ROMAN DRESS IN CAESAR'S TIME — Miss Jerry Pennington, Pampa High School student, discusses her costume entry in the State Junior Classical League contest with Miss Claudia Everly, high school Latin teacher. Miss Everly is holding the poster Jeanne Turner will enter in competition at Southern Methodist University Friday and Saturday. The high school will have 23 students participating in the state convention. (See Story on Page 3).

Author Says Panel Knew Assassination Findings Fraudulent

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Author Mark Lane said today he believed President Johnson knew the Warren Commission findings on President Kennedy's assassination were fraudulent. Lane made the statement in an interview before speaking to the Young Men's Business Club of New Orleans on the significance of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial probe of the assassination. Lane, whose "Rush to Judgment" criticizing the Warren Commission is a best seller, traded information this week with Garrison, who has said he can prove a conspiracy existed to kill Kennedy. "I think the commission started with the preconceived notion that Lee Harvey Oswald did it alone and that the national security in their view required that they stick to that fantasy," Lane said. "I think the active members and staff of the commission knew that the report was a fraudulent document, and at this time probably every commission member knows the report is fraudulent."

Price to Be Here Friday And Saturday

Congressman Bob Price will spend two days in the 18th District Friday and Saturday, as he put it, "to keep in touch with the thinking of his constituents." The first meeting on his agenda is a Friday luncheon with the members of his 18th District Chamber of Commerce Advisory Committee. Price formed the group composed of chairmen of the Legislative Affairs committees, of all chambers in the district, shortly after his election in November. At 3 p.m. Friday Price will have his first meeting with the 30-member Water Advisory Committee he appointed two weeks ago. A member of the Tulsa district staff of the Army Corps of Engineers will meet with the group to discuss the possibility of a study of the water resources of the Panhandle. Congressman Price will breakfast Saturday morning at Amarillo's Holiday Inn. West, with 33 area high school boys who have been nominated to compete for appointment to the army, air force, navy, and merchant marine academies this year and several who have expressed interest in such nomination in the future. Price will then journey to his temporary Pampa office at 800 North Summer to visit with area residents from 11 a.m. until noon. At noon Price will meet with the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to discuss legislation now pending before Congress. Following the Chamber of Commerce luncheon, Price will return to Amarillo to attend the Amarillo A.F.B. 25th anniversary celebration, sponsored by the Military Affairs Committee, along with other special guests and the "Thunderbirds".

Court Aims Knockout Blow At Southern School Segregation

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has aimed a knockout blow at southern school segregation with a volume of minutely detailed regulations on how total integration should be accomplished next September. "Wednesday's landmark ruling, is so sweeping that it brought predictions of disaster by some southerners. Others reached with Circuit Judge James P. Coleman of Ackerman, Miss., said the ruling would throw the nation's schools into another legal and political battleground — "not about the death of unlawful discrimination, but about who and how many of any particular race shall go to any particular school with how many members of some other race." The court, reaffirming its stand of Dec. 29, 1966, called for each state in the deep South to bring about an integrated, unitary school system in which there are no Negro schools and no white schools — "just schools." The ruling not only goes into details about procedures for ending dual school systems, but

Sunday Closing Law Awaits Connally's OK

Emergency Purchase Clause Is Abolished

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A new Texas law outlawing the purchase of nearly everything but food and drugs on Sundays was headed today for Gov. John Connally's office for his expected approval. Final legislative action on the bill which will abolish the "emergency purchase" clause in the present Sunday blue law came Wednesday night after Sen. A. R. Schwartz voluntarily gave up his third consecutive weekly filibuster against it. Schwartz held the floor virtually from 10:30 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, except for a luncheon break, in his futile effort to talk the bill to death. The Galveston lawmaker knew from the start that he was fighting a losing battle, but he was persistent. At the end Wednesday night, he announced he was quitting so Lt. Gov. Preston Smith "can get the full credit for passing this bill."

NFO Gets Chance To Answer for Milk Boycott

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — The National Farmers Organization gets its chance today to answer a federal antitrust order to a halt to its forceful milk holding action in 19 states. U.S. District Judge Roy L. Stephenson, who issued the restraining order against the farmers in federal court here Wednesday, scheduled a hearing on the action for 1 p.m. today. The suit asked for a temporary restraining order to keep the NFO from forcing others to go along with its holding action designed to gain a 2-cent-a-quart increase on the price dairy farmers receive for milk from the processors. The 19 states named in the suit—Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, West Virginia and Wisconsin—produce nearly two-thirds of the nation's milk supply.

Top Newscasters Picket Second Day

NEW YORK (UPI) — As top newscasters began a second day on picket lines outside the studios of major broadcasting networks today, one of the nation's best known TV commentators questioned whether journalists should become personally involved in union activity. Chet Huntley, the New York anchorman on the popular "Huntley-Brinkley Show" on NBC-TV, crossed the picket lines of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists to appear on the program Wednesday evening. He said AFTRA was not the proper bargaining agent for newsmen. David Brinkley, who is usually broadcast from Washington, did not appear on the show. Huntley said he believed Brinkley would be back soon. On the other radio and television networks, strange faces and unfamiliar voices delivered the news. The stand-ins, most of them network executives and supervisory personnel, did surprisingly well on their first day before the microphones. Old tapes and reruns were used to replace other live programming. AFTRA, an 18,000-member union, went on strike at dawn Wednesday, throwing up star-studded picket lines at the offices and studios of ABC, CBS, NBC and the Mutual Broadcasting System in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Washington. It was the first national strike in the union's 30-year history. In addition to newsmen and television personalities in AFTRA, a number of engineers, technicians, film cameramen, soundmen, news writers and stage hands of other unions refused to cross AFTRA's picket lines. There was little hope for a

Record Combat Deaths Listed

SAIGON (UPI) — Vietnam combat last week killed a record 274 Americans and 2,774 Communists, U.S. spokesmen said today. The previous high for American dead was 248 during a week's combat during the bloody November, 1965, Ia Drang Valley campaign that halted the Communist tide of victory in the war. The record Communist loss last week topped a mark of 2,675 set the previous week. U.S. spokesmen said American forces suffered 1,606 casualties in all last week—not a record figure. Besides the dead, it included 1,320 men wounded and 12 listed as missing in action. This was 63 more dead than during the previous week but 554 less wounded. Other allied forces lost 210 men slain last week, 203 of them South Vietnamese. The Communists paid, as usual, the far higher price of war. Communist losses in fighting along the Cambodia border and just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) dividing South from North Vietnam last week and the week before pushed their total number of reported dead to an awesome 5,483. U.S. officials said another 1,187 Communists surrendered to allied troops, bringing to 9,746 the number of such Communist losses this year. As the casualty figures were tallied, allied forces rolled on. U.S. spokesmen said 86 Communists were killed Wednesday, more than half of them dying at the hands of South Korean troops fighting to clear a vital stretch of South Vietnam's coastal Highway One. In the air, American jets took advantage of clearing weather to sweep for the third straight day into North Vietnam's industrial heartland. Spokesmen said the warplanes hit the industry-rich Red River Delta Wednesday, turning a key storage depot 27 miles from Hanoi into a "sea of flames."

Airliner Explodes Near Motel; 18 Killed by Blast

KENNER, La. (UPI) — A Delta Airlines DC8 on a training flight clipped three houses and exploded in an orange fireball behind a motel today killing at least 18 persons and injuring at least 10 others. The dead included the five from the plane, and 13 persons killed in the suburban cluster of homes, apartment buildings and the Hilton Motel. The bodies of eight high school girls were found—four in each room—in the motel. The plane, with Delta pilots and trainees aboard, dipped its left wing while making a steep bank to approach the New Orleans International airport runway at 12:52 a.m. CST. Engines whining, the plane snapped through power lines, smashed through three houses, demolishing one, and bounced over railroad tracks and along the ground for 600 yards. It exploded in a blinding flash on the back lot of the Hilton Motel complex, setting one wing of the motel afire. Authorities brought seven dead to a Delta hangar, including the five crewmen. The other victims included a woman and a 13-year-old boy in the demolished house. Charles Imhoff, assistant Hilton engineer, who suffocated, and the eight high school girls, members of a vacationing senior class from Judah, Wis., staying at the motel. Delta identified the crew members as William T. Jelert, 33, Norman, Ark.; Maurice E. Watson, 45, Boggs, Ind.; George Piazza, 30, New Orleans; David E. Posey, 25, Brookhaven, Miss.; and J. W. Martin, Covington, La.

Dodd Will Be Punished, But Not Like Adam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators will spare Sen. Thomas J. Dodd the fate of Adam Clayton Powell, exclusion from Congress, but he will be punished. The decision to seek a form of punishment short of expulsion was reached at a secret meeting last week of the six-member ethics committee that has been investigating the 59-year-old Connecticut Democrat for the past year. The bipartisan panel agreed it could not exonerate Dodd of the misconduct charges leveled against him, it was learned Wednesday. But the exact punishment the committee will recommend has not yet been decided. It will be thrashed out when committee members return from the Easter holiday recess. It was expected, however, that some form of censure of Dodd's conduct would be recommended with the severity depending on the language the committee adopts. The punishment could run from a finding of conduct unbecoming a senator, a reprimand, a rebuke, a condemnation, or possibly a formal censure. The last time the Senate disciplined one of its members was in 1954 when Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., now dead, was "condemned" for failing to cooperate with and abusing the senators assigned to investigate him.

Man Killed By Airliner's Sudden Jolt

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI) — When a jet airliner flew into vicious air turbulence and suddenly plummeted 8,000 feet, a 52-year-old grandfather released his seat belt to save his infant grandson. It was his last act. The man, George Wilson Graves of Glenview, Ill., was smashed against the ceiling of the cabin and was killed. His month-old grandson was not hurt. Several of the 42 passengers and seven crew members aboard the United Air Lines 720 jet were shaken up, but none was seriously injured. The plane landed safely. Passenger Herbert Winer, 40, of Springfield, Va., said the entire incident occurred in a matter of seconds. He snapped his fingers and said, "it didn't take but about that long."

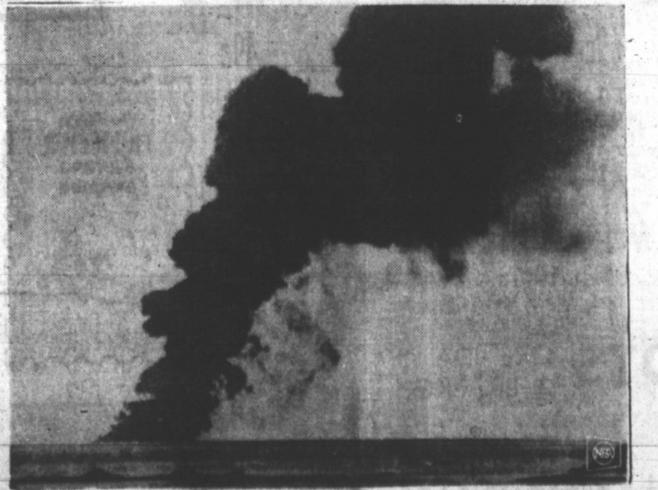

License Tag Line Grows

Gray County residents were lined up two deep today around the tax assessor-collector's office counter to beat the April 1 deadline for buying car license plates. "Since Feb. 1, this year, we've sold about 11,202 tags and have about 4,800 left of the original 16,005 shipped here for 1967, Jack Back, county tax-collector-assessor, said. "They could come in and pay a 25 cent late registration fee, but they would have to sign an affidavit stating they had not driven the car," he said. The deadline for applying for car safety stickers is April 15. Anyone driving without a sticker after that date is subject to a fine, he said. The county tax office will remain open until noon Saturday to take care of late registrations. Courthouse offices normally close all day Saturday, except for the sheriff's office.

SMOKE BILLOWED thousands of feet in the air when the British Royal Air Force unloaded 20 tons of explosives on the broken Tanker Torrey Canyon, and a sea of flames quickly sprouted in the oil-clogged waters around Land's End, England. The British are hoping to prevent further damage to their resort areas and wildlife caused by gushing oil from the ship.

No Word From American Released by Soviet Union

By United Press International — Tuesday's readings were generally in the 80s except for some 80 degree readings in North Texas and along the coast. It was 97 in Junction and 96 in Waco and Austin.

Early morning readings were generally in the 60s and 70s. Clear skies covered most of the state although dense fog formed in sections of the upper Gulf Coast.

Forecasts call for continued warm temperatures throughout most of the state, with the possibility of showers and slightly cooler temperatures in the Northwestern Texas Thursday.

The U.S. Coast Guard traces its history back to 1790 when the first Congress authorized the construction of ten vessels for the collection of revenue.

BARIUM ROCKET
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The civilian space agency tonight planned to launch a Nike-Tomahawk rocket programmed to release barium in the sky to help scientists study the upper atmosphere.

The launch was originally scheduled for Tuesday night from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Wallops Island, Va., station. But it was postponed to tonight because of bad weather.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Robert T. Allen of Shearson, Hamill & Co. says the stock market has continued its pattern of only listening to news it wants to hear and for the most part ignoring any gloomy business news. The analyst feels the pattern is a sign of a powerful market.

He said, however, there is still some question of where the fuel for sustaining a further advance will come from since the administration probably will await some results of its steps to bolster the economy before taking any new ones. He believes chances are good that the market will have some sort of rest period before continuing an advance.

Bache & Co. says as long as the market is able to take periodic setbacks in stride, and it says the news background would indicate periods of weakness, the administration's efforts to bolster the economy should be very useful. The company says a near term target of the 890-900 area of the Dow Jones Industrial Average seems within reason.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone Inc. says certain common stocks seem to have reached or are near the highest levels that can be projected for them on a near term basis. The analyst feels there are still enough attractive opportunities to attract investors' attention but warns against placing too much confidence in stocks that have been carrying the main burden of the recovery.

Louisiana Man Files Suit Here

Charley O. Franks of Winnsboro, La., filed a suit in 31st Judicial District Court today against Cabot Shops, Inc. of Pampa, Franks is asking in the petition for $150,000 for alleged personal injury and $200,000 loss of earnings and earning capacity.

According to the records filed, Franks, an employe of C. E. (Chuck) Phillips, on Oct. 2, 1965, was working under a portable floor of a well service unit in Gray County when the floor collapsed on him.

Franks charges in the suit that Cabot Shops Inc., as manufacturers of the floor, allegedly failed to inspect the floor for defects and warn him of the unsafe nature of the floor.

He is also charging the company with alleged negligent design and use of defective material.

LATIN GROUPS Students to Attend State JCL Meeting

Two Pampa High School teachers and 23 high school Latin students will attend the state Junior Classical League convention at Southern Methodist University in Dallas Friday and Saturday.

Miss Claudia Everly, high school Latin teacher, and Clinton Forbes, distributive education teacher, will accompany the students.

Ten students will represent the Pampa school in the JCL workshops and committees on programs of work, finance, publicity and future teachers in the classical field.

All students going to SMU are second, third or fourth year Latin students here. Thirteen students will compete for individual recognition and the sweepstakes award, which will be awarded during the business session Saturday.

Students will enter contests in grammar, vocabulary, mythology derivatives, Roman life, speech, costume and vocal music.

Miss Everly will be in charge of the contests for posters, scrapbook and sculpture, but Pampa students will not have entries in scrapbook or sculpture.

All scholastic achievement contests are written tests. Speech and vocal music contests are in Latin.

Second year Pampa Latin students competing are Neil Duncan, grammar; Susie Abernathy, vocabulary; Donald Barnhill, mythology; Betha Lee Stubbe, derivatives and art, and Daniel, Roman life.

Third year students entering are Janet Morgan, grammar; Judy Abernathy, vocabulary and Sherry White, derivatives.

Other contestants are Jan Farley, boys' speech; Roena Rud-

Sanders Named Assistant Professor Of Music at West Texas State U.

CANYON — Hugh D. Sanders, for eight years choir director at Pampa High School, will join the West Texas State University music department faculty in September as assistant professor of music, President James P. Cornette has announced.

Sanders will be director of the University Choir and will assist with the University Chorale. He will also teach voice classes and private voice lessons, according to Dr. John Green, music department chairman.

"We certainly regret the fact Baylor University He taught a year at Thomas Jefferson High School in Port Arthur before joining the Pampa High School faculty.

For the past seven years, Sanders has been music director for the Central Baptist Church in Pampa.

Sanders has been a clinician for the New Mexico Music Educators Association, and was lecturer for the Southern Baptist Music Week in Ridgecrest, N. C. He was guest conductor for a premier performance of "A Cantata" by Eugene Butler at Glorieta, N. M.

For three years the Texas All-State Choir organizer, Sanders was recently re-elected vice president and state vocal chairman of the Texas Music Educators Association. He is choral chairman of the Texas University Inter-scholastic League New Music Selection Committee for 1967-71. He has written a number of articles for the "Southwestern Musician," publication of the Texas Music Educators Association.

Presented a distinguished service award in 1962 as "Young Man of the Year" in Pampa by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Sanders is a member of the Music Educators National Conference, American Choral Directors Association, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, American Choral Conductors Guild, Texas Music Educators Association, and the Texas Choral Directors Association.

Approximately 450 Sign For Street Paving

Approximately one-third of the 1,400 property owners involved in Pampa's 140-block street paving program already have signed papers and given the "go-ahead" signal on the project.

Calude Shelton, representative of Texas Securities Corp. of San Antonio, who is in charge of the City Hall office where property owners sign up said this represents around 450 of the total owners.

The office is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mother's Son Not Killed in Vietnam; Just a Mistake

Two Dogs To Go On Sale Unless Claimed

A German police dog and a dachshund, both females, will go on the auction block at the city dog pound Saturday unless claimed by their owners. Also to be up for sale will be a white male cur of questionable origin. If they are not sold, death awaits them in the gas chamber. Owners may reclaim the dogs by paying a $10 fee plus $2 a day for "board and room."

The cornerstone of the White House was laid on Oct. 13, 1792. The official name of the Statue of Liberty is "Liberty Enlightening the World."

In 1920, Eugene V. Debs, running for president on the Socialist Party ticket, received 917,799 votes.

The United States' only bachelor president, so far, was James Buchanan.

DENVER (UPI)—Mrs. Pearl M. Pratt, a mother of 12 children, thought for a week that her son had been killed in Vietnam. She had planned to attend his funeral today.

But it was all a "terrible mistake" by the U.S. Army and today she sent him a birthday card instead.

Pfc. Robert E. Brown Jr. will celebrate his 20th birthday Thursday in Vietnam.

The funeral will be held at another time, another place for the unknown soldier originally identified as Brown and shipped to Denver.

Mrs. Pratt, 35, dressed in a pink bathrobe and nervously puffing a cigarette, shuffled through telegrams sent by the Defense Department saying her son had been killed by "hostile small arms fire" March 20 in Vietnam.

She lived sadly with the news for a week before the Army told her the body shipped to Denver was not her son.

"The most horrible thing about this is that they still don't know who that boy was," Mrs. Pratt said.

She said she talked by telephone Tuesday night with her son. The young soldier said, "mother, there has been a terrible mistake. Don't worry, I'm all right."

"I had a birthday card ready to send him," Mrs. Pratt said, "but I took it out of the envelope after they told me he was dead. He will get his birthday card, but it won't be on time."

Robert was to have been buried today. His nine sisters, two brothers, grandmother, mother and stepfather planned to attend.

But Army Maj. James Wells of Denver came to the modest two-story Pratt home at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday to reveal the mistake.

"He just told me, 'Mrs. Pratt, we have made a mistake,' I couldn't understand what he meant," she said. "I didn't believe it (the death) in the first place, I was happy after I found out it wasn't true."

Mrs. Pratt said she didn't believe her son was killed even when she received the first telegram from Washington.

"I told the officer when he first came out with the news that it wasn't true—that he was making a mistake," she said. "He told me, 'Mrs. Pratt, I don't make mistakes.'"

"If they hadn't got the news to me when they did, I would have gone down and viewed the body," Mrs. Pratt said. "That would have been a terrible shock."

Pfc. Brown, a native of Waco, Tex., was drafted last year and sent to Vietnam last August. The Army said he had been hospitalized last week in Vietnam with leg wounds.

When he called his mother from Vietnam, Brown already knew the Army had first listed him killed in Action.

Body Believed to be Underworld Man's Found Near Lake Texahoma

TISHOMINGO, Okla (UPI)—The body of a man believed to be a Fort Worth underworld character has been removed from a shallow grave on Lake Texahoma shores and carried to Oklahoma City for an autopsy Wednesday.

Police found the body buried Oklahoma City for an autopsy. Police found the body buried only 18-inches deep near the Butcher Pen resort area of the Lake. It was wrapped in two bedspreads and an electric blanket.

Fort Worth police speculated that the body might be that of Huber Carter, 45, who jumped an $18,000 bond.

Bail bondsman Dorsey Adams of Fort Worth, who had advertised a $1,000 reward to anyone locating Carter, said he had been tipped by an anonymous source that he could find the man's body in a shallow grave. Johnston County, Okla. Sheriff Herman Ford said Adams and a man who said he was with the Tarrant County District Attorney's office came to Tishomingo a couple of weeks ago to check out a tip the body was near the lake.

The hurricane that struck Galveston, Texas on Sept. 8, 1900, killed 6,000 persons.

Adams said Tuesday he had paid the $1,000 reward to the Johnston County sheriff's office. However, an undersheriff said he knew nothing of this. State crime officials in Oklahoma City said there was "no substantial evidence" the body was that of Carter.

STAMP DESIGN observing the Nebraska centennial was unveiled at Lincoln, Neb., recently with issuance of the stamp scheduled for July 29 in that city. The design is themed to two mainstays of the state's agricultural economy—cattle and corn.

Deodorize Closets With Soap Powder

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. DEAR POLLY — I keep a large box of soap powder in each of my closets to absorb the dampness. Some of them have delightful odors and that helps, too, in making the closets smell good. When the powder becomes lumpy and hard from the dampness, I put the box in the sun until it is dry again and then put it back in the closet. —RACHEL Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY — Our 1½-year-old accidentally got hold of some crayons, so now we have colored walls. I am wondering how I can get this color off of rough plaster walls so they do not have to be repainted. —MRS. J. M.

DEAR MRS. J. M. — Several years ago we had a Pointer suggesting the use of toothpaste to remove crayon marks from plaster walls. Much to the amazement of Sally, one of my daughters-in-law, it worked well on smoothly plastered walls. You might try this on the rough plaster with the aid of an old toothbrush to get in the cracks. Leave the paste on a few minutes (but do not let it get hard) and then remove with a damp sponge or cloth. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I use a dust-pat, with a rubber strip across the front. For a quick and easy way to remove piled up snow from my automobile Bel. sieb8MM than I rubber-tipped so the finish of the car is not marred. —JANET

DEAR POLLY — In answer to Teresa's request for help in whitening the surplice to her son's choir robe, I suggest that she use one of the color removers put out by the better dye companies. They work beautifully on hard-to-whiten clothes. —LORETTA

DEAR GIRLS — I have an idea that Loretta used the wrong word in describing this product. The better dye companies put out a product that really isn't a color remover but a whitener for most fabrics. —POLLY

Mothers Can Sense When All's Not Well With Baby

By PATRICIA McCORMACK United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — Before anyone tells her, along maternity row a woman senses that something's not right about the baby she's just given birth to. Nurses are a little grim. There's a delay in showing her the baby.

There's room for improvement in dealing with such a heartbreaking situation, according to Charlotte Simonds, director of the social service department at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Simonds also is associated with the March of Dimes birth defects center there.

There is no agreement in hospitals across the country about who should break the news to the parents.

It may be a physician, nurse, aide or other hospital worker, it may also be a family member, friend, minister, or someone outside of the medical institution in which the baby was born.

"Sometimes," Mrs. Simonds said, "no one tells the mother. The mother may arrive at the truth by intuition after suffering agonies of uncertainty, induced by inattention or deliberate avoidance by the staff."

An illustration of what Mrs. Simonds and her associates want to change was shown recently at a meeting of mothers having babies with severe birth defects.

A social worker asked each to recall how she was told (or not told) of her baby's defect. Their accounts included the following:

"The hospital doctor came in and told me my baby had a hole in her back and that she had only two or three months to live. He said there was no sense in taking her home." (The baby lived.)

"None of the doctors told me anything. Nobody explained that my baby could not move from the waist down. I thought he was dead because they wouldn't let me see him. I was scared."

"They wouldn't let me see him. One of the worst feelings I had was to be in that hospital room and watch the other mothers nursing their babies. That was just awful."

The mothers said that initial uncertainty had greatly magnified the difficulties of facing up to their children's defects and coping with the severe psychological and other problems that they presented.

Mrs. Lawrence Hostess For Club Breakfast

SKELLYTOWN — Mrs. Bob Lawrence of Skellytown was hostess in her home recently for a "Come as You Are Breakfast" at 7:30 a.m. with members of the Home Makers Club as guests.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Irene McCoy.

Mrs. Pauline Heaton received an Easter gift from a secret pal. Mrs. Ethel Hunt demonstrated the making of a Tote Bag fashioned of cotton webbing and variegated yarns.

Mrs. Dona Crawford was crowned "Queen for the Day". The next meeting will be April 4 in the home of Mrs. Bernice Hoskins on N. Main St.

Attending not previously mentioned, were Mmes. Gertrude Huckins, Eula Berry, Perlene Fanning, Gladys Simmons, Irene McCoy, Phyllis Loooper, and one visitor, Mable Pearson.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like to volunteer for jury duty as I have lots of time on my hands and I think I have as much sense as the next person.

I wouldn't care to sit through anything boring, but I would be willing to give my time for something worthwhile, like a murder, rape or kidnapping trial.

How can I get on such a jury?

"PATRIOTIC": Sorry, but as far as I know there is no way to get on a jury with assurance that the cases will be "worthwhile" according to your yardstick.

DEAR ABBY: A couple of years ago you had a letter in your column from a girl who signed herself "TOO NICE." Then you ran another letter right after it, signed "NOT SORRY," from a girl who said she was "nice" and it paid off.

If you can locate those two letters, please run them again as they would be perfect for discussion period in our Teen Girls Club. Thank you.

DOTTY D. IN WATERLOO, IA. DEAR DOTTY: I have "located" them — and here they are: DEAR ABBY: No offense to you, personally, but you're nuts! I agree with that girl who signed herself, "TOO NICE." She is right. If a girl is too nice she sits home. It's the fast girls who are popular. I am only 16 and I know from experience that the only reason a boy asks you out is for one thing, and if he doesn't get it, you don't see him again. That's no lie, either.

When you said, "If a girl has to fight with a boy to keep his hands off her, she must have led him on," you were wrong. She can be sitting next to him, doing nothing, and he will almost attack her. Since January I have had to break up with three boys because they all tried to go too far. But I'll stay nice because I have my self-respect. But so far it hasn't got me anywhere.

"TOO NICE," TOO DEAR TOO NICE: Another "nice" girl had this to say on the subject:

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and have just completed my freshman year at college. I want to tell all those girls who wonder if boys really like a sweet, old-fashioned girl what I learned from experience. Don't be shocked if even the best boys try. After I painstakingly explained my views on the matter of morals, many more dates and fine friendships resulted.

Some jokingly called me prudish and mid-Victorian, but I was elected to a position of high honor by the student body. There were times when I actually pitied the girls who allowed boys liberties, thinking it would increase their popularity. (I have a brother, and boys talk.) The girls who parked with boys on dark roads at night were ignored by the same boys in broad daylight. Keep telling young girls that it pays to be nice, Abby, I am, and I am — NOT SORRY

NEW FLAVOR for pot roast in foil.

Mushrooms, Onions Liven Up Pot Roast

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
By now everyone in the country must know how to cook a pot roast in aluminum foil. Anyone who has tried it agrees that this is a lazy, but good, way to cook a less tender cut of meat.

There are many versions of the meat - in - aluminum foil idea. One popular version uses one-half package each of two varieties of dry soup and puts the roast in a roasting pan with an aluminum foil cover. Use a blade pot roast or a chuck cut. As for the leftover one-half packages of soup, reclose the aluminum foil packages and save for the next pot roast, or use the two soups to make onion - mushroom soup.

ONION-MUSHROOM POT ROAST
1 blade pot roast (about 4 pounds)
1/2 envelope (about 3 tablespoons) Swiss golden onion soup mix
1/2 envelope (about 3 tablespoons) Swiss cream of mushroom soup mix
Trim excess fat from roast. Place meat in roasting pan. Combine onion and mushroom soup mixes; sprinkle over

Here's One Of Those Mix Now, Bake Later Cakes

How about a coffee cake you have made yourself next time you invite the girls for coffee? Or for Sunday morning breakfast for the family? Even though it's a yeast dough, baking this Bubble Cake and serving it hot is no problem, for the dough rises slowly in the refrigerator overnight.

Make the Bubble Cake at your leisure the day before. Shape the dough into one-inch balls, dip them into a mixture of butter and preserves or marmalade and arrange them in rows in two square pans. Put them in the refrigerator for from two to 24 hours. The dough will rise slowly with no need to punch it down. Next day, let the Bubble Cake stand for ten minutes at room temperature while you preheat the oven, and bake.

When your Bubble Cake comes out of the oven, drizzle with confectioners frosting, if you like, and serve hot and fragrant to your lucky guests or family.

BUBBLE CAKE
2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water (110-115 degrees)
1 cup lukewarm milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
5 to 5 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 jar (12 ounce) favorite fruit preserves or marmalade.

Mint Adds Savory Flavor To Carrots

A savory flavor to delight any family are frozen peas and carrots buttered with an unusual flavor-maker, dried mint.

MENTED PEAS AND CARROTS
2 packages (10-oz. each) frozen peas and carrots
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1 1/2 teaspoons dried mint
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

In a 1 1/2-quart casserole melt butter in oven. Add mint, sugar and salt. Break up vegetables; mix with butter. Cover. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 1 hour. Makes 6-8 servings.

A new container called a Thermo Jar really is a miniature icebox. Its insulation is so efficient that it will keep even a strawberry sundae frosty cold for over four hours, the manufacturer reports. The lid is a permanently sealed hollow filled with pure, distilled water. Put the lid into a refrigerator freezer and the water inside freezes solid. That's where the "Cool" comes from.

When Time Seems To Vanish, Here's A Quick Time-Saver

On one of those days when time seems to vanish, a quick, hearty skillet meal can save you. When brown 'n serve sausage links are combined with a festive variety of canned corn and tomatoes and seasoned with chopped onion, only a success results.

Since the sausage links only need to be heated, they can be browned at the same time the onions are sauteing. The hearty, meaty flavor of the links will spark the vegetables and provide essential nutrients for good healthy living. Pre-cooked rice, a real time-saver, binds the dish together and adds satisfying bulk. A colorful and flavorful topping comes from a sprinkling of shredded Cheddar cheese and after a mere 20 minutes of heating, this quick skillet meal is ready to serve.

Let dish is cooking a tossed sal-

When the supper hour draws near next time and you are unprepared, brown 'n serve sausage links and other convenience foods, plus ingenuity can help create a dinner that will draw compliments from all.

SAUSAGE SKILLET MEAL

(Yield: 4 to 5 servings)

8 ounce package brown 'n serve sausage links
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 cups pre-cooked rice
12 ounce can whole kernel corn
1 pound can tomatoes
11 cups shredded Cheddar Cheese.

Saute onion in melted butter. Add sausage links and brown. Add rice, corn, and tomatoes. Cover and cook about 20 minutes. Add cheese and heat until melted. Serve hot.

Give fight of your food fancy with a sophisticated yet simple casserole of shrimp cloaked with nut-sweet Gruyere cheese, encircled by artichoke hearts. Serve atop toast, biscuits, or fluffy rice, suggests the Borden Kitchen. It's a dinner that pays dividends in time to a homemaker, in fine flavor to her family.

Elegant Shrimp and Artichoke Bake

(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

1 lb. fresh shrimp
2 (9-oz.) packages frozen artichoke hearts
1/2 cup (1 stick) new Danish margarine
1/2 cup flour
1-1/2 cups homogenized milk
1/4 cup dry white wine

1-1/2 cups (one 6-oz. package) shredded Borden's pasteurized process Gruyere cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Paprika or fresh dill

Cook shrimp in boiling, salted water to cover about 2 to 5 minutes or until tender. Shell and devein. Prepare artichoke hearts according to package directions; drain. In medium size saucepan, over medium heat, melt margarine and stir in flour. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk and wine. Return to low heat and cook; stir constantly, until mixture thickens and just comes to a boil. Stir in cheese, salt and pepper; cook until cheese melts. Remove from heat. In a buttered 9-inch round or square baking dish, arrange artichoke hearts around the outside edge of dish. Place shrimp in center; pour cheese sauce over all. Sprinkle with paprika or fresh dill. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 25 minutes or until cheese sauce is hot and bubbly. If desired, garnish with additional fresh dill. Serve immediately.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Highlights of the marketing scene this weekend include a variety of beef, poultry, fruits, and vegetables.

Vegetable trays will be headed by cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes in plentiful supply.

At fruit stands, the citrus family's grapefruits and oranges are in good supply. Watch for economical beef roasts and steaks, broiler-fryers and eggs.

In choosing meat and poultry, look for the USDA grade shield, to be sure you're getting the quality meat you expect. The round mark of U.S. inspection assures you the product is wholesome and safe to eat. These two symbols are your guarantee that the meat and poultry you buy have been checked by experts of the consumer and marketing service.

This week's fish market will be swimming with plenty of canned salmon, frozen fish filets and steaks.

Officials Expect Several Hundred Viet Applications

Federal officials expect several hundred persons from the Panhandle area to apply for civilian posts in Vietnam during the 2-day recruitment period which begins in Amarillo tomorrow.

A team from the U. S. Agency for International Development will interview applicants at the Amarillo Crossroads Motel for a wide range of positions paying from $5,000 to $18,000 a year, plus a 25 per cent hardship bonus and other benefits.

Herbert F. Hodge Jr., public affairs chief for the Far East, said announcement of the 2-day drive, issued a few days ago, has resulted in an initial favorable response. The call was for civilian specialists "to help win the other war in Vietnam—the war against hunger, illiteracy and disease."

The positions for which candidates will be interviewed are area development officers, supply specialists, vocational education advisors, nurses, secretaries, auditors, economists, and agriculture specialists, among others.

Hodge said job candidates have been urged to call for an interview appointment on DR 6-4343, Amarillo, before going to the hotel.

FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 31
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day-time finds an element of good fortune in almost anything you want to do and you can be just as direct as you desire about it. However, the evening takes a turn for the worse and many delays, limitations and restrictions are apt to occur to bring you some pretty annoying moments.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — New situations arise today that you should welcome as they can open up a new vista of success for you now. You have novel ideas also that can add to your growth. Put them in operation as quickly as possible.

Taurus: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Getting personal matters well attended, as well as those of a business nature, is wise, so that your whole life operates on a very smooth basis. A close tie can be perceived in carrying through with a plan of yours be courteous.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Be more positive in getting others to cooperate with you for mutual benefits, and all goes fine. Come to new agreements. Then out for pleasure that you truly like. Make this a day for accomplishment.

MOON CHANGES: (Jan. 23 to Feb. 21) — Being sure to keep promises you have made is imperative and it is wise to be cheerful about it. If you are not, you are not doing it right. Take it easy tonight.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 23) — If you buy by the Golden Rule, you will find that today can be most delightful and profitable for you. Show respect to others and their talents before right bigwigs. Meet with success in all that you do.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) — Be courteous with others instead of criticizing so much. Remember these things with you are in need of inspiration. Your own life with others will then also change for the better. Be ambitious.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Dash out to appointments during day and be sure they are scheduled correctly so that you get the most done in the minimum of time. Blameless should then be made out correctly, too. Off to friends and relatives tonight.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 23) — You can now get correct answers to certain problems that have been bothering you for a long time. Do this correctly so that you can increase abundance, as you desire to do. Thinking big is the secret.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — Following your highest ambitions is fine during the day, but tonight don't waste your talents at home, or get into them. Your charm is high, and you can cash in on this now. Be very active.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Private affairs need your intelligent handling during day, but be careful of a faux pas later on. This could be very embarrassing to you and others. Confer with some expert for data you require.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — A kind pal will give you the assistance you need for whatever project may be uppermost in your mind, and then you can handle monetary affairs wisely. The social should be gotten into seriously. Be as energetic as possible.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Doing whatever will make your position more tenable with a higher-up is wise, but be very sure you are not dictatorial. This would not even be fitting, let alone get right results. Take it easy tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those remarkable young ones who will quickly follow through on some inspirational idea and get wonderful results therefrom. However, see that thorough training is given, so that the child's talents in life success does not come so readily, a n-d.

DeGaulle Launches France's First Nuclear-Powered Sub

CHERBOURG, France (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle Wednesday launched France's 1st nuclear-powered submarine, 8,000-ton giant named Le Redoutable which is nearly equal in size to the largest American Polaris submarines.

When armed with 16 nuclear-tipped ballistic missiles and operational a scheduled three years hence, the submarine will be a basic addition to De Gaulle's force de frappe (strike force) of supersonic nuclear-armed bombers and planned ballistic missiles.

The 420-foot submarine slipped down the skids at Cherbourg's government-operated shipyard where it has been building since 1958.

De Gaulle travelled the 200 miles from Paris for the launching. Security precautions in the draw port city were strict. Security police roused sleeping guests in every hotel room in the city this morning at 6:30 for an identity check. Missing at the launching was the traditional bottle of champagne. Instead De Gaulle pressed a button to launch the ship.

He chose not to smash a bottle of bubbly across the bow of Le Redoutable which he ordered built as soon as he came back to power in 1958 at the start of the Fifth Republic. Possibly De Gaulle decided the big boat was too valuable for even a scratch.

It is nearly equal in size and ballistic missile potential to America's biggest Polaris submarines, the Lafayette Class.

French Navy officials expressed pride in its building, calling it a formidable achievement for their country to join American, Britain and the Soviet Union in having atomic-powered undersea craft.

But Le Redoutable will be a lame duck for three years. France's first fully operational ballistic missile is not scheduled for completion before 1970.

NO GENTLEMAN
SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — The car came around the corner and went out of control. It hit the porch of a house on Oak Avenue.

The driver apparently panicked and fled on foot. But he left some tell-tale evidence: His girl friend.

Authorities said the girl, a 19-year-old Springfield resident, was sitting in the car when a police cruiser arrived. The driver ran off and left her. She identified the driver. He was being sought today.

In 1970, New York state had a population of 240,120 persons.

DOUBLE TIME
IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (UPI) — Iron Mountain and Kingsford on Michigan's Upper Peninsula share a street.

Going from one side of that street to the other could take an hour Saturday, the day Iron Mountain goes on Eastern Standard Time. Kingsford won't go on Eastern Standard until 24 hours later.

Swoboda Latest To Play at First

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The gag circulating the Citrus Circuit is that you have to keep your head up against the Mets or you may get it knocked off because they've planted a land mine around first base.

Big, bulky Ron Swoboda, the butt of the gag, doesn't see any humor in it at all.

"I like a joke as well as anybody else, but I quit laughing ever since they all laughed at the way I was playing the outfield," says Swoboda, latest in a long line of heavyweights to be moved in to first base.

"I don't know where they eventually plan to play me, first base or the outfield, but I don't like being laughed at either place. I don't think I'm doing so badly."

Actually, Swoboda isn't, although his unfamiliarity with the position has occasioned some strange mix-ups.

mouth by a pop fly when Swoboda hollered for it and nearly trampled him.

During that same contest with the Phillies, the Mets wound up with three men on first, Swoboda and two others, and the ball sailed past all of them in what was supposed to be the tail-end of a 3-6-3 double play.

"Everything considered though, Swoboda hasn't done badly," says Mets' manager Wes Westrum. "We've had some funny looking plays but they weren't his fault. Being able to play first base will help keep him around."

Swoboda deserves some credit at that because he had far less time to prepare for his big switch than Mickey Mantle did. Mantle had all winter; Swoboda had only one minute. "Do you wanna take some ground balls at first base?" Westrum suddenly asked him 11 days ago.

Swoboda said okay and the experiment was born.

Officially, the explanation for Swoboda's conversion is that Ed Kranepool, who played the bag last year, is hurt. He is, but he'll be ready in three or four days and Swoboda still will get some consideration at first base. There's a strong possibility Westrum may platoon them.

Needs Filling

"I want somebody in case of emergency," says Westrum, who is used to one emergency after another with the Mets.

Swoboda, meanwhile, is aware of his limitations at first base but they aren't keeping him from trying.

"There are plenty things I can't do, but I'm learning," he says.

He is at that. When he collided with Maris he immediately offered his sincere apology and it was accepted.

The Mets are treating first base something like a railroad crossing. Whenever they reach it and Swoboda also is there, they stop, look and listen.

That goes for all of them, even frail, 148-pound Sandy Alomar, whom they got from Houston not long ago. Following Swoboda's near-ragedy with Shirley, the frightened Alomar button-holed fellow infielder Chuck Hiller and told him:

"Please do me one favor. You play second base and I'll play shortstop."

Roger Maris ran into him rounding first on a double in a game with the Cardinals and a few days later, Mets' shortstop Bart Shirley was hit on the

Favorite's Role Goes to Floyd

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Floyd Patterson, the only heavyweight to regain the title after losing it, was a 4-1 favorite to defeat Bill McMurray in a 10 round bout at the Civic Arena here tonight.

Patterson's trainer, Ernie Fowler, said the New York heavyweight nursed a "slight cold" Wednesday night but would be in "terrific shape" for the fight and would enter the ring several pounds lighter than usual. He said Patterson would weigh in at about 196 pounds.

Patterson wound up his training Wednesday by doing some road work. McMurray sparred with a local amateur.

"I feel more confident about Bill than ever before," said McMurray's wife, Margaret. "He's in good condition now and his mind is clear. I hate to say this, but I just have a feeling he will win."

Regardless of whose arm is waved after the fight, Cassius Clay will have another challenger.

Both heavyweights were optimistic about their chances tonight and both cast an eye toward champion Clay's crown.

It was a new goal for McMurray. It was old hat for Patterson who was defeated by Clay in Las Vegas last year.

Other fighters also want a crack at the champ but they may all have to take a back seat to Uncle Sam who has ordered the loquacious boxer to report for induction into the armed services April 28.

No one knows if Clay would or could defend his title while in service but Patterson said he did not think he would have to wait for a title shot if he beats McMurray.

"Joe Louis fought while he was in the Army," Patterson said.

Ernie Terrell, recently defeated by Clay, and George Chuvala, a Canadian who also was a Clay victim, will be at ringside.

Terrell has expressed interest in meeting the winner of the Patterson-McMurray fight.

Tryouts End Friday for BR League

Tryouts for Babe Ruth League hopefuls ends tomorrow at Optimist Club Park.

Youngsters between the ages of 13-15 began registration Wednesday and continue through Friday and must make two of the three meetings.

All boys interested are asked to be at the Optimist Club building by 5:30 p.m. for the tryouts.

Clay Loses Draft Round

HOUSTON (UPI)—Cassius Clay has found his new hometown of Houston no friendlier than his old home in Louisville.

The Houston draft board said Tuesday it notified Clay to report for induction into the armed forces at the Houston Induction Center April 28.

The Louisville board had previously set April 11 as the date of induction, but this was changed when Clay's lawyers asked for the records to be transferred to the heavyweight champion's new home.

Mrs. Josie Koonce, chief clerk of the Houston Selective Service Board, said Clay's papers arrived Wednesday.

Clay announced in February he was moving to Houston after fighting Ernie Terrell in the Astrodome. Clay had grown up in Louisville.

No Comment

He would not say if he intended to report for induction. "I'll answer to the government when the time comes, not to the press," he said.

Clay was in Louisville Wednesday to appeal for an injunction that would keep him from being drafted in the Army in April. Federal Judge James F. Gordon denied the appeal.

Clay had petitioned Gordon's court for an injunction to prevent him from being drafted while he challenged the constitutionality of the Selective Service Act.

The heavyweight champion sought the injunction to block his induction on grounds his draft board had no Negro members while his case was processed.

Waiting Game

Gordon said Clay could not challenge the act's constitutionality until either he permitted himself to be drafted or failed to comply with the induction order.

Gordon also denied a motion asking for a temporary restraining order barring Clay's induction until the appeal could be taken to the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

In Houston Mrs. Koonce said the fighter's papers were processed promptly. She said the April 2 date was the next one available for Houston draftees at the induction center.

On joining the armed services, Clay, who has taken the Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali told newsmen Wednesday:

"My prayers, my sacrifice, my life and my death are all for Allah. If I thought my joining the war and possibly dying would bring peace, freedom, justice and equality to the 21 million so-called Negroes, they would not have to draft me. I would join tomorrow."

Pampa Teams Set for Relays

Pampa High School's golf, track and tennis teams were set today to journey to Amarillo early Friday for the start of the annual Amarillo Relays.

The Relays feature teams from over the entire state in classes AAAA, AAA, AA, A, and B in track, golf and tennis events.

The Harvesters will have two golf teams at the relays, the varsity golfers playing at Amarillo County Club and the B teamers at Tascosa Country Club.

Only the top six team from each division will qualify for Saturday's finals.

Coach Bill Brown's tennis team will begin play at 8 a.m. Friday and Brown will take six players, three girls and three boys to represent the school.

Track-wise coach Don Myers has kept a steady eye all week on Doc Cornutt, Gary McCarrell and Stan Mathis.

All three of these boys won first places at Perryton last week where Pampa finished fifth.

Cornutt will be facing his stiffest competition of the season and three of the thinclads in the field have put the shot farther than Cornutt this season.

Cornutt, however, has been improving steadily every week. McCarrell, Pampa's fastest dash man, will also be facing his stiffest competition of the season in the 440-yard-dash. But, as Myers says, the better the competition the better McCarrell runs.

FLAWLESS in his debut at first base in an actual game, New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle puts the tag on Ken McMullen of the Washington Senators in an exhibition contest at Pompano Beach, Fla. The Yanks moved the injury-prone Mantle from the outfield to first base to possibly prolong his career a year two.

Carl Yastrzemski, the American League's leading hitter in 1963, seems like he's ready to start menacing rival pitchers again this season.

Yastrzemski, who hit .321 in 1963, smashed two home runs and drove in six runs Wednesday as the Boston Red Sox rallied from five runs back to edge St. Louis 10-9.

In other action, Detroit downed Philadelphia 6-2, the New York Mets beat Cincinnati 5-3. Los Angeles nipped Kansas City 3-2, Pittsburgh stopped the Chicago White Sox 6-4, Houston edged Atlanta 3-2, Minnesota blanked Washington 5-0 and Cleveland slipped by California 2-1. The scheduled game between San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs was cancelled because of rain.

The lefthanded hitting Yastrzemski, whose average dipped to .278 last year after he hit at a .312 clip, the year before, then off on southpaw Al Jackson twice, connecting with one on in the third and again with two mates aboard in the fifth.

Carl's Game

The Red Sox outfielder also walked with the bases loaded in the sixth to drive across the tying run and came around to account for the eventual winning run on Joey Foy's three-run triple.

The Detroit Tigers strung together nine hits for five runs in the last two innings to down the Phils Dick McAuliffe, who had struck out three times against Phillie starter Chris Short, doubled off reliever Dick Hall to break a 1-1 tie in the three-run eighth and then scored the winning run on a single by Norm Cash.

Joe Sparrma, George Koonce and Dave Wickersham combined to limit the Phils to only three hits.

Bob Bailey's home run sparked a three-run first inning outburst as Los Angeles tripped Kansas City. Don Drysdale pitched six innings for the National League champions, allowing two runs on six hits and walking none in picking up the victory.

The New York Mets exploded for five runs in the fourth inning and rode home on a strong relief performance by Ron Taylor to dump Cincinnati. Ron Swoboda's two-run triple was the big blow as the Mets rapped Mel Queen for seven hits in the inning.

Matty Alou, Gene Alley and Manny Mota put together singles and Manny Jimenez added a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning to lead Pittsburgh to a come from behind victory over the White Sox.

The Pirates, who spotted the Sox a four-run lead on Ke Berry's bases-loaded homer in the third, battled back on Don Cledenon's home runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Second baseman Joe Morgan's 375-foot home run over the right field fence in the eighth inning lifted Houston over Atlanta. The Braves jumped on Astro starter Larry Dierker for a pair of runs in the first inning but Houston battled back to tie the score on a solo homer by rookie third baseman Doug Rader in the second and rookie outfielder Aaron Pointer's seventh-inning single.

Harmon Killebrew poled a

400-foot home run and Dave Boswell, Jim Perry and Al Worthington limited Washington to just four singles as Minnesota shut out the Senators. Killebrew's homer was his fifth of the spring.

Cleveland capitalized on four California errors and Gary Bell, Vincente Romo and Dick Radatz limited the Angels to four hits as the Indians edged Bill Rigney's crew. Rick Reichardt homered in the second for the Angels' only run.

On other fronts, Los Angeles center fielder Willie Davis sprained his left ankle and will miss the remainder of spring training. Davis sprained ligaments sliding into second base against the Athletics.

Houston's Bo Belinsky, one of baseball's most renowned playboys who thus far this season was a model of deportment, was fined $100 by Astro manager Grady Hatton for not only missing the team's night curfew but also failing to make the nine o'clock team bus for an out-of-town game, the next day.

Tom Tresh, the New York Yankee outfielder who has been out of action since March 11 with an injured knee, said Wednesday he expects to play this weekend when the Yankees make their Caribbean tour.

As a team the Harvesters are hitting .369 but more important they have turned in to a bunch of thieves. Through the 12 games Pampa has stolen 48 bases and average of three per game.

Pampa to Open District Play In Lubbock

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

Pampa, the least regarded team in district 3-4A this season but the team with the best preconference record, 12-0, opens district competition Friday in Lubbock where the Harvesters will be for a two-day stand.

Coach Bobby Stephens youngsters have slain 12 straight foes and open the district with Lubbock at 4 p.m. Friday then tackle Moterey, the preconference favorite at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Thus far Lubbock is 8-5, doing better than the 'experts' figured they would while Moterey struggled along with a 7-6 preconference slate.

All eight of the Harvester starters finished non-league play hitting above the .300 circle with Ronnie Sanders' leading the way with an even 500 average, 12 hits in 24 at bats.

Last year's hitting leader, Gary Molberg is closing fast with 18 hits in 41 at bats for a .438 average and James Matney, his less in his last game has collected 11 hits in 29 at bats for a .379 mark and catcher Larry Stephens comes in next at .375 with 15 hits in 40 at bats.

Third baseman Alvin Achord is hitting an even .300 with 12 hits in 40 at bats. Rick Foster, the pitcher-second baseman has a 3.71 average on 13 hits in 35 at bats, first baseman Larry Jones is at .313 with 11 hits in 35 at bats and outfielder Barry Price has 11 hits in 36 at bats for a .306 average.

Molberg's 18 hits are the most of anybody on the club and Stephens has scored the most runs, 15 while Molberg leads in runs batted in with 16 while Matney has 13 and Price, Achord and Foster have 10 each.

Four players have two home runs each, Stephens, Foster, Molberg and Jones have all connected for the circuit twice each.

Molberg has six doubles to lead in that department while Achord and Foster lead in stolen bases with eight each.

As a team the Harvesters are hitting .369 but more important they have turned in to a bunch of thieves. Through the 12 games Pampa has stolen 48 bases and average of three per game.

Buffalo Follies to Open One Night Stand Friday

It won't be like 'Hello Dolly' but when members of the West Texas State Buffaloes football team set center stage at Lee Junior High Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday spectators won't soon forget the show they'll see.

The Buffs and all their helpers have been getting rave notices from every town they've appeared in.

The footballers and cheerleaders will step out first with every football players theme song, 'You Gotta Be A Football Hero' with the girl in 'mind Shary Kerbel, daughter of WT football coach Joe and much better looking than her dad.

Next comes 'Steppin' Out with My Baby' sung by MC Bob Davis, then 'Ballin' The Jack' with the singing Buffaloes followed by 'Cane Dance' with the Dancin' Buffaloes.

There are songs, dances and skits galore and 90 minutes of the best musical entertainment to come to Pampa in a long time.

Director of the show is Dixie Dice who was tired out of tirement from doing such things to help the Buffaloes put together this show and help with the sale of Buffs season tickets, which is secondary to Follies.

But the best part is you get to see the whole thing for nothing, no admission charge.

Members of the Pampa Top O' Texas Club will serve as ushers for the show.

The idea for the show was actually born in Cheyenne, Wyoming by a Pampa and two Amarilloans, all three connected or glued with the press.

Buff's play-by-play man and Pampa Radio Station owner Warren Hasse and his sidekick Dick Risenhoover and Puff Powell, Sports Director of the Amarillo News and Globe - Times thought up the idea over coffee.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE.

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Some Causes of Crime

A great many thinking persons are showing continued and mounting concern over the recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions which have hampered officers in their enforcement of laws. The Wall Street Journal in an editorial titled, "Crime and Ideology," discusses the issue.

The Journal notes that law enforcement officials and a distinguished minority of the President's Crime Commission are dissatisfied with the way the Supreme Court has attempted to expand such things as the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination. The Journal points to the fact that few people even question the authority of the court and quotes a "liberal" columnist as commenting on "the weakness of the liberal theology as a rationale for judicial determination."

We think there is no question that a great many persons, in and out of the legal profession, regard the edicts of the Supreme Court as something from Mt. Olympus. And we think the crime conditions are made worse by the rulings of Warren & Co. But the principal cause of increasing crime is more basic. It is the attempt by those in government to create crimes out of the normal activities of individuals. Even some of those who are strongest in their opposition to the use of alcohol now admit that America's "noble experiment" in prohibiting individuals from having liquor had much to do with the disrespect for law in the '20s and '30s.

But there are other laws which interfere with individuals in their natural peaceful activities which add to the breakdown of law. For instance: It is illegal for Americans to own gold, except under certain specified conditions.

It is illegal in most states for a parent to teach his own children, no matter how well trained the parent is, unless it is in a state-approved institution.

It is illegal to hire a boy or girl for productive work—even though it may be well within their capabilities.

It is illegal to hire for less than the minimum wage, thereby shutting off financial earnings of the very young, the very old or handicapped persons who would be willing partial producers for a partial wage.

It is illegal for an employer to tell a man he will not hire him if he belongs to a labor union; but it is not illegal to tell him he will not hire him unless he joins a labor union.

It is illegal for a man to use his own property peacefully as he chooses unless he gets the permit of a city or county governing board.

It is illegal for an individual dying of cancer to use as a last resort several products which the state in all its wisdom has decided are "quack" remedies, even though orthodox treatments may have proved futile.

We submit that such interferences with man's peaceful activities relating to his own life can but lead to a disrespect for laws and lawmakers.

And when political government interferes with efforts to earn one's own living by such devices as labor prohibitions, minimum wage laws and legislation which gives unions monopolies on certain jobs, it leads to idleness and resentment. "Satan finds some mischief for idle hands to do," is as true today as it was when first stated by Isaac Watts more than 200 years ago.

Labor: 71 Pct. of U.S. 'Pie'

Americans whose incomes are in the form of wages and salaries pushed their share of the total national income to 71 per cent in 1966, reports the Family Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company. In actual dollars, workers collected a massive $433 billion. This was up $40.5 billion from 1965 and accounted for four-fifths of the total increase in the country's $610-billion national income in 1966.

"Such a huge share of the economic pie would have been unthinkable at the turn of the century, when 'compensation of employees' represented only 51 per cent of the nation's total income of a mere $17.5 billion. Sharing the remainder of the national income in 1966 were businessmen, farmers, professional people, rental property owners and those who lent their savings — the 'capitalists,' large and small. Their share was 49 per cent in 1900 but only 29 per cent in 1966.

Together with "employees," these are the economic groups which produce the nation's supply of new goods and services each year. This mammoth output for which Americans earned $610 billion in 1966 sold for a final price of $740 billion in the market place.

It is a "fair prospect," says the bureau's analysts, that "employees" cut of the pie will increase again in 1967. A question: How much higher can it—or should it—go?

This 29 per cent residue of national income after wages and salaries may be near the minimum necessary to provide rewards that will stimulate businesses, farmers and others to maintain a high growth rate for the economy and consequently, a high employment rate for labor.

Cong: Just Puppet On Red String

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—When talk turns to the prospect of negotiation over the war in Vietnam, many of the people who urge including the Viet Cong-National Liberation Front muster an imposing array of myths to support their notion that the NLF is broadly representative of rebellious South Vietnamese.

Some who urge this course have actually created and helped mightily to foster major misconceptions about the NLF.

Here are a few, but only a few, of the key myths which are regularly employed to buck up the argument that the NLF should be treated as the authentic voice of indigenous southern rebels:

—Non-Communist of southern origin bulk heavily in NLF top councils. They have often fought among themselves, differed with Hanoi-oriented NLF members. This proves their independence of Hanoi's control.

—The southern rebels in the NLF are tougher in their opposition to the Saigon government than are their North Vietnamese friends. If these latter should try to settle the war in negotiations with the United States, the southern Viet Cong-NLF might very likely continue to fight hard on their own.

This is possible because the NLF basically is a spontaneous but organized expression of the political, economic and social grievances the insurgent southern Vietnamese have built up against Saigon.

According to Douglas Pike, a former USIA official who spent six years in Vietnam studying the NLF (mostly through its own or Hanoi's documents, captured or otherwise available), the Front's "independence" is pure fiction.

In his book, "Viet Cong," he cites a memorandum of Hanoi's Lao Dong (Communist) party proposing an NLF for the south—and itself as an organizing member.

Many other documents indicate that Lao Dong leaders wished the new organization to be as broad-based and "southern" as possible, since little would be gained if it functioned as a narrow, hard-core Communist group visibly ruled from Hanoi.

The late Bernard Fall, the scholar now so often cited by critics of U.S. policy, in fact supported fully Pike's version of the Hanoi-inspired origins of the NLF, and the key role played in it by Hanoi-controlled Reds.

If the NLF were truly representative of the south, truly a vehicle for the anti-Saigon grievances of the rebels, one would expect to find its membership at peak level when opposition to the controversial regime of the late Premier Diem was at its greatest and most vocal. Pike's researches show, however, that NLF membership hit a high of 300,000 in early 1962, long before the critical period leading to Diem's fall, and never rose above that figure. And the NLF took no real part in that critical stirring.

Hanoi appeared to fear that Diem's early removal would take important steam out of its "mass rebellion," and chose that crisis to tighten Red control of the NLF. Its feats were not groundless. NLF membership dropped between 50,000 and 100,000 after Diem was deposed and killed. Anti-Diem religious sects pulled out.

The notion that the Viet Cong-NLF would fight on if Hanoi yielded is also ill-founded. Documents show again and again that, to the extent truly southern-oriented NLF members were able to express themselves, they were always more receptive than Hanoi to two propositions regarded as "soft"—a genuine coalition government admitting elements of the Saigon regime to key membership, and real neutralization of South Vietnam, enforced by workable international guarantees.

It is long since established that many South Vietnamese not dedicated to Hanoi had real grievances against Saigon. But the NLF and Viet Cong did not arise spontaneously as their organized expression. As both Pike and Fall assert, the NLF was sprung full-blown upon the South Vietnamese countryside, a masterpiece of organizational skills far beyond the talents of untutored but complaining southern villagers.

Grievances did not produce the NLF. The NLF exploited and organized grievances. But their simple redress, a reasonable goal for a "spontaneous" revolutionary uprising, was not

The Road Ho Chi Minh Bombed Out

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE

In Torrance, California, 100 houses recently displayed signs saying "This house is not open for inspection as long as the citizens of this country are free to refuse entry into their homes."

The incident is part of a local controversy that was brought about when the city officials attempted to qualify for federal urban renewal funds. It was deemed necessary to inspect 244 homes to see if they qualified to become a part of the program.

Surprisingly, 40 percent of the homeowners in the area were willing to stand up and be counted as protesting the right of someone else to invade their homes.

And why should anyone be legally qualified to enter a man's home? Did the building inspector, the bureaucrat or the politician work to earn the resources to build the home? Does it represent the finished product of a single city official?

Of course not. So it is said that the rights of the city or the public supersede any individual rights. Why? Who is the city? Who is the public? What claim do they have on the labor of the individuals who worked so hard to acquire their own homes?

Zoning laws, urban renewal projects, building codes—these things are invasions of the ability of the homeowner to actually own and control his property. Why should a man buy a home that someone else will control?

As we can see from the Torrance example, government regulations do not create stability in the marketplace — they create chaos. For the homeowners purchased their properties believing that they could keep them and live there as long as they chose. But the government has disrupted that by arbitrarily choosing to make these homeowners pawns in an urban renewal project.

Does your government protect you — or does it disrupt your life and long-term plans? The Torrance homeowners are suffering the natural consequences of having asked the government to regulate their lives — to "protect" them from the cold, cruel world.

Perhaps it will be well to think twice the next time you plan on calling upon the government for help of any kind.

Its actual objective. Its thoroughly documented purpose openly or secretly set forth as peace and economic demand, is "reunification of the fatherland" under Hanoi's control — and creation of a full socialist-Communist state throughout the unified land.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Multiple Sclerosis Is Not Always Crippling
Q — Do patients with multiple sclerosis have pain? How long does one have it before being crippled with it?

A — Rather than pain, numbness is often a symptom of multiple sclerosis. The course and severity of the disease is extremely varied. Although no cure is known, some victims have long periods in which they have it for many years — others may become severely crippled within a few months.

Q — My wife is confined to bed with multiple sclerosis. She has an open sore at the end of her spine. What causes this and what can be done for it?

A — Bed sores or pressure sores may occur in anyone who is confined to bed for a long time. The best treatment would be the use of a special mattress to equalize the pressure of the body on all parts, and known as total flotation therapy.

Q — My sister, 56, has multiple sclerosis and is confined to a wheelchair. Where can I get some information about this disease?

A — Excellent pamphlets on home care and other aspects of this disease can be had by writing to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society (257 Park Ave. South, New York, N.Y. 10010). They can also tell you the location of the nearest chapter to your home.

Q — Is it possible to develop adhesions in the abdomen following a severe contusion incurred in an auto accident?

A — Adhesions are a growing together of cut surfaces following an operation or inflamed surfaces associated with an infection. It would be rare but not impossible for adhesions to form following a contusion that bruised the lining of some abdominal organs. In any case, the adhesions would not cause any trouble unless they resulted in an intestinal obstruction.

Q — How many different diseases are there?

A — This is something like asking how many different tunes there are in the world. Some doctors get around this by stating that there are no diseases—just sick people. If some of them seem to have certain features in common, these features may be used as a guide to possible lines of treatment but in the practice of medicine there are few, if any, infallible rules. The exceptions keep us on our guard and keep us from getting bored with our work.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Question Box

Question: Why do our elected representatives in Congress insist on creating new currency by selling interest bearing government bonds to commercial banks, which give only bank credit in exchange for this government credit — but (and here is the rub) they collect interest on their bank credit and we suckers pay it year after year. Could not this sneaky help to explain why we hear very few objections from bankers to the ever expanding national debt?

ANSWER: This is a major part of the problem of having the government in the currency business. The politicians are embarked on a program of expanding credit and currency, and the combination with the semi government Federal Reserve System is an easy way to expand the supply of fiat money.

At one time, all paper currency was required to be redeemed in gold, and individuals could legally own gold coins. However, the United States abandoned the gold standard in the '30s. More recently the requirement that banks have fractional gold backing for the currency they issued was eliminated by the Congress. When individuals could demand gold for their currency, they had some control over the inflationary prices of the government and bankers. However, they now have lost all control.

It would seem logical that bankers, like other business men who are being helped by government policies, would not object to those policies.

Cannel At Bay

By Ward Cannel

Culture in a Shopping Center NEW YORK (NEA)—The information reprinted below is excerpted and condensed from a news release from Dayton's department store in Minneapolis.

Next month the store will hold its annual gardening clinic, a golf and tennis workshop with experts, a seminar on planning holiday entertainment, a fashion show in businesswomen's styles, a lecture series on how to take the family on a camping trip, and a demonstration of yoga.

In addition, the store will offer a course in self-protection for women, a workshop in how to fish, a visit by sculptor Alexander Calder, a course in money management for young marrieds, a safe and sane psychedelic experience, a course in how to dress for home parties, and an overnight outing for the kids.

As usual, the store will conduct its regular courses in good grooming, etiquette and creative home decorating, as well as the traditional baby-sitting service, educational and vocational bureau, and Party for all the children whose birthdays fall during this month.

Now, as every American knows, there is nothing very surprising about this kind of activity. In fact, it is quite common and ordinary to anybody who has ever been in a modern department store or shopping center.

Consequently, we have been passing over this sort of news release from department stores without so much as a second thought. But it has suddenly occurred to us just how surprising this matter really is and what change it signifies on the national landscape.

As we recall our youth, nobody ever welcomed spring by going downtown for a seminar in how to fish, golf or camp out.

In those days not so long ago, you developed a green thumb in your own back yard. Thrift was something you learned at your hearth. And as to what to wear at home or office, how to behave properly in company, when and where to wield a hatpin — well, you didn't get to that knowledge by escalator.

But apparently times have changed quite a bit while our back was turned. And if it keeps up at this rate, not only will it transform civilization and its folkways, but it will also require a rewriting of the entire world of tender sentiment as well.

To our way of thinking, it is only a matter of time before the old gang, toasting the past in the Nostalgia Boutique, raises voice in song with something like the following (with apologies all around, of course):
D is for your workshop in Devotion,
E is for your Expert course in care,
F is Party ellipse (time and motion),
A is Art and how to hang it where,
R is Raiment (right and proper use of),
T is Tennis, Thrift, Terpsichore,
M is Marriage study (sex or true love?),
E is how to Entertain with brie,
N is dear old memories of your Nursery,
T is for the trout fly you taught me,
S is for your Seminar in judo
T is for the Trout fly you taught me,
O therapy!!
R's Remedial Rosebush (you'll get kudos)
E is Every debt I owe to thee...

Put them all together they spell Mother (Group study on this topic starts at three.)

Bunker's Job: Easing Out War Rulers

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—Ellsworth Bunker's major assignment as the new U.S. ambassador to Vietnam will be to make certain Saigon's military junta turns the government over to civilian rule after the upcoming national elections.

Bunker has been told to make certain there are no sudden military coups by disgruntled Vietnamese army or air force officers.

He has been ordered to sniff out any behind-the-scenes Vietnamese military pressures or roadblocks that would prevent the new civilian government from being effective.

He has been authorized to talk to Vietnamese leaders "like a Dutch uncle."

It isn't Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky who worries President Johnson and his aides. It is some of the generals around Ky and some generals and colonels in opposition, who, Americans fear, might use the changeover to civilian government period for a take-over. Ky, for all his arming words in public, has so far demonstrated personally a willingness to cooperate with civilians.

It is no secret Bunker was chosen for the Vietnam job because of his success in bringing diverse elements together in the Dominican Republic, thus making possible a workable government on that harassed island.

It is no secret either that Eugene M. Locke was chosen as Bunker's principal deputy in Vietnam because he has been able to iron out very serious problems in U.S.-Pakistan relations during his tenure as U.S. ambassador in Rawalpindi.

Locke's Pakistan job was especially difficult. It was carried out in a period when Pakistan was flirting strongly with Mao Tse-tung's Red China. Locke's key to success was in being very friendly "but very frank."

The Johnson administration is putting great faith in the creation of the new South Vietnam national civilian government to be created under the newly written proposed constitution. The military junta has been a great embarrassment to U.S. diplomats. It has been difficult to explain that until the way could be paved for a civilian government, there had to be some government. Too hurried establishment of civilian rule would have resulted in a government without power. It could have been dictated to or overthrown by a military coup — over U.S. opposition.

The problem has been to reason, cajole and argue with the military men until they were ready to assent to a change.

There has been only so much pressure the United States could lay on unless we were prepared to take over by force or walk out. To the administration, neither seemed the proper solution. The able work of the constitutional assembly and the willingness of the assembly members to stand up for what they believe indicate South Vietnam may be ready for the major step toward democratic self-government that national elections will inaugurate.

Unwitting Style Setters

The youthful fad now sweeping the country of wearing old clothes can't help but bring a glow of modest pride to those of us who have been doing this for years without knowing we were setting a fashion trend. Some of us, in fact, were just doing it so our kids wouldn't have to wear old clothes.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

As summer approaches, the better camps are rapidly filling, raising an interesting annual question.

Should every child attend a summer camp?

Or that some children would benefit more by spending the summer with their families. The answer involves consideration of the child's personality, interests, age, home situation and neighborhood.

A child who loves sports, other children, and is generally self-sufficient will probably gain a great deal from camp. A child who dislikes sports and tends to be a loner may find camp distasteful. It is possible that he could benefit from camping but this will depend upon his own attitude. If he would like to try camping, he could learn much if he is given encouragement by the counselors and attends a camp which emphasizes some activities to match his interests. He may like sleeping outdoors, music, etc.

Age Important

Age is an important factor. A day camp is more desirable for the younger child ranging in age from 3 or 4 to 7 or 8. A resident or sleep-away camp should not be considered much before age 7 or 8, depending on the individual child. Some may be ready at age 5 or 6 while others would not be ready until age 9.

In a home where both parents work, a residential camp can be very helpful. The child will be a part of a well-planned program with good supervision. He will have the feeling that he is a part of a group rather than being home alone with little attention because his parents are both tired after work. In such situations it is important that the child understand that he is not being sent away to get rid of him, but because he is loved and will enjoy many benefits. In addition, it would be most valuable if some vacation period could be arranged when the entire family could be together.

Local Pattern
The general pattern of the neighborhood and the child's friends should be considered. If everyone goes away, the child would be lonely at home. On the other hand, if everyone stays at home and many facilities and planned activities are available, the child might have a wonderful time.

Choosing the right camp is important. Investigate the many camps available. Find out the kinds of activities they emphasize. Consider the distance and facilities. Relate these things to your child's personality and interests.

In any event the decision of camp or home should be a combined one between parents and child. The child should never feel that he is being sent away because he is not wanted. He must have the feeling that he is involved in the decision and that he will benefit from the experience. Camp can be both enjoyable and helpful. The key is in the planning.

PHS Grad To Appear At Carnegie Hall

Phillips Smith, son of Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Smith, 1918 N. Nelson, will appear today with the Baylor University A Capella Choir in Carnegie Hall, New York City.

The choir will also appear in Riverside Baptist Church of New York City, and the First direction of Mr. Hugh Sanders, hem, Pennsylvania. The choir directed by Dr. Euell Porter will return to Waco on April 3.

Phillip graduated from Pampa High School in 1963 where he was a member of the High School A Capella Choir under direction of Mr. Hugh Sanders.

Spotlighting Servicemen

Sgt. Galligan Is Honored

Staff Sgt. Joseph E. Galligan has been recognized as instructor of the year for 1966 by the Dept. of Field Training, 3750th Tech. School, Sheppard AFB in Sherman, Texas.

Galligan's selection came during a conference held in Sherman for field training detachments from world-wide U.S. Air Force bases. He was picked from among 2,500 instructors for the honor.

He was cited for his aggressive and dynamic performance to duty.

Galligan was also lauded for spending overtime duty hours teaching the complex Egress system which is used on many of the aircraft used by the Air Force.

Galligan, who is presently stationed at Kadena Air Base, Okinawa, was awarded a certificate, two U.S. savings bonds, a pen and pencil set.

His wife, Peggy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Evans of 625 S. Barns.

Prior to being stationed at Kadena, Galligan served at Amarillo Air Force Base.

Cloud Completes Advanced Training

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AHTNC) — Army Private First Class Guy A. Cloud, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer F. Cloud, 715 N. Frost, completed eight weeks of advanced individual training at Ft. Hood, Tex., March 24.

He received further classroom and field instruction in hand-to-hand combat, drill, first-aid, tactics, and other skills introduced to him in basic combat training.

His wife, Pamela, lives at 323 N. Sumner.

Luster Promoted Private 1st Class

Darrell Luster, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Luster of 1033 S. Banks, has been promoted to private first class.

Luster is stationed with the 45th Air Ambulance Medical Company at Fort Bragg, N. C. He is a 1965 graduate of Pampa High School.

American Legion Post Will Host Two Commanders

DODSON (Spl) — American Legion Post No. 535 will have a rare distinction April 3 when it will host not only department commander Jack W. Flynt of Dimmitt, but also the department commander of Oklahoa, Jack C. Brown, Miami, Okla.

The occasion is for the Oklahoma Commander to pay off a membership debt to the Texas Legion commander.

Dodson, the newest post in the Panhandle area, is a "Hall of Fame" Post in Texas and as such, was chosen as the site for the historic meeting. Commander Flynt will receive 25 pounds of choice Oklahoma beef as his end of the wager.

Commander Flynt will bring his state adjutant, Willis H. McGregor, and Commander Brown will also bring his adjutant, A. R. (Art) Tyner, Jr. Tyner is a former Texan.

Speaker for the occasion will be Adjutant McGregor. Numerous other district and division officials from both states will be in attendance.

CoC Sports Panel Meets

Members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee finalized plans Wednesday for the Friday night showing of the Buffalo Polles. The polles, featuring members of West Texas State's football team, is scheduled in Lee Junior High Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

The committee also received information from the United States Olympic Committee that $3,000 was needed by June 1 to help send athletes to different countries that have climates like Mexico, where the 1968 Olympic games are scheduled.

Red, white and blue canisters will be placed in several Pampa, Wheeler and White Deer businesses where persons wishing to donate to the fund may do so.

Also, colored decals are on sale for $1.00 each to Olympic boosters.

In 1603 the crowns of England and Scotland were joined under James VI of Scotland.

Rotary Sees Slide Show of Quarries

A narrated slide presentation on the Alabates Flint Quarries was the feature of the weekly luncheon meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Mrs. Charles Barkley, of Borger, outlined the cultural background and the development of the flint quarries, which has been designated Texas' first national monument.

The alabates quarries are located about 25 miles northeast of Amarillo, near Lake Meredith.

GM CALLBACK

DETROIT (UPI) — The possibility of a misaligned steering shaft that could snap under "abnormal stresses" has resulted in the callback of 12,602 new Corvairs by General Motors Corp.

Chevrolet division Wednesday said the shaft in some vehicles may have been incorrectly aligned during assembly and could snap under certain conditions. Two failures have been reported, both of which occurred during parking, the company said.

In 1963, President Kennedy's commission on narcotics urged a "massive attack" on big time importers of illegal drugs.

SHELLEY THREATENED

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor John F. Shelley was under special police surveillance today because of a threat on his life earlier this week.

Deputy Police Chief Al Neider said a man who was believed to have made the telephone threat on the former California congressman's life was in custody under psychiatric observation.
