Tower Has No Plan For Gaining Liberals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., locked in a re-election battle with conservative Democrat Waggoner Carr, said Friday he had no program for attracting the liberal vote but would welcome liberal support.

"I am running on my record," Tower said, "and it is essentially a conservative record."

The senator reported precinct soundings in the Lone Star state have produced "fantastic results. They show me with a substantial lead." He conceded that the soundings were made in friendly areas, but said the margin of support was greater than ever before.

Tower said the chief issues midway in the campaign are American policy in Southeast Asia, inflation and tight money. He said his position on these issues is "Well known," but that as far as he knew Carr had not spoken out on them.

Paid Own Expenses

To Democratic charges that he became interested in Viet Nam only in this political year, Tower recalled he spent time in Southeast Asia during World War II, paid his own expenses for an on-site inspection trip in 1962 and has made two trips since as a member of the Armed Services Committee. He added that "military men appreciate us (senators) going to Viet Nam." The trips, he said, offer opportunities for lawmakers to become familiar with military problems.

Carr has said he has no plans to visit the war zone.

Tower also denied a charge credited to Democratic sources: That he had hired an outside public relations firm to help him in his campaign.

All Texas Staff

Calling the charge "ridiculous," Tower said he had an all Texas staff.

Tower made these other observations in response to questions:

—He opposed the gun control bill sponsored by Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn.

—His primary objection to the civil rights bill is the open housing section.

—He will continue to support project Mohole, despite Republican charges Thursday in the House of a possible connection between Democratic campaign contributions from the Brown family of Houston.

KILL INFILTRATORS

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean troops killed three alleged North Korean infiltrators early Saturday, military authorities announced. One South Korean was reported killed in the clash 10 miles north of Seoul.

JOB OPEN

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — The University of Idaho is searching for a new basketball coach to replace Jim Goddard, who resigned to take an administrative post with the state Department of Education in Oregon.

Goddard resigned after posting a 25-23 record in three seasons.

GIRLS' GOLF

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Kathy Ahern of Dallas and Claudia Mayhew of Carmel, Ind., meet Saturday for the SUGA Girls National golf championship.

Miss Ahern topped Pamela Sue Fox of Corvallis, Ore., 4 and 3, while Miss Mayhew beat Mariann Eichelberger of Abington, Pa., 2 and 1 in the two semifinal matches.

Indian Wars Survivor Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Veterans Administration recently announced the death of 89-year-old Griffith C. Williams, one of the last survivors of the Indian wars that raged during the latter part of the 19th century.

Williams, a former corporal, faced the Chippewas at Deer River in 1898 on assignment with the Minnesota National Guard. He later said the encounter "wasn't really much of a fight."

The VA said Williams died at a nursing home in Coon Rapids, Minn. His death reduces the number of known survivors of the Indian wars to four.

This Week In Business

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tight money that will get tighter was the story dominating the business news this week.

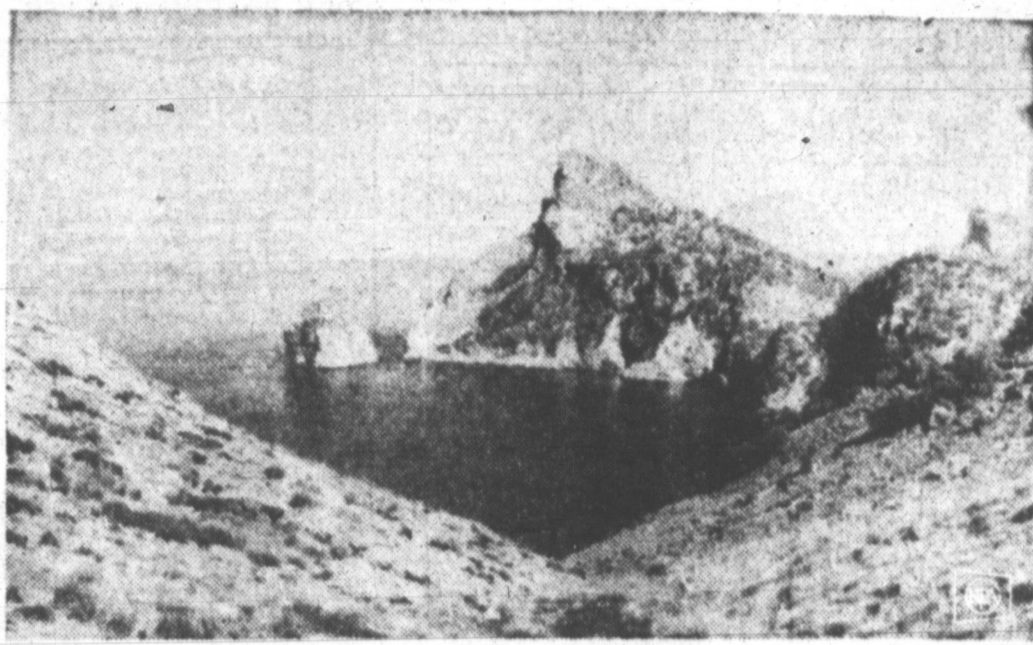

After weeks of debate by economists over whether interest rates and income taxes both should be increased, First National City Bank of New York raised the prime rate for business loans to 6 per cent from 5 1/2 per cent. It is the highest prime rate since the present formula for determining the rate was adopted by the banks after the great depression.

Most of the big commercial banks in the country promptly followed the rise in spite of a denunciation by Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler who said "There are better ways to limit credit than simply raising its price." The administration reaction, on the whole, though, was mild and it was fairly plain there would be no attempt this time to put pressure on the banks to rescind the increase.

The rise in the prime rate also increased the already wide spread between interest rates to business and the federal reserve system's 4 1/2 per cent discount rate. The Reserve Board, whose majority has seen not quite eye-to-eye with the Johnson administration on monetary and fiscal policy for months, reacted by increasing by an estimated $50 million the reserves requirements for certificates of deposit issued by commercial banks.

The effect of this is to put a brake on the issuance of CD's and restrain the banks from accumulating huge deposits of funds that can be used for loans the Reserve Board regards as at least potentially inflationary.

In 1940, Leon Trotsky, one of the main builders of Soviet communism, was assassinated in Mexico City.

PEACEFUL COVES like this one near Formentor are abundant on the island of Majorca. In fact, the island, located in the Mediterranean and a possession of Spain, is nicknamed "The Isle of Calm."

Majorca: A Nice Place To Meet

By DAVE BURGIN
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 PALMA DE MALLORCA — Two Englishmen bowler hat and rolled umbrella types, stood in front of the hotel watching two busloads of excited Americans attack the lobby.

"I say," sighed one Englishman, "it looks as if the Americans have finally discovered Majorca City."

The Englishman was wrong. Ninety per cent of the Americans who visit Europe each summer either haven't heard of Majorca or couldn't tell you where it is.

And they haven't "discovered" Majorca in the sense it is overrun by madras-clad coeds and nasal-twang group tours, as are Paris, Rome and parts of the French and Italian riverias.

In fact, of the nearly two million people who will have visited the fantastically beautiful 50 by 60-mile island of Majorca, meanwhile, has become one of Europe's most sought-after vacation spots. It is difficult to reach because ferry service (14-hour overnight trip) is limited and the Palma airport is already overburdened.

The airport this summer claimed a European record for the most passengers handled by a single airport in one day — 25,167 arrived and departed on July 3.

What's the reason for this popularity? It probably doesn't stem from a desire to dig into Majorca's ancient history of Phoenician, Carthaginian, Greek and Roman cultures, or the lore that has it a sanctuary for pirates and gun runners.

For the young, the lure is Palma and its romantic coves and majestic beaches strung like a 25-mile arc along a pleasant promenade and the bay. At night they swing in an area of the city called El Turrenno, filled with inexpensive discotheques and casual sidewalk cafes.

For relaxationists, the lure is found in Majorca's nickname, "The Isle of Calm." The interior of the island, or the eastern coast around the picturesque villages of Formentor, Pollensa and Alcudia, is tranquil in a beautiful setting of lazy mountains and palm and pine trees, or hidden coves splashed by dazzling blue waters.

The weather is nearly always warm and clear most of the year. And the proud and polite Majorcans seldom concern themselves with time.

On Majorca, tourists themselves are a feature. Scandinavians and English, who compose the bulk of the influx, along with sizeable lots of French and Germans, mingle freely on the beaches and in nightclubs instead of isolating themselves by nationalities, which they tend to do in other European holiday areas.

In this light, Majorca is ideal for the "discovering" American tourist who claims he wants to go to Europe "to meet the people."

'Free' Abortionist Caught By Police

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — Police said today they were holding a 38-year-old man who admitted performing 5,000 "free" abortions on area women — mostly coeds — during the past five years.

The suspect, John Louis Siverly, a real estate dealer and former bail bondsman, turned himself in Thursday to Dist. Atty. Rex Scott. Scott said a year-long investigation had been made in the case and there may be more arrests.

Officials said Siverly told officers he treated the women at his brick ranch-style seven-room home north of Boulder or at a pre-arranged location.

None of the "patients" was charged, he told officials. One officer said "he (Siverly) said he felt sorry for the girls and wanted to help them. He said he sometimes accepted donations from grateful girls." The officer said the average donation was $175.

Investigators said most of the young women were aborted in the "early stages" of pregnancy and most were alone when the chemically-induced abortions occurred.

Siverly was charged Thursday after his arrest with illegal possession of drugs for procuring an abortion.

AGAINST MINI SKIRT

ALGIERS (UPI) — Algeria Saturday joined neighboring Tunisia in condemning the mini skirt. The official magazine Revolution Africaine said those who wear them would find Algeria "fighting against these and all other forms of depravation for the moral health of our country."

Three More Polio Cases Reported, Boosting State Year's Total to 44

AUSTIN (UPI) — Three more Texas Health Department reported cases of paralytic polio were reported in Texas last week, boosting the 1966 total to 44, the 44 cases compare with only 19 for the entire year of 1965.

Jury Denounces Court Decisions

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — A Bexar County grand jury issued a special report Thursday expressing shock at recent court decisions "which tend to hamper law enforcement."

The report called the Texas Penal Code a "hodge-podge of inconsistencies, inequities and penalties which have no basis of reason or common sense."

The grand jury's report was made by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr in an appearance before a law revisions house committee in Austin Thursday.

Both Carr and the grand jury, in unrelated actions, said the criminal element is being codded at the expense of law-abiding citizens. Both said more emphasis should be placed on the privilege of law-abiding citizens to be safe.

The grand jury urged 17th District Judge John Onion to use his influence to "rectify the

However, despite the increase, officials are optimistic that the figure will level off.

Immunization programs have been intensified in all counties, a department spokesman said. "Since May 31, about 48,000 doses of tri-valent vaccine have been distributed in the affected counties, all in South and Southwest Texas." The three LATEST CASES REPORTED Kleberg, Bexar and Kinney counties.

Two of the cases were in infants under one year of age and the other was 3 years old. Two had had no vaccine, and it is not known if the third had been immunized.

The department noted that Wilson County doctors held a mass drive last week with physicians donating vaccine and their services. A spokesman said other areas are considering similar drives to combat the rise in cases.

existing situation." It urged legislators to attend a University of Texas conference on criminal law Sept. 8-10 to study possible revisions in the penal code.

JIM BROWN, OUTSPOKEN ACTOR
MILDRAN OLPERMAN (LONDON)

Jimmy Brown...A Man Seeking the Truth of Charlies

LONDON, England — Jimmy Brown sat across the table and the planes of his strong face glinted like polished mahogany. The time was lunch at the Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer commissary in Boreham Wood, a suburb of London in Hertfordshire. The subject was truth. "I speak the truth," said Brown. "If you deny me, you're my enemy."

"And just," a listener wanted to know, "what is the truth?"

Brown was dressed in the drab army fatigues which are his uniform as an actor in a movie called "The Dirty Dozen." He leaned back reflectively, a half smile playing across his strong lips, and he crooked his left arm across the top of the chair to support his head.

He speaks, "...I'm a nigger... and I'll always be a nigger except for other niggers. And you know something? I'm proud of it now. Because I did something that every nigger ought to do—I killed a nigger-hater.... I could kill you."

There was no mirth in the way Brown called me "Charlie." It was chilling, though I felt no physical danger. This was a room full of professionals, and we're all civilized and the conversation was meant to be impersonal. "Charlie" is every white man. But in Brown, the layer of hostility and distrust, which he can't always subdue, flips up into a wall of aloofness that shuts out easy relationships and normal give-and-take conversation.

"It took a lot for Jimmy to transfer the job to Big 33 star James Street of Longview after suffering a minor injury. Street marched down 66 yards for the Texans before pitching out to Lizzie Cole from four yards out. Cole, of Dallas Madison went untouched with 6:34 left in the quarter. He was named the game's outstanding back.

Farquhar Will Be Back to Defend ToT Championship

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

It appears a full field of 206 palyers will be on hand for the 29th annual Top O' Texas golf tournament, Sept. 2-5 at Pampa Country Club.

With tee off time more than two weeks away over 100 entries have been received, including that of 1965 winner John Farquhar of Amarillo.

By a stroke of luck, at least as far as PCC tournament directors are concerned, Farquhar failed to qualify for the National Amateur, which will be in progress the same time as the ToT.

A practice round has been set for Sept. 2 and a medalist will be found Sept. 3 after first round action.

Championship flight players will have 72 holes of medal play and other flights with two rounds of match play. The final 18 holes will be medal play.

The championship and first flight will be cut after 36 holes and prizes will be awarded the top 10 places in the championship bracket.

Prizes will go to winner, runner-up and consolation in all other flights. A $100 certificate will be awarded for each low round in the championship flight.

Non-contestants can purchase a family card for $5 per person which gives them club house privileges, refreshments, swimming pool privileges and dancing nightly.

Players will have to declare for the championship flight and all other entries must have scores attested by PCC pro Hart Warren. The club reserves the right to see all players.

Besides Farquhar, entries have been received from players all over the U.S. with more to come and the 1966 tournament has all the earmarks of being the biggest and best yet.

Browns, Jets, Pats Ramble

ATLANTA (UPI)—Dr. Frank Ryan, Cleveland's highly educated quarterback, taught the Atlanta Falcons a lesson in professional passing Saturday night while leading the Browns to a 42-3 exhibition victory.

The Browns broke up a fairly close battle in the final period when they explored for four touchdowns to hand the tired Falcons their worst defeat in four pre-season games.

Ryan, playing barely a half, teamed up with end Milt Morin on a 70-yard touchdown pass run play midway through the first period, then hit halfback Leroy Kelly with a nine-yard touchdown pass on the opening play of the second period.

The Browns were otherwise contained through the first three periods by a fierce Falcon defense led by rookie linebacker Tommy Nobis but Cleveland broke loose in the final period to turn the contest into a rout.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The New York Jets overpowered the Miami Dolphins 31-14 Saturday night on the bruising running of halfback Bill Mathis and fullback Matt Snell.

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—End Jim Whalen caught two touchdowns passes to lead the Boston Patriots to a 21-0 victory over Oakland in the first game of the first American Football League exhibition doubleheader before an estimated 30,000 fans Saturday.

Medalist Upset In USGA Finals

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Claudia Mayhew, a 17-year-old high school senior with a hot putter, upset medalist Kathy Ahern of Dallas, Tex., 3 and 2 Saturday to win the USGA Junior Girls National Golf Championship.

"It was a matter of who was making putts and I was making the five to six footers," explained Miss Mayhew of Carmel, Ind.

Both started strong with birdies on the first hole at Longue Vue Country Club. Claudia won the second when Kathy three-putted but Kathy missed the third when Claudia took a double bogey. They halved the 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th. Claudia won the 14th when Kathy bogeyed and they halved the 15th.

RON CROSS

The annual Pampa News football area roundups begin on today's sports pages and the one thing the majority of the coaches have in common is lack of depth.

Most every coach we talked to cited depth as his biggest weakness with speed second and good attitudes and enthusiasm as the biggest asset.

Three new coaches dot the area scene in Richard Eddleman at Groom, Cherrill Bottoms at White Deer and James Anglin at Miami.

Bucks Lack Depth

Eddleman and Bottoms have the toughest rows to hoe with both towns having district champions last year.

Bottoms has good strong, fast, mean and ready to play lads back, but doesn't have much depth. Eddleman is facing quite a task, with several returning starters, but losing three boys, one Jerry Roberts, who will be near impossible to replace.

Anglin goes to a team that didn't do much in the win column last year and has only 17 youngsters in football togs this season.

He figures in two years Miami should be on the road back.

McLean Small

You can bet they will want to keep that from happening this season.

Fred Hedgecoke at McLean has his work cut out for him. He has several good boys, but most of them are small. He might do it on defense.

Perryton is of moderate size, but according to coach Ray Hopkins, slow and lack depth.

One thing they do have is a willingness to knock heads with you. Pampa had better keep this in mind.

Pampa's Top O' Texas softball tournament has had several unusual things happen, like the first night, two eight home runs were hit, three the second night, two the third night, four the fourth night and one the fifth night.

A player and umpire had a fist fight and four players were ejected during the tournament.

But all in all it was a good successful five nights.

NEW YORK (UPI) — That Gavlor Perry is a real cutie. He's in a good spot to become the majors' first 20-game winner this year and whenever they ask him how he's doing it, his answer always is the same. "Fellas," he says, "the big difference is my hard slider."

Perry is absolutely correct on one point. There is a big difference in his 19-2 record with the Giants this year and the 8-12 mark he had with them last year.

But enemy letters merely laugh when they hear him name his hard slider as the pitch that turned everything around for him. What really did it, they think, is his spitter.

Mention that word to Perry and he stands there looking at you as if you're fresh off the Kowloon Ferry.

"What Spitter?"

"Spitter?" he inquires innocently, his features reddening somewhat. "What spitter?"

"The hitters say you throw one."

"I don't know where they get that idea I sweat a lot. Maybe that's the reason."

"Didn't you sweat as much last year?"

Here there's a noticeable pause.

But from another corner of the Giants clubhouse, someone wags his tongue.

"He wasn't in long enough to sweat last year."

Whether the stringbean-like, 27-year-old Perry has been doing it with spitters, mirrors or oleomargarine, it is pretty well agreed he has been an 18 carat marvel this season.

If he chooses, he can honestly say he has won 25 games so far and lost only two. That would be counting his 5-0 record in spring training plus the victory he received credit for in July's All-Star game.

What makes his record all the more amazing is that he compiled it even though he was out three weeks from May 24 to June 13 with a damaged left ankle, on which he still wears a bandage.

No Starter

More amazing yet is the fact that field marshal Herman Franks wasn't even sure Perry could be depended upon as a regular starter when the season began.

Perry was supposed to pitch the second game of the season against the Cubs but Franks switched to Bob Bolin and left word for Perry he would start the fourth game.

Came the fourth game and Bob Shaw got the call. Finally, in the seventh game against Chicago, Perry, who hadn't started one yet, came in to relieve and was credited with his first victory.

Four days later, nearly two weeks after the season opened, he was given his first start against Houston and he won it 2-1, with a four-hitter.

"Now, maybe Herman and the Giants will believe I can be a starting pitcher," Perry commented on a post-game radio interview.

Franks got wind of Perry's remark and took it with good grace.

"Hell," declared the Giant manager, "I wish I had three other guys who felt the same way and meant it."

The fact that the hitters think he throws a spitter doesn't bother Perry.

"They're entitled," he laughs. "Nor is it upset that when the subject of great pitchers comes up, people usually talk about Sandy Koufax or Juan Marichal."

"They should," he says.

Like in Football Lack of Depth Hurting Astros

Dallas (UPI) — Grady Hatton had the situation pegged back in June.

He knew his young Houston club was playing over its head in the first division, but there was always the outside shot the Astros could hang onto fifth place.

"We don't have a whole lot of depth," he said, "and if anybody gets hurt we're in trouble."

Well, the end came even quicker than Hatton could have guessed.

Morgan Hurt

It all started with an injury to second baseman Joe Morgan, an All-Star selection. A batting practice line drive struck him on the kneecap, breaking it. Morgan was out for two months.

Catcher John Bateman was injured by a fastball and missed three weeks.

Centerfielder Jim Wynn, the club's leading home run hitter and super fly snatcher, crashed into a wall and smashed his arm. He's out for the season.

Shortstop Sonny Jackson missed some time with a leg injury. Pitcher Bob Bruce suffered an eye infection and hurlers Barry Latman, Dick Farrell, and young Larry Dierker missed duty because of arm troubles.

Then relief pitcher Claude Raymond lost his touch after the All-Star break and is right-handed. The Astros have no left-handed relief.

Suddenly, it's a ball with the New York Mets for ninth place.

"The injuries have just torn the club up," Hatton said Wednesday after sending the club through a mid-afternoon batting practice drill. "Everything has just gone bad."

Hatton said he plans to bring at least five players up from the farm teams soon to give them experience.

"This winter we'll be out looking for a power hitter and some pitchers," Hatton said. "We could have a real good club next year and we've just got to play out of this bad luck streak."

Hatton was asked if he could think of one good thing that has happened lately.

"Not really," he said, "unless you want to count my pitching batting practice with no ill effects."

SHORT SHOTS . . .

It was a tension-easing crack Dallas Cowboy tight end Pettis for Sprinter Bob Hayes had his ankle stepped on in practice at a cowboy camp in California and trainers and players gathered anxiously around. Norman ambled up and said, "Bob, het I can beat you in the hundred now."

THE BLACK MAXERS

Pirates Getting Lots of Help

By ROY McHUGH
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PITTSBURGH (NEA) — You can't do it every day. But the Pittsburgh Pirates know that if they stick with 'em and hang in there, probably they'll get 'em next time.

Can't-do-it-every-day, stick-with-'em, hang-in-there and get-'em-next-time are the verbal pats on the back the Pirates award one another to alleviate gloom.

First baseman Donn Clendenon leads the Pirates in get-'em-next-times with 95. "One for each strikeout," he says.

A hard line drive into the waiting hands of an infielder or outfielder is only a time at bat in the box score, but it merits a fervent hang-in-there.

Blass and Clendenon belong to the Black Maxers, hence the bookkeeping. The Black Maxers are an in-group among the Pirates and to maintain his membership each of the Maxers must get at least one citation a week.

It is all part of the high jinks the Pirates are going in for this year — a burlesque not only on baseball cliches but on a current motion picture called "The Blue Max," itself an unconscious burlesque on every bad World War I movie Hollywood ever made.

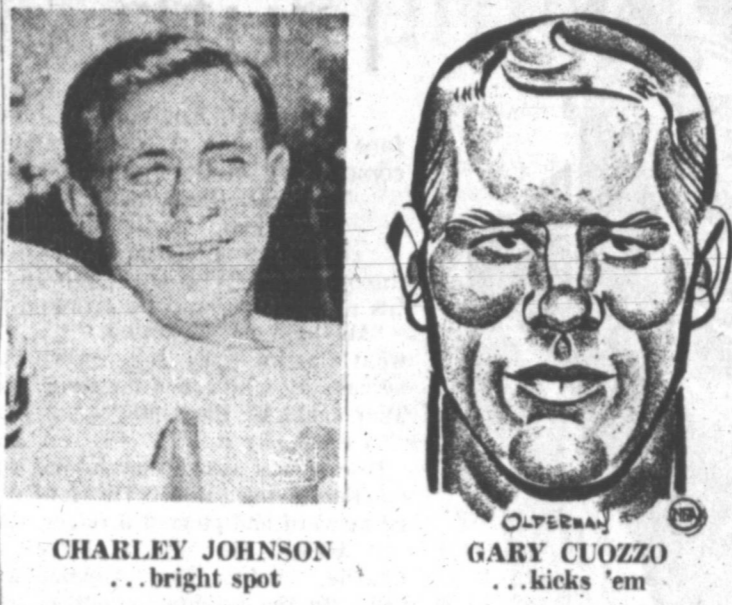

As relief pitcher Pete Mikkelsen describes the movie, which the Black Maxers saw in Chicago to one day, "It's about dogfights during World War I. The Blue Max was a German medal. If somebody knocked down 20 British planes he got a Blue Max from the Kaiser or whoever he was. One guy in the story wanted that more than anything. He wanted a Blue Max."

Steve Blass wanted enough Blue Maxes to start a Blue Max chapter on the Pirates and he toured Chicago's Loop in a taxicab, rummaging through novelty stores. He had to settle for 12 black surfer's medals and the would-be Blue Maxers

Cardinals Routed By Baltimore Power

By United Press International
September 10th could be tomorrow as far as the Baltimore Colts are concerned.

The arm and the toe are ready.

The Colts, who kick off the National Football League season Saturday night Sept. 10 against the defending champion Green Bay Packers, looked like they're ready to start the season immediately when they crushed the St. Louis Cardinals 33-7 Friday night in a pre-season contest.

Johnny Unitas, injured last season but again proving he's ready to regain his spot as the team's premier quarterback, and veteran kicker Lou Michaels sparked the Colts to their third straight victory of the exhibition season to open a weekend of pro exhibition games. It was St. Louis' first loss after two straight victories.

Unitas played the entire first half and completed seven of 16 passes for 109 yards while guiding the Colts to a 16-7 halftime lead. Unitas' backup man, Gary Cuozzo, who was also injured last season, completed five of 12 passes for 74 yards in the second half when the Colts had a 17-0 edge.

Michals accounted for 15 of the Colts' points as he kicked four field goals and converted after both Colt touchdowns. Michaels hit on field goals of 13, 22, 48 and 47 yards and his only miss was a 53-yard attempt.

Unitas and Lenny Moore accounted for the two Colt TDs on short plunges, one in each half.

Liston Crys For Cassius

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, touring Europe and giving challengers a chance at his title, has been invited to Sweden by an old friend—Sonny Liston.

Liston extended the invitation after idiosoping of Amos Johnson in 1:48 of the third round however, was not a friendly one.

"I want Clay and I want him badly," Liston barked. "I did to Johnson in three rounds what Henry Cooper and Brian London couldn't do in one year and they got a title fight against Clay."

Liston, the former heavyweight champ whose title was taken away by Clay, smashed Johnson to the canvas twice in the second round and finished the Medina, Ohio, fighter with a left right combination in the third.

"It was like being hit by an axe," said Johnson, who weighed 18 pounds less than his 218-pound opponent. "He was much better than I thought. He was fearsome."

SPORT Magazine says All-Pro tackle Bob Lilly of Dallas will be the NFL's outstanding defensive lineman this year. Many believe he was last year and this year before that.

SPORT also has named former Southern Methodist All-American halfback Doak Walker as its top performer in college football for the 20-year period from 1946 to 1966.

Doak Walker was the last of the three-time All-Americans," says SPORT. "He was a brilliant two-way performer who scored 40 touchdowns in his college career, many of them on spectacular, game-breaking runs and leaping catches of last-resort passes."

TEXAS A&M Coach Gene Stallings told the Dallas A&M Club giant tackle Mo Moorman will be as good as any the Aggies play against this year.

Stallings then said that if Moorman does get hurt "I want the fellow who hurt him, he'll be a genuine stud."

Jaster Means Nothing But Trouble for Dodgers

By United Press International
Larry Jaster means nothing to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 22-year-old lefthander fired his fourth consecutive shutout at Los Angeles Friday night, zipping them 4-0 to run his scoreless inning streak over the Dodgers to 37, including one frame last September in relief. In other National League action, Chicago edged Pittsburgh 4-3, Atlanta downed San Francisco 8-5, Houston nipped Cincinnati 4-3 and Philadelphia defeated New York 5-4 in 10 innings. Julian Javier supplied the batting punch to supplement Jaster's hurling. He drove in Dal Maxvill, who had walked, with a third inning double for the first run of the game. The Cards scored three more in the seventh.

Chicago scored an unearned run in the 11th inning on Glenn Beckert's single to edge first place Pittsburgh. George Altman, who tallied the deciding run, reached base on Pirate first baseman Donn Clendenon's error. Ron Santo and Ernie Banks contributed homers for the Cubs and Clendenon had an earlier blast for Pittsburgh.

Seventh inning back to back home runs by Rico Carty and Mack Jones capped a four run rally that sparked the Braves to victory. A walk to Hank Aaron, Joe Torre's single and the two homers finished Bob Bolin, who suffered his eighth loss against seven victories. Phil Niekro, who hurled three-hit ball over the final five frames, got the win, his fourth in seven decisions.

Rusty Staub drove in the winning run with a two out single in the ninth inning that scored Sonny Jackson and made Houston a winner over the Reds. Jackson, like Jaster, spotlighted himself as a specialist. In the first inning he collected his third home run of the year. It was his third inside the park homer, third in the Astrodome and third in the first inning. Astro starter Larry Dierker fanned 11 in 7-1-3 innings but the win went to Claude Raymond while Bill McCool absorbed the setback.

Richie Allen powered his 30th home run of the year off Bob Friend in the 10th inning as the Phillies picked up a full game on first place and wound up 4½ games back. The Mets had scored a go ahead run in the seventh on a throwing error by Allen but a double by Tony Gonzalez and a two out pinch single by Harvey Kuenn in the ninth inning sent the game into extra innings.

Birdie Tebbetts wasn't the type to quit a loser, so the Cleveland Indians made sure he went out with a winner.

A major league manager for 10 seasons, the 54-year-old Tebbetts resigned his post with Cleveland Friday night and was succeeded by coach George Strickland. Although the Indians never gave him an American League championship, they did provide him with a taste of victory in his final game.

With one out in the 10th inning and the score tied 2-2, Leon Wagner slammed his 21st home run of the campaign to give the Indians a 3-2 triumph over Chicago. Twenty minutes later, Cleveland president Gabe Paul read the formal announcement of Tebbitt's resignation.

Elsewhere, Detroit opened Baltimore 10-4, Minnesota shaded Boston 2-1, Washington nipped California 5-3 and New York beat Kansas City 7-5 before losing 1-0.

Tiger Victory
Dick McAuliffe and Jerry Lumpe scored three runs apiece as the second-place five-game winning streak. Mickey Lolich hurled nine innings, winning his 12th game in 20 decisions although giving up 10 hit. Detroit tallied five runs in the first two innings and four more in the sixth.

Earl Batters provided the Twins with both runs by doubling home Cesar Tovar and Harmon Killebrew in the first stanza. Jim Kaat, the winningest pitcher in the A.L., captured his 18th game, hurling 7-1-3 innings of four-hit ball. Al Worthington finished up, allowing no Boston baserunners and striking out two. Big Frank Howard erased a 3-1 California lead by walloping his 15th home run following singles by Bob Saverine and Jim King in the sixth. The fly Reliever Bob Humphreys, 10-9 bounced a bad-hop single over the Senators scored again in the hurling one-hit ball over the inning on singles by Ken McMullen and Ken Harrelson record to 5-2.

Health Department Plans To Combat Leprosy Cases

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Health Department this October will initiate a program to combat and control growing cases of leprosy in Texas, it was announced recently.

A grant of $267,734 has been made available from U.S. Public Health Department funds.

Although cases are scattered throughout most areas of the state, the greatest case load is concentrated in counties close to the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande Valley.

Leprosy is not especially common in Texas, but intensive surveys conducted over the past six years indicate it is much more prevalent than had been believed. State health officials think the disease is on the increase.

Dr. M. S. Dickerson, state epidemiologist, will head the program. He has had many years of experience in managing the diverse problems of leprosy, including five years as a medical missionary to the Congo, where he worked with a cannibal tribe of about 140,000 plagued with leprosy and other medical problems.

"Leprosy presents one of the greatest challenges in public health," Dr. Dickerson said.

Pampa Dentist Is Named on Group Supporting Tower

Dr. George Snell of Pampa has been named to a statewide 23-member Dentists for Tower Committee.

The committee is headed by co-chairmen Dr. Byron Coward of Corpus Christi and Dr. Jack Lyon of Austin.

Purpose of the group is to aid the campaign of Sen. John Tower, seeking re-election as Republican senator from Texas.

Senator Tower yesterday issued this statement:

"I have attempted to support the highest ideals of the entire medical profession with programs I felt would give us the very best quality medical care, which I feel is consistent with a free society of individuals."

"I greatly appreciate the endorsement of my record given me by these outstanding members of the dental profession."

Senator Tower is in his sixth year as senator and is on two major Senate committees — Armed Services and Banking and Currency. This year he was named to the important Military Construction Subcommittee.

As part of his Armed Services Committee business, Senator Tower has twice toured Vietnam and Southeast Asia and is considered to be one of the best-informed members of Congress on this troubled area.

He was also a leader in the successful fight to save the Texas Right-to-Work Law, giving the worker a choice in joining or not joining a union.

Senator Tower received a bachelor's degree from Southwestern University and a master's degree in government from Southern Methodist University. He did post-graduate work at the University of London. He was a university teacher of government before running for the Senate.

Actor Faces Stiff Charge

LUCCA, Italy (UPI) — Actor William Holden was charged with manslaughter Saturday in the traffic death of an Italian motorist.

An Italian magistrate ordered the 48-year-old Academy Award winning actor to stand trial next January for the accidental death of salesman Valario Giorgio Novelli, 42.

Novelli was killed July 26 when his small car collided with Holden's Ferrari on the Florence-Viareggio superhighway.

At a preliminary hearing, Holden testified that Novelli blocked the passing lane as he was rapidly overtaking him. He said he tried to avoid a crash by passing Novelli on the right but the small car suddenly swerved to the right, "making the crash inevitable." Both cars were headed in the same direction.

Conviction of manslaughter charges is punishable by up to five years in jail. But in Italy most manslaughter convictions involving traffic deaths usually result in suspended sentences.

Foreign Commentary

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

French Persuasion:
The French government is quietly seeking to persuade Cambodian Chief of State Prince Norodom Sihanouk to withdraw his ban on the planned visit to Phnom Penh in September by U.S. presidential envoy Averell Harriman, according to diplomatic sources in Paris. It is said to be doing so at Washington's request. Diplomats say results so far have been negative.

Vacationing Troika:
The troika commanding the Kremlin's collective leadership have taken their troubles and worries to the balmy climate of the Black Sea coast. Communist party leader Brezhnev, Premier Alexei Kosygin and President Nikolai Podgorny are expected to stay until the end of the month, but each is believed doing his homework. Brezhnev is preparing a report for a autumn meeting of the party DUCENTRAL Committee to include news of a bumper harvest Kosygin is putting the finishing touches on a five-year economic plan whose publication has been delayed almost a year. Podgorny is making arrangements to visit Austria, his first trip to a Western country since he succeeded Anastas I. Mikoyan. The troika also are receiving a number of foreign Communist leaders.

Korean Elections:
The government has decided on next May as the time for South Korea's second general elections since the 1961 coup that brought President Park Chung Kee to power. Park was elected president in a minority vote in 1963 and is likely to retain power again. Political observers in Seoul say his opponents are only slightly less fragmented now and probably will split even further before voting day.

SHAPE Site:
U.S. officials expect Allied Supreme Commander Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer to take his time about fixing on a new site for his SHAPE headquarters, now just outside Paris. The Belgians have offered him one between Mons and Charleroi. When Lemnitzer voiced his objections the Belgians replied curtly they had nothing else to offer. Officials say Lemnitzer now is in no hurry about giving a definite yes or no answer.

Russian Renaults:
The French say talks are going well between the nationalized Renault automobile concern in Paris and the Russians. The Soviets have asked Renault to help them redesign and reequip their Moskvitch car plant for mass production. Hitherto it turned out only 60,000 cars annually. French sources say it may be some time before a firm agreement is reached.

Wilson Opposition:
Despite parliamentary approval for British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's unprecedented wage-price freeze, large sections of the public oppose it including underpaid junior doctors and powerful trade unions. The Trades Union Congress (TUC) is likely to come under intense pressure to buck the government at its annual conference next month despite the TUC leadership's "reluctant" agreement to go along. More opposition is expected at the Labor party congress in October. One union is already threatening to take the government to court over the wage freeze item.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the News as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—One of my customers told me that if I put a punch board in my bar I would have to pay a gambling tax on it. Is that right?

A—Punch boards and similar devices make the businessman operating them subject to a 10 percent wagering tax. In addition, the $50 Federal occupational stamp tax on wagering must also be paid.

Q—What are the rules for establishing a theft loss? My son lost a typewriter and some other items at school.

A—To establish a deduction for a theft loss you must: (1) show the date the theft was discovered; (2) show the property was stolen and not lost or mislaid; (3) establish ownership; (4) show evidence of value of property; (5) show any amount taken or allowable for depreciation; and (6) show the amount of insurance or other compensation for the loss received or recoverable. Only the unreimbursed amount of each theft of non-business property in excess of $100 is deductible.

Q—I got a letter from your service center asking for my Social Security number. Where should I send it — to the service center or to the district office?

A—Replies to inquiries received from the service center should be sent back to the service center unless the letter indicates you should send the information to the district office.

Negro Group Says It Will Help Wallace

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A Negro organization in Birmingham Thursday said it would support Mrs. George Wallace for governor this year because of Gov. Wallace's "unintentional help" in integrating Alabama.

The West Jefferson Coordinating Council said it had mailed Wallace a letter thanking him for his help in speeding up integration in the state during his term of office.

The letter said, "the Negroes will strive to keep the Wallaces in office another term. Your strong stand against integration and the federal guidelines will help us to achieve our goal more than you will ever know." It was signed by Blevins Stout, president of the council.

"A good worker, but he talks too much." When the card was returned, it bore, in addition to the father's signature, this report:

Parilou N. Chandler, Jimmy J. Brown Pledge Vows in Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony, read at 7:30 o'clock yesterday evening in Mary Elien at Harvester Church of Christ, Miss Parilou Nell Chandler became the bride of Jimmy Jerrell Brown.

Minister David Balch solemnized the double-ring ceremony before an altar appointed with two baskets, holding arrangements of gladioli and two candelabra bearing caudal tapers. A white aisle cloth led to the altar setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Chandler of 414 Doucette. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon L. Brown of 1101 E. Kingsmill are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Church Choir presented the "Wedding Chorus," "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "Faithful and True," "The Wedding Prayer" and the "Recessional." Vocal selections were given by Miss Norma Jean Balch of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "I Pledge My Love."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie styled with a fitted bodice and a full softly pleated skirt. Lace-embroidered with seed pearls, trimmed the scooped neckline and the petal points of the long tapering sleeves. A panel of the chosen lace highlighted the front panel of the full-length skirt. A cathedral-length train of white peau de soie fell from the back waistline. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. The bride's waist-length veil of illusion was held by a crown of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses which cascaded across the front of her gown.

Mrs. John W. Lauen of San Angelo attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Helen Wright was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Gracie Sexton and Miss Johnnie Lynn Chandler, sister of the bride, attended as junior bridesmaid. Attired identically in waltz-length gowns with pink lace-empire bodices and matching satin skirts, designed with long tapered sleeves and white veils.

Mrs. Don Childers, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. J. E. Flynt, the bride's aunt, served the three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated in pink and topped by a miniature bridal couple. Attending the guest register was Mrs. Don Jenkins of Irving.

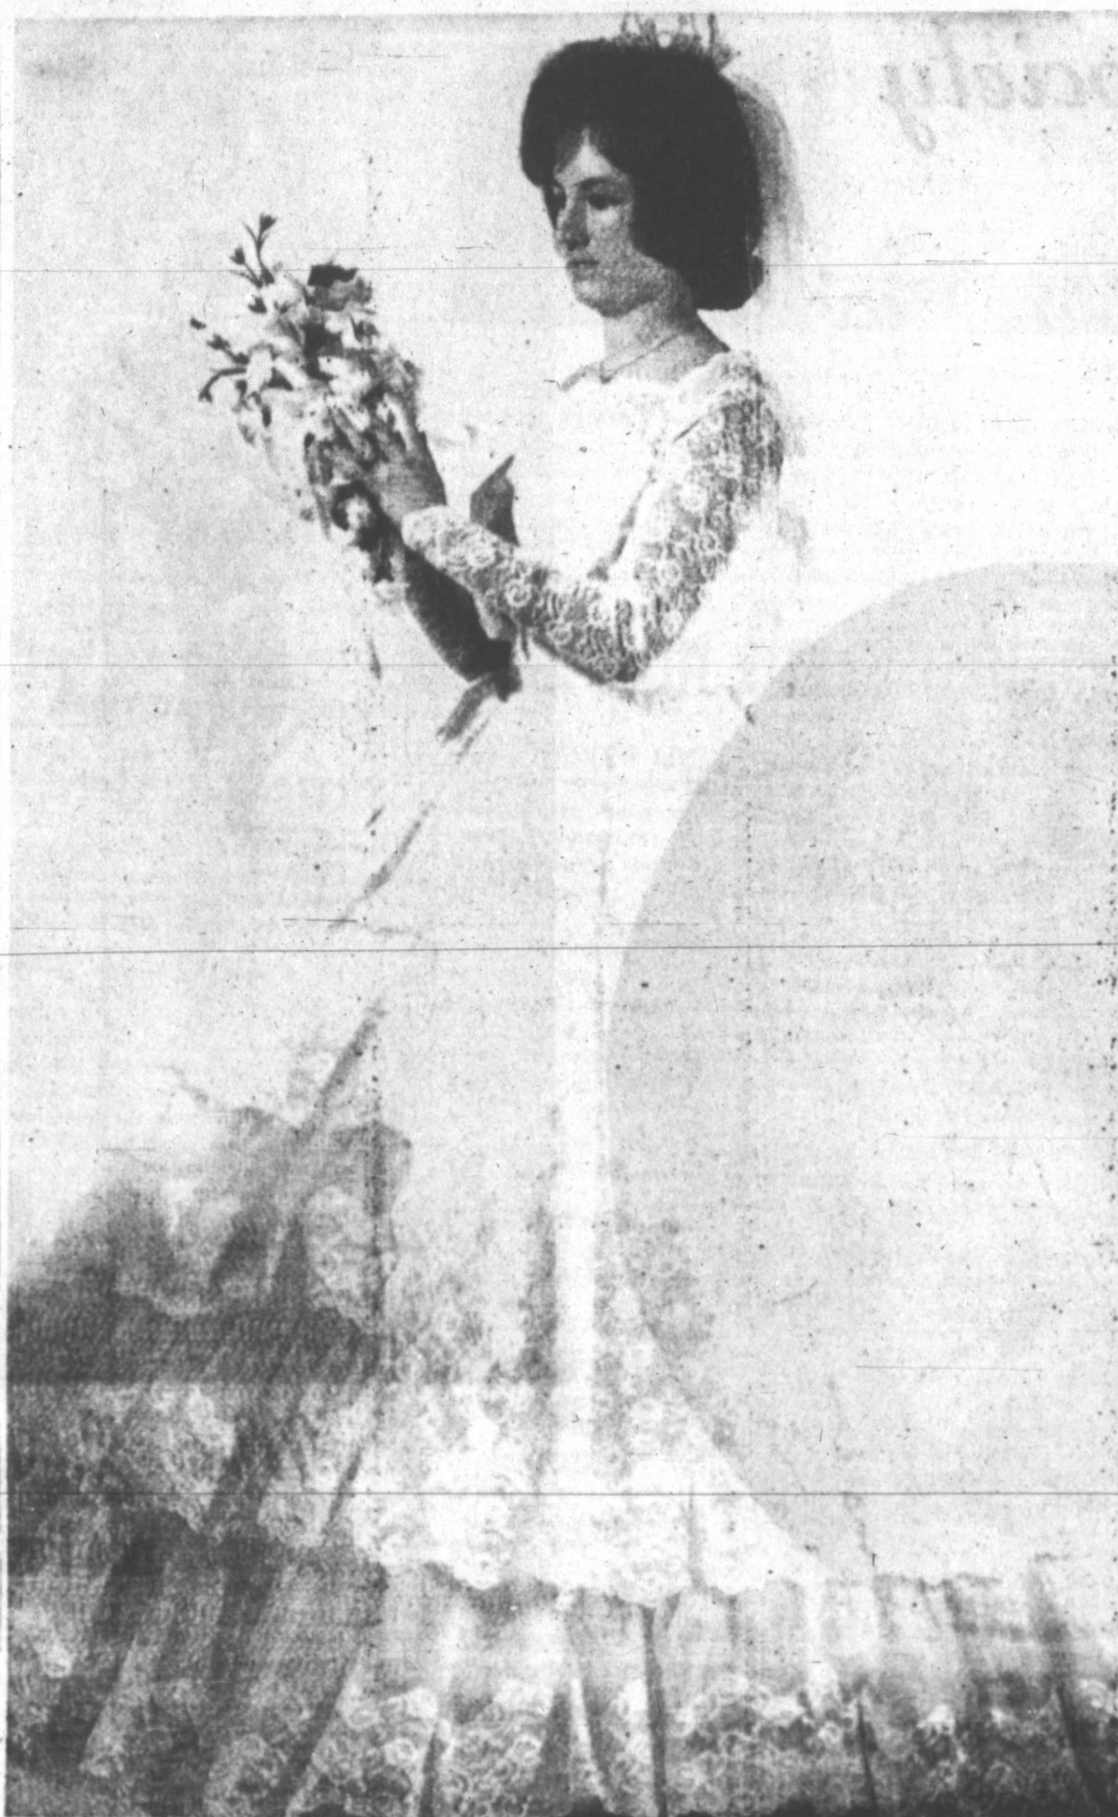

Prior to departing on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the new Mrs. Brown changed into a three-piece pink crepe suit with matching pink lace blouse. Matching accessories included the pink rose corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet completed her traveling costume. Upon their return the couple will reside at 627 N. West. ## 'Parks' Program Presented at Meet Of Garden Club

"National and State Parks" was the program topic presented by Mrs. Thelma Bray to members of Pampa Garden Club when the group met recently in Aspen Park.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. W. R. Campbell, president, final plans were made for the coming year.

Mrs. Bray displayed a map of Texas showing all the parks and game reserves. She began by stating "The newest park to be set aside by Congress is the Alabates Flint Quarries near Lake Meredith. The Quarries dates back more than 12,000 years and the park will provide one of the finest educational facilities in the nation. The Pueblo ruins show civilization long before the arrival of the white man. In the 66 room Pueblo ruin uncovered in the 30's, artifacts from distant areas of the country showed that traders came for many miles to acquire the flint of this area."

"Buffalo Lake and the Muleshoe Park are National Wildlife Refuges and provide wintering quarters for hundreds of waterfowl." The speaker continued by telling of the accessibility of the state park at Palo Duro Canyon and the Guadalupe National Park for Texans as well as visitors to the state. "There are 66,000 miles of paved highways in Texas which are the best in the nation and in the past year we have built more new highways than all the roads in Russia," Mrs. Bray said.

"This year marks the 50th anniversary of National Parks of which Yellowstone is the Granddaddy, being the first to be set aside by the United States Government as a National Park."

Mrs. Bray concluded her program by urging everyone to use and enjoy our city parks and become acquainted with the many kinds of growing things which are there to enjoy.

Wagner Provides the Smash of the Year

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — It may take three hours, 35 minutes and 32 seconds to hear, and it may cost $23.99 for the set ($28.99 if you have stereo), but it's the recording event of the year.

It's RCA-Victor's complete, superlative recording of Wagner's Lohengrin, a performance that will enchant even non-Wagnerians. Sandor Konya, Lucine Amara, William Dooley, Rita Gorr and Jerome Hines are in excellent voice and the Boston Symphony, under Erich Leinsdorf's direction, is suitably sonorous.

The album is notable in that it is the first opera recorded in the United States since 1958 (costs are lower in Europe), and it is also the first time, since the days of Toscanini and the NBC Symphony, that a major American orchestra has recorded a complete opera.

Wagner once wrote to Liszt, "If cuts are made, the chain of comprehension will be torn asunder." The chain of comprehension is not torn asunder in this set. Neither is total enjoyment.

BEST VOCAL BUYS
Some fine female singers have new albums. Best of the best is Nina Simone's "Wild is the Wind" (Philips), followed closely by Nancy Wilson's "Tender, Loving Care" (Capitol), "The Magnificent Miriam Makeba" (Mercury), "Shirley Means Bassey" (United Artists), "Lena Horne — Soul" (United Artists) and "Haunting Fire of the Fado — Amalia Rodrigues" (Capitol).

In the male vocal department, Harry Belafonte has his best album in a long time with "In My Quiet Room" (RCA Victor). The New Christy Minstrels have something different — and good — in "In Italy, In Italian" (Columbia).

"More Chad and Jeremy" (Capitol) has the English lads in a nice selection of folk and semifolk songs. The Cyrkle proves a good group in the modern groove with "Red Rubber Ball" (Columbia). Elvis Presley has a pleasant album in "Paradise — Hawaii Style" (RCA Victor) and The Beatles (That's a Compliment) in "Yesterday and Today" (Capitol). BEST INSTRUMENTAL BUYS
Neal Hefti, who composed the Batman theme, displays a good sense of humor and some foot-tapping rhythm in "Hefti in Gotham City" (RCA Victor). Some lush sounds in "John Barry Plays Film and TV Themes" (Capitol) and Al Hirt sparkles in "The Happy Trumpet" (RCA Victor).

ORIGINALITY
"Mame" is the Broadway

LUCINE AMARA consults with Erich Leinsdorf during the recording of Lohengrin, with Leinsdorf conducting the Boston Symphony.

smash, and Angela Lansbury and Jerry Lanning help make the original cast album a good one (Columbia). Ethel Merman is in fine voice in the revival of "Annie Get Your Gun" (RCA Victor). Movie sound tracks provide a couple of goodies with "Shakespeare Wallah" (Epic) with music by Satyajit Ray, and Henry Mancini's score for "Arabesque" (RCA Victor). Warner Brothers has issued the searing "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf" in two forms: one has the music and parts of the speeches; the other is the complete play with Taylor, Burton, Segal and Dennis.

CLASSICAL

Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana" is given a beautiful performance by the New Philharmonia Orchestra and Chorus, under the direction of Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos (Angel). Columbia has issued some fine conductor's items with "Bruno Walter's Mahler," "Bruno Walter's Bruckner," "Bruno Walter's Wagner," and "Bruno Walter's Brahms." Elizabeth Schwarzkopf spins some silvery pianissimos in "Strauss — Four Last Songs" (Angel) and Victoria de los Angeles sings favorites in "Opera Arias."

Nuptial Ceremony Is Read in Dallas

Nuptial rites, performed in the Dallas home of the bride's parents at 8 o'clock the evening of Aug. 6, united Miss Marianne Higgins and Lee Kent Stevens, both of Dallas, in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Higgins of Dallas. Mr. Stevens is the son of Bert L. Stevens of Lubbock and the late Mrs. Stevens. He is the grandson of Mrs. Ola McAfee of 211 N. Houston.

Central Baptist Church Scene of Rites Uniting Miss Tankersley and Mr. Martin

Grecian pedestal urns bearing white gladioli centered the altar of Central Baptist Church yesterday evening for the wedding ceremony uniting Miss Martha Helen Tankersley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley L. Tankersley of 2236 Williston, and Michael Troy Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy O. Martin of Andrews.

Seven-branched candelabra entwined with salal foliage filled the background of the wedding scene and arrangements of salal foliage and tapers decorated the choir rail.

Rev. T. O. Upshaw pronounced the double-ring vows at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Hugh Sanders, organist, provided a program of appropriate nuptial selections and accompanied Miss Sharla Taylor as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Entering the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk featuring a molded empire bodice designed with a scooped neckline and elbow-length sleeves, embellished with miniature seed pearls and crystal beading. The back of the gown was accented by self fabric miniature buttons and an organza rose. The controlled skirt swept to double back panels which fell gracefully into a chapel train. The bride's shoulder-length tiered veil of imported illusion fell from a jeweled organza and seed pearl coil. She carried a cascading arrangement of white roses and stephanotis entwined with smilax.

Attired in floor-length gowns of dresden blue delustered satin, featuring a sleeveless empire silhouette with simulated front wrap and button trim, bridal attendants were Miss Edith Rowell of Hale Center, maid of honor, and Miss Sharla Taylor of Post and Miss Elaine Louder of Canyon, bridesmaids. Each wore a matching fabric rose coil with brief veil of blue illusion and carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered mums tipped with dresden blue.

Attending the bridegroom was Butch Inman of Denton, best man, and Don Criswell of Denver City and Rex King of Grandfalls, groomsmen. Sharing ushers duties were Kim Freeman of Denver City and Gary McDonald of Kansas City, Mo. Misses Kim and Kay Barnes of Port Lavaca served as flower girls and Gregory Elrod of Dallas was ringbearer.

Miss Hugh Sanders provided background organ music at the reception held in Fellowship Hall immediately following the pledging of vows. The reception table, covered with a floor-length white satin cloth caught at each corner with a nosegay of blue and white feathered chrysanthemums, was centered with an antique candelabra bearing blue tapers, surrounded at the base by the bridesmaids' bouquets. Miss Pat Martin, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Carolyn Wilson presided at the punch bowl and coffee service. The three-tiered wedding cake, trimmed with blue roses and lilies of the valley and topped with a cluster of white wedding bells, was served by Miss Ann Lupton. Wedding guests were registered by Miss Susie Hughes.

The new Mrs. Martin changed into a two-piece suit fashioned of pink silk linen, complimented by matching accessories and the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet, before departing on a wedding trip to Dallas.

Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home in Canyon where both will continue their studies at West Texas State University. Mrs. Martin, an art education major, is a member of Delta Zeta social sorority. Mr. Martin is majoring in business.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Elrod and Gregory of Dallas, Mrs. N. R. Barnes, Kim and Kay of Port Lavaca, Mr. and Mrs. Kim Freeman, Kenneth Rankin and David Snyder, all of Denver City; Mr. and Mrs. Vance Martin and Mr. and Mrs. James Brunson of Crane, Mrs. Mary Moore of Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Livingston and family of Seminole, Mike Casey of Midland and David Clark of Denton.

Dear Abby....

Warn Beer-Drinking Mother About Laws

DEAR ABBY: A 35-year-old neighbor woman asked our 19-year-old son if he would like to go out and have a beer with her. They left at 9 p.m. and did not get home until after 2 the next morning. The place they went to closes at midnight, so they bought some beer to take out and went riding around. This woman left her own children at home. Her husband is a truck driver so he doesn't know what goes on when he's away. Our son has always been a good boy. Abby, when he came home his reaction was that of embarrassment. He said he didn't know she intended to stay out so late. How would you handle this?

DEAR UPSET: A 19-year-old "boy" shouldn't need a body guard. And if he's a "good boy," he'll have sense enough to decline her next invitation, should there be one.

I would let the woman know, however, that there are laws against contributing to the delinquency of minors, and also neglecting one's own children. Too bad there are better heads on beer than on some people.

Reader Finds Solution To Pillowcase Problem

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR POLLY — When ironing starched pillowcases, slip them over the ironing board, iron, take them off and iron flat. They will be easier to slip on the pillows as the fabric does not stick. —MRS. T. E.

POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY — I would like to have a remedy for keeping a cat from getting in the car and making it his sleeping spot. Our car is always a mess with hairs, mud and even scratches. —J.D.T.
DEAR J.D.T. — Is there a reason why the car doors cannot be kept locked? —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Mark a yardstick, with colored adhesive tape, at the right length for your skirts. When it is necessary to straighten a hem or shorten a dress, the yardstick tape is easy to see. When there is no one around to use a hem marker for you, you can hold the yardstick and move it without leaning over, to see whether or not the hem is straight. —My mother finds time heavy on her hands in these later years when her eyes are too weary for much reading and her feet hurt when she moves about too much. I suggested that she might like to make scrapbooks but she altered the idea to scrap boxes and uses shoe boxes for the different categories. She goes through the paper and cuts out the various columns she finds interesting (such as Polly's Pointers) and interesting short articles. These she loans to friends who are ill or confined to bed. This gives her an interest and keeps her alert and content. —MARGARET

DEAR POLLY — Fit a kitchen drawer with slanting partitions of plywood or hardboard. Store cans of spices and seasonings in alphabetical order on these shelves. This saves time and patience on busy cooking days. —L. S.

DEAR POLLY — To teach our children control of their bikes, my husband staggers old bicycle tires on the driveway and times them as they maneuver this obstacle course. If they fall or run into the tires no one is hurt. —It is not always possible for each child in a large family to have a birthday party every year. To make the day more special each of ours chooses the dinner menu and the kind of birthday cake. The actual cake is a surprise as it is always decorated around some special interest of that child. Each of ours is given a carefully planned party with a theme before he is 10. —MRS. A.T.P.

of T. C. Tosh of 320 Miami St., and Mrs. Bill Williamson of Oklahoma City, Okla.

The bride's father, Rev. Spencer, and Dr. B. F. Dearmore officiated the exchange of vows.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a formal gown fashioned of chantilly lace and nylon organza. The fitted bodice featured a sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescents and petal point sleeves. The bouffant skirt, formed by tiers of the chosen lace, swept to back fullness creating a chapel train. Her shoulder-length tiered veil of illusion fell from a lace petal coil embellished with iridescents.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. J. C. Kelly of Fort Worth, maid of honor; Miss Cheryl Muney of Fort Worth, maid of honor, and Miss Janis Allen, both of Richardson, and Miss Jean Churman of Fort Worth, bridesmaids.

Best man to the bridegroom was Louis Turk of Kansas City, Kan., while groomsmen were David Beard and Kenneth Thomas, both of Dallas, Raymond Beard of Fort Worth and Donald Wheeler of Garland. Robert Neal Spencer of Fort Worth attended as usher.

Following the reception given in Southside Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Dallas. They are now making their home at 3909 Kearby St., Fort Worth.

DEAR ABBY: I have an awful problem that I'm sure many other girls have. You see, I wear braces and when my boyfriend kisses me it feels like someone is hitting me in the mouth with a barbed wire fence.

I like him a lot, but because of this it makes me dread having to kiss him. Do you have any suggestions?

KAREN
DEAR KAREN: Yes. Tell him to slow up when he gets to the fence.

DEAR ABBY: We have a lovely home and I am very particular about keeping it clean. We have a baby girl who will be starting to creep soon. My problem is my husband. He insists on cutting his toe nails in the living room. I find his toe nail clippings all over the living room carpet, and even on the coffee table.

I have told him I don't like it, but he does it anyway. Our baby will be creeping soon, and you know how babies pick up every little thing off the floor and put it in their mouths. It is such a gruesome thought! What should I do?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: Explain to the baby (The big one you're married to) that toe nail clippings can do the same kind of damage to a baby's stomach as broken glass, and he sure wouldn't leave broken glass around for the baby to eat would he?

If that doesn't stop him, hide the scissors.

DEAR ABBY: I am being unjustly criticized by some members of our small community. You see, I am separated from my husband and I get lonesome for male companionship. So, I have formed a few friendships with some married men in town. (There are no single men here; believe me, I have looked) — I do have a strict rule, however. I never date a married man unless he tells me his wife does not care what he does. So, if I am not trying to steal another woman's husband, what is wrong with having a good time with a man who is as lonesome as I am?

CRITICIZED
DEAR CRITICIZED: A married man belongs to his wife and family whether his wife "cares" what he does or not. And there is always the heel who says his wife doesn't "care" when she doesn't even know.

Miss Kathy Himmelberger Travels to Paris

AN AMERICAN IN PARIS sees the sights. Kathy Himmelberger, 18-year-old winner of Hess's Teen-Trip of a Lifetime contest, visits historic Fontainebleau, succumbs to the good old American custom of the ice cream cone after a tour of the Louvre, asks directions of a helpful gendarme, has her hair done in the French fashion and samples the famous duck of La Tour D'Argent.

By HELEN HENNESSY Newspaper Enterprise Women's Editor PARIS (NEA) — At 18, Kathy Himmelberger visited Paris in a manner more luxurious than most of us can manage in a lifetime. This fact would seem to answer the question, "Do blondes have more fun?"

But it was what's inside the pretty, blue-eyed blonde's head that won her this opportunity. Kathy, an honor student just graduated from Southern Lehigh High School in Center Valley, Pa., wrote an essay on the essentials of teen-age grooming, giving a new twist to beauty by quoting Shakespeare in her lead, "To thine own self be true."

After an interview by a distinguished panel (one member was the Dean of Women at Temple University), Kathy was chosen over 5,200 contestants as winner of Hess's Teen-Trip of a Lifetime. The Allentown department store outfitted Kathy with clothes for all occasions, gave her $100 and flew her to Paris on an all-expense-paid holiday in the world's fashion capital.

I talked with Kathy in the suite she shared with her chaperone, Mrs. Evelyn Frank, at the elegant George V. Hotel in Paris. What interested her most about this city? Her prompt reply was three fold: The spectacular view from the foot of Sacre Coeur in Montmartre, where all of Paris looks like an artist's canvas; the fact that museum pieces are housed where they were used instead of in places newly built for the purpose ("It gives you an eerie feeling"); and the teen-agers. I couldn't argue with Sacre Coeur, Fontainebleau of Versailles. But what about the teen-agers?

"I expected them to be more sophisticated. But they're just like the kinds back home except they dress better. There aren't many mini-skirts and most of the kids look so classic and trim and uncluttered."

Jean-Jacques Tiebaud, editor of Vingt-ans, a teen-age magazine, had arranged for Kathy to meet some girls and boys her own age who took her to the sidewalk cafes where the young sters gather to drink citron pressé (lemonade which she herself) and talk endlessly of cabbages and kings. They took her to the small boutiques and to the discotheques where they wear them.

"The music was just like ours," Kathy said. "And so were the dances I felt right at home. And I met a very nice boy."

From the look in her eye the transatlantic mail will be a bit heavier now in both directions. Kathryn, who has had five years of French, wanted to use it.

"But there's not often a chance," she said. "All the kids speak English and I have to remind them to speak French to me."

From the famous Cnard at La Tour D'Argent to the races at Auteuil, from Louvre, Fontainebleau and Versailles to the Lido nightclub, from the Flea Market to a special invitation from President de Gaulle to the Independence Day parade, Kathy saw Paris with the entree of a diplomat.

And when she had her hair done in the latest coiffure at Lorka, a favorite beauty salon of Parisian teen-agers, she came full circle. For with it parted in the center, pulled out over each ear and fastened at the sides with braids, she looked more like a Dutch doll than when she left her hometown deep in the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

Ca c'est Paris!

NEW YORK (NEA)—In these days of discotheques, happenings and underground movies, dinner and tickets to a show still remain tops when it comes to an evening's entertainment. And the fashion most often seen today at curtain time is still the theater suit.

When you consider how fashions come and go, necklines plunge and hemlines creep upwards, it's a wonder the theater suit hasn't changed radically in the last decade. But perhaps the fact that it hasn't is the very key to its popularity.

Women are being offered one brand of hair coloring with the clever come-on, that it will "make your husband feel younger, too, just to look at you."

There's a lot of truth in that quoted statement. But unfortunately, there's more than getting rid of the gray in her hair involved in a woman's seeming younger than she is.

There's the quality of girlishness that some women lose at an early age and some still have when they are grandmothers. A woman who is still part girl laughs easily and often, and that kind of companion is sure joys making a man feel big.

strong, and intelligent; and loves to have a good time. A woman like that does keep her husband feeling younger than the woman who early settles down into no-nonsense middle age.
There is also the spirit of adventure that some women hold onto through the years — the part of themselves that makes them willing to "take a chance, try the new instead of clinging stubbornly to the old, and eager to pick up and go places, in-have when they are grandmothers. ## SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

WHAT WILL happen Tuesday afternoon in Gray County's 31st District courtroom? Your guess is as good as anybody's... Two o'clock Tuesday is the scheduled time for that rehearing to establish the merits, or produce actual evidence that illegal ballots were cast in the June 4 runoff election... The case to decide who was the legal winner of the Democratic nomination for county judge now has approached, if it has not already reached, a state of super-confusion... It is beginning to take on an aura of circus atmosphere.

THE COURT of Appeals already has handed down a decision that if any Republicans voted in the GOP primary on May 7 and also voted in the June 4 Democratic primary—those votes are illegal and should be removed... The appeals court also has issued an order for the district judge in Gray County to open the ballot boxes and determine if there were any such illegal ballots cast... It's that simple... Open the boxes, check the registration lists in both primary elections and see whether there are any illegal ballots... If there are, the court has ruled, throw them out, subtract them from the totals and announce the winner.

IT WOULD seem that's what should be done, if everybody concerned was honestly interested in getting to the crux of the matter and to really find out who was the rightful nominee... Instead of that, the legal eagles find a way to toss the ball around without taking a shot at the basket... The "stall" is on until time runs out... So, the case drags on and on... One begins to wonder if it will drag on into the Nov. 8 general election day... What happens if there still is no Democratic nominee's name on the ballot?... Do the Democratic voters resort to the write-in ballot?... It is not likely to come to that, but the way it has been proceeding, who knows what will happen?

THE BIG question around town the past week or so has moved again to conjecture over

THE GUEST PEN: Man's Permanent Possession

By MILDRED PROGAR
What can a person truly call his own? Throughout the twentieth century... the average person will use the possessive pronouns "my" and "mine" frequently... Yet, what does he really have that can be called his very own?
Most references to "my" or "mine" really express a relationship between an individual and other people or objects... rather than ownership... look a little more closely at what might be considered as belonging exclusively to an individual... something truly his own.
We will have to start at the beginning— with life itself. Human life is the natural result of the freedom of an evolving universe. This life is individually expressed by every human being.
Understanding of the purpose and design of creation was not given to anyone upon birth. But, consistent with natural law, nature has provided individuals with the capacity to freely evolve and create for themselves a conscious purpose and design for living the one life each alone possesses.
The natural power of the mind, the individual can comprehend his nature and prove his concepts for himself. The resulting degree of understanding is uniquely his own.
This self understanding is ultimately the only thing that he those 71 Republican ballots that are supposed to be in the Democratic ballot boxes... How did those Republicans vote on June 4? It's a good bet the appellee in the case knows... And it's a good bet the appellant knows... The district judge who was reversed by the appeals court took the reversal in good grace... All he says now is that he wants to get the thing settled and determine who was the election winner.

YOU HEAR the buzz in court house circles that if the merits are established in Tuesday's rehearing, and the decision should happen to go against the appellee, there is a good possibility the case could go back into the appellate court with a switch in appellant and appellee... And along with this point the legal mish-mash becomes so involved for the illegal mind you feel like suggesting that the two principals be matched for a 15-round prize fight, winner take all... It should be stipulated that the Marquis of Queensbury rules be tossed out and each contestant be allowed to have a horseshoe in his right hand glove... The Republican candidate for county judge probably should be the referee and he should be permitted to carry a gun.

MEANWHILE, BACK at the ranch— County Clerk Charlie Thut is still standing guard over those ballot boxes... He has them locked in a vault... He has the keys to each of the ballot box locks... Whether he has the key to the locked up keys is not known... But, if he has— where is the key to the lock on the key to the locked up ballot box keys?... Want to run through that again?... Two or three more brain muddlers along that line could get a fellow locked up in the lock-up and cause the man in the white coat to lock the key in a lock-box, throw away the key and toss the box into a deep spot in Loch Lomond... Reckon the county clerk sits up nights in front of that vault with a shotgun across his knee?... Aw shucks, no... It was just a thought.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Pretty Rosemary O'Brien believes in equal rights for women in all things. Last summer she showed up at the national convention of the Cigar Smokers of America at Newport, R. I., and demanded that female stogie puffery be admitted to membership, in the all male organization. After lengthy debate it was agreed that women could join local humidor, but would have neither voice nor vote. She and two others promptly joined the Chicago humidor. This year she's back at the national conclave in Boston quoting the Civil Rights Act— "no discrimination because of race, creed, national origin or sex." With that gimmick she hopes to smoke out the opposition and another male bastion will fall to the staff side.

Today's smile: A pal asked a newlywed: "Is your wife fond of listening in?" The new husband answered: "Not half as much as she is of speaking out."

Henry David Thoreau was meticulous about many things, but we'll bet when he was helping his father make lead pencils he never counted the number of operations it took to make a single writing marker. Well, today's pencil industry figured out that even with modern machinery there are 125 production steps involved... And with the great variety of ballpoint pens on the market, we wonder if anyone every buys an expensive fountain pen any more. When the ballpoint pens were first marketed the pen makers advertised, they would write under water. We never heard of anyone writing notes while submerged, but that's what the ads said.

Thoughts while shaving: The New York Times Square billboard plugging the new movie epic, "The Bible," has four giraffes and five camels trotting aboard Noah's Ark. Somehow we thought there were only two of all creatures, but it's little touches like that that make Hollywood colossal... An insurance exec predicted to us that one result of those riots in the big cities, this summer will be the closing of drug stores, supermarkets, shoe and apparel stores in the areas where the riots occurred. He said the closings will result from the increased cost of insurance or the fact the insurance companies will cancel the policies. He says the companies can't afford to keep paying out the tremendous claims that result from lawlessness... Statistics show that one hurricane in eight, or one every two years, is a very destructive storm. From 1899 through 1965 there have been 10 exceptionally destructive hurricanes, each of which left more than 1000 persons dead, plus a great loss of property. Another 13 hurricanes, in that period did property damage estimated at more than $100 million each... A Golden, Colorado, brewery is setting a fine example to eliminate litterbugs. Realizing that empty beer cans are one of the chief eyesores along highways and outdoor recreation areas, the firm has made a standing offer to buy back through distributors their own used cans... The Honolulu (Hawaii) STAR-BULLETIN reported in a story: "His four two-headed sons, who range in age from four to 10, stole the show at the medal-awarding ceremony. We'll bet they did!"

Country Editor speaking: "Many persons get lost in thought because it's unfamiliar territory."
and all the consequences of that degree of self understanding is what he can ultimately call his very own.
Though he may acquire things as a result of the use of his mental powers, none of those things are eternally secure. They can be expropriated by other persons or principalities. Only his self understanding is exclusively his own... and to prove it further... it is the one thing he does take with him!

Castro's Atrocities Against Political Prisoners Detailed for OAS Commission; To Ask
Prison Inspection

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Communist dictator Fidel Castro is committing atrocities against political prisoners as heinous as any perpetrated by Hitler during World War II.
The Inter-American Commission on Human Rights of the Organization of American States has detailed reports of a mass execution of 166 prisoners whose blood was drained from their bodies before they were shot.
The blood obtained in this inhuman manner was sold to North Viet Nam for use by its troops fighting in South Viet Nam.
Soviet military doctors, who are conducting anti-pain experiments on prisoners at La Cabana Fortress, Havana, directed the blood extractions.
These and other previously unpublished accounts of the bestial treatment of anti-Castro Cubans were turned over to the OAS Commission by Dr. Miguel Angel Oliba Benito, secretary of the Commission for Humane Treatment of Political Prisoners in Cuba.

This Miami-based organization, which is working through the OAS in an effort to liberate the 80,000 political prisoners languishing in Castro prisons and concentration camps, based its searing indictment on first-hand reports from refugees.
In their grisly accounts, which have been partly confirmed by the OAS commission, the refugees informed Dr. Benito's committee: "On the 27th day of May, from daybreak to sundown the following day, 28th of May, 166 political prisoners were executed by firing squads at the La Cabana Fortress in Havana. Each firing squad was made up of three militiamen and one officer.
"The gravity of such deeds is made even worse when it is known that the prisoners, before being executed, were forcibly subjected to the extraction of seven pints of blood. This blood was sold to the North Viet Nam embassy in Havana at the rate of 50 U.S. dollars per pint."
DAMAGING EVIDENCE — One eye-witness, who was forced to work at the prison but fled Cuba after the mass execution, is quoted in a document filed with the OAS commission as follows:
"Soviet doctors in charge of scientific experiments at the prison directed the blood extractions. In most instances, the extracting of blood from the prisoners caused loss of consciousness and paralysis."
"Prisoner unable to walk to their execution were carried on litters by guards. They were shot while lying either on the ground or in makeshift cots against-prison walls.
"Burial of the victims was in a common grave outside of Havana near the municipality of Mariano. During the execution of the 166 prisoners, the bodies were carried 25 at a

Another Aid Backfire

(Indianapolis Star)

In one more instance officials are discovering that federal aid money is followed by unacceptable federal requirements for changes in state programs.
This one is a retraining program for mothers on the welfare roles of Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) Federal aid for it comes from the anti-poverty program. The idea is that mothers of dependent children who can be taught the skills of a paying job may be able to become independent of welfare aid. It's a good idea.
What's causing the problem is that the federal dispensing agency now wants some men included in the training program. Well, men sometimes need retraining, too. But Indiana balks at including them in the classification of mothers. By calculated and reconfirmed action of the legislature, the ADC program is limited to families in which there is not a male member capable of working.
This federal gambit is just part of a general effort to pressure the states, most of which operate on a similar basis, to change the ADC into something called Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed Parents. This would then become just another general welfare program, instead of the existing specialized program of help for children of fatherless homes.
As for the retraining program an interesting point is that it already existed in Indiana before the federal anti-poverty program came along. The federal aid did not bring the retraining into being, but just provided some funds to help make it bigger. And not to change its character.
Indiana welfare officials are opposing this federal pressure, and they are right. Here's one more page for the federal aid lesson book.

NEW CASTRO DEMANDS — Meanwhile, the Johnson Administration is again facing a ransom demand by the Cuban dictator.
Apparently on the basis of the precedent — setting Bay of Pigs prisoner-exchange deal during the Kennedy Administration, Castro is demanding payment for the release of 600 American citizens and their 1,400 dependents still in Cuba.
Under this shake-down proposal, which has snagged efforts to free these Americans, the U.S. would pay $1,500 per person to fly them to either Miami or another country aboard Castro's airline.
In other words, he wants $3 million in cash to allow the 2,000 American nationals to leave Cuba.
As an alternative to cash, Castro has indicated he is willing to accept $12 million in medicals and supplies.
As neither these Americans nor their relatives in the U.S. have the means to meet these exorbitant terms, their apparent only hope of liberation is for the U.S. government to do so.
In making this latest ransom demand, Castro rejected a State Department proposal to airlift the American nationals without charge.
The U.S. offer was conveyed through the Swiss Ambassador in Havana, who is conducting the negotiations for the U.S. It provided that the Americans would be transported on the planes being used to ferry Cuban refugees daily to Miami.
Since that program was launched in December 1965, more than 37,000 Cubans have come to the U.S.
Representative Michael Feighan, D-O., chairman of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, has written Secretary Rusk asking for a report on these negotiations and the status of American citizens in Cuban prisons.
Feighan particularly wants to know what is being done to secure the release of David Fite, 32-year-old Baptist minister from Waynesboro, Ga. After five years as a missionary in

Between the Bookends

The Creative Spirit of Individualism
Ayn Rand's novels are known more for their ideological messages than for their fictional escapes. Certainly "The Fountainhead" is no exception to this rule. First published in 1943, it continues as a top seller in both hardbound and paperback editions (Published in paperback by Signet, 501 Madison Ave., New York 22, N.Y.; 95 cents.)
Far less politically involved than "Atlas Shrugged," this book tells the story of Howard Roark — "one against the world." He is the young architect who believes the structure, the shape and the appearance of a building should be expressive of what the building is meant to be. He is "hopelessly out of touch" with the herd of architects who strive to conform as closely as possible to the thinking of the crowd—even though crowds cannot think.

Although architecture has progressed mightily in the past 40 years toward more functional designs, the "Howard Roark against the world" conflict continues in every major profession. The battle for the supremacy of the individual is perverted often by the man who wants to be different — just to be different. But the Howard Roark characterization is symbolic of the true individual. He strives to express himself as he is — not because it is necessarily different from others — but because it is what he is. He would no more compromise his principles to become a non-conformist than he would compromise to become a conformist.
Some readers might find Roark "too perfect to be true." But close examination of the character reveals that Roark is not blessed with any super-human powers. Rather, there is simply an absence of the traits, the cliches, and the credos that prevent other humans from functioning efficiently.
Ayn Rand's talent for realistic characterization does not end in this book with Howard Roark. There is Peter Keating — the "second-hander." He refuses to trust his own judgment in any significant matter — especially in his role as an architect.
And there is Ellsworth Toohey — the arch-type collectivist. His manipulations are typical of those whose greatest thrill is in controlling (or thinking they control) the lives and futures of others. His inability to influence Roark — to even cause Roark to hate Toohey — is his greatest frustration.
This is epitomized in a climactic scene when Toohey recounts the many things he has done to destroy Roark's career. After flinging his own crimes in Roark's face, he asks "Why don't you tell me what you think of me? In any words you wish. No one will hear us." Roark's reply: "But I don't think of you."

d woman who was waiting only to meet the man she could really respect and love. Gail Wyand is the man who sees the truth, knows what his actions should be, but cannot act on it — apparently because he doesn't really believe it. He is typical of those who espouse the principles of individualism but who believe that the price is too great to warrant protecting those principles.
If you have never read "The Fountainhead," you have a warm and inspiring experience ahead of you.

'Don't Get It Wrong'

(Chicago Tribune)

Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Lippy Durocher of politics, has sent a letter to every newspaper editor in the country begging that some recent remarks made in a speech at New Orleans not be misconstrued.

The Vice President, after drawing an appalling picture of life in slum dwellings made a pitch for the administration's rent supplements scheme. He suggested that the alternative was "open violence in America in every major city and county because people will not live like animals."
Warning to this theme, Mr. Humphrey got away from his text to say that if he were stuck in a fourth floor tenement in a heat wave, with rats around and the garbage uncollected, "I've got enough spark in me to lead a mighty good revolt under those conditions."
Mr. Humphrey points out in his circular of explanation that he copied this somewhat inflammatory utterance by saying, "I don't want to be misunderstood. I believe in law observance. I not only deplore violence, I say it cannot be condoned. But I also say, having said that, that's not enough."

All right, Hubert does not want to be misunderstood. If Mr. Durocher occasionally permits himself a little verbal excess in conversation with the umpire, he, too, does not want to be misunderstood. It is a regrettable development if he is sent to the showers, and Hubert would probably sense a similar injustice if he lost favor with the citizens because there is still enough spark in him to lead a revolt, or riot, as you prefer.
So we assure Hubert that he has not been misunderstood.
We want to assure Hubert further that we did not misunderstand him when he recently discussed taxation. He said the federal government had entered three taxing fields previously reserved to the states. These had to do with poll taxes, public schools, and law enforcement. The surviving area of state taxation he said, was the maintenance of independent tax systems.
But, said Hubert if the states don't act to improve and broaden their tax bases—personally, he recommended consideration of a state income tax—then the federal government would barge in there, too.
We did not misunderstand federal government has taken over almost everything already. We have Hubert's word that it will complete the job by directing the states how and in what degree to levy taxes.
We did not understand some other persons, too:
Lyndon Johnson, when, in commenting on the Los Angeles riots of a year ago, he said that other big cities, among them the nation's capital, could expect the same thing because "the clock is ticking" and that upheavals were predictable when "people feel they don't get a fair shake."
Sen. Bobby Kennedy, when he said it was pointless to tell Negroes living in northern slums to obey the law. To these Negroes, he said, "The law is the enemy."
No, we did not misunderstand. If these weren't calls to mass rebellion, what were they? It may be inconceivable that men in the highest stations in the land encourage civil insurrection, but we do not misunderstand them. The words are theirs, not ours.

In 1924, Mrs. "Ma" Ferguson became the Democratic nominee for governor of Texas. She won and became the first woman state governor.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Sunday, Aug. 21, the 233rd day of 1966 with 132 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.
The morning stars are Mars, Venus, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.
There are no evening stars. Princess Margaret of England was born on this day in 1930.

them in a position of dependency not of their own making.
Mr. Daniel's theme that so-called government "economists" promoted the idea of keeping the federal budget unbalanced in order to provide "full employment" and bringing the nation's economy to "full capacity," is accurate.
The politicians who are talking about freezing prices and wages or increasing taxes to "fight inflation" are attempting to treat the symptoms rather than the cause of the disease.
As Daniel points out (quoting from Encyclopedia Britannica): "Important inflations can occur only with the acquiescence or active support of the government."
The way to check inflation is to quit increasing the currency and credit at a rate which is not accompanied by increased production. This would require the federal government to quit its perennial deficit spending. It would not be popular with the big spenders and the lobbyists for various government boondoggles.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics, and the proper functioning of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "In the July issue of the Reader's Digest, James Daniel said, 'The rapid rise in prices over the past few months (inflation) is planned, not accidental.' Would you comment on this?"
ANSWER: From statements of those in political power in Washington, it would appear that Mr. Daniel was justified in concluding that the inflation was planned in Washington. Whether the politicians realized the serious damage they were doing to those on fixed incomes, such as pensions, savings and insurance, can only be conjectured.
Many of those in political power either cannot or will not recognize that inflation is the most cruel tax of all, since it deprives those who have been thrifty and self-responsible of a portion of their savings and puts

Television in Review

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the most refreshing things about Captain Kangaroo—ask your child who he is if you don't know—is that his program is assembled without the aid of educators, psychologists or even a computer.

The credit for what is among the most successful formulas for a children's program anywhere in the world goes to the parents among the original staff who helped Bob Keeshan create the Captain Kangaroo character 11 years ago, and their offspring.

The parents asked their kids questions about what they would like to see and from the consensus emerged the daily CBS-TV program which gently helps educate the five to eight year old group in the process of entertaining them.

It is a surprisingly complex job and the program has a permanent staff of about 65 people. Keeshan, himself, a pipe-smoking thoughtful fellow, when he is not in the wig and costume of his role, was studying a script based on chemistry when we spoke in his office.

The Captain Kangaroo character reflects years as Clarabelle the Clown and Corby and Clon on television before CBS asked him to develop a program for them in 1955.

"We were looking for something alliterative," he said, recalling how the program got its name, "and it ties in with the large pouchlike pockets I have in my costume."

These days when a board of scientists is practically mandatory for any show that purports to educate, Keeshan goes along drawing a huge segment of the available audience with programs largely the result of sheer common sense.

"The shame of American television is that it's one thing or the other," he said, "It's educational or it's entertainment."

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Cary Grant will play a cameo role—without a line of dialogue—in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Impact of LSD Dramatized On Documentary Recording

By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—A "Support Your Local Travel Agent" sticker on a youngster's automobile bumper may not mean what it says.

It may be an invitation to do business with the local pusher of the hallucinatory drug known as LSD—to "take a trip."

Thousands of words have been written about the dangers of fooling around with this drug, which can cause permanent damage to the mind.

Now an objective documentary recording, "LSD" (Capitol 2574), has been produced to dramatize the impact that this drug had on the younger generation who can obtain it freely at prices up to $5 a cap.

The album is not meant to entertain," Alan W. Livingston, president of Capitol Records, said recently. "It is meant to inform."

Capitol's "LSD" presents views of both proponents—among them Dr. Timothy Leary and poet Allen Ginsberg—and opponents of the drug. It also presents interviews with youngsters who have taken "trips." Most of them are teenage girls who use such unimaginative words as "groovy" and "wow" to describe their experiences.

One of the most dramatic sequences involves a tape recording of a "trip" taken by Bryan, a youth who boasted he had swallowed LSD 34 times and never had a "bum trip." But on his 35th he finally loses and is heard laughing hysterically and babbling incoherently.

Bryan's 35th jaunt, as well as the 24 others he has taken and the rides hitched by others, might be well summed up with this question?

"Is this trip really necessary?"

NBC Plans to Give Prime Time to Crime

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA)—It was a scene out of a very bad gangster movie.

Two armed bodyguards, their jackets off and their shoulder holsters showing, sat at a kitchen table playing cards in the living room, a bagman breakfasted on Scotch and scrambled eggs and chatted with an outsider, a television producer.

Fred Freed, the producer, recalled his reaction to the scene: "I looked around the rooms and thought, 'My God, it's real.'"

Freed talked to the bagman, as well as to several other executives of Organized Crime (it gets capital letters because it represents from 6 to 10 per cent of the Gross National Product), for American White Paper: Organized Crime in the United States. This is a cover story to which NBC-TV will devote all its prime time (7:30-11 p.m.) Thursday, Aug. 25.

"We had hired the guards," Freed said, "because the bagman wanted protection. We put the guy up in a New York hotel but we had to find one without mob connections. It wasn't easy."

In the course of researching the show, on which he has been working for eight months, Freed has amassed some startling statistics.

For illegal gambling alone, Americans spend $47 billion a year, which is more than the entire automotive industry takes in sales.

"And they say the American economy is based on the automobile," Freed says.

Next to national defense, Organized Crime is the biggest industry in the country.

In southern California, between Los Angeles and San Diego, the "mob" owns $2 billion worth of real estate.

The total salaries of all policemen in the country add up to something under $1 billion. Freed estimates that Organized Crime pays twice as much to law enforcement officers to look the other way—in other words, bribery.

"Organized Crime is now a recognized segment of the American economy," Freed says. "It has an effect on policy, politics and morality. In some societies, narcotics and gambling are not objectionable things. We have made them illegal, but we demand them, so narcotics and gambling exist the same as the automobile."

During the program, narrated by Frank McGee, a woman narcotics addict, a former numbers banker from Baltimore and a Chicago lawyer who got in hock with the mob through heavy gambling series, we are trying to bring their stories.

"We decided early that we would be direct and not hide it. We were doing this show. No more than a couple of hours after we went into any city, anyone was 'made.' I am not suggesting anyone was out to kill us, but they kept track of us."

"The lawyer for a very prominent gangster wrote us and said his client was about to become a grandfather, and he had a very clean record—no arrests since 1964—and his client would take it amiss if we were to say anything about him."

"One man, before he would be interviewed, asked two things of us. First, we had to check the FBI to see if anyone had a contract on him. The other was he wanted to get a job on a very popular TV series. We are trying to bring their stories."

"We decided early that we would be direct and not hide it. We were doing this show. No more than a couple of hours after we went into any city, anyone was 'made.' I am not suggesting anyone was out to kill us, but they kept track of us."

'Concrete' Oil Being Marketed By Texaco, Inc.

NEW YORK — A new concrete form oil for treating wooden and metal forms is now being marketed by Texaco, Inc., it was announced here today by the company's Research and Technical Department.

Called Texaco Concrete Form Oil, the new product was specially developed to meet the need for a lubricant that permits easy separation of the forms without damaging or straining the finished concrete.

Texaco said the premixed, ready-to-use product reacts chemically with the alkali in concrete to form a water-repellent soap at the interface. A light-colored lubricant with excellent spreadability properties, it leaves a uniformly textured or "satin" finish when the forms are removed. It also protects metal forms against rust while in use, in storage, or in transit.

A coating of new Texaco Concrete Form Oil on the exterior of premix trucks permits easy removal of hardened concrete when the surface is hosed with water.

Texaco said the new product is applied with an ordinary garden hose, or a paint sprayer attached to a compressor, and that it does not have to be heated or diluted before spraying in cold weather.

Williams Brothers Report Earnings

Williams Brothers Company and its subsidiaries reported unaudited earnings for the first six months of 1966 of $3,411,370 or $2.63 per share on gross revenues of $35,089,407 on the pro forma basis of ownership of the Great Lakes Pipe Line properties for the entire period.

The provision for income taxes in the foregoing amounts to $1,261,000.

Williams Brothers acquired the pipeline properties on March 29, 1966, and the net earnings therefor for the period January 1 through March 29 were received and recorded as an adjustment of the purchase price.

Inclusion of the earnings of the pipeline system from January 1 through March 29 added $1,308,000 or $1.16 per share to the consolidated net income and $11,615,361 to gross revenues of the Company.

In 1967, Robert Fulton's steamboat, The Clermont, made its first trip up the Hudson River.

I cannot say, and I will not say that she is approaching to just away with a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand.

She has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair she would be, should she indeed have returned. And You-Oh you, who the wildest of us would never have dreamed of, you, who for the old-time and glad and gay days, thought of her faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of life.

Think of her still as the same I Miss is not dead—she is just away!

Waterflood Is Big Success

Skelly Oil Company is operating one of the most successful Canyon Sand waterfloods in the state of Texas — the Flowers (Canyon Sand) Unit in Block "D," H&TC Ry. Co. Survey, Stonewall County, containing approximately 5679 acres, according to C. L. Blacksher, vice president of Production.

If water injection had not been initiated four years ago, the unit's oil production rate would have dropped to approximately 400 barrels per day some time during this year and most of the 137 wells in the unit would have been abandoned.

Water injection has increased the oil production rate to about 1800 barrels per day, a fourfold increase over what it would have been, and still the flood has not yet reached full scale. Only thirty-seven out of a possible sixty-eight injection wells have been converted to injection.

By the time the flood is abandoned, the total oil production will probably be at least twice as great as it would have been without waterflooding.

In 1851, the American yacht "America" beat the British yacht "Aurora" off Cowes, England, and won the silver trophy which has since borne its name.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
President Johnson and Congress should get government out of the business of refereeing labor disputes such as the strike of airline machinists.

Johnson should promote a national labor policy to restrain and restrict the area of government interference. Labor-management disputes need to be purged of politics. The disastrous experience of the machinists' strike demands such action now.

The demand is there, Johnson and Congress should meet it. There is small chance they will. LBJ and the Democratic majority in Congress are beholden to organized labor. The union bosses hold a mortgage on the Johnson administration. The claim is based on the vast amounts of money and manpower contributed by organized labor to the 1964 Democratic triumph.

The airlines offer to the machinists blasted the administration's wage guidelines, which were set by LBJ in a jawbone effort to cope with inflation. Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz was LBJ's representative in obtaining the terms for ending the strike. Thus it was that Wirtz, LBJ's man, presided at the burial of LBJ's wage guidelines.

Former Rep. Fred A. Hartley, R-N.J., co-author of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act wrote in 1948 of the goal of improved labor-management relations. It is a measure of the stubbornness of the problem involved that union leaders automatically would reject any Hartley proposal regardless of merit or demerit. But Hartley had some sound ideas. He urged that government be got out of the business of refereeing labor-management disputes. He added: "Management and labor can work out their differences without recourse to government. That is our goal. We can reach it by creating a national labor policy for the federal government which will be so fair and so equal in dealing with both management and labor that neither will see any possible advantage in taking its side to government."

That may sound like a perfectionist's dream, but let's examine it further. Labor unions fought a bitter battle to prevent any change in the (New Deal) Wagner Act. Organized labor knew they always would get a better deal from the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) which that act created.

Large segments of management wanted only to repeal the Wagner Act and to return to the reign of jungle law which preceded enactment of the original (Wagner) National Labor Relations Act. Management, on the whole, never felt that the NLRB would ever become more than a tool of labor.

At this time, an effort will be able to plug up the sewage hole, which favor

Carr Calls for Tightening Of Laws Regarding Violence, Crime

AUSTIN (UPI) — With 20 persons killed in three crime cases in Texas so far this month, state Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr recently called for a wholesale tightening of laws of violence.

Carr told a special legislative group that he wants a mandatory minimum sentence of life for murder with malice.

Carr cited the recent mass slayings in Austin, a West Texas killing "for the fun of it" and a triple slaying of teenagers near Fort Worth, all this month.

"Currently the penalty for murder with malice can be as little as two years in jail.

"It is time we become tough on the lawless element of our society, and quit coddling them," Carr told a Interim House committee on criminal law revision.

He said he was not after a firearms registration bill.

"It is the misuse of firearms that is our concern, and we must tighten the penalties where firearms are used by one person against the other as a means of controlling their misuse," he said.

Carr also said maiming punishments should be at least as tough as those on pig stealers.

Present Texas law allows a "sadistic hoodlum who slashes and carves a face to shreds with a knife without intent to kill" to get off with as little as a $1 fine, Carr said.

Traffic Statistics Above Previous

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Some 1,000 persons have perished in traffic accidents in the state this year, the Texas Department of Public Safety said Saturday.

It is 256 fatalities and 16 percent above the 1965 total through the same date of 1,644 automobile deaths.

The fatalities came in 1,547 accidents, 14 percent more than the 1,361 fatal accidents at the same time a year ago.

In 1926, hundreds of thousands of women mourned the death of movie idol Rudolph Valentino.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
Executive Secretary

A great deal of work has been done by many Panhandle counties and the American Red Cross toward setting up and collecting blood for our fighting men in Viet Nam.

A recent report from area towns that have blood centers show their progress as follows: Perryton 175 pints; Dalhart 87; Stratford 154; Spearman 99 and Guyman 147 pints.

These towns are in the Red Cross Blood Center. Each community will arrange two drawings per year. The Red Cross will furnish the blood for their county throughout the years they remain in the blood program.

Blood distribution center equipment is being established in Amarillo at 1800 S. Harrison.

The combined services territory which includes all the counties of the Texas Panhandle are the proud owners of a $9,000 disaster van. The van is equipped with a refrigerator, stove, air conditioner, and two hot containers.

The van is centrally located whose headquarters is at 1800 S. Harrison will care for its upkeep. However, it is available to any and all counties of the Texas Panhandle in the event of a disaster.

Also in Amarillo are 200 cots, 400 blankets, and two portidome buildings which are at the beck and call of any county that has been hit by disaster.

Gilbert Tribble, Field Representative for Safety Service, will be in charge of a training program for the Panhandle this fall. Gilbert will be in Pampa Sept. 19 to hold a Water Safety Instructor course. Circle this date on your calendar as this training is important to all Water Safety Instructors.

Boyd Meador, Mayor of McLean, was by the office several days ago. Mr. Meador is presently working with Mrs. Shotwell in an effort to find someone to replace Ruth Kink who worked as a Red Cross representative in that area before moving to Quanah.

Ed Edwards, who is in the service up in Anchorage, Alaska, dropped us a line this past week. Ed and his wife Rene have a new son, Raymond Douglas. Ed will be remembered as Past President of his Pampa high school class.

Our G. I.'s who have been medically evacuated from Viet Nam are being offered a three-minute free telephone call home by the Red Cross upon arrival in the United States. Their REVILLO Oliver, a University of Illinois professor and one of the founders of the John Birch Society, has resigned from the organization. Dr. Slobadan Draskovich also resigned, charging that Birch Society leader Robert Welch has "become a dictator." Both Oliver and Draskovich were members of the organization's policy making council.

reaction — "It is needed, meaningful, and greatly appreciated." Most of the calls are made from Travis Air Force Base Hospital in California.

Officials Try To Find Man To Return Pay

WERE IN DENVER (UP) said today they were looking for a 44-year-old World War II veteran who escaped nine years ago from the Colorado State Hospital. They want to give him $15,000 in Army disability pay.

James P. Eakins, of the Colorado State Parole Department said the man, Glenn Terry, was committed to the hospital in 1957 for treatment as an alcoholic, just before he "went over the hill." He has not been seen since.
