Guard To Prevent Violence In Cicero

CHICAGO (UPI) — Civil rights leaders led by Dr. Martin Luther King today worked on plans for their massive weekend march into the tense all-white suburb of Cicero. They scheduled another protest march in Chicago this afternoon.

Illinois National Guard Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane said he would meet later today with Cicero officials to determine how many guard troops would be sent there on Sunday.

Gov. Otto Kerner announced Wednesday he will activate the guard by executive order Friday. Cook County Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie said at least 2,000 troops would be needed to prevent bloodshed.

The Cicero march, high point of King's campaign on behalf of open housing here, will be led personally by the Nobel Peace Prize winner.

King scheduled a mass rally for tonight, following a scheduled protest march into the Chicago northwest side, an area which erupted into violence against the marchers previously.

Another rights leader, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, said the plans of King's "Chicago freedom movement" hinged on a planned Friday "summit conference" between protest leaders, clergymen, real estate dealers and city officials.

Jackson said if agreement on open occupancy was reached at the meeting, the Cicero march could be called off. The possibility was considered slight.

Kerner promised to call out the National Guard after Cicero and county officials told him there would be an "obvious disaster" if only their limited police force were available to protect the marchers. Violent anti-Negro rioting flared in Cicero in 1951.

4-LANE HIGHWAY WEST

U.S. 60 Paving To Start Soon

The State Highway Commission in Austin is expected to meet within the next day or two to award a million-dollar contract for construction of a 4-lane highway on U.S. 60 west from the Pampa city limits to the Carson County line.

Bids for the 7.3-mile project were opened Tuesday in Austin, according to Chill Smith, district highway engineer in Amarillo.

Gilvin-Terrill of Amarillo was low among three contractors with a bid of $1,020,850.90.

Smith said the contract was expected to be awarded tomorrow or Friday and construction on the widening and repaving of the highway from two to four lanes probably will get under way within the next month.

The district highway engineer said traffic would be maintained on the highway during construction.

He added that the project probably would not be completed until July or August of next year.

Word that the contract is to be awarded and actual work will be started soon brings a culmination of long-time efforts by Pampa's Chamber of Commerce highway committee and other city and county groups to get the highway project rolling.

Nixon Calls For Asia Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders, with an assist from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, today readied an endorsement of an "all-Asia" peace conference on Viet Nam.

The new GOP stance, which included a suggestion that such a conference might produce a kind of Monroe Doctrine for the Far East, was being hammered out at a House-Senate leadership meeting.

President Johnson told his news conference Wednesday that the administration would be "very pleased" to see a conference of Asian nations held to try to end the war in Viet Nam.

But, he added, "we think there is nothing to be gained by our urging it from the houseposts. We have made it clear that we would look with favor upon it. We think it would be desirable. But we are not trying to 'hard-sell' it because it could have an opposite effect."

Nixon has already given his own all-out endorsement to the all-Asia conference, as have a number of congressional Democrats, most notably Senate Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont.

Many Republicans will be glad to see some fresh position they can assume on Viet Nam that will picture them neither as "hawks" nor "doves" while still supporting a firm stand against the Communists.

Privately, they believe there still is no alternative to the military effort now being undertaken by the United States in South Viet Nam. But they will welcome the chance to present an affirmative proposal that has the appeal of a fresh outlook on the dilemma.

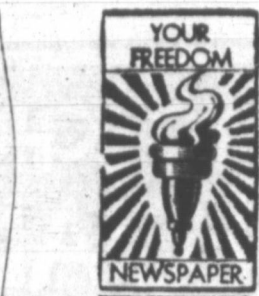

No Showers For a While

No showers are forecast for the next few days for Pampa and vicinity, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo, after several days of rain and fog.

Skies are to remain clear to partly cloudy through Friday, with warmer temperatures. High is expected to reach the mid-80s, with an overnight low in the upper 50s. Winds will be southerly 10 to 20 miles per hour. Outlook for Saturday is clear to partly cloudy skies, with mild weather.

Wednesday's high was 63, with an overnight low of 54. A trace of moisture was recorded in the Pampa Daily News rain gauge.

WEATHER
PAMPA AND VICINITY—Clear to partly cloudy through Friday. High in mid-80s. Low in upper 50s. Southerly winds 10 to 20 m.p.h. Outlook for Saturday, clear to partly cloudy and mild.

Illegal Ballot Search Now In Its Third Day

By TEX DEWESE
They were off and running again this afternoon in the Gray County Judge Ballot Box Sweepstakes.

The odds-on favorite and the dark horse were neck and neck in the back-stretch.

In other words, the battle of the recount had passed the halfway mark of its third round in court and Atty. A. J. Carubbi and incumbent Bill Craig were waiting for the ballot boxes to be opened beginning at 2 p.m. today.

At yesterday afternoon's session in Judge Lewis M. Goodrich's 31st District Court, the second day of the current re-hearing, the court completed its check on voters' stubs against names on the Republican and Democrat poll lists.

The end result yesterday was that the court came up with 69 illegal ballots instead of 71. Stubs for three of the names on both poll lists couldn't be found. But the court threw out one Democratic ballot because the voter cast her ballot in the wrong precinct. This made the total 69.

How long it will take to search out the 69 illegal ballots was open to speculation. Some guessed it would be Thursday or Friday before the outcome is known.

Ten precinct boxes and the absentee voter ballot box are the only ones involved. Boxes from Pcts. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6 were not included in Carubbi's original petition.

Starting at 2 o'clock this afternoon the court was to open the June 4 Democratic ballot boxes, match the stubs with the 69 illegal ballots, count the votes, see how many were for Craig and how many were for Carubbi and then subtract each candidate's total from the June 4 final count and see who had the most votes left. This, the Court of Appeals said in its Aug. 8 opinion, should enable Judge Goodrich to name the election winner and certify his name to be placed on the November ballot as Democratic nominee for county judge to run against Sherman R. Lenning, the Republican candidate for the office.

There was a brief ruckus at yesterday afternoon's session when attorneys for Craig asked to call witnesses to prove that four other voters had cast illegal ballots. It developed all four witnesses were out of town. The judge finally permitted the father of one of the witnesses to take the stand. He testified that his son and his son's wife had moved out of town, but he didn't know whether they were coming back or not. He said the son still belonged to the Pampa National Guard and had a business interest in Pampa. Craig's lawyers were attempting to prove the couple had voted here June 4 after having moved away from the city.

Judge Goodrich ruled their votes were legal, saying it he "had made another mistake" a higher court could rectify it.

Two other witnesses, persons whom Craig's counsel claimed voted illegally June 4 because they hadn't lived six months in Gray County, were not in court yesterday, although they had shown up the day before.

When Atty. Harold Comer, one of Craig's co-counsel team, was questioning the representative of a moving and transfer firm to establish when two voters had moved from town, Judge Goodrich called a halt to the open court proceeding and called all lawyers for both sides—seven or eight of them—into his private chambers for a brief talk. As he stepped down from the bench, the judge said, "I've had enough of this type of testimony." Since none of the four persons involved in the alleged illegal voting was there to testify, Judge Goodrich came back into the courtroom in just a couple of minutes with the lawyers trailing behind.

It was 4:35 p.m.

"We'll adjourn until 2 o'clock tomorrow at which time we will open the ballot boxes," the judge said.

For the sake of speculation, it was pointed out by a court observer that if 39 of the 69 illegal votes were cast for Craig and 30 for Carubbi—Carubbi would become the winner by 1 vote—1,747 to 1,746. If 38 votes went for Craig and 29 for Carubbi—Craig would be the winner by a 1-vote margin—1,747 to 1,746.

As for betting on the outcome, the odds were even as the entries moved into the starting gate this afternoon.

American Combat Deaths Are Down

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Planes struck North Viet Nam the heaviest blow of the war Wednesday, sending 300 to 500 planes against the enemy. Ground fighting also increased and a spokesman said today U.S. Marines had inflicted heavy casualties on the Communists in two battles near Da Nang.

In Saigon, American authorities acting on intelligence reports that a "wave of terrorism" was imminent with the start Friday of South Viet Nam's election campaign extended the curfew for U.S. soldiers and doubled guards around military and civilian installations.

Soviet Union's Moon Rocket Races to Luna

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's unmanned Luna 11 satellite raced toward the moon today on an apparent photo-snapping mission needed to fill a missing link in Russia's bid to put a man on the lunar surface.

If all goes well, Luna 11 was expected to join America's Lunar Orbiter 1 which has been circling the moon since Aug. 14 taking pictures of possible landing sites for U.S. astronauts.

Although the Kremlin gave few details of the satellite's mission, Western space experts here believed the 3,616-pound Luna 11 also was carrying cameras and would transmit to earth photographs of potential landing grounds for manned spacecraft.

Luna 11—the Russian's second moon orbital shot this year—was launched Wednesday. Earlier Soviet Luna satellites have taken important steps toward landing a man on the moon.

Luna 9 became the first man-made object to make a controlled landing on the moon Feb. 3. Luna 10 was the first man-made object to orbit the moon last April 3, and in 1959, Luna 3 took the first photographs of the moon's dark side, never before seen by man.

The United States has successfully duplicated the feats of the three Luna satellites with its moon-landing Surveyor 1 spacecraft and Lunar Orbiter 1, which was the first orbiting satellite to take pictures of the moon. Russia's Luna 10 did not transmit any pictures back to earth.

The Soviet news agency Tass said first reports indicated Luna 11 was near the desired trajectory and all its equipment was functioning properly.

Officials Criticize Texas Water Plan

The overall statewide 2020 Water Plan proposed by the Texas Water Development Board is not fair and equitable to West Texas and the Texas Panhandle.

That was the substance of testimony by West Texas and Panhandle officials at the regional public hearing on the Plan yesterday in Amarillo.

Nearly 200 water conservationists from over the Panhandle and Plains areas attended the hearing to support their spokesmen in asking the state water board to review and evaluate its Plan with more attention being paid to West Texas and the Panhandle.

The TWDB's master plan calls for diverting water from East Texas to Central and South Texas, but with very little encouragement for future water development in West Texas.

Pampa was represented at the hearing by Mayor Jim Nation, City Manager Jim White, City Commissioners Hugh Burdette and Clyde Carruth and Norman Henry, chamber of commerce president, and congressional candidate Bob Price.

Jack Miller, supervisor of the Texas Railroad Commission office in Pampa, particularly interested in the water pollution hearing which was part of the hearing, and Felix Ryals of White Deer, manager of the Panhandle Water Conservation District, also attended the session.

Mayor M. B. Hood of Plainview and K. B. Watson of Amarillo, chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Water Committee, were the spokesmen who presented the testimony for the various Panhandle and West Texas cities concerned in the Water Plan.

Mayor Hood told the board's hearing team:

"The economy and development of West Texas cities and lands is dependent on water for the future.

"We believe that surplus water in Texas should first be allocated to its cities and towns and lands that are in a cultivated and irrigated state, prior to its commitment to other lands in the state that are not now or ever have been in cultivation and possibly for cities and towns that do not now exist."

Mayor Hood stated that "as (See OFFICIALS, Page 2)

French Leader DeGaulle Begins 'Longest Journey'

PARIS (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle set off today on a 30,000-mile trip around the world. His mission was to try to aid the cause of peace in Viet Nam.

The 75-year-old president, accompanied by his wife, Yvonne, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and ranking aides, took off from Orly Airport at 2:30 a.m. CST aboard a U.S.-built DC8 jetliner.

His first stop was Djibouti, sweltering capital of French Somaliland, the last colonial possession of France in Africa. De Gaulle was spending 36 hours in the strategically located country on the Red Sea. De Gaulle's plane was due in Djibouti about 5 p.m. (11 p.m., CST).

Government sources said De Gaulle feels continued escalation of the Viet Nam war will bring the risk of a head-on clash between the United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China resulting in World War III.

In this light, the sources said, De Gaulle during his three-week tour will publicly urge Washington against further escalation. He was expected to make the appeal during a visit to Cambodia next week.

After the stop in Somaliland, the De Gaulle party will travel to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, which the French chief executive last visited in 1953 as a private citizen.

De Gaulle's DC8 was fitted out with private quarters for him and his wife and equipped with a communications system which will allow him to remain in touch with Paris throughout the journey.

Premier Georges Pompidou has been authorized to preside over the weekly cabinet meetings but only on the basis of an agenda approved in advance by De Gaulle himself.

De Gaulle will spend three days in Ethiopia, then return to Djibouti for an overnight stay before the flight to Cambodia.

From Cambodia, De Gaulle goes to the large French island of New Caledonia in the Pacific, then to New Hebrides Islands and Tahiti. From Tahiti he will fly to the French atomic testing ground at Hoo Atoll to "soop-up" atomic bomb.

De Gaulle returns to France Sept. 12 by way of the French Antilles, ending a trip billed in Paris as the longest ever taken by a head of state.

Hurricane Causes Space Officials To Rush Apollo Rocket Launch

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Project officials pulled out all stops to launch an unmanned Apollo spaceship on time today before hurricane Faith forces a vital Leeward Island tracking station to close down.

The 44,700-pound version of America's moonship was aiming for a 10:30 p.m. CST blastoff atop a mighty Saturn I. The super rocket was set to hurl the ship three quarters of the way around the world and over the last hurdle in the path of a three-man launch in December.

The countdown fell about 1 hour an 40 minutes behind early in the morning, but engineers made up lost time by eliminating two automatic 30-minute "holds" skipping part of the final checks.

A spokesman at the launch control center reported that hurricane Faith was moving much more rapidly than expected in the southern reaches of the Atlantic and was threatening the tracking station at Antigua.

At 4 a.m. CST, the storm was about 300 miles east of the island station Apollo control said the station may have to close about 2 or 3 p.m. EDT to begin battening down for the blow. Officials, however, expected it to remain in operation for an on-time launch.

The Apollo, making its second venture into space with electronic "brains" taking the place of astronauts, was programmed to soar 706 miles high and then give itself a fiery, 19,000 mile an hour "roller coaster" ride back toward a four-ship Pacific recovery fleet.

Splashdown was scheduled for 93 minutes after launch about 300 miles southeast of Wake Island.

At stake today were space agency plans to send astronauts Virgil Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffee on a two-week orbital flight in an identical craft in early December. A failure could be a severe setback to the initial manned Apollo launch date, and could affect America's manned lunar landing schedule.

The object of today's flight was to test the entire Apollo (See HURRICANE, Page 3)

Budget To Be Presented to School Trustees

Pampa Independent District school board will have a public hearing of its proposed 1966-67 budget at 7:30 tonight in the superintendent's office, 126 W. Francis.

In a breakfast meeting this morning, Joan Damron, superintendent of schools, went over the tentative budget with school trustees and will present it for official acceptance tonight.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

New Teachers To Receive Orientation

Teachers, new to the Pampa school system, are to have an orientation meeting Friday in Robert E. Lee Junior High School, John Damron, school superintendent, announced today.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in the school auditorium.

Tomorrow's meeting is the first of a series planned for faculty and principals in preparation for the new school year.

All faculty members will convene in Lee Junior High auditorium at 10 a.m. Monday with a meeting slated in individual schools for teacher-principal conferences on Monday afternoon.

Enrollment of all elementary school students will get underway at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday with classes in all schools to start Wednesday.

Heavy Loss, No Injuries In Car Mishap

Heavy damage was sustained to a car driven by Leroy Shelly Morgan, 401 N. Davis, in an early morning accident today on Price Road just south of the Borger Highway according to Highway Patrolman Paul Geisler.

The Morgan car, driving north on Price Road, was in a rear-end collision with a pickup truck driven by Carl R. Holder, 1121 S. Nelson, who was also traveling north, the investigating officer said.

The accident occurred around 1 a.m. today. There were no injuries to the occupants.

Congress Must Share Blame

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson contends that Congress must share the blame if the administration's so-far verbal war on inflation has to be escalated with possible federal wage-price controls.

No federal action to curb inflation is now planned, Johnson told a news conference in his White House office Wednesday, but the future may depend on how free-spending Congress is.

"We are very anxious to see what the Congress does with the more than a dozen appropriations bills that are yet to be acted upon," he said. "I can give you a little more information, after we see whether they cut our budget or whether they add to our budget."

Johnson renewed his warning, made earlier this year when a tax increase was being considered, that if Congress shows no self-restraint in limiting spending, it must share responsibility for the consequences.

If voluntary cooperation from Congress, labor, management and banking is not forthcoming in the anti-inflation fight, "it may be that the government will have to take other measures," Johnson said.

Amarillo at 12:30 p.m. today to return to Vancouver.

The plan now stands, the surplus water of Northeast Texas is committed to a single-purpose project. It is clear that it is the intention of the plan to transport this water to the lower area of Texas and leave West Texas to hopefully wait and wish for out-of-state water.

Hood said that in fairness to West Texas the board should seriously reconsider its commitment of East-Texas water because West Texas now has 5.5 million acres out of the total 7.7 million acres of irrigated land in the state; it is producing more than 50 per cent of all the agricultural products in a state whose whole economy is predicted on an agricultural economy.

Hood's testimony was supported by Watson, who is chairman of the water committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He testified that the preliminary plan as presented by the TWDB "does not adequately consider the needs and possible solution to West Texas' water problems."

Joe K. Moore Jr., executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, presided at yesterday's hearing.

Moore said a final public hearing will be held in Lubbock Sept. 9. He stated that the board intends to evaluate all of the testimony heard at this summer's series of Basin hearings.

When the evaluation is completed, Moore stated, an extensive report will be submitted to the Texas Water Development Board for its consideration.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESEM UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK — Jean Wentz, a California culinary expert, says she cooks so many dinners for 50 persons that dinner for eight is "no problem at all."

In an interview here, Mrs. Wentz added that her husband, Karl, also brings home last minute guests for lunch so often that "now I look at any recipe and think about the short cuts I can take."

She said she prefers dishes that can be prepared quickly or in advance, that will stand up well for buffet service, and that use convenience foods.

Much of her cooking obviously is based on her mother-in-law's suggestion: "If a recipe calls for water, why don't you try a little wine?"

Cooking with wine is especially appropriate, for many of the meals Mrs. Wentz prepares are entertainment for groups of wine buyers or other wine industry people on behalf of the family-owned Wentz Bros. vineyards and wineries. Her husband is vice president and general manager.

She added that they entertain at their home in the middle of the vineyards in Livermore Valley because their business is in a rural community with no restaurant of any size nearby. Mrs. Wentz said she does her own shopping and cooking because the rural location also makes full-time help hard to find.

Her specialties include carrots sauteed with grapes and a little wine; meat glazed with semillon or sweet saturesnes, both slightly sweet dessert wines; green pears soaked in gray riesling, then topped with dairy sour cream and heated in a broiler until the cream browns and takes on cheesy texture.

She added that she often makes wine sauces for vegetables except cabbage, and adds her own mushroom-wine sauce to a quick lunch main course that she makes with frozen chicken breasts in mushroom sauce served on frozen spinach soufflé.

First course for a dinner party is apt to be jellied consommé served with a glass of gray riesling or chablis. She said she also prepares canned potato soup with a little dry semillon, cream seasoning salt and onion juice, and a garnish of chives or dill weed.

Wild duck and pheasant are favorites with her husband and their three children, ages 10, 13 and 14, she said. The eldest, both boys, hunt with their father in a club game preserve.

Mrs. Wentz said that she stuffs wild duck with one sliced onion and one sliced orange, for each duck, then bastes with frozen orange juice concentrate and wine, such as sauvignon blanc, using a large can of concentrate and a half a bottle or more of wine for five ducks. She serves pheasant hash in a casserole with wine-cooked artichoke hearts and a cream sauce containing the pulp scraped from artichoke leaves.

Why make hash of pheasant? Said Mrs. Wentz: "Because we had a puppy once who didn't do too well retrieving."

WHETHER IT'S Saturday lunch or an after-the-game snack, hot turkey sandwiches are now a matter of just 25 minutes preparation. Frozen giblet gravy and sliced turkey is now available in your markets.

We used to crave hot turkey sandwiches at the very time when there wasn't a smidgeon of turkey in the house. Take our word, it won't happen any more! Two-pound packages of sliced cooked turkey and plenty of rich giblet gravy are waiting for you in your grocer's freezer case. You simply heat the packages on the surface of the range

Food Buying Guide
The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this coming weekend was prepared by the Agriculture and Interior Departments for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The food picture is somewhat rosy. The weekend shopper should find a wider range of meats and produce to choose from for menu planning. Ground meat, roast cuts, and spareribs start the meat list. In many areas veal and lamb are in good supply. Otherwise the supporting elements, broiler-fryers, and turkey remain in the food picture too.

Eggs are an item to watch. In some areas, the larger grades are favorably priced. Green beans, cabbage, celery, carrots, sweet corn, and cucumbers are the headlining vegetable plentiful. Greens, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, summer squash, and tomatoes are the other vegetables in good supply.

Plentiful fruits are: bananas, grapes, limes, peaches, pears, cantaloupes, and watermelons. Nationally, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are the fish in good supply across the nation. Remember to include them in backyard barbecues. Fish are taste treats when broiled over charcoal.

for 25 minutes or in the oven for 45 minutes. Stir up some instant mashed potatoes and it'll be just like the day after Thanksgiving.

How many can you count on serving from a package? Well, that depends upon what you consider a serving and what you serve for the rest of the meal. Each package contains twelve slices of thoroughly cooked turkey. If you're having hot turkey sandwiches and mashed potatoes for lunch and are not a starving teenager, you can count on serving four per package. Children will eat less than three slices per serving so you can count on more than four servings per package for them. On the other hand, a few teenagers we know are officers of the hollow-leg club and would be of the opinion that one entire package would be a nice appetizer for each person.

Whatever the appetite of your individual family members, you will receive many "eyes" when you ask, "Hot turkey sandwiches anyone?"

Dried breakfast cereals, packaged with fruit (strawberries, blueberries, bananas) are the forerunners of a growing number of freeze-dried food products that American consumers can expect to find on their grocery shelves. This modern method of food preservation has been used for several years — for gourmet foods and special purpose foods (e.g. for camping)—but is now becoming popular for the preservation of everyday foods. Freeze-dried instant coffee is especially flavorful, and certain dried soup mixes contain freeze-dried meat or chicken.

To keep abreast of this new technology, the Food and Drug Administration has contracted with the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, Mo., for a study to ensure consumers that articles produced by freeze drying are prepared from fresh and wholesome food.

The Institute will prepare and package almost 1500 pounds of foods — such as raw and cooked shrimp, fruit, chicken and beef — under conditions

Colorful Whip

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. California has gone plum crazy. The Golden State's plum crop this year is 115,000 tons (21 per cent higher than average), and of particularly fine quality.

So let's enjoy ourselves with these fresh red, heart-shaped blessings, low in calories, sodium and fat.

FRESH PLUM WHIP
(Serves 4)

- 1/4 pound fresh plums
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon grated fresh lemon peel
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 egg whites.

Place whole plums in saucepan with water. Cover. Cook gently until tender. Remove pits. Puree in blender or in sieve. There should be 1 cup puree. Cool. Stir in lemon peel and 1/4 cup of the sugar. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in the remaining 1/4 cup sugar and carefully fold into plum puree. Pipe lightly in sherbet glasses. Top with a slice of fresh plum.

FRESH PLUM WHIP with SOFT CUSTARD

Place 2 tablespoons soft custard in each sherbet glass. Finish filling with Plum Whip.

REFRIGERATOR PLUM BREAD PUDDING
(Serves 6 to 8)

- 3 cups sliced fresh plums
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon cold water
- 1/4 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- Butter
- 6 slices bread
- Ground cinnamon
- Whipped cream.

Place plums, sugar, cinnamon and lemon juice in saucepan. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Mix cornstarch with water and add. Cook 1 minute longer or until thickened, stirring. Remove from heat and cool slightly; stir in vanilla extract. Butter bread evenly and sprinkle with cinnamon. Arrange bread and plums in alternate layers in 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Chill several hours or overnight. Spoon out into individual serving dishes. Top with whipped cream.

Broiler-Fryers Are Quick Meal Choice

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Q—Is it true that broiler-fryer chickens are just a week or two old?

A—No. They are usually from 9 to 12 weeks old. That's why the broiler or fryer is an excellent choice for both quick dinners and gourmet meals. Because they are young birds, broilers are tender. To get the most meat for your money, look for Grade A broilers, both tender and meaty.

Q—Are there any natural substitutes for granulated sugar for use in canning?

A—Yes. Honey may be used for either part or all of the sugar in a canning syrup and also in jams. The California Honey Advisory Board of Whittier has developed excellent recipes for both canning and cooking with honey. The American Honey Institute, Madison, Wis., has also published recipes and other information on the subject. Corn syrup also can be used in canning. It adds body to a light canning syrup and is better than granulated sugar for giving a touch of sweetness to corn, green peas, and tomatoes before canning. Corn syrup can also be used to replace part of the granulated sugar when making jams and jellies.

TASTY

Kraut stuffing is ideal for baked or barbecued meat and fish.

Thoroughly drain 2 cups of sauerkraut, reserving 1/2 cup of juice; chop kraut. Mix reserved juice with 1/2 cup of melted butter or margarine, 1/4 cup of water, 1 (8 ounce) package of prepared bread stuffing mix, 1 beaten egg, 1/4 cup of chopped onion and 1/4 cup of chopped parsley. Roll ham slices, bologna slices or chopped beef around stuffing or use it to fill cavity of chicken or fish. Bake or barbecue on outdoor grill. Makes about 6 cups stuffing.

Chill candies in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using them. They will burn evenly and won't drip.

Teen-Age Chinese Want Traffic To Go on Red, Stop on Green

TOKYO (UPI) — Peking's teen-age "Red Guard" has turned its wrath on the traffic signal system, reports from the Chinese Communist capital said today. The teen-agers can't bear to think that the color red means "stop," and want the system changed.

The Red Guard is a gang of heavily indoctrinated youth who are out with paint brushes to reform Peking with all the zeal of a suffragette attacking a saloon with a hatchet. Their aim: to stamp out "old ideas, culture, customs and habits."

The Red Guard also is widely anti-Western and turned its attention today to Christian churches in Peking. Japanese reports from Peking reported the teen-agers ran up a red flag and said they would close the churches and keep them closed.

The guard has policed Peking for several days with full approval of the government. The New China News Agency said it was initiated by students of a Peking high school and is "composed of the most active, the bravest and the firmest of the revolutionary students."

Peking is a beautiful old city with wide streets, tiled roofs and shop names that sound like poetry. There are not many poets in the Red Guard, it seems, and the city's road signs will suffer for it.

Famed Princess Well Street has been renamed "Prevent Revisionism Street." Brightness Street is now called "Aid Viet Nam Street." And the street of Eternal Peace is named after the Chinese Communist anthem "East is Red."

In another revisionism-destrorying effort, the Red Guard has advised workers in services trades to "refuse to do eccentric hairdos or make outlandish clothes which imitate bourgeois fashions in Western countries and to refuse to handle harmful books and magazines."

To back that up the teen-age gangs moved through the streets and cut the hair of persons with haircuts resembling the Beatles and slit other teen-agers' pants if they appeared tight to the point of revisionism.

There has been no report of opposition to the Red Guard by older and possibly anti-teen age groups. The Christians locked out of their churches also have not complained — there are 20,000 of them and 6 million other Peking residents.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Twas 120 nights before Christmas when the first mail order gift catalog arrived at my house.

You would think that Santa's little helpers would at least have the decency to wait until Labor Day before ushering in the Yuletide shopping season. But no.

They work on the theory that the time to strike is while the potential customers on their mailing lists are still weak from heat prostration.

So, bowing to the inevitable, I have been browsing through the early catalogs to bring you a sneak preview of the sort of thing you will be finding in your stocking four months hence.

What is 29 inches long, hangs on the wall, looks like a wrist watch and tells you the temperature?

New Wristwatch

Why, it is a "giant wrist-watch thermometer" that some of the catalogs are featuring for only $6.95.

Next year, presumably, they will offer a companion piece—a wrist watch that looks like a giant thermometer.

Are you one of those people who like a "light" beer? Well, if you're lucky someone will give you a self-illuminating beer mug to brighten your Christmas morning.

They cost $5.75 a pair and are worth every drop of it.

The ideal matching gift for light beer would be "heavy ice," right?

Okay, for $6 someone can buy you a set of six metal balls. Put them in an ice tray, cover with water and freeze. This adds weight to the ice cubes so that they will sink to the bottom of the glass.

Likes The Horn

The gift that I personally am dreaming of is a "wild stallion" auto horn. Rather than honk, it whinnies.

"Mounts easily under the hood of any car," the catalog says, "really awakens the day-dreamers."

The catalog does not say, however, how you get rid of the mares that follow you home.

Christmas catalogs also include a few gifts that are suitable for birthdays. One that caught my eye was a box of "magic wick" candles.

You put them on a birthday cake and immediately after the celebrant blows them out they start burning again. "Recommended for all who enjoy a hearty laugh," the catalog says.

It does sound like loads of fun, particularly if the celebrant keeps puffing until he turns blue in the face and has to have oxygen to revive him. Merry Christmas, everyone.

The debating society organized by Benjamin Franklin was known as the Junta; it's developed into the American Philosophical Society in 1743.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

You, the students, are the only individuals who can take advantage of the many opportunities offered through education. Your parents, teachers and other advisers can only provide guidance, encouragement and opportunity.

Although we all know the old saying, "you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink," it is appropriate enough to be repeated here. All the advice, teaching and instruction are useless unless you, the students, are interested and willing to learn.

As the new school year approaches each student has an opportunity to start with a clean slate. Regardless of grade level you can look forward to new and interesting programs. In most cases the teachers also will be new. If you make the effort you can have a highly successful year. It is true that the learning of previous years is an important background for the new work but it also is true that there will be review and many opportunities to gain a full understanding of the needed background.

No student should be discouraged by his past performance. Look forward to new opportunities and another chance for success. If you have been successful you should look forward to continuing and even improving upon your past performance.

What can you do to plan for a successful year? The most important thing is your attitude. Learning can be enjoyable. It is interesting and can provide a great deal of satisfaction. Going to school should not be considered as an unpleasant chore. It is an important and valuable part of your life. More and more jobs require advanced training and education. Whatever career you may choose, you will find that you can go further and be more successful if you have a good education and training. Therefore you should try to learn as much as possible. Do a little extra. Your efforts will never be wasted.

Another important area is planning. Schedule your time properly. It is necessary to have time to do your homework as well as to relax and develop yourself physically and socially.

Homework should be done when it is assigned. Saving it up and waiting till the last minute only causes problems. Set aside a reasonable amount of time each day when you can spend an uninterrupted period to complete your work for the following day. You might discuss this with your parents.

Remember that you want to play with your friends. This is also important and time should be provided. If there are certain programs on television

Mosquitos Cause 200 Sick Cases

AUSTIN (UPI) — Almost 200 suspected cases of two types of encephalitis have been reported in Texas the past month and a half, State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy said today, with 65 cases confirmed.

The outbreaks have come in nine counties.

Encephalitis, also known as sleeping sickness, is usually caused in Texas by the Culex mosquito. After the mosquito bites, inflammation of the brain results.

Peavy said separate outbreaks of St. Louis encephalitis have been reported in Dallas and Nueces counties and scattered cases of western encephalitis reported in Northwest Texas.

In both Dallas and Corpus Christi, "extensive mosquito control programs are in operation," Peavy said.

There were 53 confirmed cases in Dallas, with 38 other suspected cases. Corpus Christi reported 6 confirmed cases, with 62 more suspected.

The only other report of St. Louis encephalitis, Peavy said, was in Brooks County, where there was one confirmed case and another suspected.

Tower to Attack Pollution

John G. Tower, R-Tex., called on his Senate colleagues and state and federal authorities today to get behind a bill he is sponsoring aimed at air and water pollution abatement.

Calling pollution a "national problem affecting all facets of our society," Tower said not only costly but irreplaceable assets were being destroyed. He called for an all-out endeavor at all levels to halt pollution now.

PMD participants, who average 34 years of age and 10 years of business or administrative experience, all are sponsored by their companies as individuals of demonstrated promise, Wilks stated.

The Family Lawyer

Hobbies: A Deductible Expense?

You save stamps, or raise pigeons, or collect cigar-store Indians. Sometimes these sideline activities can be costly. Are your expenses deductible at income tax time?

That depends primarily upon your motive. If you are pursuing the activity as a hobby, for the sheer pleasure of it, then you cannot deduct your expenses—any more than you could deduct the expense of a family picnic.

But if you are out to make a profit, even though on a part-time basis, you are indeed entitled to take a deduction.

And what if your motive is partly pleasure and partly profit? Then, to qualify for a deduction, you must show that the profit motive is the stronger of the two.

One indication is that you have what a court called "the requisite greed." Consider this case:

A businessman collected stamps in his spare time. But he paid scant attention to hobby groups or to the finer points of philately. Instead, relying on expert guidance, he concentrated on the dollar value of what he bought and sold.

Accordingly, a court upheld his claim to a tax deduction, finding he was really more of an investor than a hobbyist.

Another indication of a dominant profit motive is the use of professional techniques. For example:

A sometime photographer, with no studio, nevertheless sold much of his work on a professional basis. And the equipment he used was the kind used by professionals, not by amateurs. He too was allowed to deduct his expenses.

But your assertion of a profit motive is weakened if, over a long period of time, your expenses are high and your income low.

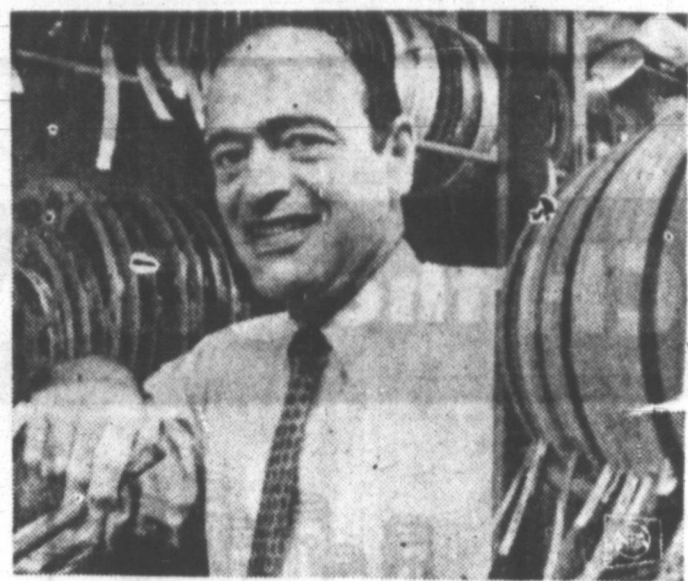

A man of means decided to try his hand at writing. For 2 long years he wrote and published books. Unhappily, almost nobody ever bought them. A court denied him tax relief, finding that, whatever his motive, it couldn't be money.

Official Tries To Air Books In Public View

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government's chief school official said the best solution to the problem of racially distorted school books was to expose them to public view.

"We should no longer let this problem be swept under the rug," U.S. Education Commissioner Harold Howe II told a House education subcommittee. He said public hearings on the problem were helpful in getting the situation "out in the open." But Howe told the subcommittee his agency could do little to force schools to use balanced library and text books because it was strictly forbidden to interfere with state and local educational policies.

Howe was the first witness at a planned five-day hearing called by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., in which Howe deplored the fact that many history books in the schools ignore African and Asian history and until recently made no mention of American Negroes since the Civil War. He said one Virginia high school history text discussed the "advantages" of slavery to the Negroes in America.

History-Making Heart Pump Patient May Leave Hospital By Next Week

HOUSTON (UPI)—Mrs. Esperanza del Valle Vasquez, the most successful heart pump patient in medical history, may leave Methodist Hospital in a little more than a week.

Mrs. Vasquez has progressed so well that the hospital decided Tuesday to issue only one instead of two bulletins a day on her condition.

"Mrs. Vasquez continues to progress well in every way today," a bulletin Tuesday said.

The 37-year-old Mexico City beautician visited with her family and hospital workers Tuesday.

She has lived longer and made more progress than any other patient to undergo a heart pump operation. She received the heart pump Aug. 8 and her own heart had healed enough by Aug. 18 for the pump to be removed.

In the past decade a $10,000 retirement nest egg has lost $1,500 of its purchasing power through inflation.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — We read the network press releases:

—James Darren, star of ABC-TV's new science-fiction series, "The Time Tunnel," came from the same 10-block area of South Philadelphia that produced Mario Lanza, Joey Bishop, Frankie Avalon, Buddy Greco, Fabian, Al Martino and Eddie Fisher.

Which means exactly what? —While directing an episode of ABC-TV's new action series, "The Rat Patrol," in Almeria, Spain, John Peyser met a former enemy. Guesting on the episode was German actor and former soldier Wolfgang Preis, who plays German General Helmreich. During World War II, Preis fought in Italy at Monte Cassino. He was a sergeant in the Herman Goering Division, and on the other side of the line—at the same time—was Maj. John Peyser of psychological warfare.

That's very touching.

—While ABC-TV's "The Man Who Never Was" was filming recently in Berlin, the Communists proved that curiosity is universal.

—"Michael Anderson Jr., who stars as Clay Monroe in the new ABC-TV Western drama, "The Monroes," leaned against a log cabin struck in the wilderness region of Jackson Hole, Wyo., and said, "A place like this can be your best friend and worst enemy."

Such depth of perception makes one humble in its presence.

—If clothes make the man or the star, Rich Little figures he has it made. The tweed jacket provided him by Screen Gems' wardrobe department for his role in ABC-TV's "Love on a Rooftop" was originally issued to his film idol Jack Lemmon.

Gosh, Hollywood is such an exciting place.

—No one can accuse (ABC-TV's) Milton Berle of being at a loss for words, especially on the eve of a season in which he returns to home screens Berle (sic) than ever.

And no one can accuse ABC-TV of being at a loss for words either.

Russell Will Preside Over Johnson's Trial

PARIS (UPI) — British pacifist-philosopher Bertrand Russell has posed a difficult problem for the French government by announcing he will preside over a "trial" of President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk here in November.

Russell announced in New York Aug. 2, in a statement read by the Rev. A. J. Muste, chairman of Liberation Magazine, that the President, Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara would go on "trial" here for their part in organizing the Viet Nam war. The French government has so far maintained silence about the affair. But government sources said that while there was little likelihood Russell and his colleagues would be banned from holding the "trial," the authorities would have been happier if they had decided to hold it somewhere else.

Announcing the "trial," a spokesman for Russell said he would be joined on the 10 person "jury" by French playwright Jean Paul Sartre, French novelist Simone de Beauvoir, former Mexican President Lazaro Cardenas and Italian humanist Danilo Dolei, among others. Cardenas, who once granted asylum to Leon Trotsky, has accepted.

So far no definite word has been received on how many of the others, if any, of these personages will actually take part in what Russell is billing as "Nuremberg in Paris."

Sartre and Madame de Beauvoir are on vacation, and there was no indication here of acceptance by Dolci.

Russell's aides say the "trial" will last two or three months. No details have yet been released as to where it will be held, but word has been leaked that about 200 North Vietnamese "witnesses" would be cited and brought to France.

The U.S. Embassy declines comment when asked what it plans to do about the trial. But privately diplomats say there is no chance of an American representative attending to speak for the "defense."

The people with a problem on their hands are the officials of the French Ministry of the Interior who must presumably rule on whether the "trial" can go on or not.

Denial Unlikely — There appears little likelihood, at the moment, that the ministry will refuse permission for holding the trial. But it was thought likely in official circles police would be quick to step in if it developed from what is officially described as a "meeting of writers" and turned into an event threatening law and order.

To ban the meeting entirely would be against France's carefully cultivated image as a friend of both the United States and North Viet Nam. Hanoi's "delegation general" here, which is something between a trade mission and an embassy, recently was raised to that rank in line with current government policy. France has had a comparably ranking mission in Hanoi for the past 12 years.

Paris has a very large Vietnamese population of all shades of political opinion and the "trial" was expected to excite considerable interest among them.

Russians Send Aid To Africa

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Russians are stepping up their military aid operations in two of the world's potential hot spots — the Middle East and the new African nations.

Johnson administration sources report that the Soviet program is becoming increasingly costly but apparently is bearing fruit.

Moscow has exhausted the stocks of obsolescent arms from which it supplied earlier requests, thus is now delivering more and more relatively new equipment. Examples include the MIG21 jet fighters recently sent Algeria and the SU7 fighter-bombers promised Iraq, the first such fighter-bombers to be given any non-Communist country.

Soviet leaders plainly consider the increasing cost of the arms aid justified in eroding Western influence, influencing strategic countries, countering Red China's propaganda Campaign, and disrupting traditional patterns of trade.

Fulfilling Commitments — Russia, which already had distributed $4 billion in military equipment to 19 underdeveloped countries, has paid out another $1 billion since last year. The stepped-up shipments now being made appear to be in fulfillment of these commitments of the past year.

In May, Russia made another military aid deal with Iraq — the fifth with that country — under which it will provide more than $175 million in military equipment. Meantime, military aid shipments to Egypt and Syria are running at a good rate. The Russians are reported negotiating still another commitment to Syria.

In addition to increasing military aid deliveries to Algeria, the Soviet Union also has started sending arms to Mali through Algeria, Somalia and Guinea are two other African countries which have just received Russian arms.

Pakistan, meanwhile, hopes to get some Soviet aid since it knows that the Kremlin is anxious to try to walk a tight rope between Pakistan and India in order to retain maximum influence in the Kashmir and other disputes.

The Soviet deliveries of arms to Middle East countries, particularly Iraq, Syria and Egypt, already have caused one traditional American ally to put in its bid for Russian aid.

Iran, having failed to receive as large a commitment from the United States as Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi thought he should have, has approached Moscow and been told in general terms that the Kremlin is agreeable. No specific deal has been made as yet.

The extent of the Soviet effort to influence Middle Eastern and African countries through military aid is underlined by the fact that almost 19,000 officers and men from countries receiving Soviet arms are being trained in Russia.

In addition, approximately 3,500 Soviet military advisers and trainers are assigned to countries getting Russian arms.

Texas In Need Of New Mansion

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas needs a new governor's mansion, the newly-formed Texas Fine Arts Commission decided shortly after being sworn in Tuesday.

The 22-member commission unanimously recommended that the present mansion, a block from the capitol grounds, be converted to a museum.

John Ben Shepperd of Odessa was named chairman of the group.

They also approved a statewide survey to aid in finding out what Texas' available cultural resources are.

In 1943, Axis Sally was flown to the United States to face treason for wartime and radio broadcasts for Germany.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says that regardless of where the market may be later on, the steepness of the recent decline and the oversold appearance of many popular statistics suggest that a technical recovery may be close at hand.

Edward A. Viner & Co. Inc. says the indecision so obvious in Washington has led to uncertainty on Wall Street and until the questions and doubts are satisfactorily resolved money will continue to avoid long term commitments in stocks, especially since present interest rates are so attractive as to make it easy to sit on the sidelines.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says it appears wishful thinking that anything more than rallies from temporarily oversold positions will prevail until resistance to further selling becomes apparent and a base has been established.

The Granville market letter says stocks are seen to be in their most precarious position in well over a generation. The firm says this is "no time for hoping, second guessing or lethargy in making the only safe move one can possibly make under current circumstances — getting out of the market completely in one surgical stroke."

Johnson Admits Demo Can Lose

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson conceded Wednesday that the Democrats are "of course" going to lose some seats in Congress in the November elections, but scoffed at forecasts of major Republican gains.

At a White House news conference, the President attributed to the "same old predictors" who had forecast big GOP gains in 1964 some recent predictions that the Democrats would lose as many as 60 House seats Nov. 8.

In this context, the President announced plans for another weekend foray, the pattern of which has been to aid Democratic candidates. This time he will go to three Western states, starting Friday. He will visit Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma Friday and Saturday.

The news conference — broadcast "live" on radio but not on television — was largely dominated by political questions. At one point, Johnson registered visible irritation over GOP charges that contributors to the "President's Club" get favorable attention in government contract awards and other matters.

"No," he snapped, when asked about minimum $1,000 contributions. "They do not influence the award of contracts."

Johnson refused to discuss a recent Gallup Poll that showed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., running ahead of him among both Democrats and independents for the 1968 Presidential nomination. Could he explain that?

Dear Abby....

No Explanation Is Needed for Friends

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, who has not been married very long, has telephoned us to tell us that she is leaving her husband and is coming home. We can't understand what happened. She never indicated in any of her letters that her marriage wasn't going well. They seemed so in love and well suited to each other, and they surely went together long enough. Our problem is what to tell people. In case she changes her mind and goes back to him; we don't want a lot of talk needlessly. Should we give our friends and relatives a "hint" as to why she is coming home in case she decides to stay? What if her visit is prolonged?

DEAR PARENTS: Tell people she is coming home for a visit. (She is). If she decides to stay, let her make the announcement. You owe no explanations to anyone.

DEAR ABBY: As far as husbands go, mine is tops. They threw the pattern away after they made him. But he has one fault. He hits, kicks and bites me in his sleep. I carried a scar from one of his bites for two weeks.

My friend says that maybe he wants to beat the daylight out of me during the daytime, but he waits for a dream to bring out his true feelings. Is this possible?

DEAR B AND B: Could be. But there is always a chance that he is not dreaming about you when he lashes out tooth and nail. In self defense you should have twin beds.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine received an old beat up overstuffed chair from a friend of hers. The friend who received the chair was going to reupholster it. When she took it apart, she found several very old coins deep down in the cushion.

Some of the coins were so old you wouldn't believe they even had coins way back in those days. They could be very valuable. Whose coins are they? They came with the chair.

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: The coins "accidentally" came with the chair. The receiver should notify the giver that the coins were found in the chair. It is my view that the coins belong to the giver.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NAME-LESS, PLEASE" IN LOUISVILLE: True, you may not "need" the money. But a man who borrows money needs to pay his honest debts. Yes, by all means, let him know his note is overdue.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Americans Are Always in A Hurry' Says Vietnamese Girl

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the lessons Americans in South Viet Nam learn in a hurry is not to rush. This we gleaned from a Vietnamese girl who's lived in Saigon for 11 of her 27 years, who deals daily with the American way, and who currently is on an around the world tour.

"First the Americans in Saigon have to learn to be patient," said Do Thi Thuy Hien. "The first week, the Americans say, 'why don't you do things the way we do in the States? Quicker.' But in a few days they understand this is war and then they don't hurry so much to get little jobs done."

Saigon, even with more than two million population and with American, Australian and New Zealand military men on the scene, still is a placid slow-paced city compared with the pace the Vietnamese girl ran into in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington and New York.

"Always, everybody in a hurry," she smiled.

The petite Vietnamese is known to Americans as Yolande Hien—Yolande, she explained, was an easier name to handle which her teachers gave her when she was in a French convent school in her native Hanoi. Hanoi now is the capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

Her family was moved from Saigon by ship in a mass transfer of refugees in 1955 shortly after the Geneva conference ended the French-Indo war.

Yolande, fluent in English and French as well as her native language, worked for the U.S. Information Service for three years, was secretary at Cat An Oriental airline for a while, and then joined the American Broadcasting Company's Saigon news staff. She serves as secretary to the bureau manager, acts as liaison between newsmen and the Vietnamese, and is unofficial hostess and guide for wives of newsmen and other U.S. women in her country.

Her tour is taking her from Saigon across the Pacific, the United States and into Europe and the Middle East. Partly, she said, it is to acquaint her with the Western world (this is her first trip out of Southeast Asia) and partly to check a recurrent ear ailment with her physician, now practicing in Paris. The day we talked she brought out several dresses to show the typical apparel of women of her country—and would that all of us were Yolandes under five feet tall and weighing less than 100 pounds to wear them.

The dresses are fashioned with Mandarin collar, the Diagonal closing at the bodice, fitted wrist-length sleeves, and sides of the skirt slit almost to the waist. Beneath, always, she said, are worn silk trousers. These are cut slim too, but not tight-fitting—and she said

Vietnamese women always select them in black or white. She prefers white.

The Ao Dis she wore for photographs was "for gala occasion", in gold brocade—the silk bought in Hong Kong, the dress tailored by a Saigon seamstress. Cost, about $10, she said, but "everyday" Ao Dis in silks are tailored for about $1 each, including price of fabric.

Miss Hien was pure diplomat when discussion of the war in Viet Nam came up, saying only, "we are determined." But in crossing the United

FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 26
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite some highly descriptive conditions prevailing around you and that can pretty much put you in a bewildered mood, you have every chance to be rid of any difficulties and to turn apparent obstacles to your benefit by using your charm to full advantage and for attending to whatever has to do with entertaining apparel.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — If you say some gentle word about a higher-up to an official, you find that pleasing results come of that. Be sure later you do not spend too much for some special event. Don't be taken in by others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Either you follow what a family tie desires of you or that of an outside advisor, but you certainly cannot do both successfully. Build up your wardrobe. This is very important if you want to become more successful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — There is an opportunity for you to see some influential individual who can assist you in your career — seize it instead of keeping rooted to dull routine. Dress well. Then see some of your fine friends you admire.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — It's all right to make new arrangements of a financial nature, but be sure to see others in business at least halfway. Take that trip you have in mind. Keep your expenses down to a minimum.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You are very dynamic now and are able to literally float your good ideas on others so that you have much success in the days ahead. Then take care of any health problems you may have. You need to keep your speed up.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — If you schedule your time wisely, you find that you get work done and still have plenty of energy to indulge in cultural or other amusements. You have depth of feeling. This can rub off on others.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Listen to ideas of kin for maintaining harmony on the job, or whatever. Some sacrifice is necessary. Then you advance more quickly. Instead of feeling so confused, get busy and make collections, pay your just bills, wait while before starting on that new system to gain your most personal aims. Some slight changes have to be made yet.
SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — If you state to others what your true aims are and work along with them amicably, you get good results whether in business, on the job, or whatever. Some sacrifice is necessary. Then you advance more quickly.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Instead of feeling so confused, get busy and make collections, pay your just bills, wait while before starting on that new system to gain your most personal aims. Some slight changes have to be made yet.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Much can be done now to gain your most important personal aims, so waste no time, and steer clear of others who do not think as you do. A positive attitude is necessary, though. If aims are ethical, all is fine.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Others give confidential data that is very important to you, but be sure you do not confide in others or you get into trouble. Many tasks can be performed, but stay out of the public eye. Be altruistic, also.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Put those new ideas into operation without wasting time or they are lost, but deal only with good friends. A new approach can bring decided benefits. Try not to be too retiring and let your true personality emerge.

The Thinking Woman Wasting Away?

(First in a Series.)
 By KATHRYN HUNTER
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 NEW YORK (NEA) — Mothers now are doing the usual August things. They are getting back - to - school wardrobes together, making dental and doctor appointments for those check-ups and growing a bit weary of the household routine.

But perhaps there's something else they have their minds on. They may be checking the classified ads and considering looking for a job when the kids are back in school. Or they may be thinking of returning to school themselves.

As Jane Hawkes wrote to me one day: "I am frightened by the image of American women who die when they are 50 and are buried 35 years later."

Then there are those like Jean Turner, who wants to work to help send her four sons through college.

Eleanor Hunter commented not long ago. "There is a history of widowhood in our family and it has made me certain that I want to develop both interests and an income of my own as a kind of life insurance."

Whatever the motives, Herman P. Miller, special assistant at the Census Bureau, in his book, "Rich Man, Poor Man", estimates that almost half of the 12 million mothers who have school-aged children at home—5 1/2 million — are either working or looking for work.

There are lots of reasons that for women in 1966 it's a whole new ballgame. In the first place they have a life expectancy of a full 25 years longer than their grandmothers. Most of them have their children at a younger age, so that by the time they are in their 30s, their last child is in school and they can look forward to three decades of possible employment.

With food-preparation time reduced and housekeeping tasks lightened through the use of a myriad of labor-saving devices, there is time for Mrs. 1966 to develop interests outside her home.

Her choices fall into four categories:

—Volunteer work for hospitals, welfare agencies, etc.

—Social activities such as bridge, bowling, book clubs.

—Expanded homemaking, including redecorating, gardening, flower arranging, entertaining.

—A part - or full-time career outside her home.

Almost half of today's mothers are selecting the fourth alternative; others, a combination of the four.

Furthermore, mother's paycheck plays an important part in the family income. Some have theorized that wives are employed only if the husband's income is below standard, but statistics from the Census Bureau are contradictory.

For instance, only 21 per cent of wives are working if family income is under $1,000, but the figure jumps to 36 per cent for families with incomes of $5,000 to $6,000. Fifty-two per cent of wives are working in families with incomes reported between $10,000 and $15,000. Even for those with incomes over $15,000, 33 per cent of the wives are working.

So how about it, girls, should you turn your attention to the labor market? Some of you should and will. Of these some will have satisfying and stimulating experiences and give the family income a boost. For others it will mean an exhausting round of routine, which includes ironing until midnight, cleaning all day Saturday and little to show for their efforts except short tempers for them and everyone else in the family.

It might be helpful to consider some of the questions posed in the worksheet included in the recent Radcliffe Institute for Independent Study publication, "The Next Step."

Included are:

What did you most like in your education and your work? Did you prefer working with people or on projects? Do you like research or presentation? Individual or groups? Responsibility or clearly defined unit work? Men or women or children? With what ages do you like working?

What are your children's needs now in terms of your time, energy, and emotional involvement? What do you anticipate your future needs will be? Do your children have specific interests or problems that you wish to share with them, or with which they need your help?

What are your goals and aims

She Practices What She Preaches

Kathryn Hunter

NEA special writer Kathryn Hunter tells in this three-part series that the women of 1966 need not feel shackled by housework and 'feminine routine.' Women today indeed have "a second chance" to find careers in meaningful jobs. It's simply a matter of getting out into the so-called man's world and knocking on doors. Proof? Consider that Kathryn Hunter, wife of an Akron, Ohio real estate executive, mother of three, has found time in recent years to be a public relations consultant, a lecturer, a weekly newspaper editor and publisher, and coordinator of special programs for women at Akron University. And she says she still has time for family and personal activities. Enough said?

now and in the future? Answering these questions may help you make your decision about whether or not you should consider combining career and family. And whether the time to make your "next step" is now or some time in the future.

Some months are better than others for new car buying: like August.

Some cars are better buys than others: like Chevrolet.

What a way to round out the summer, in an Impala Sport Sedan that you bought in August (smart shopper, you).

And there's never been a better Chevrolet

About August: August is the month your Chevrolet dealer picks to offer the best buys he can. It's the month he has a wide selection of models, colors and extra equipment right on hand. So you can just pick out the Chevrolet you want, with exactly what you want on it, and in a matter of hours you're enjoying driving again. It makes August feel like summer just started.

About Chevrolet: Take the Impala Sport Sedan you see here. This has got to be one of the best buys on the road. It rides like a charm. That's because Impala has Full Coil suspension and a stance that's really wide. Foam-cushioned seats for you to relax in. Deep-twist carpeting to please your feet. Rugged Body by Fisher to make Impala sound. Plus eight standard safety features, like back-up lights, for your added protection. And as for Impala's looks . . . well, just look. Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

Now would be a good time to run over to the high school business office and purchase season ticket books for the five Pampa home games.

Selling price is $7.50 per book and the brand of football you will see this fall makes it a bargain.

The Southwest football officials association will hold a district I rules meeting at 2:30 p.m., August 28 in Frank Phillips Jr. College at Borger.

The Pampa-Borger chapter is host and Otto Mangold of Pampa will speak on "Officials Viewpoint of Officiating."

Otto's talk comes after Don McDonald of Stinnett gives a talk on "Coaches Viewpoint of Officiating."

I would imagine there will be some differences of opinion here.

There will be a question and answer session with Mangold and former assistant coach Jake Webb on the panel.

Both Pampa Junior High and Lee have two coaches each at present.

Marvin Bowman and Curtis Dedway are holding fort at Lee and Harold Moore and Don Huffstедler at PJH.

Right now Bowman is ninth grade coach and Curtis has the eighth grade and at PJH Moore is still ninth grade chief with Huffstедler having the seventh graders under his wing.

The Junior highs are two coaches short and athletic director-turned assistant principal Weldon Trice is about to get bald-headed trying to find coaches.

Eural Ramsey is worrying too, but he is just getting bald.

When you think about worrying you have to think about coach Bob Stephens. He will become a daddy for the second time, supposedly one day this month.

Bob has worried so much he has gained about 25 pounds. He's almost as tubby as a sports writer I know.

Lee ninth grade opens the 1966 season Sept. 15 at White Deer with the eighth grade playing Borger Houston at Borger on the same day and Lee seventh waiting until Sept. 23 to open when they play Borger Austin.

Pampa Junior High opens Sept. 15 hosting Groom B and the eighth grade plays its first game Sept. 22 by playing host to Perryton with the seventh graders hosting Borger Houston the next day.

Some 36 varsity footballers checked out shoes and shorts and 31 Shockers did the same last Monday.

Coach Ramsey says he would like to have twice that many out and still has plenty of equipment available if any of the youngsters are interested.

It was nice to have Gil Burgand's column back on the sports page Wednesday. All the bowlers will know what's going on.

Gil is the only guy interested enough to keep you informed and we are glad he can take the time to write it.

Be sure to turn your bowling news into Gil.

We had a chance to talk to Eddie Windom, a '64 graduate of McLean who is wearing the football togs of Texas Tech.

Eddie allowed as how he expected to be red-shirted this season, due to a knee injury.

Eddie was all-district for two years and all Top O' Texas for three years.

Welter Title Is Back in Texas

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — After eight virtually fruitless years in the ring, former cotton picker Curtis Cokes is bringing the welterweight boxing title home to Dallas.

The 29-year-old Cokes easily disposed of Houston's Manuel Gonzalez Wednesday night before 5,102 fans to take the championship by a lopsided 15-round unanimous decision.

Both fighters will get just over $5,500 for their efforts but Cokes wound up with the World Boxing Association's version of the title.

It was his biggest pay day. He immediately announced a hometown title defense, in late October, and promised to be a fighting champion.

Cokes and Gonzalez met at the end of a WBA elimination tournament designed to fill the title vacancy left when the WBA stripped Emile Griffith of his title for not defending it and for stepping up to the middleweight class.

With the exception of an explosive 12th round in which Cokes bashed the Houston fighter to the canvas for a mandatory eight count, the fight was largely a case of the 145-pound Cokes pressing, and Gonzalez alternately running or punching air.

The 12th was the big round of the fight. Gonzalez was jabbing ineffectually, when Cokes slammed a right to the jaw. He followed with a flurry of lefts, a left upper cut, and a right or two that sent Gonzalez sprawling to the ropes and then to the canvas.

Referee Pete Giarusso counted to four with Gonzalez on the deck and then held him against the ropes for the eight count.

Cokes continued battering away for the rest of the round but couldn't muster a knockout punch. Later Cokes said he needed "another good shot" to end the fight but it just didn't come.

BIRDS LEAD DROPS TO 11 1/2

Pirates Take Lead Again

By United Press International

Vernon Law responded and the Pittsburgh Pirates rebounded.

The lanky righthander permitted only one hit and just two baserunners over the last six innings while his Pittsburgh teammates pecked away with a 13-single attack that carried them to a 6-4 victory over the Phils and back into the National League lead by one percentage point.

In other games, Cincinnati whipped the Giants 9-4, Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1 in 11 innings, Houston beat St. Louis 7-2, and Chicago nipped New York 6-5.

Tom Sisk started for Pittsburgh and gave up four runs in the third innings he worked before Law made his first relief appearance of the season and went on to collect his ninth victory against five defeats.

Cincinnati broke a six game losing streak with a 14-hit attack that included Vada Pinson's grand slam home run in the fifth. The defeat was absorbed by 20-game winner Gaylord Perry, his third loss.

Pinson, Pete Rose and Tommy Harper contributed three hits each as the Reds rapped Perry for 10 of their 14 safeties in the first five frames.

Maury Wills singled home pinch hitter Jim Gilliam in the 11th inning as the Dodgers moved to within two games of first place. Gilliam had batted for John Kennedy and reached base when Felipe Alou fumbled his grounder. The 36-year-old veteran then surprised loser Tony Cloninger, who went all the way, by stealing second base and one out later scored the winning run.

Regan Gets Win
Phil Regan, who wild pitched home the tying run in the top of the ninth to send the game into overtime, was credited with the victory—his 12th against a single loss, Regan, developing a blister on his index finger. Tommy John, index finger. Tommy John, last night's 1-3 innings, suffered his eighth loss in 20 decisions.

Ed Kirkpatrick's ninth-inning homer — his ninth — following Paul Schaal's infield hit provided California starter Fred Newman with his first lifetime victory over the Yankees after six setbacks. Minnie Rojas, yielding Joe Pepitone's 28th homer in the ninth, replaced Newman, who allowed four hits before leaving the game for a pinch hitter in the final stanza.

Washington tied the game 4-4 with a run in the ninth and erased a 5-4 Minnesota lead with two runs in the 11th. Doubles by Bob Saverine and Fred Valentine sent the game into extra innings. The Senators tied it in the 11th when Zoilo Versalles booted a potential game-ending double play ball.

Robinson's lead in the batting race is infinitely less by comparison. After slugging two homers in four at bats during Baltimore's 10-4 loss to Cleveland Wednesday, Robby took over first place by one 10,000th of a point.

Elsewhere, the Tigers whipped Chicago 6-2, California shaded New York 2-1, Washington edged the Twins 6-5 in 11 innings and Kansas City swept a pair from Boston 4-2 and 8-3.

Fred Whitfield rapped out three hits for the third-place Indians and Joe Aczue drove in three runs. Cleveland strung together three two-run frames then added three in the ninth. Bill Freehan slammed his ninth homer of the season to highlight a four-run Detroit second inning. Willie Horton also connected for the Tigers, his 19th. Mickey Lolich (13-8) hurled six innings of seven-hit ball but was forced to leave the game in the seventh after

New Dolphins Lose Fourth

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Denver swamped the new Miami Dolphins 28-16 Wednesday night for its first win in three exhibition outings.

on 75 and 11-year scoring plays. Al Denson caught the third TD pass and Abner Hayes scooted around left end for 28 yards and a score. All Denver's points came in the first half.

The Dolphins scored 6-6 in the second period with a five-yard pass from Dick Wood to Karl Noonan. The same procedure was repeated in the third period on a 12-yard play. Miami's final two points came in the last period when Denver's McCormick was tackled in the end zone.

Tigers Are Facing Manpower Problem

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

McLEAN — The Crying Towel award will go this season to Fred Hedgecock, the McLean Tiger head man, and for good reason.

The Tigers won but three of 10 games in 1965 and things look far worse for 1966. Hedgecock would have to be a miracle man to have a winner this year.

The Tigers' return but six starters from their 1965 club and two-part-time starters and three other lettermen.

McLean is unbelievably small and other than the lettermen back have no experience.

"We are really hurting this year," Hedgecock related. "We have had two boys move and should we get anybody hurt, well, I just don't know what we would do."

"Our boys do have good attitudes and they are working as hard or harder than any team I've ever coached," Hedgecock beamed.

The McLean coach was able to welcome back both starting tackles from last year 180-pound senior Lonnie Easley and another 180-pounder, Bryan Parker.

Guard Arthur Dwyer, a 170-pound senior guard and Mike Simpson, a 140-pound junior who started on defense last year and will probably play guard this season.

The rest of the starters back are backfield men with the exception of Calvin Van Huss, 170-pound junior who started part-time last season as an end.

In the backfield the Tigers have quarterback Joel McCarty, a sophomore at 150-pounds, halfbacks Jim Hester, a 140-pound junior and Raymond Baker, the 165-pound senior fullback.

Other lettermen but not starters from the '65 club include, Joe Redwine, a 140-pound junior center, Howard Calcote, a 165-pound senior guard and Harold Calcote, a 160-pound senior guard.

The Tigers tallied just 102 points last year and had 243 scored against them.

Deadly Legislation

A "Berry's W. rid" cartoon, on this page August 16, spoke more eloquently and louder than a thousand words in revealing how the administration, headquartered in Washington, D.C. is cynically trading on the emotions and love of country of the American people in its efforts to ram through one piece of socialist legislation after another.

The cartoon, drawn by NEA's Jim Berry, portrayed two administration functionaries talking to one another as LBJ, decked out in striped pants, cutaway coat, spats, bestarred vest and top hat, approaches a microphone-laden rostrum. As he prepares to deliver another of his copy, platitudinous diatribes, one functionary turns to the other, and says: "Have you noticed that lately he has tended to make support of his policies a test of patriotism?"

And no where has this political cynicism been more evident than in the series of hearings and investigations conducted by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee maintained it was "holding the hearings in connection with a bill which would make it a federal crime to send money, blood or equipment to the Viet Cong or to try to interfere with the U.S. military effort."

Foreign aid, by which billions of dollars are being stolen from American taxpayers for the benefit of socialist governments all over the world, many of which, be it noted, are supplying materials of war to North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong, who, in turn, are killing our men and boys.

The president's "Poverty War" and other socialistic, vote-getting programs by which the improvident and lazy are being rewarded at the expense of those who produce and save.

The legislation being proposed by HUAC could very easily become the instrument for frightening into silence all who honestly disagree with the administration's policy in Viet Nam or, for that matter, anything else Johnson and his political cohorts want to do. Such legislation could mean the end of freedom of speech and of the Press.

Great News for Spenders

One of the glaring deficiencies in the Great Society is that there are still a few things—not many, of course, but a few—that you have to pay cash for.

It is a pleasure to report that this economic oversight is now being corrected.

In the near future it will be possible to walk up to your friendly vending machine and buy such necessities as candy, sandwiches, coffee, desserts and other delicacies without spending a cent of real money.

Patience by Installment

Scientists may disagree, but many a motorist is convinced that the shortest interval of time known to man is the split second it takes a driver in the jar behind to hit the horn if the car ahead doesn't leap forward at the first faint flush of the changing traffic light.

The next time you are honked by one of these hurry-uppers, keep your blood pressure down by being grateful that the honker has access to a mere automobile horn instead of an H-bomb.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

One of the funniest movies we have seen in years is "The Wrong Box," a comedy based on a story by Robert Louis Stevenson, who didn't write much comedy. It concerns two elderly brothers who are the surviving members of a tontine.

Today's smile: An evangelist was describing Judgment Day and said: "There'll be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth." One of his elderly listeners said aloud: "But, I haven't any teeth." Nonplussed, the preacher said: "Don't worry. Teeth will be provided."

Most of the political speeches we hear these days are drab and colorless compared to those of F.D.R., Harry Truman, Al Smith, Jimmy Walker, and others of a bygone era. Maybe it's due to TV. The present-day crop of Politicos do a good job on the rhetoric, but they lack the wit and style of the earlier generation.

Thoughts while shaving: It's frightening to contemplate that commerce and industry lose $2 billion a year through employee thievery; that nearly 10 per cent of all business failures are due largely to such theft; and that you pay 15 per cent more on the goods you buy to cover the cost of this stealing.

From 1962 through 1965, the case backlog in all U.S. district courts rose 15 per cent to an astonishing 74,000.

Uncounted thousands of individuals and many corporations are simply bearing injustice rather than undertake the cost of litigation in time and money.

The alarms are really clanging now, but they seem not to have stirred any sweeping public clamor for action.

It's Waiting Game to Get U.S. Justice

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The nation's judiciary, the heralded "third branch" in the co-ordinate U.S. system of government, is on the way toward breaking down in some critical areas.

The courts — federal, state and local — are generally so overburdened, so inefficient and so ill-equipped to cope with the avalanche of problems descending upon them that justice is either being delayed or denied in thousands upon thousands of cases.

From 1962 through 1965, the case backlog in all U.S. district courts rose 15 per cent to an astonishing 74,000.

Uncounted thousands of individuals and many corporations are simply bearing injustice rather than undertake the cost of litigation in time and money.

The U. S. Judicial Conference is currently discussing reform proposals at meetings around the country.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

If the politicians have their way, new laws will be passed regulating the building of automobiles. Supposedly designed to enhance car safety, the result will be just the opposite.

Government's ability to make the highways safe is predicated on the assumption that the government will force the auto makers to institute new safety features in cars.

Are car-owners really concerned about the safety of their cars? If the answer is no, then why should laws be passed to enforce something the public really doesn't want anyway?

Who should be allowed to decide? The politicians or the public? Is the standard of choice to be the "public interest" or the "politician's interest"?

In a free market, you might choose a magazine like Consumer Reports or a local mechanic or a nation-wide testing service.

Federal courts need only money to introduce computerized business practices.

Under Maryland's Sen. Joseph Tydings, the Senate Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on improvements in judicial machinery has been involved in hearings on and off all year — with more to come.

The group already has decided that merely adding more judges will not do. No miracles are expected from this year's expansion law, which is adding 34 U. S. district and 10 appeal court judges.

He would set up an "Office of Judicial Assistance" to provide "central clearinghouse" advice to judges and courts which want help in modernizing.

The Doctor Says:

Immediacy Not Important in Umbilical Repair

A mother writes that her first child was operated on for an umbilical hernia when she was 8 months old.

The present trend among doctors is to wait at least 2 years before surgically closing an umbilical hernia because in most cases they close spontaneously after about a year.

China's No. 2 Man Prefers Indirect Approach to Target

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The announcement that Defense Minister Lin Piao is now Mao Tse-tung's heir apparent in Red China calls to mind the Lin of 21 years ago.

Lin's cave in Yenan was not very far from mine. Sometimes we would talk. He spoke only Chinese, but he had an interpreter who, like myself, spoke Japanese.

Lin Piao was no peasant. He had an adroit brain. He was a disciple of the indirect approach . . . of never hitting a target head-on.

In telling of his experiences he was strongly impressed by what men could do with a few weapons against a greater force if they had the spirit.

His training methods were intense and probably largely responsible for his military successes. But he believed firmly that an army must rely first on winning the political victories which set the stage for military victories.

In eight months he and I were in contact during World War II, four things were clear: —He was able to build strong loyalties in the men under him.

—He had a keen military analytical mind. —He was always busy building friendships in the right places.

—He was leery about whom he trusted.

Lin Piao was definitely a Communist. He objected strongly to those Americans who called the Yenan group only agrarian reformers.

But when we talked, Lin Piao was a pragmatist — not a rabid fanatic. In the Yenan days, there were Communists who wanted to fight not only the Japanese, but all western countries as well — because they considered them "imperialists."

Lin opposed this. He helped sell the "left" wing of the Communists on taking Britain and the United States as temporary allies until Japan was defeated.

He thought it useful to exploit the differences between the western powers and Japan — and thus isolate Japan and make her easier to defeat.

Lin Piao in Yenan also advocated going slow on killing the landlords and the bourgeois — for the moment.

He said that, temporarily, in his time of emergency, the Reds should go slow in forcing communism with too much terrorism because the help of the non-Communists was needed to defeat the Japanese.

Thus his attitudes in the Yenan days don't jibe with the Chinese-Communist isolating themselves from most of the rest of the world, Communist and non-Communist, as they've done these days.

If Lin Piao thinks now as he thought in Yenan, he would now seek out temporary alliances with some of his enemies in order to divide his enemies and weaken them.

Lin Piao, if he thinks now as he thought then, would make a temporary alliance of expediency with Russia against the United States against Russia or with a group of other capitalist countries such as Britain, France, Japan and Germany if he could . . . or some other equally powerful group.

But whether he thinks now as he did then isn't known here.

Bookends Between the Why is Capitalism The Scapgoat?

In a capitalistic society the consumer is king. His decision to buy or not to buy will ultimately determine who will own the shops and plants — what will be produced and in what quality and quantity.

The author is professor of economics at New York University and the foremost exponent of laissez faire capitalism. Before coming to America in 1940, he taught at the Graduate Institute of International Studies in Geneva, Switzerland.

Professor Von Mises proposes that widespread abuse of capitalism — on the grounds that it is an "unfair" system — is not the result of ignorance but a hatred and dread of the very justice inherent in the market.

In this book Mises displays the unusual ability to deal with a complicated subject in an uncomplicated way. He covers the nature of capitalism and the psychological roots of its rejection; the change in the market for literary products and the resulting effect upon the individual; and includes a thought-provoking chapter on "anti-communism" vs. capitalism in a delightfully swift 112 pages.

I recommend it highly, especially to anyone interested in saving the "goose that laid the golden egg" from the chopping block of socialism.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT
PRIVACY INVADERS

A massive invasion of personal privacy is underway in our country. Numerous careful studies have confirmed its existence and shown its extent.

The worst invasions of privacy are those for which government is responsible, since government has the power to force individuals to answer its questions under penalty of fine or imprisonment, or to prosecute individuals on the basis of information gained by privacy invasion.

But too many private business corporations are also guilty of privacy invasion, particularly of their employees, through the use of such techniques as the personality test and the so-called "lie detector."

A man's personality and private life are strictly his own business. So long as he injures no one else, no other person should probe him against his will.

To be sure, the private business concern has a right not to hire, or to discharge, persons who will not bare their souls on order. But it is very poor practice, and will result in the most talented individuals going elsewhere.

Privacy invasion by government can take the form of "mail covers," electronic spying, or simply too-detailed census questionnaires that recipients are required to answer.

The federal government already has much information on every American. We should take care that it is never brought together into the kind of " dossier " which the secret police of totalitarian states like to use.

A central file of this kind on every citizen has actually been proposed, but so far rejected.
