Cavalry Routs Cong Battalion

SAIGON (UPI)—American warplanes returned in great force to North Viet Nam Tuesday, flying through heavy anti-aircraft fire to hit targets near Hanoi and Haiphong. In the ground war U.S. Air Cavalrymen routed a Communist battalion along the northeast coast today.

One Navy A4 Skyhawk jet from the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt was shot down by ground fire and the pilot was listed as missing in action in the raids, heaviest since the monsoon rains hit the north. The planes flew 122 missions—well below the record 173 of Oct. 13.

Air Force F4C Phantoms and F105 Thunderchiefs dumped 500 and 750 pound bombs on the Viet Tri railroad yard and ferry complex 30 miles northwest of Hanoi. Other targets were in the Haiphong area.

The Communist battalion was sent into headlong flight after a daylong battle along vital highway 1 with American infantry units. Highway 1 is the coastal north-south highway used by the allies to supply towns and villages freed from the Viet Cong.

Division reported killing 37 Communists in the fighting five miles from Bong Son, some 300 miles northeast of Saigon. American casualties were described as light.

U.S. military spokesmen said the Communists broke off the fight just before dawn today and fled north and east toward the rugged hills flanking the coastal lowlands.

The Communist dead raised to 156 the number of enemy troops killed since the operation began on Oct. 25.

In Saigon today, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky warned it was virtually impossible to prevent the Viet Cong from staging new attacks on the heart of Saigon like the one Tuesday that killed 13 persons and wounded 37 others.

"These are acts of desperation," Ky said, "it is very easy for small groups of five or six to carry a mortar tube and a half dozen rounds each and infiltrate. It is impossible for security forces to prevent the infiltration of such groups, particularly at night."

Johnson Arrives in Alaska Ending Long Asian Tour

CRISP WINDS didn't chill the dedicatory spirit at Lake Meredith and Sanford Dam yesterday afternoon as evidenced here by the warm smiles of Rep. Walter Rogers, Mrs. A. A. Meredith, Gov. John Connally, Rep. George Mahon, and U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

LBJ Is Back On US Soil After 13 Days

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—President Johnson, back on American soil after a long, hard Asian trip, braved near-freezing rain early today for a brief taste of the job he enjoys most—meeting the folks.

The Chief Executive arrived here late Tuesday night from Seoul, Korea, and then ignored the 40-degree temperature to speak at the airport and on the route to his hotel.

He planned to get a few hours rest before addressing a breakfast meeting and then returning to Washington.

Just eight hours before Johnson departed from Korea, six American soldiers and one South Korean army man were attacked and killed by Communist North Korean troops south of the demilitarized zone dividing the country.

There was no immediate comment on the incident by the President, who had visited soldiers near the demilitarized zone shortly before the attack.

Glad To Be Home

Johnson left American soil—Hawaii—Oct. 18 and was obviously elated to be back home, proud of his mission to seven Pacific and Asian nations, and mildly optimistic about the approaching day when North Viet Nam will be willing to talk peace.

His first comments upon reaching Alaska came at Elmendorf Air Force Base, where he told a crowd of 5,000 that his Asian trip had shown him thousands of people "who are determined to have a better life for their children and their family... who are determined to stand on their own feet."

Johnson said the U.S. had taken its stand beside these people of the Pacific and Asia and would find success in its stand. He added, "You can put that in your pipe and smoke it."

He shook hundreds of hands before starting the five-mile motorcade to the hotel.

The President planned an early start later this morning, speaking to a 7:30 a.m. breakfast in his hotel and taking off for Washington at about 8:30 a.m. AST (1:30 p.m. EST).

In remarks prepared for delivery at the breakfast, the President acknowledged that no miraculous formula for peace had developed at Manila, but he said "a meeting of the mind and spirit did take place."

Johnson gave a full summary of this most ambitious foreign tour ever taken by a U.S. chief executive in his farewell address to the South Korean National Assembly.

"I have seen, listened and I learned much on this trip," he said.

"From the proud island of Samoa, teaching its children by television, to the dignity and dynamism of Thailand.

Ten Firefighters Die in Blazing California Inferno

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Ten members of an elite firefighting unit were burned to death Tuesday night when they were trapped on a steep canyon hillside where they battled one of three brush fires in the northwestern San Fernando Valley.

Fifteen other firemen were injured, three "very critically." The fatal blaze, in rugged Pacoima Canyon, was the second deadliest brush fire to hit Southern California since 1933.

In October, 1933, 20 depression-era welfare workers were killed fighting a fire in Griffith Park area northeast of Hollywood.

A U.S. Forest Service spokesman said he hoped for full containment of the Pacoima Canyon fire by 8 a.m. CST. By 2 a.m., he said, it had burned more than 2,100 acres and 750 firefighters remained on the lines.

All of the victims were members of "El Coriso Hot Shots," highly-experienced firefighters from the Cleveland National Forest near San Diego.

"They were working a steep hillside, trying to cut off a slow-burning blaze going from the hillside," said U.S. Forest Service officer Don Porter. "It spotted (jumped) below them. They went into heavy rocks (for cover), but there was just too much brush. They burned to death."

Porter said some of the dead were found clinging to each other as if trying to shield each other from the flames.

Earlier, sheriff's deputies said confusion at the scene led to a report that 12 men had been killed.

The Pacoima Canyon fire started early Tuesday as Southern California experienced near 100-degree temperatures and unusually low humidity. It is located in the Angeles National Forest north of the community of Sylmar.

Before the fatal flareup, the fire had forced the evacuation of patients from a sanatorium and hospital. One of the patients died of a heart attack in the transfer.

National Archives Given Kennedy Autopsy X-ray

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Photographs and X-rays of the autopsy on the body of President John F. Kennedy—never seen by the Warren Commission—have been turned over to the National Archives by his family.

The family's action, taken at the request of the Justice Department, was disclosed Tuesday by a department spokesman in answer to questions as to the whereabouts of the pictures—14 X-rays, 25 black and white negatives, and 26 color transparencies.

The pictures were taken during the autopsy performed on the slain President at Bethesda Naval Medical Center on the night of Nov. 22-23, 1963. Two of the three pathologists who performed the post-mortem examination verified the pictures, officials said.

The spokesman said recent criticism of the Warren Commission's investigation of the assassination was indirectly responsible for the department's request that the family turn the pictures over to the national archives.

Critics of the Warren Commission report have made much of the fact that the pictures were not available for study, nor were they ever actually shown to commission members. The pathologists who performed the autopsy testified before the commission as to their findings, basing their observations on the X-rays and photographs.

The whereabouts of the X-rays and photographs became something of a mystery. Earlier this week, Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike called for release of the photographs, which he said were held by the Secret Service.

But the Secret Service said that after the Warren Commission's inquiry, various items of evidence were "placed in the custody of individuals designated by the late President's family as appropriate."

The executors of the estate of the late President—Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Senators Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.—agreed to turn over the pictures, but with strict limitations on their use.

For the first five years, starting now, no non-governmental agency will be permitted to see the pictures unless an exception is made by the Kennedy family; after five years access will be limited to pathologists and other medical experts and investigators with a "serious purpose."

Children Taken Home But Father's Whereabouts Remains a Mystery

RIALTO, Calif. (UPI)—"Daddy bought us lots of clothes and toys and took us lots of nice places," the little girl said.

"He had lots of money, bank money. He kept it in a suitcase."

Rochelle Williams, 5, described for newsmen how she and her tiny sister, Kelley, 4, spent a 103-day "vacation" with their father, Roger Lee Williams, before he kissed them goodbye Monday night and said he was "going to Alaska."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said Williams, 27-year-old assistant cashier of a Security First National Bank office in nearby Riverside, rifled a vault of the bank's branch in Fontana last July 15. Missing was $158,900 in travelers' checks, 600 blank money orders worth $180,000, and $195,528 in cash for a total loss of $536,428. He then vanished with Rochelle and Kelley.

Mrs. Williams said when a woman at her door with the two "trick or treaters" first asked her if she knew the girls she thought someone was playing a cruel joke on her.

She said she reached over and lifted a mask from one of the (See MYSTERY, Page 3)

Kicking Habit of Smoking May Get Snowball Effect

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Some cigarette smokers are kicking the habit and this may have a snowballing effect on others, an official of the American Cancer Society said today.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, vice president of epidemiology and statistics for the society, told the 94th annual meeting of the American Public Health Association that a study of more than a half million persons showed that 21.8 per cent of men smokers and 12.4 per cent of women smokers had quit between 1959 and 1965.

Hammond said the statistics came from 587,879 subjects who were between the ages of 30 and 89 when first interviewed in 1959 as part of a 1,000,000-person project.

The subjects were interviewed again in 1961, in 1963 and in 1965, he said, and their answers tabulated.

Hammond said that the complete one million study for 1965 had not been tabulated when he made the smoking comparison but that the results used represented the first ones tabulated.

He reported that 45.8 per cent of the men smoked when interviewed in 1959 and only 39.8 per cent smoked in 1959 and 22.6 per cent in 1965. For women, he said, 25.8 per cent smoked in 1959 and 22.6 per cent in 1965.

Moscow-N.Y. Flight Pact Nears Okay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The long-sought New York-to-Moscow air agreement will be signed Friday, ending a six-year stretch of cold war postponements.

Informed sources said Tuesday that Llewellyn E. Thompson, newly designated U.S. Ambassador to Russia, will sign the pact for the United States. Signing for Russia will be Soviet Civil Aviation Minister Yevgeni F. Loginov.

So far, however, no date has been set for the inaugural flight, but officials have predicted that the first flight probably would come in late spring.

Flying the non-stop route for the United States will be Pan American World Airways. Aeroflot, the Soviet state airline, will provide the other half of the service, which will be limited to New York and Moscow.

Dedication Spirit Warms Spectators At Chilly Dam Site

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

A vast expanse of Panhandle wasteland assumed a role of importance to the industrial and recreational future of west and south Texans with the dedication yesterday of Sanford Dam and Lake Meredith, located 12 miles west of Borger.

Approximately 1,500 spectators listened to speeches, watched the unveiling of two bronze plaques, and shivered as crisp winds swept across the dedicatory site.

Heading the list of numerous dignitaries was U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, who lauded the farsightedness of West Texans in investing in the future.

Udall along with Gov. John Connally, Congressman Walter Rogers and U.S. Senator George Mahon participated in the ceremonies of dedication for the $84 million Sanford Dam.

The dam has taken 17 years to build and through its 322-mile aqueduct system, water will flow to supply 11 south and West Texas cities, including Pampa.

Udall said, in addition to providing water for cities, it would "also provide the finest recreation area in this part of the state."

At the same time he was speaking, two lone water-skiers, clad in rubber suits, braved icy winds and waters to provide at least a part of the water show that had been promised, but had been cancelled at the last minute due to the weather.

Connally told the crowd "this is a great moment in the history of water conservation in this state."

"It took 17 years to plan and build and involved cooperation between cities, subdivisions, between the state and federal government. It was worth waiting for."

"But," he cautioned, "we do not have many periods of 17 years to spend this way. Progress (in conservation) must be made more rapidly and more quickly than ever before."

In his first public appearance in this area since his announcement to retire from active participation in 18th congressional politics, Rogers received a warm welcome from the spectators.

Jr. High Bands Rated Tops at Marching Contest

Pampa and Robert E. Lee Junior High Schools received One Ratings at the Region One Marching Contest held yesterday in Buffalo Bowl at West Texas State University, Canyon.

The two bands were among 10 other junior high bands participating in the Triple C Class for junior high schools.

Bands were rated on marching performance and playing. Dumas Junior High School and Crockett Junior High in Amarillo were the only other two schools to receive Division One ratings.

Pampa Junior High twirlers, Candy Cole, Cindy Tabor and Cara Tidwell received One ratings for individual performances and a two rating for group performance.

Next spring the two junior high schools will participate in a contest in concert sight-reading at West Texas State. Pampa Junior High Band is directed by Jeff Doughten. Joe DiCosimo is director of the Lee Junior High Band.

He recalled that the new dam is located on what used to be called "the great American desert." "I knew the day we

Pampa Temperatures Dip To a Chilly Low of 19

If you felt a bit cold Tuesday night, you had a right to.

The overnight low dipped to a very freezing 19 degrees in Pampa but, according to the weatherman, a warming trend is coming.

The high Tuesday wasn't much better with Pampa's high reading being only 42.

But the Amarillo Weather Bureau predicts fair and warmer readings tonight with temperatures in the middle-30s (that's warm?) and highs Thursday in the low 60s.

The season's sharpest cold wave pushed temperatures down as low as 17 degrees in Texas early today and only winds and cloud cover saved the Lower Rio Grande Valley from frost.

Dalhart, at the top of the Panhandle, reported the state's lowest overnight temperature. But it was only 43 degrees at Laredo on the Rio Grande at the same time.

Clouds cleared out of the state and it was fair and cold at dawn. Fair weather was expected to continue through Thursday, with temperatures a little higher in Northwest and North Central Texas tonight and a little lower in southern sections.

Festival Planned By Arts Ass'n

Pampa Fine Arts Association is making plans for a Shakespearean Festival to be presented here Feb. 16, according to Mrs. Marcella Hudson, theatrical arts chairman. Additional information will be announced later, when plans are finalized, Mrs. Hudson said.

A spokesman for the association said that approximately 200 persons attended the Art Musicale Tea, sponsored recently in the Coronado Inc. and that several hundred others viewed the exhibition of Maurice H. Bernson's paintings throughout the week.

Two members of the Fine Arts Association, George Cree, president, and Homer Johnson, vice president, have been appointed to the executive committee of the Civic Auditorium advisory committee. This committee will be in charge of determining the ultimate design of the building and the choosing of an architect.

Cree reports that charter memberships are open until Dec. 31. Membership cards are still in the process of being printed in Boston and will be mailed out as soon as they are received here.

Price Knocks High Spending Record Of Administration

HEREFORD — "It is time the people in this country decide whether we want our freedom or a handout from the government," congressional candidate Bob Price said here Tuesday.

Speaking at a Hereford rally in his honor, Price added: "In recent years our philosophy in this country had been, give-me, give-me, give-me. I want mine now. Because of the greater taxing powers of the Federal government it has begun to dominate our lives," Price stated.

"Now every time a city wants a new water line or a school district needs a new library they go to Washington. The Federal government is taking 37 cents out of every dollar we make. We wouldn't allow that on the local level."

He continued:

"If we would halt some of this non-essential spending by the Federal government we would have the funds needed to do the things here at home." The 18th District candidate stated.

At a previous meeting, on Oct. 15, commissioners approved raising jurors' fees from $5 to $10 per day.

County Judge Bill Craig said that the raise had been provided for the criminal court sometime ago, but that the commissioners had just got around to authorizing the increase.

The jurors' fee for those who are called but not accepted remains at $4. The $10 fee applies to jurors who are called and accepted for duty, Craig said.

The new fee became effective during the Vessels' trial.

Cold Night Brings on Rash of Fires

Cold nights and fires seem to go together and last night was no exception for Pampa firemen.

A garage and its contents at the home of Larry Parsley, 621 Tignor, was a total loss following a fire started by burning debris blowing into it from a trash container.

South Fire Station answered the alarm shortly before 10:30 p.m.

At 10:45 p.m. Central Station made a run to the intersection of Somerville and Francis, where someone had set fire to a street barricade. There was no damage, firemen report.

A coat thrown across a lamp caused fire damage to the coat, a nearby chair and smoke damage to the bedroom of the Charles Tate residence, 1242 S. Dwight.

Central Station firemen provided drive-in service this morning to one Pampa motorist, Bill Fullton, 214 N. Starkweather, who drove into the station this morning with the back-seat of his car on fire. There was heavy damage to the seat. Probable cause of the fire was given as a lighted cigarette.

Demo Candidates Stage Big Rally

AMARILLO — Bigwigs in the Texas Democratic Party pounded the drums hard at a rally here last night urging election of Democrats in the Nov. 8 election.

They included Gov. John Connally and U.S. Rep. Walter Rogers, both of whom appealed for all-out support of Waggoner Carr for U. S. senator and Dee Miller for 18th District Congressman.

The 1,400 Democrats in attendance shouted and cheered and staged a demonstration at the rally which followed a barbecue in the Exhibits Bldg. at the Tri-State Fairgrounds.

The governor gave his blessing to Carr and Miller and also endorsed the candidacy of Shamrock Mayor Seibert Worley, candidate for state representative who was seated at the head table.

Miller was introduced by Congressman Rogers who withdrew his candidacy as a candidate for re-election.

Rogers referred to Miller as the "man who will next serve you in the Congress of the United States from the 18th Congressional District."

Gov. Connally, in placing his approval on Miller, told the audience "you didn't discover him until about 90 days ago, but I discovered him in 1963 when I appointed him district attorney."

Miller told his listeners he would give them positive representation in Congress.

"The people of this district have worked too long," Miller said, "and too hard to pick a representative who will say 'no' to the present and who backs into the future."

Carr said the issue in the current campaign has been "the same as it was a year ago."

"That issue," Carr said, "is who can be the most effective voice for Texas in the United States Senate?"

Mystery

"When I saw them I completely broke down and cried," said their mother, Jo Anne Williams. "You don't know how wonderful it is to have something you love back again."

The girls were accompanied by a professional baby-sitter. She said she had been hired by Williams an hour earlier at a nearby motel.

The woman told Mrs. Williams a man had contacted her through a baby-sitting agency and she met him at a motel a block from the Williams' home at about 6:30 p.m. He was registered as William Lee and paid her for three hours baby sitting then left, she said.

The man wore a beard and had dyed hair, the woman said. She said he drew a map of directions to the Williams home and told her to take the children trick or treating until 8:30 p.m. then take them home.

The woman stayed at the Williams home until questioned by the FBI.

FBI agents said they found some money in the motel room and located a small trailer which Williams earlier had brought to the motel.

Mrs. Williams said the girls were in good health and were dressed in new clothes. They told their mother they had gone on a long vacation with their father and had been on an airplane ride.

They said also that their father kissed them when he left and told them he was going to "Alaska, a very cold place." But they said he also told them he would see them today.

Railroad Officials to Investigate Freak Auto Accident

NOT SO FUNNY

BULL BRIDGE, England (UPI)—Albert Foster, 52, stag who gave him a lift on a road, dragged a 100-pound ball and clamped it on one of his ankles. Police first laughed, he said, thinking it all then helped remove the clamp.

Foster said he was the victim of a practical joke by three men who gave him a lift on a road. Foster said he was left on the roadside and asked a dozen persons for help. But everyone laughed, he said, thinking it all was a stunt.

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UPI)—Santa Fe Railway officials today investigated a freak accident between two small "track cars" Monday that took the life of signal supervisor Howard Walker, 65, of Las Cruces. A railway spokesman said the two cars met head-on on a desolate stretch of track about 2.3 miles north of Radium Springs. The driver of the other vehicle, Julio Arriola, 56, of El Paso, Tex., was taken to an El Paso hospital for treatment of head and chest injuries.

State Policeman J. E. Hutchinson said there was a clear view for at least 400 feet. He also said the brakes were not applied to either car. The injured El Paso man walked a quarter of a mile to U. S. 85 to summon help in spite of his injuries. "It took pure determination to make it," Hutchinson said. He added that Arriola had to cross the Rio Grande and climb a 15-foot embankment to reach the highway.

GO BY RECORD

LONDON (UPI)—Albert W. Fowle was admonished by the court Tuesday before being granted a divorce from his wife on grounds of cruelty. The judge, noting that the woman was divorced on the same grounds twice before said: "If a man marries a woman who has twice been divorced for the

National Window

By LYLE WILSON

United Pre's Interational
President Johnson returns from his peace mission to Asia with the clear and unmistakable word that the Viet Nam war will continue to grow. This nasty little engagement will become bigger before it goes away.

The fact which identified this peace mission with increasing war was word from Gen. William C. Westmoreland that he needed more troops and the President's assurance that they would be provided. Westmoreland comman's in Viet Nam. The Manila Conference statement of basic policy conceded that the war must continue and that its size, intensity and duration depended wholly on Hanoi. Hanoi seems not to budge from waging hotter and bigger war.

The Manila Conference declaration is at least a vibrant statement of man's nobler aspirations. But Americans should examine well some of the U.S. commitments to social, industrial and governmental revolution in Viet Nam. If these commitments are met, Americans will find themselves over-committed. This is as foolish and hazardous for a great nation as it would be for you or your next door neighbor.

President Johnson has promised too much. Some or all of our Far Eastern friends are likely to be disappointed. LBJ personifies and reacts instinctively to a basic American emotion. That emotion is to pet, warm and cuddle the sick puppy, the sick child, the sick ghetto, the sick nation. You name it. The American people will try to comfort it.

None is sicker than Viet Nam after two decades of war. So it was that the President acted in a special way in behalf of the American people when he signed on for another war to continue for generations after the hot war in Viet Nam ends. Declaration, this new war for which LBJ has drafted the American people consists of the following:

—To conquer hunger, illiteracy and disease.

—To build (in Viet Nam) a region of security, order and progress.

Try to estimate for yourself the cost to the United States Treasury when the American people begin to pay for the emotional ecstasy of petting, cuddling and warming this particular sick puppy.

President Johnson knows as well as does any other informed citizen that the fiscal foundation of the United States is insecure at home and abroad.

The left-wing activists who dominate the Democratic party compel LBJ to spend far beyond government income at home.

This is largely welfare state spending intended to pet, cuddle and warm sick puppies at home.

The U.S. government's role of international cop and the American compulsion to comfort all sick puppies, wherever they may be, combine to obtain a vast overspending abroad. The symptom of this foreign phase of the U.S. fiscal disease is the unfavorable balance of American foreign trade.

We are spending more dollars, buying more goods and trying to buy more peace and good will abroad, than foreign nations buy of what we have to sell. Thus, the trade balance is against the United States. Foreign nations accumulate their dollars of profit and purchase with them tons of our gold.

The United States has been on notice from its leaders that this gold drain must be ended, the unfavorable trade balance corrected. Nearly $10 billion in gold has been siphoned away in the past 10 years. About $13.2 billion remains. Outstanding foreign dollar claims against U.S. gold are about twice the value of the gold available to pay them. In that direction lies fiscal, financial anarchy.

LBJ's new war to conquer hunger, illiteracy, disease would increase the outflow of dollars and of gold. The United States cannot afford it.

Young Vietnamese Boy Learns the Real Tragedy of War the Hard Way

SAIGON (UPI) —The little boy was six, or perhaps seven, and he was skipping happily through the Saigon street alongside his mother. He was going to the big parade. Then, suddenly, the boy was sitting on the curb, staring at very still in the street. The blood that had splattered onto his bare feet. His mother's throat had been ripped away in an instant by a chunk of metal. And at his mother, who lay The clock on the city's central market building across the street read 7:14. Twelve minutes earlier, the blast had torn through the crowded market area as hundreds of people were walking toward the route of the National Day parade. The boy was not hurt. But his mother was one of the eight persons killed in Viet Cong terrorist attacks in the city.

59TH YEAR WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1966
THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS

Dear Abby....

This Girl Should Take Second Look

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and have been on my own for six years. I'm engaged to be married, and the kind of wedding my fiancé and I want will cost about $1,500. My mother has offered me $200 towards wedding, which is the amount she gave my sister for her small wedding, which is all it cost, so you can imagine it was pretty crummy. My fiancé says my mother should pay for the kind of wedding we want as she can afford it.

The truth is, my mother and father were divorced and mother is remarried, and she doesn't think her new husband should put on a wedding for me, and she personally can afford only $200. This is causing trouble between my fiancé and me. He says mother can get the money. What can I say?

SOMEWHERE IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Tell your fiancé that if he wants to go into hock up to his fetlocks for a fancy wedding, he can finance it because your mother will not. And I would take a good hard look at the man you are planning to marry, dear. Because if this is a sample of his reasoning, you are in for plenty of storms on the sea of matrimony.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a suggestion for parents to help safeguard their daughters during their courtship days: First, make a rule that your daughter cannot go out with a young man unless he comes to the house for you to meet.

When he shows up, the mother should entertain him while the father goes outside and takes down his license number and a good description of his car. Color, model, etc. During the evening, if the daughter has any trouble with him, she could say, "My father took down your license number and will call the police if I am not home at the time they specified." This is foolproof protection for any girl.

DEAR DAD: And what happens if Jack The Ripper shows up in a taxi?

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman in college. I am not a wolf but I like to take a girl out on Saturday nights. I found a real cute and interesting girl in one of my classes. We had a few coffee dates and I finally asked her out for Saturday night. She said she promised her mother she wouldn't single date, but if I got her girl friend a date she would go. I did, and we all had a good time.

I asked her again and it was the same story. I have fixed up four of her girl friends with dates, and I still can't get this girl to date me alone. Do you think she is on the level, or is this the way college girls get dates for their friends?

FIXER UPPER
DEAR FIXER: I know how

'Heritage' Topic Of Civic Culture Club Program

"Freedom's Heritage Challenges Today" was the program topic presented by Mrs. C. F. Pennington to Civic Culture Club when the group met recently in the home of Mrs. H. W. Waters.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Frank Grantham, president, Mrs. A. B. Cross reported on the Federated Club Workshop held recently in Perryton. Those present voted to participate in the local park beautification plan and a committee composed of Mrs. H. W. Waters, Mrs. George Neef and Mrs. Katie Vincent was appointed to make arrangements for serving Senior Citizens Center Nov. 10.

In presenting the program, Mrs. Pennington stated "A heritage is something passed down from one generation to another. Freedom is a heritage, gained at a great price by our ancestors and passed on. As each generation enjoys his gift, it must accept responsibility for preserving it and passing it on to the next.

"We are a nation founded on unaltering faith in God. We have a great spiritual inheritance. It is shocking to hear that 'God is dead' and that patriotism is unnecessary. This trend is not the vision seen by our forefathers who, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine providence, mutually pledged their lives, fortunes and sacred honor to the establishment of independence," the speaker concluded.

Mrs. W. G. Fubright of Stephenville was welcomed as a guest.

Members attending included Mmes. Carl E. Axelson, Irvin Cole, A. B. Cross, Frank Grantham, A. D. Hills, John McKenney, Emmett Osborne, C. F. Pennington, W. C. Scott, Katie Vincent, Chester Williams and H. W. Waters.

The next meeting for the group is slated for Nov. 8 in the home of Mrs. A. D. Hills.

you could find out in a hurry. Quit fixing up her girl friends, and double date with one of your boy friends and a girl of his choice.

CONFIDENTIAL TO H. M.: Look at it this way: Hypertension is the price you pay for being a race-horse instead of a cow.

Advice Is Given To Young Hubby

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Volumes are written about teen-age marriages and teen-age brides, but little attention is given to the teenage bridegroom.

Mrs. Patsy Yates, Texas A&M University Extension specialist, points out that a West Coast counselor advises teenage husbands — "Now that you have married the girl, try to make friends with her." "It takes two to make a marriage, and many young couples discover that there is more to marriage than they had realized," Mrs. Yates said.

It is not surprising to find that young couples love each other but really do not like each other. Whirlwind courtships and the couples' age are the cause, she said.

She said that according to Dr. Erich Fromm mature love is built on respect, understanding, knowledge and caring for the other person.

FORE AND AFT neither the style in clothing nor models to be seen in Paris, London or New York, this Cuban fashion effort nevertheless went over big in Moscow. Some 120 different designs from Castro's island were shown by well-filled models during a fashion show at the Soviet capital's big GUM department store.

Husbands, Do You Get the Message?

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Listen, closely, husbands. She may be hinting when she says:

"I saw the most beautiful bracelet today. I had a hard time resisting it. But I did."

(Here you're supposed to ask what store she saw it in and get her to describe it... and carry on from there.)

"Are any of the husbands taking their wives to that convention?" (If the answer is "Yes," you're supposed to follow it up with, "Would you like to go.")

"It's been one of those days when everything's gone wrong. And I haven't even started dinner yet." (Couldn't you, maybe, suggest eating out?)

"You look worried. Is anything wrong?" (She knows something is wrong. What she is hoping you'll do is to tell her what's troubling you. So don't brush the question aside.)

"Do you like my new hair-do?" (She's fishing for a real, morale-boosting compliment. So don't say, "Yeah, sure." Tell her she looks beautiful.)

"I know we can't afford it, but do you know what I wish we could do?" (She thinks there's a chance you can afford it — or she wouldn't be bringing it up. Can you?)

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Pampa Garden Club was represented in Lubbock Monday by Mrs. V. N. Osborn and this columnist for a workshop on grants available from Sears, Roebuck and Co. to affiliated clubs for Civic Beautification and Development Projects. Mrs. Howard S. Kittel of Dallas directed the workshop. Mrs. Kittel is the immediate past president of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., an author of several books, nationally known as a flower arranger and is at present Civic Beautification Chairman for the National Council of Garden Clubs, having traveled extensively in this capacity.

Mrs. Kittel announced that a magazine, Southern Living, will be publishing articles on beautification projects by garden clubs. She also announced a movie producer in Hollywood, California has contacted her and has already started a film on efforts of garden clubs and other groups toward the beautification projects across our country. This film will be shown in other lands as well as our own.

Many exciting things are happening. We think a good start has been made in Pampa, but unlimited possibilities lie ahead in the development of the Red Deer Nature Trail along the creek banks in Pampa. A project of this sort, even in its beginning stages, can and will be entered in the contest and can be eligible for a national award. More points are given in judging on projects supported by the whole community. The response has already been very enthusiastic. The ideal solution in the development of this trail would be to have an underground watering system throughout, but it will take a great deal of money. Anyone wanting to help financially will be gratefully appreciated.

Past Scrapbooks Discussed for KKI Conclave

Mrs. D. L. Mackie, president of Gamma Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota presented a program on the conclave past 13 scrapbooks to the group when it met recently in City Club Room.

Each year a scrapbook is compiled with events held during the year that KKI has initiated. At the end of the year the scrapbook is dedicated and presented to the president. Of the 13 books, each had received either national or state awards and seven had received both.

Mrs. Mackie also discussed the history of KKI stating "Gamma Conclave has had two state presidents, Mrs. B. G. Gordon and Miss Alma Wilson. Several members have served on the executive board. There are 52 conclaves in the state of Texas."

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT Mantovani and Orchestra Coming for Pampa Concert

A British orchestra director who has sold over a million stereo recordings and has been heard in concert by well over that number of Americans in recent years will be presented by the Pampa Community Concert Association next Monday night in the second of its fall and winter concert series.

MANTOVANI
has 15 gold albums

Annunzio Mantovani was born in Venice, Italy in 1905, of a musical family. His father was a professor of music in two Italian conservatories, was concertmaster under the batons of Mascagni and Toscanini, and was created a Cavaliere by the King of Portugal for his contributions to the music of that country.

The elder Mantovani was also an established conductor, and was engaged to direct the orchestra of an Italian opera company during an engagement at Covent Garden, London. He had taken his family with him and they chose to stay for a time in England. The outbreak of World War I prevented their return to Italy, and they became British subjects.

Annunzio began the study of violin at the age of fourteen, and two years later he was a professional violinist. For a number of years, he concertized extensively as a violin soloist and one of his most treasured experiences was playing the Saint Saens B-minor Violin Concerto at Queen's Hall, London.

He formed a quintet and began broadcasting. The formation of his Tipica Orchestra in the early '30s brought his name and orchestra to the forefront of popular recording orchestras in London.

In 1951, already familiar to people in the United States through his recordings, he was asked to prepare an album especially for American consumption. Feeling that American orchestras had already provided a wealth of good recordings, Mantovani decided he must

Cancer Society Urges Checkups

Ninety percent of Americans would have annual checkups for cancer, if urged to do so by their physicians, according to a new study by the American Cancer Society.

At present, less than half of the public said they have had checkups that could detect cancer. Dr. Leonard W. Larson, retiring National President of the ASC, reported to the Society's Annual Meeting in New York.

The study of public attitudes toward cancer was conducted for the ACS by Lieberman Research, Inc., of New York City. It showed that 57 percent of those questioned had never had a physical examination including tests for cancer; 26 percent have checkups regularly and 17 percent have had an examination at one time or another.

"Among both groups of 'goers' and 'non-goers,' nine out of ten said they would have a checkup if their doctors told them to do so," Dr. Larson said.

Presently about one-third of all cancer patients are being saved, Dr. Larson pointed out. He credited early detection and diagnosis as the key to saving lives from cancer.

He said, "We know too that 'cures' the synonym for five-year survivals, are due principally to one thing, the urgency of treatment — the promptness with which a cancer patient responds to our pleas for early detection, to early diagnosis, to early attention to the cancer that can be cured but kills if neglected."

The American Cancer Society points out that at least half of those who get cancer today could be saved with present techniques of treatment.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Americans Are Confused Over Origins of Viet War

Decisions made by the Eisenhower Administration and later upheld by the administrations of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson are responsible for U.S. military and economic involvement in Vietnam. There is nothing secret or complicated about these events, but many Americans apparently are confused about the true origins of the present war.

In 1954, the Geneva Agreements ended eight years of hostilities between French and Communist forces and dissolved the former French colonial empire in Indochina. The Geneva accord divided Vietnam into two independent parts along the line of the 17th parallel, a Communist north and a non-Communist south, pending elections for a reunified state. Although the United States had participated in the Geneva conference, it dissociated itself from the final agreement. However, in a unilateral declaration issued at Geneva, the Eisenhower administration pledged, among other things that the United States would view any renewal of aggression in violation of the agreements with grave concern and as a serious threat to peace.

This was step one of what was to become a growing American stake in the fate of the free Republic of South Vietnam. An important next step was to conclude the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty (SEATO). This was signed less than two months after the Geneva agreements by the United States, Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, and the United Kingdom. The treaty contained a protocol which designated Cambodia, Laos, and the free territory of Vietnam as part of the area in which aggression by armed attack would be considered as endangering the safety of each member. American policy "support a friendly non-Communist government in Vietnam" was laid down in detail. The Eisenhower Administration approved programs to give budgetary support and equipment for internal security forces, including the South Vietnamese army; provided a mission to assist in training the army; helped to organize, train, and equip the police force; assisted in resettling refugees from the Communist north and provided economic aid.

At a meeting in Washington in May, 1957, President Eisenhower assured the then South Vietnamese president, Ngo Dinh Diem, of U. S. willingness to continue military and economic aid. By 1959, increasing Communist guerrilla activity in the south appeared to the United States to be part of a planned campaign by North Vietnam to bring about a Communist revolution in South Vietnam. The United States stepped up its support in early 1960, and in May of that year the Eisenhower Administration announced, it was increasing the U. S. military advisory group from 327 to 685 at the end of the year.

Thus the foundations were laid for successive actions during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations for increased U.S. assistance, both military and economic, as the Communist threat intensified. Direct intervention by North Vietnam in support of Communist guerrilla activity resulted in a progressive step-up of the conflict to today's level.

While a basic U.S. objective — containment of Communist expansion — applies to Vietnam as it did to Korea, the situations which led to U.S. armed involvement are not similar. In Korea, a sudden full-scale war was launched when Communist North Korean troops, supported by Russian equipment and advisers, struck across the border into South Korea on June 25, 1950. U. S. forces were sent immediately to help South Korea repel the overt Communist aggression. The Security Council of the United Nations acted under provisions of the U.N. Charter two days after the invasion and called upon other member nations to send forces to assist the U. S. and South Korean troops. In Vietnam, developments came much more slowly and less dramatically.

These are the facts.

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — We read the network press releases: —From NBC-TV's "Laredo" series: "With hair that looks like it was styled in a wind tunnel, with a face that would put a rutted detour to shame, with a voice that makes a concrete mixer sound like a lullaby, and a wardrobe that has more wrinkles than a prune, this is Neville Brand. But underneath this facade is a performer of consummate skill.

GIL BURGUND

Bowling Breaks By Gil

One of bowling's oldest superstitions is that it is bad luck to write in the score on a string of strikes. Beth Parker had four in a row and some one started writing in the score which Beth promptly erased, but to no avail. She missed the next strike, but still had a nice 220 game.

Almost immediately after this Bernita Nidiffer strung five in a row and ended with 238 and a 551 series.

Lou Donghi is also a little superstitious as he bowed low and gracefully to the pins on getting a strike by just hitting the six pin. Nick Kadinsky had the same idea, rolling on the floor trying to get the ball to roll over to the four pin on a critical spare. It didn't help, he still missed.

Can you imagine both John Snuggs and Pete Pettit hitting their ankles and throwing gutter balls?

Did you see that interesting picture in the Amarillo paper showing three little boys of the same family all with beautiful shiners, all on the left eye and all with a different excuse, and none of them ran into a door or a fist.

Also did you see the picture of Carl Wilsing of Sheboygan, Wisconsin who rolled games of 289-300-278 for an 876 series which is just 10 pins short of the world's record of 886 shot by Allie Brandt in 1939? Isn't that some bowling.

Roger Flowers, an outstanding junior bowler, now with Uncle Sam Marines still finds the bowling lanes the best place to be enjoying himself while on leave.

As I was writing this, another of our former star juniors walked in. Max Barnhill is in the Navy and is just starting his leave as Rozer ends his. Both were in uniform and are a credit to Pampa.

It's also nice to see Eugenia Bray and Elaine Waters back in their bowling group. They just couldn't stay away either.

It finally happened Jane Skinner and her twin look alike, Paula Lewis bowling at the same time. No, they aren't related but certainly could be.

Sombody slipped cause all the splits accounted for were, Bobbie Silcott with both a 6-7-10 and a 2-7-10 and Billie Thut a 3-7-10. Will try and catch more next time.

The other night in a pot game John Snuggs, John Hazle and Larry Dunn all came up with a Don Carter style and believe me it would have made a great movie.

Tournament news is starting to come in again with three women teams from Pampa placing in the Western Open at the Amarillo Bowl. Biddle Taylor and Billie Johnson were second in Class C Doubles, Irma Beck and Terrie Barrett were second in Class A doubles, Eileen Greer rolled a hefty 574 series to place high in Class A singles. Pampa has teams entered in Eastridge tournament starting next weekend and there is also a bunch of Pan-tams and Juniors entered in the Annual Turkey shoot at Amarillo at holiday time.

If Billy Robbins and Lee Waters bowl as well in that tournament as they did in their King of the Hill match Sunday they will be real competition. Billy successfully defended his crown.

In the Pan-tams Cheryl Witt came up with a 37-55-35 which is certainly going the wrong way. Bryce Williams had a field day with a 175-170 and a 134 for a 459 series. Not bad for a Pan-tam is it? Ray Womack, a junior was bemoaning the fact he missed a triple score twice on the same day. He calls it a triplet. Ivo Denison just missed, with 115-118-118.

Tracy Snider was so quiet that I didn't even know she had had a 200. The Engine Parts boys redeemed themselves and won all points this week. Maybe kidding helped.

Red Payne came up with high series but had to share his game honors with Leonard Cable.

The ups and downs of bowling were exemplified by Barbara Moreland who had a 100-130 and 172 and by Bobbie Bell who started with a 182 the 119 and ended

Cold Weather Forces SWC Teams Indoors

By United Press International
Near-freezing temperatures forced the Arkansas Razorbacks indoors after slightly more than an hour Tuesday in their preparation for Rice.

"Considering the cold weather, we got a little done," Coach Frank Broyles said. "It wasn't too bad a practice."

Broyles said quarterback Jon Brittenum looked very good on offense and was throwing the ball well in spite of the cold.

The defense worked mainly on containing Rice quarterback Robby Shelton.

Shelton is the No. 2 man in rushing yardage in the Southwest Conference, with 526 yards to his credit.

Rice scrimmaged but end Dan Van Winkle did not take part.

Van Winkle, who pulled a leg muscle, is taking it easy, hoping to be back in form by Saturday. He sat out the Texas Tech game, and Louis Carnadas played in his place.

Lagow to Play
Defensive guard Dick Lagow, who missed the Tech game due to a sprained ankle, was expected to play against the Razorbacks.

Coach Jess Neely said Robby Shelton, No. 1 quarterback and one of the conference's leading rushers, would start against Arkansas.

Coach Gene Stallings of Texas A&M said Tuesday his team was in the best physical condition since the opening of the season.

Stallings said halfback Lloyd Curington was expected to get in the game against Southern Methodist Saturday. He suffered a thigh bruise in the Georgia Tech game. Bill Salee, also will be back. He missed two games with an injury.

Stallings said he had a lot of respect for SMU, which is unbeaten in the conference. "SMU has a lot of team speed," he said, "and several players capable of breaking open a game."

Six Baylor Bears have begun learning new assignments, preparing to serve as swing men this week against Texas.

Extra Duty
The extra duty was occasioned by injuries to several starters last Saturday in the Bears' 6-0 loss to Texas Christian.

The Bears, with both running backs, Richard Defee and John Westbrook, out this week, had trouble lining up properly in the last half.

Subs were working at unfamiliar offensive backfield jobs.

Starting defensive halfback Billy Hayes was moved to the starting offensive halfback post, with fullback Pinky Palmer was trying to work both at fullback and halfback.

Coach J. T. King of Texas Tech sent his Raiders through a workout that was as brisk as the weather. He said the session was "respectable."

Lee, PJH 7th Grades to Meet
The Shockers, Pampa High School's B team, will be back in the welcome confines of Harvester Field Thursday for a 4 p.m. football game.

They (the Shockers) have won only one of eight games and that was three games ago. Tascosa will carry a 6-1 record into the game.

On the Junior High Front Pampa Junior High ninth will host Borger Austin at 4 p.m. Thursday in hopes of breaking a three game losing streak. The Reapers are 1-5 for the season.

PJH eighth will entertain Austin the same day and will be shooting for their second win of the season.

The eighth graders are 1-4 for the season.

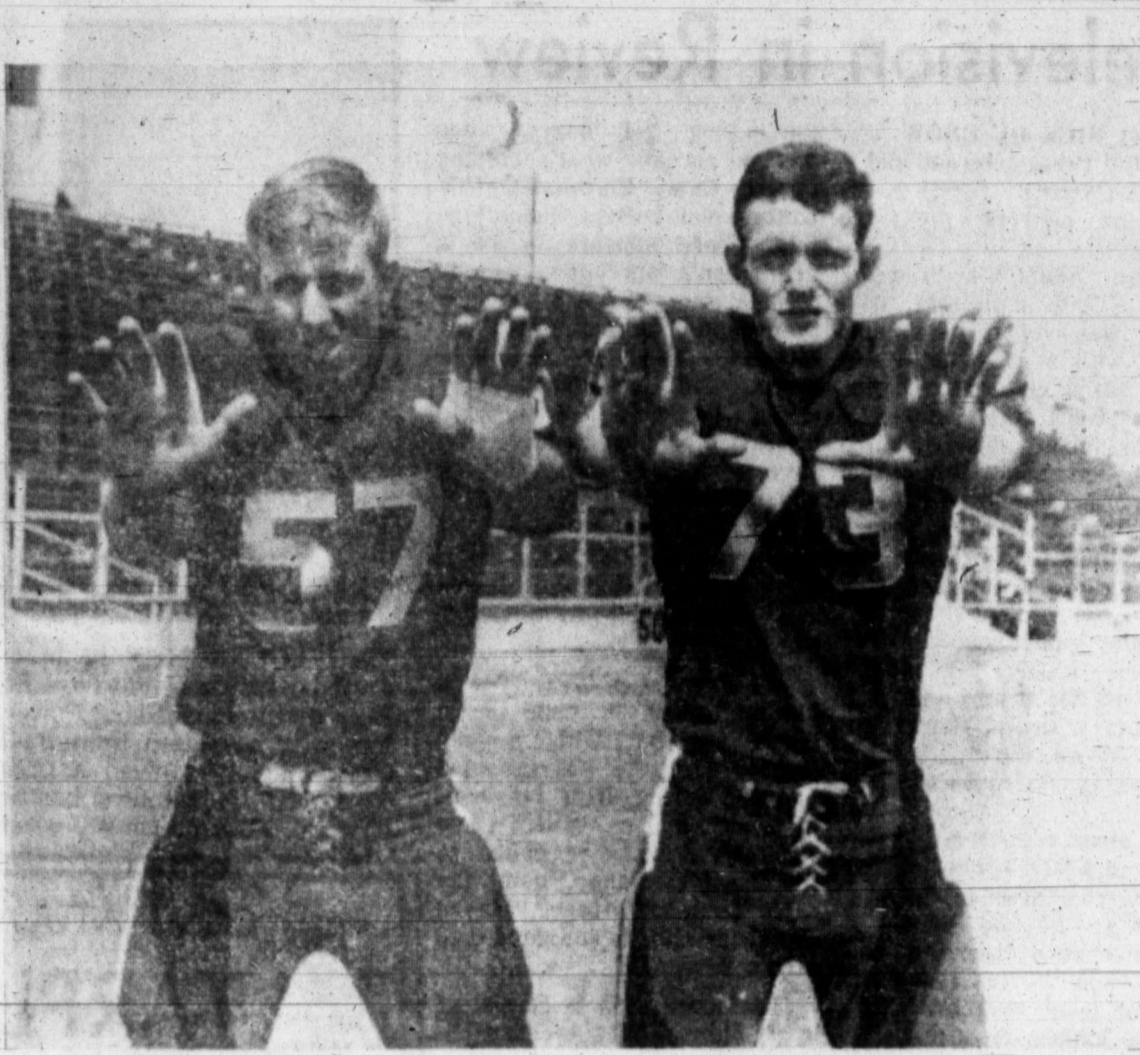

Lee ninth travels to Perryton and will be seeking their third straight victory and have hope of evening their season record at 4-4.

Perryton triumphed 46-22 when the two teams met in Pampa earlier this season.

Lee eighth shoots for their second in a row when they host Perryton eighth. The Lee eighth stands 1-6 and won their first game of the season last week. They fell to Perryton, 30-8 earlier in the year.

The really big game, as far as the Junior Highers are concerned will be played Friday when Lee and Pampa Junior High 7th grades meet at Lee.

The PJH seventh in undefeated and has a 4-0 record while Lee is 3-3 with three straight victories.

MAINSTAYS — Two of the mainstays of the Pampa Harvester offense this year have been tackle and captain Doc Cornutt (57) and tackle turned center Glen Lewis (73). Both are seniors.

RECORD DOUBLE

Sandy Best in Baseball

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sandy Koufax' unanimous selection for a third Cy Young pitcher of the year award placed the brilliant Los Angeles Dodger lefthander in position today to score a record "double" by adding the National League's most valuable player plaque to his laurels.

Koufax and outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates are expected to run 1-2 — either way — when the NL MVP choice is announced by the Baseball Writers' Association of America on Nov. 16.

Koufax in 1963 and Don Newcombe in 1956 are the only double winners and Sandy is the only pitcher to win the Young award more than once.

Although Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants and Jim Kaat of the Minnesota Twins were 25-game winners, neither got a call from the committee of 20 writers participating in the Young voting. Koufax' accomplishments were simply too overwhelming for anyone else to merit consideration.

Working throughout the season with a steadily-worsening arthritic condition in his left arm, the 30-year-old Koufax led the NL with 27 victories, 323 innings pitched, 317 strikeouts and a 1.74 earned run average. He became the first pitcher to strike out 300 or more batters in three seasons and the first to lead his league in ERA in five consecutive years.

Pennant Clincher
Koufax clinched his brilliant performance by clinching the pennant with a 6-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in the final game of the season.

Koufax won his first Cy Young award in 1963 when he had a 25-5 record, struck out 306 batters and compiled a 1.88 ERA. He won his second in 1965 with a 26-8 record, 382 strikeouts and a 2.04 ERA. He had a 19-5 record, 223 strikeouts and a 1.74 ERA in 1964 when he missed the last six weeks of the season because of his arm ailment.

The Dodger ace was contacted by telephone after the announcement of the award was made Tuesday by Bob Addie of the Washington Post, president of the BBWAA, at the Hotel New Yorker and proved as suave and cool as ever.

ITALY OVER RUSSIA
MILAN, Italy (UPI) — Center half Guarnieri scored in the 23rd minute Tuesday to lead Italy's national soccer team to a 1-0 victory over the Soviet national squad, before 75,000 fans at the Milan's San Siro Stadium.

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (UPI) — U.S. Davis Cuppers coming off a triumphant Argentine tournament settled down to their new twice-daily workout routine today in stepped-up preparations for the weekend semi-final round matches with Brazil.

Complaints of assorted aches and pains greeted non-playing Captain George McCall and coach Pancho Gonzalez when the troupe arrived from Buenos Aires after Sunday's Argentine sweep of men's events.

Cliff Richey of Dallas won the singles title with a four-set victory over Brazil's Tomas Koch in the finals. Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Dennis Ralston of Bakerfield, Calif., then teamed in doubles to take Koch and Edson Mandarino.

McCall immediately predicted a U.S. victory over the South Americans when they meet for keeps in a best-of-five series that opens Saturday.

But first McCall had to deal with sick call. Richey said he was tired after his extended match with Koch and Charlie Pasarell of San Juan, Puerto Rico, reported he was suffering from a slight cold.

DEFENSE AGAIN

Rowden Tops In Scoring

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

It is plain to see why Pampa's 1-2 in north zone competition. The Harvesters are dead last in total defense.

Pampa has the next to last best offense, only Amarillo leads them in first downs, they are second in team punting, have the second best rusher in the zone, fifth best passes, fifth best total offensive leader, are way down in pass receiving, second and fourth in individual punting and have one of the top scorers in the zone.

All this information is passed along with the release of the north zone statistics through all league games played.

Through three games Pampa has rushed for 579 yards, passed for 71 more for a total of 652, an average of 214 per game.

Monterey is the leader, but has played only two league games, and has an average of 336.5 yards per game with Amarillo, 2-1, next with 284.7 average, up 608 yds on the ground 266.

Defensively Pampa has given through the air for a total of 864 or 288 per game.

Again Monterey is the leader with a 212.5 per game average with Borger next at 233.5.

Through three games Pampa has punted five times for 302 yards for an average of 60.4 good enough for a tie with Amarillo who has punted nine times.

Penalties have been no problem for Pampa, they have been fined only seven times for 62 yards. The Harvesters have 36 first downs and trail only Amarillo, who has 39 but they and Caprock lead in fumbles lost with five each.

Ted Heiskell trails Amarillo's Harmon Hollar for the individual rushing leadership but Heiskell has carried the ball 13 more times.

Hollar has 36 carries for 269 yards while Ted has 49 carries for 255 yards.

In total offense Heiskell has 255 yards rushing and none passing for a 85 yard per game average with Stiles and Surratt of Monterey leading and Johnson and Hollar of Amarillo next in line.

Stiles is averaging 129 yards per game, Surratt 127 yards per game.

L. D. Rowden is way down the list in pass receiving but has two catches for 21 yards.

Huber of Caprock leads in punting with three punts for 143 yards, an average of 47.7 with Rowden second with one kick of 45 yards and Laing of Amarillo next with nine punts for 264 yards an average of 40.4 per kick.

James Matney comes next with four kicks for 157 yards, an average of 39.3 yards per kick.

Rowden, along with Robbins, Laing, and Hollar of Amarillo and Alston of Caprock lead in scoring with 18 points each.

Lubbock Coronado, Pampa's non-conference foe Friday at Lowery Field in Lubbock, is second in total offense in the south zone.

Coronado trails only Tascosa and through three games has 43 yards rushing, 219 passing for a total of 662, an average of 220.7 per game.

The Mustangs trail Tascosa and Lubbock in total defense. Coronado has given up 355 yds. rushing and 180 through the air for a 535 total or an average of 178 per contest.

Jim Reese, 170-pound sophomore fullback is the fourth best rusher in the south zone with 122 yards on 16 carries and his teammate Tony Handley, a 160-pound junior wingback has carried 19 times for 99 yards.

Quarterback Gary Kirksey trails only Tascosa's great Monty Johnson in passing. Kirksey has fired the ball 44 times, completed 15 for 219 yards and one touchdown.

Kirksey is the third best in total offense with 57 yards rushing added to his 219 passing for a total of 276, an average of 92 yards per game.

Kirksey's two main receivers, Bob Townley, a 170-pound junior end and halfback Ron Chaney, who has been hurt leading pass receiving.

Townley has five catches for 66 yards and Chaney has four catches for 67 yards.

Styles of Coaching Do Vary

By BUD WILKINSON
The handful of college football coaches who have their teams at the top of the current national ratings have proven that they can produce winners. Yet, their personalities and approaches to the game run the full spectrum from light hearted good humor to constant grim determination. One lesson is that every coach, to be successful, must first be himself. His most important task is to establish confidence and rapport between himself and his players.

Some Notre Dame graduates learned the hard way that they couldn't be successful by attempting to coach exactly as the immortal Knute Rockne did. Many more Notre Dame men blended their own personalities with the lessons they learned from their former coach and produced great teams all over the country. As a player and assistant coach I learned the game from some excellent football men. As a head coach I continued to learn through association with Parseghian of Notre Dame and Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State. Both have superb unbeaten squads. Their game November 19 may well decide the national championship.

Duffy has been described as resembling a friendly Irish leprechaun more than a football coach. He's a genuinely humorous man, and in public appears to take nothing very seriously. He and his players like to laugh, and they do it frequently.

Asked what he says to help Dick Kenney, his barefoot field goal kicker, Duffy replied, "I tell him to keep his toe nails cut so he won't scratch up all our footballs."

Kenney seldom smiles and appears to consider suicide when he kicks poorly. Once, the Spartans' number two kicker asked Duffy why Kenney never smiled.

"His toes hurt," Duffy replied.

They don't tell many jokes about Ara Parseghian. When Duffy Daugherty's name is mentioned, those who know him smile automatically.

Each, in his own way, provides the ingredients a successful squad must have. They excel at recruiting and organizing, and at instilling the qualities of confidence, pride and purpose that divide the great teams from the merely good teams.

This is true, too, of all the coaches whose teams are on top today — Paul Bryant of Alabama, Tommy Prothro of UCLA, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, Ray Graves of Florida, Bob Devaney of Nebraska and many others.

They respect their tutors, as we all should. But they also respect the old commercial-line "Beware of imitations." They have learned that, for the football coach, his way is the only way — for him.

Goat Leads Scoring

WHEELER—There are bound to be some rather loud going on here Friday night and a whale of a football game is in prospect.

The two top teams in district 2-A, Wheeler and McLean will do battle for the district lead. The Tigers are 2-0 and Wheeler 2-0 in league play.

The top two scorers in the Panhandle will meet face to face when Wheeler's Fred Goad and McLean's Robert Baker trot onto the field. Both play fullback for their respective teams.

Goad is the top scorer in the area with 15 touchdowns and six conversions for 88 total points, an average of 11 points per contest.

Baker has 10 touchdowns and six conversions for 78 points, an average of 9.2 per contest. This is good considering the Tigers have scored only 112 points all season.

McLean is 7-1 for the season, having lost only to White Deer while Wheeler is 6-2 with losses to Wellington and then dropped a 12-6 decision to White Deer last Friday.

McLean has the second best offensive average in the area, topped only by the Bucks. McLean has given up just 46 points, an average of 5.6 per contest.

Vernon-Marlar is third in scoring and the Bucks' big halfback has tallied nine times and ran two conversions for 53 points.

Wheeler's Bobby Vanpool

Stratford, Canadian hasn't scored in their last two games and have dropped three and tied one in their last four contests.

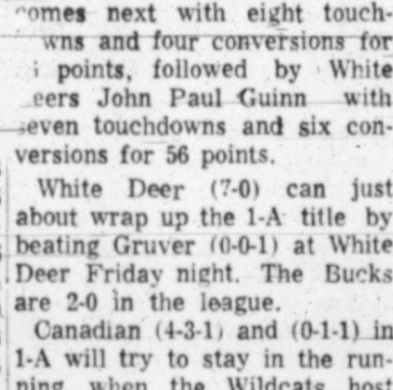

Lefors will try to tie the Groom for the top spot in district 5-B when the Pirates host Booker Friday night.

Lefors is 1-0 in the league while Groom is 2-2-0 and remains the only two unbeaten in the district. Groom is idle.

Second-rated Michigan State is picked by 29 points against Iowa; third-ranked UCLA is a 14-point choice against Washington; No. 4 Alabama is 19 over LSU; Georgia Tech, rated fifth, is 25 over Virginia; Nebraska, ranked sixth, is 20 over Kansas.

Seventh-rated Florida, the only team in the top 10 expected to run into any difficulty, is only a six-point choice against Georgia; Arkansas, rated eighth, is 19 over Rice, and Southern Cal., No. 9, is expected to rebound from a loss to Miami of Florida and is a 19-point pick over California.

In close games, Missouri is only one point over Colorado; Auburn is one over Mississippi State; Minnesota is one over Northwestern; Baylor is one over Texas and Texas Tech is

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Free Choice for Labor

Some may be surprised to learn that a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has won the National Right to Work Committee's "Pledge of Support" contest.

The Right to Work Committee promotes voluntary — rather than compulsory — unionism. Its most notable triumph this year was the defeat in Congress of the move to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley law. That section permits the various states to adopt "right-to-work" legislation, and more and more of them have done so to the union's dismay.

The "Pledge of Support" contest winner is Carl Kettelhut of Freeport, Ill., an engineer for 26 years with the Illinois Central Railroad. For 24 years he has been a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. For many years also he has supported the National Right to Work Committee's objective: protecting the right of the individual to join or not to join a union without losing his job.

It should not be surprising that a labor union member of such long standing supports voluntary unionism. Who else, after all, would know more about the evils — both real and potential — of compulsory unionism. In a statement written to explain his views, Kettelhut stated:

"My greatest reward comes from the feeling that I might have been instrumental in opening the minds and hearts of my fellow men to the need for freedom of choice in the labor movement. I have tried to stress this as the only weapon a union man has to keep his union officials honest and progressive."

We are all aware of the fact that many labor leaders are honest and sincere servants of the membership. They are both prudent and discreet in their servitude, but the respect for the rights of others is the greatest attribute they must possess.

Because labor leaders are only human, it is very easy for them to succumb to a lust for power and abuse the financial trust placed in them. Laws must be passed to protect the working man from labor leaders prone to lust for power. Laws must be passed making it impossible for labor leaders to give way to their human weaknesses.

Kettelhut is not merely a support-in-theory advocate of voluntary unionism. He is most active in support of his views. That is how he won the "Pledge of Support" contest. He signed up 435 union members who believe in voluntary — not compulsory — unionism.

Welfare Union

We were surprised, and imagine you may be too, to learn that the Shriver's War on Poverty program has a CCD agency which actually promotes a kind of union of welfare recipients, collects a dues fee of $2 per person on welfare, and instructs "members" how to "get" all the money to which they are "entitled."

All the money to which they are entitled extends to a whole range of classifications. The editor of one of the Freedom Newspapers obtained a copy of "The Welfare Rights Handbook" which opens with this sentence: "Do you know that you are not the only one who is having problems with the Welfare Department?"

The pamphlet then asks if the recipient knows "his rights." It describes eligibility and how to get aid for children, tells how much personal property they may own, how to make applications, how to get immediate aid, gives considerable direction on how to entertain male friends so the recipient will not be disqualified, and goes into detail on dates and entertainment without the welfare department determining the woman is living with a man. It describes home visits and searches, explains the "right" to appeal and advises the hearing is not open to the public. It describes what to do in case of over payment or underpayment, talks about professional services, medical care for children, dental care, and birth control.

The pamphlet is put out by the Welfare Rights Organization, 326 Seventh St., Oakland, California. This is the area where able-bodied men on welfare successfully refused to take jobs picking fruit and harvesting vegetables on nearby farms, on the grounds of lack of training and inconvenience.

In a way, all of this is "old stuff" and to be expected. But what isn't expected is that an agency of the War on Poverty apparently is organizing recipients of welfare to demand more and more welfare — and do less and less work — one agency of the federal government working against the declared aims of other agencies of both state and federal governments. All of this might be described as "Why the worst get on top" — the welfare department determining the woman is living

One of the greatest rackets in this country is the theft and resale of credit cards. They sell on the black market for as much as $258. It's estimated that credit-card thieves charge more than $28 million a year fraudulently. If you lose one of your credit cards, notify the company at once. Otherwise, you're liable for all charges made on the card. . . . You can mail almost anything these days, but Uncle Sam puts a large bite on you for the privilege. Recently we witnessed a publicity stunt of sending a 4-by-6-foot "postcard" through the mail to a photography exposition in Chicago. It was duly stamped, but the postage charges amounted to $26 for first class mail.

Today's smile: A clergyman addressing his congregation, said: "There's a certain man here today who is flirting with another man's wife. If he does not put $5 on the collection plate I will read his name from the pulpit at our next service." When the clergyman counted the collection he found a dozen $5 bills and a $2 bill with this note attached: "Will pay the other three next Sunday."

An entomologist tells us there are upwards of 275,000 species of beetles in the world. He says they make up almost half the insect population. . . . Ever hear of Douglas William Johnson of Los Angeles, California? Well, he enjoys a measure of fame since he found and returned to its rightful owner a fortune of $240,000 in $20 and lesser denomination bills one day in 1961. Makes us wonder how anyone could have that amount of cash at one time anyway.

Thoughts while shaving: Looking at a display of fine cheese in a gourmet shop made us wonder whatever happened to that 35,000 pound Wisconsin cheddar exhibited at the New York World's Fair. It was said to be the largest cheese ever made anywhere, and we believe it. . . . Horace Greeley is generally credited with this advice: "Go west, young man!" Actually, John Soule, editor of a Terre Haute, Indiana, newspaper, originated it. Greeley used it in the New York TRIBUNE giving full credit to Soule, but the public only remembered they had read it in Greeley's paper and he was credited with it forever after. . . . A Florida judge has a unique way of punishing teenage traffic offenders who appear before him. If they are found guilty, he imposes a prescribed penalty of a fine plus the obligation for the offender to place on his car for a certain length of time a three-foot square aluminum sign reading: "Beware — I am a traffic violator." We'll bet he doesn't get many repeaters. . . . The first automobile race in history was the "Paris to Versailles" road race in 1887. The winning car covered the 20 miles in an hour and 14 minutes. How times have changed. . . . The Burlington (Vermont) FREE PRESS reported in a story: "A baked good table offers delicacies to buy and take home." Doesn't sound appetizing to us.

Country Editor speaking: "Government financing is really simple. We're issuing bonds to pay for the debts of our fathers and passing along the responsibility for paying for the whole thing to our children."

Esther Peterson, Under Fire from Business and Consumer Groups, May Be Casualty of Price Protests

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Esther Peterson, special assistant to the President for consumer affairs, is caught in the middle of the growing storm over rising food prices.

Business and consumer groups are bombarding the White House with requests that President Johnson drop Mrs. Peterson for her failure to do anything but talk about the rising cost of living.

The business groups led by the Retail Grocers associations are urging that Mrs. Peterson be ousted because of her TV-Radio statements endorsing the price boycotts being staged by protesting housewives across the nation.

Malcolm McCabe, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers and a leader in the fight against Mrs. Peterson, is confidently forecasting that the President will ease his consumer adviser out after he returns from his Asian trip.

In a private conversation with business supporters following a Boston radio talk last week, McCabe claimed to have definite information that the President planned to strip Mrs. Peterson of her White House consumers role.

The President, who is receiving daily reports on the food-price boycotts, is reportedly burned up about Mrs. Peterson's numerous public appearances to discuss the housewives' mounting protests.

Instead of helping to quiet the movement, the President feels that Mrs. Peterson's statements are stirring up the angry chorus of price protesters at a time that could hurt the administration politically.

At present, Mrs. Peterson wears two administration hats and keeps two separate offices. In addition to being special assistant to the President for consumer affairs, Mrs. Peterson serves as assistant secretary of labor for standards.

For her consumer duties, Mrs. Peterson has a suite in the Executive Office Building, which is connected to the White House by an underground passage. This building houses most of the White House employees. As an assistant secretary, she has a second office in the Labor Department.

Several of the council members are privately complaining that Mrs. Peterson has either lost her influence with the President or personally did little to keep the council active. They could never become what's popularly known as a "good Third Party member. A "good" party man is one who puts party ahead of principles. He who wears the collar of the party must pay the penalty — degradation.

In the current races I have made speeches for both Democrat and Republican candidates. For instance, in Arkansas I supported Democrat Jim Johnson against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller. There is no living Rockefeller, to my knowledge, who I would support for dog catcher. If you want an indication of the actual nothingness of the Republican Party in most of the South, you don't have to look any further than Arkansas. Winthrop Rockefeller now is the Arkansas Republican party. Arkansas was sold once — along with some other real estate — for $15 million (as part of the Louisiana Purchase). I can't believe Arkansas is still for sale.

I have been asked many times why our ALABAMA FARMER refused to take a stand on current election in Alabama. The answer is easy. We didn't choose between Martin and Wallace because they're both good; and we didn't choose between Greiner and Sparkman because they're both bad. As they say in Alabama, bedfellows make strange politics.

In Tennessee our advice was: Don't fail to vote for either Frank Clement or Junior Baker for Big Mouth Bass' Senate seat. Baker is the son-in-law of Lyndon Johnson's floor manager, Everett Dirksen, and is somewhere to the left of the pompous, phony Clement, wherever that is.

Most Republicans have a simple platform: Get in. Whatever it takes, get in. I have argued long and loud with these people for 25 years. Some of them say with sincerity (as did Goldwater of Nelson Rockefeller) if we get him in, we can convert him. Which is another version of that ancient cliché: "You have to get elected before you can be a statesman." To which the obvious answer is: "Name me one man who ever ran on a liberal platform and turned conservative when he got in. Or, name me one man who ever lied his way into office and then turned honest."

That theory is as ridiculous as the claim that once Red China gets in the United Nations — she will mellow and get civilized. (Like the other comrats and cannibals.)

I have certainly tried to make this article on politics moderate, friends. You will note that I have not once referred to cheap politicians. There are no cheap politicians; they are all expensive! There are, of course, a few honest politicians. But they're as unusual as a five-letter word at Berkeley. As Mark Twain observed: "An honest man in politics shines more survey of fishing and hunting, there are 33 million anglers and hunters in the U.S. They spend $4 billion yearly in their sports clearing house. Editor: It is with the greatest satisfaction that I note in a story from England that the Sheriff of Nottingham has pardoned Robinhood.

Nothing is mentioned of Little John, who was a "tall fellow." (We have a few "tall fellows" around today who should have been members of Robinhood's crowd.)

Robinhood had the advantage of the simple life. He dressed in simple attire. None of his pictures show him in a tuxedo. I have a friend that wears a tux often and every time he puts it on at night, he can count on having a terrific headache the next day. I don't know why he must wear a tux.

Robinhood had no children, that I recall. Now children are good for much pleasure, also you can deduct them in income tax matters, but on the other hand children are unpredictable. You just can't tell what the neighbors will find out next.

In Robinhood's day a man grew up to be a man, and that was it. Now we know a little monkey grows up to be a big monkey. A little pig grows up to be a big pig, now, wonderful man can grow up to be either.

Most of us never aspire to be famous like Robinhood. We want to be just average folk. However, I wish some of us could increase our average. We all cling to the same habits, do the same things, change businesses to come up to the other fellow's business. Even now all banks are putting in drive-in facilities so that our cars can go in and see their real owners.

It is said that Robinhood even robbed the clergymen. I never had a yen to take a sou from a clergyman. I did go down thru the poor part of a poor state some time back, and I wondered in those piney woods what caused Robinhood to pick on clergymen. However, most of them looked as if they had already been robbed.

It's a shame Robinhood lived so many years ago. What a great New Dealer he would have made, and in the Great Society he would have shone, but, still, this would have stolen the sheriff's thunder, as no pardon would be necessary for the famed bandit, in this day.

L. P. Fort
than he would elsewhere. . . . But let us give credit where credit is due. Many of you doubtless saw the performance of the trained flea, at the fair. It is quite remarkable what fleas can be trained to do. So take comfort, Mark Twain observed: "Fleas can be taught nearly anything that a congressman can."

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
When Skin Is Wrinkled, Little Can Be Done About It
Q — Is there any way to put the elasticity back in the skin? I have lost weight and am so wrinkled I look 70, although I am only 51.

A — In olden days, when youth respected age, no one but a professional actress ever considered trying to get rid of wrinkles but times change. The process of wrinkling, a natural accompaniment of aging, is hastened by exposure to the sun and wind or, as in your case, by a sudden loss of weight.

There is no drug or application that will restore the elasticity to wrinkled skin. A skin cream that contains pregnenolone has been found to remove wrinkles but only by causing waterlogging of the skin. When the use of the cream is discontinued, the puffiness disappears and the wrinkles return. The cream cannot be used by women who have oily skin or a tendency to have acne.

Products that contain beef blood protein (bovine serum albumin) will temporarily smooth wrinkled skin. They are safe but the effect is lost each time you wash your face with soap and water. It is also lost if you use your facial muscles to convey any expression except that of a great stone face. For your further information, the Food and Drug Administration recently seized and destroyed a large quantity of three leading commercial wrinkle removers for making false claims in their advertising.

Another treatment, dermabrasion of surgical planing, removes the outer layer of the skin but is of value only when the wrinkles do not extend into the deeper layers of the skin. The best (but by no means permanent) results are obtained by a face-lifting operation performed by a qualified plastic surgeon.

Q — I have had itching of my scalp with white scales for some time. I have tried ointments and shampoos but nothing has helped me. What is the cause and is there a cure?

A — If the itching is severe and the scales are very fine in texture and dull in color, you may have seborrhea. If the itching is mild and the scales are large, hard and shiny, you may have psoriasis. The treatment for the two conditions is quite different. There is no cure but with modern treatment it is possible to control both diseases. A good skin specialist should be able to help you.

Today, our country needs more people who believe in individual freedom and who feel that it is worth fighting for. There are some things each of us can do to defend liberty. Because where there is a will, there are many ways!

The truth is on our side, freedom's side. So let's hit the enemy, the communists, the socialists and the Farleft with truth bombs. When they resist, let's hit them again. With such an abundant supply of truths, we can keep passing the ammunition.

In this battle, education is a vital armament for winning, and the victory which comes through its use is thorough and enduring. But we must seek it and use it.

But there is one weapon that has been strangely neglected. The great American humorist Mark Twain once said that the human race has only one really effective weapon. That one, he explained, is laughter! Try it the next time you want to show how the socialists are twisting and bending truth. Expose the enemy with humor.

Telling jokes on communist regimes has long been a neglected way our people could use in making known their views on their activities. The Mistaken are justifiably afraid of humor and try to suppress it. The Chinese Communists are always banning humor directed toward their sober unfunny dictatorship. Recently Castro purged some top officials for circulating jokes of a counter-revolutionary nature.

We have the necessary weapons to win this battle. But we must first realize the vital role we have to play and then use every weapon at our disposal.

A spendthrift young lady went into a bank and announced that she would like to open a joint bank account.

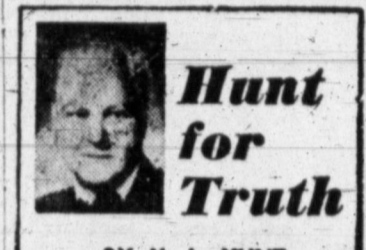

Teller — With whom?
Young Lady — That's a silly question. With someone who has money, naturally!

An Eskimo won a trip to New York City as a prize for catching the most seals in a season. When he returned home, he brought with him a length of pipe, which he set up in his igloo so that it protruded through the roof.

His wife asked what it was for, and he replied:
Eskimo — That's a trick I learned in New York. When you want more heat you bang on this pipe.
She (at comedy) — Are they putting that poor man out for laughing?
He — No, the manager has sent for him to find out what he was laughing at.

—People who ask your advice aren't as interested in your counsel as they are in having the opportunity to tell you their trouble. —Wall Street Journal.

Never mind who's right; drive so you'll be left. —Marshalltown (La.). Ties-Republican.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT
HUMOR AND FREEDOM

Today, our country needs more people who believe in individual freedom and who feel that it is worth fighting for. There are some things each of us can do to defend liberty. Because where there is a will, there are many ways!

The truth is on our side, freedom's side. So let's hit the enemy, the communists, the socialists and the Farleft with truth bombs. When they resist, let's hit them again. With such an abundant supply of truths, we can keep passing the ammunition.

In this battle, education is a vital armament for winning, and the victory which comes through its use is thorough and enduring. But we must seek it and use it.

But there is one weapon that has been strangely neglected. The great American humorist Mark Twain once said that the human race has only one really effective weapon. That one, he explained, is laughter! Try it the next time you want to show how the socialists are twisting and bending truth. Expose the enemy with humor.

Matter of Fact

Checkers, known as draughts in Great Britain, is one of the world's oldest intellectual pastimes. Checkers was played in the days of the early Egyptian pharaohs and there is reason to believe that it is older than chess. Plato and Homer both mention checkers in their works. The Romans imported it from Greece. The earliest publications on record show the conventional checker board still in use today.
