AUSTIN (UPI)—An Arkansas state legislator Thursday night advised Texas lawmakers to defeat a bill to legalize parimutuel betting in Texas because of the bitter experiences we have had with gambling.

State Rep. Charles Matthews of Little Rock said he was working now with others in Arkansas to try eventually to repeal parimutuel betting there, "although we know we face a hard battle."

Matthews said it brought on "the casino type of gambling" which created other problems of law enforcement.

"I appear before your hearing to acquaint you with some of the bitter experiences we have gone through in Arkansas because of legalized parimutuel gambling," he said.

Matthews was one of dozens of witnesses before the House Counties Committee late in the night on a bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville to legalize county option parimutuel betting in Texas.

Opponents generally were churchmen who said horse racing gambling in Texas would further impoverish the poor, increase illegal off-track gambling and attract undesirables.

Proponents included two of the wealthiest men in Texas, John D. Murchison of Dallas and Robert J. Kleberg Jr., president of the King Ranch at Kingville. They contended le-

Commissioners To Check Vote Error On Tally Sheet

Pampa city commissioners were scheduled to meet with Ward 3 election officials at 5 p.m. today for questioning on how a 5-vote error showed up on their tally sheet in the Carruth-Radcliff contest for Ward 4 commissioner in last Tuesday's municipal election.

Commissioners will seek to determine if it was just an error in writing down the total votes cast for Carruth, or did someone neglect to tally 5 votes for him?

When he returns were made Tuesday night the contest apparently had ended in a city-wide 867 tie.

Wednesday it was discovered the Ward 3 tally sheet listed 60 votes for Carruth in that ward, but the return sheet showed a total of 65.

If it is found the error was simply one in writing down the wrong total - 65 instead of 60 - then Elmer Radcliff would be the winner by a vote of 867 to 862.

If it should be found Carruth should have had 5 more votes showing on the tally sheet, the 867-867 tie would stand and there would have to be a runoff.

The Ward 3 presiding judge and four clerks, all women, were asked to attend today's meeting in an effort to clear up the matter.

Commissioners completed their canvass of the city-wide vote Wednesday afternoon but continued their session until today before making any certification of elected candidates.

Speculation this afternoon was that the error simply was a human one in writing down the wrong total and that Radcliff would be certified as elected along with Mayor Jim Nation and Commissioners M. McDaniel and Hugh Burdette in Wards 1 and 2.

The commission also was expected to set a date for the runoff election between Leon Holmes and Joe Taylor for city commissioner in Ward 3.

U.S. Judge Turns Down Powell Plea

Police Comb LA For Kidnappers

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Hundreds of police and federal agents combed the Los Angeles area today for the kidnapers of a financier's young son who was released unharmed in exchange for $250,000. It was the largest ransom ever paid in the United States for the safe return of a victim.

The boy, Kenneth Young, 11, was freed after his father, Herbert, 35, personally paid the money to one of the kidnapers. The father is president of Gibraltar Savings and Loan Association, a subsidiary of Gibraltar Financial Corp., which has assets of $423.5 million.

Beverly Hills Police chief Clinton Anderson said a "clean and shiny" 1965 sedan was being sought as the possible kidnap car. He described the car as a two-door Chevrolet

Impala bearing California license "NBD 770" but said the plates might be "fictitious."

Anderson appealed to southern California residents to report to the FBI or any police agency if they saw the automobile.

Young said a member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation told him 300 agents were assigned here to the case. The FBI would not verify the number, but Wesley N. Grapp, agent in charge of the Los Angeles FBI office, said the future was in "the hundreds."

Kenneth, his head shaved and his eyes drooping from drug-induced sleep, was released unharmed about 3:30 a.m. Thursday, eight hours after his father had handed an overnight bag containing $100 federal reserve notes to a man in a car on a flat gravel area about a mile north of famed Sunset Boulevard.

Agents said the serial numbers of the bills were known and were being distributed to authorities and banks throughout the country. The kidnaper had blindfolded the boy, taped his hands and left him in a garage in an apartment building in nearby Santa Monica. He was warned to "stay put" for a half-hour.

But the youngster soon freed his hands, found a nearby apartment and politely asked the occupant, "May I use your telephone?"

His father said he had waited at home all night with authorities for word on Kenneth's release. The telephone rang about 4 a.m.

"It was Kenny. He said, 'Dad, I'm all right. Will you please come and get me?' Then a man, who had nothing to do with the kidnaping, came on the phone and gave me the address in Santa Monica," Young said.

Israeli Jets Bomb Syrians

TIBERIAS, Israel (UPI)—Israeli air force jets today bombed Syrian positions on the southeastern shore of the Sea of Galilee for seven hours. Both sides used planes, tanks and artillery in the worst outbreak of Middle East border fighting since the Sinai war of 1956.

By late afternoon, Israeli jets were still sweeping over Tel Aviv heading toward the Sea of Galilee. Residents of Israel's largest city gazed in bewilderment at the jets streaking overhead.

Jets, tanks, mortars and machineguns were used by both sides in a battle which erupted early today near the Eln Gev settlement on the eastern bank of the sea.

Gunfire echoed around the Kibbutz Ha'on, scene of a Syrian-Israeli New Year's clash and site of less serious fighting earlier this week.

Attorneys Plan To Carry Fight Higher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal judge today dismissed the court suit by Adam Clayton Powell to force Congress to take him back.

Powell's lawyers immediately prepared to appeal the action.

Network Back At Bargaining Table Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—Both sides in AFTRA's strike against the three major radio and television networks were called back to the bargaining table today to test the effects of a five-day recess in negotiations.

However, the positions of both the union and the networks appeared to have hardened and little hope was expressed for an early settlement of the 10-day walkout.

The call to resume joint negotiations was announced as more union members voted to respect picket lines thrown up at ABC, CBS and NBC facilities by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

Citing "the strong public interest in this matter," the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service summoned representatives of both sides to a meeting at the Hotel Barclay in New York.

Last Sunday, AFTRA's national executive secretary, Donald E. Conaway, walked out of negotiations in Washington calling the networks' offer "regressive and more insulting than the original offer."

Both sides appeared to be adjusting to the strike. While AFTRA was announcing more union support for its position, NBC issued a statement saying, "Technical operations are running smoothly and all programs will continue to be broadcast as scheduled."

Late Thursday night, news writers who work at NBC held a meeting and agreed not to cross AFTRA picket lines beginning today, thus joining a number of ABC writers who began staying away from their jobs Thursday. CBS writers were expected to take similar action.

The striking newsmen are seeking a base pay of $325 a week and a larger share of "commercial fees"—stipulated amounts of money credited by the network for each assignment performed on a local cast.

Federal Reserve Board Lowers Interest Rates

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board has lowered its discount rate, but the interest rates people pay for home, car, or personal loans probably will not go down, at least not right away.

That was the consensus here and on Wall Street today in the wake of the board's dramatic move toward easier money.

On Thursday, the FRB unanimously approved a request from 10 of the 12 regional Federal Reserve banks to cut the discount rate to four per cent. This rate is what commercial banks have to pay when they borrow from the FRB. It had been 4.5 per cent since December 1964.

The reduction was designed to keep other interest rates falling, as they have been since late last summer. In order to stimulate a sluggish economy, officials called the move another step along a road the board has been following since last fall.

The board issued a brief statement calling the rate cut "in line" with recent declines in market rates and in keeping with the Federal Reserve's policy objectives of assuring that the availability of credit is adequate to provide for orderly economic growth.

A cut in the discount rate is supposed to push down other interest rates and stimulate the economy in this way.

If banks do not have to pay as much when they borrow from the FRB, they will not have to charge their customers as much for a loan.

Cheaper credit will encourage consumers and businessmen to borrow and spend, thereby injecting more purchasing power into the economy.

The FRB's move added fuel to the debate raging over President Johnson's proposed six per cent income tax surcharge. Opponents called the discount reduction further evidence that the economy is slowing down too much to stand a tax increase.

Humphrey in Paris; Demonstrators Again

PARIS (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived from Berlin today for talks with French President Charles de Gaulle. Paris police wrapped him in as massive a security blanket as the one he left behind in Germany.

Hundreds of uniformed officers and plainclothesmen encircled Humphrey at Orly Airport when the vice president came for the French leg of his allied capital tour that has been marred by paint-throwing in Italy, picketing in Britain and shouts of "Vietnam vice murderer" in West Berlin.

Moments after foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville shook Humphrey's hand, about 100 demonstrators on a sightseeing platform hurled colored leaflets, protesting the vice president's visit to Paris.

About 3,000 policemen swung into position along Humphrey's motorcade route from the airport into Paris. Thursday night police patrols kept busy tearing anti-American posters off walls and chasing away the poster pasters.

Someone splashed red paint on the George Washington statue where Humphrey was scheduled to lay a wreath in honor of U.S. entry into World War I 50 years ago.

Crews labored to scrape the red coat off Washington before the vice president's appearance.

In a speech prepared for airport delivery, Humphrey cited past U.S.-French cooperation and then said, "My nation's commitment to Europe remains full and undiluted today." De Gaulle has long advised other U.S. allies in Western Europe that they cannot count for certain on continuing American support and aid.

Diplomatically, Humphrey was reported to have had some success in calming West German government complaints about Washington policy.

Crowds cheered Humphrey in West Berlin. But leftist students waved the Viet Cong flag at him, sang Communist songs and called him the "vice murderer."

"They tried vainly to hit his automobile with eggs and flour. Today, shortly before Humphrey was scheduled to leave, a West Berlin judge released eight leftwing youths arrested shortly before his arrival for allegedly plotting against Humphrey."

Teamster Strike Threat Lessened

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All-night bargaining between the Teamsters union and the trucking industry broke up this morning with the threat of a strike somewhat diminished but no immediate settlement in view.

It was still questionable whether the patience of the union's 500,000 members would last out the time needed by the negotiators to agree on a new contract. Another session was called for this afternoon.

The old contract has expired, the members have authorized a strike if necessary, and locals could walk off the job at any time without notice.

"I don't know how long these union guys will work without a contract," one source close to the negotiations said. "There's still a lot of work to be done here."

There were indications meantime that the money difference between the Teamsters and truckers had narrowed.

Sources said Trucking Employers Inc., the bargaining agent for the carriers, had raised its wage increase offer to 22 cents an hour in the new contract's first year.

South Vietnam Files Protest With ICC Over Border Bridge Incident

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnam's chief of state today said a Communist border bridge raid by the Communists gives Saigon the right to send troops into North Vietnam.

"We have the right to respond with all the means at our disposal," Gen. Nguyen Juan Thieu told newsmen.

Asked if this meant the right to send troops north, he replied, "Yes."

According to the South Vietnamese, North Vietnamese troops stormed across the "freedom bridge" midway through the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) border buffer strip Wednesday night. They said a U.S. Marine howitzer barrage repulsed the Communists.

The Saigon regime filed a protest with the International Control Commission (ICC) over the incident. The ICC is the DMZ watchdog set up by the 1954 Geneva settlement of the French Indochina war.

The bridge raid came shortly before more North Vietnamese troops in four battalion strength smashed into Quang Tri City and, in smaller force, unleashed a tear gas attack against U.S. Army troops in the Central Highlands.

The Quang Tri raid killed or wounded 250 South Vietnamese, killed 13 Americans and wounded 29 more. The attackers freed 220 Communist prisoners and attacked U.S. military installations at the coastal bastion just below the DMZ.

In the Highlands farther south, Communists used powdered gas which oxydizes when exposed to air, spokesmen said. They said it is a non-fatal type of gas. Military observers said the North Vietnamese did not charge through the gas but probably used it to block the advance of U.S. troops in Operation Francis Marion. There were no reported U.S. casualties.

Lone Speck Witness Remains Unshaken

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—The state's case against Richard Speck, charged with killing eight nurses, is being unfolded in grisly detail following Corazon Amurao's unshaken testimony that Speck is the killer.

Prosecutor William Martin today planned to call more police and medical experts to tell in clinical detail what they found the morning of last July 14 when they entered an apartment on Chicago's south side and found the stabbed or strangled bodies of eight young women.

The key to the state's case against Speck are the words of the tiny Filipino woman, 23-year-old Miss Amurao who survived the slaughter by rolling beneath a bunk bed.

Speck's attorney, Gerald W. Getty, tried, gently but persistently, Thursday to shake Miss Amurao's testimony that Speck was the man who entered and killed in that duplex apartment.

For two hours Getty tried but was unsuccessful in getting the 4-foot-10 nurse to budge from her insistence she had always described the intruder as tall with long blond hair combed back and as having a "marked" face. The description fits Speck but does not agree with the description and composite picture circulated after police questioned Miss Amurao.

Under cross examination, Miss Amurao denied telling the police artist the intruder had short hair or unmarked cheeks, as he was depicted.

Despite Getty's 11-2-hour argument against it in Judge Herbert C. Paschen's chambers, photos taken of the eight bodies were shown to jurors.

Jack Wallenda, a Chicago homicide division detective, one of the first policemen to enter the nurses' apartment after the killings, identified each corpse by the photographs.

He told how he found the bodies of each of the victims, some of them still clutching pieces of ripped bedsheets which had served as their bonds.

Bobby Baker Sentenced On Seven Counts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Senate aide Robert G. (Bobby) Baker was sentenced today to serve from one to three years in prison on each of seven counts of larceny, income tax evasion and fraud.

The sentences would be served concurrently. Baker's attorneys announced they would appeal immediately.

The former protégé of such powerful senators as Lyndon B. Johnson and the late Robert Kerr was sentenced by Judge Oliver Gasch in the same federal courtroom where he was found guilty by a jury on Jan. 29.

The maximum penalty for the seven counts could have been 48 years in prison and a $47,000 fine.

The sentencing was not expected to take the former Senate page boy to jail right away. He has been free on $5,000 bond since his conviction, and was expected to be allowed to remain free under bond while his legal team processed appeals.

40,000 V.C. Defections Are Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Based on current trends, U.S. officials expect about 40,000 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas to defect to the Saigon government in Vietnam during 1967, it was disclosed today.

This estimate was contained in a revised progress report on that President Johnson calls "the other war" in Vietnam.

The report, updated through last month, was prepared for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to take on his current European trip.

The progress report revision was made originally for President Johnson by his special assistant, Robert W. Komer, the White House liaison with the pacification program.

The report said that since 1963 more than 56,000 members of the Viet Cong have voluntarily reintegration into South Vietnamese society under the "Chieu Hoi" (open arms) program.

Chieu Hoi, operated by the Saigon government, provides amnesty and rehabilitation for the reformed Red terrorists and soldiers.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Co. says the basic stimulant to current market action is the attempts of the administration and the Federal Reserve Board to rejuvenate the economy. The company says the bulls believe it can be done on schedule, which is the second half of the year, but the market probably will not "take off" until there is some strong evidence of the anticipated revival.

Wright Investors' Service says there is no shortage of investment funds or public interest in the stock market right now but the large conservative investors still lack much confidence in the industrial outlook and are still buying bonds over stocks. The company says there is strong reason to believe the market will "test its lows" and it recommends selective purchasing during interim setbacks.

Today Dubbed As World Health Day

World Health Day, April 7, marks the anniversary of the coming into force of the constitution of the World Health Organization (WHO) in 1948. Each year on World Health Day, WHO draws attention to a health question important to the world through a theme.

For 1967, the theme is "Partners in Health." And it aims to make better known to young people career opportunities in public health, as well as to call attention to the world's serious shortage of health personnel.

The theme chiefly makes the point that it takes all kinds of medical skills to preserve good health, from those of auxiliaries, who win certificates usually after a year's training, to those of physicians, whose education may go over six years in the university and four more in specialization. Hence, the choice of the word "Partners."

The observance of World Health Day is usually organized by national or local health services. But WHO national committees, United States associations, voluntary associations working in the health field, and other bodies do so too.

Martinez was wounded in the head March 29 while on a combat mission by metal fragments.

Trap-Shooters Howl at Gun Control Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A spokesman for the nation's trap and skeet shooters said Wednesday President Johnson's gun control bill would prevent them from buying or even gunsmithing the special weapons they need for their sport.

Joe H. McCracken II of Dallas, representing some 50,000 members of the National Skeet Shooting Association and the Amateur Trapshooting Association, testified before the House judiciary subcommittee reviewing Johnson's war on crime package.

McCracken said tournament shotgunners are hard to obtain or modify, and a frequent source of them is through classified advertisements in sport magazines. He said they are often sold by mail across state lines and that the bill would "positively prohibit" such sales of weapons between experts in trap and skeet shooting.

While a few witnesses, including New York Mayor John V. Lindsay and New Jersey Atty. Gen. Arthur J. Sills endorsed the administration to restrict gun sales, most of the testimony was against the measure.

The bill would prohibit mail order sales of guns, limit sales of all firearms except rifles and shotguns to residents of the state where the purchase was made, and curb imports.

TORNADO SEASON Safety Precautions Needed for Alerts

Since this month is the beginning of Pampa's three-month tornado season, Bill Leonard, civil defense director here, warned Pampans to know tornado safety rules.

U. S. Weather Bureau records indicate Texas leads the nation in tornadoes each year. The annual average of 607 is based on a record 1,210 confirmed tornadoes from 1951 to 1965.

"Pampa has no central tornado shelter. The civil defense fallout shelters are not built for tornado protection and cannot be used for that," Leonard said.

He explained that even though the fallout shelters are equipped to shield persons from radioactive dust, they are not designed to withstand a tornado's force.

"The best protection would be an underground tornado cellar, cave or other underground excavation," he said.

"Any underground shelter should have an air outlet to equalize air pressure, should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, debris, or soil vermin, and snakes. It should also have a pick and shovel, in case the top caves in and you have to dig out."

"If you can't find an underground shelter and are in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path, or lie flat in the nearest depression if you cannot get away," he stated.

Tornadoes usually move about 25 to 40 miles an hour.

In Pampa, the warning signal on top of the Hughes building would send out a long, continuous blast as a tornado alert.

If you hear it, and are in town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building, and stay away from windows, because of the danger of flying glass," Leonard said.

At home, the basement corner toward the tornado is usually the safest. If you have no basement, you should take shelter behind heavy furniture against inside walls, he advised.

Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from a tornado may be opened to prevent damage to the house, he added.

"The inside wall on an office building or school's lower floor would offer some protection. Everyone should avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums with large, poorly supported roofs," Leonard commented.

Factories and industrial plant officials should post lookouts to keep officials advised of the tornado's approach and should move workers to plant sections with the greatest protection, according to Leonard.

The sixth safety warning is to "keep calm. It will not help to get excited, and may destroy lives by people running into streets or turning back into the path of a tornado," Leonard explained.

If a tornado alert is sounded here, do not call the weather bureau, he said, unless you want to report a tornado sighting, because individual requests for information would tie up vital communication lines.

Cards Still Out In Fund Drive

Not much was added today to the $56,100 already collected for the Salvation Army Development Fund, but an executive committee meeting is slated for 4 p.m. Monday in the fund office, 221 N. Cuyler, to determine how to meet the $131,000 goal.

About 14 Pampa residents will meet with Capt. Robert Tritton, Salvation Army Commander here, to plan a better approach to the Army's fund drive.

Capt. Tritton reported today more than 400 cards are still out and need to be worked and reported to the fund office for auditing.

Co-Op to Distribute Graduation Invitations

Seniors may get their graduation invitations from the high school co-op Monday, Mrs. W. A. Morgan, senior class sponsor, said today.

Invitations have been in for several weeks, but orders had to be checked before they could be issued to students.

IRS Issues Its Ten-Day Warning On Tax Returns

Many Pampans are among the thousands of Texans joining the last-minute rush to get their income tax returns filed again this year, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., director for the Dallas District, Campbell estimated today that 40 per cent of the 1,500,000 income tax returns to be filed in the northern half of Texas have not been prepared, with only 10 days left during the filing period. April 15 is the deadline.

Campbell pointed out that the mail man brings almost one-third, or about a half a million returns, to the Internal Revenue Service offices on the last couple of days of the income tax filing period and during the next two days following the filing deadline, since many taxpayers wait until 11:59 p.m. on the final date to file their returns.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Service processing employees and electronic machines are not waiting for the last minute filers. The Austin Service Center processed 639,557 individual income tax returns during March. They already have sent out 440,692 refund checks, amounting to $54,329,418. They mail out several thousand refund checks each day as the processing continues.

Twenty-five per cent of the North Texas taxpayers who filed for their refunds early had their refunds held up due to errors. The Internal Revenue Service conducted an extensive educational campaign through news stories, Post Office truck posters, billboard advertising, and public service advertisements on Radio and TV, to counteract the taxpayers' mistakes. Campbell said the campaign has been highly successful, since the error rate dropped from 25 per cent to 6 per cent.

He cautioned last-minute taxpayers to be sure to include their correct Social Security Number, make sure that husband and wife both sign the return, attach all W-2's and statements or schedules, correct math errors, and make sure right tax table and the right line or column in computing the tax have been used.

He added that taxpayers who have a refund coming can still use the envelopes included with their return to mail the return direct to the Austin Service Center to speed up the processing of any refund.

Suicide Ruled In Teacher's Death

Death by self-inflicted gunshot wound was ruled today as the cause of death of Ben Haynie Perry Jr., 22, of 912 1/2 N. Somerville, according to Justice of Peace Ed Anderson.

Perry, a teacher at Pampa Junior High since January, was found dead about 8:45 a.m. today by a fellow teacher, who became worried when Perry failed to show up for work.

Anderson said the man shot himself in the right temple with a .45 caliber automatic and that it apparently happened sometime after 6 p.m. Thursday.

Anderson said Perry's landlord, Aubrey Barton, had talked to Perry about 5:30 or 6 p.m. Thursday.

No suicide note was found. Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner and detective George Wallace investigated the affair.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced by Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Home. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Perry; two sisters, Mrs. Donald Bethurum, Miss Helen Louise Perry; one brother John; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Perry, Mrs. Glen Handorf, all of Pampa.

Auto Accidents Down for March

Traffic accidents in Pampa for the month of March were down slightly as compared to the same month in 1966.

There were a total of 46 traffic accidents in the city limits of Pampa in March, 1967, compared to 52 in March, 1966, according to a report released today by the Pampa police department.

Eleven injuries were reported last month compared to 13 in 1966 for the month.

For the three months this year there have been 129 accidents, one person killed and 49 persons injured. For the same period a year ago there had been 171 accidents, one killed and 39 persons injured.

Twenty drivers between the ages of 14-19 years old were involved and 16 between the ages of 25-34 years of age. An estimated $10,969.79 worth of property damage occurred as the results of the 46 accidents in March.

Burglary Items Are Discovered

Two pans, believed to have been taken in the March burglary of the Harvester Pit Barbeque, were found this morning on Montague St. in a sewer catch all.

Police detective George Wallace said he was checking the catch all, which is done regularly, and saw one of the pans. Wallace said he walked back under a bridge and found the other.

Three pans with meat still in them and other foodstuffs were taken in the burglary.

Police found the other pan last week at a Pampa store where it had been sold.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. Monroe Woods
St. Marks Methodist Church

TEXT: Romans 10th Chapter.

SUBJECT:

THE PREACHERS DILEMMA.

As the days of every week pass, preachers think more and more of the coming weekend's services. Ministers do not wait until Friday morning to think of their services on Sunday! Have you ever wondered about the Clergyman's obligation and opportunity to deliver a sermon? A short time ago, along with hundreds of other Clergymen and Laymen, a loyal Churchman attended a breakfast meeting at which an outstanding Layman gave a powerful sermon. The title of his "sermon" — because it was more than an address — was, THE TROUBLE WITH BEING A CHRISTIAN. That trouble is that you must get involved with God and your fellow men in bearing the burdens of our nation in this critical time. After the Layman had finished, one man said to the loyal Churchman, "Why can't our preachers preach like that? We could get the message clearly. He had prepared it well, and he didn't have any theological language, we couldn't understand. Boy, his illustrations were beautiful! That's what I call a sermon!" The other man said to him, "I agree it was a powerful sermon, but have you ever thought that perhaps one reason our own preachers don't come up with a sermon like that every Sunday is that they have to prepare two or three every week, and do many other jobs besides, also there are some of us who expect them to do our job, don't you agree?" The other man did not say another word. This doesn't mean that we preachers ought to skimp on our sermon making, nor that we have any excuse for not doing our homework. Nevertheless, the man had a point!

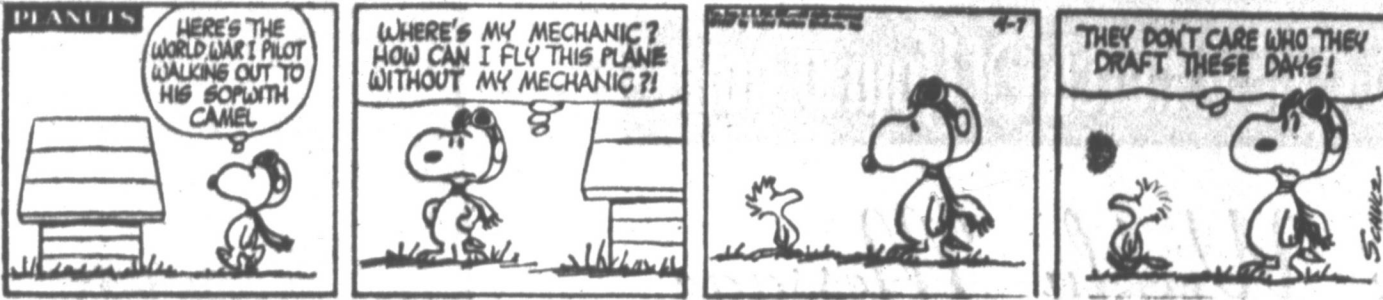

There is a story about a young preacher assigned to a Church in Kentucky. He wanted his first sermon to be memorable, and he decided on a fiery denunciation on horse racing. As Church let out, one of his officers rushed to tell him that he was in an area known for its fine horses and that many of his members raced their horses. He took the hint. The next Sunday he preached a roaring sermon on the evils of smoking. The officers warned the preacher that tobacco was grown in the area, and that it figured big in local economy and that part of his salary came from tobacco farmers. On the next Sunday the preacher took out after whiskey. The officers promptly returned to remind him that the town had a distillery, where many of the Church members worked. "Well what can I preach about," asked the frustrated young pastor. "Why not," replied one of the officers, "Why not preach against the heathen witch doctors? There ain't one of them within a thousand miles of here!"

You and I should be glad that in many of our Churches we have preachers who not only comfort the afflicted, but afflict the comfortable by preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ our Lord in an unadulterated way. Paul a great preacher asked his friends to do something for him that you could do for your preacher: "pray for us also, that God may open to us a door for the word, to declare the mystery of Christ, on account of which I am in prison, that I may make it clear, as I ought to speak" (Col. 4:3-4, RSV).

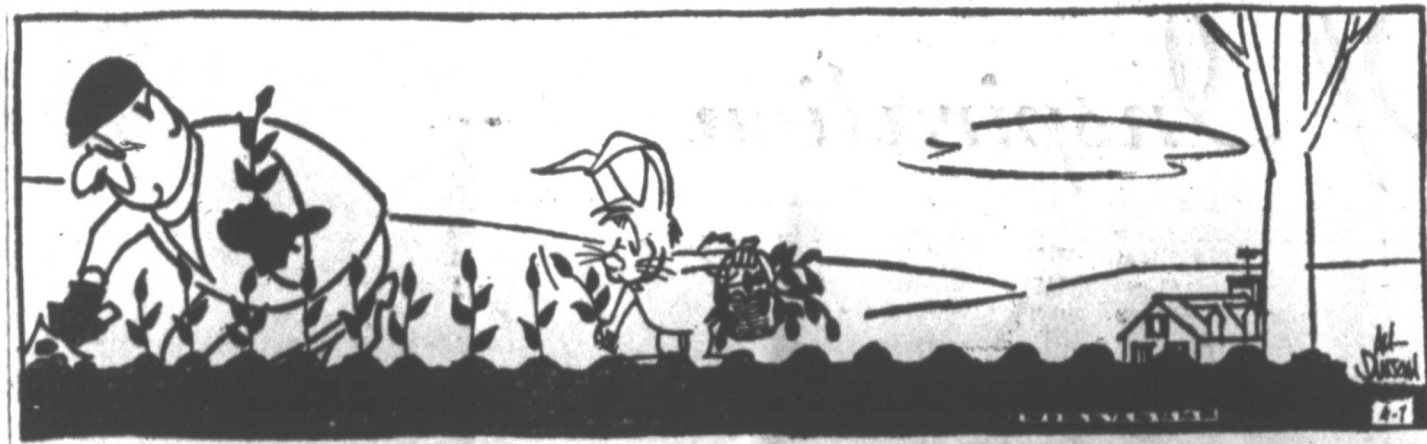

And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! (Romans 10:15).

Antiques In Modern Setting Motif For Cotillion's Show

By DORIS E. WILSON
Women's Editor

Early yesterday morning, station wagons and trailers pulled up under the portico of the Coronado Inn. Inn attendants, pushing dollies, greeted the occupants of the cars and began unloading their cargo. By noon, the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn was stacked with cartons and barrels. Workmen were busy installing shelves, showcases and draping the walls with velvet.

Twentieth Century Cotillion's Antique Show and Sale was underway. By mid-afternoon, the ballroom began to have a symbolism of order as antique dealers from Sweetwater, Tulsa, San Antonio, San Angelo, Brownfield, Lubbock, Amarillo, Denver dusted, polished and placed their priceless wares in showcases in preparation for the Show and Sale which opens today in the Inn.

With everything "almost in order," Twentieth Century Cotillion had quartet tables set up around the room, ordered a buffet dinner, invited in a few honored guests and entertained with a Dealers' Dinner.

Among the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, Chamber of Commerce president; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cree Jr., president of the Pampa Fine Arts Association; and Dr. Milton Morris of West Texas State University, designer of the Opportunity Plan, Inc.

Guests were surrounded by exquisite collector's items originating back in the 18th, 19th and early 20th centuries... sparkling cutglass, gleaming copper and brass, early American primitives, gleaming furniture, and beautiful porcelain pieces in addition to rare pieces of jewelry.

Showings are scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and Saturday, April 7 and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, April 9. One dollar tickets may be purchased from Cotillion members or at the door.

The affair is a benefit with proceeds from tickets sales to be given to the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State.

OPPORTUNITY PLAN
The Opportunity plan is a unique student loan plan developed and designed into a program whereby any worthy high school graduate of the Golden Spread could have the opportunity to attain a higher education. The plan is specifically designed for students who possess ability, ambition, character, and yet, for financial reasons cannot attend college.

The plan offers no "free ride" to an education but is only for those who want to help themselves and have the courage to do so.

Since its inception by Milton Morris, director of student financial aid and executive vice-president of the Opportunity Plan, Inc. in 1954, over 1700 students from virtually every town in the Texas Panhandle have benefited from the plan. At present over 200 students at West Texas are receiving assistance from this unique loan program.

To be eligible for the Plan, a student must be recommended by his high school principal and superintendent and three responsible persons, along with a desire to launch a four-year college program. Under the plan, both long and short term loans are available after a complete college expense budget has been outlined by the student and Opportunity Plan officials. Students pay back their loan as they can, through employment while in school and after graduation, with no interest being charged on the loan.

The plan is financed by philanthropic contributors in the Panhandle area, both individual and group. In its 13 year history of aiding students, the plan has lost less than 2 percent of loans through non-payment.

DEALERS

Dealers participating in this year's show include Simonton's Antiques of Sweetwater; Mrs. Essie E. Shultz of San Antonio; Granny's Attic from San Angelo; Leggett's Antiques of Tulsa, Okla.; Steffer's, also of Tulsa; Hewitt's Antiques of Brownfield; Marge's Nook of Pampa; Ruth Broadhurst of Lubbock; Old Sundial Antiques of Amarillo; Fern Laird of Plainview; and Mrs. E. F. Kid of Denver City.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Wilbur and I are planning a June wedding. My mother and I went to a bridal consultant who is supposed to know all about wedding etiquette, and she told us the bride's folks give the wedding, the pre-nuptial dinner, pay for all the flowers, the minister, the vocalist, and the organist.

Also, my folks give the wedding dinner and the reception afterwards, including all the refreshments and drinks. What do Wilbur's folks give?

DEAR SUE: Wilbur. SUE

DEAR ABBY: Why should people who do not use the public schools have to pay taxes for them? We are taxed to death. I don't mind paying taxes for things I get some benefit from, but we haven't had any children in the public schools for 12 years, so why should we have to pay to get other people's children educated?

DEAR K. C.: Free public education, paid for out of general taxes, is the only way to give all children an equal chance to learn. It is considered a "community are possible only if highways, libraries, and the police and fire departments are. Such services and such a community are possible only if everyone pays for it. We would be in a fine fix if, for example, our fire department were financed by collecting from only those who "used" it.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a traveling salesman should dance while he's on the road? It's not the actual dancing, I object to, but I think it could lead to more serious things. I became aware of this when my husband started bringing home shirts with lipstick on the collar, shoulders and down on the front.

Lipstick seems to get on the shirts only when he dances away from home. Never when he's in a group with his wife, I would appreciate your opinion.

HIS WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Not many traveling salesmen feel like dancing on the road, but if yours does, he had better cut it out before he gets all tripped up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JIMMY JR. IN SANTA ANA, CALIF.: I wrote the following in my book "Dear Teen-ager" and doubt that I can improve on it now: "A teen who digs nicotine is biting off more than he can inhale. Smokers are usually coughers, chokers, smell-up-the-placers, and flatbrokers. Smoking becomes a habit. Why start? Everyone in the gang smokes, and, besides, you think it makes you look grown-up? Who's living your life, you or the gang? And what's all this malarkey about smoking being grown-up? Actually it looks about as grown-up as a four-year old in long pants. An obvious, pathetic and laughable attempt at maturity. Long pants don't make a duit. Nor will a cigaret dangling from the corner of your mouth. Ever conjure up a picture of yourself sneaking a smoke in the bathroom and blowing the smoke out the window? THAT'S grown-up? Or can't you wait to join the growing number of adults who are trying to escape from smoke rings and halitosis halos? Of course there are many adults who don't smoke, never have and never will! ## Great-Grandma Advises Women Never, But Never Tell Ages

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Van Wrek Brooks is a great-grandma three times over, but this young-in-heart lady has a theory about women telling their age.

"Don't do it," she admonished. "Somehow that numeral gets attached to you, and hangs on and on and on."

The widow of the noted critic and historian laughed as she recalled once when she did reveal her years to a friend. "I was only 35 or 40 at the time," she said, "and do you know what he told me, 'a woman should never tell her age to a man.' I've followed his advice ever since."

Mrs. Brooks is hardly ready for that rocking chair. As a matter of fact, this grandmother of 10 is at work on another book, her fifth, which will be a series of fictionally treated sketches of interesting people, some of whom she and her husband have known.

Her fourth has just been published, "If Strangers Meet" (Harcourt, Brace & World), the account of the 16 years she shared with Brooks.

Throughout their marriage, Gladys Brooks kept a daily journal, and the book is filled with vivid detail of their travels and portraits of their many friends including Jo Davidson, E. E. Cummings, Marianne Moore, Lillian Hellman, Mark Van Doren, Edmund Wilson, Carl Sandburg, Helen Keller, Thornton Wilder, Lewis Mumford and Malcolm Cowley.

It was the second marriage for each. And when Brooks died May 2, 1963, after a long illness, his widow wrote, "Quietly, he went, after whispering as I leaned over him, 'you must hv learned over him, 'you must have another life, another interest.' And then grief began."

Mrs. Brooks drove in from her Victorian-style house in Bridgewater, Conn., for lunch and I asked her how she faced widowhood... what would she tell other widows?

"Leave the house, if you can," she said. "It's filled with so many grim memories. It may mean a momentary wrench, but somehow when you come back home, the grief is easier to bear.

"Don't feel sorry for yourself, and don't feel hurt if you're not asked out as much. It is difficult for a hostess to find an extra man for dinner.

"I kept thinking of what my husband would want me to do. Get back to writing."

Today's newspaperboys—tomorrow's leaders. Statistically, that's how it stacks up. In view of this, your newspaperboy is on the first chapter of what will probably be a success story. Not that he's destined for the Hall of Fame—but he might be. For example, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover, Eddie Rickenbacker, Thomas Edison, Joe DiMaggio, Walt Disney, and Bob Hope all started as newspaperboys.

Newspaper route experience helps mold those special character ingredients so necessary for success in any field: self discipline, punctuality, getting along with people, responsibility. And all the hundred and one other character-makers that are built into the management of a newspaper route.

The newspaperboy is skillfully guided by men trained and experienced to bring out his talents. This combination could well be the most important training in his life. In the long range picture, the money he earns on his route almost seems like a fringe benefit.

Although only one boy in ten ever gets a crack at a newspaper route, our Circulation Department people are always glad to talk it over with youngsters and parents. If you have a son or know a boy who might profit from newspaperboy experience, we'll be happy to hear from you.

Great-Grandma Advises Women Never, But Never Tell Ages

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Van Wyck Brooks is a great-grandma three times over, but this young-in-heart lady has a theory about women telling their age.

leaved over him, you must have another life, another wrench. And then grief began. Mrs. Brooks drove in from her Victorian-style house in Bridgewater, Conn., for lunch and I asked her how she faced widowhood. . . what would she tell other widows?

mean a momentary wrench, but somehow when you come back home, the grief is easier to bear. "Don't feel sorry for yourself, and don't feel hurt if you're not asked out as much. It is difficult for a hostess to find an extra man for dinner. "I kept thinking of what my husband would want me to do. Get back to writing."

DEAR ABBY: Wilbur and I are planning a June wedding. My mother and I went to a bridal consultant who is supposed to know all about wedding etiquette, and she told us the bride's folks give the wedding, the pre-nuptial dinner, pay for all the flowers, the minister, the vocalist, and the organist.

Also, my folks give the wedding dinner and the reception afterwards, including all the refreshments and drinks. What do Wilbur's folks give?

DEAR SUE: Wilbur. SUE

DEAR ABBY: Why should people who do not use the public schools have to pay taxes for them? We are taxed to death. I don't mind paying taxes for things I get some benefit from, but we haven't had any children in the public schools for 12 years, so why should we have to pay to get other people's children educated?

K. C. DEAR K. C.: Free public education, paid for out of general taxes, is the only way to give all children an equal chance to learn. It is considered a "community" service only if highways, libraries, and the police and fire departments are.

Such services and such a community are possible only if everyone pays for it. We would be in a fine fix if, for example, our fire department were financed by collecting from only those who "used" it.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a traveling salesman should dance while he's on the road? It's not the actual dancing I object to, but I think it could lead to more serious things. I became aware of this when my husband started bringing home shirts with lipstick on the collar, shoulders and down on the front.

Lipstick seems to get on the shirts only when he dances away from home. Never when he's in a group with his wife, I would appreciate your opinion.

HIS WIFE DEAR WIFE: Not many traveling salesmen feel like dancing on the road, but if yours does, he had better cut it out before he gets all tripped up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JIMMY JR. IN SANTA ANA, CALIF.: I wrote the following in my book "Dear Teen-ager" and doubt that I can improve on it now: "A teen who digs nicotine is biting off more than he can inhale. Smokers are usually coughers, chokers, smell-up the placers, and flatbrokers. Smoking becomes a habit. Why start? Everyone in the gang smokes, and, besides, you think it makes you look grown-up?"

Who's living your life, you or the gang? And what's all this malarkey about smoking being grown-up? Actually it looks about as grown-up as a four-year old in long pants. An obvious, pathetic and laughable attempt at maturity.

Loose pants don't make a sedit. Nor will a cigarette dangling from the corner of your mouth. Ever conjure up a picture of yourself sneaking a smoke in the bathroom and blowing the smoke out the window? THAT's grown-up?

Or can't you wait to join the growing number of adults who are trying to escape from smoke rings and halitosis halos? Of course there are many adults who don't smoke, never have and never will! (ME, for instance.)

Antiques In Modern Setting Motif For Cotillion's Show

By DORIS E. WILSON

Early yesterday morning, station wagons and trailers pulled up under the portico of the Coronado Inn. Inn attendants, pushing dollies, greeted the occupants of the cars and began unloading their cargo. By noon, the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn was stacked with cartons and barrels. Workmen were busy installing shelves, showcases and draping the walls with velvet.

twentieth Century Cotillion's Antique Show and Sale was underway. By midafternoon, the ballroom began to have a symbolism of order as antique dealers from Sweetwater, Tulsa, San Antonio, San Angelo, Brownfield, Lubbock, Amarillo, Denver dusted, polished and placed their priceless wares in showcases in preparation for the Show and Sale which opens today in the Inn.

With everything "almost in order," Twentieth Century Cotillion had quartet tables set up around the room, ordered a buffet dinner, invited in a few honored guests and entertained with a Dealers' Dinner.

Among the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, Chamber of Commerce president; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cree Jr., president of the Pampa Fine Arts Association; and Dr. Milton Morris of West Texas State University, designer of the Opportunity Plan, Inc.

Guests were surrounded by exquisite collector's items originating back in the 18th, 19th and early 20th centuries. Sparkling cutglass, gleaming copper and brass, early American primitives, gleaming furniture, and beautiful porcelain pieces in addition to rare pieces of jewelry.

Showings are scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and Saturday, April 7 and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, April 9. One dollar tickets may be purchased from Cotillion members or at the door.

The affair is a benefit, with proceeds from tickets sales to be given to the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State.

OPPORTUNITY PLAN The Opportunity plan is a unique student loan plan developed and designed into a program whereby any worthy high school graduate of the Golden Spread could have the opportunity to attain a higher education. The plan is specifically designed for students who possess ability, ambition, character, and yet, for financial reasons cannot attend college.

The plan offers no "free ride" to an education but is only for those who want to help themselves and have the courage to do so.

Since its inception by Milton Morris, director of student financial aid and executive vice-president of the Opportunity Plan, Inc. in 1954, over 1700 students from virtually every town in the Texas Panhandle have benefited from the plan. At present over 200 students at West Texas are receiving assistance from this unique loan program.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

There are today two widely held schools of thought which, when subjected to close examination, contradict each other. Let us examine each in its turn.

First, it is held that this country became great because of its extensive tax-supported school system and compulsory attendance laws. This is a claim often made by those in control of the government school system. But it is not borne out by the facts.

This country became great because there was less interference with individual initiative and because there was more individual responsibility. People were, to a greater extent than anywhere else in the world, permitted to accumulate capital and invest it in productive enterprises. Taxes were negligible. Laws were few. There were no tariff barriers between the several states and individuals were free to travel and trade across state lines without being penalized and so, comparatively speaking, individuals were more free to seek their own best interest.

As to the tax-financed schools, a majority of the early schools were voluntarily financed. It was not until 1874 that the last suit against taxation for support of government schools was concluded. Most schools were started by churches. In the 1830's New England began to adopt the Prussian state school system, which was the forerunner of the movement in America.

Professor Richard La Pierre of Stanford University has pointed out that the proponents of tax-supported schools argued persuasively that they "... would, in a generation or two, be the cure for every recognized social ill; and that the schools would, moreover, in the course of time cost the taxpayers nothing since the educated children would grow up to be reasonable and honest men and women, and the need for public support of jails, prisons, poor farms and homes for the aged indigent would thus be eliminated."

Of course, it has not worked out that way. The costs of the bureaucratic school system have grown progressively more burdensome, and the increase in crime has kept pace with the growing size and power of government and the number of children trained in government schools. We doubt that even the strangest advocates of government tax-supported schools will claim that the Utopian predictions for the system have come true.

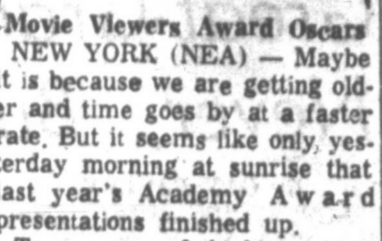

Facing up to reality and the failure of coercion and compulsion as means of educating children, Professor Frederick Eby of the University of Texas made this observation in 1957: "One conclusion is certain. The strong claims of a century ago that a system of public schools would do away with crime now look absurd. . . . Not only has public education failed to eliminate crime, but it is in some measure responsible for the increase of these various evils."

Now for the contradictory idea which shows to what extent people stuck with an untenable idea will go trying to defend it. Bruce Blossat, Washington correspondent for the Newspaper Enterprise Association, put his finger squarely on the contradiction in a recent article when he wrote:

"To listen to some of our public figures, the moment is nearly at hand to turn over to the nation's swelling numbers of young people the control of the universities, the economy, and the government. . . . The bedazzling statistic which underlies this considerable ferment is bounced off the wall by educators, politicians and others with almost hypnotic regularity — soon the people who are 25 years old and under will amount to half our grand total of 200 million-plus."

Movie Viewers Award Oscars NEW YORK (NEA) — Maybe it is because we are getting older and time goes by at a faster rate. But it seems like only yesterday morning at sunrise that last year's Academy Award presentations finished up.

To our way of thinking, there is practically no more memorable way to spend 12 or 14 hours of your life than by watching the film industry congratulate itself on having done a wonderful job during the past year.

It does seem rather unfair, however, that the most important segment of the movie world is not permitted to share in the honor and bestow its own prizes and citations for excellence in film.

We are referring, of course, to the audience.

After all, where would the Best Actor and Actress be if it were not for the audience? Where would the movies be at all if the average person did not turn his television on to watch them?

So, as we said, it seems only fair that moviegoer groups and organizations be permitted to give their own form of the "Oscar."

Such an addition, we feel, will not only inspire the National Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to new heights but will also help lengthen the award proceedings to a full 24-hour ceremony.

In our mind's eye, we see it working something like this:

From the Central Intelligence Agency—The "Cloakie" award to the film which has done most to portray spies and espionage as they really are. This year's winner: "The Sound of Music."

From the American Psychiatric Association—The "Siggie" award to producer-director Ingmar Bergman for having done more to further the cause of psychosis than anyone else in the film industry this year.

The House Beautiful Seal of Approval to that motion picture which has helped most to preserve family ties. This year's "Housie" winner: "My Sister, My Love."

From the Society of Electronic Engineers to Dean Martin, the star who has made the greatest progress toward automating the job of acting.

From the Jefferson Davis Society to the actor who best portrays the deep South. This year's "Leslie Howard" citation goes to Michael Caine.

From the Hypnotists Club of America to the movie "Ulysses" for getting people to pay $5.50 a ticket.

From the USA to the film that best tells our friends abroad how the American family that plays together stays together. This year's winner: "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

From the U. S. State Department—The "Ruskie" award to Svetlana Stalina for the year's most original screenplay.

Chaos in Our Foreign Policy

We've been told by our leaders again and again that we were never going to get into a land war in Asia. We're not only in it, we're in it alone. And the main enemy, our "ally," Soviet Russia, is testing her arms against us in Vietnam as we continue to give factories, food and war materials to our Russian enemy.

Remember when the Sudeteland was given to Hitler to make him "less fanatical"? And when we shipped scrap iron to Japan before Pearl Harbor?

"An appeaser is a person who feeds a crocodile, hoping it will eat him last." The present keeper of the State Department zoo has been working with the animals a long time.

Dean Rusk, when Asst. Secretary of State during the Korean War, advised Secretary of State George Marshall, to overrule the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommendation that 60,000 combat-ready Chinese Nationalist troops be used in the Korean War. Rusk also warned against bombing the bridges across the Yalu River. General MacArthur had stated that "every hour that this (bombardment of the Yalu Bridges) is postponed will be paid for dearly in American and other United Nations blood."

It was and the end is not yet. They fired MacArthur, so he couldn't win the Korean War.

Even after the Chinese Communists (with our help) had driven Chiang Kai-shek off the mainland and had killed millions of Chinese peasants in one of history's more brutal purges, Dean Rusk in a speech in 1950 declared that the Chinese Revolution was "not Russian in essence" and did "not aim at dictatorship." He compared favorably the Chinese Revolution with the American Revolution and said Mao Tse Tung was China's George Washington.

Obviously, Rusk thus proved that he should become Secretary of State Somebody's state, that is, Trouble is, it was our state. Who has been more wrong than Dean Rusk for the past 30 years — except for maybe Ralph McGill, Walter Lippmann or Fearless Fosdick?

A highly religious old Negro man, over a period of a few months, had his only son killed in a car wreck, his house burned down, his wife died of cancer, and the bank where he had his life's savings go broke. Then, as he was plowing one day, his old mule, Nell, lay down and died in the field.

The old man dropped to his knees, looked skyward and said: "Lord, this am get to be ridiculous."

These "accidents," too, am got to be ridiculous.

That great American patriot and statesman, Robert Taft, Sr., said: "We cannot clean up the mess in Washington, balance the budget, reduce taxes, check creeping Socialism, or purge subversives from our State Department unless we come to grips with our foreign

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Causes Are Essential Segments of Diagnosis

Many times I'm sure my answers to queries disappoint the questioner because of a misunderstanding about what constitutes a diagnosis. When, for example, I read, "My doctor says I have gastritis. What causes it and what is the best treatment?" I am tempted to reply that the word gastritis is not a diagnosis and the cause is an essential part of the diagnosis. Is it an alcoholic gastritis, a gastritis due to an infection (infection with what organism), or a gastritis caused by aspirin, other drugs or to chemical poisons? The treatment usually depends on an accurate knowledge of the cause.

What used to be diagnosed as gripe, a diagnosis now rarely used, could be any acute upper respiratory infection. Even to call it "influenza" no longer suffices for those who hope to forestall an epidemic by using a vaccine. The vaccine must confer an immunity against the virus strain (A, B, C or Asian) that predominates in a given epidemic. Sometimes an effective vaccine that combines two or more strains can be made, but there are limits beyond which such a procedure will fail.

A classic example of a non-diagnosis was the answer a student doctor gave to a patient who had uncontrolled vomiting: "Madame, you have a case of acute emesis." Emesis is a Greek word that means vomiting, nothing more. The days when such a diagnosis will satisfy a patient are, I hope, gone forever.

Q—What is Librium? Could a person who is taking phenobarbital for convulsive seizures also take this drug? Would there be any side effects?

A—Chlordiazepoxide (Librium) is a tranquilizer. It can be given with phenobarbital. The side effects of Librium, when given in too large a dosage, include drowsiness, fainting, nausea, headache and skin rash. Anyone who is taking this drug should have periodic blood counts.

Q—I am taking Librium for my nerves. It helps me, but since I have been taking it my policy, upon which all other policies depend.

I still believe that the only war Russia and Red China will fight will be over our grave. (Their main argument is over how and when they will bury us.) But if they should come to war and we ally ourselves with Russia, our leaders should be tried for treason.

These things didn't just happen. This chaos was created. It is like that old story about the surgeon, engineer and diplomat who were each claiming that his profession was the oldest.

Said the surgeon: "Eve was made out of Adam's rib, and that involved surgery."

"Yes," replied the engineer, "but the world was made out of chaos, which was an unrivaled accomplishment in engineering."

To which the diplomat replied triumphantly: "Right! But who created the chaos?"

Question Box

QUESTION: The reply to a Question indicated that the principal objection to placing Social Security or other government pension funds into shares of stock is that the government agency could gain control of the private business.

I concede that this objection is worthy of consideration, but so long as we are to have compulsory Social Security, instead of allowing individual citizens to enter such a program voluntarily or not at all, then we owe a duty to such compulsory participants to invest their funds in property which tends to increase in dollar value along with our inflation, and also pays dividends — instead of a constantly increasing number of government bonds (IOU).

The present system is no more than an increase in our total income taxes, with all current payments on Social Security dependent upon current government income from taxation.

I do not fear the nationalization of such private businesses as the bureaucrats' might control through control over the stock; for the bureaucrats would not want the problem of trying to operate such businesses, even if they could do so. As for control, these bureaucrats (together with the unions) have almost complete control over these businesses right now. The only important problem is whether we want a Social Security fund which will grow and increase in dollar value, and not be dependent as now entirely upon taxes for payment of legal demands made upon it. Also, we must not overlook the fact that our present method of financing the Social Security fund — requires interest to be paid by the taxpayers upon all the government bonds held by the fund.

ANSWER: Mr. F's comment points to the futility of attempting to change the political system. Mr. F. would attempt to use political action to change the Social Security system so that there would be a better chance for the money paid into Social Security to inflate with the government-induced inflation. Others have proposed making the system voluntary. Neither seems possible.

For the Social Security system is a political creation. It establishes a tax, and promises certain payments to the people. It is based on the power of the federal government to tax and spend. The money which is paid in and which is supposed to be placed in a "trust fund" actually is spent and replaced by government promises to pay. The "trust fund" amount will not come close to being enough to pay off future "benefits." When the bonds are "redeemed," money must be raised by taxes. Interest on the bonds also is from taxes.

Social Security is an easy way for the politicians to finance current operations. They are not going to give up this additional tax.

They will not give up the billions they receive in Social Security taxes which they now spend, but which Mr. F. would like to see invested in productive enterprise where it might increase jobs and through investment in tools. They also will not willingly make the program voluntary for the same reason — the bureaucrats' loss of easily spendable income from the people's purses.

McNamara is also telling Congress that because of the test ban treaty it is impossible to test the Nike systems adequately. There are other logical arguments against the treaty, but this one is hogwash. In this argument held water, both Polaris and Minuteman wouldn't have been built. Neither has been tested out with nuclear warheads.

A series of high-altitude nuclear firings before the test ban was signed gave more information than is needed for Nike concerning the major effects of high nuclear explosions.

These tests gave detailed information on the strength of the shock waves the nuclear explosions produce at high altitudes and the speed at which those shock waves spread.

They gave accurate information on the rate at which the fireball expands.

They produced detailed data on the radiation effects at different distances from the explosion.

The tracking, guidance and control systems of the Nike complex can be tested without nuclear warheads. The major problems are to determine if the Nike radar can find the targets accurately and with rapidity, if the Nikes can be guided to the enemy warhead quickly and exploded near enough to that warhead to be effective. This can all be done with warheads that carry no explosives.

The effects of nuclear explosives on varied types of simulated enemy warheads can also be tested underground, using scaled-down models.

In short, it is possible to give the Nike system components the same thorough testing given Minuteman and Polaris.

The question is why has McNamara been so misleading.

Gun Law Not Needed

In central Florida, nearly 4,000 women, from high school seniors to grandmothers, crowd to local pistol training classes after a series of brutal assaults on women alone at home. In Cincinnati, Ohio, of eight unsolved murders by knife, choking or car, a judge frees a clergyman charged with carrying a concealed automatic and comments: "With the crime situation as it is I'm not going to penalize people for protecting their lives and property."

Clergymen in the states of Arizona, New York, Washington and elsewhere assert the right of individual Americans to arm in defense of their loved ones and themselves against criminal aggression on the home front.

On the other hand, clamorous big-city voices demand that law-abiding citizens be virtually disarmed to help curb crime. These spokesmen contend that the Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, "A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed," merely refers to militia and confers no right on individuals.

To support homefront disarmament, they offer a lily-minded, starry-eyed rationalism. It goes like this: Police protect individuals; the military defend the nation. Their answer to criminal violence: "Call the police" — if not too battered or dead. Their answer to international violence is virtually the same: Call on the Army or Marine Corps to teach untrained Johnny how to shoot almost overnight.

Among the realities that this unreal approach dogmatically ignores is that the United States consists of states. Nearly 70 per cent of the states specifically recognize the right to bear arms in their constitutions. At least 50 per cent spell out clearly that this is an individual right for defense, and has nothing to do with anybody's "well-regulated militia."

The U. S. Constitution says that all rights not expressly granted to the federal government are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people. If the Second Amendment has nothing to do with individuals bearing arms, as anti-gun spokesmen contend, then that subject automatically rests with the states. As shown, most states guarantee the right to bear arms. Where States are not specific, apparently the right becomes directly that of "the people."

With President Johnson asking Congress in this session to

Food Still A Bargain

(The Daily Oklahoman)

Statistically, consumers can not complain too loudly about food prices since in terms of hours of labor required to buy food items, the increase is small. A recent review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis finds another reason for higher food costs:

"The upward trend of food prices over the past several years reflects changes in the amount of food processing demanded by consumers and rising costs of processing and distribution which are not offset by greater efficiencies.

"It is estimated that 1,800 new grocery items, most of which represent additional processing of farm products, are placed on supermarket shelves each year. . . . This large array of new food products is an indication of the additional processing services that contribute to rising food costs and for which consumers are willing to pay."

It is notable that forecasts for a slower rate of increase in food costs this year than last and that prices received by producers of farm commodities will be somewhat stabilized. Farm commodity costs account for about twofifths of total food costs. Processing and marketing costs account for the other three-fifths.

The unseen contributor to visible higher costs is inflation which reduces purchasing power. Yet changes in federal fiscal policies can lessen inflation if there is as much demand for governmental economy as there is for bulk-maid service in processed foods.

Harvesters Tackle Dons After Ambushing 'Dogs

Home Runs by Molberg, Foster Sink Borger 16-5

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

BORGER—The Pampa Harvesters, riding a two-game winning streak, including 15 of their last 16 and sporting a glossy 3-1 conference record and 15-1 season standard, played host to Palo Duro (1-2) and (8-6) today at 4 p.m. at Optimist Club Park.

The Harvesters beat Borger for the fifth time this season, but for the first time in conference play, Thursday, 16-5, clouting three doubles and two home runs and pounding out 18 hits.

Only five of the Pampa runs were earned as the Bulldogs committed five errors, three by catcher Mike Plumlee.

But, none the less, it was Pampa all the way, with Jim Lang gaining his fifth victory in as many outings and his second conference win of the season.

Lang went only three and two-thirds innings with Gary Molberg getting the relief call with two down and the bases loaded in the fourth, Molberg struck out Bob Dalley to retire the side and then gave up four runs, three of them earned, on six hits the rest of the way.

When Lang went out it was 7-1 Pampa and the Southpaw was almost assured of his victory.

Molberg was again the big stick, with four hits in five at bats, including a double, two run homer and three runs batted in.

Rick Foster clouted the other Pampa four bagger, a three-run job in a six-run fifth inning flurry. Foster had four runs batted in for the day.

Pampa coach Bobby Stephens used 16 players and four of five pinch-hitters came through with base hits.

The Bulldogs used three pitchers in an attempt to halt the Pampa barrage with Steve Pruitt starting and lasting four innings, giving up seven runs.

only two of which were earned. Steve Connally pitched one-third of an inning and gave up five runs, none of which were earned and Larry Huffine finished up, being tagged for four runs, three of which were earned.

Pampa went in front 2-0 in the second when Price singled. Lang followed with a double and Ronnie Sanders scored both runners with a single.

Another run came across in the third when Rick Foster was safe on a throwing error and went all the way to second. Molberg singled sending Foster to third and when catcher Plumlee tried to get Molberg stealing second the throw went wild and Foster came home.

The Harvesters tallied four more in the fourth when Jones walked, Gomez went in to run for him but Price and Lang struck out, Sanders was safe at first when he struck out and Plumlee dropped the last strike with Sanders safe at first and Gomez going to third.

Stephens singled to score Gomez and Foster sent the first pitch over centerfield for a three run homer making the score 7-0.

The Bulldogs scored in the bottom of the fourth when after one was out, Shaw singled, went to second on a wild pitch, Sanders walked and Robinson singled to lead the bases. Pruitt sent a deep fly to center to score Shaw and Plumlee walked to load the bases again. But Molberg came in and struck out Dalley to end the inning.

Pampa had another big inning in the fifth when six runs came across.

Achord was safe on an error. Matney doubled him to third and Achord scored and Matney went to third when Borger could not handle Jones ground ball. Price filed to center to score Matney. Larry Turcotte singled sending Jones to third, Sanders walked to load the bases and Stephens doubled to score Jones and Turcotte with Sanders going to third. Foster filed to center scoring Sanders and Molberg doubled to score Stephens to end the scoring.

The Bulldogs scored their first run off Molberg in the sixth, when Robinson was safe on Matney's error, and scored on a double by Pruitt.

Three runs came in for Pampa in the seventh when, after two were out, Mike Fortin singled and Molberg crashed his home run. Gary Hyatt followed with a single, Matney singled, Randy Harris walked to load the bases and Achord scored on Henley's infield hit. Turcotte filed out to end the inning.

Borger broke loose for three runs in the bottom of the seventh when Kelly opened with a double. Billington flied out but Shaw doubled to score Kelley and Sanders homered for two more runs. Molberg bore down to get Robinson and Plumlee to ground out.

HUSTLING HARVESTERS — Pampa basketball coach Terry Culley and guest speaker at PHS basketball banquet, Gene Gibson of Texas Tech congratulate Steve Williams after the senior won the Hustling Harvester award at the banquet Thursday night. A full house attended the banquet, where Gibson praised Williams as the best guard he's seen since Dub Malise.

FOR EDDIE MATHEWS 500 Home Runs Still in Sight

By United Press International
Today's Quickie Quiz:
Name a veteran baseball star who's being switched to first base this season and needs just a few more homers to become the sixth player in history to hit 500 homers in his career.
Did you say Mickey Mantle? Wrong.
The guy is 36-year-old Eddie Mathews, who's trying to make the transition to first base at Houston after 15 years at third base with Boston, Milwaukee and Atlanta.
Mathews hopes to pass the 500-mark this season and he proved he still had the homer stroke Thursday when he collected his first one of the spring as the Astros turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-2 at Wichita.

While Mathews was enjoying a good day, Mantle made his first error of the spring at first and it preceded Cap Peterson's fourth-inning homer that led the Washington enactors to a 5-2 victory over the Yanks. Joe Coleman, the Senators' rookie righthander, held the Yanks hitless for five innings.

In the other game Thursday, Boston turned back Detroit, 4-1, Kansas City whipped Philadelphia 11-3, Cleveland beat Cincinnati 11-4, California blanked San Francisco 1-0, Baltimore defeated Minnesota 6-3 in 10 innings, the Mets edged St. Louis 2-1 in 10 innings and the Cubs beat the White Sox, 8-4.

A two-run double by Tony Conigliaro off rookie Goerge Korincic highlighted a three-run seventh that gave Boston its victory over Detroit.

Ed Charles' three-run homer in the third was the key blow in Kansas City's triumph over Philadelphia as the A's pounded Dick Elsworth for 10 hits and 11 runs.

Orioles Win
The Orioles exploded for three runs in the 10th to upend the Twins after Frank Robinson's homer in the eighth sent the game into extra innings. Woodie Held's double climaxed the three-run 10th inning uprising.

Only Five Crack Par in Masters

By United Press International
AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) —The record book says young Bert Yancey is erratic, and a host of veterans went into the second round of the Masters Golf Tournament today ready to pounce on him if he stumbles again.
"It's a long time until Sunday," admitted the 25-year-old Yancey whose stunning five-urday par 66 in the windy opening round Thursday gave him a three-stroke lead over U.S. Open champion Billy Casper and Florida amateur Downing Gray.
Only five stars in the 63-man field managed to crack par in the opening round—the top three and then two-time U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and English pro Tony Jacklin, each at one-under-par 71.
Defending champion Jack Nicklaus, although contending his game was "about the same as it was at this time last year," was in an 11-way tie at par 72. Co-favorite Arnold Palmer was also tied with 10 others at one-over-par 68, which he called "not a very good position but one that you can recover from with a good round."

Bufs' Spring Tilt Saturday

A herd of Buffalo will trample Harvester Field Saturday when the West Texas State football team invades Pampa for a 7:30 p.m. scrimmage, a season. No admission is charged.

The Bufs have done nothing but score in two previous on-the-road scrimmages in Dallas and Plainview and they've done it without using what has always been their ready weapon, the pass.

In the two previous seasons the Bufs have dealt misery to the Whites, 99-9 and 44-5. You might think the Reds do nothing but score, but you'd be wrong, all 12 of the White points have come on field goals, thus the Reds haven't given up a touchdown as yet. The WT thunderclap offensive units have rolled up 155 points, rushed for 613 yards and passed for 876, so the pass isn't exactly dead at WT after all.

Saturday at 7:30 p.m. West Texas State's Buffaloes put on their last road-show style scrimmage of the season in Harvester Field.
Pampa netters are in competition today and Saturday in the Annual Borger-Phillips net tournament in Borger.
Harvester thincads go to Borger Saturday for the annual Bulldog Relays with 16 teams expected to be in attendance. AAAA and AAA schools are in one division and AA and A teams in the other division. Only Pampa, Plainview and Borger will represent AAAA.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 8
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A month to put some new plans into effect but a peculiar day — for most everyone wants to get things done. A Saturday to think deeply upon what you want to do in the future while getting whatever is holding you back of the way.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Although you are working on a very intellectual plane, conditions around you are very confusing. Stop feeling so frustrated. Show that you have courage and fortitude. Show that you are not afraid to take risks. Stop feeling so frustrated. Show that you have courage and fortitude. Show that you are not afraid to take risks.

Taurus: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Forget those private anxieties and get right down to business in whatever faces you now. Be more objective. Get duties behind you and you find that problems vanish as well as increase your income.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — You are a clever person by nature, so handle others in such a fashion now and stop vacillating so much. Avoid difficulties. Carry through with promises made instead of trying to put your work off on other shoulders.

CANCER: (June 22 to July 22) — Better get right at that civic work ahead of you and avoid trouble which might ensue. This could backfire if you do not answer service. This could backfire if you do not answer service.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 23) — You have to plan a new modus operandi and figure out where others can fit into the picture. Find time to study. Get the most out of the information that you need as well. Have a more serious, practical approach to life in general.

VIRGO: (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Finding better methods for making the future more successful is good now, but don't permit mate to think you are neglecting him or her. Discharge certain obligations you have to others. This includes the social.

LIBRA: (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Sit down with associates and discuss what you desire from them and how you can operate together more successfully. Get that duty completed in the outside world. Stop being afraid of it. It is really quite simple.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) — Don't try to get all those tasks done in a slipshod manner; you have plenty of time. Get your work better organized. Then you make all future work much easier to perform. Be more practical.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) — Entertainment is fine, but don't get into something new that you know nothing about and which could prove to be expensive or embarrassing. Take the time to finish some task you started some time ago. Get it done with alacrity.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) — Be sure you maintain equilibrium where kin, relatives or servants are concerned if some alteration arises. Use that good sense to get fundamental affairs going very well. Make real progress. Keep busy.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — If you can handle most of your affairs on the telephone or in writing, do so, since you can avoid some danger on the road. Check over reports for errors. Gain more respect from others.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Keep busy at your work instead of going out for pleasure if you want to get ahead in your career. Increase income. Make improvements to property that are worthwhile. Add value, beauty to the home.

Grocer Hears Burglars' Talk
 MOUNT ENTERPRISE, Tex. (UPI) — Charles Chapman, a grocer, was up at 1:30 a.m. today listening to his Citizens Band radio when he heard burglars holding an on-the-job conversation: on about looting the Merchant, Planter, and State Bank. Chapman telephoned Constable Wells Jackson. When Jackson reached the bank the burglars had gone, leaving behind their tools and a hole in the vault. They did not get a ny money. Chapman, refused to quote the radio conversation of the burglars without permission of the FBI but said it sounded like men inside were talking to a man outside in an automobile. There was no way to tell without catching the burglars whether they left because of difficulty in getting into the vault, whether they realized they should not have broken radio silence or whether they saw Jackson coming.
