

Michigan Classrooms Face Teachers Strike

Threat Stems From Situation in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — A half million Michigan children face closed classrooms this week as teachers in 38 school districts insist they will not work without new contracts. School contract negotiations between the Detroit School Board and the city's 11,500 teachers left little chance that classes would begin as scheduled Wednesday for 300,000 students. Nearly 30,000 students were expected to be without teachers in nine outstate districts where classes were to begin today. Teachers in the other 29 districts planned to boycott the opening of classes Wednesday.

Tom Hill, a spokesman for the Michigan Federation of Teachers (MFT), said teachers in a number of school systems in the Detroit area would "definitely be out on strike by 8:30 a.m. (CDT)."

Strikes also appeared unavoidable at Henry Ford Community College, the first college ever closed by a teacher strike, and Kellogg Community College at Battle Creek. Teachers at these colleges are represented by MFT locals.

Walter C. Averill Jr., of the state's Public Employees' Relations act allows teachers to bargain collectively but prohibits strikes—without spelling out penalties for striking. A circuit judge said last week teachers cannot be ordered to work if they have not signed master contracts.

Confrontations between teachers and their school boards were avoided at several districts where teachers represented by the Michigan Education Association and board members agreed to postpone school openings and continue contract talks.

The Detroit Federation of Teachers (DFT) Monday rejected a state-appointed mediator's plea for binding arbitration and planned to go ahead with a vote on the Detroit School Board's $600 across-the-board wage proposal.

"We certainly expect them to reject the offer and we don't expect any teachers to report for work until we have a settlement," said Mrs. Mary Ellen Riordan, DFT president. Henry Linne, MFT president, said Detroit teachers might accept a $600 raise for beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees, but were holding out for $1,000 for teachers with master's degrees at the top of the scale. Those now make $10,000.

Auto Workers Warn Strike Hours Away

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther warned the Ford Motor Co. that unless it changed its attitude "radically" at the bargaining table today it will face a strike promptly at midnight Wednesday.

"It's their strike and we can do nothing about it," Reuther said Monday. Unless Ford's attitude "changes radically between now and tomorrow, I think the prospects for avoiding a strike are extremely slight. The contract will not be extended."

Talks resumed at 9 a.m. CDT. Ford's chief negotiator, Vice President Malcolm Denise also was pessimistic about the chance of avoiding a strike. "My congenial optimism is getting a little ragged," he said.

Contract talks resume at General Motors and Chrysler today, but the only issue slated for discussion was whether the two companies would extend their current contracts. GM hinted last week it might buck the union's so-called "whipsaw" tactics, which direct the strike threat at just one company, and not extend its contract. Its lawyers reportedly have studied the possibility of a legal lockout.

Despite the entry into the Ford talks of William Simkin, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, a five-hour Labor Day bargaining session produced few results.

Czech Airliner Crashes With 69 Persons Aboard

GANDER, Nfld. (UPI)—A Czechoslovakian airliner carrying 69 persons and a full load of fuel for a flight to Havana crashed and burst into flames moments after takeoff today. At least 35 persons survived.

Some of the survivors were burned so critically they were not expected to live. One passenger who escaped the flaming wreckage alive died within hours at Gander's only hospital.

Most of the 61 passengers and eight crewmen were Czechs and Cubans, an airport spokesman said. The flight originated in Prague.

The four-engine turboprop plane rose to an altitude of 1,000 feet and then plummeted into a desolate marsh, skidding about 100 feet into a mainline track of the Canadian National Railway where it burst into flames. The flaming blast scattered people and wreckage over an area of one mile.

A witness to the crash said the huge Soviet-built airliner appeared to lose power after it was airborne and plowed into the ground at a steep angle about a mile from the airport.

The crash tore up several hundred feet of the CNR tracks only minutes before an express train carrying 100 persons was to have passed. The train had been unexplainably detained in the Gander station a mile away.

Firemen sent to the scene first found two men, nearly naked, walking away from the crash. The copilot later was found walking in the marsh, apparently not seriously hurt, firemen said.

The navigator also was among the survivors. Rescuers searched the area for other possible survivors.

Thirty-six persons were brought to James Paton Memorial Hospital, two miles from the airport. One later died of nearly all of the survivors were burned. About half were in critical condition.

Holiday Fatality Record Is Below Predicted Total

A United Press International count at 8 a.m. CDT showed that 575 persons were killed in traffic between the start of the holiday at 6 p.m. Friday and its end at midnight Monday local time.

A breakdown of accidental deaths showed: Traffic 575, Drownings 35, Planes 28, Miscellaneous 62, Total 700.

California led the nation with 52 traffic deaths. Texas and Michigan each had 44. New York counted 42, North Carolina 23, Pennsylvania 24.

Each Blames Other Cease-Fire Violated By Israeli and Jordan

United Press International Israeli and Jordanian artillery, tanks, mortars and machine-guns duelled across the Jordan River over a seven-hour period today. There were some casualties on each side.

It was the second Middle East cease-fire violation in less than 24 hours. Israeli and Egyptian guns duelled across the Suez canal Monday in what an Israeli spokesman called a reminder that peace had not been stabilized.

Each side blamed the other for starting today's series of firing near the Allenby Bridge. Amman Radio said "two of our soldiers were slightly wounded while it was confirmed that there were some casualties among enemy troops" and equipment. Israel said two Israeli soldiers were wounded.

Amman Radio, quoting a military spokesman, said Israeli troops first opened fire with light and medium machine-guns, but as the day wore on brought up 106 mm. field artillery, tanks and mortars. It said Jordan used similar equipment.

In Cairo, the authoritative newspaper Al Ahran hinted at new political unrest in Egypt. It said Egypt's intelligence chief had "retired" in the wake of an alleged abortive plot to take over the army and perhaps depose President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Air War Stepped Up Bloody Da Nang Battle Costly As 160 Cong, 54 Marines Die

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marines striking into a valley of rice paddies near Da Nang killed 163 Viet Cong in a bloody battle for strategic Hill 63 Monday and drove forward with tanks today against the fleeing enemy, some of whom hid beneath water buffaloes to escape detection.

The battle, which cost the Marines 54 dead and 84 wounded, was one of a series that flared from the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) to the Mekong Delta with end of the presidential elections. The series of battles cost the Communists more than 300 dead. A total of 61 Americans died.

The air war also stepped up Monday and carrier-based planes streaked in from the Gulf of Tonkin and blasted two spans of one of Haiphong's two southern bridges only three miles from the center of the city. The 127 missions over the North cost one F105 and pilot—the 672nd U.S. plane shot down over North Vietnam.

Unlabeled Offense In Saigon, Lt. Gen. William B. Rosson, commander of the U.S. Calif., and Niagara Falls, N.Y., the regimental commander, said the first Communist fire was silenced almost immediately with the help of artillery and the Central Highlands. He said Air Force C47 "Dragonships" using flares to find the enemy. Two helicopters were shot down. One was a gunship firing at the Communists, the other was a rescue ship en route to pick up wounded Marines.

Other heavy fighting was reported near Con Thien, a Marine outpost just below the DMZ. The Marines killed 37 Viet Cong in this battle but gave up two dead and 47 wounded. U.S. B52s flew in and struck three times against enemy artillery positions harassing the Marines.

History Unfolded by Senator At Mobeetie Holiday Reunion

By JEFF HOLLADAY Daily News Staff Writer MOBEETIE — Area residents came to Old Mobeetie yesterday to pay tribute to pioneer Panhandle lawman Capt. G. W. Arrington and the oldest town in the Panhandle.

Under overcast skies with brisk, chilly winds and occasional drizzle, an estimated crowd of 500 gathered to hear State Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo conduct dedication services for historical markers honoring the early Panhandle settlement and one of its most prominent settlers.

Occasion for the dedication was the annual Labor Day Old Settlers reunion. After being introduced by District Judge Grainger McIlhenny, Senator Hazlewood said: "If you could move Mobeetie to Europe, people would pay just to hear the story of Old Mobeetie and some of its famous citizens."

It was not difficult to imagine that he had a point as he began to unravel that history. Buffalo still roamed the Panhandle plains in the 1870s, Hazlewood stated, and the beginning of Old Mobeetie goes back to a buffalo hunters' camp established near the head of Sweetwater Creek sometime in 1873 or 1874. It was called Hidetown because most of its structures were tentlike affairs consisting of poles driven into the ground and covered with buffalo hides.

The camp began to turn into a permanent settlement around 1875 with the establishment of a military post named Fort Elliott only two miles from Hidetown. The decision to build the post was prompted by the continuing raids of Comanches, Kiowas and Cheyennes from Fort Sill Reservation in what is now Oklahoma, where the Indians had been concentrated since 1868. Apaches from New Mexico reservations were also involved.

A line of camps and forts along the border from the Red to the Grande rivers had been established by the U.S. in 1845 to deal with the vexing Indian problem. But no provision had been made to protect the Panhandle, which until the 1870s was largely unoccupied.

Fort Elliott Built The Army was spurred into action in 1874 when about 700 Kiowa, Comanche, and Cheyenne Indians attacked a camp of hidehunters at Adobe Walls, in what is now Hutchinson County. There, and at the fight of Buffalo Wallow in Wheeler County in 1874, the Indians were routed and driven back to their reservations in Oklahoma. Thereafter, Indian power in the Panhandle was greatly weakened. But the fear of continuing Indian raids prompted the Army to raise its protection over newly arriving, opportunity-seeking settlers and prevent a recurrence of the events of 1874. Fort Elliott was built in 1875.

By 1878, the name Hidetown had been abandoned and a new village by the name of Sweetwater had been established halfway between the old Hidetown and the new Fort Elliott. Wheeler County was organized in 1879 and Sweetwater named as its county seat. When the government refused to act on an application for a post office submitted by the town because another Texas town had already filled the name, the name was changed to Mobeetie—the Indian name for sweet water.

Forest Fires Continue to Roar Through Parched Midwest

By United Press International A force of 3,200 firefighters assaulted north Idaho's huge Sundance blaze, the largest conflagration still out of control in a month-long series that has sent flames through some 300,000 acres of the Pacific Northwest.

The 55,000-acre Sundance fire and seemingly unending plague of explosive eruptions in British Columbia remained the only grim aspects of otherwise encouraging reports from forestry officials.

They said the Sundance blaze was not really growing because of favorable winds. However, more than 65 miles of firelines will be required to contain it, and only 26 miles have been built.

LIFT SECURITY RULE

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—Malaysian students will no longer have to pass a security check to get into universities.

Education Minister Mohamed Khir Johari said Saturday.

He said the government would stop issuing "suitability certificates" for a two year trial period. The certificates were introduced three years ago to keep pro-Communists out of the schools. Students had to get them from the government before they could enroll in universities.

FEDERAL CRACKDOWN

Swedish Drivers Change Lifetime Traffic Habits

Only emergency vehicles were allowed on the streets.

The changeover was made early Sunday morning. Drivers in other parts of Sweden were allowed to keep driving until midnight Saturday.

The driving ban was imposed in the capital from Saturday morning to Sunday afternoon to allow workmen to change traffic lights and road signs.

Thousands of Stockholmers got up early Saturday to take a last, nostalgic ride on the city's streets, which will be discarded with the changeover.

Police with helicopters and loudspeakers directed drivers out of Stockholm before the deadline for halting traffic.

Police, hospitals and emergency squads prepared for a rash of accidents after the changeover as drivers alter their habits of a lifetime.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Down through the years Labor Day has taken on traditions and meanings that stray far afield from its original purpose.

In presidential election years, Labor Day traditionally marks the beginning of the national campaign. And every year it traditionally marks the beginning of the Christmas shopping season.

For practical purposes, of course, the Christmas shopping season begins the Fourth of July. But the early bird Christmas shopping service, of which I am sole proprietor, clings to tradition.

And so with a hearty "ho, ho, ho," we make our annual trek through the gift catalogs that have been piling up all summer.

Develop Themes

In scanning the catalogs, looking for gift suggestions that might be helpful to my readers, I have noticed that mail order houses tend to develop themes.

One year they may feature gifts on a religious theme. The next year it may be a smoking theme. And the next a drinking theme.

This year they are featuring gifts on the theme of insecurity and frustration. Somewhere among them you are almost certain to find the perfect gift for the neurotic who has everything.

"Do you hide your phone book when company comes? Ashamed of the frayed, ensightily cover?" Of course you are.

Who among us has not cringed when friends dropped in unexpectedly and caught us with our telephone directories exposed? And who has not tossed and turned all night wondering what they must have thought of us when they saw our unkempt yellow pages?

To avoid such embarrassments you can "glamorize" the phone book with a fabulous cover in washable black leather-texture plastic. And think of the joy it will bring on Christmas morning!

Aid Short Friends

Surely there is someone on your gift list who is self-conscious about being so short.

And who hesitates to wear high heels because they are so noticeable. Particularly on men.

Okay. Gift wrap a pair of "be taller pads" which add two full inches to your height! but which do so discreetly because they fit inside the shoes.

The catalogs do not explain whether there will also be room inside the shoes for feet. But

Birth Data Needed For Driver License

AUSTIN—Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, reminded Texans today that any person, regardless of age, must have a birth certificate or other legal document showing birthdate in possession at the time they first make application for a driver license.

"Apparently many applicants are unfamiliar with this new requirement in the law," Garrison advised, "and large numbers of prospective drivers are being turned away until they return home and get such a document.

This part of the law, he said, applies only to those drivers who make application for their first Texas driver license, and not to those wishing to renew a license."

leave us not mar the Christmas season by quibbling.

This brings us to a companion gift set—a sphygmomanometer and a stethoscope. Ideal for the person who likes to take his own blood pressure and tune in on heart murmurs.

Unfortunately, this year's catalogs are not offering electrocardiographs suitable for hanging on a Christmas tree. But wait till next Labor Day.

School Pupils Under Labor Regulations

DALLAS—Farm employers were reminded this week by the U. S. Department of Labor here that when school is in session youngsters under 16 may work only outside school hours.

The reminder is in accordance with the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Regional Director Wm. J. Rogers of the Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions said, "The youngster's future success depends on the education he obtains today." He added that the "law helps the migrant youngster as well as the local child" and urged the public's cooperation in encouraging young people to stay in school.

JAKARTA (UPI)—Indonesia and Singapore will establish diplomatic relations next week when Singapore Foreign Minister S. Rajaratnam arrives in Jakarta for a three-day official visit.

The diplomatic relations will heal a breach between the two countries which dates from former Indonesian President Sukarno's warlike "confrontation" against Malaysia and Singapore.

Selective Service Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado St., Austin, and are published by The News as a public service.

Q—We have only one son. We have heard if a family has only one son, he won't be drafted, but he'll be put in Class IV-A. Is that right?

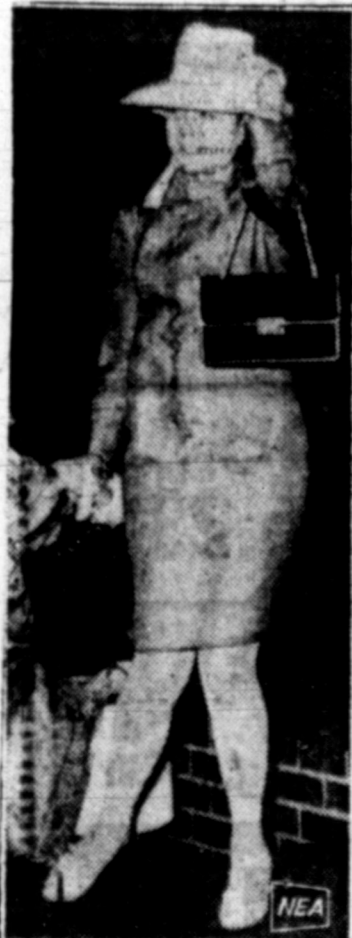

A—That depends. The law provides that he must be the sole surviving son of a family of which the father or one or more sons or daughters were killed in action or died in line of duty while serving in the Armed Forces of the U.S., or subsequently died as a result of injuries received or disease incurred during this service.

Q—Must a man return to his own local board for his Armed Forces physical examination, or for his induction?

A—No. He may transfer to either physical examination or induction by requesting this action at the draft board nearest him.

Q—Recently my wife and I were divorced. She has custody of our two children and has them with her. Can I still get a Class III-A deferment?

A—Not as a father. To qualify for II-A you must have a bona fide family relationship with the children in your home. It may be possible for you to be deferred in III-A because of extreme hardship to these dependents, but you will have to prove hardship to your draft board's satisfaction.

It's the Law in Texas

Ducking out of the rain, George entered a luncheonette, hung his raincoat on a hook, and ordered a cup of coffee. But by the time the coffee was gone, so was the raincoat. Could George make the management pay for his loss? A court said no, on the ground that he could not prove a "bailment" of the coat. That is, he had not entrusted possession of the coat to the management.

Questions of this kind may arise any time a customer deposits his personal belongings—temporarily—in a place of business. In case of loss, the customer is ordinarily entitled to compensation only if there was a bailment relationship with the management.

The law's logic is that if there is no transfer of possession, then in all fairness that should be no transfer of responsibility either. Coat-watching was more reasonably a job for George, who had hung the coat up, than for the management, which had not touched it.

On the other hand, if the customer delivers his garment to a checkroom and it gets lost there, he is usually in a position to demand payment.

Unfortunately, it is not always easy to tell whether possession has really been transferred.

Consider the case of a woman whose fur coat was stolen from her dentist's waiting room while he was working on her teeth. Had the dentist accepted possession of the coat? A court said yes, he had—by implication, and held him liable for the loss. The court pointed out that the dentist knew the woman had brought a coat, that there was no other place for her to put it, and that she obviously could not wear it during treatment.

What about the contents of a garment? They may or may not be included in the bailment, depending mainly on whether they are items "normally to be expected" in such a location. Thus:

A customer in a clothing store, trying on a new suit, left his "old" one in a poorly protected dressing room. During his absence at the mirror, his pockets were rifled of not only $41 in cash but also a valuable diamond ring.

When he sued the store, the court observed that cash was normally to be expected in a suit pocket—but not a valuable ring. So the store was ordered to pay for the stolen money, because it was part of the bailment, but not for the stolen ring, because it was not.

Diplomatic sources in London says U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser appears ready to "modify" his tough anti-American stance, for fear of ending up as a Soviet puppet and because of mounting financial and economic pressure since the Arab-Israeli war. The sources said Nasser also is getting wary of some of his radical allies, particularly the Syrians who got him into trouble in the first place and the Algerians whose President Houari Boumediene appears to be out to wrest Arab leadership from Nasser.

Chinese checkers:
Economic relations between Indonesia and Nationalist China have improved steadily since the downfall of President Sukarno, but sources in Taipei see no chance of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries in the near future. According to the sources, any prospects for such ties were dashed by Jakarta. They cited Foreign Minister Adam Malik's statement that recognition would be granted only if Nationalist China changed its name to the "Republic of Taiwan"—a demand considered so insulting Nationalists won't even reject it.

Moscow waits:
Look for a crackdown on dissident intellectuals in Russia when the 50th anniversary celebrations are over. Officials tried to keep the trial of three young writers last week secret but word leaked out anyway. Observers in Moscow say other trials will be delayed until after the Nov. 7 anniversary celebrations to avoid further damage to the image of Communist Russia.

Wilson confident:
Prime Minister Harold Wilson plans to push his drive for Britain's admission to the common market despite French President Charles de Gaulle's thumbs-down. London officials say Wilson has been encouraged by the support of the other five members of the six-nation market and believes De Gaulle's new veto may delay but will not permanently bar Britain from membership.

SPICES RUMOR
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Sources close to Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, head of the Vatican's powerful Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, Saturday denied press reports that he had offered his resignation to Pope Paul VI.

The denial was prompted by reports that the cardinal, 76, had handed in his resignation, and that other veteran Vatican officials would do the same in January, to permit the Pope to reform the church under a new constitution recently announced.

IGNATIUS SWORN IN WASHINGTON (UPI)—Paul R. Ignatius has been sworn in as the new secretary of the Navy.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara administered the oath Friday to Ignatius, who had been assistant secretary of defense for installations and logistics.

MILLER IS KILLED
FORT WORTH (UPI) — A 28-year-old man was killed early today in a car-truck head-on collision on the Jacksboro Highway. The victim was Jimmy Lee Miller of Azle, Tex., the driver of the pickup truck.

Hall Tire Repairs Improve Car Service

Boost your comfort, your service from your car, your return from your pickup . . . by having Hall Tire Company rebuild the seats of your auto or pickup.

Leymond Hall, owner-operator of Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, MO 5-5755, and his associates completely rebuild the seat, replace broken springs, add foam rubber pads, recover the seat — fix it up like new. Hall's repairs give you that extra comfort, longer wear — the service that brings greater returns from your investment in a pickup or car.

Hall's custom work goes far beyond seat rebuilding: to include custom-tailored seat covers, door panels, arm rests, and trunk and floor mats for all makes and models of automobiles and trucks.

If the door panel is getting worn in any place, Hall Tire can install two or more matching door panels, and from a much lower price than you would imagine. Of course, you will enjoy an extra: the added beauty of your car.

Hall Tire carries the largest selection of seat covers in the Top O' Texas area. There are covers to fit nearly every make and model of car, and to fit every budget. All covers are in the latest patterns and color schemes, of favorite materials. Nycar, plastics, Lum-Puff combo-weave, nyfoam and others.

Texas University Is Given Collection Of Model Planes

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A Dallas man has given the University of Texas 222 airplane models that trace aircraft design from 1904 to the present, the university announced Saturday.

The donor is Phil G. Spexarth, vice president of International Aviation Underwriters. He has been building models since he was 10 years old, but developed the historical collection over the past eight years.

The models, all made of plastic, are on display in the university's academic center. They are part of the university's history of aviation collection.

RULER IMPRISONED

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The Panchen Lama, former puppet ruler of Tibet and a sacred figure to many Tibetans, is now working as a laborer in a Chinese Communist concentration camp near the Tibetan capital of Lhasa, the Statesman newspaper reported Saturday.

The Panchen Lama became a figurehead of the Chinese regime in Tibet after the country's ruling Dalai Lama fled to India in 1959. He was apparently deposed by the Red Guard movement now sweeping China, according to "knowledgeable sources" quoted by the Statesman.

Let Hall Tire custom make your seat covers, to express your individual taste. Or you may choose patterns by seat covers made by Howard Zink, Arthur Fulmer and others—Covers in all styles, colors, materials.

Hall Tire is the complete auto service center: lubrication, washing, favorite oils, Champion Gasolines; accessories.

Tire service is a Hall specialty. The firm features Security, Dayton and Mohawk Tires; and top quality used tires — all at the lowest prices. Hall has recently added the new Dayton wide track super sport tire.

Come in and talk over your auto or motoring problems with Leymond Hall and his associates. You'll like their answers. . . at 700 W. Foster, MO 5-5755.

PASSPORT REVOKED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has revoked the passport of traveling black power militant Stokely Carmichael.

Department spokesman Carl Bartsch said Monday that a letter had been sent to Carmichael at his U.S. home address informing him of the revocation. North Vietnam news agency reports monitored in Tokyo said he is visiting Hanoi currently.

Democracy Works On New Horizons

By RICHARD V. OLIVER
SAIGON (UPI)—It has never been easy to define why Americans are fighting and dying in Vietnam. It became just a little bit easier Sunday. The average American soldier comes to Vietnam—from Los Angeles, Pittsburgh or Sandusky, or he may be from Buffalo, Houston or Tuscaloosa. Whenever his home town, it is much the same story. At a lenient outpost with a strange-sounding name a young G.I. is hit in the chest with a piece of lead the size of a cigarette butt. He could not know what had hit him, for the sniper's bullet rips through his chest cavity, through sinew, muscle and bone, and opeed a hole in his back the size of a man's fist. Why? Like most G.I.'s here, he probably had been counting his days and he knew he would be heading home in a few months, perhaps to go back to school, or to his job, or to get married and raise a family, far, far away from this Vietnam with the strange-sounding names. Why They Die Most likely he had been drafted and, after learning how to kill and how to best stay alive, he was sent here, a little frightened at first, but no more than the fellow in the jungle boots next to him. And he wondered why he was sent here. The reason, he was told, was to help these people, the South Vietnamese, stay free and able to determine for themselves their own destinies. More than 12,000 Americans have died in this war. And today, it became a little less difficult to say they died in vain. For Sunday 6:50 a.m., Dang Thuc Binh, a 29-year-old clerk, walked up to the City Hall. Behind him was a young bar girl, then an old man and then a matronly woman. One by one, they picked up ballots and walked into the blue curtained booths to vote for a president, a vice president and a slate of senators to represent them in the new government. Binh was the first voter through the lines. After dropping a manila envelope into the ballot box, he stopped to talk about South Vietnam's national election. How He Voted He said he had voted for Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. "I do not know much about the other candidates," he said. "These two men are not perfect, but from their past records, I think I can trust them." Then, he talked about the war and he said he hoped what was

BUSINESS SUMMARY

Auto Production Speed-Up Advances Business Index

By ROGER BABSON STAFF
 Paced by the resurgence in new automobile production, business activity in August improved upon the better-than-expected July showing. The Babson Composite Business Chart rose to 151.2, up slightly from the upward revised reading of 150.7 for July. But this was still well shy of the 154.9 reading for August of 1966. Spurred by the combination of strong sales rates and the desire to push out as many 1968-model cars as possible before the strike deadline, automobile producers pressed hard to speed up output in August. If the now seemingly unavoidable labor tie-up does occur, the industry will obviously be in a stronger bargaining position if dealers have a goodly inventory of new cars. The snapback in automobile production naturally lifted steel output and the production of automotive accessories. The upturn in steel was particularly encouraging, since this important sector of industrial activity had been hobbled for many months by inventory liquidations. Looking ahead, the pattern of business in August produced other encouraging signs. The breathing spells in other consumer durable goods such as television sets and home appliances appear to be over. Moreover, business capital outlays for new equipment continued to respond favorably to the restoration of the 7 percent tax credit on these expenditures. Retail trade remained strong, and prospects for the consumer sector of the economy were further enhanced by the sustained strength in employment and the new peak rate of personal income. Progress in the

Greenwood Sloshes to Tot Title

By RON CROSS
Bobby Greenwood proved to be a good muddier Sunday and played good steady golf to hold off Shamrock's Jerry Hrciar gallop down the stretch, and won his second Top O' Texas golf tournament.

with a one stroke lead over Mike Andrade of Dallas but after the 18-hole morning round, John Shackelford had pulled in to second place four shots back of Greenwood.

The Cookville, Tenn. golfer shot a 73 Monday morning for a 209 and added an even par 71 during the afternoon for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par figures.

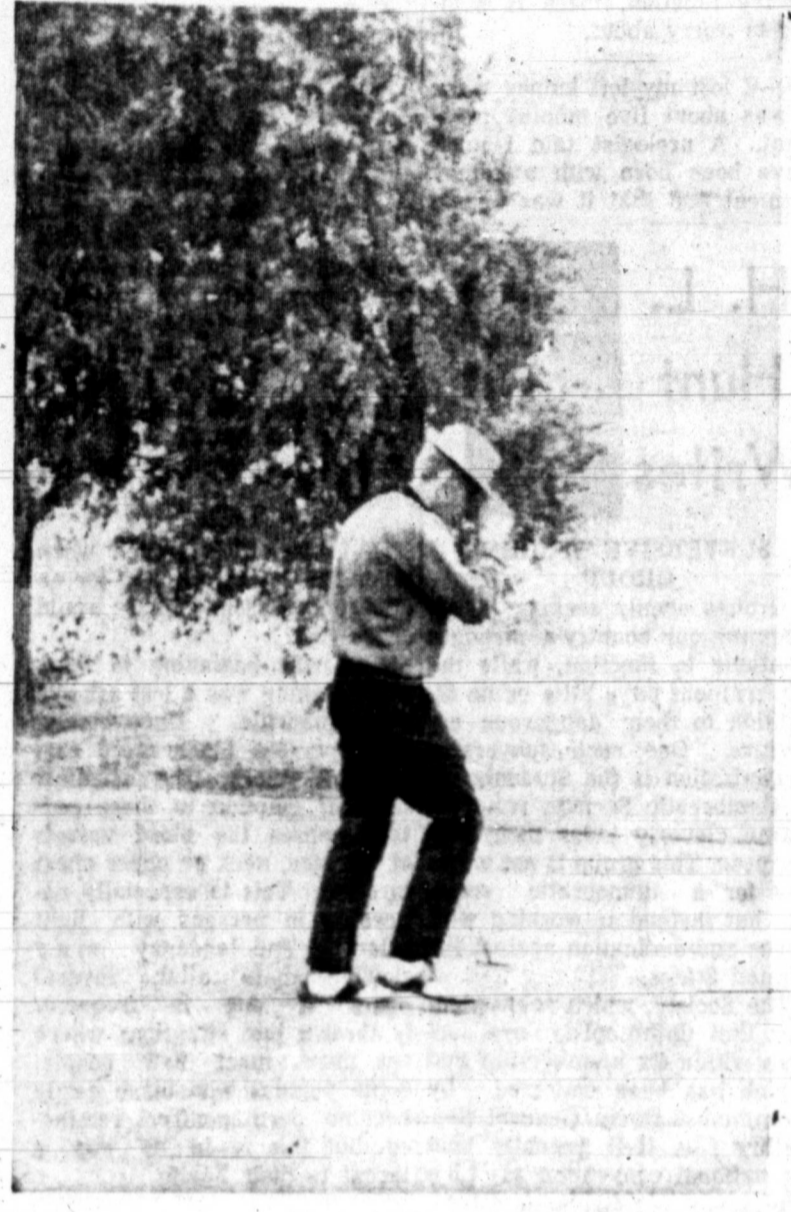

Greenwood, who won this tournament in 1964 and finished second in 1965, started the afternoon round with an eight stroke lead over Hrciar.

But the Shamrock golfer turned in a 68 during the final 18 holes, the lowest round of the day to finish with a 285, good for a stroke lead over Shackelford who had to settle for a 73 and 286.

Defending champion Steve Le-Crone of Amarillo who started the day at 140, shot 73-74 for a 287 and tied with Don Kaplan and Jimmy Deaton.

Bunched at 289 were David Smith and Harry Todd, while Rhett Giedon and Don Prigmore had 292.

Play was almost halted at one point during the afternoon, just as Greenwood finished nine of his final 18 holes.

THE WINNER for the second time in the Top O' Texas golf tournament, Bobby Greenwood, acknowledges the cheers of the crowd as he wins his second TotT golf tournament.

McCormick Hits 19 Wins

Who would have believed Mike McCormick's magic number would reach as high as 19? It likely will go higher and provide the San Francisco Giants with a 20-game winner for the sixth consecutive season.

Relegated to the ash heap when he developed a sore arm several years ago, the smooth working McCormick matched the American League's Earl Wilson of Detroit for season high when he won his 19th game Monday, a 4-3 victory over the Houston Astros.

"I realize my fast ball isn't what it was when I was a kid and sometimes people tell me I forget that it still is worth using," McCormick claims.

Chicago picked up a game on the Cards and now is 10½ out because of its split with Los Angeles. Ernie Banks provided the Cubs' winning margin in their opener when he hit his 21st homer leading off the 11th inning.

Hank Aaron and Mack Jones homered for Atlanta to rout Philadelphia in the day portion of their doubleheader. The Braves went to work straight away in the first inning of the second game with a six-run outburst.

Twins Hang to Lead

The bad hop turned Fred Whitfield's routine grounder into a disputed run-scoring single in the 10th inning which gave the Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory over Minnesota and foiled the Twins' bid to pick up a full game in the American League race.

Since the other three teams had already split and Minnesota had taken a 4-1 victory on Jim Merritt's six-hitter over the Indians in the opener, the Twins could have stretched their slim lead with a second game victory.

Whitfield singled in the Indians' other run in the first inning off Jim Perry and it also was unearned because Cesar Tovar's throwing error set the stage for the tally.

In the second game, manager Eddie Stanky had to literally tackle Pete Ward to pull him away from umpire Emmett Ashford in the fourth inning when the arbiter ruled he had fouled a pitch that Ward thought hit him.

Curt Eifary's two-run, two-out homer in the eighth inning gave Baltimore the victory in the first game and the Orioles also appeared to be on the way to a sweep when Brooks Robinson doubled in a run in the 12th inning of the second game.

U.S. Grabs 32 Medals in Games

TOKYO (UPI)—Madeline Manning of Tennessee State won the women's 300 meters with a time of 2:06.8 Monday as the United States finished with 32 gold medals in the World University Games.

Miss Manning led from the start to win by 10 meters over Abigail Hoffman of Canada, who was timed in 2:08.5, and give the U.S. its final victory. Elizabeth Ostberg of Sweden was third.

The U.S. dominated the Games by winding up with 23 silver and six bronze medals in addition to its victories, while Japan, which had the largest delegation as the host nation, followed with 21 gold, 17 silver and 26 bronze medals.

The Americans were most impressive in the swimming and diving in which they won 24 gold medals and basketball in which they were unbeaten. But their showings in the other events accounted for only seven victories.

Diego, Calif., took a par-four on the first playoff hole after Geiberger missed his eight-foot putt for a par.

The only other player who finished under par for three rounds was South Africa's Gary Player, who wound up with a 71 and 283. Player earned $8,500. Geiberger, who earned $17,000 as runner-up, missed his chance to win the tournament on the last hole when his 20-foot birdie putt stopped an inch short of the cup.

The track and field and gymnastics competition undoubtedly suffered because Russia and other Communist countries boycotted the Games. Not one world record was broken during the track and field events.

Japan stole the show on the final day of the Games by winning three of the seven gold medals at stake.

Keisuke Sawaki of Japan provided the most thrilling victory when he came from behind on the final lap to beat Van Nelson of St. Cloud State in the 5,000 meters. Sawaki, who also beat Nelson on Wednesday in the 10,000 meters, spurred ahead on the first turn of the final lap and went on to win by 10 meters.
