Johnson Plans Five-Point Attack To Deter Spending

Business Tax 'Breaks' May Be Suspended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, acting to shift the nation's high-speed economy into a lower gear, has asked Congress to suspend a pair of special tax breaks for businessmen and cut down on federal spending.

The Chief Executive outlined a five-point plan of attack on inflation and high interest rates Thursday in a news conference announcement carefully timed to be made public after the stock market had closed for the day.

He deferred any move toward personal income tax increases in this election year, but in a warning directed at free-spending congressmen he said, "I shall not hesitate to take further fiscal steps when the size of the budget and the developments in our economy indicate they are necessary."

Foremost among the measures he proposed in a special message to Congress were: — A 16-month suspension, effective Sept. 1 until Jan. 1, 1968, of the 7 per cent tax credit businessmen have been getting since 1962 for investing in new equipment and factories.

It would apply to all orders taken between those dates, regardless of delivery, and to all industries without exception.

— A similar 16-month rollback of authority, first granted in 1954, for businessmen to speed up their tax write-off for the lifelong depreciation of industrial and commercial buildings.

Both these credits originally were devised to stimulate a lagging economy, Johnson said. "Now, however, our problem is to keep investment within safe speed limits. We should not continue to press on the accelerator." But, he added, the suspensions should be temporary because the economy may need such a boost again.

For his part, the President said, he would carefully review appropriations bills already approved by Congress to determine which programs could be "impounded, postponed and stretched out." He estimated federal spending this year would have to be cut by about $3 billion.

In addition, he asked the Federal Reserve Board and banks to cooperate with the government "to lower interest rates and to ease the inequitable burden of tight money," and instructed Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler to keep to the minimum all potential sales of federal securities.

The federal reserve issued a brief, non-committal statement which said the proposed moves would lessen strains on the money market to the extent that current "extraordinary demand for goods, services and credit" are reduced.

The FED's board of governors said it would "continue to be alert to any easing of inflationary pressures in order that monetary policy can be adjusted accordingly."

Johnson Signs Federal Auto Safety Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today signed into law landmark measures imposing federal regulation on the auto industry for the first time in its history.

Johnson put his signature to measures aimed at ending what he called the nation's "anarchy on wheels" — a highway toll of 51,000 deaths and 4 million injuries a year.

Basically, the bills permit the federal government to set safety standards for design and construction on all new cars sold in the United States, starting in the fall of 1967, and provide $267 million over three years in aid to states for highway, driver and traffic safety programs.

The 26 safety measures now required by the federal government for vehicles it purchases were expected to form the basis for the new standards, which also affect buses, trucks and motorcycles as well as cars. These include interior padding, telescopic steering wheels and dual braking systems.

This bill also calls for development of prototype safety cars of the future, disclosure of defects, federal tire standards and a federal register of drivers who lose their licenses.

The companion bill assists states in programs of driver training and licensing, highway construction and maintenance, street and highway lighting and special traffic laws and enforcement.

The giants of the nation's auto industry were invited to the bill signing ceremony, as was a tall, slender young lawyer who, more than any other individual, can claim authorship of the landmark legislation.

He is Ralph Nader, 33-year-old author of the best selling book, "Unsafe At Any Speed." More than two years ago, while a consultant to the Labor Department, Nader drafted legislative recommendations pressuring those that became law today.

"The important question now is: Will the industry continue to move in locked step or will the individual firms start competing to sell cars on the basis of safety?"

Pinhole Postpones Gemini Space Flight

Castro Now Has Cuban Troops In N. Viet Nam

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro now has Cuban troops in North Viet Nam, newly arrived Cuban refugees reported Friday.

U.S. sources here and in Washington expressed credence in the refugee reports.

Although the Cuban troops apparently are being sent as a "token force" intended as observers, "advisers" and instructors, they have already suffered several casualties, the refugees said.

Two or three bodies of Cuban soldiers killed in North Viet Nam have been shipped back to Cuba and buried without fanfare, the refugees said.

One of the dead men was a captain from a Cuban anti-aircraft battery, they reported. The exiles, newly arrived here via the Cuban refugee airlift, said the Cuban public has not been informed of the dispatch of troops to North Viet Nam or of the first casualties. Premier Castro has repeatedly vowed that he would send troops to aid Ho Chi Minh if asked to do so. His last such public pledge was last July 26 when he said "entire Cuban units are willing to go to Viet Nam."

The Castro regime has set up a special training camp to prepare the men selected for assignment with the Viet Cong and the refugees said.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A "pinhole" leak in the first stage of the Titan rocket carrying the Gemini capsule today caused postponement on the Gemini 11 space mission for "at least 24 hours."

Rescheduling of the flight of astronauts Charles (Pete) Conrad and Richard F. Gordon had to wait until all of the 32,000 gallons of fuel aboard the Titan's first stage could be unloaded, and technicians could determine how easily the hole could be repaired.

The federal space agency announced the successful repair to the two-stage booster and said the launched times for Saturday would be the same as those scheduled today — 8:25 a.m. CST for the astronauts and 6:48 a.m. for the Atlas rocket which will fling an Agena target satellite into orbit for Gemini to chase.

The countdown for the dual launch was scheduled to begin a second time late tonight. Today's launch was postponed because of the pinhole leak — which measured two one-thousandths of an inch — in the first stage oxidizer tank of the Titan.

The leak was discovered after loading of the fuel aboard the Titan was completed during the night. Navy buddies Conrad and Gordon were snoozing at the crew quarters when word was flashed at 1:15 a.m. CST to tracking stations that the mission had been "scrubbed" for today. Gemini had been scheduled to lift off at 10:25 a.m. CST, some 97 minutes after an Agena satellite was to be launched aboard an Atlas rocket.

An official said Conrad and Gordon were allowed to slumber on and would be told about the postponement only when they awoke.

The leak was in the tank holding the oxidizer — the substance (nitrogen tetroxide) which combines with the fuel in the engine of the first stage and produces combustion.

A space official said the leak was found during "regular checks" of the first stage after propellant loading was finished. Technicians using small instruments called "sniffers" detected the escaping vapor at a point in the welded seam of the rocket's "skin" about five feet from the top of the first stage.

The leak was in the tank holding the oxidizer — the substance (nitrogen tetroxide) which combines with the fuel in the engine of the first stage and produces combustion.

A pathologist declared the cause of death to be pneumothorax (a crushed chest).

Homicide police Sgt. Myron Portlow, told the Pampa Daily News today that police now know Kucker was run down by a car, "at least three times," and was not beaten as first believed.

"Our hit and run specialist, Sgt. Ed Shreve, said that Kucker was struck by an old model car at least three times," Portlow said.

Portlow said Kucker had burn marks on his body which would indicate he was standing close to the vehicle when he was struck the first time.

FBI agents, who entered the case when it was learned Kucker was killed on a parking lot now owned by the government, had no comment other than that they were continuing the investigation and checking out leads.

Sgt. Portlow said two women postal employees on their way to breakfast, found Kucker's body about 3:20 a.m. Thursday and he was still alive but died before an ambulance could reach the scene.

Site of the murder is only two blocks from the hotel where Kucker was staying.

Portlow said police had been able to piece together the following after talking to several persons who had seen Kucker before the murder.

"He checked into his hotel about 8 p.m. Wednesday, left about 8:30 p.m. and went to a bar several blocks from the hotel. He left the bar (and police do not know where he went)

Brain Tumor Would Have Caused Whitman to Die Within a Year

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Mass slayer Charles J. Whitman Jr. suffered from a brain tumor that would have killed him within a year, a group of medical experts disclosed Thursday.

But the blue-ribbon panel of 32 psychologists and psychiatrists, and other medical specialists said the tumor was only a secondary reason for Whitman's Aug. 1 reign of terror.

The report, given to Gov. John B. Connally, said it was impossible to make an exact formal psychiatric diagnosis without a "recent psychiatric evaluation of Whitman himself."

"Its (the tumor's) rapid growth that would probably have become very important at the end of his life," said Dr. Harry M. Zimmerman, chief of the Montefiore Hospital laboratory division, New York.

"But at the time of the action (the slayings) it conceivably would have been a secondary influence and not primary influence."

It was said the tumor had probably not been evident for more than three or four months, but that it had grown rapidly, causing the committee to conclude that Whitman would have died in about a year.

The report said Whitman experienced "stress essentially in increasing personal and psychological isolation and had done so for years."

"Charles J. Whitman experienced profound personal dissatisfaction.

"His inner image of himself seems to have been poorly formulated, resulting in a deep sense of unrest. Charles J. Whitman was prone to impulsive action and loss of control at times, not always adhering to the expectations of the group to which he belonged."

Election Parade Is Held Despite Cong Terrorists

SAIGON (UPI) — Vietnamese and U.S. military police ringed the American Embassy with barbed wire and troops today against a mounting wave of Viet Cong terrorism. But tonight Saigon ignored the terror and staged a torchlight election parade led by a raven-haired beauty and a dragon-headed youth.

Government police broke up an attempted march on the embassy today by anti-government Buddhist monks but it was the Viet Cong that led to special security precautions and curfews aimed at preventing American casualties.

The latest terror attack came tonight in Cam Tho where the Viet Cong hurled a hand grenade into a crowd of children listening to a sound truck appealing for votes in Sunday's election of a constituent assembly. One child was killed and seven wounded in the attack only a block from the Mekong Delta military headquarters.

Despite the terror, thousands of men, women and children crowded the central market square in Saigon tonight — the springtime site of Buddhist-led riots — for the parades, the blaring bands, the orators and the sight of the girl with the flowing black hair.

Black Power Leader Charged With Inciting Atlanta Rioting

ATLANTA (UPI) — Stokely Carmichael, the controversial "black power" leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), was jailed Thursday night on a charge of inciting a riot of 1,000 Negroes in a slum district.

Held on $10,500 bond, Carmichael was to appear in municipal court today for a preliminary hearing. He also was charged with creating a disturbance.

Officials had said earlier they considered, but rejected, the possibility of bringing insurrection charges against Carmichael. Insurrection is punishable by death in Georgia.

Inciting a riot is a misdemeanor carrying a maximum penalty of one year's imprisonment upon conviction.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. had accused Carmichael and SNCC of instigating the riot Tuesday by hiring a sound truck that broadcast a distorted version of the wounding of a Negro car

PROP STOP — Senator John G. Tower, Rep. steps to the microphone following an introduction by his Gray County campaign chairman, Bill Arrington, this morning at Perry LeFors Airport. In a 30-minute stop, one of 23 planned this weekend, Tower touched on issues pending in the next session of congress.

Tower Makes Brief Stop Here

By DORIS E. WILSON and KEN LEACH
In a brief pop-stop this morning at Perry LeFors Airport, U.S. Senator John G. Tower, Rep. making a bid for a second term senatorial seat in Congress, touched briefly on a few of the vital issues pending in the next session of congress.

"This is a great section of the country," Tower told the crowd of approximately 150 standing on the airport tarmac. "But we are in the early stages of a government that is going to take many of our liberties away from us."

"Inflation," he continued, "is not the fault of the American citizen, the housewife, or the farmer. The high interest rate, inflation, this fiscal insanity is the result of an orgy of unprecedented deficit spending."

"Inflation occurs because the federal government operates in the red."

In commenting on the war in Viet Nam, Tower said, "We are there because the communists are mounting a highly aggressive war against small countries. We must support the President in his objectives to guarantee peace in South Viet Nam."

Tower expressed impatience with those who criticize the policy in Viet Nam. "These boys deserve all the support we can give them."

Touching briefly on the Taft-Hartley Right to Work Law, Tower said, "The battle is not over and I will continue to bat

Conrad Doing Pretty Well For An Astronaut 'Reject'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—For a man turned down on his first try to become an astronaut, Charles (Pete) Conrad, Jr., is doing pretty well.

Before setting out on the three-day voyage of Gemini 11, the 36-year old Navy commander had logged more time in orbit than all but three of the world's spacemen.

And he stood a good chance of making an early flight to the moon.

But seven years ago when Pete Conrad offered his services as an astronaut in the nation's first man-in-space venture, Project Mercury, he was turned down.

"I'm a retreat from the Mercury program," Conrad once said. "I didn't make it the first time around. I guess I just didn't have enough experience."

He didn't take "no" for an answer and in September, 1962, Conrad was among nine pilots selected for America's second manned step in space—Project Gemini.

Less than three years later, in August 1965, he was circling the globe for eight days as copilot to Gordon Cooper in the Gemini 5 spacecraft. Or as Conrad later put it: "My log shows seven days, 22 hours and 59 minutes and 15 1/2 seconds."

Conrad and Gordon are alike in personality—both are talkative, outgoing and possess a sharp wit.

They are also alike physically. Conrad is 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall and Gordon is five-sevens. Both are in top shape and both expected their flying weight to be about 155 to 160 pounds.

And both are family men: They have 10 children between them. Pete and Jane Conrad's four boys—Peter, 11, Thomas, 9, Andrew, 8, and Christopher, 5—became well known during the flight of Gemini 5 for their hi-jinks around the maze of television equipment set up in front of the Conrad home.

Home Broker Warns Vandals

Vandalism to vacant FHA-owned homes in the North Crest addition is reaching alarming proportions, according to A. T. Dunham, FHA management broker.

"Since April we have replaced approximately $1,000 in glass breakage. On one home alone, we have spent $200 in replacing broken windows," Dunham said.

"What people do not realize, this is federal property and the FBI can be called into investigate the vandalism if it does not subside. This is a federal offense and is causing unnecessary expense to taxpayers."

The local FHA management office will appreciate receiving information from anyone who has any knowledge of the breakages.

HOPES FOR PEACE

TOKYO (UPI)—Prime Minister Eisaku Sato expressed hope Thursday that North Viet Nam would agree to a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam war.

He also voiced satisfaction during a luncheon speech over the recent agreement ending Indonesia's military confrontation with Malaysia.

State Water Board Winds Up Hearings

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Texas' $4 million plan to take care of the state's water needs through the year 2020 was explained today in the final of a summer-long series of hearings.

The plan has come in for heavy criticism most places, including Lubbock June 17 at an earlier hearing. But protests were not expected to be so vigorous today.

"Most of the people who have complaints have already testified, either at the first Lubbock hearing or other places," said Joe Moore, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board.

In an Aug. 24 hearing at Amarillo, West Texas and the Panhandle registered a protest that their area had been relatively overlooked in the statewide plan for future water needs. Board members were asked to give further study and re-evaluate plans for West Texas in the 2020 water project.

Moore, who has led presentations of the plan at most of the basin hearings across the state, said reaction to the plan has been surprising.

Indian Pow Wow Sunday

Members of the Southwest Indian Organization will powwow in the Gray County Court House at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Chief Marland Hays stated that members who wish to file for land under the 1887 Indian Lands Law should take a copy of eligibility papers to the meeting.

Under the 1887 law Indians and their descendants could file for government lands, Hays said.

He estimated there are many persons in the surrounding area eligible to file a claim under the law. The local organization furnishes assistance in tracing down Indian ancestry, Hays stated.

Mail Handlers Shy Away From Package That Ticks

Employees who handle the mail at the Santa Fe Ry depot in Pampa had a case of the big litters last night when they ran across a "ticking package" among mail scheduled to go aboard the east-bound Santa Fe Chief at 8:30 p.m.

Was it a bomb? That's the first question that popped into their minds.

A Santa Fe depot employee called the post office. Mrs. J. B. Blakemore, a night postal clerk, relayed the information to Postmaster Lynn Boyd at home.

Postmaster Boyd called the sheriff's department and Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Bowers joined Boyd on a hurry up trip to the Santa Fe station.

By this time a curious crowd had collected around the suspicious package. The sender's name was on the package.

A quick call to the home of the sender failed to turn up the person who had wrapped the package, but authorities were informed that "certainly there was nothing dangerous in it."

But the railway clerks were not about to put the package aboard the Chief until the contents had been verified.

Deputy Sheriff Bowers decided to open the package to make sure.

What did he find inside? Not an alarm clock, but an electric shaver polisher. The battery-operated switch on the polisher somehow had been switched on and it was whirring perfectly, just as the guarantee promised.

It was later learned the package had been sent to Mark Falkenstein, son of Dr. R. D. Falkenstein, 1206 Mary Ellen. Young Falkenstein is away at college and the space age electric shoe polisher was a mailed gift that just naturally is a must for any sartorially correct college man.

Tower

in our public schools. "If this is the case," Tower said, "then it will not be allowed to have a chaplain say a prayer for a dying soldier or a prayer to open the congressional session of the United States."

Texas' first Republican senator since 1870 plans to make appearances in 23 cities during the next 48 hours. His next scheduled stop after leaving Pampa, was at Borger.

Stepping out of the plane with his attractive wife, Lou, on his arm, the senator was given the gold carpet treatment by the gold-coated Top O' Texans Club. The gold carpet was a few seconds late in being rolled out, when the senator's plane arrived slightly ahead of the press plane.

After a round of handshakes, Tower was escorted to a podium and introduced by Bill Arrington, his Gray County campaign chairman.

Dignitaries attending the early morning political rally were Bob Price, Republican candidate for congressman from the 18th District and Maulouf Abraham of Canadian, Republican candidate for state representative from the 84th District.

Pampan's Sister

It is a pretty safe guess where Mrs. Judy Wieser, fifth grade teacher at Baker School, will be during the telecasting of the Miss America Pageant tomorrow night.

She will be in front of her television set.

Why? Her sister, Miss Jane Jayroe will be representing Oklahoma as "Miss Oklahoma" in the New Jersey pageant.

Mrs. Wieser is the wife of Don Wieser, Pampa High School coach and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jayroe of Lawrence, Okla.

Mrs. Wieser, new to the Pampa School system this year, took over the fifth grade classroom of Otto Mangold, who is now teaching in Pampa Junior High School.

TARC Director To Speak Here

David B. Sloan of Austin, p.m. in the educational building executive director of the Texas Association for Retarded Children. Sloan will discuss plans for summer camps for retarded children. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Sermon highlights will be "The nearness of God gives the individual spiritual strength to prevent his succumbing to temptation; God's nearness is conducive to proper worship; God's nearness strengthens ties of fellowship among God's children; God's nearness engenders peace and happiness.

The Sunday evening topic "Saying No To God," will dwell on the outright rejection of God by men, both collectively and individually. Scripture reference will be from I Sam. 10:19.

The horse was man's fastest means of transportation until the invention of the locomotive.

General officers for the Sunday Bible Study and Training Union were elected Wednesday night by the Calvary Baptist Church, 824 S. Barnes. Gene Curtis was elected Sunday School superintendent. The Training Union groups meet at 6 p.m. on Sunday.

G. L. Nat Lunsford was elected to lead the church music program. Lunsford will be in charge of all choirs and worship service music. His election followed the resignation of Bobby L. Jones, of Amarillo, who has held this position during the past year.

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too... Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speaker-phone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

THE HOLY SPIRIT HIS WORK AMONG MEN

Leads:
"For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God." Rom. 8:14.

Teaches:
"But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you." John 14:26.

Sanctifies:
"And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God." I Corin. 6:11.

Bears Witness:
"The Spirit iteself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." Rom. 8:16.

Speaks:
"Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils." I Tim. 4:1.

Quickens:
"It is spirit that quickeneth; the flash profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. John 6:63.

Makes Free:
"For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." Rom. 8:2.

Helps Infirmities:
"Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities; for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered." Rom. 8:26.

Gives Life:
"Not that we are sufficient of ourselves; but our sufficiency of God; who also hath made us able ministers of the testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit; for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life." II Corin. 3:5 & 6.

Convicts:
"And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: Of sin, because they believe not on me; John 16:8, 9.

Dear Abby....

Reader With 'Sticky Fingers' Needs Help

DEAR ABBY: I have a rather sticky problem. Sticky fingers. I "collect" books. I am a college graduate and my hobby is reading, so I spend a lot of time browsing in book stores.

I usually buy a book or two, then walk out with another (unpaid for) under my arm.

I can well afford to buy the books I pick up, so I can't lay the blame on need. Nor can I say I take them for "kicks," because I take the type of books

I enjoy. Zen, psychology and the classics.

Suggesting professional help would be useless for I am only slightly embarrassed by this tendency, but I would not like to get caught. What to do?

"STICKY FINGERS" IN S.F.

DEAR STICKY: Since you yourself have ruled out kleptomania, you appear to be a confessed petty thief. And since you enjoy reading, "pick up" (and pay for!) a psychology book and learn something of "unconscious motivations and masochism."

Some people steal because they have an unconscious de-

Manhattan Stores Disappoint Wee Alice in Wonderland Artist

By AILEEN SNODDY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — A latter-day Alice in Wonderland came to this city of imposing steel- and glass-lined canyons and said she was disappointed. With her 8-year-old feet swinging off the floor while she sat primly on a modern couch, Susan Whitney explained she "expected real fancy shops where I could go in and buy interesting things."

Obviously on her first trip to Manhattan, the stores offered few things new compared to those she sees on visits with her mother to shops in Corning, N. Y. Or perhaps she was shopping with the critical eye of a shrewd designer.

For Miss Whitney is one, if not the youngest, designer of sires to be caught and punished. And eventually they are

DEAR ABBY: According to a well-known marriage counselor, 90 per cent of all divorces start in the bedroom. Would you say this was true?

CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: Which bedroom?

DEAR ABBY: I usually side with you, but when you say it's all right for a pregnant woman to stand in the front row of a choir, that's where I draw the line.

After all, let's have a little respect for a crowd of mixed sexes. It is embarrassing to see a pregnant woman, flaunting her condition. Sure, I have two kids, but I didn't go out and throw myself at people and force them to look at me.

Whoever says a pregnant woman is "beautiful" is a liar, and you know it. Let's be realistic about this and admit the truth.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: All right, let's be realistic. Everyone on this earth got here via the same route — a pregnant woman. So why the embarrassment? "Beauty," they say, "lies in the eye of the beholder." And to many, a pregnant woman is indeed beautiful.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something to people who bring their wedding gifts to the church when they come for the wedding. Invitations are sent out three weeks before the wedding, which is plenty of time to buy a gift and have it delivered to the bride's home.

My daughter was recently married in a beautiful big church wedding, and she sent 400 invitations. About 200 guests brought their gifts to the church. Now, Abby, there is no time between the ceremony, dinner and reception for a bride to open 200 gifts.

And afterwards she leaves immediately for her honeymoon. So that leaves all those gifts unopened and unacknowledged. And the people who bring their gifts to the church are the first to complain because they weren't thanked soon enough.

Self Discipline, By Whom?

President Johnson unbundled himself in the three-day jaunt into New England. He talked about the dangers of excess, in our cities, excess decay; in our streets, excess violence; in our economy, excess indifference to the public interest.

"In each, the answer is voluntary self-discipline."

Then he proposed: "Unless there is restraint now, unless there is voluntary self-discipline by management and labor, your government will be compelled by sheer necessity to act in order to protect all of the people."

In the background to this threat of course, was the recent airplane strike and defiance of the President by the machinists' union. Also in the background was the recent report about a "study" showing we'd need 750,000 troops in South Viet Nam, and the war would last seven years. The President denied the "study," yet there was good evidence that it was made. Also in the background is the real danger of inflation, the Federal Reserve Board's raising of interest rates, and the tight money situation which sent the stock market into its steepest plunge in two years.

Most of us recognize the seriousness of the problems President Johnson cites. We're feeling the results of inflation every time we buy some groceries. We're becoming disappointed in the government's optimistic reports of winning the war in Viet Nam only to awaken to the sad fact that the enemy infiltrated more men and materials and is stronger than ever before.

We remember President Johnson telling us that this country is rich and strong enough to fight the war in Viet Nam and fight the war on poverty, to furnish money needed for all kinds of experimental federal help to schools, to increase unemployment benefits and welfare payments, to feed to world, win in the space age

Kin Often Lose Their GI Benefits

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—There are many heart-wringing stories of widows living in want unable to claim Veterans Dependency and Indemnity Compensation because they cannot prove their husbands died of a disease or injury incurred or aggravated in line of military duty.

Go visit a Washington office of any one of the major veterans service organizations — The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Red Cross, American Veterans of World War II and Korea, Retired Officers Association or any one of a dozen others. You will see files of such unfortunate cases.

There are many cases also of veterans themselves who do not receive compensation because they're unable to prove their disabilities were service-connected or aggravated. There are others who do not receive the full amount due them.

Yet in many instances this need not be so.

One problem is that many disabilities incurred or aggravated in service seem small at the time. The serviceman is young and strong. He usually underestimates the seriousness of the disability. He leaves service and his disability may not flare up seriously for five, 10 or 15 years or more. Then suddenly he has a strong recurrence and dies.

Then his survivors may have real problems: —His widow may not be able to prove a connection between his wartime disability and what he died of, even though the ailment may be the same. To prove a connection to the satisfaction of the Veterans Administration she must show there has been some sort of continuity over the years. That is, she must show this same complaint continued during the years or flared up from time to time over the period between her husband's military service and his death.

—There may be no complete military records in existence today of the veteran's wartime medical problems and medical treatment. In some cases, unit records were lost in the heat of battle, or lost when the ship carrying records home was sunk.

In some cases, a GI or officer would go or be taken to a nearby medical unit — not the medical unit of his own outfit. Though that record of treatment might still be in existence, buried in tons of files, there might be no official way to find it unless the widow happens to know what medical unit it was.

—Even the records of the family doctor may be lost after a span of years. A doctor gets old and retires. After his death, someone may destroy his files.

Talk to the men in the veterans service organizations who work day in and day out on the cases of men disabled in service from illness or injury. They are emphatic in their recommendation:

1—Every serviceman and veteran should keep a diary both while in service and after.

That diary can be simple. It should record each time he goes for medical treatment in service and out. It should list the medical unit or doctor's name, the date and his own medical complaints at the time, regardless of how minor or unrelated they seem. There are connections a doctor can determine from a history of even minor complaints.

2—Every serviceman should keep some record of those men in his unit who were close to him and knew his problems, men who saw him wounded or otherwise knew about his problems at the time, anyone who might remember things first-hand and be a witness.

3—A serviceman with a disability should request in writing that he go before a physical evaluation board on going out of service.

If he does not agree with the board's evaluation he may write a dissenting opinion. Then the case will go to a physical review council. It's important to get such evaluations in the record.

4—Every serviceman's wife should keep permanently a file of letters which he has written home remarking on his illnesses or injuries.

These records make a world of difference.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

If you want further proof that mankind is lazy, consider the reason the musket replaced the English longbow. For 200 years after it was "phased out," of the English army, it was superior to the firearm that replaced it. A bowman could shoot faster than a fellow shooting a musket. The range of 400 yards was greater than the 20 yards of the musket. It was cheaper to make and use. The main reason for muskets taking over was an affluent society. The English no longer engaged in archery and were unable to supply troops who cared to learn the intricacies of shooting a longbow. They settled for something less effective, but easier to handle—firearms. That sociological development changed the course of history.

Today's smile: An indignant mother wrote to her son's teacher: "Dear Miss Jones: You must not hit my son, Johnny. He's a delicate child. We never hit him at home except in self-defense."

The cost of medical care is increasing everywhere. In darkest Africa many of the leading witch doctors have boosted their fees for office visits from $1.75 to $3. Really! . . . Computers are not inimitable. A Florida high school teacher ordered copies of a textbook for 18 students in a particular class. Soon afterward he received 1800 copies of the book and a bill for $10,000 . . . There should be no trouble for pedestrians in the future when crossing busy intersections. A Texas firm has developed a new kind of traffic signal that flashed numbers in the amber light showing how many seconds are left before the light turns red.

Thoughts while shaving: Perhaps the only dog in the world to be honored by a government is a German shepherd dog in Finland. It was recently awarded more than $2000 worth of dog food. The talented mutt locates ore deposits through its keen sense of smell. Despite what some doctors tell you, your reactions do not slow down until after you've passed the age of 60. At that age you're getting old anyhow so it shouldn't matter too much if you're no longer good in the sprints and must resort to the longer distances . . . Fishing is beginning to suffer the first pains of automation. The latest thing for the angler is a three-speed electric spinning reel — guaranteed to help you land the big ones . . . You can rent anything these days, including engineers. There are many agencies around the country who employ all types of engineers on a fixed salary. If some manufacturer or contractor has a crash project that needs certain types of engineers, they can hire from one to 1000 of them by making a single phone call . . . Cribbing in college and high school exams is becoming more sophisticated. Many of the most artful cribbers use two-way pocket radios to get outside help in answering the questions . . . The Lawton (Oklahoma) MORNING PRESS reported in a story: "They attempted to raise money for an indignant family." If they felt indignant about it, the money-raisers should have sent them to a loan shark.

Country Editor speaking: "All problems would be solved if it was as easy to find solutions as it is to find faults."

Question Box

QUESTION: "Your newspaper is often termed a 'conservative' newspaper, but you term yours a 'libertarian newspaper.' Is there a distinction between the general doctrine of American conservatism and your brand of libertarianism? What is the difference between a libertarian of the 'right' and a libertarian of the 'left'?"

ANSWER: The questions point up the difficulty of attaching a label to a person or organization, and the misuse of such labels.

The News has attempted to point out that it believes in freedom of all individuals. Freedom means self-control, and self-responsibility. Perhaps its belief in a single standard of right might be classified with classic liberalism in which there was belief in individual liberty as opposed to government responsibility for individuals.

In comparatively recent times, persons who advocate collectivism as opposed to individualism have distorted the meaning of liberalism, implying that a liberal is one who is in favor of more government control over the lives of individuals instead of less. Many of those who opposed the changes sought by the pseudo-liberals call themselves conservatives.

The difficulty of many conservatives is that they do not truly believe in individual liberty, but want only a limited amount. We do not believe liberty (freedom) can be limited, although it may be infringed by those who fear self-responsibility. If a person calls himself conservative and would deny liberty (self-control), he differs from true liberals or libertarians.

The designations of "left" and "right" are also not satisfactory. Originally, in some European parliaments, the conservatives, who defended the government's actions, sat on the right, and the liberals, who opposed government's actions, sat on the left. We suspect few are truly believers in individual freedom in its total concept of self-responsibility.

In our view, a libertarian (one who believes in freedom) is neither "left" nor "right." In the present-day context, those on the "left" generally favor more governmental restrictions on the individual, but favor fewer restrictions on their own actions. Those on the "right" generally favor fewer restrictions, but want some controls exercised against "the other guys."

F. W. Robertson once put it: "False notions of liberty are strangely common. People talk of it as if it meant the liberty of doing whatever one likes—whereas the only liberty that a man, worthy of the name of man, ought to ask for, is, to have all restrictions, inward and outward, removed that prevent his doing what he ought." (Quoted in the New Dictionary of Thought, 1957).

Is God Dead?—Part III
Reckon it is the will of God that we have a church hierarchy and that we must bear the burden?

Having already "killed" God, Union Theological Seminary professor and Methodist Communist Harry F. Ward shouted "Capitalism is dead" many years ago.

Levis O. Hartman, an editor of the Methodist publication Zion's Herald, wrote that ". . . ideals of social justice and fair play, and the ultimate goal of human brotherhood, the Marxist theory has many similarities to Christian teachings" and "Soviet Russia constitutes the greatest social experiment in the history of the world. Never before in the life of mankind has there been an attempt on so vast a scale to equalize opportunity and to promote genuine brotherhood of man."

Naturally, the Methodists, after this, made Hartman a Bishop.

In 1888 the great and good Philip Schaff, head of the then great and good Union Theological Seminary, wrote: "Republican institutions in the hands of a virtuous and God-fearing nation are the very best in the world, but in the hands of corrupt and irreligious people they are the very worst, and the most effective weapon of destruction. An indignant people may rise in rebellion against a cruel tyrant; but who will rise against the tyranny of the people in possession of the ballot box and the whole machinery of government? Here lies our great danger, and it is increasing every day. Destroy our churches, close our Sunday Schools, abolish the Lord's Day, and our Republic would become an empty shell, and our people would tend to heathenism and barbarism. Christianity is the most powerful factor in our society and the pillar of our institutions. It regulates the family; it enjoins private and public virtue; it builds up moral character; it teaches us to love God supremely, and our neighbor as ourselves; it makes good men and useful citizens; it denounces every vice; it encourages every virtue; it promotes and serves the public welfare; it upholds peace and order. Christianity is the only possible religion for the American people, and with Christianity are bound up all our hopes for the future."

"God is dead," Nietzsche said it first — never-married Nietzsche, who "lived" (in a Biblical sense) with his own sister

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Parkinson's Disease Seen In Shaking Extremities
Q—Is the shaking of Parkinson's disease ever limited to the foot?
A—This disease often starts in one leg or the fingers, on one hand then progresses to involve both sides. There may also be shaking of the head. By conscious effort the shaking in one limb can sometimes be controlled for a few seconds but this may be accompanied by an increased shaking on the opposite side. The shaking ceases during sleep.

Q—Is Parkinson's disease inherited?
A—Although the evidence for this is inconclusive, about 6 per cent of the victims are closely related to persons who had this disease.

Q—My husband has cerebral palsy. Our doctor says it started in his childhood. He is now in his late 50s and is still able to do a full day's work. How long will this disease progress?
A—The term "cerebral palsy" is applied to the motor nerves (those that control voluntary movement as opposed to sensory nerves). These diseases usually start in childhood but the exact time when the damage occurred is often hard to determine. The severity varies widely but, as a general rule, the disease does not progress.

Q—My doctor says I have pseudobulbar palsy. He advises retirement but no medicine. What causes it and what treatment do you advise?
A—In this disease there is damage to the brain centers that control the motor nerves. It is usually caused by a blood clot in a small artery and is seen in persons with advanced hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. The onset is gradual with spells of dizziness that clear up in a few hours and recur at irregular intervals.

Your doctor's advice is sound. The treatment is usually directed toward lowering the blood pressure and slowing the progress of the disease insofar as possible. Because one of the most troublesome symptoms is choking when attempting to swallow food, the victim may avoid eating and suffer a marked loss of weight. The danger of choking is lessened if the victim eats pureed foods.

Q—If 40 per cent of a person's liver is damaged, can that portion of the liver be removed?
A—In most liver diseases the damage is distributed throughout the organ—not walled off at one pole of the liver. It would not be possible to remove the diseased portion surgically.

Fred — Don't you and your wife ever have a difference of opinion?
Frank — Sure we do — but I don't tell her.

Mary — But you said she sang beautifully.
Tom — No, I didn't.
Mary — What did you say?
Tom — I said she was a beautiful singer.

age of political glorification of the common man, of mediocrity, and of the masses and the opinions of the masses, it must not be forgotten that if there had been only common men down through the ages we would still be living as savages . . . Progress will be slowed to whatever extent the demands of the common man are allowed to rob the uncommon man of the opportunity to generate progress."

Five Teams Have Chance to Win in Southwest League

EDITORS: This is another in a series on the 1966 prospects of the college football teams.

By ED FITE
DALLAS (UPI) — Sophomores will abound in the Southwest Conference this season, but observers generally feel that the caliber of play will be on the upgrade and that any one of five teams could win.

Defending champion Arkansas, unbeaten now in 16 straight league games and whose only blot over the past 23 games was last New Year's upset loss to Louisiana State, is the solid choice of the experts to win an unprecedented third successive title.

But Texas, Baylor and Texas Christian have strong backing and even snakebit Southern Methodist is being eyed warily as a frisky dark horse.

Among the scant few independents, the University of Houston appears better and Texas Western seems to have a better chance this year than last when Billy Stevens threw them into a Sun Bowl victory over TCU.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, who didn't have a sophomore in his starting lineup a year ago, says he will have "five to seven this time, more than in a long time." Most of these will be on defense.

Offensively, Broyles has back Jon Brittenum, whom his coach calls "the most complete quarterback we've had here," and Lighthorse Harry Jones, labeled by many as the top running back in the conference.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas, whose 6-4 won-loss record last year was his worst at Texas, will probably be the most dependent on sophomores.

One in particular — Bill Bradley at quarterback — must come through.

But, there may be as many as a dozen first-year hands on the two Texas platoons to keep the Longhorns a big question mark until they are properly seasoned.

Prepsters Open Season Tonight

By United Press International
Defending state Class A champion Willis Point will find out early if the Tigers are going to have a loud enough roar to make a run at another Texas high school football championship.

Their clash with Quitman, which has moved up to the AA ranks with 13 lettermen back, will be one of the highlight games among the 164 involving Class A teams on this Friday night's season-opening schedule.

Coach Ken Davis' Tigers generally are rated not much more than an even bet to get outside their own district this season since there are only two starters among the 11 lettermen from the undefeated 1965 titlist.

Several other pre-season Class A favorites also will be tackling AA opposition opening week.

The White Deer Bucks, who lost 14-0 to Willis Point in the finals and rated as one of the main contenders to go all the way this fall with seven offensive and five defensive regulars back, will host Boys Ranch.

In other area games Wheeler hosts Lefors, Miami plays at Canadian, Groom journeys to Vega and Shamrock hosts McLean.

And, the Forney Jackrabbits, boasting 20 lettermen from last year's quarterfinalist outfit, will entertain AA Seagoville.

Sonora, another well-liked team, hosts always-rugged Balingier, a district favorite in the AA ranks; Rotan visits AA Hamlin, another perennial power, and Goldthwaite opens against San Saba.

Pampa-Perryton Duel In Grid Opener Tonite

Harvesters 6-Point Favorite in Contest

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor
Pampa hopes to get off the launching pad at 7:30 o'clock tonight against Perryton in what Harvester grid followers hope will be the first step in a shot to the moon.

Launching pad is Harvester field where a packed house is expected to watch Col. Eural Ramsey and his astronauts revenge a 27-8 upset handed them by the Rangers last season.

Doing the pass receiving at ends will be James Matney, a 185-pound senior and David Martindale, also a senior at 160-pounds.

The tackles for the opener are 206-pound captain Doc Cornutt and Bobby Wilson, a 16-year-old, 195-pound junior.

Starting at guards on offense Ramsey will go to the air with Jack Williamson, a rough 190-pound senior and Billy Scribner, another senior at 190.

Center is Glen Lewis, 203-pounds of muscle who played tackle last year.

Playing in the field generally slot at quarterback is senior Gary Hyatt, a 165-pounder and the fullback is 198-pounder Ted Heiskell, who has recovered completely from a knee operation.

Halfbacks will be Gary McCarrell, 175-pound senior and L. D. Rowden, a 6'0 senior at 190-pounds.

If this backfield has trouble getting off the ground Ramsey can substitute with Sherman Mitchell, a speedster senior at 165 and Dickie Henley, a junior who weighs in at 150, or David Schaub, a junior at 159.

The only changes on defense will have Terry Troxel, a 166-pound, senior in the line and either Heiskell or David Smith, a 189-pounder.

The enemy will line up with two starters back at end in Jim Gobin, a 160-pound senior and Gary Lockwood, 185-pound senior.

TEMPERS FLARING Majors Take Night Off

By United Press International
The Pittsburgh Pirates, who have had their share of incidents, lead the league by 1/2 game and are seeing their pursuers beset with troubles.

It took Thursday's off day to heal the wounds—physical and mental—of the runnerup San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers.

Willie Mays has a pulled groin muscle, but it didn't appear to have hampered him Wednesday night when he scored from first on a single to help the Giants beat the Dodgers; Sandy Koufax has an ailing arm that gets more painful; and Maury Wills and Tommy Davis had overheated tempers.

Wills and teammate Tommy Davis had a brief disagreement in Wednesday night's game against the Giants, and for a moment the Dodgers lost their composure.

It all started when Wills held up two fingers to indicate there were two out in the eighth. Davis failed to acknowledge Wills' signal.

When the Dodgers got to the dugout to take their turn at bat, the pair exchanged words. The argument grew heated and other players pulled them away to prevent the pair from coming to blows.

Rambling With Red

Since the weekly Staff Selection doesn't start on this page until next week we thought it might be a good thing to give the opposition an idea as to what they can expect this year in the way of competition.

Last year we had the help of Major Hoople's crystal ball but will do without the old rascal's help this season. Thank goodness.

So, Bill Power and Chico Ramirez take a gander at these and see if you don't think your first and second place finishes last year are in danger.

AMARILLO 16, ODESSA 7—The Sandies are strong, possibly even stronger than last year while Odessa plays second fiddle to Permian.

BORGER 14, LAWTON, OKLA. 0—If the boys from across the Red River were well we'd have to go with them. But even the Oklahoma officials can't win this one for Lawton.

EL PASO BURGESS 10, CAPROCK 6—This is a rebuilding year for the Longhorns and against Burgess they'll be lucky to score.

MONTEREY 31, CORONADO 0—Coronado joins 3-4A for the first time and old-timer Monterey can do just about anything they want.

PAMPA 27, PERRYTON 0—The Harvesters are tough all over and simply have too much power for the lighter Rangers.

LUBBOCK 7, MIDLAND LEE 6—This could go either way but Lubbock gets the edge because they play in a stronger conference.

DUMAS 21, PALO DURO 10—The Demons haven't changed. They are still tough.

PLAINVIEW 16, LITTLEFIELD 7—The Bulldogs are on the road back and this is just the first step.

ODESSA PERMIAN 14, TASCOSA 7—Should be one of the better games of the year. The Rebels don't have enough horses to beat Gene Mayfield and company.

WHITE DEER 40, BOYS RANCH 0—A mismatch if we ever saw one. Boys Ranch will be lucky to get out of this one alive.

CANADIAN 17, MIAMI 8—The Wildcats have too much offense for the Warriors. But Miami will make themselves be heard.

WHEELER 14, LEFORS 13—An upset could happen here. The Pirates want to win badly but the Mustangs are loaded.

SHAMROCK 21, McLEAN 7—Colie Huffman is loaded for bear and the Tigers get the first shot.

GROOM 16, VEGA 8—The Tigers had better be careful.

Tennis Semis On Tap Today

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Nancy Richey of Dallas is safely in and today Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and 17-year old Rosemary Casals of San Francisco shoot for places in the semi-finals of the U.S. Tennis Championships.

Graebner is matched against that long-time spoiler of American hopes, Australia's Fred Stolle, who already has dispatched third-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., to the sidelines.

Miss Casals, seeded fifth, plays fourth-seeded Francoise Durr of France.

In the other men's quarter, it's second-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia against Aussie Owen Davidson. This is a chance for Emmo to reverse that freak defeat against his southpaw countryman at Wimbledon when Roy skidded into the umpire's stand and was shaken up so badly he barely finished.

Brazil's Maria Bueno goes against Norma Baylon of Argentina, the winner to play the survivor of the Casals-Durr match in one of Saturday's semi-finals.

Stolle is 2-1 over the 22-year-old Graebner and beat him the last time out at Beckenham, England.

Clay Confident Speed Will Tell

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Cassius Clay was confident today that his superior speed and reach would overcome any trouble with Karl Mildenberger's southpaw style in their heavyweight title fight Saturday night.

The 24-year-old undefeated champion will make his fourth title defense this year against West Germany's Mildenberger.

It was learned by United Press International that contracts already have been signed to send Clay, if he is successful here, against Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams sometime in November at Houston, Tex.

The 33-year-old Williams has won four fights in succession since recovering from a gunshot wound which almost killed him Nov. 28, 1964.

Another fight reportedly in the works would match Clay against Ernie Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, in December.

A sudden downpour Thursday night raised the hopes of the promoters, who had feared that the summer-like weather would end abruptly on the night of the fight.

It was felt that the rain, which cooled off the hot weather in Frankfurt, came just in time.

seasoned. All-America guard candidate Diron Talbert and linebacker Freddy Edwards will be the only defensive seniors.

At TCU, Coach Abe Martin is in a pleasant quandary. He has two superb backfields—one seasoned and the other all sophomores—and the battle for positions is terrific. And, he has some soph pushing veterans around in the lines, too.

Baylor, without a conference championship for more than three decades, sees one of its best chances on the horizon with the return of passer Terry Southall, a large crop of capable receivers and depth in both lines.

SMU will rely heavily on a sophomore speedster, Jerry Levias. SMU is loaded with talent on the surface. It just doesn't run deep.

There seems little to choose between the Texas Aggies and Texas Tech, but both should be able to keep out of the cellar, which has been relegated to retiring Coach Jess Neely's

Syracuse Looks Like Best of The Independents

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — It'll take a miracle for Dartmouth to retain the Eastern College football championship this fall. Unbeaten in the last 10 games, Dartmouth's Ivy League champs come back with virtually the same talented cast headed by quarterback Mickey Beard but they'll probably have to score another clean sweep to win the Lambert Trophy again.

The Lions, who play only in their own class, normally rate a notch or three below the major independents led this year by Syracuse, Navy and Penn State.

Syracuse Best Bet
Syracuse, 7-3 in 1965, is the best bet to show some improvement. The Orange is led by halfback Floyd Little, who has cracked many of the great Jimmy Brown's Syracuse ball-toting records and rates as a hot All-America candidate.

Little is ably sided by fullback Larry Conka, though Syracuse isn't likely to confuse anyone by passing.

Army, Penn State and Pittsburgh all have new coaches and numerous problems. Navy, in the second season for coach Bill Elias, figures to better its 4-4-2 record, maybe by enough to make a good run with Syracuse for the Lambert mug.

A game-breaker in Little, who scored 19 touchdowns last year, led the nation.

Jo Paterno, a long-time assistant, replaced the retired Rip Engle as coach at Penn State and inherited problems only a good crop of sophomores can cure.

Good Navy Defense
Navy will have another good defensive unit and hopes the offense will come up to the same standard with quarterback John Cartwright and halfback Terry Murray leading the way.

Tom Cahill up from the Army plebe team, runs the show and not much is expected. The offense is even weaker than last year though the defense, led by All-America Pittsburgh strictly is rebuilding and has little hope of coping successfully with a rugged schedule including Notre Dame, UCLA and Miami. Boston College again is big, with a crack fullback in Brendan McCarthy but doesn't rate in Lambert thinking.

Hoy Cross, Colgate and Boston U. all look for some improvement.

Princeton, No. 2 probability this year, lost enough out of the line to start the Tigers thinking about one game at a time instead of setting sights on a title.

Harvard and Cornell are looking for a quarterback, among other things. Penn has quarterback in Bill Creeden but not some of the other things. Yale and Columbia are counting on Sophs and Brown is looking for a quarterback who can improve its 2-7 record.

Amarillo Bounced From TL Playoffs

By United Press International
 Albuquerque's Dodgers whipped Amarillo 10-3 Thursday night to take the best-of-three series with the Sonics and win the right to be in the finals of the Texas League playoffs.

Braves had each won a game in their series.
 Bill Larkin, the Dodgers' 20-game winner in the regular season, stopped the Sonics on seven hits with help from Bill Hoehfert in the sixth.

The rubber game between League Champ Arkansas and Austin was postponed by rain and will be played tonight in Austin.

WAIVE PITCHER
 MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—The Minnesota Twins sent lefthander Garry Roggenburk to the Boston Red Sox Wednesday for the waiver price of $20,000.

Packers, Colts on TV

By United Press International
 Remember when pro football used to be a sport instead of a design to win ratings and sell slick Madison Avenue package designed to win ratings and sell sponsors' products?

elle is eager to gain a foothold on nighttime TV.
 Now that the NFL all but 'owns' Sundays during the last four months of the year, Rozelle now hopes to expand NFL coverage. A smashing victory in the ratings over the Miss America telecast would strengthen Rozelle's position and pave the way for more night football.

The Colts figure that if they could extend Green Bay to sudden death overtime in last year's playoff with Tom Matte at quarterback they can win with Johnny Unitas back in control and Gary Cuozzo backing him up again.

have no trouble with listless Detroit, which has no offense. Los Angeles is a heavy pick over the new Atlanta team with Minnesota rated over San Francisco and St. Louis over Philadelphia by a touchdown and Cleveland sans Jimmy Brown a three-point choice over Washington.

A good example of the new state of affairs comes up Saturday night when the National Football League kicks off its 1966 season with a nationally televised clash from Milwaukee featuring the defending champion Green Bay Packers against the Baltimore Colts.

Seek Fourth Title
 Meanwhile, back at the game, Green Bay will be opening its campaign for its fourth NFL crown in the past six seasons under its taciturn director, Vince Lombardi.

The other six openers will be Sunday afternoon with Dallas, the team to beat in the East, getting the bye.

THREE MORE ENTERED ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Imasmartee, Touloure, Narkos, Paoluccio and Indulto have been entered in the $100,000 United Nations Handicap to increase the starting field to eight, track president Robert P. Levy announced Wednesday.

Unfortunately, these days the important thing seems to be not whether you won or lost but what your Nielsen rating was.

Chicago, the one team that seriously thinks it can beat both Green Bay and Baltimore, opens at Detroit. The suspicion remains that veteran Rudy Bukich and young Gale Sayers won't match last year's performances—but Chicago should coln and Williams could be held either at the Olympic Auditorium or at the Sports Arena and would draw between $80,000 and $100,000.

Clay, who defends his title Saturday against European champion Karl Mildenerger of Germany in Frankfurt, reportedly already has signed a contract to meet Williams in Houston, Tex.

Talk of Ratings
 But most of the talk among NFL officials is not centered on the game itself but on how the game will fare in the ratings against the Miss American contest.

Although the Packers did lose two exhibition games, Lombardi has again put together another one of his well-drilled, disciplined teams built around old pros who still block and tackle like young kids.

She said either contest could be held in Los Angeles sometime next November. And she said she is prepared to guarantee Clay $250,000 plus a percentage of the ancillary rights.

Lincoln, a veteran campaigner originally from Portland, Ore., has twice beaten ranking Thad Spencer and recently scored a pair of wins over Elmer Rush in San Francisco.

It's being billed as the biggest battle of them all—sex vs. football.

There are seven players on the team who've played a decade or more and seven more in their ninth year and they're not ready to relinquish their crown.

Los Angeles (UPI)—Olympic Auditorium promoter Aileen Eaton displayed Thursday night a $25,000 cashier's check made out to "Cassius Clay or Cleveland Williams" as a show of "good faith" in an effort to match either fighter with high-ranking heavyweight Amos (Big Train) Lincoln.

Clay, who defends his title Saturday against European champion Karl Mildenerger of Germany in Frankfurt, reportedly already has signed a contract to meet Williams in Houston, Tex.

For this game is the NFL's "showcase"—invasion of TV's "prime time." Just exactly what is so prime about it may be questionable—but Pete Rozelle

Baltimore, though, is eager and ready to topple the Packers after three galling losses to Green Bay last year.

She said a bout between Lincoln and Williams could be held either at the Olympic Auditorium or at the Sports Arena and would draw between $80,000 and $100,000.
