney Bowers then asked her about her identification of Vessels in a police lineup.
"Were you ever shown any pictures of suspects by the officers?" Bowers asked.
She said she had looked at many pictures and only one of them bore a slight resemblance to her attacker.
On final questioning by the district attorney the witness said she had never identified anyone other than Vessels as her attacker.
It was 8:35 p.m. when she completed her testimony.
At that point the state rested its case. Judge Goodrich asked the jury to retire and remain locked up for the night and adjourned court until 10:30 a.m. today when the defense took over.
The State called only seven witnesses while the jury was in the room. They were Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Texas Ranger Bill Baten, George Taft of the Texas Safety Department crime laboratory in Austin, Deputy Sheriff Dwight L. Day, the rape victim herself and her next-door neighbor.
Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford took the stand as a preliminary witness to establish for the court that he had issued a search warrant for the defendant's home after Vessels had been arrested on May 12.
When the jury returned to the courtroom at 4:35 p.m. yesterday, Sheriff Jordan took the stand and testified he and Deputy Sheriff Day and Ranger Baten went to Vessels' home at 409 McCullough and took several articles including a denim jacket, two pairs of levis, a blue checkered shirt, a pocket knife and a carving knife which they found under the floor mat in Vessels' station wagon. Jordan said he had obtained a description from the victim of clothing worn by her attacker.
Baten testified he took the articles to the state crime laboratory in Austin where they were examined and checked by Taft, the Department of Safety crime lab expert.
Taft testified he tested sam-

Plugs of hair found on the jacket taken from the rape victim's home with hair removed from the victim's pet Chinese Pug dog.

Taft, who gave his first testimony at yesterday afternoon's trial session, said under questioning by District Attorney Waters that he tested the hair specimens microscopically on a slide both wet and dry.
Then, the witness said:
"The hair taken from the jacket and the hair from the dog were found to be physically identical."
Defense attorney Bowers questioned Taft at some length on the degree of accuracy that could be obtained from such an examination.
The witness, in answer to a question by Bowers, said he did not have equipment along with him that would enable him to make such a test in the courtroom.
Taft said no hair specimens were found on any of the other articles turned over to him for examination.
Dr. Joe R. Donaldson was the final witness at the afternoon session. He testified he examined the rape victim after she had been taken to the hospital and described the knife wounds that had been inflicted.
On cross-examination by Bowers, Dr. Donaldson admitted he had made no examination that would enable him to say positively that the victim had been raped.

The court also overruled the defense attorney on his motion to have certain witnesses disqualified. He had also objected to admission of the affidavit and search warrant for Vessels' home. All defense objections were turned down by the court.

The next door neighbor of the rape victim described how she had found the victim screaming in the yard and took her and her baby to the hospital.
She said when she returned home she found what she thought was a rag on the seat of her car. Later it developed it was a knotted bra, with which the victim had been tied.

Miller Upholds Agriculture as Most Important

Dee Miller, Democratic Congressional candidate, spoke to a farmer and rancher meeting last night at the Tascosa High school Cafeteria in Amarillo.
"Agriculture is the most important industry in the nation, and our district is more dependent on agriculture than many people realize," Miller said.
"We have to realize, however, that agriculture is different from any other industry."
"You are not dealing with any one group. They are all individuals, and they are all competing with one another," Miller commented.
"Because farmers and ranchers are not a single industry, they are not always as strong as bargaining partners in other industries."
"This is a part of the farm program in which a Democratic Congressman can be of great assistance to the farmer and rancher. Many politicians have told people in agriculture that they know all the agriculture problems and that they know how to solve them, he added.
"No single man can solve all of the problems by himself, and anyone who tells you he can is foolish."
"We cannot afford to have a representative from the Minority Party as the only spokesman for our District in Washington," Miller concluded.
Miller will be in Childress tonight for a Democratic Rally at Gay's Cafe. Sunday there will be a coffee honoring Dee Miller and his wife, Joan, in the Hospitality Room of the Citizen's Bank and Trust Company in Pampa from 3 to 5:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Madame Weather To Make Shift

Madame Weather, whose seasonable wardrobe is the envy of every Pampa belle, plans to do a shift later this afternoon, shifting from warmer temperatures to cooler ones.
The shift will be sunny yellow trimmed in cloud-grout with nippy blue buttons to match the light and variable winds that will be coming from the north. It will be rippled with 10 to 20 m.p.h. winds.
And she will be wearing the same costume tonight and Saturday.
High today will be near 80, slightly cooler than yesterday's high of 85 with a low tonight in the 30s.

PULL OFF THE FALSE FACES

"But when Moses went in before the Lord to speak with him, he took the veil off..." (Exodus 34:34)

Though Halloween finds children adoring "false faces" in celebrating the holiday revelry, many people today wear masks of boastfulness, pretense, excuse-making, and living beyond their means in an attempt to live with the reality of life. The Bible reveals many who wore "false faces". The Rich Young Ruler adorned one. He wanted to follow Christ, yet when he heard the cost price he turned away. Another wearer of the "false face" was Judas Iscariot. Pretending to accept our Lord's leadership, he sought to climb socially by betraying Christ into the hands of the authorities. Then there was Simon the Sorcerer (Acts 8:9) who masqueraded before the people as the power of God while performing his tricks. One of the types of "False Faces" worn by people today is that of "excuses" in that it limits individuals from accepting their responsibilities to God and to man.

You say, you cannot come to Church today
It's the only time you have to pray
To play the Church, you golf, you hunt, you fish
What other excuse can you make today?
Did Christ say he was too busy to visit during your hospital stay?
Did He fail you in your depressive mood or delay
To help you find yourself and make gainway?
What other excuse can you make today?
You cannot come to church this Sunday?
God needs help and no delay
To tell the story of His life and abundant way
What other excuse can you make today?
You say, you cannot win another to His Way
Why put it off another day?
Eradicate those thoughts that cause delay
Of someone else coming to Him to stay
You say, you cannot ask another to His Church
It's not that it's hard you cough and smirk
Have you forgotten His Love and His Compassion
As you try to escape Him in modern fashion
You cannot bring someone into His fellowship?
You say, you're making another trip?
You don't dare care of the many children, their desire to learn
You abandon them and excuse yourself with no concern.
You say, you cannot win another
You say, you're too shy
No use to God to lie
You'll face Him when you die
You say, I'll put it off to another day
Just as I do when I forget to pray
And another soul clings desperately in wait
Because of your laziness, he's lost to fate.
You say, you've changed your mind
And will seek for Christ and find
Someone this day who has lost track
Of life, of Christ, of Church and life's knack
Today, go find the Church. Pull off the "false face" you've been wearing as did Moses. Then give your old way of life up for that of Christ's Way.

Shockers Bumped; Lee Ninth, 8th Sweep B. Houston

IRISH EYES are all smiling at Terry Hanratty, the Notre Dame quarterback, who has been having an outstanding year as a sophomore.

Caprock handed the Pampa Shockers their sixth loss in seven outings Thursday, 36-0, at Amarillo. Caprock's first two touchdowns were scored on long drives in the second half of the game. The Shockers host Tascosa next Thursday. Lee ninth won their second straight Thursday on long runs by Mike Heiskell and ran their season record to 3-4. Heiskell scored three times to pace the Rebels to a 20-6 victory over Borger Houston. Ross Holman tossed Heiskell a 20-yard pass in the second quarter and the Rebels led 6-0 at halftime. Heiskell traveled 61-yards in the third quarter and John Jenkins scored the conversion for a 14-6 third period lead. The last Lee score came in the fourth period when Heiskell went 36 yards to paydirt. Lee eighth broke a five-game losing streak and won their first of the year, 16-6 over Borger Houston at Borger. Houston grabbed a quick 6-0 lead on a 50-yard pass play but Barry Kinherman passed 45 yards to Mike Pool and John Garren ran over the conversion to make it 8-6 at the end of the quarter. Neither team scored in the second period but Lee tied again in the fourth quarter when they drove 50-yards and Garren went in from the four and then ran the conversion. Pampa Junior High ninth lost their third in a row and fifth in six outings, 40-0 to Perryton. The junior Rangers built up a 27-0 halftime lead and coasted in from there. Pampa couldn't stop a vaunted passing attack and never threatened. Fumbles hit the Pampa Junior High eighth grade team again and they lost their fourth game in six outings. Perryton rolled to a 36-8 victory after building up a 30-0 halftime lead. Dwayne Glover scored Pampa's only touchdown in the third quarter on a 14-yard run. Pampa threatened several times but fumbles and pass interceptions halted all drives. Perryton grabbed a quick 24 first period lead and Pampa couldn't catch up. Pampa seventh, who hasn't lost yet, hosts Borger Austin today while Lee seventh plays at Perryton in quest of their third straight victory.

Rambling With Red RON CROSS

Last week just wasn't a good week for predicting the outcome of football games, the upsets didn't upset thus leaving us with our first losing record. We missed 10 of 17 last week and now sport a season record of 58-28-3. But on with this week's picks and a promise to do better. AMARILLO 14, MONTEREY 0—The Sandies are the best in the league. You can't stop Hollar. BORGER 21, PLAINVIEW 10—The Bulldogs have found the winning formula again and will be tough the rest of the season. PAMPA 35, CAPROCK 7—I still can't pick against Pampa. They are due to bust loose anytime and save fumbles and pass interceptions should score a bunch. LUBBOCK 10, CORONADO 8—The Westerners will be read after being humiliated last week. They'll try to return the favor. TASCOSA 40, PALO DURO 7—So what's so surprising about this? CANADIAN 16, GRUVER 10—The Wildcats can't stand losing, so they win. WHITE DEER 30, WHEELER 0—The Mustangs might score but the Bucks want that No. 1 ranking. MCLEAN 33, SILVERTON 0—You can't beat Fred Hedgecock's defense. Except at White Deer. GROOM 30, BOOKER 0—The Tigers are aiming for another 5-B title and Bookers can't stop 'em. LEFORS 45, FOLLETT 8—The Pates will score and score. OKLAHOMA 21, COLORADO 19—The Sooners know they must win this one. The Big Eight race is on the line. ARKANSAS 14, TEXAS A&M 7—This could be the game of the year in the Southwest Conference. Too much Hog defense. MEMPHIS STATE 21, WEST TEXAS STATE 10—This is our upset of the week. Memphis State knows how to stop a good passing team.

League Titles On Line Tonight

By United Press International District leaderships lie in waiting all along the line this week end in the Texas school-boy football ranks with the top attraction being a collision of fifth and tenth-ranked San Antonio MacArthur and San Antonio Highlands in 15-AAAA. The winner of this one is considered a shoo-in for the state playoffs and the same will be true in numerous other battles, such as: San Angelo vs. Abilene High in 2-AAA, Alpine & Marfa in 6-AA, Hillsboro and West in 10-AA, Kirbyville and Buna in 22-AA, Anahuac and Humble in 24-AA, Randolph Field and Boerne in 29-AA, Pearsall and Hondo in 30-AA, Crosbyton and Spur in 4-A, Seagraves and Tahoka in 5-A, Rotan and Merkel in 6-A, Rosebud and Waco Robinson in 22-A, Troy and Rogers in 24-A and Magnolia and Hempstead in 26-A. In fact, Seagraves could clinch a playoff spot by beating Tahoka. Crucial games also are plentiful in the zone districts with zone leaderships at stake in several districts. El Paso High and El Paso Coronado play for a zone lead in 1-AAAA; Lubbock Monterey and Amarillo High plays for the North zone lead in 3-AAAA; Richland Hills and Grand Prairie for the Zone 1 lead in 4-AAAA; Highland Park and Carrollton for the South zone lead in 7-AAAA; Corsicana and Cleburne for the North zone lead in 13-AAAA; Victoria and Corpus Christi Miller for the North zone lead in 14-AAAA. In 12-AAA where South Houston is 4-1 and La Marque, Brazosport and Pasadena High are 3-1, Brazosport and La Marque meet in a critical game. In 8-AAAA, Marshall and Longview meet for a share of the lead with Tyler High. Share Lead Bridge City and Liberty share the lead in 9-AAA and meet this week. If Bridge City wins it should easily make it to the playoffs, but Liberty would face tough stalling if it upset last years state finalists. In 12-AAA, Clear Creek and Alvin meet for a share of the lead with Dickinson and the same is true in 3-AA where Memphis and Floydada play for a share of the lead with Abernathy, and in 13-AA where Hooks and De Kalb meet for a share of the lead with Atlanta. Another top game which could be a factor in a district decision has once-tied (in district) San Antonio Wheatley at Fredericksburg, which is unbeaten along with Del Rio High in district play in 15-AAA.

Pampa Hosts Horns Tonight

By RON CROSS Sports Editor Pampa will attempt to break a three game losing streak tonight when the Harvesters host Caprock, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Harvester Field, in a north zone-conference battle. The Harvesters have won two of the three games played between the two schools, beginning in 1963, but lost to the Horns, 7-0 last year. Caprock, like Pampa, got off a good start this season, but was upset last week at the hands of Borger, 14-9, in their first conference outing. Pampa turned the ball over to Amarillo seven times via pass interceptions and fumbles. For tonight's battle Pampa will be without defensive cornerback Dickie Henley who broke his pitching arm last week. Halfback L. D. Rowden will switch to Henley's spot on defense with Dwight Rodgers moving to Rowden's place. The Longhorns have been averaging over 30 points per game while giving up an even 15 per contest. Pampa, whose offense has not been stopped by another team, except through the fumble and pass interception route, is averaging just 12 points per contest while giving up an average of just over 17 per game. The Harvesters have the north zone's top rusher and leading total offense leader in fullback Ted Heiskell, a 200-pounder. Last week Caprock was without their leading ground gainer, halfback Steve Alston, a 160 pound junior. His status for tonight's contest is still uncertain. Line-wise the Horns compare favorably with Pampa weighing just over 181 pounds per man on the average while the backfield has an average weight of 160 pounds per man.

Aggies, SMU Are In Underdog Role Again

By United Press International Texas A&M, which has never beaten a Frank Broyles-coached Arkansas team, and Southern Methodist, which has lost six of its past seven tilts against Texas, will be in the familiar role of underdogs in their showdown battles with these clubs Saturday afternoon and night. The Aggie-Razorback struggle at College Station is the only one of the full schedule in the conference set under the lights. A full house of around 42,000 is due for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff. Texas hosts SMU at Austin at 2 p.m. before an anticipated crowd of 55,000; Baylor tries to stay in the thick of the title scrap against Texas Christian at Fort Worth before 30,000 at 1 p.m., and Rice and Texas Tech battle for the cellar before only 25,000 at 2 p.m. in Houston. The odds-makers have made Arkansas and Baylor six point

Toy Bowl Set For Saturday

A bowl game that does everybody a lot of good will unfold at 5 p.m. Saturday, in Harvester Field. It is the annual Toy Bowl, with three games scheduled between members of the Optimist's clubs six little league football teams. Admission to the game is the donation of one toy, in good shape or otherwise or 50 cents. The toy or the money couldn't go for a better cause. It will go to underprivileged children. The first game on tap is the Packers and Lions with T. L. Garner coaching the Packers and David Jagger the Lions. These teams finished sixth and fifth in the league. When these two teams are through battling the No. 4 and 3 teams, the Browns and Colts will have it. Warren Smith coaches the Browns and Wayne Jones the Colts. The final game on the night card will pit the top two teams in the league, the Redskins, who finished first, and without Otto Graham, and the Rams, the No. 2 team in the league. Jerry Martin coached the top team and Chuck Bennett and Steve French the Rams. This area's top officials, Andy Anderson, Dale Imel, Leon Taylor, Jake Webb and Eddie Polnac, will officiate. Earl Davis will man the Public Address system. The Toy Bowl is sponsored by both the Morning and Evening Optimist Clubs and Doug Word served as president of the little league football affair.

Top 10 Solid Choices

By United Press International After their Saturday meeting with the No. 1 ranked Notre Dame Fighting Irish, the midshipmen of Navy might be ready to call a halt to the oldest continuous intercollegiate rivalry in college football. The Irish won the first game 19-6 when the series began in 1933, and they are solid 26-point favorites to beat the Middies for the 30th time when the two teams hold their 41st annual meeting. However, half of Notre Dame's cover boy passing combination will be missing. End in Seymour, who appeared on the cover of a national magazine this week along with quarterback Terry Hanratty, severely sprained his ankle against Oklahoma and will sit out several games. Seymour has caught 54 passes for 675 yards with most of them being thrown by Hanratty, who has hit 57 of 95 passes for 926 yards. Paul Snow and Kevin Rassas, the younger brothers of well known former Irish stars Jack Snow and Nick Rassas, are the backup men for Seymour. Also missing from the lineup will be linebacker Mike McGill, a leading tackler. Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian, who doesn't expect any letdown after a string of five victories, is most worried about Navy passer John Cartwright, who was injured for several games but returned at full strength last week against William and Mary to throw three TD passes. He has a good receiver in Rob Taylor and running support from Terry Murray. Navy is only 3-3 this season, however. Michigan State, a close second to Notre Dame in the race for the national title, is a lopsided favorite against Northwestern, and the rest of the top 10 teams also are rather solid choices. Third-ranked UCLA faces Air Force, fourth-rated Alabama meets Mississippi State and No. 5 Southern California takes on Miami of Florida in a Friday night game. In other Saturday games involving teams in the top 10, Georgia Tech is a choice against Duke, Florida is picked over Auburn, Nebraska is favored against Missouri, Arkansas is selected over Texas A&M and Wyoming is the pick against Colorado State. Fullback Bob Apisa and halfback Clinton Jones are the

Clay Toys Around With Jones for Six
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — After humiliating Doug Jones for six rounds Thursday night, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay said the exhibition fight was just a sneaky way of showing the public he really beat Jones in their controversial first fight. "As you saw, I was just playing with him," Clay told reporters in his dressing room after the fight. Throughout the fight before 5,000 hometown fans, Clay toyed with Jones, landing his patented left jab time after time. At no point did Jones land a soled punch. No decision was announced for the exhibition fight, a UPI scorecard gave Clay all six rounds. Prior to the fight, Clay said he wanted a knockout, but it was evident he changed his mind. Jones had hoped a good showing might bring a title chance. "For a man of 210 pounds, I made him look slow," the champion said. Clay danced around the ring at will and gave what he termed "The Muhammad Ali shuffle," several times. Taking the ring microphone immediately after the fight, Clay told the crowd he did not go all out because of his Nov. 14 title fight in Houston with Cleveland Williams. He said those who had questions in their minds about the 1963 Jones-Clay fight in New York City, saw the truth in Thursday night's encounter. The earlier fight was a close decision and many observers rated Jones the better fighter. Clay weighed 210 for Thursday night's fight, 15 pounds more than Jones. Proceeds of the fight went for a children's hospital.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Recession and Recovery

Within recent weeks, economic and financial writers have begun to voice deep concern about the economic outlook, saying that a recession is possible if not actually likely. Across the Atlantic, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of England went further. He warned that a worldwide depression, with widespread unemployment, could occur.

At home, President Johnson announced what he termed a broad attack on rising inflation. He also asked for a similar rollback of the accelerated tax write-off for depreciation of industrial and commercial buildings.

Now, let's look at the situation and at the President's proposed remedy. The outlook is disturbing, for investors clearly are gloomy about the immediate future. A jittery stock market is the result, with major corporate securities suffering heavy losses in value. Meanwhile, the public is becoming increasingly apprehensive as prices increase for necessary commodities.

If a recession takes place, it will be the most unnecessary recession in history. The American people are hard-working, energetic and progressive in outlook. They supply a tremendous demand for the new goods and services developed by U.S. enterprise. Young people now in college—where they are acquiring valuable skills for the age of automation—will want new homes, new cars, new appliances. This demand should provide a great deal of prosperity in the years ahead. The skilled youth of America form a high productive segment of our society. Their drive and imagination should further enrich the American way of life.

But this isn't the entire story. The productive groups and forces in American life are not dominant on the political scene. There are, one is sad to say, counter-productive groups and forces. A segment of American voters—and they are demanding—is crying out for more federal welfareism. This segment

Robin Hood 'Exposed'

Shades of Sherwood Forest! What a shame it has taken so long for Robin Hood to be "exposed" out in California! What a pity that a 13-year-old lad has had to learn the hard way that the kind of adventurous "good" Robin Hood did was pure fiction, a bad means to an end. It was taking property from some to give to others—in short stealing.

According to the report, the boy from a "poor family" accepted orders for bicycles and filled them by taking the first suitable one he saw, usually from a shopping center. Some he sold for small change; others he just gave away to not-so-well-off children.

Student Wave Swamps Colleges

There are, according to preliminary enrollment reports, possibly as many as 6.45 million students in American colleges and universities this fall. The announcement comes from Dr. Garland G. Parker, University of Cincinnati statistician, who annually makes a detailed estimate enrollment study for the National School and Society, sophomore and junior enrollment

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

There's a city ordinance in Gary, Indiana, unless it's been repealed lately, that prohibits any person from getting on a street car or bus within four hours after having eaten garlic. Although the city fathers may not realize it their ordinance is similar to an ancient Egyptian law that barred garlic eaters from the temples. There was still another passed by the Roman Senate centuries later that had the same restriction. Curiously, garlic was one of the staple foods of the workmen who built the Egyptian pyramids. It was believed to lessen the discomforts of working under the hot sun. And on one pyramid is listed the tons of garlic, radishes, onions and other vegetables needed to feed the laborers. However, it was a delicacy in ancient Greece and was eaten there on festival days. Today, there's hardly a country in the world where garlic has not been used to spice native dishes.

Today's smile: A young fellow told the clerk on the perfume counter: "I want something nice for my girl friend." "Here is something for $40 an ounce," said the clerk. "It's called 'Who Knows'." The young fellow said: "Listen, for $40 an ounce I don't want to play guessing games. Have you got anything called 'For Certain'?"

Americans are eating out more often, according to a study by the restaurant industry. One out of four meals these days is being eaten away from home compared to one in 100 a quarter century ago. The study also revealed that restaurants capture almost 25 per cent of the food dollar today as compared with only 15 per cent a dozen years ago.

Thoughts while shaving: The next time you read a racing form and note the track conditions as being "fast" or "slow" don't credit the weatherman for the information. Most race tracks employ technically-trained men to test the track soil conditions. They use two tools to give them the answers, a hydrometeorograph for testing soil humidity and a penetrometer for testing soil density.

We appreciate the difficulty that children, and their parents, face, trying to determine values in an age when the great social "gospel" preaches property as seizure by politicians in power instead of reverence for an individual's life and property. It is "gospel" given a nicety via the legalized machinery of taxation. Add to that the growing homage paid to bureaucrats and their omniscience in how to use property taken from others, for schools, the poor, defense in far-flung lands, and so on ad infinitum.

It is high time for all parents to come to the aid of their country by exposing Robin Hood forever. They must dub him with his true label—"fiction" so that their children will be aware from the same kind of benevolent "merchandise" he was. We know of one case of a newspaper carrier who had worked for months to save money for a new bicycle, was jubilant over his beautiful 10-speed vehicle only to have it snatched from him, whisked away from a shopping center, never to see it again.

Question Box

QUESTION: When college students and professors complain about lack of academic freedom, what do they usually mean by "Academic Freedom?"
ANSWER: Briefly they usually mean that they think they have a right as professors, to teach what they want to teach without regard to what those who are paying the bills want their children to be taught. The students, of course don't understand what academic freedom means; to them it means they don't want the professors to tell them what to study; they want freedom to get a diploma, which in most cases is worthless, without disciplining their minds and learning to reason. The only people who really have, or should have, academic freedom are the parents of the children who are students; and they should not have to pay professors who teach the opposite from what they want their children to comprehend. On the other hand, the parents have a right to hire anyone they want to learn which is about all or rather, to stimulate them to want to learn which is about all a teacher can really do, because it's up to the individual to want to learn before he can even start to learn. And if the parents don't like what their tutor or school is teaching, they should be perfectly free to withdraw their children from the tutor or the school and send them to another.

If the government didn't have a virtual monopoly on schooling, there would be plenty of schools and the cost would be a lot less and the youth of the land then would have a chance to get an education. Now, under monopoly schools, the professors want "academic freedom" to mean that they can teach what they want and somebody else must pay for it—whether they use it or not and whether they use it or not, and that's what most college professors mean by academic freedom.

Parents actually have lost most of their academic freedom because the state compels school attendance and then by a monopoly of schools limits the parents' choices and parents have no control over the schools or the professors.

Democratic congressional leaders have agreed to push the reorganization legislation in the Senate early in January. House action will follow. Senator Mike Monroney, D-Okla., will lead the drive. The State Department is keeping a sharp eye on talks between H. L. Hunt, the Texas oilman and officials in the South Vietnamese embassy. They want to know if Hunt is meddling in South Viet Nam politics.

The professor, at a girls' college, wrote on the blackboard, "LXXX." Then, peering over his spectacles at a good-looking girl in the first row, he asked: Professor—Young Lady, I'd like to have you tell me what that means. Girl—Love and kisses.

WASHINGTON NOTES—Senator Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., has his House Judiciary Subcommittee staff busy drafting a new immigration bill that would relax many of the "so-called labor restrictions." He plans to introduce it in January. For the first time, details on production and sales of natural and synthetic diamonds in the U.S. are available in a new study, "Industrial Diamonds and Small Diamond Dies—U.S. Consumption and Trade." Available from the U.S. Commerce Department, Publications Office, Washington, D.C. Reorganization of Congress will be one of the hottest items on the legislative agenda next year.

Bad Manners

The usual collection of Vietnams, with their familiar placards, awaited Vice President Humphrey the other day at San Fernando Valley State college during his stumping tour for California's Gov. Pat Brown. But it took a female voice shouting "Murderer" to stop Humphrey in mid-speech and cause him to remark, with controlled anger: "The first quality of a good education is good manners; some people flunk the course."

That they do. And the disrespect with which public officials are so often treated these days indicates an epidemic of bad manners. Time was when a President, Vice President, senator, representative, governor, mayor or other high official could expect routine courtesy when making a public appearance, regardless of whether he was controversial or unpopular. It was a case of saluting the uniform, not the man.

It is a sorry commentary that Humphrey's rebuke was necessary. It is an even sorer commentary that the message will make no dent on hyena-mentality, collegiate or otherwise.

Time was when a President, Vice President, senator, representative, governor, mayor or other high official could expect routine courtesy when making a public appearance, regardless of whether he was controversial or unpopular. It was a case of saluting the uniform, not the man.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Many voters find that despite all the polls taken during an election campaign they themselves are never asked how they are going to vote.

They naturally feel hurt about this, Hurt and worried.

In a democracy, one vote is continually ignored by the supposed to be as good as another. But a voter who is pollsters begins to suspect his vote may be inferior.

I know what it means to feel left out, and my heart bleeds for the great masses of unpollled voters. It was for their sake that I formed the Nosey Nellie Public Opinion Polling and Sampling Co.

Nosey Nellie's pre-election poll is different. Its purpose is not to measure the strength of candidates; but to ease the disappointment of voters who have not had a chance to participate in other polls.

This poll is open to everybody. Just check the answers that best express your opinion and drop it in the mailbox.

Don't bother to address it. The way the postal service has been operating lately it probably wouldn't be delivered in time anyway.

1. What do you consider the chief issue in the campaign? () women's suffrage. () U. S. membership in the League of Nations. () prohibition. () free silver. () the Missouri Compromise.

2. What non-political event do you think will have the biggest impact on the election? () President Johnson's visit to Pago Pago. () President Johnson's visit to New Zealand. () President Johnson's visit to Australia. () President Johnson's visit to the United States.

3. Congress passed a bill authorizing each taxpayer to channel $1 of his tax payment into a political fund. What was your reaction? () depends on who the candidates are. () I would prefer a $1 refund. () it only hurts when I laugh.

4. Another poll not long ago showed that about 55 per cent of the voters did not know the name of their congressman. What is the political implication of that? () should help congressmen who are running for re-election. () proves that 45 per cent of the voters are relatives of congressmen.

5. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon are not running for anything but all three have been vigorously campaigning. Why? () they are doing it for the good of their respective parties. () who said they weren't running for anything?

Coeds Pledge WT Sororities

Two Pampa students, Sammie Monroe and Beverly Langley, are pledging sororities at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Pledging Chi Omega, Miss Monroe is a sophomore government major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Monroe, 1806 Chestnut.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Langley, 622 Sloan, Miss Langley is pledging Zeta Tau Alpha and was elected social chairman for the fall pledge class. She is a sophomore business administration major.

BY THEIR DEEDS, you shall know them. And also by nametags and milk cartons, Pampa youth assisting with the CROP will be known. Debra Eaton, pins a CROP nametag on Clifford Richter, while Laura Riehart and Stan Franke await turns at being "pinned."

CROP Youth Caravan To Move Saturday

Young Pampans from various church organizations will be calling door-to-door Saturday afternoon and evening seeking "treat" for needy people abroad.

Seeking funds for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) has become as much a symbol of Halloween to young people of Texas as the traditional "tricks or treats," black cats, witches and goblins.

CROP is sponsored by Church World Service a relief agency of 24 national church bodies, recognized by the government to receive and distribute foods to needy persons overseas.

CROP is the only community-wide church food appeal in the state for overseas programs of the churches. As a program of the Texas Council of Churches, CROP is planned and conducted by local volunteer workers.

Members of the ministerial alliance and Pampa Chamber of Commerce are directing the local program, according to Paul Bowers, Gray County Crop chairman.

CROP youth will be known by identification badges and monkey cartons they will be carrying.

Bowers asks that youth begin checking in funds at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Educational Building, First Methodist Church, where refreshments will be served.

Last year, with approximately 160 young people working on the drive, $500 was collected. Bowers said that the same number will be participating in the drive this year.

"Gifts to CROP are put to use under church supervision strictly on the basis of need," Bowers said.

CROP is able to provide emergency supplies for disaster victims, milk and foods for deprived children in school feeding programs, self-help materials and food-for-wages in development reconstruction and rehabilitation projects with contributions received in the community appeals throughout the United States.

In 1918, the Hapsburg monarchy of Austria-Hungary was dissolved as Budapest became the capital of the Hungary and Vienna the capital of Austria.

Price Asserts Goals Should Be For Agriculture

SPEARMAN — Reasonable goals should be set and met in regard to the agricultural policies of the Federal government, congressional candidate Bob Price said here Thursday night.

"The farmer should have an income at least comparable to the return to other segments of the economy," he Pampa rancher-businessman olc members of the Hansford County Farm Bureau.

"Now is the time to accomplish the goal of full parity of income for agricultural commodities. It's time for the government to allow a fair price return to the farmer instead of the present policy of depressing prices," the 18th District candidate said.

Price suggested that the Department of Agriculture develop a series of additional measurements and use them as a cross-check on the parity of income formula.

"Included in these checks should be: Return on investment after taxes and an adequate allowance for management; Relationship of net farm income to net income of other U. S. businesses after taxes; Relationship of net farm income before taxes to government salaries and labor contracts," he said.

Somewhere among the footnotes to President Johnson's swing across the Pacific there is need for an honest estimate of what will be required of U.S. taxpayers to make good on the President's generous promises of aid to Southeast Asia. LBJ's philanthropy is open ended, without limit as to cost.

The President seems to have in mind something resembling the Great Society he is establishing at great cost in the United States. Just as there is no price tag on the Great Society, American version, so there is none as to Southeast Asia. But there is a rough estimate of the down payment. The down payment is $1 billion.

The American commitment to conquer hunger and disease in Southeast Asia, like the war, has been growing with awesome acceleration. LBJ offered the $1 billion down payment in an April, 1965, speech at Baltimore, Md. Johnson aimed his Baltimore speech at North Viet Nam. The need for finding a satisfactory end to the unpopular costly, bloody war was increasing by the day and hour.

LBJ told Hanoi he was ready to begin without prior conditions diplomatic discussions to end the war. He baited his offer with a pledge to ask Congress to approve a $1 billion investment in a Southeast Asia regional development program that eventually would include North Viet Nam.

Ho Chi Minh was not interested. LBJ has sweetened the pot and continues to await some favorable response from the old Communist. The latest was an open-ended sweetener, cost unknown. The President offered it last week in New Zealand. It represented the minimum bait Ho Chi Minh now can expect as part of new peace overtures. Johnson can hike the commitment but he can't diminish it. Old Ho never had it so good.

In his New Zealand speech, Johnson declared war against hunger and disease everywhere in Southeast Asia. He said that included North Viet Nam if Hanoi desired U.S. aid.

"I pledge America to serve in that war (against hunger and disease) in Southeast Asia," Johnson said, "for the duration."

For the duration! There's the rub. Hunger and disease in Southeast Asia have a head start on the United States. Hunger and disease were on top there long before Christopher Columbus got that famous loan from Queen Isabella. Hunger and disease are likely to prove to be a more stubborn and more costly enemy than the Viet Cong.

That is why a footnote should be added to the story of LBJ's Pacific argosy. There should be also a calculation to determine

Here Is What One Area Editor says about—

MALOUF ABRAHAM

Candidate for the Texas State Legislature from the 84th District

TUESDAY, NOV. 8, 1966

"—An 'A' for Oofie... in gov't."

One of the hardest-running candidates we know for public office this fall is Canadian's Malouf Abraham.

As we have previously declared in these columns, we intend to vote for and support Oofie Abraham in November for the post of State Representative from this district... not because he is running on the Republican ticket not in spite of the fact that he is running on the Republican ticket, but simply because, in our opinion, he is the best qualified candidate in this election for this office.

He is, we believe, the kind of informed, concerned and public-spirited citizen which this country always has need for... and too seldom elects... in its position of public trust.

He has proved himself in this community, both in public office and in private business. He was, by all odds, the most effective Mayor which the City of Canadian has had, and at a time when his city most urgently needed effective leadership.

That he has been highly successful in his own private, business endeavors is obvious... but it is also worth noting that his private success has been attained in conjunction with... and never at the expense of... the good of his community. Canadian owes no small debt of gratitude to this public-spirited citizen for the measurable growth and progress of the past decade.

We commend Oofie Abraham to the voters of the other counties in the 84th legislative district as a man who knows how to get things done, and does them always to the best of his ability with an eye to the public interest as well his personal benefit.

Malouf Abraham is one man who is truly convinced that what's good for the country is also very probably what's best for him... and this, sort of enlightened self-interest is what the country needs...
