Austin, San Antonio Target Cities For Political Delegates

There will be a general exodus of delegates from Pampa this weekend heading for the Democratic and Republican state convention in the Municipal Auditorium, according to 20, but in separate cities.

Democratic delegates will stop off in Austin for their state convention in the Municipal Auditorium, according to Jimmy Thompson, Gray County executive chairman.

Gray County GOP delegates will travel approximately 80 miles farther southwest to convention headquarters in San Antonio's Municipal Auditorium, George Cree Jr., GOP executive chairman said.

Both delegations will be armed with resolutions passed at convention meetings and other planned activities prior to the convention proper on Tuesday.

Both delegations will be armed with resolutions passed at county conventions held here May 14.

Republicans

Pre-convention activities will be a reception for Mr. and Mrs. G. N. McDaniel of Borger from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday in the Pearu Room of St. Anthony Hotel. Mrs. McDaniel is retiring as Republican State Executive vice chairman as of the convention date.

A state executive board meeting is slated for 9 a.m. Monday, according to Mrs. Frances Fatheree, member of the pre-convention credentials committee.

At 7 p.m. Monday there will be a caucus of delegates to elect a committeeman and committee woman and other convention committee members to expedite proceedings at the convention proper. A Pink Elephant Ball is being planned for 8 p.m. Monday.

The 1966 GOP state convention will get underway at 8 a.m. Tuesday in San Antonio's Municipal Auditorium.

Representing Gray County at the convention will be George Cree Jr., Jim Campbell, Frances Fatheree, Bob Price, Jack Skelly, Bill Arrington, Walter Colwell, L. R. Miller, George Darby, Pauline Quibble, Bill Roats, Bill Chambliss, and E. R. Sidwell.

Resolutions adopted by the Gray County Republicans to be submitted for consideration at the state convention include:

1. Urging the national administration to cease coercion of private citizens and act directly to solve the problem of inflation by cutting back unnecessary spending on foreign and domestic programs.

2. Calling upon elected representatives in the Texas Legislature and Senatorial Districts to demand an immediate study into the plight of state hospitals for the blind, deaf mutes, and mentally retarded.

3. Recommending support of legislation requiring proof of financial responsibility at the time any motor vehicle is registered and requiring insurance companies to notify the Department of Transportation.

Democrats

The first order of business for the Demo delegates from the 31st Senatorial District will be a caucus at 4 p.m. Monday in the Barcelona Room of the Commodore Perry Hotel in Austin.

The Demo convention opens at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Austin Municipal Auditorium.

Selections of a State Democratic Executive Committee and members of the convention committee will be made during the session.

The actions of the caucus will be made formal by a motion on the convention floor Tuesday. Naming a new Panhandle district committeeman to replace Bob Lindsey of Borger will be the major action of the caucus. Lindsey announced his resignation as of the convention date.

Jimmy Thompson of Pampa has been named as a possible successor.

A reception honoring Dee Miller of Amarillo, Demo candidate for Congress from the 18th District, will be held Saturday night.

Mrs. John Conally, wife of the governor, has been invited to a tea Monday afternoon. Monday night's pre-convention dinner will honor Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, who is seeking to unseat GOP Sen. John Tower.

County chairmen will attend a two-hour workshop Monday from 2 p.m. in the Commodore Perry Hotel.

The Democratic delegation from Gray County will include Jimmy Thompson, Jake Hess of McLean, Paul Crossman, Ott Shevemaker, A. J. Carubbi, Ed Anderson, Jim Osborne, Margaret Guidry, Bill Craig and H. R. Jeter.

Resolutions passed at the county convention in May to be presented at the state convention are: a resolution congratulating Sen. Ralph Yarborough for his support of the Johnson administration and the Democratic platform adopted at Atlantic City; a resolution in support of Rep. Walter Rogers' role (See DEMOCRATS, Page 3)

Record-Setting Spacemen Return To Cape Kennedy

Flight of Gemini 12 Upped to Four Days

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The triumphant space team of Charles Conrad and Richard Gordon returned today to the takeoff spot for their Gemini 11 mission, with Conrad riding the helicopter that picked him out of the ocean at the end of the space ride.

The astronauts arrived aboard separate Navy helicopters at 10:53 a.m. EDT after a 200-mile hop from the carrier USS Guam, which took them aboard after the on-target landing that ended their three-day, record-breaking flight.

There's a bunch of familiar faces," Conrad told about 200 Cape Kennedy workers who gathered to meet him and his spacewalking buddy, Gordon.

Conrad was aboard Navy helicopter No. 63 from the Guam, the one which pulled him from a raft beside the downed Gemini spacecraft Thursday morning.

When Conrad hopped out of his helicopter, he was greeted by Astronaut Chief Alan Shepard, and the high-flying spaceman said, "It was fantastic. I can't believe it."

The astronauts drove to a nearby medical facility for a quick physical check and then, after lunch, they were scheduled to begin two days of "self de-briefing" — their first-hand accounts of their spectacular three days in space.

They were scheduled to fly back to Houston for a reunion with their families either Sunday or Monday.

Conrad and Gordon capped an almost perfect spaceflight Thursday with history's first automatic re-entry — so successful it brought the computer-guided capsule to splashdown within two miles of target 700 miles east of the Cape.

Not long after the Gemini 11 mission had ended the federal space agency disclosed that the Gemini 12 flight — final mission in the series of two-man flights — was being lengthened from three days to four. A spokesman said the early November (See SPACEMEN, Page 2)

U.N. Diplomats Do Not Accept U. Thant's No

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Diplomats refused today to accept as final Secretary General Thant's repeated declaration that he will leave office when his term expires Nov. 3.

Thant reiterated Thursday his Sept. 1 statement that he did not wish to "offer himself" for re-election.

"I continue to believe that the best interests of the organization would be served if the member governments would direct their efforts to the finding of a suitable and acceptable successor," he said.

"I would also very humbly appeal to all those concerned to avoid any kind of fanfare, either in the search for a successor or in public expressions of their continued trust and confidence in me."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg issued an immediate statement refusing to take Thant's no for an answer.

"We have read with care and interest the statement by Secretary General U. Thant and we have the greatest respect for his views and opinions," Goldberg said. "But it is still the belief of the U.S. government that the interests of the United Nations and world peace can best be served by Secretary General U. Thant remaining in his position."

Goldberg expressed publicly the sentiment manifest privately by members of the Security Council at two private lunches this week.

At the monthly luncheon traditionally given by the council president, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, this month's presiding officer, Wednesday declared unanimous approval of the council's consensus of support for Thant's continuation in office. Since the council was not in formal session, Fedorenko's action was in a jocular vein.

It brought only an inscrutable Oriental smile from Thant, diplomats said. Fedorenko privately told colleagues it was premature to put official pressure on Thant.

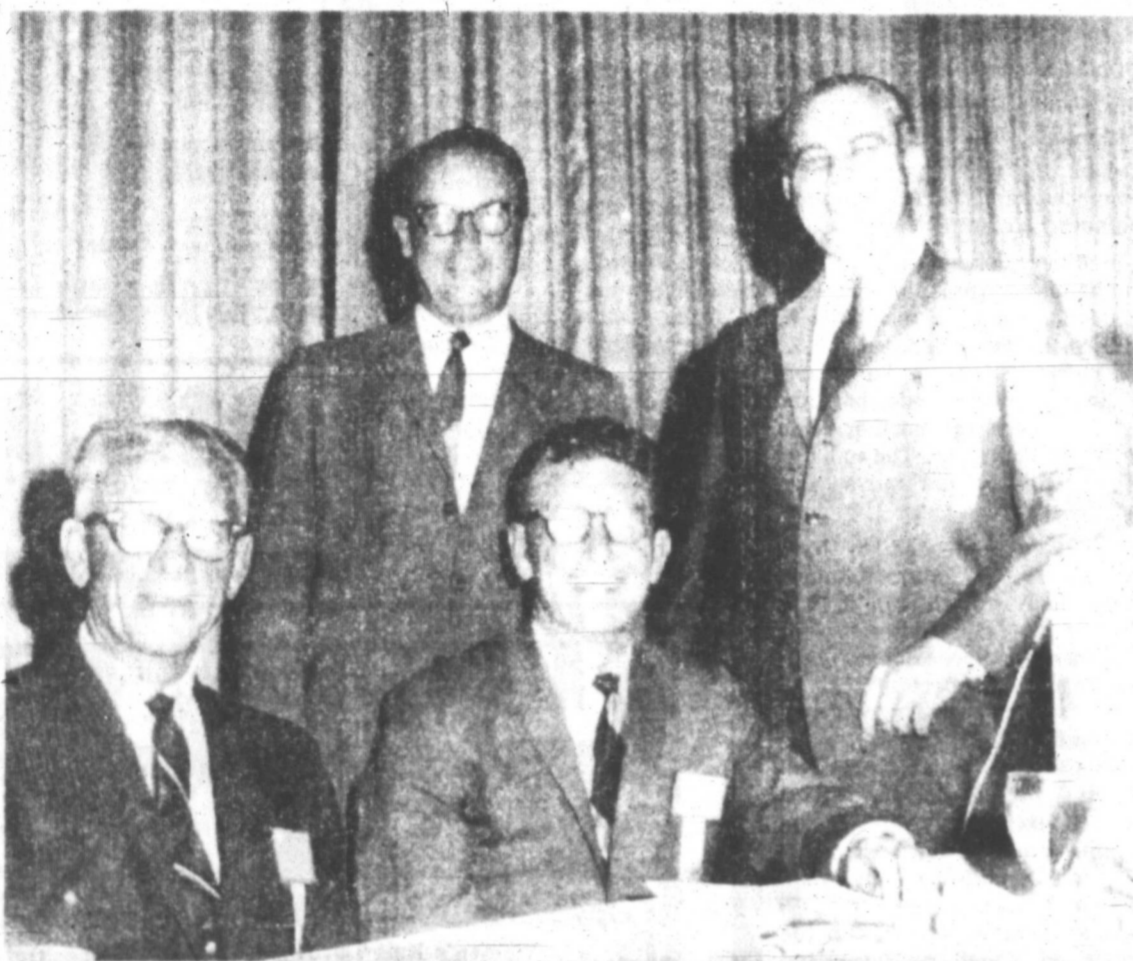

Union Seeking Pampan's Killer

A $1,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of the slayer of 45-year-old truck driver Walter Kucker was offered today by local 193 of the Teamster's Union in Indianapolis.

Kucker, of 1506 Williston, was found Sept. 8 near a downtown parking lot in Indianapolis. He had been run over and beaten.

Police said robbery appeared to be the motive. He had cashed a check the previous night on a truck trip for Mayfair Red Ball Transit Co. of Chicago.

He and another trucker, Don Stewart, 50, of Los Angeles, had registered at a hotel near the place the body was found. Because the lot is owned by the federal government as the site of a new federal building, the case is being investigated also by the FBI. Stewart told police he and Kucker had supper together Sept. 7 and Kucker went off to a nearby tavern to cash his check. Stewart returned to the hotel and never saw Kucker again, he said.

RALLYING TO THE CAUSE — PPROA members speaking at a dinner meeting last night in the Coronado Inn for the cause of an increased membership were, seated l. to r., Lester Wiles Jr. of Borger; W. W. Carter of Amarillo; standing, l. to r. J. W. Collins of Amarillo and John Chisholm, Pampa, master of ceremonies.

PPROA Seeks An Increased Voice In Legislation Affecting Oil, Gas

An increased need for a more effective organization of independent producers and royalty owners was the objective outlined by speakers at last night's dinner meeting of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association held in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

W. W. Carter, of Amarillo, PPROA chairman, told oilmen and guests, "Today there is an increased need for a more effective organization than at any time since the tragically wasteful era of the 1930's. The battlefields where complex issues of oil and gas policy are fought and resolved have shifted from company board rooms and conference tables to the legislative halls to the administrative agencies and regulatory bodies in our state capitols and in Washington D.C."

Fund Leaders

NORMAN HENRY

Norman C. Henry, Pampa manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., will serve as chairman of arrangements for Pampa's United Fund Campaign this year.

He will be in charge of luncheon and banquet arrangements, headquarters offices, and other similar duties.

Henry has been an active civic worker in Pampa during his tenure with the local gas utility. Currently he is serving as president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. He is a past president of the Pampa Lions Club.

"Whether we like it or not," he said, "that is where the important decisions involving our industry are made. This is where our voice must be heard if we are to exert any influence on the course of events which will vitally affect our individual lives."

The meeting last night was one of a series being held in the Panhandle area to rally oilmen to the cause of an increased membership in PPROA for survival of the independent oil producer.

The first of the series was held at Borger in May. Similar meetings are being planned in Perryton and Shamrock and other cities in the Panhandle in the near future.

Auditorium Plans Getting Attention

The wheels started moving today on preliminary plans for a civic auditorium in Pampa.

Members of the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium Advisory Committee heard trustees of the M. K. Brown Foundation urge them to get started on the project and promised all available funds from the Brown estate would be turned over for its construction.

William Jarrel Smith, attorney for the foundation, who addressed the advisory group, said the Foundation wished that a start be made as soon as possible.

"It is up to this group," Smith said, "to figure out what needs to be done and to work out a method of financing the building of the auditorium with the income that will be available from the estate."

Smith advised the group that it was the wish of the late Mr. Brown that an auditorium be built suitable for a museum, conventions Community Concert Association, Knife & Fork Club and similar organizations. He told the group that no del-

Marines Set Trap For Red Division

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. B52 bombers from Guam and smaller B57 Canberras bombed Communist troop concentrations and supply areas in the demilitarized zone (DMZ) today, backing up a twin Marine offensive aimed at crushing a North Vietnamese division.

The bombing — the 11th attack on the DMZ by the big eight-engined B12s — was carried out in support of a force of 1,500 Marines who landed Thursday just south of the North-South border while a second force was pushing northward in Operation Prairie.

Their object is to trap and eliminate the North Vietnamese 324B Division which used the theoretically neutral zone to rebuild after being mauled by Marines last July. The new Operation Deckhouse just below the zone has made no heavy contact but Operation Prairie launched six weeks ago has claimed more than 300 enemy casualties.

A second Communist division — the Yellow Star — was reported 200 miles to the south where it infiltrated along the Ho Chi Minh trail. The U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division was seeking it in Operation Thayer in the Central Highlands but made no major contact.

A spearhead patrol of Thursday's huge air and amphibious assault force ran into more than 100 Communist troops only two miles south of the demilitarized zone and although heavily outnumbered won a bitter battle for survival, a U.S. military spokesman disclosed.

While the Marines pushed inland and northward to try to trap the main Communist force of 6,000 to 7,000 men in the B23s hammered a VC storage and troop concentration 20 miles west of Don Ha in the southern sector of the six-mile wide zone and the B57's dropped 500 and 750-pound bombs on the northern half of the zone. One bomb exploded a truckload of ammunition.

FEMALE JOINS MAIL RANKS

Postal Patrons Like New Letter Carrier

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Something new has been added to the postal department . . . and it isn't a stamp.

The "something new" is a lady letter-carrier who is creating quite a bit of interest in the 100 and 200 blocks of north and south Nelson, Sumner and Faulkner Sts. as she made mail delivery rounds during yesterday's rainy afternoon.

That she was creating a bit of a stir didn't seem to bother Betty Schones, as she hopped across water puddles, walked up to mail-boxes and deposited pieces of mail. She seemed to be oblivious to heads peeking around closed curtains and residents coming out on porches, unabashedly calling out to each other comments on the pretty letter-carrier.

"I love the job," Betty said. "I enjoy walking and I love being out-of-doors. Besides I was raised on a farm and being out-of-doors in all kinds of weather is second nature with me."

Betty, too, comes from a long line of postal employees. Her brother, Owen Wright of Borger, is superintendent of mail. She has a cousin who is a rural mail carrier in Elk City and one of her uncles is a retired rural mail carrier.

But sorry, folks who live on the route Betty traveled Thursday, chances are slim that she will be back tomorrow. She was carrying what is called an auxiliary route which means that she pitched in to help the regular mailman who had too big a load to complete in the stipulated length of time. So Betty was pressed into service. She already had some experience carrying a four-hour route out in North Creek last week.

Betty will probably wind up with a job as clerk in the post office. But the experience she is acquiring now as a letter-carrier will stand her in good stead when she becomes a clerk.

"I don't believe she is the first lady letter-carrier in Pampa," postmaster Lynn Boyd said. "There was one several years ago, but I don't believe she lasted very long."

Betty has taken a civil service examination and is awaiting a report of that from Fort Worth. But until that report is received, Betty will be working on a substitute basis.

And if her reception on today's route is any indication . . . here is one letter carrier postal patrons are hoping will always ring twice!

Doctors Vacate Wheeler Hospital

WHEELER — "Situation critical," is the way Hiram White, Parkview Hospital board secretary, described the doctor crisis here today.

The almost new $250,000 hospital is facing the fact of being left without a single physician on Dec. 1.

The two staff doctors have submitted their resignations to the board of directors, effective on that date.

Whitener said the two physicians, Dr. L. C. Barbour and Dr. Paul Stewart, "have not told us anything, except that they want to get into a bigger place."

Records reveal that occupancy in this 20-bed hospital runs more than 50 per cent. During the past year, physicians have performed 17 major operations and 24 minor ones and have delivered 30 babies.

The nearest hospital outside Wheeler is in Shamrock, 16 miles away.

New City Directory To Arrive Monday

The new 1966 City Directory will arrive in Pampa on Monday and will be delivered to subscribing patrons on Thursday and Friday of next week, E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber of commerce manager, said today.

Delivery of the directory was originally scheduled for July or August.

Wedgeworth said he talked today with H. V. Castle of the Hudspeith Directory Co. in Dallas, who explained the delay in directory delivery was due to production problems.

Junior College Hope Is Revived

It was learned today plans for establishment of a junior college in Pampa are not dead.

Dr. John Damron, school superintendent, said he will go to Austin next week in an attempt to re-activate the Pampa Independent School junior college district which was voted into being in 1944.

Damron said the school board and members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Junior College Committee also are entering the campaign for the eventual setting up of a junior college in Pampa.

The school superintendent said he had been informed by Dr. David Hunt, assistant commissioner of the coordinating board for senior colleges and higher education, that it was the board's plan to abolish all junior college districts in which junior colleges have not been built.

Pampa lost a plea for a junior college embracing all of Gray County last year when it developed one could not be built within 50 miles of another junior college district. Gray County was within the 50-mile prohibitive limit of Frank Phillips Junior College at Borger.

Establishment of a district only within the Pampa Independent School district boundaries would eliminate this barrier, it was stated.

Oil Allowable Is Up for October

AUSTIN — The Texas Railroad Commission yesterday upped the October statewide oil production allowable to a daily maximum of 3,154,384 barrels.

The figure is 33.5 per cent of potential and is the first allowable increase in five months. The September maximum was 3,125,028 barrels or 33 per cent. Last year's October allowable was 28.8 per cent.

inite amount that will be available could be named at this time because of government tax computations which have not yet been concluded.

"Only when the taxes are finally computed and paid will we know just how much will be available and how much can be expected," Smith said. However, he expressed the opinion the amount would go a long way toward meeting the auditorium needs.

E. L. Green Jr., chairman of the advisory committee, announced he would appoint subcommittees within the next few days to begin work on preliminary study with architects on estimated costs.

"When the taxes are paid and all requests are met," Smith said, "the Foundation wants to put every available dollar into the auditorium. We want it to be suitable for Pampa's needs."

Pythian Deputy Day Speaks at Childress

Glen H. Day, District Deputy of Knights of Pythias and a member of Pampa Lodge No. 480, made an official visit to Childress Lodge No. 141 last night where he spoke to the Childress members on ways and means of helping their lodge.

Day outlined the plans and ideals of Grand Lodge.

A. L. Weathered of Pampa, Grand Prelate of Grand Lodge, was present and spoke on "Home for Aged Pythians" now being built at Greenville, J. C. Hopkins and B. B. Altman Jr. were also present from Pampa Lodge No. 480.

PPROA

Panhandle area responded to a request earlier this year for an increase in prices being paid for Panhandle Crude Oil.

"The increase we received was certainly not what we had in mind but it was a step towards price restoration," Wiles said.

"The problem is simply a cost-price squeeze and without some price restoration it is doubtful that the independent producer can continue in their historic role as the nation's wildcatter."

The recent price restoration in Kansas to $3.05 and $3.09 per bbl. gives us some encouragement. We sincerely hope this upward trend will continue and spread to the Texas panhandle."

J. W. Collins of Amarillo called for the gas industry to present a united front with the oil industry in its approach to the Federal Power Commission and the attempt to obtain remedial gas legislation.

"Otherwise," he said, "we cannot expect the FCC or congress to pay attention to our problems. This is an objective in which regional associations, such as PPROA, can be most effective."

R. P. Herrmann, PPROA president, reviewed the purpose and history of the organization, which had its beginning as the Independent Petroleum Association in 1929 and which influenced the organizing of PPROA two years later.

"I think I may safely say that for more than 35 years this association has been able to develop a common front, to harmonize difference of opinion as to the needs and interests of the Independent Producers and Royalty Owners and to wield an influence on the adoption of laws and regulations of the Railroad Commission of Texas that have resulted in the common good of the PPROA and the industry in general."

John Chisholm and Bill Arrington, both of Pampa, are co-chairmen for the area-wide meetings.

Arrington, 1967 convention chairman, announced that the 1967 convention will be held at Amarillo in May.

The Educational Department will conduct a Teachers' Clinic Monday night Sept. 19th, in the Fellowship Hall. Each teacher is urged to take advantage of this session which is to cover the Fall Material for the Sunday School. The Pastor's Cabinet will meet Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. with Rev. J. W. Foreign News Commentary

By K.C. THALER
United Press International LONDON (UPI)—Grudgingly but realistically, Britons have begun to envisage the possibility of a collapse of the British Commonwealth.

Those who consider the loose alignment a substitute for a lost empire which provides Britain with World-wide stature and want it averted, even at high cost.

But others who consider the commonwealth a wholly inadequate empire-substitute are getting ready to accept its disappearance. The end of the commonwealth would be a pity, they argue, but by no means a disaster; it may even prove salutary to Britain's problems in the long run.

The issue was spotlighted by a commonwealth leaders conference in London and the rumblings that preceded it.

Conflicting Interests

The tensions within the commonwealth, which have been raised to a dangerous pitch by the Rhodesia crisis, have progressively weakened the eroding alignment. The links which tied it more closely at its inception have been progressively loosened. Experts predict a further decay because of the increasing difficulty to satisfy the conflicting interests of all its members—white, Asian and African.

Self-interest has been, in the view of close observers, one of the major criteria which has helped to hold it together so far. But this, they contend, is not enough to save it.

Two influential voices have just offered persuasive arguments that the collapse of the one-time great institution would, in effect, not matter all that much: it might even help Britain.

One of Britain's leading magazines, the Economist, contends that in the past decade the commonwealth probably has done Britain more harm than good. It would be a great pity if it were lost, but it is arguable that not very much would be lost now if the commonwealth were to disintegrate, it said.

Many Times Continue

The Economist holds that bilateral relations would not cease, in such event. Functional organizations could continue; valuable curiosities from cricket matches to the low commonwealth press rate could go on.

A stronger argument still has come from the conservative Spectator, which is close to some key members of the Conservative shadow cabinet.

In its view Britain has everything to gain by allowing the commonwealth to break up. Britain would no longer be singled out for Afro-Asian abuse; it would not feel obliged to bribe recalcitrant members with open-ended offers of aid, or to break sterling's back with a crippling system of international financial arrangements. Britain's relations with the third world might even improve.

The left wing New Statesman, on the other hand, considers the commonwealth still as an institution that continues to provide, "potentially at least," a world role for Britain.

Whatever the final outcome, British opinion is that the commonwealth, to survive, will have to change even considerably and adapt itself to a changing world and its varying needs.

Atomic Protest

NEW YORK (UPI)—United Church of Christ and German missionaries in Micronesia have protested jointly against French government testing of nuclear devices in the South Pacific, says the United Church's Office of Communication.

The missionaries, in a statement adopted at a meeting at Truk in the Eastern Caroline Islands, called the French action "flagrant disregard of the efforts of the nations who are looking for ways to secure peace and promote disarmament."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. J. S. McMULLEN
FIRST ASSEMBLY of GOD

THE EARS OF THE HUMAN BODY

Revelation 3:22 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

The two senses, seeing and hearing are prominent everywhere.

Washington's monument, with its many stair steps, have men and women climbed.

The gloomy recesses of Mammoth cave and other caves of the earth into which no ray of sunlight or starlight enters, have men explored. The depths of the coral parlors of the ocean have men sounded. The finest marble-mausoleums of the earth have men admired. The solemn grandeur of pyramidal Grotto have men invaded. The dusty bandages of mummies sleeping in the dust of centuries have men disturbed. Some tombs, like the tomb of King Tut, have men ransacked.

The human ear is more outstanding than any of the things that we have mentioned or could mention. 256 vibrations per second produce what musicians call the middle C note on the piano, up to 9,000 vibrations per second or 24,000 at the most the ear still registers sound. Mr. Huxley said that if our ears were keen enough we could hear the flowers grow.

The human ear is "the mysterious home of reverberation and echo" Talmadge called it a Grand Central depot of sound, headquarters, to which quick dispatches come, part of the way by bone, part of the way by cartilage, part of the way by nerve, the slowest dispatch plunging into the ear at the rate of 1,090 feet per second.

The ear has been called "a small musical instrument on which is played all the music you ever heard."

A wise man said, the ear is a bridge leading from the outside natural world to the inside spiritual world.

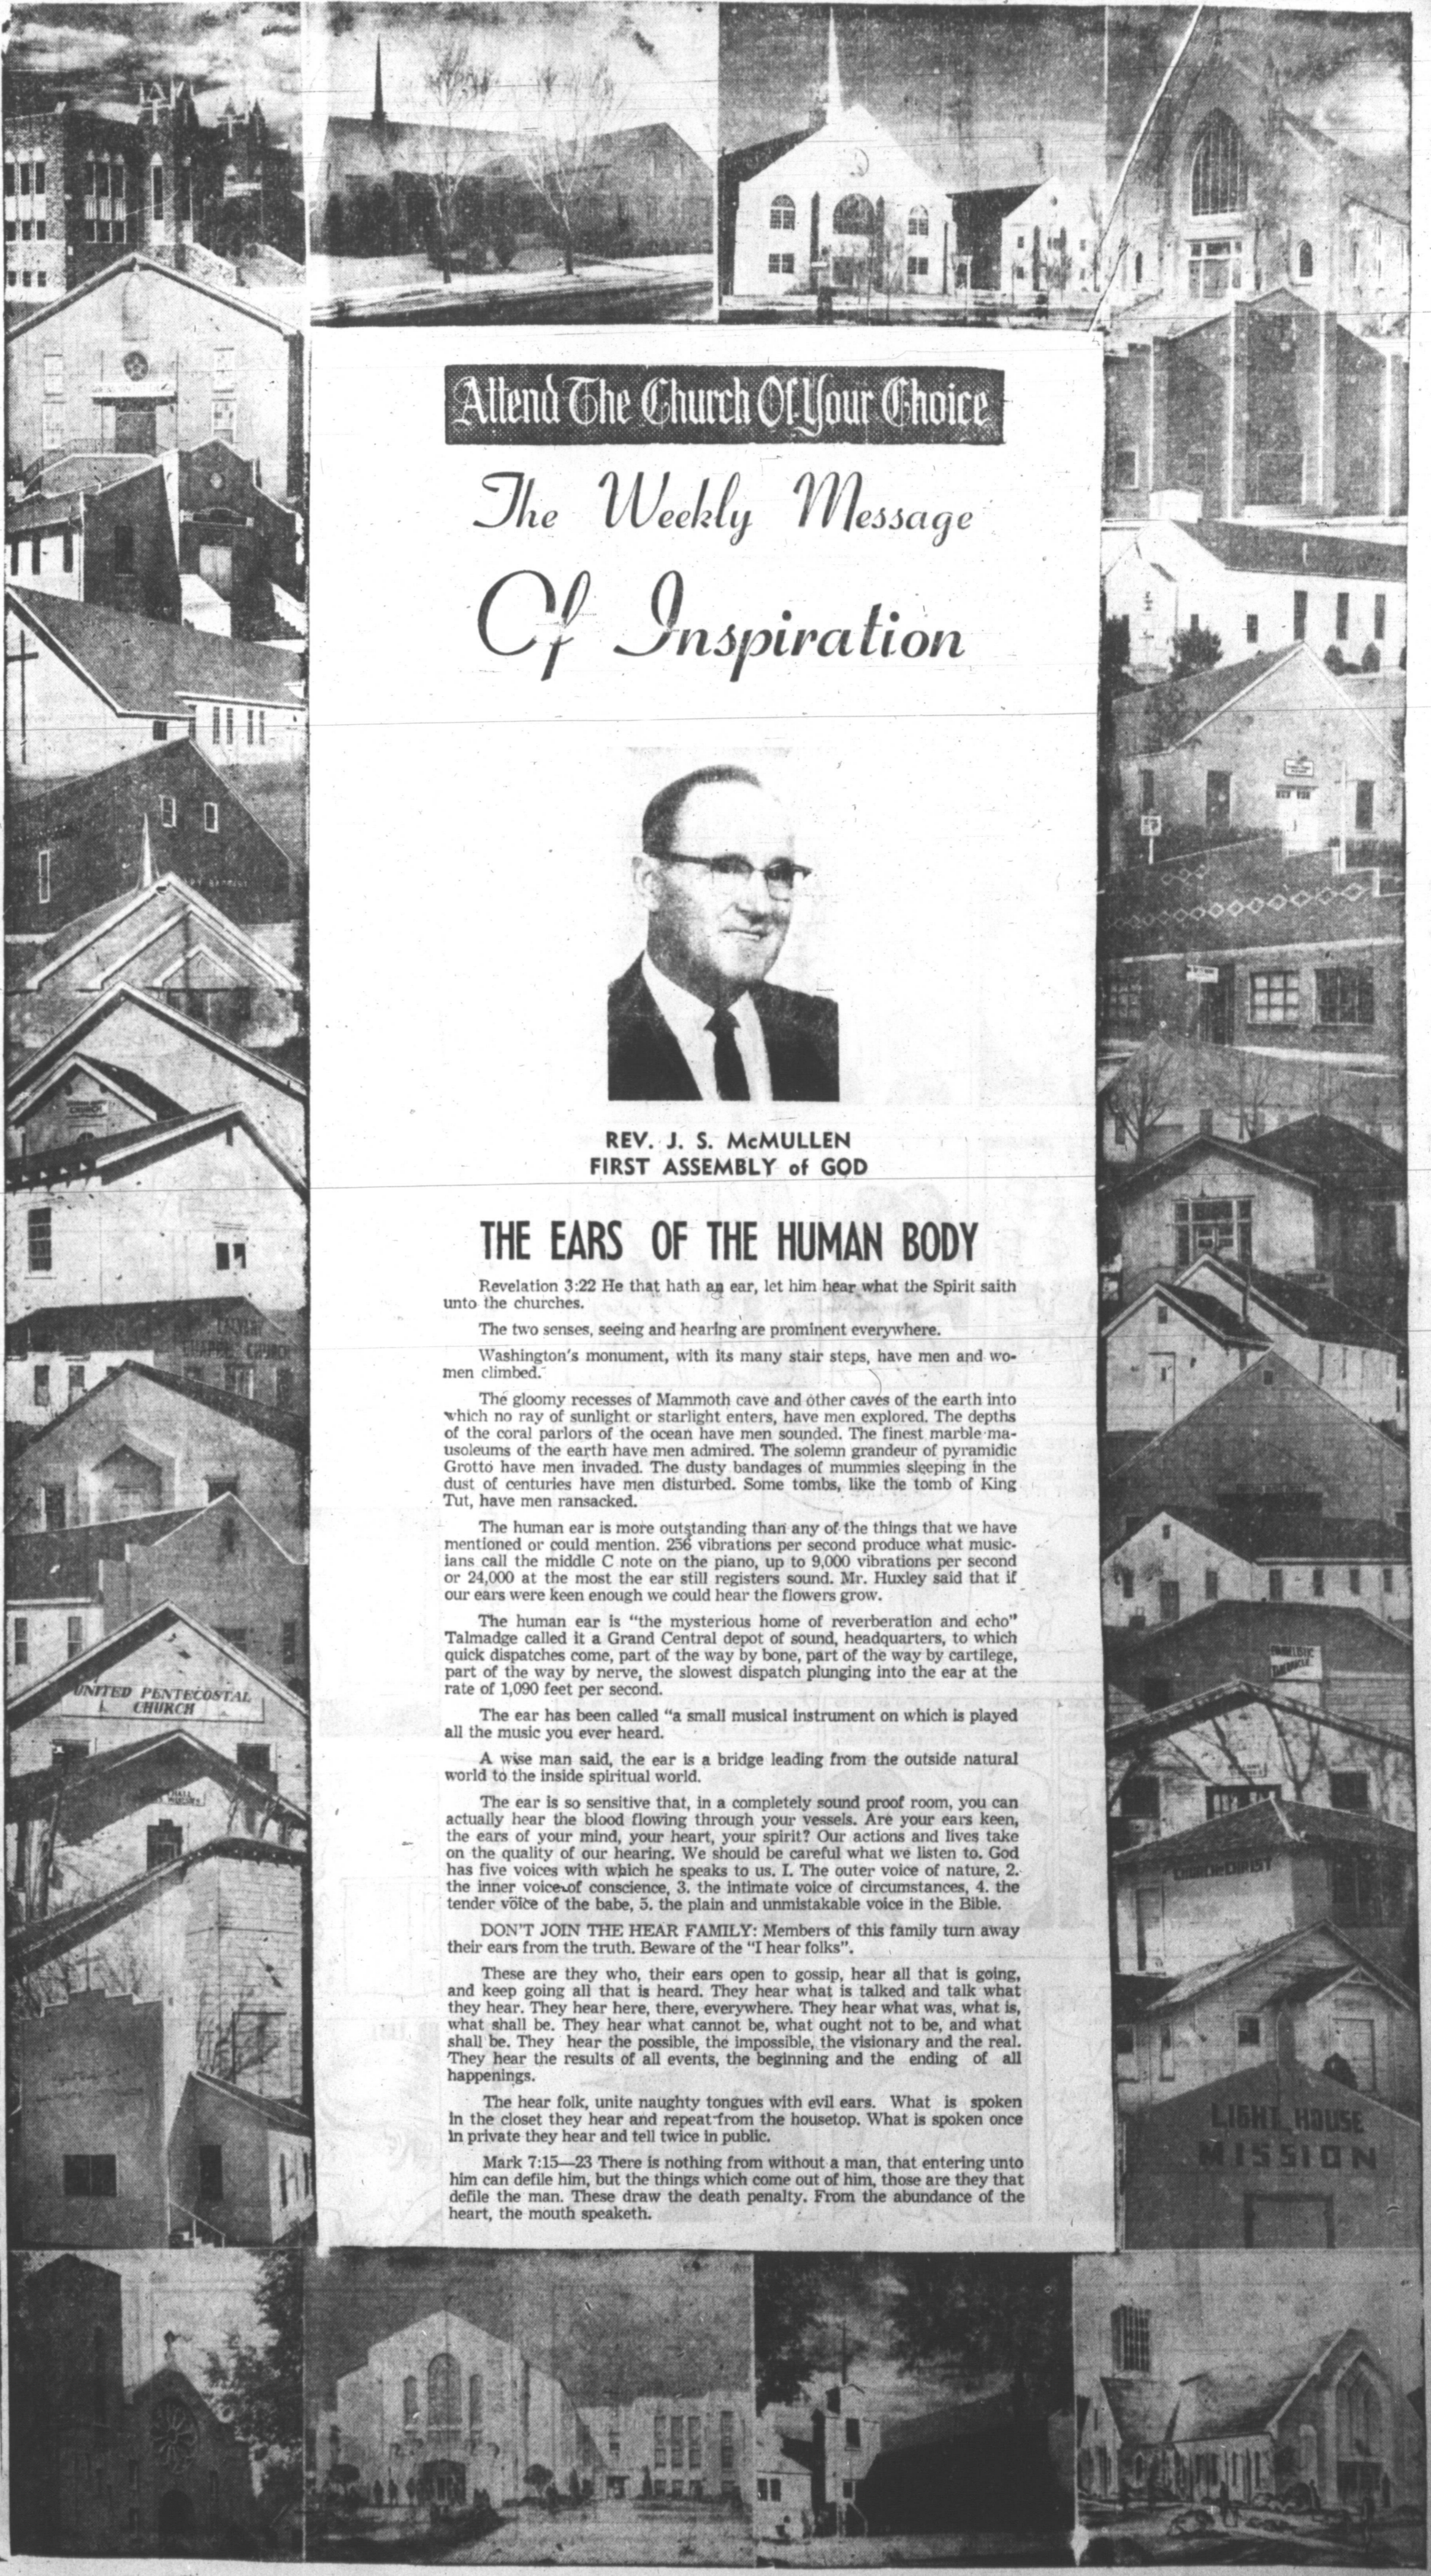

The ear is so sensitive that, in a completely sound proof room, you can actually hear the blood flowing through your vessels. Are your ears keen, the ears of your mind, your heart, your spirit? Our actions and lives take on the quality of our hearing. We should be careful what we listen to. God has five voices with which he speaks to us. 1. The outer voice of nature, 2. the inner voice of conscience, 3. the intimate voice of circumstances, 4. the tender voice of the babe, 5. the plain and unmistakable voice in the Bible.

DON'T JOIN THE HEAR FAMILY: Members of this family turn away their ears from the truth. Beware of the "I hear folks".

These are they who, their ears open to gossip, hear all that is going, and keep going all that is heard. They hear what is talked and talk what they hear. They hear here, there, everywhere. They hear what was, what is, what shall be. They hear what cannot be, what ought not to be, and what shall be. They hear the possible, the impossible, the visionary and the real. They hear the results of all events, the beginning and the ending of all happenings.

The hear folk, unite naughty tongues with evil ears. What is spoken in the closet they hear and repeat from the housetop. What is spoken once in private they hear and tell twice in public.

Mark 7:15-23 There is nothing from without a man, that entering unto him can defile him, but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. These draw the death penalty. From the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh.

Dear Abby.... Don't Waste Valuable Time on Unsure Male

DEAR ABBY: How can I help the man I love overcome his fear of marriage? We are both in our forties and have been married before.

My marriage ended in failure after 19 years, and his was a happy one until his wife died of a lingering illness after ten years. He says he will never marry again because he could not bear to go through the experience of losing another wife. His mother, with whom he lives, is raising his children, and he has a good home with her, so it's not as if he needs a home.

He says he loves me very much and he knows he would never find a better wife, but he just cannot face another marriage. I love him, Abby, and want so desperately to be his wife. How can I help him get over his fear of marriage?

BREMERTON
DEAR BREMERTON: For a man to deny himself happiness today because he may lose it tomorrow doesn't make much sense. Very few things in life are "forever"—and there are no guarantees. Don't waste too much time on this man if you have marriage in mind. He hasn't.

DEAR ABBY: How old do you think a little boy should be before he has his first haircut? I have heard that if a child's hair is curly and you cut it before his first birthday it will grow in straight.

My son is a year old and he has a beautiful head of curls. I would be just sick if I had them cut off and his hair grew in straight after that. He is such a beautiful child, although many people mistake him for a girl.

HIS MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Cut the child's hair, and if it grows in straight after that, forget it. Worse things can happen to a boy than losing his curls. And one of them is being constantly mistaken for a girl.

DEAR ABBY: I am an unattached woman in my late fifties. I frequently receive dinner invitations from gentlemen who come to town on business, having been in business myself for many years. I enjoy their company and want to reciprocate without going to the fuss and bother of preparing a dinner for two in my own apartment, so I invite them to be my guests at a fine restaurant.

I stress that they are to be my guests, but somehow, when the waiter presents the bill, I wind up being the guest. Not wanting to make a scene I quietly surrender, but it bothers me knowing that in some cases I am better able to pay the check than the gentleman. How does a lady get the check when she truly wants to be the hostess?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: When you make the dinner reservation, select a restaurant where you are known and have an account. Instruct the maitre d' to charge everything to your account, including the usual gratuities. No muss, no fuss, no check, no embarrassment, and everyone will be happy.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband recently died a very untimely death. He owed me seven months back alimony. How can I collect?

HOLDING THE BAG
DEAR HOLDING: Ask your lawyer if you may file a claim against your former husband's

NEW YORK (NEA)—Six lucky, lovely and charming teen-agers, all local winners of the Miss Teenage America Pageant, were together for a week in New York City and, boy, did the fashion and beauty tips fly.

These girls represented a cross-section of the United States as members of the National Teen Boards, a division of Puritan Fashions Corp. They were here to attend beauty and fashion seminars.

Poised and sparkling, the girls answered questions at the seminar on a multitude of topics that ranged from fashion preferences to beauty ideas and future careers.

Den mother to this talented troop of 64 is Joyce Wilson, executive vice president of Teen America Associates. Each year she has the exciting and rewarding job of advising teen girls on good grooming and how to stay calm and switched-on when a contestant in the Miss Teenage America contest.

Miss Wilson feels that her chic, up-to-the-minute appearance is due to the constant exchange of ideas with "her girls."

Each girl has her own beauty recipe and here is a tasteful sampling:

—Jan Gjojik, Chicago, discovered lip gloss and likes it because it keeps her lips moist and unchapped. She keeps cologne and witch hazel in the refrigerator—finds it more refreshing this way. She dabs witch hazel on her eyes to help keep their sparkle.

—Linda Sullivan, Dallas, finds that if she powders under the eyebrow, her eyeliner won't leave a mark on the upper lid.

—Diane Remillard, St. Albans, Vt., likes a bright lipstick and uses a brush to define her finely chiseled lips.

—Judy Jacobs, Detroit, likes liner but only on the upper lid and extends the line slightly because her eyes tend to be overly round. To keep her fingernail polish looking neat, she always begins with a base coat.

—Janet Heft, Wichita, Kans., feels that posture is the mainstay in looking your best and what a point she makes. She likes her teeth to sparkle and

FOR SATURDAY, SEPT. 12

GENERAL FORECAST—Today's aspects may do almost exclusively with ideas and new methods by which to put into practice the results of scientific findings and mental decisions you have made that have to do with policy matters and this applies to the decisions of heads of companies and nations as well as with individuals.

ARIES—Mar. 21 to Apr. 19: There are some urgent matters for you to do scrupulously this Saturday that are the possible all other times. Be sure you do not argue with fate. This could lead to serious trouble later on.

Taurus—Apr. 20 to May 20: If you act foolishly in any way, others can certainly give this up enormously in your desire for some time to come. Be courteous, use kind words instead of criticism. Maintain harmony.

GEMINI—May 21 to June 21: It is important that you rest up more during this weekend if you are to accomplish all that you have planned for next week. Learn to be more persevering, though your intent is good. Success can be increased.

MOON CHILDREN—June 22 to July 21: More cooperation with allies is needed if you hope to get those ideas operating properly now, plus a cheerful attitude and much accomplished first. Then off to the pleasures that beckon.

LEO—July 22 to Aug. 23: Being wise or improving conditions at home and getting rid of whatever brings nothing but disappointment is wise. Fanciful ideas and plans could drop on you. Let them do most of the talking and learn their lesson.

VIRGO—Aug. 24 to Sept. 23: Think carefully before doing what you have in mind that is fraught with danger or risk. Be very careful with money when making some important purchase, or even a small one. Stay on the safe side of life.

LIBRA—Sept. 24 to Oct. 23: Be very careful of taking any sort of risks at all since this could lead to loss of some magnitude if it proves or money. Keep feet in the ground. Think before you speak. Also, be only with congenials in p.p.

SCORPIO—Oct. 24 to Nov. 23: If you who outspoke or successful tactics with others. They may retaliate in a very unpleasant way.

For Soft, Silky Hair

If your hair is brittle after the drying effects of sun, wind and salt or chlorine water, shampoo it with a rich lanolin cream. Apply a whole tube of the treatment cream if necessary and leave it on overnight. Rinse it out next morning, then set as usual. Repeat each week until your hair feels soft and silky again.

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Big Brother Reads the Want Ads

Big Brother in Washington has started enforcement of his rules against discrimination in employment advertising. It's a part of the 1964 civil "rights" legislation.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has launched its campaign against advertisers it believes are guilty of violating the ban on discrimination on account of sex, race or religion.

National Publisher, a publication of the National Newspaper Association, says:

"Charges have been filed against 75 advertisers, after a review of 18,000 help-wanted ads in 21 newspapers in all areas of the U. S. More charges are promised."

"Examples of violations cited by EEOC in sex classification are 'Man... next appearance'. Executive sales positions for men. 'Lady in charge... north-side shop... insurance trainee... man age 22 to 25...'"

"Examples of conflict with the racial, religious and national origin clause are 'white attendant'. Middle aged Latin American."

"Under EEOC's interpretation, it is permissible to run an ad either in the 'Help Wanted—Male' or 'Help Wanted—Female' column. However, an advertiser employing 100 or more may not state his preference as to sex in an ad unless he is prepared to show occupational qualification."

Thus again is demonstrated that individuals have no authority under the law to have a preference—that is all discrimination is. So, if an individual wants to employ a person of a specific sex, just because he personally prefers to have a person of that sex on that job, he is going to be in trouble, unless he can convince some bureaucrat that sex is an occupational qualification."

But if he wants to hire a man or woman of Mexican or Russian or Negro origin, it would appear he does not have even a chance to "show occupational background." The employer might think it is good for his business to have Latin-Americans, but Big Brother says no.

And the same holds true for someone who prefers to hire only Catholics or Jews, Protestants, Mohammedans or Atheists. After all, the wonderful wizards of Washington know best.

And, incidentally, was there any discrimination in the selection of the 21 newspapers in which the bureaucrats scanned the want ads? Obviously there was some method of choice. To us that is discrimination.

Please note that the charges were filed against the advertisers, not the newspapers. The lawmakers and their bureaucratic law-enforcers aren't about to tangle with the freedom of the press provision of the Constitution.

Despite this immunity from prosecution, most newspapers, including The Pampa News, carefully check help-wanted ads to assist advertisers in keeping within the bounds of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act and interpretations. That the federal nitpickers found only 75 "offending" ads out of 18,000 checked indicates that both advertisers and newspapers are being pretty careful.

Building Peace a la Rusk

Watching youngsters returning to school, we found ourselves thinking especially about two groups among them — those young lads entering high school for the first time this year, and the much younger ones being trundled off to first grade. We got to thinking about what is in store for them after they get their high school diplomas. Will they be graduated into the draft for the war in Vietnam? Or other Vietnams?

And then we started recalling statements by various administration spokesmen. Take the statement of Secretary of State Dean Rusk before the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee on August 30. He said that he feels we're doing all right with a casualty rate of only 100 Americans per week because — we could be having 10,000 or even 100,000 per week. Mr. Rusk said "Our purpose is to build peace" and that we've been doing just that since 1945. "We can have a great war any time we want," he told the Senators; then he cited as outstanding successes of U. S. policy the fact that we didn't have a big war over the Berlin blockade, or the Berlin wall, or Cuba, and so on.

Since our Secretary of State thinks it's too risky of a "big" war to try to win a "little" one, our question seems to be answered with regard to this year's high school freshmen.

As for the first graders — perhaps a clue to the answer lies in President Johnson's remarks to the American Legion convention, also on August 30. He said, in effect, that we can expect similar conflicts elsewhere after the war in Vietnam (whenever that might be), unless meanwhile we are able to eliminate poverty throughout the world. Our "adversaries," as he called them, referring to Communist strategists, "have done us at least one great service" by telling us that the war in Vietnam "is meant to be the opening salvo in a series" of such wars.

Now, back to Secretary Rusk speaking simultaneously before the Senate Committee: he was saying that "the other side" largely determines what our future military commitments will be. If that kind of thinking prevails, certain it is that those young lads now beginning their first grade will also get the opportunity to assist in military uniform in the building of peace a la Rusk.

National 4-H Week Coming

National 4-H Week will be observed throughout the country from September 24 through October 1. Recognition will be given to the achievements of nearly 2.25 million boys and girls who participate in the activities of some 96,000 4-H clubs.

Organized for young people between the ages of 9-19 in cities, towns, suburbs and rural areas, 4-H clubs carry on a wide variety of educational projects in civic and community service, in farming home-making and personal improvement. The goal of developing good citizenship is foremost in all 4-H programs. This goal is emphasized by the national 4-H emblem which stands for the pledge: "My Head to clearer thinking, My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service, My Health to better living, for my club, my community and my country."

By this pledge, millions of

Red Guard Tied Into Revolution

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Things are not always what they seem in Red China.

There's usually an obvious purpose in what the Red leaders do. Then there's another objective hidden below the surface.

The obvious aim of the carefully planned rioting and destruction carried out by the Red Guard youth in Communist China is to subdue Lin Piao's real and potential opponents and other enemies of the system.

A more fundamental and parallel aim was explained by Mao Tse-tung in an interview with Edgar Snow Jan. 9, 1965.

As Snow reports it in paraphrase, Mao said:

"Of course, those in China now under the age of 20 had never fought a war and (had) never seen an imperialist or known capitalism in power. They know nothing about the old society at first hand. Parents could tell them but to hear about history and to read books is not the same thing as living it."

Mao saw two possibilities for the future. There could be a continued development of the revolution toward communism. The other possibility was that youth could negate the revolution... and make peace with imperialism, bringing the remnants of the Chiang Kai-shek "clique" back to the mainland.

Both Mao and Lin Piao have made it clear they fear that many of China's youth have lost the "spirit" of the revolution. They have never fought in a revolutionary underground, lived the rugged self-depriving life of the guerrilla or fought to the death for a cause.

The young people of Red China have been turning more and more of late to old China and Western ways of pleasure and profit — and philosophy Red Chinese have said on numerous occasions they believe they must do something to win back the youth.

One firm Red Chinese principle is that once you have gotten people to engage in illegal or violent action for you, they are committed to your side.

By putting the Red Guards through this bath of hate and destructive action Mao and Lin hope to give them the feel of revolution. By having them actually engage in violence, Mao and Lin hope psychologically to commit the youth firmly to the revolution and to the Lin Piao group within the Red Chinese hierarchy.

By having the Red Guard destroy Western works of art, drive out the few religious schools remaining, attack merchants, intellectuals and those who dress in Western style, Mao and Lin have a revolution substitute.

By sending teams of students into the countryside with quotas based on population on how many officials and "political deviationists" to purge, Mao and Lin give these young people a feeling of power and place in the "revolution."

These, in principle, are the same techniques the Viet Cong use in Viet Nam's rural hamlets. A young man is lured into errands, then into sabotage or killing for the Reds. By these acts he commits himself to their side. Even if he's no Communist or becomes disillusioned later, he has burned his bridges behind him — or so he is made to feel.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: "Does anyone ever really get something for nothing?"

ANSWER: We do not believe there is any such thing as "something for nothing." It is true that some people receive temporary advantages at the expense of others, but in the long run they will pay for them.

For instance, some people believe they are getting "free" goodies from the government at the expense of the tax payers. Now they are paying the price of those goodies in the erosion of their dollar savings through inflation. The inflation is caused principally through the government's use of printing press money to finance those "give-away" programs.

Another instance of the loss of self-responsibility and self-respect of individuals who accept the government handouts. Individuals who once were willing and eager to do for themselves frequently lose this attitude after getting on some sort of dole.

Top Billing, the World Over

Pull Up A Chair

One of the latest trends in suburbia is to plan a school building for round-the-clock use throughout the year.

Regular school sessions keep the buildings in use only 180 days a year. But many of the new school houses combine a branch of the public library for student and adult use, provide meeting rooms for civic organizations, and offer gymnasium and swimming pool facilities for adult exercise groups.

Use of the buildings gives individuals with or without children a greater interest in the school system than is frequently manifested by political support. All of which makes us wonder if the school authorities didn't plan it that way.

Today's smile: A youngster attending school for the first time was asked by his teacher: "Do you know your 'A, B, C's'?" "Of course not," he replied, "this is only my first day of school."

If you would like to keep your name alive after your death and gain a small measure of immortality, just subscribe to a magazine and you're on a mailing list. There are firms all over the country that specialize in selling mailing lists which include the names and addresses of prospective customers for a product or service. This business has been developed to such a high degree that the firms offering the lists guarantee to reimburse the customer the cost of the envelopes, postage and labor on all post office returns.

The chances are very good that your name is on many lists if you only subscribed to a single magazine in the past 10 years.

Thoughts while shaving: You frequently hear of hailstones as big as marbles or baseballs after a severe summer storm, and the narrators may be right. But the largest hailstones ever authenticated in the U.S. fell at Potter, Nebraska, in July 1928. They averaged one and one-half pounds and measured 17 inches in circumference. A recent study discloses that those who eat breakfast are not as prone to accidents as those who don't. But, don't ask us why. . . . And tests by the Army Quartermaster Corps reveal that a perspiring G.I. on training maneuvers in Arizona this summer lost as much as a quart of water an hour. And the average person can lose as much as a pint an hour on a hot summer day just walking leisurely. . . . Now that the $2 bill has been ruled obsolete by the Treasury Department, the only good use we can recall that it had was to cover the purchase of a $2 ticket at a race track. However, the $2 bill is one of the oldest forms of U.S. currency. It was first authorized by the Continental Congress in 1776. Because of its unpopularity the average $2 bill has a life span of six years, while the $1 and $5 bills wear out in only 18 months. . . . EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Do Businessmen Realize What They Ask of Wives?

By KIRK WELS
Business Editor

Back many years I heard a sage formula for economic success: "Don't marry a woman . . . marry your business" was the terse advice.

Oddly enough the speaker (an older man) was both married and highly successful financially. And, up to that point, it had been my impression that he truly loved his wife, despite the fact that he often broke social commitments for business and she either went alone or spent the evening alone at home in dinner dress.

He did love his wife . . . and it was this which prompted, at least partially, his remark.

Must Be 'First'

"If a business is to become successful, it must come FIRST at all times. The difference between success and failure is management's ability to take the right action at the right time, an ability which is dulled immeasurably if he's not on top of things 24 hours a day. . . ."

He went on to explain that this did not mean "no time off," but did mean that "planned time off" must go by the boards if something in the business called for his attention. In a new business (or new acquisition, or new expansion) this meant his personal attention, and personal knowledge of "just what's going on" in all aspects of his business and his industry.

Time To Suffer

As time goes on, he said, the smart entrepreneur surrounds himself with men who also "marry the business" and can share some of the load. But this takes time. And, in the meantime, the wife . . . and the family . . . must suffer.

Country Editor speaking: "Don't forget you get paid for using your brain, not for having one."

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADY

Children Alone in Cars Are Beset With Dangers

A mother left her three children, all under 5, in her auto while she gave a pint of blood to the blood bank. She remembered to shut off the motor but when she came back to the auto the children were dead.

As a safety precaution she had closed all the windows and locked the doors. The children died of suffocation. One small child alone might have survived but three used up the available oxygen at an accelerated rate. Abandoned refrigerators are not the only way small children can be asphyxiated.

Let us suppose for a moment that, when the mother returned to the car, the children were unconscious, but not dead. What steps would be necessary to revive them? With others helping her, they should first have been placed upward on the ground and examined for the three signs of asphyxia — unconsciousness, a bluish tinge of the lips and a rolling backward of the eyes.

Kneeling beside the victim the rescuer should determine whether he is breathing. If not, artificial respiration should be started at once.

The simplest and most effective means is for the rescuer to place his mouth over that of the victim, pinch his nostrils shut and blow. For babies or very young children you can cover both the nose and mouth with your mouth. After blowing, remove your mouth and listen for a rush of returning air. If you don't hear it there may be an obstruction in his air passage. Slap him on the back to dislodge any foreign body, make sure the neck is extended and try again. When the victim starts breathing he should be allowed to inhale pure oxygen, if any is available.

If, when he is found, the victim is breathing but unconscious, you should determine whether his heart is beating. If it is not, you should exert moderate pressure over the breastbone about once every second. Too heavy a pressure can fracture the ribs, so this maneuver should be done only by someone who has had experience with it.

Since the brain will not survive more than seven minutes without oxygen, attempts at resuscitation beyond this period are not likely to day any good.

Washington Crime Rate

(Washington Evening Star)

The statistics speak for themselves. Serious crime in Washington for the month of July ran 27.6 per cent above that of July, 1965. In the year ending last month, the figure for crimes solved was 27.2 per cent. In the preceding year it was 36 per cent.

Most interesting of all was a news account which said that the trend of crime last month "was a 127.9 per cent increase over the trend of June, 1947, when a long-term rise in serious offenses began."

This is statistical item which needs to be put in its proper setting. It was in June, 1957, that the Supreme court announced its decision in the Mallory case—a decision which, with the subsequent enlargements upon it, gravely hampered the police in crime detection and prevention. There are, of course, those who contend to the contrary. But is a 127.9 per cent upward trend in crime since the Mallory ruling purely coincidental? We do not think so.

Nor is this the end of this law-enforcement matter. The Mallory rule had its principal application only in Washington. But the Supreme court this summer handed down another decision which virtually rules out the use of voluntary confessions by criminals throughout the country. Again, there are those (not many) who deny that this will lead directly to more crime and fewer convictions. We think these people are sadly mistaken. And Washington's deplorable experience under Mallory certainly tends to confirm this view.

HOW TO MAKE A SLUM

We don't make slums any more in the old-fashioned way, which required many low-paid workers, run-down and unsafe buildings which nobody tried to improve, and general apathy. We have a new recipe.

Instead of apathy, begin with a loudly trumpeted public concern over "beautifying" a city and over the dreadful state of slum-dwellers. Take out the low-paid workers and replace them with men, women and large numbers of illegitimate children on relief. Announce to the world that major improvements are underway. Then bulldoze to the ground several large areas of substandard housing and build high-rise apartments in their place.

There's just one thing wrong with this apparently tasty dish: the social reformers and governments planners have set before the public. They forgot about the people who were living in the slum, despite all the talk about them. When their former lodgings were torn down and luxury apartments went up, they had to move elsewhere. They certainly could not move into the luxury apartments.

The city of Cleveland was recently swept by savage rioting originating in the area known as Hough, a slum. As recently as ten years ago, Hough was not a slum at all. It has since become a slum because of the fantastic overcrowding resulting from urban renewal projects in other parts of Cleveland. Lower tenants, forced out of their living quarters by urban renewal, streamed into Hough which was one of the few areas where low rents were still available.

Only self-improvement of substandard areas can abolish slums. Urban renewal merely spreads the disease.

I'm not talking about the dollars they have to spend; young folks need a sense of belonging, of service, of pride in what they do and have. We all do.

How can businessmen help provide this for their own children when their time is spent getting the business job done?

Here again is another burden for mom. And, if she fails to measure up to demands that could kill the strongest, the result is family failure and, ultimately, the loss of productive society through political action. This is a certainty. . . . because . . . political rules are those of the majority, and the voting majority in the United States continues to get younger and younger. . . . composed of the children who have been exposed to the "good and necessary" of business itself.

Obviously the expressed "rule for success" and its problems apply also to other arenas, such as medicine and even politics. Today we've talked about the problems of success in generalities. Next we'll take some specifics, talking about what's happened in specific families right around here. There might be some thoughts in it for you.

The Almanac

Today is Friday, September 16, the 259th day of 1966 with 106 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Saturn, Jupiter, Mars and Venus.

The evening star is Saturn. American historian Francis Parkman was born on this day in 1823.

On this day in history: In 1630, the Massachusetts village of Shawmut changed its name to Boston.

In 1893, the Cherokee strip in Oklahoma was opened to homesteaders. More than 100,000 persons rushed to claim land.

In 1920, 30 persons were killed and at least 100 injured in a bomb explosion on Wall Street in New York City.

In 1963, the nation of Malaysia was established. A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "There are several good protections against temptations, but the surest is cowardice."

Wit and Whimsy

Friend—Who is really the boss in your house?

George — Well, of course, Margie assumes command of the children, the servants, the dog, the cat and the canary. But I can say pretty much what I please to the goldfish.

Mrs. Newlywed (indignantly) — I've told you to keep out of the kitchen, Dick. Now see what you've done — knocked down my cookery book and lost my page and I haven't the faintest idea what I was cooking!

Zeb — They always said that old man Jones was good to his folks.

Zek — Yes, he was, he was hardly ever home.

Fact

Russia has the largest bells in the world. Largest is the "Tsar Kolokol" (king of bells), cast in 1733. It is more than 19 feet in diameter, weighs 193 tons and has never been rung. Fire destroyed its supports in 1737. The largest bell now in use also is in Moscow. Highest bells in the world are in the Metropolitan Life Insurance tower in New York City. They can be heard 28 miles away.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

After a break even first week of 6-6, two games ended in ties, this selection 'expert' will again attempt to pick the winners of Friday night's high school encounters.

Already the upsets have started. Who would ever have thought that upstart McLean would beat a Colie Huffman team at Shamrock that's supposed to be on its way up.

But on with this week's winners:

WICHITA FALLS 13, AMARILLO 7—For three years now the Coyotes have fallen to the mighty Sandies but old Putt won't have anything to crow about this year.

BORGER 19, EL PASO IRVING 10—The Bulldogs showed a lot of promise against a good Oklahoma team last week. When you can tie an Oklahoma team using Oklahoma reforms you've done something.

EL PASO CORONADO 10, CAPROCK 0—The Longhorns showed a lot of promise last week but it is hard to win away from home unless you have a really good team.

ODESSA PERMIAN 21, MONTEREY 7—Coach Gene Mayfield's charges won't lose two in a row and Monterey didn't show much last week.

PAMPA 21, WICHITA FALLS RIDER 7—The Harvesters are on the march and Rider won't stand in their way. Watch for more running from Ted Heiskell.

CORONADO 19, ROSWELL N.M. 8—The new school in district 3-4A showed a lot of promise against Monterey and wants this first win in the worst way.

ODESSA 21, LUBBOCK 14—The Westerners just don't have much in the way of power this year and Odessa is tired of playing second fiddle to Permian.

MIDLAND 16, PALO DURO 0—The Dons are still looking for that scoring punch but they won't find it against Midland.

PLAINVIEW 28, BIG SPRING 16—The Bulldogs are still smarting from that narrow loss last week and want to show the home folk they can win.

TASCOSA 16, MIDLAND LEE 14—The Rebels could be ripe for an early season upset after a splendid game against Permian last week.

PERRYTON 28, WOODWARD, OKLA. 10—The Rangers are a good, solid team. Watch that passing attack click this week.

CANADIAN 10, LEFORS 7—The Pirates could gain their first victory of the season here. But the Wildcats are a lot bigger.

WHITE DEER 29, PANHANDLE 0—Who can beat the Bucks. Panhandle can't.

WHEELER 31, ERICK, OKLA. 0—Here the Mustangs pick up on a weak Oklahoma team. The score could be much worse.

MCLEAN 16, BOY RANCH 10—Never again shall we pick against the Tigers who showed much determination last week.

GROOM 7, CLAUDE 0—The Tigers are lacking a little on offense but more than make up for it with a fine defensive club.

Dodgers Up Lead in NL By 5-3 Win

With Gemini II down to Earth, the Los Angeles Dodgers are in orbit all by themselves.

The Dodgers rocketed another phase closer to their second consecutive National League pennant by downing second-place Pittsburgh 5-3 Thursday night for their seventh victory in a row.

Big Don Drysdale provided the boost by hurling three-hit ball until the ninth inning when Roberto Cleme and Willie Stargell homered with two out. Reliever Phil (The Vulture) Regan retired Don Clendenon on an easy fly to left as the Dodgers moved 2 1/2 games in front of the Pirates.

"I had good stuff, as good as at anytime this season," Drysdale said after winning No. 10 against 16 setbacks. "I would have pitched differently in the ninth if it had been a closer game. Both homers hit off me were up around the letters and those two guys really hit the ball hard."

"I hope nobody in the stands got hurt catching those balls," he added. "But the Pirates do have one of the best clubs I've seen. When they get a rally going they're really hard to stop."

Orioles Sweep A Doubleheader

By United Press International

The "Welcome Home" banners are waving for Baltimore's Tom Phoebus, and there's even talk of laminating his arm in gold.

Phoebus, a 24-year-old right-hander, made his major league debut in his native city Thursday night and responded with a nifty four-hitter as the league-leading Orioles edged the California Angels 2-0 before completing a doubleheader sweep with a 4-3 victory in the nightcap.

The 5-foot-8-inch Phoebus was called up by the Orioles from the Rochester Red Wings earlier this week after his team had been eliminated from the International League playoffs. His arrival came at an opportune moment with the Orioles pitching staff having turned in only one complete game since Aug. 6.

Strikeout Leader
Phoebus finished with a 13-0 record at Rochester but had a league-leading 207 strikeouts and completed 14 games.

"I was disappointed about being cut after spring training and thought a little about quitting," Phoebus said after his bit league debut. "But I think I had my best year in professional ball."

In other American League action, Detroit beat Minnesota 8-5, Boston edged Chicago 5-4.

Four Golfers Tied With 67s in Oregon Golf Meet

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Four players including leading money-winner Bill Casper carried a one-stroke lead today into the second round of the $50,000 Portland Open golf tournament.

Casper, the U.S. Open champion, was after his fourth Portland title, a feat that has eluded him since he won the first three events in 1959-60-61 and since Jack Nicklaus turned professional in 1962.

Nicklaus has won three times since and is the defending champion but he has some ground to make up to keep his title. With his 72 Thursday, he trailed the leading group by five strokes.

He was tied with Bill Martindale, Peter Brown and Bob Goalby. Behind them were a quartet knotted at 68: Dave Hill, Bert Yancey, Laurie Hammer and John Schlee.

Forty-three golfers turned in sub-par rounds and 68 shot par or better despite complaints that the 6,390-yard Columbia Edgewater Country Club course was playing "long" because of dampness and heavy air. It has rained lightly the last two days.

Goalby, 18th leading money winner, posted his 67 early and led the tournament for several hours. He needed only 30 putts but credited his driver for his share of the lead.

Brown, who has won only $2,132 this year, came in with a 34-32. He executed the day's most dramatic shot, sinking a 150-yard nine iron shot for an eagle two on the fourth hole.

Casper registered four consecutive birdies during the middle of his round, holing putts from 6 to 8 feet after deadly approaches.

THE COLOR VOICES for regular National Football League telecasts involving teams they once played for are supplied by these four famous all-pros, top row: 1. Frank Gifford, New York Giants; 2. Tony Canadeo, Green Bay Packers; 3. George Connor, Chicago Bears; 4. Tom Brookshier, Philadelphia Eagles. Can you pair them with pictures from their active starring days?

Halas Faces LA Rams

By United Press International

Although George Halas scored a convincing moral victory over George Allen in the courtroom, the Papa Bear can expect a lot more opposition from the defense on the gridiron.

Halas brought Allen to court last January on a breach of contract suit to prevent him from becoming head coach of the Los Angeles Rams.

The Chicago Bear owner and coach contended that Allen had a two-year contract with him which was valid and binding. The presiding judge agreed and stated that Allen had breached the contract by not having written permission to leave Chicago and by verbally agreeing to take employment from the Rams.

But before anything further could happen, Halas voluntarily took the stand and dropped the suit, saying, "Allen was a minor issue here. The validity of the contract was the real issue. But I am pleased with your decision, your honor. Your important ruling will uphold the integrity between National Football League clubs and sanctity of contracts."

Allen and his rejuvenated Rams face Halas' Bears for the first time this season tonight at Los Angeles. Allen, the architect of Chicago's awesome defensive platoon before Halas turned him loose, rebuilt the Rams' fortifications and strengthened their attack.

The results were a 19-14 opening-game victory over Atlanta with an offense that totaled 421 yards and a defense that limited the Falcons to just

Texas, Arkansas, Huskers To Get Intial Big Tests

By United Press International

Coach Pau; Dietzel of South Carolina and sophomore quarterback Bill Bradley of Texas will walk a common bed of hot coals this Saturday, and this early test may prove if they are capable of avoiding the taste of their own ashes.

Dietzel, who will direct his South Carolina squad against his former Louisiana State team, and Bradley, who will lead the highly-touted Longhorns against a rugged Southern California squad in a nationally televised game, rank as the men on the spot this week as college football experiences its first big weekend of the season.

The Longhorns have their usual tight defense and will not give away many points, but just how many they can score will depend on Bradley. The youngster will have his work cut out for him early as the Trojans boast perhaps the best secondary in the nation. Bradley's pre-season billing makes the Longhorns a slight three-point choice.

While Bradley and Dietzel will get most of the individual attention, Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska are the teams that will bear the most watching.

Arkansas, ranked No. 2 in 1966, has an excellent quarterback in Jon Brittenum and solid defense led by All-America Loyd Phillips. The Razorbacks also have a fairly easy schedule beginning with Oklahoma State, over whom they rate a solid 7-point favorite.

Nebraska, the nation's third-ranked team last year, has five offensive and seven defensive regulars returning from last season's undefeated squad.

Michigan State, ranked No. 1, has a strong offense led by quarterback Jim Taylor and a defense that will be tested by the Longhorns.

Nebraska's defense, led by defensive end Tom O'Brien, will be tested by the Longhorns' offense.

Arkansas' offense, led by quarterback Jon Brittenum, will be tested by the Longhorns' defense.

Michigan State's offense, led by quarterback Jim Taylor, will be tested by the Longhorns' defense.

Arkansas' defense, led by defensive end Tom O'Brien, will be tested by the Longhorns' offense.

Machines for Mail

More than ever, machines are going to be the key to processing mail in the far-reaching modernization program now under way in the Post Office Department. Some of the new devices making their appearances in post offices across the nation are shown here.

Closed-circuit television systems aid in regulating flow of mail and detecting jam-up points.

High-speed letter-sorting machines can be operated either manually or electronically.

Optical Zip Code "readers" scan and sort incoming and outgoing mail at rate of 36,000 pieces an hour.

Canceling machines sort out letters, face them in the same direction and cancel the stamps at a rate of 30,000 an hour.

New Mexico U. Faculty Graded

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) —Hopeless old fogies of yesterday can remember when it was standard practice for the prof to grade the student.

But this year at the University of New Mexico, the students are grading the profs, in the first edition of "UNM course guide." The guide was prepared by students for a democratic society and information was obtained through questionnaires sent to students.

Some of the answers were highly flattering, but others were not so kind, as the one which described a professor by saying "can't teach worth a damn."

One student who apparently couldn't hear his professor complained "mumbled to such an extent as to make hearing difficult at times." Another, who apparently had different ideas about the facts than the professor, said "he is tremendously unobjective regarding factual questions and their answers."

The saddest comment came from an obviously unhappy student who claimed "often gave bad information and penalized you when you followed his instructions."

Congregations. NEW YORK (UPI) — The number of congregations in 10 Lutheran church bodies in the United States and Canada at the end of 1965 totaled 18,623, a gain of 86 over the previous year, reports the National Lutheran Council.

The number of ordained Lutheran pastors in the 10 reporting church bodies rose to 20,939, an increase of 496 over 1964. Of these, 14,906, or 263 more than the previous year, were serving in pastorates.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BOW. United Press International. HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Jericho," the new one-hour CBS-TV adventure series that had its debut Thursday night, tried to touch all three points of the current triangle of television melodrama: Espionage, tongue-in-cheek action and World War II.

Since much of Hollywood feels that World War II is the current generation's counterpart to the older generation's interest in westerns, "Jericho" in a sense might be considered to have touched all bases as such as possible. It is a sterling example of quantitative thinking.

The series concerns three men who carry out undercover operations in World War II. They are portrayed by Don Francks, John Leyton and Marino Base. In the premiere, Tom Bosley played an American radar expert whom the trio — known by the code name of "Jericho" — smuggled into occupied Holland for a quick mission.

So much for the facts, which are generally of minor import in such weekly programs. Well, maybe one more: The series is on at 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. EDT, which is the opening hour of prime time, and which is the period surrendered almost without a struggle to children.

It was a comic strip vehicle of the second war, and only the tongue-in-cheek moments created by the direction made the hour bearable. For a while it was even zippy enough so one didn't have much chance to think whether anything made sense, and I guess that was the idea.

By LYLE WILSON. United Press International. WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a newsletter published today Rep. Otis G. Pike took note of the trouble the Senate had last week in raising a quorum for the civil rights debate.

Only after Senate leaders threatened to have absentees arrested "were 51 reluctant senators rounded up," the New York Democrat recalled.

And even then, he added, "They came slowly, they being no recorded charge of police brutality in all the history of arresting absent senators."

This is what I call putting a situation in its proper perspective. As Pike so adroitly pointed out, a threat to enforce senatorial attendance by serving warrants sounds more dramatic than it actually is.

Rarely Carried Out. For one thing, such a threat is rarely carried out. Not since Nov. 14, 1942, have arrest warrants actually been issued.

On that occasion, the Senate had before it a bill to amend an act "to prevent pernicious political activities." The late Alben W. Barkley, then a senator and subsequently Vice President, looked around the chamber, and noticed something strange.

"There seems to have taken place an exodus from the Senate equal to the exodus of the Children of Israel from Egypt," Barkley pointed out. Warrants were issued to halt the exodus and three senators eventually were served before a quorum was reached.

On that occasion, the Senate had before it a bill to amend an act "to prevent pernicious political activities." The late Alben W. Barkley, then a senator and subsequently Vice President, looked around the chamber, and noticed something strange.

"There seems to have taken place an exodus from the Senate equal to the exodus of the Children of Israel from Egypt," Barkley pointed out. Warrants were issued to halt the exodus and three senators eventually were served before a quorum was reached.

much chance to think whether anything made sense, and I guess that was the idea.

By LYLE WILSON. United Press International. WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a newsletter published today Rep. Otis G. Pike took note of the trouble the Senate had last week in raising a quorum for the civil rights debate.

Only after Senate leaders threatened to have absentees arrested "were 51 reluctant senators rounded up," the New York Democrat recalled.

And even then, he added, "They came slowly, they being no recorded charge of police brutality in all the history of arresting absent senators."

This is what I call putting a situation in its proper perspective. As Pike so adroitly pointed out, a threat to enforce senatorial attendance by serving warrants sounds more dramatic than it actually is.

BERRY'S WORLD

"You know, Laverne, it's nice to finally find somebody who's unwilling to worry about the major issues!"

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wright Hutton & Co. says the market may not view with complete equanimity the fact that the only definitive measures proposed by President Johnson, namely the 16-month suspension of the investment tax credit and certain accelerated depreciation privileges, indicate that he expects the business community to shoulder the main burden in the fight against inflation.

William R. White of Hornblower & Weeks Hemphill, Noyes says one result of the trend reversal—even if it should prove to be only temporary—is likely to be a renewed search by institutional investors for undervalued quality equities that deserve consideration for long range accumulation.

Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says that while further upside progress seems quite possible over the near-term, it will not be a straight line pattern but probably will be accompanied by a number of periodic pauses.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It says in her studio biography that Patricia Morrow, one of the seven stars of "Peyton Place," is "considered a shark in the art of mumblepeg."

By whom, I'd like to know? I'm not pretending I'm in Olympic form, but I do play enough mumblepeg, more formally known as "mumble-the-peg" or "mumble-peg," to keep my hand in.

It took me only a couple of questions to recognize that even by my standards Miss Morrow has only an elementary knowledge of the game. This was a big disappointment.

Mumbled Something Vague
I was counting on her reputed expertise to provide a topic of conversation at a press luncheon in Miss Morrow's honor. Otherwise, I knew I would be hopelessly out of it.

At A Disadvantage
It has been several months since I have seen an episode of "Peyton Place," and that puts you at a disadvantage.

In order to keep track of what is going on in that show, you have to see every episode. And sometimes, even that doesn't help.

I figured that if I could work the conversation around to mumblepeg, I could hold my own with the other guests, who were television critics. But, as previously noted, Miss Morrow let me down.

"Why did they kill Ann Howard?" asked one of the critics.

"She wanted out of the cast," replied Miss Morrow, who plays the part of Rita Harrington.

"Well, they could have let her wander off, like Alison," the critic said.

You can see where this left me. I didn't even know that Ann had been killed and that Alison had wandered off. So I broke in with a question about mumblepeg.

Mumbled Something Vague
Miss Morrow mumbled something vague about her brother having taught her to flip the knife from her elbow. I could tell immediately that she had mastered none of the fine points of the game.

There was nothing I could do but sulk in silence for the rest of the luncheon while my colleagues explored the ins and outs of "Peyton Place."

With Ann and Alison out, a new character named Rachel is coming in, Miss Morrow said. "Rachel is a farm girl who has been in slave labor most of her life," she explained. "We—my husband Norman and I—find her in a barn. She has been crying and stabbing herself."

This sounds like real meaty stuff and I plan to be in front of my set when Rachel makes her first appearance in an

Swine Cholera Outbreak Reported to Veterinarian

MISSION, Tex. (UPI)—A veterinarian said today one outbreak of hog cholera has made scores of hogs ill at one ranch in the Rio Grande Valley, but reports of hog deaths elsewhere are still being checked.

Dr. B. B. Vail, a veterinarian with the state screwworm eradication program at Moorfield, said the ranch with the approximately 100 hogs that are ill is under quarantine while more tests are made.

He said two hogs at the ranch were slaughtered so adequate tests could be made for hog cholera.

"That one premise—one location—is the only confirmation of hog cholera we have received," Vail said. "I got a call from the Willacy County agent who said one man lost 57 hogs since April, and two others said they lost about 400 head. But we are checking those."

He said there is no widespread outbreak, at the present time and some of the reports of deaths are likely to be from other causes.

"A lot of them were little pigs, who might have had diarrhea or other things," Vail said. "We sent specimens to the Ames, Iowa National Animal Disease Laboratory for testing. We were going to send some long ago, but the airline strike prevented it."

He said hog raisers "have lost quite a few hogs, but we don't know what it is. We are getting quite a few calls. These deaths started in April—and since the one was exposed and producers heard about it, they all seem to claim the same thing. I would say we don't have a big out-

WHITE HOUSE EXPECTING WASHINGTON (UPI)—A blessed event is expected at the White House in late October—"Freckles" is pregnant.

Germans Pay For Escape Engineer

BERLIN (UPI)—A 28-year-old cycling star credited with engineering the escapes of hundreds of East Germans was released from prison Thursday by the Communist government after serving less than four years of a life term.

It was reported the West Germany government had paid a $10,000 in goods ransom for Harry Seidel, one of the best known "Scarlet pimpernel" captured by the East Germans. Several hundred political prisoners have been released by the Communists in the last few years in exchange for an average payment of $10,000 worth butter, coffee, cocoa, sugar and other goods.

The East Germans sentenced him to life imprisonment when he was convicted of violating the "law for the protection of peace" and border violations.

TO BE RELEASED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in Walter Reed Army Medical Center for one of his periodic physical check-ups, was to be released today.

The 75-year-old general had to spend an extra night at Walter Reed when doctors were unable to complete their reports in time. Admitted Wednesday night, Eisenhower had expected to return to his Gettysburg home Thursday.
