OUT TO TOPPLE MAO

Soviet Planning To Muscle In on China

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK — While the United States is watching Red China's political convulsions as a concerned observer, Russia is preparing to seize power in Peking.

Thousands of Soviet agents, many of them Red army officers on active duty, are reliably reported to be leading the anti-Mao insurgents in the rebellious provinces. More significant is increasing evidence that Moscow is already preparing the "legal ground" and "moral justification" for an invasion of China.

Premier Kosygin's ultimatum to Peking over the recent seizure of a Soviet freighter in the Chinese port of Dairen was only one indication of the Kremlin's plans.

Russian ships have been seized and their crews "insulted" in Dairen before. But the Russians veiled the incidents in diplomatic silence.

Why, then, Kosygin's sudden threat and ultimatum to Mao Tse-tung?

In the view of specialists on communism, Moscow is beginning to pile up publicly enough grievances that would justify direct Soviet intervention in the Chinese civil war. This is an old Soviet policy that had been used effectively by Stalin in Poland, Romania and the Baltic countries.

Immediately after the Dairen incident Radio Moscow claimed that Mao's "accomplices" were openly attempting to change China's borders with Soviet Russia.

The radio charged that a textbook had been printed in Peking which included a map "showing certain Soviet territories" as belonging to China. It warned that any attempt by Mao to revise China's borders with Russia "carried the danger of serious military clashes."

The textbook and map have been in use in China for several years. But it is only in recent weeks that the Russians acknowledged their existence.

On Aug. 17, the Soviet government also changed in a protest note to Peking that the Chinese were engaged in a "hysterical anti-Soviet campaign" aimed at "sabotaging the friendship between the two peoples."

MAO FORCES DIVIDED

Canton 'Bloodbath' Between Rival Units

HONG KONG (UPI)—Reports from Communist China Saturday said heavy and continuous fighting is raging in Canton.

Arrivals from the south China city said troops sent south by Peking to crush a rebel military movement were locked in battle with rebel elements at the city's airport, the right-wing Hong Kong Standard reported.

The arrivals said fierce artillery duels at the airport prevented a plane sent by Premier Chou En-lai from landing to pick up Red Guard leaders for a peace parley in Peking.

Savage fighting between rival Red Guard units each claiming loyalty to party leader Mao Tse-tung has reportedly accounted for much of the turmoil in Canton.

Four Killed In Crash of Plane

YOAKUM, Tex. (UPI)—A single engine private plane crashed during fog, light rain and low hanging overcast today, killing all four persons aboard.

The victims were identified as John Popovich, 25, Simpson-Ray II, 23, and Michael Radulovich, 20, all stationed at Ft. Wolters near Mineral Wells, Tex., and Ray's wife, Susan Lander Ray, 19.

Authorities said the four were on a weekend pleasure trip to the West Coast. They were flying a four-place Piper rented from Eagle Flying Service at Luck Field in Fort Worth.

As the plane crashed, it knocked down power lines near Texas Highway 111 and landed in a nearby field. Pieces of the wreckage were scattered around the area.

Popovich's hometown was given as Wallingford, Conn. The hometowns of the other three were not given.

Public Safety Dept. Has Clerk Job Open
A clerk-typist position has opened with the Texas Dept. of Public Safety in Pampa. Salary will be $326 a month.

The position is newly created here due to the added amount of work stemming from the new driver's license legislation.

Driver license examiner Bob Hendrix said applicants must come by his office any Monday, Tuesday or Friday, with the exception of Labor Day, to obtain further information.

EXPULSION of two American diplomats, above, from the Soviet Union was "retaliation," according to the State Department. Moscow accused Brice Meeker, left, an agricultural attache, and Richard Dabney Chapman, first secretary of the American embassy, of "activities incompatible with diplomatic status."

The appeal was the latest in a series of pleas for an end to the rivalry between military and civilian supporters of Mao. In calling for "unwavering" support of Mao by the armed forces, the military leaders reflected the official concern felt for the loyalty of the army.

The appeal was broadcast by Peking Radio.

In a message celebrating North Vietnamese independence day, the Chinese hierarchy assured Hanoi that China is prepared to give "even at the cost of the greatest national sacrifice, all-out support to the Vietnamese people's war to resist United States aggression and save the country."

Top military leaders in Peking meanwhile appealed anew for "urgent measures" to improve relations between the armed forces and civilians in Red China's power struggle.

The reports told of wall posters in Canton that indicated the rebels have adopted one of Mao's own dictums—that of "using rural villages to seize cities."

The posters reportedly said anti-Maoists have blockaded suburban areas and are advancing on Canton "by land and water."

Chinese-language newspapers in Hong Kong, also making their reports mainly on accounts brought back by travelers, said anti-Maoists have set in motion a threatened "bloodbath" against the party chairman's supporters.

The work is part of the Highway Commission's combined Farm to Market Road Improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment Program for 1968.

The total state-wide program calls for the improvement of 5,182 miles at an estimated construction cost of $39.8 million and right of way cost of $137.5 thousand. Work will include 859 projects in 212 of Texas' 254 counties and 460 projects are on farm to market roads in 170 counties.

The safety and betterment portion of the program calls for work on 2,408.9 miles of highways at an estimated cost of $22.2 million. Purchase of 9.8 miles of right of way will cost an additional $137.5 thousand.

The farm to market road improvement portion of the program calls for work on 2,763 miles at an estimated cost of $17.7 million.

THREE IN PAMPA

State Okays $541,000 County Road Project

The Texas Highway Commission Friday approved the expenditure of $541,000 for highway safety and betterment and improvement of the Farm to Market road system in Gray County during 1968. Of this amount, $365,000 is financing for work which was previously authorized.

District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo said Saturday the following projects in Gray County will be involved in the annual program under the supervision of Thomas R. Kelley, senior resident engineer in Pampa:

FM 749, from State Highway 70, 10.5 miles south of Pampa, northeast to Bowers City, a distance of 6 miles, for reconstruction of grading, structures and surface, at an estimated cost of $176,000.

US 60 in Pampa, from the west city limits to State 70, a distance of 0.5 miles, for reconstruction to a modern urban section, at an estimated cost of $100,000. This work was previously authorized.

State 152 in Pampa, from FM 282 East to Faulkner St., a distance of 0.9 miles, for reconstruction to a modern urban section, at an estimated cost of $200,000. This work was also previously authorized.

US 273 in Pampa, from US 60 southeast to Crawford St. and on US 60 in Pampa, from State 70 to east of the east city limits, a total of 865,000 was allocated to finance the state's portion of the purchase of right of way. These right of way projects were previously authorized by the Highway Commission.

The work is part of the Highway Commission's combined Farm to Market Road Improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment Program for 1968.

Arabs Lift Oil Embargo; Pumping 'To Start' Now

CAIRO (UPI)—Saudi Arabia announced Saturday night it has ended its oil embargo and will begin pumping oil "to all countries without exception." The announcement was broadcast over the state-run Jeddah Radio.

The announcement did not give the precise time that pumping would be resumed, but in Cairo the announcement was interpreted as meaning it would start immediately.

The decision was a result of an agreement hammered out at the recent Arab summit meeting in Khartoum.

"In accordance with the decision of the Arab summit conference, King Faisal's government has decided to resume the pumping of oil to all countries without exception," the announcement said.

Saudi Arabia, thus, became the first Arab country officially to announce it would resume pumping oil to the United States, Great Britain and West Germany since it was cut off in retaliation for support the Western nations allegedly gave

UAW, Ford Lock Over Contract

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers, locked in showdown contract bargaining with Ford Motor Co., Saturday promised to continue sessions straight through the holiday weekend. Both sides reported no progress.

Walter P. Reuther, the UAW president who has promised to strike Ford unless he wins a contract by midnight Wednesday, emerged from a two-hour session after taking personal charge of the bargaining.

"I could not say that there is any change in the company's position," he told reporters. But he said he still had hope.

"We live on high octane optimism," the 60-year-old red-haired labor leader said.

Ford Vice President Malcolm L. Denise added: "I can not honestly say I detect any progress so far."

A strike at Ford would put 152,000 UAW workers on the streets at 101 plants and parts depots in 100 communities spread through 27 states.

The company, the nation's fourth largest corporation, would have to stop its extensive spending for parts and supplies, an important chunk in the national economy which amounted to $7.9 billion last year.

While Reuther pledged crisis bargaining sessions at Ford straight through until the Sept. 6 deadline, talks at the other two major companies—General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.—recessed for the weekend. Bringing pressure on Ford is the union's whipsaw play to force a pattern contract out of one company while allowing the others to keep operating.

There was a brief session at GM Saturday during which the UAW offered to extend the contract. The company refused and said that was a matter for bargaining on the deadline day.

Reuther demanded Saturday that Ford offer a cost-of-living clause so that pensions for its 27,000 retired workers would rise periodically to meet inflation. He said there would be no contract unless such a plan was included.

He also said the matter of equal pay for Canadian UAW workers was still a live issue. Canadian workers currently make 43 cents an hour less than their American counterparts.

Denise said the matter would have to be settled by separate bargaining in Canada.

Milk Price Hike Hits All Pampa Stores Monday

Beginning Monday morning, Labor Day, most Pampans will find themselves paying 10 to 12 cents more per half gallon of milk at grocery stores throughout the city due to increase in the price of bulk milk.

The hike in prices is a result of an increase in the rate of bulk milk by dairy farm cooperatives, according to George M. Clarke, executive vice president of Dairy Products Institute of Texas.

Associated Dairymen Inc., bargaining agent for 38 dairy farm cooperatives in 16 states, raised prices 50 cents per 100 pounds to $6.87. The 50-cent increase will be a premium above the current minimum price set by the federal government.

Although the average price will increase about six cents across the state, prices will jump 10 to 12 cents per half gallon in Pampa stores.

"This is not the fault of the merchants," said Jim Finkenbinder, manager of Pampa Milk Company, Inc. "Pampa has been fortunate that retail merchants have kept the price down as long as they have."

Pampa stores have been in a "price war" all this time for at least six months, Finkenbinder said. "Otherwise, the price would have gone up only four to six cents."

Milk companies have had three price raises on bulk milk in the last several months without a comparable increase in the stores, Finkenbinder said. Retail merchants have to increase the price to make up for the loss, he concluded.

Prices per half gallon have been averaging 45 cents in Pampa lately. The price in Amarillo has averaged 53 cents.

Milk in Pampa has been "too cheap for too long," said a local merchant.

A representative of Ideal Food Stores said some brands of milk will have an increase starting Monday.

"There will probably be a 10 to 12 cent increase," he said. "The price of milk (per half gallon) should have been 53 cents earlier. We've got to go up."

Doug Ward, manager of Ward's Grocery, said a half gallon will probably cost 57 cents on Monday.

"Milk companies are increasing prices to all stores," he said. "We have to go up on our prices."

Lynn Love, manager of Piggly Wiggly, said, "There will have to be some increase, but we're (See MILK, Page 3)

Guerrillas Ambush, Kill to Terrorize

SAIGON (UPI)—From Mekong Delta swamplands to steamy jungles near the Demilitarized Zone, South Vietnamese voters risked their lives Sunday to elect a president, vice president and 60-man Senate despite Viet Cong terrorist vows to smear the ballots with blood.

By the time the nation's 8,808 polling places opened at 7 a.m. (6 p.m. CDT) the Communist had killed, wounded or kidnaped more than 2,200 civilians in their heaviest terror campaign of the war. In the final few hours before the voting began, the Viet Cong blew up at least four polling places, three crowded civilian buses and staged a daring raid into the heart of the provincial capital of Tam Ky in the nation's northern quarter.

Ninety-one persons were killed or wounded when the three buses were blown off the road. Four civilians were killed and six wounded in the fight at Tam Ky before the Viet Cong withdrew leaving five of their own dead behind. One guard was slightly hurt in one of the polling place blasts in a hamlet just a few miles south of Saigon. There were no immediate details on the other explosions, a government spokesman said.

Communist leaders ordered guerrillas to stop at nothing to sabotage the election which President Johnson called more important than any military clash in South Vietnam's blood-soaked battlegrounds.

Vietnamese officials estimated that between 75 and 80 percent of the nation's 5.8 million registered voters would cast their ballots before the polls closed at 4 p.m. The polls were to close before nightfall to protect voters in many of the areas where the Viet Cong still rules after dark.

Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chief of state put in power by a military coup two years ago, was expected to win the presidential race with little trouble. He is the military candidate running against 10 civilians. Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, forced to abandon his own presidential aspirations, is running as the military's vice presidential candidate.

The generals of the ruling military junta pressured Ky into joining Thieu to prevent a possible split in the armed forces, which can muster nearly 2 million of the nation's 5.7 million registered voters.

But as election day rolled around, Thieu's chief civilian opponents, former Premier Tran Van Huong, the son of a coolie, and Phan Khac Suu, chairman of the provisional assembly that wrote the nation's new constitution, said they believed they had a "reasonable chance" of winning.

Most Businesses To Close on Labor Day

Tomorrow will be the last summer holiday enjoyed by most Panhandle residents as they take time off from work to celebrate or relax on Labor Day.

Families will prepare picnics to be enjoyed in backyards, at parks or at surrounding lakes. And students will take time off from studies for the first holiday of the school year before classes resume Tuesday morning.

Most Pampa stores, with the exception of some food stores and service establishments, will close Monday to allow employees time to rest with their families and friends. Banks will also close.

All state and federal offices will be closed tomorrow, including those of City Hall and the courthouse. Police, sheriff department and Highway Patrol, though, will operate as usual.

A number of citizens will take to the roads for the observance of the national holiday. The Department of Public Safety estimated last week 45 persons will be killed in Texas traffic over the Labor Day weekend. Tabulation of deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and will end at midnight Monday.

No residential or business mail will be delivered tomorrow by the Post Office, except for special delivery. The Post Office will be closed except for box patrons.

Various activities have been scheduled throughout the Panhandle. Crowds are expected for boating and skiing at Lake McClellan and Lake Meredith.

The Top of Texas Golf Tournament will find area golfers competing today and tomorrow (See LABOR DAY, Page 3)

Mobeetie Historical Marker Will Honor Capt. Arrington

By ROSE MARIE BENTLEY
MOBEETIE (Sp) — Dedication of an historical marker will honor the memory of Panhandle pioneer Capt. G. W. Arrington at the annual Old Mobeetie picnic here on Labor Day.

Dedicator services are set for 11 a.m. Monday with State Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo as the principal speaker. The marker will be placed at graveside in Mobeetie Cemetery on the south side of Old Mobeetie.

"Cap" Arrington is said to have been the greatest peace officer in the history of the Panhandle. He fought in the Confederate army, then joined the most famous guerrilla fighters of the Confederacy, the famous "Mosby's Partisan Rangers" as a scout.

History records that after the war he went to Mexico and fought with Maximilian. Then he is said to have gone to Central America as an adventurer. After Maximilian was executed at Queretaro, Arrington returned to Texas.

When the Texas Rangers were organized he joined as a private and worked his way up to captain of Company C.

In 1879 Captain Arrington and his Rangers came to the Wheeler and Hemphill County area because of the trouble with the Indians at Mobeetie and Fort Elliot. He purchased ranch land and resigned from the Rangers in 1882. The people of Wheeler county persuaded him to run for sheriff, an office he held for eight years, serving an area which now covers 14 counties.

He managed the famous Rocking Chair Ranch for three years and then moved to Canadian and became sheriff of Hemphill County.

The Arrington marker and its location will appear in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers."

Captain Arrington was the father of Mrs. Charles Teas and French Arrington; Canadian; Mrs. Edgar Long, Monroe; Mich.; Mrs. Glez. Bowers, Snyder; and Mrs. Inez Crenshaw, Bartlesville, Okla. A son, John Arrington, of Miami, died last year.

Lucky Texas Millionaire Wildcatter Wins With Unorthodox Practices

HOUSTON (UPI)—John Mecom, a wildcatter who made millions by unorthodox practice in the oilfields, now is doing the same thing in sulphur.

Mecom, at 56 one of the richest men in the United States, got his start in the '30s by working depleted and abandoned wells. Later he defied convention and drilled on the flanks of salt domes, which up to that time had never produced a drop.

The gushers of the flanks of several domes made him rich and right. And because he is an expert on domes and because he does not always rely on the opinion of major producers, he is in the sulphur business near Houma, La.

Invests $2.5 Million
Mecom has found enough sulphur in a plant at the Chacaboula Dome 20 miles from Houma. He went in after the Freeport Sulphur Co., one of the giants of the sulphur industry, had given up.

Mecom has found enough sulphur to produce more than 50 long tons a day now and by the time the plant is completed in November, production should be about 500 long tons a day.

"This is my first venture in sulphur and going in behind Freeport sulphur is sort of like going in behind the government," Mecom said. "I have the utmost respect for those people, but this is a challenge. Also, this is a salt dome and I learned long ago you never really know what is around a salt dome until you put holes in the ground."

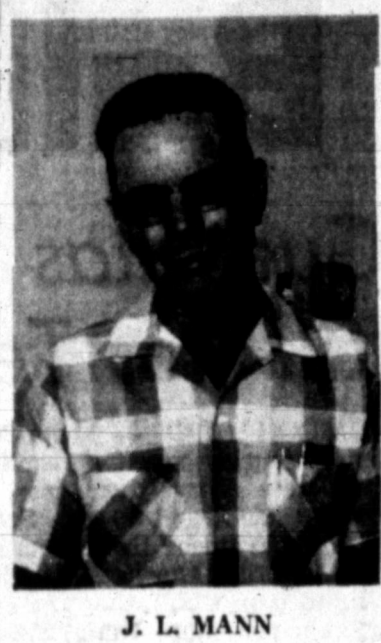

Hopes for Success
"I want this to be a success more than anything I've ever done."

If estimates are correct, it may be. Freeport sulphur extracted almost 1.2 million long tons while it was there from 1955-62, but Mecom's consultants, Barry and Richardson, of Houston, estimate the reserves now at 5 million long tons.

Phillips Operator Wins Suggestion Plan Award

J. L. Mann, a Field Operator in the Pampa Area of Phillips Petroleum Co.'s Exploration and Production Dept., has been awarded $695.00 through Phillips' Employee Suggestion Plan. Mr. Mann received the award for his idea pertaining to the recovery of condensate from a booster discharge line.

Mr. Mann has been an employee of Phillips Petroleum Co. for 25 years. He and his wife, Ruth, reside at Quinduno Booster near Miami.

Petroleum Leaders Will Assess Trends Affecting Industry

HOUSTON (SpI)—Kenneth E. Montague, president, General Crude Oil Co., has been named general arrangements chairman for Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn's 48th annual meeting at the Rice Hotel in Houston, Oct. 16-18, it has been announced.

Approximately 600 of the state's top petroleum industry executives are expected for the yearly gathering where leaders assess governmental and economic trends affecting Texas oil and gas operations.

Montague this week named key committee chairmen who will meet Sept. 12 to draft meeting plans.

NGPA Announces Research Grants

The Natural Gas Processors Assn. has established research grants at six agricultural colleges and research organizations to develop techniques and equipment for thermal agriculture, or the use of LP-gas heat in agriculture, it was announced recently by NGPA President C. W. Miller.

Three of the grants—to the University of Tennessee, Colorado State University, and Purdue University—are for support of work in thermal control of the alfalfa weevil, which threatens vast acreages of this important forage crop. At least four states—Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, and North Carolina—are recommending thermal means of controlling the weevil since most of the effective pesticides have been withdrawn from use.

Pampan Reports on Peace Corps Experiences While in Uruguay

DENNIS DUNIGAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dennis Dunigan, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dunigan, 110 W. Kentucky, has served in the Peace Corps in Uruguay for a year this month. He graduated from Price College in Amarillo and has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Notre Dame—University at South Bend, Ind. The following letter was written Aug. 15.)
By DENNIS DUNIGAN Peace Corps Volunteer
 One of the aims of the Peace Corps is to enable the volunteers to experience life as most of their host country nationals do. It accomplishes this quite effectively by paying the volunteers a host country wage, or living allowance, in the native currency.
 As a result there is not a volunteer in Uruguay who has not developed a strong visceral sense of what the words "inflation" and "devaluation" mean. The first month we were here —September, 1966—our living allowance was 4,500 pesos. The exchange rate was 63 pesos to the dollar, so we received approximately 71 dollars a month to live on. During our first week here, however, the exchange rate climbed from 68 to 67 pesos to the dollar. Before the month was out, it was in the 70's.

 In October we left Montevideo, the capital, for our respective towns and villages in the interior of the country with a 75 dollar "settling-in allowance" with which to buy such items as blankets, heaters, etc., as needed. Like all Peace Corps allowances, this was in the native currency.
 I didn't have to use mine, but by the time I got back into Montevideo to change it into dollars, it was worth only 60 of them. Lesson number-one in devaluation.
 We presently receive 7,000 pesos per month, worth 60 dollars, a 15 per cent drop in dollar income from the 4,500 pesos we received less than a year ago. And because prices have risen steeply even in dollar terms, our raise of 2,500 pesos represents an even larger drop in "real" living allowance. Hence, one's definition of "living" is constantly revised downward—as it is for practically everybody in Uruguay.
 Saving, of course, is a joke. Uruguayans, like Peace Corpsmen, buy dollars as if each one were a golden goose. And since practically anything—cars, bicycles, furniture—is a counter-inflationary investment, everybody goes out and buys all he can as soon as he gets paid, and in the process merely adds to the inflation.
 There are some, of course, who benefit from the system. One man told me he simply gives up desserts the week his monthly house payment falls due. But for the great majority, keeping ahead is like trying to climb the down escalator.
 Practically everybody under 30 has developed a fatalistic belief in inevitable deterioration. Nothing could be more foreign to them than the notion generally held by young people in the States that each generation has a little more than the last.
 One friend of mine who has worked in the same bank for nine years says he receives the same real wage he did when he started, despite years of study, promotions, raises. People beginning at the same level he began at receive much less than he did nine years ago.
 Another friend, a clerk in a General Motors store, used to make enough to at least dress fairly well. Today he has a hard-time buying cigarettes.
 And so it goes. Every day smoking a little less, eating cheaper foods, wearing worn-out clothing a little longer.
 Inflation—it's one of the easiest words to learn in Uruguay, and impossible to forget—even for a day.

William H. Kelley resigns Cabot post

Kelley Resigns At Cabot; Will Enter Private Business

William B. Kelley, a 30-year employe of Cabot Corp. in Pampa, announced Saturday his resignation as employment supervisor for Cabot's Western Region and stated he plans to open an employment service in Amarillo.
 The Kelley Employment Service, he said, will be formally opened Sept. 13 in Suite 600, Bank of the Southwest Bldg., Amarillo. Kelley has had 23 years experience in the employment field and his Amarillo office will specialize in professional, technical, secretarial and office employment.
 Kelley attended his last meeting Friday as a member of the Downtown Kiwanis Club with which he has been affiliated for 23 years. He is a past director of the club and has served as chairman of many civic committees.
 Kelley also is a member of the Panhandle Personnel Association of which he is a past vice president and a member of Pampa Masonic Lodge 966.
 Kelley said he and his wife, Helen, and daughter, Kandy, moved Friday to their new home at 4403 W. Third St., Amarillo, where Miss Kelley will be a sophomore at Tascosa High School in Pampa, they resided at 1921 Dogwood.

Pampan Picked Up On DWI Charge

 He was still in jail yesterday afternoon in lieu of bond.

Art Classes to Be Conducted

Dord Fitz, director of an art school and gallery in Amarillo, will conduct painting classes in Pampa beginning Sept. 9. Classes will be held at 1 p.m. each Saturday in the Pampa Junior High School art room for both beginning and advanced students, according to Mrs. Bert Arney.
 Fitz, who is both a painter and sculptor, was a professor for 14 years at the University of Kentucky before he resigned to open his school at Amarillo. In the past he has been assisted by such persons as art critic Harold Rosenberg, artists Alic Ratz and Elaine de Rovning and sculptress Louise Nelvelson.
 Work under Fitz' tutelage has received favorable notice from several New York shows and in "Art News" magazine, according to Mrs. Arney.
 Reservations for the classes may be made by contacting Mrs. Arney at MO 9-9990.

Roundtable Scout Meeting Scheduled

Santa Fe district of Adobe Walls Council of Boy Scouts has scheduled a combined roundtable meet for Cub, Boy Scout and Explorer leaders and a Boy Scout "in town" jamboree for September.

County SCD News

By WILLIAM M. SOWERS
One of the best methods that can be used by Gray County cattlemen to increase profits and reduce feed bills is proper range use. Proper range use can be defined as "take half of the grass and leave half of the grass." Proper use is essential to obtain the most beneficial use of any tame pasture or native range. There are several reasons why proper use is essential for maximum results.

Proper use is directly related to the food manufacturing processes of forage grasses. Grass has the unusual ability to produce its own food. This process occurs in the green leaves of the grass in the presence of sunlight and chlorophyll. Food is manufactured in the leaves and transported through a vascular system similar to blood veins and is stored in the root system.

Food is stored during the fall and used the following spring for re-growth. Since the food of grass is manufactured in the leaves, it is necessary for forage grasses to maintain at least 50 per cent of their leaves in order to produce enough food.

Since leaf surface affects food production, and food production affects food storage, the amount of leaf surface on a plant affects the depth of the root system. Plants with healthy leaves have healthy roots. A deep root system allows a plant to be more drought resistant and make more efficient use of moisture than a plant with a short root system.

High Plains Research Slates Field Day Sept. 14

Farm equipment display and demonstration will again be a major attraction at the 11th annual field day of the High Plains Research Foundation on Sept. 14. This feature of the annual field day has grown in popularity each year at the Amarillo event.

At the 1966 field day, 62 major firms had their latest in farm equipment on display. The exhibitors were occupied all afternoon showing, describing and operating their products for the thousands of farmers and other visitors.

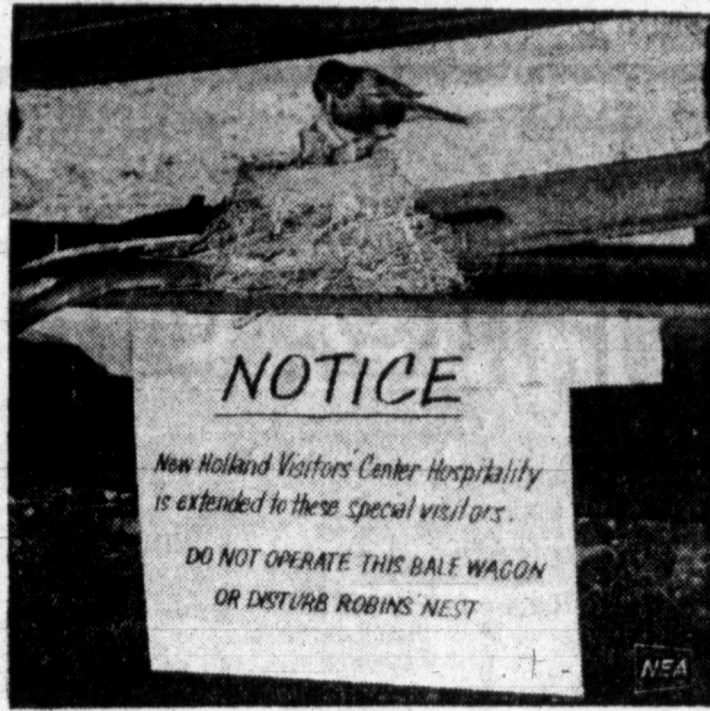

The displays include nearly every kind of equipment used in successful operations of farms and ranches. Some of the displays included irrigation equipment, tractors, combines, land leveling, planting, cultivation, spraying, flame farming, herbicides, insecticides and fertilizer equipment manufactured and sold by various companies and individuals.

A group of members of the Board of Trustees will be hosts for the display and exhibition. Members of the host committee will be on duty one hour each during the afternoon to direct visitors to the type of equipment they would like to see demonstrated.

Cold drinks will be available at the spot where visitors unload at the end of the field tours.

Dr. Tom Longnecker, director, stated, "It has been our custom to assign sites for the location of displays on a 'first reservation first choice basis.' Due to the number of people interested in the display who will arrive early on the 14th, it has been the custom to have the equipment in place by Wednesday evening."

A BIRD ON THE BALE WAGON may not be worth two in the bush, but at least it merits consideration, decided owners of a farm implement display at New Holland, Pa. The automatic wagon was set up at the New Holland division plant of the Sperry Rand Corporation as a display item when a family of robins set up squatters' rights on the underside. They were allowed to stay.

Dry lot Research May Provide Help For Commercial Cattle Feeders

BEEVILLE — Research in cattle feeding underway at the Coastal Bend Experiment Station near here may provide additional help for Texas commercial cattle feeders.

With 15 percent more cattle and calves on feed for slaughter markets in Texas on Aug. 1 than for the comparable period a year ago, increased interest is being shown in feedlot performance.

Experiment Station Superintendent Ed Neal and his staff explained some highlights of a 120-day roughage-concentrate drylot feeding test involving 150 crossbred steers during a recent beef cattle open house at the station. The researchers reviewed results of the first 84 days of the tests, and visitors inspected steers on the various finishing rations.

Thirty of the crossbred steers are on an all-concentrate ration. Groups of 10 steers each are being fed five levels of ground Coastal bermuda hay and cottonseed hulls, at the rates of 10, 20, 30, 50 and 70 per cent. Other lots of steers are receiving 2 per cent oyster shell and limestone, respectively, with their milo and guar meal rations.

Highest average daily gains were recorded by steers receiving the 50 per cent ground Coastal ration, with 4.08 pounds each. Next highest gainers were steers getting 30 per cent Coastal hay, with an average daily gain of 3.94 pounds. They were followed by steers being fed a 50 per cent ration of cottonseed hulls, which gained 3.89 pounds each.

"All of the rations were formulated to contain 12 per cent crude protein, 1 per cent bone meal, .5 per cent ammonium chloride and 4.4 mg of antibiotic and 1,000 international units of Vitamin A per pound of mixed feed," explained B. E. Conrad, assistant agronomist and animal husbandman at the station.

Average daily feed intake also was highest at the 50 per cent Coastal and cottonseed hull levels, the researcher pointed out. This intake decreased slightly at the 70 per cent level, and still more at the 30 per cent level.

On the Coastal ration, steers receiving 10 per cent of the grass hay had an average daily gain of 3.53 pounds; 20 per cent, 3.67 pounds; 70 per cent, 3.38. Steers on the cottonseed hull rations had an average daily gain as follows: 10 per cent hulls, 3.74 pounds; 20 per cent, 3.67; 30 per cent, 3.72; and 70 per cent, 3.74.

Neal and Conrad also reported that grazing trials involving

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
In the early part of this year, I reported to you that Melvin McCuiston, a Roberts County farmer and rancher, was considering grazing out an irrigated wheat crop in lieu of harvesting the crop.

Last week Melvin was in our office again concerning another matter and we confronted him with the question, "How did you come out on the grazing of your wheat?"

Melvin replied, "I grazed 200 acres out and harvested another 200 acres in the usual manner. I sold the heifers off for the wheat that I had grazed out for $23 per cwt."

"The heifers were weighed on the wheat and off for an accurate check of gain. When we figured the return from the wheat grazed out, it came to $11 more per acre than the gross return from the wheat."

Melvin further stated, "I saved the price of one watering on the grazed-out wheat or about $5 to $6. In addition, I saved another $6 per acre in combining and hauling. This would have been about a $23 higher return per acre on the grazed-out wheat than the combined

When I asked Melvin what his combined wheat made per acre, he replied, "About 25 bushels per acre." Melvin estimated that his wheat yield would have been at least 35 bushels per acre in order to break even with his grazed-out wheat.

The impressive thing to me about Melvin's story is that he backs everything up with facts and figures. He weighed his cattle on the wheat. He weighed them off. He knew about what his cost was of placing on four inches of water over an acre of land. He knew his wheat yield. He knew the break-even price of producing a bushel of wheat.

Melvin is the type of farmer and rancher that has an inquisitive mind and is willing to experiment on new methods. His purpose in his recent visit to our office was to determine the amount of salt that is necessary to place in the ration of 400-pound calves to regulate the daily feed consumption.

The answer to this is one-half pound of salt to each 10 pounds of feed or a ration of one to 20. Melvin plans to use this technique to regulate a self-feed milo on pasture. It can work real well. In our opinion it will take this kind of management to stay in this most competitive game of farming and ranching in the years ahead.

Melvin also mentioned that a large number of producers had contacted him concerning the story about the wheat pasture. He said the story got down on the South Plains some way and a rather large group of farmers carried out the same practice after visiting with him and reading the story.

John O. Barnes Promoted To Assistant FHA Director

John O. Barnes has been promoted to the position of assistant state director of the Farmers Home Administration in Temple, effective Aug. 27, 1967. This announcement was made recently by L. J. Cappelman, state director.

Barnes was reared on a farm near Mabank, Tex. He lived there until 1942, when he entered active duty with the United States Marine Corps. He was recalled for active duty in 1951.

Barnes has been employed by the Farmers Home Administration in various positions since 1952. He started his career as an assistant disaster loan supervisor in Jacksonville.

Coastal bermuda and Kleingrass were initiated last April 27. Because of extreme drought conditions, the summer grazing trials were terminated after 63 days on June 30, however, twenty steers pastured on the Coastal averaged 64 pounds daily gain, while 12 steers on the Kleingrass recorded an average daily gain of 2.39 pounds.

While additional research should be done since the grazing trials were cut short, the Kleingrass "looks quite promising." The limiting factor may be its scarcity, researchers pointed out.

In 1964, he was promoted to district supervisor in Greenville and served in that capacity until this new appointment was made.

Barnes attended Sam Houston State College where he earned both a Bachelors and Masters degree in Vocational Agriculture.

In announcing this appointment,

John O. Barnes, Assistant State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, is shown in a portrait. He is wearing a suit and tie.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS
Cooper Reservoir on Sulphur River in Northeast Texas has run into trouble with Texas Board of Water Development. The Development Board, which included Cooper Reservoir in the 2020 Water Plan for Texas.

The Board of Water Development and the Corps of Engineers both have money invested in Cooper Reservoir. The Board of Water Development, in refusing to accept the contract on the reservoir, took exception to a provision in the contract through which the Corps of Engineers would reserve 32,100 acre feet of storage space to yield 63,700 acre feet of water a year. This water would be used as needed to maintain quality in Sulphur River below Cooper Reservoir and Texarkana Reservoir.

In reviewing the Red River Compact, Chairman Joe Moore of the Development Board noted that only 7,200 acre feet a year had been set aside for quality control. He went on to add the amount now desired by the Corps was equal to the amount originally set aside for the year 2020. He also criticized the Corp's approach to pollution control. Moore feels that if industries are required to buy water needed to dilute their waste, it will encourage them to keep pollution at a minimum.

Refuses to Back Down
The Corps of Engineers has taken a firm stand on its demands and has refused to back down. A meeting, set up in Washington, was attended by representatives of the Corps of Engineers, Water Development Board, Water Rights Commission, and Congressional leaders from Texas. The Congressional delegation urged all interested parties to find a solution to the deadlock. This impasse points up the entire lack of Federal policy recognition of Texas laws on water rights.

The big companies are watching the Texas Water Plan as it develops. They have left no doubt they will expand only in areas where a plentiful water supply is assured. The giant International Paper Company has announced plans to locate a 97 million dollar plant near Texarkana if it can get water and necessary waste disposal permits. The amount of water needed by the International Paper Company for its operation parallels the amount desired by the Corps for its quality control program. The heat is definitely on in the Texarkana area to get the plant located in its vicinity.

The Water Development Board is still hopeful the Corps will withdraw from its position on the amount for quality control. Should the impasse not be resolved, the Water Development Board may take over Cooper Reservoir as a 100 per cent state project.

Some 55 alternative proposals have been advanced for moving water around and across the State of Texas. These studies have yielded rough estimates of the cost of transporting six million acre feet from Mississippi River and East Texas basins for irrigation in West Texas, in conjunction with one and a half million acre feet to New Mexico. Another 900,000 acre feet would be moved for municipal and industrial purposes. In releasing these figures, Development Board Chairman Joe Moore emphasized the estimates used to select some of the 55 alternatives for more intensive study and for developing more exact figures, are not intended to represent the true cost of delivering water in West Texas.

Rough estimates of capital costs are approximately $702 million to transport water from Mississippi River to Cooper Reservoir. The cost to move water from Cooper Reservoir to a wholesale point in West Texas would be approximately $1,353 million. The distribution system would cost $555 million.

Total cost for all items would be approximately $2,610,000,000. Interest on money borrowed to move water from Mississippi to Cooper Reservoir would amount to $108 million with another $234 million in interest from Cooper to the wholesale point in West Texas. Interest on the distribution system loan would be $97,125,000. This adds up to $439,125,000, putting the overall estimate of cost at approximately $3,049,125,000.

In addition to overall costs, it is estimated there will be at least a 25 per cent water loss between the head of the distribution system and the delivery point. In view of this, delivery of one acre foot (one acre one foot deep) of irrigation water to a West Texas farm in the Panhandle would cost, under present estimates, from $38.76 to $53.35.

More Studies Needed
This all adds up to one thing—more studies. Moore said gross estimates will be refined by future studies. It is hoped final studies will show costs will be lower.

The Water Quality Board set Aug. 31 as the date for its meeting. The Board was expected to name Hugh Yantis as executive director. Yantis has been acting director for a number of months. He seems to be an excellent choice.

UMBRELLA WEATHER is good news in the Bihar State in India, where rains are finally ending the long drought that has brought widespread starvation to the area, as well as other parts of the nation. Happily, these two farmers watch the parched earth soak up the rain, as their cattle graze on reawakened greenery.

Instant Dry Milk Has Made Grade

COLLEGE STATION — Instant nonfat dry milk has finally made the grade. Proof is due soon when the U. S. Department of Agriculture places its grade shield right on the label. This grade shield is assurance of high quality and wholesomeness, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, Texas A&M University. The stamp also means the product has been processed and packed under the careful scrutiny of graders.

"Dry milk that doesn't taste like milk will be a thing of the past," Mrs. Clyatt predicts.

To earn the "U.S. Extra Grade" shield, instant nonfat dry milk must have a sweet and pleasing flavor and a natural color. It also must live up to its name, Mrs. Clyatt points out. The result will be instant milk that is really instant, dissolving immediately when mixed with water.

Dallas Golfer Takes ToT Lead

Move It Closer Fellows!

By RON CROSS
It is too bad the University of Houston isn't a little closer to Pampa.

When the Cougars open the 1967 football season Sept. 15 at the Astrodome against Florida St. Pampans have or should have quite an interest in the Houston success.

Main interest will be focused on Kenny Hebert, former Harvester, who led the nation in scoring last season in his junior year as a Cougar.

Ken has improved every year he's played football and Houston coach Bill Yeoman sees no reason Hebert can't continue to follow that pattern this season.

The All-American candidate totaled 113 points in 1966 on 11 pass receptions and the rest of his points came on conversions and field goals.

He is a great pass receiver, probably the best in Houston's history. He caught 38 passes last year for 800 yards and has 62 receptions for 1159 yards and 15 touchdowns.

Last year Ken was 12th in the nation in punting with a 41.3 yard average and coach Yeoman calls him "A tremendous competitor."

When Hebert graduates this spring Pampa's interest in the University's football fortunes will not dwindle.

Ted Heiskell, Harvester fullback in 1965-66, L. D. Rowden, who led district 3-4A in scoring last season and center Glen Lewis, have all joined the Cougar freshmen workouts on scholarships.

Lewis probably will have a defensive job nailed down in a couple of seasons. He's hard as a rock and there was no finer defensive player in the district last season.

Rowden is still developing and this is one thing colleges want most in a football player. He went from a so-so player in 1965 to the best back the Harvesters had in 1966.

Heiskell was hobbled part of both his junior and senior seasons and actually hasn't reached his full potential yet.

Yeoman welcomed a 68-man squad at the opening of spring drills, including 21 lettermen from his 1966 team that led the nation in total offense, was second in scoring and ranked 16th nationally. Twelve of the 22 starters were back also.

The Cougars have finished their probation period and did not see any action last fall but has a chance to be on the defensive unit this season.

Phil Woodring, a 1962 Lefors graduate, is the only returning letterman at defensive end. He played 55 minutes in eight games last fall and was a starter in spring drills.

He is a former All-State end and halfback.

The Cougars lost a lot of talent.

All-star quarterback Bo Burris, tight end Tom Beer and fullback Dick Post have left imposing gaps in the national championship offense. All have signed pro contracts.

Senior Dick Woodall and sophomore Ken Bailey will have the tough job of replacing Burris and junior Paul Daulong has inherited the clutch catching assignments and key blocking duties of Beer.

But Hebert, teamed with All-American Warren McVea give the Cougars the best one-two offensive punch in the nation.

Andrade's 66 Earns Shot Lead

By Ron Cross
Dallas golfer Mike Andrade made his first start in a Top O' Texas golf tournament one to remember Saturday. In fact he'll probably never forget it.

Andrade started slow then picked up a team on the back nine at Pampa Country club to pick up a one-stroke lead in the 36-hole affair over two other golfers.

The 23-year-old investor Foster of Okmulgee, Okla. and Jim Young of Perryton shot 67s. Foster carded 33-34 and Andrade's 29 tied a course record.

Otis Gallilough made the turn in 32, three under regulation figures, but slumped to a 44 on the back nine and a 76.

Foster turned in 33 and kept up the pressure on the back nine. He lost a chance for a tie for the lead when he three-putted No. 13, a par 5 and took a par. Foster sank putts of two to 20 feet.

Young eagled the 540-yard 13th but missed his chance for the top spot when he bogged the

Player Takes Carling Golf Lead

WOODBRIDGE, Ont. (UPI)—Gary Player of South Africa shot his second sub-par round with a borrowed driver to take a two-stroke lead Saturday after the second round of the $200,000 Carling World Golf championship.

Wearing his traditional black shirt and trousers in the hot sun, the 31-year-old Player fired a three-under 68 for a 36-hole total of 137. He was two strokes ahead of Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., and Lee Trevino of El Paso, Tex., the tour rookie.

Geiberger had a 67 while Trevino shot a 69.

Three strokes off the pace at 140 were veteran Doug Ford of Ferido Bay, Fla., two-time Canadian open winner; Bob Charles of Christ Church, N.Z., and Johnny Pott of Cape Girardeau, Mo., who fired a course record of 65.

Pott was 10 strokes better than his opening round 75 on the difficult 7,024-yard Board of Trade Country club layout 15 miles north of Toronto.

The cutoff mark was 148 and a number of golf's top names, including Arnold Palmer, failed to qualify for the final 36 holes and the $35,000 first prize money.

Palmer, after shooting his second successive 75 for a total of 150, asked tournament and PGA officials to be excused. He left shortly after his dismal round in his private plane for his home at Latrobe, Pa.

Palmer complained of mental fatigue and weariness after having had only one day off in the last 13 from competition.

Defending champion Bruce Devlin of Hughes, Australia, also failed to make the cutoff as he also had 150 on rounds of 75-78. It has been a bad year for Devlin who has missed the cutoff in six of the last 15 tournaments.

Pampa Popped In Scrimmage 5-1

Harvester football coach Eural Ramsey was disappointed but did find a few bright spots in Pampa's 5-1 loss to Tulla Saturday afternoon.

The AAA Hornets tallied five touchdowns against the Harvester defense while Ramsey's offensive unit scored only once, that coming on a 31-yard pass play from quarterback Steve Summers to end Jay Johnson.

The Harvester pass defense broke down and allowed two Hornet markers on passes, one from 50-yards out and the other from 60-yards away.

Tulla worked the ball down, going 71-yards and saw their left halfback go 55 yards and 70-yards for scores.

"A little disappointed with the way we reacted to situations," Ramsey said. "One of the more pleasing things was the way our sophomores played, all of them did a fine job."

Ramsey pointed out that sophomore Scotty King did an exceptionally good job on defense as did another sophomore John Jenkins.

"For sophomores they both looked pretty good although, like most sophomores they still need some work and experience."

Ramsey praised the offensive work of sophomore Randy Cantrell.

"Offensively our blocking was not quite as crisp as it could be. But it should get better with more work," Ramsey said.

"We looked real good defensively. We actually have two spots to concentrate on, the bootleg pass and the trap play up the middle. We still have another week to go before our opener and we expect to improve."

"Too you must take into consideration that Tulla is a veteran ball club and they play exceptionally well. They should be able to do real good against the teams in their district."

The Harvesters, already weakened by the loss of possible All-District tackle Bobby Wilson, who moved to Louisiana, got still another shock Wednesday when it was learned letterman guard Donnie Snapp would have to be operated on.

Snapp, who suffered a broken foot as a youngster, was told by the team physician he would have to have some growths removed from his foot.

The Harvesters found out just how much work they'll have to do to stay up with Perryton in Friday's opener at Perryton.

The Rangers are loaded with talent, having back 21 lettermen from last season, including eight starters and plenty of depth.

Ramsey has had to call up four sophomores to give his team depth.

Only 11 lettermen returned this year and no starters, with the exception of Dickie Henley, who missed most of last year after breaking an arm against the Amarillo Sandies.

FIRST IN 32 YEARS Army Private Bob Dickson Wins National

COLORADO SPRINGS (UPI)—Army Pvt. Bob Dickson became the first British-American double golf champion in 32 years Saturday when he won a head-to-head final round duel with Vinny Giles for the U.S. Amateur title with a 72-hole total of five-over-par 285.

The rangy red head from McAlester, Okla., won by one stroke when he fired a final round 34-35-69 over the tortuous 6,946-yard par 35-35-70 Broadmoor West Course to go with a bogey-plagued morning round 37-37-74 and a pair of 71s in the first two days of the rain and fog menaced 67th edition of the storied tournament.

Dickson had to sink an 8-foot par putt on the final hole to pull out the victory, while Giles missed a 35-foot birdie effort from the edge of the green that would have forced the championship into a playoff for the second year in a row.

Giles, two strokes down with two holes to go after he had bogeyed the 18th and parred the 16th, got new life with a birdie

Twins Down Tigers To Take Top Spot

BOSTON (UPI) — Joe Horlen's six-hit pitching and Tom McCraw's two-run first inning single led the Chicago White Sox to a 4-1 victory over Boston Saturday and dropped the Red Sox out of first place.
A's 8, Orioles 6
KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Two-run triples by Dick Green and Bert Campaneris sparked a six-run rally that routed Wally Bunker in the second inning Saturday and carried the Kansas City Athletics to an 8-6 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.
Pirates 9, Phils 1
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Willie Stargell, Roberto Clemente and Gene Alley drove in a total of seven runs Saturday night leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 9-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies behind the eight-hit pitching of one-time relief specialist Al McBean.

Twins 5, Tigers 0
MINNEAPOLIS — St. Paul (UPI) — Ted Uhlander drove in three runs with singles in the sixth and seventh innings and Dave Boswell pitched a six-hitter Saturday as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Detroit Tigers 5-0 and took a half-game lead in the American League pennant race.
Cards 8, Houston 2
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Steve Carlton held the Houston Astros to four hits Saturday night to extend the St. Louis Cardinals' league lead to a season high of 12 games with an 8-2 victory.

Mets, Cubs Split
CHICAGO (UPI) — Jerry Buchek slammed two homers and Dick Selma turned in five innings of scoreless relief to pace the New York Mets to a 5-4 victory over Chicago and a doubleheader split Saturday after the Cubs won the opener 5-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Joe Niekro.

Yankees 2, Sens 1
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mickey Mantle clouted a two-run pinch homer in the eighth inning Saturday night to pace the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators.
Giants 4, Reds 3
CINCINNATI (UPI) — Willie McCovey's two-run homer in the sixth inning and Frank Linzy's clutch relief pitching in the ninth combined Saturday night to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Braves 8, LA 2
ATLANTA (UPI) — Shortstop Denis Menke drove in three runs with a trio of singles leading an 11-hit attack Saturday night which gave the Atlanta Braves an 8-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.
Eagles Beat Giants
PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles, after stopping a New York drive on the half-yard line, exploded for two fourth quarter touchdowns Saturday and beat the Giants, 24-13, in a National Football League exhibition game.

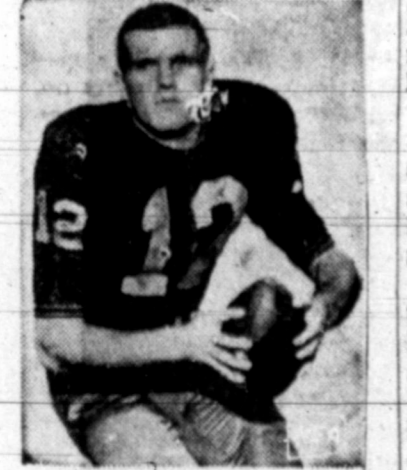

BULLETIN
HOUSTON (UPI) — Craig Morton, who replaced injured Don Meredith in the waning minutes of the first half, engineered four scoring drives to lead the Dallas Cowboys to a 30-17 victory over the Houston Oilers in an inter-league exhibition Saturday.
Morton took over with the Cowboys leading 7-3. He scored on a sneak. Passed 14 yards to halfback Dan Reeves for another touchdown and set up two field goals with passes.
The only Oilers touchdowns came on passes by Jackey Lee in the fourth quarter. With Dallas ahead 27-3 he threw a 27-yard scoring pass to split end Charles Frazier and with 23 seconds to go, he threw a 2-yard touchdown pass to rookie end Monte Ledbetter.
Two minutes later, the Eagles added an insurance touchdown after defensive back Ron Medved intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass and took it to the Giants' 47. On the next play, a pass interference call gave the Eagles on the Giants' 19. Two plays later, Snead hit end Jim Kelly in the end zone for the score.

RAMS CRUSH CHIEFS

Denver Opens Season

By United Press International
The year of the Ram is dawning.
After nearly a decade of floundering as one of the National Football League's patbies, the Los Angeles Rams have finally picked themselves up off the floor.
The transition actually began last season under Coach George Allen when the Rams finished 6-6 for their best season in nine years, but things are improving beyond that stage.

The Rams, demonstrating a powerful offense, made it five exhibition victories in a row Friday night when they crushed the defending American Football League champion Kansas City Chiefs 44-24 before a crowd of 73,990 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.
New Combination
Such offensive prowess has not been seen by Ram fans since the days of Bob Waterfield and Elroy Hirsch, but the new Rams have their own version of these former greats.
They are quarterback Roman Gabriel and flanker Jack Snow, who combined on aerial scores of 62 and 40 yards Friday night as the Rams fought back from a 24-13 halftime deficit.
Kansas City got three touchdowns in the first half, but the Rams solved the problem of the floating pocket offense in the second half and blanked the Chiefs over the final two quarters.
In the only other exhibition game Friday night, quarterback Larry Rakestraw and halfback Gale Sayers led the Chicago individual rushing record, makes Boston's ground game among the most feared in the league. His partner is running back Larry Garzon.

Denver will counter with the clutch passing of quarterback Steve Tensi, who in the Broncos' last two victories over Minnesota and Oakland, set up each touchdown with key completions.
Tensi's favorite target in tense situations will be split end Eric Crabtree. The former Pittsburgh athlete caught just six passes in Denver's four pre-season games.
But of five touchdowns in Denver's last two games, Crabtree's catches for long yardage set up four of them.
The Broncos' ground game relies on the steady pounding of 250-pound fullback Cookie Gilchrist, who bounced back to the Denver Broncos this year after spending one season with Miami, and three-time All-America Floyd Little of Syracuse, another of the six rookies.
Boston's starting lineup will include only three first-year men, but two of them will be defensive backs Leroy Mitchell and John Charles. Boston had the worst pass defense record in the league in 1966 and Coach Mike Holovac spent his highest draft choices on bolstering the sagging department.

Two Tie for Lead in World Series Of Ladies' Golf

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (UPI) — Carol Mann and Kathy Whitworth fired two-under-par 69s Saturday to grab the first round lead in the $32,000 Ladies World Series of Golf.
Miss Mann, the second leading money winner on the circuit, was in topnotch form on the front nine, firing a two-under-par 33 including birdies on No. 4 and 5 at the 3,950-yard par-71 Syder Park golf course.
She ran into trouble on the back nine, chalking up three bogeys and two birdies, including a pressure-packed four-foot putt on the 18th to permit her to tie for the lead.
Miss Whitworth, the foremost winner with $22,597 this year, played very steady golf on the back nine after coming in with a two-under-par 33 on the front nine. She had one bogey and one bird on the back nine.
She started off on a fast clip, jumping to a two-below-par lead after three holes, by birding No. 2 and 3.

OUR SPEECH

During each program of the "Dagnet 1967" T.V. series Sgt. Friday or his partner is heard to say to the suspect, "It is my duty to inform you that anything you say may be taken down and used against you—"

Jesus said, "But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account therefore in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." (Matt 12:36,37)

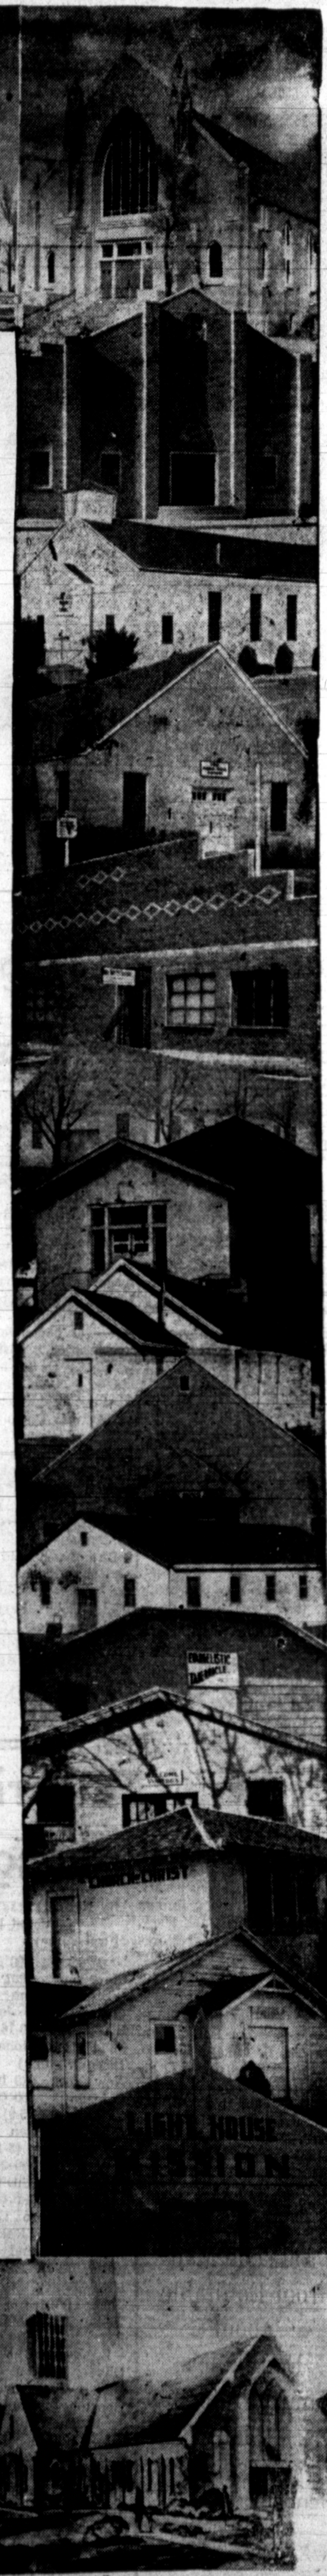

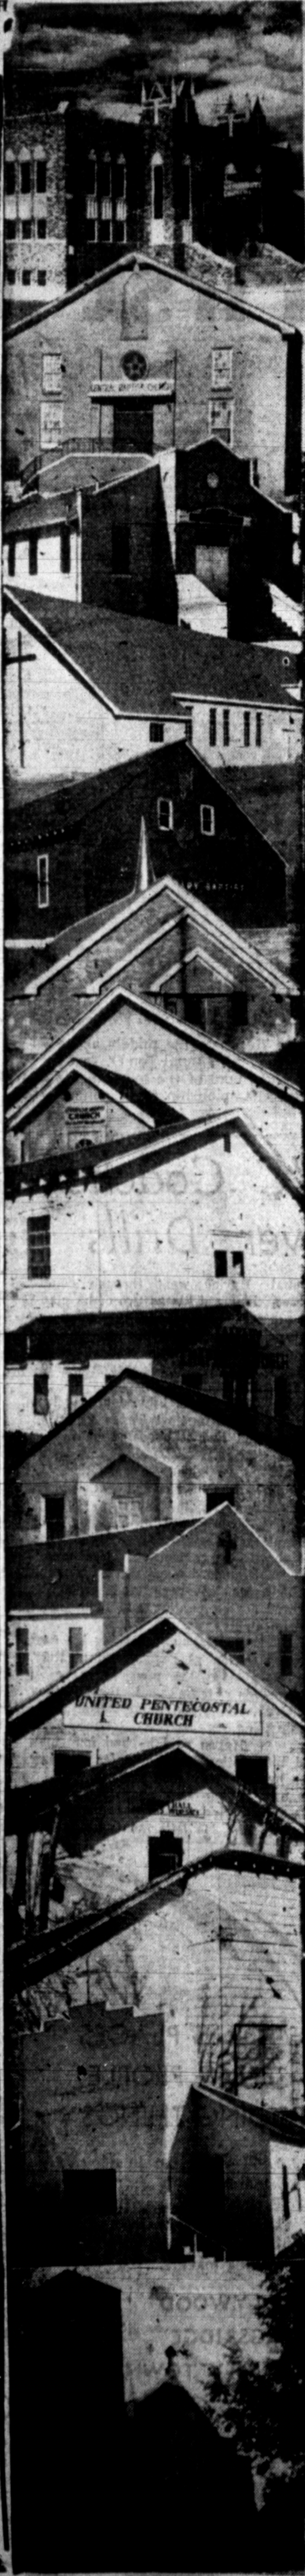

Knowing that our salvation in part upon our manner of speech, we should be very cautious in our language.

The Bible condemns misuse of the tongue that takes the form of cursing, taking God's name in vain, slander, heresies, gossip, lying, backbiter's boosters and corrupt communication in general. (Read James 3:1-12; Rom. 1:28-32; Eph. 4:2,29-31 etc.)

Today it is very common to hear men, women and even little children cursing, telling dirty stories and using God's name in vain as if this were not evil. Paul said, "Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers."

With the tongue we can offend, but with the tongue we can also bless. With the tongue we can glorify the Father in Heaven, we can confess our Savior and we can tell people about the great salvation in Christ.

Let us learn to control the tongue and use it for good.

Pampa's Miss Wheatheart of the Nation Visits International Exposition In Canada

By WANDA MAE HUFF
Women's News Editor

Miss Mary Beth Johnson, 18-year-old winner of the 1967 National Miss Wheatheart contest in Perryton, was almost named as a Canadian Dairy Queen while visiting the Canadian fair, but lost out because she couldn't quite see herself, "chasing a cow down a lot, trying to milk her."

Miss Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Johnson, of 2123 N. Russell, is a 5-foot, seven-inch tall, brown-eyed blonde, but lost the dairy queen contest "probably to a farm girl," partly because she had a chance to meet Lorne Green, star of T. V. western series,

"Bonanza," and "just couldn't pass it up."

Miss Johnson and her chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rogers of Perryton, toured Expo '67 in Montreal, Canada, and visited the National Canadian Exposition in Toronto, Canada, before coming back home last week.

Miss Johnson plans to attend Texas Technological College in Lubbock and major in elementary education. She wants to teach the fourth grade, and probably can, since she has had some experience with the teaching field in the Future Teachers of America Club of Pampa High School.

"At Expo, Great Britain and France had done histories of their countries, up to modern days. They had pictures flashing on the walls and sound stereo. France was more technical, with its missiles, and computer machines. Miss Johnson said,

"I missed most of the American exhibit, but what I saw only displayed movie stars. My favorite was the Bell Telephone display of a 360 degree angle movie screen. It showed films of all seasons in Canada's different cities and movies of Canadian Mounted Police," she said.

While in Canada, Miss Johnson was titled a new "nickname," — "Wheatie-Sweetie," by one of her escorts.

"My escort got tired of saying Wheatheart of the Nation, so he started introducing me as 'Wheatie-Sweetie,'" she said.

Her escorts were twin brothers, Peter Batson, Toronto, Canada and John Batson in Montreal, Canada.

"I had never been to Canada before and almost froze to death. It was about 60 degrees all day. Expo is built on three man-made islands and with the wind blowing off the water, you'd just about freeze," she said.

In Toronto, she and her chaperones toured teenage night spots, — about three each night. "We found some really swinging. One night we went through York Town, where the hippies live, but they weren't there. They had gone to city hall for a sleep-in. We found out later they were doing that for a movie for publicity," she explained.

The women in Canadian cities "dress real sharp. Prices are about the same as they are here, but their skirts are short, short. I like them above the knee, but not above the hip, like some I saw in Montreal."

According to Miss Johnson, "people are not much different in Canada and America. Their accents are quite different though, for I was teased about my Texas you' all's. Most people in Toronto speak English and in Montreal French."

Miss Dodson, Joe Holland Say Wedding Vows in Miami Church

MIAMI (Sp) — Miss Connie Ann Dodson became the bride of Joe Wayne Holland recently in an evening ceremony in First Christian Church in Miami, with Rev. Thurman Boswell, pastor of the church, performing the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Dodson of Miami. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holland, also of Miami. Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with candelabras with greenery with a bouquet of white glads atop the baptistry.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, wore a formal sheath gown of white peau-de-soie with an empire waistline, boat-shaped neckline and long bell-shaped sleeves. The skirt, sleeves and chapel train were banded with imported handmade lace. She carried a lace-covered Bible topped with white roses. She wore a white satin pill box hat with a waist-length veil attached. Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Charles Woodfin, organist, who accompanied Mrs. Bailey Dodson as she sang "Whither Thou Goest", "More", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Cecil Martin of Miami was her sister's maoron-of-honor.

Bridesmaids were Misses Linda Willcraft of Dallas, Saranne Montgomery and Cheri Jackson, both of Miami. They wore yellow peau-de-soie sheaths with empire waistlines, elbow-length sleeves, and a floor-length train of yellow lace. Each carried a long-stem white mum.

Vicki Martin of Miami, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Darrell Haskins of Tulsa, Okla., served as best man. Groomsman were Jerry Dodson, brother of the bride; Curtis Holland and Rex Holland, brothers of the bridegroom. Ringbearer was Darel Dodson.

Serving as candlelighters were Miss Martha Paris and Tilden Moore, both of Miami. Mrs. Jimmy Cope of Happy,

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Sara Francis, Joe Wheeley

St. Paul's Methodist Church of Amarillo was the setting for the Aug. 19 wedding of Miss Sara Lou Francis and Joe Hubert Wheeley of White Deer.

Rev. A. B. Cockrell performed the double-ring ceremony. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. E. James Francis, of Amarillo, and Mr. Wheeley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Wheeley of White Deer. Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums were flanked by cathedral candelabra at the altar. Centering the nuptial scene was the white satin prie dieu at which the couple knelt to exchange nuptial vows.

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported candlelight satin brocade of empire design with pearl embroidered motifs and chapel length train. Her veil of illusion fell from a satin coil with lily-of-the-valley accent. She carried a cascade bouquet of fleur d'amour and orchids.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Jan Graham of Amarillo was maid of honor. Mrs. Phil Lunn, Amarillo, and Mrs. Charles Dohnalek, Jr., Tulsa, Okla., both sisters of the bride; and Miss Jan Wheeley and Miss Nina Wheeley, both sisters of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaids. They were attired in formal gowns of pink silk organza with matching veils and carried beehive nosegays of pink roses.

Joe E. Wheeley, father of the bridegroom, served as best man. Monty Hawpe of White Deer, and Tommy Buchanan of Pampa, were groomsmen. Dale West of Floydada, and Thomas

C. Oare, cousin of the bride, of Sapulpa, Okla., seated guests. Mrs. Francis chose for her daughter's wedding a mint green sheath with matching lace coat and accessories of the same color. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Wheeley, wore a two-piece dressmaker suit of champagne lace with taupe accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

RECEPTION

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. Reception assistants were Miss Linda Carraker, cousin of the bridegroom of Nederland, Tex., Miss Judy Caldwell of Panhandle, Miss Bobby Ruie of Floydada, Mrs. Douglas Bray, sister of the bridegroom of New Port, R.I., was in charge of the guest book. Traditional selections of organ music at the reception were provided by Mrs. Marge Barr of Dallas, an aunt of the bride.

The bride's table was covered with a white organza cloth, double-tiered over pink, with rolled roses at the edge. The four-tiered wedding cake, punch bowl, and a floral arrangement of pink roses flanked by silver candelabra were table appointments.

The bride selected an imported pale yellow knit suit with brown accessories and her corsage from the bridal bouquet for her traveling suit. After a trip to Santa Fe, N.M. and Colorado, the couple will be at home in Lubbock, where both are students at Texas Technological College.

Among out-of-town guests who attended the wedding and nuptial courtesies were Mrs. Thomas C. Oare, Cherokee, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. B. Jack Oare, Tom, John and Jim of Sapulpa, Okla., Mrs. Marge Barr, John and Burt of Dallas, and Mrs. Douglas Bray, Newport, R. I., Linda Jean Carraker of Nederland; Mrs. T. Mayfield, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Evelyn Powell, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Keahy of White Deer.

The bridegroom is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Keahy, south of Pampa.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Wheeley, parents of Joe Hubert Wheeley, White Deer, hosted a dinner in Amarillo for Miss Sara Lou Francis, and their son, Joe, who were united in marriage at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Amarillo.

The bride and bridegroom and both sets of parents were seated at the head table with 34 guests in attendance. Table decorations were bowls of roses accented with English ivy, flanked by silver candelabra with pink tapers.

Guests were house party members and wedding attendants, and relatives of the bride and bridegroom and friends.

Pampa Minister Reads Marriage Vows for Miss Mackie, R.L. Brown

Miss Sharron Mackie and Ricky Loyd Brown said double-ring wedding vows in an evening ceremony Friday in Central Baptist Church here. Rev. T. O. Upshaw, pastor, performed marriage rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie of Pampa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Brown of Pampa.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white bonded A-line crepe dress with a floor-length lace train, empire waistline and rounded neckline. The lace sleeves ended in petal points over the wrists. Special trim on the bodice was velvet ribbon and lace. She wore a cultured pearl necklace, belonging to her mother, and carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias and feathered chrysanthemums.

A seed pearl crown held a shoulder-length bridal illusion veil.

ATTENDANTS

Attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Janice Mackie, maid of honor, and Miss Judy Brown, bridesmaid and sister of the bridegroom. They both wore bright pink gowns trimmed in pink lace and velvet ribbon and carried a cascade arrangement of feathered pink carnations and clusters of pink grapes.

Best man was Fred Eutcher. Other attendants were Freddy Upshaw, groomsmen; Keith Taylor and Richard Mackie, the bride's cousin, ushers; Miss Ginger Ferguson and Miss Kay Ferguson, candlelighters.

Organist, Mrs. Sheila Parr, played a medley of traditional wedding music. Vocalist, Miss Jeanie Prock, sang "Walk Hand in Hand," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother chose a pink knit suit with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige knit suit with matching accessories. Both selected pink sweetheart roses for corsages.

Candelabras and greenery decorated the church.

RECEPTION

The church Fellowship Hall was the setting for a reception after the ceremony. A lace table cloth was decorated with a centerpiece of candles, pink carnations, clusters of pink grapes, and a five-tiered cake with pink roses.

Evelyn Burgin of Groom assisted at the punch service; Mrs. Connie Butcher of Pampa served cake, and Mrs. Treva

Taylor of Hereford registered guests. Others who assisted were Mmes. James O. McCracken, Bruce Ginn, Wayland Acker, Bill Fulcher and N. R. Lowe.

For a honeymoon to Red River, N.M., the bride wore a bright pink suit with white accessories and chose gardenias and chrysanthemums lifted from her bridal bouquet.

They will make their home in Canyon, where the couple attended West Texas State University. She has studied at WTSU for two years to receive a two-year provisional certificate in secretarial science and will be employed at the university in personnel service office.

The bridegroom attended WTSU for two years and will continue his studies in agriculture, animal husbandry. Both graduated from Pampa High School in 1965.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial activities included a shower Aug. 18 in the church fellowship hall. Hostesses were Mmes. Betty McCracken, Nettie Cole, Carol Fulcher, Donna Acker, Zena Belle Ginn, Ethel Vanderburg, Martha Sublett, Lou Ann Lowe, Ginny Wood, Dorothy Fife, Georgia Upshaw and Margie Brown.

After the wedding rehearsal Friday, the bridegroom's parents gave a rehearsal dinner in their home.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROL RIGNER

(FOR SUNDAY, SEPT. 3)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Only by making a point to be charming and considerate of others are you likely to get out of some annoying situation, especially early in the day, when attending the services of your choice or engaging in interesting objective study can bring you peace and serenity. Avoid temptation to criticize those about you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Improving both health and appearance is wise right now. Then you have greater stamina for whatever is important that you do. Others will gravitate toward you more quickly; you get right results in dealing with them.

TAUROS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Resist temptation to go on some tangent. Be more charming with those around you and all is improved. You need not pay much for pleasure. Stick to whatever is wholesome and you cannot go wrong.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Ideal day to get conditions improved at home and establish greater harmony there. Forget starting on that new and costly project until a better day and time. Be more sure of your resources and facts.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — You will assist them in gaining their rightful aims. Take particular care in driving or walking. Do not leave yourself wide open for some accident, etc.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Instead of expecting others to do something for you, this is a day for serving to those who are deserving. Plan your new week's activities with precision. Go over any bookkeeping that is necessary.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 23) — You are very charming today and can accomplish much with others that has been impossible before this. Do not waste time with any petty grievances. Admit a few faults and rise above those in others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 23) — Do nothing that may make unnecessary distrustful of you; safeguard your reputation. Be more concerned with the spiritual and the charitable. Don't permit others to dissuade you from the right path.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20) — You have fascinating new ideas, but be sure they are not really antiquated in the final analysis. Acquaintances should also be studied more carefully. They cultivate the right ones. Get ahead.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — You can get into deep philosophical studies that will assist greatly in getting rid of anxious thoughts of long standing. Be more willing to please loved ones. Show

MRS. BENNIE PAT BASTON
nee Rogena K. Thompson

Miss Thompson, Ben Baston United In Marriage in Louisiana Church

A double-ring ceremony Aug. 26 united in marriage Miss Rogena K. Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Erwin Clay Thompson and the late Mr. Thompson of Minden, La., and Bennie Pat Baston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chesney Baston of El Dorado, Ark.

The Rev. Dan R. Robinson of Rogers, Ark., officiated for the 7 p.m. ceremony in the First Methodist Church in Minden.

White flowers, greenery and glowing white tapers formed the setting for exchange of vows. In the chancel, tall white standards banked with ferns held white tapers burning in hurricane glasses. White gladioli and white stock were arranged in white Grecian urns. Placed on the white linen-covered communion table were brass candlesticks holding single white candles and a gold cross.

Mrs. Clarence Dawson of Gladewater, organist, and Scott Smith of Amarillo, soloist, provided wedding music.

Prior to the ceremony, guests were escorted to their places by Enos Carr McClendon 11 and Robert Brooks Van Horn Jr., both of Minden.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's maid of honor was her sister, Miss Jo Lynn Thompson of Minden. Mrs. Michael Julius Uter of Baton Rouge, La., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Merritt of Bossier City, La., Mrs. James E. L. of Shreveport, La., the bridegroom's sister Miss Nancy Baston of El Dorado, Ark., and Miss Carolyn Parker of Minden. Each wore a floor-length, Empire line gown of orchid linen accented with white, Irish thread lace. Styled with scooped necklines, brief sleeves and A-line skirts, the dresses featured deep Bertha collars covering the sleeves and dipping low in back beneath flat orchid linen bows.

Each attendant carried a cluster of white asters attached to a moss green velvet stem with velvet streamers. They wore single white asters in their hair.

Larry Baston of El Dorado served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Bernard Casso Jr. of Marshall, Patrick Melton of Bossier City, John Golman of New Orleans, La., Jimmy Sims of El Dorado and Bill Chaffin of Shreveport.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Lt. Col. (Ret) Roger O. Townsend of Atlanta, Ga., was gowned in white peau de soie and heirloom lace. Designed by the bride and made by her maternal grandmother, the peau de soie gown was fashioned with basque bodice and sweetheart neckline. Its short sleeves were made of lace from the grandmother's graduation dress.

A free-floating cathedral train extended from bows of peau de soie at the shoulders of the gown. Her tiered veil of misty illusion drifted to train length. The bridal bouquet was a purple throated orchid midst white butterfly roses, valley lilies, carnations, and stephanotis.

At the reception in the Pine Hills Country Club house, guests were greeted by Mrs. Warren E. Dietrich and Mrs. Merrill C. Valentine.

Receiving with the bride and bridegroom were her mother, her uncle Col. Townsend, the bridegroom's parents and the bride's attendants.

The bride's table, overlaid in ecru cutwork linen and lace cloth, was adorned by white tapers gleaming in a pyramid candelabrum midst white stock, carnations, roses and fern. At opposite ends of the table were a silver punch service and the bride's cake.

The four-tiered confection, encircled by net ruching, was embossed with white roses and pale green leaves. Round tiers supported by swan colonnades were crowned by a miniature bridal couple beneath an arch of valley lilies.

Maternal grandmothers of the bride and bridegroom presided at the bride's table.

At the bridegroom's table coffee was poured from a silver service. His cake, a chocolate confection, was served by Miss Marguerite Thompson of Wyandotte, Okla., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lester Chesney Baston, paternal grandmother of the bridegroom.

The girls assisting in serving courtesies were Miss Susan Anderson of Baton Rouge, Miss Jane Braswell, Gladewater, and Miss Eloise McClendon, Miss Susan Dietrich, Miss Kristine Dietrich, Miss Barbara Treat, Miss Nancy Greer and Miss Ellen Upton, all of Minden.

MRS. MICHAEL DEAN HARDIN

Wedding Vows Unite Panhandle Couple

An altar decorated with an arrangement of yellow gladioli and white roses was the setting for the recent marriage of Miss Jennifer Michele Slagle to Michael Dean Hardin. The Rev. H. E. Driessner officiated at the double-ring ceremony in St. John's Lutheran Church in Dumas.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Roland D. Leimer and the late M. W. Slagle of Dumas. Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Hardin of Pampa, are the bridegroom's parents.

Escorted by her step-father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white Cupra over satin fashioned in semi-fitted princess style. The yoke, bishop sleeves and chapel train of the gown were of lace and satin. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was secured by a Juliet style bandeau of lace over white. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Marsha Elbert of Wellington was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Jenny Hardin of Pampa, sister of the bridegroom.

Best man was James Burrus of Hereford. Michael W. Slagle of Dumas, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Don Aiken and Joe Kerley, both of Midland, served as ushers.

Junior attendants were the bride's sister and brother, Leslie Mone't Leimer and Jeff Slagle both of Dumas.

A reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony.

The bride is a former student of West Texas State University. Mr. Hardin was graduated from WTSU and plans to attend the University of Texas Dental School in Houston in the fall.

PONY FUR, miniskirt and knee-length boots add up to a barbarian look in this Parisian creation which seems to say, if coats are fur, why not skirts as well?

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lively Jr. of Pampa, were among the list of house guests.

A 50-year-old, cloth of white linen and lace, made by a great aunt of the bride, covered the registry table, which was ornamented by the bride's bouquet and a silver candlestick holding one white taper. Inviting reception guests to sign the bride's book were Miss Jan Lively of Pampa, and Miss Sue Powell of Minden.

White tulle bags filled with orchid-tinted rice and tied with orchid satin ribbons were presented to guests by little Miss Carol Benton and Tommy Benton of Minden.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother chose a floor-length gown of hyacinth pink crepe, matching shoes, a whimsy hat in shades of pink and other accessories in white. Her corsage was of pink perfection sweetheart roses. Mrs. Baston, mother of bridegroom, was attired in a floor-length Empire sheath of ice blue crepe and her small hat was of ribbon and tulle and she wore blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

When the bridal couple left on their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a nubby weave, royal blue suit and beret of royal blue brushed beaver and other accessories in black. Her corsage was of white rosebuds. The couple will reside in Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Minden High School and received a bachelor of science degree in engineering from Louisiana Tech in Ruston, La. She held student membership in the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and was a member of the Louisiana Tech Engineers' Association. Her social sorority is Kappa Delta.

She is descended from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blair Townsend of Pampa and Brownsville, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clay Thompson of Wyandotte, Okla.

Forebears of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Otis Burt Patterson of El Dorado and Murfreesboro, Ark. and Mrs. Lester Chesney Baston and the late Mr. Baston of Tulsa, Okla.

A graduate of El Dorado High School, the bridegroom also received a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from Louisiana Tech and held membership in the AICE and Louisiana Tech Engineers' Association.

REHEARSAL DINNER
After the wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chesney Baston honored their son and his fiancée at a dinner in Minden.

A long, low arrangement of orchid asters, white static and fern and candles at intervals decorated the dinner table.

Members of the wedding party were presented gifts by the bride and bridegroom. The couple also exchanged gifts.

Miss Bryan, S.R. White Pledge Nuptial Vows

Soak Those Split Ends
If hair splits are a problem, try soaking ends in baby oil and sitting under a dryer for 45 to 60 minutes. Wash hair until it's squeaky clean and follow with a mild cream rinse. Now your hair is ready for setting and drying and no split ends.

MILDEST SHAMPOO

The process of straightening causes hair to become delicate, even more so than bleaching. For that reason it should be treated to the mildest shampoo possible. Be sure to rinse hair thoroughly and always use warm (never hot) water and set hair while it is still wet, using the largest rollers possible.

DUTCH EMBROIDERY ARTIST Cella Dreesmann plots a needle-work design in her embroidery workshop of her 18th-century farmhouse. Examples of her work are in The Netherlands Pavilion at Expo 67. An unusual wall hanging (inset) by Mrs. Dreesmann combines stitchery and tiny ornaments.

the Drama of DRUGS

By Joe Tooley

In our little column, "DRAMA OF DRUGS," we will endeavor to bring to you the story of Pharmacy in relation to the history of civilization, of science and technology... we hope to bring to you the achievements of alchemy upon the demon of disease in and hygiene from the past to the present... we will touch the primitive world to the story of space medicine in our modern day.

Magic was the forerunner of science. Preventive magic was based on the belief that foreign or evil bodies had entered into the body and to destroy these evil spirits special rituals, magic powders and good luck objects were used to prevent disease. Herbalist came into being at this time and, with it, the first inkling of knowledge that disease could be treated with medicine.

Miss Larsen, John Love Repeat Nuptial Vows

Rev. Martin Hager officiated at double-ring wedding vows at 4 p.m. Saturday at First Presbyterian Church here for Kathryn Dell Larsen of Pampa and John Edward Love of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Larsen of 1208 Williston are the bride's parents. The bridegroom's mother is Mrs. Emma Lee Love of Cleburne.

Organist, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, and vocalist Dick Powell of Cleburne presented wedding music of "An Ordinary Couple," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Church decorations were an aisle candelabra with salal greenery, and spiral candelabra with salal greenery in front, flanked by tree candelabras.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her sister's wedding dress of bridal-blue satin styled with an inset of double embroidery imported lace sprinkled with seed pearls. The dress was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Its long tapering sleeves, which ended in petal points over the hands, were closed with tiny, satin-covered buttons. The princess lines of the satin bodice and skirt ended in a sweeping chapel train.

Her tiara of double-embroidered imported lace was accented with pearls and sequins which secured the imported veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Paul G. McDonald of Baytown, matron of honor; and Miss Glenna Cox of Fort Worth and Miss Martha Pattillo of Pampa, bridesmaids. Each bridal attendant wore royal purple wool crepe dresses and carried pink spider mums with royal purple grapes for their bouquets.

Walter Kennon was best man. Groomsmen were Billy Cohen of Denton and W. J. Hill of College Station. Ushers were Larry Larsen, of Eunice, N.M.; P. G. McDonald of Baytown; Charles Phillips and Billie Walling. Other attendants were Scott Larsen and Greg Powell, ring-bearers; Miss Sheryl McDonald, flower girl; and Chuck Phillips and Billie Walling, candlelighters.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Larsen chose a one-piece olive green knit suit with dyed-to-match sheared beaver trim. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece honey-colored knit suit. Both wore tropicana rose corsages.

RECEPTION

For the reception at 1208 Williston, the bride's and bridesmaids' bouquets encircled the four-tiered wedding cake, which was served from her grandmother's antique cake plate.

Mrs. Jim Chase served cake while Mrs. Larry Larsen of Eunice, N. M., registered guests and Mrs. Roy Sparkman assisted with serving punch. Others who served were Carol Sparkman and Linda Chase.

For the honeymoon trip to Colorado, the bride traveled in a dark turquoise two-piece knit suit with ranch mink trim and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. She chose brown accessories.

A graduate of Texas Technological College, with a bachelor of business administration degree in finance, the bridegroom was a member of Alpha. (See Miss Larsen, Page 16)

Miss Carolyn Stucker, J.P. Carlson Jr. Say Vows

Carolyn Ruth Stucker and J. P. Carlson Jr. were united in marriage with double-ring wedding vows at 8 p.m. yesterday in the First Church of the Nazarene with Rev. Charles Spicer, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Stucker of 500 Lowry. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Carlson Sr., of 112 N. Nelson. Candelabra entwined with greenery and two baskets of gold gladioli decorated the church.

Mrs. Dianne Dalton of White Deer, organist, and Mrs. Jean Gray of Amarillo, presented traditional nuptial selections of "More," and "Walk Hand in Hand."

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin, featuring a high rise bodice with rounding neckline and sheath skirt. A cathedral length chantilly lace train and long fitted sleeves which ended in petal points were other features of her dress. Her standing collar was held together at the throat by a lariat of pearls. Iridescent sequins and seed pearls adorned scalloped edge of the collar and train.

The tiered veil of imported silk illusion fell from a queen's crown of lace outlined with seed pearls and aurora crystals. Her bouquet was white roses outlined with white carnations.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor was Mrs. Darlene Koch, the bride's sister, of Parma, Mich. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Paula Housden of Pampa. They were attired in avocado green peau satin dresses with empire waists, rounded necks, cap sleeves, and back bows. They carried cascading bouquets of gold pom poms and wore white accessories.

If you are anything except brunette, try lining your eyes with charcoal or with brown. Underlining for day should be nothing more than a dotted-on line between your lower lashes. Keep any extension short and straight, suggest beauty experts at Coty. You see? It's time to bury that just-off-the-barge on the Nile look.

Long or short, hair looks soft and uncontrived, yet very pretty. The large bushy head is out. So is the little curl. Ditto for stick-straight hair. So says Kenneth, New York hair stylist. He's for the small head with bouncy lines, says it looks modern, graceful, free.

Pre-nuptial events included a shower June 23 in Citizens Bank and hostesses were Mmes. A. M. Giesler, E. O. Finson, Ed Grange, S. R. Cogdell, Nancy Hammer, Grace Cox, Virginia Ferguson, Hazel Gray, Lambert Bertram and Miss Linda Riggs.

The bridegroom's parents gave a rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party.

Double-Ring Nuptial Vows Unite Carolyn Smith, Johnny Loveless

Amid a setting of baskets of white gladioli and candles lighting both sides of the altar, Miss Carolyn Ann Smith became the bride of Johnny David Loveless. The Rev. Earl Maddox, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Aug. 18 at Fellowship Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nelson Smith, 232 Canadian. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Loveless, 730 E. Murphy.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal floor-length gown with petal-point sleeves and empire waistline. Her shoulder-length veil of English net fell from a seed-pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin ribbons.

ATTENDANTS

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Therisa Gail Smith. She wore a street-length white lace dress with a red and white headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white and red carnations.

Jesus Loveless served his brother as best man. Ushers were Don Hicks and Jerry Master-son.

Miss Joan Timmons, organist, played traditional wedding music. Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, vocalist, sang "Whither Thou Goest."

RECEPTION

A reception was held at the church after the ceremony. The table was covered with an over-white lace tablecloth set with a crystal punch bowl. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in red and white. Miss Kathy Fussell and Miss Judy Hopper assisted at the punch bowl, and Miss Donna Seitz served the cake. Miss Claudia Maddux registered the guests.

For her honeymoon the bride chose a traveling costume of a blue and white two-piece suit accented by the carnation corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, Mrs. Maurice Cotter and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tavez of California; Mrs. Lula Smith and Mrs. Etta Beals of Cheyenne, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lee of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Beals of Norman, Okla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sprowis of Oklahoma.

Pre-nuptial events included a bridal shower hosted by Mmes. Duane Nash, Darrell Cook and Billy Hall, and a bridal shower given by Fellowship Baptist Church.

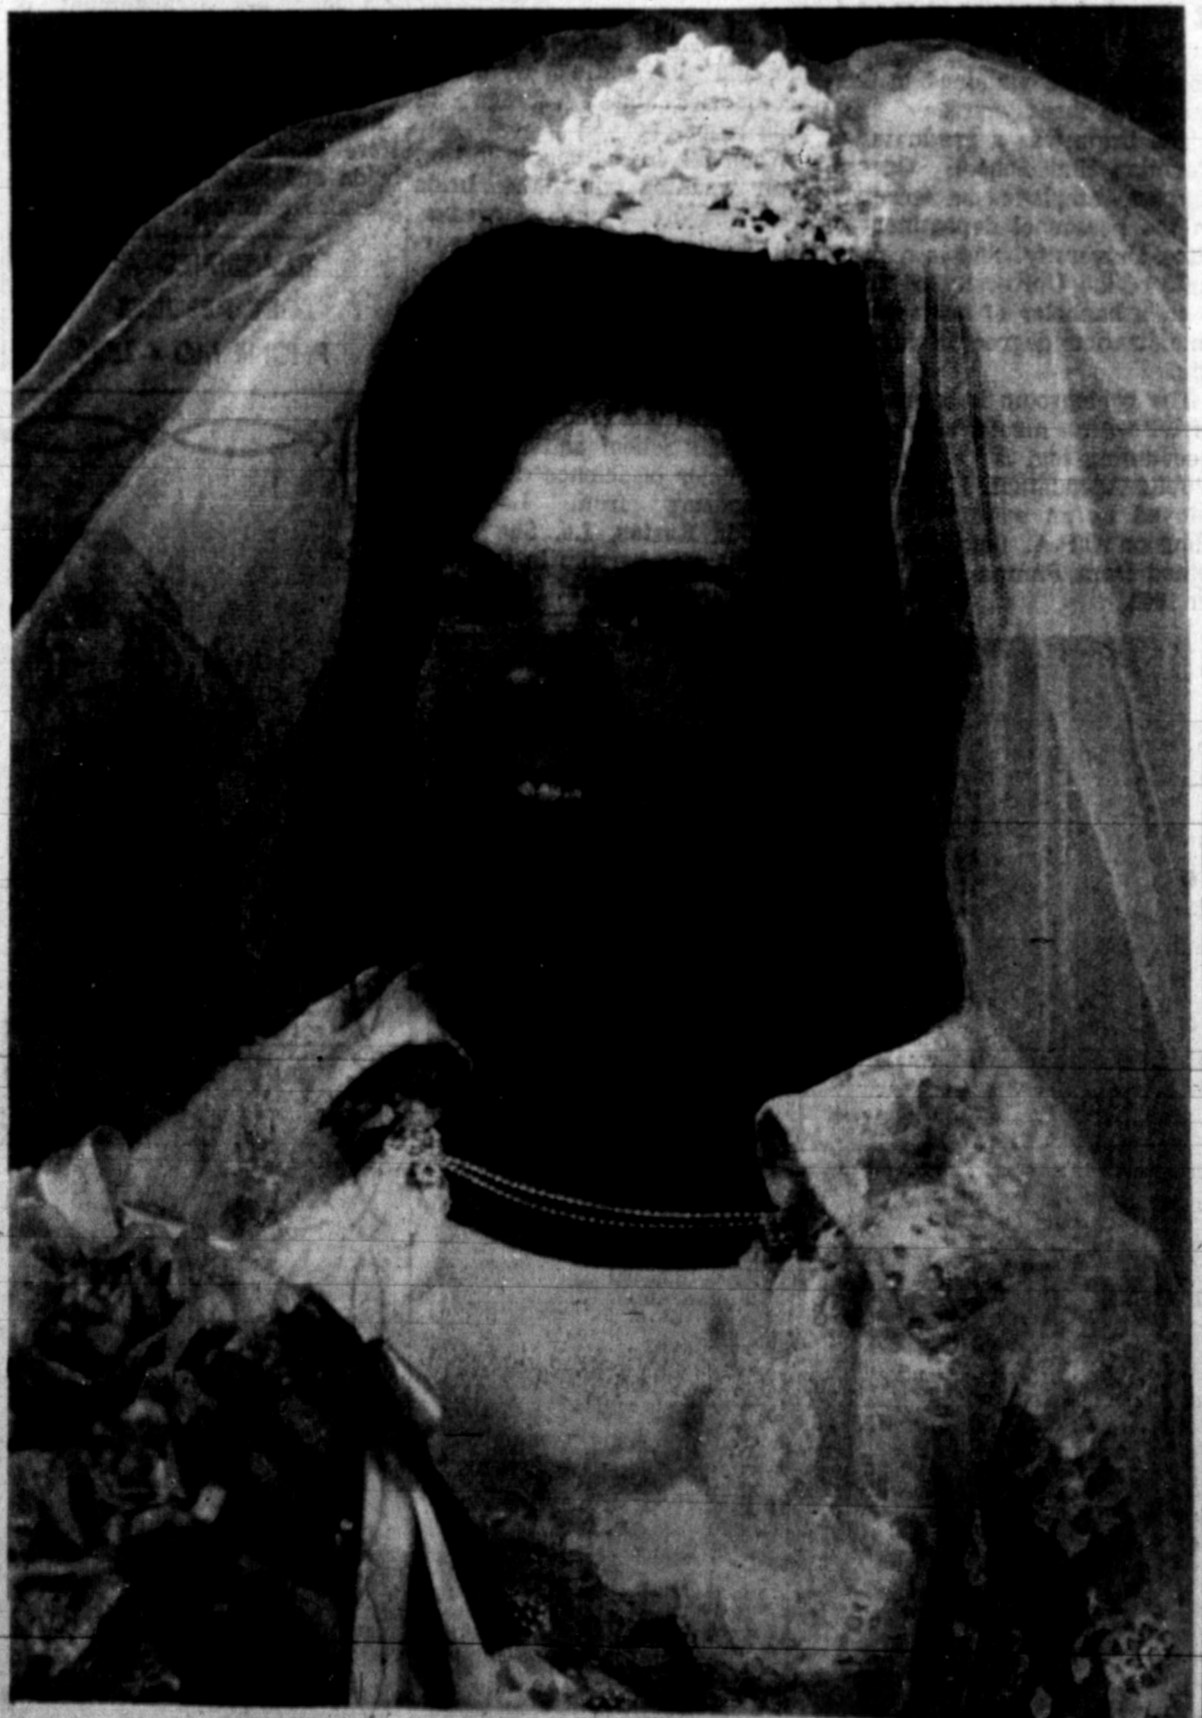

The bride will be a 1968 graduate of Pampa High School in the spring. She plans to work as a secretary after graduation. The bridegroom is employed by Ideal Food Stores and plans to attend college.

Miss Bruce Ann Gordy, Cole Barnes Wed in Baptist Church Ceremony

Miss Bruce Ann Gordy of Pampa and Cole Dean Barnes of Amarillo said their double-ring wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony in First Baptist Church Saturday night.

Rev. J. R. Manning, associate pastor, officiated for the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Gordy of 1337 Williston. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crisp of Amarillo.

Organist Donald Jones accompanied vocalist Mona Gordy as she sang "You'll Never Walk Alone," "When You Walk Through A Storm," and "Sunrise, Sunset."

Two baskets of light pink gladioli, accented with dark red ribbons, and white candles in two candelabras adorned the church. Parents' pews were marked with dark red ribbon. A white rose marked the Bible of 119 years, which lay open on the prie-dieu.

BRIDE
Mr. Gordy escorted his daughter to the altar. The bride wore a formal-length, imported cream silk peau-de-soie and can-die light Alencon lace gown with a chapel court-length train. The dress had elbow-length sleeves edged in lace, a scoop neckline and A-line skirt with three bands of applied candlelight Alencon lace. Its fitted bosque had a detachable train falling from an empire waist accented with Alencon lace and two peau-de-soie bows at shoulders. Her coil of candlelight Alencon lace flowers cascaded from a pill box hat and held a veil of imported candlelight silk illusion. Her bouquet was 18 roses surrounding three gladioli.

ATTENDANTS
Bridal attendants wore pink bonded lace, formal-length dresses. The maid of honor, Miss Barbara Hopkins of Pampa, carried three single dark red roses. Bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Pollack of Dallas, Miss Mary Cochran of Amarillo and Miss Kathleen Dailey of Colorado Springs, Colo., each carried one red rose.

Candlelighters were Debbie Foynds and Dale Foynds Jr., both of Amarillo.

Other attendants were Robert Garner of Amarillo, best man; Richard Gordy, Neal McCathern, both of Pampa, and Larry Jasper of Amarillo, groomsmen; and Harold Jennings and Brad Smith, both of Amarillo, ushers.

MRS. COLE BARNES
... nee Bruce Ann Gordy

RECEPTION
For the reception in the church parlor, two silver candelabras and pink candles were placed on a white satin tablecloth. The two-tiered ivory-colored wedding cake was decorated with five red roses. Sue Taylor of Amarillo served cake. Dianne Reid of Pampa registered guests and Marthalyn Taylor of Pampa assisted at the punch service.

For a honeymoon to Denver, Colo., the bride traveled in a hot pink A-line dress with inverted, open pleat, and draped neckline. She chose black accessories and gardenias from her bouquet.

Both plan to attend Texas Technological College where they are sophomore students.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
Pre-nuptial events included a shower given by Dianne Reid, Barbara Hopkins, and Mrs. Raymond Reid, Aug. 19; a bachelorette party at Miss Reid's home Aug. 28 and a rehearsal supper in the bride's home Friday.

Out-of-town guests attending were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Schoonover, Mineral Wells; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jasper and Sharon, all of Amarillo.

Candlelight Rites Unite Couple

Miss Sandra Kay Golden and Charles Luther Spotts were married in a double-ring ceremony in the First Assembly of God Church, 500 S. Cuyler, Aug. 12. Rev. Delbert Priest officiated in the candlelight service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obie M. Golden of Stamford. The bridegroom's parents are J. D. Spotts of 728 N. Nelson and Mrs. Wayne D. Howell, west of city.

Wedding music provided by Miss Edith Beigle of Skellytown, organist, and Mrs. Glen Courtney of Pampa, vocalist, included "I Love You Truly," and "Wedding Prayer."

Two baskets of white gladioli, candles and greenery decorated the church. A kneeling bench was placed at the church altar.

light blue brocade dresses and wrist bands of white carnations.

RECEPTION
Miss Edith Beigle played music for the reception in the church annex. Table decorations were full gathered net over white satin with a centerpiece of white dahlias. The bride's three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom beneath a heart-shaped arch.

Mrs. John Howell assisted at the punch service while Miss Beverly Cummings served cake, and Mrs. Mirve Griggs Jr. registered guests. Others who assisted were Glenda Malone, Linda McCoy, Mrs. A. B. Wade and June McCoy.

For the honeymoon to Amarillo the bride selected a dark grey striped dress with matching coat of ribbed cotton, and white accessories with white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The couple plan to live in Denver, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Stamford High School, attended a commercial college in Abilene and is working in Pampa.

The bridegroom is a Pampa High School graduate, attended Frank Phillips Junior College, and worked in Cabot Machine Shops. He plans to enroll Sept. 11 in Denver Automotive Institute and is employed at a rubber company in Denver.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Broxson of Dallas, Linda Webster of Stamford, Gary Lee Routh of Bakersfield, Calif., Janie Spotts of Flagstaff, Ariz., and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnett of Lefors. Showers and dinners were given for the couple.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I" vow, the bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of chantilly lace over organza. The fitted bodice had a scalloped neckline and wrist-length lace sleeves. A detachable, sweeping train of chantilly lace, and a shoulder-length veil of illusion caught by a seed pearl crown, completed her wedding ensemble.

She carried white roses and followed the tradition of "something old, borrowed and blue."

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. John Horst of Pampa, the bride's cousin, was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Linda Faye Golden of Stamford, the bride's sister. They were attired in floor-length, light-blue brocade dresses and carried white mums with satin ribbon.

Don Broxson of Dallas was best man. Gary Lee Routh of Bakersfield, Calif., the bridegroom's nephew, was groomsmen. John Horst and Terry Marlar, both of Pampa, were ushers.

Other attendants were Steven Melson, the bridegroom's cousin, ringbearer, and Janie Spotts, the bridegroom's niece, of Flagstaff, Ariz. The flower-girl wore a floor-length dress similar to the bride, except the child's dress had a rounded neckline and short lace sleeves.

Candlelighters Carolyn Earls, the bride's cousin, and Vicki Golden, bride's sister, wore white accessories with white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The couple plan to live in Denver, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Stamford High School, attended a commercial college in Abilene and is working in Pampa.

Nurse Finds Vietnam War 'Dirty,' But Feels 'We Are Needed There'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Capt. Verna M. Lorette knows first hand about the "dirty war" being fought in Vietnam.

The flight nurse from Limestone, Maine, has spent two years duty in the Far East, much of it on missions to remove the wounded from Vietnam hospitals and take them to other medical centers in the Orient.

"She has seen men die, men lose limbs and eyesight, men severely burned, men victims of another enemy, malaria, men suffering bites of the poisonous snakes the Viet Cong use as weapons, men with massive infections from the Viet Cong's nasty trick of "mining" roadside ditches with sharp "punji" sticks coated with human excrement.

"It is a dirty war," she said, "you don't know who your enemy is. He might be at work in the fields by day, making war at night."

Thinks We're Winning
"But it is my personal feeling," she said, "that we are needed there; we are slowly winning. If we got out now, we would lose what we've already accomplished. And I'm not talking in terms of money, so much as in lives."

"Our men must feel we're winning, or their morale wouldn't be so high. And their morale is excellent," she said. But the nurse spoke sadly of the mounting casualties. "In the first six months of last year, our group (the 901st Air Evacuation Squadron) moved 10,000 men," she said. "In the first six months of this year, we moved 43,000."

Captain Lorette, in the Air Force four years, has finished her tour of duty in the Far East "Aeromedical evacuation missions," 76 of which were in Vietnam, often in battle zones.

From her home base at Tachikawa, in Japan, she also helped move personnel to Korea, Okinawa, Thailand, the Philippines and inside Japan. The flight nurse's next assignment is at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Visited Mother
En route from the Orient, she visited her widowed mother, Mrs. George Lorette, in Limestone, and stopped off in New Orleans for the convention of the ladies auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). She is the 1967 "unsung heroine," a service woman honored annually by the auxiliary with a citation and a $500 check. Recommendations for the honor come from the servicewomen's commanding officers.

Maj. Louis H. Architect, USAF, cited Captain Lorette for her "devotion" to duty and her "patient, unruffled professional composure even under long mercy missions." Once without hesitation, she revived by mouth to mouth resuscitation a victim of an infectious disease. He had just stopped breathing," the officer said.

On missions, there is rarely a doctor, and two flight nurses and two medical corpsmen care for 50 to 60 patients in one of the big cargo planes fitted with stretchers, emergency oxygen. "We even pack metrel for the wounded unable to chew," she said.

Miss Barbara Louise Smiley's engagement and approaching marriage to Dale Smith of Amarillo has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smiley of Pampa. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Rebo Jones of Amarillo. The ceremony is slated for Sept. 30 in First Baptist Church of Pampa. A graduate of Lefors High School in 1962, Miss Smiley is working in a Pampa department store. Her fiancé, a 1950 graduate of Lakeview High School, is district supervisor of circulation for Amarillo-Globe News.

POP TOP dress modeled by Vicki Barber of Jacksonville, Fla., looks like chain mail. It took several hundred bottle tops to accumulate enough to fashion the shortie dress, Miss Barber said.

YOU ENTRUST YOUR LIFE TO US.

Do you realize that every time a pharmacist fills your prescription, you have placed your health and life in his care?

PHARMACISTS HAVE ALWAYS BEEN TRUSTED

We really know medicines. At our college of pharmacy we were taught how to identify them, their action and safe dosage, how to analyze their purity and strength and how they react with other drugs so we can prevent incompatibilities.

WE MUST CONTINUOUSLY STUDY.

Modern research is developing new drugs every month. We must study the suppliers' news releases and read all current professional publications to keep informed. Leading pharmaceutical manufacturers are authorized by us to send us any new drug as soon as it is released for safe use.

WHEN DO NEW DRUGS BECOME MIRACLES?

A "miracle" drug is only of real value when it is in the dispensing laboratory of a prescription pharmacy, immediately available to fill a prescription.

SUNDAY EMERGENCY CALL MO 4-2694

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed and miserable, but I must face the facts. I've done everything from crawl to fight to make my second marriage work, but our home life is a miserable existence, with constant quarreling and bedroom frigidity.

Any love, respect, companionship, and shared hobbies we once knew are long gone. We have no children and nothing in common except our home address and bank account.

The nerve-racking pretense to friends and relatives that our sick marriage is a success is becoming unbearable. I've thought of divorce, but this is a small town, and I dread the whispers that I have "failed" again.

My husband has made it plain that he doesn't love me, that I am unable to earn my own living, and I am no longer young.

Should I admit that this marriage is another failure and become a two-time loser? Or should I sacrifice my self-respect and resign myself to a loveless life of humiliation and hypocrisy for the sake of financial security?

BITTER

DEAR BITTER: You do not say how long you've endured a "loveless life of constant quarreling and bedroom frigidity," but if you continue to put up with it, regardless of what you say, it is obvious that you have decided that the financial security is worth the price you are paying for it.

DEAR ABBY: Although I am only 21, and "young" in your eyes, I am a mature man, having lived fully and seen a great deal of the world.

There is so much said about "sex" these days. Can you tell me what is wrong with sex for sex's sake if I do not harm anyone?

MATURE

DEAR MATURE: The answer is obvious. It harms YOU. Premiscuous sex will gradually transform you into a selfish, pleasure-seeking creature, incapable of loyalty or of loving another.

WINTERTIME ELEGANCE is not just a matter of fabulous furs and 10-carat diamonds. The really elegant look should start with your skin. To help ward off dry skin lines generously smooth on a medicated facial cream. With light circular strokes, massage gently around the nose and chin where make-up and grime can accumulate. Then tissue off.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial events included a lingerie shower with hostesses, Glenna Cox, Bea McCoy, Diane Irwin, and Sue Scoggin. Hostesses for a second lingerie shower Aug. 12 were Mrs. Henry Gindorf, Mrs. Jim Chase and Mrs. Jimmie Allen. Mrs. Bruce Pratt and Mrs. McHenry Lane were hostesses for a dinner.

Out-of-town-guests included Mrs. Beula Miller, grandmother of the bridegroom; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Larsen and family and Mr. and Mrs. P. G. McDonald and family.

Just what you've always wanted — a disposable dustmop. Its throw-away cleaning pads are made of special material for maximum dirt retrieval and a unique shape for easy use in every area of the home. The manufacturer reports. They are made of non-woven, spun cellulose which picks up not only dirt and dust but hard to get at thread and hairs.

COED FASHIONS FOR CAMPUS and date-time are perrier than ever this time around. Hit the campus in the all-wool plaid mini-jumper (left) with never a worry about peeping petticoats. It comes with its own plaid-trimmed panties. A-line in shape, it closes with tiny brass hooks and eyes. The dress to meet "him" in (right) is empire in line with a self-belt to mark the place. The skirt flares out beneath. In all wool gabardine with tiny sleeves and a stand-up collar, it comes in paprika citron and grass green. These designs are by Craig/Craely, and cuffed with Saga Blue Shadow Mink. French calf coat in cognac has creole mink detachable bib. Trench coat in golden Russian sable is double-breasted and has jewel buttons. These are all designed by Ben Kahn, a trend-setter in fur design.

Miss Mary Seymore, Allen Harman Repeat Wedding Vows in Merkel

Miss Mary Malinee Seymore and Allen Edward Harman were united in marriage Aug. 20 in Pioneer Memorial Methodist Church in Merkel. Pastor of the church, Rev. Charles Williams, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weldon Seymore of Merkel. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edd Harman of Skellytown.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length pegu do sole gown with an empire waist and lace-covered bodice. Her floor-length train and butterfly veil of illusion lace was fastened to a headpiece of small blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white glamelias and white roses.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's maid of honor was her sister, Miss Melba Seymore, of Merkel. Bridesmaids were Miss Nan Harman, of Skellytown, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Dwylene McCoy, of Dallas, the bride's niece.

Miss Seymore and bridesmaids wore apricot linen, A-line, street-length dresses. Their flowers were bronze mums and headpieces were bows of apricot illusion.

Best man was Jimmy Horner of Amarillo. Groomsmen were Kelly Brown of Skellytown, Joe Grange of White Deer. Ushers were David Seymore of Merkel; Donald Knipe of Snyder and Danny McCoy of Dallas.

Soloist was Mrs. Sybil Riney, of Merkel. Organist was Mrs. Mack Seymore of Merkel.

Flower girl was Stacy Sue Seymore of Merkel, a niece of the bride. Ring bearer, Minton Seymore of Merkel, was the bride's nephew.

RECEPTION

The bride's parents sponsored a reception in the church's fellowship hall. Susie Poole of Vaughn, N.M. served punch and Linda Cloude of Clyde, served cake. Both were college friends of the bride this summer at McMurry College.

A graduate of Merkel High School, the bride received an associate of arts degree from Cisco Junior College and a bachelor of arts degree from McMurry College. At McMurry College, she was a member of Kappa Delta Phi, honorary education society, Wah Wahtaysee, a service organization, and vice president of the Association of Women Students.

She is employed as a third grade teacher in O'Donnell Public Schools, in O'Donnell, where her husband teaches physical education and is an assistant coach.

Mr. Harman, a White Deer High School graduate, attended West Texas State University and McMurry College and received a bachelor of science degree.

Trip Helps Fonda Discover Himself

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — From the neck down, he is conservative — a dark suit, white shirt and carefully-knotted tie. But that's the only conservative part of Peter Fonda.

North of the neck, Fonda is the now generation personified. His hair is moderately long, he sports a pale, droopy mustache and the ideas that emerge from his mouth are from the conservative norm.

He has just finished making "The Trip," a film which deals basically with a man's experiences with LSD. (It is, Fonda says, much more than that, but LSD plays a major part in the plot.)

"My own position on LSD," he says, "is good. At least it was good for me."

The story pours out of him, then, in a steady, unembarrassed stream.

"I used to be in a bad way under severe stress. I was what the dictionary would call 'manic-depressive.' But 'depression' doesn't really convey what I felt. People say to me, 'Yeah, I know, I've been sad, too,' and I say to them, 'Man, you don't know what it means at all.' 'Depression is one thing. But what I had all the time was somewhat of a name for him—suicidal about everything. I was so depressed all the time, there's no describing it.' 'One trip and it was all over. No more suicide thoughts, no more depressions, no more drinking. The trip was a guided trip (with someone at his side) but not a doctor — I didn't want that. I can't even remember the details of the trip, only the results.' He paused for a moment and then began again. "I'd recommend it," he said, "for somebody with problems, much more than I'd recommend the shrinks." ("Shrinks" is, Fonda explains, a hippie expression for psychiatrists.)

"But not alone, not without preparation. It's like a 707 jet—you just can't step into one of those things without knowing how to fly. Same with LSD—you're taking your soul for a ride and you have to know how to fly, you have to be prepared."

Fonda believes that the conservative public, or at least a large segment of it, will misunderstand "The Trip" and automatically label it a dirty picture.

"The Trip isn't a dirty pictures," he says. "There is no showing my children (a 3½-year-old and a one-year-old) and there are no dirty words, boy) and nothing I wouldn't say either. There's nothing I would to my children."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

PERHAPS WE should start off this Sunday morning by performing a public service for city councils, county commissions, school boards and the host of other governmental groups that come under Texas' new Open Meetings Act, now the law of the state. . . . The Open Meetings Act requires all meetings of governing bodies of municipalities, county commissions, boards of education and school trustees, and all other boards, commissions or organizations, except grand juries and certain executive sessions, supported by or expending public funds, to be public meetings and open to the public. . . . That's what the law says.

THE PUBLIC service we could perform would be to suggest that one way to circumvent this law requiring open meetings would be never to call an official or unofficial, or even an executive meeting. . . . Just set up a social meeting, coffee break, breakfast, wieners or a gin rummy game and invite a few friends. . . . These friends must be members of the school board or the particular governmental body of which you are the head-man. . . . You may also include the administrative officials directly connected therewith. . . . You must remember not to invite any outsiders—and, above all, do not invite newspaper reporters. . . . They're just naturally snoopers. . . . You can get away with all this—in case somebody asks questions—by merely stating you hosted a few friends at an early morning luau and even though these friends all happened to be members of your particular governmental body, no public business was discussed. . . . One word of warning, though, make absolutely certain the City Hall Cat does not wander afield from his usual haunts and soft-pad himself comfortably under your breakfast table. This is a must. . . . Check that out good. And no matter what happens, stick to your story if any nosy so-and-so asks questions. . . . Never waver from the original theme that it was just a social get-together of good friends, old pals and buddies.

AS STATED at the outset, we thought we might suggest this to members of all governmental agencies—and especially to heads of governmental bodies who may have leanings toward the idea that public business is none of the public's business—as being one left-handed way of trying to get around the Texas Open Meetings Act. . . . Don't meet officially, just socially. . . . And, for goodness sake, if you ever do throw a breakfast party for fellow school board members, city councilmen or any other governmental pals—don't forget to pick up the tab for the round of ham and eggs. . . . That is one of the little social niceties always performed by the perfect host. . . . We believe Abigail Van Buren of "Dear Abby" fame will back us up when we state a school board president who has invited his board members and superintendent to an early morning social pow-wow should always be quick on the draw in reaching for the breakfast check. . . . It helps to make it look more on the up-and-up. . . . And, of course, it goes without saying this must not be turned in as expense at the next meeting.

HOWEVER, ON second thought, we are not going to drop any hints on how to get around the Open Meetings Act. . . . Instead of being a public service, any suggestions about beating the rap via the social approach might give some the idea they could really get away with it. . . . They might even try it. . . . And, then somebody might say to us, "hey, what's the big idea of trying to help promote un-open meetings, dum-dum?"—and, we might not have a quick answer, unless it would be we just think it's a real nice gesture to invite a few friends in for breakfast and some idle chit-chat about "un-business". . . . There are those who probably would blast that answer with, "Oh, yeah!" or some equally derogatory remark. . . . So, on third thought, to avoid that kind of or any related kinds of retaliatory abuse, we are not going to hand out any tips on how to go about circumventing the Texas Open Meetings Law. . . . We just hope somebody invites us to breakfast. . . . And picks up the tab.

TO R. S.—Re: your question, where has the City Hall Cat been for the past couple of weeks? No, he was not caught by the dog warden. He has been pussy-footing around, tailing public servants and casing the joint, such as attending friendly luau's, social breakfasts and stuff like that there. —DFD

THE GUEST PEN: He Needs Straightening Out

By D. R. SEGAL
Editor, Brownsville Herald
A cultural group I run with invited Martin Hayden, editor of The Detroit News, to talk to us in Austin, Texas, the other day, and he confirmed that there had been some unpleasantness up there but that it had been grossly exaggerated, at least in some reports. Ed Harte, the president of our kavern, called me over to the corner he was brightening and let me talk more or less privately with Mr. Hayden the night before the speech, and it was illuminating.

But, on balance, I'm not sure I know much more about the whole business of "ghetto" rioting than I did a week ago. I am not certain, in my own mind, what it is the rioters want as the price of quitting. Food, housing, clothing, schools, medicine? Do they want it air-dropped, delivered by parcel post, left in the stimp of a hollow tree or provided during a parting of the clouds and with thunder in the skies? If they got sore again next year won't they break the windows of their new houses? If they can't afford good housing, how can they pay for it? What, pre-

WHO CAN GIVE JOBS?

A conference was held recently by the mayor of one of our larger cities to give unemployed youth an opportunity to hear the mayor's explanation of his office's failure to get promised jobs for unemployed youths. The conference almost turned into a riot before the mayor finally retreated. It was all televised, and an ugly spectacle it was. The group's spokesmen threatened the mayor with reprisals for breaking his pre-election pledge that he would get jobs for unemployed youth.

The morning following this ugly scene a newspaper, published in a city in the same state, reported editorially on the governor's "fact finding conference" on welfare fraud: Mrs. Norma Ross, a welfare recipient and mother of two children, was invited to attend the conference, and she and a dozen or so demonstrators appeared before the body. Mrs. Ross complained that welfare recipients want to work, but can't get good jobs. "Who the hell wants to be a maid?" she inquired rhetorically.

Well, I know a very fine lady who is a maid. Mary never told me whether she wants to be a maid and I doubt that she thinks much about the question. I do know that Mary is greatly concerned about providing for herself, now and later.

Let me tell you about Mary and I'm sure you'll recognize her, or others like her. Mary's husband was a modestly paid technician at a midwest State Agricultural Experiment Station. He died suddenly, leaving forty-year-old Mary with very little to live on, but with the will to make a go of it on her own. Measured by federal and state standards she was well below the top of the poverty scale.

She came West and looked for the only kind of work she knew anything about: housework. She is little; maybe 110 pounds fully clothed. She works as a night nurse in a convalescent home, and half-days for three or four working wives. She washes clothes, irons, scrubs floors and bathrooms, washes widows, takes the spoils out of the upholstery, and occasionally, if there is a flower garden, she picks and arranges a bouquet for the table.

She gave me a peek at her savings bank pass-book and the figure, after four years of this "maid" work, and it represented a good start for her later protection.

Her chief properties are her will and her willingness to use the beet table she has, which is to be a maid—and a good one. "Who the hell wants to be a maid?" Well, Mary is a maid with dignified self respect which earns her the respect of all who know her. She could claim all kinds of reasons, using her regular radium treatments as number one, for not being able to find a job but she is Mary—and Mary is a maid, a very good maid, and a wonderful person.

No one gave Mary a job. She earned it.

My point is that the majority-minority thing is a complete phoney. And "ghetto" is becoming a fun word on the lips of people who don't have any idea what it means. At this same meeting in Austin the other day, we heard from the president of a CATV (Community Antenna Television Systems) outfit and he referred to the "electronic ghetto." I went out for a breath of air, myself. I started to talk these things out with my friend Ed Harte because he has been astute from birth—having chosen a pa who owns newspapers for a club. But Ed had gone somewhere or other—maybe home to Corpus Christi—and so I never got straightened out.

Nixon Backers Concerned About Leaks To Aides of Rockefeller, Reagan; Hired Investigators

WASHINGTON — Some unreported political intrigue preceded the recent house cleaning at former Vice President Richard Nixon's presidential campaign headquarters here.

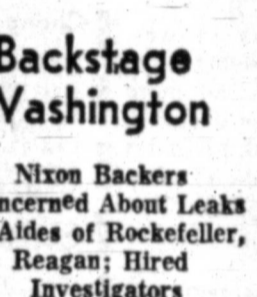

For several weeks before five members of the staff were summarily fired, three nationally known private investigating agencies made separate probes of serious leaks of information from the Nixon headquarters to aides of Governors Nelson Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan.

Financial backers of Nixon, who regard Rockefeller as the former vice president's biggest threat for the GOP presidential nomination, paid "more than $30,000" for the inquiries.

Most recent of these backstage probes, handled by a Maryland based firm, was underway at the time that Gaylord Parkinson, a former California Republican chairman resigned as Nixon's campaign chairman to return to San Diego, where his wife is seriously ill.

While none of the investigations involved Parkinson directly, they did center around Robert Walker, a San Diego public relations man and Parkinson's number one assistant.

The private investigators, who checked all of Walker's visitors and telephone calls, made a determined effort to learn if any contacts were made with (1) Rockefeller and Reagan aides, (2) reporters friendly to Rockefeller and/or (3) members of Congress closely associated with the two GOP governors.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Safety Habits Are One Of School's Best Lessons

More and more children are going to and from school by bus these days. As with any other activity, there are certain rules that must be observed.

Your child should be at the bus stop in plenty of time and not have to run for it or, worse yet, miss it.

If he is only in kindergarten, you should accompany him to the bus stop, especially if he must cross a street or highway. He should wait at or near the bus stop but not play in the roadway.

When the bus comes, he should avoid pushing or racing for a seat or racing for the door when getting off. Calm, self-possessed children have fewer accidents, both on the bus and when crossing a street after alighting. The children should remain seated when the bus is in motion. If the children raise a ruckus on the bus, this distracts the driver and he needs all his wits about him to drive and watch what's going on outside the bus.

Teach your child never to put his arms or head out of the bus window. That goes for trains and the family auto as well. You should also teach him to follow instructions given by the driver. They are given for the safety of the children under his care. Your child can learn few more valuable lessons in school than the importance of alertness and decorum on his way to and from school.

Q—When my daughter, 14, was 8, she was found to have a glioma. What is this? No operation was performed. Two years ago, she was found to have a convulsive brain wave pattern, so she now takes phenobarbital and Mesantoin. What side effects would the latter cause? What treatment would you suggest?
A—A glioma is a nerve cell tumor that may be found in the brain or the retina. The latter is usually hereditary. The side effects of mephenytoin (Mesantoin) include skin rash, abnormally low white blood cell count, sore throat, fever and swelling of the lymph nodes. In the treatment of glioma, which is unsatisfactory at best, no operation is of value but some victims are benefited by X-ray therapy.

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAWMAKERS

You may wish to write your senators and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses:

(FEDERAL)
Rep. Bob Price, 1223 Longworth Bldg., Washington 25, D.C.
Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Senate Bldg., Washington 25, D.C.
Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Bldg., Washington 25, D.C.

(STATE)
Rep. Malott Abraham, Chairman, Texas
Sen. Grady Hallwood, Canyon Hwy., Amarillo, Texas

their rightful place in the economy?
You'll have to ask the letters about that.

My point is that the majority-minority thing is a complete phoney. And "ghetto" is becoming a fun word on the lips of people who don't have any idea what it means.

At this same meeting in Austin the other day, we heard from the president of a CATV (Community Antenna Television Systems) outfit and he referred to the "electronic ghetto." I went out for a breath of air, myself.

The Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

Editor: With something of an understanding of a City budget, it occurred to me that I should bring a lesson, on "How to Understand a City Budget".

First, the student should be in the privacy of his own home, preferably in his own room, for reasons apparent later. We will provide him with a copy of the budget, a lead pencil, a map of the city, a blindfold and a container of aspirin.

If there is any whiskey in the house, it should be locked up in the garage. There is no law that says he must throw away the key. You seat him at the table. He is blindfolded, and poises the pencil above the outspread city map.

He must repeat—kinda like the game of "tic tac toe"—"One for the money, two for the show, where does all the money go?"

Plip! His pencil comes down, let us say, near city hall. That is, of course, Administration. He starts to add up dollars. But wait, what does he think he is doing? Administration must be cut up into smaller pieces. Don't city parks deserve some little slice of Administration? (one aspirin).

Now try again—One for the money, and so on. . . . the pencil comes down in water and sewer; turn to page 27. Any one should know that the Administration has to be in water and sewer, so slice a little piece (money) off the Administration for water and sewer.

Now, the student has the idea. Let us leave him alone to study; he will find that equipment on page 46 will be headed "Equipment," but, wait, it is a part of capital investment, and again, a little piece of Administration belongs there.

Interest and sinking funds, DOES NOT mean someone's curiosity as to how they are going to survive tax-paying. Fire and Police are mixed up with Financial, and Financial is an integral part of debt retirement and don't forget that contingencies means some money that can be spent where it is handy.

For example, if Administration and others may have to go to New York to explain finance to those dumb bankers, that may be a contingency. Let us hope our subject understands this.

After two hours of loneliness, let's go back and look in on the subject of our pride, the student of budget. We just crack the door. Ah, yes, there he is. The blindfold is off, he stares unseeing at the shambles of the city map.

Still he jabs viciously and stultically at the map as he chants — "One for the money, two for the show, where did all my whiskey go?"

Oh well some people just can't take it. Poor fellow, he apparently put up a gallant fight before going for the garage key. Not even an aspirin left!

Wit and Whimsy

Mr. and Mrs. Jock MacGregor saved money on their honeymoon by staying at home and hearing the roar of Niagara Falls broadcast over the radio.

They'd been having words because he came home very late again. Husband (angrily) — Well, at any rate, I'm a man of my word. I do call a spade a spade. Wife — Maybe, Henry, but you don't call a club a club; you call it working late.

Tommy (to his mother) — My new teacher is mean, but at least she's fair. Mrs. Jones — How's that? Tommy — She's mean to everyone.

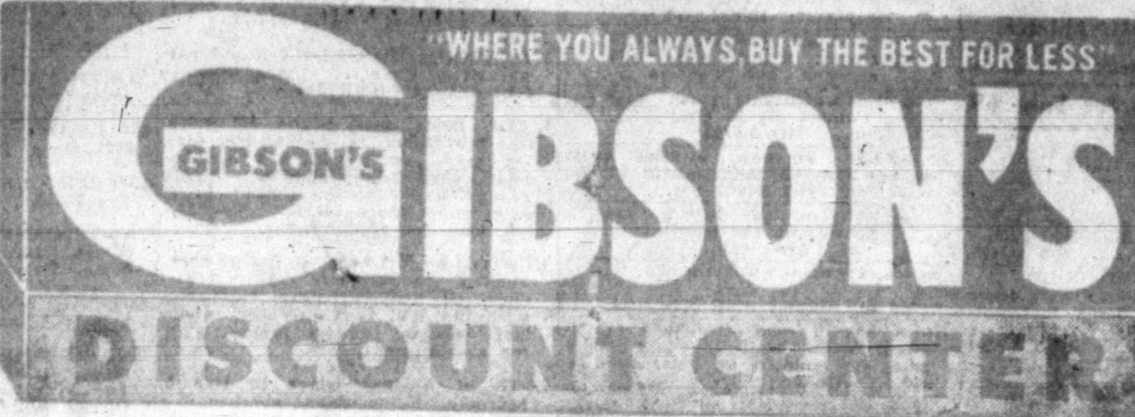

Alice — Shall we have a friendly game of cards? Betty — No, let's play bridge.

uses the harder it is to cure, I would strongly recommend that your daughter be seen by a kidney specialist.
