

House Faces Huge Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson will submit a record $135 billion budget to Congress Tuesday, including the largest defense outlay since World War II.

The fiscal 1968 budget will be $8.3 billion above estimated spending of $126.7 billion in fiscal 1967, which ends June 30. Johnson said the increase includes about $5 billion more for defense, with most of this going to finance the war in Vietnam.

The cost of the war for fiscal 1968 is estimated at $25 billion—five times as much as it was two years ago—and the cost could climb even higher during the coming fiscal year.

War Figure Doubles

A year ago, Johnson calculated the Vietnam outlay for fiscal 1967 to be $10.5 billion. The actual cost is nearly twice that figure.

The new defense budget, totalling about $73 billion, will be the third largest in history, exceeded only during the last two years of World War II.

The nation spent $76.8 billion for defense in fiscal 1944 and $81.3 billion in fiscal 1945 at the peak of its wartime outlays.

But the nation is much richer now than it was during World War II. The defense budget in fiscal 1945 was 37 per cent of the U.S. Gross National Product (GNP); in fiscal 1968, it will be only 9 per cent of the GNP.

The President has proposed a 6 per cent income tax surcharge to support the war while financing the Great Society.

Trim Non-Military Items

But Congress is expected to make a major effort to trim the fat from non-military spending before considering any tax increase.

The $135 billion figure announced by Johnson is the traditional "administrative budget" which presidents stress.

But Social Security, highway and other trust fund outlays will add about $35 billion more to federal spending during fiscal 1968, boosting the total "cash budget" to about $170 billion.

Assuming Congress goes along with Johnson's request for a tax increase, fiscal 1968 revenues are estimated at $126.9 billion, $9.9 billion over fiscal 1967 revenues of $117 billion.

That would mean a deficit of $8.1 billion in the coming fiscal year, compared to $9.7 billion in the current fiscal year.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson asked Congress today to enact $4.1 billion in expanded benefits for the elderly, including a 20 percent over-all increase in Social Security payments financed by increased payroll taxes.

In a special message calling for Social Security increases ranging from 15 to 59 percent for the 23 million people receiving payments, Johnson proposed:

—A three-step increase in the ceiling on wages subject to Social Security taxes, now $6,600. It would go to $7,800 in 1968, to $9,000 in 1971, and to $10,800 in 1974.

—Increasing to 4.5 percent the schedule calling for the rate increase to go to 4.4 percent in 1969, and revising upward to 5 percent the scheduled 1973 increase to 4.85 percent. The present rate, effective the first of this year, is 3.9 percent for cash monthly benefits, plus 0.5 percent for Medicare. Thus the proposed rates for future years would actually be 0.5 percent higher than the figures cited by Johnson when Medicare is added on.

—A 15 percent increase for beneficiaries.

—A boost to $150 in the monthly minimum benefit for a retired couple with 25 years of coverage, and to $100 a month for an individual in that category.

—A rise in special benefits "paid to more than 900,000 persons 72 or over, who have made little or no Social Security contribution—from $35 to $50 monthly for an individual; from $52.50 to $75 for a couple."

—Special benefits "for an additional 200,000 persons 72 or over, who have never received benefits before."

The Social Security benefit boosts would become effective on July 1 of this year. They would include:

—A 59 percent increase for 2.5 million people now receiving minimum benefits, bringing the current $44 a month minimum for individuals to $70 for (See JOHNSON, Page 3)

Nicaraguan Army Troops Fire On Demanding Crowd

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—Fighting between Nicaraguan army troops and anti-government demonstrators raged today in the early morning hours in downtown Managua. Casualties were reported heavy.

An unknown number of persons were dead. At least 50 wounded were being treated at El Retiro Hospital and others were being sent to a military hospital.

(In Washington, the State Department said reports from the U.S. Embassy in Managua placed the dead at "less than 20." A department spokesman said the situation in Managua was confused.)

The fighting broke out last Sunday afternoon when army troops fired on a large crowd of anti-government demonstrators.

Headed by opposition presidential candidate Fernando Angulo, the crowd—estimated as high as 50,000 persons—marched to the headquarters of the Nicaraguan national guard (army) to demand pledges of non-violence and non-interference by the armed forces in Nicaragua's current presidential campaign.

The crowd fanned out along a seven-block stretch of Avenida Roosevelt, the city's main street. It was then the shooting erupted.

Infuriated by the shooting, the crowd rioted, swarming through the streets. A number of fires were set.

There were reports snipers were firing at troops from rooftops in the city.

Tropical Nicaragua, the largest of the Central American countries. Its population is estimated at 1.6 million. Some 160,000 persons live in Managua, a pleasant city near the Pacific.

Baker Faces Stiff Cross Examination

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Senate aide Bobby Baker was to finish direct testimony on his own behalf today then face a stiff cross-examination by the prosecution in his U.S. District Court trial.

Baker's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, indicated he would question the ex-Senate Democratic secretary for about another hour and a half.

Then it would be the turn of U.S. Atty. William O. Bittman to quiz the 38-year-old defendant, who is being tried on charges of income tax evasion, larceny and fraud.

There is a possibility that the case which began two weeks ago today, might go to the jury late this week.

When court recessed for the weekend Friday, Baker had culminated his second day on the witness stand with an emphatic denial that he had stolen a penny of nearly $100,000 given him in 1962 by officials of California savings and loan firms.

Instead, the former Capitol Hill insider said, he had delivered the cash payments to the late millionaire Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla.

The defendant faces a maximum of 48 years in prison and a $47,000 fine if convicted on all nine counts of the indictment.

Major Catholic Colleges Ponder Break Away From Church Control

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The mushrooming trend toward giving laymen a formal and legal say in the administration of Roman Catholic colleges and universities was focused today on the University of Notre Dame.

The 43 black-robed priests who control the destiny of the school which became synonymous with U.S. Roman Catholic higher education, met today to discuss choosing between the traditional or the new.

The movement to give a formal voice to Catholic laymen in the burgeoning affairs of the church's institutions of higher learning, is to the public, new.

But there is evidence that Catholic educators have long pondered the causes and effects of priests and nuns relinquishing some or all of the control they have held over the schools for decades.

St. Louis University, a 150-year-old Jesuit-run school, announced Saturday it is putting its ownership and administration in the hands of a board of 18 laymen and 10 Jesuit priests. A nearby women's college run by the Sisters of Loretto, is making an even more radical departure. Webster College is in the process of becoming entirely a secular school run by a board of laymen.

A group of bishops who sit on the governing board of Catholic University in Washington, D.C., is reported urging a new board to be set up, half laymen and half priests.

Similar action is reported being contemplated by Fordham University, DePaul of Chicago and Carroll University in Cleveland.

The Very Rev. Paul C. Reinert, St. Louis president, said the move is involving laymen "in the direction and policy-making responsibilities of the university... is very much in keeping with the spirit of the Vatican Council II."

Father Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, said much the same thing and added that the growing complexities and business responsibilities of running a major university demanded business as well as religious talents.

Bell Telephone Sets $269,000 For Pampa Extension

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company today announced it will spend $194 million in Texas during 1967, including $269,000 in Pampa, for the largest construction program in the company's history.

George H. Newberry, local manager, said the construction expenditure in Pampa will go toward extending and improving telephone service here.

The 1967 state-wide construction program by Southwestern Bell is $14.3 million more than in 1966, also a record year.

The company plans to build eight new telephone buildings and make additions to 35 others in the state this year. In 1966, five new buildings and 25 additions were completed.

Southwestern Bell, at year's end, had 3,857,992 telephones in Texas. The company expects to pass the four million mark in the state before the end of this year.

Southwestern Bell serves about 87 per cent of the total telephones in Texas. It is the largest employer in the state, with the exception of the government, with 27,700 employees and a payroll of $171,800,000 in 1966.

The economic impact of Southwestern Bell's 1967 construction program will be felt in nearly every community served by the (See EXTENSION, Page 3)

AFTERMATH — Gene Harlan of Skellytown, who has been charged with murder with malice in the fatal shooting yesterday of Gene Thomas Hudspeth of Borger, is pictured with Deputy Sheriff W. H. Price of Skellytown.

Jets' Collision Fatal to Five

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Two Marine Corps A4B Skyhawk jet bombers collided during a heavy rain Sunday, then crashed through a retirement community apartment complex. Five persons, including one of the pilots, were killed and three others were injured.

The two aircraft were coming in from Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn, N.Y., to land at El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, located just five miles from the 3,600-acre Leisure World, Laguna Hills.

The crippled aircraft smashed into adjacent, eight-unit apartment buildings, spewing debris and flaming fuel over a 300-foot area. Only one wall of the two buildings was left standing.

Authorities said many other residents escaped death or injury because they were attending noon church services.

The civilians killed were identified as Leon Lauderbach, 76, a paraplegic; Harold Bakerman, age unknown, and his wife, Margaret, 52, and H. H. Kenyon, 86.

The dead pilot was Capt. James H. Powell-Milford, N.J., who was attached to an East Coast reserve squadron.

Capt. Powell successfully ejected at about 400 feet, but suffered fatal injuries when heavy winds whipped his parachute against a cement wall at the retirement community.

Borger Oilman Shot To Death

By DORIS E. WILSON News Staff Writer

A 42-year-old owner of a Skellytown oil field supply company has been charged with murder with malice aforethought in the Sunday shooting of a 44-year-old independent Borger oil operator.

Gene Harlan, 3 Skellytown resident for 36 years, is free on a $10,000 personal recognizance bond following the shooting of Gene Thomas Hudspeth of Borger shortly before 11:30 a.m. Sunday in front of Harlan's place of business in Skellytown.

Justice of the Peace W. G. Grant of Skellytown pronounced Hudspeth dead at the scene. He said a bullet, fired from a .300 magnum rifle, entered Hudspeth's body "just above the heart."

District Attorney John Gilliam of Clarendon, conducting the investigation at the shooting scene Sunday afternoon, said Hudspeth had gone to Harlan's home earlier in the morning and had threatened Harlan with a pistol.

Then, according to Gilliam, Harlan left his home and went to his place of business. Hudspeth followed.

Gilliam said Hudspeth parked his late model car in front of the oil field supply company, got out on the driver's side and walked around to the back of the car. Still armed with a .25-caliber pistol, Hudspeth started towards the supply company yard, when he was felled by a bullet fired from the rifle, according to Gilliam.

Hudspeth's car, parked at the scene of the shooting, was packed with wearing apparel and a few groceries.

His body was taken to the Simpson Funeral Home in Borger.

Justice of the Peace Grant said Jimmy Maxwell, a customer of Harlan's, was a witness to the shooting.

According to Gilliam, Hudspeth was convicted in October, 1966, of burglarizing Harlan's oil field supply company in December, 1965. He was out of (See OILMAN, Page 3)

Pampa Records First Traffic Fatality in '67

Pampa recorded its first traffic fatality in eight months Sunday with the death of P. O. Sanders, 70, of 316 N. Gray, who died Sunday evening in Worley Hospital from injuries suffered in a collision with a Pampa police car at the intersection of N. Gray and W. Francis late Saturday night.

According to a police report, Sanders, a Pampa abstractor since 1926, ran a stop sign and was in collision with a police car driven by Preston E. Bailey, Pampa police sergeant.

According to the report, Sanders failed to stop following the accident and was found minutes later by highway patrolman Standley Schneider after he drove his heavily damaged auto into a dead-end at the Santa Fe railroad tracks south of W. Atchison St.

Sanders' death was the first city fatality in 1967 and the first in Pampa since May 2, 1966. Pampa recorded two traffic deaths in 1966.

Services for Sanders, who was owner of the Sanders Abstract and Title Co., will be at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Duemel Funeral Chapel conducted by the Rev. Don Hauck, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Members of the Masonic Lodge will be in charge of services. Masons are asked to meet at the lodge hall at 9:30 a.m.

Pallbearers will be members of the Lodge.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery beside his wife.

The casket will not be opened at the service.

Sanders was born in Mobeetie on Jan. 26, 1896, and moved to Pampa from Wheeler in 1926. He married the former Lucy Breeding in 1925 at Wheeler. She preceded him in death in 1956.

He was a member of Pampa Masonic Lodge 966 and the First Methodist Church of Wheeler.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Lockhart, 2322 N. Wells; one brother, Don F. of Canyon and two grandchildren.

Cabot Seeking New Products, Markets

EDITOR'S NOTE — In connection with the promotion of Henry P. Donohue, Jr., to the position of general manager of Cabot Corporation's Machinery Division, which employs some 500 persons at its plant west of Pampa, and to acquaint Pampanians with this Division of Cabot, The News is running a series of three articles, the first of which appears here today.

According to Lovett C. Peters, executive vice president of Cabot Corporation, new products must be developed and new markets found if its Machinery Division is to continue to grow and prosper.

To head up the new marketing and product development program, as announced in The News Sunday, Cabot has appointed Henry P. Donohue, Jr., as the new general manager of the Machinery Division. Donohue will report directly to the president's office and has already started analyzing the Division's strengths and weaknesses.

"The Division's greatest strength," Donohue reports, "is people. I was immediately impressed by the industry, skill, and loyalty of the people working for us here in Pampa. Our liabilities, however, are just as obvious. Although we are presently back-ordered on both backhoe and gun tube business and our profit improvement program has strengthened our financial picture, we need new products or new markets to take up the slack created by the discontinuation of our oil field pumping equipment line."

"Such an effort is going to take time and money," Donohue continued. "We have a highly specialized operation and have to find areas where our particular skills will outweigh our relatively small size in comparison to other manufacturers of heavy equipment.

"This means that product development and marketing costs are going to be high. You cannot start producing a sophisticated piece of equipment overnight, nor is it easy to enter markets where your company is relatively unknown. However, I feel that our organizational strengths together with the continued backing of our parent company—Cabot is one of the nation's 500 largest industrial corporations—will enable us to meet our objectives."

"1967 looks like a good year for the Division. Because of the unfortunate situation in Vietnam, our gun tube operation is continuing to operate at capacity.

"We can also look forward to a fair volume of work resulting from Cabot's carbon black plant (See CABOT, Page 3)

FIRST SIX MONTHS Medicare Meets Few Problems Here

The Medicare program marked its first six months of operation on Dec. 31, 1966, and, from Gray County reports, it appears to have been fairly successful.

In a recent report to the Highland General Hospital board, Bill Robertson, administrator, said 442 patients were admitted under the program between the starting date, July 1 and Dec. 31.

He said the program had worked out better than was anticipated.

Virgil Holloway, officer-in-charge of the Pampa Social Security office, concurred with Robertson by stating many of the expected problems such as over-crowding of hospitals and loss of a person's individual freedom of choice of doctors were never realized.

This is not to say some individual problems did not arise. Holloway explained, but considering that about three million persons were admitted to hospitals under the program and over four million claims for medical insurance were made, the problems were small indeed.

There has been some delay in the payment of claims especially under the medical insurance provisions. These have been caused primarily by improperly completed or incomplete forms, Holloway explained. Some of the more common errors are: claims form not signed, street or box number shown but city and state left off, name not shown as on the enrollment card, claim number not shown or shown incorrectly, and itemized receipts (paid) bill not attached.

Holloway said his staff would be happy to assist anyone in completing the claims forms, especially the first time so the individual could see what to do.

"We will help complete any of the forms," Holloway stated, "but we urge the people to let us help fill out the first one or check the one already completed before it is mailed. In this way errors can be caught before the insurance company gets the claims forms," he said.

Another problem for some people has been the receipt of incorrect enrollment cards or non-receipt of the cards; Holloway commented. In approximately one-half of the non-re-

Dear Abby... Parents Usually Know What's Best

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 17. A girl I think a lot of went to the hospital, so I went to visit her there and I carried her some flowers and a small gift. (An inexpensive necklace.)

The next morning she called and said her mother said she had to give the necklace back. Abby, I like this girl a lot. She is 15 and her mother doesn't let her date. I have never met her mother. What should I do about this?

DEAR BEWILDERED: Obviously the girl's mother does not want your necklace on her daughter's neck, and if you don't want the girl's mother on YOURS, you had better accept its return graciously.

DEAR ABBY: I have several grandsons in the service and I boil when I see the neighbor boy who is 22 years old sitting around doing nothing.

This boy is sloppy fat, and he brags that he stays that way on purpose to keep his blood pressure up so he can't pass the physical. He refuses to hold a steady job, and work only long enough to draw unemployment compensation.

He tells everybody that his hobbies are eating, sleeping and draft-dodging. When there are so many fine young men volunteering, and even married men being called up, why should fat, lazy slob be allowed to get away with this?

DEAR GRANDMA: I do not have all the facts, and neither do you. But don't believe everything the boy says. It is a good bet that there is more wrong with him than he admits, and he is only covering up with braggadocio talk. If he were fit material for the service, they would have a uniform on him faster than you can say Vietnam.

DEAR ABBY: Here is another "I LOVE MY HUSBAND—but" letter: My husband, who is really a wonderful person in every way, teases our two little boys until they get so angry they cry. For instance, the baby is just beginning to walk, so my husband will stand in front of him, and step from side to side so the child can't get thru the doorway. Or he will grab a toy, or ball the six-year-old is playing with, and hold it high up over his head so the boy can't reach it.

I am sure my husband loves the boys as much as I do, so I can't understand why he teases them this way. I want the boys to love their father, but if they grow up harboring resentments, I wouldn't blame them. Is there any importance to this? THROUBLED MOM

DEAR TROUBLED: You are wise to notice and attach significance to your husband's "teasing." He is in a sense "competing" with the boys, and flaunting his superiority.

This is bold immaturity. Explain this to your husband and urge him to "grow up" or his little boys will become men before their father does.

Grant-in-Aid To Be Presented by DKG Chapter

Theta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society met recently in the home of Mrs. John Morris of White Deer.

Miss Mary Ewing, president, presided during the business meeting. Members answered roll call by naming a favorite painter and one work. Miss Ewing announced the gift of an official rose bowl presented by Epsilon Mu Chapter of Clarksville, Texas. Members voted to give a grant-in-aid to an outstanding senior girl planning to enter the teaching profession. Mrs. Aubrey Jones, Pampa, will be in charge of receiving applications and making the final selection of a recipient.

Following the business session, Mrs. Austin Ruddick sang "A Song of Peace," accompanied by Mrs. John Vantine.

Mrs. Marguerite Hudgins, business teacher of White Deer High School, spoke on "Teenagers in the World of Work." She stressed the great need for business people to learn to get along with others. "More people lose their jobs because of inability to get along with others than for any other reason," she said.

Discussing power attitudes, Mrs. Hudgins pointed out that teenagers should show willingness to work and be orderly, cheerful, prompt, trustworthy and polite. In addition the young person needs to develop emotional stability, learn to accept corrections in the proper spirit, and avoid "the curse of the ever-ready alibi."

Mrs. Morris, assisted by Mrs. Hudgins, Mrs. C. C. Kelly and Mrs. Katie Strickland, served refreshments to approximately 30 members.

FOR TUESDAY, JAN. 23
GENERAL TENDENCIES: An excellent day and one of peace and practical service to others, especially concerning their long-range plans and interests. The week-end will be a good one to concentrate more closely upon what you will have time to do after what is helping others get their wishes. Round out your activities.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Listening to a mass of good friends will increase both your income and harmony within the household. This brings long-time benefits. TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — You can increase success, if you handle daily duties very efficiently so that you will have time to add some new material to your agenda. Contact those individuals who have rather unusual ideas which are colorful and yet practical.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 23) — You have certain personal matters that need your immediate attention and you must not confide in others for best results. A close tie to having trouble and be of assistance. Don't turn a deaf ear.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 23) — Some new best friend of yours could be just what the doctor ordered for you now and you are able to furnish information you need readily. Anything that has to do with science or education can be ideal. Be happy.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — If you are presently in one of those very fascinating young ones who must be taught not to be so self-conscious and to be willing to assist others more, these are the days when you should be at it. Education started along educational lines will be most beneficial. Contact those individuals who have rather unusual ideas which are colorful and yet practical.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — A high event will give you advice based on much experience in the past which can be of great benefit to you. Fasting into interesting and fun work can be beneficial, also. Put more love into your life.

MEANWHILE: (Nov. 23 to Dec. 23) — Follow that hunch where some big opportunity is concerned. Otherwise you will miss the boat. Others have good ideas to offer. Be sure you ask questions that are leading questions. Make your head way.

Baker, executive administrator for the Moody Foundation.

The College Faculty Program was begun by AAUW in 1962 when the Rockefeller Brothers Fund granted $225,000 for a three year experimental program in 11 southeastern states, including Texas. Aimed at women 35 years and older who were holders of at least a bachelor's degree, the program enabled 26 Texas women to re-enter college training to prepare themselves for college teaching.

Because of the critical shortage of college teachers the program is being reactivated in Texas. Mrs. Agnes Burney Starnets of Dallas and Mrs. James Younglove of Houston shared in the $2,000 gift from the J. C. Penney Co.

College Faculty Program chairmen of the 84 Texas AAUW Branches are seeking qualified women over 35 who have at least a bachelor's degree and have made a definite decision to teach in college and commit themselves to professional work in higher education. The fund furnishes partial support, that is tuition fees, and a personal stipend which is based on need. Only Texas women are eligible for grants from Texas funds.

Australian Native Speaker for PE Wives' Society

Mrs. Hugh Cypher of Borger was guest speaker at the meeting of Petroleum Engineers' Wives Society held Tuesday morning in Hotel Borger.

A native of Australia, Mrs. Cypher recounted interesting experiences in Australia and New Guinea.

Mrs. Harry L. Allen, president, conducted the business session at which members planned a Valentine Husbands Night Dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 10 at Suthpans in Borger. Bridge and other games will follow the dinner.

Members attending the luncheon meeting included Mrs. W. F. Nidiffer, W. W. Phillips, E. L. Hudson, James D. Moring, Orville Perreboom, Robert Scarth, S. A. Evans, Paul McLaughlin, Don DeGreer and Harry Allen.

Guests welcomed other than Mrs. Cypher were Mrs. John Laucht and Mrs. Jack Mustard.

seven outstanding Texas women in Texas schools preparing to teach Texas students," said Mrs. Berry. "We will need at least 30 applicants from which to choose the 1967-68 awardees and alternates."

Application may be made locally to the chairman of the College Faculty Program, or to Mrs. J. W. Hutchings, P.O. Box 2302, Longview, Texas 75601, or to College Faculty Program, Association of University Women, 2401 Virginia Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037. Since completed applications must be in Washington no later than Feb. 1, 1967, applications and requests for further information should be made without delay. Winners of the awards will be announced May 15, 1967.

March of Dimes Relation to UF Is Explained

Queries why The National Foundation of the March of Dimes does not participate in United Fund drive were answered by Don Lusher, vice chairman of the Gray County Chapter for the March of Dimes, today.

"If the foundation were to participate in United Fund, its program activities, now unified under central administration, would be subject to control by more than a thousand budget committees in as many different communities," Lusher said.

"Birth defects are a national problem and problems that threaten the health of an entire nation must be attacked by means that are national in scope," he said.

"To be most effective in its fight against birth defects, Lusher explained, the foundation must have freedom to carry out the recommendations of the respected scientists serving on its advisory committee. Broad-based medical care and research programs must be planned and administered nationally, not fragmented, Lusher said.

Rodeo Plans Topic For Directors' Meet

Directors of the Top of Texas Rodeo-Association will meet at 7:30 tonight in the conference room of the chamber of commerce in the Hughes Building.

Plans and contracts will be discussed for the annual Top of Texas Rodeo to be held July 26-29, according to Bill Tidwell, president.

He also proposed revising the social security law to provide:—Benefits for "severely disabled widows under 62."

—A 12 per cent increase in the earnings exemption, upping it from $125 to $140 a month, and from $1,500 to $1,680 a year which retired workers could earn while still receiving Social Security payments.

—An increase from $2,700 to $2,900 the amount above $1,680 a year "up to which a beneficiary can retain $1 in payments for each $2 in earnings."

—Social Security coverage for an additional half million farm workers.

—That federal service shall count as Social Security credit for U.S. employees not eligible for civil service benefits when they retire, become disabled or die.

receipt notices brought to our attention, the people had received the cards and did not realize what the card was until they were shown a copy. Steps are being taken to speed up the time it takes to get an enrollment card or to get a duplicate card. Holloway explained. He emphasized that loss of cards should be reported to his office in Pampa so that a new card could be issued.

People should carry their cards in their billfolds or purses so as to have the cards with them when they enter a hospital or go to a doctor's office, Holloway said.

The next six months will be a period of refining the operating procedures and many of the present delay situations will be worked out, he concluded.

The Pampa Social Security Office, Room 196-A, Hughes Building, 400 W. Kingmill, is open Monday through Wednesday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. On Thursdays the office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 7:45 p.m. The telephone number is MO 4-3381.

expansion program. Construction will start on a new 90-million pound carbon black plant in Pleasanton, W.Va., sometime this year. We also have a chance to obtain some business from the construction of another Cabot carbon black plant in Northern Spain. However, this is one-time business. We cannot count on getting this kind of work every year," Donohue continued.

"In addition the sales of our Franks mobile well servicing equipment—continue to be soft, and the market for units of the type and size we manufacture is limited."

"We have to look at the long-range as well as the short-range picture," Donohue concluded. "That's why it is so important that everyone in the Division work together so we can develop these new products and new markets. Actually our problems are not unique. Every company that grows and prospers has to look at the future."

The second of three articles in this series will appear in tomorrow's Pampa News.

ONE LINK in a chain of a Saturday night tragedy is pictured above. A patrol car in pursuit of a group of Pampa teenagers accused of vandalism at a local residence, driven by Sgt. Preston Bailey, sustained damages estimated at $1,000. Driver of the other car involved in the two-car accident at W. Francis and N. Gray Sts., P. O. Sanders, died Sunday; his car was a total loss. Sgt. Bailey suffered knee and chest injuries in the accident after Sanders allegedly ran a stop sign. (See story, page 1)

Two Cars Stolen; One Is Recovered

Two cars were reported stolen in Pampa early Sunday morning but one was recovered.

Floyd Smith, of the Flagg apartments, told police his 1957 Chevrolet was stolen from the 300 blk. S. Ballard between 2 a.m. and 9 a.m. Sunday.

Police found the car late Sunday morning in the 300 blk. of Gillespie.

Police are still looking for a white and blue 1955 Oldsmobile with license number BNZ 986, belonging to Jim C. Doan, 416 N. Zimmers.

Doan told police his vehicle was stolen between 1:30 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. Sunday, from the front of his residence.

Students Return To Classes for Final Semester

After a brief, one-day holiday Friday, approximately 5,394 Pampa Independent School District students returned to school this morning for the final semester of the current school year.

Some schools experienced an increased enrollment, while others maintained their status quo, according to Dr. John Damron, school superintendent.

Sam Houston elementary school had the largest increased enrollment with 17 new students enrolling for classes there this morning, according to a spokesman for the school.

Some of these were transfers from within the school system and others were from out-of-city schools, according to Damron.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 19. At all drug counters.

Obituaries

James V. Kidwell
Funeral arrangements are pending at Duencel Funeral Home for Mr. James V. Kidwell, Sr., of 501 N. Warren who died this morning at Highland General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Kidwell, a retired employee of Thompson Parts Co., was born in 1892 at Weatherford, Tex., where he lived until 1918 when he moved to Fort Worth. He came to Pampa in 1922.

Mr. Kidwell, a member of the First Methodist Church here, is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. J. Killgo of Pampa; and Mrs. H. J. Mathay of Murrayville, Pa.; and two sons, James V. Kidwell, Jr. of Houston and J. W. Kidwell of Hurst, Tex.; one sister, Mrs. Fred Moore of Fort Worth; 17 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for William Kelley Gragg of Higgins will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church, Higgins, conducted by the Rev. Bill Bailey, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Kiel Quesenberry, pastor of the Higgins Methodist Church.

Mr. Gragg, a resident in Higgins for four years, died at 5 a.m. Sunday in the Mooreland Community Hospital in Mooreland.

A retired Star Route mail carrier, Gragg was born May 17, 1887 in Heaton, Okla. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Sybil of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Ora Smith of Dalhart; one son, Cecil of San Pedro, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. George Brewer and Mrs. Ola Wall, both of Wellington.

Burial will be in the Higgins Cemetery under the direction of Duencel Funeral Home.

Palbearers will be John n y Steine, Eldon Hostetter, Elby Krites; Perry Landers, Charles Orr and Elvie Immel.

Roscoe Pirtle

Funeral services are pending for Roscoe Pirtle, longtime Pampa resident, who was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital at 8 a.m. today. He had been in ill health for some time.

Arrangements will be announced later by Carmichael-Whalley Funeral Directors.

Mr. Pirtle, born Feb. 18, 1896, in Fordland, Mo., moved to Pampa in 1927 from Stroud, Okla. He was a decorating contractor.

On Jan. 2 1925, in Winfield, Kan., he was married to Peggy

School Leaders To Convene In Dumas Saturday

Panhandle School Leaders will meet in Dumas Saturday for a mid-winter conference. Paul Payne, association president, said today.

The Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be guest speaker for the morning session, according to Payne.

In afternoon sectional meetings, Joe Page, principal at Lamar Elementary School, will be in charge of the principal's section, and Dr. John Damron, superintendent of schools, will be in charge of the superintendent's section.

Sessions will be held in Dumas' Hillcrest Elementary School beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Man Treated For Wound By Gunshot

A 24-year-old Pampa man, Robert Kerr, 514 S. Barnes, was treated and released at Highland General Hospital Sunday for a gunshot wound in the foot.

According to a Pampa police report, Kerr told police he was practicing a quick draw with a new pistol he had purchased and accidentally shot himself in the left foot.

Kerr, according to police, was rushed to the hospital by friends and upon pulling into the emergency drive at the hospital, the brakes failed on the auto they were in and the vehicle smashed into a concrete ramp.

Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Aviation Committee Plans Conference With Airport Board

Wynn Veale, chairman of the Aviation Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting for the group in the morning at 10 o'clock in the chamber conference room.

Veale has asked members of the Gray County Airport Board to meet with the committee to discuss plans for needed improvements at the local airport.

LAST ROUND IS TODAY

'Big Three' in Lead

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Bing Crosby couldn't have planned it better if he had written the script in advance. For today, golf's "big three" of Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer tee off only a stroke apart in the final round of the famed crooner's $100,000 National Pro-Am tournament. Casper, the 1966 U.S. Open champ and leading money winner on the PGA tour, shot a three-under-par 34-35-69 at Pebble Beach Sunday to take a one-stroke lead over Palmer and Nicklaus and set the stage for today's grand finale at Pebble Beach, which will be televised nationally by ABC beginning at 6 p.m., EST. It will mark the first head-to-head confrontation of the year for Billy, Jack and Arnie and they'll be shooting for a top prize of $16,000 as they begin pursuit of the 1967 money winning title. Casper ran down birdie putts on the first, second, 10th and first round Saturday night to successfully defend his German middleweight championship. WIN CHAMPIONSHIP INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI)—Erwin Thaler and Reinhold Durnthaler of Austria retained their two-man European bobsled championship Sunday with an aggregate time of 4 minutes, 36.58 seconds for the final two runs. Thaler and Durnthaler had taken a commanding lead over the field on the first two runs Saturday. HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—Jupp Elze stopped Reinhard Dampmann at 38 seconds of the

East Shows Defense

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Eastern Conference of the National Football League, weaker than the Western Division, appears today to have erased any doubt about its relative strength. The East All-Stars plastered the West with a 20-10 defeat in Sunday's 17th annual Pro Bowl game and definitely demonstrated superiority, especially on defense. The West still leads the series, 10-7, but this was the second consecutive win for the East. The East intercepted four passes three by Baltimore's Johnny Unitas and one by Green Bay's Bart Starr—and recovered two of three West fumbles. Meredith looked great after the East took the opening kickoff—on its own 20. He completed his first seven passes, moving the East down to the West 10 but here had to call on Pittsburgh's Mike Clark for an 18-yard field goal. Later in the same period, Chicago's Gale Sayers fumbled and John Brewer of Cleveland recovered for the East. Five plays later Clark kicked his second field goal—a 17-yarder—to make it 6-0 for the East. In the second period Ryan took over and hit Collins with the 18-yard TD pass after Larry Wilson, St. Louis defensive back, intercepted one of Starr's passes. Final East Score Clark's conversion made it 21-0 at halftime for the Easterners and that was all the scoring they did. Sayers, despite his early fumble, was the outstanding back of the game—so voted by sports writers. He gained 110 yards on 11 carries, largely compiled on two runs of 42 and 52 yards but he could not get into the end zone. Bruce Gossett of the Los Angeles Rams got the West on the scoreboard in the third quarter by kicking a 27-yard field goal after Sayers swept around left end on the opening play of the series with his 52-yarder. In the fourth quarter Starr and San Francisco's Ken Wilward combined on a 51-yard pass play that was good for a touchdown. Rain fell for hours before the game and during the first half but eased up in the second half. Attendance was only 15,062—lowest in Pro Bowl history.

Elgin Baylor Sick In Hospital

By United Press International Larry Seigfried and John Havlicek, who always played in the shadow of Jerry Lucas at Ohio State, can take their own shots and bows for the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association. Havlicek sank a 22-foot jump shot with 32 seconds remaining to send the game into overtime Sunday against the Los Angeles Lakers, and Seigfried added two free throws with 13 seconds left in the overtime to clinch a 121-120 victory for Boston. Havlicek grabbed a loose ball with 30 seconds remaining in the overtime to set up Seigfried's winning free throws. Sam Jones led Boston with 31 points, and player-coach Bill Russell had a personal season high of 28. Elgin Baylor and Jerry West—each scored 25 points for the Lakers, but Baylor was stricken with an attack of extreme nausea and began vomiting blood after the game at Boston's Logan Airport and was taken to a hospital for observation. In other games, the Chicago Bulls staged a fourth quarter rally to edge the Baltimore Bullets 118-114 and the St. Louis Hawks defeated the New York Knickerbockers 104-101. Guy Rodgers and Jerry Sloan each scored consecutive free throws in the waning seconds to put the game out of reach for the Bulls. Bob Boozer led Chicago with 26 points and Rodgers added 24 while Gus Johnson had 22 for Baltimore. Lou Hudson, Len Wilkens, Richie Guerin and Bill Bridges each bucketed 18 points for the Hawks while Walt Bellamy of New York led all with 21 points.

Super All-Star Game Possible

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Your guess was as good as the next person's today on whether the National and American football leagues would square off for a "super all star game" next season or stick to the present format of separate contests until 1970. "After the East downed the West, 30-23, Saturday in the American Football League's rain-drenched All Star clash, Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL indicated that a "super game" would have to wait until 1970 because of television commitments. "We'll have to stay with them unless we can work out a compromise," Rozelle said. Yet in other quarters there was optimism that the AFL-NFL confrontation might replace the current AFL All Star game and NFL's Pro Bowl next year. Parilli Stars As for Saturday's game, a crowd of only 17,876 braved a storm at the Oakland Coliseum and celebrated what turned out to be "old timer's day." The odds in this case was Vito (Babe) Parilli, the 36-year-old Boston Patriots' quarterback, who has bounced around pro football for 13 years. Parilli connected for two touchdown passes which sparked the East to a rousing comeback win. He also set three game records in the process. These included the most punts (9), most yardage punted (291) and most yards grossed passing (416). to run because of a flu attack. Duvov was timed in 33 minutes, 14 seconds for the approximately six mile course.

Junior Highs To Play Twice

Pampa and Lee Junior High eighth and ninth grade cage teams play two games each this week with seventh grade teams from the schools playing Friday. Tuesday Lee travels to Borger to meet Borger-Houston while Pampa eighth and ninth host Phillips in a pair of games. Thursday Pampa hosts Borger Houston and Lee travels to Perryton for two games. Friday Lee seventh plays at Borger Houston and Pampa seventh hosts Dumas.

Pampa Hosts Old Nemesis Monterey

The second half district 3-4A basketball race appears to be shaping up as a repeat of first half play with Amarillo, the first half winner and Tascosa, the second half runner-up (along with Pampa) tied for first right now. Both the Sardies and Rebels stand 2-0 after two games while six teams are tied with 1-1 records and Lubbock and Palo Duro bring up the rear with 0-2 marks. Pampa, Monterey, Borger, Coronado, Caprock, and Plainview are all tied with 1-1 records with Plainview pulling the upset of the season by spilling Pampa, 57-53 Friday night at Plainview. The Harvesters take on Monterey, one of two league teams who beat them in first half play, Tuesday in Pampa fieldhouse. In second half play the Plainsmen, who tied Lubbock Coronado for fourth in the first half of play with a 6-3 record, have lost to Coronado for the second time and Friday night edged Borger, 51-46. Monterey, 17-6 for the season, downed Pampa, 52-48 in the first meeting this year in a game as tight as you could want. Pampa trailed 17-11 at the end of the first period and came back to trail only 23-22 at halftime and the two teams had a 35-35 third period deadlock. Steve Hurt, who paced the win at Monterey with 22 points, scored 26 Friday night against Borger and is in the top five among league scorers with a 15.6 average as is Dan Sledge with a 12.2 mark. Frogs Cage Coach Plans Retirement At Season End

By United Press International Pace-setting Texas Christian, informed that Coach Buster Brannon was retiring after this season, turns from examinations to the cage floor this week to defend its untarnished Southwest Conference record. The announced retirement plans of Brannon and the promotion of his aide, Johnny Swaim, couldn't have come at a more opportune moment for the Frogs, who have been sitting for two weeks on a 3-0 cushion for two weeks while poring over the books. Defending champion Southern Methodist stayed close on the idle Frogs' heels last week with a critical 69-59 road triumph over Arkansas and has a Jan. 31 date with TCU coming up in Dallas just three nights after TCU's date with Arkansas at Fort Worth next Saturday after

Ballots, Bullets And Bombs

Someone, back in the early years of this century, coined the phrase "Ballots or bullets," meaning that differences would either be solved by means of political voting or by resort to physical violence. Well, the world has made several turns since then, and the phrase is not known to be merely another political cliché on a par with the one which goes, "No matter how you vote, just vote," both designed to keep the intended victims snapping at the bait — political plunder.

Frederic Bastiat saw the connection between the ballot box and a plundering government; how, with the vote supplying the illusion that the voters are in reality the government, the politicians and bureaucrats are enabled to plunder their willing victims and then, in the form of gratuities consisting of the peoples' own tax money, further corrupt and enslave them.

But the political vote has further and more far-reaching significance increasing in direct ratio to the extent it approaches universality. The vote, first of all, means warfare among a people: a dog-eat-dog conflict between the producers and the non-producers, between the "haves" and the "have nots," with the political and bureaucratic elite taking its cut off the top. Second, as the vote approaches universality (universal suffrage) and, with the adoption of the military and industrial draft, the vote and the draft combined mean war between nations.

Thus, the cliché "Ballots OR Bullets," becomes "Ballots AND Bullets," and, in this technological age, atomic and hydrogen bombs.

The Race Against Taxes

Have you received appreciable raises in salary or wages within the past ten years but find that the money you receive doesn't seem to buy any more or, possibly, buys even less? Do you find that you have to run faster just to maintain the status quo or to keep from slipping backward? If your answer to any of these questions is "yes," then you'll be interested in some of the reasons why as provided by the Tax Foundation in its December 1966 issue of "Monthly Tax Features."

In an item titled "What's Your Real Income?" Tax Foundation shows that, due to inflation of the money supply and other forms of taxes, a married man with two children who earned $5,000 a year in 1956 must now earn $5,894, or 18 per cent more, just to stay even.

Going up the economic ladder, a man with a wife and two children whose income in 1956 was $7,500 must now manage somehow to earn $8,425, or 17.7 per cent more, just to maintain his former position.

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

Powell's Arrogance
The U. S. House of Representatives took a long overdue step when it refused to seat Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, at least until a committee probes his qualifications. For years, Rev. Powell, the Harlem preacher politician, has acted as though he were above the law. He thought that he led a charmed political life.

Well, the party has ended for Rev. Powell. He can return to his plush hideaway on the British island of Bimini, to be sure, but he won't be returning to the chairmanship of the House Education and Labor Committee. The groundswell of public anger and disgust against the flamboyant Harlem congressman has reached such proportions that Rev. Powell is through as a political force on Capitol Hill.

Not surprisingly, Rev. Powell is presenting himself as a martyr. He is no such thing, of course. The racial factor had nothing to do with his downfall. No protest is raised against Negro congressmen who have a decent respect for the law.

Indeed Mr. Powell's rejection by the House was not the result of the racial factor, his ideas (such as his irresponsible approval of "black power" notion), or his personal foibles. Congress has no right to deny a seat to a man on the basis of personal dislike. Adam Powell's crime was that he refused to obey the rules and regulations by which other legislators and other citizens are required to live.

He couldn't even go into his own district in New York State because he had thumbed his nose at a New York court and refused to pay a lawful judgment handed down against him. Mr. Powell's contempt for Congress was evident up till the last moment before he left Capitol Hill in his long, black limousine. He referred to his colleagues in Congress as "lynchers" and "rats." He didn't even have a kind word for the hard-core liberals in the House who stuck to his cause.

The decision of the House against seating Rev. Powell was a good thing. In these days of power blocs and arrogant political factions, a new breed of politician has grown up who regards the laws as mere suggestions and women live by, even as these politicians talk endlessly of broadening the base of democracy. The laws of the land are for all the people, but many of the most "liberal" politicians apparently regard these laws as applicable only to the "little people."

It may be viewed by some persons as a minor matter, but one can't help recalling President Johnson's wild driving in the vicinity of his ranch in Texas. Newsmen have reported that he frequently drives at speeds of up to almost 100 miles an hour. This is against the law in Texas, but the law isn't enforced against Mr. Johnson. Yet one can be sure that many ordinary folk in Texas are arrested and fined because they exceed the speed limit by only a few miles an hour.

The principle here is important: no privilege caste can be permitted in a free republic. Where privilege is allowed to flourish, there the spirit of caesarism creeps in. Rev. Powell is a kind of caesar in Harlem — a species of uncrowned king or high priest of Harlem. This sawdust caesar has been pulled down by proper action of the Congress. Other caesars also should be pushed from their thrones when they show disrespect for law, which means disrespect for the American republic.

Management Crisis in Government — Muskie Pushes Study In Senate of Intergovernmental Waste, Confusion, Bungling

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Due to get underway in the Senate is the most searching examination of the confusion, red tape, waste, bungling and incompetence in federal, state and local government since the penetrating studies by the noted Hoover Commission two decades ago.

Starting January 31, leading state governors are scheduled to testify before the Senate subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations, headed by Senator Edmund Muskie, D-Me., on the generally little-known but pressing important "management crisis in government" and what should be done about it.

The following week, a number of prominent mayors and other local officials will present their complaints, views and recommendations. They will be followed by distinguished experts and specialists in the field of public administration.

This comprehensive series of hearings will be concluded with the subcommittee visiting a number of states and cities "to learn first-hand," says Senator Muskie, "the problems of those on the firing line, and to find out how Congress and the federal establishment can help them without intruding on their local autonomy."

"Intergovernmental relations," explains Muskie, "involves people — their health, their homes, their jobs, their rights as citizens and their security as free men. When our governmental systems do not bring the full force of their resources to bear on urgent social and economic problems, it is the people who suffer and the nation that loses."

Since 1962, the Maine legislator has been persistently stressing two blunt warnings on his colleagues and cabinet and other administration authorities: (1) The success of federal programs regardless of how urgently they are needed and lofty their motives, is only as good as the machinery that carries them out; (2) the existing machinery is in serious need of extensive repairs at every level of government.

President Johnson, in his State of the Union message last week, personally acknowledged the need for a "working partnership between federal, state and local governments," and he avowed the intention to "work closely with the states and localities" to improve methods of administration and more effective use of their resources and federal programs.

The President's admission of the existence of a "management crisis in government" and that something must be done about it was highly gratifying to Muskie. He is prepared to act forcefully to meet the problem.

In addition to re-introducing his Intergovernmental Cooperation bill, the Maine legislator will offer a measure to provide federal aid to states and localities to upgrade their professional manpower — one of the most pressing needs in these governmental levels.

Above all, Muskie feels no time can be lost in bringing order and coherence to the huge array of multi-billion dollar federal aid programs.

"From what we have ascertained so far," he says, "it is unmistakably clear that there is a management crisis in the effective administration of federal aid programs. There are too many of them, too many different offices planning and processing them, too much confusion of authority, and too much reluctance to cooperate among federal departments and agencies."

"This not only discourages, but inhibits effective development at state and local levels. For too long, we have been seeking to solve national problems on a patchwork basis, rather than by rational planning and programming to fit a real needs. Belatedly and haltingly we have begun to make efforts toward bringing some order out of chaos. But we have a long way to go."

"Federal aid expenditures have reached nearly $15 billion, in contrast to less than a billion in 1946. By 1975 it is expected that the figure will quadruple. State and local public expenditures will reach $85 billion — up 517 per cent since 1946. By 1975 these outlays may hit the $150 billion mark. State and local indebtedness has climbed to $100 billion — a 520 per cent increase over 1946. This is a burgeoning governmental system.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Trying to Cure Stutterer One Way or Creating One
A mother writes that her 4-year-old son stutters. He doesn't repeat just the initial consonant but a whole word several times. She wants to know whether she should call his attention to this habit or shut her eyes and hope it will go away.

There is no surer way to make a permanent stutterer of a child than to call his attention to this type of speech. All children repeat sounds when they are excited and, if the habit is ignored, it will disappear. If attention is called to it the child becomes self-conscious about his speech. For him, speaking is then no longer a natural process, accomplished by second nature, but a painful exercise.

Once a child loses confidence in his ability to speak naturally his problem becomes fixed. From then on he may be a stutterer or, if he overcomes it, he will do so only by a monumental effort.

Q — A 10-year-old girl still sucks a pacifier. She can hardly wait till she gets home from school to have it. Is this the fault of the child or her parents?
A — This is a variation of the thumb-sucking problem. Most children give up this habit by the time they enter first grade. A child who fails to do so is emotionally disturbed. Let's not worry about who is at fault. This child needs the help of a doctor who is well-grounded in child psychology.

Q — Our 4-year-old grandson lost all his hair when he was about 2 years old. Now it will grow in, only to fall out again. Can anything be done for this?
A — The cause of this condition is unknown. Although in most young victims the hair grows back normally, in some it does not. Brewer's yeast or vitamin B complex are sometimes helpful. Daily massage with a stimulating ointment is recommended, but since over-treatment can cause severe dermatitis, this should be used only under medical supervision. Daily exposure to sunlight is also beneficial if the exposure can be regulated to produce redness without burning.

Q — My 4-year-old daughter has an underarm odor. I am afraid to use a deodorant on her. What do you advise?
A — A mild deodorant would not be likely to harm her, but first try washing her armpits daily with a soap that contains hexachlorophene.

Hunt for Truth

BY M. L. HUNT
OPPORTUNITY FOR LAW-MAKERS, 1967
The general election of November 8, 1966, put many new law-makers into office from both parties, both in Congress in Washington and in state legislatures throughout the country. In nearly every state the voters made clear their dissatisfaction with the accelerating trend toward big government resulting from many of the laws passed during 1965 and 1966.

McConnell Materials Provides Home Pride

The housewife wants someone that can correctly prepare her flower bed, teach her how to care for it and add to the value and appearance of her home.

George McConnell Jr., 314 S. Gray, owner and operator of McConnell Materials, is backed by years of experience and pride in his work. He can be trusted! Whatever you want, he will do his best to complete a job made to order for even the most fashionable neighborhood.

Proper equipment is a number one factor. Know-how, experience, and pride combine with this equipment to give every customer the very best.

man of the house a chance to plan and plot his yard, flowers, and garden the way he wants it to look. He likes to foresee the weeds cut down with green sprouting grass, beautifully kept, growing in its place. He can also visualize the bare spots covered. Like most homeowners, time doesn't allow him the opportunity to complete all the things he wished and dreamed of. His home is, in essence, his castle. His refuge from the daily routines that send him home weary and longing for a rest.

Form W-2 Reminder Issued to Employers

DALLAS — Employers were reminded today that Form W-2, showing income and social security tax information for 1966, must be furnished all employees on or before Tuesday, Jan. 31, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue in northern Texas.

Being a homeowner, brings a great deal of pride and enjoyment to everyone. It gives the

B & B Pharmacy Offers Top Medical Products

As a gentlemen of Freud pointed out a number of years ago that the things that really get to you, the things that really bug you, you never mention in public, but bury deep inside yourself. Finally they fester and mold until most everyone can see them. Thus, if you wake up in a cold sweat every third night after dreaming of that time when you were four and found mommy kissing Santa Claus, you tell no one and are forever barred from the sympathy of your fellow man.

Well, the problems of man are complex . . . so are the cures. Whatever your problem might be, the entire staff of B & B Pharmacy can be your sympathetic friend. They understand the daily problems that confront you. They don't claim to be physicians, but they understand every item of your prescription. They can explain away your doubts about the modern medicines, restore confidence and encourage you to take care of yourself.

Every pharmacist makes it his goal to be pleasant and friendly to their customers. But the staff at B & B try just a little bit harder to satisfy. They offer their customers free delivery and work a little harder to please their customers. Just because their business has been here for a number of years, that doesn't mean they will slack and take life easy, but it inspires them to continue to work harder for their customers and offer Pampa a real "old fashioned" drug store catering to its.

And for the man that has the "income tax plague" they offer free records of all prescriptions. Try their friendly service. They'll spoil you.

With Valentine's Day only a short time away, they have the famous Russell Stover and Pangburn candies. So why not surprise your wife or girlfriend. Also, they're offering their once-a-year sale on the famous Dorothy Gray products. These include the dry skin cleaner, salm cold cream, and cellogen hormone cream. Take advantage of these specials now while the sale lasts.

Shade Tree of Historical Lineage Introduced Here

Paul M. Bruce of Bruce Nurseries, located seven miles northwest of Alanreed, is justifiably proud of a new and hardy-shade tree, which he has developed at his nursery.

The shade tree is an offspring of Maclura Pomifera Inermis, Osage Orange better known here in the south as Bois d Arc. It came to Texas from Arkansas, a thorny tree which grows to about 60 feet in eight with 40 feet spread. It has male and female flowers on different trees, but neither has any decorative value.

The interesting orange-like fruits are large size with wrinkled skin and are orange color when ripe. The large green leaves turn Aspen yellow in autumn.

It may be used for ornament and shade and for "hedges" because of its thorny twigs. It is also used for windbreaks and poor soils. Its most valuable asset is the exceedingly hard, very durable wood used for bow wood, cross ties, fence posts and interior wood work.

The Bois d Arc, as it is known in Texas, is the most insect free, disease and drought resistant of any tree we have grown, Bruce said.

It is also a historical tree. The Bois d Arc in front of Thomas Cree's dugout is now distinguished by the Historical Marker erected by the State Historical Committee.

In recalling how he came to find the shade tree, Bruce said, "A relative had passed away and we menfolks were in the yard under a huge Bois d Arc tree. I remarked to one of the uncles that it was the most beautiful tree of its kind I had ever seen. I fell in love with this tree. Something told me it had a future but just how to reproduce it was my problem," Bruce said.

"I took scions budded and grafted them into small native Bois d Arc trees and discovered

It's a bigger bargain today than ever before

* Your telephone gives you more for your money today than at any time since Mr. Bell invented it. Pretty big statement. But it's true. There are more telephones in more places today than ever before. Two hundred million in the world; four million of them here in Texas.

On the average, there are more than twice as many telephones in each of our Texas exchanges as there were 20 years ago. So it figures you can reach more people, get more things done by phone than ever before.

And what about Long Distance rates? They've been going down while the cost of almost everything else has been climbing up. There've been 10 Long Distance rate reductions in Texas since World War II.

Another thing. The quality of service has never been better. Today's phone users can talk as though they were four feet apart. Back in the early 1930's, it was 35 feet.

Better service to more places at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination.
