Palestine and Israeli Troop Clash Reported

U.S. Embassy Orders American Evacuation

BULLETIN

CAIRO (UPI) — A United Arab Republic military spokesman said today Palestine Liberation Army troops and Israeli patrols clashed Wednesday night along the armistice demarcation line in the Gaza sector.

CAIRO (UPI) — United Nations Secretary General U Thant cut short an apparently unsuccessful peace mission to Cairo today and left for New York. The war threat remained so grave the U.S. embassy ordered the "temporary evacuation" of American dependents from Egypt.

The embassy ordered the evacuation of the 433 American women and children in the United Arab Republic to begin Saturday and said, "similar measures will probably be taken in other areas, but the details are not yet known here."

U.S. tourists already were leaving Israel.

The embassy officially advised non-official Americans residing in Egypt to leave as long as commercial transportation was still available. There are 3,000 Americans in Egypt, 1,000 in an official capacity.

The British mission in the Canadian Embassy also announced it is evacuating its 35 women and children dependents. The British do not have an embassy in Cairo. The Canadians did not order their own dependents to leave.

Thant met with U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser for three hours at dinner Wednesday night and emerged looking grim and tired. He conferred again today with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad who saw him off.

A U.N. spokesman said the talks took place "in an extremely friendly and cordial atmosphere" and that Thant decided to cut short his visit because he already had completed his task in Cairo.

The authoritative Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, which usually reflects the views of the government, said Nasser told Thant Egypt is ready to help ease the threat of an Arab-Israeli war, and that Nasser said he is fully ready to cooperate for peace-keeping action.

But Nasser said the help would be on condition that any settlement does no harm to Arab rights of sovereignty and security. It was in the name of these rights the U.A.R. blockaded the Gulf of Aqaba and there was no indication Nasser was ready to lift the blockade.

CONFERRING IN CAIRO, United Nations Secretary General U Thant meet with United Arab Republic Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad, right, and President Gamal Abdel Nasser in an effort to head off Mideast hostilities.

'Package Deal' May Be Russia's Aim in Mideast

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union was reported today to be aiming for a "package deal," linking a Mideast peace commitment to de-escalation of the Vietnam war.

Diplomatic reports said the Soviets are playing hard to get for a joint east-west Mideast peace initiative, pointing to the American "aggression" in Vietnam as the major obstacle to cooperation.

All the indications point to Moscow's determination to exploit the current Mideast crisis to the hilt, using it for a further Soviet entrenchment in the area and as a means of diplomatic pressure on American Vietnam policy, the reports said.

The Russians were said to be using the argument that the Vietnam war makes cooperation with the Americans on peace moves in the Middle East difficult, if not impossible.

In Moscow British Foreign Secretary George Brown is currently seeking to win Russian cooperation for a Mideast peace initiative.

Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin told him pointedly Wednesday that the solution of the world's problems "does not depend on you and me."

In London, Communist diplomats were dropping strong hints that the Mideast crisis cannot be seen "in isolation," and must be tackled in the light of "American aggression elsewhere," especially in Vietnam.

Diplomatic observers cautioned that there is therefore more to the present crisis than meets the eye.

They recalled that last month Soviet Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev called at a conference of party leaders in Kurlöv, Vary, Czechoslovakia, for the removal of the American 6th Fleet from the Mediterranean.

U.S. Suffers Record Casualties Past Week

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States suffered a record 2,650 combat casualties in the Vietnam war last week including a new high of 337 men killed, American spokesmen said today.

They said 2,282 Americans were wounded and 31 listed as missing last week besides the 337 slain.

The previous high death toll for a week was 274. Savage fighting on the North-South Vietnam border last week ushered in the record killing.

The losses, suffered in repeated Communist assaults from within the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) which the Allies finally invaded Thursday, boosted to 10,253 the number of Americans slain and 61,425 the number wounded in the war.

Spokesmen said the Communists suffered 2,464 men killed last week—far greater than the number of Allied troops slain. But it was still short of the Communist high of 2,774 men killed in the week ending March 25, U.S. officials said.

They said the South Vietnamese troops lost 241 men killed and other Free World forces 50 more men slain last week. This meant 3.9 Communists died for every Allied soldier slain.

The previous high of 274 Americans slain came during the weeks ending March 25 and May 6. The week ending March 18 had marked the previous high number of wounded, 1,874. Military spokesmen said the

France Presses Moscow, London Over Conference

PARIS (UPI) — France today pressed Moscow and London to agree to a peace conference on the Middle East which the United States has already approved.

There was no formal reply from the British or Soviets to President Charles de Gaulle's call for a four-nation conference to find a way to preserve peace in the Mideast, government sources said.

Informed sources, however, said Britain favored such a meeting. The sources said French officials were staying in touch with the four capitals to try to get such a conference underway. The questions of where such a meeting would take place and at what level it would be held were up in the air.

The United States accepted De Gaulle's proposal Wednesday in a U.N. speech by Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg only hours after it was offered.

French Information Minister Georges Gorse announced the proposal following the weekly French cabinet meeting Wednesday. De Gaulle personally outlined his plan to Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban who arrived in Paris Wednesday en route to London and New York.

Eban stopped in Paris to sound a meeting between the four powers and called De Gaulle Israel's "very great friend" following his 35-minute conference with the French president.

Government sources said De Gaulle was also working on an answer to a note sent him by U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Court-Martial Defense Attorney May Go To Vietnam for Evidence

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (UPI) — The chief attorney for an Army captain being courtmartialed on disloyalty charges said he may go to Vietnam to gather more evidence of alleged American war crimes.

Charles Morgan said his proposed trip to the Southeast Asia war zone would depend upon whether certain testimony is allowed in the courtmartial of Capt. Howard Levy.

Col. Earl V. Brown was to rule when the trial resumed (at 12 noon today) whether the statements of a former Green Beret sergeant could be heard by the full 10-member court-martial board.

Former M. Sgt. Donald Duncan, now military editor of Ramparts Magazine, testified Wednesday he once was ordered by a superior officer to kill four Viet Cong prisoners.

Morgan of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), is defending Levy against disloyalty charges on grounds that U.S. Special Forces troops are "murderers" who commit crimes against humanity in Vietnam. Levy, a 30-year-old dermatologist from Brooklyn, N.Y., is accused of refusing to obey orders to train Green Beret medics in how to treat skin diseases and with telling Negro soldiers not to fight in Vietnam.

Brown, law officer of the courtmartial, has ruled that under precedent set at the trial of Nazi war criminals at Nuremberg, Germany, Levy can be cleared if he can prove he would have contributed to crimes against humanity by obeying orders.

Duncan, who served in Vietnam before resigning from the Army to write a Ramparts article entitled "I Quit," said he was on a Special Forces patrol that captured four Viet Cong. He said he asked headquarters for instructions on what to do with his prisoners. "Over the radio came back the command, 'get rid of them,'" Duncan said.

IN HOUSE TODAY

Minimum Wage Sponsors to Make Move

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — House sponsors of a state minimum wage planned today to make their move for a floor vote on a "watered" down version of the controversial issue. But, it is expected to be short lived.

Rep. Honore Ligarde of Laredo said he would ask for a suspension of the rules to bring up the bill. The attempt will be a last-ditch effort after hopes to get it set on regular business failed.

However, the suspension route alone is expected to kill the bill, since supporters are not believed to have near the two-thirds vote necessary to bring it up.

The House will also be put on record on a parimutuel horse race issue, this time on regular calendar. However, the vote will be only on a referendum to let Texans have a straw vote on whether or not they want the "hot potato," and go on the parimutuel bill itself, which is tied up in rules committee.

If the wage bill had come up on regular business, a simple majority could move it forward, and Ligarde has said he feels he has about 75 to 80 votes in the 150-member House.

Actually, the bill is so watered-down from the originally in-

WATER USE IN PAMPA — Mayor Jim Nation, right, and Fred Vanderburg Sr. discuss possible growth of water use here while looking over a city water system map. Nation was named one of 10 directors-at-large and Vanderburg was named district four director of the Water Association to Expand Resources, (WATER) Inc. yesterday at the organization's meeting in Lubbock.

Water Inc. Organized

By WANDA HUFF, News Staff Writer

It will take 15 years or more, but with the help of millions of dollars said several hundred people, including Mayor Jim Nation and Fred Vanderburg Sr. of Pampa, this area could become an oasis on the Great Plains.

The two Pampa men were part of more than 4,500 water conservationists from West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle who met in Lubbock yesterday to formally organize Water Association to Expand Resources (WATER) Inc.

After hearing talks on the West Texas and High Plains water problem and reports on plans to import water into this area from the Mississippi River, the audience and general membership of WATER Inc. approved election of 23 district directors, 10 directors-at-large and six advisory directors.

Vanderburg will head district No. 4, which includes Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Roberts and Donley counties.

George McCleskey, a Lubbock attorney, explained the organization's charter, which has been accepted by the Texas secretary of state in Austin, will be filed with Oklahoma and New Mexico for WATER Inc. to do business in those states, as well as Texas.

"We are working on a tax exempt status for the organization, but as yet that ruling has not been obtained for membership fees and dues and other contributions to WATER Inc.," McCleskey said.

According to the charter, the organization will have no stockholders but will be made up of regular and associate members. Directors will serve three years with the terms of one-third of them expiring each year. The charter also states, Mc-

Price Cites Need For Restoration Of Domestic Oil

WASHINGTON (SpI) — In testifying on the oil import program Congressman Bob Price warned that "foreign oil supplies might suddenly be cut off." He reminded Secretary of Interior officials who conducted the hearings of current threats by Pan-Arab labor unions to blow up western installations and strike against the western air and sea traffic.

Price recalled the Suez crisis of 1956 when pipe lines were blown up. "This is certainly not an idle threat," he added. "The explosive world situation including the huge Russian submarine fleet is a real threat to whatever dependence we may have on foreign oil." Price testified: "And some action is necessary to restore the domestic oil industry to a healthy state and reassure our people that their interests are being safeguarded by our government."

Price also testified for the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association as to the depressed condition of the contract drilling business and the fact that many rigs have been scrapped and would not be available in a crash-emergency program.

Trustees Table Building Debate

Trustees of the Pampa Independent School District this morning tabled discussion on the proposed building program and decided to have called meetings during June to discuss separately each phase of the improvement program, first on the elementary level, then senior and junior high schools.

It was the board's opinion improvements needed in the school system are so ponderous, priorities must be determined on the basis of each school's needs before a plan of recommendation can be presented to the taxpayer.

Dan Johnson, Travis Elementary School principal, appeared before the board with a presentation requesting that Travis be permitted to enter the Continuous Progress Program in the fall of 1967. A pilot program has been in progress at the school this year with evidenced success, Johnson said. The board gave its approval for Grades One, Two and Three to enter the non-graded program on a trial basis next year.

Following the board's three-year plan for purchase of band instruments, approval was given for the purchase of instruments in the amount of $5,549.02, based on a bid from the Megett Music Co. Harris Brinson, tor, said these were brass instruments, which will be distributed at high school and the two junior high schools.

Based on lack of interest in elementary summer school sessions, with only 31 students registering for courses in arithmetic, reading, English and history, the board accepted the school superintendent's recommendation that elementary summer school not be conducted.

New Water Group Lists Directors

The board of directors of WATER, Inc. yesterday elected John F. Kendrick of Brownfield as president of the new association to bring water into Texas, and Oklahoma Panhandles and Eastern New Mexico.

Pampa's Mayor Jim Nation was one of 10 directors-at-large and Fred Vanderburg Sr. of Pampa, was named director of district four, which includes Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Roberts and Donley Counties.

Kendrick, a banker, is also president of South Plains Underground Water District No. 4, which serves Cherry, Yoakum and Gaines counties.

Other officers elected by WATER Inc. (Water Association to Expand Resources) board of directors were K. B. (Tex) Watson of Amarillo, first vice president; Gaston Wells of Dumas, second vice president, James Collins of Plainview secretary, and Jim Ed Waller of Lubbock, treasurer.

The executive committee includes the president, first vice president, and a five-man board, consisting of A. C. Verrier of Lubbock, Homer Garrison of Plainview, J. D. Smith of Littlefield, A. L. Black of Friona and J. W. Buchanan of Dumas.

According to the by-laws, adopted in WATER Inc.'s charter yesterday, the board of directors has complete authority of the organization, including setting of boundaries.

CALIFORNIANS ASK:

Is Watts Due for Another Hot Summer?

By MAGGIE BELLOW, UPI Urban Affairs Writer
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Near Success Avenue on Charcoal Alley is the Watts Happening coffee house.
 Battered survivor of fires that destroyed an estimated $50,000,000 worth of property within the 46-square-mile "curfew area" black belt of Los Angeles two years ago this August, it today is the hangout for many of the young men caught up in the riots that took 34 lives and shocked the country.
 "What's happening in Watts? 'Nothing you can see,'" says Tut Hayes, director of the church-supported center which serves as a painting and sculpturing studio, writers' workshop, jazz joint and a neighborhood drop-in.
Dismal Scene
 Charcoal Alley, officially 108rd Street, looks much as it did after the smoke and rubble cleared. Clumps of grass push through the abandoned parking lots; there are no new buildings anywhere; homes are empty where people have moved.
 Few of the businesses anywhere in the curfew area have re-opened—insurance rates are high and loans difficult to get. The White Front store a few miles away, employing 50 Negroes, is the only national chain store to rebuild after the holocaust. There is only one new business of any size, a manufacturing plant with a payroll of about 150 persons.
 There is a new bus line crossing the isolated area where most of Los Angeles' 650,000 Negroes live. Financed by a Housing and Urban Development experimental grant, it carries an estimated 288 workers to new-found jobs near the airport.

Hard-Core Unemployment
 The unemployment rate in Watts is still high—more than 13 per cent compared with 4.2 per cent for Los Angeles county. This is despite the efforts of the management council, established by H. C. (Chad) McClellan to seek workers for industrial jobs.
 There are also two skill centers which have trained about 250 workers, arranged on-the-job training for another 200, and are training 1,000 more. Also operating is the Opportunities Industrialization Center, backed by the Ford Foundation, which is concentrating on 275 "hard core" trainables.
 But jobs still don't come easy. Judging from welfare statistics, things are worse in Watts than two years ago. The until 31 per cent of the residents now receive help. Estimates of unemployment range as high as 50,000 in the area.
 Things are happening, nevertheless, in the Watts Happening coffee house and other parts of the black belt. New, vital leadership and spirit is arising among what the Negroes refer to as the "grass roots" people.
Local Action
 Assisted mostly by individuals, foundations and government grants (estimated at more than $30 million spent mainly in job training programs), the really concerned people are setting out themselves to get things done, organize politically, find new pride and power in being black.

 "What's happening, baby? What we make happen," is the way Billy Tidwell, organizer of the "Sons of Watts Improvement Association," puts it.
 This group of 120 young men are mostly young men with police records.
 They first organized as voluntary patrolmen to keep order during last summer's three-day jazz and art festival. Since then, they have repaired a burned-out gas station to train upholders, collected 200 oil drums and painted them yellow to spark up a clean-up drive, ripped down weeds and rubble in burned-out lots and made angels to brighten Charcoal Alley at Christmas.
The "Unreachables"
 "We're the unreachables reaching ourselves," says president Willie Sampson. "We're going to get out of this bag."
 Author Budd Schulberg, one of the first volunteers on the scene after the riots, raised funds for a workshop from 100 writers around the country. He helped polish the talents of several budding young writers.
 Harry Dolan's script, "Losers, Weepers," filmed on the streets of Watts with local actors, was an NBC play; Jimmy Sherman's script, "Man With Trumpet," written, filmed and produced by locals, led to a grant by the Kettering Foundation for the Muntu Institute, run by Bill Marshall, who also organized L.E. (Learning, Earning, Action, Progress).

 Using $4,000 from churches in Los Angeles, and with help from 10 Harvard and Princeton volunteers including one Rhodes scholar and a Ph.D. LEAP attracted 60 pupils from third grade to high school, and a volunteer local high school teacher.
 Teachers concentrated on individual teaching, in English and arithmetic, rewarding the children with shiny nickels for good work.
Education Key
 It worked. Grades went up to B's for most students. The children's pride went up, too. Today they show up minutes after school lets out and often forget to ask for their nickels.
 "One way to break the ghetto is to break the chains of ignorance," says Len Streeter, one of the teachers.
 In a garage on South Central which escaped the August holocaust, two men, Louis Smith, western regional director for CORE and Robert Hall of the Non Violent Action Committee, opened "Operation Bootstrap" with $1,000 borrowed without collateral from a Negro businessman.
 Ghetto, ingenuity, Bootstrap spurred government aid, asked local businesses for paint, lumber, asphalt tiles, typewriters, power siren and key-punch machines.
 About 100 unemployed, volunteer carpenters built classrooms, laid odd-lot tiles on the floor to read, "Learn, Baby, Learn."

More than 150 are graduated and employed, another 70 are now in classes.
Need Time, Help
 "Job training is mostly changing attitudes, wiping out hostility, expanding limited horizons, knocking out that bag that we're only half as good as whites," says Smith. "We have to produce black power; time to get off the talking game and no it."
 Lloyd G. Bailey, polio-paralyzed contractor who has lived there 40 years, says: "This was once a beautiful community. We're sad it burned up. And we're grateful for everything anybody does to help us build it up again. We're going to do just that—with your help, and our spirit."
 What Watts needs is time, in addition to help.
NEAT WORKER
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI)—The burglar who ransacked the home of B. R. McCoy really cleaned up.
 McCoy said that although the thief stole $60 in cash and some costume jewelry, he emptied the ash trays, cleaned up the living room and took out the trash.
 The coffin-shaped box has been dubbed "The Jolly Green Giant's Grave."

U.S., India To Team Up In Rainmaking

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and India are going to team up on a study of experimental rainmaking next month that President Johnson says "may hold promise for drought-ridden countries all over the world."
 Johnson made the announcement of the study Tuesday at the opening session of the 80-nation "water for peace" conference here. He also said that he had directed Secretary of State Dean Rusk to establish a water for peace office to step up this country's efforts to solve global water problems.
 A State Department spokesman said a team of two or three scientists from American universities would go to New Delhi early next month to begin the discussions with Indian scientists.
 The initial phase of the talks, they said, would involve a possible project for seeding clouds to bring rain to various areas of the subcontinent where serious water shortages are causing major food shortages and health problems.
 "Chinese is the language spoken by the greatest number of native people in the world, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica."

The rise in personal income during 1967 is expected to be about $35 billion, less than the $45 billion during 1966 but still producing the biggest consumer market in history.

Pampa Coed Elected To Social Office

Norma Reed, freshman from Pampa, has been elected treasurer of Metah Moe, Lubbock Christian College women's social club, for 1967-68.
 Miss Reed is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Reed, 101 S. Nelson, Pampa.
 A 1966 graduate of Pampa High School, Miss Reed was a member of the volleyball team. Miss Reed is a physical education major at L.C.C.
 Other officers elected were Libby Castleberry of Denver City, president; Linda Hightower of Dallas, vice president; Rena McBroom of Brady, secretary; Judy Yowell of Brownfield, reporter; Susan Iverson of Snyder, keeper of the garter; and Carolyn Moore of Lawton, Okla., historian.

Public Information Explained to Rotary

Future Communications of America were explained to members of the Pampa Rotary Club at the group's regular luncheon meeting yesterday.

in the Coronado Inn. Glenn Scott of Dallas, who is public information supervisor for the Bell Telephone system in Texas, presented the program. He was introduced by George Newberry.

Catholics Vary in Attitudes Over Vatican Council Reforms

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A New Orleans woman likes celebrating the Mass in English. A Denver nun thinks Catholics are confused by their freedom to add a layman to the clerical celebrant, the priest favoring and the layman opposing it. The Catholic attitudes toward the Vatican reforms.)

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Roman Catholic Church in the United States has barely begun to implement the reforms decreed by the Vatican Council. But the relatively modest changes already made are stirring unprecedented turmoil into the once-staid old institution.

Jarred out of familiar ways, some American Catholics are puzzled and distressed. Many more, however, are exhilarated by a new sense of freedom and participation. Some, having tasted the heady wine of more drastic innovations.

These conclusions emerged from a nationwide UPI survey in which reporters interviewed Catholic priests, nuns and laymen about the reformation now underway in the 46-million-member church, America's largest religious body.

The survey disclosed that modification of the church's stand on birth control is considered "urgent" by most of the clergy and an overwhelming majority of the laity.

Prefer Optional Celibacy

It also showed that many Catholics would like to see clerical celibacy made optional rather than mandatory. There is, however, substantial opposition to this idea, among priests as well as laymen.

Responses from all parts of the country indicated that only two of the many reforms authorized by the Vatican Council thus far have been really felt by the average man in the pew.

One is the revamping of Catholic liturgy, intended to convert the laity from passive spectators into active participants in the celebration of the Mass. On the whole, this has been greeted with enthusiasm.

"The Mass in English is popular with most people I know," said Mrs. Andrew Kreutz, a New Orleans housewife. "I like it because it's easier to follow."

"I would say that four out of five of the people I come in contact with are favorable to the liturgical reforms," said Msgr. George Casey, pastor of St. Bridget's Church in Lexington, Mass.

Few Miss Latin

"Only a few miss the Latin," said Johnatta M. also, a coed at Drake University in Des Moines, Ia. "Most people are beginning to understand more of what is going on, and feel they are more a part of the Mass than before."

Jack Bickham, managing editor of the Oklahoma Courier, diocesan paper published in Oklahoma City, said a small but ardent minority of Catholic traditionalists have managed to create the impression of widespread dissatisfaction with the new vernacular Mass. But he said his own observations indicate that "only one or two per cent are actively opposed" to it.

There was general agreement "People who have heard only trained choirs are put off when the entire congregation sings," said the Rev. Joseph F. McGann, assistant pastor of the Church of Notre Dame in New York.

Fr. James J. McGivern, a theologian at St. John's University in Jairo, N.Y., offered a different explanation for the unpopularity of hymn singing. Many Catholics, he said, feel that it is "too protestant."

Dislike Jazz Masses

So-called "jazz masses" or "folk masses," sung to the accompaniment of guitar music, drew sharply disapproving remarks from several respondents who were otherwise in favor of liturgical reform.

The modernizing of the music can be overdone, said a Philadelphia nun. (The Vatican agrees. It warned recently against the use of "profane and worldly music... not suited to a sacred action.")

The other widely-felt reform is the new penitential rite which leaves it up to the individual's conscience whether to go without meat on Friday or undertake some other form of self-denial. When U.S. Catholic bishops announced this change last November, they expected it to be extremely popular.

It isn't. "More than half the respondents said they're sorry the church put fasting on a volunteer basis. Implicit in many replies was a strong indication that Catholic laymen, accustomed to being told clearly what they must or must not do, give freedom of choice and the personal responsibility that accompanies it."

Miss Traditional Law

Fr. Joseph S. Wichmanowski, pastor of a Polish-Italian parish in Pittsburgh, said many older Catholics miss the traditional law of Friday abstinence, because they have come to look upon it as a hallmark of Catholic devotion.

Sister Bridget Ann Hayes, who is working toward her Ph.D. in biology at Denver's University of Colorado, suggested that the decision to put abstinence on a voluntary basis would be more widely accepted if it were explained more fully. "Some people have not understood the reasons for the change, and they tend to be Vatican Council reforms—the better they are understood, the more warmly they are received."

A number of priests and laymen agreed that age is also an important factor.

"The older people find the changes more difficult, while the younger ones seem to like them very much," said Fr. Russell Collins, pastor of an inner city Boston parish.

ECONOMY CUT

VIENNA (UPI)—Czech officials have dismissed 10,500 coal miners in the district of Ostrava-Karvina since the beginning of 1966 and plan to lay off another 4,500 by the end of this year. Radio Bratislava reported Wednesday. A state official was quoted as saying the dismissals were necessary for the economy.

RABBIT'S REVENGE

LA GRANGE, Ind. (UPI)—After hitting a rabbit, Chas L. Ditaman stopped his car, picked up the lifeless animal and carried it to a grassy spot at the side of the road. Another car stopped behind Ditaman's car, but three others didn't. The collision resulted in an estimated $1,514 in damages and a traffic ticket for Ditaman.

Astrological Forecast

By CAROL R. RIGTER

FOR FRIDAY, MAY 26

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until mid-afternoon be sure you do not become engaged in some bitter argument over some partnership matter for neither you nor the other person would win and scars could result that it would be very difficult to eliminate. The evening is fine for getting everything organized on a more satisfactory basis.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — An argument between a higherup and an associate should not be entered into since it does not concern you and could be rather troublesome. Try not to force others to do what you want them to. Be more diplomatic.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Although you are tempted to run off on some tangent with others, it is best you carry through with obligations that are very important. Be loyal with a co-worker who is worthy. Make much of this afternoon.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Use your ingenuity to increase abundance, but make sure you also pay off some important responsibility by keeping busy at practical affairs during day hours. You then can go out socially in p.m. and enjoy recreation you should have.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) — Analyze whatever will please kin more and then be generous and not so demanding as in the past. Get into new interests that give you a chance to serve others and have more harmony with everyone.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You can show your finest talents to others now but first be sure you capably complete tasks ahead of you. An associate may not agree with one of whom you are fond. Be neutral and all works out just fine.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Instead of being argumentative with one you love and possibly cause severance of connections, use reason and all goes very well. Entertain others. However, be sure you are not extravagant.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Be of assistance to kin who are in trouble over some situation about which you care little. Also this is not a good day to make those decisions that you believe will lead you to success. Be better informed.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — You have to be most careful while driving or there could be a serious accident today. There is a problem you want to get rid of. Don't go from bad to worse, though by acting swiftly, without sufficient forethought.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You have to schedule your time very wisely if you don't want to get monetary matters and good friends all mixed up. Do not be extravagant where some social affair is concerned. Use good sense.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Listening to what an influential person states is wise instead of endeavoring to foist your ideas on others, which are not apt to be very good right now. Be careful where your work is concerned. Do not jeopardize support you now have.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — It is better to complete that dull but important work before you get into some interest that is very much to your liking. Be sure you consider all factors before you say yes to one of whom you are most fond. Be sure.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — One you love can be very demanding as get out with good friends and not be over-subservient right now. Know what it is you want to do, either in business form or personal style. Forget cruelty and wrong judgments.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, could easily be one of those persons who are seldom grateful for anything and take everything for granted, if you do not teach early to be otherwise, and thereby increase success-possibilities in this chart. Send to college. Whatever is connected with property, or management is fine here — also art in all forms.

Mexico Now Boasts Manufactured Goods for Marketing in U.S.

DALLAS (UPI)—A Mexican government official on a trade mission looking for buyers and sellers for the Mexican market said Tuesday his country now produces manufactured goods as well as raw materials.

Ernesto Ramirez, traveling with the Mexican Trade Mission, will speak Thursday to the World Trade Council of Dallas on Mexican foreign trade policies.

"We are now in a position to sell not only crafts and raw materials but also a great variety of manufactured goods, such as crystal items, pipe, sports ammunition, electrical appliances," Ramirez said.

The trade mission included 22 men from various areas of Mexico, headed by H. Max Healey, vice president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico and chief of Compania Mexicana de Aviación, a airline with routes into Texas.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wright Investors' Service says it expects further price reaction to a moderately lower level early next month. The company says it would use this period of weakness to purchase "carefully selected, investment grade common stocks" which are at a favorable price level and which have good prospects for further improvement.

Stanley Heller & Co., believes the growing pattern of speculation in the stock market probably will continue to expand before any significant correction occurs. The company says the public is now catching the speculative fever, as well as performance-directed institutions.

volatility in many of the over-the-counter stocks.

Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co. says the Middle East crisis apparently is causing the most concern in the current market. The analyst believes the market is now moving into an overbought condition, on a technical basis, and any significant rally probably will have to wait for an improvement in the news picture.

The tangerine is often considered an orange but is, properly speaking, a mandarin rather than an orange.

Grant for State Immunization Project is Announced

AUSTIN — Approval of a $315,650 Public Health Service grant to Texas for a state-wide immunization project has been announced by Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner.

The funds will be used to wage immunization campaigns in cooperation with local health departments and medical societies against measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough, Dr. Peavy said.

The project will last until April 30, 1968. An additional year has been tentatively funded with $325,000 for a continuation of the project, Dr. Peavy added, and a supplemental budget of $35,775 for polio vaccine for use this year has also been requested.

Texas has an estimated 1,550,000 preschool children, with 40 percent of these, or 620,000, believed susceptible to measles; and at least 3 percent, or 465,000, are susceptible to polio.

There are no state laws requiring immunizations for entry into elementary school, such requirements being matters

Bennett Aboard USS Traverse

Seaman Benny L. Bennett, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bennett, 1164 Vernon Drive, has been in the Caribbean Area, serving aboard the Tank Landing Ship Traverse County, participating in Operation Cloverhatch III, a full-scale joint Army-Navy exercise.

His ship, a unit of Amphibious Force Two, transported elements of the Army's Airborne Signal Corps and conducted various amphibious and gunnery exercises designed to increase operational readiness.

The crew of the Norfolk, Va. based ship found little time for liberty while on this "all-business" cruise, but did make a visit to Roosevelt Roads, P. R.

There are still many June high school graduates who are waiting to be accepted by some college. Competition for particular openings becomes more difficult each year. However, there are still many openings and students who are willing to compromise can probably gain acceptance to some college.

This is the time to take a realistic look at the student's background of, grades, ability, test scores, interests and school participation. A careful look at his prior choice of colleges may high school adviser is in order, comparable with his performance.

A serious discussion with the high school adviser is in order, although the adviser should not make the choice for a student. It is the adviser's job to be aware of openings which still

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Who should give the food order to the waiter in a restaurant when a man and his wife are dining out?

I always thought the gentleman ordered for both his lady and himself. My husband says he doesn't know where I ever got an idea like that.

Also, if additional service is needed, my husband feels it is just as much my place to get the attention of the waiter as it is his. It makes me feel too aggressive, and even lacking in respect for my husband as a man if I try to catch the waiter's eye.

I will do what is correct, but I would appreciate knowing what, in your opinion, is correct. Everywhere I go I see women giving their orders to waiters, and even flagging them down, as if there were no man present.

WILLING TO LEARN DEAR WILLING: In most restaurants, the waiter will turn to the lady with pencil poised and ask for her order—in which case she gives it to him. But to be ultra-impeccably socially correct, the gentleman should order for the lady and himself.

Ag for "flagging down the waiter"—that's also the gentleman's job, but since four eyes are better than two, I'd wave this rule. (O. K., Amy?)

have had ugly legs all my life. (I was pathetically bowlegged.) In addition to that, I was 5-feet-10, skinny, and flat-chested. Fortunately, I learned young that my attitude toward life meant more than the shape of my body, and while there wasn't much I could do about changing my body, there was a lot I could do about changing my attitude.

I did as much as I could toward making myself attractive. I kept my hair clean and nicely groomed and I dressed as well as I could. I developed a sense of humor which has never let me down.

I married a wonderful man who is 5 inches shorter than I am but he seems proud to take me places — with heels on yet! We have a lovely home and many good friends. We have married children and grandchildren. And I have had a good life because I learned to make the most of what I had.

AN OLD TEXAS GAL

DEAR ABBY: I am a teenage boy who has seen legs like "Ashamed's." Is there anything wrong with a girl trying to improve her appearance? If someone asks for your advice on losing weight would you tell her to thank God she has enough food to get overweight on? That girl who wrote to you wanted some advice on how to improve her shapeless legs, and what did you give her? A sermon on how she should be glad she has two good legs because there are so many teenagers who are crippled.

I think you should apologize to that girl and give her some good advice if you have any.

PETER, THE GIRL WATCHER DEAR PETER: If my "sermon" was out of order, I apologize. I'm all for "improving" oneself whenever possible, but in this girl's case, the only "advice" I could offer was to thank God she was healthy, and to live with her shapeless limbs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LILA": —Most men want to be gentlemen, but some women will not give them the opportunity. I have heard more than one gentleman comment on what a

Mrs. Waters' Students To Appear In Spring Piano Recital Friday

Mrs. W. D. Waters will present piano students in recital Friday evening at eight o'clock in Tarpley's Recital Hall, 115 N. Cuyler.

Davis Smith will play "Water Sprites" (Fletcher). Janet Farrar will play "Southern Accent" (Schaum).

Some of the more advanced solos are "Warrior's Song" (Heller) played by Donnie Walberg and "Petite Russian Rhapsody" (Thompson) by Susan Fetheres.

The B. M. Baker School Band presented the program for the final meeting of the PTA unit year on Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The program was directed by Jeff Doughton, band instructor.

Mrs. John Vantine gave opening prayer.

Miss Alma Wilson installed the officers for the 1967-68 unit year.

Mrs. Helen Mackie's room won the prize for having the most parents present at the meeting.

Terry Stark, a guest vocalist from Plainview, who has recently appeared on the Ted Mack Amateur Hour, will also sing one number.

The public is invited.

Granddaddy Of Gambling Dies

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Raymond I. (Pappy) Smith, the "granddaddy" of Nevada gambling who built a multi-million dollar empire at Harolds Club, died quietly in his sleep Wednesday. He was 80.

Smith had been in St. Marys Hospital for 10 days for treatment of cancer and other ailments. Hospital administrator Sister Dominga said he died of a "lot of complications. Maybe it was just a lot of living."

Smith and his sons, Harold and Raymond A., built Harolds Club from a 25 by 27 foot "hole in the wall" on Reno's main street to perhaps the biggest gambling casino in the world. Pappy, as he was called by his employees, was the first to realize that volume was the key to the casino success. He liberalized the payoffs on his slot machines; hired women dealers and abolished shills. He began advertising on a large scale and set up more than 2,400 signs extending from coast to coast inviting tourists to visit Reno.

NUL Says Plight Of U.S. Minorities Is Now Worse

DALLAS (UPI)—The plight of minorities in the United States has become worse rather than better, despite many programs aimed at the problem, the executive director of the National Urban League said today.

"Since 1954, Negro unemployment has doubled," Whitney M. Young Jr., told the National Conference of Social Welfare. "The gap between Negro and white median income has broadened. There are more Negro children in segregated classrooms."

Young said the problem is compounded by the movement to cities, where the goals of work and housing beckon.

"Yet, somehow, in seeking to achieve these goals, people lose their sense of togetherness and become anonymous and alienated individuals—part of a nameless and faceless crowd," he said.

"The goals of work, schools, worship, trade or housing become perverted into problems of unemployment, inadequate education, slums, ghettos, traffic jams, air and water pollution, seething discontent and threatened racial strife."

The way out is tough, he said.

IF YOU FEAR MACHINES may gain the upper hand on people someday, you'll find no comfort in this new computer, which talks back when asked a question. Secretary Barbara Becker dials into the computer and receives a voice response over the telephone while a simultaneous printout of the message is flashed across the screen. The IBM audio response unit is equipped with a vocabulary of 1,000 most-used business words.

SPEECH: HOW FREE?
"I believe in free speech," said a recent letter-to-the-editor. "And anyone against it should be silenced."

There is a nutshell one of the great dilemmas of our day. We are pulled both ways. We want speech to be free, yet we want to silence speech that we don't like. Where shall we draw the line?

Some call for total freedom, with no limits at all. At the first sign of any restraint, they argue:

"The Constitution guarantees freedom of speech, with no ifs, ands, or buts. Freedom means freedom, nothing less."

But our courts don't go that far. They hold that, even though the Constitution doesn't say so, certain implied exceptions cannot be avoided.

Thus, freedom of speech may be limited as to time and place. For example, you have no right to holler through a megaphone at midnight, outside of a hospital.

Furthermore, besides limits as to time and place, the law puts limits on the content of speech.

One such limit is on speech that is defamatory. Without this limit, your neighbor could spread vile rumors about you—with no basis at all except malice.

Another limit is on speech that is obscene. Without this limit, a kindergarten teacher, if so inclined, could read hardcore pornography to her pupils.

Another limit is on speech that is seditious. Without this limit, a speaker could incite a mob to open and violent revolution.

Yet, even in these special areas, the limits on freedom of speech are flexible. Thus:

Defamatory statements may be held lawful if honestly made, on a matter of legitimate concern to the speaker.

Gross vulgarity may be held lawful if it has "redeeming social importance."

And wrathful political dissent may be held lawful if it poses no "clear and present danger" of serious evil consequences.

In short, the law says we must have limits on freedom of speech—but we must keep those limits to a minimum. Limits are the exception. Freedom is the rule.

TRASHY IDEA
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—An Oklahoma judge's one-man campaign to engulf President Johnson with junk mail has not built up much of a volume, a postmaster in Johnson City said Wednesday.

J. Russell Swanson of Enid, Okla., sends all his junk mail readdressed to Johnson, with the return address reading: "from: A taxpayer." He has encouraged his friends to do likewise.

"Evidently, it did not catch on very well," said John Stevenson, postmaster of one of the post offices that serves the President's LBJ ranch area.
