Viet Cong Terrorists Shell Center of Saigon

AN AMERICAN Marine rushes forward with a rocket round to be launched against a North Vietnamese bunker located just south of the demilitarized zone in Viet Nam. Action took place during a recent operation to secure positions near the zone.

Explosions Hit Near Top Officials' Stand

SAIGON (UPI) — Viet Cong terrorists believed guided by a Communist fifth column in Saigon shelled the center of the city for the first time today in an apparent effort to disrupt the national holiday and wipe out the U.S. and Vietnamese high commands.

Thirteen persons were killed, including an American officer, and 37 others wounded, including five Americans—three servicemen and two civilians. The Viet Cong also mined a U.S. Navy minesweeper 11 miles from Saigon in the Saigon River, killing or wounding the six men aboard.

Key Club to Give Adult Leadership Award Saturday

Saturday, at its eighth annual banquet, Pampa High School Key Club members will honor the case as a "major" espionage incident.

The award is given annually to a person in Pampa, who has done outstanding work with youth in the community.

Honorees, during the past eight years, have been Cameron Marsh, Pampa High School principal; Melvin Mann, formerly a local businessman; Ruby Capps, high school counselor; Elaine Ledbetter, high school chemistry and science instructor; Warren Hassie, civic leader; L. J. Edmundson, formerly superintendent of schools and M. K. Brown, Panhandle pioneer and philanthropist.

The banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in Pampa High School cafeteria, according to Mike Carr, Key Club president.

Also to be recognized during the banquet are presidents of high school groups, members of the Top O' Texas and Downtown Kiwanis, sponsors of the Key Club.

Dr. Sheppard Jury Visits Death Site

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The jury that will determine the future of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard begins its work today with a glimpse of the past—a visit to the home where Sheppard's first wife was found bludgeoned to death on July 4, 1954.

Sheppard, who wept when he visited the Bay Village home with a jury 12 years ago, will accompany the next panel of seven men and five women on the customary "view of the premises" which precedes opening statements and testimony in his second trial.

The premises, a two-story frame home on a high bank overlooking Lake Erie, is now owned by Cleveland attorney John B. Hull. It was home to the Sheppards until the brain surgeon's present 31-year-old wife, Marilyn, was slain.

The man-woman ratio of the new and former juries is the same. This time "Dr. Sam" is not handcuffed to a guard. He is free in $10,000 bond. It is the jury that is in protective custody. It will be locked up—sequestered—is the word the courtiers use—in a hotel each night after court adjourns.

That is a step unique in the jurisdiction of this court. When the U.S. Supreme Court threw out Dr. Sheppard's 1954 murder conviction last June, it suggested that sequestration of the jury in the first trial could have shielded a publicity which made a fair trial impossible.

Johnson Speaks Near Red Korea

SEOUL (UPI) — President Johnson visited a Communist "Red" Korea today and told them the United States was stopping aggression in Viet Nam and might have to stop it elsewhere in Asia because "we would rather do it right there than at Honolulu."

The President, in the last full day of his 30,000-mile Asian tour, met with seven Communist leaders over the roiling Korean Peninsula, meeting from a U.S. Army mess hall to a dusty made a grave speech about responsibility to combat suppression of freedom wherever it occurs.

The President departs for home Wednesday by way of Alaska. Johnson lunched in a quonset hut mess with men of the U.S. 11th Engineer Battalion, one of the American combat units near the demilitarized zone separating South Korea from Communist territory to the north. It was there that Johnson

MAY FILE DEMANDS

The Pampa City Commission may get some demands from the employees in the public works department at its meeting next Tuesday, it was learned today by The Daily News.

It was understood an organizer from the Teamsters' Union has been working quietly among city employees and has signed up more than 50 per cent of workers in the street, parks, water, sewer and warehouse departments.

Information gained today indicated an Amarillo attorney, representing the union, may appear before the commission at its regular meeting Tuesday.

The matter was not yet a certainty. Exactly what the union representatives of the employees, already said to be signed up, would ask the commission, was not learned.

Reportedly they plan to seek more pay and file among their grievances a charge that there is a "lack of communications" between the workers and top city management.

City Manager Jim White said today he had not been informed.

made a grave speech about responsibility to combat suppression of freedom wherever it occurs.

"We had better follow the rule we established in Europe when we went there, that no dictator—just because he has power, just because he has might—can snuff out freedom and liberty," the President told the officers and men.

"We had to show that it could not be done in Korea and we may have to show it cannot be done in other areas of the Pacific.

"We're showing right now that it can't be done in Viet Nam. Four hundred thousand of our young manhood, they're out there. We would rather do it out there than at Honolulu."

Accompanied by South Korean President Park Chung Hee, Johnson traveled by every available means of transportation—limousine, train, helicopter and jeep, discussing everything that crossed his mind and stood against dictatorship to the billing procedures of an electric co-op.

Clad in a blue suit and wearing sunglasses, the President stood behind mortars, machine guns and bazookas questioning Republic of Korea officers guarding the 2.2-mile wide no man's zone stretching 120 miles across the peninsula.

When he visited Camp Stanley where some of the 50,000 U.S. fighting men stationed in Korea also stand guard.

At one point he presented a telegram sent to a remote country village where the farmers' cooperative in turn named a steep rise of land "Johnson Hill."

The President is scheduled to address the South Korean National Assembly Wednesday morning and then leave at 9 p.m. (Tuesday EST) for Washington.

Police, firemen and bus drivers were involved in the Dallas case. They were seeking more pay and other benefits.

When the city declined to take action, Bickley stated, bus drivers called a strike.

He said the strike lasted only (See CITY, Page 3)

Busy Day On Tap for Political And Water-Minded Area Citizens

A political coup? That's what some of the politicians in the area were charging the Democrats with due to the scheduling of the public dedication of Sanford Dam and Meredith Reservoir this afternoon and a political rally and barbecue tonight in Amarillo.

What it may, it will be a day crammed with multiple events.

The Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall returned to the Panhandle today to give the dedication address at the dam site, where four years ago he set off the charge of dynamite in ground-sinking ceremonies.

His address is slated for 3:30 p.m. at the dam site near Sanford.

Following dedication ceremonies this afternoon, Texas Governor John Connally is expected to the pep talk at the political rally at 7 p.m. in the Exhibit Building at the Tri-State Fairgrounds.

Other dignitaries expected at both events are U.S. Representative Walter Rogers, who will retire at the end of his current term, Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock and Floyd E. Dougan, commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation.

Mrs. A. A. Meredith, widow of the man who first conceived the dam and lake, unveiled dedication plaques along with Udall and Rogers, who spearheaded legislation creating the project.

Participating in the political rally tonight will be Joe Miller, former Amarillo district attorney who seeks election as U.S. representative from the 18th Congressional District and Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr, who is running for U.S. senator.

The Rev. J. W. Duke, pastor of the First Christian Church, Pampa, gave the invocation preceding dedication of the dam.

A local delegation list was not complete at noon today but Pampa was represented by city and chamber of commerce officials. The city was represented by Mayor Jim White and city commissioners.

Election Poll Shows GOP Gains Strength

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Demos- Washington Post Co., said crats today took heart from a nationwide poll showing they have gained ground in hot races for House seats—but their enthusiasm was dampened by reports of dwindling strength elsewhere.

The Louis Harris poll showed Republicans were picking up strength in 35 gubernatorial races in which 20 Democrats are incumbents. The poll showed no change in voter preference in the 35 senatorial races where the Democrats have a slight edge.

New Attorney For Vessels Up To Family

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich said in Pampa yesterday he did not plan to appoint an attorney to file on the motion of appeal for a new trial for Thomas Ray Vessels, convicted rapist.

At the conclusion of the week-long trial last Saturday, court-imposed attorney James H. Bowers entered a verbal notice of appeal and an appeal on error.

"I don't plan to burden the taxpayers further with this case, and I am not going to impose upon Bowers any longer. They (the family of Vessels) really gave him a rough time," Goodrich said.

Goodrich said also that the court is concerned if the case is pursued on appeal, the family would have to engage its own lawyer.

Goodrich said also that the date for convening court to set a date for sentencing would not be this week. According to the judge, the court must allow time for the written appeal to be made for a new trial. The appeal must be made within 10 days after conclusion of the first trial.

Snow Suddenly Sweeps Across Texas Panhandle

That really was snow you saw this morning but if you blinked your eyes you may have missed it. A brief snow, that lasted only a couple of minutes dampened sidewalks early today. At noon it picked up again and old timers said they could not remember snow in the Panhandle as early as Nov. 1.

But weather forecasters blew any chances of any more moisture for a couple of days at least.

The forecast calls for fair weather through Thursday with temperatures to dip to the middle 20s tonight and highs Wednesday in the near 60s.

Winds tonight and Wednesday will be from the southeast at 10-20 miles per hour.

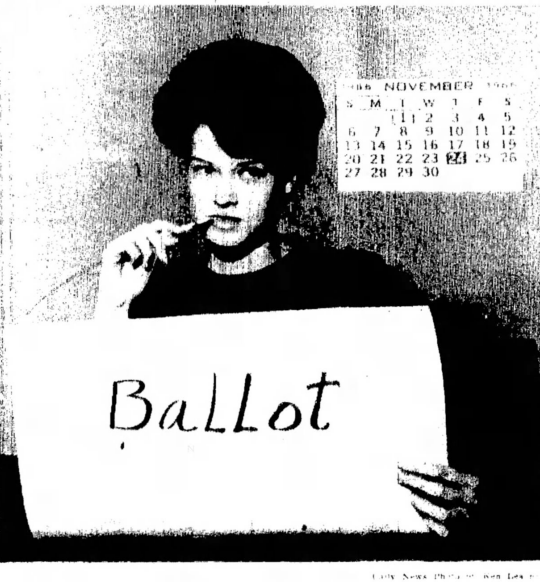

Pampa recorded an official low of 31 degrees overnight and the high Monday was 66.

At noon today the high had reached 42.

Winds that kicked dust 30,000 feet in the sky and gusted to nearly 50 miles an hour whipped much of West Texas Monday night, bringing the first snow of the season.

Walter Rogers Reports: 'Brain Drain' Problem Has No Easy Answers

There is no easy answer to the "brain drain" problem — the migration to the United States from underdeveloped countries of highly skilled scientists and medical doctors and technicians of every kind. These men and women are desperately needed in their own countries, but they are attracted to positions in the United States because pay levels and opportunities are so much greater.

We welcome the skills these newcomers bring. We accept them, however, at a time when they are badly needed at home. The United States and other developed countries attempt through a variety of government and private programs to narrow the gap between the "haves" and "have-nots" of the world, but the gap between rich and poor countries is being widened by the loss of talented men and women from the countries that can least afford to lose them.

The situation affecting the medical profession points up the degree to which this is happening. It is estimated that 10,000 of the 41,100 residents and interns serving in U.S. hospitals are graduates of foreign medical schools, more than 7,500 of these from "developing" countries. It is estimated that as many as one-fourth of their number will either stay or eventually return to the United States. But without these foreign doctors now on our hospital staffs, many U.S. hospitals would be forced to curtail sharply the services they can now provide their patients. We now need them badly; that we do need them points up the pressing requirement to expand our facilities for medical education so that we can train more American doctors. It is estimated that 18 percent of the annual additions to the ranks of the U.S. medical profession come from immigration of graduates of foreign medical schools. To train Americans of a number equal to the 1,200 doctors coming to the U.S. each year through immigration we would need twelve new medical schools.

The "brain drain" problem goes beyond medicine. Between 1956 and 1963, nearly 3,000 scientists and engineers from South America and more than 2,000 from Asia moved to the United States. A Labor Department estimate is that over the next decade, one of every 11 professional workers in the United States will be an immigrant. The brain drain is heavy among foreign students who come to American universities for graduate study. One university president said 90 percent of these students here will never return home.

It is obvious that a nation must have brain and brawn as well as money in order to develop its potential. In the early days of our own history, many American doctors were trained abroad and then returned to the United States to advance the science of medicine in their homeland. We need to encourage higher standards of medicine in the world and to help train the specialists in medicine and other technical fields who can help their own countries toward a brighter future. To do so will depend on progress in underdeveloped countries, progress at a pace to satisfy the aspirations of their populations.

I opposed enactment last year of a new immigration law which ended the national origins quota system but which substituted in its place a new emphasis on the skills of the immigrant, regardless of his national origin. More than 32 times as many technical people from India emigrated to the United States in the first year of the new system as had come to America in the last year of the old. Perhaps we have benefited; certainly India has been hurt by this drain on her reservoir of talent. In the end, we may have acted very unwisely and contrary to our own interests in promoting further "brain drain."

Killer's Third Victim Dies

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — A killer's third victim died Halloween night in a city where terror made armed bastions of many homes, and police warned that admitting a "trick or treat" could mean death.

Attractive Mrs. Helen Sims, 37, died without retaining consciousness or giving police any clue to the identity of the sex pervert or psychopath who shot her, her husband and her youngest daughter 11 days ago.

Mrs. Sims, shot twice in the head and once in the leg with a .38 caliber pistol, had been kept alive with a mechanical respirator. Doctors said she had no chance of survival.

New Legislative Program Under Advisement At Teachers' Meet

Texas teachers will convene in Austin the latter part of this week to consider adoption of a new legislative program during the 88th annual convention of the Texas State Teachers' Association.

The convention opens at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and closes Saturday afternoon.

Dr. John D. Damron, superintendent of schools, who serves on the executive committee of TSTA, plans to attend.

Local teachers, representing Pampa Classroom Teachers Association, planning to attend are Frank D. Anderson, president of PCTA and sixth grade instructor at Woodrow Wilson School; his wife, Donna, third grade teacher at Travis Elementary School; Mrs. Romona Gruben, seventh grade teacher at Pampa Junior High School; Wendell Watson, member of the state legislative commission and high school science teacher.

Also, Jerrel Julian of LeFlore, superintendent of schools, and Carl Dyer, principal of elementary schools at McLean.

The important conclave of some 8,000 educators representing every segment of the teaching profession, from classroom teachers to college deans, will be held in Austin's Municipal Auditorium.

Several "name" speakers will address the convention before the big meeting climaxes Saturday morning with the convening of TSTA's 1100-member House of Delegates.

The delegate body will debate and reach final consensus on TSTA's 1967 legislative program.

The Saturday morning session follows a Friday night speech by Gov. John Connally. The governor's office has given no indication of what he will discuss in his speech.

Speakers for the convention, in addition to the governor, are Dr. Carroll V. Newsum, vice president, education, Radio Corporation of America; Dr. Lrvamae Applegate, president of National Education Association, and Loyd L. Turner, member of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education and president of the Fort Worth Board of Education.

TSTA President Harriet Griffin will preside at the convention sessions. Also taking part will be Sam M. Anderson of Big Spring, TSTA vice president and next year's president.

The Saturday morning session will see announcement of the winner in a two-way race for new TSTA vice president. Contestants are Mrs. Jewell Harris of Abilene and Miss Antoinette Miller of Houston, both classroom teachers.

The House of Delegates Saturday morning will deal with more than just a legislative program but this aspect is expected to draw major attention.

Final form of a proposed teacher pay raise bill will be decided. Also up for consideration are state supported sick leave, changes in the Texas Teacher Retirement System and other items of interest.

Goblins One-Day Ahead of Schedule Already Get Revenge With Tricks

Pampa's ghosts and goblins, most of them of the school-age variety, were out in full force Monday night celebrating Halloween.

Damage ranged from light to heavy with a south-side show-room window at Culberson Stowers Chevrolet bearing the brunt of the damage.

For the second year in a row a rock was thrown through the window causing an estimated $250 worth of damage.

Windows were broken at the W. H. Fuller, 1727 Evergreen and George McReams, 637 N. Dwight, residences.

At the Fuller residence police said it appeared someone used an iron bar to break out a storm door window. Damage was estimated at $20. An apple was thrown through a window at the McReams home and damage was also estimated at $20.

All street lights between Maple and Crawford, and Gray and Barratt streets were broken out but no damage estimate was given.

Cabot Acquires W. Va. Site for New Carbon Plant

Louis W. Cabot, president of Cabot Corp., the world's largest manufacturer of carbon black, with a plant at Pampa, announced today in Boston the acquisition of a 63-acre plant site in Grant District, Pleasants County, W. Va., for the construction of its previously reported 90 million pounds per year carbon black plant. The location is approximately 12 miles northeast of Parkersburg, on the south bank of the Ohio River.

Engineering of the plant is in progress and ground breaking will commence later this month. When completed, the plant will employ nearly one hundred persons.

The Cabot Corp. has operated continuously in West Virginia since 1887. The founder of the company, Godfrey L. Cabot, built his first carbon black plant in 1889 in Grantsville.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The other morning on my way to work I stopped by the airport and spent a few minutes interviewing passengers.

I wanted to get their reaction to the dispute between the airlines and Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich.

Mrs. Griffiths has challenged the requirement that stewardesses must be "young, attractive and single." It is her contention that homely old married stewardesses could do the job just as well.

She said the emphasis airlines put on sex appeal is "an insult to every man who ever rode a plane." And besides, she said, a stewardess wouldn't be less attractive for getting married.

First Hand Report
I am pleased to report that if the passengers I interviewed are typical, Mrs. Griffiths report is absolutely right.

The first man I spoke to had just landed on the shuttle plane from New York.

"Pardon me, sir. Would you mind telling me whether the stewardesses on your plane were young, attractive and single?"

"Oh, yes. Yes indeed. Very much so."

"And did you feel insulted?"

"I have never been so insulted in my life."

"You resented the airlines emphasis on sex appeal, is that it?"

"No. I was insulted by a stewardess. When I asked her for a date she said she only went out with men who were young, attractive and single."

The next passenger I approached had flown in from Chicago.

Biased Answer
"Sir, do you think stewardesses would be less attractive after she is married. No married man would give a single girl a second glance."

"Why are you talking so loudly?"

"That's my wife standing over there."

My next talk was with a passenger waiting to board a plane for Atlanta.

"Sir, does the fact that airlines employ stewardesses who are young, attractive and single make you enjoy flying more than you would otherwise?"

"Not in the least. I never pay any attention to what the stewardesses look like."

"Are you travelling with your wife, too?"

"No. I'm travelling with my seeing-eye dog."

RELIGIOUS DANCER
AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Sheree Ann Martin, 19, a go-go dancer, was sentenced to six months in jail for stealing a crucifix from a Roman Catholic Hospital. She told the judge, "I took it because I needed some way to feel more religious."

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—ABC-TV, which in recent years has tried to compensate for its lack of stars by capitalizing on "fad" program hits this season is watching another flash-in-the-pan, "Batman," plummet in the ratings.

It's the price that one pays, of course, for riding a fad—since they all have predictable ends. Another recent ABC-TV series, "Shindig," one of those retarded dance shows, likewise had quick, hot success followed by quick, cold failure followed by cancellation.

On the other hand, the network may feel it gets value received from these quickies since they can carry a rating and pull their share at least for a while, which most shows can't. In addition, since ABC-TV is so big with the young adient, it naturally is totally at the mercy of the whims of the quick-changing minds of youths.

On the other hand, up until now the network hasn't had much choice to do anything else since it simply doesn't have the big star power.

The slide of "Batman" is documented by the last two major national ratings. And just we forget, "Batman" just arrived early this year, and was right up there near the top statistically. It was widely predicted, of course that the show was just a fluke, backed by great publicity and promotion, and would soon nose-dive.

Red China Says It Will Push Purge

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China, in a double-barrelled warning to its enemies at home and abroad, said today it would press the current internal purge and carry on the struggle against the United States and Russia "to the very end."

Peking Radio, in a broadcast heard here, said Yao Wen-Yuen, an official in Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution committee and editor of the Shanghai "Kuangming Daily," made the warnings at a Peking mass rally Monday night.

The broadcast said more than 100,000 persons attended the rally held in commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the death of Chinese writer Lu Hsiang-shan. Peking Radio broadcast Yao's lengthy speech early today.

Yao was quoted as saying that the current purge, aimed at eliminating all Western influences in China and internal opposition to Mao's regime, will not stop "half way."

At the same time, he promised that the "struggle against the imperialists, headed by the United States, and modern revisionists, headed by the Soviet Union, will be carried on to the very end." He accused Russia of abandoning the teachings of Lenin, and "honey-mooning with U.S. imperialism."

Prices Charges People Gradually Losing Income

CHILDRESS - The American people are "losing ground in the struggle between income and outgo," congressional candidate Bob Price said Monday night at a courthouse meeting in Childress.

"Rising prices, accelerated tax collections, artificial money programs, and terrible waste in government eat up our income before it gets to the bank," Price said.

This Week In Business

NEW YORK (UPI) - The capital shortage, now becoming universal, began this week to take first place on the business news horizon.

Chairman George Champion of New York's huge Chase Manhattan Bank predicted in an address in London Friday that the shortage of money for industrial investment will continue through much of the next decade.

LITERARY DISPUTE - London (UPI) - For seven out of 10 British married couples, it seems the question of reading in bed causes arguments.

Excalibur SS Proves To Be A Conversation-Piece Car

By BOB COCHNAR and DAVE BURGIN
NEW YORK (NEA) - We were zipping along the New York State Thruway, a hair within the speed limit, when two motorcycle cops appeared and flagged us to the shoulder.

"O.K., bud, what is it?" We were, of course, relieved since it was the 47th time the

"It's the most beautiful car I've ever seen" . . . "Where can I get one?" . . . "Is it real?" . . . "are you important?" . . . "Wow!" . . . "You must get a lot of questions . . ."

For years, Detroit has been grinding out sleek, super-sophisticated dreamboats which are, by any standards, superior machines to those hand-crafted by the dedicated workmen of the 20s and 30s.

Wheeling it question had been asked that day. "It's an Excalibur SS," we said. "Made in Wisconsin by Brooks Stephens." It's a reproduction of the 1927 Mercedes SSK, Chevy Corvette 327-cubic inch engine. Costs about $11,995. And, yeah, it can hit 160 m.p.h.

And so it went during the weekend we had this fantastic automobile on the road. Even in blase New York, where pedestrians can pass a five-alarm fire without a second look, the car drew circles of fascinated people. Some of the comments:

er automobile. Its style is that of the classic era, in this case the Mercedes-Benz SSK of 1927-30.

The car is a real hybrid, with gance and beauty that will outlive the forced obsolescence of style of other cars built today. Its performance, too, can be matched by few cars. High power-to-weight ratio assures breathtaking acceleration. And so on.

There are three basic models, the SSK, replica of the Mercedes two-seater, the SS phaeton, a four-seater with doors, full fenders and running boards, and the SS roadster. Prices start at $7,750 - not bad for an incredible conversation piece.

SPINOFFS: When Chrysler put 50 g's turbine-powered Plymouths on the road several years ago, several biggies in autodom foresaw the definite possibility that the old internal combustion engine was headed for the junkyard.

NON-FICTION - "The Forge of His Experience" - James T. Flexner. Forty-three years of Washington's life are covered in this book, the first in a series of three, planned to carry Washington through the Revolutionary War and on to the end of his life.

"Kennedy" - Theodore Sorensen: A biography of the late President written as only Sorensen could write it: for he knew Kennedy the man, the Senator, the candidate and the President, as no other associate did, for eleven years.

"Bret Harte" - Richard O'Connor: An uncritical sensitive biography of the American writer who was at once both famous and infamous. Mr. O'Connor does not make any great claims for Bret Harte either as a man or as an author, but he does successfully humanize him in this delightful biography.

Foreign Commentary

In the United Nations, the delegate of the South African republic accused other Africans of "emotionalism" and he couldn't have been more right.

Southwest Africa, a former German protectorate that is governed under a 1920 mandate from the old League of Nations. They therefore sought a tough resolution that would declare the mandate terminated and would order a U.N. administration to take over pending South Africa's independence.

The United States has joined most other nations of the world in condemning it, the United States more than some others because it is richer and can afford it.

But into it also comes the question of practicality as opposed to emotionalism. In this particular case, the black Africans backed by the so-called Afro-Asian bloc asked the UN General Assembly to declare that South Africa had failed in its obligations to

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

In observance of National Book Week, being observed across the Nation, Pampa High School librarian, Mrs. Michael Wilson, submits the following list of new books now available to students.

FICTION
"Wyatt's Hurricane" - Desmond Bagley: A new novel of suspense, by the author of "High Citadel," which takes place on a lush Caribbean island where meteorologist David Wyatt encounters unforeseeable forces that make Mabel his personal hurricane.

"Down Where the Moon is Small" - Richard Lewellyn: Is the concluding story of the trilogy about a Welsh mining family that began with "How Green Was My Valley." The setting for this one is high up in the untamed territory of the Andes.

"The Best is Yet To Be" - Bentz Plageman: A novel that reveals what happens when children are grown up and gone, and the parents are free - or at least they think they are. Another work of wit, wisdom, affection and good humor by the author of "This is Goggle and Father to the Man."

"Hegerly, M.D." - Elizabeth Seifert: A warm and sensitive love story of the making of a marriage, set against the absorbing account of a doctor facing the challenge of a rapidly-changing world.

"The Left Seat" - Robert J. Serling: A novel about an airline pilot - and the ultimate test of his courage and conscience. A revealing book, sharing with the readers the experiences of the professional pilot - the jokes, the superstitions, the tensions of the men and women who live in the glamorous but sometimes grim world of flight.

"George Washington" - The Forge of His Experience" - James T. Flexner: Forty-three years of Washington's life are covered in this book, the first in a series of three, planned to carry Washington through the Revolutionary War and on to the end of his life.

"Kennedy" - Theodore Sorensen: A biography of the late President written as only Sorensen could write it: for he knew Kennedy the man, the Senator, the candidate and the President, as no other associate did, for eleven years.

"Hirohito, Emperor of Japan" - Leonard Mosley: An intimate biography of the Japanese ruler, this book answers many provocative questions, and clearly defines the role of Hirohito in World War II. It is also a revealing study of the Japanese people before, during and after the war.

Council Changes Halloween

ANTIOCH, Ill. (UPI) - Lawrence Konen, an 18-year veteran of the Navy, was all primed to take his children out for tricks or treats Monday night.

the radioman assigned to the USS Dominant. "Maybe we should change Christmas to the 31st of January, too." Konen said neighbors and a man on the street told him if he was from Antioch he couldn't trick or treat Monday.

"I came home to take my children out, and I found out the mayor and city council had the audacity to change the night of Halloween to last night," Konen said.

Mayor Raymond Toft of Antioch explained: "The people from UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) asked if they could collect money in the village Sunday night."

59TH YEAR

Dear Abby....

Poor Kid Can Take Care of Himself

DEAR ABBY: Will you please give me your opinion of a 21-year-old girl who drives 60 miles to see a boy instead of waiting for him to go to see her? She is supposed to be a smart girl, and I understand she holds a good job. She lives 60 miles from here, and she's in town every time he turns around. The boy is my son.

He is 25, and I can't see what he sees in her. She is loud and forward and he is quiet and shy. I am so afraid that poor kid will get talked into marrying her I don't know where to turn. He has his service behind him so there is nothing stopping him. What should a mother do?

DEAR WORRIED: Nothing. And don't waste your sympathy on a poor 26-year-old kid who has a girl dragging her coals to Newcastle. Maybe he likes it that way.

DEAR ABBY: I know you must get billions of letters every day so my letter will probably go unread and unanswered. It is really important though, as I know lots of teenage girls my age with this problem, and it might even help some of the boys who read it, too.

Whenever I walk down the street, boys in cars stop and honk etc. Some of them are very nice and quite cute, but if a girl stops and talks to them, or goes for a ride with them, she gains a reputation as a pick-up.

On the other hand if she doesn't stop the boys consider her a stuck-up snob. Which would be better, to stop and be sociable or to act like a snob?

SOCIABLE PICK-UP: One of the first things a mother teaches a little girl who is old enough to walk down the street alone is "Don't talk to strangers, or ever get into a car with one!" Whether the girl is 6 or 16, the advice is still good. To ignore invitations from stran-

Two Designing French Women

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PARIS (NEA) — In a tiny Paris hall room two attractive girls are gaining a reputation as topnotch jewelry designers. For two of Jacqueline Desfray and Nicole Duval's designs have won recognition for France in receiving the yearly Diamonds-International Awards for 1966.

Neither of the girls will be able to come to New York to receive the awards. They can't afford to. All they hope is that recognition of their talent will bring in a lot of orders.

Their winning designs were selected from among 1,495 others representing all five continents. And one member of the award jury was Pierre Cardin. The prize-winning pieces will be exhibited at the Institute of Public Education in New York and will later be shown in Paris and London.

Jacqueline and Nicole, who are in their early 30s, set out on their own to design jewelry about two years ago. After completing their studies at the School of Applied Arts and attending night classes at an art school, they took jobs with an established jeweler who executes most of the fabulous showpieces for the plush salons in the Rue de la Paix and Place Vendome.

"Here we stayed for eight years, then decided it was time to strike out on our own," explained Nicole. "We thought it was necessary to get away from conventional ideas in jewelry just as the avant-garde dress designers have been doing in fashion." They rented a tiny cubbyhole in the heart of the diamond-merchants' district with just room for a desk, worktable and filing cabinet. And they went to work.

"We work absolutely as a team," said Jacqueline. "First we make countless sketches arg then, when we agree on a certain design, we go on to its construction. Naturally, we have to work with the least expensive materials — pebbles, wax, putty, aluminum foil and beads, all imitating the precious stones and gold settings in which the designs will eventually be produced."

Once their model is finished and sold, they proceed to do a precise blueprint so that all the technician has to do is to follow their indications without having to calculate the number and carats of diamonds and other stones "necessary to make the

Fourth P-TA Study Course Is Slated Thursday

The fourth session of the P-TA Study Course will meet from 9 to 11 a.m. Thursday in Travis Elementary School Auditorium. Theme for this session will be "New Resources for Better Learning."

First speaker will be Mrs. Barbara Cockrell, librarian of Lovett Memorial Library, who will stress the importance of proper use of library facilities.

Mrs. Charles Ellis, local speech therapist, will explain the speech therapy program in the Pampa schools.

Mrs. Joe Duncan, teacher at Travis, will discuss the remedial reading program.

Following the coffee break, Clinton Forbes, instructor of Distributive Education, will speak on the D.E. program in Pampa High School.

A nursery will be provided for pre-school children in the school cafeteria. Mrs. C. L. Lancaster is study course chairman for Travis P-TA.

Neither of the girls dreams of a plush establishment of their own. They prefer to go on producing novel ideas and letting other people execute them. But with luck, they may soon get out of the little hall room.

Officers of the coming year were elected by Pampa African Violet Society when it met recently in the home of Mrs. J. B. Carlson.

Mrs. Norman Walberg conducted the business session in the absence of Mrs. Dan Glaxner, president.

Elected as officers were Mrs. Charles Glison, president; Mrs. Norman Walberg, vice president; Mrs. Lee Moore, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Evan Jones, librarian; and Mrs. W. A. Greene, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Carlson presented a program of colored slides during the program hour. The slides, entitled "National African Violet Society - New Varieties," were taken in seven greenhouses that are well known for raising African violets including Grower and Hybridizers, Fishers, Champions, Granger, Lyndon Lyon, Timari, Madison and Richter. Slides were also shown of the African Violet Show held locally and of African violets raised by Pampa growers.

Members present were Mrs. Lee Moore, Evan Jones, Marion Roberts, Holly Gray, Charles Glison, R. F. Dirksen, Norman Walberg and J. E. Carlson. Mrs. Lee Moore will be hostess for the next meeting of the group.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

Good for a smile; it's beginning to look like those who maintain that the world owes them a living are going to win. Maj. Jack Bailey of Bethlehem, Penn., flew to Amarillo Saturday. Maj. Bailey and son Don, who lives in Amarillo and is a student at WTSU at Canyon, came to Pampa for a short visit with Maj. Bailey's mother, Mrs. Elma Bailey, and sister, Mrs. Marvin Bowman and family. Maj. Bailey is a pilot for the U.S. AF Reserve. He grew up here and graduated from the Pampa High School before joining the armed services and became a pilot in World War II.

Mrs. Katie Vincent went to Lubbock last week where she visited a niece, Mrs. C. T. Boone and family, and a nephew, Scott Vincent.

Reported ill this week is Mrs. E. B. Smith in the Worley Hospital, and M. L. Sutton in the Highland General Hospital. Uncle Billy Frost is still confined in Highland General Hospital, and we were glad to hear that he is now able to be up in a wheelchair at times.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moseley spent Sunday and Monday in Amarillo where they visited a daughter, Mrs. Cleo Vaughn and family, and a brother of Mrs. Moseley's, O. M. Pruett, who moved to Portales, N.M., the next day.

El Progreso Club was hostess group. Serving homemade cake and coffee during the refreshment hour were Mmes. Kermit Lawson, Tom Perkins, D. V. Burton, John Gill and Jess Clay.

Door prizes went to Mrs. Bedell and Mr. Grey.

Mrs. C. G. Miller was elected to assist Mrs. J. C. Moseley in taking care of and dispersing the free will fund for cards and flowers for the sick and bereaved members.

Gray Ladies serving with transportation were Mmes. Jess Hatcher, A. D. Hills, Augusta Yealy and Chris Byerly.

Mrs. Tom Perkins furnished the lovely table centerpiece of red and yellow mums.

The next meeting on Nov. 3 will be the monthly birthday meeting hosted by the Altrusa Club. All having birthdays in November will be honored.

Members present were Mmes. Lee Moore, Evan Jones, Marion Roberts, Holly Gray, Charles Glison, R. F. Dirksen, Norman Walberg and J. E. Carlson. Mrs. Lee Moore will be hostess for the next meeting of the group.

Luncheon and Social Is Enjoyed By Highland Baptist Esther. SS Class

Esther Sunday School Class of the Highland Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. W. M. Stein, 1704 Aleock, for their regular monthly social and luncheon.

Following the meal, the business session and election of officers was held. Opening with prayer was Mrs. George Moore followed by the reading of the minutes. First on the agenda of business was the selection of class flower, color, song, motto, and scripture, to be used in the class year book.

Officers elected to serve for the new year were president, Mrs. Roy Harper; secretary, Mrs. George Moore; social chairman, Mrs. W. M. Stein; assistant teacher, Mrs. DeLoris Thomas, group leader 1, Mrs. T. W. Hale; and group leader 2, Mrs. M. B. Parker. Groups were chosen for both leaders. Teacher of the class is Mrs. Morris Belote.

It was decided that $1 gifts would be given to each member having a birthday throughout the year, from the class treasury.

Following the business session, Mr. Roy Harper, a guest

'Shrubs Suitable for Our Area' Is Program Topic for Garden Club

Mrs. Holly Gray discussed the program by discussing the flowering shrubs and suggesting the types most suitable for the Panhandle. Mrs. Owen Gee presented "Timely Tips for Horticulture."

Mrs. Melvin Stephens presided at the business session at which final plans were made for the Placement Flower Show.

Twenty-three members were present at the meeting in the home of Mrs. A. H. Kouri.

Since most of the soils in West Texas are more less alkaline, many acid-loving plants cannot grow well without acidifying the soil regularly. The most resistant to our soil conditions are flowering almond, Russian Olive, Honeysuckle, Lilacs, Briar Roses as well as Siberian Elm, Red Oak, Spruces and Silver Cedars.

The most desirable shrubs are evergreen, especially if they have attractive flowers, fruit or seasonal changes in foliage color. Shrubs do not require as much water as most plants nor do they need much fertilizer. Several kinds of shrubs may be blended together and can be massed for varied color foliage. The speaker continued by urging not to overuse shrubs which will cause a cluttered look and to plant foundation shrubs at least six inches beyond the drip line." She concluded by stressing the importance of winter watering of all evergreen shrubs.

BASIC TRAINING

Today's newspaperboys—tomorrow's leaders. Statistically, that's how it stacks up. In view of this, your newspaperboy is on the first chapter of what will probably be a success story. Not that he's destined for the Hall of Fame—but he might be. For example, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover, Eddie Rickenbacker, Thomas Edison, Joe DiMaggio, Walt Disney, and Bob Hope all started as newspaperboys. Newspaper route experience helps mold those special character ingredients so necessary for success in any field: self discipline, punctuality, getting along with people, responsibility. And all the hundred and one other character-makers that are built into the management of a newspaper route. The newspaperboy is skillfully guided by men trained and experienced to bring out his talents. This combination could well be the most important training in his life. In the long range picture, the money he earns on his route almost seems like a fringe benefit. Although only one boy in ten ever gets a crack at a newspaper route, our Circulation Department people are always glad to talk it over with youngsters and parents. If you have a son or know a boy who might profit from newspaperboy experience, we'll be happy to hear from you.

Wesley in Training

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Seaman Recruit Wesley J. Tooty, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tooty of 1112 Neel Road, is undergoing nine weeks of basic training at the Naval Training Center here. He is receiving instructions in Naval customs, courtesies and organization, ordnance and gunnery, seamanship, damage control, first aid, swimming and survival, shipboard drills and sentry duty.

A program of physical fitness, military drill and inspections keeps the recruits mentally and physically alert during their training.

His Navy Classification tests will determine whether he will be assigned to a school, shore station or ship after his graduation.

Boyd Awarded Medal

USS PYRO—Biolerman Technician Third Class Danny R. Boyd, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boyd of 320 Anne St., was awarded the Vietnam Service Medal for the part he played as a crewmember aboard the ammunition ship Pyro, during a recent tour with the Seventh Fleet.

In addition to providing ammunition and other supplies to our forces off Vietnam, the Pyro contributed to better relations with the people of each country that she visited during her eight-month deployment.

In carrying out this people-to-people program, the crew of the ship made a blood donation to the Philippine Red Cross in Manila and the British Red Cross in Hong Kong and the delivery of Operation Hand Clasp toys and dolls to underprivileged children. In Sasebo, Japan, the crew built a complete playground and painted an orphanage.

The Pyro, a unit of Service Squadron Seven, is homeported in Concord, Calif.

PAMPAN—Glenn Free, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Free, 203 E. Tuke, recently completed U.S. Army basic training at Ft. Bliss. Prior to reporting to Ft. Carson, Colo., where he is taking specialized metal work training, E-2 Free spent a 14-day leave visiting his parents. He and his wife, the former Shirley Crawford, are making their home at Ft. Carson.

Vance Finishes Course

MEMPHIS, TENN.—Aviation Fire Control Technician Airman William T. Vance, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Vance of 310 E. Browning St., has been graduated from the Aviation Fire Control Technician School at the Memphis Naval Air Technical Training Center.

During the 12 week course he received instruction in emergency procedures, safety precautions, publications and reports. The curriculum included the basic theory of aviation fire control systems.

Prior to graduation from this school he completed the two week Aviation Familiarization School and the 19 week Avionics Fundamentals.

A graduate of Pampa High School, Vance entered the service in May, 1965.

Farmer Now Officer

ET. RUCKER, Ala.—Cletus F. Farmer, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion C. Farmer, 1125 S. Dwight, graduated as an aviator from the Army Primary Helicopter School, here and was commissioned as a warrant officer Oct. 13.

During his 20-week course, he was taught various fire techniques and tactical maneuvers for helicopter supporting ground troops in Vietnam. He also received instructions on helicopter maintenance and survival techniques.

WO Farmer entered the Army in March 1963 and was last stationed at Ft. George G. Meade, Md.

The warrant officer attended Pampa High School.

Pampan on Air Carrier In-Sea Off Viet's Coast

Larry L. Thomas, USN seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Thomas of 601 E. Kingsmill, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Coral Sea which, as a unit of Task Force 77, is engaged in sea operations off the coast of Viet Nam.

Coral Sea spent part of last month in the Navy Shipyard at Yokosuka, Japan where all four of its 21-ton propellers were replaced along with a 37-ton tail shaft which measures over 63 ft. long and 25 inches in diameter.

On the evening of August 26, Capt. F. W. Ault, commanding officer of the Coral Sea, reports in a letter sent to the families of the men under his command, while flight operations were in progress, a sudden vibration was experienced throughout the 48,000-ton ship.

After returning to Subic Bay in the Republic of the Philippines, men from the Coral Sea's underwater ordnance disposal team examined the hull of the ship to find that one blade from the number four propeller was missing and two blades of the number three propeller had been damaged when the missing blade broke off.

Capt. Ault saluted the workmen of the shipyard in what he termed an "incredible task of repairing the damage in less than eight days."

"After a four-day transit," the captain told the families, "we arrived on Yankee Station in the Tonkin Gulf."

"Since that time," he said, "the pilots of Attack Carrier Wing Two have been flying day and night, striking at their assigned targets in North Viet Nam."

He said the pilots are inflicting damage on supply depots, roads, communications installations, oil storage sites, ammunition depots, bridges and surface-to-air missile sites in order to interdict lines of communication and destroy supplies destined for support of the insurgent Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam.

"The tempo of operations," Ault said, "is extremely de-

No Touchdowns But Bills' Lusteg Leads Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Football League's new scoring leader became so shook up when they gave him the game ball that he dropped it.

That bobble didn't really matter. The Buffalo Bills don't pay Booth Lusteg to hold onto the football; they pay him to kick it.

He has done so well that he now leads all AFL scorers with 63 points on 14 field goals and 21 conversions. Four of those field goals and three of those extra points came in last Sunday's 33-23 win over the New York Jets at Shea Stadium.

That's why his Buffalo teammates gave the talkative, high strung Lusteg the game ball, an honor generally accorded to the individual whom the team feels contributed most to the particular victory.

"I even made a tackle out there," beamed Lusteg, as he changed into his street clothes after the game with the Jets.

"Is that why they gave you the game ball?" someone tried to needle him.

"No," he said, refusing to be mouse-trapped. "I've made a few other tackles before this season. And I have two assists, also."

"Assists?" someone else asked incredulously.

"That's right, assists," explained the Buffalo place kicker patiently. "You are credited with one each time you help make a tackle."

Lusteg, a 25-year-old native of New Haven, Conn., who never played football while at Boston College but did give it a whirl as an actor, a waiter and a math teacher, is an oddity on a number of counts.

In a day and age when everyone else is making a mint kicking field goals soccer style, Lusteg boots 'em in the conventional method. He hooked on with the Bills as a free agent this year but until recently few outside his immediate family had ever heard of him.

Joe Gergen, one of the fine young writers in our UPI sports department here, hadn't and that was especially odd because he and Lusteg were in the same class together at Boston College in 1963.

"But he was there all right," says Gergen. "I looked him up in my year book and he's listed with a B.S. degree in accounting and also as having played intramural basketball and baseball."

Lusteg first thought about the possibility of earning a living in pro football when he discovered he wasn't getting many parts as an actor and that he was expected to take tickets and sweep the floor of the theater as well.

So he walked into a Jet tryout camp two years ago, but they told him, go home, boy, you're not kicking 'em far enough. He subsequently caught on with the New Bedford Mine Sweepers of the Atlantic Coast Football League and after Pete Gogolak moved over to the Giants, Lusteg wrote the Bills for a tryout. They gave it to him and now you see what happened.

While others stay home and count their stock dividends, he counts all his tackles. And his assists, too.

Rambling With Red
RON CROSS

One of the hardest things in the world to explain is a group of high school football players, or college football players or professional football players.

More often than not they are the most inconsistent people from week to week. Especially high school players.

They can make or break a coach, or several coaches for that matter. They can make their school look good or bad, they can make their student body laugh or cry.

Could Be 9-1

Pampa's High School footballers are no exceptions with a 4-4 season record. This is the best record a Pampa High School team has had at this stage in many a moon, but it could be so much better.

The Harvesters very easily could be 9-1 and could be 3-0 in north zone competition instead of 1-2.

Many coaches across the state and many sports writers across the state have said that the Pampa backfield is just as good as any in this big old state.

Truer words were never spoken. They waxed a very, very good Dumas team, most convincingly, came from two touchdowns behind to outdistance Plainview and last week, didn't control the ball but broke Caprock, another fine football team.

Pampa's main problem has been inconsistency.

The Pampa backfield has found without blocking you go nowhere, although for the most part, Pampa's offensive line has done a truly fine job.

Ted Heiskell is, without doubt, the finest fullback among high school players. He can beat you several ways, including defense.

L. D. Rowden and Gary McCarrell have the speed, but have been inconsistent in the running with McCarrell, at times, looking like another Tommy McDonald and at times, running with the speed of my grandmother, who at 91, is pretty slow.

Hyatt Fine Job

Rowden has had the same trouble, especially following his blocking and turning on the speed at the right time.

Too have been thrown in the quarterbacking job so quickly. Gary Hyatt has done an amazingly fine job.

He has shown he can call the right plays and run the ball. His only weakness has been passing, which started out so good, but has gotten so terrible.

Defensively Pampa should have one of the finest, but has one of the worst. Why? You tell me.

It really didn't look too good against Caprock although some players who had been lacking finally came through with flying colors.

James Matney, Glen Lewis and Rowden had looked only so-so defensively until Friday night and then found out what the game's all about.

Lewis, Doc Cornutt, Matney and Jack Williamson have been more consistent on offensive blocking.

Matney's punting has been tremendous and should earn the senior a college scholarship because he can kick with the best of 'em.

Larry Stephens showed the fans Friday night that he has been missed. Sorry, missed.

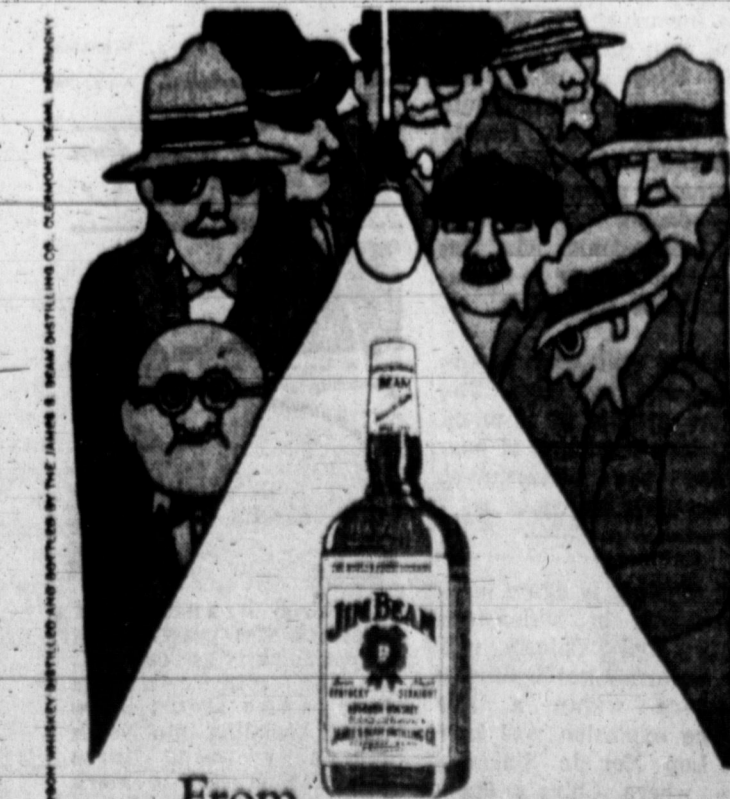

If fate will be kind then Larry will be a name in the college ranks in a year or two. This could be true of several Harvester players.

Consistency is the word, and coach, could we start the season over?

Sophomore Jinx Doesn't Bother Warrior's Barry

NEW YORK (UPI) — San Francisco's Rick Barry, the National Basketball Association's rookie of the year last season, doesn't believe in the sophomore jinx.

The 6-foot-7, 205-pound Warrior hotshot, who averaged 25.7 points a game for fourth place in final NBA scoring statistics last season, is off to a rousing start this year pumping in 27.3 points in his first seven games for a 39.1 average, almost 10 points a game more than his closest rival.

Former Warrior Guy Rodgers, who went to the new Chicago Bulls in the expansion draft, rates second to his former teammate with 198 points for a 24.8 average while Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor pumped in 191 points for third place before being sidelined by an injury last week.

Detroit player-coach Dave DeBusschere, whose Pistons have been the surprise of the Western Division thus far, ranks fourth with 184 points for a 23.8 average while Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, with 171 points, and a 28.5 mark, is fifth.

The undefeated Philadelphia 76ers, Eastern Division leaders, are well ahead in team scoring with 131.2 points per game with the resurging New York Knickerbockers second with 119.

Los Angeles' Tom Hawkins is the NBA field goal percentage leader with a 58.8 mark, with Philadelphia's Walt Chamberlain (.562) and Chet Walker (.529) his closest rival.

Howard Komives of the Knicks is the free throw percentage leader at .918 with Sam Jones of Boston second at .909 and Philadelphia's Hal Green next at .893.

Nat Thurmond of San Francisco is the loop's leading rebounder with 149 to stay ahead of Baltimore's Leroy Ellis (129) and DeBusschere (123) while Rodgers, with 95 assists, leads in that department with Robertson second and Walt Hazzard of Los Angeles third.

McLean, Bucks Face Toughies

District 1-A and 2-A football titles will probably be decided Friday night at Wheeler and White Deer.

Wheeler, 2-0 in district 2-A, hosts McLean, 3-0, while White Deer, 2-0 in 1-A, hosts Gruver, 0-0-1. These teams are the only unbeaten in their respective conferences.

Wheeler will try to bounce back from their second loss of the season, 12-6 defeat at the hands of the No. 2 ranked class A team in the state, White Deer, while McLean (7-1) will take a four-game winning streak into the Friday night contest.

White Deer (7-0) will pit its unscored on defense against a Gruver team that has been beaten only once in seven outings but was tied last week by Canadian, 0-0.

Canadian (4-2) hosts Stratford in another 1-A contest while Lefors (3-4) and 1-0 in district 5-B will host Booker in a conference outing.

Groom (4-4) and 1-0 in district 15-B is idle having originally scheduled Miami for Friday night.

BOUT SCHEDULED
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — Buster Mathis, a former Golden Gloves and Olympic heavyweight boxing champion, meets Juan Barraza of Toronto in a six round bout tonight at the Civic Auditorium.

Three Picked For Harvester Of Week Award

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

Not one but three Pampa Harvesters were named for Harvester-of-The-Week honors by Pampa coaches after films were viewed of the Caprock game.

End James Matney, a 185-pound senior, halfback, L. D. Rowden, a 190-pound senior and center, Glen Lewis, a 190-pound senior, were so honored for their work, both offensively and defensively against the Horns.

Matney turned in his best performance of the season on defense and his best blocking job on offense while Rowden had his best defensive night, and at a new position, while Lewis did his usual fine job on both.

Pampa coach Eural Ramsey was happier than usual Monday morning, although he cautioned that Lubbock Coronado, the Harvesters' next opponent, "are just as tough as any team we've played."

The Mustangs have had their ups and downs, and injuries have played a large part of their 2-5-1 season record and 0-2-1 south zone mark.

The Friday night affair, slated at Lowery Field, is a non-conference game, but will be most important for Pampa.

The Harvesters, who broke a three-game slump against Caprock, will be trying to get back on the good side of the won-let record. Pampa stands 4-4 for the season with only two games remaining.

A win Friday night would assure the Harvesters of their best season since 1953. Two straight victories would assure them of a winning season for the first time in 13 years.

The Mustangs' best back, halfback Ron Chaney, a 15-pound senior has missed three games because of injury, but saw part-time action last week against Lubbock High.

Chances are he will be back in top form against Pampa Friday night.

Coronado started out as a passing team but have cooled off somewhat in their last two games. Last week they threw only 13 times, where in past games they have thrown the ball 20-25 times.

Quarterback Gary Kirksey, a 170-pound junior, does 99 per cent of the passing and has three favorite receivers in ends Ronnie Wright, a 170-pound senior and Bob Townley, a 170-pound junior and wingback Hector Alfaro, a 160-pound junior.

Defensively, the Mustangs have averaged giving up just 14 points per game but are scoring just over nine points per contest.

MIAMI (UPI) — John Stofa, a quarterback cut by Miami the past summer, has signed with the Dolphins to replace quarterback Rick Norton, out for the season with a broken jaw.

HORNS HURT AGAIN

Bridges May Start Stockdale

United Press International Texas may have to get through the rest of the Southwest Conference season without Harry Giles. The defensive end hurt his knee when he collided with a teammate in the Southern Methodist game.

Giles and Joel Brame raced in to try to block a punt Brame escaped serious injury but Giles limped off the field.

"It looks like he's out for the season," Coach Darrell Royal said Monday. "He's definitely out for two weeks."

Royal said he would move Mike Perrin in to take Giles' job and shift sophomore Mack Lawrence to the No. 2 defensive slot.

Not Sure
Coach John Bridges of the Baylor Bears, Texas' Saturday opponent, said he was not sure which of his two quarterbacks he would start next Saturday.

Bridges pulled Terry Southall out of last week's game against Texas Christian when the Bears could not get the ball moving steadily. But his sub, Kenny Stockdale, did hardly any better.

"I am, of course, getting lots of advice concerning Southall and Stockdale," Bridges said. "But it is a decision I will have to make and right now, it looks like I won't decide which one to start until just before the kickoff."

Baylor may be without both its running halfbacks, Richard Defee and John Westbrook. Both suffered leg injuries against TCU.

Arkansas, which meets Rice Saturday, ran through a light signal drill Monday but it was so windy that Coach Frank Frank Broyles called it off after 45 minutes.

"Up until last week, Rice was the best offensive team we've seen," Broyles said.

Broyles said Bruce Maxwell and Lee Johnson would probably miss the Rice game and moved George Calhoun in at linebacker and Don Richardson

IRISH LEAD TOP 10 AGAIN

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 11th place while Georgia Southeastern conference, which Tech rolled to its seventh straight victory and replaced for its failure to schedule games with football powers outside the South, still maintains an extremely high prestige with the nation's coaches.

This fact was more apparent than ever today when the weekly United Press International's board of coaches ratings showed three SEC schools among the top 10 teams and five listed among the top 20.

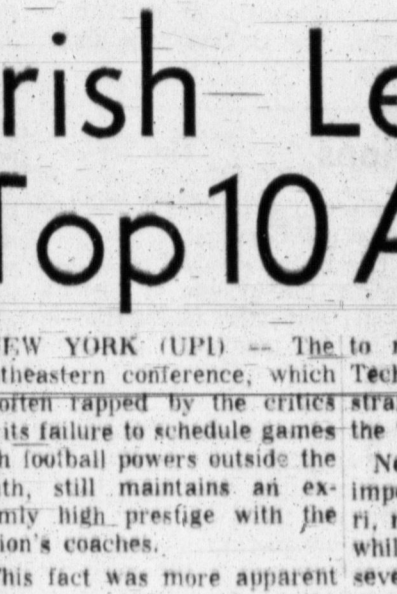

Tennessee, which dropped from the top 10 a month ago, returned in the No. 10 position this week after a convincing 38-7 victory over Army last Saturday to join Alabama (No. 4) and Florida (No. 7) among the nation's select 10 while Georgia (No. 13) and Mississippi (No. 17) found themselves grouped in the second 10.

There was no change among the top four teams this week as Notre Dame continued its stronghold on the No. 1 position by pulling down 23 first place votes from the 35-man UPI board for a total of 332 points.

Collision Due
Michigan State, which meets the Irish Nov. 19, held onto second place by receiving eight first place votes and 313 points, while UCLA remained in the third position with two first place nods and 295 points.

Alabama received one first place vote and kept its hold on fourth place with 240 points.

The big change was in the No. 5 position. Southern California, which had held that post virtually all season, was upset by Miami (Fla.) last Friday night and dropped all the way

SEC teams by the Board of Coaches indicates that the best football in the country is played in the South. However, that fact is open to much skepticism from many other experts who claim that the schedules of SEC teams don't measure up to those of major schools from other parts of the country.

Purdue, which squeezed out a victory over Illinois Saturday, moved a step closer to the top 10 by advancing one place to 11th while Southern Methodist and Georgia also moved up one place each to 12th and 13th respectively.

The biggest jump of the week was made by Colorado, which defeated Oklahoma to move from nowhere to a tie for 14th with Michigan and Houston. The Buffaloes, who nearly whipped Nebraska two weeks ago, have not been rated this high since 1961.

The Hurricanes' upset of the Trojans enabled them to return to the top 20 after an absence of several weeks in a tie for 17th with the Upset victim of Colorado State, dropped 10 notches to a tie for 19th with Oklahoma.

Large Support
The large support given the SEC teams by the Board of Coaches indicates that the best football in the country is played in the South. However, that fact is open to much skepticism from many other experts who claim that the schedules of SEC teams don't measure up to those of major schools from other parts of the country.

Increase the Exemptions

Instead of going along with the politician's game of developing new tax sources (from the "other fellow," of course), let's concentrate on more tax exemptions for more people... across the board.

Some folks may consider the federal government is generous in coming out with a ruling that tax payers who help conserve natural beauty "may" get a tax break. Internal Revenue Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen said gifts of money, land or other property to governmental agencies or "qualified" private organizations may be tax deductible.

Pull Up A Chair

Since Uncle Sam started using ball point pens in most post offices ten years ago, he has brought 26 million refills capable of writing 34 million miles. This year he ordered 2.4 million refills to take care of an estimated 3.1 million miles of writing and addressing.

Today's smile: A teacher asked a young pupil: "What's your father's name?" He replied: "Daddy." The teacher persisted: "Yes, but what does your mother call him?" The youngster replied: "She doesn't call him anything. She likes him."

Although cartoonists always use father as the scapegoat who always whacks his thumb with a hammer in performing household chores, statistics show that home accidents occur most frequently to women, children and elderly folk.

Thoughts while shaving: Dog lovers will be happy to learn there's an organization in New York that sends its members a booklet telling them how to avoid dognapping. Seems that one of the big crimes in the big cities these days is to get the U.S. Post Office Dept. to name a town after you.

He looked upon the first man and said, "You have more income than you require to provide your family with necessities; I will take the remainder from you. Your land and buildings and machinery are of great value; I will exact payment in relation to their value. Your production has created surplus; next year I shall restrict the acreage you may plant. I shall take much of what you have and give it to your neighbor who is less fortunate than you."

Country Editor speaking: "The road hog is always the first to squeal when he's involved in a crack-up."

Under this agreement overwhelmingly approved by the home-rushing Congress, $211 million was earmarked for the trouble-wracked Job Corps, instead of $350 million spent last year; $325 million for the Neighborhood Youth Corps; $312 million for Headstart; $61 million for VISTA; $22 million for health centers; $26 million legal services for the poor.

It seems to us the administration is hanging back on taking this final and, in point of fact, most effective anti-poverty step. And you'll never get rid of poverty as long as you keep it legal and let poor folks free to breed and stay poor.

See! They're Never Going To Leave!

Backstage Washington

Shriver Given $150 Million Less Than His Minimum Budget, Gets 'Blank Check' on Allocating OEO Funds in Congress' Closing Hours

WASHINGTON — Anti-poverty Director Sargent Shriver got a lot less money than he wanted from the recent Congress, but then wholly out of the blue he wound up with an astonishing consolation prize — that he had not even asked for.

In the final slam-bang hours of the session, when scores of legislators had already departed for home, the Office of Economic Opportunity, the agency headed by Shriver, was more or less perfunctorily voted $1.612 billion for the current fiscal year — in a lump sum.

This is around $150 million less than the minimum budget Shriver had urgently contended was essential. But it was given him without any strings. The compromise $1.612 billion anti-poverty appropriation as agreed on by Senate and House conferees is totally devoid of any language on how and on what this huge sum is to be spent. There is not a single word on earmarking, allocating or allotting.

As passed by Congress, the disposition of this giant appropriation is left entirely up to Shriver. He has the legal power to apportion the money as he sees fit.

Why this sweeping authority was bestowed on him no one seems to know. In fact, few legislators are even aware it was done. No member of the Senate or House Appropriations Committees has explained it. It's a backstage mystery that still awaits clarification.

The curious affair is all the more extraordinary in view of the long and stormy fight to explicitly detail how the anti-poverty budget was to be administered.

For eight months, from March to October, the Labor committees of the House and Senate squabbled among themselves and with OEO officials over this thorny problem in drafting the agency's appropriation authorization bill. Only just before Congress quit and a few hours before it voted the $1.612 billion was a compromise reached on allocations.

Under this agreement overwhelmingly approved by the home-rushing Congress, $211 million was earmarked for the trouble-wracked Job Corps, instead of $350 million spent last year; $325 million for the Neighborhood Youth Corps; $312 million for Headstart; $61 million for VISTA; $22 million for health centers; $26 million legal services for the poor.

this program. I want to make it clear that the allocation of the money as authorized by my subcommittee on appropriations is the way these funds will be expended. That is my understanding of this conference report.

Mahon: "That is my understanding. We are certainly not giving the OEO a blank check to expend these funds, except under the guidelines laid down in the authorization legislation."

Jonas: "I fervently hope that interpretation is correct. But I believe it would have been much better to have left the earmarking language in this appropriation bill. Surely it would have done no harm, while it would have made crystal clear that we do not mean to give a blank check to anyone to the extent of $1.612 billion. Explicit earmarking is the only way Congress can retain any control over appropriations. We allocate in other bills, and I see no reason why it isn't being done in this one."

That ended the discussion and the challenge. What happens now remains to be seen. The coming months will tell whether Mahon's "interpretation" carries weight with Shriver—or he disregards it.

Legally, he would have substantial ground to do so. That is clearly indicated by the tenor of Mahon's and Dent's remarks.

WE PREDICT — Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey will make a unique pre-election broadcast. The two first ladies will join in a non-partisan appeal to voters to halt on November 8... President Johnson will return to the hustings in the final days of the campaign with a whirlwind barnstorming tour that will span the country.

Representative Mahon: "The authorization bill fixes the allocation of funds. So while this is a lump-sum appropriation, the allocation of funds would be controlled by the authorization bill, as I understand it."

Patch Pony Has Protective Advice for Small Children As long as there are people in the world with twisted minds whose compulsion is to harm children, protective measures must be taken. Toddlers and preschool children must be carefully watched every minute or left with trusted and reliable attendants.

Older children will do well to become acquainted with Patch the Pony. He is the creation of Mrs. Junius S. Liles of Alabama who reasoned that, if Smokey the Bear could prevent forest fires, why shouldn't a red and white pony with a patch over one eye and a sheriff's badge on his chest help to impress children with rules for their own protection.

Patch was developed in 1963 and his fame is now spreading to other states. Patch says, "Nay! Nay! From stranger's car stay away." He also warns, "Ride with me, children, but never ride in a stranger's car." He teaches children not to accept gifts of any sort from a stranger and not to follow a stranger anywhere no matter what reward is promised. He advises parents never to leave a child alone in an auto.

Mrs. Liles will send you a Patch kit if you send 25 cents and a large self-addressed envelope to Patch the Pony, Florence, Ala. The kit contains the "Legend of Patch the Pony" and Patch's picture. Many mothers have already had a big return on their small investment when a child has come home from school, and told of refusing a ride with a stranger.

The first printing of 100,000 copies of the history of the communist party, U.S.S.R., had five flowing references to Chairman Khrushchev, the great leader. That was in August, 1964. Mr. K got the boot in October, 1964, and since then neither the first edition (revised) nor the second volume of the history even mention the Butcher Boy of the Ukraine. The U.S.S.R. may not be able to plan the future, but it certainly knows how to rearrange the past.

Many people believe that stockholders, the owners of business corporations in the United States, get the lion's share of whatever profit these organizations make. This is simply not the case.

CONFUSION ABOUT PROFITS

Start with the fact that all U. S. corporations paid out to all their employees last year a total of $249 billion. In the same year they paid out in dividends to all their stockholders a total of $17.7 billion. This figures out to employees getting 93.4 cents of each dollar paid out by the corporations and the owning stockholders getting 6.6 cents.

Catholics Debate Church Sacrament

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International A lively debate is under way among American Catholics about the sacrament of penance, otherwise known as "going to confession."

This is an aspect of Catholicism that has long puzzled Protestants, who believe that a person should confess his sins directly to God in prayer.

Although few Protestants realize it, the Catholic Church also teaches that forgiveness is instantly available to any sinner who lifts up his heart to God in an agony of genuine contrition.

But even if a Catholic obtains forgiveness by such an "act of perfect contrition," he is still obliged to take advantage of his earliest opportunity to confess orally to a priest.

Confession to a priest is strongly recommended for less serious or "venial" sins, and is absolutely required for "mortal" sins which involve a deliberate turning away from God.

No Important Change The has been no important change in the sacrament of penance since the 16th century, when the Council of Trent laid down the rule that all mortal sins must be confessed "by name and number" before a priest.

However, the Vatican Council did not spell out any specific changes in penance, thus leaving the door open for debate on the kind of revision that might be desirable.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

POPPING UP — 1967 MISS TEEN-AGE AMERICA: On Nov. 3 Miss Teen-age America for the coming year will be picked and crowned. This miss will be a different kind of beauty bud than the myriad other misses — America, Universe,

World, etc. Smaller, perkier, smarter, she'll be more the natural, attractive, average teen-age, teen-age type. Yes, she'll rake in a $10,000 college scholarship, cars, stock in business, wardrobes... and $5,000 cash for personal appearances. But the girl who'll crown the new queen, Colette Daiute, the reigning queen, told us what it was like to win: "I wasn't picked for being a ravishing beauty... statuesque or being a slinky sex symbol... didn't appear in any bathing suit contest... but I did have to have high marks to compete... and during the year I was queen school came first, personal appearances were scheduled for weekends and vacation times."

NO - PRESS SHIRTS ARE HERE AGAIN: Guys are now wearing shirts that really need no pressing. The novel wrinkle in this no-wrinkle garment is that it can come through the toughest machine washing (at the laundry or at home) and hold its finish. The American Institute of Laundering which tested the shirt informed YOUTH BEAT: "This new permanent press is sophisticated wash-and-wear... Because it has a stronger chemical content and an improved crease recovery rate, it can take even through commercial laundering without needing ironing."

YOU ARE SWIPING THE YOUNGER SET'S PETS: It is nearly two months till Christmas, but the way you're snatching up those big, kiddie, stuffed toy animals in stores indicates that a lot more than reindeer will be coming down chimneys on Dec. 25. A last-minute check among department store buyers reveals that money-happy teenagers are avidly buying plush 6-foot dogs, cats, bears, lions, snakes and giraffes. The reason? Probably because you just want to... But also because of the new, more imaginative designs... such as designers adopting the big-eye craze to these stuffed pets. One, this year, dreamed up the nonexistent Siob... next year he has his sights on the Snark. Manufacturers now blow a polystyrene foam into the innards... making bigger animals at less cost per cubic foot... prices are down. Girls (till the time they get their college diplomas) are the most eager buyers... for themselves... and to give to other girls. To boys they send snakes. Boys reciprocate by giving tigers or spooier dogs (mongrels of mixed-up ancestry) to girls. The toy world is banking on a lot of these big, already house-broken pets arriving at homes this Christmas — more for teens and post-teens than for the pre-teen set.

MUSIC — THE RHYTHM IS REPEATING ITSELF: New versions of recent and not-so-recent hits are a feature of newest records now swimming up to top popularity. The way-back "Rain on the Roof," cut in soft-rock style by the Lovin' Spoonful, is one. The one-time, smash hit, "Louie, Louie," in a lush, warmly harmonious, redo by the Sapphires is another. And Billy Stewart rocks an infectious revival of the Doris Day standard, "Secret Love." Among the brand-new ones to watch out for, here are two: "When She Needs Good Lovin' She Comes to Me" which will be hitting turntables and airwaves with electric impact... and "Peep Peep Pop Pop," an Arizona sensation, now spreading East and West with a powerful beat.

Mosier Gets Promotion
FT. BLISS — James H. Mosier Jr., 19, son of Mrs. Mary G. Mosier, 1114 W. Wilks, received an early promotion to Army pay grade private E-2 on completion of basic combat training here Oct. 14.

He was awarded the promotion two months earlier than is customary because of his score in firing the M-14 rifle, high score on the physical combat proficiency test and his military bearing and leadership abilities.

The early promotion program is an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

His father, James H. Mosier, lives at 1716 Santa Fe, Woodward, Okla., and his wife, Martha, lives in Stinnett, Tex.

TROUBLE SPOT
PUMPKIN-CENTER — S.D. (UPI) — Minnehaha County Sheriff Barney Boos kept an eye on this tiny community Monday. Pumpkin Center, a traditional target for Halloween pranks, was reportedly quiet.

SOMETHING NEW
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — In the Haight-Ashbury district, San Francisco's new bohemia, bearded and long-hair residents wore way-out Halloween costumes—suits and ties for the men and hose and heels for the gals.

FOR SHORT
LONDON (UPI) — An ad in the personal column of today's London Times:

"I, formerly known as Paul Nmaduaburochukwu Okade of Ibusa, Nigeria, now wish to be known as Nmadu Oioimaka."
