Fire Prevention Assumes Scientific Research Status

Fire Prevention Week began Sunday, as proclaimed by Mayor Jim Nation.

Since the Chicago fire of Oct. 9-10, 1871, which wiped out the entire business section and a large part of the residential section, participation in Fire Prevention and Protection Week has progressed from a rule of thumb method and occasional practice to the status of a science.

Fundamental rules of fire safety are now established and available to all.

Fire prevention was emphasized annually as "Fire Safety Day" for some 30 years before 1920. In that year the President of the United States proclaimed Fire Prevention Week to include the date of the Oct. 9 as the anniversary of the Chicago fire.

The fire prevention movement has been an active part of nearly every chamber of commerce in the United States.

The national Fire Protection Association conducts the annual fire contest among 100 participating cities. Chamber of commerce, city officials and civic clubs actively engage in a fire safety program and participate in the contest. Their continuous systematic assistance has made a notable contribution in the control of major fire losses.

In observance of Fire Prevention Week Pampa takes its place with other cities throughout the United States in engaging in a program which will result in a safer city in which to live.

Threat Is Past; Inez Misses Texas Coast

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Inez missed the Texas Gulf coast today and slammed inland deeper into Mexico south of Brownsville with winds up to 135 miles an hour and blinding rains.

In 16 days of meandering in the Caribbean Sea and Gulf of Mexico before finally moving into a substantial land mass, Inez had killed at least 300 persons.

The chance seemed good that she would take more lives, with wind, flood or tide. An 8 a.m. CST bulletin from the New Orleans Weather Bureau said heavy rains should cause severe flash flooding in the Mexican state of Tamaulipas through Tuesday.

The bulletin showed that the center of Inez, where the winds were fiercest, was curving slightly southward, still farther from the Texas coast.

At 9 a.m. EST, Inez was 30 miles north, northwest of Tampico, Mexico, which had been battered with hurricane winds for hours, and was moving west-southwest, instead of due west, as it had been.

It appeared that the center would pass 15-20 miles northwest of Tampico, Mexico's second largest port and a big oil refining center of 200,000 residents.

Both gale and hurricane warnings along the Texas coast were to be removed soon.

C of C Asks Move To Set Up Facilities For Business Planes

Gray County Commissioners Court was asked today to take immediate action on chamber of commerce recommendations for a new terminal building and extension of runways at Perry LeFors Airfield.

Copies of the recommendations were mailed Friday by the chamber's Aviation Committee, headed by Wynn Veale, to each of the Gray County commissioners, County Judge Bill Craig and Bob Price, chairman of the Gray County Airport Board.

The Aviation Committee's report urges county commissioners to take immediate steps to accomplish the following:

1. Secure the necessary land to extend runway 17-35, to 5,500 feet; that a north-south taxi-way be built, and additional ramp area be paved north of the county hangar.
2. Build a terminal building to provide needed facilities for public use as well as for transient and corporate pilots.

The committee stated in its recommendations, which already have been endorsed by chamber directors, that it believes the runway improvement is the most pressing problem and that item No. 1 should be handled before item No. 2, provided it is economically impossible to handle them together.

Chairman Veale of the Aviation Committee said today the chamber's recommendations are based on a survey of local businesses and industrial firms which have need to use the airport.

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. paratroopers have moved into the northern provinces to reinforce Marine units in preparation to meet an all-out North Vietnamese offensive which could come at any time now, an American spokesman said today.

The spokesman also said B-52 bombers and Navy gunships bracketed the demilitarized zone (DMZ) today and Sunday with tons of bombs in strikes against Communist military buildups.

The stepped up action along the frontier separating the two nations reflected the seriousness with which American military planners view the threat of a massive Hanoi-directed assault from the North.

The paratroop move was the first time U.S. commander Gen. William C. Westmoreland has sent Army troops into the first area of the five northern provinces which in the past has been the domain of U.S. Marine units.

The spokesman said the 4th Battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade—about 1,000 to 1,200 men—has moved into the Da Nang area and the 3rd Marine Division headquarters had moved northward from Da Nang to Phu Bai, just below Hue.

Other Marine units moved from Chu Lai to the Da Nang area and Korean troops were shifted from their base camp at Qui Nhon northward to Chu Lai to replace the Leathernecks.

The spokesman said this was part of a series of moves designed to enhance the military posture in the First Corps area.

Texas Road Deaths Down

By United Press International

The weekend violent death rate was at one of its lowest levels in weeks.

A United Press International survey for the period running from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday showed that 19 persons met violent death in the state, 12 of them in traffic.

Two men were fatally shot Sunday in a Lubbock apartment. They were Stafford Ted Wronski, 31, of Houston and Merrill Edwin Foster-Dunnington, 33, of Hobbs. No other deaths were charged with shooting them.

A 10-month-old baby, Elsa Hernandez, fell into a bathtub containing water nine inches deep Sunday and drowned at Vinton.

Guillermo Pegas, 26, of El Paso was killed Sunday when his car hit an embankment.

A Dallas man was fatally injured Sunday night on Central Expressway when he was thrown from his skidding car after it struck a light post. Police identified the man as J. C. Nickelson, 43.

Nixon Charges Peace Conference Play for Votes

CHICAGO (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon sees the coming Manila conference as a chance for President Johnson to initiate foreign policy or to make a "grandstand play for votes."

Nixon appeared Saturday at a news conference with Chicago Alderman John J. Hoellen, a Republican candidate for Congress, and said the President should urge formation of a "pacific charter."

"It is a tragedy that America, the leader of the free world, has not advanced a new idea in foreign policy since Lyndon Johnson became President," he said.

"The Manila conference presents President Johnson with his first initiative in the area of foreign policy. That conference must not be made simply the scene of a grandstand play for votes."

Nixon did not spell out the details of his "pacific charter," but said "it is time for the free Pacific nations to unite in developing their program for a free Asia."

He said the plan for a Pacific charter would be contained in a "nationally syndicated newspaper column to be released Oct. 15."

Nixon said he would not try to prejudice Johnson's Manila trip.

"It will have to be judged on what it produces. If it produces something effective it will have a massive effect on the election, but I don't believe the electorate will be impressed with any manifesto from Manila which tells us nothing."

House to Debate City Slum Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House takes up President Johnson's $2.3 billion so-called demonstration cities bill Thursday, a pilot program aimed at eradicating the nation's slums.

Republicans are attacking it from all sides and the vote, which is expected late Friday, will undoubtedly be close though Democratic leaders think they will win.

The House starts its week today by voting on a $15 million measure to authorize construction of a museum and sculpture garden in the capital to house a $25 million modern art collection donated to the nation by Joseph H. Hirshhorn.

The most spirited debate of the week may come Tuesday when the House plans to take up a bill drafted by the House Committee on Un-American Activities that would ban certain extreme anti-war actions such as stopping troop trains. The bill is opposed by the administration and is not expected to go anywhere in the Senate.

Also before the House is a resolution to establish a committee on standards and conduct a panel similar to the ethics committee created earlier this year by the Senate.

Throughout the week the House and Senate will interrupt their scheduled business to act on a host of appropriations and other bills that were passed in differing form by the two chambers and which conference committees are attempting to reconcile.

If it comes from a senator, we have it. Lewis B. (Adv.)

Red Chinese Urging Support of Lina Piao

HONG KONG (UPI)—Military authorities in Peking today urged Communist China's soldiers, sailors and airmen to throw their full weight behind Defense Minister Lina Piao in the current struggle for succession to aging Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung.

The military, a Peking radio broadcast monitored here said, must take the lead in assuring that the entire country keeps in step with the Lin-Mao team during China's sweeping "cultural revolution" purges.

Travelers reaching here from China, meanwhile, reported that Lin was coming under bitter propaganda attack by military Red Guard youths. If true, the report would indicate that the Red Guard movement, spearhead of Mao's "cultural" purges, was getting out of hand and turning against one of its key leaders.

Reports also said the young zealots also denounced Premier Chou En-lai and president Liu Shao-chi once again.

On the diplomatic front Peking today declared it would never compromise on its demands that American troops leave Viet Nam before peace talks begin. It accused the United States of planning an invasion of the demilitarized zone between the two Viet Nams after U.S. congressional elections in November.

The appeal for military support for Lin came from Hsiao Hua, the armed forces general commissar and close

Percy Resumes Senate Campaign

CHICAGO (UPI)—Charles Percy, the political campaigner, walked back into public life today, dogged by the shadow of a bushy haired man standing over a dying girl.

The Republican candidate for Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas' Illinois seat today addresses a luncheon session of the City Club, his first campaign appearance since his 21-year-old daughter, Valerie, was beaten and stabbed to death in her bed Sept. 18.

Percy's wife and the victim's step mother, Loraine, now recalls the killer she surprised in Valerie's bedroom had bushy hair, wore a plaid sport shirt, was youthful looking and slightly built, it was revealed Saturday.

While police searched for Valerie's killer, Percy began to move the machine, he hoped would carry him to victory Nov. 8. The machine was stopped for more than two weeks while Percy went into mournful seclusion. He announced his return to political life last week, saying it was something he "must do."

McNamara To Seek Answers Of Viet Needs

SAIGON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert McNamara flew here today and immediately began four days of high-level talks to determine how many more U.S. men and dollars are needed to smash Communist aggression in South Viet Nam.

He made it clear there are no plans for invading North Viet Nam or trying to topple the Communist regime in Hanoi.

At the same time, however, he left little doubt that the United States is ready to increase its commitment in the war. Already the 320,000 American servicemen now fighting here is double the number it was when he made his seventh visit to Viet Nam last year. And American spending already has soared $4 billion dollars over budget estimates.

Accompanying McNamara were Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Nicholas D. Katzenbach, under secretary of state.

They were met at planeside by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, and Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, deputy prime minister and defense minister of South Viet Nam.

Two machinegun jeeps escorted McNamara's sleek white Air Force Boeing 707 jetliner off the runway at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport to the apron near the VIP lounge on the base's civilian side.

A light rain puddled on the concrete apron and glistened from the wings of dozens of camouflaged American warplanes parked in emplacements protecting them from possible Osborn Jr.

Supreme Court Gets to Work on Backlog Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court got down to the business of the 1965 term today with actions on a huge backlog of petitions for review and arguments involving labor law and the continuing controversy over obscenity.

The nine justices have been holding private conferences for the past week, voting on whether to accept the cases during the summer recess.

The appeals included reapportionment and church-state issues, and petitions by many prison inmates who claim violation of their constitutional rights at the time of trial.

Later this week, the court comes to the jury-tampering conviction of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and the separate conviction of Nashville, Tenn., attorney Z.T. protecting them from possible Osborn Jr.

Better Soviet-U.S. Cooperation On Gromyko-Johnson Talk Agenda

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is expected to press his plea for greater Soviet-American cooperation to solve longstanding European problems when he meets with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today.

The conference at the White House may bring the Chief Executive the first hint of official Russian reaction to his Friday speech in which he offered new economic concessions to European Communist nations and suggested the possibility of U.S. and Soviet troop withdrawals along both sides of the Iron Curtain if the Kremlin would work for "reconciliation."

The meeting, held against a background of rising world pressures for peace in turbulent Southeast Asia, also may give Johnson some idea of whether Russia is as adamant as she appears to be to trying to persuade North Viet Nam to the peace table.

Administration officials said they expected nothing in the way of specifics from today's meeting. They said, however, it would be important in assessing the mood of the Kremlin at a time when both Washington and Moscow give at least the surface appearance of wishing to prevent the Viet Nam conflict from pushing them into bitter new confrontations in Europe.

In a speech to the United Nations General Assembly last month, Gromyko said the situation in Europe was more important and contained the seeds of possible nuclear conflict.

This coincides with the views of most American officials. It gives rise to some hope in diplomatic circles that cautious concern over possible European crises will prevent either of the world's two major nuclear powers from clashing 100 directly over Viet Nam.

Gromyko, in a Saturday meeting at the U.N. with stabilized in orbit.

Two Satellites Collide But Still Operate

MADRID (UPI)—Two unmanned U.S. satellites hurtling through space at five miles per second collided last year but survived the crash and are still operating, it was disclosed today.

The disclosure was made by Dr. Hilliard W. Paige, vice president of General Electric Co., at the 17th Astronautical Congress here.

It was the first known case of a collision in what could be described, he said, as "outer space in a rush hour."

The announcement was the most sensational of the opening day of the congress, being attended by 1,200 scientists from 30 countries.

"Recent flight experience of earth-orbiting gravity gradient stabilization system," Paige said.

He said that in March, 1965, the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory launched two gravity-stabilized satellites into a 600-kilometer orbit from a single booster.

"Almost two months later, these two satellites drifted together and collided in what is probably the first man-made collision in space," Paige said.

"After colliding, both satellites were quickly re-stabilized by their gravity gradient systems. Today 18 months after launch, both of these satellites are still stabilized in orbit."

Dear Abby...
 Forget the Gossip,
 You Mean More

DEAR ABBY: After eight years of marriage, I decided to get a divorce. I had two children and would have stayed married for their sakes, but their father cared nothing for them, so it would have been pointless. Two years later I married a widower with three children. In six months I realized that I had made another terrible mistake. All he wanted was a cook, housekeeper and someone to raise his children. He favored his children and accused me of favoring mine. (Actually, I bent over backwards so far trying to be fair to his, I was unfair to my own.) My problem is that I am miserable but if I get another divorce everyone will say both divorces were my fault. I am 30 years old and don't want to be a two-time loser. If it weren't for my children, I would commit suicide.

DEAR ABBY: I was married 10 years ago and now have three children. Two years ago I found my birth certificate and discovered that my mother's maiden name was on it, not her married name, which means she had me before she was married.

This has been bothering me for a long time. I want my children are legitimate even though or aren't they? I don't know who to ask without a lot of embarrassment.

TRAPPED
 DEAR TRAPPED: The people who talk don't help you to bear the burden of your misery. Do what is best for you and your children and forget everything else.

WORRIED
 DEAR WORRIED: Your children are legitimate even though you may have been born out of wedlock.

OHIO BRIDE
 DEAR BRIDE: Technically the groom selects whomever he wishes for his ushers, but since it has now become an issue, it would be both wise and generous for him to include your friends.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

 DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: As mass murders by individuals are becoming everyday news, please discuss gun and knife interests in boys of 12 to 16. My 13-year-old son owns a gun and knife but has shown no interest in using them. Just the same, I think we mothers should be alerted to savage tendencies in our boys. These continuing explosions of murderous violence in men who have seemed normal are terrifying.

ANSWER: I am aware that this is going to be an unpopular column. Nevertheless, I am going to reply to it.
 It's a very simple trick. It's been known and used by every savage people. You define a man as a person who feels no pain. That's what savage puberty rituals are about. The witch doctor subjects the boy to some form of pain. If the boy succeeds in pretending not to feel it, he's in. He's a man. He is now able to inflict pain on other creatures while pretending to feel it. He is thus equipped to kill and become the warrior.
 We civilized people have our tricks, too, for making skilled warriors out of boys. We give them straw dummies to thrust bayonets into. So, when they thrust the bayonet into the flesh-and-blood of the fellow human being called the "enemy," they, too, can pretend that they are not inflicting pain.
 So, if we want to discourage savage tendencies in boys, our present international situation makes it rather difficult. Nevertheless, as women, as mothers, I think we have to try. I think we have to do every tender thing we can to convince our Dorothy Jeakins Has a 'Tired Face'?

Designs Fashions This Oscar Winner

By HELEN HENNESSY
 Women's Editor
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 NEW YORK (NEA) — Three-time Academy Award winner, Dorothy Jeakins, says she has "a tired face."
 "This, she claims, is the reason she looks so right for her part as Julie Andrews' New England mother-in-law in the United Artists release of James A. Michener's "Hawaii." But across the lunch table, Dorothy looked neither tired nor like a stoic New Englander.
 This is her first acting role. She won her Oscars for the costumes she designed for "Joan of Arc," "Samson and Delilah" and "The Night of the Iguana." Of course, she also did the costumes for "Hawaii."

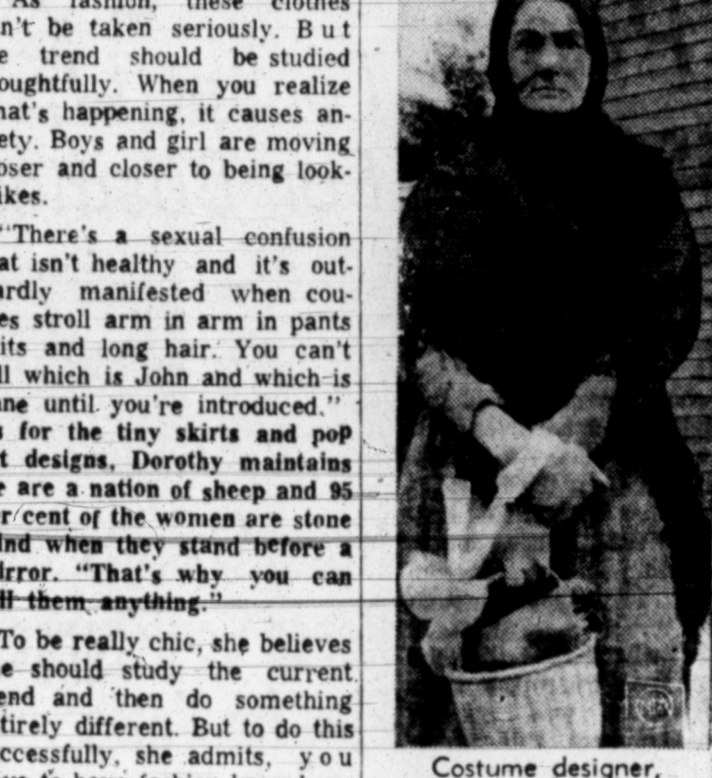

"It was fun playing the part," she said. "But when I saw the picture, I cried. I forgot I was looking at myself and only felt the loneliness of eternal woman standing by while one by one her family leaves home."
 The wardrobe for Julie Andrews' role as the small town, 19th century New England girl who with her new husband goes to Hawaii as a missionary includes only 10 changes—one a night dress. This realistic underemphasis, honest to the role and the circumstances, is typical of the kind of thinking that has won Miss Jeakins her fame.
 "I owe it to De Mille," she said. "I did the costumes for 'The Ten Commandments' and the original 'Greatest Story Ever Told,' and when you worked for De Mille, you became a perfectionist by necessity — unless you didn't need your job. It was the best training anyone could ever have. But it was far from sunshine and roses."
 For her work on "Hawaii" she did worldwide research. She found much information on Hawaii from the Bishop Museum and the Bingham papers. She gained knowledge of the feather cloaks worn by the ruling 'Ii's among the native Polynesians and changed the design of the intricate featherwork ever so slightly "so as not to offend the Polynesian gods."
 The Mother Hubbard garments worn by the native women (forerunner of the muumuu) are hand-blocked just as they were in the missionary days.
 "I love to delve into the past," Miss Jeakins admits. On a Guggenheim scholarship which she received in 1962, she went to Tokyo to live as a student and learn Noh theater and costume.

sons that we do not regard manliness as imperviousness to pain—but think that true men are as unafraid to know they can feel hurt as they are unwilling to inflict it on someone else.
 You're asking me, you know, how the child who thinks of weapons as toys is turned into the man who uses them to kill with.
 I think that murderers are people whose ability to experience their own pain, their own hurts, their own human vulnerability has been atrophied and destroyed. And that is why the human vulnerability of other people can no longer exist for them.
 I agree that these persisting mass murders are terrifying. So I share your anxiety over boy children. I see no way to counteract the influence of exterior violence upon them except by refusing to define manliness that deadens to hurt which makes it possible to inflict it on others.

"I have worked with wonderful people and in many countries," said the California born designer. "I even learned not to be upset by the Hong Kong slums. But New York's Broadway area scares me. You see every form of human degradation within a few blocks. It's a kind of hell."
 Miss Jeakins, whose husband died in World War II, reared two sons by working at the designing career which has made her famous. So she has been in the field for a long time.
 What are her thoughts on the current mod look—mini-skirts, nailheads and chain mail?
 "People aren't wearing clothes any more," she said. "They are wearing costumes."
 As fashion, these clothes can't be taken seriously. But the trend should be studied thoughtfully. When you realize what's happening, it causes anxiety. Boys and girls are moving closer and closer to being look-alikes.
 "There's a sexual confusion that isn't healthy and it's outwardly manifested when couples stroll arm in arm in pants suits and long hair. You can tell which is John and which is Jane until you're introduced."
 As for the tiny skirts and pop art designs, Dorothy maintains we are a nation of sheep and 95 percent of the women are stone blind when they stand before a mirror. "That's why you can sell them anything."
 To be really chic, she believes one should study the current trend and then do something entirely different. But to do this successfully, she admits, you have to have fashion know-how. "And it takes dough."
 Stardust didn't get in Dorothy's eyes after her first job as an actress. "That was just a fluke," she said. "I'll stay with costume design. I love doing it."
 And her costumes, at least, know their place. They're on the silver screen and not on the city streets.

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD
 The theme which the Girl Scouts have this year will be "Values to Hold — Worlds to Explore." So many interesting things developed from their theme of "Promise in Action" last year. Leaders now need to set their goals for the new theme.
 Sunrise and Sunset Neighborhoods held their monthly meeting last week. Highland will be held Oct. 13, 9:30 a.m., Little House. Leaders need to be present to voice their opinion on future projects and needed workshops and training.
 Field meeting for all neighborhood chairmen, council-wide, will be held Oct. 20, 10 a.m., Little House.

The Caravan is coming, Oct. 14, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Little House. Anyone working with a troop, leaders, assistants, committee mothers, can profit from the course. This covers the first half of basic leadership course in capsule form, combining arts and crafts, songs and games, outdoor skills, etc.
 The weather was perfect for the overnight held by Troop 56 and leader Mrs. C. R. Casey. The members were "roughing it" in style, in a new camper of the Casseys.
 It was a little crowded but the girls didn't seem to mind. They enjoyed sliding down sand hills and blanket hazing while watching the moon come up. They cooked the evening meal in the camper but cooked their breakfast "primitive." Attending the overnight were Rosalia Kurtz, Gayle Griffin, Barbara Casey, Dianne Duesterhaus, Dixie Mathis, Debbie Mathis, Mary Margaret McBride, Pat McCollum and four-year old Theresa, who is growing up in a Scouting family. This troop held a following party the next evening. Attending the "coke and platter" party were Sheila Hickey, Becky Merrill, Rosalia Kurtz, Barbara Casey, Debbie Mathis and Mary Margaret McBride.
 This is a very active Scout troop. Six of the members are working to become First-Class Scouts, a lot of time, planning, energy, work and fortitude goes into this rating. The troop, along with Troop 59, Mrs. Donald Warminski, leader, is taking modern dancing while working on Scouting. Mrs. Madeline Graves is consultant for this group.

 Troops appreciate the time and effort of consultants. Without their help many badges could not be earned.
 Consultant for good grooming for Troop 69 last week was Mrs. Joe Griffin from Malone Pharmacy. The members were interested and many, many questions were asked concerning "beauty problems."
 Troop 214 and leader, Mrs. O. C. Cox Jr., made their bicycle trip to City Lake last week while competing a badge. All but two of the members made the eight mile bike trip. They routed their tour using a city map, also a badge requirement, planned the rests, carried camp, enjoyed a "walking salted" and reached their destination with enough energy to play "Steal the Bacon." On their return trip they enjoyed a time in the park, sliding down hills on boxes and thoroughly enjoying themselves. Can you imagine the calories that were used in such an event? Their leader claimed to be exhausted but will have regained completely by their Cadette Candlelight Ceremony to be held Oct. 14. Admiration of this energetic and dedicated girl Scout leader is certainly deserved. A salute to Mrs. O. C. Cox Jr.
 Attending the bicycle excursion were Debra Brumfield, Cathy Collinsworth, Jeannie Cox, Cynthia Hatfield, Cindy Hicks, Jennine Maness, Beth Ragsdale, Carol Rose and Virginia Shaeffer. Congratulations, girls. This requirement is a "doozy."

Official Memorandum

By JOHN CONNALLY
 Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

October 15, 1966, has been designated as "National Newspaper Boy Day" in tribute to the thousands of loyal, efficient American youths who serve the public early and late in the day delivering the newspapers upon which all of us depend.

The experience gained in serving customers on newspaper routes is beneficial to the boys of America who have the privilege of engaging in this work.

It was while serving in these honorable roles that thousands of our business, civic, professional and religious leaders received their first training in our American principles of free enterprise.

It is fitting that the citizens of Texas express their deep appreciation of the day-by-day service rendered by their friendly newspaper carrier salesmen and for the training these boys are receiving.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate October 15, 1966, as in Texas, and urge all the people they represent and the customers they serve so diligently to express their appreciation for these unflinching services.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 22nd day of Sept., 1966

Miller Explains His Position on Water Problems

MULESHOE — Dee Miller, Democratic Congressional candidate, campaigned in and around Littlefield Saturday afternoon and evening and was a guest at the Bailey County Farm Bureau annual meeting in Muleshoe.

In response to questions asked him by individuals Miller explained his stand on the water problem as follows:

"We cannot afford to overlook a single possibility in our search for water. This means we must put our best scientific and engineering talent on this project immediately.

"We must not put all our eggs in one basket by relying solely on one source, or rather to save us. We must find new sources of water, whether they be underground or on the surface.

"My opponent has stated several times that West Texas is not included in the Colorado River Basin Project Act. I'm telling you that we are included, and that the fight to keep us in that project will be one of the most important issues in the next Congress.

"I think we need a Democrat in there to make sure we stay in that project — someone who can really argue your case for you."

Eight Pampa employees of Southwestern Public Service Co. will be among 125 from the company's Panhandle Division who will be honored tomorrow night at the 18th annual service awards dinner in Amarillo.

Heading the list of tonight's honorees is Ruth Frances Sewell, senior clerk from Pampa, who retired Aug. 1, Mrs. Sewell will receive a jeweled emblem for 40 years of service from A. R. Watson, president and general manager of the utility company.

Edward M. Culbertson will receive a 20-year award from Watson, who will also present a 20-year pin to Virgil O. Eckrodt and Evert Z. Goad, who retired Sept. 1.

Joe Fern Anderson and Norman M. Flaherty will be honored for 15 years of service, while Allen Self and Jake Webb will receive 5-year awards.

Throughout the company's 45,000 square mile service area, a total of 345 employees with a combined service of 5,265 years will be honored at service awards dinners this year.

Court Rejects Attack On Church Tax Exempt Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court rejected today a constitutional attack on the time-honored policy of granting states real estate tax exemptions to churches and parsonages.

The court in a brief order refused to hear appeals from Maryland court decisions upholding the constitutionality of the tax exemption law in that state.

Today's action does not affirm the state court ruling, but it will doubtless be cited in support of exemptions in parallel suits.

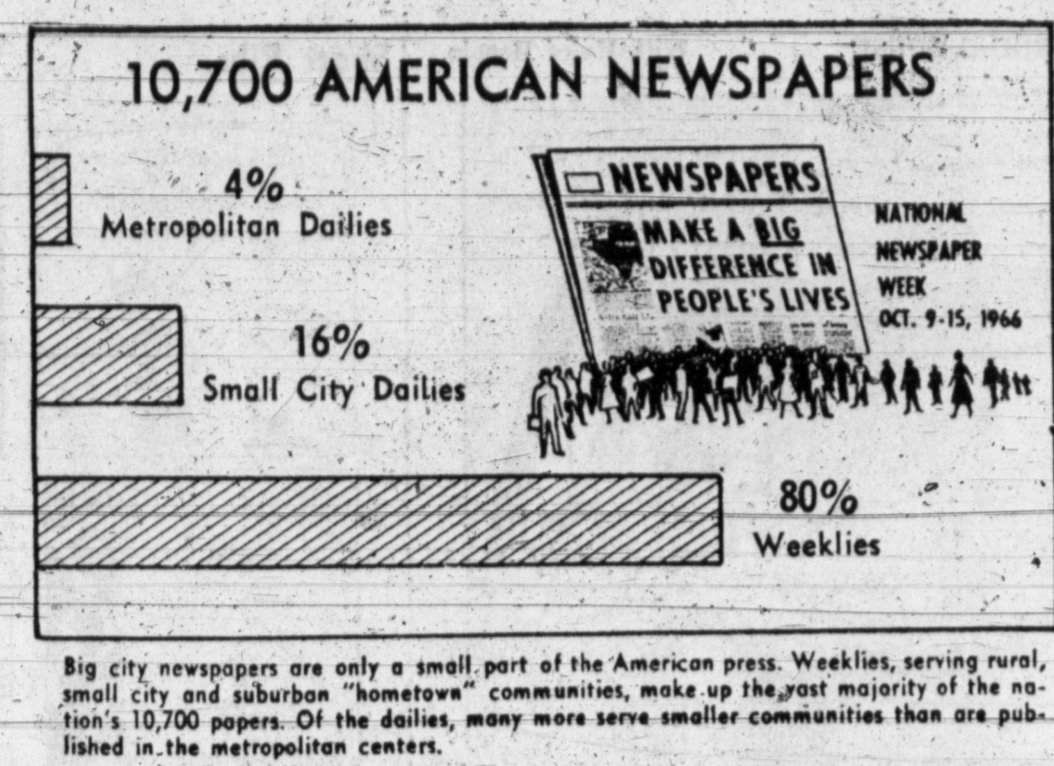

The Maryland case arose from complaints in Baltimore Circuit Court by among others, Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair, who won one of the court's historic school prayer rulings.

Other complainants were Mr. and Mrs. Lemoin Cree, formerly of Frederick County, Md., now of Washington, D.C., and the Free Thought Society of America, which publishes the monthly magazine "American Atheist." Cree, who is president of the society, is a research analyst at Fort Detrick.

The complaints urged that the tax exemption be held an indirect subsidy to religious organizations prohibited by the 1st Amendment to the Constitution, which says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

This guarantee of religious freedom devolves on the states through the 14th Amendment, which protects everyone from state action "without due process of law."

The complainants argued they have to pay more taxes because the churches pay none. The lawsuit was filed against

Personal Damage

Suits Filed In District Court

Personal injury damage suits were filed in Gray County 31st Judicial District Court Friday and were not settled as previously reported.

Don Evans, acting for his wife, Peggy, and young son, Michael Shane, filed a personal injury suit against James C. Jarvis in the amount of $55, 142.57.

The suit was the outgrowth of a collision of the Evans' car and the Jarvis' car on April 5 at the intersection of Brown and Cuyler.

Milford R. Jones and Glorice Jones filed suit for damages against Bill Todd and J. G. McAnear, owners of Household Supply Co., as the result of a two-car collision on July 2 six miles south of Pampa.

Twenty-five thousand damages are being asked by the Joneses.

Frank Daugherty filed suit against Capitola Taylor for $1,000 damages incurred in an automobile accident on May 9 on U.S. Highway 69.

Fritz Kreisler, noted violinist, was only 10 years old when he gave his first concert.

Price Deplores Mounting Costs Facing Farmers

WHITE DEER — The Department of Agriculture's own statistics show that farmers took a $2.2 billion loss in 1965 because of the LBJ-caused inflation, congressional candidate Bob Price said here today.

"Diluted dollars and sharply increased Federal farm payments give an illusion of farm prosperity which really isn't there, Farmers know this, even Mr. Freeman doesn't," Price said at a coffee in his honor at White Deer.

Farm costs keep mounting and now are forcing farmers to leave the land at the rate of 100,000 per year the 18th District candidate stated.

"Farmers are told by no less an authority than the President that one million farmers could produce all of the Nation's farm needs — which is another way of saying that 2.2 million farmers are surplus," Price added.

"Typical of the Lyndon Johnson operations, while the number of farms decline," he said, "the number of employees at the Department of Agriculture continues to increase. Between 1955 and 1965 the number USDA employees increased from one per 60 farms to one per 30 farms."

"How are the farmers doing?" Price asked. "They are going deeper in debt. In 1944 the last ten years farm debt was increased 23 billion dollars, and farmers are now paying the highest interest rates in history to sustain this debt."

"From 1952 to 1966 the parity rate averaged 85.5 percent. The measure," he said, "of prices received by farmers against those they must pay for inputs and services, since 1960, parity has averaged only 78 percent."

"LBJ is wondering why there is a farm revolt," he should have Orville Freeman brief him on facts and figures down on the farm," Price concluded.

Collisions Mar City's Weekend

Collision of cars within the city during the weekend marred cars, tempers and driving records.

Charles Vance, 637 S. Gray, was cited for unsafe backing after collision with a parked car owned by Dennis Jacques, 417-Rose, police report.

The accident occurred at 8 p.m. Sunday, just off of Mitchell on South Cuyler.

Cars driven by Willard William Taylor, 411 1/2 N. Ward, and P. F. Wynn of Memphis, were in collision at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of W. Brown and West, police said.

Police said cars driven by Edward Patrick Smith, 400 N. Dwight, and J. D. Williams, 1912 S. Dwight, collided shortly before 4:30 p.m. Saturday in the 400 block S. Cuyler. Minor damage was sustained by both cars.

Police also reported collision of two cars shortly after 4 p.m. Sunday in the 300 block S. Cuyler. One of the cars was driven by Archer B. Ishbell, 421 N. West, and the other by Wilona N. Cole, 1106 Charles.

It has been said that fireworks are old as civilization.

Recommendations. Veale said, "It is to make Pampa a more appealing spot for industries which more and more need to have adequate airport facilities."

Veale said a survey by the committee showed that there are currently 73 businesses that use the airport.

In the letter sent out during the weekend, the committee stated:

"We chose twenty-four (24) of the more active ones to survey. Eighteen (18) firms replied. Tabulation of the replies show that nine (9) already have jet aircraft; seven (7) plan to get jet by 1968, and two (2) do not plan to use jets.

"Eleven of the jets require longer runways. The minimum length would be 3,500 feet, and a 500-foot over-run would be provided as a safety factor. In line with the FAA, the longer runway should be the North-South and should be accompanied by a parallel taxi-way and additional ramp space at the county hangar."

The committee's survey shows that the 18 replying firms make approximately 192 landings per year or 16 per month.

"These firms," the committee report says, "pay over $400,000 a year to Gray County in taxes. We know that at least four of these firms (Celanese Skelly Oil, Sinclair and Colorado Interstate) are now having to land their jets at either Amarillo or Borger because our runways do not meet their minimum length. This results in loss of time to their people having to make the extra drive to Pampa and in loss of revenue to the airport."

Aviation Committee Chairman Veale said this forenoon he talked with County Judge Craig and received assurance the county would okay costs for the installation of a low frequency radio homing transmitter, provided by the FAA and ready to be installed. Southwestern Public Service Co., he stated, has agreed to place poles for the installation.

Present length of runways at Perry Lefors Field is 4,500 feet, 1,000 feet short of minimum requirements for jet plane landings.

Borger, which has adequate facilities for jet landings, has a 6,300-foot runway.

Veale said the county is being asked to have an engineering survey made to determine exact cost of the airport improvements and what steps will be necessary to accomplish them.

hurricane-force winds — up to 75 miles an hour — extended out in all directions for 70 miles.

"The threat to the Texas Coast appears to be over," the latest bulletin said. But it advised south Texans to keep up with Inez' movements until Inez "is definitely inland."

The Brownsville Weather Bureau, watching Inez' progress on radar, considered the danger to the Texas coast so small that it advised residents of South Padre Island and Port Isabel they could return home.

"Inez will weaken rapidly after moving inland, however, hurricane and gale force winds will continue from Tampico to a little south of Brownsville the remainder of the day," the bulletin said.

IRISH LOOK BETTER EVERY WEEK

Rated Teams Have Good Showing

By United Press International
Notre Dame, featuring its talented teen age aerial combination of Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, made the Las Vegas odds-makers look like fortune tellers as the Fighting Irish racked up their highest point total against Army in 53 years in rolling over the Cadets 35-0 at South Bend Saturday.

Going into the contest as an amazing 26 point favorites over a previously undefeated Army team that allowed only one touchdown in beating Kansas State, Holy Cross and Penn State, the third-ranked Fighting Irish drove for three touchdowns in the first quarter and added two more in the second before Coach Ara Parseghian mercifully inserted his second unit.

Completed 11 of 20 passes for 105 yards. The 19-year-old Seymour, from Berkley, Mich., snared eight of 11 good for one touchdowns as the Irish offense completely dominated play. Nick Eddy tallied twice for the Irish, who amassed their highest point output against West Point since the Gus Dorais-to-Knute Rockne-pass combination rocked the Cadets for 35 points in 1913.

In other top 10 action, No. 1 ranked Michigan State topped Michigan 20-7, second-ranked UCLA, edged Rice 27-24, fourth-ranked Alabama crushed Clemson 26-0, fifth-ranked Southern California nipped Washington 17-14, Baylor upset sixth ranked Arkansas 7-0, 10th ranked Georgia Tech topped Tennessee (No. 7) 6-3, Nebraska (No. 8) trounced Wisconsin 31-3 and ninth rated Florida squeezed by Terry Southall hit Bobby Green with a 21-yard fourth quarter touchdown pass to break a scoreless tie and hand Arkansas its first regular season loss in 25 games.

Papa Bear Pulls Bears To First Win; Cowboys Ramble

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer
The Papa Bear is still showing these young whippersnappers a thing or two about football.

George Halas, the Chicago Bears owner-coach who virtually invented pro football but now is almost an anachronism at age 71 in a league filled with bright, young head coaches, is proving the game hasn't passed him by.

Halas' Bears, off to a listless start this year, finally found last season's form Sunday to crush Baltimore, 27-17, while the Green Bay Packers were being stunned, 21-20, by the San Francisco 49ers and the most unique specialist in a game of specialists — sub quarterback George Mira.

Mira specializes in upsetting the Packers.

That unlikely sequence of events put the Bears back in the thick of the National Football League's Western Division race and set the stage for a climactic struggle next Sunday in Wrigley Field when the Bears host the Packers.

Mira, the former Miami, Fla. sensation who hasn't been able to match his college exploits except against the Packers, helped the 49ers upset Green Bay, 24-14, in 1964. Playing because millionaire quarterback John Brodie was hampered by a groin injury, Mira did it again. He flipped an eight-yard touchdown pass to John David Crow with 14:05 left in the game to give the 49ers a 21-13 lead. Green Bay never caught up although Don Chandler blew a chance to win the game when he missed a 26-yard field goal with six minutes left after the Packers had narrowed it to 21-20.

Tom Moore, a former Packers, scored two touchdowns to give surprising Los Angeles a tie for first with Green Bay. Moore's touchdowns came on a four yard run in the first period and 30-yard pass from Roman Gabriel in the third period.

Birds Just Throw Blanks

BALTIMORE, Md. (U) — Hank Bauer's Baltimore Orioles turned the tables completely on the futile Los Angeles Dodgers in their four-game World Series sweep and served notice that Drabowsky set series hurling the American League still is in business.

The Orioles were supposed to have the hitting and little pitching; the defending champion Dodgers the pitching and little hitting, and the odds makers figured the American League would lose the series for the sixth time in the last eight years.

"You don't win when you don't score," sighed Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers, who also set a series record for errors, but he denied that the Dodgers would make any wholesale changes to get power into their lineup.

"We've known for two years we lacked power," Alston added. "But in those two years we won two National League pennants and a World Series. It's just unfortunate we went four games in a row without hitting a lick."

"I knew our starters were not as bad as they were rated," Bauer said, "and we sure proved it."

Only once, when the 31-year-old Drabowsky was summoned did Bauer have to call on his star-studded bullpen.

"We didn't. It's as simple as that," Alston said.

Blair leaped high against the seven-foot screen fence in left center field to pull down the bid of Dodger second baseman Jim Lefebvre for a home run.

Longhorns Play Host To Arkansas Saturday

Over in the Dodgers dressing room, the old champs were subdued and disgusted with themselves. But they, too, acted like champs, patiently answering reporters' questions and trying to explain over and over again why they went scoreless for a record 33 consecutive innings.

Hit First Pitch

McNally had allowed only one hit in four innings and Drysdale one hit in 3 1/3 when Frank Robinson delivered the big blow. It came on Drysdale's first pitch to him and the crowd of 54,458 in Baltimore Memorial Stadium immediately sensed that it might be the only run of the game. It was difficult to say whether they had more faith in McNally's pitching or the ineffectual hitting of the Dodgers.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire prevention time has come around again as this week we observe Prevention Week.

In Pampa and thousands of towns and cities across the nation there will be addresses on fire prevention in schools, service clubs, and other organizations.

In many communities, teachers are taking their students to visit the local fire department station house to see the fire apparatus at close range, and the firemen who man the equipment.

Amazingly some people will ask why we observe Fire Prevention Week every year.

The answer is simple. Three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness.

By using ordinary care, we can prevent fire from happening. And if we do that, Fire Prevention Week will have been worthwhile.

That Others May Hear

Getting the ear of the public is essential for the success of any enterprise that depends on popular understanding or support.

But one foundation has undertaken a nation-wide campaign that is quite literal in its appeal for the public's ear.

People afflicted with hearing impairments or other ear disorders are urged by the Deafness Research Foundation of New York City to bequeath their inner ear structures.

More than 18 million Americans, including three million children, suffer from some degree of hearing loss.

For the first time, this condition is under intensive study through a network of 41 ear research laboratories around the country.

Man's intricate inner ear cannot be examined during life because of its inaccessible location within the temporal bone.

The temporal bone is then sent to the nearest laboratory together with the individual's hearing and medical records.

The Doctor Says:

Fluctuating Sugar Level Hints Possible Danger Q — What is brittle diabetes? Does insulin have to be kept refrigerated?

A — There is a great deal of confusion over the term "brittle diabetes." This type of diabetes is characterized by a blood sugar level that fluctuates sharply and unpredictably.

Q — About three years ago I was found to have diabetes and began to take insulin. Now I am losing my sight. Could the insulin cause this?

A — Retinitis with loss of vision is one of the serious complications of diabetes. It may occur even when the diabetes is carefully controlled but inadequate control or a light-hearted attitude toward the disease will hasten its progress.

Q — A friend who is a diabetic drinks a lot of whisky. Is this bad for him?

A — A lot of whisky is bad for anyone and especially bad for a diabetic because it makes regulation of the required dosage of insulin for adequate control of his diabetes impossible.

Q — Have heard that aspirin tablets give off a vinegar odor when they are kept too long. Is this true? Would it be bad to take them then?

A — Aspirin is acetylsalicylic acid. It should be kept dry because moisture hastens its breakdown into acetic acid, which smells like vinegar, and salicylic acid.

Q — I believe that these symptoms result from destruction of normal function of the hinge joint because of early and continued loss of molar teeth, or poor "bite" of either the natural or false teeth.

reason diabetes acts this way in some persons is not known but is more common in those who develop the disease early in life.

The brittle diabetic may take some comfort in the fact that the fluctuations in his blood sugar are not due to any errors in the way he is managing his treatment. With careful observation he can learn to control his disease in spite of these fluctuations.

Although your druggist keeps his supply of insulin refrigerated, you can keep it perfectly well at room temperature for the short time it is being used.

HOW TO SAVE? — The personnel at House of Values, 403 S. Cuyler, offer the public freight-damaged merchandise at low cost. Many of these items pictured above are barely scratched or chipped. All's name brand merchandise.

House of Values Offers Good Freight-Damaged Merchandise

Most homeowners, prospective home buyers and even renters, who are budget-minded, would prefer to shop for a good "reasonably priced" furniture to furnish their newly-acquired home. However, looking for that once-in-a-lifetime buy rarely comes along. Then when it does, it seems to be in a store that is not in shambles, but rather, rejected because of scratches, slight chips and freight damage, but still in remarkable "excellent" shape. This merchandise is not junk furniture hastily thrown together. The merchandise is well qualified to be placed in the most fashionable homes in Pampa. Furniture in Early American, French provincial, Spanish and modern styles can be found. For the citizens of this area, the House of Values, 403 S. TOP O TEXAS INSURANCE AGENCY

MARINE INSURANCE — Top O Texas Insurance Company, 108 N. Russell, offers insurance protection for boats of all sizes as well as other items.

Marine Insurance Covers Many Items

Pampa is located where it is high and dry most of the time, but there is a great deal of inland-marine insurance sold in this area. When marine insurance is mentioned, a person automatically thinks of the ocean and ships, boats and cargo carried by the ships and they do not realize that silverware, jewelry, guns, furs, camera equipment and musical instruments are insured by the inland marine form of insurance.

Marine insurance is normally written on an all-risk basis, i.e. almost everything that can happen to the property is covered.

The people at the Top O Texas Insurance Agency know about marine insurance and can offer excellent facilities for covering your guns, boats, jewelry, furs and antiques. This broad form coverage may be added to other policies or it may be written separately as the case may require.

If you should have an unusual insurance problem, call Doi Douthit, Gene Lewis or James Hart at Mohawk 4-7474 or come by the Top O Texas Insurance Agency located at 108 N. Russell.

Montgomery Ward Christmas Catalog Being Distributed

Imaginative "fun" gifts, "mod" fashions, "pop" art, exotic accessories, imported giftware and people-like electronic toys are jam-packed into the season's newest bellweather of Christmas — the 484 page Montgomery Ward Christmas catalog — now being distributed to six-million households.

"This year's holiday gift selection of toys, dolls, games and novel and fun items for the entire family required a record 180 catalog pages of illustrations," according to W. G. McGomas, manager of the Pampa Ward store.

For the harassed business executive who practices marksmanship on waste baskets, among other things there is a miniature basketball backboard and hoop that attaches to the wastebasket. As a nostalgic improvement on the water pitcher, there is an old-fashioned hand bar pump.

Different but practical and personal gifts for women include an electric hairbrush, electric comb, a watch in a ring, a portable electric clothes dryer, and "Princess Smart Belles" — exercising weights to keep the figure slim and trim.

There are 125 pages of fashions, accessories and apparel for women, girls, men and children in cotton, silk, dacron, leather and suede and very much in evidence is the new and popular Carnaby Street mod look. The 180 page toy section includes toys that educate and amuse and many that can be heard as well as seen.

Dolls — there are 30 pages to choose from — are an especially talented and active lot this year.

Also for little girls, the catalog introduces a Ward's exclusive — "Secret Sue" fashions, accessories and toys. Clothes for the dolls match the "Secret Sue" apparel for youngsters.

There are books to read, to color, to paint and paste in, books with pictures that pop-up and even books that talk. The child simply dials a phonograph which will tell him the story, together with sound effects, as he turns the pages.

For those who just don't know what to buy for a youngster, the catalog has a solution. It offers surprise packages for either boys or girls.

Science Shrinks Piles
 New Way Without Surgery
 Stops Itch — Relieves Pain

New Tech. N. T. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were as though that suffering made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Troops Seize Opium Farm

GUADALUPE Y CALVO, Mexico (UPI) — Federal troops seized an 88 million opium farm in the border state of Chihuahua and arrested two men with a small arsenal, it was reported recently.

The 25-acre field, was filled with growing poppies which later would have been made into opium and heroin with an estimated underworld value of $5 million.
