Hike in Viet Military Pressure Is Expected

New Strategy Result Of Guam Conference

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A further increase in military pressure on the Communists today appeared the likely outcome of the Vietnam strategy conference on Guam.

U.S. officials, reviewing the conference Wednesday, said that American and South Vietnamese military leaders told President Johnson the war could go on indefinitely unless military pressure breaks Hanoi's will to fight.

Italian Security Agents Checking Spy Ring's Extent

ROME (UPI) — Italian security agents today began checking 300 persons including Americans named by accused spy Giorgio (The Flying Madman) Rinaldi as part of a fantastic Soviet spy network stretching from Somalia to Scandinavia.

Rinaldi, a parachute champion and James Bond fan who police said confessed to running the ring along with his chubby wife, supplied the names under questioning at Turin Wednesday, counter-intelligence sources said.

Rinaldi's 300 names might include actual spies, persons the Soviets listed as possible espionage recruits or persons who might be cultivated for data on North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in Europe, Africa and the Middle East, they said.

The sources said it appeared baffling one spy could know so many names. "But the whole organization of this ring was so uncommon that anything is possible," one security official said.

They said details of Rinaldi's ring matched the cloak and dagger impact of the James Bond mysteries found in the accused spy's home.

As Rinaldi talked, Soviet Embassy diplomat Yuri Pavlenko, expelled for his part in the network, left Rome with his wife and six-year-old son on a Czech airliner. Italian sources said agents caught the Pavlenkos collecting microfilm Rinaldi had cached near Rome.

They said Rinaldi, using his reputation as a parachutist and his teaching career as a cover, spied on four American bases in Spain including the nuclear-powered submarine installation at Rota, near Cadiz.

Selection Of Speck Trial Jury Goes On

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — Principals in the Richard Speck murder trial, given to noting milestones as the jury selection droned on, looked forward today to an early recess in the fifth week.

Judge Herbert C. Paschen said Wednesday he would recess the trial early today for the Good Friday and Easter weekend.

The eight jurors already selected and sequestered at the Hotel Pere Marquette will be given their choice of Catholic or Protestant services Easter Sunday, to be held in the hotel.

Wednesday's milestone was the passing of juror No. 500 under the verbal scrutiny of both prosecution and defense attorneys. Other milestones to be reached shortly will be the halfway mark on peremptory challenges by the attorneys. The prosecution has used 76 of its 160 challenges and the defense 70.

The trial of Speck, charged with murdering eight student nurses last July 14, also passed the one-month mark March 20.

Second Russian Trawler Seized

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI) — A Russian fishing vessel to port today to answer charges of violating U.S. territorial waters. The Soviet ship was the second seized in less than a month.

Radio reports from the Coast Guard cutter Storis said it would dock Saturday at Kodiak, Alaska. A spokesman from the U.S. attorney's office here said arraignment would be held at Anchorage.

The Russian trawler was seized Wednesday as it fished for shrimp less than six miles off the Shumagin Islands. A party from the Storis was placed aboard the Russian vessel, SRTM 8-457 after it failed to heed warnings from a Coast Guard aircraft.

The incident took place just two days after the Soviet Embassy paid a $5,000 fine for a Russian vessel's violation of territorial water March 2.

The first seizure was made under a law which set the fishing limit at three miles. Wednesday's action came under a new statute which extended the limit to 12 miles.

The seizure of the SRTM 8-457 drew an angry comment from Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel who demanded that the federal government press for the maximum penalty, including confiscation of the ship.

"I don't think they (the Russians) will be deterred until we seize and confiscate one of their ships to show we mean business," Hickel said.

The governor got support from Rep. Howard W. Pollock-R-Alaska, who said in a House speech: "The Russians intend to engage in a series of violations to test our determination and mettle. We should make our intentions to enforce these laws abundantly clear."

Upon learning of the second seizure the director of the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Donald McKernan, said he would fly to Juneau to confer with Hickel on the problems of Russian and Japanese fishing fleets off the U.S. coastline.

The 12-mile offshore fisheries claim was established by Congress last year, and early this year Russian and U.S. negotiators reached what was described as a business agreement to recognize the claims with certain exceptions.

The new law added nine miles to the three-mile limit with the added miles applying only to fishing.

Diplomats Recess Stalemated Talks Of Disarmament

GENEVA (UPI) — Diplomats today recessed the stalemated disarmament negotiations amid bitterness between the have and have-not nuclear powers and a sense of frustration by both Moscow and Washington.

The 17-nation conference adopted a suggestion by the United States to break up and return to the negotiating table May 9. Russia agreed to the recess as co-chairman of the conference with America.

However, the chief Russian delegate Alexei Roshchin, accused West Germany.

"The objections (to the treaty) raised by the Federal Republic of Germany are endangering the security of the world," Roshchin said.

The United States wants the pause to try to talk its reluctant allies into accepting the proposed treaty. The American negotiator, William C. Foster, already has tried on a trip to Western European capitals to win wary allies over to the pact, but failed. Japan also has reservations about the treaty.

Meanwhile, both Britain and the United States hoped Moscow's patience does not wear thin. Informed sources said last week in London the Soviet Union was eager to sign the treaty without further delays.

The Western European allies — especially West Germany and Italy — are concerned that the proposed treaty would prevent them from carrying out nuclear testing for peaceful purposes.

The Soviets and the Americans agreed last Fall on jointly presenting a draft of the 17-nation conference when it resumed Feb. 21. However, the sudden doubts in various capitals have caused delays. These doubts must be expelled before Moscow and Washington can table the motion.

A second problem is the matter of who will control inspection of nuclear testing for peaceful purposes. Both Washington and Moscow want the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna to have control. The Western European nations want to keep control within Euratom.

Negotiations To End Milk Boycott Begin

By United Press International. Negotiations were under way today that could lead to an end to the one-week-old milk marketing boycott conducted by the National Farmers Organization in a 25-state area centered in the East and Midwest.

Oren Lee Staley, president of NFO, said late Wednesday "meaningful negotiations" with important segments of the dairy industry were being staged to win the farmers a 2-cent-a-quart increase in bulk milk prices.

He said the negotiations "would cover a big part of the 25-state area and could lead to coverage of the entire 23 states." But he refused to say where or with whom the NFO was negotiating.

NFO leaders in other parts of the Midwest indicated the talks were being held at Staley's headquarters in Corning, Iowa. The South Dakota branch of the NFO said Wednesday its state dairy bargaining board was meeting with two South Dakota processors to negotiate contracts and prices.

Angry Maoists Besiege Governor Of Red Province

HONG KONG (UPI) — An angry mob of pro-Mao Tse-tung demonstrators besieged the governor of Fukien Province and Communist Chinese army troops had to smash their way through the crowd to rescue him, a rightwing Hong Kong newspaper reported today.

The New Lite Evening Post quoted recently arrived travelers from Foochow as saying thousands of angry Chinese stormed governor Wei Chin Shui's official residence accusing him of being a "political pickpocket."

It took Foochow garrison soldiers three hours to disperse the mob and move Wei to safety, the travelers said.

Another newspaper, quoting private sources, said the Communist Chinese Politburo decided to halt army seizure of factories and state enterprises.

The newspaper, the Daily Star, said Chinese Premier Chou En-lai complained that the army was not competent to run the factories and Defense Minister Lin Biao agreed with him.

Earlier today, Peking Radio revealed a new face of Mao's Chinese Communism. It announced formation of a pilot party-government committee to rule Shanshi Province.

The new Provincial Revolutionary Committee includes army elements and may be a prototype Mao intends to use to remake the entire Chinese government and party.

In a broadcast monitored in Hong Kong, Radio Peking said a 245-member Shansi Provincial Revolutionary Committee was elected during a week-long congress of pro-Mao forces in Taiyuan, the provincial capital.

A 27-member standing committee was elected by the larger full committee. The standing committee will run the province's day-to-day affairs, the broadcast said.

Dying Immigrant Will See Son Again After 28 Years

AMARILLO (UPI) — For a Polish immigrant, the dream of nearly three decades comes true today.

Meiczyaslav Pianowski, who once danced with the great ballerina Pavlova, will get to see his son once more before dying of cancer.

George Pianowski, an enlisted man in the British Army, is scheduled to arrive from England at 10:20 p.m. CST.

Father and son parted company in 1939 when Hitler's war machine invaded their country. The son went to a Nazi concentration camp and worked at forced labor in a munitions factory.

Mrs. Pianowski and her husband were Russian prisoners and were sent to Siberia.

Until then, the Pianowski family's life was one of artistic success.

The older man danced with Pavlova in the 1920s. At her death in 1931, he was ballet

Casualties Hit Peak

SAIGON (UPI) — American and Communist troops suffered the heaviest seven-day casualty tolls of the war last week, a U.S. military spokesman reported today. He put the figures at 2,092 Americans killed, wounded or missing and 2,675 Communists killed.

The totals reflected the heavy fighting along the Cambodian border and in the area just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). Battling in those areas intensified this week and a series of major American victories already has made this the bloodiest week of the war for the Communists.

The latest Communist setback came Wednesday when a half dozen U.S. Air Force planes "dropping everything we had" caught a band of Viet Cong soldiers in the open and killed 160 of them in the coastal areas near Quang Ngai city.

That and a new offensive by two South Korean divisions is expected to run the Communist death toll well above the 3,000 mark this week. It is the deadly answer to the new Communist strategy of coming out to fight pitched battles instead of sticking to guerrilla tactics.

There are no figures for Communist wounded which normally would run many times higher than the figure for those killed.

The Korean operation called Oh Jak Kyo began March 8 but was not announced until today. So far the Koreans have killed 149 Communists and captured 150 as the elite White Horse and Tiger divisions carried out a road clearing operation in the central coastal plains. They faced several thousand Viet Cong.

The bloodiest week of the Vietnam war did not include the great battles this week in which (See CASUALTIES, Page 3)

Judge for Conspiracy Trial To Be Named

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Business executive, Clay L. Shaw, likely to be the first man tried — on charges — directly connected with President Kennedy's assassination is expected to plead innocent next week when he is arraigned on assassination conspiracy charges.

The judge for that trial was expected to be named today in a drawing among the city's eight criminal district judges.

Lee Harvey Oswald was shot by Jack Ruby before he could be brought to trial. Ruby was convicted of murdering Oswald, but the verdict was turned and Ruby died of cancer before he could be retried.

David Ferrie, named by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison as an alleged co-conspirator with Shaw, was found dead, apparently of natural causes, shortly after Garrison's investigation was made public.

Shaw, the 54-year-old former director of the International Trade Mart here, was indicted Wednesday by a 12-man grand jury as a result of the controversial investigation by Garrison.

Shaw's attorney said Wednesday night his client would plead innocent to the indictment and would request a bill of particulars in the case.

Gordon Novel, a lounge operator who apparently once cooperated with Garrison in the investigation, Wednesday called the assassination probe a fraud.

Novel, who was located by United Press International in Columbus, Ohio, after he had been unsuccessfully subpoenaed by the New Orleans Grand Jury, said:

"At the request of Mr. Garrison's chief financial supporter, I helped him (Garrison) all along; in this thing and I told him all along I don't believe what he has is real and I don't do this day."

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Are today's high schools better than they were 10 years ago? Dr. James Bryant Conant, noted educator and president emeritus of Harvard University in a new book, "The Comprehensive High School: A Second Report to Interested Citizens," confirms his original conclusions which were released in 1959. "The comprehensive high school is still the answer to the needs of American public high school education."

John Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, defined the comprehensive high school as peculiarly American. "It is called comprehensive because it offers, under one administration and under one roof (or series of roofs), secondary education for almost all the high school age children of one town or neighborhood. It is responsible for educating the boy who will be an atomic scientist and the girl who will marry at 16; the prospective captain of a ship and the future captain of industry. It is responsible for educating the bright and the not so bright children with different vocational and professional motivations."

What did Dr. Conant find in his study? The staffing in certain courses such as English is better than it was 10 years ago. The situation in modern foreign languages, mathematics, and natural sciences is substantially better. Out of the 2,000 schools surveyed, calculus is now offered in 816 schools, advanced math in 458, "new" physics in 1,001, "new" biology in 1,312, and "new" chemistry in 1962. And 1,290 of the schools offer four years of a modern foreign language.

There are only 516 of the 2,000 schools in which the English teachers have 120 or less students. In a vast number of the schools the guidance counselor load is over 250-300 students. This leaves much to be desired.

Dr. Conant writes, "a comprehensive high school should as a minimum meet the following five criteria:

1. Provide instruction in calculus.
2. Provide instruction in a modern foreign language for four years.
3. Arrange the schedule so that a student may study in any one year English, mathematics, science, a foreign language, social studies, physical education, art or music.
4. Provide one or more advanced placement courses.
5. Have enough English teachers so that the average pupil load is 120 or less (I stand by my recommendation in "The American High School Today" that the student load should be no more than 100, as I make clear later.)"

Why should an academically talented student elect a wide program? Dr. Conant states, "if a start were not made toward developing the potentialities of a student in high school graduate who has had no exposure to mathematics or science beyond the 9th grade is going to be in an impossible position if he tries to elect courses in college in those subjects. Without realizing it the advisers of such a boy or girl have foreclosed in high school further exploration

AN ENTIRE CENTURY of marriage has been achieved by this couple, according to Russian claims. The source said that the couple, from the Khachmass region of Azerbaijan (a Russian state) has been married 101 years. He's 130 years old, and she's 114.

Demo Chairman Asks Republican Governor for Campaign Donation

DENVER (UPI)—Democratic national chairman John M. Bailey, in a major goof, has sent a letter appealing for campaign funds to Colorado Republican Gov. John A. Love.

Love, who is chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, made the letter public Tuesday.

Bailey told Love that "you cannot alter the verdict of the November elections of 1966, but you can do something, starting now, to begin setting matters right." The something was a campaign contribution.

Love wrote Bailey back: "Your choice of language is particularly persuasive. I woke up Nov. 9, 1966, thinking that the people of the country had done exactly that—started to set the matters right."

The Colorado chief executive noted that he understood the desire of Bailey to broaden the base of the Democratic Party. "But, I submit, Mr. Bailey, that this goal, like all things—even federal spending—may be carried to an excess," Love wrote.

Burglars Hit Eight Wheeler Businesses

Burglars entered eight business establishments and tried another in Wheeler Wednesday night but their efforts were practically in vain, that is until they got to Laketon, it they did.

Confused enough? A spokesman at the Wheeler County Sheriff's Office in Wheeler said that only small change and some wrenches were taken in the burglaries there but between $8,000 and $10,000 worth of two-way radio equipment was taken in a burglary near Laketon.

Officers theorized the burglary at Laketon was done by the same persons who tried to carry Wheeler away.

Four two-way radios, antennas and speakers were taken from a building owned by Paty Geophysical Engineering Co., about two miles east of Laketon.

A spokesman for the company said the burglary occurred either late Wednesday night or early this morning and estimated the loss of the items taken.

Gray County officers were investigating the Laketon theft.

Police Investigate Lounge Burglary

Pampa police investigated their first burglary in more than a week today but nothing was believed taken.

Pampa night watchman, George Jay, spotted someone in the Tea Room Lounge, 715 W. Brown, about 3:45 a.m. and alerted police.

The burglar had left when police arrived and a search by officers revealed that entrance to the building had been gained by breaking out a glass in the front door and then unlocking the door.

STICKY APPLE BUNS—Coffee in the kitchen becomes a festive occasion when served with these "Sticky Apple Buns," a delectable treat fashioned from canned pie-sliced apples and packaged hot roll mix.

Sticky Fingers Are Pleasure With Tempting Apple-Bun Team

For accuracy of description you will go far to beat the Philadelphia's name for the sweet glazed roll they call a "sticky apple. One cheerfully risks sticky fingers for the pleasure of these cinnamon-swirled, syrup-drenched raised rolls, and today's "Sticky Apple Buns" are especially tempting. Packaged hot roll mix and those versatile canned Comstock pie-sliced apples simplify preparation here. The natural flavor apple slices, specially processed to retain fresh texture and golden color, add a delicate fruit accent which piques the taste and delights the palate. Leftovers from the generous two dozen this recipe makes are delicious warmed again for next-day use.

STICKY APPLE BUNS
1 13-1/4 oz. box hot roll mix

1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
3/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 lb. 4 oz. can pie-sliced apples, well-drained
1-3 cup raisins

Prepare hot roll mix according to package directions. Let rise until double in bulk. Divide dough in half. Roll each piece into a 12x9 inch rectangle. Brush each piece of dough with 1 tablespoon butter. Combine granulated sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle evenly over dough. Roll up from longest side; seal edge. Cut each roll into 12 pieces. Combine remaining butter with brown sugar. Place in bottom of greased muffin tins. Arrange pie-sliced apples and raisins on top of brown sugar mixture. Place cut rolls on top. Let rise in warm place, until double in bulk (about one hour). Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 20-25 minutes. Let stand for 2 minutes before inverting pans. Makes 24 buns.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Veal round steak. Sometimes it's called veal cutlet.
Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?
A. It comes from the leg section of the calf, which is the young beef cattle. Veal round has the same muscle and bone structure as beef, but it's much smaller in size, with little or no marbling. The lean is the characteristic light pink with texture that's very fine and almost velvety.
Q. How is it prepared?
A. By braising or pan-frying. Though tender, it cannot be broiled because of a lack of fat. It also has considerable connective tissue, and the delicate flavor needs a cooking method which will develop it. Sauces which are rich and colorful are excellent with such as tomato juice or sauce is excellent since it intensifies both color and flavor of the veal. For pan-frying, veal is often coated with an egg-bread crumb mixture so it does not dry out during the cooking process. Whether braised or pan-fried, the cooking of veal should be slow. The stage to which it's cooked is well-done.

Finely chopped and buttered almonds make a truly gourmet topping for vegetables. Home economists from Fisher Nut Co. particularly recommend this topping for cooked broccoli and cauliflower.

SET IT DOWN
Afraid to put hot pans any place but your range or on special trivets? That's one worry that's unnecessary if counter-tops are of ceramic tile. Despite its elegant looks, ceramic tile isn't subject to hot pan scorch. Before it leaves the factory, ceramic tile is baked at about 2,000 degrees F.

Easter-Style Eggs Tasty Welcome Home From Sunrise Easter Service

What's Thanksgiving without turkey? Halloween without a pumpkin? Or Easter without eggs? Whether your family returns chilly and ravenous from sunrise service or merely rises early to don Easter finery, we think they'll enjoy nourishing and delectable Easter eggs, breakfast style.

Today's recipe is for an elegant but easy - to prepare Omelette aux Pommes. French inspired, this apple-enhanced dish is derived from the "souffle omelet" of classic cuisine in which the egg whites and yolks are beaten separately to achieve an extra - light and fluffy texture. The "pommes" topping for which the recipe calls are those versatile canned pie-sliced apples which you may have used only for pies up until now.

The use of convenient canned pie - sliced apples saves the time required to core, pare, and slice fresh fruit without sacrificing natural flavor and texture . . . and makes the preparation of what looks like a complicated entree speedy enough for breakfast chefs (although it's hearty enough to serve as a main course for supper, too). Shredded Swiss cheese is the final taste accent here and "delicate", "different", and "delicious" all describe the tempting result.

OMELETTE AUX POMMES (Apple Omelet)

1 lb. 4 oz. can Comstock Pie Sliced Apples, drained.
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ginger
3 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon water
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese
Combine drained pie - sliced apples, 1/4 cup sugar, nutmeg, and ginger in saucepan. Cook over medium heat until apples are glazed (about 2 or 3 minutes); keep warm. Beat egg yolks with water until thick. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat in 1 teaspoon sugar. Fold beaten yolks into beaten egg whites. Melt butter in a 9-inch oven - proof skillet.

Fragrance Of Oranges Mingles With Chocolate For Tasty Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn
The fragrance of oranges, their sweetness and bright color, all entrapped in a mold, produces a particularly light and refreshing dessert. You'll enjoy it.

FRESH ORANGE CHARLOTTE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup hot water
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup fresh orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
Fresh orange sections
3 egg whites
Whipped heavy cream, optional.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water, 1/2-cup of the sugar and salt. Stir until dissolved. Blend in lemon juice, orange juice and orange peel. Rinse a 1 1/2 - quart mold in cold water and line with fresh orange sections. Pour in 1/2-cup of gelatin mixture. Refrigerate until firm. Chill remaining orange mixture until it begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Beat in the remaining 1/4-cup sugar. Fold into gelatin and turn into mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Just before serving, unmold onto serving plate. Garnish with fresh fruit in season. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Put Spring In Your Menu With Buttered Peas

Now that spring is in the air, how about putting spring into your menu? Take frozen peas and carrots. They go right into the oven still frozen solid and come out delectable. Put them in a covered baking dish along with a half stick of butter and just the right seasonings. They will have a savory flavor guaranteed to delight your family.

MINTED PEAS AND CARROTS

2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen peas and carrots
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1 1/2 teaspoons dried mint
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
In a 1 1/2 - quart casserole melt butter in oven. Add mint, sugar and salt. Break up vegetables; mix with butter. Cover. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 1 hour. Makes 6-8 servings.

Baking powder biscuits, dipped in melted butter and cheddar cheese and baked, make wonderful accompaniments for fried chicken, according to home economists from Meadow Gold Dairies.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With varied spring weather this week comes a good selection of beef, pork, fruits, and vegetables highlighting the weekend food shopping scenes.

Vegetable bins offer a colorful array of carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, and potatoes.

The fruit counters boast plentiful supplies of avocados, grapefruit, and oranges.

To add a protein plus to weekend meals, watch for economical beef roasts, hams, and eggs.

In choosing meat and poultry, look for the USDA grade shield, to be sure you're getting the quality meat you expect. The round mark of U.S. inspection assures you the product is wholesome and safe to eat. These two symbols are your guarantee that the meat and poultry you buy have been checked by experts of the consumer and marketing service.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The foreign news outlook:
Uncertain future:

There is growing speculation in the French press that, stiff upper lip to the contrary, Premier Georges Pompidou doesn't know if President de Gaulle will keep him in office. The two are scheduled to meet quietly to discuss the question at Easter at De Gaulle's estate. Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, who lost his try for a seat in the assembly, is insisting privately to De Gaulle that he wants out of the government altogether, won't even take the Finance Ministry.

Pacification:
British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is expected to try to pacify laborite rank-and-file members who have been in open revolt against his allegedly autocratic methods of running the government. One move will be to call a series of meetings

Youth Selected For Showmanship Competition

GROOM (Spl) — Lonny Brown of Groom was one of two boys chosen recently to participate in the national showmanship contest at the American Futurity. He has received an expense-paid trip to Lexington, Ky., this summer to participate in the contest. His brother, Larry, was contest. His brother Larry, was contest. His brother Larry, was contest. after Easter with laborite backbenchers to discuss possible British entry into the Common Market. The idea is to give them a feeling of being consulted on this hot potato issue.

Hope for the taxpayer:
Hopes are rising in Britain that the April 11 annual budget will be less tough on the taxpayer than originally feared. Optimism was boosted by the recent cutback of the bank rate to six per cent from the seven per cent to which it was pushed during last summer's economic blizzard, plus the recently announced sharp reduction in Britain's foreign payments deficit in 1966.

Unwilling participants:
The Philippines has unwittingly found itself squeezed in the middle of the Israeli-Arab dispute. It started when Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban visited Manila in the course of an Asian goodwill tour and discussed the possibility of sending Israeli civic action experts to the Philippines. Manila officials welcomed the idea but the United Arab Republic Embassy was reported to have referred the foreign office immediately to alleged Israeli "aggressive" designs in the Middle East. This is a usual Arab tactic in pressing their boycott against Israel. However, some Filipino moslem congressmen also are warning that acceptance of Israeli aid could alienate Arab countries friendly to the Philippines.

Taiwan presses trade:
Nationalist China will try to sign formal trade pacts with countries which are trading with Communist China. Taipei will make the terms as favorable as possible in the hope of lessening their commercial relations with Peking. Early targets will be Australia and Canada.

Tire Pressures Too Low, Government Official Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A study during which it inflated top-grade tires to 32 pounds, as recommended by their makers. The company then subjected the tires to recommended loads and ran them between 60 and 70 miles per hour, simulating conditions equivalent to a family car being driven at turnpike speeds in summer heat.

"Seventeen out of twenty-one of the tires failed at less than 5,000 miles," Stieler said.

The tests do not necessarily show the tires were bad, Stieler said, but they do indicate that the industry is overrating the capacity of its tires.

Thus, he added, auto industry recommendations for tire inflation found in the glove compartments of new cars are wrong and should be discarded.

According to Stieler, high-speed roads and the switch to synthetic rubber has increased tire strain. "I'm appalled at the increased amount of passenger car tread you see littering the highways these days," he said.

The prime problem of tire failure in chunking or "throwing" of the tread, he said.

A former B. F. Goodrich employee, Stieler said he had been studying tire development since 1939.

Six Candidates File in Groom April 4 Election

GROOM (Spl) — Six candidates have filed for election to three city posts in the April 4 election here.

Candidates for mayor are Mayor C. L. Culver, for re-election; Frank Curry and Fred Burgin.

Three candidates vying for the two city commission posts are Leroy Mashburn and Dr. Robert E. Clayton, incumbents and Eugene Carter.

The election will be held in the Groom City Hall. Qualified voters living in the city limits may vote.

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actress Jane Russell, 45, and former Los Angeles Rams quarterback-coach Bob Waterfield, 46, have begun negotiations toward financial and custody settlements prior to a divorce.

The couple had been scheduled to appear Tuesday before Superior Judge William E. MacFaden for a hearing on Miss Russell's request for temporary support and Waterfield's request for custody of their three adopted children.

Neither the actress nor Waterfield was in court, but his attorney, Paul Caruso, said he had started negotiations with Miss Russell's attorney.

It's The Law In Texas

Fig in the Parlor

Is an ugly junk yard a nuisance? Is a noisy radio a nuisance? Is an odorous henhouse a nuisance? Consider this definition by the United States Supreme Court:
"A nuisance may be merely a right thing in the wrong place—like a pig in the parlor."

In other words, in complaining about an annoyance, it is not enough for you to point out how it looks, sounds, or smells. You must also show that it is not appropriate to the location. For in the eyes of the law, when you choose your residence you are also choosing your environment. Choose the amenities and the excitement of the city, and you also choose its clutter and its dirt. They are a normal—even an essential—feature of urban living. As one judge put it:

"Without smoke, Pittsburgh would have remained a very pretty village."

Complaints about nuisances may be judged not only in terms of the general community or the particular neighborhood but even in terms of feet and inches. For example:

A home owner was denied an injunction against cooking odors blown from the house next door, when the court ascertained that there was a space almost 30 feet wide between the two buildings.

But an apartment dweller was granted relief from the cabbage and onion fumes aimed his way by the people directly across the hall.

Of course, to the person annoyed, the mere location of the annoyance is not the whole story. Not every individual has the same "threshold" of irritation. A smell or noise that vexes one neighbor may leave another—equally close to the source—totally unconcerned.

But as a practical matter, the law must decide according to average, not individual, tastes and sensibilities. Thus, a court refused to interfere with blasting noises which were irksome only to an especially nervous woman in the neighborhood.

Even if it tried, the law could not please everybody. Inevitably it would run afoul of those people who, in one court's words, "consider all noises offensive except those they make themselves."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Loeb, Rhoades & Co. says the forthcoming bargaining for new wage contracts in key industries in second importance to the Vietnam war as a factor in determining the shape of the economy in the coming year. The company feels if the negotiations go smoothly with reasonable results, a sustainable rate of "inflation-free growth" may be possible. On the other hand, strikes and excessive wage concessions would make the going rough for the economy.

Edward A. Viner & Co. says the administration's recent fiscal and monetary moves to bolster the economy are being interpreted favorably by investors and with this type of sentiment taking hold, the company says it would ride with the current trend. However, it advises a closeout of trading positions when price objectives area reached.

Congress is in the process of restoring a huge tax cut to industry. This probably means the deep freeze for President Johnson's proposal to lay an additional burden in income taxpayers, corporate and individual.

LBJ's request for restoration of the 7 per cent investment credit against taxes for industry passed the House 386 to 2 and now awaits Senate action. This measure also would restore retroactive to March 10 a fast tax write off for depreciation of new buildings.

The investment tax credit would permit corporations and other business associations to subtract from their income tax up to 70 per cent of the sum spent on equipment during the tax year.

Congress in September, 1966, suspended these two provisions until Jan. 1, 1968, in an effort to take some of the heat out of the economy. Now, with various economic indicators off somewhat, he wants these tax benefits reestablished.

However, the President for the record at least still is standing behind his January request for a 6 per cent surtax on individual and corporate income. This was to encourage individuals and corporations to spend less.

In effect, it would amount to a $5 billion tax hike, of which $4 billion would have been levied against individual taxpayers. This was a predictable unpopular proposal. No sooner had Johnson made it than his spokesmen on Capitol Hill were intimating that the administration was not wholly committed to the 6 per cent tax boost.

This left LBJ in the odd position of offering tax inducements for business to spend more, of proposing tax increases to compel individuals to spend less and of continuing the government's inflationary deficit spending program—all in the name of curbing inflation and checking the rising cost of living. These Johnson policies appear to be in self-defeating conflict, each with the other, in an exercise in futility as with a dog chasing its own tail.

It is fairly obvious that Congress will refuse to lay on income taxpayers the 6 per cent surtax proposed by Johnson. It is equally apparent that LBJ rejects the idea that his own deficit spending policy is a root cause of inflation and rising living costs.

If Congress had the will or the courage to do so, it could compel Johnson to reduce government spending within the limits of government income. But Congress lacks both the will and the courage to act. LBJ and the spineless Congress seem to be attached to a slogan often attributed to one of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal Treasury raiders. This slogan for successful politicians was: Spend and spend, elect and elect.

If FDR and HST could make it work for them and their Congresses, why should LBJ and his Congresses scorn the easy way? It is the bad luck of the American people that their future welfare depends on such politicians as these and their

Skellytown Rebekahs Entertain With Youth's Challenge Springtime Easter Party For Members Topic For Club

SKELLYTOWN — The Skellytown Rebekah Lodge 58 entertained with an Easter party following its regular business meeting recently.

A large chocolate egg was won by Mrs. Gertrude Huckins for unscrambling the most words from "Easter."

The serving table was appointed with a white cloth centered with a large pink Easter bunny nestled in a pink and green nest surrounded with colored eggs.

Guest favors were tiny ceramic ringholders shaped as an egg and tiny plastic baskets filled with tiny chocolate eggs.

Refreshments were ice cream balls rolled in red coconut in nests of green coconut with miniature rabbits beside the ice cream.

An Easter tree covered with eggs and yellow birds completed the decorations.

Plans for a Hobo Party were discussed with members' approving hobo costumes and a supper or mulligan stew and cornbread for the menu. The party is planned for April 10.

During a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Huckins, noble grand, the secretary's report was given by Mrs. Bob Heaton.

A "thank you" card was read from Mrs. Ruby Vaughan. Reported ill in the hospital were Mrs. Lela Matthews and Mrs. Eula Wilkerson in Highland General Hospital and Mrs. Mary Estes of Battle Mountain, Nev., who recently suffered a stroke.

Mrs. Miles Pearston was elected team captain of the lodge.

It was announced the Rebekah Panhandle Association will be held in Hereford on April 21-22 and 23.

Dear Abby... Up To Hosts To Help Widows Out

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were going over our guest list for a series of dinner parties we will be giving this winter. I have several widows for friends. My husband said, "Please don't ask any widows for it is too tiring and worrisome having to carry them home afterwards."

Even tho they are financially able to take a taxi, they feel that as long as we have a car and both my husband and I drive, we should give them chauffeur service home.

Please tell widows that they would get more invitations if they wouldn't expect so much.

DAYTON
DEAR DAYTON: If YOUR widow friends expect "too much" it's up to you to straighten them out, but please don't generalize. Most widows are so tickled to get a dinner invitation, they are delighted to provide their own transportation.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for all patrolmen to see. One evening I was driving my own car and my boyfriend was sitting beside me.

A patrolman came alongside me and signaled for me to pull over, which I did. I had been exceeding the speed limit slightly, but that didn't bother me. What did was this: The patrolman looked at my driver's license, then he looked at me and said, "Is this YOURS?"

I assured him that it was and asked why he questioned it. He said, "You sure don't LOOK 46 years old," Abby, I wanted to hit him. I can easily pass for early thirties, and sometimes do.

Needless to say, I was humiliated, embarrassed, and annoyed.

OLDER THAN I LOOK
DEAR OLDER: No wonder the police are discouraged. Here a cop compliments you — and you get sore. The cops can't win!

DEAR ABBY: A rather embarrassing thing happened to me and I need some advice. The other day I received a very appreciative note from a friend of mine, thanking me for a baby gift I did not send. The worst part of it is, I never got around to sending her baby anything, although I had been meaning to.

Should I let this person know of her mistake? Or should I ignore the whole thing so she'll never know I didn't send anything?

B.
DEAR B: Let your friend know at once that a mistake has been made. Then she can try to find out who sent the gift and thank her for it.

New Sub Completes Trials

(Daily Oklahoman)

The first sea trials of the USS Will Rogers, last of the 41 Polaris submarines authorized by Congress, have been completed successfully. It is rather fitting that such a vessel should be named for a man who felt keenly the necessity of keeping our nation's defenses up.

It was 12 years ago that the world's first nuclear-powered submarine, the USS Nautilus, put to sea. The same year the navy began developing a ballistic missile for launching from such a vessel. The first missile was launched from the USS George Washington on July 20, 1960. This is a close approach to the ultimate deterrent.

The combination of nuclear propulsion and long-range atomic missiles makes Polaris submarines almost invulnerable and highly lethal weapons systems, Vice Adm. H. G. Rickover points out. These ships are able to travel enormous distances and remain submerged for months. They are self-sustaining. They make their own air and water. Their crews maintain and repair all equipment on board.

Any would-be aggressor is aware that we have the 41 nuclear submarines, the exact locations of which he cannot know, each equipped with 16 missiles having destructive power greater than that of all explosives used in World War II. No attack on the continental United States could succeed without first knocking out the Polaris fleet, a circumstance rearing in these times, although no deterrent is a complete substitute for a national will to survive. That requires more than armaments. It is something that only the mass of citizens can provide on land, as the "silent service" provides the deterrent at sea.

Results Of Schooling

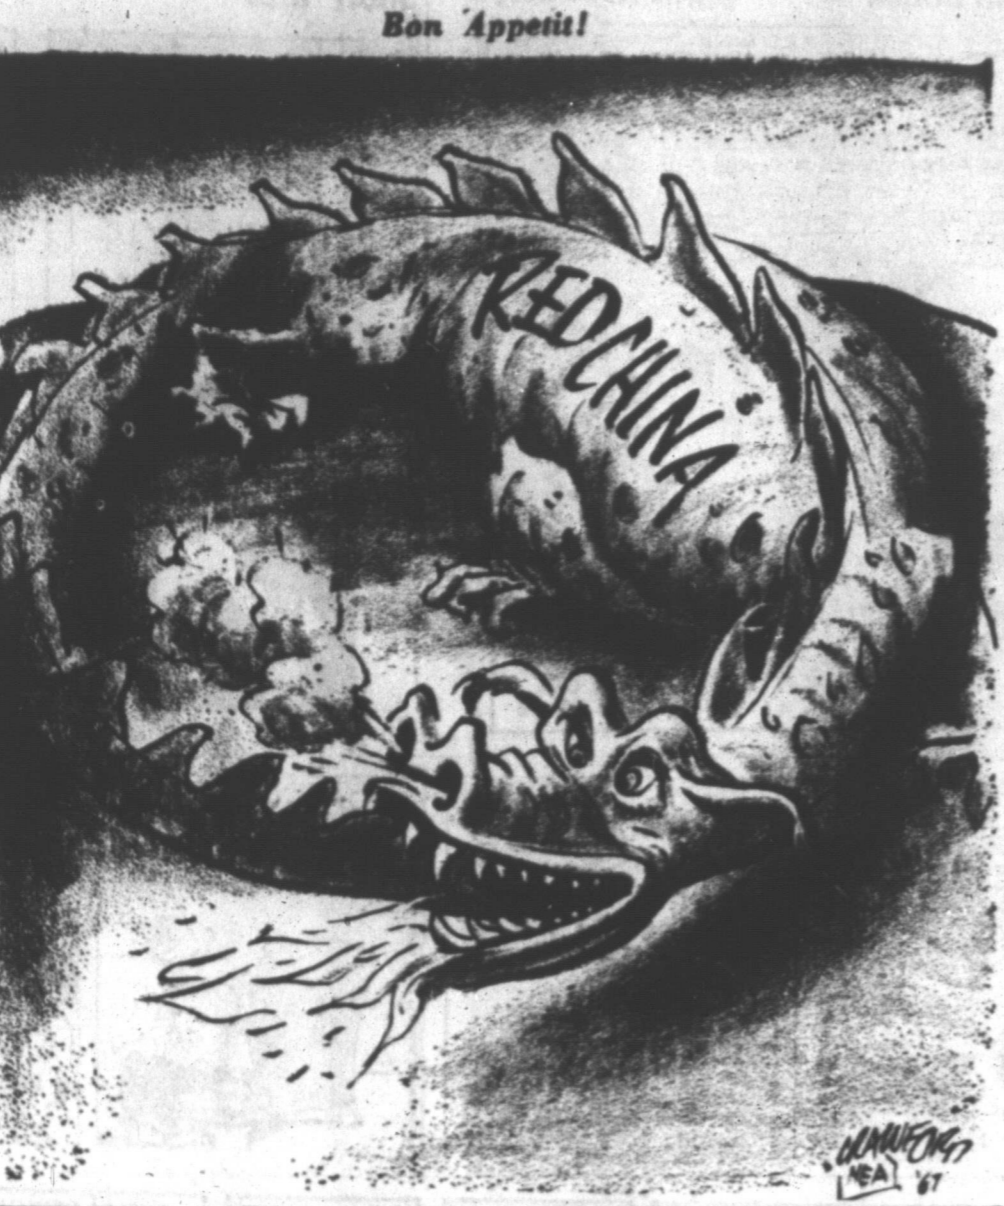

(Chicago Tribune)

Professional school men are engaged currently in discussion and debate concerning a projected "national assessment of educational attainment" by the Carnegie Corporation. The plan is to sample what young people know in 19 fields of learning, at four different ages (9, 13, 17 and young adult). In favor of the project are a wide range of interested persons, official and unofficial, from Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II to the Council for Basic Education. Opposed (naturally) is the American Association of School Administrators, which frankly urges school superintendents to sabotage the whole undertaking.

Educationists almost by definition resist any proposal that would provide a measurement of their product visible to the public. They invoke the obvious truth that many variables besides the quality of teaching go into pupil performance as measured by any sort of inter-scholastic standard. They ignore the fact that application of this principle to the sports field would rub out all interscholastic athletics. They ignore the fact that, of all fields of professional or commercial work, only in the 40-billion-a-year education business do responsible executives shrink en masse from any objective measurement of the results of their enterprise.

In rebuttal, a group of professors of education at Harvard have well said, "The risks of knowing nothing are greater than the risks of knowing something." They point out that the proposed project will gather not only evidence of learning but also data on the social environment and economic level of persons tested, and that it has no intention of "assessing" individual schools, but rather what groups of people have and have not learned.

Even if a "national assessment" of learning and non-learning were embarrassing to school administrators, what of it? Do they want us to believe that they value their unexamined complacency above the improvements possible for American education if only more were known about its effectiveness? If they are snug and secure, should the rest of us, whose servants these school administrators nominally are, defer to their self-serving arguments?

Mis-guided Americans

By HANK SENHOLZ (American Opinion)

The regular readers of this journal probably are better informed about the true nature of Communism than any other civic group. This is why they view with the greatest suspicion any attempt at cooperation between the United States and the Soviet Union or Red China. In particular, they are alarmed about American policies that find approval by Moscow or Peking, and are deeply dismayed about any political and ideological agreement between the two hostile worlds. For they know that the Communist masters have not abandoned their Satanic intentions to conquer the world. Any fraternization by the two worlds, therefore, presupposes Free World concessions to Communism; that is, our gradual surrender.

An American who is imbued with love of freedom and the values of Western civilization is also suspicious of any agreement between fellow-Americans and Communists on political, social, and economic doctrine. He is agnostic about fellow-Americans who echo the Communist dogma. For if the Communists have not changed, it obviously must be the Americans who unwittingly are embracing the Communist line.

Communists On Money And Banking It is frightening indeed that many so-called Conservatives, who criticize the President of the United States for his policy towards Soviet Russia, echo economic doctrines and theories that are taken right out of the Communist textbooks. In fact, it seems to us that the Communist doctrines of labor exploitation, the monopolization of American big business, the exploitation of colonial countries by their European mother countries, and above all, the Communist doctrines of money and banking have permeated American thought and even Conservative opinion.

Why Tax Exemption?

(Industrial News Review)

Tax exemption of government-owned commercial business enterprise is becoming a luxury that this nation can ill afford — in the light of the soaring federal budget and threatened new taxes. The most conspicuous example of tax dodging by government business enterprise lies in the federal power programs. For years, public power advocates have used the exemption privileges of federal power as a base from which to promote public ownership or socialization of the electric industry — an industry that in 1966 paid a federal tax bill of over $1.5 billion dollars, and a total tax bill of over $3 billion.

Taxing government business enterprises is not a new idea. In West Germany, government-owned electric power at all governmental levels pays exactly the same taxes, national and local, as investor-owned companies. The Scandinavian countries are moving in this direction. The Norway tax imple-
