Advisory Group Named to Plan For Auditorium

Another step in planning for a civic auditorium in Pampa came today with announcement of a 26-member advisory committee to work with the Chamber of Commerce in determining community needs and to what extent the needs can be met.

Pampa was assured of the auditorium last May 23 when Arthur Teed, chairman of the M. K. Brown Foundation, announced at a chamber meeting that a major part of the residue of the late Mr. Brown's estate would be available as a building fund.

The Foundation chairman's announcement indicated within a year or so possibly as much as $750,000 would be available for the auditorium.

It was also explained at the time it was the wish of the trustees, as well as Mr. Brown, that the auditorium plans be worked out, not by the trustees, but by persons representing all of Pampa's citizenry.

In line with this suggestion, Chairman Teed and the other Foundation trustees, Thomas L. Wade and William Jarrel Smith, today announced appointment of the advisory committee under the chairmanship of E. L. Green Jr.

The following persons were named to serve on the advisory group with Green:

Crawford Atkinson, Harold Barrett, Hugh Burdette, Mrs. Inez Carter, Mrs. Bob Curry, Mrs. George Cree, Charles B. Cook, Tex DeWeese, Dr. John Dameron, Ray Duncan, Norman Henry, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Floyd Imel, Homer Johnson, and Gordon Lyons.

Mrs. Grundy Morrison, Fred Neslage, Jim O'Connor, E. E. Shelhamer, Roy Sparkman, Bill Tarpley, Lou Troja, Rayburn Thompson, Harry Vanderpool, Herschel Wilks, Floyd Watson (See ADVISORY, Page 3)

FIRST OF MANY — Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown of McCamey were among the first of some 30 due to register at the Coronado Inn for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's Thursday and Friday directors' meeting. Brown is vice president of WTCC District 8.

Noted Psychiatrist Says Brain Tumor Caused Slayings

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A noted Texas psychiatrist has written Gov. John Connally claiming sniper Charles Joseph Whitman's Aug. 1 murder spree was caused by a two-centimeter brain tumor.

Whitman, a 25-year-old architectural student, fatally wounded 14 persons and wounded 32 others, shooting from the 29-story University of Texas Tower with high-power rifles. He previously killed his wife and mother and was subsequently killed himself.

Dr. Gary Miller, director of the Harlingen, Tex., state Adult Mental Health Clinic, said "the tragic events of Aug. 1 had their origin in a two-centimeter tumor located in a vital area of the brain of Charles Whitman."

Two centimeters is approximately three-fourths of an inch. The same tumor had been described earlier as "about the size of a pecan."

The Harlingen psychiatrist, whose letter arrived in Austin Wednesday, did not take part in the autopsy on Whitman. He said his information, except for one telephone visit with pathologist Dr. Coleman de Chenar, came from the news media.

However, his views completely disagree with de Chenar's report that the brain tumor was too small and did not affect any vital organs, therefore could have nothing to do with Whitman's death spree.

De Chenar performed the autopsy on Whitman.

Miller told Connally the tumor was located "precisely in the heart of a highly organized and complex system of nerve cells that integrates, coordinates and directs activity of all brain levels—including the centers for emotional expression, memory and thought."

He said the information is in line with recent advances in the knowledge of brain function. His conclusion is "that the murders and attempted murders attempted by Whitman were the result of his brain tumor."

City Managers Set Meeting In Pampa Tomorrow

City managers, mayors and water conservation officials from over the Top O' Texas will converge in Pampa tomorrow for the monthly meeting of the Panhandle City Managers Association.

Principal business following a luncheon in Coronado Inn will center on Texas' 2020 Water Plan.

One of the speakers at the afternoon session will be K. B. Watson of Amarillo, administrative vice president of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and former chairman of the WTCC's Water Resources Committee.

Also on the speakers' list is J. W. Buchanan of Dumas, manager of the North Plains Water Conservation District.

Host City Manager Jim White said today the meeting will afford an opportunity for those present to hear an explanation of the Water Plan and aid them in formulating action at a regional public hearing on the proposal scheduled for Aug. 24 in Amarillo.

Criticism of the 2020 Plan has arisen in West Texas that it does not adequately provide water conservation for the area in future years.

City Manager Marshall Pharr of Plainview, president of the association, will preside at tomorrow's meeting.

Heart Implant Patient Listed In Good Condition

HOUSTON (UPI) — Mrs. Esperanza del Valle Vasquez dangled her legs over the side of the hospital bed and drank a glass of water. Her simple acts were the first chapter in what doctors hope will be medical history.

The 37-year-old Mexico City beautician Wednesday became the first recipient of an artificial heart pump to progress enough to sit up in bed and drink liquids.

The first two persons in whom the heart pump was inserted died within a few days. Neither was able to sit up and the first never regained consciousness.

The heart pump was inserted by a team of heart surgeons led by Dr. Michael DeBakey in a four-hour operation Monday.

In the surgery, the mitral and aortic valves in Mrs. Vasquez's heart were replaced. She had progressed much further than had Marcel L. De Rudder, 65, a Westville, Ill., coal miner or Walter L. McCans, 61, of Woodville, Wash.

De Rudder died of a lung rupture 111 hours after his operation. McCans survived 67 hours and died of massive lung bleeding.

Blood tests showed Mrs. Vasquez's blood had not been damaged and her lungs were clear.

Racial Rioting Continues To Sweep National Cities

By United Press International

White men lobbed cherry bombs and curses at 250 Negro demonstrators in Grenada, Miss., Wednesday night. Tight-lipped police moved in and the threat of the billy club prevailed.

A molotov cocktail shattered the front window of a drug store on Detroit's east side. The fire was quickly extinguished. Burning emotions of men were cooled by a heavy rain.

In the continuation of the drive for an "open city" in Chicago, 300 demonstrators picketed the downtown offices of the Chicago Real Estate Board.

Homebound workers were too tired and in too much of a hurry to notice.

It was what police would call a "quiet one" Wednesday night on the now-national scene of racial tension and turbulence.

The only major occurrence was in Grenada.

The Mississippi state patrol there chased a group of whites who were heckling Negro demonstrators from the public square.

Civil rights observers said it was the first time they could remember the state police breaking up a white crowd at a civil rights demonstration.

The troopers were armed with billy clubs but no blow fell on white men. Two nights ago, city, county and state police used tear gas and pounding clubs to break up a Negro crowd.

Some 150 troopers chased 500 angry whites from the court.

Pampans Due Honor At WTCC Banquet

Two Pampans, Sheriff Rufe Jordan and O. B. Worley, will be among the West Texans to be honored tonight at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce recognition banquet in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

The banquet will mark the mid-point activity of the Thursday and Friday directors' conference.

It will start at 6:30 p.m. preceded by a social hour.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock will present awards at the banquet for leadership to West Texans, who are volunteers on state boards, agencies and commissions.

WTCC officials and members were beginning to flock into the Coronado at noon today with approximately 300 expected to register before the 2 p.m. committee meetings and the 6:30 banquet.

John Ben Sheppard, former lieutenant governor of the state and currently president of WTCC, and Jack Springer, of Abilene, WTCC vice president, were among the early arrivals yesterday. Arrangements were completed for the WTCC two-day meeting at a planning session held last night in the Inn.

Among the first to register were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown of McCamey. Brown is vice president of WTCC District 8.

At a board of directors' meeting, called for 9 a.m. Friday, Sheppard will outline an active program for growth potentials in West Texas.

The directors' meeting Friday morning will conclude the mid-summer directors' meeting.

Free Telephone Service to Lefors To Begin Today

Mayor Jim Nation of Pampa and Mayor Arthur Hammer of Lefors will be the first to officially inaugurate the extended area telephone service from Pampa to Lefors, which will go into effect at 11 p.m. today.

George Newberry, telephone company manager said today.

Newberry also said the new service means that Lefors' telephone customers will be able to dial all Pampa telephones without a toll charge.

During the "first" toll-less call to Lefors, Mayor Nation said he planned to discuss with Mayor Hammer how "the two communities can cooperate in other areas for the benefit of both communities."

Newberry stated the company has installed additional equipment to make the new service possible and that "it has undergone rigorous testing for the past several days to make sure that it will be ready when the new service goes into effect tonight."

Customers here wishing to dial any Lefors telephone after 11 p.m. tonight should simply dial the Lefors number just as they dial a local call. The called telephone will ring almost immediately and customers may talk as long as they like with no toll charges applying on any of these calls, according to Newberry.

Dr. Sam Says He's Got Solid Proof of Innocence

FOSTORIA, Ohio (UPI) — Dr. Sam Sheppard, who is awaiting retrial for the slaying of his first wife, said Wednesday he now has "solid proof" of his innocence.

Sheppard, while on a tour of this northwestern Ohio city where he spent several of his boyhood years, explained to newsmen Wednesday why he worked so hard for a second trial after the U.S. Supreme Court threw out his original conviction.

"It's because I and my lawyer now have solid proof of my innocence," he said. "We're going to tear them (the prosecution) up."

CABINET SWORN IN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The 18-man "national unity" cabinet of Iraqi Premier Najji Taleb was sworn in Wednesday at the presidential palace, Radio Baghdad announced.

The new government replaces one headed by Abdel Rahman Bazzaz, who resigned last Saturday.

Redhead Sixth Victim of Jersey Killer

HOWELL, N.J. (UPI) — The bludgeoned body of Mrs. Dorothy Louise McKenzie, 45, a mother of four, was found Wednesday slumped in a car parked behind a diner. She was the Jersey shore's sixth murder victim in less than a year and the third in seven days.

Authorities said the suburban-haired woman was beaten on the head with a blunt instrument. Her face was almost unrecognizable.

The victim's clothes, a white blouse and checkered skirt were intact, police said, and her body was partially draped with a sheet.

State police coroner off a wooded area behind the diner on Route 9, as investigators hunted for clues. Bloodhounds were flown in by helicopter from Hackensack to help the law track the killer, and a 300-man contingent of state police based in Trenton were placed on stand-by alert. All their leaves were cancelled.

The body of Mrs. McKenzie, about 10 miles from the diner, Mrs. McKenzie never arrived at the Inn.

The diner is about 12 miles from Allaire State Park where coed Donna De Rier was bludgeoned to death last week.

Three other teen-aged girls have been murdered at the shore since last September.

Tuesday, police found the body of a Lakewood service station attendant, Ronald Sandlin, 18, buried in a shallow grave in woods near Lakehurst.

US Mistakenly Hits Own Ship

SAIGON (UPI) — Three U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers early today attacked a U.S. Coast Guard cutter by mistake, killing two Coast Guardsmen and wounding five other persons in the second mistake bombing in 48 hours, a military spokesman reported.

The first mistaken bombing was directed against the hamlet of Truong Thanh, 80 miles southeast of Saigon, Tuesday, killing 26 persons and wounding 114, mostly women and children. Reports from the scene disputed a U.S. Embassy statement that the attack was provoked by Viet Cong firing at a U.S. plane.

The ship hit today was the USS Point Welcome, which was attacked as it moved along the coast about 435 miles north of Saigon. It was spotted by a patrol pilot which thought it was one of the coastal ships used by the Communists to smuggle men and arms into South Viet Nam.

Other planes dropped flares and the fighter-bombers roared against the blacked out ship as it took evasive action.

Among the wounded were three crewmen, a Vietnamese liaison officer, and freelance correspondent Tim Page, 22, a British national who had been wounded twice before in Viet Nam. The victims, who suffered shrapnel wounds, were taken to the northern city of Hue, 400 miles from Saigon.

UPI correspondent Elizabeth Halstead today visited the village of Can Tho near the stricken hamlet and reported 26 dead including a year-old baby and more than 114 men, women and children wounded. A girl of 13 was in critical condition and not expected to live despite valiant efforts by a team of U.S. doctors.

Survivors said there were no Viet Cong in the village at the time of the attack and that the attack was unexpected. A U.S. Embassy statement in Saigon Wednesday said Viet Cong in the village opened fire on a spotter plane, deliberately provoking an attack in hopes it would create anti-American feeling by the villagers.

U.S. military officials in Can Tho said the strike against Truong Thanh was authorized by Vietnamese officials after reliable intelligence sources reported a company of Viet Cong in the area. The same sources had earlier given information which led to the capture of a weapons cache.

A request for an air strike on the area was made and went through provincial headquarters to the Vietnamese commander of the IV Corps, the U.S. spokesman said. A forward air controller (FAC) was ordered to the scene and he spotted the hamlet so the fast jets could hit it.

LEGISLATION NECESSARY

All Hope Vanishes For Ending Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Commerce Committee today said its hope for any other way out all but gone, prepared to push ahead today with a bill to end the costly, 35-day-old airline strike.

There was a brief flurry of optimism Wednesday that Congress might be able to get off the political hook when the committee made a last-resort appeal for both the five struck airlines and the International Association of Machinists IAM to submit to binding arbitration.

The airlines accepted the proposal, but the machinists made it clear they would not buy it. IAM President P. L. (Roy) Siemiller said he doubted his members would agree to the idea.

After that, the committee tentatively approved the first two sections of the Senate-passed back-to-work measure, declaring that the strike "threatens substantially to interrupt interstate commerce" and that "essential transportation services must be maintained."

The rest of the bill was up for approval today. It would authorize President Johnson to extend Congress' initial no-strike order for an additional 150 days while new mediation efforts are begun.

Committee Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., also expected a proposal to provide for seizure of the five struck airlines for the duration of the no-strike period, a move sure to dampen the enthusiasm the airlines so far have shown for the bill.

Cost of Feeding American Family Up Five Per Cent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal farm officials today gave House investigators of rising grocery prices some food for thought—the cost of feeding the American family is up 5 per cent from a year ago.

During the three months ending with June, householders were buying food at the rate of $1,095 a year, compared with $1,038 during the same period last year, the Agriculture Department reported.

And except for fruits and vegetables, the cost of every item in the average market basket has gone up.

The report lent statistical force to widespread housewife complaints over the rising prices of bread, milk, meat and other staples.

These prompted the current investigation into bread prices by a House agriculture subcommittee. It was to resume hearings today.

But the panel's chairman, Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., discounted the consumer complaints during the subcommittee's third session on Wednesday.

"The public should pay for bread costs just as it pays for everything else," Purcell said, "without bellyaching."

He also said an education program is needed to teach the public it should pay for food costs so everyone can make a profit.

It was brought out during the session that bread prices have risen nearly 100 per cent since the 1947-49 base period, although food prices generally have risen only about 35 per cent.

Commander Says More Troops Are Needed in Viet

HONOLULU (UPI) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, said today he believes more American troops will be needed in the war against the Communists.

The tall, greying general told newsmen upon arriving in Hawaii that he believed "more troops will be needed."

"It depends upon the requirements and the requirements depend upon the actions by the enemy," he said.

Westmoreland, accompanied by his new aide, Capt. William (Bill) Carpenter, once famous "lonely end" on Army's football team and twice-cited hero of Viet Nam, came here for a series of conferences with Pacific military leaders.

The general was questioned about the Communists using Cambodia as a military sanctuary.

"The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops move covertly through the countryside," he said. "Sometimes it is difficult to determine exactly their location. We do know they have utilized the border area. This is not an uncommon practice for Communists."

Westmoreland said there was no "magic ratio" that would determine just how many American troops would be required to defeat a given number of the enemy.

"It is difficult to compare power by relating people, because we have the firepower and the mobility that the Communist troops do not have," he said.

Pampa Students Win Awards At National Event

Two Pampa students walked off with national championship honors at the Junior Classical League competition yesterday in Bowling Green, Ky.

Deryl Nensiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nensiel, 2217 Duncan, was named national champion in grammar. He was salutatorian of the 1966 Pampa High School graduating class.

Harriet Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson, 419 E. Foster, won the national championship in derivatives.

Huge Cucumber Puzzles Gardener

A three and a quarter-pound cucumber is a healthy vegetable by any state's standards. . . ever a state less conservative than Texas.

But that's not the entire story of the Texas-size cucumber, which A. B. Fielder, plant superintendent for Kerr-McGee, Co., grew in his garden west of Pampa.

In genetic circles, the cucumber could be said to be siamese. The united twins have fused growth into one giant-size vegetable: 14 1/2 inches in circumference and 11 inches in length.

Fielder, who also grows squash, cabbage, okra, sweet corn, tomatoes, lettuce with a crop of black-eyed peas just coming on, was at a loss to explain his gardening prowess.

"It might be as one of my friends said, I must have planted the seeds in-between the lunar signs."

Pampa Due Back In Heat Column

The Pampa area is expected to get back into the heat column again tomorrow after a two-day respite on the cool side.

Yesterday's maximum temperature in Pampa was 78, one of the lowest daytime readings in the past two or three weeks. The overnight low was 63, one of the coolest for some time.

But the weather forecasters say the mercury will climb back into the 90s tomorrow. They also say there is a ten per cent probability of rain to night and then a 40 per cent chance tomorrow. This afternoon's high was expected to go into the mid-80s.

Pampa had some fog early this morning, but it lifted around mid-forenoon. Skies, however, retained a general cloud cover that looked like it might stay most of the day.

NEW SIGN

AUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—The billboard at Ching Wong cleaners had customers and motorists guessing. Owner Paul Stone Jr. removed the slogan "Drop Your Trousers at Ching Wong" and put up the numeral

Each day the countdown dropped to a smaller number. "At zero, it began to climb to minus 1," minus 2," etc.

Finally, after 11 days of suspense, Stone emblazoned: "It's a girl! 7 lbs., 10 ozs."

Burglars Fail To Get Safe Out Of Store Doorway

MCLEAN—A safe, stuck in a doorway, thwarted a burglary at Cooper's Grocery Store here sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

Investigating officers, Deputy Sheriffs D. L. Day of Pampa and Jim Shelton of McLean, said entry was gained through a ventilator shaft on the roof.

The 600-pound safe was lifted onto a dolly and rolled to a door. The burglary was unsuccessful, when the safe became stuck in a doorway, according to the officers' report.

Panhandle Players To Present Pageant

PANHANDLE—The Pioneers, A Pageant of Panhandle City" will be presented at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow in the Carson County Agricultural Building by the Panhandle Community Theatre players.

The pageant was written by Anthony Crone in collaboration with Mrs. Ralph E. Randel from material in the soon-to-be published book of family histories of Carson County. Many early-day pioneers will be represented in the pageant which is set at the courthouse in the late nineteenth century. Members of pioneer families, who came to Carson County before 1920, will be seated in a reserved section.

Mrs. J. B. McCray is directing the pageant with Miss Mary Alice Crist assisting. Floyd Scott is stage manager. A cast of 75 persons and a stage crew of

Drivers Cited For Accidents

Three Pampa motorists were issued citations by city police yesterday following collisions caused by driving infractions.

This morning, around 8:15 a.m., cars driven by David W. Hawthorne, 1044 S. Dwight and Colly Wayne Swinney, were in collision with Wilks and S. Dwight.

A citation for passing in a no passing zone was issued to Swinney.

The Hawthorne car sustained $150 damage and the Swinney auto approximately $300.

A car driven by Bobby Lee Cotten, 614 N. Christy, was in collision with a car driven by Mitzel Jane Beavers, 510 N. Russell, about 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

The accident occurred at Kingsmill and Purviance, resulting in an estimated damage of $300 to the Cotten car and $350 to the Beavers' car.

Mitzel Jane Beavers was cited for failure to yield right of way.

At 4:27 p.m. Wednesday, two cars, one driven by Marshall G. Eldridge, Rt. 1 and the other by John David Falkenstein, 1206 Mary Ellen, were in collision at Alcock and Perry.

An estimated $150 damage was incurred by both cars.

Falkenstein was cited for failure to control speed to avoid an accident.

20 have been working on the pageant for several weeks.

In Detroit, heavy police patrols and heavy rain kept the wracked east side Belle Isle area peaceful. Only a few scattered incidents were reported.

Seven white teenagers—including two girls—were arrested two miles from the area where rock-throwing Negroes ran wild Tuesday night.

The white youths were carrying bottles full of gasoline. Three persons were arrested and charged with arson while 17 others were charged with inciting a riot and hauled away in paddy wagons.

Then the rains fell.

City Resident Hurt in Wreck

Lep Dean Rhoten, 32, 1017 N. Somerville, is reported in fair condition at Highland General Hospital following a one-truck accident at 2:30 a.m. today 3 1/2 miles west of Miami.

He had cuts and lacerations on his head and shoulders.

According to highway patrolmen, the driver apparently went to sleep while driving a 1956 panel truck to Pampa.

Rhoten lost control of the truck after it went off the road, hit a culvert, rolled over and came to a stop bottom-side up, according to the investigating report.

Rhoten is employed by Mc-Cullough Tool Co.

Sheriff Receives Mischief Report

Complaints concerning malicious mischief in the rural area northwest of Pampa are increasing at the Gray County Sheriff's office.

Within the past three or four weeks, complaints have been received concerning boys shooting guns in the area.

Just recently, a tractor was found with both tires riddled with 22 bullets, according to Sheriff Rufe Jordan.

Investigations are being made, and when the offenders are apprehended, they will be prosecuted, the sheriff said.

In 1947, Great Britain ended her 200-year rule over India.

Navy Escalates Air Strikes On North Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Navy has escalated the air war against North-Viet Nam, launching wave after wave of strike planes from three mighty aircraft carriers in the Tonkin Gulf, it was revealed today.

Previously, Navy planes flew from only two aircraft carriers on "Yankee Station" off the coast of North Viet Nam.

U.S. spokesmen said today that 39 missions were launched Wednesday from the carriers USS Constellation, USS Oriskany and the USS Roosevelt.

The action followed reports the Navy had stopped flying missions against Communists in South Viet Nam in order to beef up the strength of attacks against the Communist North.

The immediate effect of having three strike carriers in the Tonkin Gulf was revealed in the statistics that showed the Navy mounted 59 missions against the North, compared to 39 similar missions launched by the Air Force.

Previously the U.S. Air Force had the lion's share of missions against North Viet Nam.

WARREN, Pa. (UPI)—A welfare recipient Wednesday told William Karns, Warren County surplus food director, he needs more raisins "because they make great wine."

Karns reminded him the limit is one box for a family of two.

10 Perish As Huge Bridge Collapses

OTTAWA (UPI)—Hundreds of searchers, including servicemen, today probed concrete and steel debris of a bridge that collapsed under construction Wednesday, leaving at least seven workers dead and one missing.

Ottawa police, in the latest casualty count, set the number of injured at 37, with 21 in serious condition.

Police had announced 10 fatalities Wednesday night but reduced this by three this morning.

Under a steady drizzle from gray skies, a search for any other possible victims was resumed at 8 a.m. at the bridge site across the Rideau River.

Heavy rains had halted nighttime search efforts where a 60-foot section of the bridge collapsed during a concrete-pouring operation.

"We are having difficulty compiling the casualty toll, and there may be other victims," a police source said.

The tragedy drew hundreds of onlookers, who watched, some with binoculars, as rescue workers swarmed over the wreckage, using electric saws, air hammers, picks and shovels in a desperate attempt to find survivors.

At the time of the original announcement, Teed said it was the wish of foundation trustees that advisory committee members work with chamber of commerce officials in formulating plans and specifications for an auditorium that would serve all segments of the city's cultural needs, provide a convention hall, space to accommodate legitimate stage attractions, community concerts, art exhibits, banquets and other facets that would reflect an adequately planned civic center.

Advisory committee chairman Green said a meeting of the group will be called in the near future.

Spacecraft Trying To Find Landing For Astronauts

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's lunar Orbiter spacecraft sped on its photographic mission close to the moon today in an effort to help find a suitable and safe landing spot for astronauts.

The unmanned 850-pound vehicle was launched from Cape Kennedy Wednesday and all reports pointed to success in the plan to send back to earth 352 closeup pictures of the moon's surface.

As is usual in such operations a midcourse correction maneuver was necessary to bring the vehicle to its planned orbit as close as 28 miles from the moon. Specific time of the maneuver was being calculated by engineers plotting Orbiter's course.

"It looks very much like a perfect vehicle flight," said Robert H. Gray, launch operations director, two hours after the liftoff.

The 235-666-mile journey to the moon's vicinity was scheduled to take 90 hours—just six hours short of four days. It was expected the craft would go into orbit around the moon Sunday morning.

It was planned that initial photos of the moon would be taken Aug. 17 and relayed to earth—at the Goldstone Tracking Station in Southern California's Mojave Desert—the following day.

Oklahoma Kills Accused Killer

MCALISTER, Okla. (UPI)—James French, 30, died in the electric chair at the Oklahoma State Penitentiary Wednesday night for the 1961 strangulation of his prison cellmate, Eddie Shelton.

French, who had said often that he should die for his crime, went to the chair calmly—almost eagerly.

French, pale and his head shaved, entered the room, looked at the chair, and went to it, seating himself.

JIFFY LANDING SITE for helicopters and vertical takeoff aircraft is achieved with a new quick-drying polyester resin spray. Above, the mixture is quickly sprayed over a fibreglass mat, hardening in a few minutes to form a pad capable of supporting a landing aircraft, bottom. The technique is being tested in Viet Nam. It can also be used for weatherproof surfacing for ammunition supplies and sandbag emplacements.

Nevada Probe Into Gambling Deals Continues

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Nevada's secret probe into skimming charges spread to two additional plush "strip" hotel-casinos today in an effort to discover possible underworld links.

Scheduled to testify at today's third session were officials and employees of the Dunes and Flamingo hotels. They include Sam Cohen and Daniel Lifter, major stockholders.

Also expected to return to the witness stand were clerical employees from the Stardust and Desert Inn hotels. Several officials from both hotels testified at Wednesday's session.

During the session, Milton Keefer, chairman of the state Gambling Commission told newsmen, "we are making progress but we can't yet evaluate it."

The probe by the five-member commission was ordered by Gov. Grant Sawyer to determine if casinos were taking money from their gross and channeling it to underworld sources and avoiding taxes on it.

Money, Mail Begins to Roll In To Man Who Shot Sniper

ALSTIN (UPI) —Patrolman Ramiro Martinez of the Austin police department is a busy man these days, answering a multitude of mail pouring in from all parts of the country.

Martinez, the man credited with killing sniper Charles Joseph Whitman Aug. 1 to end a murder spree that took 16 lives, has received more than 50 letters praising him for his work. More are coming in daily.

He is answering each one personally, although chief R.A. Miles offered to relieve him of the job.

"People took their time to write me," Martinez said. "It is something I never expected. The least I can do is to write a note to them."

Many of the letters contain money. One of the first contained a $5 bill from a Dallas woman who wanted the patrolman to have the money to replace "that steak that burned up." Martinez was cooking a steak at home when he heard the sniper atop the University of Texas tower and left home to work his way up the 29-story building.

All of the money is being turned over to the Billy Speed Memorial Fund, which was established for the city policeman killed by sniper fire.

He kept one check for $25. It came from a Houston man who asked specifically Martinez use the money to start an educational fund for his twin daughters.

All of the letters praise him. One, from Dolores Benavides of Longmont, Colo., said:

"Although I realize that the odds you will ever read this letter are against me, I had to let you know you are not alone, and that you are and will be remembered in my prayers."

But, Martinez is reading them all. And, he is spending his off-duty hours at home penning out

Wilson Bill To Meet Last Test

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's economy-controlling prices and incomes bill meets its final test in Parliament this week. Passage was expected by Friday when the British lawmakers plan to adjourn for the summer.

The Association of British Chambers of Commerce meanwhile issued a pessimistic assessment Sunday night of the nation's state of economic affairs. It said business leaders are not as optimistic now as they were as recently as last April.

The survey was based on replies from 296 businessmen with a combined annual turnover of $1.26 billion. Only 2 per cent of those polled were confident of an upswing in the economy.

French, pale and his head shaved, entered the room, looked at the chair, and went to it, seating himself.

Treasury to Stop $2 Bill Printing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury Department has decided to stop printing $2 bills.

The bills, which bear a portrait of President Thomas Jefferson on one side and a picture of his Monticello home on the other, just are not popular enough to keep printing them, the Treasury said Wednesday.

The $2 bill is as old as the nation. The first were printed under authority of the Continental Congress in 1776. During the Civil War, Congress permitted their issuance as standard U.S. currency.

Why do some people traditionally choose August to buy their new Chevrolet?

Malibu Sport Coupe and Malibu 4-Door Station Wagon, Both with 8 standard safety features

To save money and, quite often, lots of it.

They know that prices will never be better at their Chevrolet dealer's than they are in August. They know their present cars will never be worth more in trade than they are right now. And they know a good value when they see one, like a Chevrolet Malibu Sport Coupe—the most popular model of America's most popular mid-size car. It comes with thick foam-cushioned seats, deep-twist carpeting, vinyl-up one door and down the other, padded instrument panel and sun visors for added safety. And all those Body by Fisher niceties sit solidly over some of the surest handling features a car can have: Ball-Race steering. Full Coil suspension. Wide-stance wheel design for steady cornering. So you see, "Chevrolet in August" makes a lot of sense. Fine cars. Exceptionally good buys and all those beautiful driving days left. Real Malibu weather. Act, my friend.

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two top
chefs from Tokyo say Japanese cuisine is influenced these days by Western cookery, including America's.

But you'd never know it from their hamburgers. In an interview here, the chefs said a Japanese burger is a beef patty seasoned with monosodium glu-tamate ja - tasteless white powder that accentuates flavors), mirin (sweet rice wine) and soy sauce. The burger is served either separately or with boiled rice, in either case with a gravy containing soup stock, wine, catsup, spicy meat sauce and cornstarch.

Goichi Sato and Yoshie Hiyoshi added that Japanese chefs want to learn both French and American cookery so they can work at first-class hotels but they modify even the rich sauces of French cuisine to suit the Japanese appetite for simpler foods.

Sato and Hiyoshi are president and vice president, respectively, of Japan's 114-year-old chefs' union, Yorozuya. They were here to observe United States restaurant operations, learn the extent to which U.S. patrons
ask for authentic Japanese food, and check on the first five Chefs sent here by the union.
The quintet works at Nippon,
whose owner, Nobu Kuraoka, acted as interpreter.

American cookery is especially popular in cooking classes attended by Japanese women, said the chefs. They added that the booming interest in foreign food does not mean that the average Japanese has abandoned centuries-old favorites such as sashimi, sushi, tempura, unaju and oyako donburi.

Nine out of ten Japanese eat sashimi more often than any other food, they said. Sashimi is thinly sliced raw saltwater fish or seafood, arranged on shredded
daikon (Japanese radish), and served with soy sauce and peppery tasting horseradish paste.

Sushi is sweet-and-sour cold rice wrapped in raw fish slices seafood, or seaweed. Tempura is batter-fried food, which can be made with chicken fish, seafood or assorted vegetables.

Unaju is charcoal-broiled eel served on rice. And oyako donburi, which means parent and child, is an omelet containing vegetables and chicken, served on rice. When it's made with beef instead of chicken, the dish is called stranger and child.

Summer Squash

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Italians cook zucchini so deliciously we think of it as an Italian vegetable despite its Western Hemisphere origin. It is actually a summer squash with an extremely tender rind.
Zucchini can be sliced and used raw in a mixed green salad, or it can be sauteed with butter and onion and garlic with perhaps a bit of fresh basil.
Sliced and cooked very briefly in just enough water to form steam, it is delicious with a chicken-gravy or sauce.

For all its lightness and delicacy, the zucchini squash is a good source of minerals and vitamins. And it's a marvelous
"buy" in calories — only 17 to half-cup serving.

STUFFED FRESH ZUCCHINI SQUASH
(Serves 6)

6 (1 1/2 lbs.) medium zucchini
squash
1/2 lb. ground beef
1 slice lean bacon, chopped
1/2 cup minced fresh parsley
1/2 cup finely chopped tomato 1/4 cup finely chopped fresh onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 cup olive or salad oil
2 slices white bread
1/4 cup milk
About 2 tablespoons water
Cut squash in half lengthwise.
Scoop out some of the squash to form a shell with walls 1/2-inch thick. Dice scooped out portion and set aside. Save shells.
Brown meat and bacon in 10-inch skillet. Add diced squash, parsley, tomato, onion, garlic, salt, black pepper and oil. Stir and cook 5 minutes. Soak bread in milk, squeeze dry and add.
Mix well and spoon into squash shells, filling them. Place squash side by side in 10-inch skillet. Pour in water, just enough to create a little steam.
Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes or until squash is tender.

Cook It Japanese

Oyako donburi cooks in minutes. This recipe, for two servings, is adapted from a Nippon restaurant specialty.

But a 1 by 2-inch piece of raw carrot into matchstick size.
Wash 2 medium size dried mushrooms in cold water, soak them 15 minutes in warm water, drain and slice into thin strips.

Place carrots and 1/4 cup of drained canned sliced bamboo shoots in 1 cup of canned chicken consommé in shallow saucepan; boil rapidly 1 minute. Add mushrooms and 1 teaspoon of monosodium glutamate and boil 1 minute more. If desired, cool and refrigerate.

At mealtime, make omelets individually. Drain vegetables, reserving soup. Place the vegetables in a 6-inch skillet with 1/4 of a medium onion, sliced vertically into strips, 1/2 chicken thigh or leg, boned and cut into 3/4-inch cubes, and 1/4 cup of reserved soup mixed with 1 1/2 teaspoons each of Japanese soy sauce and mirin (optional).
Same amount of any sweet table wine or 1/4 teaspoon, of sugar can be substituted.)

Boil rapidly until chicken loses pinkness. Add 1 lightly beaten egg but do not stir. Again, cover pan loosely and cook over high heat just until egg sets. It will look wet on top and some liquid will remain in pan. Slide omelet onto 1 cup of hot cooked short grain rice in individual serving dish. Cover tightly and let stand at least 1 minute before serving.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this coming weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for UPI.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supplies in meats, fruits, and vegetables remain adequate — ample-enough-to-drive-away-homemakers midsummer cooking
blues.

Food shoppers should find enough rib, round and chuck-cut roasts to whip up family eating enthusiasm. Also, beef steaks are in good supply.

The pork picture is narrowing, but still bright enough to include good prices in many areas for bacon and smoked picnics.

Broiler-fryers and turkeys remain high-protein favorites.
Peanut butter is another high protein food to remember for general eating, flavoring, and for meat sauces.

In the vegetable bin, green beans, carrots, cucumbers, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, and squash are plentiful.

Bananas, along with seedless grapes are still in good supply.
Other fruits which are plentiful are: peaches, bartlett pears, plums, watermelons, and blueberries.

Fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are the fish in good shopping quantity across the nation.

Blueberries Top Shortcake

BLUEBERRY SHORTCAKE is a delightful summer treat.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Summer fruits splash flavor and color over the family menus. The more often, the better for health and pleasure.

BLUEBERRY SHORTCAKE
(Serves 10)

1/2 cup butter
1 package (8 oz.) cream
cheese
2 cups unsifted all-purpose
flour
2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 cups (1 qt.) fresh cultivated blueberries, rinsed and drained

1 cup granulated sugar
Juice of one orange.

Mix butter with cream cheese.
Add flour and mix with hands until well-blended. Chill for one hour. Roll out dough 1/4-inch thick on a lightly floured board and cut into 20 ovals, 3 1/2 x 2 inches. Put ovals on an ungreas-ed cookie sheet and prick them with a fork. Bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees) for 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on a rack. Whip cream with sugar and vanilla until stiff. Mix blueberries with sugar and orange juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Cool. Put 10 ovals on a platter and top with some of the blueberry filling.

Top with second oval. Top with whipped cream and the remaining blueberry filling. Serve at once.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
 The average man with a jalopy, a wife, kids and a mortgage is the innocent bystander in a who-shot-John argument among the well-paid public servants in Washington who manage the affairs of the United States government. The average man and his family are likely to be hurt in this political ruckus. That is how it usually is with innocent bystanders.

This political row is between the President of the United States and the Congress, mostly the Republican members thereof. In dispute is the matter of who is responsible for some of the cockeyed fiscal policies afflicting the U.S.A. Fiscal means a very special kind of policy relating to the nation's spending and revenue budget, the method and timing of borrowing money to compensate for over-spending and relating, also, to central bank federal reserve system credit policies.

The politicians are fighting among themselves notably on the budget and credit fronts. Both should vitally concern the average man although he seems not to have much interest in the matter. He rarely takes advantage of his power at the polls to protect himself against disasters but himself against disasters that ten to engulf him.

One of these disasters already is upon him although the average man seems not even to be fully aware of that. It is the disaster of currency inflation which compels a gradual shrinkage in the purchasing power of the U.S. dollar. The average man and more especially his wife are beginning to be aware of that creeping disaster under another name. They know it as the High Cost of Living (HCL).

Call it currency inflation, dollar devaluation, shrinking purchase power or what you will; one of the major causes of the calamity is the U.S. government's habit of living beyond its income. That means that government spends more each year than it receives in taxes and other revenue. To pay the excess of its bills over available revenue, the government sells bonds thereby adding annually to the public debt. This is known as deficit financing. It is a handy tool for politicians who have learned that running the government on borrowed money attracts votes and wins elections regardless of what its effect may be on the future welfare of the United States.

LBJ and congressional Republicans are now declaiming against each other, each accusing the other of carrying the nation from bad to worse in a new outburst of deficit spending. LBJ accuses the Congress of appropriating for expenditure in the current (1967) fiscal year billions of dollars more than he asked Congress to put up for the war in Southeast Asia and other Great Society programs. The Republican counter that Johnson asked for far too much in the first place and that, anyway, the Democrats control Congress and provide the votes by which Congress adds billions to LBJ's spending plans.

The blame for deficit spending and the high cost of living cannot be fixed firmly on any man or institution of government. Responsibility is divided, which is a good break for politicians seeking to avoid public accountability.

Congress and the President are equally guilty of debasing the U.S. dollar and hiking the cost of living in the United States. Each accuses the other. First and worst hit as the dispute continues and the cost of living soars will be the common man, his wife and kids. The politicians will keep their jobs and live happily ever after.

Quotes in the News

By United Press International
BOSTON — Quartermaster 1C James Andrews, who served until March aboard the U.S. Coast Guard cutter attacked by an American plane off Viet Nam:

"You get killed if you show lights at night."

JACKSON, Miss. — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference meeting:

"The marches now under way in Chicago have unmasked the hypocrisy of the residential area of the North and called them before the judgment seat of world opinion."

LEICESTER, England — Mrs. Mary Williams, identifying a strange intruder while strolling in her rose garden:

"Alligator!"

GRENADE, Miss. — Police-

man Giles Crisler breaking up a group of whites heckling a Negro civil rights demonstration:

"I'm in charge tonight. Any violations will be dealt with on either side. I don't want to hear any hollering down here or you'll be arrested for disturbing the peace."

RIOT CONFERENCE
 Washington (UPI) — President Johnson has been asked to summon a White House conference of civil rights leaders in an effort to end the rioting which has broken out in some big northern cities.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., made public copies of his letter to the President Wednesday. The Illinois lawmaker said rioting in his own city of Chicago as well as elsewhere has created a national crisis.

POWELL PREDICTION
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., predicted Monday that Negroes would be the "swing factor" in elections in about 20 U.S. cities in 10 years.

Powell, in a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report, named six of the cities—Chicago, Philadelphia, New York, Newark, Los Angeles and St. Louis.

The inmates said they were protesting a surprise inspection during which authorities confiscated cups and packages of a soft-drink mix that had been smuggled into the jail.

WET PROTEST
MODESTO, Calif. (UPI) — Prisoners in the Stanislaus County jail tore up their bedclothes Monday, plugged up all toilets and drains, and consequently flooded the entire cellblock.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

As the summer vacation draws to a close, parents and students at all levels will be preparing for the new school year. Although it is not a good idea to begin preparations too early, it is important to start early enough for a well-organized plan.

Avoid the last minute rush to purchase school clothing, books and other needed supplies.

Waiting too long often means a limited choice and in some cases you might find that the particular item needed is not available. On the other hand, starting too early could also limit the choice and availability of desired items since the stores may not yet have a full supply on display.

What about students attending schools for the first time? It is important that they be registered as early as possible. This will allow the principal to obtain records and needed information from you and the former school. This is necessary to properly place your child in a class where he will have the best chance for success.

It is most difficult for a principal to make the best decisions and take care of all your questions on the first day of school. On that day, he is very busy with the details of an organized school opening. It also will take time to get the needed records. Obviously, it is to your child's advantage to enroll him in the new school as early as arrangements can be made.

Students, regardless of age and grade level, normally have some fears of a new school situation. This is only natural if they are not familiar with the routines, staff, building and other students. Every attempt should be made to provide some type of orientation to the new situation. Sometimes the school has a program for students and parents. If so, make sure you participate. If the school does not have an organized program, several actions may be taken on your part.

It is always helpful to visit the building. Seek out any staff member who might be available to welcome you and your child. Obtain as much information as possible concerning required routines and materials. Find out the name of the new teacher and locate the new room. Check on bus schedules and stops. Attempt to find other students who will be in the class and may live in your particular neighborhood.

STRIKE LOSSES
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly 992,000 workers were idled by strikes during the first half of 1966 — the largest number for a comparable period since 1955, according to the Labor Department.

In its report on strikes, issued Monday, the department noted that the amount of actual working time lost during the January-June period was less than during the first six months of 1965, however. The report did not include the current airlines machinists strike since it began July 8.

Dear Abby... Don't Despair; All Is Not Completely Lost

DEAR ABBY: My husband says that I am "sick" and in need of a doctor because I commented on the following:

Before I am out of the car, my husband is already in the house. When we go anywhere, my husband is already in the car "waiting" for me before I am out of the house.

When we go to a restaurant before I am out of my chair, my husband is out of the room. Recently, at the funeral of a relative, all the other husbands and wives were standing together in "couples" while my husband stood 20 feet away from me.

D. IN PHILLY

DEAR D.: If it is "sick" to expect common courtesy, then you are indeed "sick."

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter signed "75 and Dumpty," whose husband was an impulsive kisser. I could not shake the urge to write.

My husband was an impulsive kisser, too, which was just one of the many ways he had of saying, "I love you." Four years ago my husband died in Korea.

I wonder if "75 and Dumpty" has any idea how much impulsive kisses can be missed, and how lonely reading, cooking, counting stitches, and watching TV can be when that other chair is empty. Sign me...

"44 AND LONELY"

DEAR "44": Although the years with your man were too few, I'll bet that you two had more happiness together than many couples who have celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries.

DEAR ABBY: Our son enlisted in the marine corps. We did not hear from him for several months, so I wrote to him. He wrote back saying he would be leaving soon so I shouldn't write to him. I got worried and wrote anyway. I didn't hear from him so I wrote again. This time my letter was returned to me marked undelivered.

Naturally I wanted to know why, so I called the recruiting office and they told me that my son had been discharged four weeks ago. Aren't the marine corps people supposed to see to it that those kids get home once they're discharged. I would like to know where that crazy kid is.

NO NAME

DEAR NO: A discharged marine is given 8 cents a mile on which to get home, but he is not provided with an "escort" to see that he gets there. If a marine "doesn't" go directly home, it's neither the business nor the responsibility of the marine corps.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ASPIRING YOUNG WRITER": Not that I qualify for giving advice on how to become a successful writer, but the best writers have the biggest wastebaskets.

Privacy, Shade Give Patio Pleasure

Any ordinary patio can become a delightful, sun-dappled garden room. All it takes is a bit of imagination, a few weeks' work, and some lumber from the local retail yard.

Most needed ingredients for the garden room are shade and privacy, and both can be provided with relative ease.

A trellis or eggcrate roof, screen walls, and some permanent benches do the trick and most construction can be handled by the weekend carpenter.

With a little planning, all three components of the garden room can utilize the same basic framework. Here's how. Use 4x4 Douglas fir posts to support the shade roof, mounting them over the patio paving with post anchors—a stock item available at a building materials yard.

Then hang the privacy screen on the posts, running 1x2 inch boards horizontally. Additional vertical support may be needed to prevent the slim 1x2s from sagging. Two-by-fours will do the job. These should run only to the screen's cap board, although a more than two-foot opening may be left between the screen's top and the shade roof. Benches are built around at least two sides of the garden room, again using the posts for an anchor and the privacy screen as a backrest. However, "flower pot" legs also are needed for proper support. They're built with four pieces of 2x4 fir in an open box that resembles the shape of a flower pot. The top and bottom pieces, bolted to the paving and centered under the bench, front to back is one half the seat's depth. The top piece is full depth, and the two side pieces slant out from bottom to top, one to the front of the seat and the other to the back.

MAKE THE PATIO private enough to be pleasant, cool enough to use all day with a screen and shade roof. Eggcrate roof is Douglas fir lumber. Screen of spaced 1x2s, rising from slant-back bench, uses roof posts for supports. Light hue gives cool, crisp look.

there are leafy trees nearby or the patio has an east or north exposure an eggcrate style roof is all that's needed.

Open patios exposed to hot afternoon sun require more shading with a trellis style roof of spaced boards—1x2s or 1x4s. Some openness is needed, however, to encourage air circulation and to produce a desirable filtered light within the garden room.

Preservatively treated Douglas fir is recommended for the bench legs and for posts, although untreated fir or cedar will perform well for other parts ready available in the yard. If of the structure.

Style of the shade roof depends on quantity of shade available in the yard. If of the structure.

RUTH MILLETT

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A widow who has filled her life with volunteer work suggests that the great number of volunteer workers needed in every community should come from widows of 60 and over who have plenty of time on their hands. She even implies that the middle-aged widow who does not go in for community service is shirking her responsibilities and isn't really living.

Well, organizational work is fine for the woman who enjoys it. But it's not the only way that a widow in her late middle years can make her life worth living.

A woman who has worked hard most of her life as wife and mother might prefer to spend her later years developing some talent or interest she never had time for before. If so—and she is happy in her way of life—that is the right answer for her.

Another woman might well prefer doing things for others in a personal way—rather than through any kind of organizational work.

There are plenty of opportunities for any woman so inclined to make herself useful in her community. She can offer her friendship to those who are older or less well-off than she is—brightening other lives by her concern and companionship. She can lend a helping hand to young mothers of her acquaintance and to members of her own family who may need her help.

Hostess Hints For The Working Wife

A woman's place is only part time in the home. In the years since the turn of the century, the number of women who work has increased 319 per cent.

Today, more than half of the nation's 26 million working women are married and by 1970, three out of five in the female labor force will play the double roles of wife and worker.

Women who combine family and career also find time to keep a social calendar. For business couples, the weekend is the best date to entertain. Saturday night dinners give the hostess ample time to prepare for guests. You can keep serving and clean-up to a minimum by planning casserole dinners or hot buffet meals. Make an extra amount of the main course to freeze for use later in the week.

A brunch on Sunday or coffee-and-cake parties and wine-tastings on week-nights are easy-to-plan gatherings.

Simple, informal entertaining can be party-pretty with a few easy, decorative touches. Start with fresh flowers to set a festive mood. Florists' Transworld Delivery experts can tailor flower arrangements to fit the occasion. For a buffet supper, FTD floral designers recommend a slender, fan-shaped arrangement of mixed blossoms to conserve table space. Tiny bouquets set in teacups or colorful mugs can be used on individual trays. Low centerpieces of long-lasting carnations are a good choice for sit-down dinners, and an arrangement of green plants and flowers is a fresh, garden approach to morning and afternoon entertaining.

Brother, Do Braves Beat Dodgers?

United Press International
 What did Matty Alou say after Atlanta swept a three-game series from Los Angeles? "Oh brother!"

That's a pretty normal reaction for any player on the Pittsburgh Pirates, who have moved into first place and cemented their position thanks to the Braves. But coming from Alou, it has a double meaning.

Matty's older brother Felipe contributed the biggest bat to Atlanta's sweep, collecting four hits in the opener and leading off with home runs in each of the final two games.

He homered Tuesday in Atlanta's 2-1 victory and connected Wednesday night in leading the Braves to a 3-1 decision.

"I like to get to them before they warm up," Felipe quipped after the third game in which he also singled and scored two runs.

Although Matty was rooting for his brother against the Dodgers, he'll be putting the whammy on him from now on.

The Pittsburgh center fielder leads the National League in hitting with a .339 average while the elder Alou ranks second at .331.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia stopped St. Louis 5-1 while the San Francisco at Cincinnati and Houston at Chicago games were rained out. Since the Giants will not make another trip to Cincinnati, the contest won't be rescheduled unless both teams are high in the standings at the end of the season.

The Dodgers journeyed to Atlanta in first place but after losing the opener Monday, relinquished their perch to the Pirates. Pittsburgh hasn't lost since and leads runner-up San Francisco by 1 1/2 games while Los Angeles fell to third, 2 1/2 games off the pace.

Felipe's 25th homer of the season gave the Braves a quick 1-0 lead and they snapped a 1-1 tie in the fifth inning with a pair of runs. Alou started the rally by smashing a 1-0 at third baseman Jim Gilliam, who couldn't handle it for a two-base error.

Alou later came home on a sacrifice fly by Hank Aaron, who shares the major league RBI lead with 86 Joe Torre followed with a single and scored on a double by Rico Carty.

Rookie Tom Kelley, recently recalled from the minors, hurled 7 1/3 innings to even his record at 2-2 and provide unbeaten manager Billy Hitchcock with his second straight victory. Big Don Drysdale (8-13) suffered the loss.

Willie Stargell and Jim

Pagliaroni contributed two-run homers to Pittsburgh's 15-hit attack. Roberto Clemente and Jose Pagan each collected three hits for the Pirates while Al Luplow went 4-for-5 for the Mets.

Vernon Law pitched 6 2/3 innings in notching his eighth victory in 13 decisions this season and punning his career record against New York to 10-1.

New York starter Bob Shaw (9-11) hit Pittsburgh shortstop Gene Alley in the left eye in the fourth. Alley was carried off the field—never losing consciousness—and it took nine stitches to close the wound.

Chris Short lost his bid for a perfect game when Lou Brock singled for St. Louis with one out in the seventh. The 28-year-old southpaw had retired 19 straight hitters and wound up with a three-hitter while raising his slate to 13-7.

Richie Allen drove home four runs with a triple and a single and scored once for the Phillies.

Cowboys See To Bob Hayes

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (UPI)—Sprinters in the track world are sleeping better these nights with speedster Bob Hayes retired to the football world, but the veteran now has the pro footballers talking to themselves.

Hayes broke loose on several long touchdown gallops Wednesday as the Dallas Cowboys practiced on their pass offense.

While Hayes was picking up the spirit on the club, lineman Dave Edwards' injury was letting them down. Edwards was injured in the game with the San Francisco 49ers and doctors said Wednesday that he would miss the Los Angeles Rams game.

A club spokesman said the lineman should be ready to play the following week against the Green Bay Club.

White Sox Uses Gary Peters

By United Press International
 Whenever Manager Eddie Stanky wants to give the White Sox bullpen a rest he starts Gary Peters.

The Chicago left-hander has been the picture of consistency the last month and a half and a prime factor in the Sox' recent upswing. Wednesday night, he coasted to a 9-2 victory over Kansas City as the White Sox chalked up their sixth consecutive success.

Peters, the American League's Rookie of the Year in 1963, got off to a miserable start this season—just like the White Sox. The 29-year-old southpaw showed a 3-6 record on June 24 but transformed himself into a winner once July rolled around.

Peters celebrated July 4 with a complete game shutout of the Yankees and completed every subsequent starting assignment until Wednesday night when Stanky preferred reliever Denis Higgins with two out in the ninth inning and the Sox ahead by seven runs, snapping Peters' string of seven consecutive victories at six.

Pitchers Take Pounding

Chicago pounded on Kansas City starter Lew Krausse and reliever Vern Handrahan for four runs each. They scored in the second inning on an error by Dick Green, Al Weis' single and Peters' double. Tommie Agee had the game's only home run, his 13th, in the fifth and Pete Ward doubled across three runs in the seventh when Chicago tallied four times.

In other AL play, Baltimore beat New York 9-4, Boston blanked Cleveland 2-0, Washing-

Hall In Relief

Hall replaced starter Ed Watt in the third inning and helped pin the loss on Fred Talbot with a two-run single in the fourth.

Charlie Dressen Rated 'A' In His Efforts for Everything

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
 NEW YORK (UPI)—The letter "A" in the alphabet most often applied to Charlie Dressen was "I."

It was the wrong one. The letter "A" would have been far more fitting because that's what he always rated for effort in anything he undertook.

There was no middle ground with Charlie. If he liked you, nothing was too much. And if he worked for you, that meant 24 hours a day.

As recently as three days ago, he was champing at the bit despite the fact he still was recuperating from a second heart attack. Technically, he still was manager of the Detroit Tigers and he felt he should be doing something for them.

Do Some Scouting

"I think I'll go out to the West Coast and look over a few players for the club," said Dressen. "After all, they're still paying me."

Charlie was the kind of guy who liked to pay off 100 cents on the dollar. He also was the kind of guy who would say exactly what he thought and since the vast majority of his thoughts were original, it was natural that he should make liberal use of the word "I."

Like anyone else, Charlie had his faults.

He was extra sensitive to criticism and he had the type of overwhelming pride which occasionally landed him in trouble. More than anything else, he expected everyone else to work as hard as he did. Sometimes that got him in trouble, too—with his ball players.

The story is often told of how Dressen once went out to one of his young pitchers in a jam and said:

"Just hold 'em and I'll think of something."

Charlie usually could. He was that imaginative and inventive. Whenever there was any controversy, you generally would find Dressen right in the middle of it. Probably the one he was most famous for occurred during the fall of 1953 right after he had managed the Dodgers to two successive pennants.

His wife, Ruth, wrote a letter to Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, pointing out that Charlie deserved a new three-year contract. O'Malley wouldn't go for any more than one year, so Charlie quit.

He then had to go and tell his wife, who was in a hospital at the time.

"Don't Worry"

"Please don't worry, Ruth," he said to her. "Just get well. Look, I'm in a game that's famous for second guessing. But I'll never second guess you about that letter. We're in this together and the way I looked at it, it's a 50-50 proposition."

"It's just the same as me picking a pitcher who I think can get the other side out. If that pitcher got raked, I'm sure you wouldn't second guess me."

Dressen rarely second guessed himself and hated for others to do it to him.

Regardless, he always found a way of bouncing back. There was no way of keeping him down.

Last Saturday before entering the hospital, for example, he went out to see the Tigers play the Red Sox and that same night he attended a concert because a friend of his was soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Only 20 minutes before Dressen died on Wednesday, a physician, who saw him, told the Tigers:

"Things are just about the same with him as they were yesterday."

With Charlie gone, things just aren't the same today.

Pampans Invited To Enter Rodeo

Lewis Houseman, president of the Rolling Hills Riding Club, Amarillo, was in Pampa yesterday extending invitations to Pampa amateur cowboys and cowgirls to enter the club's 4th annual rodeo at 8 p.m. on Aug. 19 and 20 and 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 21.

The rodeo will be staged at the club's arena six miles north of Amarillo on Western Ave. from Amarillo Blvd. West.

Rodeo headquarters are at 3108 Amarillo Blvd. East, books will open at 8 a.m. Aug. 18 and close at 12:01 noon on Aug. 19.

Events will include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc and bull riding, calf roping, head-heeling, bulldogging and barrel racing.

A wild horse race, pony express race and calf scramble for children under 12 are listed as special attractions.

A rodeo dance is slated for Saturday night, Aug. 20, in the clubhouse with music furnished by the Panhandle Swingsters.

Columbus Takes First Position In IL Standings

By United Press International
 Columbus got a double assist from the weather man and Toronto Wednesday night to take over sole possession of first place in the International League.

While the Columbus game against Toledo was rained out, Toronto dumped Rochester 9-0 to break the deadlock for first place and give the Jets a one-half game lead in the tight race.

Toronto, which moved to within 2 1/2 games of Columbus with its easy victory, scored three runs in the first two innings and then coasted to the victory. The Maple Leafs pounded four Rochester pitchers for 17 hits with starter Ed Barnowski getting tagged with the loss.

Billy Graham scattered seven hits to give Syracuse a 3-2 victory over Buffalo. Syracuse got only four hits but pushed across a run in the eighth inning to break a 2-2 tie and decide the game.

Jacksonville swept a double-header from Richmond, winning the first game 2-0 and the second contest 5-1. Tom Seaver pitched a four-hit shutout in the first game and Craig Anderson came back in the second game to stop the Braves on three hits.

Jack Nicklaus Contends In Thunderbird Championship

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Burly Jack Nicklaus opens defense of his Thunderbird championship today against a field of 122 including a determined Arnold Palmer and oxygen-toting Billy Casper.

Casper, who caught Palmer in a collapse on the final round of the U.S. Open and went on to beat him in a playoff, stashed a small oxygen tank in his bag as he teed off over the 7,053-yard par 72 course at the Upper Montclair Country Club hoping to avert another embarrassing incident such as the one that forced him to withdraw in the final round of last week's Cleveland Open. Billy has numerous allergies—including polluted air. The air got him at Cleveland.

Tickets On Sale For Boxing Match

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Tickets went on sale Wednesday for the Aug. 24 Curtis Cokes-Manuel Gonzales World Championship Welterweight bout in Municipal Auditorium.

Co-promoter Lou Messina said ticket offices also will be open in Dallas, Cokes' home town, and Houston, where Gonzales trains.

"We have already received a request for 100 reserved ring-side seats from Dallas," he said.

The bout was authorized by interests from his golf during the first part of the season, did the more business than golf the last WBA stripped Emile Griffith two weeks but now he is rested of his tilt.

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Lack of Understanding

The art of communicating with each other in meaningful terms is one of the continuous challenges of mankind. The human race transmits ideas in a variety of ways, ranging from a poke in the nose ("You get the idea now, Buster?") to the ultimately intrusive "subliminal" methods which, reportedly inflicts ideas without the conscious knowledge of the receptor.

With this infinite range of methods available to us, it is logical to assume that man is a crackjack communicator who almost never has much of a problem understanding or being understood.

There is the printed symbol for the educated and the sophisticated; the spoken word for a somewhat more pedestrian audience; the finger language for the deaf and simple pictures for those bordering on the lowest levels of intelligence, even colors and forms which can be taught to convey a meaning to human and sub-human races. Virtually even man and many animals can be approached on some level of communication.

The hope in this, of course, is that with communication will come understanding; and with understanding an end to madness. It is not unexpected that to know another's thoughts and motives will endear him or his idea to us; but armed with the knowledge of another's ideas and motivations, we are better equipped to meet him on some common ground where we may live together without doing violence to each other.

This would seem to be logical, as we said, but it cannot be supported in fact.

Even today we appear to be drawing farther apart because of a classic—perhaps the classic—misadventure in communication: the insistence on defining Capital & Labor and Employer & Employee in terms of antonyms.

To support the notion that these are opposite terms, one must conclude that there are those who "work" and those who do not. Yet, who can point out a man who does not work? It would be a public service to find him. He would have to be confined to his bed in complete helplessness; and even so, if he breathes, he is performing what might be defined as "work." Certainly he is expending irreplaceable time and energy toward a specific accomplishment in his self-interest. The little old lady who puts on her tennis shoes and goes down to the vault to clip coupons works. It is not the fairly godmother who keeps her books, tells her which coupons to clip and what to do with them once she clips them. It is "work," perhaps as much work as a little old lady could do, although that is beside the point.

Does the manager of a company work? If he didn't, he had better not let the owners catch him. He may work well over the usual 40 hours per week, as a matter of fact.

Does the owner of a business work? Catch one sometime trying, frantically, to arrange credit, find merchandise, deal with the tax people, hire managers. Does he work? Amen.

Everybody works; everybody is a worker. When the Bolsheviks cried, "Workers of the world, arise!" they were talking about all of us. But, obviously, what they meant was to do a certain type of worker to do violence against another type of worker.

If all men are workers, so are they capitalists. A capitalist is a man who owns something. Who doesn't own something of value? A car, a house, a watch, an $18.75 government bond; a suit, a dress. All of this is capital as distinguished from income. All of it figures in our net worth, or assets.

The amount of capital each man acquires varies widely. Some work with their capital as others do with their hands. Some use their capital to buy goods and services. What distinguishes one from the other is not that one has capital and the other none, but that one uses his capital for "breeding" and the other for consumption.

Neither can be said to be right or wrong. The world would not survive for long if everyone dug ditches, founded steel companies, raised food or went into the clergy.

There is no shame in any kind of honest work; no shame in accumulating great capital or being content with little. There is no reason to war over these differences.

To seize a part of the wealth of a rich man and give it to a poor one is about as defensible as seizing one of the children of a rich woman who is not able to have a child. Only one side of either transaction is made happy; and, in the long run, it is doubtful that either is truly benefited by this act of theft.

The thing we seem to have failed to communicate, with all our electronic cleverness, is that differences in social, economic, artistic and educational levels are not in themselves meaningful and reprehensible elements appear only when force, or threat of force, is used to prevent any man from bettering himself socially, economically, educationally or artistically.

Can we communicate the difference between the two things—natural and artificial differences among men? Is it so different to point out the distinction between denying a boy the right to take violin lessons and passing a law that he has to be a virtuoso?

The race would not survive if all men had identical abilities, ambitions, aims, purposes and talents. These differences are essential and we suspect they are the most colossal breakdown in communication occurs when we fail to communicate the difference between equal opportunity and identical results.

Ho's Hand: Three Aces

Ho Chi Minh lost a few chips as a result of recent bombings of supply areas near Hanoi and Haiphong. But he still holds at least three aces. They were handed to him by the same "dealers" in Uncle Sam's Potomac River "gambling palace," who have at long last allowed our pilots to hit a few, really significant targets in North, Viet Nam.

Ace number 1: Ho and his cohorts are still assured a personal sanctuary. Defense Secretary McNamara said during a dramatic TV performance explaining the bombings: "Our objectives in South Viet Nam are limited. Our objectives are not to destroy the Communist government of North Viet Nam."

Ace number 2: In addition to the fact that he had lots of time beforehand to disperse supplies from those areas which were finally attacked, Ho apparently can count on some time for re-supply and further dispersal, while the dealers in Washington wait, as they have said that they will, to see if he might want to negotiate. Mr. McNamara said during his TV appearance that he intends to continue the same policy of "military restraint" he has followed in the past. That includes forbidding the mighty U.S. fleet to interfere with any ships hauling supplies into North Viet Nam and allowing no air-strikes in the North except when and as approved by the political croupiers in Washington.

Ace number 3: Ho's trump ace: According to present rules of the game, as set by the house (White House) manager himself, should the strikes in the North become more damaging than Ho wishes to bear, he needs only to agree to negotiate in order to get them stopped completely. At the same time, no condition has been set by the house manager that attacks by the Communist forces in South Viet Nam must be stopped before Ho can play that trump ace.

"War Crimes"

Coming Home to Roost

And now the criminal communists in North Vietnam will "try" our captured flyers. These trials would "enrage the American people" we and the comrats are told. How come? The Viet Cong have already executed three American prisoners in reprisal for executions by the South Vietnamese of Viet Cong soldiers.

How many Americans do you know who were enraged by that? How many Americans do you know who have demanded all-out victory over the comrats? How many bridge games, garden and civic clubs do you know which devoted their sessions to writing letters of protest to their congressmen, senators and President? How many Americans do you know who are doing anything to save their country and the freedom of the world? And, better than that, what are you doing?

Are the American people now incapable of being enraged?

It is rumored that Ho Chi Minh will stage a show trial in Hanoi of several captured American pilots. Two or three of them are claimed to have "confessed." These will be found guilty and sentenced to die in the midst of the resultant propaganda orgy. The reported plan is for our criminal Russian "friends" who are financing the war against us to step in and mediate, getting the death sentences commuted.

The comrats plan to stir up worldwide resentment against America by publicizing the so-called confessions in which our pilots would admit bombing hospitals, schools and civilian centers. This would lose us friends throughout the world, it is claimed. What friends? Reckon maybe the 99 "nations" getting foreign aid from us might cancel out on us? What a horrible blow to Big Business and the Bureaucrats.

All "news reports" thus far say there is nothing the United States can do to alter this course.

There is no way we could lose. So we don't believe in "war criminal" trials? Since when? Our government helped organize and conduct the Nuremberg trials. We helped execute men who were following out orders of their superiors and doing what they considered the patriotic thing to do for their country.

Defendants at the Nuremberg trials were charged with "crimes against humanity," not for mere bombing of civilian populations. In other words, it's all right to kill by the millions as long as the victims are not discriminated against by race, creed or color?

Two wrongs don't make a right. But the North Vietnamese have as much right, morally and legally, to murder our men, as we had to murder the Germans convicted at the Nuremberg trials.

In "war trials" justice is not served; victory and vengeance are the guilty winners are never brought to trial. Only one prominent American voice stands out in my memory in opposition to the Nuremberg trials. He was a man of great intellect and achievement. He was a man to good and too honest, sadly enough, to be President of the United States. His name was Robert A. Taft. There is one principle involved in "war crimes" trials which the cleverest lawyer cannot obliterate: the losers never have an opportunity to try the winners.

of the tragic consequences of that kind of game. During the Korean conflict, far more men were killed and wounded — on both sides — after peace negotiations were started than before.

Recent history also indicates that, so long as dealers like McNamara and Rusk are left in charge of the game, Ho Chi Minh can count on all his aces remaining playable.

DON'T CALL IT A BANK

(Chicago Tribune)

Don't be misled by the word "bank" in the designation "Asian Development Bank" which Congress and the President have just set afloat with a promise of 200 million dollars. It is hoped that other countries will come through with 800 million more.

Most of us think of a bank as an institution which makes a profit by borrowing and lending other people's money and which needs little sympathy and no financial help. But as applied to the Asian bank and the older Inter-American Development bank, the word is an optimistic euphemism which camouflages their true function as additional channels of American foreign aid.

If these regional development banks really mean to be self-sufficient, there is nothing they can do that the World Bank or some other financial institution won't do right now. A government-sponsored project which is deemed beneficial and economically sound can qualify for a World-bank loan; a private project with the same qualities can get a loan from the World Bank's affiliate, the International Finance Corporation.

For years, and for these very reasons, the United States resisted Latin American pressure to set up a special "bank" for regional use. Dubious loans and outright handouts, it was felt, should be labeled as such and not disguised as bank transactions. But resistance collapsed with the Suez crisis, which led the neo-liberals and ultimately even President Eisenhower to call for a regional development plan in the Middle East.

With this precedent and increased anti-Americanism in Latin America, the Inter-American bank was established in 1959. Its capital was 1 billion dollars, of which the United States put up $450 million. The Inter-American bank was billed as a painless way to help the Latin American countries; help themselves. But by 1963 it was begging for more money; the capital was doubled and the United States contributed another $412 million. More than half of the bank's capital is in "special operations" fund which is authorized to make soft or dubious loans on easy credit terms.

In 1960, at the instigation of American liberals, the World Bank set up its own Santa Claus agency, the International Development association. It was honored enough not to call it a bank. Loans are interest-free, except for a token service charge, and about a third of the money has been supplied by the American government.

Now comes the new Asian bank, which Mr. Johnson tells us is necessary to face the "threat of common disaster" in a shrinking globe. When the Eisenhower administration made the same plea for the Middle East in 1957, Mr. Johnson belittled the warning as a bunch of "generalities" with no "specific information." Today he is using the same excuse that communism justifies more thinly disguised handouts. Instead of applying military pressure against the source of the danger, he is dangling a new source of foreign aid over the heads of the Asians under the illusory

Live-Virus Vaccine Best For First Immunization

If your child has been immunized against measles, it is very important that you keep a record, not only of the fact that he was so treated but also of the type of vaccine used. If he was given the killed virus vaccine, his immunity may disappear after three or four years. Unfortunately, a booster with a live-virus vaccine would be very likely to cause a severe reaction — high fever and a very sore arm.

Authorities now conclude that the best plan is to use the live-virus vaccine on all children who have not previously been immunized against measles and to use the killed virus vaccine only on those who need a booster after immunization with this type of vaccine. The live-virus vaccine has the advantage of conferring a more-lasting immunity.

The disease usually starts with itching blebs, which may occur singly or in coalescing clusters. Once the fungus gains access to the deep layers of the skin, it is hard to eradicate, although keeping it under control may be fairly easy. The newer drugs (tolnate solution and acriscin ointment) may give a better chance for permanent cure than some of the older remedies.

Q — My sister says her baby was suffering from a lack of alcohol in his blood. Could this be true?

A — There are more than 30 different alcohols listed in my medical dictionary, but I know of none that are essential to a baby's blood.

Q — Our young son developed a lot of lumps. Examination of a biopsy specimen showed granuloma annulare. What causes this and what is the best treatment?

A — The cause of these self-limited benign tumors is unknown. Because it often clears up without any treatment, it is hard to evaluate the effect of whatever treatment is used. When the lumps do not show any sign of disappearing spontaneously, most authorities favor the use of irradiation with X rays or freezing with carbon dioxide snow.

Some months ago, the American Medical Association was hinting that it might strike in protest against Medicare. According to some AMA logicians, the more health care easily available, the more likelihood of an epidemic of imaginary illness.

If that is true, then the doctors should have gone on strike years ago as a public service to at least half of the nation's ill. And as for a strike by policemen, that would certainly seem at first glance to be a crippling blow against society. Traffic would be tied up. Crime would go unchecked. Streets and parks would be unsafe at night. But on second glance, what if the criminals went on strike instead? What would that do to those other pillars of society—show business, politics, night clubs, sociology students, lawyers, professional athletes, legislators and the police?

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

Every Silver Lining Has a Cloud

NEW YORK (NEA) — It is one of the basic laws of biology that the only time you really have to take a plane trip is during an airline strike.

But after waiting in line for two hours at the ticket counter, we were informed by an exhausted clerk that there were simply no seats available for today, tomorrow, or the day after.

So, we went by bus and train instead and were staggered to find that we got there anyway. It is a very strange feeling to wake up in the jet age and discover that you can do without the airplane.

It is not only strange. It is downright fatiguing to realize that there is nothing like a shutdown to measure the value of a machine. We have been tossing about "right after night wondering what other essentials are not necessary to keep life going or the wheels of civilization turning.

Now, this is not to say that what this country needs is more strikes to toughen the moral fiber or open the doors to reality.

Quite the contrary. It seems to us that labor and management ought to be more careful about invoking deadlocks before people begin to find out what essentials they can do without.

Some of the essentials people can do without are quite obvious, of course.

(That explains why the television and movie industries never have crippling strikes, and why the Internal Revenue Service and atomic bomb people do not have labor-management problems. It also explains why Frank Sinatra never has a shutdown.)

But once past these exquisites, it becomes very difficult to determine what strikes and lockouts society could not survive if it had to.

We have given this matter a great deal of thought, and find it almost impossible to get down to true essentials. Each time we think a disabling virus is isolated, it turns out to be the antitoxin for some other ailment.

Last January, for example, New York City's eight million commuters and residents survived an urban transit standstill. And true enough, it caused considerable chaos.

But if the strike had continued, it would have solved the problem of busing children to distant schools. It would have got business to decentralize. It would have moved workers closer to their jobs and made good neighbors of everybody.

Last autumn, the city had a brief taste of a teachers' strike. And true enough, if it had continued it would have created havoc in the republic by throwing children back to the care of their parents.

But on the other hand, fewer kiddies would have graduated from schools and the college admissions officer would not now be the high priest of the national culture.

Some months ago, the American Medical Association was hinting that it might strike in protest against Medicare. According to some AMA logicians, the more health care easily available, the more likelihood of an epidemic of imaginary illness.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

There's one day in the year when New Yorkers cannot walk or drive on what is usually one of the busiest streets in mid-Manhattan. The day is always a summer Sunday and the street is Rockefeller Plaza, a three-block thoroughfare that runs through the heart of Rockefeller Center from 48th to 51st Street. The one-day closing is done to preserve the Plaza's status as a private street, owned by Columbia University, which owns more than half the land occupied by Rockefeller Center's 17 buildings.

Today's smile: A husband asked his wife: "Did you see that young girl smile at me?" His wife answered: "That's nothing. The first time I saw you I laughed out loud."

A theatre season shouldn't be considered a failure if only one or two productions of lasting value are presented. The 1601-02 season in London was considered a flop because the only good play was "Hamlet." Besides Shakespeare, other famous Elizabethan playwrights who included Ben Jonson, Thomas Dekker and John Marston. No one remembers much $a bou their htplays, but it is only fair alry at that time and their plays were merely savage attacks on one another, hurriedly written. And, we might add — hurriedly forgotten, too.

Thoughts while shaving: Ever hear of John Sigmund? We'll, back in 1940 he was a 30-year-old butcher and one day he dived into the Mississippi River at St. Louis and swam 292 miles downstream to Carthursville, Missouri. It took him 69 hours to get there and secure for himself a measure of fame for the longest distance swim of all time. However, his endurance fell short of a legless swimmer names Charles Zibbelman, who swam around a Honolulu swimming pool for 168 consecutive hours the following year, 1941.

It costs an average family about $24,000 to raise a child to the age of 18. Americans must be getting bigger and taller than they were a century ago. Most of the bed manufacturers say they have increased the size of their beds to meet the needs of customers.

Years ago, Frank Buck (Bring 'Em Back Alive) told us the average human wouldn't have a chance of outrunning even the slowest of jungle beasts. He said an 8000-pound elephant can keep a steady speed of 20 mph, an awkward giraffe canters at about 30 mph, and even an ungainly rhino will charge its enemies at 40 mph. A University of California scientist says most people eat more insects, directly or indirectly, than they would ever suspect. He says most animals and fish, which are common human food sources, feed on insects, and a good many insects hidden in other foods are eaten inadvertently. Maybe he's right, but we don't like to think of it. . . . The Salem (Oregon) OREGON STATESMAN reported in a story: "Blank, seeded sixth in the tournament, was the only tanked player to see action in the men's singles." No doubt he won.

Job Corps Getting Same Reception As Roosevelt's CCC Camps

Editor's note: How is the Job Corps center near Astoria, Ore., doing? It has been criticized by Republicans, praised by Sargent Shriver. UPI conducted a nationwide survey, and here is the progress report.

By ISABELLE McCaig - United Press International - WASHINGTON (UPI) - The much-maligned Job Corps, a major arm of the war on poverty, has had its ups and downs in 18 months of existence and its "fair game" election year. But its average of successes is creditable.

Since the January day in 1965 when Kenneth Charles, an American Indian, became the first enrollee of an urban job corps center near Astoria, Ore., Of these, 3,500 are now working.

Charles, the first enrollee, now is a private first class in the Army, serving in Viet Nam. Many job corpsmen are now fighting the war. The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) points with pride to Charles and others like him.

Attacks Fellow Corpsman Then there is Paul Dennis Jones, a three-time loser on parole from California, who attacked a fellow corpsman with a knife at the Mountain Home Camp in Idaho, Nov. 15, 1965, for playing a radio in their dormitory.

According to Idaho Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard, Jones, the dormitory leader, "brutally beat Truley Tillman about the head and face."

"While sitting astride the prone body of Tillman, Jones produced a knife and slashed Tillman about the face and hands, and then plunged the knife into the abdomen of Tillman, inflicting a wound of approximately 2 1/2 inches in depth, Shepard's report said.

The incident became a celebrated one for the Republican poverty memo, a series of reports attacking abuses in the whole antipoverty program.

The minority members of the House Education and Labor Committee cited it and other incidents of violence as proof "the Job Corps is floundering."

The report added, "OEO has had ample opportunity to demonstrate its ability to administer a productive, worthwhile Job Corps...OEO has failed more noticeably in this area than in any other single antipoverty program."

At present there are 106 Job Corps centers in 39 states, including Hawaii and Puerto Rico, some just getting underway.

A UPI survey found adverse reaction in about one-third of the communities involved though in many cases alarm at a few incidents had simmered down and the camps were being accepted - or ignored.

Sargent Shriver, director of the OEO, issued a report listing praise of the Job Corps centers from communities in 32 states. Among the missing were Massachusetts, Florida and Idaho where troubles have gained wide publicity.

Typical of the comments was one from Mayor Thomas H. Hannan of Winfield, N.J., who said; "I have first hand knowledge of the tremendous accomplishments of the Job Corps (Camp Kilmer) has made with the vast majority of corpsmen and I will not be swayed by the mistakes of a few."

CHATHAM, England (UPI) - James Atkins late one night saw someone coming through a broken window in his kitchen. He screamed, "it's a burglar," and punched his wife in the mouth.

Wednesday he was found guilty of assaulting his wife when a court decided he knew "perfectly well it was your wife."

Washington (UPI) - The $2 bill will soon be going the way of the nickel beer.

The Treasury said Wednesday that the two-spot, which bears a picture of Thomas Jefferson, is just not popular enough to keep printing. As of June 30, there were about 69 million $2 bills outstanding, most of them in bank vaults or being kept out of circulation as souvenirs.
