Curious Story Told by Russian 'Mr. X' to Warren Commission

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT WASHINGTON - One of the most curious pieces of information uncovered by the Warren Commission during its investigation of President Kennedy's assassination was an extraordinary statement volunteered by a Russian. This "Mr. X." seemingly nervous and uneasy, appeared un-in Moscow some six months after the Dallas murder. To embassy officials he claimed to have known Lee Harvey Oswald and his wife Marina when they lived in the Soviet.

In penciled notes the Russian left at the embassy, now among the more than 20,000 "working papers" given the National Archives by the Warren Commission, Oswald is linked to Jack Ruby, his slayer, and the KGB, Soviet secret police.

These remarkable notes and covering correspondence, and an analysis by embassy officials, were extensively censored by the State Department with the Warren Commission's approval Name of the mysterious Russian, described in the State Department correspondence as "a relatively pleasant looking man." was deleted as well as that of the embassy official who talked to him.

Also omitted was the date of the interview. The only reference to time is a notation in the State Department's "memorandum of conversation' that it took place in the "summer of

The Warren Commission attempted to get at the bottom of the Russian's strange story. Both the FBI and CIA dug into the matter, but with no success. The probers were unable to either confirm or disprove this perplexing information. However, among the commission's records in the National Archives is an FBI report that Oswald corresponded with a bassy in Washington after returning to the U.S.

Also in the commission's records is a CIA document stating that the Soviet diplomat in Mexico City with whom Oswald had a meeting shortly before the assassination was the top KGB official in the embassy there. LIFTING THE LID - All the documents relating to this bizarre affair are in a separate commission file designated "Mr. X's File, No. 3106."

Following are the principal items in this file, consisting of the heavily censored notes left by the mysterious Russian, the State Department's correspondence and the report of the embassy official who talked to (See MR X., Page 3)

The contribution of Australian manpower to the Allies during World War I was almost unparalleled-416,000 Aussies volunteered for service and some 329,000 of them served overseas. Of these, slightly more than 59,000 were killed in action. In addition, Australia handed over unconditionally the ships and men of its navy to the British government.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch-Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) - For the | so thorough that sufferers made first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonshing ability to shrink kemorrholds, stop itching, and relieve pain - without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all-results were astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) - discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or sintment form under the name Preparation Ho.

New Policy Puts Pool of Rejects On Draft Lists

WASHINGTON (UPI) -The Defense Department has set up a pool of nearly 350,000 men from which it can draft 40,000 former 'rejectees by Sept. 30 under a new policy of accepting ower mental standards.

Department officials said Saturday the group included 233,181 whites and 121,676 Negroes declared physically fit to serve in the armed services within the last four years but previously ejected because of ow scores on the Armed Forces Qualification Test (AFQT).
