Hale Claims Victory In Race For Interim House Speaker

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. DeWitt Hale, Corpus Christi, claimed victory today in his race for speaker of the special session of the Texas Legislature opening Tuesday.

"According to our best figures, based on a count we made last night, there are 76 firm commitments for interim speaker," Hale said, adding that he considers these votes for Hale since he is the only candidate for interim speaker only.

"We count 57 commitments for Rep. Rayford Price," Hale said, "and there are 16 uncommitted votes... we think we will get at least 10 of these undecided votes."

Price is a candidate for speaker of the special session and also for the regular 1973 session.

Hale told newsmen again today that "if I am selected interim speaker at this special session I will not be a candidate for speaker of the regular 1973 session, nor will I allow the speakers office during the interim to be used in any way to favor any candidate for the 1973 speakership."

Hale said he was "guessing, like everyone else," that Speaker Gus Mutscher will step aside as speaker as Mutscher said last week and there would be a vacancy in the speaker's office.

Hale told a news conference that he would not be a "lackey" for Mutscher and Rep. Bill Healy, Paducah, long time chairman of the House Appropriations committee, as Hale said one published report described him.

"DeWitt Hale is not going to be a lackey for anyone... one of my major faults is that I am an independent thinker. No one controls me."

Hale said he had been working for reform in the house, particularly in the makeup and size of committees, for almost 18 years, starting in 1954. "That was six years before Price was even elected the first time," he said.

Hale said "significant changes" in house rules were made under his sponsorship in 1961 then in 1963 were erased "and they went back to the old system." He said Price voted to revert to the old system.

Hale said he had made no commitments concerning any committee if he is elected speaker. He said that according to his interpretation of the constitution the speaker may appoint or fill any vacancy on a committee but he cannot remove any committee chairman or member—and that includes Mr. Healy."

Cavness said the new speaker should be elected by an open record vote.

Shipley Here Attending Optimists' Celebration

Norman L. "Norm" Shipley, president, Optimist International, in Pampa for the eighteenth anniversary celebration of the local Optimist Club, was scheduled to give Pampa High students a foretaste of tonight's speaking fare at assembly this morning.

Shipley and Truman Evans, North Texas District governor, Arlington, will be on hand at 6 tonight to meet Optimists and their wives informally at a social hour before dinner at 7 p.m.

Shipley now lives in Union, Ontario, Canada. Before his retirement he was a mathematics teacher, dean of residence and assistant headmaster at Ridley College, St. Catherine, Ontario.

He joined the Optimist Club at St. Catherine in 1949 and currently holds his membership there. He rose to club president in 1953; district governor in 1962; International president-elect in 1970 and acceded to his present office Oct. 1, 1971.

He served as chairman of Boys Work for his club and at the district level which gives local Optimists an avid interest in what he has to say. Boys Work has been the forte of The Pampa club since its inception 18 years ago.

Mutscher Moves Out Of Office, Apartment

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Speaker Gus Mutscher has cleaned off his desk, taken his personal pictures off the walls and removed his collection of gavels from his office.

It will no longer be "his office" Tuesday. Mutscher has moved out of it and his state-provided apartment behind the house chamber Saturday.

Rush McGinty, Mutscher's top lieutenant, said today the speaker will resign officially Tuesday before the legislature convenes in special session.

The speaker, convicted with McGinty and Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth March 15 of conspiracy to accept a bribe, will be just plain Rep. Mutscher, from Brenham.

McGinty said Mutscher would attend the special session as a voting member.

City Manager Will Attend Nephew's Funeral

City Manager Mack Wofford will go to DeLeon, Texas, tomorrow to attend the funeral of his nephew, 18-year-old Kenneth Kimmell, who drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming in Lake Proctor near DeLeon.

Young Kimmell and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley B. Kimmell of Mineral Wells, had been called to DeLeon along with Mr. and Mrs. Wofford because of the serious illness of Mrs. Wofford's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Kimmell.

Mrs. Wofford remained in DeLeon and the city manager was returning to Pampa when he was stopped on the highway and notified of the drowning accident.

Wofford came on to Pampa last night and will leave again early Tuesday to attend the funeral.

Protestant Workers Protest British Takeover Of N. Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — Thousands of Protestant factory and office workers left their jobs today, paralyzing Northern Ireland in an angry backlash over British takeover of the their provincial government.

A wing of the outlawed Irish Republican army announced it was easing its guerrilla campaign against civilian targets. But militant Catholic nationalists of the IRA denied there was any truce.

The National Association of Broadcasters and six broadcasting companies had argued in appeals that the ban restrains freedom of speech and discriminates against radio and television.

The court brushed aside without elaboration their pleas for a hearing and, as proposed by the Justice Department, affirmed a ruling by a three-judge panel in favor of the blackout.

Electricity was cut at breakfast time and within minutes trade, production and traffic ground to a halt throughout the province.

Vanguard leader William Craig, who called the two-day strike, was cheered when he told an estimated 20,000 strikers massed outside Belfast city hall. "We have to fight and we will fight."

Craig, a former provincial home affairs minister, said the aim of the protest was to force the British to restore the suspended provincial parliament with greater powers than before. He has vowed to make British rule impossible.

He called on Protestants to rally outside the provincial parliament building at Stormont when it holds its closing session Tuesday. He asked for a massive show of support for Prime Minister Brian Faulkner, who quit rather than give in to the British demands.

Thousands of workers across Ulster joined the strike and held meetings supporting Faulkner—an indication that the new British secretary of state for Northern Ireland, William Whitelaw, can expect little Protestant support while he rules the province for the next year.

Nearly all the 5,400 men at Belfast's Short-Harland aircraft plant walked out. So did most of the 10,000 workers at the Harland and Wolff shipyard. All banks closed. Trains stopped running from Belfast's two major railroad stations. All flights from Aldergrove Airport were cancelled.

The strike by the militant

Protestants and the partial halt to the guerrilla campaign by Catholics of the Irish Republican Army were separate reactions to the British government's takeover of Northern Ireland's provincial government last week in an effort to end almost three years of strife.

The militant Protestants acted because many saw suspension of the 51-year-old Protestant regime as a preliminary step toward union with the neighboring Irish Republic which is 95 per cent Catholic.

The power cuts struck at 7 a.m., three hours ahead of the deadline for a general strike called by a militant Protestant organization. The effect was to ensure that many thousands in the province's factories could not work even if they wanted to.

Early today, the Irish Republican Army wing, behind much of the recent violence in Northern Ireland, announced an immediate four-week suspension of its guerrilla campaign against civilian targets.

The quiet in Londonderry, Northern Ireland's second city, was shattered less than an hour after the truce was announced, however. Gunmen, believed to be from the IRA's Marxist "Official wing," which has not declared a ceasefire, blasted an army post in the Brandywell district. The troops fired back, but no casualties were reported.

Military Authorities Probe Jet Missile Weapon Theft

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Military spokesmen confirmed Sunday night that investigators are looking into a reported theft of a missile weapon off a jet fighter plane.

They declined to give any details about the theft, which an Austin newsman said took place Friday at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin during a big joint Army-Air Force exercise centered at Ft. Hood, near here in Central Texas.

A public relations officer at the Army's Ft. Hood said an Army and Air Force team from the office of special investigation was working on the matter.

Newsman Charles Garrett of Radio Station KNOW in Austin said he learned about the incident Sunday from an unidentified source at Ft.

Hood described as very reliable.

"The missile was apparently stolen off an F4C Phantom fighter parked on the Bertstrom flight line Friday," Garrett said. "Security was clamped down on the base that afternoon."

He added that whether the attempted theft met with success was not disclosed.

The incident presumably involved one of 40 Phantom aircraft now operating from Bergstrom with the 49th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing on temporary duty here from Holloman Air Force Base at Alamogordo, N.M.

Bergstrom itself has a regular wing of Phantoms but they are R4FC reconnaissance craft, which are used solely for aerial photography and are unarmed.

The F4 fighter model has been known to carry such armament as Bullpup, Sidewinder, Falcon or Sparrow III missiles.

Authorities have said planes at Bergstrom being used in the Army-Air Force exercise carry no nuclear armament but they have been using live fire weapons which could be dangerous to anyone under certain conditions.

More Cut Expected By May

SAIGON (AP) — American troop strength in South Vietnam has dropped below the 100,000 mark for the first time since the summer of 1965.

The milestone in the phased pullout that began nearly three years ago was reached as the U.S. Command issued an official summary putting the number of troops in Vietnam at 101,700 for the week ending last Thursday. But military sources said that additional reductions in the following four days brought the level below the 100,000 mark.

The U.S. Command issues official strength summaries each Monday but they cover only the week ending the previous Thursday. The exact drop below 100,000 thus won't be officially confirmed until a week from now. Currently, American troop strength has been falling about 1,000 each day.

Last week's drop was 6,900 men, the most in two months, and cut the military population to less than half the level of six months ago.

The latest official summary gave this breakdown by service: Army 74,400; Air Force 21,500; Navy 5,300; Marines 400; Coast Guard 100.

The summary does not include 30,000 airmen based in Thailand and 15,000 Navy personnel engaged in the Indochina war from bases with the 7th fleet off Vietnam.

President Nixon has ordered U.S. strength in Vietnam cut to 69,000 by May 1. Peak American strength reached 543,000 in April 1969, two months before Nixon announced the phased pullout of U.S. forces.

During the big U.S. troop buildup in the summer of 1965, American strength in Vietnam reached 81,400 at the end of July, 100,300 in August and 184,300 by the end of the year.

Plans are for Army strength in Vietnam to be down to about 48,000 by May 1, with about 16,000 Air Force men and 4,500 Navy men remaining.

On the battlefields, the U.S. Command reported two small rocket attacks against American air bases near the coastal town of Qui Nhon and near Can Tho in the Mekong delta. There were no casualties in either attack, but one helicopter was lightly damaged, the Command said.

Nixon Names New Member Of Pay Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rocco C. Siciliano, former president of a Los Angeles holding company and undersecretary of commerce, has been named by President Nixon as the lone business representative to remain on the revamped Federal Pay Board.

The White House said Nixon made the decision over the weekend, which he spent at Camp David in Maryland.

the proceedings.

About five minutes before her attack, Dr. Radetsky said Mrs. Beard registered trouble in the right ventricle of her heart but he did not consider it dangerous.

He said it is a "harbinger of a possible serious heart attack."

Dr. Radetsky said Mrs. Beard suffered a similar attack six days after she entered the hospital March 3.

Other senators on the subcommittee hearing testimony here were Democrats Quentin N. Burdick of North Dakota, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Republican Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky.

Lobbyist Links White House To Controversy Surrounding ITT

DENVER (AP) — Lobbyist Dita D. Beard linked the White House to the controversy surrounding International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. before collapsing in bed during a hospital room hearing called by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The 53-year-old Mrs. Beard, recuperating from a heart ailment, fell back onto her bed in pain Sunday after undergoing questioning by a Senate subcommittee investigating charges by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson.

Dr. Louis Radetsky, her physician at the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital, said later she had suffered severe pains in her chest, left shoulder, left arm and hand. Radetsky said she was resting comfortably four hours after the attack.

Mrs. Beard, before the hearings were temporarily called off, had testified under oath that she had written a memo after her boss told her the White House had called him to find out what ITT's financial commitment would be toward the Republican National Convention.

"It suddenly jumped up, is this $600,000 going to Nixon's campaign," Mrs. Beard testified.

After the hearing, Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., said the telephone call mentioned a $600,000 figure.

"It would appear that the ambiguity was in the White House over whether the money would go to the Republican convention or to the presidential campaign," Tunney said.

In his column Anderson published a memorandum allegedly written by Mrs. Beard linking the out-of-court settlement of three antitrust cases against ITT last year with a $400,000 financial guarantee from the conglomerate to the city of San Diego to assist it in obtaining the Republican National Convention.

The Senate Judiciary Committee was asked by Atty. Gen.-designate Richard G. Kleindienst to reopen hearings during the 2½ hours of testimony before her attack. Mrs. Beard again denied that she had written the memorandum published by Anderson. But she conceded there were several parts of it that she had put in an interoffice memo to her boss, W.R. Merriam, head of ITT's Washington office.

She said she had been asked to write a memo by Merriam after he told her the White House had called. She said Merriam did not tell her who in the White House had called him.

The Senate Judiciary Committee was asked by Atty. Gen.-designate Richard G. Kleindienst to reopen hearings on his nomination to succeed John N. Mitchell and to permit him to defend the Justice Department against the Anderson charges.

Kleindienst's nomination was confirmed unanimously by the committee but is now being held up by the full Senate until the hearings have ended.

ITT President Harold S. Geneen testified earlier in Washington that the corporation's commitment of $100,000 and another $100,000 if needed was to go to the San Diego Convention and Tourist Bureau and not the Republican National Committee.

Mrs. Beard changed part of her testimony between the morning and afternoon sessions.

In the morning hearing she said she couldn't have written the Anderson memo, dated last June 25, because she wasn't at her office that day. Later, however, she said she had written the memo requested by Merriam on that date.

She did not change her testimony denying the authorship of the Anderson document. But she said there was information in it that she had no knowledge of.

"It isn't a noble commitment," Mrs. Beard said. "It's a business deal.

U. S. Agency To Publish Report On Beef Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department plans to publish this week a report expected to put more light on rising beef prices and show how middlemen as well as cattle producers have benefited.

President Nixon said last Friday it is a mistake and "totally unfair to make the farmer the scapegoat" for high meat prices at supermarkets and pledged action if middlemen do not ease up.

The report will be a followup to the announcement last week by the Bureau of Labor Statistics that retail food costs, led by meat, jumped the most during February in 14 years.

It will be published by the Economic Research Service and is a monthly analysis of where the food dollar goes, from farm to retail shelves, for a list of "market basket" food items.

A spokesman said the report will show a further rise in retail beef prices from the record high average of $1.11½ per pound, with most of the increase occurring in middleman margins.

But high cattle prices also have caused upward pressure. The concern by the White House, however, is over the increase in spread between the time an animal leaves the feedlot and when it is cut up and wrapped for sale in meat counters.

The January average retail price of $1.11½ per pound was a national average for all cuts of beef, a composite figure for meat from the entire carcass, hamburger and roasts as well as the finest steaks.

The department's market basket breakdown for January showed that of the $1.11½ per pound for beef in retail stores, the "farm value" of that amount was 74.1 cents. That is not the price farmers get for live cattle but is their share of the $1.11½ housewives spent for a pound of beef last January.

In other words, it took 74.1 cents worth of live steer to make up one pound of beef for consumers at the supermarket. Producers may have received 35 cents a pound or less for the live steer, but less than half the animal actually winds up on store shelves.

NATIONAL POLITICS Hartke Pulls Out Of Race To Back Hubert Humphrey

By MICHAEL PUTZEL, Associated Press Writer

Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana has pulled out of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination and says he will devote his "full energies to nominating and electing Hubert H. Humphrey."

"My determination was there," Hartke said Sunday, "but I didn't have the money." Humphrey, who was stumping for labor support in Philadelphia when informed of Hartke's announcement, said the endorsement "doesn't mean that it turns things around" but added he thought it would help him in the April 4 Wisconsin primary, the next ballot-box test for the presidential hopefuls.

"Every time you get an endorsement you like it," the Minnesota senator said. Hartke waged an intensive personal campaign in the March 7 New Hampshire primary but finished a disappointing fifth with only 3 per cent of the vote and polled less than 1 per cent a week later in Florida, where he made no serious effort.

Many observers had expected his withdrawal, especially after he allowed last Friday's deadline to pass without filing for the May 2 primary in his home state of Indiana.

The only Democrats now campaigning actively in Wisconsin are Sens. Humphrey, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, George McGovern of South Dakota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York.

Reps. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, Shirley Chisholm of New York and Patsy Mink of Hawaii, former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles are on the ballot but are making few if any campaign appearances.

Tru-Teens Set Easter Sunday Early Service

Princeton, N.J. (AP) — The number of American adults who have tried marijuana has almost tripled in the last 2½ years, according to a Gallup poll released Sunday.

Gallup said 11 per cent of all Americans over 18—about 15 million people—have smoked pot. In 1969, the figure was 4 per cent.

The Tru-Teens, high school girls service club, will sponsor the sixth annual Easter Sunrise service this Sunday.

The services will begin at 6:30 a.m. in the Aspen Street Park, 2100 N. Duncan.

The special Easter message will be presented by the Rev. Ted Dotts, district superintendent for the Methodist churches.

The benediction will be given by the Rev. Francis J. Hynes of St. Vincent's Catholic Church.

The congregational singing will be directed by Morris Kille, music director at the First Methodist Church.

Mary Beth Karr, Tru-Teen chairman for the event, suggests that people dress warmly for the early morning services.

Twister Hits Hillsboro; Area Temperature Drops

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

One tornado took a lusty poke at churches and homes in Hillsboro and others popped up over a broad stretch of landscape in a prelude to what outdoorsmen call Texas' yearly Easter cold spell.

The twisters and blustery thunderstorms laced with hail broke out late Sunday in a sector from near San Angelo eastward past Mexia and north through the Dallas-Fort Worth area into Collin County.

By this morning calm weather returned to all sections and the leading edge of the new cold front had shoved as far south as a line linking Wichita Falls and a point south of Lubbock.

Hillsboro, between Dallas and Waco, apparently suffered the only serious damage in the rash of tornadoes. There was damage to both Methodist and Baptist churches. The Methodist parsonage, three homes in the southwest part of town, broken windows in business places and dwellings, toppled power lines and uprooted trees.

Officers said the only persons suffering injury at Hillsboro, however, was an unidentified man who was struck by a flying door. He was treated and dismissed.

Sightings of other funnel clouds were reported around Wall in the San Angelo vicinity, five miles north of Mexia, over Hensley Field at Grand Prairie, 10 miles southwest of Dallas, 20 miles north of Dallas and in a rural area of Collin County. There was no word of damage from these twisters.

Hailstones from the size of marbles up to two inches thick at a few spots accompanied brief downpours as a squall wine swept through much of the affected area while a tornado watch was in force for a corridor 120 miles wide centered on a line from Waco to near Tulsa, Okla.

The two-inch hail pounded Richardson, a Dallas suburb.

In addition to the tornado watch, a severe thunderstorm alert was up until nearly midnight for 53 counties in North and South Central Texas and Southwest Texas east of the Pecos River.

Turbulence built up toward the end of a warm spring day which saw temperatures climb as high as 91 degrees at Mineral Wells and 89 at Del Rio, San Angelo and Wichita Falls. Longview and Tyler were the coolest spots with top marks of 66.

Readings early today dipped to 36 degrees at Dalhart and 29 at Amarillo, back of the cold front, while it was still 72 at Corpus Christi and 73 at Victoria in South Texas.

Statements Begins In Trial Of Angela Davis

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Opening statements begin today in the Angela Davis trial after 17 months of legal maneuvering and debate.

Chief prosecutor Albert W. Harris Jr. in his opening argument will seek to convince the all-white jury of eight women and four men that Miss Davis bought the guns and helped plot a shootout at the Marin County Civic Center on Aug. 7, 1970 in which a judge, two convicts and a black youth died.

Miss Davis, a 28-year-old black militant and an avowed Communist, is not accused of being present during the shootout. The state has never spelled out precisely how she figured in the alleged plot, which it charges was to take hostages in order to force release of the Soledad Brothers, three black convicts accused of murdering a white guard at Soledad Prison in January 1970.

One of the three, George Jackson, was killed last August during an alleged escape attempt at San Quentin.

The other two, John Clutchette and Fleeta Drumgo, are on trial, and their case is now in the hands of a jury in San Francisco.

It was Jackson's 17-year-old brother, Jonathan, who carried guns into the Marin County courtroom and armed three convicts in court. They took five people captive, and the shootout followed as they were trying to leave the courthouse parking lot in a panel truck.

Correction

Due to confusion in obtaining names from Highland General Hospital, the name of Ramona Dickinson was erroneously listed in a Pampa News story as injured in an auto accident in which another Pampa girl was killed about 9 p.m. Friday. Miss Dickinson was injured in another accident early Saturday.

Karen Brantley was the other passenger injured in the Friday night accident.

Pampa Clinic Burglarized

A thief or thieves struck Pampa Clinic, 1002 N. Hobart the second time in six months some time Friday night. A number of amphetamines and barbiturates were taken.

The lab was found in disarray when the clinic staff arrived for work Saturday morning. A further investigation disclosed the intruder or intruders had entered three of the doctors' offices.

A number of pills were taken from two of the offices according to the police account and investigating officers found sterilizing trays uncovered where the thief had, evidently, been in search of syringes.

Pampa police officers checked for fingerprints and footprints and feel they have a lead that may lead to an early solution of the case.

Russia Reported Stepping Up Aid To Arab Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. defense analysts say the Soviet Union is increasing military aid in an effort to shore up its standing in the Arab world after supporting Hindu India against Moslem Pakistan.

High-ranking Soviet military and civilian officials have traveled to Arab capitals in recent months and other such visits are reported in the offing.

Meanwhile, key Arab leaders have visited or have been invited to visit Moscow to discuss various aid projects.

Anniversary bash turns into farewell party

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I will never again say that a letter in your column is too unbelievable to be real. Listen to this:

My husband and I recently attended the 25th wedding anniversary party of a couple we had known for years. It was a beautiful dinner party at a club for about 100 guests.

Around midnight, the husband said that he and his wife had an announcement to make. They stood arm in arm, and he said, "We've had 25 years of marriage. Our children are married now, and there is no longer a reason to go on pretending our marriage is a success. It has been a failure for many years, so we've decided that while we are both young enough to enjoy life, we're getting divorced. It's nobody's 'fault.' It's mutual and friendly and we hope you will continue to be our friends."

They kissed each other and danced together as the band played, "Good Night, Sweetheart."

At first we all thought it was a joke. It wasn't! They asked those who had brought gifts to please take them home, saying they had decided only yesterday to announce their divorce at their anniversary party since all their friends would be there.

Can anybody top this? WAS THERE

DEAR WAS: I hope not.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I are very close, especially since we are the only remaining members of our family.

My husband and I enjoy entertaining and we always include my sister and her husband on these occasions.

I love to prepare exotic meals. My sister's husband loves to eat, and I enjoy seeing him put the food away. My sister is a plain cook, rarely entertains, and when she does have us over for a meal, it's always something unimaginative like pot roast.

After a dinner party in our home, my sister will call to tell me they vomited after eating my bouillabaisse, or they were sick all night because of the odor of curry at my house. Tonight, after being invited to my home for a dinner party next week, she told me not to serve so many hors d'oeuvres, as they wouldn't be able to eat their dinner.

I always presumed that one was responsible for limiting one's own intake, and I'm more than a little perturbed at someone else setting the rules for my dinner party.

How does one cope with such a situation? RAISED EYEBROWS

DEAR RAISED: Reciprocate your sister's invitations with the same kind of meal she would serve you. And exclude her from your exotic dinner parties.

DEAR ABBY: Over the years I have been the recipient of a lot of junk mail, and I have learned at a glance what is not even worth opening, so I have just thrown it into my waste paper basket and saved myself a lot of time.

Well, several months ago I accidentally threw out a check for $2,688.75. I know that eventually another check in that amount will be issued to me because I can prove that I have it coming, but in the meantime you would not believe all the red tape I am going thru. And it's not resolved yet!

I'd have been able to open all the junk mail I've received over the last ten years and at least LOOKED at it before throwing it out. HASTY HENRY

DEAR HENRY: You and I, and a lot of other people agree. Thanks for the reminder.

DEAR ABBY: Please answer YES or NO. Do you think marijuana should be legalized? I have a bet riding on your answer. SAN JOSE

DEAR SAN JOSE: Don't spend the ten yet. I would have to see more evidence before answering one way or the other. I do believe, however, that the LAWS concerning marijuana should be updated.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068.

Every inch of your skin contains thousands of intricate parts: nerves, glands, blood vessels, hairs, muscles and millions of cells that help it to perform its basic essential functions—these are protection, temperature regulation, sensation, secretion, excretion and respiration.

But, your skin can rebel. There is a long list of substances such as certain chemicals, cosmetics and fibers that can cause an adverse skin reaction. With the adolescent, the overactivity of all glands can cause acne. Also, your hair, which is part of the skin, can produce dandruff, fall out or grow in the wrong places. ## Pampa Panhellenic Tea For Senior Girls Slated

All graduating senior girls who plan to attend college are invited, along with their mothers, to attend the annual Pampa Panhellenic Tea, to be held at 2:30 p.m. April 9, in the Lovett Library, according to Mrs. Homer Johnson, president of the Pampa Panhellenic Council.

Purpose of the tea is to inform the girls and their mothers about sororities, the benefits of sorority membership, the costs and the purpose of "rush."

"The program is planned to be informative, as well as entertaining, and there will be an opportunity for a question-answer period," Mrs. Johnson explained.

A master file is compiled by the Pampa Panhellenic Council to assist college sororities during "rush." If a girl is interested in participating in sorority rush, which is the period when sorority chapters become acquainted with prospective members, she should be prepared to complete a file card at the tea. Mrs. Johnson pointed out. Information required includes SAT and ACT scores, four-year grade point average, rank in class, honors and activities. Each girl should bring eight to 10 billfold-size pictures with her to be included in the master file, as these accompany recommendations, she said.

"Girls planning to attend college should avail themselves of this opportunity to learn about all aspects of sorority life," Mrs. Johnson stated.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

Nancy has become sexually promiscuous! Like the 33 other university coeds described below, she lost perspective and threw herself at men. For she became a victim of a severe sexual inferiority complex. Yet all their parents never even guessed why!

CASE T-537: Nancy G., aged 17, is a sex problem.

"Dr. Crane," her high school Guidance Counselor began, "Nancy has been promiscuous the past couple of years."

"And now she is 3 months pregnant by one of our senior boys."

"But she comes from a good suburban home!"

"And her parents have been active in their church, too."

"So what would make an attractive girl like Nancy act so foolishly?"

Sexual inferiority Nancy was a victim of a widespread feminine malady, namely a sexual inferiority complex!

She felt below par in her anatomy. Why?

"Because I have such small breasts," she finally confessed, in tears.

"Dr. Crane, I have used uplift brassieres to hide that fact."

"But I have always known, even since entering high school, that I wasn't all there as a woman!"

"So I felt sure I could never attract a normal boy and get a wedding ring."

"In my panic, I would thus go more than half way to seduce a boy just to see if I really could win the attention of the opposite sex."

"And after being rushed by one boy friend for a time, I would then wonder if he was the exception, so I'd make a play for another boy."

"That's why I have a bad name around the school. And now I'm pregnant."

Melchillo Va. Mountains Thousands of very attractive girls focus so constantly on their minor anatomical defects till they enlarge them into fearsome mountains!

One of my Northwestern good students had likewise been promiscuous with many young men and even lived with a young college instructor as common-law wife, because she had lost the ring finger of her left hand in an auto wreck.

"Dr. Crane," she wept, "I knew I could never have a wedding ring, for that finger was missing."

"So I just got into a panic and began to seek masculine attention wherever I could find it."

"And I let our romancing go the limit, to prove to myself that I could still attract men."

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mellott, Indiana 47506, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Walton Heads All-American Team

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — UCLA center Bill Walton is the lone unanimous choice on the NEA 1972 All-American basketball team.

The team was announced jointly today by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. and the National Basketball Association. The 17 NBA coaches were polled for their selections.

Bob McAdoo of North Carolina and Bud Stallworth of Kansas are the forwards; Dwight Lamar of Southwestern Louisiana and Ed Ratleff of Long Beach State are the guards.

Walton is the youngest (19-year-old sophomore) and the tallest (6-11). Stallworth is the only senior. A rarity on this team is that two of the players, Rat-leff and Lamar, are from the same home town, Columbus, Ohio.

HONORABLE MENTION: Bird Averitt, Pepperdine; Marvin Barnes, Providence; Mel Davis, St. John's; Harold Fox, Jacksonville; Travis Grant, Kentucky State; June Harris, North Carolina A&T; Alan Hornyak, Ohio State; Kevin Joyce, South Carolina; Larue Martin, Loyola (Ill.); Tom McMillan, Maryland; Bob Nash, Hawaii; Jim Price, Louisville; Tom Riker, South Carolina; Chuck Terry, Long Beach State; Paul Westphal, Southern California; and Luke Witte, Ohio State.

"I've never seen a player who makes the outlet pass and starts the fast break as well," says John Wooden, UCLA's basketball coach, of Walton.

Stallworth, the only senior on the first team, finished his career as the seventh highest scorer in Big Eight Conference history. He originally thought he would be a trumpeter in the Kansas band but one afternoon he engaged in a pickup game with Jo Jo White, then a Kansas star, now a Boston Celtics' All-Star. White told coach Ted Owens, who scouted Stallworth and convinced him to let Kansas fans do the tooting.

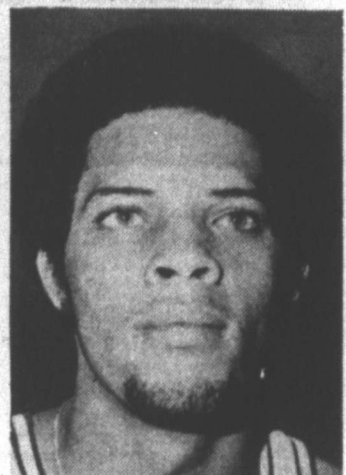

Ratleff has been called by one NBA general manager the most complete guard since Jerry West and Oscar Robertson. Lamar has been one of the nation's scoring leaders all season.

McAdoo, a strong leaper, rebounder and shooter, helped the Tar Heels win the Atlantic Coast Conference title, the ACC tournament, and another bid to the NCAA Tournament.

The NBA coaches, who picked the five best collegians regardless of position or class, named six players to the second team because of a tie—Barry Parkhill of Virginia, Bill Chamberlain of North Carolina, Fred Boyd of Oregon State, Jim Chones of Marquette, and a tie between Brian Taylor, Princeton and Steve Hawes of Washington.

Oakland's Blue Still A Holdout

NEW YORK (AP) — Vida Blue remains a holdout today despite the efforts of two commercial organizations to get the Oakland left-hander to agree on contract terms with A's owner Charles O. Finley.

Robert Gerst, Blue's attorney, confirmed the report Sunday by Guy LeBow of the National Broadcasting Company which involved an offer of $25,000 to Blue to accept Finley's stand-fast contract proposal of $50,000.

"Vida is unwilling to accept it," said Gerst. "He thinks all of the money should be paid by the owner of the team. Mr. Finley is the one who is going to make all the money from him."

According to LeBow, the two organizations made the offer because they believe baseball can ill afford to lose Blue as an attraction.

"I think it's very nice that they're willing to pay him money," said Gerst in Los Angeles. "but Vida honestly doesn't want meeting."

Finley, in Phoenix, said he had not heard of the offer to his ace pitcher. "If it was true," the A's owner said, "that doesn't surprise me. He's just one of the finest young men I've had the pleasure of meeting."

Finley, who has refused to budge above the $50,000 he's offered Blue, said the pitcher almost agreed to terms Saturday but then changed his mind. The owner said he had dispatched catcher Gene Tenace to Oakland to talk with the pitcher.

"He's going to tell him how much the players miss him and how much they want him back," Finley said. "We're doing everything we can to get him back, short of raising the $50,000 offer."

Blue, who earned $14,750 last season when he was named the American League's Most Valuable Player and won the Cy Young Award with a 24-8 record, had demanded a boost first to $115,000 and later to $92,500. Finley has held fast at $50,000 and the owner said that Blue, in his last conversation, had mentioned figures of $85,000 and $70,150.

Stockton Wins Rice Singles

HOUSTON (AP) — Dick Stockton had to contend with hazards both on the ground and in the air before winning the singles title in the 14th Rice Collegiate Invitational Tennis tournament.

While Stockton, the 14th ranked U.S. men's player, was battling 10th ranked Harold Solomon of Rice in the finals Sunday, a helicopter kept circling near the Rice tennis stadium.

But the Trinity ace overcame both obstacles after a second set lag to defeat the top seeded Solomon 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 to continue his string of impressive victories this year.

Stockton, who also defeated Solomon in a college match last week, dominated the five-foot-six sophomore in the first set, winning the last 14 points.

But Solomon rallied in the second set while Stockton was trying to catch his breath.

"All of a sudden, I just got tired," Stockton said. "I was having trouble breathing. It must have been the humidity or something."

Stockton also thinks he might have been rushing the net too much in the first set.

"I started rushing a little too much," he said. "I was so far ahead in the first set it was ridiculous."

Solomon has a masterful ground game but it failed him in Sunday's finale. Stockton kept pressure on and chose carefully before rushing the net.

Stockton also took advantage of Solomon's serve. The Rice sophomore had trouble getting his first service over.

"You have to make Harold work for his serve," Stockton said. "That's what I did last week."

Trinity coach Clarence Mabry accepted the team trophy for Trinity, the team's eighth trinity also won the championship doubles title with Brian Gottfried and Paul Gerkin upsetting their top-seeded teammates, Stockton and Bob McKinley, 6-7, 7-6, 6-2.

Player Wins New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gary Player was standing in the locker room next to Jack Nicklaus and was peering at a list of the season's top money winners, which showed his total as $38,000.

"Not bad for a few weeks work, eh, laddie?" the little South African asked, nudging Nicklaus in the ribs. "Not good for you, perhaps but fine for me."

He turned to some passersby.

"You know the old story about Sam Snead burying his money in tomato cans? This one (and he indicated Nicklaus) needs barrels."

Player, competing in only his fifth tournament on his current American swing, had just picked up $25,000 Sunday with his victory in the Greater New Orleans Open. He'd surged past Nicklaus with a final round 69, three under par, and finished the 72 holes at 279.

Nicklaus, who held a two stroke lead at one stage of the final 18, had to birdie the last hole to close to within one stroke. He had a 73—including a double bogey five—for 280.

"I just played terrible," Nicklaus said. "I hit the fairway on the third hole and didn't see one again until the seventh." He was in the woods, once salvaged par from the water, was plugged in bunkers and once lost a good lie when "a 280-pound man came tromping along. My ball was sitting up real good, but he was shaking the ground and the ball rolled into a hole."

Dave Eichelberger, Nicklaus' playing partner in the final round, ripped a long iron to within 3½ feet on the final hole for a birdie that gave him a 71 and a tie with Nicklaus for second at 280.

Each picked up $11,575 from the total purse of $125,000. It pushed Nicklaus' season-leading money total to $109,651. Nicklaus thus became the first player ever to amass more than $100,000 prior to the Masters—his next stop—and the first to string together 10 consecutive $100,000 seasons.

Billy Casper, who had led or shared the lead through the first three rounds, collapsed with a 76 and finished well back at 283. He wasn't a factor after the first three holes.

Rookie Billy Zborov, with a 70, and New Zealand's John Lister, 71, came on to share fourth at 281. Defending champion Frank Beard finished far back at 287. England's Tony Jacklin had a last round 76 for 294. Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino did not compete.

17. Fire at Sea

Fire is one of the major causes of injury and death at sea. Because the prudent seaman fears fire, he never smokes while refueling and always cleans up any spilled gas. If his boat has a deck or cabin, he makes sure that it is well-ventilated in accordance with the law. He never allows gas or oil to accumulate in the bilges and always repairs leaking gas lines or tanks immediately.

Ferraris Top Sebring Race

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — It was the last Sebring Grand Prix of Endurance, at least on the battlefield in use for 22 years, and it was fitting that Mario Andretti and Ferrari should help with the last rites.

Andretti paired with Belgian Jacky Ickx to drive one of Enzo Ferrari's cherry-red bombs to an exciting victory Saturday as sports cars racing ended an era at the crumbling Sebring Airport course.

It was Ferrari's ninth triumph in America's longest and oldest road race. And it was Andretti's third Sebring victory since he first drove here in 1966—a skinny youngster from Nazareth, Pa., whom the experts believed was too wild to have a future in auto racing.

The little 1969 Indianapolis Champ and three-time winner of the U.S. driving title was at the wheel of the three-liter Ferrari speedster when it flashed out in front at Saturday's 11:05 a.m. (EST) start and when it completed its last mile 12 hours later.

Not only that, Andretti was driving when the car set a record qualifying lap of 123.64 miles per hour to win the pole position.

Alec Ulmann, the millionaire importer who started the roadracing craze at Sebring in 1950, told drivers at a pre-race meeting he would not hold another Grand Prix at the present site.

With the 5.2-mile course decaying and contractual problems mounting with Sebring's civic leaders, Ulmann said he plans to build a layout on a 600-acre track he own near this community in Florida's citrus belt.

But the two had a 15-mile advantage over the second place car, another Ferrari driven by Sweden's Ron Peterson and Australian Tim Schenken.

Step Forward for Performing Arts

By DON OAKLEY

Thanks largely to the recession, corporate giving to charities has been stuck on a fairly level plateau since 1969. The national average has been about 1.2 per cent of pretax earnings, considerably less than the 5 per cent deductible under law.

But while the total number of dollars remains about the same, the dollars are going in new directions.

According to U.S. News & World Report, the trend is away from such traditional recipients as hospitals and colleges. Instead, more and more companies are channeling their contributions into areas where they believe they will have the most visible and dramatic impact—into programs like health centers and drug rehabilitation units in the inner city, or cultural activities such as symphony orchestras and art exhibits.

Direct corporate philanthropic support for the visual and performing arts is, in fact, one of the most significant and surprising new trends on the American business scene.

Contributions in this field are expected to reach $75 million this year, more than triple the $22 million of 1965. A recent survey found that 18 per cent of U.S. companies that gave to the arts in 1971 intend to give more in 1972; another 68 per cent said they will donate at least as much.

The contributions range from such projects as department stores buying newspaper advertising to promote Shakespearean theater performances, to funding of cultural shows on public television. An example of the latter is something called "Vibrations," a 20-week show which recently debuted on National Education Television and which provides behind-the-scenes looks at the performing arts and artists around the world.

"Vibrations" is unique in that it was the first time, in either noncommercial or commercial television, that funding for a program, in this case a $300,000 grant from Standard Oil of New Jersey and Humble Oil, was made sight unseen—that is, before even a "pilot" show had been produced.

After years of orphanhood on the philanthropic scene, the arts are beginning to be recognized as playing an essential role in a society's well-being.

Question Box

QUESTION: Now that 18-year-olds have been given the vote, should they not also be allowed to drink alcoholic beverages?

ANSWER: If they are to be granted the power to vote away property rights of others, as in taxing and other legislative matters, they should have the privilege of ruining their own lives if they choose.

Not that every person who partakes of alcohol is ruining his life. Some persons are moderate in their habits and do not misuse alcohol, just as many people do not overeat. But the politicians who say that the young people should be permitted to vote and who contend that those same young people are not intelligent enough to limit their drinking habits are on mighty shaky ground if they are not intelligent enough to drink alcohol, they certainly are not intelligent enough to have the power of life or death which is given them in the ballot box.

The News, of course, has never believed that age was a proper criterion to determine voting privileges. We believe voting should be based on some test of responsibility—perhaps the amount of taxes one pays.

If a young person is self-supporting and paying taxes, he has every right to vote to say how his taxes are being spent. One who is not able or willing to or ready to support himself, should not have the authority to vote in something like a school bond election or to elect someone with the power to tax others. Certainly if they are considered too weak to control their own appetites for drugs or alcohol, they should not be allowed to vote.

What's John Connally Getting Ready To Do?

By PAUL HARVEY
Now, what is John Connally to do?

In my professional life I have never known any politician with as many conceivable options open to him as has John Connally.

The handsome former three-term governor of Texas is a proved vote getter as a Democrat; now he has proved popular in a Republican Cabinet; where do you go from there?

A few months ago you and I speculated that Connally could become a candidate for President—or for Vice President—and on either ticket.

Perhaps he still could, though the options are narrowing.

He says he aims to sit out the upcoming campaign, says he wants to return to private life—to go fishing.

Anybody who knows John

Connally knows that would not be his first choice.

He says there is one possible Democratic ticket that he would get out and work for, but declines to name it. I suspect because he's on it.

If Vice President Agnew should stub his toe, might Connally accept the GOP nomination for Vice President? He declines to answer the question—but, of course, he would.

Indeed, why else would the secretary have summoned newsmen to lunch in his private dining room the other day—except to remind state makers of both parties that he's still around?

This is not said critically. On the contrary, the calculated political plumb of John Connally deserves admiration and respect by all except those who cynically suspect "ambition."

Our political game of "just suppose" must predicate any presumptions on the reasons Mr. Nixon handpicked Democrat Connally in the first place.

On the surface, it was allowed to appear that a politically wise President expected a persuasive Democrat to help sell Nixon policies to a Democrat-controlled Congress.

But, whether of a purpose or not, the President had to know that a Democrat in that Treasury hot seat would help diffuse responsibility for any possible fiscal disaster.

Also, having Connally around would be Administration insurance if the popularity of Agnew should falter greatly.

From here it would appear that President Nixon will go again with Agnew. But Mr. Nixon, when changing circumstances dictate changing alliances, is capable of surprising about-faces.

Meanwhile Secretary Connally will continue publicly to defend his own administration of the Treasury office. He will claim and receive a deserved share of credit for substantially retarding inflation while keeping a record number of American workers working.

Connally talks of retirement from public life after October. He talks of leisure and travel and he wishes for a part-time home in Southern Europe; who doesn't?

Well, John Connally, a healthy 55, is capable of doing almost anything, but doing nothing is not one of them.

Nose Spray Can Cause Stuffy Nose
By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Over a year ago my nose was stuffed up while I was pregnant so I started using a nasal spray. I have been using it ever since. I thought if I just stopped using the spray maybe I could get over it by myself, but I was just so miserable I had to go back to the spray again. I have tried everything, but nothing else works. I have never had a day of sinus or nose trouble in my life before. There is no sinus trouble history in my family except for one sister. What could cause my nose to act up like this and isn't there a cure or help for me? Please don't tell me to stop using nasal spray. I know too much isn't good for me but I just can't do without it.

Dear Reader—I am afraid you will have to do without it if you are going to get over your problem. You are describing a common complication of the use of some types of nasal spray.

The spray causes the lining inside the nose to shrink. The lining initially swells with blood and fluid which we call engorgement. This gives you the stuffy feeling. The sprays normally contain medicine that causes the blood vessels to constrict. The fluid is then absorbed out of the boggy tissues and of course your nose no longer feels stuffy. You feel more comfortable, but the hooker is that once the medicine in the spray has worn off the blood flow to the lining in the nose is actually increased and the engorgement is worse than before.

The patient then uses more nasal spray and he keeps getting relief and rebound, relief and rebound, and finally he develops a chemical sinusitis in which there is considerable damage to the usual normal functions of the linings in the nose.

This is why doctors aren't very enthusiastic about the persistent use of very many nasal sprays. I think that if you have had this trouble for over a year now you probably already have enough chemical irritation that it would be wise for you to see an ear, nose and throat specialist and see if he can do something about the lining in your nose that is now causing you this persistent trouble. It is not going to get better the way you are doing things now.

The small hairs in the nasal passages are nature's strainer and help to clean the air. They can be paralyzed by the spray. In general patients with nasal stuffiness or colds who do need some relief do better with medicines taken by mouth. These medicines have a general effect and are less likely to harm the nasal lining. There are exceptions but you would be wise not to take drops except under a doctor's advice.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Nixon Banking on Democratic Chaos

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Nixon is enjoying Democratic chaos these days. But some of his political friends caution that it may not enhance his long-range re-election prospects all that much.

The President wanted Gov. George Wallace to have the busing issue on Florida primary day, which is why he delayed his own antibusing disclosures until after that event.

He got his short-term reward. Wallace's huge Florida vote has sent the other Democratic contenders into near-panic. They are scurrying about Wisconsin, scene of the next heavily contested primary on April 4, like a bunch of scared rabbits. Party officials are nervously running up delegate scores to see how high Wallace may go at Miami Beach.

Mr. Nixon meantime has moved, of course, to seize the busing issue from Wallace. At this early stage one can only guess that he probably will have at least some success.

To the extent he does, the President may ease the Democrats' pain somewhat. Wallace may have less to sell in Wisconsin and such other northern primaries as Pennsylvania, Indiana, Maryland. Right now, Democrats in those places are imagining nightmarishly high percentage showings for Wallace.

But here Mr. Nixon's dilemma emerges. He clearly wants the busing issue for himself, recognizing that it could be of enormous political profit next fall. Yet his long-range difficulties will begin to take hard shape the moment the regular Democrats start to put it together for one clearly dominant presidential candidate.

The realists in Mr. Nixon's camp never lose sight of his enduring disadvantage as the candidate of a distinctly minority party. Their view is simple: Any time the Democrats can settle on a candidate without too much bickering and get out just a good part of their potential vote, they can beat Mr. Nixon or any other Republican.

That's how these realists see it today. Sure enough, most of the contenders for the Democratic nomination are looking inept, foolish, downright un-presidential. The hard GOP judgment, however, is that even Sen. Edmund Muskie's crying in the New Hampshire snow won't be a grave handicap to him in the fall if he should somehow get it back on the track this spring and push to a strong convention victory. It has always been accepted by those giving Mr. Nixon tough counsel that his trip to China, his May 22 visit to Moscow and anything else like that would be of only passing political benefit. The same certainly would be said of almost anything he might try to cook up in the fall campaign period.

What these counsellors really are saying is that nothing the President can do will boost him into safe majority-vote territory. The corollary of that thinking is that, to win, he must either hold down or pull down his Democratic opponent.

The more unified his adversary's support, the harder this will be to accomplish. Thus the Democrats can play into Mr. Nixon's hands if they keep up their absurd, unseemly internal chop-chop and beyond their national convention in July.

Their present proliferation of candidates, hailed by some as a healthy consequence of Democratic reform, could mean that they could reform themselves right into the political ash can in 1972.

If they somehow avoid that, Mr. Nixon will have to hope that Wallace goes third party again. And, say candid friends, in extremity he will tear into his Democratic rival in the best old-Nixon style he can muster.

MARKETING RESEARCH ASSOCIATES Newspaper BINGO

WIN $50 FREE!

IN CASH VALUE BINGO BUCKS!!!

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper - also at the public library - also a Bingo card and/or copies of The Pampa Daily News containing the Bingo numbers may be obtained by mailing your request to this newspaper (please print your name and address clearly). You may play as many cards as you wish - they are free. Get additional cards - one at a time - each day of the week - from the merchants listed below (ADULTS ONLY).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS on a card must be matched to win.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn strictly at random at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads - or elsewhere in the paper. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will appear someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads - and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and members of their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes. Newspaper Bingo is a program copy-righted and registered by Marketing-Research Associates, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please), pick up your Free Bingo Cards from the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. You may, however, make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY-THE BETTER YOUR CHANCES ARE TO WIN.

HOW TO PLAY: Check the ads in EACH DAY'S issue of The Pampa Daily News. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally, numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol may be found elsewhere in the paper. Check the classified ad section for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS WITH THE TOTAL OF THE NUMBERS PUBLISHED IN ALL THE ISSUES OF The Pampa Daily News, EACH WEEK-YOU HAVE A "BINGO"-AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!!

AT LEAST $50.00 WEEKLY! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50.00 (in "Bingo Bucks"-they spend the same as cash with any of the sponsoring merchants listed below). If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50.00. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50.00 equally. If there are no winners any week, the $50.00 weekly prize will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER: A new game will start each Sunday and be completed the following Friday. Be sure to check each day's issue of The Pampa Daily News because some of the numbers may appear in each day's issue. All numbers needed to complete each week's game will have appeared by each Friday's issue. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published for each week's game. A new color of Bingo cards will be available each week at the sponsoring merchants' stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced each week on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, on which ALL 24 NUMBERS have been matched with the total of the numbers published during the week in The Pampa Daily News print your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card, on the back of your card and mail to: The Pampa Daily News, P. O. Box 2198 PAMPA, Texas 79065 (the envelope containing your card must be received by 5:00 PM Monday of the following week-or bring your card to the office of this newspaper at 403 W. Atchison Pampa Texas by 5:00 PM Monday of the following week).
