Thousands Of New Autos Recalled for Safety Defects

'Big Four' Plagued By Brakes, Throttles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A list of safety defects involving thousands of foreign cars sold in the United States over the past six years will be made public next week, it was learned today.

The planned announcement by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, (D-Conn.), was expected to be similar to the disclosure Tuesday of tens of thousands of safety defects in tens of thousands of new American cars.

The Senate Commerce Committee made public the American list, compiled from reports that the nation's "big four" automakers — Ford, Chrysler, General Motors and American Motors — had submitted to the new federal highway safety agency.

Brake trouble plagued three foreign imports: Rolls Royce, the world's most expensive car; Volkswagen, and Renault.

As in Tuesday's announcement, all the cars Ribicoff plans to list do not actually contain defects, but all the cars in a particular series in which a defect is uncovered are checked as a precaution.

Largely as a result of Ribicoff's efforts, the Auto Safety Act passed by Congress earlier this year requires automakers — foreign and domestic — to notify car-owners directly when defects are uncovered and also to notify the government.

Possible brake problems and sticky throttles were the main defects listed in the American cars Tuesday. Many vehicles have been and are being fixed before being sold.

In addition to cars and trucks, General Motors reported possible problems with 775 new school buses. It said a hose carrying brake fluid might be too short, possibly affecting proper brake action.

Congressional sources said that as many as 500,000 cars could be involved, but this did not mean that anywhere near that many got on the road with defects.

In Detroit, representatives of the big four emphasized that only a small percentage of the cars called back had actual defects, and that few of these really were dangerous. "In a high production business such as ours some defects are bound to escape notice until later," an auto industry spokesman said.

According to Red Guard bulletins detailing the clash, armed factory workers blocked the entrance and threatened to shoot the Red Guardsmen if they tried to enter.

Reports said a fist-swinging, head-cracking battle broke out between the teen-aged Marxists and the stubborn factory workers. The fight continued far into the night and resulted in

CHINESE COMMUNIST Chairman Mao Tse-tung seems to be in a jolly mood as he waves to assembled students, teachers and members of the Red Guard in Peking, Official Communist sources released this picture and said that Mao was on hand to address students who had gathered to exchange "revolutionary ideas."

Red Guards Fight Pitched Battle With Armed Factory Workers

TOKYO (UPI)—Furious Red Guard students fought a pitched battle with armed factory workers in Peking for 15 hours Tuesday. More than 50 persons were injured in the clash, reports here said today.

Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital said violence erupted when the youngsters tried to invade a workers compound in a machine tool plant to "promote production" and proselytize for Mao Tse-tung.

Yeh had reportedly been under heavy attack for quite some time as a "counter-revolutionary treading the capitalist line."

Reds Shell Ships Of South Korean Navy

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—Communist North Koreans trained shore artillery south of the 38th Parallel armistice line and fired on three South Korean navy ships, the United Nations Command charged today.

The U.N. officials said the South Korean patrol boats were off the east coast of Korea in the Sea of Japan when the North Koreans opened fire Tuesday with an estimated 40 shells. Two of the ships received light damage, but no injuries were reported.

The attack was one of several alleged armistice violations by North Korea in recent weeks. Communist military officers meeting today with the Joint Armistice Commission here denied the charge, saying South Korean vessels entered northern waters and fired toward shore. But the North Koreans rejected a U.N. Command proposal to have neutral nations investigate the incident.

A month ago, while President Johnson was visiting in South Korea, North Korean soldiers penetrated the Demilitarized Zone in an ambush, killing six Americans and one South Korean soldier.

The U.N. Command said that while under siege from offshore batteries Tuesday, the South Korean ships returned 14 rounds in self defense. It said the ships turned eastward into the Sea of Japan and moved out of artillery range.

Planes Step Up Attack

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Navy and Air Force planes stepped up the pace of their bombing raids with a series of crippling attacks on missile launching and supply sites near three of North Viet Nam's principal cities, military spokesmen said today.

The air strikes were intensified with a break in the monsoon weather which has caused a virtual bombing lull during the past 11 days. The number of missions, however, was far below the record 175 set this fall.

U.S. Marines bore the brunt of the major ground action Tuesday, and killed at least 36 enemy troops in scattered engagements. There were no major clashes reported in either Operation Attleboro or Operation Paul Revere IV — the two U.S. infantry maneuvers which together have left more than 1,800 enemy dead. U.S. spokesmen said, however, that an American Special Forces camp and a 1st Infantry Division site in the Attleboro battle area northwest of Saigon received about 20 rounds of Communist mortar fire Tuesday night. U.S. casualties were described as light.

The American air raids included an attack by Navy pilots on a Surface-To-Air (SAM) missile support facility five miles southwest of the North Vietnamese seaport of Haiphong. The site was described as a central depot where technicians work on guidance systems and occasionally on the cigar-shaped missiles themselves.

The pilot reported destroying more than half the area, and said several secondary explosions followed blasting with their 500-pound bombs.

Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck in the Dien Bien Phu area, hitting supply targets, and along river routes about 58 miles northwest of Hanoi. In both raids, about 25 buildings

Lovell, Aldrin To Be Decorated By LBJ Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson today decorates astronauts James E. Lovell and Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin whose Gemini 12 flight concluded the successful series of two-man launches.

The Chief Executive arranged a 12 noon ceremony in the front yard of the LBJ ranch to present NASA "Exceptional Service Award" to the Gemini 12 pilots.

He also planned to honor space agency and industrial leaders who master-minded the successful Gemini series.

The astronauts who splashed down on target a week ago Monday after a dramatic four-day flight will fly to the ranch from Houston with their families and NASA officials for the ceremony.

It will be a full day for Johnson, one week after his throat and abdominal surgery. He scheduled a late afternoon meeting in Europe, NATO and German problems with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Tax Increase To Depend on Viet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's efforts to cut federal spending by $3 billion may not swing much weight in the decision to raise — or not to raise — income taxes next year.

Congress gave the President at least that much in unasked-for appropriations and the cut would simply cancel them out. Thus the tax increase decision appears to hinge on Viet Nam war spending.

If the cost of the war requires the "substantial" supplemental money request Johnson has foreseen — and most of its is needed in this fiscal year — a tax boost might be likely.

It could be headed off however, if Johnson's expectation of government revenue running $5 billion to $7 billion ahead of estimates comes true, unless rising interest rates boosted government borrowing costs enough to cancel the revenue gains.

Signs that the economy is already slowing down could also temper the willingness of the government to remove more money from the marketplace for fear a slowdown could become a slump.

And the slowdown signs were appearing before the administration's latest anti-inflation move was the temporary suspension of two tax credits which had given businessmen incentive to expand.

War spending, the big unknown in consideration of a possible tax boost, declined marginally in October but was still well above 1965 level and threatened to exceed 1966 budget estimates by more than $5 billion.

BEATING CHARGE

Wetumpka Back in the News

WETUMPKA, Ala. (UPI) — Wetumpka is inconspicuous on the map of Alabama (it's just above Montgomery), but it has an affinity for catching the nation's attention.

Last May, the town couldn't find room in its public cemetery — other than a pauper's grave — for its first Viet Nam casualty, Pfc. Jimmy L. Williams, 19, a Negro. Williams was buried in a national cemetery at Andersonville, Ga.

Today, the death of another Negro has the town back in the news.

The man, James Earl Motley, 23, died in the Elmore (Wetumpka) County Jail Sunday. Motley's stepfather, William Varner, charged Monday that "my son was beaten to death."

Conner ordered Motley and the driver of the car, Wilbur Jackson, to get out of the vehicle, Varner said. Motley objected that the Elmore County officer had no authority in Montgomery County.

But they got out and talked with Conner — and then returned to their car, Varner said. Conner fired a shot and summoned two state troopers on his car radio, the father said.

He charged that when the

Warren Report Due More Clamor By Disagreement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The clamor for a new investigation into the assassination of John F. Kennedy seemed certain to increase today with the disclosure that one of the members of the Warren Commission disagreed with some of the panel's findings.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., became the first commission member to publicly disagree with the report and its findings Tuesday when he said he was "not satisfied with some of the answers" it gave.

In a related development, Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who was wounded seriously at the time of the assassination, scheduled a news conference at his Austin office to answer questions about the investigation.

The news conference was called for noon EST.

Connally has differed in at least one respect with the Warren Commission report — that dealing with how many shots were fired. He believes he was hit by a different bullet from the first slug, which passed through Kennedy's neck.

The Commission's contention was that the same bullet hit Kennedy and Connally.

Speculation over the timing of the shots fired at the motorcade in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, has led to suggestions that Lee Harvey Oswald may have had an accomplice, or that a conspiracy was involved.

Russell, in an interview with the Atlanta Journal, agreed with Connally in rejecting the "single bullet" theory, but upheld the Commission's findings that Oswald acted alone.

The Georgia senator said that though "e" was "not completely satisfied about the completeness of some of the answers the Commission was compelled to make, its report was based on the evidence before it and not on speculation, rumor and questions."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who headed the presidential fact-finding panel, was not available for direct comment.

Jaycee Fitness Award Presented

John P. McCausland, Pampa insurance man, was presented the Jaycee's Physical Fitness Leadership award Tuesday at a Jaycee luncheon.

McCausland was presented the award for his work in starting soccer teams in Pampa and the Panhandle.

Pampa High School now sports one of the finest soccer teams in the state. McCausland also has started teams in Amarillo and other Panhandle cities.

Runners-up were Jesse Ring, Lelors, who has given Lelors their finest track and baseball programs ever, and A. B. Brewer, the organizer of the Pampa Optimist Clubs' judo program.

Also at the meeting Jaycees announced they will begin putting up Christmas lights Friday and hope to have them all up by Saturday.

A turkey shoot, sponsored by the Jaycees, will be held at 1 p.m. Dec. 11 at the Pampa pa Gun Club trap range in Recreation Park.

McCausland will now enter state competition for Physical Fitness Leader of the Year and, should he win, would qualify for national competition.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

It is hard to understand what kind of person or persons would deliberately set fire to a foot-bridge in a park, as was done Sunday night in Central Park. Most always we immediately think that a teenager is involved, which is likely to be true since many young people in that age bracket have too much free time and not enough responsibility. After hearing about the malicious deed many fine young people were naturally distressed because, as one of them said, they had a special attachment for that bridge and enjoyed walking there.

It seems so seldom that such irresponsible persons can be caught, but if and when they are the logical punishment would be that they personally repair all damages that they have done as well as what others have done. The city and Park Dept. employees are always repairing such damages. Since many thousands of taxpayers dollars are involved in the repairs, more citizens should become concerned about this serious problem and at least try to help the police find the offenders.

Nine Pampa Garden Club members went to Amarillo last week for a Northern Zone Meeting which was held in the Coronado Inn. The morning was spent in official business with Mrs. J. G. Hill, of Hereford, District I governor, reporting on state and national projects. The newest state project is to help financially in the landscaping of the Texas Governor's Mansion. The complete landscape job totals $150,000 including many structural changes and additions, such as retaining fountains and a tea house. A landscape architect prepared the beautiful plans of which all Texans can be especially proud.

A project of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. is Dimes for Pines to raise enough money for the planting of pine trees around the John Kennedy Memorial in Washington, D.C.

Steve Dearth of the Little House of Flowers in Amarillo presented the afternoon's program on holiday arrangements. He gave several helpful suggestions for preserving evergreens for Christmas. Use Prestone antifreeze (no substitute) at full strength; place stem end of pines, spruce, etc. after stems

Dear Abby... Don't Date Until You Get Divorce

DEAR ABBY: Please advise me as to how a 19-year-old girl from a small town who is separated, with a divorce in her future, should conduct herself. I have a 6-month-old son and a 2-year-old daughter. I have no idea what I should do for a girl in my situation. Should I date? Should I go to the local dance and dance with anybody who asks me? Should I accept dates from town that mean staying overnight? (Even if we had separate motel rooms?) How about attending mix-a-parties with a group of girls? I would appreciate your advice. You can give me a card.

DEAR ABBY: The letter above people who take their illness, untraced children to public places and turn them loose, and your answer ("blame the parents") broke my heart. I am the mother of such a child, and I assure you I am not to blame. If people only knew how much they hurt me when they ask my darling little boy, "What in the world is wrong with you?"

You see, he is retarded, epileptic, and almost blind. I do correct him but he forgets so soon. I want to get with a child, and I assure you I am not to blame. If people only knew how much they hurt me when they ask my darling little boy, "What in the world is wrong with you?"

DEAR ABBY: I know it's customary to send roses to an actress on her opening night. But what does one send an actor? Flowers somehow don't seem appropriate for a man.

British Foreign Secretary Fears Broader Viet Conflict

MOSCOW (UPI)—British Foreign Secretary George Brown told Soviet officials a "broader conflict" could result if Viet Nam if peace talks did not get under way shortly, diplomatic sources said.

Brown also was expected to feel out Kremlin reaction to the possibility of another Christmas pause in U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam. But less than two weeks ago, the Soviets offered no encouragement in similar discussions with Canadian External Affairs Minister Paul Martin.

The sources gave no indication of Gromyko's reaction to the two-hour meeting. But it was emphasized earlier that the British expect "no dramatic results."

In the meeting, Brown "underscored the responsibility of the British and Soviet governments" on Viet Nam, a source said. "He also expressed the concern of the British government to find some way to end

City Will Study Sales Tax Plan, Not Income Tax

Pampa city officials have been asked to study a city sales tax proposal—not a city income tax proposal.

The Pampa News yesterday inadvertently used the word "income" instead of "sales" in a story which stated the Texas Municipal League was seeking to broaden the source of city revenues by asking the State Legislature to adopt enabling legislation that would permit cities and towns to hold local option elections to approve or reject a local sales tax plan.

The proposal approved by the Texas Municipal League would ask the 1967 Texas Legislature to pass a law making it possible for cities to levy a local sales tax to raise additional money for operating expenses.

The proposal would fix a maximum one per cent which could be levied but would permit cities to adopt a sales tax less than one per cent.

The matter was presented to the Pampa City Commission along with other Texas cities, for study and decision on what action Pampa wished to take.

City councils which approve of the plan have been asked to Texas Municipal League to adopt resolutions for submission to the State Legislature asking that a state law be passed to permit the local option elections on the municipal sales tax proposal.

It's for study of a city sales tax—not a city income tax.

Students Spend 'Thirty Minutes With Pilgrims'

Stephen F. Austin students began their Thanksgiving holiday today after spending 30 minutes "With the Pilgrims," a music play presented by the three fifth grades in an assembly program for the entire school.

The play depicted in story and song the early Thanksgiving Day. It portrayed an authentic version of the early fall festival so dear to the hearts of all Americans, according to its director, Mrs. J. E. Gunn, Austin music teacher.

The three fifth grades, costumed as Pilgrims and Indians, sang chorus backgrounds accompanied by Janae Harris, Karen Tarpley and Jimmy Best.

Ricky Jones, Gayle McKinley and Teresa Jordan gave the history of Thanksgiving.

Cast members for the skit were Randy Cain as the father, John Cushman; Mickie Musgrave as the mother, Mary Cushman; and Jacquetta Thomas as their daughter, Patience.

Two Pilgrims were portrayed by Jack King and Gary Hall with Phillip Gale playing the part of Quanto, the Indian.

Assisting with the play were the three fifth grade teachers, Mrs. Houston Price, Mrs. Glen Cox and Mrs. Rex Little.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I picked up a newspaper Tuesday and saw the name "Togo" in the headlines, I thought it was going to be a story about a circus gorilla.

That was when I decided it was time I brushed up on my geography.

Togo became an independent nation in 1960, but I must have been on vacation when it happened. Or out to lunch.

Anyway, the attempted revolution there this week started me to wondering how many other countries may have come into being while I was looking the other way.

To spare myself further embarrassment, I went by the State Department and picked up a copy of its latest list of independent states. Happily, the situation was not as bad as I had feared.

At this writing, the United States recognized 127 countries as independent and nine others as quasi-independent give or take a couple of sultanates and sheikdoms.

Recognized Most

I was so pleased to find that I also recognized most of them, including Upper Volta, although I am not sure what happened to Lower Volta.

Some of them—Bhutan, Dahomey, Rwanda and Canada—required a refreshment of memory, but the only complete stranger was the Islamic Republic of Mauritania.

Where the going gets sticky is with such old favorites as Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia. I have always had a special fondness of those countries because they helped me pass geography.

Any time the teacher gave us a test, I was always able to answer the question requiring identification of the Baltic

Pampa Students At WT Selected Representatives

CANYON (Sp) — Two Pampa students, C. E. Cantrell and Mrs. Jean Gray, have been selected to represent West Texas State University in the 1966-67 edition of "Whos Who Among Students in America Universities and Colleges."

The student honors committee, headed by Miss Elizabeth Davidson, assistant professor of history, made final selections from nominees submitted by all departments, schools of instruction, and campus organizations.

Basis of selection was scholarship, campus leadership, and participation in campus activities. The committee named 13 juniors and 22 seniors for the honor.

A junior marketing major, Cantrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Jones, 600 Gray. He is a member of the Student Senate and vice-president of Phi Delta Theta, national social fraternity.

Cantrell is also a member of the American Marketing Association and Jota Epsilon, a business fraternity. He was a junior class favorite.

Mrs. Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Holman, is a senior music major. She sang the lead role in "Kismet."

WTSSU musical and won a best actress award.

Mrs. Gray has held an applied music scholarship, awarded by Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority of which she is president. Winner of the Amarillo Symphony student soloist competition, she made a solo appearance with the symphony.

Robbers Get Cash Plus Earnings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hold-ups men usually hit gas stations during slack periods; but three robbers early today violated that general rule.

The three jumped Manager Louis Mendonca and his assistant, Ronald Abramsky, and tied them up in the restroom. But before the intruders could make their getaway, Mendonca and Abramsky picked up.

The trio manned the pumps for two hours before they could leave the Queens gas station with what they had earned plus $595 from the cash register. Neither Mendonca nor Abramsky was hurt.

Guest Speaker Commends Club For Civic Work

E. L. "Smiley" Henderson, guest speaker for Business and Professional Women's Civic Participation banquet last night, lauded members for their contributions to the city's civic life, while maintaining homes and rearing children.

The banquet was held in the East Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Faye Eaton, chairman. Rev. J. W. Duke, pastor of First Christian Church, gave the invocation.

After dinner entertainment was provided by Mrs. Peggy Patrick, soloist, who sang "God Bless America" and "Autumn Leaves," accompanied by her daughter, Susie.

Mrs. Eaton was assisted in banquet arrangements by Ruby Crocker, Janice Myers, Tommy Grant and Lillian Gurthrie.

A CINDERELLA PLANE is this test vehicle built by Lockheed. Wind tunnel tests have indicated the craft can be transformed from a slow-moving helicopter to a high-speed fixed-wing airplane in flight. The change is made by stopping the 33-foot diameter rotor blades and folding them back at speeds of 90 to 160 m.p.h., after ascending in a vertical take-off. Engineers believe a later jet-powered version could fly forward at 500 m.p.h., and still land and take off using small sites such as rooftops or jungle clearings, for either commercial or military use.

Third Of Troops Out of France

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite the gigantic problems involved, the Defense Department fully intends to have all U.S. troops, civilian employes and supplies out of France by the April 1 deadline President Charles de Gaulle set.

U. S. European command headquarters near Paris announced Tuesday that more than one-third of the 70,000 defense personnel and dependents and more than half the 70,000 tons of military supplies had been moved out of France by the end of October.

The Pentagon specifically denied a report that the United States might not be able to meet De Gaulle's deadline.

"It is reiterated that the United States is proceeding to honor the Erench request to withdraw forces by April 1, 1967, and is withdrawing in an orderly manner as rapidly as possible," the Pentagon said.

The withdrawal was being accomplished in a manner designed to avoid "degradation of the military posture of the alliance," a Defense Department spokesman said, adding that the armed forces were "knocking themselves out" to meet the De Gaulle deadline.

All troops and units will be out before April 1 and only an insignificant quantity of supplies possibly may not be removed it was said.

Heisman Trophy To Mean More Money for Winner

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Heisman Trophy isn't only going to decorate Steve Spurrier's mantle, it's going to enhance his bank account too.

Although the merger of the National and American Football Leagues nearly eliminates the huge bonuses paid to college stars in the past seven years, the acquisition of the Heisman Trophy Tuesday puts Spurrier in an ideal bargaining position with the team that drafts him.

"I know the pro football merger will cost me a lot of money," the Florida quarterback admitted, "but I don't intend for it to cost me that much. I think my value to a pro team remains the same as before. And before the merger, I figured if I had a good season, I'd be worth around $500,000. It would be a low blow to me if I had to sign for $75,000."

The 6-3, 203-pound son of a Presbyterian minister received more than twice as many votes as runner-up Bob Griese of Purdue, outpolling the All-America quarterback 1,679 to 816. Notre Dame's Nick Eddy placed third with 456 votes, while UCLA's Gary Beban finished fourth with 318, 22 more than Floyd Little of Syracuse.

"This is the greatest honor any college athlete could ever hope to win," Spurrier said. "I am happy for the college, for the state and for the South."

Griese sent Spurrier a congratulatory telegram for his award and "for a fine year in football," adding that he's "looking forward to seeing Spurrier in the Hula Bowl."

Florida Coach Ray Graves said, "It is a great honor for a southern boy to win this highest of amateur athletic awards. He certainly won it on his merit and his play. We're all proud of him."

Spurrier's high school coach Kermit Tipton revealed his protege "had defects, but he worked in the off-season to improve and that's one of the things that have made him the tremendous athlete he is today."

Bucks Catch Spur; Groom Plays Eagles In Friday Playoffs

By A Staff Writer
When Groom and White Deer charge into the first round of the class B and class A playoffs Friday night, it will be nothing new to either team.

Last year the Tigers were class B region II winners while White Deer advanced all the way to the finals of the class A state championship before being beaten.

But both face tough opponents Friday night, Groom in Chillicothe at Shamrock and White Deer in Spur, at Plainview.

Groom's opponent has a 9-1 record and are the winners of nine straight contests while the Tigers conquered Lefors easier than expected last week and have now won five straight games and boast a 6-3-1 season record.

Spur has only a tie to mark an 11-game schedule, that going to Petersburg, 21-21, which Spur won on penetrations.

The Bucks are unbeaten in 10 games and have given up just 20 points, an average of only two points per contest.

Spur has outscored the Bucks by 20 points but have played one game more than Sheril Bottoms gridders, who saw their defensive unit scored on for the first time this season last week.

Spur has given up just 78 points, taking out top-ranked Kress, 13-12 last week in bi-district action.

Groom and Chillicothe will be meeting in a bi-district clash Friday and should the Tigers win they play for the regional title the following Friday.

The Tigers have been plagued with injuries and lost starting end Bobby Goodlett last week in the Lefors contest.

This makes four starters, including both starting ends, a tackle and halfback, that coach Richard Eddleman, in his first year as Groom coach, has had to replace.

White Deer, who has had at least one starter out with injury every game, will be at full strength for the first time this season come Friday night.

It will be interesting to see just what the Bucks can do with everybody well.

White Deer has by far the most talented backs in the Panther handle in tailback Vernon Marlar, who has broken the 1,000 yardage barrier for the second straight season, quarterback

John Paul Guinn, halfback Randy Elliott and fullback Gary Smith, who will be playing in only his sixth game of the season.

Smith has gained over 600 yards in five games, and has played the entire contest in only two of those games.

Jerry Littlefield, 140 - pound halfback and senior quarterback Kyle Black, a 135-pound spear the Tigers attack on defense.

NAVY IS CHOICE
Irish Favored By 13 Points

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame are 13-point favorites to post their first unbeaten season since 1953 when they play Southern California this weekend, but the Irish could use all the points they can muster to regain their No. 1 spot in the national ratings.

A victory over Rose Bowl bound USC would give Ara Parseghian's troops their first undefeated season, with a 9-6-1 mark, since Frank Leahy's 1953 squad.

The annual service academy classic finds Navy a slim three-point choice over Army. The Midshipmen beat the Cadets 11-8 in 1964. The teams played a 7-7 tie last year.

Elsewhere around the country, several bowl-bound teams close out their seasons. No. 4 Nebraska is a six-point selection over Oklahoma on Thanksgiving day, as the Cornhuskers prepare for their match with Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

Bowl hopeful Texas is an eight pick over Texas A&M, and Virginia Tech is a 25-point choice over VMI in other Thursday games.

Georgia, No. 7, which will meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl, is a one-point choice over fifth ranked Georgia Tech. Florida, ranked ninth and Georgia Tech's opponent in the Orange Bowl, is a three-point pick over Miami, which has been invited to the Liberty Bowl against an unnamed opponent.

Tennessee, playing Vanderbilt and Mississippi, is rated 19 over Mississippi State. Southern Methodist is a six-point selection over Texas Christian.

In the other games, third-ranked Alabama is an off-the-board choice against Southern Mississippi. Virginia is two over North Carolina. Boston College two against Holy Cross. Baylor seven over Rice, Clemson eight against South Carolina and Florida State 14 over Maryland.

The Detroit Lions are three-point favorites over San Francisco and Dallas is three over Cleveland in Thursday's National Football League action. Buffalo is rated even with Oakland in the American Football League.

On Sunday, in the NFL, Green Bay is a six-point choice over Minnesota. St. Louis is seven over Pittsburgh, Baltimore is eight over Los Angeles, Chicago 17 over Atlanta, and Washington 19 over New York.

In the AFL, Kansas City is three over New York, Boston 11 over Miami and San Diego 12 over Denver.

NORTON WITH PACKERS
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Jerry Norton, a former Cardinal punter who retired from the National Football League after playing the 1964 season with the Green Bay Packers, worked out with St. Louis Tuesday as a possible punting specialist.

Norton averaged 42.2 yards per kick in his last season.

ROAD TRIP STARTS FRIDAY

Coyotes, Quannah Next

By RON CROSS Sports Editor
Pampa High School's cagers continued work on fundamentals and their defensive game in workouts Tuesday and Wednesday in preparation for Friday and Saturday games with Wichita Falls and Quannah. The Harvesters, fresh from an easy, 80-55 victory over Hereford, play Quannah, an AAA club, Saturday and catch Wichita Falls, one of the better 4-A teams on Friday night.

Pampa's Shockers, also 1-0, start the proceedings: both nights, playing Quannah at 6 p.m. Saturday and Wichita Falls at the same time Friday. The varsity games start at 8 p.m. both nights.

The Harvesters got the season off to a bang-bang start by hitting 42 per cent of their field goals Saturday and downing 22 of 26 from the line.

Coach Terry Culley used 12 players against Hereford and 9 of them scored while the Pampa defense held the Whitesides to only 16 of 56 from the floor.

Pampa hit seven of 14 in the first quarter but then cooled off getting only four of 16 in the second period, four of 14 in the third but coming back strong in the final quarter to rip the net 10 of 15 tries.

Hereford, who sported a senior club, didn't put much of a test to the Harvesters and Quannah isn't expected to, but Wichita Falls is a horse of a different color.

Quannah doesn't have a starter back and uses three juniors on the starting five with the tallest being center Gary Williams, a 6'4 junior who tallied 14 points last week in a 56-46 win over Boys Ranch.

The Coyotes, who opened the season with Sherman Tuesday night, have a veteran ball club and start five seniors, all returning lettermen and have two starters back from last season.

Wichita Falls is only average on size with two players hitting the 6'2 mark, one six-footer, one 5'11 and the other 5'8.

Culley started three juniors and two seniors, Steve Williams, the only starter from last year and Rick Foster, named Harvester-of-The-Week.

But it was junior George Bailey who stole the show, connecting on 11 of 17 from the floor and six of six from the free shot line for 28 points, a pretty good start for a boy in his first varsity game.

Actually all the starters turned in good performances with Williams hitting on four of nine from the field and winding up with 11 points. Foster hit five of 15 and tallied 17 points and center Carl Lang hit all five of his shots from the floor and had 12 points.

The other starting spot was divided between junior Jim Carlos, who tallied four points and senior John Braly, who did not scratch.

MacPhail No. 1 Baseball Man

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Lee MacPhail, administrator in the office of the baseball commissioner, headed the list of No. 1 men of the year in baseball, it was announced Wednesday by the Sporting News.

MacPhail, chosen in a poll of the general managers, was named the Executive of the Year in the major leagues.

MacPhail was honored for his accomplishments in effecting a smooth first year for William Eckert, the retired lieutenant general who succeeded Ford Frick as commissioner.

He also was cited for his previous work as president-general manager of the Baltimore Orioles in assembling most of the players who won the American League pennant and world championship last season.

The Sporting News, a national sports weekly, also chose Hank Manager of the Year and outfielder Frank Robinson of the Orioles as Player of the Year in the major leagues.

Bob Lemon, who won the Pacific Coast League pennant at Seattle, was named the manager of the year in the minor leagues. Mike Epstein, first baseman for Rochester in the International League, was picked as the Player of the Year. The Executives of the Year in the minor leagues, one for each classification, were Jack Quinn of Hawaii, Pacific Coast League, Class AAA; Tom Fleming of Evansville, Southern League, Class AA, and Cappy Harada of Lodi, California League, Class A.

Pressure for Red Trade

For reasons that escape us, President Johnson persists in his efforts to expand trade with Communist countries. In South Vietnam, we are warring with the Communists, and the enemy is being supported by Communists everywhere. But we are not at war with them. Perhaps that delicate distinction is the reason.

Romney To Make His Bid in '68

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The 1968 presidential bid of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney is clearly under way — and is getting significant help from many outside quarters.

Very shortly, a top Romney aide — Robert J. McIntosh, will be freed of his duties as head of the state Commerce Department so he can devote full time to tactics and strategy.

McIntosh, of course, has been busy at the Romney build-up for many months. Former GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall of New York will be used heavily from here on as a campaign consultant, though flat reports that he has been hired as "campaign manager" seem either incorrect or premature.

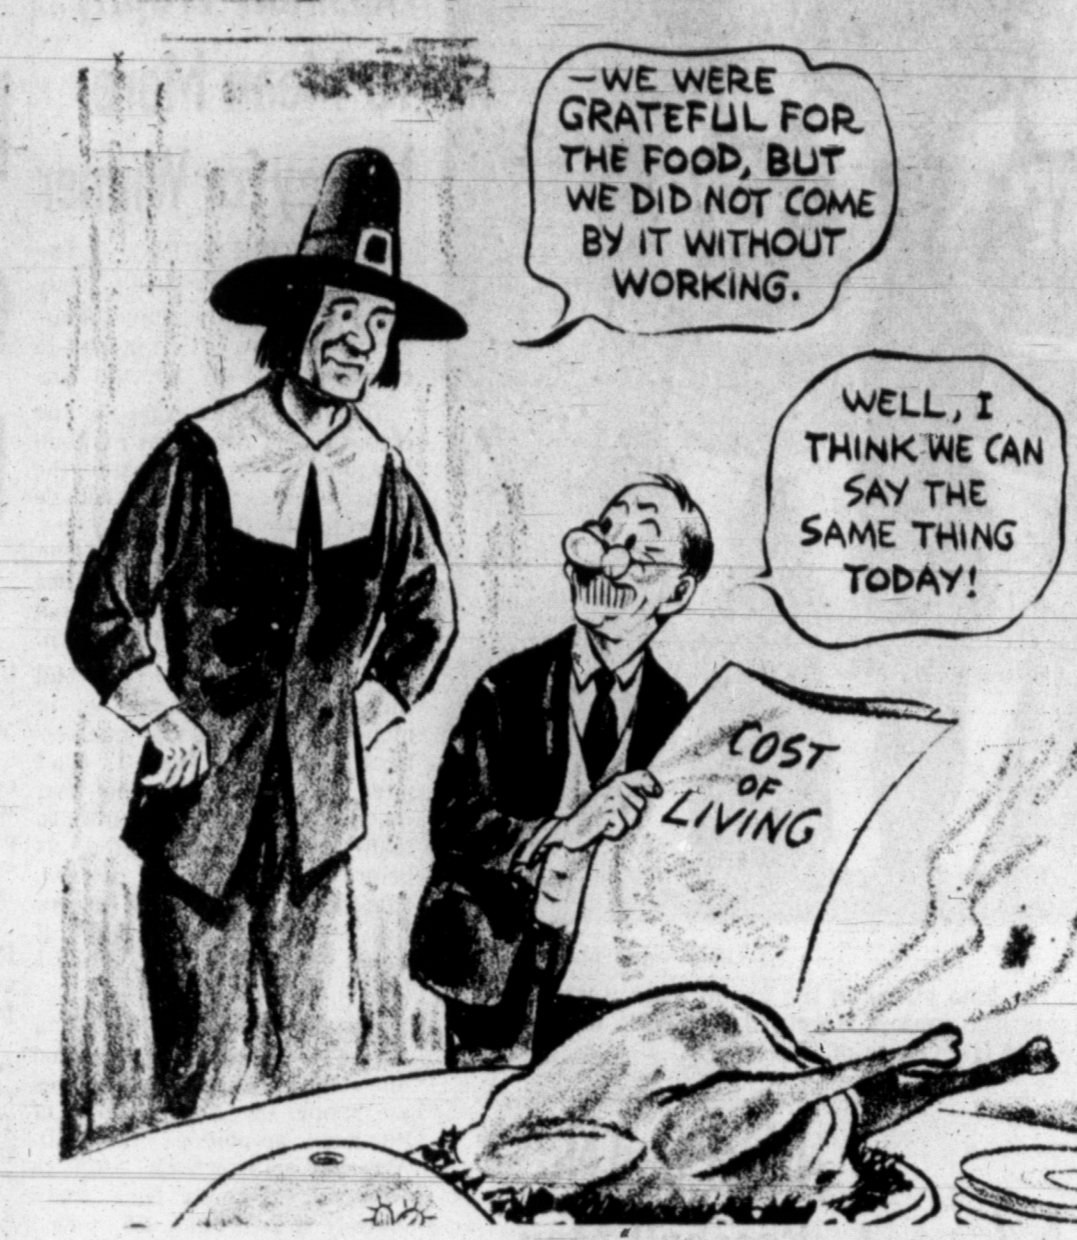

Hall, incidentally, is a natural ally, since he has close contacts with two of Romney's longtime Washington friends, J. Willard Marriott and Clifford Folger.

It is not clear at this stage who will take on the vital chore of hustling delegates. Hall often is spoken of in these terms, as he was in 1963-64, but he actually never has undertaken this labor. F. Clifton White, former Goldwater lieutenant, showed conclusively in 1964 that it could be managed brilliantly with out vast experience.

The Romney push is obviously not operating today at a full go-ahead, but reports from within the camp suggest the pace will quicken within a fortnight. Meantime, the governor, riding on his 570,000-vote victory and his big pull-in of other Michigan Republicans, is being thrust into the glare by other GOP moderates favorable to his candidacy.

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller long ago made plain he would be in the Romney corner this time. He voiced his interest anew in the aftermath of his own re-election. Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee joined Pennsylvania Sen. Hugh Scott in a favorable Romney comment they called an "assessment" but which had the heady whiff of endorsement.

GOP Leaders in Congress To Propose Package of Social Security Raises Before President's Message

WASHINGTON — House Republican leaders are planning to propose some extensive Social Security changes of their own in the incoming Congress. Sponsoring the move as a major anti-poverty measure, GOP members on the House Ways & Means Committee will vigorously seek to hike the minimum Social Security payment to $70 a month.

As now drafted, this proposal would add $26 to the present $44 monthly minimum. Minimum benefits for families would be raised to $66 to $106 a month. Scaled increases will also be advocated for all levels above these minimums up to maximum benefits, which would be kept at $168 for individuals and $368 for families.

These increases, to be offered before President Johnson makes his own proposals in the State of the Union message in January, are the principal recommendations in the Social Security package being prepared by the Republicans. The first was Pierre Salinger, who was press secretary to President Kennedy and stayed on when Johnson came in. Salinger left to run for the Senate.

The second was George Reedy, long-time Johnson assistant, who took over after Salinger and left because of need for surgery on his feet. FLASHES — Otto Otepka, who marked the third anniversary this month of his ouster as a State Department security officer, is no closer to a hearing than when he first began demanding one in November. While still on the department's payroll, Otepka has been given no work. Friends of Otepka have raised a legal defense fund of $13,000 to fight his case to the end.

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

If anyone asks you to define a polydipsomaniac, you can appear real smart if you tell them it's a fellow with a pathological thirst, not necessarily for alcoholic liquor. Doctors say some of them drink close to 100 pints of liquid a day. It's awesome to contemplate, but in his lifetime John D. Rockefeller, Sr. gave away an estimated $750 million. And if you examine his largesse, you'll find that all of it was given in an effort to better mankind. . . . A building contractor told us windows in new houses of the future will use a new kind of glass that transmits only about 20 per cent of the outside light and reflect the other 80 per cent like a mirror. He says the new glass can cut heating and cooling costs for the homeowner.

Today's smile: A friend advised a fellow in love: "You should keep telling her you are unworthy of her." "Why not?" asked the bewildered suitor. "Let it come to her as a surprise," was the reply. One of the greatest phenomena in the entertainment world is Maurice Chevalier. At 79 he is still packing the customers into his swank spots as New York's Waldorf Astoria; he's still starring in motion pictures; and he has sufficient appeal nationwide to warrant his own TV show whenever he cares to appear in that medium. Chevalier has parlayed a fair singing voice, a straw hat, a winning smile and a sparkling personality into one of the greatest stars in show biz. In our opinion he's one of the three best things this country ever got from France. The other two were Lafayette and the Statue of Liberty.

Thoughts while shaving: The commonest name in the U.S. is — you guessed it — Smith. There are more than 1,300,000 of them, as you can readily believe if you start thumbing through any big city phone book. . . . One of the sagest remarks we have come across recently was that of Harvard's noted philosopher, the late Alfred North Whitehead. He once said: "The art of progress is to preserve order amid change, and to preserve change amid order." Think that one over for a minute. And, while on the subject, you're missing something if you don't read "Dialogues with Alfred North Whitehead" by Lucien Price, now available in a paperback edition. . . . Watching the movie, "Six Bridges to Cross," on a TV late show recently recalled to us that the late Joseph Dineen, who wrote the film story about the Brink's robbery, made more money in one year just from writing about it. . . . The only U. S. President to become godfather to a member of the British royal family was Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was godfather to the infant son of the Duke of Kent, who was born on July 4, 1942. F. D. R. also had the distinction

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Discomforts of Diabetes Sometimes Can Be Avoided
Q — What is diabetic retinopathy? How is it detected and how can it be prevented?

A — This is a patchy destruction of the retina that is seen in some elderly diabetics. An eye doctor or diabetic specialist can see the lesions if he looks into the eye with a retinoscope. The best way to prevent this and other complications of diabetes is to keep the disease under as nearly perfect control as possible at all times. A recent report indicates that if diabetic retinopathy is recognized early in its course, removal of the pituitary gland will halt the damage. This operation cannot, however, be expected to restore already-damaged tissue.

Q — About a year ago I developed diabetes. I also have poor circulation. How can I prevent diabetic gangrene of the toes?

A — In addition to keeping your urine sugar free at all times you should keep your feet clean and warm. Wear warm socks but use a hot water bottle or electric pad with great caution because even a mild burn may open the door to infection. Avoid sitting with your legs crossed because this hampers the circulation in your feet. Avoid sitting for long periods without walking around. When convenient sit with your feet elevated on a stool. Disinfect any minor cuts or bruises of your feet promptly and thoroughly.

Q — I have been told I have mild diabetes and am taking a low-calorie diet. I am losing weight, although I don't need to. How much sugar can I eat each day?

A — This would depend on your body weight and how active you are. Your doctor can work out a diet for you that takes into account the calories supplied not only by sugars and starches but also by fats and proteins. If the amount of food you need to maintain your weight causes sugar to appear in your urine, you should take insulin or diabetic pills rather than reduce your food intake.

Q — I have been taking Melalari daily for four years. Would this cause my breathing to slow down?

A — This is not a common effect, but may be a part of the general depression and drowsiness produced by this tranquilizer. Anyone who is taking it should have a periodic examination for changes in the skin and retina.

Hunt for Truth

BY M. L. MUNT
TOO SLOW TO JUDGE

We have all often heard a man or a group of people condemned for being "too quick to judge." Very rarely nowadays do we hear anyone criticized for being too slow to judge. In today's climate of opinion, it is slowness to judge that should concern us more than anything else. Of course it is wrong to make a judgment without sufficient facts on which to base it, and without careful thought to review it in one's own mind. But it is equally wrong, and in the long run more dangerous, to refrain from making judgments because you are not sure what is right and what is wrong.

If enough people cease to judge, more and more will act on the assumption that right and wrong do not exist. They will do as they please, even if it means injury to others, safe in the assurance that few will condemn or seek to punish them. Right and wrong are not philosophical abstractions that can be debated endlessly in an ivory tower. These ideas alone make it possible for men to live among other men as men rather than beasts. Without a code of conduct, any society will soon collapse into savagery and anarchy.

Ideally, we would wait before making up our minds until every fact was known that could be relevant. Practically, we cannot afford to wait that long and all the facts are never known. We must learn enough to give us a sound basis for judgment. Then we must judge. If we fail, history will pass the judgment that our nation was unfit to survive.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—We read the network press releases:

—From CBS-TV: "John Leyton, costar of 'Jericho'... was a best-selling singer of rock-and-roll in England, although he says he is 'only' one step from being tone deaf."

We never knew in what form our blessings will appear, do we?

—From NBC-TV: "One reason Robert Loggia left New York for Hollywood and the starring role in 'T.E. Cat' is that British shows... pretty well dominated Broadway, causing Loggia to quip: 'The Redcoats have returned...'

He's a card, that Loggia.

—From CBS-TV: "Eva Gabor, costar of 'Green Acres'... dresses to increase her height. 'Most people are surprised,' she says, 'to learn that I'm only 5 feet 2 inches tall...'

And some people don't even care.

—From CBS-TV: "Douglas V. Fowley, grandpa on 'Pistols N Petticoats'... was rated 194 in an I.Q. test at the University of California at Los Angeles."

Which shows you where intelligence will get you in television.

—From NBC-TV: "Bob Hope's commencement address at Northwestern University may not have been the most profound ever delivered at the Big Ten brick bastion, but it probably got the most laughs..."

And that's what counts, after all, in a commencement address.

—From CBS-TV: "Martin Landau, recurring cast member on 'Mission: Impossible'... essayed the role of Hamlet in a school production. 'I might,' he says, 'think twice about playing him now...'

Try three times.

—From NBC-TV, in a release about the upcoming 'Hallmark Hall of Fame' production of 'Blithe Spirit': "According to 'Who's Who,' actress Ruth Gordon is 70 years old. Don't believe it! It simply isn't possible..."

It is, it is.

—From CBS-TV: "Mike Minor, newest cast regular on 'Petticoat Junction'... had his first professional singing job extended from two to 10 weeks."

And look at all the good it's done him.

—From NBC-TV, quoting Robert Vaughn of 'The Man From U.N.C.L.E.': "Once you realize that you are of no consequence in the infinite scheme of things, once you arrive at a lack of self-importance, then you are free to find your great importance in relationship to other people and things."

How's next week's episode, Vaughn?

EXPERT INSTALLATION is guaranteed at Ray's TV, 514 S. Cuyler, on antennas or a complete overhaul on your television, radio or stereo. Give them a call at MO 4-3079; you'll be glad you did.

A Good Television Antenna Can Mean Better Reception

Do you know you may be paying too much for your TV repairs? Your television, radio and stereo should be a source of entertainment, not a high bill burden.

At Ray's TV Service, you can get the best at the most reasonable prices. How can Ray do this? Because of his aim to do everything possible to keep the overhead down and pass the savings on to his customers. It doesn't take a fancy building or dozens of instruments to repair your TV, stereo or radio. Instead, it takes know-how, experience and training. This is what Ray's offers you. The lowest in prices at the highest quality level of service. All repairs carry a guarantee both on service and parts.

Ray's TV uses only exact replacement parts, recommended by the manufacturer. As an independent service shop, they can replace the fuzzy looking picture tube with any nationally known brand that you may desire. They replace with new or rebuilt picture tubes, depending upon their customer's wishes.

As an extra bonus to their customers, they specialize in antenna installation. They are equipped to handle any antenna job. It gives your set ill effects when hooked to a worn, half missing, out of date antenna. Before you buy your next antenna, black and white or color, give them a call at MO 4-3079. They will be glad to come out and install the latest design in electronic engineering.

Texan One of Three To Survive Assault of 400 North Vietnamese

ROSEBUD, Tex. (UPI) — Army Capt. Harold Wunsch, 28, of Rosebud, Tex. once got in trouble by tossing eggs at a group of high school students. He called for artillery fire Monday on his own troops in Viet Nam.

Wunsch and two others survived a 400-man Viet Cong assault that lasted four hours. It was beaten off when he gave the order to have his own position shelled.

"He always wanted to be a good soldier," his father, Frank Wunsch, 61, said Monday. "I reckon he's getting what he wanted."

"Harold was like a little banty rooster," schoolboy friend Harold Plocek recalled. "He was spirited for his size and he was always real gung ho as far as the military was concerned."

Another schoolmate, Cleve Sapp, also remembered Wunsch.

"Harold was a tough little guy—as a guard on the football team he had quite a reputation as a hitter. His old ROTC instructor at Tarleton State College, M. Sgt. B. G. Rutherford also remembered the captain:

"Harold was snappy. When he made a decision he stuck to it—in other words, he didn't act like a sophomore, but like you'd expect of a man of some age."

After two years at Tarleton, Wunsch transferred to Texas A&M where he graduated with a degree in agronomy and a commission as a second lieutenant.

He arrived in Viet Nam on the Fourth of July. He left his wife and five-year-old daughter in Ft. Benning, Ga. Folks in Rosebud, population about 2,200, however, remember Wunsch as a bit of a Hell-raiser.

"There wasn't much excitement going on in town," Sapp recalled. "The seniors were coming back from a class trip to Austin (the state capital) late one night and we decided to greet them when the buses arrived."

Sapp and Wunsch had eggs waiting. They hurled them at the bus—and got caught.

"They had to wash the bus and pay for cleaning bills."

"Could Sapp see his prankster pal a hero?"

"He would be the type of fellow who would do that," he replied.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International
The multitude of "Hubert Hoppers" divide naturally between those citizens who hope Hubert H. Humphrey will be dropped from the Democratic ticket in 1968 and those citizens who hope he will continue as vice president and in 1973 succeed Lyndon B. Johnson.

Speculation about Humphrey's future has generated more hot air than hot news. The imponderables of illness, health and death can intervene in any man's present or future. And so it could be with respect to Hubert Humphrey.

Apart from fate, however, there is one factor of unmatched influence on Humphrey's political future. That factor is the private preference of President Johnson. A President's power to make or break the political career of his vice president is absolute.

The vice presidency has come to be peculiarly a patronage job reserved to the President. LBJ picked Humphrey in 1964 with the casual confidence of a child plucking a grape. A presidential nominee picks his second man to strengthen the ticket nationally or in some doubtful area, as John F. Kennedy chose Johnson in 1960 to win votes in the South.

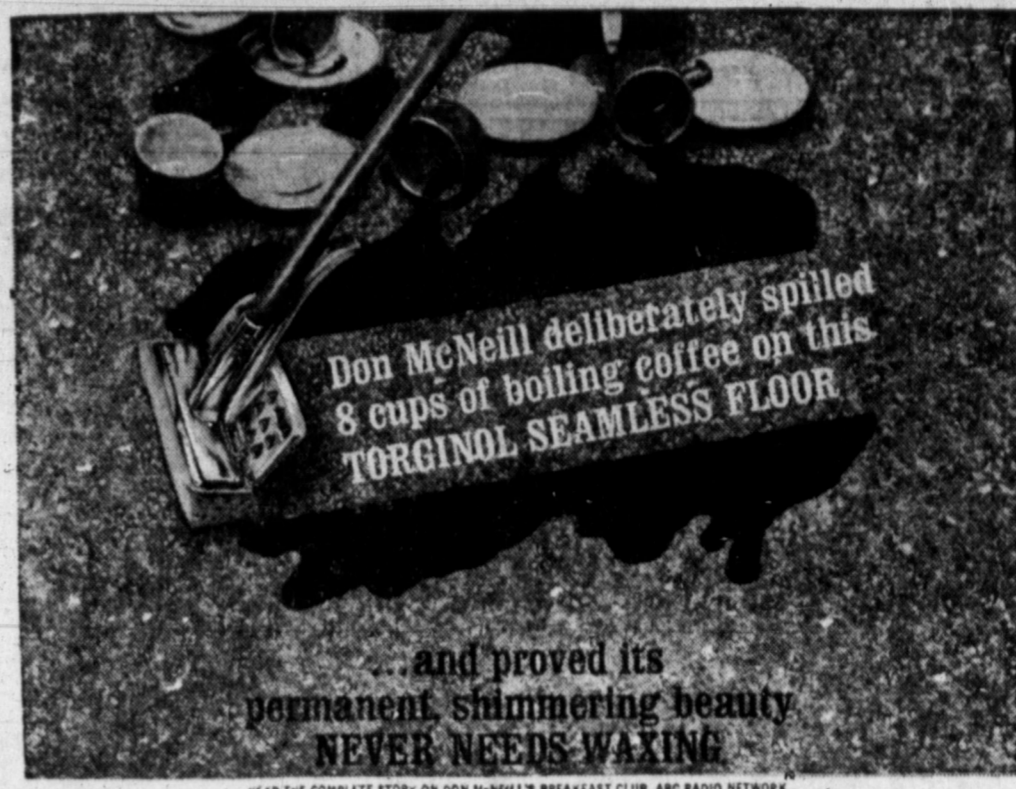

For Johnson in 1964, Humphrey represented bait for the liberal or left wing of the Democratic party structure where LBJ had been variously suspect or angrily disliked. The bait was not needed. The Republicans offered a conservative nominee on a conservative platform. Liberals had no choice in 1964 other than to vote for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket or to abstain.

Whether Humphrey remains on the Democratic ticket in 1968 or is dropped depends on whether LBJ believes he is likely to be an asset or a liability. It is a grim fact of politics that a President of the United States may indulge himself in gratitude only at his peril. It was the gratitude of a second rate President to his second rate associates that created the conditions which disgraced the administration of the late Warren G. Harding. Be that as it may, LBJ owes nothing to Humphrey because HHH was not needed in the 1964 presidential campaign to help the Democratic ticket.

The political situation could be different in 1968. As that presidential year approaches, President Johnson must determine whether Humphrey will tread the political red carpet or walk the political plank. The multiple question Johnson must answer in his own mind is this: Would Humphrey be a liability or an asset in 1968 and, if a liability, how much? It is reasonable to believe that as of now Humphrey is less a potential asset than he might have expected to be on the basis of his record in Minnesota and in the U.S. Senate.

Johnson requires a selfless deference from his hand-picked political associates which make these able men appear in the public image as apple polishers eager for the master's kind word.

An ambitious politician never would choose such a public image for himself. Humphrey has no option. Moreover, he has been hurt in comparison with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy who is outspokenly his own man.

JUST WIPE with a mop and Torginal sparkles like a diamond. Don't delay, discover today how inexpensive this space-age chemistry floor is. See Towles Tile; they will give your home a new look.

Torginal Is Latest Discovery In Versatile, Tough Flooring

Since man has learned to master the use of the wheel, he has continuously strived to become the supreme builder of monuments, vessels to sail the ocean and places for his family to reside. Our cave man ancestor of the past not completely satisfied with the bare, earthen floors, especially in the winter months, so he devised a makeshift rug from the hides of the animals grazing nearby. Then

Then came the illustrious pioneers of the American continent. When their feet touched the shores of America they started building their homes in the frontier fashion and much unlike anything they had seen in England. For England still maintained the old Roman-like stone floors and pillars of castles.

The wooden floors of the first Americans started the process of building newer and better things in flooring. When the winter storms pushed the northern blizzard into their midst, their floors were cold, but not like that of the English, Roman or their ancestral cave men.

In recent years, Torginal has proved to be the most versatile floor covering in the known world. It can be used for the interior, or exterior without any problems. Its uses spread into the hospital lobbies and any place where there is considerable traffic.

The personnel at Towles Tile is professionally trained to install this amazing flooring in your home. To obtain specialized house care, give them a call at MO 5-5075.

and let the experts from Rays T.V. repair their T.V. Expert workmanship at economical prices.

Dr. Karel Zlabek proposed in the latest issue of the Czech technical magazine —T-66" that a 210-mile tunnel be dug from southern Czechoslovakia to the Adriatic Sea at a cost of $2 billion.

It is 849 miles by highway from El Paso, Tex., in the state's western tip, to Orange at the eastern edge.

Public opinion polls record the shrinkage on Humphrey's stature.

He probably has lost his asset value as a vote getter. But there is not much evidence so far that he has become a liability. If that is a fair estimate of the situation, the friendly "Hubert Hoppers" are ahead thus far.

SO THEY SAY

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) —Bache & Co. feels the uncertainty over the necessity of a tax increase will have a strong bearing on the course of the market in the near future, despite signs of a slowing down of the economy. The company believes the market has made great progress since hitting its lows and says selling squalls should not be unexpected. It believes, however, that the market is in good condition to make further progress.

Newton D. Zinder of E. F. Hutton & Co. agrees that periodic selling spurs should be expected following recent sharp gains. He feels that the memory of the February-October selloff is still sharp and traders probably will still sell on the first sign of difficulty.

Alexander Hamilton Institute feels that the market's sensational recovery from October lows is a definite revival of investment confidence. It believes that the upswing gives reasonable proof that the low prices in October might have marked the termination of the general market decline, but that soft spots in the economy indicate further declines and consolidation are in store before resumption of a major upward climb.
