LBJ Pushes Honorable Viet War Settlement at Guam

MILK FARMER John Zurfluh of Albany, Wis., let 5,200 pounds of milk go down the drain as part of the National Farmers' Organization withholding action in 25 states. The NFO officials, seeking higher bulk milk prices for members, have attempted similar actions in the past.

Price-Fixing Bill Bobs Up Again In State Legislature

AUSTIN (Sp) — A hearing will be held before a House Committee tonight on House Bill 307, which has as its aim to prevent retailers and wholesalers from selling any type of goods or merchandise at less than an eight percent markup profit.

Representative Cordell Hull of Fort Worth said today he would strongly oppose the measure before the House State Affairs Committee.

"I am against price-fixing in any form, especially a bill of this nature that prevents housewives from seeking bargains, stifles competition and prevents retailers from selling at reasonable prices," Hull said.

"This is a poor time to be asking the Legislature to pass a bill that will make it a crime to sell clothes and groceries at bargain prices when the cost of living is going up every day."

Representative Hull said there were many things wrong with the bill. He said it did not exempt any items and that the sale of all items of tangible property, both wholesale and retail, would come under the terms of the proposal.

"How can a retailer expect to dispose of perishable items and seasonal merchandise if he is forbidden to have sales?" Hull asked.

He said efforts have been made at every session for the last 20 or 30 years to get the legislature to pass a price-fixing bill. "First it was called 'fair trade,' then 'sales limitation,' and just about everything else in an attempt to disguise the true objective," Hull said.

"The wording is changed slightly this year, but it is the same old legislation to knock out free enterprise and raid the housewives' pocketbook."

Senate Hearings On Draft Open

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis B. Hershey testified today as the Senate opened hearings on the inequities of the draft.

Hershey was called to appear before a Senate labor subcommittee to discuss the impact of the draft on youth careers, poverty, manpower training and development.

In remarks prepared for the opening session, Chairman Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said he was looking forward to the day when the nation no longer needs the draft.

"I hope the day comes, and without too much delay, that we can get rid of the draft because the President from putting a lottery into effect."

Congress will write any new draft law "not the President," Hebert said in a television show taped for broadcast in New Orleans.

The President is empowered to make changes in the Selective Service System by executive order. Hebert proposes to strip him of much of that authority in enacting a new draft law.

The House Armed Services Committee will start holding its hearings on the draft in April.

House Takes Up 'Little Hoover Commission' Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The House today takes up another of its bills that usually die in the Senate—a measure creating a "Little Hoover Commission."

Officially the panel would be called "The commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government" and its stated purpose is to seek ways to save money by streamlining state agencies.

But in each of the last four or five sessions the bill has generated opposition surprising for a measure with such a noble purpose, and the suspicion is fairly widespread that the bill's real purpose is to launch an investigation of a certain agency.

The agency whose name is whispered most often is the state Treasury Department, headed by veteran state treasurer Jesse James.

The sponsors, Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria and Sen. William N. Patman of Galveston, both veterans, deny any plan for a "witch hunt."

But two of the most powerful men in the legislature, Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah and Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, remain unconvinced and do not plan to let it pass.

Patman got his bill out of committee only after a disputed vote and several senators said Patman's participation in last week's filibuster against a city sales tax hurt his chances of passing the little Hoover bill.

Cory was twice forced to postpone his bill in the House. Last Thursday when Cory proposed a three-day postponement, Healy urged postponement until March 27.

House Speaker Ben Barnes reminded Healy that on March 27 the House plans to be taking an Easter holiday.

Ky Counters With Escalation Request

NIMITZ HILL, Guam (UPI) — President Johnson today held daylong conferences with South Vietnamese leaders who pressed for escalating the war against the Communists. Aides said Johnson avoided that topic and stuck to his plan of discussing chances of an "honorable settlement" of the Southeast Asian conflict.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky raised a number of military questions in the second of the lunch, afternoon and evening sessions. Rusk said the questions were not answered and the meeting stuck to Johnson's course of reviewing pacification programs and efforts to set peace negotiations in motion.

Johnson emphasized the peaceful purposes of the Guam meeting and the allies ended convinced the war has reached a turning-point favorable to them.

Ky Pushes Escalation — But Ky raised his questions on escalation on the theory the North Vietnamese must be hit much harder before their Communist leaders will be willing to talk peace.

Ky clearly wanted heavier blows against Hanoi to convince his enemies the Communist cause is hopeless.

"Only then will Hanoi be ready to negotiate," he said. Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, agreed that matters of tactics and specific future military moves such as increasing armed manpower did not figure in today's discussions.

Ky and other Saigon leaders were scheduled to return home Tuesday morning. Johnson planned to continue his talks with U.S. officials during part of Tuesday, leaving Guam late in the day.

Meanwhile, Johnson announced Henry Cabot Lodge, outgoing U.S. envoy to Saigon, has agreed to remain in (See GUAM, Page 3)

Huff Being Held Here In County Jail

Ernest (Rusty) Huff who had a brief fling at freedom Saturday, is cooling his heels in Gray County Jail, having been brought here late Saturday by Roberts County Sheriff Cy Carr.

Carr said today he brought the accused robber of the First State Bank of Miami, back to Pampa, since, "if he was well enough to try to escape he certainly is well enough to be in jail, not a hospital."

Carr said Huff would be treated daily by a doctor while he was in jail.

Huff's wife, Wanda Carver Huff, also charged with the Pampa man in the Miami robbery, is also in Gray County Jail, but, according to Carr, would probably be transferred to another jail sometime within the next few days.

"I don't like the idea of having both of them in the same jail," Carr said.

Infantry Stops Major Assault

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. 9th Infantry Division troops outnumbered 25 to 1 today smashed an attack by a Viet Cong regiment, that drove to 15 yards of the American positions. The six-hour battle cost the Communist 224 dead; the Americans lost 5 dead and 34 wounded.

The Communist attack barely 30 miles north of Saigon was one of five major assaults launched by the Viet Cong to coincide with President Johnson's Guam conference. It was the heaviest fighting in many weeks and the cost to both sides was high.

The air war increased in intensity and American planes bombed the big Thai Nguyen steel plant 36 miles north of Hanoi for the second time in two days, then returned and attacked the Viet Tri thermal power plant 29 miles northwest of Hanoi.

An American spokesman reported three more planes were shot down during the past three days with a loss of one pilot killed and three men missing. The Communists also destroyed or damaged 16 helicopters near the Cambodian border.

The three planes shot down brought to 653 the number of U.S. planes reported lost during the war—489 over North Vietnam and 164 over the South. Their total value is estimated between $1.3 billion and $1.9 billion.

Lt. Gen. Jonathan O. Seaman said American troops fighting along the Cambodian border in Operation Junction City battled their way into the edges of the Communist supreme headquarters in South Vietnam. He called it the "Pentagon" of the Red war effort—complete with printing presses, radio stations and recording studio.

A force of Viet Cong estimated at 2,500 men attacked a 100-man unit of the 9th Infantry Division on a road clearing operation 30 miles north of Saigon. The Americans, firing from armored vehicles in tactics reminiscent of wagon train circles of the Old West, fought off repeated charges until the Communists broke off the action.

Using their 50-caliber machinegun-equipped armored vehicles like a wagon train circle in the wild West, the Americans battled for six hours against the Communists, who vainly fought for a propaganda victory to coincide with President Johnson's Guam conference. American air and artillery fire finally drove off the Communists.

The combat 30 miles north of Saigon climaxed fighting stretching from the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), dividing South from North Vietnam, to the Mekong Delta. U.S. spokesmen said a total of 323 Communists was killed.

A spokesman for Gov. Gen. Louis Sagast said at least nine Africans were killed and 16 injured in fighting during which rioters set fire to a number of homes of pro-French natives.

Two United Press International newsmen, both photographers, were injured in the rioting.

It was reminiscent of the violence which erupted last summer during the visit by President Charles de Gaulle and led to the decision to hold the referendum.

Police Back Convoys Of Milk Trucks

By United Press International. Milk trucks moved to market today in armed convoys for protection against violence from sympathizers of the National Farmers' Organization's 25-state effort to force the price of milk up.

Oren Lee Staley, president of the NFO, expressed confidence that his group's militant efforts would pay off in shortages and higher prices this week.

NFO members and sympathizers, trying to get a two-cent boost in the price per quart of milk paid dairy farmers, continued to dump their milk, use it for fertilizer or hog feed or tried to store it. In some areas they sought to curtail existing supplies by buying up all the milk displayed in groceries and destroying it.

In at least one area, retail prices went up. Stores in Omaha, Neb., reportedly raised milk prices as much as four cents a half gallon. However, L. K. Muller, vice president of the Alamo Dairies in Omaha, said the farmers were not getting any more money and the price increases were not connected with the NFO campaign.

Staley said the holding action is "riding high" at present and milk supplies "in most areas" are "off 30-50 per cent." He said he had no idea how many farmers actually are participating.

"All the heavy dairy areas are doing a good job of withholding," he said.

The nation's dairy state, Wisconsin, was apparently hardest hit by violence. The milk house of Howard Stern, an NFO member at Ionia, Wis., was dynamited. Extensive damage was reported. At least 22 arrests were made, most of them at Darlington where NFO members tried to blockade a bulk tank truck.

Dairy industry groups said the market holding action was curtailing supplies as much as 15 per cent but insisted normal supplies in spring production would make up the loss and there would be no milk shortage.

French Fire On Africans

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland (UPI) — French troops opened fire today on rampaging mobs of Africans who accused France of rigging Sunday's referendum on independence in its favor.

A spokesman for Gov. Gen. Louis Sagast said at least nine Africans were killed and 16 injured in fighting during which rioters set fire to a number of homes of pro-French natives.

Two United Press International newsmen, both photographers, were injured in the rioting.

Violent Death Toll Lower Than Usual

By United Press International. Texas' violent death toll was lower than usual this weekend as many Texans stayed off the highways in the weekend prior to the Easter holidays.

A United Press International count which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday showed at least 25 persons died violently in the state. Of these 15 were killed in traffic accidents.

In early Sunday morning accidents, Don J. Lipscomb of Tyler was killed when his car overturned near Kilgore, and Jeanette Talton, 19, of Dallas died in a two-car wreck in Fort Worth.

Douglas Lane Gingrich, 24, of McAllen was killed Sunday morning when his car collided with a Southern Pacific train in McAllen. Two others were injured in the crash.

A car overturned on U.S. 281 Sunday near Premont, killing Maria Sanjuana Espinosa, 15, of San Diego, Tex.

A rainslick highway in El Paso Sunday caused a two-car collision which killed Juan Ortiz, 65, of Clint.

Former Governor Celebrates Birthday

JUNCTION, Tex. (UPI) — Former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, celebrating his 79th birthday today, was honored Sunday when a historical marker was dedicated to him on the Kimble County courthouse lawn.

The plaque was dedicated by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Stevenson was governor of Texas from 1941 to 1947.

Powell Confines Preaching To Bahama Tourists, Scouts

BIMINI, The Bahamas (UPI) — Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, reluctant to risk arrest in New York, is practicing his preaching here in hopes of returning soon to the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem.

Rain Moistens Dry Panhandle

Pampa and a wide area of the Panhandle received its first significant amount of measurable rainfall of the year Sunday evening when from 25 to 30-inch fell locally.

The rain came between 6 and 7 p.m. after black clouds, lightning flashes and 25 to 35 miles-per-hour winds moved in from the west-northwest.

The precipitation in Pampa was accompanied by some peaz-sized hail.

There had been about .04-inch of rain Sunday forenoon. Yesterday's moisture and another slight amount of rainfall about two weeks ago had been the only recorded amounts for 1967 in addition to an approximate two-inch snowfall in January.

Pampa had not had rain exceeding one-inch in the last six-month period.

Sunday evening's rainfall came after the weather bureau had sent out a "tornado watch" alert and a forecast of heavy rain, hail and high winds during a period from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Powell Confines Preaching To Bahama Tourists, Scouts

BIMINI, The Bahamas (UPI) — Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, reluctant to risk arrest in New York, is practicing his preaching here in hopes of returning soon to the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem.

Powell, donning his Sunday-go-to-meeting attire of black sports coat, white shirt and black tie, mounted a stairway overlooking the tennis court at the Bimini hotel and preached a five-minute sermon to a congregation of islanders, tourists, Boy Scouts and newsmen.

The excluded congressman had planned to deliver the sermon to his congregation in Harlem, but because his return to New York could have led to his arrest for criminal contempt of court, he elected to stay here.

Rev. David Licorish, the associate pastor, praised Powell for not permitting himself to be pushed by extremist groups allegedly bent on promoting racial violence. He called Harlem "a tinderbox."

JUST A CHECKUP

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Clay L. Shaw, accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of conspiring to assassinate President Kennedy, was resting in Southern Baptist Hospital today where he was reported in good health.

Shaw, 54, former managing director of the International Trade Mart in New Orleans, entered the hospital Saturday for a general physical checkup and a rest.

Shaw's doctor, Martin Palmer, said Shaw goes to the hospital every year about this time for a checkup. "He is there now for that same purpose," Palmer said.

Shaw is being held on $10,000 bond after a three-judge panel ruled that Garrison had enough evidence to "justify bringing in to play the further steps of the criminal process" against Shaw.

Palmer also said Shaw will be treated for a back ailment which dates back to his Army days.

Palmer dismissed all rumors Sunday that Shaw had a heart attack or a stroke or tried to take his own life.

The hospital has denied that any extra security measures have been taken for Shaw. Two Pinkerton guards are always on duty at the hospital; and a spokesman said no more guards will be added.

Edward F. Wegmann, chief counsel for Shaw, would not comment on any additional safeguards. Wegmann said, "Mr. Shaw is in good health and we expect to keep him healthy."

The four-day preliminary hearing, which ended late Friday, had an adverse effect on Shaw's physical appearance. By Friday, he looked haggard and tired and his clothes were rumpled.

However, Shaw managed to carry himself in a stately manner throughout the entire hearing. Even when he was identified.

Dear Abby...
Don't Share Your Guilty Knowledge

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "DON'T KNOW," as to whether to tell her fiancé about a previous "indiscretion" was misleading. You said, if he asks, tell him the truth. Otherwise, keep quiet; he may never ask. May I quote Father John Egan, an eminent pre-marital counselor, who had this to say on the subject: "Neither partner has the right to burden the other with guilty knowledge. To do so is cowardly, as it attempts to share a burden that belongs to the 'guilty' one alone, and could lead to an unhappy distrust that might spoil the marriage. Better that each should presume, in charity, that each enters marriage with a clean slate." Call this self-delusion if you will, but I have been assured by other sources that it is more conducive to good mental health than to "tell all."

AN M. D. IN SAN RAFAEL

DEAR ABBY: I think I can improve on your answer to the girl who had a boy in her past named Bernie and was marrying a boy named Ernie. If Ernie asks her what went on between her and Bernie she should tell him it's none of his business. And if he gets tough about it, she should tell him to get lost. Why a man who insists on knowing a lady's past would be a devil to live with.

EXPERIENCED

DEAR ABBY: You should have told DON'T KNOW who was afraid her fiancé would ask her some embarrassing questions about her past to answer in this way: "Don't ask me any questions and I won't ask you any, O. K.?"

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: If you let a per-

Christian Homes Topic For Church Study Groups

"The Christian and the Home" was the lesson topic taught by Mrs. Gene Seagroves at a recent meeting of the Ladies Study Group of Hi-Land Christian Church, 1620 N. Banks.

Mrs. Seagroves brought out "the strength of a nation, especially of a republican nation, is in the intelligent and well-ordered homes of the people."

She said, "Godless homes mean a godless nation. A godless nation is a doomed nation. Our homes are the foundations of a civilized society."

Group discussion centered around situations encountered today in our community led by Mrs. Edmin East Sr.

Mrs. East presided during a brief business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Richard McDonald.

The study group will meet next at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Hi-Land Christian Church.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Mmes. W. R. Whitsell, Leslie Webb, Gene Seagroves and Forrest Pitts.

McDaniel-Schoenhals Say Nuptial Vows

CANADIAN — Miss Peggy Anne McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo McDaniel was married here Saturday afternoon, March 4, to Gary Schoenhals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schoenhals of Lipscomb.

The Rev. Troy Noland, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the marriage vows at two o'clock in the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a formal white wedding gown.

Miss Thoral Guthrie was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Willa Borst and Miss Jackie McDaniel. Kim Drown was flower girl.

Victor Schoenhals served his son as best man. Howard Sanders and Kenneth Thrasher were groomsmen. Ushers were Floyd McDaniel and Donald Schoenhals. Mike Knezevich was ring bearer. Wedding guests were registered by Miss Donna Swartz.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony.

TALKED 'OO MUCH

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "DON'T KNOW" that you heard from a girl who DOES KNOW, and she wants to give her some good advice. If you HAVE TO tell your boyfriend, go ahead and tell him. But do NOT give him any names.

KNOWS PLENTY

DEAR ABBY: About the Ernie and Bernie question, or "to tell or not to tell." Take it from a man. I pumped the answers from my wife about the other men in her life, and although we have been married for nearly 20 years, it still bothers me, and I am sorry now that she ever told me.

POMPANO BEACH

DEAR ABBY: I think you erred in telling the bride to confess her one mistake — IF HE ASKS. He may ask, but he really doesn't want to know. A confession would help to ease her guilt, but what a price for HIM to pay!

Men are like children. And you wouldn't give a child that which would hurt him just because he asks for it, would you? I should know! Tell her to lie, and to let him keep his precious

Scouting Scoops

By MRS. G. J. BOYD

Cadette Troops 26 and 54 took full advantage of the teachers' holiday by journeying to Carlsbad, New Mexico to visit the Caverns. Everyone loaded on the bus at the Stowers' home by 5:45 a.m. Friday morning and from there took a short hop to the Coronado Inn to be fortified with a delicious breakfast served compliments of the Inn.

They stopped in Lubbock for a first-class tour of Texas Tech by two Tech students. They saw the Coliseum, the Museum, a girls dorm, the Library, the Stadium and had lunch in the Student Union. They saw the complete campus and were given a history of Tech.

The weather was warm and when they arrived at the Ramada Inn in Carlsbad, everyone had a quick swim. The weather was warm but the water was "c-c-cold" and it was definitely a quick swim.

The tour through the Caverns provided the most excitement. Eating was never forgotten on this trip... the girls enjoyed their lunch at the bottom of the Cavern. Then the girls had another swim after they returned to the motel and after dinner had the opportunity to meet some of the eighty Indian girls from an Indian School in Albuquerque that were staying at a the same motel. Several tribes were represented and the girls were thrilled to learn some Navajo words.

Sunday morning found Troop 26 attending the First Methodist Church and Troop 54 attending the Catholic Church before beginning the long journey home.

Members of Troop 26 are: Becky Tinsley, Susan Veazey, Rebecca Secrest, Phoebe Skelly, Julie Johnson, Connie Barber, Mary Washington, Betty Felter, Martha Colville, Renee Clark, Susie Stowers and Mimi Miller. Members of Troop 54 are: Chrissy Laycock, Janet Black, Paula Homer, Eva Whiteley, Frances Palmer, Joe Anna Davis, Barbara Simon and Regina Griffin, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Laycock, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stowers, Frank and Richard Stowers accompanied the group on the trip. Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of World War I met at 7 p.m. Friday in the VFW Hall with Mrs. J. S. Silcott, president, presiding.

Mrs. H. G. Lawrence led opening prayer with Mrs. Mina Benham leading the group in pledge of allegiance.

Correspondence was read from Leah Brandino, which stated: "I feel sincerely that the wonderful associations and friendships that develop from our being a member of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of World War I leaves little room for loneliness. Never can we say, no one cares or there is nothing to do. Shaw

(Continued From Page 1) fied as Clay Bertrand, he showed no change of emotion. Garrison charges that Shaw used the alias Bertrand when he conspired with Lee Harvey Oswald and pilot David Ferrie to kill the President.

The next legal move against Shaw is up to Garrison. According to James Alcock, assistant district attorney, Garrison may either file a bill of information against Shaw, charging him formally with conspiracy, or take the case to the grand jury and try for an indictment against Shaw. Alcock said it would be several months before Shaw could be brought to trial because of all the "time-consuming legal moves."

The state, Alcock said, did not divulge all of its evidence against Shaw because the preliminary hearing was only to show probable cause.

Two witnesses testified that Shaw was the same man as Bertrand and that Shaw knew and had dealings with Oswald. Shaw has denied that he ever knew Oswald, ever used an alias or ever heard the name Bertrand.

In 1852, Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was printed in book form. It eventually appeared in more than 20 languages.

Auditorium Board Slates Meetings With Architects

Meetings with several architects have been scheduled this week by members of the architectural subcommittee of the proposed M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

F. D. Heckman, chairman of the subcommittee, said the conferences with individual architects will be held daily until all have been interviewed. Heckman said they had been invited to Pampa for interviews following a study of brochures and letters by committee members.

More than a score of architects originally were contacted and the list now has been reduced to four or five, Heckman stated. Other members of the architectural committee are E. L. Green Jr., James O'Connor, Tex DeWeese, Homer D. Johnson and Jim White.

CAP Course On Atomic Fallout Begins Tonight

The Pampa Senior Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will hold a 15-hour course on atomic fallout. The course will be taught by Sgt. Robert D. Andrews, Amarillo, of the Texas Highway Department. Plan

"This is hardly a solution to the fundamental question which is raised by the continued disproportionate deployment of a U.S. military establishment of six divisions plus dependents—many hundreds of thousands of Americans—in Europe two decades after the end of World War II," Mansfield said.

West Germany was pledged to purchase $1.35 billion in U.S. military equipment during a two-year period, ending this coming June 30.

But last fall the Germans said these arms purchases were becoming an excessive burden on their economy.

Gray County Spelling Bee Set Tomorrow

The 18th annual Gray County Spelling Bee will be staged beginning at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Robert E. Lee Junior High School, according to B. R. Nuckols, Gray County superintendent of schools and county spelling bee director.

Nuckols said all elementary schools and junior high schools in the county, including Pampa, Lefors, McLean, Alanreed, Granville, Hopkins, as well as St. Matthews Episcopal Day School and St. Vincent dePaul Catholic School would participate.

Forty students will be vying for this year's spelling championship, Nuckols said. Pernal Scoggin of Pampa Junior High School will be the pro-nouncer with Nuckols and Miss Geraldine Rampey of Lee Junior High School as judges.

The Gray County winner will compete in Amarillo on April 22 with other county winners from a three-state area for a trip to Washington, D.C., June 5-9.

The spelling bee is sponsored annually by the Amarillo Globe-News. This year, West Texas State University is joining in co-sponsorship with the newspaper and has named Jack L. Edmondson, former superintendent of Pampa Schools, as spelling bee director.

One reason you can take dependability of phone service for granted is because we don't.

We know you count on your telephone in all kinds of weather; sunny or stormy, fair or foul. That's why we take steps to insure service dependability no matter what Mother Nature dishes out.

One way we do this is by keeping a continuous flow of dry air under pressure in our telephone cables. If the protective cable covering is damaged, the force of the escaping air keeps moisture out. The drop in pressure alerts us to the trouble and we fix it in a hurry—before your service is affected.

Another way we protect your phone service is by providing standby electrical power for transmitting, switching and receiving calls. In the rare event commercial power is interrupted, we switch to our emergency system and your phone goes right on working.

Yankees Going Strong During Exhibitions

By United Press International
When the Yankees make second in the spring, can the cellar be far behind?
Until very recently the cold, methodical Yankees weren't known for making many mistakes. They made a big one Sunday, however, by downing the Mets 1-0 and thus bringing their record to 6-4, second-best among American League teams in exhibition play.

For years the Yanks were pushed into the ground during spring training only to get up and run off with the American League pennant. Last spring they did better in Grapefruit League play than at any time in recent memory, finishing second among American League teams, only to finish in the cellar during the regular season.

Cincinnati Tops NL

The only American League team with a better mark than the New Yorkers last spring, the Chicago White Sox, are in the same role again this year despite a 7-5 loss to St. Louis Sunday. Cincinnati upped its record to 7-3, best among National League clubs with a 4-0 win over Atlanta.

The Yankees' Fritz Peterson hurled six shutout innings—the longest any pitcher on the club has gone thus far—after chalking up five scoreless innings in his last outing. Thad Tilton finished up with three more runless frames.

The game's lone tally came in the third inning off Met starter Jack Fisher. Rookie Bill Robinson walked, went to third on Mickey Mantle's single and scored when Joe Pepitone hit into a force play.

Cards Top Chisox

The White Sox dropped to a 7-3 record when the Cards broke a 3-3 tie with a three run sixth and then went on to victory behind the batting of Ted Savage and Jerry Buchek, who combined for six hits.

Sammy Ellis and Mel Queen limited Atlanta to one hit in a rain-shortened six-inning affair that evened the Reds with the White Sox for the best mark in baseball. Cincinnati picked up single runs in the first, second, fourth and fifth innings off Denny Lemaster.

Additional strong mound work was turned in by Chris Short who increased his string of scoreless innings to 14 by limiting Washington to three hits in six innings as the Phillies scored a 4-0 win.

Boston earned a 7-6 victory over Detroit. Kansas City scored a 10-inning decision over Minnesota, 5-4, and Houston recorded a 2-1 verdict over Pittsburgh, also in 10 innings, in other games.

Netters Host Perryton Club

Pampa net fans will have their first opportunity of the spring Tuesday to see the high school tennis team in action.

Pampa and Perryton will get together for a duel match, beginning at 3 p.m. on the high school courts.

Thus far Pampa has lost duel matches to Perryton and Borger and played in a tournament at Spearman but results of the Spearman tournament were not turned in.

Pampa thinclds and golfers will be busy again this weekend with the golfers journeying to Borger for the third round of district play and Pampa trackers going to Perryton Friday for the Perryton relay.

The thinclds were in Dallas Saturday for the Kimbell Relays and only Doc Cornutt placed fourth in the shot.

Saturday Pampa golfers finished second round of district action at Plainview and slipped to sixth place in the standings with a team total for two weeks play of 650.

Monterey continues to lead the district with a 608 total while Coronado is second with 623. The golfers will be in Borger Friday.

Illini 'Fires' Coaches

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—It was bitter medicine. But three University of Illinois coaches caught up in a slush fund scandal resigned Sunday—they said they were "fired" rather than jeopardize the school's athletic future.

"It is apparent to everyone that the commissioner, athletic directors, and faculty representatives of the Big Ten have 'fired us,'" said football coach Pete Elliott, basketball coach Harry Combes and assistant coach...

The Big Ten had said either the University of Illinois fire the three coaches involved, in the athletic aid program by Tuesday, or be thrown out of the conference.

Pro Playoffs Set Tuesday

By United Press International
Eight teams are planning for the playoffs and the other two for a coin flip in the National Basketball Association.

The 81-game regular season that eliminates only two clubs from the playoffs—the last place clubs (Detroit and Baltimore)—in each division—ended Sunday and the playoffs will start Tuesday.

It'll be Cincinnati at Philadelphia, New York at Boston, Los Angeles at San Francisco and Chicago at St. Louis in the opening games of the playoffs.

Meanwhile, Detroit and Baltimore will flip a coin to decide which team gets first choice in the upcoming draft. Last year the Pistons lost the flip to New York and had to "settle" for Dave Bing—now they hope to win it and grab Jimmy Walker to give them a terrific guard combo.

Philadelphia edged Baltimore, 132-129, Boston whipped New York 124-112, Chicago topped Los Angeles 122-109 and San Francisco topped Detroit, 135-127 in the final day of activity.

The 76ers victory enabled them to complete the most successful season in pro basketball history as Wilt Chamberlain scored 37 points and pulled down 30 rebounds. The 76ers finished with an incredible 68-13 record for a 480 percentage.

Boston, finishing second to the 76ers during the regular season for the second straight year, topped New York for the 19th straight time over the past two years.

Sam Jones scored 29 for the Celtics.

Chicago completed the best year for an expansion team in sports history as it beat Los Angeles behind Bob Boozer's 24 point total. Chicago won 33 games and made the playoffs while most experts figured they'd be lucky to win 15.

Western Division champion San Francisco whipped cellar-dwelling Detroit as Rick Barry scored 39 to finish with 2,775—the highest total for a forward in NBA history.

Creed Bogeys Gives Smith Victory

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—A pair of bogeys by Clifford Ann Creed permitted Marilyn Smith to win her second straight Orange Blossom Open Sunday by two strokes.

Miss Smith, from Runaway Bay, Jamaica, was five strokes behind Miss Creed going into Sunday's final round but she fired a two-under par 69 while Miss Creed zoomed to a 76.

Miss Smith tied the Largo, Fla., pro on the 11th hole and played par golf the rest of the way to win $1,875. Miss Creed bogied the 16th and 18th holes, falling into a tie for second with Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex. The runners-up won $1,350.

Murle Lindstrom, of Largo, and Barbara Romack, of Atlanta, Fla., fired the lowest rounds Sunday. Both shot 68. Miss Creed broke the Sunset golf course record earlier in the tournament with a 65.

Houston Planning To Run With Fast UCLA

By United Press International
Giant Lew Alcindor can look forward to a fast running game in UCLA's match Friday night against Houston in the NCAA semi-finals.

Houston Coach Guy Lewis has made it clear his team will not employ stall tactics in an attempt to hold down the scoring of the UCLA still.

Aicindor just started to warm up in the NCAA Western regional finals at Corvallis Ore., last weekend as he scored 29 points against Wyoming and posted 38 in the University of Pacific game that UCLA won 80-64.

The 67 points gave him 831 for his sophomore year and a 29.6 average. There's no secret that Bruin Coach Johnny Wooden would give the young 7-1 giant his head in scoring against Houston if the Cougars try to run up the points.

Play Fast Game
"We don't practice a delay game," Lewis said in defense of his proposed game plan. "I think we have enough talent to get the ball in the hole against any team."

The opinion of observers is that Lewis' team will not reach Saturday night's final round no matter what strategy he employs.

North Carolina faces Dayton in the other half of Friday's semi-final bracket at Louisville, Ky.

The court of last resort was reached by the four teams in regional finals last Saturday night. Houston won the Midwest regional by beating Southern Methodist 83-75, Dayton earned its berth with a 71-66 overtime victory against Virginia Tech in the Midwest final and North Carolina topped Boston College 96-80 to gain Eastern Representation.

A 14-team National Invitation Tournament that began in Madison Square Garden March 9th was completed Saturday with Southern Illinois defeating Marquette, 71-56 to become the first small college team to ever win this major post-season classic.

St. Benedict's downed Oklahoma Baptist 71-65 Saturday night to capture the NIAA tournament and Winston-Salem wrapped up the NCAA college division title Friday night with a 77-74 triumph over Southwest Missouri. Southern Illinois passed up the NCAA college division tourney to enter the NIT.

Wooden expects Houston to be as tough under the boards as UOP.

"I heard they're real physical," he said of the Cougars. Alcindor demonstrated he thrives on this type of punishment with his 38 points against Pacific and the 14-rebounds he yanked down as UCLA elevated its season's record to 28-0. Late in the game Alcindor became annoyed at the Tigers' no-holds-barred defense and did some lashing out himself.

BITTER MEDICINE

Borger Here Tuesday

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

Pampa, picked dead last in district 3-4A in a pre-season pool of "experts", play host to Borger at 4 p.m. Tuesday in quest of their ninth victory in as many pre-conference outings.

This will be the third meeting between the two clubs with Pampa winning the first game here, 5-0 and taking Borger 12-4 at Borger with three home runs figuring in the cause.

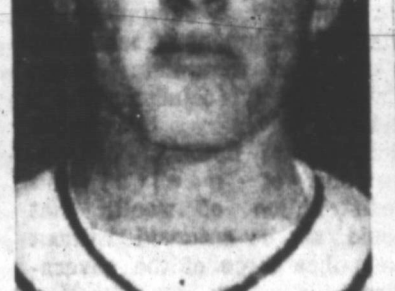

Friday and Saturday the Harvesters swept three victories, both with a pair of clouts. At Liberal Dickie Henley went the distance for the first time and won his second game of the season in as many starts in the opener, downing Libe.

mark while Molberg has been 4, 26 times, has 11 hits, more than anybody on the club and has a .423 average.

Four players have nine hits, second to Molberg and of the regulars only Alvin Achord is batting under .300. Achord has eight hits in 27 at bats for a .298 mark. But Achord, surprisingly, is tied with Rick Foster for the stolen bases leadership, both sporting five thefts.

Al Gomez, who doesn't play regularly, Stephens and Mat-

JAMES MATNEY leads rb's

12-5. Henley had a shutout for six innings and gave up only two earned runs.

In the second game Jim Lang, although getting relief help from Jim Davis won his third game to become Pampa's winningest pitcher. Lang went three and two-thirds innings and has now given up but one earned run in 12 and two thirds innings while Henley is still holding the best ERA, two runs in 14 and one-third innings.

Matney leads Gary Molberg in the runs batted-in column by one, with 11 while the senior shortstop has 10. Matney has the second best batting average on the club with a .449 mark to Sander's .539 average.

Sanders has been at bat 13 times and has seven hits and has hit safely in all six games he has played in.

Larry Stephens has an eight game hitting streak going and has been at the plate 25 times and has nine hits for a .360

ney are second with each having four stolen bases.

Stephens also leads in most runs scored, with 10, while Foster, Molberg and Jones, all have nine.

Jones, who is having his best year ever, has eight runs batted in, trailing only Matney and Molberg and sports a .409 batting average with two home runs, one a bases loaded blast.

Reserves have been doing well for Pampa, for instance take Gary Parrish who has been to the plate four times and collected three hits, driving in a run for a .750 batting average.

Sikes Finishes On Top in Meet

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—As it was in the beginning, so it was at the end.

That was the story of the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament. Dan Sikes, a 36-year-old lawyer playing on his home course, grabbed the lead in the opening round and never gave it up.

Sikes bogeyed the last two holes Sunday but by then had enough of an edge to win by one stroke over Bill Collins, the ex-Marine who nearly had his golfing career ended in a plane crash in Panama several years ago.

Gay Brewer, the runnerup a year ago, and young Jim Colbert were just one more stroke back.

Sikes, 13-under after 45 holes, struggled home with a 73 Sunday to wind up 9-under-par at 279. That was enough to give him the third victory of a seven-year career and $20,000—second only to the $25,000 he got for winning the Cleveland Open in 1965 as his biggest check.

Collins, who has had so many injuries he said he "could have bankrupted Medicare," made his best showing since that plane crash by firing a 5-under-par 67 into Sunday's winds. He got $12,000 as a consolation prize—the most he's ever gotten at one time in 16 years on the tour.

Brewer had a final-round 72 for a 281 while Colbert tied him with a 69. Bob Goalby and 72-282. Julius Boros, winner the Chuck Courtney were both at previous week at Orlando and last month at Phoenix, had a 70-283 and Don January, winner of an automobile for a first-round hole-in-one, was at 70-284.

Jack Nicklaus was far back with a 72-292 and Arnold Palmer didn't even make the cut.

The faculty representatives, as they had on March 2, again turned him down.

In their joint statement, the coaches said "we are therefore reluctantly stepping down from our respective coaching responsibilities at this time rather than allow the conference to unjustly force the University of Illinois to act on an impossible situation."

The disastrous 1961 football season during which the Illini lost all their games and gate receipts dropped sharply, apparently precipitated the slush fund, which was fed by $100 contributions from Champaign and Danville, Ill., businessmen. The lower gate receipts had forced a curtailment of recruiting activities.

It was thought the champion would concentrate on a body defense because he doesn't believe Foley's statement that Chandler, Ariz., challenger will go for Clay's head.

Clay Hiding Before Fight
NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay went into seclusion today for a final boxing session in preparation for Wednesday night's heavyweight title defense against Zora Folley at Madison Square Garden.

Clay, who made Sunday his day of rest and found some tranquility in preaching at a Harlem Mosque, closed the doors on his usually "open to the public" workout as he planned "some secret strategy" that would make Folley his eighth victim within the last 12 months.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Nothing Costs Much More

The cost of nothing is rising at a far more rapid rate than the cost of something. Government-induced inflation, through its ever-increasing four-year socialistic programs of paying farmers not to produce, servants not to serve and workers not to work, has actually made nothing more expensive than something. Nothing has almost been priced out of the market, to the extent that it is destroying the free economy.

No matter how much money we spend on nothing, we still have nothing because the product is, still nothing! Is there any semblance of a competitive free enterprise system when money is paid for nothing to produce nothing?

In 1964 the taxpayers paid the farmers of this country $4.144 billion for producing nothing and the only result was an increase to them in the price of farm products. In 1965, this was increased by $208 million paid farmers for not growing corn, barley and sorghum, and the cost of nothing went up again.

We can't even estimate the cost of doing nothing because of the many overlapping governmental agencies which are doling out billions in welfare payments to pay people to do nothing. We do know it's terrific. Under "Health, Labor and Welfare," the federal budget lists $2.994 billion in 1964, $3.002 billion in 1965, and estimates $3.499 billion in 1966 for Public Assistance.

Is there any semblance of a competitive free enterprise system when people are paid for not working?

The free and competitive system is based on ingenuity, initiative, ambition, work and production. It is based on the inherent differences in men. History teaches us, or should have, that every attempt to equalize man, and or redistribute the wealth, has resulted in revolution, repression and disaster, and what little that had been gained by a few was lost to all. They all wound up with nothing that cost them anything.

The philosophy of "something for nothing" is exemplified in the establishment of minimum wages and maximum hours. This is purely socialistic in origin and only serves to increase the cost of nothing. It is confiscation of capital and redistribution of wealth that could not be enforced without the police force of the government.

It's often said that government doesn't create anything. That's false. It's created a great demand for "something for nothing."

Ultimate in Big Thinking

One of the mottos by which go-go America tries to live is "THINK BIG!"

No one does this better than the U.S. Department of Defense.

By thinking big, Defense has managed to outgrow the Pentagon, which is merely the biggest office building in all this big, big world.

By thinking big, Defense is now spawning four new "little Pentagons" — not so little however, that together they won't be as big as the Pentagon.

By thinking big, the Defense Department's headquarters and administrative staffs currently total 73,100 military and civilian employes in the Washington area alone — the numerical size of five combat divisions.

By thinking big, Defense now needs 86 acres of office space to house this booming desk-bound army.

By thinking big, Defense has doubled its administrative costs in the past two years to $3.1 billion — more than the total budget of most foreign governments.

This, students, is big thinking at its biggest.

Well, not quite the biggest. The biggest would be for the Defense Department, with the thoughtful help of all the rest of us here and around the world, to big - think our way to one little word — PEACE.

House-Builders Bonanza

This will be good news for diaper manufacturers, contractors and the home products industries, though it may give some population experts a chill in their bones.

Mothers of the near future indicate they are going in for larger families — three or more children — according to a nationwide survey of recently married couples, all under 26 years old.

The survey, by the Armstrong Cork Company, disclosed that nine out of 10 of the couples planned to buy or build a home and that one-third hoped to do so within the next 24 months.

This picture of affluent America, dwelling-wise:

—More than nine out of 10 new homes today have three or more bedrooms and more than half have two or more baths and an attached garage.

—The majority have built-in appliances, with air conditioning in every fifth house.

—There is a family room in seven out of 10 new homes and a patio on nearly half the properties.

Built-in Job Perils

Looking for a safe job? Try applying at a button factory.

According to a study made by the Society of Actuaries, button-makers had only one fatal accident during a 10-year period.

The society's study involved a total of 26,250 accidental deaths among nearly 5.9 million workers. The average yearly fatality rate was 45 for each 100,000 workers.

Occupations with good safety records included cigarmakers and other tobacco workers, with a rate of 18; nurses and hospital employees, 26; office clerical workers, 27; retail merchants, 28; soapmakers, 29.

Not surprisingly, the more hazardous occupations included logging, mining and road construction. The rates for these were 122, 118 and 105, respectively.

Steelmakers averaged 63 fatalities, but steel building and bridge construction workers had 98.

Bit of Gold, Anyone?

Using a new detection technique that can measure concentrations of gold as small as 10 parts per billion, or about 1/100,000 of a cubic yard, too little to make them worth mining, the U. S. Geological Survey is investigating a huge mass of gold-bearing rock — 50 cubic miles of it — in the Jackson Hole area of northwest Wyoming.

Don't dust off the old covered wagon just yet, however. The gold content in the rocks tested so far ranges from 6 cents to 35 cents per cubic yard, too little to make them worth mining.

Some samples register as high as $3 a cubic yard, but still not enough to make the detritus workable until new mining and recovery methods are developed.

A common word often misspelled by a writer, rather than a printer, is "nickel," meaning the metal or coin. You frequently see it as "nickle." Noah Webster is the authority who says "nickle" is a green woodpecker, and that's its only meaning. Automobiles get classier, due in part to the James Bond influence. The latest of the smart cars, the Apollo, manufactured by Ford, sells for upwards of $15,000 and contains such features as gold name plates and television. What next?

Tom Mix was the first Western star to become a millionaire when he signed for $20,000 a week a few years later. Curiously, Chaplin is considered to be a wealthy man these days, but Mix was reputed to have died broke some years ago.

Thoughts while shaving: The next time you stick a U.S. postage stamp on an envelope please remember that the gum on the back is a special corn dextrin, made from starch of waxy maize. And Uncle Sam purchases about 400,000 pounds of the stuff every year, just so you can lick it on postage stamps. Tastes awful, too. One of the features of a true rendition of Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture is the cannonfire in the conclusion of the orchestral piece. Some orchestras simply use their drums or even canned noises to achieve the proper effect, but not the St. Louis Symphony. At a recent concert the maestro there solved the cannonfire by having three skeet shooters stand offstage and fire "popper loads" from 12-gauge shotguns when directed. Sounded like Napoleon's artillery firing on Moscow. . . . Today everyone talks about and wants to watch color TV. It's the most expensive way of televising a program. Question Box

Q — We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.

Question

QUESTION: If our country should run out of gold and silver, would the President of the United States, or could the President compel everybody to turn in their gold and silver coins and receive paper money in exchange? If that is so, what about the foreign coins, many of which are made of almost pure silver? George Meyer, Orange.

ANSWER: It is possible that the politicians could try to compel every individual to turn in gold and silver. It now is illegal for Americans to own certain types of gold. However, it has not become practical for the state to confiscate all gold. And because silver is comparatively more plentiful and held by a larger number of persons than is gold, it could appear unlike-

It's An Ill Wind

Each Should Pay for His Own Job-Training Course

By OSCAR W. COOLEY

Assoc. Prof. of Economics, Ohio Northern Univ.

Which can a person best afford to buy on credit, an education or an automobile? My answer is, an education, but more people borrow to buy automobiles than education. This is because we fail to recognize that loans should be productive. They should enable us to increase our earning power to the extent that we can repay the loan with interest and have some besides. An education does this, while an automobile may — providing we use it to do our work, as a traveling salesman does — but often does not because it is used for the pleasure and convenience of the family. It is a consumption good, not an earning asset.

Normally, when a person wins a college degree, his earning power increases very considerably. Thus, it is good business, as well as good culture, for him to incur the cost of going to college, even if he has to borrow to do so. And it is good business for banks and other money-lenders to lend him the money to go.

Furthermore, college students can well afford to pay regular interest rates on such loans, which are business, not charity. Indeed, the problem of financing college careers for the host of youth who want them will be best solved if it is frankly recognized that these youths have credit based on future earning power, just as business firms, farmers, and other producers have, and hence can compete in the purchase of the use of money.

What is true of college education is even truer of professional and vocational education. There is much talk of establishing more technical institutes and vocational schools, designed specifically to fit people for trades. Such schools are probably needed, for the benefit of the many youths who cannot or will not go to college, but why should a youth be invited to attend such a school without paying tuition, when it is designed to put money in his pocket? Why should the general taxpayer be called upon to finance vocational schools and thus to give young people wealth when they already have wealth in terms of the present value of their future earning power?

Many young men and women have learned bookkeeping and business practice in private commercial schools where they paid their own tuition, with either cash or credit, and have thus been enabled to fill better paying positions in business than they otherwise could have filled. This is a sound, self-liquidating operation. There is no justification for taxpayer-financed commercial schools.

Many other workers have taken "on-the-job" training, or schooling provided by their employers. The trainee may pay for this training by accepting lower wages during the training period. More likely, all or part of the cost is met by the employer because he needs trained people so badly. In effect, the employer "draws" upon the employee's productivity. This, too is good business, for both employer and employee. There is surely no reason for taxpayers to finance people to learn welding on the job.

Vocational education must be practical. It must teach a person the facts, techniques and skills he will need to perform a certain job. If he fails to learn these facts and skills, he will not get or hold the job, and then the school that trained him will not be highly regarded and will not be able to place its graduates.

However, if it is a public school, it may keep right on teaching impractical things, because it does not depend on its students for financial support but rather on a third party, the taxpayer. If it is a private school, supported by the tuition fees of its students, it will be sensitive to the needs of its graduates for jobs and will tailor or untrain one. But it is not such a school depends on the student, and the student depends on the job. The line of responsibility is unbroken.

Public vocational education in the United States leaves much to be desired. The courses of study and the teaching have been in many cases strayed far from the vocations for which they were presumably fitting students. Many square pegs have been shaped for round holes.

The notion that vocational education should be provided by the taxpayers stems, I think, from lack of appreciation of the fact that future wages have present cash value. This value is possessed by the worker. To sell himself into slavery (which the law forbids) would be one way of translating that value into actual cash. Obviously, the strong, able, well-trained worker could sell himself for more cash than could the puny or untrained one. But it is not necessary to sell himself in order to realize cash; in our modern world he can borrow against his future earnings.

Business firms borrow large sums against future earnings. Sometimes they put up security, but often not. And the earnings are contingent upon the wise use of the borrowings.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Not All Women Have Menopausal Symptoms

Q — When starting the menopause, do the menstrual periods stop abruptly or gradually? If one period is missed should a doctor be consulted? What are the symptoms of the menopause and at what age does it start?

A — The cessation of ovarian function, which is the underlying cause of the menopause, is gradual. The menstrual periods become shorter and the intervals irregular and prolonged. Although the menopause usually starts in the middle 40s the onset is so gradual it cannot be pinpointed and there is a wide variation in different individuals. In any case, there is no need to consult a physician unless severe symptoms or complications are present.

Many women have no menopausal symptoms. Others have intermittent hot flushes felt chiefly in the head, neck and chest, with or without profuse sweats. When headaches, dizziness, fatigue, joint pains and irritability are also noted some cause other than the menopause should be sought.

Q — At what age should one start to take female hormones for the menopause?

A — This treatment, now widely practiced, may be started when the hot flushes become a source of annoyance. The dosage must be carefully adjusted to prevent a feeling of heaviness in the pelvis and soreness in the breasts.

Q — My uterus was removed two years ago. Should I take female hormones daily? Do hormones cause cancer?

A — Estrogens given to relieve the symptoms of either natural menopause or that following removal of the uterus will not cause cancer and may even help to prevent it. They are not advised, however, for women who have had any type of cancer. If your uterus was removed because of cancer, don't take them.

Q — Do men go through a change of life?

A — In men a gradual decrease in the production of male hormones occurs in the late-50s but is never total. Whether to call the resulting periods of irritability and depression menopausal or merely a manifestation of aging is a moot question.

Q — Is it harmful for a person to take Riodan tablets every night for insomnia?

A — The nearest I can come to finding the drug you mentioned is Riopan. This is an antacid and would help insomnia only if the latter were caused by a peptic ulcer or heartburn. It would not be harmful to take it every night.

are being repaid, much to the satisfaction of the lenders. The record is good. As costly, formal education, at both the vocational and other levels, becomes increasingly necessary, we may expect more and more student borrowing. In time, perhaps the student will cut loose entirely from the apron strings of the taxpayer.

Another Name For Socialism

(Industrial News Review) There is coming to be a widespread feeling that social security benefits and taxes are getting out of hand. Taxes on payrolls will soon be passing 10 per cent of a continually rising level of individual income. For many people, social security taxes are higher than income taxes.

The obligation of the government to pay benefits for which reserves are not now in hand is estimated at around $40 billion. This mortgage on future taxpayers is expected to rise soon to $500 billion. Apparently, we are headed in the same direction as European nations, where welfare payments take a third or more of national budgets. If the trend continues, it is hard to see where the private savings will come from that in the past have provided the capital for industrial development.

Voluntary private investment has built the great industries of the United States. As an example, life insurance companies in this country bought $768 million worth of public utility bonds during 1965. By buying life insurance for their own protection, U.S. citizens in turn provided the funds for needed growth in the utility industry.

Similar institutional investing provided funds for countless other industries. In addition, millions of individuals have made direct investments in the industries of their choice — investments that have been made from savings. These investments give meaning to the phrase "people's capitalism."

As taxes rise for whatever purpose — the ability of people to invest voluntarily and plan a future on an individual basis, diminish. By the same token, if the day comes when the capital needs of industry cannot be met from private sources, American industry will have no recourse but to turn to government for capital. In the long run, it appears that a welfare state is merely another name for socialism.

CONTROL OF EDUCATION

Control of education in our country continues to shift from the local to the national level. For any years after our Republic was established, education remained under the jurisdiction of the States, counties, and local school districts. In recent years, however, the real authority has resided in Washington. This has come about gradually, but surely, through the enactment of far-reaching education bills.

Paradoxically, the one legislative enactment that has given the most power and authority to bureaucrats is not in any of the various aid-to-education bills. Rather, it is contained in the so-called Civil Rights Act of 1964. Found in Title VI of that Act, it is the section which authorizes withholding of funds under all grant-in-aid programs until the local administrators comply with the demands laid down in Washington.

This provision has become the silent partner to all federal grant-in-aid programs but thus far, it has been applied primarily in the field of education.

The Office of Education and the social planners have used the authority given them through Title VI to assume dictatorial powers not even envisioned by Congress when the Act was passed. They have done this by issuing "guidelines" apparently to assist the local school districts in formulating plans of compliance.

Compliance with these so-called "guidelines" is being required as though they had the force and effect of law, which they do not. These "guidelines" are simple extra-legal means of requiring that which the law itself does not require.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

More U. S. presidents were born in Virginia than in any other state. Eight chief executives — Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor and Wilson — were Virginians. The state with the second greatest number of native-born presidents is Ohio with seven. See the World Almanac. Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft and Harding were born in Ohio.

Buckingham Offers First Class Service

Buckingham's Auto Service Center, 1800 North Hobart, offers complete car care for all your automotive needs. The personnel are trained in the installation of the Star Ventilated Brakes, Hunter Electronic Front Wheel Alignment, Marquette Engine Analyzing and Electronic Tuneup. More important, they are trained to service your car properly.

Sometime in your driving experience you may have been stepping down a long hill and the braking power gradually fade away. That fading is caused by excessive heat "build-up" and it could be very dangerous. The solution to this problem is to install new Star-Ventilated Brakes, featured at Buckingham's.

Star Ventilated Brakes allow free circulation of air through and around the brake linings, drawing off heat before it can build up to the danger point. According to Don Litchfield, manager they are the coolest, safest brakes you can have in-

Litchfield invites the public to stop by and fill up with Sinclair gasoline or just to visit with Clarence Underwood, Floyd Baxter, Bill Turner, Chico Hutchings or Howard Buckingham, the owner.

He asks that you look over the facilities. He stated, "At Sinclair, we care about you and about your car." They give Gunn Brothers stamps with all gas and oil products. Their phone number is MO 5-2201.

Forward advance, which has helped you in the past, commences to move onward with strength, practical ability.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Only by investigating whatever is puzzling you right now can you understand what the cause is. Do so. Forget recreations until you are satisfied, you have done a good day's work. Be efficient, thorough.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Anything of a creative nature, or outside business should be attended to early in the day, but home and family require your attention tonight. Help to build others' ego. Impress others favorably.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Handle monetary affairs early in the day and you have time to assist others to improve their lot in life as well. You have much experience they can draw from. Use that fine talent you have to impress others.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Getting into new material interests for the purpose of expansion is very wise now, but first complete labors at hand. Handle that civic matter well, also. Supporters give assistance if you ask them.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Some expert will give ideas that will help to bring greater abundance in your life and you can then also find needed associates. Be sure to handle obligations wisely, say most important bills. OK to attraction that appeals in P.M.

Pontiac has a way of pulling off miraculous automotive stunts: like packing an incredible amount of luxurious equipment into a sleek road machine. And then pricing it incredibly low.

The Pontiac we're talking about is called Catalina. It's big. It has a long, 121" wheelbase. Its standard engine is a 400 cu. in. V-8 in premium- or regular-gas versions. Plus everything that makes Pontiacs so outstanding—Wide-Track ride, advanced styling, high resale value, disappearing windshield wipers. And the GM safety package.

Now the only question is, how can Pontiac make such a luxurious car so low-priced? Don't ask. See your Pontiac dealer.
