Marines Are Victors In Two Key Viet Nam Battles

Many Viet Cong Troops Surrender

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. forces reported victories on the two hottest battlefields of the war today. Marines captured a stubborn hill-top fortress near the demilitarized zone (DMZ) and its 1st Cavalry Division troops killed or captured 164 more Communists along the central coast.

Inez Gains Speed; Yucatan is Target

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Inez, gaining speed and following a snake-like course in the Gulf of Mexico, aimed her 100-mile-an-hour winds at the Yucatan Peninsula while dumping torrential rains on Cuba.

A government spokesman said the guerrillas laid down their arms and walked to South Vietnamese positions waving "safe conduct passes." The propaganda leaflets distributed to encourage defections.

Operation Irving, a two-week-old sweep in which South Korea's Tiger Division also played a major role, already has accounted for 934 North Vietnamese and hard-core guerrillas dead, 533 captured and 905 suspected Communists arrested.

U.S. officials said it broke the back of North Viet Nam's 610 Division and termed it one of the most successful mousetraps of the war.

In the key northern province of Tri Quang a U.S. Marine company stormed through heavy machine gun and grenade barrages late Wednesday and captured a key hill overlooking infiltration routes just south of the DMZ.

The assault eliminated a bothersome vest-pocket fortress that held out against three earlier Leatherneck attacks and harassed Marine units trying to seal off avenues of approach from North Viet Nam. It gave the Leathernecks undisputed control of a ridge line dominating three valleys.

A platoon commanded by Lt. William E. Curt of Phoenix, Ariz., accomplished what three earlier attacks — one of which reached within 10 yards of the summit — had failed to do: After two hours of bitter fighting in heavy rains and thick mud, Curt flashed back the word:

"This is our hill. We've got this damn hill." Curt's men, hurling grenades and firing from the hip as they moved, routed a reinforced North Vietnamese platoon — about 40 men — from deep bunkers that had withstood artillery and bombing attacks.

They killed 15 North Vietnamese. (See MARINES, Page 3)

Several clergymen from neighborhood churches have come to see me and told me they were trying to stop the crowds from forming," she said.

The Wrights spent their first night in the house Tuesday. "We all had a good sleep," Mrs. Wright said.

Wright, a shipping clerk, left for work Wednesday in a friend's car. The broken windows have been replaced. Police continue to guard the house and the crowds still gather at dusk. Stating she would do it all over again, Mrs. Wright, bolstered by her family and friends vowed, "I intend to stay."

President Johnson was expected to announce his Asian itinerary at a 1 p.m. CST news conference.

Johnson plans to visit first to disclose the President's plan to stop off to see them on his trip to the Manila conference, now set for Oct. 24-25.

Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, Malaysia, and Thailand announced he was coming. The first stop apparently will be New Zealand on Oct. 19.

Neither Union Nor GE Officials Will Give In WASHINGTON (UPI) — Neither side in the General Electric labor dispute was budging an inch today, apparently waiting for the Johnson administration to set the pace for new contract negotiations.

Federal mediators, one eye on the Viet Nam war and the other on the November elections, were engaged in the delicate business of attempting to narrow the disagreements in the strike-threatening situation.

They were to meet with both sides today.

Philip Moore, GE's chief negotiator, said the company was open to suggestions for changes of its contract offer to the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE). "But we made it clear there's no new money available."

IUE President Paul Jennings, who is bargaining for 120,000 members of his and 10 other GE unions, has no comment on the progress of the negotiations or what effect — if any — federal intervention had in the contract talks.

There were reports of workers on strike at scattered GE plants across the nation — 750 in Minneapolis; 2,000 at Ashland, Mass.

But these walkouts concerned largely local disputes and attempts were being made to settle them on the local level.

Federal mediators were under the pressure of an appeal from President Johnson to get an over-all GE settlement by Oct. 17 — or face a nationwide strike the administration contends could cripple an important section of defense production.

Briton Asks UN For Conference

BRIGHTON, England (UPI) — British Foreign Secretary George Brown said today he will ask the United Nations General Assembly next week to set up a Viet Nam peace conference as soon as possible.

Brown said the conference should include the Communist National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

He said he would also ask that the conference be preceded by an end to U.S. bombing in North Viet Nam, a halt to Communist infiltration from the north, and a bid on U.S. troop increases.

Brown told the annual conference of Britain's ruling Labor Party he would also continue suggesting to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko that the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina be reconvened. Russia and Britain are co-chairmen of the conference.

The utter savagery of the Viet Nam fighting has revolted the conscience of the world," Noel-Baker said amid prolonged sharply assailed the United States for continuing the Viet Nam war.

However, the conference later endorsed the Labor government's policies on Viet Nam, foreign policy and defense by a sweeping vote of 4,960,000 to 545,000.

It rejected by 3,899,000 votes to 2,473,000 a motion calling for complete disassociation from U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

But, in defiance of a recommendation by the national executive committee, it approved by 3,851,000 votes to 2,644,000 a motion calling for cessation of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam.

Philip Noel-Baker, 1959 Nobel Peace Prize winner, compared the bombing of North Viet Nam with the destruction of Guernica by Nazi dive bombers during the Spanish Civil War 30 years ago.

Ruby Might Go Free, Former Lawyer Says

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Jack Ruby, granted a new trial in the slaying of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, could conceivably go free, one of Ruby's former lawyers believes.

"Somebody just out of law school can handle it (the case) now," said attorney Joe H. Tonahill of Jasper, Tex. He said he believed the defense could get a murder without malice verdict in the next trial.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals unanimously reversed the conviction of Ruby Wednesday and ordered a new trial "somewhere other than Dallas."

The appeals court said, in ordering a new trial, that "the press had a field day" at the 1964 trial and Dallas was a bad place for the trial in the first place because the city, itself, felt it was on trial.

The three-judge court said Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown, who presided at the trial, should have moved it out of Dallas.

Ruby was convicted March 14, 1964 and sentenced to death. Since Ruby has already been in jail almost three years, Tonahill said, a guilty plea to murder without malice could conceivably mean he would go free.

The court's 4,000-word, 14-page opinion said testimony about Ruby's statement to police showing premeditation was admitted in "obvious violation of the Supreme Court's guideline on confessions."

"Jack Ruby was forced to trial under the most adverse, unusual, and extraordinary

Seven-Day Stall At Chrysler Ends

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. began calling back more than 49,000 idle workers at assembly plants across the nation today as production lines stalled by a seven-day strike began to roll.

The workers, at plants in the United States and one in Canada were laid off because of a shortage of parts caused by the strike at Chrysler's Twinsburg, Ohio, stamping plant.

Details of the agreement reached between Chrysler and United Auto workers Union Local 122 Wednesday were not revealed pending today's ratification vote by the 4,300 workers. The plant is supplier of major body and part stampings for Chrysler assembly operations.

A Chrysler spokesman said normal operations at the Twinsburg plant, which will begin Friday. Operations were scheduled to resume today at the stamping plant in Warren, Mich.

He said operations at assembly plants in Detroit; Newark, Del.; Belvidere, Ill. and St. Louis would begin Monday while the Windsor, Ont. assembly plant would begin Tuesday.

NEGRO FAMILY'S PLIGHT

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Lillian Wright sat with her three children in the small, neat living room of the newly rented house saying, "It doesn't make sense, they act like animals, like they had no education."

Mrs. Wright, 20, and her husband Leon, 22, are Negroes. For five consecutive nights howling white teenagers and angry adults have congregated outside their home protesting their arrival in a formerly all-white neighborhood of Kensington last Friday.

An estimated 700 to 800 persons demonstrated Wednesday night. One policeman was injured slightly in a brief scuffle and the window of a police car was smashed. A total of 25 adults and an uncounted number of juveniles were taken into custody but most of the juveniles were released to their parents after reprimands.

The crowd, most of them teenagers chanting "white power," and other segregation slogans, burned an effigy labeled "nigger" about a half block from the Wright home.

"We wanted something better for our children," said Mrs. Wright, a short attractive woman. Her daughters, Tawanda, 3, and Kim, 1, played with their brother John, 2, on the sidewalk in front of the house.

They appeared unafraid of the crowds outside that began their demonstration Saturday night with a fusillade of bricks and bottles that broke every window of the two-story, four-room brick row home.

Mrs. Wright said she began looking for a new home Sept. 25 because her department in a North Philadelphia slum section was without hot water and heat for three months.

"I paid $55 a month for the apartment, the same that I pay for this house," she said.

Mrs. Wright says she has no intentions of moving from the neighborhood as like when I looked at the house but now that I'm in, I'm here to stay."

Her determination has remained firm despite no single offer of welcome or apology from neighbors.

Several clergymen from neighborhood churches have come to see me and told me they were trying to stop the crowds from forming," she said.

Cong May Reject ICC's Inspection

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A pause in the U.S. bombing of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam — designed to permit international inspection in the zone — so far seems to have been rebuffed by the Communists.

North Viet Nam has continued to refuse permission for personnel of the International Control Commission to cross the boundary between the two Viet Nams to patrol the northern portion of the zone.

The zone stretches some 35 miles across the narrow waist of Viet Nam. It is 6 miles wide — 3 miles to the north 3 miles to the south of the boundary between the two countries.

The commission, composed of personnel from India, Canada and Poland, has been patrolling the southeastern part of the zone from a base at Gio Linh, just south of the zone at its eastern end, in South Viet Nam proper.

These patrols have been conducted along the main north-south road. But in recent months they have been halted by the North Vietnamese when they attempted to cross the border into the northern section of the zone.

One reason Hanoi gave was that, since last July, the area has been under attack from U.S. planes.

The commission asked the United States to suspend its air activity to permit extension of the patrols.

Washington agreed. A week ago, U.S. air activity in the eastern portion of the DMZ — both north and south of the border — came to a halt. But this was not announced publicly until Wednesday, however, Washington felt there was more of a chance of success if there was no publicity. Otherwise, it was felt, Hanoi would denounce it as a stunt.

There were some news reports on the pause when it began, but they attracted little notice. Then on Wednesday a Canadian news report portrayed the pause as a possible beginning of a deescalation of the war. This prompted a formal White House announcement of the pause, which said:

"The pause was intended to permit extension of the patrols."

Johnson May Visit Six Countries On October Trip to the Philippines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson will visit possibly half a dozen other countries on his trip late this month to the Philippines for a seven-nation conference on the Viet Nam war.

Speculation was rife in Saigon that the chief executive's wide-ranging travels through Asia would include a stop at a major American military base in South Viet Nam. There was no official word on this.

President Johnson was expected to announce his Asian itinerary at a 1 p.m. CST news conference.

Johnson plans to visit first to disclose the President's plan to stop off to see them on his trip to the Manila conference, now set for Oct. 24-25.

Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, Malaysia, and Thailand announced he was coming. The first stop apparently will be New Zealand on Oct. 19.

Johnson's Asian trip, scheduled just three weeks before the American congressional elections, drew sharp criticism from some Republicans who saw it as an effort to help in trouble Democratic congressmen.

As announced by Asian leaders, the President's travel plans looked like this: New Zealand, Oct. 19; Australia, Oct. 20-22; the Philippine conference, Oct. 24-25.

After the conference, Johnson would go to Malaysia Oct. 30, South Korea, Oct. 31, and Thailand, although no date was announced.

If Johnson did make the Viet Nam, it would mark the first time a serving U.S. chief executive had visited a war zone since Abraham Lincoln did it more than 100 years ago.

While there was no official word of a Viet Nam visit, diplomats in Saigon said if Johnson went there, he probably would stop only at a major American base for security reasons. Any visit to Saigon was said to be almost certainly

Wall Street Chatter

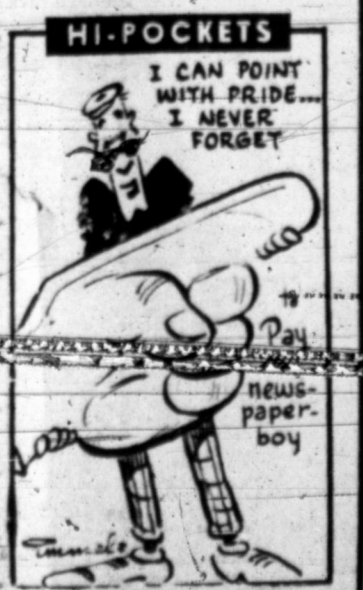

NEW YORK (UPI) —Wright Investors Service says it believes that at its current severely depressed price level the stock market represents a constructive opportunity, which occurs only about once in three years, and provides the foundation upon which investment fortunes are built.

Ralph E. Samuel & Co. says it is somewhat difficult to adopt a bearish position after seven months of falling prices. The firm says many investors, at this juncture will prefer to stand still and it takes no issue with that approach. But between buying and selling, the firm says, it is all for the former at this point.

Goodbody & Co. says the market is likely to continue under pressure in the week ahead, reflecting further examples of the corporate profit margin squeeze, speculation over the possibility of a major step up of military activity in Viet Nam and the prospects of a tax boost.

In 1945, Chiang AISHE AN Communist leader Mao Tseung issued a joint statement pledging their mutual desires of peace and unity.

In 1962, Pope John XXIII opened the second session of the Ecumenical Council with a plea for Christian unity.

Price Backs New Exchange System

HEREFORD — A federal law enforcement information exchange system was "one of the bold, meaningful steps" advocated today by congressional candidate Bob Price as a means of solving the nation's crime problem.

"Because crime is now waged on a massive, interstate basis in computers, we can provide the means to centralize law enforcement information," Price told a group of Hereford businessmen attending a breakfast in his honor at the Cason House Restaurant.

The 18th District candidate promised, if elected, to work with the Federal Bureau of Investigation Police Academy in expanding their training to every law enforcement agency in the district.

Price also called for vigorous action by all levels of government to put a halt to "civil disobedience" by so-called "peace-hiks" or any other group.

"If everyone has a right to engage in riots and other forms of public disobedience, to protest real or imagined wrongs, then the example set by the minority today will be followed by the majority tomorrow," Price predicted.

"This nation can no longer tolerate men who put themselves above the law, whether it be civil disobedience or criminal action. Beyond this, our judiciary must be supported by strong sentencing of the guilty while protecting the constitutional rights of all citizens, regardless of race, color or creed," Price stated.

THE TEXAS Court of Criminal Appeals ruled Oct. 5 that Jack Ruby, right, convicted on charges of killing President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, left, will have an opportunity to stand trial again. The court which sits in Austin, reversed Ruby's conviction and ordered a new trial on the grounds that a motion for a change of venue by one of Ruby's lawyers should have been granted so that the trial could be staged in a community other than Dallas.

Campaign Code Is Signed by Price

Bob Price, GOP candidate for Congress from the 18th District of Texas, announced today he had signed the Code of Fair Campaign Practices and joined with national political leaders who have put their principles on record by "signing and following the statement."

Price said he had signed the code and returned it to Charles Taft, chairman of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Inc., in Washington.

"The code sets forth basic principles of decency, honesty and fair play which every candidate for public office in the United States has a moral obligation to observe and uphold, in order that, after vigorously contested but fairly conducted campaigns, citizens may exercise their constitutional rights to a free and untrammeled choice and the will of the people may be fully and clearly expressed on the issues before the country."

Lefors Man Given Early Promotion

FT. BLISS — Charles M. Dickerson, 25, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Dickerson, and wife, Doris, live at Lefors, received an early promotion to Army pay grade private E-2 on completion of basic combat training at Ft. Bliss Sept. 17.

He was awarded the promotion two months earlier than is customary because of his accuracy in firing the M-14 rifle, high score on the physical combat proficiency test and his military bearing and leadership abilities.

The early promotion program is an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

Dickerson was graduated from Lefors Independent High School in 1959 and attended Baptist Bible College, Springfield, Mo.

Two Cars Collide On Market Road

Two cars sustained total loss damages in an early morning accident today on Farm-to-Market Road 749, a mile south of Pampa, according to Highway Patrolman Vernon Cauthorn.

Cauthorn said cars driven by Jerry Dean Smith, 1040 Cinderella, and John Atchley of Lefors were in a collision around 6:45 a.m. today.

Neither driver was injured, Cauthorn said.

Pampa Youths Church Suffers Heavy Vandalism

Rev. Walter White, pastor of Harrah Methodist Church, 629 S. Barnes, reported to city police that several windows of the church were broken sometime last night.

This was the second occurrence of broken windows at the church, Rev. White said.

Nurses Pay Hike Urged

DALLAS (UPI)—The Texas Hospital Association urged members Wednesday to pay a minimum starting salary of $6,500-a-year to general staff registered nurses.

David H. Hitt, president of the 965-member association, said the pay increases would be accompanied by comparable increases in hospital service rates.

Hitt, associate administrator of Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas, said he hopes the move will help get Texas' 10,000 non-working nurses on the job.

The American Nurses Association set a $6,500 figure at their June meeting.

Coed Named To NTSU Sorority

DENTON—Carol Gorgie Akst of Pampa has been elected a member of the North Texas State University chapter of Delta Gamma, a national social sorority.

Miss Akst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Akst, 1022 Duncan, is a 1965 graduate of Pampa High School. A sophomore speech and English major, she is also a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, national honor society for women; Women's Forum, an organization which helps direct campus social life and was on the Dean's List her freshman year.

Firemen Make Two City Runs

South Station of the Pampa Fire Department made a run at 1:30 p.m. yesterday to a metal barn in the 700 block W. Wilks.

Firemen report total loss of 75 bales of hay and smoke damage to the building.

Firemen said cause of the fire was welding torch sparks igniting the hay.

Firemen answered a call at the Steer Inn, 716 W. Brown, at 1:25 p.m. yesterday, where grease ignited and caused heavy smoke damage to the kitchen.

Fellowship Follows Friday's Football

The First Baptist and Central Baptist churches are co-sponsoring an "After Game Fellowship" Friday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

Featured entertainment will be "The Climbers"; Monte Westbrook, Jo Hitt, Carolyn McKinley, Susan Smith, Helen and Ellen McDaniel.

Refreshments of sandwiches, hot chocolate, and cokes will be provided.

All high schoolers are invited to First Baptist Church following the game.

Vocational Ed Survey Reported At Halfway Point

Workers surveying the present and future vocational needs of business firms in Pampa were reported to be halfway through their canvassing at a report meeting held this morning in Pampa Junior High Cafeteria.

The survey has been instigated by school officials to determine the availability of employment opportunities in the community. Survey information will be used to gear high school courses to meet that demand.

Dr. John Dameron, school superintendent, said it will take from one to three months for results of the survey to be evaluated.

It was hoped that by this afternoon the survey would be almost finished. Texas Education Agency supervisors, directors of the survey, were to leave Pampa today to begin evaluation of information already obtained. Additional survey information will be forwarded as soon as it is completed.

Citation Issued For Failure To Leave Accident Information

Ive Mallard, 532 Harlem, was cited by city police for failure to leave information after collision with a parked car belonging to Columbus Morgan, 517 Oklahoma.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight this morning in the 500 block S. Gray; police said.

The Mallard auto had incurred $10 damages while the parked car sustained approximately $100 damages, according to a police report.

It was an effort to permit the International Control Commission to investigate alleged violations of the 1954 Geneva treaty as it relates to the demilitarized zone.

The eastern portion of the DMZ was singled out because that was where the Control Commission had at least a remote chance of expanding its activity. The western section, mainly jungle, has been the scene of massive North Vietnamese infiltration. There are reported to be elements of two North Vietnamese divisions in the western and central parts of the zone.

Torrential rains drenched Havana from the backlash effects of Inez and continuing downpours threatened to damage Cuba's fine tobacco crop.

Forecaster Paul Moore of the Miami Weather Bureau said he saw nothing to interrupt Inez' general course.

As much as 12 inches of rain within 30 hours fell in Havana and forecasters said, "it seems certain that much of the part of Cuba to the west of there will get similar amounts."

Much of the heavy rainfall came in the Pinar del Rio Province, the area which grows what many think to be the finest cigar tobacco in the world. Their key money crop is ready to be harvested at this time of year and heavy rain is the tobacco grower's worst enemy.

AMMAN, Jordan (NSA) — So far as we know, there is only one country in the world which ways the Jerash hill climbs or sports car races on the Amman airstrip.

Jordan, a hot, dusty little country placed precariously between Israel, Syria and Saudi Arabia, is plain car-crazy, larpointing to the famous gold gull-wing sports car in the corner. His Majesty's particular favorite, for the moment, is the Porsche 911. "But," says Raynor, "every year it's something different."

King Hussein, now 31, first became interested in cars and racing when he was given a Rover in 1952 while he was a student at Harrow, one of England's most exclusive private schools. He met Raynor at the same time.

Says the king: "Raynor was a man whose only interest in life was cars. I was a boy who shared exactly the same passion. We got on famously together. . . . This was the start of my love for fast cars." Hussein recounts in his autobiography, "Uneasy Lies the Head." "Very soon I can boast a Royal Go-Kart Club and that country is the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan.

The honorable members of that organization meet each Friday afternoon to put their little machines through their paces. And, when they're not racing go-karts, there are algely because its sovereign, Hussein I, is interested in any vehicle with wheels.

The man behind the throne, in this case, is Maurice Raynor, a Britisher who has maintained the king's fantastic stable of automobiles for more than a decade.

Raynor, a stocky, pink-faced man in his 50s, showed us around the royal garages recently and pointed out some of His Majesty's favorite cars.
"He likes that Aston Martin over there," he said, "and, of course, the Mercedes 300 - SE."

began to think of bigger and better ones. . . . I received another gift — this time a Bristol that would do 90 miles an hour without trying."
And now the young, dynamic king personally owns or has access to about 85 automobiles, including a brace of Royal Rolls-Royces. "We've had the Rolls for about six years," Raynor says, "and all we've had to do is replace the plugs. The other cars we have to replace completely in about two years."

Though Raynor doesn't approve ("I'm not in favor of half the things he does.") Hussein, his Keeper of Cars grudgingly admits, "is a very fast — and good — driver at all times. But to a nervous passenger, he is sometimes too fast."

When he is not flying planes or waterskiing, King Hussein generally does his own driving. "Whenever a Jordanian sees a chauffeur sitting in the back seat," Raynor says, "he knows the king is at the wheel."

Rotary Hears School Superintendent
Supt. of schools Dr. John Damron explained the workings of the reactivated Pampa Junior College District in an impromptu talk before members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.
Damron said that vocational and technical courses should be offered initially through adult evening classes. A minimum of twenty students must register for a class before it will be taught, he added.
A survey of business firms, which is now underway in Pampa, will help determine which vocational course should be offered now and in the future.
Hugh Peoples introduced the speaker.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
 United Press International
 Another civil rights bill is moving quietly through Congress under an assumed name and camouflaged by administration assurances that it is not a civil rights bill at all.

That is the bill due soon for House consideration. It has passed the Senate. What this bill could demonstrate would be that the federal government can bribe northern-urban and suburban communities to integrate the housing, educational and economic patterns of their communities.

Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., has been sounding alarm bells against this legislation since the administration produced it some months ago. He warned that the bill was designed to help the Negro "crack" the lily white suburbs. Congress has refused to listen so far and the voters did not hear. The House Democratic leadership brushed off Fino's warnings and his proposed amendments.

The administration's original six year, $2.3 billion project was too rich, however, for the Senate where it was trimmed to $900 million and two years.

Administration denies that the demonstration cities bill has anything to do with civil rights are supported by the fact that it does not state any civil rights objectives as such. Fino's assertion that the bill is a civil rights project in false whiskers is supported by these facts:

The bill would confer on federal officials in Washington the authority to establish in co-operating urban and suburban areas standards of racial integration in education and housing and, in general, guidelines for community living. These large sums of federal money to do so; call it bribe or bonus.

These officials would distribute or withhold federal bonuses or bribes as urban and suburban communities did or did not comply with federal standards.

The federal officials who would be most involved at the top in establishing standards and in distributing funds would be two whose racial objectives already extend beyond any authority conveyed by the Congress or by the Supreme Court. They are Secretary Robert C. Weaver of the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs (HUD) and Commissioner Harold How II of the U.S. Office of Education.

Howe already has committed himself to racial balance in public schools by means of pupil assignment. Weaver is not far behind in overall objectives. Given the power and the funds proposed in the pending bill, there can be no reasonable doubt about what Weaver and Howe would do. Fino told Congress that President Johnson himself had described the bill as a sleeper which would give the administration massive powers over selected cities.

Howe's advocacy of school bussing, combination of city-suburban school districts, school pairing and such is of public record. Howe disregards the congressional prohibition against correcting racial imbalance by means of pupil assignment. He ignores the fact that the Supreme Court has declared racial segregation — any segregation — by public officials shall be unlawful. In the words of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield: The policy of the Civil Rights Act was not to implement an affirmative policy of integration.

That is not the way Howe seems to state Johnson administration policy. Howe is committed to using federal bribes to induce school integration of northern suburbs with northern city slums. Weaver's objectives lie generally in the field of housing. Congress probably will provide the team of Weaver-and-Howe with nearly $1 billion with which to proceed.

Frosty Coconut Honey Freeze

CHILLY CONFECTION — Deliciously frosty Coconut Honey Freeze is worthy of service at your most-festive and important dinners or it might star as the featured treat for your next afternoon coffee hour.

Every once in a while, a dessert recipe comes to our attention that deserves special notice. And when that dessert is a deliciously frosty one like this Coconut Honey Freeze — a homemade frozen treat that is both elegant and easy — it's really time to post invitations to a party.

This dessert is sweetened with honey and also boasts the nutty goodness of toasted coconut. Honey is the oldest sweet known to man, its flavor not cloying to the taste, but, instead, quite delicate and pleasing. When it is used in a recipe such as this, it's no wonder we think the finished dish needs telling about!

Simple as this recipe is, the dessert is worthy of service at your most festive and important dinners. It's a wonderfully rich fluff of cream, honey and eggs that is set with unflavored gelatin, whipped and frozen. We like it served as is or with a crown of bite-sized fresh fruits.

It makes a fine, refreshingly cool ending to a company dinner; or it might star as the featured treat for your next afternoon coffee hour served with dainty cookies and, of course, steaming hot coffee. Make it up way ahead of the party and scoop it out at the very last moment. Then wait for folks to ask for the secret of this delightful frozen, coconut- and -honey confection.

COCONUT HONEY FREEZE
 3/4 cup honey
 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
 2 tablespoons cold water
 2 eggs
 3 cups half-and-half
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 1/2 cup flaked coconut, toasted
 Heat honey. Soften gelatin in cold water and add to honey; stir to dissolve. Cool. Beat honey mixture, eggs and half and half for two minutes; pour into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. Turn mixture into chilled bowl; beat until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream and toasted coconut. Pour back into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. Makes about 1 1/2 quarts.

Ice cream lovers anywhere will go for Cake a la Mode with Mint Sauce. It combines one layer of chocolate cake and a pint of softened vanilla ice cream with a creamy peppermint-marshmallow sauce for the sauce, stir 2 tablespoons light cream into a cup of marshmallow creme. Then stir in 3 tablespoons of crushed peppermint candy. Now, put it all together. Spread the layer of cake with the ice cream, cut the cake into wedges, and top with the minty-marshmallow sauce. Sprinkle on top with more crushed peppermint candy. Kids of all ages love it!

COOK'S TOUR

By JEANNE LESEM
 UPI Food Editor
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Odds and ends from the food manufacturers and trade publications:
 Supermarket cash registers ring a more profitable tune when a store soothes its customers with piped-in music.
 A survey by Musitime, Inc., a supplier of such music, shows that background music leads customers to linger longer over their shopping and that the longer they linger, the more they buy.

The results of the study, reported in Progressive Grocer, a trade magazine, also showed that many customers want an in-store reminder of times to buy — provided the reminder comes as a soft-sell suggestion instead of a hard-sell commercial. Customers queried added that they preferred a soft-voiced male announcer with a distinctive style to a female announcer.

A trade magazine estimate places at 2,000 the number of new products offered annually to a typical retail market — which accepts about 500 and later discontinues what the magazine calls "an appreciable portion."

 Some of the newest products now in test markets or going into national distribution include two brands of frozen turkey with built-in labor-saving features. A self-basting bird (Armour Golden Star) is injected with butter before it is frozen; a self-timing bird (Norbest Dun-Rite) is fitted with a special timer before it is frozen. The pre-set device contains a plunger that pops up automatically when the turkey is done.

New also are: cake with frozen cream cheese frosting containing nuggets of carrot and pineapple (Karat Cake, Awrey Bakeris, Detroit) and two new frozen prepared foods (Banquet Canning Co., St. Louis; that solve a usually sticky problem — Welsh rarebit and sloppy joe beef with barbecue sauce in boilable bags that can be heated without messing up saucepans.

Child-oriented products continue to multiply. One new packaged gelatin dessert mix (Mr. Wiggle, General Foods; in fruit candy flavors is formulated to be prepared safely by children. Use equal parts of hot tap water and cold water. The dessert is presweetened without sugar.

Even Batman has become a food salesman. At least two jam and jelly manufacturers (Louis Sherry, Long Island City, N.Y., and W. H. Marvin, Inc., Urbana, Ohio) are marketing products with characters from the popular television show on the labels.

A Warsaw, Ohio, supermarket staged a Batman steak promotion, featuring round steak "cut in the Batman outline. A report said no customer actually had bought such a steak, but steak sales in general had risen.
 In non-foods a Wisconsin firm (Badger Paper Mills, Inc., Peshtigo) is introducing ice blue and peach color waxed papers, and another company (General Foods) is testmarketing disposable paper towels with built-in cleaners — one for copper, the other for silver.

Japanese Idea for Backyard Chefs

A simple sauce is all that is required to turn a beef barbecue into an authentic Japanese dish perfect for backyard entertaining or for indoor broiling when the weather begins to cool.

Tastiest and juiciest results come from using minute steaks, but even hamburgers can be turned into "Beef Teriyaki."

This is the recipe suggested by Japan Air Lines' chefs:
 2 to 2 1/2 lbs. of minute steak or other cuts of beef (for six servings)
 1/2 cup shoyu (Japanese soy sauce)
 2 tsp. Japanese sake (or dry sherry)
 1 tsp. Japanese sake (or dry sherry)
 1 clove of crushed garlic
 1/4 tsp. monosodium glutamate

4 tsp. sugar
 1/4 cup of water
 Combine all of the ingredients, except the meat, in a large mixing bowl. Place the beef into the sauce and marinate for one hour.

Broil over hot charcoal. Meat less than 1/2 inch thick is usually preferred for teriyaki and it will cook through in about five minutes. Thicker slices usually remain juicier but the teriyaki flavor penetrates less.

Care should be taken not to overcook teriyaki, which tends to dry it out. The meat should be basted with the sauce while it is cooking.
 Teriyaki is usually a main course, but JAL serves bite-size squares on its flight as hearty hors d'oeuvres.

Use Round Steak To Wrap Carrots. For Braised Dish

It takes the average factory worker 24½ minutes to earn enough to buy a pound of round steak. In 1958, it took him 30 minutes; in 1961, 41 minutes.

This is one of the reasons beef round steak is popular: it won't wreck the budget. When cut into pieces, pounded to increase tenderness, explains Reb a Staggs, meat authority, it can be wrapped around carrots for cooking, browned in a small amount of lard or drippings, covered and cooked slowly with moisture. That's called braising.

SKILLET STEAK DINNER
1 beef round steak, cut ½-inch thick
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 small carrots, cut lengthwise into fourths
¼ cup lard or drippings
4 potatoes, peeled
4 small onions
2-3 cup of water
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed mushroom soup

Cut steak into pieces about 3 x 5 inches. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat with seasoned flour. Place 3 or 4 carrot sticks on each piece of steak. Wrap steak around carrots and fasten with a wooden pick. Brown rolls slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add potatoes and onions to steak. Mix water with mushroom soup and pour over all. Cover tightly and cook slowly in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) or on top of range 1½ to 2 hours or until meat is tender and vegetables are done. 4 servings.

Food Buying Guide
The following guide to the nation's food shopping buys for this coming weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fall weekend shopping should be varied and fun. Many meats are in good supply and some new produce items—cranberries and grapefruit—should add spice to the counters.

Steaks are featured in the beef column, while bacon, ham, roasts—mostly loin cuts, smoked picnics, and spareribs are the best items in the pork supply basket.

Broilers and fryers, along with turkeys are in the plentiful section for weekend buying, too. Egg prices have dropped in a few areas. Carrots lead the plentiful vegetables list. Celery, lettuce, onions, potatoes, squash, and tomatoes are the other plentiful.

Apples, bananas, grapefruits, grapes and pears are the fruits in best supply right now, selling at reasonable prices. Nationally, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are the wisest fish buys.

For a festive entree, serve rack of lamb with chutney glaze and peach garnish. Drain 1 (1-pound) can of sliced cing peaches; reserve syrup. Mix syrup with 1-3 cup of chutney, chopped. Use to baste a 3-pound rack of lamb on a rack in a shallow roasting pan.

325-degree oven 1½ to 2 hours or until meat thermometer registers 175 degrees, for medium doneness. Baste often. Arrange drained peach slices around lamb during last 10 to 15 minutes of cooking period. Brush peaches with chutney haste. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

rened, very active San Francisco mother-in-business we know. She adds, "Serve these raisin-cash drawer biscuits piping hot for brunch or coffee time. They delight folks who want a bread that's not too sweet—meaning

Cook artichokes in boiling salted water to which you've added some lemon juice or vinegar to preserve the 'chokes color and a little oil to make the leaves glossy. For 4 artichokes use 2 tablespoons of lemon juice and a tablespoon of oil.

RAISIN CASH DRAWER BISCUITS

2¼ cups biscuit mix
1 cup seedless raisins
¾ cup milk
6 tablespoons melted butter
1-3 cup brown sugar (packed)
Nutmeg.

Combine biscuit mix, raisins, milk and 3 tablespoons butter, stirring to soft dough. Turn out onto floured board. Pat to a rectangle, then roll to 12x14-inch rectangle. Spread with 2 tablespoons butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and nutmeg. Divide in half to make 2 (7x12-inch) pieces. Roll each piece from long side to make 2 (12-inch) rolls. Cut each into 6 pieces.

Stretch each piece slightly and fit into well-greased cash drawer pan (or individual biscuit or muffin cups). Brush tops with remaining 1 tablespoon butter. Bake at 400 degrees 15 to 18 minutes, until browned. Makes 12 biscuits.

Enrich for Health

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Q — Is it really important that I use only enriched bread for my family?

A — Since the beginning of flour and bread enrichment, food deficiency diseases caused by lack of the B vitamins have virtually disappeared. Enriched bread also helps combat simple anemia caused by lack of iron. Gone is the typical swollen belly that identified the listless, mentally disturbed victim of acute thiamine deficiency. Also gone are the bad skin, marked by flaking, oily pimples around the mouth, nostrils, eyes and ears, caused by riboflavin deficiency.

For a tangy appetizer, serve apple juice to which a spoonful of ice cream or sherbert has been added.

Department of Agriculture studies indicate that enrichment of flour, bread and other cereals adds about a third more thiamine, a fifth more iron and niacin and a tenth more riboflavin to the American diet than would otherwise be available.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Steps must be taken to protect children from individuals who might commit sexual or other crimes against them.

Parents needn't become panicky nor should they frighten their children. They should take normal precautions and instruct the children accordingly.

The young child tends to be friendly with everyone he meets. The criminal and deranged person takes advantage of this situation. This shouldn't discourage friendliness, but should lead the child to observe several rules for his protection. The best protection is actually prevention. Once an incident has occurred the physical or psychological harm has been done.

An older child faces similar problems. Teenagers are more capable of protecting themselves and preventing incidents. On the other hand they are also more open to criminal attack since they are not as closely supervised. They are also outside at later hours and in more dangerous places.

What advice should be given to children? It is important that they understand the dangers, but should not become constantly tense and frightened. With this in mind, you should consider making the following recommendations to your child with the appropriate adjustments depending upon his age.

Never hitch hike or accept a ride from a person you do not know. Politely express thanks, but refuse the ride. If possible obtain the license number and a description of the car and person. The offer of a ride should be reported to parents, police or teachers.

Don't take money, candy, or gifts of any kind from a stranger. The promise of some exciting gift is often used to tempt someone into an improper or dangerous act.

Avoid going with a stranger who asks for directions to some place. It is even advisable to avoid getting into a conversation with a stranger. This would eliminate any problems.

Parents should always be informed of visits to another person's home. In addition parents should check carefully before you do any kind of work for a stranger.

It is dangerous to play alone in alleys, in woods, on the beach or in other deserted areas. Try to be with one or more friends when going to playgrounds, to movies, on hikes, etc. There is usually greater safety in numbers.

Don't stay around public toilets, school, theaters, or other public buildings. Always leave immediately. Individuals who wish to do harm of any kind will often wait around public places looking for stragglers. If you remain in school past the normal hours arrange for your parents to pick you up. In other situations, always call ahead when detained for any reason.

Never allow a stranger to touch you. Parents should be told immediately of any such attempt.

It is also a good idea to report the presence of any strangers who might be loitering in a neighborhood with no apparent purpose.

Any of the above or other suspicious incidents should be reported to the police.

Children cannot be supervised all of the time. It is therefore necessary that they be instructed concerning proper safety measures.

Corn Needs Ma

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Corn, which does not grow wild, would become extinct in a few years, if left untended by man, says Dr. A. Richard Baldwin, head of research for Cargill, Inc., a major producer of hybrid corn seed.

Yggdrasil was the great ash tree of life and knowledge and represented fate, time and space.

Missionary Dentist

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Dale Brainard may have more potential patients than any dentist in the world. He is the only practicing dentist in the 275,000 square miles of Bechuanaland, South Africa, with a population of 548,000.

The Cleveland, Ohio, dental surgeon volunteered his services to the United Church of Christ Board for World Missions. Reformation Sunday has a limited scale.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Co. says that while the outlook for the remainder of the month will continue uncertain, it feels another oversold condition could be reached shortly and some technical rebound could result.

Purcell, Graham & Co. says the market does not seem to have reached bottom yet, and investors should continue to hold substantial cash reserves. However, the firm says, it still believe the time is not too far off for the development of a major bottom area.

E. F. Hutton & Co. Ind. says the stock market, as measured by most indicators, is a triple bottom and that if prices hold at this point or move ahead, a psychological boost could be provided.

The Pampa Daily News

12 THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS 59TH YEAR

On The Sports Front
Bud Wilkinson

Will there actually be a final championship game at the end of the professional football season between the winners of the American and National League? It appears doubtful.

When the merger of the two leagues was announced, the public was assured the game would be played this year. Now, we are told, unless Congress passes special legislation allowing the merger and exempting the sport from anti-trust laws, the game cannot be played.

Smoke Screen

This is patently absurd. There is no law that would prevent the inter-league game.

Actually, the championship game is being used as a smoke screen to hide the real reason the pros want the legislation. What they really want is legality for a common player draft.

A reserve clause to prevent established stars from jumping to other teams is needed. The player draft is not.

The pros attempt to justify the draft on the theory that the wealthy teams would be able to buy the less affluent — secure superior talent — and destroy equal competition in the leagues.

This sounds good — but it simply isn't true. A study of past player drafts indicates that some superstars like Johnny Unitas were not even drafted. Many other premier players were not top draft choices.

Yet the pros say the draft is necessary to equalize competition and steadfastly refuse to admit that the draft has only one real purpose — to eliminate costly bidding by the pro teams for each year's college seniors.

If the pros were on the level about equalizing competition, they could do it tomorrow by changing their rules relating to their so-called "taxi squads."

The "taxi squad" is made up of players who are not on the active players list — but who have not been placed on waivers. Thus, even though they cannot play in league games, no other club can claim them.

Currently, the active player limit is 38 — but there is no limit on the number of men who can be held in the "taxi squad." It follows that the wealthier teams can afford larger "taxi squads" made up of higher-salaried players than the poorer teams. This is a real factor which furthers inequality of competition.

Live Interest

The situation could be remedied by changing the rules so that all men not declared on the active list of 38 for the final league game would be placed on the active list.

Coaches associated with new professional franchise tell me they could improve their squads almost 50 per cent if they could claim players from the "taxi squads" of their long-established rivals. Thus, if the owners actually desire more equal competition, all they need to do is change the one rule — men, not on the active player list must be put on waivers. They then can be claimed by any other team.

In my years in football, I always have had a live interest in the professional game. It is great spectacle played by some of the world's best athletes.

However, I've always been opposed to the drafting of players. It is un-American, unfair, and not needed.

In our society, it is a violation of a basic freedom to tell a college graduate football player that he must play for the team that drafted him — at the salary it decides to pay — or not play the game at all.

TRY, TRY AGAIN

Dons Seeking First '66 Win

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

The old saying, "If at first you don't succeed, try and try again," would certainly apply to the Palo Duro Dons.

When the Dons invade Harvester Field Friday night they will be looking for their first victory and for their points of 1966.

The Dons have not tallied in four outings, have not given up very many either. Through four games only 51 points have been run across on Palo Duro which is an average of just over two td's per game.

Pampa, on the other hand, has been scoring at will, but the Harvester defense has been shredded for 15 points per contest.

Pampa has tallied 74 points in their four games but have given up 60.

The Dons will bring a better than average football team to town and upmost in their minds, besides winning and scoring, or vice versa, will be the reminder that Pampa won its only game of 1965 against them.

Pampa triumphed 20-13 in 1965, scoring in the final quarter for the victory.

But things have changed in 1966 and Pampa will take a two game winning streak and 3-1 record into the fray, something that hasn't happened here since Bobby Stephens had a slim, trim figure.

The Harvesters will be hurting two respects in the facts that punter James Matney will miss his second straight game with a knee injury and quarterback Gary Hyatt will probably be sidelined. He too is suffering the knee miseries.

L. D. Rowden will again do the punting for Pampa and Smision Goddett will probably do the quarterbacking for the Harvesters.

The Dons are young and inexperienced with two sophomores in the starting lineup despite the fact first-year coach Tommy Gray returned 17 lettermen.

The Dons run off the Arkansas-I and passing is the name of their game.

Last week in their 14-0 loss to Wichita Falls Rider, a team which beat Pampa, 20-0, the Dons put the ball in the 23 times and completed but seven and against Caprock threw the pigskin 29 times, connecting on 12 of them.

Bobby Wilson, a 170 pound junior quarterback with only one year experience will do the tossing for the Dons and his favorite receivers are end Buster Hamilton, a 173-pound senior and slotback Raymond Stone, a 145 pound senior.

Spartans Slim Choice to Win

By United Press International

The sweet smell of roses accompanied the University of Michigan the last time they visited East Lansing, and Coach Bump Elliott figures it's a good time to retell the vase.

In another key game, seventh-ranked Tennessee is a slim two-point choice over 10th-ranked Georgia Tech. That game will be nationally televised.

The Rice Owls are three-touchdown underdogs against UCLA. The second-ranked Bruins apparently have too much offense in Gary Beban and Mel Farr to be stopped by the Owls.

A stubborn Army defense which have given up only six points in three outings, faces the explosive offense of third-ranked Notre Dame.

A near upset over Georgia Tech last week did not give Clemson a break with the oldsmakers, as fourth-ranked Alabama is a 20-point choice.

Orioles Trying Koufax

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers called on Sandy Koufax—the game fellow they always turn to whenever they're in trouble—to get them back on the right track today and even the 1966 World Series with the Baltimore Orioles.

Beaten in the opening game Wednesday, 5-2, on first winning homers by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, and by the brilliant, unexpected relief pitching of National League castoff Moe Drabowsky, the Dodgers still were rated 8-5 favorites to win the second game with Koufax.

But the Orioles, by hammering big Don Drysdale and dealing the Dodgers their first home park defeat in World Series play, were made even money choices to take the series. They had started the series as 8-5 underdogs.

"I don't imagine," said smiling Hank Bauer, "that Kofax is going to be easy for us as Drysdale was, but as I've said all along we are going to win it on our hitting."

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers, not the least bit disheartened by the opening game loss, said he was confident Koufax would get his club even.

"I sure don't want to lose the first two games again this year like we did last," he added. "Then the Dodgers came back to defeat the Minnesota Twins in seven games with Koufax, of course, wrapping it up for Los Angeles."

A 17-game winner who earned every nickel of the $125,000 salary he gets from the Dodgers, Koufax has been like money in the bank in clutch games. He beat the Philadelphia Phillies in the final game of the season last Sunday to give the Dodgers their second straight pennant.

With Jim Palmer, a 15-game winning right hander going for the Orioles, Alston made his usual lineup change, putting Ron Fairly, a left handed hitter, in the outfield and benching Tommy Davis, a right handed batter.

Bauer also made a change, sending right-handed hitting Paul Blair to center field instead of the southpaw swinging Russ Snyder.

"We never panic," said Alston. "I just told my players after yesterday's game to go back out there and play their usual game. It's been good enough in the past and it'll be good enough in the future."

"You can bet we won't be overconfident because we beat Drysdale," Bauer said. "He's a fine pitcher. His control was off and Frank and Brooks took advantage of it."

Bauer admitted he was surprised by the gut-ed relief pitching turned in by Drabowsky, who looked like he had had it five years ago when winning right hander going for him came up with a dead arm.

Bradley Definitely Out For OU Game

By United Press International

Bill Bradley improved enough Wednesday for Texas fans to get their hopes up that he might play against Arkansas Oct. 15, but he still may have to have surgery.

Bradley, a Longhorn sophomore quarterback, was taken off crutches and put on a weight program to strengthen his knee.

Bradley got hurt in the Longhorns' 35-0 victory over Indiana Saturday.

Bradley will definitely be out against Oklahoma in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Saturday.

In Fayetteville, Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said his Razorbacks were "still in the learning stage" but that he is perfecting a "partnership between (quarterback) Jon Brittenum and (end) Tommy Burnett."

"I hope we can be as ready as Baylor will be," Broyles said, in referring to Saturday's opponent.

Defensive men Steve Hoehn and Mike Jordan still are on limited duty following injuries, but they worked out in pads.

Lloyd Phillips and Richard Trail were back in practice Wednesday after skipping Tuesday. Phillips had a virus and Trail was out with a bruised knee.

Rice's Owls ran through recognition drills with the offensive

McLean where the Tigers will track after losing their game in four starts last week to White Deer.

The Tigers were scored on for the first time last week and host a team that has lost two in a row and isn't used to doing it.

Groom—with a 1-2-1 record, will also be trying to get back in the winning groove but its hard for any Class B club to beat a good Class A team and Groom is rated a 12-point underdog.

Lefors, 0-4, will seek the victory column for the first time when they journey to Vega. The Pirates, expected to give Groom a battle for the 5-B title are playing another class A club.

Too, the Wildcats won't forget the 34-0 loss handed them last year by the Mustangs.

A Better Understanding Of History Aids Ideals

Two statues flank the building here in Washington housing the National Archives, the repository of the Constitution and Declaration of Independence and all the permanently valuable non-current records of the Federal Government. On the base of one statue are the words "Study the Past." On the other are these words: "The Past is Prologue." These are properly carved in stone, for their lesson is vital and inescapable: A nation that forgets its history is bound to repeat the mistakes of the past; the accomplishment of the future will have had their foundations in days gone by.

A new school year is beginning and millions of young Americans will for the first time begin studying the history of their country and their states, the nature of democratic government and how the American people live and work and strive toward excellence under the world's oldest written constitution. We can hope our children learn their lessons well. It is good to encourage the study of history. As President Harry Truman said 15 years ago in commenting on the work of the National Historical Publications Commission, "I am convinced that the better we understand the history of our democracy, the better we shall appreciate our rights as free men and the more determined we shall be to keep our ideals alive."

There are signs that the lessons of our past are poorly remembered by some Americans. It is not enough to pay lip service to the ideals set forth in the Constitution. Those ideals are not to be set aside at the first sign of trouble. We find among us today men who would overturn thoroughly ingrained principles of American democracy, who could abolish civilian control of the military (turning over the country's security to military chiefs free to direct our armed forces as they see fit); who would diminish the role of Congress on the flimsy pretext that in the nuclear age Congress is too slow to act; who would destroy the free enterprise system through a combination of devices, including excessive government regulation and consolidation of economic units and destruction of fiscal stability.

In this contest, I recently had occasion to respond to a letter writer who had asked why we kept the Fifth Amendment in the Constitution. This is the Bill of Rights guarantee which contains many towering elements of an American's basic freedoms, stating: "No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger, nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb."

Nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation." The concentration of the critics is on that portion of the Fifth Amendment ordaining that no person "shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." That protection, with the others, is extremely important and the reasons it was placed in the Constitution are manifest from the early days of history. But as I replied to the letter writer, the Communists, too, recognize its importance and have earmarked it for destruction. It is a hallmark of freedom, this prohibition. The Communists do not have a Fifth Amendment. If they ever get control of the country they won't be one here. The Fifth Amendment was placed in the Constitution for the protection of decent, honest, law-abiding, innocent people. The repeal of the Fifth Amendment would not solve crime but would open the door for many innocent people to be hurt. "Study the Past," the words say on the statue, "The Past is Prologue."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Let's take a fanciful leap ahead to the year 1968. A big international peace conference has just ended and the U.S. secretary of state is briefing newsmen on the results.

"Gentlemen," he says, "at today's session we reached final agreement on a pact for ending the war in Viet Nam, for reunification of Germany and for worldwide disarmament. There is now only one major issue standing in the way of world peace."

"What is that, Mr. Secretary?" the newsmen ask.
"Double parking," says he.
"Unduly Pessimistic."
"Maybe I'm being unduly pessimistic. Maybe the time when nations will go to war over traffic violations isn't that imminent. There is no doubt, however, that the situation is becoming increasingly explosive."

The chief cause of friction is the shortage of parking places that plagues most large cities. An indication of the rising tension can be seen in a letter that Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, recently wrote to the State Department.

He demanded that the department reveal whether it had "backed down" on a promise to crack down on foreign diplomats who fail to pay parking fines.
Case was referring to the practice whereby some envoys leave their cars in "no parking" zones and then invoke diplomatic immunity when they get traffic tickets.

Foreign Commentary

By JOHN D. PARRY
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tunisia's break of diplomatic relations with the United Arab Republic puts the final touch to a relationship that has been in a state of deep freeze for 18 months.

Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba started the downhill turn in Cairo-Tunis relations in early 1965 when he called for the Arab countries to come to terms with Israel.

This led to the mob burning of the Tunisian ambassador's residence in Cairo, withdrawal of the ambassadors and full diplomatic staffs of the two countries in April, 1965, and an unceasing campaign of press and radio attacks on both sides.

Chadli Klibi, Tunisia's state secretary for cultural affairs, announced the break in relations Monday and said it was taken because of "the disparaging campaign against Tunisia by Egypt."

In some quarters here, however, it is believed that Tunisia might have other reasons for the sudden break. These quarters noted the Tunisian press and radio frequently spoke in recent months of "Nasserite plots" against Tunisia in general and Bourguiba in particular.

Tunisian-Egyptian relations have blown hot and cold for a decade. Within a year of Tunisia's gaining independence in 1956, Bourguiba was attacking U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser for letting Salah Ben Youssef, Bourguiba's long-time political foe, use Radio Cairo to attack him.

Ben Youssef was later assassinated and the U.A.R. claimed the killing was the work of Bourguiba's agents. In 1958 the first break in diplomatic relations occurred after Tunisia accused Nasser of sending "emissaries of death" to kill Bourguiba.

Attack Brings Sympathy
A Tunisian attack on the French naval base at Bizerte in July, 1961, and the bloody fighting which followed provoked a wave of sympathy throughout the Arab world. The U.A.R. moved toward a rapprochement with an offer to send troops to fight alongside the Tunisians. The offer was not accepted.

Later that year diplomatic contacts were resumed and they reached a peak of cordiality Oct. 15, 1963, when Nasser rode at Bourguiba's side through cheering crowds celebrating the first anniversary of the evacuation of the base by the French.

Gray County Couples Stay Hitched Longer

Of the 8,760 or so married couples in Gray County, how many of them are likely to be together to celebrate their golden wedding anniversaries?

What are their chances of marking their silver anniversaries? Interest in these matrimonial milestones has been aroused at this time because of the fact that one of America's most famous couples, Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower, have just celebrated their 50th year of marriage.

That marital landmark will also be reached this year by no less than 160,000 couples throughout the United States. According to figures worked up by insurance company statisticians here, based upon data taken from their own records and from government sources, the chances are now 1 in 3 that a young Gray County couple, just married, will be able to reach the 50-year mark.

That is the expectation, unless divorce or annulment intervene. Locally, there is less likelihood of such split-ups than in many communities. People in the area tend to get married young and to remain married for a longer time than is the case generally. The latest government findings show that some 77.3 percent of the local population over age 14 are now married. This includes 78.4 percent of the men and 76.2 percent of the women in that age bracket.

It compares with an average of 67.5 percent in the rest of the United States and 69.1 percent in the State of Texas.

In 1916, when the Eisenhowers were married, the chances were only 1 in 6 that they would live out their 50 years together. Since then, with the great medical advances of the last half century, the odds have been brought down to 1 in 3.

That is what Pat and Lucille Johnson Nugent now have to look for. And, with the fur and gains to be expected in the next 50 years, their chances will probably become considerably better than that.

As for celebrating a silver wedding anniversary, the likelihood is excellent for today's newly-marrieds. Even when a man marries as late as age 34, his chances of living to get together for 25 years are better than 7 in 10.

Television in Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Perhaps never in the nation's history has the public so intimately shared a personal experience as it did, through television, the aftermath of the assassination of President Kennedy.

For this reason, and because of his magnetism, there is an added factor to be reckoned with in the countless publications, records and video programs concerning the martyred Chief Executive—a factor almost indefinable, yet most associated with complex human sadness, and therefore resistant to precise critical assessment.

This factor was hoveringly present again Wednesday night in the one-hour documentary offered by the "ABC Stage 67" series, "The Kennedy Wit," for which Jack Paar served as producer, reporter and host.

And, I freely confess that I have no envy whatever for the viewer or critic who can ignore this factor and be coolly objective, for such a person must be a cold cookie indeed. So there we are at the start, looking at a program of a man's humor and grace, yet silently angered at the fates that allowed his life to be cut short.

Somehow, this incisive, enlightening, somewhat terrestrial to set down on paper that Wednesday night's program was not as excellent as Mr. Paar's last something extra—some exceptional television hour.

What Happened on the Way to the White House," an hilarious pictorial portfolio of humorous events. But it is not entirely fair for a broadcast anthology also called "The Kennedy Wit" to Kennedy Wit."

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Where Is the Villain?

Politicians, from the President down, profess to be concerned about inflation. Moreover, all of them are busy seeking a villain — some one, some group, some action, some thing to blame for the evils of inflation.

Perhaps the dictionary would be helpful. Webster's Unabridged, 1966, says: "Inflation: Disproportionate and relatively sharp and sudden increase... may come in times of financial difficulty by government issues of paper money without adequate metallic reserve and without provision for conversion into standard metallic money on demand. In accordance with the law of the quantity theory of money, inflation always produces a rise in the price level."

Webster makes three things quite clear to anyone seeking reality rather than votes: Inflation is caused when the supply of money and/or credit increases faster than the production of goods to be purchased; a primary cause of inflation can be government issuance of paper money without adequate metallic reserves; the result of inflation is always a rise in the price level.

With those guidelines, we can seek the villain. The nation's purse strings were entrusted to

The Professor Says

Some fifteen years ago, at the conclusion of its lengthy investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which did not have Senator McCarthy as a member, characterized Professor Owen Lattimore, one of the IPR luminaries, as "a conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy," and recommended that the Department of Justice submit to a grand jury "the question of whether perjury has been committed by Owen Lattimore before the subcommittee."

People have a way of forgetting such things, which probably explains a curious document recently issued by a Wall Street outfit which tells people where they can invest their dollars, and which is strictly capitalist, of course. This publication asked none other than Professor Owen Lattimore, the old China hand, for some words of wisdom concerning Vietnam. Possibly because the editor had never read the Report of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, he described the Professor in somewhat different terms:

"Mr. Lattimore, a United States citizen, has long been a

He Blazed a Trail

A little over 39 years ago, a young man made history by flying from New York to Paris in a single engine airplane that cruised in the neighborhood of 100 miles an hour. His cargo was a couple of sandwiches and a little drinking water. His flight was acclaimed throughout the world as a miraculous feat of airmanship. But, his flight went beyond an unparalleled demonstration of skill and endurance. Charles Lindbergh became an ambassador of good will and a pioneer advocate of air commerce.

Since then, international air transportation has outstripped the wildest dreams of Lindbergh's generation. Millions of people travel over the world today as easily as they commute to work each morning. And a major international airline recently announced a new industry record for air freight flown

Atlantic during a single month, when it transported nearly 8 million pounds between the United States and Europe. During the first six months of 1966, it flew 41,484,000 pounds of cargo between the United States and Europe, compared to 31,214,000 pounds during the same six months of 1965.

Straight Talk

INFLATION

The cost-of-living index is at an all-time high — just 11 1/2 government spending. Food, rent, transportation, medical care, practically everything, including women's skirts, are up, with skirts the only things likely to come down — length, not in price. The dollar which was worth 100 cents in 1939 is now worth 43 cents and, at the rate we're going, will be worth only a quarter in eight years, and 5 cents in 1985 — if there is a dollar and if there is a 1985.

As the old colored man sagely observed: "It ain't what you gits that counts — hits what you gits gits!"

"Yeah, but look how many more dollars I make than I made in 1934!" says Joe Blow. True, but that is in spite of government, not because of it. And Joe's prosperity is partly at the expense of his children's children who will have to pay our bills.

Neither government, inflation, easy money, increased wages, nor all combined created our prosperity. New inventions, mass production and the profit incentive did. Over the long pull, government can spend us to prosperity just like a drunk can drink himself sober.

Deficit spending, which every Administration has resorted to since that all-American charlatan Franklin D. Roosevelt got himself elected for a lifetime, is a main cause of inflation. No President since Herbert Hoover has even tried to balance the budget.

We have been brought to the brink of bankruptcy by "legislate now, pay later" spending programs designed to buy the largest possible vote. They have dealt in balance budgets — one slice at a time — while lying to the people about how many slices were to come.

Recently your socialist Secretary of Agriculture Freeman was asked at a Democrat candidates' gathering (where a reporter had slipped in unobserved) what to answer when a voter asked about inflation. Freeman's advice to the candidates was to "slip, slide and duck" the issue.

This is neither the first nor the last time in history that millions of sheep have stood still — and unflinching, to be shorn by a handful of hogs. For history teaches us, over and over, that the only thing we learn from history is that "we learn nothing from history."

The theory that a man or a nation can live perpetually on the cuff is both immoral and insane. If we should have another crash — and don't think we can't — in some ways it would make 1929 look small. Not breadlines, nor five-cent cotton. Civil war, blood in the streets. Dictatorship. Confiscation of land, homes, industry, wealth. Bobby Kennedy. Anarchy. Communism. The end result unchecked will inevitably be the erosion of the whole concept of limited government on which our Republic was founded and on which freedom depends.

Some people think the economic situation is terribly complex. It's not, really. There is just one ingredient lacking to solve it: honesty. If we elect statesmen to office instead of opportunists and crooks, the problem, like Supreme Court Justice Douglas' wives, will go away. Creeping inflation was caused by the creeps in government who lack the morality to do what they know must be done. Monetary inflation, with our silent consent if not approval, has been slipped to us by amoral politicians posing as Santa Claus.

How can we end inflation? Don't forget many of the people who bled and bled it are asking for reelection in November!

ASIAN AIR DEFENSE — The prime objective of the new air build-up is to establish a joint U.S.-Free Asian "cordon sanitaire" around the eastern and southern flanks of Red China.

Under this plan, strongly pressed by Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos and heartily supported by President Johnson, the air build-up would be sufficiently strengthened to serve as a "trip-wire" defense to block Chinese or North Viet Nam aggression after a peace settlement is reached in Viet Nam.

When that is attained, American airpower now in Viet Nam and Thailand will be withdrawn to bases on the outlying islands — Japan, Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines.

U.S. Defensive Build-Up of Free Asian Airforces To Be Announced at Manila; to Match Red Air Strength

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The U. S. is undertaking a momentous build-up of the airforces of South Viet Nam, Thailand, Nationalist China, South Korea and the Philippines.

Under plans to be revealed at the summit meeting in Manila this month, the airforces of these five free Asian nations will be considerably enlarged and modernized over the next three years.

Hundreds of the latest jet interceptors, fighter-bombers and helicopters will be given these countries, and their pilots trained at bases both in the U.S. and overseas.

The air build-up, which eventually will cost several billion dollars, contemplates a combined force of some 2,500 aircraft by 1970.

That number will be nearly double the present size of these countries' airforces. It will also equal the combined air strength of Communist China, North Viet Nam and North Korea.

Of the planes slated for the U.S. allies, upwards of 60 per cent will be latest model jet interceptors, considered to be more than a match for anything Red China has.

Still to be determined is whether medium-range jet bombers will be included in the build-up plan. Thailand and South Viet Nam have particularly asked for them. They want a squadron each of B-58s or B-57s, to match similar planes of Red China.

South Viet Nam was given six B-57 twin-engine jet bombers in the summer of 1965, but they were later recalled when the State Department vigorously objected.

Pentagon insiders say Secretary Rusk voiced concern that Premier Ky might use the bombers to attack Soviet ships unloading arms at Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest seaport.

At present, the South Viet Nam airforce consists of 400 planes, mainly propeller A-1 Skyraiders. Except for one carefully controlled mission a month against North Viet Nam targets, South Viet Nam pilots are limited to attacks against Communists in their own country.

Under this plan, strongly pressed by Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos and heartily supported by President Johnson, the air build-up would be sufficiently strengthened to serve as a "trip-wire" defense to block Chinese or North Viet Nam aggression after a peace settlement is reached in Viet Nam.

When that is attained, American airpower now in Viet Nam and Thailand will be withdrawn to bases on the outlying islands — Japan, Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines.

In conjunction with the U. S. Seventh Fleet, the projected powerful airbulwark would be able to respond quickly to any threat of Chinese aggression throughout the Far East.

MODERNIZATION PROGRAM — Under the air build-up, South Viet Nam and Thailand pilots will be trained to man the first of several squadrons of 1,200-mile-an-hour F-5 "Freedom Fighters" by next spring.

By the end of 1967, at least 15 F-5 squadrons will be operational with Asian pilots. These interceptors, with a range of nearly 1,000 miles, are twice as fast as the Soviet Mig-17. They are also deemed superior to the Mig-21.

The U.S. has reached an agreement with Thailand to use several of the newly constructed bases in that country to train pilots of the other Asian countries.

THAILAND STORY — U.S. contingency plans call for the use of the giant new airbase at Sattship, Thailand, if Red China intervenes in the Viet Nam conflict.

Under an agreement with Thailand, B-52 strategic bombers will be allowed to operate from the Sattship base to attack targets in China.

That's the information Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, former undersecretary of state, gave the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before departing for Japan. Questioned about the base, Johnson replied: "The Sattship airbase was prepared for contingencies that we hope will never arise. These plans involve Communist China's possible entry into the Viet Nam fighting. Should that occur, the base would be available for use by B-52 bombers."

Johnson, who served as ambassador to Thailand for three years, lauded the government of Prime Minister Thanom Kittakachorn as "one of the most progressive in the Far East."

FLASHES — The presence of several Secret Service agents in Saigon has touched off much conjecture about their reason for being there. In his private talks with U.S. officials, President Ferdinand Marcos warned of the need to be on guard against possible sneak air attacks by the North Viet Nam against U.S. troop concentrations in South Viet Nam. Marcos said Philippine businessmen picked up the report from Hong Kong bankers.

U.S. troops in Thailand would be applied in the past year. There are now 34,000 there.

Bill — Yes, he still says they are made there, but now he always adds that heaven can't be the place it's cracked up to be.

Editor: Recently a trial balloon was launched in a speech by Robert McNamara, calling for "every young person... to give two years of service... in one of the military services, in the Peace Corps, or in some other volunteer developmental work at home or abroad." Soon after this, a resolution, with similar implications, was introduced in the Senate by Jacob Javits, and was born the PLAN TO FORCIBLY TAKE AWAY OUR CHILDREN FOR UNIVERSAL SERVICE AND INDOCTRINATION!

Prior to McNamara's speech, a meeting quietly took place in New York on May 7, 1966, laying the foundation for this compulsory service. This "First National Service Conference" was represented by important government agencies, universities, churches, and tax-exempt foundations. The conclusions were printed into a booklet titled "A Profile of National Service," and edited by delegate Donald J. Eberly, who suggested that our children be FORCED TO spend THREE YEARS in non-military service, and be liable for recall in case of "national need."

William S. Coffin Jr. offered the aspiration of linking this national service to the U.N., hoping this would evolve into "an internationally cooperative project." Perhaps your son or daughter will be sent to the Soviet Union, or a trip to Red Cuba where Castro may need aid in the fields? Far fetched? Not by a long shot!

In this booklet, it is further suggested that the mentally retarded also be included in the draft, so you can expect your children to eat, sleep with and work with idiots and imbeciles. This will help "cross-culturalize" everyone! Among other tasks suggested for our sons and daughters is the service as "GUINEA PIGS" FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH. Top that one!

Leon Bamson, Swarthmore College professor, says our children must spend their compulsory service teaching in a village in Ghana or India, or perhaps in a "Big city Negro ghetto." This type training, he contends, will make their lives more meaningful!

Mother and Dad, this is a very serious matter. Unless this is the future you desire for yourselves and for your children, the time to fight this satanic plan is NOW! You must protest loud and clear to your senators and congressmen. Tell your neighbors to do the same. Your children are very valuable. The "planners" are in earnest.

THE IMPENDING GOLD CRISIS

(Effects on Foreign Aid)

Our Treasury's gold stock has dropped to a most critical level. Since 1949 our gold reserve has shrunk from $24.691 billion to $13.259 billion — an average annual loss of $672 million. Today in foreign hands are $30 billion in short-term credits redeemable in gold from the U.S. Treasury. This vast foreign-held sum was acquired mostly through our foreign handouts. Thus foreigners have the dollar credits to purchase far more than twice the gold in our Treasury and the fate of our dollar rests in foreign hands!

On June 30, 1966, Federal Reserve Bank notes — paper dollars — amounted to $40.950 billion. Law requires a gold reserve of 25 per cent, $10.237 billion, to cover this Federal Reserve note liability. As of August 24, gold stock in the Treasury, less $340 million otherwise obligated, stood at $12.919 billion. On hand, therefore, is a cushion of $2.682 billion in excess of today's legal requirements.

Unfortunately, if our present spending program continues, this gold cushion cannot last long. The Federal Reserve circulation of paper dollars has been increasing at the rate of $2.5 billion a year. By law this paper money increase requires an annual addition of $625 million to our gold reserve. The outflow of gold from the Treasury during the past year was $600 million. These two items amounted to a $1.225 billion gold requirement last year. At this rate the present gold cushion of $2.682 billion will have been exhausted in 26 months.

However, it appears incapable that U.S. chronic unfavorable balance of foreign payments will accelerate this rate of foreign gold purchases. As our gold reserve approaches its statutory minimum, the Administration will be forced to:

- Suspend foreign sale of gold, which would be disastrous, or
- Remove legal gold reserve requirements, which would eliminate the dollar's legal basis of value and destroy the foundation of free world trade, or
- Balance our budgets; except for full support of the war effort, practically eliminate foreign spending, especially foreign aid. Balanced budgets

LASTING PROTECTION FROM URBAN RENEWAL

The truth about urban renewal is at last beginning to come home to the American public. Unlike many other destructive and wasteful federal programs, urban renewal takes place under the very eyes of the people it is supposed to "help," in their own communities.

They hear its promises. They know it is financed from their taxes. Then they see the callous cruelty of its bulldozing of loved homes, that vast dirty expanses and ugly parking lots that then cover the rubble, and finally the luxury high-rise apartments assuring a profit to all concerned in the rebuilding.

There is nothing wrong with profit in itself. But there is everything wrong with a profit arising from the use of government force to destroy private homes and from land purchased by tax money with the false pledge that this will bring better housing to the poor.

As more Americans realize the truth about urban renewal, more have been voting it down in their own communities whenever they had a chance to vote on it, often by very large majorities. In Fort Worth, it was voted down by nearly five to one.

Recently in Hutchinson, Kansas, a new method was tried which brings lasting protection from urban renewal and similar evils.

It was decided by urban renewal ought to consider this method. By initiative and referendum, the voters of Hutchinson put on the ballot an ordinance prohibiting the city for no less than ten years from accepting federal money for urban renewal, public housing and rent supplements. The ordinance was approved by 4,983 to 3,307 votes.

LASTING PROTECTION FROM URBAN RENEWAL

The truth about urban renewal is at last beginning to come home to the American public. Unlike many other destructive and wasteful federal programs, urban renewal takes place under the very eyes of the people it is supposed to "help," in their own communities.

They hear its promises. They know it is financed from their taxes. Then they see the callous cruelty of its bulldozing of loved homes, that vast dirty expanses and ugly parking lots that then cover the rubble, and finally the luxury high-rise apartments assuring a profit to all concerned in the rebuilding.

There is nothing wrong with profit in itself. But there is everything wrong with a profit arising from the use of government force to destroy private homes and from land purchased by tax money with the false pledge that this will bring better housing to the poor.

As more Americans realize the truth about urban renewal, more have been voting it down in their own communities whenever they had a chance to vote on it, often by very large majorities. In Fort Worth, it was voted down by nearly five to one.

Recently in Hutchinson, Kansas, a new method was tried which brings lasting protection from urban renewal and similar evils.

It was decided by urban renewal ought to consider this method. By initiative and referendum, the voters of Hutchinson put on the ballot an ordinance prohibiting the city for no less than ten years from accepting federal money for urban renewal, public housing and rent supplements. The ordinance was approved by 4,983 to 3,307 votes.

dollars spent on the undeclared war against a two-bit communist criminal — when ARE we going to win?

Why not ask your candidates for Congress that question?
