

Guardsmen Hunt Hit, Run Snipers

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit's war-torn west side exploded in a new flurry of sniper fire and machinegun counterattacks by Jumpy National Guardsmen early today, then fell quiet. Dawn rose on a city shattered by five days of the worst racial strife in modern U.S. history.

Police and National Guardsmen said only a few snipers—perhaps two, perhaps a dozen—did the firing. "They crack off a couple of shots and head out for another building," an officer said.

The death toll reached 38, four above that of the 1965 Watts riot in Los Angeles. The victims were 27 Negroes, eight whites—including a policeman and a fireman—and three victims listed by morgues as "race unknown."

The list included four confirmed as victims of sniper bullets.

The sniper fire broke out shortly after midnight then subsided under a barrage of tank attacks and machinegun fire by National Guardsmen, many angry at orders that they keep their guns unloaded until

At least two youths were arrested, both with guns. One, a 19-year-old armed with a .22 rifle, was white.

"Our hands are so tied, we're sometimes risking lives," a guard lieutenant complained. A sergeant was reprimanded by Gen. John Throckmorton, who toured the area and saw the sergeant shoot out a street light.

"I quit," the sergeant said, throwing down his knapsack. "I get holed real easily."

The sniper fire appeared more harassing than deadly. No one was hit although guardsmen, many lounging against light poles on street-corner guard duty, made easy targets.

Today's pre dawn battle was not like those of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights, when 13,000 paratroopers and National Guardsmen plus 2,000 police fought widespread arson, looting and bloodshed which resulted in more than 3,000 arrests and threw much of the nation's fifth largest city into

15 U.S. Cities Hit By More Racial Brushfires

President Goes on TV Again

By United Press International

Racial brushfires erupted in 15 cities Thursday night and early today but the Detroit holocaust waned as soldiers and police tried to mop up the last hard-core snipers.

Firebombings, rock-throwing and other incidents were reported in Waterbury, Conn.; Poughkeepsie and Albany, N.Y.; San Francisco and Sacramento, Calif.; Newark and Passaic, N.J.; Philadelphia; South Bend, Ind.; and five Ohio cities—Cincinnati, Toledo, Dayton, Lorain and Springfield.

For the second time this week President Johnson went on nationwide television Thursday night to denounce the rioters. He appointed a special commission to find the causes and cures of the turmoil and he announced that the National Guard will undergo new, tougher anti-riot training.

But even as the President spoke Negro gangs harassed cities from coast to coast.

Tension ran high in other cities. In Cambridge, Md., scene of violence earlier in the week, the white and Negro communities faced each other across a line of 709 national guard bayonets. In Memphis, Tenn., Negroes planned to march from dusk until dawn tonight to protest the job situation. In New York City, Mayor John Lindsay made another walking tour of Spanish Harlem where violence flared two nights ago.

Detroit, with 38 dead and property damages of at least $500 million, was slowly growing quiet although small gangs of die-hard snipers still harassed paratroopers, National Guardsmen and police with occasional smoking ruins of the 200-sq-ft block riot area.

There also were these developments:

Reports Tell Of Anti-Mao Rebels Being 'Isolated'

HONG KONG (UPI)—Peking Radio today said anti-Mao army rebels were being "isolated" by loyal peasant forces "conducting a bitter and agonizing struggle" to salvage tottering Peking authority in the rebel city of Wuhan.

The broadcast did not say if the struggle against the "fanatic attack" in the central China city involved physical violence, but it warned Chairman Mao Tse-tung's supporters not to harm the "mistaken masses."

Reports of bloody clashes between Maoists and anti-Maoists in Wuhan, capital of Hubei province in central China, have been filtering out of China where for days growing signs of dissent were rampant in Mao's hierarchy and in the powerful Red Army.

Diplomatic reports in London have predicted Mao's dynasty could crumble in two months if he fails to quickly curb his out-of-control Cultural Revolution and halt provincial rebellions against Peking rule.

The official newspaper of the Red Chinese Army made clear Thursday that Peking would not send armed troops into Wuhan to end the strife. Such action could trigger open civil war.

The Peking Radio broadcast today cited in full an editorial in the official Peking Peoples' Daily. It said the "worker-peasant-soldier masses" were "hitting hard at the fanatic attack launched by a handful of party and military people in authority taking the capitalist road in Wuhan and a handful of bad leaders stubbornly clinging to the bourgeois reactionary line within the heroic Army of One Million."

Israel Chief Warns Fight is Not Over Yet

United Press International

The chief of staff of Israel's armed forces warned today "the fight is not over" and said he "would be wary" of too-hasty an assessment of the results of the Arab-Israeli war.

Maj. Gen. Yitzhak Rabin urged the caution during a Tel Aviv meeting with daily newspaper editors.

It was authoritatively learned in Jerusalem that Israel was expected to resume full military government rule on the west bank of the Jordan River and in the Old City of Jerusalem. Both areas belonged to Jordan before the Middle East war.

In Cairo, the pro-government newspaper Al Ahras said large-scale studies were underway toward formation of a new central committee for the United Arab Republic's sole political party, the Arab Socialist Union.

A new generation of leaders was being considered for top political posts in line with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's call that "other general" (See ISRAEL, Page 3)

Indictment Hits Texas Patrolman

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—A grand jury questioned six persons, including a pretty restaurant cashier Thursday and indicted Texas Highway Patrolman Alfred P. White, 37, on a charge of beating his wife to death after a late movie.

White, a 14-year veteran of the Texas Department of Public Safety, told police two Negro men were waiting in their home when he and his wife, Joyce, 36, got home from the movie shortly before midnight July 14.

Carmichael Calls For International Revolution

HAVANA (UPI)—American black power advocate Stokely Carmichael said "Detroit and New York are also Vietnams" and exhorted young Cubans to join American Negroes in an international revolution in an interview published Thursday in the newspaper "Rebel Youth."

Carmichael, who flew to Havana as a guest of Premier Fidel Castro's Communist government to attend the Latin American Solidarity Conference, said "we should internationalize our struggle."

The Trinidad-born Negro said in the interview, "if we are going to make a reality of (revolutionary) Ernesto ('Che') Guevara's words about making two or three more Vietnams, it should be known that Detroit and New York are also Vietnams."

Carmichael said he did not worry about the U.S. State Department's announcement it would lift his passport when he returned to America. "I pick my own friends and I will say what my own destiny is and not the American government," he said.

Marines Hit DMZ Zone

SAIGON (UPI)—For the second time U.S. Marines today invaded the Demilitarized Zone on the North-South Vietnam border and went smashing after the artillery units the Communists use from in the frontier no man's land, American spokesmen said.

They said assault troops of the 9th Marine Regiment crashed into the six-mile-wide buffer zone at 8:27 a.m. today shortly after the Communists used the DMZ to launch a mortar and artillery strike against Leatherneck fortresses just below the border.

The spokesmen said the Marines' targets are in the South Vietnamese half of the DMZ.

It was the second American drive into the DMZ. On May 18, Marines and South Vietnamese troops plunged into the zone on a similar search and destroy mission that killed 600 North Vietnamese in 10 days.

The DMZ was set up as a buffer zone by the 1954 Geneva Conference accords which ended the French-Indochina war and divided Vietnam between North and South.

There was no immediate report from the combat forces of any contact with the Communists in the latest plunge.

SMALLER PAPERS HURT?

Senate Committee Hears California Publisher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The agreement that San Francisco's newspapers said had revived their fortunes is hurting one of their smaller neighbors, California publisher J. Hart Clinton testified today.

Clinton, who operates the San Mateo Times, appeared before the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee to oppose legislation that would give legal sanction to joint operating agreements of the type between the San Francisco Examiner and Chronicle.

The bill would give limited antitrust exemptions to the merger of printing, advertising and circulation functions of two papers while competing editorial policies are maintained. The publishers of the San Francisco papers testified Thursday that only this kind of arrangement kept one of them from going under.

Also opposed to the bill was Michael G. Dworkin, publisher of the Detroit Daily Press for four months in 1964. He said the bill would "simply increase concentration and monopolization in the industry."

Support for the bill was given by Thurston Twigg-Smith, publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser. He said his paper was transformed from "a dying entity into an increasingly healthy one" after it entered a joint operating agreement with

Clinton, a lawyer, told the subcommittee in prepared testimony that after the two San Francisco papers reached their agreement in 1965, they "proceeded to fix advertising rates and circulation prices and to make combination advertising and circulation rate proposals which were calculated to, and have, injured their suburban newspaper competitors."

He argued that the Chronicle's owners had outstripped the Examiner in the period before their agreement by using profits from its television station, KRON-TV, to shore up the newspaper. He said the subcommittee ought to demand an investigation of use of broadcasting profits to affect newspaper competition, as well as seeking action against the sale of exclusive syndicated feature rights.

Dworkin, whose paper commenced shortly after a strike closed down Detroit's existing two dailies, also objected to syndicate sales practices as well as what he called "onerous conditions" sought by United before their agreement by using

"We will take an eye for an eye and a life for a life," the fiery, 23-year-old Brown said.

Brown urged 1,000 Negroes attending a rally at St. Stephen's and the Incarnation Episcopal Church to prepare for the revolution.

"Death is no stranger to the black man," Brown said. "So when the rebellion starts, don't be afraid of being killed."

Brown, who succeeded Stokely Carmichael as national chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, told the crowd Negroes should "do more shooting than looting" when they riot.

He said the death of a Plainfield, N.J. policeman who was shot, stabbed and stomped to death was a "beautiful" example of black people controlling their community.

"Tell 'em that if he comes to your community, he'd better be prepared to die," Brown said.

Brown's anti-white statements drew a standing ovation from the crowd.

Loud applause interrupted him 11 times. But the rally broke up peacefully and there were no incidents.

Only four uniformed policemen—all Negro—were assigned to the rally.

Brown said the District of Columbia is a "white man's plantation," and told the audience that Negroes in Washington are "worse off than anyone else in the nation except in Alabama."

"Washington trails only Alabama, and Alabama trails only Vietnam in the killing of black people," Brown said. "We've got to revoke that license."

Earlier in the day, Brown—who is fighting extradition to Maryland where authorities have charged him with inciting Monday night's rioting in Cambridge—declared in a sidewalk speech that "violence is part of America's culture and is as American as cherry pie."

Hannah Troy Scores 'Silly Women' Who Wear Pantsuits and Miniskirts

FROM HANNAH TROY'S collection for at-home pajamas (left) are in a profusion of multicolored polka dots. White silk linen dress (center) has front-inverted pleats and red and black trim at the neckline and cuffs. Tent dress (right) in brown and white striped silk is worn with matching short pants.

NEW YORK (NEA) —Women in pantsuits, women in miniskirts and women dancing the frog totally disenchant veteran designer Hannah Troy.

"Pants for evening or for sports are fine," says Hannah. "But the suit with a pair of pants for daytime wear is just silly."

Speaking of New York's Seventh Avenue in general, she said, "We are dress houses not pants houses and we're never going to make money on pants — only the pants manufacturers will. So why do we bother?" She believes the fashion magazines that play up pantsuits and miniskirts are confusing youth with women and that except for a few oddballs with money, women are not buying the fashions the magazines are pushing.

"Why," she asked, "do Vogue and Harper's feature fashions that would be great for youngsters but are foolish for anyone out of her 20s? These two magazines are not aimed at kids. Kids can't afford the clothes they show. And older women shouldn't wear them."

"The pants and miniskirts should be exclusive with ingenuit, Seventeen and Mademoiselle."

Mrs. Troy doesn't think any women's knees are pretty, no matter how good her legs are. "My legs are the best part of my body," she said and proved it by getting up from the lunch table at Caravelle and inviting me to look. "But I still won't wear my skirts above mid-knee. It's been too long since I was 17."

As to Hannah on the frog — with a look of distaste she made the point that a woman in her 40s looks idiotic writhing around the dance floor looking up every so often for her partner who is at least four feet away.

"It's not as bad for a man," she admits. "He can just plunk down his flat feet and they can stay on the floor until the music stops. He doesn't have to kick up his heels and wriggle like a worm unless he's silly enough to want to."

But don't let these strong feelings that youth should be served differently from the older women give you the idea that a Hannah Troy's clothes are not accurate. She has given everything in her new line a young feeling. But it is a tasteful father than a kooky youngness. She even has a double organza dress with matching underpants but there was no way to show the pants in a photograph without putting the model into an unrealistic and ridiculous pose.

This designer in the Seventh Avenue firmament, where fashion luminaries fade faster than a winter sunset, has held her stellar status for over 25 years. She started a revolution in the fashion industry in 1940 when she designed special clothes for the short-waisted woman.

Yellow Blind Tapes Disrupt Her Decor

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY — Please, will you ask one of your kind and wise friends out there to provide me with a wee bit of wisdom? Less than two years ago I replaced two of my old white cloth-taped Venetian blinds with new plastic-taped ones and the crazy tapes have turned yellow, which I neither like nor appreciate. I have soaked them in practically every cleaning agent on the market, and still have superwhite slats and yellowed tapes.

DEAR MRS. T. P. — I am sure that if there is a cure for your woes one of our readers will have it. If not, you might try what I did. I covered yellowed tapes with grosgrain ribbon (a color to go with the room's scheme) the same width as the tapes. This was quickly and easily stapled on. Since the ribbon was navy blue, the tops of the slats were first treated to a quick brush over with black paint so they were not easily seen.

DEAR POLLY — Trash cans were always being turned over in our neighborhood and the contents scattered. One of my neighbors put his on an 18-inch square platform, drove two iron pipes into the ground on each side of the can so the handles slipped down over the pipes. We all liked this plan and the results.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was talking with my boy friend and the subject of "men friends" came up. He said there was no such thing as "men friends." That they all had only one thing in mind, and there wasn't a man alive (married or single) who would care to be with a woman just for the sake of conversation and companionship.

We got into quite a heated argument over this as I have quite a few male acquaintances whom I consider "friends" and nothing more. What is your opinion, Abby? I would also like the opinions of your men readers as I want to know if they think the way my boy friend does.

DIANE

DEAR DIANE: Tell your boy friend to speak for himself and not to implicate every other male in the world. Furthermore, if my "boy friend" ever made such a statement, I wouldn't trust him out of my sight.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married a short while. Last month we went to visit his mother in another state. I found his mother to be very unclean about herself, and her house was filthy. She even talks dirty.

Abby, I don't mean to be unkind about his mother, but I have never experienced anything quite like it. My husband is a very clean person. He must take after his father who is dead. When we got home I told my husband I would never go to his mother's again unless she cleaned up her house. It honestly was not fit for pigs. He admitted the house was a mess and so was his mother, but he thinks I am being unreasonable. Tell me your opinion of this please.

NO PIG

DEAR NO PIG: Your husband could ask his mother to clean up her house, but if she is personally unclean, and talks dirty there is little he can do about that. I think you refuse to stay in a house that is not "fit for pigs."

DEAR ABBY: I have a big problem, which you will probably consider both immature and stupid. I am a normal girl of 16 with both satisfactory looks and personality. My problem is when I like a boy, and go after him, if I get him I don't like him anymore. He usually has asked me to go steady by that time and I say yes because I hate to hurt his feelings, but I always end up breaking up with him and hurting him anyhow. On the other hand, if I don't get him, I like him so much I get jealous if I see him with another girl, but I know if I were to get him I would only end up hating him. Please Abby, give me advice, not assermon.

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: The only "advice" I can give you is to admit that you enjoy the "chase" more than the prize. It is a kind of immaturity which some people never outgrow. But I hope you will because there can be little happiness for the girl who waits a man only until she wins him. And consider, too, the innocent victims along the way.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CALL ME ZEY": Money can buy comfort, conveniences, diversion, and security. But the only "love" money can buy is that which you can get from a dog.

Water Inc. Officials Hear Progress Report

DIMITT — Fred Vanderburg Sr. of Pampa and Felix Ryals of White Deer heard progress reports and budget allocations yesterday during a board of directors meeting of WATER, Inc. here.

Ryals is manager of Panhandle Water Conservation District, said the Southern Resources and Vanderburg is director of district four, which includes six Panhandle counties.

Directors approved a $200,000 budget, including allocations for salaries at $50,000; consulting and planning, $35,000; promotional activities, $30,000; and another $30,000 for a movie to explain the High Plains area economy, importance to the state and national economy and its need for supplemental water.

John Kendrick, president of WATER, Inc., said the membership drive had netted 50 paid members in 30 days and reported WATER, Inc. has "about $35,000 in the bank and has barely scratched the surface on dues."

Directors approved a resolution reaffirming their goals and stated "private ownership of ground water will remain undisturbed."

Wilson Buchanan of Dumas, temporary director of organization and information, said the Mississippi River has 500 million acre-feet flowing into the Gulf annually, and "we want only 18 million acre-feet to come this way."

Buchanan stressed diverting Mississippi River water west would lower cost of levy maintenance and help in flood control.

According to the police report sometime between 7 p.m. yesterday and 3 a.m. today, someone pulled a window screen off unlocked the window and entered the house.

Police said a bed in the front bedroom had been slept in, but nothing appeared to be missing. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller are on vacation.

He said UPI, against which Dworkin's Daily Press, Inc., has brought a civil antitrust suit, wanted a five-year contract, with the last year's charge, more than $128,000, paid in advance. The antitrust suit also named the publishing companies of the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press, he said, on ground that they and UPI illegally denied the Daily Press access to the wire service.

In his prepared testimony, Twigg-Smith said the Justice Department had not objected on antitrust grounds to the outright purchase of a failing newspaper by a successful competitor, and asked, "why shouldn't it permit something less than a complete acquisition?"

"Whatever the technical rationalization, a grave disservice will be done to the general welfare as well as to the papers of the 22 communities involved if joint operating arrangements are disallowed," he said.

Pampa, Area Scouts End First Phase Jamboree Trip

By JOHN KARR
Boy Scout World Jamboree Correspondent
Boy Scouts from Pampa and other towns in Adobe Walls Council have completed the first phase of a trip to the 12th Boy Scout World Jamboree in Faragut State Park, Idaho.

Troops 25 and 28, representing parts of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona, spent three days this week in pre-jamboree training at Camp Don Harrington, 10 miles from Amarillo.

The shake-down camp training included practice in tent pitching, cooking five jamboree meals, orientation in jamboree activities and trading with foreign scouts.

Troops also were instructed in fire extinguishing by burning an old tent and demonstrating the proper method of felling the tent and putting out the fire.

The scouts and their adult sponsors started driving to the jamboree in a chartered bus Wednesday from Camp Don Harrington. Boys from this area are traveling with 11 uses from Texas, and will tour Pikes Peak and the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. They plan to arrive in Idaho Sunday for the jamboree.

Five Adobe Walls Council Boy Scouts including two from Pampa, are participating in the scouting activity.

Minister Offer Practical Religion in Michigan Bar

"A bar is a place where what is honest can be said, quietly and sincerely. It is a good spot for someone to listen and counsel."

So states a church magazine editor.

Proof of how religion can offer practical benefits to people is shown by the Night Watch in Saginaw, Mich.

Thirteen clergymen—Protestants and Roman Catholics—take turns visiting bars, jails and hospitals, helping the lonely, the sad, the frightened, the wearily, the junkies, the alcoholics, the prostitutes, the many misfits and others in an industrial city.

Saginaw's night people have gained utmost confidence in the clergy teams, David F. Marshall reports in the August issue of "Together" magazine.

"These guys aren't out to hold a tent meeting, you know," one bartender explained emphatically. "They're here to listen—just listen."

Eight church bodies are represented by the Night Watch

SETS SERMON TOPIC

First Christian Church Pastor Plans Commissioning Service

Rev. J. W. Duke will preach for the morning service of First Christian Church. He has chosen as his sermon topic "To Walk With God," with scriptures taken from Genesis 5:21-24. His son, Gary Duke, will assist in the pulpit.

Miss Rosemary Lawlor will direct the adult choir in singing the anthem, "Jerry Whitten is to play the organ."

During the regular service this week, the Rev. Mr. Duke will have a special commissioning service for members and sponsors of the Christian Youth Fellowship who are planning to attend the Texas Youth Convention at TCU in Fort Worth.

Those planning to attend are George Gambin, Mrs. Jim Cunningham, Angela Cunningham, Chris Gambin, Teresa Martin, Rainell Kempa, Chuck Lanehart, Tim Duke, John King, Dave Stewart and Dan Craig. This group will leave here Aug. 1.

The CYF is planning to meet tomorrow with the CYF of Borger First Christian Church to attend a presentation of "Texas" in Canyon. They will meet in Borger for a worship service and supper before going to Canyon.

Youth groups will meet here at their regular times Sunday. The snack supper is at 5:30 p.m. and youth meetings, 6 p.m.

Rev. Mr. Duke will preach a dedication sermon of Gruver First Christian Church sanctuary at 3 p.m. Sunday in Gruver.

"WHEN WILL CHRIST RETURN?"

In Chapter 12 of John, there is the story of some pagan Greeks who came to Jerusalem and wanted to see Jesus. Jesus was in the court of Israel and the Greeks, being Gentiles, had to remain outside the court of nations. Between the two was a middle wall or partition. But the Gentile Greeks, finding in their midst the disciple Phillip made an earnest request: "Sir, we would see Jesus." Phillip took the request to Andrew and both of them carried within the appeal to Jesus. The Greeks wanted to see Jesus. It is thus with us today. Our Savior has gone beyond the veil to the heavenly city, the new Jerusalem, but we long to see him. It is not an influence or spirit or a process of cultural evolution that we long to see, it is a Man, Christ Jesus. It is the Redeemer who gave Himself a ransom for us. We have all felt through the years a great love for Him because of what He's done for us. We long to see our Savior. It is not enough to have a letter from Him, it is not enough to read the story of His life, it is not enough to have His spirit in our midst. Like the Greeks, we too would see Jesus. It is Christ Himself we long to see. Nothing else will satisfy our hopes. We have a hunger to meet Him face to face, like the bride waiting for the bridegroom. We are waiting for our glorious and redeeming Lord. The longing of every Christian heart is to see Jesus. Shall we see Him? The answer of the Scripture is in the affirmative, and it is positive and emphatic. Statements of certainty, literalness, are multiplied for our assurance and comfort.

When shall we see Him? No one knows the exact time of His return, but there were signs given to alert us of His coming. Are these signs being fulfilled? You decide after studying the signs.

The growth of apostasy within all churches and the parallel deepening of the spiritual ministry who desire the return of Christ.

- The great growth of population.
- War and an increase in the deadliness of war's implements.
- Natural catastrophes (Earthquakes and etc.)
- The prolonging of human life species.
- The increase of lawlessness.
- The growth of immorality with the special phenomenon of the woman as the aggressor.

Haberer and Mahan Win First Go-Round

Dr. Eaton Wins in Dogging

By BON CROSS
It was money time for first-go-round cowboys in the 23rd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo Thursday night and tonight where they start action for more money.

First round winners were decided in all events except calf roping where contestants have four go-rounds, one each night of the rodeo.

In the bareback riding (1966's All-Around cowboy, Larry Mahan of Brooks, Ore., pocketed $134.13 by scoring 65 points.

Mahan edged Paul Mayo of Grinnell, Iowa who won $100.60 for his 64 point score. Both Mahan and Mayo rode Wednesday night.

Third was Jerry Coble from Rock Island, Texas and Billy Rogers of Austin was fourth. Coble pocketed $67.07 and Rogers $33.53. Coble scored 60 pts. and Rogers 56, both riding Thursday night.

In the saddle bronc riding all winners came from Wednesday and Thursday night rides.

Hap Hansen of Tucson, Ariz., was first with 60 points, while Ted Tietjen from Las Cruces, N. M., finished second with 55 points Thursday on a re-ride awarded him when his mount fell coming out of the chute.

Third was Ron Conaster of Elk City, Okla., with 48 points and fourth was George Mills, LaJunta, Colo., with 40 points.

Hansen scored 57 points Thursday; Tietjen 55 on both mounts and Conaster 51 and Mills 35. Hansen pocketed $55.06; Tietjen $41.29; Conaster $27.54 and Mills $13.77.

Total prize money in the bareback event is $1,006; saddle bronc $326.

Tony Haberer of Muleshoe made his Wednesday night ride stand up as he won the bull riding event. Haberer scored 71 points to beat out Gary Lefew of Santa Maria, Calif. who scored 69 points Thursday and Ronnie Thomas of Whiting, Iowa, who scored 68 points, also Thursday.

There was a tie for fourth between George Paul of Del Rio and Phil Robert of Crosbytown, both scored 67 points.

Haberer won $150.13; Lefew $112.00; Thomas $75.07 and Paul and Robert split $37.53.

Dr. Duane Eaton of Lamar, Colo., saw his Wednesday night steer wrestling time of 6.8 stand up for first place by one-tenth of a second as Bill Jenkins of LaJunta, Colo. threw his steer in 6.9 Thursday night to place second.

Third was Monroe Tumlinson of Lampasa who posted a time of 8.5 Thursday night and fourth was Don Honey who downed his steer in 9.4, also Thursday.

Eaton pocketed $192.00; Jenkins won $144.00; Tumlinson $96.40 and Honey $48.20.

Total prize money in the bull riding is $1,126 and in the steer wrestling $1,446, making it the highest paying event.

Francis Smith of Burk Burnett won the girls barrel racing with a time of 17.5 to edge Donna Kinkead of Tucumcari who posted a time of 17.6 and Tootie Higgins of Bridge City.

The first place winner gets $76; second place $57 and third $38.19. Total prize money is $570.

In the calf roping, where total prize money is $1,206 ropers will be shooting for the $60.40 first prize, $60.30 second prize, $40.20 third prize and $20.10 fourth prize.

The calf roping event has four go-rounds and Tumlinson and Eaton tied Wednesday night in 14.3 while Bob Ford won Thursday night roping in 12.4.

Ford was second Wednesday

Three Share Lead In Northern Open

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Old pro Julius Boros and young Ray Floyd and Dick Lotz led by one stroke with two-under-par 70s today going into the second round of the $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic.

Only 19 golfers in a field of 144 were par or better on the Hazeltin National golf course, a rugged, dog-legged new layout built especially for championship play.

Larry Mowry and Harold Henning were one stroke back of the leaders and five others had even par 72—Jack McGowan, Gardner Dickinson, Dudley Wysong, Bob Vervey and Doug Sanders.

Don January, the new PGA champion, had 73 and Bobby Nichols, defending champion of the Minnesota Classic which was held at Keller Public Course last year as the St. Paul Open, struggled in with 76. Six or eight under par is expected to win, pro Don Waryam predicted.

"If anyone can score 280, he's a cinch to win," Nichols said. The pros' reactions to the 7,200-yard course, loaded with woods, dog-legs, hills, water holes, traps and huge greens, ranged from "great" to "the toughest I've seen."

Boros, who fired a 34-36 Thursday then went fishin, said he was "pretty well satisfied" with his game and liked the course.

"The greens are as good as you'll find and the course is just great," Boros said.

Floyd, with a first-round 34-36, said the greens are "very true."

But Nichols called the greens "probably the toughest I've ever seen."

A dozen golfers were bunched at 73—Will Homenuk of Winnipeg, Richard Martinez, Homere Blanca, Jay Hebert, Miller Barber, Bill Parker, Sam Carmichael, Rocky Thompson, Gene Litter, Lionel Hebert, Bob Lunn and January.

The "big three"—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper—weren't there.

Experience Will Help Falcons

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Atlanta Falcons lack that element of surprise that enabled them to grab three upset wins in their first season of National Football League play but figure the added year of experience will take up the slack.

"We're not trying to fool anybody," coach Norb Hecker said. "We know we've got a long way to go before we'll be a real contender. But we're convinced that we've got the troops to win a few along the way."

The Falcons are in the Coastal Division of the realigned NFL along with the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams. It is generally conceded that they'll wind up fourth in the group. But Hecker figures any team that takes the Falcons for granted is in for a shock.

"The combination of our trades, new speed, and the youth of our returning nucleus should make us a vastly improved team this year," he said.

Backfield Looks Good
The quarterbacking, the running game and the pass defense figure to show the biggest improvements.

Randy Johnson really took his lumps as a rookie quarterback but clearly indicated he has the potential to be a standout. The acquisition of Terry Neafsey from the Cardinals offers depth at quarterback.

The Falcons have Junior Coffey, the NFL's No. 9 rusher, and big Ernie Wheelwright back as running backs. In addition, they have switched swift Ron Smith to part-time duty on offense and recently acquired Tom Moore from the Rams.

Tankers, Matmen Top in Pan-Am

WINNIPEG, Canada (UPI)—A pair of swimming teenage cuties from north and south of the border were the darlings of the Pan-American games today, but a bunch of muscular gent's from the United States were the ones who were wrecking the so-called team race.

North of the border in Canada the toast of the games is 16-year-old Elaine Tanner—the games' only individual double gold medal winner so far who also became a double world record breaker when she won the women's 100-meter backstroke swim Thursday night in 1:07.3.

And south of the border in the U.S.A. it's an even younger lass—14-year-old Deborah Meyer of Jacksonville, Fla., who broke a world record, too, when she won the women's 400-meter freestyle swim in 4:32.64.

Wrestlers Triumph
But the fellows who wrecked what was left of the team battle in the games Thursday night were the members of the U.S. wrestling team.

As a result, the U.S. headed into the fifth day of competition with a stunning 26 gold medals already socked away and an overall total of 43 medals. Host Canada was a distant second with three gold medals and 20 overall.

"There were several good wrestlers in there, but I had more experience than they did," explained muscleman Gerald

Bell of Cortland, N.Y., the lightweight wrestling winner.

At 26, Bell is practically a granddaddy compared to Elaine and Debbie—and so are the other U.S. wrestling champs, all 22 to 27—flyweight Richard Sofman of West Orange, N.J.; bantam weight Richard Sanders of Portland, Ore.; featherweight Mike Young of Provo, Utah; welterweight Pat Kelly of Waukegan, Ill.; middleweight Wayne Baughman of Oklahoma City, Okla.

One "old man" hero of the U.S. Pan-Am team decided to retire immediately after setting a world record Thursday night in the 100-meter freestyle swim

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

Braves Hurlers Helping

By United Press International
The Atlanta Braves have discovered the old baseball truth that slugging is for show and pitching is for dough.

The Braves staged quite a show when they went to Atlanta last season, terrorizing the opposition with 207 home runs and scoring a major league high of 782 runs. They finished fifth in the National League, however, because their pitching was a rag-tag sixth.

Now the Braves are in third place, 5 1/2 games behind the St. Louis Cardinals and with a good shot at World Series dough.

Their home-run bats have quieted considerably and they're only fifth in runs scored. But their pitching already ranks No. 3 in the league and seems to be improving as the season goes along.

The Braves got the kind of pitching that wins pennants Thursday night when they beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 and moved past them into third place. Ken Johnson pitched six-hit ball for 5 1-3 innings before losing his touch after a 26-minute delay because of rain and then Jay Ritchie came out of the bullpen to allow only two hits over the last 3 2-3innings.

Atlanta pitching has allowed three runs or fewer in five of the last eight games and 14 of the last 20.

Booming Bats
That old "sock"—which still is really the Braves' trademark—kayode Sammy Ellis before he retired a batter in the first inning and produced all four Atlanta runs. Felipe Alou led off with his 13th homer of the in 16.4 with Dale Youree third in 17.5 and Sam Giddeon fourth in 21.2.

Thursday night Tumlinson tied his calf in 13.5, Giddeon in 14.0 and Gerall Russell was fourth in 14.1. Youree didn't place with a time of 17.5.

The two night's averages give Tumlinson the lead in 27.8 with Ford second with 28.8 and Youree third in 32.2 and Eaton fourth at 34.7.

season, Gary Geiger was safe on an error and Hank Aaron followed with his 26th homer. Joe Torre's single kayode Ellis and singles by Clete Boyer and Woody Woodward off reliever Bob Lee added another run.

The Reds, who scored in the fifth on singles by Lee May and John Edwards and a sacrifice fly, filled the bases on a double and two walks in the sixth but failed to score when Geiger robbed May of a hit with an outstanding catch.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the San Francisco Giants 8-3, the Houston Astros nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the New York Mets 7-6 in 11 innings in other National League games. The first-place Cardinals and second-place Chicago Cubs were idle.

Giants Cut Down
Home runs by Richie Allen, Billy Cowan and Bobby Wine accounted for six of the Phillies' eight runs and helped deal San Francisco 13-game winner Mike McCormick his fifth loss. Allen homered with none on in the first inning and Cowan connected with two on and Wine with one on in the Phillies' five-run third inning. John Boozier pitched a four-hitter and didn't walk a batter in winning his third game against one defeat.

Joe Morgan singled home Lee Bales with none out in the ninth inning, capping a two-run rally by the Astros against relief ace Al McBean. The Astros had tied the score at 4-4 on Bob Lillis' leadoff double, a fielder's choice on which Bales was safe at first and Ron Davis' single. Rusty Staub went 3-for-4 for the Astros, raising his league-leading average to .356 compared to Pittsburgh star Roberto Clemente's .354.

Nate Oliver walked to start the 11th inning, went to third on Len Gabrielson's single and scored on Jack Fisher's wild pitch to give the Dodgers their victory over the Mets. The Mets had tied the three-hour and 50-minute game in the ninth on singles by Cleon Jones and Phil Linz and Tommy Davis' double play ball. Al Ferrara homered for the Dodgers.

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Atlanta Falcons lack that element of surprise that enabled them to grab three upset wins in their first season of National Football League play but figure the added year of experience will take up the slack.

Mahan is Real Rodeo Cowboy

By RON CROSS
Larry Mahan is rodeo's home run hitter, top batting average man and leader in runs batted in. In other words he's the Most Valuable Player trophy winner.

Bulls don't bother him, bucking horses don't bother him, injuries don't bother him, flying airplanes don't bother him. In fact, he's one cool customer.

The 1966 All-Around cowboy title winner was one of five riders who stayed on their mounts in the bareback bronc riding Wednesday night in the opening performance of the 23rd annual Top-O-Texas Rodeo.

He scored 65 points to take a one point lead over another famous rodeo hand, Paul Mayo.

But what made Mahan's ride even better was the fact that the Brooks, Ore. cowboy was riding with a broken left in-step.

"It doesn't bother me much.

I haven't tried the bulls with it yet just the horses," the 23-year-old cowboy said.

Mahan was scheduled to try the bulls for the first time Thursday night at Weatherford where he flew early Thursday for a rodeo.

He'll be back here Friday. Mahan, who broke the foot boot to protect the bones.

The 5'11, 170-pound Mahan likes kids. He must. He has two of his own, a boy and girl and is beset by young and old autograph seekers at every rodeo he participates in.

Success will never spoil Mahan, who won over $40,000 in 1966 and is way ahead of the pace he set last year.

He isn't even real angry about the broken foot.

"It would be hard to figure just how much it cost me. It might have cost me a lot or not anything I don't know that I could have rode the mounts I'd have had without the foot,"

Mahan said.

"I usually ride in 80-90 rodeos a year, but I've been in only about 45 so far this year."

Mahan, who won't even guess at how many years he will continue to ride, started out his career in kid rodeos when he was 13.

He joined the RCA in 1963, when he was 20-years old.

friend of his escaped uninjured when one of the planes was caught in a cross-wind and flipped over. Mahan wasn't in the plane, however.

Mahan has his pilot's license and covers sometimes three or four rodeos a week.

McLain Wins, Complains

By United Press International
Denny McLain, whose knowledge of the law is sketchy, filed a complaint only minutes after roughing up the Baltimore Orioles.

McLain, the outspoken Detroit pitcher, brought up his own team on charges following his 4-3 victory over the Orioles which moved the Tigers into third place in the American League race.

The young righthander, was smarting because the Tigers had moved two games with the Orioles from Detroit to Baltimore when a curfew was imposed on the embattled Motor City, curtailing all athletic activities.

"Moving the games to Baltimore and forcing a lot of our players to leave their families in that mess back home was one of the worst decisions I've ever heard of," complained McLain. "A man's family comes before anything, even baseball."

McLain, however, was able to summon enough concentration to throttle the slumping world champions on seven hits, strike out four and issue no walks in posting his second shutout of the season and 12th victory against 11 defeats.

Rampaging Boston moved to within a game of first place Chicago by rallying for a 6-3 victory over California in 10 innings while the White Sox game with Cleveland was rained out after 2 1/2 scoreless innings. New York defeated Minnesota 6-2 and Washington clipped Kansas City 6-4 in other AL games.

Come From Behind
The Red Sox, trailing 5-2, tied the game on a two-run homer by Joe Foy and a solo shot by Tony Conigliaro in the ninth and won their 12th game in the last 13 outings in the 10th on Reggie Smith's triple and Paul Schaal's error. Carl Yastrzemski and George Scott had homered earlier for Boston, which treated the largest home crowd of the season, 34,193, to its second comeback victory over the Angels in two days.

Steve Whitaker drove in three runs with a double and bases-loaded single as the Yankees handed the Twins their eighth loss in the last nine games. Mel Stottlemire went the distance for New York, scattering nine hits, and bested Dave Boswell. Whitaker collected three hits, as did Horace Clarke.

Cap Peterson's two-run homer and Frank Howard's two-run triple featured a five-run first inning that carried the Senators past the A's. Howard also scored a run in the first and drove home the sixth run for Washington with a second-inning single. Camillo Pascual was credited with his 10th win in 17 decisions although he served up homers to Rick Monday and Ramon Webster.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments; the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Advertising, a Creative Force

In these days there are increasing bureaucratic endeavors to censor advertising in various ways.

Under the guise of beauty, the politicians pass legislation to outlaw billboards. Other politicians seek to force television stations to give free time to answer paid advertisements on cigarette and other advertising. Attempts are made to prevent merchants from advertising prices, and "truth-in-advertising" promoters seek to prevent packages from using terms the politicians consider misleading.

All of them are attempts to infringe the right of free communication which Americans once cherished.

Even in merrie England, seven Labor members of Parliament, criticized Princess Margaret for saying advertising was "the great lubricant" of international trade and could help toward world unity. But lately, there are a few rugged individualists who are willing to stand up and defend the right of businessmen to attempt to communicate with potential customers.

One of the last of the outspoken defenders of advertising was Bruce Barton, who died last week at the age of 81. He once had this to say about the business he loved:

"I am in advertising because advertising is the power which keeps business out in the open, which compels it to set up for itself public ideals of quality and service and to measure up to those ideals. Advertising is a creative force that has generated jobs and new ideas, has expanded our economy and has helped to give us the highest standard of living in the world."

Look What's Coming Up!

So you think things are tough? Console yourself by taking a peek at what's ahead—in say, the year 2000.

—Privacy may be practically passe.

—Through the cunning of tiny microphones, closed television circuits and other super-snoopers, any or all of us could be under constant surveillance without suspecting it.

—Every act could be detected, the contents of our personal mail revealed.

—Life could, as one friendly forecaster put it, be "as private as an army barracks."

—Space will be so scarce that park and recreational areas may have to be rationed. What fun to reserve a seat on a park bench for next Tuesday!

—And, of course, pure air and water will be as hard to get as rest and relaxation.

Predictions of some nut or killjoy?

No, sir. Educated guesses by experts as expressed in Daedalus, the journal of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences!

So breathe and live it up a little while you can, folks. Bad as we may think it has been, the best is just behind us.

If, that is, the experts are right. They have, bless them, been known to be wrong.

We can always wish them failure.

Consider the Wee Ones

The average American male is still a growing boy. Currently, he's 5 feet 7 3/4 inches tall and has 18-inch shoulders. Seated, his eye level is 48.5 inches from the floor; his knees, 22.7 inches.

Anyway, that's the size of the problem as seen by the Bell System engineers who design telephone booths. They report that their latest glass booth is the largest ever made for the system.

As yet, however, they haven't discovered what to do about short people who make long calls.

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Friday, July 28, the 203rd day of 1967 with 156 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

Born in this day in 1929 was former First Lady Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

On this day in history: In 1932, more than 13,000 unemployed war veterans camping in Washington were driven out of the city by federal troops. The vets were demanding immediate payment of a "war bonus."

Also in 1945, an Army B25 bomber lost in the fog crashed into the side of the Empire State building in New York, killing 13 persons.

A thought for the day—American writer Brett Harte once said: "Never a tear becomes the eye that can't be kissed into smiles again."

BERRY'S WORLD

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Diversification is the BIG THING in business these days. One of New England's oldest seed dealers in how putting out a catalog of wares that rival Sears, Roebuck offering all kinds of gadgets from instant home car washers to women's clothing. But the item that really got us was Operation Match, which offered to find you a mate or sweetheart for $5. The ad said it was a scientific program using personality questionnaires designed by Harvard psychologists. From your questionnaire a computer would select anywhere from 5 to 14 compatible persons living in your area. Within 60 days after applying the names, addresses and phone numbers of these people would be sent you. What further proof do you need of diversification when you can write to a seed firm and get prize roses, hybrid corn or even a mate for $5.

Today's smile: An irate father greeted a young man thusly: "What do you mean by bringing my daughter home at this hour of the morning?" The young man replied: "Well, she wanted to stay out longer, but I have to be at the office by eight."

They're experimenting with a new road-surfacing material in Europe to cut accident rates on highways. It's made of crystallized and granulated glass. U. S. highway engineers plan to mix the product with cement. Its surface reflects dark silhouettes and diffuses the glare of headlights. In addition, it's porous and allows water to seep through into the roadbed. Hope it works.

Thoughts while shaving: We don't understand much about international finance. That's why it came as a shock to us to learn from a banker friend that in the French and U. S. System a billion is 1000 million, but in the English and German system it is a million million. Maybe that's how Uncle Sam gets shortchanged from our foreign friends. . . . You're really an oldtimer if you can remember when you could get a cup of coffee and two doughnuts for a dime. . . . And while we're reminiscing about the good old days we wonder what became of halitosis, the oral affliction that afflicted four out of five persons according to the ad for a mouthwash. Guess it's in the same limbo as the automobile about which you asked the man who owned one, the laxative that worked while you slept, and the cigarette of which there wasn't a cough in a carload. Yet, those advertising slogans influenced millions of persons just a few years ago. . . . Seems as though a lot of people like to have some kind of humper sticker on their cars. In recent weeks we saw two unusual ones: "If you Drink, don't park. Accidents cause people!" and "Warning! Trespassers will be violated." . . . The Albuquerque (N.M.) JOURNAL headlined a story: "Rattlesnake Hunt Includes Women." It certainly should.

Legalized Special Privilege

(Industrial News Review) Interior Secretary Udall recently described what he believes to be the beginning of a new era in the role of government in the electric power business. He said, "The federal role is changing for the very good reason that we are running out of hydro sites to meet the load growth of preference customers. We shall continue to develop new multipurpose projects to the extent possible and sell power to preference customers, and to construct major transmission lines, but in the future our role will be more to assure access for all to new technology as compared with actual provision of energy in the past. We shall foster new technology—working in our own laboratories and jointly with others in the industry. We shall encourage establishment of power pools and participate in them in various ways and seek to assure that preference customers share the benefits of pooling as well as new technology. And we shall do what we can to make our federal power systems, and

Your Dental Health

By DR. WM. LAWRENCE New Teeth Now Can Be Inserted in a Denture A method is now being developed for bonding false teeth to denture base. So strong is this adhesive and so firmly are teeth held in place, that the joint becomes stronger than either part, thus strengthening the entire denture.

Other advantages are elimination of repairs caused by teeth "popping out" of dentures and elimination of mouth odor resulting from food and bacteria that collect and ferment in the tiny crevices between teeth and pink plastic base material.

Many people want to know, "Why, with so much money and brains committed to research, hasn't a way been found to prevent dental decay?" Much research is being done and more and more is better understood about the complicated interplay of infectious organisms, environment, heredity and diet on incidence of tooth decay. But the whole problem is so complex that even changing a minor diet ingredient such as type of salt, has been found to cause a high rate of tooth decay in a strain of laboratory rats ordinarily resistant to decay.

Fish protein concentrate is a nutritional supplement which is being used to help prevent starvation and reduce malnutrition of people of underdeveloped countries. But now it can be produced for consumption in U. S. too. After much research, the Food and Drug Administration has lifted the ban on its production here.

Fish bones are a part of this fish concentrate. Since fish bones contain fluorides, an added benefit will be effected—making teeth more resistant to decay.

WITH SOME 500 million untreated cavities needing attention in the U. S. the question has been raised, "Is tooth decay an epidemic?" If this is so, it could put an end to kissing; there's no simpler way to transfer bugs. But I doubt if those people who rub noses instead of kissing have less tooth decay than the kissers of the world.

HUNT FOR TRUTH

By R. L. HUNT U. S. "FRIENDS" AID CASTRO It is well known that Fidel Castro is receiving substantial aid from Soviet Russia to keep the communist regime propped up in Cuba. But many Americans may not realize that the bearded dictator is also getting economic assistance from nations that are supposed to be friends and allies of the United States. However, that is the case.

Back in 1962, U. S. Government officials proposed to eliminate communism in Cuba by a blockade that would strangle the island country's economy. But that has not happened. Such countries as Britain, Spain, France and Japan have given Castro lifesaving aid through trade based on credits.

Britain started the game by selling Castro some 900 buses two and a half years ago—on government backed credit. The U. S. protested, but in vain. France joined in by providing $20 million in credit for trucks and heavy highway-building equipment. Spain bought sugar from Cuba at substantially more than the world price, and the credits built up in this way were used to provide Castro with trucks, buses, and several large fishing boats—which are used to haul Cuban saboteurs and supplies to several Latin American countries. Japan also has been a heavy buyer of sugar from Cuba.

It is ironic that communism is being supported in Cuba by countries that call themselves friends of the United States, the prime target of the worldwide communist conspiracy. Our foreign policies seem so often to operate for the benefit of almost all countries except our own.

Ideas On Liberty

(The Freeman) All communities are apt to look to government for too much. Even in our own country, where its powers and duties are so strictly limited, we are prone to do so, especially at periods of sudden embarrassment and distress. But this ought not to be. The framers of our excellent Constitution and the people who approved it with calm and sagacious deliberation acted at the time on a sounder principle. They wisely judged that the less government interferes with private pursuits the better for the general prosperity. It is not its legitimate object to make men rich or to repair by direct grants of money or legislation in favor of particular pursuits losses not incurred in the public service. This would be substantially to use the property of some for the benefit of others. But its real duty—that duty the performance of which makes a good government the most precious of human blessings—is to enact and enforce a system of general laws commensurate with, but not exceeding, the objects of its establishment, and to leave every citizen and every interest to reap under its benign protection the rewards of virtue, industry, and prudence.

Nothing But the Truth

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have never induced any employee to betray the trust of his employer by handing me documents to implicate the employer in a criminal or even "unethical" violation of law or ethics. I know of two cases in which a member of our national Congress or legislature was thus betrayed by trusted workers in his office. One of these members of Congress went to prison for criminal violation of a law which forbade him to receive kickbacks from an employer.

In another case, President Truman grived at his distinguished position of supreme trust by putting his wife on his official payroll for $100 a week from the Treasury. Truman was a senator at the time. He did not violate any law and of course Mrs. Truman was innocent of wrong unless it could have been some fastidious and nasty—also interpretation of some undefined ethic. But if Mrs. Truman had not been his own wife, if perhaps she had been the wife of some other Senator, a malicious critic, intending to destroy Truman, might have been able to lay him by the heels. He was not excessively honest, anyway. That fact was proved when Congress farrow him an untaxable bonus of $60,000 a year on top of his salary for the four years of his last term. A. H. D. want even further by providing that he should not be required to account for one cent of this total of $60,000 for the full term. The reason stated for this special privilege was that the clerical work of such accountability would be an unexpected burden on a chief executive already overburdened. I believe I set forth these facts and commented on them in two articles over a period of time. But I never snickered, snorted or otherwise expressed any nasty emotion about the Truman's conduct in this. The work which Truman said his wife had done to ease his burden and meet their expenses before he became President was reading his speeches to him. Many congressional wives have made a practice of helping papa to this extent, and $100 a week would not be overpay for the chore. Because he was an aggressive, hostile public figure, Truman might have been hounded by squabblers in the press gallery and their editors. Truman and Mrs. Truman might have been persecuted unconsciously if there had been the slightest doubt of the ethical and legal propriety of their $100 a week. Joe McCarthy was. As to the $50,000 a year for additional personal expenses during his Presidency, there never has been any challenge beyond a justified sneer that after all he had a whole household of accountants, clerks and adding machines to make out his income tax returns whereas other government employees have to fill their own like ordinary citizens.

In the case of Senator Dodd of Connecticut the misconduct, if such it be, consisted of the acceptance of ostensibly free, unconditional gifts of money disguised as political election donations. At worst the offense was commonplace and there are thousands of pashandlers officiating as experts in various Government bureaus at $20,000 a year or more if not slightly less. They are supposed to read the pertinent law, but even if they have not read it they can always phone the Labor Department or the Department of Agriculture if the case concerns cotton or grain allowances.

der for two persons to communicate, you have to perform a systems analysis upon each person and then discover that when they are communicating, they are doing so at a point of contact called the interface. This seems a rather difficult beginning to the process of saying "Hi," but that's the way a computer looks at it. You've got to be accurate. And it gets even more tricky. Because, in fact, the point of contact between two systems isn't a point of contact at all. The character of an interface is that no blending between the two systems occurs at all. Each retains its identity totally or you don't have an interface and that means you never have one interface, you always have two who sort of square off and look at each other, but there is invariably some space between, however small. So an interface is really two interfaces looking at each other across an interface space. If you have this all down pat, check with me later. I'm going back tonight to try to pick-up lesson number two and I'll pass it along as soon as I can recharacterize it, systematize it, and set up a couple of interfaces between us.

Q—My doctor says I have a cyst the size of a golf ball on my ovary. He says it is nothing to worry about. What else you think.

A—Ovarian cysts are very common. They require no treatment unless (1) the stalk gets twisted, thereby cutting off the blood supply—a painful complication, (2) they become so large they cause discomfort by pressing on the intestines or diaphragm or, (3) they become hemorrhagic, infected or ruptured. Under such circumstances they must be removed.

Q—I have a small hard lump near my breast. When I squeeze it, thick white stuff comes out, then after a few weeks it fills up again. What causes it? How can I get rid of it?

A—You have a wen or sebaceous cyst. Wens develop when oil gland in the skin becomes obstructed. The only way to get rid of it is to have it removed surgically but this need not be done unless it bothers you. It is better not to squeeze it because of the danger of getting it infected.

Q—In a recent column you recommended xylidrin for hardening of the arteries. I have asked two doctors and they say this drug is not yet available. —Nytilidin is the official name for Arlidin. It has been on the market for several years. It requires a doctor's prescription.

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Water Skiing Enthusiast Should Practice Safety One of the fastest growing sports today is water skiing. How safe it will be for you will depend on how closely you follow a few simple rules. Showing off by seeing how close you can come to swimmers, boats, or piers is an invitation to disaster.

If you are an adult the water over which you ski should be at least five feet deep. Don't wrap the tow rope around you or place any part of your body through the bridge or loop. Don't use a fast approach to the shore for a landing—instead you should run parallel with the shore and land with gradually decreasing speed. Don't allow yourself to become overly tired. Don't try to ski at night. If you fall in an area where boats other than your towboat are maneuvering, hold a ski upright so that you can be easily seen.

The driver of the towboat must co-operate fully in avoiding hazards and must sit securely in his seat. Should he fail to do so and fall overboard his runaway boat may injure swimmers, other boats or even sunbathers on the shore. Common sense and courtesy are the best safeguards at all times.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Clever showcasing of movies as television "specials" by ABC-TV and NBC-TV indicates the public is happy to watch for free at home what it may think twice about paying for on the outside. The viewer is likely to feel less critical if at least he has not had to pay for a mediocre theatre experience. ABC-TV, for instance, had in the past season several movies it advertised as "blockbusters." One, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," truly lived up to its billing, and got a tremendous audience. Yet another, "The Robe," a mediocre motion picture, also got a strong rating. And several other showcased films, "Guys and Dolls" and "Hans Christian Andersen," neither of them great shakes as movie achievements, also pulled fairly respectable viewing numbers.

TV Movies a Hit

In the coming season, ABC-TV plans a special showcasing of "The King and I," a fine movie which should do well also. On the other hand, the same network also will present another "blockbuster" attraction, the remake of "Mutiny on the Bounty," with Marlon Brando, an unsatisfactory and unsuccessful production which, however, is a pretty fair bet to pull a sizable video audience Sept. 24 because the home viewer is less demanding, and it will seem an event. And it is an event next to "Bonanza" or "My Three Sons."

NBC-TV, meanwhile, showed astuteness in the past season by giving "world premiere" billing to a group of original two-hour movies that were produced because of the growing shortage of better motion pictures for television. The results in the ratings astounded the trade. For example, three of these productions—"D o m m s day Flight," "The Longest Hundred Miles" and "Fame is the Name of the Game"—were among the most popular films of the season, though none will ever rate on anybody's "best movies" list.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Co. Inc. says the glamor stocks could be due for "some technical bounce" but notes that investor attention is growing toward "more mundane" sectors of the market. The investment firm says the biggest near-term impediment still is the tax situation but says the market, having been braced for an income tax surcharge for some time, apparently would welcome a "definitive" statement on the issue.

Purcell, Graham & Co. says a change in market leadership from the aggressive growth stocks to the more conservative growth issues is obvious by now. The company says it believes this trend will continue and advises a policy of full investment and maximum use of investment leverage, where warranted.

Thomson & McKinnon notes "a degree of disillusionment" with glamor stocks these days. Still, the analyst says, current weakness could be followed shortly by renewed demand, particularly in view of inflationary prospects.

ANTI-RED RALLY

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—More than 100,000 persons Wednesday night held a four hour rally in front of the Government Palace protesting Communists and pro-Castro guerrillas operating in Southeast Bolivia.

The demonstration was planned to coincide with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's July 26th celebrations in Santiago, Cuba. Bolivian president Rene Barrientos spoke for nearly 30 minutes at the rally and told the crowd the guerrillas must be eliminated in order to secure the nation's growth. Vice

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., recently had an experience of this sort. The Budget Bureau put the knock on a plan to use a surplus air base in Montana for a trading and business center. Metcalf was so incensed it moved him to satire. Which is almost as rare in senators as inferiority complexes.

Some Funds

Taking quill in hand, he lined out a treatise on what might have happened if Queen Isabella had had a budget bureau when Christopher Columbus came to Spain in quest of funds.

"Your majesty: One, Christopher Columbus has suggested that inasmuch as the world is round it might be possible to sail westward across the ocean beyond the Azores and find a shorter route to the fabled wealth of the Indies.

"In accord with standard operating procedure (SOP) you have requested an opinion as to the desirability and feasibility of such a proposal.

"We are in accord with the desire of Your Majesty to find a shorter trading route. However, we must point out that there is no evidence that the Indies really exist.

"This Columbus would have a fleet of three ships to sail westward. At this particular time you must realize that we are busily engaged in assembling an armada and need every ship available for that purpose. Of course, we don't need to remind you that there is a war on.

"It is questionable that any seafaring man would be persuaded to accompany the expedition. Based on past experience we have found that ships that sail into the West fall off the end of the earth and are destroyed and the crews upon them are devoured by monsters that lurk in the void.

"We doubt that any economic benefit could come from such an expedition even if the ships and crew were able to escape the almost certain fate that awaits them."

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst

Romania's refusal to condemn Mideast opened up the first crack in Soviet attempts to present a united Communist front toward the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Other cracks are appearing as the discussion trickles down through government and party ranks.

Belgrade reports suggest that President Josef Broz Tito is running into opposition from high government and party levels to his all-out support of the Arabs.

Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka's warning to Polish Jews that "we do not wish a fifth column to be created in our country" has been interpreted as a sign of unrest within the Polish Communist party which numbers

Jews among its high ranking members.

Complain About Costs
Other indications came from the recent Communist summit meeting in Budapest where East European nations that already have complained against the high cost of maintaining Cuba's Fidel Castro expressed further dissatisfaction when presented with their share of the bill for maintaining the United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The Belgrade reports say Yugoslav dissatisfaction springs from two sources.

Well-informed Yugoslavs say there is a considerable body of opinion that has never been enthusiastic about Tito's closest ties with Egypt at the expense of Israel. This opinion is not likely to be appeased by Tito's approaching visit to Cairo unless it is to urge moderation.

Other Yugoslavs are said to be perturbed over Tito's attendance at two Communist bloc summit meetings on the Middle East—the first he had attended since the 1948 break with the Soviet Union that laid the groundwork for Yugoslavia's policy of non-alignment.

Tito himself has branded such fears as "stupid." Nonetheless, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug confirmed that such a debate had arisen in its report on a meeting of the executive board of the eight-million member Socialist Alliance.

Demand Explanation
"It was concluded," the agency said, "that the people demand a detailed explanation of the attitudes of the Yugoslav government and the leadership of the league (party) of Communists toward the latest events in the world."

The Polish Communist party suffers from a three-way split among conservatives, revisionists and the partisans. The partisans are nationalistic and anti-Semitic, and there is speculation that the Gomulka speech was an attempt to offset a new partisan power bid.

Gomulka has a Jewish wife. The Romanians continue their independent course. During a two-day foreign policy review before the National Assembly, Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer not only defended Romania's right to disagree but also said frankly that Romania hoped for better relations with the United States. He made no mention of the war in Vietnam as a block to such an improvement.

Firearms School To Start Monday For City Police

Federal Bureau of Investigation Agent Leo Robertson of Dallas will teach a one-week firearms school to 16 policemen in City Hall Monday through Friday.

The firearms procedure school will start daily at 2 p.m. and last about four hours.

Robertson will also direct a police academy in Amarillo Aug. 1-Sept. 27. Two new Pampa officers, Danny Honeycutt and Ronald McCracken, will attend the Amarillo academy. Police Chief Jim Conner said.

Robertson has also taught classes in riot control, methods of managing intoxicants, and other police procedures for controlling lawbreakers.

Baptist Assembly Names Recreation Staff Director

GLORIETA, N.M. (Sp)—J.L. Courtney has been selected as recreational director of Glorieta (N.M.) Baptist Assembly.

He will be responsible for recreation for guests who visit the assembly and will supervise several staffers. Courtney replaces Don Mattingly, recreation director for the first six-weeks session of the assembly.

Before accepting this position, Courtney worked as counselor at Boys Ranch Town, Edmond, Okla. Previously he has worked for two summers on the recreation staff at Paus Valley State School for Mentally Retarded Children.

Courtney is a senior sociology major at Central State College, Edmond, and is interested in handwriting analysis.

In 1943, former Communist Elizabeth Bentley charged before two congressional committees that former U.S. wartime government officials helped her get classified material for Russia.

GOLD BRIDGEWORK
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The city of Peru, Ind., can paint its bridge gold, the Indiana State Highway Commission ruled Thursday.

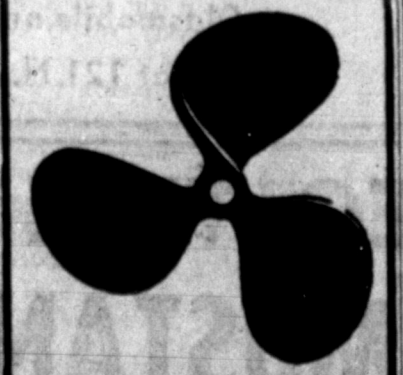

The commission had been afraid the gold color would violate national uniform regulations but decided gold is the same color as "federal yellow," which is used nationally on curbs and for other markings.

UPS AND DOWNS
KINGSTON, R.I. (UPI)—Vice President Humphrey, addressing a marine science conference Thursday at the University of Rhode Island, explained one of the problems of being vice president.

Congress, he said, has named him chairman of federal committees on both space and the oceans.

"Whenever Congress assigns something to the vice president," he said, "it is either out of the world or at the bottom of the sea."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Item: The Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee has been holding hearings this month on legislation to impose tighter controls on the sale of firearms.

Item: The Senate Consumer subcommittee will hold hearings next month on "steps which are being taken to develop a less dangerous cigarette."

I may be the only bloke in town who sees a relationship between these two items, but if you will hear me out on the subject I think you will agree they are complementary.

One connection is obvious. Moves to place restrictions on gun sales and on cigarette advertising have drawn strong opposition.

In recently announcing the development of a new cigarette filter, Columbia University officials summarized the smoking situation thusly:

Warnings about smoking hazards are printed on cigarette packages and have otherwise been well publicized. Nevertheless, more cigarettes are being sold than ever.

It being evident that people are going to smoke regardless of the consequences, something should be done to make smoking safer. Hence Columbia's sponsorship of the new filter, which is said to remove a goodly percentage of the harmful tars and nicotine.

Now if you can follow my suggestion that similar measures be applied to guns.

Guardsmen Hunt Hit, Run Snipers

The Pampa Daily News

Serving The Top O' Texas 60 Years

VOL. 60 - NO. 99

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS, FRIDAY, JULY 28, 1967

(12 PAGES TODAY)

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit's war-torn west side exploded in a new flurry of sniper fire and machinegun counterattacks by National Guardsmen early today, then fell quiet. Dawn rose on a city shattered by five days of the worst racial strife in modern U.S. history. Police and National Guardsmen said only a few snipers—perhaps two, perhaps a dozen—did the firing. "They crack off a couple of snots and head out for another building," an officer said. The death toll reached 38, four above that of the 1965 Watts riot in Los Angeles. The victims were 27 Negroes, eight whites—including a policeman and a fireman—and three victims listed by morgues as "race unknown." The list included four confirmed as victims of sniper bullets. The sniper fire broke out shortly after midnight then subsided under a barrage of tank attacks and machinegun fire by National Guardsmen, many angry at orders that they keep their guns unloaded until

President Goes on TV Again

By United Press International
Racial brushfires erupted in 15 cities Thursday night and early today but the Detroit holocaust waned as soldiers and police tried to mop up the last hard-core snipers.

Firebombings, rock-throwing and other incidents were reported in Waterbury, Conn.; Poughkeepsie and Albany, N.Y.; San Francisco and Sacramento, Calif.; Newark and Passaic, N.J.; Philadelphia; South Bend, Ind.; and five Ohio cities—Cincinnati, Toledo, Dayton, Lorain and Springfield.

For the second time this week President Johnson went on nationwide television Thursday night to denounce the rioters. He appointed a special commission to find the causes and cures of the turmoil and he announced that the National Guard will undergo new, tougher anti-riot training.

But even as the President spoke Negro gangs harassed cities from coast to coast.

Tension ran high in other cities. In Cambridge, Md., scene of violence earlier in the week, the white and Negro communities faced each other across a line of 700 national guard bayonets. In Memphis, Tenn., Negroes planned to march from dusk until dawn tonight to protest the job situation. In New York City, Mayor John Lindsay made another walking tour of Spanish Harlem where violence flared two nights ago.

Detroit, with 38 dead and property damages of at least $500 million, was slowly growing quiet although small gangs of die-hard snipers still harassed paratroopers, National Guardsmen and police with occasional sorties among the blackened, smoking ruins of the 200-sq-ft block riot area.

There also were these developments:

Indictment Hits Texas Patrolman

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—A grand jury questioned six persons, including a pretty restaurant cashier Thursday and indicted Texas Highway Patrolman Alfred P. White, 37, on a charge of beating his wife to death after a late movie. White, a 14-year veteran of the Texas Department of Public Safety, told police two Negro men were waiting in their home when he and his wife, Joyce, 38, got home from the movie shortly before midnight.

Carmichael Calls For International Revolution

HAVANA (UPI)—American black power advocate Stokely Carmichael said "Detroit and New York are also Vietnams" and exhorted young Cubans to join American Negroes in an international revolution in an interview published Thursday in the newspaper "Rebel Youth." Carmichael, who flew to Havana as a guest of Premier Fidel Castro's Communist government to attend the Latin American Solidarity Conference, said "we should internationalize our struggle."

The Trinidad-born Negro said in the interview, "if we are going to make a reality of (revolutionary Ernesto 'Che') Guevara's words about making two or three more Vietnams, it should be known that Detroit and New York are also Vietnams."

Carmichael said he did not worry about the U.S. State Department's announcement it would lift his passport when he returned to America. "I pick my own friends and I will say what my own destiny is and not the American government," he said.

Marines Hit DMZ Zone

SAIGON (UPI)—For the second time U.S. Marines today invaded the Demilitarized Zone on the North-South Vietnam border and went smashing after the artillery units the Communists fire from in the frontier no man's land, American spokesmen said.

They said assault troops of the 9th Marine Regiment crashed into the six-mile-wide buffer zone at 8:27 a.m. today shortly after the Communists used the DMZ to launch a mortar and artillery strike against Leatherneck fortresses just below the border. The spokesmen said the Marines' targets are in the South Vietnamese half of the DMZ. It was the second American drive into the DMZ. On May 18 Marines and South Vietnamese troops plunged into the zone on a similar search and destroy mission that killed 600 North Vietnamese in 10 days. The DMZ was set up as a buffer zone by the 1954 Geneva Conference accords which ended the French-Indochina war and divided Vietnam between North and South. There was no immediate report from the combat forces of any contact with the Communists in the latest plunge.

Reports Tell Of Anti-Mao Rebels Being 'Isolated'

HONG KONG (UPI)—Peking Radio today said anti-Mao army rebels were being "isolated" by loyal peasant forces "conducting a bitter and agonizing struggle" to salvage tottering Peking authority in the rebel city of Wuhan.

The broadcast did not say if the struggle against the "fanatic attack" in the central China city involved physical violence, but it warned Chairman Mao Tse-tung's supporters not to harm the "misled masses."

Reports of bloody clashes between Maoists and anti-Maoists in Wuhan, capital of Hubei province in central China, have been filtering out of China where for days growing signs of dissent were rampant in Mao's hierarchy and in the powerful Red Army.

Diplomatic reports in London have predicted Mao's dynasty could crumble in two months if he fails to quickly curb his out-of-control Cultural Revolution and halt provincial rebellions against Peking rule.

The official newspaper of the Red Chinese Army made clear Thursday that Peking would not send armed troops into Wuhan to end the strike. Such action could trigger open civil war.

The Peking Radio broadcast today cited in full an editorial on the Wuhan situation in the official Peking Peoples' Daily.

It said the "worker-peasant-soldier masses" were "hitting hard at the fanatic attack launched by a handful of party and military people in authority taking the capitalist road in Wuhan and a handful of bad leaders stubbornly clinging to the bourgeois reactionary line within the heroic Army of One Million."

Israel Chief Warns Fight is Not Over Yet

United Press International
The chief of staff of Israel's armed forces warned today "the fight is not over" and said he "would be wary" of too-hasty an assessment of the results of the Arab-Israeli war. Maj. Gen. Yitzhak Rabin urged the caution during a 15-minute meeting with daily newspaper editors.

It was authoritatively learned in Jerusalem that Israel was expected to resume full military government rule on the west bank of the Jordan River and in the Old City of Jerusalem. Both areas belonged to Jordan before the Middle East war.

In Cairo, the pro-government newspaper Al-Ahram said large-scale studies were underway toward formation of a new central committee for the United Arab Republic's political party, the Arab Socialist Union.

A new generation of leaders was being considered for top political posts in line with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's call that "other generals" (See ISRAEL, Page 3)

Senate Committee Hears California Publisher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The agreement that San Francisco's newspapers said had revived their fortunes is hurting one of their smaller neighbors, California publisher J. Hart Clinton testified today.

Clinton, who operates the San Mateo Times, appeared before the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee to oppose legislation that would give legal sanction to joint operating agreements of the type between the San Francisco Examiner and Chronicle.

The bill would give limited antitrust exemptions to the merger of printing, advertising and circulation functions of two papers while competing editorial policies are maintained. The publishers of the San Francisco papers testified Thursday that only this kind of arrangement kept one of them from going under.

Also opposed to the bill was Michael G. Dworkin, publisher of the Detroit Daily Press for four months in 1964. He said the bill would "simply increase concentration and monopolization in the industry."

Support for the bill was given by Thurston Twigg-Smith, publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser. He said his paper was transformed from "a dying entity into an increasingly healthy one" after it entered a joint operating agreement with

Cowboys Open Second Go-Round Tonight

By RON CROSS
Second go-round action will get underway at 8 o'clock tonight at Recreation Park as the third performance of the 23rd annual Top O' Texas rodeo is presented.

First round winners in the bareback, saddle bronc, bull riding, steer wrestling and girls barrel racing claimed their money Thursday night.

A huge crowd saw more of the cowboys stay aboard their bucking horses and raging bulls Thursday than did Wednesday and most of the first round winners came from Thursday night performers.

In the bareback riding cowboys are shooting for $1,006 in prize money; $1,206 in the calf roping; $826 in the saddle bronc event; $1,446 in the steer wrestling; $1,126 in the bull riding and $570 in the girls barrel racing.

All-around cowboy for 1966, Larry Mahan, won the first go-round in the bareback riding while Hap Hansen won the saddle bronc riding and Tony Haberer the bull riding with Duane Eaton the steer-wrestling, Francis Smith the barrel racing and Bob Ford the Thursday night calf roping and Monroe Tumlison and Duane Eaton tying for the Wednesday night roping title.

Rodeo fans also had a chance to see Thursday night why rodeo clowns are in the arena besides making people laugh. Clown Larry McKinney (See RODEO, Page 3)

SCORING HIGH—Ronnie Thomas of Whiting, Iowa, scored 68 points on his bull during Thursday night's performance of the Top O' Texas Rodeo. Thomas finished third in the first go-round of the event.

All About Women

Hannah Troy Scores 'Silly Women' Who Wear Pantsuits and Miniskirts

FROM HANNAH TROY'S collection for at-home pajamas (left) are in a profusion of multicolored polka dots. White silk linen dress (center) has front-inverted pleats and red and black trim at the neckline and cuffs. Tent dress (right) in brown and white striped silk is worn with matching short pants.

NEW YORK (NEA) - Women in pantsuits, women in miniskirts and women dancing the frog totally disenchant veteran designer Hannah Troy.

"Pants for evening or for sports are fine," says Hannah. "But the suit with a pair of pants for daytime wear is just silly."

Speaking of New York's Seventh Avenue in general, she said, "We are dress houses not pants houses and we're never going to make money on pants - only the pants manufacturers will. So why do we bother?"

"She believes the fashion magazines that play-up pantsuits and miniskirts are confusing youth with women and that except for a few oddballs with money, women are not buying the fashions the magazines are pushing."

"Why," she asked, "do Vogue and Harper's feature fashions that would be great for youngsters but are foolish for anyone out of her 20s? These two magazines are not aimed at kids. Kids can't afford the clothes they show. And older women shouldn't wear them."

"The pants and miniskirts should be exclusive with Ingenu, Seventeen and Mademoiselle."

Mrs. Troy doesn't think any women's knees are pretty, no matter how good her legs are. "My legs are the best part of my body," she said and proved it by getting up from the lunch table at Caravelle and inviting me to look. "But I still won't wear my skirts above mid-knee. It's been too long since I was 17."

As to Hannah on the frog - with a look of distaste she made the point that a woman in her 40s looks idiotic writhing around the dance floor looking up every so often for her partner who is at least four feet away.

"It's not as bad for a man," she admits. "He can just plunk down his flat feet and they can stay on the floor until the music stops. He doesn't have to kick up his heels and wriggle like a worm unless he's silly enough to want to."

But don't let these strong feelings that youth should be served differently from the older women give you the idea that Hannah Troy's clothes are not as courtly. She has given everything in her new line a young feeling. But it is a tasteful rather than a kooky youngness. She even has a double organza dress with matching underpants but there was no way to show the pants in a photograph without putting the model into an unrealistic and ridiculous pose.

This designer in the Seventh Avenue firmament, where fashion luminaries fade faster than a winter sunset, has held her stellar status for over 25 years. She started a revolution in the fashion industry in 1940 when she designed special clothes for the short-waisted woman.

"At the May Co. in California," she recalled, "I saw the saleswomen lifting dresses at the shoulders of the customers to show them how to alter the clothes. It happened so often that morning that the idea of 'petite' sizing came to me. By 'petite' I mean the short-waisted woman, not a little girl."

"I went to the Army for help. Who else would have the measurements of so many women on file?"

"I asked the quartermaster for statistics on sizing in the WACS and it turned out that the average woman in the armed forces, regardless of height, was short-waisted."

Hannah Troy went to work and a new industry was born. She calls her unique set of measurements Troyfigure. It's purpose is to eliminate major alterations with no sacrifice to style.

We can thank Hannah Troy, too, for promoting Italian couture in America. Her enthusias-tics reports on the first Italian fashion showings brought throngs of American buyers and editors to the fashion shows in Florence. She has been decorated by everyone who is anyone in that country from President Einaudi to the mayor of Florence. And she deserved to be. In 1951 exports in soft goods from Italy was $1 million. With Hannah Troy's help they totaled $1 billion in 1955.

The designer is also a philanthropist who has tirelessly worked to raise funds for everything from a school for underprivileged children in Florence to the Muscular Dystrophy Association in America.

She doesn't have the kooky appeal of the mod designers. She doesn't cut holes in fabric for the sake of circling the navel as a bare conversation piece.

But her clothes do have a young look that appeals to the women (and they are legion) who still have good taste.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Yellow Blind Tapes Disrupt Her Decor

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY - Please, will you ask one of your kind and wise friends out there to provide me with a wee bit of wisdom? Less than two years ago I replaced two of my old white cloth-taped Venetian blinds with new plastic-taped ones and the crazy tapes have turned yellow, which I neither like nor appreciate. I have soaked them in practically every cleaning agent on the market, add still have superwhite slats and yellowed tapes.

DEAR MRS. T. P. - I am sure that if there is a cure for your woes one of our readers will have it. If not, you might try what I did. I covered yellowed tapes with grosgrain ribbon (a color to go with the room's scheme) the same width as the tapes. This was quickly and easily stapled on. Since the ribbon was navy blue, the tops of the slats were first treated to a quick brush over with black paint so they were not easily seen.

DEAR POLLY - Trash cans were always being turned over in our neighborhood and the contents scattered. One of my neighbors put his on an 18-inch-square platform, drove two iron pipes into the ground on each side of the can so the handles slipped down over the pipes. We all liked this plan and the results. Since adopting the plan (some used wooden stakes) we have a much neater neighborhood.

DEAR POLLY - Tell Mary that one way to get the spoiled meat odor out of her freezer is to put vanilla flavoring in a dish in the freezer and keep it there for a day or two. An even quicker way is to wipe the freezer out with a cloth soaked with the vanilla.

DEAR POLLY - Mary could put some activated charcoal in her freezer to remove the odor. Leave it two or three days with the door closed and perhaps change it once during that time. My refrigerator dealer told me to do this and it worked like a charm.

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was talking with my boy friend and the subject of "men friends" came up. He said there was no such thing as "men friends." That they all had only one thing in mind, and there wasn't a man alive (married or single) who would care to be with a woman just for the sake of conversation and companionship.

We got into quite a heated argument over this as I have quite a few male acquaintances whom I consider "friends" and nothing more. What is your opinion, Abby? I would also like the opinions of your men readers as I want to know if they think the way my boy friend does.

DIANE

DEAR DIANE: Tell your boy friend to speak for himself and not to implicate every other male in the world. Furthermore, if my "boy friend" ever made such a statement, I wouldn't trust him out of my sight.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married a short while. Last month we went to visit his mother in another state. I found his mother to be very unclean about herself, and her house was filthy. She even talks dirty.

Abby, I don't mean to be unkind about his mother, but I have never experienced anything quite like it. My husband is a very clean person. He must take after his father who is dead. When we got home I told my husband I would never go to his mother's again unless she cleaned up her house. It honestly was not fit for pigs. He admitted the house was a mess and so was his mother, but he thinks I am being unreasonable. Tell me your opinion of this please.

NO PIG

DEAR NO PIG: Your husband could ask his mother to clean up her house, but if she is personally unclean, and talks dirty there is little he can do about that. I think your wife is in your rights, however, to refuse to stay in a house that is not "fit for pigs."

DEAR ABBY: I have a big problem, which you will probably consider both immature and stupid. I am a normal girl of 16 with both satisfactory looks and personality. My problem is when I like a boy, and go after him, if I get him I don't like him anymore. He usually has asked me to go steady by that time and I say yes because I hate to hurt his feelings, but I always end up breaking up with

Water Inc. Officials Hear Progress Report

DIMITT — Fred Vanderburg Sr. of Pampa and Felix Ryals of White Deer heard progress reports and budget allocations yesterday during a board of directors meeting of WATER, Inc. here.

Ryals is manager of Panhandle Water Conservation District, and Vanderburg is director of district four, which includes six Panhandle counties.

Dimitt's approved a $200,000 budget, including allocations for salaries at $50,000; consulting and planning, $35,000; promotional activities, $30,000; and another $30,000 for a movie to explain the High Plains area economy, importance to the state and national economy and its need for supplemental water.

John Kendrick, president of WATER Inc., said the membership drive had netted 50 paid members in 30 days and reported WATER, Inc. has "about $35,000 in the bank and has barely scratched the surface on dues."

Directors approved a resolution reaffirming their goals and stated "private ownership of ground water will remain undisturbed."

Wilson Buchanan of Dumas, temporary director of organization and information, said the Mississippi River has 50 million acre-feet flowing into the Gulf annually, and "we want only 18 million acre-feet to come this way."

Buchanan stressed diverting Mississippi River water west would lower cost of levy maintenance and help in flood control.

Pampa, Area Scouts End First Phase Jamboree Trip

By JOHN KARR
Boy Scout World Jamboree Correspondent

Boy Scouts from Pampa and other towns in Adobe Walls Council have completed the first phase of a trip to the 12th Boy Scout World Jamboree in Faragut State Park, Idaho.

Troops 25 and 28, representing parts of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona, spent three days this week in pre-jamboree training at Camp Don Harrington, 10 miles from Amarillo.

The shake-down camp training included practice in tent pitching, cooking five jamboree meals, orientation in jamboree activities and trading with foreign scouts.

Troops also were instructed in fire extinguishing by burning an old tent and demonstrating the proper method of felling the tent and putting out the fire.

The scouts and their adult sponsors started driving to the jamboree in a chartered bus Wednesday from Camp Don Harrington. Boys from this area are traveling with 11 buses from Texas, and will tour Pikes Peak and the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. They plan to arrive in Idaho Sunday for the jamboree.

Five Adobe Walls Council Boy Scouts including two from Pampa, are participating in the scouting activity.

Pampa Firemen Answer 2 Calls

Pampa Fire Department investigated two incidents during the past 24 hours — one a gasoline fire and another a hot light.

Firemen were called to 641 N. Faulkner about 9:30 p.m. Thursday to extinguish a garage fire. Ross Byers, working on a car, started the engine, and some spilled gasoline on the garage floor caught fire. Damage was light.

Shortly before 6 a.m. today, firemen investigated a hot ballast in an electric fluorescent light in the basement of the Hughes Building. No damage resulted.

Snipers

The sniper outbreak lasted an hour and a half. For the second straight day, a hard rain suddenly descended on the tortured city before dawn. The West Side again fell quiet.

Cars were stopped and searched for guns and ammunition Thursday night. Police searched buildings where caches of loot were reported.

Four shots were fired at a National Guard command post set up at a school.

Detroit's dreadful toll already showed 1,402 arson-set fires, 337 injuries—some unofficial estimates ran to 1,500—more than 3,500 arrests, 5,000 homeless and, according to fire chief Charles Quinlan, $250 million in damage.

Staggering loss
The Detroit Board of Commerce said total economic loss to the city including lost wages and retail sales would be about $500 million.

President Johnson told Romney and Cavanaugh Thursday that the federal government would provide food and medical supplies for the riot-ravaged city. But he said nothing about Romney's plea for status as a federal disaster area, which would open the doors for low-interest federal loans.

Burglar Enters Home, Sleeps, Then Leaves

Pampa Police had a case similar to the "Little Go-dolicks" nursery story today when they received a report of someone breaking into and entering a house at 1121 Mary Ellen St., belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fuller.

According to the police report sometime between 7 p.m. yesterday and 3 a.m. today, someone pulled a window screen off unlocked the window and entered the house.

Police said a bed in the front bedroom had been slept in, but nothing appeared to be missing. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller are on vacation.

Juveniles Declared Delinquent by Judge Lenning

Three juveniles involved in a series of burglaries between January and June were declared delinquent before Judge S. R. Lenning Jr.

The youngsters have been placed on an indefinite probation until they reach age 21, Judge Lenning said. One is in the custody of his father, and the other two have been released in the custody of their mothers.

Four more involved in the burglaries were to appear before the judge this afternoon. Two others will be considered later.

He said UPI, against which Dworkin's Daily Press, Inc., has brought a civil antitrust suit, wanted a five-year contract, with the last year's charge, more than $128,000, paid in advance. The antitrust suit also named the publishing companies of the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press, he said, on ground that they and UPI illegally denied the Daily Press access to the wire service.

In his prepared testimony, Twigg-Smith said the Justice Department had not objected on antitrust grounds to the outright purchase of a failing newspaper by a successful competitor, and asked, "why shouldn't it permit something less than a complete acquisition?"

"Whatever the technical rationalization, a grave disservice will be done to the general welfare as well as to the papers of the 22 communities involved if joint operating arrangements are disallowed," he said.

Pastors Offer Practical Religion in Michigan Bar

"A bar is a place where what is honest can be said, quietly and sincerely. It is a good spot for someone to listen and counsel."

So states a church magazine editor.

Proof of how religion can offer practical benefits to people is shown by the Night Watch in Saginaw, Mich.

Thirteen clergymen — Protestants and Roman Catholics — take turns visiting bars, jails and hospitals, helping the lonely, the sad, the frightened, the wary, the junkies, the alcoholics, the prostitutes, the many misfits and others in an industrial city.

Saginaw's night people have gained utmost confidence in the clergy teams, David F. Marshall reports in the August issue of "Together" magazine.

"These guys aren't out to hold a tent meeting, you know," one bartender explained emphatically. "They're here to listen — just listen."

Eight church bodies are represented by the Night Watch

members — American Lutheran Church, Church of God, Methodist, Protestant Episcopal, Roman Catholic, Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, United Church of Christ and United Presbyterian.

Marshall, assistant editor of the United Church Herald (in which his article, "Swingin' Love in Saginaw," also appears), brings out that "the common misconception is that persons who drink regularly are searching for fantasy, the unreal."

"Exactly the opposite is usually the case!" he writes in "Together." Methodist general-interest magazine for families that goes into almost three-quarters of a million homes each month.

"I suppose if I thought about it I could come up with something pious about Night Watch," Dean Herbert Catlin, rector of Saginaw's Calvary Memorial Episcopal Church, told Mr. Marshall. "But the real reason I go is because I enjoy it," he added frankly.

SETS SERMON TOPIC

First Christian Church Pastor Plans Commissioning Service

Rev. J. W. Duke will preach for the morning service of First Christian Church. He has chosen as his sermon topic "To Walk With God," with scriptures taken from Genesis 5:21-24.

His son, Gary Duke, will assist in the pulpit.

Miss Rosemary Lawlor will direct the adult choir in singing the anthem, "Jerry Whitten is to play the organ."

During the regular service this week, the Rev. Mr. Duke will have a special commissioning service for members and sponsors of the Christian Youth Fellowship who are planning to attend the Texas Youth Convention at TCU in Fort Worth.

Those planning to attend are George Gamblin, Mrs. Jim Cunningham, Angela Cunningham, Chris Gamblin, Teresa Martin, Rainell Kempa, Chuck Lanehart, Tim Duke, John King, Dave Stewart and Dan Gray. This group will leave here Aug. 1.

The CYF is planning to meet tomorrow with the CYF of Borger First Christian Church to attend a presentation of "Texas" in Canyon. They will meet in Borger for a worship service and supper before going to Canyon.

Youth groups will meet here at their regular times Sunday. The snack supper is at 5:30 p.m. and youth meetings, 6 p.m.

Rev. Mr. Duke will preach a dedication sermon of Gruver First Christian Church sanctuary at 3 p.m. Sunday in Gruver.

Baptist Minister States Services

The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, Pampa, will be in the pulpit for both services Sunday and has chosen "Is There a Chance After Death?" for his 11 a.m. sermon topic. This is the last sermon he will preach in the series on "Death."

Randall Purvis, minister of music and choir, will direct the Chancel Choir in singing the anthem "Crown Him With Many Crowns by Green, and will sing a solo, "God's Love Sustains Me" by Bartlett.

Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J. S. Bach.

"Why We Should Not Judge Others" is the subject the pastor will speak from in the 7 p.m. service. Hoyte Phillips, tenor, will sing and Miss Lane will play "Bread of Heaven, on These We Feed" by Hews-Blake.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the beginning of the evening service. The pastor has asked all awaiting candidates to meet at 6:45 in the baptismal rooms.

Immediately following the evening service a church-wide fellowship is planned in the dining room.

Youths on March For Christ Plan Service Saturday

The newly-organized "Youths on the March for Christ," fellowship service will start at 7:30 Saturday at Calvary Baptist Church.

Previous meetings were held in other Pampa churches for Christian youths of all faiths to discuss mutual contemporary problems.

Saturday night's meeting will mark the official beginning of the organization. Jerry Rockwell, adult sponsor, will introduce officers and discuss aims and purposes of the meetings. Youths from various churches will provide special music and present devotions.

After services youths will meet in the church Fellowship Hall for a fellowship program.

Christian Scientists Slate Lesson-Sermon

Christian Scientist Church members will hear a lesson-sermon on "Love," at the 11 a.m. service Sunday.

Scripture verses are from 1 John and Romans and from selections from the Christian Scientist handbook.

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area will assemble at their Kingdom Hall, 944 S. Dwight, at the 3 p.m. service Sunday to hear "Reaching and Maintaining Maturity."

To deliver this subject the congregation has invited a former Pampian, Jimmy D. Helms, who has served as both minister and missionary for the local group. He is now assigned to the Amarillo area.

Commenting on the importance of his theme, Helms said, "While physical, mental and emotional maturity are important and contribute to contentment, to gain life eternal we must reach and retain spiritual maturity."

A Bible study on the subject "Self-control Vital to Progress," is planned for 4 p.m. The public is invited.

Mormons to Hear August Speaker

David Palmer, a graduate of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, will be guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 4 at Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Palmer will conduct a discussion of the basis of early American civilization, using the topic "Diffusionism versus Independent Inventionism."

He will attempt to answer the problem of the sudden rise of culture in middle America without exhibiting formative stages. Palmer will utilize the archaeological, historical and iconographical approaches based on the most recent research in these areas.

Cultural links with the Middle East and the enigma surrounding the Life God, Quetzalcoatl, are facets of discussion.

The public is invited.

Vicksburg, Miss., is nicknamed the "Gibraltar of the Confederacy." The city surrendered after a 47-day siege.

TCU to Sponsor State Convention For 900 Church Youths, Leaders

Rex Mix, director of Christian Education, youth work reports about 900 youth and adult sponsors from Christian Churches throughout Texas will meet on the campus of Texas Christian University Aug. 1-4, to attend the Texas Youth Convention of Christian Churches.

Sponsored by Texas Association of Christian Churches, the annual convention has been a summer youth feature for 25 years. Theme for the convocation this year is "Thy Paths Our Chosen Way."

Two major addresses this year are by Dr. Paul G. Wassenich, long time friend of Texas youths. Dr. Wassenich is director of TCU's Honors Program and professor of religion at TCU.

The TCU department of theatre arts will stage a drama on opening night, with a related address by Dr. Jack Cogdill, director of drama and chairman of the TCU department of theatre arts.

Kenneth Henry, professor of religion and director of religious life at Jarvis Christian College of Hawkins, will speak in the session Aug. 3.

Leadership and responsibilities are shared by the Texas Christian Youth Fellowship executive officers.

Current officers are Gary Beard of Plano, Miss Dixie Cody of San Antonio, Kenny Hausenluff of Edinburg, Tommy Potter of Dallas, and Miss Billie Prestwood of Galena Park.

Voting delegates for state officer election will consist of five representatives from each of the 21 Texas association districts and the Texas Christian Missionary Fellowship.

Civil Rights Revolution Confuses Negro Community

PARK RIDGE, Ill. (SPL)—Not only has the civil rights revolution taken a turn that perplexes and leaves out the white man, but the movement even is confusing to many Negroes, according to a minister who has been in the thick of the struggle for a number of years.

The Negro people, the Rev. Robert B. McNeill wrote in a recent issue of "Together" magazine, "are as factional as the white community over the issue — maybe more so." However, he emphasizes they cannot ignore the issue because "they are the issue."

Furthermore, Rev. McNeill — who was ousted in 1959 for espousing the civil rights cause — wondered if the "white liberal" who leans toward moderation is not a worse enemy of the Negroes than the rabid segregationist!

While "Black Power" has taken the place of the earlier civil rights slogans, the "experienced Negro is more of a realist — or a cynic — than he was," the minister noted in an article, "Black Revolution: How Should Whites Respond?"

Consequently, Rev. McNeill added, "he sees the need of generating a power of his own."

There are three major groupings among Negroes, he said. Among conservatives he listed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the National Urban League.

As militants he classified the Congress on Racial Equality and the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee (no longer committed to a program of nonviolence).

Finally, he cited three "splinter" groups — the Black Muslims ("segregation - in reverse"), small organizations of intense activities such as the W.E.B. Dubois Club and the Deacons for Defense and Justice (who match the Klan "pistol for pistol, shotgun for shotgun").

Not only are the Negro people, their aspirations, and their methods, "not all of the same bolt of cloth," Rev. Mr. McNeill pointed out, but militants "seem to be unclear at the moment as to whether they want integration or black enclaves with total freedom of movement into and out of white society."

Smith and his wife are field evangelistic workers in the Venezuelan city of Maracaibo.

Mrs. Smith, the former Doris Stull, is a native of Borger, and moved to Pampa as a teenager. He is a native of Erath County.

Smith was pastor of First Baptist Church, Midlothian, when they were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1956.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

DAN B. DAMERON, Pastor
First Baptist Church

"WHEN WILL CHRIST RETURN?"

In Chapter 12 of John, there is the story of some pagan Greeks who came to Jerusalem and wanted to see Jesus. Jesus was in the court of Israel and the Greeks, being Gentiles, had to remain outside the court of nations. Between the two was a middle wall or partition. But the Gentile Greeks, finding in their midst the disciple Phillip made an earnest request: "Sir, we would see Jesus." Phillip took the request to Andrew and both of them carried within the appeal to Jesus. The Greeks wanted to see Jesus. It is thus with us today. Our Savior has gone beyond the veil to the heavenly city, the new Jerusalem, but we long to see him. It is not an influence or spirit or a process of cultural evolution that we long to see, it is a Man, Christ Jesus. It is the Redeemer who gave Himself a ransom for us. We have all felt through the years a great love for Him because of what He's done for us. We long to see our Savior. It is not enough to have a letter from Him; it is not enough to read the story of His life, it is not enough to have His spirit in our midst. Like the Greeks, we too would see Jesus. It is Christ Himself we long to see. Nothing else will satisfy our hopes. We have a hunger to meet Him face to face, like the bride waiting for the bridegroom. We are waiting for our glorious and redeeming Lord. The longing of every Christian heart is to see Jesus. Shall we see Him? The answer of the Scripture is in the affirmative, and it is positive and emphatic. Statements of certainty, literalness, are multiplied for our assurance and comfort.

When shall we see Him? No one knows the exact time of His return, but there were signs given to alert us of His coming. Are these signs being fulfilled? You decide after studying the signs.

The growth of apostasy within all churches and the parallel deepening of the spiritual ministry who desire the return of Christ.

- The great growth of population.
- War and an increase in the deadliness of war's implements.
- Natural catastrophes (Earthquakes and etc.)
- The prolonging of human life species.
- The increase of lawlessness.
- The growth of immorality with the special phenomenon of the woman as the aggressor.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

Braves Hurlers Helping

By United Press International
The Atlanta Braves have discovered the old baseball truth that slugging is for show and pitching is for dough.

The Braves staged quite a show when they went to Atlanta last season, terrorizing the opposition with 207 home runs and scoring a major league high of 782 runs. They finished fifth in the National League, however, because their pitching was a rag-tag sixth.

Now the Braves are in third place, 5 1/2 games behind the St. Louis Cardinals and with a good shot at World Series dough.

Their home-run bats have quieted considerably and they're only fifth in runs scored. But their pitching already ranks No. 3 in the league and seems to be improving as the season goes along.

The Braves got the kind of pitching that wins pennants Thursday night when they beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 and moved past them into third place. Ken Johnson pitched six hit ball for 5 1/3 innings before losing his touch after a 26-minute delay because of rain and then Jay Ritchie came out of the bullpen to allow only two hits over the last 3 2/3 innings.

Atlanta pitching has allowed three runs or fewer in five of the last eight games and 14 of the last 20.

season, Gary Geiger was safe on an error and Hank Aaron followed with his 26th homer. Joe Torre's single kayoted Ellis and singles by Clete Boyer and Woody Woodward off reliever Bob Lee added another run.

The Reds, who scored in the fifth on singles by Lee May and John Edwards and a sacrifice fly, filled the bases on a double and two walks in the sixth but failed to score when Geiger robbed May of a hit with an outstanding catch.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the San Francisco Giants 8-3, the Houston Astros nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the New York Mets 7-4 in 11 innings in other National League games. The first-place Cardinals and second-place Chicago Cubs were idle.

GIANTS Cut Down
Home runs by Richie Allen, Billy Cowan and Bobby Wine accounted for six of the Phillies' eight runs and helped deal San Francisco 13-game winner Mike McCormick his fifth loss. Allen homered with none on in the first inning and Cowan connected with two on and Wine with one on in the Phillies' five-run third inning. John Boozier pitched a four-hitter and didn't walk a batter in winning his third game against one defeat.

Joe Morgan singled home Lee Bales with none out in the ninth inning, capping a two-run rally by the Astros against reliever Al McBean. The Astros had tied the score at 4-4 on Bob Ellis' leadoff double, a lion's choice on which Bales was safe at first and Ron Davis' single. Rusty Staub went 3-for-4 for the Astros, raising his league-leading average to .358 compared to Pittsburgh star Roberto Clemente's .354.

Nate Oliver walked to start the 11th inning, went to third on Len Gabriello's single and scored on Jack Fisher's wild pitch to give the Dodgers their victory over the Mets. The Mets had tied the three-hour and 50-minute game in the ninth on singles by Cleon Jones and Phil Lutz and Tommy Davis' double play ball. Al Ferrara homered for the Dodgers.

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Atlanta Falcons lack that element of surprise that enabled them to grab three upset wins in their first season of National Football League play but figure the added year of experience will take up the slack.

"We're not trying to fool anybody," coach Norb Hecker said. "We know we've got a long way to go before we'll be a real contender. But we're convinced that we've got the troops to win a few along the way."

The Falcons are in the Coastal Division of the realigned NFL along with the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams. It is generally conceded that they'll wind up fourth in the group. But Hecker figures any team that takes the Falcons for granted is in for a shock.

"The combination of our trades, new speed, and the youth of our returning nucleus should make us a vastly improved team this year," he said.

Backfield Looks Good
The quarterbacking, the running game and the pass defense figure to show the biggest improvements.

Randy Johnson really took his lumps as a rookie quarterback but clearly indicated he has the potential to be a standout. The acquisition of Terry Nofsinger from the Cardinals offers depth at quarterback.

The Falcons have Junior Coffey, the NFL's No. 9 rusher, and big Ernie Wheelwright back as running backs. In addition, they have switched swift Ron Smith to part-time duty on offense and recently acquired Tom Moore from the Rams.

Three Share Lead in Northern Open

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Old pro Julius Boros and young Ray Floyd and Dick Lotz led by one stroke with two-under-par 70s today going into the second round of the $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic.

Only 10 golfers in a field of 144 were par or better on the Hazeltine National golf course, a rugged, dog-legged new layout built especially for championship play.

Larry Mowry and Harold Henning were one stroke back of the leaders and five others had even par 72—Jack McGowan, Gar-Jener Dickinson, Dudley Wysong, Bob Verwey and Doug Sanders.

Don January, the new PGA champion, had 73 and Bobby Nichols, defending champion of the Minnesota Classic which was held at Keller Public Course last year as the St. Paul Open, struggled in with 76.

Six or eight under par is expected to win, pro Don Waryam predicted.

"If anyone can score 280, he's a cinch to win," Nichols said. The pros' reactions to the 7,200-yard course, loaded with woods, dog-legs, hills, water holes, traps and huge greens, ranged from "great" to "the toughest I've seen."

Boros, who fired a 34-36 Thursday then went fishin, said he was "pretty well satisfied" with his game and liked the course.

"The greens are as good as you'll find and the course is just great," Boros said.

Floyd, with a first-round 34-36, said the greens are "very true."

But Nichols called the greens "probably the toughest I've ever seen."

A dozen golfers were bunched at 73—Wilt Homenuik of Winnipeg, Richard Martinez, Homero Blanca, Jay Hebert, Miller Barber, Bill Parker, Sam Carmichael, Rocky Thompson, Gene Littler, Lionel Hebert, Bob Lunn and January.

The "big three"—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper—weren't here.

Tankers, Matmen Top in Pan-Am

WINNIPEG, Canada (UPI)—A pair of swimming teenage cuties from north and south of the border were the darlings of the Pan-American games today, but a bunch of muscular gents from the United States were the ones who were wrecking the so-called team race.

North of the border in Canada the toast of the games is 16-year-old Elaine Tanner—the games' only individual double gold medal winner so far who also became a double world record breaker when she won the women's 100-meter backstroke swim Thursday night in 1:07.3.

And south of the border in the U.S.A. it's an even younger lass—14-year-old Deborah Meyer of Jacksonville, Fla., who broke a world record, too, when she won the women's 400-meter freestyle swim in 4:32.64.

Wrestlers Triumph
But the fellows who wrecked what was left of the team battle in the games Thursday night were the members of the U.S. wrestling team.

As a result, the U.S. headed into the fifth day of competition with a stunning 26 gold medals already socked away and an overall total of 43 medals. Host Canada was a distant second with three gold medals and 20 overall.

"There were several good wrestlers in there, but I had more experience than they did," explained musclemen Gerald

Bell of Cortland, N.Y., the lightweight wrestling winner.

At 26, Bell is practically a granddaddy compared to Elaine and Debbie—and so are the other U.S. wrestling champs, all 22 to 27—flyweight Richard Sofman of West Orange, N.J., bantam weight Richard Sanders of Portland, Ore., featherweight Mike Young of Provo, Utah, welterweight Pat Kelly of Waukegan, Ill., middleweight Wayne Baughman of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mahan is Real Rodeo Cowboy

By RON CROSS

Larry Mahan is rodeo's home run hitter, top batting average man and leader in runs batted in. In other words he's the Most Valuable Player trophy winner.

Bulls don't bother him, bucking horses don't bother him, injuries don't bother him, flying airplanes don't bother him. In fact, he's one cool customer.

The 1966 All-Around cowboy title winner was one of five riders who stayed on their mounts in the bareback bronc riding Wednesday night in the opening performance of the 23rd annual Top O' Texas Rodeo.

He scored 65 points to take a one point lead over another famous rodeo hand, Paul Mayo.

But what made Mahan's ride even better was the fact that the Brooks, Ore. cowboy was riding with a broken left instep.

"It doesn't bother me much.

I haven't tried the bulls with it yet just the horses," the 23-year-old cowboy said.

Mahan was scheduled to try the bulls for the first time Thursday night at Weatherford where he flew early Thursday for a rodeo.

He'll be back here Friday. Mahan, who broke the foot July 4, wears a specially built boot to protect the bones.

The 5' 11, 170-pound Mahan likes kids. He must. He has two of his own, a boy and girl and is besieged by young and old autograph seekers at every rodeo he participates in.

Success will never spoil Mahan, who won over $40,000 in 1966 and is way ahead of the pace he set last year.

He isn't even real angry about the broken foot.

"It would be hard to figure just how much it cost me. It might have cost me a lot or not anything I don't know that I could have rode the mounts I'd have had without the foot,"

Mahan said.

"I usually ride 'n 80-90 rodeos a year, but I've been in only about 45 so far this year."

Mahan, who won't even guess at how many years he will continue to ride, started out his career in kid rodeos when he was 13.

He joined the RCA in 1963, when he was 20-years old.

friend of his escaped uninjured when one of the planes was flipped over. Mahan wasn't in the plane, however.

Mahan has his pilot's license and covers sometimes three or four rodeos a week.

"For instance, while he rode in Pampa Wednesday night, he was in Cheyenne Wednesday morning where he rode money," Mahan stated.

The rodeo circuit starts January 1 and runs through Dec. 3rd giving the cowboys about three weeks of free time.

How does Mahan spend his? "I usually go to my dad's ranch in Phoenix and rope. I have thought of trying roping but just haven't done it yet," he said.

Concentration plays a big part in being a successful cowboy Mahan believes.

"I try to concentrate on nothing but staying on and giving a good ride."

"This rodeo business is quite a challenge, especially if you have good stock."

"You never feel like you've done your best out there and you are always trying to improve. That's why it's a challenge to me," Mahan said.

He won't make as much money as other professional athletes in his biggest year, but Mahan will always be known in Rodeo circles as "Mr. Nice Guy."

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

McLain Wins, Complains

By United Press International

Denny McLain, whose knowledge of the law is sketchy, filed a complaint only minutes after roughing up the Baltimore Orioles.

McLain, the outspoken Detroit pitcher, brought up his own team on charges following his 4-0 victory over the Orioles which moved the Tigers into third place in the American League race.

The young righthander was smarting because the Tigers had moved two games with the Orioles from Detroit to Baltimore when a curfew was imposed on the embattled Motor City, curtailing all athletic activities.

"Moving the games to Baltimore and forcing a lot of our players to leave their families in that mess back home was one of the worst decisions I've ever heard of," complained McLain. "A man's family comes before anything, even baseball."

Gets Shutout

McLain, however, was able to summon enough concentration to throttle the slumping world champions on seven hits, strike out four and issue no walks in posting his second shutout of the season and 12th victory against 11 defeats.

Rampaging Boston moved to within a game of first place Chicago by rallying for a 6-5 victory over California in 10 innings while the White Sox game with Cleveland was rained out after 2 1/2 scoreless innings. New York defeated Minnesota 6-2 and Washington clipped Kansas City 6-4 in other AL games.

Come From Behind

The Red Sox, trailing 5-2, tied the game on a two-run homer by Joe Foy and a solo shot by Tony Conigliaro in the ninth and won their 12th game in the last 13 outings in the 10th on Reggie Smith's triple and Paul Schaal's error. Carl Yastrzemski and George Scott had homered earlier for Boston, which treated the largest home crowd of the season, 34,193, to its second comeback victory over the Angels in two days.

Steve Whitaker drove in three runs with a double and bases-loaded single as the Yankees handed the Twins their eighth loss in the last nine games. Mel Stottlemyre went the distance for New York, scattering nine hits, and bested Dave Boswell. Whitaker collected three hits, as did Horace Clarke.

Cap Peterson's two-run homer and Frank Howard's two-run triple featured a five-run first inning that carried the Senators past the A's. Howard also scored a run in the first and drove home the sixth run of Washington with a second-inning single. Camillo Pascual was credited with his 10th win in 17 decisions although he served up homers to Rick Monday and Ramon Webster.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Advertising, a Creative Force

In these days there are increasing bureaucratic endeavors to censor advertising in various ways. Under the guise of beauty, the politicians pass legislation to outlaw billboards. Other politicians seek to force television stations to give free time to answer paid advertisements on cigarette and other advertising. Attempts are made to prevent merchants from advertising prices—and "truth-in-advertising" promoters seek to prevent packages from using terms the politicians consider misleading. All of them are attempts to infringe the right of free communication which Americans once cherished. Even in merrie England, seven Labor members of Parliament, criticized Princess Margaret for saying advertising was "the great lubricant" of international trade and could help toward world unity.

But lately, there are a few rugged individualists who are willing to stand up and defend the right of businessmen to attempt to communicate with potential customers.

One of the last of the outspoken defenders of advertising was Bruce Barton, who died last week at the age of 81. He once had this to say about the business he loved:

"I am in advertising because advertising is the power which keeps business out in the open, which compels it to set up for itself public ideals of quality and service and to measure up to those ideals. Advertising is a creative force that has generated jobs and new ideas, has expanded our economy and has helped to give us the highest standard of living in the world."

Look What's Coming Up!

So you think things are tough? Console yourself by taking a peek at what's ahead—in say, the year 2000.

- Privacy may be practically passe.
- Through the cunning of tiny microphones, closed television circuits and other supersnoopers, any or all of us could be under constant surveillance without suspecting it.
- Every act could be detected, the contents of our personal mail revealed.
- Life could, as one friendly forecaster put it, be "as private as an army barracks."
- Space will be so scarce that park and recreational areas may have to be rationed. (What fun to reserve a seat on a park bench for next Tuesday!)
- And, of course, pure air and water will be as hard to get as rest and relaxation.
- Predictions of some nut or killjoy?
- No, sir. Educated guesses by experts as expressed in Daedalus, the journal of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences! So breathe and live it up a little while you can, folks. Bad as we may think it has been, the best is just behind us.
- If, that is, the experts are right. They have, bless them, been known to be wrong.
- We can always wish them failure.

Consider the Wee Ones

The average American male is still a growing boy. Currently, he's 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall and has 18-inch shoulders. Seated, his eye level is 48.5 inches from the floor; his knees, 22.7 inches.

Anyway, that's the size of the problem as seen by the Bell System engineers who design telephone booths. They report that their latest glass booth is the largest ever made for the system.

As yet, however, they haven't discovered what to do about short people who make long calls.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Friday, July 28, the 208th day of 1967 with 156 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

Born in this day in 1929 was former First Lady Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

On this day in history:
In 1932, more than 15,000 unemployed war veterans

camping in Washington were driven out of the city by federal troops. The vets were demanding immediate payment of a "war bonus."

Also in 1945, an Army B25 bomber lost in the fog crashed into the side of the Empire State building in New York, killing 13 persons.

A thought for the day—American writer Brett Hart once said: "Never a tear bedims the eye that can't be kissed into smiles again."

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Diversification is the BIG THING in business these days. One of New England's oldest seed dealers is now putting out a catalog of wares that rival Sears, Roebuck offering all kinds of gadgets from instant home car washers to women's clothing. But the item that really got us was Operation Match, which offered to find you a mate or sweetheart for $5. The ad said it was a scientific program using personality questionnaires designed by Harvard psychologists. From your questionnaire a computer would select anywhere from 3 to 14 compatible persons living in your area. Within 60 days after applying the names, addresses and phone numbers of these people would be sent you. What further proof do you need of diversification when you can write to a seed firm and get prize roses, hybrid corn or even a mate for $5.

Today's smile: An irate father greeted a young man thusly: "What do you mean by bringing my daughter home at this hour of the morning?" The young man replied: "Well, she wanted to stay out longer, but I have to be at the office by eight."

They're experimenting with a new road-surfacing material in Europe to cut accident rates on highways. It's made of crystallized and granulated glass. U.S. highway engineers plan to mix the product with cement. Its surface reflects dark silhouettes and diffuses the glare of headlights. In addition, it's porous and allows water to seep through into the roadbed. Hope it works.

Thoughts while shaving: We don't understand much about international finance. That's why it came as a shock to us to learn from a banker friend that in the French and U.S. System a billion is 1000 million, but in the English and German system it is a million million. Maybe that's how Uncle Sam gets shortchanged on our foreign friends. . . . You're really an oldtimer if you can remember when you could get a cup of coffee and two doughnuts for a dime. . . . And while we're reminiscing about the good old days we wonder what became of halitosis, the oral affliction that afflicted four out of five persons according to the ad for a mouthwash. Guess it's in the same limbo as the automobile about which you asked the man who owned one, the laxative that worked while you slept, and the cigarette of which there wasn't a cough in a carload. Yet, those advertising slogans influenced millions of persons just a few years ago. . . . Seems as though a lot of people like to have some kind of bumper sticker on their cars. In recent weeks we saw two unusual ones: "If you Drink, don't park. Accidents cause people!" and "Warning! Trespassers will be violated. . . ." The Albuquerque (N.M.) JOURNAL headlined a story: "Rattlesnake Hunt Includes Women." It certainly should.

WITH SOME 800 million untreated cavities needing attention in the U.S. the question has been raised, "Is tooth decay an epidemic?" If this is so, it could put an end to kissing; there's no simpler way to transfer bugs. But I doubt if those people who rub noses instead of kissing have less tooth decay than the kissers of the world.

Interior Secretary Udall recently described what he believes to be the beginning of a new era in the role of government in the electric power business. He said, "The federal role is changing for the very good reason that we are running out of hydro sites to meet the load growth of preference customers. We shall continue to develop new multipurpose projects to the extent possible and sell power to preference customers, and to construct major transmission lines, but in the future our role will be more to assure access for all to new technology as compared with actual provision of energy in the past. We shall foster new technology—working in our own laboratories and jointly with others in the industry. We shall encourage establishment of power pools and participate in them in various ways and seek to assure that preference customers share the benefits of poolings as well as new technology. And we shall do what we can to make our federal power systems, and Yours, more compatible with the landscape and more harmonious with the total environment."

The secretary's remarks may indeed presage a new era in government power. But, even as he spoke, every effort is being made in Congress to extend and enlarge legislative privileges government power has always enjoyed—tax and interest favoritism for public projects which automatically preclude a fair comparison and working cooperation among all segments of the electric industry—public and private. Neither did the secretary explain why in the United States there should be such an un-American class as "preference customers" for tax-exempt public plants subsidized by all the taxpayers.

Your Dental Health

By DR. WM. LAWRENCE
New Teeth Now Can Be Inserted in a Denture

A method is now being developed for bonding false teeth to denture base. So strong is this adhesive and so firmly are teeth held in place, that the joint becomes stronger than either part, thus strengthening the entire denture.

Other advantages are elimination of repairs caused by teeth "popping out" of dentures and elimination of mouth odor resulting from food and bacteria that collect and ferment in the tiny crevices between teeth and pink plastic base material.

Many people want to know, "Why with so much money and brains committed to research, hasn't a way been found to prevent dental decay?"

Much research is being done and more and more is better understood about the complicated interplay of infectious organisms, environment, heredity and diet on incidence of tooth decay. But the whole problem is so complex that even changing a minor diet ingredient such as type of salt, has been found to cause a high rate of tooth decay in a strain of laboratory rats ordinarily resistant to decay.

Fish protein concentrate is a nutritional supplement which is being used to help prevent starvation and reduce malnutrition of people of underdeveloped countries. But now it can be produced for consumption in U.S. too. After much research, the Food and Drug Administration has lifted the ban on its production here.

Fish bones are a part of this fish concentrate. Since fish bones contain fluorides, an added benefit will be effected—making teeth more resistant to decay.

WITH SOME 800 million untreated cavities needing attention in the U.S. the question has been raised, "Is tooth decay an epidemic?" If this is so, it could put an end to kissing; there's no simpler way to transfer bugs. But I doubt if those people who rub noses instead of kissing have less tooth decay than the kissers of the world.

HUNT FOR TRUTH

OWN. One has to wonder if it is always an accident.

It is well known that Fidel Castro is receiving substantial aid from Soviet Russia to keep the communist regime propped up in Cuba. But many Americans may not realize that the bearded dictator is also getting economic assistance from nations that are supposed to be friends and allies of the United States. However, that is the case.

Back in 1962, U. S. Government officials proposed to eliminate communism in Cuba by a blockade that would strangle the island country's economy. But that has not happened. Such countries as Britain, Spain, France and Japan have given Castro lifesaving aid through trade based on credit.

Britain started the game by selling Castro some 900 buses two and a half years ago—on government backed credit. The U. S. protested, but in vain. France joined in by providing $20 million in credit for trucks and heavy highway-building equipment. Spain bought sugar from Cuba at substantially more than the world price, and the credits built up in this way were used to provide Castro with trucks, buses, and several large fishing boats—which are used to haul Cuban saboteurs and supplies to several Latin American countries. Japan also has been a heavy buyer of sugar from Cuba.

It is ironic that communism is being supported in Cuba by countries that call themselves friends of the United States, the prime target of the worldwide communist conspiracy. Our foreign policies seem so often to operate for the benefit of almost all countries except our own. One has to wonder if it is always an accident.

Ideas On Liberty

(The Freeman)
All communities are apt to look to government for too much. Even in our own country, where its powers and duties are so strictly limited, we are prone to do so, especially at periods of sudden embarrassment and distress.

But this ought not to be. The framers of our excellent Constitution and the people who approved it with calm and sagacious deliberation acted at the time on a sounder principle: They wisely judged that the less government interferes with private pursuits the better for the general prosperity. It is not its legitimate object to make men rich or to repair by direct grants of money or legislation in favor of particular pursuits losses not incurred in the public service. This would be substantially to use the property of some for the benefit of others. But its real duty—that duty the performance of which makes a good government the most precious of human blessings—is to enact and enforce a system of general laws commensurate with, but not exceeding, the objects of its establishment, and to leave every citizen and every interest to reap under its benign protection the rewards of virtue, industry, and prudence.

Nothing But the Truth

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
I have never induced any employee to betray the trust of his employer by handing me documents to implicate the employer in a criminal or even "unethical" violation of law or ethics. I know of two cases in which a member of our national Congress or legislature was thus betrayed by trusted workers in his office. One of these members of Congress went to prison for criminal violation of a law which forbade him to receive kickbacks from an employee.

In another case, President Truman arrived at his distinguished position of supreme trust by putting his wife on his official payroll for $100 a week from the Treasury. Truman was a senator at the time. He did not violate any law and of course Mrs. Truman was innocent of wrong unless it could have been some fastidious and nasty-nice interpretation of some undefined ethic. But if Mrs. Truman had not been his own wife, if perhaps she had been the wife of some other Senator, a malicious critic, intending to destroy Truman, might have been able to lay a hand on the heels. He was not excessively honest, anyway. That fact was proved when Congress threw him an untaxable bonus of $50,000 a year on top of his salary for the four years of his last term. And he went even further by providing that he should not be required to account for one cent of this total of $200,000 for the full term. The reason stated for this special privilege was that the clerical work of such accountability would be an unupportable burden on a chief executive already overburdened. I believe I set forth these facts and commented on them in two articles over a period of time. But I never sniffed, snorted or otherwise expressed any nasty emotion about the Trumans' conduct in this. The work which Truman said his wife had done to ease his burden and meet their expenses before he became President was reading his speeches to him. Many congressional wives have made a practice of helping papa to this extent, and $100 a week would not be overpay for the chore. Because he was an aggressive, hostile public figure, Truman might have been hounded by scoundrels in the press gallery and their editors. Truman and Mrs. Truman might have been persecuted unconsciously if there had been the slightest doubt of the ethical and legal propriety of their $100 a week. Joe McCarthy was. As to the $50,000 a year for additional personal expenses during his Presidency, there never has been any challenge beyond a justified sneer that after all he had a whole household of accountants, clerks and adding machines to make out his income tax returns whereas other government employees have to roll their own like ordinary citizens.

In the case of Senator Dodd of Connecticut the misconduct, if such it be, consisted of the acceptance of ostensibly free, unconditional gifts of money disguised as political election donations. At worst the offense was commonplace and there are thousands of panhandlers officiating as experts in various Government bureaus at $30,000 a year or more if not slightly less. They are supposed to read the pertinent law, but even if they had not read it they can always phone the Labor Department or the Department of Agriculture if the case concerns cotton or grain allowances.

der for two persons to communicate, you have to perform a systems analysis upon each person and then discover that when they are communicating, they are doing so at a point of contact called the interface.

This seems a rather difficult beginning to the process of saying "Hi," but that's the way a computer looks at it. You've got to be accurate. And it gets even more tricky. Because, in fact, the point of contact between two systems isn't a point of contact at all. The character of an interface is that no blending between the two systems occurs at all. Each retains its identity totally or you don't have an interface and that means you never have one interface, you always have two who sort of square off and look at each other, but there is invariably some space between, however small. So an interface is really two interfaces looking at each other across an interspace. If you have this all down pat, check with me later. I'm going back tonight to try to nick up lesson number two and I'll pass it along as soon as I can rhodomitize it, systematize it, and set up a couple of interfaces between us.

The Doctor Says:

Water Skiing Enthusiast Should Practice Safety

One of the fastest growing sports today is water skiing. How safe it will be for you will depend on how closely you follow a few simple rules. Showing off by seeing how close you can come to swimmers, boats, or piers is an invitation to disaster.

If you are an adult the water over which you ski should be at least five feet deep. Don't wrap the tow rope around you or place any part of your body through the bridle or loop.

Don't use a fast approach to the shore for a landing—instead you should run parallel with the shore and land with gradually decreasing speed. Don't allow yourself to become overly tired. Don't try to ski at night. If you fall in an area where boats other than your towboat are maneuvering, hold a ski upright so that you can be easily seen.

The driver of the towboat must co-operate fully in avoiding hazards and must sit securely in his seat. Should he fail to do so and fall overboard his runaway boat may injure swimmers, other boats or even sunbathers on the shore. Common sense and courtesy are the best safeguards at all times.

Q—My doctor says I have a cyst the size of a golf ball on my ovary. He says it is nothing to worry about. What do you think?

A—Ovarian cysts are very common. They require no treatment unless (1) the stalk gets twisted, thereby cutting off the blood supply—a painful complication, (2) they become so large they cause discomfort by pressing on the intestines or diaphragm or (3) they become hemorrhagic, infected or ruptured. Under such circumstances they must be removed.

Q—I have a small hard lump near my breast. When I squeeze it, thick white stuff comes out, then after a few weeks it fills up again. What causes it? How can I get rid of it?

A—You have a wen or sebaceous cyst. Wens develop when oil gland in the skin becomes obstructed. The only way to get rid of it is to have it removed surgically but this need not be done unless it bothers you. It is better not to squeeze it because of the danger of getting it infected.

Q—in a recent column you recommended Nydrin for hardening of the arteries. I have asked two doctors and they say this drug is not yet available.

A—Nydrin is the official name for Arlidin. It has been on the market for several years. It requires a doctor's prescription.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Clever showcasing of movies as television "specials" by ABC-TV and NBC-TV indicates the public is happy to watch for free at home what it may think twice about paying for in the outsider. The viewer is likely to feel less critical if at least he has not had to pay for a mediocre theatre experience. ABC-TV, for instance, had in the past season several movies it advertised as "blockbusters." One, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," truly lived up to its billing, and got a tremendous audience. Yet another, "The Robe," a mediocre motion picture, also got a strong rating. And several other showcase films, "Guys and Dolls" and "Hans Christian Andersen," neither of them great shakes as movie achievements, also pulled fairly respectable viewing numbers.

TV Movies a Hit
In the coming season, ABC-TV plans a special showcasing of "The King and I," a fine movie which should do well also. On the other hand, the same network also will present another "blockbuster" attraction, the remake of "Mutiny on the Bounty," with Marlon Brando, an unsatisfactory and unsuccessful production which, however, is a pretty fair bet to pull a sizable video audience Sept. 24 because the home viewer is less demanding, and it will seem an event. And it is an event next to "Bonanza" or "My Three Sons."

NBC-TV, meanwhile, showed astuteness in the past season by giving "world premiere" billing to a group of original two-hour b-movies that were produced because of the growing shortage of better motion pictures for television. The results in the ratings astounded the trade. For example, three of these productions—"D o m s day Flight," "The Longest Hundred Miles" and "Fame is the Name of the Game"—were among the most popular films of the season, though none will ever rate on anybody's "best movies" list.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Thomsen & McKinnon notes Co. Inc. says the glamor stocks "a degree of disillusionment" could be due for "some technical bounce" but notes that investor attention is growing toward "more mundane" sectors of the market. The investment firm says the biggest near-term imponderable still is the tax situation but says the market, having been braced for some time apparently would welcome a "definitive" statement on the issue.

Purcell, Graham & Co. says a change in market leadership from the aggressive growth stocks to the more conservative growth issues is obvious by now. The company says it believes this trend will continue, and advises a policy of full investment and maximum use of investment leverage, where warranted.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—More than 100,000 persons Wednesday night held a four hour rally in front of the Government Palace protesting Communists and pro-Castro guerrillas operating in Southeast Bolivia.

The demonstration was planned to coincide with Cuban premier Fidel Castro's July 26th celebrations in Santiago, Cuba. Bolivian president Rene Arrientos spoke for nearly 30 minutes at the rally and told the crowd the guerrillas must be eliminated in order to secure the nation's growth. Vice

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., recently had an experience of this sort. The Budget Bureau put the knock on a plan to use a surplus air base in Montana for a training and business center. Metcalf was so incensed it moved him to satire. Which is almost as rare in senators as inferiority complexes.

Some Funds
Taking quill in hand, he lined out a treatise on what might have happened if Queen Isabella had had a budget bureau when Christopher Columbus came to Spain in quest of funds.

"Your majesty," One Christopher Columbus has suggested that inasmuch as the world is round it might be possible to sail westward across the ocean beyond the Azores and find a shorter route to the fabled wealth of the Indies.

"In accord with standard operating procedure (SOP) you have requested an opinion as to the desirability and feasibility of such a proposal.

"We are in accord with the desire of Your Majesty to find a shorter trading route. However, we must point out that there is no evidence that the Indies really exist.

Westward Whoa
"This Columbus would have a fleet of three ships to sail westward. At this particular time you must realize that we are busily engaged in assembling an armada and need every ship available for that purpose. Of course, we don't need to remind you that there is a war on.

"It is questionable that any seafaring man would be persuaded to accompany the expedition. Based on past experience we have found that ships that sail into the West fall off the end of the earth and are destroyed and the crews upon them are devoured by monsters that lurk in the void.

"We doubt that any economic benefit could come from such an expedition even if the ships and crew were able to escape the almost certain fate that awaits them."

Foreign Commentary

Romana's refusal to condemn Mideast opened up the first crack in Soviet attempts to present a united Communist front toward the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Other cracks are appearing as the discussion trickles down through government and party ranks. Belgrade reports suggest that President Josef Broz Tito is running into opposition from high government and party levels to his all-out support of the Arabs.

Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka's warning to Polish Jews that "we do not wish a fifth column to be created in our country" has been interpreted as a sign of unrest within the Polish Communist party which members

Jews among its high ranking members. Other indications came from the recent Communist summit meeting in Budapest where East European nations that already have complained against the high cost of maintaining Cuba's Fidel Castro expressed further dissatisfaction when presented with their share of the bill for maintaining the United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The Belgrade reports say Yugoslav dissatisfaction springs from two sources. Well-informed Yugoslavs say there is a considerable body of opinion that has never been enthusiastic about Tito's close ties with Egypt at the expense of Israel. This opinion is not likely to be appeased by Tito's approaching visit to Cairo unless it is to urge moderation.

Other Yugoslavs are said to be perturbed over Tito's attendance at two Communist bloc summit meetings on the Middle East—the first he had attended since the 1948 break with the Soviet Union that laid the groundwork for Yugoslavia's policy of non-alignment.

Tito himself has branded such fears as "stupid." Nonetheless, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug confirmed that such a debate had arisen in its report on a meeting of the executive board of the eight-million member Socialist Alliance.

"It was concluded," the agency said, "that the people demand a detailed explanation of the attitudes of the Yugoslav government and the leadership of the league (party) of Communists toward the latest events in the world."

The Polish Communist party suffers from a three-way split among conservatives, revisionists and the partisans. The partisans are nationalistic and anti-Semitic, and there is speculation that the Gomulka speech was an attempt to offset a new partisan power bid.

Gomulka has a Jewish wife. The Romanians continue their independent course. During a two-day foreign policy review before the National Assembly, Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer not only defended Romania's right to disagree but also said frankly that Romania hoped for better relations with the United States. He made no mention of the war in Vietnam as a block to such an improvement.

Firearms School To Start Monday For City Police

Federal Bureau of Investigation Agent Leo Robertson of Dallas will teach a one-week firearms school to 16 policemen in City Hall Monday through Friday.

The firearms procedure school will start daily at 2 p.m. and last about four hours.

Robertson will also direct a police academy in Amarillo Aug. 1-Sept. 27. Two new Pampa officers, Danny Honeycutt and Ronald McCracken, will attend the Amarillo academy. Police Chief Jim Conner said.

Robertson has also taught classes in riot control, methods of managing intoxicants, and other police procedures for controlling lawbreakers.

Baptist Assembly Names Recreation Staff Director

GLORIETA, N.M. (Sp1)—J.L. Courtney has been selected as recreational director of Glorieta (N.M.) Baptist Assembly.

He will be responsible for recreation for guests who visit the assembly and will supervise several staffers. Courtney replaces Don Mattingly, recreation director for the first six-weeks session of the assembly.

Before accepting this position, Courtney worked as counselor at Boys Ranch Town, Edmond, Okla. Previously he has worked for two summers on the recreation staff at Pauls Valley State School for Mentally Retarded Children.

Courtney is a senior sociology major at Central State College, Edmond, and is interested in handwriting analysis.

In 1943, former Communist Elizabeth Bentley charged before two congressional committees that former U.S. wartime government officials helped her get classified material for Russia.

GOLD BRIDGEWORK
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The city of Peru, Ind., can paint its bridge gold, the Indiana State Highway Commission ruled Thursday.

The commission had been afraid the gold color would violate national uniform regulations but decided gold is the same color as "federal yellow," which is used nationally on curbs and for other markings.

UPS AND DOWNS
KINGSTON, R.I. (UPI)—Vice President Humphrey, addressing a marine science conference Thursday at the University of Rhode Island, explained one of the problems of being vice president.

Congress, he said, has named him chairman of federal committees on both space and the oceans.

"Whenever Congress assigns something to the vice president," he said, "it is either out of the world or at the bottom of the sea."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Item: The Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee has been holding hearings this month on legislation to impose tighter controls on the sale of firearms.

Item: The Senate Consumer subcommittee will hold hearings next month on "steps which are being taken to develop a less dangerous cigarette."

I may be the only bloke in town who sees a relationship between these two items, but if you will hear me out on the subject I think you will agree they are complementary.

One connection is obvious. Moves to place restrictions on gun sales and on cigarette advertising have drawn strong opposition.

In recently announcing the development of a new cigarette filter, Columbia University officials summarized the smoking situation thusly:

Warnings about smoking hazards are printed on cigarette packages and have otherwise been well publicized. Nevertheless, more cigarettes are being sold than ever.

It being evident that people are going to smoke regardless of the consequences, something should be done to make smoking safer. Hence Columbia's sponsorship of the new
