MERRY CHRISTMAS -- That was Pampa's greeting to 12 United Fund agencies as fund officials and drive chairmen met this forenoon for the announcement that the Fund had exceeded its 1966 goal of $78,000. In the photo are the campaign chairman, fund president and divisional leaders who spear-headed the drive. They are, standing, left to right, City Manager Jim White, Fred Neslage, fund president Ralph McKinney, E. E. Shelhamer and Dr. Joe Donaldson. Seated, Roy Bourland, drive chairman A. A. Schuneman and Gordon Lyons. Ed Myatt, a divisional chairman, was out of the city. After looking at his picture, the Pampa News photographer remarked that today's announcement was a perfect "reflection" of what Pampans can do. The highly polished table proves his point.

UN Negotiating Black Africans' Sanction Pleas

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United States today led Security Council members in private efforts to reconcile black African demands with the more moderate United Nations sanctions Britain seeks against Rhodesia. British and African sources said a compromise was likely, although not imminent. Any compromise would have to accommodate Britain's insistence against a naval blockade of southern Africa to meet African pleas for a total oil embargo. Britain also opposes an African-sought ban on Rhodesian coal exports because it is vital to neighboring Zambia's copper industry. South African Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster was pressing quietly outside the United Nations for a negotiated settlement of the 13-month-old dispute over independence for rebellious Rhodesia. South Africa has vowed to ignore any mandatory sanctions against the rebel colony.

'66 United Fund Tops Set Goal

Pampa's 1966 United Fund drive has exceeded its $78,000 goal, it was officially announced this forenoon at a meeting of fund officials and division chairmen in the First National Bank hospitality room. At the meeting, called by United Fund president Ralph McKinney, tribute was paid to the outstanding leadership of A. A. Schuneman as general drive chairman and to the six divisional chairmen who worked with him to spearhead the drive among volunteer workers and Pampa over the 100 per cent mark in raising the biggest United Fund quota the city ever has had. The divisional chairmen commended and honored at this forenoon's meeting were Fred Neslage, advance gifts; Ed Myatt, special gifts; Dr. Joe Donaldson, professional gifts; Gordon Lyons, general gifts; Roy Bourland, national firms, and Jim White, public employees. "With only a couple of thousand dollars short on the day we set for ending the drive," Schuneman said, "we felt certain we would go over our $78,000 goal when all reports were in. Today, we are happy to announce that the goal has been passed and there still are some additional contributions which we expect to receive." Fund president McKinney lauded Schuneman, the divisional leaders and fund workers for their part in the successful 1966 drive. "This year," McKinney said, "marked one of three years in which the goal was reached since the fund was established several years ago." "Surpassing our goal is a wonderful Christmas present for Pampa's Boy and Girl Scouts and other agencies which participate in the fund," he added. Schuneman expressed appreciation of the executive board to McKinney for his active role in this year's drive as United Fund president. Schuneman also read a telegram from Minor Huffman, executive drive director. It read: "Congratulations to you and your committee on the successful completion of this fall's campaign."

McKinney and Schuneman stated United Fund board members were agreed that reorganization of the drive this year with a professional director to handle detail work on a full (See UNITED FUND, Page 3)

Canada Haven for US Draft Dodgers

OTTAWA (UPI)—Does the United States have battalions of potential young soldiers escaping the draft in Canada? Some reports say there could be 3,000 draft dodgers in this conscription-free country. But sources in Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver and Ottawa said Tuesday there are nowhere near that many. A UPI poll of U.S. consular officials, immigration officials and groups dedicated to helping draft dodgers, indicated that there were perhaps 500 Americans—probably less—seeking to evade the draft by crossing into Canada. Opposition leader John Diefenbaker was disturbed enough about the reports Monday to ask Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson what his government's attitude was toward these Americans. Diefenbaker wanted to know how the government would treat draft dodgers when and if they applied for Canadian citizenship. Pearson replied in the House of Commons that each application for citizenship would be considered on its merits but he indicated that the fact an American evaded the draft would be weighed before citizenship was granted. Canadian External Affairs Minister Paul Martin said earlier this year that Canada does not feel under any obligation to send draft delinquents back to their draft boards, or the FBI. And an internal directive in the immigration department says there is no lawful basis to bar an American from entering Canada on the grounds that he is avoiding military service. "Canada does not encourage the admission of persons who are seeking to avoid military responsibility," the directive adds. An American Embassy official said the State Department would like Canada to send these people back," but he added: "We're certainly not going to come up here and beat the bush for a few malcontents."

Jackie Seeking Legal Action To Stop Publication of 'DeathBook'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Despite a threat of immediate court action by Mrs. John F. Kennedy, officials of Harper and Row and Cowles Communications said today William Manchester's "Death of the President" will be published as scheduled. The former First Lady is reportedly concerned about publication of intimate things she told Manchester in the belief that nothing would be published without her approval. Mrs. Kennedy told Manchester about such things as personal letters she wrote to her husband from Greece a month before he was killed. The late President's widow had a summons served on both publishing companies Tuesday notifying them of imminent court action to block publication of the book and its serialization in Look Magazine. Plan Wide Publication The book is scheduled to be published in hard cover next April 7. Look plans to begin publication of the serial version in the Jan. 21 issue, which goes on newsstands Jan. 10. Foreign serialization rights to the book have been sold to the London Sunday Times, Paris Match and periodicals in Germany and Italy. Ironically, Manchester was hand-picked by the Kennedy family to do the definitive writing on the assassination to prevent distortion and sensationalism. Close associates say that Mrs. Kennedy bared her innermost personal feelings to Manchester in about 10 hours of tape recording sessions. But Mrs. Kennedy believes she had an (See JACKIE, Page 3)

Drugs Are Only Chance to Stop Ruby's Cancer

DALLAS (UPI)—Jack Ruby is so thoroughly infected with cancer that drugs are his only chance, a medical specialist said Tuesday. Surgery and radiation have been ruled out as useless. Dr. Jack Barnett, assistant professor of internal medicine in the infectious diseases department at Southwest Medical School, all but said Ruby was doomed. Barnett denied Ruby's case was hopeless but said at a news conference:

"Cancer has been found in the lining of Ruby's chest, in addition to the lymph node on his neck, where it was originally discovered. Both lungs are filled with suspicious-looking nodules. —The cancer spread to these areas; doctors are still looking for the place it originated. —Exploratory surgery to find where the cancer started or surgery to fight it is out of the question. Radiation is ineffective in the type of cancer Ruby has and besides the cancer is too widespread for radiation to reach all of it. Chemotherapy (drugs) is the only treatment left, with surgery and radiation ruled out. Ruby is in a guarded room in Parkland Memorial Hospital, where President Kennedy was pronounced dead Nov. 22, 1963, and Lee Harvey Oswald died two days later. Ruby has been scheduled to go on trial a second time in February in Wichita Falls, Tex. on a charge of slaying Oswald.

Jets Bomb Near Hanoi

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist news agencies said U.S. planes bombed Hanoi today with the second massive air strike in two days and that Communist gunners shot down eight American planes. Hanoi ordered a series of Viet Cong revenge attacks which took a heavy toll of U.S. and Vietnamese lives in the South. The Communists were getting the propaganda jump on the United States by reporting air action the day it occurred. U.S. military spokesmen usually report such actions a day later and they had no comment on today's Communist reports which often are exaggerated.

U.S. spokesmen in Saigon denied Communist charges American planes hit the residential district of Hanoi proper Tuesday. They said the planes bracketed the North Vietnamese capital with attacks on oil storage areas, a truck park and a missile site, none closer than five miles.

The Communists said four planes were shot down Tuesday and eight today by dense anti-aircraft fire and missiles that filled the skies over Hanoi with black pluffs of smoke and shes of flame. The Russians shot at least one American plane was shot down today by a Soviet-built ground-to-air missile. Hanoi said many other planes were damaged today. Hanoi said one of the planes reported shot down today was a pilotless reconnaissance plane. The Communists said MIGs, missile and anti-aircraft guns threw up an "insurmountable barrage" over Hanoi today and "one American plane after another burst into flames in it." A Tass report said U.S. planes today fired rockets at a residential area where foreign embassies are located. An American spokesman in Saigon said MIGs Tuesday fired air-to-air missiles which missed but that one plane and its pilot were lost to ground fire. In one apparent revenge attack grenade hurling Communist guerrillas moving under cover of darkness attacked a U.S. Marine outpost on the outskirts of Chu Lai today and inflicted heavy casualties on the Americans before withdrawing usually runs about 45 men.

The seven-foot long biological laboratory was prepared for an afternoon launch (at 1:30 p.m. CST) atop a sleek Delta rocket. It was the last space shot on the cape's 1966 firing schedule. If everything goes as planned, the biosatellite will circle earth for three days in a 195-mile orbit and then send ship passengers diving toward recovery force near Hawaii Saturday in a 280-pound, air-conditioned capsule. The object of the intricate flight is to see how weightlessness alone, and the absence of gravity combined with radiation exposure, affect the growth, form and heredity of animals and plants. Recovery and study of the specimens is the key to the mission's success.

Large crowds are expected, Smith said, to see the spectacle and bring their children to participate. Free ride coupons can be obtained from Coronado Center merchants and no rides will be given without coupons. The coupons will be turned in to Santa's ticket-man for a numbered ride ticket. Groups will board the sleigh as their number is called. As many as 4200 children have ridden with Santa on the sleigh in a single day. Merchants who will give away the free ride coupons are: Duckwalls, C. R. Anthony's, Mulla Fashions, Coronado Men's Wear, Zale's, Montgomery Ward, Piggly Wiggly, Dunlaps, Jackson's Cafeteria, Coronado Conoco, Coston's Bakery, Center Barber Shop, 57 Cleaners, Lisa Wig Salon and Coronado Laundry.

Senator Proposes To Lengthen Truce

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield wants the United States to push for a "cease-fire and stand-fast" in the Vietnam war extending into early February.

"We have nothing to lose," the Montana Democrat said Tuesday. "All, hopefully, may have something to gain."

Mansfield outlined his proposal in a statement. He said it might be a timely counter-proposal to the two 48-hour holiday truces proposed by the Communists.

"Hopefully, the President's long-standing proposal for unconditional discussion or negotiation, in public or private, might be acted upon during this cessation in the fighting," he said. Johnson administration officials, most notably Secretary of State Dean Rusk, have said many times that a cease-fire and halt in the U.S. bombing raids on North Vietnam are the Communists' for the asking—if the Reds say or show what they will do in return.

U.S. military leaders here and in Vietnam are known to oppose any such cease-fire; they are not too happy about the upcoming holiday truces. They feel that allied troops and airmen are hurting the Communists badly and nothing would be gained by permitting the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong time to regroup and replenish supplies unimpeded by U.S. air strikes.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate military preparedness subcommittee, took much the same tack in a speech at Jackson, Miss., Tuesday night.

A pause in the bombing "would only serve to give the Communists another opportunity to rebuild their supply lines and facilities such as highways, bridges and railroads and to resupply their military forces. This could only result in increases in American casualties," Stennis said.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., newly returned from a five-day inspection trip to Vietnam, told President Johnson Tuesday hethought the air attacks on North Vietnam should be stepped up.

Coppolino Testifies For Own Defense In Murder Trial

FREEHOLD, N.J. (UPI)—Dr. Carl A. Coppolino testified in his own murder trial defense today that Mrs. Marjorie Farber refused pilot blank his demand that the ailing husband go to a hospital when he suffered a heart attack July 30, 1963.

Dr. Coppolino, 34, a slight man who spoke in light tones with a bit of a Brooklyn accent, was called by Defense Attorney F. Lee Bailey as the climax witness in an attempt to keep New Jersey from sending him to the electric chair.

Dr. Coppolino said both Col. William E. Farber, 32, the man he is accused of killing, and Mrs. Farber refused several times his request that the colonel be taken to Fort Monmouth where, as a retired officer, he would get free hospitalization.

He said he then told them he was "going to withdraw from the case and that I was going to ask that Mrs. Farber sign a release removing me from any responsibility."

He said that after a second visit to Farber that day, he took Mrs. Farber home with him and she signed a release which he wrote. The release has been entered in evidence as a surprise defense exhibit.

When Bailey showed it to him, Coppolino identified it as the one he had written.

Mrs. Farber, the state's star witness, had testified that Coppolino a hypnoist as well as a physician, had kept her in a two-year trance, had tried to get her to kill her husband and had himself killed Farber by pressing the heels of his hands onto a pillow over the colonel's face and neck.

Santa Will Take Children For Ride in Giant Sleigh

The old gentleman from the North Pole will bring his giant 30-foot "Worlds Largest Sleigh" to Pampa tomorrow to take the children for a ride. The big sleigh is bright red, trimmed in silver, and can accommodate 60 children on each ride, according to Dennis Smith, president of the Coronado Center Merchants Association. Six Shetland ponies, dressed in chrome-plated harness, bright red plumes and sleigh bells will pull the worlds largest sleigh. Coronado Center retail merchants, through a special arrangement with Santa Claus, will give away coupons which will enable the children to fulfill the dream of every child, to ride on the sleigh with Santa. The sleigh rides with Santa will start at 11 a.m. and continue until 7 p.m.

A personal interview by Santa with each child has also been arranged. Concealed speakers on the sleigh will broadcast each interview throughout the shopping center. Christmas music will be heard continuously in the background as Santa, his big sleigh loaded with happy children, rides through the center.

Miss Merry Christmas and a complete crew, all in costume, will accompany Santa on his visit here. Merry will be Santa's official hostess on the sleigh. Large crowds are expected, Smith said, to see the spectacle and bring their children to participate.

Free ride coupons can be obtained from Coronado Center merchants and no rides will be given without coupons. The coupons will be turned in to Santa's ticket-man for a numbered ride ticket. Groups will board the sleigh as their number is called. As many as 4200 children have ridden with Santa on the sleigh in a single day. Watkins Heads Top o' Texans

FEARLESS LEADER—Outgoing Top o' Texans president David Tucker and president for 1967 Vernon Watkins show that there's no hard feelings in either leaving or taking on the responsibilities of the post. Watkins was elected at the club's annual Ladies' Night Christmas party last night at the Coronado Inn.

Vernon L. Watkins, vice president of a local service company, was elected president of the Top o' Texans for 1967 at the group's annual ladies night Christmas party at the Coronado Inn last evening.

Jerald D. Sims, vice president of the First National Bank, was chosen treasurer and E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, was selected as secretary for the coming year.

The rousing gathering was kicked off with a dinner after an invocation by the Rev. J. W. Doke after which outgoing "fearless leader" David Tucker made introductions and reviewed Top o' Texans activities for the past year.

Members then unanimously agreed to a proposal to make Mrs. Inez Carter an honorary member of the organization.

Special vocal entertainment was then provided for members and guests by the We Three Trio, a high school group composed of Vicki Autry, Marilyn Milliron and Jean Prock and accompanied by Mrs. Maxine Milliron on the piano. E. E. Shelhamer, president of (See WATKINS, Page 3)

Pampa oilman George Cree, Jr. was named chairman of a 13 member petroleum advisory committee appointed by Representative-elect Bob Price at an organizational meeting of the group in Amarillo yesterday.

Price outlined the function of the committee.

"I want you to keep me advised of proposed legislation or needed legislation which affects your industry. The purpose of this committee is to keep me informed on the thinking of people who make their living in the petroleum industry."

Price explained that he will have numerous committees such as this to advise him on all facets of Panhandle life which might be affected by the federal government.

McHone To Get Science Honor Award

Michael McHone, a Pampa High School senior, was winner of the Bausch and Lomb Science Award in recognition of superior scientific aptitude, according to an announcement by Camerson Marsh, high school principal.

In announcing McHone as the 1967 winner, Marsh said, "These awards are especially significant. Today, everyone realizes the importance of the study of science in our secondary schools. This honorary science award provides recognition to senior students with the highest scholastic standing in science subjects."

The science award, a handsome bronze medal, is presented at graduation in more than 8,500 schools. Since its introduction in 1933, there have been 195,000 winners. These winners are eligible to compete for science scholarships at the University of Rochester. Stipends are based on need and have a total combined four-year value of about $50,000. The award winner is selected early so that his or her application for scholarship competition can be filled out and returned to the university before the Jan. 15 deadline.

United Fund (Continued From Page 1) time basis was a major factor in the drive's success.

"The people of Pampa," Schurman said, "also are to be complimented for their cooperation and generosity on a community-wide basis in this year's fund campaign."

McKinney stated that, with the 1966 reorganization plan for the United Fund turning out so successfully, it is expected the Pampa United Fund now is firmly rooted and will continue, with success in the years to come.

The fund president stated a full report on this year's campaign and of distribution of the money to the 12 participating agencies will be made at the annual meeting of the United Fund board of directors in January.

ZONE WINNER — David Martindale, left, Optimists' Young Texan of the Month for November, has advanced to zone winner. Presenting him a declaration of merit certificate and congratulating him is Mayor Jim Nation.

Martindale Gains Optimists Honor

David Lee Martindale, Pampa High School senior, was named Young Texan of the Month for Zone D, North Texas District, Optimist International, following his nomination by the local Optimists.

Mayor Jim Nation presented Martindale with a declaration of merit in acknowledgement of his leadership, citizenship and scholastic achievement.

As a zone winner, with competition from 10 clubs, Martindale's nomination will be submitted to district where it will enter competition with four other districts in Texas for district honor. This is another step toward being named Young Texan of the Month for the state and considered for a $2,000 scholarship.

The Pampa Optimists have one nominee for state honors, David Cain, who will be among 11 others in the state, who will be vying for the scholarships.

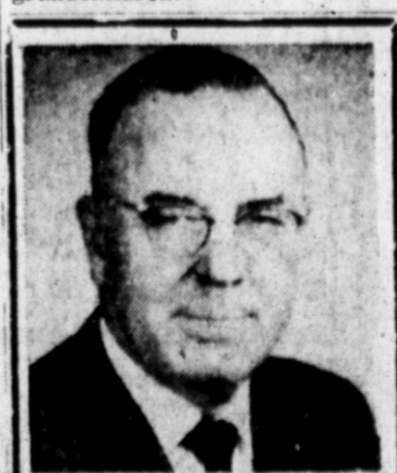

At the Optimists recent night meeting, Jim Morris of Southwestern Public Service presented a film on birth defects prepared by the March of Dimes Association.

Morris said while polio had abated, research foundations were not deserting this field, but had turned attention more to prevention and control of birth defects and arthritis. He urged members to support this year's drive.

R. L. Parsley, club president, announced that the Dec. 19 meeting will be Ladies Night. He said there would be no meetings on Dec. 26 or Jan. 2 due to the holidays.

Jaycees See Nucleus Of French Freedom Movement

Pampa Jaycees yesterday were told the meaning of freedom and what a captive people will do to gain it by Bob Izzard, Amarillo radio and television newscaster.

Izzard, who was shot down over France during a mission in World War II, took the Jaycees and their wives through enemy lines and introduced them to members of the French underground by way of a slide presentation at Tuesday's noon meeting.

As he flashed slides upon the screen, Izzard related the background of the locations and people involved.

He showed a small church that was the German nerve center of a vast subterranean defense network which included a seven-story deep concrete and reinforced steel building.

"All of this," he said, "was built by slave labor."

The French people, according to Izzard, could be forced to work 14 hours a day and were shot on sight if they violated the curfew.

Izzard recently revisited France and the people of the underground who helped him make his escape back to the Allied Forces.

He said having been lost behind enemy lines had given him a dual insight on conflicts that have taken place and are now taking place.

"There are 9,000 white crosses and stars of David," he pointed out, "at the site of the Normandy invasion."

Last year, he said, the United States lost 6,000 men in Vietnam.

"World War II resulted because the United States did not see or meet its responsibilities," he said. "We may prevent a bigger war today, because we have realized and are meeting our responsibilities."

Before Izzard spoke, Jaycee president Jake Webb commended members who made the Sunday Turkey Shoot a success.

Announcements were made concerning a Christmas dance for members and guests at 8 p.m. Saturday in Shriners Hall (the old Sportsman's Club).

Collecting barbed wire has become popular, says the National Geographic.

3 Nativity Scene Lighting Set for Tomorrow Night

Pampa's 19th annual ceremony of lighting the nativity scenes in Central Park will be performed at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Tru-Teens, Pampa High School girls' service club, are in charge of the program which will tell the story of the holy birth in word and song as each scene is lighted.

The Pampa High School A Cappella Choir will provide the musical background as Vicki Martin and Fred Brown narrate the story.

The lighting ceremony is performed annually sponsored by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Parks Department.

PRISCILLA'S POP

"Sealing your letter to Santa with a sweet kiss is fine, Priscilla—but don't forget the Christmas Seals!"

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — B.A.R.K., as you well know if you've been reading the toy store ads, stands for "Bond's Assault Raider Kit."

It's the latest in the .007 line of mayhem imulators and it is one of several toy guns, death rays and other ingenious weapons that my son wants for Christmas.

Imagine how surprised he will be when he wakes up Christmas morning and find that Santa Claus has brought him a T.T.P.P.K. instead.

You wouldn't have any way of knowing what that stands for. It is a new kind of toy I have just invented. I call it "Tiny Tim's Peace Promotion Kit."

The scene around the fireplace will, I imagine, run something like this:

"What's this thing?"
"That, my boy, is a peace kit."

"What do you do with it?"
"Well, it looks like an ordinary attack case. But actually it has several secret compartments. Under this false bottom, for instance, there is a battery powered, remote control other-check-turner."

"How does it work?"

"Suppose you get into a fuss with some kid and he takes a poke at you. You quickly press this button and it turns your other cheek."

"That doesn't sound like much fun to me."
"It will be after you get the hang of it."

"What else is in the kit?"
"Behind this sliding panel there is an electronic, transistorized 10-counter. If you get mad at anybody, you flip this switch and it will slowly count to 10."

"What good does that do?"
"You'll find out when you try it."

"Is that all there is in the kit?"
"No. Up here in the handle there is an automatic, pop-up tongue-biter. If someone says something you don't like, you turn this knob and it pops up and bites your tongue."

"What for?"
"That keeps you from saying something bad right back."

"What happens if you press the button, flip the switch and turn the knob all at the same time?"
"The bluebird of happiness will fly out and lay an egg in your beer."

Hanoi Boasts 100 New MIG Jet Fighters

SAIGON (UPI) — Russia has supplied Hanoi with 100 new MIG jet fighters, more than doubling the size of Communist North Vietnam's air force, it was disclosed today.

Informed sources said the Kremlin, which has provided the backbone of North Vietnam's growing ground and air defenses shipped the sleek fighter planes to the Hanoi regime in recent weeks.

The sources said the shipment included a mixture of the older MIG 19 jets, just about outdated now in Russia, and the latest delta-winged MIG 21s.

North Vietnam now has an estimated 200 MIGs—a mixture of the models 17, 19 and 21—on station, most of them apparently poised to battle U.S. fighters striking the Red River delta industrial complexes around Hanoi and Haiphong.

Air Force personnel at bases in South Vietnam and Thailand, as well as those aboard Navy aircraft carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin off the North Vietnamese coast, have been briefed to expect possible

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In Paris, a President Charles de Gaulle determined not to be outdone by his own welcome to Moscow, laid out the red carpet for visiting Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

A 21-gun salute greeted Kosygin upon his arrival, an honor traditionally reserved for heads of state.

In the course of events, De Gaulle broke another precedent by exchanging a reception at the Russian embassy. Then for a day he turned over to the Russians the magnificent forest of Rambouillet, the former hunting grounds of French kings, where Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko proved himself a better shot than his boss.

As De Gaulle and Kosygin exchanged their toasts, such words as "cooperation," "friendship," "partnership" and "traditional ties dripped from every phrase.

It was indeed a far cry from the time when the Soviets referred to De Gaulle as a "fascist beast" and the time in 1965 when the Russians broke their treaty of friendship with France over West Germany's entry into NATO.

In the end, a pleased De Gaulle confided to his aides, things are moving along the way they should.

But after the huzzahs and shouts were over, sober-minded Frenchmen wondered what, after all, had been accomplished.

In his determination to go it alone and build his own bridges to the East, De Gaulle was casting France upon a possibly dangerous path.

It was easy for the two leaders to deplore the United States presence in South Viet Nam, but it also appeared that neither had developed a fresh idea on how to bring the war to the conference table.

Outstanding in their joint statement was the pledge that the two would seek a united policy in all political, economic and scientific fields.

Specifically, the two pledged to coordinate their policies in the United Nations, which would mean that obstructionist tactics practiced by both now would be wed in a common stand against the United States.

'Simulator' Method Declared Best for Driver Education

AUSTIN — The "simulator" method of high school driver education outperforms conventional programs used in most Texas school systems, Houston Independent School District officials said here.

In a report to state officials on Houston's research of the Drivotrainer system, Donald M. Board, director of safety, said the method employing classroom movies and simulated cars enables schools to provide better training to more students at lower cost than is possible with standard cars only.

Findings of the Houston study were revealed at a special meeting in the State Ins. Bldg.

Houston Superintendent of Schools Glenn F. Fletcher said the experiment was primarily aimed at comparing administrative and educational aspects of the two instructional methods. In the study involving 1,803 Houston high school students, one group received part of its training on Drivotrainer installations at two Houston schools. A second group was enrolled in courses at six other city high schools without simulator installations.

Among highlights of the report cited by Board:

It is claimed the drivotrainer method, developed as a public service by a life insurance company, can accommodate 25 per cent more students than the regular method in which behind-the-wheel instruction is given only in cars on the road. An eight-car simulator unit can handle up to 160 students, 40 more than the regular method. This capacity in 12-car installations, common in many states, jumps to 180 students, 33 1/3 per cent higher.

Per-pupil cost of instruction averaged $47.56 with simulators, nearly one-third lower than the $69.33 average of the standard car program. Much of the savings is attributed to the greater number of students a driver education instructor can teach at ne time in the simulator program. (The simulator is not a total substitute for regular on-the-road training, but enables schools to substantially reduce the time spent in that expensive phase of the program.) Of simulator-trained students

City Mayors Make Bet Over Outcome of Sun Bowl

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI) — Mayor Russel C. Keck of Laramie has a bet with the mayor of Tallahassee, Fla., over his favorite football team. The mayor of El Paso, Tex., can hold the stakes, Keck said. Keck is betting on Wyoming which plays Florida State in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. In a telegram to the Florida mayor, Keck said: "On Dec. 24, the Indians of Florida State will meet the Cowboys of Wyoming in the Sun Bowl. "The odds makers and sports-writers have made the Indians the favorites. If you have ever watched the TV program 'Laramie,' the Cowboys always win. "As the mayor of Laramie,

I am surprised that the Cowboys are not heavily favored. "Therefore, I challenge you to a bet. I will bet a stuffed jackalope against a stuffed alligator that the Cowboys will win again."

Keck added: "The jackalope is a rare animal found only in Wyoming. Pictures and history of the jackalope will follow."

Christmas Belles Come in All Sizes

PRETTY HOLIDAY fashions are important to girls of any age. Paris decrees the "cage" for most festive occasions. Biascut white cotton organdy cage (left), brightly banded in red, shadows a red-and white cotton polka dot A-line dress. Bright white dots embroidered on chocolate brown Dacron and cotton voile (right) add up to a delectable holiday fashion. The smock dress is topped off with white organdy cuffs and collar. These designs are by Cinderella of Rosenau Brothers.

Fashion Gifts for Teenage Santas

NEW YORK — Give or get a fashion gift this Christmas. Anything from a sleeveless red pants suit windowpane in white to a bangle bracelet set with colored stones makes the perfect Christmas gift, according to the December SEVENTEEN. Some of the separates, lounge wear and jewelry to think about include:

Poinsettia red sportswear, such as patterned pants suits with lean legs; and a silk suit with red-on-white milles fleurs print blazer, and slim skirt with the print in reverse. The military air as the French see it now arrives in a longish scarlet wool sweater with buttons up top to one side, a belt swung low, and ribs from shoulder to hip; it goes over a tattersalled wool kilt.

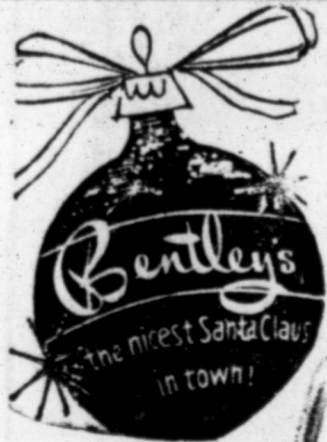

Robes that carry on with the red theme, in stripes of varying widths, harlequin diamonds and handkerchief prints.

Brilliant print versions of three top inside fashions: the mini-slip in glowing plaid, the smock-shaped robe in shocking pink dotted with white, and the Chesterfield robe in a brilliant orange-background surah print.

A Satin Shirt in brilliant stained glass print.

The Canned Dress — a little whim of a dress in an electric print, that tucks into a printed can and pops out like a travel pro. It's made of nylon jersey and comes in five sizzling prints and each toppable with a matching flapper hat.

Baubles and Bangles with bright, shiny stones. Bead or stone bangles range from narrow to wide; earrings star sparkling heart, circle or square drops; and pins include antique-looking squares and circles as well as a modern rhinestone "girl."

Dear Abby... Friendship Ceases At the Bus Stop

DEAR ABBY: Will you please comment on people who can afford to buy a car, but prefer to spend their money on European vacations and other luxuries? Yet, they expect their friends to provide them with taxi service. These same people never offer to buy a gallon of gas and should there be any accident, they would be the first to sue the owner of the car.

The driver has all the liability attached to safely transporting the passenger just the same as a taxi driver, but without the remuneration. How do you discourage people like this?

LA JOLLA
DEAR LA JOLLA: You "discourage" them by refusing to transport them. But don't expect a cordial relationship to follow. The habit of imposing upon friends is the bane, on the neck of friendship. And it is impossible to get rid of the boil without losing the patient.

DEAR ABBY: I am always getting blamed for the letters in your column written by women who hate cigarette smoke, so I thought I might as well get in my 2 cents and get the credit.

Is cigarette smoke as thick as fog in your home, ashes all over the place, and cigarette breath grounds for divorce? I know Winston's tastes good like a cigarette should, but my husband's kisses taste terrible. He wants kisses, and he knows how I feel about his cigarette breath, so why does he smoke?

HOLDING OUT
DEAR HOLDING: Your husband smokes, poor slave, because he can't kick the habit. I don't recommend the "hold out" system. He might turn to something (or someone) else.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to my first prom, and my date has invited me out for dinner. What should I order? Don't say to order whatever he does because I have to order first. My date isn't exactly poor, but he's not rich either. Please suggest something.

OUT OF IDEAS
DEAR OUT: Don't order the most expensive thing on the menu or you'll hurt his pocketbook. And don't order the cheapest thing on the menu or you'll hurt his feelings. Order a dinner because the salad, vegetable, beverage, and dessert usually come with it.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column of the girl who had been sent off to college with a whole new wardrobe, only to write home after two months that she needed more clothes because her boy friend had seen her in everything she owned. You advised her: mother to tell her to get a new boy friend and start over. Good for you!

Now, may I tell you a true story: Once there was a struggling young law student who became very much attracted to a very pretty little co-ed, but he noticed that every time he dated her she was wearing a different outfit. He soon realized that he could never afford to keep that girl in clothes, so he quit dating her before he got too involved. I was that man.

Flowers, Holly and Sleighs All Say 'Merry Christmas'

Combining fresh carnations and the more traditional holly is an old-yet-new Christmas decoration suggested for the holiday season by the Society of American Florists. Such a bouquet looks particularly appealing when it is arranged in a child's toy sleigh, the Society adds.

Every family has its own customs when it comes to flowers and plants for the Yuletide. Traditions are wonderful and help to build the feeling of continuity that is so important to happy family life. However, it is fun on occasion to vary traditions... to add just a little something new.

Decking the halls with boughs of holly has been told in song and story for centuries. Though never featured in a Christmas carol, carnations — those vivid, sweet-scented flowers — take

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR THURSDAY, DEC. 15
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite some delays and apparent obstacles which are blocking you in certain outlets you are able, by your own cleverness and ingenuity to get much done in modern life and enhance all aspects of your existence. The more inventions you use wisely now, the greater can be your success in pleasing friends, producing results.
ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Although problems and finances can be very upsetting, if you get in touch with your friends, they will help you solve sensibly. Stop grumbling. Become interested in some pleasant amusement tonight.
Taurus: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Avoid disgruntled pals and confer with a big wig who can help you to get into a very worthwhile outlet that brings success. You can then be of assistance to them, start upward by using ideas.
GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — If you want that progressive plan to work out nicely you must be active with persons whose background differs from yours. Sift your clearest ideas. Others follow.
MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — If you follow advice an authority gives you, you can improve your relationship with loved one and others important in your life. Follow that rather strange hunch you have now. It could just do the trick.
LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 23) — While you may not do too much actual work, the thoughts and ideas you have could easily increase success in the days ahead. Strive to cooperate more with allies. This could be just the thing that has been lacking in the past.
VIRGO: (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — You may very likely need new inventions, etc., in order to get the work ahead of you done in a very efficient manner. Get cooperation from fellow workers. Use your intuition to achieve this.
LIBRA: (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Be very enthusiastic about the recreation you want to get into in the days ahead and you find you can set up some wonderful times for yourself. Contact congenials now and do favors that are asked of you.
SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Endeavor to look honestly upon the ideas of kin which seem to differ so radically from your own. You may find that they really meet at divergent points. Go ahead with plans to solve problems.
SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — An ideal day for taking little jaunts, dabbling about making calls on trade, etc. Be active. You can give your business a real shot. Prepare salesmen to solve the ameliorated problems solved.
CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You are able to get finances and property improved. Possible delay. Get right on the team early in the day. That budgeting problems can be solved now to your satisfaction. Be more practical.
AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Ideal day and evening to be very active in both outside world and in social living so that you may be stilled forwardward.
PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Find best method for ridding yourself of unsatisfactory conditions around you and be more cooperative with boss who labor to your side. Be intuitive in future plans and you get excellent results.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
 he, or she will be an excellent associate as well as a able operative need alone. Be sure you give the finest combined course of education possible since there are many talents in this chart which should be expressed and potentially planning a life's work means having full flexibility of time and energy. Surely the humanities, the modern in science, etc. A wonderful success here.

Gardening News

By THELMA BRAY

Don't overlook the wide variety of garden-type gifts which can be given to family and friends for Christmas, such as a subscription to a good gardening magazine, trees, shrubs or other plants which can be obtained from local nurseries or florists, good garden tools, containers and materials for arranging flowers, and bird feeders of all kinds, which when placed in the right location, can be a source of real enjoyment for children as well as adults. If the desired bird feeder cannot be obtained locally, all gardening magazines advertise an inviting array to be ordered. Many inspiring books on flower arranging are available as well as how-to garden books, landscape design books, wild flower books and bird books for the bird watcher. The list is endless. It can also include garden furniture and a hammock (nothing is more relaxing).
 A horned owl has been seen around Pampa. The last report we had it was enjoying a large elm tree behind the Murray Sealey home.
 Fads in front door holiday decorations come and go, but the wreath remains, probably because there are so many different kinds that the possibilities are never exhausted. Wreaths can vary from the simple one of evergreens wired to a coat hanger frame and tied with a red ribbon to the elegance of elaborate Della Robbia wreath. The frame of a wreath may be made in several ways. If the wreath has a Styrofoam foundation, the decorations are wired onto florist's picks and stuck into the base. Chicken wire can be rolled to form the frame. Rattan wreaths or mats are also available. A thick cardboard was used by Louise Stephens recently on which were glued candy canes to form a most unusual wreath. To complete the peppermint wreath Louise attached a cluster of small, round peppermint candies which were wrapped in cellophane.
 One enchanting wreath made by Mrs. Raymond Wismer of New Jersey used a deep frame with a Madonna with Child centered in the wreath. The plant materials and artificial fruits used were in tones of pink, mauve, green, blue and rose. She used rose-wine straw flowers, pieces of dried bells-of-Ireland, mauve statice, wine cockscomb, California pepper berries, dried sweetheart roses and artificial grapes, blueberries and frosted cherries. To harmonize with both the Madonna and the materials of the wreath, the frame was edged with green velvet.
 Mrs. Wismer says to solve the problem of accumulating dust on the wreaths spray with a hair spray containing lanolin. To keep cut evergreen branches green place 2 tablespoons of sugar and 2 tablespoons of Clorox in a gallon of water in a glass or pottery container; insert stem ends of branches and leave for several days.
 To preserve the Christmas tree so that its needles will not drop before the holidays are over, remove bark on lower part of the trunk and chop the trunk some to allow for more absorption; then place trunk of tree in a large bucket of water to which one cup of sugar and one cup of clorox have been added.
 Cook artichokes in boiling salted water to which you've added some lemon juice or vinegar to preserve the choke's color and a little oil to make the leaves glossy. For 1 artichokes use 2 tablespoons of lemon juice and a tablespoon of oil.

Woodsmen Spare 'Largest' Tree

GRANT GROVE, Calif. (UPI) — "The nation's Christmas tree" is a towering Sequoia redwood that is believed to be the largest living thing in the world.
 It is estimated it would take three and one half miles of 'inset' and 3,000 light bulbs to decorate properly the 267-foot high General Grant Tree in Kings Canyon National Park.
 The state's monarch, which already was 30 centuries old when Christ was born, is the nation's only Christmas shrine. It was formally dedicated as "the nation's Christmas tree" two-year campaign was begun in 1926 by the U.S. Department of the Interior. Each year since, thousands have made the drive to the site of the tree in the Sierra Nevada range east of Fresno.
 The idea for the Christmas shrine came from a small child, who looked up at the towering redwood in 1923 and asked her mother how many lights it would take to decorate it. Her question was overheard, and a two-year campaign was begun to have the tree dedicated. After laundering, put clean towels at the bottom of the pile and rotate them in use so all parts of a set will "age" alike and continue to match. To save storage space, towels can be folded and then rolled, Navy style, instead of being stacked. A tuba, in the Philippines, means an alcoholic beverage made from fermented coconut sap.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"The Long Childhood of Timmy," an unexpectedly uplifting documentary about a mentally retarded nine-year-old boy and the rare maturity of his family, made for a beautiful hour on ABC-TV Tuesday night.

The essence of the true beauty of the program was the revelation of how young Timmy Loughlin's unfortunate situation did not merely bring kindness from his parents, sister and brothers, but resulted as well in the family broadening its horizons of humane understanding because of the challenge.

Timmy was shown with his family in their Manhattan home, and later at a special school for retarded children where he will spend the next eight years, and the hour used these two basic settings not only for emotional purposes, but to enlighten and educate the viewing audience in a mature way as well.

Script Effective
Susan Garfield's script was plain-spoken, effective and just right, as was E. G. Marshall's narration, and the hour, produced by Stephen Fleischman and directed by Nicholas Webster, never lost track of the essential dignity that every human being deserves a chance to get. With all the disgustingly commercial Christmas shows and ads being unleashed on radio and television, this hour may well turn out to be the closest to the true Christmas spirit of the season.

And after watching all of television's fictional families, who look as though they were just unwrapped from cellophane, it was a positive thrill to watch the Loughlins act with the natural togetherness that somehow seems associated with pre-television days. Perhaps there's a moral there. Perhaps if many of us had better things to do, we wouldn't waste so much time watching television.

Tough Competition
Unfortunately, "The Long Childhood of Timmy" was scheduled opposite two other special programs. One, CBS-TV's "The Supersonic Race," was a very workmanlike study of the attempts to revolutionize commercial air travel with those inevitable, incredibly fast flying machines. By coincidence, the other—NBC-TV's second new two-hour film of the season for its movie nights—was "Doomsday Flight," a Rod Serling melodrama about what happens when a bomb is planted on an airliner.

"Doomsday Flight" was one of those things with all the built-in squirms and wet-palms moments that has its occasional fascination even though you know all the clichés and all the stock characters by now, and despite the holes in the plot.

measures. The company believes a breakthrough of the 820-823 area of the Dow Jones industrial average would signal a near-term move to the 840-860 zone by year end.

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds & Co. says the current advance in the face of economic uncertainties would seem to lead to the conclusion that the economy and the stock market do not always move in the same direction. The analyst says an example would be the first quarter of this year when business news was good and the market lower.

GALLATIN HONORED
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Albert Gallatin, the Swiss immigrant who served as secretary of the treasury longer than any other man in U.S. history, will be honored by issuance of a new 1-cent stamp Jan. 30.

The Post Office Department said Tuesday first day ceremonies would be held at Gallatin, Mo., the town named for the nation's fourth treasury secretary.

Gallatin was appointed by President Thomas Jefferson in 1801 and served five years into the administration of President James Madison, resigning in 1814.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Edward A. Viner & Co. Inc., says the price-volume relationship, odd-lot transactions and the large short position suggest the usual year-end rally is now underway.

The company says if shots should panic, dramatic price rises could be seen in issues with large and numbers of shares sold short. The company feels, however, the many uncertainties facing the market will preclude a sustained upward trend.

Bache & Co. says the market already has adjusted to the changing economic trend and is now awaiting the improvement that could stem from less restrictive fiscal and monetary measures. The company believes a breakthrough of the 820-823 area of the Dow Jones industrial average would signal a near-term move to the 840-860 zone by year end.

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds & Co. says the current advance in the face of economic uncertainties would seem to lead to the conclusion that the economy and the stock market do not always move in the same direction. Udall Calls for Costs of Air Pollution

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall today called for a careful evaluation of the cost in fighting air pollution to avoid any adverse effects on the nation's economy.

"The cost of removing air contaminants (from fossil fuels) must be kept relatively low if the nation's energy costs will increase materially," Udall said in a prepared speech before the National Conference on Air Pollution.

The secretary's urging of caution in pollution control was in sharp contrast to the opening session of the conference

Monday where Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey warned of deadly perils involved unless the nation acts now.

The brightest hope for a breakthrough in sulfur control lies, at present, in removing the oxides from flue, or stack, gases at temperatures close to those at which the waste products of combustion are discharged into the atmosphere, Udall said.

But so far, he said, there is no process that has been proved applicable on an industrial scale.

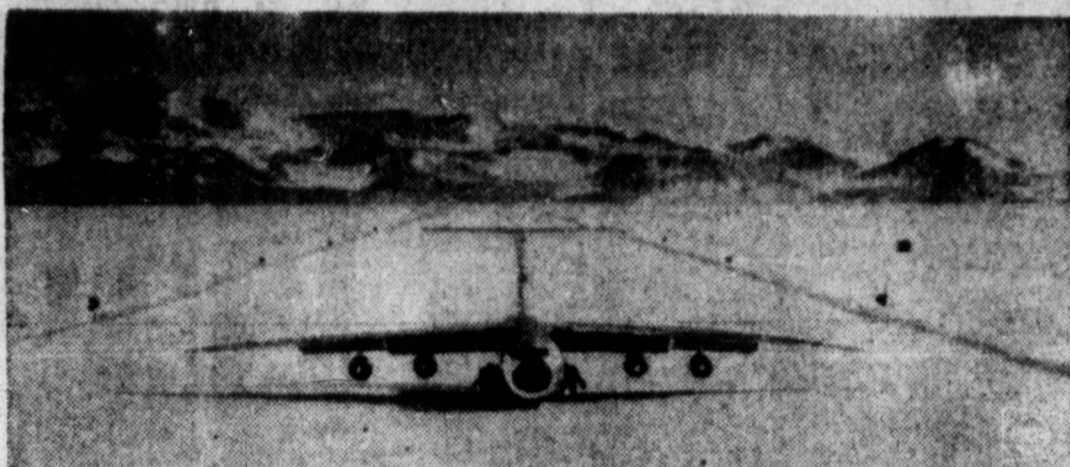

The conference, which opened with gloomy predictions that life on earth could be eliminated unless air pollution is brought under control, broke up into separate panel discussion groups today.

The nation's 94 million motor vehicles were indicted by participants at a motor vehicle session for providing nearly half of the 135 million tons of aerial garbage released into the air each year.

The conference was told the vehicle emissions, scheduled to begin late next year will not be enough to cope with the problem.

Kentucky Falls 64-55

By United Press International
Nothing may be finer than Dean Smith's team at Carolina. That little "ditty" isn't like to become a standard on the West Coast where top-ranked UCLA reigns supreme, but it figures to catch on in the South where a new champion is waiting to be crowned.

Young, talented North Carolina began impeachment proceedings against defending national title Kentucky Tuesday night by whipping the fourth-ranked Wildcats 64-55 on their own Lexington court.

Ranked eighth nationally entering the game, Carolina stamped itself as a versatile team with unlimited potential by setting the pace of the game and thoroughly dominating the quicker Kentucky team.

Employing only six players, four of them sophomores, Coach Smith utilized a deliberate offense to build a 35-25 halftime lead and thereafter the taller Tar Heels settled only for safe shots, exhibiting a poise and patience beyond their years.

Duke Scores Upset
Duke, Carolina's chief rival for Atlantic Coast Conference honors, recovered from the meetings with UCLA to defeat 11-ranked Vanderbilt 97-89 in a minor upset.

Fifth-ranked Louisville and ninth-ranked Kansas continued to roll unchecked through their schedules. Louisville blasted Tampa 107-55 and Kansas crushed Pacific 70-54. West

Junior High Teams Split

Pampa Junior High teams split games Tuesday with Lee ninth posting a victory and Pampa Junior High eighth coming out on top.

Lee ninth clipped Perryton, 52-48, behind Lewis Brantley's 14 points. John Jenkins added 10 and Hawkins 11 for the winners.

Lee led by 10 points at one time in the contest and had to hold off a Perryton rally.

Lee eighth fell to Perryton, 49-38 after leading by four points at one point in the game. Lee trailed only 20-17 at halftime.

Barry Kihnerman paced Lee with 14 points and Dan Hood hit 10. Larry O'Brian had 14 for Perryton.

Pampa Junior High ninth fell to Borger Houston, 48-42 while the eighth grade slayed the Houston group, 42-34 after leading at halftime 26-22.

Jim Warren paced PJH 9th with 15 points.

Mike Jordan poured in 20 points. Larry Yearwood 13 and Robert Morris eight for Pampa.

Jim Head with 13 and Larry Smith with 10 paced the Borger crew.

Thursday Pampa Junior High will host Perryton in two games while Lee travels to Dumas for a pair of league contests.

Virginia (No. 15) drubbed Richmond 103-75 and Boston College, 12th, blasted Harvard 99-81.

Noted mainly for its high scoring offense it led the nation in field goal percentage last season. Carolina did a superb defensive job on Kentucky's two All-America candidates, Pat Riley and Lou Dampier. Riley was held to two field goals and 10 points before fouling out and Dampier managed only eight points as the Wildcats shot a sone-cold 30.6 per cent in the first half.

Larry Miller, a muscular 6-3 junior, scored 24 points for the Tar Heels.

Free Throws Aid Longhorns

By United Press International
Texas, looking more like a Southwest Conference challenger every game, beat Howard Payne 85-82 Tuesday night after a slow start as the SWC compiled a 2-1 record against non-conference teams.

Texas A&M won its first game of the season by edging Stephen F. Austin 78-76, but Oklahoma defeated Texas Tech 94-79.

Texas trailed 43-41 at half time, but sank 20 consecutive free throws in the second half to pull ahead.

Six Longhorns scored in double figures. Gary Overbeck led with 16, while Noel S'out and Charlie Turnbough each had 15.

McCormick Goes Back to Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Who ever thought Mike McCormick would be pitching again for the San Francisco Giants?

The deal was made to strengthen our left-handed pitching," a club spokesman said.

McCormick, after a session at Baltimore and Rochester of the International League, was sold to Washington in April, 1965. It was at that point that he began to find himself.

He posted an 8-8 mark for manager Gil Hodges of the Senators that year and in 1966 hurled 216 frames while winning 11 and losing 14. These were the most innings he turned in since 1961 when he went 250 for a 13-16 record with the Giants.

In the past, Mike has credited his comeback to the curing of tendonitis in his left shoulder and the fact that Hodges "made me feel really wanted on the club."

Priddy, who was obtained in February, 1965, from Pittsburgh, had a 6-3 mark during the past season in relief and currently is playing in the Caribbean area. Peterson, a product of the Giants' farm system, batted .237 in 1966, mainly as a pinch hitter. He hit two homers and drove across 19 runs.

Turnbough's 15-foot jumper with 1:38 left gave Texas the lead for good after the game was tied nine times, and the lead changed hands 11 times.

Dan Smith led Howard Payne with 26 points. Mike Gibbs had 12 and Pete Zuniga 11.

S. F. Austin, undefeated in seven contests going into the A&M game, tied the score at 72-72 before the Aggies took the lead for good. A&M had gotten off to a fast start and led 37-29 at the half.

Ronnie Peret, who fouled with 3:33 left, led the Aggies with 18 points and nine rebounds. Sonny Benefield and Larry Ditto scored 12 each.

A 6-11 freshman, George Johnson, was high for the S.F. Austin Lumberjacks with 13 points and 13 rebounds. He fouled out with 2:21 left.

Tech ran into hot shooting in Norman, Okla., as Oklahoma hit 62 per cent of its field goal shots.

The Sooners led 49-38 at the half, but Tech used a full-court press to cut the lead twice in the second half to eight points.

Oklahoma's Don Sidle led all scorers with 28 points. Jimmy Fullerton paced the Red Raiders with 17.

Tonight, Rice returns to action by hosting the two-day bluebonnet Basketball Classic. The University of Houston and Centenary play in the opening game at 7 p.m., while Rice meets Idaho State at 9 p.m.

BRITISHER WINS
WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng. (UPI) — Jack Bodell, 202 1-2, of Britain, stopped Bob Stalling, 196, of New York, in the seventh round of a roughhouse heavyweight bout Tuesday night.

Referee Chris Maggs stopped the brawl at 2:40 of the seventh round, deciding Bodell was far ahead on points and Stalling was incapable of landing a knockout punch.

Pampa Rolls To 10th In A Row

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

Pampa got all they needed in the first half Tuesday night as the Harvesters swept to their second district 3-4A victory in two outings and 10th straight season win.

Pampa ripped non-hitting Plainview, 67-48 and remained tied with Amarillo, Caprock, and Tascosa for the first half district lead.

The Harvesters 'Big Four' of Steve Williams, George Bailey, Rick Foster and Bo Lang paced the victory, all hitting in double figures as the Harvesters built up a 44-19 first half lead and coasted along in the second two periods.

Pampa meets Monterey (1-1) Friday in Lubbock in what should prove a stiff test for coach Terry Culley's junior laden squad.

Pampa had its best night of the season from the field, especially in the first half, the Harvesters connected on 26-of 47 field goal attempts, for 55.3 per cent and hit 17 of 26 in the first half.

Plainview outscored Pampa, 29-23 in the final two periods but Culley substituted at will giving everybody a chance to see action.

For Plainview it was a case of 'Can't hit' while Pampa had a case of 'Couldn't Miss' with Bailey leading the scoring with 21. Foster added 16, and Williams and Lang contributed 13 each.

Colen Coe paced the Bulldogs, now 6-7 for the season and 1-1 in league play, with 13 points, and Tim Lane and Kenny Redin had 12 each.

Plainview tied briefly at 1-0 before Pampa tied it and went ahead at 2-1 on a pair of free shots by Steve Williams.

Free shots are the only thing that saved the Bulldogs from complete disaster, they had 11 from the charity line in the first half while goaling only four times.

Pampa led 9-2 with 5:20 left in the first period and 16-6 with 1:40 to go when Coe made the Bulldogs first basket of the game.

The Harvesters closed out the period with a 20-10 lead.

The second quarter was even worse for Plainview with Lane getting the only Bulldog basket in that period, 3:30 from the end and that made the score 36-17.

But Plainview poured in five straight points after intermission to cut Pampa's bulge to 44-24 with six minutes to go.

The Harvesters caught fire again and pushed the margin to 50-24 with 4:35 left and led by 20 at 50-30 just 1:45 from the end.

Plainview cut Pampa's margin to 18 twice in the final period, at 58-40 with 5:50 left and 63-45 just 3:30 from the final gun.

Pampa hit 15 of 22 from the charity line and was whistled under 17 times while Plainview hit 14 of 19 from the free shot line and 17 of 35 fieldgoal attempts.

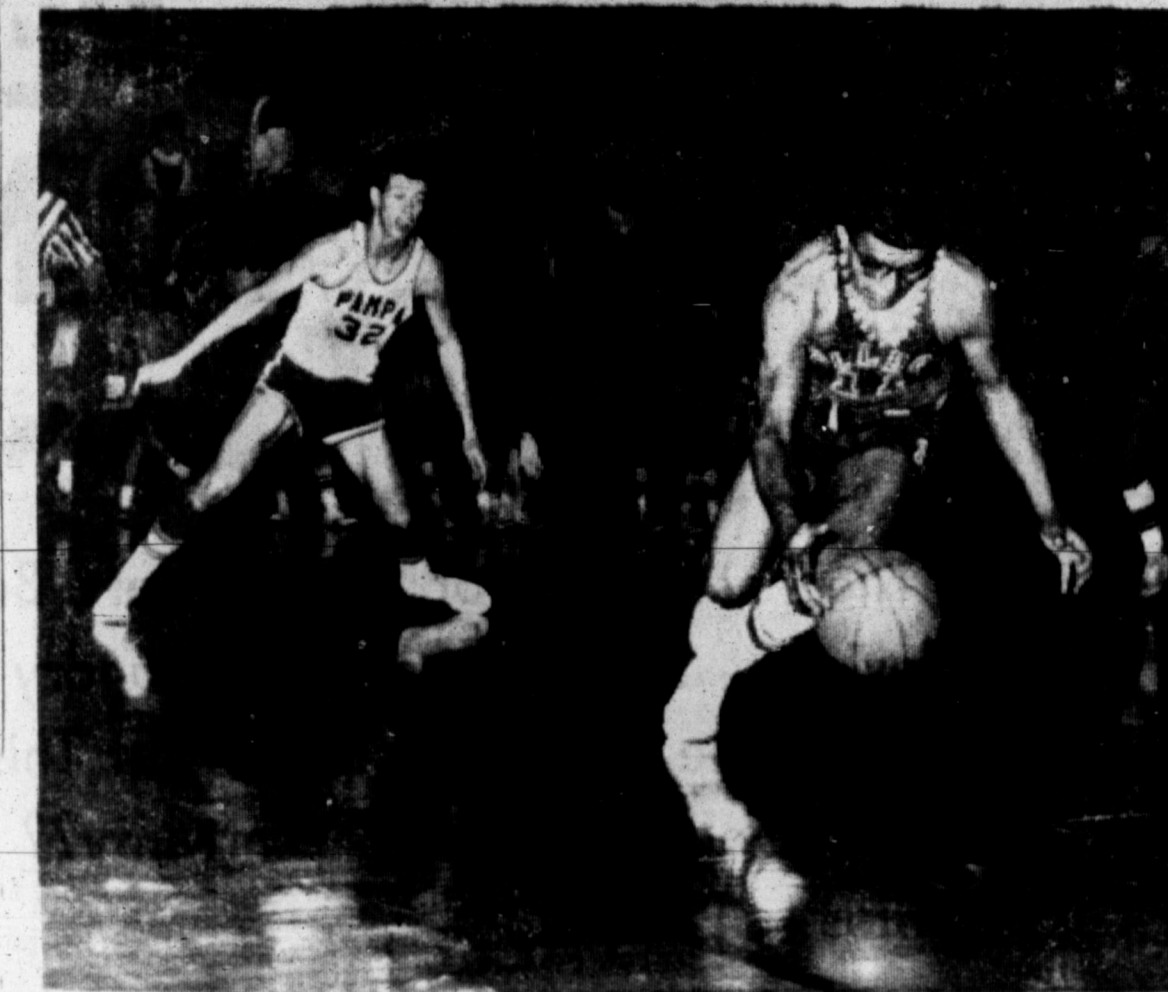

In a game between the two schools C teams Pampa romped to a 45-31 victory with Sugar Mathis and Jay Johnson pumping in 11 points each and Chris Gambolin, 10.

In the B contest Bill Brown's Shockers rode to their ninth win in 10 outings with an easy 59-46 victory.

Jim Hollis paced the Shocks with 34 points, his highest output of the season.

WATCH HIM DRIBBLE — Plainview's Vincent Barron (11) puts on a show in dribbling for fans at the Pampa-Plainview game Tuesday night while George Bailey (32) watches. Pampa won the game, 67-48.

Billy No. 1 Money Winner

NEW YORK (UPI) — Calmly but firmly, the same quiet way he does everything, Billy Casper er lets you know exactly how he feels about a budding controversy over money involving him and Arnold Palmer.

And without getting stuffy about it, he feels he, and not Palmer, is the rightful No. 1 money winner of the year.

So does the Professional Golfers Association and that ought to be good enough but where the hitch arises is that Casper won $121,944 in official earnings and a total of $145,723 while Palmer collected only $154,692 officially but a total of $154,692.

Only the other day, Casper's business manager, Wally Dill, noticed a reference in a newspaper to Palmer as "golf's money leader for the year" and Dill casually mentioned it to the 35-year-old U.S. Open champion.

"By the way," he said to Casper, "did you see in the paper where you ended up second in money winnings, unofficially that is?"

Not First Time

"Well it isn't the first time," his client replied.

Casper laughed when he answered Dill, but he wasn't smiling when the same subject came up again here.

"Apparently, there's some kind of double standard,"

Casper said pointedly. "I recall that in 1958 Palmer was first in official money but I won something like $10,000 or $12,000 more than him when it came to a grand total."

"Everyone said he was number one then, they didn't say I was. So things have changed now, have they? All I know is that one of my goals was to become the leading money winner some year and I feel I accomplished the goal this year."

Actually, the whole thing is academic because golfers like Casper, Palmer and Jack Nicklaus all make much more off the course than they do on it, but there is always that matter of professional pride and Casper can't really be blamed for feeling the way he does.

The popular, easygoing Californian, who quietly was ordained an elder in the Mormon Church last Sunday, no longer has to play golf for a living if he doesn't choose.

"He could quit right now and be financially fixed for life," points out Dill, a man who ought to know.

Casper, the one-time chubby boy of the circuit, isn't hungry anymore. That goes not only for food but also for personal finances.

"I played in 29 events this year and I guess it'll be about the same next year," he said. "I'm going to defend my championship in the San Diego Open next month and I'm planning to play in the Philippines in February. Right now, though, I'm relaxing."

No Time Out

For those curious about the way Casper relaxes, here's a sample:

He caught a midnight plane from San Diego Sunday and arrived here early Monday morning for a business conference with Dill. Two other business appointments followed after which Casper carefully examined and tried on a new line of golf rain jackets he will endorse.

Then he conferred with real estate people about buying property in Chatham Township, N.J., attended a special news conference, dined in the barber to have his hair cut and grabbed a corned beef sandwich on the fly. He was on the phone a good part of the day and later in the evening he was a guest at a local dinner.

Casper ordinarily gets up 6:30 every morning. He usually puts in a 16-hour day.

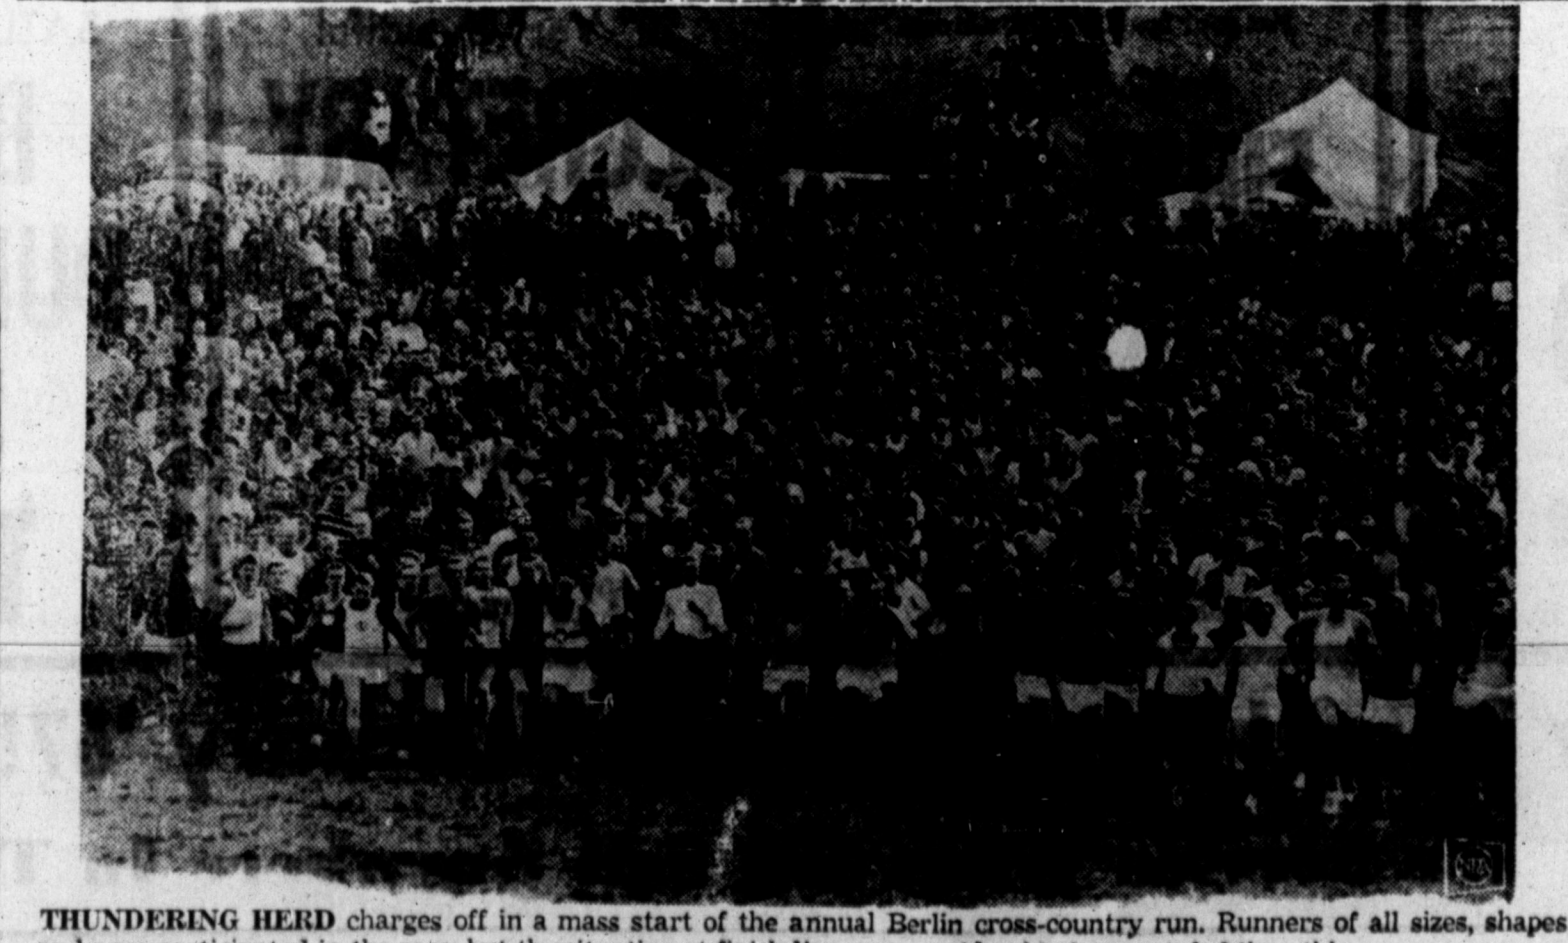

Now that's what you call real relaxing.

Super Bowl To Be Played in LA

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Super Bowl, pro football's prize plum, will be assured of unique exposure when the National and American Football League champions meet at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum Jan. 13.

NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle, in announcing the date of the long-awaited title clash Tuesday, said the game will be broadcast jointly by the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company. The contest will begin at 5 p.m. CST and will reach a potential home audience of more than 60 million people.

The American League has been in existence since 1960 but it wasn't until a sudden merger with the NFL last summer that a game between the two league champions was made possible.

Good Financing
From a financial standpoint, none of the owners in either league have reason to regret the establishment of the Super Bowl. Nor do the players.

East network will pay $1 million for the single broadcast and, under terms of the agreement reached Tuesday, the networks will pay a total of $9.5 million over a four-year period.

CBS will have exclusive rights to televise the second and fourth games of what is to become an annual affair in January of 1968 and 1970. The 1966 game will be broadcast exclusively by NBC.

Rozelle said that the rights fee for each exclusive broadcast will be $2.5 million, a record for a one-day sports event.

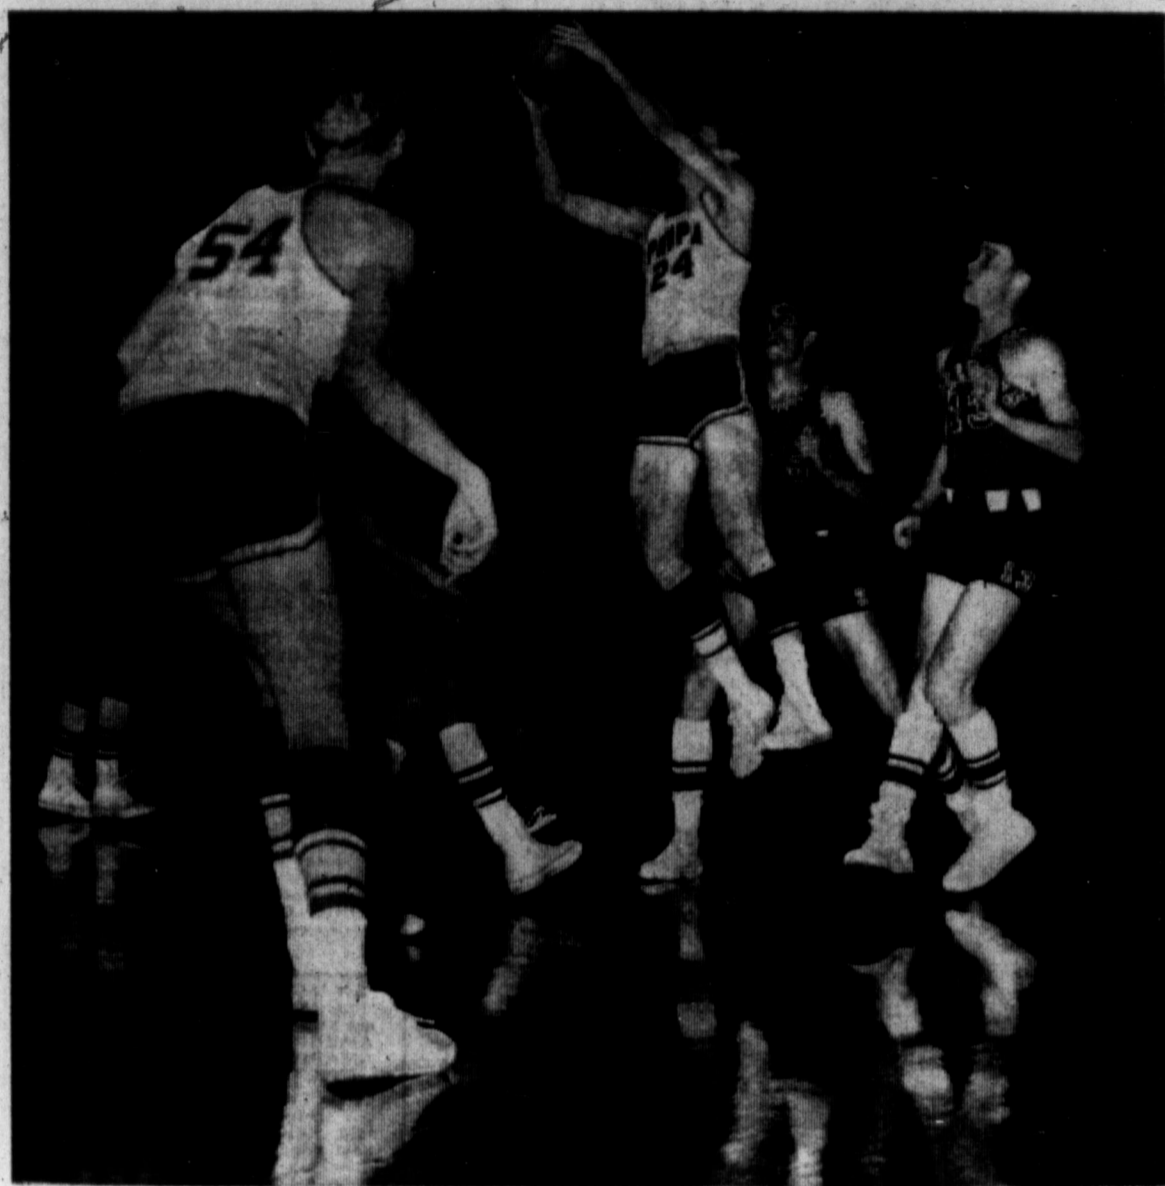

The players also will benefit munificently as each member of the winning Super Bowl team will receive $15,000 with the losing team players in line for $7,500 each.

Rozelle also announced the rescheduling of the NFL and AFL All Star games. The NFL Pro Bowl, originally listed for Jan. 15 at the Los Angeles Coliseum, has been moved to Jan. 22 and the American League All Star game in the Oakland Coliseum has been shifted from Jan. 14 to Jan. 21.

Dates Moved
Both league championship games will be played on New Year's Day although the AFL title match previously was scheduled for Dec. 26. The change will allow the two league champions an equal time to prepare for the Super Bowl.

The championship game of the NFL will be played in the park of the Eastern Division winner. Dallas has clinched at least a tie for the division title although St. Louis still has a chance to pull even and force a playoff. The Green Bay Packers will represent the Western Division.

The American League title game also will be played in the East, where Boston currently holds a half-game edge over Buffalo. The Kansas City Chiefs have clinched the Western crown.

ON THE REBOUND — Steve Williams (24) grabs off a rebound Tuesday night in Pampa's 67-48 victory over Plainview in a district 3-4A contest. Bo Lang (54) watches the action as does Plainview's Jack Williams (13) and Bryan Fagan (25).

The Bucks led 12-10 after one period, fell behind 20-18 at the half and came back for a 32-30 third quarter lead. Bobby Rapp paced the Bucks with 18 while Archie Smith paced Clarendon with 15.

LaGrone Day

Reset Jan. 14

BORGER (UPI) — Plans for a "John LaGrone Day" in his home town of Borger have been delayed because the Southern Methodist University middle guard will be going to the Hula Bowl in Honolulu.

The event had been planned for Jan. 7, but sponsors announced Tuesday it would be moved back to Jan. 14.

LaGrone, a former all-state lineman at Borger High, was invited to the Hula Bowl and would be unable to be in Texas on the original date.

The 1962 Borger team that made it to the state Class AAAA finals will also hold a reunion Jan. 14.

SMU coach Hayden Fry and LaGrone's high school coach, Gene Mayfield, will speak at the banquet. Mayfield is now at Odessa Permian.

Bud Blasts Brundage

By BUD WILKINSON

If it weren't so tragic, it would be a comic opera. He is an American, saying what they want said about our amateur athletic programs. Of all the systems in the world used to support amateur athletic endeavors, he singles out the American college scholarship as the only flagrant abuse of the amateur code.

It is all right with him that Russian athletes work for the state, and that all the good ones happen to work in the same place and spend most of their time practicing. It's all right with him that Italy supports its efforts with a national lottery. It is not too difficult to understand how he got there, or why he is permitted to remain. He is elected by his Olympic cohorts from around the world. In the eyes of most of them, he is the perfect choice.

On The Sports Front

of the NCAA, Walter Byers said that perhaps 90 per cent of our Olympic gold medal winners since World War II had received scholarships.

Brundage said if that's the case, then the athlete and the men who also sign his entry blank must have lied in certifying he is an amateur. He asked, "Will the United States Olympic Committee clean house or will there be an international investigation as a result of this admission?"

It wasn't an admission at all. The world long has known of our scholarship system, and generally has accepted it. Our ideological enemies have protested, and this is understandable. Brundage's reasons are easily understood. It must be presumed that he is a wealthy man who simply refuses to recognize and accept social evolution.

He is a product of an era when amateur athletics were the prerogative of the privileged few. It took wealth to pay one's equipment and training expenses, together with the cost of travel to the scene of competition. Personal wealth, plus the negligible income tax structure of the day, enabled a relatively few parents to finance their children's athletic competition. Also, we have "easily increased college enrollments and much more leisure time. Thus we have the ingredients for broadened athletic opportunities for our young people — except that few parents can afford to pay the bills.

Our colleges have greatly expanded their scholarship awards for all types of talented youngsters. Through their athletic programs built on the scholarship system, they are doing now for the many what wealthy parents once did for the very few. Opportunity is all our athletes seek. Over the years, they have moved to the world it is all they need.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Leading From The Rear

The team of Gilbert and Sullivan created a famous character, the Duke of Plaza Roro, who seems to have become a model for modern politicians. The Duke made it a practice to lead his warriors from behind, once he found out which way they were heading.

So it is with today's "leaders". They don't take to the field, as the Duke did, but operate from command posts equipped with the latest model computers. When these mechanical brains digest the facts and spell out a verdict that public thinking is heading that way, the politicians rush off in the direction loudly shouting "Charge!"

This is the process, we understand, which guides certain kingmakers in their selection of political vassals.

It's the method used by "astute" candidates to decide which issues they will favor, and which they will disdain.

It assists our planners in deciding whether bombers should aim 1,000-pounders at a pack train on a mountain pass or at a Haihong ammunition dump and fuel depot.

One word for it is "consensus," and while that is no synonym for wisdom based on truth, it admittedly pays off when the time comes for people to vote. Computerized pulse-taking is reducing the voter to the status of a postcard size piece of paper punctured with tell-tale holes and notches along the edge.

Maybe we're overly baffled by this technological age, but we think the President and other planners who attempt to guide our destinies by computer consensus do things the hard way. LBJ, or one of his stooges, could get the same consensus by hanging around the water cooler for just ten minutes and talking about taxes and high prices. And he could confirm it by talking to the people at the train station or the bus stop or the country store.

And since when was truth determined by majority vote?

Ohio Shows The Way

A recent advertisement in the Wall Street Journal is one that might well be studied by Gov. John Connally and all of the rest of the governors in the nation.

Its theme was, "Profit Is Not a Dirty Word in Ohio." It was published, unfortunately at taxpayer expense, by the State of Ohio.

It pointed out that Ohio led the nation in new capital investment for industry in 1964, and that in 1966 the figure will be a new record for all states in the nation.

The first reason cited: "Favorable economic climate. State and local taxes in Ohio are already the lowest of any comparable industrial state. The state budget has been balanced for the last three years with no new or increased taxes. And, some state taxes actually have been reduced."

Various other reasons are given, but it is significant that the state emphasized the important incentive in its advertisement. California business and industrial people have been pointing to the fact that state and local taxes in California are the highest in the nation and have had adverse influence on people either considering moving to the West Coast or expanding their facilities here.

There has been lip service given to tax reductions and "reforms" by politicians of both political parties. Its time for some concrete action.

Practicing Capitalists

Regular readers of this space will not be surprised to find us saluting the capitalist system. But the statistics on one group of practicing capitalists may come as a surprise — as it did to us.

We're talking about the teenagers who deliver The Pampa News and newspapers all around the country. They're practicing capitalists, who learn quickly the fundamentals of American capitalism.

As a rule this capitalist is in business for himself. He buys his product at wholesale, sells it at retail. He makes his own deliveries and collections. He learns simple bookkeeping. And, he gets a practical course in salesmanship.

He learns quickly that it is necessary to have a good product for which he can develop and expand a demand. He learns that his delivery service is the "place utility" between publisher and customer for which he is entitled to make a charge. He learns about human nature, too, and how to nullify the occasional unreasonable customer. And he learns that his earnings are dependent upon the efforts, mental and physical, which he devotes to his business.

Three develops in the newspaperboy a sense of responsibility that follows him through life. He learns punctuality and reliability. He learns that he cannot slack his job because the weather is bad or because he is not feeling his best. He realizes that his efforts can generate the earnings that will supplement what his parents can provide, and may determine whether or not he gets a college education. Conscious of these simple facts, there is no reason for him to look for hand-outs or to seek a subsidy. And that is a characteristic which usually will follow him through life.

All this comes to mind because The Register, our sister newspaper, in Santa Ana, California, published an estimate that there are 70,000 newspaperboys in California, and that those capitalists earn some $20 million a year.

On a national basis, this is equivalent to some 800,000 young merchants who are earning about $230 million a year, which is probably more than the total national product of some of the newest members of the United Nations.

America is a great country, and these practicing capitalists help make it so, today — and more importantly, tomorrow. Your newspaper carrier is an important businessman.

Tune in on Those 'With It'

Los Angeles has been having trouble with certain teen-agers and older youths who have virtually taken over the famed Sunset Strip, once the playground of celebrities and gawking tourists. Attempts to crack down have led to recurring rioting.

A representative of this decidedly minority group, with the flowing long hair that represents the new conformity of "tuned in, turned on and dropped out" nonconformists, was interviewed by a television reporter.

Where did he live: Oh, around with friends, was the reply from the nonworking, nonstudying youth.

Where did he get his money? From his parents, mostly.

All of which led one observer to comment: "These people want the squares to keep the world going so they can nonconform to it."

It may also suggest a new slogan for parents who feel guilty about not having bequeathed an absolutely perfect world to their children:

"No subsidization without participation."

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

We don't know how the average housewife will feel about it, but a college professor, commenting on the cost of food, observed: "If you can get something for the price of two hours' work that costs someone else four hours of work, you are getting it at a lower price." We'll bet the average housewife would retort: "Oh, yeah." As of 1964, this country was in debt to the tune of about $312 billion and no one seemed to worry about it. That boiled down to the fact that every man, woman and child in the nation owed Uncle Sam about $1,700 just to get things even again. All of which makes us wonder how our dear old Uncle can get away with deficit spending. We can't do it in our daily lives and satisfy our creditors. . . . And do you remember when President Franklin D. Roosevelt, commenting on the way he had raised the public debt, casually said: "After all, we only owe it to ourselves."

Today's smile: A husband reading a newspaper said to his wife: "It's amazing! It says here that more than 6,000 camels are used every year to make paint brushes." "It certainly is amazing what they can teach animals to do these days," answered his better half.

Even art critics can't be too perceptive at all times. A few years ago, at a showing in New York, a work of Matisse was displayed upside down for a period of 47 days before anyone noticed the mistake. Meanwhile, the art critics raved over the work.

Thoughts while shaving: If anyone asks you to explain the meaning of the term "campaignology," don't hesitate to tell them it's the art of bell ringing. . . . The oldest horse race in the world is the Lanark Silver Bell held annually in Scotland. It was instituted by William Lion about 1180 A.D. . . . Railroad piggy-backing will really go big time next year, according to reports. You'll be able to drive your car onto a train bound for Florida or some other resort; spend the time enroute in a club car or Pullman; and upon arrival drive your car to your destination. Sort of makes us wonder why it took the railroads so long to adopt this kind of service. After all, Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus have been using the piggy-back system for more than a half-century. . . . The two richest women's colleges in the U.S. are Vassar and Wellesley. Each has an endowment of more than $8 million. . . . New York got its nickname, "the Empire State," from George Washington, who once referred to it as an empire. . . . The Portland (Oregon) HOME MAGAZINE reported in a story: "Most American youngsters probably will never see a real covered bridge." Not the way things are going these days with miniskirts, etc.

Country Editor speaking: "Back in the good old days we only had one or two international crises to contend with at any given time."

Hunt for Truth
BY H. L. HUNT
The One Answer to Crime
It seems that almost everyone today is trying to find the answer to crime. Committees and commissions are appointed, at the federal and the state level. Much money is spent on staffs and reports. Behind most of the suggestions made is the idea, spoken or unspoken, that poverty causes crime and that it can be reduced by some sort of handout of "public service" program.

Crime has nothing fundamentally to do with economics. Some of the poorest groups in this and other nations have been among the most honest. Some of the richest have been among the most criminal and corrupt.

Crime cannot be reduced by gifts and "aid". But it can be promoted by these methods. If government offers "something for nothing," it is natural for present or potential criminals to conclude that they have a right to get something for nothing on their own.

The primary preventive of crime is sound moral teaching in home, church and school. This is the responsibility of every parent, teacher and minister. Nobody else can assume that responsibility. The answer to crime that government can offer is effective law enforcement, which will deter from crime those who have rejected, or never had, sound moral teachings.

In the words of former Supreme Court Justice Wittaker: "The remedy is as plain as the threat. It is simply to insist that our governments, state and federal, reassume and discharge their first duty of protecting the people against lawless invasions upon their persons and property by the impartial and vigorous enforcement of our criminal law."

No Tax Increase Effective before July Determination of Key Congressmen's Legislators

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Taxpayers can definitely be sure of one thing on that much discussed question of a tax increase — there won't be one for at least six months, and perhaps even longer.

Regardless of whether President Johnson decides to ask the new Congress for higher taxes in January, as most administration insiders now are convinced he will, no hike will go into effect before July.

Several compelling reasons are behind this certainty.

One is that Representative Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., powerful chairman, and a majority of the tax-writing Ways & Means Committee, are adamantly against any tax boost becoming effective before July.

Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler also supports this view. Another important reason is Mills' determination to first consider increasing Social Security benefits — strongly favored by both the administration and Republicans. It is his firm plan to open hearings on this legislation soon after the new Congress meets.

In talks with congressional and administration leaders, Mills has bluntly warned them not to expect any action on the tax issue before spring.

"If the President does decide to seek higher taxes," Mills said, "you can tell him there is no likelihood of anything being done before July 1. Also there is no chance of a tax increase being made retroactive. There is very emphatic opposition to that in both parties. A poll of my own committee shows it is unanimous against a retroactive tax hike."

Mills has given no indication of his own attitude on a tax judgment until the White House has made its views known.

"Members of my committee are very uneasy about increasing taxes," said Mills. "As the President says he is doing, they want to delay making up their minds as long as possible to determine what effect higher taxes would have on the economy."

PRIORITY LIST — Under a schedule already approved by the Ways & Means Committee, proposals to increase Social Security in home, church and school. This is the responsibility of every parent, teacher and minister. Nobody else can assume that responsibility. The answer to crime that government can offer is effective law enforcement, which will deter from crime those who have rejected, or never had, sound moral teachings.

In the words of former Supreme Court Justice Wittaker: "The remedy is as plain as the threat. It is simply to insist that our governments, state and federal, reassume and discharge their first duty of protecting the people against lawless invasions upon their persons and property by the impartial and vigorous enforcement of our criminal law."

curity policy will have first priority in the new Congress.

"We made a solemn election pledge to make a thorough review of Social Security the first order of business, and that is what we intend to do," Mills told Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass. "These deliberations could take two or three months as both the administration and the Republicans will present extensive proposals. Considering them and working out a bill will take a lot of time."

Another problem on putting a tax raise into effect was injected by Treasury Secretary Fowler.

He has informed the Ways & Means Committee that the Internal Revenue Service will "need at least two months after Congress passes a tax bill to arrange the administrative handling of such legislation."

RAISING REVENUE — Sales taxes continue to be a principal source of state revenue.

A forthcoming Treasury report to the Ways & Means Committee reveals that sales taxes in the 50 states produced $7.9 billion in the fiscal year ending July 1, 1966.

Revenues from other major sources were: Gasoline, $4.6 billion; income, $4.3 billion; corporation, $2 billion; tobacco, $1.5 billion; liquor, $1 billion.

In 31 states sales taxes were far in the lead as a revenue producer. In 13 other states, income taxes were foremost. In five states, the predominance was held by gasoline taxes.

In one state, Louisiana, a severance tax on natural resources topped the list.

Total state tax collections for the fiscal year totaled $29.4 billion — a 12.4 percent increase over $26.1 billion in the preceding year.

All states collected more in taxes in fiscal 1965, with the biggest increases in Idaho, up 31.5 per cent, and Kansas, up 30.8 per cent.

It's a destructive habit, too. It breaks teeth, loosens them, is a cause of periodontal disease, or at least is usually associated with it and results in injury to the hinge joint with accompanying aches and pains.

It builds up tension in muscles and ligaments around the joint. You bruxists know this feeling when you awake in the morning and feel as though you've spent the night picking up weights with your teeth.

There is a group of dentists who think that tension in the hinge joint produces other tensions, and pain, in other parts of the body, such as headaches, cramps, profuse sweating, sleeplessness, you name it.

There's no simple way to stop bruxism. Psychoanalysis is often worse than the disease. Dosing oneself with tranquilizers, phenobarbital, and sleep-producing drugs, may be useful, but bruxism seems to defy almost everything but tranquility — and who's ever been blessed with that?

In a small percentage of patients causes may be local in origin and can be cured by correcting the bite: producing harmony between opposing teeth.

Certain habits are usually associated with bruxism: sticking out the jaw; pushing tongue against teeth and palate; and pipe smoking, nail biting and pencil chewing. Break up this pattern, some say, and you may kick the bruxist habit.

Since bruxism occurs more frequently during sleep, bedtime is when to change the rules. Begin by lying on your back and relaxing. It always seems presumptuous for a doctor to ask a patient keyed up with the day's emotional trials to relax, yet a conscious effort must be made to loosen muscle tension, especially in jaw muscles.

When they're relaxed, lower jaw should be in "rest position"

In the course of transmitting messages relating to the President, they have been referring to him as "the Great Cowboy" and "the Big Man." This is severely frowned on. They can refer to the President as "the Boss," but nothing more colloquial. . . . To certain important visitors to the President's ranch, he has dropped hints that the next appointee to the Cabinet will be a prominent Republican. Beyond that, there has been no clue as to whom the President has in mind or for what position. . . . Budget Director Charles Schultz has been named by the President to head a special intergovernmental committee to study the controversial question of establishing a huge data processing center.

Highlights and Sidelights From Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—A bond-financing program for $82,000,000 to acquire and develop state parks is talked by Gov. John Connally.

This would increase the present 60,000 acres in parks to 150,960 by 1979. It would emphasize water-oriented outdoor recreation facilities, along with executive budget proposals, for the Parks and Wildlife Department, 1968-69.

Plans call for:
—Twenty-six water-based recreation areas of 61,000 acres in seven regions.

—Twenty scenic and unique areas covering 84,395 acres for "passive and educational use."
—Forty-four significant, historic sites (5-565 acres) "to complete a tourist network of interesting sightseeing stops."

Connally proposes a Constitutional Amendment to authorize a $75,000,000 bond issue over a 10-year period.

Bonds would be repaid from part entry fees of not less than $1 a car per trip. Another $7,000,000 in federal aid is foreseen.

While Texas population has increased 62 per cent during the last 20 years and park use is expected to more than double by 1990, the number and size of state parks has remained unchanged.

Executive plan, proposing parks of 1,000 to 5,000 acres, advocates coordination of land buying with construction of major reservoirs under the Texas water plan.

Although the exact location of 26 outdoor recreation areas, backbone of new system, has not been pinpointed, the governor's plan recommends the following distribution:

Region 1: (Lubbock and Amarillo areas) two parks, 3,500 acres.

Region 2: (East Texas, Dallas, Fort Worth, Texarkana and Waco) seven parks, 13,000 acres.

Region 3: (Upper Gulf Coast, Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Victoria areas) nine parks, 24,500 acres.

Region 4: (San Antonio, Austin, Hill Country areas) five parks, 11,000 acres.

Region 5: (West Texas, Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa areas) one park, 1,000 acres.

Region 6: (El Paso area) one park, 5,000 acres.

Region 7: (Rio Grande Valley, Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Harlingen areas) one park, 3,000 acres.

Governor's proposed budget for the Parks-Wildlife Department for 1968-69 totaled $26,000,000. This is an increase of $6,700,000 over the present $19,300,000.

TAX OR NOT TO TAX? — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith disagrees with Governor Connally's forecast that new state taxes are inevitable.

Legislative Budget Board's spending recommendations for 1968-69 are based on an anticipated $850,000,000 in general revenue from present levies, plus the balance on hand at the start of the next fiscal period. That would permit a spending increase of nearly $220,000,000.

Connally's spending recommendations are $120,000,000 above the board's.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Burton G. Hackney, 59, Brownfield attorney and chairman of the State Board of Public Welfare for eight years, was chosen by the board to succeed the late John H. Winters as welfare commissioner.

Herbert C. Wilson, assistant commissioner, will head the department pending Hackney's move to Austin.

Joe D. Carter, Texas Water Rights Commission Chairman and former Sherman legislator, was named chairman of the Interstate Conference on Water Problems at a meeting in Phoenix.

E. G. Morrison, Austin, was appointed to the University of Texas Development Board.

Governor Connally's top aide, Larry Temple, announced at the freshmen legislator's orientation school that the governor soon will name a new press secretary. Post has been vacant since George Christian joined President Johnson's staff.

HOOD BID REJECTED — After a stormy hearing Texas Aeronautics Commission rejected Hood Airlines' request for authority to use DC-3 type planes on its Killen-to-Dallas run.

Trans-Texas and Braniff Airways opposed Hood's request.

TAC said no new facts were developed to warrant changing its policy limiting commuter airlines to planes under 12,500 pounds.

Hood serves Fort Hood and also has flights to McGregor, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

OYSTERS UNHARMED — Live oyster reefs in Galveston Bay have suffered practically no damage since shell dredgers were allowed to operate closer to them three years ago, according to J. R. Singleton, director of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Singleton said dredging has remained stable during the last decade, while live oyster harvests have increased.

No changes in the controversial dredging regulations are contemplated, although P&W field procedures on oysters may be altered.

SCREWORM PROBLEM — Screwworm flies which are infiltrating into Texas may force the Texas Animal Health Commission to pass a regulation to keep the insects South of the border.

Currently, infected cattle are not allowed to be imported into Texas. But they are kept at the border where the insects hatch and fly across the Rio Grande anyway.

Commission is considering a rule prohibiting the import into Texas of any cattle from a herd in which diseased cattle are found.

This rule, it is reasoned, will force the importer to return his entire herd to the ranch, thus keeping the screwworm larvae from the border. No action has been taken, and none will be necessary if ranchers take steps on their own.

PIT BAN ARGUED — Oil associations clashed at the Railroad Commission hearing over a proposed statewide ban on salt water pits in oil fields in 43 counties on grounds they endanger underground fresh water supplies.

FORTY-SEVEN (47) WILL DIE — Predicted by the Department of Public Safety are 47 deaths in traffic accidents for the Christmas holiday weekend.

Says Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, "We are going to undertake one of the most intensive safety efforts ever, in hopes of reducing this figure."

Several state agencies and organizations interested in safety are working hand-in-hand with the department to help hold down the toll as much as possible.

"Operation Deathwatch" will be conducted from 6 p.m., December 23, until midnight, December 26, to focus attention on the dangers involved in holiday travel.

"Deathwatch" will be resumed at 6 p.m., December 30, and continue until midnight, January 2. It is predicted that 36 persons will die in traffic accidents during that period.

Some 150 additional patrolmen will be on duty in an effort to reduce the toll.

Some 150 additional patrolmen will be on duty in an effort to reduce the toll.

In terms of lives lost and property damage 1966 to date has been the most terrible in Texas history.

TEXAS BUSINESS DOWN — Texas business activity dropped in October for the second month in a row. Decrease was five per cent. Activity still was 10 per cent above the October 1965 figure, according to Dr. Francis B. May of UT's Bureau of Business Research.

An increase in business activity for the first ten months of this year was noted. Non-residential building permits led the field running 20 percent over the first 10 months of last year.

FIGHTERS GET FLAGS — About 105 Texans now fighting in Vietnam are going to have at least one present from home for Christmas — a Texas flag.

Servicemen wrote in asking for Texas flags, so John Hill, Secretary of State, answered each request with...

"on behalf of Governor Connally and the citizens of the State of Texas, I present you with the flag of the State of Texas."

LAND SALES GOOD — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Chairman of the Board for Lease of University Lands, has reported that the 53rd auction sales added $17,000 to the Permanent University Fund.

A hundred tracts were leased at an average of $35.60. Bonuses of the sale will bring the fund to $480,000,000 to provide better education for the youth of Texas.
