Economy Maintained Advancing Pace Despite Late '66 Slump

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite a slowdown in automobile and appliance sales and a further slump in homebuilding, the economy maintained its advancing pace during the last three months of 1966.

The Commerce Department reports that weak spots in the economy were offset by spending on defense and consumer services, and by a sharp buildup of business inventories.

One government economist called the inventory buildup "disturbing" and there was general agreement it should be watched carefully in coming months as a possible precursor of a downward economic cycle.

This indicator will take on added significance as Congress prepares to take up President Johnson's proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge. The tax proposal was based in part on the assumption the economy will need some insurance against overexuberance in the second half of 1967.

The Gross National Product (GNP), or the market value of all goods and services produced in the country, rose $1.2 billion in an annual rate during the last quarter of 1966, the Commerce Department said Sunday.

The advance was only slightly more than the revised figure of $1.3 billion for the previous quarter. The GNP rose $1.1 billion in April, May and June and shot up $1.8 billion in the boom's first three months of the year.

The fourth quarter increase carried the GNP to an annual rate of $78.1 billion, up $56.3 billion or 8.5 per cent—over 1965.

The real production gain for year was about $37 billion or 5.4 per cent. Inflation added another $1.3 billion to the GNP, as prices increased only 1.75 per cent.

In 1922, New Mexico was married Marva Curtis.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—With six movies a week now on network television, pressures are tremendous on the other series—those that compete with the films, and those shelved because of the motion pictures.

The shelved series include those that cannot even get off the ground—cannot be produced—because the movies have taken away 12 hours a week of prime time that normally would go to other shows. This point has been of particular concern to the labor unions of Hollywood, which are naturally quite cognizant of how many jobs their members are being deprived of because of the films.

And in addition now, because of the ever-increasing number of television movies, even those series that do get on the air can consider themselves lucky if they are almost anywhere else on the prime-time schedule.

Except in competition with a motion picture—for the films are very tough in the ratings game, being popular. Only a handful of series do well against the movies.

Rough Competition
ABC-TV's Sunday movie, for example, has been rough for the competing Garry Moore show, "Candid Camera" and "What's My Line?" The perennial favorite, "Bonanza," continues to do well against it—except when an occasional blockbuster like "The Bridge on the River Kwai" is shown. And Andy Williams has also had a pretty good run for a year, although a movie is stronger in the long run.

There is no network motion picture on Monday—yet—but on

Dear Abby... Wait Til 'Swell Guy' Leaves Stockade

DEAR ABBY: Last summer I fell in love with a swell guy. He was on leave (I thought) from the service, but he seemed to be staying around for an awfully long time. Then it turned out he was AWOL. I told him if he didn't go right back we were through. He went back and faced the ordeal which was not as bad as I had expected for being AWOL for 36 days.

To make a long story short, five days after he squared himself for his first AWOL, he went AWOL again and now he is in the stockade at Fort Bragg, N. C. I understand he will be there for quite a while.

We planned on getting married as soon as he gets out of service, Abby. My problem is, should I go through with those plans? He is really a swell guy.

GOING TO PIECES
DEAR GOING: Wait until this "swell guy" gets out of the stockade, out of service, and in civilian life again and then take a good, hard look at him. You have plenty of time before making a decision.

when I read about the bride who received a silver candelier and wrote to thank the giver for "the darling little gray dipper."

When my husband and I were married, he was a struggling medical student who worked after school for a distinguished radiologist. For our wedding gift, this man and his wife sent us an elegant sterling silver angel food cake slicer and server. Being unaccustomed to such luxurious items, neither my husband nor I could figure out what this utensil was supposed to be used for. We finally agreed, and I wrote to thank them for the "lovely most tenderizing tool."

Many months later, to my horror and humiliation, I saw a similar "most tenderizing tool" being used to serve cake at a Christmas party. The lovely lady never mentioned my fancy pos, and I hopefully told myself that she probably thought I got my gift cards mixed up when I wrote my thank-you notes.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PSYCH MAJOR" AT N.E.U.: My definition of a "good parent" is one who gradually works himself out of a job by making himself progressively unnecessary.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: On Thanksgiving day you published your favorite blessing to be said before meals. It was the most meaningful "grace" I had ever read so I clipped it and said it before our Thanksgiving dinner. All of our guests agreed that it was wonderful, and they asked for a copy. A question arose, however, about which there was a difference of opinion. In the line, "May these remembrances STILL us to service," Abby, by "still us" did you mean to "still in us"? Or did you mean "steel," to make hard or resolute? Thank you.

Nu Phi Mu Degrees Are Conferred

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER

A nice crowd was out Thursday to enjoy the games and fellowship at Senior Citizens Center.

Will the lady who got the wrong coat by mistake please call Mrs. Miller, she would like to swap back. Mrs. Miller's telephone number is MO 4-8124. The coats were identical. Quite often the men have the same trouble with their hats.

Guests of Mrs. Mollie Hethcock last week was a nephew and wife Mr. and Mrs. Morris of Beaver, Okla., and a niece Mrs. Don Depp of Odessa.

Was good to see Mrs. Myrtle Enloe back this week after an eye operation. Mrs. Jay Evans is home from Wesley Hospital; Mrs. E. B. Smith is still confined in Highland General Hospital and J. V. Kidwell is still confined in Highland General.

A new member was welcomed this week, Mrs. Muriel Kingery of 109 S. Gillespie St.

A family reunion was held in the S. A. Barnard home Dec. 30th when all of Mr. Barnard's children were home. Twenty-one in all were present.

Mrs. J. C. Magley spent last week in Post, visiting her sister, Mrs. Jewell McCampbell.

Mrs. Libby Trimble Lewis went through town recently with her son on the way home with the son, who lives in Oregon and called briefly on friends.

Mrs. Mattie Dodson is making an extended visit with friends in Springdale, Ark.

Quite a number of Pampans drove to St. Ann's Home Jan. 19 to help Uncle Billy Frost celebrate his 104th birthday; and report a grand time with Uncle Billy enjoying every minute.

The choir from the Christian Church there was present, and reports at least 100 persons from Pampa and Panhandle and surrounding areas attended. Doris Wilson of the Pampa News was there and took pictures and wrote an article of the event.

Pledges of Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi received Nu Phi Mu Degrees in an impressive candlelight ceremony recently. The event was held in Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank.

The ritual of the badge was administered by Mrs. Coyte Winborn, Assisting were Mmes. Ted Givens, Sonny Golden, Randy Giesler, David Duffy and Max Patton.

The ritual of the badge was with an arrangement of pink roses and blue tapers. This theme carried out the colors of the chapter. Pledges received a charm bracelet as a gift from the chapter and traditional Nu Phi Mu pins.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Winborn, president, conducted a business session. This was followed by a program directed by Mrs. Golden and Mrs. Gary Clark who introduced Mrs. Dick Moore, guest speaker, who gave a demonstration on "Make-Up is a Fine Art."

During the social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Giesler and Mrs. Duffy, hostesses, to Mmes. Ted Givens, Sonny Golden, Max Patton, Coyte Winborn, Jim Brashears, Bill Caswell, Gary Clark, Jim Dalton, Don Hufstader, John Lyle and Calvin McConnell.

To make a rubber hot water bottle hold heat longer, fill only half full. Then squeeze the other part flat, pushing out as much air as possible before screwing the stopper in.

Officer Installation, Salad Supper Slated

The Board of Managers of the Pampa Council of United Church Women held its organizational meeting for the year Friday, at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Malcolm McClelland. The thirteen members who attended were served coffee and doughnuts as they arrived.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. R. A. Newton, president, who read the "Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi." The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given. The budget for the coming year was also presented and adopted.

Old and new business was then discussed. Plans for the World Day of Prayer observance to be held Feb. 10 were presented by Mrs. R. J. Tritton and the program was discussed. Committees for the yearbook and local projects were also appointed.

It was announced that the following officers will be installed at the annual meeting on Jan. 20 at First Christian Church: Mrs. R. A. Newton, president; Mrs. Malcolm McClelland, first vice president; Mrs. R. J. Tritton, second vice president; Mrs. Joe Autry, secretary; and Mrs. W. F. Mulanax, treasurer.

The Family Lawyer

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

After a wealthy widow died, several checks turned up with what appeared to be her signature. Even though she had been blind for the final 20 years of her life, she had been able to write her name. And the signatures on the checks had the wobbly, hating character of her handwriting.

Yet there was something peculiar about the signatures. Invariably, the dots over the 'i's were placed squarely above the letter. How could a blind person, having come to the end of a word, go back and find exactly the right place to put the dot? This telltale clue led to the discovery that the signatures on the checks were forgeries. The forger had been clever, but not clever enough to fool an expert. More and more, the law is relying on a new breed of specialists known as "examiners of questioned documents" to detect forgeries. Using modern scientific apparatus, these document detectives deal not only with the curlicues of penmanship but also with the chemistry of ink and the composition of paper.

As for handwriting itself, they have succeeded in identifying hundreds of characteristics that make one person's penmanship different from another's. How persuasive is this kind of evidence in a court room? Generally speaking, of course, a comparison of handwriting is not as precise as a comparison of fingerprints or of the markings on bullets. Often, too, there is simply not enough of the questioned writing (or of reliable samples for comparison) to justify a firm conclusion.

Nevertheless, when the document examiner has enough material to work with, his findings may play a decisive role in proving that two writings, seemingly alike, are different. He may even perform the more difficult feat of showing that two writings, seemingly different, are alike. Thus, in a "poison pen" case, the accused author denied that he had written the letters in question. To be sure, the handwriting in the letters seemed to the untrained eye to be totally different from the customary handwriting of the defendant.

Yet, document detectives were able to reveal so many subtle similarities that they tilted the scales against the defendant. As one judge put it: "Handwriting is always in some degree the reflex of the nervous organization of the writer, which unconsciously causes him to stamp his individuality in his writing."

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

WILL THE ANTI-BUTTON WIN? A check of the wacky world of buttons, from L.A.'s strip to N. Y.'s East Village by

YOUTH BEAT turns up these: "Love Me—I'm Luscious"; "I am Anonymous—Help Me"; "Draft Beer—Not Students"; "Support Your Local Anarchist"; "Equal Rights for Males"; "Repeal Inhibition"; "Fight Poverty—Work"; "I am a Human Being—Do not Fold, Spindle or Mutilate"; "Turn on, Tune in, Drop out, Get Well"; "Go Naked." One small button, voicing rebellion against this weird, world-building tide of slogans, firmly says "Anti-Button."

NEW, KOOKY FISH FOODS ARE COMING: With world population crazily outstripping food production on land, programs are escalating to harvest the oceans. Scientists point out: 150,000 new babies are born, howling for food, each day; 500 million people are now protein-starved; 700 million tons of fish swim in the sea; only 50 million are hauled out each year for human consumption. And there are stacks of other food in the briny deep. Whales grow to be the biggest creatures on earth, slurping in acres of tiny shrimp called krill; human raft drifters have thrived on these and hordes of the other miniature sea organisms called plankton. O.K., so what's happening because of all this? All over the world hungry youth is eating the following kinds of new foods from the sea: In Asia high-protein fish flour as a cereal. . . . In Britain filets from fierce sharks (that taste "sweet"). . . . In Iceland fish sausage. . . . In Russia whale meat (looks like beef and smells like fish). . . . and in Japan tuna hot dogs. . . . U. S. students introduced to these, nicknamed them—"Friday Franks." Predicted soon: Shellfish preserved fresh for year-long consumption anywhere, by nuclear irradiation. Watch for those atomic oysters!

HOW MINI CAN THE MINI-SKIRT GET? Mucho mini-er is the prediction for 1967. The reason, one fashion authority explains, is that when a big and important trend in style comes along, it usually goes to the bitter end, full blast. The eye gets used to the style change, so to keep it exciting and fashionable it's got to grow more extreme. It's sure that clothes coming out in the new year will be shorter than last year—skirts. . . . and even culottes and such things as fur coats. New clothes will be short, mostly because you gals like to wear them that way (and you guys enjoy seeing them) . . . But with all these mini sales expected, older women will be slipping into shorter skirts, too. For each and every limb—how mini should the season's new miniskirts be worn? From two to five inches above the knee. An additional style trend is growing out of all this miniskirt mischief—garments that were traditionally underpinnings are coming out into the open, necessarily . . . such things as tights, tights and panty stockings, traditionally designed for territory to be kept out of sight, are now made and worn to be seen.

U.S. TEEN BOWLED THEM OVER: Just back from knocking the ten-pins wobbly at Wembley, 19-year-old John Wilcox Jr. is the new and U.S. first world amateur bowling champion. Freshly landed from the British-based matches, he stopped to chat with YOUTH BEAT.

Does he love bowling? Must be—he sparked a girl who didn't bowl, but when he found Nancy Iddings, 18, back home, near Williamsport Pa. who went for the game he went for her. . . . Some games she even beats him. Long, lanky (6 foot 1), the blond, world champion pinsmasher, started at 11 took six years to build to top control. An oddity, his bowls left handed and left-footed. He advises guys and gals: "Bow mostly for relaxation, unless you want to work hard to be a top shot. Don't worry about muscles, girls—It's mostly a game of control and the right touch." He advises joining your high school league or entering into your college bowling activities (sometimes you get credits). If he turns "pro" John can roll up as many thousands of dollars a year as guys do in the big league pro teams ports. We asked for his tip on how to get to be a top pin-punisher (5 million teens bowl). Whaddya know, his answer could apply to many things . . . says Wilcox: "Practice, practice, practice." —The Editors

James Madison Randolph, grandson of President Jefferson, was the first baby born in the White House. He was born Jan. 15, 1806. The Jewish Torah must be handwritten on a scroll made from the skin of a kosher animal, usually a sheep or lamb.
