War Demonstrators Swarm in New York

Youths March And Burn Draft Cards

NEW YORK (UPI) — One hundred American youths burned their draft cards in Central Park Saturday and then thousands of demonstrators marched through the heart of New York City to the United Nations Plaza in a giant protest which joined Negro civil rights leaders with opponents of the war in Vietnam.

A platoon of 2,000 demonstrators from Harlem and Columbia University, half of them Negroes, were preceded by a vanguard bearing the blue and orange flag of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Three thousand of New York's 27,500-man police force were turned out to prevent violence as the protestors, some of them girls with daffodils painted on their foreheads in keeping with the theme of "Spring Mobilization to End the War in Vietnam," walked through wooden horse cordons along post Central Park South, down Madison Avenue and across the U.S. building on the East River.

The police had prepared itself for a crowd which it said might range "from 100,000 to 400,000." But the crowd actually appeared to number from 50,000 to 60,000.

Scheduled to address the rally at the U.N. were such figures as Dr. Martin Luther King; Stokely Carmichael, head of the "black power" Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee; Floyd McKissick, head of CORE, and pacifist pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock.

The protestors came from a number of cities east of the Mississippi. Two special trains brought in approximately 1,200 from Cleveland and Detroit.

Across the nation, a twin but smaller rally was held in San Francisco.

The protestors gathered in the park in the early morning. There was a heavy spring thundershower but then the rain ceased and the temperature rose toward 60 degrees.

HOMING DEVICE DEDICATED — Air travelers coming to Pampa's Perry Lefors Airfield will beam in on a new radio wave sending out the "PPA" Morse code. Inspecting the new facility before it went into operation Saturday are Federal Aviation Agency officials (left to right) are R. G. Bescamp, David M. Bussey, Capt. Ralph Prock, Pampa CAP commanding officer, and FAA official J. L. King.

FAA Chiefs Here For Pampa Wins UIL Speech Competition

The new homing approach and landing facilities at Perry Lefors Airfield were dedicated Friday afternoon at a luncheon in Coronado Inn and a subsequent airfield tour by FAA, county and city officials.

Three representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency Southwest Region headquarters at Albuquerque, N. M., attended the dedication ceremony.

They were Dave Bussey, air traffic chief; R. G. Bescamp, district engineer, and James King, district chief of airway facilities. The FAA Southwest Region includes the Texas Panhandle, West Texas and New Mexico.

E. E. Shelhammer, chamber of commerce president, introduced Bussey who congratulated Pampa on installation of the new equipment, stating it would enable a greater number of pilots to make planned flights into Perry Lefors field.

Bussey gave a short history of the work involved in the project. In June of 1960, Bob Price of Pampa submitted an application to the Federal Aviation Agency for the beacon. In September, an airspace document was issued to make the installation legal with the FFA. Following Price's election to Congress, he was replaced by Capt. Ralph Prock, commander of the Pampa Civil Air Patrol, and chief pilot for Cabot. Through efforts of Prock and County Judge Sherman Lenning Jr., the equipment was installed and working nine months later. For a pilot to execute a landing and take-off, it formerly required a minimum of 1,000 feet and three miles of visibility at Pampa.

Bussey stated that with the new equipment a pilot now needs only 500 feet and one-mile visibility for a landing, and for take-off, only 300 feet and one-mile visibility.

Bussey pointed out that the growth of aviation has demanded better airports to help keep pace with modern air travel. In 1965 there were 88,000 "activity" aircraft in general aviation. This has grown to 102,000 in 1967. It is estimated there will be 100,000 by 1977.

Bussey complimented Pampa on its progressiveness in planning ahead for aviation growth. After the luncheon a short field trip was conducted to Perry Lefors Airfield to inspect the new facilities.

Barrier to Halt Infiltration Is Ordered by Ky

SAIGON (UPI) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky sent paratroop and engineer battalions to South Vietnam's northern frontiers Saturday to build a "Little Maginot Line" to halt Communist infiltration.

Ky announced that 20,000 Vietnamese villagers are being evacuated from the frontier area to permit building of the "fortified barrier" that will stretch 14 miles from the mountains to the South China Sea.

The strip, extending about three miles below the southern fringe of the Demilitarized Zone will be stripped of vegetation. Anything that moves will be far game for planes prowling overhead and allied artillery covering every inch of the area.

Bold maneuvers
The move was announced in the wake of increasingly bold Communist incursions into South Vietnam highlighted by a North Vietnamese raid across the border "Freedom Bridge."

The United States has flown a complete infantry brigade to the northern provinces to aid U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops who are fighting four Communist divisions in the area.

Disclosure of the dramatic plan overshadowed war action Saturday. But U.S. spokesmen said American jets in new raids over North Vietnam knocked out eight antiaircraft sites and smashed a surface-to-air missile site 10 miles west of Hanoi. During the raids Friday, the United States lost its 505th aircraft to enemy fire over North Vietnam, but the pilot was rescued.

'Neighbor Phase' of Cancer Crusade To Be Launched in Pampa Tuesday

The "Tell Your Neighbor" phase of the American Cancer Society's 1967 Crusade will be launched in Gray County Tuesday when some 400 volunteers take part in the house-to-house canvass in Pampa and Lefors, from 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. McLean will hold his house-to-house canvass on Thursday.

Don R. Lane, Crusade chairman of the Gray County Unit of the society, said that printed material containing life saving facts about cancer will be distributed and residents will be asked to complete educational survey cards.

Under the direction of Mrs. Bob Andis and Mrs. Jim Terry, the society has recruited and trained a task force of volunteers for special duty during the house-to-house phase of the annual crusade.

"Tell Your Neighbors" will emphasize the aspect of personal responsibility in the prevention and control of cancer," Lane said. "Half of all those who develop cancer could be saved through earlier detection and prompt treatment. Yet only one in three is actually saved."

"The individual alone is responsible for getting to a doctor in time for early detection and

Jury Gives Speck Death

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — A jury of seven men and five women Saturday found Richard Franklin Speck guilty of the massacre of eight young nurses and fixed the sentence at death in the electric chair.

The jury reached its decision in "the trial of the century" in just 50 minutes of deliberation.

One by one, the clerk of courtroom A of the Peoria County Courthouse read off the names of the eight young women who were slaughtered in their dormitory apartment last July 14.

He began with the name of the last to die, Gloria Jean Davy, the former model Speck is accused of raping while the sole survivor of the massacre Corazon Aurao, watched from her hiding place underneath a bed. To each name, the jury's verdict was "guilty."

Speck listened to each of the verdicts with tight lips, hardly a flicker of expression crossing his sallow, pock-marked face.

No Emotion
Gerty, 53, laid both palms on the defense table as the litany of "guilty" rang out and stared at the jurors in surprise.

Then he demanded that the jurors be polled. There was no break in their conclusion that Speck was guilty and should be executed.

An appeal was almost certain, although Judge Herbert C. Paschen had imposed some of the most stringent rules on record to prevent a verdict being overturned as a result of the Supreme Court's recent rulings on the protection of the rights of accused persons.

Bomb Kills Two; Five Are Missing
CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (UPI) — An irate husband tossed a bomb in a drug store in which his estranged wife worked Saturday, touching off an explosion and fire that killed at least two persons and left five missing.

Nine others, including a fireman, were injured as the blaze devoured six businesses on a block-long area crowded with shoppers. Damage was estimated at from $250,000 to $500,000.

Two bodies were recovered but they were burned beyond recognition.

OVER VIETNAM

Protestors Jam San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Thousands of demonstrators jammed downtown San Francisco Saturday in an anti-Vietnam war protest parade. It was the largest peace demonstration in West Coast history.

Police estimated 25,000 persons some barefoot or wearing sandals, took part in the four-mile hike to a "Peace Fair" at Kezar Stadium. The crowd far surpassed last year's protest when some 15,000 persons, mostly students, marched on the Oakland Army base.

Many students were among the demonstrators but they also included clergymen, hippies, businessmen and women—some carrying babies or leading children by the hand.

The march was started to the beat of a rock-and-roll band riding a truck with a banner proclaiming, "West Coast High School Students Against the War."

The demonstrators, many of them chanting against the war and others carrying flowers, filled half of the six-lane main thoroughfare in straggling fashion. An early morning rainstorm left gloomy skies that occasionally sprinkled the marchers with showers.

As the parade moved along Market Street, hundreds of additional demonstrators joined the ranks.

Among spectators watching the parade from the sidewalk were several servicemen, including an Army sergeant scheduled to join the Green Berets in Vietnam Monday. He refused to tell newsmen his name but said the demonstration was "pretty disgusting."

Nearly all of the marchers were young people. Many arrived Friday night in buses from as far away as San Diego and Portland, Ore.

They walked in ragged lines 10 to 12 abreast along the north side of the street. When a sound truck called for everyone to join in shouting "Stop the War in Vietnam," few responded. The marchers were predominately white, with only a scattering of Negroes.

More than 350 policemen were stationed along the parade route. When traffic backed up at cross streets, officers halted the marchers long enough to let buses and cars across Market Street.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Howe. (Adv.)

County SCD News

By LYNN McDANIEL
Dry weather has caused a large increase in the amount of Texas land damaged by wind-storms, H. N. Smith, state conservationist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, reported this week.

During January and February of 1967, almost 400,000 acres were damaged, compared to some 100,000 acres damaged during the same period a year ago. "This is an increase of more than 200,000 acres of land damaged this period," Smith said.

Cropland represents 96 percent of the land damaged this season. More than two million acres are in condition to blow, compared with 1.6 million acres a year ago, according to Smith.

"Surface moisture conditions are poor to very poor. Small grains have made little growth because of extremely dry weather and some are dying," Smith said. "Excellent rains in August and September of 1966 gave the land deep moisture starting at about 12 inches below the surface. If we could get a good two or three-inch rain, it would change the picture greatly. If we don't get the rain, it will get progressively worse. Emergency tillage is not as effective as usual because of the dry soil."

The Soil Conservation Service gives technical assistance to farmers and ranchers on conservation work which helps reduce wind damage. These practices include stubble mulching, grass planting, stripcropping, cover cropping and windbreaks. Most farmers can offset dry weather and high winds by keeping plant cover on cropland.

LIMIT SALE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has decided to bar the Soviet Union from bidding on the purchase of a deep-diving research submarine made in the U.S.A.

State Department spokesman Carl Barth said Friday the submarine's developer, the General Dynamics Corp., was told not to "explore the possibility" of selling Russia one of its Star III research submarines.

He said the company was advised, "such a sale would be inconsistent with the interests of United States security," presumably because the sub could be used to observe U.S. submarine operations or for other military purposes.

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS
Moisture has finally come to the Texas Panhandle. For a big area of the Panhandle the drought has been broken.

Approximately three inches of rainfall has fallen in our area during the past two weeks.

Some of our dryland wheat farmers now have hopes of saving some of their wheat. The prolonged drought has meant something else to the irrigation farmers. The drought has caused them to pump for longer periods bringing on a higher fuel bill. On the whole the irrigated wheat crop is coming along fine.

More and more irrigation farmers are putting in mechanized tail water return systems to prevent waste and insure better use of the water pumped from the underground reservoir.

STATE ACTION
To meet the June 30 deadline on setting up water pollution prevention plans, required of states by the federal government, state agencies are moving swiftly.

House Speaker Ben Barnes said Monday that one of the decisions remaining in the House Appropriations Committee, before it can complete the House version of the state budget bill, is the item recommended by Gov. John Connally for $4 million to plan regional waste treatment facilities in metropolitan areas, and $24 million for grants to cities or districts for plants. The Senate Finance Committee left both items out of its version of the bill.

MONITORING PROGRAM
With Water Pollution Control Board authorization for an 18 parts per million and 18 ppm total suspended solids standard for the San Antonio River Basin in hand, the San Antonio River Authority is preparing a program of monitoring and enforcing the operation of each sewage disposal plant in its jurisdiction.

SARA General Manager David Brune said a regulatory ordinance is being prepared for consideration by the board of directors, which will prescribe SARA enforcement of state permits.

CHANCE TO IMPROVE
According to the San Antonio Light, Brune stressed that plant operators will be given every opportunity and assistance to bring their plants up to standards.

Brune said "We plan for the river authority to call a conference of all plant owners and operators in the San Antonio Basin to discuss procedures for plant surveillance and enforcement of the regulatory ordinance."

"The Authority intends to begin an extensive sampling and analysis program soon. If analysis reveals violation, written notice will be given to the plant owner. The owner would have five days to take steps toward compliance. If he doesn't follow through we'll go to the courts," Brune said.

STREAM POLLUTION
One proposed section of the ordinance would allow any citizen who suspects stream pollution to advise SARA's management, or even communicate directly with the board chairman.

Brune said the plant owner would be given full opportunity to defend his operation in such a case, even to the hold of a public hearing. A central collection system, or tie-ins to existing lines, is still SARA's goal. The Light noted at a heavily-attended application to establish a plant in the Leon Valley area in northwest Bexar County is due a hearing by WPCB examiners April 19 in Austin.

HOUSE COMMITTEE
The House Committee on Conservation and Reclamation has approved SB 263, by Sens. Murray Watson and William N. Patman, to authorize water districts and authorities and river authorities to provide regional sewage collection and disposal systems. The committee also approved the House twin, HB 529, by Reps. R. H. Cory and J. T. Newman HB 529 was amended to conform to SB 263, so Rep. Cory will carry which ever turns up first on the House calendar. Of course, the Senate bill would be easiest, since house action is all that's needed there.

The next Water Pollution Control Board meeting will be April 27 at 9 a.m. in the John H. Reagan Bldg. That gives staff two bare but busy weeks to complete results of the April 12 statewide water quality criteria hearing into a final draft for the FWPCA.

Awards Planned For Conservation

In the regional essay contest, Garry Schwalk of Perryton High School, Ochiltree County, will receive a trophy.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

The trip to Chicago to study the Chicago Merchantile Exchange Markets was called off in a meeting of livestock producers last Thursday, at the Gray County agricultural building east of Pampa.

John Womack, a broker from Amarillo, met with the producers to discuss the Live Beef Cattle Future's Market. Womack mentioned that a remodeling program is now underway in the Exchange Building in Chicago, Ill.

Due to the extremely busy season it was believed it would be difficult to obtain enough interest to justify chartering a special bus. A smaller group may fly at a later date.

The rain was wonderful. We have heard some ranchers received up to four inches. Most reports show from two and one-half to three and one-half inches. This will help some of our wheat. In my opinion a vast acreage of our wheat was too far gone for the moisture to be of benefit. The extremely warm weather over too long a period is what did the damage. If we could have enjoyed last year's cooler than normal March weather the rain would have helped greatly.

The rain was probably of the greatest benefit to our range country where unusually dry weather prevailed last summer and fall. With the ground already warmed up from the high temperature for the past six weeks you will see one of the prettiest countrysides you have seen in years within 10 days.

The minimum temperature reached only 42 degrees in Pampa last Thursday morning. The rapid warming trend will make things jump now. This country can go from a desert to a flower garden in two weeks.

Canadian Production Credit Association members and special guests are reminded the annual meeting will be held at Canadian April 22, starting at 10 a.m.

Dean Tipps of Briscoe in Wheeler County was named as an outstanding district farmer and will receive honors in the May 19 program.

Awards made here will be given to representatives from 51 counties in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains.

In state contests, Stephen Warminski of White Deer, in the McLellan Soil and Water Conservation District, was named a 4-H Club winner.

About 40 members in the Pampa area are expected to attend the meeting.

Judging of the Alanreed Community in the State Rural Neighborhood Improvement Program will begin at 10 a.m. April 28. This is the second annual judging of this community. They were a first place district winner in 1966. The district includes 22 Texas Panhandle counties.

SECOND GRADE LIBRARY SESSION — Mrs. Frances B. National Library Week Being Observed by Pampa's Readers

By WANDA HUFF
News Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: Today is the beginning of America's annual observance of National Library Week. In recognition of the service by Pampa's librarians, the following article is the first of a four-part series on Pampa School District libraries and the Lovett Memorial Library. Articles on junior high school libraries and the Pampa High School library will appear next week in the Pampa Daily News while this article recognizes elementary and Lovett libraries.

In Pampa, "Reading is what's happening," or as some elementary school children agree, "Happiness is a good book." During National Library Week, which starts today and continues through Saturday, Pampa librarians are encouraging more readers and nonreaders to use libraries.

At schools, book talks, story telling periods and book reviews are planned to stress the importance of reading, Mrs. Frances B. Walls, elementary library coordinator, said.

Elementary school children have their own library corner in their classrooms and have a daily library period to read books or select some to take home.

"Even our second graders observe the quiet sign and walk on tiptoes around the library corner. We are teaching them good library manners and how to use a library," Mrs. Gina Schaefer, Lamar Elementary School second grade teacher, said.

Each elementary school grade has a movable reference material cart so all books are accessible to the children.

Theme of national Library Week is "For a Better Read, Better Informed America." The week's sponsors, since it was founded in 1954, are the National Book Committee and the American Library Association.

In Texas the week's goals are to establish systems for inter-library cooperation, explain library resources, goals and needs and to reach out to the non-library user.

"Pampa's public library, the Lovett Memorial Library, is used by children of all ages and by the older generation, but is sadly neglected by the middle-age group and young married parents. During school, reference work is at its peak, with the summer time used more for leisure reading," Mrs. J. G. Crnkovic, assistant librarian, said.

Circulation for last year was 11,362 with 30,000 in volumes and 115 periodicals. The library employs five full-time workers and one part-time page in addition to the head librarian.

"The Fine Arts Book Collection has been moved from the regular stacks to the adult lounge. We are striving to enlarge our Southwest Book collection, vertical file and m a p file," she said.

Some library services offered include a pre-school story hour weekly for five and six-year-olds from October until Easter; summer reading program for first through sixth graders; co-sponsoring Senior Citizens Club, which meets weekly and a weekly newspaper column pertaining to new library books.

Librarians will also borrow reference material and films from other libraries for people who are doing serious research work or projects.

Reference aids include a photocopying machine, guides to periodical literature and periodicals and out-of-town city and phone directories.

The librarians will also supply information by phone, cooperate with teachers and school librarians, give informational

Burglar Takes $150 in Liquor

Approximately $150 worth of liquor was taken in a burglary sometime early Saturday.

According to a Pampa police report, officer Jim Robertson, while on routing patrol, found a south side window broken out at Service Liquor, 800 S. Barnes, about 2:55 a.m.

According to the report, a hole about the size of a man's hand was broken out of the glass and apparently someone reached in and took 24 fifths of liquor.

Judging Team Places Seventh in FFA Events

The Future Farmers of America livestock judging team here placed seventh in the invitational judging contests at West Texas State University yesterday.

Pampa team members, Andy Cole, Jim Reeves and Bill Skaggs, will compete again in the Texas Tech invitational FFA livestock judging contest April 29 in Lubbock.

In the WTSU contest, 63 livestock judging teams competed in judging six classes, both breeding and fat cattle, breeding sheep, fat lambs and breeding and fat swine.

Pampa team members competing in dairy cattle judging were Larry Baggerman, Parker Stewart and Gary Richardson. Leonard Taylor, Eddie Wilkie and Guy Turner competed in land judging.

"We'll qualify for state competition, if we do as well in the Texas Tech contest as we did at WTSU, because at Tech, 130 teams will compete and the top 10 per cent will qualify for state livestock judging events," Bob Skaggs, FFA sponsor, said.

Both dairy cattle and livestock judging teams will enter the Texas Tech contest.

The state FFA judging events are in May at Texas A&M at College Station.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

New books on the shelves of Lovett Memorial Library April 17, 1967.

"Center of the Storm" — John Z. Scoopes; the memoirs of the author, defendant in the 1925 "Monkey Trial." Forty-one years had to pass before Scoopes felt able to tell his own story, supported by Clarence Darow and William Jennings Bryant.

"A Partnership With Death" — Clifton Adams; a new Western.

"Wings of the Tiger" — Carl Krueger; a hard hitting novel with a "no holds barred" approach about the war in Vietnam and the part the Air Force plays in it.

"College Of One" — Sheila Graham; the story of a unique two-year liberal arts course — the student: Sheila Graham, the teacher: F. Scott Fitzgerald.

"The Ancient Pond" — Courtney Browne; the scene is occupied Japan in 1950. The plot has to do with the search for a much wanted Japanese war criminal, Major Terak.

"A Search For The Truth" — Ruth Montgomery; the author of "A Gift of Prophecy" discloses her own remarkable experiences in the field of psychic phenomena and finds a new dimension of life — and hope — for all.

"Twinkle, Twinkle, 'Killer' Kane!" — William Blatty; an outrageous, offbeat humor with an astonishing depth of meaning by the author of "John Goldfarb Please come home!"

"Hell In A Very Small Place" — Bernard B. Fall; a searing, detailed account of the French disaster at Dien Bien Phu.

"The Breaking Strain" — John Master; an American and an Englishman are plunged into the ruthless struggle between East and West. The two men scarcely know one another, but they stumble across an attempt to kidnap a beautiful woman.

"The Executioners" — John Creasey; the issue — capital punishment — and the absorbing account of police work make this a powerful crime novel.

College diplomas are called "sheepskins" because that's what they were once made from. Papyrus was used for most ancient paper, and special documents were often printed on vellum, from calves skin, or parchment, from sheep skin.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

SWIM LESSONS: Many persons have called as to when the sign up for the summer program will be held. The tentative date for this enrollment is May 15 from 1-3 pm. All of the Red Cross courses will be offered.

To avoid the crowd you might enroll your children in our swim courses being offered April 24-May 10 and May 15-31. The Center is offering the two most wanted courses during this time — the polywogs and beginners... and there are still a few vacancies. The Center only takes 20 in each class so hurry.

Offered on April 24-May 10 will be from 4-5 pm. Polywogs and at 5-6 p.m. Beginners then on May 15-31 from 4-5 p.m. Beginners and 5-6 p.m. Intermediates. Enrollment for these classes are free to Center members and $3 to non-members.

MEMBERSHIPS AVAILABLE — The Center is a place of activity open all the year round and participation is by memberships. With the summer months coming up you will want to purchase that membership now in order to enjoy all the facilities.

The Center offers two memberships for your consideration — an individual and family membership. The individual membership is for those persons 8 years of age or older. This membership is for those persons 8 years of age or older. This membership is only $8 per year and $5 for six months. The family memberships are for families who have more than two and for those children under 8 years of age or older. This membership is only $20 for a year and $12 for six months. There is no limit to the number in the family, but it must be the immediate family only.

As you will notice, these memberships are very economically priced. This can only be done by the generosity of our Pampa businesses and business men who participate in the sustaining membership plan. By their donations we are able to supplement our budget and keep the cost of a membership very low. All Pampans should express their appreciation to these conscientious people.

TEEN DANCES — The Center sponsors the teen dances in Pampa on Friday and Saturday nights for the teenagers. These are held in the gym from 8-11 p.m. and are chaperoned by adults and an off-duty policeman. To set the minds of our parents at ease, we do not allow the teenagers to come and go as they please. Our rules are simple and those of common sense. We want the teens to come and enjoy themselves dancing — nothing else. Parents are invited to the dances as our guests. The schedule of bands to appear at the Center are: April 21 The Velasquez Bros.; April 22 The Intrigues; April 23 The Vicounts; April 24 The Manchids; May 5 The Essex; May 6 Calico Capers Sq. Dance; May 12 The Essex; May 13 The Soulivors; May 19 The Essex; May 20 The Reasons Why from Texas Tech and the big, big attraction featuring the RCA Recording Stars — The Blue Things on May 26 The April 28 dance featuring the eight piece band of the Vicounts is $1.50 and the Blue Things dance May 26 is $1.75.

VOLLEYBALL LEAGUES — The tie in the women's league was resolved this past week by the defeat of the reigning champions of two years — Cock O' Walk. Other women's scores were Pampa Wholesale over Jonas Auto Sales 15-2 and 15-11 while Alliance Claims bumped Marie Foundations 15-0 and 15-0.

In the mixed league First National Bank retained first place by bumping off Meco 15-9 and 15-6 to remain undefeated at 5-0. Other scores found Miller-Hood staying into contention defeating GWG's 15-10 and 15-5 while Blumer's Tipsters tipped Piggly-Wiggly 15-1 and 15-0.

Checking In At Lovett Memorial Library

By BARBARA COCKRELL, Librarian

This week Lovett Memorial Library joins other libraries throughout the nation in observing National Library Week. The stated purpose of Library Week in Texas is to "attract wide public attention to the important role libraries and the librarian play in education and in combating illiteracy, to increase public awareness that libraries are economic as well as cultural assets of the community, and to stimulate the pursuit of knowledge."

The planned program of special exhibits at your public library is designed with a serious, underlying purpose . . . That of attracting a larger number of people to the library and making them acquainted with the many services the library has to offer. The success of this program depends on the response and interest evidenced by the people of Gray County. The future of your library depends on you. The public library cannot flourish, grow, and give maximum service without the cooperation of all citizens of the community.

West Texans are a proud people. We don't like to hear that Texas ranks 37th in the nation in per capita expenditure for public libraries, but this is a fact, and we must face it. And being Texans, we are doing something about it. We have no alternative but to do our small part, to support our own library and demand the best for the young people of our area. Let us realize that the "three R's" that once stood for "reading, writing, and arithmetic," are now much more apt to mean "reading, research, readiness" in our modern world of science and technology.

Libraries are struggling to meet the challenge of this changing world, and everyone, young and old, must be prepared to meet the library — to make reading a part of his daily life.

The program for Library Week, beginning Monday, April 17th, is as follows:
 April 17-22: EXHIBIT OF Flamingo tongues were considered a delicacy in ancient Rome. More than 700 different strains groups live south of the Sahara in Africa.

Parmichael-Whitley FUNERAL DIRECTORS

MO 5-2323 Ambulance Service

April 17-22: INDIAN ART AND CRAFTS EXHIBIT — A large collection of Indian artifacts will be shown by courtesy of local friends of the library.

April 18: EXHIBIT FROM THE PANHANDLE PLAINS MUSEUM — Boone McClure, director of the Panhandle-Plains Museum of Canyon, will present a collection of books and articles pertaining to the history of the Panhandle.

April 20: HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPT EXHIBIT — A collection of rare books, manuscripts and maps depicting the early exploration of the Panhandle-Plains region will be presented by the Mary E. Bivins Library of Amarillo. A staff member of that library will be present to explain these materials.

April 21: An exhibition of paintings and sculpture by James Ivey Edwards will be on display in the library auditorium. Mr. Edwards, a prominent West Texas artist, will accompany the exhibit and will give a demonstration of his work.

The final entry in the 1966 Texas traffic records has been entered and closed. An all-time record high of 3,406 persons killed, 208,310 persons injured, and an estimated property loss of $557,414,000 was sustained. This compares to the 1965 record of 3,028 persons killed, 186,062 injured, and an estimated property damage of $498,070,000.

HOW'S BUSINESS?

Economy Needs a Boost From Consumer Spending

By Roger Babson's Staff

One of the key points in the prolonged expansionary phase of business since the winter of 1961 has been the persistently favorable background for employment. However, since late last fall, there have been a few signs of deterioration in the employment climate. This is something that should be carefully watched, in view of the fact that the economy is in dire need of help from consumer spending.

By historical standards, total employment and unemployment still look quite good as far as the figures go. But what could become important is the slowing down of favorable trends. Jobless totals, for example, have been moving sideways for a number of months; but there have been no really encouraging declines and there have been even a couple of fractional upshadings. With industrial activity now a trifle below its high, and slipping downward, the number of job holders is likely to continue to dip below seasonal norms in the months ahead.

Naturally, this will mean that the economy will not be able to absorb the new workers coming into the labor force as readily as it has in recent years. Look, also, at the average length of factory work weeks, which is of great significance to consumer spending plans. From a 41.5-hour peak reached last September, this indicator has been slipping almost steadily, and is now barely above the 40-hour mark. Hence, the lush bonanza of premium overtime-fattened paychecks no longer prevails, nor is the support it once provided likely to return in the near future.

It is quite true that the present statistical standing of employment, unemployment, and factory work weeks is far from recession conditions. Nevertheless, the uncertain employment tendencies and the cutback in overtime work surely do not hold out promise for an early resurgence in consumer buying.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Howard Ruins Rohr No-Hitter

By United Press International
The secret life of Bill Rohr is public history today.

No more mysterious hiding or intrigue will involve the innocuous-looking Boston southpaw, who assured himself of nationwide notoriety Friday when he came within one strike of pitching an historic no-hitter against the New York Yankees.

For the entire 1963 season Rohr was kept hidden on a farm by Pittsburgh, which hoped to seek him through the fall draft unnoticed. But even though he didn't pitch all season, Rohr was claimed from the Pirates for $8,000.

The 21-year-old lefthander, making his major league debut, went as far as two out in the ninth inning before New York's Elston Howard lined a 3-and-2 pitch into right center to ruin the no-hit bid. Rohr retired the next batter to preserve a 3-0 victory for the Red Sox.

The Minnesota Twins beat the Detroit Tigers 5-3, the Baltimore Orioles ripped the Kansas City Athletics 7-1 and the California Angels trounced the Cleveland Indians 10-1 in other American League games. Washington and Chicago were not scheduled.

All the Boston runs came on homers, Reggie Smith leading off the game with his first major league circuit and Joe Foy hitting a two-run blast in the eighth. Both home runs came off losing pitcher Whitey Ford.

Error Decisive

Homes by Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles provided the Twins with their winning margin although the decisive run scored on an error by Detroit second baseman Jerry Lumpe in the sixth inning. Dick Tracewski, losing pitcher Earl Wilson and Don Wert drove home the Detroit runs in the second.

Jim Merritt yielded only three hits over the final four innings to gain credit for the victory. Baltimore scored four unearned runs in the third inning—three of them on a home run by Andy Etchebarren—to coast to its third victory of the season without defeat. An error by third baseman Ed Charles opened the way for the Oriole outburst against loser Tony Pierce.

Rookie Bill Dillman relieved Tom Phoebus in the fifth for Baltimore and pitched hitless ball over the final five innings for his first triumph. Rick Reichardt and Don Macher each hit two-run homers and drove in seven runs between them to highlight the Angels' attack. Veteran Jack Sanford, with fine relief help from Minnie Rojas, was the winning pitcher. Luis Tiant was charged with the loss.

FRIDAY'S NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Jaster Jinxes Dodgers

By United Press International
Larry Jaster took an unfamiliar walk to the showers but the Los Angeles Dodgers took an all-too-familiar walk on the plank.

That was the story of the St. Louis Cardinal pitcher's first meeting of the 1967 season with the team which he shut out a record five consecutive times in 1966. The young right-hander shut out the Dodgers into the seventh inning Friday night and was kayoed in the ninth but nevertheless raised his career mark against them to 6-0 with an 8-4 triumph.

When Jim Lefebvre scored from third base on Jeff Todborg's sacrifice fly in the seventh inning, it marked the first run the Dodgers had scored against Jaster in 52 2-3 consecutive innings. They tagged him for two more in the ninth before Dick Hughes got Ron Hunt to pop out and end the game.

Maris, Cepeda Swinging
Manager Red Schoendienst's disappointment at seeing Jaster kayoed in the ninth was tempered by the muscle displayed by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda for the second straight game. Maris had a single, double and triple and drove in one run while Cepeda drove in three runs with a pair of doubles. After two games, Maris is hitting .556 and Cepeda .333 for a team that scored the fewest runs of any National League team during the 1966 season.

Maris tripled in the middle of a three-run first-inning rally to send Jaster on his way toward victory and hand Claude Osteen the defeat. The victory enabled the Cardinals to take over first place while the loss was the Dodgers' second in a row.

The Atlanta Braves nipped the San Francisco Giants 6-5, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the New York Mets 5-1, the Houston Astros topped the Cincinnati Reds 8-2 and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-5 in other NL games.

Felipe Alou and Joe Torre hit homers and Hank Aaron had a double and two singles to lead the Braves' 10-hit attack. Bob Jarvis went 5 1-3 innings to gain credit for the victory although he needed relief help from Phil Niekro. Jim Davenport hit two homers and Willie McCovey one for the Giants.

Short Sparks Phillies

Chris Short drove in a run with a single during a third-inning rally and pitched a seven-hitter for the Phillies, who chased Mets' starter Jack Fisher in 2 1-3 innings before an opening-night crowd of 26,649.

Eddie Mathews moved into the No. 7 spot on the all-time home run career list when he hit the 494th of his career in the Astros' easy victory over the Reds. Mathews' No. 494 enabled him to pass Lou Gherig and left him six short of becoming the sixth man in history to reach the 500-mark. Rookie Aaron Pointer's three-run homer and two hits each by Sonny Jackson and Bob Aspromonte also featured the nine-hit Houston attack.

Curt Simmons received credit for the win on the wings of early Cub homers by Ernie Banks and Ron Santo. Banks' second homer of the season was the 421st of his major league career. Dennis Ribant, acquired from the Mets during the winter, lasted only 4 1-3 innings and was charged with the loss.

Webster Inks With Houston

HOUSTON (UPI) — George Webster, Michigan state's two-time all-American and No. 1 draft choice of the Houston Oilers, signed his 1967 American Football League contract with the Oilers Saturday.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed by Oilers' Vice President and General Manager Don Klosterman or Webster, who was present at the press conference where the announcement was made.

Webster, 6-4 and 218 pounds, played rover back while at Michigan State and called defensive signals for the Spartans, who went unbeaten but played to a controversial 10-10 tie with No. 1 rated Notre Dame The Anderson, S.S., product twice was voted the Spartans' outstanding defensive player.

Klosterman said Webster would be tried at the left linebacker position, which was vacated when Johnny Baker was traded to San Diego after the end of the 1966 season.

"I will do my utmost to help Houston become a permanent power in professional football," Webster said. "I'm real happy to be with the Houston club."

FRANK KELLEY has ended his golfing career for another season for the Pampa Harvesters. Kelley served as the team's captain during 1967.

Mississippi State Signs Negro

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — Sports officials at Mississippi State University confirmed Friday night that the school has broken the color barrier and allowed a young Negro to report for spring football practice.

The candidate, a freshman not otherwise identified, reported for his first practice session Wednesday and worked out again Friday under new head Coach Charles Shira, the school disclosed.

Mississippi State is a member of the Southeastern Conference. Neither State nor Ole Miss where integration in the fall of 1962 brought riots that left two persons dead, have ever had Negro athletes participating in varsity sports.

Jackie Robinson: An Honest Politician

By SANDY PADWE
NEW YORK (NEA) — Jackie Robinson, assistant to the governor of New York state, is no different from Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers, on first base. Jackie still has a habit of making people nervous. In baseball, he made the pitchers and catchers nervous every time he looked toward second base. Now, in politics, he makes everybody nervous, including plenty of people in the Republican party. It has been 20 years since Jackie Robinson broke the color line in baseball. The years were turbulent, filled with controversy — and excitement. The next 20 years promise to be just as tempestuous because Jackie Robinson is living one of those perpetual motions, around-the-clock lives. Any minute, it seems, he's going to take off for second, wind up at third and maybe, with some luck, make it all the way home. Robinson hasn't lost the appeal of his playing days. In fact, he has more now because he is that rare product of our society, a political figure without personal political ambitions. He can afford to be honest. "People have asked me why

I don't run," Jackie said. "But if I ever had a falling out with Governor Rockefeller, I'd get out of this business in 30 seconds. I respect him tremendously. He understands that I can't align myself with every Republican issue. Yet he has never been critical of me while others in the party have. "You see, I'm not at all convinced the Republican party is dedicated to improving race relations. I know the governor is." Jackie's official title is special assistant for community affairs. He acts as a liaison man between the governor's office and various city-state agencies: Bureau of Corrections, Narcotics Bureau, Housing Authority, etc. "I have a relationship," Jackie said, "where a lot of people trust me. They know I won't see them out. This is my most important asset. Most people know me and they know my motives. Maybe some of the things I've said will cost me, but I know I've at least been honest." His candor, while new to many politicians, is not surprising to the baseball community. He never has been popular with the hierarchy. "I don't respect ownership in baseball," Jackie said. "They're still living in the 19th century when it comes to the Negro in front-office activities. All it takes is one owner with the courage of a Mr. (Branch) Rickey to give someone a chance. "I wouldn't go back to baseball for anything. I'm not one to look back, although I do appreciate all baseball has done for me. But I gave baseball something, too. Neither of us owes the other anything." Jackie's contribution to baseball is evident in every major and minor league city. The Negro is the dominant figure in the sport. The transition began in April 1947. Now it is complete. "I never thought about that at the time," Jackie said. "I was too busy making sure Mr. Rickey's experiment would work. The big concern then was the relationship between the men on the team, not the abilities of the Negro and white ball-player. "Mr. Rickey kept telling me I would have the fight won when my teammates started to get behind me. "I remember Dixie Walker, one of the most vocal against my coming up, was one of the first to offer me help. I was on the rubbing table and he came over and gave me some tips. "Eddie Stanky was the first one to start defending me verbally. It was against the Phillies in Brooklyn. We had been around the league once by then and the Phillies were pretty abusive. "I was on first base and the Phillies started yelling at me. Stanky got up in our dugout and started shouting back at them. I don't remember his exact words, but that was the start." Jackie Robinson is 47 now. His hair is gray, his body still that of the athlete. And any second, he's going to stretch that lead into a stolen base.

FEET FIRST — Pampa Harvester Larry Stephens comes sliding into second during Pampa's victory over Coronado Friday. Stephens was safe and later scored.

LANG WINS ANOTHER Harvesters Take 17th

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor
Plainview did Pampa a big favor Friday and when the Harvesters met the Bulldogs Saturday at Optimist Club Park, Pampa was hoping they'd do it again. The Bulldogs axed Tascosa, 2-1 Friday and Pampa trounced Lubbock Coronado, 7-2, to move into a tie for first place in district 3-4A. Pampa sent Dickie Henley to the mound Saturday to try and cool off the Bulldogs and at least stay in a tie for the league lead. (See Saturday's results, page 7). Jim Lang went the distance for Pampa Friday, scattering three hits and giving up two unearned runs as the result of an error and home run. Lang ran his season record to 6-0 and district mark to 3-0 in going the distance for the third time. Pampa now stands, as of Friday, 5-1 in district and 171 for the season with a four game winning streak. Tascosa had a game winning skein snapped. Lang, in between the arguing of Coronado coach Ron Stephens, who spent more time on the playing field than his players, walked just one batter and fanned six of the Lubbock players. The Mustangs used three pitchers with Don Jones the loser. Pampa swatted the three hurlers for seven runs on 11 hits. The Harvesters made it 2-0 in the first when Sanders led off with a single, stole second, moved third on Larry Stephens' ground ball and scored on a sacrifice fly by Rick Foster. Gary Molberg walked, stole second and scored on James Matney's single. Three more came across for Pampa in the second on a lead-off double by Alvin Achord, a ground-out that sent him to third and a single by Lang that scored Achord. Gomez ran for Lang, went to second on a fly to center by Sanders and scored on a triple by Stephens. Stephens scored on Foster's single to make it 5-0. The Mustangs scored their only runs in the third when Smith reached first with one out on an error by Achord and Al Desherlia homered with two men gone. Pampa scored a singleton in the third when Molberg walked, went to third on a single by Matney and scored on a two-out single by Barry Price. The last Pampa tally came in the fourth when Sanders led off with a single, and scored all the way from first on Larry Stephens' double.

Austin Hurler Gets Gem

By United Press International
Austin's Jim Britton opened the Texas League season Friday night with a pitcher's dream—a 3-0 no-hitter over the Arkansas Travelers. Britton walked only Bob Wolff, Arkansas' second man up in the game, to spoil a perfect game. The 6-5, 215-pound righthander struck out 15. In other opening night action Amarillo downed Dallas-Fort Worth 6-1 and Albuquerque edged El Paso 8-7. Austin scored two runs in the first inning and Clarence Gaston added a solo home run in the sixth to back Britton's pitching. Britton, 23, is starting his seventh year in organized baseball. He pitched for Richmond in the International League last season, and was with Austin during the 1965 season. Amarillo collected four runs in the fifth inning to break open a 1-1 ball game. Dallas-Fort Worth scored one in the first, but Amarillo had tied it in the second. Kenney Washingtons three-run homer in the top of the seventh brought Albuquerque from behind. Robert Proctor, who entered the game in the sixth, picked up the victory by pitching shutout ball for the last three innings.

WILT'S TIRED, BARRY'S HURT 76ers, Warriors Go Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Chamberlain was visibly tired and Wilt Chamberlain's weariness Friday night when he helped and Rick Barry's sore ankle Philadelphia defeat the Warriors the question marks today, 141-135, in overtime at the Philadelphia 76ers and Convention Hall. The San Francisco Warriors Chamberlain had only 16 points in the second game of points, but managed to share 3 points in the second game of rebounds. Barry led San Francisco to the National Basketball Association's 37 points, but lost the final playoff. Warriors coach Bill Sharman said Barry's left ankle was sore again after the game, with mild swelling. Shaman said he expects Barry to be ready for Sunday afternoon's nationally televised game in Philadelphia. Philadelphia went ahead to stay at 132-131 on a field goal by Hal Greer with 4:15 remaining in the extra period. A basket by Billy Cunningham gave the 76ers a 134-131 lead with 3:42 to play and San Francisco could never get closer than one point the remainder of the game. Philadelphia opened a 19-point margin early in the second quarter but the Western Division winners kept pecking away and narrowed its deficit to 73-65 at halftime. Hal Greer scored 32 points and Wally Jones added 30 for Philadelphia. Nate Thurmond scored 24 and blocked nine shots for the Warriors.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jerry Wynn, publicity director of the San Diego Chargers, was elected president of the American Football League publicity directors. The largely ceremonial honor was afforded Wynn on the final day of the group's annual meeting.

MOVING?

DON'T PUT IT OFF!

CONSIDER THIS!

Children Are Better Off — being uprooted in the middle of a school session when the family moves, than they are if the family waits until school is out. If he arrives at a new home in summer, it is more difficult to make friends, and his exposure to other children is necessarily limited to those in the immediate block. In talking with the local children, he hears horror pictures about the school and various teachers, all of which build up a psychosis. When school starts, there is a mad rush and he is lost in the confusion and receives very little individual attention. Often his records become lost, as the forwarding school might not get around to it until everybody returns to school in September.

If the move occurs during the school year, the school officials and teachers at the new school have time to devote individual attention to the child. The principal and the teachers are relaxed and not hurried by school opening chaos. The teachers have a chance to test the youngster to assess his knowledge and ability. He makes friends who have things in common with him, and who may not necessarily live in the immediate neighborhood. The transition is simpler. Therefore if you are planning a move don't put it off... make the move NOW.

Consumer Credit Week Is Observed By Pampa Group

Members of the Consumer Credit Executives of Pampa are observing "Consumer Credit Week" April 16-22, in order to foster a better public understanding of the industry and provision.

According to Larry Wall, president of the local organization, "In the last several years it has become evident that many simple facts about consumer credit are not quite clear to outsiders."

First of all, consumer credit is an intangible service offered by retail establishments, service organizations and financial institutions, Wall explained. This service, as far as the customer sees it, is merely the use of money, and quite often the customer himself sees only a payment book and never actual cash itself.

In most cases, it is required by law that the customer be told exactly what he pays in the way of service charges and other fees associated with his account. And those companies not so required usually tell the entire story anyway because they feel it is important for the customer to know.

Wall said, "Nearly every phase of consumer credit is highly regulated by state law. Frequently consumer credit is extended on rates legislated years ago, but no longer adequate to support today's costs. In the personal loan field, this is particularly true in some states."

"Because their markup is public and because the user seldom is aware of the services connected with the extension of consumer credit beyond the use of money, there is a tendency for some people to conclude that service charges and rates are too high, although the opposite may be true, he said."

"The extension of credit, regardless of the source, is a highly competitive business," Wall stated. "The service rendered to the public is a vital one, if a prosperous economy is to be maintained and supported. The costs of doing business are as real and justifiable as in manufacturing or other lines of endeavor. Net profits, less widely publicized than their markups, are no better than in most industries. In a free enterprise system, this is no more or no less than the public should expect."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — L. O. Hopper, of W. E. Hutton & Co. says the stock market has not made any real progress since around March 25. The analyst expects this trend to continue for the near term with large than expected earnings providing the features for the list. He does not foresee any steep decline but neither does he view any great progress being made by the Dow Jones industrial average.

Baehre & Co. says the high priced glamor issues will be the stocks most affected by first quarter earnings, especially if they do not live up to expectations. The company says even though it is encouraged by the stock market's comeback ability it remains cautious in its approach to the list until the first quarter earnings have been discounted and signs of economic recovery are available.

Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohn & Stebson says he believes the attention being given to the expected lower first quarter earnings does not carry as much weight as the impact on the economy six months from now of the number of "inflationary stimuli" which are currently being released by the government.

ADMINISTRATION REPORTS — WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is going to invite Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk to report on their recent overseas trips.

SPRING ART FESTIVAL--PART I

The Messiah

TRIBUTE—The first "Messiah" in Pampa dates back to 1930, when Mrs. Mae Foreman Carr, pictured above, organized a civic chorus here. Through her efforts, the project continued for at least 15 performances over the intervening years. Mrs. Carr, now a resident of Grand Island, Neb., directed local choirs and was organist in Pampa churches for many years before moving to Phoenix, Ariz. and more recently to Nebraska. Mrs. Carr also organized the Pampa Piano Symphonies, which featured as many as 50 pianists performing at once.

No one event is so completely harmonious with the return of springtime and the season of resurrection as the oratorio "Messiah", which will be repeated in Pampa today in all the glory of its first performance over two centuries ago.

Dr. Richard P. Condie, director of the world-famous 375-voice choir of the Salt Lake City Mormon Tabernacle, has been invited to today's guest conductor.

The performance will begin at 3 p.m. in Harvester Fieldhouse, 100 E. Decatur, and will be approximately one hour and forty minutes in length.

It will feature a choir of 187 voices with 13 soloists: Mrs. Mack Hiatt, Mrs. John Garcia of White Deer and Mrs. Eldeane Reed of Borger, Mrs. Lonnie Richardson, Mrs. Paul Reimer, Mrs. Peggy Patrick, Miss Rosemary Lawlor, Mrs. Malcolm McDaniel, Miss Elena Ann Donald of Phillips, Sam D. Allen, Ted James, Hugh Sanders, and John Hansard.

Accompanists will be Tracy D. Cary at the three-manual organ and Mrs. Fidella Yoder, pianist. The orchestra will include the following performers: Violins: Mrs. Deil Fagan, Borger; Mrs. Linda Huff, Mrs. Virginia Ensign, Mrs. Martha Maxwell, Mrs. Gloria Hatton, all of Amarillo; Violists: Mrs. John Bird, Pampa, Mrs. Anne Stone, Amarillo. Cellists are Mrs. Charlotte Harbin, Amarillo, Mrs. Esther Brooks, Borger. Playing Bass will be Richard Frazier, Canyon. Solo trumpet will be performed by Mike Harris of Canadian assisted by Flavius Killebrew, second trumpet. Jerry Lambright of Pampa will be timpanist.

Welcome greetings will be given by George B. Cree Jr., president of the Pampa Fine Art Association's board of directors, sponsor of the three-part Spring Art Festival.

Invocation will be offered by the Rev. Sam Byron Hulsey, pastor of St. Matthew Episcopal Church. Dr. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church will give the offertory prayer. Pronouncing the benediction will be the Rev. Frederick Dawson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

Ushers will be members of the Top 'o' Texas Chapter, Order of the DeMolay. "The Messiah" is the first event in a series of three to be presented during the Pampa Fine Art Association's "Spring Art Festival". Ensuing events will be the Home-Art Tour on May 7 and the Arts and Crafts Fair on May 13 and 14.

CONDIE
Since September 15, 1957, Richard P. Condie has been director of the world-famous 375-voice choir of the Salt Lake City Mormon Tabernacle which this year celebrates the 100th anniversary of the building of the structure which seats 8,000 persons and contains the great organ of 11,000 pipes.

Dr. Condie studied in the eastern U. S. appearing in operas, concerts, and radio before returning to the west to teach at Utah State University and served as tenor soloist of the Tabernacle Choir under J. Spencer Cornwall, whom he succeeded in 1957. Since 1937, he has been on the faculty of the University of Utah where he teaches voice, harmony and directing.

He has held many positions in the Mormon Church. From 1918 to 1920, he served as a missionary to the Canadian missions. He is a widower and has five children.

Allen, minister of music for First Baptist Church and Ted James, director of music for First Methodist Church, all of whom will be featured soloists.

TED JAMES
Minister of Music of First Methodist Church for the last 8 months, Ted James will sing the dramatic "The Trumpet Shall Sound" accompanied by Mike Harris, director of band at Canadian High School on the solo trumpet.

James was graduated from McMurry College in 1952 where he studied voice with Dr. Richard C. vonEnde. Further study was with Ira Schantz at TCU and with Gary Ebensberger at Arlington State. d.e.w. tell!

PAMPANS HAPPILY dragged raincoats from the back of closets and dusted cobwebs from umbrellas when welcome rains came this week. If you stretched your imagination far enough, you could hear gardens and lawns gulping down the moisture and gurgling sounds coming from Aspen and Beech Parks as water rushed along the creeks. Quite beautiful sounds and beautiful sights were the almost sudden appearance of Bridal Wreath draping their white branches over carpet-green lawns. It's inspiring to watch spring unfold with a bright and new floral display each week but it was such a brief winter, wasn't it? Or perhaps it's because there are so many hours filled to the brim with happy living that days blend into days and months kaleidoscope into brevity leaving so little time to have "brain-pans" refilled and refreshed with new thoughts. Brain-pans is an expression picked up from a brief encounter once with Ogden Nash but diminished "brain-pans" or no, this column must begin with the brain supply we have.

IF YOU'VE ever become far behind in your correspondence with someone and have so much to write to catch them up on happenings then you'll appreciate our predicament today so much has happened this week, we're at a loss to find a starting place. We could start at the beginning which we shall. Twentieth Century Cotillion report their Antique Show and Sale a smashing success. A steady flow of visitors flocked to the Starlight Room in the Inn throughout the three-day show. I saw Icie Harrah trying to find a "just right" pin to wear with a certain dress. Ruth Spearman looking at some lovely crystal. Vernon Watkins, J. W. Duke and Joe Fischer "took in" the show, while waiting to extend a Top of Texas welcome to a VIP from Dallas. The VIP was R. H. McKay, state PTA vice president and his lovely wife, who arrived just in time to browse the last hour of the Antique Show before it closed on Sunday evening.

WHEN THE Antique Show moved out on Sunday the PTA District Banquet moved in on Monday and what lovely decorations those PTA-gals dreamed up! Along every table were flowering "peach" trees hung with miniature books. Some open, some half open, some closed and all inscribed with interesting titles. But you'll never guess how the "peach" blossoms were made. From carrot shavings dipped in colored wax and shaped into blossoms. Of course, it took a little bit more than "dreaming" to accomplish all those bloom-laden "trees" and if you don't think so just ask Mrs. Robert Sailor. Mrs. Alvin Soukup. Mrs. Alvie French or Mrs. George Crossman. Maydel Lanehart, as president of the host council, emceed at the banquet looking radiant in a white, beaded After Five frock with a purple-throated orchid on one shoulder and a Hot Pink chiffon shawl around her other shoulder. Receiving a Life Membership in the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers because of outstanding contributions to youth and children is an honor very dear to PTA-ers and one they cherish very much. Mrs. Calvin Hegan of Wilson PTA. Mrs. Gene Snell of Mann PTA and Dan Johnson, Travis principal were visibly moved when they were thus honored Tuesday night. Heard that Maydel and Katherine Fain received Life Memberships at the conference the next day.

ALTRUSA gave a lovely party on Tuesday evening in The Inn in celebration of their International's Golden anniversary. Table decorations carried out a blue and gold color scheme with blue candles nestled in clusters of gold-sprayed Lemon leaves with a huge Altrusa Emblem encircled with blue lights just beneath the speaker's lectern. Some mighty nice things were said about the Altrusa Club and deservedly so!

WANNA RAMBLE awhile with a professional rombler? Bessie Lewis, Maydel Lanehart and Bobby McLennan were on hand last Sunday to help the Top O' Texans welcome the Dallas PTA guest. Bobby looked especially attractive in a blue wool shirt accented at the shoulder with fresh white lilac blossoms. It must be spring because our thoughts are beginning to turn to thoughts of fashionable wardrobes and fitting this description was the sportswear Chris Beck. One of our news carriers wore the other morning when checking in at the circulation department. Bright-green knee socks that just matched the green diamond checks in his walking shorts. Men do too have fashion know-how and it's nice to see them showing how!

ONE OF THE most memorable events in Pampa's history will occur this afternoon beginning at three o'clock in the Harvester Fieldhouse when Dr. Richard P. Condie, director of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir in Salt Lake City, Utah, steps to the podium to direct "The Messiah". Dr. Condie was given a Royal welcome Friday afternoon at the Amarillo Airport by the weather and by Pampa's mayor. Jim Nation, George Cree Jr., Tracy Cory Ted Gikas, Fanny Cree, Icie Harrah, Vernon Watkins, Fidelia Yoder. Dr. Condie is impressed by the Pampa's "wide-open spaces" he said, "it is most refreshing". It was impressive to watch him direct the chorus in a three-hour rehearsal Friday evening. Listening to his philosophy of life as related to music, advising singers to give more than "lin service" to their music, "warm it with heart service too," he said, "which might apply to other areas of life also. When Dr. Condie leaves the Pampa, all will remember he has been here. He will have left his stamp. See you at The Messiah!"

Baby Oil Keeps Hands Soft Fashionable racing gloves have pizzaz but the cutout area exposes skin that needs protection and special care if you want to keep your soft touch. The protection of baby cream will soften the exposed area. This protection, plus a twice-a-week 5- or 10-minute soaking in warmed baby oil will keep your hands soft all winter long.

Dear Abby.... Son In Trouble Must Want Help

DEAR ABBY: What does one do when he knows for a fact that his son is smoking "pot" and experimenting with L.S.D.?

He is 21 and lives and works in another city but he writes home regularly and visits when possible.

He has always been a "good" boy but he refuses to listen to reason on this subject. I am so afraid he will get caught and ruin his future by having this on his record.

Please tell me how his mother and I can help him. Print your reply as I do not want to sign my name.

DEAR ABBY: Last Sunday the crowd I run around with wanted me to go to a show, but I had to go with my family to visit my aunt and here three screaming kids.

Why do parents force their children to go visit relatives? It's boring. They keep telling you that your "youth" is the best part of your life, then they make you miserable dragging you to places you don't want to go. Can't they realize that when a girl is 16 she just isn't happy going to visit relatives all the time?

BORED AT 16
DEAR ABBY: Children, even 16-year-olds, should not be forced to attend all the aunts' uncles' and cousins' get-togethers. But neither should they be excused from all such visits because they are "bored." If you must go — go, with a smile on your face. And make up your mind you're going to have a good time. And who knows? You may even have one.

DEAR ABBY: What's happening to our men today? They watch all those foolish television commercials and then they run out and buy deodorants, mouthwash, and cologne.

Give me a man with the masculine smell of body odor that shows he's done a good day's work. And if he has a hint of tobacco and beer on his breath, that's OK, too.

I want a man who smells like a man — not like a bunch of daffodils.

LIKES HE-MEN
Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR FRUSTRATED: My advice is to forget this "good catch." Talking all the time, and refusing to listen, is more than a "habit" — it's a symptom of selfishness. So don't marry him unless you want to

Ruth Millett Ten Pointers For Easier Marital Life

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
For a wife who wants her husband to find her easy to live with, the 10 most important "don'ts" are:
1. Don't pry. Give the man a little privacy or he is bound to feel fenced in.
2. Don't sulk. An angry wife who what you want him to the first time you ask him — give up. You'll never win anything by nagging except having him regard you as a nagging wife.
3. Don't sulk. An angry wife who speaks her piece and gets it over with isn't nearly so irritating to a man as one who goes around with hurt feelings, refusing to speak up or cheer up.

4. Don't be bossy. A bossy wife never has a happy husband.
5. Don't hold grudges. Piling old grievances on top of new ones makes too big a pile for a husband to contend with.
6. Don't be discontented with what your husband can provide. A man needs to feel he is a good provider, even though he isn't the best.
7. Don't be a poor sport. A woman who gets upset at every little thing that goes wrong is never a good companion.
8. Don't be disloyal. Unless your husband feels that you are on his side, he is going to feel very much alone.

9. Don't be critical. A wife who is always trying to improve her husband by pointing out his faults and mistakes and shortcomings isn't likely to change anything but the way he feels about her.
10. Don't take life too seriously. A woman who can laugh at herself and see the funny side of human nature and make light of small mishaps and setbacks is the easiest kind of woman for a man to live with.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Panama News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

THE THINKER who thought up "How to Win Friends and Influence People" apparently was not thinking about foreign aid.

ONE DOWN and one to go... That's the current situation with Panama's city government roster.

THE GUEST PEN:

Look Behind the Labels

By ROSALIE M. GORDON Editor, America's Future Americans who try to form intelligent opinions about what Congress does and does not do, about the political jockeying with 1968 in view, about the debate between conservatism and liberalism, cannot be blamed if they become confused.

This means that today's citizen must be much more aware, much better informed about public men and issues than was his grandfather. Generally, in modern terminology and in capsule form, a conservative may be defined as one who stands for limited government, with strict application of the U. S. Constitution and its guarantees which made us the richest and freest nation on earth.

tests... There should always be a heavy vote in any election.

ELSEWHERE on today's editorial page is a letter from a Panama man who stated he preferred to remain anonymous "at present."

Why not spend efforts, now being used to take the City to building a golf course, to interest private backing of a golf course?

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

From the standpoint of whether he considers himself a conservative or a liberal, the individual citizen's need for intelligent and careful consideration — both in voting and in taking a stand on proposals by the President and Congress — is obvious when we note that such men as far apart in their basic philosophy as Jacob Javits of New York and John Tower of Texas both wear the Republican label, or that J. William Fulbright of Arkansas and Harry F. Byrd, Jr., of Virginia both wear the Democratic label.

Pull Up A Chair

There's no doubt about that old saw: an army travels on its stomach. And that creates quite a logistic problem for our armed forces in Vietnam.

Today's smile: A fellow at an auction bid on a parrot and was immediately topped. The bidding increased until the price was $50.

Saw a most unusual window display in a famed women's shoe store on New York's Fifth Avenue.

Thoughts while shaving: We don't know who dreamed it up, but some genius described the great American Middle Class as "those who manage to live like the rich, but are really poor."

As in other air raids against North Vietnam, the President is limiting and keeping tight personal control over these operations.

Country Editor speaking:

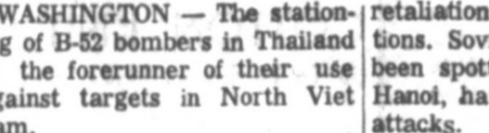

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; snore and you'll be rudely awakened."

The City of Panama is already in the recreation business, so why not the golf business, as you call it.

B-52 Strikes from Thailand on Troop Concentration in Southern No, Vietnam Be Launched After President's Return

WASHINGTON — The stationing of B-52 bombers in Thailand is the forerunner of their use against targets in North Vietnam.

The huge strategic jets, whose bombing runs from Guam have been confined to enemy targets in South Vietnam and Laos, will begin attacks before the end of the month against North Vietnam troop concentrations north of the demilitarized zone.

Backstage Washington

By the end of 1967, the two squadrons of B-52s still on Guam will be moved to Thailand.

UNREPORTED LIABILITIES — Defense Secretary McNamara has dropped a financial bombshell into the lap of the Senate Military Appropriations Subcommittee.

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT Reaction to Tickling Is A Protective Mechanism. Can you tickle yourself and make yourself giggle, scream with laughter or cry? Scientists who have studied the matter, say you can't.

Attempts to tickle a girl who was subject to fits of depression failed when she was sad but when she was happy, tickling apparently made her more so.

Herb Alpert Is Successful

NEW YORK — Herb Alpert has emerged from the world of songwriting and producing to stand as a successful performer in his own right.

"I've tried to create for myself a musical identity of my own," says Alpert. "I hope I have succeeded."

Not only has his Tijuana Brass Sound succeeded, it has become known as one of the music phenomena of the Sixties.

In 1959 he was co-manager and co-producer of the then short-haired Californians, Jan and Dean, who hit the big time with "Ramble Talk," their first record.

Alpert also co-authored some of the duo's music, including "There's a Girl," a not-too-successful follow-up to the million-selling "Baby Talk."

It was in 1963 that he and Jerry Moss formed A&M Records; the initials signify Alpert & Moss. With $200 and tune by a friend called "Twinkle Star," A&M Records set up shop in Alpert's garage.

Peanuts Characters Now On Broadway

NEW YORK (UPI) — Putting song by librettist John Gerdson comic strip characters on the stage is about as risky a thing as there is in always risky "Peanuts" troupe will quickly recognize how faithfully these items have been used as they see numbers involving bossy little Lucy's frustrated courting of the piano-mad Schroeder, and Charlie Brown's kooky flying problems.

Score Now Stands Liz-2, Burton Zero

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Alas, poor Richard Burton blew it again. Here is one of the world's acknowledged great actors without an Oscar to show for his efforts.

Meanwhile, his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, owns two of the coveted statuettes. And deep in his soul the mercurial Welshman knows that he is a far better actor than his beautiful wife.

Liz won her second Academy Award Monday night in a movie in which she co-starred with her husband, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Their histrionics won them both nominations, the fifth nomination each. On all five occasions, however, Richard has come up empty. Five Disappointments Paul Scofield won the Best Actor Award for "A Man For All Seasons."

Burton apparently is a man for most seasons—excepting the Academy Award season. Why has he been denied?

Can't be national origins, unless Academy members are bigoted about Wales, which seems unlikely. Nor can his luckless record be put down to stealing Eddie Fisher's wife.

Burton's lack of success with Oscar must be laid to poor timing. In 1953—before he even knew Elizabeth or heard of Fisher—he was nominated for "The Robe," but lost out to William Holden in "Stalag 17." In 1964 he was nominated for "Becket," but Peter O'Toole was appointed for the film too and the vote was split, allowing Rex Harrison to pick up the marbles for "My Fair Lady."

Last year he lost out to Lee Marvin ("Cat Ballou") after being nominated for "The Spy Who Came in from the Cold."

And back in 1952 he was nominated as Best Supporting Actor for "My Cousin Rachel," but lost to Anthony Quinn.

Same Situation Ahead? And now this loss to fellow Britisher Scofield. Critics can say that Elizabeth won her first Oscar, in 1960 for "Butterfield 8," on a tide of sympathy for the poor girl who underwent a delicate operation and barely escaped with her life.

But it must be said that she won her new award on merit, despite the fact that her performance in "Virginia Woolf" was overshadowed by her husband.

To cap the situation, Burton is almost sure to be nominated again this year for his brilliance in "Taming of the Shrew." Elizabeth also might win a nomination for the same picture, placing Richard in that old traumatic position again.
