PEP Widens Horizons For Area's Potential

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Farm Editor

The Panhandle Economic Program, designed to raise the living and working standards of more than 402,150 persons living in this area, was presented in a 200-page comprehensive report yesterday afternoon in the Borger Hotel.

Approximately 225 interested persons from Hutchinson, Hansford, Carson, Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb and Ochiltree Counties attended. Gray County was well represented by city, chamber of commerce, school, agriculture, water conservation and agribusiness leaders.

James E. Murphey, extension area farm management specialist and PEP coordinator, who spent 18 months making an intensive study of resources and agriculture potentials in 26 counties, laid the responsibility for the future success of the program on the doorsteps of each county.

"What happens to this program after today is up to you," he said. "Most of the action that will take place from here on will take place in your counties. If this program amounts to anything, it will have to happen in your county... in your hometown... and on your farms."

The comprehensive program, outlined by Murphey after talking with 150 key leaders in 26 counties, listed 18 major areas of program emphasis.

Market development for agricultural products through careful development of efficient marketing systems, processing plants and distribution systems was an area stressed for improvement.

"Right now," Murphey said, "these products are going out in raw form. Someone else is preparing them for the consumer resulting in a great loss to the producer."

He said $350 million could be added to the value of current agricultural products before they leave the Panhandle.

A major problem facing the Panhandle is water resources: underground, on the surface and from other areas. Murphey said, "$25 million a year in agricultural production is being wasted by applying it too late, too little or too much."

He said that much of the surface water used to grow dryland crops is being lost through evaporation. He cited the importance of developing irrigation systems, with careful placement of wells as an example of conservation and efficient use of water.

A cooperative relationship between agricultural and petroleum would be a valuable contribution to agribusiness in the Panhandle, Murphey said.

He emphasized that since 1960 there has been a 300 per cent increase in the number of cattle being fed and slaughtered in the Panhandle.

Another improvement area in the agribusiness potential is the misuse of "some four to six million acres of soil."

"Weeds are costing you and me $100 million a year. Forty million dollars could be saved annually on that problem alone," Murphey stated.

The potential of a stepped-up program in fish, game and recreation would increase Panhandle coffers by $3 million annually, the farm specialist pointed out.

In a summation, Murphey estimated that income in the Panhandle area could be increased by $727 million annually if resource potentials were utilized to their fullest.

Adopting a program similar to PEP, he pointed out that 18 Blackland counties had upped their income by $52 million from 1962 to 1966 and that in

Foreign Secretary Dispatched to UN

LONDON (UPI)—Prices plunged today on the London Stock Exchange as Britain prepared to call for United Nations economic sanctions against rebel Rhodesia—sanctions which could cripple Britain's own economy. The feeling of crisis grew.

The value of the pound sterling weakened so sharply the Bank of England was forced to dip into its reserves but later the pound steadied and the rush to sell on world trade centers slackened off.

The chief market losses were in tobacco, copper and Rhodesian stocks and bonds.

Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith's rejection of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's final demands for a negotiated settlement of the 13-month-old Rhodesian independence crisis came as a surprise and a shock to Britain. There were fears the backlash of U.N. sanctions would cripple Britain's hard-pressed economy.

Rhodesian independence already has cut British trade with the rebel colony by $400 million annually. Should South Africa become directly involved Britain could lose another $900 million annually in trade.

Foreign Secretary George Brown was dispatched to the United Nations today to direct the appeal for sanctions at a Security Council session Thursday. Wilson was addressing the British nation tonight.

The address was scheduled for 3 p.m. CST.

Government departments made final assessments of the weakest spots in the Rhodesian economy, mostly agricultural and mineral to recommend the most damaging boycott targets—and those which would be least likely to backfire on Britain's own shaky economy.

Rhodesia's 220,000 white Europeans generally cheered Smith's vow to "fight on" and prepared to buckle down for the new penalties, aware that earlier non-mandatory sanctions imposed by Britain have chafed but by no means crippled their southern African nation.

Although not enjoying the full measure of prosperity Rhodesia was regarded as being surprisingly well prepared economically, emotionally and militarily to keep firm control in the face of the mandatory sanctions.

Sanctions to date have primarily fostered more resolve to resist British demands and have developed working relationships with South Africa and Portugal that have offset the worst

PHS Bandsmen In Amarillo For School Auditions

Twenty-four Pampa High School band students are in Amarillo today for tryouts in the All-Region Band, which will appear in concert here at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Students are chosen for the All-Region band in competitive auditions held prior to the concert.

Also Gayle Miller, Peggy Peoples, Mike Ruff, Renee Se crest, Prudence, Skelly, Richard Tarrant, Joe Trumm, Pat and Phil Vanderpool, Cindy Wilks, and Barbara Wolf.

The All-Region Band was initiated 10 years ago under the auspices of the Texas Music Educators' Association. The organization allows outstanding high school instrumentalists to perform with others, playing compositions not generally available to them in their own school and under the baton of an outstanding conductor.

Dr. A. Clyde Roller, associate conductor of the Houston Symphony Orchestra and former conductor of the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, will direct the All-Region Band in concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Pampa High School auditorium.

In addition to Pampa band members, other participating schools will be Amarillo, Caprock, Palo Duro, Tascosa, Borger, Canyon, Dumas, Hereford, Perryton and Tulsa.

The organization also acts as the first step toward a chair in

Jordan Possibly Plotting Retaliation Against Israel

JERUSALEM, Jordan (UPI)—Jordanian King Hussein may resort to military retaliation against Israel to counter mounting Arab pressure against him, observers said today.

It was expected to be some time, however, before Jordan could take any such military action.

Arab resentment against Hussein—a relative moderate who is accused of appeasing Israel—flared anew Monday in the city of Nablus, some 25 miles north of here.

One policeman was reported killed and "a number" of persons were injured as police and Arab legionnaires clashed with Palestinian Arabs protesting a ban on a scheduled anti-Husseini demonstration.

Nablus, Jordan's third largest city and the scene of similar violence last month, was under tight military curfew today.

The clashes Monday were the first violence in western Jordan after a period of relative calm.

Jordan—and much of the rest of the Middle East—has been uneasy since Nov. 13 when Israeli forces attacked three Jordanian frontier villages in a massive raid which Israel claimed was in retaliation for terrorist attacks on Israeli targets from Jordanian soil.

Arab nations, notably left-wing Syria and the United Arab Republic, have joined Palestinian Arabs living in Jordan to charge Hussein was lax in security measures before the attack and conciliatory toward Israel after it. Twenty-one Jordanians were killed and 34 others wounded in the Israeli attack.

LBJ Awards Honor Medal To Marine

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson today draped the beribboned Medal of Honor around Marine Sgt. Robert Emmet O'Malley who single-handedly killed eight Viet Cong soldiers when he jumped into an enemy trench.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff were flying from Washington for the 11 a.m. ceremony and for some brass tacks talk on the military budget.

Military bands and a color guard were dressing up the presentation ceremony in the plaza of the federal building here where Johnson has an office.

O'Malley, 23 of Woodside, Queens, N.Y. is the first Marine to receive the nation's highest honor for bravery in the Viet Nam war.

He was the hero of "Operation Starlight" on Aug. 18, 1965, at Chu Lai. A corporal then, he was wounded three times but refused to withdraw until he had covered the evacuation of his wounded buddies by helicopter.

Red China Threatens Revenge For Attacks

TOKYO (UPI)—Red China today charged that U.S. planes bombed and sank six Chinese fishing boats in the Gulf of Tonkin in two separate attacks last week killing 17 crewmen and wounding 29 others.

"We will without fail repay this blood debt," Peking warned.

The official New China News Agency (NCNA) described the serious step in the frantic war provocations by U.S. imperialism against China.

"Such gangster attacks must stop at once," a statement by the Chinese defense ministry said. "Debts in blood must be repaid in blood."

It was one of the strongest warnings against alleged U.S. "war provocation" the Communist ration has made in recent years.

(In Washington a Defense Department spokesman said: "We have no comment on this Chinese propaganda.")

Claim Two Bombings

A Peking radio broadcast monitored here said the alleged U.S. attacks took place during daylight hours Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 in international waters in the western section of the Gulf of Tonkin off Communist North Vietnam.

In the Nov. 30 attack, Peking claimed U.S. planes dropped 20 bombs on 41 fishing boats from Hoihong, Suikai and counties of the southern province of Kwangtung. It said five of these boats were sunk, 14 fishermen killed and 20 wounded.

American planes returned the following day and dropped eight bombs on Chinese fishing boat from Hoihong, sinking one, killing three fishermen and wounding nine others the Chinese said.

In Washington, some Pentagon sources speculated the Chinese charges were a reaction to recent U.S. successes in bombing and shelling of coastal shipping off the coast of North Vietnam.

Attack Cargo Boats

(There has been intensification in recent weeks in the war against Communist shipping southbound, presumably for movement overland into South Vietnam.)

(On Nov. 23 the U.S. command in Saigon reported that two U.S. ships had destroyed or damaged 47 cargo boats of the North Vietnamese coast. On the night of Nov. 29, U.S. planes from the aircraft carrier Roosevelt hit a group of barges 25 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese city of Thanh Hoa, damaging seven of them.

(Thanh Hoa is 75 miles south of Hanoi on the coast of the Gulf of Tonkin. Four barges were destroyed by naval planes in that area on Nov. 30. The next day, Navy planes hit the Thanh Hoa and Haiphong area, destroying two cargo junks and one barge and damaging five through with an emergency supply of wheat for a neat diplomatic coup.

The U.S. delay in responding to the Indian request comes at the worst possible time, according to Indian officials. Facing two years of drought, a break in food shipments in January probably will cause shortages in February when Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government is facing a general election.

The last U.S. wheat ship is scheduled to leave for India Saturday. Her cargo would bring the American total to about 8.5 million tons for 1966.

But officials say it will take about 60 days from the time a new authorization is made until another ship can reach an Indian port, thus there will be a break in the wheat pipeline.

Although both the State and Agriculture Departments are known to have recommended approval of the Indian request for more wheat, President Johnson has the final say in the matter. The White House has announced that a decision would be forthcoming on the basis of a newly completed survey of Indian needs.

There has been a good deal of speculation as to the reasons for the delay. One theory advanced is that the U.S. wheat stocks are the lowest in years, making it necessary for selective allotments.

Another is that the United States hopes to force negotiations such as Russia, Canada, Australia and France to shoulder some of the burden of feeding India.

But what surprises most observers is the timing of the President's lack of action. Reports from responsible persons in New Delhi—presumably made available to the President—say that dwindling food stocks represent a major law and order problem which could reach unmanageable proportions.

U.S. policy in the past has always been to help India over such rough spots, which could have a grave effect on Asia's largest democracy.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The federal government has given the states nine proposals for a uniform, nationwide highway safety code by the end of 1968. There was a slight hint of "or else" accompanying the suggestions.

The proposals were outlined to representatives of the 50-state governors Monday by Dr. William Haddon Jr., head of the newly formed National Highway Safety Agency.

They ranged from mandatory helmets for motorcyclists and their passengers to periodic eye examinations for all drivers.

Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd told the state officials: "We don't want any more than you, to require everyone to do everything the same way. We want to leave ample latitude for local initiative and adaptability."

But Haddon noted, the Highway Safety Act "provides that states could lose their eligibility for federal aid safety funds and 10 per cent of their federal aid highway construction funds if they are not implementing an approved program by the end of 1968."

A total of $47.7 million has been authorized for the states for highway safety programs in the current fiscal year ending next June 30, and $71.2 million for the following 12 months, with the cash to be granted on a matching basis.

The proposals announced by Haddon were:

- Mandatory vehicle inspection programs.
- Periodic vision examination of all drivers.
- Denial of driving licenses to

Poll Shows Popularity Of LBJ Down

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A nationwide opinion poll shows that public confidence in President Johnson has slipped to an all-time low.

The Louis Harris poll, copyrighted by The Washington Post however, contradicted a recent Gallup survey which said Johnson's Asian trip boosted his popularity from its record low in October.

The Harris poll Monday reported that 43 per cent of the people approved of the way Johnson was handling his job. It said that 42 per cent approved of the way he handled the Viet Nam war, 41 per cent approved of his civil rights programs and 35 per cent approved of his economic policies.

The 43 per cent overall figure was down three points from the previous low of 46 per cent in October and 24 points from the high for 1966 of 67 per cent last January.

The Gallup poll reported Sunday that Johnson's Asian tour helped boost his popularity with 48 per cent of American adults approving his performance.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia is in line to score an easy propaganda victory, if, as expected, she responds to hungry India's urgent plea for wheat, diplomatic sources said today.

The wheat is needed to fill a food gap that Indian officials blame on the United States. Their request for 2 million tons of U.S. wheat—submitted last August—went unanswered until early November and then they were told only that there would be a delay.

Diplomats in Washington predicted that the Russians, enjoying an unusual bumper crop this year would come

AF Stages Daring Rescue Near China

SAIGON (UPI)—An Air Force paramedic team flew deep into North Viet Nam by helicopter today and dropped to the ground to stage a daring rescue of two U.S. airmen whose jet was downed by Communist gunfire.

U.S. military spokesmen said two paramedics spent two hours alongside the crewmen of an Air Force RF4C Phantom reconnaissance jet which was shot down today near Dien Bien Phu, deep in northwestern North Viet Nam and only 70 miles south of Red China.

Three helicopters in all were sent on the bold rescue mission, officials said. But two were forced to leave the scene because of mechanical problems. The paramedics stood by their downed comrades until a third chopper arrived two hours later.

During the long wait, spokesmen said, U.S. Skyraider jets flew cover overhead to protect the four Americans on Communist soil. The RF4C was the third U.S. plane downed in the

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — There has been a lot of talk recently about the so-called "new morality" among college students.

I'm still not sure what the term means exactly, but it implies that the scholars of today have a different attitude toward S-E-X than did the scholars of my generation. I believe this to be true. In my college days, we students were pretty blasé about S-E-X. To be honest with you, a photograph of a pretty young girl fully dressed wouldn't have excited us very much.

The reason is that campus fashions in those days were very jarring. Even in the classrooms, coeds wore high-necked blouses and skirts below the knee.

We fellows were accustomed to seeing girls with their upper legs and rib cages hidden. Therefore, if one of them posed with all of her clothes on, we didn't think much about it. Nowadays, apparently, the situation is different. The "new morality" has changed campus standards of modesty and decency.

Very few coeds today would dare go to classes with their knees covered or appear on a public beach in a high-topped bathing suit.

In addition, such college-oriented publications as Playboy magazine regularly printed pictures of girls sans garments. And some cabarets that cater to the college crowd feature go-dancers in topless costumes.

In short, the young men of today are constantly confronted with the female figure in its natural state. So when they see a photograph of a girl with her fuselage completely swaddled, it really turns them on.

A case in point are the "Springmaid Of The Month" advertisements currently appearing in some magazines. They feature, in the Playboy tradition, foldout pictures of pretty girls. Only in these ads, the girls wear clothing.

This has had an electrifying effect on college students. There recently fell into my hands some copies of fan letters received by a young girl who posed for one of the ads. Here are a few excerpts: "It is not too often in this day and age that you see a foldout of a female with clothes on. You certainly alone could turn the trend to the more beautiful representation of beauty."

"This lovely photograph has replaced many pictures of the Miss November from Playboy Magazine on several dormitory walls."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — James Dines & Co. says it still believes the near-term trend of the stock market to be unfavorable. The company says blue chips, especially motors, which led the market upward during the 1962-66 advance, now are on a definite downtrend and other "backbone" stocks such as steels and rubbers also are acting badly.

The company says most bearish of all indicators for the market is the rejuvenation of the silvers and golds, which usually decline in a higher market and rise in a bear market.

Walter Mintz of Shearson, Hammill & Co. says the major question confronting the market in the next few weeks will be whether the administration will propose a substantial tax hike. Some analysts feel that with the many signs of a cooling off of the economy such a boost might have been obviated. Mintz stresses, however, that because of the many other uncertainties facing the list, a clear projection of the market's trend is not impossible.

Union Head Urges City Rehabilitation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther today called for creation of "urban land banks" that would give cities control over land they need to make them fit places to live.

"Before we can begin to plan and build the urban area of the future, our cities must obtain firm control of that most precious substance — the land under and around them," Reuther said.

His remark came in testimony prepared for Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff's subcommittee on government operation which is studying decay in American cities.

Under Reuther's proposal, the publicly owned banks would acquire a large percentage of the land within and outside a city, and have the final say on its use.

Stockpile Land

"Just as our federal government stockpiles surplus to regulate prices, our cities must be in a position to decide how their land can best be used to meet the needs of their residents and to keep a reasonable lid on its cost," Reuther said.

According to the union leader, land use decisions which affect the lives of millions—and determine the destiny of the city itself—are usually made by either a handful of speculators or by local zoning boards whose thinking so often bears little relationship to the total, long range, human and physical needs of the community.

He said the land bank system would end this situation and suggested to Chairman Ribicoff that he call the British and Swedish land commissioners before the panel to hear testimony on the system's effectiveness in Europe.

Gloomy Future

Reuther and another witness internationally-known city planner Constantine A. Doxiadis agreed present planning and redevelopment programs present a gloomy future for American cities.

Without a change in the system of planning and building cities, Doxiadis predicted: "Man is going to turn into a misguided, displaced person hiding in the depths of buildings, fleeing the most developed parts, spending perhaps all his spare time commuting to work and traveling to and from points of interest, trying to communicate with others. He is going to have more characteristics of a nomad and troglodyte than of a citizen... there is no visible indication or a change for the better."

Bye-Bye Beautiful Beatles

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LONDON (NEA) —If Britain had a wailing wall it would be crowded with teenie boppers standing ankle-deep in tears shed because the Beatles are breaking up.

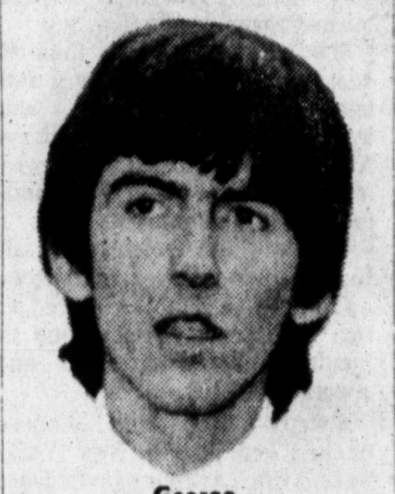

As things stand there is general moaning and gnashing of teeth because the fabulous four had begun to break up long before Lennon decided to go solo as a film actor. McCartney, 24, has been increasingly occupied by song-writing. His latest project—to compose an original musical score for Shakespeare's "As You Like It."

As for 23-year-old George Harrison, the group's talented guitarist: he has been on an "eastern" kick and has recently visited India where he learned to play the sitar, an Indian stringed instrument. Even Ringo Starr, the clown of the group, has shown signs of restlessness.

Not all Beatle fan are behaving like lemmings about to throw themselves from the cliffs. Some are downright angry at what they consider to be the betrayal by their erstwhile idols. They are particularly mad because the Beatles have not made a personal appearance to fill a vacuum, according to this analysis. However, it leaves out of account that all four Beatles are above-average musicians, the song-writing team of Lennon and McCartney being particularly gifted.

Still others, who are experts on the technical aspects of pop music, claim that the Beatles owe much of their success to their refusal to merge their identities behind a "lead" singer. Thus a girl could express a strong preference for a particular Beatle without in any way feeling disloyal to the group. She could even be fickle, switch from Paul to Ringo, without wavering in her Beatle fidelity.

Whatever the secret of the Beatles' success, there are a lot of 14- and 15-year-old girls going around Britain today with tragic expressions on their faces. They resemble child widows looking for a funeral pyre on which to cast their bodies.

The 16-year-olds, however, have begun to take an interest in the Beach Boys, the American pop group that is now on tour here. With pop music idols, as with British royalty, so often the rule is, "The king is dead, long live the king."

John

some.—John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr—have decided to go their separate ways.

The Beatles will continue to cut records from time to time. They may even make films together. Their first film, "A Hard Day's Night," still brings in about $60,000 a month two years after its release.

But they are unlikely ever to tour again as a group, and personal appearances are considered to be the lifeblood of popularity in the pop world. The era of Beatle mania has ended, not tour in Britain this year, although they found time to flit around the United States for three weeks in September.

The Beatles were as much a symbol of the hectic '60s as Bill Haley and the Comets were of the '50s. But perhaps the Liverpool foursome's chief claim to fame is that they conquered the United States in a field in which America had hitherto been preeminent—pop music.

The Beatles achieved their success by breaking nearly all the rules in the book. They made no concessions to their fans; indeed, at times appeared to be almost contemptuous of their followers. They often thumbed their collective noses at the press. They made tactless remarks, such as John Lennon's about the Beatles being more popular with teenagers than God.

Many here see the Beatles' achievement as a negative one claiming that the British boys would never have risen to the top had there not been such a dearth of talent in the pop music world. The Beatles rushed in with a bang—but a grith whimper.

Some critics blame John Lennon's haircut, claiming that this marked the beginning of the end. (Lennon had his beautiful thatch cropped short for his role as a soldier in the forthcoming film comedy, "How I Won the War.")

But the truth is that the Be-

price explains farm income aid

Price Explains Farm Income Aid

Farmers and ranchers attending a regional meeting of the Producers Grain Corporation in Amarillo Monday were asked for advice on how the federal government could help raise farm income.

"The average yearly income on the United States farm in 1965 was $4,200, only $1,200 above the so-called poverty level of $3,000, Congressmen said. Bob Price told the group meeting at the Holiday Inn West.

"Here at home and around the world millions of people go to bed hungry every night. This would indicate the food supply is not keeping up with the demand, yet the farmer is not getting a fair return on his investment."

Noting that a recently resigned Department of Agriculture official has termed the years 1961 through 1965, "The Farmers Worst Five Years," Price added:

"In 1965 growers of most products that are eligible for government price supports received a smaller return on their investment than did farmers and ranchers whose commodities are not under government control. This fact makes it appear that the government is doing something to depress the price of commodities it controls."

The newly elected representative also pointed out that the farmer's parity of income has been lower the last five years than it was during the depression years, 1933-1940.

Price concluded: "I have requested a seat on the House Agriculture Committee to try to help remedy this situation. I would appreciate and urgently solicit the advice and counsel of those of you who make your living in agriculture to reach this goal."

HEAVY LUNCH
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—A money-hungry bandit held up an Albuquerque service station Monday. Or, perhaps it was a hungry money-bandit.

Anyway, he got away with $50, a box of crackers and a bologna sandwich. The attendant told police the man put the cash in his lunch bag and escaped.

STATE EVIDENCE
RICHMOND, England (UPI)—Exhibit A in the theft case against two teen aged boys: three stale hamburgers.

The hamburgers were introduced as evidence Monday amid laughter from the defendants as police explained they recovered them from the boys after a chase last Friday. Police had the last laugh. The boys were found guilty.

New Suits are Yule Goal Of Amarillo Boys Ranch

That's the goal of the annual Christmas Suit project now under way for the 346 boys now making their home at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch. For $25 the Ranch is able to outfit a boy with a new suit or a combination of clothing depending upon each boy's individual needs.

"A new suit is the most useful gift a boy can receive, and one he appreciates so much," Ranch founder Cal Farley said. "Our boys wear the same ones every Sunday at services in our non-sectarian chapel, on their Saturday town trips and on school trips away from the Ranch. By the end of a year, the suits are pretty well worn out and in most cases, fit rather tightly. We are still able to purchase a coat and pair of slacks for $25 at a special rate to the boys."

Anyone desiring to make this a memorable Christmas for a young man at Boys Ranch can do so by mailing their contribution to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P. O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas 79105, or by taking the gift to the Ranch office at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo. There are now 11 boys from Pampa at Boys Ranch. The total population at the ranch is 346 boys.

Trees Available For Windbreaks

COLLEGE STATION — Windbreaks, properly spaced, help conserve water and topsoil and help protect crops, livestock and homesteads.

Tree seedlings, suitable for windbreak plantings in Central, South and West Texas can be ordered now for shipment between mid-January and March, 1967, according to Mason Cloud of the Texas Forest Service College Station.

Species available from the Indian Mound Nursery near Alto include: black locust, catalpa, Chinese elm, cottonwood, mulberry, Osage orange, red cedar, sycamore, euonymus, buffalo-berry, rose multiflora, and Australian, loblolly, ponderosa, shortleaf, and slash pine. Stratified black walnut seed is also available.

Orders must be for 100 or more trees in multiples of 50. Cost of seedlings and seed is $1.50 per hundred—plus state sales tax. Seedling may not be resold nor used for ornamental purposes. "Orders will be accepted on a first-come-first-serve basis and shipped prepaid," Cloud said. Applications and guide sheets for planting and care of windbreaks can be obtained from the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station.

Foreign News Commentary

By WOLFGANG FAHLKE
United Press International
BERLIN (UPI)—A good friend of the United States is leaving West Berlin's city hall and his departure, undoubtedly, is being cheered by Communist leaders on the other side of the "wall of shame."

Western allied officials in this Communist-ruled city on the other note the change with uneasiness, but there's not much they can do about it.

After nine years in office West Berlin's defiant Lord Mayor Willy Brandt, an admirer of the late President John F. Kennedy, resigned and entered the new West German government. He was sworn in last Thursday as vice-chancellor and foreign minister of the new Christian Democratic-Social Democratic coalition government.

Brandt's successor in the city hall is to be Heinrich Albertz, a 51-year-old Prussian who is proud of his heritage. Since 1963, when he was elected vice-mayor, Albertz has run the city's administration during Brandt's absence, which was about half of the time.

Fear Opposition
Western Allied officials are slightly apprehensive that in any dealings with the new mayor, they will have a more difficult time than they used to have with his predecessor.

The 53-year-old Brandt was, and still is, a man who would rather postpone a decision than jeopardize good relations with friends and allies.

In Berlin, where a decision made today could backfire unexpectedly tomorrow, this attitude on the part of the mayor often suited the allied officials.

For instance, they never had to make up their minds how to stop Communist border guards from shooting occasionally into West Berlin, endangering and sometimes wounding west Berliners.

Understood Reluctance
Brandt, understood the Western allies' reluctance in getting involved in shootings along the Berlin Wall, as well as their unwillingness to let the West Berlin police force take over Allied rights and responsibilities at the border where a gun battle might burgeon into a major conflict in no time at all.

Therefore, a decision on how to protect West Berlin lives against trigger-happy Communist border guards has not been made yet.

Western allied authorities here know Albertz and they doubt whether he will be as pleasant and understanding in negotiation as Brandt was.

He has proven in the past that he does not hesitate to hurt allied feelings when he thinks protective actions are necessary.

Tebbetts Goes Back to Managing in Minor League

NEW YORK (UPI) —Birdie Tebbetts went back to where he came from today, a hamburger and bus league, and he claims he couldn't be happier.

"This won't be my first time in a bus league," laughed the 55-year-old former Cleveland-Milwaukee and Cincinnati manager, who will pilot the Mets' Mario (Va.) all-rookie team in the Appalachian League next season.

"I was in the most famous bus league of them all, the Three-I-League, when I started out with Springfield, Ill. The only time we didn't go by bus in that league was when we went by horse and buggy."

Tebbetts was speaking from his home in Anna Maria, Fla., and his voice was being amplified over a special telephone hooked up in a room at Shea Stadium normally used by Mets Manager Wes Westrum. The Mets had announced Birdie's appointment as special assistant to Bob Scheffing, their director of playing development and they said one of his prime jobs will be handling the Marion club beginning in mid-June.

A manager just doesn't move from the majors to an all-rookie league every day. As a matter of fact, no other manager ever can be remembered doing it before.

First of all, there's a little matter of salary involved. The average major league manager's salary, if there is such a thing, would run somewhere around $30,000. The pay for most managers in an all-rookie league usually is about $7,500 although Tebbetts undoubtedly gets more because he'll have other duties also.

"Do you consider this job as a stepping stone to some possible managerial one in the majors later on?" one of the newsmen asked Birdie over the electronic two-way hook-up.

"I don't know," replied Tebbetts.

"Well, what do you essentially consider this, a managing job or a scouting job?"

"This isn't particularly a scouting job. I'm going to be working for Bob Scheffing.

There are a lot of jobs in baseball a guy can go for or get, but I couldn't think of a better one than this one."

"Other baseball jobs were offered you, according to what we're told," said someone else over the phone. "What made you take this one, Birdie?"

"There are a lot of things I liked about this Met job. For one thing, it gets me out of the limelight. That's good. There were other reasons, too."

"Was the future one of them?"

"I don't worry about the future anymore," said Tebbetts. "Not since I had my heart attack."

Birdie is going back to a hamburger and bus league. He sounded as if he loved the idea.

UCLA Remains As Team to Beat in Weekly Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) —UCLA, led by sophomore sensation Lew Alcindor, clearly established itself the "team to beat" last Saturday and the nation's No. 1 college basketball quintet today in the first weekly United Press International ratings.

Ranked first in the pre-season ratings, the Bruins did little to alter that opinion, opening their campaign with a convincing 105-90 thrashing of USC behind Alcindor's 56 points. That performance attracted 31 first place votes and 346 points from the 35-man UPI Board.

Defending NCAA champion Texas Western, runnerup in the pre-season list, retained that position with two votes for first and 297 points. Kentucky, topped at the close of the 1965-66 season, was ranked third with a single vote for the top spot and 270 points.

Michigan State and Houston, both victorious in their first two contests, were fourth and fifth, respectively.

Louisville collected the final first place vote and totaled 125 points for sixth place in the balloting. Completing the first 10 in order were New Mexico, Brigham Young, North Carolina and Virginia Tech, upset winner over Duke and Purdue in its first two outings.

Duke Drops

The Blue Devils of Duke, ranked fourth in the pre-season consensus on the basis of last year's play, dropped to 11th following its loss to VPI and a subsequent victory over Michigan. Nebraska and Cincinnati tied for 12th, Kansas ranked 14th and Providence was No. 15.

Boston College, Loyola (Ill.), Vanderbilt, Colorado State and Dayton rounded out the leading 20 college teams. The voting is based on games played through Saturday, Dec. 3.

That was the day Alcindor made his varsity bow. And what a debut!

The 7-foot 1 1/2 inch center from New York City shattered the school scoring record of 42 points set by Gail Goodrich with a variety of hook shots, jumpers, layups and unstoppable dunks.

The show was even more impressive than anticipated. Alcindor was great, everyone agreed, but his cast of supporting characters was made up of three sophomores and a junior, spelling nothing but trouble for Bruin opponents for the next three years.

Texas Triumphs

Texas Western, with a 28-1 record for the 1965-66 season including its drive to the NCAA title, got off on the right foot with easy season-starting triumphs over Sam Houston State and Abilene Christian. The Miners should be more severely tested this week with games against East Texas State, Pan American, one of the better small colleges, and SMU, favorite in the Southwest Conference.

Kentucky has most of its successful 1965-66 squad back this year and has the incentive to give Adolph Rupp his fifth national title. The Wildcats bounced Virginia around 104-84 to get the season underway.

Kentucky Cries Foul After Illini Stage Big Upset

By United Press International

Kentucky cried foul today but not as loud as the referees did Monday night in Lexington.

No fewer than three Kentucky starters, including All-American Pat Riley were whistled off the court as the Wildcats defending national champions and currently the third-ranked team in the nation, bowed 98-97 in overtime to unheralded Illinois.

The most stunning upset of the young college basketball season was triggered by Rich Jones, a 6-foot-7 junior forward, who tallied 32 points for the Illini, and the officials, who spotted 30 Kentucky infractions. Illinois, however, had to share the spotlight with another unranked Big Ten member, Michigan. The sophomore-dominated Wolverines, losers in their first two games, returned home to ambush fifth-ranked Houston 86-75.

Meanwhile, the league's two classiest outfits, Michigan State and Northwestern, won as they pleased. The fourth-ranked Spartans whipped South Dakota 81-54 and North western, Kentucky's next opponent, polished off Ball State 120-83 to set two school scoring records.

Kentucky, which hadn't lost a home game since Jan. 5, 1965, ran into trouble right at the outset when Riley picked up four personal fouls in the first six minutes of play. The strapping 6-3 forward missed 31 minutes of the game in all although he contributed 15 points.

With Riley riding the bench, Illinois raced to a 45-33 lead after 15 minutes and held a 51-46 margin at halftime. The Wildcats, however, made a valiant comeback behind the brilliant shooting of All-American Lou Dampier and center Thad Jaracz and tied the game four times in the second half, the last at 85-85.

Dion Flessner and guard Jim Dawson, both seniors, contributed 23 and 18 points to the Illinois attack.

Nationally ranked Kansas clobbered Ohio State 94-70. Creighton nipped Iowa 69-66 and Iowa State surprised Minnesota 87-69.

Guard Jo Jo White scored 23 points for Kansas and forward Ron Franz chipped in with 19 as the defending big eight champions, notched their third straight win. Creighton, 3-0, held off a furious Iowa rally, triggered by Sam Williams who led all scorers with 28, and 6-8 junior center Don Smoth scored a career high 36 points on 14:18 accuracy and grabbed 16 rebounds to pace Iowa State.

In other games, Jim Moran's two free throws in the last six seconds gave Mississippi an 82-80 triumph over Texas, Memphis State bumped Texas A&M 66-56, Indiana overran Missouri 7-65, Purdue edged Ohio U, Florida State flipped Rice 76-72, Vanderbilt vanquished Southwest Louisiana 101-66, Loyola (Ill.) trounced North Dakota State 103-79, William & Mary pounded Pittsburgh 72-66 and Columbia crushed Lehigh 65-60.

Pampa Hosts San Angelo 5

Pampa and San Angelo, making a name for themselves in football circles, will engage in a basketball contest, starting at 8 p.m. in Harvest Fieldhouse. B teams from both schools open the action at 6 p.m.

San Angelo has one starter back, while another, 6'5 center Don Hill, is still playing football and will not be available tonight.

The visitor's have won only two of five games while their B team is 2-8.

San Angelo has lost to Monterey, 57-52, Del Rio, 61-59, Sunset of Dallas, 63-61 and have won two straight, over Grand Prairie, 59-48 and Dallas South Oakcliff, 58-39.

Only returning starter in the lineup for the Bobcats is six-foot guard Sam Bradley who is averaging 10 points per contest.

Pampa will be gunning for its eighth straight victory while the Shockers will be shooting for victory No. 7 in eight outings.

Monday night Pampa's C team opened the season on a successful note, trimming Alamo Catholic of Amarillo, 61-39.

Jay Johnson and Johnny Stokes paced the Pampa scoring with 10 points each.

The C team hosts Sunray Thursday, beginning at 8 p.m.

Buckpasser Is Horse of Year

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Buckpasser, winner of 12 of 13 races this year and the first 3-year-old millionaire in turf history, completed a sweep of post season honors Monday by being named Horse of the Year in the Turf and Sport Digest's annual poll of racing writers and broadcasters.

Buckpasser, who earlier was named American champion by the Thoroughbred Racing Association and America's best race horse by staff members of the Morning Telegraph, received 191 of the 96 votes cast, with Bold Bidder, Graustark, Kauai King and Successor each polling one vote.

Tascosa Coach To Join Royal's Staff

AMARILLO (UPI) —Tascosa High School's football coach, R. M. (Pat) Patterson, quit Monday night to join the University of Texas coaching staff.

His team lost Saturday in the quarterfinals of the school boy playoffs to San Angelo.

The school board accepted Patterson's resignation with regret.

NEW STADIUM NEXT

Reds Change Ownership

CINCINNATI (UPI) —The new president of the Cincinnati Reds said today the purchase of the club from Bill DeWitt paves the way for a new, $35-million stadium and an American Football League franchise for the city.

Francis Dale of the Cincinnati Enquirer, head of the local investors who announced Monday they have bought the Reds for an estimated $8-million said the new owners will enter into a 40-year lease with the city to cover the life of bonds issued to finance the stadium and they expect Cincinnati to be granted an AFL franchise "by the end of the week."

Dale also disclosed the new owners intend to:

- Pick a "good solid baseball man" to succeed DeWitt as general manager.
- "Greatly increase" the budget for player development and promotion.
- Retain manager Dave Bristol and the present front office staff.
- Increase Budget

"No general manager will be named until after we complete the sale next month," said Dale. "We want a good solid baseball man and he will have a free hand in running the club. Without reflecting on previous expenditures of the club, we are going to greatly increase our budget so as to better compete with other clubs in the development of young talent."

A $35-million bond issue is expected this summer for the construction of the new stadium which will be situated on the Ohio River south of downtown Cincinnati. The stadium is expected to seat 46,000 for baseball and 55,000 for football. Plans are for it to be ready for the 1968 pro football season and for the Reds to start the 1969 baseball season in it.

Dale said the new owners "anticipate" that pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle will announce an AFL franchise for Cincinnati "before the end of the week." The AFL and National Football League will be merged into one 28-team circuit in 1970.

Remains As Consultant

DeWitt will remain with the Reds as a consultant for a year.

"It's pretty hard to say what you're going to do a year from now," he said when asked whether the sale of the Reds marked the end of his 51-year career in baseball.

The new owners, mostly local people, included David Gamble, director of Procter and Gamble, and William DeWitt Jr., son of the former owner.

The $8-million price tag on the Reds was twice the amount DeWitt paid for the team when he acquired it from Powell he acquired it in 1962.

Ara, Duffy To Accept Trophy

NEW YORK (UPI) —Coach Ara Parseghian of national champion Notre Dame and Duffy Daugherty of runner-up Michigan State will accept the MacArthur Bowl, symbolic of collegiate football supremacy, at the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame banquet tonight at the Waldorf Astoria.

Notre Dame and Michigan State were named co-winners of the bowl for 1966 by the Foundation's awards committee.

The schools, which battled to a 10-10 tie at East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 19, will retain possession of the trophy for six months each, with a coin toss deciding the first to hold the award.

Also slated at tonight's festivities is the induction of 10 new Hall of Famers, including: Charley Conery of Mississippi; Jim Crowley and Rip Miller of Notre Dame; Norm Van Brocklin of Oregon; Dick Kazmaier of Princeton; the late Albie Booth of Yale; Aaron Rosenberg of Southern California; Chuck Carney of Illinois; Pete Pihos of Indiana; and Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of California.

Chairman Roger M. Blough of the General MacArthur Advisory Committee will present MacArthur Bowl plaques to Parseghian and Irish captain Jim Lynch as well as Daugherty and his co-captains George Webster and Clint Jones.

Also on the agenda is the presentation of the Foundation's distinguished American Award to Capt. William Carpenter, Army's famed lonely end, who was cited for heroic action in Viet Nam earlier this year.

SWC Teams Hit On Road Trips

By United Press International

Southwest Conference basketball teams got shut-out on road trips Monday night from Michigan to Florida.

For the Texas Longhorns, it was guard Jim Moran's two free throws in the last six seconds that meant victory for Mississippi, 82-80.

Texas started out ahead and led 40-37 at the half before the Rebels exploded to take a 17-point lead. The Steers put on a full court press to whittle it down. Texas lost three starters on fouls and the Rebels four.

Texas forward Larry Lake tied it at 80-all with 55 seconds after the Longhorns missed a basket with 25 seconds left. He ended up with 17 points along with Mike Gammon.

Rice started out ahead, too, at Tallahassee, Fla. but Florida State roared from behind to win 76-72.

Rice's Bill Doty was high with 24 points and grabbed 15 rebounds. The Owls led at the half 39-37.

Ronnie Peret led the Texas Aggies to within two points of the Memphis State Tigers in Memphis but that was as far as the rally went and the Tigers won 66-56.

Mike Butler led Memphis State with 25 points and Peret got 20 and Billy Bob Barnett led 11.

Memphis State had a 36-28 halftime lead.

In Ann Arbor, Mich., the University of Michigan upset Houston 86-75, giving up the lead for a few minutes late in the first half.

The Wolverines piled up as much as an 11-point lead midway in the first half. The Cougars cut it to 40-38 at the half.

Elvin Hayes led Houston with 25 points and Melvin Bell added 11.

It was the Cougars' first loss.

In other Texas college basketball:

Trinity's Larry Jeffries poured in a record 46 points to lead the Tigers to a 126-81 victory over Texas A&I.

Chuck Meyer of the Javelinas had 37 points.

In what must have been one of the more unspectacular games, Angelo State managed a 64-39 victory over a Sul Ross team that hardly shot at the basket.

The Lobos played ball control and got no field goals until three minutes left in the first half.

At one point in the first half, it was 23-6 for Angelo. Randy Martindale led Sul Ross with 18. Charles Spieker had 12 for Angelo and 11 other team members got in on the scoring.

In Little Rock, Leonard Harris sank four consecutive free throws in the final two minutes to help Philander Smith to an 89-83 victory over Paul Quinn College of Waco, Tex.

Ronald Higgs led Quinn with 25 points and Earl Webb added 20. Tony McGraw led Philander with 22.

White Sox Peters Stages Form Reversal to Win ERA

BOSTON (UPI) —Gary Peters staged a complete reversal in form during 1966 to win the American League earned run average title with a 1.98 percentage.

According to statistics released today by A. L. president Joe Cronin, the Chicago White Sox lefthander compiled a 12-10 record, as compared to 10-12 last season, and performed far under his 1965 E.R.A. of 3.63.

Peters' pitching routine was his best since 1963 when he turned in a league leading E.R.A. of 2.33.

The White Sox earned team honors in pitching as Joel Horlen finished behind teammate Peters with a 2.43 E.R.A. Chicago's combined E.R.A. mark was 2.68 and the team effort included a league high of 22 shutouts.

Jim Kaat of the Minnesota Twins was the top winner in the A.L. with 25 victories against 13 losses. He also started the most games, 41, and completed a high of 19 contests.

Kaat was the workhorse of the junior circuit with the most innings pitched, 305, and the most batters faced, 1,154. The only pitcher to join him in the charmed 20-game winner's circle was Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers, who had a 20-14 mark.

McLain and Kaat, however, paid for their high rating with some dubious titles. McLain gave up the most home runs, 12, and the most runs, 120, while Kaat issued the most hits, 271.

White Sox Peters Stages Form Reversal to Win ERA

Sam McDowell, Cleveland's strong southpaw who was sidelined by a sore arm part of the season, repeated as strikeout king with 225. Last season, McDowell whiffed 325 batters, second only in Cleveland annals to Bobby Feller's 348.

McDowell posted a league high of five shutouts in 1966, a figure matched by teammate Luis Tiant and Chicago's Tommy John.

Rookie Jim Nash of the Kansas City Athletics had an impressive debut with a 12-1 record, good for the league's top percentage of .923.

Sonny Siebert of Cleveland pitched the league's only no-hitter, a 2-0 decision over the Washington Senators on June 10. McDowell and McLain had near misses as each allowed one hit on two occasions.

Mel Stottlemyre of the New York Yankees who won 20 in 1965, was the only 20-game loser in the American League, which wasn't so startling compared to the team's first cellar finish since 1912. Dean Chance, a former Cy Young Award winner, lost 17 games for the California Angels.

Eddie Fisher, with Chicago and Baltimore, appeared in the most games, 67; Horlen was guilty of 14 wild pitches; George Brunet of California committed four balks, and Chance walked the most batters, 114.
