BILL IN CONFERENCE FOR ADJUSTMENT OF DIFFERENCES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—House revision of the administration's half-billion dollar soil conservation subsidy bill brought stern senate democratic protests today which sent the measure to conference for adjustment of differences.

Senator Smith (D. S. C.), co-sponsor of the senate version with Senator Bankhead (D. Ala.), was so incensed over the house action that he threw up his hands in disgust and inquired:

"What kind of a fool thing is this they have adopted?"

Senator McNary, of Oregon, the republican leader, who assailed the legislation when it was before the senate as a "subterfuge, fraud and sham," displayed his feelings by refusing to serve on the conference committee.

Smith had the senate disagree to the house amendments as soon as the bill was received and asked for a conference. Vice President Garner named Smith, Murphy (D. Ia.), Pope (D. Ida.) and Capper (R. Kans.) as the senate conferees.

Smith said he would propose Senator Prazier (R. N. D.) for the place turned down by McNary. The house will appoint conferees Monday.

Some senators expressed belief the conferees would have difficulty composing the many differences. Delay, they added, would interfere with plans to get the subsidy program going before spring crops are planted.

The bill in a general way would authorize payment up to $500,000,000 in federal subsidies to farmers for taking land out of production.

Reno Stinson's Car Taken but Is Soon Found

Someone took a wild ride in Reno Stinson's car yesterday morning and then parked it less than 100 yards from where it had been originally left. Mr. Stinson and Sheriff Earl Talley found the car when they started out to search for it.

Mr. Stinson reported to Sheriff Talley that he left the car, a Plymouth coupe with a Cabot company emblem on each door, in front of the courthouse. When he returned, less than 30 minutes later, the car had been taken.

It was found in front of the city hall. Mr. Stinson said it had been driven 14 miles and it must have been a wild ride over rough roads. When found, the seat was out of position, tools were scattered about the floor, a blanket over the seat was on the floor and the fire extinguisher was torn from its rack.

The motor was still hot when the car was located.

Bruce L. Parker Is in Race for County Attorney

Mr. B. L. Parker today authorized the NEWS to announce his candidacy for the office of County Attorney of Gray county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, July 25th.

Mr. Parker has been in the practice of law in Pampa for the past six years. He is well known in this section, and is asking for a public office for his first time.

SONG BATTLE BRINGS PLEA FROM AUSTIN

Students And Officials Ask Fox To Drop Plans To Sell 'Sacred Tradition.'

AUSTIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—The University of Texas fight for free use of its school song, "The Eyes of Texas," today reached the negotiation stage.

Officials of the university, its students and exes, and the state appealed to Oscar J. Fox of San Antonio, who obtained a copyright on his version of the song and assign it to the university.

The appeal was predicated on a desire "to avoid necessity of a lawsuit, which certainly would be expensive and possibly might be unpleasant."

Seven signatures were attached to the letter to Fox. First signer was Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the university.

Others were T. U. Taylor, dean of engineering; John A. McCurdy secretary of the ex-students' association; Ed Nunnally, chairman of the students' copyright committee; Jenkins Garrett, president of the students' association; Attorney General William McCraw and assistant, Merton L. Harris.

Five other holders of asserted copyright on the song written 33 years ago by John Lang Sinclair, joined with the university in its campaign to keep the song public property.

Indignation arose among students and exes when it was discovered Fox had copyrighted a version. At-

EDITORS DINE ON CROWS

Or so Says Shamrock Publisher—Some Doubt Raised at Luncheon Saturday.

By OLIN E. HINKLE, Managing Editor, THE NEWS, SHAMROCK, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday is not a proper date on which to tell a fib.

I've attended a "crow luncheon" given by Albert Cooper, publisher of the Shamrock News, and I would like to be able to say that I have eaten crow. Confidentially, I think it was as good a guinea as I have ever tasted, but my host offers to wager that it was black crow and the local Methodist minister and my friend, the Rev. C. E. Jameson assures me that he never tasted better chicken.

Tasted All Right
J. K. Meekey of the G-Ill cafe, who has a tolerably honest look on his face, repeatedly avowed (allowed to us Missourians) that it was crow, and he brought in a crow's wing to prove it, then the crow of an alleged crow, which looked too large for its name. The meat was dark, all right, and some of it was very dark, and the taste was such as to commend the food to one's best friends.

"The editors assembled were kept waiting until 1:30 p. m. to develop appetites which would not rebel at crow. With customary caution, I was prepared for the worst; i. e. real crow. I bought a sandwich at 11:45 a. m. and kept it at hand for emergencies and in case anybody mentioned the feeding habits of crows I was nonplussed, or something, when Publisher Cooper took the newspaper men for the crow lunch to the same cafe that my sandwich came from. I was so suspicious of the sandwich that I donated it to the relief office.

Not "Old Crow"
As a former Missourian, I am not uninformed about crows and ravens. I doubt if Edgar Allen Poe knew more. I like to write the Latin name of the things: "Corvus Brachyrhynchos," but when talking I use the simpler form, corvus Americanus. I am not ignorant like T. E. Landers, the militant dry editor down at McLean, who was almost afraid to attend because he thought the invitation referred to a brand of corn known as "Old Crow."

All of us were required to sign this statement under oath: "I, the undersigned, in full possession of my faculties and in good health, do hereby agree that I have all claim for damages to me, arising from or growing out of my participation in this crow dinner in Shamrock, February 22, 1936."

Those who signed included T. A. Landers, McLean; J. M. Noble, Canadian Record; Aubrey Dobbs, Texas is mistaken in celebrating

TESTIMONY OF 2 WITNESSES IS QUESTIONED

HOFFMAN DOUBTS THAT WHITED, HOCKMUTH TOLD TRUTH

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 22. (AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman, who temporarily saved Bruno Richard Hauptmann from the electric chair a month ago, cast doubt today on the testimony that placed Hauptmann near Hopewell about the time of the Lindbergh kidnaping, March 1, 1932.

At the conclusion of two hours of questioning Millard Whited, Sourland's lumberjack, the governor said it was "highly significant" that Whited once told police he had seen no one near the Lindbergh home, and then apparently reversed himself when Hauptmann was arrested two and a half years later and identified him.

The governor said Whited told him he had been promised a part of the $25,000 reward, offered by the state for the arrest and conviction of the kidnaper, had received about $160 for appearing as a witness and thought more was due him.

"It would be very interesting," the governor said, "to know whether the promise of the reward played some part in his identification of Hauptmann in the Bronx."

C. Lloyd Fisher, chief defense attorney, said Whited's testimony was "highly significant" and that Whited once told police he had seen no one near the Lindbergh home, and then apparently reversed himself when Hauptmann was arrested two and a half years later and identified him.

GREAT BRITAIN IS ACCUSED BY SENATOR BORAH

Propaganda Agent Neutrality Sent Out, Claim

By PRESTON L. GROVER, WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Directly intimating Great Britain was involved, Senator Borah of Idaho tonight charged that a campaign of "insidious propaganda" had been conducted from abroad against America's neutrality policy in the Italo-Ethiopian war.

In his first formal speech since openly avowing himself a republican presidential candidate, Borah confined himself almost entirely to international issues. His Washington, D. C., address, urging a tenacious "alofness from the political affairs and controversies of the old world" as advised by the first president, was made the basis for meeting of "Borah for President" clubs in various parts of the country.

The Idahoan did not name Great Britain directly in his propaganda charge. Nevertheless, after launching his accusation that foreign influence had been directed against

Pampan Declares In Dallas Trial She Was Fleeced

DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Testimony that a Tucson, Ariz., woman invested $45,000 in the Securities Service Investment Corporation without receiving a share of stock was heard today at the trial of seven officials of the defunct company.

Defendants to charges of mail fraud and violation of the federal securities act are James A. Dorsey, of Dallas, president; E. C. McConnell, Victor Pick, H. G. Robinson and Harry Wiberg of Dallas, and Zell G. Roe of Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Edna Duncan, Pampa, Texas, widow, testified she used insurance money after the death of her husband to invest with the corporation. She said she invested $6,387 and didn't receive a share. On cross-examination she admitted her stock had been put up for collateral on other stock.

Mrs. Nell Etheridge of Tucson, testified her investments with the concern resulted in a $45,000 loss plus a $65,000 piece of property she said she mortgaged to raise money for her stock market venture.

ROY MILLER'S APPOINTMENT IS DENOUNCED

LOONEY AND YOUNGER GROUP 'STUNNED' BY ACTION

AUSTIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—Unmistakable evidence of discord over direction of the national democratic campaign in Texas appeared today as party leaders moved to perfect organization for the renomination of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner.

Former Assistant Attorney General Everett Looney of Austin, member of the state executive committee, denounced appointment of Roy Miller of Corpus Christi as campaign director, terming him "Andy Mellon's sulphur public relations man."

Previously two branches of the younger element of the party, progressive democrats and Roosevelt democrats of Texas, criticized the appointment as "a stunning blow to idealism."

Miller was named at conferences in Washington between Myron Blacklock of Marshall, chairman of the state executive committee, and Vice-President Garner and other national party chiefs. He planned to open headquarters in Austin next week.

While neither dissented from the general note of harmony insofar as President Roosevelt and Mr. Garner were concerned, both groups of young democrats and progressive democrats made blistering attacks on Miller.

"That great body of democrats in Texas, who are wholeheartedly for Roosevelt, are deserving of representative leadership," Looney, a close friend of Gov. James V. Allred, declared.

He declared he was unalterably opposed to Miller's holding any high position in the party and would fight in precinct and county conventions, if necessary, to obtain delegations to the state convention May 26 who would oppose Miller's succeeding Garner as national committeeman. He said he had heard reports such succession had been considered.

"I intend to make a statewide issue of it," he said, "and I expect to find plenty of support. That any democrat should regret over the success of Garner is unthinkable."

On the other hand, Rep. Doyle Settle of Abertown, president of the young democrats association of Texas, pleaded for harmony and expressed regret over "this disturbance in selection of leaders for the national campaign in Texas." He said the groups that criticized Miller represented a very small per cent of the young democrats.

"We should all go forward for Roosevelt and Garner and forget about any 'crats' except democratic," he said, adding that Miller had the endorsement of the president and vice-president.

Famed Pitcher Flings Coin Just as George Did

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Feb. 22. (AP)—Regardless of what George Washington may have done, Walter Johnson converted legend into actuality today and threw a dollar across the Rappahannock.

With a motion easier than that with which he used to send his old speed ball steaming down the groove to batters, the former strike-out champion sailed two coins across the river.

"Gosh," exclaimed Johnson, "I didn't think I'd do it."

The official toss cleared the inch-wide river by 30 feet. Chief Judge Dr. H. J. Eckenrode, a Virginia historian, estimated the distance of the throw at 317 feet.

Although he cleared the Rappahannock, Johnson's pitch was 1,100 feet short of what Representative Bloom of New York said the Washington toss would have been if he ever did it.

Bloom congratulated Johnson after the throw, however, and invited him to spend the evening in Washington to celebrate the throw.

The New York representative claimed the river was 1,420 feet wide at Perry Farm when Washington lived here. City surveyors measured the present stream at 272 feet, and added 45 feet from the exact spot where the coin left Johnson's hand to where it landed.

Unable to reconcile their calculations, the representative and the chamber of commerce called off a bet, by which Bloom would have lost $100,000, with his 20 to 1 odds.

WAGES BATTLE IN FRONT YARD OF GOVERNOR

ROOSEVELT PRAISED AS 'THE SAVIOR OF AMERICA'

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 22. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley, sounding the democratic campaign battle cry in the farm belt, hailed President Roosevelt tonight as the savior of America and challenged "any political party to meet us on that record."

Speaking over a national radio network on the same platform from which Gov. Alf M. Landon, mentioned as a possible republican presidential nominee, criticized Roosevelt policies January 29, Farley made no specific mention in his prepared address of the Kansas executive.

He centered fire against new deal critics, particularly upon former President Herbert Hoover and upon the American Liberty League.

However, referring apparently to Kansas republican statements regarding state governmental economies—a point emphasized by Landon boosters—Farley said: "I was sorry to learn that it was necessary here in Kansas to cut the salaries of school teachers and of professors in the colleges and universities. Perhaps it was necessary, but the policy of the Roosevelt administration has been to serve 'the masses' of the nation wherever possible."

Reviewing three years of the new deal, Farley, chairman of the democratic national committee, asserted at the Washington Day banquet of the Kansas democratic club: "Franklin D. Roosevelt did more than save America. He vindicated democracy at a time when all over the world its enemies were ready to declare the death of the finest system of government ever devised."

Kansas Got Share
Saying "the Hoover panic was defeated because a courageous congress used the national credit to rescue the American people from starvation and want," Farley commented: "Kansas got its fair share."

Panhandle Men Steal Oil Meet

Max Mahaffey Gets New Honor at Session

The Panhandle's 27-man delegation to the annual session of the mid-continent division of the American Petroleum Institute in Wichita, Kan., Thursday and Friday, returned yesterday afternoon after taking the convention city by storm with big hats, cowboy boots, and hatsband advertising the Centennial and Oil Show to be staged in Pampa in June.

Max Mahaffey of the Empire Gas Fuel company and president of the Panhandle chapter of the A. P. I., was elected a vice general chairman of the midcontinent group at its closing session. Oklahoma City was named the next convention city.

More than 400 oil men from the mid-continent area attended the convention. Charles Daniels, former Panaman, and Max Mahaffey presided over important sessions during the meeting. The Pampans were conspicuous in the regalia and many were the questions asked about Pampa and its coming celebration.

The trippers were not safe from inquiry in their hotel rooms. Many received telephone calls and visits from citizens of Wichita and delegates to the convention asking for particulars about the Pampa celebration and oil show. Several expressed a desire to attend the event and asked that they be notified of the definite date so that they could make arrangements to visit the Centennial and oil center of the Panhandle.

The "cowhands" were photographed, interviewed, and given front page publicity in all the Wichita papers. They played host to visiting delegations and were on hand for all the meetings and festivities.

The Pampans "hitched" a pullman car to the rear of a Santa Fe passenger train for the round trip.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 22 (AP)—H. L. McQuiston, Oklahoma City, was elected general chairman of the Midcontinent section of the American Petroleum Institute, division of production, at the organization's annual convention here.

M. Ray Shaeffer, Bartlesville, was elected chairman of the advisory committee, and Van D. Bennett, Wichita, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Vice general chairmen elected for the Midcontinent area are: For Kansas, G. A. Holloway, Wichita; Oklahoma, Oscar Hatcher, Ada; Texas, Max Mahaffey, Pampa.

Oklahoma City was chosen for the 1937 convention.

The institute closed its two-day meeting with a general session.

Gray Farmers to Receive Delayed Benefit Payments

With the passing of a recent appropriation bill signed by the president, Gray county farmers are to receive payments to fulfill all old government obligations, according to Ralph Thomas, county agent.

"Some payments should begin to arrive within the next 30 days," Mr. Thomas announced.

"Obligation of the U. S. government to farmers consist of second payments on the corn-hog contracts, the completion of rental and parity checks of cotton and the cotton adjustment payments," he said.

He added that nearly all counties in the state have some second cotton rental and parity payments due and also that all counties have some cotton adjustment payments coming.

With the opening of action again and an appropriation of $26,185,000, skeleton forces were put to work February 13 and 14 in College Station to push with all speed the paying up of government obligations to the farmers.

Information rushed to the field and county agents by E. N. Holmgren consisted of the statements: "All contracts and obligations made and complied with prior to January 6 will be paid."

"We are to proceed in liquidating all 1934 and 1935 cotton, corn-hog, and other contracts which were suspended or returned for correction."

Chester C. Davis, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act in Washington, D. C., recently released this statement, "We will try to prevent delay in fulfilling obligations and in reimbursing these producers who carried out their agreements with the AAA in good faith."

THIRTEEN NEW LOCATIONS ARE MADE IN AREA

GRAY AND MOORE AT TOP IN DRILLING ACTIVITY

Thirteen first announcements were made in the Panhandle oil field in the last week, forging well ahead of completions.

There were 5 locations in Gray county, 4 in Moore, three in Hutchinson, and one in Wheeler.

Intentions to drill were filed here as follows:

Hagy, Harrington & Marsh, J. W. Fields No. 1, 1,320 feet from the north and east lines of the NE quarter of section 155, block 3, I&GN survey, Gray county.

Hagy, Harrington & Marsh, W. H. Taylor, No. 1, 1,320 feet from the north and west lines of the NW quarter of section 20, block M-21, Moore county.

Magnolia Petroleum company, C. A. Herndon No. 1, 2,640 feet from the north, south, east and west lines of section 222, block 3-T, T&NO survey, Moore county.

660 feet south of Daw Dill company's No. 1.

Magnolia Petroleum company, E. Haggard No. 3, 330 feet from the west line and 990 feet from the south line of the SW quarter of section 113, block 3, I&GN Gray county.

Gulf Oil corporation of Pa., H. C. Pitcher, No. 1, No. 5, 330 feet from the south line and 990 feet from the west line of section 1, block M-21, TC&RR survey, Hutchinson county.

Phillips Petroleum company, H. M. Kelly No. 1, 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of the SW 1-4 of section 158, block 3-T, T&NO survey, Moore county.

Claude Drilling company, O. Huff No. 1, 1,320 feet from the south and west lines of the SW quarter of section 159, block 3, I&GN survey, Gray county.

Kewanee Natural Gas company, J. T. Sneed No. 8-Sn, 2,641 feet from the west line and 1,333 feet from the south line of section 11, block M-1, L. Morrison survey, Moore county.

Texas Plains Oil company, E. E. Watkins No. 4, 330 feet from the north and west lines of section 72, block M-21, HE&WT survey, Hutchinson county (SW 1-4).

The Kewanee Oil & Gas company, J. S. Morse (Morse "D") No. 5, 330 feet from the south and east line of the S 1-4 of section 18, block A-9, H&GN survey, Gray county.

FOUR TESTS ARE ADDED IN PLAINS FIELD

Temporary Potentials Granted Larger Number—Taylor Well Does 170 Barrels

Panhandle oil field activities last week included only four completions, but 13 new locations were made.

Of the four Railroad commission tests, 2 were in Gray county and 2 in Hutchinson, which added 1,765 barrels to the daily potential of the field.

Completions of the week, as shown by Railroad commission tests, were as follows:

Hutchinson county: Texas company's No. 8 Lewis, section 18, block 1, EL&R survey, tested 224 barrels daily. Pay was shot from 2,887-2,977 feet, the total depth, with 490 quarts.

Holmes et al No. 4 Moore, section 125, block 4, I&GN survey, tested 651 barrels daily. Pay was at 3,018-45 and a shot of 400 quarts was placed from 2,992-3,045. Total depth: 3,052 feet.

Gray county: Wilcox Oil & Gas company No. 38 Combs, section 59, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 720 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,059 feet in the lime.

W. H. Taylor Oil company No. 4 Taylor, section 79, block B-2, H&GN survey, tested 170 barrels daily. Hard granite was shot with 200 quarts at 2,921-65 feet, and there was pay in soft granite formation.

Temporary potentials were granted last week as follows:

Hutchinson county: Paloma Oil company No. 2 Lewis, 800 barrels; Harry Stekol No. 4-H Canadian, 400 barrels; Stanolind No. 1 Hale, 300 barrels; Gulf Oil corporation of Pennsylvania No. 4 Pitcher, 300 barrels.

Carson county: Magnolia No. 16 Fee 244, 500 barrels.

Gray county: Magnolia No. 11 Harrah, 500 barrels; Claude Drilling company No. 1 Gorenflo, 330 barrels; Empire No. 5 Cunningham, 500 barrels; Empire No. 4 Cunningham, 600 barrels.

TAKEN TO HUGO: Charlie Clark Sr., burned two weeks ago when gasoline exploded near where he was working, was taken to his home in Hugo, Okla., in a Pampa Mortuary ambulance yesterday.

Miss Grace Hilliard, Pampa nurse, accompanied Mr. Clark on the 440-mile trip. Mr. Clark was burned about the arm, body and leg. He has been in Worley hospital since the accident.

Panhandle Oil Men Photographed at Show

Pampa, Texas, oil men stole the show at the American Petroleum Institute in session Thursday and Friday in Wichita, Kan., according to the Wichita Eagle, which carried the above picture of a few of the Panhandle chapter's delegates on the front page of one of its editions. Other members of the party of 27 were photographed but they were not present when the above photo was taken. Every paper in the city and several out-of-city papers carried pictures of the Pampa men who advertised the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce Panhandle-wide Centennial and Oil Show with big hats, hat bands and cowboy boots. Corralled for the above picture were, left to right, Frank Harris, Geo. Turner, Harold Turnage, Verna L. Hobbs, Charles E. Anderson, L. F. Ward, R. F. Hodge and Max Mahaffey, president of the Panhandle chapter.

Oil Boom Prices In Ranger Soared

BY BOYCE HOUSE, Author of "Were You In Ranger?"

Although the prices of commodities in Ranger during the great boom never soared to the heights reached in the Klondike and in California in the days of '49, the cost of living was high in the oil field city, particularly during 1920, the second big year of the rush.

Strawberries were $1.10 a quart. However this quotation was on March 20 and perhaps it was a little early for strawberries.

Gasoline was 32 cents a gallon—and that was before the time when the government began charging five cents per gallon in taxes.

An advertisement in the Ranger Times read: "For sale, one team of mules, wagon and harness cheap—$800."

At one time, every grocery store in town was out of sugar.

A franchise was let for a street railway in Ranger and there was much talk of interurban lines to Eastland, to Mineral Wells, and to Fort Worth. (None of these projects ever materialized.)

A construction company capitalized at $4,000 borrowed $35,000 from a bank.

Incidentally, Eastland had probably the youngest bank president in the state—he was 25.

One of the weirdest dreams of the weird period was that of a promoter who planned a skyscraper in Ranger. The building was to have an observation tower and he expected to charge passengers 25 cents to ride to the top. (None of these projects ever materialized.)

No less than 22 passenger trains a day arrived in Ranger. Ten were operated by the railroad, and brought in a total of 1,000 passengers, on an average. Eight trains pulled over the Hamon-Kell between Breckenridge and Ranger, and four ran south over that line from Ranger to Dublin.

Danger of disease constituted one of the chief problems at Ranger. An influenza epidemic swept thru the city and 2,500 cases were reported.

The Times recorded that there were 2,000 inoculations against typhoid and 10,000 vaccinations against smallpox.

A campaign was conducted among the schools to rid the city of rats and mice. The second grade of Cooper school killed more than 2,000 rodents in two weeks and won first prize.

Ranger merchants lost three-quarters of a million dollars a year on bad checks.

Where the Western Union had received less than $200 in business a month, the boom raised the payroll alone to $4,000 each month.

The chamber of commerce, in an advertisement in October, 1919, claimed a population of 35,000 for Ranger (the town had 800 inhabitants or so prior to the discovery of oil); and stated that Ranger had eight refineries, 10 trunk pipelines, six casinghead plants, and 100 companies operating in the field.

Building permits for the preceding July had been $477,750.

In 1920, the chamber of commerce had a membership of 2,000 and had pledges of $60,000 annually for the next three years.

Former County Judge Ed. S. Pritchard illustrates, with the following incident, the calm and unruffled fashion in which the opportunity to make sums that would be considered fortunes was viewed during the boom.

Pritchard then was county treasurer and had not been admitted to the practice of law. A farmer, with a claim against an oil company, called on his friend Pritchard at the courthouse for advice. The official told him that a certain lawyer was very capable and the farmer remarked he would like to have the attorney's services. Pritchard called the barrister over the telephone and explained that a large amount was involved. Although it was only a block's walk, the lawyer was so long in arriving that the farmer actually had started out of Pritchard's office. The attorney decided to take the case on a contingent fee basis but not wishing to be bothered with the matter himself, he formed a partnership just to have someone to turn the case over to; and his associate fought it through to a successful finish. The two lawyers divided a fee of $40,000.

A "hunch" that could have been worth millions of dollars was described recently by former Governor O. B. Colquitt of Texas.

It is a chapter, never before written, dealing with events leading up to the discovery of the great Ranger oil field.

In company with J. N. Graves of Oklahoma City, the former governor went to Mineral Wells nearly 20 years ago, rented an old car from a preacher and spent a week in obtaining oil and gas leases in the South Bend area of Young and Stephens counties.

"While we were in Breckenridge, citizens offered to lease me any amount of land almost that I wanted around that town if I would agree to put down a well or offered me a lease on a cash basis of 25 cents an acre without a promise to drill," Colquitt said.

Graves, son-in-law of C. U. Connelley (wealthy rancher and founder of the town of Eastland) suggested that they go to Eastland and spend the night with Connelley, then proceed to Mineral Wells the next day.

The following morning, they were driving along the dirt road that then joined Eastland and Ranger when, just after crossing Colony creek, Colquitt remarked:

"As a gamble, I'd just as soon put down a well here as any place I've seen, judging from the surface indications."

They drove into Ranger "on the rim" and while Graves was having the tire repaired, Colquitt walked around shaking hands with friends who had supported him in his campaigns for office.

The young secretary of the Ranger commercial club invited him to a conference with the directors. They spoke of having read in the papers that he had filed for a lease on the Brazos river bed and asked him how they might get someone interested in the Ranger section.

Colquitt suggested that they get up a book of acreage and offer it to the Texas & Pacific Coal company and, if that company was not interested, to try the Magnolia in Dallas, and then oil companies in Houston.

"They asked how big a block I would suggest and I mentioned 10,000 or 12,000 acres. They then offered, if I would agree to drill a test, to get up $15,000 or even 20,000 acres."

"I told them of our break-down on Colony creek and of what I had said to Mr. Graves, and I expressed my belief in their faith that they had oil!"

Colquitt stated to the directors that he had just completed an expensive campaign for the United States senate and was without sufficient resources to guarantee the drilling of a well. However, he said that he had collateral which he considered worth more than half of a guarantee of $25,000 and he would try to get a dozen friends to take a $1,000 interest each.

At the Bryant hotel in Ranger, where Graves and Colquitt had dinner, they saw W. E. Gordon, superintendent of the Texas Pacific Coal company, whom Colquitt, while governor, had appointed chairman of the board of mines and mineral development.

"I talked to him about the offer of the commercial club and stated to him that if I succeeded in financing the undertaking, I was coming to see him to make a trade for the sinking of the test well," Colquitt said.

But friends in Dallas told him that their investments in oil had

TEXAS U. LABORATORIES TO BE USED IN SURVEY PROJECT

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—Laboratories of the bureau of industrial chemistry at the University of Texas will be used as testing laboratories for a cooperative project between the Works Progress administration and the State Board of Water Engineers, according to Dr. E. P. Schoch, director of the university bureau. This project is the making of a survey of the quantity and quality of subsurface waters available in some 70 counties of Texas, including the irrigation systems of the upper and lower Rio Grande valley. The project is assigned to the United States Geological Survey and the State Board of Water Engineers, and all testing will be performed in the laboratory at the university. An average of 50 samples of water will be tested daily to determine the main items of their constituency, namely hardness, chlorides, alkalinity, and sulphates. Three men have been appointed to carry out the tests, one member of the university bureau's staff is expected to devote part or all of his time to making the more detailed and complete water analyses. The project is to be completed in about seven months. Persons on relief rolls will be employed for the field work, the purpose of which is to map spots where the tests are taken.

"This project should confer lasting benefits, not only because of its aid to the unemployed, but also because of its service in affording information as to the kinds and quantities of water to be found in certain portions of the state," Dr. Schoch explained.

'Keep Thursday Night Open,' Is White House Word

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP) - Word from the white house to "keep Thursday night open" quickened expectation of congressional leaders today that President Roosevelt will soon make known his tax recommendations.

The executive, it was learned, has asked his legislative chiefs to be ready for a meeting with him fixed tentatively for February 27, following his return from Hyde Park, N. Y.

Mr. Roosevelt told newsmen yesterday that he expected to study the tax situation during his absence from the capital. He was in Cambridge, Mass. tonight, and will go from there to his Hyde Park home.

News of the conference was accompanied by an intimation that the executive's proposals would be submitted to congress either next Friday or early in the following week and brought to the floor of the house after a fortnight's hearings by the ways and means committee.

At the same time, it was learned that the present delay in the formulation of the administration program has been occasioned largely by careful examination and re-examination to fortify it against constitutional objections based upon the Supreme Court's AAA decision.

Mrs. J. C. Prejean, teacher in the Shamrock schools, is spending the week-end with Mr. Prejean who is ill with influenza.

tions were mixed by the two boys who, as their choice of a vacation, said respectively Christmas and Summer.

Several girls frankly chose home-making as a vacation while one mentioned "internal designing."

Starting misinformation was advanced in some cases. The widest list of men for an office were those named as secretary of state.

Local officials fare no better. As city manager were named C. Miller, John Hessey, Bill Frazer, Bennett, Dr. World, the police, Quinn, Briggs, Todd, "Sting or Stine," Stum, Styne, and Steines.

Named as congressman from this district were Jean Worley, Connally, Sherman, White, Small, Sheppard, Marvin Owens, Sherman, Wood, and John Marshall.

For the capital of Ohio students chose Ontario, Cincinnati, Illinois, Annapolis, Bois City, Denton, and Michigan.

The last question asked not only the general knowledge of the students, but also their spelling. It was "Name some great composer of music." In addition to Billy Hill, Bing Crosby, W. Lee O'Daniel, and other popular radio figures, the answers credited Burns, Gullar, Rafal, Elstark, Hugo, Thomas A. Edison, Van Beuren, and William Tell with noted compositions.

Some of the more involved spelling of musicians' name included Chocsky, Rubenolph, Patrooskie, Mostarc, Rubenoff, Pata, Rusky, Boovoven, Bozart, Vatoven, and Susie. Mozart was the composer mentioned oftenest, but 21 times his name was spelled Mozart.

The second book in the Bible, in the belief of a large number, is the New Testament. Practically all the books of the New Testament were named, as were Genesis and "Dudrometry" in the Old Testament.

PAMPA, FRIONA, ABERNATHY AND CAREY TO COMPETE IN REGIONAL MEET

LAMESA UPSET BY HUGE HALE COUNT QUINT

HARVESTERS TO FACE STRONG TEAMS AT CANYON

Nothing but deep trouble and certain misery loomed ahead for the Pampa Harvesters last night when they learned that tall, beefy, burly basketball players from Abernathy, Friona and Carey had won the championships of districts three, one and four. The Pampans are champions of district two.

Press dispatches emphasized that each quintet was "college-sized," tall and brawny, "tank-sized." Only Friona had been the district favorite to win. It had been freely predicted for months that the tall Chiefs would beat out all the teams in the Amarillo district. Last night they led the Sandies throughout to swamp the Amarilloans 29 to 21 in the final game.

Perhaps the only upset occurred at Lubbock where the Abernathy giants nose out Lamesa 21 to 19 in a hectic battle. There was never more than three points difference in the scores. Lamesa was finalist in the state tournament last year after crushing the Harvesters in the regional. In semi-final games, Lamesa whipped Friona 45 to 25 and Abernathy nosed in ahead of Shallowater 42 to 40. There are those who have thought all the time that Abernathy would put Lamesa on the rack. Abernathy has not been defeated this season. The quintet is reported to consist of passing marvels who are tall and huge. A filling station operator at Amarillo told Harvesters and fans six weeks ago that Abernathy would strangle the Golden Tornado which has been the jinx of Pampa teams for the last three years.

Carey's Cardinals which have been beaten by Turkey this season traveled a come-back trail to beat out Quanah's Indians 21 to 24 in the final game. It was not surprising that Carey won. The Cardinals walloped Lakeview, Hall county champions twice, and it was conceded that Turkey and Estelina were superior to Crowell.

The three district winners yesterday were from small towns—Carey, Friona and Abernathy being "wide places in the road." Abernathy beat out Plainview's Bulldog who had previously beaten Lubbock by one point. Lamesa showed unexpected weakness, chalking up a four-point victory over Levelland Forsan which won the district title of the Abilene district, beat Abilene 16 to 18 in the final game. Lamesa whipped Forsan two game about a month ago.

DENTON WINS AGAIN
DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—The cream of Texas' 1,500 high school basketball teams fought through district tournaments tonight leaving 32 of the strongest to compete for regional and state honors.

Denton, 1935 state champion, put on the power at Fort Worth to trounce Springtown, 17 to 9. Denton is regarded as a strong contender for this year's state title.

Regional play-offs will be held next week at Canyon, Abilene, Denton, Longview, Huntsville, Sa Marcos, Kingsville and Alpine. The eight surviving teams will go into the state championship tournament at Austin, March 6 and 7.

Texas Contracts Game With Tech

LUBBOCK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Coach Pete Cawthon of the Texas Technological college today displayed a letter from Ed Olie, business manager of the University of Texas athletic council, acknowledging a contract for a Tech-Texas football game at Austin in 1937, and confirming September 25 as the date.

Cawthon said that all dates on the 1936 card had been definitely matched with the exception of October 31.

PAMPA CAGERS BEAT RANGERS IN TWO GAMES

AYER HITS HOOP FROM CENTER FOR 10 POINTS

The Harvesters made a good-will and social trip to Perryton Friday night and won two basketball games from the Perryton Rangers. The first string leisurely beat the Rangers 28 to 20, after the reserves nosed out the Ranger second string 22 to 20.

The Harvesters regulars did not take the game seriously. They piled up a 19 to 7 lead at the half, and wasted the rest of the game. One aimed an idea of the kind of a game it was when Moose Hartman, Pampa forward, reported that he was nudged right in the fourth period right in the middle of a joke which was being told by Morris, all Perryton center. He said he had to wait until after the game to hear the rest of it. The boys reported it was the most pleasant social hour they have spent this season.

They are not expected to have such an easy time at the regional tournament this week in Canyon. In fact, they will have to play their best to win, and that fact seems certain. Right in the fourth period Coach Ochs Mitchell saw the final of the district tournament at Amarillo.

The points were made as follows Friday night:
First game: Nicolson 11, Kitchens 2, Bailey 4, Baker 2, Strickland 3, Hartman 5, Green 7, Kitchens 1, Noblitt 1. Jones, the other first string starter, did not score. Ayer hit the basket from center and nearby points for his contribution to the victory.

Harris Leaves To Open Sens' Orlando Camp

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Stanley (Bucky) Harris put away his overcoat and galoshes and rushed off tonight for the South where the Senators' training camp in Orlando, Fla., Monday. The Washington baseball manager is not notoriously superstitious but, as he corralled a half dozen rookies from the station platform and showed them around the grounds, he cuttishly reminded fans this was his 13th season as a big league pilot.

"Who knows, though," he smiled. "It may bring us luck." Reminded that Owner Clark Griffith had notched the Senators for fourth place in the American league race, Harris said "I'd like to be better than fourth, but it's too early to make any predictions."

With an uncertain infield and tending corps, Harris has been usually chary of pre-season promises in recent months. "I will say 'I'm more optimistic than I was at this time last year,'" he ventured. "I think we're stronger, we have youth on our side and we may surprise everyone if a couple of these young pitchers come through."

VENIZKE WINS AGAIN
NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Gene Venizke, brilliant University of Pennsylvania runner, continued his spectacular winning streak tonight by coming from behind in the stretch to whip Glenn Cunningham by two yards in the 1,500-meter race, featuring the National A. A. U. indoor track and field championship. Venizke not only took away Cunningham's title but wiped out his world indoor record by breaking the tape in 8 minutes, 46.9 seconds.

Freddie Haas Eliminated in Close Match

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
HOUSTON, Feb. 22.—Youthful Ed White, the national intercollegiate champion, and Lieut. Ken Rogers, handsome young army aviator who took up golf five years ago, shot their way into the finals of the Houston "White" star invitation golf tournament today.

It took every shot White could muster to eliminate Freddie Haas of New Orleans, La., state champion and former southern title-holder, one up in 20 holes.

Rogers, of San Antonio, one of the dearest putters in southwest golf, relied on that department of his sound game to brush Jack Munger, of Dallas from the tourney, 2 and 1.

White and Rogers meet tomorrow in a 36-hole final battle for the championship of the twenty-intercollegiate tournament, now established as one of the southland's link classics.

Both semi-final matches were thrillers for the galleries of close to 1,500 spectators. The Houston regular student at the University of Texas, won the first hole from Haas but saw his lead vanish when the lanky Louisianian copped the third and fourth holes with birdie three and the seventeenth however, grabbing the fifth, sixth and seventh holes in succession to go two up. A missed three foot putt on the ninth green cut his lead to one hole.

White increased his lead to two up again with a brilliant birdie on the twelfth hole but Haas doggedly fought back to square the match by winning the fifteenth hole with birdie three and the seventeenth with a birdie four. Haas missed a two-foot putt on the home green for victory and shot himself out of the tournament on the second extra hole by missing his tee shot in a trap. He recovered beautifully but failed to hole a six-footer.

White had entered the semi-finals by beating Reuben Albaugh of Dallas, conqueror of Johnny Dawson, 6 and 5, while Haas beat out Harry Lattiefid in the eighth hole, one up. He pitched dead to the pin on that green while Todd, ahead all the way until the last hole, overshot the green and landed in a trap.

Lieut. Rogers continued to play the most consistent golf of the tournament in his dazzling triumph over Munger, former national intercollegiate champion. After the first five holes, where he was two down, Rogers banked in nine pars and three birdies. He started on the sixth with a fine birdie, squared his hole by missing his tee shot in a trap. He pitched dead to the pin on that green while Todd, ahead all the way until the last hole, overshot the green and landed in a trap.

Munger made a great bid on the fifteenth hole. Rogers missed his tee shot badly but slammed a great brassie shot within 20 feet of the hole. Munger, after a good drive, pushed his second par to the right of the green but holed his next shot for a birdie three with a 30-yard nibble shot.

Rogers refused to crack, however, and missed his tee shot in the next two holes to close out his opponent.

The dashing young flier, who took time out a couple of times this week to fly to his San Antonio home, is two under par for the tournament. He qualified with a par 71, slipped two under par in his first match and equalled par in the next three.

PRISONERS RELEASED
MADRID, Feb. 22. (AP)—The common people, who overthrew a conservative government with ballots, prepared tonight to welcome home from jails the thousands who failed to shake the government with bullets in October, 1934. They planned parades and fiestas of honor—but these plans were not everywhere. Lattiefid is looking to Rice, Infante and the Texas Aggies to furnish the heaviest competition in the conference schedule.

TEXAS RELIES ON WALLENDER TO COP TITLE

'CHUCK' BELIEVED TO BE FASTEST IN SOUTH

AUSTIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—University of Texas hopes to retain the Southwest conference track title and maintain its position in national cipher path circles are pinned to the flying feet of Harvey "Chink" Wallender, the "Texas Typhoon," and his colleague, "Tiny" Grunelsen.

Coach Clyde Littlefield believes Wallender is the fastest runner the South has produced in years while Grunelsen is only a few steps behind.

In the 1935 Texas relays Wallender unofficially equalled the world record of 94 seconds in the 100-yard dash. He is the co-holder of the Southwest conference record at 9.6 and of the 220-yard dash record of 20.5 seconds.

Grunelsen also broke the 100-yard conference record in the 1935 meet but was a few feet behind the flying Wallender.

The co-stars were members of the Texas team that established the conference record in the 440-yard relay at 41.8 seconds and set new records at the Kansas relays in the 440 and 440-yard relays and a new Drake relay record in the 880 last year.

The Texas relay team, with Wallender as anchor man, at the Kansas meet negotiated the 440 in 41.5 seconds and the mile relay, with a few feet behind the flying anchor position, in 3:16.1. The Texas record in the 800 at the Drake relays was 1:26.3.

Wallender and Grunelsen also run on the half mile relay team. The Longhorn mainstay is compactly built and of medium height, has a pleasant bearing and is a favorite with the track fans. His one weakness is that he gets excited when the competition grows tough. He is unusually fast getting away with the gun.

Littiefid is looking to Rice, Infante and the Texas Aggies to furnish the heaviest competition in the conference schedule.

NUNN CHOSEN A MEMBER OF RACING BODY

PAMPA TRACK TO BE MEMBER OF EIGHT OVER STATE

Gilmore N. Nunn, general manager of the Pampa Daily News, has been named a member of the executive committee of the Texas racing association, organized with a membership of eight small tracks in the state. Pampa, with a modern plant under way, is one of the eight charter members of the organization.

Tom Nance of Midland was elected president of the association. Other officers are Mason King of Amarillo, first vice-president; Bob J. Kieberg, Jr., of Kingsville, second vice-president; D. E. Hill of San Antonio, secretary-treasurer.

Member tracks include Kingsville, Seguin, Rusk, Midland, Amarillo, Panhandle, Pampa and Graham. Pampa and Kingsville will not have spring meets but are expected to have plants ready for fall dates.

Many goals have been set by the new organization, including bettering conditions of the horsemen, the public, the operators and the sport in general.

Special attention will be given to promote interest in breeding fine horses in the state and to better conditions for the horsemen by endeavoring to raise the standard of purses. Many Texas ranches and farms already have found out that breeding fine horses is a very profitable business.

A big war is to be declared on the betterment in general. Doping and stimulating of horses, fixing of races and irregularity of jockeys and associates will not be tolerated.

Bookies, touts and other undesirable at the tracks will find that the association will be a powerful force. Under the rule, and person removed from one of these tracks automatically will be barred at all others in the circuit.

The association plans to cooperate to the fullest extent at all times with the Texas Racing commission and with all state representatives in all matters pertaining to racing.

It has been established by the officials that track will save from $1,000 to $2,000 per year by being in the association besides the other benefits which will be derived.

Headquarters of the association will be at San Antonio. By-laws and rules will be prepared by a committee.

Top Row Wins Santa Anita Race In Smashing Victory

Time Supply Is 2nd And Rosemont Third

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
SANTA ANITA PARK, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22. (AP)—Top Row ran a smashing victory in the Santa Anita handicap to win $104,000, the richest turf prize of the year.

Cheered on by close to 60,000 wild-eyed fans, the "Little Napoleon" of A. A. Baroni's stable sneaked thru to beat out a gallant Time Supply and Rosemont.

Discovery, top heavy favorite to win the classic, was bumped at the start, ran on the outside most of the way and was never a dangerous foe.

A total of $350,000 was bet on the handicap, and more than a million dollars was wagered on the eight-race program. It was the largest crowd and the biggest "handle" in the history of horse-racing in California.

Founding down the stretch, the riders tried to dodge a soggy spot in the track. Fouls were claimed—and disallowed—by Jockey Maurice Peters on Rosemont, and Tommy Luther, on Time Supply.

Peters protested that Wayne Wright moved Top Row on him and Luther claimed Rosemont bumped Time Supply.

The finish of the colorful classic found every man, woman and child in the Palatial Arcadia club yelling like Indians.

Finishing fourth behind Rosemont was Azucar, too far back to repeat his upset victory in the $100,000 inaugural handicap last year.

Others crossed the line in this order: Fifth, Whopper; sixth, Howard; seventh, Discovery; eighth, Pompey's Pillar; ninth, Thursday; tenth, Tick On; eleventh, Ariel Cross; twelfth, Singing Wood; thirteenth, Riskulus; fourteenth, He Did, and fifteenth, Preeminent.

Victory of the Baroni silks of blue and white meant more than $104,000 first prize. Baroni trains Top Row and received $7,500 money awarded the winning handler. The Reno, Nev., sportsman collected more than the $108,400 Fred M. Alger, Jr., made on Azucar, in 1935.

Azucar's fourth place was worth $2,500 today. The treasure chest of Mrs. F. A. Carreau was enriched by $10,000 second money.

William Du Font, eastern capitalist, was here to see his Rosemont hit $5,000. So was Alfred G. Vandebilt present to see his mighty 1935 handicap king, Discovery, a 3 to 2 choice, get bumped at the start and fall to be a contender at any time. Discovery's performance matched the race of the great Equipse in the 1935 inaugural Santa Anita. Equipse, outstanding favorite, finished seventh.

Contrary to young Vanderbilt's pre-race prediction, the race was far from being "the greatest in Discovery's life."

SAFETY WILL BE SHOWN THRU FILM USING MYTHICAL FOLK

Metcalfe Takes Sprint Feature

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette regained the indoor sprint crown tonight when he outfooted a crack field in the 60-meter dash, a feature of the national A. U. indoor track and field championships. Metcalfe flashed a great finish to beat Eddie Siegel, New York's "White Hope," by two feet in 6.7 seconds, one-tenth short of the world record.

Public Welcomed At Skeeet Range

The public will be welcome at the skeet range a quarter mile east of the city on Highway 60 this afternoon. The range will be open at 2 o'clock.

A club is being organized but until its completion, the public will be admitted to shoot at the regular price.

WE DRIVERS A Series of Brief Discussions on Driving, Devoted to the Safety, Comfort and Pleasure of the Motoring Public, Prepared by General Motors

No. 5—DRIVING ON HILLS
In some parts of the country hills are taken for granted... and good steep ones, too. But for some of us who live in flatter country, hill driving is not so familiar.

As a matter of fact, there are several conditions peculiar to driving in very steep hills or mountains, especially if the altitude is high. For instance, a car that develops 100 horsepower at sea-level, has only 82 horsepower at an altitude of 5000 feet, and only 60 horsepower at the top of Pike's Peak.

Another thing is that sometimes grades are deceptive and we don't realize how steep they are, if there is no level ground to judge by.

So if we go on a road trip and happen to get into country where hills are hills, we often have no idea of what is in store for us. Like as not, we will come rolling up to a hill, taking it for granted that we'll make the grade. But before we've gone very far we find that our power seems to be giving out, and we're slowing down. Then we realize we must shift to second gear, but we're lucky if we haven't found out so late that there are, stalled on a hill!

Now people who drive on hills all the time say one thing to remember is that there's nothing like a good start. Of course, this is true, because the minute we start up, gravity starts to work and work fast. Yard-by-yard it uses up our momentum till by and-by that momentum is just about gone. Then we have to shift to a lower gear to increase our power.

Experts tell us that by far the most common fault in hill-climbing is failure to shift to a lower gear soon enough. So just to be sure, some drivers set a definite point at which to change gears. The consensus of opinion seems to be that we should always go into second gear as soon as our speed gets down to 20 miles an hour.

There are times, however, when we want to stop on a hill. So it's important to know how to start again, with our car on an upgrade. And there seem to be two methods used by experienced drivers.

Some use their foot brake to keep their cars from rolling backward, put their engine in low gear and accelerate slowly with the hand throttle, gradually engaging their clutch and releasing the brake at the same time. Other good drivers do exactly the same thing, only they use the hand brake and the foot accelerator. But both groups tell us it doesn't make much difference... to use whichever method we happen to like the better.

Now there aren't many hills that cars can't climb nowadays... and what goes up must come down. And that's where we have to look out for momentum. He may have been a friend in need when we were coming up hill, but going down he'll run away with us if we aren't careful. To be careful, or he'll pitch us right off the road.

Many drivers say that we should go down a hill in the same gear we would use to get up. In other words, if it's steep enough so we would have to go up in second or even low gear, then we'd better get into that same gear before we start down. If our car is in second or low gear, our engine works as a very effective brake, and besides it saves a lot of wear on our real brakes.

Speaking of gears, experienced drivers say we should never, under any condition, disengage our clutch and coast down hill. That's just what momentum is waiting for. Just give momentum a free rein, without our engine to check it, and nobody can tell what's going to happen.

When we do get in country where people are used to driving on hills all the time, it may seem to us that they take those hills without the slightest concern. But if we were in their cars with them and could watch them closely, we would see that they take all these precautions we have mentioned, just as a matter of habit. And one thing is sure. They make it a rule never to pass other cars on hills, or get on the wrong side of the road, when they can't see far enough ahead to be sure whether anyone's coming.

DUENKEL FUNERAL HOME WILL BE FORMALLY OPENED FEB. 28-29

AVIATION NEWS

BY HARRY E. HOARE A visitor in Pampa over the weekend is Lee Miles of Wichita, Kan., holder of three airplane speed records. Miles arrived here yesterday morning, flying a Cessna C34 monoplane, powered with a 148-h. p. Warner motor, which gives the ship a cruising speed of 143 miles an hour with a top speed of 160 miles an hour. Miles is visiting his long-time friend, Dee Graham, local pilot.

Flying a Lee Miles Special, designed by himself, Miles was national champion at the Cleveland air races last year, winning seven out of nine events. He holds the world record for the 100 kilometer, closed, 3 kilometer dash, and the closed circuit 5-mile event, with a speed of 247 miles per hour.

Activities at the local airport were nearly at a standstill the past two weeks, due to the bad weather. Freezing weather, strong wind and snow made flying unpleasant and hazardous.

Local ship owners were active in their shops and hangars, working on their ships and getting them ready for summer flying. The Howell brothers, Bert and Virgil, took their plane out of Monty Keenan's shop and have it at the field. The ship cracked-up last year and it has been in the shop ever since. The plane, Moreland monoplane, powered with a Wright J5 motor, has been painted white, trimmed with green.

On Thursday Monty Keenan flew his Curtis Challenger cabin monoplane to Hereford where he traded it to Ernest Metcalf, former Pampa resident, for a two-place American Eagle bi-plane, powered with a 220 h. p. Wright J5 motor. The ship will have a high cruising speed, the ordinary American Eagle having only a 90 h. p. motor.

A speedy little Waco, piloted by "Swede" Larsen, flew here last week from Wichita, Kan. The plane belonged to the Bridgeport Machine company.

The Pampa Wing-Over club was organized last week with George Christopher as its president. The club, open to fliers who have not received transport pilot licenses and to aviation enthusiasts, meets each Tuesday night in the courtroom in the city hall. Aviation in all its branches will be studied by the club.

The Department of Commerce, bureau of air commerce, has prepared interesting data on weather conditions in Texas. Relative to cloudiness, the report reveals: Cloudiness—The least cloudy portions of the state are in the north and west, where the average number of clear, partly cloudy, and cloudy days are, in the order given, 200, 111, and 54; and 216, 115, and 34, respectively. Over the remainder of the state, comprising the central, eastern and southern portions, corresponding averages are 140 clear days, 124 partly cloudy, and 101 cloudy. The greatest number of clear days occur generally in summer and early autumn. Low-lying clouds occur only occasionally in spring and autumn in the Panhandle region and rarely in the western portion at any time. Records available for the eastern part of the state show that in the morning clouds lower than 2,000 feet occur five or six times a month in winter and spring and three or four times a month in summer and autumn. In the afternoon they occur four or five times a month in winter, two or three times a month in spring and autumn, and seldom in summer. Also that clouds lower than 1,000 feet occur in the morning two or three times a month in the colder months of the year and once or twice a month in the warmer half of the year; and in the afternoon occur about twice a month in winter and seldom during the other months.

J. M. Collins of Merkel, father of Jim Collins of Pampa, died at 6 p. m. Saturday. It was learned last night. The funeral will be held today. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins are in Merkel.

Philip R. Pond, business manager of THE NEWS, underwent a major operation at Worley hospital yesterday morning. Last night his condition was favorable.

Mrs. Mark Gunnels was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday morning.

The formal opening of the Charlie Duenkel Funeral home at 321 North Frost street will be on Feb. 28 and 29. Mr. Duenkel has remodeled his home to make a modern mortuary and invites the public to visit him on the above dates. The new home was opened in November.

EDITORS

(Continued from page 1) manager of the chamber of commerce, said that he ate half a crow Friday noon and won a bridge tournament Friday night. Everybody knows a C. of C. man who wins a bridge tournament has had some sort of stimulation.

We took counsel and considered asking the state game commission to "protect" the crows and establish a bag limit, but we figured that was the most certain way to exterminate them. Extermination is certainly not desirable, since we're just about eaten all of the jackrabbits and we are going to need a new food supply as the oil activity declines.

We considered asking Old Tack, a former member of the game commission, for his advice, but he was in great disrepute and out of spirits, having predicted cold weather for the way. It was oppressive hot. He felt a bit better, however, when a Wheeler county lady remarked, "Well, you're better looking than your picture."

I looked confidentially that dynamite was put out (in daylight) for the crows by Jack Kersh and Art Fleming in a roost on the C. H. Riley farm, but that at dusk some Oklahomans came along and shot at the birds, scaring them and causing the dynamite to explode. They probably would have been a few funerals for hunters and fowls.

The occasion was the well-attended second annual Livestock and Cured Meat show. Thousands of persons admired the fat calves, sleek horses and jacks, and inspected the meat exhibit. Competition was keen, inspired by the long premium list.

In the FFA judging contest, McLean's team took first place. Erick, Okla., was second, Sayre was third, and Guyton was fifth. James Rice of McLean was high point contestant, followed by Bill Ivester of Erick, Kid McCoy of McLean, Robert Hicks of Erick, and Orville Sullivan of Sayre.

Pampa's FFA team taught by Prof. J. L. Lester made a good showing, but like most other Texas teams found the Oklahomans, who have a year extra in school over the Texans, a bit too experienced.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Pampa attended the event.

In the calf show, the senior class award went to James Passon of Wheeler, who entered an Aberdeen which was admired for its fine coat and many points of excellence. The winner in the junior class, a Hereford, was entered by John Troy Whatley of Groom. The Whatley entry was the grand champion and the Aberdeen the reserve champion.

Mrs. Mark Gunnels was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday morning.

Houston commander of the Texans. Santa Anna, flushed with victory, hurried toward Harrisburg, seat of the government for a final blow at the revolutionists, pausing only to order the summary execution of 300 more Texans captured at Goliad. Finding the place deserted, he proceeded to the confluence of Buffalo Bayou with the San Jacinto river, unaware that Houston's smaller force was close upon his rear. Screaming the battle cry of the Alamo, the Texans fell upon the Mexican army in a surprise attack in the middle of the afternoon, killing 600 and ultimately capturing their leader. The war was over, and the Alamo had been to some avail.

Governor Hoffman said "errors" were found today in Whited's statements during the conference. He did not disclose what they were.

Of Amanda Hockmuth, the second witness to testify Hauptmann had been near the Lindbergh estate, the governor had this to say: "I have no present plans (for questioning him) but would think Hockmuth's testimony open to suspicion. There is question whether or not there is a material untruth in his testimony that he resided in New Jersey, whereas he was a resident of New York and drew relief in New York."

Asserting that England had found it to her interest to remain neutral "when Japan invaded Manchuria,"

Borah contended that her "national interests" in the African war had dictated a far from neutral policy. "Now, do not misunderstand me. I am conceding her right to be neutral in the Manchurian affair. But I deny her right, or the right of any group of nations, to brand the United States as favoring war or as pursuing a course selfish or immoral in adopting a policy of neutrality against the Italian and Ethiopian controversy, or any other controversy in Europe."

At another point, after referring to Great Britain's policy in what he termed the Manchurian affair, he said it had always been that country's policy to move her navy "to that point without that policy, he said, that 'vast empire would break in pieces overnight.'"

Only One Low Priced Car is FIRST in Everything That Counts ... TERRAPLANE JUST COMPARE THIS with THIS Terraplane alone among all popular low priced cars gives you this: Full 115-inch wheelbase. 195 inches over-all length. Most power—88 or 100 horsepower—with freedom from vibration at all speeds. Body all of steel, with seamless roof of solid steel. Most inside room—145 cubic feet—more leg and shoulder room, and widest rear seat. Completely new style—best insurance of the investment value of your car. The only rear opening baggage and tire compartment on 5 and 6-passenger models that can be had in any low priced car without extra cost. Spare tire lies flat inside. Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for), two braking systems operating automatically from one brake pedal. And a third braking system from the easiest operating parking brake in the world. Extra deep "V-type" windshield—for added beauty and wider vision. In every other popular low priced car this is what you get: 2 to 6 inches less wheelbase. 5 to 12 1/2 inches less over-all length. 3 to 18 less horsepower than Terraplane's 88—and not nearly as smooth. Body only partly of steel—or steel body with "soft-top." Less inside room—less shoulder and leg room—narrower rear seats. 1935 styling, changed only in details. Far more likely to be out of date by 1937. No rear opening baggage and tire compartment, except in cars where trunk models are available—at considerable extra cost. Spare tire mounted outside on all other models. Single main braking system—either hydraulic or mechanical—without complete reserve braking system and without Terraplane's type of easy acting parking brakes. Nothing like Terraplane's deep "V-type" windshield in any other low priced car.

The list of Terraplane advantages doesn't stop with those listed here. There's greater ruggedness, proved by owner mileages of 125,000, 150,000 and more. Greater economy, too, certified by thousands of sworn owner statements... emphasized again just the other day in the Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run when a Terraplane averaged 23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over a tough 352 mile stretch on mountain roads. And dozens of other features... all at a price down with the lowest for the model you want. Come in and see and drive a Terraplane. 88 or 100 H. TICKETS FOR DANCES ARE GOING WELL Tickets for the special combination dance to be staged here on Wednesday night are going fast, which goes to show that residents of Pampa and vicinity know when they are getting something for their money. Reservations are being made daily and the number is increasing steadily. This is an outstanding event—three dances for the price of one which is $1.10 a person or $1.65 a couple. A ticket will admit you to one or all three places, namely, the Southern club, Pla-Mor auditorium and Tokyo club. What more could you ask? Three snappy orchestras, playing the latest dance tunes, will be a drawing card. Harry Hickox and his eleven-piece band will be at the Pla-Moc. Folks, this orchestra has played for many celebrities, including International Artists ball. What a break! "Chief" and his Oklahoma Pace Makers will be introduced at the Southern club and boy, are those redskins hot! Come out and see for yourself. Pampa's own Claude Hipps and his Commanders, every one of them, will give dancers at the Tokyo club a chance to use their feet. We know our own boys are hard to beat. Claude promises several new and novel numbers for the big occasion. So, follow the crowds to the Tokyo club, Pla-Mor auditorium and Southern club on Wednesday night, Feb. 28 and have a night of dancing to three great bands. Everyone will be there. —adv.

MISS GROOM AND MR. WILSON WED AT HER SISTER'S HOME

MARRIAGE IS PRECEDED BY MANY PARTIES

CEREMONY IS READ BY BRIDE'S FATHER AT BORGER

The marriage of Miss Geneva Groom and George G. Wilson, both of Pampa, was solemnized at six o'clock yesterday evening in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Floyd C. Spence of Borger. Her father, the Rev. M. S. Groom, read the ceremony.

Calla lilies decorated an improvised altar lighted by tapers in tall candleabra. Miss Lorna Groom of Pampa sang "Bond's I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Eloise Lane, preceding the bridal party's entrance to the wedding march from "Lohengrin," Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence attended the couple for the wedding. Spence was flower girl and Billy Spence was ring bearer. James Groom, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. Miss Groom wore a navy suit, and carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

During the ceremony Miss Lane played Liebertraum, Liszt, and the recessional march was Mendelssohn's.

Dinner was served afterward at a table centered with talisman roses. The bride cut the three-tiered pink and white wedding cake. Guests for the wedding dinner were Mrs. N. P. Wollard of Portales, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Healdy and daughter, Mary Catherine, of Mangum, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Porter of Borger, Miss Mildred Brake of Pampa.

The couple left for a month's honeymoon in New Mexico, and later will make a five-month tour of southern cities where Mr. Wilson has concert engagements. He has been a concert and radio singer for a number of years, and in recent months has been giving his time to evangelistic singing for Baptist churches of this area. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas.

Miss Groom, after graduating from high school at Mangum and business school at Oklahoma City, came to Pampa to work for four years as secretary of the First Baptist church. She has been employed in the office of the Tom Rose Motor company the past year.

The numerous friendships she has made here were evidenced in the courtesies she had as bride-elect. Scores of women attended an afternoon and an evening party at the home of Mrs. Tom Rose Thursday.

On Friday afternoon a group of girls whom she led in a class at the church honored her with a handkerchief shower at the home of Mrs. C. E. Lancaster. Miss Groom was called to the Lancaster home and was surprised to find the group there.

Each girl wrote a wish for her happiness in the bride's book. The wishes included a reading, "Romance," by Catherine Barrett; a song, "Beautiful Lady in Blue," by Mary Elizabeth Seeds; a reading, "Wish for the Bride," by Betty Horner; and nursery rhymes by little Margery Lancaster, who presented the gifts.

Pink ice cream and pink cakes were served to Misses Geneva and Lorna Groom, Cleo Lee, Catherine Ward, Margie Coffey, Edwina Gilbert, Mildred Pearce, Rita Holmes, Teasa Campbell, Dorothy Davis, Mrs. Lewis Davis, and those on program. Gifts were sent by Mrs. M. B. Rogers, T. A. Cox, and C. L. Stephens.

Silver Spade bridge club entertained husbands of members Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Gora Kolb. A Washington's birthday scheme was used in favors and decorations.

Mrs. R. S. Walker scored high at bridge. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Murphy second high. Mrs. John A. Hall low. Mrs. V. J. Castka held the traveling prize, and Earl Rogers was awarded high guest favor.

Other guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kolb. Members and their husbands playing were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spence, Mrs. M. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Hall.

PALE GREEN SPRING SUIT FEATURES LEAF DESIGN LONDON (AP)—A pale gray spring suit seen here has accessories of deep navy tones. A silken thread of silver outlines a leaf design on the mat-surfaced material. The wide-length coat is simply cut with hip rounded revers and full bishop sleeves. The party accessories consist of a small tiquette with a light tulle eye veil, flowers at the neckline and a leather waist belt.

Age Sorority Will Give Its Members. The meeting will be with Miss Frances Stark.

Gay Pique for Evening

THESE simple, flattering evening gowns of everlast pique will be an asset next summer as well as for a cruise jaunt or resort vacation, if you're lucky enough to have one. BRIDGE PARTY IN PATRIOTIC COLORS GIVEN

QUEEN OF CLUBS IS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. ATKINSON

Queen of Clubs and two guests were entertained in the home of Mrs. Crawford Atkins Thursday afternoon. Appointments for the bridge games were in George Washington note.

Other members playing were Mmes. R. S. Lawrence, Raymond Harrah, Carl Boston, H. C. Wilson, Carl M. Smith, and I. B. Hughey. Special guests were Mrs. Jim Collins and Mrs. Joe Burrow.

SPRING THEME PRESENTED IN TWO PARTIES

St. Patrick's Motif Appoints Tables For Bridge

Introducing a springtime note after a series of parties inspired by February holidays, were two bridge parties in St. Patrick motif given this week. Mrs. Burton Mack entertained Thursday, and Mrs. Bert Howell was hostess to Wednesday.

Appointments for the games at Mrs. Mack's home were in white and green, and refreshments repeated the note in fruit salad served in grapefruit baskets tied with green, white, and coffee.

Mrs. Robert L. Freney, who made high score, received a gardenia corsage. Mrs. D. C. Houk, who made second high, and Mrs. Troy Fields, low, were given guest towels in white and green packages. Other players were Miss Betty Zeigler, Mrs. O. O. Zeigler, John Cashman, and John McCutcheon.

Mrs. Howell used green and white for decorating the rooms and the two tables. A salad course and pie were served after the games in which Mrs. Earle Schein scored high and Mrs. John Schaefer held the traveling package.

Mrs. Troy Fields and Mrs. R. Morgan were special guests. Other club members were Mmes. John Weeks, H. C. Berry, and R. L. Freney. Mrs. Freney was hostess to the club the previous week.

Vesper Music To Be Practiced By Philharmonic

Practice for their first public program in some weeks, a vesper musicale at First Methodist church next Sunday afternoon, will occupy members of Philharmonic Chorus tomorrow evening in their regular weekly meeting.

The ladies' chorus, directed by Mrs. W. A. Bratton, is to meet at 7 o'clock for special rehearsal preceding the general meeting of chorus and orchestra at 7:30.

New voices have been recently added to the chorus, which C. O. Huber directs, and the orchestra directed by Miss Marjory Ericsson is another addition.

Youth Chooses Sermon Topics

Young people will have charge of evening services at McCullough Methodist church for a few weeks, choosing the sermon subjects, furnishing the music, and acting as ushers. The first program of this series is scheduled this evening at 7:30.

The sermon subject selected by young members of the church is "How Can I Be Happy?" It will be discussed by the Rev. Lance Webb, minister.

Regular services will be conducted at Harrah Chapel, open church in Mr. Webb's charge. No mid-week meetings are scheduled at either church, as a number of members will be enrolled in the Sunday school training course conducted at First Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Young of Borger are visiting in the Charles B. Chapman home over the weekend.

Bill Karn was called to Tucuman, N. M., Friday by a message that his mother was quite ill.

O. C. Melton was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday.

OLD FAMILIES ARE JOINED AS COUPLE MARRY

WEDDINGS AND OTHER SOCIAL DOINGS REPORTED

LEFORS, Feb. 22—Mr. and Mrs. Brooks McLaughlin are at home here following their marriage last Saturday in the Baptist parsonage at Miami. The bride was formerly Miss Edith Eishmenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eishmenger of Mobeetie. She is a member of a pioneer family of that community. Mr. Laughlin's family has long resided at Miami, where he attended school and lived until a few months ago, when he came to LeFors to be associated in the automobile business with his brother.

McLEAN, Feb. 22—Miss Jewel Turner and Rollins Conner were married in Pampa last Saturday, and will make their home here. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Turner of McLean, and Mr. Conner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Conner of Denver.

PANHANDLE, Feb. 22—Miss Esther Johnson, pianist who appeared in concert here Wednesday, was honor guest at an informal supper after the program, at the home of Mrs. Dave Warren. She was also complimented with a tea Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. W. L. McConnell and Mrs. Tom K. Simms.

MIAMI, Feb. 22—The Parent-Teacher association will present a play, The Old School of Hickory Holler, in the high school auditorium next Friday evening. Funds will help build up the school library.

CLARENDON, Feb. 22—Les Beaux Arts club voted to sponsor a movement for establishment of a museum to preserve relics of early Clarendon and the surrounding ranches. Mrs. L. S. Bagby was named to receive articles for the collection.

WHEELER, Feb. 22—For its annual fine arts program last week, the Wednesday Study club reviewed Texas music and musicians under leadership of Mrs. E. W. Carter.

SHAMROCK, Feb. 22—Mrs. J. R. Benson entertained recently with a tea complementing her sister, Miss Ruth Anderson, who arrived last week from South America for an extended visit here. A large number of callers were received by the hostess, the honoree, and their mother, Mrs. Mamie C. Anderson. Mrs. C. E. Jameson poured tea.

Berlin Bound

From the farm to Berlin will read the success story of Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., farm girl, if she makes the U. S. Olympic track team this year. The 18-year-old performer recently tied the world record in the 50-meter dash, set a new American indoor mark for the eight-pound shot at 47 feet 7 1/2 inches, and was the standing broad jump in the National Women's A. A. U. indoor meet in St. Louis.

Pampa Freshman Is In College Event

BELTON, Feb. 22 (Special)—Saturday was Freshman day at Mary Hardin-Baylor, and every activity gave way to the big collegiate tour that the class took that night for their annual reception.

Hundreds of young men from nearby colleges and hometowns were on the campus, and all things indicated this as the biggest day of the freshman year. Miss Muriel Kitchens, Pampa, is one of the freshmen who, eluding the sophomores, introduced her escort to the take-offs on other campuses, which was the feature of the evening.

Returning to Hardy parlors, they introduced their guests to their own college, and in that way presented the most representative freshman, Miss Sally St. John, Harlingen.

SEIZING OUR OPPORTUNITIES:

See then that we walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

Study of Washington's Day Needed

We are mindful, as this is written on the birthday of George Washington (at least the one we observe) that he is quoted more often during the year than on the anniversary of his birth. We are conscious of the fact that he stands revered as a great American, a wise man, and a prophet.

Washington's gift of prophecy is best known with respect to his warning against entangling foreign alliances. He was quoted in the campaign against the League of Nations. He is being quoted now in terms of entangling foreign debts incurred by lullerants who borrow from American finance firms.

Washington in his day was not regarded as a brilliant man politically, but a leader in crises and a man who was well abreast of the thought of his day. Not grounded in theory as was Jefferson, he quickly grasped the arguments of all actions and drove his intellect to a "common sense" deduction from it all. More than many famous Americans, Washington took the facts of the day and drew courageous conclusions.

How futile it is, therefore, to try to make all of Washington's remarks and decisions fit today's world. We do him a disservice when we assume that, living today, he would speak the same words he uttered in that troubled colonial period. Many of our problems did not exist in his day. If you needed more land, you moved a bit further west and cleared away the timber. You had little need for money. Relief was replaced by the doctrine that "he who will not work shall not receive charity." That was the way the folks felt about it in a day when there was much work to be done and few to do it. Taxes were burdensome then, as now, and equally as unwelcome. The colonists went to war over "taxation without representation," but chiefly over taxes, even more than Mother England had done.

We don't know what Washington would do today. We do know that he would stand by the side of the leaders of today and add his keen powers of deduction to the solution of major problems. His patriotism would be above challenge. He would be untouchable in politics and personal relations. A lot of folks would criticize his wealth, and some would not like his fine clothing and his love of dancing, but he would be a man among men, a gallant gentleman among the ladies, and a respected leader among legislators.

And, come to think of it, we probably have more Washingtons today than we realize. There is enough intelligence in the United States today to solve our problems without a revolution. But, as in Washington's day, the solution will be worked out gradually and public leaders will now, as then, be reviled as unworthy of their task.

"SUPPOSE, MR. SPEEDER"

"Suppose that your child should leave its own yard for a romp, or in search of a ball. If its mother were busy, or had not the time to step out and give it a call; Suppose that some speeder should ride down your street as though he were taking a dare. And crush the life out of your little child—Mr. Speeder, do you think you would care?"

"Suppose that your mother were crossing the street, your mother, now feeble and old. And some reckless driver should knock her aside, leaving her lifeless and cold. Could you find an excuse for this careless car? Would you really think it were fair? Now, putting yourself in this fellow's place Mr. Speeder, do you think you would care?"

"Suppose that a loved one, you hold very dear, were the victim of some speeder's game, and he lay in bed, just day after day, all crippled and helpless and lame; Suppose that he never could walk any more, no longer your pleasures could share, just lie there and suffer, day in and day out, Mr. Speeder, do you think you would care?"

"Oh! How little you think of the other man's pain, in your lawless pleasure and greed. How little you care what it costs someone else. When you drive at your dare-devil speed, should this trouble occur in your family some day for you and your loved ones to share, you'll lessen your speed, and you'll take time to think, And then, Mr. Speeder, you'll care."

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. (AP)—An atmosphere of good humor pervaded the highway commission offices when contractors assembled to submit bids on $2,000,000 in road and bridge construction. It marked the first letting in 45 days and the prospect of idle men and machinery was becoming a reality for many contractors.

Commissioners and department heads were as enthused as the contractors over the resumption of large scale operations. They had worked unceasingly to cut through the red tape attending the use of certain federal emergency funds. With the major portion of the preliminary work disposed of the commission expected to proceed rapidly with placing several millions dollars in construction under contract. Contractors have been asked to bid by Feb. 25 on another program estimated to cost $1,000,000 and bids will be received on other jobs as rapidly as plans can be prepared and approved.

The faces of Harry Hines, chairman, Commissioner D. K. Martin and Gibb Gilchrist, engineers, were wreathed in smiles as they entered the letting room. In front of the commission's table was a pile of plans and specifications containing $8,000,000 in projects ready for approval.

The state is forging ahead swiftly in its cooperative agreement with the federal government to eliminate railroad grade crossings. Included in the 39 projects on which bids were received were 12 grade separations costing about $1,000,000.

The highway department is sponsoring a program to make the state's highways and historic spots stand out in the memory of Centennial visitors.

Roads are being beautified wherever possible and connections constructed from highways to parks. Novel historical markers and direction indicators are being installed. In addition to showing the traveler on his way they will convey interesting bits of information.

CLARENDON TO HOLD TEXAS INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION

MIAMI FUTURE FARMERS WILL SPONSOR SHOW

PERRYTON WILL BUILD SWIMMING POOL SOON

Business houses of Clarendon will furnish space in their display windows for the school exhibits March second, Texas Independence Day. Songs of Texas and the Southwest will be sung by the school children of the county. Lelia Lake, Hedley and Clarendon Independent schools will have their program of singing in the auditorium of the Clarendon Junior high school. The rural school program of music will be in the First Methodist church of Clarendon.

J. D. Wilson, Deputy State Superintendent of District One, will speak on both programs.

Profitable and progressive years have confronted Wheeler schools during the administration of the present superintendent, J. L. Gilmore.

In a recent school board meeting Gilmore was re-elected to serve in his present capacity for another term. Supt. and Mrs. Gilmore have been employed in the local school plant for four years.

Stock Show Planned

The Miami Future Farmer chapter will hold its Fat stock show on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 28, 29 in conjunction with the 4-H club boys of Roberts county. The Christmas building will be used to house the animals.

Cy Carr, president of the F. F. A. chapter, will be superintendent of the show. L. A. Maddox will have charge of the fat calves in the show, assisted by Marion and Wayne Maddox. The poultry exhibit will be handled by B. W. Lard in charge, assisted by Bill Harris, A. B. Casey and Carl Cantrell. The club pig will be handled by Billie Pursley in charge, assisted by Lyter Martin, W. E. Holland and Cy Carr in superintending the show.

Oil Test Drilled

Pushing forward in the systematic and business-like manner that has marked every step of procedure at that location, the crew spudded in Monday at Porter No. 1, a proposed deep test situated on the W. W. Porter land, 5 1-2 miles south of Wheeler. The Phillips Petroleum company is backing the test.

According to reports received here yesterday, a depth of close to 200 feet had been reached, after starting with the 20-inch. It was planned to cut to the 20-inch today or tomorrow.

Museum Planned

At a recent meeting of the Clarendon Les Beaux Arts club the members voted to sponsor a museum to establish, for the benefit of children of town and country, a museum to be operated in connection with the Junior College.

Several of the presidents of the various clubs have pledged their support in furthering the project. A number have promised the gift or loan of curios and mementos of historical and educational value.

Swimming Pool Assured

Every since Perryton started back in 1919, civic minded citizens have dreamed of a modern swimming pool and now at last, due to the good old "New Deal", that dream is to become a reality for construction work will start just as soon as the weather moderates. Mayor W. C. Bryan and H. Shindler of the WPA received word last week that everything was approved and that work could start at once.

The pool will be in the city park, located in the south part of the city. Only six trees and a few shrubs will have to be moved to make room for the pool. The pool proper will be 60x105 feet with a depth ranging from 2 1-2 to 9 1-2 feet. Adjoining the main pool on the north will be a wading pool, size 15x80 feet with a depth ranging from 1 foot to 15 inches. The extreme outside dimensions of the pool, dressing rooms, offices, etc., will be 102x162 feet.

Through the efforts of G. R. Wilson and other Perryton citizens, and the cooperation of David E. Autry, superintendent of the Perryton ECW camp of the Soil Erosion Service, plans have been approved for the building of a dam and the planting of trees at the Ochiltree cemetery by the boys of the CCC camp.

The dam will be located on the south line of the cemetery and will impound the flood waters that rush down the ravine just east of the grave sites. It is a natural dam site and fits into the program of the soil conservation service for prevention of soil erosion and flood control.

Milestones of American Genius

Monument to Daniel Webster at State House, Concord, N.H.

DANIEL WEBSTER

THE name of Daniel Webster stands in the American mind not merely for oratory of the highest order, but for that power of speech devoted to the service of the nation. No man in his time inspired our people to a love of country and a profound faith in its immortal destiny more eloquently than did this patriot and political thinker.

Webster was born at Salisbury, just outside of Concord, New Hampshire, on January 18, 1782, and his seventy years of life coincided with the formative period of our Republic—from the dawn of the nation to the eve of the Civil War. His memory is preserved in imperishable stone throughout the land, but none of the memorials was erected with greater civic pride than the one standing on the New Hampshire State House grounds in Concord.

As a boy, Webster was delicate and sickly. The amazing mental and oratorical energy which he displayed in his busy life represents a conquest of mind over matter. He attended Exeter Academy and was graduated from Dartmouth College. In later years he defended the charter rights of Dartmouth with magnificent passion.

After being admitted to the bar he quickly built up a lucrative practice. His eloquence attained nationwide recognition. Political prominence was not long in following, and he became a dominant figure in national affairs. Although thwarted in his Presidential aspirations, Webster was a great political power.

His addresses in Congress and on patriotic occasions have become classics which schoolboys declaimed along with the Declaration of Independence and the Preamble to the Constitution. He died at Marshfield, Mass., which had long been his home, on October 24, 1852.

judicial district, was the principal speaker at a Masonic Washington Birthday party held at the Spearman Methodist church annex Tuesday evening of this week.

Supt. W. H. Sewell of the Follett schools was also a guest speaker on the birthday program. Other members of the program included a solo, Mrs. R. E. Lee, accompanied by Mrs. F. J. Dally at the piano, and a violin solo by Mrs. G. L. Boykin, accompanied by Mrs. Dally.

Miss Johnson Plays

Panhandle had its greatest musical treat Wednesday morning, when Esther Johnson, world famous pianist and greatest exponent of Mozart, gave a lecture concert in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Practically the entire student body was present and there was a good crowd of adults in attendance. The entire auditorium manifested the closest attention during the hour's program, during which Miss Johnson gave interesting information about the Balkans.

Miss Johnson was dressed in a Balkan costume and she played selections of leading music from Rumania, Greece, Hungary, Transylvania, Bulgaria, Jugo-Slavia and other nations. She had slides and was thus able to illustrate many interesting features of these nations.

More than fifty voters and property tax paying voters of Carson county pointed in a petition to the commissioners court this week asking that body to call an election to the purpose of creating the Carson County Wind Erosion Conservation District as provided by House Bill 978, laws of the state of Texas.

The above bill provides for the creation of Wind Erosion Conservation Districts co-extensive with the boundaries of any county in the state. It makes the county judge and the commissioners court the governing body of the district and names the county clerk and county treasurer as the proper officials to care for the clerical work and to act as custodian of funds respectively.

Any tax paying voter is entitled to ballot on the question in a special election which will be held after 30 days notice has been given. A majority vote is required to create the district.

To Let Contract

Contract for the new grade school building to be erected in White Deer is to be let one week from today and bidders are asked to submit bids on that date.

About $60,000 is available for building exclusive of the foundation which was previously let and will be completed as soon as weather permits. A large amount of the excavation work has been completed and forms constructed for the concrete foundation.

Eighty persons attended the 10th birthday party of the Canadian Rotary club held Tuesday night at the W. C. T. U. building. A turkey dinner was served by the women of the First Christian church.

NATIONAL BUSINESS SURVEY
(By The Associated Press.)

Continuation of adverse weather throughout the country applied the brakes another notch tighter last week on activity of the nation's business and industry but many analysts believed the bottom of the temporary slump has been reached. Retailers through special sales and advance offerings of spring merchandise in a number of centers were able to mitigate the depressing influence of storms, snow and cold, but despite such enterprise the volume of trade frequently fell below the previous week and in some instances a year ago.

It was noted, however, that where opportunity offered, shoppers spent freely and with the usual enthusiasm for this time of year. The theory was advanced by some that curtailment of spending now means merely that sales are being held in abeyance—not destroyed.

On the production side, the Associated Press index of industrial activity declined to 78.7 per cent of the 1929-1930 average from 80.9 per cent the previous week, the lowest point since the third week of last October. Only electric power production and freight carloadings advanced in the index.

Authorities said the last six days of the current week should prove to be low point in activity before the motor makers launch spring sales drives and boost production accordingly.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Zimmerman of Oklahoma City are week-end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Zimmerman.

Miss Neva Burgan is spending today with her parents in Canyon.

Conference Head

Supt. W. B. Irvin of Perryton is president of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education, which will convene in Canyon March 6 and 7 at the Teachers college.

CANYON, Feb. 22.—Dr. F. W. Hart, of the University of California, Berkeley, will be one of the nationally known speakers who will appear on the program of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education, March 6 and 7.

Dr. Hart is familiar with school conditions and problems as they confront school boards and teachers from the Atlantic to Pacific. He has helped conduct many educational surveys.

Besides writing many articles for the American School Board Journal, he is author of a book on State School Building Codes, and co-author of several books on school administration.

Unlike many people who write well, Dr. Hart is also a powerful and challenging speaker. One of his lectures will be "May We Have Faith in the Rising Generation." This lecture comes on the same program with the choral concert by 250 high school girls and boys.

Dr. Hart's services were secured through the co-operation of President J. A. Hill, of the West Texas State Teachers college and Supt. W. B. Irvin of Perryton, president of the conference.

President Irvin stated that he believed no man in the United States could make a greater contribution to a Northwest Texas program than Hart. Irvin is familiar with regional conditions, having been superintendent, conditions, having been superintendent.

Attempt to Break Into Pla-Mor Fails

An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the Pla-Mor auditorium early yesterday morning. Two of the entrances on Somerville street were tried by the marauders but they withstood the efforts of a bar, according to marks on the doors and frames.

The attempt was made after 5 o'clock in the morning, since at that hour city officers inspected the building. Officers Jeff Guthrie and Weldon Wilson drove along Somerville street at that time and noticed a car parked in front of the building. It drove away and the officers decided to investigate. They looked over the Ben Williams Motor company and then searched the Pla-Mor auditorium, an employe having been found to open the place.

When the building was opened this morning, it was discovered that an iron bar had been inserted between the door and jamb in an effort to open it. Another door had been treated in the same manner and a window glass close to the door had been smashed. The window was within easy reach of the bolt on the door but the bolt had been bent when the attempt had been made to open the door, and it would not slide back.

A new automobile was on the floor, and it is believed the car was the aim of the burglars.

SCHOOLS CLOSED
LOOKHART, Feb. 22. (AP)—Schools here were ordered closed Monday to prevent spread of measles, mumps and whooping cough, which have cut classroom attendance seriously. At a conference of city health and school officials today it was decided to keep the schools closed until Wednesday and, if conditions improve sufficiently, resume classes on that day.

INDIANS GIVE GREAT DANCE IN NEW FILM

McDONALD AND EDDY SHOWN IN MUSICAL MOVIE

For the first time in many years the beat of tom-toms was heard over the historic Lake Tahoe region as more than seven hundred Indians, representing eighteen tribes, gathered together in a spectacular ceremonial dance.

Their three-hundred-odd tepees lined the curving shore between Emerald bay and Rubicon Point, a sandpit which divides the mountain-cliff bay, famous in thousands of lithographs, from Lake Tahoe.

The Indians were gathered from California, Nebraska, and Wyoming reservations. A few were from New Mexico and 80 were drafted from vicinities near Los Angeles.

They were rounded up by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer scouts for what is reported to be the most spectacular dance sequence ever filmed—the "Totem Pole" number for "Rose Marie" which opens today at La Nora theater.

With Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy co-starred, W. S. Van Dyke directing and Hunt Stromberg producing, this giant production was made by the same four who broke records with "Naughty Marietta."

The set for this dance comprised the Totem poles, the Indian village and the wild unadorned beauty of the mountain-lake country.

Focused on this, from "parallels" 60 feet high, from holes in the ground, from anchored barges, trees and a nearby mountain ridge, were 12 cameras, each manned by three experts and their assistants.

The Totem Pole set itself was the result of grueling work. State property, it was first necessary for the studio to receive permission to use it. Then 50 laborers and technicians, brought from the Culver City plant and drafted from local carpenters, began work to level a space and anchor a platform flat as an anvil and 200 feet in diameter.

Around and about this platform dynamite men blasted holes into bedrock. The telephone company supplied its own men to sink and secure extra-length telephone poles.

From the studio were shipped the plaster figures of hideous and grinning animals which were attached, polished and painted in vivid colors. These figures, copied after actual totem poles in Alaska, trace the lineage of the tribes. This was the work of Cedric Gibbons and his assistant Joseph Wright, M-G-M art directors.

On and about this set the giant number was executed. The main body of the dance is the work of Chester Hale and includes 90 trained Indian dancers, drilled for weeks at the studio.

Briefly, it is the Corn dance of the Canadian Indians—Canada being the locale of "Rose Marie"—and signifies the Indians' thanks for a bountiful harvest.

As the war dance of the assembled braves grows in intensity, the Corn Maiden mounts her platform before the outstretched wooden wings of a totem eagle. From her white buckskin dress are hanging ears of freshly picked corn.

As they dance by, the braves pluck these ears and throw them to the medicine man who, in turn, drops them into a boiling cauldron in the center of the set.

At a crucial moment in the fanfare of music, a huge war drum, 15 feet in diameter, is rolled down the shore by half-naked bucks, onto the set and over the cauldron, extinguishing its flames.

With a noise like thunder, the war god mounts this platform and begins a fierce ecstatic dance. At a gesture he is joined by the Corn Maiden who performs with him their marriage dance—a dance signifying the acceptance of bountiful nature by the Indians' spirit in thanks for her sustenance of the tribe.

The dance ends in tremendous jubilation and excitement as the entire assemblage joins in, heated circles convoluting in opposite directions, the entire scene outlined by a band of picked braves on mounted pinto.

Vancouver county, B. C., has decided to register all bicycles in an effort to stop theft of the vehicles.

MANY OLD VOLUMES ARE BEING ENTERED IN LA NORA CONTEST

Many persons have entered old books in the contest now being held at La Nora theater. The books which are growing in number daily, may be seen there.

Mrs. Nellie C. Ford has entered a German Bible and a German history of the Bible. Bill Noland entered Bible stories and sermons, and an issue of Pilgrim's Progress is attracting much attention.

Anyone wishing to display old books should take them to theater by March 8.

A $5 cash prize will be given for the oldest book entered. The book will be returned. Two free passes will be given for the next two books, one pass for second and one for third place, to see Magnificent Obsession at La Nora theater March 8, 9, and 10. Books shown must be on history, the Bible, fiction, or general literature.

The News Wars-Ads bring results

Continental Is Stressing Ads in This Newspaper

PONCA CITY, Feb. 22.—During 1936 Continental Oil company will spend nearly 75 per cent of its total consumer advertising appropriation for newspaper space, it was announced here today by Wesley I. Nunn, advertising manager.

Nunn also stated that The NEWS has been selected to carry Conoco advertising this year, and that his company has again approved one of the largest sales promotion budgets in its history.

"Continental's faith in the dividend earning power of newspaper advertising is founded upon sales increases directly traceable to this medium," said Nunn. "Last year, for example, there was a marked improvement in company earnings, despite excessive gasoline taxes and other adverse factors. Sales of Conoco germ processed motor oil also reached an all-time high."

"Business is definitely on the upgrade. And we are confident that aggressive newspaper advertising, quality products and a high standard of service will make this the most outstanding year in our history."
