

Optimists Name Man And Woman of Year

Newt Secrest of the Optimist Club of Pampa and Mrs. Bill Leonard of the Opti-Mrs. Club were named Optimist and Opti-Mrs. of the Year at a combined dinner meeting of the two groups last night in the Coronado Inn.

Selected by secret ballot in their respective clubs, Secrest and Mrs. Leonard were singled out as the members who have made the greatest contributions to their clubs, the community and the club's youth program during the past year.

Larry Parsley, outgoing president and recipient of the 1966 honor award, in making the presentation to Secrest said, "He is just a hardworking old boy. He is the kind of guy if you have a job you want done and you ask him to do it, he will do it. If it is for the good of the community and the organization, he just does it."

Secrest served this year as secretary of the local club and as North Texas district chairman of the Achievement and Awards Committee. He is a past president of the Pampa Optimists and past lieutenant governor of Zone D of the North Texas District of Optimist International.

Mrs. Leonard was chairman of the Opti-Mrs. Ways and Means Committee and served on the board of directors. She has held other offices and chairmanships. Mrs. Newt Secrest, who received the award last year, made the presentation to Mrs. Leonard with the remarks, "Perhaps the qualities that won the award for this year's recipient were her willingness to accept responsibilities, her dependability to carry them out, and her poise when the going was rough."

Curtis Griffin, newly installed lieutenant governor of Zone D, installed the following Optimist officers: John McGuire Jr., president; Jack Robinson, Vernon Roper, first and second vice presidents; Ed Henley, secretary-treasurer; Jack Hood and Marvin Holman are new directors to serve with T. Z. Lawrence, Warren Smith and Dub Brown.

Opti-Mrs. officers, also installed by Griffin, were Mrs. Buddy Thornton, president; Mrs. Doris Houck, Mrs. Jack Robinson, Mrs. James Scott, first, second and third vice presidents; Mrs. Hubert Johnson, secretary; Mrs. W. C. Epperson, trea-

Leon Hill of Amarillo was after dinner speaker with Mack Hlatt serving as master of ceremonies. Invocation was offered by Guy Caskey, minister of the Harvesters - Mary Ellen Church of Christ. Special guests were D. C. Cornutt, Pampa High School spring graduate, who was the Optimist Club's Young Texan of the Month for May, and Miss Susan Patrick, recipient of the Opti-Mrs. Club Award, who provided pre-dinner against the giant Allied war music.

U. S. Bombs Inside Hanoi While VC Terrorists Hit Allied Base

SAIGON (UPI) — American warplanes bombed inside the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi for the third time in the Vietnam war Saturday. Hordes of Viet Cong terrorists struck against the giant Allied base at Pleiku, killing 24 persons and wounding 138.

Three waves of U.S. Navy jets battered a key power plant one mile from the center of Hanoi and hit a missile base and truck park on the capital's southern fringes.

U.S. spokesmen said the Communists shot down one American plane, a Navy F8 Crusader jet, in the first raids on the Hanoi area since May 22. (In Moscow, a Tass dispatch from Hanoi claimed three U.S. planes were downed by North Vietnamese ground fire.)

The official Hanoi news agency claimed four U.S. planes were shot down in the raid and captured. It alleged the planes twice attacked "a number of densely populated areas in the center and vicinity of Hanoi."

Communist guerrillas in South Vietnam's Central Highlands pelted Pleiku with rockets and small arms fire and made an abortive satchel charge assault on a U.S. Army outpost.

U.S. officials said the Viet Cong killed at least 24 men, women and children, including two American servicemen. They wounded at least 138, including 51 U.S. troops.

The Communists showered more than 150 mortar shells on military and civilian areas around Pleiku in the lightning pre-dawn attack. Their suicide charge with bags of explosives was reserved for a U.S. Army outpost. GI's killed at least three of the attackers and sent the rest reeling back.

First Wheat Harvested in Local Area Makes 18 Bushels Per Acre

When wheat harvesting combines moved into the Pampa area Friday and Saturday, Ervin Prouse, a dryland wheat farmer, was the first to haul a truck load of wheat to a grain elevator.

Prouse and Lloyd Harvey, who both farm wheat acreage of Mrs. Elsie Cook, took their loads to Laketon Wheat Growers Inc. Friday afternoon.

Located northwest of Laketon about five miles, Prouse's and Harvey's wheat both tested a "good 60 pounds per bushel, may average 18 bushels per acre, and tested 12.27 per cent moisture," Bill Eberling, manager of Laketon Wheat Growers Inc., said.

The first dry wheat taken to Wheeler Grain Co. elevators yesterday was by Skeet Roberts, who farms north of Pampa about five miles. Roberts' wheat tested 62 pounds per bushel and 13 per cent moisture.

By late Saturday, 13 loads of wheat, averaging about 13 per cent moisture and 61 pounds per bushel, were taken to Wheeler (See HARVEST, Page 3)

Israeli-Arab War Halted By New Cease-fire Order

Oil Emergency Is Declared Because Of Mideast War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration declared an oil emergency Saturday because of disruption of supplies from the war-torn Middle East. Work on an emergency plan began immediately in an effort to assure a continued oil supply to the free world.

J. Cordell Moore, assistant interior secretary in charge of foreign oil supplies, said the situation resulting from the Middle East crisis "threatens the broad security interests of the United States."

The declaration by the Interior Department was coupled with an order to convene the Foreign Petroleum Supply Committee, composed of 13, to begin work on plans to assure continued oil supply to the free world.

Shutting down of the Suez Canal by Egypt cut off 55 per cent of oil supplies to Western Europe, officials said. The effect on supplies to the United States was described by the department as minimal.

A spokesman said hopefully that the Mideast situation could improve to the point that emergency plans might not be needed by the time they are completed. The process would probably take three weeks, he said.

One of the major effects of any emergency plan would be a temporary waiving of federal anti-trust laws as they apply to U.S. oil companies. Activities under the plan, however, would be under constant review by the Justice Department for the duration of the emergency.

Oil Decision Is Surprise to French

PARIS (UPI) — French officials said Saturday they were surprised by the U. S. decision to declare an oil emergency.

"We would have rather expected the British to do so but certainly not the Americans," an industry ministry spokesman said.

Earlier this week, the French government said that its stocks were sufficient to last three years at a normal rate of consumption.

Israel Promises To Make Amends For Ship Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Israel promised Saturday to "make amends" for its attack on a U.S. Navy ship that may have killed as many as 33 American sailors.

Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman told Secretary of State Dean Rusk that his government was prepared "to make amends for the tragic loss of lives and material damage" resulting from the attack on the communications ship USS Liberty in the eastern Mediterranean Thursday.

Just what amends would be made were not spelled out, but presumably it would include compensation for the damage done to the Liberty, which reported "extensive but superficial damage topside and some lower deck spaces forward destroyed."

Pampa Youths Leave City To Approve $1,900,000 Bond Sale On Tuesday

Eight happy and enthusiastic young people left Pampa Saturday noon for a week's adventure at Camp Wigwam, northeast of Amarillo.

The camping opportunity was made possible for the Special Education students in Pampa Junior High and Pampa High School through contributions from Pampa and Miami civic clubs, according to Glenn Cox, president of Gray County Association for Mentally Retarded Children.

Spencer Tracy, 67 Dies in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Spencer Tracy, the movie giant who won Academy Awards for his portrayals of the fighting priest in "Boys in Town" and the simple fisherman in "Captain Courageous," died Saturday. He was 67.

Tracy was pronounced dead from an apparent heart attack at his home by Dr. Mitchell Covel, according to the actor's agent, Abe Lastfogel.

Dr. Covel was summoned by a servant after Tracy complained of chest pains, but the doctor was dead by the time the doctor arrived. Time of death was estimated at about 6 a.m. PDT.

Tracy had just completed starring in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" with his longtime friend Katharine Hepburn and Sidney Poitier. The movie was the ninth in which the actor teamed with Miss Hepburn. The eighth earlier movie, however, were among the most popular that Tracy made in his many years as a film star.

As an actor he won both the critics' acclaim for his varied acting talents and box office success with the magnetism of his rugged Irish charm.

Hot Winds Spawn Tornado Funnels

Hot, baking winds blew through most of Texas yesterday, carrying tornado funnels into the eastern Texas and western Oklahoma Panhandles.

Weather bureau observers for Pampa reported the area was under a tornado watch six hours Saturday, but out of the danger area by 10 p.m.

A tornado was sighted southeast of Higgins, and just across the Texas-Oklahoma border, and one struck in Hammond, Okla., last night killing four members in a family of five.

The tornado watch included parts of the eastern Panhandle, South Plains and north central Texas, but instead the area was hit by 100-degree temperatures.

Presidio recorded 105 degrees yesterday for the nation's high. It was 102 at Laredo, 100 at Childress, 99 at Midland and Wink and 97 at Junction.

Pampa's high temperature yesterday reached 89 degrees.

Russia Calls UN Back Into Special Session

BULLETIN UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United Nations Security Council resumed deliberations at 12:42 a.m. Sunday after recessing at 10:55 p.m. Saturday.

BULLETIN UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Soviet Union convoked the Security Council Saturday night for its second crisis of the day, charging that Israel planes violated the new cease-fire with Syria with an air raid on Damascus.

The council met at 9:30 p.m. just hours after the United Nations arranged a new cease-fire between Israel and Syria and both sides accepted U. N. observers at their front lines in Syrian territory, the last battle front of the Middle East war.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko insisted on the Saturday night session despite an earlier pre-dawn seven-hour meeting on the crisis that left diplomats bone-weary.

Fedorenko charged that Israeli planes raided Damascus, capital of Syria, soon after the U. N. cease-fire of 11:30 a.m. CDT.

By BERT OKULEY United Press International The six-day war between Israel and its Arab neighbors ended Saturday night. The United Nations announced its latest cease-fire order was in effect.

An Israeli military spokesman said in Jerusalem the Syrian army was in full retreat. Israeli troops and planes throughout the day laid siege to the Syrian positions along the Golan bridge behind which Syrian artillery had been shelling Israeli border areas.

Israel claimed a smashing victory over the "armies" of Syria, Egypt, Jordan and Iraq and said it would never return to its old borders.

Observers were headquartered Sunday morning in the Syrian town of El Quneitra — captured by Israel. The Israeli location had not been determined late Saturday.

"I will advise both sides that the cease-fire should be complete and absolute," the chief U.N. observer in the Mideast, Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, informed the Security Council.

The cease-fire had been ordered for 11:30 p.m. CDT — 6:30 p.m. in the Mideast — but was not put into effect for hours. Both sides said communications to the front were slow.

A heavy pall of smoke hung over the Israeli-Syrian frontier near Tiberias, Israel, Saturday night. The Syrians had put up stubborn resistance before being overrun, Israeli spokesmen said.

In Israel, synagogues from Tel Aviv to Elath resounded with prayers for peace Saturday. They were punctuated by chants for the dead.

Information Minister Yisrael Galilee said in Jerusalem that Israel's smashing triumph over the Arabs in the six-day Middle East war had made it impossible "to return to the status quo before this happened."

The weekend brought a series of new developments: —Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, as expected, withdrew his resignation and a wave of frenzied pro-Nasser jubilation swept the United Arab Republic.

The United Nations Security Council, called into another emergency session at 3:30 a.m. CDT, again called for a cease-fire. Secretary General Thant said Israel reported it was ready to comply if Syria also agreed.

The Johnson administration declared an oil emergency because of the war and work began immediately on an emergency plan to assure continued supplies to the West. The Interior Department said the effect on U.S. supplies was minimal.

UPI correspondent Ray Mosley reported from Tiberias that Israeli planes and artillery were carrying out a heavy attack on the Syrian plateau of Golan, the high ground from which Syrian artillery has shelled Israeli farms near the Sea of Galilee.

He said border residents reported they were attacked Monday by Iraqi planes. Firing slackened off from Syrian guns.

Damascus, the oldest continuously inhabited city in the world, was reported by Arabs under daylight bombardment by Israeli planes. Damascus Radio said four Israeli planes were shot down.

The Syrians admitted the loss of the city of El Quneitra, 10 miles from the Israeli border 40 miles south of the capital, after "fierce fighting." Dispatches from the front told of huge columns of black smoke rising over villages along the highway to Damascus.

Israeli military officials said (See WAR, Page 3)

A. S. Bonner, Jr., Cabot Corp. exploration manager, Saturday announced James L. Johnston's transfer from Pampa to Charleston, West Virginia, where he will be district landman for Appalachian Exploration and Development, Inc., a Cabot wholly-owned subsidiary operating in West Virginia. Also announced was Dewey G. A year later he was promoted to junior supervisor and, in 1961, to his present position. He has studied business administration at West Texas State University while working for Cabot.

County Cancer Unit to Attend District Meeting

Leaders of the Gray County Unit of the American Cancer Society will attend the annual meeting of District 3N at the Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo Tuesday.

Invitations to cancer control volunteers in 20 counties have been issued by district directors Don R. Lane, Pampa; A. B. Goldston, M.D., Amarillo, and Charles V. Mercer, also of Amarillo.

Expected to attend from the local unit will be President D. V. Biggers, with Mrs. Jack Foster, Mrs. Kermit Lawson and Lane also attending.

The five-hour meeting will concentrate on cancer control goals for this area of Texas in relation to the American Cancer Society's expanded programs of public education and service to cancer patients. The growth of the population in Texas and the establishment of ACS Units in almost every county have broadened the scope of the society's activities to the extent that $2,000,000 is being raised for cancer control funds in Texas for the coming year.

BOUNCIBALL, a growing sport in Australia where it was invented by a Melbourne physical education teacher, employs a trampoline to put new zip into the old game of volleyball. About 400 persons are now playing in bouncball leagues in Melbourne alone. Innovator Brendan Edwards says the game boosts heart and lung efficiency, is relaxing, and gives stamina, strength and endurance, not to mention better shape, as depicted above.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. Walter White
Harrah Methodist Church

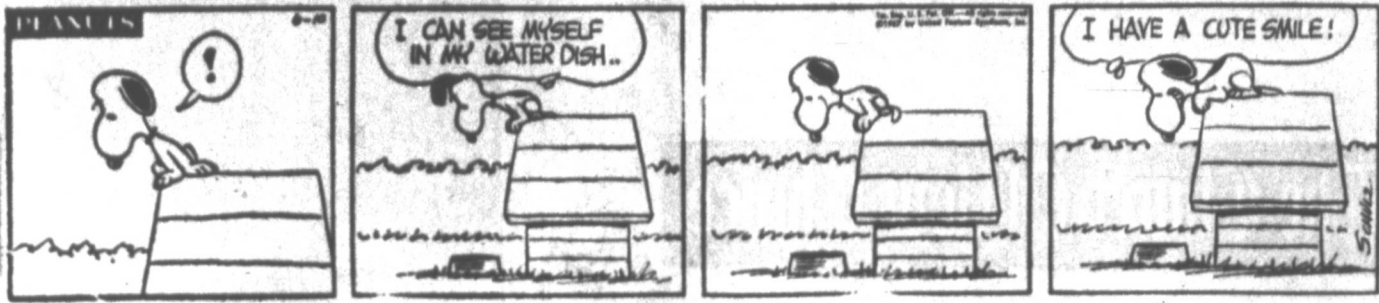

COMPETITION - NON BELIEF

A minister friend of mine slapped me across the knee quipping, "Well, Walter, it looks like we're going to have plenty of competition." His implication being that our goal would be geared toward increasing the statistical record of our churches by the addition of new members, improving our finances, enlarging our properties, and stressing greater attendance at our services of worship.

Acknowledging his comment, I nodded, but found my spirit of competition varied from his. Statistics was not to be my goal; but rather, I determined myself to be in competition with "unbelief." Many people today have lost their way to the lofty and holy purposes that were once their goals mainly because they had ceased to believe in God, in the Church, in other people, and in themselves. My decision for competition was not to be with my fellow ministers in the field of statistics but in restoring "belief" to both people within and without the Church. To me this requires a dynamic competitive spirit and it was to that goal I dedicated myself. I would not be content to wrestle competitively with my brethren of the cloth over a graph of figures when the greater challenge of releasing a person from the frantic state of fright and unbelief was grasping him. To free an individual from the power of Satan, the devil, wrong, sin, belief other than Christ or God was to me a more stimulating goal to arouse my competitive energies. To that end I made my decision.

Remember the father of the demoniac son who frantically cried to our Lord Jesus Christ (Mark 9:24), "Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief." Recall too, if you will when Jesus returned to his home country (Matthew 13:58), "he did not many works there, because of their unbelief." Our competitive desire today should be towards releasing persons from this hell of "unbelief" for Christ's teachings and God's way.

Boros, Zarley Share Lead in Buick Tourney

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI)—Veteran Julius Boros and young Kermit Zarley played into near darkness Saturday as they charged from behind to share the lead going into the final round of the rain-soaked Buick Open.

Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., came off the course with a two-under-par 70 and Zarley, Seattle, Wash. turned in a one-under-par 71. Their identical three-round total of 214 left them one stroke ahead of R.H. Sikes and Bruce Crampton in the $100,000 tournament, which was delayed twice Saturday—for a total of three hours and 45 minutes—because of torrential rains.

Boros, playing in the next-to-last threesome, and Zarley, in the last trio, got off the course just before complete darkness.

Bob Goalby of Palm Springs, Calif., and Tommy Aaron, of Coloway Gardens, Ga., the second-round co-leaders, faded by taking a 74 and a 75 respectively.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

DETROIT (UPI)—Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings is expected to be able to leave the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital early next week after recovering from an operation to remove a cyst on his right elbow.

The 21-year National Hockey League veteran was operated on Friday to remove the cyst, which he received late in the season when he fell on the ice.

Queen Wins Seventh In Going Distance

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The league-leading Cincinnati Reds battered the Houston Astros for 14 hits, including six for extra bases, Saturday enroute to a 9-4 victory.

Mel Queen, going the route for the third time, picked up his seventh victory against one loss, giving up seven hits, one a three-run homer by Jim Wynn.

The Reds bunched a double by Floyd Robinson with a walk to Vada Pinson and singles by Pete Rose, Tony Perez and Deron Johnson to score three runs off Dave Giust in the first inning and then sent him to the showers with another three-run splurge in the third.

A double by Johnson and a triple by Don Pavletich highlighted the third inning.

The Reds added their final three runs, one of them unearned, off Barry Latman, the second of three Astro hurlers.

Queen had a four hitter going when the Astros jumped on him for three runs in the eighth, all on Wynn's ninth homer of the season.

SF 7, Braves 4

ATLANTA (UPI)—Home runs by Willie McCovey, Tom Haller and Jim Hart Saturday night powered the San Francisco Giants to a 7-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Cards 5, Dodgers 2

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Roger Maris hit a three-run homer with one out in the 11th inning Saturday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Sens 7, Bosox 3

BOSTON (UPI)—Frank Howard drove in three runs with two home runs—one a 480-foot drive that landed on a rooftop behind the left field fence—in leading the Washington Senators to a 7-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Soccer League To Stay With Weighted System

NEW YORK (UPI)—Despite criticism, the National Professional Soccer League intends to stay with its unique "weighted" system of compiling team standings through the full season.

"We have no intention of changing or even of reappraising our system now," commissioner Ken Macker said. "We will use it for the rest of the year and see how it works over a full season. We feel its greatest virtues will come out during the latter half of the competition."

The new league adopted the system as a way to promote higher scoring and perhaps avoid some tie games. It has not been particularly successful at either.

In the "weighted" system, a winning team gets six points and a draw is worth three points. A defeat is still a "no points" situation.

One point is given for each goal scored, up to a total of three. Thus a game which ends 6-3 would give the winning team nine points in the standings, the losing team three. In the standard system of compiling standings, a victory is worth two points, a tie one point and a defeat nothing, with no points for goals.

"The U.S. fans want more scoring, and they are displeased with tie games," Macker said.

Jones Quits As Assistant Coach

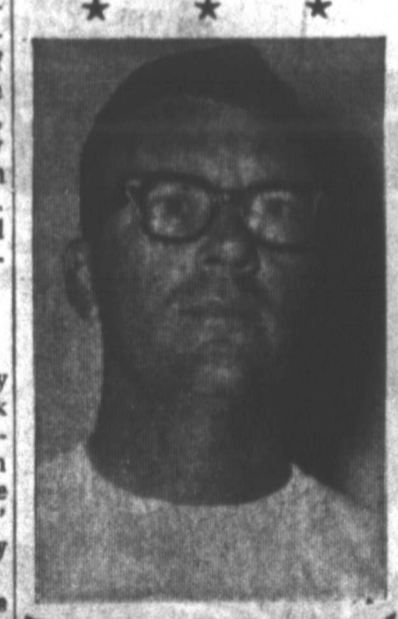

Assistant Pampa High School football coach Bill Jones has resigned his post, effective immediately, the News learned Saturday.

Jones has accepted a position at Ennis, Texas near Dallas. He will coach seventh grade football and teach high school history.

Jones took the post because he wants to get in the administrative side of the teaching profession and has a better opportunity to do so in Ennis than in Pampa.

When Jones admitted he had accepted the job he said, "Believe me, my family and I hate to leave Pampa, we like it here very much, but the job at Ennis presents a better opportunity for advancement."

Jones came to Pampa from Plainview as head B team coach in 1965. He served last year as varsity assistant.

A LITTLE SHORT — Ruby Husted left her putt a little short on No. 13 Saturday during the Pampa Women's City Golf Championship tournament at Pampa Country Club. In back of Mrs. Husted is Dottie Freeman.

Pair Tied For Lead in Pampa Women's Golf

Billie Watkins, the wife of a pretty good golfer and stout Oklahoma University football fan, and Marjorie Fritsch, a leader for the first time, tied for the lead after 18 holes in the Pampa Women's City golf tournament Saturday.

Mrs. Fritsch also tied Ruby Husted for loss gross honors, both carding 85s.

Mrs. Watkins carded rounds of 40-47-87 over the Pampa Country club course while Mrs. Fritsch shot 42-43-85 and both had net scores of 70.

Mrs. Husted shot 41-44-85 and had a net score of 73.

One stroke back of the leaders was Betty Conaster who shot 49-48-107 gross but her handicap gave her a net of 71.

Two players were just two shots back. Dottie Freeman, who with Mrs. Husted were named tournament favorites and Kandy Baker, who was also picked to be close to the top.

Mrs. Freeman shot a gross score of 40-46-86 and had a net of 72 as did Mrs. Baker who shot a gross score of 52-52-104.

Three of the 23 entrants came in with 73s.

Barbara Iverson shot 54-54-106 as did Delores Dooley. Both had low nets of 73. Mrs. Husted also had 73.

Eva Kitchens shot 44-50-94 and Marge Gipson shot 51-47-98 and both had low net scores of 74.

Two of the ladies had low net of 75. Lil Hall shot 46-47-93 and Janice Webb fired 51-49-100 and their handicaps brought them to the 75 range.

Beth Ramsey finished six strokes off the pace with a 76 firing a 51-49-100 and at 78 with a 50-54-104 was Barbara Dobbins and Dot Ellis.

The ladies wound up the tournament today with the final 18 holes and prizes were awarded to low gross and low net finishers.

Namath Unsure Of Future

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI)—New York Jets Quarterback Joe Namath, his bronzed body slumped lazily on a gym stool, chewed thoughtfully on an oversized plug of tobacco, and pondered his future in football.

He arched a stream of dark brown tobacco juice squarely into a can then slowly began to talk.

"I'm just not sure about this rascal," Namath said, and he rubbed a right knee that bore two ugly, six inch-long surgeon's scars.

For Namath—who went to the bright lights of New York City from the steel mill town of Beaver Falls, Pa., via the University of Alabama—this is the biggest uncertainty of his life.

Twice Doctors have cut into the knee to patch up torn muscles. Just how successful they were in the second attempt last December is a question that won't be answered completely until this fall.

WBA Holds Hearing On Cassius' Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The World Boxing Association (WBA) was urged Saturday to restore Cassius Clay's heavyweight title on grounds he had not been convicted of criminal charges filed against him for refusing induction into the Army.

Attorney Hayden Covington of New York pleaded Clay's case before the WBA executive committee, which then went into executive session to consider the matter.

The WBA look away Clay's title April 28, when he refused to be inducted at Houston, Tex. The fighter faces trial in Houston June 19.

Covington produced a copy of a letter from a member of the WBA executive committee which supports Clay's position.

Members Not Consulted "Cassius can't find anybody to fight him so he can make any money," Covington said, adding that he blamed the WBA's action for this.

Rodrigo C. Sanchez of Panama, who was unable to attend the hearing, complained in a letter to WBA President M. Robert Evans that he and at least three other committee members were not consulted before action was taken against Clay.

Sanchez said he was unable to find a provision in the WBA bylaws "authorizing us to forfeit a title from a boxer because of a political, racial or religious problem."

Sanchez said the WBA should wait until Clay is convicted before taking action.

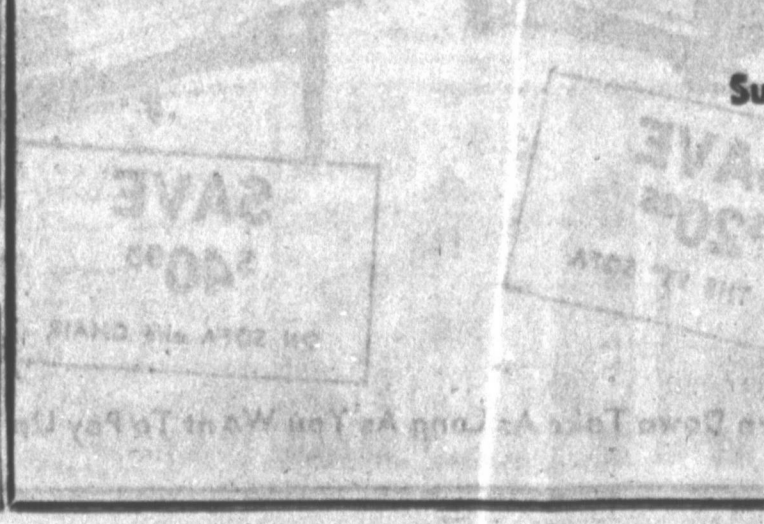

Covington expressed confidence that Clay eventually will win a draft exemption as a "The champ is the champ Decide By Fists"

He said he had filed 92 petitions bearing the signatures of 3,814 persons certifying that Clay spends 40 hours a week preaching and teaching the doctrine of the lost foundation of Islam. He said Clay devotes only about 10 hours a week to training for fights.

"The champ is the champ because he proved it with his fists," Covington said. "He should lose it the same way."

"Until he is convicted, he has the right to be treated like every other American citizen."

JUNIOR GOLF

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Mike Estridge of Polk Junior College carded a two-under par 70 Wednesday to take the 36-hole lead in the National Junior College golf tourney with a 144 total.

IWATSON ADVANCES BARNES, English (UPI)—Nineteen-year-old Peyton Watson of Greenville, S.C., advanced to the fourth round of the Lowther Lawn Tennis Tournament Wednesday when he defeated Bob Butcher of South Africa 6-2, 6-4.

Snider Right at Home

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—Old Tingley Field in Albuquerque is a temporary home for many of the Dodgers of tomorrow. But if you look closely you can see one of yesterday's greatest Dodgers of them all.

Standing on the dugout steps, his grey temples brimming from beneath his cap, is Duke Snider, the man who carried the Dodger image from Brooklyn to Los Angeles.

The Duke, who drilled 407 home runs in his 18-season major league career, is tutoring mostly teen-agers now and he can't get the bat around as quickly as he used to. But he is still in baseball and that's what is important to him.

Duke manages the Albuquerque Dodgers, Los Angeles farm club entry in the Class AA Texas League. On a big night almost 1,500 fans will turn out to see the Duke—a far cry from the 35,000 fans who used to crowd Ebbets Field to watch the slugging outfielder.

"This is just as much a part of the game as anything," he said as he watched a youngster chase flies in the dimly-lit park. "These are the important years for young players and they need the proper training and guidance."

Snider is frank about the role of minor league baseball. He calls it a necessary evil.

"You've got to have minor league ball of some kind," he said, "and I'm sure we'll continue to have it because the major league clubs need a place to develop their young players."

But the interest is down in our league."

Snider says he tries to win every game, but he also tries to place a lot of emphasis on the training of his players.

"We leave the pitchers in longer some times, or we let a player who's in a slump keep playing, rather than bench him. That's the only way to develop them."

Snider's Albuquerque Dodgers are in fourth place in the six-team Texas League, but he is hopeful they will improve. He had better luck last year, leading the Tri-Cities team to the Northwest League pennant, 13 games ahead of the field.

Snider started his managerial career in mid-season 1965 at Spokane, then moved to the Tri-Cities in 1966.

"We haven't had a consistent man who could come in from the bullpen and get them out," Snider said of his Dodgers. "But with proper relief pitching, we'd be a better ball club."

Snider said he's "a little surprised" the parent Dodgers are now so deep in the National League standings this year.

"They looked better than that this spring," he said. "But losing (Maury) Wills and (Sandy) Koufax was tough. They're hard to replace."

The Duke has plenty of baseball knowledge to back him after more than 20 years in the game.

NO CHANCE TO BE FIRED

Walker's Job Is Safe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Harry Walker is one manager who isn't the least bit worried about losing his job.

That makes it kind of nice all the way around because he's in about the same immediate danger of being canned by Pittsburgh as Vince Lombardi is of being sacked by Green Bay. Lombardi isn't losing any sleep over it. Neither is Walker and he's heard all about Sam Mele.

Walker is in no real trouble other than the kind which has become rather everyday with the Pirates, who in turn may become baseball's busiest bee-hive the past few years.

The only reason Walker's status even is referred to here is because of the usual questions which grew out of a not so unusual private meeting among the Pittsburgh players in their clubhouse the other night.

Walker Not Invited

The meeting came following the loss of a doubleheader to the last-place Mets and there were those who tried reading something into it because Walker and his coaches were not invited to attend.

Those who saw the closed door session as a challenge to Walker's authority weren't seeing straight.

To begin with, all major league clubs hold private meetings, that is without the manager and coaches, from time to time.

Most of these meetings are presided over by the player representatives and usually pertain to such matters as the players' pension fund.

The Pirates particular meeting had nothing to do with the pension fund, but that wasn't so unusual, either. They've had such meetings in the past, always asking Walker's permission beforehand. He always gave it to the players, and when they asked permission again the other night, Walker gave it to them again.

Aim To Win

"What was the big deal?" he said when questioned about it. "I do plenty of talking to them, and this time they wanted to talk things over by themselves. They were talking about ways to win, I suppose. I didn't ask them. But I'm for that, too. We're all here for the same reason. To win."

Possibly it may be forgotten, but the Red Sox also called a meeting without their manager last year to chew each other out for not trying harder.

So as Walker says, what's the big deal?

The fact that the Pirates are in fourth place when most people figured they would be first now undoubtedly has

Ryun Dazzles Crowd With Blistering 880

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—World record miler Jim Ryun, posted his best time of the year in the 880 Friday night.

Running in perfect weather conditions, Ryun disproved the high altitude theory as he blazed to a 1:47.2 while threading his way through a 12-man field in the 880.

Ryun appears in good shape to take a shot tonight at Bob Day's Federation Mark of 3:56.4 in the mile. If he accomplishes the feat it will mark the first sub-four minute mile ever run at Albuquerque.

Ryun, competing with Kansas University's Jayhawk Track Club, set an American record of 1:44.8 in the 880 last year but the mark has not been recognized as a world's best by the AAU.

The Kansas flash experienced his first altitude run on the same Albuquerque track two months ago, running an unspectacular 4:12.6 in the mile. However, that race was run during miserable weather.

U.S. Closer To WBC Champion

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—A three-way tie exists in the World Basketball Championships today as winless Uruguay boosted the United States' chance for the title by upsetting Yugoslavia.

Uruguay edged the previously unbeaten Yugoslavs, 58-57, Friday night and the Americans routed Poland, 91-61.

The U.S., the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia each have 4-1 records. If Russia beats Yugoslavia Sunday night, and if the Yanks get past tough Brazil, the U.S. will win the title because of its one point triumph over Russia.

The Americans, whose lone loss was to Yugoslavia Thursday night, 73-72, were paced by Al Tucker's 20 points and Mike Silliman's 17 points Friday night. Kendall Rhine added 13.

The Yanks pulled away after intermission when they led, 41-grumbling, but that's nothing new. It would be something new if they weren't.

But when you ask Clemente about Walker, he looks you straight in the eye and says:

Listen And Learn

"He is a fine manager. I respect him, I listen to him and I learn from him."

When Clemente meets with the other Pittsburgh players, it's not to criticize Walker but rather to point out to them that he knows what he's talking about and that maybe they ought to try listening to him more.

Clemente is a team leader, not a ring leader.

And when Walker talks about him, he also looks you straight in the eye and says:

"Roberto Clemente is the best ballplayer in the game today, bar none."

Sometimes Walker is wrong. He's 100 per cent right this time.

Another Jayhawk Track Club ace, Gary Ard, came up with his best performance ever in the long jump, 25-2 3/4, to win that event. Defending Federation long jump champion Clarence Robinson finished a poor third with a leap of 24-8. Tom Chilton of Knoxville was second with a 25-2 1/4.

Oria Richburg of Kent State came within one-tenth of a second of a Federation mark when he won the 220-yard dash in :20.7. Ben Olson of the Jayhawk Track Club was second in :20.8.

A University Stadium record was set when Louisiana State's Delmon McNabb threw the javelin 263 1-2. McNabb's toss almost hit the football goal posts in the end zone, an unfamiliar spot for the javelin at the stadium.

Terry Harrison of Colorado State sprinted the final quarter-mile with no one in sight to win the six mile run in 30:29.0.

Two Federation records were set in the women's competition. Patricia Atkinson of Texas Southern broke the 220-yard dash mark with a time of :24.2 and Sarah Beckord of the Iowa Track Club ran a :35.9 in the 440-yard dash.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

New Pilot Finds it Tough

By United Press International
Sam Mele became the first major league manager to get the axe this season but the real loser Friday night may have been somebody named Cal Ermer.
Ermer was named to replace Mele.
He quickly found out the kind of problems he's saddled with when Frank Robinson and Boog Powell spoiled his big league managerial debut by leading the Baltimore Orioles to an 11-2 rout of the Twins.
Ermer, who has managed for two decades in the minors and played in just one big league game, took the loss calmly.
"I wasn't discouraged," he said. "If we'd made a couple of plays, it would have been a different game."
But Ermer won't have an easy task if hitters like Jim Oliva and pitchers like Jim Kaat don't regain their old form.
Blamed For Slump
Mele piloted the Twins to a pennant and two second-place finishes in the last five seasons. But with Oliva hitting .237, Kaat slumping with a 1-7 mark and Jim Grant hobbled by bad knees, the Twins have been struggling in the second division this season.
Since he couldn't fire a hitter like Oliva or a pitcher like Kaat, owner Cal Griffith decided to follow the usual procedure and fire the manager. Mele had run the club since June 23, 1961.

Dean Chance, the Twins' ace, started against the Orioles but was the victim of two errors in the first inning, one he committed himself, when the Orioles scored three runs. Robinson then hit a three-run homer off Jim Collum to highlight a four-run sixth inning and Powell hit a three-run eighth to make it a rout.
Elsewhere in the American League, California blanked league-leading Detroit 4-0, Kansas City shut out Cleveland twice, 2-0 and 6-0, New York edged Chicago 2-1 (in 10th inning) and Boston whipped Washington 8-7.
In the National League, Chicago edged New York 6-5, Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 5-3, Cincinnati topped Houston 10-7 and St. Louis beat Los Angeles 3-2.
Ends Losing Streak
George Brunet beat Detroit on opening night and then lost nine straight games before he pitched a three-hitter to give the Angels the victory over Detroit. Celebrating his 32nd birthday, Brunet held the Tigers to three singles while besting Denny McLain.
Horace Clarke singled home Steve Whitaker in the 10th with one out to give the Yankees their victory over Chicago. Al Downing went 8 1-3 innings before giving up a run in the ninth and Steve Hamilton won it for the Yankees.
Carl Yastrzemski and Joe Foy each hit a pair of home runs and drove in five runs but it took the relief pitching of John Wyatt to nail down the Red Sox triumph over Washington. Wyatt relieved Jose Santiago in the ninth with runners on first and third and none out and struck out Frank Howard and Cap Peterson and retired Mike Epstein on a pop fly to end the game.

Bucs Enjoy Hit Parade

By United Press International
The Pittsburgh Pirates wrote their own "Hit Parade" Friday night and the fans at Forbes Field greeted it with a four-star rating. of Shouts of "more, more and more meetings," echoed through the stands as Willie Stargell, Gene Alley and Roberto Clemente roamed the bases almost at will. The fans even appeared to enjoy pitcher Billy O'Dell striking out four straight times.
It was all part of the Pirates' 23 hits (tying Houston for the season high) and a 16-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.
The Pirate fans haven't had much to shout about of late with only four victories in the last 10 games so one could hardly blame them if they sounded a bit blood thirsty.
Gab Session Helps
Their call for "more meetings" when Clemente collected three singles and Stargell a triple and two singles was in obvious reference to the session the players called among themselves after the Tuesday double loss to the New York Mets. The Pirates are 2-0 since that session.

Elsewhere around the National League, the league-leading Cincinnati Reds outscored Houston, 10-7; St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2; Atlanta defeated San Francisco 5-3 and Chicago rallied to beat the New York Mets 3-2.
In the American League, the New York Yankees downed the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 10th inning; Baltimore ripped the Minnesota Twins 11-2; Boston conquered Washington 8-7; Kansas City shut out Cleveland.

Patterson Draws In 10-Rounder With Quarry

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson may not have much of a future in boxing but he's still too clever for the likes of young Jerry Quarry.
Patterson, at 32, drew on his experience of 16 years as a pro to get off the floor and gain a 10-round draw with the 22-year-old Quarry in an outdoor fight Friday night before a crowd of 20,800 at Memorial Coliseum.
Most ringfighters had Patterson in front and the draw result was booted. Referee John Thomas scored the bout even, 5-5, judge Dick Young had it 6-6, and judge George Latka gave it to Quarry, 7-6. The UPI scorecard had Patterson ahead, 5-3.
A rematch is in prospect with the hearty approval of both Patterson and Quarry.
They came out of the fight without any serious physical damage and with comfortable purses. Patterson got $46,000 while Quarry received $27,500.
The gross gate was $150,000. Quarry, who suffered a cut over his right eye, wants to rest for a month, he said, before committing himself formally to a rematch. Patterson is going to Vietnam to visit U.S. troops so he'll be tied up for a while.
Patterson went down twice in the second round. The first time it looked almost like a slip but referee Thomas ruled it a knockdown. The second time Quarry landed a right flush on Patterson's jaw and he was groggy when he got up.
Quarry tried to put his foe away but swung wildly as the ex-champ went into a shell.
Patterson came back in the seventh to catch Quarry with a right to the base of the neck as he was moving away. Quarry took an eight-count but did not appear hurt. He said later he was off balance when the blow struck.
This was the fourth draw for Quarry in 28 fights. His only loss is a decision to Eddie Machen.

"Jerry is a good puncher and better yet a hungry fighter," said Patterson. "I had heard he was tough and would come to me and he did. We gave the fans their money's worth and that's the important thing.
"I'm just glad no one got seriously hurt."
Patterson was asked about the knockdowns and said, "whenever a fighter goes down he's in trouble. My experience got me out of trouble. I was hurt but I knew I couldn't afford to show it. Whatever you saw me do in there when I got up was what saved me."
Quarry said he has great respect for Patterson but added, "I blew it when I missed a left hook in the eighth. I got off balance and he hit me in the neck so I went down. If that hadn't happened, I think I'd have gotten the decision."

Wright Equals Record in Bluegrass Golf
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Mickey Wright equalled her own Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) record Saturday with a stunning 10-under-par 62 to pull away from the field after the second round of the Bluegrass Invitational Golf Tournament.
The all-time leading LPGA moneywinner from Dallas, Tex., blistered the Hunting Creek Country Club course in nines of 29 and 33 to increase her lead to nine strokes in the third annual tournament. She has a two-round total of 71-62-133.
"This is the best round of golf I have ever shot," she said. "This is my kind of course... it's been real good to me."
Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., the top moneywinner on the ladies' tour this year, fired a 69 for a two-day total of 142 and second place.
Miss Wright fashioned her 62 with eight birdies and an eagle to best the previous course record of 64 set by Ken Venturi in 1964.
In third place was Susie Maxwell, who also had a 69 Saturday for a 36-hole score of 143. Another stroke back was Sandra Spuzich with a 73-71-144.
Miss Wright had her previous 62 at Midland, Tex., in 1965. She had rejoined the LPGA tour this week especially for the Bluegrass after a two-week layoff with an injured hand.

Ermer Hired To Manage Twins

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Minnesota Twins' President Calvin Griffith has spent his life in baseball, as a team mascot, minor league manager, and club executive.
When he says a change in managers may be the best thing for the organization, he supposedly knows what he's talking about.
Introducing Cal Ermer as the replacement for fired Twins' Manager Sam Mele Friday night, Griffith said that no one thing caused Mele's dismissal.
"It's rather an accumulation," he said.
The apparent split in the coaching staff past October that saw coaches Johnny Sain and Hal Naragon go to Detroit, Griffith said was not the reason Mele was fired but it was clear it contributed.
Then, 25-game winner Jim Kaat, in an open letter to Twins fans, said that if he were a club owner he would hire Sain as pitching coach and then get a manager who could take advantage of him.
The Twins have been plagued by missed signs, inferior base-running, and a lack of the "thinking baseball" this year.
"At one time last year, I had something in mind, but things turned around and we started winning," Griffith said. The last half of 1966, the Twins were the hottest team in baseball, steaming at a .643 clip after July 4.

THE BIG QUESTION in McLean this week is . . . will they? or won't they?

THE "THEY" IN question are President Lyndon B. Johnson his wife, Ladybird . . . and their daughters, Lucy Baynes Nugent and Linda Bird . . . the speculation centers around an important nuptial event next Saturday, June 17, in the Methodist Church in McLean.

IT ALL BEGAN when the Guy Beasleys . . . longtime residents of McLean . . . announced the betrothal and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joyce, to Scott Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Carpenter of Washington, D.C. . . . the bride's parents are old friends of the LBJs, as we understand it . . . and the bridegroom's mother, who has been described as the Woman behind the Man, and one of the 10 most influential women in the U.S.A. is press secretary for the First Lady . . . Scott's father, Les, is a Washington newsman and a syndicated columnist in whose footsteps the bridegroom seems to be following . . . since he is majoring in journalism at the University of Texas, where his fiancée, Joyce, is an education major . . . their romance, which will culminate with the exchange of wedding vows at five o'clock on June 17 in the McLean Methodist Church, began about a year ago at the university . . . the prospective bridegroom, we hear via the ever handy grapevine, has visited during holidays in McLean.

NUPTIAL FESTIVITIES will get underway Friday evening, when the bridegroom's parents, Liz and Les Carpenter, host a rehearsal party in the form of a Barbecue Buffet on the Sitter-Hess Ranch near Spencer Lake just south of McLean . . . the bride's mother, who are life-long friends of both families, are expected to fly in from Austin and Washington.

IT SHOULD BE a lovely wedding since the bride's gown and those of her feminine attendants have long since been made by the bride's mother and have been hanging in closets ready for the Big Day.

APPROXIMATELY 300 wedding guests are expected to fill the church to overflowing . . . Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Chase the Tom Greenwoods . . . and Miss Jan Adams, a college friend of the bride, are among Pampons receiving wedding invitations to the Beasley-Carpenter nuptials.

ALL OF WHICH brings us back to the original question buzzing around McLean these days . . . will The Johnsons be there? . . . Odds are heavily against LBJ attending because he will be entertaining the Prime Minister of Australia at his ranch on Peraltoles River that weekend . . . and the same odds hold for Lucy and Pat Nugent, who have a previous engagement with the stork and is due to arrive the same weekend as the McLean wedding . . . and moms being as they are, Lady Ladybird, who also is hovering around Austin but who knows? . . . among the wedding guests next Saturday evening in McLean Methodist Church . . . representing the First Family of the Land . . . just might be Linda Bird.

THERE ARE Big Doings this weekend near Canadian . . . where the Sidwell Clan . . . about 65 strong . . . have invaded that pretty little town for their second annual family reunion . . . Polly and Gene Sidwell, Pampa's former mayor, are hosts with reunion headquarters in their beautiful and spacious Clear Creek Ranch near Canadian . . . yesterday and today are being spent visiting . . . swimming . . . fishing . . . horseback riding . . . pitching horseshoes . . . and swapping Sidwell Stories . . . representing the Pampa branch of the family, in addition to the hosts, is Etta Sidwell, mother of the Sidwell boys . . . also Ralph and Evelyn Bob and Georgia . . . Gene Jr. and Donna . . . and their respective families . . . spending the weekend at the Clear Creek Ranch are family members from California New Mexico . . . Colorado . . . Texas . . . Oklahoma . . . Kansas . . . Arkansas . . . Illinois . . . Michigan . . . Ohio . . . and West Virginia, which is the home state for most of the family . . . carrying out a custom that was started at the first reunion will be Memorial and Worship Services this morning at the ranch . . . Edward Price of Fairmont, W. Va. will give the main sermon assisted by his brother, Earl Price of Dearborn, Mich. . . . at some time during the service, scripture will be read from a 125-year-old Bible, which has been handed down from generation to generation . . . since the clan is of Welsh and Scotch-Irish descent, we are sure that at some point in the worship all voices will be raised in melodious hymn singing . . . the like of which has never been heard since the last family reunion four years ago.

VAGABOND RETURNS . . . Jerry Whitten returned home this week after a month's vagabond tour of Europe . . . we use the term "vagabond" wisely . . . because there was none of this guided tour and time schedule business for the personable Pampa musician . . . he and a friend from Oklahoma City went where they wanted . . . stayed as long as they liked . . . then picked up and moved on when they had seen enough . . . according to Jerry, it seemed the Travel Gods were with them all along the way immediately upon arrival in London they ran into a Royal Procession that included Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip carriage-riding with King Faisal of Saudi Arabia and his son . . . then on to Amsterdam-Holland, where Jerry tried to contact former Pampons, the Art Smalleys, to no avail . . . He arrived in Copenhagen in time to help that city celebrate its 80th anniversary . . . In Vienna, the travelers attended the opera "Salome" in a newly-restored Opera House . . . and in Munich they attended Puccini's "Turandot" in a "fabulous, out-of-this world opera house" just recently repaired and restored to its former elegance after war-ravaging . . . In Landsberg, Germany, they visited the prison where Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf" . . . and in Rome, they toured the Vatican . . . the Cistine Chapel . . . and saw the crypts of Pope Pius XII and John XXIII, whose biers are heaped with fresh flowers daily . . . and there is a steady procession of those paying their respects . . . In Munich, they also visited the Neuschwanstein Castle built by the Mad King Ludwig II of Bavaria . . . while in Munich, they happened upon an extremely beautiful church in a meadow, aptly named Church of the Meadow, where a wedding ceremony was just being concluded . . . the Catholic nun playing for the wedding invited Jerry to sit down and play the organ . . . which he did . . . and much to his delight found that it was truly a fine instrument . . . Jerry and his traveling companion passed up a tour of Paris and cut short their vacation by a week in order to take in some plays in New York City before returning home.

NO SOONER does one traveler return . . . than another leaves . . . Ted Gikas left mid-week for a month's vacation in Greece and Spain . . . with relatives and friends . . . He plans to search for Icons . . . visit El Greco's painting school . . . inspect some olive orchards . . . and perhaps pick a few castanets before he returns home in July.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my mother will not let me shave my legs. It seems every girl at school shaves her legs and some even slip behind their mothers' backs to do it. I don't want to go against my mother, but I wish she'd let me. The kids at school call me "Square," "Oddball," etc. I pretend I don't care, but I do. And anyway, my knee socks do not go together with all my clothes. So what should I do?

HAIRY
DEAR HAIRY: If you want to shave your legs because all the other girls do, it's not a good enough reason. If you are really "hairy," ask your mother to take a good look at your legs and to be reasonable.

What a pity that when a girl reaches the age where her legs need shaving, her mother is at the age where she needs glasses.

DEAR ABBY: I have been keeping steady company with a girl who is 24. I am 26 and we have a lot in common. We've talked about getting married but that's about as far as it's gone.

She says you never know a person until you live with them, and she doesn't want to get married until she is SURE it will last. She suggested that either I move in with her, or she move in with me for about 3 months. That way we can find out for sure how we get along. My folks drive up here to see me every once in awhile as they live only 80 miles from me, and I am sure they wouldn't approve of that kind of set up.

Actually, I am not so sure I do myself. In a way it makes sense, but in another way it does not. Can you help me straighten out my thinking?

FIFTY-FIFTY
DEAR FIFTY: Tell her you aren't that kind of a boy. If she wants to live with you, she'll have to marry you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced man, 56 years of age who would like to remarry. The trouble is, all the women in my age bracket are either divorcees living on alimony, or widows living on social security.

Before a man can discuss the economic facts of life with a woman, he has to know her pretty well, and this means spending a lot of time with her.

He can't come right out on their first date and ask if her financial security would be forfeited should she remarry, can he? My question: Is there a shortcut to finding out these things about a woman?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: No. Go

ahead and ask her. That would be the acid test. If she has the urge to merge, she'll be glad to talk dollars and sense with you. If not, you can save a lot of precious time, and proceed to the next prospect.

DEAR ABBY: In our town, when you are invited to a party, I am told the hostess expects to be called a day or so later to be thanked.

It seems to me that a sincere "thank you" on departure from the party is sufficient evidence of appreciation.

And if it was a large party, the hostess will have plenty of cleaning up to do on the following day, so why should she be annoyed answering a dozen or more phone calls to accept repeated thanks? What is correct? PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: When a hostess has gone to considerable effort to entertain, the gracious guest will send a written note repeating his thanks. (It's not necessary, but it's nice.)

There is always a chance that a phone call may be an intrusion, but I think the hostess who would resent being "annoyed" with repeated thanks is in the minority.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "S. O. S. IN SILVER SPRINGS": Sorry, but I don't buy that saying, "As you have made your bed, so must you lie in it." If you discover that the bed you made is giving you a pain do so. People who steadily in the back, and it's possible to sleep on "mental" lumps must get out of it and make it over, enjoy the punishment.

Miss Watson Exchanges Vows With Raymond Turner Curtis

Mrs. Raymond Turner Curtis
...nee Susan Faye Watson

In a wedding ceremony solemnized at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 6, Miss Susan Faye Watson became the bride of Raymond Turner Curtis. Dr. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo officiated in the double-ring ceremony in Bowman Chapel, First Methodist Church, Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson, 1100 Terry Road, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Venoy Curtis of Midland.

On the altar, the open Bible was flanked by two tall white altar candles. Seven-branched candelabra and arrangements of lemon leaves decorated the chapel.

Mrs. Hubert Carson of Lubbock presented organ music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Mr. Carson as he sang "O Perfect Love" by Barnby. Following the processional "Crown Imperial" by Walton, Mrs. Danny Turner, sister of the bride, sang "I Love Thee" by Beethoven. The recessional was "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell.

BRIDE Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white linen with a coat-train of Venetian lace. The dress was designed with a sleeveless bodice and slim skirt. The coat-train was designed with elbow-length sleeves edged in linen. Back interest was centered in a pleated ruff collar which swept into a chapel train.

The bride's shoulder-length veil was held by an open-crown pillbox covered in linen and embellished with seed pearls. On the pillbox, the bride wore an heirloom cameo belonging to her maternal grandmother, and on the bodice of her dress was a coral brooch which had belonged to her paternal great-grandmother and which all the brides in her family have worn. She wore a blue garter and in her shoe a silver six pence given her by Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Nance.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white orchids and stephanotis atop a white Bible which had been carried by the bride's aunt at her own wedding.

her sisters, Mrs. William Donovan Eads of Houston, matron of honor, and Mrs. Danny Clyde Turner of Lubbock, bridesmaids. Miss Kathy Kleiss of Borger was bridesmaid.

They wore floor-length gowns of yellow silk-blend fashioned with empire waist and white lace bell shaped sleeves. Their headpieces were matching yellow circlets with short veils. Each carried an arrangement of orange gladioli.

The bride's dress, also worn by her sisters in their weddings, and those of the attendants were designed and fashioned by the bride's mother.

Serving as best man was Jim Grubbs of Hereford. Groomsmen were Dennis Teasdale of Lubbock and Ron Douglas of Tulia. Seating the guests were Tom and Wendell Watson, Jr., bride's brothers, and Harry Harrison of Midland, cousin of (See MISS WATSON, Page 18)

Murphy-Martin Wed In Double-Ring Rites

MIAMI — The First Baptist Church of Miami was the scene for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Murphy to Jim Martin, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Harry T. Martin of Abilene, at 8:30 p.m. on June 2.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Martin, father of the bridegroom, before an altar flanked with baskets of white candelabra and silver candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" vow. She wore a floor-length gown of white crepe designed along Empire lines with sleeves tapering to bridal points over the hands.

Her shoulder-length veil of Bridal Illusion was held to a pill-box.

She carried an arrangement of white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Dale Roth served as matron of honor wearing a blue crepe dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Melody Murphy, bride's niece, as bridesmaid was also dressed in blue crepe with white accessories.

Best man was Tom Garrison of Seattle, Wash. Ushers and candlelighters were Roger Vassar of Knox City and Deverl Murphy, bride's brother.

Guests were registered by Miss Debbie Roth of Pampa, niece of the bride.

Miss Juanita Haynes of Miami provided traditional wedding music at the organ and accompanied Miss Connie Ratliff, who sang "One Hand, One Heart."

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. James Murphy presided at the cake service with Mrs. Vernie Farrington of Canadian at the punch service.

Following a trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the couple will reside at 3106-N, 21st in Abilene, where both will continue with their education at Hardin-Simmons University.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

TEXAS PANHANDLE protests over planned discontinuance of passenger train service between Denver and Dallas will break into full bloom in Amarillo next Thursday when protesters from Pampa, Clarendon, Amarillo and other near-door towns will get a hearing before an ICC examiner. . . The hearing is set for 9:30 a.m. Thursday before Examiner Willard Goheen in the U.S. Courtroom on the second floor of the Potter County Courthouse. . . Larry Dockery, legislative representative for the Amarillo lodge of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was in Pampa during the weekend drumming up witnesses. . . The Fort Worth & Denver and the Colorado & Southern Railway companies have served notice they are going to remove their last two passenger trains operating between Dallas and Denver next Sept. 10. . . Many Pampans use the trains which run through Clarendon. . . Some of these Pampa passengers are expected to testify Thursday and ask that the ICC not allow discontinuance of Trains 2 and 7. . . Dockery says even now the only way you can get the trains to stop at Clarendon is by flagging them down. . . At night he says this requires a lantern as part of the passenger's equipment. . . The station at Clarendon is closed, he says.

THE RAILROAD's side of the story is that the two carriers are losing money and they can't afford to continue service beyond Sept. 10. . . Train No. 7 which travels south from Denver to Dallas via Amarillo and Clarendon is due in Clarendon at 9:20 a.m. daily. . . Train No. 2 (northbound from Dallas to Denver) is due through Clarendon at 8:15 p.m. . . Passengers have no way of knowing whether the train is late or not, since the Clarendon station is closed and there is no station agent there. . . At any rate, Dockery wants the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to send a protest delegation to Thursday's hearing and urges all interested Pampans and Gray County residents to attend. . . The Panhandle Press Association at its recent convention adopted a resolution opposing discontinuance of the trains. . . It set forth that discontinuance "would not be in the public interest due to loss of passenger train service and possible disruption of mail and express service to cities and towns they serve in the Texas Panhandle and North Texas" . . . The resolution asked for the ICC investigation. . . Tomorrow and Tuesday the ICC examiner will hear the railroads' presentation at a hearing in Dallas. . . At Thursday's session in Amarillo only the protesters will be heard with railroad counsel reserving the right to cross-examine.

THE GUEST PEN:

The Importance of Time

By MILDRED PROGAR

As I took up my pen to columnize, my teen-age daughter Sondra came into the room. All she wanted was a few minutes of my time - she wanted to talk to me about something important. . . Deadline time was very close, the patient editor was waiting—as usual—and there was just about enough time to get my article written and on his desk. But it was important to her to have a little of my time right then. . . Being of a somewhat philosophical bent, my mind ran along its willful way while she talked. My thoughts were relating the importance of the experience with the subject of time—and values regarding its use. . . Great importance is placed upon the time involved in everything we do throughout our day. While time is a very important measure that we use throughout the whole of our lives, it is possible to place too much emphasis on the time value rather than the quality of the activity involved. . . The activity must be meaningful to us—for living is a matter of awareness of ourselves and our goals. Our consciousness of these things determines the quality of the living we do. . . The number of hours, days, or even the number of years we live don't really matter. It's what we do with them that does matter. . . our thoughts, our words and actions. This is the individual self-expression that is the difference between living and existing.

Taking the time to listen when someone has something to discuss with us is an opportunity to expand our living experience. It provides our thought with an avenue of expression through word or action. These avenues provide the means of communication of minds. . . natural growth develops and values are refined throughout life. . . Insofar as the qualities of our thoughts, words or deeds are meaningful to those with whom we communicate, we may teach and inspire. These are the things that live after us in time—for they are timeless. The thoughts and ideas expressed by great minds of the past in books, for example, are as timely today as when first conceived and written. The quality of the idea is meaningful—while the time of expression is simply relative. . . The time value must take second place to the quality value of the activity. . . which each individual will determine for himself. We can't be sure of the length of time we shall have to accomplish our goals or dreams, but we can determine the meaning and quality of them for ourselves. We can use our time to express values we hold dear and live a life of true self-expression. We can learn the difference between busyness and the real business of living our own lives. . . My time was spent mentally meandering along these lines while Sondra explained in detail

Russia Pushing for Nationalization of U.S. British Oil Holdings in Middle East - With Soviet Technicians and Markets

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Seizing the opening offered by the Middle East fighting, Russia is launching a diplomatic-economic-military drive for the nationalization of U. S. and British oil holdings in this strategic region. . . In the past week several hundred Soviet bloc oil technicians have arrived in the United Arab Republic and Syria by air and sea. . . Hundreds of other Communist oil engineers are aboard the Russian warships and supply vessels now steaming through the Mediterranean for UAR and Algerian ports. . . Final destination of these advance units of the Kremlin's newly organized "oil guard" is reported to be Kuwait — where U. S. and British companies now produce more than 24 million barrels of oil a day with most of it normally going to Europe. . . Trained in Russia to operate oil wells, refineries and pipelines, these Soviet bloc technicians have been offered to Kuwait and when she goes through with her threat to take over the multi-billion dollar Anglo-American holdings there. . . This threat, which is one of the factors influencing the Johnson Administration's neutral stand in the Arab-Israeli fighting, was issued last week by Prime Minister Sheikh Jabir al-Ahmed as-Sabah. . . British and American ambassadors were called in by the Nasser-supporting Kuwait official and frankly told that their oil company holdings would be nationalized if either government gave Israel military backing. . . The U.S. Ambassador was also warned that Kuwait would then suspend all commercial operations and diplomatic relations. . . KREMLIN'S STRATEGY — U.S. intelligence sources have warned President Johnson that the Kremlin's oil maneuver is part of an overall plan to try to drive the British and U.S. from the Middle East. . . By offering technical help and new markets in Eastern Europe, they point out, the Russians hope to use the growing anti-American sentiments in these Arab nations to encourage their governments to do the job for them. . . In Russian-bordering Iran, American oil companies haven't helped the situation. In recent weeks they've rejected requests by the Shah to increase production and his revenues for the development of Iran. This refusal persuaded the pro-U.S. Moslem leader to accept a Kremlin offer to buy Iranian oil for its satellites in Eastern Europe. . . With this foot in the door, the Russians are now offering the Shah vast amounts of equipment and hundreds of oil technicians. . . how important it was that she borrow five dollars. The time was further well spent—by my own values—because I convinced her that she shouldn't try to borrow it from me!

Where Your Tax Money Is Going

Chicago Tribune

Protests over the granting of an $8,789 federal subsidy to a British citizen for a study of comic strips have led to some other interesting disclosures about how President Johnson's new National Foundation on Arts and Humanities is spending its money.

The foundation was authorized by Congress in 1965 as part of Mr. Johnson's federal culture kick, and it was originally slated to spend 60 million dollars in three years. . . Fortunately Congress appropriated only 9 million dollars in this effort last fall. It would have been more fortunate still if it had appropriated none at all. . . What counts most in life is not what you have in your pocket or head, but what you have in your heart. Character is all that you are. To fail is not to be lacking in character, but to be lacking in character is to fail. . . Taxpayers who are interested in the London theater in the 18th century, for example, may be happy to know that $20,000 of their money has been awarded to a faculty member at George Washington university to compile "a biographical dictionary and census of theatrical performers on the stages of London and its suburbs from 1660 to 1801." . . Another $18,800 has gone to a study to determine whether Edmund Burke, the English statesman, actually wrote the 18th century journal, the Annual Register. A man at Indiana university has been granted $21,500 to produce an "annotated list of French prose fiction from 1700 to 1750." . . Rep. Durward G. Hall of Missouri, a Republican, has quite properly protested this sort of federal spending at a time when the taxpayers are being threatened with higher taxes to pay for the costs of the war in Vietnam. . . What Mr. Hall finds particularly shocking about the grant to the Englishman, one Dr. David Kunzle, is that his subsidized study of comic-strips has not deterred him from leading demonstrations against the Vietnam war. Mr. Hall asked that this grant be rescinded and that others be reexamined. . . In a broader sense, the absurd irrelevancy of some of the activities which American taxpayers are being asked to finance (by an administration, incidentally, which promised to eliminate all nonessential spending); illustrates the problem inherent in any federal culture program. If the administration itself decides how to distribute the money, it will be accused (and very likely justly) of turning the arts into a propaganda machine like Russia's. . . But if the money is administered independently, as it presumably is in the present instance, there is no telling where it will go. . . In short, the best culture program is probably none at all. If studies of comic strips, or of the 18th century London theater, or of French prose fiction, are important enough to deserve taxpayers' money during a war, they should certainly be able to

THE OTHER WARS—Heavier offshore bombardments of North Vietnam may be in the offing. The Navy is pressing for assignment of a second eighth-inch gun cruiser off the Vietnamese coast. In the past only one normally has been in service there at any one time. There are only four eight-inch gun cruisers in active service—two with the Pacific Fleet and two

Straight Talk

More to the Graduates
It's what you learn after you know it all that counts. Go to school not to make a living, but to make a life. Schools should not be for producing degrees but for producing character. Many schools can't possibly do that because their principals lack principles. Their teachers, PTAs, curricula, school boards, buildings and athletic programs are devoid of character.

It has been acknowledged that one-fourth of Adolph Hitler's concentration camp guards held doctorate degrees. Some of the most educated people are the most wicked. You have to be educated to even know how to commit some crimes!

Hamlet, a crazy, mixed-up kid, moaned: "The time is out of joint; oh cursed spite that ever I was born to set it right." The time has never been more out of joint than now. If you don't set it right, who will? Young people are the majority in this country.

Nature has given us two ears and only one mouth and they should be used in proportion. But as Mark Twain said: "Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed." Try to put your mind in gear before you start your mouth.

Felix Schelling has said: "True education makes for inequality; the inequality of individuality, the inequality of success; the glorious inequality of talent, of genius; for inequality, not mediocrity, individual superiority, not standardization, is the measure of the progress of the world."

There is not and can not be any such thing as equality. Free men are not equal and equal men are not free. We should be equal before the law and nowhere else.

What counts most in life is not what you have in your pocket or head, but what you have in your heart. Character is all that you are. To fail is not to be lacking in character, but to be lacking in character is to fail. . . The little voice inside you should be your conscience, not your pocket radio. You are what you eat, think and do and don't do. Some day you will sit down alone to a banquet of consequences. Your habits become you. Why start smoking to prove you are a man, when 20 years later you'll be trying to quit for the same reason? You know many fine folks who don't smoke or drink, but did you ever know a bum who didn't? . . . Your teacher might consider this ridiculous, if not illegal, but Patrick Henry was so right when he said: "This book (the Bible) is worth all the books which were ever printed."

Religion is the root of the morality tree. . . Once a farmer standing on the river bank handed his son a pail of garbage and said: "Son, get on your horse and take this garbage up to the bend in the river and dump it in and then ride immediately back here." Incredible, but obedient, the son carried out his father's mission and returned to his side. In a few minutes the old man pointed toward the water: "See that can and those bottles and the rotten apple bobbing? This river is like your mind. It becomes what is dumped into it. "Every time you read a pornographic book, see a dirty movie, listen to a filthy story, you are filling your river with garbage. Some of it may sink immediately and seem to be lost, but it will turn up later on, maybe when you least expect it, when you're studying, working, praying, sleeping. Everything you see, think and do makes a little dent in your brain. Isn't it better to keep the garbage out in the first place? Has any river been improved by garbage? Have you ever thought more of anybody who told you a filthy story? To educate is to make a piece of sculpture out of a hunk of granite. To fill the mind with evil is to break the hunk of granite into useless pieces. There are many things we are better off not knowing. That too is "academic freedom." The temptation to learn about good and evil was used by the devil in the Garden of Eden.

Doctor (to patient) — The check you gave me has come back. . . Patient — That's nothing, so did my arthritis. . . find support from the enormous private resources available to the American academic war.

H. L. Hunt Writes

FOR FREEDOM'S SAKE

A resolution is before Congress for a constitutional amendment to put into effect the Congressional District Plan for reform of the Electoral College. This proposed amendment provides for the naming of two presidential electors from each state at large and one elector for each Congressional District. Its approval would be a victory for the forces of freedom, who need a victory at this time.

Another proposed amendment would provide for the direct election of the President by popular vote. No more than two advantages can be claimed for this plan. It would reduce the excessive power of political machines in oversized cities by 20 per cent and prevent the election of minority popular vote presidents. Even these claimed advantages are of questionable merit, and they are far overbalanced by the real advantages of the Congressional District Plan. . . The District Plan would reduce the power of the mid-city political machines by 80 per cent instead of 20 per cent. As to minority presidents, Abraham Lincoln in 1860 was elected by the Electoral College with 40 per cent of the popular vote; Grover Cleveland in 1884 with 40 per cent popular vote, and eight years later with 46 per cent popular vote; wartime President Woodrow Wilson in 1912 with 42 per cent popular vote and in 1916 with 49 per cent popular vote. Few Americans could believe our nation would have been better served if their opponents had become President.

A crusade for the District Plan is of vital importance and can be participated in by all informed citizens.

There is currently a so-called grass roots movement under way entitled "Reagan for President." The membership fee is only one buck and you get a membership card and a supply of material to be used in booming the merits of Mr. Reagan to anyone who will listen. . . Probably scores of sincere, well-meaning citizens who are distraught to the point of frustration with the current crop of political politruons will grab at this apparent "only chance" to voice their disapproval. If they do, they'll be committing a grave error. . . The "Reagan for President" movement is pure politics, nothing else. It is my understanding it is to develop as much publicity as the committee's stated public support for Reagan as they ran, with a view toward getting him the nomination at the next convention. However, if he is not successful in winning the nomination, they intend to throw their full support to WHOMEVER THE PARTY SELECTS. . . A membership in the "Reagan for President" movement is actually a pledged support of the Republican Party, pure and simple. Romping Ronald is only the sugar coating on a bitter pill. . . So-called spontaneous demonstrations are nothing new. They have been the effective tool of tyrants and would-be tyrants since the beginning of man. . . Don't let the first spell of spring delude your senses. If you plant cactus you won't get petunias. . . Wit and Whimsy
A businessman walked into a restaurant that had a sign in the window, "Mary's Home Cooking." He ordered his meal which he thoroughly enjoyed. Everday thereafter he returned to the restaurant. One day he got curious and said to the waiter, . . . Mr. Jones — I've been coming in here for quite a while but I've never seen Mary. Where is she? . . . Ted (the waiter) — Well, like the sign says, Mary's home cooking. . . A small boy was late for Sunday school. His teacher asked the cause. . . Little Tommy — I was going fishing, but my daddy wouldn't let me. . . Mrs. Brown (the teacher) — You're lucky to have a fine father like that. And I suppose he explained to you why you shouldn't go on Sunday. . . Little Tommy — Yes, Ma'am. He said there wasn't enough bait for both of us. . . Probably the best salesman in the world is a puppy selling himself to a small boy. . . Doctor — You look much better today. How's the pain? . . . John — She's visiting her mother. . . All you have to do to lose weight is mix plenty of self-control with everything you eat.

PINE TREE FEATURES

TYRANNUS PERENNIUS

It's spring, and many bright men are turning their fancies to gardening and politics. Budding candidates require an extremely long period of incubation; somewhere around twelve to eighteen months. So the political gardeners have been sowing their seeds throughout the country. In hopes that some will fall on fertile ground. . . In addition to seeds and good soil, the loving care of a dedicated gardener is required, and to secure this necessary service the tried and true process of a "grass roots" campaign is employed. Grass roots movements are supposedly the result of the masses of people banding together in a spontaneous, overflowing burst of human energy. These movements carry with them the spirit of angelic innocence and unquestioned purity of purpose: "The Will of the People."

As in all "spontaneous" demonstrations, only those that are well planned and directed ever succeed. Where does the plan originate? Why, from those persons or groups of persons with a particular objective in mind and with enough perseverance to see it through. . . There is currently a so-called grass roots movement under way entitled "Reagan for President." The Doctor Says:
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Hot Packs As Effective As Facial Sauna Unit
Q—What do you think of using a facial sauna unit for acne? What is the best treatment for these blemishes?
A—A sauna unit brings moist heat to the skin. The same result can be obtained with hot packs. Moist heat by itself will not cure acne. You should cut your intake of salt. Iodized salt should be strictly avoided. Recent reports indicate that small doses of tetracycline or erythromycin help many persons with acne. Other doctors have found benzoyl peroxide alone or in combination with other drugs helpful. All the drugs mentioned are obtainable only on a doctor's prescription.

Q—Is it harmful to pinch or squeeze pimples?
A—Yes, because this allows infection to enter the skin or, if the lesions are already infected, it favors spread of the infection.

Q—I am a woman, 53, and in good health. I have suddenly developed sore spots on my scalp that come and go. What causes them and what can I do for them?
A—This may be acne necrotica—no connection with the acne so common in teenagers. Try rubbing a 10 per cent white ammoniated mercury ointment in your scalp at night two or three times a week and wash it out in the morning.

Q—What sort of help can be given a person with a moderately severe paranoid personality?
A—A paranoid is unduly suspicious and distrustful. As his disease progresses, he develops an elaborate, system of delusions of persecution. Such persons, if not committed to a mental institution, may go berserk. In any event, expert psychiatric treatment is essential.

Q—Is the removal of the thyroid gland a dangerous operation? How long would one need to recuperate in the hospital? If I were in the early stage of pregnancy, would the operation harm the unborn child?
A—There is some danger associated with any operation but with modern surgical technique the danger has been greatly reduced. The modern trend is to get the patient up on the day following operation and, after another day or two in the hospital, let him recuperate at home. Far from harming the unborn child the operation, if needed to correct an overactive thyroid, would improve the chances for a healthy baby.

Barbecue to Be Served During Palo Duro 'Texas' Production

A barbecue supper will be served this summer at the Palo Duro Canyon amphitheater from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. each evening the production, "Texas," is presented.

Patrons who go to the canyon early may plan to have a typical western supper at the theater and be on hand to enjoy the lengthening evening shadows while they eat.

The announcement of this new service at the theater was made in notice sent to members of the board of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation inviting them to a supper on Tuesday, June 13, which will be a trial run for the procedures which will be used during the summer. While in the canyon for this sample supper the members of the board will inspect the new concrete crossover back stage which was built by Gilvin-Terrill and the enlargement of the women's rest room which is in process now. The crossover will enable directors to shorten the production somewhat, since movement from one back stage area to the other can be made much more quickly.

Rehearsals for the 1967 edition of the musical drama by Paul Green, "Texas" began on Saturday, June 3. In practice session which last eight hours a day, the actors start with conditioning exercises so they can do the running, climbing and dancing needed in the show without loss of breath or apparent effort. They sing an hour or two since all actors appear in the two overtures to the two acts, then read lines, practice blocking action study scripts, try on costumes, have photographs taken, tape special sequences and drill until the characterizations they have developed become part of them. Three and a half weeks of eight hour a day rehearsals are barely enough to produce a finished production.

William Moore, the director, has announced that Andrew White who was selected for the part of Uncle Henry has had part of Uncle Henry's part changed his plans because of serious illness in his family. The part will be played by Charles Zimmermann, a graduate of the University of Texas who studied to become a teacher. Working in the Little Theater of Austin, he became so interested in acting that he changed his profession. Now a resident of Hollywood, Zimmermann has appeared in professional theatre in Hollywood, New York, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and was heard a year ago in an important role in the CBS Hansel and Gretel production.

Britain's Julie Christie Stars In All American Film 'Petulia'

By DICK KLEINER

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — "Petulia" is an interesting movie in production. Basically, it is a British film — a British company, a British-based director, British technicians in the key spots on the crew — but it is set in the United States and is being filmed entirely on location here.

C. Scott, Richard Chamberlain, Shirley Knight, Arthur Hill, Joseph Cotten—need no such explanation.
At the moment, the company is shooting in Tiburon, a Bay-side town across the Golden Gate bridge. They have rented a lovely mansion on Keil Cove, a big old house with a sweeping view and glorious gardens.
The owners were sent to Europe by the company, so the house would be vacant. That, and a complete inside and outside repainting job, constituted the rental. The owner didn't want the money; it might "upset his tax structure."

The company was happy to oblige. The interior redecoration was important. Director Richard Lester — he did the Beatles' films and "The Knack" and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" — believes that he can describe character through the surroundings.
The living room, as production designer Tony Walton (Julie Andrews' ex-husband), decorated it, is a strange amalgam of old and new. It's all white and blue — white walls, rugs, furniture and blue high spots. All the books in the shelves have blue bindings. The paintings on the walls feature blue. One very modern painting — two blue sweeps on a white background — Walton knocked off the night before they moved in.

The cast, with the exception of the major star, Julie Christie, is all American. The script explains her being English in one line. The others — George Wagner had used up all his savings by this time. But he felt he had to go to London to nail down all the loose ends. He borrowed the money for the plane fare.

Eventually, we worked it out."

Panhandle Water Conservation News

By FELIX W. RYALS

When the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District No. 3, south of the Canadian River, in Texas, came into being in Jan. 23, 1956, it took on the problem of protecting and conserving underground water within the area.

Under Article 7880-3C of the 1953 legislature, Water Conservation Districts were given authority to enact reasonable rules and regulations to protect and conserve waters within the state. Under this statute the water conservations set up rules based on the law, to prevent the waste of water.

For several years after formation of the district, wasted water caused little concern. It was not until water, or the lack of water, became one of the biggest news items that people became concerned about water being wasted in road ditches adjoining irrigation farmers.

Since 1958 the problem of waste water (tail water) from irrigation wells has increased. Studies made of the underground water formation on the high plains have shown we can expect to start running out of available underground water by the year 1980.

We have now reached the situation where we must take every precaution to use water wisely.

Water Production Rules

Rules and regulations of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District prohibit production of water from the underground reservoir when that water is not used for a beneficial purpose.

Rules one and two of the district's Rules and Regulations state the following:

"The producing of wells from an underground water reservoir when the water produced therefrom is not used for a beneficial purpose is prohibited.

"Willfully causing suffering, or permitting underground water produced for irrigation or agricultural purposes to escape into any river, creek, or other natural water course, depression, or lake, reservoir, drain or into any sewer, street, high way, road, road ditch, or upon the land of any other person than the owner of such well, or upon public land is prohibited.

"Underground water shall not be produced within or used within or without the district, in such a manner as to constitute waste.

"Any person producing or using underground water shall use every possible precaution, in accordance with the most approved methods, to stop and prevent waste of such water," according to the district's regulations.

Purposes for Water

Paragraph seven of Section A of Article 7880-3C sets out the beneficial purposes for which water is to be produced:

"Beneficial purpose" means use of underground water for agricultural, gardening, domestic, stock raising, municipal or mining purposes. It also means use for exploring for producing, handling and treating of oil, gas, sulphur or other minerals for manufacturing, industrial, commercial, recreational, or pleasure purposes or any other purpose that is useful and beneficial to the user thereof.

Paragraph eight of Section B of the same article states that it is the district's duty to develop comprehensive plans for the most efficient use of underground water, or the underground water reservoir or subdivision thereof, and for control and prevention of waste of such underground water, which plans shall specify in such detail as may be practicable the acts, procedures, performance and avoidance which are or may be necessary to effect such plans, including specifications therefor.

Ways to Save Water

Since 1962 a number of irrigation farmers in the district have installed waste water or tail water recovery systems. All who have installed tail water recovery systems have discovered the systems pay for themselves in a short time. A number have reported sizable profits from installing recovery systems.

Complaints on tail water waste from irrigation wells have reached peak proportions.

During the May 1, 1967 quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Panhandle Water Conservation District notice was taken of the increased number of tail water waste complaints. The board decided to take definite action to prevent continued waste of irrigation water in road ditches, creeks, and lakes in the district.

Reeves Honored For 4-H Service

Alvin Reeves, a 4-H leader, was Gray County's nominee for the Texas 4-H youth Development Foundation Awards.

Each of the 22 counties in district one entered a 4-H leader in the contest. The winner from district one was to receive a plaque this weekend at the annual 4-H roundup at Texas A&M University at College Station.

ALVIN REEVES
4-H leader

Two Pampa area 4-H girls, Mignon Nickel of Lefors and Judy Cox of Pampa placed third in the civil defense contest at roundup, held earlier this week.

The two girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cox and Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Nickel, both received a bronze medal. They competed against 11 4-H teams of two youths each.

Reeves has worked with youths for about eight years and has been a 4H leader in the Top O' Texas 4-H Club and worked with the Horse and Pony Club four years.

He has been a delegate to the district adult leaders' association, and was elected adult delegate to a recreation workshop held here in April.

The horse judging team he coaches won district events and went to state contests in 1963 and 1966.

He has also served as a Boy Scout leader three years and has been a worker in parent-teacher organizations 12 years.

Reeves helped organize the first Kid Pony Rodeo in 1947 and will be chairman for the district 4-H Horse show which will be held here July 14.

HITCHING A RIDE home on the back of a water buffalo is part of the daily routine for this Thai farm boy. It's the custom in Thailand's northeast provinces, in the news recently because of increasing Communist subversive activity, to drive farm animals home from the rice fields and bed them down.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
We salute those cattle hedgers who sold their August contract in January for $28, but bought it back for $26.

Those of you who stayed with the hedge as you are told to by all recognized authority have my sympathy. We do have some information for both groups we think would interest you.

This information did not come from our crystal ball that predicted the $2 wheat. We obtained this from one of the most highly recognized and respected livestock marketing economists in the nation by long distance telephone call at our expense.

He is the well-known price forecaster who isn't afraid to stick his neck out. He is J. C. Bottom, assistant head, Agricultural Economic Department at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. We see his economic prediction in many farm publications.

August Cattle Prices

At the time I visited with him, choice cattle were bringing around 26 cents in Chicago. My question to Bottom was, "What will choice steers bring in Chicago in August?"

Bottom's reply was, "There is a 60 to 70 per cent chance that will be from $1.50 to $2 higher than today's market. There is a 10 to 20 per cent chance they might be $3 more than today. There is a little chance the market will go the other way."

What really impressed me was the fact Bottom had bought August and December contracts. . . . at what level I do not know. But apparently he wasn't planning to sell the contracts at the present price.

You take the information for what it is worth to you. If it makes you any money, come by and help me pay for the telephone call.

Wheat Spraying Rules — Jack Benton came by the office last week to see if it was permissible under the Food and Drug regulations to spray wheat for weeds. To check this out, we contacted Dr. Allen Wiese at the Bushland Experiment Station.

He advised me, after conferring with College Station, there was no time limit involved. He said you could spray one day and cut your wheat the next day. Out course, the value of your spraying would be questionable.

According to Mason Cloud, Texas Forest Service, a total of $3,350 windbreak seedlings of several species were shipped to Gray County in the early part of 1967 for planting on farms and ranches.

Varieties of Seedlings Varieties included Austrian Pine, Loblolly Pine, Ponderosa Pine, Shortleaf and Slash Pine. Other varieties included Red Cedar, Black Locust, Catalpa, Chinese Elm, Cottonwood, Mulberry, and Sycamore.

Beginning in the fall of each year the Texas Forest Service accepts orders for these seedlings which are shipped soon after the first of the following year. Cost is a nominal $1.50 per 100 seedlings. We will receive order blanks in September for the 1967-68 year. Contact us if you are interested.

We congratulate Mrs. Gail Nunez, assistant home demonstration agent and her Civil Defense team for placing third in state 4-H competition. Team members were Mignon Nickel of Lefors and Judy Cox of 733 Deane Dr. Mignon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Nickel. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cox of Pampa.

This team competed with top teams from 11 other extension districts, representing over 230 counties in Texas.
