Jets Bomb N. Viet Plant

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. pilots striking from Thailand today bombed North Vietnam's biggest steel fabrication plant in the first raid of the war against Hanoi's heavy industry. Communist VGs challenged them but were defeated in a dogfight 38 miles north of Hanoi.

American pilots shot down one MIG in the fight that swirled for more than 20 miles through the industrial "Iron Triangle" above Hanoi, probably shot down a second and scored hits on a third. No American planes were reported lost.

In what appeared to be another escalation of the war, the American fighter-bombers which have been operating out of Thailand for two years dropped their bombs "right on target" on the sprawling plant which builds bridge sections, cargo bridges and oil drums, to aid the flow of supplies into South Vietnam.

Previously, the American pilots attacked power plants and oil storage depots but had never before hit a major industrial complex. In recent days they also have begun mining North Vietnamese rivers and estuaries while the U.S. 7th Fleet opened naval bombardments against coastal targets and U.S. ground troops launched a series of major offensives.

Pilots in today's raid operated from eight U.S. bases in Thailand, and were aided by U.S. 7th Fleet pilots who hit transportation and other communication targets in North Vietnam.

"Preliminary pilot reports said all bombs were on target," the U.S. spokesman said.

The Thunderchief target for today was a plant making bridge sections, cargo barges and oil drums, spokesmen said.

"All these products contribute directly to the infiltration of men and supplies from North Vietnam to South Vietnam," the U.S. spokesman said.

The raiding came after allied troops killed at least 82 guerrillas and American planes and ships lashed the Communists' supply lifelines in North and South Vietnam the past 24 hours, American spokesmen said.

The action up and down Vietnam reflected Gen. William C. Westmoreland's drive to keep the pressure on the Communists, who have suffered

Johnson Turns Other Cheek To Vietnam Critics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, turning the other cheek to critics of his Vietnam policy, says the U.S. bombing of the north will not stop until Hanoi takes some "reciprocal action" to scale down the fighting.

On two separate occasions Thursday, at a nationally televised news conference and later at a Democratic National Committee dinner, the Chief Executive reaffirmed his willingness to negotiate "unconditionally or conditionally" at any time.

"But," he told his news conference, "I do not think it is fair to ask an American commander-in-chief to say to your men, 'Ground your planes, tie your hands behind you, sit there and watch division after division come across the DMZ (Demilitarized Zone) and don't hit them until they get within a mile or two of you.'"

At the news conference he carefully sidestepped any appearance of a head-on collision with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who has urged a halt to the bombing. He noted faultily that he had "no particular fault to find or criticism to make with the judgments of others" on his conduct of the war or diplomatic efforts toward peace.

But later at the Democratic session, which was closed to newsmen, he said: "We have found that peace, an honorable peace, sometimes must be bought at a price. It must not be bought at the price of a lust for popularity."

Consular Treaty Is Given Good Senate Chances

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate backers of the U.S.-Russian consular treaty, victors in a skirmish over a move that might have killed the pact, were modestly confident today that ratification was in view.

They felt that their 2-1 victory Thursday put them over the hump in the bipartisan campaign to keep the treaty free of any amendments, reservations or "understandings" that might prod Moscow into shelving the agreement.

As it stands the treaty would benefit the United States more than Russia, according to U.S. officials, because it provides protection for Americans traveling in the Soviet Union.

The agreement also lays down ground rules under which consulates would function, but the protection would go into effect once the pact is ratified.

In its first test Thursday, the Senate voted 53 to 26 against an amendment by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., to reduce the treaty's grant of diplomatic immunity to cover only misdemeanors committed by consular officials and employees. Felonies also are exempted by the treaty.

"I'd like to see the treaty escape unscathed, if possible," Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said. He said he was encouraged by the vote against the Talmadge amendment but not ready to predict rejection of three pending Republican proposals.

Two reservations by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., one tied to the Vietnam war, the other a "free expression" proposal, are still to be voted on starting Tuesday under a limitation of debate. Then an "understanding" by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, also Vietnam-related, is to be considered.

Mrs. Smith's understanding expresses "a hope" that before the United States consents to the opening of Soviet consulates in this country "an honorable conclusion" will be attained in the Vietnam war, eliminating the need for combat by American troops.

Stalin's Daughter Defects to West

Report Says She May Be In U.S.

ROME (UPI)—Josef Stalin's daughter has defected to the West and already may be in Washington, reliable sources said today.

There was no official confirmation of reports Svetlana Stalin, 41, arrived in Rome from New Delhi or that she was seeking political asylum in the United States.

But the sources said there are "strong indications" the late Soviet dictator's only surviving child stopped in Rome Thursday and probably already was in or on her way to the American capital.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said Svetlana travelled to New Delhi recently with the ashes of her late husband, an Indian who died recently in Moscow.

In Washington, reliable sources said the woman who was the late dictator's only confidante made an approach to American diplomats in the Indian capital Thursday. The State Department declined to comment on the reports. The sources said Svetlana herself was now in Rome.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said Svetlana, Stalin's only known surviving child, was married three years ago to a Mr. Singh, reportedly a member of a distinguished Indian political family.

Her husband died at the age of 60 and Svetlana had his ashes cremated here and personally accompanied the ashes to India for burial, they said. Svetlana is the best information available in Moscow, is 41.

She met the Indian while both were working as translators in Moscow, the sources said.

Previously she had been married to a Jewish engineer named Moroz, a marriage her anti-Semitic father violently disapproved of, and to professor Yuri Zhdanov, son of Stalin's closest aide and cultural commissar, Andrei Zhdanov, who died in 1948. Yuri was reported now director of Rostov University.

In going to India, Svetlana left behind in the Soviet Union two children, the elder a student and son of Moroz and the younger a daughter by Zhdanov.

Svetlana possibly held the answer to some of the darkest mysteries of modern Russia, including the circumstances surrounding the deaths of his mother and her father.

Pampan Is Given Good Chance For U.S. Judge Post

By TEX DEWEESE

Pampa attorney Ross N. Buzzard is reported to be high on the list of nominees for appointment to the vacant federal judgeship that has existed in the Northern District at Amarillo since the retirement of the late Judge Joe Dooley of Amarillo.

Judge Dooley retired on Oct. 1 last year. He died in January of this year.

More than a half dozen names, including Buzzard, have been recommended to Texas' senior senator Ralph Yarborough, but the political buzz has it that the Pampa attorney, a member of the law firm of Gordon, Gordon and Buzzard, possibly could have the inside track.

Among other names on the nominee list are Judge Max Boyer of Perryton, Bryan Brock of Abilene, Ralph Brock of Lubbock, Judge Mary Robinson of Amarillo, Earl Smith of San Angelo, James Lumpkin of Amarillo and J. Howard Johnson of Brownwood.

The recommendations all have gone to Senator Yarborough with an urgency for an early appointment because of a crowded court docket. This latter situation has been called to the attention of both President Johnson and Senator Yarborough by the North Texas Bar.

The important judgeship includes the entire Texas Panhandle and extends beyond Lubbock to the south. It has jurisdiction to try all civil and criminal cases where the United States is a party. Its civil jurisdiction also includes cases in excess of $10,000 where the parties involved are residents of different states.

Whether the senior senator will have to share Texas patronage with President Johnson in this instance is another matter sometimes discussed in connection with the appointment in the Northern District as well as the U.S. judge vacancy which also exists in the Eastern District due to the death of Judge Joe Sheehy at Tyler.

Persons versed in the way political patronage is handed down say that under normal conditions, the Democratic senator from any state would have the exclusive say over who gets the federal jobs in his state when a Democratic administration occupies the White House.

Since LBJ became president, they say, he has become a powerful influence where vacancies occur and federal jobs are to be filled.

Just how much this will affect the federal judgeship appointment for which the Pampan is a nominee becomes a matter for speculation.

However, knowledgeable Democrats seem to think Buzzard has much better than an even chance to get the post.

Price Opposes President's Grain Plan

WASHINGTON (SpI)—Rep. Bob Price of Pampa criticized the President's grain program yesterday in an address prepared for delivery in a House debate on food surpluses.

In criticizing the administration for supplying food aid to India at the expense of American farmers, Price said he was disturbed about a resolution to increase food aid to India.

"We provide huge amounts of grain to such areas as India at growers' prices far below price goals for farm programs," he said.

He explained the resolution "does not amend the existing law and is not intended to be an irrevocable restriction on the President to meet needs that may exist in India."

Price also introduced a bill to take post office positions out of politics.

This bill, if passed, would require postmaster and rural mail carrier positions to be given to qualified career postal service employees.

It would also provide criminal penalties for violations of prohibitions against use of political influence.

Accidents Down But Injuries Up

Accidents were fewer but injuries were up in the city of Pampa during the month of February, Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner said today.

Conner, in issuing the February traffic report, said that there were a total of 39 accidents during the month compared to 56 in 1966.

During February, 25 injuries resulted from the accidents compared to 12 in 1966, but Conner stated most of the accidents last month were of the minor variety.

For 1967, police have investigated 83 accidents; one person has been killed and 38 have been injured. In 1966 from Jan. 1 to Feb. 28, a total of 119 accidents occurred with 26 injuries and no persons killed.

The report revealed that most accidents have happened on Sunday and 16 persons under the age of 20 and 15 between the ages of 20-24 have been involved in the accidents.

More male drivers were involved in accidents than the distaff side. A total of 45 males had accidents and while 28 females were listed.

Cause of most accidents was speeding with failure to yield right-of-way second.

Estimated property damage totaled $17,046.

ON SALT WATER Railroad Commission Calls for Crackdown

Renewed efforts are under way in the Panhandle to halt violations of Texas Railroad Commission regulations prohibiting the indiscriminate dumping of salt water pumped from oil and gas wells, it was learned today.

Jack O. Miller, Panhandle district supervisor for the commission, said there have been a number of flagrant cases reported recently in which well operators or tank truck drivers hauling salt water have been dumping it into bar ditches and along-railroad right of ways.

Sheriff A. L. Wilson at Stratford in Sherman County told The News this forenoon he particularly was involved in trying to put a stop to violations in his county.

Sheriff Wilson said he had one current case in which salt water had not properly been disposed of in Sherman County. The sheriff said the water had been dumped on Rock Island Ry. right of way and had run over into adjacent pasture land.

The sheriff said in one case, after a rain, the salt water had spread into a stream and several cattle were killed by drinking it.

Miller, who said the practice is widespread throughout the district and the state, declared the Railroad Commission will shut down wells when there is evidence of violations.

"We are aware of what is going on," Miller said, "and anytime we get evidence that salt water is being dumped into bar ditches or open places, the commission will immediately invoke pipeline severance."

This, Miller explained, means the flow of oil and gas will be stopped and the well from which the salt water came will be shut down until corrective measures are taken.

In many cases, Miller stated, operators say they hire truckers in good faith to haul the salt water to a disposal well, but the truckers dump it wherever they think they can get away with it.

Sheriff Wilson at Stratford said in the current case he has uncovered, there is evidence that the operator told the truck driver to dump the salt water on the railroad right of way.

The sheriff said in a recent case of salt water disposal violation a truck driver was fined $100 and costs in a justice of the peace court at Texhoma.

Sheriff Wilson stated that insofar as his county is concerned, there will be no more warnings issued.

"The farmers are breathing down my neck to put a stop to the practice," Wilson said, "and we intend to prosecute to the limit where violators are caught."

Indications were that the present drive in Sherman County will spread throughout the Panhandle Field with crackdowns imminent.

Miller said there were cases in Gray and surrounding counties where the Railroad Commission's salt water disposal regulations are not being followed. (See CRACKDOWN, Page 3)

Flight Recorder May Hold Clue to Crash

URBANA, Ohio (UPI)—The black box—the flight recorder of the airliner—which was recovered intact.

Capt. Karl B. Kohlsaat, 39, of Chicago was at the controls of the DC9, en route from New York to Chicago with stops at Harrisburg, Pa., Pittsburgh and Dayton. Kohlsaat was a veteran of nearly 10 years' service with TWA.

Piloting the Beechcraft was Cyrus Burghstahler, 54, a Detroit businessman en route to Springfield, Ohio, for a business luncheon.

The two-engined TWA DC9, carrying 21 passengers and a four-man crew, and a two-engined Beechcraft with only the pilot aboard, crashed to the ground in flames, leaving a two-mile trail of broken bodies, bits of wreckage and luggage in the second major air disaster in Ohio this week.

The tragedy occurred about 50 miles south of where 38 persons were killed in a Lake Central Airlines crash Sunday night.

The sky was clear and visibility was at least six miles. Both pilots were veteran flyers. A solution may come from the

Two Appear Before Jury For Garrison

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Two witnesses appeared before a New Orleans grand jury Thursday at the request of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison in connection with his investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

A preliminary hearing on evidence against the only person thus far arrested in the investigation has been scheduled for Tuesday. At that time, Garrison will be obliged to offer evidence to justify his actions in arresting Clay L. Shaw, 54, a prominent New Orleans businessman who was charged with conspiracy to murder.

Mrs. Josephine Hug and Dean A. Andrews spent a total of 43 minutes behind closed doors before the grand jury Thursday.

Mrs. Hug, who once worked for Shaw, was in the room for 34 minutes and Andrews, an assistant district attorney in neighboring Jefferson Parish, was inside for 9 minutes.

Andrews, who had been questioned by Warren Commission investigators after the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination in Dallas, practiced law in New Orleans at the time

44 YEARS OF SERVICE

Reading Testimonial Banquet Set Tonight

By WANDA HUFF
News Staff Writer

One of the venerable members of the Texas Highway Department's statewide roster of engineers will be honored by his associates and friends at a reception and dinner tonight in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room. He is G. K. Reading, a high-

Pampa Chamber of Commerce highway committee, headed by Fred Thompson.

Byron Reese of Amarillo, retired district highway engineer and a current city commissioner in Amarillo, will be master of ceremonies.

Reading, the honored guest, has spent his entire adult life in a highway improvement career.

A native of Richmond, near Houston, he did his first road construction work in the Houston district, 1923-1925, when not all road construction work was consolidated under the highway department. At that time, he was not yet working under the supervision of the highway department.

For about a year, 1925-1926, he helped with survey work for the Southern Pacific Railroad near Houston and Langtry. His quarters were about a block from the historical site of Judge Roy Bean's law office—the famed "law west of the Pecos" at Langtry.

Reading first arrived in the Texas Panhandle in 1926. He came from Langtry and first worked in Shamrock. One of the highway projects he worked on when he first came here was the survey of a road from Panhandle to Borger. The construction work on this road was done while he was working in the Wichita Falls District in 1927, 1929 and 1930.

In the Wichita Falls district he was the assistant resident engineer for the state highway department, and was located at Crowell.

Hereford Company Making Lettuce Leaf Cigarettes

HEREFORD, Tex. (UPI) — A company with plants from the Rio Grande Valley of Texas to lettuce-growing areas of Europe said today its market proves people can smoke—and enjoy—cigarettes without tobacco.

Puzant C. Torigan, a Puerto Rican native, did the chemical research that produced the no-tobacco cigarettes made of lettuce leaves.

He opened two Texas plants to distribute the cigarettes, which he named "Bravo Smokes." He said four months of marketing have brought the effort to the profit stage.

W. S. Wells of Dallas, director said the firm is just getting to the stage the big cigarette producers reached many years ago. But he said his company is

Servicemen May Go On Straight Salary Basis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department is considering a plan to put U.S. servicemen on straight salaries instead of the present "pay and allowances" basis.

The proposal came to light in the wake of a decision to discontinue, effective May 1, the cost of living differential being paid to about 8 per cent of the GIs in Vietnam.

A soldier's real income, it turned out, is now almost impossible to compute. But the department has developed a few hard statistics such as these:

—A single young enlisted man saves $90 a year by buying in military stores. His free medical attention is worth $94 annually.

—In the case of a high ranking officer with a large family shopping and medical privileges may be worth as much as $1,442 a year.

—If and when a soldier's real income is determined, another 5 per cent would have to be added to make up for income tax exemptions he would lose on a straight salary basis.

More Locations Due

Bravo Smokes has 55 persons at its Uvalde curing plant and 47 more at a processing plant at Hereford in the Panhandle. It wants to move into six different locations in South Texas within six months. The firm wants curing plants where lettuce is available in good supply—mostly the Texas Rio Grande Valley and areas in Florida, Arizona, and California.

At Bravo, you do not hear the "cigarette"—the product is a "smoke." Wells explained, because "the definition of a cigarette is a smoke made with tobacco. There is no tobacco or nicotine in Bravo."

Praises Flavor
 "It's a different taste and a different odor. We have found if a person will smoke a carton of these he won't be able to tell the difference. When a person tastes tobacco for the first time he gags and coughs, and does not like it at all. The same with a cup of coffee. The taste is completely foreign to him," Wells said.

Reading

 was in 1933 at Wheeler.

"We were very liquid at that time," Reading said, "and moved wherever the projects were located. In his first year G. K. Jr. (his son), attended three different schools.

Since 1933 Reading has remained in the Panhandle area as resident engineer.

He has helped build a network of highways throughout the area, including the long sought after road from Pampa to Perryton.

Reading was the resident engineer in Pampa in 1941 when the Chamber of Commerce, other civic-minded citizens, and the State Highway Department pushed the Pampa-Perryton thoroughfare.

The 64 miles of roadwork included a bridge across the Canadian River half way between Pampa and Perryton.

Reading said he was sent here in 1941 to do the survey on the Pampa to Perryton job, but it was interrupted by World War II and delayed during the war. Work was resumed in 1945 and the last link was completed in 1955.

Most major construction work was done between 1950 and 1955, and the road was dedicated in 1955.

The Perryton road project became noteworthy, because it was an important traffic link in the Panhandle and because it was difficult to complete.

Fred Thompson, who was one of the men who supported the project initially said the highway was hard to build because it had to go across a "wilderness."

Thompson said it was necessary to build up to both sides of the Canadian River bridge and stop until engineers and others could devise a way to build a solid foundation in the river's quicksand.

Reading describes himself as "one of the State High Department personnel in the Panhandle district" who saw the development of highways from a few paved sections on principal arteries to the super highways in use today.

He was the second president of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, Panhandle chapter, and has been a continuous member for 20 years.

Reading is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 1381 of Pampa and makes his home at 1200 N. Russell.

His son, G. K. Reading Jr., a product of Texas Tech, is in charge of the survey work on the Lubbock Expressway.

Reading said he has not made definite plans for after his retirement, but will continue to make his home in Pampa.

Commissioners To Discuss County Insurance Plan

Gray County commissioners are expected to pay about $13,000 for highway improvements and consider a county-employees insurance plan in their regular meeting Monday.

"We may approve the payment of $3,958 to the Southwestern Public Service for moving utility lines on Highway 60 west of Pampa and $9,370 to the Texas Pipe Line Co. for moving pipe lines on Highway 60," County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. said.

Lenning received the bills today and has put them on the court docket for consideration with other county bills due payment at the 10 a.m. meeting Monday.

If commissioners have received any answers to letters they sent to the 80 county employees polling them on the group insurance plan for county employees, by Monday, commissioners plan to discuss the policy.

In a meeting with Highland General Hospital board representatives, commissioners are expected to discuss the operation of the hospital and current method of paying costs.

Lenning also said today the county has bought a mimeographing machine for county officials to use and installed it yesterday in the west office of Jack Back, tax assessor-collector.

Cost of the new machine was $615 with $165 granted the county on a trade-in, Lenning said. The first bid for two two-ton trucks for Precinct 2 was submitted today by Culbertson Stevers Chevrolet. A special meeting is set for 10 a.m. Thursday to open bids.

Flood of Bills Hit on Last Day

AUSTIN (UPI) — Last-minute bills flooded into the hoppers of both houses of the legislature with the constitutional period ending today.

Hundreds of bills were filed Thursday before the legislature quit for the weekend. But a number of House members stayed around today to put in more bills.

So far, the number of House bills for the session has passed the 1,100 mark. A total of 501 bills had been filed by senators before they quit Thursday. In addition, some 50 proposed amendments to the state constitution are on file in the House and 35 in the Senate.

Beginning next week, legislators must get approval of four-fifths of the members of the respective Houses before a bill can be introduced.

Legislation coming in at the last minute debate with virtually every subject in the books. One bill would prohibit blackouts of televised pro football games when the game is a sellout five days in advance.

One of the major proposals to come in at the last minute was Gov. John Connally's plan to create a Texas agricultural development board.

Fourteen Pampa High School students will compete today and tomorrow in an invitational speech tournament at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Mrs. Don Myers, speech teacher, said.

About 50 West Texas high schools will be represented in the contest. Students will compete for individual medals and trophies and sweepstakes awards for accumulating the most points.

Mrs. Myers and David Heath, speech and English teacher at Pampa High School, will accompany the Pampa contestants.

Ann Monroe, Suzy Palmer and Chris Dunn will enter the informative speaking event, and Jeannie Bell and Linda Gunn, persuasive speaking.

Prose interpretation entries are Betsy Goodwin, Vicky Martin, Beau Bond, and Mike Miller. Poetry contestant is Lysa Bossay. Debate entries are Jan Froley, John Carr, Gwen Brunson and Joyce Fisher.

Students who receive the most points in invitational speech tournaments will enter the district University Interscholastic League events at West Texas State University in Canyon April 15.

The regional UIL contest is April 21-23 in Odessa. Winners in Odessa compete May 5 and 6 at the state meet in Austin.

Alarms Keep Firemen Busy

Firemen answered four separate calls yesterday and today including grass, fence, cushion and roof fires.

At 9:35 p.m. yesterday, the roof at the Cabot Research and Development Plant was moderately damaged by fire when sparks flew to the roof from welding construction work going on near the building. Fire units were back in service by 10:15 p.m., firemen reported.

One fire call answered today was at 7:05 a.m. to the Highland Fina Service Station, 1300 N. Hobart. The fire was out on arrival, but paint on a gas pump was burned. Firemen said it was caused when workers were disconnecting a gasoline pump.

The fence fire occurred at 2:37 p.m. yesterday at the corner of Hobart and 23rd Sts. The cushion fire was in an apartment at 420 N. West St. at 4:45 p.m. yesterday. No damage resulted to the apartment, firemen said.

The first fire call answered yesterday was at 1316 E. Francis at 11:53 a.m. when an electric service line shorted out from the wind blowing the lines together. The fire unit was back in service at 12:15 p.m.

TSTA Delegates Support Pay Bill

Delegates to the District 9 meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association voted yesterday to support a state bill which would give Texas teachers an average pay increase of $775.

Nine Pampa school leaders are attending the two-day conference on education today and tomorrow.

School was not held here today so the local delegates could attend. About 375 Gray County teachers were registered for the annual meeting.

Pampa delegates were Mr. John Damron, school superintendent; McHenry Lane, curriculum coordinator; Cameron Marsh, Paul Payne and Joe Page, principals, and Miss Judy Neslage, Miss Nova Mayo, Wendell Watson, and Mrs. J. Daniel, teachers.

The first session yesterday also approved four other pending state bills. These were a sick leave bill which allows a minimum of five days per year, accumulating to 30 days sick leave; a practice teaching bill for state payment of $200 to supervising teachers and $50 to schools for each college student accepted as a student teacher.

Two other bills approved would establish school board authority to adopt a written policy for consultation between teachers and the boards and administration, and would also establish a maximum three-year teacher probationary period. After the term, teachers would be granted an automatic contract renewal unless terminated for a valid reason.

Crackdown

(Continued From Page 1) ed. "The violations will have to stop," Miller said. "In each case where the commission has determined there is a violation of regulations on salt water disposal — pipeline severance will be invoked."

Miller added that pollution control and investigations now constitute more than 50 per cent of the man hours time of railroad commission field men. Persons witnessing salt water dumping violations were urged by Miller to get truck license numbers and notify the Railroad Commission office or law enforcement officers in the area of the violations.

Christian Church Sponsors District Chi Rho Retreat

About 100 area youths started arriving today for the two-day World Fellowship Chi Rho Youth retreat sponsored by the First Christian Church here. Students from 17 area towns in district I are expected to participate in the retreat's theme, "Affluence and Poverty: Dilemma for Christians."

Today's schedule started at 5 p.m. with registration at the church and ends after the 9:15 p.m. service. The Rev. Ken Potee, missionary to India for 45 years, will speak at the banquet at 8:15 p.m. A resident of Indianapolis, Ind., he will also present color

His three children were all born in India where he and his wife worked in the field of education.

The Saturday program begins at 9 a.m. with discussion groups on the general theme. The second discussion group is at 10:30 a.m. and the worship service at 11:30 p.m.

After lunch, the Rev. Potee will speak again at 1 p.m. The final worship service is at 2:30 p.m.

In conjunction with the theme, an art and poetry contests are scheduled. Judging will be Saturday morning.

Discussion questions are: Where is the dilemma for Christians? Is the church pro-poor and anti-affluent? What does it mean to be affluent, or poor? What does it mean to care?

Other ideas the delegates will discuss are methods for ridding the country of poverty, ways to recognize the church's area of operations, and ways youths can help to defeat poverty.

By DAVID POLING
NEW YORK (NEA) — The best selling books in the field of religion are being written by clergymen with radical ideas, according to a national survey conducted by the Christian Herald magazine.

"Are You Running With Me, Jesus?" by Malcolm Boyd, is way out in front in the cloth-bound books. Carl Burke's "God Is for Real, Man" and Harvey Cox's "The Secular City" are the best sellers in paperback.

The survey, reported in magazine's January issue by James G. Stewart, book editor, indicates that the drastic change in religious book sales has taken place within the last decade.

Ten years ago, the religious best sellers were "The Power of Positive Thinking" by Norman Vincent Peale, "A Man Called Peter" by Catherine Marshall, and "Love or Perish" by Dr. Smiley Blanton, a close associate of Dr. Peale.

The magazine noted that the bookstores were "Christian in secular departments." Altogether some nine stores reported sales from 43 communities in the United States.

The second-place book in cloth was "The Taste of New Wine" written by Keith Miller. He takes apart the church and church members in a constructive and sensitive approach. Billy Graham's "World Aflame" is a strong third on the list.

The paperback leaders include Joseph Fletcher's discussion of the new morality in "Situation Ethics." This is followed by the "Gospel According to Peanuts."

compiled by Robert Short who discerns the Christian themes of love, forgiveness and reconciliation in the popular comic strip.

Malcolm Boyd attracted national coverage with the reading of his prayers in San Francisco's hungry; in "Are You Running With Me, Jesus?" touches the frantic, frightened pace of many believers.

"Somebody forgot to push the right button. Jesus. So all hell is loosed up; somebody is shouting at somebody else who can't help the situation; a lot of money has been lost, and about two dozen people are caught up in a cybernetic tangle. We've missed our plane, which isn't our fault, and I was due in Chicago to participate in a meeting 45 minutes ago.

"Please cool everybody off, Lord, including me, since I'm one of the people involved, and I'm hot right now and shouting angrily at someone else who can't help the cybernetic crisis a bit more than I can.

"And, Lord, please keep us human and capable of weathering such minor—and major—disasters. Don't let us turn ourselves into machines, no matter how hard we seem to be trying."

The three-quoted passages are taken from "Are You Running With Me, Jesus?" by Malcolm Boyd.

Minister Selects 2 Sermon Texts

The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, First Baptist Church pastor, will preach both services Sunday. He has chosen "Can a Christian Doubt?" for his 11 a.m. worship sermon topic.

Hoyle Phillips will direct the Chancel Choir and congregational singing in the absence of Sam Allen, minister of music, who is in a revival in Baytown.

Phillips will sing "The Wonder of It All" for special music. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "O Divine Redeemer" by Gounoud for the organ offertory.

"The Shout That Shook the Universe" is the subject the pastor has chosen for his 7 p.m. sermon subject. Phillips will again direct the music and present Mrs. Harold Craddock who will sing a soprano solo. "Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley" by Wilson is the organ offertory. Miss Lane has selected.

A reception and dinner in honor of the new pastor and his family will be held at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Important you give full attention to home and family right now and show that you are most devoted. Get rid of enemies. Put yourself of those conditions and items that are hardly helpful.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Show that you appreciate good will in which others hold you and are more than happy to cooperate further with them. Fine day for writing letters etc. Pay those bills about which you have been procrastinating for some time.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) — Do not make a hasty decision over the way and age. Make sure you have the financial support of others very carefully. Follow through on excellent ideas to get real estate improved. Be practical.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) — You have some very clever ideas for getting your work done on time. Be sure to take the time to improve your health and general appearance. Be clever in dealing with others.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

MELVIN G. HERRING, PASTOR
ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH

P.S.: CHRISTIANS ARE NOT GOOD PEOPLE

"... God be merciful to me a sinner." Luke 18:13b

CHRISTIANS ARE OUT-AND-OUT SINNERS WHO have anxieties that gnaw inside; are plagued by "self-love," which always asks, "What's in it for me?" dread death at times and try not to think about it; frequently see money, prestige, and power as the answers to security; put on a religious front; are tempted to think that God is going to "let them get by" because they're not really so bad down deep; sometimes look at the church as a "Sunday religious duty" or a good, moral environment for their children; have trouble understanding "church talk" and parts of the Bible; are downright beggars before the God who created this universe; AND THEY KNOW IT.

YET CHRISTIANS KNOW AND EXPERIENCE A NEW KIND OF LIFE AS THEY grow in the joy of the Father's forgiveness through Jesus Christ; accept Christ at His word as the very Son through whom God was at work reclaiming His fallen world; rely on Him as the Source of real life and livable "answers" for every situation; value this real life, not as a reward for moral goodness but as a free gift conferred on them by the willing sacrifice of one Man's completely adequate life; treasure the Bible as the way by which God has revealed this good news of real and lasting life; respond to their Life-Giver through the service of the church on Sundays and through the service of self-giving during the week; live out this joyful struggle with a living confidence in Christ's victory.

WHAT HAS BEEN SAID IS TRUE OF ANYONE BELIEVING IN JESUS CHRIST. If you cannot honestly confess such a faith; if you have practical, intellectual, or social reservations about such a faith and life; if you are unsure of your own convictions; if you find a tack that keeps you from fully enjoying this life,

YOU ARE A NORMAL HUMAN BEING. YOU CAN BE A CHRISTIAN. YOU SHOULD INQUIRE ABOUT JESUS CHRIST NOW.

School And You

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LIGHT: Despite the ruling of the Supreme Court, my son's teacher still leads the class in a short prayer of thanks each morning. I have no objection to the prayer as such, and I don't believe the other parents do. But don't you think someone should tell this woman she's breaking the law? We want our kids to grow up with respect for law and order.

—LAW-ABIDING MOTHER
ANSWER: If the teacher never does "anything worse" than lead her class in prayer, I'm sure St. Peter will let her through the pearly gates. As for earthly judgments, the fact that you've raised the question should be sufficient. If you let her know about your qualms, the prayers will undoubtedly cease.

I suspect your son's teacher isn't alone in still carrying on the tradition of the morning prayer, especially the one that ends, "Thank you, God, for everything." Even aside from religion, learning to be grateful for His blessings is part of a child's education. And whom else can be thank for food and birds and the world? Sometimes I wish the members of the Supreme Court could be primary teachers instead of justices for a day. Then they would appreciate the calming effect of starting the school day with a familiar prayer. Even the most obstreperous little boy momentarily becomes angelic. Who could object to such a phenomenon?

Please send your school problems to Susan Light in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, Debbie, is not quite 16, but most of her classmates are 17, and some are 18. She has been invited to a boy-girl party next Saturday night at the home of a classmate (boy) whose parents are divorced. When we asked Debbie who was going to chaperone this party she said she wasn't sure, but it would be "well chaperoned." Abby, this boy lives with his father, who has the reputation for being quite a swinger, and somehow we can't see this father staying home on a Saturday night and properly chaperoning a party.

When we told Debbie that either she would have to call and find out definitely who was chaperoning that party or she couldn't go, she became furious and said we didn't trust her. We do trust her, but do you think we're wrong in our demands? HER PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: No! Stick with your guns. There should be more parents like you.

DEAR ABBY: Here's the story: Bob and Helen were married when they were both very young. Helen had 6 miscarriages in 10 years, and she finally ended up in mental institution at age 31. It's been 16 years and she's still there, I met Bob four years ago and we fell in love.

Very few people know the behind-the-scenes story, but I've known all about it from the start. As long as Helen is living I know he can't marry me, but I don't care. We love each other and as far as I'm concerned, we are good as married. We can't live together because of family complications on both sides. I am 43 and Bob is 48, so we don't need moral lecture. But when people ask me, "When are you two getting married," what do I say? "NOT ASHAMED!"

DEAR NOT ASHAMED: If you're "NOT ASHAMED" — tell them the truth.

DEAR ABBY: Here is part of a letter my wife of four months received from her mother: "Darling, if Jim doesn't treat you right, remember, your room is waiting for you. Daddy and I love you very much and will welcome you home with open arms, so don't put up with any nonsense or you will be dirt under Jim's feet for the rest of your life."

Abby, I don't mind telling you that I am shocked and infuriated. My wife and I have never had an argument over anything more serious than how long to cook a soft boiled egg. My wife insists that she cannot imagine what provoked this kind of letter. What should be done, if anything?

INFURIATED
DEAR INFURIATED: It would appear that your mother-in-law is suffering from an unhealthy loneliness, and would like to have her little girl home again. Don't do anything. Just tell your wife to assure her mother that she is perfectly happy and let it go at that. Meanwhile, watch for other signs of "seeing trouble where there is none" — your wife's mother could be developing an illness.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

Baby Oil Keeps Hands Soft
Fashionable racing gloves have pizzaz but the cutout area exposes skin that needs protection and special care if you want to keep your soft touch. The protection of baby cream will soften the exposed area. This protection, plus a twice-a-week 5- or 10-minute soaking in warmed baby oil will keep your hands soft all winter long.

Soak Those Split Ends
If hair splits are a problem, try soaking ends in baby oil and sitting under a dryer for 45 to 60 minutes. Wash hair until it's squeaky clean and follow with a mild cream-rinse. Now your hair is ready for setting and drying and no split ends.

Justice Dept. Thinks Court Should Extend Principle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department believes the Supreme Court should extend its "one man, one vote" principle to such local government units as county boards and city councils.

The federal government made its views known Wednesday for the first time in a short brief filed with the high court in a Texas case.

The brief said the government is interested in the situation of millions of Americans "who are presently denied through malapportionment at the local level, full and effective participation in the processes of the various units of local government."

The Supreme Court ruled in a landmark 1964 opinion (Reynolds vs. Sims) that state legislative districts must be nearly equal in population as possible.

"It is the position of the United States that as a matter of constitutional principle, logic of Reynolds apply to local governmental bodies whose members are elected from districts, and require that those districts be substantially equal in population," the brief said.

Ugly words have been circulating in West Germany lately. They include such as "betrayal," "nuclear blackmail" and "sold out."

A phrase not in common use among diplomats also is being bandied about. It is "industrial sabotage."

Primarily the references have been to the United States.

The spirit is one reminiscent of the harsh language sometimes employed by old Konrad Adenauer when, as West Germany's first chancellor, he fought to restore Germany to the family of nations on a basis of full equality and regarded with the deepest suspicion any sign of U.S.-Soviet agreement which he feared might reduce West Germany to a second class nation.

And it is not too surprising that the campaign against United States and Soviet efforts to reach agreement on non-proliferation of nuclear weapons should be led by none other than Adenauer and his one-time defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss, who in the new government serves as finance minister.

Mistrust Themselves

It is a pity.

Because, after many trips to Germany in post-war years, German mistrust today seems to this correspondent less a mistrust of their allies than of themselves.

Politically, they demand reunification of Germany which any German politician knows is years away.

Economically, they push toward the East which distrusts them from years of sad experience.

But they are a dynamic people and they chafe at their own frustrations.

In Bonn, where there has been talk of a "serious crisis" in U.S.-West German relations, Chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger frankly hopes for an early invitation to visit President Johnson.

At a meeting of German newsmen, Kiesinger complained that "we talk only about disputed questions, no more about common interests."

And there are indeed common interests that were there when Germany first came into NATO.

World Stress Shifted

The Germans realize the shift in world stresses, that as the threat of Communist aggression has declined in Europe, the United States fights a war against Communist aggression in Asia.

But the little man in West Germany if he thinks at all about the $700 million that it costs to keep 225,000 American troops in Germany, regards it only as a natural cost to a rich ally facing a common enemy.

If the potential enemy were to withdraw his divisions, then the Americas also could withdraw and he would not miss them.

But, meanwhile, he wants them to stay and the U.S. balance of payments problem is not his concern except in his taxes.

And just as his taxes come
