

Jets Down Seven MIGs

SAIGON (UPI) — The blood-spattered New Year's truce ended today and U.S. warplanes shot down seven Communist MIG jets over North Vietnam in the biggest aerial battle of the war.

No American planes were reported lost.

A military spokesman said Air Force F4C Phantom jets flying shotgun for F105 Thunderchiefs clashed with the MIGs while the Thunderchiefs hammered North Vietnamese surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites.

The fighting was reported over the Red River Valley, an industrial complex between Hanoi and Haiphong.

The attack coincided with an official report showing that surface-to-air missiles had knocked down 30 American planes in the war, compared with a loss of 10 American planes to clashes with MIG jets. By contrast, 27 MIGs were shot down in dogfights since last June 17.

Until today's aerial battle, the previous American record was two MIGs downed in a single day.

The downing of seven MIGs today raised to 34 the number knocked from the skies by American aircraft.

The Phantom jets which streaked to the attack today carry two-man crews.

The military gave no details of the actual aerial fighting.

Huge B52 bombers also returned to the war as the 48-hour truce ended, bombing targets in the demilitarized zone.

As the truce ran out, officials reported 178 "incidents" during

North Vietnamese Reject Britain's Peace Proposal

TOKYO (UPI) — North Vietnam today rejected Britain's peace talk proposals as a trick by the United States "to decide world opinion."

Radio Hanoi, broadcasting a dispatch and the official North Vietnamese army newspaper, said the proposals put forward by British Foreign Secretary George Brown amounted to a "demand."

"It was nothing new compared with the United States teams for unconditional surrender," Hanoi said.

It said that according to United Press International dispatches, the United States and Britain had previous talks on the subject and that President Johnson had welcomed Brown's proposal for immediate cease fire talk "in the name of humanity."

"The British government has confused the black with the white," Hanoi said, "and has put the invaded and the invaders on the same level and shamelessly sided with the United States' criminal aggression in Vietnam."

"The Brown peace appeal was made not only for the sake of giving help to the United States, but to evade denunciations from impartial public opinion and to decide world opinion."

Brown was denounced as "President Johnson's speaker" — a mouthpiece.

South Vietnam previously said it would accept the British proposals.

'Unhappy' Youth Charged With Murder of Three

ORANGE, Tex. (UPI) — Ronnie Lee Ozio was unhappy because his father planned to remarry.

So unhappy, police said, that he drove an arrow into his father's stomach, stabbed him with a knife and shot him 20 times with a rifle.

When his grandmother and his father's fiancée tried to interfere, he stabbed and shot them to death also, authorities reported, then turned on the son of his stepmother-to-be, injuring him critically.

"I thought it was a joke at first," said Ronnie's sister, Debbie Ozio, 15, "but then I knew they were really dying."

Ronnie looked at his sister, then telephoned Sheriff G. A. Holt and surrendered.

Ronnie is 14 years old. He the time the guns were supposedly silenced—at a cost of 66 men dead and wounded and one man missing among the forces of the United States and its Allies.

On the ground, U.S. troops began a new operation aimed at ousting the Communists from their strongholds in South Vietnam's rugged Central Highlands.

At sea, U.S. destroyers duelled with North Vietnamese shore batteries and Navy and Coast Guard ships won a sea battle with Communist arms smugglers off the southern tip of the Mekong Delta.

Accounts of the first air strike against the north since the start of the 48-hour truce were sketchy, but a spokesman said preliminary reports from returning pilots indicated encounters.

Rusk Questions Role of Hanoi

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration wants U.N. Secretary General Thant to attempt to find out what the Communists will do in return if American bombing of North Vietnam is stopped.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk implied as much in a statement Sunday.

"We are prepared to take the first step... to go more than halfway," he said. "But we are entitled to know what would happen if we did."

The secretary said that Thant "has in his briefcase publicly as well as privately a commitment by us that we are prepared to stop the bombing as a step towards peace."

But, Rusk said, referring to Thant's plea for a mutual de-escalation of the war, "So far as we know, he has nothing in his briefcase on that subject from the other side."

Seeks Possible Reaction

He said the United States hoped that Thant, who has "very wide authority as far as we are concerned, will be able to probe the other side to find out what the effect would be if we stopped the bombing."

Rusk said the Communist

Holiday Traffic Toll Below Last Year's

By United Press International

The nation's motorists ushered in the new year on a relatively safe and sane note.

The traffic toll for the 78-hour New Year's weekend today ran well below last year's record toll.

The Christmas holiday weekend, 1966, was the first such holiday in 12 years that did not result in a greater number of deaths and maimed on the roads than the previous year.

The New Year's weekend toll was running about 20 per cent below the pace of last year's rate, which resulted in 362 persons killed.

Duffing the first 60 hours of the period, which ends at midnight, local time, tonight, nearly six persons were killed an hour—compared with an

DeGaulle Blasts U.S. Policy

Attack Is Second Made In Two Days

PARIS (UPI) — Ranking diplomats here today viewed President Charles de Gaulle's two bitter attacks on "detestable" U.S. Vietnam war policy in as many days as a clear sign the Paris-Washington split would widen in the year ahead.

The French leader unleashed his most stinging war criticisms to date in a pair of New Year's addresses, one of which was read in the presence of U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

In a nationwide speech to the French people on New Year's Eve, De Gaulle branded the war "unjust" and said it resulted from "the armed intervention of the United States on the territory of Vietnam."

He urged unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops and called the war "detestable, because it leads a large nation to ravage a smaller one."

De Gaulle repeated the same charges and demands in less biting terms Sunday when he received the Paris diplomatic corps at his Elysee Palace. Communist Chinese Ambassador Gen. Huang Chen was among those present.

Bohlen remained impassive as De Gaulle referred to the war as "the conflict that one has unleashed and which one cruelly prolongs on Vietnamese soil." Observers said the "one" was a definite reference to the United States.

Bohlen smilingly conversed with De Gaulle a few minutes later but declined to reveal what was said. He made no comment on De Gaulle's war statements. French sources said De Gaulle thanked Bohlen for a New Year's message from President Johnson, the contents of which remained unreleased.

De Gaulle told the diplomats France would be willing to help solve the Vietnam problem when "well-known conditions" to end the fighting had been fulfilled.

High French officials said this was not an indication of French desire to mediate the conflict but rather a restatement of France's willingness to participate in a large-scale peace conference to which Peking had been invited. None has been planned.

Reagan at Helm Of Nation's Most Populous State

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Republican Ronald Reagan, eyes glistening with tears, took office today as California's governor in a solemn midnight ceremony.

The former actor promised to "try very hard" to bring a new morality to state government.

Reagan, 55, brought to the nation's most populous state and pledged to bring more citizen politicians — his favorite term for himself — into state government.

"There is a new breeze blowing," he told newsmen. "It is gratifying that citizens will give up their lives in the private sector and come in to lend a hand."

As he put his hand on a 400-year-old Bible to become California's 33rd governor, Reagan also became the GOP's new Western star — and a major force in the 1968 presidential race. But he denied any immediate presidential aspirations for himself.

Reagan, ending a 25-year career in movies and television, assumed the governorship at the last stroke of midnight because he took the oath last week in a private ceremony he later claimed was accidental.

But he proceeded with a public ceremony before a battery of television cameras and 150 invited guests in the rotunda of the domed Capitol. He used a Bible brought to the New World by Padre Junipero Serra, founder of the California missions, to solemnly swear to uphold the Constitution.

The ceremony opened and closed with a prayer, and a choir looking down on the first-floor proceedings from a balcony sang a cappella.

Republican Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, 41, took the oath just a few minutes before Reagan as part of the same ceremony.

Reagan, in his first try for elective office, won the governorship Nov. 8 with a landslide victory over two-term Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown had moved out of his gubernatorial office and the ancient California executive mansion quietly Friday.

ONE REPUBLICAN New County, District Officials Take Reins

Thirty-First Judicial District courtroom was a busy place this morning as new district, county and precinct officials were sworn into office to begin new terms.

For some of them it was the first time. For others it was repeat duty that covered many years.

The swearing-in ceremony took the better part of a half-hour with newly-installed District Judge Grainger McIlhany presiding.

Judge McIlhany first sworn the new county judge, Sherman Lenning, who succeeded Bill Craig in the Nov. 8 election and who became the only Republican official in the court house.

Standing beside Lenning were County Commissioners Clyde Organ and Truitt Johnson, both of whom were re-elected.

Next to be sworn in as a group were District Clerk Helen Sprinkle, County Treasurer Ola Gregory, County Clerk

Charlie Thut, County Superintendent B. R. Nuckols, County Surveyor Gene Barber, Justice of the Peace Ernest Black, and two justices of the peace, Ed Anderson of Pampa in Pct. 2 and Mrs. Jess Graves of Lefors, Pct. 1.

Appointive officers also sworn in were Ray Wilson, county auditor; Doyve Massie, Joyce Combs and Wanda Carter, deputies in the county clerk's office; Mrs. Jean Scott, deputy in the county treasurer's office; and Mrs. Gwen Gray, deputy district clerk.

The two veterans sworn in today were County Clerk Thut who began his 43rd year as Gray County clerk and Ray Wilson who started his 8th year as county auditor, an appointive office. It was the 19th time Thut had been sworn in as county clerk.

Busy Week Awaits President Johnson

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson, wrapping up an extended holiday stay in Texas, plans a busy week back in Washington to settle the scope of guns and butter programs for 1967.

Johnson was expected to return to the capital tonight or Tuesday, concluding a year-end sojourn at his ranch that began 17 days ago.

The President's relative seclusion during that period was in contrast with most of his prior times there, and indicative of the heavy burdens besetting him. Those range from a decline in his personal popularity, as registered among polls, politicians and pundits, to the Vietnam war and questions of how much he can ask a reluctant Congress to do at home in the year ahead.

In a nationally televised news conference at his ranch Saturday — Johnson talked about "good authority" that the fiscal 1968 budget he will submit to Congress in January would range between $135 billion and $140 billion.

Asserting that "a great many decisions have not yet been made," Johnson told reporters: "I think we can, I think we must, I think we will continue to do what is necessary at home and send our men abroad what they need to do their job."

That was Johnson's approach when asked if the President in 1967 could again, as he did last January, ask Congress to expand social programs on the home front while the Vietnam war consumes more and more national money and effort.

"I think the nation can afford to continue... to fight wars on both fronts," Johnson replied. "I am not one who feels that we must neglect the health and education of our children; that we can overlook the needs of our cities, that we must bring progress to a stop."

This view, after the 90th Congress convenes on Jan. 10, may run head-on into a mood of caution and reappraisal expressed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and top Republican lawmakers.

A key element in Johnson's deliberations — the question of whether to seek higher taxes to pay for the war in Vietnam and hold the economy in line — also will be among matters to be resolved after his return to the White House.

Normal Life To Return in Pampa

Pampa and Gray County residents will return to normal daily life tomorrow after weeks of holiday preparations and the observance of Christmas and the New Year activities.

Although it was Jan. 2, the observance still was in force today with City Hall, many stores and business places closed because 1967 began on a Sunday.

The county went through the holidays without a major traffic accident.

The hopes of many for a white Christmas failed to materialize but Pampa did have a post-Christmas snowfall that arrived two days late on Dec. 27.

Public and parochial schools which dismissed students Dec. 21 for the annual Christmas holiday period will resume classes at the regular hour tomorrow morning.

Pampa's downtown and shopping center street decorations still gave off their holiday glow today but members of the Jaycees were expected to take them down within the next day or so. Christmas scenes in Central Park also will be dismantled.

The current holiday season is over, but — only 301 more shopping days until Christmas.

Israeli-Syria Clash Again Near Border

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Fresh fighting broke out in at least two places along the Israeli-Syrian border today.

Israeli military officials reported Syrian troops crossed the Demilitarized Zone near Korazim and opened fire in a small arms clash with Israelis that lasted for several minutes.

The officials said Syrians opened fire with mortars in another attack near Khirbet-Dica, about two miles north of Almagor. The mortar attack lasted two hours.

One Israeli soldier was reported wounded in the barrage.

Israel said it was filing an immediate complaint with the United Nations Truce Supervisory Organization.

Israel also protested border incidents Sunday.

Officials said a Syrian machinegun post at Amrat-Az-Dia on the southeastern shore of the Sea of Galilee opened fire on three Israeli tractors in a field. They said the fire was returned in the New Year's Day firefight, but no casualties were reported.

Scientists Aid In Art Search

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard today brought nuclear scientists into its hunt for a nimble thin man and a bushy bearded beatnik believed to have stolen eight masterpieces worth up to $8.4 million in history's biggest art theft.

The daring heist under cover of darkness ranked as the second largest robbery the world has known. It was laced with intrigue, including speculation a "screwy millionaire" with a secret collection may have financed it and that only two fences — in Tangier and Mexico — could dispose of the irreplaceable works.

A two-inch tip of a broken drill bit was one of several clues found after the "very professional, very clean and very tidy" robbery at the centuries-old suburban Dulwich Art Gallery — protected by an alarm system but no night watchman.

Detectives also found footprints and a crowbar-like "jimmy."

Police sources said Scotland Yard had called on nuclear scientists to examine the drill tip at the government's atomic energy authority research station at Aldermaston.

They said scientists there think they can break down the drill's makeup by a process known as neutron analysis and isolate minute mineral deposits possibly too small for microscopes to detect.

The gallery's alarm system was not connected to the studded side door in the fortress-like building through which the thieves drilled a one-by-two-foot hole to enter and remove three Rembrandts, three Rubens, one Adam Elsheimer and one Gerard Dou. (See ART, Page 3)

The DubWich thieves could not sell the masterpieces at will, however, because they would be immediately spotted in any world art market.

The 21 Scotland Yard detectives assigned to the case concentrated their search for a "thin man," nimble and artistically knowledgeable enough to be able to squeeze through the tiny door hole and skim the cream, from the 800 stored works in the museum's 340-year-old collection.

They also sought a beatnik "artist type with a bushy beard" who was seen loitering around the museum about 3 a.m. Saturday by a musician returning home.

END HOLIDAY
 WAFORD, England (UPI) — Regular customers at the Rose and Crown Pub hung their head in shame as owner George Dodds poured 200 pints of good English beer down the drain.

With good reason, Dodds, after buying up 800 pints for the holiday season, had been informed that his pub was to be torn down.

"Please drink up the lot," he begged holiday customers, "It's on the house."

They tried and tried, but in the end George was left with his 200 pints—and only one sad

Happy New Year to all of our Volunteers and to all of the people who have supported our American Red Cross throughout the year. May this year of 1967 be your happiest and best year ever!

Dates to remember: Volunteers remember Jan. 4 in the Highland General Hospital at 4 p.m. with the dedication at the hospital. This is a must girls, so please be present!

Did our people realize that this year of 1967 is our 60th year for the Junior Red Cross in our country? In 1917, our president, Woodrow Wilson decided to form an organization in our schools to assist people and especially children in the world and this organization became the Junior Red Cross. Read about the story in the American Red Cross News in your school room. This year will be celebrated by many special projects and programs throughout the year. Ask your teachers to teach you the song Junior Red Cross, Creed in the December News. The words are like this: We believe in service to others, for our country, our community, and our schools. We believe

In health of mind and body to fit us for greater service; and We believe in working for better relations throughout the world; We believe! We believe! We believe in the Junior Red Cross of America!

Sam Houston Elementary School received a tape from the elementary schools in the Philippines. Several years ago this school sent a tape of their school to the Philippines and now they are sending one to us. We hope that the children will write letters of thanks to the school and our chapter will send them on to the children in the Philippines. This is a good way to keep friendly relations with other nations. Mrs. Della De Fever is the teacher sponsor for Sam Houston school.

There will be a Standard First Aid Class in the Commissioners Room in the City Hall beginning Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. The Civil Air Patrol is sponsoring the class but it is open to the public and anyone interested in taking the course may enroll Tuesday evening. Clifford Hill, first aid instructor, will teach the class, and Richard Barrett, president of the Youth Red Cross for the area council, will

Top Repairer: Ford Body Shop

The Christmas rush has ended... the new year has gotten off to a fresh start with the new snows... and the majority of Pampans are keenly aware that we have the major portion of winter to yet endure. The streets become icy and slick, the highways hazardous, and travel in general discouraged.

But to the most of us, we have to brave the weather and report to work, pick up the children and do the shopping, weather or no weather. There's still our daily chores to do.

Perhaps you found yourself one of the unfortunate ones with a banged fender, scratched door, or missing chrome from the slick and dangerous intersections. If this woe has befallen you... you can at least look forward to a real professional job turning those scratches into a new like finish... hardly noticeable. The entire trained personnel at Ford's body shop will continue to give their customers their very best in this coming new year, as they have faithfully done in the past.

The next time the blowing snow contributes to a dented portion of your family auto... think about the excellent job Ford's will do... They work for honest hard working people and understand your money situations, and thus price their work accordingly. Whether it be a major accident fully covered by insurance... or just a small dent, they always do their very best, and you can rely on their judgement, and depend upon their work. They on-

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE—This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by The News as a public service to taxpayers.

Q—Will the IRS issue state sales tax table this year?

A—Yes, state sales tax tables will be part of the 1940 instruction booklet. They may be used as a guide for taxpayers who itemize deductions.

Q—I just sold some stock I inherited from my father. How do I determine my profit or loss and whether it was long-term or short-term?

A—Use the fair market value of the stock at the date of the decedent's death as the basis for determining whether you had a gain or loss. If you received more for the stock than its value when you acquired it, for example, then you have a capital gain to report.

Q—I recently made a payment on back taxes and now I get another bill for the same tax. What's the reason for this?

A—Payments frequently come into our offices that cannot be identified. For this reason all checks for tax payments should have Social Security numbers on them. This will identify the payment with your account.

General Says Stay In School

"Stay in school," this advice comes from Commandant of the Marine Corps, General Wallace M. Greene, Jr. In a letter currently being delivered throughout the nation to young men in their senior year of high school, the Marine General urges: "By all means complete high school and, if you have the opportunity, go to college." The Marine Commandant's letter stems from a number of inquiries from students asking advice as to how they can best plan for their future in light of their military service obligation.

In his letter, General Greene stated that it is true that the Marine Corps needs young men. But he added: "Not just any young men." The Marine Corps chief said that the Marine Corps especially needs young men who have the educational background and ability to assume the responsibilities required of the modern-day Marine.

General Greene said that an investment in one's future is high school or college education. The Marine General added that the same high school and college education which increases one's opportunities for promotion, higher technical training, and positions of leadership and responsibility as a Marine will also benefit a young man in whatever civilian career he may follow.

Cox Spending Leave Here

Lt. Larry Cox, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hamilton of 1001 Duncan, is spending his leave with his parents.

Cox, a 1960 graduate of the United States Naval Academy and a 1956 graduate of Pampa High School, is being transferred from the Pearl Harbor Submarine Base to the nuclear powered submarine, Robert E. Lee on the West Coast where he will serve as weapons officer.

Submarines such as the Robert E. Lee are capable of delivering nuclear warheads to almost any target in the world while cruising submerged and undetected. Nuclear power gives the Lee ability to cruise below the ocean's surface for long periods of time without having to refuel.

Also visiting with his parents are Cox's wife, Dianne; his two-year-old son, David; and a five-year-old daughter, Terri.

William G. Morgan invented the game of volleyball at the YMCA in Holyoke, Mass., in 1895.

Grover A. Whalen, New York official greeter for many years, was called the founder of ticker tape parades.

WHO DONE IT
COLARADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Police said Leslie Marin was the man who saw the pipe, examined it, unscrewed the valve and lit the match to see what was inside it. "It was gas. Marin also was the man treated for first degree burns."

IPSWICH, England (UPI)—Michael Stiff, a 26-year-old clerk, found a 35-foot cabin cruiser floating in the Owell River last April. But his every attempt to find the owner failed.

Finally the police gave up the search—and awarded the craft to its finder. "Naturally I'm delighted," he said. "But it will take a pretty penny to make her seaworthy."

Dear Abby— Friends Like These You Can Do Without

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have put up with this sorry couple and their 7-year-old son just long enough. They always come at mealtime. Being a well-mannered person, I can't eat in front of people, so I ask them to join us.

And when they do, they eat everything in sight. We bought curtains to close off the front windows, but they seem to know when we are home and keep ringing the bell and pounding on our door until we let them in.

We have started to eat in our basement with the lights off, but my husband refuses to eat down there in the dark anymore. How can we discourage these pests?

DEAR ABBY: Box 6070, Los Angeles, Calif. 90008.

For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 6070, Los Angeles, Calif. 90008.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

In a preceding column I told you that the first thing I did to teach my 4-year-old daughter to read was to choose a story I loved (and still do)—Carlo Collodi's "Pinocchio."

The second thing I did was to establish us most cozily together on a sofa. The third was to begin to read her the book.

In Chapter 5 Pinocchio burns his wooden feet off by leaving them in a fire and going to sleep. In Chapter 7 his foolish state makes it impossible for him to open the door to his papa Geppetto. "Oh, mommy," cried the child, "he can never let his daddy in if he hasn't any feet!"

"No, he can't," I said. "But wait a minute. Here, Geppetto gets into their house through the window! I bet he's going to be just furious at that silly puppet. No, here's what he says! And apparently, very kindly,

"My little Pinocchio, how did you manage to burn your feet?" There I stopped reading. With my finger under the next word, I said, "That first letter is an F. Judy. It sounds like ff. The last letter is a T. It sounds like th. What do you suppose that word could be that begins with ff and ends with th? And myself made the sounds of the F and the T."

"Feet!" shrieked my daughter. "That's what Geppetto said!"

That's all I did to teach my 4-year-old to read. At every point of intolerable suspense in "Pinocchio," I stopped reading as I'd stopped at the word "feet" and asked her to make the sounds of the next word's consonants with me—a word that had already been used in the situation so that its sense was familiar and had to be gotten over in order to get us out of the suspense.

When will learn to read if it's worth the trouble to learn to. But it's not worth the trouble to learn if what you're given to read are stupid books.

Our educational theorists must learn that we human beings are willing to struggle for words, for love, for anything else only if we see promise at the end of the struggle.

Halfway through "Pinocchio" my daughter was finding words like "puppet" and "donkey" a "CINCH." At its end she had become familiar with both the look and the sounds of all the alphabet's consonants—and she was able to supply words' vowels from the sentence sense. Brilliant! No. Just happy, enchanted, so in love with a book.

Personalities, Both Domestic and International Paced Women's World

By KEN LYDECKER
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI)—First families and former first families highlighted the domestic news of the women's world in 1966. Internationally, the headlines went to a woman prime minister and a princess.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, the nation's first lady, campaigned steadily with talks and tours for her program to beautify America. Daughter Lynda, 22, kept the nation's matchmakers guessing by her romance with the handsome dark-haired actor George Hamilton. Lynda also became a career girl, joining the staff of McCall's magazine.

Daughter Luci, 19, became the bride of the year when she and Patrick John Nugent, of Waukegan, Ill., were wed in a pageant-filled ceremony in Washington. The Nugents settled in Austin where Luci enrolled at the University of Texas and where Pat went to work for the Johnson family's radio-television interests. As the year ended, reports circulated that Luci would make the Johnsons grandparents sometime next summer.

In the seclusion of her New York apartment, Mrs. John F. Kennedy observed the third anniversary of her husband, the nation's first Catholic president.

As the year ended, the beautiful brunette widow once again was on the front pages—this time, as she sought to halt the publication of "Death of a President," William Manchester's account of the assassination.

On the world scene, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, 49, became India's third prime minister, the first woman to hold the post and one of the few women ever to reach such status in any government.

In March, The Netherlands was thrown into an uproar when the Crown princess Beatrix married Claus von Amsberg, despite her countrymen's opposition to his war record and membership in Hitler's youth group. Since that day, marred by demonstrations, Von Amsberg, a trained diplomat, has become Prince Claus of The Netherlands, and has won many friends in his adopted country.

Fame came to women honored for their humanitarian deeds, their writings, their looks, their political roles in '66. One woman to be remembered was Mrs. Bertha Holt, of Creswell, Ore. The 61-year-old, soft-spoken widow who has raised six children of her own, opened her doors to eight Korean orphans and helped find homes for 3,500 more.

Other prize winners include: Margareta Arvidsson of Sweden, who was elected Miss Universe of 1966 and promptly sobbed, "I want to go home. . . I can't go anywhere without a chaperone."

On the other hand, Maria Judith Remnyi, 21, a Dane now living in Cel Cerfite, Calif., smiled graciously after winning the Miss U.S.A. crown, and remarked, "It's very exciting, isn't it?"

Green-eyed Jane Anne Jayroe insisted she never thought she would be named Miss America for 1967 but then explained, "I found out being natural—and honest are the most important qualities."

Several women were active politically in '66.

Lurleen Wallace, of Alabama, was elected the first woman governor in the nation since Nellie Taylor Ross and Miriam "Ma" Ferguson turned the trick in Wyoming and Texas some 40 years ago. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R.-Maine, remained "queen of the senate" on the strength of her reelection victory. A Houston lawyer, Barbara Jordan, was elected to the state senate and became the first Negro member in a century. . . and its only female.

There was the usual succession of births, marriages, divorces and deaths as the year unfolded.

Princess Margareta of Sweden gave birth to an eight-pound son, the first for her and London businessman John Ambler. It was congratulations for Empress Farah of Iran, an eight and one-half-pound boy. Princess Alexandru, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II named her daughter Marina Victoria.

Wedding bells rang both overseas and at home, in addition to the one that echoed through the White House.

Rebekah Alexander, a 22-year-old niece of President Johnson, eloped with David George Shufam, of Kilgore.

Famela Turnure, personal secretary of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, was married to a New York stockbroker, Robert Timmins.

One royal marriage linked Princess Anne Bernadotte of Belgium with the American author, Jean Arthur Lowenthal, of Baltimore, Md.

elect Charles Percy and his Illinois Republican senator wife announced the engagement of daughter Sharon, 21, to Jay Rockefeller, son of John D. Jr., and himself now in politics—elected on the Democratic ticket to the West Virginia legislature. Sharon's twin sister, Valerie, was murdered in September. (See PERSONALITIES, Page 7)

DEAR ABBY: Not too long ago our son got in trouble with the law. It was his first offense, but quite a bit of publicity resulted from it, which was unfortunate for both him and us.

Ever since this happened, our friends have been very standoffish, and have made up wild excuses so they won't have to be seen with us. How can we regain their friendship?

DEAR PUZZLED: Don't try too hard to regain the "friendship" of those who would drop you for this reason. They were not "real" friends in the first place. How they react when the going gets rough is the best test of friendship.

DEAR ABBY: I am stationed in Vietnam and like all the guys here I like to get mail, but this one girl from back home has been making it embarrassing for me. She decorates the outside of her envelopes with cute sayings, such as "Deliver Da Letter Da Sooner the Better," and "Sealed With a Kiss" then she puts a big lipstick print on it.

She even draws hearts and cupid with our initials all over the front of the envelope and to top it off she douses it with some kind of strong perfume. Boy, do I ever take a ribbing at mail call. How can I get her to cut out all the jazz without making her think I don't want to hear from her?

DEAR SHY: Write her that you would appreciate it if she'd keep her sentiments inside the envelope—and tell her why. Some guys like their letters gift-wrapped, but if you aren't one of them, let her know it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "RAISING THEM ALONE" IN ANN ARBOR: Fatherhood is imposed upon a man without inquiring whether or not he is equal to the task. That is why there are so many fathers who have children, but to few children who have fathers.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems.

Teenage Knitters Like Snappy and Sleek Sweaters

al dozen sweater candidates and decided to go with the chevron sweater I'm featuring today. It's a far cry from the loose and limp Sloppy Joe that became a campus craze in the late '40s.

Today's teens voted for a turtle-neckline, action-ready raglan sleeves and a new twist in stripes. They decided to belt the sweater low on the hip for extra fashion power. And the price was right. This chevron pullover, easily made from five skeins of Coats and Clark "Red Heart" knitting worsted, can be knitted for about $6.

Easy knitting won more votes. The two-color stripe is deceiving. It lets you look like an expert, while the sweater actually is made in a simple sock-knit stitch, the basic learning-to-knit stitch.

Knitting directions are easy to follow and they are available from this newspaper. For your chevron pullover directions — Pattern 105 — send $0 cent along with your name and address to this newspaper, Stitch-in-Time, Box 503 Radio City, New York, N. Y. 10019.

KNIT KNACKS
Ask any good knitter, teen-age or then some: The key to knitting a properly fitted garment is gauge. If you knit the number of stitches and rows to an inch given in the instructions and have your own correct measurements, your garment will fit.

Always make a proper gauge swatch first. Knit a small swatch on the size needles to be used for the main part of your garment. Cast on stitches for four inches. Then, alternate K and P rows until you have a square swatch. Bind off and block the swatch.

Be sure to steam or block your swatch. After all, you finished garment will be blocked before you wear it.

Measure the center two inches to determine the gauge you're knitting. If your gauge is wrong, try a size larger of smaller needle. Remember, it's the gauge that's important, not the needle size.

ber in the Percy's sumptuous home in suburban Chicago. The slayer was still sought as the year ended.

Women from all walks of life saw their marriages end in a divorce court during 1966.

Patricia Lawford, sister of the late president Kennedy, became the first member of the family to obtain a divorce. She split up with actor Peter Lawford.

The oldest daughter of New York governor Nelson Rockefeller, Ann Pierson, ended her marriage with an Episcopal priest, the Rev. Robert Pierson. Dins Merrill, the actress and heiress to a coal fortune, ended her 20-year marriage to wealthy Stanley Rumbough Jr., of New York, and wed actor Cliff Robertson.

Andrew Mead Lawrence, a 34-year-old gold medalist of the U.S. Olympics ski team, was divorced by David Lawrence, also a former Olympic skier. Comedian Phil Silvers and his wife of 10 years decided to call it off in an amicable agreement. Mrs. Maria Stone, 86, won a Mexican divorce from Edward Durell Stone, 68, world famous architect, on grounds of incompatibility.

In the "firsts" of 1966:

Gale Ann Gordon flew a propeller-driven T-34 training plane to become the first woman in the navy's history to make a solo flight.

Mrs. Joretta Matthews became the first Negro student graduated from Auburn University when she received a master's degree in education.

Linda McVeigh of Anaheim, Calif., became the first female editor of the Harvard Crimson. Death came during the year to women famous in business, the letters and entertainment world.

Elizabeth Arden, founder and owner of the world-wide cosmetics concern and owner too of thoroughbred race horses, died her 80s.

Author Kathleen Norris died in San Francisco at the age of 85. Sophie Tucker, last of the "red hot mamas" died in New York at 79. Others to die were Marguerite Higgins, famed correspondent who helped to cover World War II, the Korean conflict, and Vietnam; Hedda Hopper, the movie columnist; Gertrude Berg, the "Molly Goldberg" of radio and television; and Mrs. Emmanuel Celler,

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR TUESDAY, JAN. 3
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Arguments, discussions and trouble can ensue between persons unless the Golden Rule is really lived today and tonight, so do whatever your own, particular work happens to be and refrain from doing anything that can stir up animosity and discord—and this applies between nations as well as individuals.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Higher ups and associates are having quite a lull, whether verbally implied or literally, so be sure to keep your own counsel. Do only what is best for you. Later, you can be of assistance to others.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — This is not a good day to do any planning with coworkers, since they are in rather a peculiar mood. Keep busy putting all around you in better order: add objects to desk, etc. that improve artistic arrangements.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Don't jeopardize present security by going out to some very expensive fun, such as gambling that could cost you a very pretty penny. Avoid flighty individuals. Be very economical instead. Much that is worthwhile is practically free.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — Be careful you do not start any arguments at home or you will regret it later. Others at home could be very upset and it behooves you to be conciliatory. Show that you are truly devoted.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Better await a better day to get those important matters righted since you are not to be very upset right now. Look out for that other driver and be safe yourself as well. Get busy with regular work.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Show others that you appreciate their cooperation and you find it easy to add to your pocket income. Don't ruin your welcome with big business persons. Stay away until absolutely necessary.

LIBRA: (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Get busy and plan for whatever is uppermost in your mind during a.m. even if later you may feel you are not accomplishing a very great deal. This could be very last-minute success prone in the future. Good friend gives fine advice, but do nothing as yet!

SCORPIO: (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — Morning is ideal for coming to some agreement with good pals on a very worthwhile project. Then do your work very efficiently. Take time tonight to take exercise, etc. and rebuild your energies.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Be sure you carry through with whatever bigwigs want from you in a.m. but be on guard for one who gossips incessantly. Gain good will during day. Tonight there may be unpleasant influences about. Rest.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Hit on some good idea that will catapult you into the higher brackets during a.m. but be sure you do not hit a higher-up. Fine day for character building as well. Show that you have brains — use them in right direction.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Getting your bills paid early is very wise so that you later have time to plan for greater success and efficiency. Please make by doing some duty long neglected. The future is what you yourself make it.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — If you get together with associates, much can be accomplished in benefit all concerned. Further study is then necessary tonight. Being altruistic is fine, but be sure you get your just share of profits tonight.

Have you had a good talk with a teen-ager lately? Today's teens are really with it. Bright attitudes towards all kinds of subjects and solid, sensible ideas, too. Teens are doing things with that wonderful intense involvement that's part of being young. One thing teens are doing is knitting — six million strong. And there's a definite about what they knit as they are about their convictions. Sweaters are in — not the shapeless bulkies knitted so furiously by yesterday's teens — but snappy, good-looking sweaters that stay simply sweaters or are knit down to become an above-the-knee sweater dress.

If you're a teen, or the mother of one, you know that today's young knitter started early. It seems to be the magic number of years for most young knitters to begin.

A leading magazine for teenage girls did a survey on knitting not long ago. After reading it, I took my own straw poll in and around the neighborhood. The results were the same. When a teen knits, she's almost sure to be clicking her needles on a sweater.

Which sweaters are most likely to succeed with teens? Pattern is important — either knit-in or by working with two more colored yarns. "Something should be going on at the neckline," one girl pointed out. "And the total look must be trim. You know — neat! Turned on!"

My hand-picked panel of teenage knitters looked over several

African Prints Run Rampant

Fashion beats the bongo drums for African-printed cottons and the primitive message comes through loud and clear for resort '67, reports the National Cotton Council.

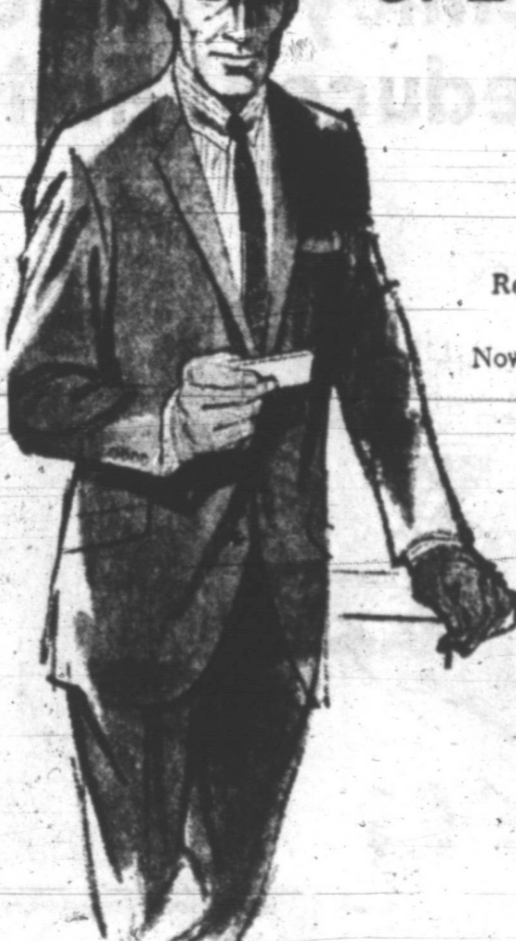

The unconventional prints are unique in design and equally unique in their endless variety. Sunburst pattern, fluttering butterfly, diamond designs, circles, squares and stripes — often in combination with one another — are only part of the African print potpourri. Heavy cottons as well as sheers, take kindly to the primitive prints and colors, soaking up the burnished golds, the deep burgundies, the sunwarmed browns, the midnight blacks and the royal blues.

Touched by the native spirit, designers conjure up savage sportswear shapes that bare the midriff, expose a shoulder or wrap and tie around the silhouette tribal style. Even more conventional silhouettes like A-lines and tents take on an added dimension when crafted from dramatic African prints.

In step with the new beat is a long, slim caftan fashioned from a red, black and white border print. Adding to the authenticity of the African design is a Swahili saying clearly visible on the side of the robe that translates "good luck and long life."

Tips on Teen Underpinnings

One manufacturer (Bestform) has created a Teen Dream collection, replete with First Bras and Next Bras. The First Bra, for example, has the virtue of growing with the girl, thanks to stretch nylon cups. As a "starter" they suggest the young miss measure around her body under the bustline, pulling the tape snugly. If the measurement is an even number, add four inches to the total. If it's an odd number, add five inches.

That sum is the true bra size. The cup size is measured around the body but across the center of the bosom. If that measurement is the same as the bra size, the little lady is ready for her first AA underfashion. If the cup measurement is one inch more than the bra measurement, her size is an A cup. Both are available in teen bra styles.

Here are tips on how to wear a bra properly. Slip the straps over the arms, bend forward and then hook the back.

Certain basic bra design features are a must for the miss. The sides of the bra should be cut low to assure complete freedom of arm and body movement. Straps should have some form of stretchability for care-free action and a center stretch section between the cups provides comfort.

For very special occasions when a fuller silhouette is wanted, padded early teen bras are available. However, be sure they are "fiberfill" models. Fiberfill is soft and natural looking and offers the proper minimal amount of shaping.

All cotton or Dacron and cotton bras are young favorites. These can be machine washed, tumble-dried and require no ironing for shape retention.

COMFORT AND CONTOUR are the features a teen-ager should look for when she selects her first bras. Sidelight, the bra (left) has deep cut sides, smooth center section and stretch straps for care-free body movement. This bra is ideal under sweaters and sportswear. Floral bra (right) has only molded fiberfill padding and stretch tabs for comfort. This cotton, machine-washable bra has lace trim for party wear. These are by Bestform.

NEW YORK (NEA) — How young is "old enough" for a girl to wear her first bra?
Old enough, underpinning designers maintain, to enjoy looking like a girl. That "new look" begins at 10, 11 or 12. At this ripe young age diminutive distaffers have become aware of feminine fashions, including the need for bras of their very own. Obviously, bras styled for mature figures are not the answer. Pre- and early-teen fashion devotees require the proper bra wardrobe, designed for growing and changing needs.

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD
While we are all in the process of making resolutions for the new year, the leaders of Girl Scout troops might find this helpful.

"A LEADER'S RESOLUTION" I shall study my girls so that I may understand them.

I shall like my girls so that I can help them.

I shall learn... for they have much to teach me.

I shall laugh... for youth grows comfortable with laughter.

I shall give myself freely... yet I shall take so that they may acquire the habit of giving. I shall be a friend... for a friend is needed.

I shall lead... yet I shall be aware of pushing.

I shall listen... for a listener prevents combustion.

I shall warn them when my experience warrants it.

I shall command when actions merit it.

I shall not overlook mistakes... yet I shall not blame them.

Lastly, I shall try to be that which I hope they think I am.

The skills which the girls learn in Scouting must include the intangible skills, progress in understanding, in ability to get along with one another and others and all the tremendously important attitudes and ideals. These are the really important skills. Make sure there is time for this in the troop life. Do give the girls the opportunity to develop these vitally necessary skills by doing. This takes time. It may be a very slow progress. Do not be discouraged if the girls do not progress as quickly as you would like. Sometimes we have to compromise on the speed but we never compromise on the goal.

The Girl Scout program supplements, it never duplicates. If certain needs and interests of the girls are met by the home, the church, the school or other youth groups, the leader helps the girls develop new interests and abilities, thus enriching their lives.

Warts Contagious, Seldom Dangerous

CHICAGO, Ill. — Warts, often disfiguring and sometimes painful, are rarely a danger to health. About half of all warts eventually disappear even if untreated. This good news comes from the American Medical Association, which notes that a wart is a viral infection of the skin, a virus-caused growth.

Warts are contagious, warns the AMA, and can be transmitted from one person to another. Scratching or picking at them can cause them to spread, so can shaving over them or brushing and combing the hair if the warts are on the scalp.

Jane will not be in the office she has pledged to fulfill a volunteer position in Scouting.

Leaders should attend the January neighborhood meetings. Important plans are in the making.

Fight Poverty: 'Go Bankrupt'

FRESNO, Calif. — A Fresno man and his wife offer a unique service to fight poverty — they help people declare themselves bankrupt.

Tom Hutchison, 35, and his wife Anyce, 30, say they started the service after they lost their own home and other possessions because of debts and joblessness.

Their service consists of merely typing up bankruptcy forms which already have been filled out by clients.

Their advertising slogan is equally uncomplicated. "Fight poverty. Go Bankrupt!" it reads.

Hutchison emphasizes that the service is not for legal advice. "We give our clients sympathy... show them how to file the papers... after a while they have a go-at it themselves."

NEW YORK (NEA) — When a new collection of swim and sportswear is designed by a firm that makes its home in a land of sunny beaches and the blue Mediterranean, you can expect the best.

Prior to the opening of its first showroom in New York, an Israeli firm (Gottex) showed its line to the press at a preview hosted by Dri Max Leron, trade commissioner, at the Israeli Trade Center here.

The colors used by designer Lea Gottlieb were bright enough to make a fish blink. Softly tailored with a smooth line to complement the body, the collection consists of over 50 models in a wide range of swimwear combinations. Two-three- and four-piece beach sets in gold geometrics, squares, circles, and triangles were shown. Bikinis that fit like second skins have matching top overblouses and jackets and here is a choice of co-ordinated miniskirt shifts, bell-bottom slacks, flowing floor-length culottes and even beach hats.

Sweeping stripes and bold geometrics were teamed with flowery prints in the same multipiece ensembles for a striking unco-ordinated — "co-ordinated" look, combining OP audacity with feminine flattery. These multipiece beach sets will carry the wearer from snorkeling to patio dancing.

Dressmaker touches of ruffles, pleats, crocheting and jeweled embroidery turn simple suits into eye-catchers. Many one-piece suits in Helena and Antron nude look — a high collar front neckline and a low back or daring side cutout.

You can get an interesting and lively discussion started in almost any group these days just by asking the question: "Do you think Mrs. Kennedy will marry again within the next few years?"

If the group is composed of both men and women you are almost sure to get a split decision. The men's reaction will be "Of course, she'll marry again, a beautiful woman like that." Men apparently assume the only reason for a widow's not remarrying is not having any chances.

But most of the women will say emphatically, "Of course, she won't remarry any time soon. Why should she? What has she got to gain? As Mrs. Kennedy, widow, she is one of the first ladies of the world. How long would that last if she were suddenly Mrs. Somebody Else?"

All of which goes to prove once again that men are the real romantics and women are the practical-minded ones.

Don't be surprised if the discussion grows a little heated because chances are no one will say or even stop to think, "I don't know Mrs. Kennedy so how could I possibly guess whether or not she will ever marry again?"

All Americans who read and watch television know Mrs. Kennedy in a way that seems personal enough to permit their saying flatly, "Of course, she will marry again" or "Of course, she won't."

The reason is that no other American woman has had her life, its triumphs and its sorrows, shared vicariously by so many. And that is why speculation about her personal future is such an interesting topic.

Whenever a young and attractive widow, after a period of mourning, resumes her social life, friends and acquaintances start speculating on whether or not she has matrimony on her mind.

Food Supplies Will Be Bountiful In 1967 But Prices Are Predicted to Rise

By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government economists predict that housewives will find food supplies generally larger in 1967. But prices at the grocery checkout counter will average higher than in 1966.

Farmers currently are stepping up production of a number of foods including pork, poultry, eggs, and citrus fruits. And government specialists expect increased production also for foods including fresh fruits, potatoes and most frozen vegetables.

Milk production is expected to be up slightly from the depressed level of 1966. But the increase, as federal experts see it, will not go far enough to make much change in the amount of milk available for each person in the larger 1967 population.

For beef eaters, the outlook is mixed. They get good news in reports that farmers and ranchers are likely to begin expanding breeding herds in 1967 to point toward bigger future supplies. But in the short run this move will mean that beef slaughter, which reached an all-time record in 1966, will turn down in 1967.

How about prices?
The Agriculture Department predicts that in 1967, consumer costs for pork and poultry will be down from the 1966 average. Eggs will be cheaper, too, and the record citrus crop being harvested will mean lower prices for oranges and grapefruit.

For other foods, the department outlook in 1967 follows:

Beef: Prices may go up, particularly in the second half of the year.
Milk: Prices as a whole are likely to average above 1966.
Fish: Slightly higher prices expected.
Fruits: Bigger supplies of peaches, pears, and fruit cocktail should hold prices close to 1966 levels. But a drop in supplies of apple products may mean you'll pay more.
Vegetables: Prices may average below the '66 level from fresh products, but canned vegetable prices are expected to rise. Prices for frozen products probably will go up, too, in spite of bigger supplies.

Potatoes and beans: Prices for potatoes should be moderately above a year earlier and sweet potatoes will cost substantially more than a year ago. But dry bean products may be cheaper in 1967.

Coffee and Tea: Coffee prices in 1966 declined slightly and a further slight drop in average retail prices is expected in 1967. For tea, the Agriculture Department expects next year's prices to remain close to current levels.

Bread: The average retail price of bread and other wheat products may rise fractionally, but consumers are not likely to be hit with anything like the sharp increase registered in 1966.

Orange Bowl To Answer Big One

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida and Georgia Tech, two bundles of offensive dynamite with short uses, meet in the Orange Bowl Classic tonight to answer the big question: Can super-duper Florida quarterback Steve Spurrier pull out a victory over a team with superb balance on offense and defense?

It's been that way all year, but the oddsmakers say that Tech 9-1 should win it by about four points over the pride of Gainesville, Fla. A crowd of more than 72,000, including numerous bands for the colorful national television showing, is expected for the 8 p.m., EST kickoff.

Spurrier won the Heisman Trophy this year because he was the best quarterback in the land. Time after time, he used his cool head and talented arm and toe to pull games out of the fire for Florida in the final quarter. The All-America quarterback led the Southeast team Conference in total offense in each of the past two seasons.

The Gators also have conference rushing leader Larry Smith, a light-footed sophomore halfback, and SEC pass-catching leader Richard Trapp, a young with the knack for getting in the open for Spurrier's missiles.

The Gators averaged 24 points a game to Georgia Tech's 25, but it is generally conceded that Tech played a tougher schedule.

Tech's offense features the running of tailback Lenny Snow, the best in the South, and the lefty passing of quarterback Kim King. King is known to run with the ball if he cannot find a receiver in the clear.

Conditions Ideal For Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Two teams goaded by the desire to prove themselves, the University of Southern California and Purdue, reached the showdown today in the 53rd Rose Bowl football game.

Sunny weather, clear skies and a temperature in the 60s insured that the 21st meeting of the Big Ten and Pacific Eight teams would be under ideal conditions at the 2 p.m. (PST) kickoff.

Purdue, although "second best" in its conference, was a two-touchdown favorite to make its first appearance in the Rose Bowl, a victorious one. The Boiler-makers had been dreaming of playing in the Rose Bowl ever since the closed agreement with the coast conference was started in 1946.

But they made it this year only because Big Ten champion Michigan State was ineligible for a repeat visit after having played and lost to UCLA last year. Purdue feels it can prove the Big Ten's "second best" is good enough to win.

Southern California, although its own conference champion, was not a popular choice for the Rose Bowl in its home area. The Trojans lost to crosstown rival UCLA but were picked for the post-season game because of a better percentage record as a result of playing one more conference game. And the chorus of objections became even more vocal after the Trojans dropped a 51-0 decision to Notre Dame in the final game, to end with a 7-3 season mark.

Area Teams Go Tuesday

Pampa Junior High and area basketball teams come off the holiday trails this week with junior high teams seeing action Thursday and area teams going into action Tuesday.

Pampa Junior High eighth and ninth grade plays host to Dumas Thursday with Lee Idle. The Lee seventh hosts Phillips and Pampa seventh plays at Borger Houston, both games coming on Friday.

In area action Tuesday Briscoe hosts Lefors in a doubleheader and Miami plays host to Allison for three games while Canadian gets in shape for its tourney starting Thursday by playing host to Wheeler while Mobeetie travels to Kelton and McLean hosts Samnorwood in a pair of games.

HAPPY VINCE Lombardi enthusiastically raises his hand in victory after his Green Bay Packers won the National Football League Championship by whipping the Dallas Cowboys, 34-27 Sunday. The Packers meet the Kansas City Chiefs Jan. 15, for the Super Bowl title.

Huskers Seek Bowl Revenge

United Press International — NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Nebraska's hefty Cornhuskers, with an assist from the weatherman, set out today to extract revenge from Alabama before $1,500 Sugar Bowl spectators.

However, there was no indication the Crimson Tide, which whipped Nebraska 39-28 in last year's Orange Bowl, was ready to surrender.

The nationally televised game was set to start at 1 p.m., EST. As game time approached, it was apparent weather would be an important factor.

The weatherman said some rain was likely and officially set the possibility of showers at two chances in 10. The temperature was expected to be in the upper 50s or low 60s.

A light drizzle was not expected to hamper either team, but a heavy New Orleans-type downpour could spell disaster for Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's passing attack.

Favors Ground Attack

On the other hand, a slippery field and a wet ball would be just right for Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney.

Nebraska, which finished the season with a 9-1 season record and No. 7 in the country, depends mightily on a crushing ground attack by its heavy-weight backfield.

Top 10 scorers in each league

Packers Hogtie Cowboys

By United Press International DALLAS (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers' defense in the clutch and Bart Starr's ability to pick the Dallas Cowboys' secondary apart at the seams earned the Packers their 10th National Football League title and a shot at the American Football League champion Kansas City Chiefs.

The Packers proved in their 34-27 showdown victory over the Cowboys before 75,504 fans in the Cotton Bowl Sunday that they were worthy NFL standard bearers for the Jan. 15 Super Bowl in Los Angeles.

And, the seven-year-old Cowboys proved they were worthy challengers for anybody, anytime when they fought back from 14-0 and 34-20 deficits to carry the fight right down to the final 28 seconds when Packer safety Tom Brown picked off a fourth-down Don Meredith pass in the end zone that could have sent the game into sudden death overtime.

Praises Dallas Offense

Packer linebacker Lee Roy Caffey said Dallas had "the most explosive offense you'll see."

"We had 'em by 14 and all of a sudden it's tied up," Caffey added, then spoke solemnly about the last ditch goal line stand in the fading moments that preserved the Packer triumph and paved the way for him and his mates to earn the $15,000 winner's share in Los Angeles.

The Packers, leading by 34-27 at that time after Cowboy Bob Lill had blocked Don Chandler's conversion effort after the fourth Packer touchdown, staved off four assaults from their own two-yard line. Despite an aggressive offense the Packers were manhandled five times for 29 yards in losses by the Cowboys' great front four. But Starr hit 19 of 28 passes for 304 gross yards, including 17, 51, 16 and 28-yard strikes to Elijah Pitts, Carroll Dale, Boyd Dowler and Max McGee in that order.

The one to Pitts on the opening 77-yard Packer drive was followed immediately by a "gift" touchdown when Jim Grabowski scooped up Mel Renfro's fumble of the ensuing kickoff and rolled untouched 18 yards for the touchdown that built up, that 14-0 lead.

The Cowboy kept their poise and surged 65 and 59 yards for three and 23-yard scoring runs by Dan Reeves and Don Perkins to knot the count, then drove 72 yards to set up Danny Villanueva's 11-yard field goal after the 21-yard Starr to Dale pass had sent the Packers back in front 21-14.

It was 21-17 at halftime. And in the third quarter the Dallas defense shook Pitts loose from the ball and recovered it to spoil a good Packer drive.

The Cowboys converted that good fortune into a 32-yard Villanueva field goal to pull within a point at 21-20, but Starr hit Dale for 45 yards and Dowler for the 16-yard scoring toss to widen the gap again to 28-20.

Starr had some poise, too. After being thrown for an 11-yard loss by Willie Townes back to the Cowboys' 28-yard line,

Still, the Cowboys came roaring back and made it 34-27 on a 68-yard Meredith-to-Frank Clarke bomb.

Then with 2:19 left Chandler's 17-yard punt gave Dallas the ball on the Green Bay 47.

The Packers held on to a Dallas fourth and four situation. Meredith rolled to his right under tremendous pressure from inebriated Dave Robinson and had to hurry a lobbing throw toward Bob Hayes in the end zone. Brown moved in and picked it off to save the day.

Harvesters Host Rebs Tuesday

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

Pampa's net-ripping Harvesters run back into district 3-4A action Tuesday, beginning at 8 p.m. in Harvester-Fieldhouse when they take on league-leading Tascosa.

The high-scoring roundballers of coach Terry Culley haven't rested much since returning from Hobbs, N.M. where they were runners-up in the Hobbs Invitational, losing, 110-98 in the finals to the host squad.

Pampa had a practice session Saturday upon arriving back to get the knots worked out for the battle for first place with the Rebels. Tascosa leads the league with a perfect 6-0 record while Pampa and Amarillo are tied for second at 5-1 and a host of teams are third with two losses each.

Tascosa is 12-2 for the season and is averaging 58.7 points per contest and won the first annual Amarillo city-tournament this past weekend. The Rebels lost to Amarillo in the double-elimination affair but bounced back to take the Sandies in the finals.

Pampa is bouncing along with a sporty 14-2 record, having lost only to Monterey and Hobbs and sports a 70.9 per game scoring average for the season while giving up 57.5 points per contest.

In 3-4A warfare the Harvesters have a 64.4 per game offensive average and a 56.2 defensive mark.

For the season forward George Bailey continues to lead Pampa scoring with a 19.9 average while 6'6 center Bo Lang has a 18.4 mark and senior Steve Williams is at 13.3 and senior Rick Foster at 11.9.

In league play Bailey is averaging 17.2 points per game, Lang, 17.1, Williams, 14.6 and Foster, 11.4.

Lang had his best night, scoring-wise this season against Hobbs in the finals when he scored a career high of 32 pts.

Chiefs Visualize Sunny California

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Kansas City's newly crowned American Football League champions dreamed aloud today about that warm California sunshine. But for Coach Hank Stram, it was all business.

"Bring 'em on," Stram said. "We're ready for the National League now."

Stram will take his club west Wednesday for a week and a half stay at Long Beach, Calif., where the Chiefs will prepare for the first pro-football classic, the Jan. 12 Super Bowl that pits his AFL champs against NFL winner Green Bay.

Stram guided the Chiefs to their most important win Sunday, a 31-7 conquest over the Buffalo Bills before a record AFL title game crowd of 42,000 in rain-clicked War Memorial Stadium.

Dawson, Garrett Star

The pudgy field boss had his personal heroes in the Chiefs' finest hour — quarterback Len Dawson who fired two 29-yard touchdown passes and rookie halfback Mike Garrett, a Los Angeles native who left the University of Southern California campus last June to become one of the AFL's most respected ball carriers.

Garrett, who lost a bid for rookie of the year honors to his Buffalo counterpart, Bob Burnett, slipped through the Bills' defensive unit for two fourth-quarter touchdowns.

The Chiefs had Buffalo on the ropes from the opening kickoff when a Bills' tackle, Dudley Meredith, fumbled on his own 31. Fullback Jerrel Wilson recovered for Kansas City.

Two plays later Dawson found tight end Fred Arbanah in the end zone to put Kansas City in front 5-0, with only 1:43 gone by in the first quarter.

Buffalo mounted its sole scoring effort less than four minutes later. When quarterback Jack Kemp fired over a Kansas City blitz to flanker Bert Dubenion at midfield, Dubenion carried the rest of the way for a 69-yard touchdown play.

In the second quarter Dawson found Otis Taylor free at the 10. Taylor broke two tackles enroute to Kansas City's second score.

Interception of a Kemp pass late in the half set up a Mike Mercer field goal from 32 yards out to give the Chiefs a 7-2 halftime edge.

A long Dawson pass to Chris Burford on the four yard line paved the way for a fourth quarter TD. Four plays later Garrett pushed through from the one for the score.

The Chiefs recovered a Buffalo fumble on the Bills 42 yard line and several plays later Garrett hit paydirt on an 8-yard run for the final touchdown.

Federal Loot Vs. Conscience

As the last sheet was torn from the calendar the pundits, commentators, financial and editorial writers paused with pen in hand to take a retrospective look at the year 1966. They found that it was a good year in many respects. The economic indices continued to reflect a general state of affluence that the nation has enjoyed for 20 years. The blatant evidence of this affluence has bothered those who find it difficult to reconcile the tragedy that men are facing in Vietnam with a persistent demand at home for a life of greater ease and comfort. The truth is that while the output of United States industry poured a flood of material well-being across the land, there was no stinting on military requirements.

The productive capacity of this country has become so great that it can sustain a major war effort without interrupting our peacetime lives, and judging by reports at the end of the year, there is growing evidence that the communist world is not a monolithic force after all. Serious as it is, the war in Vietnam and the threat of world-wide communism may have less of a bearing on the shaping of the American future than events that have been taking place right here at home.

In the midst of prosperity, there has been a rising discontent that is difficult to explain. At a time when major industries and business leaders are devoting a large part of their energies to helping solve broad social and economic problems, a deep-rooted movement is sweeping across the country that could well undermine the private enterprise, free market economic system.

During 1966, extensive investigations into the motives and the performances of many basic industries reached a new high. The maladjustments of inflation toward the end of this past summer, consumers turned their wrath on retail distribution. Housewives picketed stores and demanded price reductions. Simultaneously, striking unions made a shambles of the government's wage guidelines. Wage increases threatened to outstrip productivity increases. All of these things promise to raise a fundamental issue to which most citizens have given no thought.

'Bugging' And Privacy

Recently there has been quite a bit of discussion going on about whether Robert F. Kennedy did or did not authorize the installation of listening devices by the Federal Bureau of Investigation while Kennedy was attorney general.

Kennedy says he did not, while J. Edgar Hoover, the respected head of the FBI, says he did not wiretapping or "bugging" without the approval of the attorney general.

But in all the furor which has arisen, it seems to us there is little discussion of whether the FBI or any other governmental agency should be listening in on the private conversations of individuals, with or without the approval of the attorney general.

The Fourth Amendment to the Constitution, a part of the Bill of Rights says: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the person or things to be seized."

During the Christmas season just past the tiny postoffice at Christmas, Florida, was deluged with 300,000 pieces of mail. Seems that folks in many of the other states packaged their cards after addressing and affixing stamps and sent them to the Postmaster for re-mailing. It's an old trick to get a seasonal postmark. Incidentally, the town of Christmas was established as a fort on Christmas day in 1835 during the Seminole Wars and the soldiers couldn't think of a better name for the place.

Today's smile: Manny Williams, the funniest magician in show business, tells us about the business tycoon who suffered from insomnia and asked his doctor for some sleeping pills. The M.D. refused because the tycoon was allergic to them. The insomnia then asked: "Can't you give me some of the twilight sleep I've been hearing so much about?" Again the M.D. declined saying: "That's only for labor." "Well," said the big business man, "haven't you got anything for management?"

In many foreign countries the telephone service is operated through the government postal system. Subscribers are called upon to subsidize the postal rates. When you consider the annual deficit of the U.S. Post Office Dept. you can be thankful that private enterprise is operating the phone company here.

Thoughts while shaving: Holland is always pictured as the land of the windmills, but that method of generating power dates back to ancient Persia in the 7th Century A.D. History relates that's where the wind was first harnessed to provide power for grinding meal.

As the new year opens, we should all vow to try a little harder to understand what makes the wheels go around in the United States. That is the biggest task we face in 1967. Only through understanding can we erase excessive discontent and mistrust. Only through understanding of bread and butter facts of our economic system can we hope to retain the good and abundant life that we have enjoyed in the past — to say nothing of freedom and our stature as a world power.

Country editor speaking: "Inflation dates back to the time when the first politician was asked to say a few words."

Some congressmen are rightly concerned at the tendency to invade individuals' lives in this manner.

We are not in favor of any more laws, but it might be well for the lawmakers to tell all governmental agencies they must obey the Constitution and keep their listening devices out of people's personal lives.

WASHINGTON — First order of business facing the Senate Ethics Committee in the impending new congressional session is what to do about investigating the political finances of Senator Thomas Dodd, D-Conn. Authority to probe is being vigorously challenged backstage by Dodd's attorney and several of the six-member committee.

It is contended this phase of Dodd's embattled affairs falls within the jurisdiction of the Senate Rules Committee—which conducted the sensational "Bobby" Baker investigation.

That's flatly refuted by Senator John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., author of the resolution establishing the Ethics Committee.

Cooper, a member of that committee as well as the Rules Committee, maintains the Ethics Committee has full authority to probe anything relating to senators, and cites as proof the debate on his resolution. He was asked this specific question by Senator Clifford Case, R-N.J., and answered with an unequivocal affirmative.

Following is this significant exchange: Case: "Will the Senator tell us on whose complaints and allegations of improper conduct he conceives the committee would move into action?" Cooper: "I cannot foresee every case. It could involve action by a member of the Senate. Evidence might come to the committee from such creditable sources and of such importance that the committee would feel it should look into it."

PAUL SCOTT

Coopering in every way. Therefore, avers Sonnett, "If this committee were to undertake an investigation of this matter, I would be deeply concerned that the examining revenue agent might be prejudiced by anything the committee might say or do. It must be recognized that the tax aspects of this question cannot be separated from any investigation by the committee."

3. No immunity from investigation is being claimed by Dodd. But his attorney insists that "jurisdiction to investigate campaign expenditures for many years has been and still is with the Senate Rules Committee. I am sure that all would agree that the law is clear that the proceeds of testimonial dinners, as distinguished from campaign dinners, are personal gifts and may be used by a senator as he sees fit. A tax problem arises, if at all, only if funds contributed expressly for campaign use are in fact used for purely 'personal' purposes, as distinguished from 'political' purposes."

While the committee has taken no formal action on this challenge, its staff has been compiling information on Dodd's finances. This was begun in the fall at the direction of Senator John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman with the concurrence of Senator Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, vice chairman.

This data will be available should the committee decide to proceed with the probe. In that event backstage reports have hinted at possible court action against the committee. There are successful precedents for that. In a notable case years ago, then-Senator Hugo Black, D-Ala., was blocked by the Supreme Court from poring over files and records he had seized in an investigation.

SIGNIFICANT DEBATE — In the event of a court contest, the Senate's lengthy discussion of Cooper's resolution would be certain to play a key role. Indicative of that is the emphasis Dodd's attorney put on this debate in his brief to the committee challenging its authority to explore Dodd's political finances. The lawyer repeatedly cites the Senate discussion in support of his position.

scope of Cooper's resolution. "I am opposed to such broad definitions that I don't know, when I transact a little business, whether I am in conflict with this declaration or not," said McClellan. "I believe this resolution needs clarification. That language could well be stricken from the resolution and it would still be pretty good."

"I appreciate the question raised by the Senator," replied Cooper. "The last clause in the paragraph should stay in — which is in conflict with the proper discharge of his duties in the public interest."

"Who is going to determine that?" demanded McClellan. "The committee," said Cooper. "If some allegations were to be made of improper conduct, the committee, in its judgment, would have that as its task."

"I have a direct financial interest in the tax structure because I am earning an income and am a taxpayer," continued McClellan. "Who can say that I am in conflict with my own interest when I vote to reduce taxes? I use that as an illustration. I do not believe we wish to go that far."

Senator Hickenlooper heartily seconded this view, saying: "Many senators own farm lands. When they vote on any farm program, say, to increase payments, they are voting on something which will directly affect them. There are numerous other similar situations. I join the Senator from Arkansas in questioning the desirability of that section."

Senator Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Rules called the Senate's attention to the fact that his committee had considered and rejected Cooper's proposal. "We discussed it thoroughly, and it was defeated," said Jordan.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Source Outside Family Might Help Glue-Sniffer Newspaper Enterprise Assn. A mother writes that her son, 16, has been sniffing glue used to make model airplanes for two years. It is affecting his schoolwork. He gives as an excuse the fact that it helps him forget his troubles — some of which I suspect he wouldn't have if he quit sniffing glue.

This is a serious and difficult problem because sniffing will injure his health, especially if he tends, as many do, to increase the dosage gradually. The chemicals in the glue poison the liver, heart, kidneys, blood-forming organs and the nervous system.

Sniffing is indulged in by youngsters who would rather forget their troubles than conquer them. Everyone has troubles and infancy is not too soon to start teaching a child to face up to them. Each year that goes by without this lesson having been learned makes the learning much harder.

This teenager needs help from an authoritative figure outside the family that he admires and respects. This might be an athletic coach, teacher, clergyman or doctor but it would have to be someone who could gain his confidence by offering friendship and understanding.

Q—What would cause a 3-year-old boy to stutter and what is the cure for this? A—All 3-year-old children make repetitive sounds when through excitement they try to talk too fast. The cure is to listen attentively, encourage the child to speak more slowly and never mention stuttering or show any concern over this perfectly normal behavior. Stuttering is said to be the only disease that develops after rather than before the diagnosis is made. Once you brand a child as a stutterer he will always be self-conscious about his speech and self-consciousness is at the root of his stuttering.

Q—My 2-year-old has urticaria pigmentosa for which we have been told there is no cure. What is the prognosis? Do you know of any treatment? A—In his disease wheals develop, then disappear after several weeks leaving brown spots where they were. In some children the disease clears up during puberty and in others it lasts throughout life. It is no threat to health. Calamine lotion with phenol or any other soothing lotion may be applied for the itching. Pyribenzamine by mouth often helps to clear up the pigmented spots.

Decision Needed Soon on Finances; Members, Lawyers Question

Wit and Whimsy

The best thing about the future is that it comes only one day at a time.

In a Midwestern state, a newspaper reported that a local man had donated a loudspeaker to his church in memory of his wife.

The young couple walked into a car dealer's showroom, and they were taken back by the suggested price of the car. Mr. West (the husband) — The cost of this compact car is almost the cost of a big car. Mr. Blank (the salesman) — Well, if you want economy, you gotta pay for it.

Potter, 57-year-old Virginia Republican national committee man, will be named executive director of the House GOP Campaign Committee. That has been decided by Representative Bob Wilson, R-Calif., chairman, who picked Potter to succeed Jack Mills, who is leaving to become assistant to former Senator Earle Clements, D-Ky., president of the Tobacco Institute.

The government's controversial auto safety standards for 1968 cars will be modified before they are published in final form at the end of January. Dr. William Haddon Jr., director of Agency, will modify some of the National Highway Safety Agency, will modify some of the requirements to meet the barrage of complaints against them. The Post Office's deficit for the current fiscal year will exceed $1.2 billion, and it's a cinch Congress will be asked to raise mailing rates. Congressional leaders in charge of this legislation already have been privately told such a boost is inescapable.

The Justice Department is reportedly considering antitrust prosecutions of companies which publish much more advertising than their competitors. The Federal Trade Commission is reportedly considering action to ban the common newspaper practice of reducing the rate per inch of space when bought in large quantities. The U. S. Senate may hold hearings on a similar practice by television networks.

If the federal government may ordain how much advertising may be placed in a publication or on a broadcasting network, it will have the power to put any newspaper or broadcaster out of business whose political views the bureaucrats do not like.

In religious allusions, the circle is the emblem of eternity and the eternal God.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books on the shelves of Lovett Memorial Library Jan. 3, 1967 are:

"The Islands" — W. Storrs Lee; introduces one by one the major island groups that have helped to mold the Hawaii of today.

"My Way Was North" — Frank Dufresne; an unforgettable picture of early days in Nome and Fairbanks, a table of breath-taking adventure in the white cold.

"The End of Eternity" — Isaac Asimov; long out of print and in great demand, here again is the famous science-fiction classic.

"Way Station" — Clifford D. Simak; top-grade science fiction by one of the foremost authors in the field.

"Giles Goat-Boy" — John Barth; a highly contemporary, comic version of the hero's quest to discover the secret of things.

"The Captain" — Jan de Hartog; another of the author's memorable descriptions of life at sea, this novel contrasts events on two dramatic runs on the Mürmansk convoy route during World War II.

"Pay the Doctor" — Elizabeth Selbert; eye-opening doctor story about "the system" of hospital residencies and the problems it brought to one couple.

"The Blind Cave" — Leo Katcher; a fast-paced thriller as immediate as tomorrow's headlines, yet cast in a classic form.

"The Cool Contant" — John Ball; it was going to be a hard murder to solve, and the fact that it had taken place in a nudist park added obvious problems, especially for Detective Virgil Tibbs of the Pasadena Police Force, who, as a Negro,

Brown Is Home on Leave

Fireman apprentice Archie R. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Brown of 1213 S. Sumner, is now home on a 21 day leave.

Brown, who is stationed aboard the anti-submarine warfare carrier USS Kearsarge, has recently returned from seven months duty off the coast of Vietnam.

Kearsarge, a 47,000 vessel manned by 2,500 men, is equipped to seek out, find, track or destroy enemy submarines.

Twice, once in 1962 and once in 1963, Kearsarge served as the prime recoverer ship for the recovery of American astronauts.

Brown enlisted in the Navy 13 months ago.

found extra trouble when he investigated a case.

"Run, Fool Run" — Frank Gruber; the story of a man who has given up his job and gone to Death Valley to shoot himself because the wife he loves has left him. He is offered $50,000 for a special job; but he must turn murderer to earn it.

"Most dangerous of all sharks is the great white shark, also called the 'man-eater'."

Indigo, obtained from a group of plants grown in the Far East, is the oldest dye known to man.
