Powell to Deliver Harlem Sermon In the Bahamas

BIMINI, The Bahamas (UPI) — Adam Clayton Powell distributed freshly cut palm fronds to 26 Florida Boy Scouts Saturday and scheduled a Palm Sunday afternoon sermon.

The ousted congressman said the sermon "is the same one I would have delivered in Harlem if I had been able to go there Sunday." It was entitled "Ride on, King Jesus." He said the message of his sermon will be "the ultimate victory for all mankind."

Wearing a blue denim windbreaker and light blue bermuda shorts, Powell left a domino game at the End of the World bar to distribute the palms on the dock beside Brown's Hotel where his 31-foot boat was tied up. The palms had been cut a few hours earlier by a dozen Bimini youths in preparation for Palm Sunday services.

"Palms anybody?" Powell said as he handed out the fronds to the boys comprising Boy Scout Troop 107 of Tallahassee. After giving each of the 26 boys and the six scout officials fronds, Powell began passing them out to newsmen and tourists.

Friends of the ousted congressman, who cancelled a Palm Sunday appearance in New York, reported the Negro Democrat is highly hopeful his attorneys will work out a legal way for him to visit his district.

Powell is subject to arrest if he sets foot in New York because of his failure to pay contempt penalties stemming from a libel suit.

Two Junior High Choirs Win Sweepstakes Plaques

Both Girls' Choirs of the two Pampa junior high schools won the silver sweepstakes plaques in the region one University Interscholastic League junior high choral contests at Canyon Friday.

The girls had to win division one in both sight reading and concert to be eligible for the top sweepstakes award. Pampa girls were the only ones granted the top honor.

The Pampa Junior High School Mixed Choir rated a division two in concert and a 14 in sight reading.

Lee Junior High School Mixed Choir won division one in concert and division two in sight reading.

Mrs. Mary Cross directs the Lee Junior High School choir and Mrs. Lonnie Richardson the Pampa Junior High School choir.

About 17 junior high choirs in 3-C group entered the competition held on the West Texas State University Campus.

Schools were entered from the north zone of the South Plains and Panhandle.

Pampa Entries Take Top Honors AT SHAMROCK

Pampa entries rated top honors Friday, including three band trophies and second runner-up in the Miss Irish Rose contest, during the annual Shamrock St. Patrick's Day celebration activities.

The Pampa Junior High School band, the only junior high band competing in Class 2AA band events, won three trophies, parade marching, concert and sight reading.

Patti Meador, daughter of Mrs. F. J. Meador Jr., 1910 Grape, was chosen second runner-up among 21 contestants for the 1967 Miss Irish Rose title.

Miss Otie Ann Daleport of Weatherford, Okla., was crowned Miss Irish Rose, Becky Brewer of Wellington was first runner-up.

In western events, Sammy Whitley of Pampa won first in calf roping. The Pampa Leather and Lace Riding Club placed first in the riding club division.

Pampa Antique Car Club placed third in the smaller attractions division of the parade.

Area towns also enjoyed some success in the celebration's competition.

In the parade float division, McLean won first in community service.

In band competition, the group from Clarendon was rated first in Class A concert. Panhandle Junior High School tied for first in Class B concert and Groom Junior High Band here.

It was the first time Chinese diplomats had ever been declared persona non grata by the Kremlin. The expulsions were believed a retaliation for the ouster of two Soviet diplomats in Peking one week ago.

The two diplomats were Chinese Embassy First Secretary Miao Chun—the mission's fifth-ranking man—and Third Secretary Sun Lin.

The Soviet diplomats expelled from Peking were N.G. Natashin and O.A. Yedanov, both second secretaries.

Despite the rapid worsening of Sino-Soviet relations in recent months, it was the first time the two nations had ever used expulsions of diplomats as a weapon.

Earlier, three Soviet newsmen were expelled from Peking. The Soviet Union did not retaliate.

Oil Investor Dies
AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Stanley Marsh Jr., 58, longtime Panhandle oil and land investment operator who gave freely of his millions to charity, died en route to a hospital today.

Marsh was described as a multimillionaire, but he and his wife led a quiet life and their philanthropies were not widely publicized. His wife was devoted to child welfare work.

Huff Walks Out Of Hospital at Amarillo

By TEX DEWESE
Ernest (Rusty) Huff, charged along with his wife in the $20,000 armed robbery of the First State Bank of Miami, March 4, was languishing in Potter County jail at Amarillo today following a brief fling at freedom shortly after he escaped from the Amarillo Veterans Hospital.

Huff made good a boast that "this hospital can't hold me" when he walked out of his room and the hospital about his round-the-clock guards went to get a drink of water.

Governors Hear LBJ Pledge New Aid to States

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson told 49 governors Saturday that America was headed toward a new concept of government that could quadruple federal aid to states in five years.

Johnson said the federal government and the states should work in a partnership in the years ahead with less said about preserving states rights and less talk about big government in Washington.

What we are living through together are the birth pangs of a fundamentally new process in American government—a new kind of federalism—federal-state interaction never contemplated by the founding fathers," Johnson told the governors assembled for an all-day conference on federal-state relations.

He noted that federal grants to states in 1920 totaled "just $30 million (but) this year they are expected to total $15 billion, and in just five years that could quadruple."

More Complaints
Increased federal involvement, Johnson said, "in some cases led to an increase in complaints about federal power."

But, he said, "if we are going to meet the challenges of the '60s and the '70s, we are going to have to abandon the old disputes about 'states rights' and 'states' wrongs'—about all" (See GOVERNORS, Page 3)

USSR Orders Two Reds Out

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union Saturday night ordered two Communist Chinese diplomats to leave Moscow "immediately" on grounds they helped organize "anti-Soviet activities" here.

It was the first time Chinese diplomats had ever been declared persona non grata by the Kremlin. The expulsions were believed a retaliation for the ouster of two Soviet diplomats in Peking one week ago.

Johnson Departs For Conference in Guam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson departed Saturday for a two-day conference on Guam to plan war strategy with his top advisers and to meet with South Vietnam's leaders.

Johnson, accompanied by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, took off on an 18-hour flight to the Pacific from Dulles International Airport outside Washington.

The President shifted to his role as commander-in-chief and the nation's foreign policy leader after a full day of activity at the White House meeting with the nation's governors on domestic concerns.

At the two-day conference, he is to meet with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Vietnam; South Vietnam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and the South Vietnam chief of state, Nguyen Van Thieu.

The meeting also gives the President an opportunity to review the situation with his outgoing and incoming diplomatic teams operating in Saigon. Retiring U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his deputy, William J. Porter, will be able to get together with their successors, Ellsworth Bunker and Eugene M. Locke.

Administration officials sought to minimize the prospect of any big new decisions coming from the sessions with Ky on Monday and the U.S. team on Tuesday.

White House sources said Johnson intends to stress stepping up the pacification program in Vietnam. This is the operation for making areas in (See CONFERENCE, Page 3)

Troops Take Jungle Hill

SAIGON (UPI) — Thousands of U.S. infantrymen and paratroopers stormed a fortified jungle hill along the central coast and captured the height in a seven-hour attack that exacted bloody revenge for the Communist mauling of an American platoon on the same site last week, U.S. spokesmen said Saturday.

The spokesmen said the multi-battalion American force killed 28 Viet Cong without suffering a single loss in the fight Friday on the hill 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

In the air war, military spokesmen disclosed that the United States has lost 12 warplanes in the past 20 days in Vietnam. Two of the planes were shot down Friday—one in North Vietnam and the other in the South.

At sea, North Vietnamese coastal gunners scored a hit on the U.S. destroyer Stoddard, punching a 10-by-18 inch hole in the side of the vessel above the waterline. The destroyer returned the fire, silencing the Communist position in the second such duel with red shore batteries in a week. There were no American casualties.

In South Vietnam, Viet Cong terrorists tore a bloody path into at least three villages and outposts Friday, and in one case, inflicted "heavy casualties."

The Viet Cong apparently were stung by rebukes from their leadership. A captured document disclosed Saturday that the Communist campaign of civil and military terror had not functioned as well against the Americans as it did against the French.

A military spokesman said the American force that stormed "Hill 86" along the South China Seacoast included troops from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division and the 101st Airborne Division.

Huff, unarmed, was arrested and taken to Panhandle when he was unable to produce a driver's license. He was arraigned in a Panhandle justice of the peace court on the driver's license charge and jailed.

Amarillo police were notified and Potter County deputy sheriffs removed Huff from the Panhandle jail at 2:30 a.m. Saturday and took him to the Potter County jail where he is facing an additional charge of automobile theft.

"I think his freedom lasted for about 41 minutes," said arson County Sheriff John Nunn last night.

Both Huff and his wife have been indicted on charges stemming from the bank robbery at Miami.

Huff was indicted on three counts including bank robbery, car theft and assault with intent to murder. The assault charge grew out of Huff's alleged firing at an officer when he and his (See ESCAPE, Page 3)

Conspiracy Trial Is Several Months Off

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — One of Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's top aides said Saturday it would be at least several months before Clay L. Shaw is brought to trial for allegedly plotting the murder of President Kennedy.

Assistant Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock spoke for Garrison, who had retired to the privacy of his home.

A three-judge panel in Criminal District Court ruled Friday he "had presented enough evidence in a four-day preliminary hearing to justify bringing into play the further steps of the criminal process against the arrestee, Clay L. Shaw."

"Legally speaking, Shaw now stands at the beginning of the state's prosecution machinery," said Alcock.

"Either a bill of information signed by Mr. Garrison can be lodged against Shaw, or a grand jury indictment can be the vehicle used to bring him to trial."

Once Shaw is indicted or issued a bill of information, he must be charged and arraigned, said Alcock.

"Preliminary motions, several of them undoubtedly, will be filed by his attorneys."

"These . . . will take a lot of time so at least several months it will take before his trial can begin," Alcock said.

He said the state, in the preliminary hearing that ended Friday, had only to prove probable cause that Shaw, 54, conspired with Lee Harvey Oswald, David W. Ferrie and others to kill the president.

"We did not have to prove it beyond reasonable doubt, so the state did not expose all it had."

Premature leaking of Garrison's investigation hurt it somewhat, he said, because some individuals subpoenaed were mobbed by photographers and newsmen in the Criminal District Courts Building.

"But some people have come forward because of that same publicity," he said, to provide new leads in the probe.

The three judges who presided at the preliminary hearing for Shaw had events in Dallas in mind when they set up strict security measures, including frisking of all who entered the courtroom.

"We did not want a repeat of Dallas," said Alcock, referring to Oswald's death "at the hands of Jack Ruby as Oswald was walked through a corridor thronged with newsmen and the curious."

Young Girl Safe After Spending Night in Well

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI) — Teresa Fregia, the 2-year-old who spent much of a night trapped deep in a well, awoke and bounced around her hospital crib Saturday with less sign of strain than those who watched her ordeal.

With her big brown eyes taking in all the sights of the clean, quiet, slightly hospital-smelling surroundings of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Teresa giggled and played hide-and-seek with a visitor and showed by a vigorous shake of the head that she did not hurt anywhere.

Her hair was slightly flecked with the sand of the well in which she huddled nine hours Friday night and early Saturday, her cries becoming weaker, until a war veteran was lowered into a hastily-dug shaft next to the well and rescued her. The well was in her grandmother's yard, next door to her home in Votaw, Tex.

"It was the greatest feeling in the world when that little girl grabbed me," resuser Ransom S. Bill said. "I think she said, 'Daddy.' As I pulled her out of the pipe and we got her out of the sand, she grabbed me one time and squeezed me and said, 'Daddy,' and she passed out."

Bill, operator of the Volunteer Mercy Corps of Houston, cradled her in his arms and was pulled out of the shaft into the glare of automobile headlights and the cheering of spectators and rescue workers crowded about the scene.

X-rays taken a few hours later confirmed she had no broken bones and no internal injuries.

Teresa was playing Friday and apparently pulled boards from the mouth of the well, got fascinated with the echo of her voice down into the dark hole, and fell in. Her screams attracted Patsy, who spread the alarm. A neighbor and Mrs. (See GIRL, Page 3)

OFFICE OPENS WEDNESDAY Property Owners Are Urged To Sign for Street Paving

EDITOR'S NOTE — As a public service to the approximately 1,300 Pampa property owners affected by the city's $718,000 paving program and to provide general information for all taxpayers about the 140-block street improvement project, The Pampa News is publishing the following article compiled from answers to questions put to the city manager.

Pampa's city-wide paving program gets off to a full-blown start this week with the taking of property owners' signatures after two years of planning and preparation.

City Manager Jim White said Saturday an office will be opened Wednesday in City Hall where property owners may sign paving liens.

This will be done, he stated, on a first come, first serve basis—meaning those who sign first will be first to have streets paved.

First paving in the huge project is expected to be started within the next four weeks. It will be necessary for property owners to sign the proper documents before this can be done.

The city manager explained a property owner may pay cash or arrange his own financing of the paving assessment.

A plan is available through arrangements by the City if the property owner so desires to finance it that way.

Under the city's plan, one-fifth of the total assessment due is to be paid upon completion of the street. The balance will be due in four equal principal payments plus interest on the unpaid balance at the rate of 7 1/2 per cent each year for the next few years.

The cost of the street paving, White stated, will be $4.30 per front foot in accordance with the property plat. Side street footage will be assessed at $3 per foot. This includes curb and gutter.

The city's share of the entire $718,000 project is $236,000 and the property owners' share is $482,000. This is equivalent to one-third of the cost paid by the city and two-thirds by the property owners.

White stated the contractor's price for the paving projects is one of the best that has been available to the city in several years.

"The cost to the property owner on this project," the city manager said, "involves a saving because of the size of the project and the method of financing."

The city manager and Wayland Merriman, paving project engineer, urged property owners not to delay signing up.

"The sooner we get the signatures, the sooner we can start the work," White said.

The city manager also urged anyone having any other questions about the paving program to contact his office at City Hall.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VE N SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Now that virtually all the bill-introducing has been done, Texas Legislators can get down to the business of thrashing out laws.

Under the State Constitution and the rules of each house, a four-fifths vote must be obtained for a bill to be introduced in either house after the first 60 days of the session. That deadline came at the end of last week.

As the 60-day deadline approached, the House had about 1,200 bills on file. Senate had another 500 bills. In addition to these, each house has a number of resolutions to consider.

Subject matter ranges from minor local measures to proposals for sweeping overall changes in the constitution and state agencies.

That 60-day deadline is a magic number in the Senate for another reason, too. A four-fifths vote in the upper chamber is necessary in order to bring up a bill for final action before the first 60 days have elapsed.

Actually, the House is similarly restricted, but the members voted to suspend that rule early in the session.

NEW BOARD PROPOSED — In order to mobilize Texas' vast agricultural resources another board is proposed. It would be known as the Texas Agricultural Development Board.

Noting that Texas is falling behind in the relative growth of one of its key industries, the interim House Study Committee suggests that a 15-member board representative of all areas of the state be appointed by the Governor.

Its duties would be to inventory agricultural assets and needs, establish goals for the industry, prepare an agricultural market program, develop new ways of converting raw agricultural products into marketable items and perform other similar activities designed to boost agriculture in the state.

TAX HEARINGS ON — Major portions of the Governor's $187,300,000 tax program came under heavy fire at initial House revenue and tax committee hearings. Industry spokesmen suggested a general sales tax hike as preferable.

Gas industry representatives opposed the proposal to increase the natural gas production tax from seven to eight percent.

Breweries objected to beer being placed under the general sales tax.

Surprisingly, corporations did not speak out against the recommended increase in the corporate franchise tax rate (from $2.25 to $3 per $1,000 on capital and surplus with a gradually decreasing levy on debt).

Opposition to boosting the gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon will come at a second hearing set for March 14.

Another big date will be Mar. 21 when the controversial liquor-by-the-drink bill comes up for tax committee review.

A tipoff to opposition strategy was given by William H. Abington of Texas Midcontinent Oil and Gas Association when he suggested the Legislature might find its revenue-raising job easier by adjusting the sales tax.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith says he favors the sales tax approach if new money must be found. He still insists that the budget can be balanced without any new taxation.

Smith indicated that the optional one percent city sales tax bill already passed by the House will be okayed by the Senate.

REDISTRICTING "GETS WORSE" — Redistricting is going to be a bigger headache this year than in 1965. So predicts House Speaker Ben Barnes after studying legislative and congressional reapportionment problems.

Some Texas congressmen reportedly are upset. Rep. Gus Mutscher, Brenham, chairman of House district committee, Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, his Senate counterpart, and Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall visited Washington over the weekend to talk with congressmen and swap ideas.

Numerous redistricting bills are in the hopper. NEW GOVERNOR — Texas will have a "new" governor on March 28. On that date Sen. William Patman of Ganado takes his turn as acting chief executive.

Patman is president pro tempore of the Senate. Each holder of that office traditionally serves as "Governor-For-A-Day" while both the governor and lieutenant governor are out of the state.

Citizens from Patman's 14-county 18th district will be honored guests for the occasion. They will attend an all-day reception in the governor's office and take special tours of the governor's mansion and capitol complex. Patman will sign proclamations, honorary appointments and bills.

An exhibit by artists from Patman's district will be displayed in the capitol on that date.

Recalling that the first seat of Texas government was at Washington-on-the-Brazos (in Patman's district), a special display of historical items from the area also will be set up. These will be in the State Library and Archives Building.

SCHOOL TESTING — This spring approximately 80,000 seniors in 236 high schools in 128 school districts will be given an opportunity by the state to analyze critically and constructively their schools and their teachers.

Public School Education Committee is sponsoring the unique questionnaires. Purpose is to measure what the students have earned and how well they can use their knowledge.

Results of the study will be related to a massive data-gathering project to give a full picture of the state's public-school-education system.

MANSION GROUNDS — Mrs.

John Connally has unveiled a model representing detailed plans for landscaping and beautifying the grounds of the Governor's Mansion.

She used the unveiling to launch a statewide fund-raising project, in coordination with the new Texas Fine Arts Commission and the Texas Garden Clubs. Project is to be financed completely by donations.

Plans for the habilitation of the grounds were drawn up by Joe Lambert of Dallas. Specifications are being drafted by the State Building Commission. Construction is to begin this summer.

SNIPER TOOK DRUGS — University of Texas sniper Charles J. Whitman "ate" amphetamine drugs "like popcorn" and found a seemingly endless supply through illegal sources. A legislative committee was given this information by C. Dean Davis, general counsel for the Texas State Board of Pharmacy.

His comments concerning the killer of 16, in that murderous rampage last Aug. 1, overshadowed hearings on bills to place LSD, amphetamines, barbiturates and a variety of hallucingens on the dangerous drug list.

Bills went to sub-committee after lengthy hearings.

SHORT SNORTS — Senators sent the four-year-term constitutional amendment bill back to committee for reconsideration after it was approved 5-4.

Voting on the feed lot licensing and regulating bill has been postponed in the House until March 21.

House passed a bill to authorize the Parks and Wildlife Commission to restore and maintain historic forts, missions and other important sites.

House voted to substitute Memorial Day (May 30) for Columbus Day (Oct. 12) as an official state holiday.

Hearings on the $1.25 an hour minimum wage bill have been set for March 15-16 by Senate and House committees.

Application for a new state bank at Hurst, in Tarrant County, has been filed with the State Banking Department. Legislature voted final authority for Baxar County commissioners to raise tax assessments to finance a teaching hospital for the new University of Texas. Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has announced the appointment of Dr. John Kinross-Wright as Shervert Frazier who resigned work at Baylor University Medical School, succeeding Dr. to return to full-time academicical School.

Governors

Such issues, the President said, "make for good stump speeches and good debates in the lecture hall, but they don't get us far down the road toward meeting the problems of modern America."

Johnson opened the meeting with remarks in the White House Fish Room, then excused himself to prepare for the Vietnam strategy conference Monday and Tuesday. He spoke again to the governors—representing 45 states and 4 territories—at a luncheon.

Girl

"I told her, 'Honey, don't holler, I know it's going to hurt you. I'll get you out in a minute.' I pulled on her and I heard bones crack and I knew I was hurting her but I had to get her out," Bill said.

Conference

The officials stressed they anticipated no major military decisions in the Guam talks, although Westmoreland would give his views on the progress of the war and what the prospects are.

In a last-minute development, South Vietnam's constituent assembly approved the nation's new constitution in a speed-up vote so that Ky could present the charter to Johnson when they meet Monday.

The constitution is designed to serve as the basis for a switch from military rule to elected government. It still needs approval by the junta headed by Ky.

In advance of his departure, Johnson was heartened by reports of increasing Communist defections in Vietnam. White House aides said they were wary of raising hopes too high, but noted it was possible to see the beginning of a weakening of the Communist command structure in the war.

Warren Hasse, as guest speaker, will tell "The Optimist Story."

All former Optimists, as well as new and prospective members, are invited.

Optimists express appreciation to youth through their Young Texan program.

One of the dead Communists found on the hill after the fighting had a Valentin in his pocket which had been taken from the body of an American soldier killed in the earlier battle, a spokesman said.

Farther north near the Demilitarized Zone, U.S. Marines who had been bloodied in an earlier clash, also got revenge and killed 39 Communists in a series of gun duels Friday.

Units of the Ninth Marine Regiment suffered 18 killed and 58 wounded in a battle reported Friday in the same area. After a sweep Friday, the Marines reported finding only 11 North Vietnamese bodies from the earlier clash.

On the terrorist front, Viet Cong guerrillas launched a series of attacks that ranged from the blowing up of bridges to the shooting of civilians watching television. They struck with mortars, hand grenades and small arms fire.

The new terrorist outburst began late Friday when a band of Viet Cong used grenades to blast their way into a family area 12 miles southwest of Saigon. Their surprise victims were a group of Vietnamese watching a television program. The Viet Cong opened fire and killed one policeman and wounded three women and children before vanishing into the darkness, officials said Saturday.

The body will be returned to Tulsa, Okla., for service and burial on Monday.

She was born Oct. 25, 1877, and had made her home in Tulsa until about five years ago, when she moved to Boston.

In addition to her son in Pampa, she is survived by another son, Joe of DeKalb, Ill., four daughters, Mrs. Pearl Gordon of Tulsa, Mrs. Betty Edison, Mrs. Ida Abramson, both of Boston, and Mrs. Becky Latman of Borger.

Cary said the Alibates Flint Quarry was a focal point for obtaining supplies for arrowheads, axes, awls and other items used by the Indians as far back as pre-historic times.

All persons interested in Indian Lore or archeology are invited.

Huff was brought to Highland hospital in Pampa and then transferred to the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo where he had been until his Saturday escape.

An Amarillo officer said Saturday night that, judging from Huff being able to escape and drive a car, he was not in as critical condition as he made hospital authorities believe.

As a result of the weekend incident he now is in jail instead of the hospital.

Mrs. Wanda Carver Huff, his wife, is in Gray County jail in Pampa. She was transferred here from the Wheeler County jail at Wheeler on Friday.

Mrs. Huff has been indicted on two counts in connection with the bank robbery. She is charged with bank robbery and auto theft.

Mrs. Huff was scheduled to have been arraigned in Judge Grainger McIlhenny's 31st District Court here Friday but the arraignment was postponed until next Friday when it was learned the woman's parents had not completed arrangements to hire an attorney.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist
 Double or triple sessions result in shorter school days and the elimination of various instructional activities. Crowded classrooms make individual instruction and contacts with teachers more difficult. Both situations place a responsibility upon parents to provide activities which are being neglected in the schools. There are a number of possible ways in which this can be done.
 It should be understood that students in the early grades are not fully steady for independent study. They need individual attention and encouragement. Parents should visit the local library with their children. Help your children locate books in which they are interested as well as capable of understanding. Don't direct them too much. They need an opportunity to browse. Visits should be regular and frequent.
Reading Together
 Children need an opportunity and a place in their homes to read without distractions. Parents should be available to listen when their children want to talk about the stories they have read. It is most valuable for parents and children to read aloud together. This provides an opportunity to share enjoyment and enthusiasm.
 These same activities are often valuable for other children. They probably will not require the same degree of direction and help but they certainly will benefit from interest and attention. They need the opportunity to visit the library. They will be greatly encouraged by parents who are willing to listen and share interest. This does not mean placing pressure upon children.

 A second case of urgent need for blood was called to our attention this week. A very prominent person of Pampa needed urgent blood transfusions. If Gray County was on the Red Cross Blood Program, all persons would be supplied with Red Cross blood from the national organization in case of need. This chapter has not seen its 50th anniversary in this program so that patients in the hospitals that need surgery have to depend on friends for this need.
 Our thanks to Travis School for supplying the 100 St. Patrick Day trays and mat favors for Amarillo Air Force Base Hospital. Mrs. Helen Ruth Mackie is the teacher-sponsor.
 We wish to thank all who have called to ask about Libby and we are happy to report to her many friends that she is better and we hope will be back in the Red Cross office about the middle of this week.

The Family Lawyer

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Berard.

To help a worthy cause, you buy a $5 ticket to a theater party. May you deduct the $5 on your next income tax return as a charitable contribution?

No, because your payment was not all charity. You received something of value in return: the show itself. If the regular price of tickets is $3, you may deduct only the other $2—the part that was truly a gift.

This rule has wide application, not only in such frivolous areas as theater parties, charity balls, lotteries, and athletic events but also in such basic areas as health and education.

For example: A man claimed a deduction for money paid to a non-profit retirement home — in return for lifetime care.

A woman claimed a deduction for money paid to a religious society — in return for perpetual upkeep of her burial plot.

A family claimed a deduction return for their son's education. But in each case, the deduction was not allowed. For in each case, the payment was held not true charity but simply a purchase of services — like any other family expense.

The mere fact that your payment is in the form of a check made out to a charitable organization does not change it into charity if it really isn't.

And, by the same token, a true gift may be deductible even if it is not in the form of money at all. Thus, contributions of food or books to a qualified charitable organization are deductible.

What about services that you render? No doubt, in the scales of value, donating your services weighs as much as donating your money or your merchandise.

Nonetheless, services are held not a deductible contribution, perhaps because of the formidable problems of fixing their value. Imagine the difficulties of putting a price tag on the services of Mom to a Girl Scout troop or of Dad to the Community Chest.

On the other hand, if your services require out-of-pocket expenses for which you are not reimbursed, they are generally deductible.

For instance, the costs of driving to a volunteer job at a hospital, or of buying uniforms not otherwise useful, may be deducted. For, in a true sense you are "giving" this amount to charity.

Increased Use Of Marijuana Marked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Illicit marijuana traffic in the United States has more than doubled in the past two years, spreading at an alarming rate among middle-class college students, it was disclosed today.

Federal Narcotics Commissioner Henry L. Giordano said the Bureau of Narcotics is particularly concerned that the increased marijuana traffic is "reaching age groups and economic levels which were relatively drug-free previously."

"Increased traffic among college-age persons of middle or upper economic status represents a radical change in patterns," Giordano told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public today.

Giordano disclosed that the Narcotics Bureau has conducted investigations at 50 universities across the country into beatnik or dropout-type fringe groups involved in the use of marijuana, LSD, goof balls and peppy pills.

"I think really the problem is the attitude that is developing among some people that there is nothing wrong with marijuana, which encourages these people to engage in this traffic," he said.

"It is a dangerous drug, no matter how you spell it. It is not, as some people say, less (dangerous) than alcohol or less than smoking tobacco."

Marijuana arrests have risen from 7,000 in 1964 to more than 15,000 in 1966.

While the government has no statistics on the number of marijuana users who graduate to opium and heroin, a survey made several years ago revealed that about 40 per cent of heroin addicts admitted starting on marijuana.

MINOR SLIP
HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Justice of the Peace John Knox of Greenwich should have retired when he reached the age of 70.

But the birthday apparently slipped his mind and Thursday the state senate had to put things right.

A special bill was passed to legalize 12 marriages of the absentminded justice performed after he passed the retirement age.

There was no opposition to the measure.

Pampan Practicing School Teaching
Mrs. Emerald McCathern of Pampa is among 143 students from North Texas State University at Denton who are practicing teaching in the public schools of Texas.

Some will teach all day for the first eight weeks, while others will teach one-half day for 16 weeks of the spring semester. Another group of teachers will be assigned for the last eight weeks of the semester, according to Dr. C. M. Clarke, director of teacher education at NTSU.

A 1963 graduate of Pampa High School, Mrs. McCathern is teaching speech at Denton Senior High School in Denton. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Porter, 1616 N. Hobart.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the Pampa News as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

Q—I received some dividends last year I was not entitled to because they were declared after I sold the stock. I returned the dividend check but I now have a copy of a statement showing the amount as having been paid to me. Should I ignore this statement when I file my Federal tax return?

A—Only report the correct amount of dividends on your return. You should also notify the corporation paying the dividends of the error in their statement so a correction can be made. An explanation of the error should also be attached to your return.

Q—Where do I report dividends from a savings and loan account? Are they dividends or interest?

A—This income is considered interest and should be entered on line 2a of Part II of the 1040 or on line 6a of Form 1040A, if this form is used.

Q—Where do I report money from a pension?

A—File Schedule with your Form 1040 to report this income.

Q—We paid sales tax on a color TV as well as a new car last year. Can we add this to the amount shown in the sales tax table?

A—Does the gas tax table in the 1040 instructions cover business driving as well as pleasure driving?

A—No. This table should only be used for non-business driving. If you are entitled to a deduction for business driving, handle it separately. Check page 7 of the 1040 instructions for details.

Q—Are weekends counted in the waiting period for a sick pay exclusion?

A—Yes, they are counted unless the illness began on a weekend. In that case, the waiting period begins on the next work day.

Q—If you have more than one casualty loss during the year can you combine the losses so that you only have to apply the $100 limitation once?

A—No. The $100 limitation applies to each separate casualty.

Q—Is there any limit on what you can claim under the minimum standard deduction?

A—Yes, the limit is $500 for married persons filing separately and $1,000 for single persons or married couples filing jointly.

Q—Am I taxed on what I received on the sale of a house?

A—Profits made on the sale of a residence are taxable. However, if another home is purchased within a certain period that costs the same or more than the adjusted sales price of the one you sold, payment of the tax may be postponed. There are also special rules on home sales by those 65 or older.

Q—Is a man entitled to claim something for child care expenses?

Some Filter Cigarettes Releasing More Tar, Nicotine Than Regulars

By JEFFREY L. FIELD
BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A leading cancer researcher, claiming some filter cigarettes release more tar and nicotine to the lungs than the nonfilter of the same brand, has called upon the industry to provide better filters to stop "needles and premature loss of life."

Dr. George E. Moore, director of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, a cancer research and treatment center, issued a report Tuesday listing the results of tar and nicotine content tests on 56 brands of cigarettes.

"Many people think that by smoking a filter cigarette they are more protected than they would be if they smoked the same brand without a filter. In some cases this is true," Moore said.

Filters No Help
"But in the case of Chesterfield, Lucky Strike, Camels and Pall Mall," he said, "the smoker gets as much and sometimes more tar and nicotine with the filter than he would if he smoked the nonfilter of the same brand."

Moore attributed the difference to the fact that the filter in variety of these brands is usually longer, and has more tobacco or a relatively "open" filter.

Moore called on the tobacco cigarette filters to "help stop needless and premature loss of life" from lung cancer and other diseases associated with heavy smoking.

"Although some filter cigarettes are delivering less tar and nicotine to the smoker than the regular cigarettes, most are not adequately protecting him from a medical point of view," he said.

Least Tar & Nicotine
Of the brands tested, Marvel, a king size filter cigarette made by Stefano Bros. of Philadelphia, released the lowest amount of tar and nicotine.

Other brands, all king size and filtered, found to be the lowest possible cancer-producing substances were: Cascade, menthol, 9.1 mg tar and 0.34 mg nicotine; Carlton, 9.7 and 0.74; King Sano, denitroized, 12.0 and 0.39; Duke, 12.3 and 0.46; Life, 13.6 and 0.97; True, 15.8 and 0.80; Kent 18.8 and 1.10; 1.15; Spring, menthol, 21.7 and 1.16 and Galaxy, 2.1 and 1.9.

The study showed that king-size Raleigh without filter gave Montclair menthol, 21.1 and the highest amount, 43.4 mg of tar, and 2.64 mg of nicotine.

Published Reports
The findings were reported in the March issue of Cancer, the Journal of the American Cancer Society, Inc.

"Since 1950 there have been repeated warnings by scientists and physicians all over the world relative to the harmful effects of cigarette smoking," Moore said.
He said that in those years filter tip cigarettes rose in popularity to where they accounted for 61 per cent of the total cigarette sales in 1966.
Moore said the institute's study and "information from the tobacco industry itself" show that more effective filters can be developed.
"It is the responsibility of the tobacco industry to produce these more effective filters," he said.

S. Ill. Bounces Back To Win Over Marquette

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southern Illinois roared back from a 12-point second half deficit on the strength of its hustling defense Saturday to defeat Marquette 71 to 56 and win the National Invitational basketball tournament.

All-America Bob Lloyd climaxed a brilliant collegiate career with a record-breaking 41-point performance to lead Gutgers to a third-place finish with a 93-76 victory over Marshall in the consolation game before a sellout crowd of 18,499 at Madison Square Garden.

Southern Illinois, trailing at halftime 34-23, fell behind 36-24 in the early moments of the second half, while Smith and caught fire with key steals and clutch shooting by Walt Frazier, Clarence Smith and Ralph Johnson to outscore the Warriors 22-10 in the final six and one-half minutes of play.

Bob Lloyd Terminates School Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—All-America Bob Lloyd climaxed a brilliant collegiate career with a record-breaking 44-point performance Saturday to lead Rutgers to a 93-76 victory over Marshall for third place in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Lloyd, a 6-1 guard, hit for 18 points in the first half to give the Scarlet Knights a 43-41 edge at the intermission and collected 26 in the second stanza as Rutgers broke the game open.

Lloyd, who became the 24th collegian to score more than 2,000 points in his career last Thursday night, thus ended his fabulous three-year career with 2,045 points.

Randy Breaks Discus Record

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Big Randy Matson of Texas A&M cracked the NCAA discus record Saturday in a triangular meet with Rice and Louisiana State, tossing the platter 200 feet 7 3/4 inches.

Matson's throw broke a record he established in 1965 during the 1965 Southwest Conference track and field meet—199-7 1/2.

The king-sized A&M senior did not take part in his specialty—the shot put.

DURBIN AHEAD

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Mike Durbin of Costa Mesa, Calif., led 15 other semifinalists into today's match play of the Professional Bowlers Association $40,000 Tampa Bay Open.

Durbin qualified 5200 pins for the 24-game qualifier. This was 40 pins better than that hung up by Bob Chase of Kansas City.

Bob Strampe of Detroit was third with 51-30.

Only a double bogey when he went into the water kept Sikes from running away from the rest of the field. As it is, it would take some fancy playing Sunday if anyone hopes to wrestle the $20,000 first place money away from the hometown hero.

The biggest winning margin in eight previous tournaments this year was the five strokes by Jack Nicklaus in the Bing Crosby National and Arnold Palmer in the Los Angeles Open. All the rest were decided by a single stroke.

Gay Brewer, runnerup in the GJO last year behind Doug Sanders, had a birdie on the final hole Saturday to take second place with a 71-209.

Harvesters Boost Record to 7-0 Tally

The Pampa Harvester sluggers, rated last in the district pre-season, increased their record to 7-0 in non-conference play Saturday at Liberal, Kan., by downing Liberal High twice by 12-5 and an embarrassing 16-1 in the last game.

The only time the Kansans were able to break lose in either game was in the seventh inning of the first contest when they rallied for the five runs; however, all of these were unearned.

Creed Playing Her Best Golf in Orange Blossom

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Clifford Ann Creed, playing some of the best golf of her career, goes into the third round of the Orange Blossom Classic golf tournament Saturday with a healthy four-stroke lead over her closest competitor, Miss Creed shot a 65 in the second round Friday, the lowest score of her career, to wind up with 138 for 36 holes. The best hole in the Largo, Fla., lady golfer's best day was an eagle on the par-five second hole.

Tied in second place at 142 were Mickey Wright of Dallas and Judy Kimball of Sutton, Mass., who led the first round. In fourth place at 144 was Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., who fired a 70 Friday for the day's second-lowest round.

Miss Creed, who said her previous record was 66, credited lack of wind Friday for the improvement on her first-round 73.

She played the entire round without a bogey despite missing some iron shots, and wound up with six birdies in addition to the eagle.

Dan Sikes to Lay Down Books To Pick Up Pro Golf Clubs

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Dan Sikes, who plans to practice law here when his pro golf days are over, widened his lead to three strokes Saturday at the end of the third round of the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open golf tournament.

The 36-year-old Sikes, an accredited attorney who plays regularly on the course where the tournament is being held, shot a two-under-par 70 Saturday to give him a 54-hole total of 10-under-par 206.

Only a double bogey when he went into the water kept Sikes from running away from the rest of the field. As it is, it would take some fancy playing Sunday if anyone hopes to wrestle the $20,000 first place money away from the hometown hero.

When he is Not Ailing Texas Tech's Vernon Paul Is A Good Man to Have on Team

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Vernon Paul saw only limited action for Texas Tech's basketball team at the first of the season because of mono-nucleosis and missed four games in mid-season because of an appendicitis attack.

But what time the 6-7, 220-pound Lawton, Okla., cager spent on the hardwood made rival players and coaches take note. Paul was named Wednesday to UPI's all-Southwest conference team. He was one of two juniors on the squad.

Paul, a prime reason behind the turn of events that saw the Red Raiders bolt from the league cellar to first division contention, said the honor "surprises me. It takes five players to win, you know."

As soon as he got out of the hospital after the appendectomy, coach Gene Gibson outfitted him with a special corset and pushed him to the limit effort to get him ready again.

"You know, looking back, the way things turned out I guess that operation helped me," Paul said in his dormitory room

Wednesday. "I weighed 240 at the first of the year, and I think the extra weight really hurt me. I was down to 220 after the operation and I've been feeling better out on the court than I ever have."

He had to overcome considerable verbal torture from his teammates because of his girth, however.

"He was the prettiest boy on the team," jibed roommate Jim Nelson, also a Tech cager.

Paul has averaged 16.2 points per game and 11 rebounds through conference play this season, in what everybody called a rebuilding year for the Red Raiders. But other conference teams had weaker than usual teams also and Tech, after getting off to a dismal 3-14 start, has won five of its last six starts.

Paul has been leading scorer in all six and top rebounder in the past 11 contests.

Several clippings deck a 4-foot by 10-foot bulletin board that takes up virtually one wall in Paul's scarlet-and-black decorated room. The headlines that mention the Raiders' hustle are underlined in red.

"There have been a lot of Tech teams with more talent in the past few years, but never a desire to win as this one," he said.

"It's made us what we are. The league games we lost were all by just two or three points, except for the Southern Methodist game here (75-91), and with a few breaks we could have been right alongside SMU in the race," he said.

"I think we're as good as anybody in the league right now. Paul's play, in addition to being the major ingredient in the Red Raiders' comeback success this season, also has Gibson as the SWC coach of the year.

And of this, Gibson is aware. "I am firmly convinced," Gibson said of his star player Wednesday, "that right now Vernon Paul is the best basketball player in the conference. He's just out of this world. This is what keeps guys like me in the coaching business."

Bulls Earn Spot In NBA Playoffs

By United Press International

A brilliant scoring display by rookie center Erwin Mueller and a helping hand from All-Star guard Guy Rodgers has earned the Chicago Bulls a spot in the National Basketball Association playoffs in their first season in the league.

Mueller scored 27 points, 12 in the final period, Friday night to lead the Bulls to a 120-117 victory over the San Francisco Warriors and clinch a fourth place in the western division.

Rodgers was credited with 18 assists to break the season mark of 89 set in 1961-62 by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson. Rodgers now has 90 scoring leads.

Los Angeles lost star Jerry West early in the first period when he had to leave with an ankle injury but the Lakers managed to come from behind to defeat the Baltimore Bullets 135-133.

Elgin Baylor, who led Los Angeles with 25 points, sank two foul shots with 37 seconds left to clinch the victory for the Lakers. Los Angeles had rallied by 18 points, 67-49, midway through the second period but managed to slice Baltimore's margin to 73-69 at halftime.

Blanda, 3 Veterans Given Freedom

HOUSTON (UPI)—Houston Oilers quarterback George Blanda and three other veterans were given outright releases Saturday and the American Football League club traded another player.

Along with Blanda, 17-year pro signal caller, the others released were offensive guard John Frongillo, offensive tackle Rich Michael and offensive back John Henry Johnson.

Flanker Charley Hennigan was to be released, but the Oilers recalled him before the official announcement and traded him to the San Diego Chargers in exchange for flanker Sammie Taylor, a 6-0 190-pounder who used to play for Grambling. Taylor is a Yeats High School, Houston graduate.

The announcement was made by Executive Vice President and General Manager Don Klosterman.

The 39-year-old Blanda apparently knew of the Oilers' housecleaning move—Friday when he addressed a Gadsden, Ala., banquet. He announced then he would not be with the Houston club next season.

Texas Seeks Third SWC Golf Title

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Longhorn golf team opens a drive for its third Southwest Conference championship in four years Monday in a match with Arkansas.

Only one letterman, defending conference individual champion Mason Adkins, will be among the five Longhorns making the trip to Texarkana, site of the conference-opening match.

After winning the crown in 1964 and 1965 the Longhorns dropped to third, one point behind champion Baylor and one-half point behind Arkansas.

The Texas-Arkansas match is the only conference action set for the week, and one of only two in March. The other match, this month will be a Houston meeting between Texas Tech and Rice.

Succession

BOSTON (UPI)—Bill Russell is the fourth coach. The Boston Celtics have had since they began play in 1946. Honey Russell, Doggy Julian and Red Auerbach preceded him.

Clay Puts Title On Line For 'My Last Fight'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay, facing an April 11 Army induction date, puts his heavyweight title on the line Wednesday night in what could be "my last fight"—and one (See Related Story on P 9) that he expects will be the toughest since he whipped Sonny Liston into retirement.

The whole aspect of the 15-round title clash at Madison Square Garden, in which Clay is a 5 to 1 favorite over the 34-year-old Folley, changed suddenly last week when the champion's Army date was disclosed.

Now, suddenly, this could be the last heavyweight title fight for at least two years—if Clay defeats Folley. The title would go into the "deep freeze" until Clay finishes his hitch in uniform.

Folley, father of eight, could prevent that by handing Clay his first professional defeat. Although the odds-makers sneer at that possibility and imply the title shot is coming too late in life for the Chandler, Ariz. challenger, Clay and his trainer, Angelo Dundee, insist the crowd of 18,500 will see a real scrap.

"He is the best boxer-puncher I've met" said Clay. "Everybody belittled my other opponents, too, but I'm expecting a tough fight and I'm training to go 15 rounds. He'll give me a harder fight than George Chuvalo or Ernie Terrell."

After learning the board's decision, Clay said, "Anybody who wants to see the greatest heavyweight champion in history fight, better come watch me against Folley."

But he became optimistic again after discussing the situation with an unnamed advisor.

"I learned I might have four more months," he said. "I won't say why, but I talked it over with someone."

Speculation has been mounting over whether Clay, who prefers his Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, would decide to go into the Army or instead go to prison for his beliefs.

The previous time the two fought, it was a draw, in France.

Cokes has a guarantee of $35,000 for the Pavilla bout, set for Dallas Memorial Auditorium. Cokes last defended his title against another Frenchman, Jean Josselin, in Dallas Nov. 23 and beat him. Pavilla will have a $7,500 guarantee for the Cokes fight, Doug Lord, Cokes' manager, said.

Winston-Salem Wins Small College Title

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Winston-Salem, to the surprise of nobody who has watched record-breaking Earl Monroe sink baskets, is the national small college basketball champion.

Monroe, the fastest gun in the East, pumped in 41 points Friday night to hand Winston-Salem the NCAA college division crown in a 77-74 triumph over Southwest Missouri State.

Monroe, who earlier in the tournament broke the all-time single season intercollegiate scoring record held since 1954 by Bevo Francis, poured in 19 points in the last nine minutes to snap Winston-Salem out of a three-point disadvantage and into the college division throne room.

Winston-Salem blew an eight-point lead early in the second half, then caught Southwest Missouri four minutes from the finish and won it on Monroe's marksmanship and ball-handling sleight-of-hand.

Monroe pulled his team even at 73-all on a rebound shot 3 1/2 minutes from the end, and then with 25 seconds left cashed two free throws which iced it.

Kentucky Wesleyan, the defending champs who were knocked out of it by Winston-Salem in Thursday's semi-final, salvaged third place with a 112-73 romp over Illinois State.

One of the best things about the exhibition baseball season is that the lesser-talented teams very often get a chance to see how the other half lives.

While the pennant contenders are slowly getting their personnel in shape for the season, the other clubs are filled with hustling young players who are going all out to prove they warrant a chance to stay in the big leagues.

This hustle pays off in many spring exhibition victories for these also-rans and while it gives very little indication of how they will do in the regular season, it does build a ray of hope for the future for the fans at home.

The most notable "surprises" thus far along the exhibition circuit have been the New York Mets, the Chicago Cubs and the Washington Senators, all of whom are destined for second division placement this season.

Mets Defeat Champs
The Mets, who finished ninth in the National League last year, scored their fourth victory of the spring season Friday when they turned back the world champion Baltimore Orioles 5-3 on Ed Kranepool's

Now Clay Fights His Draft Board

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay has taken the draft board's best punch—an April 11 induction notice—and come out swinging once again.

The heavyweight champion, who appeared headed for a certain showdown with Uncle Sam after being ordered to appear for his induction, rolled with the punch Friday by announcing that he thinks he will be a civilian long enough to defend his title three times in the next four months.

Clay's next heavyweight title defense will be Wednesday at Madison Square Garden against 34-year-old Zora Folley. The champion said he thinks he will meet Argentine Oscar Bonavena in Tokyo May 27 if he gets by Folley.

"I believe I got a chance for three more fights in the next four months," said the 25-year-old Clay. "They might have to be out of the country though."

The champion denied that he might leave the country to avoid the draft, however.

"Everybody wants to come to America," said Clay. "What do I want to leave for?"

The Louisville draft board that has jurisdiction over Clay's case has announced that he has exhausted his appeals. He was turned down on his claim as a conscientious objector on the grounds that he is a minister in the Black Muslim sect, which CASSIUS CLAY, heavyweight boxing champ, bundled up for a frosty workout in New York's Central Park as he prepares for his March 22 title defense against Zora Folley. It could be Clay's last fight in some time, he admits, since the Army has him scheduled to report for duty April 11.

Willis a Hot Dog? Willie Davis Hands Insult To Former Dodger Teammate

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Willie Davis insulted Maury Willis the other day.

He insulted him during a moment when he wasn't thinking and during a moment when he certainly couldn't be remembering how much Willis contributed to those three World Series checks he received the past four years.

Davis came right out and said he didn't like Willis. He implied his former Dodger teammate is a hot dog and there's no quicker way for one ball player to slur another than call him that.

A hot dog, in the language of the clubhouse, is a ball player who plays more for the crowd than for his team. He "puts it on," meaning he makes the tough plays look a little harder, he swaggers when everyone else is walking and he's talking to the press when all the others are out shagging flies.

Willis, looking much the same in a new Pittsburgh uniform as he did in a Los Angeles one, sat before his narrow wire locker prior to Friday's exhibition contest between the Pirates and Cardinals here, and talked about that Davis insult. He did it without even mentioning Davis' name.

"What I've said is he is entitled to his opinion," declared the Pirates' new third baseman, fishing a piece of chewing gum out of his back pocket, tearing off half a stick and putting the other half back. "I consider myself as dedicated and loyal as any Dodger ball player who ever put on a uniform," Willis said. "With one exception—Sandy Koufax. He was the most dedicated person I've ever known or ever seen. The things he did and the way he did them are nearly impossible to describe. Regarding what, the game always came first."

Willis would be the first to admit he never would poll the majority of votes in any popularity contest. Personally, he did them are nearly and understand why fellows like Davis and some others will never love him. Willis is unpopular in some quarters because of the very thing which has made him a great ball player—his tremendous, insatiable desire.

Cincinnati Begins 1967 Season With New Owners, Managers

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—The new-look Cincinnati Reds begin the 1967 National League season with a new set of owners, a new general manager and a practically new field manager.

Unfortunately, some of the old problems are still hanging around.

For one, the team's leading hitter, Pete Rose, is being shifted to another position despite the fact that a similar experiment failed last year. Rose's new station will be left field and manager Dave Bristol, who assumed full control of the club last Sept. 26, is convinced he can handle it.

Rose opened the 1966 season at third base and his hitting fell off so drastically that the Reds were forced to move him back to his familiar second base post. The scrappy switch-hitter responded by batting .313 and leading Cincinnati in virtually every offensive category.

Defends Change
"Rose has a good arm, good speed and good baseball instincts," said Bristol in defending the switch. "And he has no qualms about it."

So much for problem No. 1. Another difficulty encountered by last year's Reds was the loss of scoring power which resulted from the trade of Frank Robinson to the Baltimore Orioles for pitcher Milt Pappas.

Cincinnati, which led the league in scoring the previous season, dropped to fourth in run production last year with 682. Bristol, however, is looking for stronger batting support by Deron Johnson and Vada Pinson to take up the slack.

Johnson, who led the majors with 130 runs batted in in 1966, also was the victim of "progress" last year when he was transferred to the outfield from third base. It took him half the season to get squared away and, despite a strong surge after the All-Star game, he hit only .257 with 81 RBIs and the Cubs, Darrell Osteen (2.53 with Buffalo) and possibly Jack Balbach (5.33), currently plagued by elbow trouble.

Elsewhere, the team is deep. Tommy Helms, the league's rookie of the year, and Leo Cardenas (2.55) form a fine double play combination with Chico Ruiz (2.55) capable of playing either second or short. There are three strong candidates for first base, right field and the catcher's job.

Rookie Lee May (3.10 at Buffalo), Tony Perez (2.65) and Gordy Coleman (2.51) can all supply power at first; Tommy Harper (2.78), Floyd Robinson (2.37) and powerful Art Shamsky (21 homers in 1966) give Bristol versatility in the outfield and Johnny Edwards (.191), Jim Coker (.252) and Don Pavletich (.294) comprise a fine receiving corps.

Gets Old Job
Johnson will be back on third this year," reported Bristol, "the youngest skipper in the big leagues at 37. He can do a better job out there, offensively and defensively there."

Pinson's batting average slipped from 3.05 in 65 to .288 last season and his 76 RBIs represent the lowest total in six years for the graceful centerfielder.

The most serious Cincinnati problem nevertheless continues to be pitching, especially the starting variety. The club was eighth among senior circuit teams in earned run average with a 4.08 mark and the staff accounted for only 28 complete games, tying the Cubs for last place in league rankings.

"We think we have a good nucleus in Jim Maloney, Billy McCool, Milt Pappas and Sammy Ellis," said Bristol. "I think we can get sound pitching. If we get that good pitching and everything falls, we can be right in the middle of it."

Other starting possibilities are veteran Joe Nuxhall (6-8), converted outfielder Mel Queen and Ernie Brogna; relievers Dick Stigman and Rollie Sheldon.

The bullpen, sound in 1966, will have difficulty matching last year's effort. In addition to McCool's departure, another southpaw, Ted Davidson, was lost, at least temporarily, to the relieving corps when he was shot twice in a tavern incident last week. That leaves it up to Don Nottebart (3.06 era) Ted Abernathy (4.55 with Atlanta

Alcindor Finishes Cage Exam With a Good Passing Grade

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Lew Alcindor survived his first post-season exam with a good passing grade and there is every indication he will place UCLA on the NCAA honor roll as 1967 tournament champion.

Alcindor matched his season scoring average with a 29 point effort Friday night as UCLA outplayed the Wyoming Cowboys 100-60 to set up tonight's Western regional final clash with the University of Pacific, a 72-63 winner over 1966 champion Texas Western in the other half of a Corvallis, Ore. doubleheader.

Form went out the classroom window in the Midwest regionals at Lawrence, Kan., as Southern Methodist tripped Louisville, the nation's No. 2 ranked team, 83-81, and Houston topped fourth-rated Kansas 66-53.

It was a night for independent power at Evanston, Ill. Virginia Tech knocked off Big Ten co-champion Indiana 79-70 and Dayton squeezed past Tennessee, the Southeastern Conference champ, 53-52 in Midwest regionals.

In the Eastern regionals at College Park, Md., Bob Cousy's Boston College Eagles won a 63-62 squeaker from St. John's of New York and North Carolina beat Princeton 78-70 in overtime.

Regional Winners Me
All regional winners tonight for the right to move into the NCAA semi-finals in Louisville, March 24. The NCAA title game will be held there the following night.

Winston-Salem, with Earl Monroe scoring 41 points, defeated Southwest Missouri State 77-74 Friday night for the NCAA college division championship.

Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 ranked small college, went after the National Invitation Tournament title when it met Marquette in New York's Madison Square Garden.

All America Alcindor played only 28 minutes in leading top-ranked UCLA to its 27th consecutive victory this season. The Bruins took a quick 30-6 lead over a tired Wyoming team, that had to beat Brigham

Pampa Defeats Canyon

Pampa captured their fifth straight baseball win Friday when they outscored Canyon 13-4.

Randy Harris was the winning pitcher and Louis Brant of Canyon was his sad counterpart.

Larry Stephens used the first pitch of the game to score on a home run. Later Gary Molberg tallied a homer.

Pampa had four errors to Canyon's five.

Ronny Sanders and Barry Price each had a double. Pampa had six stolen bases.

DALLAS (UPI)—The Texas State Junior Girls' Golf Tournament, sponsored by the Dallas Times Herald, will be held at Las Colinas Country Club in Irving July 17-21.

The tournament is for Texas girls 18 and younger. Lou Dill of Houston won last year but will not be back this year because she is over age.

The winner of the first tournament, Kathy Ahern, now is a professional, so this year's tournament will be wide open. There is no entry fee and girls may enter by writing the Dallas Junior Girls Golf Editor, Dallas Times Herald.

Sub-Four Milers Compete in Relays

AUSTIN (UPI)—Three sub-four minute milers are included in the field of the feature Jerry Thompson Mile for the 400 Texas Relays March 31-April 1.

The celebrity field includes former Texas star Richard Romo, Tim Danielson of Brigham Young and Conrad Nightingale of Kansas State.

The world record holder, Jim Rvun of Kansas, will be in the relays with his Jayhawk teammates, but is passing up the mile for baton work on several relay teams.

Romo, the state's first miler to crack the four minute barrier, feels confident the 4:00.5 record set in 1955 by Wes Santee of Kansas will be broken. "I may not win it," Romo said. "But, if I don't, the record is going to go."

Limit Unsettled Scoring

Denny Holman's court length drive for a layup with three seconds left provided SMU with its victory over stunned Louisville. Holman's heroics were evident throughout the game as he scored a total of 30 points. All America Wesley Unsettled was held to 18 points by the winning Mustangs.

Houston, ranked sixth in the nation, pressured Kansas with a zone defense to set up an all-Texas Midwest final. All American Elvin Hayes netted 19 points for the Cougars and teammate Don Chaney scored 20. Jo Jo White led Kansas with 18.

Glen Combs, a backcourt man, put Virginia Tech in front of Indiana for good with 8.51 to go at 58-56 and continued his marksmanship to wind up with a game high of 29 points.

Bob Hooper canned a foul shot with 24 seconds to go in Dayton's heart-thumper over Tennessee. He led the Flyers with 14 points.

Foul shooting told the story in the East. Boston College made 31 of 35 free throws good to beat St. John's and North Carolina collared Princeton with 32 of 43 from the charity stripe, including 11 straight in overtime.

HOUSTON (UPI)—Ray Keldie of Pan American and Vicente Zarazua of the University of Corpus Christi headed today into a final clash of the Rice International Invitational Tennis Tournament. The tournament team title hung in the balance.

Keldie gained the finals Friday, despite a nose bleed and a fainting spell, defeating Rice's Butch Seawagen 8-6, 6-3. The third-seeded Keldie was hit in the face with a ball in the third game and had fainted after the third set and Rice trainer Eddie Wo-

Rivalries Involve Coaches, Too

By MIKE GERALD

The Harvard-Yale shell rowing race, the Auburn-Alabama football game, even the Harvard-Sandiego basketball game; they're all sports events that could be considered "classic rivalries."

They are the tense spectacles when fans fight, faint, boast and bet. Few persons have not experienced the excitement that a rivalry brings at least once in their lifetime.

What makes them? Neighboring schools, a long history of contests, or an almost balanced number of wins for each team?

Whatever the factors are, the tremendous amount of school pride involved in such contests often develops a rivalry between the coaches themselves, if it is not already there to begin with.

Such is the case of a classic rivalry in its early stages up in the mountains of Pennsylvania, where the sport of wrestling is almost as big as it is in neighboring Oklahoma. This is evidenced by three of Pennsylvania's small colleges placing in the top ten of the 1966 NCAA wrestling tournament, which included the big universities, too.

It began back in 1946 in the small town of Cedar Falls, Iowa, at Iowa Teachers College. A championships for the Panthers in '46. Koll went on to win two more, in '49 and '50, while Leeman practically equalled this feat by qualifying for the U. S. Olympic team in '48 and copping a silver medal in Freestyle wrestling competition.

Leeman became Lehigh University's third wrestling coach

Penn State in 1964. For the next three years his Lions broke practically all school wrestling records, but they had never beaten Lehigh, whom they have met for 51 years and held a 39-19-2 record edge on.

The two cross-state rivals met again on a Wednesday evening early this month at University Park, Pa.

After eight bouts and with only one remaining, the Lions led by a narrow 15-12 score. Each bout being worth three points, Penn State desperately needed a win at heavyweight. Lehigh could still win with five points for a fall.

"Young Lion" Mike Reid came through. The Engineers were dumped 18-12.

With Koll finally tasting victory, the annual affair should prove to become one of the fiercest rivalries ever, as the two young coaches continue to teach the sport and abilities that they seem to almost have been born with.

A Few Holds Barred

Little known school, but one that in 58 proud years of claimed 15 individual NCAA wrestling crowns in a mere nine years from 1946 to 1955. Teammates Bill Koll and Gerry Leeman both won their first

BOB PRICE FOR AMERICA, TEXAS

Since my election I have received many letters in regard to postmaster and rural carrier appointments in the district. However, these appointments are made by the President with the advise and consent of the Senate. This is a holdover from days when all government jobs went to the friends of politicians.

On March 9 I introduced a bill to take these jobs out of politics. The legislation would provide that appointments to these positions be given to qualified career employees in the postal service.

A resolution approving additional United States food aid to India was debated in the House on March 9. During the discussion I pointed out that the American farmer should not be asked to subsidize this Nation's foreign policy, of using American food to aid and stabilize needy areas, unless he is getting a fair price for his products.

The actual purpose for considering the resolution was to take the blame from the President's shoulders for sending more grain abroad for which the American farmer received prices well below parity. Just last month the Department of Agriculture reported the market price for wheat was only 58 percent of parity and for grain sorghum, 76 percent of parity.

While talking all these things into consideration I decided to vote for the resolution anyway. There are starving people in India who need this food. It is a racket for the farmer's pocket and will keep our surplus down. I will be doing everything possible in the future to see that American farmers receive a better price for their grain in transactions with India and other countries.

The problem of our defense policies still overshadows most other considerations here in Washington. The war in Vietnam, of course, remains at the top of the list, occasionally other problems arise. One of the recent testimony before a Senate subcommittee when a former State Department official testified that his sources in Cuba have indicated the Russians still have some missiles in that country. For many months I have advocated blockading Cuba. This would undoubtedly bring about Castro's downfall in a short period of time. It seems very stupid to me for our fighting men to be dying in the jungles of Vietnam, thousands of miles away, while we continue to let this communist sore exist 90 miles from our shores.

On the subject of Vietnam, I would like to quote from a letter one of my colleagues received from an American airman serving there. It expresses my feeling.

"We might make a few of our friends mad when we sink a few of their ships in the Port of Haiphong or stop them from going in, but we don't want to lose another 500 planes over North Viet Nam, we are going to have to say, 'OK, on these dates we are going to bomb Haiphong and Hanoi - civilians, sorry about that, but move out of the city.' We would then totally destroy their means of waging war at the minimum loss of life to all concerned."

Man Files Suit To Force His Being Drafted in Army

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Billy Dwayne Davis, 24, has filed suit in federal court to make the Defense Department draft him into the Army.

Once seven years ago, he and two other youths were convicted of burglary. Davis got a two-year probation sentence.

In 1963, he got a new trial and the charge was dismissed. After being turned down by the Navy and Coast Guard because of his dependents—a wife and a small girl—Davis turned to the Army.

He passed all his tests and was ready for induction this week when his recruiting sergeant told him he had been rejected.

"It floored me, I was ready to go," he said.

FOR SA... GENERAL TENDENCIES: Start this new week taking your special wares or ideas to those who are in a position to market or merchandise them, so you can get excellent and well-rounded results. You also have a very good chance to discuss and work out some emotional problems, which has been pretty ticklish with one very close friend.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Making the more harmonious within the home is most important today, since others are just in the right mood to listen. Think over your plan that plan that will help you to add to your happiness. Be smiling, but the right impression on others entails your getting out to meetings, writing letters, conferring quietly with others. Be sure that any reports are properly made out. This is especially true in government matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Elevating consciousness in the days ahead will progress, allowing for the fact that you will accept more modern ideas, methods. Get rid of obstacles in your path. Have greater vision, finer perspective.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23)—Anything of a secretive nature can give you better results. Keep out of social activities. If you are taking steps in that direction, make sure you are being heard. Get down to business and be very helpful. Discuss modern trends.

SCORPIO (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)—Trust your intuition to tell you how to advance and expand by making better arrangements that will give you greater happiness as well. Meet individuals who can be very helpful. Be active.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)—Look deep within your subconscious for the clarification of any problem that you may now have and you will get right results. Discuss that personal problem with a close friend or a trusted confidant. See what allies want from you by paying close attention to their ideas and then be cooperative. You now understand the picture perfectly. Use information given in a very clever way.

Bobby Looking Forward to 1968 LBJ Campaigning

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said Friday he felt President Johnson has been "an outstanding President" and that he was looking forward to campaigning for him next year.

The New York Democrat made the statement at an impromptu news conference during an "Irish brunch" which he gave for newsmen in a midtown restaurant prior to the St. Patrick's Day parade. Kennedy gave a similar brunch last year.

Asked about his recent differences with Johnson over the conduct of the war in Vietnam, Kennedy said, "I have great admiration for what the President has done. I think it's inevitable there should be political differences in a democracy but I have a strong feeling that President Johnson has been an outstanding President and I look forward to campaigning for him in 1968."

"I expect one of the prices we pay for democracy is there are going to be differences. We pay a price but we get something very important in return."

Pressed about the propriety in his Senate speech on Vietnam which was diametrically opposed to the administration's position, Kennedy said it was his obligation as a senator to report on what he found in "his recent trip abroad. He said his purpose was not to dramatize differences between himself and the President on public policy, but to make clear to the public what he had found."

"I transmitted my views on Vietnam in detail to both the President and the State Department considerably in advance of my speech," he added.

The brunch, which was attended by about 200 newsmen, consisted of eggs, Irish bacon and Irish coffee—a coffee and whiskey mixture.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS
The 1966 Water Decline Maps needed by irrigation farmers and others in applying for federal income tax credit are now available at the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District Office in White Deer. The other maps and guidelines for prior years are also available. The maps will be furnished on a cost basis.

The depletion credit may be applied for on the years 1963, 1964, 1965 and 1966. April 15, 1967 is the deadline for applying for water depletion credit for the year 1963.

A claim for a refund for the year 1963 must be made by April 15, 1967. April 15, 1968 is the deadline for 1964. For 1965, the deadline is April 15, 1969. Claims for different years must be filed separately.

The Internal Revenue Service has prepared two forms for use in filing the claims. Form 843, U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service Claim. One of these forms must be filed for each year claimed. One Form 665, U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service schedule to support deduction for depletion of ground water used for irrigation must accompany the claim for each farm. For example: John Doe is filing for a refund for the year 1963. He has three separate farms. The necessary information needed on Form 843 may be consolidated from the information on each Form 665.

The Internal Revenue Forms 665 and 842 are generally self-explanatory. A portion of the information needed to complete these two forms will come from a cost of the water in the land and guideline percentage form. The form containing this information has been prepared by the district. The Internal Revenue Service has agreed to these percentage values for the cost of the water in the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District.

For landowners purchasing or acquiring land other than for the years 1956 and 1966 an interpolation between the saturated thickness maps prepared for 1956 and 1966 will be necessary. For example: John Doe purchased a section of land in 1961. From the 1956 Saturated Thickness Map, he determines there was a saturated thickness of 400 feet under his section. From the 1966 Saturated Thickness Map, he determines that there was a saturated thickness of 375 feet under his land. This was a decline of 25 feet in 10 years, or the average loss was 2.5 feet per year. Therefore, he would multiply five years (1956 to 1961) by 2.5 feet (average decline per year) which would be 12.5 feet that had occurred before he purchased the land. By subtracting this 12.5 feet from 400 feet (as shown on the 1956 Saturated Thickness Map) would give him his basis of 387.5 feet of Saturated Thickness under his section of land at the date of purchase (1961).

John Doe, or his accountant, may pick his loss of water during the crop year 1963 from the decline map for 1963. These decline maps show the decline in feet for the year, throughout the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District. The decline maps for 1964, 1965 and 1966 give the same information for those years. The declines are shown by contours drawn on the maps. Should John Doe's farm not be located on one of the contour lines and is located between two contour lines, he would then use the contour line nearest his section of land.

An example of how this depletion works is given as follows: "The refund results solely from a recalculation of tax due to the allowable cost depletion deduction for ground water used in our business of irrigation farming in accordance with Revenue Ruling 1965-296 and Rec. Proc. 1966-11.

Taxable income per return	$13,674.00
Less: Cost depletion deduction	1,674.00
Corrected taxable income	12,000.00
Corrected Tax	1,720.00
Tax Paid	3,222.00
Refund Requested	$502.00

Farm Safety Week
President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed the week of July 23 as National Farm Safety Week and is urging all persons living on farms and ranches and those in groups allied with agriculture to apply full energy to the ongoing task of reducing accidents in rural areas.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Melvin McCulstion was by our office last week to discuss a matter that many other irrigation farmers will be pondering shortly. Melvin was trying to make a decision on whether to harvest a sizeable acreage of irrigated wheat or graze it out with some 475 pound steers.

Melvin said I haven't averaged over 30 bushels per acre since I established my irrigation well. Gains of one and three-quarters to two pounds daily per steer are not uncommon on irrigated wheat in the Spring of the year. Two head per acre can be run on wheat when watered and fertilized properly. This would mean a gain of three and one half pounds of beef per day is possible on each acre. Multiply this by 60 days of grazing and you come up with a potential production of 210 pounds of beef per acre. Two hundred and ten pounds of beef multiplied by twenty-five cents per CWI would give you a potential of $52.50 per acre.

A 30-bushel wheat crop would gross about $45 per acre based on $1.50 wheat. Harvesting expense would run around $6 per acre. This would leave you a net of about $37 per acre if he elects to harvest the wheat. This would show a $17.50 advantage in favor of grazing out the irrigated wheat.

A few other things to think about. A hail could wipe out the 10-bushel wheat crop in 11 minutes. Grazed-out wheat land is much easier to get back to an irrigated crop without having to wrestle with a big straw crop. With quick action, Melvin could get his cattle off by May 15 (very little pasture after this date). He could then plant a hybrid grazing crop and harvest some more beef.

He could plant to a fast maturing hybrid milo and harvest 4,000 to 5,000 pounds of milo if Mother Nature cooperated with him. These are some 'lop-sided' advantages to grazing out your wheat. Many farmers have been doing just this. One thing you might want to consider is what affect this would have on establishing your base yields with the ASC office. Better talk this one over with them.

We used an estimated price of $1.50 per bushel on the wheat. I can't remember who it was but some one was predicting $2 wheat by Spring 1967. I believe it was the same person that had a dozen malts bet it would come an inch rain by last Saturday night.

With three more weeks of drought through the wheat belt, I will see wheat jump more than it's been jumping the last few days. I'm beginning to believe that $2 per bushel wheat is more logical than as much less.

For many decades in this country supply and demand were the determining factors that set price. This is no longer the case. Other factors far outweigh the supply and demand factors on many commodities. It is the "other factors" that most economists miss their guess on today. Amateurs such as this writer are very prone to miss.

Producers to Report Own Wheat Acreage

Producers will report their own wheat acreage this year. The final wheat acreage can be reported at any time if the producer has decided how much wheat he will leave for harvest, Evelyn Mason Gray County ASCS office manager, said.

Any producer who prefers to pay the cost may request measurement service on wheat. Final data to request measurement service is May 1. The cost is $7 plus $2 for each additional plot, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service personnel reported in the county farm newsletter.

Two Irrigation Programs Planned Next Week in Pampa, Spearman

Two irrigation programs are planned in the Panhandle this week, — one in Spearman Tuesday and one here Thursday. The clinic here will start at 10 a.m. and end by 2:30 p.m. at Community Building, Recreation Park.

Speakers here include James Valentine, area soils chemist, Extension Service, Lubbock; Bill Lyle, extension service irrigation specialist, Lubbock; J. L. McKinney, Layne Bowler Pump, Lubbock; Lynn McDaniels, Pampa Soil Conservation Service; and John Shipley, research economist for sub-experiment station, Etter.

The six subjects to be covered here are fertilizing milo and wheat, developing testing wells, pump selection, application and distributing systems, chemical well treatment, growing irrigated milo and wheat for the top net $1 per acre and soil moisture plant relationship.

Area irrigation farmers and agri-business people on the High Plains will attend the irrigation program at the Spearman Farm Bureau building at 2 p.m. Tuesday. The Agricultural Committee of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce and the Peoples' Natural Gas of Amarillo are co-sponsoring the program.

NEW APPOINTEE — Lawrence D. Smith, assistant state director for the Texas Farmers Home Administration, has been appointed as new FHA rural development officer. Smith will coordinate the Texas FHA's efforts to explain FHA services for rural areas.

Chuck Ashill, Peoples' Spearman representative, is program chairman. He will introduce Troy Sloan, chairman of the chamber's agricultural committee and Melvin Semrad, Peoples' supervisor of market development. Semrad will discuss Peoples' total well-side gas program, now being introduced to High Plains irrigation farmers. He will explain the company's new sub-surface irrigation research project which is expected to be available within the next two years.

Conservation Districts
More than 95 per cent of all the privately owned farm and ranch land in the United States is included in one or more of the nation's 2,995 soil and water conservation districts. The districts are found in every state and Puerto Rico and each has a working agreement with the USDA. They play a major role in soil and water conservation programs and activities.

French-Owned Port Votes on Independence Today

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Alongside the Gulf of Aden close to the mouth of the Red Sea lies the prosperous French-owned port of Djibouti, the buildings of its European quarter gleaming white under the African sun.

Its motley population of Frenchmen, Greeks, Indians, Moslems and Jews and its modern port facilities mark it for what it is, a major port on one of the world's major trade routes.

Its native quarter, with its complaining camels and the her men who bargain noisily in the camel market, give it its link with the desert.

About half of French Somaliland's estimated 75,000 population lives in Djibouti.

Today the population will vote on independence, whether or not to cut the nation's ties with France after a hundred years.

Important Port

French Somaliland, of which Djibouti is the capital, is an enclave on the African coast, bounded on the south by the Somali Republic and by Ethiopia, whose borders also adjoin on the west and north. Across the Gulf lies the British port of Aden.

The British plan to abandon Aden in 1968. Thus Djibouti takes on new importance as a strategic gateway to the Red Sea and the Suez Canal.

Should French Somaliland vote for independence, both Ethiopia and Somali may be tempted to fill the vacuum.

If so it would be another clash of U.S. and Soviet arms in the troubled Middle East.

U.S.-supplied Ethiopia and Soviet-aided Somali already are close to war and both covet the important port. Somalia claims French Somaliland on the basis of its Somali tribesmen, and the charge that the former British, French and Italian colonial powers divided the area without regard for tribal lines.

Selassie Claims Port

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia also claims it. He declared last September that the territory had been Ethiopia's before the French arrived and would be Ethiopian again.

Selassie, further, has a special need for free access to Djibouti. A railroad links the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa with Djibouti which is the principal outlet for Ethiopian exports. The railroad is operated jointly by France and Ethiopia militarily. It would seem no contest. The Ethiopian army outnumbered the 10,000-man Somali army four to one.

Waiting grimly on the side are the French who have moved in 6,000 troops in preparation for Sunday's vote.

Regardless of the outcome, the French say that French Somaliland wants independence, it can have it.

Artistic Hands Prepare For

Pampa Art Club Exhibit Tea

ALL DURING the winter months, the Pampa Art Club meets in member's homes for workshop sessions with such interesting materials as oil, water, acrylic and tempera paints — glass — tin — paper — yarn — and carpet webbing.

IN THE SPRING, when their art work is completed, club members have a tea and invite all their friends to view their handwork — and share with them the techniques of the various art forms.

THE PAMPA ART Club Guest Tea And Exhibit this year will be held April 4-5 in Lovett Memorial Library. The first day is by invitation only. The second day the exhibit is open to the public and can be viewed at anytime during the library's open hours.

STARTING AS a ceramic class, members decided to pursue the world of art further by organizing The Pampa Art Club in April, 1948. Six charter members who still maintain an active membership, are Mmes. A. C. Cox, A. D. Hills, Bethel Shirley, Ann Heskew, C. P. Pursley and O. W. Appleby. The club's first president, Mrs. Dorothy Statton Ponce, now of Amarillo, plans to attend the Guest Day Tea.

PAMPA ART CLUB has an active membership of 20 with five inactive members. Their civic project is providing books on art for Lovett Memorial Library.

CHINA PAINTING — Adding a deft and delicate stroke to a china-painted plate is Mrs. A. D. Hills, whose china painting talent has earned for her an enviable reputation. In addition to a collection in her home, her handpainted china is often given as gifts to friends and will be found in many Pampa homes.

DECOPAGE — Layers of tissue-thin paper applied to oblong boxes, layer after layer, eventually turn out to be handsome gift items for friendship, Christmas or birthday giving. Mrs. James McCune, left, watches Mrs. Gordon Lyons, as she puts the final brush strokes on a gift box. Club members enjoy a fellowship during their meetings, when they interrupt workshops for a noon luncheon of sandwiches and salads, which each has brought from their own homes.

FINAL STROKES — Mrs. Vernon Hall, left, watches Mrs. O. W. Appleby as she adds a final stroke to the pastel water color, she plans to exhibit at the Guest Day Tea. Mrs. Appleby, a charter member, is also a past president of the club.

TOTE BAG — Colorful skeins of yarn can be made into an article of beauty when applied to carpet webbing with skillful hands. Mrs. Ann Heskew, a charter member of the club and its second president, is pictured working on a Tote Bag at a recent workshop session.

GLASS AND TIN, two of the most unlikely materials to be considered decorative suddenly become so, when placed in the hands of two such capable artists as Mrs. Bethel Shirley, standing and Mrs. Dewey Palmittier. Mrs. Shirley will be showing her original (and patented) glass floral arrangements, while Mrs. Palmittier puts finishing touches to tin discs, which will soon find their way into a Christmas decoration.

PAMPANS HAVE been florally deprived this pre-Spring season with the lack of Forsythia display which usually, long before now, adds its sunny blossoms to an otherwise wintry landscape but the gardening-experts says winter moisture is needed to produce blossom-loaded limbs and moisture we haven't had there are a few scraggly bushes around trying valiantly to live up to an established reputation of beauty perhaps next year but there are jonquils and hyacinths and trees beginning to be tinged with green quite the envy of their neighbors in the 1800 block of Beech is the area green lawn of the Sam Begrets stands out like an emerald on a weather-beaten hand Spring came to the office of Olo Gregory this week and a welcome sign it was she had a bouquet of yellow jonquils in a white vase setting in the window of her second-floor county courthouse office.

SPEAKING OF SPRING which we all will be doing more and more when it makes its debut on Wednesday the Pampa Women's Golf Association is offering a cordial invitation to those gals, who have been cooped up at home or leashed to an office desk all winter PWGA is opening its membership to any interested femme golfer whether she be a duffer or a potential "pro" invitations are going out this week to everyone the current members can think of and they are hopeful they are not leaving someone out who might be interested next Thursday morning, on the second day of Spring, they are entertaining with an informal coffee which means Bermuda shorts or slim jims in the Pampa Country Club and are inviting those they think might be interested in knocking a ball around with a club so even if you don't receive a special invitation, they ask that you come out to the club next Thursday morning at ten o'clock for a very nominal membership fee, members are entitled to play every Thursday for a small green fee and have luncheon at the Country Club you don't have to be a member of the club to belong to the Women's Golf Association, Dolores Dooley, golfing prexy, tells us in addition to the Thursday golfing day, the group also has some interesting social affairs tournaments and contests studded throughout the season.

THE DAISY TRAIL on May 7, many Pampans will find themselves following a Daisy Trail to some Pampa homes, where treasures of art may be viewed during the Pampa Fine Arts Association's Home-Art Tour each home will be designated with a daisy opening their homes for the special occasion are The R. "RUGGED ELEGANCE" and "beautiful simplicity" are the four most apt descriptions for the new "Las Pampas Art Gallery", which had its "invitation-only" opening this week Distinctive black wrought-iron script on brick designates the gallery's location on the inside mall at Coronado Center From the moment you step inside, you are transported to such faraway places as Spain Holland Hong Kong Italy Japan Sweden and closer to home, Old Mexico, through the "one of a kind" imported gifts, which adjoins the gallery quarters Rugged elegance is evident in the walls of ordinary redwood planking, which the owners, Doris Johnson, Fauncine Mack, both of Pampa and their partner Mary Elizabeth Corlette of Canyon, hand-finished by using white enamel, turpentine, and black tar adding to the distinctiveness are the wall and overhead lighting fixtures of black iron and amber glass Deep-pile olive carpeting throughout makes gallery-browsing a pleasant adventure especially when the works are by Woody Gwyn; who also shows in the Canyon Art Gallery, the Long Gallery in Houston and the Kennedy Gallery (by invitation) in New York City he has a most dramatic painting in the Las Pampas Gallery of an early 1900 home titled "Rooftops" done in tempera and acrylic tones of brown, black and gray there is the delicate work of G. Harvey, who has been commissioned to "do" the President's Pernalis family home and just to mention a few other artists included in the Las Pampas collection there's Christmas Temple Dirk Van Driest Dr. Emilio Caballero and Mary Creamer There is also an Caballero Corner, where handcraft items of West Texas State University senior and graduate are offered.

ALSO IN the gallery's showings are paintings by Prince Yashohito of Japan, who paints under the pseudonym of "Tachibana" he was a recent guest lecturer at West Texas State University and also had a showing in the Canyon Gallery Mary Elizabeth Corlette and her husband, Dr. James, who is president of WTSU, will leave soon to be house guests of the Prince at one of his three palaces in Japan Dr. Corlette is also to receive a honorary degree from the Nihon University in Tokyo.

IC Forum Studies Floral Arrangements

At a recent meeting of the Twentieth Century Forum Club in the home of Mrs. Robert Waddell, Mrs. John Sweeney presented a program on "The History of the Art of Flower Arrangement."

She stated, "The choice of flowers depends in fact on fashion and so flower arranging is also part of the history of taste."

"Flower arrangements," she said, "reflect the times, feeling and character of a particular period of history or a particular country just as its furniture and clothing do."

Mrs. Sweeney related how man used flowers in the Neolithic Age; in the ancient gardens of Babylonia, Persia and India.

She pointed out the arrangements of the Egyptians were colossal as were their pyramids and temples. "The people of Greece and Rome did not use flowers in vases, but in swags and wreaths and garlands."

The beautiful arrangements of the Italian Renaissance and the Flemish people were described, noting similarities and differences.

"And then came the French," Mrs. Sweeney said. "They changed their styles of decorating and flower arranging as often as they changed their political scene. The French Revolution was a determining factor in changing all art forms. Napoleon dictated the flower styles as well as the politics."

The speaker described bouquets arranged in Georgian Victorian, Early American and Williamsburg eras.

In describing the story of American flower arranging, Mrs. Sweeney said, "This art shows great promise because it is a combination of the great Japanese schools, which work with emphasis on line and the European schools which use great masses of colorful flowers."

Mrs. Sweeney exhibited some of her arrangements in the manner of the Chinese, Japanese, Byzantine and also an interpretive arrangement titled "Oil Field Trash."

Mrs. Ben Fallon appeared briefly during the club meeting to ask for support in her candidacy for trustee on the Pampa Independent School Board.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, include Mmes. Holt Barber, Hugh Barton, Alex Dunn, Jim Carman, Joe Franklin, Robert Harmon, J. R. Holloway, Homer Johnson, McHenry Lane, and Frank Stola.

Woman's Role In Politics Topic For Civic Culture

Things will move forward on the coiffure scene in 1967, reports the Helene Curtis Guild of Professional Beauticians. Bangs will fall across the forehead in a gentle, full sweep. Ears will go partly undercover of soft, short curls that feather up and around the face. Women over 25, it was reported, will elect to wear their hair chib high and above, thereby striking the best balance with knee-cap skirts.

Did you know that you can freeze butter then thaw slowly in the refrigerator when needed?

The Civic Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George Neef, 2545 Christine, for a program titled "A Woman's Point of View in Politics."

Mrs. Neef began her talk with the statement "It was just 50 years ago that the first woman was elected to the congress. Miss Jeanette Rankin, from the state of Montana, served in the House of Representatives. Several years later Mrs. Hattie Caraway won a seat in the senate, the first woman to serve in the upper chamber."

"Over the years," she said, "71 women have been elected to congress; 10 senators and 51 representatives. Today we have 11 women serving in the house, six democrats and five Republicans. We have two senators. Margaret Chase Smith has been prominent in the news as a possible candidate for president."

"These facts," she continued "might lead you to assume that women have had a substantial role in politics for many years. Actually, this role is not as substantial or important as we would like it to be."

"Women should have a better understanding of our economic and political system, because of their importance in the nation's economic life." She asked, "Do you realize that women own better than two-thirds of the nation's wealth; directly control two-thirds of family incomes; own 18 billion dollars in life insurance; comprise fifty-one per cent of all adult share holders in stock and 50 per cent of all savings?"

"If all the women in this country stood together behind one political philosophy, they could pretty well call the tune. The people we elect hold in their hands the shape of things to come. The way we vote determines the kind of government under which we and future generations of Americans will live. It is our duty as well as obligation to choose legislators and public officials with care."

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Frank Grantham, president, Mrs. J. W. Duke reported she had presented a book "Spring Board to discovery" by Mary Lou Lacy to the Highland General Hospital Chapel from the club.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne, president-elect, was named delegate to the district convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Amarillo on March 30-31.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Mmes. Carl Axelson, Chester Williams, Katie Vincent, A. C. Houchin, J. H. Reeves and Emmett Gee.

The next meeting will be March 28 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Reeves, 1805 N. Zimmers.

This is the zaniest year for youth since the flapper era. ABWA Extends Hand Of Friendship To Business Women At Spring Tea

The American Business Women's Association held its annual Spring Hand of Friendship Tea Sunday afternoon from two until four o'clock in the Hospitality Room at Citizen's Bank and Trust Co.

The table was appointed with a gold net tablecloth bordered with black and gold over a gold table cover, centered with a gold metallic runner complemented by an arrangement of gold poppies. The ABWA color scheme of black and gold was carried out in the decorations.

Guests were served by Mrs. Shirley Nichols and Mrs. James Guippper pouring at the punch and coffee service.

Mrs. J. J. Rance, tea chairman, welcomed guests and introduced Mrs. Georgia Mack, moderator for a skit, "To Tell The Truth" which honored the president, Mrs. Vernon Graham. There were four members serving on the panel and three members representing Mrs. Graham. Sketches were given from Mrs. Graham's childhood until the present day, her accomplishments were mentioned, as well as her love for people. Each member of the panel spoke of some outstanding quality and how she used these for the benefit of others. As president of the chapter her greatest success of the year was the recent "Boss Night Banquet".

Mrs. Arville Hayes, vice president, greeted the guest and presented a life-like oil painting of Hilary Bufton, founder of ABWA. Lola Malloy, national extension director, and Mrs. Florence Barrett, national coordinator, painted by Mrs. Ed Wylie, were exhibited during the meeting.

A program outlining the benefits of the Educational Program of ABWA was presented by the following:

Mrs. James Quay told that ABWA came into being because business women recognized a need for a national organization suited to their own needs; such as education, efficiency, earning ability, and their success and happiness. "ABWA is now in its 18th successful year with over 650 active chapters in 46 states, and an active membership of over 40,000," Mrs. Quay said.

Mrs. O. G. Smith explained that members have free consultation privileges. She said the organization has retained an authority on English usage to advise members and all they need do is write national headquarters for an opinion.

Mrs. C. P. Redd gave the unique part of the program which is called "Personalism." "The Dale Carnegie Foundation has reported that 85 per cent of our business and social success is determined by our personality," she reported. All other factors contribute only 15 per cent toward our success. Superior personality pays six times as much in money as does superior knowledge."

Mrs. Danny Malone explained at certain well-known resorts

Mr. and Mrs. (Continued From Page 14) grow and care for roses in our yards." He told how to plant, prune and mulch; He also told how to recognize injurious insects and diseases and how to control them.

Don't overlook the use of orchids for floral arrangements in your home or apartment, says the Society of American Florists. A simple yet elegant design can be created, for example, by using only three cymbidium orchids with fruits in a small balanced maple scale of Early American style. The orchids may be inserted in the design by using small water picks available at your nearest florist, SAF adds.

Mrs. Helen Graham reported ABWA has arranged with one of America's largest insurance companies to furnish members with a special, Group Accident Contract.

Mrs. Ted Mastin gave a summarization of the benefits of the organization and enumerated on the plan available for all candidates who wished to take advantage of becoming a member of the Pampa Chart Chapter.

Attorney Explains Importance Of Wills For Business Women

John Warner, corporation judge and practicing attorney in Pampa for five years, discussed the importance of Wills at the American Business Women's Association dinner meeting Tuesday in Jackson's Cafeteria.

Judge Warner explained that a Will is an "instrument in writing that describes how a person wishes their affairs handled at the time of their death."

"To make a Will," he said, "a person must be 19 years of age or over, of a sound mind, and with the legal capacity to do so."

Judge Warner told the group it is advisable to make a Will for several reasons. "A Will can save the state money on bonding and attorney's fees; also there would be less friction and trouble among heirs."

He also stated that when a person is moving to another state, it is advisable to wait until one is located before making a Will because of the difference in state laws.

"Having your will checked by an attorney every two or three years is a good plan, because of the changing of laws; when one seeks legal advice in writing their Will they may rest assured their property will be distributed and divided according to their wishes."

A vocational speech was given by Miss Barbara Smiley, who finished high school in Lufkin; attended Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla. and later took a business course at the Modern Business School in Pampa. She also told of the different places of employment and the position she held since she had started in the business world.

New members were installed by Mrs. Vernon Graham, president, in a candlelight ceremony. A single white taper was lighted by the sponsor of each new member to welcome her into the chapter. Mrs. Graham announced the new members name, gave her position, and the firm with which she is associated; Mrs. Carl Thomas sponsored by Mrs. C. A. Herd; Mrs. J. G. Shelton sponsored by Mrs. Shirley Nichols; Mrs. R. V. Masterson sponsored by Mrs. Arville Hayes; and Mrs. John Furr sponsored by Mrs. Blanche Lyons.

Mrs. Noia Wiley was welcomed as guest of Mrs. Danny Malone.

Members attending were Mmes. Vernon Graham, Arville Hayes, Danny Malone, Homer McNeil, T. A. Mastin, Cecil Davis; C. A. Herd, O. G. Smith, Ben Organ, Blanche Lyons, J. J. Rance, Eugene Franklin, James Quay, C. P. Reed, Shirley Nichols, Alta Mae McElreath, Eunice Maddox, Ed Wylie, Given Vance, T. J. Dear Abby: Dreamer Shouldn't Be Guilty About Dreams

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with me? I have been happily married for 15 years and we have three lovely children. Every night I dream about a certain man who is a good friend of my husband and mine. He is also married and has a nice family. I am so ashamed of myself I don't know what to do.

GRANDMA wrote, complaining because she had grandsons in the service, but a fat, lazy, 22-year-old slob of a neighbor kid sat around doing nothing. He bragged that his hobbies were sleeping and, said he keeps his blood pressure up on pills so he can't pass the physical.

In these dreams he is kissing me and loving me. We are carrying on something fierce. I don't know if we are married in these dreams or not, all I know is we just go right ahead like there was no right or wrong.

Every time I see this man and his wife I feel so guilty I could die. His wife is such a nice person, and so is he, and my hand to God, he has never even looked sideways at me. What worries me is I seem to be enjoying these dreams. Please help me.

CAN'T WAIT TO RETIRE
DEAR CAN'T: You need not feel guilty for what you do in your dreams. As long as you don't try to make your dreams come true (in this instance) there's nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my sister got married. At the reception her husband cornered me and kissed me. Only it was not the kind of kiss a bridegroom usually gives his new sister-in-law.

I haven't said anything to anybody, of course, but now when I see him he acts like it never happened, but I can't look him in the eye. What should I do?

PASSIONATELY KISSED
DEAR KISSED: Forget it. He probably has.

DEAR ABBY: A lady signed

Talks About Everything But God

THIS IS Sunday, so let's editorialize a bit on the National Council of Churches.

THE PUBLICITY Department of the NCC recently sent us a summary of action taken by the general board of the council at its winter business meeting held in Chicago.

The compendium shows that the delegates acted on a variety of matters. Such things as recommending that laws governing conscientious objectors be relaxed and broadened and urging "truth in lending" legislation. They also disposed of other items in the same general category.

The thing is, the handout did not say anything about a prayer meeting or a sermon at the NCC session, an omission that struck us as a little strange. Since this was a meeting of churchmen. But maybe the NCC has been so busy lobbying for tax money to spread the social gospel it has lost sight of the teachings of the Bible.

The summary, we assume, gives an outline of the NCC work program and should provide members of affiliated churches with a general idea of how their dues money is spent. We found it interesting and thought you might like to look it over. Here it is.

1. To general board:
- RECOMMENDED extension of selective service laws to permit selective conscientious objection of particular wars and specific acts of war and to recognize that conscience need not be religiously motivated in order to be conscientious.

- ORDERED an independent study by the NCC of current proposals for a publicly owned national system of noncommercial educational television, and of "appropriate means whereby education, information, and analysis concerning religion may be included in the programming of such a system."

- ADOPTED a policy statement recommending to member denominations a set of principles on the acceptance of public funds for social and health services to the community at large.

COMMISSIONED The Rev.

Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, NCC first vice president and chief executive of the American Baptist Convention, to lead a delegation visiting U.S. armed forces personnel in Vietnam and Okinawa at Easter time.

URGED the nation's churches and their agencies and members to support higher, rather than lower, budgetary appropriations for the government's war on poverty.

HEARD an address by Dr. Benjamin F. Payton, executive director of the NCC's new Department of Social Justice, urging rapid church planning to alleviate the crisis of America's cities.

HEARD the Rev. Dr. Howard F. Schomer, new NCC Division of Overseas Ministries executive recently returned from a tour of Southeast Asia, urge immediate planning for a post-war rehabilitation work in South Vietnam.

AUTHORIZED a "Colloquium on the Church and New Directions in Higher Education," a major three-year research project designed to help the church understand what is happening in higher education and enable it to make substantial contributions to the solution of critical questions now facing colleges and universities.

RESPONDED with enthusiastic discussion to an indictment of "false values" in American higher education by Steven Johnson—a recent Harvard graduate now staffing an experimental "Radical Education Project" at the University of Michigan.

VOTED a "truth in lending" resolution which registered support in principle of legislation which will require all lenders to inform all borrowers in clear terms dollar costs and annual interest rates on each loan.

WAS INFORMED that the NCC has received minor financial assistance from foundations now under inquiry into alleged links with the CIA, having accepted such gifts without prior knowledge of such links.

19-Year-Old Draft May Aid Deferred

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — The drafting of 19-year-olds first will cause some complications.

For one thing, it will give more of those with student, occupational or other deferments virtually a free ride. It will thus put "an unusually heavy premium on deferments."

As a result, pressure undoubtedly will be put on local boards by relatives and influential friends of young men who want deferments.

A young man deferred for four years of college now has roughly the same chance of going into the armed forces as a man who has not been deferred. That comes from selecting the older men first.

In the way it has been, assuming the young man graduates from college at a normal age and isn't given a deferment for graduate school, the deferred student after graduation is close to the top of the draft list.

This being at the top of the list makes up for the fact that some men have acquired children during their college career and that some are in worse physical condition than they were at 19.

But under the new proposals, in which 19-year-olds are drafted first and deferred young men are thrown into a later 19-year-old pool when their deferments have expired, their chance of being called is much less.

Instead of being at the top of the priority list, the formerly deferred are a small group in a large pool from which names are to be drawn by chance. Many of that minority of college students who are now shouting so loudly for the end of student deferments would thus get off free under the proposals now planned and those being considered.

There's a simple technique, however, that could, in part, remedy this defect. All 19-year-olds could be selected for the draft as though there were no student deferments. Each 19-year-old selected for the draft could then be required to take ROTC or some equivalent officers' training course during his college career.

If there weren't such a course in his school, the student would be required to join an evening group in his locality for a series of summer training camps. He would understand that he would be required to serve as an enlisted man on completing college if he did not complete his officers' training course.

The young man would also be informed that, since he had been selected by a fair and impartial system, having children after his selection and before his service would not normally exempt him from military duty.

Vietnam Military and Propaganda Offensives Expected in April at Time of Latin-American Summit

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — In preparation for his strategy meetings in Guam during the weekend, President Johnson was warned to expect two new offensives against the administration's expanding war efforts.

Both attacks — a North Vietnam military offensive and intensified anti-war demonstrations in the U.S. — will be launched almost simultaneously in mid-April.

Timing of these drives, while the President attends a summit meeting in Latin America, is believed to be more by design than coincidence.

At a White House planning session for his trip, the President was told by his military advisers that a two-pronged military offensive by Hanoi is expected in the central and northern areas of South Vietnam when the rainy season begins next month.

More than 35,000 North Vietnam troops are poised in the Red sanctuary in Cambodia prepared to strike across the border into the 2nd Corps area with the support of heavy artillery and rockets.

This Red offensive, which could develop into the largest ground battle of the war, is expected to be supported by a second North Vietnam drive across the demilitarized zone into the First Corps area of northern South Vietnam.

A buildup of from 25,000 to 30,000 enemy troops north of the demilitarized zone has taken place since January, despite stepped up U.S. bombing raids and attacks by heavy artillery and naval guns.

HOME FRONT ATTACK — The latest intelligence from the U.S. military command in Saigon pinpoints April 8 to 15 as the jumping-off time for the NNorth Vietnam offensive.

This is the same period picked by the Spring Mobilization Movement and the Student Anti-Vietnam Committee for anti-bombing and anti-draft demonstrations throughout the U.S.

Government informants, who sat in on the planning sessions of these groups in Cleveland last month, revealed that Rev. James Bevel, the principal organizer, expects a half million men when their relief wears off.

Q—Are there any early warning signs of bone cancer? Can it be discovered through a blood test? What is the treatment?

A—in one type of bone cancer, multiple myeloma, certain changes in the blood proteins are diagnostic. In most bone cancers, however, the diagnosis is made by X-ray changes often appearing before there are any symptoms, one cancer causes pain only if the fibrous sheath surrounding the bone (the periosteum) is involved. Irradiation with X-ray benefits some, but not all, bone cancers. A recent study indicates that freezing may kill bone cancers. This work is still experimental.

FEDERAL SUBSIDY FOR STUDENT POLITICS

There has been a great deal of agitated public discussion following the disclosure that the National Student Association (NSA) has been receiving large amounts of money from the Central Intelligence Agency over the past decade. This discussion has concentrated on the CIA as the "villain of the piece," with the constant implication that the money was paid to NSA so that its student members would help the CIA in spying.

All this talk has distracted attention from the record of what NSA has actually done on college campuses. Whatever NSA may have done for the C.A., obviously the large subsidy of CIA funds gave NSA an opportunity to do much more on campus than would otherwise have been possible.

For more than fifteen years the National Student Association has been one of the principal organizers of farleft activities on campus. Its national conventions, claiming to speak for millions of students only dimly aware of NSA's existence, have taken positions such as support for Fidel Castro's educational policy in Cuba, sympathy for Japanese students whose rioting forced the President of the United States to cancel a visit to Japan, and a call for abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

NSA leaders have mounted well-organized and well-financed campaigns to keep their place on the campus in the face of challenge by constructive student groups. They have maintained a full-time national office and staff. It is now clear that CIA money helped make this possible. Intelligence work is CIA's proper mission. It should keep out of student politics.

He also charged, "The price of continuing the war that our soldiers and the people who live there must pay is too great to warrant any further delay in seeking negotiations."

After reading these remarks, the President banged the table exclaiming, "Those words are the words of a . . ."

A Chip Off The Old Blockhead

(Chicago Tribune)

Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana lacks the flamboyance of his late father, Huey, but what he says sometimes make just as little sense as anything the old Kingfish put out during his crusade to "share the wealth."

As acting majority leader and chairman of the Senate finance committee, it was incumbent upon Mr. Long to present the other day while the Senate "debated" the proposed $6 billion increase in the national debt limit. Only six other senators were more conscientious enough to show up, and were rewarded by hearing Mr. Long discourse on the advantages of inflation.

In reply to a challenge by Sen. Curtis, Republican of Nebraska,

Mr. Long warned that federal spending was going to keep up and that a further increase in the debt limit may be needed in the fall. Then he said: "Generally speaking, inflation helps those who owe money and hurts those who lend it. Those who decry the evils of inflation point appropriately to all of the bad features, which I do not deny. In perspective, though, it is appropriate to note that inflation causes the burden of one's debt to shrink — including the burden of the federal government's debt."

Mr. Long implies, first, that it is desirable for the burden of debts to shrink, and second, that the alleged benefits accruing from this outweigh the "bad features" which he acknowledges and then dismisses.

On the first point, Mr. Long, like other apologists for inflation, is begging the question. He is saying, in effect, that inflation is desirable because inflation causes the burden of one's debt to shrink — including the burden of the federal government's debt."

Mr. Long says, in effect, that inflation is desirable because inflation causes the burden of one's debt to shrink — including the burden of the federal government's debt."

On the second point, inflation minded politicians always speak of the "lenders" who will be hurt as if they represented only a few rich bankers and others. In fact, everyone who saves money for his old age and invests it in bonds or in insurance is a victim of inflation. The glorification of borrowing and the discouragement of lending is part of the doctrine that we must all rely on the government to care for us in our declining years. And why? Because only the government can protect us from inflation by increasing the benefits it pays us, without regard to its assets or its income. This argument gets no farther than the first. It is like saying that inflation is good because there is going to be inflation anyway.

While Mr. Long defends an inflation which will help borrowers and hurt lenders, the treasury department is planning to issue a new savings note to raise money to meet the federal deficit. Perhaps Mr. Long's warning should be printed on these notes, like the warning on cigarettes: "Inflation hurts lenders. Therefore investing in these notes may be hazardous to your finances."

If you think Perry Mason is an aging whiz kid because of his courtroom gymnastics be assured that he has nothing on his creator, Erle Stanley Gardner, whose energy is boundless. This lawyer-turned-author dictates an average of 10,000 words a day and often works on a half dozen Perry Mason stories simultaneously. His workroom is a veritable literary production line. . . . The cigarette makers haven't trouble enough trying to combat the cancer scare. We read recently that some doctor now believes persons with low blood sugar may find that excessive smoking causes dizziness or a feeling of uncertainty.

Today's smile: Art Moger, the TV wit and author, tells us about the woman who killed her husband with words. She beat him over the head with a big dictionary.

Everyone knows the words and music of one of the most popular songs of all time, "Happy Birthday to You." But it came as a surprise to us to learn that its correct title is "Good Morning to All" and it was written in the late 1800's by Patty and Mildred Hill, two sisters, and originally appeared in a volume entitled "Song Stories for the Kindergarten." . . . In this country the word Kiwi is associated with a shoe polish, but in New Zealand it refers to a bird incapable of flight.

Thoughts while shaving: The nursery tale, Little Red Riding Hood is of European origin. With slight alterations it is common in the folklore of Sweden, Germany and France. The American version derived from the French and in turn they probably swiped it from Italy. Cinderella is definitely of German origin and dates back to the 16th century. Incidentally, the late Hap Ward, actor's agent and theater historian, once told us that most Hollywood films and Broadway hits were nothing more than skillfully contrived versions of the Cinderella story. If you analyze most plays and film stories you will find that Ward was right. Chess is considered the most popular game in Soviet Russia, but the Communies have changed some of the "capitalistic" aspects of the game. The chess pieces in Moscow are called "officers" instead of "knights"; "rooks" are called "towers"; and a "bishop" is an "elephant." However they haven't changed the rules yet. . . . Wit and Whimsy

At one time in 1863, when all the prominent personages were called upon to make speeches, Lincoln at his turn said:

President Lincoln—I appear before you, fellow-citizens, merely to thank you for the compliment. The inference is a very fair one that you would hear me for a little while at least, were I to commence to make a speech. I do not appear before you for the purpose of doing so, and for several substantial reasons. The most substantial of these is that I have no speech to make. In my position it is somewhat important that I should not say any foolish things. (A voice, "If you can help it.") It very often happens that the only way to help it is to say nothing at all. Believing that is my present condition this evening, I must beg of you to excuse me from addressing you further.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Polluted rivers and streams have become a major problem for the United States, and one that will eventually cost the country billions of dollars to solve. Almost one-fourth of the nation's municipalities empty untreated wastes into the nearest stream, says The World Almanac. In addition, another 31 per cent give only primary treatment to wastes before disposing of them.

'The Lively Corpse'

By ROSALIE M. GORDON

Editor, America's Future — Are so-called "progressive" methods of education still as rampant in our schools as they once were? This question is being asked by many parents who say they don't hear too much any more about "progressive" or "permissive" or "modern" methods of education — the methods which, during the past 30 or 40 years, turned out millions of youngsters who couldn't read, write, add, or spell decently and who were denied sound teaching about American history, institutions, and standards of political, economic and social life.

But these parents and others interested in the real education of our young Americans say that while little is heard of "progressive education," they wonder, as they observe the sort of schooling youngsters get in many places, if it isn't still very much with us but disguised, because of all the criticism, under different names and covered up with a smattering of sounder methods to deceive the critics.

There is probably no one better qualified to answer this all-important question than Dr. Max Rafferty, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of California. He has, he says, "been crusading for some time against the greatest evil ever to be inflicted upon education" — namely "progressive" or "life-adjustment" education. In a recent address to the Reading Reform Foundation in New York, Dr. Rafferty answered the question of whether this "greatest evil" is still with us. He not only answered it; he explained vividly and clearly what it is, how to recognize it, and how—very simply—you can find out if it is still used in your school to mis-educate your children.

America's Future, Inc., has reprinted Dr. Rafferty's most revealing speech in a handy little folder called "Progressive Education: The Lively Corpse" — and a very lively corpse it turns out to be. The present and future of America's youngsters demand that every parent, teacher and school official should be informed about this subject.

America's Future, 542 Main Street, New Rochelle, N. Y. 10802, will be happy to supply up to 10 copies, without charge, of Dr. Rafferty's statement to anyone who requests it.

A thought for the day—American President Woodrow Wilson said: "Well, that is the way I know I am an American. America is the only idealist nation in the world."

In 1942, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Commander in Chief of Allied Forces in the Pacific, issued his famous "I shall return" statement. He returned to take the Philippines.

Pollen Count Not Always Accurate Hay Fever Guide

Although the hay fever season for most victims doesn't start until August or September, when ragweed pollen dissemination is at its height, now is the time to start desensitization shots for the greatest protection. Desensitization appears to work well in some victims and not so well in others. The reasons for this are not clear. Some persons even continue their desensitization shots year-round with good results.

For those in whom desensitization is not effective, avoidance of the allergen (the pollen of ragweed or some other plant) is the next best form of treatment. This would mean planning a vacation in Canada or the northern states during the hay fever season.

Dr. Murray Albert of New York warns that many victims place too great a reliance on the daily pollen counts so popular on news broadcasts. They are a poor guide to the actual case because the counting methods are often grossly inaccurate. On the other hand their psychological effect may greatly influence a victim's symptoms.

When the source of the trouble cannot be avoided, antihistamines usually give adequate relief. Only if these measures have failed should the victim use such cortisone-like drugs as methylprednisone. A newer drug—oxy-metazoline (Afrin), obtainable only on a doctor's prescription—is said to relieve hay fever symptoms and to have the advantage that there is no rebound (increased nasal stuffi-

Birkett is Believer Of England's Titles

NEW YORK — British producer Michael Birkett is a firm believer in titles.

Birkett's fondness for nobility titles might be explained by the fact that his formal title is Lord Michael Birkett.

Birkett's current motion picture project also reflects his interest in titles. It has one of the longest and most impressive titles in film history:

"The Persecution and Assassination of Jean-Paul Marat as Performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton Under the Direction of the Marquis de Sade."

Marat-Sade is Lord Birkett's second venture into the world of film production. His first solo venture as a producer was the film version of Harold Pinter's "The Caretakers."

Birkett's interest in motion pictures began in his youth and intensified while he was a student at Trinity College, Cambridge.

"My university education was a slight misnomer," he recalls, "as my three years at Cambridge were spent mostly in cinemas, becoming obsessed with films."

Determined to get a job in the motion picture industry after leaving Cambridge, Birkett was delighted to receive a post in what was called the Production Planning Department at the Ealing Studios outside London.

When he concluded after a year and a half that the maximum responsibilities of his position were going to be script reading and answering telephones, he took out union membership. He was then allowed to observe studio mechanics at closer range by carrying cups of tea onto the stages.

He worked for several years as third, second and first directors on films made at Ealing and the MGM studios before branching out into production.

Birkett's title and his membership in Parliament's House of Lords is hereditary, inherited upon the death five years ago of his father Norman Birkett, a noted judge.

Birkett, 37, says his title makes "absolutely no difference" to his film career.

"but it is extremely useful in getting reservations at restaurants!"

He says he is proud to sit in the House of Lords but he only attends debates when they concern motion pictures, theater or television, "something I know a bit about."

He says he has all the robes and wigs required for the opening of Parliament, "but they're in cold storage most of the time."

Birkett and his wife, Junia, who have been married five years, note that they much prefer the company of motion picture people to other peers and socialites.

"I'm afraid we're really snobs," Birkett says. "We movie people have only one thing we like to talk about... our trade... and that would be a terrible bore to socialites!"

Fearless Woody Allen Sticks His Neck Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedian Woody Allen has to be one of the most fearless men in show business.

Allen stars in the James Bond film "Casino Royale." Appearing with him therein are such sexpots as Ursula Andress, Dalilah Lavi and Joanna Pettet.

Allen recently declared the only two sex symbols he could think of among actresses were Brigitte Bardot and Julie Christie.

While there was no comment from his co-stars in "Casino Royale," there was plenty of reaction from other prominent folk of the entertainment world, including:

Keir Dullea: "I wonder if Woody knows something the rest of us guys don't!"

Tony Curtis: "Mr. Allen is not only short, he's shortsighted!"

Jane Morgan: "Since Mrs. Allen is in show business, I wonder how SHE feels about her husband's statement."

Barbra Streisand: "And Woody should know, since he's one of the two sexiest males in show business. The other one is Menasha Skulnik!"

Bobby Vinton: "I know a thousand sexy girls in show business who will all chip in to buy Mr. Allen the glasses he obviously needs!"

Sandy Dennis: "How can you

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cancellation of the "Bob Hope Presents The Chrysler Theater" weekly series on the NBC network next season doesn't mean the comedian will be idle in video. The same sponsor will present him on NBC in nine specials. Under the present setup Hope has been playing only seven times personally; otherwise serving merely to introduce the program's dramas.

"Combat" will be gone from ABC on Tuesday nights beginning next fall, but World War II still hold forth in that 7:30-8:30 p.m. spot. The new series will be "Garrison's Gorillas," starring Ron Harper in charge of a band of guerrillas on leave from U.S. prisons with a chance to win pardons if they survive the desperate assignments given them.

Statistics: Next fall, "Daniel Boone" will be starting its fourth season on NBC, "The Virginian" will head into its sixth for the same network, and "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color" will begin its seventh go-round for NBC. There was, of course, a Disney hour in black and white on ABC for several years before it moved over to NBC and color.

It will be no problem for CBS to come up with a program, western or otherwise, that will have as much action as the cancelled "Gunsmoke," but one wonders if it will find a replacement that will, in the writing and playing, provide as many amusing sidelights as "Gunsmoke" has had, even when it was only a half-hour program in the earlier years. The humor never dominated, but it was a refreshing ingredient that gave "Gunsmoke" an edge in the western field as supplied largely through exchanges between the Doc Adams character, so admirably played by Melvin Stone, and (originally) the deputy played by Denis Weaver and (later) the Festus role played so amusingly by Ken Curtis. This will be missed.

Old Vic Company Makes Southwest Stand In Dallas At Music Hall

The famous Old Vic Company of Bristol, England, will make its only southwestern appearance in Dallas, April 11 through 15, at the State Fair Music Hall. It will be the first return visit of this great theatrical company since 1958 when Neiman-Marcus and the State Fair of Texas were co-presentors. The 1967 visit is being jointly sponsored by Neiman-Marcus and Concerts, Inc.

This Dallas presentation of the Old Vic is part of an extended tour of the United States and Canada under the aegis of S. Hurok. Beginning in January, the tour included a three-week engagement at New York City Center in late February—an engagement that was hailed with extravagant praise by New York critics.

Three plays will be offered to southwestern audiences during the April visit to Dallas: "Measure for Measure," in the new production directed by Tyrone Guthrie and designed by Graham Barlow; "Romeo and Juliet," staged by Val May, director of the Old Vic company, and designed by Catherine Browne; and "Hamlet," also directed by Val May, with sets by Graham Barlow and costumes by Audrey Price.

Phillips Official Given Gas Honor

HOUSTON — The Hanlon Award, highest honor in the natural gas processing industry and one of the ranking awards of the petroleum industry, was conferred recently on G. W. McCullough, vice president of Engineering for Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville.

He is the thirty-first recipient of the award, which is presented annually by the Natural Gas Processors Association for outstanding service to the gas processing industry. Donor of the award is the National Bank of Tulsa, which continues the honor established in 1937 by the late E. I. Hanlon, former NBT board chairman and a pioneer in the gas processing industry.

The presentation, made by NGPA president A. L. Vaughan at the Association's annual convention here, is in recognition of McCullough's leadership in design and commercial development of gas processing facilities and petrochemical processes based on light hydrocarbons. In addition, his long record of achievement in industry work to enlarge and upgrade markets for light hydrocarbons was cited.

Pipeline Company Agrees To Sell Volume of Natural Gas

HOUSTON (Sp) — An agreement to sell more than 1.7 trillion cubic feet of natural gas over a period of 20 years for $394,565,000 to Cities Service Gas Co. of Oklahoma City was announced Friday by Transwestern Pipeline Co., Houston.

Basil P. Kantzer, Transwestern president, stated that the sale was in addition to an existing sale of 100 million cubic feet daily for 20 years to Cities Service, consummated in 1965.

Kantzer said the new contract provided for the additional delivery of 100 million cubic feet per day commencing in November, 1968, and increasing at the rate of 50 million cubic feet per day for each of the following three years amounting to a total of 250 million cubic feet daily.

By November, 1971, Transwestern will be selling to Cities Service a total volume of 350 million cubic feet per day. The company will install facilities costing in excess of $30 million connecting the gas supplies to deliver the additional volumes.

Along with Transwestern's present contract sales of 640 million cubic feet to Pacific Lighting Service and Supply Co. of Los Angeles, the company will then be transporting over one billion cubic feet of gas per day throughout its system.

Transwestern is presently negotiating with Pacific Lighting for additional sales and hopes to soon place even more gas into the Southern California market.

The additional volumes of gas needed to supply Transwestern's sales requirements will be furnished from the company's supply area in the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle and the Permian Basin in West Texas and New Mexico, with a substantial portion of the gas provided from the Deep Ellenburger fields in the Permian Basin. Deliveries will be made to Cities Service from Transwestern's system in Hemphill County.

National Window

The left wing elements of the Democratic coalition who tried and failed in 1948 to deny their party's presidential nomination to Harry S. Truman are maneuvering now to block President Johnson in 1968.

It is inconceivable that they can succeed. But it also is a fact that nothing is impossible in politics. The rebellious lefties this time have one great advantage Harry Truman's opponents lacked in 1948. The lefty elements out to get Johnson have an alternate candidate.

He is Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, look-alike brother of their murdered President. He talks like JFK too and Robert Kennedy has been able to parlay this resemblance into a national reputation and a chance to be nominated for president in 1972, if not next year.

The liberal lefties who tried to get rid of Truman in 1948 were unable to find anyone of political merit to oppose him in the 1948 Democratic National Convention. They learned the hard way the political rule that you can't beat somebody with nobody.

With Bobby Kennedy available as an alternate, the liberal lefties of 1967-68 have assailed Johnson. His offense is that he is fighting the war in Southeast Asia as though he intended that the United States should win it. That was Barry Goldwater's policy in the 1964 presidential election campaign. In that campaign Johnson flattered with the doves.

The left liberal dove cotes are a writer now with maledictions, Johnson is accused of having broken the faith, of having run out on his 1964 campaign promises, of escalating the war in Southeast Asia toward an American victory. For these sins, the left liberals would prevent LBJ's renomination next year.

The left liberals find themselves in the unhappy situation of the hero of a current Washington wisecrack. It is that a true believer in the Great Society was bemoaning Johnson's preoccupation with the Vietnam war.

This Democrat complained: "We voted for Johnson in 1964 and we got Goldwater."

The drive to unseat Johnson is captained by the ivory tower intellectuals of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). ADA's Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. last week accused LBJ of misrepresenting recent proposals for negotiations outlined by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Schlesinger, an Ivy League associate of the late President Kennedy, said that LBJ evidently did not desire to negotiate now for an end of fighting in Southeast Asia.

At a liberal rally, Rep. Don Edwards (D-Calif.), ADA chairman, said the coalition with which LBJ won the 1964 election had been splintered by administration foreign policy. Theodore C. Sorenson, who was special counsel to the late President Kennedy, joined the chorus by suggesting that the President would be acting in accord with precedent if he did not seek renomination next year.

"Of all vice presidents who originally succeeded to the White House as President Johnson did," said Sorenson, "by virtue of their predecessors' death, not one ever has sought to be re-elected for a second full term."

POISON WARNING
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General William H. Stewart today cautioned the paint, kerosene or other potential poisons in glasses or bottles which children associate with drinking.

Stewart, calling attention to the observance of National Poison Prevention Week starting Monday, reported that 2,000 Americans die of poisoning from aspirin, lighter fluid, furniture polish, detergents, pesticides and other harmful liquids each year.

More than a million Americans, mostly children under 5, accidentally drink poisonous substances each year, he said.

HANDSHAKES LIMITED
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is wearing a cast on his right wrist as a result of a fall on a slippery floor.

His office said he slipped on a freshly mopped floor in the downstairs lobby of his apartment building Thursday, and doctors discovered Friday he had chipped a bone in his wrist.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. William Jennings Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., was quoted recently as saying that Congress should have its own marching band. He told Roll Call, a Capitol Hill weekly, that the organization of a band and drill unit within the Capitol police force might help improve the congressional "image."

According to Roll Call, Dorn "envisioned a ceremony comparable to the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace in England."

Well, gosh and gee whizz! That's about the best idea I've heard in a long time. I get all misty-eyed just thinking about it.

Lacking In Pageantry
I have always felt that Congress was a little short on ceremony, and such rituals as it has are lacking in pageantry. A band would go a long way toward bridging the pomp-and-circumstance gap.

Dorn's proposal, however, will not find easy going. Being by nature meek and diffident men, his colleagues may feel that having their own band would be putting in airs.

I recall a few years ago someone introduced a bill to provide House members with their own flag. But when they ran it up on the House floor, nobody would salute it. Then there is the matter of the Capitol's great west wall. Architect J. George Stewart has warned that strong vibrations, like maybe a sonic boom, could make the wall collapse and topple the Capitol dome.

No Loud Noises
Until such time as the west front is either replaced or repaired, it might be wise to put a mute on the sousephone. Ah, but it would be glorious if the band could be formed. There are so many occasions where a little band music would be appropriate.

A ceremony comparable to the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace could be arranged when the cops on the night shift come on duty. And that would only be the starter.

Take each fall immediately after adjournment when senators and representatives take off on junkets to various parts of the earth. The band could give them a proper send-off. I can see them now, marching off to the airports, docks and depots, while the band plays a medley of "Anchors Aweigh," "Faraway Places with Strange Sounding Names" and "Around the World in 80 Days."

And when a congressman is unseated, as happened recently to Adam Clayton Powell, the band could be on hand to ceremonialize his departure. "I Shall Return" might be the appropriate tune.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. says the present feeling in the investment community is that the administration has switched its policy from restraining the economy to bolstering it. The analyst believes this policy switch is bullish enough to offset the bearish impact of currently deteriorating business and earnings.

John W. Schulz of the "Trend & Value" market report says the forthcoming restoration of the investment tax credit has set the stage for a better performance by the blue chip industrials which, until recently, have been lagging behind the market as a whole.

Bache & Co. says there probably will be some digestive period in the face of recent strong gains but the decisive breach of the 860 area in the Dow Jones industrial average may have paved the way for an assault on the 900 mark in the near future.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
It's getting close to cherry blossom time in Japan. Emperor Hirohito has a shiny new limousine. And for Prime Minister Eisaku Sato the ancient chant marking the end of winter indeed has come true. It goes: "Fuku-wa uchi, oni-wa soto," and it means "fortune in, devils out."

In more than 2,000 years of recorded history, the Japanese people never had it so good. Thus it was that Sato was able to make two important announcements at the opening of the new session of the Japanese Diet without fear of successful contradiction.

One was that Japan would extend its security treaty with the United States beyond 1970 when it comes up for review by both Tokyo and Washington.

The other was that Japan would extend its assistance to developing nations. The two aptly illustrate the Japan of today.

Value of Treaty
The security treaty is the instrument which enables Japan to live under the nuclear protection of the United States and to pursue a remarkably successful foreign policy which separates politics from economics.

Under this policy, Japan sells 25 per cent of her exports to the outer; maintains diplomatic relations with Nationalist China on Formosa; does business in Red China, and works toward slowly improving relations with the Soviet Union. With the latter she is hopeful of working out soon a $300 million deal to help develop Siberia.

Involved is development of a new oil field and a copper mine, and construction of a new oil pipeline and new pulp and paper plants.

By adhering strictly to a non-political foreign policy Japan has been able to expand her economic role in Asia to nations holding such widely divergent views as anti-Communist South Korea and neutralist Burma. At the same time she has been able to avoid any charges that she is attempting to build a Japan-dominated co-prosperity sphere.

Expand Foreign Aid
Japanese foreign aid, which Sato now promises to expand, has been running at a rate of $485 million a year.

It is not, of course, wholly idealistic, nor is it entirely for the benefit of the struggling nations of East and Southeast Asia.

It is also a search for expanding markets to help maintain an economy which has been bounding ahead at a rate of 10 per cent a year and with little signs of slowing.

Japan leads the world in shipbuilding, stands second in chemicals, third in steel and autos and fourth in textiles. Unemployment is among the lowest in the world.
