Pampa Gets First Water From Lake As Line Is Tested

First water from the Canadian River Dam project at Lake Meredith was delivered to Pampa shortly before noon today.

It came only to the city limits at a point where the 30-inch water main from Borger to Pampa eventually will feed into a filtration plant on Kentucky Ave., one-half mile west of the Price Rd.-Kentucky Ave. intersection.

The water, which surged through the main today, was not for delivery into Pampa's water system. That still is quite a way off.

When the valve was opened, today's water gushed out of the open-end main, emptied into a draw and found its way due east into Red Deer Creek for the flow-off.

Occasion for another milestone in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority project was the first testing of the water line and pumping equipment between Borger and Pampa.

Engineers from the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation were on hand to check the line for leaks. The water at the Pampa end of the main was allowed to run off for several hours before the valve was closed.

Testing of sections of the line from the city limits to the Pampa regulating station about five miles west of the city and from there to Borger was expected to continue for the next few days, Bureau of Reclamation officials stated.

China Says U.S. Forces Must Go

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China said today an end of U.S. air attacks against North Vietnam could not alone bring about peace talks on the Vietnam war. The United States must first withdraw all its troops from the south, it said.

"As long as the U.S. forces still occupy South Vietnam, no matter whether the U.S. bombs the North or not, the U.S. continues to be the aggressor and that even includes if the U.S. stops bombing of North Vietnam forever," Peking Radio said.

The broadcast quoted excerpts from an editorial in today's issue of the official Peking People's Daily, voice of the ruling Chinese Communist party. The editorial was Peking's strongest and most important pronouncement on the Vietnam war in recent months.

"The Vietnam issue does not end with a halt in U.S. bombing," the article said. "It is not a question whether the U.S. bombs the North or not." The main condition for peace talks is the withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam, it added.

It said there was no escaping (See CHINA, Page 3)

South Viet Troops Stage Big Victory

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese troops backed by U.S. artillery and warplanes killed a battalion of North Vietnamese soldiers in one of the war's biggest Allied victories, military spokesmen said today.

The battle began Sunday when about 1,000 regular North Vietnamese army troops counterattacked a pursuing force of South Vietnamese paratroopers. By today, about 400 enemy bodies were recovered, spokesmen said.

The fighting raged through the night on the coastal plain about 330 miles northeast of Saigon, and the South Vietnamese were so elated with the victory that Chief of Staff Gen. Cao Van Vien was flown to the battlefield for a personal inspection.

Joint Operation
The coastal region has for the past week been the focal point of a joint U.S., Korean and South Vietnamese campaign aimed primarily at pushing Communist forces back into mountain retreats.

Only 40 miles to the north, a multi-battalion force of U.S. Marines operating to the south of their base at Da Nang clashed in shoulder-to-shoulder combat with another North Vietnamese unit. Spokesmen said 118 enemy troops were killed in a series of fights which began Sunday and continued through today.

UPI correspondent Dan Southard who was with the Marines said about 90 other North Vietnamese soldiers were surrounded on all four sides by the Leathernecks and had little hope for escape.

The coastal campaign, spokesmen said, has raised the Communist death toll for the past week to more than 2,000 — one of the worst sustained by the enemy since the fierce battle of Ia Drang Valley in November 1965.

Limited Air Strikes
Moonsoon rains limited the air war against North Vietnam Sunday, spokesmen said. Officials said 77 missions were flown, striking targets in the Red River Valley northeast of Hanoi and in the coastal panhandle region through which Communist ship supplies to the south.

Spokesmen said American jet pilots sighted two Communist MIGs while flying toward the industrial region about 30 miles west of Hanoi. But the MIG pilots turned back to avoid contact, spokesman said.

In Deckhouse VI, a U.S. Marine sweep inland from the shore, a total of 70 Communists have been reported killed since last Thursday. Another Leatherneck campaign, Operation De Soto, has resulted in a reported 130 Communist dead since Jan. 26.

According to CNA, the bitter battle in Seochuan Province took place last Wednesday but was spreading to other parts of the country. Preliminary estimates indicated the casualties had reached 1,000 and were still rising, CNA said.

Recent news reports from Red China have indicated that Seochuan Province was a stronghold of anti-Mao opposition.

The reports of violence in Kwantung and Fukien provinces came from travelers recently arrived from Red China. One group of travelers said more than 60 pro-Mao Red Guards were killed and scores wounded in a fight in Fat-shun city in Kwantung.

than 100 others injured, the newspaper report said.

Farther up the coast, Peking Radio today reported a serious rift among Mao's supporters in Tsingtao, Red China's largest naval base and onetime headquarters of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

Speck Goes On Trial

News Guidelines Receive Criticism

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — The trial of Richard Franklin Speck on charges of killing eight nurses began today with the tightest security—both for his life and his rights—ever seen in an Illinois court.

Presiding Judge Herbert C. Paschen who set up news coverage guidelines which prompted criticism from the nation's newsmen, called a news conference a half hour before the trial started today. He was expected to announce whether he would modify the guidelines.

Armed guards were ordered to patrol overlooking rooftops today when Speck, surrounded by sheriff's deputies, was taken by car from the yellow stone Peoria County Jail across Hamilton Street to the new courthouse. Deputies were ordered to search everyone entering the courtroom during the trial.

Speck is charged with killing, either with his hands or a knife, eight student nurses studying at the South Chicago Community Hospital.

An intruder entered their duplex apartment between 11 p.m., July 13 and 6 a.m., July 14, 1966, and killed them one by one after first herding them into a bedroom. One of the roomers in the dormitory apartment, Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange student, survived the night by covering beneath a bed. Her testimony and that of Speck, if he takes the stand, were expected to highlight the trial.

The trial was transferred here from Chicago on a change of venue granted on grounds that extensive news coverage of the crime and Speck's arrest made it impossible to give him a fair trial there.

Selection of a jury here could take weeks. Paschen's 16-point guide for newsmen covering the trial has been attacked by organizations of newspaper and broadcast executives as being unnecessarily severe. Observers said they were much more stringent than similar rules laid down for the widely publicized second trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard and Dr. Carol Coppolino.

Paschen and Cook County State's Atty. John Stamos, the chief prosecutor, discussed softening the guidelines during a meeting at Paschen's three-room hotel suite here Sunday night.

Anxious to avoid a reversal which might lead to a new trial, Paschen had forbidden newsmen to identify prospective jurors or any of the jurors finally selected for the trial.

He also had prohibited newsmen, under threat of a contempt of court citation, from talking to attorneys or policemen about the trial.

Ex-Detective Says Five Involved In Kennedy Murder

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A former private detective says five persons were involved with Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and he knows their identities.

David Lewis, a bus station express-handler who worked as a private investigator here in the months before the assassination, said Sunday he has the names of the five persons allegedly involved in the planning phase of the plot on the president's life.

But Lewis said he would not disclose the names of the alleged conspirators until permitted to do so by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who this weekend said the plot to assassinate Kennedy was hatched in New Orleans. Garrison charged that Oswald had plenty of help in devising the scheme, and vowed he would prove it.

Garrison promised arrests and convictions from his investigation into the murder of Kennedy.

Lewis, who identified himself as one of the witnesses upon whose testimony Garrison's case would be constructed, said the five persons allegedly involved are still in New Orleans. Oswald was here for six months before the assassination in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963.

Garrison, who has blasted the Warren Commission Report which ruled there was no conspiracy, said he would not turn over his investigation either to the FBI or the Department of Justice.

"I am running this investigation," Garrison said Sunday, "not the attorney general. I am in charge of this operation and I'm not about to turn it over to anybody."

Asian Leaders Advise Against Bombing Halt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today certain "impartial" Asian leaders have recommended against halting U.S. bombing of North Vietnam on grounds it would be misinterpreted "as a sign of weakness."

McNamara declined to identify the Asian leaders in congressional testimony, given a month ago, but made public today by the Senate Armed Services Committee and military appropriations subcommittee.

"In any case," he said, "there are Asian leaders of other nations not involved militarily in South Vietnam who have recommended we not stop the bombing and who say that such action would be misinterpreted."

The secretary's comments, made in an exchange with Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., were among the few items not deleted from the heavily censored transcript of the hearing.

In other portions of the testimony, McNamara declined to discuss representation of the Viet Cong at peace talks and other matters which were described as foreign policy questions.

But he told Pastore that the United States had made it clear to North Vietnam, at different times and in different ways, "that we would be willing to stop the bombing without any action on their part preceding it, with no firm guarantee as to what they would do, but with just some general indication of how they would act."

"We have never received any indication that they would respond favorably," McNamara said.

His comments on the recommendations of the unnamed Asian leaders came after Pastore, noting the expressed views of United Nations Secretary General Thant, suggested that the United States might take a calculated risk on a halt in the bombing.

In his testimony, McNamara defended the effectiveness of the bombing, as a pressure on the Communists, and said: "They are putting on such a campaign worldwide to get us to stop that it is obvious they are influenced by it, and I think at some point this might well lead to a field for negotiations."

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Cal Farley, who dedicated his life to "teaching boys to become the kind of men God intended," died Sunday where much of that teaching occurred—in the chapel of his world-famed Boy's Ranch.

Doctors at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo said Farley, 71, died of a stroke. Typically, Farley had been herding cattle on his ranch only a few hours before he collapsed.

Funeral services were tentatively set for 4:30 p.m. CST Tuesday at Amarillo Tascosa high school auditorium.

Farley established Boy's Ranch in an abandoned courthouse at Tascosa, Tex., 38 miles west of Amarillo, in 1939. He had been granted custody of six young boys who he spotted playing ball in the afternoons instead of being in school.

He took those boys to the old courthouse and the 1,400 barren acres that surrounded it and the ranch has been growing ever since.

Today Boy's Ranch employs a full staff of teachers and other employees who carry out Farley's philosophy of molding the youngsters into the kind of men God intended them to be. About 2,000 boys have passed through the ranch, and there are 346 of them currently living there.

The ranch has 39 modern buildings, a 12-grade school, a post office and a bank. Shortly before his death Farley made arrangements to purchase a 4,400-acre ranch adjacent to his own.

The ranch was made up of a number of small living units, with a man and his wife living in each one and serving as parents for the boys. Farley stressed that his establishment was not an orphan's home or training school, but a "home and future for boys."

The ranch was administered by a 24-member board of directors, of which Farley was chairman. The board will continue to manage the ranch's affairs.

Civil Rights Slaying Case To Reopen

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The Justice Department, armed with a massive accumulation of FBI evidence, planned to seek new federal indictments today in the 1964 slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

A federal grand jury was to be convened by U.S. District Judge Harold Cox and, although there was no official confirmation regarding the cases to be presented, reliable sources said the Philadelphia killings were certain to be on the agenda.

The jury also was expected to be asked for new indictments in the firebomb death of Negro leader Vernon Dahmer near Hattiesburg last year. Dahmer, a leader in a local voter registration drive, was fatally burned when nightriders tossed firebombs into his home Jan. 10, 1966.

A team of government attorneys arrived last week to prepare for the session. Among those on hand were John Doar, head of the criminal division for the Justice Department, and one of his key assistants, Robert Owen.

Bill's Passage Would Bring Federal 'Medicaid' to State

AUSTIN (UPI) — A bill that would allow Texas to receive millions of dollars in federal "Medicaid" funds was expected to get Senate approval today.

The bill, by Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, removes residence requirements that now prevent Texas from sharing in the new federal program that helps pay medical expenses of welfare recipients.

Texas charity hospitals are hoping the program will solve some of their financial problems.

Although Hardeman's bill merely allows the state to participate in "Medicaid," it has implications far beyond that.

At present Texas has a complicated residence law that prevents welfare recipients from getting government financial help with medical bills unless they have been residents of the state about five years.

Hardeman's bill removes those requirements to comply with the federal law.

Passage of that bill will clear the way for consideration later in this session of legislation to vastly increase the amount of medical assistance available to Texans.

Under Medicaid, the federal government puts up about $4 for every $1 contributed by the state. The State Welfare Department wants the legislature to increase its appropriation by about $25 million so the state of low income families who are not receiving any form of welfare.

That would allow payment of medical expenses for Texans who are needy but do not qualify for welfare.

The definition of "needy" is determined by the amount of money the state makes available. Some states have set the annual income ceiling as high as $6,000, but most of the figures being mentioned for Texas are in the neighborhood of $2,000.

Even such a limited program would be a boon to hospitals, because it would allow them to collect for treatment they are now giving free or at little cost.

San Antonio officials are eyeing the program as a means of easing their burden in financing a teaching hospital to go with the proposed South Texas Medical School.

Dear Abby... Wife's Solution Is Really Surrender

DEAR ABBY: Last year my sister's husband was killed in an accident. Since they lived only a few blocks from us, she turned to my husband for help in making all the arrangements, business decisions, etc. One thing led to another and now they are in love.

They have never admitted it, but they don't have to, it is so obvious when they are together. He stops by her house every evening before coming home. My sister is younger than I, and much prettier, and she and her husband hadn't been compatible for a long time before his death. I love my sister, but my husband is my whole life.

I would divorce him but there are many children (and even grandchildren!) to be considered. If they decided to be noble and give each other up, where would that leave me?

I have been trying to think up ways to commit suicide to make it look like an accident to spare the family embarrassment; but that isn't easy. And I'm not sure that I could actually do it. However that seems to be the only solution if you can think of any other way, please answer.

DEAR ROPE'S END: This burden is too great for you to carry alone. Confide in your clergyman and ask for his advice. Of one thing I am certain, you can do anything you set your mind to, including living without your husband, if you must, and forgiving him and your sister, if you must. The "solution" you mention is no solution. It's surrender.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who would give his secretary $100 for Christmas and then tell his wife that she shouldn't expect anything because she was "too old" to believe in Santa Claus?

THE WIFE
DEAR WIFE: I would say that his marriage is all Scrogged up.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to the wife of the junk collector that she call the Salvation Army to haul his stuff away proves that you have never lived with a pack-rat. And she would not live long with one either if she followed your advice. He would murder her!

A pack-rat without the security of his pack is like an addict deprived of his fix. He collects from a psychopathic fear of being without, which stems from a very poor childhood.

A wife must learn to accept this peculiarity in her pack-rat husband, and love him in spite of it. But she should set certain limits and say, "stop your stuff in the basement, or garage; if you need more room, build yourself a shed, but none of that junk goes into the other part of the house." NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM, COMFORTABLE, TOO

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycora spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is both girdle and panty vestments, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

The Size 16-Plus Gal Fights Back

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — A woman scorned usually has a few thousand words to say on the subject.

The quart-sized gal is the woman scorned by fashion in this day of the mod, the miniskirt and the pint-sized cover girl. I made that point in this column a short time ago. And the number of letters I received from justly irate women who resent being relegated to fashion's limbo because they are tall or plump or both was gratifying.

The problem, it seems, is a national one. Letters came from such varied points as New England, New Jersey, Utah, Illinois, Ohio and California. Women who as good little girls drank their orange juice, ate their spinach and grew up to be big, had a few thousand words of rebuke for the manufacturers who now produce only maternally clothes for size 16 and over.

"Cheers for your column," one woman wrote. "I hope it comes to the attention of some one who can do something about this ridiculous state of affairs. I am 35 and a long-legged 5-foot-10. I either have to buy a size 18 dress that looks as though a rocking chair should have come with it or a skirt that steps four inches above my knees and just looks silly."

Mature women who wear larger sizes are legion. Many have good figures, too. And they certainly have more money to spend than the teen-agers to whom the fashion world caters almost exclusively today. It does seem staid that manufacturers and stores should overlook such a vast market.

It's inconceivable to me, too, why the many designs that are chic but not too "amusing" (a fashion euphemism for absurd) are not cut in the larger sizes. They would look just fine. Mak-

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD
The Brownie Roundtable held last Thursday at the Girl Scout Little House had eight Brownie troops represented by their leaders and assistant leaders. Mrs. T. M. Whiteley, field adviser for this district, conducted this training. Attending were Mmes. Molly Morris, B. J. Hagerman, J. D. Williams, R. G. Craig, H. F. Trimble, F. S. Shaw and H. W. Moore. Mrs. C. W. Burch and Mrs. J. A. King attended from Mobette.

The Ceremonies Workshop is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 23, Girl Scout Little House, 9:30 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch. If you are planning to attend this session, please phone the Girl Scout office to register.

Troop 41, Mrs. E. B. Jackson, leader and Mrs. C. J. Welch, assistant, have completed their session at cooking school. Members are Pam Welch, Belinda Brooks, Dana Chisum, Toni Cox, Mollie Jackson, Deborah Lawley, Dolores Riggs, Sandra Vance and Debbie Welch.

Sunset Neighborhood presented their World Friendship Program last Friday. Eleven troops each represented separate countries during the program which was a huge success. Brownie Troop 18, U.S., Mrs. J. D. Snider, leader; Brownie Troop 28, Holland, Mrs. Eugene Leigh, leader; Brownie Troop 29, China, Mrs. Bud Watson, leader; Brownie Troop 68, Mexico, Mrs. B. P. Hughes, leader; A new Brownie Troop from Lamar, Mexico, Mrs. J. D. Williams; Jr. Troop 3, India, Mrs. Ralph McDonald; Jr. Troop 34, Mexico, Mrs. H. L. Baird, leader; Jr. Troop 37, Japan, Mrs. Steve Odom, leader; Jr. Troop 60, Mrs. G. J. Boyd, leader; Cadette Troop 125, Hawaii, Mrs. Robert Karr, leader and Cadette Troop 214, Mrs. O. C. Cox Jr. leader.

Junior Troop 3 represented India by an Indian stick game while attired in costumes similar to the Indian sari. Mrs. Janek Shah, from India, was the troop guest and answered questions about India. She also demonstrated the proper way to drape a sari. Mrs. Shah and her husband have lived in Pampa for about four years. Her husband is employed by Cabot. She has studied four languages in school and brought Mrs. McDonald an India magazine which was printed in English. There are directions in this magazine for making organdy flowers which Mrs. McDonald is anxious to try. A very interesting guest and much appreciated by the entire audience.

Troop 69 put on a skit pretending Girl Scouting always existed in America from Pilgrims, Hillbillies, Southerners, Texans, Indians, Spanish, Hawaiians and Eskimos. As leader of this troop I appreciate the time and effort the troop spent on their costumes and acquiring the accents they used in the skit.

Troop 214 taught the group a dance representing Sweden, performed the flag ceremony and acted as hostess troop for the event.

The Dutch Shoe Game from Holland, Mexican Hat Dance, Skit on Japanese customs and dance from Hawaii with bamboo poles and a song about tomorrow from Mexico. Along with Brownie songs and Brownie Promise. Troop 29 complete with Chinese hats and cues sang Teeni Weeni Housele. All in all a very impressive Juliette Low program.

es you wonder if the lady who wrote, "I've just about decided it's because size 18 takes more fabric. How cheap can they get?" isn't right.

But things look a little better for the gal who is no tiny-blade of grass. In New York Bonwit Teller recently opened a shop for size 16 and over.

Among the many letters from readers, I received one from a shop in Chicago, Marion Wolf, which said that today chic clothes for sizes 16 and 18 are the mainstay of their business. And this shop squarely placed the blame for the lack of smart clothes for the larger customer on the disinterest of buyers.

Another letter came from a manufacturer in Cleveland, Lampl, who says the young look can be done in 16 and that they do it. "... the great majority of our ready-to-wear is for the missy and young missy—sizes 12 to 20." So all is not lost.

Thank you all for your mail. It confirmed my belief that I touched on a real problem.

If you wear a pretty dress the first question asked you is: "Who's is it?" It's all a lot of nonsense and proves that designer Elizabeth Hawes was right when she called fashion "spinach." And some very funny things can come of the whole silly business.

Take the signature scarf. Among my friends several have been wearing scarves with the signatures of St. Laurent, Patou, Adele Simpson, Don Simonelli and so on and infinitum. One enterprising gal amused by the whole thing, penned the name of a male friend along the white border of her scarf. And

'Evangelism' Topic For Ladies Study Group Program

"The Christian and Personal Evangelism" was the lesson subject taught by Mrs. Gene Seagraves to Hi-Land Christian Ladies Study Group Tuesday morning.

"Evangelism is a Greek word meaning to proclaim good tidings or to preach the gospel. A thorough study of the scripture and church history will prepare one to be effective, courageous and tactful," the speaker stated.

Mrs. Edwin East presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Richard McDonald.

Members present were Mmes. Leslie Webb, Harold Glover, Sam Stone, W. R. Whitfill, Edwin East, Fannie Barrett, Gene Seagraves and Forrest Pitts. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Edwin East.

Milk or cream stains should be sponged with clear, cold water, then washed with soap and water.

The room was agog with wonder who "Bill Brewster" was. I find it fun to think there may have been inquiries at the shops.

Take the signature scarf. Among my friends several have been wearing scarves with the signatures of St. Laurent, Patou, Adele Simpson, Don Simonelli and so on and infinitum. One enterprising gal amused by the whole thing, penned the name of a male friend along the white border of her scarf. And

Luncheon Slated By MD Club

Credit Seminar Set Wednesday

A Uniform Commercial Credit Seminar will be held beginning at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Coronado Inn, according to Wynn Veale, credit bureau manager.

Veale said Floyd Watson, president of the First National Bank; Mack Hiatt, vice president, Citizens Bank and Trust Co.; and Attorney Ben Sturgeon, will be speakers.

He said the seminar will benefit those merchants who sell inventory, fixtures, consumer goods and many other items.

The seminar is free to those attending. Veale urged that merchants bring their key personnel and asked that they call MO 4-3246 to let his office know how many will be attending.

Drivers Cited For Collisions

Thomas Ernest Beard, 1152 N. Starkweather, was charged Sunday by city police, with failure to leave information after his car struck a properly parked car belonging to Clarence H. Matthews, 1144 S. Starkweather, according to police.

The accident occurred shortly after 12 o'clock Sunday morning in the 100 block of N. Starkweather.

Beard's auto sustained approximately $400 damages, according to an estimate by city police. No estimate was given for damages to the Matthews' auto.

Joann Matheny Hust, 629 N. Nelson, was cited for following too closely when the auto she was driving was in collision with one driven by Neoma Haralson Parks, 907 Deane Dr., according to police.

According to a police report, the collision occurred around 3 p.m. Saturday in the 800 block of W. Francis.

The Parks auto had an estimated $230 damages with $50 damages to the Hust auto, according to police.

Bond Set for Accused Hit, Run Driver

Pampa Justice of Peace Ed Anderson set bond of $1,500 Sunday for Jesse Rodriguez, 27, of Pampa after he had been charged with failure to stop and render aid.

The charges stem from a hit-and-run accident about 1:30 a.m. Sunday when Roy Sparks Jr., 37, 308 Miami, was struck by a car as he attempted to cross the street in the 900 block of S. Barnes.

Sparks was listed in very poor condition at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo today. Sparks was knocked about 80 feet in the air, according to investigating officers. Upon impact he was knocked out of his shoes and his windpipe was severed when he went through the windshield of the car.

Police began a search shortly after the incident, checking all service stations and motels for a car matching the description of the hit-and-run vehicle.

But Rodriguez gave himself up about 4 a.m. and was brought to police headquarters. Police inspected his vehicle and found the front dent and the windshield broken out.

Vandals Slash Tires of Autos

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employees reported to city police that the tires of their private automobiles and company trucks had been slashed sometime Saturday or Sunday night.

Three women employees said the tires of their private cars were cut sometime Saturday evening, according to a police report.

Another employee reported that two company pickup truck tires had been cut, police said. The trucks were parked in the company parking lot at the rear of the building on the west side. The private cars were parked in the 100 block of E. Francis on the west side of the alley, a police report stated.

Search Continues For Groom Robber

GROOM — A search continued throughout the Panhandle and in Oklahoma and New Mexico today for the man who staged the armed robbery of Owls Texaco Service Station Sunday night.

The man was described as being between 19-22 years of age, with long blond hair, about five feet, eight inches tall and weighing about 145 pounds.

The man walked into the service station about 7:30 p.m. Sunday, pulled out a steel-blue revolver and asked the attendant for his cash.

A man fitting the robber's description was seen in a Groom restaurant with another man shortly before the incident.

There was no estimate of the amount of cash taken.

Baker School Gets Visit From Vandals

Baker School, 300 E. Tuke, received a visit from vandals sometime Saturday night, according to police report.

Obscene writing marred the walls, desks and hallways of the school with extensive vandalism done in the school's cafeteria, police said. Contents from bottles of ketchup, mustard, pickle juice and cottage cheese were thrown on the floor and walls. One large pickle jar was broken and five fire extinguishers were emptied in the hallways.

Police said the vandals also threw a master switch which stopped all clocks in the school.

Police said it appeared to be the work of vengeful pupils.

Woman Cited For Carrying Weapon

Patricia Ann Roland, 625 S. Gray, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ed Anderson yesterday on a charge of unlawfully carrying arms.

Mrs. Roland was arrested in a local bar late Saturday night for intoxication and later charged with carrying a pistol in her purse.

Judge Anderson set bond at $500.

No Cases Heard By County Jury

Gray County jury was dismissed this morning without hearing cases docketed for this session of the jury.

County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. said attorneys involved in some of the cases had advised him their defendants would waive a jury and enter pleas sometime this week.

Judge Lenning gave a nisi judgement in forfeiture of bonds in the cases of David Gilbert Hurry, Austin, charged with defrauding an innkeeper, and Vernon Lee Rose, Pampa, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Judge Lenning said their bonds would be forfeited unless both defendants appear at the next session of court or show just cause why they did not appear today.

Donald Junior Powell, Pampa, charged with driving while intoxicated, waived a jury trial and was to enter a plea before Judge Lenning this morning, according to his statement, John Warner.

Huge Turnout For Rehearsal Of 'Messiah'

Pampa Fine Arts Association officials were enthused with the turnout for the first rehearsal of 'The Messiah' yesterday afternoon in Central Baptist Church.

Tracy Cary, chairman of the PFAA Music Committee, said one hundred and fifty singers were present for the first in a series of rehearsals.

Handel's oratorio will be presented here April 16.

Cary said in addition to the 80-voice high school a cappella choir, 70 singers from Pampa and the surrounding area signed up for the April production.

Dr. Richard P. Condie, director of the 375-voice Mormon Tabernacle Choir of Salt Lake City, will direct the performance.

Hugh Sanders, Pampa High School vocal director, directed the first rehearsal yesterday afternoon with Ted James, minister of music for the First Methodist Church and Sam Allen, music minister of First Baptist Church to conduct ensuing Sunday afternoon rehearsals.

Dr. Condie will arrive in Pampa a few days before April 16 for final rehearsals for the area-wide choir and singers.

Williams Snares Honors in District Coaches Voting

AMARILLO.— Guards took all the honors and Pampa senior Steve Williams took the biggest honor Sunday when he was the only unanimous choice on the district 3-A coaches All-District basketball team.

Williams, a 6'0" standout all season for the Harvesters received 90 first place votes out of a possible 100 from the district coaches. A coach could not vote for his own player.

Coaches selected a first team of five players and a second team of five players and no honorable mentions.

All five players on the top five were guards and all 10 selected were seniors.

One surprise in the voting was the district's leading scorer, James Duckworth, of Caprock, was selected on the second team.

On the top five besides Williams was Berger standout Wayne Fryar who was second among district scorers with an 18.6 average; Steve Hurt of Monterey, who had a 15.2 average, which tied him for fourth in the district with Williams; Pat Estes of Tascosa, who finished with a 14.8 average and Bob Dickerson of Amarillo, the district winners, who had a 12.4 average.

On the second team were Jerry Burkhalter of Tascosa who carried a 13.5 average; Pat

McKean of Palo Duro with a 15.0 average; Bruce Belcher of Amarillo, 11.3 average; James Duckworth of Caprock, 19.7 and Lynn Shuttleworth of Lubbock Coronado, 13.8.

Plainview and Lubbock failed to land a player on the team. A first place vote counted 10 points and second place vote was five points.

Williams led with 90 votes, Fryar and Hurt had 75 votes each and Estes and Dickers had 65 votes each. Burkhalter and McKean had 60 votes each while Belcher received 55, James Duckworth had 45 and Shuttleworth, 45.

Williams is a candidate for All-State and the senior guard had over 200 assists for the season, was second in team rebounding, was Pampa's top district scorer and had a 14.3 season average.

Cards Eyeing Shot at UCLA

By United Press International

UCLA has been conceded the 1967 national collegiate basketball championship ever since 1966, but communications must be slow to Kentucky because its obvious nobody's told Peck Hickman and his Louisville Cardinals yet.

While everyone was shouting the praises of Lew Alcindor & Co., last fall, Hickman was quietly prefaceing his 22nd season as Louisville coach by noting that, "We have more depth, better shooting and stronger rebounding."

And Saturday afternoon his team continued to back him up with 83 per cent shooting, the rebounding of Wes Unseld and the depth that is apparent when six men score in double figures, as second-ranked Louisville swamped Missouri Valley Conference rival Tulsa 82-64.

The win gave the Cardinals their 22nd in 24 starts and at least a share of the MVC title—the prerequisite to a berth in the NCAA tourney—and a possible matchup with the UCLA in the NCAA championships in March.

Out on the West Coast, the undefeated Bruins continued to act like they will be available for the appointment by hammering Oregon St. 72-50, as the Beavers broke with recent tradition and decided to run against Johnny Wooden's outfit.

But the strategy did little more than allow Alcindor to get his hands on the ball often enough to score 23 points. The Bruins boosted their record to 21-0 overall and 9-0 in the Pacific Eight Conference.

Things weren't as simple however for third ranked North Carolina, which lost to Clemson 92-88, fourth-ranked Princeton, which fell to Cornell 62-56 and ninth-ranked Vanderbilt loser of a 70-53 decision to Tennessee.

The Tar Heels, also looking forward to making that NCAA final round at Freedom Hall, Louisville, dropped their first conference test after 10 wins as the Mahaffey brothers, Richie and Randy, led the way for Clemson by combining for 36 points.

Princeton faced Cornell in a battle for first place in the Ivy League and came away with its first conference loss and second of the season as the Big Red got 17 points from Walt Estelle and a tie for first among the Ivies.

Fifth-ranked Kansas continued to hold its own in the battle for the Big Eight title with an 82-74 win over Oklahoma, Western Kentucky, ranked No. 6, scored its 20th straight win with an 86-65 decision over Morehead St. and seventh-ranked Texas Western gained revenge for an earlier loss to Seattle with an 80-34

Tribe Has Sho. At First Division

PITCHING — Sam McDowell insisted the trouble was in his left arm. Others close to the Indians insisted the trouble was in Sam's head: He won't be the first lefthander with problems like that. A healthy McDowell (9-8, 2.25 SO, 2.88 ERA) is successor to Sandy Koufax. Some baseball people feel he throws even harder. Sonny Seibert (16-8, 2.90) fired no-hitter last season. He's capable, consistent, hard-worker. Not so for Luis Tiant. Rap against Luis (12-11, 2.79 ERA) is that he's lazy. Steve Hargan came from nowhere last season to finish 13-10 with a 2.46 ERA. Gary Bell (14-15) in starting rotation. John O'Donoghue (6-8), Tom Kelley (4-8), Bob Allen (2-2) the relievers along with Dick Radatz, once the king, Dick seems to have lost it. Was 9-5 last season with 4.70 ERA. RATING — B.

INFIELD — If Fred Whitfield (.341, 27 HR, 78 RBI) would hit as well against rest of league as he does against Yankees, Indians would be in first. But he doesn't. Second baseman Pedro Gonzalez slipped to 233 last season. Chico Salmon (.256) at short had best year. Max Alvis (2.45, 17 HR, 65 RBI) still at third. Not much offense, nothing exceptional defensively. RATING — C Plus.

OUTFIELD — Daddy Wags, Leon Wanger, still shuffling around the outfield. Leon's 33 now, may be slowing down a bit. Hit 279 with 23 HR, 66 RBI last season. Rocky Colavito also showed signs of aging. Will be 34 in mid-season. Down to .238 with 30 HR, 72 RBI. Vic Davallio (.250) has great speed for center field. Lee Maye (.288 with Houston) could push somebody out of job. RATING — B Plus.

CATCHING — Drums banging for Duke Sims, powerful youngster who was injured part of last season. Hit .263 in 52 games. Joe Azcue (.275) a journeyman. Dick Booker (.214) too green. RATING — C.

BENCH — Larry Brown capable at short or second. May beat Gonzalez out. Church Hilton (.286) almost too good to stay on bench. Willie Smith formerly with California, valuable acquisition. Plenty of experience here. RATING — B.

SUMMARY — Assuming the pitching staff plays to its potential, Indians will be tough. McDowell was superb early last season. Team has good power but not consistent. PREDICTION — Figuring McDowell to be O.K., 5th.

Palmer Pockets $12,000 for Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, a gracious winner, was quick to admit today that he backed into a $12,000 victory in the Tucson Open Sunday with a double bogey in the last hole.

Gov's all-time top money-winner took his second title of the year when Chuck Courtney, 26-year-old La Jolla, Calif., pro-scored a triple bogey on that last hole at the Tucson National Golf Club.

Courtney, who won $7,200 for second place, said, "I was a little too charged up," in explaining how he missed a five and a half foot putt that would have given him a tie with Palmer and would have thrown the tournament into a sudden death playoff.

Gene Fishing

Both men drove their tee shots into a water hazard on the 18th and had to take a stroke penalty. The 37-year-old Palmer, however, recovered in better fashion, knocking his second shot to the fringe of the green and then getting down in three strokes which, with the penalty, gave him a six on the par-four hole.

GAVE AND GO, with USC's Bob Seagren on the other end of the glass fiber pole. The way the camera has caught the pole it seems that Seagren could vault right out of the arena.

Seagren Vaults 17-3 for Mark

By United Press International

No human beings and very few kangaroos have ever vaulted over a bar 17-feet, 7-inches above the ground.

Bob Seagren, the University of Southern California's world indoor record holder in the pole vault, took three shots at the 17-foot height Saturday night—and was more disappointed in missing it than he was elated in setting an indoor record of 17-3.

Seagren's performance in raising his own world indoor record from 17-2 to 17-3 at the Cleveland Knights of Columbus Games highlighted a night of record breaking efforts at tracks around the country.

At the Mason-Dixon Games in Louisville, half-miler Tom Von Ruden, quarter-miler Tommie Smith and the Southern University mile relay team all produced world records.

In the Kansas State Federation Games at Lawrence, Kan., Lee Adams of the University of Kansas skipped over the 60-yard low hurdles in 6.6 seconds although the mark won't be recognized as a record since it was done on a dirt track.

Seagren brushed off his record 17-3 mark and said he was more interested in doing 17-7 to break the world outdoor mark of 17 5/8 held by his ex-roommate John Pennel, who is injured and skipping the indoor circuit.

"I don't care about three (17-3), I want seven (17-7)," Seagren said. "I'd like to hit 18 feet indoors this year and I think it's possible."

Seagren will vault Friday night in Toronto and Saturday night in Baltimore in his next attempts for records.

Von Ruden, who ran sixth in the mile Friday night in New York when Dave Patrick turned in the nation's first sub four-minute mile this winter, won the 800 with a 1:49 clocking to break the mark of 1:49.8 set by Tom Farrell of St. John's in New York two years ago.

Smith of San Jose State, who already holds the outdoor 220-yard and 200 meter marks, set the 400-yard indoor mark of 4:62. He broke the record of 4:1 set by Theon Lewis of Baton Rouge, La., last month at Albuquerque.

Anthony Gatsis ran a net 46.8 anchor leg to bring Southern U. the mile relay mark of 3:10.2, breaking old mark of 3:11.1 set by Texas Southern in 1965. Oliver Ford, Robert Johnson and Everette Mason ran identical quarters of 47.8 seconds in the first three legs of the race.

Golf, Track Teams in Action

Pampa's golf and track teams will be in action Friday and Saturday with the golf squad in competition for the second time this year and the track team in their initial outing.

Coach Don Myers and Ed Lehmick's thirtoclads journey to Plainview for the Plainview Invitations, which will see several district 3-A teams in attendance.

Coach Don Weiser's golfers will be in Andrews for a two-day tournament, qualifying on Friday and finals rounds on Saturday.

The Plainview meet is a one-day, Saturday event only.

Pampa Queens Fall to Amarillo

The Pampa Youth and Community Center sponsored women's cage team, the Pampa Queens, were defeated Saturday night by the Amarillo Plate Glass team of Amarillo, 57-43. The game was played at the Amarillo Community Center.

Ponies Can Clinch Tie

By United Press International

Southern Methodist, still shook up from the happenings of last week, could clinch a tie for its third successive Southwest Conference basketball championship Tuesday night.

Coach Doc Hayes Ponies, who boast a two-game lead at 8-2 with four games to play, would have to have some help from Texas Tech and Rice, however, to ease the pressure.

While the Mustangs are hosting Arkansas (3-7) at Dallas, Texas Tech (4-6) will be entertaining Texas (6-4) at Lubbock and Rice (4-6) will be at Texas Christian (6-4) Tuesday night. An SMU victory and losses by Texas and TCU would clinch the tie.

On Saturday night, SMU will visit Rice knowing exactly how it stands in the race since Texas action during the afternoon—Texas at home to Texas A&M (4-6) and TCU at Arkansas.

The week's other two games will have Baylor at Aggieland Tuesday and Texas Tech at Baylor Saturday night. Baylor at 5-5 is the only other club with even faint hopes of catching SMU.

Texas Tech knocked the wind out of the Mustangs on Tuesday night with a solid 82-74 victory and then the Ponies blew a 16-point lead against TCU at Fort Worth in a Saturday afternoon televised match to look as if the race would go into its final two weeks all tied up.

But, in the end, SMU's poise and TCU's foul-prone play turned the tide back and SMU pulling out an 85-83 victory on Charles Beasley's two free throws with seven seconds to play and Bill Voight's block of Wayne Kreis' final second field goal effort.

TCU and Texas had taken and SMU's Tuesday lapse to climb back into contention with convincing victories of their own. TCU beat Baylor 90-91 at Waco and Texas trimmed Rice 61-76 at Houston.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Too Close To The Truth?

The conservative Wasaca, Minn., Herald recently bemoaned the fact that an entry in the annual Burlington, Wis., Liars' Club contest had been placed fourth instead of first. The entry by W. R. Anderson of Evanston, Ill., was as follows: "In slum clearance for a new expressway in Chicago, they found a house so dilapidated that $8,000 had to be spent in remodeling before the house was fit to be condemned."

Don't Give Them Help

Any auto thief worthy of the name can get into a locked car if he wants to. But why make it easy for him? In more than 40 per cent of the hundreds of thousands of car thefts reported each year, the motor was left running or the key was left in the ignition. While motor vehicle registrations increased 45 per cent nationally from 1955 to 1965, vehicle thefts rose by 122 per cent. According to the National Insti-

Crippled Classics

When is a classic not a classic? When it is adapted for American schoolrooms, complains English Journal, publishers by the National Council of Teachers of English. It cites Mark Twain's "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" as an example of books that have been simplified and bowdlerized for student readers. There are at least five student-designed versions of Huck Finn on the market. In all of them, the original has been tampered with to bring the text within the range of readers with a limited vocabulary and to condense the story for the sake of rapid reading.

Picking Your Own Fight

Soon you'll be able to enter almost any bar, tavern or eating place and watch a fight going on. You'll even be able to pick a fight yourself and not be charged with disturbing the peace. No, it's not a sign of the increasing violence of our times. It's merely that Color Sonics Inc., a leading manufacturer of cinematic juke boxes, has acquired films of the century's most memorable knockout boxing matches for use in its coin-operated sight-sound machines. It plans to market three-minute narrated versions of such bouts as Dempsey-Willard, Zale-Graziano, Louis-Schmeling, showing the highlights and KO sequence. This could mean the end of unscheduled fights between patrons over who knocked out whom, and even in what round.

Devouring Freedom

If, as economist Andrew J. Galambos has said, freedom means 100 per cent control of one's life and his property (which is an extension of his life), then even in this demonstration land, the many "gripes" might be legitimately boiled down to two: war and taxes. War may deprive a man of his life. Taxes deprive a man of his property. And as both evils feed on each other, what happens to freedom?

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

A Continuing Menace Even as virtual civil war rages in Red China, liberals in the United States are calling for a relaxation of military pressure against Asian communism and are urging that the U.S. grab at any straw to obtain "peace" in Vietnam. It is a peculiar situation.

Illogical as their arguments are, the substance of the liberal appeasers' current position is that communism no longer constitutes a menace. They assert that the U.S. has most to gain from a "hands off policy." This attitude is reminiscent of the argument of 15 years ago that America should "let the dust settle" in Asia. The liberals were wrong at the time of the Korean War; they are equally wrong today in their assessment of the realities of communism. They habitually set up straw men so that they can knock them down.

Now it's true that communism is different today in some respects from what it was a decade or more ago. This is only natural as time affects everything in life. But the changes in the communist countries don't mean that communism is any less dangerous. On the contrary, the communist threat may increase sharply in the next year.

A fragmented Red China is in the interest of the free, capitalist world. If the Chinese colossus can be splintered, the U.S. will have more options for dealing with Chinese revolutionary attacks against the free peoples. But not even upheaval in Peking eliminates one of the gravest sources of danger to the United States: Red China's growing nuclear arsenal. The Red Guards may be causing turmoil throughout mainland China, yet production of Chinese atomic bombs continues unhindered. Whatever faction in Red China finally wins out, it will have access to the atomic weapons now being built by Chinese scientists.

Even if the problem of Chinese communism were to disappear overnight, this would not remove the danger of the Soviet Union. Indeed it should be recognized that any weakening in Peking's international position will produce a fresh wave of aggressive actions and subversive warfare from Moscow. If the Russians have been somewhat inhibited in the last few years, it has been because they had to concentrate attention on their Asian frontiers.

The Soviets talk of "peace," but they still think of "peace" in terms of a Russian Communist victory. They are pushing as hard as ever to refuse the NATO alliance in Europe. Russian agents again are stirring revolutionary currents in Spain, which Stalin attempted to capture in the 1930s.

The Russians are eager to have the U.S. Senate ratify the consular and space treaties. The former would facilitate things for Soviet agents in the U.S. The space treaty they regard as an opportunity to block West Germany's technical and scientific advance, thereby costing the West a major advantage. The Russians also rely on strict observance of the space treaty by the U.S. while they secretly conduct space tests of anti-ballistic missiles and other war devices.

Russia continues to push hard to acquire a bridgehead in the Middle East for a deep penetration of East, Central and Southern Africa. They are building a naval base in the small country of Yemen on the Red Sea. Meanwhile, leftwing groups in the United States continue to mount pressures through special interest groups to force the U.S. to break with its true friends in South Africa, as the recent incident involving the carrier Franklin Roosevelt at Cape Town made crystal clear. The Russians recognize the importance of gaining the gold and other minerals of Southern Africa.

It is very likely that the turmoil in Peking will soon be reflected in change in the Communist Party and front groups in the United States, with a hard-line Moscow element reasserting itself. One can truly say that the communist danger has receded not at all. The threat may shift in the months ahead, but communist imperialism is a far from exhausted force in the world. Realistic Americans should remind their realistic countrymen of this fact.

Pull Up A Chair

Sweden is one country that still enjoys relatively pure air. A monitoring system has been set up to check air pollution. Sulphur dioxide, a major health hazard in air pollution, hasn't yet contaminated Swedish air. However, a short-term exposure to air with high sulphur dioxide content could destroy an entire forest. This could prove crippling to Sweden where the forestry industry is one of the country's major economic supports. And the Swedish government is making certain it won't through rigid restrictions. Wonder if the Johnson administration will follow suit in this country?

A survey at the Angeles National Forest by the University of Southern California revealed that 92 percent of the forest fires started by children playing with matches were set by boys. And 5 to 7-year-olds set most of the fires studied. That forest was selected for research on fire prevention because it was representative of a current U.S. problem — increased residential development and human populations at the fringe of wildlands.

Thoughts while shaving: Chinchillas, considered the most valuable of all pet-bearing animals, were first imported to the U.S. about 1923. Administration's Rent Supplements To Fight Poverty Falling Far Short of Congress' Goals

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Great Society's rent supplemental program is turning out to be about as productive as a dry creek.

With little more than four months remaining of this fiscal year, only around $60,000 of the $2 million voted by Congress for rent supplements has actually been allocated by the Federal Housing Administration. That's less than 10 per cent.

And of the $32 million Congress authorized the FHA to enter into contracts covering other aspects of this controversial program, only about one-third — $10,381 million — has been earmarked for possible projects. Whether funds for such contracts will be voted by this Congress is highly conjectural. The odds are strongly against it.

This is the unpublicized record of a program that President Johnson, in vigorously pressing it on Congress, effusively hailed as "the most crucial new instrument in our effort to improve American cities." Similarly, Senator John Pastore, D-R. I., who led the Administration's floor fight for the legislation, acclaimed it as "one of the best programs ever conceived to fight poverty in this nation."

Neither has said anything about the way this extravagant, touted Great Society panacea is lagging. To date, rent supplements have been received by tenants in only two cities — Lorain and Oberlin, Ohio. Such payments are slated to start this month for some 25 tenants in the newly-constructed Central Towers project in St. Paul, Minn., and in the first of two tenements being rehabilitated in Cleveland's Hough area, scene of racial riots last summer.

In addition, FHA has signed contracts for supplements for low-cost housing projects in Roxbury, Mass., and Providence, R.I. Total committed outlay — $158,108 out of $2 million voted by Congress. Last year, Robert Weaver, head of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, solemnly assured Congress, "The evidence is clear that there is substantial demand for this program."

The irrefutable evidence is exactly the contrary. MORE OF SAME — This also is true of what has happened with the $32 million in contracts when he plunked $515,000 on the nose of a nag at Epsom Downs in 1867. He lost, the game came in third. The Jacksonville (Fla.) CHRONICLE reported in a story: "Pandemonium reigned when a bag of fiddlers was loosed in a high school classroom by a prankster." Undoubtedly more fun than a barrel of monkeys!

Country Editor speaking: Automobiles may be ruining the younger generation, but the opposite is also true.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Water Intake May Clear Up Some Bladder Infections Q — What causes cystitis and what treatment can be used to clear it?

A — Cystitis is caused by an infection with bacteria or a virus which reaches the bladder through the blood stream or travels up the urethra from without. It is aggravated by a highly acid or highly alkaline urine and by holding the urine too long before voiding. Treatment should include drinking more than the accustomed amount of water and alkalizing or acidifying the urine. Some victims have been helped by a treatment that alternately alkalizes and acidifies the urine.

Sulfa drugs or antibiotics will clear up the infection only if it is caused by organisms that are susceptible to these drugs. When the bladder irritation persists after the infection has cleared up (chronic cystitis), vitamin C may be helpful.

Q — Can anything be done for cancer of the bladder?

A — Early diagnosis is the key to success. Small tumors can be removed and leave a bladder that still functions well. In some cases, early surgery is being replaced by early treatment with triethylenephosphoramide (Thio-TEPA) applied directly to the tumor. For larger tumors, deep X ray with or without supplementary fluorouracil is used.

Q — I am a 77-year-old man. I find that I have to get up three or four times every night to urinate. What causes this and can anything be done to help me?

A — This is one of the price one pays because of age. Many persons who fall asleep easily have attention to it. A low-grade bladder infection, discoverable by a microscopic examination of your urine, may be an added factor. Enlargement of the prostate could also cause this. Cutting down on your fluid intake after 5 p.m. may help but finding and removing the cause is the surest way to obtain relief.

Q — My daughter was put in the hospital because she has pus in her urine. No kidney disease was found. Would an X ray of her bladder show the cause of this? Can she be cured?

A — An X-ray examination would not be as helpful in making the diagnosis as looking directly into the bladder with a cystoscope. If your daughter has an ulcer in her bladder, local treatment through the cystoscope may be necessary.

tions against Rhodesia. I have received many letters voicing that viewpoint not only from my own constituents but from other parts of Ohio. Sentiment is overwhelmingly against sanctions.

Representative H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, wanted to know if the employment of troops is contemplated to enforce the sanctions. Rusk strenuously denied that.

"I can assure you we have no intention of doing anything like that," he declared. "No troops have been asked for, and we have absolutely no thought of providing any."

"What about providing money for UN mercenaries?" demanded Gross. "Is there any likelihood the U.S. will contribute for military force of Africans or others to enforce these sanctions?"

"I can't say anything definite about that because it hasn't come up," replied Rusk. "I'm not in a position to express an opinion one way or the other. The matter hasn't arisen, and until it does I can't discuss it adequately."

"Then there is a possibility we may put up money for a mercenary army to invade Rhodesia?" snapped Gross.

Rusk made no reply.

Representative Clark MacGregor, R. Minn., also was sharply critical.

"You know as well as I do," he sternly told Rusk, "that these sanctions are not going to be effective. Rhodesia is having no trouble getting everything and anything it needs. There is no shortage of any real moment there. So why should we put ourselves in the position of supporting a policy that is bound to be ineffectual and make the United Nations and every country that supports sanctions look ridiculous."

Again, Rusk said nothing. PREDICTIONS — Chief Justice Earl Warren will not retire at the end of this term of the Supreme Court in June. The one-time governor of California will be 76 in March and eligible to retire with full pay, but despite reports he is contemplating that, he has no intention of quitting. He is in good health, immensely enjoys his work, and proposes to stay on indefinitely.

Twenty three Air generals will retire in the course of this year. Two are four-star officers: one a lieutenant general; 10 major generals and 10 brigadiers. The Army will establish a second airborne division. This will be done by converting an airborne division. There will be another unveiling of a painting of a member of the First Family next week — a portrait of Mrs. Johnson. It's a small one by Ellen Barry, widow of the playwright Philip Barry, who wrote the "Philadelphia Story," and this time there will be no fireworks. Mrs. Johnson has seen the picture and likes it very much.

Congress will vote a one-cent postage increase on both first class and air mail, now five and eight cents. Also highly likely are increases in second and third class mail, on the latter perhaps as much as 30 per cent. The Federal Trade and Food & Drug Administrations are preparing joint crackdowns on a wide variety of medicinals sold without prescription over the counter. They include anti-acids, cough and cold remedies, and various pain easers. A strong effort will be made in the U.S. Congress to reduce the number of municipal tax-exempt bond issues. The Treasury favors this.

Hunt for Truth

BY H. L. HUNT

HOUSE PARTY DIVERSIFIES Master showman Art Linkletter on CBS-TV and radio celebrates George Washington's Birthday, February 22, by presenting in the early part of his great show, HOUSE PARTY, some YOUTH FREEDOM SPEAKERS with their 3-minute speeches in which they would not tell a lie if they could.

Youth Freedom Speakers is simply a movement that is trying to reduce the crime wave which is costing uncounted numbers of wasted lives and $28 billion annually. If they can halt the crimes, they will save the nation $14 billion per year. Pro-communist children can step up on a moment's notice and speak their piece. There are few freedom-side teenagers who can speak. They are a novelty wherever they appear and are often welcomed as a sensation.

When Mr. Linkletter invited a group of Youth Freedom Speakers to appear on his program, they were delighted at the opportunity to have their say. This highly rated show offers them an opportunity to speak to the nation about the topic that is uppermost in their mind: preserving freedom.

When a youth speaks, the audience is more attentive and responsive than for an adult. When youths speak, the audience is conscious that the message is of and for tomorrow as well as today, carrying the sound of future greatness and the echo of a growing spirit and power.

These are the reasons we are exceptionally proud of the Youth Freedom Speakers appearing on House Party. If they click, thousands of other youngsters will volunteer, and CBS and Linkletter should be commended for presenting them to a heartsick and discouraged public.

The future will be in good and eager hands. Watch them on Art Linkletter's House Party on your CBS stations, TV and radio, Wednesday, Feb. 22.

A little pine tree stands atop the 32-story steel framework of a new building in Greenville, S.C. When construction workers put the last girder in place, they held an appropriate ceremony. This included placing the tree on the top girder, where, according to superstition, evil spirits would get entangled in the branches of the tree and not bring bad luck to the building. — M.H. The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Almost anytime there is a debate over American policy in Southeast Asia someone will ask, "how did the United States come to be involved in Vietnam in the first place?"

That has been a hard question to answer. President Johnson's associates say he is carrying out commitments made by the late President Kennedy.

Kennedy's associates say he was carrying out commitments made by former President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower's associates say any commitments made during his administration became necessary because of things that happened during the Truman administration.

Former President Truman's associates say the things that happened during his administration were brought on by developments that took place during the Roosevelt administration.

All of which brings us to a note that I received the other day from a certain Sol Weinstein of Levittown, Pa.

"Suggest you track down a leader that our Vietnam trouble is predicated on a short-sighted policy initiated by Millard Fillmore," Weinstein wrote.

Now I'll tell you a little something about this Weinstein. He is the author of "Loxfinger," "Matzohball" and certain other $1 paperbacks that literary critics have described as "quasi-books."

This figure, Weinstein has been quasi all of his life. In short, he is a notorious wise guy and it is obvious that he wrote that note with the intent of putting me on.

You can bet that Millard Fillmore is just a name he "pulled out of a hat."

Truth Will Out

Actually, however, the laugh is on Weinstein.

I put my entire research staff to work on this matter and they came up with the startling information that there really was a U.S. President named Millard Fillmore.

Furthermore, it appears that Fillmore was indeed responsible for the current U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

EXPERT INSTRUCTION is given each and every student at the Pampa College of Hairdressing, 716 W. Foster. Here they learn all the latest techniques in hairdressing.

Pampa College of Hairdressing One of Largest of Its Kind

The Pampa College of Hairdressing and Beauty Culture, located at 716 West Foster St., is one of the finest and largest schools of its kind in the United States. The school is owned and operated by Bob E. Parker, who opened it July 1, 1961. It has the largest enrollment of any beauty college in the State of Texas having an average attendance of more than one hundred students. The highest and foremost standards of instruction and management have won this school the recognition and stamp of approval from the Texas Education Agency, National Association of Cosmetology Schools, Texas Association of American Beauty Culture and State Board of Cosmetology.

Parker is an expert in the many phases of cosmetology and has received numerous trophies and awards for his accomplishments. Being a certified instructor and hair stylist, he teaches advanced hairstyling techniques and wig classes for licensed cosmetologists all over the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle areas. Parker is also active in both the N.H.C.A. and the T.H.C.A. organizations and is currently participating as a member of the Lone Star Styles Committee and director of district 1. He is past president of affiliate 81 and a current officer on the state board of directors. He will be show chairman for the Great Plains Beauty Show to be held here in Pampa April 22-23.

"If you want prestige," Parker stated, "a really big income and a chance to use your designing talent, you can find all these rewards in hairdressing. What's more, all these satisfactions aren't reserved just for the few. I know hundreds of hair stylists who are exceptionally successful, and some of them are only in their early twenties. Hairdressing is one of the few careers in which you can get ahead fast," he declared.

Six months is the time required to finish the beauty course at this college and students must have three months of intensified class room instruction and procedures before they are allowed to work on patrons. They learn to shape the hair (scissor and razor method), shampoo, curl, straighten, bleach (by the new machine method), color and create hairstyles by numerous methods and instruments. In addition, they give scalp and facial treatments, provide make-up analysis, remove superfluous hair, arch and tint eyebrows and give manicures and pedicures. Due to widespread public demand for experienced, capable wig stylists, Parker is the first school owner in this area to incorporate the instruction, styling, and retailing of wigs, postiches, falls, and toupees.

The school guarantees each student a job when the course is completed and operates a free job placement bureau.

Why not contact this college and investigate the opportunities in this field? The registrar will be glad to give you all necessary information without obligation. Call MO 5-3521 or visit the school at 716 West Foster.

Green Is Sprouting In Shamrock

SHAMROCK — The green hats are starting to sell, the same for the green ties, the beards are beginning to sprout and, if you didn't know, the residents of this city of 10,000 are anxiously awaiting March 17 for the annual St. Patrick's Day celebration.

This annual event has grown to nationwide attention with persons coming from as far off as New York, Hawaii and California to attend the festivities.

There will be the crowning of "Miss Irish Rose," the annual parade with floats, bands and horses and the annual beard contest.

The beard contest is a lazy man's delight for all male residents of Shamrock, if they're old enough to shave, must have a beard by St. Pat's day or face the risk of paying a fine or being put in the downtown jail, especially constructed for the occasion.

There's also a stage show at the National Guard Armory and a dance on the night of March 17.

Shamrock Mayor R. L. Rovers has already proclaimed March 17 as Wearin' O' the Green Season in the city and residents all over town can be seen with something green on.

The most popular apparel are green top hats and long green ties.

If you've got an ounce of Irish blood in ya, then begorra, we'll see you in Shamrock come March 17.

New Hospital To Open in Shamrock

SHAMROCK — A new hospital will be in operation soon in this city of the Irish when the construction of the new Shamrock General Hospital of the South Wheeler County Hospital District opens its doors.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held recently with over 200 persons in attendance, including several political figures.

Site of the new hospital is in the 1,000 block of South Main St. Roy Berten is hospital administrator.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case-studies, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 719. At all drug counters.
