Catholics Await Bishops Decision On Meat Eating

United Press International
Millions of American Catholics awaited word today from their bishops that it's all right to eat meat on Friday.

The bishops, meeting in closed session here, were expected to give the word by nightfall.

Changes in the 1,100-year-old law of abstinence enjoining Catholics to abstain from meat on Friday were before the U.S. hierarchy for discussion and action at the second day of its annual meeting at Catholic University.

A group of Irish-American prelates, led by Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington, was resisting major modification of the ancient custom, regarded in many Irish families as the hallmark of a true Catholic.

But a majority of the bishops apparently were ready to support Archbishop John P. Cody of Chicago, who argued that the United States should follow the lead of Italy, France, Canada and Mexico, in leaving it up to the individual's conscience whether to do without meat or practice some other form of self-denial on Friday.

In a decree issued last Feb. 17, Pope Paul VI empowered national conferences of bishops to make such modifications in the law of abstinence as they see fit, with a view toward making the practice of penance a voluntary and meaningful act rather than grudging compliance with a law.

This was one of more than 60 delegations of authority made to national hierarchies in pursuance of the Vatican Council's call for a drastic decentralization of power in the church.

In their first session Monday, the 210 U.S. cardinals, archbishops and bishops set up a new organization called "The National Conference of Catholic Bishops" to wield their broadened powers. It will replace the National Catholic Welfare Conference (NCWC), which has served as a secretariat to the U.S. hierarchy since 1919.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, generally regarded as one of the most progressive members of the U.S. hierarchy, was elected by secret ballot to a five-year term as president of the new conference.

Soon after the election, the bishops issued a unanimous statement strongly protesting government welfare programs as tending to coerce poor families into practicing birth control.

Reds Down Helicopters

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist gunners hiding in the jungle today shot down at least three U.S. Army troop-carrying helicopters whirling in for an assault in the largest American operation of the Viet Nam war.

The three choppers—each carries a four-man crew and space for seven troopers—crashed onto the landing zone which had been carved out for them in Operation Attleboro battlefield 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

The losses boosted to at least five the number of American helicopters shot down by the Communists within the past two days. Two Marine helicopters were shot down Monday near the Leatherneck bastion at Da Nang killing three Americans and wounding two.

It was not immediately known how many casualties were suffered in today's crashes. But one helicopter already on the ground whirled back to home base with wounded men and bodies.

The Communist fire shot up from the heavy jungle as helicopters from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division flew 61 sorties carrying men into action.

The losses came as Big Red One troopers began an assault on another sector of the war zone C Communist sanctuary near the Cambodian border. They and other Army units

Youth Honored By Optimists

Pampa Optimist and Sundown Optimist Clubs nominated a high school student for Young Texan of the Month honors and spotlighted 12 junior and senior high students at the Youth Appreciation Banquet last night in Jim's Steakhouse.

Tommy Charles Capps, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fatheree, 818 N. Nelson, was nominated by Pampa Optimist Club for Young Texan of the Month honors.

"Given a 'pat on the back' for leadership and presented a certificate of appreciation were Marsha Jewell and Larry Franklin, seniors; Jennifer Cunningham and Jimmy Cornutt, juniors; Ellen McDaniel and Phil Long, sophomores;

Beth Watson and John Duggan, ninth grade students at Robert E. Lee Junior High School; Angela Cunningham and Jackie Gindorf, ninth grade students at Pampa Junior High School.

Entertainment was provided by members of the Pampa High School A Cappella Choir, who sang a medley of songs from "Here's Love" to be presented Nov. 17 through the 19th in the school auditorium.

Capps, a Pampa High School senior, and member of the Harvester basketball team, is an honor roll student, and has placed high in Pampa's annual Science Fair.

He was president of the Junior Optimist Club in the fifth and sixth grades and vice president of his home room in the seventh and ninth grades.

He was also a member of the Student Body President and was appointed by the American Legion and the Kiwanis for Boys State and made the trip to Austin in June of this year.

Tom is American Field Service Student Advisor to foreign exchange students and a member of the student council.

He is also a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and First Presbyterian Church and is President of the Young Peoples Fellowship.

Youth Appreciation Week is being observed by Optimist Clubs across the nation, Nov. 14-20. It is the 10th annual international observance of Youth Appreciation Week by Optimist Clubs, according to Larry Parsley, president of Pampa Optimist and Marvin Holman, Sundown Optimist president.

The objectives of Youth Appreciation Week are to:

Vessels Defense Counsel Is Paid $865 by County

Defense attorney's fees of $865 were authorized by Gray County Commissioners yesterday in payment to court-appointed attorney James M. Bowers. The fee was payment for eight days' preparation and trial of recently convicted rapist, T. R. Vessels.

Jury fees in the case amounted to $1,348. Atty. John Warner's examining trial fee was $50 and there still were other trial costs to be added such as expenses in serving subpoenas, witness fees, telephone calls, psychiatric fees, the prisoners board bill while in Potter County jail and other miscellaneous costs.

Commissioners approved the employment of Miss Jimmy Lou Wainwright as Gray County Home Demonstration Agent to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Miss Lou Ella Patterson.

Following a canvass of votes cast in the recent Nov. 8 general election commissioners found no change as originally reported in the unofficial tally. Election totals were ordered to become a part of the county clerk's record in Volume 3; pages one through 10, with all candidates duly declared elected to office.

Authorization was ordered for bids to be opened Dec. 1 for the purchase of five new one-half ton pickup trucks and two new two-ton trucks; three pickups for Pct. 1; one pickup and two trucks for Pct. 3 and one pickup truck for Pct. 2.

Commissioners advised that bids would be received Dec. 12 for two new four-wheel drive front-end loaders for Pct. 3 and 4.

Minutemen Head Awaits Sentence

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Convicted of violating the federal Firearms Act, Robert Bolivar DePugh and two leaders of his Minutemen today faced the possibility of having to run the right-wing guerrilla group from a prison cell.

Sentencing was put off pending defense motions for a new trial for the three top Minutemen who were found guilty Monday under a law designed to control the spread of automatic firearms.

On the advice of his attorneys, DePugh was lighted up upon hearing the jury's verdict. But he has said many times that his ultra-rightist secret organization would continue to function if he were jailed.

Astronauts Await Return to Earth

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Astronauts James Lovell and Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin cleared the decks on the misbehaving Gemini 12 spacecraft today for a 1:23 p.m. CST splashdown and a grand finale to America's two-man Gemini series.

A four-ship recovery fleet was waiting in the Atlantic. Lovell and Aldrin were husbanding their dwindling water and fuel and "drifting" in orbit because of failures with four of their eight attitude control rockets.

But the astronauts were chipper and confident. They overcame the problems as just some more in a continual series of equipment bugaboos which cropped up on the four-day flight almost immediately after launch Friday.

Lovell encountered one other problem—more comic than serious. "Every time I try to eat something I'm either getting ready to purge clean out fuel cells, take an upstate or write down something," he complained.

"What are you doing with your left hand?" ground controller Bill Anders quipped. Then, more seriously "We want you to eat, so if you are getting into a bind just drop one of the (scheduled) experiments and get a bite."

In spite of the new problems space officials said the astronauts should be able to nurse the craft through the final hours of the flight.

Gemini 12, the last ship in the project that sent 10 astronaut crews into space, was scheduled to land about 700 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy at 1:23 p.m. CST, after an automatic re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

Weather was good in the target area where four ships—headed by the aircraft carrier Wasp that recovered four earlier Gemini crews—waited for the record-breaking astronauts at the end of their 59th orbit of earth.

Lovell and Aldrin will have zipped more than one million and a half miles through the void—giving the United States a vast lead in overall space travel time—when a device similar to an autopilot brakes their ship

LBJ To Enter Hospital Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With his family gathered around to comfort him, President Johnson enters Bethesda Naval Hospital today to prepare for a dual operation on his throat and abdomen.

The 58-year-old Chief Executive, feeling "very good" after 10 days in the Texas sun, planned to work at his White House desk until late afternoon then motor to the huge naval medical center in suburban Maryland.

On Wednesday morning he is to undergo surgery for removal of a growth, or polyp, in his throat and for repair of an abdominal hernia in the area of the incision for his gall bladder operation 13 months ago at Bethesda.

The President expects to be under anesthesia for less than two hours for the surgery, which his doctors describe as not serious. He is planning on being out of the hospital in "a very few days."

During Johnson's brief period of incapacity, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, by mutual agreement, will make any presidential decisions required. Similar agreements, now in the form of a constitutional amendment being ratified by the states, were in effect between former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy and their vice presidents.

Drivers' License School Scheduled

A Texas Department of Public Safety drivers' license school is scheduled for Pampa Dec. 5, 6 and 7.

The school, to be conducted in cooperation with the Pampa police department and the Gray County sheriff's department, will be held from 7 to 9 o'clock nightly on the three dates in the Gray County Courtroom, second floor of the courthouse.

Instructors in the school will be Sgt. Fred Marshall and Patrolman Dick Burchfield of the Amarillo office of the State Highway Patrol.

The classes each night will be open to anyone desiring to attend but primarily will be for persons who do not have a driver's license and are interested in obtaining one, according to Patrolman Burchfield.

Persons who have failed drivers' license test in the past also are urged to attend the classes. Instructions on what comprises a test and how to meet the driver's license requirements will be given. Burchfield stated, and questions pertinent to the subject will be answered.

Gray County Auto Population Is Above National Averages

Residents of Pampa and Gray County have been buying new cars at a record rate in the last few years, a national survey shows.

Bearing witness to this fact are the large number of late-model cars to be seen on local streets—and the disappearance of many older models.

As a result, car ownership locally is at a high level. So is the proportion of families with two or more cars in their drive-ways.

The steady growth in car ownership reflects the economic gains chalked up in the last few years, locally and in most other areas, and the attendant rise in living standards that these gains have made possible.

The general upsurge in automobile sales is attributed chiefly, in a study made by the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City, to multiple car families. At present, more than eleven million families in the United States, nearly one out of every five, own more than one car.

The sharp increase in the number of car-hungry teen-agers is cited as one reason for the increase. In addition, there is the fact that a greater number of people are living in suburban areas where the car is more of a necessity than in the central.

Altogether, the automobile has had a dynamic effect on the economy as a whole since 1963. The amounts spent for their purchase and their maintenance are huge.

In Gray County, the expenditure in the past year in local service stations alone, for gas, oil, repairs and parts added up to $5,362,000, according to the report.

Dr. Sheppard Murder Case May Be Given To Jury By Nightfall

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Judge Francis J. Talty today overruled a defense motion to discharge the defendant in the Sheppard murder trial, and final arguments were begun with the prospect of the case going to the jury tonight.

Defense counsel F. Lee Bailey argued that there never was enough circumstantial evidence to try Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard in 1954 on a charge of murdering his pregnant wife. He said there had been less evidence presented in this trial than in the first trial.

Judge Talty said: "This is not the Sheppard case of 1954—this is the case of 1966, new, with a new start."

"He said the court believes circumstantial evidence in the new case is of a new character and stronger than the old.

Talty is holding court directly across the second-floor corridor from the room in which Sheppard was found guilty of second degree murder four days before Christmas, 1954.

Viet Death Toll Takes Nine Texans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the heaviest Texas casualty tolls of the Viet Nam War was released Monday by the Defense Department. Nine Texans were on the list. They were:

Army Sgt. James O. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson D. Hughes, Overton.

Spec. 4 Edward G. Blackmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Blackmon, Austin.

Spec. 4 Kent P. Furphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster L. Furphy, 1214 South Kentucky, St. Amario.

Pfc. Henry A. Garza, husband of Mrs. Conuelo Garza, 2310 West Kings Highway, San Antonio.

Pfc. Jackie B. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Hall, Abilene.

Lance Cpl. John W. Medlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Medlin, 6413 Edgemore, Houston.

Annual Boy Scout Banquet Slated

Minor Huffman of Roswell, N. M., will be the featured speaker at the Santa Fe Boy Scout District Annual Banquet to be held in the Jackson's Cafeteria at 7 p.m., on Nov. 19.

Mr. Huffman has just recently retired as the Scout executive of the Sam Houston Area Council, the sixth largest Boy Scout Council in the nation, after a long and outstanding career as one of the top men in Scouting. He was the first Director of the Philmont Scout Ranch.

The new District Scout Executive of the Santa Fe District, William G. "Bill" Walker, will be introduced to Scout Leaders for the first time at this banquet. Other program highlights will include leadership recognition, presentation of training awards, and installation of 1967 District Officers.

Tickets for the banquet are available from the Boy Scout Service Center, 815 N. Sumner.

Food Prices May Rise Even More

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department predicts there will be a further rise in average retail food prices next year, though probably not as big as this year's boost.

This forecast was contained in a "demand and price situation" report issued Sunday on the eve of the department's 44th annual national agricultural outlook conference in Washington.

But, despite the predicted rise in average retail food prices, there will be less take-home pay for the farmer next year, the department said.

The report said farm prices are expected to continue "strong" in 1967, though they likely will be slightly below 1966, and gross farm income should be up to this year's record level because of heavier marketings.

But the department expects rising farm expenses to reduce 1967 net farm income by up to 5 per cent from this year's record level of $16.1 billion. This would still leave net income well above the 1965 even, the agency said.

"Prospects for 1967 point to some further rise in average retail food prices," the report said. "Although the rise is not expected to match the big increase in 1966, it may exceed the average annual increase of 1.5 per cent for the past five or six years."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Someone recently sent me a 144-part questionnaire prepared by one of those electronic matchmaking services that have become a big fad in the last year or so.

I, in turn, am thinking of passing it along to the Federal Trade Commission, which handles cases involving deceptive advertising.

This service says that if you fill out the questionnaire and mail it in with $5, your answers will be processed through a computer. Then, it says, "we'll send you the names and numbers of at least five compatible people you can call to date."

Computers may be able to determine election winners on the basis of a few returns, but to claim they can match up compatible couples on the basis of 144 questions is going too far.

Question Statistics
Any married man can testify that male-female compatibility cannot be determined by 144 questions. Or 140,000 for that matter.

Furthermore, much of the information elicited by the questionnaire is totally useless insofar as indicating whether a man and woman would get along well together.

Take, for example, Question No. 14—"I would like my date to be: (A) Slight-framed, (B) Medium-framed, (C) Large-framed, (D) Irrelevant."

Almost any red-blooded American boy would be eager to go out with a girl with an irrelevant figure. But that doesn't prove a thing as far as compatibility is concerned.

Question No. 16 is equally valueless—"I would like my date's hair color to be: (A) Blonde, (B) Red, (C) Brown, (D) Black, (E) Irrelevant."

Color Indeterminate
I personally have always admired girls with irrelevant hair. But since only her hairdresser knows for sure, hair color is likewise a poor test of compatibility.

Question No. 17 says, "I would like my date to be fluent in: (A) Spanish, (B) German, (C) French, (D) Italian, (E) Yiddish, (F) Chinese, (G) Russian, (H) Irrelevant."

I dated a lot of different girls in my bachelor days, and I found that no matter what other languages they spoke, they were all fluent in irrelevant.

The same is true of "political convictions" listed in the questionnaire as: (A) Middle of the road, (B) Left of center, (C) Right of center, (D) Irrelevant."

It is possible a man and woman would hate each other even if both voted for every irrelevant candidate on the ballot.

The flowering dogwood is the official tree of Missouri.

Republicans Already Eyeing '68 Presidential Campaign Chances

By RAYMOND M. LAHR
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican leaders showed a new thirst for the White House and began talking as though their gains in Tuesday's elections had set them up to take the presidency in 1968.

The optimistic talk came in the aftermath of significant gains in governorships, seats in Congress and—almost as important from the grassroots standpoint—in many of the nation's state legislatures.

The rosy forecasts assumed that the GOP could nominate a presidential candidate without going through another civil war like that of 1964, and that a tide was running and would continue to run against President Johnson.

Only two incumbent presidents, both Republicans, have been elected in this century. The first, William Howard Taft in 1912, had to contend with a massive split in his party; the second, Herbert Hoover in 1932, was saddled with the greatest depression in the nation's history.

Are Farmers' Housewives' Best Friend?

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—The president of the Texas Farm Bureau said Monday the housewife who is up in arms over grocery costs should realize "the farmer is also her best friend."

C. H. DeVaney gave his president's address today at the opening main session of the bureau's annual convention, at the Driscoll Hotel.

"Housewives are not the only victims of inflation, as any businessman knows," DeVaney said. "Farmers know inflation will, too. The index of prices farmers pay for commodities, interest, taxes and wage rates increased 12 per cent from 1957-58 to last year. This compares with a rise of 10 per cent in the overall consumer price index and a 9 per cent increase in retail prices of food."

"Less Government"
He said the housewife's best weapon against inflation and higher food prices "is to have less government in agriculture."

"What we don't need is bureaucratic planning of how much of what is to be grown for what price," DeVaney said. "Only the housewife can tell us that."

Delegates will vote Tuesday afternoon on a list of proposed resolutions, including some that should provoke lengthy discussion. One of these is a proposal fighting any compulsory check-off for cotton promotion and research funds. Many farmers prefer a voluntary payment plan.

Elections and the windup of resolutions will conclude the convention Wednesday morning. DeVaney said the Texas Farm Bureau will continue to try to expand markets for farmers' goods, including "market builder" tours to Europe for export markets.

DeVaney said the federal minimum wage proposals will only increase the problems of farmers.

"It is ironic that the people who will be hurt the most by the imposition of industrial labor laws on agriculture are the very ones proponents declare they want to help," he said. "These proposals will merely force faster mechanization and other changes to reduce labor requirements."

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

By headliner: Victor Borge is host of ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" Dec. 3, and his guests include the husband-and-wife team of Jean Pierre Aumont and Marisa Pavan. Maurice Chevalier has replaced Yves Montand as the costar, with Diannah Carroll, of the upcoming, Paris-filmed "ABC Stage 67" musical revue entitled "C'est la Vie". Wally Cox plays a hired "syndicate" killer on NBC-TV's "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." Dec. 13, and his target is a mobster portrayed by Pernell Roberts, who quit the "Bonanza" series a while back.

Garry Moore's New Year's Day hour on CBS-TV will be devoted entirely to leading magicians... Gertrude Chaplin, actress-daughter of Charles Chaplin, is a scheduled guest on NBC-TV's "Today" program from England Wednesday... Dean Martin, who had one of his singing daughters, Gail, 21, on his NBC-TV show of Oct. 27, has another, Deana, 17, turn up for some vocalizing on his Dec. 8 outing... Hollywood's annual deb ball, of which the most famous recent graduate is Raquel Welch, is set for ABC-TV Jan. 28, with Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows as hosts.

Dragnet Set Back
CBS-TV's Red Skelton Nov. 29... NBC-TV's "Dragnet" police series with Jack Webb returns Jan. 12 instead of Jan. 5, as previously announced. The old "I Love a Mystery" radio program is being converted into a so-called "original" two-hour motion picture for NBC-TV, starring Ida Lupino and Les Crane, who had the late-night ABC-TV talk show that was cancelled last season... CBS-TV's Lucille Ball, who recently did a special in England, plans six other hours to be produced aboard, with possible locations including Hawaii, Canada, Denmark, Japan, Monaco, France, Switzerland and Scotland.

Mae West said not long ago that the reruns of her old movies on television have won her many fans in the younger generation, which is why she recorded an album aimed at their musical tastes... now comes a musical aggregation of five young men paying tribute to another great star of the old films seen on video, Miss West's sometime leading man, W.C. Fields... the young men have entitled their group "The W.C. Fields Memorial Electric String Band"... they pose in pictures with the top hats that suited Fields, cutaway coats, etc... "We are one with him," they cow faithfully.

Focus On Dogs
"It's a Dog's World," an hour entertainment-documentary about canines, airs on NBC-TV Nov. 25, with Lorne Greene as guest villain on ABC-TV's "Batman" Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, portraying an ornery cowboy called "Shame"... title of the first episode is "Come Back, Shame"... Marty Ingels, talented young comedian of the "I'm Dickens. He's Fenster" series, is reported signed for at least four programs of ABC-TV's weekly Phyllis Diller show called "The Fruits Southampton."

Inexperience the Thing

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

If pre-season predictions (and you know how they are) are true Pampa could finish as high as third in district 3-4A this season.

At least that is the consensus of two pre-season polls, one by sportswriters themselves and the other taken from coaches in the league.

This is quite a compliment to coach Terry Culley. He has his work cut out this season.

The Harvesters, who open the Season Saturday night in Hereford, have only one returning starter but have some juniors who could knock the eye out of a bull a mile away last year as Shockers.

Steve Williams, 6'1 senior guard or forward, is the only returning regular. Williams carried an 8.8 season average last year and averaged 9.7 points per contest in league play.

He was a second team all-district player and with a little luck could make all-state this season.

However, it takes at least five to make a team and the other four are going to be inexperienced.

But that has never seemed to bother Culley, who hasn't had a losing season yet.

It will take the group of hot-shooters who were B teamers last year a little while to get the needed experience but they could do so by the last half of the season.

They have three things in their favor. Desire, height and accuracy.

John Braly, 5'8; Tommy Capps, 6'0; Myron Porter, 6'1; Robert Karr, 6'2; Winkle Harper, 6'2; Barry Price 5'9 are all returning lettermen, but only Karr was able to get in much straight year.

Last year Amarillo won the first half and Monterey the

Rambling With Red
RON CROSS

Karr played in 13 games, just a little each time and averaged 1.9 point per contest.

But such lads as George Bailey, 6'3; Carl Lang, 6'5; Jim Cornutt, 6'1; Johnny Carols, 6'1; Alvin Achord, 5'10 and Rick Foster, 6'2, all come from the B team.

Foster has a good chance to earn a starting berth. He's a senior but was ineligible last year moving here from Indiana.

Bailey, Lang, Cornutt, Carols and Achord all have a chance to break into the starting lineup and by mid-January might make Pampa into one of the better teams in the league.

For the present Monterey is expected to be the league winner again with Tascosa second, then Pampa, Palo Duro, Amarillo, Lubbock, Borger, Plainview, Coronado and Caprock.

The season will be split into two halves for the second straight year.

Culley isn't taking anything away from his youngsters and thinks that by the last half of the season they could develop into a pretty good ball club.

If we had to play today I'd probably start three, maybe four juniors," Culley said, adding Experience is going to be our main problem, we'll have pretty good balance. Foster, Braly, Carols, Lang and Bailey have all looked pretty good in practice, but playing in a game is different.

"We'll have four or five juniors who'll see a lot of action, we need to gain that experience."

Bill Brown, one of the all-time favorites of Harvesters fans, is the new Shocker coach, replacing Gary Griffin.

Brown, a much quieter fellow than when he made all-state with Pampa, has 18 youngsters out, including two footballers.

If some of Brown's knowledge can rub off onto his players then the Shockers should enjoy another fine year.

A C team is also being developed and will cover a 10-game schedule.

Don't look for the Harvesters to have a losing season. Culley is starting his seventh year as head Pampa coach and he has not had one yet.

Offense-Defense Bucks are Best

By A Staff Writer

McLean will have two things to worry about when they meet White Deer at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Harvester Field.

In this bi-district battle McLean (7-3) will have to figure out how to score on the Bucks out how to score on the Bucks (9-0) and how to keep White Deer from scoring.

In a previous meeting this season White Deer won, 20-0. It might be well to point out that McLean was without coach Fred Hedgecock, who was called away by a death in his family.

The Bucks, the No. 2 rated Class A high school team in the state, have scored 336 points, an average of 37.2 per game and have given up just 12, an average of 1.3 per contest. But the White Deer defense is unscored on. Both touchdown run against the Bucks were scored on pass interceptions on the offense.

McLean has totaled 134 points, an average of 13.4 per contest while giving up 88, an average of 8.8 per game.

The Tigers, down last week, lost to Gruver, 26-8 while the Bucks were taking a while in downing Stratford, 31-0 for the district 1-A title.

McLean, Wheeler and Clarendon all tied for the 2-A title with 3-1 records and the Tigers came out on the long end of a coin flip Saturday.

McLean downed Clarendon, 6-0 but lost to Wheeler, 6-14.

McLean has the area's second leading scorer in fullback Robert Baker who has 11 touchdowns and seven conversions for 86 points while the Bucks have several backs in the top 10 in scoring.

White Deer will probably have fullback Gary Smith and quarterback John Paul Guinn back in action this week. Both missed last Friday's game.

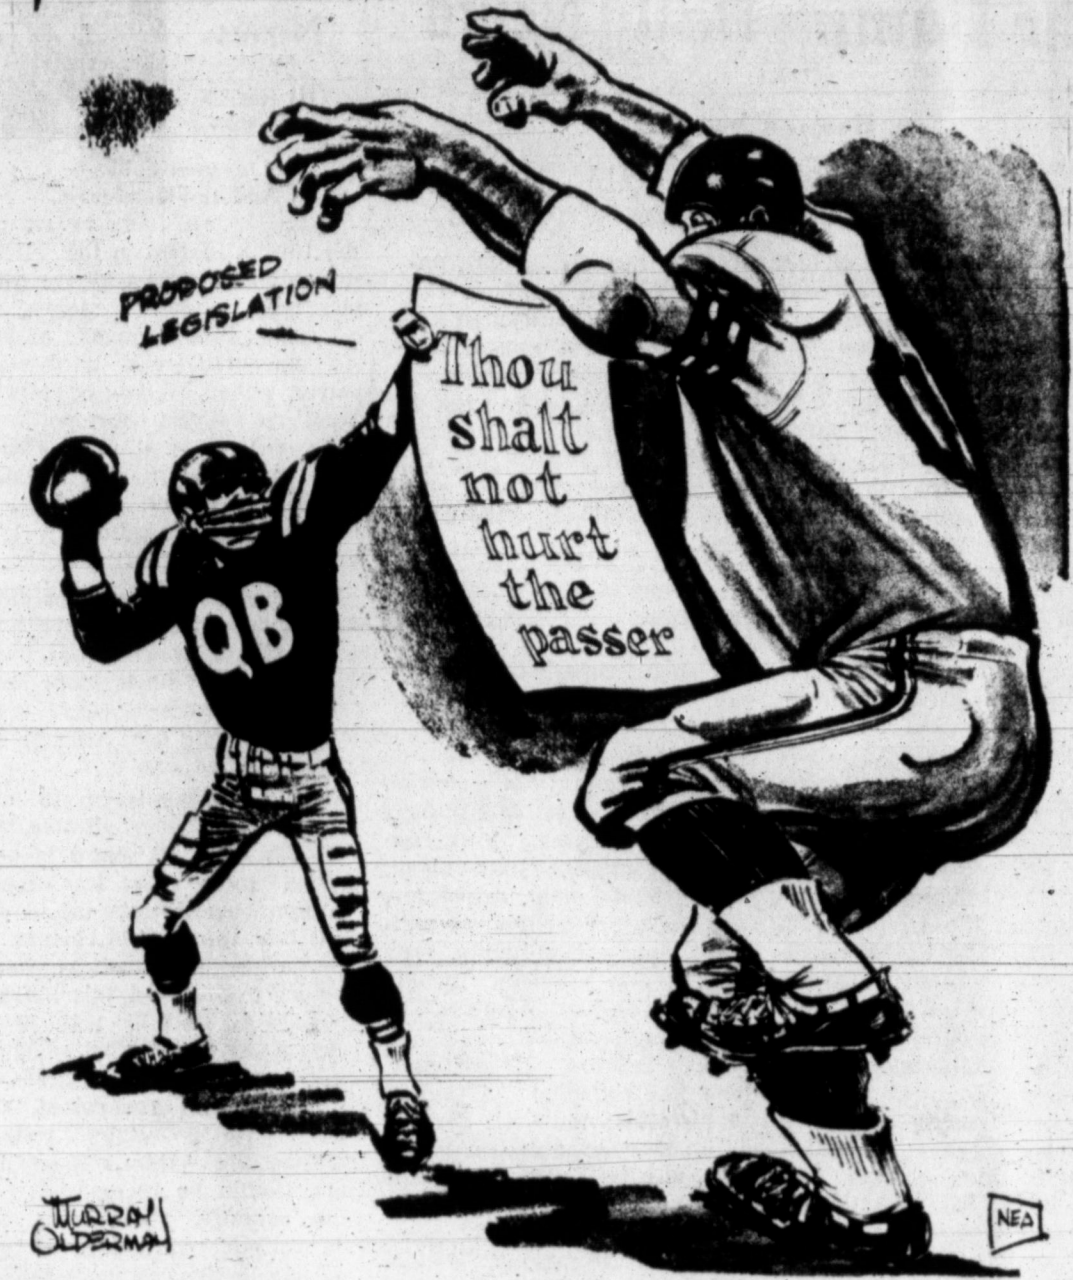

The district 5-B championship will be decided this Friday at Lefors when the Pirates host Groom.

Both are tied for the district lead with 2-0 marks and have comparable season records.

Both were idle last week.

Both are 144 for the season and Lefors has won four in a row after dropping their first four. Groom has come back strong after losing most of their games to class A clubs.

Big Cat Lands On Back Not Feet

By United Press International

HOUSTON (UPI) — Cassius Clay's jolting left jabs and right crosses, bloodied and blunted Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams' title challenge Monday night in less than three rounds, but the Muslim minister seemed to be prouder of his new secret weapon: "The Ali shuffle."

Regardless of which weapon was the most deadly, Clay proved to a record indoor fight crowd of 35,000 that he toots to back up the boasts that he is "the greatest."

The gate was an indoor record $461,290, of which Clay gets $235,645 and Williams $92,258.

Clay's battering lefts to the body, followed lightning fast by the same jab to the chin and augmented with right crosses to the face and head sent the 33-year-old hometown challenger sprawling to the canvas four times—three of them in an action-packed second round when the bell found Williams flat on his back and dazed.

Credits New Step

"I used the Ali shuffle twice, before each good combination," Clay recalled later in his dressing room while admitting that although power puncher Williams did not hurt him he did feel a couple of the challenger's lefts.

Those were about the only blows the 210 1/2-pound Williams landed on the back-pedaling, circling, shuffling champion, who weighed in at 212 3/4 pounds, the second heaviest since he won the title in a seven round knockout of Sonny Liston Feb. 24, 1964 in Miami Beach and defended six times prior to Monday night.

The Ali shuffle, so named in honor of his Muslim sect name of Muhammad Ali, is nothing more than a quick soft shoe routine Clay does with his feet. Clay had said before the fight the shuffle would confuse Williams and leave him open for attack.

That precise question remains unanswered since no one thought to ask the downcast challenger if it affected him.

Bloody Battle

But, there was no question that after each shuffle, Clay unloaded both barrels, bloodied Williams' nose and mouth, glazed his eyes, flattened him four times and left him stumbling dazed about the ring.

Williams, who had won 51 of 65 victories over a 15-year career by knockouts, wasn't sure afterwards that the referee should have stopped the fight. "I wasn't hurt, just shook up," Williams said, adding that the referee "thought I was hurt...and thought he was doing the right thing."

Asked if he wasn't indeed hurt, Williams replied, "I don't know, not much."

"He just got me before I got him," Williams added. "I dropped my (left) hand when I shouldn't have. It was just one of those things. You can't win 'em all."

Devine Sees Big Problems

NEW YORK (UPI) — Big Devine, new president of the New York Mets, took an honest look at his domain today and saw far more problems than answers.

Devine, 48, was named to the post of president Monday, succeeding George Weiss, who ruled over the Mets since their inception in 1961. Devine's new job also carries the duties of general manager, leaving him solely responsible for making player deal.

This was a facet at which Devine excelled when he was general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and it was his shrewd dealing that brought the Cardinals the world championship in 1964.

"I wish I could do for the Mets the same as I did for the Cards, but unfortunately we don't have the same personnel to offer in trade," Devine said after learning of his new appointment at a Mets board of directors meeting. He had served as executive vice president and assistant to Weiss since coming to New York two years ago.

Devine said that in talking with other clubs he found that the Met personnel is not considered too highly, thus making it difficult to deal for such top-level names as Curt Flood, Bill White, Dick Groat, Lou Brock and Julian Javier, all of whom he acquired for the Cardinal.

Devine was the hand-picked candidate of Weiss to be his successor. Weiss, who was the chief architect of the New York Yankee dynasty from 1932 until

ROWDEN TOP SCORER

Heiskell Leads Rushers

By A Staff Writer

L. D. Rowden captured the Harvester scoring title and Ted Heiskell won the rushing title for the second straight year.

In 1965 Heiskell carried the ball only 112 times and gained 488 yards while this past season the senior fullback toted the pigskin 148 times for 756 yards and an average of 5.1 yard per carry. Heiskell's average in 1965 was 4.5 yards per carry and for the two season's combined he has carried 260 times for 1,244 yards, an average of 4.7 yards per carry.

Rowden, who carried for 505 yards on 90 carries for an 5.6 average, scored six touchdowns and two, 2-point conversions for a total of 40 points.

In 1965 Heiskell's two-year total reads: 58 total points scored, 127 carries for 652 yards. Gary McCarrell was next in scoring with 36 points on six touchdown runs.

For his two seasons McCarrell has carried 130 times for 678 yards and a good two-year career. In his two years Heiskell scored a total of 42 points, 30 this season and 12 in 1965.

The Harvesters outrushed their opponents by a considerable margin, chalking up 2,148 yards on the ground to 1,884 to the opponent.

But passing-wise the Harvesters gave up 739 yards in the air while compiling only 372 air yards.

Opponents scored 171 points to he was fired as general manager in 1960, is retiring.

Pampa's 160 and had 143 first downs to the Harvesters 141. McCarrell was the best kickoff return man Pampa has had in some time with 210 yards and one touchdown on nine returns while Rowden was best on punt returns with five returns for two touchdowns and 178 yards.

McCarrell also led in pass-receiving with four catches for 128 yards.

In total offense McCarrell was the leader with 560 rushing yards, 210 in kickoff returns, 12 in punt returns and 128 in pass receiving for 910 yards.

Heiskell had 756 on the ground, 26 on kickoff returns, and 64 in pass receiving for 846 total yards while Rowden had 505 on the ground, 97 on kickoff returns, 178 in punt returns and 25 pass receiving for 805 total yards.

Pampa quarterback Gary Hyatt scored 32 points on five touchdown runs and one conversion and gained 203 yards on the ground and 288 in the air while completing 22 of 61 passes.

Big 2 Still Are Rated Same Way

NEW YORK (UPI) — Notre Dame and Michigan State formally set the stage for next Saturday's showdown at East Lansing today when the two undefeated Midwest powers were ranked first and second, respectively, in the weekly United Press International board of coaches ratings.

It marked the fifth consecutive week that the Irish and Spartans had ranked 1-2 in the ratings and intensified the belief that Notre Dame and Michigan State will be playing next week for the national championship won last year by the Spartans.

The Irish, who rose to the top midway through the season, received 26 first-place votes and 338 points from the 35-man UPI board while Michigan State was awarded five first place nominations and 316 points.

The top 10 remained unchanged from last week's Alabama, Nebraska and Georgia Tech, the nation's three other major undefeated clubs, ranked third through fifth, respectively.

Sugar Bowl Contenders

Alabama and Nebraska, reportedly the top contenders of Sugar Bowl berths, each drew two first-place votes.

Arkansas was sixth, followed in order by Southern California, UCLA, Georgia and Florida.

Purdue, which clinched its first Rose Bowl appearance last Saturday with a 16-0 victory over Minnesota, remained 11th but the rest of the second 10 was scrambled as Syracuse made its initial appearance of the season.

The Orangemen, who have swept their last seven games since dropping their first two games of the season, moved into a tie for 17th with Tennessee, which dropped from 12th after being upset by Mississippi.

Hogs Lose Two For Game With Raiders

By United Press International

Arkansas paid a price for its 22-0 victory over Southern Methodist Jim Barnes and Bruce Maxwell.

Barnes and Maxwell will miss the Hogs meeting with Texas Tech Saturday in Lubbock. They got hurt against the Mustangs last week.

The Razorbacks worked out in sweat clothes for 45 minutes Monday and heard a scouting report on Tech.

Tech fared better but still lost to Baylor last week. Leinert is a doubtful starter against Arkansas.

Coach J. T. King praised defensive tackle James Henkel and safety Guy Griffin for their performances against Baylor.

SMU Coach Hayden Fry found one bright spot in his team's loss to Arkansas. Fry said linebacker Jerry Griffin was given a 96 grade for the game and made 29 tackles.

Fry also said quarterback Mac White is a doubtful starter against Baylor next Saturday. White limped Monday on a knee sprained in the Arkansas game. TCU, meanwhile, took the field for 45 minutes Monday, after watching films of its 13-3 loss to Texas Saturday.

Offensive Coach Hunter Ennis, in the absence of ailing head coach Abe Martin, said Larry Peel will probably start at quarterback Saturday against Rice. Martin suffered a heart attack last week and probably will be hospitalized for two more weeks.

Rice Coach Jess Neely said quarterback Bobby Shelton will probably not start against TCU. Shelton wrenched his knee in Saturday's 7-6 loss to Texas A&M.

A Watchful Newspaper

NEVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is, thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Guaranteed Destruction

A figment of our imagination? Hardly. Jack Anderson, literary sidekick of columnist Drew Pearson, doesn't think so. For, you see, even the so-called liberals who, for several decades now, have been working like eager little intellectual beavers to destroy capitalism and bring on the Utopian socialistic millennium, are beginning to view with drawing awareness and horror the "efficient" monolithic monster they, in their ignorance, labored to create.

Even a few politicians here and there, in the late realization that the files contain dossiers on themselves and the implications of that, are beginning to squirm. Here, in all probability, is at least part of the answer as to why the administration (which has custody of most of the files) has been able to ram socialistic bill after bill through a supine and obedient House and Senate.

Columnist Anderson, in excerpts from his forthcoming book "Washington Exposed" published under the title "Has Government Snooping Gone Too Far?" in Parade, a Sunday newspaper magazine supplement, documents how the files, with the ultimate objective of being all consolidated in a computerized National Data Center or Dossier Bank, are being created and used with ever increasing invasion of personal privacy, coercion, control and even blackmail.

According to Anderson, despite a prevailing attitude that government snooping is a matter for TV spy spoofs and cocktail party jokes about bugged martini olives, the government's collection of information on individuals is no joking matter.

Making use of every device and approach known to man — electronic, mechanical and human — the government is putting together files containing information, including facts, half-truths, allegations, gossip and outright lies, on every aspect of your life. And these files, rather than being held in confidence by the custodial agency, are increasingly being passed about from agency to agency, from person to person. By house to house canvassers, by tapped telephones, by "bugged" office and home, two-way peepaboo mirrors, automatic movie camera

Information is added to the bursting files, says Senator Sam Ervin, from interviews, tests, loyalty oaths, questionnaires, all of which violate privacy. Senator Edward Long who says the government is even giving bugging devices as part of foreign aid.

And all of this, he is noted, by tax paid "public servants" whose only conceivable reasons for existence are to protect your property, your privacy, your rights. Here, in bold relief, is your "protective" government at work.

Even individual tax returns in the files of the Internal Revenue Service, commonly thought to be inviolate, are often made available to investigators for frivolous reasons. Homes and offices are broken into and ransacked without consent and in the absence of the owners.

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

Common Sense — And Independence
There is an old saying in the United States to the effect that "politics stops at the water's edge." What it means, of course, is that when our nation is confronted with a foreign power, either by war or otherwise, we forget our political party difference at the water's edge and stand united against this foreign threat. And this, I should say, is ordinarily the way it should be.

However, whether politics does or does not stop at the water's edge, it is certainly true that common sense does not stop at the water's edge. That love of freedom does not stop at the water's edge.

And these things seem to me should apply in our attitude toward Rhodesia. It seems to me nothing more nor less than common sense to take the viewpoint that that nation belongs to the people who built it; that they have governed this nation and paid all its bills with help from no one for the last several decades; and that therefore they should be recognized as the nation's governing body and that the nation's independence should be recognized.

The Socialist government of Great Britain warned to keep Rhodesia in the commonwealth, and more than that, demanded a government for Rhodesia that recognized the principle of "one man, one vote"; in other words, a government that would be ruled by majority vote of 250,000 whites and four million blacks. In each of the black-ruled countries of Africa, the so-called "merging" nations, they adopted the "one man, one vote" principle, and that's exactly what it turned out to be — there was only one vote and one man had it — and the countries very soon became tyrannical dictatorships, most of them from time to time being overthrown by other dictators and many of them becoming communist in the process.

What decent, civilized country would want that to happen to them? Certainly, the 250,000 whites in Rhodesia, who made the country what it is, don't want to give up what they have devoted their lives to building and turn it over to hat of form of government. So they declared their independence from Great Britain.

It will be remembered that Great Britain laughed at us when we asked them to quit trading with communist Cuba a few years ago. Though we have asked them not to, they keep on trading with communist North Viet Nam while we are fighting a war with that country. In 1965, the British sent 135 ships and their cargoes into North Viet Nam ports, and during the first three months of this year (the latest available statistics) they sent another 29 ships and their cargoes to supply our enemies.

With more than 6,000 American soldiers having been killed in Viet Nam and another 20,000 wounded, it is simply incredible to me that our government tolerates British profiteers sending their ships to North Viet Nam with supplies for those who are killing and maiming American servicemen. And yet we immediately joined with Great Britain in her request for economic sanctions of the free nation of Rhodesia. We should cry shame!

As there is no morality left in this government of ours? Have we become a nation of moral bankrupts? The only explanation I can give — and that's exactly what it is, an explanation and not a reason — is that we think that by going along with Britain we are placating the forty or more so-called emerging black nations of Africa, most of which don't deserve the name of nation but each of which has a seat in the United Nations, and each of which has the same vote in the General Assembly of the United Nations that we have. Then, too, our Administration may think that by going along with Britain in its efforts to subdue Rhodesia, it may win the Negro vote in this country in forthcoming elections.

If this is the real explanation, let me say that it is completely disgraceful and not worthy of a great nation to allow politics, either in the United Nations or at home to take precedence over the welfare of American boys fighting in Viet Nam, or over the interests of free people generally.

Gaule Plan to Create 'Bank of Europe' To Attack U.S. Dollar, Economic Influence on Continent

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Charles de Gaulle is preparing to unveil a grandiose plan to turn Paris into a world financial capital. His bold scheme, which apparently has the backing of the Kremlin, provides for the establishment of a French-controlled "Bank of Europe" to rival the international financial houses of Britain and the U.S.

Drawn up by French Finance Minister Michael Debre, the new venture will be announced by De Gaulle at a press conference spectacular following his meeting with Soviet leaders in December. Administration insiders who have reviewed U.S. intelligence analysis of De Gaulle's unannounced plan say it is a direct attack on the U.S. dollar and a move to curb U.S. economic and political influence in Europe.

In addition to creating his "Bank of Europe," De Gaulle's plan calls for two series of reforms — one, a draft parliamentary bill on exchange regulations, and the other a list of directives to French banks on capital movement. By simplifying France's highly complicated regulations on foreign exchange, De Gaulle will permit greater movement of capital in and out of France, thus increasing the stature of Paris as an international money market.

Freer exchange controls, along with the new credit institution — which will be backed by France's growing gold hoard — will be designed to complement increased trade between Western European countries and those behind the Iron Curtain. By taking this financial lead, De Gaulle hopes to make Paris the financial-economic-political focal point in Europe and reduce U.S. influence on the continent — especially in West Germany and Italy.

EXPLOITING THE INEVITABLE — U.S. authorities reporting from Paris stress that De Gaulle's decision to create the "Bank of Europe" was partly triggered by a recent study by the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development on changes in members' currency reserves. This OECD document, an advance copy of which has just arrived at the State Department, shows that Western Europe now holds more gold than the U.S. — $14.8 billion vs. $13.8 billion.

With all European members increasingly exchanging their dollars for gold in the past year, it states, their gold holdings went up $1.9 billion in 1965, compared to an average $1.2 billion the previous decade. Since France now has the biggest gold reserve in Europe, slightly more than $5 billion, these U.S. authorities warn that De Gaulle considers France's holdings as a monetary force de frappe which, like his small nuclear bomber force, increases French political influence among the big powers.

The National Better Business Bureau is observing its 54th year of operation with a record of expanded service and achievement in all major areas of activity. Since 1912 the NBBB has been the agency through which responsible business firms practicing self-regulation in the public interest, have sought to merit the support and respect of the consumer. NBBB's efforts to maintain consumer satisfaction in their dealings with business continue unabated. The agency processes more than 100,000 requests for information and assistance from business and the public every year. One of its least known functions is to prevent the appearance of objectionable advertising and last year more than 7,000 of the requests came from advertising media. It's a great watchdog that protects business and the public against fraud and chicanery.

Everyone knows the fable of the tortoise and the hare and how the slower turtle won the race. However, the rabbit in that yarn must have been lazy or sleepy, or both. Someone, agog with curiosity, recently clocked a turtle and found that it can cover a mile in something like nine hours. That doesn't sound like very strong competition for a rabbit.

Thoughts while shaving: Racing colors were first registered in England in 1762. Since that time the various stables have adopted colors which they may have considered lucky, or at least had some special significance. They registered them with racing officials and thus became the official colors of that stable. . . . World War I lasted four years, three months and 11 days. World War II, which was to be of shorter duration, lasted five years, 11 months and 14 days. Now everyone is wondering if we'll have a World War III and how long that one will last. And don't forget the first two were wars to end all wars, according to the politicians of those eras. Remember? . . . Graft Is Stumbling Block On Path to Victory in Viet

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
CAN THO, Viet Nam (NEA) —

The former province chief was an earnest young army colonel. "When I went to my province up north of here, the deputy province chief for finance offered me 600,000 piasters ($5,100) and said that this money was not recorded in the books. He said I could use the funds to set up my own spy system or for any purpose I desired. "He said there would be another 100,000 piasters ($870) a month which would not have to be accounted for. He said he would put them at my disposal. He said he would manage the paperwork in reporting Saigon.

"He said this was extra money that Saigon did not know about. "I reported him and had him demoted to a simple clerk in a tribal area in the highlands. I then called in the province deputies, the district chiefs and the merchants and told them what I had done. "I told them I knew there had been corruption in the past and that they had taken part in it. I would forget the past, I said, but there would be no more payoffs and no more acceptance of payoffs.

"I said I would remove any official who took payoffs and take away the licenses of any merchants who attempted to bribe any official. "I emphasized what I had done to my own deputy. "Where did the 600,000 piasters come from? That's easy. Saigon sends cement, steel and other things. The province chief can fix the prices. Suppose something should cost 90 piasters. He can fix the price at 110. He will take 10. There are many ways to work these things. "But after setting this example, I had no further trouble. People didn't have to pay off officials to get business done as they did formerly. "The graft smut off just like that. "But then I left that province and was assigned to another place. Shortly after I left the old deputy province chief for finance — the one who had taken bribes and attempted to bribe me — was shifted back to the province into his old job. "The province is now back in its old ways. The bribery and the payoffs are back."

Some U.S. officials say privately that graft is a major barrier to establishing confidence and winning the war in Viet Nam. They claim widespread graft is impossible to eradicate at this time. The example of this young province chief shows graft and payoffs can be sharply cut if there is backing from above.

Question Box

QUESTION: "How can there be a decreasing supply of money causing increased interest rates when at the same time there are MORE dollars (made) without sufficient gold and silver backing chasing after grocery items, causing inflationary prices thereby?"

ANSWER: The seeming paradox of less money to lend being available while there continues to be an increasing number of paper dollars chasing consumer items and causing inflationary price rises is not too difficult to understand. The persons who usually would have money to lend, either directly or in savings accounts or insurance, have grown cautious because of the loss of dollar value through inflation. They fear that their savings if kept in the form of investment, and that their dollars will buy less when they are deposited. Thus, they are more inclined to invest in something that will increase in dollar value with inflation — land or precious metals. They are attempting to protect their own savings in the best way they know.

Additionally, because of the fear of inflation other individuals are spending their dollars as soon as they receive them rather than possibly putting some of their earnings in savings accounts or insurance. Thus, there are more dollars which are chasing consumer items, but fewer dollars available for lending, unless the interest rates are high enough to counteract the inflation.

Dear Editor: When the French in Vietnam, surrendered in 1954, they had over 250,000 casualties! Are we prepared to accept such losses? Our losses to date are approximately 9,000 killed. The French Army lost battles but not the war — the French people could not take it and just quit. The French were fighting for colonialism, but the U.S.A. has a far more unselfish and just mission — we are fighting to prevent the bloodstained Hitler-type materialistic, atheistic dictators of Russia and China from further enslaving the entire world. They think, by prolonging the struggle, the American people are going to cave in as did the French. In this, they have another guess coming — we won't!

We must win this war, and we can easily win in a humane way, without the use of the nuclear bomb and certainly with a minimum loss of life. Here's the outline of such a plan. The United States Air Force history of World War II shows that the Air Force showed leaflets on certain Japanese cities warning that before a certain date these cities would be bombed and destroyed. Families were urged to evacuate and survive. After the surrender, it was learned these leaflets created stark panic — cities had been completely and immediately abandoned. No lives were lost! Prerail evacuations and mass migrations after attacks caused a population displacement of 8,500,000 persons. (I would like to clarify one point. This was all before the nuclear bombs were dropped in August.)

Historical records show conclusively that this plan was magnificently effective against a formidable nation such as Japan. It should be much easier and quicker against North Vietnam, a 30th class nation. The simple plan for Vietnam, as proven in Japan, is therefore obvious! Drop leaflets on the cities, mostly supply centers, to evacuate by a certain date and survive since total destruction will soon be inevitable in view of our massive air power. Next, destroy every military target. Blockade the ports with our Navy fleet. The end will come quickly!

Certainly high placed "Pantywaists" in the State Department have been cowardly shivering in their shoes and bleating that Red China will enter the war if we escalate the attack on North Vietnam. Well, we have already bombed targets almost in Hanoi, and Red China has not come into the war, and won't! Red China is having too much internal trouble and further isn't equipped for modern warfare. Chien Kai-Shek is poised to attack and invade China with a large, modern military force at a nod from the United States.

Invoke the plan, as outlined above, and we can win the war in about a month and bring our boys home. Americans don't want to kill young Vietnamese boys, nor do we want our sons killed, so let's end this sad war. If every mother in our country will write to her Congressmen and to the President at once to carry out the above proven plan of attack, we will most certainly win the war before Christmas.

Does this plan sound too simple? Well, Van Clausewitz, who wrote the greatest treatise on war in history, says: "In war, the simplest is invariably the best — it is likewise the most difficult!" From a combat veteran, opposed to war.

Suffering Girl's Snapshot Rides With Astronauts

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—A snapshot of a teenage girl suffering from an incurable blood disease flew in space today with Gemini 12 astronauts. James Lovell and Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin carried the picture of 14-year-old Barbara George of Houston with them on their scheduled four-day flight at the request of her mother, Mrs. John Masterson.

In 1921, President Warren Harding dedicated the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

In 1918, fighting in World War I was halted with the signing of the Armistice. Also in 1918, Polish independence was proclaimed.
