U.S. Will Not End Bombing For Peace Talk 'Possibility'

Statement by Rusk Answers 'Feelers'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States will not end the bombing of North Vietnam in exchange for a mere "possibility" of talks while the Communists continue their "invasion" of the South.

This statement of U.S. policy by Secretary of State Dean Rusk was the administration's answer today to a recent series of public overtures by Hanoi suggesting there could be peace talks if the United States "unconditionally" ended the bombings.

School Trustee Files Intent To Seek Office

'BULLETIN'
Mrs. Pernie Fallon, 2236 Charles, said at 1 p.m. today she would file this afternoon for the office of school trustee. Mrs. Fallon, the mother of three children, is the wife of Ben Fallon, independent consulting petroleum engineer.

John Gikas filed his intent to seek re-election as trustee of the Pampa Independent School District this morning in the school business manager's office at Pampa Junior High School.

Gikas, who is completing his sixth year on the school board, has lived in Pampa for 21 years. With his brother, Ted, he has co-interest in the Coney Island Cafe, 114 W. Foster and in real estate interests.

Red Chinese Ignore Kremlin Ultimatum

MOSCOW (UPI)—Red China today ignored a Kremlin ultimatum to stop the wild demonstrations around the Russian Embassy in Peking and said anti-Soviet rallies were sweeping the Chinese mainland.

A dispatch from the official New China News Agency also accused the Kremlin of "a deliberate attempt to worsen relations" by means of anti-Chinese demonstrations in Moscow.

Russian youths and workers have rallied around the Chinese Embassy here for the last four days protesting the siege of the Soviet mission in Peking. But the demonstrations have been subdued compared to the ones in Peking.

The Chinese news agency, however, said the demonstrations in Moscow have "stirred up fierce indignation among the people throughout China." Demonstrations have been sweeping across the length and

The Communist overtures—some called them "peace feelers"—came through numerous channels, including statements by Hanoi's foreign minister and its representative in Paris. They were reinforced by statements of other lands, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin for one.

President Johnson had given the administration's initial response to this Communist line at a news conference a week ago when he said he did not find in the statements any "serious effort" to end the war.

Rusk spelled this out further Thursday in a nationally televised news conference. The key section of the secretary's opening statement was:

"For some time now there has been evident a systematic campaign by the Communist side to bring about an unconditional and permanent cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam without any corresponding military action on their side in exchange for the possibility of talks—which thus far are formless and without content."

He said the United States "cannot accept" a situation in which men and arms move, without interruption, into the South to attack allied armed forces and Vietnamese civilians. "We must know the military consequences of such a military action on our part," Rusk said. They must not expect us to stop our military action by bombing while they continue their military action by invasion.

According to one interpretation, the recent Communist overtures were designed to sound out Washington on its price for stopping the bombing. If so, Rusk has thrown the ball back to the Communists by replying that the price is higher than anything Hanoi has yet offered.

breadth of the country in the past few days," NCNA said. The agency said 20,000 demonstrators, chanting "Down with Brezhnev" and "Down with Kosygin" massed in the Inner Mongolian capital of Huehoi to "protest strongly against the latest fascist outrages by the Soviet revisionist clique."

Reports of continuing anti-Soviet demonstrations in China came on the heels of a Russian note Thursday which warned of "retaliatory measures" if the siege of the Soviet mission in Peking continued unabated. Informed sources said the Russians were planning to cut their Soviet mission down to a skeleton staff and force the Chinese to do the same here.

The Kremlin already has evacuated more than 200 Soviet envoys and their families from Red China and left behind only 65 diplomats to run its Peking Embassy.

House Committee Concerned Over Reserve Morale

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Armed Services Committee claims the morale of the nation's military reservists has eroded to the point where the very future of the program is in jeopardy.

The committee blames this state of affairs on the Defense Department and its efforts to reorganize the civilian backup forces. "These various administrative changes... have succeeded in creating chaos and instability in the programs without any appreciable increase in combat readiness," the committee said in a still secret report.

The report represents the majority view of the committee and will accompany a reserve reorganization bill that the panel approved Wednesday by a vote of 27 to 1. The lone dissenter was Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich.

In its report, which has been circulated among all members, the committee said it was "painfully aware of shortcomings in the combat readiness capability of the reserve components which are largely the result of the failure of the executive branch to provide meaningful and understanding support to the reserve components."

The report speaks of all reserve components, but the committee was known to be primarily concerned with the Army's organized reserve and the Army National Guard.

Under the proposed legislation Army reserve into the National Guard—a one-time plan of McNamara that he has now given up—would be blocked by establishing each as a separate entity. Their strengths would be fixed at 260,000 men for the reserve and 380,000 for the guard.

Supply Buildup To End Vietnam Truce

SAIGON (UPI)—A massive North Vietnamese buildup of war supplies virtually has killed chances allies will extend the Asian new year truce beyond Sunday, informed U.S. military sources said today.

The military officials said hopes that the allies would continue the cease-fire beyond their promised four-day period had been all but dashed as a result of intelligence reports the Communists were shipping up to 35,000 tons of war goods into South Vietnam. The new year (Tet) cease-fire period prescribed by the allies was to end Sunday at 7 a.m. (6 p.m. CST Saturday). The Viet Cong, however, pledged truce observance until next Wednesday. Because of this there had been indications allies would agree to the longer period.

Now, however, sources said there was every indication that at the end of the four truce day the Allies would resume combat on a full scale. This presumably would include resumption of U.S. bombing in North Vietnam.

Adding to the argument, the sources said, was the U.S. contention that Communists have committed at least 194 "incidents"—officials for violations—with the cease-fire less than three days old. But at the same time, Hanoi Radio has charged that U.S. forces repeatedly have violated the truce.

U.S. spokesmen said reconnaissance planes and naval craft patrolling both North and South Vietnam have found that Communist water cargo was five times above normal in the first day and one-half of the Tet truce period. Some rivers were "completely saturated" with barges, one officer said.

At the same time, trucks were reported to be stacked up at entrances to key Communist supply infiltration routes into South Vietnam. It was estimated that the barges and trucks reported en route could handle up to 70,000 pounds of supplies.

The reconnaissance reports plus the continued U.S. charges of Communist-triggered cease-fire incidents gave weight to indications by policymakers in Washington that bombing of North Vietnam will resume when the truce ends. But exactly when it would end remained uncertain since allies promised to observe a four-day cease-fire, while Viet Cong pledged a truce of seven days.

U.S. spokesmen said today at least 43 of the so-called incidents during the first three days were violent enough to be described as "significant" military actions. But in only one of the conflicts were U.S. casualties heavy enough to be described as "moderate" in number.

According to Radio Hanoi, however, Communist soldiers in South Vietnam have "strictly implemented the cease-fire order." It said the only action by guerrilla forces was taken "to punish any U.S. aggressors who violate the order."

Red Newspaper Charges Nuclear Documents Stolen

HONG KONG (UPI)—A Communist Chinese newspaper charged today that documents dealing with the nation's nuclear research program have been stolen, possibly during a Red Guard raid on a government office.

The Peking newspaper Revolutionary Worker said secret police had arrested two suspects in the case and seized seven pistols.

The report said public security forces chief Hsieh Hu-chih had ordered an investigation of the theft to determine whether the documents had been smuggled outside the country.

The documents were described by the paper as relating to Communist China's growing atomic research program. They were reportedly stolen from the state council office in the Chinese capital.

Although the Peking newspaper did not reveal how the documents were stolen, there were reports last month that rampaging bands of Red Guards had ransacked the government office several times, supposedly to round up enemies of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Premier Chou En-lai had issued a stern warning to the young Marxist students to keep their hands off the state council office—but apparently his words came too late.

The Red Guards, who have kept the nation in almost constant turmoil with revolutionary rampages, have been warned several times since against letting their zeal hurt the country's economy and defense industries. Chou, who has remained immune from personal attack during the current power struggle, also was reported to have warned Red Guards against humiliating loyal Communist officials.

Fresh signs Mao's opponents were continuing their anti-government plotting was seen in a statement by Defense Minister Lin Piao at a recent party meeting.

Connally Hints Fourth Term To Carry Out His Programs

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally gave homeward-bound legislators Thursday a fresh reminder he does not intend to be considered a lame duck.

At a spur-of-the-moment news conference, Connally indicated he would seek an unprecedented fourth term if he thought it necessary to complete his program.

"My future course may very well be determined by this session and what we accomplish," he said.

However, reporters felt they had learned little new about Connally's plans. "Unless he is willing to relinquish all control over the legislature, Connally would have to keep the fourth term possibility alive, they noted."

The fourth-term talk may have been a warning to legislators who are rebelling on two subjects—a $5.5 million HemisFair appropriation, which Connally wants, and an equally expensive emergency state pay raise, which he does not want.

Sens. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and George Parkhouse of Dallas have stalled the HemisFair bill in the Senate. If the Senate does not pass the bill soon, Connally said, "it would

Wilson, Kosygin End Summit Talk With Deadlock

LONDON (UPI)—Britain and the Soviet Union ended formal summit talks today, apparently tightly deadlocked on Vietnam. There was no sign the Kremlin would ask Hanoi to give "some sign" of good faith if the Americans stop bombing North Vietnam.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and their full delegations held a fourth and last formal session lasting two-and-a-half hours at Wilson's No. 10 Downing St. official residence.

Later, they continued talking informally over lunch there. A British spokesman said they completed their agenda and the formal negotiations were ended. Only one more informal meeting was scheduled during the weekend.

The spokesman said officials of both countries now are drafting a joint communique which probably will be published Monday. The Soviet leader himself flies home Monday morning.

One More Try
Diplomatic sources said Wilson might make one more man-to-man appeal to Kosygin to try to get Hanoi to give some "sign" of good faith if the United States ends bombing of North Vietnam. The United States has insisted on this as a preliminary to going to the peace table.

This morning's final session was taken up with discussion of what the British spokesman called "financial and international matters." He refused to list these.

The British spokesman said the Wilson government is giving "close study" to an offer made by Kosygin Thursday for a treaty of friendship, peaceful cooperation and non-aggression. Other British sources said that, provided there are adequate safeguards, such a treaty would not conflict with Britain's NATO obligations.

All indications were that the government would treat the offer with extreme caution.

There was no indication whether Vietnam actually was discussed this morning. Wilson was said to have urged Kosygin several times to press North Vietnam to go to the conference table and take some reciprocal action if the United States halts the bombing.

Diplomatic sources said Wilson and Kosygin discussed such a move at a Soviet Embassy dinner Wednesday night. Wilson was said to have contacted President Johnson immediately afterward, either directly or through aides.

It was noted in London that at almost the same time, U.S. Undersecretary of State for Asian Affairs William Bundy said America would make some response to recent Hanoi peace feelers if North Vietnam spoke more precisely and "through established channels."

Kosygin himself indicated, Wilson had again failed when he told the news conference the United States must halt the bombing "without conditions" if it wants peace talks.

Lawyers' Advice To Powell May Cost House Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Adam Clayton Powell's lawyers—who advised him not to talk to a special House committee investigation of his "fitness" to serve—may have bought him a ticket right out of Congress.

The consensus among House members Thursday was that Powell's chances of regaining his seat later this month had fallen sharply on the basis of his performance Wednesday before the committee.

But they also note that, should Powell be ousted, he probably would immediately run for re-election, win handsomely and within two or three months present himself again for admission to the House. Then, they said, the House probably will allow him to take the seat he's held for 22 years.

The special committee scheduled a closed-door, where-do-we-go-from-here session today. One Republican member, who felt Powell acted arrogantly, said, "We won't have any trouble reaching a decision if the other witnesses do the same."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Goodbody & Co. says the market has moved into February, usually a rather bearish month, on a confident note. The company says the mid-January runup apparently was well digested and the much talked about slowdown in business largely discounted. The company says the market looks as if it could reach the 900 level on the Dow Jones industrial average on the near term.

Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co. says the market could be sensitive to Vietnam peace developments on the near term and that deterioration of market leadership could be a potential threat but at the present time, he says, the overall trend still is upward. The analyst says there is no evidence as yet to indicate that any correction, if one does come, will be severe or lengthy.

Bache & Co. says while it expects some more hesitance with regard to the present market, there appears to be sufficient dynamism at the present time to hold any reactionary phase to minimal limitations.

Simple Home Precautions May Prevent Burglaries

DALLAS — Many burglaries of homes and apartments in Texas can be prevented if simple precautions are taken states the Insurance Information Institute.

The Institute's Southwest Regional office in Dallas lists these burglary - preventive steps:

1. If you are away from home, don't advertise it. Tightly drawn shades, notes to the milkman and accumulated newspapers are a dead giveaway even to the inexperienced housebreaker.
2. Whenever you leave home, even if only for a few minutes, lock doors and windows.
3. When you are out at night, keep a few lights lit.
4. Never leave a house key under a doormat or over a door. These are the first places a burglar will look.
5. Keep your garage door closed and locked at all times, whether you are home or not.
6. Door hinges should be on the inside, to prevent a burglar from forcing them with a crow-

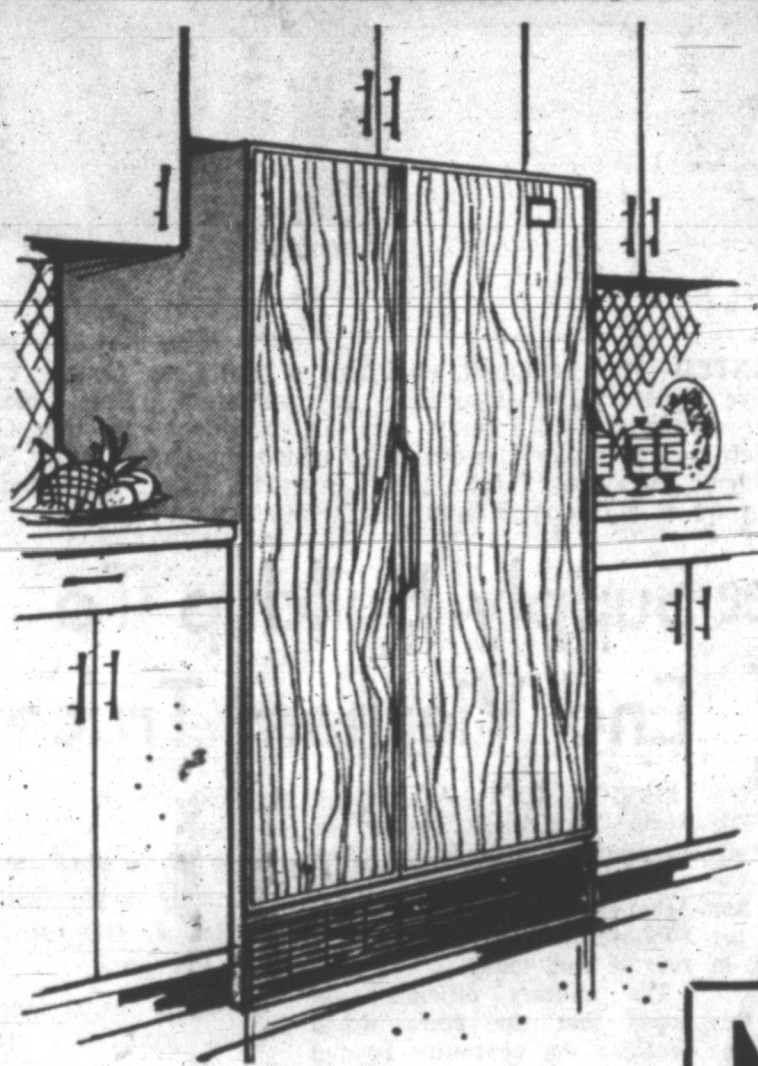

7. Heavy screening on windows and sturdy double locks on door make forced entries more difficult.
8. Careful attention should be paid to securing basement doors.
9. Large amounts of cash, jewelry and stamp and coin collections should be kept in a safety deposit box or adequate safe.
10. Locks should be changed when moving into a new apartment or when a key has been lost.
11. Don't leave ladders lying around where they can be used by a would-be housebreaker.
12. Be cautious when strangers come to the door. Women at home alone would be particularly careful. Use a "night" door chain.
13. Before leaving on a trip, notify neighbors and police so they can keep an eye on your house. Discontinue deliveries of newspapers and milk. If you will be on a long trip, arrange to have the lawn mowed.
14. Keep a record of the serial numbers of such property as typewriters, firearms, photographic equipment, bicycles, etc. to aid police in the event you are burglarized.
15. Always report burglaries and attempted break-ins to the police and cooperate with officers investigating crimes in your neighborhood.

Farm Bureau Seeks New Membership controls the economy, Milk Shivers told the members of the Gray County Farm Bureau at a membership campaign breakfast today.

The breakfast kicked-off a county-wide membership campaign designed to raise the county membership from 155 to over 200.

Shivers, a Dallas representative, is presenting the challenge of obtaining new members, said farmers and ranchers have the brightest future that they have ever had and by banding together they could insure that that future.

"During the snow storm last week," Shivers said, "The people of Chicago were not worrying about their money in the bank. They were wanting to know where their food was coming from."

"Dependency on government for regulation is a poor reed to cling to," he said.

People today can buy their groceries with less labor than ever before, he said.

State's Lowest Employment Rate For Month Stated

Texas' growing economy produced nearly 100,000 new non-farm jobs in 1966 and the lowest unemployment rate in history in December, the Texas Employment Commission's Texas Labor Market Report revealed this week.

Non-manufacturing industries accounted for 70 per cent of the gain in nonfarm jobs, led by retail trades and government with increases of 22,400 and 33,800, respectively, over December of 1965. Only mining (including oil and gas) and the building materials and farm equipment segment of retail trades experienced employment declines.

Unemployment in December stood at 165,000, or 2.6 percent of the total labor force of 4,078,800. This is the lowest rate recorded since TEC began estimating unemployment in 1947. In December of 1965, the unemployment total of 133,000 represented 3.3 per cent of a labor force of 4,006,100. The seasonally-adjusted national unemployment rate in December was 3.8 percent.

Seasonal jobs in retail trades led total nonfarm employment to a 40,700 November-to-December increase, with the total at mid-December standing at a record 3,701,500. The total labor force, including farm workers, dropped by 1,400 under mid-November to 4,078,800 at mid-December, up 72,700 over December of 1965.

Completion of the cotton harvest was the primary cause of the 23,700 November-to-December decrease in farm jobs. Farm jobs in December dropped by 31,300 under the December of 1965 level and declined from 106,300 in December of 1965 to 75,000 in December of 1966.

Luci to Have Baby at Austin, Not Capitol

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "If and when" Luci Johnson Nugent has a baby, it will be in Austin, Tex., not at the White House, a spokesman said today.

The President's married daughter and her husband, Patrick, who consider themselves "private citizens" are house-hunting again in Austin. Luci, who is expecting her baby in May, wants a bigger place than the two-bedroom duplex apartment she and her husband now occupy at 1105 Heritage Way in a quiet, middle-class Austin neighborhood.

Pliny the Elder, famous Roman author, perished in the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius which destroyed Pompeii.

Medical Authorities Cite Being Fat More Dangerous Than Cancer

DALLAS (UPI) — Being fat is an overlooked but immensely serious disease, and a greater contributor to loss of life than cancer, four of the nation's top medical authorities said Monday.

Participants in a seminar on obesity held by the Strassenburgh Laboratories Division of Wallace & Tiernan included Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard, Dr. Burton Cohen of the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry, Dr. Edgar Stilwell Gordon of Madison, Wis., and Dr. Alvan Richard Feinstein of Yale.

Contrary to popular opinion, many obese subjects overeat not because of abnormal hunger, but because of abnormal-ties in their satisfaction capacity," Dr. Mayer, director of the department of nutrition at Harvard University's School of Public Health, said.

"Despite folklore, research indicates obese patients skip breakfast, lunch or dinner more frequently than others. They eat sweet desserts less but clear their plates more often and tend to eat more snacks in the absence of hunger sensations," he said.

Dr. Cohen, assistant professor at the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry, said that of 300 consecutive physical examinations given patients over an eight-month period, he found nearly half were medically obese.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A good name, we are told, is more to be chosen than great riches. Unfortunately for people who might like to have both, your good name probably is worth more to someone else than it is to you.

Even at this moment, your good name probably is worth or rented. Should you happen to be a pedigreed wine dealer, it is retailing for about 6 cents.

If that sounds cheap to you, bear in mind it is being sold over and over again, and thus netting someone a tidy profit.

That someone is a mailing list dealer. Or more likely several Zweiback Anyone?

For $8, you can obtain a list of 27 deaf missionaries; for $10.50 the names of 24 Zweiback manufacturers.

You can rent lists of feather merchants, fatty acid manufacturers, butterfly farm operators, earthworm farmers, kite-makers and midwives, to mention just a few of the many thousands available.

What got me on this subject was a hearing by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee on the use of mailing lists to peddle pornography to children.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., told the group the names of 1 million teen-age girls can be had for $30 per thousand. Which is $5 per thousand more than a mailing list of doctors, lawyers or dentists would cost.

This started me to thinking that a mailing list catalog might provide some other interesting comparisons on the relative worth of names. So I borrowed a copy from Zablocki and made a few notes.

The Name Market

I don't want to make anyone feel bad, or give them an inferiority complex, but here are some of my findings:

The names of armored vest manufacturers are worth more than banjo manufacturers. Dog brush manufacturers come higher per unit cost than box holders at the metropolitan opera.

Lent Is A Special Time Set Aside To Replenish Spirit

A fair number of Christians have treated Lent with a vague kind of pious respect. Puzzled about its meaning and confused over what is expected they see Lent as sort of a religious gross national product or an ecclesiastical federal reserve system. It's terribly important, but they haven't the slightest idea of what it is all about.

We forget Lent: It's too long. Anyway, they argue, self-denial doesn't fit in our ministered society. So much prayer and Bible reading is a drag. I'll admit that Lent is too rigidly defined and consequently the benefits of this Holy Season are yet to be discovered.

"Lent" comes from the Anglo-Saxon word "lencen," meaning spring. The word root means "to lengthen." At this time of the year, the short days of winter literally lengthen into the longer days of spring.

As we explore the Meaning of Lent, remember that it can be the most splendid adventure of all—the renewal of your spirit.

Lent is 40 days—representing the period of solitary temptation endured by Jesus in the wilderness.

Gospel Quartet To Appear In Local Revival

Today, Lent should be considered spring training for Christians. A spiritual recovery area. A fixed period on the calendar when we assemble an ordered personal life in place of frantic activity, meaningless encounters and overplayed religious games.

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Just as patrolman Bill Hodges drove into a grocery parking lot, the car parked next to him shot backward, circled him, hit the edge of the store and bounced into the side of the patrol car.

Hi-Land Pentecostal Holiness Church, 18th and Banks, will present the Gospel Harmonettes in a program of songs beginning at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 14 and continuing nightly through Feb. 17.

WORKERS DELIGHT

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—From the standpoint of trash, the 1967 Mardi Gras was the most successful in history. Sanitation workers still haven't got it cleaned up.

The Gospel Harmonettes are recording and radio artists who have appeared in many Gospel concerts across America with other well-known quartets such as the "Christian Troubadours," "The Happy Goodman Family" and the "Travelers' Quartet."

Sanitation Director John Cassano said 771 tons of refuse had been picked by Wednesday, including beer cans, paper and other trash that choked the narrow, Old World streets of the French Quarter and Canal.

The Gospel Harmonettes are comprised of a minister father, Carl Walters, and his three daughters, Naomi, Mary and Yvonne.

New Catechism Encourages Personal Relating To God

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International
Parochial schools in 50 U.S. Catholic dioceses are experimenting with a radically new kind of catechism which aims at helping a child enter into a personal relationship with God rather than memorize facts about God.

Pilot-parish tests have been successful, and it is anticipated that the new catechism will be introduced for regular use in the first grades of thousands of parochial schools next fall.

Although developed by and for Catholics, it is based on psychological insights which are equally applicable to the religious training of Protestant and Jewish children. Hence it should be of interest to all parents and teachers, regardless of denomination.

In the past, religious education in Catholic schools was conducted, even at the first grade level, with the aid of a catechism that required children to memorize answers to a long series of questions.

For example, the teacher would ask: "What is God?" And the well-rehearsed child would reply: "God is a pure spirit, infinitely perfect, creator and master of all things."

Worse than useless Developers of the new catechism decided it was worse than useless to confront a 6-year-old child with such an answer.

"If one begins by explaining and defining what God is, the child is at best faced with an abstract definition incomprehensible to him," says a teacher's handbook.

"He may repeat this definition for word but this cannot assure us that he has the sense of God. Rather, he runs the risk of remaining within a purely verbal knowledge which gives him the illusion of 'knowing all' about God."

But the 6-year-old does have a capacity for awe and wonder, and a great emotional need for personal relationships. So the new catechism approaches him through these open doors.

After 626 xxx doors. With the help of pictures, songs and coloring-books, he is made aware of the beauty of the world around him.

God is presented as the one who made all of this, and the child is immediately invited to "praise God for our beautiful world," through simple prayers of adoration.

Thus worship begins as a spontaneous response to the beauty and wonder of the universe.

God's Majesty Although the child is made aware of the greatness and majesty of God, the new catechism carefully avoids words and pictures that would make God appear threatening.

"The thought of God should be associated not with fear but with feeling of awe for one who made the world so beautiful, with a feeling of filial confidence toward the one who surrounds us with his tenderness and his power," says the teacher's manual.

For example, the first-grader should never be told that "God is everywhere" since this idea either baffles or frightens him. He is told instead that "God is always with you," which gives him a warm sense of security.

The new catechism is published by the Paulist Press, Glen Rock, N.J. It is similar to catechisms recently adopted in Canada, France and Belgium—all growing out of the Vatican Council's mandate for reform of religious education. Although only the first grade course is now available in English, the Paulist Press plans to offer new catechism materials for all grades of parochial schools over the next few years.

Revival Center To Conduct Meetings

A revival meeting will begin at Revival Center Church, 1101 S. Fern Presley, Feb. 12. Rev. Fern Presley will be the evangelist from Muncie, Kan. The public is cordially invited to attend nightly at 7:30 with the exception of Sunday night when service will be at 7 p.m.

Pentecostal Group To Hear Quartet

The Pampa Pentecostal Fellowship will meet in the Hill and Pentecostal Holiness Church, 18th and Banks, at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The Gospel Harmonettes quartet of Modesto, Calif. will present several numbers. The public is invited.

CLOSE INSPECTION

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—A city prison farm trustee, recaptured after a brief escape, told police he jumped from a supply truck because he had noticed a "very affectionate" couple riding in a taxi.

The woman was his wife, he explained.

BEING TESTED at the Stan Electric Capacitor plant in Communist China is this 1,000,000-volt capacitor, according to an official Communist source. The source added that it is the first capacitor of its kind in the country.

Text From Amos Subject For Baptist Sermon

Rev. J. R. Manning, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church will continue the study of the book of Amos using "Faith in Conflict" with a text taken from Amos 7 for his sermon subject in the eleven o'clock morning worship.

Sam Allen, minister of music, will direct the Chancel Choir in singing "America, The Beautiful" arranged by Ringwald. Hoyte Phillips will sing a tenor solo, Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "O Jesus, Blessed Savior" by Wilson for the offertory.

"The End Has Come" is the topic Brother Manning has chosen for the seven o'clock evening worship with emphasis on Amos 8. The Chancel Choir will sing the anthem, "Sweet Hour of Prayer" arranged by Angell. Other special music will feature a ladies' trio with Mrs. Harold Pitts, Mrs. Sam Allen, and Mrs. Bob Conatser. The organ offertory will be "I Would Be True" by Hughes.

Church Youth To Be In Charge Of FP Services

Youth Sunday and Boy Scout Sunday will be observed in the First Presbyterian Church on Feb. 12. The youth of the church will be in charge of both worship hours, 8:30 and 11 a.m. The sermon topic will be "Christ Was, Is and Will be the Answer" taken from Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians.

Young People participating in the services are Tommy Capps, Debbie Ferrell, Nancy Lemmons, Terry McClure, Doug Morgan, and Renee Secret.

The Junior High Choir will present the Offertory Anthem, "Round the Earth, A Message Runs" arr. by Lovelace, under the direction of Miss Celeste Duncan.

A group of Boy Scouts will serve as ushers for the morning services and others will participate in parts of the worship. The Junior High Choir will meet at 4:30 p.m. for choir practice and will be followed by Fellowship at 5:30 p.m. The Senior High Group will meet at the Bill Nichol's home at 1133 Huff Rd., for Fellowship at 6 p.m.

"Soul" Subjects For Scientists

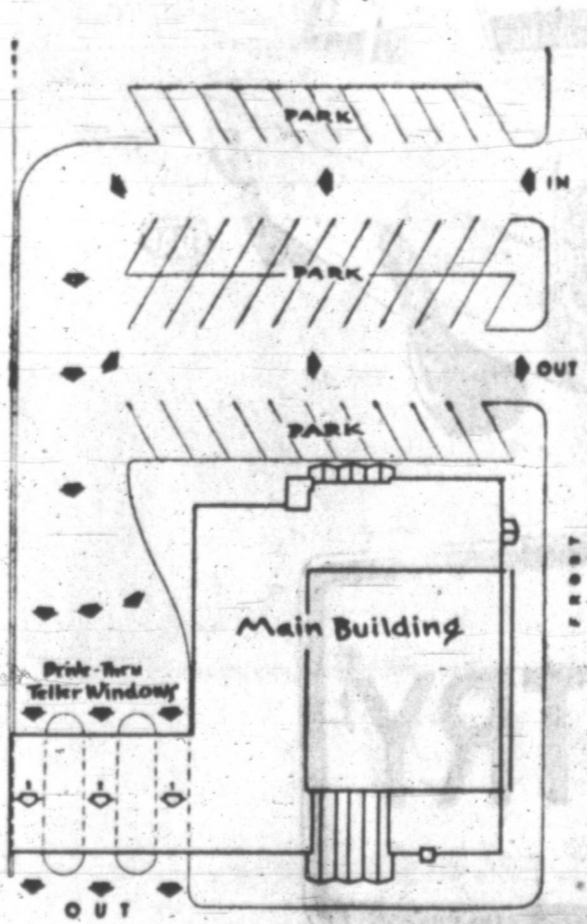

"The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate." This reference from Psalm 34 is included in the Responsive Reading for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon this Sunday titled "Soul."

Striving For Holiness

Many persons who call themselves Christians have just begun a period of forty days that is known as Lent. The purpose of this season is to glorify God and to do so by "striving for holiness." In our busy, sophisticated, complex world we might ask who is interested in this, and the answer would be whoever is grateful for what God has done for him, and whoever wants more than anything else to be at one with God and thus with other people and with himself. We draw apart from our ordinary experiences for a short time to recall that Jesus Himself drew apart from the crowds and his friends and his disciples and his family-members for what is now understood to be forty days and forty nights (although the actual amount of time matters little). He did this to become closer to God the Father, an opportunity that is now ours, too.

To strive for holiness is to work oneness with God; it is to work toward an awareness of God's presence, toward making room within ourselves for the empowering and strength-giving Holy Spirit of God. We are to be careful, though, of these words "work" and "make" because we can accomplish little of this ourselves; if we achieve a greater, deeper degree of holiness it will be a gift of and by the grace of God, not something we do alone. Forty days and forty nights Jesus was alone, a time during which His relationship with God was strengthened immeasurably.

We might say the purpose of our lifetime in this world, the purpose of the Lenten season, the purpose of each day, even the purpose of this moment we share together, is to draw, by His continuing acts of love, closer to God. We can strive for holiness, and a beautiful gift will become ours.

Beauty Routine Makes—Skin Glow

By PATRICIA KING
Beauty Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — A good facial is important any time of the year and most especially now, after the holiday season when lack of time may have caused complexion neglect.

You know your winter-to-spring social whirl will be heavenly only if your complexion is lovely enough to highlight your natural beauty. If you're smart you will know that applying cream to your face with a little massage is not enough.

Naturally, skin care is a delicate matter, especially if you want to have skin that shows generosity, you are in a position to clarify any moot points with those you know are important in your life. Later be sure to get out for pleasure and relieve tensions. Stop being such a martyr.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Taking time to get more order and beauty around you is wise and you find others around you respond much better to your ideas, suggestions. You can buy those new clothes you like.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those interesting young ones who early pictures himself or herself as a hero or heroine and will be so anxious to fit this image that wonderful things can be accomplished in this lifetime. There is a great deal of charm in this nature. Ideal chart for a public life, a connection with the government where advancement can come quickly, or deep humanitarian work.

THOROUGH CLEANSING IS THE FIRST STEP to a good complexion. (Upper left) Massage the lubricating cream over your cheeks in circular movements. (Upper right) With your first three fingers massage the forehead about 10 times. Around the eyes (lower left) massage very lightly towards the nose using one finger 10 times more or less. To combat double chin (lower right) tauten the hand and pat under the chin.

gleams by day and glows by night.

For a really beneficial facial the most important item stressed at any salon by the person giving the massage is relaxation. Fatigue, stress and strain tighten the muscles in many parts of the body and this always shows in the face.

An easy-to-manage nightly regime is what you need to start you off on good facial habits.

Start with a lubricating cream, satin soft, that is quickly absorbed by the pores. It gently lubricates the face and neck. Surface dryness disappears and suppleness is restored.

With the different movements you apply to your face and neck, you stir up circulation. The more precise your motions, the more exciting will be the results.

Start by massaging the lubricating cream over your cheeks in circular movements, using three fingers of each hand. Then open your mouth and massage upward from the bottom of your chin.

Massage carefully around the nostrils, continuing upward on the bridge of the nose with your middle fingers.

To massage your throat (always downwards), use the palms of both hands, and then finish off by patting the skin under your chin vigorously. Having been stimulated by this facial treatment, your skin gives off a radiant sparkle and is baby soft.

Americans Resorting All Over the World

This month, millions of Americans will be packing their bags again and hitting the road, the sea, the air on their big annual winter - resort trek — the fabulous "sun game" people are playing today, that hits new heights of popularity every year.

This year is no exception, and the number of people on the move into the sun will swell this year to astronomical figures. The big difference this year, however, is the ever-increasing number of places Americans will be resorting to. No longer are they content with just a few countries and resort spots — with more and more air-fare reductions and longer vacations becoming the rule, even Mr. and Mrs. Doe and Miss Doe are making the whole world their oyster.

Dear Abby...

Time for Hubby To Shape Up and Fly Right

DEAR ABBY: I had been advised many times to investigate my husband's activities when he was supposedly working evenings on a second job. I finally did and found out from his employers that his hours were not what he said they were. I also found that he was having an affair before and after work with a married woman whose husband worked nights.

When I confronted him with the evidence he said, "You should feel ashamed to have people bring to your face evidence that you aren't capable of holding your husband."

Who do you think should feel ashamed? The husband (and father of six) who professes to be a Christian and got caught in his sin? Or the wife who had so much trust for 22 years that she refused to believe it until she had proof from witnesses?

MIXED UP: Tell your husband that you will handle your "shame" and he can handle his. And if he doesn't shape up and fly right, he may have to "pay" for his shame — and plenty!

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a boy who is working his way through college. When he asks me for a date, I panic because I know he is going to ask me where I want to go. I never know whether to say to the movies, bowling, dinner or what because I never know how much money he has to spend. I am always afraid if I say I want to go somewhere that costs more than he has, he will borrow the money to take me. You could sure help me and a lot of other girls out if you'd answer this in your column.

WORRIED: When a young man asks you where you want to go, throw the ball back at him and insist that he offer some suggestions. Then you make a choice from his suggestions. That way you won't have to worry about his spending more than he can afford.

DEAR ABBY: I am a successful highly respected, supposedly intelligent professional man with a wonderful wife and family. Sounds perfect, doesn't it? Well, here is my problem, and I hate myself for it.

When my wife is away from me for one night I become filled with such anxieties about her becoming ill, meeting with an accident, or having a fling with another man. I practically go out of my mind. She has never given me any reason to worry about her, or to doubt her, but I can't help these thoughts. I don't sleep a wink, and I end up calling her at a ridiculous hour to see if she's "all right" — or maybe I'm just checking up on her.

Then I start nagging her to come home. Yesterday she flew 1,500 miles to visit her parents, and I swore it wouldn't happen again, but it has. It's 3 a.m., and I've just telephoned her. What's wrong with me?

MISERABLE: Even successful, highly respected, intelligent professional men can have emotional problems. You obviously need help in controlling your imagination. Tell your doctor about your "anxieties" and let him help you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THINKING IT OVER" IN DAYTONA BEACH: No matter what your ages are, if you think you're old for her, you're too old for her.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Dilemma of Vietnam

One of the most difficult discussions for those who seek to promote a moral society is the subject dealing with the war in Vietnam.

War is a natural act of politicians. They are always at war in some degree. It is always a "limited" war, conducted within the limits of the propaganda that presents their cause as just and the opposition as the aggressor and, of course, the fund available.

Military conflict, which is the most common vision that comes to mind at the mention of "war," is the most wasteful expenditure of energy in which human beings can engage. It is so costly that it can be waged off by organizations with vast sums of money or else with power to run up huge indebtedness, hence political governments.

The most sinister aspect of such military conflict is that anyone who criticizes the governmental action is bombarded with charges from lacking patriotism to out and out treason. Yet to present support of military conflict is impossible for those who believe the world will realize its fullest promise only when aggression and compulsion are removed from human actions.

Thus the Vietnam war. Where do we stand? Since we cannot discuss it within the framework of a moral society sadly lacking at the moment, we will consider it within the limited dimension of the politician; the expediency angle.

And from this point of view it appears to be handled in a very foolish, even criminal manner. It has been estimated by those who compute such things that the United States is spending $322,000 for every Viet Cong killed. At this rate the nation will be bankrupt long before the last of the enemy is silenced.

Criticism of the "limited" nature of the Vietnam war points out that our planes are taking off with only 1,000 pounds of bombs when they are capable of carrying 12,000 pounds.

This makes it necessary to fly more missions and thus increase the "statistics" of the conflict. There are many examples offered by these critics pointing to the limitations placed on the American fighting man in Vietnam and supporting the claim that the Vietnam war is being waged purely for political purposes; that is, to take the attention of the American public off the domestic woes and political failures in other areas and to justify the increasing size and cost of our political government.

Vietnam already has required 50 per cent more American servicemen than the Korean war required. Its cost is soaring to $2 billion a month.

The politicians justify this "limited" war by pointing out that further escalation might bring on another global conflict. The politicians seem to be willing to defend their "principles" only on a limited scale. Yet it seems to us that unless war is justified at all costs, it is not justified at any cost.

Thus, it occurs to us that the politicians are unwilling to either fish or cut bait. They refuse to end the war by pulling out of Vietnam for fear of the economic and political repercussions brought on by their deficit spending. Yet, on the other hand, they refuse to end the war via application of total military power for fear of escalation and resort to nuclear weapons; in which case, they, the politicians, would be brought in to the firing line.

Consequently, they do neither; and, as a result, an ever increasing number of lives are being sacrificed on the altar of their indecision and stupidity.

Postal Rate Increase

The pressure is under way in Washington for another increase in first-class and air mail postal rates, while apparently leaving second, third and fourth-class rates unchanged.

The government monopoly post office is losing money hand over fist, and will continue to do so, despite the claims of attempts at modernization. But it is typical of the thinking of politicians that the classes of mail which are paying their own way already should have increases in rates and the classes which are losing money should have little or no increases.

It is true that the fourth-class rates for parcel mail was increased slightly at the same time larger packages in certain post offices were authorized. However, the increases were not sufficient to pay the full cost of handling.

A great many newspapers and national magazines are among those who resist increases in second and third-class postage, since they in effect are enjoying a subsidy.

And generally those newspapers and magazines which are holding onto the subsidized mail rates are the ones which are not informing or educating their readers but are lined up with the politicians in miseducating the public.

By "playing ball" with the politicians in power, they help to dish out the opiate that people need not be self-reliant and self-responsible, and that the government will take care of their every need.

They do not seem to see that they are helping to lead Americans down the road to loss of liberty, which must necessarily be a part of the decline of self-responsibility.

Unwise in Any Court

Ralph Nader, the man the auto industry considers the biggest flat tire ever, is suing General Motors.

In myopic reaction to his telling attack on unsafe automobiles, some GM executives, unable to believe a man so dedicated could be quite honest, hired private detectives to tail the author of "Unsafe at Any Speed" and to question his friends in hopes of finding something not quite nice about him and even employing feminine wiles to lure him from his path of righteousness.

Now Nader is asking $25 million damages. Though it is highly unlikely that any court will award him such a fantastic sum, it seems legitimate to ask whether his suit should be entertained at all. By seeking this ridiculous figure instead of something closer to the bounds of reasonableness, Nader casts doubt on his own motives in this instance.

He was, to be sure, unjustly harassed. But in what way was he damaged? GM is the damaged party, damaged by its own actions. The president of this mighty corporation even humbled himself to make a public apology.

Nader was not defamed but made famous. Rather than being discredited, his crusade for safer cars gained popular support and was written into law by Congress. Nader's victory was total.

GM has eaten its share of crow in this matter. Our courts have more important business than to force it to swallow another helping.

States Pay Price For Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To get federal assistance under the ballooning, controversial grants-in-aid programs, the 50 states commit themselves to certain substantial expenditures that they appear to be keeping very poor track of.

A major example: Under the famed interstate highway system, the federal government in most instances puts up 90 per cent of the construction cost, the participating state the remaining 10 per cent.

Yet for the entire life of the roads involved, and these could come to hundreds or even thousands of miles in particular states, the state is committed to paying maintenance, repair and related service costs — such as the cost of police patrolling.

Drawing on figures supplied by highway officials, the Bureau of Public Roads had given congressional committees an estimate that when the entire 41,000-mile interstate network is completed, it will cost the 50 states at least $400 million a year to maintain and service these roadways. The figure is probably quite conservative.

Federal-state specialists suggest that very sizable maintenance sums are also involved in other "brick and mortar" federal grant programs, including construction of hospitals, college dormitories, airports, water, sewer and other community facilities.

A canvass of this field indicates, however, that nearly all the states are painfully fuzzy on the amount and nature of these supplementary expenditures induced by participation in juicy federal programs.

At the behest of the National Association of State Budget Officers, the states submitted their complaints against the working of grant programs at the state-level. The association's compact 22-page report listed 69 specific "impediments" but never mentioned the problem of inescapable maintenance and service costs.

Nor is the matter being discussed before Maine Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's Senate subcommittee which is presently looking into federal-state fiscal relations.

New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller told the committee that his state spent a disproportionate amount of money and time merely to try to qualify for some federal planning funds — and to date has received less than a sixth of the requested sum. He echoed other officials who complain that the grant-in-aid system distorts state-level finances, and who urge some form of federal-state tax-sharing.

Nevertheless, the states' arguments — current and past — have been thought to be weakened by the evidence that they have not generally kept their own financial houses in good order.

Their fuzziness on the issue of supplementary maintenance and service costs of federal aid programs is no help to their case. Experts in federal-state relations and in some of the affected federal agencies say a bookkeeping practices among the states are far too vague to give them (with occasional exceptions) an accurate reading on what they lay out over the years to keep in running order what Washington has "given."

If they set out boldly what now amounts almost to hidden extra charges for these programs, some states might not be so eager to join in. Without that clear indication, a 90-10 match-in-kind ratio such as prevails in the interstate highway program is, in the words of one authority, "so strong and inducement it's coercive."

Despite state complaints, the attractiveness of federal aid programs seems unlikely to lessen. They are expected to spend at least as much for major construction in the next decade as they did in the last. They need outside help. The U.S. government, which now provides almost a fifth of state-local funds, is the obvious source.

The air pollution problem will continue to be big news during 1967 and for some time to come, which reminds us of a story about 15 years ago out of southern California.

A Los Angeles radio station asked for suggestions on how to eliminate fog in the area. One recommended that the city install scores of aircraft engines all around the area to blow the smog away; another advised that Army engineers cut a colossal "V" through the Sierra Madre mountains to permit the desert winds to blow the smog away. And, a third suggested the construction of giant conduits that would pipe fresh air into the Los Angeles region like water, and thus push the smog elsewhere.

Of course, none of those ideas was practical and wiser heads saw to it that they were not implemented. Today, that's one of the many problems Governor Ronald Reagan will have to solve.

Today's smile: An auto school instructor was explaining an accident caused by one of his pupils to a police officer and said: "When I told her to release her clutch, she took her hands off the wheel."

Don't know how many residents of Java have been deafened by the noise, but we understand they hear more thunder than any other people in the world. You're really getting along if you remember Jack Pearl on radio. He was billed as the modern Baron Munchausen, the super-liar. The actual Baron was not a mythical character, but an 18th century German nobleman who told some ridiculous stories about his exploits as a cavalry officer in the Russian campaigns. His stories made him a legend in his own time.

Thoughts while shaving: We read recently that a favorite breakfast of the ancient Romans was bread dipped in wine. Now wouldn't that be just the thing for a clear-eyed young American business executive to have for his morning meal? After his cereal and orange juice, of course. Most folks think "temerity" means something like "timidity." But Noah Webster, the all-time authority on such matters, defines it as meaning: "Unreasonable contempt of danger; extreme venturesomeness; rashness." That's just about the opposite of "timidity". . . . The chinchilla is the one animal whose pelt is the most valuable of all. It is not a species of rabbit, as many believe. It is estimated that by 1975 motor vehicles in the U.S. will be consuming 93 billion gallons of gasoline a year. Just think of the smog that will create. . . . Side Effects Will Vary With Each Tranquilizer. Q—I read that Miltown has caused disastrous results in recent tests on animals in some research center. What kind of harm would it cause?

A—Although most modern drugs can have undesirable side effects, these can usually be avoided by careful medical supervision. Meprobamate (Miltown) is one of the safest of the so-called tranquilizers. It may produce undue drowsiness but when this is observed dextroamphetamine given simultaneously should counteract this effect.

Q—I've been taking Equanil every night for five years. Could this drug have a bad effect on my mental condition?

A—This is a brand of meprobamate. It improves rather than impairs the mental condition of persons who are overly excited or excessively fearful.

Q—What is Meprospan given for?

A—This is a brand of meprobamate, a mild tranquilizer.

Q—What causes purpura? What will cure it or prevent a recurrence?

A—Purpura is a disease in which bleeding occurs under the skin spontaneously or after very slight trauma. The underlying mechanism is a deficiency in the number of platelets in the blood. In many cases the cause of this deficiency is unknown; in others it may be due to an allergy, an individual sensitivity to various drugs, rheumatic fever or a deficiency of vitamin C.

If the cause can be determined, the prevention and cure present no serious problem. If the

VICTORY FOR FREE TRADE (The Free Trader London, England)

The Free Trade League does not only preach Free Trade; it also takes positive action to secure the removal of existing restrictions on trade, and to prevent the imposition of new ones.

Representations were made by the League to the Board of Trade against the proposal to impose "anti-dumping" duties on maize, milt and potato starches, and on liquid glucose. The Board of Trade decided that they should not impose these suggested duties. But they add that they "will keep the position under review."

We are convinced that a great deal could be done, even in our present tariff-ridden economy, by representations of this kind, to assist the liberation of trade and we would be grateful to hear from Free Traders who will assist in this very important work.

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE Date: October 15, 1966

This is your roving reporter, asking you, the public, important questions concerning the future of our country.

Today's question: Ronald Reagan, the Republican candidate for president, is running on a platform that includes: an end to foreign aid; and end to farm subsidies and controls; placing Social Security and Medicare on a voluntary, self-supporting, private enterprise basis; selling TVA to private enterprise; and repealing all legislation granting privileges to labor unions. How do you feel about this campaign?

Wilfred Spatz, 54, manufacturer: "Well, I think the man is just great. I mean, here's a guy who's not afraid to stand up and call socialism socialism. I say 'more power to him.' I would vote for him myself if it were not for his unrealistic attitude on foreign aid. After all, most foreign aid money is spent right here in the good old U.S.A., helping our economy. I know because my company handles several of these foreign aid contracts for the government."

Mildred Volker, 68, retired housewife: "Isn't that man just wonderful? At last, someone has the guts to get the farmers and the labor leaders and all the rest of the freeloaders off the dole. Of course, I can't vote for him. It's a moral issue with me. I can't sanction his stand on Social Security and so I MUST vote against him."

James Metcalf, 43, farmer: "Man, that guy would make George Washington beam. He's the symbol of the rugged individualist that has made this country great. If everything he wants will happen, our taxes can be cut 40 percent. It's just that he's gotten such bad advice regarding the farm problem. He just doesn't understand it. I can't vote for him. I've got a wife and four kids, you know."

James Haw-haw, 58, union official: "My union has always stood foursquare against them commie and socialist S.O.B.'s and it is good to see a public official stand up and be counted for a change. This guy Reagan's got a lotta style and polish and savvy when it comes to shutting off the pipeline to them commie, slave-labor countries. It almost makes me want to endorse him. . . . I mean, makes me want to suggest that the union endorse him. But the man's downfall is his attitude on labor. He'll have the sweatshops back inside six months. Ya want your wife to work in a sweat shop? I didn't think so. Keep the faith, baby!"

So that is the theory of television programming — if viewers were not really watching, then advertisers would not bother to show commercials. After all, who would spend a half-million dollars to show a cunning little film about a product a dozen times a night if it is viewed but not seen?

Who would? We don't know who would. But it is our intention to find out.

Consequently, we have listed below the key fragments from a number of the more frequently viewed commercials on television. All you have to do is identify the product they sell.

As we understand the theory of television programming, any viewer ought to get 100 per cent quite easily.

WHAT PRODUCT:
1. Does Hank Bauer use?
2. Is stronger than dirt?
3. Gets out the worst kind of dirt in cold water?
4. Turns your floor to glass?
5. Has the taste worth fighting for?

WHAT IS IT THAT:
1. Gets the dirt liquid cleaners leave behind?
2. Puts a tiger in your tank?
3. Makes you a one-toothpaste family?
4. Outcleans them all?
5. Gives you fast, fast, fast relief?

WHAT ITEM CONTAINS:
$ 1. Tiny time pills?
2. Hexamonia?
3. Hexachlorophene?
4. Three puffs, four puffs longer than king size?

IF YOU HEAR:
1. The speller. 2. Take it off; take it all off. 3. You have had breath—BAD BREATH. 4. No matter what shape your stomach is in. 5. Wanda the Witch.

Now, we may have got this matter all wrong. Television programming is not our specialty. It may be perfectly fine not to know for sure whether you have tuned to the same show you saw last week. It may be exactly right to remember the commercial but not the product.

On the other hand, it may not be so good to learn that you are getting the same value out of your television regardless of whether you are watching it or not.

As we said, this sort of thing is not our specialty. And it probably never will be.

We came from a different time and place — when the day began with the breakfast of champions, and commercials were 99 and 44 100ths per cent pure.

Ah, the memories of that time — Snap! Crack! Pop! — they satisfy.

have extended the slavish tentacles of Communist rule over one billion people. Their prime objective, if we will believe them, is to wrap these tentacles around the USA. Ours must be to assure that they don't. To prevent it requires a joint effort.

The Rosetta stone, which dates back to the time of Ptolemy V about 195 B.C., was found in Egypt by a French officer in 1799. A block basalt slab about 4 feet long and 2 1/2 feet wide, the stone contained three identical inscriptions in Greek, demotic and hieroglyphic, says The World Almanac. By comparing the three inscriptions, Jean Francois Champollion, a young French scholar, succeeded in deciphering the hieroglyphics and thereby opened intensive study of ancient Egypt.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Rosetta stone, which dates back to the time of Ptolemy V about 195 B.C., was found in Egypt by a French officer in 1799. A block basalt slab about 4 feet long and 2 1/2 feet wide, the stone contained three identical inscriptions in Greek, demotic and hieroglyphic, says The World Almanac. By comparing the three inscriptions, Jean Francois Champollion, a young French scholar, succeeded in deciphering the hieroglyphics and thereby opened intensive study of ancient Egypt.

Houston, TW Slam Foes

By United Press International Those Carolina cut-ups are making a cardiac case out of Dean Smith, and the coach, for one, is not amused.

The second-ranked Tar Heels of North Carolina, well high invincible during the first month of the season, have suddenly been transformed from a slick aggregation to a bumbling collection of individuals, who nevertheless have managed to retain just enough poise to muddle through the Atlantic Coast Conference schedule.

That was the case Thursday night as Carolina clomped around for 40 minutes before righting itself in time to pull out a 75-73 overtime victory over weak Wake Forest.

It marked the fifth time in the last seven games that the talented Tar Heels had won by four or less points and in each instance Carolina nearly lost its perfect ACC mark.

Houston Notches Win

In other games involving teams ranked among the top 10 in the United Press International ratings, Houston (No. 5) had to struggle past undermanned Hardin Simmons 92-85 and sixth-hard-pressed to turn back Arizona 75-65.

Tulsa continued to dog Louisville's heels in the Missouri Valley Conference race by edging Bradley 72-71 on the road, Utah State nipped Denver for the second time in a week 82-81 and St. John's pounded West Virginia 83-71 with a late surge.

Carolina, which came from behind to edge Virginia 79-75 only two nights before, fell behind Wake Forest 33-26 in the first half and left the court at halftime trailing 37-36. In the foul-filled second half, the Tar Heels finally pushed past the Deacons only to be deadlocked 67-67 when Jerry Montgomery hit a basket with 10 seconds remaining.

Lewis Leads Carolina

But captain Bobby Lewis came through in the clutch during the overtime stanza, scoring six of Carolina's eight points to finish as high scorer with 17.

Houston overpowered Hardin-Simmons under the backboards, outrebounding the Cowboys 57-34, and got a superb 42-point performance from 6.9 pivot Elvin Hayes. Yet the Cougars, raising their record to 16-2, were pushed by Hardin-Simmons, gaining a 50-40 halftime lead and battling to hold it throughout the second half.

Elsewhere, New Mexico avenged an early season loss to downstate rival New Mexico State with a 65-57 triumph, Army assaulted Manhattan 69-64, New York University upset Georgetown 83-77 behind Mal Graham's 33 points.

UP AND IN—John Jenkins (14) Lee ninth grader puts up a shot and it goes in as Lee defeated Austin of Borger, 63-61 Thursday evening. Steve Scott (10) of Lee charges to try and help on the rebound as Ron Fraley tries to block Jenkins shot. Tom Hawkins (22) watches Jenkins.

Lee, Borger Cagers Split Pair of Games

Lee Junior High eighth and ninth grade cage teams ended their basketball season Thursday with Lee ninth going out in a flourish.

The freshmen handed Borger Austin only their third loss in three years, 63-61 despite Austin's amazing Ralph Chavez's 33 point output.

Lee eighth fell to Austin, 41-28 despite a tremendous effort by all the Lee players.

In the Freshman game Lee hit their highest scoring total of the season, leading 21-12 at the end of the first period, 38-33 at halftime and 53-46 after three quarters and fighting off an Austin fourth-quarter rally.

Louis Brantley led the scoring with 13 points, Randy Roper hit 11, Tom Hawkins and Randy Marsh scored 10 each, Ron Lang hit nine, John Jenkins, seven, Steve Scott, two and Sherwin Cox one.

In the eighth grade game Austin led 10-6 after one quarter, 26-14 at halftime and 37-18 after three quarters of play.

Teddy Trice paced Pampa with eight, Dan Hood scored five, Barry Kinneman scored three, Doug Thompson, Ricky Harris, Dan Long and Larry Akers, two each; Steve Edwards, John Garren and Joe Foster, tallied one point each. Jim Maxwell paced Austin with 13 points.

Miami, 'Horns Hit Semi-Finals

WHEELER—The top seeded Allison boys and second seeded Miami and Briscoe see action today in the semi-final rounds of the district 2-B basketball tournament.

In the only girls game on tonight's card Miami and Lefors 5-3 and Lefors 4-4.

Allison (9-1) meets Mobette (5-3) at 5:30 p.m. while Briscoe (7-3) plays Miami (7-3).

Briscoe's girls kept their district record intact Thursday night by ripping Allison, 42-26. Briscoe is now 9-0 and Allison finished the season with a 1-8 mark.

Briscoe held a slim 10-3 first period advantage but had upped it to a three-point margin at 21-18 at halftime. But Allison managed only three points in the third quarter and fell behind, 35-21.

Hele Puryear with 21 and Dianne Dodd with 13 paced Briscoe while Dianne Kelley had 16 for Allison.

In boys action Mobette came on strong in the final period to outlast Lefors, 47-44.

Mobette led 13-12 after one quarter but went to the dressing room at halftime trailing, 23-21 and had fallen behind, 35-30 after three quarters.

Jim Newman had 12 and Jim Barton 10 points for Mobette while Jerry Warner hit 19 for Lefors.

Briscoe's boys rambled past Kelton, 53-45 with a last half spurge.

Briscoe led 8-7 after one quarter and 22-16 at halftime and 34-29 after three quarters. Mark Meek scored 15 points and Rusty Atherton 16 for the Loughorns while Kelly Abernathy hit 19 and Melvin Hunt 18 for Kelton. Girls' finals are slated for 7 p.m. Saturday and boys finals at 8:30 p.m.

In the district 1-B tournament

Matson Eyeing New Indoor Mark

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Randy Matson says he likes to use the outdoor shot put better than the indoor variety. With his favorite weapon in hand he might be aiming for a new world's record tonight at the Will Rogers Indoor Games.

Matson will use his outdoor shot because the games are staged on a dirt floor and a banked dirt track. The indoor shot has a leather cover and is used on surfaces other than dirt.

It's not that Matson can't throw the indoor variety. Last week at San Diego he defeated Oregon's Nell Steinhauer with a heave of 66 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Steinhauer, the world's indoor record holder at 67-10 and the only person to beat Matson in the last three years, will not compete at the Will Rogers Games.

Other former Olympians beside Matson at the games include miler Jim Grelle, broad jumper Ralph Boston, sprinter Mel Pender and high jumper John Thomas.

Grelle won the mile at the games last year in a slow 4:11.7 but will probably have to do much better if he hopes to defend his laurels.

Mustangs Host Pampa Tonight

LUBBOCK—Pampa and Lubbock Coronado were both trying to reach the .500 mark when they tipped off in a 7 p.m. basketball game in Lubbock Coliseum tonight.

Both went into the district 3-A contest with 3-4 records although Pampa had the best season record at 21-7 while Coronado was 13-15.

But the Mustangs are tough at home and have played good basketball all season, owning two wins over Monterey, tied for second, going into tonight's game with first place Tascosa.

A, C, and B games preceded the varsity game today.

Ruffing Always A Bridesmaid But Was Never A Bride

NEW YORK (UPI)—Poor Charlie Ruffing. He never did anything to deserve it.

Charlie probably was the best right-handed pitcher the Yankees ever had although you can't tell it by the Hall of Fame because he still isn't in it. He keeps getting passed up.

That doesn't make him so unique because there are others like Joe Medwick who also should be in it but aren't. Some received more than enough votes to elect him to the baseball shrine at Cooperstown under ordinary circumstances.

Ruffing, who began his career with the Red Sox and finished it with the White Sox in 1947 at the age of 43, won 232 of his games with the Yankees.

No other righthander with the Yankees ever won that many games as a matter of fact, other pitcher with them equaled that total until southpaw Whitey Ford made it 234 last season.

More than that, Ruffing might have been the finest hitting pitcher of all time: He was often used as a pinchhitter and he out-hit many of the American League's infielders and outfielders.

In any case, he first showed up among the Hall of Fame voting leaders in 1956 when Hank Greenberg and Joe Cronin were elected and he finished right behind those two, 48 votes shy.

He missed again in 1958 and 1960 when no one was elected and again in 1962 when Bob Feller and Jackie Robinson were tapped.

The 1964 election was the real heartbreaker for Ruffing, though. With 151 votes required to be named in the regular election, Luke Appling, polled 142 and Ruffing 141. That wasn't all.

Then they had a run-off, the same way they're having now, and 169 votes were necessary to elect, except that only the top man would get in.

Not Quite Enough.

Ruffing drew 185 votes, more than he needed in one way, but not quite enough in another. Appling had drawn 189 so he was the one who was elected.

In the most recent regular election, Ruffing and Medwick each polled 212 votes and were seven short of the required 219. There's a chance one of them, or maybe even both, won't make it in this run-off now.

The player gaining 75 per cent of the votes and the most total votes will be elected. If two or more receive the most votes, as well as 75 per cent, then they all will be elected.

You can vote for five players or less. I chose less and cast my votes for Ruffing and Medwick because I feel they most deserve to be in.

Despite Durocher Cubs Won't Climb

By SANDY PADWE

PITCHING — The wind in Chicago isn't quite as bad these days. Leo Durocher has turned realist. He doesn't have much of a pitching staff. Ken Holtzman, the rookie lefthander (11-16), showed promise last year. Ray Culp (7-4) wanted the Phillies to trade him. Trade him they did. Brings 5.03 ERA to Chicago. Ferguson Jenkins (6-8) had fair year, splitting time as starter and reliefer. Curt Simmons (5-8) may have a few wins in aging left arm. The bullpen offers semblance of stability. Bob Hendley, Cal Koonce, Bill Hands pitched with consistency year ago. Rookie hopefuls Rich Nye, Dave Douglas, Charlie Hartenstein getting an opportunity they'll never see again. RATING — C.

INFIELD — Potent offensively, though Ernie Banks (.272), at first base, requires more rest these days. Lee-Thomas a capable replacement. Second baseman Glenn Beckert (.287) and shortstop Don Kessinger (.24) improved in all departments last year. Ron Santo at third (.312, 30 HR, 94 RBI) helps carry club. He has few equals in either league. RATING — B.

OUTFIELD — Adolfo Phillips (.260), Byron Browne (.243) didn't please Leo with their defense last year. He blames it on inexperience. At least he hopes that was the reason. It's pleasure for Leo to look out to left field. Steady. Billy Williams (.276, 29 HR, 91 RBI) is there. RATING — B.

CATCHING — Randy Hundley considered league's best young catcher. Hit only 236 but had 19 HR, 63 RBI as a rookie. He also caught 149 games. Don Bryant, probable backup man, better prepare for summer of bullpen work. — RATING — B.

D BENCH — Experienced pinch-hitters in Lee Thomas, George Altman. Both, however, are lefty. Utilityman Ron Campbell for infield. Jim Stewart at home in infield or outfield but not much of a hitter. Good right-hand pinchhitter needed. RATING — C.

SUMMARY — A potentially powerful club. If it could only get some pitching, Chicago could give the National League trouble. Then the wind in Chicago would pick up again. PRE- DICTION — Soft, mild breezes this summer.

HUGHES BUILDING

STARING RAPTUROUSLY into space seemed inappropriate to a visitor at the DeYoung Museum in San Francisco. To give added meaning to the statue of a reclining child, done by 15th Century artist Andrea Del Verrochio, some unknown person plucked a rose from a nearby vase and placed it on the glass case enclosing the statue, in line with the child's ecstatic gaze.

SUBMARINE BUILT FOR TWO is the newest item to intrigue boating enthusiasts. Shown at the Mid-America Boat Show in Cleveland, Ohio, the two-man undersea craft imported from West Germany operates to a depth of 115 feet, runs at five knots, and has a range of 12-20 miles or four hours before batteries operating its electric motor need recharging. Safety features: Oxygen supply, air scrubber to remove carbon dioxide, protection against diving too deep and an escape system if the sub cannot surface with the usual mechanism. Gracing the hull is Peggy Cheney of Campbell, Ohio, boat show queen.

French Coed in Texas Tells Of Close Brushes With Viet Cong

By DARRELL MACK
United Press International
HOUSTON (UPI)—The young French school teacher showed the car on the empty Vietnamese highway, as two men in black pajamas stepped from the jungle with carbines cradled in their arms.

The auto halted beside them. One of the men—a Viet Cong tax collector—stepped forward. "How many batteries did you bring?" he demanded of the teen-aged Vietnamese girl sitting beside the driver. She pulled two from her purse. "No more?" the girl shook her head. "Okay, but bring more next time."

The girl looked at him nervously as he wrote out a safe conduct pass covering their trip from the mountain resort of Dalat to Saigon. The man gave the pass to the driver. The girl's brother-in-law Pierre. He shifted the car into gear and drove away. The rest of the trip to the capital was uneventful.

Describes Close Call
That is how Thu Nhi Do Quang, 19, described one of her many brushes with the Viet Cong in an interview here with United Press International.

"The VC always wanted batteries," she said. "We told them we could not carry more than two or three. It is the law because they are in demand to make plastics."

"Plastics" is the layman's word for a high explosive used by the Viet Cong in their terrorist bombings. The batteries are necessary for the electric timing device.

As long as the French and Vietnamese brought batteries and paid a cash road tax, Thu Nhi said, they were allowed to travel the highway freely. But with the Americans, it was different.

"They kill Americans. They would shoot Manfred," she said, glancing at Manfred Foster, 31, sitting beside her. Foster, who spent six months in Saigon as a construction engineer, is responsible for her coming to this country. She plans to study sociology at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville, Tex.

Organized Campaign
When he returned from Vietnam, Foster organized a campaign to raise funds to pay her fare and finance her education. He has enough to pay the first year, but is still seeking help for the other three.

He is also seeking funds to buy her an artificial limb to replace a foot she lost after she was hit by a truck last fall.

Thu Nhi, who made straight A's at the best French girl's school in Saigon, wants at least a master's degree in sociology before returning home to work with the children orphaned by two decades of war.

"They have nobody to care for them," Thu Nhi said. "They don't have a family. They don't know what is love."

She said these children have turned to crime to survive and built a system of value where the greatest virtue is to be tougher than the rest.

"They go around stealing and hitting people," she said. "They want to be like people in American films. They want to be tough, not to be sentimental."

Dreamlike Quality
With the bustle and prosperity of Houston as a backdrop, Thu Nhi's description of life in Vietnam has a remote dreamlike quality to it. But it is still very real to her. This and a feeling that she has never really left her home crept into her answers to the interviewer's questions.

—Do you suffer from the war?
A—I don't really suffer from the war. I suffer because we can't find fresh vegetables and we want in the market, because he VC cut the lines and water.

Q—Do you feel the danger of war?
A—Sometimes. We know the Communists are at our door, they are very near. They infiltrate Saigon.

Q—Do the people think about peace?
A—in my family, we think about peace. The people on the street think about money now.

Q—Why isn't peace first with them?
A—The people in the streets don't think. To live is very hard in Saigon. They can't live because they don't have much money. They think how can they eat tomorrow, not what is happening to our country.

Q—What do the people think

ACTION TO WORDS
WESTON, Ill. (UPI)—Weston officials admitted privately they were stung by Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., who said it "stuck in his craw" to see Weston, a village in a cornfield, get a massive Atomic Energy Commission atom smasher.

Today Weston leaders plan to erect a sign reading: "Welcome to Weston—future atomic research capital." The sign will be planted in a village cornfield.

In 1912, China became a republic when the Manchurian dynasty was overthrown by Chinese Nationalists led by Dr. Sun Yat-Sen.

about Americans?
A—People think many things about Americans. There are people who like the opportunity to make money. Everybody thinks, 'please, don't leave.' They know if Americans leave, the economy and industry will fall down. If Americans leave, Communists will come in. Everybody is scared about that.
