

Ethics Closing Bills Presented To State Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The controversial ethics and Sunday closing bills—passed Thursday by the Texas House with little debate—were before the Senate. The House passed, on voice vote, the ethics bill introduced by Rep. James E. Nugent of Kerrville. The measure on second reading Wednesday won 140-6 approval.

Rep. Bill Whitley's bill to plug the "emergency purchase" loophole in the Sunday closing law sailed through the House, 132-14. Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth was the only representative to speak against it. Whitley is from Houston.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria Thursday introduced a measure to repeal the city sales tax, which is not even law. A one percent optional city sales tax law has passed the House but the Senate has not considered it.

Tax Hike Possible

"We may find that we will have to increase the state sales tax by one per cent," Cory said. "If we do, then I'm sure we will be needing my bill."

After March 10 it would take a four-fifths vote for Cory to repeal the sales tax measure.

Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio introduced two proposed constitutional amendments on liquor. One would make Texas completely wet, the other would make it completely dry.

The reason for introducing the proposed amendments was, Berry said, to force the people to "roll out the barrel or let the water wagon roll."

After the ethics bill passed the House, Nugent urged the Senate to concur.

He's Not Hopeful

"An almost identical code was before that body in the past two legislative sessions," he said. "It died there, buried in the seclusion of a committee. Our code may be buried again. But I have this admonition for our senators: The eyes of all Texans are upon you senators. Those eyes have seen the assumption of responsibility by the House and its leadership and now expect the same from you."

Whitley's bill would repeal a provision in the blue law that allows retailers to sell merchandise on both Saturday or Sunday if the customer has an emergency. Whitley said retailers have used this to get around the law that requires closing either Saturday or Sunday.

Powell's Lawyers Plan to Act As Soon as Possible

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Adam Clayton Powell's lawyers are planning to go to court early next week to ask that the House be ordered to take him back as a congressman.

The Harlem Democrat's attorneys have not yet charted the exact course they will follow in attempting to overturn his ouster, but they have decided to act as soon as possible to take advantage of any psychological edge they might have, it was learned Thursday.

Powell's $30,000 annual salary was terminated as of midnight Wednesday, the day the House voted 248 to 176 to exclude him from the 90th Congress.

House officials also dropped all 10 members of his staff, including beauty queen Corrine Huff, from the congressional payroll at the same time.

But House clerk W. Pat Jennings said he would recommend to the House Administration Committee that two of Powell's former employees be added to the clerk's personal staff so they could handle clerical duties in the congressman's vacant office.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., has officially notified New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of the vacancy created by Powell's exclusion. It is now up to Rockefeller to call a special election, one in which Powell is expected to run and win.

As for legal plans, Powell's lawyers have made these basic decisions:

—They will act swiftly, more for psychological reasons than any others. They are expected to draft their motions over the court accelerate litigation this weekend and go into court on Monday or Tuesday.

—Because a congressional district is being deprived of representation, and because of the "extraordinary relief" being asked, they will request that the court accelerate litigation so the case can be disposed of quickly. The Supreme Court, where the case is bound to end up, has 16 days of argument remaining in its current term.

—All members and officials of the House who have anything to do with the admission of a member-elect would be named as defendants McCormack, who administers the oath of office to members-elect, is certain to be included.

Garrison Promises More Arrests Due

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—With one arrest already made, Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison promised more persons would be taken into custody in his investigation of what he calls a conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy.

The district attorney says Lee Harvey Oswald, civic leader Clay Shaw, former airline pilot David W. Ferrie, and "others" plotted in September, 1963, in New Orleans to slay Kennedy.

In New York, radio station WINS reported in a copyrighted story filed by newsman Doug Edelson that a "responsible-unimpeachable source who has access to Garrison's files" said Garrison believes Fidel Castro put out an execution order that resulted in Kennedy's murder.

The broadcast said in the aftermath of the failure of the Bay of Pigs invasion high CIA officials decided that the Communist Cuba regime could best be toppled if Fidel Castro were dead.

"Somehow, Cuban intelligence learned of the CIA operations," Edelson reported. "According to the Garrison files, Castro believed an assassination attempt was planned. In retaliation, Castro put out an execution order on the President."

Shaw was arrested Wednesday. He categorically denied the charges brought by Garrison.

With Shaw's arrest behind him, Garrison said there would be more arrests, more than "most people expect."

Shaw, the 54-year-old former managing director of the New Orleans International Trade Mart, maintains he is "completely innocent." He was free on $10,000 bond. Garrison has asked for a preliminary hearing March 14.

Two Accused Dead

Shaw is the only person thus far identified by Garrison as part of the alleged conspiracy who is alive. Oswald was killed by Jack Ruby Nov. 24, 1963. Ferrie died of a brain hemorrhage Feb. 22.

In Washington Thursday, President Johnson said he saw no reason to change his previous statements accepting the conclusions of the Warren Commission report, which concluded that Oswald acted alone in the assassination. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said the FBI cleared Shaw after questioning about the assassination in 1963.

In Tokyo, Done de Lane, a San Francisco port authority official, said Shaw was in San Francisco on Nov. 22, 1963, the day of the murder.

According to Garrison's charge, Shaw met with the others named in the conspiracy plot at Ferrie's apartment in September of 1963 and "at these meetings there was an agreement and conclusion... to kill John F. Kennedy."

Garrison also identified Shaw as having used the alias, "Clay Bertrand."

Six Mayors Join In Plot Against Mao-Tse Tung

HONG KONG (UPI)—The sensational Hong Kong Star said today the mayors of six Red Chinese cities had joined together in a plot against party Chairman Mao Tse-tung. It said Peking had arrested one of the plotters.

The unconfirmed report in the English-language tabloid quoted "Sources" as saying the anti-Mao pact involved the mayors of Shanghai, China's largest city; Canton in Kwangtung Province; Chungking in Szechwan; Hankow in Hupoh; Yulin on Hainan Island, and Shenyang (Mukden) in northeast China's Hsiaoing Province.

The Star said Peking hit back with the arrest of Mayor Tsao F-chiu of Shanghai. Tsao was later released, the paper said, but Premier Chou En-lai ordered him kept under house arrest.

Chou was reported to have moved against Tsao in the belief the mayor had too strong a following among workers in the storied port city.

Tsao was being interrogated daily in a government building in the city, the tabloid said, but gave no further details.

The Star's dispatch came as other Hong Kong newspapers said that Mao had left the Chinese capital for an unknown destination and told of fresh fighting between his backers and enemies in Cato.

The independent newspapers Ming Pao and the rightwing Hong Kog Times, both quoting reports from travelers just back from China, said the posters about Mao's absence from Peking were probably put up by anti-Mao elements.

Slap by Court Irritates Judge Of Speck Trial

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Judge Herberl C. Paschen today attempted to speed up the murder trial of Richard Speck, while insisting that the Illinois Supreme Court rule on the constitutionality of his news coverage restrictions.

Paschen stepped into the questioning of prospective jurors Thursday as the trial neared the end of its second week. Only four jurors have been impaneled and sequestered and three others have been seated tentatively.

The judge began asking preliminary questions—names, marital status, family situation, place of employment and whether they had formed fixed opinions.

It was apparent Paschen hoped this questioning would reduce the number of time-consuming objections from attorneys who did not like the way an opposing attorney phrased a question.

Paschen moved in after attorneys spent half an hour questioning a woman school teacher before reaching a conclusion she was prejudiced by the fact there were eight murder indictments against Speck. The defendant has been accused of murdering eight student nurses in their dormitory ear a south side Chicago hospital.

Paschen objected strongly Thursday to a motion by the Tribune Company publisher of the Chicago Tribune, to withdraw its suit charging Paschen with "news censorship of the rank and most oppressive kind."

"The utterly irresponsible and exaggerated nature of these charges requires that there be a hearing on the merits and a decision by this state supreme court," Paschen said.

Hoffa Attorneys Make Final Effort

By United Press International

Five days of freedom, then jail for eight years was the outlook today for mighty Teamster President James R. Hoffa, head of the nation's biggest union.

Hoffa, who has nearly exhausted a vast line of appeals on a 1963 jury tampering effort to remain free.

He had been ordered to surrender Tuesday at 9 a.m. to federal officials in Chattanooga to begin serving the term, according to a court order from District Judge Frank W. Wilson of Tennessee.

However, Hoffa's legal aides filed a motion Thursday in the Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here seeking to keep their controversial client free on bond until it has acted on his previous appeals.

A second suit, filed in Chattanooga, asked that the Tuesday surrender date be extended, perhaps to April 1, to give the powerful Teamster chief time to complete the orderly transfer of union business, and to allow him time to complete negotiations on a nationwide contract with trucking firms.

The success of the new contract talks will have an "incalculable" effect on the nation's financial well-being, attorney's financial well-being, Hoffa's petition said.

FFA and 4-H Prepare For County Show

The Pampa Noon Lions Club will award three trophies in each class tomorrow at the Gray County Junior Livestock Show here.

J. E. Gunn, agricultural committee chairman for the club, said about 100 head of livestock have been entered in the one-day event for county 4-H and Future Farmers of America members.

Judging of steers and swine will start at 2 p.m. and end about 4:30 p.m. with Doug Smith, Ochiltree County Agent, as judge.

The Gray County show at the county show barn is held two days before the beginning of the annual seven-county Top O' Texas Livestock Show, which starts here Monday.

Trophies will be awarded for the grand championship, reserve championship and showmanship winners in the steer and swine classes.

Ralph Thomas and Foster Whaley will weigh and classify the animals. Gus Carruth will work as show superintendent.

Others working with the show are Lee Harrah, Ray Darsey, Earl McConnell, Paul Crouch, W. G. Kinzer, A. B. Carruth, N. L. Nicholl, and Frank Grant-ham.

Accidental Bombing Kills 100 Civilians

SAIGON (UPI)—Two American or Vietnamese warplanes mistakenly dropped American-style anti-personnel bombs on a friendly Montagnard village Thursday night, killing an estimated 100 civilians and wounding at least 200 others in the worst accidental air strike of the war.

U.S. military spokesmen today said they were unable to positively identify the aircraft which bombed Lang Ve II, a South Vietnamese village near the Laotian border. Both U.S. and Vietnamese warplanes operate regularly in the area. Communist aircraft rarely, if ever, venture out of North Vietnam.

The village just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) lies about 30 miles west of the area where U.S. Marines have battled a Communist battalion for four days. The Communists are trying to knock out big U.S. Howitzers that have shelled across the DMZ and both sides have suffered heavy casualties in the swirling battle.

A U.S. military spokesman in Saigon reported a major new development in the naval bombardment of North Vietnamese coastal targets. He said such ships as the guided missile cruiser Canberra, are trying to knock out surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites which have taken a toll of American aircraft attacking North Vietnam.

Fragmentary reports from the village told of great destruction when it was attacked about dusk Thursday during what U.S. officials called "extremely bad weather." It is located about a mile and a half east of the Laotian border and eight miles south of the DMZ.

Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam.

UPI correspondent Robert Kaylor reported from the scene today that about 70 per cent of the village lay in smoldering ruins.

Military officials in Saigon said 83 bodies had been recovered and at least 200 persons treated for wounds. About 175 of the wounded were evacuated to Quang Tri and Hue by trucks, helicopters and military transports.

Miami Bank Is Robbed

A man and a woman held up the First State Bank in Miami about 11:15 a.m. today but were caught shortly before noon. One of the hold-up men was believed to have been shot to death.

The trio was captured near a ranch northeast of Pampa.

Pampa Schools To Observe 'Their Week' With Events

If you've ever had the wish to watch your child's reaction to his teacher, his classmates and his schoolbooks when you are not there to tell him how to behave, then next week is your chance.

Pampa schools will observe the annual Texas Public Schools Week, March 6-10, with visitation open to parents in all schools while classes are in progress.

During the week, special programs are planned at the high school, Robert E. Lee Junior High, and six elementary schools, Baker, Austin, Carver, Lamar, Travis and Wilson.

Because of conflicts, two schools, Houston and Horace Mann, scheduled activities this week, but designated the events as public school week activities.

The Kiwanis luncheon was held at Houston Elementary School at noon today. The PTA Father's night at Horace Mann was held yesterday and the Rotary luncheon Wednesday.

The National Honor Society assembly will be held at the high school at 1 p.m. March 7.

Robert E. Lee will have two programs, a seventh grade program, and eighth grade speech assembly at 10:30 a.m. and the Mid-Winter band concert for secondary schools at 7:30 p.m. March 9.

The Austin Elementary assembly will start at 2 p.m. Tuesday and the PTA program at 2 p.m. March 9.

Baker Elementary will have its PTA program and its sixth grade presentation at 2:15 p.m. March 9.

The Carver Elementary activities are an assembly at 10:25 a.m. and the PTA meeting at 8 p.m.

Teacher appreciation program is planned for the PTA meeting at 2 p.m. March 9 at Lamar Elementary.

At Travis Elementary school March 8, an assembly is scheduled at 10 a.m., the Lions Club luncheon at noon with school children and teachers, and the PTA meeting at 8:15 p.m.

Can House Make It Stick?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Now that the House has excluded Adam Clayton Powell, the question arises can it make the exclusion stick?

Powell can appeal to the courts or to the voters; he's expected to do both. But he will find the electorate much more eager to intercede for him than the judiciary.

There is no reason to suspect that Powell lost any fans in Harlem because the House found him unfit to take his seat. If anything, voter support for Powell, which in the past has been overwhelming, seems liable to increase rather than diminish.

That raises the question of whether Powell will be seated if the voters override the will of the House. The parliamentary byways are many and tortuous, but one thing is clear: the exclusion resolutions said that Powell was out for the 90th Congress and it meant just that. The 90th goes out of existence Jan. 3, 1969. If Powell should win a special election to fill the vacant Harlem seat, there might be some parliamentary maneuvering. But there is no reason to believe that the exclusion will not hold. If Powell presented a new certificate of election, it would take only one congressman to point out that he has been excluded for the period of the entire Congress and ask him to step aside. uncharted waters. Never before has a federal court ordered Congress to seat an unwanted member. Traditionally, the judiciary is reluctant to undertake consideration of cases dealing with the internal affairs and powers of other branches of government.

But Powell's lawyers are counting on two recent trends in the Supreme Court.

One concerns the series of cases involving the "one man, one vote" decision. In those cases, the court finally set aside its long-held reluctance to consider malapportionment of state legislatures because a constitutional right was being violated.

pin it down, there is no reason to believe that a majority could not be found to declare him unfit, again.

If he were elected for the 91st Congress, it would be a whole new ballgame. The effect of the exclusion resolution dies with the 90th; the 91st would have to go through all the motions again.

There is a case on record in which the House twice excluded a congressman-elect even though the voters twice said they wanted him. The third time the voters sent him back, the House gave up and seated him.

The court appeal is another matter. The Powell case would launch the judiciary into

Dear Abby....

Two Is Company!
Three's A Crowd

DEAR ABBY: I suppose I'm 50 different kinds of a fool for letting myself get into this predicament in the first place, but here's my story: I married a divorced man who had two pre-school children. We took the children because his wife traveled in her business and could not make a proper home for them. I should explain that my husband and his "ex" brag that they are sensible, civilized people who have a friendly divorce, and nobody is mad at anybody.

Three months ago my husband asked me if his "ex" could stay with us for about a week, following some minor surgery. I foolishly agreed.

It's been going on four months. She is fully recovered, is still making her headquarters here and shows no sign of leaving. The children have taken to calling her "Mamma" which is what they also call me. The neighbors remember her from before and they are talking a blue streak. I am sick of the whole mess. How can I tactfully get this woman out of my home?

as it's handled promptly and properly, don't look a thank-you letter in the gender.

DEAR ABBY: My husband seems to think that just to be here is enough. He isn't cruel to me. He just ignores me completely.

We've been married for 47 years and if I complain about it, he says, "Well, I'm here, ain't I?" as though I should be thankful that I have a husband. Do you think I should try to find another man who might appreciate me more?
BORED AND IGNORED
DEAR ABBY: I wouldn't do it. Better to "live with the lills you know not of." The next one might make this one look good.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE HUNDREDS OF READERS WHO "MISSED" MY THANKSGIVING PRAYER AND ASKED ME TO REPRINT IT:
"O, heavenly Father,
We thank Thee for food and remember the hungry
We thank Thee for health and remember the sick
We thank Thee for friends and remember the friendless
We thank Thee for freedom and remember the enslaved
May these remembrances stir us to service
That Thy gifts to us may be used for others. Amen."

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SICK OF IT
DEAR SICK: Tell your "sensible" husband that he is too "civilized" for you, and if Wife Number One doesn't clear out pronto, YOU will. And give him a deadline. Like sundown.

DEAR ABBY: We are friendly with a man and his wife who are supposed to be way up there socially. Well, I notice that all the thank-you notes from this couple are written by the husband! Is this proper? I always thought it was the wife's job to handle things like that.

NEW YORK (NEA) — There's a new beat to young fashions for spring. They swing to the rhythm of today's fast pace.

You'll find off-beat cut-outs and cut-out armholes, necklines that plunge with discretion, square widely or are cross-yoked in a moderate V. Jackets are longer with not a waist anywhere.

New is the tiered look — the double A-line of both top and skirt or the three-tiered sleeveless shift.

Hemlines go to any length this season and with the new microshifts come their own matching panties.

The hottest color combination of the season is black, white and orange.

Puerto prints are colorful favorites. There are swirling black abstractions on a ground of white; Caribbean florals in wild color trios such as Ponce blue, mango and green. And checks of red or navy with white are also big on the scene.

But once you've passed the youthful age it would be a wise move to skip the micro-skirt, however darling may be its matching bikini panties.

'Hap' Benner Notes Birthday

Friends of Leander Adolph "Hap" Benner were invited to come by his apartment in the Combs-Worley Building last Sunday and help mark his 90th birthday.

Hosting the birthday party were Mr. Benner's three daughters, Mrs. Della Swanson of Lyons, Neb., Mrs. Jean Roe of Bartlesville, Okla., and Mrs. Marion Hale of Scott City, Kan.; his grandson, Richard A. Wilson, and great-grandson, Stephen M. Wilson of Pampa.

Mr. Benner was born Feb. 26, 1877, in Tiffin, Ohio, the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. George Benner. At the age of seven he was one of seven who led a parade carrying a lighted torch and wearing a red cape in the Democratic parade honoring Grover Cleveland in 1884. He married Miss Ella Dryden Thompson of Washington, Pa. The couple resided in Ohio, Penn., West Virginia, Illinois, Kansas and Canada before moving to Oklahoma where "Hap" received his nickname while working with the Tidal Oil Co. He moved to Pampa in 1943 and has been employed at the Combs-Worley Building since that time.

Other than the three daughters, the honoree has 16 grandchildren add 15 great grandchildren.

Luxury, the Little Mink

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NW YORK (NEA) — Contrary to those tired old jokes, most women come by their minks honestly. They buy them.

And though a full-length mink is a lovely thing to have, buying it can take a big helping of green stuff.

So how about one of the smaller minks now that spring is near? A stole, cape or jacket is a wise investment in fashion. They can be worn nearly all year round.

They're ideal for spring or fall. In summer they are insurance against air-conditioned evenings. And even in winter when formal occasions mean only a few steps to a taxi, they are the perfect topping for a long formal gown.

The big news in mink this season is the striking use of color.

There are cardigans in Autumn Haze, Emba natural brown mink and Jasmine (natural white mink) worked in a handsome chevron pattern. Ranch and Autumn Haze have been worked in a zigzag or diamond pattern to produce an exciting "geometric" cape. Jasmine and ranch mink make the scene in ponchos and boleros.

Stoles and capes are still favorites. Long and straight stoles have a tremendous versatility as do capes that can be dressed up or down. And jackets come in a marvelous array of styles — the classic cardigan, the simple box, the Eisenhower and the tuxedo.

Whatever your need or mood, you can be sure you'll be fashion right in this year's American mink designs.

WALLS THAT WORK

Walls that "work" are those that play effective roles in the decorating scheme and are easy to clean. Modern ceramic tiles make walls that do both things. More than 1,000 colors and color combinations, 500 designs and 100 shapes and sizes are available in domestically made ceramic tiles.

As skirts get shorter, stockings must get longer. On a hosiery maker has introduced "hip-lets", which are hip-high, interchangeable stockings that hook with an adjustable elastic band. Worn with panty girdle or with panties alone, the pair gives a smooth line from toes to hip, says the manufacturer. They're made of stretch yarn and come in two shades, a gold-beige and a rich suntan.

Be a Blonde in Ten Minutes

By PATRICIA KING
Beauty Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — There must be something special about being a blonde. Men still whistle at them. So, more and more women are becoming blondes overnight.

There was a time when women born with dark hair were stuck with it, like it or not.

Today it they don't like it, they lighten it.

There are many ways of turning dark hair into fair hair. One of the simplest is a two-step hair-coloring method, known as blonding, used to create the very light or ashen shades.

In blonding, a lightener or bleach is used first to remove color from the natural pigment. Then a delicate coloring is applied to create the silver, platinum, ash, champagne or beige blonde shade desired.

This shampoo-in toner takes as little as 10 minutes to give color to your hair. Its color will last for four weeks without fading or looking brassy.

One important thing to remember is that as your hair color changes, your make-up must be changed, too. The colors you used with dark hair will not complement a lighter shade.

As you lighten your hair, your make-up should be in softer, more pastel hues.

Never have your hair colored unless it is in good condition. If your hair is very dry, you should give it some conditioning treatments before you start.

Your hair should always be soft, shiny and manageable whether you are using color or not.

Writer Advocates Music in Religion

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It is a surprising, though understandable, edict which came from the Vatican, banning certain forms of music, especially that which is known as the "jazz mass." Surprising, because we had just become accustomed to the most revolutionary liturgical reforms. Understandable because jazz is noisy, discordant and strange to the uninitiated. In addition, it is more of a solo or concert form of music, in contrast to that expression which lends itself to congregational participation.

Nevertheless, there was a syncretized phrase in the edict. It referred to "music of a totally profane and worldly character." Yet the whole point of the Christian faith is that God is speaking in human flesh. It is a religion, of the Incarnation. It is the invasion of that which men called the profane and the worldly, clothing it with new meaning.

As a result, some of our greatest chorales and hymns came into the church by way of taverns and public gatherings in which were profane. The tunes of the people at play became the tunes of the people at worship. Then, just as in the Old Testament, cymbals, lyres, dulcimers, bagpipes and flutes became the gladsome praise of the Lord.

Sidney Lanier said that "Music is love in search of a word." Some of it doesn't sound that way to my ears. Yet are we to diminish this desire to speak to the contemporary man who finds in this discordant state-of-the-art music what witnesses more than the Gregorian chant or a Bach chorale sings to our ears? Staid Westerners are accustomed to sitting in pews and being quiet observers; the Orthodox in Greece and Russia enjoy motion, with people walking about, kissing icons, participating instead of observing. What is disturbing to a Westerner is normal to another; what would be understandable in one situation would become dull conformity in another. The joyous "beat" of some congregations may be strange to the unaccustomed but the lack of an exultant "Hallelujah" or an echoing "Amen" would make it a dull experience to others.

Obviously it is proper for any church to determine the norm of its forms of worship. Yet we must also know that the Gospel must be communicated in this profane and worldly situation which we know as our environment. Into this world, the Word is shared. It might just be that the profane and worldly music could be the swaddling clothes!

THE FAR LOOK

REV. ALBERT MAGGARD,
FIRST PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS CHURCH

Lord Northcliffe, editor of the London Times, was threatened with blindness. Specialists examined him but found nothing essentially wrong with his eyes. They concluded that what he needed was the "far look." Constant reading of fine print and the need for close observation had strained his eyesight. He was told to spend days in the country, away from the printed page, and to look at big things, for things.

How many allow their vision to become dim, their courage to wither, their faith to fail, because they lack the far look. Even Godly people may become so absorbed with the immediate problem, so weakened by present disadvantages that they surrender before the fight has really begun. — Our point is not that present problems may be ignored. We're saying, though that the Christian is not to do his work and fight his battles in a little, narrow pit without ever raising his eyes to the blue sky of God's beauty and the wide horizon of God's presence and power.

They say that we shouldn't present our Christian faith in terms of the "sweet by and by." "Preach to men where they are, give them a Gospel with relevance to their daily toil and trail and temptation. Heaven can wait. What we need is recourse for now, answers to the present puzzle, comfort for the current calamity."

This seems reasonable on the surface. The trouble is that it overlooks the fact that the bulk of our inheritance is in heaven, not on earth.

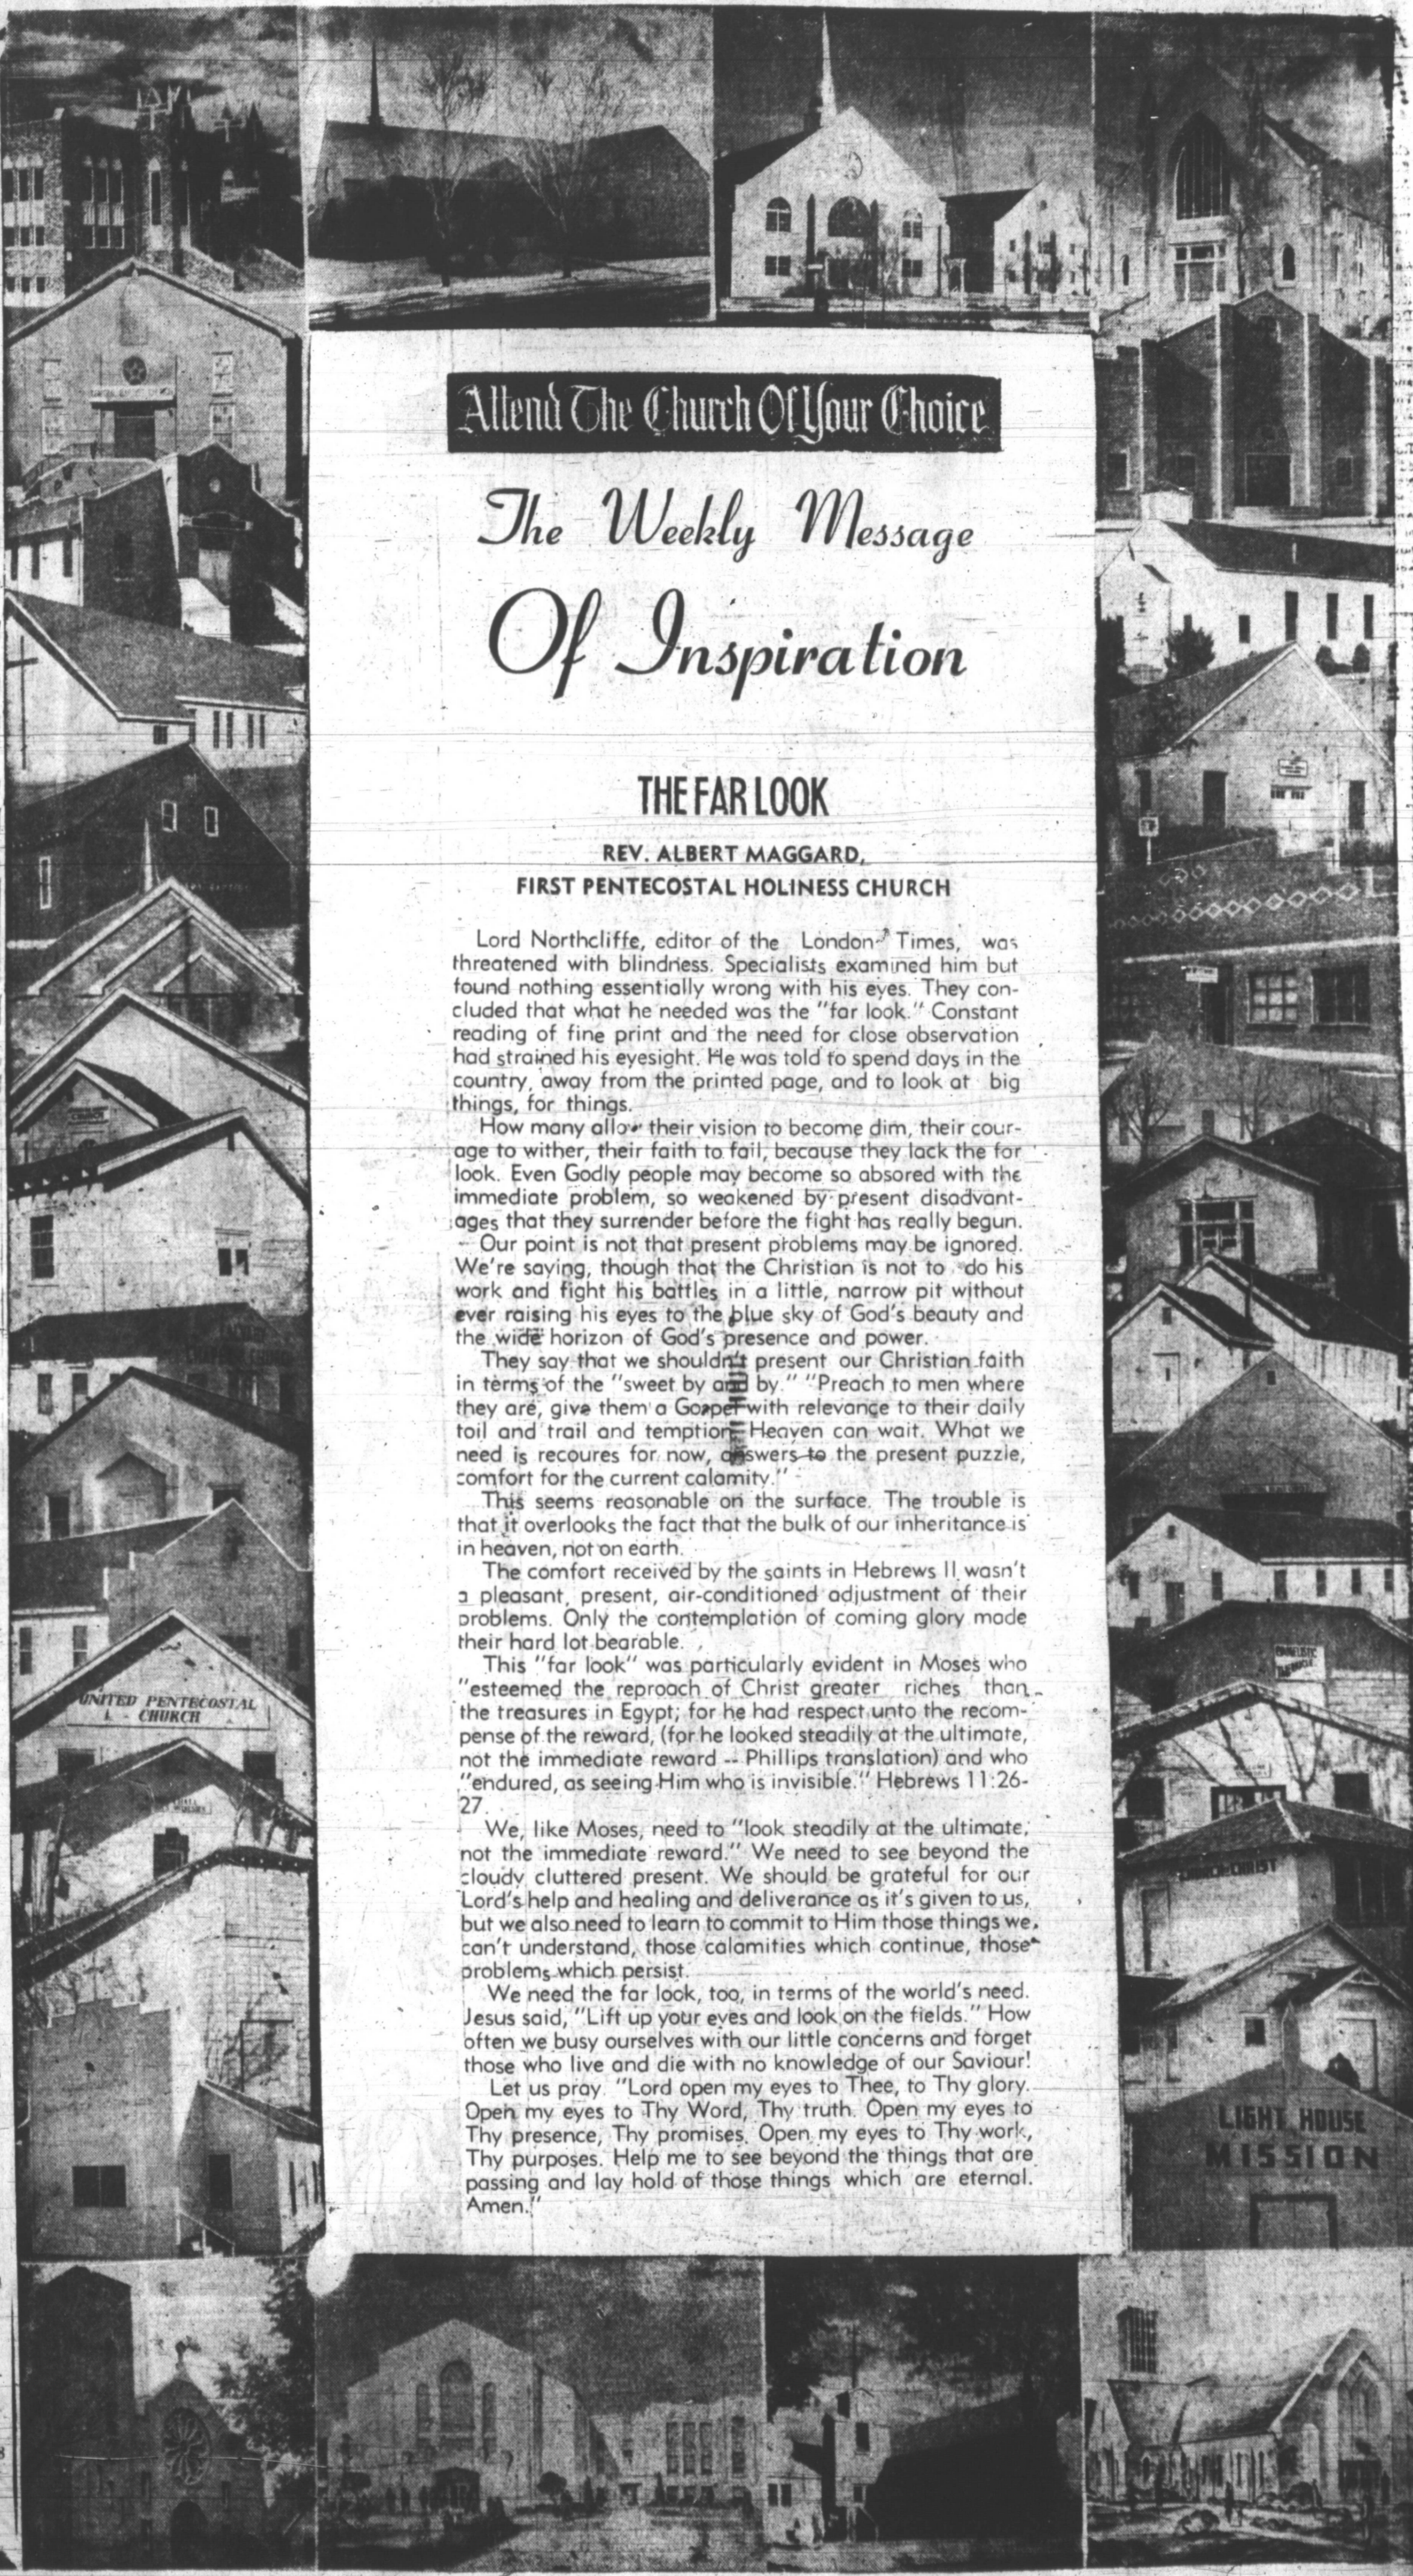

The comfort received by the saints in Hebrews 11 wasn't a pleasant, present, air-conditioned adjustment of their problems. Only the contemplation of coming glory made their hard lot bearable.

This "far look" was particularly evident in Moses who "esteemed the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt; for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward, (for he looked steadily at the ultimate, not the immediate reward — Phillips translation) and who "endured, as seeing Him who is invisible." Hebrews 11:26-27.

We, like Moses, need to "look steadily at the ultimate, not the immediate reward." We need to see beyond the cloudy cluttered present. We should be grateful for our Lord's help and healing and deliverance as it's given to us, but we also need to learn to commit to Him those things we can't understand, those calamities which continue, those problems which persist.

We need the far look, too, in terms of the world's need. Jesus said, "Lift up your eyes and look on the fields." How often we busy ourselves with our little concerns and forget those who live and die with no knowledge of our Saviour!

Let us pray: "Lord open my eyes to Thee, to Thy glory. Open my eyes to Thy Word, Thy truth. Open my eyes to Thy presence, Thy promises. Open my eyes to Thy work, Thy purposes. Help me to see beyond the things that are passing and lay hold of those things which are eternal. Amen."

Michigan Staters Injunction Is Made Against Stage 'Kiss-In' Rand Vaccine

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Students at Michigan State University, like students at other universities, will protest just about anything by staging a sit-in in, teach-in or some other "in." But about 60 students topped them all Wednesday night when they stage a kiss-in at West Akers Hall, a woman's dormitory. The demonstration, called by the United Students Group, protested alleged report of stern regulations concerning public display of affection in the dormitory lounge, W. C. Blanton, chairman of the organization, said the rules prohibit anything but holding hands. Not so, according to university officials. The regulations, they said, prohibit lying on couches in the lounge, lying around in loose clothing and framing hands. Wednesday night, the students staged their kiss-in to protest the alleged harsh regulations. The group marched into the lounge brandishing signs proclaiming the case. "Make love—not war," one sign read. "Lips at MSU united," read another. The clincher read "love thy neighbor." "There were people just milling around," said Del Maxwell, graduate adviser at the dormitory. "There was some kissing going on, but that happens just about every night," she said. "At least the crowd isn't hostile," Miss Maxwell said.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—William R. White of Hornblower & Weeks, Hemphill, Noyes says the strong market support shown by institutions recently may be explained by signs of a growing conviction that the market had discounted the possibility of an early cessation of the Vietnam war or a business recession. Inasmuch as last year's decline was one of the steepest in more than two decades, White believes, it is not surprising that fund managers now are more willing to reinvest unusually large cash reserves.

Bache & Co. says the Federal Reserve Board reduction of member bank requirements from 4 per cent to 3 per cent could be an important factor in prompting a renewal of the upward swing which had stalled at the 800 level. The company says easing of credit spurred the January advance and recent consolidation was prompted by signs of some monetary tightening. The 42-line Bible, often called the Mazarin Bible, was the first book Gutenberg printed on his press.

Luci was married last Aug. 6 to Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., in a spectacular ceremony at Washington's Roman Catholic National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. She and her husband who is working with the Johnson family radio-television station KTBC as a management apprentice, live in Austin and it is there the baby will be born, probably in May. There were reports that the entire top floor of Holy Cross Hospital in Austin, operated by the Catholic Sisters of the Immaculate Conception would be cordoned off as a maternity ward for her. But this was denied as "completely untrue" by the White House. Mrs. Carpenter's confirmation of reports on Luci's pregnancy ended months of speculation. When questioned by UPI last November about the reports, Luci herself said: "I'm never going to say."

And that has remained the White House policy ever since, for reasons of "health and safety," officials said. Mrs. Johnson had a history of miscarriages and it was feared Luci might have inherited the tendency. SUDSEY FAFE, Portugal (UPI)—It wasn't so much the attempted jail break. It was the humiliation of it all. Jose Pereira, serving a term for housebreaking, peeled down to the skin Wednesday and tried to squirm through a narrow jail window. He stuck. To free him, police covered him with soap and tugged. WATER EVERYWHERE, BUT DENVER (UPI)—State officials had no trouble finding a cab Wednesday. Getting a ride in one was another question. About 250 taxi cabs circled the state capitol buildings to protest a state commission action reducing airport limousine service fees.

The Pampa Daily

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

C'mon Gals, Get Up and Go

Never underestimate the power of a woman — she is probably doing that well enough herself.
Although the number of women working outside the home continues to rise (at 25 million, women now constitute more than one-third of the total labor force in the United States), the types of jobs women are NOT working at suggests that, in general, the fair sex sadly shortchanges its own capabilities.

Women represent only 18 per cent of the nation's college professors; 8 per cent of its college presidents; 6 per cent of its physicians; 3 per cent of its lawyers; 2.5 per cent of its representatives in Washington, and a mere 1 per cent (1 out of 100) of its senators.

Only among public school teachers are women in substantial numbers. Here they are a majority — 69 per cent.
Lest it be charged that antifeminist prejudice is responsible for this poor showing in the professions, consider these facts:
In 1930, women earned 40 per cent of all master's degrees; in 1965, 32 per cent. In 1930, 15 per cent of all doctoral degrees were conferred on women; in 1965, 11 per cent.
In the past 25 years, the number of university and college faculty positions occupied by women declined from 28 to 20 per cent. The 12 women now in Congress are fewer than were serving in 1962. Only three women in history have become state governors.

that more women than men were opposed to the idea of a woman president.
The traditional forms of discrimination continue strong, of course. In opportunities and in salaries, women remain at a disadvantage, despite passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act outlawing such discrimination.
Other factors also operate against women.
A girl with a fresh degree in a constantly changing field such as engineering, for example, cannot drop out for a few years to rear a family and then easily re-enter the profession. A secretary can.

Moreover, it is a valid question whether men are guilty of prejudice against women than women themselves. A poll taken a few years ago showed that more women than men were opposed to the idea of a woman president. The traditional forms of discrimination continue strong, of course. In opportunities and in salaries, women remain at a disadvantage, despite passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act outlawing such discrimination.

More is involved in the matter than prestige or pay checks or personal fulfillment, however. The country can ill afford to waste the immense reservoir of talent that exists virtually untapped in the female population.

Speaking before the Woman's National Democratic Club recently, Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, expressed alarm at the declining percentage of women college graduates in proportion to the total population and the "deplorable and needless underdevelopment of women's talent."

Facts Outdo Fiction

The tales of Jules Verne have enthralled young and old with their free-ranging flights of fancy into the realm of things to come. But very likely Jules Verne, himself, if he were around today, would be non-plussed by realities that go far beyond his own fertile imagination. The unlearned exploits of his Captain Nemo are not a whit more spectacular than the achievements of the petroleum industry in finding and extracting oil from deep under the sea along the world's offshore continental shelves. The sea is where man must turn next to find the sustenance of life as populations continue to expand. The work of the petroleum industry is a pioneering step.

gruous as they may sound to the layman, for sea and space... both represent environment hostile to man and require similar approaches.
Looking ahead 10 or 15 years, the aircraft executive noted that it is conceivable there will be bases on the ocean bottom where 30 or 40 workers will live for periods of time, exploring the ocean floor for minerals and petroleum and directing mining and drilling projects. He acknowledged that there will be stiff competition in exploring the ocean. "But this is good," he said. "It's good for our economy, and it's good for individual corporations. Competition brings growth and improvement. Without it, your industry and mine wouldn't be where they are today." He might also have added that the standards of living, which the United States has produced for our people, would not be at their present high levels either, except for the constant striving for advancement that is typical of competitive industry.

Not long ago, the president of a major aircraft corporation, speaking to representatives of the oil industry, extended an invitation for the aerospace and petroleum industries to merge their technological strength for joint exploration and development in undersea areas. Such joint efforts are not as incon-

A New Kind of Huckster

"The grain or berry called coffee, growth... only in the deserts of Arabia. It is brought from thence and drunk generally throughout all the Grand Seignour's dominions... it is good against sore eyes, and the better if you hold your head over it and take in the steam that way."

Anyone who today promoted the drinking of coffee in the foregoing manner, even going so far as to point to its therapeutic value, would be a sitting duck for federal agencies anxious to spread their bureaucratic cloaks in the mire of deceptive advertising to rescue the fair consumer. But the perpetrator of the coffee endorsement is safe. He lived in 1652.

Since that far day consumers have managed to survive, and even thrive. For centuries, the people have picked the goods and services in the market place that suited their fancies. Promotion and advertising helped speed the developments of our time—television, auto, the radio, the telephone, lifesaving drugs and most of the other miracles of the twentieth century.

The odd part is that consumers are the same kind of people they were several hundred years ago, except they are not quite as superstitious or gullible. They fall prey less easily to the dishonest hucksters. Also today, there are laws against misrepresentation and fraud. And yet, "consumer protection" has become a sort of battle cry of politicians and officials who are themselves guilty of a kind of hucksterism far more deadly than anything in the past. The nostrums they are peddling in the name of "consumer protection" have aptly been called "... a progressive reach for more power, assumption of arbitrary positions and the normal human arrogance of undisciplined authority."
In 1872, a civil rights act provided for Negroes to serve on juries and guaranteed them equal rights in public places.

Pull Up A Chair

One of the first signs of spring are the announcements of the early season route of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, now readying its departure from Florida winter quarters. The circus is an American institution dating back to 1824 when Hackelbar Bailey lived in Somers, N.Y., a town in Westchester county, and imported the first elephant to be seen in this country. The local hotel there, which now houses the town offices, is appropriately named "The Elephant." Bailey's foster son formed a partnership with P. T. Barnum of nearby Danbury, Conn., which led to an American legend. Other U.S. towns lay claim to being the birthplace of the American circus, but it all began in Somers. Today no circus plays there, but the high school football team is called the Tuskers and the elephant insignia appears on its firefighting equipment and even the highway department vehicles. It is truly babies or other women. He says the birthplace of the American circus.

Today's smile: A doctor answered his phone late at night and a voice asked: "How much do you charge for a house call?" The M.D. mumbled: "Ten dollars." "And how much do you charge for an office visit?" The same voice asked. "Five dollars," mumbled the medic. "Okay," said the caller, "I'll see you at your office in 15 minutes."

Thoughts while shaving: Can't think of any bald-headed man who was ever elected President of the U.S. except John Quincy Adams. Also, the most popular first (or given) name of our chief executives has been James. Five of them had it—Madison, Monroe, Polk, Buchanan and Garfield. "People still call them 'dime stores' and 'the five and ten' even though Woolworth's, Kresge's, Grant's and similar chain stores sell very few items at that price any more. The latest thing for automobiles is a 'fur-covered seat belt.' New York stores offer them at prices ranging from $18 for real fur covering to $2, for imitation pelt. An advertising executive told us experience has shown that women generally react better to ads pitched in their own terms. He says women like to study other women seeking ideas for makeup, clothes, etc. He says male models in women's ads have no appeal to the fair sex. We've often wondered why a noisy snorer doesn't awaken himself as he does others with his nocturnal noises. They never do. Eight men out of every 100 are colorblind and many don't know it until they are required to have their eyes tested. They think they are looking at a less color out of 100 will be colorblind. Don't ask us why. The Somerville (Tenn.) FAYETTE FALLON reported in a story: "They entertained their friends with a hay and weiner roast." Sounds like fun down on the farm.

A Yale psychologist who studied the department was told by one foreign service officer that "one reason I have succeeded is that I have learned not to be open, not to be candid."
The psychologist, Chris Argyris, says that the department motto might be "safety first." Everyone, he says, has learned to write "careful and innocuous" memos round the sharp edges of telegrams, learn not to make waves, minimize risk-taking, fear striking responsibility, play the game, and be careful to never become a bum and always remain a hero. He says the state department "May not collapse," but that things will get worse.
The ineffectual and bumbling organization might be tolerated, if only on the theory that when it does arrive at a decision, the decision is usually very wrong, as witness the military intervention in Katanga and the policy of ostracizing Rhodesia. When the department is immobilized by its own red tape at least it does not get the nation into a jam.

There Are Antidotes For Poisonous Omens of Today

THE FUDGE FACTORY (Chicago Tribune)
The state department, dubbed by John F. Kennedy a "bowl of jelly" and by former Undersecretary George Ball a "fudge factory" is now engaging the agonized attention of Nicholas Katzenbach, Ball's successor. The magazine Newsweek reports a few of the horrors:

A simple cable dealing with milk exports had 29 signatures on it for clearance.

An ambassador who had been urgently summoned back to Washington spent a week trying to see any high-ranking official, only to be put off on each call with the word, "Mr. X is in a meeting. Can he return your call?" Finally the ambassador burst out: "What is everybody always meeting about in this building?"
A scholar who prepared a special report at the department's request was later denied access to his own report with the information that it was "classified."

A Yale psychologist who studied the department was told by one foreign service officer that "one reason I have succeeded is that I have learned not to be open, not to be candid."

By OSCAR W. COOLEY
Assoc. Prof. of Economics, Ohio Northern Univ.
The year 1967 opened with dark clouds on the horizon. No end to the war in Vietnam is in sight.
Red China exploded another atomic bomb. Business is slackening, suggesting a recession. Auto accidents are at a peak; crime, also. And new problems like air pollution, are emerging.
But there are antidotes to these poisonous omens. One is the faithfulness with which Mr. Average American is going about his daily work, doing with speed and efficiency the special job he has chosen for himself to do and thus enabling us all to live in fair comfort and security. You can hear it said it's impossible to hire an honest tradesman any more. I have found this not to be the case.

I am thinking of our garbage collector, whose truck pulls into our drive every Thursday morning to get the week's accumulation of tin cans, orange peels, and junk mail, etc. Always he comes early; if I want to consult him about disposing of something extra, I must be up by seven.
He is regular to collect his bill, too. Every three months, prompt as the calendar, he submits a printed statement, showing just what I owe him and enclosing an addressed envelope (so I won't have the stink of ignorance of his address).
He is a private entrepreneur, exploiting the desire of Ada folks to get rid of their junk. He renders a genuine service, and he makes a living doing it.

Recently he raised his monthly charge. As a result, he probably lost some business, but I am betting he won't complain. He knows we are not required to hire him; there are other ways to dispose of trash. He can hold his customers only by giving good service.
Then there is our paper boy. We seldom see him, but every afternoon about four, one hears a "plunk" out from the News, neatly rolled and rubber-banded, lands on our front porch. Not in the shrubbery, not on the walk or the steps, but inside the screen door, away from soaking rain or thieving dogs.

When a tradesman does not see his customer, he is tempted to be lax, reasoning, "I should worry. He doesn't get a chance to bowl me out." Paper boys who call for their pay once a week run the risk of collecting a complaint along with their money. But I pay once a year by mail, so our boy does not face any such periodic check-up. None the less, his service is impeccable.
I own a rented house in a city 175 miles away. Like most old houses, it has to have things done to it now and then—painting, plumbing, roofing, new awnings. When this time comes, I write or phone a tradesman in that city, sometimes one I have never met or dealt with, and ask him to go to the house and determine what is needed and what it will cost. Then I instruct him to do the job and send me his bill, for which I promptly mail him a check. Never yet have I been overcharged or poorly served. My experience has been that if you treat tradesmen squarely and in a business-like way, they will reciprocate. This is free private enterprise at its best.

To deal with dependable tradesmen is a joy. When one feels that a workman has said in advance exactly what he can do, and then has done it, putting integrity into his work, even if he does not know from Adam the man he is working for, one does not question the bill but writes the check promptly and gladly. Happily, there are many, many such tradesmen in every community.
Down the road a few miles live two brothers who are partners in the poultry business. They specialize in eggs—big, white, clean, invariably fresh eggs, which they sell to stores of this area. I have never met these brothers, but I know them by their eggs, which are as near perfect as contented hens could be expected to lay. Very obviously, they are people who take pride in their product. They have developed a market for "Wince Bros." eggs, and I'm guessing they will keep it.
As one shops the retail stores, he is struck with the excellence of the products which are offered, very evidently by producers who take pride in turning out honest goods. Consider bread, the staff of life. You can buy it in literally dozens of forms, all of them good, wholesome, fresh and tasty—markedly better than the baker's bread of half a century ago. In loaf form, there are white, whole wheat, rye, raisin, protein and pumpernickel, fluffy and hearty, round and square. Then there are rolls—dinner, parkerhouse, crescent, butterflake. And both loaves and rolls can be bought ready-baked or brown-and-serve. Or if one prefers baking powder biscuits, these can be had in sticks, ready-to-bake style. Or either bread or biscuits can be had in "mixes," as can muffins, pancakes of many kinds, and a myriad of cakes. Many a housewife has concluded the sure way to avoid a cake failure is to use a mix. This is a tribute to the ability of the chemists and bakers employed by the flour milling firms.
The freshness and purity of thousands of products have been greatly heightened in recent years by the new wraps in which they are packaged. Modern packages are a marvel of the paper and plastic art.
Much has been said about the need for "truth in packaging." In fact, one would have to search to find any real untruths on package labels today. A manufacturer simply cannot afford to print words on labels that buyers will find to be lies when they open the package.
I nominate for oblivion the government bureaus that spend their time and the taxpayers' money in impugning the integrity of the private business man. To me the excellence of the job he is doing is a cause for congratulation and rejoicing.
The aim of the private entrepreneur and tradesman is to make a profit. But he makes the most profit who renders the

Where It All Begins

(Steelways Magazine)
Childhood is a time for dreaming—a time when imagination is whimsically paying games with reality, helping the innocent mind to fathom and master the real world. The little fellow on our cover trying out the shiny new tricycle is perhaps imagining how it will feel to pedal down the street, supported by this sturdy steel toy that yields obediently to his touch. Taking the security of the toy's strength for granted, he dreams of speeding past his house making a blur of trees and pavement. His tricycle turns into a space ship. Right around the corner is Africa. On his tricycle he is a bold adventurer to whom all of life's secrets will eventually unfold.

When the boy becomes a man this untamed expensive imagination—if left to flourish—can lead to invention and discovery. He becomes an Eli Whitney or a Robert Fulton, or, more probably, one of the thousands of unsung heroes who quietly contribute to a better world. His vision may be realized in the designing of space ships that dream of as a child or in the planning of automobiles for safety right here on earth. His creativity is unbound, constantly renewing itself—and responsible for a world that we take for granted as we inch our way up the ladder.
Without this vision, where would our world be? We owe it to the men and women with an early dream, originating somewhere back beyond personal memory—or perhaps on a bright shiny tricycle when dreaming was still a game. This is where it all begins.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
"Floaters" in Eyes Do Not Interfere with Vision

Q—I have spots that seem to float before my right eye. Is there any cure for this?
A—Practically everyone at one time or another sees these floaters. They are the shadows of loose cells that are lodged in the jellylike mass in back of the lens. They may appear as dark spots or as a chain of dark rings with clear centers. Although they are annoying at times they don't interfere with your vision and, since there is no way to get rid of them, most people learn to disregard them.

Q—Is there any treatment for a detached retina?
A—Detached retinas have been successfully treated by causing adhesions between the retina and the inner wall of the eyeball. This has been accomplished by electrocoagulation of the vitreous body, and, experimentally, by whirling the victim at high speed in a centrifuge.

Q—Would hardening of the arteries or arthritis cause blurred vision?
A—There are many causes of blurred vision. Hardening of the arteries in the retina is one possibility; arthritis is not.

Q—My doctor says I have melioritis in both eyes. Is this serious?
A—The Meibomian glands are small glands in the upper and lower eyelids near the lid margin. A cyst in one of these glands is called a chalazion. Inflammation of these glands without any blocking of their ducts is treated by expressing the gland's secretions and applying yellow oxide of mercury ointment. The condition usually clears up after several days of this treatment.

Q—What is the cause and treatment of buphthalmia?
A—This inflammation of the eyelids is associated with chronic conjunctivitis. It may be caused by uncorrected far-sightedness or astigmatism or by irritating cosmetics applied to the eyelashes. The disease is often hard to cure. The lids should be kept free of crusts and scales and yellow oxide ointment should be applied every night.

Q—My eye doctor says I have vertical imbalance in my left eye. He says that glasses will not help this condition. What do you think?
A—Sometimes this imbalance can be corrected by prescribed exercises with prisms, and sometimes including a prism in your prescription for glasses helps. Much would depend on the degree of imbalance and how much it bothers you.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not miss answers.)
QUESTION: "I have read in several different places that Governor Romney of Michigan was not born in the United States. Is this true? If so, would this not keep him from running for President of the United States? I have always understood that a person must be born in the states in order to run for this office."
MRS. C. W. J.

ANSWER: According to "Who's Who in America," George Romney was born of American parents on July 8, 1907 in Chihuahua, Mexico. Although it is stated in Article II of the Constitution that "No person except a natural born citizen... of the United States... shall be eligible to the office of President..." we believe this requirement has been interpreted to include persons born abroad of parents who were, themselves, American citizens at the time of birth. Thus, Romney would be eligible to run for the presidency. The aim of the private entrepreneur and tradesman is to make a profit. But he makes the most profit who renders the FORCED LABOR FOR YOUTH?

The November election was hardly over before the Secretary of Labor announced a plan for universal national service for American youth. Under it, every American boy and girl, on reaching age 18, would register with the federal government for some form of service.

The "people planners" seized the term "opportunity board" for those officials who would tell our young people what they had to do: social work, on the home front, federal job training, or (in the case of boys), military service as the country required.

Some insist that this plan compares favorably with the existing Selective Service System. Yet, draft boards are locally controlled. These boards make the decisions as to which young men will be called to military service. The boards take orders from neither the Defense Secretary nor the Labor Secretary.

No doubt the Defense Secretary would like to have a more centralized system of obtaining military manpower, giving the government direct authority. His recent plan for a draft "lottery" would be a step in this direction.

The Labor Secretary's new plan reminds one of that of Nikita Khrushchev to send masses of young Russians to the virgin lands of Siberia to open new agricultural areas.

The plan stresses the word "opportunity." But does it actually differ from what Adolf Hitler offered trainees in his labor battalions?

Freedom-lovers view the plan as nothing less than a blueprint for totalitarian control of a free society's most precious resource; its youth. If it is enacted into law, it will further reduce the liberty enjoyed by Americans.

Alcindor Best Player

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nagged overwhom today that Lew Alcindor stands head and shoulders above any other college player in the country. UCLA's 7-foot, 1-inch sophomore polled 19.7 per cent of the votes in annual balloting by newsmen and broadcasters and over the country to be selected as the UPI's 1966-67 player of the year.

A total of 155 of the 260 experts who participated in the balloting voted for Alcindor, making him an easy winner over Jimmy Walker of Providence, who received 71 votes. Wes Unseld of Louisville was third with 10 votes and Bobby Lloyd of Rutgers fourth with seven.

Alcindor is the first sophomore to win UPI's player of the year award since Oscar Robinson, now of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association, won it as a 1956.

GETTING UP in the pro basketball world are Jerry Sloan left, of the Chicago Bulls and Lenny Wilkens of the St. Louis Hawks.

THE LITTLE THINGS

Dogers Try to Rebuild

By United Press International
The Los Angeles Dodgers' life without Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills is devoted to the "little things" — like leadoff men, base-stealing, walks, switch-hitters and hit-and-run ability.

The Dodgers always have paid more attention to such details than their harder-hitting rivals but are concentrating on them even more this spring. Pittsburgh Pirates means more pressure than ever on the Dodgers' popgun attack.

Manager Walt Alton, who is determined that over-confidence won't cost the Dodgers sixth or seventh place, nominated Gene Michael and Wes Parker Thursday as the leading candidates to replace Wills as leadoff man. No one has yet suggested a replacement for Koufax.

Picks His Pitches
"They tell me that Michael's on-base average was almost 50 per cent and he drew his share of walks," said Alton, referring to the shortstop's 289 performance for Columbus of the International League last season.

Meanwhile, down on the Atlanta Braves' West Palm Beach, Fla., ranch, manager Billy Hitchcock is urging National League home run king Hank Aaron to steal more bases. Aaron stole 21 in 34 attempts last season for an 87.5 percentage that was the best in the majors.

"Hank has a takeoff as quick as anyone I have ever seen," said Hitchcock. "Wills, or anyone else. He will be on his own again because he knows when to run and I would like to see him run more."

"I'll steal when it helps the club," said Aaron. "But nobody has to worry about me leading the league."

Patch Up Feud
In other camps: Manager Dave Bristol of the Cincinnati Reds met with pitchers Milt Pappas and Joe Nuxhall to patch up a spat that began during the winter when Nuxhall said Pappas "didn't give a full 100 per cent to the club last season."

MIAMI (UPI)—The pressure will be on veteran golfer Homero Blancas today when he takes a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $100,000 Doral Open.

Blancas, a 28-year-old Texan who has been golfing since age five, will have some of the biggest names in the game breathing down his neck when he tries to equal or better the record-tying 65 shot in Thursday's opening round.

Among those within easy distance of Blancas are superstars Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus—who are two and three strokes away—and such veterans as 1965 Doral champion Doug Sanders, the first golfer to turn the "blue monster" course in 65.

Blancas said his opening round 65 "was my best since winning at Seattle in 1966. I drove well and made very crucial putt."

Palmer, who shot a four-under-par 67, said the "blue monster" played easier and joked that comedian Jackie Gleason's partner in Wednesday's pro-am match, "straightened out my game."

Three strokes off Blancas' sizzling first round pace at 68 were Nicklaus, Sanders, George Archer, Bob Goaly, Bert Greene, Harold Henning and Tom Weiskopf.

Stan Farr led the Frogs with 19 points; and Billy Barnett paced the Aggies with 17 points. Texas Tech's Joe Dobbs hit a backhanded layup at the buzzer Thursday night to give his team a 72-70 win over the Rice Owls.

The victory gave Tech a 7-7 league record and left Rice in the cellar with a 4-10 mark for the third straight year.

Jimmy Turner and Darrell Hardy, fighting for the conference scoring lead, led Baylor to a 68-55 victory over Arkansas. Hardy led with 20 points, followed by Turner with 18.

David Self had 11 points for the Razorbacks.

In other basketball action, Wichita State scored with two free throws with 42 seconds left to defeat the Shockers a 74-73 Missouri Valley Conference win over North Texas State.

Barry Tough On 76ers and League

By United Press International
The Philadelphia 76ers are the willing to join the National Basketball Association noise-abatement society by silencing Rick Barry.

Philadelphia almost succeeded Thursday night as the 76ers contained the NBA's leading scorer for the first half and for activity to only nine minutes in the first half. He went on to score 20 for Chicago, which scoring tear in the third period, managed to close to 106-102 with a 21-point outburst and had San Francisco on top at 118-113 with six minutes remaining in the game.

Philadelphia, with a well-balanced attack throughout the game, rallied for 12 straight points and a 125-118 lead that ended the Warrior threat.

Barry was the game's high scorer with 37 points. Chet Walker led the 76ers with 27 points. Wilt Chamberlain netted 24 and grabbed a league high of 38 rebounds this season. Billy Cunningham scored 21 points and Hal Greer added 20.

IN SCHOOLBOY PLAY

Dark Horses Collide Today

AUSTIN (UPI)—A pair of dark horses, one already with the taste of an upset victory, collide today to put the lid on the second day of the 47th annual state high school basketball tournament.

Kennard, which rode the 30-point shooting of 6-2 Fred Hillington to a 59-47 decision over favored Avoca Thursday, takes on Plainview Washington, another first timer in the big event, at 9 a.m.

Defending Class B champion South San Antonio and Lamesa advanced in Class AAA. Hardin-Jefferson of Sour Lake and Dimmitt made the Class Archer City advanced in Class AA finals, and Brownsboro and Archer City advanced in Class A. All championship games will be played Saturday.

The Thursday show stopper came in South San Antonio's 60-58 victory over 1966 finalist Clear Creek when the Bobcats came back from an ice-cold 18-5 per cent shooting in the first half to hit 16 straight points to open the third quarter and move ahead.

Clear Creek, which held a 10-point margin at halftime, was in the game until the final buzzer when Joe Lenok missed a desperation shot.

Gets 22 Points
Lenok led all scorers with 22 points and his teammate Richard Huhn had 19. Natlavad Saazar, who led the last half comeback, hit 19 to pace South San Antonio and Tommy Zappe and Frank Tondre added 14 each.

Lamesa had it a little easier in its victory, dropping Waxahachie 69-51. Waxahachie hit only 26.3 per cent from the field, including 18.2 per cent in the last half. Lamesa hit 47.3 per cent.

John Fees, a talented 6-5 junior, had 21 points and Gene Everhart 17 for Lamesa, while Tres Blankenbecker hit 20 to lead the Rosses.

Hardin-Jefferson downed Van 54-41 and Dimmitt bounced San Antonio Cole 62-54 in the Class AA semifinals. Hardin-Jefferson roared back from a 14 point deficit early in the second half to defeat Van. Tommy Bell of Van led all scorers with 15 and Robert Chism and Dalton Ralford had 14 each for the winners.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI)—City officials announced Tuesday that the New York Generals of the newly-formed National Professional Soccer League will begin two weeks of spring training at a local high school field March 6.
Generals' president John Pinot pronounced the training facilities first rate after a brief inspection tour.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON United Press International

The days approach for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's annual high wire act, a death-defying performance minus net with the steady pull of gravity augmented by the tugs of ambition and the twitches of principle.

The three days appointed for this Humphrey spectacular start March 31 in Washington, D.C. On these days the left wing for Democratic Action (ADA) brain trust known as Americans will meet in 20th annual convention. Humphrey is a founder and former national chairman of ADA. He remains a member in good standing but without other status within the organization.

It is Humphrey's misfortune that his political future depends about equally on the loyal support of ADA and of President Johnson to obtain nomination and election as president in 1972. This is a misfortune because ADA dislikes, distrusts and disowns Johnson as a pious liberal whereas the President apparently would like to cuddle ADA in his lap if ADA would permit it.

LBJ needs ADA but ADA does not need LBJ. It is Humphrey's hard luck that he needs both. He might as well be riding two horses each running away from the other.

ADA reacted to Johnson's nomination as the vice-presidential running mate of Johnson F. Kennedy with snorts of dismay. A spokesman then said:

"He (Johnson) is a conservative, anti-civil rights, gas-and-oil senator. He has supported all of the major anti-labor legislation enacted in the past two decades — and bragged about it."

Johnson patched it up with ADA to some extent with his Great Society program. He plucked Humphrey from the Senate in 1964 to run with him a bait to the left ADAers and their friends in politics. All probably would be well with the President and ADA but for the war in Southeast Asia which ADA detests and protests.

Humphrey has been compelled to defend Johnson war policies to keep his warm spot in LBJ's vest pocket and this has annoyed some ADA politicians and outraged others. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, with his own ambitions to be considered, has been making character with ADA and the Democratic left by blasting at Johnson's war policies. There have been solid indications that Bob Kennedy has been alienating from Humphrey the affections of ADA.

Now comes the 1967 ADA convention which will provide a forum for lamentations and wailing against the Johnson administration. Last December 11 a spokesman for ADA warned LBJ to change his ways and policies or take a licking in the 1968 presidential campaign. The February, 1967, edition of the ADA-World-Sharp shoots at LBJ with such comment as:

"ADA called the President's state of the Union message disappointing and said it made the President appear to be a hawk on Vietnam and a dove in the war against poverty."

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst

Even though President Charles de Gaulle doesn't seem to believe it, there must be quiet moments when he realizes he will not live forever.

And even though the general may not realize it, other French politicians do and that is why some of them are running especially hard in this year of parliamentary elections. The first round of the elections will be held Sunday March 5 with run-off elections where necessary to be held March 12.

This is one of the reasons for the unexpectedly harsh campaign for a total of 467 seats in an assembly which yields little or no power under the rules of De Gaulle's Fifth Republic.

Contributing also is the fact that public opinion polls show Gaullist popularity in a sharp decline from as little as two months ago and Gaullist candidates admit they are running scared.

De Gaulle, now 76, will be 82 if he finishes out his present term.

Several Possibilities Therefore, among those in the thick of the campaign are several who hope to inherit his seat.

Among them are Francois Mitterrand who gave De Gaulle a severe political fright a year ago when he forced De Gaulle into a run-off election for the presidency. Mitterrand is leader of the non-Communist "Federation of the Left" which for election purposes is in coalition with the Communists.

Another is Premier Georges Pompidou, a banker-turned politician who figures naturally in the line of succession.

Another is 41-year-old Valery Giscard d'Estaing whose independent Republican party in alliance with De Gaulle's Union for the New Republic (U.N.R.) gives the Gaullists their present majority.

A year ago Giscard d'Estaing openly proclaimed his intentions to win the presidency in 1972 and has been running hard ever since to win Gaullist affections over from Pompidou. As De Gaulle's handpicked Premier Pompidou is relatively untried in national politics.

For Americans, Giscard d'Estaing pronounced "Zheer-schak-ess-lang" is the most interesting candidate.

Critics Are Severe His critics have called him both arrogant and conceited. He has had himself photographed piloting his own plane, skiing, hunting and on the bench.

He has been described as seeking the Kennedy image. He also has been described as having one of the best economic minds in France.

Before being dropped by De Gaulle a year ago last January as finance minister, he also proved himself tough. He lost popularity with businessmen but his austerity measures made France the common market nation with the lowest inflation rate.

He makes no bones about it therefore it could be expected he would make no changes in policies that have so irritated the United States.

In 1971, the American colonies adopted the Articles of Confederation, paving the way for the federal union.

LONDON (UPI)—The secretary of the National Federation of Clubs for Divorced and Separated People was changing her role slightly today — from giving advice to taking it.

"Yug" is south in the Slavic language, so Yugoslavia means "Land of the South Slavs."

Hyperion, seventh satellite of the planet Saturn, was discovered Sept. 16, 1848.

Divorced people find their feet," she said. "That includes me, I guess."

BERRY'S WORLD

"What's so awful about the boys playing 'guerrilla warfare' at the rate we're going, they're gonna need it!"

For SATURDAY, March 4. GENERAL TENDENCY: Until 1 p.m. very adverse aspects causing delays, limitations and obstacles are in effect.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Those out of town could cause you quite a risk, so take care and stick with persons who are experts in those you can rely upon.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Although some duty could be annoying in a.m. steady application gets it done well before lunch.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Be sure you have that plan well formulated before you sit down with an associate and discuss your ideas.

CANCER: (June 22 to July 22) — Instead of feeling sorry for yourself, get right into those duties that are important in a.m. Make a fine impression on your valued associate.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 23) — Early consideration of what your ideal recreation would be for later in the day.

VIRGO: (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Quite an argument could develop at home during a.m. but later a smooth evening.

LIBRA: (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Taking care in motion and conversations is important during a.m. Tensions ease later and you are able to have a delightful time at home with kin.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — Don't invest hastily and repent at leisure, so that you can later go out with those you like and have fun without worrying.
