

House, Senate Near Harmony Over '68 Budget

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — House and Senate conferees were near agreement today on a $2.4 billion state budget bill for 1968, clearing one of the major hurdles which must see action before the session closes May 9.

The 10-man conference committee, with both Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Speaker Ben Barnes assisting, worked until late Monday night, mostly on salaries of top agency officials.

When the meeting broke up shortly after 10 p.m., it was agreed that about two more hours of work was needed to complete the compromise.

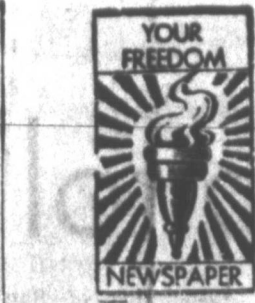

Completion of the budget bill will leave Congressional and legislative redistricting as the other major problems still to be solved.

Rep. Gus Mutschler of Brenham, chairman of the House Redistricting Committee, said his panel had worked out an agreement with Senate leaders on a congressional redistricting bill and expect it to get out of the House committee this afternoon.

Mutschler said the compromise will leave Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., of College Station in southern Dallas and Tarrant counties, the major point of contention, but cut his district two counties short of the Gulf Coast.

The Senate version had Teague's district running from Southern Dallas and Tarrant county in a narrow strip all the way to the Gulf in Brazoria County.

The biggest budget agreement Monday night was the adoption of the House version giving $3 million to the Water Pollution Control Board. The Senate bill

Mideast Moves To Brink of War

American Tourists Flee From Israel

The Middle East moved to the brink of war today, and American tourists began fleeing threatened Israel by plane and ship.

The immediate threat stemmed from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's announcement he was blockading the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only sea outlet to the south and east.

State Cattle Feeders Organize New Group

AMARILLO (UPI) — Panhandle beef producers, in a dispute with the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, have split off and formed a new organization.

The group will be called the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, with headquarters in Amarillo.

The organizational meeting Monday night followed several months of negotiations between the livestock feeders and members of TSCRA, a Fort Worth-based organization. Feeders protested they were not getting fair representation in the group, which was organized initially to serve cattle producers in the Southwest.

The cattle feeders for the past six years have been operating as a division of the TSCRA.

Jack Carrothers of Friona was named president, R. M. Carter of Plainview vice president and Robert Allen of Tulsa, treasurer. The primary purpose of the TSCRA, Carrothers said, will be to represent the interests of cattle feeding throughout the state and to provide services to the feeding industry.

Lloyd Bergama of Fort Worth was named executive secretary and will assume duties immediately as general office manager. He formerly was director of the TSCRA cattle feeders division.

Of Texas' 204 livestock feedlots in Texas with 1,000 head of cattle or more on feed, 112 are in the Texas Panhandle area, with several other feedlots and expansion units under construction in the area.

Pampa Cattlemen Have Mixed Ideas Over Association

Pampa area cattlemen and cattle feeders had mixed ideas this morning about the new Texas Cattle Feeders Association, a splinter group from the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Panhandle beef producers, disagreeing with the cattle raisers' group's representation of cattle feeders' problems, have formed their own organization with headquarters in Amarillo.

Wiley Reynolds, a Pampa cattleman, objected to the split in an earlier meeting here to discuss the possibility of the new organization.

Reynolds, a member of the TSCRA, said he thought the cattlemen would be wiser to "go to the cattle raisers and settle their differences there instead of splitting their strength in two separate groups."

Bill Stockstill, another Pampa cattleman, said today he thought "we were going to have to have it," and that he probably would join it when it was finally organized.

Rex McAnelly, feedlot operator east of Pampa, helped organize the discussion meeting here when cattle feeders of Pampa area discussed the new organization.

Jack Carrothers of Friona, named Monday as the cattle feeders new president, was the speaker here to explain the organization's purposes and to hear cattlemen's views on the organization.

Both sides mobilized their reserves and began massive troop movements.

In London today British officials said Nasser's decision to close the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping had brought the Middle East "to the brink of war." The British Foreign Office also warned Britons to leave the threatened areas.

Ship Passes Through

However, authorities in Tel Aviv said the 2,500-ton freighter Amalia, flying the Panama flag, passed through the Gulf of Aqaba from the Red Sea Monday and reached the Israeli port of Eilat today.

A spokesman at the Israeli embassy in London said, "we cannot allow the strait to remain closed."

The Middle East moved to the brink of war today, and American tourists began fleeing threatened Israel by plane and ship.

The immediate threat stemmed from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's announcement he was blockading the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only sea outlet to the south and east.

Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol had said earlier such a move would be considered an act of war and that Israeli action would be considered an act of war and that Israeli action would come when and if Israeli shipping is tampered with.

United Nations Secretary General U Thant was flying to Cairo on one of the most urgent missions of his career to try to prevent a repetition of the bloody Mideast wars of 1948 and 1956.

The situation was so serious the U.S. State Department "advised" Americans to leave such Middle East hotspots as Egypt, Israel, Lebanon and Syria, but did not order them to leave.

The U.S. 6th Fleet was reported steaming somewhere in the eastern Mediterranean but was not assisting in the evacuation of Americans. It was known that one task force including the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Saratoga and at least six destroyers were near the troubled areas.

The crisis began building when Israel warned Syria it would take strong action if sabotage raids against Israel were not halted. Previously, Israel had struck Syrian and Jordanian border positions in retaliation.

Nasser replied with a threat of war—a repetition of the 1948 Arab versus Jews confrontation. He ordered the United Nations peace-keeping force from the 117-mile long Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

Both sides mobilized their reserves and began massive troop movements.

In London today British officials said Nasser's decision to close the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli shipping had brought the Middle East "to the brink of war." The British Foreign Office also warned Britons to leave the threatened areas.

Violations Of Truce Persist

SAIGON (UPI) — The Communists killed and wounded more than 100 Americans in Buddha birthday truce violations, U.S. spokesmen said today.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in mine, mortar, machinegun and assassination attacks killed at least 10 on Monday's half of the two-day Vietnam war truce called by the Communists.

In more than 20 violations of today's truce—observed by both sides—another 17 Americans were reported killed and 14 injured. Defending themselves both days, American troops killed 60 Communists, spokesmen said.

MIG21 Downed

In the air, in the hour before the allied 24-hour truce went into effect at midnight Monday, North Vietnam, shot down a MIG21 jet interceptor and bombed and heavily damaged an army barracks four miles southwest of Hanoi and a key transformer site seven miles south of the capital.

During the raids one U.S. Air Force F4C was shot down by ground fire and another was lost to "unknown causes," spokesmen said.

Senator Charges CIA Damaged By Disclosures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate's Central Intelligence Agency watchdog panel said today that recent disclosures have so damaged CIA effectiveness, President Johnson should consider reorganizing it.

"In view of this state of confessions or revelations—whatever you want to call them—by people who had supposedly been sworn to secrecy, it might be helpful even if you did no more than change the name," said Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

The Georgia Democrat, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, heads a combined armed services-appropriations subcommittee that rides herd on the CIA. He referred to the published statements of former CIA officials as well as to the widely publicized disclosures of CIA aid to student and labor groups.

The senator's comments, underscoring a widely shared concern in the government's intelligence community, were made as the CIA subcommittee scheduled one of its regular closed-door briefing sessions with CIA Director Richard M. Helms.

In a separate interview, Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., said he shared the belief that "the effectiveness—and the reputation of CIA have been impaired." He suggested, however, that "no doubt some good has been accomplished," over the long haul, by the aftermath of the CIA disclosures.

Chamber Speaker Explains 12 Ingredients for Success

Frank Patterson of the Patterson Customer Relations and Sales Clinic told 118 Pampa Chamber of Commerce members and guests here yesterday, he had "no sympathy with people who moan about bad business because success at anything depends on your attitude."

Patterson was guest speaker for the CoC May membership luncheon at the Coronado Inn, at which winners of the CoC's annual membership drive were announced.

Patterson, giving his prescription for success, named 12 personal qualities that added together will help guarantee success in any endeavor.

"The Andrew Carnegie Foundation spent $100,000 on a survey of why certain people are successful and others are not. They found those who have knowledge, who have done their homework are more successful than those who have not," Patterson said.

He also named expression, learning how to communicate ideas clearly; brief, clear, effective business letters; organizing ability; leadership; adaptability; imagination; concern; maintaining decisions; tradition; observation; thoroughness and initiative.

After throwing the question of the number one quality open to his audience, Patterson took John Calvin Hill's suggestion of attitude as the point the Carnegie survey showed was number one.

"Even if you have all the other qualities, unless you have the right attitude toward your project, you won't get far," Patterson said.

Patterson will be in Pampa late in June to conduct a customer relations and sales clinic.

Bandits Rob Armored Car

BROCKTON, Mass. (UPI) — Bandits totting a submachine gun stole between $400,000 and $500,000 today after hijacking an armored car and locking its two guards and a bank employee in a bank.

The loot estimate was set by Reginald T. Cole, president of the First National Bank of Cole who described the estimates as "conservative."

Bank officials said the loot represented a large cash shipment from the First County National Bank to Plymouth Home National Bank. Other money taken included the night receipts from the Raynham Park dog race track at nearby Raynham.

Three or four bandits staged the bold daylight robbery shortly after the armored car had made a stop at one bank and was approaching another bank.

The holdup was the second armored car robbery on Massachusetts' South Shore in less than two months. Three gunmen, who still are at large, looted an armored truck of $600,000 April 1 at a shopping center in Quincy, 15 miles from here.

Alcock Right of Way Costs City $57,000

The Pampa City Commission today approved payment of $57,019 for 12 pieces of right of way on Alcock St. and authorized condemnation proceedings against two other property owners on the thoroughfare.

The commission released 20 more units, consisting of 45 blocks, for improvement in Pampa's overall 160-block paving program.

Streets released today included: Eighteenth and Twentieth from Hobart to Coffee, Worrill from Hamilton to Williston, Harvester from Lafors to Powell, Finch from Gray to Somerville, Buckler from Faulkner to Hobart, Tyng from Starkweather to Tignor, Denver from Barnes to Reid, Maple from Barrett to Gray, Dwight from Crawford to Wilks, Summer from Bond to City Manager Jim White told commissioners the city had come to agreement with all but two of the Alcock St. property owners.

Morton Warns Of Rising 'War Fever'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton warned today that war fever was mounting in America because President Johnson had failed to make it clear that total military victory in Vietnam would mean "total world holocaust."

The former Republican national chairman called on Johnson to "defuse" what he said could become a massive "stab-in-the-back" reaction by the U.S. public to any negotiated peace in Vietnam.

"If the polls are right, if nearly half of the American people believe that a total military victory in Vietnam is possible 'and vital' to our national interest, then there is going to be hell to pay if we settle for anything less," the Kentucky senator said.

Morton's sharply critical views, given in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, were calculated to set off another round of Vietnam policy debate.

His speech came as Secretary of State Dean Rusk was scheduled to give the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a private policy report on Vietnam and other world trouble spots.

Morton's view of the situation was at odds with that expressed today by a high State Department official Monday at a background briefing for several hundred editors and broadcasters.

The official, who could not be identified by name, told the visiting newsmen that the administration has been careful not to "work up" public opinion to a pitch where it might force the United States to more massive action in Vietnam. He said the United States was too powerful to become hysterical.

But Morton, an assistant secretary of state during the Eisenhower administration, said he was disturbed at polls showing that 45 per cent of the U.S. public favor a "total military victory" policy in Vietnam.

He said that this showed the public is misinformed and that "the administration has done too little to inform the public of our national options and objectives in that tragic conflict."

"For, make no mistake about it, total military victory in Vietnam means total war with China, and I, for one, believe that means total world holocaust."

BIG STICK DIPLOMACY replaced friendly persuasion as police used clubs and tear gas to break up Communist-led rioting in the British colony of Hong Kong. The outbreaks were called the worst in 125 years.

Highlights and Sidelights From Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN —Final minutes are ticking away in the biennial legislative game of "beat the clock."

Obviously, the wind-up of the 60th session will be a cliff-hanger.

As lawmakers move toward the May 29 finish line, the major jobs they came to Austin to accomplish remain unfinished.

—THE BUDGET — It went to conference committee, following an unsuccessful attempt by Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes to sell the Senate on accepting the House appropriations bill without the traditional conference to adjust differences. House Bill calls for $448,300,000 in general revenue; Senate Bill, $437,700,000.

—REDISTRICTING — A Senate Congressional Redistricting Bill would save all incumbent congressmen the agony of having to run against a colleague. But the House Judicial Districts Committee has drawn different lines. So this issue must go to conference committee for an 11th hour compromise. State House of Representatives districts also must be redrawn. But the Senate has little interest in that. Judicial redistricting appears to be impossibly snarled once more.

—SCHOOL TEACHER PAY— Both houses agree there must be a raise. Major problem is to determine the amount.

Although revenue in sight from the Comptroller's last official estimate won't cover the budgets drawn by either house, plus a teacher pay raise of the magnitude sought, legislative leaders still insist adjustments will make the money possible without a tax bill.

Speculation is widespread that the lawmakers can't finish the job on schedule but top leaders are hopeful they can avoid a special session by covering the clock for a few days.

DRIVERS LICENSING CHANGE DUE —Major changes in Texas drivers license laws have been approved by both houses.

Bill increases minimum age for license from 15 to 16 for those who complete approved driver training courses and to 18 for those without such training. Hardship licenses are permitted for 15-year-olds where there is a licensed adult driver in the front seat. Motor scooter and motorcycle operators must be at least 15, and for commercial licenses, 17.

Present licenses will be replaced by a plastic card with a color photograph of the driver. New ones will be good for four instead of two years and will cost $6 instead of $3. Drivers may be required to take a new competency examination when they apply for a new license. However, re-examination is not compulsory, as proposed in the original bill.

License suspension period for violations was increased from six to 12 months for the first offense and from 12 to 18 months for repeat offenses, subject to the court's discretion. Driving while license is suspended will be punishable by fines up to $500 and a maximum of six months in jail.

HORSE RACING —Voter will be given an opportunity to express their opinion on whether Texas should legalize horse-race betting, if the House agrees with the Senate to put the question on the ballot in the Democratic and Republican primaries next May.

Senate passed the bill by Sen. V. E. Berry of San Antonio, long an advocate of horse-race betting, and sent it to the House for its concurrence. Actually the bill, as passed by the Senate, would not require the parties to put the question on the ballot but would permit and encourage them to.

AIR BASE PURCHASE O.K'd — Both houses have agreed that James Connally Air Force Base at Waco should be purchased by the state for $5,200,000. The 2,100-acre base with 1,141 buildings now is under lease for a state vocational and technical training institute.

Money for its purchase is expected to be written into the final version of the 1968 appropriations bill.

ELECTION CODE CLEANED UP —Although the Legislature approved general terms of a major election code overhaul, the two houses differed over provision to permit counties to employ low-cost electronic vote recording-counting devices.

Senate struck the electronic machine section from the original bill, but the House put it back in and returned amended measures to the Senate.

Major features of the redrawn code will standardize the ballot form change city election dates to the first Saturday in April raise maximum pay for election judges and clerks to $1.25 an hour; permit new state residents to vote in presidential elections before they have resided in Texas a year; allow consolidation of election precincts for minor elections and substitute senatorial district conventions for county conventions in counties having multiple districts extending beyond their own boundaries.

PROPERTY TAX VOTE SET —State of Texas will wipe out 37 cents of the 47 cents per $100 property tax by 1977 if Texas voters give their approval at a constitutional amendment election in November, 1968.

Proposed amendment received the necessary two-thirds vote of both houses for submission. This even though opponents warned that the $48,000,000 in lost revenue will have to be made up from other tax sources—and that local governmental units will snap up the additional leeway on property taxes.

State levy on property would begin declining in 1969. Remaining 10 cents of the present tax would be retained for college building purposes.

OIL PRODUCTION LINE HELD — Railroad Commission set June oil production allowable at 33.8 per cent. This is the same as May although demand for Texas crude is expected to increase next month.

June allowable factor will permit a maximum production of 1,046,18 barrels daily. Factor dropped four straight months before last week's hold-the-line order. Prior to the January peak of 17.5 per cent, it was increased four successive months.

U. S. Bureau of Mines predicts that the June demand for Texas crude oil will increase 50,000 barrels. But the Commission feels that stocks throughout the U.S. are excessive now.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Legislation providing for cancellation of permits on dredge shell or mudshell in certain areas is constitutional, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin in a recent opinion.

Other opinions issued by Martin include the following: —Calhoun County is not prohibited by law from withdrawing surplus funds from the county depository and investing the money in authorized U. S. government bonds and securities.

A district clerk in Cass County may accept an appointment as a receiver in a civil case pending in the court which he serves as a clerk without vacating his elective office.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court refused to hear the insurance claim of a Dallas man found to have caused the fire in his restaurant where four firemen were killed.

High court has held that restrictions on competition of the Neiman-Marcus store in Northpark, Dallas, do not violate Texas anti-trust laws as maintained by developers of Preston Center.

A Travis County district court, overruling State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst, ordered granting of application of Mission Savings and Loan Association of San Antonio for state approval. Gerst gave notice of appeal to Third Court of Civil Appeals.

SHORT SNORTS —House has passed and sent to the Senate for its concurrence a bill to allow privileged communications between a clergyman and his parishioner and between a doctor and his patient.

Senate Education Committee has approved the bill by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton which would direct the Texas Education Agency to embark on a program of recruitment of well-trained and mature persons into the teacher profession.

Texas Highway Department has received the National Safety Council's top 1966 industrial safety award — for its on-the-job safety record among its employees throughout the state.

Attorney General Martin reports that the state has recovered $90,000 from an auction sale of 80,000 barrels of contraband East Texas oil confiscated by the state 30 years ago.

Fleetway Commuter Airline of Tyler has asked permit for daily round-trip service from Kilgore to San Antonio; and Davis Airline of Bryan seeks a commuter permit between College Station and Houston.

Texas Water Development Board has authorized a study to be made of the feasibility of installing water desalting plants in seven areas of West Texas.

ACC Graduating Students From Pampa, McLean

One Pampa youth and two of McLean were to graduate today during Abilene Christian College's spring commencement exercises.

Lloyd Elmer Baich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Balch of Pampa, will receive a bachelor of arts degree, with a major in German and a minor in Greek.

The two McLean students, Marilyn Janet McLroy and Vera LaVon Watson, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McLroy and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Watson.

Miss McLroy and Miss Watson will both receive bachelor of business degrees. ACC officials will award 333 bachelor's degrees. Of the graduating class 239 are from Texas.

Ex-Harvester Named To U of T Staff In Greece

Miss Sylvia Grider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Grider, 1620 Fir, is leaving June 4 from Houston for an extensive stay in Europe. Early this spring she was appointed to the staff of the University of Texas archaeological excavation at Ancient Corinth, Greece. In September, 1967, she will report directly to an American military dependents school in Germany to teach Latin there for the 1967-68 school year.

This is the third summer the University of Texas has been mer is headed by Dr. J. R. Wiseman and includes three University of Texas graduate students, an architect, a predoctoral student from Bryn Mawr, and an archaeologist from Sweden.

The main objective of the expedition is to attempt to locate the exact site of an ancient temple of Zeus. The work is being financed by grants from numerous academic and cultural foundations throughout the U.S.

Miss Grider graduated from Pampa High School in 1959 and has studied classics and ancient history at the University of Texas, where she received her B.A. in 1963. She will be awarded her M.A. in June, 1967. She taught Latin and world history at Caprock High School in Amarillo from 1963-1965, after which she entered Graduate School at U.T.

Miss Grider worked as a special assistant for Dr. G. G. Arnakis while she was in graduate school and illustrated his most recent publication, a book on Crete. She has been employed as a Latin teacher at Abilene High School, Abilene, since February 1, 1967.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52 percent of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2 percent of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 1021-H-1, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do. Adv.

Former Pampan Awarded German Study Fellowship

Mike Palmer, McMurry senior and former Pampan with a philosophy major and a religion minor, has received a fellowship to the University in Göttingen, West Germany. He will study there with the theological faculty at that university.

Palmer, the son of former president of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Palmer now of Spearman, received notice of the fellowship from Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst. He was recommended by a Fulbright Committee for the fellowship.

The McMurry College senior is a past president of the Texas and is past vice-president of the McMurry MSM. Palmer is among the 1966-67 graduating class of McMurry. He will be leaving for Germany during the last of August.

Petty Officer Commissions Are Available

A limited number of petty officer commissions are now available, according to Pampa's Navy recruiter J. D. Brown, chief engineer, for people in the construction field.

The rates being granted range from third class to chief petty officer depending on the amount of experience a person has had.

"No one formula can be devised which will apply to all cases," Brown said, "so the pay grades will be determined on an individual basis."

The area which is part of Brown's district includes Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

"There will only be 42 petty officers selected in my area under this program," he said.

Enlistments under this program will be in the Navy's 120 day delay reporting program with no one reporting prior to July 5.

Pampa Students Initiated Into Band Sorority

CANYON — Two students from Pampa have recently been initiated as members, and one as an officer, of Tau Beta Sorority, for next year at West Sigma, national honorary band sorority, for next year at Texas State University.

They are Judy Mercer and Jody Perkins. Miss Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Mercer, 2225 Summer, will serve next year as second vice-president of the group. She is a freshman majoring in music.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Parker, 1521 Williston, Miss Perkins is a freshman majoring in elementary education.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 24
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is certainly one of those days when it is necessary for you to use much self-control and to refrain from making any commitments that can be objected to by those with whom you have any contact whatever. You would be wise not to correspond or make any changes of an important nature.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — It is better that you carry through with what has been tried and is found true, be it in business or personal matters, than to dash off to the alien. Be loyal to old ties. Old influences are and will be of little importance.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Analyze well your true position with others before you make any commitments. Be sure you love, which could be your mate. Be more understanding.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Be more willing to support partners instead of being overly critical. Otherwise you may be faced with a severance of connections. Overlook some small matter that may come to light. It is of little importance.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — Many duties are ahead of you, but it is best you shoulder most of them instead of helping others in a social way, or expecting co-workers to do your work. Stop fretting and put your shoulder to the wheel. Be good to your eyes.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Forgetting own pleasure to see what you can do to make others happy around you is a fine way to spend this day. Comfort those who are having difficulties. Busy yourself in that hobby you so enjoy in P.M. in the quiet of your study.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Make it our duty to assist those at home in new ways instead of fash out thoughtlessly to pleasure and frivolous friends. Put your life on a more lofty plane. Don't take chances with your health. pocket book.

LIBRA: (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — If you study into some system to which to better handle your daily tasks, you can get ahead much faster in the future. Be diplomatic with an associate. Avoid any severance of connections.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — Have matters and take care you do not jeopardize present security by some harsh word, hasty action toward others. Your hunch regarding some property affair is not good. Don't follow it.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Take care you do not permit that unhappy feeling to cause you to act in an irate manner when you go out socially. Be particularly polite and charming with those you meet. Get ahead that way.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 21) — You are so depressed that this can cause depression if you do not start to think constructively early. Know that there is a right solution. Steer clear of violating confidences. Keep your purse zipped.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 22 to Feb. 21) — Do not enter into those discussions with good pals right now, since they will fail to understand your motives. The social is not good at this time. If the affair is unavoidable, use diplomacy.

PISCES: (Feb. 22 to Mar. 21) — Use of diplomacy is important in dealing with those in official capacity, otherwise you will be heading for a loss. Enter into some civic matter that improves your image with the public in general. Keep busy.

IF YOU'RE IN BERNIE TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those interesting young people who think that success is only to be found in distant places, and this could actually be so in this unusual chart, so be sure you lost the education with such ideas in mind, giving the benefit of some foreign language or two, varying philosophies, etc.

Pampans to Attend Water Association Planning Meeting

The organizational meeting for a West Texas Water Association will start at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Ko-Ko Inn in Lubbock.

Pampa area delegates to the organizational conference are Mayor Jim Nation, Fred Vandenburg Sr., both members of the association's temporary board of directors and Felix Ryals, manager of the Panhandle Underground Water Conservation District.

Other conservation district board members attending are John H. Harnley, board president; Vandenburg, vice president; Stewart Purvines and Phil Hawkins, both of Panhandle.

Other Pampans are asked to attend to represent their city and area at the meeting to organize the first water association for West Texas and the eastern New Mexico counties.

Miss Wanda Mae Huff, Pampa News staff writer, will also attend the meeting.

A request of the Downtown Business Association for a four-month trial of free parking in downtown parking meter areas starting July 1 was referred to City Manager White.

The city manager was asked to study the DBA request and report his recommendation at the next regular meeting of the commission June 13.

The DBA wants parking meters "hooded" for the four-month period, with two hours of free parking after which tires would be marked and fines assessed for over-parking. The city's meter maids, Ray Duncan, DBA president told the commission, would become parking maids. Downtown store employees would be instructed to park their cars outside metered areas and other steps would be taken by the association to provide off-street parking facilities.

City Manager White said the trial period would necessitate changing of present parking ordinances in order to control traffic in the affected areas.

Duncan told commissioners the DBA's survey of the cities where parking meters are being removed revealed that the average motorist will not walk more than 300 to 500 feet from his parked car to where he wants to shop.

The commission opened bids for oil and gas supplies and new water meters. Contracts will be let at the next meeting of the council. A contract for city jail prisoners' meals was awarded to Patrick School Supply. The meals will be served for 69 cents each. Breakfast consists of two slices of bacon or sausage patties, two eggs and coffee or three hot cakes and two strips of bacon with coffee. Noon and evening meals consist of one-quarter pound of meat, one potato and gravy, one vegetable, two slices of bread and coffee.

In other business today the commission approved payment of $24,226.53 to the Ohio Fire Co. for a new fire truck delivered to the city last week. Money for the payment was transferred from the Special Interest Fund to the General Fund.

Commissioners also approved a list of automatic changes in the salary schedule for city personnel.

Minister Selected For Amarillo Church

The Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of First Methodist Church here three years, will be officially appointed Thursday to the Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo.

REV. HARRY VANDERPOOL transferred to the new post at the 58th meeting of Northwest Texas annual conference of the Methodist Church, in session this week in Abilene.

Vanderpool's appointment will be official Thursday when all appointments are read in the Abilene conference of some 300 ministers and laymen.

Vanderpool will be replaced by Dr. H. Dewitt Seago, who has been Brownfield District superintendent of the Northwest Texas Conference for four years, Wayne Pitner, First Methodist Church business manager here, said.

The Vanderpool family will move in June to Amarillo and the new pastor will move here.

Vanderpool will receive an honorary doctor of divinity degree from McMurry College in Abilene during the summer commencement ceremony in August.

He received his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Southwestern University in Georgetown and received his bachelor of divinity degree from Southern Methodist University.

A native of Pecos, he attended high school in El Paso. The son of a Methodist minister, the late Rev. W. H. Vanderpool Sr., he has four uncles who are Methodist ministers.

After he finished his seminary study, his first pastorate was at a small community, Iona, in east Texas.

After the Iona church, he was transferred to Greenland Hills Methodist Church in Dallas.

From Greenland Hills he moved to Littlefield, where he was First Methodist Church pastor six years in his first Northwest Texas Conference church.

From Littlefield, conference officials transferred the pastor and his family to Snyder First Methodist Church where they lived seven years before moving to Pampa.

Mrs. Vanderpool has been the director of children's work of the Pampa district of Northwest Texas Conference.

They have twin sons, Pat and Bill, who are Pampa High School seniors.

About 108,000 ministers in Northwest Texas conference started their meeting yesterday and conclude Thursday with Bishop O. Eugene Slater as presiding bishop.

During the conference delegates are expected to select delegates to the 1968 general conference of the Methodist Church in Dallas, and vote on a proposed merger of the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

He was born April 1, 1904, in Commerce, and was graduated from Southern Methodist University with a degree in geology. He entered the oil business in 1921 in Bartlesville, Okla., for Phillips Petroleum Co. He also worked for Columbia Carbon and Shamrock Oil and Gas Co.

After moving to Pampa in 1949, he worked for Cabot as a geologist. He retired in 1964. He had been an independent geologist since that time.

Mr. Hemsell was a member of

Ex-Pampans Accredited

Northwest Texas annual conference officials today admitted four ministers, two former Pampans, into full connection with the Methodist conference.

Two formerly from Pampa are the Rev. Marvin Lee Cooper of Vernon, pastor of Texas Street Methodist Church since January, and the Rev. John William Wagoner of Dallas, a native Pampa and graduate of McMurry College.

The Rev. Mr. Wagoner is receiving his bachelor of divinity degree this year from Perkins School of Theology on the Southern Methodist University campus.

The Rev. Mr. Cooper is also a 1964 graduate of McMurry and is receiving his bachelor of divinity degree from Perkins this year. He is a Pampa High School graduate.

The four young men will be ordained as elders tomorrow night when the ordination service is held at Aldersgate Methodist Church near McMurry College campus.

Survivors include his wife, Helen, of the home, 1800 Hamilton; two sons, Dale of Eullis, Clendon Jr. of Dallas; four brothers, Clarence of Kerrville, Chapman of Port Lavaca, Chester of Shreveport, Claude of Houston; one sister, Mrs. Arthur Partott of Abilene.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Greenville.

The family requests any memorials be given to Boys Ranch or their favored charity.

News Employee Reported Fair

Bobby Helm, Pampa Daily News shop foreman, injured yesterday on a family outing with his children, was listed today in fair condition at Highland General Hospital.

Helm and Charles Davis, a city fireman, had taken their children, all under 12 years old, to play near Bowers City about 7 p.m. yesterday.

"He was walking on a 20-inch oil pipeline and fell off from about 15 feet into a small creek or draw under the pipe," Davis said.

Davis and the five children, three Helm's and two Davis', took Helm to the hospital where he was being treated for head injuries.

The accident happened about 9 p.m. just east of Bowers City, Davis said.

New Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department issued the longest single casualty list of the Vietnam war Monday, identifying 139 U.S. servicemen killed in action.

Included on the list were 87 men from the Army, 48 Marines and 4 from the Navy. The previous record list was 111, issued on Monday, March 27.

DWI Bonds Set

Bonds were set Tuesday morning for two Pampa men, both charged with driving while intoxicated.

Johnny Lee Jones, 17, 723 E. Frederic, had bond of $1,000 set by County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr.

Jones was arrested about 8:10 p.m. Monday in the 1500 block of McCullough by Pampa police.

Bond of $500 was set by Lenning for David Mack Covey, 65, of 1205 Garland.

Police arrested Covey in the 100 block of Starkweather about 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Burglary Suspect Jailed in Pampa

William Thomas McCoy, 31, of Odessa, was in Gray County jail today in lieu of a $2,500 bond for burglary.

Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford set the bond yesterday in connection with a Nov. 21, 1965, burglary of Harold Barrett Ford which netted $242.11 and a March 17, 1965 burglary of the Moose Lodge in which $200 was taken, sheriff Rufe Jordan said.

A grand jury indictment was returned in 1966 on Riley DeWitt, 29, of Odessa in connection with the two burglaries, and a warrant is out for his arrest.

Compensation Suit Jurors Selected

A jury was selected yesterday for the Lonnie M. Harmon vs. Texas Compensation Insurance Co. The compensation suit case was continuing today in 31st Judicial District Court here.

The Harmon compensation suit was the only one set for trial this week, Gray County's jury week, with Grainger Melhany presiding.

Pampans Plead Guilty

Leslie Bill Williams of 430 N. Crest pleaded guilty Monday to driving while intoxicated, was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and put on six months probation by County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr.

Feedlot Plans Announced

DAWN, Tex. (UPI)—Plans have been announced for a $500,000 livestock feedlot on a 160-acre tract, the plant would be about 15 miles east of Hereford.

Initial capacity will be 5,000 head, with gradual increases to a maximum of 15,000 head, said Keith Duderstadt, manager of the Dawn Co-op Grain Elevator Association.

Construction plans are incomplete.

The feed mill will be built adjacent to elevators at Dawn, with a mixing capacity to handle at least 25,000 head of cattle.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the Pampa News as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

Q—We are thinking of renting our house this summer while we're away. If we do, will the money we get be taxable?

A—Your total income from this rental must be reported but only the amount in excess of allowable expenses will be taxable. Heat, light, repairs and depreciation are some of the expenses that may be deducted. Since you will be renting the house only part of the year, annual expenses such as taxes must be pro-rated.

Q—My wife and I are taking in an under-privileged child this summer. Will we be able to claim her as a dependent?

A—If you plan to have the child with you for only a few months no dependency claim may be taken. To qualify as a dependent, the child must be a member of your household, live with you the entire year and obtain more than one-half her support from you.

Q—I got a letter from your service center asking for some more information so they could process my return. Can I give this to my local IRS office instead?

A—Because the information is needed by the service center, it should be sent directly there. When you reply, return the form requesting the information so that both can be quickly associated with our return. In all correspondence with IRS pertaining to your return be sure to include your Social Security number.

Q—I'm a waitress and have to pay Social Security tax on my tips. Does my boss match these payments as he does on my wages?

A—The law does not require employers to match Social Security payments on your tips.

Q—Some of my expenses were disallowed when my tax return was audited. Is there anybody besides the agent that disallowed them that I can talk to? I still think I'm right.

A—You may request a district conference to discuss the disallowed deductions. Procedures for doing this are explained on the notice you receive which proposes the adjustment. This conference will provide you with an independent review of the items questioned. Legal counsel is not needed but you may bring someone to represent you if you wish.

Q—If my 15-year old son works this summer will he need a Social Security number?

A—Anyone with income, regardless of age, should have a Social Security number. Application for a number may be made on Form SS-5 available at local IRS and Social Security Administration offices.

Q—When is the next payment on my estimated tax due? Also how can I change my estimate?

A—The next installment is due June 15 and any changes in your declaration should be made then. There is a place to amend your estimate on the bill sent you for this installment, as I tell him?

Q—The amount withheld from my pay for taxes was much greater than I owed. Can I reduce withholding to avoid that happening again?

A—You may be able to reduce the amount withheld from your pay for taxes if your itemized deductions exceed a certain amount. To do this, a new withholding statement should be filed with your employer. The form to use is Schedule A (Form W-4).

Q—Our house is up for sale. In figuring any profit do we have to include the commission we pay our broker?

A—N. Your broker's commission, any advertising expenses, legal fees, and similar costs may be deducted from the sales price. Be sure to keep records of these items so you can substantiate them if called upon to do so.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: You printed a letter from a teen-age girl who was "embarrassed" to shower in the nude with 39 other girls after gym class. She said her mother thought she should have more privacy. And you sided with the girl and her mother. Abby, it is a safe assumption that exaggerated feelings are a cover-up for opposite feelings which shame a person into burying these guilt feelings deeply in their subconscious — the better to kid themselves.

Actually, the girl enjoys the sight of these naked bodies, and she has erotic feelings that shock her into repression. If I were the mother, I would look for other indications of latent homosexuality. The mother may have brought on this condition by implanting feelings of shame in relation to naked bodies because she, herself, is a homosexual and is transferring this condition to her daughter. Both need treatment.

SAN FRANCISCO DOCTOR

DEAR DOCTOR: You could be right. However, your kind of reasoning might equally lead to the assumption that you are preoccupied with homosexuality because you are suffering from a similar problem, and have transferred your "guilt" to the girl and her mother. Of course, they could be normal, and so could you, but I would never flatly state, simply because a teen-age girl objected to public showering, and her mother supported her in her objection, that they both need treatment.

DEAR ABBY: I just received the following letter from a sister-in-law who is old enough to know better:

"I am writing to thank you for the card and gift you sent for Jimmy's birthday. I think it was nice of you to think of him, however, I have something to say about this belated business. Once in a while I can understand a slipup in the mails, or your memory, but each and every time you send something late, you are pushing a person's tolerance a little further. I feel that it is better to relay my feelings to you rather than boiling silently. Henceforth, if you care to remember anyone in my family on any occasion, please try to get it here on time and it will be appreciated so much more."

Abby, I was stunned. What would you do about such a letter?

PITTSBURGH
DEAR PITTSBURGH: I would send that sister-in-law a "get well" card. She's sick.

DEAR ABBY: We are members of a national women's organization and are proud of our achievements. Our problem is one of our members. She is capable and talented, but she drinks too many cocktails before our meetings.

At our regular meetings we are simply disgusted, but when we have a guest speaker, we are disgusted and embarrassed. At our last meeting she did more talking than the guest speaker. She didn't even wait for the question and answer period. She interrupted him and got into long-winded arguments with our guest, trying to show him up. It was awful!

This is a very touchy situation. No one wants to volunteer to tell a grown woman with children in college that she had better mend her ways. How should this be tactfully handled?

A MEMBER

DEAR MEMBER: A kitch of the girl's best friends should tell her of the club's reactions. If that doesn't work, an official reprimand should follow, and if that doesn't do the job, her membership should be written off.

Next Year's Houston Pupils Guest Of School

Children, who will enter first grades at Sam Houston School next year and their mothers were guests of the PTA Friday. They were entertained with a skit and musical program presented by Mrs. J. E. Gibson and Mrs. M. L. Defever first grade rooms.

Zindi Walberg, a first grade pupil, played "Yellow Butterfly" and the "Spinning Song" on the piano.

L. D. Davis, school principal, advised children entering first grade next year will need birth certificates and summer round-up forms to enroll next fall. Following the program, guests visited first grade rooms and were taken to the cafeteria, where they each received a lollipop from a "Lollipop Tree."

Small Fry To 'Graduate' On Wednesday Eve

Thirty-four boys and girls will receive kindergarten diplomas in exercises at 5 p.m. Wednesday in Central Baptist Church. The church sponsors a week day morning class for children getting ready to enter first grade.

Two classes are taught by Mrs. Lynn McDaniel and Mrs. Joe Leech. "Graduating" are Johni Adams, Terri Alexander, David Anderson, David Baker, Jimmy Bell, Buddy Brown, Tommy Bruce, Leisa Burgess, Timmy Chance, Sharon Cook, Rene Douthit, Jackie Fletcher, Kevin

Mrs. Fuller's Pupils In Starlight Room Program

Mrs. W. H. Fuller, 1727 Evergreen, will present piano solo in a formal recital Saturday evening at seven o'clock in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Miss Lyla Beth Gage, a Pampa High School senior, will be presented in solo and ensemble numbers. Miss Gage is a member of the National Honor Society and was chosen "Girl of the Month" by Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club.

She participated in the March program by playing a piano solo "Toccata" (Khachaturian) for which she received a letter of congratulations from Congressman Bob Price.

Miss Gage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gage, plans to attend Abilene Christian College for two years after which she plans to transfer to Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Okla., where she will major in pharmacy. She received alternate for the Richard Drug scholarship for majoring in pharmacy.

Party Fetes Bride-Elect

SKELLYTOWN — Misses Carolyn Chaney, Sandra Looper and Sheila Berry were hostesses for a bridal shower honoring Miss Teresa Jones, Skellytown resident now living in Perryton. The party was held in the Fern Berry home in Cabot Camp, Skellytown.

Miss Jones is the bride-elect of Jim Williams who is serving with the United States Navy in California. The couple plan a June wedding in the home of Miss Jones.

The honoree's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in table decorations. Guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Eileen Jones; Vicki Mercer, Patsy Barnett, Jeanie Allen, Nancy Mathews, Gaye Allen LaDonna Russell, Nancy Moore and Sheila Blakemore.

WMU Circles Meet For Bible Study

SKELLYTOWN — The circles of the Skellytown First Baptist Church WMU met recently for Bible Study in members' homes. The Elizabeth Cash Circle met in the home of Mrs. Carolyn Collins Wednesday morning. Assistant program chairman, Mrs. Don Carter, opened the program with prayer. Prayer Calendar for the day was read and prayer led by Mrs. M. L. Mercer. Mrs. Garrett Bewley, gave a review of the mission book "Leading Participation in Missions."

Members attending the meeting were Mmes. Bill Price, Don

Scouting Scoops

This time of year finds Girl Scout troops conducting Court of Award ceremonies to present badges earned by troop members. One of the most impressive of these ceremonies has been conducted by Troop 3, Mrs. Ralph McDonald, leader. With the families of eighteen Jr. Scouts invited, the event was the highlight of their first year as Junior Girl Scouts. Over eighty-five guests signed the book which will be included in the Troop scrapbook. Mmes. Orin Hulse, Tommy Burns and Mrs. Jerry Carter assisted with the program. Mrs. Sid Harrison was in charge of refreshments. The centerpiece of small dolls dressed in Scout uniforms surrounded by "Peace" roses and daisies, a golf glitter covered trefoil on a green cloth with yellow napkins carried out the Girl Scout color scheme.

Members of Troop 3 are Laddell Greene, Debra Baggett, Kimberly Keelin, Kay Wilson, Malissa Wilkinson, Denise McGill, Tonya Organ, Jaimie Winborne, Darla Konz, Debra McDonald, Jane Shaw and Jeri Bohlander. Paula Kretzmeier, Robbie Harrison, Vickie Carter, Janie Flowers, Judy Hulse, Cindy Moreland and Cindy Burns.

Troop 3 would like to acknowledge the help of Mrs. Orin Hulse, sixth grade teacher from Sam Houston for her able assistance. Carter, O. G. Grant, Don Collins, Garrett Bewley, Adolph Novotny, and M. L. Mercer.

This is the week for special acknowledgement. . . volunteer workers during Day Camp registration in the Girl Scout office . . . a much-needed service performed by Mmes. W. J. Felter, Bill Riggins, Jackson Black, L. R. Bennett, J. S. Silcott, E. J. Orsak, Harold Crow, H. F. Trimble and Mrs. Ralph Palmer. Troop 2, Mrs. J. P. Brumley, leader, helped to assemble Day Camp staff books, which is quite a task. These members have designed cover for the bulletin and help to assemble it also. Always there to lend a helping hand . . . and to learn by "doing" . . . this proves to be an excellent teacher.

Worthwhile Home Demonstration Hears Topic On 'Wedding Etiquette'

A program on "Wedding Etiquette" was presented by Mrs. Ray Robertson at a recent meeting of the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club held in the home of Mrs. N. L. Welton, east of town. Mrs. Robertson advised wedding invitations should be sent out four weeks before the wedding. She said brides set the trend as to what the rest of the wedding party will wear. "For a semiformal wedding, the bride can wear either a long or short dress," she said.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. O. G. Smith, president, Mrs. Robertson was elected delegate to the state convention to be held in September in Fort Worth. A report was given on the Beef Consumers program given in Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. Welton assisted by Mmes. Roy Tinsley, Stella Wagner and Ray Robertson. Members attending, not previously mentioned were Mmes. Boyd Brown, John T. King, John A. King, Pearl Ferguson. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. June 12 in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service office, 315 N. Ballard.

Mix confectioners' sugar and water to paste consistency and use to make commercial cake and cookie decorations stay put.

Forum
Ends Year
At Lunch

Twentieth Century Forum terminated its club year with a luncheon recently in the home of Mrs. Aubrey Steele with Mrs. Joe Franklin and Mrs. McHenry Lane as co-hostesses.

Guests were seated at quartet tables appointed with yellow linen cloths centered with pink rosebuds in crystal bowls.

An arrangement of rosebuds and spring blossoms in a tall silver epergne centered the buffet table.

Mrs. John Sweeney installed the following officers: Mmes. Franklin, president; Hugh D. Barton, vice president; Aubrey Steele, secretary; Holt Barber, treasurer; J. R. Holloway, parliamentarian; M. McDaniel, reporter.

Members present in addition to those mentioned above were Mmes. Robert Harmon, Homer Johnson, Robert Waddell, Jim Carmon and David Holt.

Desk Carving Era Passes

Many a man has left his mark on yesterday's education, in the form of schoolboy hieroglyphics carved into a desk top of hard-maple wood. But those days are rapidly going the way of the dunce cap and the little red schoolhouse, with the advent of colorful plastic models that defy idle scratchers and scribblers.

Replacing the old combination school desk at upper right, in which the writing surface of one desk was attached to the seat of the pupil ahead and so on, are high density polyethylene seat desks that are virtually indestructible. They include the half-desk writing surfaces as shown at upper left, and the full front surface at left. Both are a far cry from the barefoot scholar shown at right—of pre-1900 academics. But the old soft-wood days are not forgotten so easily. Many a businessman today instinctively places a pad or cushion of some kind under a single sheet of writing paper—a lifetime habit from the days when a former student's desk art work could make a mockery of penmanship.

Dawn Services Planned May 30

Memorial services for Pampa veterans will be held at 8:45 a.m. Memorial Day, May 30 in Fairview Cemetery and Memory Gardens.

Veterans of Foreign Wars and the VFW auxiliary will sponsor a dawn service at Memory Gardens.

World War I and WW II veterans and members of the American Legion will direct dawn services at Fairview Cemetery.

In each brief service, participants will put small flags on each veterans' grave, and have a bugler play for each ceremony.

Judge Fines Man On Driving Charge

Sgt. George Wallace of the Pampa Police Department, and Corporation Court Judge John Warner will attend a traffic court conference in Austin at the University of Texas Thursday and Friday.

State law enforcement officers, corporation court judges, justices of the peace and lawyers will attend the conference which is sponsored by the State Bar of Texas Law School, the Texas Municipal League and

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
 United Press International
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Would television's daily news broadcasts be more enriching, more fulfilling, more in perspective, if they took the heroic step of risking dullness on purpose—once in a while?

Isn't the balanced, informed mind of the mature news reporter—and its basic reliance on words—needed more often as an antidote for the visual oversimplification that frequently occurs in coverage based mainly on film?

These questions stem from a brilliant article by British journalist Henry Fairlie in the spring number of Horizon magazine.

Words Impotent
 Mr. Fairlie noted that even carefully chosen words by a video reporter are not able to the Texas Safety Association.

Discussion topics include Gov. John Connally's proposed traffic program, the National Highway Safety Act, and its applications to Texas, citizen support of traffic courts, teenage juries, and corrective penalization.

properly qualify a spectacular picture. Yet his article still contends that words are the only immediate answer to most problems of television news.

It adds that, given the potent effect of the pictures, the "words covering them must provide the corrective. Most television reporting just describes the pictures, and by doing so, reinforces them. But the object of words in television news should be to distract from the pictures, to say: "It was not quite so. This was not the whole story."

The Horizon article points up properly that whereas pictures simplify, "the object of words should be to supply qualification and complication."

Fairlie contends that the vital role of video's reporters or commentators is "to make watching as difficult as reading, to invite the viewer to make comparisons and judgments from his own experience. . . ."

Follow Life
 "Life is not made up of dramatic incidents—not even the life of a nation. It is made up of slowly evolving events and processes."

But television news, the article goes on, "jerks from incident to incident. For the real world of patient and familiar arrangements, it substitutes an unreal world of constant activity. . . . It is almost impossible, these days, to consider any problem or any event except as a crisis; and, by this very way of looking at it, it in fact becomes a crisis."

The Fairlie article ends with the provocative suggestion that many of our unnecessary anxieties might be allayed if, once in a while, television news began to say: "It has been a dull day. But we have collected some rather interesting pictures for you, of no particular significance."

"Television news," the essay ends, "has a deep responsibility to try to be dull, from time to time, and let the world go to sleep."

DIRTY PILGRIMS

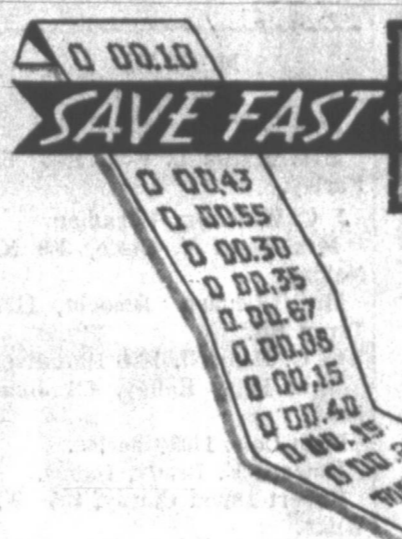

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (UPI)—Kenneth Tavares, manager of a museum opening Friday, says Monday is wash day because of the pilgrims.

He says the pilgrim women spent 65 days at sea aboard the Mayflower and embarked on a Monday. Tavares said they did their washing immediately and the tradition was born.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Not long ago a veteran diplomat described the U.S. State Department as a "fudge factory."

If the meaning of that metaphor is not entirely clear to you, I recommend you obtain a copy of a volume of hearings released this week by a House appropriations subcommittee.

On page 306, you will encounter the testimony of Richard P. Scott, deputy assistant secretary of state for communications, who is explaining why his office needs more money.

Annualization Expensive
 "There are two major elements involved in our request representing increases," Scott reports. "The major one is for $414,000. This represents, sir, the annualization of the computer base switch."

Now stop here for a moment and chew on that phrase "the annualization of the computer base switch." Unless your taste buds are totally dead, you will find it has a distinct fudgy flavor.

But hold! It turns out that although the computer base switch is being annualized, there also has been a "slippage in activation."

Fudge lovers will have no trouble recognizing the activation slippage as a delay in putting the computer program into operation.

Fudge Answer
 In that case, asks Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., how much of the unspent funds will be returned to the Treasury?

"We have a rental slippage reserve of $273,000," Scott replies.

"You have apparently successfully evaded the question," Rooney remarks.

This Rooney, as you can tell, has had so many samples from the fudge factory forced upon him, he can no longer stand the stuff.

Nevertheless, it is easy to see why Scott's office needs more money. It has charge of the State Department's message center.

In other words, when someone at the department says "pass the fudge," Scott is the man who does it.

Duplication Does It
 On Jan. 7 of this year, which we may assume was a typical day down at the fudge factory, his office made and distributed 97,469 copies of incoming messages.

Fannie Farmer herself would have trouble matching that. This doesn't mean, of course, that all of the messages coming into the department belong in the fudge box. Some of them are so important they carry a secrecy label and are marked "no distribution."

In the State Department, "no distribution" means only 10 copies are made.

Let us hope, then, that the slippage activation has been overcome and that the subcommittee will provide funds for the computer annualization. Jones obviously is going to need a new fudge-making machine.

Pampa Woman's Son-in-Law Wins Top Medical Journalism Award

Albert Rosenfeld, senior editor of Life magazine, and the son-in-law of Mrs. Lillian Snow, 423 Crest, is the winner of a Special Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Award, "in recognition of his consistent excellence and prominence of Life's medical stories under his editorship."

"Mrs. Snow, now retired, was for many years librarian in Lovett Memorial Library. Rosenfeld met her daughter, Lillian, while both attended New Mexico State University at Las Cruces, N. M. The couple and their two children, Robert, 15, "the consistent excellence and stories under his editorship."

Announcement of the winners of the Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Awards was made by Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, president of the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation, which is sponsor of the project.

Rosenfeld is being presented with his award on Thursday, sented on television, during the prior year, on medical research and public health.

The Awards Jury was impressed particularly by the "Control of Life" series, the cover stories on the structure of the DNA molecule and on the new science of Fetology — all produced under Rosenfeld's editorial guidance. The jury had praise for "his capacity to select, inspire and guide distinguished colleagues and a talented staff to the weekly production of stories in all areas of medical interest."

The Foundation concurred in feeling that Life magazine, under the editorship of Rosenfeld, has fulfilled one of the major purposes of the Albert Lasker project — that of bringing useful knowledge and hope to people in a practical way which may assist them and their families.

Rosenfeld has been on Life magazine's editorial staff since 1956. Medicine and Science Editor since 1959, and a Senior Editor since 1965. During World War II, he served as an army sergeant in Great Britain, North Africa, Italy and France, and won the Bronze Star Medal and several battle stars. After the war, he attended college and upon graduation, became a nationally well-known freelance writer, as well as regional correspondent for Time, Life and Fortune, with headquarters in Santa Fe, N.M.

The Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Awards considered the most prestigious in the medical journalism field, consist of $2,500 each, an engraved citation, and a statuette of the Winged Victory of Samothrace, symbolizing, in this instance, victory over death and disease. Pampan Elected Lt. Governor Of Optimist Zone

Curtis Griffin, 516 E. 17th, a member of the Pampa Optimist Club for the past 10 years was elected Lt. Governor of Zone D in Texas of Optimist International.

Griffin was elected at the north Texas convention in San Angelo, attended by Optimist Clubs from over all of north Texas.

Dick Morrow, Governor of the North Texas District, and Hugh Cranford, executive secretary of Optimist International, were guest speakers.

Newt Secrest, John McGuire and Griffin represented the Pampa club at the convention.

Two Damage Suits Filed Here Friday

Two personal injury suits were filed recently in 31st Judicial District Court here as a result of two vehicle accidents, one in Louisiana and another near Pampa.

Leona Barnett and others filed a suit against Hascol Construction Co. for damages resulting from a two-car accident in June, 1965, east of Pampa.

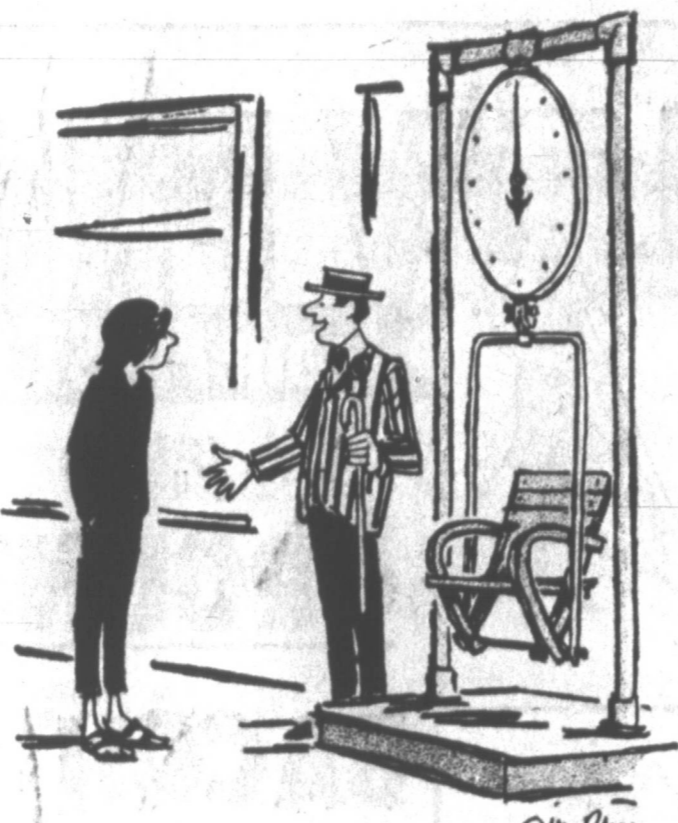

According to the suit records, Ralph Reed Barnett Sr. was driving a pickup west on Highway 152, when the vehicle he was involved in a collision with a truck driven by W. J. Alexander an employe of Hascol Construction Co.

In the suit record are 23 counts of negligence against Alexander. Plaintiffs are suing for damages of $210,390; ambulance service, $99.95; burial expense for Ralph Reed Barnett, $1,537.60, and additional $10,000 as damages for injury to Ralph Reed Barnett.

Harvey L. Bailey and wife, Shizuko Bailey, vs. R. E. Probst damage and personal injury suit was also filed.

According to the suit records, Mrs. Bailey was driving a car two miles west of Hammond, La., on Highway 190, when she was in collision with a car driven by R. E. Probst of Tom Green County.

The plaintiffs, residents of Roberts County, are suing for damages exceeding $5,000, physical and mental pain, $2,500; and damages to the automobile, $600 for a total request of $8,100.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—Did French President Charles de Gaulle deliberately play Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson for a sucker over his bid to join the Common Market?

That question is being asked with increasing insistence in parliamentary hobbles and on the London diplomatic cocktail circuit.

It has been prompted by the devastating—some think almost contemptuous—brush-off with which De Gaulle in his May 16 news conference dismissed Wilson's loudly publicized decision to take Britain into the market, from which France's earlier veto had barred her four years ago.

Wilson aides, of course, deny the prime minister had the wool pulled over his eyes.

However, they do admit that what De Gaulle told Wilson and Foreign Secretary George Brown privately in Paris in January was quite different from what he said publicly at his news conference.

Same Rejection
De Gaulle, it is said, then ran through the same list of objections to Britain's entry that he did in his news conference. But Wilson, according to aides, felt he provided satisfactory answers to all of them.

Furthermore, Da Gaulle's whole tone is said to have been quite different.

The general is said to have talked in a calm, reasoned manner that gave no hint of what one British newspaper called the "velvet veto" he held up his sleeve.

Wilson is known to have come away from the meeting with De Gaulle convinced he would not block Britain's bid a second time—in fact, that with reasonable concessions by Britain, his application stood a good chance of success.

British officials have made an effort to put a brave face on the news conference rebuff. But it is known neither Wilson nor Brown was expecting or prepared for it. Both were said to have been deeply shocked.

Now Where?

The question now being asked is: Where does Wilson go from here?

Officials concede he has little choice but to press on with his effort to get into the market, remote though his chances of success now appear to be.

Xut his prestige is bound to take a nosedive.

At the end of last year, before he and Brown set out on their tour of Common Market capitals, Wilson assured Parliament he would make a formal membership bid only if chances looked good.

is having a hard time getting followers, especially in view of the negative economic news. The analyst says "unless the market is weaker than the various technical statistics the current declining phase could be close to an end."

The Alexander Hamilton Institute also believes the contraction of volume during the current selling period is noteworthy, saying it shows investors have enough confidence to hold onto stocks and wait for higher prices. Judging from this, the company feels the supply of stock at the present levels probably will be exhausted on the near term and strong demand should push prices higher, providing there are no serious adverse developments in the economic picture.

Another Rookie Throttles Yanks

By United Press International
It's not even June yet but Tom Phoebus now seems to have remembered the tune of his own "September Song."

Phoebus, the Baltimore Orioles' rookie righthander, made a dramatic entry in the major leagues last September by tossing two straight shutouts to tie a record held by six others.

Although Phoebus wasn't eligible for the World Series because he didn't join the team until after Sept. 1, the feat earned him a spot in the Orioles starting rotation this year.

Giants' Hart Learning Fast

By United Press International
Backing out of the batters box is a habit most good hitters never get into, but in the case of Jim Ray Hart, learning to do it was a matter of life or death.

In other National League action the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1 and the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Houston Astros 3-1 in the only two games scheduled.

Pitchers who threw at the Giant third baseman used to get the last say in the matter but since Hart has learned to loosen up at the plate he has been retaliating with a vengeance.

The Giants set the stage for Hart's deciding blow when Bob Schroeder opened the ninth with a single. Tom Haller followed with a walk and when Willie Mays bunted Bunning threw high to second base and all runners were safe.

Practice Dacking
When he first came up in 1953 Hart believed that the batter was there to defend the outside corner—with his life if necessary.

Tom Seaver helped his own cause with a squeeze bunt and was aided by the hitting of Ed Charles and Tommy Davis as he picked up his fourth victory of the season.

Cage Futures Lose to Exes, 92-79
Pampa Exes broke to a six point first period lead Monday and kept the pressure on the Pampa High School Future cagers for a resounding, 92-79 victory.

The Exes led 20-14 after one period 46-34 at halftime but the Futures cut the margin to 62-59 after three periods and trailed by only one, 62-61 at the start of the final period.

Ford At End of Career

NEW YORK (UPI)—The career of Whitey Ford, ace of the New York Yankees' pitching staff for the past decade, will bing on a spur of the moment decision to be made next week.

Whether such an injury will heal with rest, however, is doubtful. Ford had eight days rest prior to his start against the Tigers and still was unable to throw for more than an inning.

Bad Elbow
The problem is a spur on the elbow that has been so painful that Ford had to leave the first game of a doubleheader in Detroit Sunday after pitching who were in Baltimore for a one only inning.

Rest Cure
"I'm just going to rest it," agreed Ford. "I'm not going to touch a ball. I'll see Dr. Gaynor later in the week."

Hadlock, competing in Dallas Tex., shot a 140, including a six-under-par 66 on his second round to lead the qualifiers who go on to the sectional qualifying round, June 5-6. A total of 564 survivors of the local qualifying rounds Monday and Tuesday will compete on those dates.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

How Tax Money Is Wasted

We are often asked, in so many words, "Why are you always picking on government? Why not editorialize in a more positive and happier vein?"

Aside from the fact that we do take an optimistic view of life, trying to never miss an opportunity of bestowing praise for a job well and honestly done, people who pose such questions fail to grasp the enormity of governmental plunder and the waste and the harm it is doing to both the moral and economic fibre of this country. They seem totally incapable of grasping the fact that there are vast and growing herds of bureaucrats, many of whom never earned a competitive dollar in their entire lives, how, with almost unlimited tax funds at their disposal, have but one mission in life, to spend, spend, spend, in a frantic effort to keep the government's jerry-rigged inflationary spiral spinning and thus, put off for one more day the moment of final reckoning.

These unproductive bureaucracies, flourishing and overlapping each other like the scales on a fish and at every level of government, have their tax shovels dipped into the pocketbook of every productive individual and, in turn, their bribing, corrupting tentacles are extended into every city, village, hamlet and farm.

The magazine "Nation's Business," in an article entitled "How Your Tax Money Is Wasted" in its May issue, although admitting that much of the waste permeating government is so well hidden as to defy calculation, documents some of the more blatant examples. Running to nearly six pages, the article pinpointed:

An all-electric $200,000 housing project launched last year by the Bureau of Indian Affairs to house impoverished Indians. The project completed and the Indians moved in, it was discovered that the nearest electric line was 15 miles from the project. At last account four federal and three state and county agencies were still fighting over the question of who was to blame, meanwhile, the hardy Indians are making out with kerosene lamps and gasoline heaters and stoves. . . .

"all-electric" housing units costing taxpayers $20,000 apiece.

Luxury lodges in Oklahoma, Area Redevelopment Administration financed, $600,000 in the red. Cost: $10 million.

A Department of Agriculture rush order for typewriters, costing more than $500 apiece.

After reeling off a long list of items which his particular branch of the AEC would research in the next five years, the witness was asked by Whitten what the agency hoped to accomplish by that time. The witness, in refreshing candor, replied: "By that time we hope to have an appropriation of $20 million."

Economic chaos not interceding, and the present trend in governmental spending continuing, they no doubt will.

TV Coverage of Viet War

The wonders of modern science have wrought another first—viewing a war from your living room almost as it happens.

And with hand-held mobile television units and communication satellites promising live coverage in the near future, the inevitable has already occurred. A Georgia couple watching a news broadcast saw their own son step on a land mine, so plainly, as his mother put it, "it could almost touch him."

Fortunately, this episode appears to have a happy ending. The young GI expects to recover fully from his leg and abdominal wounds.

It is reasonable to assume that if five war actually comes to the home screen, more of the same can be expected, and much, much worse. With no time for editing, what of the strategically placed hand grenade, the sniper's bullet coming off cue, the booby trap swinging down from a hut roof and impaling Cousin Richard waist-high while he is on camera?

Live television coverage aside, is a moral issue involved in graphic coverage of the war even as it now stands? Are we chancing unnecessary torment to the families of the combat soldier? It was two days after seeing the explosion envelop their loved one before the Georgia couple and the young GI's wife learned that he was still alive.

Is it indelicate for some to lounge near the air conditioner sipping a Scotch and soda while watching their young countrymen face death in a Far Eastern jungle?

On the other hand, is there not some benefit in having the horrors of a remote war brought home for complacent countrymen to see, uncensored?

The eagerness of a sheltered society to view all aspects of life will probably demand the realism continue. But questions arise as, trapped by our own genius and curiosity, we plunge toward authenticity in its most graphic forms.

Too Clean To Be Honest

The license commissioner of New York City is burning because joints that show girls movies are cheating the patrons by displaying dirtier pictures on billboards outside the theaters than on the screen inside.

"I have the authority," he says, "to go in there and compare them to show movies as dirty as the pictures they are displaying outside."

That's cracking down on the old filth, commissioner!

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

Lenin Prize for 'Churchman' Because an international organization ostensibly is devoted to religious purposes, many citizens in many lands assume that such a group is genuinely devoted to the highest goals in life and is not a mask for political activity.

A case in point is the World Council of Churches, which has its headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. Innumerable innocent churchmen no doubt long have assumed that the WCC was free of the taint of anti-Western politics.

Unquestionably, therefore, many of these churchmen must have received a rude shock May 1—the Communist May Day—when the government of the Soviet Union announced that the president of the World Council of Churches, had been awarded one of its highest honors—the Lenin Prize.

The character of the Lenin Prize cannot be mistaken. It is given to those who, in one fashion or another, have advanced the interest of the communist world. Previous recipients of the Lenin Prize include Dictator Fidel Castro of Cuba and former Dictators Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

News reports received in this country did not specify the reasons ascribed for giving the award to Dr. Niemoller. But knowledgeable Americans will recall that last year Dr. Niemoller went to North Vietnam and fiercely condemned the United States for its aerial attacks on Ho Chi Minh's bastion. This attack on the U. S., at a critical time in the American-South Vietnamese struggle against communist aggression, was of major help to the communists in influencing "world opinion."

Those who have made a study of the World Council of Churches do not find it extraordinary, however, that its president should receive the Lenin Prize from the USSR.

For years the WCC has been consistent in its opposition to moves by the West to protect freedom. It was strenuously against U. S. development of the hydrogen bomb, though that mighty weapon provided a nuclear shield for the free nations of the world.

At the same time, the WCC has been strangely silent about the terrors that take place behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. Indeed, the leaders of the WCC have steadily promoted a dialogue with communists, a not surprising action inasmuch as leaders of the state-controlled churches of Eastern Europe and the USSR now are represented in the WCC.

The award of the Lenin Prize to the president of the World Council of Churches provides a timely and interesting background to recent speeches in the United States by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, former head of the National Council of Churches who is now general secretary of the WCC and, as such, right-hand man to Dr. Niemoller.

Speaking April 26 at Norwalk, Conn., Dr. Blake castigated the United States, the country of which he is a citizen and to which he owes loyalty. In a brutal attack on the American defense of freedom in Southeast Asia, he said: "The picture of a great and wealthy nation mobilizing each month more and more of its unparalleled technological might to bring a tiny long-suffering, dark-skinned nation to capitulation means clearly to the families of the combat soldier? It was two days after seeing the explosion envelop their loved one before the Georgia couple and the young GI's wife learned that he was still alive."

This is, of course, a cruel and false picture of the American defense effort in Asia. The U.S. isn't picking on a "tiny long-suffering" nation. North Vietnam is a front and proxy for Moscow and Peking. Certainly this "tiny" state didn't build the exotic SAM missiles that are fixed at American aircraft. But Dr. Blake had no word of criticism for the Soviets or Chinese, nor did he refer to the campaign of terrorism that the North Vietnamese conduct against men, women and children in South Vietnam.

As for the reference to "dark-skinned," that is an unworthy piece of distortion aimed at misleading Americans and foreigners. The Vietnam war is not a war of whites against dark-skinned people. The U. S. is in Vietnam at the invitation of the free people of Vietnam who want to escape Hanoi's tyranny. Moreover, American forces in Vietnam include many Negroes, who are building a record of va-

"I Think I'm onto Something"

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Just a year ago we journeyed to Boston to see the opening of the musical comedy "Mame" and at that time predicted it would become one of Broadway's greatest hits. Well, we sure can pick 'em because "Mame" at the ripe old age of one year, as the show's title song relates "came and saw and conquered and nothing will ever be the same." It's still one of the hardest tickets to buy due to capacity audiences at every performance. Figures show more than 620,000 persons have seen this grand dame since she arrived in the big town. It's a great fun show. No problems, no messages, good music and lots of laughs. After a year on Broadway "Mame" is still a terrific gal.

Today's smile: A newlywed was telling a pal about his bride and said: "Alice is a terrible cook. I swear that pigmies come from Africa just to dip their arrows in her dishes."

Ever hear of F. Hopkinson Smith? Well, he was an eminent author back in the 1920's who delighted his readers with tales of Southern manners and customs. However, he had a sideline. He liked to sell lighthouses and often picked up a healthy commission that way. But he also had other distinctions too. He designed and built the Race Rock Lighthouse, off New London, Conn., the foundation of the Statue of Liberty, and also the seawalls at Governor's Island in New York harbor. Must have been quite a gent.

Thoughts while shaving: Each year the Detroit auto makers come out with radically new designs in their models. Yet, the classic car of them all is the Rolls-Royce and we don't think they have changed the styling of their models appreciably since the first Rolls was wheeled out. At any rate the radiators have remained the same. You can spot a Rolls anywhere. . . . We have never read anywhere that Lyndon Johnson is a member of the National Press Club at Washington. Yet, almost every chief executive since the days of William Howard Taft has been a dues-paying, but non-voting member. The only exceptions we can recall were Harding, who was an "active" member and Eisenhower, who didn't choose to join. . . . A New Hampshire friend tells us about a farmer he knew in the Granite State who was an infallible weather forecaster. Our friend said he would stick a fork in the corner of a house or barn give it a snap, and could tell by the "zing" how soon a storm or that is a credit to their nation and to their race.

Clearly, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake is following in the footsteps of Dr. Niemoller. He is hitting the U. S. as hard as the German pacifist clergyman who won the Soviet award. In time, Dr. Blake's speeches may earn for him a Lenin Prize.

WASHINGTON — Russia is losing no time in making good its threat to appreciably increase military aid to North Vietnam.

Since Communist Party chief Leonid Brezhnev first hurled this warning in February, Soviet arms shipments to Hanoi have tripled.

More than 175 Iron Curtain vessels, carrying hundred of ground-to-ground rockets with ranges from six to 30 miles, have unloaded at North Vietnam ports.

The 30-mile rockets, not yet operational, are for coastal defense.

Naval Intelligence authorities report that 96 of the Red ships docked during April, setting a new record for arrivals in a single month.

Previous high was 36 in December 1966.

In that month Russia began delivering the most effective weapon North Vietnam now has against U.S. troops and their bases—the 140mm rocket with launcher. This weapon and the still longer ranged 200mm rocket have shown up on other fronts in recent weeks.

Both types rockets are lightweight and cheap to produce. In three months they have been used in Vietnam, these weapons are estimated to have caused 1,000 U.S. casualties in killed and wounded, destroyed 14 planes and damaged some 30 others.

The introduction of these powerful arms is confronting U. S. commanders with new far-reaching problems.

The 200mm rocket can outshoot the U.S. 175m "Big To" field guns. As a consequence, American forces have been compelled to erect strong defenses capable of withstanding rocket bombardments. Similarly, the 140mm rocket has compelled the Navy to do most of its patrolling and coastal bombardment at night.

EMPTY GESTURE — There will be House hearings on President Johnson's long languishing East-West trade proposals—but that's about all.

Representative Wilbur Mills, would happen along. Never heard of that method for forecasting before. . . . A veteran automobile salesman tells us he classifies potential customers as prospects, suspects and expects. . . . You frequently hear someone refer to an electric sign as a "spectacular." Well, in the outdoor advertising business a "spectacular" must have at least 1,000 square feet of illumination. . . . The Detroit (Mich.) FREE PRESS reported in a story: "Her husband is a sturgeon who practiced in St. Louis." Sounds fishy to us.

Country Editor speaking: "If you're a jaywalker you're probably just careless and not what the traffic officer called you."

D-Ark, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who has blocked action on this widely controversial plan for more than a year, has finally agreed to hold hearings. But at the same time, he has made it pointedly clear to both the White House and State Department that he is still opposed to action on the measure both by his committee and Congress.

"I have not changed my mind one iota," Mills told Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach. "As long as the Soviet bloc is sending arms to Vietnam, I am flatly against increasing trade with these Communist countries. My willingness to hold hearings does not mean for one moment that the Ways and Means Committee will act on this trade proposal this year."

When Katzenbach sought to pin Mills down on a date for the hearings, the latter told him that would be decided after the committee acts on pending Social Security legislation.

NEW KENNEDY MYSTERY — Numerous articles are appearing in Russian publications all stating there will be sensational revelations in July regarding the assassination of President Kennedy.

The articles give no further details. Also, there is no indication of the identity of the writers, and what is behind this mysterious rash of claims.

MORE PROTECTION — The Secret Service is taking new measures to safeguard President Johnson.

All White House windows above the first floor have been replaced with bulletproof glass.

To avoid attracting attention to this change, the windows were replaced one at a time. The windows on the first floor were bullet-proofed some time ago.

VIETNAM FLASHES — North Vietnam has assumed direct command of all Viet Cong forces in the upper two-thirds of South Vietnam. Only in the southern one-third of South Vietnam does the Viet Cong high command retain control of its own troops. The Viet Cong headquarters is believed to be in the jungle stronghold of Zone C near Cambodia. . . . The North Vietnam headquarters is located at Thanh Hoa, 200 miles north of the 17th Parallel. It is ringed with more than 100 SAM ground-to-air missiles. . . . Lieutenant General Nguyen Chi Thanh is listed as commander of all Communist forces in this region. He is a member of the North Vietnam National Defense Council and Communist Party Politburo. . . . The U. S. Information Agency now has a staff of 109 in Saigon. During the current fiscal year USIA spent $15,772 U.S. and $64,721 in foreign currencies to finance

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Skin Cancer Controlled By Surgery and Drugs

Q — I have a thickened, rough area on my arm. It doesn't hurt but it is getting larger. My doctor says it is skin cancer. What is the best treatment?

A — Surgical removal followed by X-ray treatments when applied early has cured 98 per cent of skin cancers in the past. There have, however, been several recent reports of equally good results with the local application of such drugs as fluorouracil, methotrexate and triethylenimino benzquinone (TEIB).

Q — My father has multiple myeloma. What are the first signs of this disease? Does smoking cause it? Does this type of cancer curb the appetite?

A — Multiple myeloma is one of several types of skin cancer and probably the most serious. It usually develops from a brown mole. All brown moles do not become malignant but all should be examined periodically to make sure malignant changes are not occurring. The only skin cancers that have been attributed to smoking have been those of the lip. Loss of appetite may be seen in victims of any type of cancer but usually only when the disease is far advanced. Although multiple myeloma is usually fatal, encouraging results have been obtained with the use of laser rays.

Q — I am 15 years old and am on the school track team. After running for a short time I get a pain in both of my shins. Is this a form of shin splints? What causes it and how can it be prevented?

A — Shin splints is a muscular pain along the shin bone that is aggravated by exercise and especially by rising on the toes. The pain may persist as a dull ache for several hours after the exercise ceases. There is pain on pressure over the shin. The cause is a strain or tearing of the attachment of the foot muscles to the tibia. The treatment consists of applying heat, gentle massage over the leg in the direction of the knee (never the reverse), taping the ankle and favoring it until the pain is gone.

Q — I have taken Milpath daily for several years. It seems to make me drowsy. Is it habit-forming? Should I keep on taking it?

A — This drug is not habit-forming. It often causes transient drowsiness. If the drowsiness persists the dosage should be cut. Like any other tranquilizer its use should not be continued indefinitely. It should not be taken by men who are over 50 because it favors prostatic enlargement. When it has been taken for several weeks or longer its use must be discontinued gradually over a period of two or three weeks to prevent unpleasant withdrawal symptoms.

H. L. Hunt Writes

ELECTORS OF RENOWN

The Congressional District Plan to Reform the Electoral College System CONDOR, should be more widely known and better understood. With this plan in effect by an amendment to the Constitution and submitted to and ratified by State Legislators, each of the 435 Congressional Districts and everywhere suffrage for President has been extended, needs to elect one outstanding citizen for Presidential Elector, and each of the 50 states to elect two at large.

Candidates for Presidential Electors should be men and women of the most renown among the constituency of the Congressional District or states for which the elector shall serve.

The Electoral College will then comprise about 535 of the greatest citizens of the USA and their losing opponents about 535 more.

Former Presidents of the USA, Governors, U. S. Senators, and Congressmen will lend their prestige to the President and Veep for whom they were pledged to vote. The greatest educators, agriculturalists, church leaders and businessmen among the constituency could devote the one day required in casting their vote for the President and running mate.

Electors to the Electoral College who would campaign for their Presidential candidate, would qualify, in event of his election, to become Presidential advisors, Congressmen, Ambassadors, and other vital public servants.

After the November election these distinguished citizens of about 1100 could convene by correspondence, long distance telephone or telegraph and select a chairman and secretary. Each month or oftener, by majority vote they would decide which movements they wished to sponsor. Deadly apathy, complacency and indifference will vanish from the USA scene.

trips of foreign newsmen to South Vietnam.

MIDDLE EAST FLASHES — Communist-ruled Bulgaria is establishing close military ties with Nasser-dominated Syria. Several top Bulgarian military officers have gone to Syria to supervise measures to improve its armed forces, and Syria is sending officers to Bulgaria for training. . . . Egyptian troops are being used in Yemen to protect Chinese road builders from attacks by opposing Yemen royalists. The Chinese are building a road from Sana to the garrison town of Sada. Previously they had completed a road from Hodeida to Sana. . . . King Hussein has made several of his U. S. jet interceptors available to Saudi Arabia to increase the protection for border towns and villages that have been attacked by Egyptian planes. . . . The U. S. Information Agency has purchased several articles from Professor Hans Morgenthau, one of the most vocal and harshest critics of the administration's Vietnam policy. One of the articles is titled "Alternative for Change." . . . Arthur Schlesinger Jr., another caustic administration critic, was paid $75 by USIA for an article titled "A Muddling Evolution."

Again, look at the havoc it would play with movies. "The River of No Return" could never be re-run again. It would insult the Communists as being politically unfit, as no Socialist river would be branded by the implication of "no return."

Songs like "Where the Silvery Colorado Winds Its Way" would be forbidden, as opposed to the people's party, and the people's projects.

One man says that this is a typical LBJ brainstrom. I agree that LBJ hasn't kept all his promises. Didn't he promise us "guns and butter"? Well, guns we have, butter? No. There has been nothing but oleo on my table for years.

Editor:

This thing of bringing Mississippi River water into the High Plains arouses my opposition. One thing I would look for, is that it is bound to bring alligators into the Panhandle. That ain't good.

You know how alligators are. You give 'em an inch and they will take a foot.

We are drifting rather rapidly into a strict Socialist government, and this river would bring on complications, in the arts, like music and movies. For example who would sing "River Stay Away From My Door"?

No one would dare malign such a river with such a song. It would rob my neighbors of my rich baritone bathroom voice. A friend of mine with a whiskey tenor voice, says "Old Man River" is his favorite.

Again, look at the havoc it would play with movies. "The River of No Return" could never be re-run again. It would insult the Communists as being politically unfit, as no Socialist river would be branded by the implication of "no return."

Wit and Whimsy

An Englishman was once persuaded to see a game of baseball, and during the play, when he happened to look away for a moment, a foul tip caught him on the ear and knocked him senseless. On coming to himself, he asked faintly, "John (the Englishman) — What was it?"

James (his friend) — A foul — only a foul!

John (the Englishman) — Good heavens! A foul! I thought it was a mule.

DeGaulle's Visit To Poland May Be Tricky Act

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's state visit to Poland may be one of the trickiest high-wire acts of his long political career.

Government quarters said De Gaulle will approve his itinerary in Poland for his June 7-13 state reports of a three-man mission he sent to Warsaw.
