

Churchill in Trouble Over Egyptian Pact

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—A serious Conservative party split over Britain's Suez Canal Zone pact with Egypt handed the Laborite opposition a tempting chance today to force the resignation of Prime Minister Churchill. It was doubtful the Socialists would seize the chance.

The test comes in a House of Commons vote tonight on Churchill's motion demanding Parliament's approval of the agreement to pull Britain's 83,000 troops out of the strategic Canal Zone.

Rain Tradition Being Watched

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—A "rain crew" took up a vigil promptly at 12:01 a.m. today to record the slightest precipitation in this southwestern Pennsylvania community of 8,000.

The crew, says Attorney John Daily, will stay on duty at the courthouse steps until midnight to-night—if necessary—to keep faith with Waynesburg's tradition.

The tradition goes back to 1877 when someone, for reasons best known to himself, said it would rain on July 29 and it did.

Since then, according to Daily's statistics, it has failed to rain July 29 on only seven occasions.

In many cases, Daily admits, the rain has just been a sprinkle but that was enough to keep the tradition alive. Somewhere along the line Daily became "chief rain prophet."

And, somewhere along the line, the Chamber of Commerce thought it would be a good idea to publicize the tradition. For the past few years Daily has been in the custom of wearing a hat with some celebrity that it would rain.

He has quite an accumulation of headgear now. So many, in fact, he doesn't bet hats anymore.

This year's "fall guy" is Bill Corum, sports writer and president of Churchill Downs were betting, especially on Derby Day, is somewhat of a tradition itself.

If it does rain, Corum has promised to make Daily an honorary Kentucky colonel. If Daily loses, he says Corum will become the unofficial chief rain prophet.

Farmers hereabouts are hoping Corum wins his bet. It hasn't rained since last Friday and the crops could use more than a little precipitation.

Rhee's Call For War On China Gets Cool Reception In U. S.

By SPENCER DAVIS WASHINGTON (AP)—Syngman Rhee neared the end of his White House talks today after winning personal acclaim but a cool reception for his plea to Congress for war against Red China now.

After laying a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the South Korean President was to have his fourth and perhaps last session with President Eisenhower since arriving in Washington Monday.

So far neither American nor Korean sources have given out word on how the conferences are progressing. Rhee is said to seek more military and economic help for his war-ravaged country and U.S. backing of his ambition to unify it by driving the Communists out of North Korea.

Eisenhower reportedly wants Rhee to go easy on his unite-Korea-by-force plans and to adopt a more friendly policy toward neighboring Japan.

A joint statement is expected at the end of the talks.

Addressing senators and congressmen in a soft, emotion-packed voice, the 70-year-old Asian patriot urged that American warships blockade China, that U.S. Air Force bombers hit its productive centers and that an Asian anti-Communist army of two million South Koreans and Chinese Nationalists—equipped by the United States—strike out and destroy the Red regime.

He also declared that the one-year-old Korean armistice should be scrapped.

"Unless we win China back," he declared "an ultimate victory for the free world is unthinkable."

There was generous applause, with every member on his feet, at Rhee's entrance and departure.

And six times applause interrupted his speech.

But there was silence when he declared "the American Air Force as well as the Navy would be needed to insure the success of the counter-attack on the Red Chinese regime."

He said that "no American foot soldier" would be needed.

Afterwards, congressional feeling seemed warm for Rhee as a venerable patriot and representative of a brave people.

But most legislators appeared cool or at least noncommittal on his war proposal.

Former B'Spring-Forsan Resident, O. D. Smith, Dies

FORSAN — O. D. Smith Sr., about 60, long time resident of Forsan and Big Spring, died shortly after midnight Thursday in Corpus Christi.

He suffered a heart attack while he was closing his large drive-in business at a five-point highway intersection near Corpus Christi.

Mr. Smith passed away while a son, O. D. Smith Jr., Vealmoor, was en route to his bedside.

Remains will be taken to Bandera where services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday. Mr. Smith was reared in that area.

For many years he was associated here with the Shell Oil Company. Later, when he left the employ of Shell, he bought and operated the drug store here and subsequently became the owner of the Forsan water system and of five residences. He still owned the waterworks and four houses at the time of his death.

For three years, Mr. and Mrs. Smith operated the Howard County Junior College Cafeteria, first when the college was in what is now the Webb AFB hospital area, and later when the new plant was opened. They went to Uvalde to operate the cafeteria of the South Texas Junior College when Mr. Dodd became its president.

Before acquiring his business in Corpus, Mr. Smith was with a motor firm in Port LaVaca for a short time.

Survivors include one son, O. D. Smith Jr., Vealmoor; one daughter, Mrs. V. W. (Marion) Hudgins, Corpus Christi and five grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kubecka, Forsan, are planning to attend the final rites.

He's Naughty Lion, But Quite Harmless

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—A full-grown Abyssinian lion leaping along a street touched off frantic phone calls yesterday which sent two carloads of policemen racing to the scene.

Helena Farrar, 16, got there first. Seizing the lion by the ear, she said: "Simba, you naughty boy, come home immediately." The lion submitted meekly.

Simba, Helena explained, is one of the animals in her father's private zoo.

"He's quite harmless, really," she said.

"Occasionally he takes a nibble at you, but it's all in fun."

Traffic Fatalities Down By Six Pct. CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths are down six per cent from last year for the first six months of 1954.

The National Safety Council said today.

The council said 16,300 had died in traffic accidents in the first six months of this year. In 1953, 17,250 died during the same period.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, sounded a note of warning, however, pointing out that the last half of the year is normally the most hazardous and accounts for the greatest proportions of deaths.

Mrs. Huestis Of Forsan Dies; Rites Today

Mrs. Guadalupe Ann Huestis, 63, wife of S. J. Huestis of Forsan, died of heart attack at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Stricken at the family home on the Sterling City route, Mrs. Huestis was rushed to a hospital here but died soon after arrival.

Services were to be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Forsan Baptist Church with Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, officiating.

Assisted by Mrs. Huestis' minister, the Rev. J. M. Stagner. Burial was to be in the Trinity Memorial Park with Nalley Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Born Guadalupe Ann Clark in Eastland County, she was married in 1911 in Eastland County to Mr. Huestis. They moved to Howard County and settled 23 years ago near Forsan where he is employed by the Phillips Petroleum Company.

Surviving are her husband, S. J. Huestis two sons, G. L. Huestis, Odessa, and Sonley C. Huestis, Taft; one daughter, Mrs. Frances Faye Wilson, Borger; five grandchildren.

She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Malley Grandon, Putnam, and Mrs. Kate Therio, Young, Ariz.; two brothers, Claude Bannum, Carlsboro, N. M., and Bill Clark, Young, Ariz. Mrs. Nell Norred, Big Spring, is a niece.

Brothers of Mr. Huestis were to serve as pallbearers.

Storm Moves Into Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A tropical storm, with winds estimated at 50 miles per hour, moved into southwest Louisiana early today in rain squalls and headed northward.

The U.S. Weather Bureau, in its 7 a.m. bulletin, said the storm moved inland from the Gulf of Mexico between Vermilion Bay and Cameron, La., and at 7 a.m. was centered about 20 miles southwest of Lake Charles, La.

The storm, which formed yesterday in the northwest Gulf area, entered the coastline in a sparsely populated area of swamps and wildlife.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was moving north-northwestward about 5 miles per hour and decreasing in intensity.

Victim Of Plane Crash Identified

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chautau Air Force Base at Rantoul, Ill., today identified the pilot killed yesterday at Amarillo, Tex., as Capt. Mitchell Margulies, 36, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

The base said Margulies was en route from Grandview, Mo., to Amarillo when the crash occurred.

Experts disagree as to why crickets sing, explanations varying from mating call to battle cry—or just self expression.

The U.S. Weather Bureau also said there was little likelihood that Barbara would repeat the inland performance of the first hurricane, Alice, which caused downpours sending the Rio Grande on a record making rampage.

Heavy rains in Southern Louisiana Thursday morning were expected to spread northward during the day and possibly bring showers to the east central and northeast part of East Texas Thursday night and Friday.

Elsewhere Thursday Texas was fair and hot with some decrease in temperatures but no real relief from the July heat wave.

The 7 a.m. advisory from New Orleans said Barbara was centered about 20 miles southeast of Lake Charles, La., moving north-northwest at about 5 miles an hour with its highest winds recorded at 50 and 55 miles an hour. Heavy rain fell.

Earlier the hurricane moved inland over the Louisiana coast between Vermilion Bay and Cameron. Highest winds reported were 60 miles an hour by a ship in the Gulf of Mexico south of Morgan City, La., late Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday's high temperature was 107 degrees at Presidio, the little border city in the Big Bend country, Beaumont, nearest Texas city to the storm's path had a maximum of 87 degrees for the day, the state's lowest.

Dallas' string of 100 degrees or more temperatures was broken Wednesday at 23 straight days, two days shy of a record set in 1952. Big D's highest temperature Wednesday was 99 degrees. Twice in the last three weeks the city has had temperatures in excess of 110 degrees.

Amarillo, Austin and Marfa had light showers Wednesday.

The world has about 1 1/2 million nurses but needs six million according to United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization estimates.

Aureomycin Makes Children Grow Faster, Survey Shows

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The antibiotic aureomycin has made children in Guatemala grow faster, a nutrition expert reports.

of the world's biggest salt beds, it is uncontrolled and untaxed. And there's too much salt in Sicily. The beds of Trapani are piling up great surpluses because big customers such as Japan and India have found salt closer to home. The big customers now are fishermen, who buy thousands of tons to preserve their catches. A good fishing year can mean a salt year. Some of the biggest sales are made to Norwegian fisheries, but last year was a poor one for the Norwegians. The result: 3,000 Trapani workers fear they will lose their jobs.

Trapani keeps on producing its salt at the rate of 180,000 tons a year. The Sicilian women, with flowing petticoats, keep on buying it cheap to sell at higher prices on the mainland blackmarket. They don't consider themselves smugglers — merely business folk. They carry as much as 100 pounds of salt, strapped round their waists for the short voyage across the Strait of Messina.

Their efforts won't help Trapani's salt industry much, however. A good catch of fish in Norway would do much more.

The shooting took place yesterday morning in the backyard of Barnes' home in Denton. He is in the Denton hospital suffering from a stomach wound. There were no known witnesses to the shooting. Barnes said he went into his back yard when Mrs. Henderson drove up in a car. He said one shot hit him in the stomach and another went over his head. He managed to get hold of the pistol, then went into the house and locked the door.

Here's How To Have Good Will Of Customs

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Women travelers sometimes cause more headaches among the U. S. Customs inspectors than professional smugglers, says Mary Gordon, a decorative young woman who makes a business of teaching feminine travel advice for an airline.

There's the lady who can't find her luggage keys after her bags are all lined up on the customs counter.

Another gives a blow-by-blow account of how she shopped for each souvenir she's bringing home from Europe for Aunt Tessie, Uncle Herman and the ladies of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club, asking the advice of the weary inspector as to the authenticity of each.

Also the avid recipe collector who can't understand why she can't take home samples of the more exotic fruits and vegetables she has gathered up abroad.

When told that plants and produce from abroad may be pest-infested, these ladies always state indignantly that of course they have been very careful to wash everything.

If you want to be popular with the Customs men, as well as smoothing the way for yourself, says Mary, here are some useful tips:

1. Keep all your foreign purchases in one bag, so they can

- be checked easily against your declaration. Many travelers take an empty collapsible bag along, to hold the purchases they expect to make.
2. Save the sales slips for all articles to be declared. If the amount on your customs declaration is questioned, you may need them.
3. If you exceed the $200 duty-free allowance accorded overseas travelers every 30 days, don't try to conceal your excess purchases. The Customs inspectors know all the tricks.
4. Be sure to seal the stoppers or corks of any bottles of perfume or other liquids you plan to carry in your luggage. It's no fun, for either you or the inspector, to open a bag whose contents are saturated with Scotch or cologne.
5. Read over the Customs regulations before you start your return trip, so that you will know exactly what you may and may not bring home with you.
6. Before you reach the port of entry, list the articles you have purchased. The plane stewardess, ship's purser or steward usually passes out the customs declaration form shortly before arrival. If you're driving, your own advance list will save time.
7. Don't make a scene if the inspector asks you to open any article of luggage for inspection. That is his job.
8. And for goodness sake, have your luggage keys handy.

Cupid Not In Style In Choosing Husband In Iraq

By SANDRA NEMSER
AP Newsfeatures

Iraqi girls claim their American counterparts have too much freedom in choosing a mate, says Mrs. Mohammad Fadhil Jamali, wife of the Iraq foreign minister.

Mrs. Jamali, an American, was interviewed in New York at the start of a summer speaking tour through this country and Canada.

She notes that young women in Iraq, doubtful about our system of courting, ask her:

"How do people get married in the West? With so much freedom how can they not go wrong?"

In the Middle East, an Iraqi girl can express opinions on her future husband, but the actual marriage proposal is made through an intermediary to the girl's father. After a consultation, the young man is either refused or accepted.

Mrs. Jamali, a mother of three teen-age sons, has taught English in Iraq for 22 years. She first met her husband at the University of Chicago, renewed acquaintance in his native country and married him in Baghdad in 1933. She wears no wedding ring because it's not customary in Iraq.

Although she easily adapted to the absence of some western conveniences, Mrs. Jamali says she really misses ready-made clothes. She lets her husband buy clothes for her on his frequent trips abroad.

Iraqi women follow all Western styles, says Mrs. Jamali, adding: "Short hair-dos are popular. A few girls even go to school in slacks. And when an American fashion magazine arrives, nothing else is read."

Only 20 per cent of Iraq is literate, but Mrs. Jamali says great strides are being taken to improve the general education. She feels knowledge between America and Iraq is growing and that with knowledge will come greater understanding and better international relations.

American tourists are interested in people. When they come to Iraq, they want to know what is going on and want to understand the people. And the greatest dream of the Iraqis is to see—or at least know about—America.

Knows Perfume
French actress Jeanette Bordeaux, star of "Dieppe Raid," talks to Lydia Lane about perfume. Jeanette gave Miss Lane the above photos. It shows the Parisian actress working as a car-hop in Hollywood restaurant where she was discovered by screen scouts.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

French Actress Puts Accent On Perfumes

By LYDIA LANE

PARIS, France — Jeanette Bordeaux was thrown into a concentration camp when the Germans took over France, and while she was a prisoner of war she turned to some old fan magazines for entertainment. This bit her with the acting bug and when the war was over she studied dramatics and later had small parts in a number of French films.

With this experience behind her she went to Hollywood but like many another movie-struck girl she made the rounds of the studios in vain. Desperately in need of money she took a job as a car hop where she was sure of getting three meals a day.

"I know you won't believe me but this is how I got my first part," Jeanette told me the other day. She is now on a visit to her native country but will be back in Hollywood for more picture work soon.

"It sounds just like something a publicity man would dream up but one day I waited on two men and when they heard me speak with a French accent they asked me if I would like to have a test." Jeanette added with a big smile. "And it won me the feminine lead in 'Dieppe Raid.'"

"The day this happened to me," Jeanette confided, "I was wearing my lucky perfume. Everytime I use this someone compliments it or something nice happens to me."

"I think that men are very attracted to certain perfumes," she added. "They may not know it but they are charmed by a lovely scent which floats up to their nose."

"How do you apply perfume?" I asked.

"There is a way to make yourself perfumed so that it is not obvious. I put some on cotton, press it onto my pulse points—at the temples, wrists, in back of my

Dior Shows New Style—'H' Line

By PEGGY LANSON

PARIS (U)—Christian Dior today dropped the waist line to the hips, flattened the bust and sent women's fashions back to the Jazz Age of the 1920s.

Dior, pace-setter in women's fashions, set off an entirely new style when he showed off his fall and winter creations.

He called it "The H-line."

If it catches on, as most Dior styles have done in the past, he will be tossing aside the winning, winsome, womanly curves of recent times.

The designer, who threw a bombshell into last fall's fashions by lifting women's skirts to 17 inches, has turned out a line that is flat, slender and boyish.

Hips are permitted but not much of them. What there is, however, is certainly emphasized in a style highly reminiscent of the boyish bob, the speakeasy, the raccoon coat and the Charleston.

With his new style, Dior put the emphasis on a long, straight and narrow torso.

Coats and jackets all fall from sloping shoulders to a point just below the hips — at the haunch. Waist lines — as we think of them are not marked at all.

The straight cut pullover type bodice that is close fitting, clinging and fitting at the hips is featured in all daytime wear.

Full skirted cocktail and evening dresses all stick to the same principle, the long torso with the fullness beginning at the hips or below.

With this new design, a 22-inch waist isn't going to be much help unless your other measurements are just as diminutive—no bust, no shoulders, no hips. What a gal will need is a straight, narrow, long torso.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lockhart spent the weekend fishing at Water Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Stanley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bus Lloyd visited Mrs. Daisy Graves at Balingier recently.

Jan Smith of Hillsboro has been a guest of Linda Woodall for the past 10 days. This morning, the two girls left on the train for Jan's home, where Linda will visit.

Mrs. W. E. Mann, who has been ill at her home, 704 E. 14th, is reported to be much improved.

Mary Margaret McBRIDE SAYS

Impelled by curiosity or ambition, one or the other, a Cleveland, Ohio, reader inquires flatly: "How do you write a column?"

To which I must frankly answer that I don't know exactly, but I think a deadline helps me most. Being compelled to turn a certain amount of copy in at a certain time is a great good to creation.

This seems an inadequate answer to such a question but I find I am no more inarticulate than many of my fellows on this subject. Hardly any writer has a pat retort when he is asked how he writes, but all are sure that the process is much more painful than the layman could ever believe. I remember once quizzing McKinlay Kantor, the novelist, about a rumor that he'd turned out a 100,000-word book in seven weeks.

"Yes," answered Mac lugubriously, "seven weeks and 49 years."

I questioned one of our most famous playwrights the other day on how one writes a whole play. He replied: "You don't write a whole play. You write bits starting with a germ and you don't pick that up walking around trying to find it, either."

"And believe me, if there were any other way I could make a living, including driving a truck, I'd do it."

George Simonon, the prolific French writer who now lives in America, readily admitted that he wrote one book in nine days. It seems this isn't even unusual for him.

"I have to write fast because I'm not able to stand the strain for a longer time," Simonon told me. "After nine or ten days I have to stop and rest because I suffer so with each character. And

Ike Lists Measures He Wants Enacted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday listed six parts of his legislative program whose failure to pass this year he said would be more than bitterly disappointing to him.

Another, a hike in the national debt limit, he termed a necessity. He did not list as still in front of the Senate, as he phrased it, an atomic energy bill which his lieutenants regard as "must" legislation.

Leaving out some of the respects in which these bills fall short of the President's requests, here is their status:

Farm—A modified system of flexible price supports has been passed by the House, but rejected by the Senate Agriculture Committee. Senate debate may start tomorrow.

Tax revision—The House passed a compromise bill 315-77 late yesterday, and Senate action may send it to the White House today.

Anti-Communist—Action is lagging on various anti-subversive bills proposed by Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Comics Thrown Out

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—The Jamaica Booksellers Assn. has barred more than 90 sex, horror and crime comics from this British West Indies island, officials disclosed today.

None has yet passed both houses, and prospects are that not more than one or two will be enacted.

Housing—The Senate completed congressional action last night, sending to the White House a measure providing a smaller public housing program than the President asked.

Social security—The House has passed a bill to extend coverage to nearly 10 million persons. The Senate Finance Committee has recommended a trimmed-down version. Senate debate has not been scheduled.

Foreign aid—Authorization for the current year's program is before the Senate, having passed the House. The House passed yesterday the separate money bill to finance it. This is still in committee in the Senate.

Debt limit—The House passed a year ago a 15-billion-dollar hike in the legal ceiling, now 275 billions. The Senate Finance Committee balked, and still is sitting on the bill. The administration request may be modified.

Atomic energy—The House sent to conference with the Senate yesterday a bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act. Several major differences must be resolved. Senate passage of its version Tuesday night followed a two-week debate which the White House termed a filibuster by opponents.

Hunger-Strike Felons Ready For A Parley

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Some 1,400 hungry but still rebellious convicts today sent a grievance committee to a negotiating session which a state official said could end the state penitentiary's four-day-old sitdown strike.

Fred Dickson, supervisor of state institutions, slated a meeting with a committee of 61 convicts to hear the convicts' explanations of the "passive resistance" move and their proposals to end it.

Dickson said State Sen. Neil J. Hoff, chairman of a legislative committee which investigated a riot and fire at the penitentiary last fall, was en route here to sit in on the meeting.

Whether the strike ends or continues "will depend on the outcome," Dickson said.

For some of the prisoners it was the fourth day without food. The strike started among prisoners in the Laundry Monday noon and had spread to the entire prison population by Tuesday night.

Dickson said no meals will be served until a settlement is reached.

U.S. farmers harvested 82,000 acres of carrots in 1953 with a value in excess of 51 million dollars.

Sanitarian Suggests Means Of Preventing Polio Spread

City-County Health Unit sanitarian Life Fox urges that all county citizens observe closely the Texas State Department of Health's suggestions regarding control of poliomyelitis.

This is particularly important during the summer and fall months when poliomyelitis is most liable to occur, he said.

The suggestions:

1. When suspicious symptoms (headache, undetermined fever, vomiting, drowsiness, stiffness of neck or back) appear, a physician should be called at once.
2. Sudden chilling and over-exertion should be avoided.
3. Elective surgery involving the nose and throat area should be postponed.
4. Good personal hygiene, especially of children, is very important at all times.
5. Children should avoid crowds and sick persons when poliomyelitis is prevalent.
6. Individual home sanitation should be perfected to include protected water supply, waste disposal and proper control of rats and insects, especially flies and mosquitoes.
7. Community sanitation should be rigidly controlled the year around. The following recommendations are offered:
 - a. Approved water and sewage systems.
 - b. Proper disposal of garbage and other waste products.
 - c. Sanitary supervision of public swimming pools.
 - d. Adequate supervision of all food handling establishments in order to assure compliance with State Food and Drug Laws, especially regarding sterilization of dishes and utensils.
 - e. The elimination of flies, mosquitoes, insects and rats through good basic sanitation, supplemented by disinfectants and insecticides.
 - f. Milk from approved sources.
 - g. Communicable diseases may be minimized through the observance of good public health practices. For further information consult your local city or county health unit.

Threatens To Jump, And Finally Falls

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Bretton, 32, on the roof of a five-story building, had been shouting at would-be rescuers early today, "get back or I'll jump."

But instead of carrying out his threat he demanded that the Rev. John Kehoe be sent for "because I know him."

Father Kehoe and another priest arrived and urged Bretton to "sit down and talk it over." Bretton wheeled to reply, lost his footing and fell from the building. He was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Later, his wife said that they had quarreled and Bretton had left their apartment saying, "you'll see no more of me."

Hardening of the arteries, once believed to be a disability resulting from old age, is now regarded by many scientists as a disease subject to treatment and possible cure.

'Freedom Village' Being Dismantled

SEOUL (AP)—Freedom Village, the first stop for nearly 5,000 United Nations prisoners of war repatriated last year, soon will disappear from the Korean scene.

The 8th Army yesterday ordered dismantling of the huge warehouse building used to process the 4,900 ex-POWs in the 33-day repatriation which started last August at Munsan.

The 84th Engineer Combat Battalion, the same unit which built the historic village, has been given the job of tearing it down.

Job Total Up, So Is Unemployment

AUSTIN (AP)—Gains in both employment and unemployment in Texas last month were reported yesterday by the Texas Employment Commission.

Nonfarm employment gained 16,800 over May, climbing to a total of 2,890,000. Farm jobs included 150,000 seasonal workers in the fields, 50,000 more than in May.

Unemployment rose to 141,300 compared to 128,400 in May.

Charities And Kinfolk Share Moody Estate

GALVESTON (U)—His family, the United States Government and various charitable organizations will share the fortune of W. L. Moody Jr., Galveston financier who died July 21.

Moody, 89, left large bequests and trust funds ranging up to $250,000 to his family, with the exception of a son, W. L. Moody III, who was willed $1.

The elder Moody's will, filed yesterday for probate, named Mrs. Mary Moody Northern, his daughter, and the Moody National Bank as co-executors.

Mrs. Northern received the largest single cash bequest, $250,000, as well as the Moody mansion on Broadway and Boulevard and another home. She is to serve, according to the will, "so long as she is able" as president of all Moody enterprises.

Another daughter, Mrs. Libby Moody Thompson, and a grandson, W. L. Moody IV, were willed $200,000 cash each. Trust funds of $200,000 each were set up for two more grandsons, Shearn Moody Jr. and Robert Lee Moody.

Other grandchildren were willed from $25,000 to $100,000 each. Employees of Moody, including his secretary, chauffeur and ranch foreman, received from $1,000 to $25,000.

The trust indenture creating the Moody Foundation has yet to be filed. Its funds will go to the following uses:

1. The support of churches and other religious institutions and organizations in the State of Texas. (Moody also provided for suitable memorial windows for his wife and mother in a contemplated new first Methodist Church in Galveston).
 2. The establishment, support and maintenance of hospitals, homes and institutions for the care of sick, the young, the aged, the incompetent and the helpless among the people of Texas.
 3. The promotion of health, science, education and advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of Texas.
- Lake Surprise, located on a peninsula between Galveston East Bay and Trinity Bay, was willed to the United States Government for establishment and maintenance as a wild-life preserve.
- The will provides that none of its activities, properties, or net income shall ever be used for personal profit or gain.

Beauties Begin Movie Careers

A. and Miss Universe titles last week, and her two runners-up, Martha Rocha, left, Miss Brazil, and Virginia Lee, right, Miss Hong Kong, hold aloft the movie contracts to which they were signed by Universal-International Studio. Miss Stevenson got a 6-month contract and the others 13-week contracts. (AP Wirephoto).

Ike Says He Likes Shivers; Stevenson For Yarborough?

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

Ralph Yarborough sent his campaign for governor down the long run-off trail Thursday after President Eisenhower told a news conference that Gov. Allan Shivers was a friend of his and a good governor.

There were indications that both major candidates in the 1953 presidential election might take some part in the show-down Democratic run-off primary between Yarborough and Shivers Aug. 26.

In Houston, the "Postcard" column in the Houston Post, written by George Fuermann, began Thursday with the assertion that "Adlai Stevenson may be invited to Texas for a series of talks supporting Yarborough."

Eisenhower said Shivers is a friend he likes and admires and that he is pleased he had Shivers' support in the 1952 election.

The governor had made no public move through Wednesday in the battle for ballots that will name Texas' governor for the next two years.

Yarborough met in Austin Wednesday with an estimated 350 to 400 campaign workers from all over Texas. The Yarborough supporters "generated lots of enthusiasm and were freely predicting victory."

Shivers, bidding for an unprecedented third elective term, led the Austin attorney in last Saturday's Democratic primary by a vote of 665,226 to 642,374. The count was the latest from the unofficial Texas Election Bureau.

The Yarborough "pop rally" in Austin was for campaign workers only. The candidate said he was "amazed" at the response county campaign managers gave invitations to the meeting.

The strategy meeting resulted in a decision that Yarborough should continue to hit hard on the third term and "party politics — GOP versus Democrat" issues. Bob Sawtelle of San Antonio, Yarborough's campaign manager, said the strategy meeting resulted in a decision that Yarborough should continue to hit hard on the third term and "party politics — GOP versus Democrat" issues. Still Fights Executioner

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (U)—Convict-author Caryl Chessman has only one day left to outsmart the executioner. He has done it before and hopes to do it again.

The 32-year-old convicted rapist and kidnaper said he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court today. Tomorrow he is scheduled to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber at 10 a.m.

For six years Chessman's legal maneuverers have saved him from execution.

On May 22, 1948 he was convicted in Los Angeles of eight counts of robbery, four of kidnaping, two counts of sex perversion on victims, one count of attempted criminal assault and one of auto theft.

Chessman, acting as his own attorney, told the jury: "I never molested any woman. Either acquit me of these charges or give me the death sentence."

Chessman has made his own funeral arrangements and rewritten his will disposing of estimated $20,000 proceeds from his book, "Cell 2455, Death Row." He set up trust funds for three children of people who had befriended him, but refused to make their names public.

Telephone Contract Talks Continuing

ST. LOUIS (U)—Negotiations between Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the CIO Communications Workers union moved into their fourth day today in an effort to reach a new contract.

The present agreement, covering some 53,000 employed in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and nearby Illinois, expires Aug. 30.

The union is asking higher pay and reclassification of some jobs. No details were given. The talks are expected to continue several weeks.

Resigns As Chief Of State Deaf School

AUSTIN (U)—The resignation of Roy M. Stelle as superintendent of the State School for the Deaf was announced yesterday by State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar.

Stelle, who has been superintendent six years, will go to Colorado Springs Sept. 1 to become head of the Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind.

Jealousy Given As Motive In Slaying Of Dallas Man

DALLAS (U)—A wiry, 40-year-old paperhanger, who told police he was motivated by "suspicion and jealousy" has been charged with murder in the shooting death of a Dallas surgeon.

W. Lewis Burnett, who was the object of a city-wide manhunt since the shooting of Dr. Jack W. Sharp Tuesday night, was caught yesterday.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Nona Bird, a widow whom Dr. Sharp had been treating, and whom Burnett had known about six months. Police said Sharp was only a trusted friend and physician of Mrs. Bird.

According to police, Sharp and his wife went to the Bird home to return a revolver Mrs. Bird had given him for safekeeping.

Burnett nervously recounted for police the events leading up to the shooting.

He said he had called Sharp to tell him to return the revolver.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz said Burnett admitted leading the gun after Sharp had brought it to the house unloaded.

I shot the doctor in the right side, but I didn't mean to kill him. I don't like anyone around her," Fritz quoted Burnett as saying.

Burnett told police he met Mrs. Bird while painting some property in which she had an interest.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Dr. Sharp. He is survived by his widow and a son.

Polio Cases Dip Slightly

AUSTIN (U)—Dreaded polio dipped slightly in Texas last week to 118 new cases, the State Health Department reported yesterday.

That was 22 cases fewer than had been reported for the previous week.

The state's total for the year climbed to 1,247, compared to 857 for the comparable period a year ago.

Leading the week's count with 27 new cases was Harris County. Nueces followed with 13 and Dallas with 9.

In totals for the year, Harris County was in the lead with 224 cases. Nueces had reported 103 cases, Tarrant, 73; Dallas, 72; Bexar 58 and Hidalgo 57.

Lions Club Okays Advisory Council

Lions members approved a constitutional change Wednesday to provide for the creation of a past president's council.

The council will be purely advisory and will select its own officers.

The Rev. John Kolar was presented certificate for extra participation in the Lions crippled childrens camp.

Larson Lloyd, vice president who was in charge during absence of President Gil Jones, announced the committees for the year's work.

Members also witnessed a film showing how gasoline is made, upgraded, and blended.

To Move Lot Of Dirt But It's Worth It

MINEOLA, N.Y. (U)—Al Davis has himself a contract — for one cent he's going to excavate 50,000 yards of earth to form a sump — a huge hole in the ground where runoff water is collected and returned to the soil.

The Nassau County Board of Supervisors, which had asked bids on the excavation at nearby Levittown, had been ready to go as high as $25,000.

Naturally, the board was delighted by Davis' penny bid but asked "how come?"

Replied Davis: "Where else can a guy get 50,000 yards of high grade soil, sand and gravel for a penny?"

Cow Took The Hook, He Lost 'Em Both

ST. IVES, England (U)—A man went fishing for carp here and hooked a cow, name of Lucy.

Lucy was grazing among the bushes of the River Ouse when she spotted the angler's gaily colored float yesterday. She chewed up and swallowed float, hook, sinker and 50 feet of line.

The angler, out of sight behind a clump of trees, knew he had a big one on, but was unaware it had hooves instead of fins. Other fishermen in the vicinity reported later he made a game attempt to reel Lucy in, but the line broke.

At milking time farmer Jerry Anderson saw a length of line trailing from Lucy's mouth. He pulled out 30 feet of it.

A veterinary extracted another 20 feet, plus the float, hook and sinker, and said Lucy would recover.

Said Anderson: "I'm sending the vet's bill to the town angling society."

TAKE a look; if you please, at the car and the styling that are changing historic sales standings.

Take a look at the beauty and the buy called Buick—the car that is forging ahead to new sales heights in the 1954 market.

Take a look at the new best seller that has moved into the "Big Three" of the nation's top sales leaders—into that very exclusive circle that for two decades has held only the so-called "low-price three."

For today, as national sales figures for the first five months reveal, Buick is outselling all other cars except two of these "low-price three." And each month firms Buick's new position.

It takes solid worth to bring this about—a lot more automobile per dollar in Buick than in other cars.

But it also takes the glamorous new tomorrow styling that is Buick today. It takes the highest V8 horsepower, Series for Series, in all Buick history. It takes the room and comfort and ride and handling that are Buick's proud tradition.

And it takes a range of cars to satisfy a wide range of people—with prices that most people can well afford. So you find the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER—the four big reasons for Buick's tremendous sales success.

Come in for a demonstration and you'll see what we mean.

With the years-away styling of this glamorous car, you'll be way ahead at resale time. And right now you're money ahead with the big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you. Drop in this week.

TAKE THE HEAT OUT OF SUMMER DRIVING WITH BUICK'S draft-free AIRCONDITIONER

Just like the air conditioning in a home or office—Buick's automatic Airconditioner keeps you cool on hot days. M'Carthy At Dinner For Cohn, Says He Offered Him New Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) says Roy Cohn, a principal in the bitter Army-McCarthy controversy, has declined an offer to serve as his personal consultant.

McCarthy spoke last night at a testimonial dinner for the 27-year-old Cohn, who recently resigned as chief counsel of the Senate Permanent subcommittee on Investigations, which is headed by McCarthy.

"I asked Roy if he would serve on my personal office staff as my personal representative on the committee," McCarthy said. "Roy turned it down. He said it would be like going out the front door and coming in the back door."

Cohn, the senator added, "left me against my advice, but perhaps he was right in doing it. I could see why Roy felt his usefulness was not what it should be."

McCarthy, who had no prepared address, did not elaborate.

At one point McCarthy referred to Cohn as a "victim," then quickly said:

"But you can't call Roy a victim. He'll never be a victim of anything because he has too much good old Americanism and guts for that."

McCarthy also said Cohn will "always be available and will be called upon very often for help and advice."

Cohn's resignation followed the lengthy televised subcommittee hearings in which the Army charged that Cohn used improper pressure on behalf of G. David Schine, another subcommittee aide who had been drafted.

The McCarthy side contended the Army was using Schine as a "hostage" to prevent the subcommittee from pursuing its probe of subversives in the Army.

Both McCarthy and Cohn received ovations from some 2,000 $7,000-a-plate dinner guests in the Hotel Astor ballroom. Sponsors of the affair said more than 6,000 ticket applications had to be turned down because of lack of space.

Cohn, responding to many addresses of praise, said he considered himself "extremely fortunate to have had the opportunity to oppose the Communist menace."

"In public life or private life, as long as I am here, I will always be in this fight," he said.

Sailor Strangely Stricken In Practice Deep-Sea Dive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young sailor, stricken while undergoing a training dive, was hospitalized in critical condition early today after more than 39 hours in a drum-like chamber to adjust him to normal atmospheric pressure.

Arthur L. Appleton, 24, a machinist's mate from Carbondale, Ill., was sent to Bethesda Naval Medical Center at 5 a. m. for treatment and a diagnosis of what caused him to collapse during a simulated deep-sea dive.

Lt. Cmdr. Walter A. Wilson, who heads the diving school at the Naval Gun Factory here, called Appleton's mishap "a bizarre case." He said he could find "none on record like it."

Appleton, in diving gear, submerged in a special tank to a pressure equaling that of 100 feet Tuesday morning. He complained to a companion of feeling dizzy. Raised to the surface, he was hurried into a decompression chamber.

Navy medical officers and hospitalmen worked constantly to bring Appleton back to normal outside pressure.

Kremlin Chiefs Hoist The Vodka For Chinese Chums

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
 MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin chiefs uncorked their choicest vodka last night to honor Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Vietnamh Deputy Premier Phan Van Dong, triumphantly touring homeward from the Geneva conference.

Toasts by the dozen to peace and coexistence were hoisted at a gala reception given by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov for about 1,000 persons, including Western diplomats and newsmen.

The get-friendly theme was pitched mainly at British Ambassador Sir William Hayter, who sat at the head table with the guests of honor and top Russian officials.

In a jovial moment toward the end of the party, Soviet Communist Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev raised his glass to the British diplomat. "You British don't want to capture Leningrad," Khrushchev said, "and we don't want to take Glasgow."

"Leningrad is a very nice town, prettier than Glasgow," Hayter smilingly replied.

U. S. Embassy officials passed up their invitation to the big S Friedmanovka House reception. It arrived just a few hours before the party started. The Americans wouldn't have gone anyway, because the United States does not recognize Chou's Peiping regime.

Premier Georgi Malenkov topped the guest list of government leaders, Moscow bigwigs, foreign diplomats and Western correspondents. The Premier was amiable and all smiles but he offered no toasts.

As the vodka compliments mounted toward half a hundred around the head table, Khrushchev and Internal Trade Minister Anastass I. Mikoyan grew especially animated and high spirited.

Even after all the guests rose to leave, Khrushchev kept tipping his glass with the British ambassador in an exchange heard by newsmen nearby.

"Now we don't want any war, and we are not afraid of each other," the party chief said.

Linking his arm with Chou's, he added:

"Now here's a good example of friendship—the Soviet Union and China. That's how we all should be friends."

Never Hitch Ride On A Helicopter

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Chances are these two Formosan farmhands will think twice before again attempting to hitch a ride on a helicopter.

The Chinese Nationalist Air Force said one of its pilots set his 'copter down in a field for emergency repairs.

Two farmhands who had been watching ran to the craft and clung to its framework when he departed.

As the chopper gained altitude the two became terrified and screamed. The pilot, only then aware he had passengers, began a gentle descent.

Panic-stricken, one farmhand let go, dropping a few feet to the ground.

This caused the plane to lose balance and it crashed.

The pilot suffered injuries to both legs.

Neither of the hitchhikers was injured. Both are being detained.

Officers Seek Information In Woman's Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County law officers today planned a meeting to decide their next step in the case of the brutal slaying of a Bay Village socialite.

Since July 4 when Marilyn Sheppard was found dead in her blood-soaked bed, police have been unable to come up with enough evidence to charge anyone with the crime. But today, the chief law enforcement officials of Cleveland and the swank suburb have a meeting scheduled with County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan.

"We're going to decide whether present findings justify an arrest," Cleveland Police Chief Frank W. Story said yesterday. He said it was his personal opinion they don't. However, final decision on the filing of charges rests with the prosecutor.

The victim's husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, prominent 30-year-old ophthalmologist, has been undergoing most of the police questioning — much of it bearing on his relationship with a pretty laboratory technician who used to work with him in Bay View Hospital.

The girl, Miss Susan Hayes, 26, who came here voluntarily from California to testify, yesterday was quoted by officials as saying she and the doctor carried on a romance earlier this year, and for some time past.

Story said a session on "what was done, what was not done and what can be done," in the case was held in central police station.

"We consolidated our thinking," Story said, but no new information was brought out.

Cleveland police didn't take part in the original investigation, because the slaying was not in the city proper. They entered the case recently on invitation from the suburb's city council.

So far, officers have failed to find the weapon with which Mrs. Sheppard was hacked to death in her beautiful lakefront home. Her husband testified at an inquest last week that he was awakened by her screams after a nap in a downstairs couch and ran into her room. There, he said, he grappled with her assailant and whaled him outside. He has been wearing a trace on his neck to protect injuries he said he received in the fight.

THE AUTOMOBILE By JOHN O. MUNN I AM SPEED MADE SUBJECT TO HUMAN WILL. I give mankind dominion over distance. I open the avenues of all the world to humanity. I enlarge the radius of human life. I expand the horizon of human opportunity. I give to man a locomotion as rapid and as subtle as his desires. I give to his body the speed and mobility of his ambition. I promote peace and good fellowship in the human race, for I have bridged the spaces that kept men isolated and ignorant of each other. I hurry the master minds of the world to conference places where the destinies of nations are determined. I snatch the dying from the scythes of death and deliver him a thousand times a day. I am the silent partner in all the business houses of the world. I save hours out of man's work-day and give them to him to play with. I make man free of all the far places of venture, recreation and delight. I am the most capable and constant servant in the homes of men. I bear the sick swiftly and gently out to nature whose touch puts the roses into cheeks that have faded. I take men from their stifling cities of steel and stone out to the murmuring streams and wind-swept meadows. I cement the ties of home and kinship with the blessing of frequent reunion and concerted recreation. I give supremacy of locomotion to man whom nature made slower than the beasts. Housing Increase Predicted As Congress Completes Bill

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—New housing legislation, one of Congress' major actions on President Eisenhower's legislative program this session, should boost home building by 10 to 20 per cent, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said today.

Interview today the bill "contains a great deal of what the President asked." He commended the House for having agreed to a 35,000-unit public housing program, described by Senate public housing advocates as "a sham and a delusion."

That compromise provision, authorizing far less than Eisenhower recommended, was the main reason for the 21 "no" votes cast in the Senate on the over-all bill.

Modern Family Sculpture Not Getting Acceptance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Art is a pretty dangerous word around City Hall these days. Mention it in the hearing of a councilman and he'll most likely flip his lid.

The reason is a 14-foot bronze statue of an American family without faces and practically without curves.

Bernard Rosenthal, who sculpts with a welding torch, is supposed to get $10,000 for it. Councilmen, as ex-officio critics, decided yesterday they would try to break his contract.

Rosenthal designed the statue for the new police building. A modern concept, it symbolizes the family under the protective wing of the cop. Councilmen got a gander at his model in the past few days.

A few of their criticisms: Ernest E. Debs: "No eyes, no nose, no ears. Whoever designed this must have a low opinion of the American family."

Don A. Allen: "Maybe we'll have another metal salvage drive."

Councilman John Gibson: "Let's give it to the California Taxpayers Assn."

Councilman Edward Roybal, a voice in the wilderness: "There are persons in the city qualified to pass on art. If you want to pay $10,000 of the taxpayers' money and junk the statue just because you don't like it, I won't go along with you."

The Indiana senator said in an interview today the bill "contains a great deal of what the President asked." He commended the House for having agreed to a 35,000-unit public housing program, described by Senate public housing advocates as "a sham and a delusion."

That compromise provision, authorizing far less than Eisenhower recommended, was the main reason for the 21 "no" votes cast in the Senate on the over-all bill.

The compromise wording allows 35,000 public housing units in the next year would restrict this type of building to families actually displaced by federal slum clearance activities.

Eisenhower had asked for 140,000 units over the next four years, without this restriction, and the Senate originally went along on that. But the House refused to authorize any new public housing when it passed its original bill.

Capehart said the conference committee which framed the final version of the bill was "indeed fortunate" to have won House agreement for even the restricted 35,000-unit public housing feature.

In other major respects, Capehart said, the new bill liberalizing down payments and extending repayment periods on homes bought with government-insured mortgages followed closely the housing proposals Eisenhower sent Congress early this year.

Capehart said the new housing bill is "certain to pump even more activity into a building industry already operating at a far higher rate than anticipated" a year ago.

Under the bill, a house with an FHA-appraised value of $12,000, for instance, could have its down payment lowered from the present $2,400 to $1,200 if new and $1,650 if old. Loans could run as long as 30 years instead of the present limits of 20 to 30 years.

Sergeant Freed Of Charges He Abused His Men

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—A wiry, one-eyed non-commissioned officer with six years of Army service behind him yesterday was cleared of charges that he kept 225 recruits at home-taut attention for an hour in 92-degree heat.

Sgt. I.C. Richard J. Witbeck, 24, of Wellington, Ohio, breathed a sigh of relief as a three-man, special court-martial board of three of his superior officers acquitted him after deliberating 40 minutes.

"I feel very good," Witbeck said outside the pine-paneled hearing room. "I'm glad it's all over."

The verdict thus wiped clean the slates of the two principals brought up on charges as a result of the June 21 punishment formation during which men were said to have passed out in the broiling sun, been revived with pails of water and forced back into line.

First Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Witbeck's immediate superior and commander of Company "L," 273 Infantry Regiment, which stood the formation, was cleared of "dereliction of duty" charges last Friday.

Witbeck, who wears a patch over his left eye, lost in a training mishap while on occupation duty in Austria, pleaded innocent to allegations of mistreatment of personnel. He did not take the stand in his own defense and did not exercise his right to have other enlisted men sit on the court.

Chooses Park To Kill Her Horse, Then Take Own Life

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Trudy Tolin went horseback riding in scenic Fairmount Park yesterday. The 31-year-old woman and her horse, "Bebe," were a familiar sight on the park's paths for the past several years.

A short while later a mounted park policeman came across a bizarre scene in a secluded wooden garden near the livery stable where Miss Tolin kept her horse.

The young woman and her mount lay side by side. Both had been shot through the head with a .22 calibre rifle which was rigged to a nearby tree branch. The horse's head was covered with a blue denim skirt.

Police said the woman apparently shot the horse and then took her own life.

In her hand were five playing cards — a pair of aces and three eights, a full house in poker and a combination close to the traditional "dead man's hand" of the same game, two aces and two eights.

Carved on the wooden stock of the death rifle was this inscription: "Speak not in anger, in mercy, whisper: in vengeance, sing."

Sgt. Edward McCann, the park guard who found the two said he also discovered a note tied to the trunk of the tree.

Addressed to her brother Arthur, in New York, it said Miss Tolin planned to take her own life for 10 years and expressed regret for "any inconvenience."

Friends described Miss Tolin as "moody." Her father, with whom she lived, said his daughter was depressed recently because she was unable to find employment.

Without Risking A Penny Hard of Hearing Now Enjoy Wonders of 3-Transistor Hearing

FREE HEARING AID CONSULTATION—SETTLES HOTEL FRIDAY 10 A.M. TO 4 P.M.

THIS CONSULTATION WILL BE CONDUCTED BY THE ACOUSTICON PUBLIC EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Now, enjoy the wonders of three-transistor hearing not only at a remarkably low price you can afford—but actually without risking a penny!

This wonderful chance to satisfy your desire for this new kind of hearing comes to you through the great new tubeless Acousticon 3-Transistor Hearing Aid, priced at only $99.50. This is the first time in history, as far as we know, that a 3-transistor hearing aid, operating on one tiny battery with the B battery eliminated, has been offered under $100!

But even more important to you and your peace of mind is the fact that this great new hearing aid is backed by Acousticon's iron-clad written 10-day NO RISK money-back guarantee. This means that you get better transistor hearing or you get your money back—no questions asked and your word is final!

Just see all the hearing advantages this one great hearing aid brings you:

1. 10¢ per month to operate this instrument for thirty 8-hour days, compared to the $4.00 to $7.00 per month battery costs paid by many users of vacuum tube hearing aids.
2. Power adaptability—for the more severely deafened or if your hearing loss increases—just the insertion of a higher voltage battery supplies extra amplification needed. Even in such cases, the cost of operation is only a fraction of the cost of operating a vacuum-tube hearing aid.
3. Special telephonic pick-up—shuts out room noise.
4. Magnetic microphone—most resistant to humidity.
5. Bone Conduction of no extra cost—and most wonderful of all—
6. Clearer, more life-like transistor hearing, scientifically fitted to match your hearing loss.

You will agree that the remarkable price of $99.50 means you can afford it—the easy terms of $10 down, $10 per month means you can acquire it—and the written 10-Day NO RISK money back guarantee means you can trust it NOW, without risking a penny, without doubt or fear, you can enjoy the Acousticon 3-Transistor Hearing Aid. So come in today! If you can't possibly come in, be sure to write or phone.

FORGETFUL GUESTS

Many Leave Some, But Few Very Much

"No one leaves too much—but lots of people leave a little." Thus, Louisiana Scott sums up one human frailty of people who forget to take their possessions with them when they check out of hotel rooms.

The items left from time to time are stored in a room adjacent to the laundry room in the basement of the hotel. The room is almost completely filled.

Most frequently left items are men and women's cosmetics, Miss Scott said. There are a volume of these articles in the store room. "Some have been here for years."

"Sounds hard to believe," Miss Scott quips, "but some men even forget their pants."

Ordinarily the articles left by guests are not valuable, she said. Hurried departure accounts for the forgotten items, she believes. "They just don't seem to think of everything."

A large amount of the articles left in the rooms are returned to the guests. After realizing their loss, they request the hotel send it to them.

The same situation occurs at other Big Spring hotels and motels, the volume, because of the size of the establishment, being less.

Hotels, however, are not the only places that persons forget to take home their articles. A volume also turns up in the town's theaters. The majority of these items, theater managers say, are books, magazines and packages. They are also stored until a request is made for them.

Money, usually small amounts, is also lost in theaters. Billfolds and purses are sometimes found. If they contain some type of identification in them the owner is notified.

Cafe patrons leave items in the chairs or booths they occupy. The volume, cafe owners and managers report, is not excessive, however. Packages are most frequently left.

In sending clothing to laundries and cleaners, residents sometimes leave valuables in pockets. Before cleaning the garments pockets are checked and items turned up are returned to the owner when he picks up his laundry or cleaning.

Geologists Take To Bottom Of Ocean In Search For Oil

By NORMAN BELL
SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 29 (U.S.)—The oil-hunting geologist has been given a new look by a group here. Instead of tramping over deserts and mountains in high boots and wide-brimmed sun hats, they dive to the ocean bottom.

The group of six, organized as geological diving consultants, wear the so-called frogmen free-diving outfits—face mask, plastic rubber suits, swim fins and breathing devices fed by tanks of compressed air carried on their backs.

As far as they know, their enterprise is unique. They study the ocean's bottom as the conventional geologist does dry land, for formations that give promise of oil below. Since starting their project last Nov. 26, operating on weekends only, they have actually discovered oil and gas seeps in the bottom.

Their surveys for oil companies engaging their services have ranged down to 140 feet below the surface along the Southern California coast at locations from Laguna Beach north for approximately 200 miles to beyond Santa Barbara. They have made 1,100 dives.

All are geologists at the U. S. Navy Electronics Laboratory here or the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography at La Jolla. Three, Robert S. Dietz, Edwin L. Hamilton and Henry W. Menard, hold doctors' degrees. The others are Robert F. Dill, George Shumway and David B. Moore.

They range in ages from middle 20s to 38. They stress prudence rather than daring in their operations. "We've never had an accident," observed Menard. They got the idea of devoting their free weekend time to the private enterprise after some of them made a survey for the Navy in May, 1953, of the bottom around San Nicolas Island, south of Santa Barbara.

Three of them go on each prospecting trip, two to dive and one to stay in the boat along with the boatman and representatives of the engaging oil company. The working equipment of those who dive is made up of waterproof wrist watch and compass, a depth gauge, a knife for cutting kelp or other obstructions, a small geologist's pick and slate and pencils. They use the slate to communicate with each other.

They anchor a buoy where they go down and send up other buoys to mark the course of their survey. The boat follows the bubbles coming up from their breathing device valves, from buoy to buoy.

During the dives, which seldom last more than two hours, the two geologists measure the dip and directional trend of rock ledges and pick off samples in their studies of formations that may indicate possibilities of oil. They write their notes on returning to the boat and these are subsequently worked into the report to the oil company.

Menard said that the group has found lively demand for their services and that they expect to increase the depth and range of their surveys as they gain experience and improved equipment.

One device they have developed is a metal trapeze bar, to which they cling as it is towed below the surface at depths up to 70 feet. By using their bodies as rudder or elevator, as they lie stomach down on the bar, they can control to the limits of the tow their course in this underwater aquaplaning. The tow speeds up movement from point to point in the survey.

Menard said he did not consider the occupation particularly hazardous. "You don't have to be an athlete," he said, "you just have to be prudent."

Most All State In Need Of Rainfall
AUSTIN (U.S.)—All areas of Texas except the Panhandle urgently need soaking rains to check deterioration of immature crops and revive pastures, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Crop prospects continued downward over most of the state as temperatures regularly hit the 100 to 105 degree marks, and nearly statewide drought increased to severity, the USDA said in its crop and range report for the week ending Monday, July 26.

Showers last week in the Panhandle country, with the heaviest amounts north of Amarillo, revived hopes of making a grain sorghum crop in that favored area.

Transcontinental Motor Scooter Trip Is An Education

LOS ANGELES (U.S.)—Two vacationing French girls have completed a motor scooter trip here from New York City. One of them, Christiane Magontier, 21, reports: "Because you attract attention on a motor scooter, you learn so much about people—especially the men."

She and her companion, Christiane de Beauchaine, 27, said yesterday they received two marriage proposals during their 25-day journey.

Both girls are governesses for families connected with the United Nations. Before they came to the United States 10 months ago, Miss Magontier attended a Paris school and Miss De Beauchaine was a bank clerk. They sold their scooter after arriving here to pay for transportation back to New York, where they resume their jobs Aug. 1.

America is building churches and other religious structures at the rate of 500 million dollars worth a year says the National Geographic Society.

Harris Democrats In Harmony Session

HOUSTON (U.S.)—The Harris County Democratic Executive Committee voted last night to accept the state committee's recommendations on selection of precinct delegates to Saturday's county convention.

The surprisingly harmonious meeting also saw agreement on appointment of a six-member committee—three liberals and three conservatives—to consider contested delegations. There were several rump sessions at Saturday's precinct conventions.

Rodeo Calls For This Outdoor Treat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are the prepare-beforehand type of outdoor cook, we think you will be enthusiastic about our latest discovery—Barbecued Porkies. In the quiet and convenience of your own kitchen, you simmer a thrifty boneless pork shoulder butt until tender, and make up a quick and spicy tomato barbecue sauce. Then you pack your picnic basket with ham, sauce, sliced cooked potatoes and fat for frying, rolls, skillet, coffee and coffee pot, long-handled fork and spoon, toasting rack, and the necessary eating utensils. You also take along something for outdoor nibbling: celery and radishes with cheese, for instance. For dessert you supply watermelon or some other refreshing fruit.

When the coals are glowing, ham and sauce are put together in one skillet and heated, potatoes fried golden-brown in the other skillet, rolls toasted, coffee made, it's a neat and orderly cookout—but mighty good eating! Chances are that if you like these Barbecued Porkies as much as we do, you will prepare them for indoor suppers, too.

BARBECUED PORKIES

Ingredients:
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup finely diced onion
1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup chili sauce
1 cup tomato juice
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
6 tablespoons cider or other salad vinegar
2 to 2 1/2 pounds boneless smoked pork shoulder butt (cooked)
10 sandwich buns.

Method:
Melt butter in large skillet; add onion and cook over low heat until it begins to get tender. Add sugar, salt, chili sauce, tomato juice, Worcestershire and vinegar; simmer, stirring occasionally, until sauce has thickened somewhat—about 1/4 hour. Store in covered jar in refrigerator.

Timely Tips

Always make a sugar syrup for sweetening either small or large recipes of fruit punch. This eliminates the problem of undissolved sugar.
The cheese sandwiches and fudge brownies could be made and frozen in home freezer several days before the party.
Serve fruit punch to children for mid-afternoon snacks. They are nutritious and delicious.

Boiling water, added a little at a time, will soften a boiled frosting that has become too stiff to spread.

Your Iced Tea Too Weak? Try Making It This Way

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's hard to get a good glass of iced tea—if you like real tea flavor and not just amber-colored water. Usually the brew is not strong enough and it is diluted with too much ice; or if the brew is strong enough, it is still over-diluted.

Here is our own favorite method of making iced tea. We like it because it is quick and gives uniform flavor.

We use three level teaspoons of a fine grade of black tea and two cups of water for every two 16-ounce-glass servings. Yes, we like a really tall drink! First we put the required amount of water on to boil; as soon as the water boils, we pour it over the leaves in a teapot and let brew exactly five minutes by the clock. Then we stir the tea leaves once and strain the tea into the glasses. If your glasses aren't heavy, put a teaspoon in the glass before you pour. Next we put ice cubes in each glass—leaving room for dilution—give the tea and ice a whirl with a long-handled spoon, and serve at once. If the tea stands a bit and clouds, add a tablespoon of boiling water for each serving and it will clear. But honestly, we think there is too much fuss about tea clouding—especially since we learned that fine teas are more likely to cloud than poorer grades!

Because the members of our family and many of our friends like their iced tea sweetened and flavored with lemon or lime, in summer we often make up a batch of lemon or lime tea syrup and keep it in the refrigerator. At serving time, we add syrup to taste to each glass of tea, or let people help themselves. You can make other flavors of tea syrup, too—orange or mint, for instance.

LEMON OR LIME TEA SYRUP
Ingredients:
1 cup sugar

1/2 cup water
Lemon or lime rind
1/4 cup lemon or lime juice

Method:
Put sugar and water in a small saucepan. Cut rind thinly away from one-half a lemon or lime so its membrane-free; slice into very thin even strips. Add rind to saucepan with lemon or lime juice. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Bring quickly to a boil; boil 5 minutes without stirring. Cool and refrigerate in tightly covered jar. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. In serving, garnish syrup with thin slice of lemon or lime.

Orange syrup:
Use 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, thin strips of membrane-free orange rind from one-half of an orange, 1/4 cup orange juice. Skim off any bits of foam. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. In serving, garnish syrup with thin slice of orange.

Mint Syrup:
Use 1 cup sugar, 1 cup water and 3 tablespoons chopped fresh mint. Chill and strain. Makes about 1 cup. In serving, garnish syrup with mint sprig.

At serving time, quickly heat ham (cut in about 1/4-inch thick slices) in sauce. Serve ham and sauce over split toasted sandwich buns. Makes 10 servings.

Note:
To cook the pork butt, cover it with boiling water in a kettle; add a slightly crushed garlic clove, 6 whole cloves, 6 peppercorns, a bay leaf; cover and simmer until tender—1 1/2 to 2 hours.

"The Complete Book of Barbecue and Rotisserie Cooking" by Jim Beard (recently published by Bobbs-Merrill in hard cover), is a book we can recommend to anyone interested in the direct-heat method of preparing food. Whether you do your barbecue cooking outdoors over coals, or indoors on an electric spit, you will find here hundreds of suggestions for management and preparation by a hand who knows a powerful lot about good food. And there's a chapter on "Cooking with Smoke," too. The discerning comment all through the book makes it extremely readable. Among the recipes, you will find many simple ones that are particularly delicious. Here, for example, is one:

SAUTEED POTATOES

Sauteed potatoes are easily prepared for outdoor eating. Slice peeled raw potatoes fairly thin and soak them in cold water for an hour or so. If you are cooking steak or roast beef, cut away a little of the beef fat or get a little extra from the butcher. Cut the fat very fine, put it in a skillet (a heavy iron or cast-aluminum skillet is best) and let it melt. You will need about 1 tablespoon of suet per potato. When it is melted and the bits of suet have turned crisp, add the potato slices, dried on paper towels, and let them saute gently. Turn them often with a large spatula. They should be nicely browned, crisp and thoroughly cooked through. Don't break them as you turn them. Add salt and plenty of freshly ground black pepper. Potatoes cooked this way with bits of crisp suet are unforgettably good and just the thing with hearty outdoor roasts or steaks.

Here's Hot Sandwich For Snack Meal

Broiled liver sausage sandwiches—prepare them for a special Sunday night supper or snack. They require little preparation because they're made with this ready-to-serve meat.

To make the spread, use a fork to mash one pound of liver sausage into a spreading consistency. Moisten the meat with 1/4 cup of prepared mustard and season with 1/2 cup of grated onion. In the meantime, toast bread slices on one side. Turn and spread them with the liver-sausage mixture. Place the open-

Chili-Bologna Spread

Combine 1 cup finely chopped or ground bologna (about 1/2 pound) with 4 tablespoons chili sauce, 2 tablespoons finely chopped green onions and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Makes 4 to 5 sandwiches.

'Tasted And True' Menu Offered For Outdoors

Eating outside always goes with rodeo-time and if you're like most hostesses you'll want to have a menu that can be prepared easily and ahead of time.

Barbecued Wieners can be the "piece de resistance" at your outdoor gatherings. Anne LeFever, woman's staff member of the Herald, has "tasted and true" recipe for them as well as recipes for a speedy bean dish and a tangy slaw.

She says they've been successful for her, so why not give them a try?

BARBECUED WIENERS
Ingredients:
2 dozen wieners
2 bottles catsup
¼ bottle Worcestershire sauce
Juice of three lemons
Powdered horseradish, garlic salt, comino seed, chili powder to taste

1 can of chili may be added if desired.
2 medium onions, chopped
Method:
Mix catsup, Worcestershire sauce, onions and lemon juice. Add 1 teaspoon of each of the condiments

Congeaed Salad Enhances Cold Cuts

To entertain a couple or a crowd, nothing could be easier for the summer hostess than a platter of cold cuts. In this attractive arrangement, slices of summer sausage, bologna, relish loaf, liver sausage, sliced ham, pepperoni and salami are served with individual pineapple lime molds:

PINEAPPLE LIME MOLDS
Ingredients:
2 packages lime flavored gelatin
2 cups hot water
¼ pint (1 cup) commercial sour cream
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
Method:
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill until partially set. Then stir in sour cream and undrained pineapple. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Serve garnished with marachino cherry. Eight servings.

Apricot Sherbet Is Different

This apricot sherbet is flavored with ginger which provides a delightfully different taste.

NECTAR GINGER SHERBET
1½ cups apricot whole fruit nectar
¼ cup granulated sugar
1½ teaspoons plain gelatin
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
Few grains salt
1½ tablespoons finely chopped preserved ginger.

Heat together nectar and sugar. Soften gelatin in lemon juice and dissolve in hot nectar. Mix in lemon rind and salt. Cool. Pour into refrigerator tray and place in freezing compartment with control set at lowest temperature. Freeze until firm. Remove to chilled bowl and beat with rotary beater until smooth and fluffy. Fold in ginger. Return to freezing compartment and freeze to desired consistency. Reset temperature control to normal.

Simple Back Yard Buffet Can Be Made In Advance

The easiest of back yard menus is the one in which most of the foods are prepared in advance. Here's a simple one which always is a success:

Baked Ham
Potato or Macaroni Salad
Jellied Fruit Mold
Buttered Assorted Breads
Olives, Pickles
Fresh Fruit, Cake
Beverage

The ham may be baked a day in advance and the salads prepared ahead of time, too. Then all that's left to be done on the day of the gathering is to carve the meat, arrange the salads, butter the bread and make the beverage. The excellent baked cakes and timesaving cake mixes on the market make easy work of dessert.

Guests Will Go For This Unique Chicken

By CECY BROWNSTONE

This chicken was made to order. A friend wrote to say that she was particularly fond of a recipe of hers that called for baking chicken quarters over a simple herb-seasoned dry bread crumb stuffing. She had used the recipe a good deal and so she asked, "Do you have anything similar—but flavored differently?"

The recipe below is our answer: chicken quarters layered over a dressing that this time is made with butter tidbits of fresh bread and flavored piquantly with lemon juice, parsley and pimiento.

We like this dish for company because you can put it in the oven half an hour or so before dinner is to be served and forget about it. When everyone is ready to sit down, out comes the chicken—tender as can be and a beautiful golden-brown atop its good dressing. So easy to serve, too, if you follow our directions for placing the chicken on aluminum foil. If you are having a party of eight, you will find this recipe is an easy one to double.

Since you will have your oven on for the chicken, you might as well bake potatoes at the same time to

Can Is Source Of Meat Loaf

Whether you're a homemaker on a job outside your home from 8 to 5 or employed at home, you'll find canned meats one simple solution to the problem of serving something good and nourishing to your family on short notice.

With a can of luncheon loaf on your shelf, you can prepare this Apple Glazed Meat Loaf suitable for any occasion. For 4 to 6 servings, grind the loaf and combine with 1 cup of soft bread crumbs, 1 slightly beaten egg and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Moisten with ½ cup milk and season with ½ teaspoon of horseradish sauce.

Bake the combination in a well greased ring mold or loaf pan. But first, for the apple glaze, pour into the pan ¼ cup of tart applesauce and spread it evenly over the surface. Top this with the meat mixture. Bake for 1 hour in a 350 degree F. oven.

When everyone is ready to sit down, out comes the chicken—tender as can be and a beautiful golden-brown atop its good dressing. So easy to serve, too, if you follow our directions for placing the chicken on aluminum foil. If you are having a party of eight, you will find this recipe is an easy one to double.

Since you will have your oven on for the chicken, you might as well bake potatoes at the same time to

Simple Back Yard Buffet Can Be Made In Advance

The easiest of back yard menus is the one in which most of the foods are prepared in advance. Here's a simple one which always is a success:

Baked Ham
Potato or Macaroni Salad
Jellied Fruit Mold
Buttered Assorted Breads
Olives, Pickles
Fresh Fruit, Cake
Beverage

The ham may be baked a day in advance and the salads prepared ahead of time, too. Then all that's left to be done on the day of the gathering is to carve the meat, arrange the salads, butter the bread and make the beverage. The excellent baked cakes and timesaving cake mixes on the market make easy work of dessert.

When everything is ready, ask for the help of a male guest or two to help carry the food outside. Arrange it on a table buffet-style, then let the guests help themselves and sit around the yard to eat. Or set up a large table or several card tables around which your guests may seat themselves.

Can Is Source Of Meat Loaf

Whether you're a homemaker on a job outside your home from 8 to 5 or employed at home, you'll find canned meats one simple solution to the problem of serving something good and nourishing to your family on short notice.

With a can of luncheon loaf on your shelf, you can prepare this Apple Glazed Meat Loaf suitable for any occasion. For 4 to 6 servings, grind the loaf and combine with 1 cup of soft bread crumbs, 1 slightly beaten egg and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Moisten with ½ cup milk and season with ½ teaspoon of horseradish sauce.

Bake the combination in a well greased ring mold or loaf pan. But first, for the apple glaze, pour into the pan ¼ cup of tart applesauce and spread it evenly over the surface. Top this with the meat mixture. Bake for 1 hour in a 350 degree F. oven.

Boom Town Of Gold Rush Now Living Off Tourists

DAWSON, Yukon (AP)—This once-famous gold rush center is now almost a ghost town, but its 500 residents are striving to keep the place alive by jaring tourists.

The home in 1898 of 40,000 gold-hungry prospectors, dance hall girls and bartenders, it now is a collection of sagging, decaying buildings.

The old Floradora Dance Hall, Nugget Saloon and Royal Alexandra Hotel lean precariously as if ready to fall. Dozens of other famous old honky-tonks, hotels and amusement places have disappeared.

Deterioration started after the gold rush. Raw gold worth 200 million dollars was carried through Dawson streets, but when the creeks were panned out, the pros-

Matador's Son Making Name For Himself

By SANKY TRIMBLE

JUAREZ, Mexico, July 29 (AP)—There's a rising new star in the Mexican bullfight world, a star the aficionados say bears close watching.

He is Heriberto Garcia, slender 16-year-old son of Heriberto Garcia Sr., who was one of Mexico's top matadors before he retired from the bull ring 10 years ago.

It is slightly more than two years, young Garcia has become one of Mexico's outstanding "novilleros," or beginners. His more devoted fans are enthusiastically comparing his style with that of the classic figures in Mexican bullfight history.

The youngster has made four appearances in the Plaza de Toros here. In the first he was badly scored. In the second he was awarded two ears—a mark of a very skillful fight that pleased not only the critical audience but the even more critical judges.

Although he received no ears in his latest appearance, the smiling youngster did succeed in bringing forth an audience demand for a vuelta—the triumphant victory parade around the bull ring to receive the crowd's cheers.

The vuelta came after Garcia had performed four consecutive "pases natural"—the basic and most difficult pass in bullfighting—and had thrilled the crowd with a perfect execution of the "manolete"—a difficult and beautiful pass named for the greatest man in Mexican bullfighting history—Manolete.

There are whispers, by the devoted, that the boy has shown in the 50 bulls he has fought so far the same grace, fire, ability and flare that made Manolete a Mexican idol, and who knows, senior—perhaps in a few more years. . . ."

Turns In Check For 100 Grand, Gets A C-Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley Russell exchanged a $100,000 check today for one worth only $100—and came out ahead.

Russell found the $100,000 check on a street yesterday after a Union Dime Savings Bank messenger had lost it.

He notified the institution, which soon ascertained that it was made out to the Chase National Bank and could not be cashed by anyone else. Russell was asked to return it when convenient.

So today, after taking it home overnight for his wife and three daughters to have a look at such a rarity, the 45-year-old manager for a typewriter sales agency called at Union Dime's offices.

He was greeted by bank president J. Wilbur Lewis, who handed him another check for $100. Lewis explained that it was not a reward but "just to show our appreciation for the trouble given you."

Russell replied with his thanks, and then arranged to open an account of his own at the bank. First deposit—$100.

Yarborough's Home Box Goes To Foe

By The Associated Press

Gov. Allan Shivers carried both his and Ralph Yarborough's home voting boxes in Saturday's Democratic primary.

The governor carried his own home box in Port Arthur, 508-78. The official canvass of Yarborough's home box in Austin showed the governor beat him, 893-567.

In Port Arthur, Shivers' backers also dominated the precinct convention for the first time. They named the governor and his wife to head the precinct's 150 delegates to the county convention Saturday. Shivers also carried a group of Port Arthur boxes, 5,810-5,895, which he had lost by several hundred votes in 1952.

Piracy Re-Occurs, But Rowboat Used

NEW YORK (AP)—Piracy isn't dead yet—but it sure isn't what it used to be.

Two young robbers early today boarded a 52-foot yacht tied up at an island off the Bronx, awakened skipper Charles Robbins and took $50 from him. Then they hopped in a rowboat and rowed away.
