Johnson Agrees To Talk Viet Nam Peace in Manila

Leaders Of Other Nations to Attend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson announced today that he would be glad to attend an international conference at Manila next month with leaders of other nations participating in the war to defend South Viet Nam.

The date for the conference, to be held in Manila, was tentatively set "on or after October 18."

The announcement came from the White House less than 24 hours after President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippine Republic announced that he had issued invitations to the meeting after consulting government leaders of Thailand and South Korea.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson had received the invitation to the meeting of chiefs of state, or chiefs of government, from Asian nations "who are contributing military assistance to South Viet Nam to resist aggression and which are together looking for an honorable peace in Southeast Asia."

President Pleas'd "President Johnson is glad to agree to this invitation," Moyers said, "and he is pleased to join the meeting of other chiefs of state and government, which are participating nations in the Philippines on or after October 18."

As to whether still other nations might be invited, he said such queries must be referred to the Philippine president.

Asked about the purpose of the meeting, Moyers quoted Marcos' statement of Monday that it would review the military situation in Viet Nam, emphasize non-military economic and political programs in South Viet Nam, and "review prospects for a peaceful settlement."

Other sources said one topic at the meeting would be possible ways of persuading Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong guerrillas in the south to come to the peace table.

Particular emphasis also will be placed on the rural "pacification" movement in the South, efforts at economic rehabilitation, and the steps being taken by the Saigon government to enlist greater popular support.

Plans for the meeting were disclosed late Monday in Honolulu by Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos, who said leaders of the seven nations directly involved would meet.

The White House would say only that the President was "interested" and his reaction would be forthcoming today. But other officials disclosed privately that the chief executive was planning to attend.

The nations involved, in addition to the United States, are the Philippines, South Viet Nam, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand—all of which have troops actively fighting in Viet Nam—and Thailand.

The Thais provide five airbases from which U.S. warplanes carry out many of the air attacks on North Viet Nam and Communist forces in the Red-held portions of Laos.

Soon after Marcos' announcement, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam and Australian Prime Minister Harold Holt said they were planning to attend the meeting. It was expected that other Asian leaders would announce similar plans today.

Johnson and Ky have met once before when they conferred in Honolulu last February. From that session emerged the "Honolulu Declaration" outlining plans for the "other war" in South Viet Nam—the economic and social struggle.

E. E. SHELHAMER

Shelhamer Named Chamber Prexy

E. E. Shelhamer was elected president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce at a directors' luncheon meeting today in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

Shelhamer, a representative for the Southwestern Life Insurance Co., has been prominent in civic affairs for several years and is currently president of the Pampa Independent School Board.

Named to other chamber offices during today's luncheon were Harold Barrett, vice president and George Cree Jr., finance director.

For Barrett, a local Ford dealer, it will be his second year on the board.

Cree, an oil man, has served previously on the board and in assuming the duties of finance director, he will be in charge of the membership drive in the spring. Cree is currently president of the Pampa Fine Arts Association.

The newly-elected officers will be installed at a dinner meeting Oct. 18 in the Pampa Country Club and will be officially presented to the membership at the annual banquet on Oct. 25.

In addition to the new officers, the following were appointed by the newly-elected president to serve as directors for a one-year term, R. D. Wilkerson, Dennis Smith and Bill Tarpley.

City Commission Views Tax Rates

In an 8:30 City Commission meeting this morning, streamlined to expedite a 15-item agenda, commissioners held first reading on Pampa's $1,721,338 budget for 1966-67 and set new tax and sewer rates.

Second and final readings of these ordinances will be held at a special called meeting of the city commission at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in the city hall so they may be put into effect before the close of the current fiscal year, Sept. 30.

In raising the current tax rate from $1.47 to $1.60, the thirteen cent tax rate raise will be applied to the interest and sinking fund for the approximately $1,000,000 highway and Street Improvement Bonds passed by Pampa voters last March 8.

"One dollar will still be applied to the general fund with the 60 cents going into the interest and sinking funds," City Manager Jim White explained.

The new sewer tax, which raises the current rate by $1.15 necessary in order that the city may meet the first Canadian River Dam payment, which becomes due Sept. 1, 1968.

Canadian River payments begin in 1968 in the amount of $203,000 per year. This sewer rate increase will provide approximately 5 per cent of that cost, White said.

"The city is taking action at this time in order to establish a reserve fund to cushion the water revenue system during a rainy year when water sales would be reduced."

White said this raise, a year in advance of the date the first payment is due, will create a reserve fund from which to (See BUDGET, Page 3)

Minister Visions Stalemate Of U.S. And China

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi told Japanese visitors that Red China does not have the military power to attack the United States, and he believed America is fearful of starting war with China.

The Chinese official also said U.S.-Chinese problems would be settled "one day," but "the settlement of many problems will first begin with withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam."

Chen's remarks were released today by ex-Japanese Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka in a memorandum containing answers the Chinese statesman gave him during an interview in Peking Sept. 6.

Varying reports in Japanese newspapers of what was said, touched off an international stir because of Chen's alleged remarks that China had not ruled out negotiations with the United States over Viet Nam.

According to today's explanation of Chinese foreign policy given by Chen to the visiting Japanese, China looks out some hope for improvement of relations with the United States but considers Viet Nam the main obstacle to any meaningful progress.

According to Kosaka, Chen Yi said that mutual fear keeps both the United States and China from striking the first blow in a war.

"The fact of the matter is that the United States, if afraid of China and we are also a little bit afraid of the United States," Chen was quoted. "The President of the United States—whoever he is—will not order a war against China. We will also not venture to go out and hit them (the United States)."

Weathermen predicted if the storm continued its present course, the French island of Guadeloupe with 264,000 residents would get the brunt of the storm's fury before noon today.

Hurricane warnings also were up for the islands of Marie Galante, Desirade, Antigua and Montserrat.

Center winds were clocked by Air Force reconnaissance planes at 90 miles an hour in a small area near the center, with gale force winds extending outward 175 miles in the northern semicircle and 80 miles in the southern semicircle.

Hurricane Is Threat to Five Islands

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — A cluster of French and British islands with some 300,000 inhabitants, today lay in the path of dangerous hurricane Inez, packing top winds of 90 miles an hour.

A late Monday advisory put Inez 190 miles east of Guadeloupe, traveling on a westward course at the edge of the Caribbean at 12 miles an hour.

Soviet Chief Gets Support on Stand

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev found full support for Russia's hard-line Viet Nam policy and tough stand against Communist China during a week of diplomatic meetings in Eastern Europe.

The party general secretary flew back to Moscow Monday night after a series of talks with Bulgarian party chief Todor Zhivkov, Yugoslav President Tito and Hungarian party leader Janos Kadar.

Bulgaria and Hungary now are Moscow's most loyal East European allies, while Yugoslavia is probably the Kremlin's most understanding friend of the Chinese problem. Brezhnev found unanimous support for Russia's unchanging opposition to U.S. Viet Nam policy and declarations of "readiness to continue to provide all-round assistance for the Communist struggle against U.S. forces in Viet Nam."

Johnson And Erhard Plan Troop Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A review of NATO troop requirements today appeared to be the U.S. answer to West Germany's request for a 50 per cent cut in its future obligations to buy American arms.

The review, proposed Monday by President Johnson in talks with German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, could get another airing today before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Efforts were being made to bring Erhard and the committee together before he leaves with Johnson for a tour of U.S. space facilities at Cape Kennedy. They were to return to Washington tonight.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., a leader of Senate forces favoring a cut in U.S. troop commitments to NATO, was expected to attend any meeting between Erhard and the committee.

According to German sources, Chancellor Erhard has found the United States unwilling to make any immediate concessions in regard to the arms purchases. They described the U.S. attitude as "tough."

U.S. officials said there were indications Erhard would agree to Johnson's idea for the review but they emphasized that the German leader had not given any final word on the subject.

The need for such talks was underlined by the failure of Johnson and Erhard, in their discussion Monday to narrow the differences separating them on future financial arrangements that help pay the cost of maintaining American troops in Germany.

Officials said the principal result of the session between the two men Monday was the provision of an opportunity for each to explain more fully the reasons behind his position.

Monday night Johnson reaffirmed the United States commitment to the Atlantic Alliance and European security despite the Viet Nam conflict. He has opposed the Senate plan for withdrawal of some U.S. forces.

More of the same type weather is expected for Wednesday with temperatures expected to be in the lower 70s and an overnight low in the mid-50s tonight. The forecast calls for occasional rain also.

At last report, thunderstorms and showers had penetrated deep into North Central Texas and were pushing eastward at 15 miles an hour.

Temperatures behind the front were in the 60s. To the south, overnight temperatures ranged from the 60s into the 70s in the coastal area.

The front—with cooler weather and clouds—was expected to drive southward to the Lufkin-Austin-San Angelo parallel by Wednesday morning.

The thundershowers should move on eastward. Little change was seen for South Texas, Presidio, for the second day in a row, recorded a 100-degree temperature Monday.

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is running against Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. who holds the seat formerly held by the President before his election to the Vice Presidency.

The nations involved, in addition to the United States, are the Philippines, South Viet Nam, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand—all of which have troops actively fighting in Viet Nam—and Thailand.

The Thais provide five airbases from which U.S. warplanes carry out many of the air attacks on North Viet Nam and Communist forces in the Red-held portions of Laos.

Connally Expects Increase of Taxes In Near Future

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. John Connally, back home after a weekend of talks with President Johnson, had bad news—for wage earners Monday.

"I'm not at all sure that it wouldn't be wise to recommend a (national) tax increase at this time," Connally told newsmen. "As a matter of fact, I wouldn't be surprised to see a tax increase soon."

The governor, a long time ally of the President in Texas politics, said "there is no question but that there is a serious economic problem in this country."

He said the President's request to cut the 7 per cent tax credit on business would help the nation's economic problems.

He said the over increasing inflationary spiral, high interest rates and the irregular stock market pointed up the dangers to the economy.

Connally, one of seven governors who conferred with the President late last week in Washington, flew back to Texas with the President and met with him at the LBJ Ranch over the weekend.

The governor also said that Texans were possibly in for a double-barrelled tax increase, on both the state and national levels.

He said state agency requests were "running $500 million more than the present income."

Texas has a 2 per cent sales tax but no state income tax.

Connally said his discussions with the President covered a wide area.

"We continued our discussions about his problems—national problems such as the Viet Nam War and the economic situation."

"We also had some discussion about political affairs. He wanted to know how the senate race in Texas was coming along, and I told him I thought very well."

Connally said his discussions with the President covered a wide area.

Bombers Pound Troop Buildup

SAIGON (UPI) — B52s pounded a buildup of Communist troops in the demilitarized zone and American jets launched their second consecutive day of mass assaults against North Viet Nam's anti-aircraft defenses, U.S. officials said today.

The high-flying B52s struck about dawn today, raining tons of bombs on the southern fringes of the demilitarized zone where U.S. Marines are engaged in operations to spoil an expected monsoon offensive. Intelligence reports showed the Communists were massing troops and supplies in the zone.

Air Force F4 Freedom Fighters also bombed a truck park and petroleum area in the northern half of the zone touching off explosions and at least 13 fires.

U.S. pilots hit 13 surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites and conventional anti-aircraft sites in 121 raids over the North Monday. They left three of the dreaded SAM batteries in ruins, but one American jet fell to the communist gunners.

Ground action over most of the nation was reported light, but officials said U.S. and Korean marines killed 61 of the enemy in widely scattered clashes in the northern and central provinces.

In addition to the anti-aircraft sites, U.S. pilots also destroyed or damaged 33 barges, 16 bridges, 16 storage and communications buildings, a radar site, truck parks and railroad boxcars in North Viet Nam.

The Air Force F105 shot down was the 367th lost over North Viet Nam. The pilot was listed as missing.

U.S. Marines spotted a force of about 300 Communists in an open area Monday about 11 miles south of Quang Ngai city, on the central coast about 150 (See BOMBERS, Page 3)

Chrysler And Ford Drop 1967 Car Prices

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. joined the Ford Motor Co. in rolling back its price increases on 1967 cars today to stay in competition with the giant of the auto industry, General Motors.

Less than 12 hours after Ford announced it was slashing $41 from its previously announced $107 average price boost, Chrysler said it would roll back its $92 average hike by $24.

The new price tags leave Chrysler an average of $68 over last year's prices, and Ford with an average $66 hike, compared with an average $56 increase by GM.

American Motors, smallest of the auto companies, had not announced its 1967 prices but it too faces the same competitive reality. AMC prices are expected to be announced Oct. 1.

Both Chrysler and Ford indicated some of the reduction represented changing to optional some equipment items previously announced as standard. The rest, they said, represented a lower base price or, in other words, a rollback.

Ford's price rollback ranged from nothing on some models to a high of $72 on its lowest price full-sized model. Before the price cuts, prices for Ford car lines ranged from $40 to $100 more than comparable GM cars.

With such a price difference, Ford obviously faced the alternative of suffering a terrific loss in sales to its arch-rival, or cutting prices.

President Johnson expressed his "regret" when Ford announced the increase in the 1967 models, and said he had hoped the automakers could install the safety features without any price boost. He said his Council of Economic Advisors was studying the matter.

United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther called the Ford increase "scandalous" and called for a congressional investigation. He claimed the auto companies actually could afford to reduce prices and still make money.

GM's announcement last Thursday of its much smaller average price hikes took some of the heat of criticism off the auto industry but sharply raised the competition heat on Ford and Chrysler, which followed Ford's decision and announced an increase, too.

Workers To Get Pointers At Breakfast

Important pointers and proper techniques in soliciting for the 1966 United Fund campaign in this area will be demonstrated for workers at a 7 a.m. breakfast Wednesday in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

The keynote address will be given by Harry Vanderpool, a member of the UF Speakers' Bureau. Gordon Lyons, chairman of the general solicitations division, will give instructions to the workers, A. A. Schuneman, general drive chairman said.

Approximately 200 workers are expected to attend the meet headed by the division chairman, Jim White, public officials: Dr. Joe Donaldson, pro-

Television in Review

By VERNON SCOTT

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Edgar Rice Burroughs would have been appalled had he lived to see his brainchild, Tarzan, trapped in the electronic age. It is one peril from which the ape-man will not escape alive.

For that matter, Elmo Lincoln, the movie's first Tarzan, and Johnny Weismuller could not have been helpful either. In the early days, Tarzan was a classical hero in books and movies. He was respected and admired by adults as well as children. He lived in the heart of the African jungle and kept peace among man and beast.

This new television series, however, can only appeal to children. Backward ones at that.

It's easy enough to rap a television show. You can knock the story, the acting, the dialogue and all of that. But this new NBC show (7:30 p.m. EDT) is a 60 minute personal affront to several generations of Tarzan addicts, who have gone ape for the ape-man over the years. The producers have taken ridiculous liberties with the jungle singer.

PLOT OK

Friday night's episode had Tarzan chasing down a white hunter who tried to steal a leopard from a little kid. Tarzan might do that.

But the trouble is that Tarzan obviously is not in Africa and the natives are obviously not Africans.

Either Mexico has become infested with crocodiles, lions and elephants, or Africa has experienced a flood of immigration by Mexican nations.

In other words, it's a fake.

The show is shot on location in Mexico. Therefore extras portraying natives must keep their backs to the camera at all times or blow their identity. Their voices sound more like Cuernavaca than Zulu.

Genuine scenes of African wildlife are flashed on screen from time to time to mislead viewers in the mistaken notion that Tarzan is actually in the old country.

But the scenes of native villages look more like Los Angeles' famed Olvera Street than the Congo.

If nothing else, young viewers will grow up with a jaundiced view of geography and sociology, to say nothing of national origins.

Producer Sy Weintraub has succeeded in chasing away old Tarzan buffs and reducing the old hero to just another television detective in a loin cloth.

All that remains of the Tarzan of a few decades ago is his hauntingly exciting call and of course, Cheeta.

Ron Ely is no Weismuller. The rest of the cast doesn't measure up to the animal actors.

Three Calls Answered by Fire Dept.

A Pampa woman, Mrs. E. L. Kindy of 2132 Zimmers, was "gull shocked" this morning after a fire did light damage to her kitchen and injured her about 5:30 p.m. Monday.

Damage was described as "light" to a garage at 401 Doyle, belonging to Logan Williams. Firemen answered the call about 11:20 a.m. Monday and said a mattress was a total loss.

A carburetor in a 1957 Ford, belonging to a "Mrs. Gray" flooded and caught fire in Coronado Center about 4:30 p.m. Monday sending firemen to the scene.

Damage was again described as light. Firemen said the fire was believed to have been started by children.

Couple Sleeps; Burglar Prowls

A Pampa couple slept rather soundly Saturday night and a burglar or burglars are glad they did.

H. A. Bolls, 113 S. Lowry, reported to Pampa police Sunday that someone entered his home sometime between 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday morning while he and his wife were asleep.

Nothing Taken In Attempted Burglary. Nothing was taken in an attempted burglary of the office of dentist William Greenlee, 1716 N. Hobart, Pampa police reported.

Mrs. Floye Crites, office receptionist reported the attempted break-in. Police said the burglar was apparently scared off before gaining entry.

Budget

(Continued From Page 1) meet the payment. Commercial rates will go from $1 to $2 for four or less fixtures and twenty-five cents for each additional fixture over four.

The one dollar increase in residential rates is for five or less fixtures and 10 cents for each additional fixture over four. City commissioners put teeth into the ordinance regulating dogs running at large.

In the new ordinance, city commissioners lowered the fine for retrieving pets from the city pound. The new fine will be $2 as compared to the previous $10.

There was difficulty in controlling dogs under the old ordinance. "White said. We are not trying to work a hardship on owners of household pets, which might slip out of a gate left open or dig under a fence. But we are seeking control of dogs that run-at-large around the city."

The effective date for the new ordinance will be one month after it is passed allowing pet owners time to establish facilities for keeping their dogs under control at all times.

In other business, city commissioners let a contract to the Howe Fire Apparatus Co. of Anderson, Ind. for the purchase of a new 750 gallon per minute pumper for $24,955.33 after trade-in of a 1941 fire truck.

Commissioners gave approval on the first reading employing Merriman and Barber as engineers on the Street Improvement program.

"Actually," the city manager said, "this is just a re-wording of a current contract we have with them. This ordinance merely restates the terms to the effect that we will be paying them only for work specifications, plans drawn and work completed."

In approving Forrest and Cotton to begin plans and specifications on a Water Filter Plant, White pointed out that "it is still a while away before we need the water. But it will take approximately two years to plan and construct, so this measure is just to get things ready and then leave them in abeyance until we need the water."

Approval was also given to payments of employee hospitalization insurance in the amount of $10.51. A $1.44 per month increase in insurance rates be-

Dwight, starts on another crocheted bedspread, while still basking in the satisfaction that one of her bedspreads took a third place white ribbon in the just completed Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. Each of her six sons and daughters have received tablecloths executed by the nimble fingers of Mrs. Moore, who, at age 81, requires no glasses to do the close work required by crocheting.

Pampa Girl Treated For Crash Injuries

A 19-year-old Pampa girl, Candice Merrill, Rt. 1, was treated and released from Highland General Hospital Monday after being treated for injuries she received in a two-car accident Monday night.

Miss Merrill was the passenger in a car driven by Linda Kay Jordan, 21, of 701 S. Ballard, that collided with a vehicle driven by Charles Cauthorn, 40, of 1101 Darby.

Neither driver was injured. Damage to the Jordan car was estimated at $450 while the Cauthorn auto sustained $350 damages.

According to patrolman Joe Brewer the Jordan car was traveling west on Brown and Cauthorn was traveling east on Brown and attempted to turn left into a drive-in.

Cauthorn was cited for failure to grant right-of-way.

Fine Arts Ass'n Extends Time To Get Memberships

Deadline for subscribing to charter memberships in the Pampa Fine Arts Association was extended by the board of directors at a meeting held yesterday.

Pampans may still become charter members of the newly-established cultural group until Dec. 31, 1966.

George Cree Jr., president, said that membership cards are in the process of being printed and will be mailed to patrons as soon as they are received. Plans were finalized for the Art-Musicale Tea, which will feature the art works of Maurice Benison of Canadian on Oct. 9 from two until five p.m. in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

Cree said that a calendar of future events is being drawn up and will be sent to association members in the near future.

Dear Abby....

'Living Right' Will Give Real Happiness

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice and fast. I am a married woman with six children. The oldest is seven. I am in love with a married man with five children. This may seem silly, but I think I need him more than his wife. I am willing to give up everything for him, including my children, although I am a very good mother.

I have a steady, devoted husband, but I don't really love him. He will buy me anything, but I don't care. I love him.

Should I call his wife, tell her I love her husband, and ask her to let him go? He says he loves me, but he still loves his wife in a way. (Is this possible?) I don't want my name used, so sign me.

TORN APART
DEAR TORN: What you feel for this "other man" is a strong physical attraction — the kind most girls experience in high school, but get over as they grow up. I suggest you concentrate on being the "good" mother you claim to be, and appreciate the "steady, devoted" husband you say is yours.

The other man is probably similarly infatuated with you, but the lives of 11 children and 2 adults depend upon you straightening up and living right. How about it?

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my mother won't let me go in a car with a boy unless she knows him. That means he has to come to the house and talk to her a little while first. Well, this one real cute boy I met had to pass the "chat-with-mother" test, but once they started talking, mother took up my whole evening. We never did get to the movie. Finally when it was too late to go anywhere mother suggested we all get into his car and she'd buy us ice cream cones like we were 150 years old or something. Mother did all the talking and she had a great time.

Of course I never heard from the boy again. Do you think it was fair for my mother to act that way and spoil my chances?

LOST HIM
DEAR LOST HIM: No, although I'm sure your mother was only trying to entertain the young man for your sake. Too bad some grown-ups who are always telling kids to act their age, don't act theirs.

DEAR ABBY: Last week we entertained some lifetime friends in our home for several days. As they were leaving, they offered us some money which we of course did not accept.

Is it considered proper to offer a host and hostess money? And would it be a breach of etiquette for the host and hostess to accept it?

I. M. WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: A guest should never offer his host money in return for hospitality. And if offered, the host should politely refuse it.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bible Study Is Started at Meet Of WS Guild

Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church met Monday evening in the church parlor. Miss Alma Wilson presided, presided, over the meeting. In the business session, the district meeting at Canadian was discussed and plans were made to attend.

The Spiritual Life Retreat at Ceta Canyon was discussed and plans made to attend. This is a 24-hour spiritual growth vigil led by Dr. Jordan Grooms of Amarillo.

Miss Lillian Mullinax, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Libby Shotwell and she in turn started the new study for the new year. She will lead the Bible study from the text, "Christian Being and Doing" which is based on the books of James and I Peter. She said, "How timely the letters of James are today, even though written 2,000 years ago."

Mrs. Shotwell called upon Miss Ila Pool to tell why James was written and which James really wrote the Book of James in the New Testament.

Miss Inez Clubb gave the contrast between the Books of James and I Peter. "The book of James has never been popular because it's too blunt and severe," she said.

Mrs. Rachel Jones gave a resume of the first chapter of the Book of Peter with titles for each paragraph.

Mrs. Diamia Woods gave the devotional on "Prayer" at the close of the meeting.

Twenty members were present. The next meeting on the study will be Oct. 3 in the church parlor.

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD

Girl Scouting is getting into full swing again. Troops are resuming regular meetings and new troops are being organized. Welcome to new Brownie troop in Mobeetie. Troop 190 will soon be having their investiture ceremony turning eight little girls into Brownies. Members of this troop are Melody Burch, Melinda Morgan, Candie Shelton, Sallie Shelton, Tammy Eads, Diana Hilburn, Carol Seitz and Renea Bradley. Mrs. C. W. Burch is leader and Mrs. Jimmy King is assistant leader. Thelma's Beauty Shop is sponsoring the troop. A very eager group to become Scouts. Such enthusiasm is to be admired.

Troops 4 and 54 had ideal weather for their over-night held last Friday. These troops shared the facilities of Camp Mel Davis with each planning separate activities. Mrs. T. M. Whitley, leader of Troop 4, shopped Friday for items for the troop menu. It sounded delicious. The girls planned the menu and being growing Scouts, whether boys or girls, they know what is good to eat.

Troop 54, Mrs. Raymond Laycock, leader, and Mrs. Jackson Black, assistant, expected to cook their meal out-of-doors. These troops are certainly enthusiastic about their outings at Camp Mel Davis. Jean Neslage and Mary Margaret McBride were to accompany these troops, fulfilling part of their Scouting program.

Mrs. Black reported that their troop is earning their Dressmaker badge, with the able assistance of Mrs. Earl Edwards. The troop would like to acknowledge and show their appreciation of this service. Troop consultants give freely of their time and experience to help Girl Scouts accomplish requirements on badges.

A council-wide "Caravan Training" has been scheduled. Four trainers will tour giving training for the Girl Scout program. Discussing girls, program planning, and Troop government with workshops being planned for arts and crafts, songs and games and outdoor skills. All four program levels, Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior, will be covered in this program. All leaders should make a special effort to attend. Shamrock will have this training tomorrow, Sept. 27. Pampa is scheduled for Oct. 14 at the Girl Scout Little House at 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Leaders are to bring a sack lunch. Eating lunch together is a good opportunity for leaders to get acquainted and discuss troop plans.

Cadette Workshop will be Thursday, Sept. 29, at the Girl Scout Little House. Leaders are asked to bring a sack lunch for this program.

Troop -69, Mrs. G. J. Boyd, leader and Mrs. E. Stubbs, assistant, is to have its Court of Awards Thursday, Sept. 29, at the Girl Scout Little House at 4 p.m. This troop met throughout the summer and several badges have been earned. The parents are to attend the ceremony. The girls are anxious to receive badges, to help complete their badge sash. They think their sashes look "bare" now. Members of the troop are Leslie Allison, Trene Blount, Brenda Boyd, Terri Fry, Sherilyn Hed-rick, Karren McInair, Sheila Reames, Sherry Ridener, Belinda Scott, Linda Stubbs and Jannetta Touchstone.

Earlene Sutton and Diana Goodwin were lending a helping hand by typing Saturday morning in the United Fund office. Members of Troop 69 helping to "stuff" envelopes were Brenda Boyd, Sherilyn Hedrick,

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Automation: Effort to make the work so easy that woman can do it all.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bob Bailey and daughter Kathy spent Saturday visiting Mrs. Bailey's mother, Mrs. Elma Bailey and other relatives. They attended the West Texas football game Saturday night. Their son is a member of the football team.

J. M. Forrest and Frank Carter and daughter, Mrs. Gladys Hollon, were welcomed back at Thursday's meeting after an absence. Mrs. Hollon lives in China Lake, Calif., and is going to spend some time here with her father.

Mrs. P. H. Gates spent the weekend with her son Rev. Charles Gates and wife. Rev. Gates is pastor of the Methodist Church in Clarendon.

Two of Senior Center members, Mrs. C. C. DeMoss and Mr. Ellison, died last week. We extend deepest sympathy to the members of their families.

Mrs. Verda Adair has been missed for several weeks. She is still confined to her home and would enjoy friends dropping in.

Mrs. Irma Tubbs enjoyed a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Gene Southwick and family and got in some good fishing over in Missouri last week.

Mrs. Ruff Hill visited her granddaughter, Mrs. Bill Ricks and family in Fritch last weekend.

Mrs. Ada Olson was back at the Center after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Heaton and family in Killen the past six weeks.

Among those attending the Fair in Amarillo last week were Mrs. Maggie Deal, who she also visited her sister, Mrs. Fred Posey and a niece.

Mrs. Myrtle Kidwell was reported in the Highland Hospital for a check up.

Miss Lucy Heracher spent Tuesday in Spearman visiting her sister Mrs. W. H. Tarbox.

Mrs. A. D. Hills accompanied by Miss Lou Ella Patterson and Mrs. Turner Kirby, left Friday for Sweetwater, to attend the DAR Divisional meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rodgers Jr. and daughter, Mary Ellen of Tulsa, Okla., visited his parents and grandmother, Mrs. Linnie Chandler, last weekend. Rebecca Lodge served as hostess group Thursday. Serving home made pie and coffee during the refreshment period were Mmes. Hazel Franklin, Lillie Hollis, Dorothy Voyles, Louise Neugin, Nelda Monday, Nellie Stapleton, Ellen Kretzmeier and Ola McAfee.

Door prizes went to Mmes. Nettie Cornelson, Mrs. Mae Flavin, C. W. Lawrence.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The scene now shifts to solving whatever problems may be presented to world figures and nations as well as to individuals such as you and me and we find that there is a considerable amount of resentment for work that just has to be done, so by lending our shoulders to the wheel much of what you are attending with real results.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Better worrying about spilt milk when a calm attitude can help you do it all most intelligently. Others expect some help from you. Be sure to give it and be very practical. This could be very important to them.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — While you may feel that you are not reaching your goals as fast as you should, if you clarify your present plans, you find you make real progress. Your vision becomes clearer. Practical problems can be eliminated quickly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Show that you are serious in that you will gladly carry through with whatever outside or civic matters most appeal to them. This will bring success as well as true support. That pending bill should be paid without further ado. Stop procrastinating.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Wasting any time on the unimportant when there are excellent ideas that need to be expressed now would be foolish. Look to right sources for data that brings advancement. Show true intelligence.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Powerful experts will give you the ideas concerning what should be done so that you can get all of your affairs in more precise order. Some personal plans can also be discussed quietly. Be happy tonight.

VERGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Your associates have clever ideas to share with you, but you must double-check on them so that you know where they can be used best in your plans. Avoid those who are not friendly. Think carefully before you speak.

LIRIA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Show associates that you are more than willing to carry through with any work connected with new plans being made between you. Later, complete minute or special hobby, from out any kind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — It's better you use own investigative ideas instead of accepting favors of one who may not be entirely friendly to you or your interests. Postpone having to take action on any risky venture. Study well first.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Others at home may be in a rather pleasant mood, so use your kind manner to bring harmony back into the fold. Don't try to argue. A little gift or kind word can do far more to get things done.

Hamilton Back In The Saddle With Lynda Bird

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson, who has been dating other boy friends lately, apparently is back on the track with her No. 1 beau, actor George Hamilton.

The dark-haired Hamilton has been a near-constant companion to the President's 22-year-old daughter since she returned last week from a vacation in Hawaii.

After throwing a lavish Hollywood welcome-home party for Lynda, Hamilton accompanied her to the President's Texas ranch where he was a weekend guest.

He flew back to Washington with the First Family, was a White House guest, and planned to escort Lynda to a state dinner Monday night honoring West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

All the attention prompted some Washington observers to wonder whether another White House wedding might be in the offing.

Neither of the principals would discuss the romance.

Lynda, who has dated at least three other young men since Labor Day, still is job hunting, concentrating her efforts on New York, where Hamilton starts filming the movie "Jack of Diamonds" Oct. 3.

"She hasn't made up her mind about a job," said Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson. "She's considering a number of offers."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—At a dinner here next week the administrative management society will honor six government employees for valor above and beyond the call of duty in stamping out paperwork.

I am not ordinarily a great believer in testimonial dinners, but this is one time when I would like to have a hand in planning the affair.

If I were in charge of arrangements, I would hang a huge banner on the wall behind the head table. In block letters it would say: "They also serve who throw away."

10, which is the number of other cabinet members, it will give you some idea of the total magnitude.

Boland said the General Services Administration saved $17 million through paperwork reduction last year. He did not say, however, what happened to the money.

I thought about writing to GSA and asking where the money went, but then I learned that it cost $2.82 every time the government answers a letter. At those prices, some things are better left unsaid.

The Family Lawyer

Passenger In Distress
While seated in a cross-country bus, a woman accidentally twisted her knee, throwing it badly out of joint. Although she asked for a doctor, the driver said he had no time to arrange for that. He finally deposited her at her destination, 12 hours later.

In due course the woman sued the bus company, not only for causing her needless pain but also for making her condition worse. And the court upheld her claim.

True, the bus company was not even remotely to blame for the woman's original injury. And, as rule, the law does not require Good Samaritanism—that is, it does not require one person to go to the aid of another in distress.

Six Heroes
The six heroes would be presented with a decoration called the paperwork medal of honor. Its heraldic emblem would be a mimeograph machine rampant on a field of overturning wastebaskets.

At the present time it is difficult to pin down just how much paperwork the federal government does.

Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., a veteran explorer in the carbon paper jungle, said last May that paper work takes about 7 per cent of the federal budget, or roughly $7 billion this year.

On the other hand, Robert C. Walter, executive director of the Administrative Management Society, estimates the cost at more than $8 billion a year.

Since nobody knows for sure just how much paperwork is produced nobody can tell for certain how much good, if any, the anti-paperwork campaign is doing.

Large File
We do know, however, that the government now has about 23,000,000 cubic feet of paperwork on file.

We also know that the average filing cabinet occupies five square feet of office space, valued at an average of $3.27 per square foot.

Last January it was estimated that the Agriculture Department alone had 155,000 filing cabinets. If you take Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman and multiply him by

Shortage Of Waves Plagues Southern California Surfers

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LOS ANGELES (NEA) — Who would ever have believed the time would come when there would be a shortage of waves? That's the biggest problem facing southern California's surfers. The waves keep rumbling in, rolling up in a blue-green swell and cresting with an inviting kiss of white water male contact with a swimmer's head. Surfers understand this and are sympathetic, but they feel they have a right to the ocean, too. Any many are chafing under the restrictions. Most beaches have set aside a certain area for surfing, and then only at specified times. Typical is San Clemente Beach in Orange County. There, surfers are only allowed to Seal Beach's 100-yard-wide surfing area. "The congestion makes for dangerous conditions," Kobzev says. "We may have to go after 12 kids on a busy day — cut heads and abrasions from being hit by a board." The flavor of surfing is changing in southern California. It is no longer a fad; now it is a sport. There are fewer gremmys and more hot doggers.

WHEN THAT PERFECT WAVE swishes by, it just has to be ridden. Hence the traffic jam.

before crashing on the beaches. There would seem, to a casual wave-watcher, to be plenty of them. But not to surfers. As beach after beach limits both the time and the area in which the surfboard set can frolic, the shortage of waves has become acute. Now, on any of the better surfing beaches along its Pacific Coast, you can see surfers vying for position, competing for waves.

More and more people are taking up surfing — although some feel the surf flood tide has crested. But more and more limits are being set on when and where the surfers can practice their art. It's the law of supply and demand, operating in the water.

The reason for the limitations is expressed simply by Seal Beach senior life guard Peter Kobzev: "Surfers and swimmers do not mix."

Any beach that has a family trade—kids paddling about at the edge of the surf—cannot allow free surfing. A surfer who "wipes out" (falls off) lets loose a dangerous weapon — his board, about 30 pound of tough polyurethane foam built around a wood core. As the wave catches the board and tosses it about, it could, and often has, a stretch of about 100 yards. Surfing hours are down to 10 a.m. and then from 5 p.m. to sunset. The rest of the day — and the rest of the beach — belongs to the swimmers. Naturally, this means there are a lot of surfers concentrated in a small area, when the beach is open to surfing. Life guard Kobzev estimates that on a busy weekend, there are as many as 400 surfers crowded in

A gremmy is a kid just starting out. A hot dogger is an experienced surfer, who can handle his board well. Southern California beaches itself to surfing. The beaches are usable the year around — it gets chilly in winter, but not too chilly for a healthy young man in a wet suit — and most beaches have good surfing conditions. The waves here are not as large as in, say, Hawaii, but they are better than the East Coast.

Surfers have developed their own language, their own music, their own customs and mores. Because the sport attracted some of the idle teen-agers, it got a bad name. It was associated in most minds with juvenile delinquency. That has changed in the last year or so. The faddists moved on to the drug and watusi. This left the beaches for the dedicated enthusiasts — and there are thousands of them.

They still have their own language — if you've done a good job, you've "stoked," if you're just sitting around the beach, you're a "hoe-dad" — and they have their own clothes — surfers prefer "baggies," a kind of loose-fitting trunks for surfing — and many of the old customs survive.

But today's surfers are clean-cut, short-haired, well behaved. They are seldom in trouble. They go about their sport with a single-mindedness that precludes delinquency. And most of them have surfer's knots — calcium deposits on their feet and knees from long hours of kneeling on a hard board. These can be cut out surgically, but few surfers like to go that route. Many of them find surfer's knots are a convenient thing to have at draft time; they lead to a deferment.

Most of today's surfers own their boards, an indication of their seriousness of purpose. The average board — 9'8" of plastic-coated wood — costs $140. But many cost more because of their larger size or special decorations. Dewey Weber, a board builder in Venice, recently put a picture of Batman on the bottom of a 10'-4" board, and the purchaser happily paid $50 for the art work.

All this was helped to change the image of surfing. Today there are surfing meets, surfing races, surfing contests. It is a sport and, in their enthusiasm, surfers run neck and neck with

NIGHT BLINDERS

The person with 20/40 daytime vision may have only 20/100 vision at night, according to authorities. Driving at night, guided only by car headlights, such a person suffers much the same effect as if wearing dark glasses and blinders—a lethal combination. Ability to see straight ahead is limited to range of the headlights, about 350 feet maximum. Since headlights shine only to the front, lateral vision is virtually zero. The driver is in a "tunnel of vision," seeing only the road immediately ahead. With the nighttime traffic death rate two and a half times the daytime rate, the Street and Highway Safety Lighting Bureau urges better street lighting as a means of overcoming this problem and making streets safer for drivers and pedestrians alike. By illuminating the pavement continuously, street lighting enables the driver to see as far ahead at night as in daytime. Properly designed, such lighting also enables drivers to see danger approaching from the sides. What you can't see can kill you.

In 1959, the worst typhoon in Japanese history killed 4,964 persons and injured 9,000.

Thespians In Rehearsal Of Shakespeare's 'Dream'

Pampa High School Thespians are in rehearsal for the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" to be presented Oct. 18-19 in the high school auditorium. The play, a comic fantasy, revolves around the romantic mis-adventures of two Athenian couples, Lysander (David Hefner) and Hermia (Lyssa Bossay); Demetrius (Jan Farley) and Helena (Cherie Akst).

Weaving the threads of plot into the fabric of a play is Puck portrayed by Jan Pitts, as a mischievous sprite who mingles the destinies of mortals with those of Titania (Betsy Goodwyn) and Oberon (Fred Barber), the fairy king and queen.

Mike Sublett, Daniel Bond, Steve Bossay, Jerry Woodward, Smisson Goodlett and Beau Bond are cast as a group of actors who present a play within the play. Fairy servants of Titania will be played by Diana Goodwin, Rae Jean Perkins, Jamilou Schaffer and Jeanie Bell.

Principal characters in the wedding of Thesus and Hyppolyta are played by Sam Cochran and Betha Lee Stubbs. Philostrate, Thesus' servant.

A second presentation of Shakespeare has been scheduled for showing when the National Shakespeare Company, a professional troupe from New York, will present Hamlet on Feb. 13 in Pampa Junior High auditorium.

This production will be sponsored by the Pampa Fine Arts Association and the high school English and drama departments.

MORBID QUESTION

SOLIHULL, England (UPI)—Parents have called for the dismissal of a morbid school teacher here who asked his science class the following question:

"A man is hanging on a rope in a prison death chamber. The man weighs 168 pounds. What is the tension of the rope?"

The Pampa-Plainview series, which will be resumed here Friday night has been a good one with the two battling almost on an even keel.

Plainview has won two in a row, winning in 1965, 20-7 and 1964, 14-0. Most of the games played have been equally as close.

Bucks Best

In district 3-4A Tascosa has 93 points to lead the nine other clubs but Amarillo and Monterey have the best defenses, having allowed 25 points in three games.

Everybody's Well Except Longhorns

By United Press International Southwest Conference schools came out of last Saturday's round of games in fairly good shape physically, except for the one team that needed an injury-free weekend most of all—Texas.

The Longhorns lost another starter for the year in their battle against Texas Tech last Saturday. Sophomore center Ken Gidney was sidelined for the season with a knee injury to become the fifth key Longhorn to be crippled this year.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, viewing his growing list of walking wounded, said "we have eight more games and we will have to close ranks and march on."

Starting offensive guard Ronnie Landry also injured an elbow and defensive guard D. H. Martin sprained an ankle in the Tech contest, but they are expected to recover quickly.

Bunning Remains Spoiler

By United Press International It's no water off Jim Bunning's back if he helps the Los Angeles Dodgers win the National League pennant.

Bunning, who has dampened the hopes of San Francisco and Pittsburgh all season, was in the shower when he learned he had just posted his 19th victory of the year on Philadelphia's 5-4, 11-inning victory over the Pirates Monday night that virtually shut the pennant door to the Bucs.

The veteran righthander actually has been the spoiler for Los Angeles. He now has beaten Pittsburgh five times in six decisions this season and owns a 4-1 record over San Francisco.

Los Angeles' magic number dropped to four, with Bunning's able assist, as the Dodgers helped their own cause by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3. San Francisco remained in third place, four games back, by virtue of an 8-2 triumph over Atlanta.

New York at Cincinnati was rained out in the only other scheduled N.L. action.

Denny McLain won his 20th game of the year as Detroit edged California 2-1. In other American League games, Boston split a pair with Washington, winning the first 5-0 and dropping the nightcap 3-2.

Bunning was warming up in the bullpen for his next start when Philadelphia manager Gene Mauch put in a hurry call to his ace righthander. Bunning allowed one walk and then departed for the clubhouse.

The Phillies appreciated his rare relief stint and promptly brought home the winning run on Dick Groat's fourth hit of the game, a pair of walks and Johnny Briggs' towering single that his high off the right field wall.

Philadelphia took an early 3-1 lead in the third when Harvey Kuenn's two-out single sent three runners across the plate. Don Clendenen hit his 27th homer of the year in the fourth inning to cut Philadelphia's lead to one run and the Pirates tied it in the sixth on Bill Mazeroski's single.

Irish Jump To 3rd Place

NEW YORK (UPI) — A green for inexperience passing combination of Terry Hanratty-to-Jim Seymour has made Notre Dame a national championship contender and the rest of the nation's colleges green with envy.

Hanratty, an 18-year-old quarterback, and Seymour, a 19-year-old receiver, tossed the ball around 13 times for 276 yards Saturday as the Irish smashed Purdue 26-14 and swept into third place in the United Press International board of coaches football ratings.

Notre Dame, whose lack of a topflight passer last season cost the Irish dearly, thus threatened the reign of Michigan State as the No. 1 team in the nation. The teams will meet at East Lansing later in the season.

Spectacular victory over Purdue, which had been rated seventh the previous week, shot the Irish all the way from 12th place into a contending position behind U.C.L.A., which held second.

Michigan State, following a 42-8 drubbing of Penn State, received 18 first-place votes and 305 points, U.C.L.A., which faces a stern test this weekend from 11th-ranked Missouri, had eight first-place nominations and 268 points while Notre Dame drew two first-place votes and 249 points.

There was a gap of 75 points separating Notre Dame and fourth-place Alabama, which opened its season with an unimpressive 34-0 win over Louisiana Tech. Southern California, Nebraska and Michigan each slipped in the ratings despite victories Saturday.

Southern Cal, third a week ago, smashed Wisconsin 38-3 but plummeted from third to fourth place.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United Press International major college football ratings with first-place votes and won-lost-tied records in parentheses:

Team	Points
1. MSU (18) (2-0)	305
2. UCLA (8) (2-0)	268
3. Notre Dame (2) (1-0)	249
4. Alabama (2) (1-0)	174
5. USC (2) (2-0)	155

16. Purdue 5-1	69
17. Mississippi and Wyoming 4-1	68
18. Oklahoma and Baylor 3-1	67

Top-ranked Seany, which beat Wharton 29-0 last week, faces once-beaten Edna and should be able to handle the Cowboys with the same ease with which the Bulldogs have whitewashed three Class AAA clubs.

Second-ranked Iowa Park, a 14-7 conqueror of Wichita Falls Hirschi, tackles AAA Burkhardt, and defending state champion Plano (No. 3), which beat Bonham 28-7, plays AAA Lancaster. Both AA clubs will be favored.

Fourth-ranked Brady, the only Top Tenner to lose last week when it bowed to Winters 16-6, runs into another stout foe when it plays unbeaten Colorado City.

Delmar H. Watkins, owner of the Gibson Discount Center, Pampa, Texas, is no stranger to ownership of Gibson Discount Stores.

The 35-year old Watkins also has partial ownership in Gibson Discount Center, Hereford, and Gibson Discount Center, Borger, together with Chester Thompson.

Watkins is President of Delmar Watkins Properties, Inc., Sandra Wholesale Co., Gibson Products of Hereford, and Gibson Products of Borger.

Born in Canadian, Okla., in 1930, Watkins attended both elementary and high school there, graduating from Canadian High School in 1948. After four years of service in the United States Air Force, Watkins went on to attend Oklahoma State and North Texas State Universities, where he majored in Business Administration and minored in Accounting.

In 1956 Watkins went to work for National Cash Register Co., working in the Dallas and Amarillo offices of the firm for seven years.

In 1963, Watkins opened his first Gibson Discount Center in Pampa, Store No. 79, and his association with Gibson's as one of their franchise owners has been a fruitful one ever since.

When asked about his future plans, Watkins said, "If the tight money situation doesn't get too bad we will continue to grow with the Gibson organization by opening additional units as financial backing permits."

Watkins and his wife Sandra, a native of Van Alstyne, Texas, live at 1820 Fir in Pampa, with their sons Joe, 10, and Mike, 6.

Further Expansion Planned for Store

Gibson's Discount Center in Pampa, which opened to the public on October 1, 1963, has already been enlarged once and plans call for further expansion in the near future.

The store originally occupied about 22,000 square feet and was increased by 3,000 square feet this summer.

Tentative plans call for an additional 10,000 square feet to be constructed on the west side of the present site this Spring, according to Delmar Watkins, store owner.

Gibson Now In 22 States

States in which Gibson Discount Centers operate are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Wyoming.

Small Appliances

Small appliances at Gibson's Discount Center, all well-known brands, include hair driers, vacuum cleaners, floor polishers, irons, electric knives, mixers, toasters, broilers, electric skillets, toothbrushes . . . and many other products.

Bob Crippen Is Gibson's Manager

BOB CRIPPEN

Bob Crippen, manager of Gibson's Discount Center in Pampa, is a native of Salem, Ill., where he graduated from high school in 1956. He came here in 1960 as warehouse manager for Baroid.

In August of 1963, he started with Gibson's in Pampa in the receiving department when this store first opened.

He has held the position of store manager for the past two years.

Crippen and his wife, Janice, have one son, Mike, age 6. The couple operated a small drive-in restaurant for two years.

Fishing and sports car-racing are Crippen's hobbies and his ambition he says, "Is to keep prices down in Pampa."

Gibson's Emphasizes Name Brand Products

Emphasis on name brand merchandise from reputable manufacturers or importers "at reasonable prices" is credited as a major factor in "spontaneous" acceptance of Gibson Discount Centers across the country and growth of the franchise organization into a network of some 270 stores since 1958.

H. R. Gibson Products Co., which serves the franchise network, notes that over 75 per cent of all merchandise in the Gibson stores bears recognized name brands. This applies to all departments.

The central offices at Seagoville, Tex., utilize the cumulative buying power generated by total volume of all Gibson stores to attain volume pricing in dealing with various manufacturers and importers.

As a result, Mr. Gibson noted that major brand lines are made available to the various Gibson stores at substantial savings.

FRED COOPER

Cooper Joins G-Pharmacy

A 16-month resident of Pampa, Fred Cooper has joined Gibson's Discount Pharmacy.

A registered pharmacist, Cooper graduated from Southwestern State College School of Pharmacy in 1965.

Born in Turkey, Texas, he is a graduate of Panhandle High School.

Cooper lives with his wife and 3-year old son at 1124 Seneca.

Gibson's Discount Pharmacy features discounts of 25 to 60 per cent off regular price for all prescriptions, according to Cooper.

GENE SIONS

Pharmacists Sions, Copeland Give Regular Discounts

Pharmacists Gene Sions and Dean Copeland, owners and operators of Gibson Discount Pharmacy in Borger and Pampa, are also celebrating their anniversary. The prescription center, located in the rear of both stores, operate at standard Gibson store discounts — from 25 to 60 per cent off the regular retail price for all prescriptions.

Copeland, a resident of Pampa, lives with his wife, Carolyn and their two children at 1605 Fir.

A 1956 graduate of Oklahoma State College with a degree in pharmacy, Copeland has lived in Texas nine years. He helped develop the poison Control Center at Borger's North Plains Hospital, which contains antidotes for over 10,000 natural and household poisons.

Sions is also a graduate of Southwestern State's School of Pharmacy, having received his degree in 1951. He has lived in Texas for the past ten years and in Borger since 1958. Sions and his wife Frances and their four children live at 130 Abilene, Borger.

Parking Space For 300 Autos

Parking area at Pampa's Gibson's Discount Center is measured in acres where some 300 automobiles may be accommodated at one time.

"We realize today's shopper must often prefer to drive to do her shopping . . . and she wants convenient parking," says Delmar Watkins, owner of the local Gibson organization.

"When a shopper reaches our store she should find a reasonably convenient place to park . . . and it's for free."

PREPARING FOR THIRD ANNIVERSARY SALE — "Gibson" girls stock shelves in the health and beauty aids department of the Gibson Discount Center in Pampa. The health and beauty aids department features famous brand names well-known to women everywhere — all at Gibson Discount prices.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Support for Right to Know

For months, even years now, the press has been made the whipping boy by the lawyers, judges and bar associations for pre-trial publicity that they say endangers a criminal suspect's right to a fair trial.

The press, on its part, has duly recorded all of the outcries, the adoption of all the lawmakers' codes of criminal procedure and the lawyers' canons of professional ethics. At the same time, the press itself has done a great deal of soul searching of its own.

Like the lawyers, however, the discussion has dealt almost entirely, in generalities: freedom of speech versus the need to protect the rights of the individual accused of a crime.

A voice of sanity in a tower of Babel is the statement made by a federal judge in a panel discussion before the Bar Association for the 7th Federal Circuit in Chicago. Judge J. Skelly Wright is a member of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

This in-part, is what Judge Wright said to his lawyer and judge colleagues:

"We can point out isolated cases where there has been extreme prejudicial publicity and an acquittal has resulted, but this is rather the exception that proves the rule.

"I would await a complete study before I generalize from these isolated cases.

"No one has ever been able to demonstrate that prejudicial publicity caused a conviction or caused an acquittal, and this is one of the important arguments that is made by the press, and I think it is a valid argument.

Until we in the bar and on the bench can produce some evidence—we deal in evidence—which would show the effect of this so-called prejudicial publicity, it cannot be regarded as an established fact.

"It is up to us to show and demonstrate to the news media that if publicity does have a detrimental effect on the rights of the accused before we can rule the press 'off limits' to various public officials' offices or various investigative offices or from various police stations."

Coming from a judge and a lawyer, that statement makes good sense to us.

And on the positive side in an article in the July issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, published by the U. S. Department of Justice, which is run by lawyers.

The article relates the success of "the FBI's world-renowned 'Ten Most Wanted Fugitives' program."

And this, again in part, is what it says:

"This vigorous fugitive-catching project, which began on March 14, 1950, with the cooperation of the American press, has proved a highly valuable example of teamwork. It has achieved dramatic success, enlisting the cooperative efforts of the law-abiding public in fighting the criminal parasites constantly striving to undermine national law and order.

"Indicative of the achievements of this program is the box score of 'Top Ten' captures, which during the first 16 years totaled 215. What is more, everyday citizens, responding to an invitation to help protect themselves through alert vigilance, have directly aided in providing valuable information which helped in the location of 81 of these 215 former 'Top Ten'."

"The FBI feels that this program has greatly contributed to the solution of one law enforcement's most perplexing problems, that of the fast moving far-ranging criminal fugitive.

"Concentrated and continuous publicity has proved exceedingly important in eliminating sanctuaries for these wanted criminals, and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has frequently paid tribute to the demonstrated public service interest of responsible American press media, such as newspapers, magazines, radio and television."

So we have the three views:

1. FBI Director Hoover says that "concentrated and continuous publicity" has proved "exceedingly important" in tracking down persons charged—but not yet convicted—with being fugitives from justice.

2. A federal judge says it never has been proved that pretrial publicity in itself ever caused either an acquittal or a conviction.

3. Lawyers in general and many prosecutors in particular seek laws to keep the press from printing anything about a pending case.

The debate goes on. It appears however, that there are some lawyers and judges and law enforcement officers who believe that the people's right to know is at least equally as vital—maybe more so—as any fancied danger that a criminal will go free or be convicted because of pretrial publicity.

Fur To Fly As GOP Bids In Georgia

By BRUCE BOSSAT

Washington Correspondent
ATLANTA (NEA) — Georgia's first Republican governor nominee since 1874, Rep. Howard (Bo) Callaway, is a strong front-runner today, but if former governor Ellis Arnall can win an expected Democratic runoff victory Sept. 28 he may turn this race into a close and extremely bitter battle.

No Georgia political observers think Arnall can be beaten in the runoff by his surprise competitor, segregationist Lester Maddox, who gained minor fame by closing his Atlanta restaurant rather than desegregate it.

But some cautious voices suggest Maddox may poll a big vote, enhanced possibly by Republican crossers bent on embarrassing Arnall and by a white backlash reflecting again the recent racial disturbances in Atlanta.

It is assumed that the backlash thrust Maddox into the runoff, even though he was operating with very little money.

But the word is that even some ardent anti-Arnall politicians cannot take Maddox seriously. Arnall could pick up heavy support from backers of both the moderate James Carter, state legislator, and conservative James Gray, publisher. These two ran close behind Maddox.

If Arnall wins, he is counted upon to cut loose on Callaway with a savage assault that could easily descend to the personal level. One item sure to be tossed in—Callaway's special trip back to Washington to vote against a minimum wage increase, an event Arnall would set against a backdrop of 50 major roll calls allegedly missed by Callaway.

Other spots considered vulnerable by the Arnall forces include Callaway's inherited fortune and his "hardship" discharge from the Army. He is a West Point graduate who saw some service in Korea as an infantry lieutenant.

Arnall, of course, is the old-time reform Democrat who won the governorship in 1942 by beating Sen. Herman Talmadge's father, Eugene. Talmadge says he will support the "party nominee," but no one looks for him to make any real effort for an Arnall candidacy. Sen. Richard Russell, his own re-election assured, probably will not lift a finger in the governorship race.

Some observers find it hard to believe, however, that lesser leaders in Georgia would not pitch in for Arnall. Statehouse control is endangered for the first time in 92 years. And Callaway is plunging for the election of flocks of GOP nominees to state legislative, county and other offices.

At 39, the attractive Callaway is cutting a wide swath with appeals for himself and others. Traveling the state in a red, white and blue "Bo bus," he seems to be putting together a potent coalition of racial and economic conservatives.

Elected to Congress in Barry Goldwater's Georgia sweep in 1964, Callaway is an unabashed Goldwaterite. At a recent evening rally in an Atlanta park, he appeared to be echoing 1964 when he quoted Henry Ford as saying years ago: "You don't cure poverty with charity. You cure it with work."

Callaway promises platform-style specifics after the Democratic runoff. Throughout the early phase of his campaign he has limited himself to extolling individualism, states' rights and local government.

The young millionaire from Pine Mountain, owner today of a lush recreation layout called Callaway Gardens, has built an organizational effort of a sort probably never before seen in the Old South at the governorship level.

The 1964 Goldwater field troops provide the base, but it evidently has been broadened. Callaway people claim 36,000 volunteers. Campaign headquarters walls are alive with charts and maps. A costly computer is drawing voter profiles, and the nominee targets the areas with the richest vote potential. It all has the look of a southern-style Kennedy operation.

Callaway seems to fit the "we can still stop desegregation" mood of many Georgians and other southerners, yet he also has the physical cast of the "new breed." Arnall, by contrast, is reported by pollsters to offer the image of an old-style, liberal-spending liberal. He could be outdistanced.

Nevertheless, he is not likely to be outflung. Therein lies the prospect seen by some that the

Despite House Scheduling, Anti-Poverty Bill Action Unlikely Before Election Because of Damaging Criticism of Program

WASHINGTON — The House is slated next week to consider a rule to take up the long-stalled $1.75 billion anti-poverty authorization bill, but it's a toss-up when this holly embattled legislation actually will be acted on.

It's not at all unlikely that nothing will be done about it until after the November election. This major Great Society measure has been awaiting House consideration since late June. A principal reason for this extraordinary delay is administration fear that bipartisan disillusionment with the anti-poverty program has become so intense that it will be extensively dismantled by amendments from the House floor.

This strong possibility accounts for the backstage report that anti-poverty legislation will be quietly allowed to go over until after the November balloting. That means if Congress recesses around the middle of next month, the issue presumably would be brought up in a lame-duck session in the closing weeks of this year. On the other hand, if Congress adjourns, the anti-poverty program could be continued by a resolution allowing it to function on the basis of last year's budget until the new Congress convenes in January.

Actually, anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver has been doing that since July 1, start of the current fiscal year. A bill is ready and waiting to drastically recast the widely controversial anti-poverty setup. Sponsored by Representatives Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., and Albert Quie, R-Minn., members of the Labor Committee, which has jurisdiction over this legislation, and supported by Democrats, the measure would:

Strip the Office of Economic Opportunity, headed by Shriver, of all its programs except Community Action and VISTA. The training programs would be turned over to the Labor Department; educational programs, including Headstart, to the Office of Education; and the remaining programs, to the Small Business Administration, Farmers Home Administration, etc.

Community Action funds would be more than doubled, and a new Industry Youth Corps would be established under which "private employers would be given a realistic incentive to hire untrained young people between 16 and 22, with one-third of their wages paid while they undergo on-the-job training in meaningful permanent employment."

CHEAPER AND BETTER — Backers of this substitute anti-poverty program, which they have labeled "Opportunity Crusade," claim it would cost $300 million less, double the funds personable Callaway can be pressed hard and even overturned.

WHAT STARTED IT — Cause of that sizzling headline clash between Representative Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., a junior member of the Labor Committee, and Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., was a caustic interview by the former in his hometown paper.

In the course of Gibbons' published comments, he characterized Powell as his "nemesis" and "a thorn in my side."

Although Gibbons was outnumbered by 14 other Democratic committeemen, Powell designated him chairman of a special subcommittee in charge of anti-poverty legislation. But although Gibbons had the title, Powell kept a tight rein on the group. He controlled its funds and everything else.

Apparently, that finally got under Gibbons' skin, and in this hometown interview he vented his ire.
